U. S. Spying Proves War Plan: Gromyko

By MAX HARELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union charged today that U. S. spy efforts proved the United States is planning an aggressive war against Russia. The United States replied that on the contrary such efforts are aimed at preventing a surprise attack by the Kremlin.

The exchange took place in news conferences by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge as an aftermath of the U. N. debate on U. S. spy plane flights.

Gromyko called the United States an enemy of peace, dedicated to aggravating world tensions and not to be trusted in diplomatic negotiations. He all but ruled out any further dealings with the Eisenhower administration.

Lodge said the Soviet Union seems to have launched a worldwide propaganda drive, based on a Madison Avenue type slogan, to brand the United States as an aggressor.

The U. S. delegate expressed the belief it would not make much difference whether the Soviet Union deals with the present administration or the next. Foreign policy, he said, is not a partisan matter.

"No matter who's in the White House," he said, "you're going to find the same problems."

Gromyko said the Soviet Union could not regard the U. S. government as reliable. He said further that the United States wanted to negotiate only as a smokescreen to cover its unwillingness to relax world tensions.

The Soviet foreign minister was bitter about the U. N. Security Council's rejection of his demands that the United States be declared an aggressor for he May 1 spy flight over Soviet territory.

"All that transpired during the consideration of the question raised by us in the Security Council," he said, "the statements of the United States representative as well as the speech made by President Eisenhower on May 25 confirms the fact that the United States government is an enemy of peace."

Gromyko also blasted the United States for its plan to send 120 fighter planes to southeast Asia for training exercises. He further warned Japan against permitting U. S. fighter planes to be based in Red China. He was tough both in his prepared statement and in response to questions, frequently accusing the United States of "duplicitous" and "perfidious" behavior.

He said nothing had happened in the Security Council to reassure the Soviet Union that there would be no more U. S. spy planes over Soviet territory. He stressed anew he would raise the U2 case before the General Assembly.

Speaking of the proposed dispatch of U. S. fighter planes to Asia, he said, "Such acts do not bespeak any eagerness by the United States to contribute to the reduction of tension."

Gromyko appeared at the news conference after last night's call by the U. N. Security Council for new Big Four negotiations.

Nikita Believes Ike Wants Peace

By PRESTON GROVER
MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today he believes President Eisenhower wants peace, but the "road to hell is paved with good intentions and he will really get there," U. S. military circles he described as opposed to peace.

"Everybody knows that the President of the United States has two duties: The first is to play golf and the second is to be president, and golf-playing is more important," Khrushchev said.

He declared the Americans need to be "taken down a peg or two."

The Soviet leader reported to the Soviet nation by radio and TV, in a speech delivered before a meeting of Communist labor brigade leaders in the Kremlin, on the failure of the Paris summit conference and related world affairs. The delegates unanimously acclaimed him as the "foremost shock worker of Communist labor."

In a three-hour talk which he broke with a 20-minute rest period, Khrushchev presented these main points:

THE MAY U2 FLIGHT: "Treachery committed by the U. S. government. The creation of a new Soviet rocket that Khrushchev said downed the high-flying Lockheed craft has undermined the entire U. S. military bomber strategy."

SUMMIT CONFERENCE: "The United States bears responsibility before the whole world" for collapse of the Big Four Paris meeting. There was a slap at Bonn also—"backstage activities of the West German government did everything to wreck the summit conference or render it sterile." If there is not a new summit conference in six or eight months, but not surprised. An Eisenhower apology for the U2 flight is still a precondition. Red China, India, Indonesia and possibly some other nations should take part in any future summit meetings.

UNITED NATIONS: Defeated in the Security Council, the Soviet Union is going to submit to the general assembly its charge of aggression by the United States. "The majority of the Security Council could not pronounce a just verdict. How could the pirates be judged by those who themselves were pirates?"

DISARMAMENT: The Soviet Union will resume nuclear tests if the United States does. "I want to warn that the renewal of nuclear explosions will lead to our renewing such nuclear tests in the interests of our security and that of our allies. I stress that we do not want such a development. I repeat once again that we are ready to carry on honest negotiations on disarmament."

TURKEY: In a reference to U. S. military bases there: "The government of Premier Adnan Menderes which was overthrown Friday did not promote the betterment of relations with Soviet Union. We have been striving for better relations with Turkey for a long time."

JAPAN: The Soviets will deal a shattering blow at U. S. bases in Japan if those bases are used for spy flights over the Soviet Union. The newly concluded U. S.-Japan military pact was described as directed against the U. S. S. R. and its great friend, China.

DOMESTIC AFFAIRS: Anastas I. Mikoyan, a first deputy premier who has not been seen at public functions in Moscow lately, is on a Black Sea vacation. "Western journalists have spread the story that there's a clash in the (Communist party) Central Committee over Mikoyan. There's no truth in it."

Khrushchev's references to Eisenhower in talking to the Soviet people were not so bitter as his attacks in Paris.

At a massive news conference in the French capital 10 days ago, Khrushchev angrily accused Eisenhower of deceit and likened him to a thief in aerial spying. Today the emphasis was shifted to the American people, "who are disturbed by the relaxation of tension."

Vote Heavy Throughout State Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
North Carolina voters turned out in heavy numbers today to decide a hotly contested governor's race and several other state and local contests.

The total vote may reach a new high. Predictions ranged between 500,000 and 700,000.

The weather in the state generally was good.

The early voting in Raleigh was heavy. Some crowds were in line when city precincts opened at 6:30 a. m. Voting also was heavy in Wake County.

At Goldsboro, big crowds also were reported early.

Asheville and Gastonia, however, reported that early balloting was light.

The voting was heavy in Durham with a 20,000-plus vote expected.

Fayetteville reported that early balloting there and in Cumberland County looked like it was the heaviest in history.

Cherokee and Mecklenburg County reported a steady stream of voters in the early balloting — about average for a primary. Predictions were that the total vote in Mecklenburg may reach 35,000, which would be a record for a primary.

The voting at High Point also was heavy. Precinct officials there were having to supplement voting machines with paper ballots. About 8,000 votes were expected at High Point.

On the statewide ballot were four Democratic candidates for governor, three Republican and three Democratic hopefuls for lieutenant governor and four Democratic senatorial contenders.

Republicans also are voting in their own primary. But the GOP nominee for governor, Sanford attorney Robert L. Gavin, already is chosen. And Republicans have not offered candidates for every race. The state has one GOP congressman, four-term Rep. Charles R. Jona, of the 10th district.

Seeking the Democratic nomination for governor are four lawmen, Terry Sanford, Malcolm Sealwell, John D. Larkins Jr. and Dr. I. Beverly Lake. Gov. Luther H. Hodges is ineligible to succeed himself. Observers feel that a runoff primary will be needed.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) said Friday's testimony by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Undersecretary Douglas Dillon did not dispel his objections to the way it was handled. Republicans on Fulbright's Foreign Relations Committee generally defended Herter's position that the spy flights were needed for the free world's protection.

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) said

Local Interest, Weather May Bring Record Vote

ELECTION DAY . . . This scene was repeated thousands of times in Pitt County today as voters flocked to the polls in what appeared at mid-day to be a record turn-out for a Democratic Primary.

Refreshing temperatures and lack of rain combined with high interest in several campaigns were bringing out Pitt voters in what may be record numbers this morning.

They were casting their ballots in the state primary. The Democratic primary will determine who will serve as elective officials in the predominantly Democratic state.

Skies were overcast this morning as voters began making their way to the polling places. But apparently the heavy rainfall of yesterday was all the precipitation for awhile. No rain was reported this morning to disperse the parade of voters who were trooping to the polls.

The heavy turn out during the morning was causing some observers to predict 15,000 votes for Pitt County. This would be well ahead of the 1956 record ballot of 14,388.

A spot check of polling places between 11:00 and 11:30 today showed Farmville leading in the number of ballots cast at that time. Farmville, home of Congressional candidate Walter B. Jones, had cast 673 votes shortly after 11.

Not far behind as Greenville 7 box which is voted at Elm St. Park. It had 624 ballots late this morning.

Ayden was experiencing a heavy vote. That box had cast 454 votes at 11:05. Grifton reported 279 ballots in the survey and Winterville had cast 293 votes.

Bethel reported 188 votes at 11:10 while Grimesland 1 reported 64 ballots at 11:30. Pictious had cast 74 votes at 10:30 this morning.

The Greenville boxes and their votes between 11 and 11:30 were as follows: No. 1, Farmers Warehouse, 80; No. 2, Court House, 153; No. 3, Third St. School, 273; No. 4, West End Fire Station, 276; No. 5, Keels Warehouse, 185; No. 6, Main Fire Station, 341; No. 7, Elm St. Park, 624; No. 8, Rotary Building, 537.

Reports from Martin and Beaufort counties indicated heavy votes in those First Congressional District counties.

There were estimates of 3,800 to 4,000 for Martin and 5,600 for Beaufort. Beaufort is the home county of Congressman Herbert C. Bonner who is seeking reelection.

Returns for both Pitt County and the First Congressional District will be compiled in the Daily Reflector office as they are available tonight.

The street in front of the office is to be blocked off and the returns posted on a scoreboard in front of the newspaper office.

For Pitt County, today's vote is primarily a Democratic one. However, the Republican primary is also being held throughout the state today and a few hundred Republican tickets will be cast among the thousands of Democratic ballots in Pitt.

Toll Rises Sharply As Holiday Begins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic deaths mounted sharply today as the long Memorial Day weekend attracted millions of motorists to the nation's highways.

Eighteen hours after the start of the three-day holiday at 6 a. m. (local time) Friday, the number of deaths from traffic was running far ahead of the toll at the same hour in 1958 when the holiday also was a three-day affair.

Mild temperatures over most of the country and forecasts for clearing weather over some rain-lashed sections brought the greatest outpouring of pleasure-bound motorists thus far this year.

This weekend began on a tragic note as the first reported traffic fatality was a 10-month-old boy, Little Armos Loyer, was struck and killed by a truck driven by his father in the driveway of their Wakeman, Ohio, home.

In Chicago, two persons were killed and five others injured when their car struck a utility pole and skidded another 400 feet.

This is the first of three Saturday-Sunday-Monday holidays before warm weather ends. July 4 falls on Monday this year; Labor Day always does so.

The National Safety Council estimated that nearly all the 73 million automobiles in the United States will be in use sometime during the holiday period from 6 p. m. Friday through midnight Monday. In all they will travel some seven billion miles.

Because of this heavy volume the council said possibly as many as 375 persons would perish in traffic accidents. According to council estimates this would be 65 more than the toll for a nonholiday weekend covering the same 78-hour period.

As a yard stick to gauge nonholiday traffic fatalities The Associated Press ran a test survey two weeks ago covering the period from 6 p. m. Friday, May 13, until midnight Monday, May 16. The result was a total of 330 traffic fatalities, 20 more than the council's estimate.

This is the first three-day Memorial Day holiday since 1958. On that weekend a record of 371 persons perished in auto accidents.

Search Held For Sunken Object

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Navy divers, working with difficulty under 430 feet of water, searched the ocean floor today for a sunken object detected by sonar equipment.

Rear Adm. Lloyd Mustin, commanding the Key West Naval Base, contradicted reports that the Navy was hunting a foreign submarine. He said the object probably was a sunken freighter.

The search centered 25 miles southeast of Key West and 10 miles southeast of the American Shoals Light.

Mustin said the 5,000-ton freighter Lake City sank three miles northwest of the spot shortly after World War II.

The Lake City cannot now be located with sonar, Mustin said, and it is assumed the wreck was moved by ocean currents.

The Navy Department in Washington joined Adm. Mustin in ruling out the possibility that the sunken object was a submarine. Navy spokesmen also said they were skeptical of reports that a submarine periscope had been sighted in the Mississippi River, 20 miles downstream from Baton Rouge, although an investigation was being made.

The skipper of the tanker R. P. Smith reported the periscope sighting Friday.

3.5-Inch Rain Drenches Area

Friday's heavy downpour dumped 3.5 inches of rain on Greenville, according to measurements at the Greenville Utilities Plant, J. M. Fleming said today.

Areas throughout Pitt County reported heavy rains and thunderstorms, but no damage was reported. Warnings of severe storms and possible hail had been forecast for the south central and eastern parts of North Carolina last night.

J. P. Davenport of Pictious said heavy rains and thunderstorms were experienced in the Pictious area last night, with no hail and no known damage. In Simpson, rain fell at two or more inches. Farmville reported about the same.

Cleveland Payton, town manager of Ayden, said Ayden experienced torrential rains and several thunderstorms. This morning, water was still standing on the grounds, but there was no apparent damage in Ayden, either, Payton said.

Saturday's forecast was for cloudy and cool weather, with fair and somewhat warmer on Sunday, the weatherman said.

Friday's high temperature reached 77 degrees, with a low of 56. Saturday the 4 a. m. temperature was 64 degrees, rising to 69 at 8 a. m. The Tar River level was 4.7 feet, Fleming said, and rising slowly.

Here are the other tallies: Lieutenant Governor: H. Cloyd Philpott 5; David McConnell 3.

U. S. Senator: M. Everett Jordan 8.

Associate Supreme Court Justice: Clifton L. Moore 7, William J. Cocke 1.

Insurance Commissioner: Charles Gold 5, John Frederick 3.

Pitt Citizens Invited To Election Party

The Daily Reflector has invited all citizens of Pitt County to their election party tonight, the most elaborate they have ever staged where primary election results will be made available as quickly as possible.

A giant scoreboard has been erected in front of the building, facing Cotanche Street, where the local and state candidates, where precinct-by-precinct and county-by-county returns will be posted as they come in.

Poll holders have been asked to call PL 2-6166 when their precinct results are quickly as possible. The returns will be taken in the Daily Reflector's newsroom. Four phone lines will be available, and a fifth phone line has been installed to allow communication with other points throughout the first congressional district so that county returns may be tabulated as quickly as possible.

An electro-mechanical tabulating device, installed by the Burroughs Corp., especially for the election party, will compile the returns. It will carry 36 totals of figures. Thus, totals will be available instantly for each candidate at all times during the evening.

The Reflector's Associated Press news teletype will be in operation during the night, bringing up-to-the-minute returns on the state race into the newspaper office.

The Daily Reflector has traditionally gathered returns on the night of elections and primaries for years. This is to allow local citizens to know the results in the quickest possible time.

Editor David J. Whichard said, "We extend an invitation to all Pitt County citizens to be present tonight as the primary returns are tabulated at the Daily Reflector office."

"Much planning has been done by our staff for the night's work, and it is our hope that we will be able to make the returns available to the public quickly and accurately."

Probably the largest crowd in years will gather at the election party, since keen interest has been displayed in the congressional race between incumbent Herbert C. Bonner and challenger Walter Jones of Farmville. The gubernatorial race has stirred up keen interest also.

Cotanche Street from Second to Third will be blocked off for the evening. Folding seats will be placed in the street for the convenience of those attending the election party.

Greenville Jaycees will be selling soft drinks from a booth to be set up in the area.

Fulbright Is Dissatisfied About Govm't U-2 Stories

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chairman of the Senate committee probing the U2 spy plane incident says he's not satisfied there was effective coordination among top government agencies that handled the conflicting early statements about it.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) said Friday's testimony by

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Undersecretary Douglas Dillon did not dispel his objections to the way it was handled. Republicans on Fulbright's Foreign Relations Committee generally defended Herter's position that the spy flights were needed for the free world's protection.

Turkey Rulers Plan New Constitution

By GARVEN HUDGINS
ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Life gradually returned to normal in Turkey today under the watchful eye of a ruling military junta which toppled the government of Adnan Menderes and threatened to put the dictator-premier on trial.

Troops guarded banks and other important buildings throughout the country, but otherwise there were few outward signs that Turkey was under direct military rule.

Gen. Cemal Gursel's revolutionary "Turkish National Union Committee" moved swiftly, however, to set the wheels in motion again.

The junta, which has promised new elections soon to set up a democratic state, named a board of educators and jurists to write a new constitution. It also ordered Dean Siddik Omar of Istanbul university to form a provisional government.

The junta promised that Turkey's military alliance with the United States would remain intact.

The banks were closed by military authorities Friday and all accounts blocked. But the junta announced the banks would reopen for business as usual Monday.

There was jubilation in the nation's press and among students as they resumed university and college classes suspended earlier this week by Menderes.

Students walked through the streets of Istanbul and Ankara. Some imitated the voice and mannerisms of Menderes, calling out "People, comrades; everything is in order; why do these children shout in the streets?"

This referred to a speech Menderes made recently in Izmir. The students drew wide smiles from older citizens.

More rumors circulated today. One said the United States organized Friday's coup because it could not allow civil unrest to break in Turkey.

Gursel, 65-year-old junta leader, continued moves to abolish restrictions Menderes had clamped on Turkish newspapers.

Nine journalists were released from prison where they have been serving terms for criticism of the Menderes government. Sentences against 28 others were wiped out.

Major newspapers were unanimous in acclaiming the military takeover. The newspaper Hurriyet suggested a monument be erected to students killed in a riot against Menderes.

The government claimed after the April 28 riot that one student was killed in the clash with police. The students claim it died. But additional victims have never

A spokesman for the ruling military junta told newsmen Menderes would be put on trial "under existing laws if there is a well-founded complaint against him."

The spokesman did not specify whether such a trial would be conducted by a military or civilian court.

Menderes was under arrest along with President Celal Bayar, ceremonial head of the nation. Ali under "surveillance" were Foreign Minister Fatih Rustu Zorlu, other cabinet members and most parliamentary deputies of the Democratic party.

Others reported under arrest included Gen. Rustu Erdelhan, chief of staff, and Lt. Gen. Namik Ariguk, the capital's military commander. Ariguk had been confined to his base and had not been involved in any incidents surrounding the revolt. Military communications continued with the big U. S. Gen. Gursel and his junta began pouring out decrees soon after seizing power. They emphasized that Turkey would continue its role in the Western Alliance. Turkey forms the geographical link between the North Atlantic and Central Treaty alliances. The Turkish army is firmly anti-Communist.

Gursel, a veteran professional soldier recently ousted by Menderes as head of Turkey's ground forces, flew from the big NATO base at Izmir, western Turkey, to Ankara to take command of the uprising at dawn Friday.

Land Destroyed By Forest Fire

SHALLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—A forest fire that burned more than 6,000 acres of valuable timberland near here was brought under control late Friday.

"We're mopping up today," said R. C. Winkworth, eastern regional forester for the state. "We succeeded in getting lines all the way around the fire."

Crews completed circling a finger-like section of fire in the north area late Friday—the last area to be brought under control.

Rain early Friday aided some 175 workers in battling the blaze which started Wednesday. Winkworth said all but local crews will be released from fire duty by late Sunday.

Storms Increase Over The Plains

Thunderstorms increased over the Plains today and the Weather Bureau said a tornado had been sighted near Kingfisher, some 40 miles northeast of Oklahoma City.

Texas, Oklahoma, western Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas were alerted for severe thunderstorms.

The bureau said the disturbance that raked much of the South with heavy hail and rain and kicked up two twisters during the night was breaking up.

Apartment, Tex., measured a three-inch hail fall. Heavy hail also peppered Roanoke, Va., and Nashville, Tenn. Funnel clouds were sighted at Lumberton, N.C., and Fort Myers, Fla., but no damage was reported.

An inch of rain fell on Hattaras, N.C., within an hour. Damaging winds swept parts of Virginia and North Carolina.

Light scattered showers continued from south-central Pennsylvania westward across the lower Great Lakes and Ohio Valley into Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee. Showers also sprinkled south and eastern Montana.

It was fair and mild in New England, and fair to partly cloudy across the Gulf States and into California.

Liveiy Discussion Seen At Convention

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

The National Council of Churches may draw some lively discussion again next week at the annual conference of the American Baptist Convention.

Dissonant groups, led by one of the largest congregations in the denomination, promise to make a strong effort to pull the 1 1/2 million-member convention out of the council.

Their chances: Not very good. The movement carries overtones of the recent Air Force Manual squabble in which the NCC was accused of harboring Communist influences within its ranks.

Leader in the session movement is the 4,300-member First Baptist Church of Wichita, Kan., which last March voted to withdraw financial support — about $30,000 a year — from the convention "because of its affiliation with the National Council."

Prior to the American Baptist meetings, which begin next Thursday in Rochester, N. Y., a committee of Wichita deacons and a special convention committee will meet to discuss the matter.

"I don't anticipate any action terminating our relationship with the National Council," says the Rev. W. Hubert Porter, associate general secretary of the ABC, in New York.

"But," he adds, "when you get a group of free delegates together one takes a risk in assuming too much assurance about what will happen."

Every year for the past 12 years some resolution concerning ABC relations with the NCC has reached the conference floor, and each time delegates have voted to reaffirm participation in council activities.

"If there is a vote against the National Council this year it will reverse every historic trend," says the Rev. Mr. Porter.

A spokesman for the NCC said he didn't think the council "should comment on a resolution that a Baptist congregation is trying to present to a Baptist convention."

The American Baptist Convention provides an out for those churches who want nothing to do with the NCC. They may designate that the funds they contribute to the convention are not to be used directly to support the council.

At Sunday's Morning Worship the following graduates will be recognized: Ann Thomas Allen and Billy Jenkins, Rose High School, Greenville; Joyce Lee Jackson and Barbara Stocks, Winterville High School; and Elaine Weeks, Bakers Business College.

The Rev. Howard James will preach on "THE CHALLENGE OF THE UNCERTAIN."

The Sanctuary Choir Anthem will be an arrangement of the spiritual, "Lord, I Want To Be A Christian."

Flowers will be provided by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gladson. Sanctuary Choir rehearsal will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Boy Scout Troop 398 will meet Wednesday at 8:00 p.m. Scoutmaster Chester Don Worthington, Jr., urges all members to be present.

Functional Committees and Official Board will be held at 7:30 p.m. on June 5.

Tomorrow's Leaders

The church for all... ALL FOR THE CHURCH... The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Our future presidents and prime ministers — from what spiritual heritage shall they arise? The ultimate giants of science and industry — what faith will they profess? The fathers and mothers of our grandchildren and great-grandchildren — what convictions will be taught in their homes? All this we are deciding today... in our churches... in our families. For one generation can bequeath only to the next that which it, itself, possesses. Our own religious life, our own determination to provide our children with thorough spiritual training, our own faithfulness in filling our churches with families — these positive purposes, expressed Sunday after Sunday, will mold TOMORROW'S LEADERS.

Approximately 80 members of the Service League attended the 22nd annual business luncheon yesterday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church. This meeting climaxes the Service League club year. Highlights of the business session, given during the business session, and the presentation of the President's Tray and Ormond Service Cup award to an outstanding board member and league member.

Mrs. Knott Proctor Jr. received the Ormond Cup award for her interest, willingness to work, and active participation in league activities. Mrs. Tyson Bilbro made the presentation.

The President's Tray was awarded Mrs. F. F. Hendrix by Mrs. Walter Harrington, league charter member. Mrs. Harrington in presenting the tray to Mrs. Hendrix called her a "Service League model."

This tray is awarded annually to a member of the Board of Directors who is selected for her outstanding and devoted service as a league and board member.

Both the cup and tray have been engraved with the names of the recipients and will be kept by the winners for the coming year.

Three incoming officers were installed yesterday during the business meeting by Mrs. George Lautares, outgoing president.

They included Mrs. D. C. Wade Jr., president; Mrs. W. S. Corbett, first vice-president; and Mrs. E. E. Rawl Jr., second vice-president.

Other officers are Mrs. Charles Wilkerson, treasurer; Mrs. Leonard Bloxam, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Norwin Pierce, recording secretary.

President's Report
" . . . You will see that the rays of light from our symbolic torch have reached out to many fields and many people. . . ."

Mrs. Lautares said this in her opening statements of the annual president's report.

The report contained information from the league officers and committee chairmen concerning their year's work.

Among the reports, Mrs. James Little, Coffee Shop chairman, said that the shop made a considerable gross increase which will help in enlarging the shop.

One hundred and sixteen workers were secured by Mrs. Ray Minges, bloodmobile chairman, who gave 300 hours of their time for the five visits the bloodmobile made in Greenville.

The Membership Committee under the direction of Mrs. D. C. Wade Jr. reported that seven provisional members were accepted into active membership; three former members were reinstated, two sustaining memberships were granted.

In the report Mrs. Lautares commended Mrs. W. S. Corbett, chairman of the year's programs, for her varied and interesting programs. Mrs. Corbett was chairman also of the luncheon committee.

Mrs. Lautares listed 12 thoughts which seemed to her "to be the embodiment of the work and life of a Service League member as she carries the torch of service."

The thoughts were "Twelve Things to Remember" by Marshall Field. Included were the value of time, the success of perseverance, the pleasure of working, the worth of character, the power of kindness, the influence of example, the obligation of duty, the wisdom of economy, the virtue of patience, the improvement of talent, and the joy of originating.

In closing her report, Mrs. Lautares thanked the group for not only the responsibility but the privilege to serve.

Concluding she said, "What more wonderful experience than to be associated with a group such as you, the members of the Greenville Service League, who show forth their praise to the

Almighty God, not only with their lips, but in their lives, by giving themselves to the service of the suffering, the friendless and the needy."

Committee Chairmen
Mrs. D. C. Wade Jr., incoming president, selected her committee chairmen during the business session.

Those announced were Mrs. S. E. Coffman, projects; Mrs. W. S. Bost, hospital bed; Mrs. J. T. Little, hospital coffee shop; Mrs. K. G. Harris, layette; Mrs. Louise Ficklen, emergency charity;

Mrs. Earl Trevathan Jr., finance; Mrs. R. M. Garrett Jr., lending chest; Mrs. Cecil Bilbro, Girl Scouts; Mrs. W. A. Wright, placement; Mrs. Don Calloway, publicity;

Mrs. Frank Longino, bloodmobile; Mrs. R. C. Stokes Jr., sustaining representative; and Mrs. Knott Proctor Jr., hospital activities.

Luncheon
Twelve charter members of the Service League attended the luncheon in the St. Paul's Episcopal Church following the annual business session.

They were Mrs. J. F. Arthur, Mrs. Wyatt Brown, Mrs. A. T. Bilbro, Mrs. W. S. Bost, Mrs. R.

M. Garrett, Mrs. W. L. Harrington, Mrs. J. B. Kittrell, Mrs. J. T. Little, Mrs. H. L. Ormond, Mrs. K. B. Pace, Mrs. K. J. Stokes Jr., and Mrs. E. C. Wilkerson.

Members of the Advisory Council and 13 provisional members were acknowledged by Mrs. Lautares.

The program, "Hats, Past and Present," was presented following lunch served by women of the Episcopal Church.

Mrs. W. S. Corbett narrated the amusing skit which featured the original beginning of the "bonnet." Adam and Eve characters began the skit which pictured the bonnet as the downfall of Adam.

Concluding the program were all sorts of hats modeled by league members.

Games were led by Mrs. Corbett prior to the skit. Prizes were given to those having the most individual hat, smallest hat, and the hat with most colors.

MRS. KNOTT PROCTOR JR. . . . left, received the Ormond Service Cup award yesterday for outstanding service to the league. Mrs. Tyson Bilbro made the presentation.

MRS. F. F. HENDRIX . . . left, was awarded the President's Tray as being the outstanding board member of the year. Mrs. Walter Harrington presented the tray.

THE TREND IN COLOR
There are many bright hues this spring—corals, golds, reds, blues, and blue-greens, along with whitened beige, olive green and other muted tones that echo the prevailing trend in colors for wearing apparel.

Distinctive woods figure beautifully, playing up natural grains. Leading in popularity today are oak, walnut, cherry, mahogany, maple, and birch.

Lamps are slender and tall. For home furnishings, cotton is a natural. Soap and water are all the beauty treatments it ever needs to restore its original charm.

Carpets and rugs—anything goes. Cotton, rayon, nylon, but as yet, wool is tops in many ways.

Any more questions? If so, call me at PL 2-2879. I will be happy to help you.

Congressional Inquiry Has Good Points

It is fitting and proper that a bi-partisan congressional inquiry should be made into the cause of the summit conference collapse.

The committee which makes this inquiry probably will not learn anything that the key officials in the administration do not already know about the cause of the conference collapse. But at the same time the information members of the congressional committee receive should give them a better understanding of what brought about the collapse and what repercussions may be expected in the months ahead.

With this information available to them, it should be easier for the administration and Congress to work together more closely in meeting the demands which will be made upon this nation because of the collapse of the conference at Paris.

Collapsing of the conference is bound to have an effect on the future course of the United States in international affairs. It will have a bearing upon plans for military preparedness of this nation and that of its allies in other parts of the world. It may well have a bearing on trade agreements, economic policies and indeed all phases of American foreign policy.

In view of such circumstances, it is most important that a special congressional committee have access to the administration's information on the Paris conference collapse. While the nation's foreign policy is supposed to be formulated by the administration, the Congress itself has a great deal to do with the manner in which our foreign policy is implemented, and thus its end result.

There may be expected basic differences between the administration and the congressional committee in evaluating the information on the Paris conference collapse, but at least both the administration and a key group from Congress will have that information for consideration.

The move should result in a strengthening of the nation's position in international affairs and future events.

Another 'Temporary' National Debt Ceiling

Another "temporary" limit on the national debt has been approved by the House Ways and Means Committee that will allow the debt to remain above its "permanent" legal limit.

These so-called temporary ceilings on the debt above $285 billions have been with us so long now that they are beginning to look mighty permanent as the nation's government continues to spend more than it takes in.

Perhaps there is some ray of hope in the fact that the temporary ceiling of $293 billions approved by the House Committee for the coming fiscal year is two billions less than the existing temporary ceiling of $295 billion. Even so, the temporary ceiling is considerably above the permanent level and has been there for some time.

Congress, it seems to us, should devote greater attention to getting government expenditures within the limits of the nation's income. Then they wouldn't have to spend so much time each year setting a new "temporary" ceiling on the national debt.

You're Invited To Our Election Party Tonight

Tonight, as on election nights for many years, The Daily Reflector will tabulate the unofficial returns from the balloting.

As has been our practice, we cordially invite all of the people of Pitt County to attend the election party at our newspaper office to see the returns as they are posted, precinct by precinct on the Reflector election scoreboard.

This year, with a great amount of interest in the district congressional race and in the gubernatorial race, as well as in local contests we will handle election returns from throughout the district and the state in addition to those from Pitt County.

The returns from Pitt County's 25 precincts will be posted on the new scoreboard built for this election party, and in addition the scoreboard will also carry a county-by-county tally of the congressional race in the 14 counties of this congressional district. Running totals on the state-wide contests for governor and other offices will also be handled up-to-minute from all over North Carolina.

You are invited to make the Daily Reflector office your election headquarters for receiving the results of today's election. We look forward to your being here.

U. S. Confused By Soviet Acts

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Bewildered, past and present. The American government didn't know what the Soviets were up to and doesn't know what they're up to now.

Put the pieces together—before and after the summit disaster—and this is what it comes to:

The Eisenhower administration could only guess why Premier Nikita Khrushchev raised such a rumpus over the U2 American spy plane and it was shocked when he used that as a springboard to wreck the summit meeting.

One of the guesses was that Khrushchev was under pressure inside the Soviet Union. But there is, so far as this writer knows, not a shred of evidence to support such a theory.

Now Secretary of State Christian A. Herter is described as expecting "further spectacular action" by the Soviets but is uncertain as to what direction it may take.

Behind closed doors Herter talked Thursday with the House Foreign Affairs Committee which was hardly being more than curious. Its chairman, Rep. Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa.), says it plans no formal investigation—into the plane incident and the summit crack-up—is being undertaken by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which, also behind closed doors, will question administration officials whose agencies had anything to do with the plane or the summit.

Morgan, after his house group had talked 2½ hours with Herter, issued a statement which he said Herter read and approved.

It said: "The secretary indicated that the behavior of the Soviet leaders since Paris may be interpreted either as a desire to avoid bringing on a war crisis or as psychological in order to pull the wool over our eyes prior to some threatening action. Khrushchev wrecked in or- lar action by the Russians in the months to come."

But Morgan said Herter didn't think the Soviets would make a warlike or definitely hostile move. So it adds up to this: The Soviets have the Eisenhower administration guessing.

Morgan said his own impression from Herter's analysis was that Khrushchev had been under strong pressure at home before the downed U2 plane gave him a golden chance for anti-American propaganda.

It was hardly news when Herter indicated there would be no more summit conference during the almost eight months President Eisenhower still has in office.

This is how he put it: "Summitry as a means of accomplishing anything in world affairs has taken a very hard knock."

The prospect of ending his term without another summit meeting probably doesn't displease the President.

He didn't like summit conferences in the first place—preferring the older method of meetings between foreign ministers—and was talked into the one Khrushchev wrecked in order to avoid a showdown on Berlin.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
WHAT WILL HISTORY SAY OF US?

"War eats away the margins of ordinary life and, in most cases, it adjusts the temperament to the new environment by its brutal training."

Who wrote these words? Some modern author or columnist? Not at all. They were written by Thucydides, the Greek historian who lived almost 2,500 years ago. He had observed that war does something to individuals and nations which it takes generations and sometimes centuries to eliminate.

We are living today in what historians are in the habit of calling "troubled times." Periods like this occur in world history, and almost always they follow protracted and brutal wars. Those who have visited Europe in recent months, and even those among us who through correspondence with destitute persons in Europe, have had some insight into their suffering, can realize the profound and awful dislocation which the past war has involved. The youngest child today will die of old age before the evil effects of this holocaust have been wiped out.

This all adds up to the imperative necessity of getting rid of war. Important as domestic problems are, neither business, education, scientific research, nor any other equipment of the modern mind will have any significance if war is allowed to go on to its destructive conclusion. Thucydides saw it 2,500 years ago, and we are history's worst fools if we do not see it today.

Note Voting Closely

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE CONGRESS
During 1960 not only will a President be elected but also members of the Senate and the entire House of Representatives. Whereas the office of the President is more dramatic than that of a Senator or a Representative, at times the success of an important measure can be delayed or vitiated in the Congress. Much depends upon Congressional leadership of either party whether a program passes through Congress. Therefore, it is necessary to note closely who runs this year.

For instance, on the Republican side, some of the most important Senators will come up for re-election this year. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, the leader of the Republican Party in the Senate, is up for re-election. It is to be assumed that he is in no danger; that he will be re-elected.

Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota, one of the leading and most constructive members of the Senate, has been in Congress 21 years and in the Senate since 1948. A quiet man, Senator Mundt has a record of achievement of important service not only for his constituency but for the country. The probability is that he will be re-elected by South Dakota which has sent him to the Senate for two terms.

On the Democratic side, Senators James O. Eastland of Mississippi and Estes Kefauver of Tennessee come up for re-election. Eastland seems to be secure; Kefauver is not so secure. Senator Richard Neuberger of Oregon died and his wife is running in his stead. It is believed that she will be elected. The clobbering that Senator Wayne Morse got at the hands of Senator John Kennedy indicates either that Kennedy is more popular than Morse or that Morse, who has been a Republican and is now a Democrat, has outgrown his welcome. He remains in the Senate, however.

It is natural to note that Senators who remain in service the longest and serve on useful committees have the widest influence in the Senate. The 10 Senators of the longest tenure are Carl Hayden of Arizona (since 1927); Richard B. Russell of Georgia (since 1933); Harry F. Byrd of Virginia (since 1933); James E. Murray of Montana (since 1934); Dennis Chavez of New Mexico (since 1935); Styles Bridges of New Hampshire (since 1937); Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana (since 1937); Theodore F. Green of Rhode Island (since 1937); Lister Hill of Alabama (since 1938); Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin (since 1939).

Tenure is very important in both Houses. In the House of Representatives, Sam Rayburn, the Speaker, began his service in 1913 and has served continuously for 24 terms. His tenure in the House is equalled only by Representative Carl Vinson. It is often said that only Southern Representatives have long tenures. This is not altogether correct. Two New York State Representatives have each served through 19 terms; that is 38 years. They are Emanuel Celler and John Taber. Fifty three Representatives have been in the House of Representatives more than 10 terms; that is more than 20 years. This is a very long experience.

Senators and Representatives vary in interests, knowledge, aptitude. They are not in any respect, required to represent the entire nation. They serve best when they limit themselves to the interests of a particular constituency, for then the Congress is a cross section of the nation. Some Senators and Representatives are authorities, in their own right, of particular subjects. For instance, representative Walter H. Judd was a medical missionary in China. He is an expert in both fields, medicine and China. Senator Ernest Gruening, before he became a Senator from Alaska, was the country's leading expert on Alaska. There are financial, agricultural, labor experts, (Continued on page six)

Other Editors Saying Colleges Get Tougher

(Rocky Mount Telegram)

Frank H. Bowles, president of the College Entrance Examination Board, offers an interesting peek into the future in regard to higher education. By 1970, he figures, every high school graduate with an IQ of 100 or more will continue his formal education for at least one or two years. That would be about half of the graduates of our high schools.

And, although many of these students will be going to community or junior colleges, the pressure on the nation's four-year colleges and universities will continue to grow. There is now general acceptance of the idea that education, to be complete, must include college, for no lesser reason could move an entire generation from the high school standard to the college standard within a decade.

In his annual report Bowles predicted that within five years all four-year degree-granting colleges, whether private, public or church-supported, will require entrance examinations. Such tests will be given in the 11th and 12th grades. Counseling and guidance for college-bound students, ordinarily found now in the 12th grade, will move down to the 9th grade. Some school systems, Bowles thinks, will establish preliminary guidance programs as early as the 7th grade.

There will be greatly improved counseling and guidance services, with more and better trained personnel. The ratio of one counselor to 300 or even 400 students will be reduced to one to 150 or 200. The move selective colleges will expect candidates for admission to have completed first-year college level work in several academic fields before high school graduation.

Financial aid for college students will become more readily available in the form of scholarships and loans, but this will be offset by constantly rising costs. Bowles points out that college enrollment rose by about a third between 1947 and 1957. The children born during the postwar baby boom will reach college age during the 1960s. This will place an extra burden on college facilities.

Here's another important change: In 1947 about 80 per cent of those going to college didn't even apply for admission until they were out of high school records. By 1957, however, only 20 per cent waited until after high school to apply, and a large number did it during their junior year.

'Exporting' Jobs Growing For U.S.

By ELMER ROESSNER
This is more about exporting American jobs.

Jobs themselves, of course, are not exported. But when someone has work done overseas that could be done here, it means that somebody is laid off in the United States and someone is put to work abroad—and for all practical purposes that's a job export.

Two areas in which jobs have long been exported are in movies and in fine engraving. The color engravers of Germany, France, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland and perhaps a few other countries do fine work cheaper than Americans.

Many will argue that despite the guild-like devotion to skills in the old world, and the handing of skills from father to son, American engravers are superior to Europeans. Even if this is true, the European craftsmen turn out work cheaper. Engravings, and sometimes printed sheets themselves constantly flow in from abroad. Every day's work means the transfer of one job across the Atlantic.

FILMING ABROAD
The exportation of movie-making is well known. American producers have been making many movies abroad for years. Scenery and backgrounds have been considerations, but lower scales and tax advantages are important. In Hollywood, extras live on unemployment benefits; in Italy, France, the Holy Land and elsewhere, they are not. Unemployment pay for natives draw unexpected for moving across the background.

Now work on cartoon films has been exported. Variety, the Koran of show biz, reports that major United States film companies are almost completely out of the cartoon field and the foreign countries may become chief suppliers of both short and feature-length cartoons.

Estimates differ, but it's figured that a foreign cartoon can be acquired for from 50 to 75 per cent less than one of similar length made in the U.S. Variety says.

And Women's Wear reports that Warner Bros. Co., Bridgeport, is having its own staff design foundation garments for manufacture in Europe with the stated reason of using quality laces, elastics and workmanship abroad.

GOOD OR BAD?

Is this export of jobs good or bad? Little of both. When there is heavy unemployment in this country, farming out work abroad can help them. It may be cheaper to support some Americans with unemployment insurance than to cause foreign workers to turn to Communism because there is no market for their brassieres or transistors.

Who is to blame for export of jobs?
Partly the Administration because it has been trying to shore up the economies of our allies, and has been reluctant to use discretionary powers to limit imports.

Partly our tax system, which provides great advantages for knowing persons who can transfer their earning powers abroad and for corporations that can keep outside the taxing powers of the U.S.

And partly labor itself, which has priced itself so high that almost all of American industry is on a quiet search for ways in which its products can be made and its services rendered by low-wage workers abroad.

Courtney, Wilhelm Shine As Orioles Regain AL Lead

By ED WILKS
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 Ever catch butterflies with a glove? Clint Courtney did, and now the Baltimore Orioles are back in the American League lead.

Courtney surrounded Hoyt Wilhelm's knuckleball pitches with a new, out-sized mitt Friday and the Orioles beat the New York Yankees 3-2.

It was the first time anyone had tried the glove designed especially to combat Wilhelm's tosses. It also was the first time Courtney, late of Washington, ever had caught Wilhelm. Whether it was the glove, Courtney or both, Wilhelm managed his first complete game of the season in 23 2-3 previous innings this season. Wilhelm's catchers had been charged with 11 passed balls.

Courtney didn't let any get away with a man on base.

The victory pushed the Orioles a half-game ahead of Cleveland, rained out at Detroit.

Third place Chicago, also a half-game behind, beat Kansas City 7-4. And Boston beat Washington 4-3 in a game interrupted by a brawl.

In the National League St. Louis beat San Francisco 5-4 and trimmed the Giants' lead over rain-idled Pittsburgh to one game. Cincinnati defeated Milwaukee 9-5, on Ed Bailey's grand-slam home run with two out in the ninth. Los Angeles beat Chicago's Cubs 5-3.

The Orioles have won 11 of their last 15. They sent the Yankees to fifth place with a three-run fifth against Art Ditmar. A two-out single by Gene Woodling capped the rally after rookie Marv Breeding's two-run double. Wilhelm (2-2) gave up six hits, two each by Roger Maris and Yast Berra — and each drove in a run.

Yankee Manager Casey Stengel, grumbling about the need of a rule change to cover the new catcher's mitt, admitted he was giving further thought to benching Mickey Mantle (0-for-18) and Bill Skowron (2-for-25).

Russ Kemmerer pitched 5 2-3 innings of four-hit, shutout relief for the White Sox after starter Billy Pierce lost a 3-2 lead. Kemmerer, now 1-2, had dropped five in a row since last August. Luis Aparicio had four of the Sox' nine hits and scored four runs. He broke a 4-4 tie in the seventh against loser Ray Herbert (2-3), scoring on Al Smith's infield out after hitting his second triple.

A walk and consecutive singles by Vic Wertz, Gene Stephens and Frank Malzone gave Boston two runs in the eighth that broke a 2-2 tie. It was only the second victory in 13 games for the Red Sox, but their third of the season against Camilo Pascual (5-4), who had won four in a row. Tom Brewer (3-4) won it with an eight-hitter, one a pinch home run by Lennie Green in the ninth.

The brawl came in the fifth. It started when Pete Runnels, the AL's top hitter (.360), said something to Pascual after ducking a high, inside pitch and then watching a third strike. Pascual was knocked down and suffered an ankle injury in the melee that followed, but stayed on the mound and finished with 13 strikeouts. That gave him the major league lead by an 81-79 margin over Don Drysdale of Los Angeles.

Rookie To Hear Facts Of Life On Eve Of Indianapolis Race

By DALE BURGESS
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Jim Hurtubise, hottest rookie to hit the Indianapolis Motor Speedway since World War II, will sit with drivers Sunday and hear the facts of life in Monday's 44th 500-mile Memorial Day race.

Chief Steward Harlan Pengler, himself a former racer and riding mechanic, will tell them the 200-lap race won't be won in the first lap—and please don't try it.

Cars get faster every year, and drivers get bolder as the purse gets bigger. Speedway officials have fears of the entire field being wiped out in one pile-up while the cars are bunched in starting positions.

It almost happened two years ago when cars of Ed Elisian and Dick Rathmann tangled at the front of the pack, causing a 15-car wreck that killed Pat O'Connor. His death, and that of two drivers in practice runs last year, brought the track's toll to 50.

Elisian was killed in a race at Milwaukee last summer in the same Travelon Special in which Hurtubise set a new speedway 10-mile qualifying record of 149.056 miles an hour last Sunday. The 33-car field averaged another record, 144.070.

The Travelon has been rebuilt, of course.

Brand new Watsons will be driven by the first-position starter, Eddie Sachs of Allentown, Pa., who held the qualifying record until Hurtubise broke it; and the two other front row veterans, last year's winner Rodger Ward and Jim Rathmann of Miami.

Rathmann finished second last year by 23 seconds. He has taken three seconds in 10 races but never has won.

Hurtubise will have to start in 23rd place, in the eighth row, because he qualified late after 22 drivers already had earned their positions.

Bailey Hits Grand Slam As Reds Top Braves, 9-5

By ED WILKS
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 Since he started hitting major league home runs back in 1954, Ed Bailey has slugged one a season against Milwaukee. Just one a year, no more, no less. And he couldn't have picked a better time for his 1960 jolt against the Braves.

This was a grand-slammer with two out in the ninth that broke a tie and gave Cincinnati a 9-5 victory over Milwaukee Friday night. It moved the Reds within a half-game of the third place Braves, who blew a 5-0 lead and a chance to close in on San Francisco, National League leader.

The Giants lost 5-4 at St. Louis and now have only a one-game lead over rain-idled Pittsburgh. Los Angeles defeated Chicago's Cubs 5-3, giving the Dodgers a five-game streak for the first time this season.

In the American League, Baltimore beat New York 3-2, with Clint Courtney and that new, out-sized catcher's glove successfully surrounding Hoyt Wilhelm's knuckleball. The victory sent the Orioles back to the top, half a game ahead of the Cleveland Indians, who were rained out at Detroit. Third place Chicago won 7-4 at Kansas City, and Boston defeated Washington 4-3.

Bailey, a left-handed hitting catcher, made it five RBI for the night with his slam off southpaw rookie Ken Mackenzie (0-1). It was Bailey's fourth home run of the season and followed Vada Pinson's second triple and two intentional walks. Mackenzie fanned Jerry Lynch before giving up Bailey's third career bases-loaded homer—his first since 1956 and his second against the Braves.

Bailey, the Reds' top hitter at .328, had been batting only .167 against Milwaukee with one hit in 12 at-bats. He was 2-for-4 and capped a four-run fifth against starter Lew Burdette with a sacrifice fly. Pinson's first triple then tied it 5-all in the sixth. Jim Brosnan (2-0) won it in relief, blanking the Braves on one hit after starter Bob Purkey gave up Ed Mathews' second home run of the game, a 529-run shot in the fifth.

The Cardinals, out-hit 12-6, beat the Reds in nine decisions with four runs in the fifth. Ken Boyer's 11th home run, tops in the majors, came with a man on and capped the spurt. Ron Kline (2-3) was the winner with Lindy McDaniel's save in the seventh after Orlando Cepeda hit a two-run homer.

The Dodgers collected all their runs in the first four innings off loser Glen Hobbie (3-6). They got the clincher in a two-run third on a walk and singles by Wally Moon, Norm Larker and Duke Snider. Stan Williams (2-0) won it with Larry Sherry's relief in the seventh.

Cochran Trails In British Amateur

Associated Press Sports Writer
 PORTLUSH, Northern Ireland (AP)—Bob Cochran, a weary weekend golfer from St. Louis, was 6 down to Joe Carr of Ireland at the halfway point today of the 35-hole final in the British Amateur Golf Tournament.

Carr, playing some of the best golf of his long career, fired a 68 over the par 72 layout of the 6,842-yard Portrush course, hard by the Atlantic coast.

Cochran, wearing the same black shirt he wore all during the surprising week, was shaky in all departments. He was four down at nine after gaining the third hole. Cochran came here little known. Now many in the gallery of 3,500 were pulling for the courtly American.

Carr, seeking to become the first man in modern times to win this coveted title three times, was hitting confidently. Cochran was off form, especially from the tees. Weather conditions were ideal.

The St. Louis pter salesman took the third hole, his only win of the morning round, when Carr three-putted. The Irishman got an eagle three on the fourth to even the count and went ahead to stay on the fifth when Cochran's drive went into the rough. At that time, Cochran had put his drive off the fairway on five straight holes.

The American's troubles on the tee continued through the ninth which was reached with Carr 4 up on the strength of his 2 under par 34. Not only was Cochran having trouble guiding his tee shots, but Carr was outdistancing him by an average of 25 yards on each.

Today's Play Decides Title

Dallas Clark, Rose High student, and Boley Farley, coach at the local high school, teed off today at 12:30 in the finals of the Greenville Country Club and Golf Course championship.

The finalists were to play the first 18 holes of their match today and the final 18 tomorrow afternoon.

Farley is the defending champion of the club championship while Clark, who just turned 16 last year, is competing in the championship bracket for the first time.

The public is invited to follow the golfers on the final 18 holes tomorrow afternoon. They will play in a foursome with Joe Exum and Bill Davenport, who are battling for honors in the first flight.

Confusion Prevails In Bout's Aftermath

By PATRICK MCNULTY
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The confused welterweight division today had a new champion, Cuba's Benny (Kid) Paret, who ended Friday night Don Jordan's lackluster reign as the 147-pound kingpin.

But there was still confusion aplenty.

Paret's first defense of his crown is expected to be against Federico Thompson of Argentina, Jordan's buddy, Mickey Cohen.

still shuffled in the wings. And there is the question of who gets Jordan's $65,000 purse for his third defense of the title.

A crowd of 3,692 here, plus a national TV audience, watched the onetime sugar cane cutter whip Jordan in 15 unimpressive but hard-fought rounds.

"Paret's first defense will be against Thompson and the winner of that meets Luis Rodriguez," said NBA President Anthony Mason. "That has been the NBA's plan for some time and that is the way it is going to be."

Jordan, ex-street fighter from Los Angeles' East Side, had a 90-day rematch agreement with the Paret camp. But Paret's manager, Manuel Alvaro, said "We will only fight for a promoter who guarantees us as much as Jordan got this time—$85,000."

Most ring observers feel that after Friday night's uninspired showing, such angels don't exist.

Promoters of the fight handed over about $75,000 of Jordan's purse to his estranged managers, Jackie McCoy and Don Nesselth. Los Angeles used car salesman. Before the fight, Jordan had agreed to pay them to buy up his contract.

One of the ex-champ's recent advisors was Cohen, who came to the fight with an enthusiastic group of business associates and police escorts.

"Me and my shadows," said ex-gambler Mickey, indicating the husky cops who trailed him constantly during his unwelcome stay in this gambler's mecca.

While Jordan was at a nearby hospital, getting a slashed left eye sewed up, he got more good news: His ex-wife, Stella, had attached whatever remained of his share of the purse.

Oldsters Play Prominent Role In Western Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Youth will be served, but don't count the oldsters out in a fledgling baseball league like the Western Carolina.

Ex-major leaguer Jake Early, pinch-hitting for his Statesville team against Shelby Friday night, hit a three-run homer to tie the game 6-6 in the ninth. In the 11th with two on, he rammed one against the fence to score the run that won it, 7-6.

Bill Pinckard slammed two homers and a double as Lexington walloped Newton 20-3. Pitcher Bob Winston had a grand slam homer. The loser was Buzz Wheeler.

Bob Horn held Gastonia to four hits as Hickory, scoring six unearned runs, downed 7-2. Steve Bolek had three hits for Hickory. Gastonia Manager Doc Queen had a home run to drive in the Rippers' scores.

Salisbury at Rutherford County was unreported.

Tonight's games: Gastonia at Hickory, Lexington at Newton, Rutherford County at Salisbury, and Statesville at Shelby.

Buc Slugger Rides Bench

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Dick Stuart, Pittsburgh's slugging first baseman benched at times last year because of his weak fielding, is riding the bench for the first time this season because of his hitting.

"Maybe I put too much time on my fielding and not enough on my hitting," the power hitter of the 1959 Pirates said Friday night as he prepared to sit on the bench for the second straight game.

"I can't explain what's wrong," Stuart said. "I've been swinging like I usually do, but I just got off to a slow start. I can't hit the ball good."

"It seems like when I do hit the ball hard, someone's always there. Everyone is playing me right every time."

"But," Stuart added, "I've looked bad on a lot of pitches."

The big Pirate first baseman has batted 141 times this season and is hitting .248 with only two home runs. In the same number of at-bats in 1959, Stuart was hitting .279 and had hit 10 home runs. He finished the season at .297 and 127 homers.

Caps Continue Torrid Pace In Carolina Loop

Raleigh continued its torrid pace in the Carolina League Friday night, defeating Greensboro, its closest contender for first place honors, 3-1.

The victory pulled the Caps in to a three-game lead in the Class B league. The two teams meet again tonight at Greensboro.

Third place Winston-Salem defeated fourth place Durham 3-2 in the only other game played Friday. Burlington's contest with Wilson was rained out.

Most ring observers feel that after Friday night's uninspired showing, such angels don't exist.

Promoters of the fight handed over about $75,000 of Jordan's purse to his estranged managers, Jackie McCoy and Don Nesselth. Los Angeles used car salesman. Before the fight, Jordan had agreed to pay them to buy up his contract.

Epps Wins ACC Batting Title

GREENSBORO (AP)—George Epps, 20-year-old sophomore at the University of South Carolina, apparently has the 1960 batting championship sewn up in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

ACC Service Bureau figures show that Epps finished with 29 hits in 73 times at bat for a .397 average. Second is Bill Timberlake, Virginia, .383, and third, George Klindinst, Maryland, .380.

Next in order in the top 10 are Jimmy Cox, North Carolina State, .369; Bailey Hendley, Clemson, .364; Dave Lynn, Clemson, .359; Charlie Fort, Wake Forest, .357; Ty Cline, Clemson, .348; Phil Rogers, Maryland, .348; and Joe Andreon, Maryland, .344.

North Carolina still is active, and will take part in the NCAA playoffs at Gastonia next week. John Burgwyn, with a .325 average, is the Tar Heels' top hitter. Lynn leads in home runs with eight and runs batted in, 31. Don Santo, Maryland, tops stolen bases at 18.

Perry O'Brien, official holder of the world shotput record of 63 feet 4 inches, was to have met big Bill Nieder who bettered that mark with a heave of 65-7 in the Texas Relays.

But Nieder withdrew Friday night after straining a ligament which inflamed his knee cap.

Two weeks ago at Fresno, Calif., Smith, the unheralded Occidental Junior, outlegged Norton to win by a couple of inches in 9.4 seconds. It was the first defeat in the past 30 races he's run.

Society Begins Fund Committee

The Pitt County Unit of the American Cancer Society, "in response to numerous requests from families, other groups and individuals, has established a memorial fund committee," according to Elbert Bennett, president of the local unit.

Mrs. C. L. Lupton was appointed chairman of the memorial committee.

"With Memorial Day at hand the American Cancer Society is placing special emphasis on its 'living memorial program,'" Mrs. Lupton said. "Contributions made in memory of a family member or a friend are acknowledged by the Pitt County Unit."

"This is done," she noted, "by sending a lovely memorial card to the family of the person in whose memory the gift is made and also send an acknowledgment card to the donor."

"Memorial contributions are received during all months of the year and are tax deductible," Mrs. Lupton pointed out.

"The memorial funds, as other contributions to the American Cancer Society, are used to save lives and relieve suffering through the Cancer Society's coordinated program of education, research and service."

Mrs. Lupton continued, "On behalf of the Pitt County Unit I urge thoughtful support of the 'living' memorial program."

For further information concerning the program, contact Mrs. C. L. Lupton at Plaza 2-4020 or Mrs. Anne C. Hancock, Executive Secretary of the Pitt County Unit at Plaza 8-1370.

U. S. Sleuths Predict Collection Of Many Soviet Espionage Devices

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. sleuths today kept vacant a sizeable space in their secret trophy room and confidently predicted they'll fill it with Soviet spy devices seized in U. S. embassies abroad.

So far, in 10 years of probing through every nook and cranny of U. S. diplomatic quarters overseas, they have turned up well over 100 spy gadgets planted by Communists.

They report the tempo of Communist bugging has stepped up. And they feel sure they can pull the Reds put them in, even though the Soviets are devising ever fancier electronic gimmicks.

Captured microphones, tapped telephones and the like are shipped back to Washington and kept in a secret room in the State Department for training U. S. diplomats to be wary when they go overseas.

A display board showing various Communist bugging samples is less than half full right now, Security men are leaving the rest blank—especially.

One product they count on coming across soon is a tiny TV camera. So far their trophies include only still cameras plus various soundcatching gadgets. But they figure the Reds can now build a TV camera 6 by 5 by 2 inches, with recessed lens—small enough to embed in a wall, floor or ceiling.

The State Department had no such spy program in pre-cold war days. So no thorough check was made of the wooden plaque bearing the U. S. seal which a Soviet group gave to U. S. Ambassador Averell Harriman in Moscow in 1945.

It was not until 1952 — three years later — that a check turned up the secret microphone behind the eagle's beak which Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge showed to the U. N. Security Council Thursday.

The plaque had hung in the ambassadorial residence, Spasso House, in a room used as a bedroom and study or had been kept in storage. Secretary of State George C. Marshall slept in the room when he attended the foreign ministers conference in Moscow in 1947.

Harriman said Friday night that the eagle was not bugged while he was in Moscow. The security experts aren't so sure.

Harriman said the microphone found was of an advanced type not developed until later years. But the sleuths believe the eagle originally contained an older, larger model. They deduce this from the size and markings of the secret hollow in the plaque, which was bigger than needed for the device Lodge displayed.

The security men don't know just when the eagle was bugged. It might have been originally, or when it was sent out for repairs, or during two occasions when a Soviet handyman took it to storage.

Silent Television Set For Show In Early June

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — TV without talk? It sounds heavenly.

And it's coming, too, at least an hour of it on the "77 Sunset Strip" show June 3. The man responsible for this boon is one of the sleuthing stars of the show, Roger Smith. Imagine an actor writing a script and giving himself no dialogue!

The segment is called "The Silent Caper," and it's just that. "The only performer with any lines is a police dog, the biggest one we could get," said Roger. "He's the great-grandson of the original Rin-Tin-Tin, and he barks like crazy."

The story concerns the menacing of a strip teaser by a villain whom Roger pursues until they have a fight to the death. Roger said, "Last fall I wrote such a script and Howie and (Warner's TV boss) Bill Orr liked it. They bought it, even though

Plans To Study For Ministry

NEW YORK (AP) — Steven Rockefeller, 24, whose marriage to a Norwegian housemaid thrilled the world, has applied to study for the ministry.

The son of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has enrolled at Union Theological Seminary here. He is scheduled to enter the interdenominational Protestant school in September as an unclassified student. The Rockefeller family are baptists.

Dr. Robert J. Handy, admissions chairman, said Friday young Rockefeller "has indicated he would like to become a minister but he is anxious to learn more about the faith and the ministry" before making a definite commitment.

Rockefeller, a Princeton graduate, has been studying his family's vast financial operations. He married the former Anne Marie Rasmussen in Norway last summer.

Steven's sister, Ann, is married to a clergyman, the Rev. Robert Laughlin Pierson, an Episcopal minister of Evanston, Ill.

SC Legislature Kills Benefits

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—The familiar drone of the filibuster sounded in both houses Friday as South Carolina lawmakers finally brought to an end a 1960 legislative session of 4 1/2 months.

The filibuster killed a bill to increase police officers' retirement benefits by raising driver license fees from the present 50-cent rate to $2.

One dollar of the added revenue would have been earmarked for the police annuity fund to raise the maximum retirement benefit from the existing $100 a month to $40 a month.

The proposal came before both houses in the form of a report from a conference committee.

Its defeat was virtually assured when Rep. Ryan Shealy of Lexington took the House floor to talk "as long as necessary" and when Sen. I. A. Smoak of Colleton flatly told the Senate.

"This is a filibuster. I make that statement so that you can govern yourselves accordingly," Shealy, Smoak and others opposing the bill had a vulnerable target at which to aim their verbal shafts. The Legislature had previously agreed to adjourn the 1960 session at 6 p.m.

Hence, they had only to talk for six or seven hours—until the hour of adjournment—to kill the bill.

There was a desultory move to sit out the filibuster in hopes of obtaining passage, but after luncheon recesses, members of both houses decided there was little hope of ending the long talks before 6 p.m.

The House adjourned at about 3:30 p.m., except for local and routine matters, and the Senate gave up shortly afterward.

Kennedy, Symington Join In Verbal Attack Against Nixon

By LEROY HITTLE
SPOKANE (AP) — Sens. John F. Kennedy and Stuart Symington, opponents for the Democratic presidential nomination, joined forces Friday night in an attack on Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Kennedy and Symington obviously were angered by Nixon's assertion at Melvin, Ill., that they were "out of step not only with the majority of Democrats in Congress but in their own party in attempting to make a partisan issue of the summit conference."

Kennedy asserted that "Mr. Nixon speaks for one segment of the Republican party, but he does not speak for the Democratic party."

The Massachusetts Democrat said the greatest issue facing the country is its relationship with foreign governments. He asserted, "I do not want Mr. Nixon speaking for the nation on foreign policy during the next decade."

Kennedy said that Nixon last March in New Hampshire "cleared" him of being soft on communism, but had withdrawn that clearance by his remarks in Melvin.

"This is the old, old Nixon, going way back to the old days of 1950," Kennedy declared, "and I can think of no better reason why Mr. Nixon should not be retired to being a sportswriter next November."

Oil Tanker Fumes Cause Explosion

PASCHAL, N.C. (AP) — Fumes in an empty oil tanker exploded Friday night and wrecked 30 or more cars of a northbound Seaboard Air Line train from the tracks.

No personal injuries were reported. At least one car, possibly three, reportedly caught fire, and flames were visible at Norlina, about 10 miles south of the scene. Fire trucks from several neighboring towns helped control the fire.

Seaboard officials said they hoped to clear the single-track by noon today. Passenger trains were detoured Friday night over Atlantic Coast Line tracks between Weldon and Richmond, Va.

Wreckage was strewn over a half mile area near the North Carolina-Virginia line. Most of the derailed cars were loaded with cotton bales, wood pulp, telephone poles, chemicals and fuel.

A witness said freight cars were hurled down a steep bank and piled upon each other.

Henry In Jail After Long Chase

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex. (AP) — It took some doing but James H. Henry, 36, was in Starr County jail today charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Two Starr County sheriff's deputies were called Friday when Henry allegedly pulled a small pistol at Falcon Village, Tex., and threatened bystanders.

Henry jumped into a car and headed for Laredo, the deputies in pursuit. Their car broke down at Zapata, Tex., and another deputy picked them up and joined the pursuit. His car had a flat tire.

Highway patrolman W. U. Weeks picked up the three deputies and joined the chase. Ahead in Webb County, officers were radioed, set up a road-block and caught Henry.

The four pursuing officers arrived a short time later.

Cows Shift From Moos To Booze

FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—When his cows got crooked, farmer Harry Main got curious.

Investigating the cause of the hiccoughing heifers, Main found his herd of cattle had wandered onto eight barrels of whisky mash hidden on his farm and had switched from moos to booze.

Main also found a still nearby, and deputy sheriffs took it from there. Thursday night they arrested them down at the still.

Booked on moonshine charges and held under bond of $1,000 each were Thomas Dawkins, 49, and Robert Winslow, 30, both of Washington.

All kinds of experts in either House and each specialist makes himself known to his colleagues by achievement.

When men work together for 20 or 30 years, seeing each other every day for prolonged periods each year, they come to know character, habits, capacities and vices. After a while, their wives become friends and the families play together. Such a friendship as has long existed between Sam Rayburn, Southerner and Democrat, and Joe Martin, Northerner and Republican, is not too unusual. Men of good will are often associated in great causes whatever their affiliations. Of course, in a large body of men there are always a few scoundrels. It is easy to discover who they are.

Democrat Leader Predicts Victory

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) carried his still unannounced presidential campaign northward today after urging Democrats to support President Eisenhower in "his dealings with foreign nations."

The role of the Democrats, he told a party dinner here Friday night, should be "to build, not bicker; to unite, not divide; to be our President who is in a jam—it will be our nation that is in a jam."

"When we believe the President to be wrong, we should say so," said Johnson. "But we must say so in realization of the fact that he deals with other nations."

Johnson called Soviet Premier Khrushchev "the master of all the spy rings in the world. He's the one who should apologize to the United States for running out of the (summit) conference. He is out to humiliate the office of the president of the United States."

The Senate majority leader predicted a Democrat will win the presidency next fall.

Big Difference In Expense Account

PARKERSBURG, W.Va. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) outspent Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) by about $67,000 in their West Virginia presidential primary campaign.

Earlier in Washington, an estimate of $25,000 was made for Humphrey, decisively beaten in the May 10 primary vote.

Neither side has filed its official report of campaign spending.

Combined Efforts Created Soaring Grifton Progress

NEW COMMERCIAL BUILDING . . . houses six Grifton businesses.

By HENRY HOWARD
Reflector Staff Writer

GRIFTON HEIGHTS . . . first major sub-division sprawls around the town's eastern edge.

CITY PARK . . . above being enjoyed by group of Grifton children at hamburger fry. Recreation building is in background.

BOAT TRAILERS . . . being loaded for transportation to market under supervision of Bill Cox (extreme left), son of firm's owner, at Cox Trailers, north of Grifton.

GRIFTON — Ten years a mammoth chemical plant, and enthusiastic local cooperation have boosted the town of Grifton to the position of "the finest town its size in North Carolina," says Mayor Wiley Gaskins.

Gaskins points to preliminary U.S. Census Bureau figures recently announced that showed the Southern Pitt County town's population grew from 1950 to 1960 by a whopping 338 per cent. Grifton's number of residents soared from 510 to 1,827.

And with population increases, surges of growth in virtually every other area are inevitable. Such is the case with Grifton.

The inspiring development of the town during the last 12 months has gloriously crowned a decade of growth that got its initial momentum when, as the fifties began, the E. I. DuPont de Nemours and Co. corporation announced it would build a synthetic fiber plant three and a half miles south of Grifton.

The sudden influx of personnel into the Grifton area resulted in a town improvement campaign that netted the small municipality first place awards in 1952 and '53 in the Carolina Power and Light Co.'s state-wide Finer Carolina contest. The following two years Grifton hauled in honorable mention awards in the same contest.

From this point, all-round growth in Grifton was indeed inevitable. Of necessity, the town's two schools began a record-breaking period of expansion. Grifton Heights, a new residential sub-division, sprang up on the town's eastern border. A weekly newspaper, the Grifton Times, began operation in '52.

Fred L. Cox's machinery manufacturing outfit suddenly began to specialize in producing boat trailers and grew, by 1960, into the Cox Trailers firm that normally turns out around 60 units per day for national markets.

Grifton Baptists, Free Will Baptist, and Presbyterian added three new churches to the town's physical layout during 1954 and '55. Other churches added various expansions.

The real estate business was booming. Records today show a total of nearly 300 new homes have been completed since 1950 and now house Grifton residents.

A new commercial building in downtown Grifton was completed several months ago and houses a half-dozen new Grifton businesses.

The town's property valuation, during the fifties, grew from a so-so $376,000 to an amazing $1.7 million.

More people meant more organizations for people and Grifton added: boat, dance, bridge, book, and garden clubs; Lions, Civitan, and Jaycees civic organizations; Masonic Lodge No. 243 and the Eastern Star; Parent-Teacher, Merchants, and Rural Fire Associations; a Service League chapter; a Little League baseball program; and several church organizations.

Sixty-six Grifton residents banded together to form a country club, now the proud owner of a brand new nine-hole golf course, that plans to construct a club house and a swimming pool soon.

The period of tremendous growth was unprecedented here, but the town's government kept pace.

Streets, water, and sewer were improved as the demand indicated. Land was bought and a building erected for Grifton's City Park. The town's new library will become municipally-operated July 1. The town already had a five-member commissioner system of government, but modernized its court in 1955.

R. B. McCotter became the first judge of Grifton Recorder's Court when the old Mayor's Court was deeded outmoded. Following McCotter were George Sauls and Archie Rogers, present judge.

Gaskins follows a progressive mayoral line through the fifties. William Evans, Roger Johnson, Dr. William E. Rasmussen, Sam E. Nelson, and W. H. Gower, in that order, preceded the present mayor.

New Industry
Last fall, 10 Grifton men grouped themselves together to solve a highly-expensive problem.

To obtain a new and desirable industry for Grifton, nearly a quarter-million dollars and to be raised.

In little more than on month, the committee of 10 had done the job and Grifton became the home of the Grifton Clothing Co.—soon to move into a $225,000 plant under construction on E. Queen St.

Now operative in a former furniture store in Grifton, the garment-manufacturing outfit turns out weekly shipments for large chain store markets.

Mayor Gaskins summarizes Grifton's growth:

"Over the past 10 years, we have seen Grifton grow from a small community of 510 to a bulging 1,827. It has been necessary for us to make many changes in our street, water, and sewer systems.

"We are not consulting with engineers in regard to a new sewage disposal plant, additional water lines, a new well and a better drainage system for our town. The people who have chosen Grifton for their home have been and are now taking a very active part in community affairs.

"No town on earth could be more fortunate than having some of the finest people anywhere within its borders. We are grateful to the Pitt County Development Commission for helping us attract new industry to this area. Needless to say, this didn't 'just happen.' It was a concentrated effort by our people that has made this possible.

"In my opinion, our growth has been due to the vision of our leaders, the wisdom of their decisions, the willingness of our people, and the enthusiasm of our businessmen.

"We invite everyone to visit Grifton. Our population increase of 358 per cent is positive proof that we are the finest town its size in North Carolina."

GARMENT FIRM . . . in operation at pilot plant site now employs nearly 100, will employ 350 when move into new building is completed.

Heavy Rains Cripple Manila

MANILA (AP) — Heavy southwest monsoon rains today sent flood waters swirling over half Manila, crippling the Philippine capital of 2 million people.

First reports listed seven known dead and six other persons missing.

Seven bodies were recovered in the crowded low-lying Tondo tenement district where the flood reached a height of six feet.

In suburban Quezon City, several houses were washed away. A family of six was missing and believed to have perished.

The monsoon swept in Friday on the heels of tropical storm Lucille which had sideswiped Manila while cutting across the main Philippine island of Luzon.

The monsoon reached gale proportions by midnight and pounded the city with driving rain and fierce gusts of wind without let-up until early morning.

Trees were felled, telephone lines were snarled and billboards toppled. Damage was expected to pass the million-dollar mark.

Manila's weather bureau said 8.61 inches of rain fell in a 24-hour period starting at 8 a. m. Friday. By midmorning the rain had lessened.

The flood washed out the scheduled opening of the eastern zone Davis Cup finals between the Philippines and India. The open tennis courts were under two feet of water.

Steel Sagging; Better Times Seen

By JACK LEFLER AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The business spotlight focused this week on the giant steel industry, where production sagged but leaders saw better times ahead.

In one of the sharpest declines of the year, output sank to 66.9 per cent of capacity, or 1,900,000 tons. A week ago it was 2,031,000, a month ago 2,210,000 and a year ago 2,650,000.

The operating rate appeared headed for the 50 per cent of capacity bracket as users stalled on new orders.

United States Steel Corp. suburban outbacks at two Pennsylvania plants and the declining demand caused layoffs in that state's coal mines.

Industry leaders, gathered in New York for a meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute, expressed belief the low point would be reached this summer, to be followed by an increase in the fall.

"Inventory cutting knocked the industry's original predictions into a cocked hat," said Chairman Joseph Block of Inland Steel Co. "It will be nip and tuck as to whether the industry will set a new production record."

Cuts in steel output made themselves felt in declines in freight car and truck loadings.

Some improvement, however, was noted in steel orders from automobile manufacturers.

The auto industry was buoyed by good reports of May 11-20 sales of new passenger cars. Dealers delivered 198,000 vehicles, 6.6 per cent ahead of a year ago.

The industry build an estimated 143,000 cars this week, down 7.4 per cent from last week because of a cut in overtime operations due to the Memorial Holiday weekend.

Total sales on the New York Stock Exchange were 15,975,965 shares compared with 19,725,360 the previous week and 14,872,535 a year ago.

Everyone got another jolt from the cost of living. The Labor Department reported its index went to a new high in April because of advancing food prices.

The department's index climbed four-tenths of one per cent to 126.2 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

And the outlook isn't promising. The department predicted further gradual rises all summer. Food prices will be to blame.

It looks like folks aren't going to get any relief from the high Korean wartime taxes on such items as liquor, cigarettes, auto parts, telephone service and travel.

The House Ways and Means Committee approved another year's extension.

With shoppers discouraged by unpleasant weather in many areas, retail trade continued to slow down. The dollar volume was three per cent below to one per cent higher than a year ago.

Other developments indicating how the economy is going: Construction contracts in April totaled $3,359,782,000, second highest for the month only to April 1959.

Machine tool builders' orders for cutting tools in April dropped 21.3 per cent from March and 18.3 per cent from April 1959 to $28,700,000.

Record Enrollment Expected For Summer School At East Carolina

Summer school at East Carolina College is expected to bring to the campus a record enrollment of students, Registrar John Horne announced today.

Applications for last summer's total of 2171 for the first quarter, he stated. A varied program of instruction will be offered students.

The first term of the summer session will open June 6 and will close July 12. The second session is scheduled for July 13 through August 18.

Courses will be offered in all of the fifteen departments of instruction at the college during the first session and in all departments except foreign languages and home economics during the second session.

In addition, a number of special workshops, clinics, and conferences have been announced by Dean Robert L. Holt. These events have been planned to benefit and meet the needs of school administrators, teachers, parents, and other interested in education.

Twenty-seven men and women from this state, Florida, and Virginia will participate in a travel-study tour of nine European countries. The tour is sponsored by the college and was arranged through the office of public relations and extension. Mrs. Myrtle B. Clark of the Wahl-Coates Laboratory School will direct the tour.

Workshops to be presented include Arts and Crafts for elementary-school teachers, June 6-7; Improvement of Instruction in Basic Business, June 20-July 1; Alcoholism in Health Education, June 7-17; Visual Aids, July 18-29; Directed observation in the Kindergarten, arranged in five sessions of one week each, June 6-10, 13-17, 20-24, 27-July 1, July 4-8; and Workshop for Kindergarten Teachers, August 1-5.

East Carolina's annual Summer Music Camp is scheduled for July 17-30. Several hundred junior and senior high school students and a number of teachers of music are expected to participate.

A Summer Reading Clinic extending through the entire first session and a Reading Institute to be held June 20-July 1 will be offered by the department of education. The clinic will provide opportunity for teachers to do remedial teaching of special reading cases, and the institute will emphasize investigation and research in reading problems.

A two-day Football and Baseball clinic, planned especially for coaches, will be held June 23-24.

The Industrial Arts department will stage July 8 its annual exhibition of types of work suited to instruction in the public schools.

Air Force Group Plans Training Trip In Far East

By L. T. EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 120-lane Air Force group, including tactical jet fighters, troop carriers and tankers, flies to the Far East next week in what Pentagon spokesmen call a training exercise.

Leaving from California Wednesday, they will visit the Philippines, Thailand and Formosa. A return flight to the United States is scheduled about 15 days later.

A Defense Department spokesman said it has been planned for "at least six months."

Ten. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, said the flight was an exercise to test the ability of the Tactical Air Force to deploy over long distances quickly if faced by an emergency.

Training will start immediately after the planes reach the Philippines and will be under the direction of the 13th Air Force. The strike force will be under command of Maj. Gen. Henry V. Cello, commander of the 19th Air Force with headquarters at Seymour Johnson Air Force Base, N. C.

Goldwater called the federal aid bill, passed by the House this week, "the door through which the camel will get his nose in the tent" for total federal control of education.

He noted that the bill, awaiting Senate action, only includes aid for school buildings. But, he declared, "if it is passed you can bet that in a few years they'll be back for pay for teachers and that will lead to the federal government setting qualifications for teachers."

He defended coalitions of Republicans with conservative Southern Democrats in Congress, saying, "The Southern viewpoint has been a stabilizing influence in the life of the nation."

DENVER (AP)—Joanne Smith, a coin collector, was elated Friday when she found in her change from a supermarket three silver dollars minted in 1921 — a rare date.

Mrs. Smith's delight turned to suspicion as she hurried home. She found 70 silver dollars, valued by coin collectors at $300, and $200 worth of Jefferson and Buffalo nickels missing from a drawer.

Penance Paid On 1929 Theft

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — Penance has been paid for that hunk of luncheon meat stolen from a produce truck here in 1929.

This ad showed up in the Wheeling Intelligencer Friday: "In 1929 while hitchhiking a ride on a Wheeling produce truck, I took a piece of lunch meat from it. I am asking them to forgive me."

The message was signed Robert Martin and the letter postmarked Morgantown, W. Va. A reporter for the newspaper telephoned Martin, who acknowledged placing the $1.50 ad. He said he was 18 years old and jobless at the time he took the meat.

Just wanted to get it off his conscience.

Need Stronger, Better Unions

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)— Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) says the nation needs "stronger and better unions," but that "we've allowed a handful of men to turn a labor movement into a political movement of great power."

Along with labor power, Goldwater Friday night lumped school aid, unemployment compensation and federal regulation of business together as symptomatic of "the centralizing of government that is a massive threat to the free enterprise system and the constitutional system of government."

The senator spoke to the Southern States Industrial Council, which was to end its two-day meeting today with election of officers.

Goldwater called the federal aid bill, passed by the House this week, "the door through which the camel will get his nose in the tent" for total federal control of education.

He noted that the bill, awaiting Senate action, only includes aid for school buildings. But, he declared, "if it is passed you can bet that in a few years they'll be back for pay for teachers and that will lead to the federal government setting qualifications for teachers."

Books & Stuff

By Dr. ED HIRSHBERG
Plenty of books have come out about politics, seemingly a dominant issue these days—we wonder why. Two very timely ones are—also a dominant issue—shared by two leading Democratic candidates for the nomination for you-know-what, Adlai Stevenson and John Kennedy.

HIRSHBERG
The U.S. Senate has been a good training ground for him in whatever job he undertakes next... Adlai Stevenson's book is titled PUTTING FIRST THINGS FIRST: A DEMOCRATIC VIEW, based on speeches which Mr. Stevenson has made and articles he has written since his campaign for the Presidency in 1956.

American Boost Seen In Russian-Reading Machine

YORKTOWN HEIGHTS, N.Y. (AP) — A machine that reads Russian and talks English like a vaudeville Bolshevik promises to give America a big boost in the cold war. The electronic device can rattle out about 40 words of translation a minute, but scientists expect that improvements will soon enable it to handle 2,400. And with better grammar.

On Marriage

Speaking of wives, we'll mention a new book due from the press in June also, CAN THIS MARRIAGE BE SAVED? by Dr. Paul Popenoe and Dorothy C. Disney. It's a compilation of true stories about 20 failing marriages and how they were saved, from the case history files of Dr. Popenoe, who is president of the American Institute of Family Relations and moderator of a TV program, "Divorce Hearing," which some of you might have seen.

On Murder

Last year Dodd-Mead, Publishers, started a novel-writing contest for college professors only. The book was to be restricted to a mystery—preferably murder—or suspense story. Forty profs hit us weren't one of them, though they were tempted — and one of them inevitably won, a lady English teacher at Columbia, Helen Hull, for her A TAPPING ON THE WALL, about a college prof who kills his wife. Miss Hull has already written some successful novels, so her winning this contest isn't strictly cricket, we suppose. Anyway, the contest is open again this year — deadline — not necessarily for the murder — is
