Utilities Commission Formula For Annual Turnover To City Unveiled

By ALVIN TAYLOR, Reflector City Editor. Utilities commissioners last night unveiled a formula for computing the commission's annual turnover to the city government.

The figure now will be based on six percent of the total net investment in electric and gas departments, plus an amount equal to the city's property tax on the electric and gas departments' facilities within the city limits.

J. Ed Waldrop, chairman of the committee which worked up the formula, presented figures which show that the city will receive $186,677.05 under the formula for the 1961-62 fiscal year.

This is more than $6,000 above the $150,000 which the city has received annually from the Utilities Commission since the 1958-59 fiscal year.

Laos Warns Soviet Against Airlifting Pro-Red Rebels

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The Laotian government has threatened to take "appropriate steps" unless the Soviet government stops its airlift to pro-Communist rebels.

The warning to the Soviet Union, sent to the Soviet ambassador in London Monday, was made public shortly after the United States delivered the royal Laotian army its first armed planes.

Four propeller-driven observation planes, each armed with machine guns, were flown here Tuesday. Two other planes and a number of helicopters are also being turned over to Laos by the United States. The airlift will be flown by Laotian pilots.

A Laotian spokesman said the planes were needed to check on the movements of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao in the north central Plaine des Jarres.

Negro Students Quietly Join Georgia U. Classes

Athens, Ga. (AP)—Two teenage Negroes quietly sat down in classes with white students today after federal court rulings swept aside nearly two centuries of segregation at the University of Georgia.

Charlayne A. Hunter, 18, and Hamilton E. Holmes, 19, trudged along the oak and elm lined walkways to psychology and zoology classes respectively.

No crowds bothered them. There was just the usual flow of students making their way to the 9 a.m. classes in a score of buildings spread out over an area of more than two miles.

Some of the white boys and girls cast curious glances at the two Negroes. Others paid them no attention. Some spoke to them, it was just another day starting at one of the nation's higher educational centers.

While all was quiet in the university town, there were rumblings in Atlanta of further displeasure with integration on any level. House Speaker George L. Smith and State Auditor B. E. Thrasher Jr. expressed the opinion that the present appropriations act automatically cuts off funds to the university when integrated. But regardless of their views, normal operations proceeded.

The U.S. Supreme Court Tuesday refused Georgia's plea to further delay integration at the school. Gov. Ernest Vandiver said the appeal to the high court exhausted the state's legal remedies. Vandiver earlier was stopped from closing the doors of the university by U.S. Dist. Judge W.A. Bootle's temporary injunction against cutting off state funds to the school.

The governor protested to Bootle "the sweeping nature of these orders attempting to take over the state legislative and executive processes," but said, "my respect for lawful processes and my oath as governor of the state of Georgia preclude any act of defiance on my part."

Miss Hunter, 18, a freshman from Atlanta, spent the night on the campus in a two-room suite in a women's dormitory. Crowds gathered outside, some yelling, but a white coed said later that while girls cheered with the Negro in her room in a generally friendly reception, freshmen women are required to live on the campus.

Griffton Board Talks Setting Up A Bond Issue

GRIFFTON—Possibilities of setting up a bond issue for the new sewage disposal plant and water well were discussed at the Griffton Town Board meeting last night, it has been learned.

Board members, taking no action, decided to consult Willis Barlow of L. E. Wooten and Sons Co., consulting engineers of Raleigh, and later make plans to meet with W. E. Easterlings of the local government commission.

The board has been discussing a new plant and water well for some time, though no definite plans have been announced.

During the meeting, several reports were presented, including the building inspector's report, Recorder's Court, Police Department, Library.

The building inspector's report for December, prepared by inspector Charles Rose, revealed the total estimated cost at $14,500 and three permits issued.

The report for the year showed 47 permits issued; 24 plumbing permits issued; 325 inspections made; estimated building cost at $357,950; estimated plumbing cost at $12,000; and permit fees collected, $473.

To date, 10 buildings have been condemned, the report said. The Recorder's Court balance for December was $970.34. The Police report showed 14 arrests during December, with 12 found guilty and two not processed in court.

The Griffton Library, under direction of Librarian Gladys Burney, reported for November and December. During November, 473 books were issued, 16 magazines issued and $5.02 collected in fines. In December, 305 books were issued and $10.13 collected in fines.

In other business, members of the board discussed putting lights behind stores where there are no lights at present. It was decided to request a survey by Carolina Power and Light Co. as to where extra street lights could be located. Though street lights are located throughout the town of Griffton, there is no lighting behind stores. The request came from store owners.

A clinic spokesman said neither Hemingway nor his wife, who accompanied him, would permit disclosure of the nature of his illness. It was emphasized that no surgery was involved.

Hemingway registered here under an assumed name. His presence became known after residents recognized him during the daily walks the clinic informant said he is now taking.

The change of the breed name subsequently resulted in altering the name of the association from $54

Okay Automation Fund Agreement

Officers elected were: Ray Blizzard of Deep Run, president; Odell Peterson of Garland, vice president; L. T. Waters of Wake Forest, vice president; and M. T. Lamm of Louisville, secretary-treasurer.

Yesterday's show and sale was held at the Pitt County Fairgrounds. Assistant County Agent C.J. Goodman served as sales clerk.

She Knows How To Raise Presidents

News And Notes From Robersonville

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

Mrs. Rose Kennedy agrees it is every American mother's privilege to dream that her son will grow up to be President.

But of President-elect John F. Kennedy, she says now:

"When you think of all the responsibilities..."

Mrs. Kennedy admits that among her sons, her eldest seemed the most likely choice.

"Joseph Jr. was the one we thought would go into politics," she says. "Jack always thought he'd be a writer, or perhaps the head of a boys' school in the country. He thought companionship with students and books would be a fine life. It certainly would be a quieter one."

But Joseph Jr., a Navy lieutenant and pilot, was killed when his plane blew up in World War II.

CAMPAINED FOR SON

The attractive Mrs. Kennedy, mother of 9 children and grandmother of 18, has seen one son elected president, another, Robert, named attorney-general. A third, Ted, was a mainstay of the Kennedy presidential campaign and has just finished a fact-finding tour of Africa. All three definitely are in politics.

And Rose Kennedy herself hit the campaign trail last fall for her son.

"Of course I didn't discuss politics," she says. "I leave that for the experts."

At 70, she's trim-figured and looks years younger.

Daily four-mile walks have kept her agile. She still plays golf and ice skates when she has a chance, and "for years they couldn't beat me in tennis." She draws the line at participating in the family's touch football.

Rose Kennedy has always been wrapped up in her children.

"People used to feel sorry for me because I was having so many children. I made up my mind I wouldn't give anyone the opportunity to feel sorry for me—or my children."

nursery with two children as one, and if you're taking two to see 'Hansel and Gretel' it's just as easy to take three. It's much more fun, and they're companions for each other, too.

"Of course, you can't have nine children without some crises. That's why parents should inspire confidence. They should explain why they take a certain stand. Then when the children are older, they will come to you with their problems. Some boys of 17 or 18 can't talk to their parents. But my boys could talk to their father. He always said to them: 'Come clean, tell me all of it. If you don't I won't know how to help.' And they told him."

Rose Kennedy was the debutante eldest daughter of John Fitzgerald, former U.S. Congressman and mayor of Boston, for whom the President-elect was named. As a girl, she traveled widely with her father, who died a decade or so ago. Her mother is still living.

When she looks back on her childhood and marriage to Joseph P. Kennedy in 1914, she says:

"I've had such a thrilling life. And being a Catholic has been a tremendous help. A strong belief in the most wonderful thing that can happen to you. The fact that I've had one has given me a certain stability. But don't say I have fortune. That makes me sound so sanctimonious."

"Life seems more involved than when I was a girl. Children have so much more freedom now. That's why children who had had religious training and had their characters formed when they're young are pretty levelheaded when they're grown up and on their own."

She doesn't think being mother of the President is going to make much difference in her life.

She still works hard for charity. Right now this is taking the form of making speeches for women's clubs trying to raise money for their favorite charities.

"I talk about life in England when I was there in the '30's with my husband, the ambassador. It's fun and I enjoy it."

Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Taylor, who recently sold their farm, moved Wednesday to her home on Main Street.

Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Little returned from Duke Hospital Friday to spend the weekend. He returned Monday to continue his treatments. Mrs. Little accompanied him to Durham.

The Rev. Wilbur T. Wallace spent some time with his uncle, Moore Link, who was critically ill. Immediately after he returned from Tennessee, he received word of the death of this relative.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fleming had the following guests last week his three sisters, Mrs. Alma Hunt, Mrs. Myra Mann and Miss Selma Fleming of Enfield, Mrs. Edith Fleming and son Edward of Raleigh, John Berry Fleming of Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Fleming of Frederick, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Smith of Norfolk spent a few days with her mother, Mrs. George Matthews, and other relatives.

Mrs. Nancy Everett and daughter, Betty Lou, spent Thursday in Greenville as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chesson and little Lou Ann.

The living room and the dining room were decorated with yellow roses and greenery.

The new officers are: Mrs. Walter Roberson, president; Miss Gladys Bailey, vice president; Mrs. Hattie Hardy, secretary; and Mrs. W. W. Taylor Sr., treasurer. Mrs. Harvey Roberson read the constitution and the by-laws. Names of sick friends were mentioned and the treasurer was asked to remember each. Two requests for membership were received and accepted.

At the conclusion of the business session the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Bunting who provided the Jan Murray word contest.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. N. Taylor, served a congenial salad, crackers, pickles, nuts, fruit cake and hot tea.

Bridge-Luncheon

Mrs. Bruce Everett was hostess at a bridge-luncheon Tuesday at her home on Second Street. The games started at 10:30 with Mrs. James Harvey Highsmith, Mrs. Garland Warren, Mrs. Leonard T. Harney, Mrs. Martha Dell Gray, Mrs. Arthur Sherwood Perkins, Mrs. Willie B. Everett, Mrs. J. W. Taylor and the hostess making up the two tables.

At noon lunch was served to the seven guests, and a short informal period followed before the players continued the competition. When the scores were tallied, Mrs. J. N. Highsmith received the first award and Mrs. Mildred Harney received the consolation prize.

FAVORITE SON . . . Mrs. Joseph (Rose) Kennedy had good words to say about son, Jack (left) when she was introduced at the Democratic Convention in California in the summer of 1960.

DEVOTED TO CHILDREN

She loves babies—

"When you look at your baby—what an awe-inspiring moment that is. You can form his character, his way of life."

"And when you have more advantages, it's more difficult. When you have a choice of schools, or trips abroad at a certain age, then you have to make many more decisions about what's best for him."

And she loves large families—

"You might as well sit in a

Strategy Of A Desperate Dictator

There are few, if indeed any, people in the United States who put any stock in the repeated assertions by Fidel Castro that the United States plans to attack his island country during the month of January . . . or in any other month for that matter.

For the most part, it is our guess that in other areas of the world—and even in Cuba—there are also a relatively few people who are convinced that what Castro has been saying is true.

Why then is the Cuban dictator continuing his tirade and pushing preparations to repel an attack?

One school of thought asserts that after the Castro-set deadline for the attack the Cuban dictator will boast that his preparations forestalled the United States. He will declare that the Americans to the north realized that they could not cope with his defenses, that the cost would be too great, that Cuba had been victorious in the battle that never quite came off.

Such assertions by Castro would, of course, be intended to impress some people with the "military might" of Cuba and perhaps to enhance the prestige of Castro's regime. It might also be calculated to make some elements in other parts of Latin America look to Castro as a leader of international standing who can provide the military means for doing whatever they like.

On the other hand, it is quite possible that Castro's assertions of impending attack are an attempt to divert the attention of the people of Cuba from the worsening economic situation which apparently is gripping the island country. By feverish preparations for a make-believe attack, Castro may gain time to recoup his strength among his own people. He may hope to gain time to seek out and destroy elements opposed to him before they grow sufficiently strong to overthrow the regime he has established.

Since coming to power, Castro has effectively used the United States as a whipping boy to stir support for his regime, not only in his own country, but elsewhere as well. Having been so successful with such tactics in the past, it would be logical for him to make up a bigger lie to deal with the biggest domestic crisis his regime has yet faced.

We view Castro's present moves as a desperate attempt by a desperate dictator to hold his regime together and to retain his hold on his country. Without such military preparations as he is making, he may well not be able to withstand the growing threat from within. By pointing an accusing finger at another nation, he may be able to prevent elements opposed to his dictatorship from becoming the cohesive force that will destroy him.

No Big Changes In C&D Session

By LYNN NISBET

C & D PROGRAM—The stability and continuity of North Carolina's development was illustrated by the atmosphere at the meeting of the Board of Conservation and Development this week. It was the first over which Governor Sanford presided as chairman. It was a new take-over administrative control, and there was a new member of the board replacing one who died since the last meeting.

If revolutionary spirit was in the air, that was the time for it to show. It did not show. Activity reports covering the past six months made by the retiring director and the several division heads followed the pattern of similar reports for years past—general advancement, some disappointments, but enthusiasm and optimism for the future. Emphasis was on the challenge of unfinished business, programs begun but which will require years to complete. And there was no suggestion that they would not be followed to fulfillment.

CAUTIOUS—Improved methods were proposed and new media for promotion and publicity of the state's resources. These new things will be tried only after careful and thorough study. High Spot in that phase of the meeting was Governor Sanford's very brief comment. He said he expects to be a working chairman of the board, attend all meetings and take part in activities. Then he took cognizance of his own previous statements and considerable newspaper comment about probability of divorcing the industrial promotion division from the rest of the department and setting up a separate agency. The proposal is controversial, and the Governor's approach obviously pleased the board members.

STUDY—He said he had not made up his mind as to just how "we can do the most effective job" in serving the interests of all the people. He has no recommendation at this time, and will make none until he has given serious thought to the matter and consulted with board members and administrative personnel. He has no desire to make change just for the sake of doing something different. He wants to be sure the change will make for more effective service.

Further intimation that he will not ask the upcoming General Assembly to revamp the basic organization was found in his suggestion that he might exercise his obligation as chairman, after consulting with the new director, to re-align committees and switch emphasis on the diverse activities of the depart-ganization does not require legislation. That type of internal reorganization, and usually it is done at the annual business meetings of the board in the summer of odd-numbered years.

The switching of emphasis, the abandonment of divisions no longer required and the addition of new activities, is the historic record of the C&D Department. The divisions of Community Planning and Geodetic Surveys have been established within the past three years—and they are among the most eager and enthusiastic of all the activity groups.

Industrial promotion, including travel and tourism; commercial fisheries; forest fire control and reforestation; development of mineral resources and operation of State parks, have been departmental functions from the beginning. These projects developed need for community planning and stabilization of land boundaries. To meet these needs the new divisions were added.

HABITS—In dictator countries the government control the habits of the people. In democratic countries the habits of the people control the government. That is why the State responded to the demand for community planning. Also it is why more emphasis is being placed on travel and the use of State parks. More than one and two-thirds million people visited the North Carolina State parks last year. That fact led Tom Morse, parks director, to support his request for more facilities with the observation that "it took 200 years for North Carolinians to get out of the woods, and now it looks like all of them want to go back to the woods—at the same time."

Emphasizing the importance of minerals, both metal and nonmetallic, Jasper Stuckey, chief of the mineral resources division, reminded that the history of the world is recorded in mineral ages. There was the old stone age, the new stone age, the bronze age, the iron age, etc., and now we are in the petroleum age. There is danger, he said, that we may become a race of people with "big livers and no legs" because nobody walks anymore. (Oldtimers will recall a famous wise-crack of the late Will Rogers, that man might come to need nothing but one thumb—to push a button or open a pill bottle.)

PRIDE—One cannot attend a meeting of the C & D board and note the unselfish way men of big private enterprise devote their ability and energy to the public business of meeting requirements of the habits of the people without a feeling of pride and confidence in the future of North Carolina. Or the belief that progress will continue without revolution.

A Quicker Start For Legislative Business

Last week's caucus of Democrats in the North Carolina House of Representatives should pave the way for a quicker start-up of operations in the General Assembly this year than normally has been the case.

With the Speaker of the House, Joe Hunt, designated by the Democratic members, committee assignments should be completed by the time the legislature officially convenes early next month. Even though announcement of committee chairmen and committee appointments are not made before the session begins, the usual delay in effecting organization should be avoided.

The total effect should result in the legislature getting down to business without passing one, two, or more weeks in getting organized before it really gets down to considering the business at hand.

During the next month also, Gov. Terry Sanford will be putting the final touches on the legislative program he will present to the first General Assembly under his administration. By the time the legislature convenes, Sanford's program should be formulated, the items he will present the legislature outlined at least in general terms, and ready for committee consideration.

This year, of course, is the first time such an approach has been taken to the matter of legislative organization. It has been done with an eye to greater utilization of the first weeks of the legislative session. Its effectiveness probably will determine whether a similar procedure is followed in years to come.

How effective the new approach is, however, will depend to a great extent upon how the leadership in both the legislature and the administration take advantage of the next few weeks to get preliminaries out of the way.

No Talking Will Be Big Change

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — For eight years a take-charge man with big eyeglasses and more than enough chin did an extraordinary job of making his boss, the President of the United States, look good.

Now James C. Hagerty, President Eisenhower's press secretary with a beard of a temper and so much self-assurance he could hold a surplus sale, is leaving.

When he turned in his resignation, Eisenhower said he had been invaluable. And indeed he was.

Eisenhower admittedly didn't do much newspaper reading. Hagerty a 51-year-old grandfather and former newspaperman, was to a large extent the President's eyes and ears.

He was more than that. He not only was a buffer between the President and the press to a degree unmatched in this century, he was also Eisenhower's mouthpiece.

But he was no blabbermouth. He never got his devotion to news mixed up with his loyalty to Eisenhower. He never said anything to embarrass his boss. He didn't make slips.

Hagerty was a master of two things which a lot of press relations men never learn: He paid attention to details and informed himself on problems he had to handle.

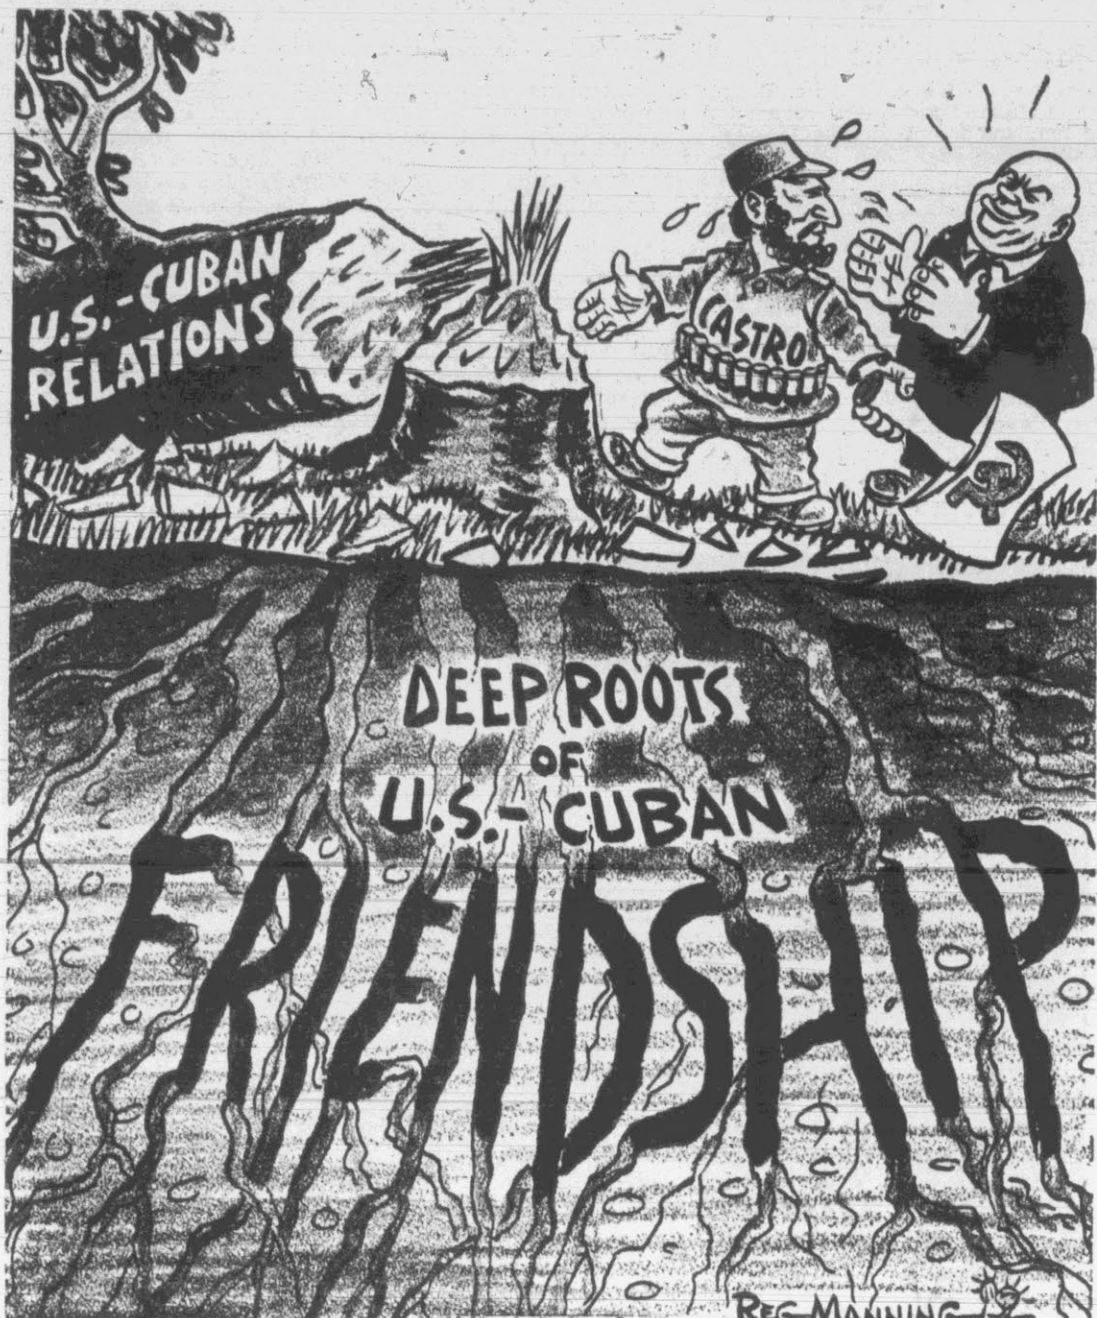

Seem simple? It's amazing how many people in Washington don't do either.

In time Hagerty became Eisenhower's scout, a kind of private emissary, who went ahead of the President when he planned a trip abroad and arranged for his safety and convenience.

He became such a strong and established figure in the group around Eisenhower that he was almost certainly an advisor on policy.

Hagerty was unchallenged within the administration as emperor of his special domain from the time he took charge of the news about Eisenhower's heart attack in 1955.

Wound Up Elsewhere

Your columnist has to apologize to Frank Dall of Tadlock Mutual Insurance Agency.

Frank, you see, has those little desk calendars which so many businessmen give out this time of year.

I visited Frank's office the other day and he gave me a couple with explicit instructions to take them to the Daily Reflector office where they were to be placed on anybody's desk who needed them.

I solemnly promised and stuck them in my overcoat pocket. My next stop was Bissette's Drug Store where I got in a conversation with a couple of college girls. Well, they caught sight of the calendars in my coat pocket. They said they needed them, and who was I to say no.

So, Frank Dall's advertising calendars are now somewhere in Garrett Hall. My apologies, Frank.

Your columnist postponed seeing the Movie "Ben Hur" simply because I didn't believe any movie could hold my attention for four hours.

I'll have to admit I was wrong. I finally decided to attend after this unusually long movie had played at the State Theatre here for more than two weeks. Curiosity drew me to the theatre just to see what all the fuss was about.

So Monday night I plopped down the admission price and settled in an aisle seat. My first surprise was that a good crowd was attending that night even after the movie had been playing here since December 25.

I couldn't help admiring the scenery as the story unfolded. I had to agree that the acting was excellent. The big surprise was that when intermission came I was completely unaware more than two hours had passed. I was eager to return to my seat for the last portion.

This biblical story, set in the time of Christ, is one that everyone should see. In my opinion it is sure to rank as one of the great ones in movie history.

Henry Morgan keeps them howling with his comments on the "I've Got a Secret Show". Obviously it is his wit rather than his ability to guess secrets that keeps him gaily employed.

My first recollection of Henry was his appearance on a radio show some years ago. The show came from New York and was in honor of somebody or other.

Many city officials and dignitaries were having their say.

When Morgan's time came, he went to the mike and said, "Maybe this isn't the time or place but with all these city officials present I'd like to say there's a hole in the street in front of my house and . . ." or words to that effect.

Public Forum

To the Editor: In the recent meeting on public housing and urban renewal, it was noted that practically all voices spoke in opposition. The world is so backwards these days that when all vocal opinion is against a proposition it's a pretty good sign that the proposition has merit.

Greenville has already helped, through federal taxes, to pay for public housing in Kinston, Rocky Mount, and other more progressive towns and cities all over America. Greenville money right now is helping to clear out slums in New York City. Isn't it about time that Kinston, Rocky Mount, New York City, and the rest of America should help to pay for something in Greenville? Shall Greenville help to buy public projects and decent houses all over America yet keep her own slums?

Think of the millions of dollars that urban renewal and public housing would turn loose in Greenville—and right now when we need it. Millions of dollars for the suppliers and construction workers of this vicinity. Millions to lubricate the business machine of the area just at a time when it has begun to squeak. There isn't a business in Greenville that wouldn't feel the beneficial effect of all this money let loose around the town.

Workers who are now unemployed would have, for a while, at least, good jobs, and would be buying from local businesses the things they want and need. Think of the physical improvement to the city. Instead of an unsightly slum—a beautiful plaza along the river front! Recreation areas! A municipal auditorium! First class new business development! A new court house! Why not a great recreation center where everything possible can be assembled for the pleasure of the people of Greenville—a community house big enough for a whole city?

Instead of shacks and shanties where rents are high and conditions low—modern, new homes in a planned suburban community where rents are still low, but conditions high; where our low-income families can live better even on the same income. Space and pleasantness around for the people, beauty instead of ugliness for the city, prosperity promoted for everyone.

Think of the spiritual gain. This is no time for profiteering at the expense of the poor. This is a time for planning to bring the poor to a condition of equality and brotherhood with more fortunate elements of our population. If we do not accept this challenge, we lose the world to Communism by default.

Urban renewal and public housing will create problems of readjustment for a small minority of the people, and where hardship results, the planning of the project should not neglect help for these cases. But these projects are in the interest of the city as a whole and will contribute to the creation of a better Greenville.

Again, we are paying for everybody else's public improvements; if we don't get our own share, we aren't doing ourselves justice.

Strength For Today

THE MARK OF MIRACLE

What is a miracle? Some would say that a miracle is an act which results from the operation of natural laws—either natural laws which we have not yet discovered, or natural laws with which we are at present familiar but operating in unfamiliar combinations. Still others would say that a miracle is the result of a breakthrough of certain spiritual forces plunging into the stream of human life.

There are valid arguments to support both points of view. It would seem, however, that miracles cannot be adequately explained in terms of physical law. These physical laws deal with the material order. Miracles have about them certain characteristics which bespeak a heavenly origin. The mysterious and unseen hand of God is involved some way in a miracle. His touch, his purpose, his power, has made the difference between this and some ordinary event.

Let us get out of our minds the mistaken notion that the day of miracles is passed. If miracles ceased to exist at a certain time, the probabilities are that they never happened. If they ever happened, an religious faith encourages us to believe that they did—then they are still happening.

Look into your own life. Inquire of your believing friends, and you will soon come to the conclusion that many things have happened in your life and theirs which bear upon them the true mark of miracle.

Opinions In Brief

Good, Bad Side To Large Crops

By ELMER ROESSNER

The world's bellies are fuller today than ever before. World crop production in the 1960-61 season, which began last summer in the Northern Hemisphere and is now approaching harvest in the Southern Hemisphere, is the largest ever.

The Foreign Agriculture Service estimates that current crops are 3 per cent above a year ago and 1 per cent above the previous high bounty year of 1958-59.

Good, because it means that more children, women and men will have enough to eat.

Bad, because it means that births will also increase, leading to overpopulation and hunger in future years of poor crops.

Good, because surplus foodstuffs mean more international trade.

Bad, because dictators never launch wars unless warehouses are filled with supplies. On the other hand, people seldom revolt when they have plenty to eat and wear.

FASTER THAN BIRTHS

The total volume of current crops, according to the FAS estimate, is 23 per cent above the 1952-54 average. And the world's population is 15 per cent above that of the same period. That's significant. It means that food production has been increasing faster than the population has. It means that the starvation of the world's population is still far off — if it will ever come.

New world records were set in the production of corn, barley, sugar, tobacco, castor beans and tea. New records, but by smaller margins, were set in production of rice, cotton and cottonseed, rapeseed, sisal and henequen.

State Dept. Chore

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
Copyright, 1961, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

In charge of our Cuban affairs in the State Department was until recently William A. Wieland who has been identified as the Arthur William Montenegro for whom I have been looking in the record. This was not meant which has full responsibility in the matter, but the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee has been studying the question of Wieland's conduct and purposes.

There are three men who have the name Montenegro and this produces some confusion. Therefore, it is necessary to say that the Arthur William Montenegro who is being discussed is William Wieland and that he comes by both names quite properly; the Wieland name being his at birth, the Montenegro name coming later when his mother married a second husband by that name.

So we need not get too excited about the name of a man, but we are justified in wondering why this man was entrusted with our Cuban affairs and if the Senate Committee does the job thoroughly, we may find out how men are recruited into the State Department and how they are promoted. We may discover what are the qualifications for being a deskman who can by the flick of a ballpoint pen get the United States into the mess which is now our Cuban situation.

The same thing happened with regard to Communist China in the years 1945, 1946 and 1947 when Alger Hiss and Owen Lattimore and the Institute of Pacific Relations were manufacturing American policy which lost to a continent and gained for us our most pernicious enemy. It might have been otherwise had the policy of our government not been influenced so positively by men whose interest was to support Soviet Russia rather than the United States, although they were American citizens. It took a long time for Americans to overcome the false propaganda let loose in this country that these Communists were only agrarian reformers.

Dean Rusk, who is to be Secretary of State in the Kennedy Administration, speaking on May 18, 1951, said:

"It is not my purpose, in these few moments this evening, to go into specific elements of our own national policy in the present situation. But we can tell our friends in China that the United States will not acquiesce in the degradation which is being forced upon them. We do not recognize the authorities in Peking for what they pretend to be. The Peiping regime may be a colonial Russian government—a Sialic Manchukuo on a larger scale. It is not the Government of China. It does not pass the first test. It is not Chinese."

"It is not entitled to speak for China in the community of nations. It is entitled only to the fruits of its own conduct — the fruits of aggression upon which it is so proudly, willfully, openly and senselessly embarking."

This is true but it took too many years to be said officially and when it was said the mischief had already been done. Similarly, in the Cuban situation, we have come to realize that we have taken more than we can bear, but why did we take it at all? Was it because William Wieland was calling the turns? Was it because Roy Rubottom was difficult? Was it because the Fifth Floor of the State Department, where the great men sit, never knows what goes on in that sprawling building until it is too late to do anything but make ready for war or appeasement?

The Internal Security Subcommittee ought to examine this situation to discover not an individual whose judgment was bad or whose conduct was vicious, but a pattern of operations which makes it possible for incompetent and indigent persons to become associated with the State Department and to rise to positions where they can commit the United States to a policy. The Cuban situation ought to be studied from the standpoint that it is an altogether unnecessary advantage for Soviet Russia which might have been averted had the control of American policy been where it should be under our Constitution, in the hands of the President of the United States, not of a deskman in the State Department.

Kennedy Bills May Earn Tag Of 'Welfare Congress'

Editor's Note — Help for depressed areas, higher teacher pay, more medical care for the aged—these were high in the list of John F. Kennedy's campaign pledges. What will the president-elect do about them after moving into the White House? From a veteran Associated Press political writer, here's an estimate of the broad outlines of the Kennedy legislative program. It's the third of five articles on Kennedy plans and programs.

By JACK BELL
AP Political Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — History may tie the tag of "the welfare Congress" on the 87th meeting of the nation's lawmakers if President-elect John F. Kennedy gets his way.

In advance of its actual submission after his inauguration, Kennedy's legislative program is taking shape as one aimed at bettering the economic and social status of millions of Americans. While he hasn't laid down any specific priorities, Kennedy has said he wants speedy action on measures to provide medical care for the aged, aid for education, housing, minimum wage and aid for chronically depressed areas.

The president-elect has talked of easing interest rates, revising the labor laws, spurring economic development, and expanding national resources projects.

In the controversial field of civil rights he is tied to a platform declaration for congressional passage of a measure to clothe the attorney general with his brother Robert, with authority to bring federal injunction suits to enforce school desegregation. This and some other proposals face tough and possibly successful opposition in a Congress the Democrats nominally control but where a coalition of conservatives of both parties has a great deal to say about the final form of legislation.

Outside of Congress, Kennedy has promised executive action to improve the condition of certain segments of the population.

He said repeatedly in the presidential campaign there was much a president could do by the stroke of a pen, such as ending segregation in federal housing programs, furnishing moral leadership and calling a conference of Southern moderates to recommend measures for civil rights progress.

The Kennedy program for aid to education has not taken final form. He supported a bill passed by the Senate in the 86th Congress for a two-year $1.86-billion program for school construction and grants for teachers' salaries.

The House passed a four-year program authorizing $1.3 billion for construction only. The two houses couldn't agree and the bill died. Whether Kennedy is any more successful as president than as a senator in promoting a teachers' pay measure remains to be seen.

The new president will have a fight on his hands in proposing a medical care program for the aged, financed through Social Security taxes. Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., already has served notice he will oppose a tax-financed proposal as a substitute for the state-federal program passed by the last Congress.

Republicans are lining up their forces to battle an expected Kennedy recommendation for an increase in the minimum wage to $1.25 an hour, with an expansion of coverage to another five million persons, mostly in the retail trades.

Republicans can be expected to contend that a minimum wage boost now may only increase unemployment. They are not alone in their opposition. For example, Sen. Fulbright, D-Ark., takes a similar position.

Kennedy's bill to help depressed areas may carry around $400 million in federal grants and loans to encourage new industries in areas of chronic unemployment. It probably will call for retraining of miners, railroad workers and others who have lost their jobs permanently.

Kennedy is expected to back a housing bill geared to spurring this lagging industry with lower interest rates and easier terms for credit purchases. In the past he has supported urban renewal programs. There is some doubt on the course the new president may take in the complex field of labor law reforms.

The platform on which he was elected pledges the new president to seek repeal of the Taft-Hartley law provision which authorizes states to pass right-to-work laws. But it seems questionable to most observers that this will get a high priority—if any—in the rush to legislate providing broader welfare benefits. These benefits could include a new department of urban affairs to handle mounting problems of city dwellers, as well as some kind of central agency pointed at giving consumers a break.

These two projects still are in the speculative stage, however. Most associates think Kennedy will wait until he gets the feel of the presidency and plumbs the economic situation thoroughly before making any such proposals. Thursday Military Affairs.

Retires After Serving Post Office 39 Years

Chauncey L. Dupree served with the U.S. Post Office in Greenville for 39 years and two months before retiring December 31.

His most vivid experience in those 39 years occurred while he was a rural carrier on RFD two, Greenville. He opened a roadside mailbox and was greeted by a small green and very snaky snake.

"That was one time I almost went right out of the car," Dupree recalls now, more calmly.

Snakes, however, were only the infrequent visitors of mail boxes he said. The usual inhabitants were wasps. As a rural carrier for 23 and a half years of his postal service, Dupree became experienced in the way of the rural mail box. This experience included being stung by wasps many times, he relates.

On his route, Dupree worked in the vicinity of the Stantonsburg Road, Bell Arthur Blackjack and other close-by areas. He for many years drove over bad roads, getting stuck, and continued deliveries through snow and sleet. "But the people were mighty fine, the finest group of people," Dupree said.

After serving as a rural carrier for over 23 years, Dupree spent the remainder of his years in postal service as a clerk in the Greenville Post Office.

His retirement was announced this week by J. Knott Proctor, postmaster.

Dupree, brought up on a farm,

C. L. DUPREE

wanted to work with the post office since it offered good work and a steady job. He is married to the former Luna Tripp, of Falkland, and they have two children: Dr. Louis Dupree, now in Sufferin, N. Y., and Mrs. Bryce Sigmon, Jr. of Alexandria, Va.

Dupree said that on the day he retired, the entire personnel in the post office presented him with a brown checked suit and a matching brown hat. He praised the "fellows in the post office" as being a fine group to work with.

Playhouse To Stage Suspense Mystery

The East Carolina College Playhouse will present as its first major production for the 1961 season Emlyn Williams' "Night Must Fall." The play has been described as a "suspense mystery that was highly successful when it played in London, Broadway, and when it was made into a movie."

Three performances are scheduled for Feb. 9, 10, and 11, at 8 p.m. in the McGinnis auditorium. Dr. Corrine Rickert, director of closed circuit television and great director of the Playhouse at East Carolina, has announced a cast of eight students.

Dorning Jenkins of Greenville, senior primary education major at East Carolina, will play Mrs. Bramson, an elderly invalid who runs the household and falls prey to the charms of the smoothtalking deceptive psychopath, Dan, played by Douglas Mitchell, senior English major from Greenville.

Karen Best, junior art major from Mount Olive, will portray Olivia Grayne, skeptical niece of Mrs. Bramson.

Also in the cast are Claude Thomas Hull of Durham as Hubert Laurie; Suzanne Truesdale of Alexandria, Va., as Dora Porek; John F. Quinn of Greenville, as Inspector Belsize; and Judy Wilson of Durham as Mrs. Terence.

Patricia Harvey of Thomasville, rehearsal secretary; Robert L. Parson of Newport News, Va., assistant director; and W. Marshall Braddy, Jr., of New Bern, stage manager, are working with Dr. Rickert in staging the production. Designers and builders of the scenery are to be announced later.

Lithographs Are Shown In Gallery

Thirty lithographs by Benton Spruance, instructor and art director of Beaver College, Jenkintown, Pennsylvania, are being displayed in the hall gallery of Rawl building at East Carolina College during the month of January.

The lithographs show variety in technique and competence of execution. The show is open to the public.

The print exhibition covers a wide range of subjects varying from the human figure to landscapes. The artist's work indicates a major interest in human beings, since few prints escape the inclusion of the figure.

Color plays an important role in many of the prints in the exhibition. Brilliance of color is strikingly achieved by transparent colors which reflect the white of the paper beneath them. Clear colors that seem to belong with one another are used to create a unified effect.

Mr. Spruance not only portrays people and their activities and feelings, but also uses the human figure as a designing element in his prints.

Dr. Bruce Carter, faculty member of the art department at East Carolina College who is in charge of instruction in graphics, studied with Mr. Spruance last summer.

Claim Lumumba Is Ill-Treated

BELGRADE (AP) — Yugoslavia's Communist party paper Borba reported Tuesday a letter smuggled out of prison from the Congo's Prime Lumumba complained of inhuman treatment.

Borba said the letter was sent to Rajeshwar Dayal, U.N. representative in the Congo. Lumumba complained he was poorly fed, not permitted to leave the cell, denied visits by or information about his wife and in 35 days has not been given any clean cloth. Borba's correspondent in Leopoldville did not explain how he got the letter.

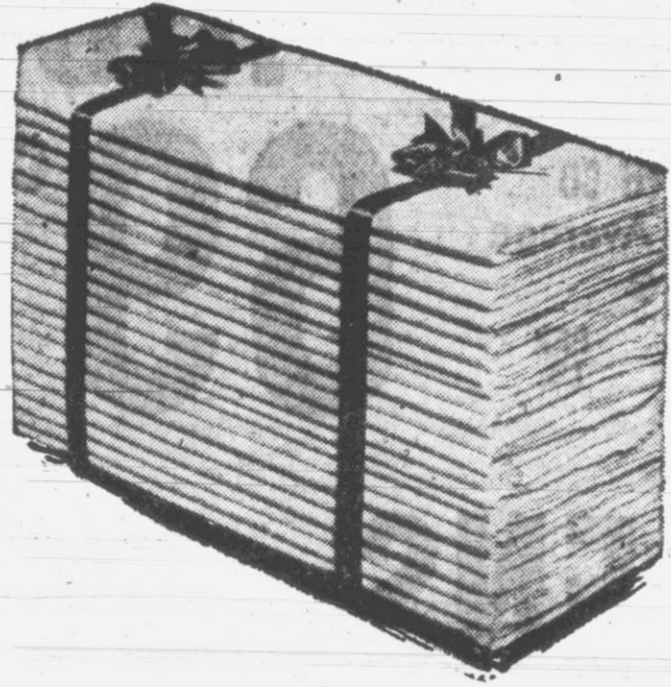

Food Shortages Facing 300,000

ROME (AP)—The U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization said Tuesday night 300,000 refugees face a severe shortage of food in the Congo's south Kasal Province.

FAO began a program to provide food and seeds to relieve the famine, caused by tribal fighting, unfavorable rains and a large influx of refugees from other parts of the Congo.

Focus On Health

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Medical experts comment on obesity, strawberry birth marks, and "substitute nerves."

Resolution
For 1961, the American Heart Association urges everyone to resolve to put and keep their weight at a reasonably normal level as a way of protecting their hearts and their health.

"Overweight" overworks the heart. The association says, pointing to higher mortality rates among men, and also among women to a lesser extent, who are carrying around excess pounds. Get good medical advice about what is a proper diet for you, it adds.

Disappearing Birthmarks
Strawberry birthmarks are fairly common, but most of them disappear with time, or become greatly improved, without any treatment, British skin specialists report.

Among 169 such birthmarks among 140 children, only 21 marks remained by the time the youngsters were eight years old.

Substitute Nerves?
From the Soviet Union comes word of experiments in which metal electrodes are being substituted for severed lengths of nerves in dogs' legs.

Dogs in the experiments run and jump quite normally, says a Soviet writer describing research of Prof. Boris Ognev. Prof. Ognev has performed 36 operations on 30 dogs so far, removing up to two-inch lengths of the sciatic nerve, he said. Further details of how the "substitute" nerve actually works were not supplied in a Tass broadcast quoting from Nedelya, the weekly supplement of the Soviet newspaper Izvestia.

Deeper Look
A major goal in medicine is to discover how to transplant, successfully, a spare kidney, lung, heart or leg from one human to another. Such transplants invariably are rejected by a type of allergic reaction, except between identical twins.

Real clues to the reason for the failure could lie in subtle changes in cells of transplanted tissues. To explore the nature of this reaction, an electron microscope capable of magnifying objects 100,000 times will be used in the transplantation studies program at Harvard University and Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston.

Plans to buy an electron microscope, aided by a National Heart Institute grant, are reported by Dr. Gustave J. Dammin, professor of pathology. Ordinary microscopes using light waves, rather than electrons, magnify objects only about 5,000 times.

Urge No Delay In Seeking Grain Loan

Farmers intending to apply for price support loans on 1960 grain crops were urged today to avoid waiting until "the last minute" by office manager Wayne L. Wang of the Pitt County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation program.

"Farmers who plan to apply for the loans through their county committee should not wait until the final date to act," Wang said. The final date for obtaining price support loans on all 1960 grain crops except corn has been set for Jan. 31. The corn loan date is Feb. 28.

According to Wang, the necessary documents must be completed and in the county ASC office not later than the deadline date. These documents, he said, include the producer's note and loan agreement for warehouse-storage loans, the producer's note and supplemental loan agreement, and the Commodity Chattel Mortgage for farm-storage loans, and the Purchase Agreement for Purchase Agreements.

Although loan applications may be accepted until the deadline, "there may be some reason why the necessary documents could not be completed immediately," Wang cautioned, "the entire transaction must be completed by the deadline in order for a farmer to be eligible for a loan on his crop."

In case of farm storage loans, he explained, "it sometimes takes up to two weeks to complete all transactions involved. This is due to the fact that a representative of the ASC county office is required to visit the farm to make an inspection and take a sample. This sample must be sent to the State Laboratory for grading and the grade certificate returned to the local ASC office before the loan documents can be completed."

Wang pointed out price support loans on grains bear interest at 3 1/2 per cent per annum from the date of disbursement and suggested that interested farmers visit their local ASC office for support rates on their commodity and other information regarding the availability of loans or purchase agreements.

This Job Was 'Unexpendable'

BUTTE, Mont. (AP)—A railroad is operating at Butte because one man was waived from jury duty.

Or so he wants his boss to think. The man asked to be excused from jury duty in Judge T. D. Downey's court because he worked for a railroad.

Downey asked, "Don't you think the railroad could operate for a few days without you?"

And back came the reply: "Sure. But I'd hate to have them find it out."

Went To Sleep Where He Tired

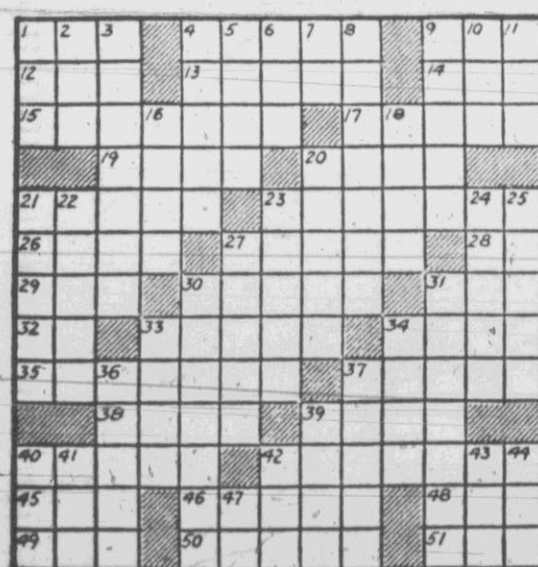

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—An emergency call sent a patrol car racing through the streets looking for a small boy lying unconscious on the sidewalk. When the officers reached him and raised him up they asked what was wrong. "I was sleeping," he said. "Why on the sidewalk?" "That's where I was when I got tired," he replied.

Courthouse Office Space Is Utilized At 'Capacity'

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles dealing with the Pitt County government office and agency housing situation. Today's article seeks to explain how the seat of Pitt's government—the county courthouse—is used and the existing conditions in the courthouse offices.

By HENRY HOWARD
Reflector Staff Writer
A 53-year-old courthouse on the corner of Evans and Third Streets in Greenville—the hub of Pitt County governmental activity—is a formidable masonry structure that initially cost the county less than $100,000.
Erected and paid for with $3,000 in bonds during 1910-11, the three-story building has served as Pitt's governmental center since that time.

Originally, all the county's offices were housed by the courthouse. Offices were available to all until an expanding population demanded more service from existing agencies and additional agencies to answer new problems.

Today, several major county agencies who had been among original occupants of the courthouse have been located in other buildings. Among these are the county board of education, the department of public welfare, and the public health department.

Remaining are the agencies that form the nucleus of Pitt County's governmental structure—the clerk of superior court, the county tax department, the register of deeds, the county auditing department, and the sheriff's department.

In addition to the five major offices, the courthouse also houses a county branch of the N. C. Department of Revenue, a county electrical inspector's office, Pitt County's Alcoholic Beverage Control office, and a meeting office for the county Board of Commissioners.

A clerk's office for Pitt County Recorder's Court is also maintained but is combined with the superior court clerk's office under the original arrangement.

The county jail, frequently barred by possible condemnation, is situated just to the north of the courthouse and was part of the initial construction contract. The 20-capacity prison facility was also financed through the $75,000 bond issue in the early 1900's.

The exodus of other county agencies from the courthouse has, to date, allowed for normal expansion of Pitt's official record-keeping departments. In past years, the crowded conditions that arose were allowed to spill over into office space vacated by the exodus.

But the moving-out-of-agencies seems to have reached a point near its limit. Departments remaining in the courthouse, for the most part, are required by law to store their records in fireproof vaults to insure availability at all times.

This situation raises a two-fold problem for departments who must store their records in such a manner.

First, the departments realize some form of expansion in the not-too-distant future is inevitable. Most of the agencies have virtually reached the limitations placed on their growth by the masonry walls of the courthouse.

Secondly, if the departments in question were provided additional working or office space, would the working space be convenient to adequate storage facilities and would the storage space provided meet legal requirements?

Of Pitt County's citizenry, none are more aware of the problem than are the County Commissioners. Some course of action in the near future appears to them inevitable. The question confronting the board, however, is: "What course do the people of Pitt County want to follow?"

Currently, the courthouse family of departments and offices operates like this:
The office of D. T. House Jr., clerk of Superior Court, occupies the identical working space it enjoyed during completion of the courthouse.

His storage facilities have been expanded to include two additional rooms. The 1948 courthouse renovation included revamping of a basement room and creation of another. The two adjacent basement rooms were brought up to legal record storage specifications and the court records flowed into them.

House, who became clerk in 1945, says the two added rooms currently provide adequate storage and are nearly filled.

House's problem, however, he expects to be greatly relieved if current action to establish a separate office for the business of the county recorder's court is successful.

The Board of Commissioners has begun investigation of the possibility of moving the second-floor ABC offices into the Edwards Building, to the rear of the courthouse, and allow the recorder's court office to move upstairs.

The Superior Court clerk believes the separation of the two offices will offer a solution to the problem, at least temporarily. Records in the clerk's vaults indicate why the county court's rapidly-expanding volume of business has been the deciding factor in the proposal to create a separate office.

The permanent record books show the recorder's court has seen its number of cases tried and recorded increase by nearly 400 per cent since 1950. In 1950, the county court disposed of a total 361 cases while 1960's final count was around 1,400.

Though the Superior Court's business has not increased as rapidly, the added numbers of court cases, wills and estates probated and administered, lunacy commitments, justice of the peace judgments, and other routine assignments have been felt.

With all the activity currently engaged in by employees of the clerk's office, House believes a problem as acute as the records storage situation is the problem of adequate working space for the clerk's staff and for attorneys who work daily in the vault areas.

One working table is provided in the main floor vault. Another is situated in one of the two basement vault rooms.

Register of Deeds
The 1948 courthouse renovation also added more storage and working space in the county's register of deeds office, but that space, too has just about been absorbed, according to Mrs. Blair C. Wheelless, register of deeds.

"Our greatest need," she says, "is for more storage... especially for real estate records." But Mrs. Wheelless also feels the office should have more working space—both for the office's staff and for attorneys and the public who have access to the stored records.

The problem of adequate storage in the register of deeds office, as in the clerk's office, is made more complex since the vaults must be fireproof. Furthermore, the records are utilized daily and must be stored in a manner that will allow them to be reasonably accessible.

The innovation in Mrs. Wheelless' office some years ago of reducing the space occupied by some of the records with the use of microfilm has reduced the storage burden.

"Our microfilm system and our placing the charts on cards has been our salvation," Mrs. Wheelless said.

Had the condensing methods not been installed, she says, "The space we have now would not hold all the records we have on file."

Working space is also becoming a greater problem in the register of deeds department. As more records required more storage space, the working arrangement for the office's staff and for attorneys and the public necessarily had to be altered.

As the volume of records has grown, Mrs. Wheelless and her three assistants have seen their working space reduced. "And more working space for the public is a most urgent need," she says.

Auditor and Tax
County Auditor H. Reginald Gray currently has his desk situated in one end of the Board of Commissioners' meeting room. His staff occupies the adjacent office that formerly housed the county board of education.

Gray's space problem varies from that of the clerk and the register of deeds. While the county's financial records must be kept safe, they are not constantly used by the public.

Still, there is only one basement room in which Gray may store Pitt's old financial records that must be preserved. Today that room is stacked to the ceiling with various types of ledgers. There is barely room left to walk between the loaded shelves.

Within the past year, the auditor has been obliged to move his desk into the commissioners' room to allow his staff of four more working space. Working space is currently adequate, but, as one observer put it, "There's nowhere else to go."

The county tax department, under the direction of Collector and Supervisor Robert S. Moyer, is experiencing much the same space situation as the auditing department.

With a staff of eight, the tax department occupies a pair of courthouse offices and utilizes a single basement storage room.

Moyer's storage facility for old tax records, including thousands of abstracts, is packed full. A pressing problem is that of storing the abstracts for the current tax year. There are about 22,000 abstracts that must be stored each year.

Moyer sees storage as his greatest problem. Working space, while not singled out as a problem by the supervisor, is adequate only for the current working staff. His desk is one of several that line the wall in the department's main working office. The center of the office is occupied by five more desks assembled into a single large working area.

Sheriff's Department
Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson, his five deputies, and an office deputy occupy the same office space originally allotted the county law enforcement agency.

The routine tasks of the department include staffing of both Superior Court and the weekly sessions of county court, serving thousands of subpoenas and other papers, maintaining the county jail, and other duties. In addition to the daily routine, the sheriff must keep his deputies ready to answer emergency calls in carrying out the office task of "preserving the peace."

Lockers for the deputies line one wall in Sheriff Tyson's private office, a small room adjacent to the main office.

The sheriff feels his department needs a larger staff but, as he puts it, "We are already crowded to death in here."

The sheriff's department, as is the case with other agencies, has seen its work load multiply during the years. Its volume of duties has climbed especially fast during the past decade.

Here, the problem of storage is not as acute since many of the duties of the law enforcement agency are recorded by the clerk's office across the hall.

Other courthouse officers seem to enjoy relatively more space. However, there are few more offices.

The ABC headquarters on the second floor provides adequate working space for the operations of the office. Storage is not a problem since ABC financial records become a permanent part of the auditor's file.

The upstairs courtroom is adequate for the 32 sessions of Superior Court held in Pitt annually. However, during Superior Court week, the recorder's court finds itself without a courtroom and is obliged to postpone its disposition of cases until conflicting terms of Superior Court adjourn.

While an adequate courtroom for either court, the county's only bench can seat only one judge at a time and cannot house two separate sessions of court simultaneously.

As recorder's court sessions are postponed, the work load on the clerk's office, that currently handles both courts, mounts.

The two remaining offices in the courthouse, on opposite sides of the third floor landing at west end, apparently have adequate space.

The branch office for the N. C. Tax Department constantly transfers its records to Raleigh in its local role as a relay and information agency. Its two staff members are provided adequate working space in the office formerly occupied by the county welfare department.

Across the landing, the electrical inspector's office is apparently not cramped since it also affords space at regular intervals to recruiters for the armed services.

Five To Assist At Convention

Five men from the Greenville congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses have been named to assist in the direction of the first Watchtower Convention in eastern North Carolina for 1961 beginning Friday in Wilmington at the National Guard Armory.

About 50 delegates from the local group will attend the meet which is expected to draw more than 900 persons from eastern and central Carolina, according to W. R. Nichols, presiding minister.

In explaining the purpose of the three-day Bible school Nichols said, "The information and instruction that will be presented will not only be beneficial and upbuilding to the Witnesses but anyone who recognizes the seriousness of the times in which we live and the need for more Bible instruction and application in their everyday life to Almighty God Jehovah and their fellowman."

Willis Manning local insurance agent, was named to assist in the oversight of the 21 departments needed to assure an orderly convention. C. E. Manning, Jr. was appointed head of the literature department, furnishing supplies to the visiting delegates.

Bob Lawhead will be in charge of the information and check room; Douglas Allen will assist in operating the public address system and Larry Moxing will direct the dining room operations that will be set up at the Armory in connection with the cafeteria.

A special representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York, Rutherford G. Seaves, will deliver the main public talk on Sunday at 3:00 p.m., "Is God Interested in the Affairs of Men?"

Had A Sure Cure For 'Register'
WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — Winthrop Rockefeller tells this story about his father, John D. Rockefeller Jr.

When John D. Rockefeller Sr. died the social register felt that Junior would become John D. Rockefeller. But Junior felt there was only one John D. Rockefeller and continued to maintain his identity as Junior. The social register wouldn't go along with his wishes. Finally he sent it a check endorsed "John D. Rockefeller." The register got it back from the bank marked "no funds." That won the argument.

Father And Son In Legislature
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 1961 Ohio Legislature has a father and son among its members for what is believed to be the first time in the state's history.

Anthony O. Calabrese is completing a four-year term in the Ohio Senate to which he was elected in 1958. His son, Anthony O. Calabrese Jr., 25, was elected to the Ohio House of Representatives for the first time in the fall election.

Both are Democrats from Cleveland.

Eleven Strangers Left Work To Help A Child

By BOB BARNES
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A little girl lay near death in a hospital bed. Burns covered three-fifths of her body.

Several hundred miles away, 11 strangers left their work to give her a hand.

They had two things in common: All had been badly burned. All offered their blood in sympathy for a tiny sufferer none of them knew.

Dozens of others read about Julia Howe, 3, a Marine sergeant's daughter, and telephoned Nellis Air Force Base to offer the only thing that might help—blood.

They called from Honolulu, Boston, Seattle and points between. So many called that the doctors asked them to stop.

An Air Force C47 flew most of the 11 from Los Angeles to Nellis. Each gave a pint of blood.

Bill Nolte, 34, a Cherry Valley, Calif., diemaker, waited nine hours at the airport for the plane. "I can't put it in words—what can I say?" he told questioners. "I just know what burns are, and I know what the little girl is going through."

Nolte suffered second- and third-degree burns when his mid-gate race car cracked up at 130 miles an hour in 1953. He was hospitalized four months and treated another seven.

Hal Steinman, 24, a Santa Monica, Calif., grocery clerk, was "repaying a debt." When he was 7, a manhole explosion burned him so badly that doctors twice abandoned hope. Blood given by 31 of his father's fellow policemen sustained him.

In 1956, Steinman—then a paratrooper—was critically burned again when his plane caught fire over Germany. He jumped—and spent a year in the hospital.

William S. Simons of Kearns, Utah, lost time as a crane operator to donate. He came a week early, had to take a bus home. Then he came back. Simons, an ex-Marine, was burned over 40 per cent of his body at 8.

Doctors replaced between 80 and 95 per cent of Julia's blood Monday, and did a skin graft. Her nightgown caught fire Jan. 3 as she played with a cigarette lighter.

Doctors say her condition will be critical for a month. For the present they have all the b-negative blood they need.

The Culprit Was A Recent Arrival
MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Deputy Sheriff Joseph Hetler hurried to the scene after a car ran through a front yard; hit a car parked in the driveway and smashed into the corner of a brick house.

The driver was still seated in the car.

"What happened?" the deputy asked.

Hetler said the motorist—who later admitted he had been drinking—replied: "I don't know. I just got here myself."

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — Basketball Coach Frank McGuire of North Carolina says his policy of not commenting on a one year probation given his team by the NCAA was "the hardest thing in my life to do."

Johnston Buys Texas Franchise

By MIKE COCHRAN Associated Press Sports Writer DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Graying, soft-spoken Ray Johnston, a little man with big aspirations, Tuesday purchased for an undisclosed sum the Dallas-Fort Worth baseball franchise in the American Association.

Johnston, 45, for five years general manager of the league's Indianapolis club, left little doubt as to his plans for the Rangers' futures — a berth in the major leagues.

J. W. Bateson of Dallas, club co-owner along with Amos Carter Jr. of Fort Worth until Tuesday, predicted a major league franchise within a year or two, and at the most not more than three.

Tar Heels Accept Bad News; Tumble Deacons

By DON WEISS Associated Press Sports Writer The year's probation slapped on North Carolina's basketball team by the NCAA will hurt. The Tar Heels of smilin' Frank McGuire could be the toughest squad assembled at Chapel Hill since McGuire's unbeaten NCAA champions of 1957.

The Tar Heels, seventh-ranked nationally, accepted the news from Pittsburgh that makes them ineligible for this year's NCAA competition, then tumbled Wake Forest out of the Atlantic Coast Conference lead Tuesday night with an 83-74 victory.

It was the seventh in a row and ninth in 11 games for the Tar Heels, who moved up to second place in the rugged ACC with a 2-0 league record to 3-0 for idle Duke, the nation's No. 8 team.

McGuire and his mostly New York roster had indicated their superiority over the Blue Devils during Christmas week by spilling Duke to its only loss in the final of the Dixie Classic.

Two New Yorkers, All-America candidates York Larese of Greenwich Village, and Doug Moe of Brooklyn, again were the triggermen for the Tar Heels. Larese had 26 points and Moe 19 in the triumph that chopped Wake Forest's five-game conference winning streak.

Unbeaten DePaul rode Howie Carl's sharpshooting to its 11th straight victory, 69-60 over Ohio U.; third-ranked St. Bonaventure (12-1) crushed Gannon (Pa) 103-71, and Marquette snapped Detroit's 23-game home court winning streak, 85-63, in other top games on the college schedule.

Texas A&M behind a 37-point burst by Carroll Broussard, sped into the Southwest Conference lead at 3-0 with an 81-62 decision over Arkansas, and Texas' balanced defending champions got back into the race by handing Texas Tech its first defeat 63-55.

In other SWC games, Steve Smith's 24 points led Rice's 82-60 whipping of TCU, and SMU, with Steve Strange scoring 22 points, handed Baylor its 11th loss in 13 games, 75-64.

Mississippi State won its second straight Southeastern Conference test, 80-63 over Alabama, and Western Kentucky wheeled to its fifth consecutive Ohio Valley triumph, 82-78 over Tennessee Tech.

LaSalle, behind Joe Carey's 22 points, beat Lehigh 77-62 for a 4-0 record that tops the Middle Atlantic Conference, and The Citadel nipped William & Mary 64-63 in overtime and pulled into a tie

Sports In Brief

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A tougher athletic code than that broken by North Carolina, Arizona and Loyola of New Orleans was before the National Collegiate Athletic Association today.

New legislation would provide for a national letter of intent, a general five-year eligibility rule, a stiffer transfer rule and limitations on the use of foreign athletes.

The bigger schools made the news Tuesday, but the NCAA's slumping Bears, their third straight defeat, 83-52, and Oklahoma City (10-4) set a team record with 42 field goals in routing Hardin-Simmons 106-85.

Memphis State, beaten only by West Virginia in the Sugar Bowl final, won its 10th, an 85-58 thumping of Northeastern Louisiana.

Preliminary round table discussion on the key legislation indicated the smaller schools, which dominate the sprawling organization, feel it is up to the institutions and their conferences to legislate the question of athletic eligibility.

North Carolina and Loyola, as part of their probation, were barred from post season championships and other basketball tournaments cooperating with the NCAA. Arizona, whose guilt came from football violations, received probation only with no additional sanctions.

But the seventh-ranked Tar Heels of Coach Frank McGuire managed to split a morning-night doubleheader. After a morning shellacking here that barred them from a shot at the national title, they beat Wake Forest 83-74 in an Atlantic Coast Conference game at Chapel Hill.

North Carolina's ninth victory in 11 games, Loyola (4-7) plays its next game Friday night with Memphis State.

Arizona's probation stemmed from regular monthly cash payments to football players, conducting an in-season tryout for a football player and transporting a prospective player to the campus for a summer job prior to enrollment at the university.

The NCAA said Arizona's probation would have been severe but that the university has cooperated fully and also has agreed to fire two assistant football coaches in June.

North Carolina came under fire for excessive expenses in basketball recruiting and for paying the expenses of varsity players' parents to the annual December Dixie Classic.

The NCAA said Loyola awarded a basketball scholarship in an unapproved manner, then revoked the scholarship when the boy couldn't make the team.

Today's business session was expected to be a long one. Delegates were hoping it would end before the annual dinner of the American Football Coaches Association. The APCA will announce its major and small college coaches of the year. There were eight nominations in each category.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS High Point and Appalachian play in a North State Conference basketball game at Boone Saturday night which could go a long way in putting one or the other in the role of favorite to cop the North State Conference championship.

High Point moved ahead of Appalachian in the close race Tuesday night, beating Western Carolina 71-62. The win gave High Point a 6-1 conference record while the Apps dropped a notch back at 5-1.

Appalachian must get by Western Carolina at Cullowhee on Thursday night to set up its rugged battle with High Point. The Panthers, meanwhile, don't play again until Saturday.

Jack Short's 18 points led High Point and Darrell Murry's 14 topped WCC. It was the only game scheduled.

SEA ISLAND, Ga. (AP)—When the pros tee off Friday in the Sea Island Open golf tournament, the most durable of them all will be missing, a victim of illness.

Veteran Patty Berg, winner of 48 tournaments during a long career and the leading all-time money winner, informed officials Tuesday she will not be strong enough to compete. Miss Berg, of SVT, Andrews, Ill., recently underwent surgery.

Her absence focuses the spotlight more than ever on youth. Louise Suggs and Betty Rawls will be here, along with veterans like Betty Jamieson, Marilyn Smith and Peggy Bell. But the youthful contingent, headed by three-time winner and defending champion Mickey Wright of San Diego, will draw its share of attention from the galleries.

Newcomers to the pro ranks for this $6,500 event which annually opens the winter tour include Carol Mann of Greensboro, N.C., Judy Kimbell of Sioux City, Iowa, Sandra Haynie of Austin, Texas, Janice Phelps of Atlanta and Barbara Green of Macon.

The 54-hole meet begins Thursday when 75 amateurs start play. The amateurs will finish Saturday and the pros Sunday.

ORMOND BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Any one of six women golfers who gets her game back in shape this week can win the 32nd annual South Atlantic Amateur Tournament.

The Citadel Wins Overtime Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS If it weren't for overtime games, William and Mary's Indians would have an excellent overall record and would rank high in the Southern Conference basketball standings despite a slump early last week.

The Indians, however, have gone into overtime three times so far in three games and have lost every time. The latest was a 64-63 defeat Tuesday night at the hands of The Citadel's Bulldogs in a conference tilt.

As a result of the three overtime struggles, William and Mary is 7-6 over-all and 4-4 in the conference.

By winning Tuesday night, The Citadel pulled into a second-place tie at 4-1 with West Virginia's Mountaineers in the conference race. Both trail Virginia Tech (4-0) by half a game. The Citadel is 9-4 over-all.

Two field goals by Dick Jones and two free throws by George Wehrmeister provided the points The Citadel needed in the extra period after the two teams deadlocked 58-58 at the end of regulation time. Kirk Gooding's basket cut William and Mary's deficit to a point with two seconds left.

Led by Jones, The Citadel rolled to a 34-28 halftime lead, but Jeff Cohen sparked a second half comeback by the Indians that tied the game. Jones led the Bulldogs with 24 points as conference scoring leader Gary Daniels got 13. Cohen tallied 26 points and Vaughan 10 for W&M.

Bethel 72 - Grifton 42

GRIFTON—Bethel's red-hot Indians eased into an early lead, held it until halftime, and exploded in the final 16 minutes to crush defending conference champion Grifton, 72-42.

A 14-point scoring binge by senior John Smith in the second period of play erased an early Grifton lead and sent Bethel skipping on its way to a 10th consecutive league victory.

On the scoring power of Alan Jackson, Grifton held a 16-13 lead in the first period and the crowd sensed a game which would go down to the wire.

But such never developed as the Indians gained their scoring touch with a 23-point second quarter, moving into a 36-27 halftime lead, and ran roughshod over their foes in the second half.

Smith was high man for the winners with 25 points but had to run a good race with Harvey Lewis who finished with 22 points. Jackson tallied 19 in a losing cause while high-scoring Billy Mahler could find the range for only eight points.

Bethel's girls slipped the rug from under the Bulldogs in the opener, 42-41, after trailing for most of the game.

The visiting lassies saw Carolyn Manning score 16 points and the visiting lassies saw Carolyn Manning score 16 points and Smith, with 19, led Grifton's scoring.

JAMESVILLE—Robersonville's Rams pulled a big upset here last night and at the same time tumbled Jamesville from the undefeated ranks, 45-21.

Coach Bob Lee's club opened fast with a 19-point first quarter but Jamesville rallied in the second period to leave the teams even-stein at halftime, 28-28.

Both teams added 11 points in the third period but the Rams were able to outpace Jamesville 6-4 in the final eight minutes of defensive maneuvers.

Lee's five produced a well-balanced scoring attack but Jimmy Brown stood at the top of the heap with 13 points and Tommy Ward added 11.

Robby Askew was high for the losers with 15 points. Jamesville won the opening game over the Robersonville girls, 45-21.

Diane Griffin collected 28 points in the victory while reserve Judy Taylor was high for the losers with seven points.

AYDEN—The Tornados of Ayden were able to bottle up Grimesland's Hardee attack for the larger portion of the game here last night and went on to claim a 53-35 conquest.

The Tornados jumped into a 10-4 lead in the first quarter and added to this margin the rest of the way. By the end of three quarters, Coach Stuart Tripp's club was on easy street, leading 33-22.

Ted Norris, the 6-5 senior, dumped in nine points in the third quarter, leading the Ayden break-away. He finished with 11 points.

William Edwards was high for the winners with 12 points.

Lindsey Hardee was held to one of his low nights of the campaign—hitting only 12 points. He hit on seven of these in the final quarter.

The Ayden sextet won the opener with a 43-29 decision. It was their second straight win after seven defeats.

Harris tossed in 33 points in leading the win while Morgan led the losers with 18 points.

CHICOD—Billy Elks, Ray Fornes and Ephraim Smith provided the needed scoring punch for Chicod to race past Belvoir-Falkland 77-64 in a Pitt County basketball game last night.

The visitors avoided a clean sweep by taking the girls' game, 64-42, on the strength of a 27 point performance by Phyllis Nichols. Nichols and reserve Francis Steppe paced the offensive attack as Coach Ed Warren raised his conference mark to 6-2 and replaced Grifton in third place.

Pansy Jones led the losers with 24 points.

Ray Fornes, with 27 points, Billy Elks, with 19, and Ephraim Smith, with 18, pushed Chicod into a 32-23 halftime and helped smother a third period Eagle flurry to win by a 13-point margin.

WINTERVILLE—Winterville's basketball teams enjoyed a care-free night here last night as they dumped Stokes-Pactolus in both ends of a doubleheader with relatively little sweat.

The host girls remained undefeated in league play by crashing to a 59-31 victory over the long-time power of Pitt County.

Carolyn Barnes enjoyed scoring honors with 25 points—Warren chucked in 12 for the losers.

In the nighttime of the twinbill, the Wolves threw back a pesky Blue Jay challenge in the first quarter and picked up momentum to gain a 70-35 decision.

James Braxton, controlling both boards, led the winner's scoring with 23 points and John Weathington added 12.

After Wake Forest Loss Duke Holding ACC Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—Duke found itself in first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference today, but a red-hot North Carolina basketball team is breathing down the Blue Devils' neck.

North Carolina whipped Wake Forest 83-74 Tuesday night to knock the Demon Deacons from the ACC's top perch. It was the only game scheduled.

Duke, ranked eighth nationally by The Associated Press this week, has a 3-0 conference record and 11-1 overall mark. The Tar Heels, meanwhile, are second with a 2-0 loop mark and 9-2 over-all slate.

later closed the gap to three points, but scoring surges by Larese twice bailed the Tar Heels out of trouble.

Besides Larese, Doug Moe had 19 points and Jim Hudock 14. Len Chappell, Wake Forest's 240-pound, 6-foot-8 giant, led the Deacons with 24 points and diminutive Billy Packer (5-11 and 170 pounds) kicked in 22 more.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—The Los Angeles Lakers are beginning to show signs of snapping out of their losing ways. They have climbed out of the Western Division cellar in the National Basketball Association and if they can collar Cincinnati in their next two games they will be virtually tied with the Royals.

The Lakers outlasted the New York Knickerbockers Tuesday night in Los Angeles, 117-104.

In a doubleheader at St. Louis, the Boston Celtics dropped the Detroit Pistons, 118-98, and the St. Louis Hawks stopped Cincinnati, 119-110.

The loss pushed Wake Forest back to third place with a 5-1 conference record and 8-5 over-all. Tonight's only conference game has Duke vs. Virginia (1-5 and 2-10) while, in a non-league affair, Georgetown is at Maryland (2-1 and 7-3).

A year's probationary sentence by the NCAA apparently didn't hinder North Carolina's shooting eye. The seventh-ranked Tar Heels, with York Larese scoring 26 points, managed to keep battering down Wake Forest comeback attempts.

Wake Forest grabbed a six point lead, but the Tar Heels were in command at the half 41-32. Wake

Robinson Sets SC Prep Record

CASSATT, S.C. (AP)—Frank Selvy once stunned South Carolinians scoring 100 points in a college basketball game for Furman University.

But Tuesday night, an unknown high school player—Kenneth Robinson of Midway High in Cassatt—bettered that, getting 108 points in a single game.

The 6-1 Robinson, who lives on a farm nearby, popped in 48 of 54 tries from the field and 12 of 14 free throws in rumpung up the astronomical total which apparently is a South Carolina record.

"I couldn't have done it without the others," Robinson said after the game.

The Midway team won its eighth straight game, beating Ruby 130-30.

Coach Loren Collins said the 185-pounder had about 30 points at the end of the first quarter. "The boys decided to feed him then," Collins said.

Although the other first-stringers were sitting on the bench, Robinson kept firing. "After he got started, I just told the boys to keep feeding him," the coach added.

Collins said Robinson has been a regular since his sophomore year. The coach said his first game as a sophomore the youngster got 28 points—making every field goal attempt and not missing at the foul line.

As a sophomore, Collins said, Robinson averaged close to 30 points a game. Last season he was up to nearly 40 points a game before injuring his ankle just before the tournament season. Needless to say, Midway lost.

This year, the coach said, the team has been winning and he has let his reserves play about half of the time. Still, Robinson has scored better than 20 points a game, playing half of the time. And he can pull down plenty of rebounds, the coach adds enthusiastically.

A good student, and a good all-around athlete the coach said, Robinson isn't his only scoring forte. Collins said last spring in track meet Robinson won four first places, scoring 20 points.

Tab Browns As Team To Beat

NEW YORK (AP)—Allie Sherman, new head coach of the New York Giants, tabs the Cleveland Browns "the team to beat" in the Eastern Division of the National Football League next season.

"I think that Philadelphia will have trouble without Norm Van Brocklin," said Sherman, who Tuesday signed a three-year contract to succeed Jim Lee Howell. Van Brocklin, the Eagles' brilliant quarterback, retired after leading them to the league championship.

"I don't like to make predictions this early," said Sherman, "but I feel that we should be right up there with the Browns, Pittsburgh and St. Louis could make a run of it, too."

Sherman's appointment was announced at a press luncheon during which Wellington Mara, the Giants' vice president, disclosed that Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi was his club's first choice. Lombardi was an assistant coach of the Giants before moving to Green Bay.

"We went after Lombardi right after the close of the 1960 season, but he told us his obligations at Green Bay would not permit him to consider the job," Mara explained. "We had a mutual understanding when he went to Green Bay that he would get first crack at the job if it became available. We are certain that Sherman will make a fine head coach."

Tint Of Gold Seen In Final Message

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — There seems sure to be a tint of gold in President Eisenhower's last State of the Union message Thursday and in his final budget next Monday.

The problems of the loss of gold and its running mate, confidence in the U.S. dollar, haven't gone away just because prices for the metal on the London free market simmered down after October's spectacular flurry.

The gold outflow continues, despite U.S. Treasury steps to stabilize its world price and calm fears about the dollar's status.

The basic causes for the outflow in gold will show up in the new budget — in the overseas spending asked for defense and aid of other nations, in any policy announced toward U.S. private investment abroad, and in the probable chances of getting a balance in federal outgo and income which would further bolster confidence in the dollar.

Other causes, outside our direct control, will remain in maneuverings abroad. These include the desire of private hoarders to buy the metal as a hedge against the still rumored and vigorously denied devaluation of the U.S. dollar, and even the game the Soviet Union may be playing with its own big supply of gold overhanging the market.

The Soviets can keep the supply of gold on the free market smaller by withholding sales of their gold. They usually sell gold to meet their own trading deficits with Western nations. When they don't sell gold they help to keep the gold supply thin, and this means the price can be bid up easily when private hoarders around the world want it enough. Or the Soviet Union could dump gold on the market and disrupt it for the time being by undercutting prices — although this would help the U.S. Treasury by drying up demand for its metal held at the official price of $35 an ounce.

Reports from European financial markets indicate the Soviets haven't been doing anything about gold for three months. And one of the things the international financial markets is watching, and probably the U.S. Treasury also, is what the Soviet Union is doing or seems likely to do.

The three-year deficit and the accompanying loss of gold has given rise in some foreign quarters to beliefs that the United States eventually may have to devalue the dollar—that is, make it worth less in gold by hiking the price of gold. Those believing this have bought gold for their private hoards.

Both the old and the incoming U.S. administrations say devaluation isn't even being considered. But both agree that something must be done to cut the annual dollar-payment deficits.

One way is to increase our exports—but these now are running ahead of imports by around $5 billion a year. Another is to cut spending abroad for foreign aid and on military and diplomatic spending. We have another task force in West Germany asking it to help shoulder some of this load.

The upcoming presidential message may give clues as to how we are faring and what more we hope to do in balancing our payments with the rest of the world.

All 76 Trombones Will Be On Screen

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Those famous trombones are coming to the screen, all 76 of them, with 110 cornets close at hand. They'll be followed by rows and rows of the finest virtuosos and "Music Man" Robert Preston, too. The vastly popular musical is reaching the shooting stage at Warner Brothers, where plans are in the capable hands of Morton Da Costa.

Holding Two For Soldier's Death

NEW BERN, N.C. (AP)—Sam Hargett of New Bern and Pvt. Billy G. Parish, 23, of Marshall, Texas, have been ordered held for trial in the death of a Ft. Bragg paratrooper. The Craven County grand jury returned murder indictments against the two men Tuesday in the death of S. Sgt. Paul Winegardner. The 36-year-old Winegardner's body was found half submerged in water Jan. 4 in a New Bern city dump drainage ditch. Two other men—Pfc. James D. Ferrell Jr., 19, of Los Angeles, Calif., and Pfc. Lloyd L. Lamb, 18, of Chicago — were released from custody but ordered to report to the March term of Superior Court as material witnesses. Police Chief James Pearsall had sworn out murder warrants against all four men in the death of Winegardner. The chief said, however, that evidence now indicated Ferrell and Lamb had nothing to do with Winegardner's death. Winegardner was reported AWOL from Ft. Bragg at the time of his death. The four men, Pearsall said, had been with Winegardner on a visit to Negro night spots in New Bern. Pearsall also said Hargett, an ex-convict, signed a statement that Parish struck Winegardner in the back of the head while the dead man was drunk and tossed him into the ditch. Parish denied the statement, the chief said. An autopsy said Winegardner died from drowning. Nine out of every 10 forest fires in the U.S. are caused by negligence of men in taking proper safety precautions.

early-day Iowa into a stage hit, and he will be directing the picture, too. A plain-spoken man with a mop of rust-colored hair and a face full of freckles, he gave a report on the film project.

"It won't be one of those terribly long pictures," he said. "It will run around 2 1/2 hours, which is enough. After all, most Broadway shows run only 2 1/2 hours, including an intermission. You can't hold an audience's attention much longer."

"The film version will follow the same line of the play, though it will be opened up. There were a lot of things I couldn't do on the stage because of limitations of space and time. When Bob sings '76 Trombones,' we'll take it out of the school gymnasium and into the street. Likewise, the final chase can be done all over town."

"This may come as a blow to Iowa pride, but the entire film will be shot in Burbank. (California is an Iowa colony, anyway.) "I thought of shooting it back there, but it would be impossible to duplicate the 1912 flavor," said Da Costa.

"It happens that Warners has a very good Midwestern town set. With 90 days of shooting and many intricate numbers, I'd rather be close to the studio's facilities."

To nearly everyone's delight, Bob Preston will be repeating as Harold Hill. But he was no shoo-in for the film role. "We had a lot of big stars who wanted to do it—Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby, Kirk Douglas, Burt Lancaster, etc.," the director said. "The studio was inclined to sign a bigger name than Bob. But I held out for him. This is a role that you had to feel in your stomach, that you'd have to play at least four weeks on the stage before you could really do it."

Twins Can Claim Different States

PLATTEVILLE, Wis. (AP) — Prof. and Mrs. David A. Blaeuer are the proud parents of newly arrived twins, each born in a different state.

Mrs. Blaeuer gave birth to a boy at Platteville Hospital. Then apparent complications set in. It was decided to transfer the mother to Mercy Hospital at Dubuque, Iowa, for specialized care. There, three hours after birth of the boy, a girl was born. Each infant weighed in at 4 1/2 pounds.

LANDMARK RETURNS—The Eiffel Tower, Paris landmark, reappears in this view from Palais de Chaillot. Frame of NATO building, being removed, still mars view.

KONRAD ADENAUER

Konrad Adenauer has taken his place among the world's top leaders.

West Germany's "old man" — or "der alte," as he has been called affectionately — was one of the first political figures with stature to arise from the wreckage of Adolf Hitler's Third Reich. When he became Chancellor of the western half of Germany, he assumed leadership over 50 million people, and became a firm friend of the West. President Eisenhower had called him "one of the great statesmen of our time," and Winston Churchill once described him as "the greatest German statesmen since Bismarck."

The chancellor began his political career in 1906 when he entered the city government of Cologne. Six years later he became deputy mayor and, in 1917, at the age of 41 he became lord mayor.

But his career came to a sudden halt in 1933 just after Hitler came into power. He was dismissed for ordering Cologne's police to tear down swastikas on the city's Rhine bridge.

During the 12 years of Hitler's regime, Adenauer became, in his own words, "a very good gardener."

The war's end found Adenauer in refuge in a monastery in the Eifel Mountains. He returned to his native city of Cologne, then in the hands of American troops, and became mayor again. In 1949, he started his first term as Chancellor.

KONRAD ADENAUER: He led his nation to a position of political and economic power.

As mayor of Cologne in 1945, a position restored to him when American forces took over the city.

In 1949, he became first chancellor of the West German Republic. He signs autographs after winning election.

Big step toward West Germany's economic recovery after war was signing of agreement whereby country was to get European Cooperation Administration aid from United States. At Bonn, Dec., 1949, John J. McCloy and Adenauer sign agreement.

He inspects units of newly-created West German army at Andernach, Jan. 20, 1956. Maj. Gen. Hellmuth Laegeler accompanies him.

He is greeted by President Eisenhower at White House, March 15, 1960.

He escorts daughter, Libet, to abbey in Maria Laach for marriage to Herbert Werhahn in 1950.

Game of bocce is enjoyed by Adenauer while on vacation at Lake Como, Italy.

At whistle stop during 1957 campaign for reelection, Adenauer watches from train while aide gives children candy.

The chancellor relaxes in his rose garden at Rhoendorf. With him as he checks on plants is his daughter Lotta.

In A Tizzy Over High Silk Hats

WASHINGTON (AP) — Will a voter look down his nose at a senator who wears a high silk hat?

More to the point, will the fancy headgear cost the senator votes on election day?

Republican senators will have to decide for themselves and then choose before inauguration day. The party isn't going to advise them.

The crisis stems from an indication by the inaugural committee that distinguished guests are expected to wear formal attire.

A GOP conference pondered the situation Tuesday and decided to take no stand as a group.

"We decided to let every man decide for himself what to wear on the occasion," said Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate Republican leader.

"There may be some who will wear formal or semiformal attire such as striped trousers and short coats."

Another Republican senator, George D. Aiken of Vermont, takes a dim view of formal attire, particularly when voters are looking on.

Aiken recalled that he wore a top hat, striped pants and a cut-away coat at a reception in Canada in the 1930s for the then king and Queen of Britain.

"There were about 400 Vermonters there," Aiken said. "It almost nipped my political career in the bud."

Republicans at the conference, Aiken reported, held mostly to the point of view that John F. Kennedy's assumption of the presidency Jan. 20 "will be an inauguration and not a coronation and we'll wear business suits."

Road Hearing Is Set At Beaufort

BEAUFORT—Residents of the eighty-county area comprising the Second Highway Division will have an opportunity to present road requests, petitions and problems to representatives of the Second Division at a public hearing here on Thursday, January 19. Announcement of the hearing was made today by Division Engineer C. W. Snell, Jr.

City and county officials, along with the general public, are invited to attend the hearing if they have road requests which they feel should receive attention.

The hearing will be held from 2 until 4 p.m. on Thursday, January 19th, at the Carteret County Courthouse in Beaufort.

This is one in a series of public hearings being held in the Second Division, which comprises Carteret, Craven, Pamlico, Beaufort, Pitt, Greene, Lenoir and Jones Counties.

The Giant Springs near Great Falls, Mont., have a daily flow of 338 million gallons of water.

Changes of most key stocks were small but there were a few moves of a point or so in either direction.

Steels, drugs, oils, and aircraft were mostly higher. Rails rested after their recent advances and were narrowly mixed. Farm implements and electrical equipments declined. Many groups were mixed.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 42 at 626.14. Corporate bonds were irregularly lower. Governments were firm. Trading was quiet.

by the untimely death of Mr. Rupert V. Massey, former manager of Beik-Tyler Company, and the resignation for personal reasons of Mr. W. B. Everett. It is, of course, a great pleasure to welcome the new members of these boards and to acknowledge with appreciation our gratitude to those who have resigned or been separated by death.

"Last year the directors authorized a reorganization of our staff, at which time Mr. W. R. Teague, vice president in charge of our Time Payment operations, was placed in charge of all Rocky Mount operations except the trust fund time payment departments. His new responsibilities, parallel those of the managers of our other offices. At the same time, Mr. Joel T. To both of these retired officers, the management wishes to express appreciation for their long and faithful service.

"Again the management would like to express appreciation to our directors, officers and employees for their excellent cooperation and loyalty during the year. The success of any institution is measured by the quality of its personnel. The truth of this axiom augurs well for the future of our bank."

Eastern Firemen's Ass'n Elects Officers At Meet

NEW BERN—Horace Moore of engineering department of the Insurance Commissioners office gave a short talk on safety in schools and public buildings.

Mullins noted that the fire in the Chicago school was discovered about 2:30 p.m.—but was not reported to the fire department until 12 minutes later. He emphasized that possibly many lives could have been saved when it was discovered.

He urged the firemen to see to it that local school teachers be given instructions in what to do in case of fire, and have the schools inspected and, if necessary, renovated to meet the fire safety requirements of the Department of Insurance.

The association, which has a membership of about 1,100 firemen, voted to admit fire departments at Cove City, Bath, Bridgeport and Township Number Seven fire department of Craven County, to the association.

Sixteen firemen from Greenville attended the meeting. Included in the group were: Chief George W. Gardner; Asst. Chief Berry Sumrell; Capt. Ray Smith; Capt. Harold Smith; Amos W. Harrell, J. K. Hathaway; Dawson Nethercutt; J. B. Meeks; Dixie Smith; Bill Smith; and Harold Moss. Also attending the supper were Lee Dail; Roy Hardee; C. L. Perkins; Delma Culbreth and Stuart Savage.

Firemen Respond To Several Calls

Greenville Firemen responded to a number of calls yesterday to grass fires and a false alarm.

Fire units were sent to Jefferson Drive at 11:45 a.m., and to 1408 Broad St. at 1:20 p.m. to grass fires. At 11:05 p.m. trucks were sent to the intersection of Fifth and Contentnea Sts. when Box 154 was turned in. That alarm was false according to officers.

Firemen also answered three service calls to stand-by while grass lots were burned off.

No Fire, Just Adjusting The Town Whistle

FIRE WHISTLE . . . is being adjusted by Bobby McRoy and James Lee Ruffin atop the Ayden town office building. During the "adjustment," the whistle-sounded slightly off-key. (Reflector staff photo.)

AYDEN—Heads were turning ears were burning in Ayden yesterday about three o'clock.

People looked for the fire, but there was none. They looked for the train blowing the whistle, but there was none in sight.

The riddle was simple. Work, directed by Bobby McRoy, was going on atop the town offices to clean, repair and adjust the fire whistle. It was the adjustment which made the whistle sound a little off-key, but gradually during the afternoon McRoy and his helper, James Lee Ruffin, got things in order.

Firemen were advised Tuesday night at their meeting to ignore blasts of the fire whistle Tuesday afternoon, since repair work was going on. They were told to answer to the fire siren in case of fire.
