Miss McLawhorn Weds Lt. Padgett

Mrs. Douglas Morgan Padgett

In a double ring ceremony Saturday afternoon in the Winterville Missionary Baptist Church, Miss Jo Anne McLawhorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Torbet McLawhorn of Winterville, N. C., became the bride of Lieutenant Douglas Morgan Padgett of the United States Air Force, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maxwell Padgett of Spindale.

The church decorations of six branch candelabra holding cathedral candles entwined with bridal greenery set among emerald formed the background for the ceremony. Large standards of white snapdragons and white chrysanthemums complemented the setting.

The Rev. E. G. Cole, pastor of the bride, and The Rev. Harold M. White of Clayton, former pastor of the bridegroom, officiated.

Mrs. Roy T. Cox, Winterville, organist, and Mrs. Irving L. Smith Jr., sister of the bride, Robersonville, vocalist, rendered the wedding music. Mrs. Smith sang "Perfect Love," "The Greatest of This is Love," and "The Wedding Benediction." The traditional wedding marches were used.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floorlength gown of peau de sole with bodice fashioned along princess lines and featuring a portrait neckline trimmed with Alencon lace ac-centered with tiny seed pearls. The full skirt was styled with an overlaid Alencon lace peplum with the skirt ending in a chapel train. The long fitted sleeves tapered in points over the hands.

Her three tiered veil of imported French illusion was attached to a Juliet Cap of lace sprinkled with seed pearls. The bride's only ornament was her mother's wedding gift from the bride's father on their wedding day, a platinum pin with small diamonds and blue sapphires. The bride carried a cascade of white bridal roses and stephanotis centered with a pure white hybrid orchid.

Mrs. Kenneth K. Dews, Winterville, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore American Beauty organzine taffeta with matching hat. She carried a cascade of briscliff pink roses with miniature ivy.

The bridesmaids were Miss Maggie Castelloe, Winterville, Miss Carole Wilkerson, Greenville, Miss Mary Virginia Langston, Winterville, cousins of the bride, Miss Alice Rachel Speight, Roanoke, Va., and Mrs. Troy Blanton, Wilmington, sister of the bridegroom. The attendants' dresses were turquoise organzine taffeta fashioned like the honor attendant. They wore matching hats and carried cascades of Better Times roses and ivy.

Flower girl was Miss Alexine Bates Dews and Junior flower girl was little Miss Madge G. y Dews, of Winterville, nieces of the bride. Ringbearer was Master Dennis McLawhorn Love, of Atlanta Ga., nephew of the bride.

The bridegroom's father, Paul Maxwell Padgett, was best man. Ushers were Kenneth K. Dews, Winterville, Irving L. Smith, Robersonville, James Erskine Love, Jr. of Atlanta, Ga., brother-in-law of the bride, Troy Blanton, brother-in-law of the groom, Wilmington, Jerry M. Clayton, Roxboro, and Wyman Yelton of Radford, Va.

Mrs. McLawhorn, mother of the bride, chose a sheath dress of lilac lace and satin, with matching accessories and wore a corsage of white purple throat orchid. Mrs. Padgett, bridegroom's mother, wore dusty rose brocade silk with matching accessories. Her corsage was a white purple throat orchid.

After the wedding the brides parents entertained at a reception at their home near Winterville.

The bride's going away costume was a green wool suit with matching hat. Her accessories were lizard skin and she used bone colored gloves. Her corsage was a white hybrid orchid.

The bride graduated from Duke University, Durham, with an AB degree in Sociology and a Master of Arts in Teaching. She taught in the Durham city schools and in Malbourne, Fla. High School. She is a member of Phi Mu Sorority.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Duke University, Durham, and received his AB degree in Business Administration. He was a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity. Upon graduation he entered the United States Air Force and has completed his training for B-52 Pilot. After further training at Kansas, California, and Nevada Bases he will be stationed at Warner Robbins AFB in Macon, Ga., where the couple will reside after April.

Mr. and Mrs. Brantley Speight, Mrs. M. O. Speight and Rachel Speight entertained the McLawhorn and Padgett wedding party and out-of-town guests at a buffet supper prior to the rehearsal.

The guests were greeted by Mr. Speight and Mrs. Joe Tripp. The guest included the grooms parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Padgett, of Spindale, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Padgett of Shelby.

The home was decorated with arrangements of fall flowers. The wedding party was seated at a table covered with a white linen cloth, white tapers in seven candelabras were used.

Soapsuds Tree More Novel Than Efficient

Do you know that in Barbados, West Indies, there are soapsuds trees? They reach heights of 60 feet and bear clusters of berries, which produce a thick lather when shaken in water.

The Barbadians are naturally very clean people. However, even with their handy stock of soapsuds trees, they still prefer the convenience and quality of manufactured soap and detergent products.

With Farm Women

By MAIDRED MORRIS (Items this week from Camp-bell, Washington, Anson, Wake, Cherokee, and Alexander Coun-ties.)

Good Meals For Busy Days "Just four hills yielded four bushels of butternut squash," re-ported Mrs. Otwell, garden lead-er in Caldwell County. Mrs. Ot-well told how she prepared the squash. "I fried, stewed, and made casseroles with the young immature squash but the mature squash are baked, sliced thin and fried, or put in casseroles," re-ports Mrs. Otwell.

Miss Elaine Coulter, assistant home economics agent, says Mrs. Otwell has learned that butternut squash are good prepared any way sweet potatoes or pumpkins are used. A butternut squash pudding with whip cream topping is a delightful dish.

Pays To Save "It pays to save," said Mrs. Odell Peele, Plymouth, when she was asked about buttons on her dress. "These buttons were given me off an old duster worn by my aunt in the horse and buggy days." Mrs. Peele has used and reused the buttons on garments through-out the years.

Mrs. Frances Darden, home eco-nomics agent, says Mrs. Peele has saved many dollars on her cloth-ing by shopping wisely and re-us-ing buttons and zippers. Clothing Projects Plans have been made for Mrs. Jo Tucker, Mrs. Ann Ratliff, and Mrs. C.B. Bunn to make aprons for Christmas sales. They plan to sell the aprons on markets in Chap-el Hill, Southern Pines, and Charlotte.

Miss Anna J. Fitzgerald, assist-ant home economics agent, re-ports the project involved mak-ing the Christmas aprons now to be placed on the market. They should make beautiful as well as useful Christmas gifts.

HD Leader Shares Talents

Mrs. J.A. Sauer, who is a member of the Woodland Home Dem-onstration Club in Wake County, visited the Western Boulevard Club. She presented a demon-stration on making fancy party sandwiches and canapes.

Mrs. Margaret Babson, home eco-nomics agent, reports Mrs. Sauer was originally in the catering busi-ness in Ohio. However, now Mrs. Sauer is sharing her talents with club women in Wake County.

Conserve Chicken By Canning Mrs. T.E. Anderson and Mrs. Willie Givens of Cherokee County agreed to can chicken for their exhibit at the fair. Their families raise broilers for market so they had cul hens available for can-nings.

Mrs. Thelma Wheeler, home eco-nomics agent, says the meaty pieces of one hen would fit into a quart jar and the boney pieces were cooked, the meat removed, and canned with the broth. This can be a large saving when you consider that a 6 1/2 ounce can of boned chicken retails for 37 to 45 cents.

Plan Clothing Budget Would you like to dress fashion-ably on a small clothing budget? The magic is performed by ward-robe planning, sewing at home and knowing what to wear when. At the achievement day program in Alexander County, Mrs. Don-ald Mayberry will model a luxur-ious looking white wool dress trimmed in mink which cost $3.25. Mrs. Agnes Watts, home eco-nomics agent, says Mrs. Mayber-ry made the mink collar and cuffs from fur trim of an old coat. She also designed the dress herself, so no pattern was necessary.

Protect From Illness

You can protect yourself and your family from illness by fol-lowing these simple rules laid down by the New York State Depart-ment of Health. Get all shots rec-ommended by your doctor. Always cover your nose and mouth when sneezing or coughing. Wash your hands with soap before eating and after using the bathroom. Avoid unnecessary contact with persons who are ill and see your doctor when you are ill.

Woman's Society Of Christian Service Meets

BETHEL—Miss Camille Staton opened the October meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service. She asked Mrs. D. O. Speir to introduce the first quad-rennial emphasis: "The faith that compels us to bring to bear on all human life the spirit and prin-ciples of Christ." Mrs. Speir stressed the feeling of peace and se-curity which would fill all our lives if we would put ourselves wholly in Christ's hands. She closed her devotion with a prayer for greater faith.

After the hymn, "Rescue the Perishing" was sung. Mrs. J. C. Wynne, Jr. read verses 34-40 from the twenty second chapter of Mat-thew. She recalled Jesus' answer when asked which of the commandments was most impor-tant: His answer: The Law of Love; the relation of man to God and the relation of man to man.

The program, "Living Echoes" stressed Christian citizenship. She pointed out the worship center of the world as it is today: the black of black and white represented cloth, representing evil and the white Bible and white candle rep-resenting good in the world. Mrs. Wynne presented a panel consisting of Mrs. Edward Mat-thews, Mrs. J.L. Gurganus, Mrs. Donald Jenkins and Mrs. R. E. Riddick who presented some of the greatest problems and needs of today's society. Mrs. Wynne brought out the thought that good and bad, though it is, God made this world and loves it. This is reason enough for His children to want to make it the best world possible. Miss Staton announced Nov. 10 as Sub District Meeting in Tar-boro and Nov. 8 as Election Day, urging everyone to vote.

Safe To Expect Record Pitt Vote

How many votes will Pitt County cast in the national election two weeks from tomorrow?

Looking back over the voting record of Pitt in national elections, at least one conclusion can be drawn. The County, while it normally gives the Democratic ticket a heavy majority, does not reflect in its number of ballots the potential voting strength it possesses.

The number of Pitt Countians who vote in a national election apparently depends upon the local interest that is generated during the campaign that precedes the election.

If these conclusions are justified, it is safe to predict that Pitt County will cast a record number of votes on November 8. Interest is high in the current presidential campaign as well as in the gubernatorial race. For the first time in many years the county is seeing an active campaign in its midst in behalf of the Republican candidates for the top offices in the state and nation. This has stimulated Republican interest in the county and has likewise stimulated Democratic efforts to get a large turnout of voters on election day.

On November 8 Pitt County should see between 16,000 and 17,000 people go to the polls to register their preference in the election. Such a number of voters would set a new national election record for the county but compared with the 25,000 or so registered voters in Pitt, it would not represent anywhere near full participation in the election of top officials.

In 1940 when President Franklin D. Roosevelt sought his unprecedented third term in office a total of 10,400 Pitt Countians went to the polls. Four years later the county counted only 9,000 votes in the national election and in 1948 there was a slight increase to 9,500 votes cast in the general election.

The 1952 campaign between President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson brought out 13,500 voters in Pitt for the presidential election, and four years ago when President Eisenhower sought his second term Pitt County cast 14,400 votes.

The population of Pitt has increased in the past four years and the number of registered voters has likewise increased. These factors, together with the growing interest in the campaign this year, should result in a total vote of some 2,000 above the figure recorded four years ago.

As one of the largest counties of the East, Pitt County's vote on November 8 could have a decided influence on the outcome of the election in North Carolina. It is in the best interest of the county, as well as the state and nation, that every registered voter in Pitt make a sincere effort to cast his ballot on election day.

The responsibility of participating in an election is one which rests with each citizen individually. Unless he makes the necessary effort to cast his ballot, his choice between the candidates will not be reflected in the final results of the election.

Growing Enrollment Needs More Support

As has been the case in recent years, the official enrollment figures for the fall quarter at East Carolina College have set new records both with respect to total enrollment and for the number of students in the freshman class.

The official figures show that 4,599 students are enrolled in classes on the East Carolina campus during the current quarter, and that the freshman class this year totals 1,796 men and women. These totals are further proof that East Carolina is continuing to grow in size and in importance to higher education in North Carolina.

Already the college ranks as the third largest state supported institution of higher learning in North Carolina and the fourth largest institution of higher learning in the state. Its rate of growth continues to be somewhat higher than the average for colleges and universities in North Carolina, indicating it will continue to close the gap that separates it from other larger institutions.

The growing enrollment at East Carolina demands growing support from the state so far as finances for operations and for capital improvements are concerned. It likewise demands growing support from the people of this immediate area who recognize what the presence of East Carolina College means to Pitt County and to Eastern North Carolina as a whole.

Job Report And Election Impact

By RALPH ROBEY
Figures on employment and unemployment always are watched closely as an indication of whether the business trend is moving up or down. This year the figures have an added significance because of the election.

Even before the September report was issued, Democratic spokesmen said that too much attention should not be paid to a possible improvement because it is clear that in many sections of the nation neither business nor employment is what it should be. Republican spokesmen, as was to be expected, took the opposite viewpoint.

Well, the report has now been issued and both sides can find some basis for claiming they were correct. The report gives the employment and unemployment figures for the middle of September, since these surveys always are made in the week ending nearest the 15th of the month.

First it should be noted that the civilian labor force has been growing more rapidly than normally expected. During the twelve months ending with this September the increase was 1,600,000. Some 300,000 of this results from the inclusion of Alaska and Hawaii. Obviously an increase in the size of the labor force tends to have an effect upon the volume of unemployment, since it means that much larger number of persons must find jobs.

None the less, the number of unemployed declined in September—declined by more than the normal seasonal number. The actual drop was 400,000. Some of the reduction was caused by a continuation of the return of students to school, and some by the pickup in the automobile industry.

The Democrats claim that this is too large a volume of unemployment. They are correct in this. Granted only a relatively small proportion of the total has been out of work for 15 weeks or more, it still is a great number looking for work than anyone wants to see.

The Republicans, while admitting that the number of unemployed is too large, insist that the situation is getting better. That also is correct, but the rate of improvement is terribly slow. What the Republicans need to point out, but so far have not done, is the extraordinary growth in the total labor force. When allowance is made for this growth, the decline in unemployment is much more impressive.

So much for unemployment. What of employment? Here the picture is both favorable and unfavorable. The favorable side is that the number holding jobs increased by well over a million as compared with twelve months earlier. The unfavorable side is the character and places of the increase.

For example, agricultural employment normally declines in the September report. This time it revealed a handsome increase. The explanation is not that the trend of agricultural employment has changed, but merely that this year the survey week was relatively late and as a result closer to the peak of the harvesting season.

Further, industrial employment as a whole showed an increase as compared with a year earlier, but almost the whole growth was in the primary metal industry, and in September, 1959, we were in the midst of the steel strike. The great increases, in other words, were in non-manufacturing.

The Democrats can and will cite these employment data as proof that the nation is not moving ahead—certainly not moving ahead at the rate it should be. The Republicans admit that we are not growing as rapidly as they would like, but they insist that we have not stopped growing, and they are accurate in this contention. The survey for October has already been made. It is to be hoped that it can be made public prior to the election.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
WE ALL HAVE ONE
Ralph Waldo Emerson became very forgetful in his old age. It embarrassed him greatly that he could not remember people's names, so he had a technique by which he tried to hide the fact that his mind was losing some of its vigor. He would extend his hand to the person whose name he could not recall and as he shook hands with him would say, "How's the old complaint?"
He knew everybody had one. Such a thing as getting through life with no complaint to haunt us is practically unknown. In all this vast world there is not a person living today, nor has a

Countdown For Decision

Copyright, 1960, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

The expert will read Major General John B. Medaris's book, "Countdown for Decision," with critical attention concerning rockets, missiles and such. I am not capable of discussing such matters at all from a technical standpoint. Nevertheless, I found this book interesting and even exciting because it brought sharply to the reader's attention the fact that just as we are developing new weapons to meet new conditions, so we need to develop new organizations to meet changing situations.

The armed forces exist to make war. Euphemistically and politically we refer to war these days as defense; but whether it is defense or offense, it is war and war is waste. From an economic standpoint therefore military institutions expect to waste the nation's wealth and manpower as thriftily as possible. On the other hand, too much thrift can defeat the very purpose of the military organization. You may recall that our recruits at the beginning of World War II had no rifles. We had perhaps 18 months warning then; we may not have 18 minutes warning the next time.

General Medaris says: "I have tried to emphasize many times in this book how stupid and highly wasteful it is to spend several millions of dollars to get up a satellite to do a specific job, and then find that because of the failure of one element aboard the satellite the mission cannot be accomplished. This so-called 'redundancy' is almost the only way to assure with relative certainty that the millions of dollars involved in getting the satellite into position will result in a useful instrument for a sufficient time to warrant the cost."

But is this duplication businesslike? General Medaris replies:

... under the guise of so-called "business methods" of operation, totally unrealistic systems of control and of evaluation of results are foisted upon the Services, crippling the capacity of the Armed Forces to fight and win any kind of armed conflict that might threaten us. Corporation accounting methods are forced into a system that cannot cast up a profit - and - loss statement or price its product, except when the chips are down and all must go to the profit side if we can win, or all becomes a loss if we lose. Accountants and bookkeepers have been multiplied fourfold, replacing leaders, strategists, and tacticians, and not one dime of the taxpayers' money has been saved in the process. For every dollar of mistake identified, always too late to correct, ten dollars have been spent in the finding."

The problem raised here is technical, as it must be. Our armed forces cannot be managed as ribbons are sold in a department store. The problems are not the same. The department store sells ribbons to make a profit. If the ribbons do not sell, there is a sale, a mark down and the loss is absorbed and forgotten. The armed forces must be ready at all times to kill the enemy fast and surely and to avoid being killed by the enemy in turn. There can be no failure, because any failure is total failure. There can be no writing off losses, because the losses are total losses, never to be recovered. The loss may even amount to the destruction of a nation and the enslavement of its people.

The Defense Department must be related to the single purpose of winning a war and it must always assume that a war is just around the corner. The State Department exists to keep and make the peace, the Pentagon exists to win a war and for nothing else.

The question then is not what is traditionally right but what needs to be done to defeat Soviet Russia, Red China and their satellites quickly, surely, effectively.

General Medaris's book is a critique of our methods of handling war. He says: "It should be entirely logical to establish a Joint Command to which should be entrusted the undivided responsibility for directing the major missile and space activities. (Continued on page five)"

Other Editors Saying ... A New Independence

(The Shelby Star)

The so-called "Independent" group of voters will be the deciding factor in the coming presidential election.

These independents, who will make up perhaps 40 per cent of the total voting strength are of two distinct groups. They are party members who refuse to recognize party allegiance beyond the local level and voters who claim no party allegiance.

The former group is becoming larger in the South for many reasons. In the first place, broad civil service provisions have removed patronage from the hands of local political bosses and the promise of reward for party allegiance can no longer be made by party leaders at county levels.

The posts of precinct chairman or party chairman at the county level once were prizes of considerable worth to those who wanted to exert power. Power was to be had in these jobs because after every national election, plums were to be distributed all the way down to mail carrier on local routes.

This is no longer true and the hardest job party officials have is to recruit volunteers to man county and precinct positions. In the South, there are other and even more basic reasons Democrats frequently cross party lines in elections above the local level.

First, to actively participate in primaries and elections at the county level in many southern areas (including North Carolina), a voter must register as a Democrat. Thus, new citizens from other areas, who were perhaps Republicans in other states, take a very practical view and register as Democrats in order to make their vote count for local offices.

Secondly, southern voters are becoming more and more aware that their Democratic representatives and senators simply do not practice what they preach about party lines.

In Congress, as many times as not, southern Democrats will be allied with Republicans in fighting for or against a particular piece of legislation. This has been particularly true during past years as some northern Democratic leaders more increasingly toward an ultra-liberal position.

Consider the diversity of views between such men as Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois and Sen. James Eastland of Mississippi. And can one imagine Sen. Sam Ervin seeing eye to eye with Sen. Hubert Humphrey?

Thus, we must understand that many Southern Democrats feel they have the same right to cross party lines when they feel such a course is consistent with their political philosophy.

Finally, the office of President has risen above the partisanship of the past. True, the President must be a member of a party because that is the nature of our political system. Once elected, however, he moved far beyond the leader of a partisan group.

He must represent all the people of America before the nations of the world. Whether he is a Republican or a Democrat pales to insignificance before the question of how well he can fulfill his role as leader of the free nations of the world.

Europe And The Future

By ROGER BABSON

EN ROUTE HOME.—My first thought as I complete my six weeks away from the United States is that we and Great Britain should hold together as a solid bloc and foundation for others of the free nations who are willing to put character and courage ahead of propaganda and selfishness.

ATTITUDE OF FRANCE
Certainly deGaulle has done wonders for France. He, however, appears to be a very conceited man and knows little about economics. If deGaulle should suddenly drop dead, most intelligent French people believe that France would revert to chaos. Surely I would invest no money in France. Mrs. Babson, who spent her time at the hotels and stores, fears that France is "pricing herself out of business."

Personally, I have not seen much of the Germans since I spent some months there just before World War I. There is no doubt, however, that they are a most industrious people. If the French endeavor is to give a little for as much as possible, certainly the Germans are supplying the most goods possible for as little as possible. As a result, great purchases both of machinery and of goods are being made in Germany by American manufacturers.

WHAT ABOUT ITALY?

Italy is also forging ahead in exports to the United States and all over the world. This especially applies to plastics, for the manufacture of which Milan has very large factories. This includes not only solid plastics, which will soon compete with steel in our new lightweight automobiles, but also textiles of all kinds from tableware to dress goods and clothing. Both the textile unions and the manufacturers of woven products already see the handwriting on the wall!

During my trip I met several buyers for such concerns as Sears, Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Woolworth, McCrory-McLellan, and Macy's. These concerns are bringing goods from both Europe and Japan in shiploads to sell in the United States and South America at low prices and at good profits. When China also breaks into these markets the competition will be very severe. This latter may be worrying Mr. K and be one reason for his tirades!

WHAT ABOUT AMERICAN STOCK MARKET?

From the above, it looks as if the profits of our industrial companies will continue to decline, and be followed by dividend reductions. If competition increases, as I expect, it will result in unemployment followed by more labor strikes. Employers may not be about to reduce wages but they surely will resist wage increases and the "fringes" which are constantly increasing. I now see no reason for a real business depression, but certainly this situation does not now encourage another bull market, except possibly in the merchandising and specialty stocks.

Then what is holding our U.S. stock market up? My answer is "European buying." Our gold supply is surely eroding, yet every European country that I have talked believes that the United States is the safest country in which to invest funds. Every German and Italian manufacturer who gets surplus funds (either from the sale of goods or perhaps from the sale of his entire business to Americans) is sending a portion of those dollars to the U.S. to invest in the Dow-Jones stocks, including steels!

CONCLUSION

Such foreign buying of U.S. stocks could hold the Dow-Jones industrials up while earnings and possibly dividends decline. But I now hesitate to recommend either the purchase or sale of active stocks for capital gains or tax losses. Of course, we will know much more after November 8th. We then, however, should not judge the true effect of the election by what happens to the stock market during the first 30 days, but should have patience to wait a few months.

More Look-Aheads In Business

By ELMER ROESSNER

Here are more look-aheads in business, based on analysis of developing trends and a smattering of advance information:

Costlier sugar: The cut-off in purchases of Cuban sugar has weakened prices in the world market and further declines are likely. However, lower world quotations are not likely to affect domestic prices. Much of the housewives' sugar is kept high by import controls.

Low - Cholesterol marger: A corn oil margarine without hydrogenation—hence a "med" to be without cholesterol—has been tested in New England, New York and Philadelphia markets. If consumers like it, it will be spread across the country.

Nonwood pins: The wooden bowling pins may be out. Pins with metal cores and plastic coverings are being tested in two Milwaukee alleys, and if they get keggers' approval, they may replace wooden pins.

Lower air-freight rates: Conterences of the International Air Transport Association in France seemed to favor lower air-freight rates. If American air-lifters are in agreement, Available cargo space is rising rapidly, and lower rates are considered the best way to attract more freight into plane bellies. A new IATA session early in 1961 probably will approve more favorable rates to shippers.

More weight control: Still another weight-control powdered product is about to burst on the market. Promoters of this one claims an eater can lose a pound every 48 hours, without hunger pangs. Heavy television advertising is planned.

Smoke detection surer: A robot plane has been designed to fly over cities, note source of smoke pollution, and radio information to a ground control center. It can also relay data on temperature, air pressure and humidity in its level of flight.

Elitist competition: The sharp rise in the use of dictating machines in offices is attracting a new competitor. IBM may soon have dictating machines in the office dictation field.

Better leather: New processing machines will cut the cost of cleaning cattle hides, producing better leather with reduced shipping weights, the U.S. Department of Agriculture says. This may lead to slightly lower prices for leather goods.

BRAND X CIGARETTES ABOUT TO BECOME REALITY
The smirk was six axes handles wide when the Old Promoter walked in today. "You southerner when I suggested Brand X products," he said, "I told you with all the free advertising Brand X was getting on television, Brand X items would sell like waffles."

"You may have laughed, but three New Yorkers are bringing out Brand X cigarettes, advertised as 'for the man who is satisfied with nothing less than second best.' They may carry pictures of vice presidents on each pack. The advertising message: 'It cost a little more but it promises a little less!'"

Ah well! For the 44th time we've passed up a suggestion by the Old Promoter to make a million.

If It's Real Close, Electoral College Will Decide

AND THEY DID!—The construction crew of this float in Farmville High School's Homecoming Parade Friday afternoon called on the Farmville football squad to "Put Vanceboro in orbit." The Red Devils responded heartily to the plea by soundly trouncing visiting Vanceboro High School, 60-7, in the annual homecoming game in Farmville that night. The parade, led by the Farmville High School band, toured the town's main street from both directions in mid-afternoon prior to Friday's football action.

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—If next month's election is as close as some experts think it will be, the name of the next president may not be known until Dec. 19, or even later.

That's when the electoral college meets to make official the results of the Nov. 8 voting. Should the 537 electors representing the 50 states fail to produce a majority for anyone, the House of Representatives of the 87th Congress, which won't organize until next Jan. 3, will elect the new president.

It wouldn't be the first time that the electoral college deadlocked and threw the election into the lap of the House, but the last time was 135 years ago.

The electors will be chosen by the voters in their respective states on Nov. 8. Each state is entitled to one elector for each member it has in the House and the Senate. While theoretically and traditionally they cast their votes for the presidential nominee who received the largest vote in their state, they don't have to.

As recently as 1956 an Alabama elector refused to give his vote to Adlai Stevenson. Stevenson carried the state by 85,000 votes over President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Not do the electors of a state have to vote as a unit. The records show that on 41 occasions a state gave part of its electoral vote to one candidate and part to another.

The electors, selected in most states by party conventions or committees, will meet in their respective state capitals on Dec. 19 to cast their votes.

That's when complicated political situations in several states may figure in determining who will be the next president if the November voting is close.

Georgia's 12 Democratic electors are not pledged to support Sen. John F. Kennedy for the presidency. If Kennedy carried Georgia on the basis of popular votes, the state's electors could vote for Richard M. Nixon or someone else if they wanted to. A similar situation exists in Alabama, where only 5 of the 11 Democratic electors are pledged to back Kennedy, leaving the other 6—if Democrats carry the state—to vote for someone else.

In Mississippi there are two sets of Democratic electors, one pledged, while in Louisiana the states rights party has a set of unpledged electors.

If the electoral vote shapes up as a photo-finish on the basis of popular vote results, the unpledged electors could determine the outcome, and they would have until Dec. 19 to make up their minds. They could vote for a third person.

Conceivably, neither Kennedy nor Nixon might get a majority of the total electoral vote. To be declared elected, they must get a majority—269—not a plurality.

If the official electoral vote count conducted Jan. 6 by a joint session of Congress shows that nobody received an electoral vote majority, the election then would go to the House. There, each state would have one vote. The vote of each of the 50 state delegations would be determined by a majority of the delegation.

Believes Gavin Will Be Elected
RALEIGH (AP)—A leading Republican conservative says he is convinced North Carolina will elect GOP nominee Robert Gavin as its next governor.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., made the comment during stops at Wilson and Raleigh for speeches on behalf of the Republican national ticket of Richard Nixon for president and Henry Cabot Lodge for vice president.

At Wilson, he told some 500 persons North Carolina is "looking good for the Republicans."

Finch-Tregoff Jury Still 'Out'
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The jury trying Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his mistress, Carole Tregoff, for the slaying of his wife, Barbara, resumes deliberations today after a weekend recess.

The jurors rested from midday Saturday after completing 16 hours and 55 minutes of deliberation over a four-day period.

The couple are charged with murder and conspiracy in the July 12, 1959, shooting of Mrs. Finch. Another jury, in their first trial, failed to agree on a verdict.

Finch, 43, and Miss Tregoff, 23, deny the charges while admitting an illicit love affair.

The House would elect only the president. Election of a vice-president, if the electoral college did not produce a clear majority, would be the job of the Senate.

Twice before the House has elected a president. In 1801, the House elected Thomas Jefferson over Aaron Burr after each man received 73 electoral votes. It took the House 7 days and 36 ballots to settle on Jefferson.

Burr became vice president. In 1825, Andrew Jackson received the most electoral votes but didn't become president. His electoral vote, 99, was short of a majority. John Quincy Adams had 84, William H. Crawford of Georgia 41, and Henry Clay 37.

There were only 24 states then and Adams received the vote of 13 House delegations and became president. Jackson got 7 and Crawford 4.

Four years later Jackson received a clear majority of the electoral vote and defeated Adams.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Firemen ordered evacuation of about 100 blocks around Karnes Park Sunday after a 30-inch natural gas line broke in the park.

Although gas spewed into the air for four hours, most persons took it calmly and only a few left the area.

Pilot lights and other flames in the area were extinguished at the order of Fire Chief Herbert Hughes.

Nixon Plans 'Pour On The Coal' In Industrial States

WITH NIXON IN PENNSYLVANIA (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today he intends to "pour on the coal" in a vigorous effort to win industrial states to his side in the presidential contest.

The Republican nominee left Washington early today on a whistle-stopping tour of doubtful Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Michigan and Illinois—with a scheduled detour in Iowa. He left behind assurances to his supporters that they "haven't seen anything yet" in intensive campaigning.

"These are the two weeks in which people make up their minds," Nixon told a crowd which assembled in Washington's Union Station to see him aboard his special train.

"Whatever has happened up to this point," he said, "you haven't seen anything yet. I understand this is a diesel train, but I am going to pour on the coal from now on."

This was interpreted aboard this 16-car special train as another indication that the vice president is convinced the only way he can wrest the presidency from his Democratic opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy, is to take the offensive until Election Day.

The vice president's advisers were conceding it is possible they are behind right now in the bidding for New York's 45 electoral votes. But they think they are ahead—and Democrats dispute this—in the contest for California's 32.

This situation makes Nixon's trip through the northern industrial tier a critical one. Here he must charm enough voters, in states which have had a recent habit of going Democratic, to make up for the possible loss of New York. Harry S. Truman won without New York. No Republican has done it for a long time.

Nixon himself was confident that this foray will give him the needed electoral votes from the doubtful states.

"I think I'm going to win every one of them," he said, "I think I can win with them."

Republicans of all sorts—including GOP National Chairman Thruston B. Morton—turned out to wish their candidate well.

Before the train got going, Nixon and his wife broke a campaign precedent to stroll through the cars and to talk to the assembled contingent of newsmen, photographers and Republicans.

State Grange In Business Session

SOUTHERN PINES, N.C. (AP)—Grange members got down to work today at the first business session of the 38th annual convention of the North Carolina State Grange.

Members were assigned to committees which will work out programs for agriculture and rural people. The programs then will be recommended to the delegates during the convention.

About 500 members are here for the meeting, which continues through Wednesday night. Those attending include two delegates from each of 188 local granges.

Dr. John Caldwell, chancellor of N.C. State College, is to address the convention tonight.

Announcement of the "man and woman of the year" also is scheduled tonight.

The Grange has named the 171-year-old Bethel United Church of Christ near Mount Pleasant as the Rural Church of the Year. The Cabarrus County church, formerly known as the Bethel Evangelical and Reformed Church, will receive a plaque tonight.

Receiving honorable mention were the Chestnut Ridge Methodist Church, Orange County; Carr Memorial Christian, Sampson County; Nahunta Friends, Wayne County, and Mt. Ruhama Baptist, Catawba County.

Stevenson Says More People Are Listening, Today
SOUTHERN PINES, N.C. (AP)—When he ran for president in 1952 and 1956, says Adlai Stevenson, he tried to tell the people the truth, "but they didn't want to listen. . . Now times are more deeply troubled and the people are listening."

Stevenson, campaigning for the Democratic national ticket, spoke during the weekend here, at Clinton and Durham.

About 1,200 people at a Democratic rally here Saturday heard Stevenson say that the Republican candidates—Vice President Richard Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge—"say everything is O.K., but don't change the administration in such hazardous times. They say to criticize is hazardous, but don't charge the administration with bringing us to this hazardous situation."

"People are catching up with what the Republicans have done or have not done, but they wish to stifle discussion of these matters."

Odds On Kennedy Strengthened
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Betting odds on Sen. John F. Kennedy's presidential chances have been strengthened from 6-5 in his favor to 3-2.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon was a 7-5 favorite early in the campaign.

To Talk Services Panel Of Women

The "American Look", prominent in the fall fashion parade, is easily recognized in the fashionable ladies of regal bearing wearing the uniforms of the Women's Army Corps, Navy, Women Marines, Women in the Air Force, and the American Red Cross. A Collection of these uniforms will be featured at East Carolina College when a Joint Women's Services Panel presents an informative and entertaining program on women in the Armed Forces at 10:30 in the evening, Wednesday, October 26.

Representing their respective services with an aggregate of sixty-two years service will be:

Miss Hazel Breland, a graduate of Blue Mountain College, Mississippi and the University of Virginia with eighteen years association with the American Red Cross, who will introduce each panel member and discuss the purpose and mission of women with the Armed Forces.

Major Mildred Bailey, a native Tar Heel, a graduate of Woman's College, and matriculant at Flora Macdonald College and the University of North Carolina, taking great pride in her eighteen years with the Women's Army Corps, who will discuss the history of women with the Armed Forces and narrate a presentation of military

Sanford's Name Said Not Used
RALEIGH (AP)—A state employe representative says all his letters soliciting campaign contributions have been sent in the name of the Democratic party and not on behalf of gubernatorial nominee Terry Sanford.

Otis Bank, executive secretary of the State Highway and Prison Employees' Association, also reported to Republican charges that Democrats were seeking campaign money through "extortion."

fashions. Captain Bianca Trimeloni, a graduate of Kent State University, Ohio with a record of nine years service with the Air Force, who will speak on job assignments.

Captain Florence Land, a graduate of Radford College, the Women's Division of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, with seven years in the Marine Corps, who will discuss selection standards and training.

Lieutenant Dorothy Borbridge, a graduate of the University of Florida, Gainesville, Florida, boasting of ten years with the "Best Navy in the World," who will discuss career advantages with the military services.

Among the questions of vital interest to women to be answered by the panel will be: When is the uniform worn? Can the military career be combined with marriage? Do women have an opportunity for equal positions and pay with the men? Who can qualify for a career with the Armed Forces? What are the facts about "regimentation"? What about hair styles and make up for women in uniform? Is the military service a suitable career field for all temperaments and personalities?

Pledge Greater Friendship, Unity
TOKYO (AP)—Communist China and North Korea pledged to strengthen the "friendship and unity of the two peoples and their armies," Peiping Radio reported today.

The broadcast said the pledge was made Sunday by Marshal Ho Lung, vice chairman of the Chinese National Defense Council, and Gen. Kim Kwang-hyup, North Korean minister of national defense, at a reception in Pyongyang, capital of North Korea.

The reception was given in honor of Ho Lung and his high-ranking military delegation who arrived to take part in Tuesday's 10th anniversary celebration of the entry of the Chinese Army in the Korean war.

Bluebirds Are Harder To Find

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The bluebird, commonly associated as the bearer of happiness, is becoming hard to find in Kentucky.

State Ornithologist Burt L. Monroe estimates the bluebird population is off 85-90 per cent because of freezing weather which killed many birds last spring and careless use of poisonous insecticides and weed killers.

Seawell To Open Guns On Gavin
SANFORD, N.C. (AP)—Malcolm Seawell, former state attorney general, speaks in his native Lee County. Democrats say he will "tell the truth about another Lee County native, Robert Gavin."

Seawell, a Raleigh attorney, will speak at an 8th Congressional District Democratic rally. Gavin will speak tonight in Lenoir, 22 miles from here.

Observers believe he may answer Seawell, after hearing Seawell's remarks over a Sanford radio station.

Witch Doctors Retain Power In Uneasy Congo

Editor's Note—The Congo, freed June 30 from Belgian sovereignty, is at once one of the richest and most primitive countries in Africa. Basic animosities, tribe against tribe, provide the background for U.N. efforts at peace-making. An insight into tribal lore is provided in this eyewitness account by an AP correspondent who watched witch doctors undertake their ritual of making warriors "invisible" to opponents.

By ERROL FRIEDMANN
ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—Two figures loomed out of the darkness of the dense bush country in northern Katanga. They prodded me with their knives and we made our way to a clearing where witch doctors of the Baluba tribe conducted their bloody ritual of invisibility.

This is the rite the witch doctors believe can make their people safe against their enemies. Recite rebel activity in north Katanga brought to U.N. troops reports of such a ritual. Mall tribesmen in the area insisted that the Baluba rebels used a magic potion on their bodies and that it prevented them from being harmed by bullets.

The Malis said gunfire rained on a rebel advance would not halt the attack because the bullets would lodge harmlessly in the rebels' bodies and could be removed later by hand.

Investigating, I finally found a tribesman who said he could take me to an invisibility ceremony. Shortly after midnight he took me into the bush country where the two knife-bearing tribesmen kept their rendezvous.

After a long wait at the ritual clearing, a boy of about 15 was placed on the ground, his wrists and ankles bound with leather inongs. In the faint glow of a small fire his body gleamed with perspiration. His eyes were dull and unseeing. The movement of his breathing alone showed he was alive.

In a circle around the boy, a group of about 10 wizened men and three bare-chested warriors squatted on the dusty ground. They clapped their hands softly in a strange rhythm and murmured a tuneless chant.

Time sped by unnoticed as the clapping and chanting seemed to put the tribesmen in a trance.

Two tribesmen kept me motionless, holding knives at my temples. Suddenly the chanting and clapping ceased and the witch doctors knelt beside the boy, waving gleaming knives. Quickly they slashed. Two foot-long slits gaped open from the boy's armpits to the hips. The boy screamed, then lost consciousness.

Blood poured from his wounds. The witch doctors untied the things and forced him into a sitting position. One took two taceups and caught the blood. When the cups were full, a tribal

WGTC Cuba's Ex-Ambassador To Britain 'Going To War'

By DENNIS NEED
LONDON (AP)—Former Cuban Ambassador Sergio Rojas Santamarina prepared today to fly to Miami to join 150,000 Cuban emigres he claims are preparing a revolution against Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

"It will be a civil war—perhaps another Korea," he warned. "Castro is a mad dog. He must be wiped out."

Santamarina was Cuba's envoy to Britain until he was fired four months ago. Cuba announced he had been "dishonorably dismissed."

The handsome, 45-year-old diplomat returned to Havana but quickly moved into the Argentine Embassy claiming he had been persecuted and had resigned because of the Castro government's "shift toward communism."

After 65 days he escaped back to Britain.

"For the past three weeks I have been having important talks with people all over Europe," he told a reporter.

"Now it will not be long before I find myself in the thick of things. There are 150,000 Cuban emigres in Miami and we are preparing a counter revolution."

"This is not just another Latin American revolution. This is a battle against communism in the Caribbean. Just to give you an idea of what I mean, the man who now runs Cuba's secret police is a Russian called Col. Nikolai."

Santamarina said he believed the Soviets probably have already arranged for Castro's escape in the event of a successful revolution.

"But if we get him he will certainly be shot," he said.

"Our aim is to bring back law and order to Cuba and to hold an election within 18 months of establishing a new regime."

Santamarina warned that British Guiana could be the next Latin American country to go into the Communist orbit.

He said that the British colony's chief minister, Cheddi Jagan, and his American-born wife were Communists and that she was a frequent visitor to Havana. Jagan, though openly a sympathizer with many Communist causes, has denied he is a Red.

Puissant East Carolina, playing its cards like a Las Vegas pro, inserted offense into its football vocabulary once again here Saturday night to out-muscle favored Newberry, 21-0.

Jack Boone's Pirates, remaining among the college unbeaten list, gave Newberry a sample of its defensive toughness early in the game before firing away with an offensive arsenal that bomber Harvey Kirkland's club with its worst licking of the season.

It was East Carolina's first win in four meetings over the powerhouse from South Carolina's Little Three but it was a well-planned triumph by the Pirate coaching staff, who followed their pre-game blueprint down to the letter.

Offensively speaking, it might have been called "Tommy Matthews Night" instead of "Band Day." The splendid Hertford halfback had a terrific evening of football and received a big ovation when leg cramps carried him to the sidelines in the final period.

It was Matthews who out-manuevered his defender late in the first quarter and took a perfect strike from soph quarterback Dan Rouse for East Carolina's first touchdown.

The explosive 62-year play caught the sparse crowd of 5,000 unprepared, as well as Newberry. But the crowd was quick on its feet as Matthews, bobbing his head with a rhythmic pattern, followed halfback Mac Thacker the final 20 yards into the end zone while the last Newberry defender looked on in frustration.

East Carolina had latched on to the pebble ball after blunting one Newberry threat on the 13 and thwarting another on the 37 with a fumble recovery.

The Indians, who became the first team this season to roll up over 200 yards rushing on the Bucs, clawed big pores in the EC line the first time it gained ball control. W. F. Sullivan led the ground attack but it was a 20 yard pass from Jimmy Bethea to halfback Jimmy Lowder that set the tempo on the first drive.

Three running plays from EC's 21 carried to the 13 and a fourth down pass was incomplete.

A 52-yard punt off the foot of Dan Rouse moved East Carolina out of the hole, Newberry setting up shop on its 30. The Indians were moving again but Sullivan fumbled on the EC 37 and Wayne Davis labeled the ball for EC.

Strickland bused for one yard and southpaw Rouse faded back on second down, saw Matthews streaking down the sidelines, and launched a perfect toss that Matthews took on the run.

Tackle Henry Kwiatkowski, whose extra point picking has become about as automatic as night and day, ran his perfect string of boots to twelve with three more extra points.

It took Newberry 17 plays to parade 64 yards for its second menace of the night. East Carolina's line tightened again with Dempsey Williams, a football head-hunter from the Congo, making a key tackle from his end position.

On third down, Bethea tried to move through the air but Tommy Matthews grabbed the mis-fired pass on the two and scampered back to the Pirate 32.

Another booming Rouse punt backed Newberry to their nine. The Indians were forced to kick and East Carolina generated its second drive from the Newberry 44.

It took only five plays for the Bucs to ground out the second six-pointer. After Mac Thacker picked up three yards, Sonny Baysinger carried on a 15-yard jaunt for a first down.

Thacker hammered it to the Newberry seven on the following two plays with runs of 12 and eight yards. From there, Rouse rolled out to his right, kept the ball and stumbled into the end zone for the second score, giving the Bucs a 14-0 lead at halftime.

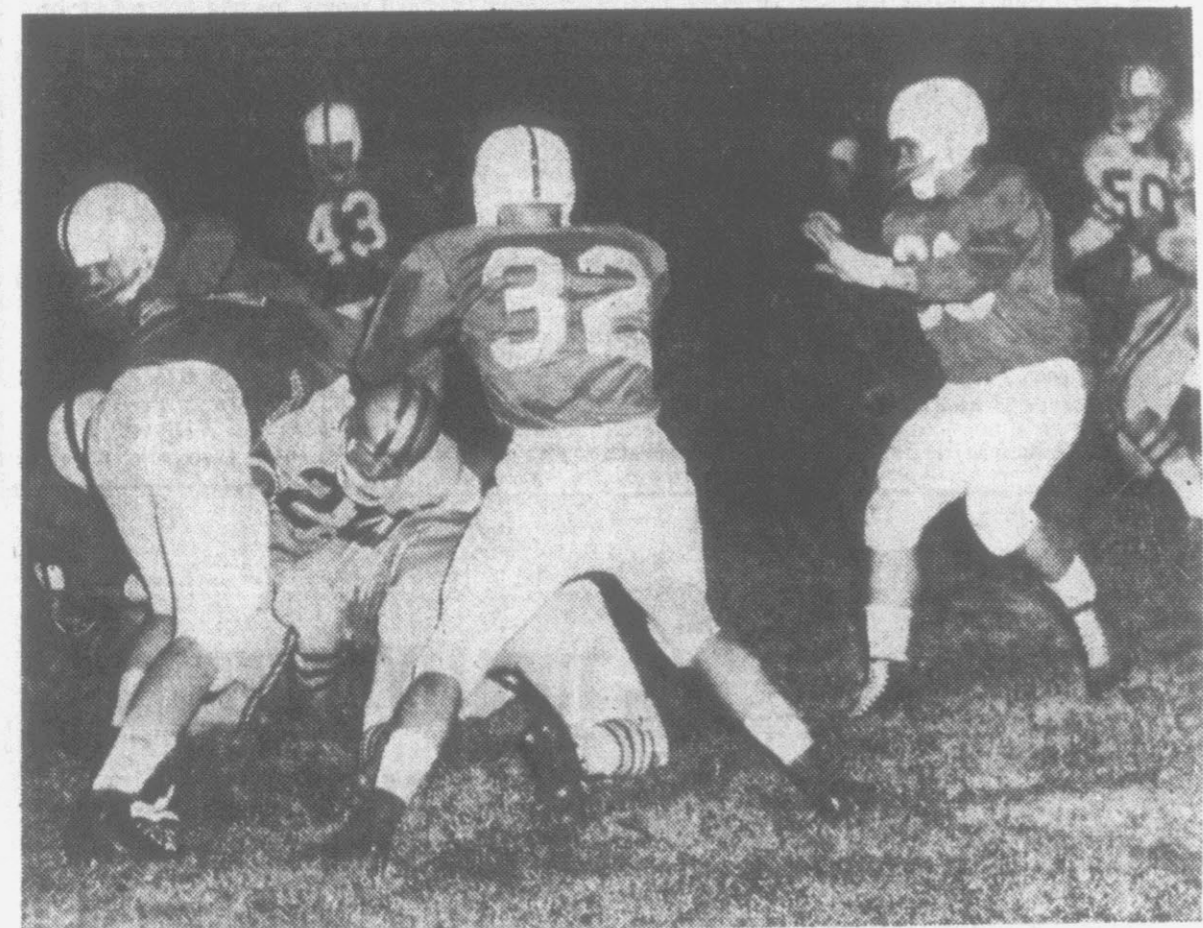

The scoreless third period saw East Carolina fumble away one scoring opportunity and choke another Newberry march with defensive aggressiveness.

Taking the second half kickoff, Richard Seastrunk, Newberry's all-anything, triggered an attack which surged to the EC 18 before being stopped on downs.

Matthews put EC in orbit again with a couple of long dashes. Hitting the Newberry secondary and wobbling like a homecoming drunk, the Hertford junior reeled off runs of 14, 21, and five yards in a drive which carried to the Indian one.

Newberry's line toughened and took over on downs. They moved it to the 32 before losing ball possession on a fumble.

East Carolina jammed it back to the 19 before handing it back to Newberry the same way, with a fumble.

The Pirates added a meaningless but crowd-pleasing tally in the final minutes of the game and it was some of Boone's untested reserves that punched it over.

Third string quarterback Cary Parker, who showed a gambling intuition, directed the 52 yard march and was the chief ball toter.

Coach's Quotes

East Carolina continued to roll with the ease of a snowball downhill Saturday night, toppling favored Newberry 21-0 for its sixth straight victory of the season.

Coach Jack Boone beamed with delight, pointing to the blocking of the offensive line as one of the most pleasing factors.

The Bucs wade into stiffer competition this week with Appalachian at Boone but as usual, the Pirate coaching staff hope to have their outfit clicking.

By departments, this is what Boone thought of East Carolina's victory over Newberry Saturday night:

RUSHING OFFENSE—"Our blocking up front was a lot better . . . and our backs were running real hard."

PASSING OFFENSE—"Didn't throw too much—we were off on a couple but Rouse's passing looked a lot better. Our pass protection was good."

RUSHING DEFENSE—"We were able to buckle down again when it counted. Newberry had a fine offense but we stopped them when the chips were down."

PASSING DEFENSE—"We stopped their long one real good . . . had to give them the short one several times. Only one pass early in the game on their first drive hurt us."

PUNTING—"Rouse did a good job. His timing was better and our kicking game was the best it has been this season."

SUMMATION—"Newberry had the type of club we expected. We didn't alter any of our plans. Our offense looked better than it has all year with our blocking in the line being much sharper. Our passing, especially that long one, made them loosen up their defense. Newberry was fundamentally sound and had the finest backs we have faced."

Iowa, Old Miss Survive Play With Narrow Margins

By ED CORRIGAN
 Associated Press Sports Writer

Upeasy is the head that wears the crown and if Iowa and Mississippi weren't squeamish today as they surveyed the college football scene from the throne they have short memories.

Both the powerful Hawkeyes, No. 1 in the current Associated Press poll and Ole Miss, No. 2, figure things can't get any tougher after last Saturday's spine-chilling victories.

Iowa beat Purdue, 21-14, with third stringer Dayton Perry providing the winning margin by running 84 yards with an intercepted pass and the Boilermakers threatening to tie it as the clock ran out.

Mississippi eked out a 10-7 decision over Arkansas wily Allen Green playing Frank Merriwell by kicking a disputed 39-yard field goal on the last play. In fact, he kicked it twice. The first time referee Thomas Bell called time and the play was run over. Green never had kicked a field goal before.

So now Iowa shows a 5-0 record and Mississippi 6-0 with trouble ahead for both.

Iowa has an unenviable task during the next three weeks. This week the Hawkeyes play Kansas (beaten only by Syracuse). The following week they play Minnesota (undefeated-untied) in the game that could decide the Big Ten title. The next week, they play tough Ohio State, beaten only by Purdue.

The Rebels have a date this week with defense-minded Louisiana State, which has given up just 24 points in five games, take a breather against Chattanooga, then face rampaging Tennessee, which has given up just two touchdowns in its five victories. That one could decide the Southeastern Conference championship.

This was the second cliff-hanger in a row for Iowa. The previous week the Hawkeyes got past Wisconsin in the last 52 seconds.

Green's last-gasp field goal touched off a dispute. Arkansas coach Frank Broyles complained that the kick was wide. Almost 24 hours later, he apologized for criticizing referee Bell publicly, but still maintained the kick was wide.

If Iowa or Mississippi should falter, defending national champion Syracuse and Navy—which are waiting their own private battle for Eastern honors—are waiting in the wings.

Syracuse, voted most likely to succeed itself in the pre-season AP poll, tumbled to third place after four unimpressive victories.

But the Orange blasted West Virginia, 45-0, Saturday in their first really big display of power.

Navy, No. 4, blanked Penn, 27-0. Neither West Virginia nor Penn were rated threats. This week Navy meets Notre Dame and Syracuse plays Pitt.

Missouri, No. 5, swamped Iowa State, 34-8, for its sixth victory and is smelling the sweet scent of the Big Eight title. Oklahoma has held it a dozen years, but the Sooners are a shell of their old selves.

Minnesota, No. 6, should have no great problem with Kansas State after beating Michigan, 10-0. Baylor, surprise power of the Southwest Conference, has a league game with Texas Christian. Baylor swept to its fifth triumph, a 14-0 decision over Texas A & M Saturday. TCU won't be easy.

Washington, eighth-ranked team in the country, plays Oregon which is fresh from a 20-0 shutout over California. Washington barely got by Oregon State, 30-29.

Ohio State, which hasn't abandoned hopes of winning the Big Ten title, has a date with once-beaten Michigan State. The Buckeyes, rated No. 9, clobbered Wisconsin Saturday, 34-7.

Once-tied Tennessee made a bid to crash the top 10 by crushing Chattanooga, 35-0. Utah State and New Mexico State with six victories each, along with Yale and Rutgers with five apiece, are the only other major unbeaten-untied teams.

Boxing Slate Peps Up With Title Bout

By MURRAY ROSE
 Associated Press Sports Writer

Boxing peps up this week with two title fights and a non-title appearance of light heavyweight champion Archie Moore in Rome.

Lightweight king Joey Brown makes a record ninth defense of his 135-pound crown Friday night when he faces veteran Cisco Andrade of Compton, Calif., at the Olympic Auditorium in Los Angeles.

The 15-rounder will be strictly for the paying customers. It won't be broadcast or telecast.

Brown, 34, of Baton Rouge and Houston, tied the great Benny Leonard's record for lightweight title defenses when he stopped England's Dave Charnley at Houston last Dec. 2. Old Bones is a 3-1 choice to whip Andrade, 30.

A big piece of the vacant world bantamweight title will be at stake in London Tuesday night when France's Alphonse Halimi and Britain's Freddie Gilroy clash in a 15-rounder. British and European recognition will go to the winner.

The 118-pound division title was left open when Mexico's Jose Becerra retired. Halimi is the former world champion who lost the title to Becerra. Gilroy is the British Empire and European titleholder.

The American National Boxing Association is recognizing the winner of a November bout in Los Angeles between Brazil's Eder Joire and Mexico's Eloy Sanchez. Moore takes his act to Rome, Italy. Saturday night. The 43-plus fighter-actor-politician meets Italy's Giulio Rinaldi in a non-title ten-rounder in Rome's gleaming new Olympic sports palace. Rinaldi, 25, is ranked fifth among the 175-pound contenders by Ring.

Television fans should get a lively show from welterweights Federico Thompson of Argentina and Mexico's Gaspar Ortega. The two 147-pounders meet in a ten-rounder at New York's Madison Square Garden Saturday night — ABC-TV, 9 p.m., EST.

Redskins Get Last Minute Field Goal For Tie

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

A month ago who would have imagined... That the Baltimore Colts would be in third place in the Eastern Conference after opening the season with a 41-24 thumping of the Philadelphia Eagles.

Yet this is the story today after the Colts Sunday went down to their second loss, 30-17, to the Detroit Lions, winless in three previous starts.

The Packers, who beat the Colts two weeks ago, crushed San Francisco 41-14, while the Bears were held to a 24-11 tie by Los Angeles. The deadlock broke a 12-game losing streak for the Rams.

Philadelphia's Bobby Walston kicked a field goal in the final 15 seconds to upset Cleveland 31-29 and avenge that opening day trouncing. The victory moved the Eagles (4-1) into the second place in the East, behind idle New York, which has three wins and a tie.

Elsewhere, St. Louis handed Dallas its fifth loss in as many games, 12-10 while Washington and Pittsburgh played to a 27-27 tie.

The second of Jim Martin's three field goals—a 51-yarder that hit the crossbar and bounced over—broke a 17-17 tie for the Lions after Baltimore quarterback John...

Unitas had thrown scoring passes to Ray Berry and Jim Fustscheller. His TD toss came streak went to 42 regular season games.

However, Dick (Night Train) Lane wrapped things up for Detroit when he intercepted a Unitas pass and ran 80 yards for a touchdown.

The Packers unlimbered a good passing attack to go with the running of Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor. Quarterback Lamar McHale completed 11 of 24 for 183 of their 206 passing yards, while Hornung and Taylor combined for 170 of 249 rushing. Hornung also scored twice and kicked two field goals and five extra points. Y. A. Little passed for both 49er scores.

Chicago quarterback Zeke Bratkowski turned from goat to hero in a few moments when he tossed a 29-yard scoring pass to Angelo Coia for the tie after Ed Meador had intercepted one of his tosses and ran 25 yards to give the Rams a 24-17 lead. Bratkowski also hit Coia with a 15-yard TD toss and Willie Deweall with a 14-yarder.

Walston's 38-yard field goal was set up by a pass interference call and climaxed a brilliant second half offensive show by the Eagles. Norm Van Brocklin riddled the Browns' defenses with passes, throwing 57 yards to Tommy McDonald and 8 to Bill Barnes for scores. He hit Walston with a 49-yarder for a TD the first time Philadelphia had the ball. Jimmy Brown ran 71 yards for a Cleveland touchdown and gained 167 yards over all. But the Eagles held halfback Bobby Mitchell to 35 in 14 tries.

Gerry Perry's 18-yard field goal in the last 43 seconds after L. G. Dupre fumbled on the Dallas 39 beat the Cowboys. Dupre's TD had put them ahead 10-9 earlier in the period.

The Redskins also needed a last minute field goal—43 yards by Bob Khatat—to tie the Pittsburgh. Bert Rechichar's 44-yard effort with 12 seconds to go bounced off the cross bar after the Steelers had been penalized five yards for delay of the game.

McGuirt Remains AC Top Scorer

GREENSBORO (AP)—Sophomore halfback Bill (Squirt) McGuirt remains the top scorer in the Atlantic Coast Conference with 36 points.

He scored his sixth touchdown of the season Saturday against Duke. Quarterback Roman Gabriel of N.C. State, tied with two other players last week for second place, is alone in that spot this week with 24 points on four touchdowns.

Seven players have scored 18 points each, according to the ACC Service Bureau. They are quarterback Lowndes Shingler of Clemson, halfback Mark Leggett and fullback Dave Burch, both of Duke, quarterback Dale Betty of Maryland, halfback Al Taylor of N.C. State, fullback Tony Uehla of Virginia and halfback Bobby Robinson of Wake Forest.

Robbins Wins In Pinehurst

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Tom Robbins, 67, held off a challenge from a man 10 years younger to win 2 and 1 in the finals of the ninth annual North and South Senior golf tournament here Saturday.

By defeating J. Walcott Brown of Sea Girt, N.J., the Pinehurst golfer became the first person ever to win the tournament twice. He took his first in 1956. Brown won in 1958.

AC Leaders Take On Outside Foes

The leaders of the Atlantic Coast Conference call a truce in league football warfare this weekend to take on a strong set of non-conference foes.

Duke, the king of the conference, is host to Georgia Tech; Clemson, the defending ACC champion, travels to Vanderbilt; North Carolina is at Tennessee; Maryland is host to South Carolina and Virginia host to Wake Forest.

Duke pushed its conference record to 4-0 Saturday with a 21-6 victory over Clemson, won 2-2 in other conference games, Maryland edged Wake Forest 14-13 and South Carolina ran over North Carolina 22-6. In non-conference games, North Carolina State defeated Mississippi Southern 20-13, while Virginia bowed to Virginia Tech 40-6.

In second place in the ACC standings is N.C. State (3-1), followed by Clemson and Maryland (2-2), South Carolina (1-1), Wake Forest (1-2), Virginia (0-2) and North Carolina (0-3).

Duke has two league games remaining, against Wake Forest and North Carolina.

N.C. State also has two conference foes yet to play, Wake Forest and South Carolina, while Clemson still must face North Carolina and South Carolina. Maryland has three conference foes remaining: South Carolina, North Carolina and Virginia.

North Carolina is out of the running for the title. Mathematical South Carolina, Wake Forest and Virginia have chances of finishing near the top but South Carolina and Wake Forest have won only one game apiece this season and Virginia is winless in five starts.

Thompson Makes It Two In Row

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—It took Al (Speedy) Thompson a long time to regain his winning touch in stock car racing, but now he seems ready to go on a real victory spree.

When Thompson drove one of Glenn Wood's 1960 Fords to victory in the national 400 at Charlotte on Oct. 16, it was his first triumph in three years and the first time he'd finished among the top five in any NASCAR race this season.

The 34-year-old Charlotte native made it two in a row Sunday in late model competition by capturing the 100-mile race at the State Fairgrounds in the same '60 Ford. He averaged 63.83 miles an hour for his 200 laps around the half-mile banked oval, and led for 170 laps. His prize was $300.

Second place went to Junior Johnson of Ronda, N.C., in a '59 Chevrolet, and third to Ned Jarrett of Conover, N.C., in a 1960 Ford.

A four-car pileup on the first turn of the first lap caused the race to be restarted and forced Buddy Baker of Spartanburg to take his 1958 Ford out of the race. No one was injured.

V.M.I. Winning Streak Broken In 14-14 Tie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"We played our best defensive game of the season. We moved the ball well, too. I was pleased with our performance."

Thus, in an hour of disappointment, VMI Coach John McKenna reacted last Saturday when the longest winning streak in the modern history of Southern Conference football came to an end.

McKenna's smartly drilled Keydets, who'd won 12 in a row, outdid winless Boston College by every statistical yardstick, but nuffed two fine chances to score and had to settle for a 14-14 tie.

The Keydets still haven't been beaten in their last 14 starts over a two-season span, and the stand-off at Boston did nothing to diminish the 3-0 record that makes them pre-eminent in their conference.

Arch - rival Virginia Tech, though, can do something to diminish it in its game. Tech is 2-0 in the league and can tie for first place in the standings by whipping Richmond (1-2-1) this Saturday while VMI is taking on non-conference Memphis State, a real toughie.

Tech flattened non-conference Virginia 40-6 last Saturday at Roanoke for its third straight victory and will be hard to stop short of the conference title unless VMI does it in their Thanksgiving game.

Furman (1-1), which had appeared a possible title threat, was pole-axed Saturday by The Citadel 7-6. The result sent The Citadel (3-1) into third place in the standings and gave the Bulldogs renewed hope of claiming the championship themselves.

Richmond got into the victory column for the first time by mauling Davidson (0-2) by 35-6. Syracuse rolled over West Virginia 45-0 and Florida State outdistanced William and Mary 22-0 in other weekend games.

Blanda Sparks Houston To 42-28 Win; Denver In Lead

By MIKE RATH,T VETERAN

George Blanda, a 32-year-old castoff with a decade of pro experience, is powering the Houston Oilers to the Eastern Division title in the American Football League while establishing a batch of impressive individual marks.

The former Chicago Bears' quarterback tossed four touchdowns passes, scored once on a short plunge and kicked six conversions as the Oilers blasted New York 42-28 Sunday for a 5-1 record and a game and a half edge over the Titans in the Eastern race.

With eight games to go in the AFL's first season, Blanda has a solid hold on the scoring lead with 69 points on 4 touchdowns, 8 field goals and 21 consecutive PATs. He also has pitched 11 scoring aeriels to tie for the top spot in that department.

Blanda threw touchdown tosses of 8, 11 and 12 yards to Bill Groman and flipped a four-yarder to Charlie Hennigan in an aerial connybrook before an estimated 21,000 fans, who saw New York quarterback Al Dorow and Dick Jamieson seriously injured.

Dorow, who suffered chest injuries in the first period, tore a ligament in his right knee when he was hurt again in the final period and likely is lost for the remainder of the season. Jamieson will be sidelined indefinitely with a slight shoulder separation.

Meanwhile, the Western Division-leading Denver Broncos came from behind and defeated the Boston Patriots 31-24 to take a one-game lead over idle Los Angeles. The Buffalo Bills overwhelmed the Oakland Raiders 38-9 in the other scheduled game.

The Titans took an early lead when Dorow hit Art Powell 21th a five-yard touchdown pass, but Ken Hall ran the kickoff back 104 yards to tie it and Blanda took over in the second period with a pair of scoring strikes to Groman. Blanda completed 18 of 34 passes for 287 yards in a two-team passing barrage that saw the Titans attempt 44.

Trailing 24-0 in the third period, Catawba was leading 12-7 with 15 seconds remaining in the game, was on the Elton 11, fourth down and goal to go. A field goal attempt went wide and Elton quarterback George Wooten caught the ball and wrote a conference record by dashing 108 yards for a touchdown. Guilford (0-3) was idle.

In conference games this week, East Carolina is at third - place Appalachian (3-1) and Elton, fourth place with a 2-2 record, is at Western Carolina (1-4).

Lenoir Rhyne is host to Georgetown, Ky., in a non-conference game and Guilford is at Newberry.

Appalachian defeated Carson-Newman 6-0 and Elton topped Catawba 13-12 with a most unusual play.

Lenoir Rhyne, the nation's No. 1 small college football team, lived up to its reputation by trouncing Western Carolina 31-6 Saturday.

The victory ran the Bears' North State Conference record to 3-0 and 6-0 overall. Tied with Lenoir Rhyne for the conference lead is East Carolina with a 4-0 mark, 6-0 overall, after Saturday's 21-0 non-conference victory over Newberry.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP) — Another sharp by gold shares faded and the over-all stock market slipped sharply in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 10 at 204.70 with the industrials down 2.00, the rails down .40 and the utilities down .40.

Losses of key stocks went from fractions to well over a point.

Early gains running to about a point in the gold mining issues evaporated and some of these stocks displayed minus signs as the price of bullion in London backed away from an initial advance.

For the list as a whole, the general background was drab. Steel output reportedly was continuing to lag. More and more comment about the "recession" was made public. Wall Street sources reported a gloomy attitude among many investors.

Some of the volatile, speculative issues were off 2 to 7 points or so.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 4.44 at 573.11.

Corporate and U. S. government bonds tended to ease in light dealings.

Student's Art Exhibit Shows Own Approaches

By TRAN GORDLEY

James Lynn Burgess of Taylorsville, North Carolina, a senior at East Carolina College is currently exhibiting his work in the Kate Lewis gallery located in the art department of the third floor, Rawl Building. Burgess has been painting and exhibiting for the past three years. His paintings have been shown in several North Carolina cities including: Blowing Rock, Greenville, Lenoir, Greensboro, Raleigh, Taylorsville. In addition to these, galleries in Ocean City, Maryland; Montgomery, Alabama; Columbia, South Carolina; and Seaford, Delaware have exhibited his work.

Burgess has studied under John Brady, Phillip Moose, John Gordon and Tran Gordley. His own approach to painting has developed under the direction of these artists but has not been dictated by them. Burgess' work may be understood on the basis of his own intentions as an artist.

The group of paintings currently on display deviate from a strong expressionistic painting approach to a mysterious and gentle lyrical attitude toward painting. He has an intuitive sensitivity to subtle implications of shapes and images which appear within the ranges of muted colors. An example of this method of working can be seen in his "Chair Still Life." Deep reds are employed to give an emergent quality to the image of a chair.

The other direction, harsh expressionism, which Burgess has pursued does not seem consistent with this young artist's feeling for painting. His paintings of tor-

Griffon PTA Hears Speaker

GRIFTON — Allen Mewborn, principal of Frink High School in LaGrange was guest speaker at the Griffon Elementary School Parent-Teacher meeting held recently. President Wayne Cox presided.

Mewborn discussed registration and voting in the coming November election and recognized efforts made in the projects of the Griffon Elementary School.

The project for October was a "Lunch Room Banquet Shower," sponsored by the five P.T.A. groups and the teachers' group.

Total for the sale of tobacco was $107.70 and tobacco project, $20, for a grand total from all sources of $250.

The winning group was Griffon and the winning captain was Mrs. Mattie Dixon. The district with most parents was Shiloh.

Rescue Squad ...

Rescue Squad, were given silver clasps.

Greenville Fire Chief George Gardner, who praised the squad members, noted that a group of city officials, squad members and friends were on hand to greet the convention delegates with a surprise party last night when they returned from Burlington. He commented that no advanced or special training "went into the making of the group ... it is what they do day in and day out."

Julian Wise of Roanoke, Virginia, former president of the Virginia State and International Associations of Rescue Squads, was guest speaker at the Saturday night banquet.

Wise, a leader in the rescue movement for over 29 years, told the group that "the eyes of the world are on the South when it comes to life saving and rescue work." He pointed out that "all squads over the world are patterned after squads in the South."

"We in the field have much to be excited over," Wise noted, saying that the people squads help "are in the hands of men who know what to do and do it properly. We work side by side with doctors and professional people ... and are in an activity that can produce happiness ... by serving mankind. We serve for the love of serving ... we wish security and lifesaving is part of security."

The veteran rescue man pointed out that squad members are "laymen, highly educated in their techniques ... men who have learned what things to see and things not to see. Men who work in operating rooms, homes, and on the streets and are confident with what they have seen."

Also at the banquet, Miss Norma Carroll Summerlin of Mount Olive, was crowned as the first "Miss North Carolina Rescue Queen." Miss Summerlin, a sophomore at Peace College in Raleigh, plans to attend East Carolina College and major in primary education.

Greenville was selected as the site of the 1961 state convention at Sunday's business session which was presided over by Roy Hardee, commander of the State Association for the past two years.

Also at the session, Jim Johnson, former vice-commander of Morgantown, was elected commander of the association while J. G. Purcell of Laurinburg was elected to the post of vice-commander.

It was noted that according to the by-laws of the organization, Hardee was ineligible for a third term as commander.

Johnson, in accepting the post as commander, praised Hardee for his work as head of the association and announced that a suitable plaque and lapel pin would be given "in grateful thanks" for his "leadership and devotion to duty" while commander of the association.

Johnson pointed out that over the past two years, the association has grown 114 per cent, with 47 squads in the state being members of the association.

Members of the local squad attending the convention included: Hardee, Christopher, Ross, Nethercutt, Savage, Dr. Mills and Dr. Sam White, secretary-treasurer of the State Association, who will be replaced by the new commander.

ECC Planning Told Exchangites

Three new dormitories, a chapel and expansion of the library are among the proposed new construction for East Carolina College.

Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, college president, told the Exchange Club this Friday night.

He said 2,700 students applied for admission to the college this year and out of this number 1,700 were accepted.

Turning to education in general, Dr. Jenkins said one-third of all persons in the United States are involved directly with education.

In 1900 27,000 people were graduated from colleges in the nation. Last year 400,000 were graduated. The world is in the midst of an exploding population, he said. It took 16 centuries to double the world's population. It will be done again in 500 years.
