Pitt Demo Leaders Call For Unity

AT DEMO EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEET . . . Chairman John Clark, Sec.- Treas. Mrs. Curtis Spencer of Black Jack, Vice Chairman Charles Horne.

Executive Committee Has Meet; Expect Hard Fight

Pitt County Democratic leaders called for party unity behind the ticket in the November elections and predicted a tough battle to carry North Carolina for the national Democratic ticket.

Some 40 of the county's Democrats gathered Saturday for a meeting of the Pitt County Democratic Executive Committee under the leadership of John G. Clark Sr., county chairman.

"We're here today as Democrats to carry the ticket this fall," Clark declared. "It's going to be a hard campaign. It's going to be one of the toughest campaigns in many years. We have a tremendous fight before us and it is going to require work from us and

Kennedy, Johnson Pledge Increase In Farm Income

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Midwest Democrats hailed today a bold pledge of their presidential nominee John F. Kennedy to raise farm prices and incomes and to ease the nation's farm surplus headache.

The Massachusetts senator made this promise—which he said was the strongest ever given farmers by any party in history—before a cheering farm rally late Sunday attended by farmers and party leaders from the country's agricultural heartland.

Kennedy was backed up by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, his running mate.

Kennedy went all out to impress upon the traditionally Republican farm states that he considered defining farm incomes and what he called "Republican disinterest" in farmers to be about the biggest domestic issue of the presidential campaign.

He said the GOP has brought near disaster to the nation's farmers.

Kennedy and Johnson brought with them a big array of Democratic leaders to help assure farm voters that the party would not go back on its commitments—an act they charged to the Republican administration.

These included Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Stuart Symington of Missouri, Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Henry

Cuban Walkout Viewed Possible

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—The Western Hemisphere foreign ministers' meeting entered a new, critical phase today in which Cuba may be pointed out as a Trojan horse for communism in the Americas.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro has already served notice Cuba will reject any such charge and will bitterly attack the United States. A Cuban walkout from the conference being held by the Organization of American States (OAS) is possible.

The foreign ministers turned to discussing Communist infiltration of Latin America after signing a resolution condemning the dictatorial regime of Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo in the Dominican Republic. The United States joined with other members of the OAS Sunday in approving diplomatic and economic restrictions against the Trujillo regime until it makes democratic reforms.

The Dominican delegation walked out of the conference Saturday in protest against the resolution, which it termed "illegal and coercive."

Congolese Drop Their Objections

Gov't Reverses Self, United Nations Given Free Hand In Emergency

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The Congolese government today withdrew the demands it has been trying to impose on the United Nations Congo operation.

In a sharp reversal of its previous position, the government announced it "sees no reason to press its demands" in view of the latest Security Council meeting on the Congo.

The Security Council, in effect, reaffirmed the policy pursued by the U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld. He has been under fire by the Congolese who accused him of "blackmail, treason and plotting."

Today, in a statement which neutrals in the Congolese capital, a Congolese government spokesman told newsmen:

"The government is satisfied that the Belgian troops will be withdrawn. The government considers that the atmosphere is good."

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council Sunday night overwhelmingly endorsed Dag Hammarskjöld's direction of U.N. military and civilian aid to the Congo.

There was no formal vote in the council after more than 12 hours of debate, but speaker after speaker from all regions of the world upheld the U.N. secretary-general's policy of neutrality toward the Congo's domestic disputes.

The council majority rejected the blasts of Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba and the harsh criticism by the Soviet Union that poured out over Moscow radio and was repeated here by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov.

Hammarskjöld flew back to New York Aug. 16 seeking council support of his refusal to use the U.N. force of nearly 15,000 men to put Lumumba in control of mineral-rich Katanga province, whose Premier Moïse Tshombe declared his independence of Lumumba's government. Hammarskjöld said that if Lumumba's view was upheld, the U.N. operation would have to be ended in the Congo.

Lumumba cried blackmail and demanded that the U.N. force be put under his government's control and that Hammarskjöld be supplanted by a commission from 14 African and Asian nations. Lumumba's emissary, Deputy Premier Antoine Gizenga, repeated the demands in the council debate.

Kuznetsov proposed a resolution to create an Asian-African committee as a sort of overlord of the U.N. force. But as the council session neared its end after midnight, the gaunt, graying Soviet official confessed he could not get the seven votes necessary in the 11-nation council to approve the resolution. He withdrew the resolution and the marathon session—second in two weeks on the Congo situation—ended without a vote.

It marked still another setback for the Soviet Union, which during the debate (1) demanded withdrawal of Canadian troops from the U.N. force, "because Canada is an ally of Belgium"; (2) called Belgium an aggressor in the Congo, trying with NATO allies to establish a new form of colonialism under a U.N. flag; (3) and said the United States was trying to bring the Congo into the NATO sphere of influence under Hammarskjöld's civilian aid program to get the Congo government going on a workable basis.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A timetable for viewing the Echo I satellite today and Tuesday has been released by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The times, all Eastern Standard, apply to the Carolinas:

Today—6:19 p.m., 24 degrees above the horizon, traveling northeast; 8:29 p.m., 71 degrees, northeast; 10:35 p.m., 42 degrees, northeast.

Tuesday—12:40 a.m., 50 degrees, southeast; 2:47 a.m., 67 degrees, southeast; 5:00 a.m., 2 degrees, southeast.

Familiar Issues Again To Fore

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly is going to hear debate on a pair of familiar cold war issues—American spy flights over Soviet territory and the Soviet occupation of Hungary.

The Soviet Union, in a weekend letter to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, called for the Assembly, opening Sept. 20, to consider the so-called "threat to peace" created by Francis Gary Powers' U2 flight in the RB47 shot down by the Soviets July 1 and other U.S. aerial activity.

The United States asked the Assembly to reopen its inquiry into Soviet repression of the 1956 Hungarian revolt and the continued presence of Soviet soldiers in the satellite nation.

Soviets Disclose Early Fears For Dogs Launched Into Space

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP)—Two mongrel dogs in their space flight reacted alarmingly after the rocket blast-off last Friday, raising fears something had gone wrong, the Communist newspaper Pravda reported today.

But 10-pound Belka (squirrel) and 12-pound Strelka (arrow), shown to newspapermen in Moscow for the first time, rallied and soon were eating as their space ship sped on its orbit, the party newspaper said.

The newspaper also reported the capsule containing the two dogs, other animals, flies, plants and fungi made a smooth, undamaged landing in a meadow after being discharged from the mother space ship. The capsule came down Saturday after 18 revolutions around the earth in 24 hours, Pravda said.

The 4½-ton space ship, after discharging its living cargo at a low altitude, also made history by landing safely itself, Pravda said. It gave no details.

Scientists watching the reaction of the dogs by television placed aboard the space ship said the dogs' heads and paws hung limp and unmoving after emerging from the terrific pull of the take-off, Pravda said.

"We were alarmed at that moment," one scientist told Pravda. "Only the data of the telemetric system quieted us. The dogs' pulse and breathing were continuing."

Pravda said one scientist gave this account of the landing of the capsule:

"The container with the dogs

Whedbee Sees An Opening Day Average Of Over $56

FULL WAREHOUSES AWAIT TOMORROW'S MARKET OPENING . . . high prices predicted as Bright Belt begins sales.

Sales Supervisor W. L. Whedbee today predicted an opening day average on the Greenville Tobacco Market of between $56 and $60 per 100 pounds.

Greenville's five sets of buyers swung into action tomorrow morning at 9 with full sales at 10 warehouses anticipated for opening day.

While all warehouses are not yet full, enough tobacco is expected to come in this afternoon and tonight to fill all 10 sales tomorrow.

An average of $57 has been predicted for the 17 Eastern Belt markets opening tomorrow.

"We expect the volume to be as big or bigger" than last year "and the price as good or better," Whedbee told the Daily Reflector.

On opening day, 1959, Greenville paid growers a total of $975,910 for 1,731,750 pounds, an average of $56.16 per 100 pounds.

"The first day's average, Whedbee said, "will depend, of course, on the quality of tobacco on the floor. So far, it looks good."

He predicted tomorrow's volume will "run around one and three-quarters million pounds." He said all the warehouses he has visited are expecting full sales.

"We have one of the best cigarette crops I've ever seen," Whedbee said. He pointed out both quality and quantity in the 1960 crop should show increases over 1959.

He pointed to a pounds-per-acre figure of 1,500 last year, indicating this year's yield should approach 1,800 pounds per acre. The record was seen in 1958 with a yield-per-acre figure of 1,921 pounds.

Offerings tomorrow, Whedbee said, will probably be mostly lugs and bottom primings. The opening sales, he said, will also see a scattering of leaf, heavier type, tobacco.

Lighter sales were anticipated for Wednesday and Thursday, Whedbee indicated. He pointed out the decrease seen last year from opening day.

Farmville Market Looking For Full Sale, High Prices

FARMVILLE — Prospects were good today for a full sale and a high opening day average for tobacco's first 1960 tobacco-market sales activity here.

New Sales Supervisor L. A. Williams said this morning the five floors that will see sales tomorrow "have been filling up pretty fast this morning."

He said both buyers and growers predicted a high sales average tomorrow along with an increased volume over opening day, 1959.

An average of $57 per 100 pounds has been predicted by experts for the Eastern Belt's 17 markets.

Last year's figures on opening day showed an average lower than predictions for tomorrow.

Farmville averaged $55.72 on opening day last year from the sale of nearly 600,000 pounds.

The markets here expect full sales tomorrow that would involve an increase in opening day poundage over last year.

Williams indicated most buyers and growers in the Farmville area were agreed that the 1960 crop will show a higher quality and more poundage. Still, he said, unfavorable weather during the last few weeks of harvest dampened initially higher expectations.

Farmville sales get underway at 9 a.m. tomorrow with all major companies represented in two full sets of buyers.

Eastern markets last season sold more than 328 million pounds at a $58.70 average, highest in the belt's history. Last year's opening day average was $56.79.

Eastern markets include Asheboro, Clinton, Dunn, Farmville, Goldsboro, Greenville, Kinston, Robersonville, Rocky Mount, Tarboro, Smithfield, Wallace, Washington, Wendell, Williamston, Wilson, and Windsor.

Record Figure In State Growth

NACS HEAD, N.C. (AP)—North Carolina logged 139 million dollars in industrial development, largest for any six months on record, during the first half of 1960.

The figure was announced to the State Board of Conservation and Development today as it opened its quarterly meeting at this coastal resort.

William P. Saunders, director of the C&D department, told the board the record figure "clearly indicates the progress being made at local and state levels in promoting further industrialization of the state."

The department's Commerce and Industry Division said the 139 million represented 288 new and expanded plants which added more than 16,600 new job opportunities worth 50½ million dollars in annual payroll.

The department's Commerce and Industry Division said this compared with these figures for the first half of 1959: 106 million dollars in investments, 233 new plants and expansions, 15,895 new jobs and 57 million dollars in payroll.

The division's report noted that "while the total projects and new and expanded investment figures are higher this year, total added employes and payrolls are slightly under last year."

As an explanation, it said plant expansions ran unusually high for the past six months. "Modernization . . . often requires fewer employes to operate a facility," it pointed out.

Gov. Hodges, presiding as board chairman, called the session to order. He also will speak at a dinner this evening.

Barbara To Try Direct Appeal

MOSCOW (AP)—Barbara Powers decided today to appeal directly to Premier Nikita Khrushchev for clemency for her husband, convicted U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers.

"She has decided it would take too long to await the outcome of her appeal to President Leonid Brezhnev," said attorney Frank W. Rogers of Roanoke, Va.

Mrs. Powers, 25, brunette wife of the 31-year-old American flier sentenced to 10 years' detention for espionage against the Soviet Union earlier had told reporters she would await the outcome of this formal appeal before trying to see Khrushchev.

The Soviet Premier is vacationing in Yalta on the Black Sea, and just how she intended to go about seeing him was in doubt.

It is known that the pilot's father also intends to press ahead with efforts to see Khrushchev, but his attempt did not appear to be coordinated with that of his daughter. They also were reported to have disagreed on the wording of an appeal.

There was no indication of the points in dispute, but lawyers who accompanied the family to Moscow for Powers' espionage trial last week said the flier's wife and his parents had not been able to agree on the wording of the mercy petition they had planned to submit to Brezhnev today.

Couple Killed By Two Successive Lightning Bolts

BAY CITY, Mich. (AP)—Successive bolts of lightning killed a man and his wife Sunday.

The furious electrical storm felled Marjorie Shook, 22, then killed her husband, Robert, 27, as he ran to her body. The couple left three young children.

Mrs. Shook was visiting neighbors in suburban Linwood when the storm started.

"I've got to get home to my kids," she told Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Chaffee. She ran out into the storm.

David Stone, another neighbor, said "Mrs. Shook reached the center of the road and was trying to wrap a plastic raincoat around her when the first bolt hit her square.

"Her husband was about 50 feet ahead, on his lawn, and looked at her, stunned by the noise, and then he started to run back. The next one hit him before he got there," Stone said.

Kinston Man Is To Be Executed On Wednesday

MCALESTER, Okla. (AP)—Eddie Junior Oxendine, 29, of Kinston, N.C., is scheduled to die in the electric chair here Wednesday—unless Gov. J. Howard Edmondson approves a recommendation that his sentence be commuted to life imprisonment.

Oxidine, first scheduled to die in May for a robbery-slaying, was given two stays, one for 30 days, another for 60. The State Pardon and Parole Board recommended commutation of the sentence July 26.

Deputy Warden Park Anderson said Sunday, "In every case that I can recall, the governor has approved recommendations made by the parole board." He said Warden Robert Raines of State Prison probably would contact the governor about the matter today.

Oxidine's brother-in-law, James Spence, 31, of Pembroke, N.C., remains under death sentence. The two were convicted for the 1953 robbery-slaying of Mrs. Ruth Zimmerman, 19, a Lawton, Okla. housewife. Spence told authorities it was he who fired the fatal shot.

Soviets Disclose Early Fears For Dogs Launched Into Space

around the earth in 24 hours, Pravda said.

The 4½-ton space ship, after discharging its living cargo at a low altitude, also made history by landing safely itself, Pravda said. It gave no details.

Scientists watching the reaction of the dogs by television placed aboard the space ship said the dogs' heads and paws hung limp and unmoving after emerging from the terrific pull of the take-off, Pravda said.

"We were alarmed at that moment," one scientist told Pravda. "Only the data of the telemetric system quieted us. The dogs' pulse and breathing were continuing."

Pravda said one scientist gave this account of the landing of the capsule:

"The container with the dogs landed on a smooth meadow surrounded by arable fields. On landing four farmers were not far away. They surrounded the unusual guest from the cosmos and examined it.

"Somebody read a sign on the container which carried a request to report the findings to a given address but they didn't have to send a telegram. Soon above their heads an airplane of observers appeared. It landed specialists who were the first to open the traveling ship.

"Belka and Strelka rushed out of it. They ran about the meadow fawning upon people and barking merrily."

One Soviet scientist, Prof. D. V. Mariyov, said that the satellite used in the test "could carry both a man and large variety of scientific instruments." Other scientists hailed the recovery of the ship as another big step toward sending a man into space.

The journey covered 700,000 kilometers—434,700 miles—in an orbit 198.8 miles above the earth. The Soviets said the landings were made within seven miles of the target spot.

Strelka and Belka leaped from their cabin after its hatch was opened and "barked joyously and fawned on the people," Pravda said.

Their companions on the epic flight were reportedly equally lively on returning, the mice nibbling on biscuits, the flies "keeping flying around the flasks" in which they traveled.

"One of the plants that was on board the space ship continued to blossom," the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

TV cameras inside the space capsule recorded the actions of the dogs during the flight. Astronomer Mikhail Barbasov said they showed the phenomenon of weightlessness in space caused no grave disturbances of physical function.

Some Soviet newspapers reported briefly the recovery of the 85-pound U.S. space capsule in the air over the Pacific but this was dismissed as an experiment for espionage purposes.

West European newspapers generally viewed the Soviet achievement as another demonstration of the Soviet lead in the race with the United States to get a man into space. The London Observer said the Soviet feat "will be a bitter pill to American scientists who have also successfully recovered objects from orbit, but on a far more modest scale."

Prof. Alfred J. Lovell, director of Britain's giant radio telescope Jodrell Bank, said the Soviets "undoubtedly have a lead of several years over the Americans in their ability to put extremely heavy objects into orbit and also in the precision of their guidance."

"But, on the other hand, the Americans, from the extremely wide scope of their scientific experiments and their ability to extract fundamental results, have a considerable lead over the Russians," Lovell added.

Stockholm's Dagens Nyheter said it was only a question of time "before the Russian technicians consider themselves sure enough to send a man out in space."

Miss Jane Marshall Perkins Marries Wilkie Carlos Burt

The wedding of Miss Jane Marshall Perkins and Wilkie Carlos Burt was solemnized yesterday at five p.m., at the Memorial Baptist Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Vance Perkins, Sr., of Greenville, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Joseph Burt of Enfield.

Officiating at the double ring rites was the grandfather of the bride, Rev. H. Frederick Jones, retired Baptist minister. He was assisted by Rev. Percy Upchurch, the bride's pastor.

The church altar was decorated with two brass fountain candelabras holding burning white tapers entwined with cascade arrangements of white snapdragons, carnations, gypsophelia, and clematis, and a center arrangement of white gladioli and fern. The choir rail was covered with clematis.

A program of nuptial music was rendered by Ted Gossett of Rocky Mount.

Miss Betty Lane Evans, soloist, sang "I Love Thee," by Grieg. A trio, composed of Misses Elizabeth White, Ann Parkinson and Millie Bowden, sang "Because," by Hamlen, and for the benediction "The Lord's Prayer," by Malotte.

Given in marriage by her father, she wore a dress of white dove silk taffeta with a portrait neckline, which was outlined with seed pearls. The redingote-style dress was fashioned with a beaue waist and long tapering sleeves. The bouffant skirt was fashioned with deep gathered fullness in back, terminating into a chapel train.

Her headdress was an imported French chantilly, hand-clipped lace veil, draped softly, framing her face in mantilla fashion and cascading into a train. She carried a cascade bouquet of white stephanotis, centered with Georgianna-white orchids.

Mrs. James Vance Perkins, Jr., of Raleigh, served her sister-in-law as matron of honor. The maid of honor was Miss Dele Guddy of Roanoke, Va., a former roommate of the bride.

Bridesmaids were: Misses Lillian Moe, Camilla Henderson, Judy Jolly, Ray Lane, and Mrs. Richard Haer of Greenville, and Mrs. John E. Arnold of Lockport, N.Y. The attendants wore French lime-green chiffon over taffeta cocktail dresses, featuring a darker green cummerbund. Their shoes and hats matched the two-tone green in the dresses. They carried arm bouquets of Golden Delight roses and Leather Leaf fern tied with matching French satin ribbon.

Honorary bridesmaids wore cocktail dresses in pastel shades and corsages of white carnations. They were: Misses Anne Moore, Ruth Young, Jenny Lynn Thompson, Martha Lee Moe of Greenville, Miss Betsy King of Farmville, and Mrs. T.C. Carson Jr., of Bethel.

The groom had as his best man his brother, Dr. Johnnie J. Burt, Jr., of Chapel Hill.

Ushers were: Dr. Joe H. Burt of Winston-Salem, brother of bridegroom; Lt. William Jenkins of Fairmont; Montrose Graham of Enfield; J. Vance Perkins, Jr., brother of the bride of Raleigh; Thomas Nelson of Jacksonville; Gene Bedsole of Elizabethtown; Crowell Pope of Littleton; and Charles Miles of Richmond, Va.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Perkins chose a mauve French lace sheath over taffeta trimmed in a mauve chiffon cummerbund and with back panels. Her feathered hat and shoes matched her dress. She wore a white orchid with purple throat.

Mrs. Burt, mother of the groom, wore a navy chantilly lace over taffeta dress, trimmed in velvet. Her hat and shoes matched her costume. She, too, wore a white orchid with purple throat.

The bride was graduated from Junius Rose High School and attended Sullins Junior College. At present she is a rising junior at East Carolina College.

The groom is a graduate of Campbell Junior College and East Carolina College. He is a science major and will teach in the Pitt County Schools this fall and continue work on his Master's Degree at East Carolina College.

He is a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity.

For her wedding trip the bride changed to a mint green pima cotton sheath and wore a matching feathered cloche, with black patent leather accessories. She wore the orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

After a northern wedding trip the couple will make their home at 805 College View Apartments, Greenville.

Reception

Immediately following the wedding the bride's parents entertained at a reception at the Greenville Woman's Club. Arrangements of white roses, snapdragons, clematis, and daisies were used throughout the club.

The stairway was decorated with garlands of clematis, tied with white tulle and white wedding bells.

In the foyer of the club, greeting guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jesse R. Moe, Mr. and Mrs. Burwell Temple, Miss Jane Hadley.

At the door of the Rachel Maxwell Moore auditorium, Mr. and Mrs. Reid Perkins introduced the guests to the receiving line composed of parents of the bride and bridegroom, and members of the wedding party. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Wells invited guests to the appointed tables which were placed in front of the mantel.

The tables were covered with imported linen, embroidered cloths centered with arrangements of white roses, asters, snapdragons, baby's breath in an antique crystal bowl, flanked with white tapers.

At each end of the tables were silver punch bowls. Clematis, smilax, and wedding bells completed the table decorations.

Serving punch and other party jainties were Misses Jean Perkins, Marguerite Winn, Annie S. Vandye, Mesdames Clinton Roebuck, Lynwood Worthington, Joe Burt, Johnnie Burt, Tige Gardner, Percy Wells, and Sam Weeks.

A three-tiered white wedding cake was placed on an auxiliary table. The bridal cake was encircled with smilax and topped with a bouquet of yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Jones of Baltimore and Mr. and Mrs. Morgan P. Gibson of Philadelphia presided over the register.

Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Winstead and Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Dowd said goodbyes.

Rehearsal Dinner

Preceding the rehearsal of Saturday evening Miss Jane Hadley, Miss Annie Shields VanDyke, Mrs. L. S. Worthington, and Mrs. O. E. Dowd entertained at the Hadley home on Evans St. at a buffet dinner.

Guests were greeted by the hostesses and bridal couple. Mr. and Mrs. J. Vance Perkins Jr. of Raleigh directed guests to the dining room.

Profusions of summer flowers decorated the first floor and porch of the home.

The dining room table was covered with an imported white Madras cloth, centered with an arrangement of white asters, gypsophelia and baby's breath in epergnes, flanked by burning tapers.

Mrs. J. Vance Perkins Sr., mother of the bride, and Mrs. Johnnie J. Burt, mother of the groom, served from either end of the table.

Assisting in the house in addition to the hostesses were: Mrs. M. H. Fambrough, Mrs. Clara Moe Shackell, and Mr. and Mrs. Reid Perkins.

Auxiliary tables were placed throughout the lower floor and porch of the Hadley home.

Miss Perkins was presented a yellow Garza mum corsage to complement her brown, green and white cocktail dress.

A cake cutting was held in the Greenville Woman's Club after the wedding rehearsal.

Wedding Breakfast

Miss Jane Marshall Perkins and Wilkie Carlos Burt were honored on Sunday at 12:30 at a wedding breakfast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse R. Moe Jr. on Longmeadow Road.

Other hostesses besides Mr. and Mrs. Moe were: Mr. and Mrs. Victor Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Reid Perkins, and Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Winstead.

Guests were greeted by the hosts and hostesses and bridal couple and invited to the dining room.

From an appointed table covered with an imported English linen and embroidered cloth, centered with a unique bridal arrangement of white flowers. A three-course breakfast was served.

Auxiliary tables with white linen cloths and bridal arrangements were placed throughout the first floor.

Throughout the house a color scheme of white and green was used in the floral arrangements

'Stringless Tobacco Stick' Invented Here

FARMVILLE — R. E. Mayo, president of a 25-year-old tobacco curing manufacturing firm here, has invented another "gadget" aimed at further revolutionizing the tobacco curing process.

First pictures were released Saturday of Mayo's new "Stringless Tobacco Stick," that he hopes to have in the experimental stage next season.

The galvanized steel "stick" is equipped with a long slot to hold stems securely in place. No tying of the leaves is involved.

Instead of tying the tobacco to wooden sticks with twine, the new metal stick is placed in a vertical position and the leaves slide down the slot into place.

The slot is wide enough to accommodate only one stem at a time, thus the leaves are not crowded on the stick. They remain spaced well enough for thorough curing.

What remains to be seen, according to the innovator, is whether the new grooved stick will pay for itself by reducing skilled labor costs in harvesting weed crops.

"Of course," Mayo says, "I believe it will, or I wouldn't have come up with the idea in the first place."

Production of the new-type stick is still in the future, Mayo says. Next season, he plans there will be "maybe a thousand or two" of the steel sticks being used on an experimental basis.

If thorough experimentation points in that direction, Mayo says, the stick will go into production.

Initial purchase of the new invention will be the total outlay since the galvanized steel will last "at least 25 years," the inventor says.

Mayo is president of the local R. E. Mayo Co., formerly the FARMVILLE PLANT . . . curing manufacturing firm may become future site of stringless stick production.

Florence-Mayo Co. until the Farmville resident bought the entire operation last April.

The firm, one of the largest manufacturers of tobacco cures, recently celebrated its 25th anniversary.

The Mayo firm turns out several thousand units of its five different models of cures annually. Capable of curing 400 complete six-burner units in an eight-hour period, the 40,000-square-foot industrial plant is located on May St. here.

Confident Will Get On Ballot

COLUMBIA (AP)—Backers of a slate of South Carolina independents, unpledged presidential electors are confident they can get 10,000 voter signatures on petitions.

That's how many state law requires before Sept. 5 to put their slate of eight electors on the November ballot, in opposition to Democratic and Republican slates.

The independent group, organizing in a preliminary way here last week, holds a final, full-fledged organization meeting here tonight.

At this meeting, the group plans to:

1. Select four more elector candidates to go with the four it chose last week.

2. Draft the petition form it will use to garner the needed signatures of registered voters.

3. Lay plans for an organization headquarters and for circulating the petitions.

Organizers emphasized that a signature on a petition does not commit the signer to vote the independent ticket.

They recalled that this point was publicized heavily in 1952 when thousands of voters signed petitions to put up a slate of independent electors for Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The state Democratic party a week ago turned its back on a suggestion that it offer a slate of independent electors. That apparently triggered the organization of the independent group.

Swimmer Badly Bitten By Shark

SEA GIRT, N.J. (AP)—A huge shark, carried on top of a wave to within 25 yards of land, attacked and badly wounded a man Sunday as he stood knee-deep in the Atlantic Ocean.

The victim, John Brodeur, 24, an accountant, was in good spirits at Pitkin Memorial Hospital Neptune, where doctors operated in an effort to save his badly bitten right leg.

"What's all the fuss about," he said. "It was only a fish."

The shark's bite sliced completely through one bone and halfway through another in Brodeur's lower leg.

Doctors said it would take several days to determine if circulation returns to normal. If not, the leg may have to be amputated.

"If the shark had bit him that deeply on any other part of the body," he would have been a goner," said Dr. Charles Samaha, who performed the four-hour operation.

Brodeur received eight pints of blood during the surgery. His condition was described as fair.

Brodeur was visiting his fiancée, Jean Floramo, who was working at a resort hotel. They were swimming off a part of the beach reserved for the hotel's employees.

"I'm bitten," Brodeur cried out. As he staggered toward shore leaving a blood-stained trail, his fiancée flailed the water with her arms and frightened off the shark. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Floramo, who were on the beach, ran to his aid.

A hotel guest, Norman Porter of New York, applied a tourniquet to Brodeur's leg.

Little Time To Prepare For Impact

The opening of some 760 to 900 construction jobs in the Greenville area during the two-year period while the vast Voice of America facilities are being constructed will have an important impact throughout Pitt County.

While many of these construction workers, particularly some of the more highly skilled, will have to be brought in from other areas, it is to be expected that a large portion of the construction crew for the project will be recruited in this particular area. It is also expected that most of the people in the supervisory staffs, which will total more than 100, will bring their families here to live during the two-year period while the project is under construction.

To a lesser degree, perhaps, the same will be true of the skilled workers who are brought in to work on the project.

It is apparent, therefore, that Greenville and Pitt County should prepare itself to take care of these new people who will be coming into this area during the two-year period in which the project is under construction.

These people will have to be housed, they probably will have youngsters who will be enrolled in public schools throughout the county, and they will need the other services and facilities that are necessary to normal, pleasant living conditions in any community.

According to the present schedule for construction of the transmitter and receiving facilities, the construction jobs will begin opening up in January, and by May the full supervisory staffs will be in this area. By next July the number of common laborers employed on the projects is estimated at 450, and the number of skilled workmen also employed is estimated at 200. These figures are expected to remain stable until the first of 1962 when the number of skilled workmen is increased to a total of 350. That level of employment—some over 900 people—is expected to continue until early 1963 when the project is completed.

At no time in the past has Pitt County faced a situation where so many construction jobs on one project were required in its midst. Neither has it been faced with the expected influx of so many new people at one time to fill a portion of these jobs. A good many adjustments probably will have to be made to take care of the needs of these people, and the more of the needs that can be anticipated and provided for before the influx begins, the better it will be.

From the economic standpoint, the project will obviously have a terrific impact upon Greenville and all of Pitt County. In spite of the fact that many skilled workmen will have to be brought in for specialized jobs, many of these jobs may be filled by people already in this area. So far as the estimated force of 450 common laborers is concerned, most of these probably can be drawn from the labor pool that already exists here.

It should mean steady employment for at least a two-year period for many residents of this area who now have only seasonal jobs. If that is the case, it will likewise mean year-round income during the period for many families whose income now depends upon seasonal jobs.

Greenville and Pitt County have only a few months to plan for the situation before major construction begins in January. It is important that careful consideration be given not only to the economic boost that will be provided the county by the project, but also to the problems which may be expected to arise with the influx of a considerable number of new residents.

Each College Has Peculiar Needs

By LYNN NISBET
COLLEGES — The State of North Carolina maintains five educational institutions of university status—the three units of the Consolidated University at Chapel Hill, Raleigh and Greensboro, North Carolina College at Durham and A. & T. College at Greensboro—sometimes called the Negro universities. A brief story about visitation of the Advisory Budget Commission to these institutions was published here several weeks ago.

The State also maintains seven other accredited four-year degree granting colleges—three for whites, three for Negroes and one for white and Indian. All are co-educational, and while ratios vary the total enrollment of 11,659 is almost equally divided between men and women. Men have a slight edge.

The 1959 Budget Book places aggregate value of buildings and contents at these institutions at $45,624,000. Additions made under 1959 appropriations and bond issues have not been evaluated, but will run the total "book value" to well above $50 million. Needs presented to the budget group on its recent tour for capital improvements—new construction renovations and major repairs—aggregated $19,733,300 for the seven campuses.

The total operating budgets for the fiscal year 1960-61 amounted to $8,098,000. Increased enrollment and rising costs will move this figure up to more than $9 million for each year of the upcoming biennium. Many problems are common to all institutions, but each has peculiar needs requiring individual consideration. These will be briefly set out in the following paragraphs.

EAST CAROLINA—East Carolina College at Greenville is third largest of the State's educational institutions. Overall enrollment of 4,535 is exceeded only by Chapel Hill and State College units of the Consolidated University. Situated on several adjacent but not adjoining tracts of 206 acres, the building had a 1959 budget value of $16,300,000. New requests amount to $7,835,500.

Major needs are for dormitories, especially for women, and for modernization and renovation of classrooms. Dormitory accommodations for women here, and at all institutions, are more important than for men. Parents and college authorities agree that male students can live off the campus or commute more satisfactorily than women. While the enrollment at East Carolina is approximately two-thirds men, housing problems are more acute for the feminine third.

The growth of this college has been almost phenomenal since it expanded the curriculum from its original concept of teacher training to include majors leading to degrees in numerous other fields. Dr. Leo Jenkins, who assumed the presidency just a few months ago, envisions further expansion of obligations in agriculture, technology and other fields not presently covered.

The freshman class this year will be the biggest in history, and a number of applicants have been turned down for lack of space. Dr. Jenkins said there will be, on present accepted applications, some 2,020 new students—freshmen and transfers—on the campus this September. Many of these, as well as some of the old students, could not attend college in some other part of the state. An interesting sidelight observation is that 461 men and 267 women students have automobiles registered with the campus control office.

APPALACHIAN—Next largest institution is Appalachian State Teachers College at Boone—only one to retain the "Teacher" designation in its corporate name—with overall enrollment of 2,860, divided about 50-50 men and women. Buildings valued in 1959 at $10 million are crowded on a compact campus of 35 acres—more than 3,000 feet above sea level. New buildings authorized by the last Legislature and requested in the new application for $4,941,300 will be located in perimeter areas. Major items are dormitories for 500 women, enlargement of student center and cafeteria facilities, and renovation of classrooms and recreational services. All dormitory residents are required to buy cafeteria meal tickets.

WESTERN CAROLINA—Presently the smallest of the four-year colleges for white, but with ambitions to narrow the margin, is Western Carolina College at Cullowhee. The overall enrollment of 1649 last year is more than double that of ten years ago. The 50-acre campus with buildings valued two years ago at $7,224,000 has already been expanded by purchase of additional land—and more land is needed for indicated growth. The immediate needs requested of the budget group are for dormitories for women, housing for married students, additions to the student union, a combination auditorium and music building, plus renovations to other facilities, totaling $3,426,500.

Like East Carolina and Appalachian, and perhaps with more logic, Western Carolina bases appeal on grounds that it serves a large area of the state for higher educational opportunities not otherwise available to young men and women. For that reason the appeal has economic, social and sentimental basis. What the budget group and the General Assembly must determine is how far the State can go in meeting the need.

The Corporate Profits Are Off

By RALPH ROBEY
In the first quarter of this year business profits before taxes on an annual rate were 48.8 billion. That is an enormous figure, but it must be remembered that just about one half of it has to be paid to the federal government in taxes. Also, it should be recalled that in making up the federal budget it was estimated that corporate income before taxes this year would be $1 billion.

As yet we do not have even a preliminary official estimate for profits for the second quarter. Enough corporation reports have been published, however, to make it clear that there has been a decline from the volume of the first quarter.

Among the various private organizations which follow business profits with great care is the First National City Bank of New York. In the August economic bulletin of this bank a tabulation of industries is given for 721 non-financial corporations. This is a large enough group to be taken as representative for corporations as a whole. The tabulation shows that for the entire group profits in the second quarter were 3 percent below those for the first three months of the year. It also shows that they were 12 percent below the second quarter of 1959. This latter figure is not too important because, in anticipation of the steel strike, profits were high in the second quarter of last year.

There is a wide variation in the profit record as between various industries. As would be expected the greatest decline is in the iron and steel industry—29 percent. This is closely followed by a 23 percent decline for railroad earnings. Both of these are comparisons between the first half of 1960 with the same period for 1959. On the same basis the most favorable showing was by service and amusement companies—13 percent—followed by the telephone and telegraph industry which recorded a 9 percent increase, and then the utility industry by a 7 percent improvement. For the manufacturing group as a whole, which covers the reports of 533 companies, profits declined 6 percent from the first half of 1959. The explanation of this general drop of profits varies from industry to industry, and actually from company to company. In the case of the iron and steel industry, for example, there has been a marked drying up of demand. The automobile industry profits have been hurt by compact cars taking a large share of the market. Railroads have been unable to get the volume of freight they need for a reasonable profit level. Home appliance manufacturers have found it necessary to make concessions to hold volume, and the reduced level of construction has hindered the profit figures in that industry.

Among the factors which have influenced pretty much all companies are intense competition, an inability to raise prices because buyers will not pay more, and a constantly rising cost of production.

What of the future? Will profits continue to decline or may we look for at least a moderate upswing? The over-all answer is that, unless we go into a recession, profits will improve, and there is at present no evidence to suggest that the amount of the improvement of profits necessarily will vary from industry to industry, depending in a large measure upon the ability of management to keep its costs in line with the volume of business that can be done. But we shall not reach the $51 billion pretax figure for the year as a whole. That could be done only by the development of a boom, and we are not going to have a boom this year.

WHAT YOU CAN DO TO FIGHT COMMUNISM AND PRESERVE
Alert yourself—learn the true nature and tactics of communism.
Make civic programs for social improvement your business.
Exercise your right to vote; elect representatives of integrity.
Respect human dignity—communism and individual rights cannot coexist.
Inform yourself; know your country—its history, traditions, and heritage.
Combat public apathy toward communism—indifference can be fatal when national survival is at stake.
Attack bigotry and prejudice wherever they appear; justice for all is the bulwark of democracy.

Sold To Highest Bidder?

The 1960 national conventions cost the television and radio networks and stations between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000. It is estimated that about two-thirds of this amount will be covered by sponsored advertising.

More than 5,000 newspaper reporters, apart from the 350 radio and television reporters, attended these conventions. The cost of this coverage is much too high for what it is worth. The convention is no longer free to control its own time. Each of the national committees receives a huge contribution from the city where it is held. This fund is made up by contributions from hotels, merchants and others who benefit by the large influx of visitors to a city. Competitive bidding is a factor in determining which city is to get a convention. It is part of the deal that the convention will last a minimum number of days.

For this reason some of the time is taken up with useless oratory singing, and other matters which are a waste of time and money. Many hours could have been saved in both conventions if a few of the orators were omitted, considering what they said. As for the music, some of it was fairly good, but I was listening on television; in the convention hall, little of it is ever heard.

The conventions and the campaigns cost too much and take too much time. In no other country on Earth does a campaign continue for three months from convention to election and that does not include the primaries. The cost this year may amount as high as $30,000,000 which the two parties will have to find. This does not include what the candidates and their families may spend and what ancillary groups may spend. There will, for instance, be no accounting for what Walter Reuther's United Auto Workers Union will spend or what Jimmy Hoffa's International Brotherhood of Teamsters Union will spend. There will be other organizations on both sides that will add to the expenditures for this election, some accountable, some not accountable for what they do. As a matter of good government and justice, every cent spent by anyone for any reason for a Presidential or other candidate ought to be recorded in a sworn statement. It should be a felony for a candidate to receive unrecorded financial assistance.

Shall we reach the day when the Presidency of the United States will be sold to the highest bidder?

If the campaign were limited to one month, it would make more sense. With television available to the entire nation it makes little sense for the candidate to visit 50 states. He can say what he has to say in a 30-day period and can be televised at all hours of the day and night without all the unnecessary chasing over the place. The whistle-stop, speech-making was invented when there was no other way to let the people see a candidate. Today, everyone can see television or listen to radio and know as much about a candidate as it is necessary to know.

Of course, the candidates would have to compete with "Wagon Train" and "Peter Gunn" but that might force them to write their own speeches and say what they mean. The ghost writer has become a pest and a nuisance, particularly those who regard themselves as great statement when what they really are at most are grammarians.

As for money, why not limit expenditures for each candidate, from all sources, to $1,000,000? There ought to be no exceptions to reporting and the candidate himself should be held responsible for the total expenditure, failure to remain within limits being a felony. Television time should be free, a recognition by the networks and stations that their license is not for nothing.

In Great Britain there are limitations both as to campaign time and expenditures. There each candidate's manager is made responsible for obeying the law. And it works.

It could be made to work in the United States. The country could get used to a short campaign and take it more seriously. Our people would respect a candidate more if he spent less money to get elected. After all, a Presidency that costs so much to get can become very very cheap.

Other Editors Saying Costly For Taxpayers

(The Raleigh Times)
It seems definite now that the people of North Carolina, through their Greater University, are running an employment agency for college presidents. Only yesterday, Chancellor Gordon Blackwell of the University's Woman's College resigned that post to become president of Florida State University. And, just weeks ago Dr. Dean Colvard, dean of agriculture at State College, left to become president of Mississippi State University.

It is very flattering to have other states beating a path to our University in search of presidents for their universities. It is recognized that the help it needs in holding them.

The time to give that answer is during the 1961 legislature. One of the chief reasons these young men leave North Carolina is that they are offered a great deal more salary in other positions. Salary is not the only consideration, but a man with a family to raise has to think seriously when he is offered a new job with a raise of several thousand dollars a year.

The last legislature provided to some extent for better pay for top men in the University system. The next legislature should do more along that line. It is cheaper to pay good men enough to keep them than it is to seek out other men and training them—only to lose them, too.

Dr. Blackwell was one of the four top young men in the Greater University, the others being President William C. Fri-

Better Incentives In Production

By ELMER ROESSNER
Money may sometimes be the least effective incentive in programs to increase production. Harold F. Rothe, personnel manager of Fairbanks Morse, says in the current issue of Supervisor Management, a magazine published by the Society of Supervisor Management, Inc.

Mr. Rothe is not pioneering in virgin forests. The idea that people react better to things other than money is not new. There have been many earlier researches on this subject. Small businessmen have found that a few words of praise or a pat on the back will make a salesman out of a clerk. Several large premium companies are flourishing in the assumption that a $15 toaster is a greater incentive to an employee—or a customer—than $15 in cash.

If this axiom holds true in the trading stamp field, it is equally valid on the production line. Nevertheless, Mr. Rothe does contribute an idea and that is that in raising productivity, the employer is really trying to change employees' behavior, that is, that he is inducing a habit, the habit of producing at a faster rate or at a higher quality.

This is an educational, rather than an inspirational process. "The effectiveness of the incentive, therefore, depends on how far it induces employee to learn a desired new habit," he wrote.

To promote learning, incentives must meet certain requirements, he said. Learning proceeds faster, more accurately, more effectively, he held, where there are adequate incentives. He said the learner is so motivated when:

1. He needs something he can gain by learning.
2. The incentive is appropriate to the motive. (He cited the case of an incentive system in an English factory. Young girls were originally paid on a day rate for threading needles for older girls. When a piece-rate

They 'Want' Cuba

By ROGER BABSON
BABSON PARK, Mass. — There are several "volcanoes" throughout the world which may explode at any time. My travels to Berlin last year taught me that the situation there could be the most serious. The one nearest home, however, is Cuba. Both Mr. Nixon and Mr. Kennedy should visit Cuba at once.

CUBA A CLOSE NEIGHBOR
While I am at Babson Park, Florida, during the winter, the Webber College students often fly over to Havana as a part of their vacations. Cuba has seemed only a "stone's throw" from any portion of Florida. Cuba is a vital factor—for good or evil—to the Florida East Coast, with its fifty great hotels extending north and south from Miami. I am not afraid of Florida's importing any Communism from Cuba, as the Florida people are very conservative. I seriously fear, however, that Russia may get a foothold in Cuba.

Could we afford to let Russia get a base in Cuba for submarines and launching pads for missiles, or, on the other hand, could we now afford to go to war with Russia to prevent such gradual occupation? I leave this to Richard Nixon and John Kennedy to decide after their visit to Havana. I further advise them to consult with Nelson Rockefeller, who is one of our best-posted men on Latin America. CUBA AND LATIN AMERICA

I have visited all the countries of Central and South America. Not only are many of these people ruled by dictators, but they are very sensitive, like most Spanish people. At heart, they would like to have us keep Russia out of Cuba and even stronger out of affairs in Cuba. Some of these Latin American dictators, however, might resent such an attitude on the part of the United States and make us appear more enemies than friends.

We now hear much about the Monroe Doctrine, which was announced to the world over a hundred years ago by President Monroe—namely, that we would not allow any European nation to get a new foothold in any Latin American country. I believe that the American people would stand for a reassertion of this Monroe Doctrine, but I wish the Latin American countries would ask us to do so. The entire situation is very ticklish. It should be one of the first things for the presidential candidates to consider seriously. The November election may turn upon Cuba. I speak with authority because I was an early supporter of the Pan American Union.

U. S. CUBAN INVESTMENTS
Considerable U.S. money is invested in Cuba. This includes certain railway and traction properties, the Cuban telephone company, and many mercantile businesses. Several thousand American families have been living in Cuba, depending upon the protection offered by its closeness to the United States. Many of these families, directly or indirectly, contributed to Fidel Castro in his revolution against Batista. Now the women and children are being driven out of Cuba, and the men are undecided what to do. Much depends upon the health of Fidel Castro and what will be the real attitude of his brother in case the brother becomes Prime Minister. This can only be ascertained by waiting and watching.

The largest American investments are in the sugar lands, which, of necessity, must be operated either by large corporations or by the Cuban Government. The men are undecided what to do. Much depends upon the health of Fidel Castro and what will be the real attitude of his brother in case the brother becomes Prime Minister. This can only be ascertained by waiting and watching.

immediately produces an immediate and enthusiastic reaction. In other words, $100 for the best idea of the half year gets slower reactions than $2 paid on the spot for each useful suggestion. And when that $2 is translated into terms of consumer products, such as a knife or silver bottle-opener, reactions may be even better.

CABIN CRAFT RENTED FOR VACATIONS AT SEA
Next summer you may take your vacation on a cabin craft that rents for $250 a week, regardless of the number aboard. Summer cabin-craft rentals have been introduced by American Yachting Systems, Inc., (Roslyn, N.Y.). The craft is fully equipped. Many have been rented for trips to Bermuda and Puerto Rico this fall. Next summer considerably more will be available. The company makes boats solely for leasing. By 1961, it expects to have 200 steel craft on the rental market.

Another 'Game' Against Crime During Olympics

By EUGENE LEVIN

ROME (AP)—One game not on the Olympic program, but very much on the Rome program these days, is cops and robbers.

Both sides are playing it with blazers.

The Roman cops have brought in reinforcement from other Italian cities and have called on International Police (Interpol) to lend a hand.

The "robbers" have rung in confidence men, pickpockets, call girls, burglars and various and sundry crooks.

Hundreds of thousands of Olympic visitors are the pawns in these games.

Italian police have been worrying about protecting the visitors for months.

They are not so worried about the local underworld characters. They have the Roman pickpockets pretty well tagged, and already have warned the purse-snatchers to stay away from the crowds and the girls away from the main streets.

What the Rome police are worried about are the underworld figures from out of town—the international crooked set — those who hope to cash in on the Olympics by getting lost in the Olympic shuffle.

Interpol has been asked to advise Italian police whenever a known foreign confidence man, call girl or burglar heads in the direction of Rome. The Italians will try to stop them at the border. If they fail, they will be on the lookout in Rome.

A couple of Olympic confidence rings already have been smashed. The members of one ring posed as travel agents and preyed on small hotel owners, taking deposits on phony promises of sending the hotels Olympic business. The other gang cashed in by selling Cuban "Olympic" stamps—until someone discovered that Cuba had not issued any Olympic stamps.

Marriage Licenses

Marriage licenses were issued to the following white couples during the past week from the office of Mrs. Blair Cox Wheelis, Pitt County register of deeds:

- James Earl Manning and Jeanette Woodall, both of Greenville;
  - Jerry Vinson Herald of Box 562 of Mt. Holly and Shirley Ann Hardy of Box 64, Bethel; Charles Albert Sprull of New Bern and Valeria Edna De Mers of Raleigh;
  - Franklin Deloy Braxton of Ayden and Josephine Buck of Waterburyville; Wilkie C. Burt of Enfield and Jane Marshall Perkins of Greenville;
  - Sammy Holoman of Rt. 3, Greenville and Joyce Whitaker of Rt. 3, Bethel.
- The following marriage licenses were issued to Negro couples during the same time period:
- James Darden of Rt. 1, Ayden and Alice Ruth Floyd of Ayden;
  - Lloyd Ormond and Mary Lilly Foreman, both of Ayden; Robert Lee Clark and Dorothy Burnette, both of Rt. 3, Greenville; Chester Knight and Mary Dorothy Station, both of Fountain.
  - Aaron Strong Jr. and Cora Jane Freeman, both of Ayden; William Guion of Rt. 1, Grimesland and Janie Whitehurst of Rt. 2, Ayden; William Ebron and Annie Knight, both of Greenville; George Washington Williams and Lilly Strickland, both of Farmville; Nasby Roy Mills Jr. and Pearlle Chapman, both of Ayden.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—The Thomas Reid family rested across town from their bomb-shattered apartment today after friends, both white and Negro, came to their assistance.

The explosion Sunday stirred Mayor P. R. Oligatti to call the series of bombings "a disgrace to our city." He said he would ask the City Commission to post a 2,000 reward.

All the blasts—this made the fifth this month and the fourth in 10 days—were marked with racial overtones.

The pre-dawn explosion wrecked one side of the duplex apartment occupied by the Negro family, slightly injuring two of their four children.

White persons live some three blocks from the Reid home. Reid said he had "never had trouble of any kind, with anyone."

David Reid, 7 months, was sleeping in a bedroom with his parents. His bed, only a few feet from the center of the blast, was showered with glass. He and Sandra Lennise, 3, sleeping in another room, were treated for cuts at Children's Hospital.

The other two youngsters, Thomas Jr., 4, and Sharon Lynn,

2, escaped injury along with the parents. The family had lived in the apartment for four years.

The Reids were swamped with offers for help. An owner of the chemical company where Reid works offered a truck and personally helped him to move his furniture.

Scores of people from Reid's church and labor union were scurrying around the dwelling by mid-morning—cleaning up shattered glass and broken furniture.

Last Friday the entire police force was assembled by Police Commissioner H. P. Dunlap, who urged that "everything humanly possible" be done to end the blasts.

Last Wednesday two blasts, seconds apart, ripped through the fashionable home of a white real estate salesman whose company had offered formerly white property for sale to Negroes.

All the other bombings were at Negro homes in racially mixed areas—or in historically white neighborhoods now occupied by Negroes.

No arrests have been made in connection with any of the incidents.

Troopers Ready For Another Big Jump

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—Strategic Army Corps paratroopers complete their movement to staging areas in South Carolina today, prior to an airdrop here Tuesday in joint Army - Air Force war games.

More than 8,000 paratroopers jumped here this weekend, about 7,000 of them dropping Saturday in the biggest U.S. airdrop since World War II and the remaining thousand following on Sunday. The paratroopers were members of STRAC's 101st Airborne Infantry Division.

Troop transport and cargo planes of the Air Force and Air Force Reserve also airdropped, or dropped by parachute more than 2,000 tons of equipment during the weekend in Exercise Bright Star-Pine Cone III.

Sunday, about 3,600 paratroopers, members of STRAC's 82nd Airborne Division, began to move out to staging areas at Donaldson, Myrtle Beach and Shaw Air Force Bases in South Carolina. They will return to Ft. Bragg and nearby Camp MacKall by parachute, beginning at 6 a.m. Tuesday.

The airdrops during the weekend claimed the life of one paratrooper and injured 80, most of them only slightly.

Sp. 4C. Maurice A. Weinrich, a 25-year-old paratrooper from Spokane, Wash., lost his life Saturday during what the Army described as a parachute malfunction.

A helicopter crashed and injured all six occupants, two of them seriously. However, Col. Gus S. Peters, the commander of the 82nd's First Airborne Battle Group who was one of those hurt in the crash, was removed from the serious condition list Sunday.

Capt. James N. Hanson, another of the crash victims, was transferred to the Portsmouth, Va., Naval Hospital for surgery and treatment of a skull fracture. An Army spokesman said his condition was still serious Sunday and little change is expected for 10 days.

Ballet Group To Appear In Russia

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Ballet Theatre will be the first American ballet company ever to perform in the Soviet Union, the acknowledged center of the art.

Lucia Chase, co-director of the company, said Sunday that the group—now on a five-month tour of Europe—will visit the Soviet Union from Sept. 14 through Oct. 24. The tour is sponsored by the U. S. State Department.

Forest Fires Threaten Nevada's Resort Area

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Wild Sierra forest fires today threatened Lake Tahoe resorts after plunging northwestern Nevada and the resort area back into the gaslight era by melting power lines.

A 7,000-acre blaze at Donner Lake, now in its third day, forced the closure of U.S. Highway 40 to all but emergency traffic Sunday night. The highway is a main artery over the Donner Pass between Sacramento, Calif., and Reno.

University Has Iraq Blessing

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—The honor guest at the graduation ceremony was Prime Minister Abdel Karim Kassem, the army general who two years ago led a violent revolution that threatened to wipe Western influence out of Iraq.

It was the first commencement of Al Hikma University, the American university in Baghdad. Kassem's personal appearance at the graduation put the final stamp of approval on the university, which has blossomed into full four-year academic status during the two years following the revolution. In a country which veered close to the Communist bloc last year, this American institution is the only foreign university in Iraq.

The school is operated by Jesuit Fathers from New England, headed by the Rev. John Banks of Boston.

Al Hikma University was founded in 1956, under the old regime in Iraq. The upheaval of 1958 scarcely affected the progress of the school. By September 1959, the university had moved to its new campus, a dusty, windswept tract of land south of Baghdad.

Al Hikma is an outgrowth of another American Jesuit venture, Baghdad College, a high school on the north side of Baghdad with an enrollment of 748. It was founded in 1932.

Four cabinet ministers have sons enrolled in the school. Students of Al Hikma and Baghdad College include Christians, Moslems, Hindus, and Jews.

Tornado Strikes Town In Texas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A tornado smashed several buildings in the small town of Lake Dallas Sunday injuring two persons and scattering debris over a large area.

The twister hit as a violent thunderstorm and ominous black clouds swept the Dallas-Fort Worth area. Lake Dallas is 30 miles north of here.

Damage to the town was estimated at more than 25,000.

Benjamin Franklin invented the bifocal lens about 1760.

rated over 17,000 acres and forced evacuation of several mountain hamlets. It burned all eight homes in Bath, two miles east of Forest Hill Saturday and about a dozen in nearby Michigan Bluff and the Baker Ranch community.

A third Sierra blaze—this one north in Nevada County, Calif.—exploded Sunday night from 1,500 acres to 7,000 acres and forced evacuation of North San Juan, a community of 300 persons. Forest Service officials said they hoped to save the town.

Hundreds of tourists were stranded because gasoline pumps weren't working. Operators fitted their pumps with power mowers, ancient hand pumps and diesel generators. Some 300 cars were trapped in a pigeon-hole garage in Reno because the elevator couldn't operate. Burglar alarms didn't work. Nevada sheriffs and highway patrol cars couldn't commu-

Prison Art Sale Brings $8,600

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Buyers paid 8,600 for paintings and sculptures by convicts at the third annual San Quentin Prison Arts and Crafts show, an increase of 3,500 over sales a year ago.

The convict-artists received 90 per cent of the sale price. Ten per cent went to the prison welfare fund.

Attendance for the Friday and Saturday show totaled 10,000. Visitors came from 85 California cities, 28 states and 8 foreign countries.

cate with headquarters. Restaurants served cold meals by candlelight.

Marilyn Monroe's new picture "Let's Make Love" couldn't make its world premiere in Reno. A heavyweight fight between Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson of Long Island, N.Y., and Howard King of Reno had to be canceled. Water had to be rationed because electric water pumps were out. The gambling casinos did a booming business as usual. The major clubs turned on emergency diesel generators. Smarter clubs closed for fear of thieves in the dark.

A spokesman for the Sierra Pacific Power Co. said it might be two days before power lines could be restored.

A Stirring Western Suspense Novel
The Lean Rider by CLIFF FARRELL

CHAPTER 9
"Mr. Jones said they're going to hold an inquest," Lisa Randolph told Paul Drexel and the two barbee boys. "So there's considerable straightening up to do here."
"The bunkhouse is the only place big enough," Abel Barbee said. "It needn't be redid, but Hester'll be along soon, and other women. There's no call for you to soil your hands."
It was plain he did not believe that her efforts at housecleaning would amount to much. She left him and entered the small house where she stood beside Frank O'Hara's body for a time. He was handsome in death, almost as bright as he had been in life. The night they had met. But he was a stranger. She might have married him, but she doubted that now.
She had learned some things about Frank O'Hara from Jenny Calvert, the wife of the stage agent, during her overnight stay in town. And also about Abel Barbee.
The two men had been close friends, even though they appeared to have little in common, one the hard-drinking, aristocratic, irresponsible scapegrace, the other unschooled, dedicated to the rough profession of raising cattle.
"Just what caused 'em to fall out, nobody rightly knows," Jenny Calvert had said. "Frank was drinking. They talked for awhile, and then it started. Frank tried finally to pull a gun and Abel knocked him down and took the gun."
Lisa turned away from the bar and went out softly, leaving Frank O'Hara alone.
Abel and the other men were waiting her. She had brought a cotton house dress and a dust cap in a handbag, and she donned them in the privacy of the cookhouse. Searching in the cluttered room, she located a broom and scrub pail and brush, none of which apparently had been used in some time.
Thus armed, she marched into the bunkhouse. This, like the house, had originally been planned on a grand scale to quarter slaves. Only a portion had been completed. The unfinished end had been boarded off, and had stood that way for years. Even so, the remainder was sizable. It had suffered the same neglect as had the mansion. Lisa pitched in and the dust began to swirl.
Abel entered. She ignored him but was very much aware of his scrutiny. He finally sighed and pulled off his coat and necktie. "Seems like you could use a mite of help," he observed. "It ain't rightly in my line."
"No," she said. "It isn't."

the ranch," Lisa said. "I saw him as I was moving up the walk to the front door. He was too far away to make out his identity positively but..."
Her glance passed swiftly over Abel Barbee who stood at the rear of the crowded room. "... but I am certain he was wearing a shirt of a blue and white pattern of some kind."
The majority of the onlookers appeared puzzled. A few seemed to know the significance of what she had said, for she saw their attention swing to the Barbees—and then swing hurriedly away.

Satellite Feels Sun 'Pressure'

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Less pressure than a fly's weight is pushing the Echo I balloon satellite toward a fiery death in the earth's atmosphere.
Scientists say the 80-pound balloon is dropping 2.2 miles closer to the earth every 24 hours because of infinitesimal pressure of sunlight.
When the satellite was launched Aug. 12 its lowest point to the earth was 945 miles. Now it is 930 miles.
Duane Muhman, research group supervisor at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, said Sunday that at this rate the satellite "would hit the ground 450 days after launch— if you discounted the effect of atmosphere."

Yanks Lose To Senators; Tigers Nip Tribe Twice

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

If Baltimore's Orioles should pull off the biggest upset of the 1960 baseball season and win the American League pennant, they can thank the Boston Red Sox.

Of the 13 games played between the two teams, the Orioles have won 14.

One of the reasons for the Orioles' superiority over the Red Sox has been the pitching of Jim Lonergan.

The 22-year-old star, who seems bent on capturing rookie-of-the-year honors, hit one of Baltimore's two home runs Sunday as the Orioles crushed the Red Sox 10-4 to move into a second-place tie with Chicago.

Lonergan pitched a game and a half behind the league-leading Yankees. The other Baltimore homer was a grand slammer by catcher Gus Triandos.

Hansen's batting average is a modest .238 but in 13 games against Boston he has owned a .451 mark. Of his 71 runs batted in, 34 have come against the Red Sox.

Washington beat New York 7-4 and Kansas City trounced Chicago 8-1. Detroit swept a pair from Cleveland by the same 6-4 score.

Milwaukee climbed to within 6 1/2 games of National League-leading Pittsburgh by defeating Philadelphia 3-2 while Cincinnati was beating the Pirates 8-4. St. Louis shut out Los Angeles 2-0 and the Chicago Cubs split a pair with San Francisco.

The Cubs won the first 5-3 and the Giants took the second by the same score.

Steve Barber pitched his eighth victory for the Orioles. The rookie southpaw was staked to a 5-0 lead but it took a neat relief job by Wes Stock to preserve his fourth victory without a loss over the Red Sox.

Three Washington home runs ruined the Yankees. The most productive was the three-runner by Earl Killebrew, his 21st, but the key blow was Jim Lemon's 4th, with one on that snapped a 2-1 tie in the eighth. Bob Allison added his 13th.

Whitney Ford, who hurled back-to-back 1-0 shutouts in his last two starts for the Yankees, gave up a run in the third to end his scoreless string after 23 innings. He left with a 3-1 lead after the fifth, waded by the heat, Jim Coates, Ford's superior, walked two batters in the sixth and Killebrew greeted Luis Arroyo with his three-run homer. The victory handed the Senators into fourth place.

Kansas City matched its biggest hit total of the season, rapping five Chicago pitchers for 17 hits as the A's snapped a 10-game losing streak. Ray Herbert permitted only three hits and got three himself in notching his eighth victory.

St. Louis Stadium crowd of 23,000, including the team's home at 1,226,193, saw the Tigers end their winning streak with their sweep over the Indians. The double loss was the second straight doubleheader defeat in Cleveland.

Tommy LaSorda's two-run triple capped a four-run fifth that carried the Tigers to overcome a 4-1 lead in the opener. He had six hits in the twin bill. Eddie Yost singled in two runs in the eighth of the nightcap to snap a 4-1 lead.

Frustrated Indians, who now lead the sixth-place Tigers by only one game, put nine runners on base in the last four innings of the nightcap but not one scored. Twice they had a runner on third with none out.

Official Says No Chance Of Staleness In US Forces

By WILL GRIMSLEY

ROME (AP) — The head of America's Olympic forces shrugged off today suggestions that the star-studded U.S. men's track and field team may be going stale and forecast a cascade of gold medals in the forthcoming games.

"From top to bottom, this is the finest collection of athletes we ever have sent to the games," said Kenneth (Tug) Wilson of Chicago, president of the U.S. Olympic Committee.

"They have been superbly trained and superbly handled. If we are beaten out for medals, it will be because of the competition. We will not beat ourselves."

Wilson's comments came in the wake of charges that the U.S. men's track squad faced an Olympic letdown because of so many preliminary meets, including the two-day weekend competition at Bern, Switzerland.

Mal Whitfield, former U.S. Olympic star now helping Liberec, said he believed the Yanks were leaving their fight in the gym, so to speak. Hal Connolly, the hammer throw champ from Santa Monica, Calif., called the Bern junket a "silly, sightseeing tour."

The track boys, favored to dominate their division in the games opening Thursday, arrive here by train Tuesday night, completing America's huge delegation in the Olympic village.

They showed no signs of a let-down at Bern where Lee Calhoun of Gary, Ind., equaled the world record for 110-meter hurdles with 13.2 seconds; Ralph Boston of Laurel, Miss., broad-jumped 26 feet, 8 1/2 inches, and Glen Davis of Columbus, Ohio, did 22.5 seconds in the 200-meter hurdles around a curve, equalling the world record.

Wilson said the United States not only would show strength in men's track and field, a longtime American specialty, but would make a better showing than ever before in the less spectacular events.

"I think we will surprise a lot of people in such things as Greco-Roman wrestling, gymnastics, fencing and even women's track and field, in which we never have been overpoweringly strong," the U.S. executive added.

Wilson said morale and esprit de corps was the highest on the U.S. team in his memory.

"There are a few of the routine complaints — the beds are too hard, the food isn't good or the village is too noisy — but generally everybody is happy," he observed.

"The only thing I'm really afraid of is that they'll eat themselves out of shape. Sometimes there are three kinds of meat and I'll see a boy take all three."

As the village population neared its 8,000 capacity, the International Olympic Committee began a series of open meetings to thrash out political and other problems.

Four New Marks Set By Helrich

HIGH POINT, N. C. (AP) — Spartanburg, S. C. swimmer Kathy Helrich set four meet records and Charlotte team won team honors in the Carolinas AAU Age Group Long Course meet which ended here Saturday.

Kathy set 50-meter records for girls 10 years and under in the freestyle, 33.6 seconds; 38.1 in the butterfly; 42.7 in the breaststroke; and 40 seconds in the backstroke.

Bruce Beiderbecke, Charlotte, swimming in the boys 11-12 class, set three meet records: 50-meter freestyle in 30.4 seconds, 50-meter backstroke in 37.1 and 200-meter individual medley at 2:51.9.

A total of 42 records was set. Here are the team scores:

Boys — Charlotte Swim Assn. 181, Johnson Memorial YMCA of Charlotte 139, Raleigh 138, Statesville 121, High Point and Greensboro 44 each, Ft. Bragg 33, Rock Hill, S.C. 14, Chapel Hill 11, Wilson 6, Spartanburg and Kinston 2 each.

Girls — Charlotte Swim Assn. 177, Ft. Bragg 121, High Point 105, Raleigh 89, Greensboro 71, Johnson Memorial YMCA of Charlotte 42, Chapel Hill 41, Spartanburg 38, Statesville 21, Rock Hill 11, Kinston 6, Winston-Salem 5.

Wilmington, N.C. (AP) — A three-run outburst in the top of the 10th inning gave Miami, Fla. a 9-6 victory Sunday over Wilmington and the Region 3 championship in the American Legion Junior baseball playoffs.

Miami and seven other regional winners will be in the national finals at Hastings, Neb. Aug. 28-Sept. 3.

Ronnie Smith's two-run homer tied it for Wilmington in the ninth. But Miami came back on a walk, stolen base, a single by Bob Kossman and Dick Emerson's two-run home run.

Veteran Golfers Didn't Scare Don Fairfield

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Don Fairfield didn't flinch as better known veterans took dead aim at his lead Sunday. He called a 22-under-par performance with a neat 67 to shut out all challengers in the St. Paul Open Golf tournament.

Fairfield, 30, of Jacksonville, Ill., took home $4,300 for his efforts, his first tournament victory since 1956 and only his second in five years on the tour.

His final 67 with previous rounds of 66, 68 and 65 gave him a 72-hole total of 266.

Fairfield shook off Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., with birdies on the 10th and 11th and wound it up with another bird on the 18th to leave Hebert two strokes behind.

Sharing runner-up honors with Hebert was Billy Casper of Apple Valley, Calif. Gardner Dickinson of Palm Beach, Fla., had the final day's best round with a 63.

Bunched at 270 for third place were Sam Snead, Don Whit of Borrego Springs, Calif., and Al Geiberger of Studio City, Calif.

First base coach Luke Appling of the Detroit Tigers started playing with Atlanta in 1950.

Oilers Have Expensive Problem-Cannon's Knee

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

The well-heeled Houston Oilers are worried about a knee.

The knee belongs to Billy Cannon, the high-priced two-time All-America and Heisman Trophy winner who survived the rigors of a court suit, but has yet to make his mark as a professional on the football field.

He was lured into the new American Football League by Bud Adams, the oil-millionaire owner of the Houston club who supplied the Louisiana State great with a $100,000 three-year contract that also included lucrative fringe benefits.

Then Adams had to take his case to court when the Los Angeles Rams of the old National League also disported a signed Cannon contract. Adams won the case, but hasn't really gained a ball player.

The potential top draw in the new league, Cannon has been shackled by an injured knee and has seen only limited action in Houston's first three exhibition games—two of them losses.

With Cannon sidelined, understudy Charlie Tolar took over and rammed over for two touchdowns as the Oilers made their home debut a success this weekend by overwhelming the Denver Broncos 42-3.

In other AFL preseason tests, the undefeated Dallas Texans blasted New York's Titans 38-14 and the Boston Patriots defeated the Buffalo Bills 21-7.

In the NFL, San Francisco's 49ers survived a fight-filled battle with Philadelphia for a 45-28 triumph and the Detroit Lions edged the St. Louis Cardinals 24-21 on a Jim Martin field goal with 3:15 left.

Tolar did the leg work and veteran NFL quarterback George Blanda tossed two touchdown passes in Houston's rout of Denver.

Signal-caller Cotton Davidson passed 42 yards to Johnny Robinson for one TD and scored twice himself as Dallas made it four triumphs in succession. New York's Bill Shockley ran 26 yards for a score to tie it 7-7 before a Jack Spikes' field goal put the Cowboys ahead to stay.

Boston's winning touchdown against the Bills came on a spectacular 75-yard pitch from Tommy Greene to Oscar Lofton early in the third period.

The Eagles' Tommy McDonald caught scoring passes of 14, 8, 57 and 7 yards, but was unable to singlehandedly whip the 49ers.

San Francisco's Fred Williams tangled with the Philadelphia bench in one of the melees that broke out, and the Eagles' Jerry Williams was banished after taking a swing at 49er John Thomas.

Martin's clutch field goal won it for the Lions, but it was Jim Ninowski's passing which brought them within range against the Cards. Recently acquired from Cleveland, Ninowski completed 13 of 20 passes for 154 yards and two touchdowns in a second-half drive.

From such schools come such Russian athletic giants as decathlete Vladimir Kuznetsov, the fabulous Tamar and Irina Press of Leningrad who are the newest track stars; wrestler Vakhtang Balavadze and gymnast Uri Tliov, who will be battling the United States and other countries for gold medals in the Olympics at Rome later this month.

"You might say this is a finishing school for young athletes," explained Ivan Dmitrievich, the crazy-faced director. "Four hundred thousand boys and girls between 6 and 18 years of age took tests to try to qualify for the school."

"We accepted some two thousand — 2,126, to be exact. These were the cream of the lot, who underwent physical examinations and proved their skill in very strenuous tests."

These selected youngsters work out three hours a day four or five times a week under the best possible coaches.

"They all want to be champions and represent their country in international competition," Dmitrievich said.

The young pioneers school has two gymnasiums set aside strictly

Sports Stressed In Special Schools

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MOSCOW (AP) — The young pioneers school is an incubator of future sports champions located on the outskirts of Moscow near the famed Dynamo Stadium.

It is a complete athletic plant. A teen-ager's dream, one of 30 children's sports schools in this city aimed at speeding gifted young sons and daughters of the Soviet toward athletic greatness.

The enrollees: Boys and girls from 6 to 18. The subjects, Nothing but sports, track and field, gymnastics, cycling, skiing, fencing, etc.

For gymnastics and acrobatics; a regulation track and field stadium seating 7,000; an ice skating rink kept frozen the year around; a cycling arena; basketball, volleyball courts and a club room for chess and checkers.

Six tennis courts recently were added. Equipment, however, is poor because tennis is a relatively new sport here. The nets are like table tennis nets. The rackets are poorly strung. But players show usual promise.

"We maintain a country camp in summer," the director said through an interpreter. "The school costs boys and girls nothing. They are provided the best possible sports clothes and equipment without charge. They get expert coaching."

"When they leave us, they are ready to become masters of sports."

The Soviet-style children's sports school has no counterpart in the United States.

It is for sports strictly. There is no other curriculum. The children do not live on the premises. They attend regular school and then undergo their rigid sports training during off hours.

They are virtually wards of the state, with little time of their own.

Practice Briefs — Rose High

"It was a good workout and I thought we looked real good for this early in the season," surmised Rose High football coach Bud Phillips following a full-scale scrimmage session Saturday afternoon.

The scrimmage saw the number one unit show frequent signs of offensive explosive power in ramming past a sometimes stubborn defensive assortment.

Halfback John Adams and end Layne Jorgensen scored twice each in the scrimmage session played under game conditions, excluding kickoff.

Adams scored once from scrimmage and intercepted a pass for another long gallop. Jorgensen grabbed a couple of Erskine Duff's passes to hit paydirt.

Wayne Sumrell, Alan McArthur, and Kroghie Andresen were other offensive backfield standouts.

Skip Wright, Dallas Clark, Russ Fields, and Billy James drew praise for outstanding defensive work.

In measuring his first weeks' work, Phillips emphasized spirit shown thus far. "We have had spirited workouts and the boys are working into good physical condition. We have been especially pleased with the showing of some of our younger boys in contact work."

Ninth Graders

All ninth graders at Rose High interested in playing junior varsity football are asked to report to practice this week.

Coeach Bud Phillips stated this weekend that ninth graders would be welcomed to practice sessions, starting today.

He indicated a special need for backs among ninth grade hopefuls.

Finch-Tregoff Case Nears End

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The prosecutor said today the state may wind up its case by Wednesday in the Finch-Tregoff murder trial.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Clifford D. Crall said he has about a dozen witnesses to examine before the defense begins its presentation on behalf of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his mistress, Carole Tregoff.

They are charged with the ambush slaying of Finch's estranged wife, Barbara. The state contends the brunette socialite was shot and killed to prevent her from sharing in the wealthy surgeon's estate via a divorce settlement. Mrs. Finch died July 18, 1959.

Large advertisement for the 1960 Mercury car. Text: 'TAGGED FOR ACTION YEAR END CLEARANCE OF 1960 MERCURYS Act Now—Get the year's best buy on the better low price car The time is now... the place is here! You'll never again have a chance like this to own a car like this. We honestly believe you'll consider it the buy of a lifetime. To begin with, Mercury is priced $63 to $66 below—we repeat, below—the lowest-priced Chevrolet Impala or Plymouth Fury V-8. And as if that weren't enough, we're now making deals that have our accountant spluttering, "you can't do that!" To top it all off, compare the car itself with the other low-price cars we mentioned. You'll find that Mercury's wheelbase averages 7 to 8 inches longer. Up to 494 pounds heavier. Has more body insulation. Result: a smoother, quieter ride. Consider comfort. Mercury is roomier, more luxurious, has greater visibility. And Mercury also offers features like self-adjusting brakes; a finish that never needs waxing; mufflers that are aluminumized for longer life. See what we mean? It's the better low-price car in every respect. Come in—get your best buy while we still have a good selection of models. *Based on 1960 list price Mercury 2-door sedan vs. lowest priced deluxe V-8 models. DAA'

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP) — Aircraft-missile stocks and selected issues made a fairly strong showing in a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .10 to 21.50 with the industrials up .30, the rails off .10, and the utilities off .10.

Recent space age accomplishments by the United States combined with recommendations by a leading advisory service to boost the aircraft-missiles. A variety of stocks throughout the list responded to other recommendations.

The general business news background was drab but the recent behavior of the market — 12 straight sessions with more stocks advancing than declining — prompted encouraging comments from analysts.

Autos and electronics were pretty firm but there was little group leadership aside from the aircraft-missiles. Gains and losses of most key stocks were narrow. A handful of leading issues moved 2 or 3 points either way.

After a ragged start, steels picked up here and there.

Rails were unchanged to slightly lower. Most oils did little.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .90 at 630.17. Corporate bonds were mixed.

U.S. government bonds were slightly higher.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA) — Hog prices steady to 25 lower. Tops of 16.75 to 18.25 at Wilson; 17.00 to 18.00 at Nahant, Kinston, New Bern, Benson, Mount Olive and Newton Grove; 17.00 to 17.50 at Rocky Mount; 16.50 to 17.00 at Bethel, Murfreesboro, Sunbury and Edenton; 17.50 at Greensboro; 17.25 at Albemarle, Goldsboro, Clinton, Fayetteville and Elizabethtown; 17.00 at Rich Square, Tarboro, Enfield, Scotland Neck, Winterville, Lillington and Castle Hayne.

Wilson cash cattle prices steady to 50 higher: steers and heifers, choice 24.00 to 26.00, good 21.50 to 23.50, standards 18.00 to 21.00; cows, beef type 14.50 to 16.50, heavy cutters 13.50 to 15.00; bulls, lightweights 13.00 to 16.00, heavy weights 17.00 to 19.00.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA) — North Carolina poultry markets: fryers and broilers steady, farm price 15 1/2.

Eggs — prices paid by distributors for clean, graded, sized, minimum 80 per cent A quality: Raleigh and Charlotte, steady to slightly stronger, large 47 1/2; prices paid on graded out basis: Asheville, firm, A large 43.

Local Rescue Squad Eyes Ass'n Meet In Greenville

SALISBURY—Greenville Rescue Squad representatives expressed interest in securing the N. C. Association of Rescue Squads convention for Greenville in 1961 at the quarterly directors meeting here this weekend.

Roy Hardee and Dr. Sam T. White II of Greenville suggested the Greenville convention site for 1961 provided adequate facilities can be obtained.

Hardee is commander of the State Association of Rescue Squads and Dr. White is secretary treasurer for the state association.

Plans were also discussed for this year's convention which is being held in Burlington Oct. 1, 2 and 3.

It was announced that a Miss North Carolina Rescue Queen will be selected from entrants sent in by various rescue squads in the state. Plans are underway to secure Miss North Carolina, Ann Herring, to crown the rescue queen at the Saturday night banquet.

Final plans were made for first aid competition which is to be held for the first time this year. Each squad will be allowed a team of four people. The teams will compete in a series of three problems with the winner receiving trophies. Should a team win three years in a row the large trophy would be retained in the local area.

Plans were made to ask the governor to proclaim State Rescue Week for the week of the convention.

The State Association of Rescue Squads now has approximately 43 squads as members. This is nearly 50 percent of the total squads in the state.

Hardee presided over the directors meeting.

Six Are Treated After Accident

Six persons were taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital Saturday after three cars collided on North Greene St. about 7:27 p.m. Saturday.

Officers, who said all six persons were passengers in one car noted they were complaining of sore necks. They were treated and released.

The six, all Negroes were in a 1949 model car being driven by William Oscar Robeson, 43 of Route 3, Bethel. Investigators said the Robeson car was stopped in a traffic lane behind a car operated by Hillard Murrill, 60, of 905 Cherry St. when it was struck in the rear by a third vehicle, being driven by LaFayette Worthington, 16, of Route 1, Greenville.

Police, who charged Worthington with following too closely, placed damage to his car at $200. No estimate of the damage of the Murrill car was given but investigators said the Robeson vehicle was a total loss.

Those taken to the hospital for examination included Robeson; Willie Clea Howard, 19; Johnny Howard, Jr., 24; Mary Francis Taylor, 19; and Novela Jenkins, 19, all of Stokes; and Leroy Godley, 23 of Route 1, Greenville.

Man Struck By Car Saturday

A 69-year-old Negro received minor injuries Saturday when he was struck by a car in the 700 block on Dickinson Ave.

According to investigating police, William Tatum of 305 Hudson St. received lacerations of his forehead, and bruises when he was hit by a car being operated by Mrs. Margie Beachum Hudson of Route 5, Greenville.

Police said the man stepped from the sidewalk into the path of the oncoming vehicle.

Tatum was treated at Pitt Memorial Hospital and released. No charges were placed by officers in the mishap, which caused an estimated $20 damage to the car.

Parents Invited

Parents of 7th grade pupils going to Greenville Junior High School this term, have been invited by Principal Joseph Smith to a special meeting in the school's auditorium Thursday at 8:00 p.m.

The meeting has been called for the purpose of discussing the seventh grade program for the 1960-61 school term.

Last Rites Held For Nash Edwards

Mr. Nash Edwards 92, retired farmer of the Grimesland community, died Saturday at 9 p.m. at Pitt Memorial Hospital after three days of illness.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Wilkerson Funeral Chapel by the Rev. Floyd Cherry, pastor of Blackjack Free Will Baptist Church, and burial was in the Blackjack Free Will Baptist Cemetery.

Mr. Edwards was born in Beaufort County but spent nearly all his life in the Grimesland section of Pitt County. His wife, the former Mary Williams, died in 1944, and he had made his home with his granddaughter, Mrs. Helen Dixon Taylor. He was a member of Blackjack Free Will Baptist Church.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. N. B. Boyd of Winterville, and a son, Zeno B. Edwards of near Grimesland; 13 grandchildren; 19 great-grandchildren; and 2 great-great-grandchildren.

NEW PRESIDENT — Yoon Bo-sun, 52, has been elected the first president of the Second Republic of South Korea. He succeeds Syngman Rhee who was ousted.

Colored News

The J. A. Nimmo Jubilee Singers of Sycamore Hill Baptist Church will meet tonight at 8 o'clock due to the homecoming schedule. All members are urged to attend.

Homecoming services will be held at Sycamore Hill Baptist Church beginning Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

Pitt Points

- Total points given for convictions by highway patrolmen last week: 125
- Total points given to date from February 1: 3,677
- Violation for which most points were given: Speeding—54 points.

Attorney Urges Preparing Wills

It would be wise for everyone to have a will drawn and to review it from time to time, Milton C. Williamson, local attorney, told the Pitt County Life Underwriters recently.

A will enables an individual to select an executor to settle the estate, Williamson said. Specific provisions can be made to safeguard loved ones and bequests made to favorite charities, education and care of children can also be provided through a trust.

Louis Collier, president of the Pitt County Life Underwriters, presided over a short business meeting. Plans were discussed for a study course to be held this fall.

FATHER OF GREENVILLE WOMAN DIED SATURDAY

Mrs. James F. Davenport, Jr.'s father, R. C. Moore, Sr., died Saturday night in Wilson. He is a resident of near Warsaw. Funeral will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Warsaw Methodist Church. Burial will take place in the Wayne Memorial Cemetery.

Cases Heard In City Police Court

The following cases were disposed of in Municipal Recorder's Court by Judge Charles H. Whedbee on August 19.

Pittman Stocks, 14th St. Ext., violating court order; 30 days on the roads; Sadie Stocks Heath, 503 W. Ave., Ayden operating under the influence, plead guilty to careless and reckless driving. The defendant is not to drive a motor vehicle upon the public highways until she has procured from a licensed and practicing medical doctor, a letter to the effect that she has sufficiently recovered from malarial to be safe to drive. Communications to be in the form of written document filed with the clerk, further that she surrender her driver's license to the clerk to be returned to her when these conditions have been met and pay the costs of this action. This court retained for further order, Woodrow Hulon, Route 6, Box 370, Greenville, operating left of center, combined with operating under the influence 90 days in jail and on the roads, suspended, pay $100 costs and $20 for Greenville Rescue Squad and not operate motor vehicle for 12 months; no operator's license, pay costs.

Harris, Negro, 803 Fleming St., possessing non-taxable whiskey, combined with crime against nature, adjudged guilty of assault on a nine-year-old child, two years in jail and on the roads. It is the information of this court that the defendant has active tuberculosis and has but one lung. The court recommends that the State Prison authorities that the defendant be confined in the State Sanatorium provided for such cases; Henry Leroy Douglas, Negro, Route 4, Box 64, Greenville, drunk and disorderly called and failed to appear, capias issued for his arrest.

James Franklin Wade, 110 W. Ninth St., improper turn, not guilty; Dalmir Linden Cox Jr., Route 2, Box 247, Greenville, speeding, pay $17, costs deducted; Wilbur W. Drake, 104 Ficklen St., disorderly conduct, 30 days, suspended, pay $20, costs deducted; Abern Miller, Negro, 901-A Bancroft Ave., assault on a female, 30 days, suspended, pay $30, costs deducted, and not to harm or molest his wife or threaten to harm her; Andrew Jenkins, Negro, 1309 Short St., assault with a deadly weapon, guilty of assault on a female, 30 days, suspended, pay costs; Howard Smith, 109 13th St., skipping room bill, 30 days suspended, pay into court for Mrs. C. T. Williams the sum of $24 and pay costs; Robert R. Cannon, Route 1, Box 322, Ayden, failure to yield, pay costs; Calvin A. Harris, Negro, 110 Tyson St., breaking and entering and larceny, plead guilty to breaking and entering, other than burglariously, nine months on the roads, suspended, to remain of good behavior and not violate any law and remain indoors at home from sunset to sunrise, placed on probation for five years.

John Franklin Avery, Route 1, Box 73, Greenville, failure to yield, pay costs; Ocie Lee Chapman, Negro, 1208 Battle St., improper lookout, pay costs; Joyce A. Williamson, 1601 Oaklawn Ave., failure to stop for a stop sign, pay $10 on costs; Daniel James, Negro, 517 Roosevelt Ave., breaking and entering, plead guilty to breaking and entering and larceny, other than burglariously, six months in jail and on the roads; Jessie Spain, Negro, Route 5, Box 339, Greenville, improper equipment, 30 days, suspended, not to permit auto to be operated until it has been put in good mechanical condition with proper lights and pay costs; Robert Lester Struble, 308 Student St., speeding, pay $17, costs deducted; Lydia Gline Lanier, E. Fifth St. Ext., speeding, pay $20, costs deducted; Bobby Randall Manning, Route 1, Box 186, Greenville, careless and reckless driving, pay $20, costs deducted, and $5.00 for Rescue Squad; Marvin E. Riddle, 1105 Colonial Ave., speeding, pay into court for Rescue Squad $5.00 and $17, costs deducted.

The literacy rate of the African republic of Liberia is estimated at only 5 per cent.

Wants Study Of Impact By Polls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) called today for study by the Senate Elections subcommittee of the effect of polls on the outcome of the presidential campaign.

Gore, a former chairman of the subcommittee, said in a prepared Senate speech he believes most of the political polls are "meaningless and in many instances misleading."

"The danger is that polls will be used to influence public opinion rather than reflect it," he said. "To the extent that the public considers the polls seriously meaningful, this danger is magnified."

Gore took specific exception to a Gallup poll published Aug. 17 which showed Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, leading his Democratic opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, 50-44 per cent, with 6 per cent undecided.

The Tennessee senator said he believes it is a "diservice to our elective process" to attach any measurable importance to such polls. He said whether Kennedy is behind or out in front could not be proved by the sample.

Brands Castro A Danger To Peace

GUATEMALA (AP) — President Miguel Ydigoras told a news conference Sunday night Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba "is a danger to the security and peace of the Western Hemisphere because of his dependence on international communism."

Commenting on the conference of Western Hemisphere foreign ministers at San Jose, Costa Rica, Ydigoras expressed hope the meeting would take effective action against Communist infiltration.

Woman Charged On Liquor Count

Sadie Stocks, a 31-year-old Negro of Route 2, Ayden was charged with possession of non-tax-paid whiskey for the purpose of sale Saturday by Pitt County ABC officers and Sheriff's Deputies after the officers allegedly found five gallons and one quart of non-taxable booze in her possession.

According to the officers, the whiskey was found in the bedroom of her house which is near Stokes-town. The lawmen said the woman told them she was selling the whiskey in order to make enough money to support her seven children.

She was placed under a $200 bond for her appearance in County Court here September 13.

One By One, Learn Of 7 Wreck Deaths

WINOOSKI, Vt. (AP) — "When a priest comes to your house at 7 in the morning, you know something has happened."

That was how Florence McCarron, widowed mother of 11 children, learned her youngest son, Earle, 19, was one of seven youths killed in a pre-dawn automobile crash Sunday.

The accident was the worst single-car crash in the state's history. The seven, all born in this small community in the northwestern corner of Vermont, grew up together and graduated together from Winooski High School last June.

Six were dead when state police reached the crash scene at 3 a.m. The seventh died minutes after arrival at a Burlington hospital. Their 1954 sedan had skidded 500 feet on a rain-slicked hill at South Hero and wrapped itself around a maple tree.

Edward Foley also heard the priest's knock. His son Edward, 23, was another one of the seven.

George C. Marshall, former U. S. Secretary of State, graduated from the Virginia Military Institute in 1907.

"I answered the knock. It was Mr. (Charles D.) Towne of St. Stephen's Catholic Church. He said he had bad news about my son. I was stunned. 'Why, my boy's upstairs in bed,' I told him. 'No,' the Monsignor said, 'your boy's nearer heaven!'"

Retired Army Lt. Col. Robert Daigle heard the news in Vermont. His son, James, 18, was also in the car.

"I went to Mass at 7 o'clock because I always get up with the birds," the father said. "The Mass was still 10 minutes before 8 began when an usher tapped me on the shoulder and said Mrs. Towne wanted to see me outside."

Winooski's two Catholic churches aren't big enough to hold all the mourners at a single joint service so there will be two services.

A solemn high Mass of requiem will be offered at 9 a.m. Wednesday in St. Francis Xavier church for Earle DeCarreau, Ronald Rogers, 20, and Maurice P. Soutiere, 19.
