

Reckless Words By Lake Inviting Supreme Court Into N. C., Says Sanford

RALEIGH (AP)—Candidate for governor Terry Sanford says his opponent, Dr. I. Beverly Lake, is inviting the Supreme Court to step into North Carolina with his "reckless words" on the school segregation issue.

Sanford accused Lake of "injecting a false issue on integration and it is false because I am, and he knows I am, opposed to integration. The difference is that I know how to handle it, he doesn't."

Long Ago, Somebody Hid Their 2 Brown Jugs---And Forgot'em

JUG FOUND IN EXCAVATION . . . Foreman Henry Heath holds container which is in perfect condition.

Where's a good place to hide the whiskey jug? Some unknown Greenville citizens found the perfect spot many years ago. His little cache went undetected until this week.

Heath said he had discussed the find with local old timers. They were astounded that the jugs were there and could only guess as to how long they had been buried.

A theory is that the jugs might have come from any one of the many saloons which were located on Cotanche St. in the 1800s.

Club Members Reach Goals In Community Improvements

By MAIDRED MORRIS

West Edgecombe Home Demonstration Club members have beaten their own record. Just recently, they won the trophy for the most improved club in the county. This was a repeat performance since they also won the trophy in 1959.

The Rocky Mount Chain Stores entertain the local officers, district officers, and county council officers from Nash, Halifax, and Edgecombe counties each year at a banquet during National Home Demonstration Week. Trophies are awarded to the club in each county which has made the most improvements during the past year.

Mrs. J. J. Bradley, Tarboro, Rt. 3, has served as president of the West Edgecombe Club for two years. She says, "Two years ago, we decided to go to work and improve our club and community." Under the able leadership of Mrs. Bradley the club went to work and results of their work are seen as your ride through the community.

Three new members were added to the club this year bringing the enrollment up to 30. They boast of an average attendance of 23 with 13 members having perfect attendance this year. Seventy-five non-club members were reached with home demonstration practices.

"Community activities have played a big part in our improvement record," says Mrs. Bradley. "We assist community groups in sponsoring suppers. Our club members peeled 2300 pounds of potatoes for the local Rural West Edgecombe Firemen's Benefit Supper, processed 130 chickens for the local P.T.A.'s annual supper, and cooked 50 chickens for the Ruritan's Brunswick stew dinner this past year."

Mrs. Bradley says each June the club members make Brunswick stew on their regular club meeting day and sell it in quarts to make money to finance their other projects. Last year, they made 260 quarts.

They have also donated $40 to the Eugenia P. Van Landingham Loan Fund, which was recently established in the county in honor of their home agent. Two girls are planning to take advantage of the loan fund this year.

This year 109 families participated in the community home beautification contest held between local county clubs. The clubs are judged on individual accomplishments, community projects, and spring clean-ups.

Mrs. Bradley says, "The most outstanding project this year has been landscaping the McKendree Methodist Church grounds in our community. We have raised $550 to finance our projects. Twelve trees have been removed, a bulldozer worked for 12 hours, and grass has been planted. Our work will continue as we are able to finance it."

Campaigning Is Part Of The Scene

Often, reference is made to the "waste" of time, money and effort that goes into political campaigning under our democratic system of government. And usually the individual referring to the "waste" can name a half dozen ways in which the time, money and effort could be expended to bring about other worthwhile ends.

But after all, there are few things more worthwhile to the average citizens than the privileges he enjoys under a democratic government. If it weren't for the campaigning, the free election of officials, the ultimate decisions of the citizens in government matters, the democracy which affords the other privileges to individuals would not exist.

It would be difficult to calculate with any degree of accuracy the amount of money and the manhours of effort that will go into political campaigns during this national election year.

Millions of cards with candidates' pictures will be printed, hundreds of newspaper advertisements will call attention to the issues, many hours of television time will be devoted to candidates' appeals for votes. Millions of gallons of gasoline will be used for travel by candidates and their supporters, bumper stickers by the hundreds of thousands will be stuck on automobiles from one end of the country to the other. Highway billboards will be bedecked with campaign slogans, posters will be stuck in store windows, halls will be rented for meetings, meals will be served by the thousands in behalf of candidates. And this is only a part of it all.

Aside from the people "actively" engaged in political campaigns, no one could begin to estimate the time spent by individuals not "in" a campaign discussing the issues, the various aspects of the campaigning, and trying to make up their minds which of the candidates they will vote for.

A great waste of money, time and effort? Well, maybe. But it is the stuff democracy is made of. The vote of the man without a dime counts just as much on election day as the vote of the man who heads a financial empire.

Beyond the immediate campaign purpose of gaining votes for the respective candidates, the great-to-do focuses national attention upon government issues large and small from the township to the nation's capital. If rejuvenates interest of individual citizens in government affairs, reminds them of their responsibility as citizens, and makes them aware that the decisions to be made rest, in the final analysis, with the voters.

Maybe the total tab is a big price to pay in an effort to get people to participate in the affairs of government; but with it all, unfortunately, far too few citizens take the time to go to the polls to vote their convictions.

How many citizens would exercise their right to vote if there were no campaign to stimulate their interest in their own government?

Tourist Business Not A Penny Ante Matter

Figures released this week by the North Carolina Travel Council dispell any doubt that the United States is a nation of people on the move . . . and when they move they scatter cash along the way.

According to the Travel Council's figures the tourist business in North Carolina last year pumped some $385 millions into the state's economy, well over half of which came from out-of-state travelers in North Carolina.

The tourist business is, of course, one of North Carolina's largest industries, and apparently is growing larger with each passing year as more resort areas are promoted in the coastal and mountain sections of the state. Aside from the "tourist" in the strict sense of the word, however, there are plenty of other travelers who go to and fro through the state constantly.

According to the council, some 16,700 business firms in North Carolina employing over 69,000 people have a part in serving these travelers. In addition to the Tar Heels going from one place to another within their state, the council says that more than 10 million traveling parties composed of some 23 million people from out of the state visited North Carolina last year. That's a lot of people indeed to come to North Carolina.

These travel council figures show in more ways than one that North Carolina is a state on the move.

Everyone Can Be Own Coroner

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Everyone is his own coroner in trying to determine what killed the 1960 summit conference. It's a kind of international autopsy. But the cause of death is still uncertain.

This grand guessing game was climaxed Monday by British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan who came up with this thought: "Perhaps even the Russians don't know why Premier Nikita Khrushchev wrecked the conference."

Macmillan tried a broad wrap-up of the major guesses: "Some say he (Khrushchev) was influenced by Red China. Others say it was a matter of personal pique or anger. Some say it was a matter of internal Soviet politics."

"It has alternatively been argued that the U2 incident was the true and sole cause of the breakdown."

Since the theories are apt to multiply rather than diminish—and the real answer may never be known—here is a brief list of guesses so far:

1. Back in November 1958 Khrushchev gave the West six months to get its troops out of West Berlin. When he saw the West wouldn't budge, he said the six months could be extended. Now 17 months have passed.

2. Still the West wouldn't get out Khrushchev knew this before the summit meeting. So going to it meant he'd have to return emptyhanded after all his big talk about forcing the West out.

3. So, perhaps he was looking for any excuse to avoid the summit meeting which he himself had proposed.

4. Perhaps some of the other top Soviets in the Kremlin—along with the Red Chinese—were fed up with his one-man diplomacy and his policy of amicability with the West and told him to back up.

This would mean he was in jeopardy but there's no evidence to support that.

5. Perhaps he was sincere in wanting the summit meeting but felt affronted or let down, as Macmillan suggested, by President Eisenhower when the U2 spied on the Soviet Union.

If so, then it is possible anger got the better of him.

6. Perhaps even the plane episode would not have compelled him to destroy the summit meeting if Eisenhower had pleaded ignorance of the plane's flight and purpose. He tried to give Eisenhower an out on this by suggesting the President didn't know about it.

But when Eisenhower took responsibility—not for this particular flight but for the plane-spying in general—Khrushchev may have felt he had no alternative, with the whole world watching, but to refuse to have any dealings with the President.

7. Perhaps, despite everything else, Khrushchev still would have gone on with the meeting if Eisenhower had made an effort to see him in Paris on Sunday, May 15, the day before the summit opened, to explain and seek an understanding.

In a speech in Moscow Saturday Khrushchev complained that Eisenhower made no effort to see him.

8. Perhaps the whole thing was a scheme, that Khrushchev went to all the trouble of arranging the summit conference for one purpose only: To try to belittle Eisenhower and the West by breaking it up in anger.

One thing is sure. No matter what his motive, Khrushchev confused the West and put it on the defensive.

Opinions In Brief

"Congress has still to come to grips with the real evil in the labor field. Graft and corruption are symptoms of the illness that besets the labor movement, not the cause of it. The cause is the enormous economic and political power now concentrated in the hands of union leaders."—Sen. Barry Goldwater.

"Government departments and government-owned enterprises spend millions and millions of dollars brainwashing the American people into believing that socialized power and other socialized businesses are good."—Christian Economics.

Catching The Mostest

In the spring a young man's fancy turns to . . . fishing.

The old and the young are alike. Roses are red, violets are blue, sugar is sweet, and I like to be fishing with you.

Sometimes a man's character is more evident in his fishing habits than in any other way. There are them that like to catch the mostest and the bestes of the fishes. There are them that don't care about the sport of fishing as much as about getting that fish out of the waer and home to show off.

There are them that don't care so much about getting fish as they do about just enjoying the sport of fishing and they'll even throw the fish back. One thing is for sure: you may pick your fisherman, but this latter is the choice of the fish.

There are other things besides fish in the world, such as graduating seniors and their awards and honors for the year, perhaps for the high school career, which goes on for four years. For most people, anyway.

(Some make a career out of going to high school, rather than having a high school career.)

Did you know that a total of 15 scholarships have been awarded to graduating seniors of Junius H. Rose High School? This is just about 14 percent of the senior class—or you could say 14 percent of the senior class has an opportunity of seeking and winning scholarships.

An amusing incident occurred at the Rose High Awards Night.

Miss Gigi Guice was called to the platform by Superintendent of Schools J. H. Rose, who called for "Zhe-zhe" and stumbled over the Guice. He was making reference to the movie Gigi, which was also pronounced Zhe-zhe (or likely sound). Rose asked Gigi as she approached the stage, "Are you the little girl who grew up?"

Well, Gigi and the audience laughed through that one.

A few minutes later, Gigi (who, by the way, is only a junior and is already being awarded things) was requested to come forward to receive another award.

This time there was no static: Rose simply called for Gigi—pronounced Sche-sche—with no last name. By now, Gigi was an accepted fact.

Other Editors Saying... Automation's Problems Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
YOUR FINAL RECOMPENSE

Have you ever thought of the misery which must exist throughout the world? God must have thought of it as He has sent deliverers to rescue us—especially as He provided for our greatest deliverance through Jesus Christ.

Right on the streets on which we live there is sorrow in many a heart, frustration, disappointment. There are millions of human beings throughout the world living below that standard which is alone consistent with the dignity of human life. There are children suffering for the sins of their parents. There are widows suffering because of the wickedness of their children. And then there is that great mass of untended humanity which Christ looked upon with compassion because they were as sheep not having a shepherd. There are literally millions of people in the world who know not which way to turn. Life has no objective for them. They look back upon nothing comforting. They exist in the midst of work and woe. They look forward to a future in which there is little hope.

Jesus was bearing upon his heart the misery of the world when he urged his hearers to remember "the maimed, the lame, the blind; and thou shalt be blessed; for they cannot recompense thee; but thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the just."

More Aptly Called A 'Taxephone'

By ELMER ROESSNER

We might call that popular conversational instrument the "taxephone."

"It's more taxes than anything else."

Several years ago your reporter suggested "taxsky" as the name for rye or bourbon, since imbibers are paying more for taxes than for stimulation. The name did not catch on.

"Taxephone" will probably not catch on either. Can you imagine a secretary saying, "Mr. Wombat, you're wanted on the taxephone"? Of course not. Your reporter is headed for ignominy again. But in destined failure, he protests that "taxephone" is far more appropriate than "taxephone."

Automation appears to having a striking effect on office work.

shrewd management and consistent success in raising rates. Yet it is but a shell for the United States Treasury.

The spring issue of the Bell Telephone Magazine, the house organ of this lovely octopus, points out that the company pays more per share in taxes than it produces for stockholders.

Quoting Frederick R. Kappel, president, it points out that in 1959, Federal, state and local taxes on operations were $1,690,289,000, equal to $7.66 per share of A. T. & T. Stock, or considerably more than the earnings per share of $5.22. It added:

"These taxes are levied under more than 80 different titles by over 100,000 different taxing units on a system-wide basis—each unit levying taxes as it sees fit."

The magazine's charts show that total taxes increased by a total of 299 per cent between 1946 and 1959, with the greatest increase in property taxes, followed by taxes on gross receipts. One conclusion is clear: any state or local government not throwing its hooks into A. T. & T. is missing an opportunity.

LARGEST OUTLAY

A pie chart (in this connection it might be called a dial chart) shows the total operating expenses per year in millions as follows:

Federal taxes . . . . . $1,108
State and local taxes . . . . . 582
Current maintenance . . . . . 1,286
Depreciation . . . . . 930
Traffic . . . . . 683
Commercial . . . . . 821
Accounting . . . . . 264
All others . . . . . 495

These figures show that more than 27 per cent of A. T. & T. outlays went for Federal, state and local taxes. A note adds: "State and local section of the tax slice is getting larger each year and is approaching the size of the Federal section which, though heavy, has remained fairly constant in recent years."

And that's not all. Not included

Amazed By U-2 Flight

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
Copyright, 1960, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

On the Soviet South Asian Service, in English, Viktorov, a Soviet commentator, on May 14, said:

"In their own country, the U.S. ruling circles have every right to allow gangsterism, that unattractive ornament of the American way of life, but to make gangsterism a standard of international relations is an insult to the peoples' conscience and a defiance of the most elementary principles of human morality. No one has freed the United States from the obligation to submit to the existing standards of international law and no one will free it of this obligation, just as no society will consent to legalizing banditry no matter how much the criminal may claim that banditry is necessary for him."

It is a psychological curiosity that no one sees himself as others see him. Soviet Russia has regularly engaged in espionage, as Henry Cabot Lodge pointed out in a commendable detail before the United Nations. It is, of course, axiomatic that the wrongs do not make a right; nevertheless how does a country manage without espionage?

It is possible to ignore Khrushchev and to wait until a bomb or a missile knocks us out.

Unquestionably the Russians were and are still startled that an American plane could pierce the Soviet Empire for perhaps 1,800 miles before it was found. As Gromyko asked: What would we say if a Russian plane reached Chicago, Detroit or San Francisco? We would say that our defenses are not in order. Conferences would be held to find out who is responsible for the failure and it undoubtedly would become a campaign issue.

There can be little doubt that if this plane pierced the Russian sky for 1,800 miles or any number of miles and its pilot had not defected to Soviet Russia, their defenses are not in order. The external excitement could have been organized to impress the Russian people with the wickedness of the Americans that they should not look too closely at the inefficiency of the Russian defense. This is, of course, a speculative view but so is about everything else brought into this peculiar discussion.

In this same broadcast—always official—it is proposed:

"The summit conference will be successful only if it is able to continue the sharp about-face in international relations which began to be evident after the meetings of Nikita Khrushchev with Prime Minister Macmillan, President Eisenhower, and President de Gaulle. But for that to take place the U.S. political leaders must resolutely renounce those brink-war methods that have been so markedly evident especially in recent weeks—and not only renounce them, but back it up by concrete deeds."

This statement clearly shows that before Khrushchev killed the Summit Conference on May 17, the Soviet radio was already preparing world opinion for its collapse and blaming the United States for it. In a Pravda editorial published two days before the Summit Conference, this appears:

"Today, the Soviet people tell all who are found of all sorts of military adventures: The USSR will not tolerate such aggressive acts, and in the event of any repetition, will take most decisive measures in reply. We will go on destroying all aggressors who raise a hand against us."

According to the Russian report, Francis Gary Powers, the plane pilot, said:

"In accordance with the contract which was signed by me with the CIA of the United States, I am pilot of the special air detachment of the United States dealing with the collection of information about operational raid stations and radar on the territory of the USSR, (and) I suppose, about locations of rockets."

"Our air detachment is permanently located at the U. S. Turkish air base, Incirlik, near the city of Adana, Turkey. I have been serving in this detachment since 1956."

Land-Clearing Operations On VOA Sites Said To Be Completed

Land-clearing operations have been completed on 2,875 acres of Counties. Project manager Fred K. Blackburn told the Daily Reflector today

The smaller tract, Site "C" near Arthur, has 100 of 650 acres cleared with roadway excavation operations in the beginning stages. Blackburn said several thousand feet of drainage ditching have been completed on the three sites. The $28 million radio signal facility for VOA is to be completed sometime in 1962 after initial construction is anticipated to begin near the end of this year. The three-site facility, to be known as the Consolidated East Coast VOA transmitter, will surround Greenville in a near-20-mile triangle. Site "A" and Site "B" (Leggett's Crossroads and Shelmerdine, respectively), the project's two largest tracts, will contain the facility's powerful transmitters. The Arthur site, the nerve center, will contain the receiving unit. The Nello L. Teer Co. of Durham has the site preparation contract at $775,800.

Three Top Demo Contenders Hold 'Summit' In California

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Radiating smiles as warm as California sunshine, three top contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination had a summit meeting of their own Tuesday night. The occasion was a glittering $100-a-plate testimonial dinner for Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who heads an 81-vote favorite-son delegation pledged to him on California's June 7 primary ballot. The three candidates — Sens. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Stuart Symington of Missouri — whooped it up all day for Brown, the party and themselves. Each got an enthusiastic reception—but Brown got the biggest hand. The Democratic banquet in the modernistic Beverly Hilton Hotel gave Southern California a convention preview and a chance to compare the aspirants. But a question remained: Will the sunshine radiated by the candidates reap a harvest of California votes at the July convention? Gov. Brown indicated the favorite-son delegation—opposed by one committed to pension promoter George McLain—is up for grabs. He told a news conference there is little chance the delegation will unite unanimously behind a single candidate. Brown, as pleased as a ringmaster at a three-ring circus, told a blue chip audience of about 1,200: "Any one of these three (candidates) will lead us to victory (in the general election) and then to peace in the world." The candidates whizzed through a writing round of activities. They held news conferences in 1-2-3 order, shook hundreds of moist palms, wine and dined delegates and huddled with politicians. They gave these views in news conference, prepared statements and speeches: Kennedy — He cannot envision Vice President Richard M. Nixon, whom he characterized as a "bel-ligerent and bellicose man," as president. The administration contributed to the summit collapse — although the Soviets actually caused its failure — by mishandling the U2 spy plane controversy. The key campaign issue will be foreign policy and what he termed the decline of American military power. Johnson — There is no "war party nor peace party nor party soft on communism" in America. Soviet Premier Khrushchev's claim that America sabotaged the summit conference is "an arrogant denial of the honest truth." The summit collapsed because of Khrushchev's "disgraceful conduct." Convention delegates won't be stampeded onto any band wagon. The South is not likely to stage a walkout at the convention. Symington—Kennedy should not be too confident. He has won seven primaries, but Estes Kefauver won 13 in 1952 and lost the nomination to Adlai Stevenson. The administration has a "calculated policy" of withholding information about what he termed America's missile gap. The United States must add three billion dollars to its defense budget to negotiate with the Soviets from a position of strength.

Segregation In South Claimed On The Increase

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A Negro candidate for president of the United States has disputed a NAACP statement that racial segregation is dead in the South. The Rev. Clemmon King of Albany, Ga., candidate for the Afro-American Unity Party, said Tuesday in a letter to the Rev. A. Leon Lowry that "segregation in the South is on the increase and there is no expectation of a reversal to this trend." King said Lowry, Florida NAACP president, made the statement following the victory of segregationist Farris Bryant in the governor's race. King said he took exception to the remark in the interest of "truth and my devotion to the hope that the Negro people not be forever fooled." King said it appears that the South is cleverly beginning to look to the North as its mentor on how to become effectively segregated.

Withers, Bunning Chosen To Coach Prep All-Stars

Fred Withers of Kings Mountain High School and Glenn Bunning of Durham High have been chosen to coach the West and East baseball squads, respectively, in the first North Carolina All-Star game which will be played in Greenville on June 10.

FRED WITHERS

also released the rosters of the two clubs. The East roster consisted of 20 prep stars from the eastern section of North Carolina while the West squad listed only 19. Another player is expected to be added to the West roster within the next few days.

Jack Sink of Myers Park in Charlotte and president of the baseball coaches association reports that response from the boys was real good. According to Sink, all boys invited accepted except for a couple who might be involved in playoffs for various titles.

The Northeastern 3-A of which Greenville is a member placed two men on the East roster, Jim Gooch a catcher, of New Bern, was named and Kinston placed third baseman Ned Kilpatrick.

A break-down of the East roster showed five of the 20-man squad coming from the ranks of the 4-A schools, six from 3-A, and nine from a lower classification.

The West squad shows four members from the 4-A schools, nine from the 3-A circle, and six from schools of lower classification.

Tickets for the first big game have been on sale for the past two weeks by members of Greenville civic clubs and firms in Greenville.

Cosponsored by the High School Baseball Coaches Association and the Lions clubs, local officials have expressed hope of at least a crowd of 1,000 paid attendance for the June 10th game at Guy Smith Stadium.

Expenses of the players selected are being handled by the Lions Club in their respective communities. The players will start arriving on June 8 and will probably stay at the East Carolina College campus.

Two days of practice will be held prior to the Friday night game.

Coach Jim Mallory, handling the promotional end of the game in Greenville, started contacting the various Lions clubs this week as to make arrangements for next week.

As released, the squads of the two clubs are listed below:

WEST Pitchers—Spencer Willard, Kernersville; Fritzie Slough, China Grove; David Snow, Glenn High of Winston-Salem; Bobby Bledis, Senior High of Greensboro; Jerry Wright, Kings Mountain; Bobby Hoover, Bellwood.

OUTFIELDERS—Charles Mulchis, Norlina; Floyd Wiker, Sylvan; Allan Bissette, Middlesex; and Richard Russell, Hallsboro.

Giants Falter As Cubs Grab Two Victories

By ED WILKS Associated Press Sports Writer

What's with the San Francisco Giants? Don't they know they're back home, where all that good pitching is supposed to pay off?

They won 14 of their first 19 games at sparkling new Candlestick Park. But now the Chicago Cubs have taken two of three there, knocking out three of the Giants top pitchers and dropping them 1 1/2 games behind the National League-leading Pittsburgh Pirates.

After jarring the Giants out of a share of the lead with a split in a Memorial Day doubleheader, the Cubs won 9-1 Tuesday night against southpaw Johnny Antonelli. The Pirates defeated Cincinnati 4-3 in 11 innings at Pittsburgh.

Last place Philadelphia cut loose for six runs in the eighth inning and whipped Milwaukee 12-7. Los Angeles rapped St. Louis 8-3. In the American League, Baltimore more gained a two-game lead by beating New York 3-2 while second place Cleveland lost 6-4 at Chicago. Kansas City defeated Detroit 2-1 on the three-hit pitching of ex-Pirate Dick Hall. Boston defeated Washington 3-1.

The Cubs, responsible for three of the Giants' seven defeats at spacious Candlestick got this one on a pair of doubles by Jerry Kindall, good for three runs, and homers by Ernie Banks and Bob Will. Banks socked his 10th in the He also had a triple and double. Glen Hobbie (4-6) was the winner, losing a shutout when he walked Willie McCovey and hit Orlando Cepeda ahead of a pair of infield outs in the second inning.

Roberto Clemente, regaining the NL bat lead at .353, singled with the bases loaded in the 11th for the Pirates. It was Pittsburgh's fourth straight victory and 14th in the last 19 games.

Elroy Face (4-3) won his fourth in a row with two innings of shutout relief, leaving the bases loaded in the 10th and 11th.

Two walks and a bunt single by Dick Groat, who had five of the Cubs' 13 hits, set up Cal McLish (2-4) for the loss. McLish was the sixth of eight Redleg pitchers.

The Phils tagged the loss on Lew Burdette (3-2), working in relief, while handing Milwaukee a fourth straight defeat. Bobby Del Greco and Pancho Herrera each drove in three runs for Philadelphia. Rookie Chris Short (2-0) won it in relief.

A tie-breaking grand slam home run by Norm Sherry, his first major league slam, won it for the Dodgers in the sixth against Ron Kline (2-4). Stan Williams (3-0) struck out eight, but gave up six-inning homers by Bill White and Ken Boyer and needed Larry Sherry's relief help for the victory.

Major League Stars By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Pitching — Dick Hall, A's, allowed only three hits in 2-1 victory over the Tigers, losing a two-hit shutout on an eighth-inning home run by pinch-hitter Sandy Amoros. Hitting — Jerry Kindall, Cubs, drove in three runs with a pair of doubles in 9-1 victory over the Giants.

A few days after he was recalled from Spokane, Frank Howard unloaded his first National League grand slam home run to give the Los Angeles Dodgers a 6-4 triumph over the Milwaukee Braves. Howard had thumped Pacific Coast League pitching for four homers, 24 runs-batted-in and an average of .371 in 26 games before the Dodgers pressing need for hitting power forced his recall.

Howard is not trying to kill the ball boy, said manager Walt Alton. "He'll hit twice as many 350-400-foot homers as he will those 500-foot tape measure jobs. But he can still hit them as far as anybody. Perhaps, farther."

The 23-year-old Howard who was signed for a huge bonus off the campus of Ohio State University where he starred in basketball, as well as baseball, has been tabbed as the slugger most likely to break Babe Ruth's home run record. He is a 6-foot-7, 245-pound giant who really powders a baseball. Only his temperamental pouting over being assigned to "B" games in spring training spoiled his chances of sticking with the Dodgers earlier in the spring. Apparently, Howard learned his lesson in Spokane for he showed a change of attitude when he rejoined the Dodgers.

"I just hope I am up here to stay this time," said Howard. "There is so much competition in this game that a fellow has to feel lucky to get to play in the majors." The Dodgers hope Howard has the talent as well as the luck. They need his booming bat which should become more and more potent as he develops and gains experience. He has so many things going for him that he needs only to listen to his coaches to develop into one of the league's outstanding stars.

RALEIGH (AP)—Duke University has been awarded the Sportsmanship Trophy given annually by the Atlantic Coast Sports Writers Assn.

Maryland was a close second in the voting, based on the 1959-60 school year.

Officials who worked football and basketball games and the players took part in the poll to rate the sportsmanship of the spectators at those events.

Voting was in three divisions and Duke was first in two, sixth in the third for the best total score.

Ward Gave Up Lead; Lost Wad, But Won Ovation

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Rodger Ward's decision to break off his blistering duel with Jim Rathmann in Monday's 500-mile auto race cost him about $25,000.

But it won him a tremendous ovation from a crowd of 800 speed fans who watched the distribution of a record $367,850 purse Tuesday night at the annual victory dinner.

Rathmann, of Miami, picked up $110,000, plus an expensive new automobile, a wardrobe full of clothing, automotive tools, assorted trophies and other gifts from racing buffs.

Ward, of Indianapolis, received $48,025—a substantial drop from his previous record first prize of $106,850 last year.

Rathmann and Ward waded out their tires in a see-saw battle through the last half of the race. Ward surrendered the lead on the 197th lap, with about seven miles to go. His right front tire could have burst any second, Rathmann's right rear was almost as bad.

Chicago (AP)—Willie Pastrano, unbeaten in three fights this year, is a 2-1 favorite in a light-heavyweight bout tonight with Chicago's Sonny Ray.

The 10-rounder in Chicago Stadium will be televised (ABC, 9 EST) and scored under the five-point-must system.

Pastrano, who now lives in Miami Beach, Fla., after beginning his career in New Orleans, is a dancing, bobbing battler with little punching power.

Pastrano Rates As Favorite

CHICAGO (AP)—Willie Pastrano, unbeaten in three fights this year, is a 2-1 favorite in a light-heavyweight bout tonight with Chicago's Sonny Ray.

The 10-rounder in Chicago Stadium will be televised (ABC, 9 EST) and scored under the five-point-must system.

Ingemar Beams As Trophy Is Set Up

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP)—Ingemar Johansson beamed as he posed with such great former champions as Jack Dempsey and Joe Louis. The occasion was the setting up of a new heavyweight championship trophy, donated by the old Manassa Mauler.

"I first met Dempsey in 1951 when I came over here with a European amateur boxing team," said the current heavyweight king.

"I met him again in this same place (Dempsey's midtown restaurant) when I was preparing for the first fight with Floyd Patterson."

"Then I met him last winter in Sweden when he was trying to help set up the rematch. He did a good job. He was very fair the whole time. Other people didn't know about it but he was very fair."

Dempsey had represented the interests that sold the rematch contract to the Feature Sports, Inc., the promoters of the June 20 bout at the Polo Grounds.

Johansson took a day off Tuesday. His fiance, Brigit Lundgren, was with him. Earlier he had visited a furniture manufacturer to acquire some furnishings for his new home in Geneva, Switzerland.

"I will relax for five days before the fight," said Johansson. "I did the same thing last year, you will remember. I do it to get my body full of power."

The champ said his personal physician and friend, Dr. Gosta Karlsson soon will be over from Sweden to join him.

"I think I am in better condition for this fight than I was last year at the same time," he said. "That is because I have worked much harder in training."

Johansson said he weighed 198 and would come into the ring against Patterson at 196 pounds.

He and his fiance were present at a news conference to announce a new trophy to go to the winner of the June 20 fight. The winner actually will get a replica of the big bronze trophy which will remain permanently at Dempsey's.

Red Sox Owner, Feuding With Writers, Hints Move

By BOB GREEN Associated Press Sports Writer BOSTON (AP)—Boston Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey is so fed up with the treatment his team is getting from local sports writers he has dropped a hint he may move the team from Boston.

But multimillionaire Yawkey, in a rare news conference, said he will go along with Billy Jurges as manager of the seventh-place team. Later he qualified his remarks about moving the club.

He made a surprise appearance in the press room atop Fenway Park just before Tuesday night's Boston-Washington game. Yawkey dropped several hints he may move the team if the writers don't quit riding the club. He chided the reporters gently at first, then not so gently.

"How many of you guys think you're qualified to manage a ball club?" he demanded.

He fixed one reporter with a stare. "Do you?"

"No, I don't think I'm qualified," the reporter answered.

"You're damn right you're not," Yawkey snapped.

"Sometimes it goes beyond the bounds of human dignity and reason," he said. "I don't put up with it. I don't have to. Just remember I've got the last word. I always have the last word. I've got an ace in the hole. And I'll use it if I have to. There's an innuendo there I think you all understand."

Later, however, Yawkey said he has no present plans to move or sell the club.

"That's for the future to decide" he said.

Earlier, he and general manager Buckley Harris released a statement spiking published reports Jurges was on his way out.

"This is a final statement and an expression of confidence in our manager," they said.

"To stop all rumors, the Red Sox announce that Billy Jurges is our manager and no changes are contemplated."

Yawkey later said that "we've got a lousy ball club" but added that "we're not as bad as that last road trip" when the Red Sox lost 11 of 14 games.

Turned Self In For Knife-Killing

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Theodore Shaynick, 40, walked into police headquarters Tuesday and told officers he had stabbed to death a fellow roomer because a voice commanded him to kill. He turned over a 2 1/2-inch blade. Officers went to the rooming house and found Paul Hankiewicz, 53, lying dead in a second-floor hall. He had been stabbed 30 to 40 times. Shaynick was charged with homicide.

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices thrashed irregularly today amid busy trading.

Some sharp gains among selected issues studded the list. But advances and declines were generally limited to around a point.

Electronic shares slumped as mid-day selling wiped out earlier gains. Most aircrafts, rubbers, metals, oils and tobaccos retreated.

But utilities spurred ahead. Motors, vending machines and mail order houses edged higher. Steels, chemicals and rails were mixed.

Western Union paced the advance among selected issues by climbing more than 2.

Selling dropped General Instrument and General Telephone more than a point. General Time and Zenith held gains of about 1.

Losses of a point or so were taken by Goodrich, General Dynamics, Universal Match, Lorillard and Kennecott.

At noon, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 30 at 215.10 with industrials unchanged, rails off 10 and utilities up 60. The Dow Jones industrial index was up .93 at 626.43 at mid-day.

Government bonds advanced while corporate securities turned mixed.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)— Hog markets steady to 25 higher. # Surpassed 1959 Campaign Drive

Officials of the Pitt County Society for Crippled Children and Adults reported today that receipts from their 1960 campaign totaled $2,750, an increase of almost $900 over the 1959 Easter Seal campaign.

The funds were raised through the Society's main Easter Seal sales, the county Easter Lily sales, containers and two special events sponsored to raise money to support the work of the Society.

The special events were dances, one co-sponsored with the Greenville Moose Lodge and one held in Grifton.

The money will be spent for braces, special shoes, limbs, hearing aids, X-rays, hospital transportation and campership fees for persons needing help.

Officers noted that the expense of the monthly clinic held at the Pitt County Health Department and co-sponsored by the Pitt Society for Crippled Children reached an all-time high in 1959. Approximately 150 people are seen at the clinic each month.

Spokesmen for the Society said they wished to thank all persons who helped with the campaign and made it possible, and all persons who helped with the activities of the society.
