

Prepare For Official Count Of Votes

ELECTION CANVASS . . . Pitt County Board of Elections Chairman D. S. Spain Jr. (center) calls meeting of board members and county poll holders to order.

County Election Officials Gather

County election officials met in the Pitt Courthouse today for an official counting of Pitt's vote Tuesday.

While the canvass was incomplete at noon, totals in the gubernatorial and other state elections had been checked.

The canvass showed preliminary gubernatorial tabulations made at the Daily Reflector Tuesday night were correct. According to the official count today the victor, Terry Sanford, received 12,551 Pitt votes. Defeated Republican candidate Robert L. Gavin had 3,162 and Dr. I. Beverly Lake garnered 34.

In the Pitt presidential voting, an early but unofficial total indicated the Reflector's preliminary county four votes shy. Election board figures showed Sen. John F. Kennedy received a total 12,526 county votes while Richard M.

Nixon polled 3,458. Reflector figures Tuesday night gave Kennedy 12,523 and Nixon, 3,457.

Other official totals: Lieutenant governor—Philpott, 12,988; Eggers, 2,171; secretary of state—Eure, 13,285; Morton, 1,852; Congress—Bonner, 13,268; Raycliff, 1,713; auditor—Bridgers, 13,105; Reese, 1,833; treasurer—Gill, 13,231; Keith, 1,845; superintendent of public instruction—Carroll, 13,265; Zachary, 1,811; attorney general—Bruton, 13,102; Paschal, 1,860; commissioner of labor—Crane, 13,103; Messick, 1,863; commissioner of agriculture—Ballentine, 13,230; Farmer, 1,830; commissioner of insurance—Gold, 13,260; Cameron, 1,825; associate justice of Supreme Court—Parker, 13,182; West, 1,848. Unopposed county officials elected Tuesday also had their vote totals checked today.

President Ready To Meet Kennedy

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower offered today to meet with President-elect John F. Kennedy "at any mutually convenient time" to arrange an orderly transfer of governmental power.

The President also said he would welcome meetings between designated Kennedy representatives and those of the Eisenhower administration, particularly Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

In a message sent from his vacation headquarters, Eisenhower suggested that Kennedy send an aide to meet with the White House chief of staff, Wilton B. Persons, to make the arrangements.

"I would like you to know that I stand ready to meet with you at any mutually convenient time to consider problems of continuity of government and an orderly transfer of executive responsibility on January 20 from my administration to yours," the President said.

Eisenhower sent this message Wednesday in a telegram to Kennedy at his Hyannis Port, Mass., headquarters. Press secretary James Hagerty made it public this morning after an expected Kennedy reply had not arrived in time to be released simultaneously with the President's wire.

Hagerty told newsmen he understood Kennedy's answer—presumably an acceptance of Eisenhower's offer—would be released as soon as it is received sometime during the day.

Hagerty said he had told Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press representative, in a telephone conversation this morning that he was going ahead with his plan to make public the President's message. Hagerty said he did not know the reason for Kennedy's delay.

In urging advance consultation on foreign policy, Eisenhower told Kennedy: "The secretary of state will be prepared for meetings to provide information on foreign policy activities on which there will be special need for continuity until you shall have had the opportunity, after inauguration, to arrange these matters to your satisfaction."

The President is known to be especially anxious to keep Kennedy up to date on all developments involving the future of Berlin, disarmament and a possible East-West summit conference.

Eisenhower also hoped that Kennedy would name his secretary of state within a few weeks so that he could work with Herter in the days before the Democrats take over the government.

In the 71 days remaining before Kennedy becomes president, however, his men will not join in policy making. Hagerty said Eisenhower intends to remain fully responsible for all decisions until the moment Kennedy is sworn in.

Kennedy also was studying a telegram from Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev. At the same time, Kennedy's aides were working out arrangements for him to go to Palm Beach, Fla., to rest for 10 days to weeks, Salinger said Kennedy might leave Hyannis Port, his summer home, on Friday.

"His plans probably will be completed today," Salinger said. Khrushchev's telegram appeared to indicate a desire for direct discussions between the United States and the Soviet Union on the most dangerous world problems.

"I think you will agree that the eyes of many people are fixed on the United States and the Soviet Union because the destinies of world peace depend largely on the state of Soviet-American relations," Khrushchev said. He referred to disarmament and the question of a peace treaty with Germany as major questions. "We are ready, for our part, to continue efforts to solve such pressing problems," Khrushchev messaged.

He congratulated Kennedy on winning the presidency and said "We hope that while you are at this post the relations between our countries will again follow the line along which they were developing in Franklin Roosevelt's time."

Salinger said the message when delivered to Hyannis Port was in Russian.

"The senator is bringing a Russian expert here to make our own translation," he said. "Then when he has studied it he will answer."

Last May 16, when the summit conference collapsed in Paris, Khrushchev strongly indicated that he thought further continuance of cold war questions must await the election of a successor to Eisenhower.

Governor Commends Pitt Vote

Governor Luther H. Hodges today commended Pitt County on its large vote favoring Democratic candidates in Tuesday's election.

John Clark, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of Pitt County, received the following telegram from the Governor today.

"Congratulations on Pitt County victory. I am told that your county gave the largest vote to state and national ticket of any county in the state. We are very proud of North Carolina."

The telegram was signed, Luther H. Hodges, governor.

Pitt's vote gave Democratic candidates their biggest margin of victory of any county in the state. The vote for democratic gubernatorial candidate Terry Sanford was 12,551 to republican candidate Robert Gavin's 3,162 votes.

The vote in the presidential election gave Sen. John F. Kennedy 12,523 votes to Vice President Richard Nixon's 3,457 votes.

Clark said again that he was "very very proud of Pitt County."

New Industry For Rocky Mount

ROCKY MOUNT, N.C. (AP) — Another new industry for Rocky Mount was announced today.

John Minges, president of the Rocky Mount Chamber of Commerce, and C. W. Heck, president of the Rocky Mount Industrial Council, said that Superior Cable Corp. of Hickory will occupy a new 16,500-square foot building located on U.S. 301 A near the Municipal Airport.

The announcement said Superior Cable has purchased Supa Insulations Inc. of Rocky Mount and will move its equipment into the new building along with about $150,000 of new equipment.

The new plant will employ about 25 persons initially, making components for electric and electronic equipment. The company's new plant will be erected by the Rocky Mount Industrial Development Corp. on a lease-purchase basis.

CLOSED TOMORROW
The Post Office, the State License Examiner's Office, financial institutions and city and county offices will be closed tomorrow for Veterans' Day.

Final Report

Recognition night and final report meeting for the current United Fund Drive will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the City Hall courtroom.

David J. Walchard, general chairman, urged all persons who have worked during the campaign in Pitt County to attend this final meeting.

Grifton's Board OKs Applying For Federal Aid

GRIFTON—The Town Board last night authorized Mayor Wiley Gaskins to sign an application for federal aid in financing the proposed sewer plant and water well project.

The board, in its monthly meeting, made the authorization for application for the federal grant. A motion was made for the application following a report on a letter from L.E. Wooten and Company, consulting engineers in the project.

Though the town of Grifton has its own sewer plant and water system, these are in need of revision.

Following a report on the sampling of public opinion on the parking situation in downtown Grifton, board members decided to retain the present system of diagonal parking and put a suggestion for parallel parking aside.

The board had asked citizens to register their preferences for parallel parking on both sides of the street, no parallel parking, and parallel parking on one side of the street by signing a paper designating their choice in the town office. Residents had a month to register their opinions.

Results of the opinion poll were 113 against parallel parking; 32 for parallel parking; and 15 favoring parallel parking on one side of the street.

Edward Owens, street commissioner, recommended that new drainage be installed on a portion of Dupont Street here. The board approved the recommendation and stated that 372 feet of 18-inch tile, at an estimated cost of $838, be used.

In other business, W.M. January, light and water commissioner, was asked to investigate a request from St. Joseph Street residents for street lights. Reports from the police commissioner, Paul Whitely, were made on recorder's court and the police department. Recorder's Court showed a balance of $725 for the month of October. A police report showed 23 arrests for October at 24, with 23 found guilty in court.

Adenauer said he was chiefly concerned with general global disarmament, especially nuclear disarmament.

"I hope that Mr. Kennedy will be able to make headway in achieving controlled disarmament because this will inevitably lead to an easing of tension in the world," the 84-year-old chancellor said.

Informed sources say Adenauer wants an assurance of continued U.S. participation in West European defense activities. He said he was confident Kennedy would continue to pursue present U.S. foreign policy concerning Western Europe "with dynamic vigor."

Cuba Watching Nearby Discord

HAVANA (AP) — The semi-official newspaper Revolution made banner play today of recent labor troubles, strikes and discord in several Latin-American countries.

Red and black headlines hailed "the growth of popular struggle in Latin America."

One-day strikes spread early this week from Venezuela and Chile to Brazil. Government officials there said they were instigated and directed from the Soviet Embassy in Montevideo.

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — President Alberto Lleras Camacho Wednesday night formed his first new cabinet in 27 months, here were seven holdovers from the previous lineup, but three of them got new jobs.

Kennedy's Popular Margin Dwindles; Count Goes On

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite a dwindling popular margin from a record voter turnout, Sen. John F. Kennedy held 300 electoral votes today as he prepared to take over the presidency 71 days hence.

With counting continuing in California and Alaska, Kennedy had captured 22 states with 300 electoral votes—31 more than the needed 269. Vice President Richard M. Nixon took control in 25 states with 188 votes. Eight electors in Mississippi and six in Alabama were not committed.

But in the popular vote, Kennedy held a margin of less than 325,000 votes in a tally of more than 66 million for the major party candidates. With returns yet to come and tallies for minor parties, it appeared that Kennedy's presidential victory might come on less than a majority of the popular vote cast. His 50.2 percent of the popular vote made it the tightest election since the first Benjamin Harrison-Grover Cleveland race in 1888. Republican Harrison won an electoral victory then while running more than 100,000 behind in popular vote.

Plans already were under way for Kennedy representatives to work with administration officials in arranging for the changeover next Jan. 20.

Forecasting a "difficult and challenging" period during the next four years, Kennedy said Wednesday that "there is general agreement by all our citizens that a supreme national effort is needed to move this country through the 1960s."

"All of our energies will be devoted to the interests of the United States and the cause of freedom around the world."

Working with him will be a Democratic-controlled Congress in which, however, Republicans will show some gains over the present lineup. For the last six years, Congress and the White House have been controlled by different parties.

Tuesday's election provided a Senate makeup of 64 Democrats and 36 Republicans to replace the 66-34 division of the present Senate. With tabulations in five House races incomplete, the Democrats had elected 237 members and the Republicans 175. The old lineup, including vacancies, was 283-154. The Republicans had gained 22 seats.

But the Democrats registered a net gain of one among state governors, raising their statehouse total to 34—their highest since 1938. Of the 27 state posts at stake, Democrats won 15 and the Republicans 12, with political changes taking place in 13 states. Six incumbents were defeated.

Kennedy has said he will wait at least two weeks before designating any of the top officials who will make up his administration. But he will need to designate soon the man he expects to step into the shoes of Christian A. Herter as secretary of state.

Among those mentioned for this role are Adlai E. Stevenson, Republican of Connecticut, Chester Bowles of Connecticut, Chairman J. William Fulbright-D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the former New York governor, W. Averell Harriman.

Any of these, and particularly Stevenson, might be named by Kennedy as American ambassador to the United Nations. Henry Cabot Lodge resigned this post after holding it for seven and one-half years to make the unsuccessful race for vice president on Nixon's ticket.

Kennedy will have to decide whether to go himself or send an agent to the mid-December NATO news conference Thursday.

Hodges said he did not want to discuss the subject. However, he made no secret of his pleasure at the victories piled up by Democrats in the general election. He was pleased, Hodges said, with the margin North Carolina gave Kennedy over Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican candidate.

"We may turn out to be one of a half-dozen states to give Kennedy a pretty good majority," Hodges beamed.

Unofficial returns from 2,061 of 2,089 precincts gave 709,503 for Kennedy, and 643,411 for Nixon.

While Hodges declined comment on recurrent rumors of a Washington assignment, Terry Sanford gave a boost to the outgoing governor. Sanford, who defeated Republican Robert L. Gavin to become governor-elect, said, "If they're looking for a good man they can't overlook Gov. Hodges."

Sanford led to victory a Democratic ticket that included Cloyd Philpott of Lexington as lieutenant governor, and all incumbents of the Council of State officers held a full six-year term to the office he first received by appointment from Gov. Hodges.

The Tar Heel governor, who traveled widely for the Democratic ticket, revealed he will be on the go again this weekend. With a group of other state governors, Hodges will fly to Buenos Aires to start a two-week tour of South America.

For the rest of his term, Hodges said he will be occupied working with the Advisory Budget Commission to prepare a budget to recommend to the 1961 General Assembly.

He said he plans no formal steps to prepare to hand over the reins of government to Sanford, who likely will be inaugurated early in January.

A reporter noted that the only requirement is that the great seal of the state be turned over to the incoming governor. "I don't even know where it is," Hodges chuckled.

The requirement did not apply when he became governor because he succeeded to the office upon the death of Gov. William B. Umstead.

Hodges Brushes Off Talk Of Post In Administration

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Luther Hodges, a workhorse in the successful Democratic national campaign, has brushed aside talk of a possible post in the administration of President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Answering a question at his news conference Thursday, Hodges said he did not want to discuss the subject.

However, he made no secret of his pleasure at the victories piled up by Democrats in the general election. He was pleased, Hodges said, with the margin North Caro-

Board Asks 'Flexible Budget' For Spending

RALEIGH (AP) — The State Board of Higher Education has recommended that a new type budget formula, designed to allow flexibility in spending operations, be used at Appalachian State Teachers College during the next biennium.

The board announced today that the new budget formula eliminates the need for line-by-line budgeting of money as in the past. The appropriations in the "A" budget for the school are based on the expected student enrollment during the two-year period and the cost per student per quarter hour of instruction.

The board said the formula will enable: (1) economy, (2) efficiency in operation, (3) simplicity in computation, (4) equity among the institutions when, and if, the budget formula is extended to the other state-supported schools, and (5) objectivity in analysis of financial needs.

The board recommended total state appropriations of $2,176,638 in the "A" budget for Appalachian. The "A" budget continues services at the present level. Meanwhile, the board announced it had recommended "B" budget spending totaling $4,499,656 during the next biennium at the 12 state-supported schools.

The "B" budget requests include new programs or increased spending for salary increases. Of this, $993,326 would be spent each year by the Consolidated University of North Carolina.

The "B" budget requests must be approved by the Advisory Budget Commission, which makes recommendations to the Legislature.

The commission already has approved a budget request for the 12 schools. These call for total spending of $65,311,566 during the next biennium.

The 12 schools had requested a total of $14,181,958 in their "B" budgets.

Other amounts recommended for the schools to use in hiking salaries during the biennium include: East Carolina College $175,292; A&T College $148,616; Western Carolina College $97,206; Pembroke State College $35,580; Winston-Salem Teachers College $47,298; Elizabeth City State Teachers College $38,154; Fayetteville State Teachers College $37,586; and North Carolina College at Durham $120,630.

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today he will meet the new president of the United States next February.

"I will discuss with him everything that I have on my mind," the chancellor told foreign correspondents at a luncheon held a short time after the government had issued a communique announcing the chancellor's meeting with President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Adenauer said he was chiefly concerned with general global disarmament, especially nuclear disarmament.

"I hope that Mr. Kennedy will be able to make headway in achieving controlled disarmament because this will inevitably lead to an easing of tension in the world," the 84-year-old chancellor said.

Informed sources say Adenauer wants an assurance of continued U.S. participation in West European defense activities. He said he was confident Kennedy would continue to pursue present U.S. foreign policy concerning Western Europe "with dynamic vigor."

meeting in Paris. Herter, and possibly Eisenhower, will attend.

It is considered likely that Robert Kennedy, the president-elect's brother, will fill a top advisory post in the new administration. He may be active in liaison work with the outgoing GOP administration.

Robert Kennedy, who served as his brother's campaign manager, said Wednesday the senator couldn't have won the election if it had not been for the four nationally televised debates with Nixon during the campaign.

The Democratic candidate was helped by his appearance and the manner in which he handled himself, Kennedy said. He added that the TV debates "pulled the rug out" from under Nixon's argument that his opponent was too immature for the White House.

He said that, as president, Kennedy is not likely to publicize his Republican opponent four years from now by debating on TV with him.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington state, the Democratic chairman, credited the first TV debate and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's campaigning in the South with being important factors in Kennedy's election.

Several universities, law firms and corporations already have offered positions to Vice President Richard M. Nixon, an aide says.

But his press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said Wednesday night he had absolutely no idea what Nixon plans to do after leaving the vice presidency next Jan. 20. There was no immediate word on any possibility of his remaining in politics.

The Nixons were cheered Wednesday night by a crowd of about 500 when they returned by jet airliner from California. With the vice president and his wife were their two daughters, Tricia, 14, and Julie, 12.

For Nixon, it was the end of a 64,000-mile quest for the presidency in which the grand prize had gone to Democrat John F. Kennedy.

In the airport crowd greeting the Nixons were Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Atty. Gen. William F. Rogers and Lt. Col. John Eisenhower, son of the President, and his wife, Barbara. The President had left during the day for a golfing vacation in Augusta, Ga.

Nixon told the greeters that the airport turnout was "the nicest thing that's happened to us in the whole campaign." Mrs. Nixon nodded agreement, and the crowd applauded.

Newsmen aboard the plane did not have an opportunity to question the vice president about his future plans, or anything else. But Klein said Nixon had received quite a sheaf of telegrams offering him positions before he left Los Angeles.

Klein said he knew nothing about Nixon's plans for the next few days, but speculated that the Nixons probably would want to get away soon for a vacation.

Gardening Today

By JOHN G. DUNCAN
If you have been looking at the same plants around your house for at least 10 years or more, a change is in order. Houses like people often benefit from a new look.

Plants used in and around the house at the present time are different from those that were used some time back. Today, the emphasis is on the finer foliage plants. Yesterday, English Laurel, Ligustrum, Arborvitae and others of like habit and foliage were in vogue.

If your house has these hard to trim, worn out shrubs, plan to take them out and replant with shrubs that will ease your labor and your eyesight.

You have a fine choice of shrubs that will fit the need and bring new life to your home planting. The Japanese Hollies have quite a few uses as accent plants for corners, entrances, fill ins, and under window plants. At the corners of the house, try Ilex crenata with its upright growth. Ilex crenata rotundifolia (Round Leaf) with its boxwood like leaves does a good job at the entrance. Under the window, use Ilex c. microphylla (Small leaf holly). It offers a foliage contrast as well as a contrast in growth habit. The cupped leaf or puckered leaf holly is a good filler and does equally well under low windows.

Gardenia radicans (trailing gardenia) is a good face down plant to use with plants listed above. Groups of tulips interplanted among the trailing gardenias make an unforgettable picture. Boxwoods could be substituted for the round leaf Holly and Photinia glabra for Ilex crenata. For further contrast, use Yew (upright) at the corners and Yapon at the entrances. The Yapons have to be kept well sheared. Somewhere nearby, plant a male Yapon to insure the appearance of the almost transparent red berries of the female Yapon at the entrance.

Start out the spring right next year—replant your house this fall. The old familiar overgrown plants will be only a memory and not missed at all.

Garden Club Holds Flower Show At Greenville Art Center

A flower show was held at the Greenville Art Center Tuesday by the Lakewood Pines Garden Club. The visiting accredited judges were Mrs. Kelly Kornegay and Mrs. Troy Holmes of Goldsboro and Mrs. Norman Winslow of Washington, N. C.

The theme of the show was "Thanksgiving Time" and the 25 different arrangements portrayed this theme by the use of fall flowers, dried materials, fresh and artificial fruits and vegetables, and Thanksgiving accessories.

A total of nine blue ribbons were awarded to the members and one tri-color winner by Mrs. R. G. Hunt and Mrs. R. G. Culbertson. The tri-color winner was an asymmetrical arrangement in a wrought iron vase featuring fresh fruit against a background of clematis and canna leaves. One other blue ribbon winner received a special mention, which was a design using a single orchid with wisteria vine and eucalyptus leaves in a bamboo vase, arranged by Mrs. H. R. Billica.

Prior to the meeting, spiced tea and cookies were served to the members and guests from a table centered with an arrangement of mums in fall colors accented with frosted grapes. Mrs. H. R. Billica and Mrs. W. J. Stell Jr. were the hostesses.

During the judging a short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Billica. Final plans were made to decorate the Art Center for Christmas and also for the Christmas party at the Country Club when members will entertain their husbands.

It was also announced that the club had won a Blue Ribbon for their yearbook and an Honor Roll Certificate for their past year's work at the District Meeting in Rocky Mount of the Garden Clubs of N. C.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Kornegay and Mrs. Winslow were entertained at lunch.

WINNING ARRANGEMENT . . . in Lakewood Pines Garden Club was designed by Mrs. R. G. Hunt and Mrs. R. G. Culbertson. The striking arrangement won the blue ribbon and the tri color ribbon, which denoted the best of the blue ribbon winners.

Today's barber has to know almost as many styles and cuts as the woman's hairdresser, says Trevy Martin who operates a barber college here. However, stand arid cut with medium length hair is still the favorite with the burr second, Martin says. Kids go for the butch mostly.

The Elvis Presley influence has waned, he adds, mainly because the "young fellows who wanted the cut couldn't grow the sideburns."

The man with no hair is usually shy about getting fitted for a toupee. But the fact that men like Bing Crosby and Charles Boyer wear hair-pieces has done a lot to stir up business.

Men's Beauty Aids: Sissy?

By BETTY DIETZ

Written For The Associated Press
DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Men—the dear, wonderful creatures—get getting better looking all the time.

Most of them won't admit it, of course, but they're working hard enough at it, and spending enough money.

In addition to sloshing some $271,000,000 worth of colognes and other toiletries on themselves this year, a growing number of American men are getting hair coloring jobs along with their shave and haircut. (Timing is a necessary part of barber training today, required by Ohio regulations.)

A few enterprising souls are also getting permanents, mainly to give the hair what stylists call "body." (Or, so thinning pates won't be as obvious.)

Why the recent change from complete disdain for "sissy stuff" to keep interest in good grooming? Vanity isn't the only reason. Many men are investing both time and money in their looks to protect their jobs, and in some cases their marriages.

Guaranteed enough privacy and surroundings that smack of masculinity, many more would go in for dye jobs to conceal the gray, beauty shop operators agree. But men usually are fearful of being found out.

Lloyd Shroyer, a Troy O., barber, set aside a special booth for men with gray roots. Most of the tint customers, by the way, are men in the 30-to-45 age bracket who want the original color restored.

Not all the men are having their hair colored professionally. Much of it is being done at home—sometimes with a little wifely help the experts believe. This may be to cut costs and protect their secret.

Your Friends Divorcing?

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — When a friend faces a marriage breakup, chances are that you, being the milk of human kindness, may offer your broad shoulder to cry on. Your reward may be a soured friendship or two.

Take the word of Mrs. Elsie Siegle who, as assistant director for New York City's Community Service Society, has been counseling bickering couples for more than 20 years.

While social researchers keep tabs on the count of broken homes (approximately 400,000 annually), and the resulting "half-orphaned" children (about 800,000 yearly), nobody accounts for the fringe casualties... those friends of quarreling couples who somehow find themselves taking sides.

With one out of four marriages reaching divorce courts these days, and with a tremor in the most unshakable unions occasionally, you have probably already been drawn into the middle of a marital muddle sometime in your life.

Unless you are very wise and very careful. And few people are!

Why You're Involved
Miss Siegle, an Austrian-born caseworker in this largest of the nation's Family Service agencies, claim that friends are drawn into the wars of embattled couples for three very human reasons:

1. ALL people are flattered at being solicited for advice.
2. SOME people (the gossip types) enjoy listening to the sins of the supposed errant husband or wife.

3. MOST people do not wish to turn a friend away at the very time when he or she is obviously in need of friendship.

You don't have to turn a friend away, Mrs. Siegle insists. Indeed you should be helpful in almost all ways you can. Offer to entertain the children. Or invite the friend out to a dinner or show to get his mind off his troubles.

"But don't let these emotional distraught friends relate to you the details of their personal problem. Tell them that because you are so fond of them that you cannot look at the situation objectively."

You can't, Mrs. Siegle has a thick file full of cases where well-meaning friends have done more harm than good.

A Broad Shoulder
"Of course, it is good for them to talk out their troubles with someone impersonal. I don't mean a marriage counselor, necessarily. The family doctor or a minister will do."

The experienced counselor is the first to admit that a state of neutrality is difficult to maintain, particularly if members of your family are involved. Still, it must be done. You're to avoid sometimes unpatchable splits that develop between couples and in-laws.

Butting In?
The spat of little children are a good analogy, Mrs. Siegle thinks. Mothers rush to the defense of their youngsters and wind up not speaking to each other long after the kids are back playing together again.

"Remember that your friend or relative in marital trouble is in a highly emotional state, only able to see the negative side, unable to reason well," she says.

Remember, too, in choosing up sides, that tomorrow the couples may be deeply in love again, but embarrassed because you know what you know, and angry at you for "butting in."

"It's a tough code to practice," Mrs. Siegle admits, "almost impossible sometimes."

But the middle road is the only safe road to take when a marriage is erupting around you.

Stuffed Roast Chicken
Potatoes
Scalloped Tomatoes
Salad Bowl Bread Tray
Fresh Fruit Tarts
Beverage

STUFFED ROAST CHICKEN
2 tablespoons butter
2 cups finely chopped onion (1 medium onion)

1 tablespoon minced celery leaves
3/4 cup thinly sliced mushrooms
1 1/2 cups coarse dry bread crumbs

1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons water

Cook onion, celery leaves and mushrooms in butter until wilted. Add bread crumbs, salt, pepper and water. Use as stuffing for 3-pound ready-to-cook weight broiler-fryer. Roast according to standard directions.

Veal Marengo
Egg Noodles
Broccoli Salad Bowl
Orange Snow Beverage

ORANGE SNOW
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 envelope unflavored gelatin

2 1/4 cups orange juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 egg whites

Stir together thoroughly the sugar, salt and gelatin. Add 1 1/4 cups extremely hot orange juice; stir until dissolved. Add remaining 1 cup orange juice and lemon juice; chill until slightly thickened; beat until frothy. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold in. Turn into a 6 to 8 cup mold and chill until firm. Unmold and serve with Custard Sauce. Makes 8 servings.

Custard Sauce: Mix 2 egg yolks (left from Snow) with 2 tablespoons sugar and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Gradually stir in 1 cup hot milk. Cook over hot water until mixture coats a silver spoon. Cool; cover; stir in 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Serve chilled.

Socks As Mittens
Don't throw out your husband's—or the youngsters'—old socks. Instead, give them a second life of service when washing Venetian blinds.

Slip a sock over each hand like a mitten, and you'll be able to suds both sides of each slat simultaneously.

SOUTHERN SPOON BREAD
Two ways to serve Southern spoon bread—with butter, or with butter and syrup. Choose plain butter when the bread accompanies poultry or fish; offer butter and syrup when the bread makes its appearance on a brunch menu with bacon or ham.

Jenkins Entertain For Student Council And Publication Staff

Dr. and Mrs. Leo W. Jenkins entertained members of the East Carolina College Student Council, and staffs of the three college publications, the Rebel, the East Carolinian, and the Buccaneer at their home on East Fifth Street Wednesday evening from 8:00 to 9:30.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert L. Holt, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Duncan, and advisors to student organizations assisted in receiving the guests. A harvest motif was used in decorating the house throughout. Pyracantha and colorful arrangements of pumpkins, gourds, and fruit were used as table decorations.

Misses Jayne Chandler and Sue Sparkman served frosted coffee, punch, assorted cakes and sandwiches on either end of the dining room table.

Of interest to the guests was the collection of pictures, among them several handsome black and white etchings hung in the home at this time. They are the work of students in the Art Department and will be replaced by those of other students during the year.

Queen Steps Out Of Children's Book

BRUSSELS (AP) — The Spanish senorita who soon is to be the queen of Belgium once wrote a book which she titled "Twelve Marvelous Stories."

The ending of one of the stories, "Queen Myria," reads:

"And wishing henceforth to

Red-haired, serious, and devout, Fabiola is the daughter of a rich Spanish banker, the late Don Gonzalo de Mora y Fernandez, Riera del Olmo, Count of Mora, Marquis of Casa Riera, who died in 1957.

Although a commoner, she and Boudouin have a mutual ancestor, Juan II of Aragon, whose son Ferdinand married Isabel of Castile, uniting Spain for the first time. Christopher Columbus, discoverer of America, was this royal couple's best-known protégé.

Where They Met
The romance of Boudouin and Fabiola was so secret that when the engagement was announced, few here had ever heard of her.

The story is that they met in Lausanne, Switzerland, at the home of the former Queen Victoria Eugenia, widow of Alfonso XII of Spain, long a friend of the Mora family.

Fabiola and her father had spent some time there just before his death. She and Boudouin met, so intimates hint, on Switzerland, or the French Riviera, in Brussels, and on several trips Boudouin made to Spain.

He is believed to have asked her to marry him during a visit to Barcelona early this year, and he has declined any discussion of the courtship. Only to their children will the story be told, he says.

Fabiola Talented
Fabiola is 5 feet 7 inches tall, with shoulder-length chestnut red hair and hazel eyes. She is 32 years old and weighs 132 pounds. She plays the piano and guitar, paints and writes music as well as stories. Two waltzes, "Under the Bridge of Dreams" and "Under the Chestnut Trees" are among her musical compositions.

Milagros Rosines, housekeeper at the Mora home in Madrid, told reporters what Fabiola was like as a child. "She was a quiet, serious child who caused no trouble, except that she was a slow eater. She never cried."

A picture of Fabiola the school girl, comes from the Nuns of the Assumption Convent School, who agree that their future queen is "goodness of spirit." One remembers that during her first year at school she brought a new pencil nearly every day.

"She would lend her pencil to a classmate and then couldn't bring herself to ask for it."

She was outstanding in all her subjects except mathematics. She showed exceptional talent in literature and the arts.

Teen-age Fabiola had become quick-minded, knowledge-hungry, deeply religious, and with an imploring need to do good for others. These characteristics directed her future course.

When an old man returned a purse Fabiola lost in the streets of Madrid one day in 1957 she learned that he ran a sewing school. To reward him for his honesty, she enrolled and studied for an hour every day, five days a week for two years.

During these same years she was learning nursing at the Madrid Military hospital. She graduated in 1959 with the title of military nurse.

No Hurry to Marry
Charity work filled most of her life in her early twenties. Through the convent The Little Sisters of the Poor, close to her Madrid home Fabiola collected clothing and money for distribution to the needy. At the same time she had her own private group of unfortunate who called regularly at her garden door for assistance.

Because she was deeply devout, and because the young girl did not seem to have time for dancing or romancing, Milagros, her housekeeper, told her, "You'll end up a nun."

"No," Fabiola replied, "But I'm in no hurry to marry. My husband must be a hard worker and deeply religious. I'll only marry the one who pleases me."

Court circles say King Boudouin would have announced his engagement much earlier had it not been for the tragic events of Congo's first weeks of independence.

The poised Fabiola, traveling at the side of her shy husband-to-be, has already won the hearts of Belgian people. When the newly-engaged couple toured the capital in September they were given an enthusiastic welcome, particularly in the Morillas slum district where comments were favorable and affectionate.

"Why should he take a pin-up girl? A good kind-hearted girl is much better..."

"The important thing is that Boudouin loves her."

The Queen To Be

please everyone, she was the most understanding, the best, the most beloved queen of all times."

Those words, published in Belgian newspapers, already have endeared Dona Fabiola de Mora y Aragon to the Belgian people, whose queen she will become Dec. 15 when she weds King Boudouin.

IS A FACE CREAM WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD?

The Reader's Digest says that sensibly priced creams can keep your skin as smooth and lovely as those with so-called "miracle" ingredients. Every woman owes it to herself to read "The Outrageous Cost of Facial Beauty" in the November issue of the Reader's Digest.

The Reader's Digest states:

"The price of a cream needn't be the index of its quality and usefulness."

"... We know of no medical evidence to show that the addition of these substances (so-called 'miracle' ingredients) to a face cream will make it any more effective in stopping the clock of aging than similar creams without them."

"... however, every woman can undertake sensible, specific and inexpensive care... for all women the basic rule is: cleanse and lubricate... the older the woman, the less soap and more cream."

Pond's has proven that the world's most effective beauty creams can be produced at reasonable cost and offered to you at a fair price. And Pond's creams are "worth their weight in gold" to millions who appreciate their beautifying effect!

The current craze for "fad" ingredients has boosted cosmetic prices sky high!

The Reader's Digest article frankly states that none of these so-called "miracle" ingredients has been proven more effective in keeping your skin young-looking and lovely than the oils and emollients in sensibly priced creams. In plain dollars and cents the most effective creams need not cost an outrageous amount.

The Pond's policy of giving women the best possible value has not been entirely unselfish. Its result is that more women throughout the world use Pond's Creams than any other brand.

Fortunately, you can keep your skin smooth, soft, and lovely with the honest, pure emollients that go into Pond's creams!

Virginia's Split Poses Questions Ten Pitt School Units Approve 'Time-Protecting' Resolution

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The political guessing game was on today for some clue to Virginia's future political factions in the wake of the third consecutive Republican sweep of this traditional Democratic state.

Neither side did much cheering, but the Democrats, split over support of or silence for their nominee, apparently had some hurt feelings.

Some top Democrats, such as Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr., went all out for Sen. John F. Kennedy, while some other top party members, including Sen. Harry F. Byrd, did nothing to aid the campaign.

Almond was asked Wednesday if he felt his political influence was harmed because of his work for Kennedy while Byrd, head of the state's dominant Democratic organization, remained silent.

He said he wasn't particularly concerned about that now and that he had no political aspirations at the moment.

Almond could see no precedent established by the Republicans in carrying Virginia three straight times that might spread to state level politics.

A resolution by the State Department of Education to protect school time for a quality education has received favorable action from at least 10 Pitt County school units to date.

Superintendent of Pitt County Schools, D.H. Conley, said favorable reply is expected from county units. The county board of education endorsed the resolution at their September board meeting, and then referred it to all county district school committees for their review and action. They heard a report on committee action at their November meeting this week.

The resolution, entitled "Protection of School Time for a Quality Education," is a policy resolution by the state board. It is designed to encourage more school hours to study and educational purposes.

The policy discourages parties, such as Halloween and Christmas parties, during class time; announcements being made during class time or teachers being called out. Already the Pitt Board, in conjunction with the resolution, discouraged attendance at the State Fair in Raleigh in October.

ber, except by members of agricultural classes for educational purposes. Then the board members required a written quiz of what was observed.

Further, the board at its September meeting recommended that class trips be taken vacation time instead of during class time.

By ANDY LANG

From various sources come these bits of information of interest to the home owner:

With a few exceptions, bedrooms in English homes have no closets. That's because the English use wardrobes as a standard part of bedroom furniture.

Herman H. York made this and other interesting observations in discussing his assignment earlier this year as supervising architect of the American-style home exhibited during England's 50th "Ideal Home Exposition" in London. He also noted that American central heating is considered desirable, but the English will buy houses without it; the interior planning of English homes is much less open than in modern Americans spend too much money unnecessarily on bathroom and kitchen equipment.

For those confused by the different numbers given to fuel oils, here's a breakdown, furnished by the National Fuel Oil Council. Fuel oil No. 2 leads the list both in production and consumption and is the main home heating oil used in the major types of home heating equipment, in hot water heaters and for similar domestic uses. Kerosene, a widely known product, which has no number, is ordinarily used for heaters in space-type heaters, in cooking stoves and lamps.

Fuel oil No. 1 is a similar type of distillate oil, consumed in its pot-type burners, space heaters and in some special furnaces. Lapidary's Best Friend: A Stone

By CHARLES STAFFORD
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — In this big town where evolved the theory that diamonds are a girl's best friend, there is a little band of people who feel that most any old stone is worthy of affection.

While the Lorelei Lees dig away at the resources of the Stagedoor Johnnies, these good folk apply an equal measure of devotion to searching the old zinc and iron quarries of nearby New Jersey and Connecticut for stones that they can love.

It's just a hobby with them, for they are members of the Lapidary and Gem Society of New York. And they're a diverse lot.

President Joseph Rothstein is a Navy engineer, secretary Martin Walter a hotel manager, Walter Lustig an attorney, Sam Sankman drives a taxi, Catherine Paige is a beautician. There are about 50 of them in all.

You will find Martin Walter most any Saturday morning hunched over his gem cutting equipment in a dusty corner of the hotel carpentry shop, practicing what the society preaches.

Gem cutting as a hobby, says Walter, has grown mightily in recent years. Most larger cities have lapidary societies, particularly on the West Coast where the nearby desert offers a rich supply of stones.

The New York society is a 10-year-old offshoot of the Mineralogical Society of New York, and rather a black sheep.

"The mineralogical society looks down on us for spoiling good mineral specimens to make gems of," says Walter.

Most of the society's specimens come from New Jersey and Connecticut. Hardly anything turns up in New York City.

"The only thing I ever found was some chert and Jasper in a small excavation at 96th Street and Broadway," says Walter. "Professor Dan O'Connell, who used to be at CCNY, told me there once was a stream running down what is now 96th Street."

"He thinks the excavation must have uncovered a dump for an Indian arrowmaker. The material I found had been very definitely chipped."

Walter makes occasional field trips on Sunday to collect stones — rose quartz, smoky quartz, aquamarine, corneal, prehnite, agate, sunstone, termaline. All of them are pretty, but none very valuable.

With his cutting equipment — grind stones and polishing ma-

Farmville Board Asks Study Of Dog Ordinance

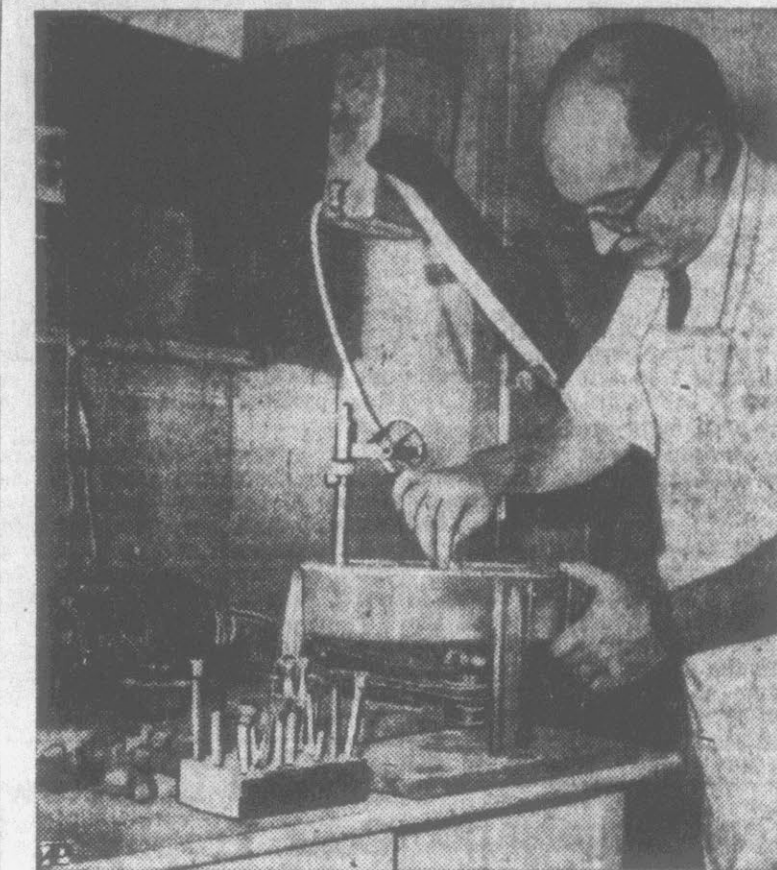

FARMVILLE — In one of the shortest sessions in recent months, the Farmville Commissioners last week requested town attorney John Lewis and Clerk Harold Allred to investigate revision of the Farmville ordinance for controlling stray dogs.

Lewis and Allred were requested to report to the board at the December meeting on a revised ordinance that would "work more closely with the Pitt County ordinance." The present provision has been in effect since the 1930's when Farmville operated its own dog pound.

In other action, the board referred the matter of installing curbing in Hollywood Cemetery to the Cemetery Committee.

Refused to allow a Greenville fruit peddler to sell his products in Farmville without a regular peddler's license.

Principal Likes Parents To Be 'Part Of The School'

ELMHURST PRINCIPAL . . . Mrs. Robert Wolff.

SHOWING PARENTS . . . School bulletin board.

DISCUSSING . . . play with students.

MRS. WOLFF . . . likes working with children.

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer

Working with children and parents, is what Mrs. Robert L. Wolff enjoys most about her job as principal of Elmhurst Elementary School here.

Mrs. Wolff, a native of Greensboro where she attended Greensboro College, came to Greenville in 1949 after being a professional Girl Scout field service worker.

Mrs. Wolff taught at the Agnes Pulllove School for four years, then taught at the Wahl-Coates School for two years before being made principal at Elmhurst when the school started in 1955.

Mrs. Wolff, whose duties include: seeing that all needed equipment is on hand and maintained in good order; seeing to the health and welfare of the children and teachers; and seeing to the overall operation of the school, says her major job is "working with teachers to help meet the individual needs of the boys and girls in the different classes in the school."

One of the greatest aids to the program at Elmhurst is the fact that "the parents are made part of the school," according to Mrs. Wolff.

She pointed out that parents serve in the lunch room; help with the physical education and library programs at the school; help provide playground equipment and plan the school's grounds; and have formed a visiting committee to visit new residents in the school district.

Her list of likes include working and having direct contact with the children at the school and, second, working with the teachers and parents to make the school program a better one for the students.

Her main dislike is there is "never time enough to do all the things" she would like to do.

In the school's program of providing a better educational system for the students, the school this year has instituted an ungraded primary program in the first three grades of the school. Under this program, the children are not promoted by grades but proceed at their own rate as they progress from one level to another.

The program, its groundwork was laid about four years ago, includes 12 primary classes. Nine levels of work have been outlined for the program and as soon as a child has completed one of the levels, he moves to the next level.

The program is designed to "provide a grouping of young children which is flexible enough to allow each child to proceed in his learning at a rate that is equal to his physical, mental, and emotional maturity. It is also designed to eliminate the fear of failure in young children — the fear of not making a grade in a prescribed length of time, and to challenge the able or gifted learners so they will not feel a sense of frustration or boredom in their early school years," Mrs. Wolff explained.

Its purposes include: to instill in the child an awareness of himself as an individual, with a sense of individual responsibility for his thoughts and actions; and to arouse in the student, a respect for the rights of others and make him aware of the need for cooperation as well as leadership.

It is also designed to inspire the child with a continuous desire, both to learn and fulfill himself to the best of his ability, according to Mrs. Wolff.

In conjunction with the project

Mrs. Wolff reported, a program of parent conferences has been initiated which includes a 30 minute conference with every child in the primary school.

Mrs. Wolff is a member of the State Textbook Commission, a member of the North Carolina and the National Education Association, the Association for Childhood Education, the North Carolina Elementary Principals Association, and is an active member in the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church.

CHAPTER 12

"My daughter and I came here to invite Mr. Kinsden to the ranch for the night," said Murray Singer. "I'd like to extend the invitation to you, Mr. Holliday."

"I think I'd better stay here," Kinsden said. "After I get a clear signal I want to start putting together some kind of a loading chute. I can expect the cattle to arrive here after tomorrow, can't I?"

"Oh, I think so," Singer said. "Yes, yes, I suppose so. But you don't ever have any cars here."

"Mr. Singer, we can get a train here in four hours," Ben Holliday said. "Now we're pretty anxious to complete your shipping contract and get on with other business." He took a hunting case watch from his pocket and glanced at it. "Don't you think we ought to get started if we're going to reach your place by dark?"

A frown came to Singer's face. "I thought you wanted to hear the telegraph signal when the wires were connected."

Holliday laughed. "We're not experimenting with a new invention. I'll work and that's all I care about." Betty laughed and he looked at her. "What did I say?"

"It's not what you say, Mr. Holliday, but the way you say it, as though there was one burning desire in you — to run a railroad."

"I suppose," Ben said, "that's about the size of it."

"I suppose we'd better go," Singer said, turning to the bug. "But damn it, I did want to hear the wire come alive. There ought to be a celebration or something." He was still grumbling when he climbed in and Holliday lifted Betty up, then got in back.

Ollie Skinner came trotting along the track and when he stopped by the off-wheel he was out of breath. Singer looked at him and said, "I thought you left the country." He pointed to Skinner. "I threw him off my place once. The man's a thief."

"He works for me," Holliday said. "And I've found him loyal, hard-working, honest, and sober." He caught Skinner's astonished expression from the corner of his eye, but kept his face straight.

"This man?" Singer yelled, pointing. "You heard him, didn't you?" Skinner asked. He unbuckled his shell belt, wrapped it around the holstered .44, and handed it to Ben Holliday. "You just sleep with that tonight; he'll accuse you of anything."

Anger stained Singer's face. "Damn you, Skinner, you stole eight dollars from me."

"Did eight months in the Texas jail for it, too!" He stepped back, his wrinkled face bland, the unfriendliness hidden behind dropped eyelids. "See you when you get back, Mr. Holliday."

As Murray Singer drove away, Betty said, "Don't you believe my father?"

"Sure, but like Skinner said, he's already been in jail."

Singer turned his attention away from his driving to speak. "I'll tell you plainly, Holliday, that it lowers my opinion of the railroad to see you're hiring men like that."

"Probably all your men sing in the choir," Holliday said casually.

Murray Singer said something unintelligible and Betty pointed. The ride turned out to be dusty and silent and very long, and Ben Holliday rather enjoyed it, for he had provided this stuffed-shirt cattleman on the peck, which wasn't especially hard to do with these Texans, except when it was done for a reason.

And Ben Holliday had a reason. One long look at Singer, and five minutes of conversation, and Ben knew which way the wind blew. Singer was a big man, with a lot of land and a lot of cattle and two dozen men working for him, and the habit of running things was pretty well ingrained. The telegraph line gave him the notion that now he controlled a little bit of the railroad too. Well, to Ben's way of thinking he didn't feel any too secure as the boss to begin with, so he had no wish for a dominant man like Singer to even touch the controls.

Some men just wouldn't let go once they got hold, and Holliday was certain that Singer was that kind.

Singer had built a sizable place, a large, rambling house with a small-town-size scatter of outbuildings and corrals. He was,

Monumental Battle Of Nerves With Kremlin Ahead

RELAXATION ON HIGH—This is a circular coffee bar, supported on a central tower, in the new shopping complex of Coventry. The center is part of the extensive reconstruction of the English city which suffered heavy devastation from Nazi air raids.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

On the international front, the president-elect can look forward to a monumental battle of nerves with the Kremlin.

The Communist leadership will waste no time in sizing up its new antagonist and laying its plans accordingly. And there are many signs to indicate that their principal weapon in the developing battle will be the use of fear.

During much of President Eisenhower's administration, the Kremlin attempted a "peace" approach. It failed to work, principally because an overdose of peaceful words and gestures produced towering problems within the Communist camp itself.

Now, while they wait for the new American president to take office in January, Soviet cold war strategists indicate they are thinking that by exploiting European, Asian, African and Latin-American fears of nuclear war, it may be possible to isolate the United States from the rest of the world and remove existing obstacles from the path of Red global expansion.

The Soviet shock approach in the opening weeks of the U. N. General Assembly session suggested Moscow might rely on a swiftly developing fear offensive aimed at keeping a new U. S. administration baffled and off balance.

The immediate objects probably would be to force a special U. N. assembly meeting—outside the United States—attended by heads of government, in an attempt to remove some of the inhibitions and prohibitions in the way of new expansionist moves.

The Kremlin leaders may have assigned Nikita Khrushchev the task of creating an atmosphere of apprehensions at the United Nations that would explain his theatrical performance and violent torrent of threats.

If creation of such a mood was the purpose, Khrushchev did the job. Among apprehensive delegates representing the vast majority of the U.N. members—weak nations caught in the middle by the giants' cold war—the impression was created that something had to be done to placate the Kremlin, or else.

How can the Kremlin use terror as a weapon in an offensive against a new U. S. administration? The U. N. performance suggested some examples.

Fear and the United Nations structure—

The U.N. peace-making machinery has annoyed the Russians ever since Korea. In areas like Laos in southeast Asia and the Congo in Africa. It might get in the way again.

Khrushchev banged his desk and virtually threatened the end of the world organization if its peace-making machinery was not changed to suit him—that is, deprived of its power to get in the Kremlin's way.

Weaker nations, leaning heavily on the United Nations as a hope for peace, displayed shock and fright. The campaign could be carried a step further at a new summit-General Assembly in the spring. The result could be a significant gain for Soviet aims.

Fear and Latin-America—

Khrushchev posed the threat of a rain of nuclear warhead rockets on the United States should it attempt to interfere with the Yankee-baiting, pro-Communist regime of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The results: fear in Latin-America. A possibility of inhibiting U. S. action that might be construed as interference with Castro. A fear in Latin-American governments of the power of Castroism when backed by Soviet threats. A net gain for Soviet policy as it attempts to nail down its foothold 90 miles from U.S. shores.

Fear and the Berlin-Germany questions—

The Kremlin thunders threats and vilification at West Germany.

Against this background it can, at any moment, generate a crisis over West Berlin and hope to bring a summit convened in an atmosphere of world fear.

The Russians want West Berlin transformed into an "international city," cut off from Western occupation and protection.

The Russians propose that West Germany and Communist East Germany be completely disarmed, that all bases be dismantled, that all foreign troops be withdrawn and that both withdraw from military alliances. This could mean, eventually, withdrawal of the United States from all Europe, leaving the continent's heart under fear of non-nuclear Communist expansion.

All this does not mean smooth sailing for the Kremlin, however. At the current world Communist summit meeting in Moscow there are indications it has its own troubles.

The Kremlin has not convinced the Red Chinese or other dissident Communists that its way is the best and only one. The old-line Stalinists and the Chinese Reds chafe at Khrushchev's tactics as themselves displaying apprehension and certain signs of weakness.

Senior Art Student Is Giving Exhibit At ECC

James B. Roper of Belhaven, N. C., is now exhibiting his work as a student artist in the Kate Lewis Gallery in the Rawl building at East Carolina College. The art show, one of a series of exhibitions by senior art majors scheduled for the 1960-1961 term, is open to the public.

At East Carolina College Roper is a candidate for the B. S. degree with a double major in art. He plans to teach after his graduation. His exhibition emphasizes painting but also shows the diversity of interests and training in various media and phases of art included in a school art program.

Included in the show in the Kate Lewis Gallery are paintings, drawings, prints, sculpture, pottery, and weaving.

The senior artist has a superior academic record at the college and has been included on both the college Honor Roll and the Dean's List of Superior Students.

He is a member of the East Carolina Playhouse, college dramatic club, and has appeared in "The Diary of Anne Frank," "My Three Angels," and "Death of a Salesman," major productions of the organization. He also participates in activities of the student Art Club at the college.

Roper is a graduate of the John A. Wilkinson High School in Belhaven and has served for three years in the U. S. Air Force.

He is the son of Edwin G. Roper, Rt. 2, Belhaven.

Pope Cables His Good Wishes To President-Elect

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today cabled congratulations to President-Elect John F. Kennedy and good wishes to "the beloved American people."

The Pontiff's message made no mention of the fact that Kennedy is the first Roman Catholic ever elected to the U. S. presidency. This was in line with the Vatican's policy throughout the campaign of publicly ignoring the issue of Kennedy's religion.

The Pope's cable said: "We congratulate you sincerely on your election as president of the United States of America, and with the prayer that Almighty God may assist you in discharging the duties of your exalted office, we express our cordial good wishes for the well-being of yourself and your family and for the happiness and prosperity of the beloved American people."

New Jersey farmers in 1959 used 3.43 tractors per 100 acres of principal crops, the highest ratio in the nation. The national average was 1.46.

Prisoner Elected Mayor Of Town

WARNER ROBINS, Ga. (AP)—Mayor Kemp Harrison has been re-elected even though he is serving a year and a day in prison for violation of federal bank laws.

Harrison defeated four opponents in Tuesday's election, eight days after he entered a federal penitentiary at Tallahassee, Fla.

Harrison received 1,273 votes to 1,063 for former Mayor W. T. Giles. R. T. Schroeder was third with 823. Joel Willis received 568 votes and Royce R. Pratt got 237.

Harrison, a director of the Citizens State Bank of Warner Robins, and Dreyfus Lee Fountain, the bank president, were convicted of conspiring to defraud depositors in connection with a $20,000 loan supposedly made to the city but which was deposited to Harrison's account.

Fountain drew a five-year probation sentence with $5,000 fine. Harrison was sentenced to a year and a day in prison plus a $5,000 fine.

A state law prohibits convicted felons from holding public office and opponents of Harrison are expected to contest the election.

S.C. Democrats Proud Of Effort

COLUMBIA (AP) — Sen. John Kennedy's victory in South Carolina in the presidential election was "a come-from-behind" win in the opinion of state Democratic campaign chairman Frank K. Sloan of Columbia.

Sloan said Wednesday that he and his co-workers were proud of their effort because "we don't have the money and it was the first time the South Carolina Democratic party has ever had to campaign for the presidency."

In another post-election statement, the executive director of the South Carolina Democrats for Nixon and Lodge, Albert Watson, says there need be no regrets or apologies for the outcome of the balloting in the state.

"Honor doesn't depend upon success but the rightness of the cause," Watson said. "Therefore, regardless of the outcome of the election or the political consequences to me personally, I would proudly follow the same course again and shall not relax my efforts in behalf of constitutional government."

Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, had 193,664 votes in the state with 1,580 of 1,602 precincts reported. Vice President Richard Nixon, the Republican candidate, had 183,726.

Complete and official returns are not expected before next week. On Tuesday county boards will meet to canvass votes in their areas. Later the boards will report their figures to the State Board of Canvassers.

REVIVAL

Revival services will be held at the Grimesland Pentecostal Holiness Church Nov. 11-20 at 7:45. The Rev. Peter Rebs serving as pastor of the Grifton Pentecostal Holiness Church will conduct the revival services.

There will be special singing each night. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Free World Looking To New Leadership

LONDON (AP)—The giants of the Communist world split today in their reaction to the election of John F. Kennedy. Moscow was friendly, Peking hostile.

While most of the Free World looked to the U.S. president-elect for dynamic new leadership, Soviet Premier Khrushchev fired off a congratulatory telegram to Kennedy declaring readiness for "most friendly relations" and proposing negotiations on disarmament, Germany and other cold war issues.

Khrushchev, who blamed President Eisenhower for the U2 incident and collapse of the Paris summit, said he hoped Soviet-American relations "will again follow the line along which they were developing in Franklin Roosevelt's time."

'Most Expensive' Abscessed Tooth In The World

LONDON (AP)—Actress Elizabeth Taylor is rid of one of the most expensive abscessed teeth in history.

"She's fine, just fine this morning," said her husband, Eddie Fisher in an interview. "now that we finally know what caused that fever, she's getting ready to work again."

She arrived in Britain with her husband and three children Sept. 8 to play the starring role in Spyglass Skouras. "Cleopatra."

She had her costume fittings and was getting ready to go on the set when she developed fever. It rumbled her doctors for nearly two months.

Sunday night she said to her husband: "My tooth aches."

Dr. Norbert Weinsberg took X-rays. Tuesday he pulled the offending tooth.

Never known for understatement, Skouras, president of 20th Century-Fox, said the tooth's cost to the studio was "very big, millions of dollars."

Claim Means To Go Into Space

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet scientist said today the U.S.S.R. has the "means and conditions" for sending a man into space but needs "practical experience" in handling space ships before the attempt is made.

Prof. K. Sergeev said in Pravda, the Communist party organ, that the space ship that carried the dogs Beika and Strelka into space and back safely "is in an excellent state and can be used for more flights."

After the first few manned space flights, he said, a manned space station will be put into orbit around the earth with scientists making observations and carrying out experiments at high altitudes.

He said there is the possibility of making an on-the-spot survey of the moon by landing automatic scientific stations linked with the earth by radio and then later of setting up manned stations on the moon.

Motto Used For Students' Guide

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Because of an inscription above the front door of headquarters, police here figure they'll be getting a lot of calls for help.

The calls — which flood the telephone switchboard at headquarters — come from school children. Many get the homework assignment during the first weeks of school to learn the text of the inscription. It says: "Dedicated to justice for all in the firm belief that obedience to the law is freedom."

Mrs. John Varley, a sixth grade teacher at Christ the King School, first gave the assignment in 1957. Police said she told them that she thinks the inscription is a good motto to live by.

Will Lay Plans For Nat'l Grange

WINSTON-SALEM (AP)—Early plans for next week's convention of the National Grange will be laid starting with meetings here today.

A series of committee conferences are planned through Monday before the National Grange convenes next Monday for its 94th annual convention, which runs through Nov. 22 in Winston-Salem.

Among early arrivals for the general convention is Herschel D. Newsome, national master.

R-J China's official New China news agency, however, described the president-elect as a member of one of America's "richest families" and called him an advocate of military spending and war preparations.

The comment made clear that the election has not altered Peking's hate-America policy.

The differing Red reactions reflected the Moscow-Peking argument over peaceful coexistence—with Khrushchev holding that war is not inevitable because communism can triumph by peaceful competition, and the Red Chinese arguing that "just wars" are inevitable as long as capitalism exists.

Moscow's Pravda, the communist party newspaper, claimed American voters had rejected Vice President Richard M. Nixon because Republican policy had not conformed to "the interests of safeguarding peace."

Moscow radio said some observers believed the new administration would make a "more realistic appraisal of the international situation."

The election of the first Roman Catholic president was received with satisfaction at the Vatican.

Pope John XXIII, in a congratulatory cable to Kennedy, prayed that "Almighty God may assist you" and expressed his confidence in the new administration.

HERE! EASIER GOING FOR THE DRIVER AND THE LOAD, LONGER LIFE FOR THE TRUCK!

'61 TORSION-SPRING CHEVROLETS

If you don't think scrapping the front axle has made a world of difference, you haven't driven a Chevy in a while. A few minutes behind the wheel and you can feel why drivers are happier and breakable loads are better protected. But the biggest advantage of all, you'll realize, is that the truck itself (sheet metal, tires, chassis components, everything) takes less abuse. With independent front suspension soaking up road shock and vibration, the truck lasts longer, goes extra thousands of miles before trade-in time. Add that to what everybody's always known about Chevy dependability and you find yourself looking at the soundest truck investment you could bet your business on.

and look! NEW REAR-ENGINE CORVAIR 95's

A panel and two pickups that put a thrifty air-cooled engine in the rear, the driver up front and as much as 1,900 pounds of load space in between! That's more capacity than a conventional half-tonner. Yet these Corvaire 95's are nearly two feet shorter from bumper to bumper. Highly maneuverable. Built to last and bound to save on a busy schedule!

good wishes to "the beloved American people."

Along the coast of Ireland's County Wexford, from which Kennedy's great-grandfather emigrated during the famine of 1847, a chain of bonfires burned Wednesday night. The little town of Newross was gay with flags in celebration.

Most Western newspapers viewed the election in the light of the cold war and looked to Kennedy to put new life in the Western alliance.

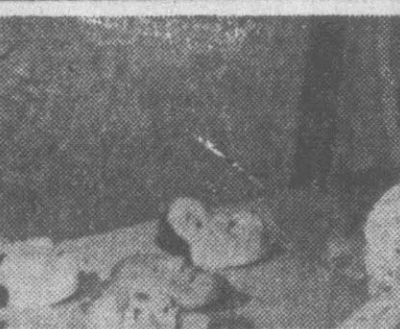

"The big sleep ends" said a headline in London's conservative Daily Mail.

Stockholm Expressen, Scandinavian newspaper, said the election was "a great victory for the world."

Man Killed As Car Hit Truck

ROCKY MOUNT, N.C. (AP)—A 31-year-old Rocky Mount man was killed Wednesday night when the car in which he was riding struck a tractor-trailer truck near here on N. C. 97.

The Highway Patrol identified the victim as Cornelius David Evans. The patrol said the car was on the wrong side of the road.

BRITAIN HANGS 2 IN BRUTAL CRIME

LONDON (AP) — Two British youths were hanged today for kicking a man to death after robbing him.

The hanging of Francis Forsyth, 18, and Norman Harris, 23, was preceded by the usual protest against capital punishment in Britain. But in contrast to the noisy demonstrations that have accompanied some previous executions, only small silent crowds stood outside the two prisons.

Forsyth was hanged in South London. Harris died at Pentonville, five miles to the north across the Thames.

Their victim was Allan E. Jee, 23, Forsyth, Harris and two others attacked him to rob him shortly after he had given his girl a $100 engagement ring and kissed her goodnight.

One of the other attackers was 17-too young to hang—and was ordered confined indefinitely. The other was found guilty of noncapital murder and sentenced to life imprisonment.

Forsyth's last request on the eve of his execution was to see his own girl friend, Margaret Catlin, 17, who is expecting his baby in January.

She spent half an hour with him in a bare interview room inside the jail. They spoke through a wire grill. Margaret left weeping.

"Francis kept laughing and joking—he didn't once talk about dying," she said.

"They have cut his bloody hair short and he was laughing about that."

navia's largest newspaper, said the tremendous task ahead of checking Communist advances and said the Free World hopes Kennedy "will be able to turn the tide."

Cuba's government-controlled press gave the expected secondary—and acid-treatment to the election. La Calle, referring to Kennedy and Nixon, said one candidate was "as much a bandit as the other."

But many Latin-American newspapers expressed the hope a new administration would give more attention to their national problems. Mexico City's Diario de la Tarde said Latin America expects a sort of Marshall Plan.

The Chinese Nationalists on Formosa, who had favored Vice President Nixon for his stand on Quemoy and Matsu, put on a brave face at the Kennedy election. President Chiang Kai-shek and other officials sent congratulations, and Formosa newspapers said no basic change in America's China policy would result.

Japan's multimillion-circulation dailies expressed hope for new energy and flexibility in Washington. Asahi, the largest, said the Kennedy victory was recognition of the need to "re-establish America's international leadership on a new foundation."

The election results were received indifferently in much of the Middle East.

Eastland Avers 'No Mandate' In Election Results

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., says "Nobody got a mandate in the election to pass any wild, radical legislation."

Eastland, re-elected Tuesday to a new six-year Senate term, backed the victorious candidate, John F. Kennedy in the election. He made his remarks Tuesday at the annual Mississippi Farm Bureau convention here. He referred specifically to Kennedy's farm plan, which he termed a "damnable piece of legislation."

Eastland promised the next congressional session would "clear out" the State Department in a renewed war against Communist subversion in the Caribbean and Latin America. He said the United States has the weakest State Department of any country in the world.

Eastland said the State Department knew of every move made to turn Cuba into a Communist satellite.

Gen. McGowan Air Guard missions include flying supersonic jet aircraft in the active air defense of the U. S., and installing communications and electronics equipment at missile sites.

This ultra-modern military force offers a striking contrast to the equipment status of the National Guard that was called into federal service by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in the fall of 1940. Guardsmen took part in maneuvers using sticks and logs for machine guns, stovepipes for artillery pieces, and trucks for tanks. Given proper weapons and vehicles it took these men less than a year to become seasoned veterans. Many Guard units were in combat a year after being called into service.

Most military men point out that changing times present changing — and challenging — demands. It is now essential, they contend, for Guard units to train for possible employment in a matter of weeks.

Major General Donald W. McGowan, Chief of the National Guard Bureau, expresses the thought that the Guard's increased ability to react to an emergency is a result of a long-range training program aimed at up-grading the Guard's "mobilization readiness."

This refers to the peacetime training that cuts down the amount of post-mobilization

Constant Alert

One of the requirements for keeping the Guard up-to-the-minute is that of planning for future developments. No one questions the present-day need for Air Guard participation in our Air Defense program. For example many Air Guard squadrons flying the latest supersonic jets — F-100s, F-102s, and F-104s — are on constant alert, ready to defend our skies on a moment's notice.

But it is also recognized that with the coming of the ballistic missile, manned fighter aircraft will someday begin to decline in numbers in the Air Force inventory. Looking to this date, the Air Force is now studying ways in which to use the Air Guard's capabilities in its space program. One of the early missions in this field may well be that of space surveillance. Air Guard Aircraft Control, and electronic equipment, could easily be converted for such a purpose. Space capsule recovery has also been suggested as a possible mission area for Air Guard flying units.

These are just a few of the ways in which the modern-day National Guard is training for tomorrow and planning for the day after.

Battlefield Rockets, Space Missions Loom for Guard

The twentieth anniversary of its mobilization for World War II finds the National Guard moving deeper into the age of missile warfare and the space program.

The Army National Guard, now manning NIKE air defense missile sites across the nation, will begin receiving "Honest John" battlefield rockets early next year.

In the space field, the Air Force is now preparing plans to give the Air National Guard a responsible mission in the space surveillance program. At the present time, Air Guard missions include flying supersonic jet aircraft in the active air defense of the U. S., and installing communications and electronics equipment at missile sites.

G-Men Set To Close Season Against Jackets

By JOHNNY HUDSON
Reflector Sports Editor

Greenville spotted heavily favored Wilson with its guard down last Friday and delivered a haymaker—a 20-19 football setback.

Tomorrow night, the Phants entertain Roanoke Rapids as a more than average favorite but are hopeful they won't be vulnerable to the same treatment they dished out the previous week.

The game, scheduled for 8:00 in College Stadium, will draw the curtains on the 1960 football season for both teams. For Greenville, it will be the close of one of its most successful seasons.

Coach Joe Rodri of Roanoke

Rapids guards his words cautiously in speaking of a possible victory over the hot-running Phants.

"About all we can say for sure is that we will be there," the former N. C. State griddle told The Daily Reflector yesterday afternoon.

"We have a lot of respect for Greenville. They are one of the best teams in the conference and we can't figure out how Tarboro beat them," asserted Rodri.

The Roanoke Rapids mentor, serving his first year as a high school coach, considers his club a vastly improved one from the one that opened the season with three straight defeats.

"We opened with very few experienced boys and it has been a long grind getting them ready. And now we lose most of them so we will have to start all over next year," reported Rodri.

Coach Bud Phillips of Greenville hasn't openly admitted that his 1960 club is his best but local fans can't recall when a Greenville team accomplished as much as this one.

A victory tomorrow would give the Phants a 9-1 record for the season and second place in the Northwestern 3-A Conference.

The Phants hold the advantage over their foe in both offense and defense. Greenville has scored 214 points for the season while their opponents have tallied only 81.

Roanoke Rapids' offense has lighted the scoreboard with 93 points while allowing its opponents 121 points.

In comparative scores, Greenville also has a definite edge. The games with Tarboro are the only ones putting the teams on equal footing. The Tigers clawed Roanoke Rapids 18-7 and toppled Greenville 15-7.

The game will pit two of the top halfbacks in the conference. Greenville's Alan McArthur and the Yellow Jacket's Sonny Prewitt.

Prewitt has picked up over 800 yards this season, according to Rodri, and is one of the best backs in the conference.

McArthur is undoubtedly one of the best backs to don the Green and White since the James Speight-Bobby Perry era. Just a junior, the fleet halfback made All-Conference last fall and should reap higher honors this fall.

The star-studded Greenville backfield will be without the services of halfback John Adams, who re-injured his knee last Friday night.

Filling in for Adams will be Billy James. Other backfield starters will be Wayne Sumrell at fullback and Erskine Duff at quarterback.

While Greenville's offense has rolled merrily along this season, Coach Bud Phillips has been singing a high key for the defensive play of ends Skip Wright and Layne Jorgensen.

Phillips considers the duo, both seniors, the best ends in the conference. He will be counting on their aggressive play to stop Roanoke Rapids tomorrow night.

Other workhorses in the Phantom line are Larry Roberts, Dallas Clark, Bill Wade, Tex Hooks, and Don Joyner.

Roanoke Rapids, winner in four of its nine games, will come into the contest on the heels of its top offensive show of the season—a 25-0 decision over Weldon.

The final game of the season will pit Greenville's split-T against the State-like multiple offense employed by the Yellow Jackets.

JACKET STINGS?—A couple of Phantom tackles, Dallas Clark and Larry Roberts, don't plan to be on the receiving end of any Yellow Jacket stings tomorrow night when the Phants host Roanoke Rapids. Both are seniors and will be closing out their grid career at Greenville.

East Carolina Tops In Rushing

GREENSBORO, (AP) — Unbeaten Lenor Rhyne leads two of three offensive categories in North State Conference team statistics.

The conference service bureau reports that the Bears, ranked No. 2 in the nation among small colleges by The Associated Press, leads in total offense—318.6 yards per game—and passing offense (111 yards per game).

East Carolina leads in rushing offense with 216.4 yards per game with Lenor Rhyne second, 207.6 yards per game.

Among the defensive leaders, Western Carolina is best in total offense, allowing an average 157.8 yards per game, and in pass defense, allowing 26.2 yards per contest. Appalachian State has the best rushing defense, giving up 79 yards per game.

Brennan Suffers With Notre Dame

By EDWARD S. KITCH
CHICAGO (AP)—Notre Dame University is suffering through its longest losing streak in history this season—six games. And former Irish head coach Terry Brennan is suffering right along with the team.

"I've closely followed the team this year," he said today. "It is plagued by injuries and rugged competition has balanced off its strength."

In 1958, his last year as coach, Brennan had a 6-4 season record. His dismissal by Notre Dame stirred up considerable controversy.

Now a business representative for a steel firm, Terry said: "I think everybody has a 20-20 hindsight on whether (present Coach Joe) Kuharich made the right decision or what he should have done or what I should have done," he said.

"A coach has 10 seconds to make up his mind on what to do, and if it works out his record depends on it. I wouldn't want to be the one to say what they should have done."

Notre Dame under Kuharich this year has won one game in seven, its first with California, 21 to 7.

But the Irish are picked as a favorite over the University of Miami in the Orange Bowl Saturday night.

After beating California, the Irish lost in succession to Purdue 51-19, North Carolina 12-7, Michigan State 21-0, Northwestern 7-6, Navy 14-7 and Pittsburgh 20-13.

Campbell Top Pass Receiver

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Washington State's Hugh Campbell is catching passes at a rate almost unprecedented in major college football. After eight games, the Cougar sophomore has snagged 53 for 712 yards and seven touchdowns, NCAA Service Bureau statistics showed today.

Only three players have caught more even during an entire season, and if Campbell can pass them in his two remaining games, he likely will become the third record-breaker this season.

Already an NCAA modern record has been broken and two have been tied, all in the kicking department. Ed Dyes, Auburn fullback, has kicked nine field goals, a record for one season, and his career total of 13 equals another record. Nolan Jones, Arizona State placekicker, has booted 22 points after touchdown without a miss, equalling the full-season record.

Campbell is 19 pass receptions and 385 yards ahead of his nearest rival, Duke's Ted Moorman.

Ayden, Lillington Collide For State Playoff Berth

By LEONARD LAO
Reflector Sports Writer

Coastal Conference Champion Ayden takes its initial step in the journey of a sought after state championship tomorrow night in the first round of the State Playoffs. The Tornadoes face Mid-Central Conference Champion, Lillington on the Farmville High School football field. Kickoff time for the playoff game is scheduled for 8:00 P.M.

The Tornadoes chalked up eight straight wins and one tie in coping the league crown, and are rated heavy favorites over the Lillington club. Ayden's one tie came at the hands of Beaufort, the team that finished second behind Coach Stuart Tripp's eleven on the Coastal Conference totem pole. The Tornadoes battled the Sea Dogs to a scoreless tie, which was all they needed for an undisputed title. A loss to the Beaufort boys would have thrown the conference top spot into a two-way tie between the clubs.

Lillington posted a 5-4-1 record to gain a berth in the State Playoffs. The Mid-Central Conference is made up of only three teams, and Coach Hal Bradley's team defeated both of the other loop members, Angier and Coates.

Coach Bradley has had experience with the calibre of ball that is the trademark of the Coastal Conference, playing a strong Farmville club this year. The Red Devils dropped the Lillington club to the tune of 20-7, so Bradley has an idea of what to expect from a team that dropped Farmville 21-6 earlier in the season. That was the score of the Ayden-Farmville game.

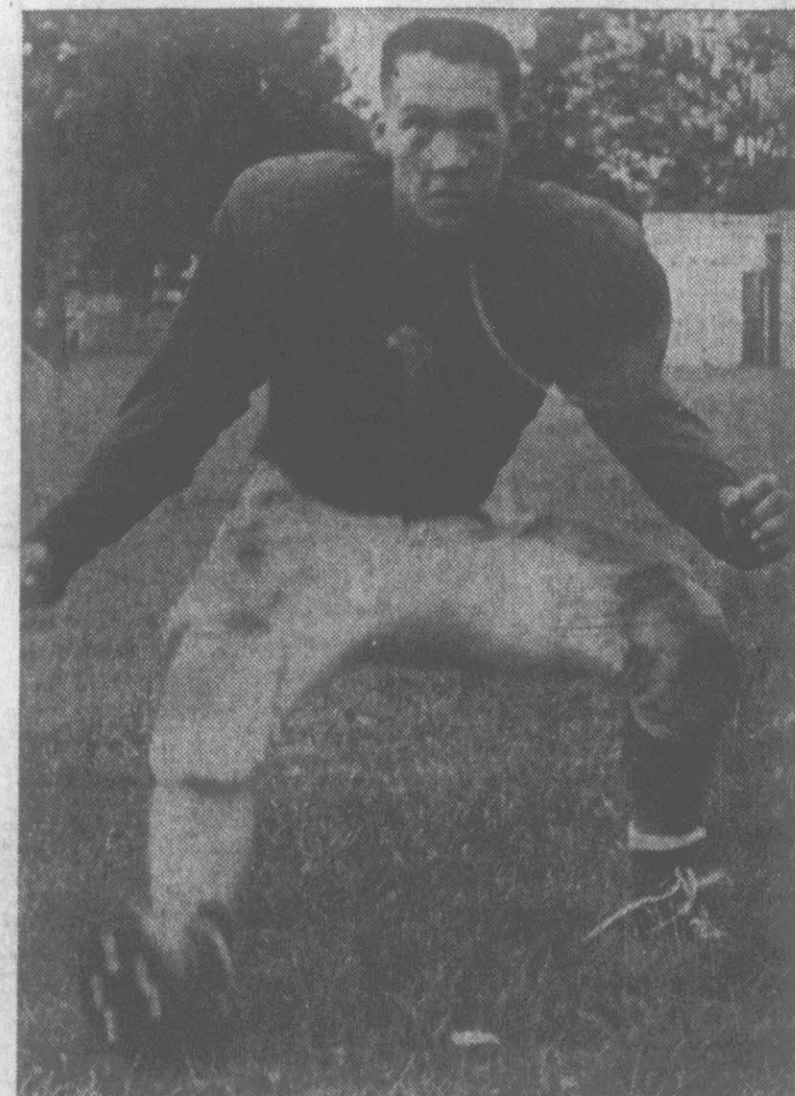

The Lillington coaching staff has not had a chance to scout the Tornadoes yet. The teams were matched for the playoff game only last week, and Ayden was idle then. But the Lillington tutor expressed optimism when saying, "If all of our boys play good ball, we can give them a run for their money."

Ayden's Tripp has his forces in top physical condition for the important battle. But the 15 year Tornado veteran frowns when confronted with the statement that his charges are favored over Lillington. "In every game that we thought we would win," said Tripp, "we played poorly." The Tornadoes cited the Contentnea and Farmville games as examples. Both the 20-0 win over the Wildcats and the 21-6 victory over the Red Devils were closer games than the scores indicated.

Expecting to lead the offensive threat for the Tornadoes will be a pair of All-Conference performers, Dennis "Dinky" Mills and William Edwards. Mills, who is the leading ground gainer for the Ayden club, was named to the honor team last week for the second time. The Tornadoes scored another two time All-Conference player in tackle Donald Carman.

Fullback, Johnny Harrington carries most of the offensive load for Lillington. He is ably assisted by halfback Bill Watkins. This duo tends to make Coach Bradley sway more to a ground game than a passing one. In the Lillington forward wall, the big man is 195 pound tackle, Rev. O'Brian. He is termed by the head coach as the best all-around lineman on the club.

But what about the black eye?

"My brother decided to help me and he took a swing at the other fellow. He missed and hit me in the eye."

Jayhawks Seek Big Eight Title

By JACK CLARY
Give Kansas Coach Jack Mitchell credit for one of the smartest moves of the 1960 college football season when he shifted John Hadl from halfback to quarterback.

The move was made last spring when Mitchell was faced with the loss of his only signal-caller Duane Morris. Hadl, who made the 1959 All Big Eight team as a halfback, did such a good job then, and in pre-season training that Mitchell never hesitated in keeping him at quarterback.

What has it accomplished? The Jayhawks, now banned by the NCAA from post-season competition in football for a year, still have a chance to take the Big Eight title. They have an overall 4-2-1 record, with the losses coming from Syracuse, when the Orange was considered the nation's top-ranked team, and Iowa, when the Hawkeyes were No. 1.

In the conference, Kansas is undefeated with a 4-0-1 record. Missouri is the conference leader with 5-0.

And behind all of this is the astuteness of Hadl, a 19-year old, 191-pound junior from Lawrence, Kan., home town of K.U.

He presently leads the team in passing, punting, kickoff returns, scoring, is second in rushing and punt returns and even has caught a couple of passes for 18 yards.

Minnesota's top-ranked Gophers have linebacker Billy Kautz back from the injured list for this week's game against Purdue.

Nelson is a doubtful starter against Baylor because of a fractured finger. Ben Charles may start.

Mike Lind, a fullback, returned from Notre Dame's injury list but is not expected to play Saturday night in Miami. Texas will be without fullback Ray Poage and halfback Jack Collins against Texas Christian.

Playoffs Set

GASTONIA, N.C. (AP) — The 6th annual Lill Punin Bowl football game here Nov. 25 will pit Salvation Army Boys Club teams from Louisville, Ky., and Durham, N.C.

In the midget competition, Durham has a 13-1 record and Louisville was Kentucky state champion.

Elaborate halftime ceremonies are planned, including presentation of jackets and scrolls to boys named to the Salvation Army All-America midget football team.

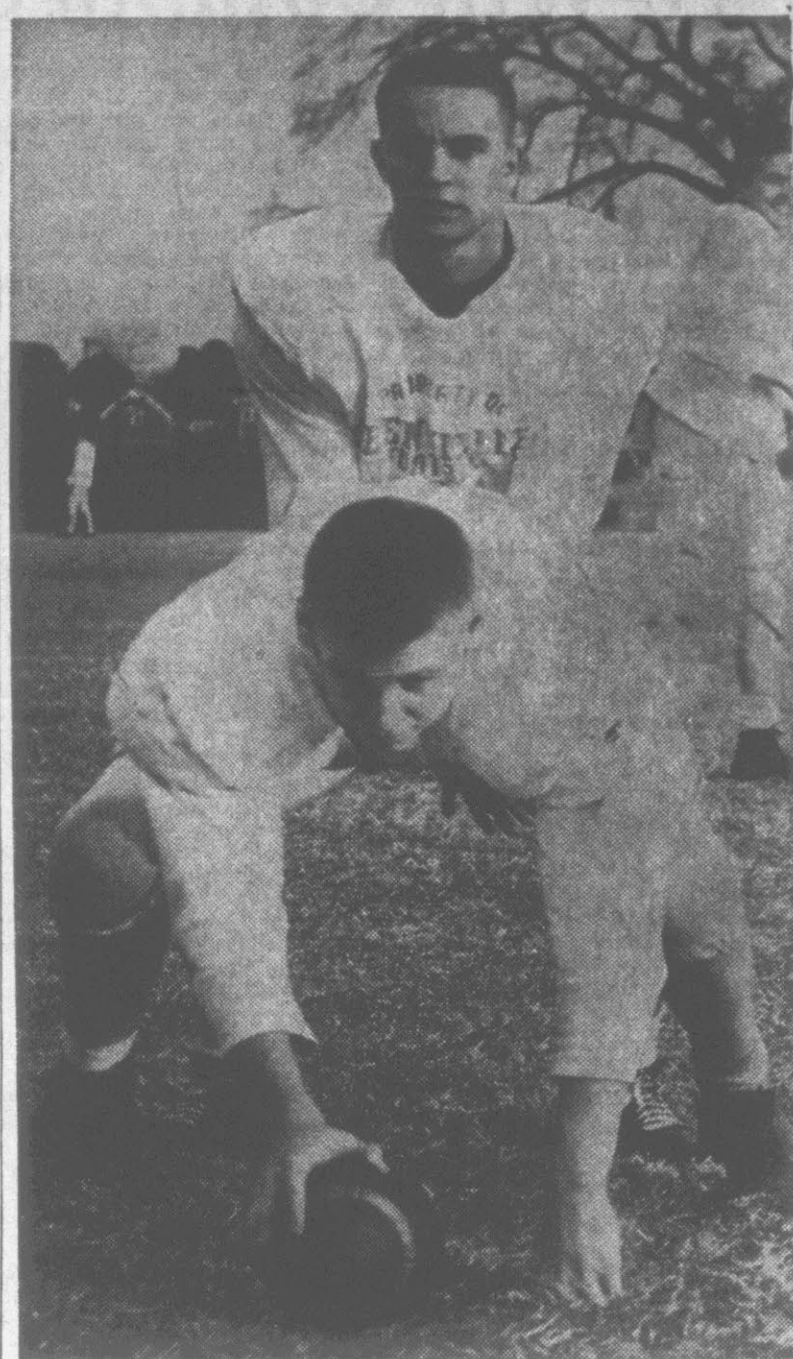

Army's unbeaten football team of 1944 scored 504 points while holding nine rivals to 35 points.

Purple-Gold Tilt Set For Tuesday

Coach Earl Smith, head basketball coach at East Carolina College, announced this morning that the annual Purple and Gold basketball game will be played Tuesday night, November 15.

The game will be played at Memorial Gymnasium at 7:30 and there will be no charge.

According to Smith, the game is being played in order to give area fans an early look at the 1960-61 Pirates.

The rosters are as follows: Purple—Don Smith, Cotton Clayton, Lacy West, Benny Bowes, Charlie Lewis, Bill Ott, Jim Fornes, Sherwood Adcock, and Nolan Respass. Gold—Fred Fowler, Bryant Tutor, Floyd Whicker, Russell Knowles, Bob Hood, Danny Bowen, Dwight Frazier, and Dick Spooone.

Giants Edge Japs

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP) — Two home runs by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda in the fourth inning helped the San Francisco baseball Giants defeat the Japanese All-Stars 4-1 today.

It was the Giants' 10th win against three losses and one tie in their 16-game goodwill tour which ends Sunday.

Art Ditmar's 15 victories led the Yankees pitchers during 1960.

Furman Hoping To Return To Win Column Saturday

Furman's football team, shaking off the effects of an unprofitable venture south, gets back to its own league Friday and renews the serious pursuit of its first winning record since 1953.

Former Giants Hired By Dark

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Alvin Dark made his first decisions as manager of the San Francisco Giants Wednesday. He hired two former teammates as coaches.

Dark, signed last week, selected Larry Jansen and Whitey Lockman and retained Wes Westrum and Sally Parker for his coaching staff. Bill Posedel was released to make way for Jansen as boss of the bullpen.

Dark, Lockman, Jansen and Westrum were all key figures for the Giants that October day in 1951 when Bobby Thomson's home run beat the Brooklyn Dodgers in a National League playoff and gave the Giants their first pennant in 14 years.

Alabama heaped humiliation on Furman last week, 51-0, but Richmond Coach Ed Merrick doesn't read too much into the score.

"Goodness knows, we're a long way from being in a league with Alabama," says Merrick.

The Hurricane haven't won more than three games in any season since 1954, when they finished 5-5 under Coach Bill Young. The previous season they'd had a big 7-2 win.

This year Furman leads the Southern conference in rushing offense with an average of 218 yards per game, and its quarterback, Billy Canty, has been an effective passer — 34 completions for six touchdowns.

King has put emphasis on pass defense in preparing for Richmond, and it's not hard to understand why. The Spiders have a pretty good passer in Mel Ride-out (56 completions), but their running attack recently has been tormented by injuries and dropouts.

Furman made defensive adjustments in a brisk practice, with King once more placing the emphasis on pass defense.

Virginia Tech, which plays George Washington in a crucial conference game Friday night, welcomed quarterback Warren Price and halfback Terry Strock back to practice but counted out halfback Bob Crabtree, who has an ankle injury.

Stengel Talks With Tiger Bosses

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — Casey Stengel went into conference with executives of the Detroit Tigers today after indicating he "might be interested" in managing the American League team in 1961.

"I want to see if it's a good situation they have, what their plans are for getting ballplayers, and making deals," said the 70-year-old ex-New York Yankee pilot of the sixth place Tigers.

"I do not want to get tangled up with any second division team unless it is willing to make some important changes."

Some observers took that to mean Casey is not at all interested in the Los Angeles Americans, whose roster will be composed of nonexempts from other teams in the league.

Stengel is meeting at his home with Rick Ferrell, chief aide to President John F. Kennedy of the Tigers, and Vice President James Campbell.

Hildebrand feels that rating "will do as much as anything in getting them ready for the game."

Duke, ranked No. 7 in the nation by The Associated Press, will be after at least a tie for the Atlantic Coast Conference championship in the game at Winston-Salem, N.C.

Wake Forest, which wound up rough work for the game Wednesday, takes a 2-5 overall record and 2-3 ACC mark into the game. However, in the last two losing efforts, only a total of three points divided winner and loser and they still have rifle-armed Norman Snead, senior quarterback.

And Coach Bill Murray of Duke is well aware of Snead. The Blue Devils (6-1 and 4-0) spent considerable time on pass defense. Duke also will utilize a passing attack some, featuring the throwing to quarterbacks Walt Rappold and Don Altman.

At Maryland, Coach Tom Nugent has again shaken up his lineup because of injuries. He said Bill Kirsch, a guard, is out as is fullback Ev Cloud. On the plus side, end Vince Scott is expected to return for the game at North Carolina. The Tar Heels, trying to snap a four-game losing string, held a rugged defensive scrimmage.

Maris Edges Mantle As Most Valuable

By SKIPPER PATRICK
Associated Press Sports Writer
RAYTOWN, Mo. (AP) — Roger Maris, the American League's most valuable player for 1960, brushed aside comment on his award today with the declaration that the New York Yankees "should go on and win it again next year."

A four-year major league veteran, Maris edged Yankee teammate outfielder Mickey Mantle by only three points—225 to 222—in the voting of a 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America. Ten players were included in the voting, announced Wednesday, with 14 points awarded for first place, nine for second, eight for third, etc.

Asked how he felt about beating out Mantle—most valuable in 1956 and 1957 — the Yankee outfielder said:

"I'm just happy I won it. I thought it was possible but I wasn't sure."

Maris, 26, celebrated his fourth year in the majors—Cleveland one year and Kansas City two before becoming a Yankee—by leading the American League in runs batted in (112) and slugging percentages (.581). He batted .283 and hit 39 home runs, one fewer than title-winning Mantle.

It was the second closest contest in history of the award, started in 1932. The tightest one was in 1947 when Joe Dimaggio edged Ted Williams 202-201.

Brooks Robinson, Baltimore's talented third baseman, was third in the voting with 211 points. It was the first time in history of the award three players received more than 200 points.

Following Robinson in the voting were Minnie Minoso, Chicago, 141; Ron Hansen, Baltimore, 110; Al Smith, Chicago, 73; Roy Sievers, Chicago, 58; Earl Battey, Washington, 57; Bill Skowron, New York, 56; and Jim Lemon, Washington, 56.

ECC, Presbyterian Prep For Saturday's Contest

East Carolina and Presbyterian College concluded a rough workout yesterday in preparation for their big clash here Saturday night.

The Pirates of Coach Jack Boone are reported in good shape but eager to break a two-game losing streak which has followed a six-game victory binge.

Presbyterian is all even in the won-lost column, with three victories and the same defeats. But the Blue Hose come into the ECC clash as a slight favorite. The Blue Hose, Tangerine Bowl participants last year, carry victories over Catawba, Davidson, and Wofford into Saturday's clash. Defeats have been by Lenoir Rhyne, The Citadel, and Furman.

Another offensive show should be in the making with EC half-backs Sonny Baysinger and Glenn Bass hoping to match their speed and shifty running with the brutal trotting of full-back Bill Hill, a solid 205 pounder.

The line action shouldn't be much of a picnic either with the large PC line, headed by Little All-American tackle Billy Ogden, matching knocks with East Carolina's touchdown-stingy crew.

It will be a gleeful return home for Bone's eleven which experienced both defeats on the road. East Carolina has a clean home slate in four games to date.

Kickoff time for Saturday's game will be 8:00.

Rams After Victory In Season's Finale

ROBERSONVILLE—Robersonville will try to edge closer to a 500 season here tomorrow night when it concludes the 1960 football season against non-conference Jones Central.

The Rams, spearheaded by tailback Tommy Ward, find themselves as underdogs against the Class 2-A club but it is nothing new for Coach Bob Lee's charges.

Last week, the Rams ignored the odds-makers and whacked LaGrange with a 21-6 setback.

Jones Central was just added to the Robersonville worksheet this week when Benvenue cancelled a Friday night engagement after gaining a spot in the state playoffs.

Robersonville, with a 3-5-1 record for the season, will try to oil its single-wing attack enough for a final season victory.

Ward, the fancy-stepping tailback, will direct the attack, offering a threat as a passer and runner.

His prime passing target is end Bonnie Stevenson, a sure bet for All-Conference laurels.

The Ram line will be anchored by senior Brown Keel. Other seniors finishing their football career for Robersonville will be Russ Williams, Bill Powell, Dallas Taylor, Stanley Chesson, Linwood Bunting, and Jimmy Brown.

Kickoff for the game will be 8:00.

School Prepares Big Homecoming Friday Night

BELVOIR—A fried chicken supper, a basketball tripleheader, and the crowning of the Homecoming Queen will highlight Belvoir-Falkland High School's annual homecoming set for Friday night in the school's gymnasium.

The local chapter of the Parent-Teacher Association will serve the fried chicken from 5 until 7:30 p.m. At 5:45 the local junior varsity will open the evening's basketball action in a scrap with Bethel High School's jayvees.

At 7 o'clock the varsity girls' action will get underway with the boys' squads from the two rival Pitt County Conference schools following about 8:30.

Following the third basketball game, the Coronation Ceremony for the homecoming queen is scheduled. Students at Belvoir-Falkland High will vote for one of 15 candidates representing the school's clubs and classes.

E.N. Warren, BFHS principal, has issued an invitation "to all alumni of the school to return and take part in the night's festivities."

RANK DIFFERENCE
FT. SILL, Okla. (AP)—Two men with a mutual problem have finally met at this Army post.

They are Lt. Col. Alfred J. Roth and 1st Sgt. Alfred J. Roth. Their problem, naturally, has been mixed - up mail.

The confusion began last August when Col. Roth arrived at Ft. Sill from an assignment in Europe and the two began receiving each other's mail. But they didn't meet until recently.

The officer is from Philadelphia and the sergeant from Jerseyville, Ill.

SOPHOMORE END—Bobby Bumgardner will try to assist East Carolina in hitting the win column again Saturday night. The Granite Falls native has been a starter all season.

Gerry Lebrasseur Conquered Odds

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Gerry Lebrasseur of American International College is a prime example of an athlete who has conquered major odds.

Born with one arm, Lebrasseur has written a life story of courage and inspiration.

The senior co-captain and center on the AIC football team is considered one of the finest linemen ever to play for the Aces.

And despite his disability, he has chosen to specialize in the roughest sports of all — football and hockey.

He's been a three-year starter in both and also has had a distinguished high school career in those sports.

The 24-year-old son of a Lynn carpenter came to AIC through the efforts of Dr. Elmo Benedetto, director of schoolboy athletics in the North Shore City.

Lebrasseur also plays intramural basketball and is an excellent swimmer. His major is in business, with a minor in education.

AIC Football Coach Gay Salvucci has this to say about his crack linebacker and kickoff man:

"We're all very proud of Gerry—he's a fine leader and a tremendous inspiration to the rest of the players. He goes all-out in every game, fundamentally a very sound football player. He can tackle with the best of 'em and is a very good kicker."

Brown Is Named Week's Lineman

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Strange things happen to Minnesota football rivals when a restless mauler named Tom Brown looms in view. "Brown," smiled Gopher Coach Murray Warmath, "affects people that way."

He affected Iowa so painfully Saturday that the Hawkeyes lurched and floundered, lost their big game to Minnesota 27-10 and surrendered No. 1 rank in the nation to the Gophers.

For his work, Brownie was named the Associated Press lineman of the week.

Brown, a 240-pound guard, is so tough his reputation alone bothers people.

In the Iowa game center Bill Van Buran snapped his center pass two feet over the head of punter John Calhoun and Minnesota had a touchdown two plays later.

Brown makes no claim that he got a little edgy bracing for the Gopher lineman's charge. "But you're not human if you don't worry with Brownie looking down your throat," a teammate said.

Against Iowa the 23-year-old former Navy policeman sealed off the middle on defense, helped protect the flanks, and delivered the most spectacular defensive play of the game.

On that one he hurled lineman Iowa Bill Decindio into quarterback Wilburn Hollis to break up a play on the 5-yard line and force Iowa into a field goal attempt.

Pitt's 1961 football schedule: Baylor, Washington, West Virginia, UCLA, Syracuse, Navy, Wake Forest, USC, Penn State and Miami of Florida.

Yale's first football opponent was Columbia. 1961 play: in 1972; Yale won, 3 goals to none.

Greenville's MARKET BOY

One-Handed End Is Top Threat

By ROSS M. HAGEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NASHVILLE, Ga. (AP)—Franklin Luke is pretty much like any personable young high school athlete you'd meet, except for one thing. His left arm ends just above the wrist.

Usually this would be enough to discourage anyone from pursuing such two-handed sports as football and basketball.

But the farm boy, at 17, is the first string end on the Berrien County High School football team and is one of their most dangerous offensive weapons.

In his latest outing, Luke nabbed a pass with his handless arm and ran for a touchdown.

MONEY REFUSED
SKIATOOK, Ore. (AP)—Once again, Skiatook plans to function without tax money. The town of 1,700 will pass up its 3-mill allocation from the county excise board.

Skiatook's budget calls for $41,865 in operating expenses for fiscal 1960-61 — but it has enough cash surplus and miscellaneous revenue to handle the need.

Most of the miscellaneous revenue is from town-operated electrical utilities.

INTERNATIONAL
NOGALES, Ariz. (AP)—Police from both sides of the Arizona-Mexico border were called in to halt an international gun battle.

Some six juveniles from Nogales, Mexico, and about the same number from Nogales, Arizona, were standing along the border blasting away at each other with B-B guns.

SIGNALS CORSED
JACKSONVILLE, Ore. (AP)—Republican candidate Edwin Burns thinks his opponent, Democratic Rep. Charles O. Porter, must have gotten his mail solicitation list mixed up.

Burns got a letter asking him to contribute to Porter's campaign. He gave Porter a $1 check. It was a safe gift. Porter endorsed it and handed it back.

GORILLA
FARMINGDALE, N. J. (AP)—When the Jersey Jungle animal farm is open for business, Bobar the mechanical gorilla, stands at his post emitting ferocious roars and waving his arms to attract tourists.

In the off-season, Bobar usually stands silently, watching the cars roll by on Route 33.

But this year, the 9-foot gorilla, made of wood, chicken wire and canvas, started giving out a curious "chirp, chirp" through his jagged teeth.

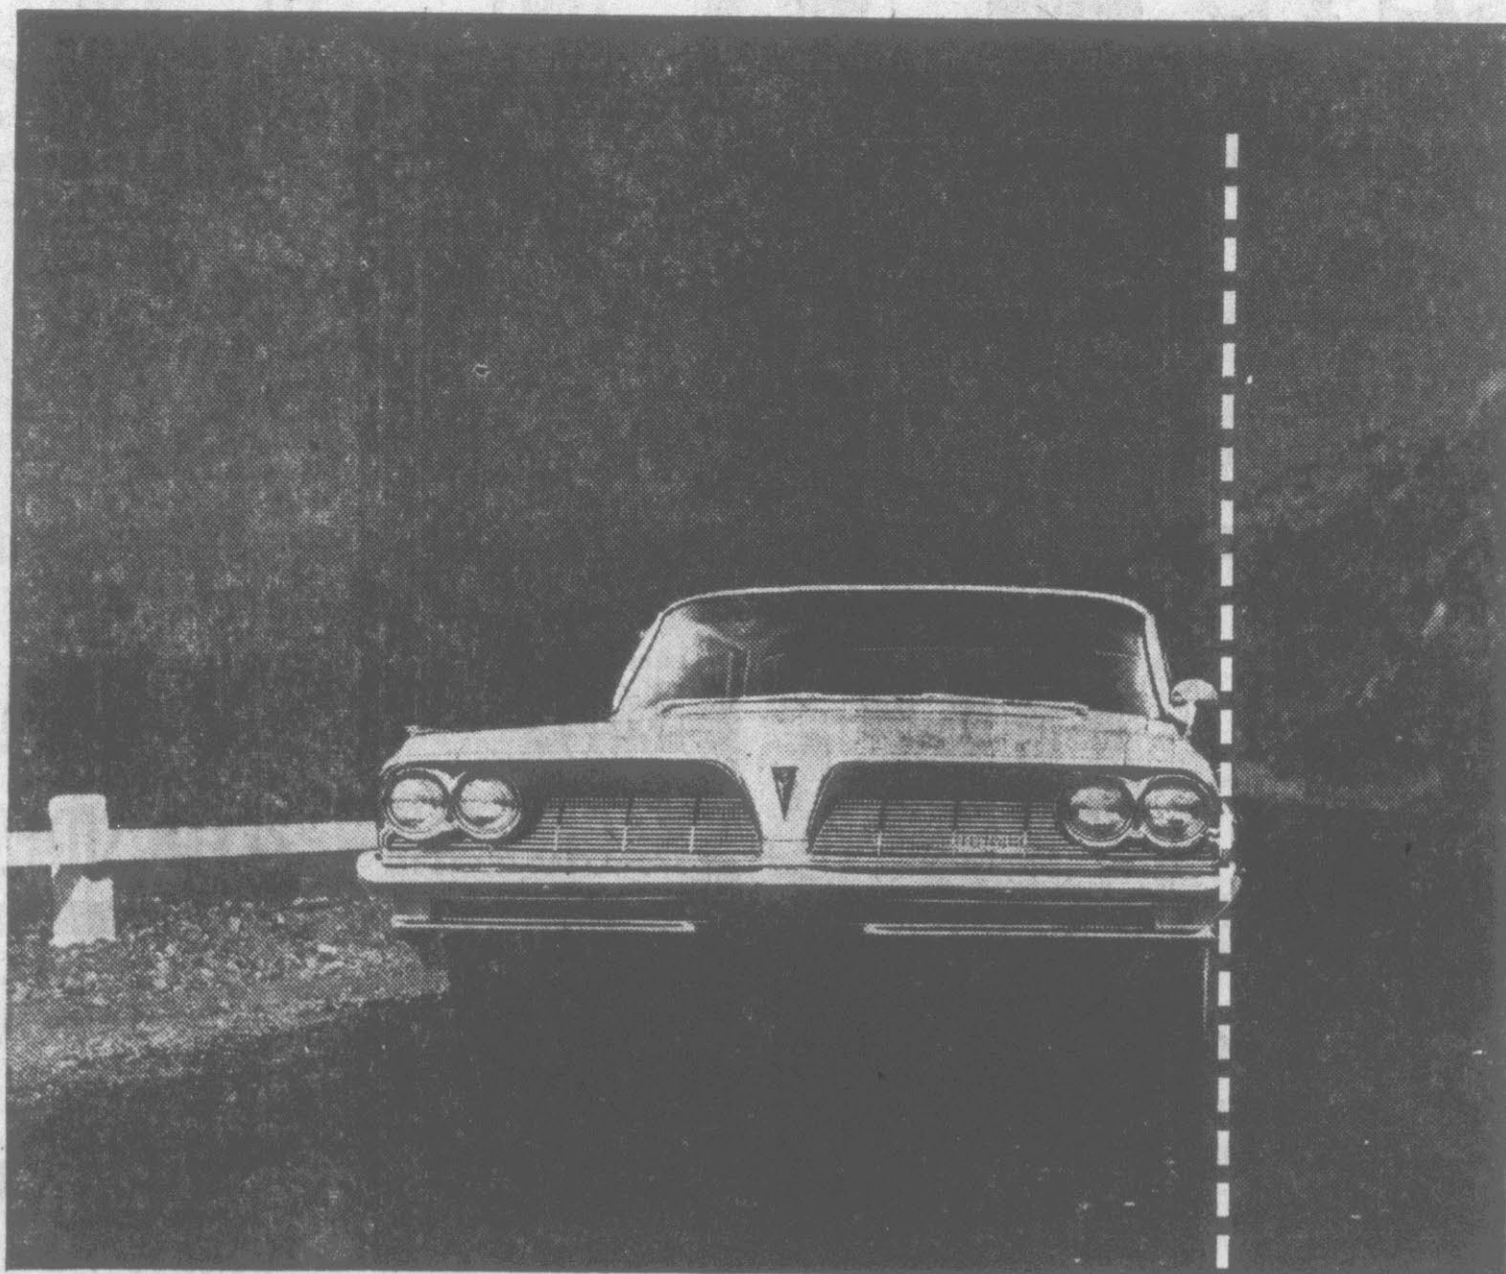

Investigation showed that a family of starlings had turned Bobar's head into a cozy, rainproof apartment.

Rehearsals Have Begun For Playhouse Production

Casting of Christopher Fry's "The Lady's Not For Burning" has been completed by the East Carolina College Playhouse, and rehearsals have begun.

The play, second in a 1960-1961 series of full-length plays to be presented by the college drama club, is scheduled for three performances, December 8, 9, and 10, at 8 p.m. in the McGinnis auditorium.

Dr. Robert T. Rickert of the department of English is director of the Fry drama. Bdn Avery of Goldsboro is assistant director; and Rose Gornio of Wilmington, production chief.

Peter Juhl of Tris Corner, Groton, Connecticut, and Priscilla Kilgore of Greenville will share honors in the leading roles of the play. Juhl, professional actor and student of voice at the college, will play Thomas Mendip, soldier of fortune who determines to save a woman accused of witchcraft, Jennet Jourdemayne, played by Miss Kilgore.

Others cast in major roles include Carole Barham of Rt. 1, Seaboard; James Bateman of Danville, Va.; Lois Garren of Greenville; Sanford Peele of Rt. 2, Wilson; Douglas Mitchell of Thomas Hill of Durham; and Pierre Benmouyal of Morocco.

Costumes and scenery for the play, which has a setting in England in 1400, are now being designed. Dr. Corinne Rickert of the faculty is originating the costumes. Art students under the direction of Paul Minnis of the faculty are in charge of scenery.

"The Lady's Not For Burning," was presented at the Globe Theatre in London in 1949 with John Gielgud, Richard Burton, and Claire Bloom as members of the cast.

Captain Cleared In Ship Collision

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The captain of one of two Navy destroyers that collided has been acquitted of two remaining specifications resulting from the collision, which took 11 lives.

Cmdr. Walter T. Ford, skipper of the USS Collett, was acquitted by a court-martial Wednesday of specifications concerning adequate watches in the combat information center and bridge and bow of the Collett.

He had pleaded guilty as the trial opened to a general charge of negligently hazarding his ship. Eleven crewmen of the other destroyer, the USS Amen, were killed in the July 19 collision off the Southern California coast.

Lt. Cmdr. Zaven Mukhallan, commander of the Amen, was not charged.

SPAIN 'REJOICES'

MADRID, Spain (AP)—A spokesman for the government said Wednesday night that "Spain rejoices over the election of (John F.) Kennedy as president."

Editor's note:

A message from Soviet Premier Khrushchev to President-Elect John F. Kennedy differs sharply in tone from some of Khrushchev's pre-election remarks. The possible significance is assessed in this interpretive article by John M. Hightower, veteran AP writer on diplomatic affairs.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev is already maneuvering for a summit conference with President-Elect John F. Kennedy. He has begun with soft words and this probably signifies a lull in the cold war for the next several months. Western diplomats here agree that Khrushchev's interest in resuming negotiations looking to a new summit meeting was behind the unusual message of congratulations which he dispatched to Kennedy Wednesday.

The Khrushchev message, made public in Moscow was notably free of some of the critical remarks he directed toward Kennedy before the election.

On one occasion he said that Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon were both "lackeys of monopoly capital." He also called them "a pair of boots," asking "which is better, the right or the left boot?"

In his congratulations to Kennedy, Khrushchev called for a return to the kind of Soviet-U. S. relations which existed in the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt at a time when the two countries were allied against Nazi Germany. But he went beyond that reference to the past.

He declared that in the interest of world peace the Soviet Union is ready "to continue the efforts to solve such a pressing problem as disarmament, to settle the German issue through the earliest conclusion of a peace treaty and to reach agreement on other questions."

"Any steps in this direction," he said in a sentence that could embrace both summit and diplomatic negotiations, "will always meet with the full understanding and support of the Soviet government."

Kennedy during the campaign declared himself willing to go to the summit but only on condition that "there is some reason to believe that a meeting of minds can be obtained on either Berlin, outer space, or general disarmament—including nuclear testing."

New Fire Alarm Boxes For Ayden

AYDEN—New fire alarm boxes have been received by the town of Ayden and will be installed in the near future, Town Manager Cleveland Paylor announced this week.

The boxes will be located throughout the strategic parts of town, Paylor said, in an expansion of the present fire alarm system. There are no fire alarm boxes in the town at present; fire alarms are telephoned in, Paylor said.

However, a number of years ago the town installed the Gamewell fire system, which provided for the present new boxes. After a citizen turns the alarm in at a fire box, the alarm will sound from the fire station.

Paylor said town officials are investigating the possibility of notifying firemen in their homes of fire alarms. This method would be especially useful in winter months when windows are down and home closed, so that firemen conceivably could miss hearing the alarm sounded from the fire station. This system is an electronic radio alarm system which would notify each fireman in his own home when an alarm is sounded, Paylor explained.

Tree Limb Falls On Light Line

AYDEN—Strong winds resulting from a cold front moving in this week caused a large limb to fall on a light line here, leaving part of the town without electricity for a short time.

Town Manager Cleveland Paylor said power was off Monday morning for about 45 minutes while the power line was repaired.

King-Size Jade In Front Yard

RIVERTON, Wyo. (AP)—Claude D. Fike has a 3½ to 4 ton boulder sitting on his front lawn. But it's not like any other boulder—it's Wyoming jade.

Fike said the rock may be the largest single piece of jade ever taken from the earth. He said much of the boulder is probably of gem value, but he's not going to cut it up.

"The way I see it," he said, "the value of this piece is in its size. It would be a shame to cut it up." Fike, a rockhound and retired farmer, ran across the find on Green Mountain near Lander, Wyo.

Minister Returns To Scene Of Dismissal Six Years Ago

By BRYAN HANSLIP
CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)—A Baptist minister has returned to the city he left after a heresy trial to continue his work of forging "bonds of Christian concern" toward colleges suffering in a struggle for racial equality.

The Rev. Julius Caesar Herrin was dismissed six years ago as Southern Baptist chaplain to students at the University of North Carolina because of his interracial and interdenominational activities.

He has returned under commission of the American (Northern) Baptist Convention to help ease economic pressures against nine colleges the American Baptists founded after the civil war.

The 47-year-old minister says the pressures have come mainly as a result of student sit-ins, and he believes the best aid would be through new ties of brotherhood with national church bodies.

In the years following the Civil War the convention encouraged the nine schools to stand independently. Links with the church became lost or vague.

With the help of a $40,000 grant from the Marshall Field Foundation, Inc., the Rev. Mr. Herrin will help decide whether the convention will resume an active role at the schools.

Today, these colleges have meager resources to meet demands of rising costs and expanding enrollments. "Half of our colleges had unpaid salaries at the end of May. That's how financially strapped they are," said Herrin.

Sit-in demonstrations against segregated lunch counters brought into sharp focus vulnerability of the colleges to economic attack.

In retaliation, the minister said, merchants in some towns have cut off credit to the colleges and some white faculty members had leases on their homes cancelled.

"We have been able to help some in these situations, by finding new sources of credit, and in other ways," Herrin said.

Improving race relations has been a concern of the North Carolina native for a long time.

He decided to return to Chapel Hill because he said it seemed a logical place to center the project with Negro colleges.

"The community here never was unfriendly," he explained. "It's a comfortable place for my wife and three children to live."

He stays on the go, with trips to confer with Northern Baptist Convention agencies and officials, and to visit the nine Negro colleges in seven Southern states affiliated with the convention.

The colleges are: Shaw University in Raleigh, N.C.; Benedict College, Columbia, S.C.; Mather College, Beaufort, S.C.; Spellman and Morehouse Colleges in Atlanta; Florida Normal and Industrial Memorial College, St. Augustine, Fla.; Leland College, Baker, La.; Bishop College, Marshall, Tex.; and Virginia Union University, Richmond, Va.

Herrin said the independence given the schools by the American Baptists, good at one stage of growth, now leaves the colleges weak in financial resources and vulnerable to pressure to conform to patterns of segregation.

One college last year received applications from white students in its area, but the president turned them down in fear of community reaction.

Still, there are signs long-held customs do change. Students of Bishop College participated in sit-in demonstrations just as the school was concluding a drive to raise one million dollars.

"Only $8,000 in pledges was lost as a result, and one white donor made that up with a $10,000 check," reported Herrin.

Despite encouraging progress, the path ahead is rocky.

"At a time when holding your own means going backward, we have got to find additional sources just to survive. Then we need to increase that to improve quality. It's a double lag," Herrin said.

Actress Is Suing Third Husband

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Joan Fontaine has sued her third husband, film producer Collier Young, for divorce Wednesday charging cruelty.

She said she has suffered mentally and physically from his treatment. They were married Nov. 12, 1952 and separated last May 30. Miss Fontaine is 43. Young is 48.

Fontaine said she was never "unfriendly," he explained. "It's a comfortable place for my wife and three children to live."

He stays on the go, with trips to confer with Northern Baptist Convention agencies and officials, and to visit the nine Negro colleges in seven Southern states affiliated with the convention.

The colleges are: Shaw University in Raleigh, N.C.; Benedict College, Columbia, S.C.; Mather College, Beaufort, S.C.; Spellman and Morehouse Colleges in Atlanta; Florida Normal and Industrial Memorial College, St. Augustine, Fla.; Leland College, Baker, La.; Bishop College, Marshall, Tex.; and Virginia Union University, Richmond, Va.

Rockefeller Shapes Up As 1964 Contender

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who failed to carry his home state for the Republican standard-bearer this week, nevertheless appears certain to emerge as a contender for the Republican nomination for president in 1964.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon on lost New York by 400,000 votes, although President Eisenhower carried it by 1.5 million in 1956 and Rockefeller was elected by more than a half-million votes two years ago.

But, despite this setback to Republican fortunes, Rockefeller's name is certain to loom large when the GOP starts seeking a national leader to restore the party to the victory trails.

Despite the handicaps, Rockefeller is in position to move into national leadership.

He established himself as a dominant influence in party affairs last summer when he prevailed upon Nixon to incorporate a large portion of the Rockefeller views in the GOP national platform.

Rockefeller would have two major barriers to assuming control of GOP national affairs: home-front problems and the animosity of the conservative Republican bloc.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a leader of the conservative element in the GOP, told a reporter at Phoenix, Ariz., Wednesday night: "If Mr. Rockefeller can't carry New York, he can't be reckoned a figure to be contended with in the Republican party."

There is no question that Rockefeller has lost ground in his home state since his upset election victory against a Democratic tide in 1958.

Shortly after his inauguration, Rockefeller put through a record tax increase that has been a source of controversy ever since.

To keep in the public eye, Rockefeller would have to win reelection in 1962. A victory seemingly would be much more difficult than it was two years ago.

But Rockefeller has shown ability to cut across party lines and win support from Democrats and independents. In addition, New York Democrats do not now appear to have a potential candidate to match Rockefeller's crowd appeal and grass-roots campaign techniques.

The governor obviously would have to overcome a reservoir of ill will he created among Republicans with his prolonged criticisms of Nixon last spring and early summer.

While the governor campaigned intensively for Nixon after the GOP convention, some Republican leaders are sure to feel that Rockefeller's earlier activities cost Nixon votes.

But memories of political leaders often are short when the question comes down to victory or defeat. Republican leaders would forgive Rockefeller a good deal if they thought he could help them recapture the White House.

Many GOP politicians disliked former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, but supported him because he was a winner in the state.

As governor of New York for at least two of those years, Rockefeller will be in an ideal position to keep himself before the public, to remind the GOP that he is ready, willing and, most likely, readily available.

Wanted More Than A Re-Count

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—When Sen. John F. Kennedy's presidential victory seemed imminent, a woman called the Chattanooga News-Free Press and demanded: "Why aren't all of the votes in the state recounted?"

She was told that the figures were rechecked constantly for accuracy.

"I don't just want them rechecked," she declared. "I want them changed."

Kennedy To Use Wyatt's Book

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Lt. Gov. Wilson Wyatt will have an indirect hand in President-Elect John F. Kennedy's pre-inauguration program.

Wyatt said Wednesday that a Kennedy aide has asked for a copy of a book Wyatt wrote in 1956 at the request of Adlai Stevenson.

Wyatt was Stevenson's campaign manager in 1952 and his personal advisor in 1956.

The book recommends times and methods for selecting aides, handling budget and foreign-military affairs, and other matters in the three-month period between the election of a president and his inauguration.

Television Influence On Politics Studied

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The experts and the analysts will be working over Tuesday's presidential vote for days and weeks to come and evaluating the influence of television on politics.

Whatever their conclusions, it is obvious that never before have so many people stayed up for so many hours glued to their television sets as the returns rolled into sight on the home screens. Though the audience staggered off to work Wednesday morning without having come to bed at all, "I just couldn't seem to turn off the damned set," complained any number of heavy-eyed, weary citizens.

And if the nightly television ratings for Wednesday night—including Perry Como—don't indicate a much greater than usual audience for all us stay-up-lates are catching up on sleep, I'll never believe another audience sample.

Those who managed to keep their eyes open past 3 a.m. were rewarded with one of the most dramatic moments of the long night of mounting voting returns. That was when Vice President Richard M. Nixon and his wife stepped before cameras and great poise—delivered his conditional concession. He handled himself very well and won much admiration. But every woman watching Pat Nixon could identify herself with this tired woman at her husband's side, trying—and failing—to conceal her disappointment.

Tips Tobacco

By S. J. WEEKS,
Pitt County Tobacco Agent

Tobacco is not as highly mechanized as some other crops but millions of horsepower are required to produce it. Modern machinery is replacing the horse and mule as the source of farm power being used. The tractor is the main source of farm power on the farm today. In order to get the most benefit from your equipment, it must be given proper care. Adequate and timely adjustments, repairs, lubrication, and protection against rust and other weather hazards, will largely determine the life of farm machinery. Lack of maintenance often causes breakdowns, which in turn can be costly both in loss of time in cultivation, spraying, dusting, or harvesting tobacco, and in expensive repair bills.

By using the information found in the operators manual, the normal life of a tractor on the average farm can be doubled. Dirt and grease are the worst enemies of the internal combustion engine. Use of proper grade of lubricating oil, and changing oil according to the manufacturer's recommendation is very important. Oil filter cartridges should be replaced frequently to protect the moving part of the engine and to reduce wear. Also, proper servicing of the air cleaner is very important because the tractor engine uses approximately 9000 gallons of air for each gallon of fuel burned.

When cultivation is complete, soil working tools should be cleaned regularly and protected from the weather. The use of rust preventive material on ground engaging parts will keep them in good shape for the next cultivation season.

Tobacco transplanters can be made to do a better job if they are properly adjusted and operated. After the crop is transplanted, the water tanks should be drained and stored in a dry place. All soil moving parts of the transplanter should be cleaned and protected from rust with a light coating of a rust preventive material.

Sprayers and dusters not properly cleaned when not in use do not usually work at the beginning of use in the next season. A machine that does not work properly will cause insecticide damage to leaves because of heavy and uneven applications.

One of the most important pieces of equipment on a tobacco farm is the curing system. Many barn fires and much poor grade tobacco can be traced to improperly operated curing systems. They should be completely checked before the first tobacco is barned. Information concerning specific units can be obtained from the manufacturer.

The grower who takes proper care of his equipment will be repaid by its greater efficiency and longer life.

Lightning Struck Home 3 Times

KINGSTREE, S. C. (AP)—Don't tell DeWitt Joye that old adage about lightning never striking twice in the same place. His seven-year-old brick home has been struck three times in four years, and damaged each time.

The latest strike burned up a bed, tore holes in a plaster ceiling, scorched a washing machine and knocked out service on two telephones.

Caught A Fish Bigger Than She

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Bettie Sears of suburban El Cajon, who weighs less than 140 pounds, caught a 419-pound fish.

It was a sea bass, taken by Mrs. Sears from a sports fishing boat near the Coronado Islands, 20 miles southwest of here. Sports fishing officials here said it was the largest fish of record caught with medium tackle.

Polio Incidence Is Seeing Drop

NEW YORK — Incidence of poliomyelitis in the United States for the full year 1960 will be well below that for any year since the introduction of the Salk vaccine in 1955, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company statisticians predict.

On the basis of the 2,127 cases of the disease reported in the first 38 weeks of the year, the statisticians estimate that there will be approximately 3,000 cases by year's end. This compares with 8,425 cases in 1959, and with 5,465 for 1957, the smallest number for any year since 1942. About 29,000 cases were reported in 1955, and in the immediate pre-Salk era, 1950-54, the annual number averaged close to 39,000.

Of the polio cases reported so far this year, 67 per cent were specified as paralytic, compared with 62 per cent a year ago.

The downward trend in the incidence of polio since 1955 was general in all areas of the nation, the statisticians report. In the Middle Atlantic states, for example, the case rate per 100,000 population decreased from 15.8 in 1950-54 to 12.6 in 1955, then fell sharply to 1.0 in 1957 and 2.4 in 1959. In New England, the rate in 1955 was 57.7 per 100,000, or nearly four times that in 1950-54; it fell to 2.6 in 1956, and further to less than 1 per 100,000 in 1957 and 1959. Although the case rate rose to 4.1 per 100,000 in 1959, this was still only about one fourth that in the pre-Salk period.

"It now appears that poliomyelitis can be virtually eradicated in the United States," the Metropolitan statisticians conclude.

Library Hoard Rapidly Growing

CHAPEL HILL—The North Carolina Collection at the University of North Carolina Library, already beginning to overflow its available books and pamphlets.

With its all-inclusive goal of collecting everything and everything in the way of printed North Carolina, the rapid growth of the Collection is not surprising. In addition to the catalogued books and pamphlets, there are 1,523 reels of microfilm, two thousand maps, and 29 sound recordings. These are all fully catalogued. Not catalogued, but arranged in usable five thousand clippings, nearly ten thousand pictures, and over five thousand manuscripts.

In books and pamphlets the North Carolina Collection is larger than most public libraries in the state. The Collection's total holdings in all types of material is more than 312,000 items.

During this census year a special effort is being made to collect new kinds of material which will fully document North Carolina for future researchers. Before the end of the year it is expected that a copy of every telephone directory issued for us in the state during 1960 will be added to the permanent files of the Collection. Sample menus from around the state are being gathered in. A request has gone out to a number of ministers for copies of sermons preached during the year. Renewed efforts to collect the type material regularly sought by the Collection have had good results, and the year 1960 should be no mystery to anyone in the future who seeks to know what happened in North Carolina during this year.

Flue-Cured Leaf Sales Topped 1959's Records

RALEIGH (AP)—Gross sales of flue-cured tobacco on the Eastern North Carolina Belt this season totaled $268,866,547, an increase of $61,090,436 over 1959.

The Federal-State Market News Service, in releasing final figures today, said the belt set a record high average of $60.68 per hundred pounds, up $2.77 from last year.

The volume of 443,107,260 pounds exceeded the previous year by 84,341,020 pounds, largest since 1956. The Eastern Belt ended sales Nov. 4 after 53 selling days. The quality of the crop as a whole was better than last year, the agency reported. Much less poor quality and nondescript were sold. More low to good grades appeared and the percentage of cutters increased. Leaf was sold in larger volume.

About 47 per cent of the government grade averages were down, 36 per cent up and 17 per cent showed no change in price.

The decreases were chiefly for the better quality grades and ranged from $1 to $4. Increases were mainly in green and variegated grades of all groups and nondescript. Gains were from $1 to $11, but most were $2 to $4. Variegated tobacco of smoking leaf and lugs was in particular good demand.

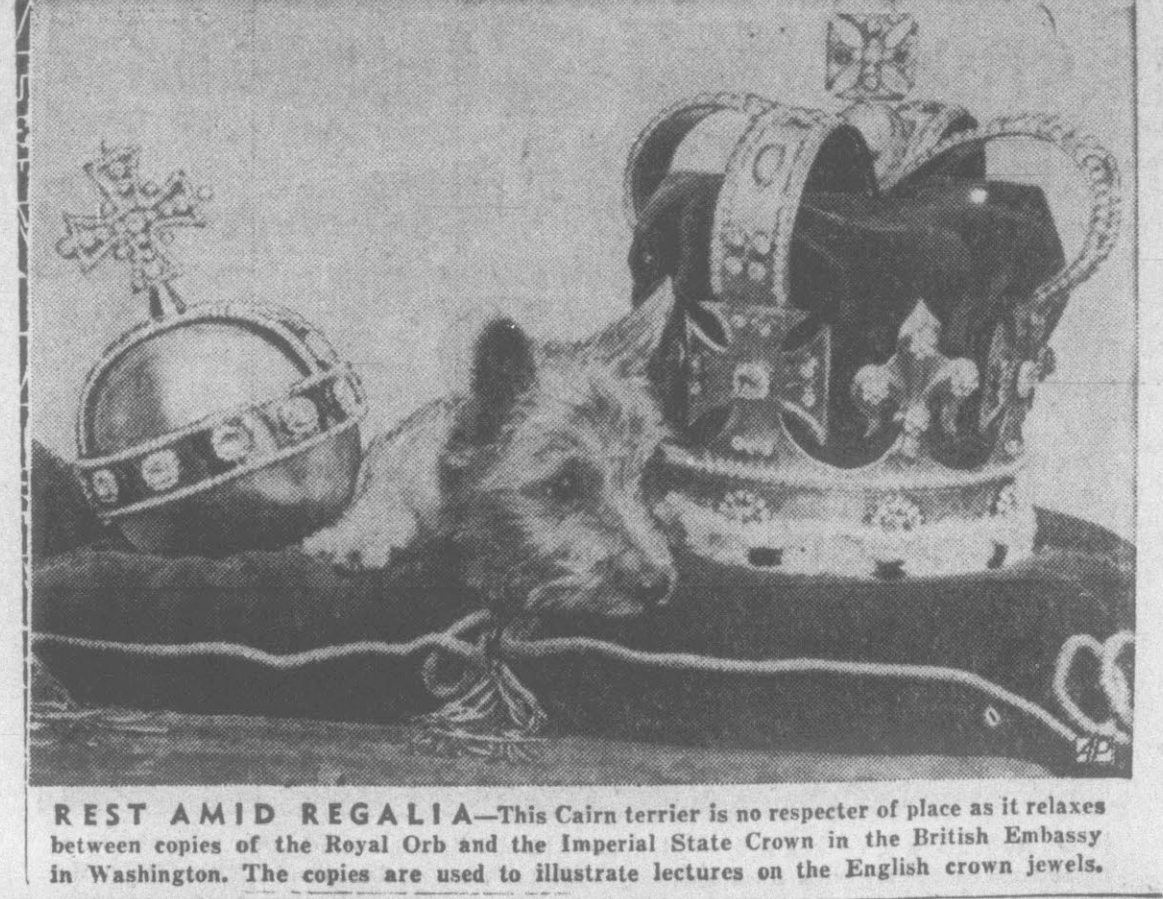

During the season growers delivered 19,182,532 pounds, or 4.3 per cent of gross sales, to the Stabilization Corp. under the government loan program. This was 2.2 per cent more than in 1959.

Science Seeks To Reduce Toll In Airplane Wrecks

By SHELBY SCATES

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Spurred by the belief that many of the deaths in air crashes are unnecessary, a small group of scientists here are working to reduce the toll.

They staff the Federal Aviation Agency's new aero-medical research center.

"At least 80 per cent of aircraft fatalities are in survivable accidents—accidents where the fuselage of the aircraft remains intact," says John J. Swearingen, who has studied the impact of crashes on humans for the last 10 years.

"We've got to start catching up with the aircraft engineers in our research or the engineers won't be able to go any further."

Swearingen, a physiologist, is assistant to Dr. Robert Clark, acting director of the research center. Clark says the first task of the 176-man staff, which began research last March, is a study of age in air crews.

"The way we consider age does not necessarily mean years," he says. "It means reactions and reserves."

The center's staff will try to determine the point of diminishing returns in the pilot's reactions and reserves.

There are other cockpit problems that will be studied. "We need to know just how many knobs and buttons a pilot can operate under certain conditions and where those objects should be located," says Clark.

The center also will study the role of the air traffic controller. In a time of dwindling airspace and crowded airways, his role is becoming increasingly vital and nerve racking. Clark and his staff want to know the limits of men directing jet-paced traffic from the control towers.

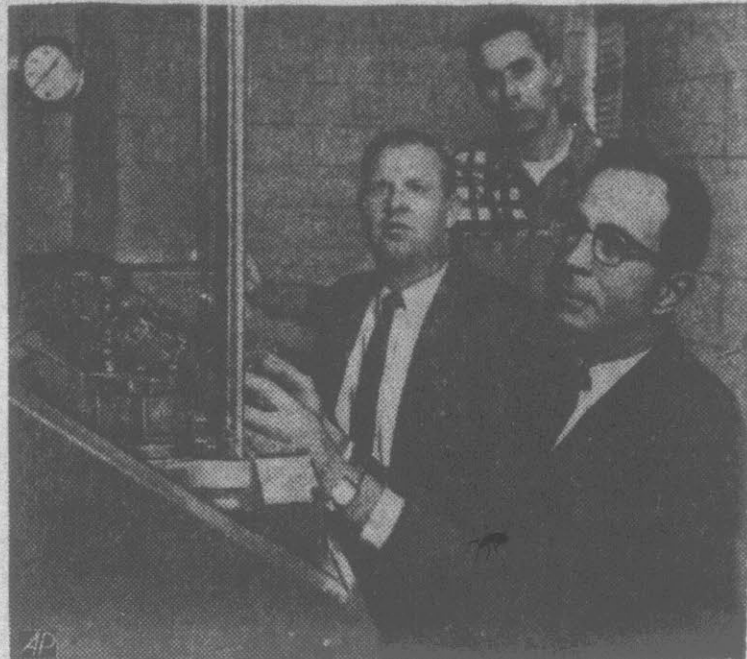

Celebrates With Announcement

RUMSON, N.J. (AP)—Rep. James C. Auchincloss has celebrated re-election to Congress by announcing his impending marriage to Miss Vera Bron of New York. He is 75, she is 65.

The Monmouth County Republican, who was elected to his 10th term Tuesday, plans to be married Nov. 18 at the First Presbyterian Church in New York.

Auchincloss is a widower, with two grown sons and eight grandchildren.

Miss Bron came to New York from her native Chicago and first met Auchincloss 25 years ago. She worked as his secretary when he was a governor of the New York Stock Exchange.

OPERATION SURVIVAL—J. J. Swearingen (right), chief of the protection and survival branch of the FAA's Aero-Medical Research Center, handles controls of the center's pressure chamber. With him are E. B. McFadden (left), physiologist, and J. G. Blithrow, human biologist.

Most aero-medical research so far has been conducted by the military. There is a touch of irony in this, as Dr. Clark suggests:

"In the military the person is expendable. He has to be if the machine is to carry out its mission. But civilian aviation's mission is to get the passenger to his destination safely."

There has been limited civilian research in the medical aspects of flight, most of it on crash survival. Swearingen and his 13-man staff have played a major part in this.

They have made break-throughs. Consider the airline passenger's seat.

"Experiments have shown the human body can withstand a tremendous force if that force is spread over the body and not concentrated at one point," says Swearingen.

"If we could engineer a seat that would hold to the fuselage under the impact of a crash, then face the seat to the rear, there would be a definite increase in crash survivals.

"Instead of absorbing the impact with a seat belt, the passenger would absorb it over the entire area of his body."

The crash of a burning airliner in Tulsa, Okla., led to another discovery.

"The passengers were apparently unhurt by the crash, but it took a lot of urging by stewards to get them to leave their seats," says Swearingen. "It was puzzling."

The reason for this curious behavior, he now believes, is vertical impact. The passengers were stunned when the plane sat down.

Swearingen says research has shown that four inches of plastic foam placed under the passenger's seat would triple his tolerance to vertical impact.

The center will move into a new multi-million dollar building next July.

TOKYO'S VIEW

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese Foreign Minister Zenaro Kosaka Wednesday predicted a more energetic but basically unchanged U.S. foreign policy under the presidency of Democrat John F. Kennedy.

The opposition Socialists said Kennedy's victory probably would make it easier for them to realize the neutralist policy that they want Japan to adopt.

Schools Of New Orleans Seized By Committee

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The New Orleans School Board today adopted a wait-and-see attitude today following a legislative committee's seizure of the city's public school system to block federally-ordered integration.

An eight-man committee of the Louisiana Legislature grabbed control of the schools Tuesday, acting under authority of segregation measures signed into law a day earlier by Gov. Jimmie H. Davis.

The deadline for dropping racial barriers in first grade classrooms is next Monday, under a ruling by U. S. Judge J. Skelly Wright.

Lloyd Rittner, president of the school board, said last night that the board "would just sit tight and see what happens."

"The board is completely out of the picture now," he said.

A special session of the Legislature exercised the state's sovereignty and interposed itself between the federal courts and the school system.

The school board had planned to put into effect a pupil placement plan whereby five Negro girls would be admitted to previously all-white schools.

The committee, headed by Rep. Risley Triche of Assumption Parish (County), who ramrodded passage of 28 segregation bills through the Legislature, huddled Tuesday night in Baton Rouge with Dr. James F. Redmond, superintendent of the New Orleans schools.

Afterwards, Redmond said the committee had asked him to continue as superintendent.

"The schools will run on Monday just as they were today," Redmond said.

"My concern is to maintain our schools for the 90,000 boys and girls in New Orleans."

Earlier Tuesday, in Washington the White House said there was no plan to send troops into Louisiana's largest city to enforce the integration order and prevent violence.

Irregularities Found But Vote Will Stand

RALEIGH (AP)—Results of an election approving beer and wine sales in Hendersonville have been upheld by the State Supreme Court, although the court found evidence of irregularities in the vote.

The opinions handed down by the court Wednesday said Superior Court Judge George Fountain acted correctly in refusing to issue an order to restrain beer and wine sales, a group of citizens had sought to void results of the special election, held last March 2, on the ground of irregularities.

"There are some irregularities in many elections—as much as they are to be expected, but as a general rule, the misconduct of election officials will not vitiate an election unless it is shown that the result was affected thereby," the opinion said.

The high court said a study of the record showed evidence that James A. Stuits, identified as an employee of the Beer Association of North Carolina, and Ben Israel, identified as a Hendersonville man and owner of a store known as the Greasy Pig, had violated the state law which makes vote buying a felony.

In another case, the Supreme Court sent back to Beaufort County for a new trial a damage suit resulting from a fatal airplane crash. A Beaufort County jury had awarded $100,000 damages.

The opinion said the new trial was ordered because Judge Walter J. Bone erred in his instructions to the jury. The action was brought by Carl C. Jackson, as administrator of the estate of Joseph E. Taylor, and by Edward Smith, against Stencil Flying Service, Thomas E. Stencil Jr., and Joseph Morena Rovers, pilot for Stencil. Taylor was killed and Smith was injured in the crash which occurred at Washington, N. C., Sept. 16, 1957.

A ruling by Judge Walter Johnston in Forsyth Superior Court that the state's fair trade law is unconstitutional was reversed by the Supreme Court. It held that the constitutional question was not before Judge Johnston in the case brought by Union Carbide Corp. against D&J Market of Winston-Salem. Union Carbide sought to prevent the market from selling an anti-freeze at less than fair trade price.

The Supreme Court said the only question was on whether a temporary restraining order should be made permanent until the cases were finally decided. It sent the case back for a hearing on the question.

BARDEN DONATES PAPERS TO DUKE

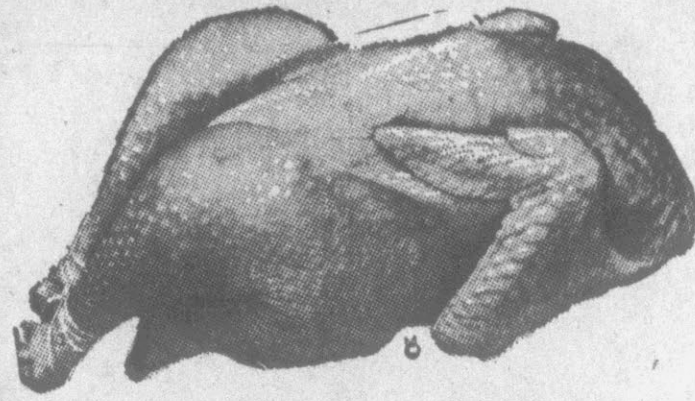

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—Rep. Graham A. Barden, D-N.C., retiring after 26 years in the House, has donated his official papers to the Duke University Library.

Barden was chairman of the powerful Committee on Education and Labor. A Duke spokesman said his papers include correspondence and documents on committee hearings about labor legislation and federal aid to education. The collection will fill about 56 filing drawers. Library officials said it will require a few months to catalogue and file the papers.

A GLOBAL MISSILE BOMBER IS BORN

As last B52G moves out into the night, first of B52Hs (foreground) moves in to take its place. The "G" has a plus-9,000 mile range, carries nuclear bombs plus two Hound Dog missiles that can go more than 500 miles farther at supersonic speed. The "H" will go faster, higher, farther—and carry Skybolt missiles, solid fuel ballistic missiles credited with a 1,000 mile range at 3,500 miles per hour.

1. First step in birth of first B52H—fuselage sections swing into place in "join" position as workmen wheel up scaffolding to work on them.

At an airplane plant in Wichita, Kan., the general foreman in final assembly blew a referee's whistle the other night. What followed was like a gigantic, slow-paced dance of 244-ton metal pachyderms.

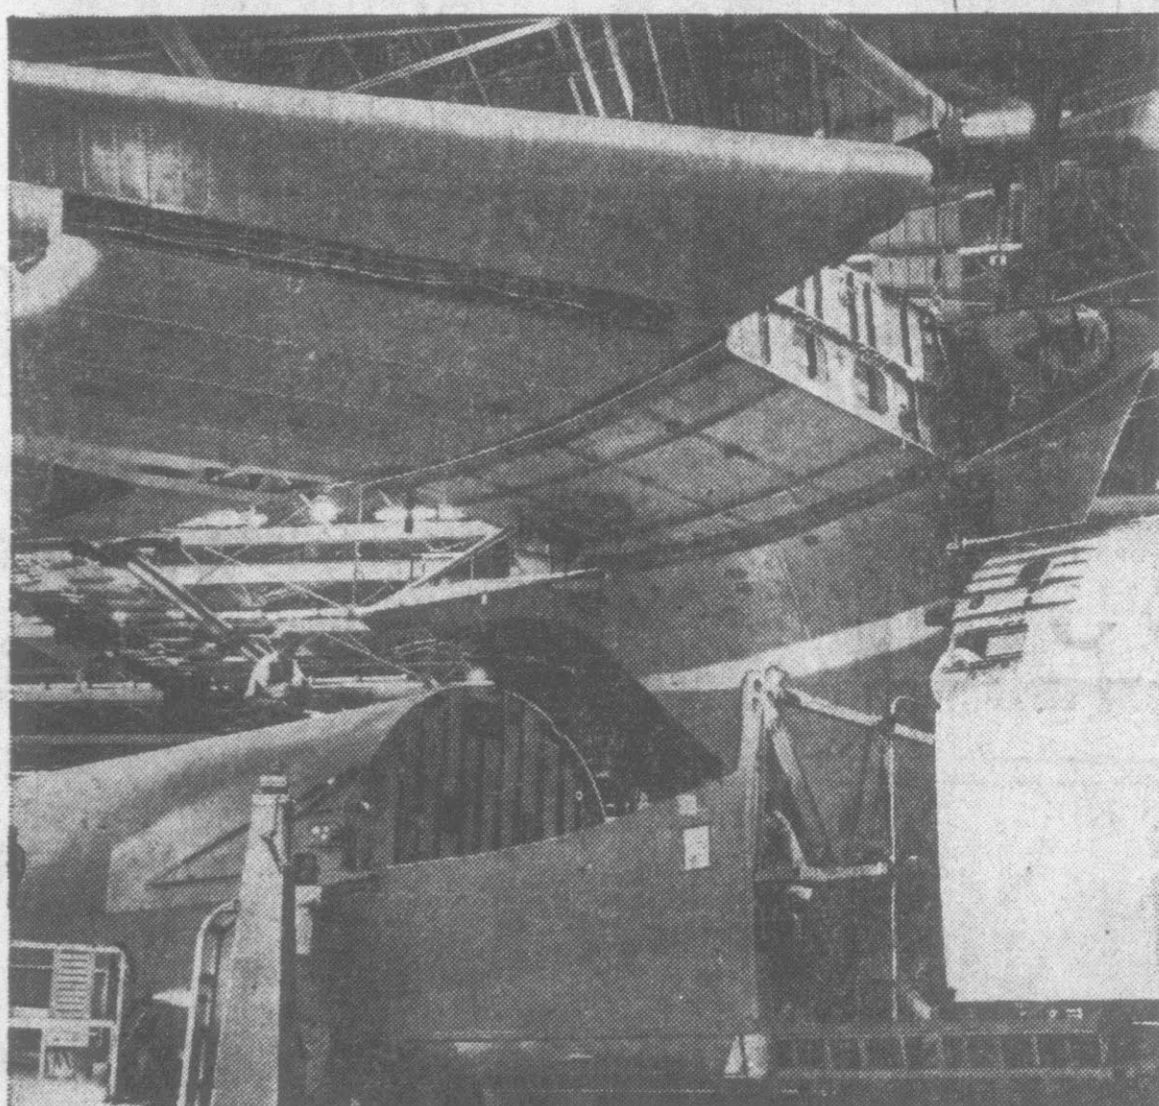

The last of the Boeing global jet bombers of the B52G model rolled out of the towering hanger. The first of the new B52H models, faster, more deadly over a greater range, slipped sideways into its place, to get its finishing touches. Another B52H moved forward, and a third angled to where that one had been.

And in the same synchronized 40 minutes, as men on foot and in towing tractors shoved and pulled the metal giants through their steps, other men in the tiny cabs of electric cranes shuttled under the roof beams high overhead, guiding major parts of a fourth B52H into the "join" spot where each new global missile bomber is born. Probably 10,000 firms in at least 42 states provided parts for the new bomber.

The next dance—the date still unannounced for security reasons—will be the coming out party for the U. S. Air Force's first B52H.

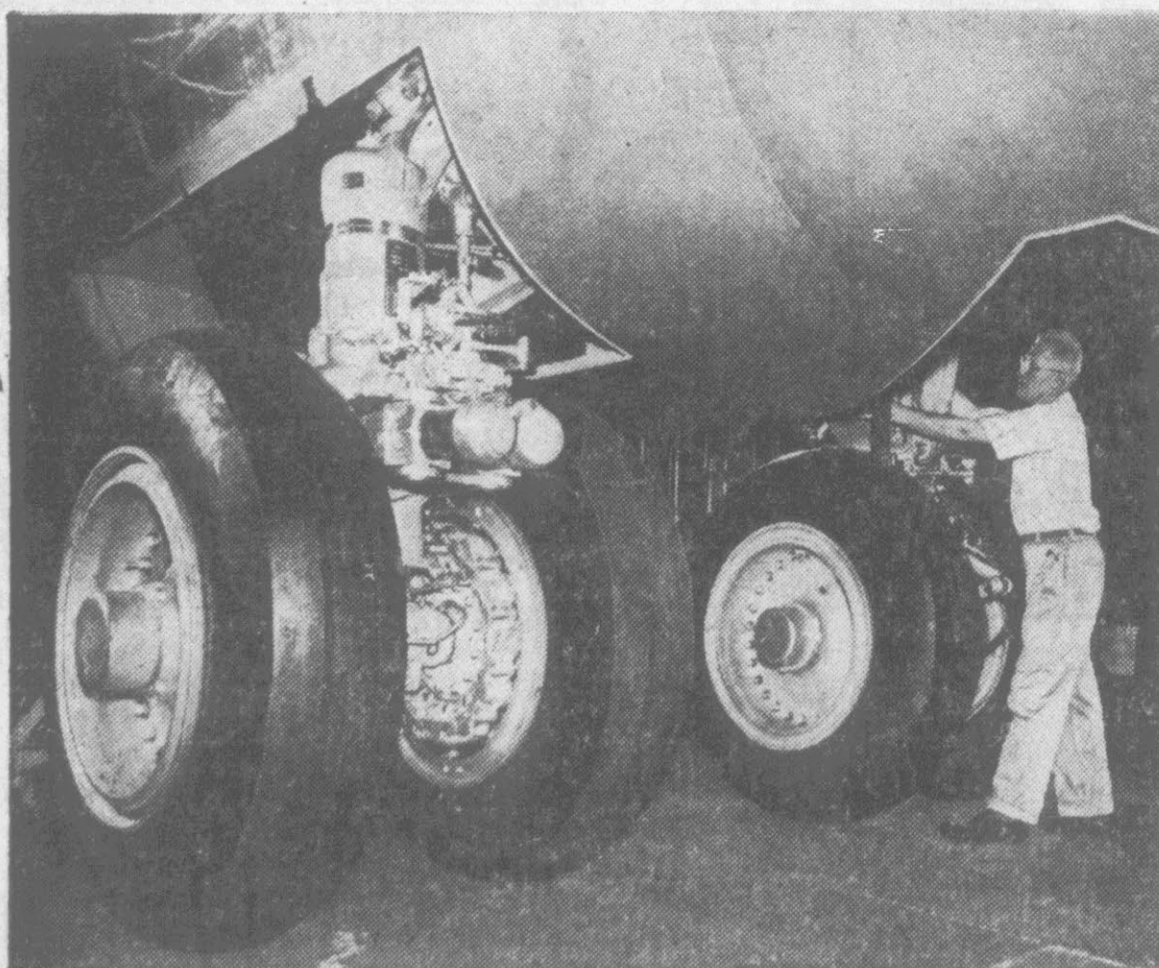

How the B52H is being readied for its debut is pictured here, step by step.

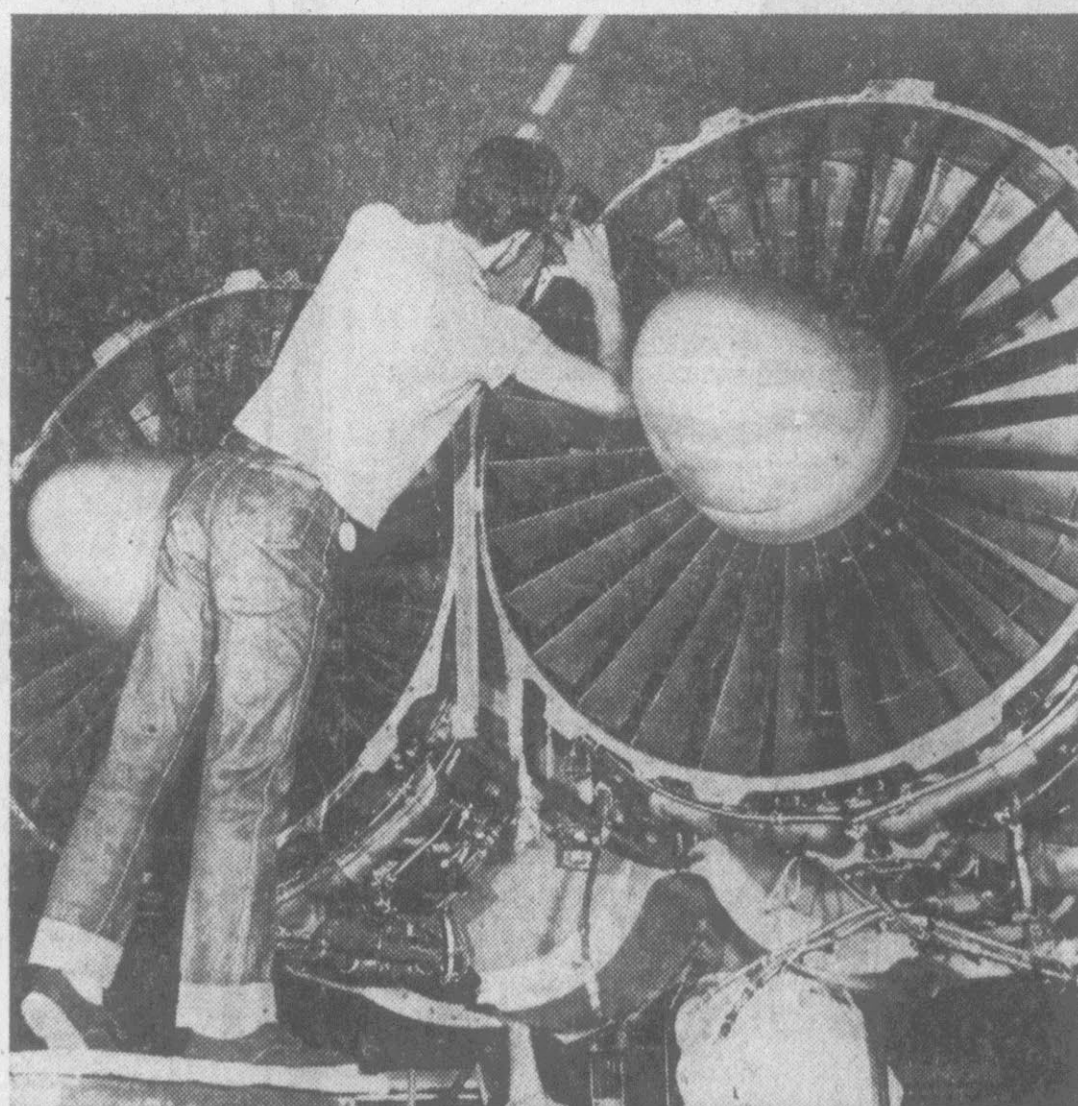

2. Wing section, swung from electric cranes on overhead tracks, moves into place. Workmen are ready to secure wing as it drops into place.

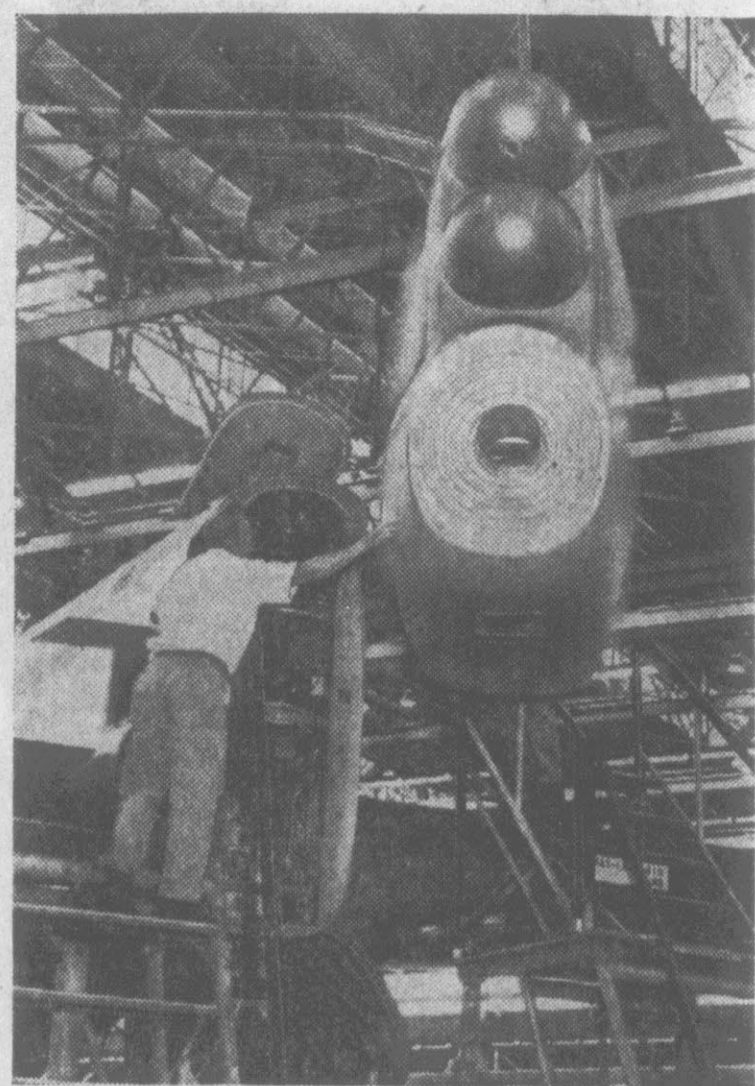

3. In 10 minutes from start, new bomber takes shape as outboard wing assemblies are added.

4. New bomber's wheels go into place. It's almost ready to move into its second position in the final assembly line.

5. Huge turbofan engines are next, fitting in twin pods on wings after first line move. They spell greater speed and range for the new "H".

6. The tail "stinger" swings into place. This turret will have a 20mm. cannon that will blast 4,000 shells per minute at any pursuing planes.

Kennedy Confronts Hurdles In Conservative Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-Elect John F. Kennedy's promised package of economic welfare measures will face a number of tough hurdles in the first session of the 87th Congress.

But the new chief executive also will have several things in his favor as he tries to put through four proposals which he repeatedly told his campaign crowds would be high on the agenda of a Kennedy administration.

The four are minimum wage liberalization, a medical care program tied to the Social Security system, federal aid to education, and depressed areas legislation. These have been debated for years; all were hot issues in the last Congress, but failed of enactment because of vetoes or a legislative snarl or just plain lack of votes.

On the debit side for Kennedy in his drive to win passage of the measures will be:

1. The closeness of his popular vote victory, which foes of the measures can interpret as meaning he has no mandate for his program.
2. The falling off of Democratic majorities in both Senate and House.
3. The stiff opposition of many groups and particular economic interests to the four measures; this has contributed heavily to their defeat so far.

4. The likelihood of a continued conservative Democratic - Republican majority on the House Rules Committee. This body has wide roadblock powers, but efforts may be made to trim these when the new Congress meets.

On the credit side:

1. The important powers of a new president, which Kennedy has had a chance to study from the congressional viewpoint for 14 years. These include the appointive power and the job of drawing up the federal budget with all its far-reaching ramifications.
2. The affirmative White House leadership which Kennedy will give in behalf of the measures, in contrast to President Eisenhower's opposition to them.

3. The switch in the chairmanship of the House Labor and Education Committee from conservative Rep. Graham Barden D-N.C. to liberal Rep. Adam Clayton Powell R-N.Y. This committee handles the wage and school bills. Barden is retiring from Congress.

Depressed areas legislation would seem to have the best chance of quick action in the 1961 session. Democrats got such a measure through in 1958 and 1960, but Eisenhower each time killed it with a veto.

The legislation is designed to help areas of high and chronic unemployment attract new industries with federal loans, grants and technical aid.

But branches passed minimum wage bills this year but the House measure offered much less than the Senate bill which Kennedy sponsored.

This legislation then died in conference when a conservative House delegation led by Barden refused to accept any liberalizations in the House measure.

Both House and Senate also passed differing education bills in the 1960 session, but no action resulted because the House Rules Committee refused to let them go to conference.

The question of writing a medical care program into Social Security stirred one of the biggest fights of the 1960 session.

In the end Congress rejected this and instead increased greatly the federal share of medical costs under the public assistance program for indigent persons.

But the Senate vote against the Social Security proposal was close and several Democrats said they favored the alternative because Eisenhower had indicated he would veto the Social Security plan. They said they expected medical benefits to be added to Social Security when the time was ripe.

The new Senate will be 64-36 Democratic instead of 66-34 as in the past Congress. In the House, the Democrats apparently lost a net of 22 seats. With 5 races undecided, the lineup so far for the 87th Congress is 257-175 Democratic as compared with 283-154 in the 86th.

California Republican Era Ends With Nixon Defeat

By MORRIE LANDSBERG

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A Republican era has ended in California.

Once there was a GOP Big 4: Earl Warren, William F. Knowland, Goodwin J. Knight and Richard M. Nixon.

Each became a national figure. Each tried for or dreamed of higher office.

Earl Warren showed his party how to keep friends with the ever-increasing Democratic majority of voters.

Democrats helped him win three terms as governor.

Republicans tapped him for the 1960 presidential nomination in 1948; but they liked Dwight D. Eisenhower better for president in 1952.

Warren became Chief Justice of the United States in October 1953.

Knowland, a state assemblyman at 25, was a young Army major in Europe when Warren, an old friend of the family, named him to succeed the late Hiram Johnson in the U.S. Senate on Aug. 14, 1945.

Knowland, then 37, rose high in the U.S. Senate during his 14 years there—majority leader, then minority leader, and a leader of the Republican conservative wing.

Perhaps with an eye on the 1960 presidential race, he gave it all up in 1958 to run for governor. Democratic Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown defeated him by more than one million votes.

Knight, as lieutenant governor, finally stepped into the office he so long wanted when Warren resigned to sit on the Supreme Court.

In 1954, Knight and Knowland teamed to defeat a move by Nixon supporters to seize control of the state GOP.

Knight clashed with Nixon in advance of the 1956 Republican Convention. In 1958, he announced his candidacy for re-election, and bumped head-on into Knowland's gubernatorial ambitions.

Knight withdrew and tried instead for the U.S. Senate. He lost to Democratic Rep. Clair Engle.

Nixon soared out of nowhere to a spectacular political career.

He was elected to Congress in 1946 from his Whittier home district; re-elected in 1948; elected to the Senate in 1950.

Nixon went back to Chicago in 1952 as a Warren-pledged member of the California Republican delegation and left as his party's nominee for vice president. He was 39 then. On the same platform in Chicago last July he accepted the GOP nomination for president.

On Tuesday, the American voters chose John F. Kennedy and Nixon went down to his first election defeat.

Found Guilty On Battery Count

LOS ANGELES (AP)—John Hopkins, who said he went to Frank Sinatra's aid in a parking lot scrap, has been convicted of battery.

Hopkins, 42, denied being Sinatra's bodyguard and identified himself as stage manager for entertainer Sammy Davis Jr., one of Sinatra's associates.

A municipal judge found Hopkins guilty Wednesday after Eddie Moran, parking lot attendant, testified that Sinatra became enraged because another attendant had allegedly driven an auto too close to him. When Moran went to the other man's defense, he said, Sinatra ordered Hopkins to "get him."

Moran said Hopkins struck him about the head several times and he had to get treatment at a hospital. Moran has a civil suit for $100,000 damages pending against Sinatra. Sentencing of Hopkins was set for Nov. 16.

Lost Her Second Congress Race

ALTADENA, Calif. (AP)—The granddaughter of William Jennings Bryan lost her second attempt to win a congressional seat.

Rudd Brown, 40, a Democrat, was defeated by Republican incumbent Edgar W. Hiestand, 72, in the 21st district, 171,094 to 124,067.

Mrs. Brown's husband is geochimist Harrison Brown of the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena. She was a vigorous supporter of Democrat John F. Kennedy for president.

It was her second bid for Hiestand's seat.

Motor vehicle fatalities in the first half of 1960 resulted in 23,000 life insurance death claims for a total of 62 million dollars, according to the Institute of Life Insurance.

73-Year-Old Boris Karloff Keeps Busy

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Arriving at his 50th year as an actor, Boris Karloff has this to say:

"It's amazing! Imagine me, at my age—73—still active in my profession and commuting 12,000 miles to work! I must be the luckiest man in the world."

That's Karloff, one of Hollywood's nicest paradoxes. The archetype of horror ever since he played the tall-browed monster in "Frankenstein," he has remained the gentlest of gentlemen. I caught him in a reflective mood out at Universal Studios.

His reflection was not due to his golden anniversary as an actor, which he mentioned only casually. He reminisced because he was working on the Phantom Stage, so named because "Phantom of the Opera" was filmed on it.

"I worked on this stage many a time," he recalled. "Most of the 'Frankensteins' were shot on Stage 12, but some of the scenes were done on the Phantom Stage. This lot holds many memories for me."

I wondered if all the memories were pleasant ones. After all, he was and is a polished performer, yet the general public sees him in the image of the hulking, brainless monster.

"Me worry about type casting?" he asked. "Good heavens, no! The monster was the best friend I ever had. I only played him three times, so I wasn't stuck with him. 'Certainly I was typed. But what is typing? It is a trade mark, a means by which the public recognizes you. Actors work all their lives to achieve that. Companies spend millions of dollars to establish trade marks. I got mine with just one picture. It was a blessing."

The Karloff trade mark made him the logical candidate to host the new NBC series, "Thriller." To perform his duties, he engages in a rigorous schedule for any person, much less a 73-year-old. After living 50 years in the New World, Karloff has returned to live in his native land.

"I think every person feels the urge to return to his homeland after he has been away a number of years."

Karloff left England in 1909, eager for an acting career instead of the family tradition in civil service. He started in amateur theatricals in western Canada, came to Hollywood in 1919. "But my presence here was a well-kept secret until 1931."

That was the year of "Frankenstein" and the making of him.

Election Walk

RUTHERFORDTON, N.C. (AP)

"If Rutherford County goes Republican in this election," said Hal H. Justice to J. B. Walls as the men rode together to work shortly before Tuesday's election, "I'll get out and walk to work."

The county went Republican, and Wednesday at 8:40 p.m. he started walking to work. Justice hoped to negotiate the 18 miles by 8 a.m. today.

Just to make sure, Walls said he planned to stay up all night and check occasionally. And sympathetic friends (who may be Democrats), agreed to supply Justice with coffee and warm food since below freezing temperatures were anticipated.

Painters Safe As Scaffold Slips

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — High over a busy street crossing two sign painters clung desperately to ropes on a scaffold that had slipped one end of its support and swayed giddily.

A tense crowd of over 700 shouted encouragement to the men, employees of an outdoor advertising firm, and cheered firemen trying to rescue them Wednesday with an extension ladder that wouldn't reach quite far enough.

The men were at the top of a 10-story building in midcity, getting ready to paint over a sign just under the roof.

Charles Bremme, 25, and John Krause, 45, were lowered on the 20-foot scaffold. Their mate, Harry Leon, 25, stayed on the roof. A rope gave way, the scaffold fell to an angle of about 45 degrees. All three cried out for help. That roused a traffic policeman, who got the firemen.

Let out to its fullest, the aerial ladder was still a couple of feet from Bremme's grasp. As there seemed nothing else to do, Bremme finally let go the rope and dropped to the tip of the ladder, landing true. Other firemen joined Leon on the roof and pulled Krause to safety.

Prices paid producers for clean, unsized eggs, delivered nearby grading stations on a Grade-yield basis, cases exchanged: Grade A large, whites 53 to 54½, mostly 53½ to 54½, browns 53½ to 55; medium, whites 40½ to 43, mostly 41 to 41½, browns 41½ to 43; smalls, whites 33 to 36, mostly 35 to 36, browns 36 to 37.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market churned ahead in an irregular advance early this afternoon. Trading moderated after an active start.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .50 at 212.90 with the industrials up .80, the rails up .70 and the utilities down .10.

Gains of key stocks outbalanced losses. The advances ran from fractions to a point or 2 with losers moving in the same range. The thin margin of Sen. John F. Kennedy's election as president was seen as a restraint against any drastic economic changes which might hurt business, and there was reassurance to Wall Street.

Aircraft, steels, chemicals, rails, building materials, retail mail orders and electronics helped the advance. Autos and utilities were unchanged to lower, oils narrowly mixed.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.59 at 603.64. Corporate and U.S. government bonds were narrowly mixed.

Alabama Awaits Word On How Votes Will Go

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Alabamians today awaited word from the state's six unpledged Democratic presidential electors on how they will vote in the Electoral College Dec. 19.

The state's other five Democratic presidential electors said they would support the national party's choice — President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Gov. John Patterson called Wednesday on the six unpledged electors to support Kennedy. He interpreted the Democratic majority in this state as a clear-cut expression on sentiment for Kennedy.

But the unpledged group steadfastly withheld commitments, as they have since last spring. They plan a meeting at a date to be set to formally agree on a course of action.

Resumption Of Atomic Testing Said Necessary

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Robert E. Wilson, member of the Atomic Energy Commission, said today he considers it "imperative that we resume at least small underground nuclear weapons testing promptly."

He says he feels that way about it, because this country does not know just what the Soviet Union is doing and cannot depend upon what it says.

In a speech prepared for the fall meeting of the American Philosophical Society, Wilson asserted that the testing he proposes "would involve no fallout hazard whatever."

He told the meeting it should also enable the United States to improve methods of detecting underground blasts, and to go ahead with a peaceful use-of-the-atom program which has been stalled during a voluntary moratorium.

Dr. Jenkins To Address Session

RALEIGH (AP) — About 250 college students are expected to attend the annual fall conference of the Student Division of the North Carolina Education Association here Saturday.

The student division is composed of college students who plan to become teachers.

Have A Pleasant Memory Of City's School System

(Editor's Note: Following is the second in a series of articles on local schools in conjunction with American Education Week.)

By PATRICIA MOORE
Reflector Staff Writer

Mrs. Robert Wilfong, in the process of moving her family from Greenville to Wilmington, Delaware, will remember one pleasant phase of family life here: seven "most pleasant" years with the school system.

This system she describes as one which seems to have given her children a sense of security and enjoyment in learning. The Wilfongs, having lived in other places before moving to Greenville, have had opportunity to compare other school systems and the varying effects on their student children.

One son began his work in another system, came into the sixth grade here. Tutoring under Sue Rouse helped bring his grammar and English background more on level with other local students. Since then, he had been "an average student," who now in college, doesn't see how first-year college students can "flunk" out.

He has felt his chemistry, mathematics and foreign language background has helped him so far in his college work.

In comparison, two other children started their first grade work here in Greenville schools.

"What we will remember about Greenville are two very pleasant first grades here," Mrs. Wilfong says. These two students seemed to know better what they were reading from the very beginning, while the older children seemed to fare less well.

Though the difference could be other factors, most probably the difference in reading ease was due to primary instruction gained in Greenville. Reading is generally conceded to be one of the very most important elements in any education. Students who cannot read, for one reason or another, may be very bright and yet will falter in later educational years, and especially in college, educators say.

Mrs. Wilfong has noticed a generally cheerful attitude in her younger "students" toward their studying chores here. They seem anxious to read for their parents. One daughter, taking music lessons, enjoys practicing. These results Mrs. Wilfong attributes to teachers, whom she says have been very cooperative with parents.

Another result of success in this school system is that students, moving to different parts of the country, have been able to make their school adjustments without difficulty in subject matter. In some instances they are ahead of other students, Mrs. Wilfong feels.

Eight Votes Up To The Electors

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The fate of Mississippi's eight electoral votes rested today in the hands of the eight independent electors who swept to victory Tuesday over electors pledged to the Democratic and Republican national tickets.

Gov. Ross Barnett, who led the campaign to withhold the state's vote from the two national parties on grounds they were pledged to racial integration, said the electors would have to decide their own course.

With all but 146 of the state's 1829 precincts reporting, the pledged slate had 104,003 to 100,835 for President-elect John F. Kennedy and 64,100 for Republican Richard Nixon.

W. German Bank Rate Is Lowered

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The West German Federal Bank today lowered the bank rate from 5 1/4 per cent, effective Friday.

The action, suggested at the last World Bank meeting in Washington, was taken in an attempt to stop the excessive flow of foreign currency into Germany because of high interest rates.

Work Will Begin Next Week On New Bethel Well

BETHEL — Work on a new water well, to have a capacity of 300 gallons per minute, is scheduled to get underway here next week, Mayor Clifton Everett announced.

A contract for work on the well was awarded to Carolina Drilling and Equipment Company of Sanford at this month's meeting of the Bethel Board of Aldermen. Cost of the project is estimated at $9,400, Everett stated.

He explained that this only well supplying the town now has decreased in its original capacity from 300 gallons per minute to less than 200 gallons per minute.

After a new well has been dug, the town will be able to treat and clean the old well, with hope of restoring it to its former output, Everett said. However, this cannot be done without another well standing by.

Conant. Sanford Among Speakers

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — Dr. James B. Conant, former president of Harvard, and Gov.-Elect Terry Sanford head the list of speakers for a meeting here Nov. 21-22 to explore ways of improving public education.

The two-day conference will be concerned with the quality of programs in the public schools. Conant will address a dinner session Nov. 21. His topic will be "Education for the Professions in Europe."

Cubans Told Of 'Russian Help' 62 Years Ago

HAVANA (AP) — Three Russians helped the Cubans liberate their island from Spain during the war 62 years ago, the Castro-controlled newspaper El Mundo said today.

The paper gave front-page attention to a Cuban news agency dispatch from Moscow that bases the claim on information in the national archives there.

The archives disclose, said the news agency, that a Russian ship sailed from Leningrad — then called St. Petersburg — to Cuba in 1896. Three Russians aboard fought six months with the insurgent forces of Gen. Antonio Maceo and Guillermo Moncada, but were captured and sentenced to death. They were freed though the intervention of the Russian consul in Havana, the agency said.

Propagandists for Fidel Castro have been trying to rewrite Cuban history lately to show that the United States, rather than helping to free Cuba, entered a war already won from Spain to gain economic penetration.
