$45,732 Urban Renewal Grant For Greenville Given Approval

Sum Will Be Used For Long-Range Planning On 69-Acre Area Here

The Urban Renewal Administration announced today approval of a $45,732 grant to Greenville to start planning its Shore Drive Urban Renewal project.

The 69-acre area lies north of the Greenville business area and south of the Tar River. According to the Urban Renewal Administration announcement the area contains 273 dwelling units of which 230 have been designated as substandard.

City Manager Leonard Bloxam said the federal grant will be used for "advance planning" on the project.

"This money is to be spent to employ a planning consultant to do the necessary advance planning in conjunction with any urban renewal project that you might be considering whether you do anything with it or not."

He said the city's Redevelopment Commission will decide who, or what engineering firm, will do the planning.

The commission was appointed some months ago with M. E. Cavendish as its chairman.

The federal government will foot the entire bill for the advance planning, according to Bloxam. He said it was estimated when the city filed its application that the planning could be done for the amount of the grant.

Both Bloxam and Mayor S. Eugene West emphasized that the city would not be obligated to continue with the project even after the planning funds are spent.

Bloxam said that when the study is complete the city will have a detail layout of the general area under consideration. Included would be drainage, street layouts and playground, commercial and residential areas "or whatever they recommend" for development of the area.

There will be no public housing involved in the urban renewal area. Individual dwellings and other property would be privately owned upon completion of the project.

Mayor West expressed pleasure that the project had reached this point.

"I'm certainly glad that the program has developed this far," he declared this morning. "I hope that further study will show the program to be beneficial to the city of Greenville and that once this is determined it can be carried to completion."

"I think the people should realize though that this is a long range program and cannot be completed in one or two years but probably will require between five and eight years."

Early Ratifying Of Pact Urged By Sec. Herter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said today the sooner the U.S.-Japanese security pact is ratified, the better it will be.

He told a Senate appropriations subcommittee nothing that has happened in Japan has changed the desirability of Senate ratification of the treaty at an early date.

Ratification of the pact by the Japanese Diet became effective Sunday.

Senate action on the treaty may come today. Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told the Senate he hoped to bring up the treaty for action before quitting tonight.

Herter was before the appropriations subcommittee to testify in support of his department's budget requests.

Publicizing Congress Expense Accounts Faces A Poor Future

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new Senate proposal to publicize the overseas expense accounts of globe-trotting Congress members goes to a not very bright future today in the House.

The House rejected a similar proposal in April. But backers of the new effort contend that recent disclosure of night club bills to the taxpayers by traveling House members might bring a different outcome.

The amendment was hooked onto the $129,719,510 annual legislative appropriation bill by a 56-23 vote. It would require publication of the detailed expense accounts once each year in the Congressional Record.

The over-all bill carries funds to pay the salaries of Congress members and their staffs, and finance many other congressional operations in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Timely Reminder—It's Summer

SUMMER IS HERE—Kathy Ingram, Brenda Bowden and Lina Christopher offer a timely reminder that summer has arrived. The new season officially began at 4:43 a.m. today. The three Greenville girls posed for Reflector photographer Stuart Savage at Hickory Point Sunday.

Tentative Pitt Budget Is $6,200 Above Old Figures

Barring unexpected changes, Pitt County's finances for 1960-61 will be supplied using an ad valorem tax rate identical to the record-breaking $1.23 figure enacted last July by the Pitt County Board of Commissioners.

Though not yet finalized, Pitt's 1960-61 budget has undergone several sessions of painstaking adjustment by the five commissioners and now stands, tentatively, at $1,635,948—some $6,200 above last year's total figure.

The tax valuation figure used by the county tax offices to compute ad valorem taxes has risen by an estimated $4 million to around $83 million. The figure used is one-third of the county property's actual value.

It is expected the Pitt Board will adopt the new budget at its next regular meeting—July 5.

As usual, the operation and improvement of the county's schools is slated to receive a king-sized share of Pitt appropriations. For fiscal 1960-61, the tentative budget lists a total of $627,585 to be divided between current expense ($426,651) and capital outlay ($200,933) expenditures in the county's school system. Last year, the schools were allotted a total of $606,109. Current expense required $420,036 while capital outlay consumed $186,073.

The General Fund figure stands at $361,670 compared with $357,420 expended there during fiscal 1959-60. The slight rise is accounted for by the addition of a county electrical inspector whose service and license fees support the program's budget.

Debt Service expenditures for the new fiscal year have been set for $123,210—some $54,000 below that fund's 1959-60 budget. The health department has been tentatively allotted a total of $114,030—a rise of slightly more than $2,200 above last year's public health budget of $111,868.

ROTC Cadets At Encampment

PT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — Reserve Officer Training Corps cadets from 23 universities and colleges started their six-week summer encampment here today.

The group, numbering about 1,500, is one of the largest ROTC summer encampments in the nation.

Among items in the bill is $400,000 to restore to their original form the old Supreme Court chambers on the Capitol's first and second floors.

Senators will get a $100 a year extra postage allowance from the bill, which raises the allowance for special delivery and air mail stamps to $550 a year.

Stennis, the bill's floor manager, told members the measure carries no additional funds for the new swimming pool the Senate is building for its members. He said the pool would cost about $44,000 and is being financed by funds left over from a 1958 legislative appropriation.

Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) rejected this reasoning, contending that "odium from the House falls on the Senate, too," he backed the Williams proposal. Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) protested that imposing restrictions in the Senate but not in the House would be carrying self-negotiation too far.

The issue is expected to wind up in a Senate-House conference committee, assigned to work out a compromise between the two branches.

Pitt Memorial Hospital's deficit operation allocation in the tentative budget stands at $29,930 compared with $21,146 last fiscal year. The welfare department, the fifth largest budgetary department, dipped slightly from $94,280 last year to a proposed total of $93,998.

Other proposed figures with last year's figures in parenthesis: Industrial Development — $22,817 ($24,850); County Home — $31,193 ($27,827); Outside Poor and Relief — $63,723 ($58,705); Aid to Blind — $12,870 ($12,189); Aid to Dependent — $24,843 ($22,500); Aid to Permanently and Totally Disabled — $22,272 ($17,442); Old Age Assistance — $47,820 ($42,240); Mental Health — $46,213 ($41,773); and Dog Fund — $13,733 ($14,138).

Biggest Robbery In W. Va. History

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — State Motor Vehicles Commissioner J. Marshall Holcomb hoped to have a more accurate accounting today of the biggest robbery in West Virginia history. Police already had estimated the cash loot at $368,000.

But Holcomb emphasized that the police figure on the theft Monday from the department he heads was "only an estimate." Although he expected to come up with a fairly firm figure today, the 30-year-old commissioner said, "I won't have a complete accounting for three or four days."

Holcomb had expressed fear that checks taken along with cash from the Motor Vehicles Department vault would raise the overall loss to as much as a half-million dollars. By Monday night, however, he was inclined to go along with the police view that the amount of checks taken was relatively small.

The FBI was in on the investigation along with state and city police. City patrolmen and plain clothes men made the rounds of taverns, looking for anyone with a break-in record to haul in for questioning. Motor Vehicles Department employees were questioned.

The large amount of cash was on hand because West Virginia auto licenses expire June 30 and the department is in the midst of the rush of motorists for new plates.

A janitor discovered the theft. The money was taken from a dozen cash lockers, in which license bureau tellers put their receipts at the end of each day. No attempt was made to crack a safe in the vault room, which Holcomb said contained a half-million dollars.

The bureau is on the first floor of an eight-story State Office Building

Hawaii's Reception Proves Tonic To Weary President

HONOLULU (AP) — Balm of weather and a rousing reception proved a refreshing tonic Monday to President Eisenhower, who arrived here weary after his Far Eastern tour.

More than 100,000 Hawaiians, the men in short-sleeved sports shirts and the women in gay print dresses, welcomed the President as he stepped from his big jet airliner.

Eisenhower grinned as Mrs. William F. Quinn, wife of Hawaii's governor, placed a lei of bright red carnations around his shoulders.

Eisenhower was admittedly exhausted when he arrived from Korea in this new 50th state at midday Monday. Nevertheless, he lost little time in turning to his favorite outdoor recreation.

The President took a brief nap and then played nine holes of golf on a sunny, breeze-cooled course at the edge of the blue Pacific. The temperature was in the mid-80s but there was none of the mugginess he had encountered almost everywhere on his tour to the Philippines, Nationalist China, Okinawa and Korea.

Today, Eisenhower arranged a morning round of golf, starting about 8 a.m. over the same course at the Kaneohe Marine Corps Air Station where he plans to relax for perhaps the rest of the week before flying home to Washington.

Warmly applauding Hawaiians shouted the traditional welcome of the islands, "Aloha," as the President stepped smilingly from his big jet airliner. They kept it up all the way along the populated section of his 22-mile motorcade across this beautiful island to Kaneohe.

Thousands of women on streets lined with palm trees were in gay-colored muumuu. Others were in shorts or bathing suits, and a great many of the men wore gaudy sports shirts.

Eisenhower came back to his own country with fresh memories

Eight People Die In 4-Car Wreck

NEW IBERIA, La. (AP)—Four cars piled up in a mass collision within the city limits here, killing eight persons.

From one of the survivors, police learned that one of three cars going in the same direction Monday night attempted to pass as the fourth approached from the opposite direction.

Killed in one car were Aaron Williams Sr., about 70, and his three sons, Aaron Jr., 17, Roger, 26, and Lloyd, 28, Negroes who farmed at nearby Poutenville.

Dead in the other cars were the Rev. Lloyd D. Taylor, 29, Pentecostal minister from Tupelo, Miss. George Babineaux Jr., 17, New Iberia; Alvin Bodin, 18, New Iberia; and Sebastian A. Laporte, 21, Jeanerette.

Patrick Henry, 32, of Jeanerette, brother-in-law of Taylor, was critically injured.

Archie Alexander, 24, of Patouville, brother-in-law of the Williams boys, received minor injuries.

The accident occurred on a straight stretch of highway.

PILOTS RETURNING

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Eastern Air Lines pilots returned to work in large numbers today, yielding to pressure from the courts and their union to end a crippling, 10-day wildcat strike.

of tumultuous welcomes everywhere he went in the Orient. There was only one marked touch of anti-Americanism in the countries he has visited. That came in Okinawa, under U. S. administrative control since World War II, where about 1,500 student demonstrators yelled, "Yankee go home," and demanded that the President be returned to Japan.

That happened Sunday, the day the President originally had been scheduled to arrive in Tokyo for a three-day visit. The Japan stop was cancelled when the Japanese government decided its police could not protect Eisenhower from left-wing rioters.

Cancellation of the Tokyo visit, the planned main stop on the President's Far Eastern tour, made the goodwill journey a combination of failure and success from the standpoint of personal diplomacy. But whatever Eisenhower's disappointment, it was hidden in the glow of cordial hospitality that marked his arrival in Hawaii. Traditional symbol of the hospitality was the big lei of red carnations placed over the beaming president's shoulders at the airport by Mrs. William F. Quinn, wife of the new state's first governor.

Her husband, a Republican, headed a delegation of state and military officials in welcoming Eisenhower on his first visit to Hawaii since 1952 when he was president-elect and on his way home from an inspection of the Korean battlefield.

Quinn praised Eisenhower, saying the residents of the island, "owe you a debt of gratitude for your long, unflagging support of statehood," won last year. Eisenhower in turn described Hawaii as a place where "men of every race, color and creed live together in mutual satisfaction." He called this mingling of Easterners and Westerners an example for the rest of the world.

The President had a special greeting for the famed 442nd Central Postal Directory Battalion of World War II glory.

The president seemed particularly delighted by a welcome by five small school children who presented him with 140,000 pennies for peace.

On his ride through Honolulu in an open car Eisenhower stood much of the way, acknowledging the cheers of the crowd. He repeatedly doffed his tan straw hat and gave the V-for-victory salute.

Widowed Mother Of Four Is Killed In Auto Smash-Up

BURNED AND WRECKED . . . car in which a 29-year-old Ayden woman was killed early this morning.

By STUART SAVAGE

AYDEN—As an ironical twist the symbol of death—the head of a toy skeleton—lay at the fingertips of the crouched body of Pitt County's sixth highway fatality which occurred here early this morning.

Mrs. Alice McLawhorn Stocks, 29 of Route 1, Ayden, was instantly killed about 12:05 a.m. today after she, along with the driver and two other passengers, were thrown from an overturning car.

Investigating officer, Patrolman H.R. Winslow of Greenville, identified the driver of the car as A.D. Taylor, 29, of 206 Ridgeway St., Greenville.

According to the officer, the car was headed East on N.C. 102 toward Ayden when the vehicle went out of control. After traveling 54 yards down the highway the vehicle went into a roadside ditch. Then, throwing the occupants out as it went, overturned and traveled 76 more yards before striking a utility pole and coming to rest.

Winslow quoted one of the passengers as saying the car burst into flames immediately after it stopped and, the officer added, "burned up."

The accident occurred at the Ayden City Limits.

Officers, who noted the investigation of the wreck was continuing, said Taylor and a passenger, Marvin Carol Cox, 17 of West College St., Ayden, were taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital following the mishap.

Taylor received a dislocated left shoulder and was released after being treated while Cox was admitted for observation. Doctors said he suffered several minor lacerations and a slight concussion.

The third passenger in the car, 14-year-old Linda Benfield of 114 East First St., Ayden, was not injured.

According to Ayden police, Mrs. Stocks was married to the late James D. Stocks and had four children. Both she and her children were living with her parents near Ayden. They added that Mr. Stocks died of a heart attack several years ago.

Pitt County Coroner E.W. Harvey, who said investigation of the fatality is continuing, reported Mrs. Stocks died from head injuries. He also noted that her hip and left arm were broken.

Miss Emma Nell Everett Marries Lt. House

ROBERSONVILLE—The marriage of Miss Emma Nell Everett and Lieutenant John Clinton House was solemnized on Saturday, June 18, at half after four in the afternoon in the First Christian Church with the Rev. Wilbur T. Wallace, pastor of the bride, officiating. A double ring service was used.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo James Everett of Robersonville, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton House, also of Robersonville.

An arrangement of white snapdragons, asters, gypsophelia and fern centered against the chancel background of greenery was flanked by candelabra holding burning white tapers. Baskets of corresponding flowers on either end completed the nuptial setting.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. W. B. Rogerson, organist, presented a program of wedding music. Mrs. Living L. Smith Jr. was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal princess-style gown of pearly white lace with a portrait neckline and long torso with tulle-gathered hip interest flowing into a bouffant chapel train. A mantilla of illusion and Alencon lace draped softly to frame her face.

She carried a cascade bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley centered with a white orchid and showered with stephanotis on white satin streamers.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Helen Everett. She wore a full-length dress of Nile green silk organza with short sleeves, scooped neckline and draped bodice effect extending into a large bow at the waistline in the back.

Her picture hat of horsehair braid was in matching color. She carried an arm bouquet of long-stemmed pale yellow roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Anita Rae Everett and Miss Becky Rogerson of Robersonville, cousins of the bride, and Miss Jane Manning of Williamston.

Their dresses were identical to that of the maid of honor's. They carried baskets of yellow and white daisies with trailing sprays of ivy.

Little Donna Etheridge, cousin of the bride and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Etheridge, was flower girl. Her dress, fashioned after the attendants', was of white silk organza over pale yellow tulle, featuring a wide yellow sash. A garland of flowers was her headdress and she carried a miniature of the bridesmaids' baskets.

The father of the bridegroom attended his son as best man. Ushers were Sherwood L. Roberson Jr., Andy Warren and Everett James Jr., all of Robersonville, and Andy Ennis of Washington, D. C.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Everett chose a sheath dress of silk organza with embroidery at the hem and satin cummerbund in mocha. She wore matching accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

The mother of the bridegroom was attired in a blue lace sheath re-embroidered with sequins. She wore a matching hat and a corsage of pink roses.

The bride received her A. B. degree from Meredith College, Raleigh, in May. The bridegroom was commissioned second lieutenant at the graduating exercises at West Point Military Academy in June.

After a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church, Lt. and Mrs. House left for a wedding trip to the mountains of Western North Carolina.

For traveling, the bride selected a two piece dress in mocha and white chiffon with bone accessories. Her corsage was the orchid from her bouquet.

After July 28, the bridal couple will be at home in Fort Sill, Okla.

Reception
Following the ceremony, the parents of the bride entertained at a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Traditional bridal colors of green and white were used as a decorative scheme. Baskets of white snapdragons, pom poms and gypsophelia with lighted tapers casting a soft overall glow formed the background for the receiving line.

Mr. and Mrs. Remus Everett greeted the guests at the door. Miss Joan Williams invited them to the Social Hall where Mrs. Otis Woolard introduced them to the receiving line which included the bridal couple, their parents and the wedding attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Dixie E. Greene and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Budacz directed the guests to the bride's table which was covered with a lace tablecloth over pale green taffeta with ruffles of organdy over taffeta. The centerpiece was an all-white arrangement of carnations, snapdragons and gypsophelia in an antique silver basket. Lighted mist green tapers in silver candelabra were entwined with garlands of flowers leading from the center arrangement.

Punch was poured from one end of the table by Miss Carolyn Boyette of Clinton and Miss Sylvia McLin of Nashville, college suite mates of the bride. At the other end was a three-tiered all-white wedding cake. After the bridal couple cut the first slice, Miss Helen Butler of Vanceboro, aunt of the bride, and Miss Mary Rogerson of Williamston, aunt of the bridegroom, served the guests.

Misses Joyce Whitfield, Cinda Bunting, Martha Woolard, Kay Simpson, Betty Carol Everett and Martha Joyce Rogerson assisted in serving party sandwiches, ham biscuits, cheese straws, bridal mints and petit fours.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fleming presided at the register. The good-byes were said to Mr. and Mrs. Alton Rodgers.

Wedding Breakfast
The bridal party and the out-of-town guests were entertained at a wedding breakfast Saturday morning in the private dining room of the Town and Country Restaurant. Williamston, with Miss Helen Butler of Vanceboro and Miss Mary Rogerson of Williamston as hostesses.

Miss Emma Nell Everett was dressed in a green pin-striped cotton featuring bell sleeves edged with green and white bands of embroidered braid. She was presented a white gardenia corsage and a gift of china in her selected pattern by the hostesses.

The guests found their appointed places by bridal place-cards at the long table which was centered with an arrangement of pink gardenias, gladioli and feverfew flanked by burning tapers in silver candelabra to mark the placement of the bridal couple. Small corresponding arrangements were used at the opposite end of the table.

A toast to the bridal couple was given by Everett James Jr.

Guests were served tomato juice, creamed chicken in patty shells, English peas with mushrooms, candied yams, hot rolls, iced tea and lemon tart.

Rehearsal Dinner
Following the wedding rehearsal Friday evening, Miss Everett, Lt. House, members of their wedding party, and out-of-town guests were entertained at a dinner by Mrs. Forrest E. Boone, Mrs. William

Mrs. John Clinton House

STRIKES BLOW AT LAKE PAMPHLETS

Sanford Steps Up Runoff Campaign

By JAY JENKINS, Observer Raleigh Bureau
RALEIGH — Terry Sanford picked up some powerful allies during the week as he pushed to full throttle his campaign to win the governorship on June 25.

Within the space of three days he traveled from the Atlantic Ocean on the East to the Tennessee border on the West. But the strenuous pace seemed not to bother him at all.

Sanford continued to lambast his opponent, I. Beverly Lake, for his "naked and immoral appeal to prejudice," adding that Lake's extremism would open the way for complete integration of the schools.

The Negro Vote

Sanford also struck a telling blow at Lake pamphlets which attempted to prove that Sanford received in a bloc the Negro vote in the first primary. These pamphlets quoted results in Negro precincts in Raleigh which gave Sanford substantial majorities.

In a speech in Washington, N. C., Sanford credited his Negro vote in Raleigh to his energetic campaign managers there. And he noted that for the same reason, John D. Larkins, Jr. won the Negro vote in Buncombe County.

Malcolm Seawell took the Negro vote in Durham, Sanford said, "and who do you think got the Negro votes—all of them—in Iredell County?" he answered, "Professor Lake got 'em in Iredell."

The allies Sanford gained were led by Thomas J. Pearsall of Rocky Mount — attorney-farmer-businessman — who once served as speaker of the House in the General Assembly.

Criticizes Lake

As the man who gave his name to the "North Carolina plan" for dealing with segregation, Pearsall flatly denied one of Lake's primary claims during the campaign.

Lake had been saying, early and late, that he as assistant attorney general drafted the Pupil Assignment Act adopted by the 1955 Legislature.

Pearsall, who headed the act, recalled that Lake was given instructions as to the type of act which should be drawn, patterned after such acts in other southern states. But the act drafted by Lake, Pearsall said, "was not in accordance with the committee's instructions and had to be re-drafted before it could be introduced."

The respected Pearsall added, in a statewide television speech, "I can draw no other conclusion but that he (Lake) is willing to gamble the public schools of our State and the education of its one million school children for his own selfish, political gain."

Wins Huggins

Another who joined Sanford's cause was Dr. M. A. Huggins of Raleigh, known as "Mr. Baptist" because of his 27 years of service as general secretary of the Baptist State Convention. Dr. Huggins has known Lake since boyhood. "But I cannot support him for he has sought, wittingly or unwittingly, to intensify those powerful emotions of hate and fear. I believe such actions are immoral and reactionary." Others who declared for Sanford included former House Speaker J. Kemp Doughton of Alleghany, Dr. L. L. Carpenter, longtime editor of the Biblical Recorder, and Superior Court Judge George Patton of Franklin, former State attorney general.

Visits Mountains

Sanford paid a flying visit to the mountains, where he snowed under his foes in the first primary. He received a warm reception, and pledged that his second primary margins will climb.

The big, burly, college-trained chief of the eastern band of Cherokee Indians introduced Sanford in Bryson City. Chief Osley Bird Saunooke called the candidate "one of us down-to-earth people." Sanford's mountain solidarity was demonstrated when the victor and the vanquished in the 12th Congressional District race spoke for him.

Roy Taylor, the Buncombe County attorney who won the Democratic nomination, predicted that big Buncombe would give Sanford 75 to 80 per cent of its vote.

Thad D. Bryson Jr. of Swain County, who was defeated by Taylor, declared of Sanford, "I think he will make a wonderful governor." Richard Queen of Wayneville, who is U.S. Sen. B. Everett Jordan's field secretary in the State, arose to pledge his allegiance to Sanford.

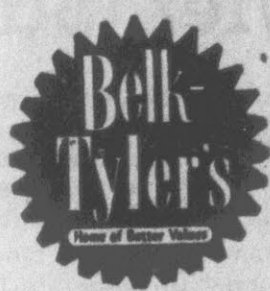

Large Crowds

One of the most surprising features of the mountain jaunt was the number of people who turned out in mid-afternoon to see and hear Sanford. They filled virtually every courthouse in which he spoke.

In the mountains, there was scant evidence of any Lake support. Sanford capped his week of vigorous campaigning with a dawn-to-dusk tour of Wake County.

Soviet Satellite 90 Miles Distant

The grim reality of a Soviet satellite nation being molded just 90 miles from the U.S. mainland is beginning to be recognized by the American people as the Cuban government of Fidel Castro moves more firmly into the Soviet orbit.

It was only a few months ago that the question of communist inroads into the Castro government was hotly debated with no firm conclusions drawn. Even Castro denied in those months that he leaned toward communism.

Today, it is generally accepted that the Castro government is dominated by communists in key places, and that the group now in control of Cuba intends to make the island country the base of stepped-up communist operations in the Western Hemisphere.

The trade agreement already signed between Cuba and the Soviet Union appears only a prelude to perhaps an eventual military pact between them. Already some of the key people in Castro's regime are studying Soviet techniques in Russia, and well-trained Soviets are in Cuba under the old title of "technical advisors." Now there is talk of an exchange of visits between Castro and Soviet Premier Khrushchev which could culminate the growing bonds between the two countries, the smaller of which now almost unmistakably is in the hands of communists.

The prospect of Soviet bases in Cuba is one which the United States will find difficult to resolve. Will the Monroe Doctrine be followed if such an attempt is made, or will the United States back down from its long policy of preventing outside interference in Pan-American affairs?

Serious as the prospect of Soviet military bases in this hemisphere might be, the greater problem of Soviet infiltration and eventual domination of other Latin American governments must be given attention by this country as well as others of the hemisphere.

As a Soviet base of operations in the Western Hemisphere, Cuba occupies a strategic position both from the standpoint of military as well as political operations by the communists. Operations from Cuba, subsidized by Soviet funds, would have easy access into all of the countries of Central and South America, be they of a political or military nature.

So long as the United States continues to subsidize the Cuban economy though its purchase of large quantities of sugar above the world market price, it is likewise sharing in financing the pro-Soviet government that has now taken shape in Cuba. While there may be reluctance in Washington to take economic steps against the Castro government, it would indeed be folly for the United States to continue indefinitely financing communist gains in Latin America.

The situation in Cuba requires careful and continuing evaluation by our top officials. If the present pattern in Cuba continues as it has so far developed, the day is not far off when the United States will find a communist island fortress—militarily and politically—on its doorsteps.

The potential threat such as a situation poses to inter-American security increases with each passing month.

Thinning Ranks Of Experienced

By LYNN NISBET
SENIORITY — The drop out of so many oldtimers in the General Assembly, either because of voluntary retirement or because their constituents decided to make a change, has accorded high seniority rating to some relatively inexperienced men. That is particularly true of lawyer members.

Claude Currie of Durham will be the only lawyer in the Senate with more than four terms in his credit. He came to the Senate from Montgomery county in 1927, from Durham in 1945, '47, '49, '53, '55, '57 and '59, a total of eight regular sessions and three extras.

His first service is antedated by that of two others—Lindsay Warren of Beaufort and Luther Hamilton of Carteret. Warren was in the Senate in 1917 and '19, the House in 1923, and came back to the Senate in 1959. Meanwhile he had put in 15 years in the Congress and nearly 15 more as chief of the General Accounting Office in Washington. Luther Hamilton was in the Senate in 1921, 1957 and '59, and served in the House in 1931 and '33. From 1937 to 1951 he was a superior court judge.

Henry Grady Shelton of Edgecombe, a farmer, holds the record for continuous tenure, having been in every regular and special session since 1949. Clarence Stone of Rockingham, a merchant, will be doing his second stint in the Senate after seven regular and two special sessions in the House of Representatives—from 1939 through 1947.

Lundsford Crew of Halifax will be back for his fifth consecutive term, and Joe Eagles of Wilson will be in his fifth session, having been rotated out in 1953 and 1959. Crew is engaged in active practice of law. Claude Joe Eagles, although licensed lawyers, are primarily business men.

REPRESENTATIVES — John W. Umstead of Orange is the "old man" of the House, with longest service record of any prospective member of the 1961 General assembly—and at 72 is perhaps the oldest in years. He was in the Senate in 1931 and 1939, and has represented Orange county in the past ten sessions—1941 through 1959. He is an insurance executive.

John Kerr, Jr., of Warren began his legislative career earlier than any other House member, coming from Edgecombe county in 1929. He has been in every session since 1939 except in 1951 and '53—a total of nine terms in the House with more than four terms. He is Brantley Womble of Wake, who came in 1933 and every session since 1951, a total of six.

Non-lawyer House veterans include

Wayland Sprull of Bertie who will be doing his tenth time on that side, plus one trip to the Senate; James B. Vogler of Mecklenburg for his ninth House term; J.P. Wallace of Montgomery for his seventh time in the House, plus one in the Senate, and Roger Kiser of Scotland for a seventh consecutive term in the House. (The Sprull, Wallace and Vogler service was not continuous.)

ASSURED — On face of record it might appear preposterous to say that these men will be in the next General Assembly, when they will not be officially elected until November. However, everyone of them has been nominated in the Democratic primary, several certified without opposition, and their election is assured. In the few instances where Republican opponents will appear on the ballot the result is not in doubt.

CASUALTIES — While the foregoing list indicates there will be experienced men in the next Legislature, the fact is that the casualty rate among veterans and proven competent leadership was very high this year. Either because they did not seek re-election or because the lost out in the primary a considerable number of the important committee chairmen from last session will be absent in 1961.

Harris of Rowan and Blue of Moore who headed the big money committees in the House last time will be back next year, but Copeland of Hertford and Kirkman of Guilford who held those posts in the Senate did not run. Buchanan of Jackson and Etheridge of Dare, co-chairmen of the important committee of conservation and development in the House, were defeated in the primary and Henkel of Iredell, who headed the Senate committee, did not seek re-election.

Turner of Guilford and Valentine of Nash, House Judiciary chairmen, dropped out, as did Medford of Haywood who headed Senate J-2, Dill of Edgecombe and Yow of New Hanover, House and Senate counties, cities and towns chairmen, did not run again.

Others who had come to be recognized as dependable leaders in previous sessions and who fell by the wayside this time include Ed Yarborough of Franklin, Carl Venters of Onslow and Carroll Holmes of Perquimans. George Uzzell of Rowan did not run, and Cloyd Philpott of Davidson won the nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

The presiding officers next time will not lack for good committee material, but it will be of greater degree than in many years "new blood"—because a lot of the old standbys will not be around to carry the load.

It will be a few weeks yet before tobacco harvesting becomes general in Pitt County, but the fact that some of the new crop is being housed is always good news to the people of this tobacco-producing county.

When the first of the new crop is harvested, it signals the beginning of the peak of activity on farms throughout the county. It means that the selling season, which culminates a year's work for many thousands who earn their living raising tobacco, is not far away.

In spite of the late start because of the severe weather in March, the tobacco crop in this county has come along rapidly and the outlook at the moment is encouraging. Good growing conditions in the past few weeks have brought out the crop and uniform stands of tobacco are prevalent throughout the county. Although it is too early to guess about the yield of the crop this year, all signs now point to a considerably higher yield per acre than was the case in 1959.

The harvest season has just begun, but in the weeks ahead, Pitt County will hum with activity as its principal money crop moves from field to barn, and then to market.

Sympathy Lost In The Uproar

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will return home to a sympathetic nation after the Far Eastern disasters which overtook him. But it is a sympathy bound to get lost in an uproar.

The uproar is the coming presidential campaign in which one of the issues will be Eisenhower himself on the question of his leadership or the lack of it. It already has been made an issue by the front-runner for the Democratic presidential nomination, Sen. John F. Kennedy. The Massachusetts senator attacked the Eisenhower administration last week and called for new leadership, as some other Democrats also have done.

The humiliations inflicted on Eisenhower were personal and national. In Tokyo rioting mobs forced cancellation of his trip to Japan; Sunday in American-occupied Okinawa the rioting of anti-American mobs caused the President to return to the airport by back streets.

The presidential campaign will be even more turbulent if, between now and election day next November the Russians and Chinese Communists create new crises or new ways to embarrass the United States.

Until cancer pushed Secretary of State John Foster Dulles out of the picture early in 1959 and then killed him, Eisenhower for years had been accused of lacking leadership. With Dulles gone, this charged. Eisenhower then began to assert himself in foreign affairs more actively or at least more openly.

This was recognized and commented upon. Some of the decisions he made after Dulles' death were to go to the summit; to invite Premier Nikita Khrushchev here; and to make several good-will tours of his own—his 11-nation journey to Europe, Africa and Asia; his Latin American trip; and finally the ill-starred journey to the Far East.

If everything had gone as Eisenhower apparently assumed it would—bringing more peace in the world after a series of triumphal journeys to the far corners of the earth—his leadership would hardly have been a campaign issue.

Perhaps if Dulles had lived none of the disasters would have happened. He might have shrewdly enough to have understood the angry mood in Tokyo and Okinawa and have kept them off the President's itinerary, particularly after the episode of the U2 spy plane, the summit collapse, and Khrushchev's humiliating cancellation of Eisenhower's trip to Russia.

But perhaps the administration's mishandling of the spy plane incident would never have happened, either, if Dulles had been alive.

Dulles might have been so much on top of his job that he would have prevented the plane's flight so soon before the summit conference.

The Democrats are not likely to let Eisenhower's Asian experience die out of public consciousness. They wouldn't be able to, even if they wanted to, if there is more chaos in Japan and particularly if this country loses Japan both as an ally and a military base.

At this writing no one is rash enough to predict positively what will happen in Japan.

Strength For Today

THE SPIRITUAL APPROACH TO LIFE

From one of the readers of this feature comes the following: "I am for anything that is for the betterment of man on the earth, and I let those that believe that they are going to get more than five feet of dirt on their noses go to it."

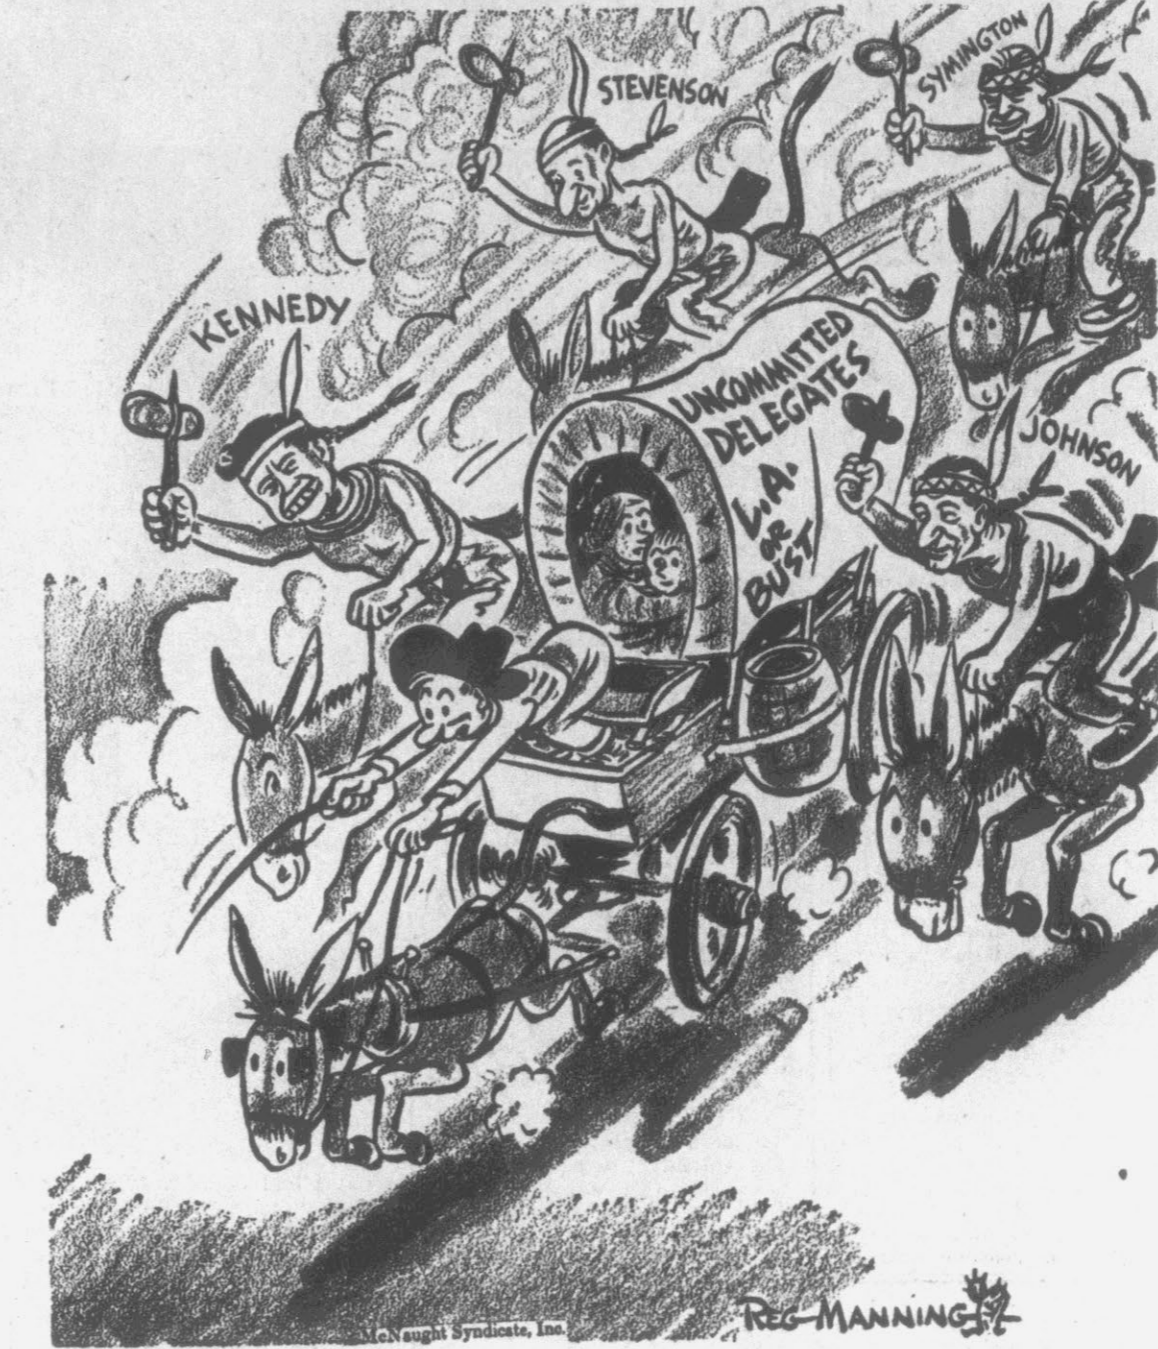

Anybody who has any social consciousness whatever is in favor of everything that is for the betterment of man on the earth. The passion for making the lot of man better is known as humanism. The only quarrel some of us have with humanism is that we are sure that it is a result and not a cause. To go about trying to make the world better without making men better is futile, and to try to make men better without regenerating their hearts by the power of religious faith has not met with wide success.

There are some of us who believe that the only answer to life problems is a religious approach to life are interested only people sincerely interested in prayers and preaching are those who believe that prayers and preaching are factors which help release the latent forces necessary for human betterment.

So we are all in favor of the things that will better the life of men on the earth. Furthermore, many of us believe that life has not come to an end when people get five feet of dirt tramped down on their noses.

To The Last Scalp

By ALVIN TAYLOR

No Re-Runs Permitted

Column time rolls around once and sometimes twice a week for each of us who fill this space from day-to-day. So, yesterday Don Schliez, who handles the makeup of the editorial page informed me that my time had come again.

Column writing like everything else has its low points and yesterday was one of mine. I sat down with my battered old typewriter (comptroller, please note) and studied the nothingness of a blank sheet of paper. After passing the major portion of the afternoon doing this, I suddenly brightened. "I have it," I exclaimed, waking the entire newsroom. "Let's hope its not contagious," someone mumbled. "No, no," I said excitedly. "The answer to column problems, I'll simply go through the files and pick out my better columns. Then I'll run them through the summer."

"Just like television," I said smugly. "I'll call it the 'Best of Taylor'."

Schliez stared coldly. "The Best of Taylor hasn't been written yet," he shot back. "Well, back to the old typewriter."

I visited with Bill Brewer and Sherill Bryant last night to listen in on the Patterson-Johansson fight.

By now it is well-known that Patterson floored the big Swede in the fifth round to regain his title becoming the first heavy weight champ ever to do so.

It was an exciting fight. Patterson shook Johansson in the first round and Johansson staggered Patterson in the second. But it was a glorious fifth for the American.

So it goes in the fight game. Today you're the champ. Tomorrow you're a bum.

This morning officially dawned as the first day of summer. Local folks might not believe it after sweltering through several of the waning days of spring, but its so.

Summer officially began at 4:43 this morning EST.

Actually the day started off as one of the cooler ones recently in comparison with the 90 degree temperatures of recent days.

But its here. Summer, that is. Sometime back before school was out we received a poem signed by the teen-agers of J. H. Rose High School.

It went thusly: —Brains— School is but a job, which you have to learn In order to graduate to a higher firm; You study so hard that you rack your brain Because you know and realize what it is going to mean. Now if that were just set to music you'd have rock 'n' roll!

It could be—and this is speculative but quite within the range of possibility—that Soviet Russia is engaging upon this Cuban gambit with the object of bringing pressure upon the United States to relinquish its relationship with Turkey and Iran. Instead of the United States containing Soviet Russia according to the Truman Doctrine, Soviet Russia is now containing the United States.

This is a further extension of the Stalinist policy which Khrushchev has consistently opposed. From all that Khrushchev said and did prior to the Paris Summit, Flasco, it is clear that he believed in peaceful co-existence as a successful device for establishing Marxism in the Western world. The evidence is that whereas Stalin was successful in Eastern Europe and in China, Khrushchev was making enormous and ominous progress in Western Europe and the United States. He might have succeeded in lulling the (Continued on page 5)

Biggest Castro Threat

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
Copyright, 1960, King Features

Cuba has put itself, under Fidel Castro, in the position of menacing the United States on a much greater scale than is to be measured by the size and significance of the island. The realistic peril to the United States is that when Khrushchev visits Cuba, a mutual security pact will be agreed upon between Cuba and Soviet Russia. That, in effect, puts Soviet Russia on our doorstep and would mean that Cuba would become part of the Soviet Universal State. Under such a pact, Russia could establish submarine bases, military airfields and rocket pads in Cuba. This may influence other nations in Latin America.

Of course, under the Monroe Doctrine and the Platt Amendments that would have been impossible. The United States would have acted immediately to protect this country from such a disaster. We revoked these fundamentals of American policy, but we are not left helpless.

The Organization of American States (OAS) has the authority to move into Cuba to save that country from Communism. The Caracas 1954 Declaration, in connection with Article 6 of the Rio Pact, reads as follows: "The domination or the control of the political institutions of any American State by the international Communist movement extending to this hemisphere a political system of an extra-continental Power would constitute a threat to the sovereignty and political independence of the American States, endangering the peace of America, and would call for consultation and appropriate action in accordance with existing treaties." The resolution recommended that each Government should take measures to force disclosure of the identity, activities, and sources of funds of those who were spreading propaganda for international Communism or acting as its agent, and that all Governments should exchange information to strengthen the campaign against Communism. The resolution ended with the statement that it was "designed to protect and not to impair the inalienable right of each American State freely to choose its own form of Government and economic system and to live its own social and cultural life."

In a word, the OAS can move to prevent the infiltration of any Latin American country by Communism. It is believed by some Latin American experts that if a free, internationally protected election were held in Cuba today, Castro could not be elected, particularly if the Cubans who have left that country during the Castro regime, returned to it to vote. Fidel Castro's popularity is on the wane and Khrushchev is coming to Cuba to bolster it.

There is another factor in this situation. Russia has long been annoyed that the United States and Turkey and Iran have mutual security pacts. As a matter of fact, Turkey and Iran are old allies of ours and have withstood Soviet efforts to infiltrate and to conquer them. Soviet Russia managed to take Iraq out of the group of nations, but Turkey and Iran have stood firm.

It could be—and this is speculative but quite within the range of possibility—that Soviet Russia is engaging upon this Cuban gambit with the object of bringing pressure upon the United States to relinquish its relationship with Turkey and Iran. Instead of the United States containing Soviet Russia according to the Truman Doctrine, Soviet Russia is now containing the United States.

Quote...

"Surely the industrial growth of North Carolina was stimulated by the calm, orderly manner in which the state met its desegregation issue. Certainly Arkansas industrial progress was knocked away, especially in Little Rock, in the last two years of the decade by the public disturbances and the shutdown of Little Rock high schools." —The Arkansas Gazette.

Other Editors Saying New Industry To South

(The Carolina Israelite)

In all the Southern States, among the state legislatures, the governor's mansion, and the chambers of commerce there is a swelling movement to bring down "new industry from the North." The movement has gained tempo with each new success. Each state now has set aside ample funds to encourage this project. Representatives, public relations experts, political leaders visit New York, Chicago, San Diego, and even Frankfurt, Germany (to entice Volkswagens to set up a distributing center on the Carolina seacoast).

These mass importations of northern industry to the South started shortly after the end of World War II. The first of the immigrants were the garment industries from New York trying to escape from David Dubinsky and the International Ladies Garment Workers Union. Sewing shops are now set up all over the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, and Tennessee. "Escape" is perhaps too harsh and castigating a verb. These shops were not only escaping "unionization," but let us be fair — they were also attracted to the South because it is the inevitable industrial empire of our country. It has abundant raw materials and a huge untapped source of labor.

New industry from the North is not a total success story. While it is an operations bootstrap it has some alloy of pain. Take a case history: a factory in Johnstown, Pennsylvania, is induced Southward by promises of tax remittances, rent-free property, cheap labor, and "friendly environment." The factory pulls up stakes. The total result is not merely employment for South-erners but also unemployment for 400 Pennsylvanians who are unceremoniously dumped on the State Unemployment and Relief rolls. What is the nation's gain? This is no conquest.

Multiply this one process by hundreds and you will have an accurate idea of what happens in transferring new industry from North to South.

This sort of criticism cannot stop the inevitable, nor is it intended to. But this sort of criticism ought to help open this problem to serious public discussion. Open discussion of this problem will even accelerate this industrialization of the South.

The Governor's trips to Chicago and abroad, the roving bands of Southern Chamber of Commerce deputies, the enticing allurements seem to me only an attempt at finding an easy way out.

More difficult perhaps, but more valuable to the nation as a whole, would be a Southern project to develop home industries. This is the waste, to let the resources of the South lie dormant chasing the resources of the North. North Carolina, for instance, is one of the richest states in raw materials. Yet Tar Heels send clay up to New York for a few dollars a ton and it comes back in the form of cups and saucers for which Tar Heels pay many thousands of dollars a ton. North Carolina is a natural for a vast home-established pottery industry. In addition, ten or twelve counties benefit when new industry relocates: the other ninety counties are left on their own and they are very, very poor and no attempt is made to rescue them.

North Carolina has a God-given opportunity to build an industry in every county beginning with fisheries and canneries on the coast coming through the peach country and the agricultural plain for all sorts of food processing and canning, and into the huge industrial Piedmont where I live.

An Industrial Commission that stays home to build up native and indigenous industries would change the face of North Carolina without causing hardship or unemployment elsewhere.

Consumer credit continues to increase and that, too, is inflationary. In April, consumers increased outstanding instalment debts by $533,000,000. That means they bought that much more worth of goods than they paid for, and the money supply or its equivalent was increased by that much in that month.

WHAT OF COMMODITIES? But even if wages, manufacturers' prices and credit go up, will commodity price declines counterbalance them? Probably not. While supplies have increased, two factors tend to break prices. One is the fact that many commodities prices get government support, which prevents them sinking to supply-and-demand levels. The other is that many commodity prices are "administered"—a fancy word for price-tampering—these days.

And even without price-fixing by government or corporations, the prices of commodities cannot sink very far because wages are part of so many of them. For example, an abundance of cotton, even without government

Deflation In The Distant Future

By ELMER ROESSNER

Predicted deflation is so far away many of us living will never see it. In recent weeks, some economists and analysts have been forecasting the end of inflation, if not actual deflation.

One basis has been the fact that the long period of shortages is at an end in almost all industries. When there are more goods than money, prices go down, according to classic economic concepts. And a drop in prices is surely deflationary.

The other basis is that the Federal Reserve has started lowering the interest rate. Increasing the interest rate is a sure way to check inflation, therefore, when the Federal Reserve acts to decrease the rate, the idea gets around that it must know something, and the only thing it could know to prompt this action would be that deflation is pending.

Consumer credit continues to increase and that, too, is inflationary. In April, consumers increased outstanding instalment debts by $533,000,000. That means they bought that much more worth of goods than they paid for, and the money supply or its equivalent was increased by that much in that month.

Wages will continue to rise. The Congress has ruled that employers and employees must "bargain" over demands, and to employees and union leaders, that means that unions must demand more each time. No one ever bargained by accepting a first offer. The Congress has also voted an increase in government wages.

Between now and the end of 1961, every major labor contract will come up for renewal or adjustment. And in every one, the unions will demand more—in fringes if not in hourly rates. And every raise must be translated into prices one way or another.

Consumer credit continues to increase and that, too, is inflationary. In April, consumers increased outstanding instalment debts by $533,000,000. That means they bought that much more worth of goods than they paid for, and the money supply or its equivalent was increased by that much in that month.

Automation may reduce some manufacturing costs, but wage increases have generally offset savings from automation. In short, although the end of inflation may be desirable, the best we can hope for is a moderation. FAIR-TRADERS LOSING STATE OF IOWA So-called fair trade may be losing another state. An Iowa district court has held the non-signer clause in the state price-fixing law unconstitutional. These clauses provide that when a manufacturer and a retailer agree on a retail price, every other retailer, though he did not sign the original agreement, is bound to charge the same prices. This, Judge Ray C. Fountain, held unconstitutional. The case will probably be appealed.

Nixon Says U.S. Can Stay Ahead Despite Red Boasts

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today that despite Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's boasts this country should stay well ahead of the Soviet Union economically through the year 2000.

In a speech prepared for delivery at the 40th annual convention of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce, Nixon said: "Mr. Khrushchev boasts that he will catch us and pass us economically in 7 or 10 years. By any projection that can be applied, there is not a possibility that the Soviet economy will overtake our own at any time in this century."

Nixon said this government to prevent lopsided growth should help out whenever the job was too big for private industry.

"We must not hesitate," said the man who expects to be the Republican candidate for president, "to resort to government action where it provides the best road to progress."

This was billed by Nixon as a major speech on this nation's economic growth. But, typically of speeches at this stage of the presidential campaign, Nixon offered few specifics.

Mostly the vice president hit out at critics of the administration who say the Soviet Union is growing at a much faster rate than is the United States—and that the government should take steps to correct this lag.

"The critics," Nixon said, "argue that if we would just adopt their pet economic philosophy we would grow like the Soviets. They invited us to join them in playing what is rapidly becoming the most fashionable political parlor game of our time—a game we might well 'growthmanship'."

It's unfair, Nixon said, to compare the two systems. The Soviets he said, are rebuilding after the war. "Their economy is still primitive," he said, "in comparison with our own."

He took a dim view of those who say the nation is more interested in tall fins than in more solid economic growth.

But when it came to putting down his own program, Nixon contented himself with comments like these:

"The government must pursue a sound fiscal policy, so that values remain stable and upward pressure is toward true growth and not inflation."

And: "Government should avoid as much as possible, interference with the decisions that are made in the private sector of the economy."

Nixon came out strongest in the field of government helping private industry, although here again he dealt only in generalities.

He said this government should continue to help "in our public education establishment, in our national transportation system," in slum clearance.

B. Meeks Briggs, science teacher at H.B. Suggs High School in Farmville, attended the Rural Civil Defense course at Battle Creek, Mich., June 13-17.

The course held at Operational Headquarters of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, was designed to show local leaders how they can help the people of rural areas to save their lives and protect their property in the event of a nuclear disaster, and to establish cooperation with their local civil defense.

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A trio of old movie pros—Sir Laurence Olivier, Ingrid Bergman and Robert Stack—in their first try at television walked off with the top TV Emmy awards Monday night.

Harry Belafonte became the first Negro ever to win an Emmy. Jackie Gleason's former second banana, Art Carney, won an award for the best comedy show. Olivier, generally rated the greatest English-speaking actor, won his Emmy for his portrayal of a character based on the artist

Gauguin in "The Moon and Six Pence."

His award was accepted by Charlton Heston, this year's movie Oscar winner, who said: "I will say something that Larry would not say himself — he deserves it."

Both Olivier and Miss Bergman are two-time Oscar winners, were in Europe. The Swedish actress won her first TV award for the childling "Turn of the Screw."

Stack, who plays the gang-busting Elliott Ness in "The Untouchables," would have won even if he had lost.

His boss, Desi Arnaz, had a $12,000 Mercedes Benz sports roadster waiting for him in the parking lot.

"I was going to give it to you win or lose," Arnaz told the flabbergasted Stack.

Stack won his Emmy as the best actor in a series. The award for the best actress in a series went to Jane Wyatt, the wife and mother of the Anderson family in "Father Knows Best."

Belafonte won for the best performance in a variety or musical program. He accepted his Emmy from Fred Astaire, who also was nominated for the award.

Belafonte thanked all his cast members and then turned to the smiling Astaire and said: "Sorry, Fred."

Carney, competing with such top bananas as Danny Thomas, Jack Benny and Red Skelton, won his award for the "Art Carney Special Show—VIP."

The show, staged and telecast from both Hollywood and New York, gave other Emmys to: Playhouse 90 for the best drama show; CBS' "Fabulous Fifties," best variety program.

The Huntley-Brinkley Report, best news program.

CBS' "20th Century," best public affairs program.

Writer Rod Serling for his series "Twilight Zone," best written drama.

Jack Benny's four writers, best comedy writing.

"Huckleberry Hound," a cartoon series, the first syndicated show ever to win an Emmy, won for the most outstanding children's program.

Board Ordered 'To Show Cause'

RALEIGH (AP) — The State Board of Elections has been ordered to show cause why a court order preventing a special congressional election in the 12th District should not be effected.

The hearing on the injunction proceeding has been scheduled for Wednesday afternoon before Judge Hamilton Hobbgood in Wake Superior Court.

Republican Heinz Rollman's attorney Monday challenged the legality of the special election which would result in selection of an interim congressman to fill the unexpired portion of the term of the late Rep. David Hall.

Rollman was nominated to run against Roy Taylor of Black Mountain, but won a court order last week removing his name from the ballot. The two men are slated to oppose each other in the general election in November.

In requesting the injunction, Rollman contended the special election "is definitely illegal." He said voters have not had time to register and the short notice has prevented use of absentee ballots.

He said if his request for the injunction is turned down by Hobbgood he will take the case into the federal courts.

Copies of the show cause order were served on Raymond Maxwell, elections board secretary, and Atty. Gen. Wade Bruton.

'Not Prepared' For Arms Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today the United States was not properly prepared for any of the four major international arms control conferences in the past two years.

He urged Congress to appropriate $400,000 for the State Department "to start the most important of its studies immediately"—that of preparation for arms control negotiations.

There are signs that, either through inaction or inability, we are permitting the weapons development race to proceed much faster than the race for effective means of control," Humphrey said in testimony prepared for the Senate Appropriations Committee.

"As we are determining scientific means of detecting and inspecting in one area of arms control, a counter measure, such as the decoupling theory in hiding underground explosions, is discovered, or a newer and more devastating weapon is produced, thus increasing the scope of disarmament problems," Humphrey said.

Of disarmament conferences in recent years, Humphrey said, "I know of no responsible individual associated with them who will say we were prepared." Humphrey said Raymond Hare, deputy undersecretary of state, had testified before a House committee that there was a lack of sustained study in this field.

Humphrey, who is chairman of the Senate subcommittee on disarmament, said four problems eventually would have to be faced.

1. Methods to control a cutoff of production of fissionable materials for weapons.
2. Methods to determine that armed forces are at levels stated by various countries.
3. Measures to guard against surprise attack.
4. Control system for elimination of missiles and other delivery systems.

TV Viewer Can Now Talk Back

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A small device that lets television viewers talk back was demonstrated Monday night at the National Community Television Assn. convention.

The device is the nerve center of a system called "Key TV" by its developer, TelePrompTer Corporation.

The control contains two buttons, which a user pushes and which register at a central control point.

H. J. Schiaffly Jr., vice president of TelePrompTer, said the device would make it possible for viewers to take educational television course examinations and participate in opinion polls and, eventually, buy products shown on television.

Schiaffly said Key TV will be tried out this summer in community television systems at Liberal, Kan., and Farmington, N.M.

us into an easy apathy toward Soviet Russia, and even Red China. But he can never change his position again, for we cannot trust him.

The Stalinists have regarded Khrushchev's methods as anti-Marxist-Leninist and this opposition to him has apparently prevailed. If by July 13, when the Communist Party meets in Moscow, Khrushchev cannot overcome this Stalinist opposition, it must be expected that the next serious step against the United States will be in Cuba and it will come with Khrushchev's visit to that country.

The Organization of American States has the responsibility of immediate action not to wait until it is too late and nothing can be done short of a general war. If the OAS is incapable of performing in this obvious crisis, then the United States ought to go it alone. We cannot risk our security by remaining subservient to unworkable pacts.

Grifton Facing Water Problem

GRIFTON — The Grifton Town Board is facing its summer problem: not enough water to go around for all the residents.

They met today with a Raleigh consulting engineer firm to discuss the problem, though the Town Board has made no plans yet and has taken no action towards the water problems.

However, they have discussed a new water and sewage disposal plant, Town Clerk Mrs. Joyce McCoy said.

The problem boils down to the fact that during the warm summer months, residents of Grifton are using water for lawn watering and irrigation purposes as well as for the everyday dish washing, clothes washing and bathing purposes.

There is simply not enough water to go around for everyone during the summer months. The problem has not arisen during the winter or cooler months, Mrs. McCoy said. It occurred last summer and is reoccurring this summer, she said.

Hear Protests Against Primary

CONWAY, S.C. (AP)—Two protests against the conduct of last week's Democratic primary were called up for hearings here today by the county Democratic executive committee.

Losing candidates for the General Assembly made the complaints, and said they were doing so to see that the county "has a good, clean election."

Former Rep. G. Stanley Bryant, eliminated from the State Senate race that will be decided in a second primary, charged an irregularity in the issuance of registration certificates.

Vets Compensation Law Change Coming

A new law, effective July 1, authorizes additional monthly payments for service-connected disabled veterans receiving compensation at 50 to 100 per cent disability who have more than three children.

Walter Tucker, local service officer for the N.C. Veterans Commission, reported the increase payment authorization yesterday and urges Pitt County veterans qualifying under the new provision to visit the Greenville office and make arrangements to begin receiving the payments from July 1.

The new law does not alter the old provision, Tucker said. Payments to veterans with one to three children remain the same.

The difference, Tucker pointed out, is that $12 per month payments are allowed for each child above the old number of three. Previously, the maximum authorization was monthly payments for each child through three children. Veterans with more than three received no additional payments.

Tucker emphasized the new law is consistent with other similar authorizations in providing payments only for veterans who are classed as at least 50 per cent disabled. Below 50 per cent, no payments are authorized. The law does not apply to pensions, only to compensations, the service officer said.

According to a memorandum received by the local office, the additional benefits will be paid from July 1 is proof of birth is on record on that date. "Any veteran who has additional children

Wants Speed-Up In Rights Action

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Negroes in the United States are protesting against "the whole rotten system of discrimination." The chief counsel of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) said Monday night.

Thurgood Marshall addressed a dinner sponsored by a St. Paul and Minneapolis committee of the bar on the eve of the NAACP's national convention.

Marshall, who has engineered many of the NAACP's most important legal victories, said young people of the South are serving notice on the conscience of the United States that Negroes "have had it" and are "not going to take it any more."

"They're not protesting to get a hamburger," said Marshall. "They can get that in the Negro greasy spoon around the corner. They're protesting against the whole policy of too little and too late."

He said Supreme Court decisions have spelled the eventual legal end of segregation, but the "cleaning up is not moving fast enough."

Young people in the South, he said, have recognized that "there is a wave of change sweeping over Africa, there's a wave of change sweeping over Asia, there is a wave of change sweeping over Turkey, and there is a wave of change sweeping over Korea."

"What makes the United States think that we can have nothing but a little breeze here?" he asked.

Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, said major issues to be considered at the six-day convention include obtaining voting rights for Negroes in the South, speeding up school desegregation and broadening job opportunities for Negroes.

Drug-Smuggling In Big Quantities

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk says narcotics smuggling has reached the point where marijuana is being shipped into Southern California in half-ton lots and heroin in two-pound packages.

Dope traffic has hit disaster proportions, the attorney general said Monday night, and "if it were any other disaster, I feel that the federal government would have sent help long ago."

Mosk told the California Veterans of Foreign Wars convention there is so much marijuana and heroin on the Southern California market that an addict can get heroin caps for as little as $2 in Los Angeles.

Port Worth, Tex., attracts about 450 conventions a year.

Patterson Regains Fight Title With Kayo In Fifth

Sports Scope by Johnny Hudson Sports Editor

First To Regain Title

A year ago, a young Swede stunned the nation with a third-round knockout of Floyd Patterson to become the new heavyweight king of the world.

With his carefree rules of training, TV and movie appearances, and endorsement of products, Johansson had gained the acceptance of a "real champion."

The odds stacked up in favor of Johansson this time but many stuck by the ability of the former champ. While most of the Reflector staff expressed faith in the "Thunder of Thor" right hand of Johansson, this writer, in a column eliminated yesterday due to a shortage of space on the sports page, picked Patterson to regain the title.

Resented Acceptance Of Swede

In pre-fight news, Patterson had expressed determination for bringing back the title to America. He resented the way the Swede had been accepted as the champion by the United States.

Floyd, who saw daylight in North Carolina, was aware that Johansson's right hand was a reality before this fight and prepared to dodge this blow. His style was different and from the first round he had Johansson confused.

Patterson hopes to give the Swede a rematch within 90 days. Floyd appeared to be a different champion last night than the one that won the title at the age of 21. He stated he "finally felt like a champion."

Rematch May Be Different

Whether Ingo will accept the rematch remains to be seen. If so, the question is whether he will change his training tactics, eliminating the bar-hopping episodes and some TV appearances, and become a more serious boxer.

The Swede, loser of only one pro fight, will have to prove himself in the next meeting. Will the knock-out make him gun-shy or will he, like Patterson, come back stronger than this fight?

Notes On The Home Scene

The Industrial League will hold its All-Star game Thursday night at Guy Smith Stadium. The Graniteers, champs at the half-way mark, will play the All-Stars. . . . The Industrial League has seen three no-hitters this season. Bill Brantley, Dan Gordon, and Howard Outland boast a single masterpiece each. . . . Merle Bynum cracked a sixth inning homer last week to spark New Bern to a 9-6 win over Smithfield in semi-pro baseball action.

Minnesota Wins College Series

OMAHA (AP)—Minnesota has joined the elite group of schools that have won two NCAA College Baseball World Series championships in the 14-year-old history of the event. . . . And in beating Southern California 2-1 Monday night the Big Ten kings kept the West Coast school from becoming the first to win three titles. The others with a pair of championships are the University of California and Texas.

By MURRAY ROSE NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson showed he had a lightning left hook to match Ingemar Johansson's thunderbolt right and today held the coveted heavyweight championship for a record second time.

The solemn-faced, 25-year-old New Yorker became the first former heavyweight champion ever to regain the title when he knocked out the handsome, hard-hitting Swede with a leaping left hook in 1:51 of the fifth round at the ancient Polo Grounds Monday night.

"I think it was the hardest blow I ever hit anyone," said the elated Patterson. "For the first time I feel I'm a real champion."

"I told Ingemar he positively will get a third shot. I'd like it soon. In 90 days, if possible, I'm going to be a real champion."

"I'm going to think it over," said the downcast Johansson when asked if he wanted the third fight. It was his first defeat in a pro career of 23 fights.

He had soared to the championship heights last June 26 by demolishing Patterson on a seven-knockdown, third-round technical knockout. Now he found it hard to talk.

In regaining the most lucrative prize in sports, the young, broad-shouldered Negro succeeded where eight other ring greats, including Jack Dempsey and Joe Louis, had failed.

At 21, Patterson went into the record books as the youngest heavyweight champion by flattening ancient Archie Moore with a devastating left hook in the fifth round at Chicago, Nov. 30, 1956.

Never again had he demonstrated the power of that jolting hook until Monday night. First he felled the 194 1/2 pound champion early in the fifth round for a nine-count. Then he did it again with a leaping left that had all of his 190 pounds behind it.

The strong Swede hit the canvas flat on his back. He was out cold. Referee Artie Mercante could have counted 500. It was several minutes before Ingo was propped up on a stool in the ring and several more minutes before he was able to leave the bedlam for his dressing room.

It could have been different if the powerful Viking had been able to follow up his best punch of the night in the second round. He nailed Floyd high on the head with the old "thunder and lightning" right. This was almost the same punch that started Floyd on the way out a year ago.

Patterson was stunned but he was able to retreat. Ingo went after his left foe cautiously, poking with his left repeatedly. He didn't get in the followup right. By the end of the round Patterson had regained his full senses.

That, it turned out, was Ingo's last chance. It was the only round he got from the officials.

Patterson fought differently this time. Instead of looking for a chance to unlimber his fast combinations, he upset Johansson's pattern by using the Swede's own piercing weapon—the classic left jab.

Floyd lanced repeatedly and effectively with the jab. He opened a cut under Ingo's left eye in the first round. He raised a lump under the same eye in the next round. He employed the left to get in close and rake Johansson's body and head with short punches.

In the fifth round he sent Johansson to the ropes. The first leaping left hook thudded against Ingo's jaw and dropped him. The champ got up on one knee and took the count of nine. Patterson tore after him with a vengeance, battering him with both hands. Then came the crushing final left hook and boxing history was made.

"I'm the champ again," said Patterson over and over. "A real champ this time. Do you know what that means?"

In money it could mean millions. For this second fight alone, Patterson's purse may amount to 1763,000. Ingo will be consoling by a purse of close to $636,000.

Promoter Bill Fugazy of Feature Sports, Inc., estimated the crowd at 40,000 to 45,000 and the gate receipts at around $800,000.

For the network radio rights, closed circuit television, movies and other extras, several million dollars more may be added.

Irving Kahn, president of the TelePrompser Co., which had the rights to the extras, estimated that theater-TV rights would be close to $2,000,000.

WIMBLEDON (AP)—Jack Kramer, 1947 Wimbledon champion, said today he may try a comeback if the major tennis title is thrown open to professionals next year as expected.

"I would like to be in on the beginning of a new era," the 38-year-old tennis promoter said. "I could go out there and give them a run for their money."

Kramer has disc trouble and admitted he was hampered by a steel brace on his back.

"If you listened to your friends," he said, "you never would get out there. They have convinced me in the past that it's a mistake to look too bad. But I don't know. This is worth considering."

"The only person who might have really known was sitting, still."

Legion Team Plays Here

Second place Goldsboro brings its young Legion team to the Greenville premises tomorrow night for a league contest with Pitt County.

With a 3-1 record, Goldsboro is expected to pitch Doyle Whitfield, winner of all three games, against the Pitt Countians.

Goldsboro holds victories over Jacksonville (6-5), Ahoskie (7-0), and Kinston (13-7). Their lone defeat was to unbeaten Rocky Mount (4-3).

Coach Bud Phillips pinpointed "errors at crucial times" as leading up to the defeat at Jacksonville Saturday night. "We hit the ball real well," the Pitt coach explained and referred to four balls that would have been homers in the Greenville Stadium. At Jacksonville, the four balls were only three long outs and a triple.

Expecting to be at full strength, Phillips will call on either Malcolm Griffin or Larry Roberts to pitch against visiting Goldsboro. Game time for the Guy Smith Stadium fracas is 8:00.

Aaron, Braves Crush Los Angeles Nine, 4-1

By ED WILKS Associated Press Sports Writer Hank Aaron broke loose. Joey Jay finally won one and the Milwaukee Braves are up in second place in the National League race for the first time since the first week of the season.

Aaron, batting a chilly .279 with only one home run in the last 17 games, hammered two homers and drove in three runs while Jay, pitched 6 2/3 innings of four-hit, shutout relief for a 4-1 victory over Los Angeles Monday night.

It was Jay's first success since last September, and his first over the Dodgers in two years.

With no other games scheduled in the NL, the Braves pushed within four games of first place Pittsburgh and jumped past San Francisco into second by seven percentage points. The Giants open a four-game series at Milwaukee with a two-night double-header tonight.

In the only American League game scheduled, Kansas City defeated Boston, 9-6.

Aaron, last year's bat champ with a .355 average, upped his current mark to .284 and triggered a winning, two-run second inning with a leadoff homer off Don Drysdale. Aaron walked in the third inning, hit his 15th home run of the year leading off the sixth and then rove in another while grounding into a force play against reliever Ed Palmquist in the seventh.

Drysdale (4-9) now has lost five in a row and eight of his last nine decisions.

Jay, whose only other decision was a losing relief job against Pittsburgh two months ago, struck out three and walked one. He came on in the third after starter Bob Buhl, the Dodger killer, gave up four walks.

The seventh place A's beat the last place Red Sox with a tie-breaking, three-run seventh capped by Harry Chitt's home run with a man on. Hank Bauer's double and a single by Norm Siebern cracked the 5-5 tie and handed Tom Borland (0-2) the defeat. Marty Kutyna (2-2) won it in relief for the A's, who also had a home run from Andy Carey.

Feels Like Real Champ; Will Think It Over-Ingo

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"I definitely give Johansson a return fight. I'd like to fight him in 90 days. I will be a fighting champion this time. I will fight early and often."

So spoke Floyd Patterson following his spectacular fifth-round knockout of Ingemar Johansson Monday night, a victory that made him the first man in boxing history to regain the heavyweight championship of the world.

This was a new Patterson, far different from the mumbling young man of a year ago who, after his stunning defeat at the hands of the Swedish challenger, let his manager, Gus D'Amato, do all the talking.

D'Amato is unlicensed in New York and was unable to sit in Patterson's corner for what was undoubtedly Patterson's greatest fight. He was much in evidence in the winner's dressing room at the Polo Grounds, but Floyd spoke as if his manager was across the Harlem River in Yankee Stadium. He was doing his own talking.

"For the first time since I won the title in 1956," Patterson said, "I feel I'm a real champion. I think the public finally will accept me. At least, I hope so."

The spectacular victory seemed to have done more to the 25-year-old Patterson than give him back his title. Throughout the hour-long session with newsmen in the steaming, crowded quarters, Floyd gave the appearance of being a much more mature, confident and decisive person.

"It was worth losing the title for this," he said happily. "This is easily the most gratifying moment of my life."

"I'm the champ again. A real champ this time. Do you know what that means?"

"The only person who might have really known was sitting, still."

"If you listened to your friends," he said, "you never would get out there. They have convinced me in the past that it's a mistake to look too bad. But I don't know. This is worth considering."

stunned, still groggy, and still unbelieving, not 50 feet away, in the loser's dressing room.

"I was careless," mumbled Johansson. "I was overconfident. Something like Patterson was in our first fight."

The good-looking Swede looked like a beaten fighter. His face showed the pounding he had taken for five rounds before a long, lethal left hook knocked him flat on his back at 1:51 of the fifth round. It took nearly 10 minutes to revive him.

Johansson at first either refused or just couldn't talk to reporters. After keeping them waiting for an hour, he sent word that he just wasn't up to it.

"He's shocked," said Edwin Ahlequist, manager of the stricken Swede. "He'd like to talk to you tomorrow. This is the first time in his life he's been knocked out."

Later, as he left the dressing room, with his mother, sister, fiancée and manager, he was asked when he thought he would be ready for a rematch with Patterson.

Ingemar stared blankly for a moment, then smiling sadly, he said slowly: "I'm going to think it over."

Johansson's fiancée, pretty Birgit Lundgren, who seemed to be the calmest person in the Swedish entourage, was asked whether her boy friend might retire.

"That is his decision," she answered. "He will have to do a lot of thinking."

Ingemar's mother, Ebba Johansson, seemed to be the most crestfallen member of the family. "It was a real shock," she said. "I always see him win before. Now, he loses and it is not so easy to take."

Training Revolution Ends With Defeat Of Johansson

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Ingemar Johansson threatened to revolutionize the time-honored routine of fight training, but the revolution is over.

When Floyd Patterson demolished the handsome Swede in winning back the world heavy-weight title at the Polo Grounds Monday night it was a victory for Spartan training over the plush country club atmosphere.

Johansson astounded the critics with his casual, playboy approach to the first fight a year ago. When he stopped Patterson in three rounds and won the championship, the general idea was that down through the years fighters had been unnecessarily punishing themselves to get into condition.

Ingemar made believers of the fans with his easy-does-it system, and when he followed the same routine preparing for his title defense there was no criticism. He would dance. He would journey to New York from Grossinger, a trip of more than 100 miles, to appear on television. He would play golf, and ride horseback, and swim, and otherwise enjoy himself.

He lived in the family circle, and it was one big holiday for his parents, his brother and his wife, and his comely fiancée. Patterson had been holed up in a bleak, abandoned old road house hidden away on a byroad in Connecticut. He had been there since last fall, leading the rugged life with only his trainer and sparring partners as company. Until the fight was signed and sealed and the publicity runs began to boom, visitors were few. And in the long, lonely hours Floyd had plenty of time to figure out his errors of the first fight, and ponder his strategy for the return.

Little Charley Goldman, who trained Rocky Marciano through-out his undefeated career as champion, thinks he has at least part of the answer to Johansson's crushing defeat Monday night. Marciano also trained at Grossinger's up in the Catskill Mountains. But he isolated himself in an old farmhouse high up on a hilltop.

"Johansson was training as if he was going to do six rounds of sparring," Goldman said after watching Patterson take out the Swede in the fifth round.

"Patterson trained for a fight. Johansson trained for a light sparring session. That's all there was to it."

Drivers Disqualified From World 600 Race

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Six drivers in Sunday's inaugural World 600-mile stock car race, including two top money winners in Lee and Richard Petty, have been disqualified for making improper pit stops, a NASCAR official said Monday.

Pat Purcell, NASCAR executive manager, declared the drivers directly violated pit stop rules explained to them at the pre-race drivers' meeting.

"The violations were all reported by the technical inspectors in the pits, and I observed each one of them from my vantage in the control tower," Purcell said from Daytona Beach, Fla., NASCAR headquarters.

Officials of the Charlotte Motor Speedway expressed skepticism that NASCAR President Bill France would uphold the ruling. The drivers, who would lose their winnings, except for lap money, are:

No. 4, Richard Petty of Randleman, who won $3,675; No. 5, his father Lee, $2,900; No. 16, Bob Welborn of Greensboro, $400; and three others who did not finish and were given the standard $200.

Paul Lewis of Johnson City, Tenn., Junior Johnson of Ronda, and Al White of Buffalo, N.Y., Lee Petty was quoted by Earl Kelley, speedway public information officer, as saying he did not believe the disqualification would be upheld, and if it were, "I might as well go back to chopping wood for a living." However, The Charlotte Observer said he declined comment when contacted except to say he'd "go along" if he had broken a rule.

Bill France, NASCAR president, who did not attend the race, said he could not comment because he had not heard details on the case. Kelley said the Petys were disqualified for pit entrances each of them made after blowouts. They spun off into the infield and instead of continuing around to the pit entrance, cut across directly to the pits in each instance.

If the disqualifications hold, this would be the revised order of finish and winnings for positions 4 through 10:

4, Gerald Duke, College Park, Ga., $3,675; 5, Buck Baker, Spartanburg, S.C., -2,900; 6, Rex White, Spartanburg, $2,200; 7, Banjo Matthews, Asheville, $1,650; 8, Tiny Lund, Moncks Corner, S.C., $1,350; 9, Shorty Rollins, Pensacola, Fla., $1,100; 10, David Pearson, Spartanburg, $900.

It was indefinite Monday night whether NASCAR point standings would be affected. The Petys were one-two in those rankings.

Carolina Open Starts Today

NEW BERN, N.C. (AP)—The Carolina Open golf championship begins today over the New Bern Golf and Country Club with about 100 leading pros and amateurs competing.

A new champion will be chosen as P. J. Boatwright, the 1959 winner, is now connected with the U.S. Golf Assn. in New York City and will not defend the title.

Meanwhile, Brien Charter of Greenville, S.C.; Chuck Alexander of Rocky Mount and Avery Beck of Kingston were Carolinas qualifiers here Monday for the National PGA tournament July 21-24 at Akron, Ohio.

Charter fired a 36-hole 67-68-137 for the best score. Runnerup was Beck with 67-69-136. Alexander gained the spot, beating Al Smith of Danville, Va., with a birdie three on the first hole of a sudden death playoff. Smith had a par four.

Smith and Alexander had finished the regulation 36 holes with identical 68-70-138 cards.

Named alternates were Smith, Joe Cheves of Morganton (139); John Rued of Wilmington (139) and Dan Herring, Ahsokie (139).

Billy Cannon Free To Play In AL Loop

By BOB MYERS

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The count was 1-0 in favor of the American Football League today in the new league's player war with the old National League.

And All-America halfback Billy Cannon was free to play for the Houston Oilers of the AFL, instead of the Los Angeles Rams of the NFL.

Federal Judge William J. Lindberg Monday denied the Rams' injunction suit to keep Cannon from playing for the Oilers.

The court blasted NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle for conducting the Cannon contract negotiations in a "shroud of secrecy."

when Rozelle was the Rams' general manager last November. The Rams contended Cannon signed three contracts for the 1960-16-62 seasons.

The judge faulted the 1961-62 contracts mainly because neither was signed by then Acting Commissioner Austin Gusek, a requirement he said is stipulated in the NFL constitution. He dismissed the 1960 contract, signed by Gusek, because he said it was part of an incomplete contractual package.

The adverse ruling shocked the Rams' high command. Said an irked Daniel F. Reeves, Rams' president: "I just happen to know that Pete Rozelle is the most honest man in the world. I have no comment on Cannon." Reeves indicated the Rams may appeal the decision.

The 22-year-old Cannon from Louisiana State University stirred up the already broiling AFL-NFL feud when he repudiated the Rams contracts—for a total of $50,000—and signed a more lucrative pact with K.S. (Bud) Adams Jr., owner of the Houston Oilers, in late December.

Cannon issued a statement framed by his attorneys. It merely said he was happy and the decision was proper.

Tar Heels Begin Tour Canadian Farms Today

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—A group of touring North Carolinians was to leave Detroit today for a two-day swing into agricultural areas of Canada.

The 125 farm leaders, businessmen and bankers from the Tar Heel state, a spokesman said, will visit areas that employ tobacco curers from the Carolinas.

A swing back through New York will conclude the "Farm Opportunities and Marketing Caravan" with the party returning to North Carolina Saturday. An annual affair, the trip is sponsored by Wachovia Bank and Trust Co. in cooperation with North Carolina State College and the state's Department of Agriculture.

In Detroit Monday, the North Carolinians attended a luncheon with the city's industrialists. Archie K. Davis of Winston-Salem, N.C. chairman of the board of Wachovia Bank and Trust Co., told the group North Carolina has the right climate for industrial and agriculture progress.

He said, "The greatest advantage North Carolina offers is the attitude of its people. . . They recognize their problems. Davis also told the luncheon group, "They are willing to do the job for themselves without waiting for or depending on government, whether state or federal."

Davis told his listeners the state must keep a balance between industry and agriculture in encouraging the development of marketing and processing facilities.

Pointing North Carolina and its growth in the past decade, Davis added, "We have a long way to go and we are determined to advance." He pointed to the North Carolina Business Development Corp. and the North Carolina Research Triangle, underwritten by private enterprise, as examples of the willingness of the people of the Southeast to solve their problems.

The Ford Motor Co. plant at River Rouge was visited in the afternoon. A Ford vice president, J. O. Wright, who was educated at North Carolina State, received a scroll from R. W. Shoffner of the college on behalf of Gov. Luther Hodges.

He pointed to the North Carolina Business Development Corp. and the North Carolina Research Triangle, underwritten by private enterprise, as examples of the willingness of the people of the Southeast to solve their problems.

Reassigned To All-Negro School

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—One of eight Negroes scheduled to enter integrated high schools next year was reassigned to an all-Negro school today.

School Board secretary Ted Lamb said the parents of Irma Jean Routen had written a letter saying she was interested in taking band at Central High School. Lamb said the reason for the reassignment was a letter from Central's band director saying he had 85 students signed up for band this fall and could not handle more.

Charged With Murdering Pilot

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Richard E. Loomis was in jail today, charged with murdering James Keith Gibbs by sabotaging a plane they bought as partners.

Loomis was charged in the district attorney's complaint Monday with conspiring with Gibbs to crash the war surplus British Mosquito bomber three years ago and collect $58,000 in insurance. The complaint said Loomis rigged the plane so that Gibbs could not parachute to safety.

WHICH CANDIDATE RECEIVED THE NAACP 'BLOC' VOTE IN THE FIRST PRIMARY?

The following figures are first primary results as published in an Associated Press Release in THE GREENSBORO DAILY NEWS, MAY 30, 1960 from all-Negro or predominately Negro precincts:

City	Sanford	Lake	Larkins	Seawell
Raleigh	2209	20	44	63
Winston-Salem	4209	31	103	93
Greensboro	2352	74	66	158

This voting pattern was repeated in city after city, all over the state with but one exception (Seawell received this vote in Durham). This vote represents the "bloc" vote of the NAACP.

What does the "bloc" vote mean?—A bloc vote is not possible without its organizers making a pre-election choice of a candidate. Next there is an intensive campaign of instructing its controlled voters which candidate to vote for and making certain that this is done. Sample ballots, with the desired candidate's name already checked, are handed out to all voters arriving at the polls. Taxi drivers and other vehicle operators are given lists of registered voters to haul to the polls. A "bloc" vote is not possible without some degree of coercion and the expenditure of much effort, time, and money. It is not a desirable feature of politics.

Was the "Bloc" Vote Anti-Lake? No. On analysis of the returns it is obvious that the bloc vote was organized against Larkins and Seawell (with only one exception) as well as against Dr. Lake. The returns show conclusively that the "bloc" NAACP vote was not an anti-Lake, -Larkins, or -Seawell vote, but rather that THE NAACP VOTE WAS A PRO-SANFORD VOTE.

Is Being Anti-NAACP The Same As Being Anti-Negro?—NO. Dr. Lake has pointed out time and time again that the NAACP is not a Negro organization but a New York organized and operated INTER-RACIAL ORGANIZATION. Its membership in North Carolina is reputed to be about 3,000 white persons and about 10,000 Negroes. Its Negro membership is less than one percent of the Negro population of this state. A prominent portion of NAACP leadership is white leadership. A number of well-known Northern politicians are members of and support this organization for political gain.

BEVERLY LAKE HAS PLEDGED TO WORK FOR ALL THE PEOPLE OF NORTH CAROLINA WITH NO REGARD TO RACE. HE WILL FIGHT FOR CONTINUED CORDIAL RELATIONS AND FRIENDSHIP AMONG ALL OUR CITIZENS. WHAT IS THE PROGRAM OF THE NAACP? Total and complete

YES, THERE IS A DIFFERENCE BETWEEN BEVERLY LAKE AND TERRY SANFORD ON THIS ISSUE. THE BLOC VOTE PROVES IT CONCLUSIVELY.

IF you do not want to oppose the NAACP and its program, vote for Terry Sanford.

NEW YORK (AP)—Profits were taken in recent favorites early this afternoon as the stock market presented a jumbled picture. Trading was active.

Some speculative favorites dipped 3 or 4 points.

The general list of key stocks, however, was a mixture of gains and losses kept generally within a 1-point range. A number of issues showed little or no change.

Airlines were steady to higher following recent gains on fare hike news. Chemicals was mostly lower after backing away from an assortment of early gains.

The pattern was irregular for motors, steels, oils, aircrafts, electronics, and utilities. Rails were slightly ahead on balance.

Standard Kollman, last week's most active gainer; was down 4 points as turnover continued heavy in this issue following a ban placed on "stop" orders in the stock by the New York Stock Exchange. These are orders placed in advance at specified prices and lead to "bunching" of transactions.

Collins Radio fell more than 3 and International Business Machines about 4. Other recent favorites were Commercial Solvents, down 2, and NAFI, off about 3.

Trading interest switched to Paramount Pictures, up more than 2 on top of yesterday's rise of 3 1/2.

Hammond Organ spurted about 2. Allied Chemical gained more than a point. Union Carbide and Du Pont lost about a point each. Air Reduction fell 1/2 to 76 on a block of 10,000 shares.

Texaco, up about a point, was the best among leading oils. Jersey Standard eased.

Minnesota Mining plummeted 6 1/2 to 77 on successive blocks of 3,000 and 1,500 shares.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 1.51 to 646.01.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 221.90 with the industrials off .10, the rails up .30 and the utilities unchanged.

Corporate bonds declined in moderately active trading.

U.S. government bonds were steady in quiet transactions over the counter.

Filing Suit Over Fluoridation

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)—A suit seeking to block the University of North Carolina from fluoridating the water supply of Chapel Hill and Carrboro will be filed this week in Superior Court in Hillsboro, attorney Harold Edwards says.

Edwards said the suit, prepared in behalf of Manning Simons of Chapel Hill, will seek a restraining order to bar the university from carrying out its announced intention of adding fluoride to the water supply sometime between July 1 and Oct. 1.

Simons, a tax consultant, has been an ardent foe of fluoridation since it first was proposed here nine years ago. The university operates the water works.

Nat'l Guard Units Bring Home 'Superior' Ratings

WILDLIFE PROTECTOR JOE TEEL . . . looks on as Alton McNeil, Assistant Superintendent of the State Fish Hatchery near Fayetteville weighs out fish for stocking Bryant's Creek Monday. About 6,000 large mouth bass averaging two inches in length were divided equally among Bryant's Creek, Hardee's Creek and Chicod Creek yesterday. The stocking of creeks in Pitt County is directed by the Wildlife Resources Commission as one of its programs to provide better hunting and fishing in North Carolina.

Greenville's two National Guard batteries reported this morning "highly successful" summer encampments at Ft. Bragg during the last two weeks.

The two local units, Battery "A" and Battery "B" of the 4th Howitzer Battalion, 113th Artillery, left Greenville June 5, and returned two days ago with "superior" ratings.

Guard spokesmen were high in their praise of the two local batteries for bringing home two of the 10 highest grades passed out at the annual summer camp of the N.C. 30th Division.

Battery "A", under the command of Capt. Charles Camp, took top honors in a firing battery test administered by the division. Capt. Camp and 1st Sgt. Mayo Allen expressed pride in the battery's performance.

The local battery was one of five firing batteries subjected to the 105 mm. test and received an "Excellent" rating. Other units involved were Morehead City, Charlotte, Lenoir, and High Point. Each firing battery must undergo the test in alternate years.

Capt. Camp was "especially pleased with the men's performance since we made the transition from a service to a firing battery since last summer camp." Sgt. Allen pointed out the battery has a long history of superior ratings as a supply unit, but the transition was difficult.

Battery "B", under the command of Capt. Norman R. Harris, brought home superior laurels in a 155 mm. firing test on the battalion level. It will be required to undergo the division test next summer.

Sgt. Bruce Baker of Battery "B" was pleased with the performance of his battery's 63 men. He termed the two-week camp "definitely successful."

Capt. Harris, though moving to Morehead City to assume command of the battery during the camp and was pleased with the performance. He will be succeeded here July 1 by 1st Lt. Alvin D. McArthur Jr.

Capt. Camp of Battery "A" said this morning final comparative ratings on a state-wide basis have not yet been announced, but added, "We feel that we were right close to the top."

The battery was among the top 10 in North Carolina last year and received an overall rating of 96.43, two points higher than last year.

Pointwise, the two batteries were virtually equal. Battery "A" received grades of 92.65 (training rating) and 96.43 (overall rating) while Battery "B" brought home 92.64 (training rating) and 95.48 (overall rating).

According to Sgt. Allen, the local Guardsmen maintained communications with the Greenville area via radio. Allen said morale was "helped greatly" by radio conversations between the men and their relatives at home. Greenville amateur operator Charles Wells relayed the messages.

M-Sgt. Robert E. Smith, chief of the firing battery for Battery "A", was impressed by the "highest morale, hardest work, and best performance" under my command in the division firing battery test.

Battery "A" reported to Ft. Bragg at full authorized strength and 100 per cent attendance of 80 men. Sgt. Allen expressed appreciation to local employers for allowing Guardsmen the two-week leave of absence to participate in the camp.

Rotarians Told Stream Sanitation Needs Grow

An engineer of the N.C. Department of Water Resources told Greenville Rotarians last night the state must protect its streams and rivers from pollution if they are to be of use to the people in future years.

A.C. Turnage, Jr., district engineer, division of stream sanitation of the Department of Water Resources, outlined briefly the progress being made in stream sanitation in the state and the steps being taken in the program.

North Carolina, he said, has been divided into 16 major river basins for the purpose of the stream sanitation program. Various segments of each of the rivers and its tributaries are being classified according to the uses which are to be made of them. Turnage pointed out. Municipalities and industries along the streams and rivers, he said, are being required to take measures to treat their waste in order that they will meet the specifications for stream sanitation set for each segment of the various waterways.

The Tar River upstream from Greenville, he said, has received the highest of the various classifications because it is used as a source of water supply for Greenville and other municipalities along the river.

The stream sanitation program, the speaker said, is designed to prevent the pollution and ruin of the state's rivers as greater industrialization takes place and greater demands are made upon these streams. In some of the highly industrialized states, he stated, many rivers and streams have become virtual open sewers because of lack of stream sanitation regulations.

Color film was discussed at last night's session of the photography course being taught at the Greenville Art Center.

It was the second of three classes. Approximately 20 people attended.

The last session will be held next Monday night beginning at 8 p.m. and will cover indoor home lighting and home movie cameras.

Dr. Sam T. White II, who is teaching the course, said last night's attendance was larger than the first session's. Persons wishing to attend next week's session are welcomed, he said. The course is being sponsored by the Greenville Camera Club.

Now, Phone Calls by the Millions

Sixty years ago, when Carolina Telephone was founded, hitching up a horse was about the only way of getting to talk with people any distance away.

Just a few folks in those handlebar-mustache days had those new-fangled phones. Carolina Telephone served about 500 of them in 1900—compared to over 185,000 bright modern phones today. Life has changed a lot in 60 years!

And the telephone has done a lot to make it more convenient. Today you just pick one up to get in touch with someone across the town, or the nation, fast. There's a lot of conversation . . . a lot of convenience and pleasure, too . . . in the 950,000 long distance and 27 million local calls Carolina Telephone handles in an average month.

We're working every day on even greater telephone progress and expansion, to bring more and better telephone service to more people . . . to make your own telephone more useful to you, by helping you reach more people . . . do more things . . . more easily and quickly . . . by telephone.
