Gubernatorial Campaigns Close Tonight In Television Speeches

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Candidates close out campaigning today in North Carolina's liveliest race for governor in a decade. Terry Sanford and I. Beverly Lake will make final appeals for votes tonight in television speeches. Citizens make their choice Saturday in the runoff primary for the Democratic nomination. Lake will spend part of the day in his Raleigh campaign headquarters. Seven television stations will carry his address from Charlotte this evening (10-10:30 p.m.). Sanford will answer questions at a news conference in Raleigh this afternoon (4 p.m.) before going to Greensboro, where his television speech will originate (8:30 p.m.).

Malcolm B. Seawell, former attorney general who ran third in the May 28 first primary. Thursday gave his support to Sanford in the runoff. He made plain he did so on the basis of Lake's attacks on policy the state has followed in meeting problems of school integration. The move caught by surprise some Seawell supporters. Armistead Maupin, co-manager of Seawell's campaign for governor, asserted in a statement that as recently as last Monday Seawell "directly and in forceful terms" said he would not endorse Sanford. Because of Seawell's neutrality, Maupin added, "I refrained from publicly involving myself in the second primary — even though I personally favor Beverly Lake, as do almost all of the active first primary Seawell supporters and county managers who have talked to me." However, C. A. Dillon Sr., Raleigh industrialist who served with Maupin as co-manager of the Seawell campaign, also endorsed Sanford. "I have faith that he will provide the positive leadership which this state needs — in our school program, in our financial program and the life of our people," Dillon said. Lake for governor headquarters in Raleigh released a statement by Superior Court Judge Chester Morris of Coitlock which expressed disappointment and shock over Seawell's endorsement for Sanford. "I would have been disappointed had he endorsed either candidate," said Morris. He said Seawell had given assurances he would remain neutral. John D. Larkins of Trenton, the fourth candidate in the May 28 field, has made no public statement on the runoff. Sanford received 269,463 votes in the first primary. Lake was second with 181,692, while Seawell got 101,148, and Larkins 100,757. Meanwhile, Lake told a Rockingham rally Thursday night that Sanford's campaign has been composed of "promises, promises, promises." The Raleigh lawyer, in his only try for public office since serving as Wake Forest town commissioner some 15 years ago, renewed attacks on the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People. If elected governor, Lake said, he would drive the NAACP out of the state. Speaking on a live television program from Wilmington, Sanford asserted Thursday night that Lake's proposal for a climate of public opinion opposing the state's school policy would "bring thunderbolts of court decisions and thunderbolts of federal troops."

Over 100 Today?

Today's temperature was heading for the highest reading so far this spring or summer, from all indications. Over 100 degrees was expected to be the high.

At 12 noon, Vance Briley Jr. of the Greenville Utilities Plant said the temperature was 99 degrees. That beat the high of yesterday, which was 96 degrees, Briley said.

The highest temperature so far was 100 degrees recorded at 3:45 p.m. on June 13 of this year. Since the hottest hours of Friday were yet to come at press time, the high was expected to pass 100 degrees.

Other Friday temperatures were 77 degrees at 4 a.m. and at 82 at 8 a.m., which is warm for that hour of morning.

Cost Of Living Again Edges Up In May's Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living edged up one-tenth of one per cent in May, setting a new record for the third month in a row.

Reporting this today, the Labor Department announced its consumer price index reached 126.3 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

Higher food prices were chiefly responsible for the rise. As a result of the rise, about 200,000 workers in the aircraft, meatpacking, chemical, trucking and metal working industries will get cost-of-living pay boosts. Their wage contracts have clauses providing for adjustments in relation to living costs.

For most of the workers, the pay increase will be one to two cents an hour.

Despite the slight rise in prices, the buying power of the average factory worker's paycheck rose slightly. Longer hours of work boosted his spendable earnings by 70 cents, or one per cent.

Nevertheless, buying power in May still was 2 per cent below that of a year ago.

Officials Report $1,351 Missing

FARMVILLE—Officials of Varina Wholesale Builders Supply Co. reported that $1,351.49 is missing following a Wednesday night theft.

Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson said the amount was a part of the day's receipts for the firm. A number of checks were also taken from the office of the firm. They were found near the building, however, and undamaged.

She said the department is being assisted in the investigation by the State Bureau of Investigation and the Farmville Police Department.

The robbers gained entrance to the building through a back door. A crow bar was used to pry open the locked door of the office.

The theft was discovered by employees when they arrived for work yesterday morning. They notified Farmville police who in turn called the sheriff's office.

Varina Wholesale is located on U. S. 264 west of Marlboro.

Both Sides Claim Pitt Victory In Pre-Election Day Forecasts

By HENRY HOWARD Reflector Staff Writer On "Election Eve" today, Pitt County campaign managers for Dr. I. Beverly Lake and Terry Sanford predicted victories, in the county and state, for their respective candidates in tomorrow's second primary that will reveal N. C. Democrats' choice for governor.

In the Pitt Sanford camp, Louis W. Gaylord Jr. said, "We feel confident . . . We feel a general swing throughout the county for Terry Sanford." Sanford ran a close second to Lake in Pitt in the May 28 first primary.

Dr. K. B. Pace in Lake's county headquarters thanked his candidate's supporters and declared they "will be amply rewarded, since, from all my reports, Dr. Lake will carry Pitt County with a 2 to 1 majority and will have a state-wide majority of 50,000 votes."

The local predictions were typical of similar contradicting forecasts throughout the state reported by various news agencies today.

Abusive Campaign Dr. Pace attacked Sanford's campaign as one of abuse and unfounded charges. He said friends, experienced in politics, "have told me that this campaign is unprecedented in that a candidate of the caliber and integrity of Beverly Lake has been the target of such a systematic and calculated campaign of abuse and unfounded charges by the press and other political forces."

He pointed out an example in Greenville. He asserted there had been "circulation of biographical material on Dr. Lake stamped with a swastika." Dr. Pace said the intent was to injure his candidate and added the material has been forwarded to "state headquarters and will be sent to Atlanta for examination by postal authorities." He said the material will be examined although it is "no doubt the work of a crank."

Dignified Campaign In Sanford's behalf, Gaylord maintained, "We have tried throughout to conduct the type of campaign which would dignify" the office of the state's governor.

Sanford's county manager reported, "The recognized leaders all over the state have rallied behind Terry Sanford. We do not feel the best interest of North Carolina can be served on a negative, anti program.

"We feel that Terry Sanford has presented a positive program which will be for the benefit and betterment of the people of North Carolina," Gaylord said. Dr. Pace again advocated the program of "experience in education and law, sound finance and tax policy, and ability to deal with problems of integration and the NAACP" upon which Lake has based his campaign.

Official tabulations following the first primary showed Lake leading Sanford 5,328 to 4,725 in Pitt County. Larkins received 1,891 votes and Seawell 555 in Pitt's first primary. Sanford's state-wide margin stood at some 88,000 votes.

Observers predict a somewhat lighter vote for the second primary. On the state-wide level, prognosticators foresee a turnout of between a half-million and 600,000. The first primary produced a record vote for a North Carolina primary. Around 650,000 ballots were cast.

Pitt County, with a registered voting population of approximately 23,000, cast under 13,000 ballots. Predictions of tomorrow's county vote range from 6,000 to 10,000.

In the county, the same polling places used May 28 will be used for tomorrow's second primary. Polls will remain open from 6:30 a.m. until 6:30 p.m.

In addition to the gubernatorial voting, preceded by what many term the state's most bitter campaign, is a single township runoff. Levi Wilson, incumbent constable in Grimesland Township, is seeking to overcome a 36-vote margin given S. Elijah Heath by Grimesland's two precincts.

Heath was seven votes shy of a majority in the first primary since Bill Garris polled 48 votes. Heath led Wilson 229-193.

Election Party The offices of the Daily Reflector will post Pitt County and state-wide returns on its scoreboard used in the first primary.

Police will block off the one block of Cotanche St. on which the newspaper office is located. Seats will be provided for those attending.

Gubernatorial returns from across the state will be provided at the Reflector office by the Associated Press.

House Ovation For Attack On Press Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Recent newspaper and magazine articles on congressional expense account practices stemmed from government efforts to discipline the broadcasting industry, says Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.).

Harris got a standing ovation from the House Thursday when he finished a 1 1/2 hour speech in which he centered an attack on the Knight newspapers and Life magazine.

The Knight papers charged in a series of articles this month that some House members had charged off expenses such as night club bills and liquor tabs on their government expense accounts. Life published a summary of the articles.

Harris, one of several members whose expenses were mentioned, charged at the time that the report was a smear. He said Thursday he had no apologies to make and would welcome a public inspection of any congressional expense account he had signed or approved.

Harris is chairman of the House subcommittee that investigated payola and quiz show rigging. His speech opened House debate on legislation to outlaw such practices. Final House action on the measure may come late today.

He said broadcasters and large publications which own broadcasting facilities "do not want legislation of this kind." He said "pressures began moving in" shortly after the bill received committee approval, but he did not say what form the reported pressures took or where they originated.

Harris repeated several times that both the Knight chain and Life magazine have extensive broadcasting holdings.

Interference In Internal Affairs Of U.S. Charged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter accused Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today of interfering in this country's internal affairs by his talk about President Eisenhower's successor in the White House.

Khrushchev has several times attacked the Republican front-runner, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, and has expressed hope he would find it possible to negotiate with the next administration.

Herter told a news conference that Khrushchev's remarks come about as close to interference in the internal affairs of another country as Herter can conceive of.

At the same time, he refused to be drawn into a discussion of whether the election of a Republican or Democrat as the next President would make any difference in future U.S.-Soviet relations.

Khrushchev's latest comment on the U.S. political scene came last Tuesday when he told a Romanian Communist party meeting he was interested in the election of a new president who would "remedy the mistakes made by the present government of the United States."

Missile Passes Another Test

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — The Gam-77 Hound Dog missile, soon to go into active duty with the Strategic Air Command, has passed another test firing.

The missile was dropped from beneath the wing of a B52 bomber Thursday night and streaked several hundred miles over the Atlantic test range before impacting on its prescribed target.

New Post Office Soon To Be Ready

FARMVILLE — Farmville post officials are preparing to move into the town's long-awaited new post office.

Postmaster Henry D. Johnson told the Daily Reflector yesterday the local mail operation can move into its new $54,000 quarters as soon as an Atlanta Postal Region technician has installed boxes and other equipment.

The technician, Iverson Johnson of Asheville, will require about three days to complete the job after arriving here, Johnson said. "The technician's instructions are here waiting for him as soon as he can make arrangements to come to Farmville," the postmaster said.

Five brand new sections of mail boxes are stored in the new structure awaiting installation. The office's flag pole was erected Wednesday.

According to the postmaster, practically all the office's furnishings and equipment will be new. Some of the old equipment will be transferred to other offices, he said.

The new building is completely air-conditioned and well-lighted by overhead fluorescent light fixtures.

The new office boasts 4,000 square feet of floor space with a 288-foot loading and handling platform in the rear. Adequate parking and loading area has been surfaced with concrete.

New Series Of Demonstrations

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese left-wingers today began a new series of demonstrations in an effort to whip up enough public sentiment to force nullification of the new U. S.-Japan security pact.

Sponsors of today's funeral had predicted 20,000 would turn out, but only about 3,000 showed up.

Estimates about the length of time this Pitt County town has been striving toward a new post office range from 20 to around 35 years. The important thing to Farmvillites now is the fact the office has become a reality.

Officials are "very well-pleased." Dedication ceremonies for the office are now in the planning stage. The event will come, according to Johnson, after the local mail operation in its new location.

The new building is situated between the Fitzgerald and Williams medical clinics on the east side of N. Main St. Dr. R.T. Williams is financier of the project with an extended lease arrangement with the federal government.

Grimesland Is Still Without A Police Chief

GRIMESLAND — The town of Grimesland is still without police chief since Police Chief Bill Ennis resigned Tuesday, Mayor Leslie Elks said today.

Though several applications have been received, the town is still accepting applications Elks said.

He said Grimesland officials "want to get the right one" to fill the position.

Ennis submitted his resignation because "he became dissatisfied after some of the people criticized him" for falling to apprehend more quickly a motorist speeding up and down Grimesland's main street Monday night.

The chief made the arrest about two hours after the incident, Elks said.

Ennis was the town's only policeman, so the town is without any police now.

House Members Ordered Trim Travel Expenses

WASHINGTON (AP) — House members have been ordered to limit their government-paid living expenses to $25 a day while on congressional trips.

The new ceiling adopted Thursday by the House Administration Committee will become effective July 1.

Employees of the executive branch are limited to $12 per diem allowance while on government trips. The committee said Thursday that any members who plan to ask more than the $12 a day for expenses such as hotel rooms, meals, laundry and tips must get approval from their committee chairmen in advance.

But it said up to $25 a day could be paid "where necessary subsistence costs are unusually high" or where hotel bills alone would use up the $12. Members staying within the $12 limit do not have to list their expenses in detail, but those spending more than that will have to itemize their costs.

The ceiling on expenses was ordered following a series of copy-righted stories by the Knight newspapers. The series said some members spent as much as $103 a day on hotel accommodations, food and drink while on congressional trips.

Rep. Omar Burleson (D-Tex.), chairman of the House group that set up the regulations and maximums paralleling those of the Senate and government agencies, prepared a House speech saying that newspaper stories had focused attention on the situation.

Burleson also predicted the House would go along with a Senate proposal to require members to make public how they spend government money on trips abroad. No individual accounting is now required for use of counterpart money — local currencies available from countries receiving U.S. Foreign aid.

He said the new rules should "prevent indiscretions on the part of members and committees" and provide a greater guarantee of information. He anticipated that travel vouchers would be made public in the annual report of the clerk of the House.

Pre-Convention Political Caldron Coming To A Boil

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS With the national convention season just two and a half weeks away, the political cauldron has come to a rolling boil. Some of the bubbles that came to the surface Thursday:

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, front runner for the Democratic prize, snared his largest single bloc of convention votes so far when 91 1/2 of New York's 114 were pledged to him.

—Backers of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas figured Kennedy will have over 600 votes when the convention starts July 11, but said their man would have 502 and claimed his total would swell in later ballots unless Kennedy manages to sweep the board on the first ballot; 761 convention votes are needed to nominate.

—President Eisenhower, golfing in Hawaii after his Far East trip, was reported drafting a reply to mounting Democratic criticism of his foreign policy, particularly the consequences of the cancellation of his visit to Japan.

Eisenhower talked by phone with Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the GOP's prospective nominee, for the first time since leaving on his trip.

Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, said the President "is somewhat puzzled and amused that some of these same gentlemen were saying before the trip it would be a catastrophe if he didn't go to Japan." Hagerty didn't say which Democrats he meant.

Kennedy's New York strength brought his unofficial total of votes to 494, according to an Associated Press tabulation. His camp claims he will go into the convention with more than 600; the AP tabulation counts votes determined by state primaries, state convention actions and polls of individual delegates willing to announce their stand.

Johnson's total in the AP list now is 202 1/2. He got 2 1/2 votes from the New York delegation meeting at Albany, N. Y.

At Trenton, N. J., Robert J. Burkhardt, a close political advisor to Gov. Robert B. Meyner, said he thinks the state's 41-vote delegation should switch to Kennedy now. It presently is pledged to Meyer as a favorite son.

A nationwide movement to draft Adlai E. Stevenson for the Democratic nomination was proclaimed by James Doyle, a 45-year-old lawyer from Madison, Wis.

Doyle had no visible support from Stevenson, who has said repeatedly he is not a candidate, but keeps making speeches like one. Doyle also had no support from the national party chairman, Paul M. Butler, who refused him working space at his headquarters hotel in Los Angeles on the ground that Stevenson would have to ask for it himself.

Stevenson said at Waukegan, Ill., that both parties should keep Mr. Khrushchev out of the 1960 campaign." He added "our elections have always been our own business. Let's keep them that way."

But Stevenson kept up his criticism of Eisenhower's foreign policies and had this to say about the Japanese affair:

"What is clear is the proposed visit to Japan has accomplished just what it was intended to prevent—the Kishi government's authority has been destroyed and the new treaty imperiled."

Pick Firm For Griffon Survey

GRIFTON — Griffon Mayor Wiley Gaskins said today that the town had employed L.E. Wooten and Son of Raleigh, consulting engineers, to make a preliminary survey of water and sewage needs for the town as well as a sewage plant.

Gaskins said the growing town of Griffon has enough water supply for its needs, but that "our problem is that we don't have enough wells." Gaskins said the needs of the town are increasing.

"We have to be prepared for future growth," the mayor said. Gaskins said that nothing will be done until the preliminary survey of the water and sewage needs and the sewage plant is completed. After the recommendations and estimates are known, the Town Board will study them and will probably call a bond election to raise the necessary funds for the project.

He said some action needs to be taken. Griffon's population increased by 338 percent in the preliminary census report, from 510 people in the 1950 census to about 1,827 in the present preliminary census.

Gaskins said that Griffon now has ample water supply, with two wells in operation, one major well and a smaller well. He said the town needs another large well as a standby. Residents now pay a flat rate of $2.50 per month for all the water they use, since the town is on a metered system.

Johnson's total in the AP list now is 202 1/2. He got 2 1/2 votes from the New York delegation meeting at Albany, N. Y.

At Trenton, N. J., Robert J. Burkhardt, a close political advisor to Gov. Robert B. Meyner,

He added that the section of highway which passes through a business section inside the city limits of Greenville has a 20-mile-per-hour limit.

Jenkins, who urged Pitt motorists to driver courteously and to obey the traffic laws in order to prevent accidents, said that other patrolmen in the county would continue their regular patrols in the county during the period that the one officer is assigned to the special patrol.

He also cautioned that the Fourth of July weekend is almost here and urged motorists not to "take any chances," as the roads and highways are expected to be crowded with vacationers during the weekend.

All vacations and days off have been canceled for patrolmen and they will be on duty 24 hours a day over the weekend in an effort to prevent accidents, he added.

Accident-Prone Pitt Highway Again To Have Special Patrol

Pitt County Highway Patrolmen, for the third straight weekend are conducting a saturation and selective enforcement patrol of one of the most accident-prone stretches of highway in the county. . . .

The section of N.C. 11 — U.S. 13 from the intersection of U.S. 264 by-pass on N.C. 11 South to the intersection of N.C. 903 North of Greenville.

According to Patrol Cpt. J.T. Jenkins, Ptl. J.B. Surles of Greenville has been assigned to patrol the 10-mile strip of road for his entire eight-hour duty period for a four day period which began yesterday.

According to Surles, who stopped over 32 cars and made five arrests for violations of the law, yesterday, traffic on the section of highway is "calming down considerably."

Jenkins noted that, for the past two weekends, over 256 vehicles have been stopped and 23 arrests made on the section of highway.

The special patrol is being conducted in an effort to reduce the accident rate on the highway and make drivers who use the road more conscious of the motor vehicle laws.

So far this year, 14 traffic accidents have occurred on the 10-mile long section of road. Six of the collisions have involved personal injury as well as property damage and one of the collisions has resulted in a fatality, Jenkins emphasized.

Jenkins noted that the majority of the strip outside the city has a 55-mile-per-hour speed limit, but he noted that the four-lane section on N.C. 11 running from just South of West End Circle in Greenville to the intersection of N.C. 11 and U.S. 264 has a 45-mile-per-hour limit.

He added that the section of highway which passes through a business section inside the city limits of Greenville has a 20-mile-per-hour limit.

Women of the Moose Holds Installation

Greenville's Women of the Moose, Chapter 1308, last night marked the close of a year and the beginning of another with the installation of officers for the 1960-61 term. The ceremony at Moose Temple saw the retiring Senior Regent, Jo Dees, installed as Junior Graduate Regent, Emily Johnston, the new senior regent; Rachel Hobgood, junior regent; Carrie Oakley, chaplain; Earline Coghill, recorder, and Eva Craven, treasurer. Appointed officers who were installed included: Ruby Presser, guide; Margaret Cannon, assistant guide; Ruth Sutton, Argus; Dot Schlienz, sentinel; and Donna Tabor, pianist. Leon Smith Jr., a past governor of Greenville Lodge 885, Loyal Order of Moose, served as the installing officer. He was assisted by Deputy Grand Regent Louise Carrigan, Bonnie Singleton of the College of Regents, and Ell Bloom, trustee of the Moose Lodge, who served as the installing chaplain. Seven members who qualified for the Academy of Friendship at the most recent WOTM state meeting in Burlington received their pins during the ceremonial. In behalf of the Moose Lodge, Bloom congratulated the outgoing officers on their record of service and credited the position of the local lodge in the state Moose organization to the efforts of the Chapter. "Without you," he said, "we would be just another lodge." Outgoing Senior Regent Jo Dees expressed her gratitude to fellow officers and co-workers for another successful year in the chapter's life. Refreshments were served following the ceremony.

Flynn-Smith Marry

AYDEN—Miss Evelyn Deloris Smith, daughter of Mrs. Jesse Ray Dennis of Ayden, became the bride of Stephen Lee Flynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Flynn, in a candlelight ceremony on Friday, June 10, at eight o'clock. The vows were spoken in the Winterville Free Will Baptist Church with the Rev. Adams Scott, pastor of the bride, officiating. The church chancel was arranged with seven-branched candelabra holding white cathedral candles and baskets of white chrysanthemums, white gladioli with green fern, and ivory panel candelabra. A program of nuptial music was presented by Tommy Manning, pianist; Annette Dell of Norfolk, Va., cousin of the bride, vocalist, sang "Because" and "Savour Like a Shepherd Lead Us." Given in marriage by her father, Luther Cannon Smith Jr., the bride wore a wedding gown of white silk organza and Chantilly lace with long sleeves and a scooped neckline. The basque bodice of lace and waistline of the skirt were accented by draped folds of silk organza panel front and enhanced with appliques of lace. The veil of illusion was attached to the headband of baby's breath and white rosebuds. She carried a white prayer book covered in lace and centered with a white orchid, and white streamers extended from the center of the train. The bride's hair was styled in a soft, wavy fashion. The groom wore a tuxedo with a white shirt and a white bow tie. The ceremony was held in a simple, elegant setting with a white altar and a white canopy over the bride and groom. The reception followed at a nearby location where guests enjoyed refreshments and dancing. The bride and groom are expected to spend their honeymoon in a tropical location. They will be returning to Greenville in a few weeks. The bride's bridesmaids were dressed in light-colored dresses. The groom's best man was also present. The officiant performed the ceremony with grace and solemnity. The guests were well-represented and the occasion was a joyous one for all involved. The bride and groom are both well-known in the community. They are both graduates of local schools and have a promising future ahead of them. The wedding was a beautiful and memorable event for everyone who attended. The bride and groom are now a happily married couple. They are looking forward to a life of love and companionship together. Buffet Supper

GRIFTON—On Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Walter Murphy entertained at an informal buffet supper for Miss Mildred Sellars and Mr. Bob Harris, whose marriage took place on Sunday afternoon in the First Christian Church, the members of the wedding party and out-of-town guests. The Murphy home on East Queen Street was decorated throughout in a pink and white color scheme. In the living room pink and white gladioli were used. In the dining room the buffet table was covered with a pink linen cloth and held a crystal bowl of pink gladioli and pink larkspur. Tall lighted pink candles in crystal holders flanked the center arrangement. As guests arrived they were served tomato juice cocktails and later the buffet supper, followed by individual decorated bridal squares. Miss Sellars was presented a white gladioli corsage by the hosts. Assisting during the evening were Mrs. Wilbur Murphy and Miss Sandra Murphy.

Stork Shower, Dessert Bridge For Mrs. Phillips

GRIFTON—Mesdames Don Casey, W. E. Raspberry, Conrad Hart, Dawn Smith were joint hostesses on Wednesday night when they entertained at the home of Mrs. Phillips at a dessert bridge and surprise stork shower for Mrs. Phillips. The home throughout was decorated with arrangements of mixed summer flowers of roses, pansies, snapdragons and gardenias. Six tables were placed for the stork and on arrival guests found their places at the card tables and were served a dessert with coffee. Mrs. Phillips was presented with an array of gifts from the guests assembled. During the bridge games which followed, highest scores were held by Mrs. Tom Gower, Mrs. Roger Johnson, with the consolation going to Mrs. W. D. Murphy. Others playing were Mesdames Howard Holcomb, George G. Sugg, C. T. Jackson Archie Rogers, Bill Daws, W. M. January, David Parker, John Glenn, Robert Wheeler, Milton Hart, Kenneth Talton, W. E. Hart, Woodrow Smith, Julius Chauncey, G. L. Tucker, Ben G. Tucker, June Owens, Wilbur Murphy, Joe Paul and Conrad Hart. Miss Nelson Has 12th Birthday GRIFTON—On Tuesday afternoon Miss Edna Nelson had as guests several of her friends on the occasion of her 12th birthday. Guests enjoyed bingo and other games in the living room where summer garden flowers were used. Misses Emily and Marian Nelson directed the games and assisted in serving the pink and white decorated birthday cake, ice cream and iced drinks.

Practical Tips Useful At The Produce Counter

RALEIGH—Are you a shrewd snopper of perishable fruits and vegetables? Do you plan for use of these foods quickly to get the most food value, fresh flavor taste, and money value? Fresh fruits and vegetables are not taking a large part of the food dollar. How do you score in buying, caring for, and using them? Mrs. Ruby F. Uzzie, consumer marketing specialist for the N.C. Agricultural Extension Service, suggests that you follow these practical tips at the produce counter. Make your own selection of perishables, do not handle fruits and vegetables unnecessarily, remember the largest is not always the best, avoid commodities that show decay, do not buy merely because the price is low. Consider the fruits and vegetables in season in the nearest production area, see that containers hold full measure, study the market information regarding the current market prices, and carry produce in separate bags from the food store and do not drop or set down roughly. Card of Thanks I wish to express my sincere appreciation for the many acts of kindness shown me during my recent illness, including visits, cards and gifts. NANCY SHELTON Ayden

Miss Wilson Bride-Elect

Miss Claudette Lue Wilson, bride-elect of July 1, was complimented at a floating miscellaneous shower Friday evening by Miss Sadie Rae Brady and Miss Alma Hagans. Upon arrival at Miss Hagans home on Franklin Street, guests were greeted by hostesses and the honoree. The latter was wearing a corsage of white carnation presented to her by the hostesses. Following a brief social hour the guests were served refreshments consisting of iced fruit punch, pineapple cakes, nuts, minis and vegetables thin. The honoree opened and displayed an array of shower gifts. The hostesses remembered her with a piece of her china in her chosen pattern of Charmagne.

Miss Nelson Has 12th Birthday

GRIFTON—On Tuesday afternoon Miss Edna Nelson had as guests several of her friends on the occasion of her 12th birthday. Guests enjoyed bingo and other games in the living room where summer garden flowers were used. Misses Emily and Marian Nelson directed the games and assisted in serving the pink and white decorated birthday cake, ice cream and iced drinks.

GOOD WITNESSES It hardly has to be commented on that the Pitt County Division of the Sanford-Hodges Machine has been drawing freely from the news columns of the Raleigh News & Observer for its advertising material. Not with the greatest stretch of the imagination can this newspaper be called a fair or objective source of information on the gubernatorial campaign. Its radical policies are a secret to hardly anyone. To use its material for support of Terry Sanford is like using one's own lawyer or one's own campaign manager for a character witness. One of the N & O clippings used was one citing support of Sanford by M. A. Huggins. Mr. Huggins' excellent reputation and personal character are readily acknowledged. That does not necessarily render him a competent political witness. Mr. Huggins is a supporter of the lunch-counter disorders in Raleigh and on March 3, 1960, signed a statement calling for racial integration of all phases of community life in Raleigh. # With The Farm Women

By MAIDRED MORRIS
(Items this week from Bertie, Stanly, Surry, Perquimans, Macon, and Hoke Counties.)
Dollar Saving Milk Dishes

In training the leaders in Bertie County to give the demonstration on milk dishes, Miss Lenore Crouser, home economics agent, prepared a complete luncheon. Dishes prepared were cheese souffle, cheese-caraway seed, cabbage casserole, buttermilk-orange drink and parmesan bread. Food prepared ahead and served was pineapple-cottage cheese cake.

Since June is dairy month, the leaders will be urging the club women to always include milk dishes in their menu.

LEADERS TRAIN OTHER

To know how is to teach others. That is Mrs. Glenn Barringer's way of living. She learned how to remodel picture frames at an Extension workshop conducted in the country. Miss Elizabeth A. Watson, home economics agent in Stanly County says that Mrs. Barringer has reworked 16 frames and has conducted a workshop for six other club members since learning how to do the work.

LITTERBAGS

As a result of a litterbag sale campaign, North Surry 4-H Club now has a set of flags to be used at their 4-H Club activities. Mrs. Annie Lou Foster, assistant home economics agent, says it was a two-fold campaign to sponsor good citizenship and to raise money to buy flags.

The club members were happy to receive the American Flag and the 4-H Club Flag to use at their meetings.

FAMILY AFFAIR

Mrs. R.W. Turner of Perquimans

County is remodeling areas of the upstairs in her home. At the same time her daughter Ann is planning and decorating her room as a 4-H Club project.

Mrs. Paige L. Underwood, home economics agent, says Mrs. Turner is co-ordinating color in three bedrooms, two halls and the upstairs bath. She is planning her color scheme from drapery fabric which offers a selection of color.

MAKES COPPER PLANTERS

Mrs. Leona W. Moore has made many copper planters for sale since she attended the district craft workshop a few years ago. Recently she made on dozen planters for sale.

Mrs. Florence Sherrill, home economics agent in Macon County, says that Mrs. Sam Simpson of Cartoogechaye has a plant room for growing flowers as a hobby. To improve her sales, Mrs. Simpson has asked Mrs. Moore to make some copper planters for her so she can display her flowers. Mr. Simpson makes the wooden liner boxes for the planters in his cabinet shop.

Clothing Leaders School

Plans have already been made for the 4-H girls in Hoke County to receive help with their clothing problems this summer. Mrs. Mary Lou Roman, assistant home economics agent, says six women have been trained in "Getting the most from your sewing machine."

The ladies will get a certificate when they have completed the training course. They will not only help the girls with their sewing problems but will also help them in learning how to use their sewing machine.

Notes On The Passing Scene

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Primm and children, Jeanette and Shelia, of Little Rock, Ark. are visiting her sister, Mrs. Ray Humber.

Arriving Saturday evening are Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Whitehurst and children of Asheville to spend a week with his mother, Mrs. D. C. Whitehurst.

Pilot Clubbers are now planning their annual picnic which will take place Monday night at 6:30 at the home of Mrs. E. G. McMullan, 104 N. Library St.

Mrs. Arlean Corbette Teel was transferred to Duke Hospital, Durham, from Pitt Memorial Hospital last night. Her address is Cushing Wing, Room 3094.

Reunion

The family of the late John Henry and Woodie Ann Avery of Pitt County held their second annual reunion on Father's Day at the Piney Grove Church Educational Building. A picnic dinner was served on the grounds.

Among the descendants of the deceased are 12 children, of whom nine were present. This group of eight brothers and four sisters range in age from 50 to 76 years.

The brothers are James, who is the oldest, Walter, John, Herbert, Herman, Reuben, Butler and Chester. The sisters are Mrs. Rita Jones, Mrs. F. H. Wainwright, Mrs. John Pilgreen and Mrs. R. M. Pilgreen. A count this year showed a total of 223 living descendants.

Sour Cream Gives Good Color Accent To Spring Vegetables

RALEIGH — A delightful flavor accent for spring vegetables, fresh or cooked, that's sour cream.

This delicately tart dairy product is cream-white in color, thick and smooth in texture, and has become increasingly popular with homemakers who enjoy adding its distinctive flavor accent to their vegetable salads and dishes, and even to sauces and gravies, and desserts.

June is an ideal time, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture, for featuring vegetable salads and dishes with sour cream, as supplies of this dairy product are plentiful, and most food markets offer a wide variety of spring vegetables.

For a sour cream salad dressing, which goes well with such fresh vegetables as cabbage, cucumbers, lettuce, radishes, and celery, USDA suggests the following recipe: Mix 1-4 cup of pineapple juice and 1/2 teaspoon of lemon juice with 1/4 teaspoon of salt and 1 tablespoon of sugar. Add

1/2 cup of sour cream, and stir until the mixture is smooth. This makes about 1/2 cup of dressing.

Sour cream also works wonders in sauces and gravies. When stirring sour cream into sauces and gravies at the end of the cooking period, add only a small amount at a time and do not allow the mixture to boil. It may be desirable to remove the sauce or gravy from direct heat, then stir in the sour cream, and reheat to simmering.

Many homemakers top their gingerbread, spice cake, and puddings with whipped sour cream. Sour cream may be whipped in the same manner as sweet cream. Be certain, though, to chill both the bowl and beater before starting to whip. Sour cream does not become stiff when whipped, but fluffy and almost doubles in volume. After topping gingerbread or spice cake, garnish attractively with shaved curls of chocolate, chopped pecans or almonds, or crushed peppermint stick candy.

Pots, Pans Need Care

RALEIGH — Be good to your pots and pans. The care you use in being good to them will determine how long they will last.

To avoid discoloration in aluminum utensils, avoid prolonged exposure to strongly alkaline goods and washing compounds. After each use, wash utensil in hot sudsy water, rinse in clear hot water, and dry thoroughly. A fine cleaning powder is recommended for highly polished finishes, soap-filled fine steel wool pads for scouring other surfaces.

Unless a new cast-iron utensil is marked "pre-seasoned" it should be thoroughly cleaned and dried, then covered with unsalted fat and heated for several hours in a warm oven. Even seasoned utensils will rust if put away without being dried after washing.

Copper requires regular care since heat of cooking and exposure to the air cause it to discolor. Special metal cleaners, or salt vinegar or lemon are effective in keeping copper clean and bright.

Hot sudsy water is usually effective for cleaning pottery utensils. Burned-on food can be soaked loose, after the utensil is thoroughly cooled.

Hard-water mineral deposits may be removed from glass utensils by boiling vinegar and water in the utensil. Scorched food may be removed after soaking with water and baking soda. Any porcelain enameled ware utensils not made with the new high quality titanium enamels should be carefully protected against sudden temperature changes and sharp blows. Stainless-steel utensils are easily cleaned with warm sudsy water. It is important not to use high heat since heat stains tend to be permanent.

If these rules are observed, your pots and pans should have a long life.

Household Hints

Some time this summer, why not hang your freshly laundered sheets and pillow cases out in the sunshine for drying, even if you have a dryer?

You'll find real satisfaction in doing this slightly old-fashioned, homely chore—and your linens will smell sweeter and fresher for their hour or two of flapping in the midsummer breeze!

It's almost impossible to keep a lot clean all day long—and he wouldn't enjoy it anyhow. However, all children should be taught at a tender age the importance of cleanliness at mealtimes.

Food should always be preceded by a liberal helping of soap and warm water—on face and hands

The removable porcelain enamel parts of a stove should be washed thoroughly and often at the sink, using plenty of soap or detergent suds. Just be sure that the parts are cold, because water may crack or chip hot enamel.

Singing Convention

There will be a singing convention at the Greenville Church of God, located on Skinner St., Saturday night at 7:45 o'clock. Public and special singers are invited to attend.

TREAT YOUR TOBACCO RIGHT WITH MH-30 AND YOUR TOBACCO WILL BE RIGHT

- Read label on the container to obtain best results
- Top and treat tobacco when it's in full bloom... or when 80% of the plants have begun to shed their first flowers
- Use 1 pint per 1,000 plants
- Use a fine-mist-type sprayer
- Harvest only fully ripe leaves

A single acre of tobacco can produce over 100,000 suckers. No efficient grower can afford the disagreeable and costly 30 man-hours per acre required to pull these unwanted suckers. Let MH-30, the modern chemical sucker control, do it.

MH-30 prevents damage and breakage of leaves from hand-suckering. Growers who use MH-30 correctly save time, money and back-breaking hand-suckering—and end up with tobacco equal to that of hand-suckered.

AN OPEN LETTER

To The Voters Of Pitt County:

During the past several weeks the Pitt County Supporters of Terry Sanford have endeavored to present to the people the positive program of progress Terry Sanford has proposed. This program should be perfectly clear, perfectly obvious to every thinking voter in this area.

We have earnestly tried to disregard as much as possible the smears, half-truths, rumors, false accusations, emotional appeals, race-baiting and scurrilous attacks by his opponent—attacks made not only upon Terry Sanford, but also upon respectable individuals and recognized leaders in every walk of life in North Carolina.

It has been our continued effort to conduct a campaign in keeping with the dignity and respect due the highest office of our state. This we have done openly and above board, and Terry Sanford has expressed clearly to the people of North Carolina his positive, forward-looking position on every issue.

Tomorrow, you the voters, must decide who shall fill the highest office of our state. We believe that you will elect Terry Sanford, a man whose program, whose ability and personal conduct have shown him to be the best qualified to lead North Carolina.

Sincerely,
Louis W. Gaylord, Jr., Chm.

Radio-TV Controls Pose A Danger

Sweeping controls of radio and television passed by the House this week pose a serious new threat as the federal government takes another step toward control of a segment of the mass communication media.

The House-passed measure deals primarily with penalties for rigging of quiz shows and for payola in the broadcast industry which was highly publicized over a period of several months. While most citizens object to the rigging of such shows, and to the idea of payola, there is, it seems to us, a grave precedent being set if Congress passes the existing measure.

Since the quiz show and payola scandals the broadcast industry itself has taken measures to eliminate such undesirable qualities, and to prevent their recurrence. Apparently Congress, if it passes the present measure adopted by the House, will be showing its lack of faith in the ability of the industry to clean up its own house.

Projected further, however, the precedent set by the passage of this measure could bring about more federal control of material that can be used by the radio and television industries. Earlier this year there were efforts to control the political news pertaining to candidates by applying the "equal time" ruling to news as well as other broadcasts of items about candidates. Fortunately this effort was unsuccessful.

If the current measure receives Congressional approval, what is to prevent further inroads into TV and radio programming by the federal government next year, and the next and the next? What is to prevent the ultimate control of material for these communication media by the federal government?

Certainly the control of the broadcast industries should not fall into the hands of federal bureaucracy. If such were to ever happen, the right of free expression and free communication which are important to the basic principles of this democratic nation would be seriously impaired.

Such a situation, of course, could not come about overnight. It would come about over a period of years as federal controls were broadened bit-by-bit with seemingly "good" legislation just as that passed by the House this week.

And therein lies the threat and the danger.

Disturbing Admission Of Error By Officials

Secretary of State Herter's assertion that top officials of the United States erred in their evaluation of the anti-American demonstrations in Japan is a most disturbing admission from one of the top men in the administration.

Correction of the error in initial evaluation of the anti-American demonstrations in Japan were corrected in the belated cancellation of the President's plans to visit Tokyo.

If the world-wide intelligence system of the United States is as efficient as officials say, it is difficult to understand how such an error in evaluating the demonstrations could have come about. If the error was a case of top officials not following the advice of specialists in the intelligence field whose job it is to evaluate such occurrences, the blame must then be upon the administration.

There can be no question about the fact that cancellation of the President's visit to Japan caused a loss of U.S. prestige in the Far East and in other areas of the world. For Herter to assert now that the real seriousness of the demonstrations was not recognized until the last minute is a further reflection upon the United States.

The position of the United States in Japan since the end of World War II should have assured one of the best possible intelligence organizations the U. S. could have hoped to have anywhere in the world. Where, then, did our top officials miss the boat in evaluating the demonstrations and appraising the ability of the Japanese government to cope with them?

Herter's latest statement on the cancellation of the President's visit to Japan leaves much to be desired, and it also suggests that our intelligence on the actual situation which exists in Japan also lacked the thorough consideration it might have received.

Next President To Be Pressured

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Summit conferences are over for President Eisenhower — whose term ends in seven months — that doesn't mean the next President won't go to them.

He'll probably be pressured by Premier Nikita Khrushchev to get together with him as soon as possible. The Russian has already indicated that's what he wants.

One thing seems certain: no future president is likely to go to a summit meeting without much more detailed arrangement than preceded the meeting which blew up in Eisenhower's face.

Khrushchev, of course, has been a kind of diplomatic freak. Compared with the sour, dour, introspective, aloof, isolated and nongregarious Stalin, Khrushchev is a clubby extrovert, an original, diplomatic do-it-yourselfer.

So long as Khrushchev lives and rules, that is likely to be his attitude. His successor, of course, may revert to the Stalin attitude. That's why it is too soon to say summit conferences are now a diplomatic way of life.

But, assuming the next American president will go to the summit, almost surely this will be his procedure.

The foreign ministers will have to meet first and agree not only on what the heavyweights will discuss but what they are apt to reach some agreement on.

For the summit conference which Khrushchev wrecked last May, there was agreement only on a few broad topics the top men should talk about. No thing was worked out in detail.

2. Any summit meeting is likely to be held quickly after the foreign ministers agree it might be worthwhile to hold a summit meeting at all.

In the case of the ruined summit, agreement was reached in December not to hold it until May. At the time of the agreement relations between the United States and Russia were the best they had been since the war.

But those five months' delay were fatal. They left too much time for talking—the kind of talking that threw cold water on prospects for the summit before it ever began.

For example: The Western foreign ministers met and made it clear they didn't expect much from the summit. Khrushchev's mood changed, and he responded in anger. The result: Shouting back and forth.

3. No president ever again is likely to move one foot out of the United States — and expose himself to the kind of humiliation Khrushchev inflicted on Eisenhower—unless he's certain there will be no blow-ups or embarrassing moments before the meeting begins.

Khrushchev didn't expose his hand—his determination to ridicule Eisenhower and wreck the summit—until it was too late for Eisenhower to call the whole thing off. The President had reached Paris when Khrushchev began to act up.

With the benefit of hindsight, it can be seen now the United States, after Khrushchev's anger over the U2 incident, might have sought to find out from him if he was going to the summit in a hostile or cooperative mood.

4. Very careful preparation is certain to be made—before a summit meeting starts—that nothing is done to throw a cloud over it, as happened when the U2 plane was allowed to spy on Russia two weeks before the summit.

Loneliness, loneliness, loneliness. We cannot put ourselves in the place of a person who has had this tragic experience. But certainly if he had any sensitivity at all, he must have come to feel that he was forgotten—forgotten of man and perhaps even forgotten of God.

We know that the latter never happens, but we know also that people can come to believe that it does happen. Here was one of the most tragic circumstances reported in the news columns in recent months. Everyone pondering the awfulness of this situation must be thankful to God for his many blessings and bewildered over the strangeness of it.

Helen Keller's Birthday

When I went for an army induction physical some years ago, I had my doubts that I would be accepted because of extreme nearsightedness.

The time finally came for an eye examination and those in charge took away my glasses. "All right," said the sergeant in charge. "Stand on that line there."

As I said, I'm extremely near sighted and being tall too. I couldn't see the row of thumb-tacks on the floor.

I floundered around for a moment or two. "Can't see it?" asked the sergeant. He took my arm and led me to it.

"Okay, now read the largest letter on that chart."

Alas, I could hardly make out the chart; much less read the letters.

"Well," said the sergeant rather dubiously. "Tell me when you can read it."

With that he took my arm and led me toward the chart.

About six inches away I made out the big "E".

By this time the two physicians on duty had become interested and were watching the goings-on. They brought a tape measure to determine the actual distance and translate it to a formula.

Then they consulted a regulations book to see if I was under the wire.

Well fortunately, even though it seemed unfortunate at the time, I'm able to see 20/20 when I put on my glasses. So to make a long story short, I made it, went into the army and came out in two years.

The point of all this is that I received a letter from Mayor S. Eugene West appointing me chairman of the Helen Keller 80th Birthday celebration recently.

"My first inclination was to ask, 'Why me?'"

Then I realized that without my glasses I could experience perhaps one-tenth of the handicap that Miss Keller had to overcome in life.

Born in Tuscumbia, Alabama, she was stricken with fever at the age of two and lost her sight and hearing. One year later she became mute. Thus she was cut off from all the normal ways of communicating with the world except touch. But for this remarkable woman, this was enough.

I'll tell more of Miss Keller's unusual life in a later column, but most people know that she learned to speak and went on to become a graduate of Radcliffe College.

There'll be no formal celebration of Miss Keller's birthday here, although such is planned in some larger cities for June 27—Monday.

However, for those who wish to do so, birthday cars may be sent to Miss Helen Keller, 22 West 17th St., New York 11, New York.

For those who wish to send checks to assist in Miss Keller's work with the blind, they may be made to the Helen Keller Crusade or Overseas Blind and sent to the same address.

Other Editors Saying No Time To Swallow

(The Tulsa Tribune)

It seems strange to talk about leisurely airplane journeys, but a couple of years ago there was a certain unhurried grace to a transatlantic plane voyage.

There were the cocktails over Massachusetts, the hors d'oeuvres over Maine, the first course over Nova Scotia, and somewhere south of Greenland the staggering meal would be finished with a dash of brandy.

Then there was always time for at least a short nap before dawn and Ireland arrived, and with them breakfast.

But the jet age is turning these flights into gastronomic nightmares. Consider the ghastly experience recently of Mr. Godfrey Sperling Jr., as described by him in The Christian Science Monitor.

His Air France jet was due to leave Chicago for Paris at 8 p.m., so he had prudently caught an early supper at home. But no sooner had the plane taken off than stewardesses began running around with heaping trays of pate de foie gras en gelée and gratin de homard cardinal.

After a brief stop in Montreal, reports Mr. Sperling, eating really got underway. Stewardesses whipped out eight course meals featuring dishes from six French provinces and the last item, corbeilles de fruits, was hardly delivered before there was a rush to clear the dishes and deliver breakfast. Mr. Sperling said he arrived in a very shaken condition.

Now we are contemplating 2,000-mile-hour planes. That probably means that they'll start handing you appetizers as you check in at the Chicago airport and they'll finish the coffee on the bus from Orly to your Paris hotel.

THE CUSTOMER
The Sumter (S.C.) Daily Item

An employe publication of a big corporation recently carried an editorial "What Is A Customer?" Here is the answer which it gave:

"A customer is not an outsider to our business; he is a definite part of it. A customer is not an interruption of our work; he is the purpose of it. We are not doing him a favor. He is doing us a favor by letting us serve him.

"A customer is not a cool statistic; he is a flesh and blood human being with feelings and emotions like our own. A customer is not someone to argue or match wits with. He deserves courteous attentive treatment.

"A customer is not dependent on us. We are dependent on him. A customer brings us his wants. It is our job to handle them properly and profitably—both to him and to ourselves.

"A customer makes it possible to pay our salary whether we are a driver, plant or office employe, salesman or manager. A customer is the most important person in our business."

It is well for every business organization to stress these facts upon all employes. One impolite employe can make more enemies in a day than the rest of the organization can make friends in a month.

bargaining with labor unions. TAX SITUATION
Through the first lobe, the great brain in Washington decides that full personal and corporate income taxes shall be levied on American-flag shipping profits. Through the other, the brain decides that there need be no American taxes, at least, until the profits are brought into the United States carry the banners of Panama.

Most American-owned ships registered under foreign flags carry the banners of Panama, Liberia and Honduras. They are called Panlibon ships, taking that name from the first three letters of the countries whose flags they carry.

Those countries levy scant taxes and their labor laws are lax. However, they offer little protection to these ships. No Liberian gunboat will steam up if an Iceland ship fires a salvo across the bow of a ship bearing the Liberian flag. But that protection, many shipowners believe, is worth less than the tax advantages and the right to

The following is a list of Soviet nationals who during the past 10 years have been declared to be persons non grata or who were removed from the duties assigned to them in the United States by our government:

Yuri Vasilievich Novikov was Attache of the Soviet Embassy, Washington, D.C., later Second Secretary and from 1950 to mid 1952 was Editor of official Soviet Embassy publication, "Information Bulletin," left the United States on January 19, 1953.

Igor Aleksandrovich Amosov, Assistant Soviet Naval Attache, Soviet Embassy, left the United States on February 7, 1954.

Aleksandr Petrovich Kovalev, Second Secretary of the Soviet Delegation to the United Nations and later Assistant Soviet Naval Attache.

Leonid Igorovich Pivnev, Assistant Soviet Air Attache, left the United States June 6, 1954.

Aleksandr Konstantinovich Guryanov, employee of Soviet Delegation to the United Nations, left the United States May 9, 1956.

Ivan Aleksandrovich Bubchikov, Assistant Soviet Military Attache, left the United States June 24, 1956.

Rostislav E. Shapovalov, Second Secretary of the Soviet Delegation to the United Nations, left the United States September 12, 1956.

Viktor Ivanovich Petrov, translator at United Nations Secretariat, requested to leave United States August 23, 1956, which he did.

Konstantin Pavlovich Ekimov, Second Secretary of the Soviet Delegation to the United Nations, left the United States November 30, 1956.

Yuri Pavlovich Krylov, Assistant Soviet Military Attache, Washington, D.C., left the United States January 26, 1957.

Vassili Mikhailovich Molev, Property Custodian, Soviet Embassy, Washington, D.C., left the United States January 28, 1957.

Vladimir Arsenievich Grusha, First Secretary of the Soviet Delegation to the United Nations, left the United States April 19, 1957.

Gennadi Fedorovich Mashkantsev, employee of Consulate Division, Soviet Embassy, Washington, D.C., left the United States April 25, 1957.

Nikolai Ivanovich Kurochkin, Third Secretary, Soviet Embassy, Washington, D.C., left the United States June 11, 1958.

Vadim Aleksandrovich Kiril'uk, Political Affairs Officer, United Nations Secretariat, asked to leave the United States, January 10, 1960, which he did.

This is part of the record which tells the story of the use of official positions to spy on the country for which they have exequaturs. The assumption must be that men in such positions do not spy. Our government has been extraordinarily lenient and has bent over backwards to avoid incidents. Nevertheless, it was forced to take a stand against overt spies.

In this is not included the atomic spy cases, the Judith Coplan case, and a great many instances of economic and commercial experience.

The question has been asked of me as to what use is it to publish such facts? Does it not stir up public opinion? Is this not an example of yellow journalism? Does it not encourage and stimulate a desire for war?

It seems to me that these are wrong questions. The function of journalism is to produce the facts, to dig away into the mass of published and unpublished material with the object of providing the people with the knowledge they should have. Then it is for the people to decide. This is particularly true this year when there is to be an election and the debate among the people must be continuous.

Opinions In Brief

"Wind insurance does not guarantee fulfillment of promises made by political campaign speakers."—Shelby (Ky.) News.

"I am not as worried about Russia as the lack of moral high ground in this country of ours."—Sen. Barry Goldwater (Ariz.)

"A shirt company reports sales up to June 20 the highest in history. Replacing shirts lost in the election should push sales even higher."—Richmond (Ky.) Daily Register.

Schizophrenic View Of Shipping

boss seamen the way it sees fit. WHY UNCLE SAM WINKS
As of last year, about 24,000,000 dead-weight tons were registered under Panlibon flags. Of this, about 10,000,000 tons, mostly tankers, were owned by American companies. Panlibon ships carry about 35 per cent, while American flagships carry only about 15 per cent. The rest is carried by foreign ships, planes and railroads.

But there is considerable reasoning behind this seeming schizophrenia in government. The chief reason is that the United States needs a strong merchant marine in event of war. If American-owned Panlibon ships were forced to register under the American flag, most of them would lay up because it would be unprofitable to operate under American union conditions and American taxes. And rather than lay their ships up, many owners would rather sell them to foreign interests, which might be pro-Communist.

Furthermore, these ships have a certain immunity from attack in event of war. If a Russian submarine should sink a ship flying the Panama flag, all Latin America might be counted upon to add its strength to the fighting forces of the Free World.

A man died in prison recently at the age of ninety-six. When he was thirty-one, he had committed murder and had been sentenced to life imprisonment.

At the end of thirty years he was available for parole. Under guard he was brought out into the world in which he would have to live. It terrified him. He was so distressed over the increased tempo of life and the necessity of his adjusting himself to it at the age of sixty-one that he pleaded to be taken back to prison. This was done, and he remained in prison for thirty-five years longer until he died.

Prison officials said that the last caller this prisoner had had

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Matthew 7:24-29; 21:28-32.

Jesus said those who heard His teachings and lived by them were like a wise man who built his house on a rock. When the rains and winds beat on it, it did not fall.—Matt. 7:24-25.

Those who heard His teachings but did not follow them, were like the foolish man who built his house on sand. When the winds and rains fell on it, it was ruined.—Matt. 7:26-27.

Christ told a parable of a man who had two sons. He asked one to work in his vineyard; he refused, then obeyed. The other said he would help, but did not.—Matthew 21:28-30.

"When Jesus had ended these sayings, the people were astonished at His doctrine: for He taught them as one having authority."—Matthew 7:28-29. MEMORY VERSE—Matthew 7:24.

SPIRITUAL SECURITY IS TO BE FOUND ONLY IN BELIEVING AND OBEYING THE WORDS OF JESUS CHRIST

Scripture—Matthew 7:24-29; 21:28-32.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL JESUS CHRIST is described as being "gentle, meek and mild." So He was, but He could also be stern with those who professed to be sincere and good, but were really hypocrites—"ravening wolves in sheep's clothing," as He said.—Matthew 7:15.

At the end of His Sermon on the Mount Christ told a story or parable to illustrate His preaching, "Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of Mine, and doeth them, I will liken unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock: And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock."—Matthew 7:24-25.

things."—Matthew 21:23-27. Then Jesus told the parable of a man who had two sons. "And he came to the first, and said, Son, go work today in my vineyard. He answered and said, I will not; but after he repented and went. And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go, sir; and went not."—Matthew 21:28-30.

Jesus asked: "Whether of them twain did the will of his father?" They answered, "The first," and Jesus said to them, "Verily I say unto you, that the publicans and the harlots go into the kingdom of God before you."—Matthew 21:31.

"For John came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not; but the publicans and harlots believed him; and ye, when ye had seen these sayings of Mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand: And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it."—Matthew 7:26-27.

it, repented not afterward, that ye might believe him."—Matthew 21:32.

Just a few words from the Rev. Dr. Wilbur M. Smith in Peloubet's Select Notes:

"While it is true that we are living in a new age, an atomic age, the space age, we are not living in a new ethical age. In fact we are living in an age when crime and anarchy are increasing in every civilized nation. . . . The human heart is prone to the same sins today as when Jesus was on earth. Deliverance from these sins and a life of righteousness and moral soundness are still to be found only in the recognition of the sovereignty of God and the supreme authority of Jesus Christ."

When Christ went into the temple, the chief priests and elders asked Him by what authority He taught. In return Jesus asked them a question which they dared not answer, so He said, "Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things."

The New York Yankees, back in a familiar spot atop the American League, rolled into Cleveland tonight for the opener of a four-game series with the third-place Indians...

After their latest winning streak was cut at six with a 2-1 loss at Detroit Thursday, the Yankees have only a half-game lead over Baltimore.

Dodger right-hander Stan Williams (6-1) allowed six hits, but had a perfect game until the seventh, when Ed Kasko led off with a double and scored on Gus Bell's single.

Jim Coates (8-0), the lean right-hander who has won 12 straight games in the fifth, triggered by a triple by Pollard, Coates also had a single in the three-run inning.

The Orioles broke a 3-3 tie with two runs in the 11th at Cleveland, defeating reliever Gerry Staley (7-3) with a bases-loaded walk and Gene Stephens' sacrifice fly.

Cleveland gave Washington two unearned runs in a three-run first inning, then won in the eighth on Bob Allison's throwing error.

Two more runs crossed the plate in the eighth on singles by Wendell Carr and Bobby Perry and an infield error.

With two hits, including his homer, Warren led the All-Stars at the plate. He drove in three of the eight runs.

Wendell Carr, playing his first game with the Graniters, collected two hits to pace the losers.

UNEARNED RUNS The Home Builders picked up five unearned runs in the first inning last night and went on to beat out a 7-2 win over College View in Teen-er League action.

Three errors and two walks led to the first inning rally which gave the winners a lead they never lost.

Kenny Joyner, Chester Walden, and Dan Johnson collected two hits for the losers who outhit Home Builders 7-5.

Denny Hardee received credit for the victory while Joyner was tagged with the defeat.

Reach Finals

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—Don Hedrick, 17, of Lexington and surprise finalist Roger Watson, 16, of High Point were to play 36 holes of golf today for the championship in the 34th annual Carolinas Junior tournament.

Hedrick reached the finals Thursday, defeating Sammy McNairy of Greensboro 2-up. Watson won by the same score over Moe Bethesda of Reidsville.

Watson's big upset came in Thursday's quarterfinals, when he ousted Randy Glover of Cheraw, S.C., 1-up with a birdie on the 19th hole.

He hit a 115-pounder, after 10 holes, and only 1-up after 17 holes.

Hedrick, who won 4 and 3 over Allen Freeman of Greenville, S.C. in the quarterfinals, was five under par in beating McNairy. The Greensboro youngster bogied four of the last five holes, but still finished one under.

All-Stars Capture 8-3 Win Over Industrial Champs

Jerry Warren Homers To Key All-Star Win

By ED WILKS Associated Press Sports Writer

Jerry Warren of Carolina Dairy broke up a scoreless pitching duel in the fourth inning last night with a two-run homer that put the Industrial League All-Stars enroute to an 8-3 win over the Graniters, winners in the first half of season play.

Warren supplied his roundtripper after Cates was hit by a pitched ball. The blow came off Camp who had relieved starter Dan Gordon.

The All-Stars scored three more runs in the fifth, triggered by a triple by Pollard. Cates also had a single in the three-run inning.

Doubles by Boyd and Sasser accounted for two more runs in the sixth and a single by Warren after Sasser doubled in the eighth brought in the final run.

Starter Gene Moss blanked the city champs for five innings. A single by Johnny Foell in the first and one by Ike Riddick in the fifth were the only hits issued by Moss.

The Graniters broke the scoring ice with a single run in the sixth on a single by Heidenrich and a couple of wild pitches.

Two more runs crossed the plate in the eighth on singles by Wendell Carr and Bobby Perry and an infield error.

With two hits, including his homer, Warren led the All-Stars at the plate. He drove in three of the eight runs.

Wendell Carr, playing his first game with the Graniters, collected two hits to pace the losers.

South African Team Leads Ireland Tournery

By JOHN FARROW Associated Press Sports Writer

PORTMARNOCK, Ireland (AP)—Gary Player and Bobby Locke, South African leaders in the Canada Cup golf championship, went into the second round today relying on stout hearts to see them through.

They admitted their bodies were not quite with them as they teed off with a three-stroke advantage over the second place United States team of Arnold Palmer and Sam Snead.

Player, 23-year-old breaker of Portmarnock Links record Thursday, was under the care of a doctor. He's suffering from a bad attack of asthma that left tears in his eyes, made it difficult to breathe and plagued him with aching muscles.

"If it gets any worse I'll never be able to carry out," Player wheezed after tearing Portmarnock apart with a 7-under-par 65. The 43-year-old Locke is back in big time golf after being seriously injured in an auto crash. It even was doubtful at one time whether he would be able to compete in the international event.

But Locke, a four-time winner of the British Open, just refused to pass up this tournament that has brought together two top pros from each of 31 nations.

He's still one of the finest hitters of a ball in the business. He proved it Thursday by taking a 72, which with Player's 65 gave the South Africans a total of 137.

Player said he thought his own 31-34 over the 7,093-yard links was "my finest round of golf ever, remembering how lousy I was feeling with this asthma."

Both Palmer, newly crowned U.S. Open champion, and Snead were under par. Palmer had a 69 and Snead a 71 for a total of 140.

Kneece, Smith Tied For Lead Carolina Open

NEW BERN, N.C. (AP)—Newcomer Al Kneece of Greenville, S.C., and Veteran Al Smith of Danville, Va., teed off together in the final round today, deadlocked at 136 in their quest for the Carolinas Open golf title.

Kneece fired a three under par 67 Thursday to move into a tie with Smith for the second round lead in the abbreviated 54-hole, $2,000 tournament. Smith, whose Harold Thomas, local pro, and his son, Bobby, shot a pair of 78's yesterday to remain deadlocked in the Carolina Open at New Bern.

Both have total scores of 152 which is way below the leaders, Al Smith and Al Kneece. Simon Moye of Greenville shot a 79 yesterday to go with his opening round of 80. His total score thus far is 159.

65 first round score gave him a three stroke lead, carded a 71 yesterday to match Kneece's two-round total.

The two will be in the same twosome today over the tough Conway, N.C. New Bern Golf and Country Club course.

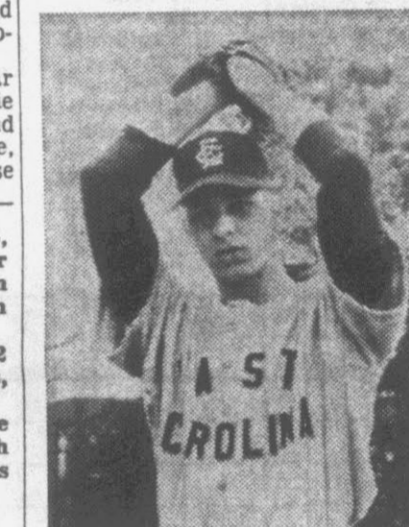

Two strokes behind Kneece and Smith at the start of the final round was Joe Bullins of Winston-Salem, who had a 67 yesterday. At 139 was Charlie Prentice of Columbia, S.C., and another stroke back was Charlie Farlow, veteran Greensboro pro.

Touring pro Jim Ferree of Winston-Salem, who was two over par at the time, picked up on the 16th green and withdrew from the tournament yesterday. He told reporters his golf wasn't good enough.

Jim's father, pro Purvis Ferree, also withdrew after posting a 36 hole total of 75-74-149.

Ellen Signs

Johnny Ellen, East Carolina College sophomore, signed a contract with the Baltimore Orioles last night. The release was made by Orioles scout M. C. Norris of Red Springs, N.C. Ellen, a righthander, has been a regular starter for ECC for the past two years. His hurling was instrumental in carrying the Pirates to two North State titles. Last season, the Garner native posted a 4-3 record, losing only one conference game.

The righthander was to leave today to join the Bluefield, West Virginia farm club of the Orioles in the Appalachian Rookie League. Sources gave the amount of the bonus as between $15,000 and $20,000 although no actual amount was revealed.

Trevathan Snags Large Blue Marlin Off Oregon Inlet

For years to come, Dr. Earl Trevathan of Greenville will be able to relate the story of "the fish that didn't get away."

Fishing off the Oregon Inlet about 40 miles from the coast with a party of six, the young doctor pulled in a 393-pound blue marlin Sunday afternoon.

The blue marlin, considered as a choice game fish by sportsmen, caught by Trevathan, measured eleven feet and put up a struggle for about 35 minutes—a relatively short time for a fish of that size.

Elated over the catch in his first attempt at deep sea fishing for marlin, Dr. Trevathan attributed the short time element to "some skillful maneuvering on the part of the skipper."

In the party with Dr. Trevathan were his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Ray Minges of Greenville, and Dr. and Mrs. Luther Nelson of Ayden.

Credit in landing the popular game fish, Trevathan emphasized, should also go to his fishing partners, Dr. Minges and Dr. Nelson. The marlin was reported to have jumped 15 times while putting up a losing struggle. Skip bait was used by the fishermen with mulet being the luring bait for the 393-pounder.

The party battled two other marlins for around 10 minutes but lost them. Four additional ones were hooked but never landed.

Top Trial Time

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

LE MANS, France (AP)—The favored drivers in the classic 24-hour Le Mans endurance race today predicted the victory would go—as usual—to the best combination of boldness, stamina and luck.

"It could be us, it could be half a dozen others," agreed Dan Gurney of Riverside, Calif., and Walt Hansgen of Westfield, N. J., co-drivers of the Jaguar which posted the best trial time.

"The Jaguar is built for this kind of a race and is always a pleasure to drive," said Hasgen. "The Ferrari and Maserati might have an edge on speed," Gurney interjected "but the Aston-Martin showed last year that it had the staying power."

That assessment pointed to a four-way duel among Jaguars, Ferraris, Maseratis and Aston-Martins.

On numbers, the Ferraris should win. There are 13 factory and private Ferraris among the 56 cars which will line up for the start Saturday.

The weatherman had scant cheer for either drivers or thousands of spectators jamming this carnival-spirited town.

Variable, with possible rain and fog between clear periods, he said. The weather and th trial times made it appear unlikely that last year's winning speed of 112.5 miles an hour would be beaten.

If the Hansgen-Gurney Jaguar, entered by American sportsman Briggs Cunningham, fails to make the grade, observers give Cunningham little chance to gain a victory in his seventh appearance at Le Mans.

The three Chevrolets Corvettes he has entered posted poor showings in the trials.

VAN DYCK MASON'S newest thriller Secret Mission to Bangkok

CHAPTER 31

"I should have told you sooner, but Miss Hollberg turned herself into me." Colonel North told Captain Pokh. "From what she told me I'm fairly convinced she didn't kill Wallen. Tell General Genung that I suggest she be placed under guard in her room but not arrested; not for the time being. Let's keep quiet about her—I want the killer to think she's still being hunted."

"Mary Hollberg is in this hotel?" Pokh asked slowly. His eyes flitted to the connecting door and back to Hugh. The G-2 colonel nodded.

"Yes, she's in there." North said. "She's been hiding in a broom closet all this time. She says she hit Wallen but she didn't kill him. I believe her."

"In hotel all this time," the little captain mumbled.

"Get a detail of policemen to stay with Mary, for her own protection as much as to keep her from trying another escape."

"Use phone again, pliss?"

While Pokh was calling his headquarters, Hugh North went back into Room 439.

"I have been listening and I thank you for believing me," Mary Hollberg said. "Someday, Herr Boyden, I will know who you are and why you are here in Bangkok, but now I ask no more questions. I only tell you I will never forget you. I will think of you often, Herr Boyden—if that is your real name."

When Pokh led her out of the room, Mary Hollberg managed a smile and a wave of one slim hand, capped by the long, long nails that first had told the colonel that she was not the concert pianist she claimed to be.

At almost the instant the door closed behind Captain Pokh and Mary Hollberg the phone on the night table beside the snoring Dr. Bracht shrilled. Hugh jumped for the instrument before it could sound a second time.

It was Anton Carrs.

"Mr. Boyden? Forgive me for calling you at this hour but I believe it is important. Tell me, are you acting in some capacity such as companion or possibly bodyguard to Mr. Henry Barrows?"

"Hugh?" North asked.

"I may be wrong," the director went on, "but I gained that impression. You don't have to answer me if you'd rather not. I called you to ask you this: do you know of any reason why my actor, Lex Ross, should disguise himself as Mr. Barrows, now, in the middle of the night, and wander through the hotel? Or has Mr. Ross suddenly gone insane?"

North tried to keep his voice level as he asked: "Where's Ross now?"

"I don't know. He went to the lobby several minutes ago, disguised as Barrows, and he hasn't returned to this floor. What's it all about, Mr. Boyden—have you any idea?"

"I'll call you back," Hugh said tersely, and hung up.

Hans Bracht (Henry Barrows) was still snoring.

Hugh let himself out of 437 and locked the door behind him. He then used the stairs to go down to the lobby, checking every floor briefly on his way. In the lobby he went to the desk and roused the sleepy night clerk.

Had the clerk seen Mr. Barrows? Oh, yes, honored guest just now walked through lobby and outside. When politely reminded it was five o'clock in the morning, honored guest explained he wanted to go see the opening of the Thieves Market, take pictures.

It appeared to North more to the point to talk to the director than to go chasing after the disguised Ross through the dark streets of Bangkok, so Hugh took the elevator to the seventh floor and pressed the buzzer of Suite Seven-B.

Carrs answered immediately. The pudgy director was clad in a blue watered-silk dressing gown and his feet were thrust into soft kid slippers.

"Did you find him?" was his first question. "What's he up to now, the fool?"

He stood aside to let North in to his suite.

North said, "They said at the desk that he left the hotel, disguised as Barrows, and went to the Thieves Market to see it open."

"The Thieves Market? Why would Ross do such a thing? There's something strange going on here."

North gave a brief, humorless laugh. "You're putting it a little mildly, aren't you?" he asked.

"Wallen was killed, Marchet was killed, I suppose you've heard about Chu Hoong," Carrs nodded. "And the police tell me they've uncovered a big dope ring. There's something going on, all right."

"I mean with Ross," Carrs said. "He—" The director stopped and eyed North speculatively. "Am I right in thinking you have some connection with the FBI, Mr. Boyden?"

"You're the second one who's made that mistake," North smiled. "Lex Ross was sure I was a G-man. I'm not."

"But you're here in Bangkok in some official capacity, right?"

"That covers a wide field, Mr. Carrs," North stalled. "But what did you want to ask me, in case I was something more than a traveling salesman, say?"

"It's about Ross," the pudgy director explained. "If—if it were discovered that a certain person had a link with the subversive Communists in the States, no matter how recent or how far in the past, could he be extradited to face charges?"

"I'm not too well up in my international law," North admitted. "But I'd say it would depend on the charges and Washington's relations with the country that was asked to extradite. Do you mean Ross?"

The director's brow creased. "Let's say I've been wrestling with my conscience," he offered. "America has been good to me and I owe her a great deal and yet I dread to smother an innocent man's reputation. But I have discovered something. Lex Ross is a Communist. He operates under the name of Walter Wells or something like that. I heard rumors of this but I dismissed them as jealous slander. But recently, just before we left California, certain things were brought to my attention—"

"By John Wallen?"

"Yes, John Wallen was one who came to me with stories about Ross but he wasn't the only one. If it had been Wallen alone I wouldn't have paid any attention to it. I know how bitterly the two men hated each other."

"By the way," said North, "how did it happen that you saw Ross when he started out on this tour of his disguised as Bar-

Savings, Loan Branch Opens in Grifton July 1

FARMVILLE — The Farmville Savings and Loan Association will officially adopt a new name and simultaneously open its first branch office, in Grifton, July 1, according to association officials.

The 46-year-old financial institution began in Farmville after July 1 will become the Security Savings and Loan Association of Farmville.

On the same day, the Grifton branch office will officially open under the management of Mrs. Ivy L. Johnson. Preliminary plans for the opening are underway.

The association has assets above $3 million, currently pays a dividend rate of 4 per cent annually, and insures deposits up to $10,000 through the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp.

Association officials told the Daily Reflector yesterday the reasons for expanding to Grifton are that the association "has many members in the Grifton area," and the branch office "will make it more convenient for those members" and provide an opportunity for other prospective investors and borrowers to deal "with a home concern."

"The location in Grifton is evidence that the association has confidence in the community," officials said.

The Grifton office is located in the Wheeler Building on Queen St. in the Southern Pitt town. Furniture and other office supplies are now being transferred to the branch office in preparation for the July 1 opening.

Officers of the association are: J. O. Pollard, president; W. A. McAdams, vice-president; Mrs. J. M. Gibbs, secretary-treasurer; Dan Morgan, assistant secretary-treasurer; John B. Lewis, attorney.

Federal Agents Break Up 'Army' Opposing Castro

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Federal agents have broken up what was believed to be a small anti-Castro army preparing to invade Cuba.

It was reported that some 60 young Cubans, recruited in Miami, were taken to a motel at Key Largo Monday night, apparently to await transportation to Cuba, when federal agents stepped in.

Cuban sources said recruiting was done by former henchmen of Fulgencio Batista, who was deposed as Cuban leader by Fidel Castro on Jan. 1, 1959.

FBI agents in Miami refused to comment on the case and had made no arrests, but they admitted an investigation was being made.

Meanwhile, five top exiled Cuban political figures formed a new revolutionary front against Prime Minister Fidel Castro in Mexico City. They said the Democratic Revolutionary Front (Frente Revolucionario Democrático or FRD) "intends to overthrow Fidel Castro's dictatorship and establish a provisional government for 18 months."

WHAT IS AN ANTI- INTEGRATIONIST?

Terry Sanford speaks of using our heads instead of our mouths in regard to the integration problem. Beverly Lake favors using both our heads and our mouths and has gone so himself in three cases against the NAACP in the U. S. Supreme Court. He won all three cases. Sanford's supporters have asked, "What can Lake do?" The inference is that they believe nothing can be done. Dr. Lake's record against the NAACP in the U. S. Supreme Court proves this wrong. Sanford's attitude is that there is nothing wrong about the way the NAACP program is progressing and that its leaders will pack their bags and softly steal away. WHO BELIEVES THIS?

IS AN ANTI-INTEGRATIONIST A "HATE-MONGER?" According to Terry Sanford he is. He has called Beverly Lake a hate-monger and accused him of trying to arouse prejudice every time Dr. Lake states his opposition to the NAACP and its program. HAS IT NOT OCCURRED TO SANFORD THAT IT IS THE NAACP AND THE SOFT HODGES POLICY WHICH HAS CREATED OUR TROUBLES TO DATE?

THERE IS NO ALTERNATIVE TO OPPOSING THE NAACP EXCEPT SURRENDERING TO IT. Is a person, opposed to surrender to the NAACP, arousing prejudice and is he a hate-monger? OR IS HE A PATRIOT?

Grace F. W. B. Announcements

There will be a prayer session at 9 a.m. Sunday.

The Bible story for the little folks in the Sunday school at 9:45 a.m. is "A Story of Two Boys." The memory selection: "But be ye doers of the Word and not hearers only . . ." James 1:22.

The pastor will bring the message at 11 o'clock. The choir will sing "Deeper, Deeper."

The League will study "The Christian, the church and a world vision" at 6:45 p.m. The pastor will bring the message in the evening worship at 7:45. The prayer session will be conducted each morning during the week at 9:00.

COMING EVENTS: July 7, the Bible College Quartet will present a musical program. July 3, there will be a baptismal service for new members.

Carrs waved a hand at the litter of papers on the divan against the wall to his left. "I have insomnia; I was working. Ross's suite is just up the hall, Seven-C. I heard his door close. There was a scene he was in that I was considering and I thought it would be a good time to go over it with him, clear up some details. So I opened my door, and there was Henry Barrows."

He spread his hands. "You can imagine how surprised I was. But then Lex apparently remembered something he had left behind. He used his key to let himself back into his suite, and came out again a few seconds later. I knew then that he was Lex Ross."

IT'S TIME FOR PITT COUNTY TO GET ON THE BANDWAGON

VOTE SATURDAY FOR SANFORD

Argentina Is Supported By Vague Resolution

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. Security Council has endorsed Argentina's contention that the capture of Adolf Eichmann by Israeli agents violated Argentine sovereignty. But Israel still has Eichmann and obviously is going to keep him for trial.

The council late Thursday adopted an Argentine resolution criticizing the Nazi official's secret transfer from Buenos Aires to Israel and calling on Israel to "make appropriate reparation."

The mild, vague resolution did not ask for Eichmann's return to Argentina, as Argentina had demanded earlier. And Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion already had said flatly Eichmann would stay in Israel to stand trial on charges that, as chief of the Gestapo's Jewish section, he supervised the extermination of six million European Jews in World War II.

In Buenos Aires, the foreign under secretary, Miguel Angel Conzatti, said his government might consider an apology from Israel sufficient reparation. Reports circulated in Paris that Argentine President Arturo Frondizi might not be willing to meet Ben-Gurion to settle their differences finally.

Both Argentines and Israelis at the U. N. expressed satisfaction with the Security Council's handling of their dispute.

The vote on the resolution was 8-0, with Poland and the Soviet Union abstaining. Argentina, the 11th member of the council, did not vote, being a party to the dispute. Israel, not being a member of the council, could not vote.

The United States, Britain and France said they considered that reparation had already been made to Argentina with the Israeli apology and adoption of the resolution. They termed the case closed.

Set Of Quads For Grandmother

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A 32-year old grandmother is in the Naval Hospital here awaiting the birth of quadruplets, the Navy said.

A spokesman said Minnie Laura Box, wife of an airman, was expecting around Aug. 21 but was hospitalized early when X-rays confirmed the multiple birth.

Mrs. Box and her 40-year old husband, Chief Aviation Technician Thomas A. Box, already are parents of four children, 20 years to 20 months old. They have been married 22 years.

Quadruplets occur only once in about every one million confinements.

The prospects of four more children may force Box to change plans. He said he had hoped to retire from the Navy and enter the ministry in 1964. Now he doesn't know.

"Pray for us," he said.

Record Rainfall For Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Louisville newsmen have figured 5.196, 655,259 1-3 gallons of water fell on Louisville during Thursday's rain storm.

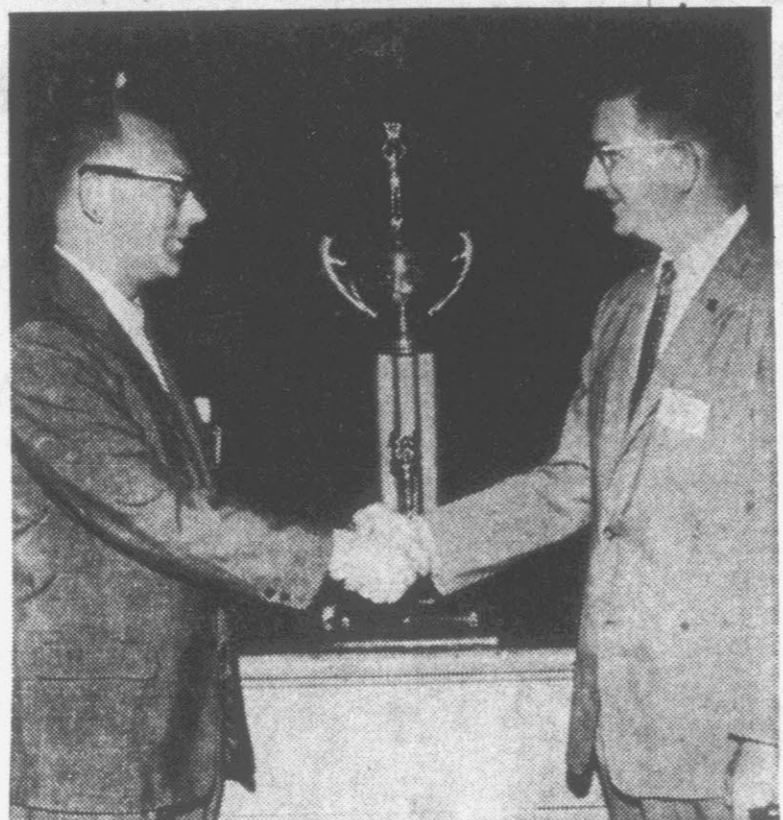

After a new record was set when 5.14 inches of rain fell in a nine-hour span, a Louisville Courier-Journal story reasoned:

"The United States Weather Bureau says that one inch of rain on one acre of grounds contains 27,143 gallons. And, since the area of Louisville is 58.2 square miles, with 640 acres to the square mile, it's all simple arithmetic."

The same mathematical newsmen figured the rain weighed 21,682,247 tons.

ACCEPTS AWARD

Carl Kinlaw of Greenville is shown, right, above, accepting the Peterson Trophy presented by G. Reid Marsh, president of the North Carolina Association of Life Underwriters at the state convention held at Pontana Village June 16-18. Kinlaw accepted the trophy in behalf of the Pitt County Association of which he is president. Pitt was chosen as the outstanding local unit of the year in NCAU. The Peterson Award was established by M. W. Peterson of Charlotte during his NCAU presidency in 1951.

Toothless, But Can Eat Chicken

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—A toothless cab driver downed seven fried chickens in one of those "all you can eat" deals at a Pensacola drugstore.

Jim Ferguson wandered into the store Thursday, spotted an "all the chicken you can eat for 99 cents" sign and told the fountain manager to "start frying and don't stop."

Major Jimmerson scoffed. "If you eat five chickens it won't cost you a cent," he said. Two hours later seven chickens had been eaten.

"I haven't got a tooth in my head," Ferguson said. "It's kind of hard to get the meat off the bones."

The cabbie said his last full course meal had been on Wednesday. What did he eat then? "Why, chicken, naturally. I love it."

"CLOSED" SCHOOLS

This has been the most commonly used misrepresentation of the Sanford-Hodges Machine, as everyone in Pitt County is well aware. What Dr. Lake actually said was: "I COULD NOT CLOSE THE SCHOOLS IF I WANTED TO AND I DO NOT WANT TO!"

A brief look at the 3 sections of our legal code affecting this is quite sufficient to bury the charge of "closing" the schools forever—but do not expect it to be buried.

1. The Constitution of North Carolina requires that the state maintain a free and uniform system of public schools. NO GOVERNOR CAN EVADE THAT STIPULATION.
2. The Pearsall Plan, NOT WRITTEN BY DR. LAKE, CONTAINS A PROVISION FOR CLOSING SCHOOLS in "an intolerable situation," but only if approved by the voters of the school district. THE GOVERNOR CANNOT CLOSE THE SCHOOLS UNDER THIS LAW. The constitutionality of this law has not been tested.
3. The Pupil Assignment Act, WRITTEN BY DR. LAKE, CONTAINS NO PROVISION FOR CLOSING SCHOOLS. This law has been tested in the courts and has been declared constitutional. THIS LAW, NOT THE PEARSALL PLAN, HAS BEEN THE BASIS FOR OUR DEFENSE IN SCHOOL SUITS BY THE NAACP.

These incontrovertible facts will not prevent tSanford-Hodges Machinee from making the charge of "closed schools" up to the very last minute, but these charges will be considered in relation to the legal facts by an informed public.

New National JC President

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Morgan J. Doughton of Allentown, Pa. is the new national president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Doughton was elected on the sixth ballot Thursday defeating Howard J. Thomas, 33, of Silver Springs, Md., who had been touted as a sure winner.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE OF SALE
Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in that certain Deed of Trust, executed by Joe J. Harper and wife, Christine S. Harper, on the 12th day of September, 1952, and recorded in the Public Records of the County of Wayne, North Carolina, at page 402, in the Pitt County Registry, North Carolina, default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness thereby secured, the undersigned, who was duly appointed substitute trustee by instrument recorded July 25, 1957, will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder for cash at the Court House door in Greenville, Pitt County, North Carolina, at 11:00 A.M., on Monday, July 11, 1960 the property conveyed in said Deed of Trust, described as follows, to-wit:

"BEGINNING at a stake on the southern property line of Overlook Drive; said stake being a common corner of Lots 18 and 19 in Block 'G', of Elmhurst Subdivision; said stake also being located 130 feet from the point of intersection of the extensions of Overlook Drive and Woodland Drive, and running thence from said stake and point of beginning and with the southern property line of Overlook Drive in an easterly direction 105 feet to a point; thence around a curve, having a radius of 25 feet and a deflection of 90 degrees, to a point located on the western property line of Woodland Drive; thence from said point and with the western property line of Woodland Drive and in a southerly direction 75 feet to a stake, a corner; said stake also being a common corner of Lots 18 and 19 in Block 'G', of Elmhurst Subdivision; thence from said stake and in a westerly direction 130 feet to a stake, a corner; thence in a northerly direction 100 feet to a stake, the point of BEGINNING; being all of Lot No. 19 in Block 'G' of Elmhurst Subdivision, Addition No. 1, as shown on a plat prepared by Thomas W. Rivers, C. E., dated January 1950, and recorded in Map Book 5, at page 16, and being also the identical property conveyed by E. H. Taft, Jr. and wife, Helen Fleming Taft, et al. to Joe J. Harper, by deed dated January 9, 1952 and recorded in Book 7-26, at page 376 in the Pitt County Registry."

This conveyance is made subject to Restrictive Covenants of record in Book 8-25, at page 78 in the Pitt County Registry. This sale will be made subject to all outstanding taxes and municipal assessments. A ten (10) percent deposit will be required of the highest bidder, to be held open for ten days after filing of the report of sale, as by law provided. This is the 10th day of June, 1960.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA) — North Carolina poultry markets: fliers and broilers, steady to slightly stronger. Farm price 16 to 17 1/2.

Eggs — prices paid for clean, graded, sized, minimum 80 per cent A quality: Raleigh and Charlotte steady, large 35; Asheville market unreported.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved unevenly in active trading early this afternoon with most price changes narrow except for a few volatile issues.

Wall Street seemed beset by a weekend caution following two days of a fairly vigorous rally. Some hesitancy was ascribed to the international situation, made additionally nervous by the attempt to assassinate the president of Venezuela.

Steel and rails managed a slightly higher tone on balance while motors and oils slid irregularly lower.

Some of the drugs as well as recent speculative favorites were hit by stop-loss sales.

High-priced International Business Machines continued in favor, gaining about 8 points. Magnavox was helped by a published prediction of record earnings and was up more than a point.

Pfizer skidded more than 2 and Parke, Davis more than a point as these recent gainers dipped enough to touch off a flock of stop-loss orders. Schering rose more than a point.

Automatic Canteen was off about 2. Loss of more than a point were shown by Vendo, Universal Match and NAFL.

Martin Co. dropped about 2 despite the award of contracts for continued production of Lacrosse missiles. Texas Instruments was ahead a point-plus.

While Bethlehem, U.S. Steel, and Jones & Laughlin picked up fractions, Republic Steel dropped a point.

Mcquay-Norris dropped 3/4 to 18 on a big 14,500-share block.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 1.40 at 646.1.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .10 to 23.60 with the industrials down .20, the rails up .20 and the utilities unchanged.

Top-grade corporate bonds were firm in a slightly higher list.

U. S. government bonds drifted lower in very light transactions.

Big Dope Ring In Charlotte Found

CHARLOTTE (AP) — A huge dope ring, located within shouting distance of Federal Court, was smashed here today by federal agents and Charlotte police.

Three women and two men were arrested and warrants were signed for another Charlotte man. Police were searching for him.

Det. Capt. W. A. McCall said several other arrests will probably be made in the future in connection with the undercover raid.

Arrested today were:

Julia May Williams of Charlotte, charged with illegal possession of narcotics, and illegal possession of a hypodermic needle.

Charles Martin Starr, 36, charged with selling narcotics to a federal undercover agent and with illegal possession of narcotics namely morphine, pantapone, cocaine and blaubauid.

Scout Camp Has Elks Scholarship Is Presented Here

137 Enrollees

One hundred thirty-seven scouts and leaders enrolled at Camp Charles for the week of June 19-25, it was announced today by officials of the East Carolina Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The activities for the week include handicraft, nature study, marksmanship, archery, rowing, canoeing, swimming, and the like.

All scouts working on the requirements for the second and first class ranks will be given the opportunity to complete the necessary work. Older scouts will be offered instruction in the outdoor merit badges.

The camp director and the members of the camp staff will help the unit leaders to provide each camper instruction in the basic scouting skills.

Some of the campers enrolled at camp this week are as follows:

Troop 340, Greenville, Jonathan Wilfong; Troop 33, Greenville, Charles Boyd; Troop 15, Bethel, Bill Staton and James David; Troop 404, Bell Arthur, Alex Lloyd, Danny Baker, Roger Vandford and Arthur Stancil.

ELKS FOUNDATION SCHOLARSHIP . . . Vickie Avery receives award from E. A. Williams.

Vickie Gwendolyn Avery last night was presented a $600 Elks National Foundation scholarship award at the regular meeting of Greenville Elks Lodge 1645.

Miss Avery is one of six high school graduates in North Carolina to receive an award.

E. A. Williams of Goldsboro, president of the North Carolina State Elks Association, presented the scholarship before members of the lodge and guests.

Miss Avery, who plans to study for a career in nursing, was one of six Rose High School graduates to apply for the Elks scholarship. Applicants must be high ranking students. The applications were forwarded to the Elks National Foundation and she was adjudged one of the winners.

Lodge Secretary W. G. Norman said this is the first time there has been a local winner of the scholarships.

Miss Avery is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Avery and they live at 605 Maple St.

Her parents were guests of the lodge last night. Other guests were J. H. Rose, superintendent of city schools and O. E. Dowd, principal of Rose High School.

Exalted Ruler W. H. Watson presided over the meeting.

Rotarians Given 2 Solutions To School Problem

BETHEL—Rudolph Hughes Jr. told Bethel Rotary Club members this week that there are two solutions to the problem of better education.

The solution, he said, are to provide better schools and for parents to take more interest in schools.

Hughes, a student in electrical engineering at State College, Raleigh, spoke to Rotarians on the subject, "Better Education." He said parents should show an interest in their children and give them encouragement, helping them to do their best.

He mentioned a lack of discipline and the fact that many students are not properly prepared for college.

Hughes was introduced by Rotarian A. M. McWhorter, who was in charge of the program. Ronald Riddick gave the invocation and President Bob Martin presided.

Mrs. L. McWhorter Hughes, their two sons, Alton and Clifton, accompanied Hughes on a brief visit from Raleigh to Bethel for the Rotary program.

Theodore Roosevelt was police commissioner of New York City in 1895.

Pitt Residents At Cancer Clinic

ROCKY MOUNT—Residents of Ayden, Grifton, Greenville, Williamston and Winterville were among those attending the cancer detection and diagnostic clinics held here Wednesday.

Thirty-six persons were examined in the clinics by physicians of Edgecombe and Nash Counties. These clinics are held each Wednesday at the Rocky Mount City Health Dept., 1616 W. Thomas St., Rocky Mount, and are open only to persons 35 years of age and older regardless of race or ability to pay.

Persons examined included 2 white men, 27 white women, 7 Negro women and no Negro men. Only four of the examinees had been referred to the clinic by a physician.
