Two Principals Will Not Return For Next Term

By Patricia Moore, Reflector Staff Writer. The Pitt County Board of education today accepted the resignations of Eugene Morris, principal of Pictolus Elementary School, and J. E. Hudson, principal of Grimesland High School. The board approved the appointment of George B. Causby as incoming principal of Pictolus Elementary School. No replacement was named to the Grimesland school post. D.H. Conley Superintendent of Pitt County Schools, told board members that Morris is moving to Wayne County and Hudson is going to the Knightdale school in Wake County. Along with these changes, the board approved renewals of teaching contracts and replacements throughout the county. Conley said the replacements were running as usual, with about two to three percent replacements necessary. Grifton Addition. The board approved an "urgently needed" addition of two classrooms at the Grifton High School, subject to the approval of the Pitt County Board of Commissioners. Construction will cost an estimated $12,800. The project is to be financed as follows: $3,000 will come from the Grifton Special District 1960-61 Capital Outlay fund; $7,000 will be loaned by the County Board of Education with the approval of the county commissioners. Sam Nelson, Grifton chairman, asked that the remaining $2,800 be advanced by the County Board of Education and that the board "be authorized to reclaim that amount in the 1961-62 capital outlay budget." Nelson said that the rooms were urgently needed by the opening of the next school year. The board also voted to approve a contract for additions at Stokes Elementary School, subject to completion of the electrical contract. This construction would consist of three additional rooms and a toilet at the Stokes school. Industrial Ed. Center. The board reviewed a letter from the State Dept. of Public Instruction concerning a survey made in the county May 31 on possible sites for an industrial education center. Robert Lee Humber, recently re-elected state senator, worked on the project. The survey concluded that the Industrial Development

Looks Like A Record Registration

SUMMER SESSION REGISTRATION UNDERWAY . . . 2,170 persons had applied for admission.

College Opens For Summer Session; Many Enrolling

East Carolina College opened this morning its 1960 summer session with expectations of a record enrollment. Applications from approximately 2,200 students, received before the close of the spring quarter, indicate that the college will have its biggest registration for a first summer term, Registrar John Horne said today. A full and varied program is being offered on the campus. Fifteen departments of instruction are conducting classes during the first term. In addition, a series of workshops, clinics, and conferences covering a wide area of interest in education will be presented largely for the benefit of school administrators, teachers, and parents. East Carolina's annual Summer Music Camp July 17-July 30, will be a special event of the second term and is expected to bring to the campus several hundred junior and senior high school musicians and a number of teachers of music. As in previous summers, a branch summer session is scheduled for Wilmington and is now in progress. At Chowan College in Murfreesboro five extension courses from the junior to the senior-graduate level will be presented June 13-July 22 as part of the summer program there. Other extension courses in various centers of Eastern North Carolina during the summer have been announced by Dr. Ralph Brimley, director of public relations and extension at the college. These include six courses at Camp Lejeune, six at Cherry Point, three at Seymour Johnson Air Force Base in Goldsboro, and one each in Brunswick and Duplin counties. East Carolina's Grand Circle Tour of Europe, a travel-study program, will begin Sunday, June 12, when thirty student-tourists will meet in New York for a two-day briefing. The party, directed by Mrs. Myrtle B. Clark of the college faculty, will begin its tour of nine countries Tuesday, June 14. The program will extend through July 18. Trans-Atlantic travel will be by air.

Allege Committees Issued Artificial Spending Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Public Works and Judiciary committees have submitted artificial reports of their 1959 spending of public funds overseas, the Knight newspapers said today. Reporters Don Oberdorfer and Walter Pincus wrote in a copyright article: "These reports have sailed through the House committee accounting system into the public domain without a ripple even though the itemizations are obvious concoctions." The committee expense reports in question cover congressional spending of counterpart funds overseas. These are currencies of foreign governments which the U.S. government owns as a result of aid and sales transactions but holds within the overseas country. Two other House committees, Agriculture and Education and Labor, did not even itemize counterpart spending by categories, the article said. "Congressmen can draw these funds freely at just about any time," the article said. "I've conducted everything all the way through. That is to carry on a clean campaign and to tell the straight honest facts. Our platform is to have no intentions of saying anything uncomplimentary about the other candidate, just as we carried out the first primary." "I think in the long run that gains far more than trying to run (Continued on page twelve)

Politics In Pitt Far From Dead

By ALVIN TAYLOR, Reflector City Editor. Politics didn't die in Pitt County as the last votes were counted May 28. There's still a second primary governor's race to be run off on a state-wide basis June 25 and Pitt will be a battle ground. The run-off between Dr. I Beverly Lake and Terry Sanford will take the spot light in this county during June. Only a constable's race and perhaps a lieutenant-governor's run-off will be involved otherwise. Both Lake and Sanford had very active support in Pitt County during the first primary and campaign managers for both have said that same support is available for the run-off campaigning. For Terry Sanford, a respected young local attorney, Louis Gaylord Jr., is serving as campaign manager in Pitt. Gaylord was manager the first primary and he said today he would continue in that capacity for the run-off. An equally respected local physician, Dr. K. B. Pace, is Lake's campaign manager for both the first and second primaries. Even though Sanford had been favored during the early weeks of campaigning in Pitt, Dr. Pace led

Woman Who Died In Tarboro Counted As Fatality For Pitt

By STUART SAVAGE, Reflector Staff Writer. A 79-year-old woman, who died in the Edgecombe County Hospital in Tarboro Saturday afternoon, will be counted as Pitt County's fifth traffic fatality of 1960. According to Pitt County Coroner E. W. Harvey, Mrs. Myrtle Parisher of Johnston St., Tarboro, who was injured in an accident on U.S. 13-N.C. 11 at the Tar River Bridge Thursday morning, died as a result of injuries received in the collision. Investigating Patrolman H. R. Winslow, Thursday, reported a late model car, driven by Allie P. Sherrod of Tarboro was struck in the rear, about 10:05 a.m. by a truck operated by Bernice Tripp of Winterville. Both vehicles were headed south on U.S. 13. At that time, Tripp was charged

Proposed Secondary Road Outlays For Pitt Approved By County Commissioners

By HENRY HOWARD, Reflector Staff Writer. The Pitt County Commissioners this morning passed a resolution approving the proposed expenditure by the State Highway Commission of $247,000 on Pitt County's secondary roads during fiscal 1960-61. Pitt District Engineer D. W. Patrick presented the proposal. Of the total amount $201,082 will be channeled into five new projects. Projects begun last year that will run into the new fiscal year will consume $46,000. The largest lump sum proposed was $75,000 for paving an 18-foot-wide strip over an eight-inch stone base on county road No. 1900. The paving project is scheduled to follow grading, drainage, and stabilization work on the road. The road runs north from Hanrahan to the Gum Swamp Road. Other projects included: No. 1708, connecting NC 11 to NC 43 at Bell's Fork, $53,900 for grading, drainage, and stabilization; No. 1218, northwest of Bell-Arthur, $40,000 for grading, drainage and stabilization, and retaining two bridges; No. 1108, from NC 11 to paved county road near Hanrahan, grading, drainage, and

Father Of Lost U-2 Pilot Drops Plans For Trip. ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The father of the U2 spy plane pilot said today he had given up the idea of going to Russia and expressed confidence the U.S. government would do everything possible to protect his captive son. Oliver W. Powers of Pound, Va., said in a statement released here that his going to the Soviet Union would serve no useful purpose at present. Previously Powers, a shoemaker, had written Premier Nikita Khrushchev asking merciful treatment for his son, Francis G. Powers, who was shot down or forced down in Russia last month. The father had also expressed a desire to go to Russia to try to help his son. In a statement today he said: "Since the capture of my son I have been constantly plagued and beset with inquiries from all quarters. It is all premature and obviously this is a matter which must be processed through the channels of government in the light of an advanced society of our civilized world. May a just and merciful God restore our son to this democratic land."

Man Wounded By Rifle Bullet. A 52-year-old man is in Pitt Memorial Hospital today suffering from a rifle wound. Sheriff's deputies identified him as Easlie B. McGlawhorn of Rt. 3, Greenville. Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson said McGlawhorn was shot with a 22 rifle over the right ear around 11 o'clock last night. The wound was apparently self-inflicted, investigation by deputies showed. The shooting took place at McGlawhorn's home in the Red Banks section. He was taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital by his son and neighbor, the sheriff said.

Child Is Drowned At Oregon Inlet. MANTEO, N.C. (AP) — Four-year-old Donald Ray Woodard of Raleigh drowned today when a fishing party was spilled into Oregon Inlet from an outboard motorboat. The child was accompanying his uncle, Milard Woodard of Raleigh, another man and two other children. The accident happened shortly after 9 a.m. Coast Guardsmen and members of the Manteo Fire Department tried for more than an hour to resuscitate Donald. At the time of the accident the child's mother was at a nearby National Seashore Recreation camp.

Spain submitted a bill of $860.58 for his expenses and services during the recent primary election. The Board approved his request. The commissioners directed County Attorney W. W. Speight to write a letter of appreciation to the Atlantic Coast Line for a recent national advertisement that promoted the Greenville-Pitt County area for industrial development. Charles Stocks requested the board to appoint him as constable of Arthur Township. Stocks filed for election in the Democratic primary but was unopposed. He said there is no constable in the township now and his requested appointment would be effective sooner than the November general election.

Mass Resignation Of Jap Socialist Bloc In Parliament

TOKYO (AP) — The Socialist bloc in Parliament today formally approved its mass resignation in a pressure move aimed at ousting Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi and washing out President Eisenhower's visit to Japan. Socialist leaders hoped the mass resignation would arouse public opinion to force Kishi to dissolve Parliament before the U.S.-Japan security treaty automatically takes effect June 19 — the day Eisenhower is due to arrive. The big national labor federation, Sohyo, called a national convention Wednesday and Thursday to draft plans for another strike against Kishi, the security pact and the Eisenhower visit. The "People's Council to Block the Security Pact," spearheaded by the Socialists and Sohyo, announced a timetable on its anti-government campaign emphasizing protests against the President's visit. Included are demonstrations in front of the U.S. Embassy June 10 when a White House advance party, led by presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty arrives; "May Day-like" demonstrations throughout the country June 11 with 200,000 expected to take part in protest rallies around the Parliament building and the U.S. Embassy; a series of work stoppages June 15-17, climaxed by a strike on the 17th, and mass marches with demonstrators wearing mourning on the day Eisenhower arrives. Kishi has declared he intends to stand fast behind the invitation to the President "no matter what may come." He also has said he will not resign until after the treaty is in effect. The left-wing Socialists have only 125 members in the 467-seat lower house of the Diet — not enough to legally force dissolution of Parliament. The more moderate Democratic Socialists, with 40 seats, are not

Now Ready For Paving Project

PAVING—Curb and gutter has been installed on sections of White, Tyson and Ward Sts. in preparation for paving. City Manager Leonard Bloxam said Tyson from Fifth to Fourth, White from Fifth to Fourth and Ward from White to Tyson are to be paved. The curb and gutter is complete and paving will be done as soon as the dirt settles, he said. This should be within the next two or three weeks. Above workmen are replacing a section of sewer line which was too close to the surface on Ward St. Property owners are participating in the paving and curb and gutter costs under the city's policy. Weekend Social Calendar Highlighted By June Weddings

The wedding of Miss Mary Vivian Lockhart and Donald Allen Branch was solemnized in the Vanceboro Christian Church at 5 o'clock in the afternoon June 3, 1960.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Roberta Estelle Harrison of Williamston, N. C., organists, and Mrs. Cleveland Bradner of Greenville, soloist, sorority sisters to the bride, Mrs. Bradner sang "Walk Hand and Hand With Me," "The Song From the Book of Ruth", and the "Wedding Prayer" as a benediction.

The bride is the step-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Franklin Aldridge of Vanceboro, N. C. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Edward Branch of Route 1, Winterville, N. C.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Henry Speight.

To form a background for the bridal party graceful floral arrangements of gladiola and mums, interspersed with ferns and bridal greenery, were used. Cathedral candles burned in seven-branched wrought iron candelabras. Pews for the families were marked with white satin ribbons.

Given in marriage by her step-father, the bride wore a formal gown of silk plau de sole with lencon lace trim. It was fashioned with a portrait neckline edged with scalloped re-embroidered lace and short sleeves. Motifs of lace embroidered in pearls and iridescent sequins were scattered over the bouffant skirt which featured a panier back and extended into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil was arranged from embroidered pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a white cymbidium orchid showered with french carnations and ribbons.

Charles Russell of Jamesville, Billy Goodson, Billy Wooten, Warren Aldridge, all of Greenville, and Charles Edwin Branch, cousin of the groom of Winterville.

Mrs. Aldridge wore for her step-daughters wedding a dress of silk with embroidered pink satin with matching pink accessories. She wore a pink cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Branch, mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue bustle, with black accessories.

After the ceremony, the bridal couple and friends were given a reception in the parlor of the church.

William C. Sistar at the First Presbyterian Church of Warner Robins, Ga.

Mrs. Roy Gossett, organist, and Gene Henderson, soloist, presented a program of nuptial accessories and a pink orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a pink dress with touches of blue and matching accessories. Her were Peter L. Temple of Atlanta, Ga., and Malcolm E. Doty of Ma-

The bride's parents entertained at a reception in the church fellowship hall immediately following the ceremony. The same pink color scheme was carried through the reception hall.

The bride chose for the wedding trip a white embossed cotton and shoes were dyed to match with matching accessories and the rose corsage from bouquet of rubrum lilies shading her bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Pineland Junior College and the University of North Carolina and has done graduate study at the University of North Carolina. She is presently employed by the House of Representatives, U.S. House of Representatives, U.S. Air Force Base, as a computer systems analyst.

After a wedding trip to New Orleans, the bride and groom will be at home at the Boyce Apartments, No. 19, Warner Robins, Ga.

Mrs. Donald Allen Branch

Miss Barbara Ellen Peete of Williamston, N. C., cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a street length dress of pink taffeta over nylon chiffon featuring a pleated skirt, bow at center of waist, and a fitted bodice. Fashioned with short sleeves, her dress had a round neckline. She wore matching shoes, short pink gloves, and a matching head-dress consisting of a short veil. She carried a bouquet of pink and lavender gladiola with matching ribbon.

Attending as bridesmaids were Miss Sarah Elizabeth Ewell of Greenville, Miss Jane Carolyn Coats of Four Oaks, sorority sisters of the bride, Mrs. Anke Vander Fisher II, of Del Rio, Texas, Miss Barbara Anne Moore of Aceme, roommate of the bride, Mrs. Jo Anne Bryan Willis, of Dunn and Miss Patsy Porter of Greenville. Their dresses were lavender fashioned like the one of the maid of honor and carried bouquet like hers.

Flower girls were little Miss Lena Kay Branch, cousin of the groom, and little Miss Sharon Goodson. Their dresses were lavender and pink fashioned with a full skirt and fitted bodice with short sleeves. They carried white flower baskets trimmed with pink and lavender ribbons.

Master Branch Goodson was ring bearer. He carried a white satin pillow in a heart shape design.

Edward Branch served as his son's best man. Ushers were Paul Bernstein of Forest Hill, N. Y.,

The bride attended Woman's College and is completing her degree in Primary Education at East Carolina College

The bridegroom attended Winterville High School, University of North Carolina, and served two years in the United States Army. He is now employed with the Wachovia Band and Trust Company in Greenville.

Upon return from their wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Grifton.

Miss Jenkins Shower Honoree

Miss Barbara Jenkins, who will wed Douglas Parker on June 19, was complimented at a miscellaneous shower Friday night at Mt. Pleasant Community Building.

The table was centered with an arrangement of white lilies and feverfew flanked by crystal candelabra. Miss Jenkins was presented a corsage of pink roses by her hostesses.

Approximately 75 guests were present. The hostesses were: Mrs. C. B. Spain, Mrs. Lonnie Stator, Mrs. J. T. Dupree, Mrs. James Dupree, Mrs. O. J. Stancill, and Mrs. Clifton Bullock.

Schelling-Henaghan And Corbett-Foster Say Marriage Vows

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Miss graduate of East Carolina College She is the daughter of Mrs. Lloyd Marilyn Jeanne Henaghan, former-ly of Greenville, was married to James Herbert Schelling in St. Paul's Cathedral on Saturday, in Pittsburgh.

The ceremony was performed by the bride's cousin, Reverend Robert F. Studeny, who is celebrating his 25th anniversary as a priest.

The bride wore a gown of her own creation fashioned of ivory silk and princess skirt extending into a chapel train. The bodice was a re-embroidered Alencon lace embroidered with pearls.

Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a small bonnet of Alencon lace. She carried a prayer book topped with three full-blown roses. Her only adornment was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

She was escorted by her great uncle, Christian S. Gaus. Her attendants, Mrs. Edward Flanagan and Mrs. Chester Pisarski, were gowned in blue embroidered satin with picture hats of silk organza to match.

Edward Flanagan was best man for Mr. Schelling, who is the son of Mrs. Charles Reily, of Ebensburg, Pa., and the late Mr. George Schelling. His ushers were: Rudolph Domitrovic, William Kulak, and Thomas Johnson.

After a reception at The Ruskin, Mr. and Mrs. Schelling left for a honeymoon in Bermuda. They will make their home in Pittsburgh. The former Miss Henaghan is a

Mrs. Sidney Gerald Corbett

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The marriage of Miss Mary Lynette Foster, daughter of Major and Mrs. John Emerson Foster, to Sidney Gerald Corbett, son of Mrs. Bessie Dudley Corbett formerly of Greenville, North Carolina, took place Saturday afternoon in the Walter Reed Memorial Chapel.

The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, Chaplain John Emerson Foster. The bride was escorted by her grandfather, John Early Liddle, formerly of Davy, W. Va. She wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle with a sabrina neckline. The circular full skirt, with long columns of inserted lace, flowed into a chapel train.

Her veil was a short bouffant illusion topped with a crown of tiny seed pearls. She carried a white Bible with gardenias and stephanots.

The mother of the bride wore a mauve colored lace dress with matching accessories. The groom's mother wore a dress of blue lace with beige accessories. Their corsages were of Elegance carnations.

Miss Mary Jane Higginbotham of Grove City, Ohio, was maid of honor. The other attendants were Miss Jean Marsh of College Park, Md., Miss Jane Foster, a sister of the bride, and Miss Frances Rhyme of Norfolk, Va., a niece of the groom. The flower girl was Miss Sheila Davis of Hyattsville, Md., a niece of the groom.

The best man was Ernest Hughes of New Bern, N. C. The ushers were Howard Miller of Hyattsville, Md., George Corbett of New York, a brother of the groom, and James Rhyme Jr. of Norfolk, Va., a nephew of the groom.

The organist was Mrs. Lawrence Brice of McLean, Virginia, and the soloist was Miss Catherine Latta of New Bern, N. C. Miss Latta sang "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach and "O Lord Most Holy" by Franck.

A reception was held at the Walter Reed Officer's Club following the ceremony. Dark colors absorb light and cut down glare in a room. This makes more artificial light necessary for eye comfort.

More Protein—Fewer Calories
Of interest to weigh-watchers is the fact that pork, as it is produced and eaten today, contains fewer calories and a higher percentage of protein than previously thought. Newer type hogs and closer trimming of fat by meat packers and retailers account for the change.

Shoe Is Portable Carpet

RALEIGH—A shoe is a portable carpet for the individual foot. Shoes are intended primarily for protection and secondly for adornment and support of the feet. Shoes for occasional walking on carpet floors can be light and dainty, but shoes for constant standing on hard floors or walking on pavement or rough ground should be heavier and stronger. Does your shoe fit properly? Miss Mary Em Lee, clothing specialist for the N. C. Agricultural Extension Service, says that the fit of the shoe can be judged on the following points:
1. The ball of the foot, which is the widest part at the large toe joint, should be directly over the widest part of the sole of the shoe.
2. In shoes of adults there should be at least one-half inch between the end of the big toe and the inside tip of the shoe. A short shoe produces bunions, bumps on heels and weakened ankles.
3. The inside heel of the shoe should be snug so that the heel of the foot cannot slip in walking up and down inside the shoe. Both of these features insure a steady walk.
4. The foot should tread evenly. The first sign of wear on the sole should come under the ball of the foot. Shoes wearing out at the toes or sides show evidence of poorly balanced construction, poor fit or improper tread of the wearer.
5. Soles of street shoes which are thick enough to cushion the foot help to absorb the shock of walking on unyielding pavement. Miss Lee says that these are a few ways that one can tell whether they have good fit in their shoes. With an idea of your individual foot problems find a make of shoe that is best suited to your foot.

Shower Fetes Joan Parker

A miscellaneous shower was given for Miss Joan Parker, bride-elect, in the Belvoir Lunch Room, recently. An arrangement of white roses, flanked by silver candelabra, centered the table. The honoree was given a corsage or roses. Approximately 100 guests were present. The hostesses were Mrs. J. T. Dupree, Mrs. James Dupree, Mrs. Lonnie Staton, Mrs. Howard Bullock, Mrs. C. B. Spain, Mrs. Jackie Harris and Mrs. Billy Nobles.

Know Your Meats

There are more than 100 cuts of beef, pork, lamb and veal, including the variety meats, tongue, kidneys, sweetbreads, liver, heart and brains. Know your meat cuts and avoid monotony in meal planning.

Test For Cake

A cake is done when it shrinks slightly from the sides of the baking pan or if it springs back when touched lightly with the finger.

Knead Dough

Kneading the dough for a half minute after mixing improves the texture of baking powder biscuits.

FARMERS

It is time to clean out your corn barns. Sell us your corn on the cob or shelled, and let us haul it regardless of where you live and we will pay top market price.

We are open for business the year 'round. Try us with your next load.

Not Easy To Follow Suggestions

The State Board of Education's recommendation that North Carolina schools put greater emphasis on basic subject matter and less on activities is one with which most educators will agree, but likewise one which many school systems may find difficult to follow.

On the surface, at least, the majority of North Carolinians probably will agree with the recommendation of the State Board of Education. Whether this agreement with the recommendation continues as steps are taken to implement it is the crux of the situation.

The State Board's recommendation comes after a curriculum study of the state's public schools. Without saying so in these words, the board has found that North Carolina's schools have broadened their programs to the extent that basic subject matters are failing to receive the emphasis they should.

The problem now is how to get back to the day of restricted extra-curricula activities and limited programs of "subjects of real but more limited educational value."

To a large degree, the expansion of the school program from basic study of the three Rs to a considerably broadened program has been brought about by public demand. Most communities have not been content to see their youngsters merely get a good background in the so-called basic subjects in public schools. Most communities have felt it is necessary for the school to have dramatics, to have a number of clubs and social functions, to have good physical education and sports programs, and to provide a number of other activities which attract the interest of the students and the interest of the adults of the community as well. While these things have been beneficial to the schools, to the students and to the communities, there are few who will argue that they are "basic" to a good school program in the sense that the State Board of Education has referred to it in its recommendation.

In addition to calling for more school hours devoted to the basic subject matter, the State Board of Education also called for leaving the students more time in off-hours to devote to their studies. At the same time it suggested subjects of "real but more limited educational value" be taught in an extended school day or an extended school year.

Considering all these factors, it boils down to the conclusion that something is going to have to be left out of the school programs as they now exist if more time is to be devoted to basic subjects and to their after-school study by students. The other activities that are now so much a part of programs in many schools will have to be seriously restricted if the recommendation is followed.

Getting the students to go along with such restrictions will be only a portion of the problem. Another factor will be getting the community to go along with the program. And without community support to place greater emphasis on study of basic subjects—with a resulting restriction on school activities in which the community participates—the recommendations of the State Board cannot be implemented on the local level.

The recommendation of the State Board is sound, and if followed it will increase the educational quality of the public schools of the state. In the final analysis, however, it will be up to the local school officials, with the support of local citizens, to formulate a program through which these recommendations can be carried out.

N. C. Political Auras Changing

By LYNN NISBET
TRANSITION — By processes of evolution rather than revolution the political characteristics of North Carolina are undergoing change as significant as the economic trend from agriculture to industry and population shifts from rural to urban. In fact the political transition is influenced to considerable degree by the other factors.

It is not entirely a new experience for the State. Political changes, seldom reaching proportions of an upheaval, have come by spurts while the economic development has been fairly consistent.

Outstanding periods of political change might be designated, with no high degree of accuracy, as including the ascendancy of the Democratic party at the turn of the century; the transfer of power to choose public officials from controlled conventions to open popular primaries in the middle 'teens assumption by the State of chief responsibility for maintaining public roads and schools—and from revenue other than property taxes—in the early thirties.

These developments have been influenced largely by conditions outside and beyond control of North Carolina. Each period of change brought new leadership to the front. Whether the leaders were responsible for the changes, or if inevitable situations catapulted certain individuals into front ranks, is debatable. Weight of evidence favors the latter conclusion, because none of the policies were of sudden origin—and they have continued after the acclaimed leaders were removed from the scene.

SYMBOLS — Such names as Aycock, Simmons, Gardner and Scott are symbolic of ideas rather than of personalities. That is characteristic of North Carolina, whose people have never tolerated either intellectual or political bossism. No man has been able to hold recognition as a leader when enlightened popular opinion declined to support his personal ideology. Neither has any man ever been able to attain such recognition when majority opinion was contrary to his individual philosophy of government, however much he may have desired it.

The symbolic influence of Aycock and Scott was apparent in the recent primary election. It may be more influential in the current second primary race for Governor. History would seem to discount the fears expressed in some quarters and hopes cherished in other that results of the June 25 voting will control North Carolina for many years. The issues involved here are not new, and no one election will settle them.

The progress of North Carolina was not seriously disturbed when the Simmons group lost control of the dominant Democratic party. The "revolution" proclaimed by some of Kerr Scott's supporters when he won the governorship in 1948 turned out to be not much more than slightly changed direction of the progressive march. Emphasis on industrialization by Governor Hodges, and the apparent surface political setback suffered by his administration last Saturday, are phases in the continuing economic and political evolution without material change in the slow and orderly progress of the State.

POTPOURRI — A known supporter of John Larkin in the recent primary, now believed to be in the Sanford camp, was ealing place putting salt on his apple pie. "What's the idea?" "Do you mean you can't take 'pie in the sky' without a grain of salt?" The man said he hadn't thought about that. He had always put salt on his apple pie. Julian Oneto, manager of the Carolinian Hotel at Nags Head, tells about an invitation he had to a "tube steak" lunch. He knew about nearly every kind of steak, but that was a new one. He looked forward to the luncheon with keen anticipation. He got a hot dog—with MUSTARD. . .

North Carolina has acquired a new nickname. It is sometimes called the "TTT" or "Three Tees" state—because textiles, tobacco and travel are the three major sources of public and private income. . .

Then there was the fellow who voted for one of the full losing candidates for Governor last Saturday. When asked what he thought he said he was "going to the lake", and quickly explained he meant Fontana, not Beverly. . .

Pro-Sanford newspapers are following the lead of the candidate in slightly reducing the title from Dr. Beverly Lake to Professor Lake. They might be unconsciously and unintentionally helping him. Professors are supposed to be smart enough to teach other people. The title of doctor is widely applied to eminent surgeons and witch doctors with equal nonchalance. In common acceptance it implies treatment of patients for sickness. The title held by Dr. Lake, Dr. Ralph McDonald and many others indicate learning, but not necessarily ability to teach. . .

Words Prompted By A Weakness Within?

Mounting pressure of the Khrushchev attacks on President Eisenhower suggests that behind the Iron Curtain there may be mounting pressure on Premier Khrushchev to take some action to bring about greater unity for support of his program in his own country.

Over a period of years Soviet leaders from time to time have taken steps to increase international tension at times when there appeared to be weaknesses in their own organization in Russia. By creating the image of a common enemy abroad, they have sought to unite Russian solidarity and divert attention from the situation which existed in the Soviet Union.

In the past, most of the Soviet verbal blasts have been directed at the "Wall Street war mongers" and other elements in American society the Soviets assert want war. This time, however, the emphasis has been a personal attack upon the President with the assertion that his actions are not supported by the American people.

It may well be that the series of statements made by Khrushchev are designed primarily for consumption by the Soviet people with the American citizens as secondary objectives. It may well be that the statements have been prompted as much by signs of lack of unity within the Soviet Union as they have by international incidents.

Biblical Clues To 'New' Finds

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
Copyright, 1960, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

A Reform Jewish theological seminary will be established in Jerusalem next March by an American institution, Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion. The Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion is the oldest existing theological seminary devoted to preparing rabbis. . .

Its president, Dr. Nelson Glueck, besides being a rabbi is one of the world's foremost archeologists whose work in the Negev has proved the authenticity of place names and therefore historic detail in the Old Testament. His recent book, "Rivers in the Desert," is a magnificent study of the Negev which is so vital an area in current history. Born in Cincinnati, Dr. Glueck this year celebrated his 60th birthday. The discoverer of King Solomon's copper mines and Solomon's port on the Red Sea, Ezion-Geber, sealed for almost 2,500 years, he has been able to restore respect for the Bible as an historic document. . .

A man of a varied career, Dr. Glueck studied at the universities of Cincinnati, Berlin, Heidelberg and Jena and at the American School of Oriental Research in Palestine. During World War II he was a field agent for the OSS in the Near East, working among the Arabs. . .

Dr. Glueck's work in archeology is particularly interesting at this time when the ancient Biblical land is in the news every day. Almost like a detective, this American scholar has followed Biblical place names to establish where they actually were. He worked out the geographical extent of the kingdoms of Edom, Moab and Ammon and has established who were the Nabateans, one of the most remarkable of post-Biblical peoples. . .

Taking such a sentence from Deuteronomy 8:7 and 9: "For the Lord thy God bringeth thee into a good land, a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills thou mayest dig brass." Dr. Glueck went searching. At Timna, he found the site of the Biblical mines and today the copper industry is being revived. Of this Dr. Glueck said: . .

"I have always gone on the assumption that the historical statements in the Bible are true. On that basis I have made some of my most important finds."

It takes capacious faith as well as enormous scholarship to use the Bible as a guide-book, but to discover sites in a desert, some of them dating back 6,000 years, is a magnificent adventure. It is estimated that Dr. Glueck has established at least 450 sites in the Negev over which history has passed as far back as we have any record of man. This American has now devoted 30 of his 60 years to proving by the most modern scientific means that the land which God promised to Abraham was as promised. Dr. Glueck describes one period: . .

"The next period of civilized settlement in the Negev is that of Iron II, extending from the 10th to the 6th centuries B.C. The land was dotted then with fortresses on strategic hilltops, and with agricultural villages, usually on the slopes below them. Their inhabitants tilled strongly terraced fields generally in or alongside wadis or dry stream beds, dug cisterns, many of them still in use by modern Bedouins, and engaged also in extensive pastoral, commercial and industrial activities. These included tending their flocks and herds of domestic animals, trading with Egypt and Arabia, mining and smelting mainly copper found in and alongside the Wadi Arava, and refining and manufacturing it into finished copper articles. . .

The Reform Jewish seminary which will be established in Jerusalem is part of a group of such schools at Cincinnati, New York and Los Angeles. Jews regard the establishment of the Israeli seminary as a sign of the maturity of American Judaism. . .

One of the principal misunderstandings of the Jews is that throughout the centuries large numbers in each generation lapse from the traditions and habits of their ancestors. Whereas they dislike being "old-fashioned," they take on no new-fashion. They become spiritually and morally rootless. Reform Judaism meets this conflict of the ages by retaining the essence of Jewish tradition and yet making ritual and philosophy acceptable to new times. Reform Judaism is now maturely branching out. . .

Cane Is Only Concession

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Children are supposed to be a comfort to their mother in her old age.

It works the other way in our tribe. The older Mother gets the more of a comfort she is to her daughter and four sons. We doubt if we could ever get along without her.

Mother will be 73 in September. Returning here for my first visit with her in more than a year, I was afraid of what time might have done to her in the interval.

The worry was needless. Time has snowed white hairs on her, and slowed her steps with rheumatism, but it has no power to curb her sprightly spirit.

"All that I've got wrong with me is old age—and that will keep," she said. Her only concession to the years is a cane. She really needs the cane now.

Mother has had what might be called a hard life, but she never thinks of it that way. At 15 she emigrated here by herself from her farm home in County Mayo, Ireland.

I think Dad was making about $12 a week when they married. Five children came along, and she had to cook and mend and clean and do the laundry for us all.

Mother is proud of the fact that she never lost a child, and all are now more than 40 years old. "That's a pretty good health record," she often says. "If your Dad and I did nothing else for you, we brought you into this world with strong, healthy bodies. That means a lot."

"A large family is an agitation. That's what it is—a constant agitation. But it doesn't leave you any time for self-pity and that's a good thing."

"But I worry about you children more than you ever. At least when you were small I knew where you all were."

When she was younger, mother had a fine Irish temper. When angered at something one of her brood had done, she would turn her eyes to the ceiling and loose a tide of eloquence that curled the bark on the elm tree outside the window.

Dad died in 1937, but we still don't really think of him as dead. We talk of him as if he had merely gone into another room and might be back at any moment.

That attitude—plus mother's inborn courage—may explain why nearly 23 years of widowhood haven't soured her disposition. "I was too busy to grieve," she said. "And I still am. Anyway, death is part of life, and you must accept what you can't avoid. Life is love and happiness and sorrow, and it does no good to complain against it."

On Memorial Day, surrounded by her family, Mother went to Dad's grave and brought him an armful of roses. She didn't cry at all.

She put the flowers in a vase, we all said a prayer, and after a while turned to leave. "I took Mother's hand and wrapped it around my arm to steady her path across the rolling turf. Independent as ever, she pulled her hand away and leaned more heavily on the cane. "I don't need any help," she said. "I don't like to feel I'm a weight on anyone."

Other Editors Saying... Not American Way

(Rocky Mount Telegram)
Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, now in California with Sens. John Kennedy and Stuart Symington, has quietly but steadily been laying the groundwork for his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination. His six-state Western campaign tour has unquestionably raised his status as a contender. Whether he has garnered a significant number of convention delegates is doubtful, but it is clear he has done himself no harm, and possibly a great deal of good. . .

Johnson is a moderate, and as such appeals to a great many factions in the Democratic party, factions that fear such candidates as the Humphreys, the Moses, the Kennedys. Uncommitted delegates exposed to his personality and soft-spoken technique are now more likely to remain uncommitted until the convention opens July 11. This Western tour is the first of a series of the Texas senator plans, mainly on the weekends, as an open though still unannounced candidate for the nomination. . .

The picture the Democratic Senate majority leader is trying to project, apparently with great success, is clearly intended to contrast with his major rival, Sen. Kennedy. It is primarily one of a proven national leader, mature and experienced, who places his country's welfare above partisanship and personal ambition. It is also that of a down-to-earth, practical politician who can dicker, deal, exchange stories and win elections with the best of them. . .

Against a background of national crisis provided by the summit collapse Johnson has been sharpening the contrast. His basic line is that the Democratic party is going to nominate the best qualified, most experienced, best equipped, ablest and most dedicated servant available. There has been the implication that Kennedy was advocating a softer attitude toward Russia when he suggested that President Eisenhower should at least send regrets over the U-2 incident. . .

Johnson made the most of that implication by advocating a "no-apology" stand toward Khrushchev. Johnson consistently avoids criticism of the administration's handling of the spy episode. He pledged a thorough, nonpartisan probe of the case by the Foreign Relations Committee. Sometimes referring to Eisenhower as "my President," Sen. Johnson will shout: "I am not going to play petty politics with the future of the world and my little girls. He needs all the help he can get right now. He is the only man who can deal with Mr. Khrushchev as our spokesman."

Tip For Some State Legislators
By ELMER ORESSNER
Unless you live in Maine or Pennsylvania, your state legislators could save you some tax money if they were a little more diligent—or smarter. . .

Other states levy their liquor taxes on consumers. The tenth was Oklahoma, which left the prohibition fold only last year. But when it did, it put this clause in its law: "The excise tax levied by this act is hereby declared and intended to be a direct tax on the ultimate retail consumer of alcoholic beverages in this state, and when such tax is paid by, or collected from, any other person, as herein provided for, such payments shall be considered as an advance payment for convenience and facility only, and such tax shall thereafter be added to the price of such alcoholic beverages and recovered from the ultimate retail consumer thereof." The IRS, in Rev. Rul. 60-166, accepted this clause as making the tax deductible by the consumer, not the vendor. . .

THE LUCKY AMERICANS
The Prentice-Hall tax service lists these states, in addition to Oklahoma, as those in which consumers can deduct taxes on spirits: Alabama, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Utah, Vermont and Washington. . .

It lists these states as applying cigarette taxes on the smoker instead of the vendor: Connecticut, Florida, Maine, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Dakota. . .

If you live in states other than Maine, Massachusetts, Oklahoma or Pennsylvania, you can save tax money if your state will declare both whiskey and cigarette taxes applicable to the consumer—assuming you or your dependents smoke or drink. It won't cost the state

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
LEADERS KEEP COMING ON
"And Joseph died, and all his brethren, and all that generation."

What a mournful circumstance their passing must have been to the Hebrews! Their good friend at court was no more. Those who had led the nation had gone the way of all flesh. . .

But the Hebrews, after the death of Joseph and his brethren, were to experience the greatest expansion in the history of the nation. They were fruitful, as the Hebrews have always been. They increased and multiplied abundantly, and true to their energetic nature, they waxed exceedingly mighty. . .

When Joseph died, the tribe died; but at that moment also the nation was born. God's promise to Abraham was now being fulfilled in larger measure. . .

So write to state senators and representatives now and urge them to get you off that IRS hook. A simple amendment to your state tax law is all that is needed. Write to your governor, your attorney general, and the political boss who runs the state. Write to your local political leaders, and to any politicians who pop up their heads. If you want to write, clip this column and send it to your state representative. First writing on the margin: "I'm tired of being a tax patsy. Get busy!" Sign your name and address. . .

Colder 'War' Ahead

BABSON PARK, Mass.—June 2. My ideas on the international situation have been covered in the last two weeks. I especially refer to the reaction of other countries to the U-2 spy incident particularly those countries in which we have bases—and the subsequent collapses of the Summit Conference. I now want to suggest what conservative investors will take into consideration in preparing for a continued cold—and perhaps a "colder" war between Russia and the United States.

What Should Be Done About Equities

With few exceptions, boost investors will think it risky to buy equities at this time. Money in the bank will appear to them better just now than stocks or possibly undeveloped real estate. It looks as if Mr. Khrushchev may be calling a turn in the bull market. It is a good time to take advice from some banker or an investment counselor in whom you have faith. Sensible people will not get panicky and rush either to buy or sell stocks; but will play safe to avoid unnecessary worry. There will be no war this year. . .

Bonds may be a good purchase, at least they will give good security, perhaps better than good stocks will give. Of course, some people will advise against buying bonds for fear of inflation. However, I believe that inflation has been anticipated for the time being by the considerable discount at which bonds are selling. The discount has primarily been due to the increase in money rates. These higher money rates, however, have been largely offset by the discount at which many good bonds are selling. If you have any doubts, compare their current yields with the yields on good stocks. . .

A Few Bond Illustrations

American Telephone & Telegraph Co. 2 1/2 per cent coupon due 1986. These are selling around 72 and yielding about 3.65 per cent.

Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad 2 1/2 per cent coupon due 1980. These are selling around 75 and yielding about 3.80 per cent.

Northern Pacific Railroad Company 3 per cent coupon due 2047. These are selling around 60 and yielding about 5.00 per cent.

Commonwealth Edison Company 2 1/2 per cent coupon due 2091. These are selling around 70 and yielding about 4.10 per cent.

Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company 2 1/2 per cent coupon due in 1985. These are selling around 71 and yielding about 3.85 per cent.

The above examples include the leading telephone company, two railroad companies, and two excellent utility companies. Personally, I would rather buy the bonds of an electric power company which serves smaller communities than one which is primarily located in a large city that might be bombed in case of World War III. As investors usually buy bonds to keep for a considerable length of time, it is well to give some consideration to the possibility that World War III could start before most good bonds mature. . .

Other Attractive Considerations
The properties of the telephone company, and also of certain railroads, are so well diversified.

Echoes Of The 'Lawson Case' Shake Up Dignified Vanderbilt University

By BARNEY BALLARD

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The "Lawson case" shook up dignified Vanderbilt University last week like nothing else since the private, endowed Southern institution decided to experiment with racial integration eight years ago.

The 1952 decision may have raised a few eyebrows among alumni and faculty members.

The university was shaken to its roots last week when Dr. J. Robert Nelson, dean of the divinity school, and 10 members of his faculty resigned in a dispute over the Rev. James M. Lawson Jr., a dismissed student.

Several Negro students have been enrolled for eight years in the divinity school, law school and the graduate school.

to the regulation. Vanderbilt asked him to withdraw from school and he refused.

Several white students in the divinity school picketed the campus in protest and several members of the faculty issued strongly worded protests to the administration.

Lawson applied May 27 for readmission to the summer school and Chancellor Branscomb refused the request.

Dean Nelson said in resigning that Vanderbilt's refusal to readmit Lawson destroyed "the confidence and morale of the divinity faculty and others in the university."

In commenting on the resignations, Lawson said: "I think it indicates that throughout this process they (faculty) have understood my role in the sit-in movement as a Christian minister."

Lawson left for Boston to accept an invitation to enroll in Boston University's divinity school. He said he plans to return next fall to accept the pastorate of a Negro church in Nashville.

The Lawson controversy hinges on the interpretation of his actions in promoting integration.

Lawson, an admirer of Mahatma Gandhi's non-violent resistance methods, contended that Vanderbilt tried to curb his activities within bounds that were neither just nor morally proper.

The dispute threatens to wreck the faculty and student body of Vanderbilt's newly constructed divinity school, which represents an outlay of $1,400,000.

Faculty and students in other schools of the university have felt the impact of the "Lawson case," and they have divided on the issue.

Shortly after Lawson's dismissal in March, Mayor Ben West appointed a bi-racial citizens committee to seek a solution of the sit-in issues.

Lawson left for Boston to accept an invitation to enroll in Boston University's divinity school.

He said he plans to return next fall to accept the pastorate of a Negro church in Nashville.

Dedicate Shrine To Mark Twain

FLORIDA, Mo. (AP)—About 7,000 persons jammed into this village Sunday for the dedication of a Mark Twain shrine.

The shrine is the two-room cabin where Samuel Langhorne Clemens was born 125 years ago.

Writing as Mark Twain, Clemens attained world fame as humorist.

"Mark Twain spoke a universal language," Gov. James T. Blair told the crowd.

Chancellor Branscomb, 65, a dedicated educator, is determined not to let the "Lawson case" wreck his university or divinity school.

The Board of Trustees offered the deanship Friday to Dr. Walter J. Harrelson, dean of the University of Chicago divinity school.

He came to Vanderbilt in 1957 from Geneva, Switzerland, where he served four years as secretary of the Commission on Faith and Order of the World Council of Churches.

Will Vanderbilt continue its integration policies, in the light of the "Lawson case?" Definitely so, Chancellor Branscomb says.

Chancellor Branscomb says "A university in the South cannot be true to itself if it avoids the major problems of the region and probably of our time," Branscomb said.

Gigantic Balloon Moves Slowly Across Southland

BRUNSWICK, Ga. (AP)—A huge balloon, described as the world's largest, soared slowly westward across the lower United States today in an experiment designed to provide more information about cosmic rays.

The 500-foot diameter balloon was moving along in the stratosphere at an altitude of 114,000 feet. It was expected to pick up speed and come down somewhere in Texas Wednesday.

The balloon carried a stack of nuclear emulsion film sheets weighing 800 pounds.

Plans called for the $50,000 package of film to be parachuted to earth shortly before the skyscraper balloon completes its flight.

The exposed film will be distributed to scientists of 13 nations for analysis over a two-year period.

The tremendous balloon was constructed from seven acres of polyethylene film only one thousandth of an inch thick.

The flight began early Sunday at the Glynnco Naval Air Station near Brunswick.

The launching was termed the most perfect yet achieved by the Office of Naval Research, co-sponsor of Project Glynnco with the National Science Foundation.

The balloon and equipment weighed more than 2 1/2 tons. Scientists said it was the heaviest load ever carried above 100,000 feet by a balloon.

Will Get Degree In A Wheel Chair WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP)—Iron lung patient Martha Mason, 23, plans to dress in cap and gown today and sit in a wheel chair to receive her bachelor's degree at the Wake Forest College commencement.

Miss Mason, a polio victim who can leave the iron lung briefly each day, is a straight A student. She plans a writing career.

Planes Idled By Pilots' Strike

ATLANTA (AP)—A strike by members of the Air Line Pilots Assn. today grounded most Southern Airways plane flights in nine Southeastern states.

The strike climaxed a 10-month dispute over a new contract. The strike began Sunday night.

Southern employs about 140 pilots and co-pilots.

Capt. Harry Susemihl, chairman of the Air Line Pilots Assn. at Southern, said the main issues were higher wages and working conditions.

The pilots association cited what it termed a pay disparity between Southern and other carriers and said that in some instances there was a difference of more than $20 per month for pilots and $60 per month for co-pilots.

Southern pilots at present average about $1,075 a month and co-pilots $425.

Negotiations for a new contract began last July and have been deadlocked since March.

Southern serves cities in Georgia, Alabama, Florida, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A young wife, shot three times Sunday night by her estranged husband, was dead on arrival at the hospital where she gave birth to twin sons three months ago.

James B. Tribble, 23, died of a self-inflicted bullet wound minutes after he shot his 22-year-old wife, police said.

Justice of the Peace Whit Boyd ruled the deaths murder and suicide.

The shootings occurred at the home of Mrs. Tribble's mother, Lorena Simons, 56, who said the deaths ended a stormy marriage of three years.

Mrs. Simons said the couple argued continuously and Mrs. Tribble had told her husband she was leaving him.

Five Survivors Ending Reunion

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Five of the eight surviving members of the Lafayette Escadrille of World War I break up their first formal reunion today. They plan another next year, perhaps in Paris.

The four-day gathering included toast drinking, testing their memory of 1917 French slang, and tale-swapping about the Kaiser's planes they shot down for France.

Mal. Frederick H. Prince Jr. of Old Westbury, N.Y., gave his comrades bottles of champagne.

Also at the reunion were Rear Adm. Edwin Parsons, Osprey, Fla.; Col. Charles H. Dolan Jr., Vero Beach, Fla.; Col. Harold B. Willis, Boston; and Capt. Henry S. Jones, Largo, Fla.

New Chairman Of Duke Trustees

DURHAM (AP)—B. S. Womble of Winston-Salem, an attorney who has been a member of the Duke University Board of Trustees since 1915, has been named its chairman.

He was elected Saturday to replace Norman A. Cocke of Charlotte, who resigned at the board's annual commencement weekend meeting.

I am impelled to take this action due to my age and the state of my health," said Cocke, board chairman of Duke Power Co. He is 75. Womble, 77, is 18 months older.

Cocke will continue to serve as trustee emeritus.

Tremor Jolts California Area

EUREKA, Calif. (AP)—A strong earthquake jolted this northern California coastal area late Sunday.

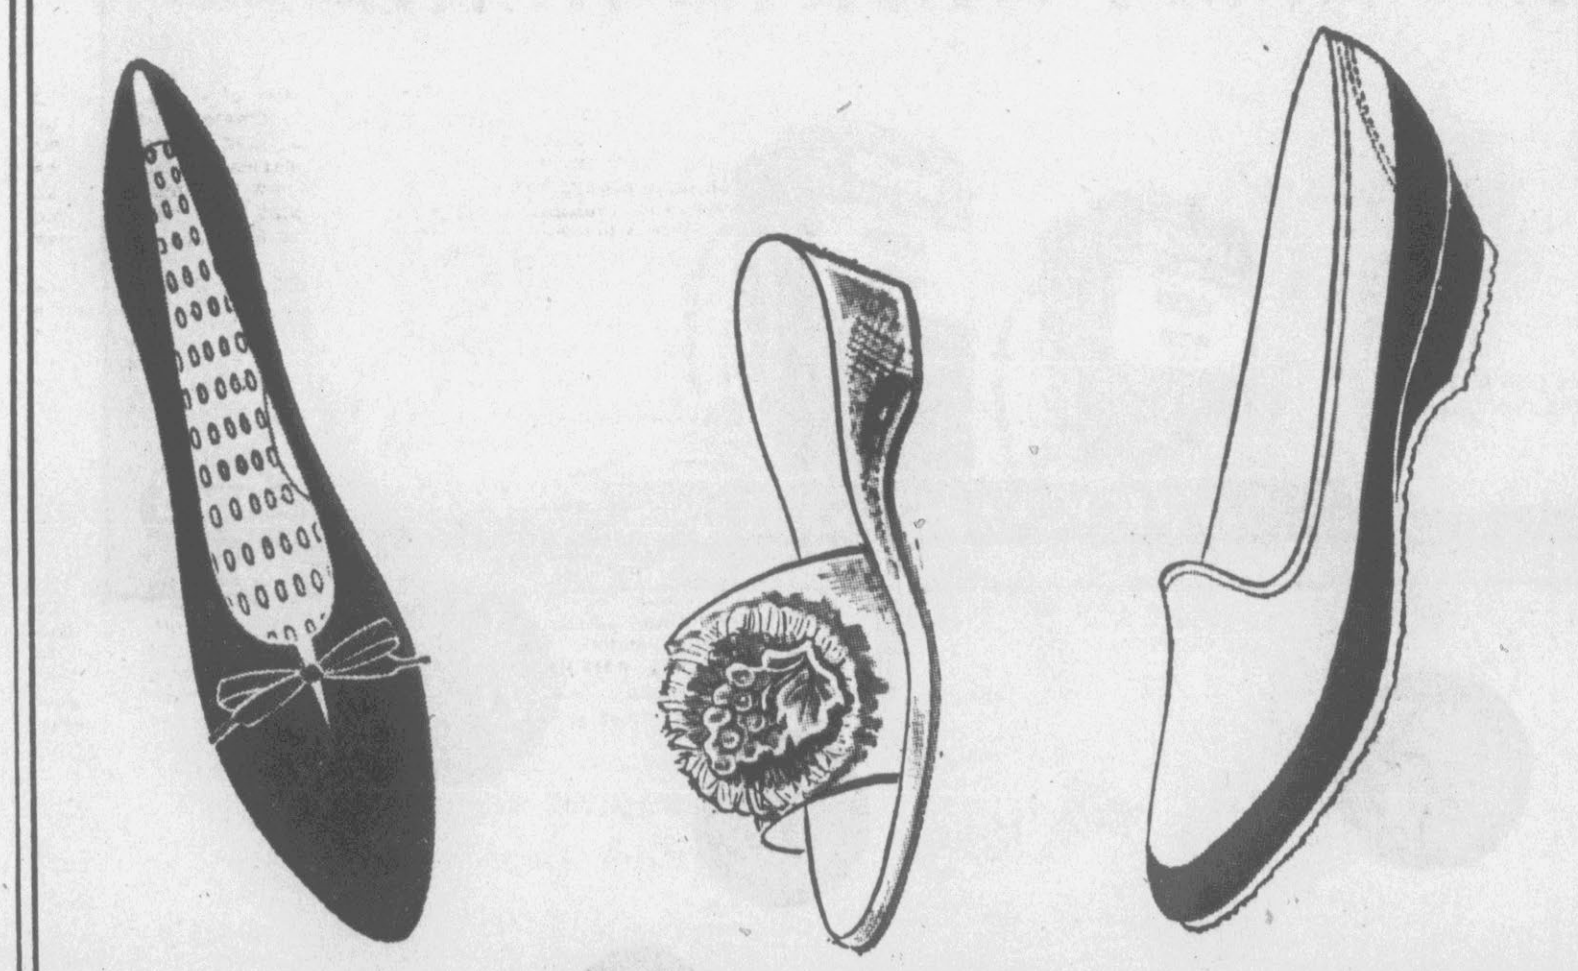

The tremor began at 6:18 p.m. with a sharp shake and continued with a gentle rolling motion. The seismograph at the University of California at Berkeley recorded its shocks for 40 minutes.

The quake was felt from Weott, 50 miles south of here, to Crescent City, 65 miles to the north and eastward to Blue Lake, 15 miles from Eureka.

Boxer Rudell Stutch Dies Attempting Second Rescue

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Two years ago, Negro welterweight boxer Rudell Stutch won a Carnegie medal for heroism when he saved a white man from drowning near an Ohio River dam. Sunday, Stutch, 28-year-old father of six, drowned attempting another rescue less than 100 yards from the spot of his first heroic feat. "He was a fine man. He seemed like an awfully nice man," said Joseph Schifano of Elizabeth, Ind., the Army Corps of Engineers worker who was saved by Stutch in 1958. "I'm shocked over the news I'm sick over it." Stutch, just back from a boxing tour of Australia and Hawaii, went to the aid of a fishing companion, Charles L. Oliver, when the dam. Both died in the swirling waters. The Louisville Negro, his white manager, Edgar (Bud) Bruner, Oliver, and Bruner's teen-age son had been fishing below the dam. They were crossing the ledge back to the bank when Oliver, also a Negro, slipped. Bruner said Stutch grabbed Oliver and both went into the river. Stutch, wearing heavy hip-length waders and rain gear, surfaced once. "Rudell went down and stayed down a long time. It looked like he was trying to get the waders off," Bruner said. John C. Burns Jr. saw Oliver and Stutch fall as he stood on the shore. "They drifted down behind the pier. I had in my mind that they might grab hold, so I swam out. When I got there, all you could see was bubbles," he said. Stutch built a legend of sportsmanship and service during his steady climb into boxing's upper ranks. Once he lost an important bout in New York to Gaspar Ortega when he gave Ortega time to recover from a cut suffered from an accidental butting. He fought 34 times professionally, winning 27, losing 7 and scoring 13 knockouts. He was the third-ranked welterweight in the last National Boxing Assn. ratings. Stutch was an elder of the Hope Presbyterian church and was active in various youth programs. The Rev. C. E. Allen, his pastor, said: "I baptized him. I confirmed him. I knew him as a good little boy and a great man."

Lion's Share Is Going To 'Sugar'

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer Paul Pender, the New York and Massachusetts world middleweight boxing champion, will defend his limited title Friday against Sugar Ray Robinson who has won the crown five times. Robinson, suspended by the Maryland commission for failing to appear for a May 16 bout and later set down in New York, has escaped official wrath in Massachusetts where the commission found "no compelling reason" for going along with the suspensions. Pender won the two-state title Jan. 22 by upsetting Robinson on a split decision at the Boston Garden, which also will be the scene of the 15-round rematch. The two judges voted for Pender by a wide margin but referee Joe Zupatas had Robinson on top. Gene Fullmer is the champion recognized by the NBA which stripped Robinson of the title May 4, 1959 for failing to defend within the specified time limit. The Pender-Robinson rematch will be carried on NBC radio and television at 9 p.m. EST with Boston and Providence blacked out on TV for the Sam Silverman promotion. Robinson reportedly is getting 70 per cent of the $150,000 television money, and 30 per cent of the actual gate. Pender gets the rest of the TV and 30 per cent of the gate. The agreement for the rematch under the original contract. Robinson is a 9 to 5 favorite in New York boxing circles to win back the title.

Three Of Golf's Great In Playoff

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A dramatic playoff in the $30,000 Memphis Open today had three of golf's greats swinging for top money — Ben Hogan, Tommy Bolt and Gene Littler. They made the regulation 72 holes over the 6,500-yard, par 34-36 Colonial Country Club course in 7-under-par 273 to top a 144-man field. Hogan's game still shaky after a scrambling 73 that cost him the lead, birdied two under pressure to come back up. The Fort Worth hawk carded his final bird on the 18th for a final 68. Making his run after starting the fourth round three strokes off the pace, Bolt shook off a biting hospital bulletin to make a full 18-hole finish with birds on 17 and 18 for a 67. Littler charged in from deep in the ranks, leaping 18 places on the scoreboard with a 64-64-64-64. The slender San Diego pro had taken a 74 on his 17 and barely made the half-way cutoff. At Crystal River, Fla., was on the 16th green when notified that his wife, Mary Lou, was undergoing surgery at a hospital here. She has been ailing since the birth of a son last November. Physicians said she came through the hour-long operation in good shape. But she scheduled a sudden death playoff was switched to an 18-hole round so Bolt could head for the hospital.

Walter Briggs Seriously Ailing

BENNINGTON, Vt. (AP) — Walter O. (Spike) Briggs, 48, noted sports figure and former president of the Detroit Tigers, lay in critical condition here today following a cerebral hemorrhage. Briggs, the son of a prominent Detroit family came east to attend the graduation Sunday of a son, James, from Williams College, at nearby Williamstown, Mass. The senior Briggs didn't make the ceremony. He was felled on the campus Saturday and rushed to Henry Putnam Memorial Hospital here. Mrs. Briggs said Sunday, "He is in very critical condition. They just can't tell us anything, what the future might hold."

Joyce Can Both Drive For Show, Putt For Dough

By DAVE DILES Associated Press Sports Writer MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — "Drive for show and putt for dough" is an expression familiar to all golfers. When you can do both well, you can pick up a big share of the marbles. Joyce Ziske can, and did, and won top money in the $7,500 Wolverine Women's Open Golf Tournament that closed Sunday at Hillcrest Country Club. The Wisconsin pro, a long-hitter whose putter sometimes gives her anxious moments, won by three strokes over Betsy Rawls, Wiffi Smith and Mary Lena Faulk in the 72-hole event. Miss Ziske's winning total was 299, one under par at Hillcrest's 6,500-yard layout. She closed with a par-equaling 37-38 — 75 after pre-tournament rounds of 73, 78 and 73. She earned $1,313. The 26-year-old former Curtis Cup player, who learned her golf on a driving range near her Wisconsin farm home, began the final round tied with Miss Rawls, but the veteran from Spartanburg, S. C., shot herself out of the running with a front nine 40. Miss Ziske got a brief challenge from Miss Smith, the home-town favorite with whom she was paired for the final day. Wiffi, trailed by just two strokes after nine holes.

Golfers Bucking Odds To Enter U.S. Open Field

NEW YORK (AP) — Golfers across the country began bucking the odds today in their hopes of crashing into the select 150 who will tee off in the U.S. Open Championship next week. Only about one in four finally will make the big tournament which is scheduled for June 16-18 at the Cherry Hills Club near Denver. The 36-hole sectional qualifying rounds got under way at four sites — Cincinnati, Denver, Mamaroneck, N. Y., and Seattle. A total of 479 players survived the local qualifying rounds two weeks ago. Of these only 129 can earn places in the tournament, joining 21 players — including defending champion Billy Casper — who are exempt from all qualifying.

Teen-er League Opens Tonight

One Of Veeck's Less Notable Deals Is Keeping White Sox In The Race

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer Chicago White Sox boss Bill Veeck created a lot of excitement in the Windy City by landing such big fish as Minnie Minoso, Gene Freese and Roy Sievers in major trades since the close of last season. There was hardly a ripple, however, when he hauled in a couple of nondescript pitchers, southpaw Frank Baumann and right-hander Russ Kemmerer, in minor transactions with rival American League clubs. Yet it's just because of these one-time hapless hurlers that the defending champions are back in the thick of the AL pennant race today, only three games behind the first-place Baltimore Orioles. Kemmerer, who rarely won for Washington and Baumann, off-beaten with Boston, turned in the White Sox doubleheader sweep over Kansas City Sunday. The 28-year-old Kemmerer, purchased May 18, doled out three hits to win his second since joining the Sox. Baumann, obtained in a winter trade for first baseman Ron Jackson, limited the A's to seven hits in the nightcap for his second straight shutout. The double triumph enabled the third-place Sox to climb to within one game of runner-up Cleveland, which split with Detroit. The Indians won 9-0 after the Tigers had taken the opener 7-2. Baltimore widened its lead to two games over the Indians with a 6-5 decision in Washington. New York slapped down Boston twice 5-4 and 8-3. In the National League, Philadelphia's lowly Phils stunned Pittsburgh by sweeping a pair from the league-leading Pirates 2-0 and 4-1. St. Louis walloped San Francisco 9-4 and the Chicago Cubs outslugged Los Angeles 12-8. Cincinnati and Milwaukee split, the Reds winning the opener 3-2 and the Braves taking the second game 4-1. Chicago newcomers Freese and Minoso also were key operators in the White Sox first game victory. Freese doubled in the fourth and scored on Luis Aparicio's single to end a scoreless pitching duel between Kemmerer and Dick Hall. Minoso's seventh homer added an insurance run in the sixth. Another comparative White Sox newcomer, Ted Kluszewski, scored the first run in the nightcap after hitting a double in the second inning. Sherm Lollar's single scored him, Ned Garver, who had to have after two innings because of a knee injury, was tagged with his fifth loss. The Sox have won six of their last 12. Baumann and Kemmerer have been responsible for four of the triumphs. Two walks, a Texas League single and a throwing error presented Baltimore with two ninth-inning runs which enabled the Orioles to overcome a 5-4 Washington lead. With one out, Tex Clevenger walked Willie Tasby and Al P. Larcik. Marv Breeding blooped a single to short center. Outfielder Lenny Green, who had drive in two Washington runs in the eighth with a pinch single, then overthrew third in an attempt to catch Tasby and two runners scored as the ball bounced into the seats.

Rocky Colavito, whose two home runs for Detroit beat Cleveland Saturday, hammered another home run against his former mates Sunday. He also had a double and single, and drove in three runs as the Tigers won the opener behind Jim Bunning. Cleveland came back to blank the Bengals behind Bobby Locke's 6-hitter in the nightcap. It was the right-hander's first start since he was recalled from Indianapolis Thursday. Ted Williams, back in action after a virus attack that came on the heels of a leg injury, hammered his third home run of the season and 495th of his career but couldn't stop the Yankees from beating his Red Sox in the opener. Mickey Mantle's eighth homer and Roger Maris' 14th, with two on, were the big Yankee blows. Bobby Shantz cemented the Yankee victory with a brilliant relief job, getting V. Wertz to hit into a game-ending double play with the bases full. Art Dibble hurled a 6-hitter for New York in the nightcap as Hector Lopez slammed 3 of his 6 hits for the day.

Aim For Finals Tonight In District 3 NCAA Playoff

GASTONIA, N.C. (AP) — Weather agreeable, the three remaining teams in the District 3 NCAA baseball playoffs — The Citadel, North Carolina and Florida — will play two, perhaps three games today and tonight in an effort to end the tournament or set the stage for the finals Tuesday. Rain has interrupted the tournament three times since it opened Thursday night. Florida Southern, the fourth team, was eliminated Saturday by Florida, 5-0, in a game shortened by rain to six innings. Here's how things stood today: The Citadel and North Carolina, both first round winners, were to play today at 1 p.m. Dick Almes (8-1) of the Cadets was expected to go against Wayne Young (8-2) or Nicky Warren (3-0). Florida, which has lost one game, will play the loser of the 1 p.m. game at 6:30 p.m. tonight. That gives rise to a number of possibilities. If the Gators lose, they're eliminated, and North Carolina and The Citadel will be in the finals Tuesday afternoon. If Florida wins, the other team will be eliminated. Florida will then play at 9 p.m. tonight against the winner of the 1 p.m. game. Another Florida victory would leave each team with one loss and send the tournament into a final game Tuesday. A Florida loss would give the other team the championship, and the right to represent the district in the College World Series beginning Friday at Omaha, Neb. Coach Dave Fuller said husky right-hander Jim Young (1-0) will pitch for Florida in the 6:30 p.m. game tonight. Don McCreary, who now has a 6-0 record, allowed three hits for Florida over the six-inning run Saturday. He also hit a bases-empty home run. Ron Overcash also hit a solo homer, and Paul Booher had a two-run double.

Runnels Once So Frantic For Hits, Visited Doctor

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Runnels of the Boston Red Sox, the leading hitter in the American League, once got so desperate he even went to see an eye doctor. "It was back in '57," said Runnels Sunday after fattening his average to .378 with five hits in eight trips in a doubleheader against the New York Yankees. "I was worrying about everything, my hands, my feet, anything I could worry about. "And do you know what the doctor told me? He said just to watch the baseball and I'd be all right. There was nothing wrong with my eyes. I just wasn't watching the pitch. The ball seemed to be on top of me before I saw it. "I took his advice and the last three weeks of the seas, I was all right. "He wound up that season with an anemic .230 mark. Hwas with Washington in those days. The Yanks won Sunday's doubleheader, 5-4 and 8-3, but the New York pitchers didn't get away with a thing on Runnels. He had three-for-four Saturday and the Yank flingers thought perhaps he got his big day out of his system. But he came back in the first game of the twin bill and collected three-for-five and then two-for-three in the nightcap. Runnels isn't a home run hitter (eight last year), because he hits to the opposite field, i.e., as a left-handed hitter, he hits frequently to left field. "A pull hitter should hit 20 home runs a season," he observed. "It was Wally Moses who stered me straight when he was with the old Philadelphia A's."

Play gets underway tonight at 7:30 in Guy Smith Stadium for Greenville's fourth season of Teen-er League baseball with Wachovia Bank tackling College View Cleaners. Officials and coaches were optimistic today with the prospects of a "successful season with four well-balanced clubs." The four-team league includes Wachovia, College View, State Bank, and Home Builders and Supply Co. Teen-er League baseball fills the gap between Little League and American Legion baseball here. Boys aged 13-15 participate. Beginning tonight the four teams will play two games each week under the lights of Smith Stadium. Game nights for the league are Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday—all games beginning at 7:30. Tomorrow night the remaining two teams swing into action, Home Builders and State Bank tangle at 7:30. Coaches for the league teams are: Bill Talton (Wachovia), Walter Spell (State Bank), Tom Money (Home Builders), and John Holt (College View). Similar to Greenville's Little League programs, the Teen-er program invites parents and interested persons to attend the night games with no admission charge.

Moose Coast To 16-4 Victory

The Moose jumped into an early eight-run lead behind the perfect 4-4 hitting of Billy Brown and then coasted to a 16-4 Little League win over Security Life Friday. Mack Jorgenson was the winning pitcher while Bobby Puryear absorbed the Security Life loss. Behind Brown, Danny Keel had three safeties for the Moose and Ricky Webb and Randy Hodges had two each. Harry Stokes led the losers at the plate with a home run and a single. Barr Coleman had two Security Life hits. Security Life scored 00103—4 Moose 24271x—16

Arrest Pair On Liquor Charges

Pitt County ABC officers and Carolina Township Constable William Crandal arrested two Negro women on charges of possession of non-tax-paid whiskey for the purpose of sale during the weekend after allegedly finding non-taxed booze in their possession.

According to the officers, Allice Hopkins, 27, of Route 2, Robersonville, was arrested and placed under a $200 bond when the lawmen found a half gallon of illegal whiskey in her home near Hickory Grove Church.

She is scheduled for trial in county court tomorrow.

According to officers Allice Hopkins husband, Robert, was arrested in February on liquor charges when distilling equipment and seven gallons of booze were allegedly found at the house in his possession. He was not present when officers arrested his wife, officers noted.

Allie G. Little, 33 of Route 2, Robersonville was arrested when officers found one pint of illegal spirits at her home near Flat Swamp Church.

She was recognized to appear in county court tomorrow. ABC officers taking part in the arrests included J.M. Ward, H.B. Lilley and Walter Taylor.

School-Quitter Now Is A Scholar

ROYAL OAK, Mich. (AP)—Five years ago Alice McLeod would have been a poor bet for a college scholarship. She quit high school as a sophomore and got married. Today she is 21, the mother of three, a high school graduate and possesses an all-expense scholarship to Michigan State University Oakland.

Alice said she decided soon after quitting school to finish her education. She said she was "bored with just staying home."

"I knew the stereotype that people had of teen-agers who got married," she added. "I was determined that the stereotype was not going to apply to me."

She wanted to become a teacher. So she attended night classes for three years, fitting them in with caring for a growing family. It now numbers Mary Ellen, 3, David, 1, and Raymond, 2 months.

Her husband, George, a water meter reader for the city of Royal Oak, in suburban Detroit, helped with the dinners and got the youngsters ready for bed, tucked them in and washed dishes on school nights.

He said he was "real proud" of his poor wife. "She does a lot of extra work for her classes, and an awful lot of outside reading, too. She's always studying," he said.

Since she went back to school in September 1957, Alice has made straight A's except for a B in typing.

Adult education officials encouraged Alice to take the test for the MSOU scholarships. She and nine others of 70 contestants won the all-expense awards at and nine others of 70 contestants being a modern, hard-study university, a branch of Michigan State University.

Going to college, Alice acknowledges, will present more problems. She is working part time in a department store to save money. She expects continuing help from George. Her mother, Shirley Gardiner of nearby Berkeley, will help care for the children.

As a matter of fact, George is talking about going to college himself.

Promising Start Seen By Summer Mystery Series

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It undoubtedly takes more than two swallows to make a summer, but NBC's new Sunday evening mystery series promises to be the hot weather season's most exhilarating fare.

The series' second show, Sunday night's "Thunder of Silence," was a taut, well-acted police action tale. The locale and the situation were off the beaten TV path: a fire in a state school for the deaf and a superintendent who, investigators believed, was off his post.

The scenes with the deaf children were real and heart-tearing and the investigators were less super sleuths than men trying to do a tough job. It was a good show.

On Saturday night, NBC's World Wide 60 went over the now familiar but still shocking facts of narcotic addiction. There have been several of these on TV and radio, and the most recent followed the familiar format of interviewing addicts, parents and authorities. I suppose this is a public service because one cannot be alerted and warned too often about such a situation. The networks should take a similar hack at the highway accident problem—speed has even more addicts than heroin.

If you don't think summer is already here, take a look at tonight's prime time network schedules. Out of 16 shows between 7:30 and 11, 10 are reruns. And they will increase in numbers as the days move on.

CBS has a present for the ladies: three new daytime shows for the summer. One is a dramatic series, another a new soap opera and the third a game show.

The oil company which sponsors radio broadcasts of the Metropolitan Opera has assembled its own network of radio stations so that it can bring the music live to listeners next season.

ABC has announced a new series for fall—"Expedition," which will feature accounts of expeditions to remote corners of the globe.

Summer Session Of FCX Slated

WINTERVILLE — Final plans have been completed for a summer meeting of patrons and members of the Pitt Farmers Cooperative Exchange Services at the Winterville High School tomorrow night at 8.

R. J. Boswell, manager of the Pitt FCX, explained that during the business session FCX members and patrons will hear a progress report on the operation of the local FCX Service as well as a report on the Farmers Cooperative Exchange as a whole.

They will also elect a local board of directors to advise the manager in the operation of the cooperative. The board will be composed of five farmers from the Pitt area, each of whom will serve a three-year term.

Door prizes, including an 18-cubic-foot farm freezer, will be given away during the meeting, Boswell said.

The Pitt FCX is one of 67 retail units operated in North and South Carolina by the Farmers Cooperative Exchange, a farmer-owned, farmer-controlled organization.

JERRY B. WALKER (above), is serving as evangelist for revival services now being conducted at the Pentecostal Holiness Church in Farmville. Services are being held at 7:45 each evening, and will conclude Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Walker is from Austin Texas, and he is the assistant superintendent of the Texas Conference. He is widely-known in the evangelistic field.

Lawrence Welk Began His Band 35 Years Ago

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—I was just 35 years ago that Lawrence Welk started his own band—because he couldn't read music!

"I left the farm in '24," reminisced the onetime Strasburg, N.D., boy. "I played in bands all over the Dakotas, Nebraska, Minnesota and other states, but I couldn't keep a job."

"I'd go out on the dance floor and play my accordion and joke with the dancers. But the musicians complained because I played the wrong chords. So I always got fired."

Fortunately for the lovers of sweet music, Lawrence was made of stern stuff. He persevered and in 1925 got an offer to form his own band and join a medicine show. That was the start of the Welk dynasty that now extends to television, records, ballroom and all over.

But it wasn't easy, he admitted. Welk bubbled his champagne music for almost a quarter-century before making a dent on the national consciousness.

He never really hit big until he came to California and started playing at the Aragon ballroom on a four-week stand. Nine years later, he is still playing the Pacific Ocean Park dance palace on weekends. He started a local TV show from there, then moved to the ABC network.

His style? It hasn't changed much since his Dakota days. "We still play music with the champagne style, which means light and rhythmic," he explained. "We place the stress on melody; the chords are played pretty much the way the composer wrote them. We play with a steady beat so that dancers can follow it."

Welk conceded that his music is often labeled corn, but added: "It doesn't worry me."

Oh, yes—he can read music now. "I'm slow, but I get along pretty good," he said. "I picked it up from other musicians over the years."

Alaskan Growth Leads All Fifty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alaska, the second newest state, is out-running all others so far heard from in the 1960 census in percentage-wise population increase.

West Virginia, of the 20 states for which preliminary figures have been reported, is the only one to lose population.

With the possible exception of Arkansas, Census Bureau experts believe all states still to be reported will have greater populations than in 1950.

Alaska, whose admission to statehood made Texans quit bragging how their state dwarfed all others in size, still has only 223,888 people. But that's a whopping increase of 74 per cent over 10 years ago when Alaska had a population of 129,643.

West Virginia dropped from 2,005,522 to 1,849,142, a decrease of 7.8 per cent.

Next to Alaska, Delaware, of the states so far reporting preliminary figures, had the highest gain—39.3. Colorado, with an increase of 30.9 per cent, came next.

The preliminary figures are subject to revision in case any errors are found.

Jerry Giesler Suffers Attack

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Movie-land attorney Jerry Giesler was resting at home today after suffering a mild heart attack while vacationing in Las Vegas, Nev.

Giesler, 75, stricken Friday, was released from a hospital in the desert gambling center Sunday. He had a previous mild heart attack last September.

Swapped A Cigar For Sheepskin

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A proud new papa interrupted formal proceedings in the University of Tennessee's commencement ceremonies.

When President Andrew D. Holt presented a diploma to Roger Luebke of Knoxville Sunday, the graduating student in return offered Holt a cigar with "It's A Girl" inscribed on the wrapper.

Holt stopped the procession to explain the swap to the audience of 5,000.

May Build, If View Not Spoiled

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Transportation Co. has agreed to build a power station in suburban Millbourne so as not to block residents view of a waterfall.

Lillian H. Mustard, Millbourne borough president, and her neighbors argued that the building would block their view of the Cobbs Creek waterfall across the PTC tracks.

The borough Friday granted a building permit on condition the power station would be built four feet deeper in the ground. This would allow residents to see the waterfall over the roof.

Grand Coulee Dam extends 4,173 feet across the Columbia River in the state of Washington.

VAN WYCK MASON'S newest thriller Secret Mission to Bangkok

CHAPTER 15 Colonel Hugh North went into silent action. From the assortment of odd items in his attaché case he selected a small, compact article similar to a stethoscope but with a narrow, flat, blade-like piece in place of the stethoscope's round ear. The blade he inserted under the connecting door to Room 439 and fitted the earpieces in place.

ter Hugh had made a connection to his own telephone he was in business; now when Bracht got that telephone call from the people who were holding his wife, Tao Muong, Army G-2 would be listening in, in the person of Colonel Hugh North. He did not have too long to wait. It seemed that three seconds after he lay down on top of his bed, fully clothed and with the listening device attached to his ears, North was rocketed out of his sleep by the shrill of Bracht's phone.

Bracht said wildly. "On the plane some man—somebody I thought he recognized me. I—I told him he was wrong. What could I do just sit there and refuse to speak?" "But there was another person involved, a man named Boyden. Who is he?" Hugh North held his breath while Bracht hesitated. Just how far would he go in protecting North's identity, this unco-operative genius who thought he had reason to distrust all government operatives assigned to protect him? He exhaled a sigh of relief as Bracht replied. "He says his name is Boyden, Charles Boyden. He interfered when this other man might have ruined everything by telling my real name. That's all I know."

guess what will happen to your wife if you're trying to play tricks on us, Hans Bracht. "I'm not!" The scientist's protest was a wail. "I tell you I'm ready to do anything you say. I have the money with me. Tell me how to pay the ransom and get Tao Muong back." "We are giving the orders here. There will be a delay of at least three days, maybe more, before the transaction can be completed. Stay inside the hotel, close to your room, for the next several days, Doctor."

Mrs. Vanderbilt Advises A Wait BITBURG, Germany (AP) — Mrs. Patricia Wallace Vanderbilt has advised her pretty 19-year-old daughter to wait awhile before marrying the handsome American soldier she ran away with. But the divorced fifth wife of American millionaire Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr. refused to say whether she would approve an eventual marriage of her daughter, Nanette Wallace, to Sp. 5.C. Wiley Lockamy, 23, of Clinton, N.C. "They told me they would like to get married, but I advised them to wait awhile," Mrs. Vanderbilt said in a telephone interview. "I have made absolutely no decision." Nanette touched off a police search when she disappeared May 28 from Cannes, the French Riviera resort where she was vacationing with her mother. Lockamy brought her here to the home of his sergeant, Warren Sullivan, and his wife and the young couple announced they planned to wed. Nanette met the husky handsome anti-aircraft missile repairman on the Riviera. He is with a small ornance detachment stationed at Bitburg Air Base. Mrs. Vanderbilt followed them to Bitburg and is also staying with the Sullivans. Back Seems Turned On A Once-Trouted Boom

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Easing trends in the money market in recent weeks are building up expectations today that interest rates may turn down in important sectors of the economy and that the amount of cash stock buyers must put up will be lowered.

Those who believe this is in the cards argue that the money managers may want to give a small nudge to an economy that has turned its back on a once-touted boom. Or at least they may want to end what restraint they have been maintaining to dampen any incipient fires of new inflation.

Those who think the interest rate and stock market margin changes may be delayed argue that the international situation's impact on future U.S. defense spending is still unsettled. This could make the money managers go slow.

The money managers themselves hold to their old position that they follow money market developments rather than initiate them. Easier money conditions thus would be the cause of any relaxation rather than any desire to make money still easier—or to encourage more stock trading.

And those who are counting on a drop soon in the margin requirements are warned today that in the last 23 years such a move by the Federal Reserve Board has been followed by a drop in stock prices rather than any sustained rise—although the rise has always come along later.

The present rules on margins call for 90 per cent cash in the new purchases of stock. There are complicated rules by which old brokerage accounts can be changed under previous cash setups.

Many brokers now believe that the board will cut this cash requirement to 70 per cent. And some say the cash-credit rule might be on a 50-50 basis.

This would allow persons wishing to buy stock to put up a smaller percentage of cash than at present and borrow the rest from the broker, who usually is financed by the banks. Thus stock traders, if they wished, could buy more stocks with the same amount of money. This would enliven the market and presumably boost prices.

But one brokerage firm, Arthur Wiesenberger & Co., points out that in five times that the board cut stock margins in the last 23 years the firming of prices was delayed.

The chartists, therefore, argue that margin cuts reflect stock market conditions rather than set them. But there are many in Wall Street who would welcome a cut right now.

Stevenson Not Stopping Anyone

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson says he doesn't know if Nikita Khrushchev broke up the summit meeting for domestic reasons but he believes Khrushchev would have wrecked it anyway on the Berlin question. Stevenson talked with newsmen Sunday after participating with Eleanor Roosevelt in a educational television panel show taped at Brandeis University for telecast next Sunday.

"Khrushchev broke up the summit and Eisenhower gave him the pretext for breaking it up," said the two-time Democratic presidential candidate.

On domestic politics, Stevenson said he has "no intention of joining any stop movement on Kennedy (Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts) or anyone else."

Found Daughter One Of Victims

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Ambulance driver Walter Davenport rushed to the scene of a car accident Sunday and found one of the victims was his daughter, Elizabeth, 17.

The girl died several hours later in a hospital. Also killed in a two-car accident was the girl's escort, Edward Lee Henry, 20.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels and motors paced a renewed stock market upturn early this afternoon in active trading.

After a hesitant start, with prices only narrowly higher, steel shares forged gains running from 1 to 3 points. Motors joined the upturn with gains stretching from fractions to about 2.

Oils, rails, chemicals and non-ferrous metals tagged along. Their gains were more moderate.

Electronics and aircraft-missiles were irregular.

The steels gathered strength from Wall Street talk to the effect that inventory positions of steel customers were down sharply and that an upturn in new orders was just around the corner.

The rise of steels, motors, and oils was a continuation of the recovery of these "oversold" issues which began late last week as the "romance" stocks lost favor.

Youngstown Sheet advanced more than 3, Lukens and Jones & Laughlin about 2 apiece. Up a point or better were U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, and Republic.

Chrysler, which reported sales at the highest rate since August 1957, hopped about 2 points. Ford rose about 1.

Standard Oil (New Jersey) and Royal Dutch were up about a point each.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.95 at 631.93.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 30 to 217.20 with the industrials up 1.60, the rails up .90 and the utilities unchanged.

Corporate bonds advanced. Governments were unchanged to slightly higher.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)—Hog prices 25 higher. Tops of 16.75 to 18.25 Wilson; 17.50 to 18.00 Kingston, New Bern, Benson, Mount Olive, Newton Grove; 17.00 to 17.50 Nahutta; 16.75 to 17.25 Bethel, Murfreesboro, Edenton, Sunbury, Rocky Mount; 17.50 Clinton, Fayetteville, Elizabethtown; 17.25 Tarboro, Enfield, Scotland Neck, Winterville, Rich Square, Lillington, Albion, Goldsboro; 17.00 Greensboro, Castle Hayne; 16.75 Siler City.

Wilson cash cattle prices steady; steers and heifers, choice 25.50 to 28.00, good 23.00 to 25.25, standards 20.00 to 22.50; cows, beef type 15.50 to 17.00, heavy cutters 13.50 to 15.50; bulls, light-weights 15.00 to 17.00, heavy-weights 18.00 to 21.00.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)—North Carolina poultry markets: fryers and broilers steady, farm price 16 to 16 1/2, mostly 16.

Eggs — prices paid by distributors for clean, sized, minimum 80 per cent A quality: Raleigh and Charlotte steady, large 33; prices paid on graded out basis: Asheville steady, A large 31.

Asks FBI See Voting Records

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty Gen. William P. Rogers today asked four more Southern counties to open up their voting registration records for FBI inspection.

The requests, made under the 1960 Civil Rights Act, went to Clarendon and Hampton counties, S.C.; Sumter County, Ala.; and Fayette County, Ga.

The attorney general, during the past month, made similar requests of eight other counties in South Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia and Alabama, to determine if discriminations are being practiced against eligible Negroes seeking to vote.

Today's announcement said that in both Clarendon and Hampton counties, Negroes account for about half of the voting age population, but Negro registrations are few.

Rogers said available statistics show Clarendon had about 9,279 Negroes of voting age, with only 324 on the voting books. In Hampton County, the figures are 4,607 Negroes, with 250 registered.

Big Suit Brought Against 'Equity'

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph Bellamy, president of Actors Equity Assn., was served today with summons in a 2 1/2-million-dollar suit brought by the League of New York Theaters against the performers union for damages suffered in the shutdown of Broadway theaters.

Bellamy, who arrived from Hollywood Sunday, was dressed as the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt when he received the summons. He was posing for still pictures at the Roosevelt house, one of the locations for the movie "Sunrise at Campobello," which he stars.

Bellamy expressed hope Sunday the blackout of 22 legitimate theaters would end soon, with a victory for actors equity.

"It doesn't make sense to close shows that are drawing $50,000 and $760,000 a week," he said.

There was rising optimism on both sides of the dispute as tempers cooled over the weekend, and some possibility that a solution might be reached by the end of this week.

Behind the upbeat were informal overtures by both sides to

The Senior Choir of Mt. Calvary F.W.B. Church will have a business meeting tonight in the Educational Department of the church at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Rosa Merritt, reporter.

One year ago today, about six o'clock, you left us suddenly, father. It was such a shock, no we have not forgotten yet. We loved you so much, we can never forget. All at once you seemed to have heard singing of the redeemed holy ghost, and then joined in the sweet refrain, hory, hory Lord God of host. Then casting your eyes backward on the race which you had run, you then fell suddenly asleep, only to awake where God outsides the sun. Daughters, Woolard, Brown and Humphrey.

Marine Dies As Car Rams Tree

NEW BERN, N.C. (AP)—A Marine staff sergeant was killed early today when his car ran off a curve of J.S. 70 near here and crashed into a tree.

The victim was identified as S. Sgt. James William Fannin, 32, of the Cherry Point Marine Air Station. His home address and next of kin were not immediately available.

KILLED A MONSTER
JONES BEACH, N.Y. (AP) — The dreaded cry "shark" drove bathers out of the water at this Long Island beach Sunday. Coast Guardsmen with rifles killed the 12-foot, 350-pound marauder as it cruised in the surf.

down the other candidate."

In basing the campaign on Lake's qualifications, Dr. Pace said, "Among these qualifications which make him immensely qualified for leadership, is his calm, cool way of handling questions that have come up to be answered." He pointed out Lake holds three degrees in law—from Wake Forest, Harvard and Columbia.

Dr. Lake also taught law 18 years and has taught a Sunday School class for 24 years, Dr. Pace said.

"That should show to everyone that he is well-fitted to meet the conditions that we have in North Carolina.

Dr. Lake's father taught at Wake Forest for 33 years and the entire family is very much interested in education, Dr. Pace said.

"Both from the standpoint of elementary schools, high schools and colleges, he has stated that the North Carolina public schools are doing a grand job and he would strive to improve them in every way," Dr. Pace continued.

"He further states that the education system is the largest and most important business that the state has and he would do everything in his power to improve it."

"We are very happy with the way the first primary went. We thank all of our friends who participated in any way. We're sure that those and others will continue to help us during the second primary."

Want Sanford Win
Gaylord let it be known that his group would be fighting to put Pitt County in the Sanford column on June 25.

"I think we will carry Pitt County and Pitt County will go for the next governor, Sanford," Gaylord declared this morning. "I think the vote he received statewide attests to the respect with which he is held by the people of North Carolina. It is a tribute to his campaign, the way he conducted it and to his platform."

"We were deeply appreciative of the confidence shown in Sanford," Gaylord said of the May 28 primary, "but we certainly hope in the second primary Sanford will carry Pitt County."

Gaylord said there are no specific plans for conducting the second primary campaign in Pitt as yet.

"Sanford has made his stand known. He has come forth on every issue and the people know where he stands."

Gaylord had no prediction as to what will happen to the Larkins and Seawell votes in Pitt during the run-off. Presuming the vote is the same on June 25, the votes of those two defeated candidates could swing Pitt to Sanford.

"It would be presumptuous to say how the Larkins and Seawell vote will go," Gaylord said. "We can only hope they will go with Sanford."

There is a good size group working for Sanford in this county but Gaylord won't classify them as an organization. "It's just some people who are working for him," he said.

Both Candidates Expected Here
Visits from both candidates can be expected in Pitt.

Dr. Pace announced today that Dr. Lake will speak at a rally here on June 22. The rally, for Pitt and surrounding counties, will be held at East Carolina College in Wright auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Gaylord said he expects Sanford to visit Pitt County on the strength of published reports that he will make whirl wind tours of all the counties. "As to when he will be here, I have not heard," he said.

The Lake forces operated a headquarters here on Five Points during the first campaign. Dr. Pace said the headquarters will be open for the run-off campaign. "We will open our headquarters at the same place the last of this week," he said. "All county residents and visitors to the city are entirely welcome to come to this headquarters at any time."

Thus the battle for Pitt, an important eastern county politically, is shaping up. Forces on both sides have apparently lost none of the first primary enthusiasm.

Heavy Damage Losses In Four Weekend Accidents

Heavy damage, estimated by investigating police at almost $17,000, resulted from four traffic accidents in Greenville Saturday and Sunday.

Heaviest damage resulted when two cars collided head-on on Albarmer Ave. near the intersection of Bonner's Lane about 10:40 p.m. yesterday.

Officers listed the drivers of the two cars as Hattie M. Bradley, 101 Ford St. and Bobby D. Haddock, 217 Ridgeway St.

Following an investigation of the collision, officers charged Mrs. Bradley with operating on the left of the center line and having no operators license. They also charged James Bradley, Mrs. Bradley's husband with allowing an unlicensed driver to operate his car.

Police noted that he was a passenger in the car at the time of the accident.

Damage to both cars was estimated to be about $400.

Damage placed at $550 was done to a car driven by Jasper Lee Council, 35-year-old Negro of 1202 Factory St. yesterday morning at 1:42 a.m. when it collided with vehicle driven by Jesse R. Young, 42 of Route 2, Farmville.

Investigators, who charged Young with operating under the influence of alcohol, placed damage to his car at $150.

Henry Herman Pollard, 56 of 1200 Broad St. was charged with failure to yield the right of way following a wreck at the intersection of Second and Greene Sts. Saturday at 3:15 p.m.

Officers said an estimated $100 damage resulted to his car when it collided with a car driven by Lonnie Barrett Douglas, 50-year-old Negro of 100 Douglas Ave.

Damage to the Anderson car set at $50.

No damage resulted and no charges were made Saturday when two cars, driven by Jake Car Adam, 55 of Route 3, Greenville and Andrew Haddock, 46 of Route 2, Ayden wrecked at the intersection of 10th and Evans Sts. about 10:30 a.m.

Total damage to the two cars amounted to only $45 police said. No injuries were reported in any of the accidents lawmen noted.

Javits Expects Consolidation

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. intelligence activities will be consolidated as an aftermath of the U2 spy plane incident, Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) predicts.

Javits, making the forecast Sunday, suggested that the secretary of state be given control of the information-gathering work of the various government agencies.

Javits said the Senate inquiry showed there was a lack of coordination in the administration's handling of the plane incident rather than anybody's fault.

Newly-Organized Church Holds Confirmation Service

LUTHERAN RITE OF CONFIRMATION . . . the Rev. Anger, Lee Whitehurst, Jean French, Linda Cohron.

Three young people were received into full adult membership of Our Redeemer Lutheran Church by Rite of Confirmation at a service yesterday in Clark's Funeral Home Chapel.

Comprising this first group since the formal organization of Our Redeemer Lutheran Church were Lee Whitehurst, son of Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Whitehurst; Linda Cohron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O.E. Cohron; and Jean French, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William French.

The Rite of Confirmation, of major importance in the Lutheran Church, is the ceremony at which young people, usually of junior high school age, formally declare for themselves their allegiance to Christ and the Church. This vow, taken by parents for their children when they bring their children to the church to be baptized as infants, becomes a vow which young people take for themselves as they grow older and after they have been instructed in the Christian Faith. Confirmation usually follows two years of intensive study in Bible, Church History, and Christian Doctrine in classes taught by the Pastor. Pastor of Our Redeemer Lutheran Church is Terry W. Agner.

Recognition By Castro Experted

NEW YORK (AP)—Fidel Castro's regime is getting ready to establish diplomatic ties with Red China, the New York Times said today.

The move would break the solid Latin American front against recognizing Peiping and would arouse concern in the United States, which has spearheaded the move to keep the Chinese Communists out of the Western Hemisphere.

Diplomats believe relations with Peiping will be established before July 26, anniversary of the 1953 uprising from which Castro's revolutionary movement took its name. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has accepted Castro's invitation to visit Cuba.

Cuba has been cementing ever closer ties with the Soviet bloc and has maintained unofficial relations with Peiping for some time.
