Demo Legislative Program To Get Under Way Aug. 8

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—Sens. John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson, the Democratic presidential and vice presidential nominees, agreed today to press a wide-scale, multibillion-dollar legislative program in the Congress session beginning Aug. 8 and to appeal for bipartisan support for it.

Special VOA Transmitters To Avoid Interference

GIANT VOA TRANSMITTERS . . . get specifications checked by technicians at construction site in Syracuse, N. Y. Officials say delivery to VOA sites will come late this year.

The Daily Reflector learned today the six ultra-powerful transmitters being built for the new Voice of America installation surrounding Greenville will include special equipment to avoid interference with surrounding communications.

Spokesmen for General Electric said the 250,000-watt short-wave radio transmitters—five times as powerful as the largest allowed for commercial radio broadcasts in this country—are being equipped with "harmonic filters."

This special equipment, engineers say, will prevent interference with radio and television stations

Chicago Pool Is Again Scene Of Racial Clash

CHICAGO (AP)—For the second time in as many days Negroes and white persons clashed at the Bessemer Park swimming pool on the South Side Friday night.

Each incident erupted after some 50 Negroes had arrived at the pool used mainly by white persons. A menacing crowd of 750 gathered Friday night as members of both races flung fists, rocks and insults at each other.

Fourteen persons were arrested, charged with either disorderly conduct or unlawful assembly. They were released on bond.

More than 100 policemen were called out to quell the fighting. Two policemen suffered black eyes.

The first night's disturbance resulted in 21-day jail sentences for two Negroes on disorderly conduct charges. Charges against five other persons, white and Negro, were dismissed.

Negroes have used the Bessemer pool in the past but never in such large numbers. The pool is in a predominantly white neighborhood, but Negro neighborhoods are nearby.

the short Congress session was held in abeyance until he and Johnson can learn how much defense money already appropriated has been "impounded" by the Eisenhower administration.

Johnson made public a letter he addressed Thursday to Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. asking for such a report.

The letter, sternly phrased, asked Gates to report on how funds are being used and to report also on what steps have been taken or are planned to eliminate "wasteful" practices at the Pentagon.

Kennedy told a jam-packed news conference at the summer home of his father that he and Johnson sat up late discussing the legislative program for the hotly debated August session of Congress.

"The agenda is long," Kennedy said. "The unfinished business covers a wide range of fields, all of them of key importance to the American people."

"There are such key issues already on the calendar (the Senate) whether to press this proposal in calendar of bills awaiting action) as medical care for the aged, housing, aid to education, mutual security appropriations, and minimum wage legislation.

"We intend to devote our full energies to the enactment of this program, and we will leave our principal campaigning until the end of the session. We hope to have the cooperation of the Republicans and their candidate."

Kennedy said the points outlined do not represent the whole program planned.

He said he is in contact with the House Agriculture Committee exploring what farm legislation it might be possible to enact.

He said he also would contact the chairman of various committees to explore whether there is any possibility of enacting civil rights legislation.

Johnson said he expects Congress to meet six days a week, starting its session early and working into the night.

A reporter told him Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican standard-bearer, has suggested that the Senate refrain from voting on important bills on Saturdays lest it embarrass any nominees.

Johnson replied tartly that he hasn't observed that it has made any difference to Nixon's plans in the past whether the Senate was in session or not. For the forthcoming session, he said, he believes "the people's business comes first."

Kennedy said he also hopes that Congress will enact legislation to legalize picketing on construction sites where several unions represent the workers but not all the unions are striking.

The program envisaged by Kennedy and Johnson normally would take much longer than three weeks to jam through Congress. However, this is a campaign year, and Johnson is the Senate majority leader.

This is far from the whole story, however. They could face dissent from some Democratic Congress members on some of the items, and President Eisenhower hasn't lost his power of the veto.

Tropical Storm Goes Northward From Carolinas

Tropical Storm Brenda continued northward toward New England today after giving the Carolinas a windy shower bath and bringing some welcome cool weather Friday.

The Weather Bureau said skies would clear today in the two-state area and temperatures climb back into the 80s.

Brenda never came ashore in the Carolinas, but her effects were felt far inland, and the coastal areas got some rough, windy weather for awhile.

Charleston, S. C. got more than six inches of rain, flooding residential areas. Tides rose above normal and the surf was fairly heavy. The freighter Vermont went aground at high tide about midnight Thursday some 45 miles southwest of the city.

Steady winds of 40 to 50 miles an hour pounded Wrightsville Beach, N. C. and gusts up to 60 miles an hour were recorded. Monhegan City had much rain and fairly heavy winds. Manteo received 3.62 inches of rain in a 24-hour period and winds of more than 40 miles an hour. At Wilmington, 3.5 inches of rain fell. Winds blew the roof off one home and felled several trees.

Hatteras got 1.64 inches of rain. Well inland, Raleigh registered 2.55 inches. Other inland points, such as Charlotte and Winston-Salem, had only fractions of an inch.

Near Ingrid in Sampson County, N. C., two cars collided on U.S. 701 during a heavy rain. Charlie Dees, 40, and Robert Johnson, 25, of Garland, N. C. were killed.

Inquest Date In Farmville Is Set

Pitt County Coroner E. W. Harvey said this morning that an inquest into the death of a 15-year-old Farmville youth who allegedly fell from a moving car July 6, near Farmville, will be held in the Farmville City Court Room at 8 p.m. Monday.

Harvey noted that Joseph Howard Stepps of Contentnea St., Farmville was dead on arrival at Pitt Memorial Hospital where he was taken by the driver of the car in which he was riding when he fell.

Christian Burial To Be Refused

OSBALDWICK, England (AP)—An Anglican vicar has warned he will refuse Christian burial to a motorist who gets killed because he was drunk, careless or just showing off.

"Anyone who throws away his life in such a way is morally guilty of suicide and should not get a Christian ticket to heaven," said the Rev. Anthony Barnard, vicar of Osbaldwick.

YDC Schedules Campaign Meet

HENDERSONVILLE, N. C. (AP)—The Young Democratic Clubs of North Carolina will convene in Charlotte Aug. 6 to plan for the fall-political campaign.

A member of the staff of Sen. John Kennedy, Democratic presidential nominee, will address the rally.

The announcement was made Friday by Monroe Redden Jr., YDC president and a Hendersonville lawyer.

Among the guests at the rally will be four Democratic nominees for Congress. They are David Henderson of Wallace, Third District; Horace Komeray of Greensboro, Sixth District; David Clark of Lincolnton, Tenth District, and Roy Taylor of Black Mountain, Twelfth District.

Wet, Near-Deserted Street In Wake Of Rains

TROPICAL STORM BRINGS HEAVY RAINS . . . Evans St. glistens in late afternoon as store lights come on. (Reflector Photo by Stuart Savage).

Tropical Storm Dumped Over Four Inches Of Rain, No Great Damage

A tropical storm passing off the North Carolina coast yesterday dumped over four inches of rain on Greenville and caused minor flooding along state and U.S. highways in Pitt County.

In Bethel, Mayor Clifton Everitt said residents with five-inch rain gauges reported they had spilled over during a two-day period, indicating that heavier amounts of rain fell in some parts of the county.

Ayden and Grifton also reported heavy rains, but no real damage has been reported so far to property.

Ayden Town Manager Cleveland Paylor said the town's street light controller was shorted out because of water on Wednesday night, and the town borrowed another controller from Apex, in Wake County, to service the system until Ayden's is repaired.

Paylor said the street lights remained out Wednesday and Thursday but were back on Friday night. Paylor reported some streets in the southwest section of Ayden, a new development, were under water during the storm yesterday. However, shortly after the rain subsided, the water drained off.

In Grifton, some dirt streets were washed, and minor electric difficulty was experienced when a limb fell and snapped a line, Police Chief Roy Jackson said.

Mayor of Bethel Clifton Everitt said that Grindle Creek near Bethel is over its banks and has flooded some fields adjacent to the canal. However, no flooding nor damage was reported in Bethel.

In Greenville, City Manager Leonard Bloxam said some dirt streets washed and a few other spots which were being filled in and patched were washed slightly. Bloxam said there are "always a few places where the storm sewer system can't take it all at once," when there is an unusual heavy rain. These places eventually drained, however.

Only minor electric difficulties were reported, Bloxam said, and just a few customers were affected in rural areas.

He reported that the cause of damage during this storm, and in most instances, winds were between 14 and 20 miles per hour. J. M. Fleming of the Greenville Utilities Plant said today.

Bloxam reported that during the evening, some gusts up to 45 miles per hour were recorded here in Greenville.

Water was high in 15 to 18 places on state and U.S. roads during the storm. V. F. Johnson, maintenance supervisor of the N. C. Highway Commission, said.

He reported most of the rain fell between 7 a.m. yesterday and 7 p.m. last night. Calls began coming in about road conditions by 7:30 Friday night.

Johnson said water congregated in the lower sections of creeks and swamps around Belvoir. High water was reported on N.C. 121 between Bruce and Farmville and on U.S. 258 between Fountain and Farmville.

There are several roads in the Clayroot area which may experience high waters, Johnson said, because of high creeks which will flood in low places. Several roads near Bethel this morning were covered with water.

All paved roads were reported clear this morning though some dirt roads are under water, Johnson said.

Fleming said the Tar River level has almost doubled in level since yesterday. It is now at 8.5 feet; but no flooding will result from this river.

Secession Move Fought By Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Congolese leaders stood adamant today for immediate U. N. action against secession of the Katanga Province, despite reported pleas for moderation by U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

"Our position has not changed," said Information Minister Anicet Kashamura after Hammarskjold had met with the Cabinet.

Asked whether the secretary general had made any concrete proposals to deal with the crisis, Kashamura replied, "It is not up to him but up to us to make proposals."

Hammarskjold was reported trying to convince the Congo's leaders that any rash act at this delicate stage would plunge the nation into disaster.

"We must act with wisdom and avoid violence," he was quoted as saying.

Kashamura told the newsmen his government wants immediate action to secure Congolese unity and achieve evacuation of Belgian troops.

After a three-hour Cabinet meeting a joint U.N.-Congolese communique announced the creation of a ministerial committee to execute decisions of the U.N. Security Council regarding the withdrawal of Belgian troops from the Congo, including Katanga.

The committee will consist of six Congolese ministers, including Premier Patrice Lumumba and Foreign Affairs Minister Justin Bomboko.

"This committee will work in close collaboration with the United Nations secretary general to execute integrally the two resolutions of the U.N. Security Council, particularly concerning the problem of the Katanga," the communique said.

Katanga's Premier Moise Tshombe announced his province's secession after violence swept the newborn African republic. Continuation of the Katanga's autonomy could spell doom of the economic life of the rest of the Congo.

Kashamura said the Congolese government will insist that the U. N. Security Council resolution calling for evacuation of Belgian troops from the Congo be carried out right away.

Almost at the same time a U.N. spokesman announced that Belgium had agreed to take immediate steps to evacuate 1,500 soldiers from the Congo to Belgium.

Historic Debate Series In Works

CHICAGO (AP)—An electronic face-to-face duel of wits between the Republican and Democratic presidential nominees was in prospect today.

Plans call for an unprecedented series of televised debates between Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the GOP nominee, and Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic candidate.

The rules: no notes, no text of any kind.

Kennedy already has accepted invitations from the three major television networks to appear in a series of TV debates with Nixon during the presidential campaign.

Nixon told a news conference Friday that American voters could assume they will see a TV debate between him and Kennedy this fall.

Nixon added that any such debates should be "completely without notes, no text of any kind, so the candidates can cover a whole range of subjects."

Under these conditions, Nixon said, the candidates would show what they know, "not what the advisers know."

At Hyannis Port, Mass., Kennedy said Nixon's off-the-cuff ground rules were satisfactory to him.

Indict Man On Murder Count

Delma Wilkins, Negro, who first admitted, then denied he killed a second Negro at Bruce early yesterday morning, was indicted for murder by investigating sheriff's deputies yesterday.

The 42-year-old Route 1, Roper, Man was taken into custody by Deputies Duke Andrews and Gerald Davis at the scene of the shooting, a building at Green Wreath Park on the T. M. Moore Farm at Bruce.

Officers, who identified the murder victim as Wilbert Tredwell, also of Route 1, Roper, said the two Negroes were migrant tobacco workers and were employed by W. A. Eastwood, tenant on the farm.

According to Pitt Coroner E. W. Harvey, Tredwell was shot once in the chest and once in the cheek with a .22 caliber pistol. Two projectiles were found in the woodwork in the room where the body was located, Harvey added.

The gun was found on the floor beside the dead man.

The coroner said Wilkins at first admitted the shooting but later denied it. Harvey quoted him as saying Tredwell hit him (Wilkins) with a stick and knocked him "out" and later, after officers had been questioning him, said "I am still out."

According to Pitt Sheriff R. W. Tyson, Wilkins "will probably be given a preliminary hearing Monday."

Sink Gunboat Of North Koreans

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—The South Korean navy reported sinking a North Korean gunboat in a running gun battle today—the first confirmed sinking of a Communist naval craft since the 1953 armistice ending the Korean War.

Four South Korean sailors were injured aboard their destroyer escort. The Navy said the action lasted five minutes and was carried out at a range of 5,000 yards.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Government soldiers killed five Communist rebels and sank two Red junks in three skirmishes beginning July 19 over a wide spread area in South Viet Nam, press reports said Friday. Government losses were not revealed.

City, County Schools Able To Meet Needs In Fall

By PATRICIA MOORE Reflector Staff Writer

A preliminary check with city and county school officials shows that adequate facilities will be available for all students this fall, though J. H. Rose says the Greenville City Schools are "just even" with growth of student enrollment.

No classes will be conducted in halls, and there will be no double shifts in Greenville or Pitt County. Supervisor of County Schools, Arthur Alford, and City School Superintendent Rose said.

Rose continued that additions to certain city schools have been under consideration for some time and he hopes work can begin in some instances in the next three months.

School officials are working on plans for lunchrooms for the C.M.

Eppes School and Fleming Street School in Greenville. Contracts may be let in the next 90 days, Rose said.

Discussing facilities in the city school system, Rose cited the need for a junior high school for the city.

At the present time, facilities are "just even" with student enrollment. School construction in Greenville has been going on since 1949, with officials trying to keep abreast of increased school population.

Rose said the anticipated enrollment for the coming school year may be about 150 to 200 more students than the past year, which registered 5,210 students for 1959-60.

The growth in enrollment, Rose said, is coming from first grades that started getting larger several years ago. He said there used to be about seven first grades in all city schools, and now there are about 15 or 16. This is in accordance with the general population increase, Rose said.

County Facilities

As for the Pitt County schools, Alford said everyone would be adequately housed next fall. A two-room addition at Grifton High School has alleviated some of the enrollment increase.

The county school enrollment is expected to rise by 175 students, with the growth centered in Grifton and Winterville. On the closing day of school last year, Alford said county school students numbered 13,077, and the expected enrollment for fall this year is 13,254.

Needed classrooms are already being provided for at Sallie Branch School, with bids recently received on this work. A seven-room addition of masonry will replace six old frame rooms which are a part of the 12-teacher unit. The other five rooms are of brick and block. It is hoped that work will be completed during the school year.

In some instances, additions have already been completed, which have laced students in standard classrooms throughout the individual school units. A four-room addition has been completed at H. B. Sugg School in Farmville. Three classrooms were added at a Bethel school and there has been an addition at the Stokes elementary school.

Several science labs in schools including Ayden, Farmville and Stokes have been renovated during the summer. Home economics cottages in Chicod and in Farmville have been remodeled, which has improved and modernized facilities in use.

Libraries

As in the city schools, students in county schools will see no use of libraries for classrooms, nor stages, double shifts or hall space.

In one instance, a library has been used as a classroom in a county school. Alford said, but no other use of outside shifts or space has been necessary.

As for libraries, all the city schools have adequate library facilities, and most of the county schools have them. Some of the smaller county units, including Simson Elementary, Haddock Elementary, Grifton and North Fountain do not have libraries.

Meet The Deb —

Gives Advice

MISS VIRGINIA H. LANG . . . known as "Ginger," leafs through her scrapbook which will be filled with deb festivities before September.

Editor's Note: What type of life does a debutante lead? This article is the second of a series to appear each week on the Women's page concerning Pitt County's deb. The six young ladies will bow to North Carolina society in Raleigh at the Terpsichorean Club Ball September 9-10.

By PEGGY SMITH
Reflector Woman's Editor

Attention all high school seniors: "Develop your study habits in high school."

This advice comes from deb Ginger Lang who is a rising junior at the University of North Carolina. She feels that by developing study habits in high school, one can enter college without fears.

"It's certainly different to study around friends than when you are at home with the supervision of your parents," she said. Ginger is majoring in elementary education and, at present, plans to teach—"if I don't, my education will help me when I marry and have a family."

This summer she is adding credits to her major by attending summer school at East Carolina College. During her spare time she "loves to read." "Advise and Consent" is her most recent reading venture. Playing tennis and bridge take up the rest of her time.

Deb Weekend

While shopping for her deb clothes, Ginger says she fell in love with the fall fashions—"the shorter the skirts, the better. Bright colors and the casual look are evident in the college clothes."

Bob Davis of Salisbury will act as Ginger's chief marshal during the deb weekend. Her other two marshals, who will escort her to some of the festivities, are Robert Chiles of Sanford and Don Wilkerson of Greenville.

Staying at the Sir Walter Hotel with Ginger and her marshals will be her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Lang, and sister, Rachel, and 1959 deb Mary Chiles of Sanford.

Plans are already in the making for the Lang parties and those attending the ball with deb Carol Tadlock to meet at The Confederate House in Cameron Village for dinner following the second night dance.

When this sparkling, blue-eyed deb walks into the social spotlight on September 9th, she will be wearing a gown of Alencon lace over taffeta and net. The gown features a portrait neckline edged in scallops and tiny off-shoulder sleeves. The skirt is made of tiers of lace with a taffeta bow in back which gives the bustle effect.

At the Governor's tea, she will wear a navy light wool dress with an overcoat featuring a satin rose on the front waist. A black suit with a short box coat trimmed with black satin and a black feathered hat will be her attire when she attends the Friday luncheon.

Saturday morning at the tea dance she will be dressed in ice blue satin. At the second night dance, Ginger plans to wear a cocktail dress of cream chantilly lace with an embroidered top featuring sequins, pearls and yellow and chartreuse flowers.

Test For N. C. Democrats' Loyalty

Not since 1928 has the loyalty of the Democrats of North Carolina to their party been faced with as severe a challenge as it faces in this important election year of 1960.

It is no exaggeration to assert that the test of loyalty among Democrats to their party nominees this year in North Carolina will be more severe than even in 1928 when for the first and only time the Tar Heel State would wound up in the Republican column on the national ticket. This year, it seems, the test of loyalty will not only concern the attitude toward the national ticket, but to the state ticket and the gubernatorial nominee as well.

Already a skeleton organization is being formed to push a write-in campaign in behalf of Dr. I. Beverly Lake who was defeated for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination by Terry Sanford in June. Coming on the heels of one of the most bitter primary fights in the state's history, the threat to the Democratic control of the state administration cannot be shrugged off as of no consequence.

While desertion of the Democratic party by a sufficient number of people to elect Lake governor appears unlikely, there is a very real possibility that splitting North Carolina's Democratic vote between the party nominee Sanford and the Lake write-in effort could afford the Republican state ticket an opportunity to gain control of the governor's mansion for the first time in modern history.

Whether such a thing happens this year in North Carolina depends entirely upon whether the Democrats of the state support the nominees of their party or whether a wedge is driven between the party and its members by the Republicans and discontented factions within the party. Even now it is evident that determined efforts will be made to separate the Democrats of North Carolina from their party nominees in November.

The efforts of loyal Democrats throughout the state will be necessary in the coming months to hold the party's strength against assaults by the Republicans from without and undermining by disloyal party members from within. The threats now being made at the Democratic party in North Carolina can be overcome by November, but not if the loyal Democrats merely sit on their hands and wait.

As in no other time in recent decades, 1960 will be a year for those in North Carolina who believe in the Democratic Party and what it stands for to stand by the party and give it their support. Such a stand is essential to the welfare of the Democratic party in this state, and it is essential to the future welfare of North Carolina and its people.

Companies Owe Our Growers Explanation

It is not surprising that out-of-state farmers selling tobacco on Georgia markets this year are genuinely concerned over the blue-tag treatment and the resulting discriminatory prices they are receiving for their offerings on Georgia warehouse floors.

We are not nearly as concerned over the fact that the out-of-state tobacco is marked with blue tags as we are over the difference in prices offered by companies for tobacco of the same grades under white tags and blue tags.

Does it mean that the purchasing companies feel that tobacco grown in the Carolinas is considerably inferior to the same grades of tobacco produced in Georgia? Is the purchasing pattern in Georgia indicative of the fact that the purchasing companies will pay less for the same quality of tobacco on the Carolina markets than they are paying on the Georgia markets?

Unofficial reports indicate blue-tagged tobacco is bringing $15 to $18 per hundred less than prices for white-tagged Georgia tobacco. Certainly this price differential is far more than has been the case in past years when out-of-state tobacco was sold on Georgia markets without specific markings. It suggests that either the companies do not want to buy out-of-state tobacco in Georgia; that they are taking advantage of a situation presented by the blue-tagged practice; or that they are willing to pay considerably more for the same quality tobacco produced in the Carolinas.

Tobacco growers of the Carolinas are entitled to an explanation from the purchasing companies for the discrimination in prices being paid on the Georgia market. The growers are entitled to know whether the same discrimination will prevail between average prices of the various marketing belts as other markets open later in the season.

After all the noise the companies have made about farmers cooperating with them in producing the kind of tobacco customers want, the least the companies can do is cooperate with farmers by providing them with an explanation of the discriminatory Georgia prices.

Fast Chance To Keep Promises

By JAMES MARLOW
CHICAGO (AP) — The politicians, now that their two big conventions are over, will get an extraordinarily fast chance to try to make good on their high-sounding promises here and in Los Angeles.

Congress must return Aug. 3 to complete its unfinished business. It took a vacation during the conventions. The unfinished business happens to involve some of the most important promises in both the Democratic and Republican platforms.

For instance: Aid to education and raising the minimum wage. If the advocates of civil rights, the most heated issue in both platforms, try to get action on that subject, they may make a shambles of what is scheduled to be a three-week session.

Usually Congress in a campaign year completes its work before the conventions start. This gives the politicians until the following January — when the next Congress takes over — to produce on the big campaign talk.

This year Congress did such a meager job between January and the time it recessed in July, it had to return. But this upcoming session will be doubly extraordinary.

Three of the two parties' four top candidates will be working in the Senate. Because the whole country will be watching, their Senate activities will actually be part of their campaign.

President Eisenhower, anxious for a Republican victory, will have a hand in things which could range from holding conferences with congressional leaders to posing for pictures with Richard M. Nixon, the Republicans' presidential nominee.

Nixon, as vice president, will preside over the Senate, his usual role. Behind the scenes, of course, he'll be putting the heat on his fellow Republicans to see things his way.

Facing him all the while will be Sen. John F. Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson, who were given the No. 1 and No. 2 spots on the Democrats' ticket at their Los Angeles convention two weeks ago.

Nixon's vice presidential running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge, can return temporarily to his job as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Among the measures Congress left pending when it went

Two Days To Remember

The bloodmobile won't be in Pitt County until the 11th and 12th of next month, quite some time away; but it isn't too early to remind people to mark their calendar.

Being the optimistic type, I figure there'll be more donors on hand if those dates are remembered.

Point is . . . this is the summer season with vacations, trips and outings as well as the usual work to do. It would be easy to forget and plan a conflicting activity that might interfere with a prospective donor's presence.

The bloodmobile will be in Bethel, at the Rotary Club building, on Friday the 12th. The Pactivols, Belvoir and Stokes communities are expected to join in this controlled blood-letting.

And on Thursday (August 11th) the bloodmobile will be in Greenville and set up shop at the Moose Lodge.

Earlier this month it was announced Pitt County attained only 71 per cent of its quota for the 1959-60 fiscal year and we were starting with a clean slate in August.

Let's not forget.

- Friday's rain did more than (1) keep many shoppers at home, (2) flood poorly-drained areas, (3) gave grass-cutting an early priority at rain's end, (4) cool the air, (5) raise humidity to the drowning level.

It also was responsible for keeping innumerable small children indoors, straining parental ingenuity in the entertainment field.

For my part, I have seen occasional articles on "What To Do When Small Children Must Be Kept Indoors All Day." They (the articles) pop up whenever there are days permitting children to be out of doors and good old Ma and Pa need have few thoughts about an infrequent problem.

But just let it rain all day, and those articles are not around; their inspiration has been forgotten, and at such times it's every-parent-for-himself.

After a day of patient understanding, serving as an all-purpose pick-up crew, filling the role of judge, mediator, comedy team, scenario-writer, story-teller extraordinary (as well as jailer), it is comforting to know that bedtime will come to pass as surely as the setting sun.

Peace, it's wonderful.

With political winds stirring we can look forward to instances wherein a citizen feels driven to taking up his pen and writing a "letter to the editor."

That's fine. Newspapers appreciate the kind of interest these letters reflect. There are ground rules, of course. Among these: Brevity, avoidance of libellous character, they must be signed, they shouldn't be a message from Mr. X to Mr. Y (leaving the editor and other readers in the middle).

Several smaller nations in the Security Council have challenged Russia to prove its charges against the RB-47. Both Italy and Argentina warned the Soviet it risked jolting world opinion by rejecting the American proposal for an investigation. At the same time, no surprise is seen by an expected majority vote against a Soviet resolution asking the Security Council to condemn the continuing actions of the U.S. in aerial reconnaissance.

The Russians apparently thought they had discovered a rich new source of anti-American propaganda in this business of air flights. The latest one backfired, and unless they can in the future come up with something better than a prefabricated story, such as that concerning the RB-47, their newly-found propaganda has dried up before it was exploited fully by the propagandists of the Kremlin. At the same time they have suffered loss of face before the world with this cheap, obvious trick. Certainly the United Nations is having none of these second-rate theatrics.

What Makes A Man?

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
Copyright, 1960, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

To those who do not altogether understand our system of self-government—and that includes many Americans—the question must arise as to how a man emerges to the front line where it is possible for him to be a candidate for the Presidency.

The British system is quite simple: a man becomes a member of Parliament; he shows the leaders of his party that he is of ministerial calibre; he is appointed to a cabinet post; he becomes a minister; he is efficient and popular; he becomes the leader of his party. Therefore he is prime minister.

In Soviet Russia it is almost the same process. A young man is admitted to the Komsomol; he is given special training and advantages; he is admitted to the Communist Party; he is put to apparatus work in the party; some leader selects him (Kaganovich selected Khrushchev) for special duties; he is given an area to work; ultimately he becomes a delegate to the Soviet congress; he is given a post either in the party or the government. From that point, he is on his own to the extent that he must engage in internal party politics until he reaches the top. Lenin appointed himself; Stalin destroyed all competitors; Khrushchev removed his competitors.

How does it happen in the United States? There is no usual process. Let us take the most recent examples:

Herbert Hoover was an engineer who became an international feeder of the distressed; he then became Food Administrator of the United States under a Democratic President, Woodrow Wilson; he was appointed Secretary of Commerce by a Republican President, Warren Harding; he served in the same position under President Coolidge; he was elected President of the United States. He had never engaged in partisan politics; lived a good part of his life outside of the United States. He was a native of Iowa; spent his boyhood in Oregon. His parents were poor; died in his childhood. He is a Quaker.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, on the contrary, engaged in party politics from his early manhood. He came of a distinguished family, distantly related to President Theodore Roosevelt. The family fortune was made in the China trade, both the Delanos and the Forbess being so engaged. A graduate from Harvard, he was appointed Assistant Secretary of the Navy by President Woodrow Wilson. He ran for Vice President in 1920 on the Democratic ticket. He had been associated with Governor Al Smith and was a characteristic New York politician. He decided to become President immediately upon his election as Governor of New York State in 1928 and appointed James A. Farley to organize for this task. He was elected President in 1932 and has the distinction of being the only President to have been elected four times.

Harry Truman became President by the accident of President Roosevelt's death. He had had no preparation for the post of President. He had been a local politician in Missouri. Truman was elected United States Senator from Missouri in 1934. It was necessary for Roosevelt

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
THE MATCHLESS MOSES

Before me sits a replica of Michelangelo's "Moses." Some months ago I looked upon the original in a church in Rome. It shows the great law-giver holding the Tablet of the Commandments in his right hand. He is seated, but his left foot is drawn back preparatory to his rising. That foot is the most eloquent feature of the statue. It represents the response of Moses to God's command: "Speak to the children of Israel that they go forward."

Few people realize that the greatest human being that ever lived was this matchless Moses (we, of course, do not include Jesus whom we regard as an incarnate divine being). But among straight-out human beings, nobody has ever influenced the human race as has Moses. He is the head of one religion (Judaism). He is the honored figure in two other religions (Christianity and Mohammedanism). He was the author of the Ten Commandments. His words are at the basis of all laws from traffic regulations to national and international codes.

The world has produced a host of great men but none whose greatness compared with the greatness of Moses. From the time we arise in the morning until we retire at night the influence of this man conditions almost every act of our living. We can well believe that in the divine Hall of Fame he occupies first place among all mortals.

More Look-Aheads In Business

By ELMER ROESSNER

Here are more look-aheads in business, based on analyses of current developments:

New Castro attitude: Conservative American businessmen have been calling for more sanctions against Fidel's Cuba. These demands will soften while business takes another look. The United States stopped paying premium prices for sugar at the start of this month. But manufacturers are beginning to calculate that those premiums paid for a lot of American exporters, many of whom would prefer a little more sweet reasonableness.

Note: They won't get their wishes. Economic pressures on the mad little island will increase, not diminish.

Milder steel boost: It's been assumed here and elsewhere that the steelworkers' automatic pay increase this winter would cause an increase in steel prices. Now industry spokesmen are saying that companies will hold the line. This just can't be done in most cases, but there is a possibility any increases will be less than expected earlier.

UNCLE SAM, CREASER

More permanent creases: A new treatment devised by U.S. Department of Agriculture conditions wool skirts and slacks to retain pleats and creases. Shrink-proofed fabric maintains creases even after machine washing. Eumolamine, a safe, inexpensive chemical, does the work. For further information, ask the USDA, Washington 25, D. C.

Cheaper refrigerators: General Motors' and General Electric's actions in cutting prices of large refrigerators will spread fast. Westinghouse's announcement that no price changes are contemplated may be revised. Frig stocks are heavy and strenuous price efforts will be made to sell them.

New nylon garments: A new thread, nylon with a Taslan texture, is being tested for garments in a number of markets. It comes in 28 colors and can be used with all wash-and-wear weaves without reducing washability. (By Coats & Clark, 430 Park Ave., New York.)

Booming budget: Thought for the day: If only half the promises in Republican and Democratic platforms are sincere, government spending is certain to rise and both parties will be asked to approve an increase in the Federal budget. Any substantial increase at this time would, of course, increase taxes or, more likely, increase inflation. Inflation can cost little more than taxes.

OLD PROMOTER FINDS WORLD'S BIGGEST STORE

"I've just returned from a visit to the world's biggest store," the Old Promoter announced as he barged into our office, took one of our cigars, lit it with one of our matches and propped his feet up on our desk.

"Slacey's?" we asked. "No. The sidewalks of New York. The city has turned them over to business to such an extent that in many places people have to walk in the street.

"Part of the sidewalks are preempted for subway entrances. Large sections of them are given over to newsstands and sight-seeing stands.

"Other sections are used by fruit and vegetable dealers, and stores often spread their wares half way across the sidewalk. Beggars, necktie and costume jewelry salesmen and other tripe-and-keister operators sell merchandise.

"Sidewalks are further narrowed by traffic signs, garbage cans, ash trays and hydrants. Now the walking spaces is being trimmed further by locating telephone booths in the busiest stretches, which means just where more pedestrian space is needed.

"My point is this: if New York City is getting a fair share of income as rent for its sidewalks, those lucky New Yorkers need never pay any other taxes!"

Don't you believe him!

Chisox, NY Lose; Nats Win Third

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
In April if any person had predicted that Washington's perennial cellar-dwellers would be over the 500 mark on July 30 he'd have been carried off to the nearest sanitarium.

But today, the Senators were not only playing .505 ball, but actually battling for a spot in the first division, 6½ games out of first place.

A great deal of credit for Washington's showing must be given to Cookie Lavagetto who most certainly is in line for the Manager of the Year award.

The Nats went over the .500 mark for the first time since opening day Friday by defeating the Chicago White Sox 7-5 for their third straight victory. Since July 3, the Nats have won 16 while losing only seven to move to fifth place.

The defeat left the White Sox .004 per centage points behind the New York Yankees, who club to first place despite a 5-2 defeat by Kansas City. Boston nipped Detroit 1-0 and Cleveland defeated Baltimore 3-1.

Pittsburgh struck out Chicago 4-0 to extend its National League lead to three games over Milwaukee, which bowed to Los Angeles 7-3. San Francisco nipped Cincinnati 2-1 and St. Louis blanked Philadelphia 3-0.

Washington trailing 5-3, rallied for three runs in the seventh and added an insurance run in the eighth.

Tom Morgan, who relieved Camillo Pascual in the seventh and gave up back-to-back home runs by Roy Sievers and Sherm Lollar, was the winner. It was his second relief victory in three nights since coming to Washington from Detroit. Gerry Staley, in relief, was the loser.

Home runs by Danny Kravitz and Marv Throneberry and sixth-inning pitching by Ray Herbert gave the Athletics their first victory in Yankee Stadium since June 11, 1959. Kansas City had lost 11 straight in New York.

Ted Williams singled home Don Buddin with two out in the third inning to provide the only run as Boston's Bill Monbouquette won a duel from Detroit's Jim Bunning.

Jack Harshman, making only his second start for Cleveland after being sidelined three months with back trouble, received credit for the victory that snapped the Indians' five-game losing streak. Harshman and relief pitcher Dick Stigman held the Orioles to six hits.

Cleveland scored two runs off loser Jack Fisher in the second on four singles and a sacrifice.

Littler Holding Stroke Lead In Eastern Open

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gene Littler teed off last today in the third round of the Eastern Open, glancing worriedly behind him.

Littler went off with only a one-stroke lead over Juan Rodriguez, surprise package of the 11th annual tournament, and veteran Doug Ford.

Only an eagle at the last hole on Friday's second round saved Littler from being overtaken by the pair. The Californian suffered his first bogey at the 15th and then bounced back with a drive, three-iron and 10-foot putt for a three at the 523-yard 18th.

That gave him a 68 in back of a 65 for the 133 strokes, 11 under par for the Pitts Ridge course.

Rodriguez, the Puerto Rican from Dorado Beach, shot 67 for the second straight time.

Ford fiddled by an inch to duplicate Littler's eagle and tie him. He traveled to within 15 feet of the hole but couldn't drop the putt. Ford, of Crystal Beach, Fla., finished with a 66.

The third round field was reduced from 152 to 76 pros and 10 amateurs. The 60 lowest scores among the pros will continue Sunday in the finals.

Playoffs Open Monday For District Softball Title

SOFTBALL TROPHIES—Dr. Kenneth Quiggins (left), president of the Greenville Civitan Club, and Civitan member Joe Brown (right) look over the trophies which their club will present to the top teams in the Northeastern District Fast Pitch Softball Tournament, which will be starting in Greenville Monday.

The Northeastern District Fast Pitch Softball Tournament of the North Carolina Amateur Softball Association will be held in Greenville, August 1-6, sponsored by the Greenville Civitan Club.

The tourney, which will be a double elimination affair, will advance the winner to the State tournament which will be held in Charlotte, August 22-27.

According to Gordon Goodman, Commissioner of the Northeastern District, all games will be played at night unless the number of entries should require some late afternoon games.

The roster of each team may include 15 men only. Trophies will be awarded to the winning team, the runner-up team, and the most valuable player.

In last year's tournament, four teams entered, with Greenville, Marble and Granite Works Goldsboro, emerging the winning team. Other teams participating in the tournament were Romancos of Roanoke Rapids, Carolina Dairy of Greenville, and Seymour Johnson Air Force Base of Goldsboro, North Carolina.

Drawings for the Tournament positions were held in Greenville Recreation Department building, Elm Street Park, at 8:00 p.m. on July 25. Details concerning the procedure of the tournament were discussed and voted upon at this meeting.

Teams from Greenville, which have entered the tournament thus far, are: Greenville Marble and Granite Works, Cox Armature Works, and Carolina Dairy.

Out of town teams include: Washington, Romancos of Roanoke Rapids, and the team from Seymour Johnson Air Force Base, Goldsboro.

Thirty-four events were run off Friday in the fifth annual meet. Almost 400 young boys and girls swimmers from 14 Carolinas clubs are taking part.

Other new records included:

American Grid League Opens Exhibition Slate

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The fledgling American Football League ventures onto the playing turf tonight and fans are waiting to see if the steps are firm or wobbly.

In one of football's earliest openings, the Buffalo Bills will tangle with the Boston Patriots to inaugurate the 1960 exhibition calendar.

In past year, the College All-Stars game in Chicago signaled the start of activity, but the new league is anxious to show its wares and possibly boost ticket sales. The rival NFL opens its exhibition season Wednesday at Toronto where the Pittsburgh Steelers meet the Toronto Argonauts.

The first NFL exhibition in the United States is next Saturday at Seattle between San Francisco and Dallas.

Rawls, Wright Fight For Lead

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Mickey Wright and Betsy Rawls are staging a reciprocal aid act in the American Women's Open Golf Tournament here.

First it was a putting tip from Miss Rawls, National Open champion from Spartanburg, S.C., which gave LPGA titlist Mickey renewed ability on the greens.

Friday, Miss Rawls carded a 5-under-par 70, the tournament's best, to move into second place with a 146 total. Betsy credited Miss Wright, from San Diego, Calif., for the six-stroke improvement over her earlier round.

"Mickey noted a flaw in my swing when we were playing together," Betsy said. "She told me to open the club face a bit more on the down swing. As a result, I wasn't pulling the ball so much today."

Rawls' 36-34 round wiped out the Hiawatha Course's women's record of 71, set in the opening round of the tourney by Miss Wright.

But Mickey still held the lead, shooting a 35-37-72 for a 143 total. That tied the tournament's 36-hole record, set in 1958 by Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill.

Miss Berg was in third place going into today's third round with 148. Tied at 149 were Marlene Bauer Hagge, Delray Beach, Fla., and Kathy Cornelius, Springfield, Ohio.

Other qualifiers included: Joe Weatherly, Norfolk, Va., 130.530 m.p.h.; Banjo Matthews, Asheville, N.C., 149.498 m.p.h.; Jim Paschel, High Point, N.C., 129.093 m.p.h.; Richard Petty, Randleman, N.C., 128.426 m.p.h.; Lee Petty, Randleman, N.C., 128.250 m.p.h.; Ned Jarrett, Newton, N.C., 127.992 m.p.h.; Shorty Rollins, Pensacola, Fla., 127.576 m.p.h.; Bunky Blackburn, Fayetteville, N.C., 127.223 m.p.h.; Rex White, current NASCAR champion from Silver Spring, Md., 126.842 m.p.h.; Speedy Thompson, Charlotte, N.C., 126.627 m.p.h.; and Gerald Duke, College Park, Ga., 126.908 m.p.h.

Roberts Lands Pole Position

ATLANTA (AP)—A race driver with a car as hot as his nickname will start from the pole position in the inaugural Dixie 300 at Atlanta International Raceway Saturday.

Glenn (Fireball) Roberts of Daytona Beach, Fla., blazed around the track in Friday's qualifying heats at an average of 133.70 miles per hour.

Driving a 1960 Pontiac, Roberts has won pole positions in nine of the past 10 races in which he has driven.

Jack Smith was second in a 1960 Pontiac at 132.660 m.p.h. Smith lives in Spartanburg, S.C.

This was Bobby Johns of Miami, Fla., at 131.763 m.p.h. Cotton Owens of Spartanburg was fourth at 131.462 m.p.h.

Twenty-six cars qualified in Friday's time trials, which continue today.

Forty-eight cars are entered but the field will be limited to 45 for the race.

Other qualifiers included: Joe Weatherly, Norfolk, Va., 130.530 m.p.h.; Banjo Matthews, Asheville, N.C., 149.498 m.p.h.; Jim Paschel, High Point, N.C., 129.093 m.p.h.; Richard Petty, Randleman, N.C., 128.426 m.p.h.; Lee Petty, Randleman, N.C., 128.250 m.p.h.; Ned Jarrett, Newton, N.C., 127.992 m.p.h.; Shorty Rollins, Pensacola, Fla., 127.576 m.p.h.; Bunky Blackburn, Fayetteville, N.C., 127.223 m.p.h.; Rex White, current NASCAR champion from Silver Spring, Md., 126.842 m.p.h.; Speedy Thompson, Charlotte, N.C., 126.627 m.p.h.; and Gerald Duke, College Park, Ga., 126.908 m.p.h.

Watch out Pittsburgh and Milwaukee—the Dodgers are sniffing that World Series money again and at the rate they've been moving lately, another pennant could fly at the Los Angeles Coliseum in October.

Paced by Stan Williams, their new mound ace, the Dodgers Friday night turned back Milwaukee 7-3 to climb within two games of the second-place Braves. It was their 16th victory in the last 20 games.

Los Angeles remained five games behind the league-leading Pirates who shut out Chicago 4-0.

Williams Thrives On Jim Bunning

NEW YORK (AP)—The 29th of July was just another day in the baseball season to the average major leaguer but to slugger Ted Williams and pitcher Jim Bunning it was sort of an anniversary.

It was on July 29, 1955 that Williams met Bunning for the first time. Bunning, a rookie only in his second week with the Detroit Tigers, was slated to pitch against the Boston Red Sox in Fenway Park.

A long-time Williams admirer from a distance—Bunning, before the game, sought an introduction to the great slugger. Less than an hour after their friendly chat, Ted teed off on a Bunning fast ball and hammered it into the right field bleachers for a home run.

Three years later on July 29, the Tigers and Red Sox were at it again. Bunning was the pitcher and the bases were loaded with Red Sox in the third inning. Williams smashed his 17th grand slam homer, equalling Babe Ruth's total. Ted finished with two home runs and seven runs batted in.

July 29, 1960 . . . Friday night. Again Williams faced Bunning in the third inning of a scoreless game with runners on first and third and two out. This time Ted bashed a single to score Don Buddin with the only run of the game in their first meeting five years ago. Williams said: "This kid Bunting, Bunon, or whatever his name is, is going to be a helluva pitcher some day. But I think I can hit him."

Ted, through the past five years, has thrived on Bunning.

This year, Williams' batting average against Bunning is a colossal .700.

Ted has another reason for remembering July 29. It was on that date in 1953 that he received his discharge from the U.S. Marines after a second service hitch.

Olympic Stars Hold Meet, Sime Ready

By JACK HEWINS
EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Head Coach Larry Snyder of the U.S. Olympic team borrowed heavily from the hurdle and 800-meter squads to provide opposition for his relay teams in today's high-light track and field meet.

The afternoon meet is a test of the condition for the athletes who have been practicing here all week. Sunday they will fly to California and resume the training grind Monday at Pomona.

Two more practice meets are scheduled—Aug. 5 and Aug. 12—before the team flies to Europe Aug. 18.

The sprint relay teams will consist of Ray Norton of Oakland, Calif.; Bill Woodhouse of Agilene, Texas; Paul Winder of Pleasantville, N.J.; and Dave Sime of Fair Lan, N.J. They are the of Seattle 6-2, 6-3. Magill trimmed Nick Kalo of Hamtramck, Mich., 6-3, 6-4.

Much of their time this week has been dedicated to practice of the baton exchange.

The same attention to this detail has marked Coach George Eastman's work with the 400-meter men who will make the 1600-meter relay crew. They are Jack Yerman of Woodland, Calif.; Earl Young of San Francisco; Otis Davis of Los Angeles; and Ted Woods of Pittsburgh.

Lee Calhoun of Gary, Ind.; Willie May of Chicago; and Hayes Jones of Pontiac, Mich., all 100-meter hurdlers, and 200-meter runner Bobby Morrow of Abilene, Texas, were nominated by Snyder to oppose the 400-meter relay team.

The coach picked two quartets to go against the 1600-meter relay lineup. One includes 400-meter hurdlers Dick Howard of Albuquerque, N.M.; Cliff Cushman of Grand Forks, N.D.; and Eddie Southern of the Air Force, plus Dave Roberson of the Army, a 400-meter race alternate.

On the other team are 800-meter runners Jerry Siebert of Willits, Calif.; Ernie Cunliffe of Claremont, Calif.; Tom Murphy of Brooklyn, N.Y.; and Jim Dupree of Pompano, Fla.

Lane Not Worried Over Attendance

BALTIMORE (AP) — General Manager Frank Lane of the Cleveland Indians, sometimes known as frantic Frank, views the attendance slump at Cleveland with front office calmness.

"We're not pushing the panic button," Lane said while visiting Baltimore on a road trip with the Indians. "Other people seemed more concerned with the size of our crowds that we are."

Cleveland has drawn 656,802 fans for their first 39 home dates, as compared with 862,825 for the same period last year. That's the biggest decline in the major leagues.

Lane said the Indians got off to a fast start in 1959 and "all but won the pennant" (finishing second, five games behind Chicago). The home attendance shot to 1,497,976, he said, because "the fans come out to see winners."

"This year we didn't get off to such a good start," Lane said. "Then the team softened up and fell into a slump."

"We should pick up again, though, because we have some good players on our club."

Renew Rivalry In Semifinals

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., and Bill Lenoir of Tucson, Ariz., renew their tennis rivalry today in the semifinals of junior singles in the National Junior and Boys Tennis Championships.

The top-seeded Ralston defeated 16-year-old Charles Pasarell of Sauture, R.P.R. 2-6, 9-7, 6-1 in Friday's quarter-finals.

The third-seeded Lenoir breezed south Africa's Rodney Mandelstam of Johannesburg 6-2, 6-3. Second-seeded Froehling beat unheralded David Reed of Glendale, Calif., 6-3, 9-7, and fourth-seeded Bond eliminated another South African, Tim Heckler of Kimberley, 7-5, 6-3.

In boys' 15-and-under singles semifinals, Mike Belkin of Miami Beach, Fla., meets third-seeded Ham Magill of Athens, Ga., and second-seeded Martin Schad of Louisville, Ky., faces unranked Jan Kucera of San Francisco.

Yesterday Belkin downed Bronson van Dyke of Montclair, N.J., 6-2, 6-2. Schad eliminated seventh-seeded Stephen Foster of North Hollywood, Calif., 5-7, 6-2. Kucera defeated Warren Slemmons

G-Yanks Whip Winston-Salem

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Brenda outh the ball players Friday night in the Carolina League.

The tropical storm provided the rains that blanked out two contests — Raleigh at Wilson, and Durham at Burlington.

Greensboro took a 6-5 decision over Winston-Salem in the only game played in the league.

All-American Kesler Is Target For East Gridders

GREENSBORO—Whatever West Co-Coaches Red Wilson of Winston-Salem Reynolds and Frank Barger of Hickory have cooked up for the 12th annual North Carolina High School All-Star football spectacle here next week, their plans are sure to include All-America halfback Eddie Kesler of Salisbury.

The 185-pound Yellow Jacket developed into one of the most phenomenal schoolboy gridirers ever turned out in the Tar Heel state, in either the single wing or T formations.

Before graduating he had accounted for 3,809 yards running and passing. Kesler completed 118 of 215 aerials for 1,631 yards while piling up another 2,178 from his halfback or tailback position.

He'll be right at home in Wilson's single wing. His totals for the 1959 campaign included 912 yards passing, 762 more rushing. And he had a direct hand in 14 touchdowns.

Another halfback who the Westeners will have decked out in red is Richard Jackson of Hickory, a Tornado who churned his way to 13 TDs for his unbeaten club, scoring up to three in one game. The speed demon, a dash champ in track, gathered up as much as 160 yards some nights.

Kernersville's Rickey Jarrell, another Western flash, outscored them all with 18 touchdowns, tops for one of the All-Star backs.

Also on the list are William and Bobby Dean of Mount Airy and Canton's Ward McClure couldn't equal that output. But they proved dangerous from virtually any spot.

Heavyweights like Phil Raiford of Charlotte Garinger, Jim Fuller of High Point and Lyle Blalock of Winston-Salem Reynolds provide three bone-crushing fullbacks to help keep the defense honest, the 200-pound Raiford bringing along the most glittering record.

He played a main role in Garinger sweeping state 4-A title, scoring 87 points with 12 of them coming in championship game. Fuller proved a terror for High Point with his speed. And Blalock kept Reynolds in the championship picture until the end.

For quarterbacks the West coaches picked two of the finest in Glenn Ogburn of Morehead and Jim Rossi of Asheville, both superb runners. Ogburn directed his team to one state title and a runner-up berth his final two seasons.

To make the West offensive potential ever greater are such pass receiving ends as All-American Jerry Rowe of Asheville, Fred Neal of Burlington and Greensboro's Bayard Von Herrmann.

Matching that arsenal of weapons could prove difficult for most teams, but East Co-Coaches Roger Thrift of Sanford and Roy Brown of Smithfield believe they've rounded up quite an offensive machine, too.

And the most effective cannon of them all could be QB Earl Cole of Wilmington, the Wildcat ace who hit 71 of 148 passes for 1,127 yards in eight games last fall. His aerials ate up as much as 199 yards a night, three TDs on occasions.

He will have his favorite target on hand in teammate Jerry Spivey, star flanker for Wilmington. Also on the list are Raymond of Kinston, another great prospect for college stardom.

HB Bobby Jones of Norlina ranks second only to Jarrell in scoring touchdowns, the Eastern ace speeding to 17 as a senior, some going almost the length of the gridiron. Wilson's Frank Gallows is another deluxe halfback, the Cyclones racking up 80 points against the toughest opposition.

Phil Ennis ran wild for Smithfield's state 2-A champs, the HB losing track of his TDs for the unbeaten Red Devils. Roxboro's Sam Green rates with the best broken field runners turned out. Jimmy Jordan attracted much attention at Dunn.

A "one-man gang" was what they called Buck Hodges at Hamlet, the Ram playing either halfback or fullback. Butch Williams of Ahoskie and Tarboro's Bruce Owen boast of top notch offensive record. Williams score 1100 points and Owen 70 last fall.

Around to help Cole direct that array of backfield talent are JBS Johnny Wise of Weldon and Lumberton's Tyrone McDuffie.

While the backs may attract the most attention in pre-game speculation, the 1960 squads include some linemen equal to any ever to have appeared in one of these All-Star contests.

Guards like Bernice Rigbee of Durham Northern Silas Snow of Rocky Mount, Charles Muse of Charlotte Garinger, Dean Wilson of Lenoir, tackles Jim Fuqua of Morehead, Fred Smith of Raleigh, Eddie McAttee of Burlington and Pat Pfifer of Rockingham won quite a few games when their play up front.

Centers Marion Kirby of Hickory and Frank Creech of Smithfield earned All-Star rank for their exploits. And if the game comes down to extra points, then Kirby's well-trained toe may prove decisive, the Tornado star converting 44 of 52 as a senior.

It all points to another exciting evening in Greensboro Senior High Stadium Friday night, Aug. 5.

Newcombe Moves Out Of National

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Huge Don Newcombe, once a pitching terror, has been waived out of the National League and peddled to the American League's Cleveland.

It was only four years ago that the then Brooklyn Dodgers would have laughed at any cash offer for the big Negro right-handed pitcher. He was in the midst of a brilliant season that brought him a 27-7 record and a Most Valuable Player award.

Then came a series of assorted ailments and gradual loss of the zip on "Newk's" famous fast ball. He was traded to the Cincinnati Reds in 1958 and Friday Redies General Manager Gabe Paul announced the deal with Cleveland for an undisclosed amount of cash.

Newcombe helped the Dodgers win pennants in 1949, 1955 and 1956 with records of 17-8, 20-5 and 27-7. He was in service when the Dodgers won in 1952 and 1953.

Arm ailments began to develop after 1956, however, and when he was traded to the Reds for pitcher Johnny Klippstein and first baseman Steve Bilko he was in the throes of a losing streak.

The same some good hurling for the Reds. He had a 13-8 mark last year. This spring a groin injury sidelined Newcombe early and, when sold, he had only a 4-6 record and had completed only one game in 15 starts.

For all his great pitching in the National League, his biggest disappointments came in interleague play. He had an 0-4 record in World Series competition and he was the loser of one of four All-Star games in which he appeared.

Detractors even accused him at times of "choking up" in the World Series.

Wilmonton Loses First Of Series

LINCOLNTON, N.C. (AP) — Herb Darden will pitch for Wilmonton tonight in an effort to square the series with Lincolnton-Cherryville for the state American Legion Junior baseball championship.

Steve Watts or Ronnie Carrigan will go for Lincolnton-Cherryville, which won Friday night at Cherryville 4-1 in the opener of the best-of-seven series.

Jerry Lall tripled with bases loaded in the eighth inning to break up a pitcher's duel between Ronnie Hovis and Wilmonton's Ulewis Howard. It was the 10th victory for Hovis, who fanned 10 and gave up three hits. Howard allowed six hits and struck out 12.

Music Camp Groups Perform In Concluding Concert Today

In two sections Saturday afternoon, groups performed before parents and friends in a gala concert concluding the two-week session of the 7th annual summer music camp at East Carolina College.

In the first section, majorettes and drum majors performed from 1:30 to 2:15 P.M.

Musical works were presented by the orchestra, choir and three bands in a concert which began at 2:30 p.m. and concluded with presentation of camp awards by Prof. Earl Beach, director of the ECC Music Department and the summer camp program.

Opening the concert, the White Band, conducted by Spencer Mims, of Charlotte, played "United Nations March" by King and Dance Pavane by Cavas.

Donald Hayes of the East Carolina Orchestra conducted the camp orchestra in performing Wagner's "Procession of the Grail" by Richard Southwick, of Raleigh, conducting the orchestra in Anderson's "Sandpaper Ballet" and Gould's "American Salute."

Advanced works performed by the Red Band, directed by Edward Benson, of Asheville, included "March" by Sarcafigue, from Hamlet by Shastakovich, "Summer Night," an original composition for band premiere performance, by Glasgow, and "Ballet Parisien," by Offenbach and arranged for bands by Isaac.

Numbers by the camp choir section, conducted by Gordon Johnson of the ECC Music Department, were "Cantata Domino" by Piloni and Carusel Selections by Rodgers, sung by the combined choirs, and "Set Down, Servant," a spiritual arranged by Shaw, and "Since All is Passing," by Hindesmith, by a vocal major ensemble.

Music Camp Awards Are Made At Concert Today

Awards for proficiency and outstanding achievements in the 7th annual summer music camp at East Carolina College were presented during the gala concert Saturday afternoon which marked the end of this two-week event attended by 425 junior and senior high school students.

The ceremonies concluded a program which highlighted work by majorettes, drum majors, art students, and musicians in three bands, a choir, and orchestra, with Prof. Earl E. Beach, director of the ECC Music Department and the music camp, announcing award winners and making presentations.

Miss Treva Womble of Suffolk, Va., outstanding girl camper, and Hilton Kennedy of Kinston, outstanding boy camper, received the outstanding trophies.

Womble was oboist in the blue band, the orchestra, and the woodwind quintet, while Kennedy was clarinetist in the blue band, orchestra, clarinet quartet, dance band, and woodwind quintet. Both are also cited for their campership.

Prof. Beach made presentations in the following areas: Campership for girls: Garrett Hall—Dianne LaFlamme and Colleen Rose, both of Charleston Heights, S. C.; Glenda Smith, Perry, Fla.; and Katie Howe, Leaksville, N. C.; Frances Hix and Sarah Ann Cutler, both of Rocky Mount, Va.; Donna Cook and Trudy Cauthen, both of Newton, N.C.; Sarah Sheffield and Bonnie Price, both of Wallace.

In other awards, Miss Johnnye Massenburg, of Raleigh, was cited for her outstanding work as concertmistress in the music camp orchestra.

to rid himself of Henry Wallace who had become a political liability. Sidney Hillman, the labor leader, advocated Harry Truman. Roosevelt chose him. Truman became President on Roosevelt's death and although it is too early to judge his Administration historically, there is much to his credit.

Dwight D. Eisenhower is a West Point graduate. He served for some years as military secretary to General Douglas MacArthur. He was appointed to the highest command in World War II. He was Chief of Staff for a time; president of Columbia University; the organizer of NATO. He had never engaged in politics and had never been a political partisan. He ran for President on the Republican ticket in 1952, was elected and is now serving his second term. His parents in Kansas were not well off. They belonged to a Mennonite sect. He is a Presbyterian.

It is obvious from these thumb-nail sketches that in the United States there is no pattern, no previous training, no advancement in office. In effect, a man presents himself or his friends project him. A public image is created. John Kennedy has spent four years projecting himself for the Presidency. Richard Nixon has been regarded as Eisenhower's heir for a similar period, although he was opposed by intimates of the President. In each case, the man presented himself.

Pitt Health Dept. Reports '59 Statistics

The Pitt County Health Department yesterday announced the 1959 annual report of public health statistics—a segment of the report issued by the State Board of Health's Section of Epidemiology.

Pitt registered 291 cases of venereal diseases during the year. Of the total, gonorrhea infected 196 Negro and five white Pitt residents. Five white and 85 Negro cases of syphilis were recorded.

There were 53 new cases, 44 reactivated tuberculosis cases. Of the total, 24 were white, 73 were Negro.

County Health Director Dr. Georgia V. Mills said, "This high incidence of active cases (of tuberculosis) is one reason for the Pitt County Board of Health approving a policy of case-finding

(this fall by tuberculin skin testing all first graders in Greenville and Pitt County schools."

Three cases of polio occurred during 1959 with one white and two Negro. They occurred in July, August and October.

Other diseases reported in the county included: measles—11; meningitis—1; scarlet fever—28; typhoid—4; infectious jaundice—2; and gastro-enteritis—63.

Dr. Mills pointed out the last three diseases listed above are usually associated with poor environmental sanitation and personal hygiene. Of the 63 gastro-enteritis cases, 20 were salmonella type and 30 staphylococcus type food poisoning.

Young Bride Got President's Help

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Airman Norman Steed and his pretty wife can live together in their newly rented apartment—thanks to President Eisenhower.

The health director said the number of cases could be reduced "if everyone would wash his hands before eating, along with good bathroom facilities, sealed wells, and an adequate-sized, proper-functioning septic tank."

She added, "Also, if church and civic groups would follow recommendations of their County Health Departments in serving community 'feeds,' it would reduce the number or eliminate the threat of food-poisoning and typhoid fever. "Church germs," she said, "can be as fatal as others if proper precaution is not taken, especially in hot weather, or interested persons preparing or handling food are not overly cautious of their duties."

It wasn't easy, even for Mrs. Eisenhower. He couldn't understand a word Betty Steed, 17, sobbing uncontrollably, was trying to tell him.

Johnson's appearance was arranged by Gov. Buford Ellington, one of the earliest supporters of the Texas senator for the presidential nomination.

As he stepped from the Brown Palace Hotel, she rushed up to him and burst into tears.

Johnson To Open Tennessee Drive

The President, startled, listened for a time and patted the young wife on the shoulder. He directed Secret Service agents to find out what was troubling her.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The Democratic Party's push to recapture Tennessee and other Southern states it lost in 1956 began tonight when Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the vice-presidential nominee, opens his campaign at a party rally here.

What Betty wanted was her husband, who recently was transferred to nearby Lowry Air Force Base for basic training. Under regulations, trainees are restricted to the base and their wives are required to live elsewhere.

On hand will be the governors of six Southern states—four of which went Republican in the last presidential election—plus Gov. elect Farris Bryant of Florida, Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La) and former Sen. Earle Clements of Kentucky.

Alone in a strange city, Mrs. Steed explained her story to the Secret Service agents and, then Eisenhower's request, to his Force aide, Col. William G. Draper. With Draper, she went to officials at Lowry.

Johnson's appearance was arranged by Gov. Buford Ellington, one of the earliest supporters of the Texas senator for the presidential nomination.

Friday night Steed, 20, was granted permission to live off the base for the duration of his stay here.

Johnson will fly here from Hyannis Port, Mass., where he conferred Friday night with Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee.

Of his radiantly happy wife of 18 months, Steed of Dallas, Tex., said:

Govs. John Patterson of Alabama, LeRoy Collins of Florida, Luther Hodges of North Carolina, J. Lindsay Almond Jr., of Virginia and Bert Combs of Kentucky have accepted invitations to attend the rally.

"She told me that she talked to the President, but I didn't believe her."

Virginia, Florida and Kentucky voted Republican in 1956, along with Tennessee.

But Betty Steed just hugged her husband and cried.

Big Reception Awaiting Lodge

BOSTON (AP)—Triumphant receptions in Boston and his nearby hometown of Beverly await United Nations Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge on his arrival today from the Republican National Convention, which nominated him its vice-presidential candidate.

Producers in the commercial area who stay within their acreage allotments will be eligible for price support of the 1961 crop at not less than a national average price of $1.78 bushel.

Boston's Democratic Mayor John F. Collins ordered an official city welcome for "a noble son of Massachusetts" when his plane from Chicago touches down at Logan International Airport at 1:45 p.m.

Fire and police department bands will be on hand at the airport, where a huge crowd is expected to greet Massachusetts' second favorite son to grace a national political ticket this year.

A similar welcome greeted Democratic presidential nominee Sen. John F. Kennedy two weeks ago.

No Rain For The 'Rain Festival'

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP)—What happened? It didn't rain Friday in this southwestern Pennsylvania town where tradition says it rains every July 29.

Abderrahmane Laklifi, 28, was executed before dawn at a prison in Lyons after a brief Moslem prayer.

For only the 10th time in the last 85 years, Mother Nature didn't come through. Townspeople had to celebrate their annual "Rain Festival" without rain.

Laklifi was condemned by a French military court for leading a commando unit which attacked a police station in Lyons in September, 1958, wounding several persons with gunfire.

There are about 360 islands in the group known as the Bermudas.

HOME DECORATING TODAY

By MRS. R. W. DAVENPORT
PRIVACY AT HOME!

A "private corner" is high on many lists of desirable conditions for leading the "good life."

What parent doesn't wish for a retreat in his house or apartment, that's away from the main stream of family activity? Privacy at home is a must for most of us. A comfortable corner in your bedroom where you might enjoy morning coffee or an after-dinner chat when teenagers have taken over the living room.

A small chest with a drop-front desk unit is ideal for bedrooms where mothers can retreat for a quiet hour of writing letters.

A conversational table in the den makes serving breakfast or tea a delight.

County Agent Says Leaf Must Be Harvested Soon

Pitt County Agent S.C. Winchester anticipated today the county's heralded tobacco crop "will have to be harvested unusually fast now" because of the 4.3 inch rain that drenched the county yesterday.

Prospects, however, are still "very bright" that Pitt will turn in one of its best crops, he said.

Given ideal weather, the county could still produce its heaviest pounds per acre yield and, perhaps, its top quality. Winchester said the "ideal" weather would involve a few days of hazy, mild weather.

The unusually rapid harvest anticipated, he said, would come from "undue amounts of yellowing that would lead to browning and speckling of the leaf" that would cause mandatory priming resulting from the excess rains.

Winchester pointed out Pitt was "very fortunate indeed to have had no high winds accompanying the rain." Winds, he said, would have uprooted a large volume of

Congo Is Sickest Nation Ever Nursed By The UN

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The United Nations has the sickest nation it has ever nursed on its hands today.

These areas, he said, still had water standing in the fields this morning.

Just a month old, the Congo is facing a crisis which, without prompt remedial action, could cripple it permanently or even snuff out the remaining signs of life.

Winchester pointed to the fact that the county was in need of rain before the drenching. "A good rain would have been very beneficial. If it had been cut in half, we would have had ideal moisture conditions."

Born without proper prenatal care and abandoned by its sponsors after great provocation, it can only survive and prosper through a massive effort by the U.N. or individual countries.

"Prospects are still good," he added. "We absolutely have a good chance of making one of our best crops in spite of the rain."

The crisis will be reached in August.

Under the Belgians, the Katanga met its expenses out of the huge tax revenues from the mining companies principally the Great Union Miniere combine and turned the surplus over to the central government.

The Congo was a Belgian colony which lived richly on cheap African labor. Belgian brains and money vast mineral resources and great coffee, palm oil and rubber plantations.

Moise Tshombe, premier of Katanga province after being rejected by the United Nations on his demand for independence, now almost certainly will try to win a larger share of the rich mining revenues of Katanga.

The Belgian know-how has now largely disappeared because of the panic that followed the crude attempts of the Congolese to assert their new authority.

This would put the central government in immense difficulties, particularly with the flight of some Belgian capital and the understandable reluctance of other foreign investors to sink money into such a questionable new state.

Traffic Light At Intersection

A new traffic control light has been placed in operation at the intersection of Fifth and Elm Sts., City Manager Leonard Bloxam announced today.

Minerals normally provide 57 per cent of the Congo's export revenue. Agricultural products 43 per cent.

He said the stop light is coordinated with the traffic light at Tenth and Elm Sts.

Unless the Katanga crisis is resolved quickly a financial collapse is almost certain, in the view of economists here.

"We are hoping it will eliminate some of the accidents we have been having at that corner and improve the traffic situation, especially when school opens," the city manager stated.

The transfers from Katanga were made monthly in the past and there is no sign yet of any payment.

Bloxam said there have been several "right nasty wrecks" there.

The only hope is that some workable relationship with Belgium can be re-established soon and the two countries can work out a formula for settlement of the Katanga question.

The light will be in operation 24 hours a day, as are all local traffic lights.

Once that is accomplished the U.N. and perhaps the United States could concentrate on stabilizing the government and creating a climate which would attract further investment.

Cost of the installation was set at $1,100.

Self-Mutilation Plot Charged

BURLINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Police held five Negroes today on charges they plotted together to saw off fingers and thus collect insurance for their injuries and unemployment.

Authorities said George Bryson, 28, was mastermind of the scheme. Also arrested Thursday night were his brother James Bryson, 19; James Rogers, Walter Rogers and Thomas Tate. Each was charged with filing a false and fraudulent insurance claim, or making.

George Bryson allegedly took out $3,000 in accident insurance, and a policy to pay him $25 a week if he became unemployed. Police said on Feb. 19 his brother James cut four fingers from George's left hand with a rented power saw and George collected $3,135 from various insurance policies.

Thomas Tate and Walter Rogers were talked into repeating George's performance, police said, agreeing to give George half the insurance money they collected. But of the $3,000 Tate collected, officers declared, the share he gave George included a $500 bad check.

Provisional Members Of Local Service League

By PEGGY SMITH
Reflector Woman's Writer

Thirteen civic-minded Greenville women have begun their five-month period of training required for membership in the Service League, one of the outstanding local volunteer service organizations.

These women are considered "provisional members" until they complete their requirements for admission to active membership. Provisional members are not eligible to vote or hold office.

Those selected as provisional members are Mrs. F.R. Atkinson, Mrs. John Biggs, Mrs. H. H. Bryant, Mrs. Richard Capwell, Mrs. John Drake, Mrs. Richard Gammon, Mrs. Wilson R. Guice, Mrs. W.J. Hadden, Jr., Mrs. C.L. Lupton, Mrs. Roger Mann, Mrs. Thomas Money, Mrs. Powell Speight, and Mrs. R. C. Stokes, III.

During the 35 hours of volunteer service required, a part of their time will be spent helping at the hospital, one of their main projects.

The Service League has a Hospital Guild which is composed of two committees. Members of the league operate the Coffee Shop at Pitt Memorial Hospital. In the shop a customer may purchase snacks, light lunches, gifts for young and old, sundries, cigarettes, candies, etc.

The other committee is concerned with hospital activities—fixing tray favors, planning hospital parties and decorating of the hospital on special occasions.

sions.

Another duty which they will encounter will be the tea cart which makes rounds of the hospital twice daily so that patients may make their purchases. The small profit made is used for the Hospital activities and the Laughinghouse Hospital Bed Fund, another league project which financially aids needy patients.

What type of women are chosen for membership into the league? Short biographic sketches of these 13 women tell their qualifications.

When asked how MRS. THOMAS MONEY felt about being invited into the Service League, she said "I was very delighted and I think you can do more for others in the Service League than any book of garden club. Thus far, I've certainly enjoyed working with the bloodmobile and in the hospital."

Nixon Made More Of A Job Out Of Vice Presidency

Editor's Note — Under Richard Nixon, the vice presidency underwent remarkable extension. It was in this office, during the President's illness and as his emissary abroad, that Nixon strove to build an image of responsible statesmanship. This is the last of three articles.

By SAUL PETT

CHICAGO (AP) — Under the Constitution of the United States, the only prescribed duty of the vice president is to preside over the Senate—and, according to an old joke, inquire each morning about the health of the president.

Richard M. Nixon has made much more of the job.

He has proved one of the hardest working vice presidents in history and, according to Dwight D. Eisenhower, no man in the job has had such "careful preparation for the presidency."

He has traveled widely and spectacularly for the president abroad, relieved him of much ceremonial burden at home, served as troubleshooter between Congress and the White House, helped settle the steel strike and, during presidential absences, presided over meetings of the Cabinet and National Security Council.

During President Eisenhower's three illnesses, it was generally agreed, Nixon showed tact and dignity in helping to run the government.

Additionally, in the past four years Nixon has done much to win new friends.

In 1956, he began to soften his campaign tactics and even displayed a fresh charity toward old and new opponents. He found occasion to praise Harry S. Truman's "courage" in sending troops into Korea. Earlier this year he defended his Democratic rival Sen. John F. Kennedy against the charge of being soft on communism.

And in 1958, many observers thought they saw a new level of statesmanship in Nixon when he told a London audience that the Western world should "speak less of the threat of communism and more of the promise of freedom."

All these factors help highlight the widely discussed picture of the "new Nixon"—a phrase, incidentally, which the vice president's friends don't take kindly to.

"Of course, he's changed," said his press secretary, Herb G. Klein, during the Republican convention this week. "But to speak of a 'new Nixon' seems to imply he went out to get a new personality like a new suit."

"He didn't. But he has changed since I first met him in 1946. He has grown with experience, maturity and confidence."

Whether this is the "old Nixon" or the "new Nixon" now running for president may prove academic, anyway. Most people see what they want to see.

This, one can reasonably assume, is especially true of the vice president. Almost from the beginning of his career, he has caused a high pitch of emotion, both for and against him. Unlike most vice presidents, who were scarcely seen and rarely heard, this one played the leading role in a long series of highly dramatic scenes.

The last two were clearly his best, politically. They brought him more undiluted praise than anything else in his career.

In the one case, Richard Nixon seemed to be taking it on the chin for all Americans. In the other, witnesses agree, he did well.

He showed courage and control in May 1958 when a Venezuelan mob turned a routine goodwill tour into a nightmare. He attacked the Nixon cars with clubs, pipes, stones and spit. At one point, the howling mob even tried to overturn the vice president's car.

He showed skill and poise in the summer of 1959 in Moscow when Nikita Khrushchev suddenly opened a fantastic running debate. The scene was the U.S. National Exposition in Sokolniki Park, and the whole thing was on television.

Khrushchev: "We are telling you not to be afraid of ideas. We have no reason to be afraid."

Nixon: "Well, let's have more exchange of them, then."

Khrushchev: "You Americans think that the Russian people will be astonished to see these things. The fact is that all our new houses have this kind of equipment."

Nixon: "We do not claim to astonish the Russian people. We

S.C. Official Seeks Action On Leaf Discrimination

LORIS, S. C. (AP) — An irate state senator says that "discrimination" against South Carolina tobacco growers in Georgia may reach the point where a special session of the Legislature should be called to pass retaliatory measures.

Sen. James P. Stevens of Horry appealed to both state and federal officials to stop "the rankest form of discrimination" against South Carolina leaf growers.

Stevens urged Gov. Ernest F. Hollings to make "strong complaint" to the governor of Georgia.

"If necessary," Stevens said in a telegram to Hollings, "I urge you to call a special session of the Legislature in order that retaliatory measures may be passed against Georgia farmers marketing their produce in Columbia and other markets in South Carolina."

The Horry County senator was most indignant about the requirement that out-of-state tobacco sold on the Georgia market be specially tagged.

He said South Carolina tobacco, labeled with a different colored tag, brought only 19 cents a pound when sold on Georgia markets which opened Thursday.

He said Georgia tobacco, which brought 50 to 60 cents, he added.

Stevens also sent telegrams to U.S. Sens. Olin Johnston and Strom Thurmond and U.S. Rep. John McMillan, all of South Carolina, asking them to take action to require the Flue-Cured Stabilization Corp. to support the price of ungraded and untobacco on South Carolina markets.

"It clearly appears," wired Stevens, "that certain persons and firms have collaborated to prevent the sales of South Carolina tobacco in Georgia."

"I ask you to call for an immediate investigation to determine the persons, and/or, corporations behind this punitive measure."

Johnston replied later that he had discussed the matter with the U.S. Department of Agriculture officials and had been advised there is no action that can be taken by the government.

By VERN HAUGLAND

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration Friday gave detailed plans for a multibillion-dollar space exploration program to potential contractors.

Among projects in the program estimated to cost between 12 and 15 billion dollars are:

1. The Apollo—intended to carry a crew of three men on a moon orbit after first space flight is accomplished in a Mercury capsule orbiting the earth.
2. The Aerob—a satellite which would ride in the sky at the same speed as the earth's rotational timing. This is sometimes described as a stationary satellite.
3. The Prospector and Surveyor moon exploration vehicles.
4. The Rebound—the name given to passive communications satellites from which radio and television signals could be bounced.

NASA officials outlined the programs at a meeting of industry representatives.

George M. Low, chief of manned space flight programs, told the group that the Apollo vehicle, to be launched by Saturn rockets, will be flexible enough to be capable of both flying around the moon—a step toward future manned landings on the moon—and serving as a manned laboratory orbiting the earth.

Low said Apollo probably will be built on the modular or building-block concept, with three basic parts:

1. A command center, which would house the crew during the launching and the crew's entry to the earth's atmosphere.
2. A propulsion unit which would provide course corrections, place the craft into an orbit around the moon, eject it from that orbit, or maneuver it during earth orbits.
3. A mission unit, which could be changed for various flight missions.

Low said the Apollo program will be directed by the same group that is managing Project Mercury, aimed at an attempt to send a manned capsule orbiting the earth next year.

Mighty Atom-Smasher Uncovers 'Nuclear Zoo'

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Writer

UPTON, N. Y. (AP) — Goliath Smiles David in the world's most powerful atom-smasher whirling alive today.

The goliath hurls atomic missiles around a half-mile circle 300,000 times in one second, at almost the speed of light.

Then the missiles smash the tiny hearts of atoms into even tinier smithereens.

These curious smithereens, or bits of atomic nuclei, holds secrets of what the universe is made of. Scientists already have detected 32 different particles from the hearts of atoms. They sometimes call them the "nuclear zoo."

But science simply doesn't know yet why all of them are there, and what they mean. The particles appear or are created if the nucleus of an atom is hit hard enough.

The new machine, the alternating gradient synchrotron at Brookhaven National Laboratory, can produce all of them.

Most importantly, it can produce hundreds, thousands, or millions of them. This means getting enough to study them closely, and thus help puzzle out their relationships and meanings.

Scientists cannot predict that anything useful will ever come from this mammoth expensive research. It is a quest for pure knowledge, but might bring tremendous payoffs.

Liner Brings 8 Beauties To U.S.

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The liner Orades has docked here with skipper John D. Birch described as the prettiest cargo he has carried in 40 years at sea.

Aboard were the first eight entries to arrive for the International Beauty Congress, which will open Thursday. The congress is the successor to the Miss Universe contests formerly held in Long Beach.

A festive welcome was accorded the liner's arrival Friday. It had sailed 26 days before from Manila. The contestants aboard: Elizabeth Voon, 19, Borneo; Michiko Takagi, 19, Japan; Zena Ahmad, 21, Malaya; Edith Vital, 18, Philippines; Christi D'Arcy, 22, Singapore; Patricia Apollonia, 22, Honolulu; and Margaret Powell, 24 Canada, who joined the ship at Vancouver.

Military Honors For RB47 Pilot

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military honors were scheduled today for the late Maj. Willard G. Palm, commander of the RB47 plane shot down by the Soviets, upon arrival of his body at Dover, Del., Air Force Base at 2 p.m.

The Soviets turned Palm's body over to U.S. authorities in Moscow after attacking the plane in what the United States has described as piracy over international waters of the Barents Sea. The Reds still hold two crewmen captured alive. Fate of the other three is unknown to U. S. authorities.

Palm will be buried in Arlington National Cemetery, again with honors, at a ceremony next Thursday after his body has been examined by military doctors.

Rockefeller Back Home For Rest

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP)—Tired, but satisfied with the results of the Republican National Convention in Chicago, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller returned home for a rest Friday night.

The governor and his party arrived in his private plane at Westchester County Airport. He was accompanied by his wife, Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Malcolm Wilson, and several members of the Rockefeller staff.

"The whole convention came off well. What we have to turn to next is organizing for November. This is both for the state and the nation," Rockefeller told newsmen.

The Republican presidential campaign in New York, Rockefeller went on, will be organized "entirely within state structures." He did not elaborate.

Named To Post In World's Fair

NEW YORK (AP) — Maj. Gen. William E. Potter, 55, former governor of the Panama Canal Zone, has been named executive vice president of the 1964-65 New York World's Fair Corp.

The retired army officer served in his canal post from 1956 to June of this year. During World War II, he was one of the logistics planners of the Normandy invasion.

$7,500 Bite By Her Dirty Dog

DETROIT (AP)—It was a dirty dog indeed that took a big bite—$7,500 worth — from its owner's pocketbook because it tracked across a white rug with muddy paws.

Mrs. Nora Rogers suffered a broken hip when the frisky miniature French poodle knocked her down as its owner, Mrs. Ruth Healy, tried to chase it off the rug.

Mrs. Rogers, who was visiting Mrs. Healy, received a $7,500 settlement in a $25,000 damage suit against the owner, charging the injury kept her from working as a beauty operator.
