

Hammaraskjold Warns UN Its Future Is At Stake

— U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, in an unexpected General Assembly appearance today, told the world organization that the future of the United Nations is at stake in the crisis aroused by Soviet attacks on him.

Hammarskjold spoke against a background of heavy assault upon his office by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who has asked the assembly to abolish the secretary-general's job and substitute a three-man board.

The Communist contingents, possibly to show their disagreement, failed to join in applause for Hammarskjold, but smiled and thumped their fists upon their desks.

The secretary-general's brief talk opened a day to be marked by much diplomatic activity touched off by Khrushchev's offensives at the United Nations.

President Eisenhower is playing a big role in the activity, with meeting with African leaders. He is working for massive support against Khrushchev's attempts to recast the U.N. structure.

Khrushchev countered with a virtual ultimatum — "continued cold war" — unless his demands are met.

From all corners of the earth more heads of government rushed to New York, drawn by the great and increasingly dangerous conflict. Never before in history have so many presidents, prime ministers and princes been gathered under one roof.

Eisenhower, reportedly grim, had appointments this afternoon with Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India and the president of the United Arab Republic, Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The President prepared to stay overnight in New York. He sees Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Canada's Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker on Tuesday.

In the U.N. itself, delegates of the 96 nations braced for two more stormy sessions.

Fidel Castro trained his guns on American policy in Cuba in a speech expected to last four hours. Castro usually speaks without a text — "from the heart," his admirers insist — working himself into a frenzy of emotion.

Later, the 21-nation Steering Committee tackles the annual East-West battle over seating Communist China in the U.N. The Soviet Union has proposed it; the United States is determined to block it.

The votes of newly admitted nations — some neutralist, the allegiance of others yet unknown, may make the China fight a close one.

Overshadowing everything is the crisis created by Khrushchev's demands for a reshaping of the U.N. structure. He hammered at three main points:

1. That Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold favored the West in administering U.N. policies in the Congo.

2. That the office of secretary-general should be replaced with a three-man committee at the top, one representing the West, one the Communist bloc, and a third drawn from the neutralist nations.

3. That the U.N. headquarters be removed from New York. He suggested Austria or Switzerland.

It is widely believed that Khrushchev will suffer a shattering defeat if his proposals are put to the vote in the U.N.

James J. Wadsworth, chief of the American delegation, said in a television interview—NBC-Meet the Press—he believed the Soviet leader "overplayed his hand."

Khrushchev's attempt to weaken the office of secretary-general, said Wadsworth, actually "has strengthened it."

Hammarskjold himself was reported advising against bringing Khrushchev's demands to a vote. Reliable informants said he believes that, given time, the storm will blow over.

Khrushchev, however, returned to the attack.

Talking with reporters at the Soviet estate at Glen Cove, L. I., he was asked what he will do if his demands for reorganization of the U.N. are not met.

"That means there will be no normal relations between the states that make up this organization. That means that the questions will have to be resolved, not under peaceful conditions, but under an aggravated situation," he replied.

"Those are the two alternatives — either a peaceful solution or else we shall have to rely on the balance of forces.

"In other words, we shall continue to be in a state of the cold war."

He confirmed that he had said Soviet rockets would be launched at the United States in case of an American attack on Cuba. But he said, "there is no ground for the question," because he had noted news reports that the United States does not intend to attack Cuba.

He sneered at the $5 million check Secretary of State Christian Herter gave Hammarskjold for U.N. aid to African nations.

Khrushchev said the money was a bribe to Hammarskjold for handling the Congo tangle in the interest of "imperialist, capitalist powers."

Khrushchev returned to New York from Long Island Sunday night, evidently in the belief that he had an appointment during the evening with Nehru. An aide to Nehru said, however, the Indian prime minister will call on Khrushchev tonight at the Soviet delegation headquarters.

Nehru, Macmillan, Diefenbaker, Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia, Prince Moulay Hassan, vice premier of Morocco, and Italian Foreign Minister Antonio Segni arrived in New York over the weekend.

Nehru's opening appointments in New York are with President Tito of Yugoslavia and with Nasser. Tito and Nasser are believed to be trying to form a "third force," composed of neutralist governments, to stand between East and West.

Second Stage Fizzle Fatal For Moon Shot

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The moon remains an elusive target for American rockets, while the Soviet Union continues to hold a commanding lead in lunar exploration and may soon attempt to send the first man into space.

These are the cold facts facing U. S. space scientists today as they seek to pinpoint the reason for the failure Sunday of their latest moon rocket. The giant Atlas-Able, most powerful space vehicle ever assembled by this nation, fizzled in an effort to hurl the first satellite into orbit about the moon.

The failure dealt a damaging blow to U.S. space prestige at a time when Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is saying that the Soviet Union is ready to launch a man into space.

"It is difficult to say just when the Soviets will launch the first space man, but we are prepared," Khrushchev reported Sunday. He said a rocket and space ship are ready but it is up to Soviet scientists to decide the launching date.

The premier made the comments at the Soviet country estate at Glen Cove, Long Island. The first U. S. attempt to send an astronaut on a brief up-and-down ride 120 miles into space is not expected until January or February.

The Atlas-Able payload was to have the most exhaustive study ever attempted of lunar environment.

A malfunction in the second stage engine doomed the experiment and sent the 387-pound payload to a fiery death as it dived back into the earth's atmosphere somewhere over the Indian Ocean.

The failure was a $9 to $10 million dollar bust. This is the price an official of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration paid for the rocket, the payload and the work involved.

A reserve Atlas-Able and payload are available to repeat Sunday's effort. They could be ready in two to three months if a study of data from Sunday's shot indicates that no major changes are necessary.

Dr. Adolph Thiel, a top project officer, reported the second stage of the Atlas-Able ignited, but burned abnormally. This sent the vehicle off course and prevented ignition of the third stage.

This was the seventh time the United States has sent a rocket toward the moon. Three of the previous shots failed because of rocket trouble.

One reached an altitude of 70,700 miles and another 63,580 miles before tumbling back into the atmosphere. Pioneer IV had too much speed and sailed past the moon into orbit about the sun.

The Soviets have reported firing three moon rockets. Lunik I whipped past the moon into solar orbit. Lunik II hit the moon. Lunik III went into a wide earth orbit that carried it around the moon and enabled it to take the first pictures of the backside.

Protest

BONN, Germany (AP)—The United States protested to the Soviet Union today against the temporary halting of U. S. Ambassador Walter C. Dowling as he sought to enter East Berlin last Thursday.

The U. S. Embassy said the protest was delivered orally in Berlin by Maj. Gen. Ralph M. Osborne, U. S. commander in Berlin. Osborne was seeking to get the Soviet Union to restrain East German police from halting American diplomats entering East Berlin.

East German police stopped Dowling last Thursday and told him diplomats not accredited to the East German government would not be allowed into East Berlin. Dowling replied he did not accept this ruling and produced a State Department pass. The Communist police then allowed Dowling's car to proceed.

The incident has had considerable repercussion, because the Western powers do not recognize the Communist East German regime.

The cameras then will swing to Nixon and he will have eight minutes to line his stand.

Then Howard K. Smith of CBS, the moderator, will signal a panel of four television and radio newsmen to begin firing questions.

The presidential hopefuls will have three minutes to reply to each question. His opponent, if he wishes to give a rebuttal, will

Methodist Bishop Reads 'Act Of Dedication' At New Center

Bishop Paul N. Garber yesterday read the Act of Dedication that dedicated the Methodist Student Center at East Carolina College "to the worship of God."

At the 12:30 p.m. ceremony, the Bishop of the Richmond Area of the Methodist Church read the dedication in response to the Act of Presentation by Mrs. H. C. Turlington, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the North Carolina Conference.

Mrs. Turlington said, "We present unto you this building which is a project of the Woman's Society of Christian Service and Wesleyan Service Guild of the North Carolina Conference with contributions from the Bureau of Educational Institutions of the Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Methodist Church and the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Church. May it be dedicated to the glory of Almighty God and to the purposes of worship, study, fellowship, and service."

In the Act of Dedication, Bishop Garber said, "We dedicate this building to the ministry of the Methodist Church to the campus; to the work of the Wesley Foundation; to the study of 'the Scriptures, and to the development of Christian character."

Approximately 200 persons attended the ceremony held in the auditorium of the new student center. Among the 200 were several out-of-town guests for the occasion.

The Methodist Student Center was completed and opened in September, 1958. The structure was built at a cost of $135,000. Its furnishings cost an additional $15,000 or more. The final payment on the facility was made in August 1960, just two years after completion of the building.

Deaconess Mamie Chandler, who has directed the program for Methodist students at ECC since 1943, was in charge of making arrangements for yesterday's dedication ceremony.

The student center, a handsome brick building of modern design, is located on the corner of Fifth and Holly Streets facing the ECC campus. It was formally opened in November, 1958, and has been in use since that time.

Providing the building for Methodist students on the campus was a project of the Woman's Society of Christian Service and Wesleyan Service Guild of the North Carolina Conference, with contributions from the Bureau of Educational Institutions of the Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Methodist Church and the North Carolina Annual Conference of the Methodist Church.

Far-Reaching City Improvements Program Keyed To Bond Election

Far reaching street, fire, library and other municipal improvements will be decided by Greenville citizens tomorrow as they go to the polls to vote on a $550,000 bond issue.

Registered voters will receive a ballot with nine separate items on it. Included are funds for an Elm St. bridge, street and sidewalk improvements, Carver Library building, improvements to Sheppard Memorial Library, an East Greenville fire station, new vehicles, Public Works garage, improvements to the Central Fire Station and improvements to City Hall.

Polling places will be open from 6:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. City Manager Leonard Bloxam pointed out that persons living on the south side of Fifth St. and from Fifth St. south will vote at the Central Fire Station.

Persons living on the north side of Fifth St. and from Fifth St. north are to vote at the court house. These are the only two polling places for municipal elections.

Mayor S. Eugene West this morning called on local citizens to vote in tomorrow's bond election.

"We gave it thorough study and feel that without a doubt this is the best way to handle the required improvements," he said. "I have not personally cornered people and asked that they support this program because I feel that the voters of Greenville are intelligent enough to see the need of such improvements and will vote for them without being pushed."

"As best I can figure, the savings in maintenance should take care of the major part of the interest, if not all of it, in the paving program and the sidewalk program."

Included in the $343,000 street and sidewalk improvement program is an amount of money to be set aside as a revolving fund for street paving. This fund will allow the city to give property owners more time for payment of their assessments.

Then as the money come back it will be returned to the fund for the future street paving.

Used in conjunction with Powell Bill funds, which come from the state, the revolving funds could eventually bring about the paving of most dirt streets.

Also in this item are funds for four-lane Elm St. from Greenville Blvd. to Tenth St.

There are also funds for sidewalk construction in the vicinity of various schools.

Construction of two buildings is included in the bond issue. There would be a new structure for Carver Memorial Negro Library. This library is now housed in a dilapidated dwelling and is badly in need of a new home. A $45,000 item is included for this.

There is $44,000 in the bond issue for construction of an East Greenville sub-fire station. An additional fire truck is included in the vehicles item of $42,000.

Each of the nine items of the bond issue are listed on the official ballot with a "yes" and "no" to the left. To approve the specific item the voter will mark an "x" in the "yes" block. To vote against the item the voter will mark an "x" in the "no" block.

The items and their amounts are: Elm St. bridge, $22,000; street and sidewalk improvements, $343,000; Carver Memorial Library building, $45,000; Sheppard Memorial Library improvements, $14,000; East Greenville Fire Sub-Station, $44,000; municipal vehicles, $42,000; Public Works Department garage, $13,000; Central Fire Station improvements, $8,000; City Hall improvements, $19,000.

Candidates Kennedy, Nixon Talk Issues Tonight Before Big Audience

CHICAGO (AP)—The 1960 battle for the White House makes political history tonight as both presidential candidates debate domestic issues before millions of television viewers.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and his Democratic rival, Sen. John F. Kennedy, will address a larger audience than any two candidates have ever faced jointly as the four major networks televise and broadcast the hour-long debate starting at 8:30 p.m. EST.

While the debate will start at 8:30 p.m., EST, which is 8:30 p.m. Central Daylight Time, and most stations will carry at that time, CBS said some network stations and some non-network and independent stations plan to broadcast or televise it later than the actual hour it is conducted.

The great debates in the history of American politics—the Lincoln-Douglas debates 100 years ago, for instance—were insignificant affairs in comparison.

While Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas could rely only on their lung power to reach audiences in their battle for the U. S. Senate, Nixon and Kennedy will have at their command all the marvels of the electronic age.

But tonight's debate, the first of four scheduled, will not be a debate in the Lincoln-Douglas tradition.

While they assailed each other with no holds barred, Nixon and Kennedy will adhere to a routine carefully planned in advance.

The debate will originate in a CBS studio. Kennedy will appear first. He will have eight minutes to state his position.

The cameras then will swing to Nixon and he will have eight minutes to line his stand.

Then Howard K. Smith of CBS, the moderator, will signal a panel of four television and radio newsmen to begin firing questions.

The presidential hopefuls will have three minutes to reply to each question. His opponent, if he wishes to give a rebuttal, will have 1½ minutes to comment on the question and answer.

At six minutes before 9:30 p.m., Nixon will take over for a three-minute summation. Kennedy will have the last three-minute crack at the television viewers by virtue of a toss of the coin which decided the finishing order.

Between 250 and 300 newsmen will sit in other studios about 50 feet from the debaters, using special telephones and direct wires to their offices to cover the story.

On Oct. 7 and 13 the candidates will meet for hour-long, all-subjects news conferences. The final meeting will be in New York on Oct. 21.

Hunting Couple Missing In Sound

OREGON INLET, N.C. (AP)—Aircraft and boats resume a search today for a man and woman missing on a boating trip.

A black dog sitting on a cap-sized outboard motorboat in Pamlico sound Sunday started the Coast Guard search for the boat's two missing occupants.

The boat and dog were found about 1½ miles southwest of the Oregon Inlet fishing center.

The couple was identified as Russell Lanier and Mrs. Geneva Lucille McGuire, each about 40 and from St. Joseph, Mo.

They left Elizabeth City, where they were visiting relatives and came to Oregon Inlet.

Lanier worked for Mrs. McGuire's husband, a building contractor. McGuire was on his way here. He and his wife have 2 children.

Sanford, along with other Democratic leaders from Pitt County and across North Carolina, will attend the informal gathering from 5-8 p.m. on the G. V. Lewis farm near here.

New World Bank Agency Formed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The International Development Association, a new world organization which will help finance economic expansion in the underdeveloped nations, was formally established today.

The official birth of IDA, as the new institution is known, was announced at the opening of the annual meetings of the World Bank, International Monetary Fund and International Finance Corp.

Harold Holt, treasurer of Australia and chairman of the joint sessions, made the announcement.

An affiliate of the World Bank, IDA will lend money to underdeveloped countries on terms easier than those offered by the bank.

While the governors of the bank voted a year ago to set up IDA, its formal establishment was delayed until 60 per cent of its planned capital of $1 billion had been supplied by member countries.

So far, 15 nations have contributed $686 million to IDA. The biggest contributors have been the United States, the United Kingdom, West Germany, India and Australia.

Eligible for membership in IDA are the 68 member countries of the World Bank.

In a message to the session, President Eisenhower said IDA "will provide new and enlarged means of dealing with some of the development problems that could not otherwise be handled."

Eisenhower's message was read to the session by Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson.

Finance ministers and Central Bank officials from more than 50 nations are taking part in the meetings and discussions of the free world's fiscal problems.

Warehouse Threatened By Fire Early Sunday

Two Greenville volunteer firemen extinguished a blaze early yesterday morning which threatened to set fire to the New Carolina Warehouse just South of Greenville on N. C. 43.

The firemen, local newsmen Roy Hardee of WNCN and Stuart Savage of The Daily Reflector, were called to the fire by the Greenville Police Department which received a report of the blaze at 6 a.m. yesterday.

Upon arrival, the volunteer firefighters found three large containers of tar blazing only inches from the side of the tin and wood structure, and extinguished the fire with the aid of a shovel and two small refrigerator-type fire extinguishers which they carried in their cars.

The Winterville Fire Department was called to the fire and arrived just as the fire was extinguished by the two newsmen.

According to investigating Sheriff's Deputy Duke Andrews, a passing motorist stopped and told the nightwatchman, E. E. Jones, of the fire. Jones, in turn, notified the Greenville Police Department.

Andrews disclosed the building is being used by the Greenville

Tobacco Company for storage of tobacco.

Hardee, who is president of the Greenville Volunteer Fire Department and vice-president of the Pitt Firemen's Association said, "the close call at the New Carolina Warehouse points to the great need for the rural community's department which the Greenville Volunteer Firemen are planning."

"Had the fire actually reached the building," Hardee noted, "the prompt arrival of a truck nearby could have possibly brought the fire under control or at least held it until other units from Winterville arrived. The building, containing tobacco and hoghead materials, valued at approximately half-million dollars, is only one of three large warehouses in the perimeter which the Greenville Community Fire Department would serve," he noted, adding that, "there are, in addition, 65-70 other large businesses in the same area."

Hardee said that final plans for the purchase of the truck would probably be announced this week.

According to the sheriff's department investigation of the fire is continuing.

W.S.C.S. Hears Missionary

AYDEN—Rev. Kemp Edwards, returned missionary from Japan, addressed the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Ayden Methodist Church recently in the Educational Building on the church.
Mr. M. Edwards told of his experiences in Japan during the past two years as a Christian worker under the auspices of the Oriental Missionary Society of Los Angeles. Color slides were shown illustrating the life and work among the Japanese people.
Rev. Mr. Edwards said that in 100 years only one half of one percent of the Japanese people have been won to Christ. He believes the lack of missionary interest could be attributed in a large measure to the number of satisfied and complacent church members found in our churches today.
Mrs. William V. Buke, vice president in charge of the program, thanked Rev. Mr. Edwards for his message and expressed the value to the society for having a part in the support of his ministry.
President Mrs. J. H. Whitaker called attention to the 1960-64 quadrennial emphases on "Our Mission Today".

Wash New Linens Before Using

You launder your table linens after use, of course, but do you also suds them before you use them the first time?

This is so important that some manufacturers even launder their new cloths, napkins, and place mats before packaging them for sale—and feature this service in their ads.

A clean cloth, with handling soil and factory sizing washed away, is a softer and more sanitary setting for any meal.

KINSTON HOMEMAKERS GET CONSUMER BUYING INFORMATION—Mrs. Bert Saville recently attended her first meeting with the Kinston Young Homemakers Group which is sponsored by the local Home Demonstration Club.

Miss Marie Penuel, home economics agent, gave a demonstration on consumer buying of served products. She emphasized how to feed families with good, wholesome and appetizing food within their budgets. Mrs. Saville reports she is now saving at least $5.00 per week on her food budget by practicing good buying habits.

BLUEBERRY GROWERS—Mrs. Bruce Carrigan, president of the Oakridge Club in Iredell County, is always trying new fruits and vegetables in her garden. In 1959 she tried blueberries and her venture was successful. This past spring, many of her friends were transplanting their thriving plants.

Mrs. Nancy Myers, home economics agent, reports Mrs. Willis Teeter has given many plants to her friends in other counties. Many recipes are now being shared in making pies, muffins, and preserves.

WOMEN URGED TO TRY WINTER SQUASH—Winter squash is a new crop for many farmers in Gates County. The butternut and acorn are varieties tried for the first time this year.

Homemakers in Gates are especially interested in way of preparing squash to suit tastes of various family members. Miss Lydia Griffin, home economics agent, has prepared some leaflets which give hints for cooking the squash. She is also interested in the new vegetable crop.

FIREBALL TOMATO PLANTS—Manager of the Franklin Home

Demonstration curb market, Mrs. Ella Peek, reports good sales from her early tomato plants. From 14 plants of Fireball variety and 13 plants Hybrid, she made a profit of approximately $60. In addition she canned 14 quarts and had tomatoes for family use.

Mrs. Florence S. Sherrill, home economics agent in Macon County, says Mrs. Peek advises growing the Fireball variety, which is non-resistant to wilt and blight, for early

Garden Club Has Meeting

The Elmhurst Garden Club held its first meeting after adjourning for the summer at the home of Mrs. Phil Goodson, Jr.

Mrs. G. E. Staples presented a program on preparing and arranging dried materials. Mrs. W. L. Green Jr. was winner of a dried arrangement presented by Mrs. Staples.

Mrs. Goodson, president, introduced Mrs. O. C. Noble and Mrs. Jimmy Wells as new members, and Jim Kirby as a guest for the evening. Final plans were made for the club's annual Curb Market which will be held Oct. 22.

During the social hour, Mrs. Goodson and Mrs. Gene Skinner served cookies, nuts and bottled drinks to the members and their guests.

Conner Eagles Guest Speaker

The Junior Womans Club assembled for a supper meeting at Respass-James on Wednesday evening. Conner Eagles was guest speaker.

Mrs. Milan Johnson, Mrs. Cecil Crayton, and Mrs. Earl Rogers were introduced as guests for the evening.

Mrs. Quentin Avery presented Eagles as speaker for the meeting. He spoke on the conservation of our natural resources and means of improving farming in this area. He pointed out that the poorest land with proper drainage, crop rotation, and irrigation can make a good crop.

Mrs. James M. Grulke, president, announced the Home Nursing Course for Members will begin Oct. 3.

Chemical Users: Wash With Soap

Hand washing with soap and water immediately after each job is a good rule for do-it-yourself addicts who handle chemicals and substances which may cause skin irritation or infections.

Hunters, fishermen, gardeners, wood workers all need to take the hand washing routine seriously. This advice is from Dr. Donald J. Birmingham, Chief Dermatologist, Occupational Health Service, the United States Department of Public Health.

Two tables were arranged for the games and the guests who took their places were Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Everette, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. X. E. Manning and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Highsmith.

Between the third and fourth progressions Mr. and Mrs. Ward served a salad plate, ham biscuits, cheese rounds, cup cakes and soft drinks.

Those winning high scores were Mrs. X. E. Manning and Mr. Dennis Hardy.

market.

KOREAN WAR ORPHAN—For two years Home Demonstration Club women in Lincoln County have supported a Korean War Orphan, Pak Soon Yi. They provided $180 to support her as well as sending Christmas presents and writing every two weeks. Recently Soon Yi's aunt found her and has taken over her support.

Through the Foster Parent's Plan, we now have another little girl, Yang Jung Boon," reports Mrs. Charlotte Rumley, home economics agent.

COMMUNITY GARDEN DEMONSTRATIONS—Six families have participated in having a community garden demonstration this year in Columbus County. They are Mr. and Mrs. Otis Long, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Collier, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Callihan, Mrs. Elizabeth Royal, and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Wooten Sr.

Miss Yvonne Bennett, assistant home economics agent, says information has been obtained on the cost of the garden demonstration. Later, each family will be given an estimated savings on growing their own fresh vegetables as compared to these bought in stores.

Audrey Favorite Star In Russia

By RALPHOLD ENSZ

AP Newsfeatures

What do Russian women think of western movie stars? My guide on a recent sight-seeing trip in Russia, a married girl of about 23, had a startling amount of information about film actresses.

"Audrey Hepburn," she said, "is my favorite American actress. I saw her in 'War and Peace' and in 'Roman Holiday' (which is now running in Soviet movie houses). I think she is absolutely wonderful, but I didn't like Gregory Peck (in 'Roman Holiday'). I thought he was dull."

From further conversation about Miss Hepburn, I gathered she is also a favorite of a large number of persons in the Soviet Union. It seems many Soviet girls are wearing Audrey Hepburn hairdos. "War and Peace" and "Roman Holiday" are the only two Audrey Hepburn movies which have been brought to the Soviet Union under the film exchange agreement with the United States, but my guide was able to rattle off the names of almost every other film that Miss Hepburn has played in.

Then she asked: "What about Sophia Loren? I hear all of her jewels were stolen in England. Did she get them back? And I hear her husband has a bald head. . . ." Since none of Sophia Loren's pictures have been shown in the Soviet Union and Soviet publications do not publish intelligence about Western movie stars, I asked, "Where did you hear all this?"

"Ah," she smiled, "From the (London) Daily Worker and L'Humanite (the French communist party newspaper)."

Voters Should Back City's Growth

A forward-looking capital improvements program for the city of Greenville hinges on the outcome of the bond referendum tomorrow in which local voters will approve or disapprove outlays totaling slightly more than a half million dollars.

In order that the city might move ahead with these programs which are essential to the present and future welfare of local residents, it is important that each of the individual bond issues be approved.

It is also important that Greenville voters turn out in large numbers to indicate at the ballot boxes their feeling regarding the bond issues. It is not enough that a citizen take for granted that others feel as he does about the issue and that his vote will mean nothing. It is the responsibility and duty of each registered voter of Greenville to make a genuine effort to get to the polls tomorrow and participate in the bond election.

The bond issues will cover capital improvement items in practically every phase of local government responsibility. Included are a street bond issue, street maintenance equipment, sidewalks in the vicinity of schools, construction of a new Negro library and improvements to Sheppard Memorial Library, a new fire substation and equipment and other items which are essential to the city's progress.

Without these capital improvements, the city will find itself in a position where it will not be able to afford local residents the calibre of service they desire. It will be forced to attempt to make do with what it now has and without question there will result an increase in city operating expenses together with a deterioration of the level of services afforded the growing local population.

In the case of the street improvement bond issues, the plan is to pave a considerable portion of the dirt streets in the city and therefore eliminate a portion of the costly and constantly recurring job of maintaining these dirt streets. Without the new fire department substation proposed in the bond issue, the city will face an increase in the overall fire rating and an increase in fire insurance rates which local residents have to pay on their property.

Approval of the bond issues is essential to the continued progress of Greenville and to the welfare of its citizens. The favorable position Greenville now occupies in regard to its bonded indebtedness is such that the proposed $550,000 in new bonds to be voted on tomorrow can be retired without increasing the current tax rate.

We urge the registered voters of Greenville to make a diligent effort to go to the polls tomorrow. In the interest of community improvement and progress, we also urge local voters to cast their ballots in favor of all nine items included in the bond referendum.

No Mistake About It: He Seeks Destroy UN

Cutting through the thousands of words spoken by Soviet Premier Khrushchev as he addressed the United Nations General Assembly there can be no mistake that the Communist leader has set his sights on destroying the U.N. and rendering its influence in international affairs ineffective.

To those who believe in the United Nations approach to international problems, the words of Khrushchev provide a source of concern and a source of confidence and hope over the future of the United Nations.

Though the efforts of the U.N. in settling international disputes have seemed ineffective and futile at times during the past 15 years, it apparently has proved a thorn in the side of the Soviet Union and its satellites in their attempt to take over emerging nations as well as older countries which have come into their sphere of influence.

Premier Khrushchev wouldn't have called for such sweeping changes in the U.N. organization and activities if he thought the organization as now constituted might be used to further the cause of communism. Certainly it has afforded the communists an important propaganda forum in international affairs and as such has been used as an instrument for furthering their program. Now, however, Khrushchev must have come to the conclusion that the strength of the U.N. is a challenge to communist objectives just as the free world bloc of nations is a hurdle in the Red path to world domination.

By his pronouncements, Khrushchev not only set himself at odds with the Western bloc, but he also set his communist empire at odds with the symbol of national independence and the individual respect of nations large and small as signified by the United Nations organization.

His harsh words will unquestionably prompt neutrals and the new crop of emerging nations to take a careful look at the communist leadership which is now calling for destruction of the United Nations . . . an organization that has become the symbol of the equality of national sovereignty, the rights of the small and weak nations and the efforts of independent nations to settle international problems by means other than open warfare.

Big Factor In Gold Movement

By RALPH ROBEY

Gold has moved to move out of the country again in appreciable volume. As always this raises the question of whether we are faced with a serious gold problem. To answer this question it is necessary to use quite a lot of figures, but they are simple and should not cause difficulty.

In 1949 we held the largest gold stock in our history. This was a little over $24 billion and was well over one-half of the monetary gold stock of the free world. The worry then was whether the other nations could operate their monetary and credit systems with their relatively small gold supplies, and it was hoped that by some means there could be a better distribution of the metal.

In 1950 there was a large outflow of gold from the United States, but during the next two years the flow was reversed, although it did not amount to enough to lift our total to the previous high.

In 1953 we again had an outflow, and this continued in both 1954 and 1955. In 1956 and 1957 we gained a total of about one billion and our total rose to just short of $23 billion.

In 1958 the outflow was the largest in history—$2.3 billion—and we began to hear a discussion as to whether we could stand such a loss. In 1959 our government made a gold payment to the International Monetary Fund of $344 million, but even with this the total decline in our holding was less than one half that of the previous year. This was such a major improvement that everyone began to feel relieved.

This year we have continued to lose gold, but until quite recently the rate has been low. The total outflow for the year has been about $500 million, of which the vast majority has been in the past few weeks. Our total holding is now below $19 billion—the lowest since 1940.

This is still about one-half the free world supply of the metal and it is almost $7 billion above the amount necessary to meet the present legal gold reserve requirements. But there is another aspect of the issue.

This other aspect is that foreign balances held in this country are now larger than our entire gold stock. Most of these foreign balances are working funds and could not be withdrawn, but some substantial amount is subject to shifting at the decision of their owners. That is the portion which is causing concern.

The following could result in a conversion of these balances into gold:

1. Belief that this nation will not continue to be financially and fiscally responsible.

2. Fear that if pressures build up we might decide to devalue the dollar, and in anticipation of that put a stop to all gold exports.

3. Higher interest rates abroad than can be obtained in this nation.

The current outflow of gold is almost solely the result of this third factor. In most foreign nations today interest rates for the same type of investment are higher than in the United States. This is exerting a powerful incentive for the movement of funds to those markets.

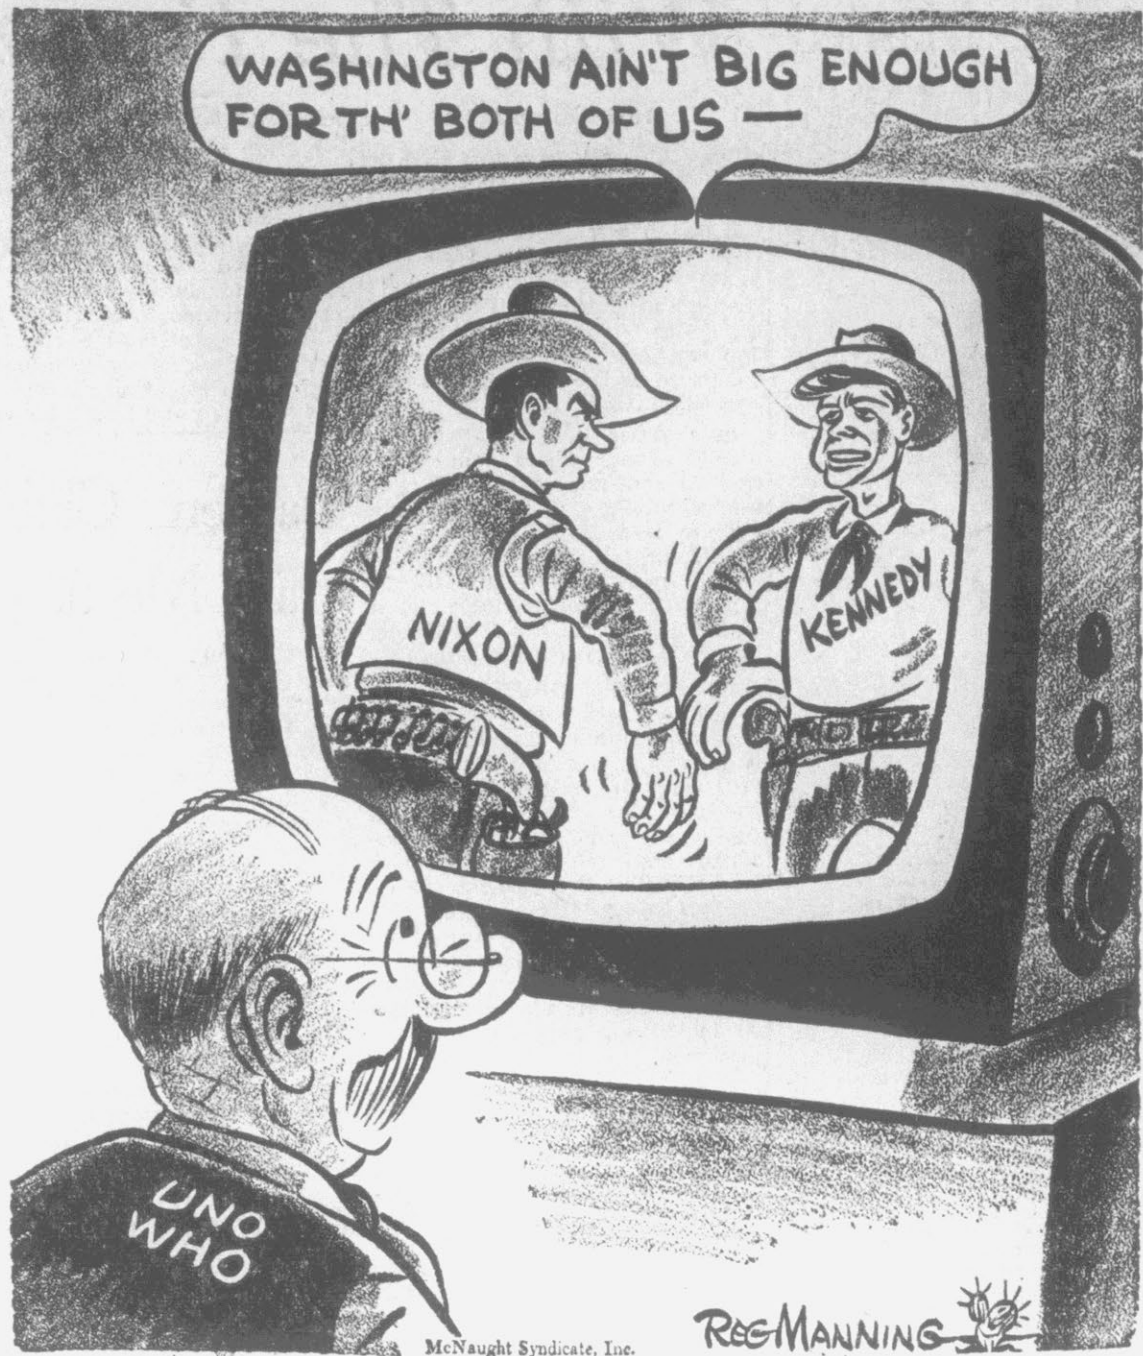

Fortunately there is no evidence of a loss of confidence in the dollar as such, and no serious student can believe that we are about to devalue our currency. Our Federal Reserve authorities, too, are not worried about the gold outflow. They are not worried because we still have such a large surplus in relation to our reserve requirements that there is no danger we shall be subjected to a major deflationary force from the gold loss.

As of the moment, therefore, we are not faced with a gold problem and there is no basis for assuming that we shall be within the near future.

Quote

"It's a tragic fact that young people starting married life aren't told about the importance of making wills. Sometimes, they attempt to live on sirloin with a hamburger income. Not a few Americans spend more money on television payments than on life insurance and a medical care policy. How much should a family with a limited income reasonably pay on a mortgage, or devote to child's? These are subjects that require mature judgment unless they are to be learned in the bitter school of experience."—Charleston News and Courier.

New TV Thriller

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Display Of Impertinence

Copyright, 1960, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

What is actually happening in New York is an exhibition of unbelievable impertinence. Khrushchev, for instance, assumes that he is free to come and go in the United States without the usual visa, without a health certificate, without the consent of the Government of the United States. His presumption is based upon his right to attend the General Assembly of the United Nations. There is no treaty to that effect. All that is required, however, is that he should have access to the United Nations buildings. Such access has been amply provided.

The psychology of Khrushchev's attitude is interesting; it is that of a conqueror who has already conquered the United States as well as other countries; it is that of a strong man who can ignore the laws that apply to other men. He objects to the unusual precautions that have been taken to guard him as a form of "house arrest."

Actually, it is excessive. Nothing in any treaty between the United States and the United Nations or any member state thereof requires the United States to guard the person of any delegate thereto. Great men have attended the United Nations. Never before has an entire city become disrupted, its police force concentrated on a single task of protecting delegates to the United Nations.

Never before has the City of New York been put to such an enormous expense because some foreigners chose to come to the city.

These are the actual facts of the situation. Added to Khrushchev is Castro who is a publicity hound of unbelievable proportions and who organized the display of moving from an ordinary hotel to a Negro hotel in Harlem, paying as much or more for services. This is clearly a public relations stunt. Does Castro seek by this curious step to proclaim himself a Negro leader? He and Khrushchev refused to applaud President Eisenhower's appearance at the United Nations, an ordinary courtesy extended to a speaker.

The mobs that congregated, the picketing, the employment of Communist goons to drive off anti-Communist pickets, the tying up of traffic on busy streets raises the question as to whether the United Nations buildings are properly situated. Back in 1945, when this thing was being planned, many of us were opposed to this Tower of Babel being placed in overcrowded Manhattan where traffic is congested and the streets are narrow. The United Nations should have met in the old League of Nations Palace in Geneva, Switzerland. An effort was made to purchase an enormous site in Westchester County in New York State but such a fuss was made about a state within a state that the project was abandoned as it should have been.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., had the land assembled on the bank of the East River for the United Nations building. Up went a structure that resembled a glass and steel tombstone. On the streets near the United Nations a number of buildings have been erected which relate themselves to international affairs. However, no hotel was built anywhere near the United Nations. Instead the 51 nations originally members of the United Nations scattered themselves about New York in hotels, apartment houses and so-called town houses. If demonstrations are held for or against anything, they are always in a very crowded street in the heart of the city.

Now there are 90 member states and each one has an embassy of sorts in New York. Those attached to these delegations enjoy extraterritoriality—not only the delegates but also their employees and attendants. Extraterritoriality means that they live under their own laws. The laws of the State of New York, the laws of the United States, the municipal ordinances of the City of New York do not apply to them. Actually, their marked automobiles regularly violate traffic regulations to the annoyance of New York.

Other Editors Saying The Major N.C. Issue

(Washington Daily News)

On November 8 the voters of this nation go to the polls to select a president of the United States. Both major political parties have held conventions, adopted platforms, and selected candidates.

Both parties have talked about many issues, and both Richard Nixon and Jack Kennedy are carrying their political battle before the American people at this time. Both candidates have visited North Carolina.

In Greenville recently Mr. Kennedy stressed farm problems in his speech in East Carolina stadium.

There should be a thorough analysis of the abilities of the candidates. Such program, medical care for the aged, taxes, civil rights, national economy, unemployment, and many other matters of vital interest are all woven around the campaign from the political sense.

But here in Eastern North Carolina there seems to be only one major issue. That issue is religion. All the other vitally important considerations which surround the selection of a president seem to have been either forgotten or by-passed and religion seems to be the major factor under consideration by our voters.

Some people seem entirely convinced that Senator Kennedy's Catholic religion will in no manner affect his dedication of separation of church and state. Others seem to see a great deal of reluctance for the average Eastern North Carolina voter to vote for Mr. Kennedy.

Time and time again Mr. Kennedy has tried to make it clear that he will support and defend the constitution of the United States and that his religion has nothing to do with his dedication to this principle. Yet, many people see danger in electing a Catholic president.

It seems rather tragic to us that while America is beset with so many problems today that we should be putting so much emphasis on religion and so little emphasis here at home on the other vital matters. We are living in an explosive period and we need to be giving more thought to some of our other problems. If religion is to be the basis of defeating a candidate, then where is our sense of balance?

Some people are even going so far as to say that "religion is not only the major issue in this campaign—it is the only issue." That is a strong presumption of the picture, but sometimes we wonder if it is not true.

If we are to cast aside a man's ability, his record of service, his leadership, and his personality and base his fitness for president purely on the basis of religion, then it is we who are treading on dangerous ground more than the religion of the man in question.

We could not complain with any voter who after careful consideration came to the conclusion that Mr. Nixon will make the best president. But to come to that conclusion solely on the basis of a man's religion seems to us to leave much to be desired.

If You're Fired It's Best To Say So

By ELMER ROESSNER

Years ago, your boy called at the headquarters of a news organization seeking a job. A brush-off man was sent out and, displaying no interest, asked a few questions. "And," he demanded, "how did you happen to leave your last job, if you care to state."

"Glad to state!" exclaimed the brush-off man. "That I? $100,000?—NO! BOWNDMPT fired me, too. Wait here, I'll get back!"

Two minutes later, your boy was ushered into the office of the executive vice president; he talked with him and ushered him into the office of the president, and, apologizing because the chairman of the board was out of town, your boy was at work at 8 a.m. the next morning.

NOT UNIQUE

There must have been many similar experiences over the years, because, "If you got fired, admit it!" is the theme of a booklet by Phillip J. Kelly, president of the Sales Executive Club of New York. The title: "What to Do When You Get Fired."

The booklet is intended more for salesmen than for columnists, but the principles apply in all lines of work. They are:

1. Admit it. Otherwise, the disemployed gets into a mesh of white lies, some of which he believes himself, and he can't extricate himself. Sure, sometimes people are framed or rawhided out of a job, but they are so rare that employers are logically skeptical of such tales.

2. Don't blame somebody else. That's unnecessary, and most employers recognize that there are such things as budget cuts, changes in job requirements and so on.

3. Don't panic. People are losing jobs every day, and there are always new openings. Attack the problem with deliberation, aggressiveness and logic.

4. If you have been severed because of a mistake, tell your prospective employer. He may be impressed with your frankness and realize you won't make the same error again.

5. Look upon dismissal as an opportunity. Obviously, if you were fired, you were not destined for great things at the old company and severance provides an opportunity to seek a better job. "With the right attitude you can turn this temporary setback into a big opportunity."

6. Make a plus out of the dismissal. Use it to broaden your outlook. "If fortune has handed you a lemon, squeeze it and make lemonade."

There are many more points—several thousands—worth All center around the same central theme: take a firing as a time to re-examine your talents and ambitions, and use it as a launching pad for real success.

The club maintains a Sales Manpower Foundation which lists sales jobs for people who have been fired or want a new

Assets Found Abroad

By ROGER BABSON

LONDON, England.—Every young person should be "protected" until he or she is 14 to 16 years of age. If the south shows any natural resources, he or she should be protected or "subsidized" through high school and perhaps in college, but no longer.

UNITED STATES ECONOMICS

The same economic principle should be applied by nations. The U.S. had nearly all the natural resources—including cheap labor—when it adopted a protective tariff. It had timber, oil, iron, gas, copper, water power, and the climate to raise cotton, cattle, and grains. A protective tariff was then justified in order to give industry a start.

But to give the U.S. protective tariffs now, when it no longer has cheap labor, would be foolish and in the end make conditions worse. The same applies to Great Britain and most of Europe. The formation of the six-and seven-nation European groups which have united to provide central markets for their products and eliminate trade barriers is a wonderful step forward, which United States manufacturers and labor should watch.

MORE ABOUT IRELAND

Since my last article on Ireland, I have studied the Emerald Isle most intensely. It has three basic natural resources: Good soil, plenty of rain, and fine pasture land for cattle and sheep. It, however, lacks timber, coal, oil, gas, and sunshine. It has no iron, only a trace of copper, but much cheap labor. Common labor is happy with $3.00 per day and skilled labor with $6.00 per day since living costs are very low.

The future of Ireland is agriculture, principally livestock. The main manufactured products which appear to pay are cement and sugar made from sugar beets. There are also great possibilities for further development of the tourist business, especially hunting, fishing, and mountain climbing. Yet the Irish government is making a serious effort to attract factories—with tax exemption to other helps. The most interesting experiment is being made 8 miles north of Killarney by the "H.C." Crane Works. This is a German concern which is importing its iron, making it into cranes and heavy machines and exporting all their products (selling none in Ireland) to all parts of the world. All Ireland hopes these Germans will succeed.

ENGLAND, FRANCE AND GERMANY

England has a small amount of iron and coal which, with good workers, has made this an industrial nation without the need of protective tariffs except as to luxuries. England's skilled labor and financial ability has made it a bankers' power in world finance, insurance, and shipping.

The French people are not too well informed on economics, but Southern France has a fine climate for raising grapes and other fruits. Hence, it is leading the world in making fine wines, perfumes, fashions, and other luxuries. (Our California is fast catching up.)

Germany has steel and much cheap skilled labor; but Italy appeals most to me. It leads the world in plastics, and is fast developing a great business in automobiles and machines of all kinds.

Finally, just a word about leaving the U.S.A. and working in Europe. Except for young people who like farming and stock-raising, the opportunities in Ireland and France are slight.

The clerks from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. for $8.00 to $12.00 per week. I visited a skilled carpenter, the father of a man in my office at Wellesley whom I pay $8,000 a year. This carpenter gets $4.28 per day.

But the living here is cheap for working people. Everyone has good food and warm clothing and a good time. The weather is bad; but the people are healthy. A person in the U.S. who is retiring on a pension should think of coming here to live instead of going to California, Arizona, or Florida. With a pension check coming every month from the "good old U. S.A." he could live here like a millionaire and have a long, (Continued on Page 5)

Minister Favors More Stand-Ins

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King advocates peaceful stand-ins to "dramatize the continued injustices the Negroes face in the area of voter registration."

The Negro leader of the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott said Sunday that "stand-ins" at registration places must follow sit-ins at lunch counters, wade-ins at beaches and pools, and kneel-ins in churches.

The Atlanta minister, at a meeting sponsored by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, also said, "Even in counties of the Deep South where resistance is great, Negroes must organize themselves by the hundreds of thousands to stand nonviolently and peacefully for hours in the corridors and on the sidewalks of places of registration."

Eggs, Fists Fly As Cuban Factions Clash Outside Fidel Castro's Hotel

NEW YORK (AP)—Eggs and fists flew Sunday night when foes and supporters of Fidel Castro clashed outside the Cuban prime minister's Harlem hotel. Fifteen persons were arrested.

The battle royal erupted after about 6,000 persons gathered to watch Castro smile and wave from a window of the Hotel Theresa. Police quickly squelched the battle.

Other demonstrators and pickets—protesting the presence here of Communist leaders—showed no sign of halting their activities in other parts of the city.

Many of the Communist chieftains, and neutralist leaders, spent the weekend relaxing, holding conferences—and sightseeing.

The Harlem brawl began when four cars loaded with Castro foes stopped in front of the bearded leader's hotel. They were immediately surrounded by Castro supporters.

The occupants of the cars—some armed with ball bats—hopped out and a fight began. Several cops were hit by flying eggs. Two of the more than 500 policemen on guard were treated at a hospital for minor injuries.

Two of the 15 arrested were booked on felonious assault charges. The others were held on disorderly conduct charges.

Earlier, police had quelled another near riot which started after Castro sympathizers chanted "yellow press, yellow press—cha, cha, cha" to the throbbing beat of congo drums.

Police escorted about 50 Castro opponents away from the hotel, separating them from 300 Castro supporters.

During the afternoon, Castro and President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic conferred for 90 minutes at Castro's headquarters.

While they met, about 1,500 Moslem and African movement demonstrators swarmed in the area, carrying signs that read "Belgians and United Nations out of the Congo" and "Allah is the greatest."

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, a Harlem Negro Democratic congressman, issued a statement deploring "Castro's use of Harlem as a battleground for his own political ends."

About 100 Albanian anti-Communists paraded near the United Nations. Another group of 50 picketed near the building where Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia is staying.

About 150 demonstrators picketed the offices of El Diario in support of the Spanish language newspaper's anti-Communist editorials.

The car bringing Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev back to New York City from Long Island was struck by a thrown egg.

Tito, Gen. Mehmet Shehu, premier of Albania and Janos Kadar, first secretary of Hungary's Communist party, did a little sight-seeing Sunday.

Kadar visited Times Square, the Empire State Building and City Hall. Police said he was "very impressed."

Tito took a stroll through Central Park.

Shehu went to the top of the Empire State Building.

President Antonin Novotny of Czechoslovakia and Todor Zhivkov, Communist party chief of Bulgaria, visited Bear Mountain, N. Y., a resort area.

Wants Alliance For A 'Buffer'

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said Arab Leader Gamal Abdel Nasser has asked Fidel Castro of Cuba to join in an alliance to stand between the West and the Communist nations.

The president of the United Arab Republic conferred with the Cuban prime minister at the latter's residence in the Hotel Theresa in Harlem Sunday.

The Times said the major topic was the similarities between the problems of their countries. The pair also exchanged invitations for state visits to Cairo and Havana, the Times said, but no dates were set.

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—A speeding car smashed into a herd of cattle on the road Sunday night killing 11 cows, a cowboy's horse and two men in the car.

There were five men and one woman in the car, all from the Idaho Falls area. They were driving to this eastern Idaho city at a speed that patrolman C. B. Roberts said was in excess of 100 miles per hour.

The other four persons in the car were seriously hurt, as was the rider whose horse was killed. Killed were Phil Garner, 26, driver of the car, and Jay Brown, 39.

Dropped Compact Car Behind Him

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—John Nowha, a Garden City, Mich., trucker, dropped something while traveling Sunday on U. S. 52 near here, and Ohio highway patrolmen chased him 10 miles to give it back.

High Point Area Poll Is Spurring Gavin's Drive

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republican Robert L. Gavin, spurred by a High Point newspaper poll which showed his leading in that area, put new force into his campaign for governor.

While he was pleased with results of the poll, published Sunday in the High Point Enterprise, Gavin called on his supporters to work harder than ever.

Both Gavin and Terry Sanford, the Democratic candidate for governor, have full schedules ahead this week.

The High Point Enterprise said sampling of a large cross section of voters showed, if the election were held now, that 65.4 per cent would go to Gavin, and 22.9 per cent to Sanford. The remaining 11.7 per cent was undecided.

On the presidential race, the newspaper said the sampling ran like this: Richard M. Nixon, Republican contender 64.7 per cent; John F. Kennedy, the Democratic candidate 25.7 per cent; undecided 9.6 per cent.

Gavin harked back to 1948 when Democrat Harry S. Truman was elected president despite polls favoring Republican Tom Dewey. "For this reason, I am going to campaign harder than ever and I urge my supporters to do the same," he said.

Sanford spent Sunday in Halifax County, where he was the speaker for homecoming at New Hope Methodist Church. The candidate is a Methodist lay preacher, and active in many church affairs.

Sanford will be in Pitt County today to speak at a Democratic dinner at Pactolus.

On Tuesday, he will tour Hyde, Tyrrell and Beaufort counties, ending the day at a Washington, N.C., rally.

Along with other party leaders, he will go to Jacksonville Thursday for the Third Congressional District rally. After a morning news conference in Raleigh on Friday, he will fly to Shelby for the Cleveland County Fair. Then he will go to Lincolnton for a rally that evening. On Saturday he will be in Asheboro and Siler City.

Gavin will be at Davidson College Tuesday morning, and in Asheville that afternoon. Wednesday will find him in Thomasville and Elkin. He will be in Southern Pines and Richmond County, Hamlet and Rockingham on Thursday.

Wilkes County will be the scene for the GOP candidate on Friday, with a rally in North Wilkesboro. A busy schedule Saturday calls for stops in Burke, Avery and Caldwell counties before going to Raleigh for a horse show in the evening.

Triple Murder, Suicide Found

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)—When Jack Bryden called home but got no answer Sunday he thought something might be wrong. So he hurried home to discover his wife, Meredith, 24, and three of their four young children dead in the family automobile parked in the garage. A vacuum cleaner hose ran from the exhaust to a rear window.

"It's all futile," Mrs. Bryden said in a farewell note. Police listed the deaths as a triple murder and a suicide.

Landed A Fish With His Shovel

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Gary Wilhite, 8, figures fishing in Florida is pretty good. He landed a six-pound bass in his backyard with a shovel.

Gary's home borders on the recently flooded Hillsborough River. His mother, Arline Wilhite, theorized the fish came into the yard while the river was over the 3½-foot chain fence that encloses the yard.

Health Education Meet Held Saturday

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM'S BACKER . . . Dr. Best (right) instructs teacher representatives in Eppes High auditorium Saturday.

Teacher representatives from some 20 Eastern North Carolina counties gathered here Saturday for the first meeting of a 12-week seminar in health education being conducted by Dr. Andrew A. Best of Greenville.

Saturday's session, according to Dr. Best, "marks the beginning of an expansion program aimed at activity in the major portion of the eastern section of the state to better health and citizenship through curbing illegitimacy, juvenile delinquency and general maladjustment."

Dr. Best instructed the teacher representatives for about one hour at C.M. High School here in what he called "an introductory discussion of the program" to be installed in other counties as it has in Pitt by the local physician.

Each teacher completing the course will be responsible for a health program, similar to Dr. Best's Pitt County plan, in his respective community.

Dr. Best told the Daily Reflector, "The response to these initial efforts at expansion constitutes a significant milestone in the development of a volunteer program which will, we hope, eventually cover the entire state."

The local physician has instructed ed and sponsored the program in Pitt County's Negro schools in efforts to "raise the overall standard of living through education." Since the outset of the doctor's program, illegitimate births among Pitt's Negro population have declined.

Attending Saturday's first session were:

Mrs. E. C. Mills, A. T. Mills, Miss P. O. Dunn, W. H. Davenport, and Mrs. A. W. Jones, all of Greenville; Lillie S. Wilson, Frederick Graham, Hazel Jordan and F. H. Mebane, all of Farmville

Mrs. Lindsay D. Payton and James R. Payton of Grimesland; Frederick Taylor of Grifton; J. W. Maye of Winterville; Linwood Sharpe of Bethel; Miss A. Y. Mitchell of Robersonville.

L. H. Smith, Miss R. L. Suggs, and Mrs. Lanie M. Barfield of Snow Hill; Mrs. T. Best of Kinston; P. F. Barton and J. J. Knight of Scotland Neck; Mrs. D. E. Gilliam and S. A. Gilliam of Pine-top; Miss G. L. Ruffin of Wind-

Coach's Quotes

By JOHNNY HUDSON
Reflector Sports Editor

Victory didn't come as easy as many East Carolina College fans expected Saturday night but Coach Jack Boone was delighted to escape with victory after putting down numerous scoring threats by the Quakers.

Although aware of many mistakes made by his young club, Boone complimented the desire and hustle displayed. "We were just a little too anxious sometimes," he cited. He made it clear that he thought his club would improve with each game.

By departments, here is what Boone thought of the initial performance:

RUNNING—"We lost our experienced boys—Baysinger (Sonny) and Matthews (Tommy), and this cut down on our effectiveness. We were real pleased with the running of our fullbacks Nick Hilgert and Billy Strickland."

PASSING—"Our boys looked a little tight and this hurt our passing game. We feel that this phase of our offense will pick up this week."

LINE DEFENSE—"Outstanding—our club showed a lot of development. We have had good pursuit and we were rushing their passer good. We thought we did a good job at stopping their running game. We need a lot of work in our secondary."

LINE OFFENSE—"We made a lot of mistakes that will have to be ironed out. We had previously stressed downfield blocking and this looked improved at times."

SUMMATION—"Guilford played a terrific game. We were glad to get by with a seven point victory. They (Guilford) are always a tough foe and can't be taken for granted."

Tigs Still Champions In ACC Grid Circle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"The champ ain't dead yet."

Frank Howard summed up the football picture in the Atlantic Coast Conference apply in these words.

He was referring to the 28-7 victory his Clemson Tigers notched over Wake Forest Saturday in their initial bid for a third successive ACC title and fourth in five years.

Wake Forest was fingered as the team most likely to challenge the supremacy of Howard's Tigers and for three quarters looked the part. But a three-touchdown avalanche in the final period returned Clemson the winner over the Heels for the 10th time in "row."

Sharing the league lead with Clemson are Duke and North Carolina State, the only other unbeaten ACC teams after only two weeks of play.

Duke proved that the much-advertised "new look" was just that as it featured the forward pass, heretofore a weapon not associated with Blue Devil teams, in smashing South Carolina 31-0.

North Carolina State slipped by favored North Carolina 3-0 on a 22-yard field goal by junior guard Jake Shaffer.

The northernmost member of the conference ventured forth against outside opposition and came off badly. Maryland, which looked start in its debut against West Virginia, was stampeded by the Texas Longhorns 34-0 and Virginia went down before William and Mary of the Southern Conference 41-21. The loss was the 19th in a row for the Cavaliers.

Everybody plays this week, but only two conference games are scheduled. Duke plays at Maryland and Virginia at N.C. State. The four other ACC teams tackle outside Southern foes. North Carolina plays at Miami Friday night in the opener for the Floridians. Clemson is at home to Virginia Tech. South Carolina goes to Georgia and Wake Forest plays a night game at Florida State in Saturday contests.

Clemson sophomore halfback Bill McGuire, who had to be switched from fullback because of a halfback shortage, cracked

Wake Forest's line for three touchdowns, covering a total of four yards. In addition, he intercepted a pass and returned it 24 yards when the issue still was very much in doubt, caught a pass for a 10-yard gain and returned two punts 33 yards.

Clemson's defense, a 4-3 arrangement, contained the dangerous Norman Sneed passing attack. He threw 22 times for only 10 completions and 74 yards. Clemson intercepted four Wake Forest passes for 107 yards.

There was no hint that the final score would be so one-sided. Howard ordered a field goal attempt from the 30 on the second play of the fourth period, but Lou Armstrong's kick was wide. Then came the torrent of touchdowns that even Howard apparently hadn't expected.

Last year Duke averaged 11 passing attempts a game. Against South Carolina Saturday night Bill Murray's Blue Devils attempted 27. Nineteen were completed for 204 yards and a touchdown. Out of the hurry came an ACC record. Tee Moorman, senior "lonesome end" from Miami, Fla., caught 11 passes, two more than the old conference record, and scored a touchdown.

Completing the passing game was a Duke running attack that ground out 322 yards against what was billed as a rugged Gamecock line.

For the fourth time in five years North Carolina State spoiled the opener for North Carolina by beating the Tar Heels. The stout State defense and North Carolina's mistakes at critical moments told the story. Roman Gabriel, the fancy flipper, threw only seven State passes with four completions.

Thanks to an iron-man defensive forward wall that failed to budge an inch backed up against its own goal, East Carolina griders awoke this morning with a 7-0 victory over Guilford safely tucked away.

A crowd of over 6,000 sat through perfect football weather Saturday night in College Stadium, watching East Carolina commit more mistakes than the pieces in a jigsaw puzzle but still salvage the 1960 opener with some brilliant defensive play.

Taking the opening kickoff, East Carolina took to its chores like dedicated teachers, driving 63 yards for a touchdown. Looking little short of sensation on the drive, the Pirates had the fans buzzing with their lightning-like striking power.

It was Glenn Bass who cracked running for the touchdown with less than four minutes gone in the game. Nick Hilgert, running like a bull all night, got the wheels rolling with a 10-yard run and Tommy Matthews zig-zagged down the sidelines for a 31-yard maneuver.

Bass entered the game and raced 14 yards to the 10 before scoring on the following play.

Guilford, fired-up over the idea of never scoring against a Boone-coached club, made its first threat following the East Carolina touchdown.

The Quakers, mixing a lackadaisical running attack with the passing of Harold James, moved from their 32 to the EC 19 yard line. Here, Chuck Gordon and Clayton Piland, clearly the two defensive demons of the night, put a halt to the drive, clamping Quaker runners for a couple of losses. A fourth down pass by James fell incomplete.

East Carolina got some classy running from Nick Hilgert—a 28-yard plunge through the middle—to move into Guilford territory again. But choosing not to gamble so early in the game, EC punted with a fourth and one situation on the Quaker 38.

After an exchange of punts, the Quakers mustered another scoring drive that forced EC into the shadows of its goal before Coach Jack Boone summoned his tiring first unit back into combat.

This time the Quakers got within the 20 again but no further. Gordon, Piland, Wayne Davis, Vernon Davis, Bobby Bumgardner, Bob Bryson, and Jones Lockerman fenced in the running game and a couple of James' passes were batted away.

Guilford got a third opportunity just before the half-time buzzer when Bert Stafford made a bobble on the EC 27. Jim Stutts, 190 fullback, found a small leakage in the Pirate line and lumbered 16 yards to the nine.

Two more running plays netted a two-yard loss and James was unable to complete a pass. Guilford took the second half kickoff, and assisted by a couple of EC penalties and a 55-yard pass from James to Tom Barnes, marched to the EC 1. The stout forward wall of the Bucs proved to be bullet-proof once again and EC took over on downs. The Pirates, sticking to the ground, looked on the way to a second touchdown late in the third period before Billy Strickland fumbled on the Quaker 13.

Strickland, a sophomore, led the near-paydirt drive, clicking off several big gains. A victory or tie was again within the grasp of Guilford early in the fourth period when EC bobbled a punt on its 20 and the Quakers recovered.

Two stabs at the line netted six yards but Chuck Gordon intercepted a pass on the 10, killing the threat. It was only several plays before Guilford had the ball again—this time after Hilgert fumbled. They drove to the EC 14 and Mac Thacker intercepted a James pass in the end zone.

Trying desperately for another score, East Carolina withheld few tricks in the waning moments of the game. Glenn Bass found an opening in the center of the Quaker line and raced 58 yards for a touchdown but it was nullified by a clipping penalty.

Plays later, Bass got loose on a 24-yard jaunt and EC was on the Guilford 14. But a Stafford pass was hauled in by Jim Stutts on the three, ending the threat and ball game.

Glenn Bass, although nursing an arm injury, lived up to pregame billings. The All-State candidate picked up 124 yards in 10 carries despite a Guilford spiderweb type defense designed to stop the end sweeps.

Hilgert was next with 66 yards in six carries. Tommy Matthews, seeing action only in the first four minutes of play, carried twice for 34 yards and Billy Strickland had 33 yards in four tries.

Overall, it was the defensive play of East Carolina's first unit that preserved the opening game victory.

Colts Pin 20-0 Loss On Washington Club

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National Football League shoved its star-studded cast of proved performers front and center over the weekend and inaugurated its 41st season with an impressive show of muscle at the attendance gate.

With veteran quarterback Bobby Layne leading the parade of NFL standouts, the well-established circuit drew 216,869 to its five weekend curtain-raisers in the first regular-season test of strength at the turnstiles with the newly formed American League.

Layne, firing passes accurately in an aerial duel with little Eddie LeBaron, pulled the Pittsburgh Steelers from behind for a 35-28 victory over Dallas Saturday night that spoiled the cowboys NFL debut.

Layne eclipsed Sammy Baugh's all-time record for yards gained passing in a career by connecting on 16 of 25 attempts for 288 yards and a 12-year total of 22,351 yards. Baugh made 22,085 in 16 seasons with the Washington Redskins.

The Baltimore Colts began their drive for a third successive NFL championship by whipping Washington 20-0 before 53,818 as Johnny Unitas extended his record TD-agame string to 38 with a scoring pass to Ray Berry.

In other openers, New York's Eastern Division titlists edged the 49ers at San Francisco 21-19 with 44,598 in the stands. Cleveland blasted the Eagles 41-24 at Philadelphia before 56,303 and Chicago defeated the Packers 17-14 as 32,150 watched at Green Bay.

The American League, giving the NFL its first competition in a decade, won the much heralded battle for Dallas attendance supremacy by default when rain held the Steelers-Cowboys crowd to 30,000.

The head-on collision between Los Angeles and Dallas, two preseason AFL favorites, attracted an estimated 42,000 at Dallas Sunday. The Texans won 17-0 while Oakland upset Houston 14-13 in another game.

LeBaron's three scoring strikes gave the Cowboys a 28-21 lead in the third quarter before Layne engineered the Steeler victory with a 49-yard TD toss to Preston Carpenter and a 65-yard scoring pitch to Tom Tracy in the final quarter. He also passed for two other touchdowns.

With the Colt defense holding Washington immobile Baltimore wrapped it up when Lenny Moore rammed 4 yards for a second-period touchdown. Steve Myhra kicked 28 and 18 yard field goals for the NFL champs.

Fullback Mel Triplett caught a 24-yard scoring flip from substitute quarterback George Shaw in the final quarter for the clincher in the Giants' squeaker.

A 38-yard field goal attempt by Tommy Davis with 43 seconds left was wide after the Giants had held the 49ers on the 1-foot line. Bobby Mitchell scored on runs of 31, 30 and 11 yards, gaining 156 yards on the ground and caught 5 passes for 34 yards while Jimmy Brown chipped in with 153 yards and one touchdown as the Browns beat Philadelphia. Norm Van Brocklin passed for two Eagle TDs.

John Aven's 16-yard field goal with 35 seconds left climaxed the Bears come from behind triumph. Willie Gailimore's 18-yard dash and a 26-yard run by Rick Casares tied it after the Packers built a 14-0 lead after three quarters.

Syracuse, Ole Miss Head List Of Grid Unbeatens

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
Syracuse's powerful college football champions get one of their severest tests of the season next Saturday when they play Kansas in a nationally televised game at Lawrence, Kan.

The Jayhawkers, winners of their first two starts and seventh ranked nationally, are capable of putting a crimp in a Syracuse winning streak which has stretched through 18 games of regular season play.

Kansas opened its campaign with a 21-7 victory over Texas Christian and last Saturday smashed Kansas State 41-0. It was just a warmup for the big, fast Kansas who scored in every period.

Syracuse, with virtually the same team which went through 10 games last year and smashed

Texas 23-14 in the Cotton Bowl, opened its campaign with an impressive 35-7 triumph over Boston University.

The Orange piled up more than 450 yards while holding BU to 27 yards, only three of this on the ground. Ernie Davis was the Syracuse spearhead, reeling off 80 yards on one run and 121 yards in five carries.

Steven Sinko, BU coach, said Syracuse had lost none of its teeth from the year before.

"Davis and Baker (Dave Baker, halfback) are better than ever," he added. "They're good enough to play in the pro leagues."

Ben Schwartzwalder, the Syracuse coach, was less enthusiastic. "We are ragged, we'll have to be better against Kansas," he said.

Mississippi, battling the defending champions for No. 1 position in The Associated Press poll, has a breather Saturday with Memphis State but Washington's Rose Bowl champions, ranked No. 3, have their hands full with a strong Navy team.

Both Navy and Army take excursions to the Pacific Coast for two of the week's headline attractions. The Midshipmen, who smashed Villanova 41-7 Saturday before a gallery which included President Eisenhower, play the Huskies at Seattle. Army takes on California at Berkeley.

In other top games, Illinois is host to West Virginia, sixth-ranked Michigan State tackles Michigan at East Lansing, Clemson entertains Virginia Tech, Northwestern and Iowa open a scramble for Big Ten leadership.

Ohio State is host to Southern California and Louisiana State meets Baylor at Baton Rouge, La.

Mississippi, which edged Syracuse out of first place last week in The Associated Press poll, won its second straight game in beating Kentucky 21-6. Washington remained in the thick of title contention by downing Idaho 41-12. Illinois, No. 4, defeated Indiana 17-6.

Three ties plagued teams which had fought their way into the nation's top ten. Alabama had to push over a touchdown in the fading seconds to gain a 6-6 draw with surprising Tulane, winner over California the previous week. Michigan State tied Pittsburgh 7-7 and UCLA was held to a 27-27 draw by Purdue.

The Big Ten Conference, long a hotbed of bigtime football, acquitted itself with glory in inter-sectional competition.

Northwestern smashed once mighty Oklahoma 19-3; Iowa beat Oregon State 22-12; Wisconsin, atoning in part for its Rose Bowl setback, toppled Stanford 24-7; Michigan shut out Oregon 21-0; Ohio State beat Southern Methodist 24-0, and Minnesota downed Nebraska 26-14.

Army had to rally in the last half to survive against Boston College 20-7. Notre Dame turned back California 21-7, Texas wallowed Maryland 34-0 and Texas Christian eked out a 7-6 decision over Southern California in top inter-sectional games.

Major League Stars
Batting — Roger Maris, Yankees, knocked in two runs to run his season total to 107 as the Yankees clinched the American League pennant with a 4-3 decision over the Boston Red Sox.

Pitching — Glen Hobbie, Cubs, enabled the Pittsburgh Pirates to win the National League pennant by shutting out the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-0, although he had been beaten by the same club only two days earlier.

Yankees in the World Series and were humiliated in four straight. Danny Murtaugh, the manager who led Pittsburgh to the title, was a boy or a man.

Now, more than a quarter of a century later, the Pirates will try to even the old score, for they'll meet the Yankees again.

The Pirates won the pennant Sunday in unglamorous fashion, bowing to the Milwaukee Braves, 4-2, when Eddie Mathews blasted a home run in the bottom of the tenth inning.

But it was the humble Chicago Cubs, and pitcher Glen Hobbie in particular, who came to the rescue of the Buccos. Hobbie, beaten by St. Louis only last Friday, came back to hold the Cards to six hits to enable the Cubs to win, 5-0.

That mathematically eliminated the Cards, and, in fact, pushed them into third place behind Milwaukee.

In other National League action, the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Cincinnati Reds, 7-1, and the San Francisco Giants topped the Los Angeles Dodgers, 13-9.

The Yankees clinched their 10th American League pennant in the last 12 years under Manager Casey Stengel by turning back the Boston Red Sox, 4-3. The Cleveland Indians aided the Yankees by white-washing Chicago, 4-0, to eliminate the White Sox from contention. The Baltimore Orioles defeated the Washington Senators, 3-1, and the Detroit Tigers edged the Kansas City A's, 6-5, in other American League games.

The series will open on Oct. 5 in Pittsburgh. The first two games will be played at Forbes Field. Then there will be an off day, and the teams will play the next three games in New York on Oct. 8-9-10. If it isn't over by then, it's

No More Hope For Chisox, Cards

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
A dream 33 years in the making came true for the Pittsburgh Pirates today. They are the champions of the National League.

It was in 1927 that the Pirates last won the National League flag. They met the New York Yankees in the World Series and were humiliated in four straight. Danny Murtaugh, the manager who led Pittsburgh to the title, was a boy or a man.

Now, more than a quarter of a century later, the Pirates will try to even the old score, for they'll meet the Yankees again.

The Pirates won the pennant Sunday in unglamorous fashion, bowing to the Milwaukee Braves, 4-2, when Eddie Mathews blasted a home run in the bottom of the tenth inning.

The series will open on Oct. 5 in Pittsburgh. The first two games will be played at Forbes Field. Then there will be an off day, and the teams will play the next three games in New York on Oct. 8-9-10. If it isn't over by then, it's back to Pittsburgh for the final two games after another day off on Oct. 12-13.

Back in 1927, the Pirates faced the great Yankee Murderers' Row led by Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig. In the series, yet, it was the Yankee pitching that won it. The Pirates managed to score only 10 runs in the four games. In fact, only two homers were hit in the series, both by Ruth.

This was the seventh National League championships for the Pirates.

Until the eighth, the Bucs led, 2-0, behind Harvey Haddix. But the Braves tied it to set the stage for Mathews' homer.

Home runs by Joe Koppe and Tony Gonzalez spearheaded Philadelphia's nine-hit attack on the Reds. Willie Kirkland drove in four runs, three with a homer and a double in an eight-run second inning, in the Giants victory over the Dodgers.

Just 11 days ago, the New York Yankees were clinging to the American League lead by one thin percentage point and it was a leaky ship Casey Stengel was piloting.

The Yankees had just lost two straight to their country cousins, the Kansas City A's. A drastic patching job was needed with a four-game set coming up with the second-place Baltimore Orioles.

Stengel did the job, the leaks were plugged, the ship got on an even keel. The Orioles tumbled to four straight defeats and today the Yankees are the champions of the American League for the 10th time in 12 years.

Since that day more than a week ago, the Yankees haven't lost. They've won nine in a row, including the clincher, a 4-3 decision over the Boston Red Sox Sunday.

To the Cleveland Indians goes a large assist. The Tribe blanked Chicago, 4-0, thus eliminating the White Sox.

So Stengel, 70, now has equalled the record of John McGraw as the major league manager who has won the most pennants, 10. Stengel once played for McGraw as an outfielder with the New York Giants.

The pennant is the Yankees' 25th in 40 years, a record that probably never will be equalled. The Giants are next with 17 pennants.

In the American League the No. 2 club in pennant production was the old Philadelphia A's with nine, all under Connie Mack.

The last time the Yankees met the Pirates was in the 1927 World Series—the last time the Buccos won the National League pennant. The Yankees won it, 4-0.

Ralph Terry—with a one-batter assist from Luis Arroyo—pitched the Yankees to their deciding victory.

He was untouchable from the fourth until the ninth when he yielded three singles and one run, with the tying run on third, Arroyo came to the rescue and forced Pete Runnels, the league's batting leader, to foul out.

Roger Maris drove in two Yankees and it was Terry himself—an .068 hitter—who doubled home what proved to be the deciding run.

The World Series will open on Oct. 5 in Pittsburgh. The first two games will be played there. The teams will get a day off and return to New York for the next three on Oct. 8-9-10. If it isn't over by then, they'll have another day off and head for Pittsburgh for the final two games on Oct. 12-13.

Bobby Locke took care of the White Sox for the Indians. He let the Pale Hose down with just four hits, and worse yet, dropped them into third place behind the Orioles, who whipped the Washington Senators, 3-1, when Brooks Robinson blasted an eighth inning home run with two on.

The Detroit Tigers pushed across two runs in the ninth inning to edge the A's 6-5, in the fourth until the ninth when he other AL game.

Rex White Winner In Sunday Race

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP) — Rex White's second straight victory in the Virginia 500 Sweepstakes left the Spartanburg driver a virtual shoo-in today for the top award in stock car racing — NASCAR's grand national championship.

The triumph in the 500-lap, 250-mile sweepstakes at Martinsville Speedway Sunday gave the fearless South Carolinian a total of 17,320 points in grand national competition. His nearest rival, Richard Petty of Randleman, N. C., is 4,144 points behind.

Casper Winner In Golf Tourney

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Light-hearted Billy Casper Jr., Apple Valley, Calif., who plays the Portland Golf Club course as if it were his own, won the $27,500 Portland Open again Sunday. It was the second straight year for the fun-loving Casper, who clipped 19 strokes off par in winning in 1959 and 22 strokes off par this time.

Amidst general par-busting by the touring professionals, it was not easy for Casper, but he turned the trick with a burst of five consecutive birdies on the final nine holes.

PAUL GALLICO'S NEW BESTSELLER Mrs. 'Arris Goes to New York

WHAT IS HAPPENING
"I'll bet if I went to America I'd soon enough find little 'En-ry's dad," said Mrs. Harris to her friend Mrs. Butterfield. "E's got to be somewhere, hasn't he?" The two elderly, widowed London charwomen are indignant child by their shiftless neighbors in London, the Gussets. The boy was abandoned to the Gussets by his mother after Henry's soldier-father, George Brown, went back to the U.S. Mrs. Harris is determined to do something about it. Events are shaping to help her.

CHAPTER 3
Deep in her heart, Mrs. Harris was well aware that for her a trip to America was as remote as a trip to the moon. True, she had managed to cross the English Channel, and the airplane had made the Atlantic Ocean just another body of water over which to zoom, but the practical considerations of expense and living, etc., put such a journey well out of reach. Mrs. Harris had achieved her Paris visit and heart's desire through two years of scrimping and saving, but this had been a kind of lifetime effort.

It had taken a good deal out of her. She was older now and aware that she was no longer capable of making the effort to amass the necessary number of pounds to finance such an expedition. True, l'affaire Dior had been sparked by the winning of a hundred pounds in a football pool, without which Mrs. Harris might never have undertaken the task of amassing another three hundred and fifty.

She continued to play the pools, but without the blazing conviction which sometimes leads the face of fortune to smile. She also knew very well that that kind of lightning never struck twice in the same place. Yet at the very moment that little Henry, under the cover of the abysmal gurgling of Kentucky Claiborne, was being cuffed about in the kitchen of No. 3 Willis Gardens, and sent to bed yet another night insufficiently nourished, Fate was already laying the groundwork for an incredible change in the life not only of himself, but likewise Ada Harris and Mrs. Butterfield.

There was no miracle involved, nothing more supernatural than two sets of men facing one another on either side of the directors' table in the board and conference room of a gigantic Hollywood film and television studio six thousand miles away, glaring at one another with the venom that can be mustered by greedy men engaged in a battle for power.

Seven hours, one hundred and three cups of coffee, and forty-two Havana Perfectos later, the malevolence of the glares had not diminished, but the battle was over. A cablegram was dispatched which had consequences both direct and indirect in the lives of a strange assortment of people, some of whom had never even heard of North American Pictures and Television Company, Inc.

Amongst the clients for whom Mrs. Harris "did" not only with regularity but enthusiasm, since she had her favorites, were Mr. and Mrs. Joel Schreiber, who had a six-room flat on the top floor of one of the reconditioned houses in Eaton Square.

Joel and Henrietta Schreiber were a middle-aged, childless couple who had made their home in London for the last three years, where Mrs. Schreiber had acted as European representative and distribution manager for North American Pictures and Television Company.

As Mrs. Schreiber saw it, the pound notes were remaining with them in England, and not leaving the country, which was what the British wanted, wasn't it? But then Mrs. Schreiber was one of those muddled people who never quite catch on to the way things operate, or are supposed to operate.

With the daily help and advice of Mrs. Harris she had been able to accustom herself to keeping house in London, shopping in Elizabeth Street and doing her own cooking, while Mrs. Harris's energetic appearance for two hours a day kept her flat immaculate.

Any sudden changes or problems turning up were likely to send Mrs. Schreiber into a flutter. As one who before coming to England had been compelled to cope with the type of servants available in Hollywood and New York, Henrietta was a fervent admirer of Mrs. Harris's speed, efficiency, skill at making the dust fly, and above all her ability to cope with almost any situation which arose.

Joe Schreiber, like Napoleon's everyman soldier who carried a marshal's baton in his knapsack, possessed an imaginary president's corporation seal in his brief case. A hardheaded businessman who had worked his way up in North American Pictures from office boy to his present position, but always on the business side, he also had nourished dreams of arts and letters, and what he would do if he were president of North American, a contingency so remote that he never even so much as discussed it with his Henrietta. The kind of job Mr. Schreiber had did not lead to presidencies, formations of policy, and conferences with the great and near-great stars of the film and television world.

Yet when the already-mentioned conference in Hollywood was over, and the cablegram dispatched, it was to none other than Joel Schreiber, with instructions to move his offices as well as his domicile to New York for the tenure of a five-year contract as president of North American Pictures and Television Company, Inc.

Two power combines battling for control of North America, neither strong enough to win, and facing exhaustion, had finally agreed upon Schreiber, a dark-horse outsider, as a compromise candidate and eventual president of North America.

Following upon the cablegram which reached Schreiber at his office that afternoon were long-distance telephone calls, miraculous "conference" conversations spanning oceans and continents, in which five people — one in London, two in California, two in New York — sat at separate telephones and talked as though they were all in one room, and by the time Mr. Schreiber, a stocky little man with clever eyes, returned home that early evening, he was simply bursting with excitement and news.

There was no holding it in, he spilled it all in one load upon the threshold as he entered his flat. "Henrietta, I'm it! I got news for you. Only it's real news. I'm president of North American Pictures, in charge of everything! They're moving the offices to New York. We've got to leave in two weeks. We're going to live there in a big apartment on Park Avenue. The company found one for me already. It's a double penthouse. I'm the big squeeze now, Henrietta. What do you think of that?"

One Question Cost 30 Days

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Wilmer Thomas almost had Justice of the Peace Dan Warran convinced Friday that he was innocent of a charge of stealing nine sections of pipe.

"I'd like to ask the complainant one more question," Thomas told the practically convinced judge.

"How can you say you could identify me," Thomas asked, "at 9 at night, with my back turned to you and that light post 25 feet away?"

Said the judge: "Thirty days!"

Kennedy Answers Questionnaire; Nixon Says He Can't

EDITOR'S NOTE: In an effort to obtain and compare their views on specific topics, The Associated Press submitted seven questions to Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Democratic and Republican presidential nominees. Kennedy replied to each. Nixon did not, saying through an aide that campaign pressures did not permit time for a personal reply.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy said today the next president must restore American prestige abroad and provide moral leadership in the civil rights field at home.

He also expressed the belief that a Democratic president "would be better able to work in harmony with the Congress to get this country moving again."

The Democratic presidential nominee outlined those and other views in reply to specific questions submitted to him by The Associated Press.

The questions and his verbatim replies:

1. What makes you think you are better qualified than your opponent to be president of the United States?

I will leave any comparison to the voters in November. But I run for the presidency after 18 years in the service of our nation—four as a naval officer in the South Pacific and 14 as a member of the House and Senate—convinced that I can best contribute to my country at this time in the executive branch, where a new and vigorous approach will be needed to win the peace. Based on views dating back to my 1939 visit to the Soviet Union, my book in 1940 on England's unpreparedness for war, and my active participation on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, I believe that America in the Sixties will urgently need leadership capable of summoning every element of our strength to meet our commitments around the world. And my repeated visits to every state in the union convince me that the American people are ready for that kind of new leadership.

2. Do you believe you would have more success in getting a legislative program through Congress than President Eisenhower did, and if so, why?

Every objective observer agrees that the Congress will continue to be strongly Democratic—that a continuation of divided government will mean continued inaction on vital problems—and that a Democratic president, with long experience in both the House and the Senate, and with a mandate from the people, would be better able to work in harmony with the Congress to get this country moving again.

3. Won't the program you are advocating cost more money than now is being spent by the federal government? Would you recommend a tax increase to cover any added outlays?

This country can afford to meet all of its basic needs—even if that requires increased outlays to give protection and priority to both our retaliatory and our conventional forces, to build schools in areas of critical shortage, to hold out the hand of friendship to new nations in search of stability, and other programs I have discussed. Some of that increase can be financed from savings on other programs—cutting down our farm surpluses and reducing waste in the Pentagon, for example. Some of it may have to be financed by a shift in our spending programs until our priority needs have been met. Others can be financed through closing tax loopholes and better enforcing our tax laws. Some programs—such as medical care for the aged and self-liquidating power projects—are not a burden on the taxpayers.

Above all, I am convinced that a nation on the move, growing at a more rapid rate than we have for the past eight years—with more people working and more industries operating at full capacity—will produce far more revenues without an increase in taxes. But there is no doubt in my mind that the American people would meet any sacrifice asked of them if it meant the difference in our survival and national security.

4. Do you believe American prestige has sagged in the world? If so, how would you restore it?

The sag of American prestige is evident around the world. A Gallup poll found a majority of citizens in 10 foreign capitals convinced that Russia would outstrip us by 1970. In recent years, we have seen attacks on our leaders and good name, we have seen friends become neutral or hostile, and the world has seen us apparently standing still in areas where the Communists are pushing ahead. The next president must restore our image of a nation acting with vitality both at home and abroad.

But prestige will not be restored by any massive public relations operation. We must earn the respect and friendship of other nations—by assuring them of our ability to protect them from war, by demonstrating an earnest desire for peace, by evincing an understanding of their own problems rather than merely enlisting them as allies against communism, and, above all, by practicing at home what we preach abroad: human rights and equality, economic progress and security, and educational and scientific achievements second to none—while emphasizing our devotion to liberty and self-determination

Church Adopts $1 Million Budget

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—What is believed to be the largest annual local church budget "in the history of Christendom" was approved Sunday by the 12,000-member First Baptist Church.

The $1,195,000 budget was adopted by members at the morning worship service.

Pastor W. A. Criswell said "this is probably the most stupendous financial program ever undertaken by any church in the history of Christendom."

More than half of the 1961 general budget will go for missionary causes outside the local church program. The church supports five missions in the Dallas area and regularly tops all of the 32,000 Southern Baptist Convention churches in total gifts to world missions.

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices were clobbered in active trading early this afternoon. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 2.00 to 207.50 with the industrials down 2.00, the rails down 1.30 and the utilities down .90.

An estimated $2.7 billion was clipped from the quoted value of stocks listed in the New York Stock Exchange, based on the fall in the AP average.

Steels and chemicals were beaten down severely. Losses of key stocks throughout the list went from fractions to 2 or 3 points. Declines of more volatile issues stretched to 5 or more points.

The business news remained drab and economic comment continued to refer to a "recession." The technical condition of the market was described as weak following the penetration of the previous 1960 support level. Stock prices, analysts said, were seeking a firm base at a lower level from which they might rally.

Some of the gold shares continued to make gains. A few aircraft-missiles also advanced.

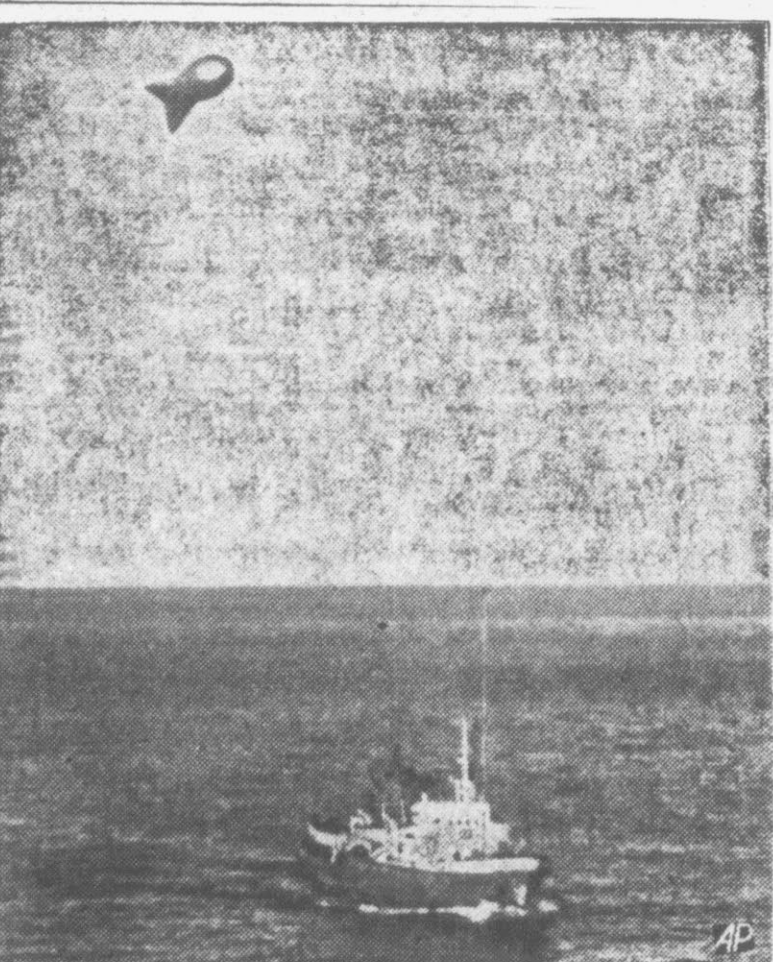

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 6.62 at 578.58.

Corporate bonds were mixed.

U. S. government bonds showed slight change.

At Least 24 Persons Violently Die In N.C.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 24 persons died by violence in North Carolina over the weekend, most of them in traffic accidents. Shootings, stabbings and drownings also took their toll.

Two persons drowned in Davidson County. Lester Goble, 24, of Salisbury, drowned in High Rock Lake when he apparently fell from a boat. A short distance away, Terry Lee Doss, 31, of Salisbury, perished when a raft sank.

A Charlotte, Miss Linnie Burch, 82, drowned in Freedom Park Lake. Earl Canup, 23, of Concord, was shot and killed at a drive-in restaurant during an argument. Jake Bell, 24-year-old Negro, was stabbed fatally at Kannapolis. Police said James Barner, 36, also a Negro, was charged with murder.

James Riley Weaver Jr., 40, of Winston-Salem, was stabbed to death. Police said Kenneth V. Norman, 52, his wife Gypsy, 48, and their son, Henry, 23, were charged with murder.

T. Ellis Simms, 29, Negro, burned to death when fire destroyed his home near Littleton. At Camp Lejeune, S. Sgt. Bob

J. Sydor, was killed when his parachute failed to open during a jump with a sky divers club.

Victims of highway accidents included Carey Thomas Lilly, 5, of Rt. 2, Mount Gilead; Cameron Locklear, 33, of Rt. 2, St. Pauls; William Lucas, about 60, of Belmont; Mrs. Virginia Hipson, 37, of Charlotte; Malice Henry, 37, year-old Negro of Springfield; Kenneth Lewis Pierce, 44, of Charlotte.

Also, Jen L. Butler, 53, of Rt. 1, Ellenboro; Bobby Joe Overman, 19, of Siler City; Charles Owens, 17, of Lexington; J. W. Hartsell, 10, of Rt. 1, Stanfield; Herbert Logan, 60, Negro of Rt. 1, Lincolnton; Shirley B. Jenkins, 36, of Norfolk; Essie Cody, 28, of Winston-Salem; Edna Miller Pless, 71, of Mooresville; and Jimmy Boyd, 15, of Rt. 2, Oxford.

Mrs. Helen Elizabeth Phillips, 37, an ardent sportswoman, was fatally injured Sunday when her horse fell on her. She had been riding with her son, Tommy, near their home in the Springwood section near Belmont. She died in a hospital Sunday night without regaining consciousness.

Nixon Favors Broad Education Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—A broad program of federal aid to education, including college scholarships and money for building both public school and college classrooms is advocated by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

But he supported only indirect aid for teachers' salaries, saying, "We must avoid the danger of rigid federal control over our public schools."

He said federal funds should be used to help build new public schools and to help local districts pay off bonded debt on new schools already built. He said the local money thus freed could be used to raise teachers' salaries.

Nixon's views were set forth Sunday night in the third of a series of "position papers" he is issuing during the election campaign to outline his views at length on various national issues.

Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming told newsmen Nixon's program "is the most practical you can get in terms of what you can get through Congress." He said many Congress members would support such a program who would oppose any direct federal aid to increase teachers' salaries.

But Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa said in a statement that such a program lacking salary aid "continues to miss the most essential issue." He contended also that matching construction grants would attract state money away from teachers' salaries, rather than adding to the total available for that purpose.

He said that Nixon, in advocating aid for college classroom construction, is now supporting a Democratic program which President Eisenhower vetoed twice when it was included in general housing bills.

On that point, Nixon proposed that the present federal program of low-cost loans for college dormitory construction be "greatly expanded into a program of both loans and matching grants for classrooms and laboratories and libraries as well."

Kennedy Given Two Ovations

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy, happy over two tumultuous receptions—one the biggest of his campaign—turns out tonight to television-radio debate No. 1 with his Republican rival for the presidency.

Kennedy, the Democratic candidate for the White House, arranged to spend most of the day in seclusion preparing for his unprecedented duel to be watched coast-to-coast on the four major networks. The hour-long program originating here will start at 8:30 p.m. EST.

Aside from the debate—the first of four scheduled with Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican nominee—Kennedy's only announced campaign activity today is an afternoon address at the annual convention of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.

Kennedy devoted a good part of the weekend to bonding up for the debate. He arrived in Chicago early Saturday at the end of his week of intensive campaigning.

The senator took time out for a quick visit to Cleveland Sunday where he got the most tremendous welcome since his nomination in July. On his return to Chicago he received another thunderous reception at a party rally on the Lake Michigan shore.

In Cleveland, Police Traffic Commissioner James E. Halloran estimated 118,000 persons were in the wildly enthusiastic crowd which Kennedy addressed at Euclid Beach Park. Police calculated that perhaps up to an additional 100,000 turned out to greet Kennedy along a 12-mile route to the park.

"I've never seen anything like it," said Halloran of the Kennedy crowds in Ohio's largest city.

Veteran Cleveland newsmen termed it the city's biggest turnout since a visit by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1937.

Friday's Tobacco Prices Steady

Prices remained steady Friday while tobacco markets in Greenville, Farmville and Robertsonville saw slightly lower volumes of high-quality leaf and sales average slide slightly from the previous day's postings.

Still the dominant grade of the three area markets' floors was a high-quality smoking leaf with little of the nondescript varieties. Greenville had its second consecutive million-dollar day—its seventh of the season—by selling a total of 1,879,064 pounds for a total of $1,188,445. A sales average of $63.24 was posted here.

Farmville's market sold a total of 804,898 pounds for a sales average of $63.97 per 100 pounds. Growers received a total of $514,902.

Sales Supervisor Louis Williams reported a full sale there today with prices "much the same as Friday." He reported a large volume of high-quality smoking leaf for today's sales.

Robertsonville chalked up a sales average figure of $64.60 Friday from the sale of 260,204 pounds for a total of $168,092.

Eastern Belt totals for Friday, as reported by the Federal-State Market News Service in Wilson, were:

Pounds — 12,451,656; receipts — $7,902,849; and sales average — $63.47.

Accident Victim Condition Now 'Not Serious'

Doctors today said the condition of Mrs. James G. Smith III of 706 South Elm St., who was injured in a collision September 18, near Grimesland, in which her nine-month-old baby girl was killed, was "not serious . . . except for the multiple injuries to her extremities."

They listed her condition as "between fair and good," and noted that "she will probably have surgery today."

Physicians pointed out that even though she is doing "a great deal better," visitors are not allowed to see her.

Pitt County Coroner E. W. Harvey announced last week an inquest into the death of the child will be held Thursday night at 7:30 in the Pitt County Court House.

Frank Dixon, a 29-year-old Route 1, Washington, Negro, is being held in the Pitt County Jail without bond for the inquest. He has been charged with manslaughter, operating under the influence of alcohol and operating on the wrong side of the road as a result of the investigation of the wreck.

Two girls and one boy were judged winners of bicycles as first prizes in three age groups of the first annual Bicycle Road-e-o Saturday at the local Moose Lodge.

Winning the bikes for their skills in safe bicycle maneuvering were Phyllis Fields, Gregory Baxter and Robin Thompson. They competed in the 12-14 year, 9-11 year, and 618 year age groups, respectively. The winners were selected by judges on the basis of their skill at putting their bicycles through tests laid out on the lodge's parking lot. Some 200 Pitt County cyclists participated.

In addition to the first prize bikes, a dozen more youngsters carried home prizes. Second prize in each of the age classifications was a pen and pencil set. Third, fourth and fifth prizes were envelopes full of complimentary tickets to the various local theaters. Each participant was given a pass to a local theater.

The winners, beginning with second place, were: 12-14 year group—Stephen Fuller, Alan Jones, Hall C. Miller Jr. and Connie McGowan; 9-11 year group—Charles Johnson, Jeff Sumrell, Marilyn Fuller, and Denny Carter; 6-8 year group—Harvey Johnson, Dan Edwards, Kathy Price, and Larry Pasti.
