

Greenville Industries Purchases Big Dail Farm Today; Pay $55,000

PAPERS SIGNED FOR PURCHASE OF DAIL FARM BY GREENVILLE INDUSTRIES . . . seated, Kittrell, West, Proctor. Standing, Moye, Speight, Waldrop, Sugg.

By ALVIN TAYLOR
Reflector City Editor

Greenville Industries, Inc. officials this morning purchased the Haywood Dail farm north of Greenville with an initial payment of $55,000.

S. Eugene West, president of Greenville Industries, and other officials signed the papers which made the 269-acre tract of land available to the industry-seeking organization.

West emphasized, however, that the sale of stock in Greenville Industries will continue.

"Enough stock has been sold to swing the immediate transaction, but more will be required to be sold since we have payments to make each year," the corporation president declared.

He pointed out that another payment to the Dail heirs is due in February and "we anticipate the sale of more stock to cover it."

Now that the farm is purchased, West said, Greenville Industries plans to go ahead and lease a portion of the farm acreage.

"J. H. Moye has been authorized to handle the leasing or renting of the portion of the farm that will not be held open for any immediate industrial prospects.

"In my opinion, after we have paid one-half of the sale price, or $100,000 the rental of the farm, which includes about 30 acres of tobacco, 25 acres of peanuts and eight acres of cotton, will provide enough income to pay the interest on the balance due.

"Of course, in the sale of property to any industry the selling price will be applied on the amount Greenville Industries still owes the Dail heirs.

"The people of Greenville have definitely shown that they are behind the move to locate industry in and near Greenville.

"This has been proven by the fact that even with money as tight as it is at the present time, they have contributed approximately $60,000 in cash and indications are that more stock has been sold.

"Quite a few people have indicated that they will be able to buy stock at the first of the year whereas they are not able at this particular time.

"We feel this is a positive step in the right direction. We want industry so the people who grow up in Greenville can live in Greenville and find a job."

West said Greenville Industries has actually collected approximately $60,000 in cash from the stock sale. There are some pledges out which have not yet been collected, also.

Greenville Industries board of directors earlier this week passed a formal resolution expressing sincere thanks to the local Jaycees for their part in the stock sale drive. The written resolution is to be sent to the Jaycees.

W. W. Speight, president of the Committee of 100, expressed appreciation to all citizens "who have solicited sale of stock in Greenville Industries and all of the people who have purchased stock in Greenville Industries.

"It is gratifying to know that for once a majority of the citizens of Greenville have really cooperated in this worthwhile project and that they believe in the future of Greenville to the extent of personally backing this community enterprise.

"This is important not only to the community but to the industrial prospect.

He noted that the major industrial prospects are vitally interested in knowing the attitude of the people and the atmosphere of the community to which they propose to establish a plant.

"In fact they have actually asked for the number of people who are backing up Greenville Industries and the Committee of 100.

"I feel it is vitally important that all the people who have not subscribed for or purchased stock in Greenville Industries should do so immediately.

"If every citizen of Greenville who can will purchase from one to four shares of stock, I firmly believe that the results will be felt in the next two years."

In addition to Speight and West, those present for formal purchase of the Dail farm this morning were: J. B. Kittrell Jr., Greenville Industries secretary; John C. Proctor, Greenville Industries treasurer; Bruce Sugg Jr., member Board of Directors of Greenville Industries. Representing the sellers of the property were J. H. Waldrop, Guaranty Bank president, and J. H. Moye, vice president and trust officer of Guaranty Bank.

The farm purchased by Greenville Industries this morning is located about one mile north of Greenville fronting on U.S. 13 and N. C. 11 highways and the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

Greenville Industries will offer tracts of land within the site to industries who are interested in constructing plants here.

Bird With Its Neck Stuck Out

PICTURE WITH A MORAL—Don't stick your neck out seems to be the message behind this photo. But, alas, Mrs. Turkey never learned the rule. Thus, as this is printed, she has probably lost her head and her feathers. By tomorrow noon she will have been stuffed with the Thanksgiving dressing and popped into the oven to be roasted to a golden brown. Oh well, she had her proud day among the flock. ## Three Of Five Armed N. C. Escapees Are Captured Near Jackson, Ohio

PRINCETON, W. Va. (AP) — Highway patrolmen Tuesday night cornered and captured three armed North Carolina convicts wanted in the killing of a road work foreman. The three submitted meekly.

The arrests were made just over the West Virginia line near Jackson, Ohio.

Police concentrated their hunt in this area today for the two remaining felons who broke from a prison truck Monday near Laurel Springs in Ashe County, North Carolina, killed the foreman, knocked out a guard, and escaped in a stolen car.

Ohio patrolmen, acting on a truck driver's tip, located the escaped trio near a second car stolen near here at gunpoint and which had dropped into a ditch. When officers came upon them, the convicts were attempting to stop passing motorists.

Ohio officers said all three admitted escaping from the Ashe County Prison Camp truck, but professed to have no knowledge that anyone had been slain.

The search for the two remaining escapees was concentrated in the mountain area of this southern area of West Virginia.

Still at large and believed in or near Mercer County (Princeton) were James Thomas Waller, 35, and Johnny W. Burgess Jr., 33. The trio told Ohio authorities they had split from Waller and Burgess before reaching this area.

The three in custody and facing federal and state warrants on a series of felonies are George Talmadge Brown, 29, Tommy Styles, 27, and John Allen Henry, 23.

Of the five, all but Henry are from North Carolina. He is a resident of Miami, Fla.

West Virginia State Police Sgt. E. C. Guthrie of Princeton said the roadblocks and other police and FBI search measures were based upon the story of an aged Negro couple who reported having harbored two men fitting the convicts' descriptions early Tuesday.

For some 12 hours, from shortly after midnight to early afternoon the two men reportedly stayed at the Negroes' home. When they left, one said he was going to a local bus station while the other announced he was headed for a service station to get a road map.

Sgt. Guthrie said there was no information of their having left the area. With the stolen car recovered, he said, chances were good the pair still were nearby.

The car found in Ohio had been stolen from William Ohio had Dalton, a disabled coal miner of nearby Kephley, who told police he gave up his car at gunpoint on a back road in Mercer County.

The escape was engineered when a prison truck carrying 12 prisoners and three guards reached the day's work assignment in the remote Cranberry Creek section. While en route, some of the prisoners had cut a hole through the top of the wire cage.

When the vehicle stopped, five prisoners scrambled through the hole and jumped guard William F. Handy as he dismounted. Handy was disarmed. One prisoner shot work foreman Fields Absher near the heart. Absher was dead on arrival at a hospital. Guard Judd Jones exchanged fire with the felons. But one of them held the muzzle of a gun against Handy's head, and ordered Jones to drop his weapon.

The seven prisoners who did not participate in the escape pleaded with the felons not to kill Handy. The escapees put on the guard's caps and uniforms and ordered

Jones and Handy into the truck cage. The other seven prisoners loaded the mortally wounded Absher into the cage also.

Then the escapees commandeered an automobile from a housewife living in the vicinity, Mrs. Edd Sheets.

"I saw the prison truck come back and it stopped out in front," said Mrs. Sheets. She was home alone with her sick 6-year-old daughter at their home about 15 miles by road north of Jefferson in rugged mountain country.

The convicts stole the Sheets automobile at gunpoint and disappeared into the mountains.

Waller, one of the two being sought, was sentenced from Rowan County to 3-5 years for auto theft, plus 12 months for escape.

Durham Psychiatrist New Head Pitt Mental Clinic

By HENRY HOWARD
Reflector Staff Writer

An instructor of psychiatry at the Duke University Medical Center was named director of the Pitt County Mental Health Clinic last night at a meeting of the Pitt Board of Health here.

After a brief discussion, the Board unanimously approved the hiring of Dr. Philip G. Nelson of Durham to the post vacated by Dr. Joseph Franzoni last Sept. 1. Dr. Nelson will assume his duties here Jan. 1.

Before voting, the Board heard Dr. Nelson request that there be "a definite designation of responsibility" in the operation of the clinic. The Board assured him that he would be in charge of mental health services, responsible to the Board of Health.

Board members expressed themselves as being "very impressed" with the newly-hired psychiatrist.

Board Chairman Robert L. Martin of Bethel told the Daily Reflector, "We are fortunate in securing Dr. Nelson . . . He has a very interesting background and is well-qualified for the position of our Mental Health Clinic's director."

Pitt's new mental health services director is a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., and a graduate of Princeton University. He received his pre-medical training at Yale and holds a doctor of medicine degree from the Catholic University of Louvain in Belgium.

Dr. Nelson was an interne at the Methodist Hospital in Brooklyn before coming to Durham four years ago where he has been an instructor in the Duke medical school as well as a staff psychiatrist of the new Veterans' Administration hospital in Durham.

During World War II years, Dr. Nelson was a volunteer ambulance driver for the American Field Service.

The new director is married, since little more than a year ago, to Dr. Karla W. Nelson, a child psychiatrist.

A native German, she has completed two years of specialized training in child psychiatry at the University of Pittsburgh after receiving medical degrees from both Duke University and the University of Heidelberg in Germany.

According to Pitt's new mental health director, his wife will aid him at the clinic after the couple moves here sometime during next summer.

Cost Of Living Index Hits New Peak In October Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose to a new peak in October.

It was the sixth new record set in seven months.

The Labor Department announced today that its consumer price index rose two-tenths of one per cent to 125.5 per cent of the 1947-49 base period. This is 1 1/2 per cent higher than in October 1958.

As a result of the rise, about 1,250,000 workers will get pay increases under labor contracts which call for cost-of-living adjustments.

The rise for most of them will be a cent an hour. These workers are principally in auto, farm equipment, electrical manufacturing and aircraft production industries.

About 68,000 workers in Lockheed Aircraft and the Allis-Chalmers farm equipment companies will get 2-cent hourly pay raises.

A major factor in the cost-of-living increase was in transportation—higher dealer sales prices for new 1960 model automobiles, plus the effect of the new cent-a-gallon federal gasoline tax imposed in October.

Food costs declined three-tenths of one per cent, but all other major groups of goods and services went up.

One lower-priced food is the traditional Thanksgiving fare. Officials said that turkeys are selling this year at nearly 5 per cent less than a year ago.

Ewan Clague, labor statistics commissioner, said the recent living cost rise may level off next month. But he said he doesn't look for any decline.

"It won't change very much," Clague told a news conference.

Housing costs rose three-tenths of one per cent in October, with rents, solid fuels and fuel oil becoming more expensive. Rents rose in 13 of the 15 cities surveyed in October—the largest monthly change since December 1957.

The decline in food prices reflected lower costs for pork, eggs, fresh fruits and poultry. Fresh vegetables were about 4 per cent higher than in September.

Clague said that food prices are on their way down in practically all categories in wholesale markets.

Clothing prices increased four-tenths of one per cent, reaching their highest average level in recent years. It was the highest since 1920.

Clague said a factor increasing clothing prices is higher costs of shoes, reflecting a relative scarcity and consequently higher prices for hides and leather.

October also saw further increases in costs of medical care, men's hair cuts and television sets.

American Missile Set For Moon Try

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The moon is about to move across the sky like a target in a celestial shooting gallery and the United States is ready to take a shot at it. The attempt could come Thursday.

A towering Atlas-Able rocket stands on its pad here, waiting for the signal to blast into space. Standing nearly 10 stories high, the rocket holds a 375-pound satellite which scientists hope will go into orbit about the moon.

The most favorable time for the attempt is a four-day period starting Thursday. The chance of success is greater in this period because the paths of the earth and moon, as they orbit about the sun, are most closely aligned.

The task is tough because missiles have only a few minutes' time bracket each day in which to launch the Atlas-Able.

The optimum period occurs only every 28 days. Failure to get the rocket off by Sunday would mean a postponement until late December.

If successful, the four-stage Atlas-Able would take 2 1/2 days to reach the vicinity of the moon.

about 225,000 miles away. Then retro (reverse) rockets are to be ignited by ground signal to slow the payload so it will be attracted by the lunar gravitational field.

The United States hopes to be the first nation to place a satellite in orbit about the moon. Scientists here believe this would be a greater achievement than either the Soviet Union's last two Lunik shots. One of these hit the moon. The other hurled a satellite into a wide orbit around the moon and the earth.

The U.S. payload contains a camera to photograph the lunar surface, including the dark side which Lunik III captured on film for the first time.

The Atlas-Able satellite also contains instruments to study and relay information on the moon's environment.

The Air Force gave an impressive preview of the moon shot Tuesday, shooting an Atlas missile on a 5,000-mile war weapons test. Informed sources reported the missile dropped its dummy warhead within a half mile of its target off the South Atlantic island of Ascension.

Make Thanksgiving A Family Type Meal

RALEIGH — How can this Thanksgiving dinner be truly a family meal? Do you have growing boys and girls who could feel they had a part in making it important? What are some things junior cooks can do to help make the meal successful?

According to Miss Jo Earp, food and nutrition specialist for the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service, you can plan ahead and get cookie cutters shaped like turkeys so the cranberry sauce can take on a festive appearance. Junior cooks enjoy cutting the sauce and arranging it on the platter.

To avoid the last minute rush you might like to use a molded turkey salad rather than the whole bird.

Teen-age boys and girls enjoy the experience of trying their luck baking seasonal pies such as pumpkin or mince-meat. This could be another use of the turkey shaped cookie cutter using it to cut the top pastry in this shape. These could be made the night before so the dessert would be cold and ready to serve. This would save time for last minute cooking chores.

All members of the family can help plan, pack and deliver baskets of fruit, food or goodies for the sick or needy. Sometimes a visit or a friendly smile means as much as the food you deliver.

Miss Earp says the test of a smart and gracious hostess is the food she serves, garnishes and seasonal touches she adds and the ease and manner with which she serves it.

Whether serving your family or guests, serve food during the holiday from a table as bright and gay as possible. Make it a real show piece by using a seasonal decoration on a spotless tablecloth, along with gleaming china, glassware and silver.

Turkey with all the trimmings has been the American pattern for winter holiday dinners since colonial days. Make your Thanksgiving dinner this week something extra special.

The program was concluded with special music and group singing. The Rev. Tommy Payne pronounced the benediction.

What was it that changed the Roman kitchen more in the last 10 years than in the 20 centuries since Caesar?

Survey Shows Cranberry Sales Better Than Ever

Greenville's leading grocery stores and supermarkets are doing a normal, if not better-than-usual, business of selling cranberries during this Thanksgiving holiday season, in spite of a recent "cranberry scare."

A spot survey conducted yesterday showed the stores have the canned varieties of cranberries, all of which have been inspected or approved by suppliers and inspectors. And local women are buying all of them, store managers said.

A&P store manager Ed Ratcliffe said the fresh cranberries, canned whole cranberries, jelly, and even cranberry juice cocktail were on his shelves for sale. Each individual package or can has a sticker to note it is wholesome and pure food, he said.

Ratcliffe said the cranberry supply had been taken off the shelves at the onset of the "cranberry scare" about two weeks ago.

Since it has been back, sales are going very well," he said. "The public has accepted the situation very heartily," Ratcliffe said. He added that at that time, he saw three ladies with food baskets—two out of the three had cranberries.

Overton's Supermarket reported they were selling more cranberry sauce than normal. They took their supplies off the shelves when the "scare" first started, and just put them back this week.

Vance Overton, manager, said his store had been informed by the supplier that the shipments of cranberries in his store are guaranteed to be pure and wholesome. Cards to that effect have been provided for display use on the shelves.

Overton added that information from his supplier said cranberries shipped to North Carolina haven't shown traces of contamination.

At the Colonial Stores, Mark Harris, manager of the Fourth Street store, said he was selling all the canned varieties of cranberries and fresh cranberries, too. All have been inspected and okayed for public sale.

He added that the cranberries have been selling well, especially the latter part of last week and this week. The supply had been removed from the shelves for two or three weeks during the "scare."

At the Colonial Heights Store, Mrs. Wooten also called the attention of the group to the fact that the last General Assembly made it legally unnecessary for both husband and wife to sign a deed of transfer of real property when only one is the owner except in the case of the homestead.

The group welcomed as guests Dr. Dotson of the Psychology Department of East Carolina College and foreign students from Mexico, Miss Leticia Alonso and Mr. Javier Cicero. Two new members, Mrs. Blanche Jones and Miss Rachel Moore, were initiated into the club by Mrs. Sue Howell and welcomed by the president, Mrs. Ann Phillips.

Pickwick Club Makes Turkeys

Highlight of the Pickwick Club meeting Tuesday afternoon was construction of artificial turkeys by members. Mrs. Katherine Adams led the group in the construction.

The artificial turkeys will be used as Thanksgiving decorations.

Mrs. J. K. Proctor Jr. was club hostess at her home on Harding Street.

In keeping with the theme of the year, "The Study of Foreign Countries," Mrs. Proctor gave each club member a slip of paper which contained a typed fact concerning Turkey. These were read and discussed.

Members and guests, Mrs. John McInnis of Chicago, Ill. and Mrs. Adams, were served grape salad plates with hot turkey biscuits, cheese straws and hot coffee.

Bridge Club

ROBERSONVILLE—Mrs. Vance Overton entertained her bridge club Thursday at her home here.

The hostess served ambrosia and homemade cake before play began.

Runner-Up

WILSON—Runner-up in the Homecoming Queen contest at Atlantic Christian College here was Miss Cinda Bunting, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bunting of Robersonville.

The contest was held prior to homecoming this past weekend, and the queen was crowned at half-time of the ACC-Pembroke State basketball game. Nineteen contestants sponsored by various campus organizations entered the contest.

Miss Ann Hamilton of Smithfield was crowned queen, and Miss Audrey Finch of Bailey was another runner-up.

Italy, Place Of Revolution In The Kitchen

By ALLYN MOSS
ROME (AP) — Italy has had a revolution—in the kitchen.

This should come as no surprise to anyone who has ever seen an Italian espresso coffee maker. Sooner or later Italians are bound to become gadget-happy.

Roman housewives have become enthusiasts for American (or American inspired) canopeners, vegetable peelers, slicers and dicers with a passion they formerly reserved for Rossano Brazzi (Italy's Clark Gable).

That's the way it began. It has gone on to include everything else — electric beaters, mixers, washing machines, and even an occasional dishwasher tossed into an occasional palazzo.

The Italians have also put out some rather tricky gadgets of their own: coffee grinders, espresso machines (big and little ones) and garlic crushers, have been joined by a new pasta in any shape you want — spaghetti, ravioli, fettuccine, and even a flying saucer number.

Because electricity and gas still cost so much to install and use in Italy, few Italian families can afford to fully Americanize their kitchens. But more and more Roman households now have a big shiny refrigerator, an American type stove with glass-windowed oven, a can-stacked pantry closet and at least one gadget filled drawer.

What was it that changed the Roman kitchen more in the last 10 years than in the 20 centuries since Caesar?

Friedly responsible was the rise of a new income group after the war. Although it couldn't afford the huge retinue of domestic help still common in the homes of Roman aristocracy, it could afford new kitchen equipment. The influx of American movies and magazines which showed off the glamor and efficiency of the American kitchen also played a role.

Rep. Wooten Speaks To Club

Representative Frank Wooten spoke to Pilot Club members Monday on the function of various levels of government and on the state inheritance law, which will go into effect July 1, 1960.

Miss Lelia Higgs introduced the speaker at the monthly program-dinner meeting held at St. James Methodist Church. Miss Higgs and Mrs. Marian Biggs of the Public Affairs Committee were hostesses for the occasion.

Rep. Wooten spoke briefly on the function of the various levels of government and then explained the new state inheritance law.

The present law, Rep. Wooten said, is based upon English Common Law of the fourteenth century, when real property was almost the entire source of income. Such a law, he pointed out, is entirely inadequate for the twentieth century whose greater source of income is now personal property, necessitating one set of laws for real property and another for personal property.

The distinction between the two kinds of property in inheritance law, Rep. Wooten also called the attention of the group to the fact that the last General Assembly made it legally unnecessary for both husband and wife to sign a deed of transfer of real property when only one is the owner except in the case of the homestead.

The group welcomed as guests Dr. Dotson of the Psychology Department of East Carolina College and foreign students from Mexico, Miss Leticia Alonso and Mr. Javier Cicero. Two new members, Mrs. Blanche Jones and Miss Rachel Moore, were initiated into the club by Mrs. Sue Howell and welcomed by the president, Mrs. Ann Phillips.

Mrs. Everett Is Hostess To Club

She explained that John D. Rockefeller became interested in Williamsburg and gave money for the restoration of the town, with work beginning in 1927. In order to have the buildings authentic, an order was placed for bricks of the same color and shape as those used in Colonial times and landscaping was in keeping with the 18th century.

Mrs. Everett showed scenes of Williamsburg to illustrate her talk. Mrs. B. L. Stokes, president, presided at the meeting.

The hostess served a sweet course as refreshments.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. W. H. Gray.

No Asian Girl In Hollywood?

HONOLULU (AP) — A search for actresses of Asian ancestry needed for two Hollywood pictures has fizzled out.

Universal — International pictures recently asked the University of Hawaii's department of drama and theatre to scout Hawaii for girls of Asian descent needed in the pictures.

One role is the female lead in "The Ugly American," opposite Marlon Brando. The other is the female lead in a picture as yet unnamed, set in the Pacific during World War II.

Professor Joel Trapido says he is sending the studio some photos of six girls who applied. He doesn't think any of them meet the studio's requirements.

Those who can act, are young enough: those meeting the physical requirements have had almost no acting experience.

Masonic Notice
Crown Point Lodge No. 708, A.F. & M. will have a stated communication Thursday, Nov. 26, at 7:30 p.m. All Master Masons are cordially invited.

Note of Appreciation
I wish to express my sincere thanks to my many friends for the many kindnesses that were shown to me while I was ill in the hospital.

Mince Pie, Thanksgiving Must

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Newsfeatures Food Editor
TWO KINDS of pie are "musts" at Thanksgiving—pumpkin and mince. According to a lot of folk that's the way it used to be and that's how it should remain.

Regular custard-type pumpkin pie is usually best served fresh from the oven. Fortunately mince-meat pie benefits from being made ahead. Flavors mingle and seep into each other with positively spicy zest.

Bake your mince-meat pie several days before the holiday. If you have a freezer, store it there. If not, the pie will keep well in the refrigerator; just make sure you wrap it tightly. On Thanksgiving Day remember that it's blasphemy to serve mince-meat pie cold! Its flaky crust and rich filling, in our opinion, come to full fruition only when they are reheated.

Ready-to-use mince-meat is a convenient and exceptionally fine product but many good cooks like to add to it. We think orange gives extra pleasant flavor and that's what we've put in the following recipe.

Some mince-meat pie experts allow fresh apple, using one or two pared chopped apples for every two cups of mince-meat. Cranberries and mince-meat are, of course, an old-time combination. In recent years other nominations for the mince-meat team have been canned crushed pineapple and canned or cooked dried apricots.

The pastry recipe we give you makes a delicious crust, but it's important to follow directions for cutting in the shortening and butter or margarine. The former should be cut into very fine particles; the latter should be allowed to stay in recognizable pieces.

HOLIDAY MINCE PIE

Ingredients: 2 1/4 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 2-3 cup shortening, 4 tablespoons margarine, 5 tablespoons water, 3 cups ready-to-use mince-meat, 2 tablespoons orange rind (coarsely grated).

Method: Sift flour and salt into a medium-sized bowl. With pastry blender or two knives cut in shortening until particles are fine. Add margarine and cut in until particles are the size of small peas. Sprinkle water over a little at a time and mix lightly with fork until dough holds together; form into a ball, cover and refrigerate about 15 minutes. In a small bowl mix mince-meat and orange rind. Divide dough in half. Roll out one portion into a 12-inch circle; ease into 9-inch pie plate and trim overhang to within 1 inch of rim. Spread mince-meat evenly in plate. Roll out second portion so it is the size of plate; with fluted cutter cut into twelve 1/2-inch strips. Weave strips in lattice fashion over top of pie. Fold under edges of strips and edge of bottom crust to form rim; flute. Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven 30 minutes or until brown.

Note: For a pretty twist effect that requires no weaving, cut plain 1/2-inch pastry strips; attach one end of each strip to bottom crust and twist as it is laid over top of pie in lattice pattern.

GLAMOUR TO MAKE AHEAD—Mince pie offers an easy chance to add your personal touch to a traditional Thanksgiving dessert. Make it several days ahead, reheat and bring on steaming.

ABC to Ph.D. Good Marks Require Good Vision

The first step in back-to-school preparation is to see your child sees well. Anything less than good vision is a handicap that even the brightest young mind has trouble overcoming.

A thorough eye examination now may save years of heartache. Stop in with your school-agers. Enjoy the peace of mind that comes with knowing they see well enough to do well.

Children "outgrow" glasses just as they outgrow clothes. If your child's prescription has not been checked recently—or his glasses adjusted—be sure and stop in before school starts.

Says Armed Forces Victims Of Big Looting

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

YIELD—Motorists headed west on Dickinson Avenue are required to yield the right of way to cars headed south on Greene Street.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Phil Weaver (R-Neb.) said today American armed forces in the Philippines are victims of looting, extortion and assault—sometimes with approval of Philippine authorities.

lotted on the docks and in transport facilities. Commenting on Weaver's statement, Philippine Minister Mauro Calingo said: "I don't know how long Mr. Weaver was in the Philippines, but I doubt if it were for more than one or two days. I doubt if it was long enough to sum up the situation there and make his very strong statement."

Cranberry Man Fears Blow Will Be Felt A Long Time

By TOM HENSHAW Associated Press Writer

"The industry won't get over this for years," says Marcus L. Urann a bit sadly. "People are timid about these things, especially when cancer is mentioned."

We want to do what is right. "But I think the handling of the case was a mistake on the part of the government."

Thanksgiving has been knocked out.

Urann has spent most of his life building up that market. His company, the United Cape Cod Cranberry Co., was the first to can cranberry sauce in 1912.

Raiders Destroy 2 Bootleg Stills

Two 55-gallon stills and 36 gallons of their recently run-off spirits were destroyed last night near Haddock's Cross Roads by Pitt County ABC officers.

In addition to the two stills and the whiskey, the officers destroyed one 55-gallon drum boiler and its oil burners, three 350-gallon mash barrels, one 55-gallon double and one 55-gallon cooler.

Officers participating in the raid included Pitt officers Ward, H. B. Lilley and Walter Taylor and Federal agents Paul Underwood, Don Alphone and Jim Saunders, all of New Bern.

Public May Gain From Coming 'Payola' Probe

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The payola primer —

Q. What is payola? A. It is what the House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight is going to look into, now that it has done a job on the TV industry.

Q. Yes, I know, but what is payola? A. It is a payment by record and song promoters to powerful parties, especially disc jockeys, to get songs and records before the public.

Q. Is it something new? A. No, it has been going on since the beginning of Tin Pan Alley.

Q. Then why all the fuss about it now? A. Because some people feel the payola has been employed to inflating poor music on the record-buying public, principally teenagers. Some believe gangster elements are involved.

Q. Is the payola illegal? A. Possibly. Some say it constitutes a bribe of responsible individuals.

Arrested 10 For Game Violations

During October and up to November 20, Pitt county game protectors arrested 10 hunters on charges ranging from a shooting a Robin, a song bird, to shooting squirrels with a gun holding more than three shells, hunting without a license and hunting rabbits during the closed season.

Roland Lewis, R-4 Greenville, taking protected birds, a Robin, fined $10 and $9.50 costs; Lasee H. Edwards, R-5 Greenville, hunting squirrels without a license, fined $9.50 court costs.

Defendant's gun was returned to him at the trial. James Brown, Negro, R-5 Greenville, shooting squirrels after hours, fined $10 and $9.50 costs; Henry Harris, 115 Barwick St., Ayden, hunting without a license, taxed with $9.50 court costs; Craven L. Reel, R-1 Vanceboro, hunting squirrels without a license, taxed with $9.50 court costs.

J. L. Moye, Negro, R-4 Ayden, hunting rabbits in closed season and possessing a gun that was not plugged, fined $10 and $9.50 court costs; Frank Keel, R-2 Grifton, trapping in closed season and without a license, fined $5 and $9.50 court costs; James B. Powell, 1911 Dickinson Ave., Greenville, hunting with automatic gun capable of holding more than three shells, fined $10 and $9.50 court costs; Phillip M. Tripp, R-2 Grifton, shooting squirrels after hours, fined $10 and $7.50 court costs; Bobbie Letchworth, R-1 Kinston, shooting squirrels after hours, fined $10 and court costs; Robert Barwick, Negro, Grifton, hunting without license, taxed with $9.50 court costs.

Servicemen Will Get Cranberries

TOKYO (AP) — Cranberries today went back on the Thanksgiving menu for all U.S. military personnel in Japan and Korea.

They were banned last week pending tests to determine if there had been contamination by a weed killer reportedly capable of producing cancer.

Pennsylvania State University's summer school has grown from 146 students to more than 7,000 in 50 years.

Mediators Back On Steel Front

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government officials meet today to plan new settlement efforts in the steel strike.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, confers with members of President Eisenhower's steel inquiry board and the other three members of his mediation service panel.

The entire group plans to meet later with Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

Given $100,000 By Secret Donor

BOILING SPRINGS, N.C. (AP) — A donor who wishes to remain anonymous has given $100,000 to Gardner-Webb Junior College in its drive for $550,000 in capital funds.

Paris L. Yelton, general campaign chairman, told a Monday night meeting of college officials and leaders of the drive that the gift was given "as a challenge to the people to take a renewed interest" in the Baptist school.

O. Max Gardner Jr., honorary chairman for the drive, also announced a $75,000 gift by trustees of the O. Max Gardner Foundation, Inc. and immediate members of the family of Mrs. Fay Webb Gardner, for erection of a new administration building.

They were expected to arrange meetings next week with representatives of the steel industry and of the United Steelworkers Union. Negotiators have not met for several weeks.

A federal court order on Nov. 7 sent 500,000 steelworkers back to work after a 116-day walkout. The 80-day injunction expires Jan. 26. The union then will be free to strike again if an agreement has not been reached.

The Commerce Department said Tuesday many industries must continue holding down production until steel is available in greater quantities.

The nation's economic activity last month changed little from September, the department reported. It said steel strike losses were offset by advances elsewhere.

October's personal income was higher than in August and September, with a moderate decline in wage and salary payments more than offset by increases in other types of income.

A demand for 1960 autos sparked a rise in retail sales. But the report said the advance was temporary because auto production was cut back sharply as steel supplies dwindled after mid-October. Most manufacturing declines were in industries directly dependent on steel supplies.

Fires Scorching Texas Grassland

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — At least 20 fires burned thousands of acres of East Texas grassland and destroyed two homes Tuesday.

Damage was heaviest in fires which raged out of control north and south of here. Wind gusts of 30 m.p.h. made the fires difficult to fight. No injuries were reported. More than 100 men using tractors and other heavy equipment finally brought the fire south of Tyler under control.

Changes In N. C. Tourist Business

North Carolina's tourist business, continuing to grow year after year, is changing the economic picture in many sections of the state, and adding supplemental income in communities, not usually considered parts of the so-called "resort areas".

Along the coastal section of North Carolina there has been in the past decade a gradual change from the strictly seasonal tourist business to a more nearly year-round operation. Not too many years ago the beaches along the coast were jammed with people during the months of June, July and August, but in other months of the year the area was practically deserted by tourists. While the summer season still predominates the tourist trade of coastal areas, tourists are much in evidence more nearly 12 months of the year rather than three.

Rather than waiting until June to head for the coast, Tar Heels and out-of-staters begin to travel to the coast at the first signs of spring in late February and March, and the numbers increase as the weather gets warmer. And while business still drops off sharply after Labor Day so far as the sun bathers and swimmers are concerned, the fishing along the North Carolina coast during the fall months of the year attract many thousands as late as November.

Aside from the fishing, easier access to the once remote areas of the state—long known for their waterfowl during the winter—has increased sharply the number of hunters who visit the coastal areas during cold weather. When the waterfowl season closes early in January, the number of up-state and out-of-state cars along the coast drops off until warmer weather brings the fishermen back in pursuit of their salt water sport.

These factors have vastly changed the economic picture along much of North Carolina's coast, where commercial fishing was once the mainstay and backbone of the economy, and that too was seasonal.

Along the many routes that lead to the coast, restaurants, motels, hotels, service stations and other businesses have felt the increasing flow of dollars from tourists who travel to and from.

Another factor—particularly in the Coastal Plain—is that communities have shown increasing interest in attracting tourists, in this area to see major attractions, to see what they have to offer. Places of historic interest have been opened to tourists, and unusual things like tobacco auctions, unique industrial operations and other assets long taken for granted by local people are being recognized as tourist attractions. Few tourists would travel hundreds of miles to see such things, but those passing through the area enroute to other places might pause for an hour or two . . . and perhaps spend a few dollars.

The tourist business of the state, in short, is beginning to touch almost every community in this part of North Carolina. And many communities have assets that could be exploited to attract more tourists and more dollars.

New Point System Is Not A Hollow Threat

The first instance in which a driver's license has been revoked under the new point system for habitual traffic violations should serve as a warning to all motorists that the new law is not merely a hollow threat.

In the coming months more and more drivers will have their operator's licenses suspended as the point system takes its toll of those who habitually violate traffic regulations of the state. In addition to those drivers who accumulate sufficient points under the law to lose their licenses, there will be others who find themselves with almost enough points to cause them to lose their licenses.

The overall effect will be a greater public awareness of the so-called minor traffic regulations together with a better understanding of the importance of observing even these "minor" regulations. In addition to removing from the highways some of the habitual traffic violators, the law in all probability will prevent many drivers from becoming habitual violators of the regulations for fear they will lose their licenses.

The new law is one which will become increasingly controversial as it takes a toll of driver's licenses throughout the state, but it is also one which should provide North Carolina with another major step toward making its highways safer for its people.

This Season Of It Could Prove Giving Thanks A Rough Future

By LYNN NISBET

THANKSGIVING — Millions of words will be written about Thanksgiving season, the things we have to be thankful for. Nothing written this year can surpass, perhaps not equal, the beauty of language and sentiment in the Episcopal Book of Common Prayer. For this Thanksgiving Day column, we call upon the authors of the Prayer Book as guest writers.

JUBILATE DEO (Psalm 100). — O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands; serve the Lord with gladness, and come before his presence with a song.

Be ye sure that Lord he is God; it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people and the sheep of his pasture.

O go your way into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise; be thankful unto him, and speak good of his Name.

For the Lord is gracious, his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth from generation to generation.

FOR OUR COUNTRY — Almighty God, who has given us this good land for our heritage; We humbly beseech thee that we may always prove ourselves a people mindful of thy favour and glad to do thy will. Bless our land with honourable industry, sound learning, and pure manners. Save us from violence, discord, and confusion; from pride and arrogance, and from every evil way. Defend our liberties, and fashion into one united people the multitudes brought hither out of many kindreds and tongues.

Endue with the spirit of wisdom those to whom in thy name we entrust the authority of government, that there may be justice and peace at home, and that, through obedience to thy law, we may show forth thy praise among the nations of the earth. In the time of prosperity, fill our hearts with thankfulness, and in the day of trouble, suffer not our trust in thee to fail; all which we ask through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

FOR FRUITFUL SEASONS — Almighty God, who has blessed the earth that it should be fruitful and bring forth whatsoever is needful for the life of man, and has commanded us to work with quietness, and eat our own bread; Bless the labours of our husbandman, and grant such seasonable weather that we may gather in the fruits of the earth, and ever rejoice in thy goodness, to the praise of thy holy Name; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

A GENERAL THANKSGIVING — Almighty God, Father of all mercies, we, thine unworthy servants, do give thee most humble and hearty thanks for all thy goodness and loving-kindness to us, and to all men. We bless thee for our creation, preservation, and all the blessings of this life; but above all, for thine inestimable love in the redemption of the world by our Lord Jesus Christ; for the means of grace, and for the hope of glory. And, we beseech thee, give us that due sense of all thy mercies, that our hearts may be unfeignedly thankful; and that we show forth thy praise, not only with our lips, but in our lives, by giving up ourselves to thy service, and by walking before thee in holiness and righteousness all our days; through Jesus Christ our Lord, with thee, with thee, and the Holy Ghost, be all honour and glory, world without end. Amen.

A THANKSGIVING FOR THE FRUITS OF THE EARTH — Most gracious God by whose knowledge the depths are broken up, and the clouds drop down the dew; We yield thee unfeigned thanks and praise for the return of seed-time and harvest, for the increase of the ground, and the gathering in of the fruits thereof, and for all the other blessings of thy merciful providence bestowed upon this nation and people. And, we beseech thee, give us a just sense of these great mercies; such as may appear in our lives by an humble, holy, and obedient walking before thee all our days; through Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom, with thee and the Holy Ghost, be all glory and honour, world without end. Amen.

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — What happens when the Soviet Union really gets rolling? Premier Nikita Khrushchev talks blithely of peaceful, economic competition. It sounds almost jolly and sporting. It could be deadly.

It's a long-range thing and the kind easy to lose sight of in the more immediate problem of trying to work out a way of getting along with the Soviet Union to cut down on armaments and avoid the possibility of war. Yet the question of competing with the Communist world may become the greatest challenge the United States has ever faced.

It's a question brought to mind now by the direction the Eisenhower administration is taking in giving loans to needy nations. It's been called "Buy American."

It means that if backward countries need American money to buy things, then they should spend it in this country. If they want money to buy things elsewhere, then let them get the loans elsewhere.

Recently the administration nudged its West European allies to do more on their own in lending money to needy peoples overseas. There was a time, during the 1940s, when they were too broke to do that. We did it. Now they can do some of it.

The reason behind the "Buy American" idea—without getting into the complex economics of it—goes like this: This country is still selling more abroad than it is buying abroad. But the gap is getting narrower.

And American money is flowing overseas in other ways, too. For instance, in American investments overseas, in money spent on American troops and bases, and so on. The result is that this country is sending out a lot more than it is getting back.

Yet, this whole idea of "Buy American" is being heatedly debated and challenged. The argument will get worse when Congress returns.

Still, far in the background like a ghost, is that challenge of Khrushchev to the United States to eliminate military competition and compete with the Communist world economically.

Right now there is not much danger to this country from such competition. The Soviets still are not abreast of us industrially and, because they want big armaments, they are still far behind in producing consumer goods for their own people.

They will overcome that in time. So will the rest of the Communist world. And, since their living costs and pay scales are much lower than here, the things they eventually will make for the world markets should cost less than American goods.

You can be sure the Communists will use trade for a double purpose: to make money and to influence other peoples in their direction.

If relations between this country and the Communist bloc remain peaceful, then the day is also coming when they will probably try to compete with American goods in America.

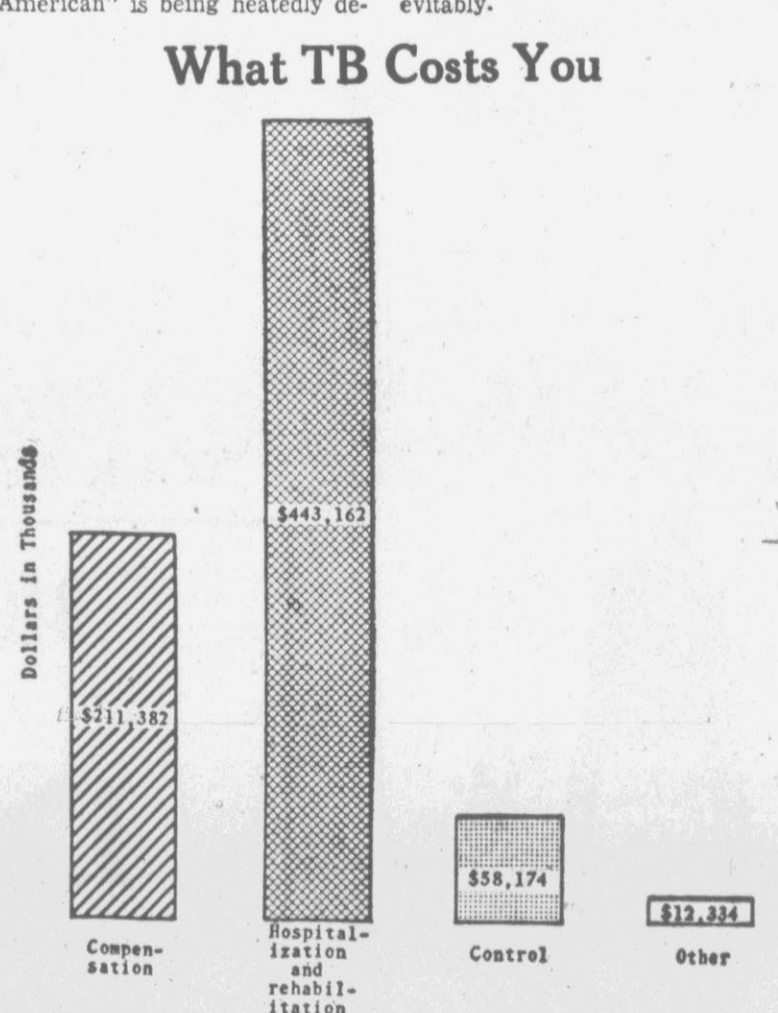

Some day the United States almost certainly will have to face this kind of competition, particularly since the state-owned means of production under communism can take a loss on one item it wants to sell and make it up elsewhere.

Under the American free-enterprise system, the government as we know it can't do that unless it subsidizes an industry in order to help it sell below cost.

This problem isn't immediate. But it lies ahead. The United States and the rest of the free world will have to find a way to solve it. This is long-range, to be sure. But it seems to be a problem which must be faced inevitably.

What TB Costs You

The total cost of tuberculosis in the United States is about $725,000,000. Most of this comes out of the taxpayer's pocket. The largest part of the cost is for the hospitalization and rehabilitation of TB patients. To help cut down the size of this item, your tuberculosis association spends your Christmas Seal dollars for the prevention of TB.

A Constant, Quiet Goad

Perhaps many readers of these daily columns wonder just what spurs them on with such regularity.

Actually, there could be any number of reasons mentioned for their existence and daily appearance.

We might say that we enjoy doing this sort of so-called informal writing; we might say we feel our readers enjoy reading "something on the lighter side" (in which case, of course, we'd be patting ourselves on the back for a public service rendered); we might even say that this is some space on the editorial page that needs to be filled; or we might say just about anything like that.

Your imagination is just as good as mine, so you may easily draw your own conclusions as to the classical or theoretical purpose of "the columns."

However, to take you behind the scenes for a moment, we'd like to show you what really does prompt and inspire these daily "jewels."

For instance, yesterday afternoon, there appeared upon this typewriter (supposedly from a mysterious source) an anonymous note: "Something extra to brighten your day," it read, "We need a column . . . for Wednesday."

When the note was discovered there was no surprise whatsoever, since this particular mysterious "warning" was merely one in a series dating back to my first days here.

Funny thing is, whenever such a note is discovered, a quick look around the newsroom immediately discerns an atmosphere of utter nonchalance with everybody calmly "minding his own business."

So the mystery remains. Where do the notes come from? They're really exquisite examples of inspired prose at times. Occasionally, they're strictly in reminder or memo form. But, always, they're immaculately punctual.

Some examples of these little bits of copy paper may be well-included at this point (merely for illustrative purposes).

Thumbing through a backlog of these unique records, we come upon such shining examples as: simply, "Column time," or more completely, "a dirty word . . . but it must be writ. . . Column time."

The single clue, however, to the identity of the notes' author came not long ago.

In a brief, but dramatic, burst of prose this particular note read: "Yes. . . Despite the fact Old Sol shines bright above our heads and autumn's air is crisp and fresh, there's columnizing to do, m'boy — and for now, you're it."

I'll bet our "culprit" who reminds us of our short memories as our news editor!

An interesting historical note for potential gamblers:

In a recent national magazine, reference was made to the "wild and woolly days" of Kansas City. A vivid picture was painted for readers of the notorious, etc., of the K.C. gambling spots and night clubs. Those spots must have been something!

But to get back to the INTERESTING item referred to above.

One of the most popular of all the gambling houses, the "Last Chance," solved its raid problems by means of re-location.

As the old political regime lost power in K.C., the police began to pose serious threats to the "organization."

The Last Chance moved into a building that would keep them safe from raids by the law. Whenever the cops came bustin' through the front door, everybody quickly, but calmly, moved everything to the other side of the room — dice tables, roulette, and all.

You see, the Kansas-Missouri boundary bisected the main room diagonally.

When the Kansas cops arrived, the gamblers merely shifted to the Missouri side of the room; when Missouri's lawmen raided the place, everything was moved into Kansas jurisdiction. Neat trick, huh?

All Can Offer Thanks

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Thanksgiving is a time of summary gratitude.

Each person has his own private roll call of appreciation. But practically everyone can be grateful that:

Thanksgiving day doesn't fall on a Monday.
Nikita Khrushchev isn't twins.
The national election isn't until next year.

For Today Strength

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
RETURNING SOME OF THE HONEY

In certain sections of the British Isles, bee-keepers are practically compelled by custom to give a percentage of their honey to give a percentage to their neighbors.

The bees get a considerable portion of their honey from the flower gardens of these neighbors, and the logic of the situation, therefore, is that the neighbors should have part of the honey.

In this little section of the world there has grown up this quaint recognition of the extent to which others contribute to our happiness and of the responsibility which is therefore incumbent upon us to share this happiness with our benefactors.

Whether we have religious faith or not we should, as a matter of pure fairness, recognize the fact that many of the things we possess and enjoy most in life have come to us through no efforts of our own, but because of the nation or the neighborhood in which we live or the household into which we happened to be born. Common decency requires that we give back some of life's sweetness to those round about us because from them considerable sweetness has come into our lives.

Sometimes in seasons of sorrow the bees come back from some neighboring garden laden with the sweetness of sympathy and loving helpfulness. Let us remember the contribution which decency and fairness impose upon us. And let us reason why we should return to our neighbors some of the honey which came from their gardens.

Bronze Bids For Wider Usage

By ELMER ROESSNER

The bronze casting industry has launched a campaign to get a larger share of the metal parts business. The campaign is being conducted by the Brass & Bronze Ingot Institute, Chicago.

The push is not merely a use-more-bronze hoopla. It is founded on research intended to find out more about the properties of various copper-based alloys.

Much of the work has been done by the Battelle Memorial Institute at Columbus, Ohio.

This research indicates many new applications possible for bronze castings.

Among the new uses suggested, with some of the reasons therefore, are:

In automatic washers, agitators to resist corrosion more than present types; thermostatic control valves for superior performance.

In freezers, bronze fittings, which would wear better and last longer in low temperatures than other types.

In dishwashers, components that will resist corrosion better than other metals.

FLYING BRONZE
In aircraft, structural parts. Since bronze is nonmagnetic, it cannot influence the operation of navigational and other delicate instruments.

While bronze is heavier than some other metals, it is less brittle at low temperatures encountered at high altitude. Bronze also resists corrosion in exposed parts, such as landing gear, and in motor parts and assemblies would give higher dimensional stability at high and low temperatures.

In garden tools, bronze would resist corrosion and provide higher structural strength. In rotary tillers, complement blades and similar farm equipment would resist corrosion from soil and moisture, provide high structural strength and last longer.

On railroads, cast sleeve bearings to provide better heat transfer, improved conformability and increased resistance as the bearing wears than aluminum. Interior fittings, which would resist corrosion and add architectural beauty.

Diesel engine gears, where bronze would be stronger and more corrosion-resistant than the steel now used.

IN CONSTRUCTION
In valves and plumbing fixtures. Here bronze is traditionally used because of its resistance to water, oil, gas and other common deteriorants.

In housing, doorknobs, hinges, window locks and other hardware, where strength and beauty are important. Lighting fixtures of bronze are inexpensive to maintain and offer greater beauty.

In marine parts. Here bronze has long been used because it resists salt water; because propellers of bronze withstand great impact when hitting foreign objects; and because bronze parts resist weathering.

Bronze is heavier than many of the metals it competes with; it is also more expensive than many. Thus whether to use bronze in any application can be decided only by solving a complicated equation in which weight, durability, conditions of use and costs are basic factors.

Plans have been finally completed whereby John Collins Furniture, Inc., will take over the entire business and in so doing John Collins, Jr., will; when plans are concluded; assume full control over and ownership of all assets and assume full responsibility for liability. It is the plan of John Collins, Jr., to revamp, rearrange and redecorate the present location as quickly as present stock can be sold and disposed of in its entirety. Here is the plain statement by John Collins Jr., which everyone should read and we quote: "Folks, this is a big responsibility. I will have to raise a large sum of money quickly. On most of my stock I am going to quote prices which will mean a good portion of this stock will be sold at or near original cost; you can take it from me that I have really put the prices on this stock that will move it quickly. ## Bethel Boys And Grimesland Girls Score Victories

BETHEL — Bethel led all the way Monday night in posting their third conference win of the young season, tripping Grimesland 55-42. The Grimesland girls copped the opener, 54-54.

John Smith once again proved to be the big gunner for the winners by pouring in 16 points. Dewar, Bethel's "sixth" starter again proved to be dangerous, netting 12 points while playing the role of a reserve.

Bethel jumped into a quick lead but the visitors offered a threat midway the second period and the halftime score was 22-20 in favor of the Indians.

With Smith and Dewar hitting a hot streak, the Indians pulled over for good in the third quarter with a 20 point production.

The win gave Coach Walter Latham's club an early lead in the Pitt County standings with three victories and no defeats.

Mabel Singleton finally rallied her club for a 59-54 victory in the opener but not after a stubborn fight from the Indian lassies.

Singleton bucketed 22 points in pacing her team to a victory. Howell followed with 20. Mazingo led the losers with 20 points.

Grimesland eased into a 37-23 halftime lead but got the score of their lives with a second half rally by Bethel against Grimesland reserves.

In a junior varsity game, Bethel nipped Grimesland 52-42 for their fifth win of the season.

It will be "Homecoming Night" at Bethel tonight when the Indians host a strong Oak City High. The Oak City boys have been running roughshod over foes this season, already claiming several wins over Pitt County clubs.

American League Attendance Best For Ten Years

BOSTON (AP)—The American League drew 9,149,454 fans in the 1959 season, its best attendance mark in 10 years, League President Joe Cronin said today.

The figure represents an increase of 1,853,420—about 25 percent—over the 1958 attendance of 7,296,033.

The New York Yankees, who slipped to third place in the standings, led the league in attendance with 1,522,030 at home, and also paced the league on the road, drawing 1,967,793.

Of the eight teams, only Boston failed to show an increase in home attendance, slipping 92,945 to 984,102.

Cleveland enjoyed the biggest increase last season, drawing 1,497,976 compared with only 663,803 in 1958. Pennant winning Chicago boosted its home gate 625,693 to 1,423,144. Detroit was the only other American League club drawing more than a million in 1959, with 1,221,221.

The American Bowling Congress moves back to Toledo for 1960. It was last held there in 1926.

Floyd Will Fight Sans D'Amato

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson wants a chance to win back the world heavyweight title from Ingemar Johansson and if he has to do it without the support of manager Gus D'Amato, that's what he'll do.

The next move now is up to Johansson—or possibly the courts.

In a telephone interview with The Associated Press, Patterson, who has been training for six weeks at Newtown, Conn., said grimly:

"I want that fight even if I can't have Gus with me."

D'Amato's licenses as manager and second were revoked by the New York State Athletic Commission on Monday, leaving Patterson free to sign for his own fights or take another manager.

D'Amato said he would take court action to have the licenses restored.

Oak City Cagers Take 2 Wins Over Chicod Teams

OAK CITY—Big Larry Worsley proved to be too much for Chicod last night, scoring 32 points and leading Oak City to a 59-52 win over the charges of Coach Bob Howell.

The Oak City club found their Pitt county rival a pesky five and never held a commanding lead. But with Worsley controlling both backboards, Oak City was always able to hold the upper hand.

Raymond Fornes kept his club in the game with an outstanding shooting performance but even his canny eye couldn't offset the play of Worsley. Fornes scored 18 points to lead his club in defeat.

Oak City was able to gain a clean sweep of the Tuesday night doubleheader as its lassies rallied in the final period to win the opener, 64-44.

Chicod's Janice Mills pumped in 29 points for scoring honors but didn't get the support from her other forwards. Oak City used a balanced scoring attack with Tempe McCracker's 23 points leading the way.

Winterville Girl Cagers Win Their Sixth Straight

WINTERVILLE — Maury High School, behind by a point at halftime, pulled away from Winterville High in the second half and dumped the Wolves, 77-66, in the Pitt school's final game before it jumps into Pitt County Conference competition against Chicod next Tuesday.

In the opener of last night's double-header here, Winterville's girls took their sixth straight win without defeat by soundly thumping Maury's lassies by 64-35.

Jones and Worthington led the Maury lads in their second half comeback with 21 points apiece. Worthington and Worthington were high for the Wolves with 19 and 17 points respectively.

Brenda Wall led the Winterville girls' victory with 22 points. Carolyn Cayton and Margie Nichols had 12 each. Meadows and Bunn led the Maury lassies with 14 and 12 points respectively.

Fights Last Night

Oakland, Calif. — Art Ramponi, 135½, Oakland, outpointed Jimmy Carter, 138, New York, 10.

Pick Army To Win Over Navy

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's turkey time, when some college football teams gobble up the opposition. We hope to give thanks for a good score this week.

Army over Navy: Each team expects a victory here to salvage a dismal season. The Cadets have the better attack and should prove it Saturday.

Southern California over Notre Dame: No matter how cold it gets in South Bend on Saturday, the Trojans will get up a head of steam.

Georgia over Georgia Tech: This is the best Georgia team since the Sinkwich-Tripp era. It is a Saturday game.

Duke over North Carolina: Your Thursday TV tidbit. Two teams with disappointing records take it out on each other.

Taking a final, hurried romp over the chalklines:

THURSDAY
Colgate over Brown, Cincinnati over Miami of Ohio, Wyoming over Denver, Penn over Cornell, Richmond over William & Mary, Virginia Military over Virginia Tech, Wichita over Tulsa, Washington State over Houston.

SATURDAY

Four Conference Races Go Down To Wire Thursday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four college conferences which take pride in their close and unpredictable football competition, bring their title races right down to the wire Thanksgiving Day.

The holiday games, dwindling in important and number in recent years, likely will be deciding factors in the Ivy League, Southern Conference, Missouri Valley and Southwest Conference championships and in the naming of one team for a major New Year's Day bowl game.

If Texas, rated the No. 4 team in the nation in the latest Associated Press poll, can win from Texas A&M Thursday, they'll share the Southwest title with Arkansas and automatically get the bid to play unbeaten Syracuse in the Cotton Bowl.

Texas Christian also can tie for the championship by beating Southern Methodist Saturday, but under conference procedure Texas gets first call and Arkansas second in event of a tie. So TCU also has accepted a bid to play in the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston, Dec. 19, and Arkansas has agreed to play in the Gator Bowl Jan. 2 unless it takes the undisputed title.

In the Ivy League Pennsylvania can complete an amazing climb from its non-winning seasons of recent years to the top of the heap by beating its old rival Cornell. Penn is 5-1 in the league standing and Dartmouth, last year's champion, is 5-1-1. A Penn-Cornell tie would leave them deadlocked, but the Quakers are expected to go all out for a victory over a team that has split even in six Ivy games.

The Missouri Valley conference, like the Southwest, could wind up in a three-way tie—and it appears more likely. North Texas State and Houston have completed conference competition with 3-1 records. Tulsa can join them by beating Wichita (0-2-1) in a rematch of last year's exciting game when the situation was reversed. Houston meets Washington State in a non-conference game.

Its a head-to-head struggle between Virginia Military (4-0-1) and Virginia Tech (3-0) for the Southern Conference crown on a neutral field at Roanoke, Va.

The rest of the Thanksgiving program consists mainly of traditional games with no bearing on titles.

Washington U. Coach Resigns

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eugene (Bo) Sherman has resigned as head coach at George Washington University after nearly a lifetime in football, and may drop out of the sport.

"I honestly don't know what I'll do," Sherman said after his surprise resignation Tuesday. "If something else came along, I might take it."

Sherman, 51, has been identified with football since his playing days at Henderson College in Arkansas. He had been head coach at GW since 1952 and attributed his decision to withdraw solely to personal reasons.

Despite a year in which the Colonials won only one of nine games and finished in a tie with Davidson for the Southern Conference basement, there was no hint Sherman was under pressure to leave.

George Washington, once a football power, has functioned in recent years with small squads under a limited program of athletic scholarships. Sherman's Colonials reached their high point in 1957 with a 7-1 record and a Sun Bowl victory over Texas Western.

In his eight seasons Sherman's teams won 30, lost 38 and tied 3. The fatherly, even-tempered Sherman, who suffered agonies in defeat, succeeded jocular Bo Rowland after serving as an assistant to Rowland at The Citadel, Oklahoma City and GW.

New Grifton Golf Club Holds Formal Opening

The Grifton Golf and Country Club held its formal opening Saturday, November 21, at 2 o'clock.

Club President Leroy Cherry opened the brief ceremony by expressing his appreciation to the members and guests for their attendance. He pledged himself to help build the club into one of North Carolina's finest nine hole courses.

Cherry then introduced C. R. Kline who served as master of ceremonies. Kline introduced the officers and board of directors after which he traced the development of the course from the dream of a few people to the reality it is today. He told of the unselfish effort of many people who have given of their time and money to carve from a dense wooded area, a truly beautiful course.

Mayor Wiley Gaskins cut the ribbon on Number One Tee and had the honor of teeing off—thus bringing to Grifton something that the town can be proud of. The first foursome included W. L. Daws, Or. J. O. Carson, Dr. B. C. Troutman, and Sam McLawhorn.

The course is located one-half mile north of Grifton just outside the city limits off Church Street. It is a nine hole course in a wooded area on rolling terrain. The course, in time, can be terrific as it has all the possibilities needed to make it truly outstanding.

A pro shop is under construction and should be completed within the week. Future plans include a club building and a swimming pool.

As the drive for membership is still underway, family memberships are available for one hundred dollars each.

The Honorable Herbert Bonner, Congressman from the First District, was a special guest at the opening ceremonies.

NORTH EDGEcombe — Benny Harper and David Edwards formed a one-two punch for North Edgecombe last night to blast past Belvoir-Falkland, 60-42.

The home club moved into a ten point lead in the first quarter, 19-9, and padded it the rest of the night. Harper dropped in 20 points and Edwards followed with 18.

Jerry Little returned to action for Belvoir-Falkland but was able to do very little in preventing the Eagle's third defeat of the season. Harris was high for the losers with 17 points.

Coach Ed Warren's girls remained undefeated in the opener by jumping into a quick lead and coasting to their fifth victory of the season, 51-42.

Phyllis Nichols led the winners with 19 points and Marie Harrell added 16. Sue Lassiter was high for NE with 20 points.

Belvoir-Falkland will be in action again December 4th when it meets Saratoga in Belvoir.

CHAPTER 25 Sergeant Desportes suddenly remembered the packet the boy who called himself Bud Smith had given him. Taking out his keys he moved to the night table against the wall.

As he bent down to insert the key, he noticed some little marks and scratches around the lock. They were relatively new; he'd never noticed them before. Certain now what he would find, he unlocked the drawer roughly and pulled it open. Bud had picked the lock! All at once the Sergeant felt a wild surge of anger at being so badly duped, and then suddenly he began to laugh. He sank down on the edge of the bed and roared. Little by little he subsided, feeling much better. What a fool, what an idiot, he'd been!

Ceramic Tile Given New Boost By Building Boom

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The postwar building spree has given an old timer its biggest sales boom. Use of ceramic tile goes back thousands of years. But in just the last 10, new techniques and materials have brought it out of the luxury class. This and the postwar rush of building have boosted sales in the United States by 143 per cent since 1949. The Tile Council of America says costs of production and installation have been cut about 20 per cent since the war. The council says it represents 27 manufacturers turning out more than 90 per cent of domestic-made ceramic floor and wall tile. It says many of the new techniques and materials were developed at its own research center at Princeton, N.J. Department of Commerce construction figures put the 1947-49 average annual production of ceramic tile at 104,800,000 square feet, and output in the 12 months ending June 30, 1959, at 235,956,000 square feet. The council's figures show 99,146,000 square feet turned out 10 years ago. It estimates this year's production will reach 241 million square feet. It says facilities have been expanded to bring present production capacity to about 375 million square feet a year. Like many other manufacturers, the tile makers are seeing their newly found bonanza threatened by foreign invaders. The volume of imported tile is rising fast. And the council says this year's tide of foreign ceramic building materials may capture 20 per cent of the American market. The council, like similar industry groups, bewails the "exploitation of low-paid labor which permits foreign producers" to undersell Americans. At the end of the war, domestic tile manufacturers offered about 30 different colors. Today they show more than 200. In the post-war years a trend toward diversity in size, shape and texture, offering the architect a large number of combinations, also has boosted use. Increased production, along with the less costly materials and processes, helped bring the price down within reach of more residential and commercial building budgets. The tile salesmen also make much of its fairly cheap maintenance, which has a dollar and cents appeal to the commercial building operator.

Heavy Loss In 3-Car Wreck

Over $1,000 damage resulted from a wreck involving three cars last night on Eight Street near the intersection of Dickinson Ave.

According to investigating officers Lt. J. B. Cannon and Ptl. R. B. Elks, a car driven by Troy Ray Adams, 18, of Route 1, Grimsland and struck a parked car owned by Robert A. Letfwick of 129 North Library St. The impact of the collision sent the parked Letfwick vehicle slamming into the rear of a second parked car owned by Shelburne Webster Paul of 1702 South Elm St.

The Fire Department was called by the officer when gas from a ruptured gas tank on one of the vehicles started spilling onto the street. Firemen washed the gas away in order to prevent a possible explosion.

Damage to the Adams car was placed at $200 while officers set damage to the Webster car at $299 also. Damage to the Letfwick auto was placed at $700.

Adams, who allegedly told officers he was traveling at about 20 miles per hour when the collision occurred, was charged with careless and reckless driving and released under a $100 bond for appearance in city court here December 4.

Huge Clean-Up Job Is Waiting

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—A huge cleaning job faced hundreds of western Washington families as flood waters continued to recede.

Thousands of acres of lowlands were still under water, but weather forecasts indicated the worst was past. Temperatures were dropping in the rain-soaked Cascade Mountain range. Clear weather with no precipitation was forecast.

Sheriff's deputies and coast-guardmen patrolled the Snohomish River and Green River valleys, patching dikes and aiding residents.

A woman motorist was killed Sunday night in a car-truck accident. An Ellensburg, Wash. man is missing. His empty, wrecked car was found along the Snoqualmie River near a huge washout.

Cold Air Moves Out Of Canada

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—Cold air from Canada, powered by blustery northerly winds, chilled most of the nation's mid-section today.

In northern Minnesota temperatures dropped to below zero.

The icy air headed into western sections of the Atlantic Coast states. It was expected to continue southeastward, bringing cooler weather to the Atlantic Coast states and sections of the Gulf Coast.

Excluding the coldest sections in Minnesota, readings were in the 20s from the Great Lakes region southwestward through Iowa and northward into the Dakotas. Temperatures in the 30s and 40s were the rule in most other parts of the country, except for the 50s over the Atlantic Coast states, near the Gulf Coast and in the far Southwest.

PANAMA (AP) — Leaders of civic organizations are planning a demonstration to support Panama's claims of sovereignty over the Canal Zone on Saturday, the anniversary of Panama's independence from Spain.

Herter Hopeful West Can Make New Berlin Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter thinks the Western powers could negotiate with the Soviet Union a new and better plan for the future of disputed Berlin—but he is by no means sure they will be able to do so in the summit discussions now foreseen.

This cautiously hopeful view was expressed by Herter at a news conference Tuesday when he struck back at criticism of the administration's Berlin attitude voiced by former Secretary of State Dean Acheson in a speech last week.

Acheson contended that an effort to make a Berlin deal with the Soviet Union would result simply in a defeat for the West. Negotiation, Acheson said, "is only a polite, misleading phrase for a retreat and an acceptance of Russian terms."

Herter told questioning reporters that what Acheson had done "was to build up a number of straw men and then knock them down."

Acheson assumed, he said, that now in existence could be worked out for Berlin, Herter replied: "It can be. I'm not sure that it will be. I wouldn't predict that it necessarily would be. I think we would like to make a better arrangement if we could."

The present position of Western forces in West Berlin is based on war-won rights of occupation. The Western powers supply their forces there, and civilian goods move to the city through corridors across Communist East Germany. Khrushchev threatened a year ago to turn over total control of the corridor to East Germany, which might then have closed the corridor.

Herter said Khrushchev had moved away from this threat and that the Soviet Union in the last year had several times "admitted our legal rights" in West Berlin. These were the acts which showed he said, that the Soviet position has "cooled a very long way" from that which precipitated the crisis a year ago.

At the same time, however, Herter did not talk about any new formula which might solve the dispute.

After Chicago Air Tragedy Low-Flying Peril Studied

CHICAGO (AP)—The peril of low-flying aircraft to residents of dwellings near busy airports was being studied today by investigators of a flaming crash of a cargo plane near Midway Airport.

There were 11 fatalities in Tuesday's tragedy. Three were aboard the Trans World Airlines Super-H Constellation that crashed three blocks short of a runway.

The other eight victims were asleep in dwellings smashed and set afire by the crippled plane. Thirteen other persons were injured.

An apartment building and three homes were demolished as though a bomb had struck the peaceful neighborhood near the airport handling more than 1,200 takeoffs and landings every day.

Much of Chicago's air traffic, on the Southwest Side which including movements of all jet craft, has been diverted in the last few years to O'Hare International Airport on the city's Northwest Side but the problem of low-flying aircraft over residential areas still remains.

Chicago's official concern was expressed by Alderman John Egan, head of the City Council Aviation Committee.

"No matter what the causes of this accident, it points up the ever-present hazard of having big airplanes passing low over heavily built up city communities," Egan said.

"We can't imagine what a proper solution to this difficulty might be."

Midway is a mile-square terminal

Appoint Salvation Army Christmas Effort Group

Dr. James W. Butler, chairman of the local Salvation Army Advisory Board, has appointed the Salvation Army Christmas Effort Committee, and this group met Monday afternoon at the home of Lt. and Mrs. Walter Norris, the Commanding Officers.

B. D. Johnston is the chairman of this year's Christmas Program, with Mrs. J. H. B. Moore and J. Hicks Corey serving with him.

Plans were made to place the traditional Salvation Army Christmas Kettle house on Evans Street near the Guaranty Bank building on Saturday, November 28.

It was noted that this program of the Salvation Army is not included in the operating budget of the Army and is approved by the Pitt County United Fund as a separate Christmas Effort in line with its agreement with the Salvation Army.

All of the income from the Christmas Effort of the Salvation Army is used to provide Christmas to those who are not helped in any other way. Besides the traditional grocery baskets and toys given to the needy, Lt. Norris estimated that about 800 garments will be provided at Christmas time this year.

The Salvation Army will be providing Christmas Baskets for the hospital, prison farm and the county home for the aged. Special gifts will be presented to those at the county home.

Chairman Johnston suggested that anyone wishing to assist in this program of Christmas Cheer may mail their donation to the Salvation Army, P.O. Box 113, Greenville, N.C.

Advise Halting Supports' Rise

RALEIGH (AP) — Voting delegates of the State Farm Bureau Federation have gone along with suggestions of their Resolutions Committee to recommend congressional action halting the rise of tobacco support prices.

They made the recommendation Tuesday in spite of a warning from B. I. Satterfield of Person County, who said freezing one segment of the economy while allowing others to remain unhampered "would be stepping into dangerous waters."

Satterfield, a state representative, said the climb in support prices for tobacco has not kept pace with the increasing cost of living.

The delegates approved another resolution prompted by the current mixup in the nation's cranberry situation. They called on the U.S. Pure Food and Drug Administration to perform its job so as to avoid public panic and protect farmers from unnecessary losses.

The group elected B. C. Mangum of Rougemont, State Farm Bureau president; Carl T. Hicks of Walsenburg, A. W. Nesbit of Asheville and Mrs. John B. Chase of Eureka as delegates to next month's American Farm Bureau Convention in Chicago.

Some 1,500 Pay Final Respects To Max Baer

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Some 1,500 persons from all over the nation paid their final tribute to former heavyweight champion Max Baer Tuesday.

Baer, boxing's big clown prince, was laid to rest with solemn ceremony following a quiet funeral in private chapel.

He died of a heart attack in Hollywood Saturday at the age of 50.

Jack Dempsey and Joe Louis, other one-time champs, were among the mourners, which included politicians, people in wheel chairs and Cub Scouts.

There were tears in the eyes of Curly Owen, Baer's old sparring partner, as he took down Max's gloves from a big white floral arrangement.

The Rev. Patrick McHugh, Pastor of the Holy Spirit Roman Catholic church, read the brief service in the chapel, then again at a Catholic Mausoleum. There was no eulogy.

Baer was not a Catholic, but his wife and three children are.

Fire officials said the cause of the blaze was undetermined.

Concerned Over Tobacco Exports

KENANSVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Gov. Hodges said Tuesday night he is greatly concerned about the future of flue-cured tobacco sales in Europe.

"The countries of Europe are complaining about our tobacco and our price," Hodges declared. "Rhodesia is constantly increasing its production and its sales."

The governor spoke at Duplin County's annual Awards Day program, part of the county's community development program.

Hodges told the gathering that on the recent industry hunting trip to Europe "many hours were spent selling the virtues of North Carolina tobacco, and seeking expanded markets for tobacco. I have no doubt that the North Carolina farmer will benefit, both directly and indirectly, from the contacts made during the trip."

Hodges said tobacco remains the backbone of farm economy "and it is to be hoped that new farming methods, new varieties and new insecticides will make the production of our tobacco even more profitable in the future."

Exchange Accord By U.S., Soviet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union have agreed to exchange visits of atom-for-peace scientists.

No secret atomic information will be involved in the exchange agreement signed Tuesday by John A. McCone, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, and Prof. V. S. Emelyanov, Soviet atomic chief.

The two nations also agreed to examine the feasibility of joint projects on peaceful uses of the atom. One possibility is the building of a giant atom-smashing machine.

Predicts Demos Will Avoid Split

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) predicted today the Democratic national convention next year will avoid any damaging split over the civil rights issue.

"I am confident the South will have friendly consideration in the convention," Sparkman told a reporter.

He said he expects Dixie and Northern delegates to agree on a civil rights platform pleasing to neither side, but acceptable to both.

Sparkman, who was the Democrats' vice presidential nominee in 1952, said he would not even consider accepting a place on the national ticket next year if it were offered to him.

Sparkman said he will not take sides among the aspirants until the convention has chosen the party's nominees. He said he then will support the ticket.

The Alabama said the convention may see a record number of "favorite son" candidates, and he doubts the presidential nomination will be settled before the sixth or seventh ballot.

"But I don't think we'll get into any really long ballot contest," he added. "We Democrats still remember 1924, when there were 103 ballots and the party was cut to ribbons."
