District Patrolmen Map Last Big 1960 Safety Drive

DISTRICT III, PATROLMEN . . . are shown as they discussed the "CLOSE OUT SIXTY" special enforcement safety campaign here yesterday.

Pitt Plans Another Bookmobile

A second bookmobile for Pitt County may be secured by Feb. 1, 1961, if present plans continue.

School groups and private citizens already are at work raising funds to buy the bookmobile.

The bookmobile "is for the purpose of providing adequate library services for the Negro citizens of Pitt County and their children."

Rose continued, "The Negro school libraries cannot be expected to meet the needs and are not meeting the needs. This will be a definite step forward."

The second bookmobile would perform the same services as the present bookmobile, visiting rural centers and schools which want it.

Plans have received the endorsement of the Pitt County Board of Education, through a resolution.

The educational level of the people of Pitt County will be further increased by the services of a bookmobile unit, to bring to you reading materials to enrich personal and family life through the arts, humanities, and through refreshing and creative use of leisure time."

County Negro Agricultural Agent J.M. Goode has stated that tremendous interest has been shown in the establishment of a second bookmobile unit for the people of Pitt County.

Miss Elizabeth H. Copeland, librarian, Sheppard Memorial Library, further said that Pitt County is too large to be served by one bookmobile.

The new bookmobile will cost $3,400, according to members of the committee.

Already, $1,000 of that is on hand, leaving $2,400 to be raised.

The amounts assigned to the various communities of Pitt County are as follows:

Greenville, $1,800; Farmville, $1,200; Ayden, $700; Bethel, $700; Winterville, $600; Grifton, $300; Grimesland, $300; Stokes, $300; Fountain, $300; Belvoir, $250; Falkland, $250; Pactolus, $200; Chicod, $200; Arthur, $200; and Simpson, $100.

Greenville has been assigned the amount of $1,800, although the bookmobile will not serve Greenville.

People who wish to donate to this cause may make checks payable to Joseph G. More, treasurer, Sheppard Memorial Library, or simply to Sheppard Memorial Library.

The Board of Trustees of Sheppard Memorial Library has already ordered the bookmobile to be built. It takes about three months to get one delivered, and the committee hopes delivery will be by Feb. 1.

Principals of the Negro schools of Pitt are leading the movement to secure the new bookmobile.

'All Out Campaign' Slated To Close Out Sixty Safely

The North Carolina State Highway Patrol will start an all-out campaign to "Close Out Sixty" safely by trying to reduce the number of accidents and highway fatalities through a program of selective enforcement and saturation patrolling of areas with high accident rates, starting December 1.

Patrolmen from Troop "A", District III, including Pitt and Edgecombe Counties met at the Troop Headquarters here yesterday to hear plans for the month-long program.

The theme of the special program will be "Co-ordinate Lasting Overall Safety-Enforcement Operations Until The Saving Improves Christmas—The Yuletide."

District Sgt. Louis B. Lane of Rocky Mount noted that for December 1959, "124 traffic deaths were recorded for the state—the greatest number for any month since 1955."

"On Christmas Day, 13 persons were killed and over the five-day holiday period (December 24-28) 39 lost their lives on the highways of the state."

Through co-operative effort, we should be able to effect a reduction in the fatalities this year," the sergeant added.

Cpl. J. T. Jenkins outlined the program by saying, "Key roads and areas have been designated for special enforcement purposes and special patrols will be conducted in these areas."

Three men in Pitt County will be assigned to this "saturation and selective enforcement" patrol each week, and will work a pre-assigned area for his entire eight-hour duty period.

"These special areas, which have high accident frequencies and numerous dangerous violations, will be patrolled under this special saturation program for four days each week, Thursday through Sunday, starting December 1, Jenkins explained.

"The officers assigned will patrol a limited area or a limited section of road, and will stop at least one vehicle or pedestrian each 15 minutes, even if the vehicle is not violating any law."

Each motorist or pedestrian contacted while on patrol will be given a safety leaflet," Jenkins continued. "Officers will concentrate their efforts on dangerous moving violations, with special attention to speeding, operating on the wrong side of the road, and failure to grant the right of way."

The three leading causes of wrecks in Pitt," Jenkins commented. Jenkins emphasized that the officers not assigned to this special patrol will be patrolling the remainder of the county and will not be restricted to a special area. He also stated that the officers on the special assignment would not be restricted in their arrests to "major violations," but as any other officer, they will be looking for any offense.

Destroy 3 Stills In Pitt County

Three stills, two of which were part of the same unit, were destroyed over the weekend by Pitt County ABC officers and constables, officers said today.

Saturday, ABC officer H. B. Lilly and constables Frank Peadar and Louis Tyson destroyed a unit composed of one 60-gallon drum type still, a 30-gallon still, one 30-gallon steel drum cooler with copper coil condenser, and 70 gallons of mash in a wooded area near Frog Level.

Officers said the still was in operation but the operators escaped.

UN Sets Debate Over Colonialism

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Asian and African nations, suspicious of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's plan to end all colonialism at once, came up today with their own proposal for an end to foreign control of territories.

The clash promised to highlight a General Assembly debate on colonialism unless the Asian-African representatives change their proposal to meet the Soviets' at least halfway.

The Soviet Union has been wooing the newly independent nations of Asia and Africa since Khrushchev visited the assembly during its opening weeks. The Soviet delegation asked for the debate so it could sound off against colonialism in terms it hoped the new nations wanted to hear.

Khrushchev, in a declaration to the assembly Sept. 23, sought independence for all colonies "forthwith."

The 46-nation Asian-African group prepared a resolution calling for "immediate steps" to transfer power to colonies from their former rulers, not quite the same as having the colonies quick end foreign rule at once.

The tone of the two resolutions also is different. The Asian-African group stuck to parliamentary language and generalities. The Soviet proposal used such terms as "forcibly enslaved countries" and enumerated colonies and the ruling foreign countries. The Soviets also sought U. N. approval for an end to "leased areas"—meaning foreign military bases, especially those held by the United States and Britain.

Among the colonies listed by the Soviets were Puerto Rico, an island commonwealth associated with the United States; Okinawa, the Japanese island now ruled by the United States because it is the site of a big Far Eastern base, and Formosa, seat of President Chiang Kai-Shek's U. S.-supported Chinese Nationalist regime.

The U. S. position in agreeing to the debate is that it could allow for a full discussion of Soviet control of the Communist nations of Eastern Europe.

The debate is expected to run into next week. If the 99-nation assembly adopts anything at all, it probably will be some version of the Asian-African proposal watered-down to gain Western votes for the necessary two-thirds majority.

The Asian-African proposal begins with a long preamble calling for an end to all racial segregation, and discrimination. It would also have the assembly "solemnly proclaim the necessity of bringing a speedy and unconditional end to colonialism in all its forms and manifestations."

from the Gulf of Mexico sent the mercury to record heights for the season. Shirt-sleeved citizens enjoyed Sunday outings.

As the front advanced, icy winds from the northwest tumbled temperatures and drove blinding snow from Colorado into Nebraska and northwest Kansas. Snow depths had reached four inches early today.

The sharp contrast kicked up severe thunderstorms in Kansas, where a tornado flicked across the edge of Concordia, a town of 7,160. Several buildings were damaged, power lines and trees were knocked down.

Forty miles northwest of Concordia, .55 inches of rain fell in 10 minutes, the Weather Bureau said.

Elsewhere in Kansas, tornado winds ripped apart buildings on four farms southeast of Wichita. Mr and Mrs. Wallace R. Walters of Wichita were injured when their car was blown off a highway. A woman was injured by flying debris at Hutchinson.

In New Mexico, ice and snow made roads hazardous in the northern sections and choking dust cut visibility to five miles in other areas. Clara P. Yowell, 53, Hobbs, N.M., was killed in a car that skidded off icy pavement and overturned.

Youth Charged With Shooting Of Young Wife

A 19-year-old youth is in Pitt County Jail today charged with shooting his 16-year-old wife and a nine-year-old boy early Sunday morning.

Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson identified the jailed youth as Theodore Staton and referred to her parents' home at Sharp Point near the Pitt-Edgecombe line.

Staton allegedly went to the house around 1:30 Sunday morning. He is accused of firing one shot through a door, the pellets hitting the wife. A second shot was fired through a window. This load struck Jimmy who was asleep in bed.

Staton has been charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill. Deputies Ralph Tyson and Gerald Davis investigated.

Three stills, two of which were part of the same unit, were destroyed over the weekend by Pitt County ABC officers and constables, officers said today.

Saturday, ABC officer H. B. Lilly and constables Frank Peadar and Louis Tyson destroyed a unit composed of one 60-gallon drum type still, a 30-gallon still, one 30-gallon steel drum cooler with copper coil condenser, and 70 gallons of mash in a wooded area near Frog Level.

Officers said the still was in operation but the operators escaped.

They added that a half-gallon of non-taxed whiskey found at the site was also destroyed.

Early Sunday morning, ABC officers Lilly, J. M. Ward and Walter Taylor destroyed a 60-gallon drum-type still complete with 30-gallon doubler, 60-gallon cooler and coil and 200 gallons of mash after finding the unit about two miles southeast of Bethel.

The illegal distillery was not in operation at the time, officers said, and no arrests were made.

Boycott Of 2 New Orleans Schools Nearly Complete

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—White students from two newly integrated public schools flocked to nearby segregated schools today in a boycott nearly 100 per cent complete.

Three Negro girls entered McDonogh No. 19—one of the two integrated schools—at 8:45 a.m. (CST) today. One woman among the 100 or so white spectators yelled:

"You've got the whole school to yourself now."

The city's public schools reopened after a week's vacation due to a teachers' convention. But there appeared to be no letup in objections to school integration as ordered by a federal judge.

President Armand Duvio of the education cooperative at the William Frantz school—where one Negro girl attends the first grade—said buses took 104 Frantz students to schools in neighboring St. Bernard Parish (county).

The city tensely waited for the ruling of a three-judge federal tribunal considering a request to suspend temporarily the integration order pending the settlement of state and federal differences. Their opinion was expected today.

Chartered buses took the boycotting white children to schools in St. Bernard Parish. There were no incidents at either school.

Divio said collections for private schools for Frantz and McDonogh No. 19 students over the weekend totaled "a little over $2,000."

U.S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright ordered integration of first grades Nov. 14.

The panel considering the school board's petition includes Judge Richard T. Rives, chief judge of the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals, U.S. Dist. Judge J. Herbert Christenberg, and Wright.

The panel also had before it a state suit asking that all school integration orders be tossed out, and a federal petition that the state be permanently restrained from interfering with public school administration.

The conflict left a legal tangle that caused New Orleans public school teachers to miss last Wednesday's monthly payday. The school board said the legislature had stripped it of funds to meet the $2,525,000 payroll.

The legislature then appropriated funds, and teachers were told they would begin receiving their paychecks today. Then Sunday night, House Speaker J. Thomas Jewell said it would be Wednesday before the payroll could be processed.

Most of the 90,000 public school pupils who had a week-long holiday last week because of teachers' state-wide meetings and the Thanksgiving holiday, were expected back in school today.

School Supt. James F. Redmond predicted operations throughout the city would be near normal except for the two integrated schools.

On Nov. 18, end of the first week of integration, McDonogh No. 19 school had a total attendance of three Negro first-graders. At the Frantz school, there were four white pupils and one Negro. Normally the two schools have an attendance of about 1,000.

Some students from the two schools will be attending schools in adjoining St. Bernard Parish where school authorities said they could take care of as many as 500 whites.

The Louisiana Teachers Association, an organization of white teachers, and the Louisiana Education Association, Negro teachers, closed their segregated sessions in Baton Rouge last week. The white teachers adopted a resolution supporting state authorities in maintenance of segregated public schools.

There have been reports that Catholic schools in the New Orleans archdiocese would desegregate. But the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Henry C. Bezou said Sunday that no definite date has been set.

National Goals Plan Adds Billions More U.S. Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's commission on national goals has outlined a program for America in the 1960s that would cost billions of dollars more of government spending.

This could mean a tax increase, the commission of 11 distinguished Americans concluded in a 30-page report made public by the White House Sunday. A copy was sent to President-elect John F. Kennedy.

Specifically, the commission urged the nation to arm adequately no matter what the cost and to spend billions of dollars more on education, foreign aid, research and cities.

The national goals proposed by the commission also included the elimination of racial segregation, the reduction of unemployment, and a foreign policy that preserves the United Nations while remaining ready to negotiate with the Soviet Union on any reasonable basis.

The commission and its report stem from President Eisenhower's State of the Union message almost two years ago. In it, the President said the nation should define its national purpose and goals.

The report now serves as a legacy from the Eisenhower administration to the incoming Kennedy administration. In several respects, the recommendations resemble the "New Frontiers" program outlined by Kennedy in his campaign.

Eisenhower created the commission last January, naming Dr. Henry M. Whistler as chairman. Dr. Whistler is president-emeritus of Brown University and president of the American Assembly, an educational institution.

Frank Pace Jr., chairman of General Dynamics Corp., and a former secretary of the army is vice chairman. On the NBC radio-TV program "Meet the Press" Sunday, Pace said efforts would be made to distribute the report widely and to promote discussions of its recommendations.

Members of the commission did not agree on all goals. Among them, AFL-CIO President George Meany dissented from several recommendations.

The commission said racial segregation should be wiped out by 1970 and barriers in education, voting, housing and other fields should be sharply lowered by that date.

The commission said the United States should maintain and strengthen the military alliances of the free world. But nuclear disarmament should be the ultimate goal.

Foreign aid, the report said, should be increased and shared by all major free nations.

Tax revision also was proposed. The commission said this would include more liberal depreciation allowances for industry and the closing of tax loopholes.

More Riots Break Out In Caracas 'Emergency'

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Rioting broke out anew in several places throughout this capital city today. Three persons have been killed and 100 wounded in three previous days of rioting.

Demonstrators clashed with police this morning along the Avenida Sucre which runs through Catia, a crowded workers' housing district in the western part of the city. This was the area where U.S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon was attacked during his visit to Caracas in 1958.

Police reported groups carrying bottled gasoline bombs were assembling at Plaza Carabobo on the eastern edge of the downtown business district.

The Cabinet of President Romulo Betancourt was forced into emergency session to deal with the political and economic unrest which sparked the rioting, carried on mainly by the militant left. National Guardsmen patrolled the city.

The outburst was attributed to Betancourt's left-wing opponents, some of them recently defected from his moderate Socialist coalition to attack him in anti-American tones similar to the line of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Despite Betancourt's two-year power trying to spread the wealth of this oil-rich country more evenly, there was widespread pessimism about the outlook in this new crisis.

One man died of bullet wounds and at least 21 were wounded in Sunday's clashes. Many more were bruised by rocks or suffered from the effects of tear gas as police and national guardsmen drove off roaming bands that stoned them, burned automobiles and attacked three police stations in working class sections.

High schools and normal schools were closed today for the second time in a month.

Students demanding closer ties between Betancourt's government and Castro's Cuba were barricaded in the Fernin Toro High School, only two blocks from the presidential palace. The school was surrounded by national guardsmen.

Betancourt asked Ramon J. Velasquez, secretary-general of the presidency and one of his closest advisers, to take over the education ministry in the absence of its chief, Rafael Pizani, who is in the United States for medical treatment.

Nab Juveniles For Store Theft

Three juveniles were taken in custody Friday and charged with the theft of money and merchandise from the Josh Jones Store at Richards Station.

Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson reported the store was entered Thanksgiving day.

Approximately $20 in silver and $5 in merchandise was reported missing. The boys, two 14 years of age and the other 15 were turned over to juvenile authorities. Much of the money was recovered.

Held For Murder Of Stokes Negro

Willie Lee Perkins, about 26, of Robersonville, Bennie Earl Frank, 16, and Richard Frank, 18, of Stokes, are shown as they were being questioned this morning about the death of an 82-year-old Stokes Negro last Wednesday. The three were arrested Friday night on charges of murdering James Alfred Charrie, who lived alone near Stokes. Officers said the three admitted robbing the body of $5. They waived a preliminary hearing on the charges this morning.

Bloodmobile To Be Here 2 Days

Residents of Greenville and surrounding areas have been urged to visit the bloodmobile, which will be stationed at East Carolina College on Thursday, and at the Greenville Moose Lodge on Friday.

The quota each day will be 120 pints of blood, which is a total of 240 pints. Dr. Howard Gradis, in charge of the bloodmobile, said it is urgent that the quota be met for the two days.

The bloodmobile will be at Wright building, E.C.C., from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. Thursday. It is sponsored on that day by the R.O.T.C., Panhellenic Council, Student Government and other organizations of the college.

On Friday, the bloodmobile will be stationed at the Moose Lodge from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

All local organizations who have pledged their participation in the blood program by providing seven donors are asked to be ready for the visits Thursday and Friday.

Central and southern Wyoming and some sections of Colorado had more than an inch of snow. Mountain passes were slick and dangerous.

Much colder air was moving out of the north, where Sunday's highs in North Dakota were around 12 degrees above zero.

Dirty hands at table were as repugnant to Queen Blanche of France in 1225 as they are to today's modern queen of the household.

An Acid Test For School Bond Issue

One of the corner stones of governor-elect Terry Sanford's program for better public education in North Carolina will be a school bond issue designed to aid individual counties in providing adequate school buildings.

Thus, the governor-elect who maintained through two tough primary campaigns and a general election campaign that the people of the state want the kind of program he proposed, has now decided to put a major part of that program to the acid test of the ballot box once more.

New classrooms and other facilities to take care of the increasing number of youngsters in the state is recognized as one of the pressing needs for public education in North Carolina. The idea of a state-wide school bond issue is not original with Sanford. It has been employed a number of times by North Carolina, and in each case has proved an important factor in acquiring new school buildings.

The governor-elect has not yet spelled out just how the funds from such a bond issue would be distributed among the 100 counties, but it is logical to assume that some matching funds will be required from the individual counties. It is also logical to assume that Sanford—based on what was said during the campaign—will favor giving consideration to the need of individual county school systems in allotting the state funds.

Whatever the method for distributing the funds, the final decision on a school bond issue in all probability will be made by Tar Heel voters. It is not likely that the legislature will authorize a major public school bond issue without sending it to the people.

Voters of the state, we believe, recognize the problem which faces North Carolina so far as public schools are concerned. Physical facilities is only one part of the problem, but it is an important part which must be dealt with. If the people of the state are reluctant to provide the means with which to cope with the classroom problem, it is not likely that a great deal can be accomplished toward boosting the salaries of teachers, reducing the teaching load per teacher and other items that must be dealt with.

Sanford, we think, is wise in stating now that he will call for a bond issue to finance school buildings. In that way, at least, the people of the state will have the opportunity of expressing again their feeling toward meeting the school problems which North Carolina faces. We believe the citizens of the state are willing and anxious to push forward with a positive program to lift the quality of public education offered our youngsters.

Stress Value Of Individual Vote

By LYNN NISBET
VOTE VALUES — Emphasis has been placed to greater degree than usual this year on the value of an individual vote among millions cast. It appears that the next President of the United States will be elected by less than one-tenth of one percent majority of the popular vote. Margins for North Carolina State officers were closer than usual, and in some local county races less than one-tenth of one percent margin determined the result.

Secretary of State by the Democratic state chairman, are morally obligated to cast their votes for Kennedy and Johnson when they meet in Raleigh on December 29. Being constitutional officers, they are not legally bound to vote that way. They could cast a unanimous vote for Nixon and Lodge, or split 14 ways with votes for Luther Hodges, Terry Sanford, Robert Gavin, Joe Doakes — or any other citizen of the United States — and if that person qualified under the constitution for President the vote would be officially counted. (Of course, every elector knows that it would be political suicide — and maybe physical death — to vote for anybody except Kennedy. Point is, they could do it under the law.)

DISTRIBUTION — Under the current plan Kennedy gets all 14 of North Carolina's electoral votes, and the more than 600,000 voters who voted for Nixon do not have their votes counted at all in the final tally. Nixon gets all 32 of California's electoral votes, and nearly three million Californians who voted for Kennedy do not get any recognition in the official record. If the electoral votes had been apportioned on basis of popular vote, Nixon would have gotten about six and a half in North Carolina, and Kennedy would have gotten about fifteen and a half in California.

Breakdown for the other 48 states would show comparable close margins, probably without change in the end result. Dividing the electoral vote on proportion of the popular vote, but retaining the principle that each State should have the number of electoral votes equal to its representation in the Congress, was proposed in a constitutional amendment sponsored by then Senator Lodge, more recently the Republican candidate for Vice President, some years ago.

Proposals for revamping the process for electing a President by abolishing the present electoral college also have threats to pure democracy in evaluating individual votes. Nearly every plan suggested would tend to give each vote more prestige, but at the expense of genuine representative government. The same is true of most legislative reapportionment proposals — including strict adherence to requirements of the constitution adopted nearly a century ago.

Senators Earl Mundt of South Dakota and Strom Thurmond of South Carolina are sponsoring an amendment to allow each congressional district to elect its own presidential elector, and the state at large to elect two for the senators. Trouble with that plan is that, despite constitutional requirement for as near as may be equal population in congressional districts, there are districts in North Carolina and other states with widely varying population. That plan would give inordinate power to the small districts, penalize the big districts, and result in almost as much inequity as the present system.

Electors — Let's consider first the presidential electors. The United States constitution of 1787 provided that each State should have as many actual votes for President of the United States as it had members of the Congress in both branches. By statute and tradition, though not specifically spelled out in the constitution, the presidential candidate getting a plurality of the popular vote — not necessarily a majority — receives the total electoral vote of the state.

It is interesting to note that no suggestion has been made for a President of the United States. The idea of one electoral vote for each member of Congress runs through every plan proposed.

However, and this is the gimmick that is significant now, because presidential electors are constitutional officers, under both Federal and State constitutions, they are free agents and are not legally bound to vote for the presidential candidate who got a plurality or majority of the popular vote.

Some weeks ago there was a speculative flare-up in the London gold market. Our statutory price for gold is $32 an ounce. We buy and sell unlimited amounts at that figure. In the London market—which is one of the few free gold markets in the world—the price was driven to above $40 an ounce. That not only was spectacular, but at the time disturbing. Many factors were involved, most of them technical, but a premium of that size is not supposed to be possible in a free market. One of the results was that Senator Kennedy issued a strong statement that he would defend the dollar; another was a statement by our Treasury that there was not going to be devaluation of the dollar. The turmoil gradually subsided, and now gold in the London market is selling at reasonably close to our statutory price.

Greenville's Growth Is Continuing Upward

Statistics on new construction, always a barometer of progress for a community, indicates that Greenville's rate of growth during the first 10 months of 1960 moved ahead of that of a number of its neighbors of comparable size in Eastern Carolina.

According to figures released by the Department of Labor, new construction in Greenville for the 10-month period was valued at slightly more than $3.45 million. It led by more than a million dollars new construction reported for Goldsboro, Kinston, New Bern and Wilson and was more than a half million ahead of new construction figures reported for Rocky Mount.

Although the figures may not accurately reflect the exact value of new construction for each of the cities, they do give an indication of the relative progress being made. It is evident from the figures that Greenville is moving ahead at a more accelerated pace than are the other communities so far as construction within the corporate limits is concerned.

With the exception of New Bern, Greenville's population is less than that of any of the other cities mentioned. Normally it would be expected that the larger a city is, the greater its total construction would be. Here again is another indication of the fact that Greenville may be moving ahead at a more rapid pace than some of its neighboring cities.

The total figure of more than $13.5 million in new construction for these six Eastern Carolina cities during the first 10 months of the year points to a continued healthy growth for the area as a whole. The fact that Greenville emerged as the pace setter for new construction during the period is indicative for a continued healthy growth for this particular community.

Justified Steps Against Outlays

By RALPH ROBEY
President Eisenhower's directive to restrict foreign spending is an amazing, drastic, and thoroughly justified action. Whether it will be sufficient to solve the problem is another matter.

The background of this action is both interesting and important. Some weeks ago there was a speculative flare-up in the London gold market. Our statutory price for gold is $32 an ounce. We buy and sell unlimited amounts at that figure. In the London market—which is one of the few free gold markets in the world—the price was driven to above $40 an ounce. That not only was spectacular, but at the time disturbing. Many factors were involved, most of them technical, but a premium of that size is not supposed to be possible in a free market. One of the results was that Senator Kennedy issued a strong statement that he would defend the dollar; another was a statement by our Treasury that there was not going to be devaluation of the dollar. The turmoil gradually subsided, and now gold in the London market is selling at reasonably close to our statutory price.

That is one side of the background. The other side is that gold has been flowing out of this country at a rapid rate. Back of this is some disturbing news in connection with our international deficit. The international balance of payments of a nation—it may be either a deficit or a surplus—is the total of all payments made by one country to the rest of the world as compared with all the payments it receives from the rest of the world. In 1959 we had an international deficit of $3.8 billion. That was only a moderate increase over 1958, but the amount was so large that it caused widespread concern.

The first part of this year, however, showed such a favorable trend that the worry pretty well disappeared. The Federal government has just released the figures for the third quarter, and they prove that this loss of worry was at least premature, and probably quite unjustified.

During the third quarter our exports of goods continued to increase relative to our imports, but that is only part of the picture. Other items turned against us in large volume. Most important was an enormous flow of private funds in order to get the higher interest rates prevailing in European financial centers. At one time the differential was 100 percent. That is, one could get twice as high a rate in Europe as he could in the United States on comparable government securities. This variation recently has periods which come at certain times in history and which will pass when the evil of men has spent itself. We know nothing about human destiny save that the world and its creatures are in the hands of a loving God. There may be much to discourage us in the immediate present and, apparently in the near future. We may suffer or we may prosper — of that we know nothing but what we do know—and this is of primary and permanent importance—is that God is preparing his children not for destruction but for glory. The God who made us is a God of love. The ends he has set for us are those of delight. "Eye hath not seen nor ear heard, . . . the things which God hath prepared for them that love him."

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
THE ULTIMATE FUTURE
We appear at the present time to be living in an age of worldwide turmoil. Revolutions are taking place all over the globe. Tyranny is rife in many lands. Freedom is struggling with despotism. What does it all mean? There are some who believe that this state of affairs pre-ages the end of the world and the second coming of Christ. Others take a more secular view and maintain that we are witnessing a momentous and significant struggle between freedom and slavery which will result in the establishing of more and cleaner justice among all peoples of the world. There are still others who see in the present upset conditions of the race, just another of those

Long-Recognized Danger

Copyright, 1960 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

This is by no means hindsight. I can point to a long series of articles going back many years to the danger to our dollar and to our gold. I can show the publications of Franz Pieck, one of the world's great authorities on currency, cautioning about the dangers to the dollar. He was recognized by some as a prophet, but government officials treated him as though he were a madman.

I once argued this point with a banker who insisted on talking of balances of payments, which has little to do with the problem, and ridiculed the fact that foreign aid and the support of American troops abroad were the crux of the problem. The latter are day by day house-keeping and maintenance expenditures. Bankers can become very pompous when they talk about money, which after all is in the realm of the student of currency.

What was most astonishing in the years since 1948 is that American bankers, who are supposed to be experts in money and currency, ridiculed those who warned that when currency flows out faster than it comes in, there must be one of two results: 1. That the amount of currency backed by gold will be lessened; or 2. That the government will resort to the printing press which must ultimately mean a devaluation.

Now, at this very late date, when the mare has been stolen, along comes Secretary of the Treasury Anderson with a statement that should have been made at least four years ago in which he says:

"The United States following World War II initiated and continued, through the Marshall Plan and other programs, an unprecedented series of moves calculated to help rebuild the war-devastated nations of Europe and Asia.

Other Editors Saying . . . Too Long For The Count

All your life you have heard the slur against the South that it is slow and backward. The charge was not justified, to be sure, but it persisted nevertheless.

term. At that time, the State had only thirteen electoral votes. This time it had thirty-two. It might have been decisive in 1960 also, except that Kennedy had a sufficient margin elsewhere to put him over.

Here's one instance, however, where other sections were far behind this part of the country, and that was in the counting of ballots in the recent election. Two of the largest and supposedly most modernistic States were among the very last to report their final figures. It was more than a week before the last precincts were in for California, and just about that long in Illinois. The delay was blamed on absentee ballots. But presumably all the States had absentees that had to be added. Here in North Carolina, for instance, all the absentee votes that were eligible had to be in for pollholders on the day of the election, and they were counted along with all the others. That's the way it should be.

What seems so strange, however, is that so much time was needed to count the absentee ballots. Even if there were several hundred thousand of them, if scattered over several thousand voting precincts, it would seem that the tabulation could have been made in a couple of days or so. Had the election outcome depended upon that one State this year, as in 1916, the country would have had to wait for about a week to learn whether Kennedy or Nixon had been named as the next President.

California was claimed for Kennedy on the basis of early returns. But then the drag began, and some days were required for final results to be known on the absentees, and the State flopped into the Nixon column.

We thought it required a long time to complete the count here on election night, but what happened was almost like lightning by comparison with California.

It was California which in the close election of 1916 put Woodrow Wilson across for a second

When an election is held, everybody wants to know the outcome as quickly as possible, and a week is a terribly long while to have to wait. Some changes looking toward greater speed may be made before another national referendum. On the other hand, however, by then the public may have forgotten and it may be the same old story all over again.

Power Can Be Unjust

By ROGER BABSON
BABSON PARK, Mass.—I am greatly relieved to hear that the threatened newspaper strike in New York City has been called off. I believe that labor is entitled to strike provided only the employer is hurt. But, for labor to use its power to harm the public is morally, economically, and politically wrong. ALL MONOPOLIES ARE DANGEROUS

For the employees in a large department store in New York to strike for higher wages or better working conditions is perhaps justifiable, as there are enough other good stores in New York City to supply the goods needed. For example, if the employees of Macy's should strike, only the union or the owners of Macy's would be hurt. On the other hand, if the employees of the company which supplies electricity to New York—or to any other city—should strike, it would be a crime. In fact, every householder would suffer so badly, especially in winter, that the people would rise en masse and demand a special session of the State legislature to put the militia in to run the plant.

In reality, every newspaper is a public utility in which the public is vitally interested; this especially applies to cities with only one newspaper. Labor's argument that the people could get a paper from some adjoining city is not sound. This would not help the local merchant. The present anti-trust laws appear to exempt labor unions. They certainly should be amended so that they would apply to newspaper workers or to labor in any other business that could be classified as a public utility.

THE RIGHT WORK
Many states voted two weeks ago on "right-to-work" legislation. I have not tabulated the final decisions, and in many states such legislation must be approved by the courts. The point of conflict is the "closed shop," so to speak. Labor leaders insist that in order for anyone to work in a unionized mill he must be a union member, and the employer collect the dues for the union.

Some states have already passed right-to-work laws making the "closed shop" illegal. Indirectly, this right-to-work problem is mixed up with civil rights on the theory that the Negro vote is much interested in that subject. Investigation, however, shows that the Negro vote is divided on this. Certainly, the colored vote is becoming constantly more important. In this connection it should be remembered that some of our best baseball players are Negroes. Also, in the recent Olympic games at Rome a Negro girl from Clarksville, Tenn., brought home three medals. The "right to compete" may be depended solely upon qualification for the races. This should be equally true of industry and the right to work.

EMPLOYERS VERSUS MANAGEMENT
From a statistical standpoint, of course, employers would appear to be fighting a losing game. At every state or national election the wagers are in the majority and may be aroused to "bite the hand that feeds them." A consistent leveling has been going on for some years; and it is still rapidly taking place through inheritance taxes, labor unions, and benefits to special groups. This is especially true under a system wherein everyone has an equal vote whether he is a college president or a street sweeper.

But to get back to the threatened New York newspaper strike that was called off: Such a strike at any time of year would be very unfair to the people of New York, but to have it come just at the Christmas season would cause a tremendous loss to all parties. I am not yet prepared to vote for compulsory arbitration, but I believe that certain regulatory legislation—including a time for striking—should become law immediately. For instance, the unions in the fuel oil business should not be allowed to strike in the winter. Likewise, it would be unfair for employers to be allowed to operate lockouts during the wintertime. I certainly (Continued on page 6)

Predictions On Which To Plan

By ELMER ROESSNER
Forward planning is more important today than ever. It is economists, politicians and eggheads. Here are some probable situations and events on which to base your forward business planning:

1961, but perhaps in 1962 there will be an electronic device that warns drivers when they veer too near curbs or cross center lines. It involves wires in the pavement radiating low-frequency signals and dashboard devices to pick them up and sound alarms. By 1963, some state legislatures may make such equipment mandatory.

More rental enterprises: Businesses renting consumer items, such as cars, power tools, trailers, furniture, laundry and crutches have long flourished, but they will be given impetus by Hertz's action in offering party supplies, hospital and sick-room equipment, reducing aids, television sets and baby and guest needs. Instead of frightening small renters, the Hertz challenge will cause many to broaden their lines.

Slow lumber recovery: The lumber market is down, largely because of the lag in home-building and construction. And while improvement is in sight, it probably will not occur until new housing legislation is made effective by the new Administration.

More construction: Even without more government aid, construction activity will rise next year. Defense and private industry commitments for 1961 are already about level with the year. And even if the new Administration does not pour out money for home-building, the buildup of requirements will result in greater construction.

Costlier meat: Livestock production next year is estimated slightly above this year. With more personal income and a greater population, the demand will force prices up. Exception may be for pork, because of sharp rises in hog productions.

The chancel of the church was decorated with Southern smilax, palms, and tiered branched cathedral candlebras containing burning white tapers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white bouquet taffeta gown accented with inserts of alencon lace. The dress was designed with a square neckline which was outlined with scalloped iridescent and seed pearl lace trim, long tapering sleeves and a gathered bouffant skirt with panel front taffeta folds featuring lace motifs. The focal point at the back of the dress was a butterfly-bustle which extended the skirt into a full chapel train. The bride's headdress consisted of a coronet of tiny seed pearls to which a finger-tip veil of French illusion was attached. The bride's flowers were a crescent bouquet of white carnations, centered with a white hybrid orchid and shower, en with bridal ribbons and stephanois.

Miss Barbara Anne Whitehurst of Richmond, Va., sister of the bride, was Maid of Honor. She was attired in an emerald green silk peau de soie dress of ballerina length. The bodice of the dress was made with soft-draped neckline, cap sleeves and the skirt was designed in a bouffant fan shape. She wore a hat of matching material to which a circular veil was attached and her bouquet consisted of a design of yellow pom-poms, crescent in shape and attached to a muff.

Nanette Whitehurst of Stokes, sister of the groom; Amelia Sherman of Raleigh, and Margaret Wooden and Ruby Harrison of Greenville were bridesmaids. Their attire was similar in color and design to that of the Maid of Honor and they carried bouquets of bronze pom-poms attached to muffs.

Junior bridesmaids were: Mary Beth Whitehurst, sister of the bride, and Cynthia Whitehurst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whitehurst of Bethel.

Mr. Whitehurst, father of the groom, was best man and ushers were: Warren Whitehurst of Greenville, brother of the groom, Neil Whitehurst of Bethel, brother of the bride, Joe Dixon of Wilmington and Kirt Briley of Stokes, Mrs. Whitehurst, mother of the bride, chose a dress of beige lace for her daughter's wedding. She wore coffee-toned accessories and her corsage was of brown cymbidium orchids.

The mother of the groom was attired in a dress of blue lace with matching accessories and her corsage was a purple-throated white orchid.

Mrs. Whitehurst is a graduate of Bethel High School and of Kings Business College, Raleigh. She is employed as a secretary with the State Department of Revenue in Raleigh.

Mr. Whitehurst is a graduate of Stokes High School and is a 1959 graduate of N. C. State College. He is employed with the Raleigh division of the Niagra Chemical Company.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stator Whitehurst, parents of the bride, entertained at a reception in honor of the bride and the groom and their wedding party in the Fellowship Hall of the Church.

Immediately after the reception, the bridal couple left for a wedding trip to Florida. The bride's going-away outfit was a royal blue wool suit. She wore matching accessories and the white orchid lifted from her bouquet.

On their return from Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Whitehurst will be at home at 129 Hudson Street, Raleigh.

W.S.C.S. Has Meeting

BETHEL—Miss Camille Stator, president, opened the November meeting of the W.S.C.S. she called on Mrs. R. L. Goodall, who had charge of the devotional and the program. After the group sang "Bless Be The Tie That Binds and Take The Name Of Jesus", Mrs. Goodall read the 48th Psalm.

The program theme: Into All The World Together was stressed by a quotation from Isaiah . . . Prepare Ye The Way Of The Lord. We should go into all the world, she said, putting on the whole armour of God. We cannot keep the gospel for ourselves alone, we must share Christ with others, the greatest accomplishment being that the whole church take the whole gospel to the whole world.

After the secretary read the minutes, the circle count was taken, followed by the treasurer's report.

Miss Stator read a Meditation on Thanksgiving taken from the Christian Advocate, after which the meeting was adjourned with the benediction.

Raincape

That popular fashion, the cape, now appears as an easy-to-slip-on raincape, made of polyethylene plastic—full enough to wear over suits and coats, and with a hood to protect milady's hat and hairdo. To remove rainspots and other soil, just sponge the plastic surface clean with warm soap or detergent suds and rinses — or give it a sudsy "bath" in the tub.

Given Surprise Birthday Party

BETHEL—Mrs. Z. T. Harris was honored at a surprise birthday party recently by Mrs. M. T. Whitehurst.

Attending from out-of-town were Mrs. John Perry, Saratoga, Mrs. Harris' daughter; and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harris and daughter Dorothy of Wilson.

ALL-ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE-1960

Grid of player names and schools: GABRIEL (North Carolina State), SNEAD (Wake Forest), HAWKINS (North Carolina), SHINGLER (Clemson), LEGGETT (Duke), COLLINS (Maryland), BUMGARDNER (Duke), BODKIN (South Carolina), BROWNING (Duke), MOORE (N. Carolina State), MOORMAN (Duke).

Duke Heads All-ACC Squad

By KEN ALYTA Associated Press Sports Writer CHARLOTTE (AP)—The heaviest Associated Press All-Atlantic Coast Conference football team in the league's eight-year history was named today with champion Duke supplying four men, including the biggest and the smallest.

Duke gained three line positions, headed by the big man of the honor squad, Dwight Bumgardner, a 235-pound, 6-6 tackle who played end last season.

North Carolina State, runner-up for the conference crown, won two positions and five others were spread over as many schools as only Virginia failed to win representation on the first team selected by the AP advisory board for the conference area.

Roman Gabriel, 6-4 N.C. State quarterback who weighs 220, was the board choice as No. 1 player of the conference. He netted 1,356 yards overall and hit 105 of 186 passes for eight touchdowns while rallying State from a 1-9 record of 1959 to second place this year.

Houses warm up to Shell QUALITY OIL COMPANY Greenville, N. C.

Norman Snead, Wake Forest quarterback, and North Carolina center Ross (Rip) Hawkins, who made the team last year, were repeat selections. Snead and Gabriel, both of whom passed for well over 1,000 yards; Lowndes Shingler of Clemson and Mark Leggett make up the backfield.

Shingler, along with Hawkins, named to the East team for the San Francisco Shrine game, gives the team a third quarterback, who ranks with the top 10 runners in the ACC. Leggett, at 5-10 and 180, is the most exciting of a fine corps of Duke halfbacks. The only sophomore to make the star team, he has a 5.2 rushing average through nine games. He runs hard and fast and poses a breakaway threat any time he has the ball.

Joining Hawkins in the line are Claude (Tee) Moorman of Duke and Gary Collins of Maryland at end; Bumgardner and Collier Moore of N.C. State at tackle and Art Browning and Jake Bodkin of South Carolina at guard. Moorman and Collins are strong, talented players on the flanks. Each has won AP Line-man of the Week honors. Moorman, Duke senior class president, grabbed a conference record 11 passes in the opening game and has ranked among the national leaders all season. Collins, adept at pass catching, also is a defensive bearcat and a fine punter.

The Citadel Still Active With Bowl Bid

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS All the available titles had been claimed in Southern Conference football today and only The Citadel, which didn't win any of them, still had unfinished business.

The Bulldogs, reaping a well-deserved reward for a fine 7-2-1 season, will carry the conference colors into the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla., Dec. 30 against Tennessee Tech.

VMI's Keydets took the conference championship for a second consecutive year, and for the first time since 1947, an undefeated league record wasn't necessary to win the title.

In 1947, William and Mary grabbed the championship with a 7-1-1 log inside the conference but all the champions of succeeding years—until this fall—posted unbeaten marks.

VMI's conference record this year was 4-1, the blemish coming in a 13-12 loss to Virginia Tech on Thanksgiving Day at Roanoke. The Citadel, Virginia Tech and George Washington tied for second at 4-2.

Table with columns for EAST CAROLINA and GUILFORD, listing player names and statistics.

East Carolina's scoring was slow in coming but the Buc's zone defense bottled up Guilford and Smith's star-studded lineup coasted into a 38-19 lead by halftime.

Senior Don Smith and freshman Bill Otte led the second half merry-go-round with 13 points each. Smith finished the game with 17 for high honors for the night.

The Bulldogs, reaping a well-deserved reward for a fine 7-2-1 season, will carry the conference colors into the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla., Dec. 30 against Tennessee Tech.

Center Benny Bowes and Charge Lewis started finding the range and East Carolina pulled away and wasn't bothered anymore with the usually pesky Quakers, EC coach Earl Smith emptied the bench in the final half as East Carolina's offensive game warmed up, scoring 20 points.

While East Carolina was spanking Guilford, defending champion Catawba thumped Pfeiffer, 59-49. The other six conference clubs open action this week with three conference games on tap. ECC meets The Citadel Thursday night and is host to Catawba on Saturday night.

Guilford — East Carolina leaped to an early lead in the North State Conference basketball chase here Saturday night by brushing past Guilford, 86-60, for its second win in two points.

Duke Accepts Bid To Cotton

Duke, the Atlantic Coast Conference football champion, has accepted a bid to the Cotton Bowl in Dallas to play Arkansas, champion of the Southwestern Conference, on Jan. 2.

The invitation came to the Blue Devils Saturday as they enjoyed an open date before their final regular season game with UCLA this weekend.

"We are real happy about it," Duke Coach Bill Murray said. "Our boys were anxious to make a trip like this. The invitation to the Cotton Bowl is a fine reward for their enthusiastic play this season. It represents recognition of the great effort they have put into this season."

Sports Scope

by Johnny Hudson
Sports Editor

A lot can happen in one year. The case of Minnesota's rags-to-riches football team, currently ranked number one in the nation, is a good example.

Last fall, the Jophers finished last in the Big Ten and critics and students alike were yelling for the scalp of Coach Murry Warmath. Today, he is the knight in shining armor for Minnesota's Rose Bowl-bound contingent.

College officials at the Big Ten school turned thumbs down on alumni pressure last fall and became strong advocates of eliminating post-season bowl games from the conference's operation. And they opposed the current Big Ten clause which allows the Big Ten to compete in the Rose Bowl only.

Last week, Minnesota took an about face when it quickly devoured a Rose Bowl invitation. Evidently, counting the coins while being on top changed the minds of some of the college's top heads.

Scores Favor East Carolina

Considering only one version of the fact sheet and using comparative scores as a barometer, East Carolina would have fared almost as well in the Southern Conference this fall as the North State.

For example, East Carolina handled U. of Richmond by 15 points 22-7. The Spiders claimed wins over Davidson, Furman and William and Mary. They tied West Virginia. This leaves reason to believe EC might have defeated all of these clubs.

V.M.I., the league champion, could better Richmond by only 15 points, making a match with EC rate as a toss-up. Only Virginia Tech (by 20 points) and George Washington (by 16) could handle the Spiders with more ease.

Using the scores again, East Carolina would have finished with at least a 5-1 mark, excluding the possible outcomes with V.M.I. and George Washington.

The moral of the story: Don't place your week's pay check on a game by using comparative scores.

Gordon Deprived Of Top Voting

Chuck Gordon, East Carolina's fine center and linebacker, was, undoubtedly, the victim of circumstances in the recent voting for All-Conference.

Many, especially his teammates, felt Chuck should have been one of the first Bucs to make All-Conference. But he only drew honorable mention from the coaches' voting.

Centers named to the All-Conference squad were Wade Teague of Lenoir Rhyne and Carl Messere of Appalachian. Both are seniors and were All-Conference in 1959, giving light to their re-election.

Often the coaches overlook an outstanding lineman in their voting. Naturally, the coach remembers the opposing backs much easier than the lineman.

Gordon is just a junior and will be around to lower the boom on conference foes next fall. Messere and Teague will be gone.

Boyd Joins Detroit Tigers

Carlton Boyd, the Winterville native who played baseball with the Minneapolis Clowns this past summer, will join the Detroit Tigers organization this winter.

A catcher, Boyd experienced a good summer and is confident of moving up the ladder in Detroit's system. He is currently living in New York but spent the Thanksgiving holidays at home in Winterville.

Eagles Nudge Near Title

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
Beaten by a pair of quick-thinking rookies, the Baltimore Colts today were trying to locate the malfunctioning machinery that threatens to stall their drive for a third consecutive National Football League championship.

The Philadelphia Eagles began preparations for a possible title clincher this week at St. Louis after Sunday's 31-23 victory over the New York Giants virtually put a lock on their first Eastern Conference crown since 1949.

With three games to go, the Eagles (8-1) are 2½ games ahead of the Giants and Cleveland Browns, who lost an opportunity to take over the runner-up spot when they were tied 17-17 by the improving Cardinals.

The Colts were upset by San Francisco 30-22 when rookie Min-

Dee Mackey took a 16-yard pass from the third-string quarterback Bobby Waters, then lateraled to R. C. Owens for a 41-yard touchdown play with only a minute and a half remaining.

The loss left Baltimore (6-3) with a slim half-game edge over the onrushing Chicago Bears. The Bears whipped winless Dallas 17-7 for a 5-3-1 record and kept a slight lead over idle Green Bay and the 4ers, tied for third with 5-4 marks.

Pittsburgh defeated Washington 22-10 in the only other game scheduled. Detroit, which beat the Packers Thanksgiving Day, also was idle and Los Angeles drew a bye.

Johnny Unitas threw three touchdowns for the Colts—10 yards to Ray Berry, 6 to Alex Hawkins and 65 to Lenny Moore—but the Baltimore quarterback had five aerials intercepted and lost the ball once on a fumble. However, the Colts still led 22-20 with five minutes to go after big Daddy Lipscomb tackled San Francisco's C. R. Roberts in the end zone for a safety.

Enter Waters, a first-year player from Presbyterian forced into action when regular signal-callers Y. A. Tittle and John Brodie were shaken up. He started the winning drive with a 20-yard pitch to Clyde Conner, then connected with former East Texas State star Mackey on the clutch play. Tom Davis demoted the victory with a field goal shortly thereafter.

The Eagles came from behind twice for their second triumph over the Giants on successive weekends as Norm Van Brocklin passed for three touchdowns. His second to Ted Dean, a 48-yarder in the fourth quarter, pulled Philadelphia ahead to stay after second- and third-period field goals by Pat Summerall put New York out front 23-17.

The Giants, defending Eastern champions, had built an early 17-0 lead on TD heaves of 71 and 111 yards from sub quarterback George Shaw to Kyle Rote and a Summerall field goal, but were unable to match the Eagles in the second half.

Cleveland grabbed a 17-7 half-time edge as Mill Plum fired a 20-yard scoring pass to Gern Nagler and connected with Leon Clarke for a two-yard TD while Sam Baker kicked a 42-yard field goal. But the Cards (5-4-1) came back to gain a tie on Gerry Perry's 23-yard field goal and a 12-yard touchdown toss from John Roach to Sonny Randle.

The Bears took a 7-0 lead over Dallas (0-10) in the first period on Rick Casares' five-yard touchdown run, then clinched it in the second quarter on a 20-yard scoring pitch from Ed Brown to Johnny Morris. The Cowboys' lone touchdown came on a 64-yard pass from Don Heinrich to Don McIlhenny.

Tom Tracey kicked field goals of 37, 31 and 26 yards and raced 28 yards for a touchdown in the Steelers' (4-5-1) triumph against puncheonless Washington (1-6-2). The Redskins got their only TD when Dick James hauled in a 49-yard aerial from Ralph Guglielmi.

Palmer Is Top Money Winner

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Arnold Palmer now is the top all-time money winner on the PGA tournament tour for a single year — an objective he has long wished to achieve.

The 34-year-old shot maker from Ligonier, Pa., accomplished the cherished ambition Sunday by taking the Mobile Open Golf Tournament with one of his fabulous finishes just as he did the Masters and the Pensacola Open earlier this year.

The Mobile victory was worth $2,000. This brought his earnings on the official tournament circuit to $73,716.19 and surpassed the $72,835.83 figure set by Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., in 1956. In all, Palmer played in 25 tournaments this year. He won 8 of them and finished among the top five players 16 times. Sam Snead set the pro circuit record in 1950 when he took nine tournaments.

Final Football Weekend Fills Major Bowl Games

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
With all the major bowls filled, the only question remaining on the college football front today was:

Who is the national champion? There are three major candidates.

1. Minnesota. The Gophers climbed all the way from the Big Ten basement last year to a tie with Iowa for the title this season. They wound up with an 8-1 record and were the only team to beat Iowa during the season. They were picked to oppose Washington in the Rose Bowl and were selected as No. 1 in last week's Associated Press poll.

2. Iowa. The Hawkeyes finished just seven points behind Minnesota in last week's poll. They also had an 8-1 record and permitted only Minnesota and Wisconsin to score more than one touchdown. In only one game (against Minnesota) did they score less than three touchdowns.

3. Mississippi. The Rebels wound up their season last Saturday with a solid 35-9 conquest over Mississippi State. They finished behind Minnesota and Iowa in last week's poll but wound up the season as the only team in the top 10 that managed to escape defeat. Their season record was 6-0-1. The tie was a 6-6 standoff with Louisiana State.

Of the three Iowa is the only one out in the cold in the scramble for bowl bids. Big Ten teams are permitted to play only in the Rose Bowl and the selection of the Minnesota left the Hawkeyes on only other major school to get the outside looking in. Here is how the major bowl picture shapes up:

Rose—Washington (9-1) vs. Minnesota (8-1).
Cotton—Arkansas (8-2) vs. Duke (7-2).
Sugar—Mississippi (9-0-1) vs. Rice (8-2).
Orange—Missouri (9-1) vs. Navy (9-1).
Gator—Baylor (8-2) vs. Florida (8-2).

Liberty—Penn State (6-3) vs. Oregon (7-2-1).
Bluebonnet—Alabama (8-1-1) vs. Texas (7-3).
Sun—New Mexico State (10-0) vs. Utah State (9-1).

With all the scrambling for teams after Saturday's games, the Orange Bowl probably got the prize plum in Navy. Right after the Middles whipped Army, 17-12, to wrap up the Eastern title, they accepted a bid to the Miami game on Jan. 2.

Mississippi decided to return to the Sugar Bowl after winning the Southeastern Conference championship again. Ole Miss will be favored over Rice, which finished operations with a 12-7 beating at the hands of Baylor.

Alabama was tapped to oppose Texas in the Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston Dec. 17 right after the Crimson Tide edged Auburn, 3-0, on Tom Brooker's field goal.

The Sun Bowl tapped New Mexico State, one of the two major teams in the country to wind up unbeaten and untied. The Aggies defeated Texas Western, 27-15, in their final game. Yale was the Minnesota left the Hawkeyes on only other major school to get

Baseball Opens Draft For Minor Leaguers

By JOE REICHLER

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The annual draft, the majors' selection of minor league players for $25,000 apiece, was the first order of business today as baseball opened its 10-day winter convention.

Philadelphia's Phillies, by virtue of finishing in the National League cellar last season, had first pick. They were expected to select a pitcher to help their sagging mound staff.

Kansas City, last in the American League, was next in line at the bargain counter, followed by the other 14 clubs in reverse order of their 1960 finish.

The new Washington team, expected to operate in the American League next year, was granted the right to pick two players. However, it had to wait until the end of the regular draft before making its selections.

Some 1,000 minor leaguers are eligible for the draft, including a flock of first-year men who can be purchased for $12,000 each. All players in Triple A who have been in baseball four years are subject to the draft by the majors at the stipulated $25,000 price.

No more than a dozen or so players were expected to be drafted since four clubs have full rosters of 40 players and can't add any more players. The other clubs have a total of 23 places they may fill.

Rumors of trades began to sift through the corridors of the hotel headquarters with the arrival of the big league brass. Not many deals were expected to be completed here, however, because of commissioner Ford Frick's order freezing the 120 players that the eight American League clubs had made available two weeks ago for stocking new franchises.

The clubs most actively engaged in trade talk are the San Francisco Giants, St. Louis Cardinals, Cleveland Indians, Detroit Tigers, Milwaukee Braves, Baltimore Orioles and New York Yankees.

The Cardinals, looking for a hard-hitting outfielder, a catcher and a left-handed pitcher, have been dangling first baseman-outfielder Joe Cunningham as a lure. The Cards have rejected the Braves' offer of shortstop Johnny Logan and outfielder Wes Covington for shortstop Daryl Spencer.

Another report had the Tigers offering slugger Rocky Colavito to the Boston Red Sox for third baseman Frank Malzone.

CHAPTER 27 At the hotel Ben Holliday found Mr. Swinner, the Western Union man, waiting. "Fifteen thousand, Mr. Holliday," Swinner said. "That's the best I can offer for your telegraph lines."

not to, Anna, if I have to, I'll take the whole blasted world down with me. "That's wrong," she said. "Wrong? I know it. But what can I do about it?"

"No, not yet, but I wouldn't bet they won't be." He took Holliday by the arm. "We'd better not wait until sundown to pull out with that string of empties. You want me to tell the engineer?"

"There's seven men out there, Ben. You're gambling with their lives. Can't you see that?" "Hell, don't you think I know it?" He gave Bender a shove.

been reduced, but it has not been eliminated, and will not be until our business curve turns upward and interest rates rise here.

Also important, and an item we can do something about, is the amount our Federal government is spending abroad. The particular category which is most subject to executive action is in the military field, and that is what President Eisenhower has emphasized in his directive. It is not a matter of withdrawing soldiers as such, but of bringing back to the States a large portion of the families and dependents of soldiers. The saving here can be large.

Another part of the directive deals with having other nations carry a larger share of the aid needed by under-developed countries. Some progress has already been made along this line, but more is needed.

"I saved half the cost on my dairy building by going to 'tilt-up' concrete."

Says JOHNNY ROUCHON, Clinton, Louisiana

Johnny Rouchon's concrete tilt-up building has six separate sections under one roof. Besides the main barn, he has a big feed room, milk room, sick bay, office and pump room. Plenty of space to handle his 100 milking cows.

"I was planning on brick until I heard about this new concrete tilt-up method. I got the building I wanted in concrete for $12,000 to $15,000 less—and used the same plans. I'm planning a new calf barn and I figure it will cost only 60¢ a square foot, even including a concrete floor. That's plenty low for a durable, maintenance-free building."

Real quality construction at low cost—tilt-up concrete is the simple way to get it. Want to know about it? Write for free informative booklet showing construction details.

Designated As 'Industry Week'

Pitt County's board of commissioners has designated this week as Industry Appreciation Week to "provide an opportunity for officials and citizens to express appreciation for the great contributions made by industry to the county."

At its November session, the commissioners adopted a proclamation in cooperation with a state-wide effort this week to express appreciation to existing industry in North Carolina.

The Pitt proclamation pointed out "Whereas, the efforts to encourage the location of additional industry in the county at times may appear to overshadow the contribution now being made by existing" the special week was set aside.

Gov. Luther H. Hodges had previously proclaimed Nov. 28 through Dec. 3 as a special week for expression of appreciation to existing N. C. industries.

The commissioners' proclamation urged officials, individuals, newspapers, the air media, and other agencies in Pitt County to share in giving "our industries a pat on the back."

Thanksgiving Weekend Toll Is Lighter Than In Recent Past

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic 436
Fires 52
Miscellaneous 109
Total 597

The nation's accident death toll during the four-day Thanksgiving weekend ran lower than for the similar holiday periods of the last two years.

The 597 deaths counted today included 436 in traffic, 52 in fires and 109 in all other types of accidents.

The holiday weekend traffic toll compared with a count of 433 taken for comparative purposes by The Associated Press over a weekend of corresponding length two weeks ago.

Last year the 102-hour period from 6 p.m. Thanksgiving eve to midnight the following Sunday yielded 650 dead—445 killed on the highways, 70 in fires and 135 in miscellaneous accidents.

The count the preceding years was 626, including 454 traffic deaths, 54 in fires and 118 in miscellaneous accidents.

This year's traffic death toll was close to the 433 total reported in an Associated Press survey covering the 102-hour period between 6 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 9, and midnight Sunday, Nov. 13. The AP's count also showed 69 fire deaths and 144 in other accidents for an over-all total of 646.

No pre-holiday estimate of the traffic deaths was made by the National Safety Council, which said travel on the Thanksgiving weekend is not as heavy as on other major holidays during the year. However, the NSC did estimate that 460 persons could die on the highways during a four-day weekend at this time of year.

The record death toll for a four-day holiday period is 884, set in the Christmas period of 1956. Included were 707 deaths on the highways.

California led the nation in traffic fatalities over the weekend, with at least 50. Five other states, Michigan, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Texas, each reported 20 or more traffic deaths.

Saturday Night Wreck Left Car A Total Loss

A 1956 model car was listed as a total loss following a mishap on the Grimesland cut-off road Saturday night about three miles from Pactolus, which sent one man to the Beaufort County Hospital suffering from facial and head lacerations.

Patrolman Luther Long, who investigated the accident, identified the driver of the auto as William Thurman Crisp, 27, of 313 E. 11th St., Washington. The injured man, a passenger in the car, was identified as Lewis Hickman, 21, of Grimesland.

Patrolman Long said the Crisp vehicle was headed north from Grimesland toward N.C. 33, when he rounded a curve, lost control of the car and skidded about 300 feet, then overturned and crashed broadside into a tree.

Crisp was charged with reckless driving, Long reported. The wreck occurred about 7 p.m.

Coffman pointed out that proceeds from the sale are used to furnish Christmas baskets for needy families.

Youth Struck By Thrown Bottle

Greenville police charged William Bruce Hardee, 23, of Route 3, Greenville, with assault with a deadly weapon Saturday after a bottle he allegedly threw from the window of a moving car struck a 17-year-old Negro boy in the face, knocking the youth unconscious.

Investigators reported Leslie Ray Cox of 918 Legion St. was taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital by the Greenville Rescue Squad and treated for the blow, then released.

Police said Cox was walking at the south end of the Greene Street Bridge when the bottle struck him across the nose at the forehead.

Officers reported that other motorists noted the license number of the car from which the bottle was thrown and reported it to police. The car, driven by Johnny Ray Stanley, 19, of Route

1, Farmville, was located behind a service station on North Greene St.

Stanley and a second passenger in the auto, Lloyd Allen Taylor, 26, of Route 2, Greenville, identified Hardee as the one who threw the bottle. Hardee was quoted as saying he did not see the boy when he threw the bottle and did not know he had hit anyone.

Steeple of some churches are now being made of nickel stainless steel because of its strength and durability. Also, the metal requires no maintenance.
