Over An Inch Of Rain Is Recorded

Over an inch of rain had fallen in Greenville from last night until 10 a.m. this morning. Linwood Hudson of the Greenville Utilities Plant reported today. The heavy, continuous rain dumped 1.1 inches of water in this area, to be exact. And the weatherman was forecasting more precipitation for today, with partial clearing and a little warmer Wednesday.

Sanford To Give Views March 6

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Terry Sanford will go before a joint session of the legislature the night of March 6 to give his views on new sources of revenue to finance his school improvement program.

Japan Offers To Help Red China With Food

TOKYO (AP)—Japan today offered hungry Communist China rice and other food as a humanitarian gesture. Foreign Minister Zenro Ko-saka told a news conference the offer, made through the International Red Cross, had no political motive although the government of Premier Hayato Ikeda is trying to expand relations with Peiping short of diplomatic recognition.

Navy Pilot Dies In Pamlico Crash

STUMPY POINT, N.C. (AP) — Navy Ensign Donald J. Mclovic of Cleveland, Ohio, was killed Monday when his plane crashed in Pamlico Sound near here. He was flying an A6E attack plane on a practice bombing mission from his home base, the Oceana, Va., Naval Air Station.

Earth Tremor

MENDOZA, Argentina (AP)—An earth tremor rocked this city Monday without causing damage.

Tentative Plans Outlined For Directors Of Merchants Ass'n

Tentative plans and budget for trade promotion events have been set up by the Directors of the Merchants Association. The Greenville Merchants Association meeting was held last night. According to committee Chairman Morris Brody, the committee is planning a new trade promotion event this year, in addition to the two semi-annual Dollar Days sponsored by the association.

Parallels In Healing

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Clergymen and psychiatrists have to use a common approach to people who need help, says Dr. Edward J. Sheridan Jr., a University of Michigan psychiatrist. Both, he said, "must try to see the world as the sufferer sees it."

UN Security Council To 'Enforce' Peace In Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviets bowed to the pressure of Asian and African opinion today and permitted Security Council approval of a resolution authorizing the United Nations to use force if necessary to prevent civil war in the Congo. Even before the resolution's adoption one of its chief targets—Katanga President Moïse Tshombe—had rejected a key provision calling for withdrawal from the Congo of all Belgian military and political advisers. They supply the working brains of Tshombe's provincial army and administration.

The final vote was 6-0 for the resolution, with the United States, Britain, Nationalist China, France and Turkey abstaining. Ceylon, Liberia and the U.A.R. sponsored the winning plan to head off civil war and the losing proposal to condemn the assassinations, with the backing of 17 other Asian-African countries and Yugoslavia.

The peace plan also calls on all countries to keep military personnel from going to the Congo, provides for an investigation of the killing of Lumumba and envisages the convening of Parliament and the removal of Congolese troops from politics through retraining. Hammarskjold welcomed the resolution's adoption. He declared it gave "a stronger and clearer framework for United Nations action." He also called for more troops to build up the thinning U.N. Congo force. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin, whose own proposal described Hammarskjold as "a participant in and organizer of" Lumumba's murder, explained he did not veto the peace resolution because the Asian-African countries said "in the present circumstances this was the only chance of remedying the situation in the Congo."

Unmanned Space Capsule Survives 'Sternest' Test

Commissioners Endorse Roberts For Appointment

Pitt County's Board of Commissioners yesterday issued an endorsement of Greenville attorney J. W. H. Roberts for appointment as U. S. Attorney for the Eastern N. C. District.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An unmanned space capsule survived in apparently excellent condition today in a test of the worst that might happen as an astronaut returns from space. The spacecraft, differing only in equipment from the one an American astronaut is expected to ride late this year, sped upward at 9:10 a.m. EST from the missile test center, on the nose of a huge Atlas missile.

range. The approximate peak velocity was 12,850 miles per hour. These figures were very near those sought in the test—a 115-mile altitude, 1,400 miles down-range and 13,000-mile-an-hour speed. The spacecraft is like the one that successfully carried Ham, the space chimpanzee, on a short flight Jan. 31. There was no living thing aboard today, however.

Final Training

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The United States today selected three astronauts to begin final training for a manned rocket flight expected in two or three months.

The three are John Glenn, Virgil Grissom and Alan Shepard. Robert Gilruth, Mercury project director, announced the selection at a news conference after the successful firing of a space capsule of the type to be used in manned flight.

President Plans To Visit Canada

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy will visit Canada in what probably will be his first venture outside the United States since taking office.

They're Opposed To 'Congoland'

SALINAS, Calif. (AP)—A New Yorker might do well to stay away from a remote, coastal region of Monterey County he has picked out as a refuge for 3,000 African wild animals. He might get mauled.

Bill Would Allow Urging Death

RALEIGH (AP)—Solicitors would get allowed to urge juries to return death sentences in capital cases under a bill introduced in the House today.

Pitt Preparing Request To Share In Surplus Foods

Pitt County today was scheduled to mail a formal request for surplus food for needy families under a program to be administered under the North Carolina Department of Agriculture.

Definite dates for the initiation of the program have not yet been set, but the surplus food is expected to flow to the state's participating counties in the near future as soon as details have been worked out.

'Screening' Laos Aid Is Acceptable

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is ready to submit all future aid to the royal Laos government to the screening of a neutral nations' watchdog commission.

The U. S. officials said the United States would be prepared to withdraw its more than 100 military advisers now training the royal army and turn over the job to military experts from neutral countries.

Congo Officials Told Hands-Off

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The United Nations issued a hands-off-whiches appeal to the rulers of the Congo's pro-Lumumba territories today.

U. S. officials said the new Washington position goes further than the United States ever previously indicated it would go in an effort to ensure an independent and neutral Laos.

Marriage Announced

MRS. JAMES EARL KEZIAH JR. . . . is the former Miss Susan Ellis Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Jones of Bath, whose marriage to James Earl Keziah Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Keziah of Greenville, took place in a home ceremony Saturday, February 18, in Greenville. The couple will make their home on Chestnut Street.

With Farm Women

By MAIDRED MORRIS
ANSON HD WOMEN PLANT NEW VEGETABLES—Home Demonstration Club women in Anson County are making plans to plant new vegetables in their gardens this spring.

enburgh County are presenting the demonstrations at local club meetings this month.

Mrs. Kathleen Neison, home economics agent, says leaders are teaching the women to look ahead and plan for special days and occasions; are informing homemakers of foods that freeze well; teaching how long foods can be kept in the freezer; giving some general freezing tips; and discussing the sign posts to good, safe, frozen foods.

TEACHING UPHOLSTERING—Mrs. Hugh Beasley of Graham County, had an opportunity to show her friends and neighbors some things she has done during the past year. The family added a family room to their home and Mrs. Beasley rebuilt and upholstered two davenport and three chairs.

Miss Nellie Jo Carter, home economics agent, says Mrs. Beasley has saved more than $200 by learning how to upholster at the workshop held in the county. She has also helped neighbors with their work.

Luncheon Given Bride-Elect

Miss Susie Street and her mother, Mrs. M. L. Street, were hostesses at a bridesmaids luncheon honoring Miss Beth Baker Saturday at the Holiday Inn in Rocky Mount.

The table was overlaid with a blue linen damask cloth. An arrangement of pink and white gladioli with blue tinted mums interspersed with bunches of pink grapes and ivy centered the table. Bridal bouquets were fastened on either end of the table. Guests found their places marked with handmade spring bonnets fashioned with ribbons and flowers.

Home Trend

Trend in home building: Estimates indicate that by 1970 one million homes will feature a new vinyl-coated aluminum house siding—now produced in white, pastels, and natural wood grain finishes.

One of its major selling points is easy maintenance, because this siding needs only washing with soap or detergent suds—plus hose-rinsing.

Tax Hike Should Be On Broad Base

It should be evident by now that North Carolina is not going to find any easy way to raise the additional $106 million in tax revenues Gov. Sanford says will be needed in the next biennium to finance the proposed school program.

It is also evident, we think, that at least a major part of the new governor's proposed school improvement program will be approved by the legislature in spite of the significant increased cost involved. Such a conclusion is justified, in our opinion, because of the apparent popular support for improving public education in the manner Gov. Sanford has proposed.

Estimated budget revenues already made by state officials have included generous evaluations of the increased revenue which may be expected during the biennium from improved economic conditions throughout the state. This means that the additional $106 million in expenditures will have to be offset from new tax sources.

Every proposal for increasing taxes is likely to bring objections from some group or some section of the state. It is extremely doubtful that any tax proposal, or any combination of tax proposals to raise the necessary revenue will receive anything like unified backing within the legislature.

It should be evident, therefore, that because of the amount of revenue that must be raised, and because of the methods that are available for raising it, a variety of tax hikes will go into providing the needed funds.

The legislature, it seems to us, should make every effort to spread the tax increases as equitably as possible over the entire economic structure of the state. There will be a certain popular appeal for levying specific taxes on specific items in an effort to raise the revenue. This method might likewise appeal to legislators because taxing of specific items often does not cause the furor among constituents that results from taxation on a broad base.

In the long run, however, the increase in tax revenues will come from the pockets of the people of the state. As it begins consideration of various means by which the revenue may be increased, the legislature must keep in mind that in fairness to all of the people of North Carolina, the total tax burden should be distributed as widely as possible over all the people of the state.

If special taxes on specific items are decided upon, the items involved should be those that are consumed over a broad segment of the population, and the methods of collecting such taxes should be such as not to impose a penalty on a specific group or a specific industry.

As we have said before, the 1961 legislature should not only look for additional tax revenues by seeking out new areas of taxation. It should carefully scrutinize the loopholes in existing tax laws, determine how these can be closed in order to produce additional revenues, and then look for other sources from which to finance increased spending programs.

A Library For Each Lawmaker

By LYNN NISBET
LIBRARY Members of the General Assembly have complained through the years about the mass of printed material which they find piled upon their desks every morning when they come to the capitol. This material consists of official reports of State agencies and departments, which are required by law to be printed and made available to legislators. There is also a lot of propaganda mixed in with the factual reports — sometimes in the same volume and more often in side sheets or booklets — in which the agency seeks to justify its existence and expansion.

The biggest single contribution to this mass of material is the report of the Advisory Budget Commission. This time that requires four volumes making a total of about four inches high. Every legislator needs that report at hand all the time — and he also needs somewhere to keep it other than on the little 26-wide desk. The proposed new legislative State Building will afford some office space.

The biennial department reports range from saddle-back stapled pamphlets of 12 to 20 pages up to bound volumes of 500 pages or more and over an inch thick. Put 30 or 40 of these on the same little desk, already crowded by the budget books, and it is easy to understand the disgust and protest of the legislators.

Yet the content of these reports with their tables and graphs constitutes authentic information about North Carolina her people, and business, and government, the value of which cannot be computed in dollars. It is material that ought to be preserved in permanent form. Whether it should be printed and generally distributed in the volume customary, is seriously doubted. Certainly a whole lot of it is wasted under the present system.

EXAMPLES — Take, for example, the biennial report of the Department of Conservation and Development, and the biennial report of the Tax Research Department, which showed up last week. The C&D report is a saddle-stapled job of 74 pages; the Tax Research job is a paper bound book of 400 pages — almost an inch thick. Each tells a fascinating story, but one which no member of the General Assembly can read and digest between committees and regular sessions.

Take just one page from the C&D report. It shows that during 1959 there were 348,182 inquiries received from 50 States and 60 foreign countries about North Carolina. That is more than average of 1,000 a day for every working day in the year. Further, it shows where inquiries came from, indicating the degree of interest in North Carolina throughout the world, as a guide to future publicity planning.

Is the State advertising program justified? Look at the record. It shows 37,000 inquiries from New York, 23,000 each from Ohio and Pennsylvania, with Illinois, New Jersey and Michigan running high. It might be surprising to many people that nearly 14,000 inquiries came from Florida and nearly 12,000 from California about tourist and vacation attractions in North Carolina.

A significant phase of the report is the recognition given to cooperation on part of private enterprise, such as the Travel Council of North Carolina, chambers of commerce and local development groups. Whether the problem is industrial development, promotion of travel, or overall improvement in living conditions, the cooperation of these local private enterprise groups is essential.

TAXES — The Tax Research Department report is titled "Statistics of Taxation." It contains more than statistics, although there are dozens of tables and graphs and comparative statements. The fine print text of the 400 page book give a running story of the development of the fiscal structure of North Carolina from around $40 million 25 years ago to more than half a billion this year.

There is breakdown as to source of the revenue — tax, sales tax, franchise, beverage, intangibles, et cetera. And each of these major source is further analyzed to show amounts paid by corporations and individuals.

The book affords basic material, subject of course to further detail research, for a thesis on taxation. Unfortunately, only a few members of the General Assembly have the capacity to understand it — and none of them has time to read it.

ANSWERS — The point is that very few questions can be asked about any facet of State government that these various reports piled on the legislators' desks cannot answer. If — and this is a big if — the legislators had time to read the stuff, because they don't have time to read it, and in many cases could not understand it if they did have time, question arises about the practicality of spending so much money for the printing.

Demonstrations Are Cause For Our Concern

The outbursts of demonstrations that have taken place in many cities throughout the world in protest to the death of Patrice Lumumba should be of grave concern to the Western World as well as to supporters of the United Nations.

If the demonstrations were spontaneous out of resentment for the death of the communist-inspired leader of one faction in the strife-torn Congo, there is cause for concern. If, on the other hand, the demonstrations were planned and staged by communists throughout the world—which we feel is more likely—there is no less cause for concern.

Such demonstrations were to be expected in Cuba, Moscow and other places under communist domination, for the communists were outright supporters of Lumumba, and he in turn was one of them. But for a similar demonstration to be staged in New York, both at the U.N. and elsewhere in that city, is another matter.

Known communists among New York demonstrators seem to justify suspicions that the demonstrations in that city were communist inspired just as they were elsewhere. The fact that the communists are well enough organized in New York to stage such demonstrations on so short a notice should be of grave concern to the American people . . . and to the American government. The incident suggests that communists in the United States are better organized, and perhaps stronger in numbers, than most loyal citizens have believed.

The demonstrations in New York should not lead to another red herring hunt, but it should prompt responsible officials to carefully re-evaluate the ability of communists in this country to stage demonstrations and possibly carry out other activities of similar public nature.

Kennedy Seeking Public Support
By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy may someday get political pneumonia from over-exposure in public. But not now. Meanwhile, he is doing a unique job of public relations in the White House.

A president's popularity is always at a high mark in his first few months. So any danger that Kennedy will wear out his welcome must come later.

Any Missile Gap Is Bad—

REG MANNING—McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

By ALVIN TAYLOR Valentine For A Blonde

It was Valentine's and there was this cute little brown-eyed blonde who had practically told me I was to present her with a Valentine's box of candy on the day of sweethearts.

"May I help you?" a clerk asked.
"Yes," I said. "I'm looking for a rather nice Valentine's box."
"Oh," said the clerk with a knowing smile. "Someone special?"
"Yes," I replied, rather embarrassed.
"This is a nice selection," she said helpfully holding up a big red box.

I frowned. "No," I answered. "She would like something a little more frilly."
Then the clerk showed me a pink box with a lovely artificial orchid on its top. That was it. Just what my gorgeous girl would want.
The clerk wrapped it up and, like millions of other boyfriends and husbands on Valentine's day, I sauntered around to see the girl.

Other Editors Saying... Now As To Death Penalty

(Charlotte News)
The diminishing resort to capital punishment in North Carolina pointedly suggests that it is time for a careful assessment of its worth. The Harris-Anson bill soon to be introduced in the General Assembly offers an occasion for the assessment. It should be grasped.

Execution is a class punishment in the main. The typical executed criminal is poor, uneducated, a laborer, in most cases a Negro. Between 1909 and 1954, Negroes formed over 70 per cent of North Carolina's death-row inmates. In part the figures reflect the larger income of Negro crime; but also in part they reflect that a capital criminal who is rich or influential has a better chance of escaping the death penalty.

It is not proven by any concrete, measurable statistics that the death penalty "deters" capital crimes.
Capital punishment is a punishment in which males are discriminated against. Only six women have died in Raleigh for capital crimes since 1909. From 1909 to 1954, however, 654 males were executed. (On March 21, 1916, then Gov. Locke Craig commuted the death sentence of a woman who'd chloroformed her husband. "Humanity," he explained, "does not apply to woman the inexorable law that it does to men.")
A high percentage of murderers executed have no criminal records. They are denied the chance of rehabilitation.

Opinions In Brief

"Old Dobbin had his faults, but no one was ever pinned in the wreckage of a buggy and burned to death." — Greensboro (Ga.) Herald-Journal.

"Dignity is the opposite of loudness and common behavior. It is a quality which prevents an individual who possesses it from intruding." — Hertford County Herald.

"The phone bill comes one time, the utilities bill at still a different time in the month and now the department stores are sending bills out on a staggered basis. It's getting hard, anymore, to tell when the first of the month is." — Tallahassee (Fla.) Democrat.

Faults In Minimum Wage Hike

By ELMER ROESSNER
The increases in the minimum wage proposed by President Kennedy have three faults: 1. They will work to decrease employment just when unemployment is our greatest domestic problem.
2. The increases will affect wages in all brackets.
3. The Federal minimum wage was established at 25 cents an hour in 1938. Since then, every time it was increased it served to push up wages of the more highly skilled. When a sweeper's pay was increased from $30 to $40 a week, the handcart pusher who had been getting $40 a week naturally thought that he was entitled to $50 or $53.33 a week.

Nor were the effects limited to those in neighboring brackets. When the sweeper got a $10-a-week increase, the punch operator getting $75 reasoned that he should get $85 or more.
These sympathy reactions are very real. At the present time the Warehouse and Mail Order Employees Union, now in an organization campaign, is offering employers in the Chicago area a contract that provides that if the Federal minimum wage is increased, all employees shall be given pay increases in the same proportion. Under the Kennedy proposal, they would get a 15 per cent increase the first year.

PACKS INFLATION IN
3. The automatic increases over three years strengthen the rhythm of inflation that has been weakening the dollar for the last quarter century.
Every year without exception wage rates have risen; without exception they have forced prices up, nullifying at least part of the increase.
By voting three annual increases, the Congress would be guaranteeing three more years of wage-price leap-frogging.
All wages would eventually go up (except for those who were dropped from payrolls), all prices would go up, the purchasing power of the dollar would fall proportionately and, eventually, our gold position would

Really A War On UN

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
Copyright, 1961, King Features Syndicate, Inc.
When Adlai Stevenson accused Soviet Russia of making war on the United Nations, he stated in precise terms what the Congo situation really amounts to. It must have been a shock to Stevenson to discover that he, the darling of the Liberals, was not immune to insults, demonstrations and abuse. He witnessed what a Soviet inspired attack can be.

Why the demonstration? Were these New York demonstrators, or those in Moscow or Belgrade or Warsaw Lumumba partisans? Obviously, these were Communist activities, organized as a phase of the effort by Soviet Russia to destroy the United Nations, which, however weak it may be, has interrupted the Soviet conquest of the world for Marxism. What Russia demands is the resignation of Dag Hammarskjold, Secretary-General of the United Nations and the substitution of a three-man secretariat, one to represent the Western powers, one the Soviet powers, and one the "positive" neutrals. As the world is now organized, Soviet Russia could, on many issues, thus have a two to one vote, take over the United Nations and destroy it.

Patrice Lumumba may have been a patriot or a shooch. The Russians regarded him as their man, one of a number of African leaders underwritten by them. He was killed in the course of revolutionary action. During revolutions men get killed. They also kill. It will be Soviet strategy to make a martyr of Lumumba, perhaps to be worshipped as a saint.

I witnessed this type of activity in China where everything was, sometime or other, tried. Whereas Dr. Sun Yat-sen was a patriot and was the founder of the Republic, he was not in his later years, regarded favorably by most Chinese and he lived in a self-imposed exile in the French Concession. Then he made a deal with Adolf Joffe, and Michael Borodin and General Blucher-Gaiens were sent to China to help Dr. Sun make another attempt at revolution. On March 12, 1925, Dr. Sun died in Peking. Immediately the machinery was put into motion to transfuse him into a deity. A mausoleum was built in Nanking on a high hill. I have forgotten what the exact number of stupas were to reach the top — I believe it was 108. As one climbed up, it felt like a million steps. Weary, out of breath, one reached the tomb, bowed three times before a photograph and returned to Earth ennobled. Anyone who refused to climb those ceremonial steps was a hated enemy of China.

As for several years, I visited Dr. Sun's starry afterglow. I know that he would have deplored such hocus-pocus. But it was of enormous propagandistic value, just as it has been of considerable value to the Chinese Communists that his widow, Mrs. Sun Yat-sen, threw in her lot with them rather than with Chiang Kai-shek to whom her sister is married.
Thus are gods manufactured and it is quite possible that Lumumba may have the same fate, but this does not bother the Russians, who while materialists and rejecting the eternal life, have Lenin and Stalin on display as ghosts, to be marched before by troops and others on May Day and other festivals.
It is a kind of ancestor worship and does influence the minds and emotions of people.

President Kennedy is apparently surprised that the Russians, while making overtures to end the Cold War, are actually precipitating a Hot War in Africa. He said:
"I find it difficult to believe, that any government is really planning to take so dangerous and irresponsible a step."
The objective of Soviet Russia is to unite the entire world in the Marxist concept of life. Then there will be universal peace. To a Marxist, it is not absurd to take advantage of any opportunity that offers itself. It has been Marxist strategy since the London Congress of the Russian Social Democratic Party in 1903. It was Marxist strategy in 1917 when Bolshevism took over Russia. It is Marxist strategy today.

There is some blind spot in the American psychology that (Continued on Page 5)

New Quarters For Coffee Shop

THE COFFEE SHOP sponsored by the Greenville Service League in Pitt Memorial Hospital celebrated their tenth anniversary in February with the occupancy of new quarters. The new Coffee Shop was officially opened Saturday.

The Service League Coffee Shop celebrated its tenth anniversary this month by moving into new quarters at Pitt Memorial Hospital.

The new enlarged coffee shop operated by the Greenville Service League was officially opened Saturday, with the cutting of an anniversary cake by Mrs. James T. Little.

The occasion marked 10 years of service rendered by the Shop to patients and visitors at the hospital. All the profit from the shop will be turned back to the hospital through making tray flowers for special occasions, room furnishings, parties for members of the hospital staff or through the Laughinghouse Bed Fund which provides hospitalization for charity patients.

The Coffee Shop is operated by members of the Service League under the supervision of two managers and voluntary service women workers. The Coffee Shop's primary aim is to be of service. In addition to the Coffee Shop there is a cart loaded with items from the shop which is rolled through the hospital morning and afternoon.

The shop opens at 9 a.m. and closes at 7 p.m. except on Sundays when it opens at 12:30 p.m. and closes at 4 p.m.

Mrs. James T. Little has been Coffee Shop chairman since it was first opened in February of 1951.

Azalea Festival To Be Held April 6-9

WILMINGTON—Spring in all its floral glory will be ushered in by the North Carolina Azalea Festival at Wilmington April 6-9.

The 1961 Festival, the 14th annual extravaganza staged in the Port City, will feature colorful azalea gardens, parades, celebrities and entertainment events for the thousands of visitors who will be in the city.

A special aspect of this year's Festival will be its appeal to families. The Festival Committee is planning a program to delight visitors of all ages.

In addition to the glamorous stars and the spectacular events the Festival will feature a longtime favorite for which it has become famous—the multi-hued blooms of more than a million azaleas.

Presiding over the Festival will be Queen Azalea XIV, last year's queen was movie star Linda Christian. The queen's court will include May Queens of North Carolina colleges and universities.

Personalities from screen, stage, TV and radio will be special guests in Wilmington, during the Festival and the Festival Committee will announce the names of the Queen and other celebrities in a few weeks.

The four-day Festival program will begin with the arrival of celebrities on Thursday. Events being planned are a street dance, parades, coronation pageants, teen-age programs, variety show, fireworks, harness racing and many others.

Decorated floats and scores of bands and marching units will take part in the Festival parade on Saturday morning. This crowd pleasing event will have bands from all parts of the state. Costumed clowns will entertain spectators along the parade route and stand at Wilmington's City Hall special guests and dignitaries will view the parade from a reviewing

A committee composed of representatives of various local clubs and organizations is busy making arrangements for the 1961 Festival. Wilmington Mayor E. S. Capps, president of the Festival this year, said: "Every indication points toward the greatest Festival Wilmington ever has enjoyed."

Cases Of Careless Roommates

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

A girl can take just so much from a roommate — school girl or career girl. After that she looks for a solution or wants to dissolve the partnership, judging by letters.

Here are some:

Q "What do you suggest doing about a roommate who is sloppy? She drops her clothes everywhere. Even if reminded doesn't pick them up if she is not in the mood. I like her otherwise. How can I cure her of this bad habit?"
A. Stop being a maid to her. Tolerate her sloppiness for a few days, leaving tossed garments around until she gets disgusted and picks them up.

Q "My roommate is inconsiderate. She studies late, burning a bright light and I can't sleep. Earlier, she listens to the radio, reads or talks on the telephone when I am trying to study. How can I solve this without causing too much friction?"
A. If you cannot get together on study periods, suggest she play the radio in a low tone. The problem of the bright light could be solved by making her a gift of the goose-necked lamp that she could use on her desk. These are inexpensive and usually keep the light over the necessary area.

Q "I work as a salesgirl in a department store. I was hired in summer and when they offered me a permanent job, I answered to night school. A girl who works with me suggested sharing an apartment, and I decided to do it to cut expenses. She doesn't give me phone messages and has been horning in on my dates who call when I am at school. She also uses my hair brush, lip-suck and handkerchiefs. Don't you think I'd be justified in moving out some day when she is at work?"
A. It isn't necessary to put yourself on her level to prove your point. Tell her you have decided to live alone, would like to be paid your share of the furniture or make a deal on splitting the lot. It would be a good idea to find other living quarters before you strain relations.

Q "My sister and I share a room and bath. There is a vanity in the bathroom, and she spends every waking minute in front of it. I cannot take a bath or wash my hair without begging her to get out. She is my mother's favorite, so I can't get help there. Her mirror mania makes me late for school and dates. Should I tell her friends and embarrass her into releasing the mirror?"
A. Why not get into the bathroom before her some morning, take a leisurely bath, and wash your hair and ignore her pleas. Maybe she'll realize another's dilemma in the same situation.

Q "What would you do if your roommate talked on the phone all evening so that you could not get a call or invite anyone in? We live in a one-room apartment, attending school a few miles away."
A. I'd ask her to agree to two phones. When she considers having the entire responsibility of one phone she may not be willing to tie it up. Or have a friend call you each evening just as you get home, then have a long-winded conversation yourself.

Pierce HD Club Meets

The Pierce Home Demonstration Club held its regular meeting Feb. 16. Members invited families and friends in the community.

Mrs. Stanley Worthington opened the meeting with group singing, followed by scripture and prayer by Mr. Hober Cannon. Mrs. Worthington turned the meeting over to Mrs. Mavis Johnson who called on Mr. Sam Winchester, who spoke briefly on "The Advancement of Agriculture in North Carolina."

Mr. Winchester introduced Mr. Sam Underwood Jr., who gave a talk on the importance of making a will. A short discussion period followed.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Edwin Harrington had charge of the games. For refreshments, coffee, sandwiches and cakes were served.

THE FERGUSON AFFAIR

CHAPTER 33
I met Dr. Trench outside Sally's hospital room. "I want to talk to you seriously," I said.

"Sally's in fine shape, if that's what you're worried about."

"It isn't Sally—I'm worried about you. Can you give me a few minutes in private?"

He consulted his watch. "All right. Five minutes. Where can we talk?"

"Up in my room."

I was shaky and sweating again when I reached my bed. I sat on the edge of it.

Dr. Trench remained standing. "I suppose the patient you mean is Mrs. Ferguson?"

"Yes. Have you seen her since the accident?"

"I attended her, yes. Her husband requested me not to discuss her condition with anyone." His eyes were stern.

"Good. Ferguson has retained me as his attorney. Anything that you tell me will be privileged."

"What do you want to know about her?"

"I'm interested in her mental condition, for one thing."

"It's not too bad, considering what she's been through. She seems to be blessed with a good nervous system. I was afraid she might lose her child, but there seems to be no danger of that now."

"Is she at home?"

"Yes. She doesn't require hospitalization. I found that her injuries were superficial."

"I have to get a statement from her about the events of last night. Not to mention the night before and the night before."

"I don't see how she can help you much. She was unconscious, as you know, literally dead to the world."

"Is that what she told you?"

"Yes, and I have no medical reason to doubt it. She was in a state of drugged sleep throughout her period of detention. It's lucky for her the kidnapers knew how to handle drugs. They could so easily have killed her."

"They gave her drugs?"

"Who else? I gather from her fragmentary memories, and from the medical indications, that she was forcibly drugged at the actual moment of the kidnapping. It occurred in the parking lot of last Foothill Club. She was lured out there by a telephone call from someone purporting to be a relative. They seized her at the door of her car and gave her an injection of pentothal or some other quick-acting anesthetic."

"Do you believe all this?"

"I know it sounds melodramatic, but the marks of the needle are under her arm. Later, I kept her under, they evidently gave her spaced shots."

"What if I told you that I talked to her last night?"

"Around what time last night would you say?"

"It must have been about one o'clock when I got to the mountain house. Your patient was very much alive and kicking."

"What did she say?"

"I'd hate to repeat it."

Trench took off his glasses and polished them with a handkerchief. Under cover of this business, he was studying my face. "I'd say that one of you was lying, or hallucinating. Mrs. Ferguson was still in a drug-induced coma when she came into my hands early this morning. When she did rouse out of it, she had no memory of the previous forty-eight hours or so. Her physical condition supported her subjective account."

"You should have seen her last night. She was moving around like a cat on a hot stove, and spitting like one. It occurred to me at the time that she was an addict."

The doctor's eyes widened. He put on his glasses as though to protect them from seeing too much. "You must be mistaken. She's been visiting me biweekly for two months. I probably would have found out."

Colonel Ferguson appeared at the hospital shortly after lunch.

"You're late," I told him.

"I came at all because I owe you a great deal—Holly's life. But you should not have forced me to leave her. Her life is still in danger. I couldn't possibly leave the house until Dr. Trench got there."

"Trench says she's in fairly good shape."

"Physically she is. She's emotionally upset. We had a disturbing phone call this morning. That Florida jackanapes, Salaman, insists on seeing her."

"Are you going to pay him?"

"I don't know. Holly tells me she owes him nothing. She never heard of the man until today."

"And you believe her?"

"I believe my wife implicitly."

"How does she explain the abduction?"

"She has no knowledge of it. Her mind is a blank from the time that she left the Club."

"She'll have to do better than the old blackout gambit. You saw her in Gaines' car when he picked up your money."

"Is that what Mrs. Ferguson says?"

"We haven't discussed the incident."

"Don't you think you better? She can fill you in on a lot of interesting facts, about Gaines, and about herself."

He stood above me shivering. It wasn't a cold enough day to make a Canadian shiver.

"What about the child she's carrying?" I asked.

"The child's mine. She had nothing at all to do with Gaines, in that sense. She was simply giving the fellow a helping hand. My wife is a remarkable woman."

His eyes had taken on a euphoric glare. I began to feel the dimensions of the dream that held him. It included his passion for his wife, his hope of a second youth, and now the belief that she would give him a child.

But the dream had to be destroyed, and I was the one elected to destroy it. "You wife's real name is Hilda Dotery. Does the name mean anything to you?"

"Not a thing."

"It does to some other people. I have witnesses to prove that Hilda Dotery has been mixed up with Gaines for the last seven years, ever since they were high-school delinquents together. His real name, incidentally, is Henry Haines."

"Who are these witnesses?"

"Their mothers. I talked to them last night in Mountain Grove."

"They're lying."

"Somebody is. I assure you that I'm not. There's no doubt at all in my mind that the kidnapping was a phony one, and that your wife was Gaines' partner in it. That's not the worst of it. She shot me last night. Assault with intent to commit murder is a very ugly charge, but there's not much use beating around the bush. You can't keep her shut up at home and expect this thing to blow over. I want complete co-operation from both of you, starting now."

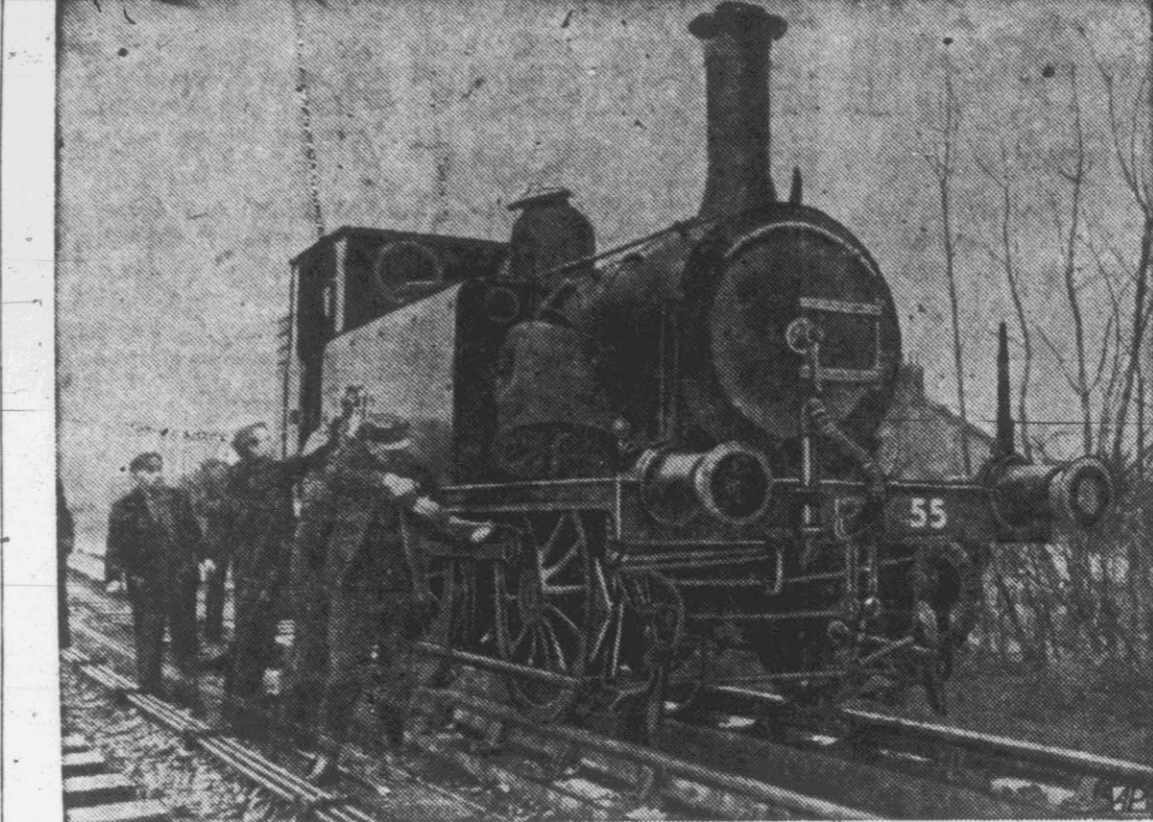

Ferguson shook his fist at me. The light in his eyes was dancing out of control. "You're like all the rest. You think you have me on the hip, that you can bleed me for money."

I sat up and slapped his fist away with my good arm. "You're pretty fuddled up on the money angle, aren't you? The man with the Midas touch. You may be right at that, Ferguson, in reverse. If you weren't loaded, nobody in his senses would come within a hundred yards of you. You're merely trouble that walks like a man. Stupid trouble. Stupid, ignorant trouble. You're so morally stupid you don't know where you're hurt, or what's hurting you."

I was hurting him now. He blinked and shuddered under the impact of the words. They seemed to strike through to his knowledge of himself. He walked away from the bed and sat in a chair in the corner behind the door, nursing his hurt.

He spoke after a time. "You're right about the money—the idea of money. It been a root of evil in my life."

Ferguson has a surprising tale to tell: why he married his wife. Continue the story here tomorrow.

Nat'l Teacher Exam Scheduled April 15

National Teacher Examinations will be given April 15, at state expense, at East Carolina College in Greenville for city and county teachers, it was announced today.

The examination will afford an opportunity for teachers to find out how they compare with teachers in other parts of the country, superintendent of City Schools J.H. Rose and Superintendent of County Schools D.H. Conley said.

Local teachers currently upgrading or changing their certification will take the examination. The tests yield scores on professional knowledge, various aspects of general education and subject-matter preparation.

The April 15 examinations are being given as part of a statewide study of teacher preparation being made by the State Board of Education, the superintendents said, and a resolution passed by the 1959 General Assembly requires that the tests be taken by all school employees who are currently applying for either a higher class of certificate, or a certificate in a new field or capacity.

All college seniors or college graduates who are applying for the first time for a North Carolina teaching certificate are also required to take the examinations. In addition, all professional public school employees certified prior to June 20, 1959, may volunteer to take the examinations at State expense.

Applications to take the tests and bulletins describing them are now available and can be obtained from the offices of Rose, Arthur S. Alford, Pitt County Schools, or from Dr. Frank Scott at East Carolina College. Application for the April 15 examination should be made as soon as possible.

Teachers will receive their scores directly from Educational Testing Service without paying any fee. Scores automatically go only to the teachers themselves and to the Executive Director of the State Board's Committee concerned with teacher preparation. However, teachers may have their scores sent, without charge, to North Carolina colleges at which they plan to do graduate study.

The scores will have no effect on a teacher's certificate or employment, Rose and Conley stated. Scores will not be made available to the State Department of Public Instruction's certification office or to local superintendents of schools.

The April 15 testing includes tests in professional information, general culture, English expression and non-verbal reasoning. In addition, they will take one or two of the 13 Optional Examinations offered if there are Optional tests available in their teaching fields. Each Optional Examination

Study Telescope Plans For Space

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Preliminary studies have begun for launching a large satellite carrying a telescope.

The orbiting telescope will make observations of the stars and planets, with the information relayed to earth by radio or television channels. The space telescope could make studies that are impossible with land-based instruments because light and radio waves are distorted by the earth's atmosphere.

Now Many Wear FALSE TEETH

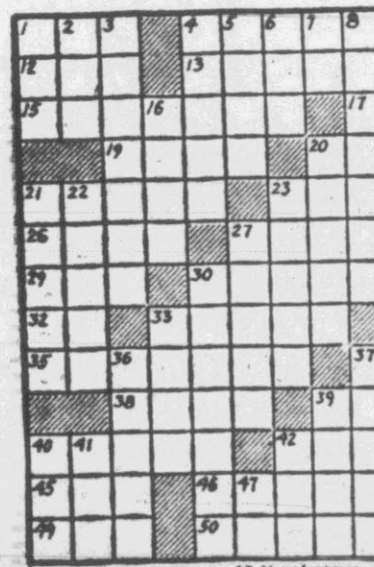

With Little Worry

Eat, talk, laugh or sneeze without fear of insecure false teeth dropping, slipping or wobbling. FASTEETH holds plates firmer and more comfortably. This pleasant powder has no gummy, soapy, pasty taste or feeling. Doesn't cause nausea. It's alkaline (non-acid). Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Scholastic Art Winners Are Now Being Shown At College

AT SCHOLASTIC ART AWARDS EXHIBIT . . . Dr. Wellington B. Gray, Artist Frances Speight of the Philadelphia Academy of Fine Arts, and Dr. Robert Lee Humber view a painting by Rose High student Walter Jones, Jr.

Student work entered in the Eastern North Carolina Regional Competition of the Scholastic Art Awards is currently hung and on view in the Hallway Gallery in the Rawl building at East Carolina College.

For the third year this exhibition and competition is sponsored jointly by WNCT-TV of Greenville and the Department of Art of the college. It is composed of 78 pieces of work by junior and senior high school students from thirty-eight eastern North Carolina counties.

The public is invited to see the exhibition of these talented students daily Monday through Saturday from 8:00 a.m. until 10:00 p.m. and on Sunday from 2:00 p.m. until 10:00 p.m. through March 4.

Dr. Wellington B. Gray, director of the department of art, East Carolina College, serves as chairman of the Regional Committee. David W. Mosier, promotion manager of WNCT-TV, is coordinator.

been the best exhibition to date. "The quality of the work is far superior to that submitted in prior years," he said. He further explained that the work awarded finalist recognition will be sent to New York at the completion of the exhibition here for competition with similar student work from all over the country.

"Three kinds of recognition," Dr. Gray said, "are given to students who enter work for competition: the gold key indicates the student has exhibited his work with achievement; the finalist award means that his work will be sent to New York for further judging in national competition; and the Hallmark Award means that of the five who achieve this recognition at East Carolina, one will receive an award of $100 selected at New York. We also had two portfolios which will be sent to New York for scholarship competition with similar work from all over the country. This is the first time this region has submitted portfolios."

Judges of work entered were Dr. Bruce Carter, associate professor of art, East Carolina College; Mrs. Norma W. Gray, art supervisor, Greenville Public Schools; Miss Laura Bolce, art supervisor, Rocky Mount Public Schools; Mrs. Mary Margaret Harrison, art teacher, Rocky Mount High School; Russell Arnold, head, department of art, Atlantic Christian College; Edward Brown, instructor, department of art, Atlantic Christian College.

Those students who have work exhibited and their achievements include from Greenville—Key, finalist, Hallmark; Joseph B. Cox, Stoney Creech, and Bonnie Harrison; (Key, finalist) Alan Cayton, Cheryl Jean Lee, Susan Pierce, Nancy Walter; (Key) Ann Clark and Betty Williams, Charles Worthington; (hung in show) Diana Allen, Ruth Gwynn, Paul Dudley, Edward Letchworth, Raymond McGlohon, Lynn Sermons, Robert Shearin, Lorraine Steinbeck, and Hank Worsley.

Walter Jones, Jr., of Greenville's J.H. Rose High School and Richard Beatty of Cherry Point and Havelock High School submitted portfolios for scholarship competition. While some of their work is on exhibition, all of it will go to New York for scholarship competition.

Waldrop Recalls Much Cuban Industry Paralyzed By Scarcity

J. Herbert Waldrop, retired senior vice president of Wachovia Bank and Trust Co., discussed for Greenville Rotarians last night how Greenville's business district looked when he came to Greenville almost 50 years ago.

Fifth Street, Waldrop said, was not paved and there was no sidewalk along the street except for a board walk along the edge of the college campus. It was not uncommon, he said, to see horses and wagons stuck in the mud on Fifth Street during a rainy period.

Waldrop recalled various business establishments located on the two blocks of Evans Street between Third and Fifth which until the early 'teens made up the entire business section of Greenville. He recalled the firms of J.R. and J.G. Moyer, J. B. Cherry and Company, Starkey's Grocery, a number of livery stables and other businesses in the town's main business section.

There were practically no automobiles in Greenville when he came here, Waldrop said, and he recalled some of the earlier automobiles and local people who owned them.

When he enrolled at East Carolina College, the speaker said, he was one of 22 men enrolled at the college.

Much Cuban Industry Paralyzed By Scarcity

HAVANA (AP) — Despite the Castro regime's boast that it has thwarted the U.S. economic embargo of last October many Cuban industries are paralyzed by shortages of raw materials and spare parts or operating only sporadically, industrial sources reported today.

This is particularly true of enterprises formerly owned by Americans. The sources cited the once-flourishing tire industry as a prime example.

It used to turn out 10-12,000 automobile and truck tires a week. Now it produces a trickle of about 300. From one of four factories that used to be run by Goodyear, Goodrich, Firestone and U.S. Rubber.

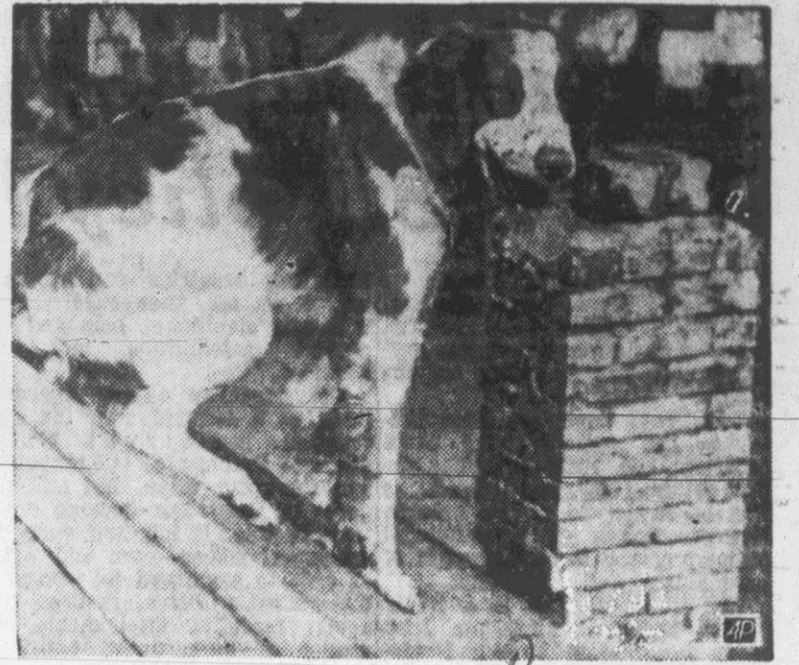

This plant will close down its production line Tuesday because of acute shortages of raw materials, said an industrial expert. "Unless some carbon black and certain other essentials are found quickly, Cuba's tire production is a dead duck," this expert said.

Sources said Cuban authorities made desperate efforts to get substantial quantities of carbon black in Canada but failed. They turned next to Europe, seeking offers on both sides of the Iron Curtain without immediate result.

Many former workers at the rubber plants have been transferred to other jobs. "We'll all be out cutting sugar cane if this keeps up," one said.

Washington banned U.S. exports of everything but food and medicine to Cuba four months ago in retaliation for Castro's virulent anti-United States campaign, his nationalization of almost all U.S. property in Cuba and his increasingly close ties with the Communist bloc. Cuba used to buy about 75 per cent of all its imports from the United States, or about $300 million worth a year. This has been cut to a third.

The picture is the same in other plants seized from American or private Cuban owners, industrialists here said. Failure to get new raw material and spare part sources before existing supplies ran out is largely to blame.

SPACE AGE POOCH—Ginger, a spaniel, engages in her favorite pastime, roof climbing, at Parsons, Kan. Although normally a water-loving canine, Ginger shows an affinity for higher altitudes and upper space. Lately she has climbed a stairway to an upstairs apartment at her home and from there she jumps down to a porch roof and then climbs on up to the main roof. It gives her a broad view of neighboring roofs. (AP Wire-photo)

Signature Was That Of Kennedy

ATLANTA (AP) — Mayor William B. Hartsfield received a letter on White House stationery expressing appreciation for a telegram he had sent President Kennedy concerning national housing policies.

The mayor noted the letter carried "my best personal regards" from the sender, but the signature baffled him.

Hartsfield sent a photostat to the President's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, with a note saying, "maybe I am a prize boob, but whose signature is this?"

Salinger's one-line reply: "That happens to be the signature of John F. Kennedy."

Husband's Mom Is 'More Likely'

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A man's own mom is more likely to wreck his marriage than his mother-in-law, says a family relations expert.

Dr. Paul Popenoe of Los Angeles, president of the American Institute of Family Relations, said Monday that the wife is usually helpless. Only the husband can effectively convince his mother that her "little boy" is old enough to take care of himself, Popenoe said.

Argentines Say Big Challenge To New U.S. Policy Is In Buenos Aires

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The rainy midsummer air of this sun-baked capital has a feeling of urgency.

Here, says many an Argentine, is the real test for Latin America: the great challenge for U.S. policy. Here, they contend, is a main battlefield in the struggle between forces of constitutional democracy and the combination of communism and Castroism.

Argentina says its first freely elected president after the Juan Peron dictatorship, already is giving an extraordinary example to the rest of Latin America of how a people can help itself. Says slender, scholarly Arturo Frondizi:

American countries can succeed, too. If we fail, then Fidel Castro will gain significant help and far greater possibilities in Latin America."

The Argentine army, regarding itself as a sentinel over the constitution, has struck heavily against Peronistas, Communists, and Castroists alike. But still the germ of Castroism became deeply imbedded. It infected many influential places—men and women able to command followings of dissatisfied workers, restless students, resentful intellectuals, all shades of unreasoning anti-Yankeeism.

In the ranks of labor, former dictator Juan D. Peron left a legacy of tough-core Peronistas who now cast blank ballots in elections. An effective voting alliance of these Peronistas with the extreme left could produce disaster at the polls for the future of orderly constitutional government in this rich, key South American nation. Already there have been instances of Communist-Peronist alliances on the union labor front and for purposes of terrorism directed against the Frondizi government.

The Communists have made good use of extreme Socialists and romantic students—makers of revolution—who regard Castro as a symbol of a wave of the future. The combination demonstrated its potential by jolting the Frondizi government in recent senatorial by-elections in the federal capital. They elected to Parliament 80-year-old Alfredo Palacios for more than 50 years an ardent anti-Yankee.

Palacios seems to regard the United States, as he did when he entered the political arena in the early 1900s, as a nation dominated by super-greedy imperialists. He is worshipped by students as a founder of Argentina's university system. And students are an important political factor, since the voting age is 18.

Palacios evidently hates communism as much as he hated Peronism. But he was attracted by Castro's Cuban regime when he visited Havana in 1959. Now in Argentina's Senate he may fill the role of catalyst to rally forces of the left for united opposition to Frondizi's program to bring economic recovery out of the wreckage left by the Peron dictatorship.

It is even possible that these factors, coupled with the threat of Peronist voting strength, can force the Frondizi government into a program with a far more leftist look in an effort to persuade Argentina's workers that they have a stake in the government's future.

A major test will not be long in coming. Early in 1962 Argentina will elect half its Congress. Much of the major legislation relating to the government's program of recovery through free private enterprise will have been pushed through by that time. But the opposition could impede its implementation.

Peron nationalized virtually every aspect of Argentina's economic life. The Frondizi government has reversed much of the nationalization and has produced a peso which has been remarkably sound and stable for more than a year.

Frondizi has been required to adopt austerity measures, never popular, to produce stabilization of the currency and economic recovery.

The president says this recovery already has been largely achieved with some U.S. help but mainly by "the work and sacrifices of our own people." But Frondizi has a critical year ahead in which he must convince the voting public of a highly literate country that the sacrifices have been fair and equal among all "The United States must appreciate that it is fundamental and absolutely necessary to cooperate with all Latin America in its economic and social development.

"The important thing is for the United States to realize that it is not giving charity to 200 million Latin Americans, but making a contribution to the development of Latin America's people."

Frondizi's minister of economy, hard-driving, dynamic Alvaro Alsogaray, gives the impression that he feels Argentina's government is involved in a race with time, to prove it can achieve what it has set out to do.

"If Argentina succeeds," he told me earnestly, "then other Latin Classes.

"I'm sure," the president told me, "the people of the country will understand these measures have been for their own welfare."

But I talked to some restless students about it. They were not in a mood to understand. One, representing conservative thinking among Buenos Aires University's 65,000 students, insisted that the administration of Frondizi has "failed to reach the people."

For example, the student said, Economics Minister Alsogaray "represents big business and speaks in terms which can hardly be clear to the ordinary simple workers who once thought and probably still think that Evita Peron (wife of the dictator) was a saint."

Vets Advised To Defer Inquiries

WINSTON-SALEM — Veterans who are expecting a GI insurance dividend check under the President's speed-up payment plan can help themselves and VA get the job done by not making advance individual inquiries.

Accelerated dividend payments is one of a series of Presidential actions to assist the economy.

J. D. DeRamus, Veterans Administration Regional Office Manager, Winston-Salem, N.C., explained that answering a flood of questions from individual veterans would divert personnel from processing the dividends, and thus create a delay.

He said the VA is using every resource in an all-out effort to place as many dividend checks as possible in the mail before the end of March. The 1961 dividend amounts to more than a quarter-billion dollars.

Normally, yearly dividends are paid over a 12-month period around the policy's anniversary date to veterans who currently hold either term or permanent participating National Service Life Insurance or U.S. Government Life Insurance.

Swedish Actor To Play Christ

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Swedish actor Max Von Sydow will portray Jesus Christ in the forthcoming movie "The Greatest Story Ever Told."

Von Sydow's selection was announced Sunday by producer George Stevens. The Swedish actor has starred in several Ingmar Bergman films, including "The Virgin Spring." Sweden's entry for "Best Foreign Picture of the Year" in the next Academy Awards presentation.

... a lesson in saving

"... if, in the sole discretion of my trustee, my son shall not have demonstrated a capacity to manage property, then this trust shall continue until ..."

Such a provision in a will often is a wise one. How much more helpful would it be, however, if the son were given some experience while young. He cannot learn to handle money without first practicing.

One good way to learn is by saving—regularly—systematically—until it becomes a habit. Come by tomorrow with your son and open a savings account. This is a basic lesson in property management.

Humber Didn't Know Words In The 1951 Volume

By AURORA DOLLEY
Reflector Bureau
Ass'n Afternoon Dailies
RALEIGH—Didn't your teachers ever tell you that it pays to use reference books?

Probably, too, they gave you some good (?) reasons for "making use of these excellent sources of information."

But I'll bet my unused dictionary against your worn one that in all their persuasion, they didn't include the reason a Raleigh legislator has discovered—that in at least leaving through such a volume of knowledge you might find an account of yourself!

However, to use the vernacular of this decade's non-bookworms, even the best of us can "goof."

Well, a State Senator—and Rhodes Scholar, if you please—must have "goofed," because he has just found out (ten years late) that his words were recorded for posterity in the 1951 edition of Bartlett's Familiar Quotations.

Just before a ten o'clock session of the Senate last week, the distinguished-looking Senator from Pitt, Robert Lee Humber, found the volume of quotations placed upon his desk. Turning to the page marked, 1004, he found his name and a paragraph from his World Federation Resolution, now adopted by many states and several foreign countries:

"It being our profound and irrevocable conviction... That there exists an international community, encompassing the entire world, which has no government and which is destined either to be ruthlessly dominated and exploited by totalitarianism or to be federated by democracy upon the principle of freedom for all nations and individuals."

Senator Frank Forsythe of Cherokee had discovered in his volume of "Bartlett's Familiar Quotations" the quotation by the learned lawyer from Greenville, who has devoted several years of his life to promotion of this doctrine. It was Senator Forsythe who had placed the reference book on Senator Humber's desk.

Senator Humber's reaction to seeing his name in the well-known book of quotations: "They got the date of my birth wrong—it should be 1896, not 1897."

NEW YORK (AP)—Three of the nation's largest airlines were shut down completely today as a result of a flight engineers' wildcat strike that has caused the greatest tieup in American aviation history.

Three other airlines snarled in the five-day-old walkout were continuing to operate—at least through today.

Trans World Airlines, American Airlines and Eastern Airlines have halted operations for the duration of the strike, with 84,000 employees slated for layoffs.

Pan American World Airways and National Airlines planned to maintain token service. Western Airlines, down to four jet flights a day between Los Angeles and Seattle, also continued a token effort.

From Miami to Boston and from New York to Los Angeles, many thousands of passengers have been inconvenienced by the walkout of the 3,500-member Flight Engineers International Union.

Airline executives estimated that through Monday night travel plans of at least 125,000 persons in metropolitan New York alone had been disrupted. An estimated 700 flights affecting 35,000 persons were canceled Monday.

Trains, buses and the major airlines untouched by the strike reported a mammoth flooding of requests for reservations.

Among the major airlines not struck are United, Delta, Braniff, Capital, Northeast and Continental.

The six struck airlines already have laid off more than 81,000 of their workers. Losses in revenue and salaries approached $5 million a day.

The walkout was being felt not only by the airlines but also by the communities they serve. Especially hard hit were Caribbean and Florida resort areas. Miami estimated its daily losses at $3 million.

The flight engineers are protesting a Feb. 6 decision of the National Mediation Board ordering their union and the Air Line Pilots' Association at United Airlines to vote for a single union as bargaining agent for both.

Pilots are in the majority and the engineers say they fear the ruling might mean eventual death for their own union. The engineers have asked a congressional investigation of the mediation board's decision.

All of United's engineers are pilot-trained and some belong to both unions. This is not true of the other airlines.

Francis J. O'Neill Jr., chairman of the National Mediation Board, conferred Monday with Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg and later explained that the United case is not necessarily binding on the rest of the airlines. Each case, if sent to mediation, will be judged on the basis of fact, he said.

In Chicago, Clarence N. Sayen, president of the pilots' union, said the engineers need not worry that the mediation board's decision required flight engineers to be members of the pilots association. He said statements to the contrary were "completely untrue and irresponsible."

In Los Angeles, Kansas City and New York, various struck airlines sought contempt citations and filed multimillion-dollar damage suits against the engineers' union. Trans World Airlines asked $3.5 million in a single suit at Kansas City.

In Houston, Capt. Eddie Rick-enbacker, chairman of the board of Eastern Airlines, said the decision to stop Eastern's operations was made because of threats to supervisory personnel operating some planes.

Supervisory personnel were used by the airlines in place of flight engineers after the strike began last Friday night. Engineers are required on all four-engine planes and jets.

Spokesmen for the striking engineers in the New York area implied that engineers might refuse to man aircraft of Air France, the British Overseas Airways Corp. and KLM Dutch Airlines.

However, spokesmen for these airlines indicated their operations would continue as usual.

AFL-CIO Chiefs Told Losing Ground Is Signing Workers

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A report that organized labor is losing ground in making union members of American workers brought a self-appraisal in the AFL-CIO today that it could spell union labor's "obituary."

Organizing director John Livingston told AFL-CIO chiefs gathered here for a winter meeting their unions are staging a losing battle in wooing workers to the union cause.

Livingston reportedly told the AFL-CIO Executive Council at a closed session Monday that where all the nation's unions had enlisted 40 per cent of organization's workers in the work force five years ago the proportion is now down to 38 per cent.

Livingston also was said to have told his AFL-CIO colleagues that independent unions, meaning those unconnected with the federation like the Teamsters and Mine Workers Unions, are winning bigger groups of new members proportionately than the AFL-CIO's own unions.

Joseph A. Beirne, president of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers, was reported to have told his federation colleagues the waning proportion of unionized workers "means the obituary of organized labor" unless it is quickly reversed.

Livingston explained the decline in union organizing prowess is partially due to the rapidly changing composition of the nation's work force—with the number of manual workers declining along with a corollary increase in white collar, or office and technical workers.

Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers Union, is chairman of an AFL-CIO committee charged with improving AFL-CIO techniques for organizing the growing army of white collar workers.

His group is expected to submit recommendations for more effective organizing campaigns to the 10-day session of federation leaders.

The AFL-CIO council voted Monday to sponsor a series of "get America back to work" conferences, winding up with one in the nation's capital. The purpose is to pinpoint the plight of the unemployed and to consider ways to spur economic recovery.

Reuther's union proposed the rallies of labor, business, civic and political groups to map means of curing the present economic recession.

Only One Critic Says Complaint

LONDON (AP)—A sexy Hollywood comedy billed as "the sauciest dish ever set before a queen" won the applause Monday night of British royalty and shocked one critic.

The film, "The Facts of Life," deals lightly with a married man's vain attempt to commit adultery with his wife's best friend. It stars Bob Hope and Lucille Ball.

It was a pretty daring theme to be chosen for the annual royal film performance. But Queen Mother Elizabeth, Princess Margaret, and her husband, Antony Armstrong-Jones, obviously were delighted.

As they left the celebrity-studded Odeon theater, the queen mother told movie industry officials: "It was a most enjoyable evening and we all liked the film very much."

Of the critics, only Paul Dehn of the Laborite Daily Herald voiced any complaint.

"Filmgoers with less need to be careful of appearances may laugh their heads off, but I say this is not a film to put before a queen," he protested.

Claim Settled By Judy Garland

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Actress Judy Garland interrupted her rehearsal at the State Fair Music Hall Monday long enough to settle a $1,050 claim brought by a hotel for a bill delinquent since 1957.

The payoff came 2 1/2 hours after the filing of a law suit against the actress by attorney David Witts in the name of the Stoneleigh Hotel.

The hotel alleged that $800 of a $3,200 bill run up by Miss Garland and her husband, Sid Luft, in 1957 was still unpaid. It also requested $250 in attorneys fees.

"We finally agreed to settle for $750," said Witts.

Spokesmen for Judy, staying at another Dallas hotel, said it was a "misunderstanding."

Coincidence Of Death Bring Rash Of Suits

NORTH WILKESBORO, N. C. (AP)—The Lowe's Hardware chain store borrowed $1.5 million last October. As collateral for this and previous indebtedness of about $300,000, chief stockholder Henry C. Buchanan Jr.'s life was insured for about $2 million.

The coincidence of Buchanan's death less than two weeks later turned a routine business transaction into a subject of lawsuits.

So far, nine suits against insurance companies have been filed in U.S. District Court at Greensboro and two in Guilford Superior Court. They total $1.8 million.

Buchan died Oct. 23 at his summer home at Sparta, in neighboring Alleghany County. The 44-year-old executive was alone at the home.

"Death was caused by a massive coronary thrombosis," said Dr. C. A. Thompson of Sparta, who attended Buchanan's final illness but was not present at the time of death. Dr. Thompson, who had treated Buchanan for a year or so previously, said his patient had no previous history of heart trouble.

Dr. Thompson said he had treated Buchanan in the past for a sipped disc and that seemed to be his illness the night of Oct. 22.

"I saw him about 10 p.m. and again after 4 a.m.," the doctor said.

When a Lowe's official called the doctor about 2 p.m. on Oct. 22 and said that Buchanan had not arrived at his office, the doctor went to the summer home. He found Buchanan dead of a heart attack.

"The house was locked," Dr. Thompson said. "Death was of natural causes. There was no reason to suspect foul play."

About four months later the legal action began. Lowe's stores in North Wilkesboro, Durham and Charlotte; in Bristol, Richmond, Staunton and Roanoke, Va.; Oak Hill, W. Va.; and Knoxville, Tenn., brought suits against nine insurance companies for payment of policies issued between Oct. 10 and 20 on Buchanan's life.

Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. of New York, which had loaned

Lowe's $1.5 million on Oct. 13, joined with Lowe's as a plaintiff in five of the 11 suits.

Named as defendants were Liberty Life Co., Greenville, S.C.; the Life Insurance Co. of North America, Philadelphia, Pa.; National Life Insurance Co., Montpelier, Vt.; Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co., Greensboro; Connecticut Life Insurance Co., Hartford; The Canada Life Assurance Co.; Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Co., Philadelphia; The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., Milwaukee, Wis.; the Pilot Life Insurance Co., Greensboro.

Four of the suits are for $100,000 each, seven for about $200,000 each.

Typical of the actions is the $200,000 suit by Lowe's of North Wilkesboro against Fidelity Mutual. Lowe's claims that it issued a check in September for $6,650 as the first annual premium and Fidelity cashed it about Oct. 14. Lowe's claims the company there-

TV Quiz And Game Shows Are Returned

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—In the fall of 1959, as an aftermath of the quiz show scandals, a lot of television programs disappeared from the networks. Most of them were programs in which the audience participated.

Now, however, the quiz and game shows are back in greater numbers than ever, although the financial rewards aren't as great.

Most of them are in daytime spots with a predominantly feminine audience.

Audience participation shows use up a 37 weekly hours of network television—more than Westerns or even situation comedies. They range all the way from CBS' high-level "College Bowl" on Sunday afternoons, when teams from institutions of higher learning match brain power, to ABC's "Queen for a Day" on which contestants match hard luck stories for dishwashers and sets of matched luggage. In between are all the games shows—"Video Village," "Say When," "Truth or Consequences"—many of them adapted from parlor or children's games.

Church Will Aid Bank Embezzler

HIGH POINT, N.C. (AP)—Her church says sentiment throughout this area is running high in favor of a young woman convicted of bank embezzlement. The congregation has decided unanimously to assist in a drive to raise $8,128 by April 15 to save her from five years in prison.

There are more than a dozen of these, and an adroit housewife, if she twirls her channel selector carefully, can watch them every weekday from midmorning to mid-afternoon without a break.

NBC currently is undisputed king of the audience-participation show. It puts on seven shows every weekday. In addition, it has the Groucho Marx show on a weekday-night, "People Are Funny" on Sundays, and its prime-time evening version of its daytime success, "The Price Is Right" is rated among the top 20 shows in TV. All this consumes 19 hours of NBC time each week, and it will be 19½ hours when an evening version of "Concentration" goes into the schedule in April.

Miss Bonnie Gray Barneycastle, 22, was convicted in federal district court at Greensboro last Friday of embezzling $5,128 from the time payment department of Wachovia Bank & Trust Co.'s West End branch here, where she was a teller. Federal Judge Edwin M. Stanley suspended a prison sentence and put her on probation for five years on condition she pay the money and a fine of $3,000 by April 15. She told the jury of three women and nine men that she did not take the money, but admitted handwriting on some payment receipts appeared to be hers.

ABC devotes 12½ daytime hours a week to its audience participation shows.

CBS, which discontinued all its audience participation shows in late 1959, is quietly getting back into business. Last season it reopened the door with its daytime "Video Village." On March 13 it will toss three others into its channel: "Double Exposure," "Surprise Package," and "Face the Facts." To do it, it will junk two soap operas—"The Clear Horizon" and "Full Circle"—and reruns of perennial "December Bride."

The congregation of Rankin Memorial Methodist Church here, upon recommendation of its board, voted to assist her in paying the court levy. The church said in a statement:

"Sentiment on behalf of Miss Barneycastle is running so high throughout the area of Guilford (High Point-Greensboro) and adjoining counties that the church met to consider sponsoring a drive already in progress to receive funds. It is unanimously agreed that Rankin Memorial Church will give aid and support to this campaign. We feel that no good could come of fighting the entire future of this young girl."

Soon lucky viewers with nothing else to do will be able to watch audience participation shows for a total of 45 hours a week, although they will need two or three sets to do it on because there are conflicts.

DRIVES FOR SCORE—Ayden's Barbara Yorke (11) heads for the basket in an effort to score two points. The Tornado girls upset Grifton 39-27 in the first round of the tournament last night. (Photos by Johnny Hudson)

Ayden, S-P Girls Win In First Round

By JOHNNY HUDSON Reflector Sports Editor

AYDEN SET the tempo for what may be a tournament of upsets last night in crushing the second-seeded Grifton girls, 39-27, in the third game of the first round of the 1961 Pitt Tournament played last night.

In the first game of the evening, Stokes-Pactolus barely out-classed Grimesland, 26-22, in a low scoring contest.

The last game upset boosted the seventh seeded Ayden club into the quarterfinals Thursday night against the Bethel-Farmville winner tonight.

Stokes-Pactolus, by virtue of its win, remained in contention for the title but will be matched against regular season champion, Winterville, Wednesday night.

The only game on tap for tonight in the girls' bracket is third seeded Bethel (11-5) against sixth seeded Farmville (6-10).

Bethel has a couple of high scoring forwards in Peggy Highsmith and Carolyn Manning plus All-County guard Jane Crandell.

Farmville, a freshman-studded club, has been coming along fast on the scoring of Kay Allen and Becky Williams plus the defensive play of All-County Sally Donat.

Their meeting tonight gets underway at 8:00.

GRIFTON, minus scoring star John Smith, stumbled in the first quarter against a stronger than expected Ayden sextet and never recovered.

Forward Andrea Harris, a fast-moving blond with a variety of shots, did the biggest damage for Ayden, scoring 22 points—just seven short of Grifton's total score.

The teams swapped baskets in the first period but Ayden proved stronger at the free throw line and grasped a 9-8 lead.

Nancy Stokes turned scorer in the second and provided Harris an assist in destroying Grifton's celebrated defense.

Stokes dumped in six points and Harris had nine as the Ayden six sailed into a half-time lead of 24-12.

It was a cool quarter for Grifton's offensive trio, netting only two field goals in the eight minutes.

The tide failed to change in the second half and Ayden breezed into 34-22 lead at the end of three periods.

Excessive fouls in the final quarter by Grifton enabled Ayden to keep ball control to a large degree and build up their final 12 point spread, adding icing to the upset win.

Jane Mewborn, usually a 20 point plus scorer, was stopped with only 10 points by an aggressive defense sparked by Billie Thompson and Jean Bennett.

Two big baskets by Warren pushed the Blue-Jays into a 21-20 third period lead and they held on in the final quarter, pushing the final spread to four points.

Betty Morgan, a deceptive southpaw, scored 11 points for Grimesland while Sara Tucker added eight.

Sports Scope

Only twice before has a North State school lost four conference ball games in a season and won the regular season title. And both times—so history tells us—the champion failed to win the tournament. (High Point lost four in 1948 and LR did the same last season).

So Lenoir Rhyne, with its 12-4 record, stands in the shadow this week as conference clubs start bumping heads for the league tournament. The Bruins are top seeded but most observers see the tournament as a wide open affair—especially since LR lost its last two conference games.

Seven of the eight teams entered in the field broke even or better during the regular season conference play. Each is capable of beating the other on a given night as has already been proven.

Rivals Meet In First Round

A little irony in the first round drawings is the fact that hot and heavy rivals are involved Atlantic Christian plays East Carolina, High Point meets Elon, Catawba goes against Lenoir Rhyne, and Western Carolina runs into Appalachian.

From the start, the conference running has been a knock-down, drag-out affair. Pre-season predictions carried as much weight as a bag of feathers. It was to be the year when East Carolina and Appalachian fought it out for the first and second slot. They finished in a tie for second. But in finishing in a dead heat, they suffered through six defeats.

League Balanced But Weaker

The league was the best balanced in many a year. But at the same time this observer thought the caliber of basketball was off from previous years. For the most part, all the teams were young and inexperienced.

East Carolina, High Point, and Elon started to crank up in the final weeks and should be among the favorites. Lenoir Rhyne, the top-seeded club, ran hot about mid-season but slumped off in the final week with the scholastic loss of Emil Dixon taking its toll.

Picking a winner in this tournament has always been risky business—and in most cases the pronosticators failed miserably. With the clubs bunched so closely, it is a more hazzardous task this winter.

For a conversation piece and a warning to the "put-your-money-up-or-shut-up" character, out to harvest a few quick bucks, the regular season title winner has won the post-season trophy over five times in the 17-year history of the tournament.

ECC Won Both Titles In '54

Lenoir Rhyne turned the trick twice (1957 and 1958) and East Carolina (1954) High Point (1942), and Western Carolina (1959).

My Pick for the tournament is East Carolina. Remembering that I might be biased, the second choice offered is Elon.

Our reason for sticking with East Carolina is its play of recent weeks and over-all power which no other club in the league can match. Apparently, the Bucs came of age in a weekend-series against Elon and Western Carolina. My belief is that their recent spurt will carry over into the tournament.

Coach Earl Smith doesn't have to rely on one or two scorers as most clubs in the league do. And too, the team has the height and personnel to control the rebounds. A third reason is depth. Although shallow in depth, Smith has two of the best reserves in Benny Bowes and Benny Bowen.

Duke Pushed In Virginia Win

Duke without star Art Heyman had a much harder time than expected Monday night in beating weak Virginia by 11 points. The victory enabled Duke to stay in the running for the first-round bye in the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball tournament.

The Blue Devils, in winning 77-66, couldn't untangle themselves until John Erve's goal with 7:56 to play gave them a 60-50 lead and their first real breathing space.

Duke has a 10-3 conference record, good for a tie with Wake Forest for runnerup to North Carolina (11-2).

The Blue Devils and the Wake Forest Deacons have one more league game before the conference tournament begins in Raleigh March 2, but Duke faces a tougher time. It plays at North Carolina Saturday, the same night that Wake Forest is home to South Carolina, which has won only 2 of 12 league games.

Should Duke and Wake Forest tie in the final standings, Duke under conference rules will get the higher seeded spot as defending conference champion.

North Carolina, on a year's probation by the NCAA for basketball recruiting violations, has withdrawn from the tournament. Should it win the regular season title, the runnerup will get the first-round tournament bye.

Heyman and North Carolina's Larry Brown and Don Walsh have been suspended for the remainder of their teams' regular season league games for participating in a fight during the Duke-North Carolina game Feb. 4. However, they are eligible for the tournament, and for the games in New York's Madison Square Garden Thursday, when Duke will play Seton Hall and Wake Forest will follow against NYU.

Tony Laquintano of Virginia was the high scorer with 22 points in Monday night's only game involving ACC teams. Doug Kistler was high for Duke with 21. Tonight's only game is South Carolina at Clemson.

Virginia hit 27 of 54 shots for 50 per cent and Duke was successful on 32 of 79 for 40.5 per cent. Carroll Youngkin's 18 rebounds and Kistler's 16 helped give Duke a 50-24 margin in this department.

Hardees Spark 57-37 Win

By LEONARD LAO Reflector Sports Writer

GRIMESLAND ADVANCED to the quarterfinals of the Pitt County Tournament by defeating a hapless Stokes-Pactolus basketball team in the opening round of play by a 57-37 score.

The victory for the Panthers entitles them to a crack at Bethel, the top seeded team in the six day affair. Grimesland will go against the unbeaten Indians on Wednesday night, with the tip-off scheduled for 8:00 p.m.

The Stokes-Pactolus Bluejays were knocked out of the competition in the opening round for the second straight year, and also for the second straight year, the Jays have gone through a complete season without a victory. Last night's loss was their 45th in a row.

"HARDEE'S THREE", Lindsay, Carlton, and Lewis, opened war on a weak Stokes-Pactolus quint in the second half last night to pace the win for the Grimesland contingent. The high scoring trio combined their shooting talents for a total of 50 out of 57 points scored against the Bluejays. Lindsay paced the scoring for the evening with 20 points, 10 in each half. Carlton and Lewis each added 15 points.

The Panthers found themselves slow starting in the initial minutes of the contest, trailing the Bluejays 6-4 with two minutes left in the first stanza. But two quick field goals by Carlton Hardee and a free throw by Lindsay Hardee put the Panthers ahead for good at 9-6.

By intermission, Grimesland had increased its lead to 21-12, with Lindsay scoring 8 of 12 in the second period.

AS THE GAME progressed, so did the Panthers' lead with the exception of a few minutes in the last quarter when the Stokes-Pactolus reserves seemed to hit a hot streak. Subs Lester McKeel and Taylor Barnhill pitched in 7 quick points to cut the Grimesland lead to 41-31 with 4:25 left. But a fast break attack quickly stymied the Bluejay threat and the Panthers proceeded to win going away.

High man for the losers was Billy Roebuck with 11 points.

Foreign Stars Out To 'Bury Us'

BOSTON (AP) — Foreign track and field stars, not just Russians, expect to "bury America by sheer numbers" in the 1964 Olympic Games at Tokyo.

Ed Flanagan, noted field events coach from Boston University, today said the Russian indoor track delegation made the remark in a candid meeting of minds.

Martin County Tourney Opens Thursday

County basketball teams went to Jamesville, Bear Grass, Oak City, and Robersonville—entirely about their task of preparing for their three-day tournament this week, starting Thursday night and running through Saturday.

Two games are set for each night with all four county teams involved in a tie game earlier this season with both teams being credited with one-half game loss and one-half game won.

The opening round Thursday night in Robersonville's gym will find Jamesville's girls clashing with Robersonville in the first game at 7:30.

In the boys' bracket Thursday, Bear Grass gets an early test from always dangerous Oak City. Their contest is scheduled to get underway at approximately 9:00.

On Friday, Oak City's girls square off with Bear Grass in the first game and Robersonville

Lakers Knocked From Running

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Lakers are out of the running for the Western Division title in the National Basketball Association.

The Lakers visited Morgantown Monday night to play the Syracuse Nationals, lost 126-121 and the St. Louis Hawks backed into the Western title.

The Lakers' Elgin Baylor scored 45 points and grabbed 21 rebounds while veteran Dolph Schayes, playing his 659th consecutive NBA game, was the big man for Syracuse with 29 points.

Los Angeles, a half game ahead of the Detroit Pistons, play Syracuse in the first half of a New York doubleheader tonight. The Philadelphia Warriors in the other game. The Cincinnati Royals, only a game and a half behind the Lakers, play at St. Louis in tonight's other NBA game.

Lindy McDaniel, St. Louis reliever pitcher, took part in three shutouts in games started last year by other Cardinal pitchers.

Gary Player Still Big Money Man

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Gary Player, a South African transplanted in Langhorne, Pa., still holds the position as professional golfer's top money winner so far this season.

Player has one victory for seven tournaments and placed in the top five twice to earn $15,200 according to figures released Monday by the Professional Golfers Association headquarters.

However, hot on his heels is the golden boy of golf, Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa. Palmer in six tournaments has won two and placed in the top five in the remaining four to rank second in winnings with $12,800.

Palmer banked more than $80,000 in winnings, an all time record, last year.

Third on the money list is Billy Maxwell of Oceanside, Calif., with $9,700. Tied in fourth spot is Ken Venturi of Palo Alto, Calif., and Bob Rosburg of Overland Park, Kan., with $9,400.

New Twist Added To Training Site

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A new twist was added to an old story today as major league baseball clubs began the training chores for a season that will extend to next October. Pitches Luis Arroyo was delayed in reporting to the New York Yankees camp because of a quarantine for bubonic plague.

That sounds like something John McGraw might have signed for a wild, left-handed rookie pitcher. But in this case it happened and it merely emphasized the fact that 1961 likely will be a year of novelties and unforeseen happenings in major league baseball.

Arroyo had been pitching for the San Juan team in the Caribbean series in Caracas, Venezuela. When he returned to Puerto Rico to pack for the trip to the Yankees' camp in St. Petersburg, Fla., he ran into a 10-day quarantine imposed by Puerto Rican authorities because of a bubonic plague outbreak in Caracas. If that wasn't enough, an airline strike would have made travel to Florida impossible.

Some other new factors to be reckoned with in 1961 are the expansion of the American League to 10 teams with the addition of two new clubs and the shift of another handful of new managers and the great Chicago Cubs' experiment of operating with eight coaches sharing the managerial duties, a new club owner at Kansas City and too many changes of personnel to count easily. It may be hard to recognize some of the teams.

Five clubs had early arrivals working out last week with a few veterans mingling with the rookies who were undergoing inspection. The Yankees camp formally opened Sunday for the arrival of battersmen. The entire Los Angeles Dodgers' squad was due at the Vero Beach, Fla., camp Monday, and the Athletics' pitchers and catchers were due at West Palm Beach, Fla.

The new Minnesota Twins (shifted from Washington) and the Baltimore Orioles had their camp openings scheduled today. By the end of this week every club will have at least some men in camp except the Chicago White Sox, who report Sunday and the Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Cards, who set Feb. 28 as the reporting date. Exhibition games are scheduled to start March 11.

The training camp sites:

American League — Baltimore, Md.; Boston, Scottsdale, Ariz.; Chicago, Sarasota, Fla.; Cleveland, Tucson, Ariz.; Detroit, Lakeland, Fla.; Kansas City, West Palm Beach, Fla.; Los Angeles, Palm Springs, Calif.; Minneapolis, St. Paul, Orlando, Fla.; New York, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Washington, Pompano Beach, Fla.

National League — Chicago, Mesa, Ariz.; Cincinnati, Tampa, Fla.; Los Angeles, Vero Beach, Fla.; Milwaukee, Bradenton, Fla.; Pittsburgh, Fort Myers, Fla.; St. Louis, St. Petersburg, Fla.; San Francisco, Phoenix, Ariz.; Philadelphia, Clearwater, Fla.

Of special interest will be the efforts of the managers of the new clubs—Bill Rigney of the Los Angeles Angels and Mickey Vernon of the Washington Senators — to mould respectable squads from the second-line players made available by the other American League teams and whatever other talent they have been able to pick up.

Other new managers are Ralph Houk as successor to the inimitable Casey Stengel with the Yankees, Joe Gordon at Kansas City, Bob Scheffing at Detroit, and Al Dark at San Francisco.

The world champion Pittsburgh Pirates are about the only club that took a stand pat attitude toward off-season trading. They picked up pitcher Bobby Shantz and have a good rookie crop up for inspection. Elsewhere there'll be plenty of new faces.

Duke Slips To 6th; Tar Heels 7th In AP Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Ohio State basketball team had its biggest scare of the season last Saturday night.

Playing Iowa in Iowa City, the undefeated Buckeyes fell ten points behind at halftime and still trailed by seven points with minutes remaining.

Then the Buckeyes slammed in ten straight points—the last two goals on steals—and squeezed out a 62-61 victory.

This great comeback for victory No. 20 gave Ohio State the No. 1 position in The Associated Press basketball poll for the 11th straight week.

St. Bonaventure, with a 20-1 season mark, also was a unanimous choice of the special panel of sports writers and broadcasters for the runnerup spot, getting 36 votes.

The remainder of the top ten involved some brisk scrambling, although the shakeup involved the same teams which placed last week. There wasn't a single newcomer.

The top ten with first place votes in parentheses:

1. Ohio State (36)	360
2. St. Bonaventure	324
3. Cincinnati	254
4. Bradley	191
5. Iowa	153
6. Duke	150
7. North Carolina	144
8. Kansas State	118
9. West Virginia	104
10. Southern California	72

Others receiving votes: St. John's, Kansas, Utah, Purdue, U.C.L.A., Louisville, Mississippi State, Vanderbilt, Wake Forest, Memphis State, Kentucky, St. Joseph's, Drake, Dayton.

Ohio State Pushed Again But Win 73-69

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer

Coach Fred Taylor has been saying it right along. Opponents have had more than a strong suspicion and now the general public is beginning to realize it. Jerry Lucas, fine a player as he is, isn't the entire Ohio State basketball team.

That seldom has been more evident than it has been in the last two games, when the No. 1 ranked Buckeyes survived a couple of cliff hangers to keep their record unblemished and virtually sew up their second straight Big Ten title.

A revenge-minded Indiana team managed to hold Lucas to 16 points—about 10 below his season average — Monday night as Hoosier fans chanted "We want blood." But Mel Nowell, one of the "other guys" that Taylor has repeatedly praised for consistent play, came through and Ohio State won anyway, 73-69.

Last Saturday it was Larry Siegfried who contributed the all-important points in a narrow victory over an Iowa team that lost most of its leading players by ineligibility but still manages to hang in there.

Iowa, due largely to the efforts of Don Nelson, the one surviving first stringer, turned back Michigan 50-46 and retained that almost invisible chance of overtaking the Buckeyes.

Elsewhere Duke's Blue Devils, who dropped to sixth in this week's Associated-Press poll rankings (Iowa is fifth) moved into a tie with Wake Forest for second place in the Atlantic Coast Conference; Mississippi State stayed on top of the Southeastern and Florida continued its strong bid to represent the SEC in the NCAA tournament with fairly impressive victories.

Duke, missing sophomore Art Heyman, who has been barred from the remaining conference games, conquered Virginia 77-66 in a lacklustre game. The Blue Devils' big hope now is to earn the No. 1 seeding in the conference tournament.

Miss. State, which won't play in the NCAA tournament, ran its SEC record to 9-2 by whipping Georgia 99-77 with the aid of 34 points by Jerry Graves. Florida, winner over Mississippi State Saturday, moved ahead of Vanderbilt into second place at 8-3 by taking an 81-77 overtime decision over Mississippi. The Gators had to come from behind again to tie at 73-73 then pulled it out at the end of the extra period when Cliff Luyk sank two free throws and a field goal in the closing seconds.

And among the old familiar faces occupying new places on the training camp scene are Ted Williams and Joe DiMaggio as special batting coaches for the Red Sox and Yankees, respectively, and Leo Durocher, back in uniform for the first time in several years as a Dodger coach.

Larry Jansen and Wes Westrum, former New York Giant battery, will coach for the San Francisco Giants this year.

It was just about a year ago that Ohio State suffered its last defeat, losing to Indiana at Bloomington. Since then the Bucks have won 26 straight. They're 11-0 in the conference and about the only way they could lose the title would be to drop their remaining three games to second division rivals.

They had some shaky moments Monday night when Indiana cut their lead to three points near the finish. But Nowell, high scorer with 27 points, tossed in four points and saved the game.

Two of Ohio's remaining conference foes came through with upset victories Monday night. Wisconsin tumbled Minnesota 83-75, ending an eight-game losing streak that began early in January, and Michigan State climbed out of the conference cellar with a 90-80 victory over Illinois in a heated game.

In the Big Eight, Colorado replaced Oklahoma State in a third place tie—far behind pace-setting Kansas and Kansas State — by trimming the Cowpokes 63-61 while Nebraska trounced Oklahoma 83-61.

St. Louis, an also-ran in the Missouri Valley Conference but a possible National Invitation Tournament invitee, improved its changes with a deliberate 74-60 victory over Notre Dame. The Billikens are 15-7 for the season after handing Notre-Dame its second home floor defeat in two seasons. Miami (Fla.) a NIT bound team, had an easy 96-80 victory over Jacksonville U.

while Auburn trimmed Tulane 63-44. Alabama turned in a minor Southeastern Conference upset, beating Louisiana State 68-60.

In the East, independent Niagara ran its record to 11-4 by beating Siena 68-44, Syracuse downed Massachusetts 74-66 and Boston College whipped Northeastern 75-54.

Chamberlain Leading Scorers

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia is the National Basketball Association's top scorer, but Detroit's Bailey Howell has made the biggest leap in the point-production department.

Chamberlain, who has scored 2,446 points for a 37.6 average, still is below his league record of 2,707 points for the 1959-60 campaign while Howell already has surpassed his total for last season.

The Pistons' sophomore sharpshooter ranks seventh in league scoring statistics, released today with 1,543 points — 211 over his entire production as a rookie. He is averaging 23.7 points a game.

Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles, runner-up to Chamberlain for point making honors with 2,222 and a 34.7 average, also is the No. 2 man in the improvement department. Baylor has surpassed his top mark by 148 points.

Third place in the scoring parade still is held by Cincinnati rookie Oscar Robertson. He and Bob Pettit of St. Louis have scored 1,867 points each, but Big O has 30.6 average to Pettit's 28.3 because he has played five fewer games.

 - 1/2 cup milk
- Whip Nordica Cottage Cheese to whipped cream consistency with 1/2 cup milk in your blender or mixer before adding seasonings. (Use more or less milk for desired consistency). Serve chilled.
- BLUE COTTAGE CHEESE DIP
- 1 12-oz. carton NORDICA Cottage Cheese
 - 1/2 cup crumbled Blue cheese
 - 1/2 tsp. pepper
 - 1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
 - 1 tsp. finely chopped onion
 - 3 tsp. cream
 - 1/2 cup milk
- Whip Nordica Cottage Cheese to whipped cream smoothness with 1/2 cup milk in your blender or mixer before adding seasonings. (Use more or less milk for desired consistency). Serve chilled.

Be sure you use NORDICA. Its exclusive processing gives you smaller, more delicate curds that blend easily into a smooth, creamy base. You'll be a happy hostess when your guests start raving about your delightful NORDICA dunks!

MUSTER DAY PROCLAMATION—Greenville City Councilman and Mayor Pro Tem M. W. Aldridge is pictured above signing an official proclamation designating tomorrow as "National Guard Muster Day" as local guardsmen of the 113th Artillery 4th Howitzer Battalion look on. Behind Aldridge are (left to right) Capt. Charles E. Camp, commanding officer of Battery A; Sgt. Mayo E. Allen, Battery A administrative supply technician; Sgt. Bruce Baker, Battery B; and Lt. Alvin McArthur, Battery B commanding officer. The proclamation cited National Guard service, opportunity for young men and necessity for security in designating the observance of George Washington's birthday as Muster Day.

THEY RE-GREW HAIR!

Mr. Newhouse (left) gave about 20 minutes of his time for the Harlow free hair and scalp consultation and re-grew his hair.

Mrs. Haller (right) shows her results by Harlow treatments.

Scalp Specialist Here Tomorrow Only
Will Show How To Save Hair
And Prevent Baldness

CORAL GABLES, Fla. — Wednesday, February 22 only, at the Proctor Hotel in Greenville, North Carolina, Staff Director J. J. Stalter will give free hair and scalp consultation between 1:00 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. to hair worried men and women.

Harlow Hair & Scalp Consultants, the oldest and largest organization of its kind, makes regular visits to Greenville, N. C. throughout the year to assure you of success in a minimum period of time. Harlow is now in its seventh year. Last year alone, over one-quarter million Harlow home scalp treatments were used.

Surveys among men and women in all walks of life show that the worst enemies of your hair are (1) doubt and (2) delay. Many balding people who are doing nothing to help themselves are justifying their condition with thinking like this: "I don't think anybody can stop hair loss"—or "I'm going to see an expert when I get around to it." That doesn't solve your problem. You are going to keep right on losing your hair until you are bald . . . unless you get your scalp in a healthy, hair-growing condition again.

HOPELESS CASES REFUSED
If you are totally bald, there is nothing Harlow can do for you. Harlow or no other treatment known is of benefit to excessive hair loss due to male pattern baldness. Neither of the persons shown above suffered from male pattern baldness. Therefore, Harlow continues its policy of refusing all hopeless cases. Baldness is slow and gradual, even in the most common forms. The two most common causes are neglect and mistreatment, but the two worst enemies are skepticism and procrastination.

BEWARE THESE SYMPTOMS
Once you notice symptoms of excessive dryness or oiliness, itchy scalp, excessive hair in the combs, tender areas, come in for an examination before follicle shrinkage ruins all hopes for a healthy head of hair.

97% SATISFIED
So selective is the Harlow system that the organization is

ON THE HOUSE

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsletters

If you're thinking of buying a house, your first decision is how much you can afford to pay for it. There are various ways of arriving at this decision. One of the most widely-quoted is that which says you can afford a home costing two and one-half times your annual income.

What income? The gross? Or the one you actually get? And if this applies to a man and wife with no children, what about the couple with five children? Also, what about the difference in the monthly payments for the family who can afford to make a down payment of $5,000 and the one who can afford a down payment of only $2,000.

No, the question of how much housing you can afford can not be answered simply by any such rough estimate. Every case is individual and must be treated that way. If, at the time you start looking for a house, you are burdened down with a lot of installment payments that will continue for a considerable period of time, you must take that into consideration. If you are reasonably free of debt and have a little something put aside for emergencies, you can afford a better house than otherwise.

On the matter of down payment, you always are better off to make it substantial. This not only will reduce the amount of your monthly payments, but will cost you less money in the long run. The bigger your mortgage and the longer you take to pay it, the more your house will cost. Many persons naturally can not afford to make a sizable down payment, yet have an income which will enable them to meet reasonable monthly mortgage bills. All prospective home purchasers should attempt to get the best mortgage terms possible, but those in the latter category should be especially careful in shopping around for a mortgage.

It's surprising how many persons accept whatever mortgage is offered them without inquiring too much into the details. All these buyers want to know is "How much will it cost every month?" If the figure is one they can pay, they sign, not realizing that there are many different kinds of mortgages and that, by selecting the

Newspaper Rack And Coins Taken

Greenville detectives reported today that investigation into the theft of a newspaper rack from The Daily Reflector late yesterday is continuing.

Investigators said the missing rack was taken from the sidewalk at the front of the business. The theft was reported about 6:40 p.m.

Officers said the money box and the rack reportedly contained about forty cents in change and five newspapers. Total value of the rack and contents was set at five dollars.

Newspaper Has Fear For Future

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev. (AP)—The weekly territorial enterprise—"Mark Twain's Newspaper"—is worried about the year 2020.

It reports fretfully that a U.S. Department of Commerce expert "sees Nevada infested with 1 1/2 million people" in the next 60 years. The newspaper, a tabloid whose typography and ads are on the "1880 style," said the expert's "unpleasant prognostication" was that the Reno-Carson City area would grow to 800,000 "squirming humans."

one best suited to their needs, they can save a considerable amount of money.

Incidentally, in figuring how much you can afford to spend for a house, don't overlook the advice a bank or other lending institution will be glad to give you. In most cases, you would be wise to get this advice before you even begin looking for a house. Otherwise, you may decide on the house you want, get the advice—and tend to disregard it because you already have made up your mind.

New PTA Study Council Planned

"Emotional Problems of Children" will be the subject matter of a Second City Council P.T.A. study course, to be conducted Thursday night at Elmhurst School.

Registration will be held from 7:30 until 8 p.m., with the meeting beginning at 8 p.m. The panel discussion will be directed by Dr. Lois Stator, moderator; Dr. Earl Trevathan, local physician; Miss Mary Thomas Smith, classroom teacher, and Mrs. Trudy M. Neis, psychologist, members of the panel. The three panel members represent the areas in which they work.

During the evening they will discuss what happens to the emotions when something goes wrong in these areas how to avoid these problems and what to do if they occur. There will be a question and answer period following the discussion. Parents are urged to attend. The first study course was held recently at Elmhurst School on characteristics of children at various age levels. It was one of the best attended of any recent P.T.A. meetings here. Mrs. M. P. Bailey, Jr., City Council P.T.A. president, said.

Money Broker Is Busy In Securities Market

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The money broker is a busy fellow in today's securities market.

He is the middle man for foreign and domestic banks with idle funds and the investor who scents a good thing in a bond or stock but hasn't the cash handy to swing the deal.

There are only a few such brokers in the field and demand for their services fluctuates widely. During the big 1958 flurry in U.S. government bonds, single loans ran as high as $50 million. (The bonds dropped so far below redemption price as to tempt many with little cash.)

D. H. Blair & Co. estimates that on an average day around $4.5 million in new loans are floated and perhaps $600 million are outstanding. It has handled as much as $30 million in a day and usually has about $200 million outstanding.

Garvin-Bantel & Co. says it has had as much as $140 million from one bank alone to place.

Here is how the money broker works:

He keeps in contact with many banks. D. H. Blair, for example, has some 250 correspondent banks in the United States, Canada and overseas. One of these banks will tell the money broker the amount it can lend, for how long, and on what securities.

The money broker then informs partners of other brokerage houses with whom he is in close contact what funds are available on specified bonds, convertible debentures or common stock. He specifies what interest is asked on the loan and how long it can run.

If the brokerage house has a customer looking for a loan to carry such a security, the money broker extends the necessary papers, including the pledging of collateral (the securities themselves).

Most banks prefer to keep such loans to 90 days. But most borrowers renew for another period, at interest rates then prevailing, and most hold their investments

Additional Farm Housing Funds Made Available

By HAROLD K MILKS
HAVANA (AP)—Communist bloc technicians and experts more and more are becoming a part of Cuba's national life. But deplomatic experts here believe they number in the hundreds, not thousands.

Visitors from behind the Iron Curtain fall into three categories: military technicians whose activities and numbers are kept strictly secret, technicians and experts employed by the Cuban government, and trade and commercial experts here under their own governments' sponsorship to scout possible barter deals with the Cuban regime.

An additional $50 million has been made available to the Farmers Home Administration for farm housing loans. Ben H. White, the agency's county supervisor, announced Monday.

He said the new loan funds assure an adequate supply of this type of credit for eligible farm families during the balance of the fiscal year. Loans made so far this year plus those being processed had practically exhausted the funds previously available, he pointed out.

Farm housing loans are made throughout the rural areas of the United States. The loans provide farm families with an opportunity to acquire an adequate house and efficient service buildings.

Applications for farm housing loans may be made at the local office of the Farmers Home Administration. White said. The loans bear four per cent interest and are repayable over periods up to 33 years.

The major demand in Pitt County is for loans to construct and modernize farm houses, the supervisor said, and most of the funds are used for new construction.

Improvements financed with the loans include the installation of central heating and pressure water supply systems, the addition of bathrooms and the modernization of kitchens.

To be eligible a farmer must own a farm that will annually produce for sale or home use at least $400 worth of commodities based on 1944 prices and be of sufficient value to adequately secure the loan.

In addition, he must lack the resources needed to obtain credit elsewhere and have sufficient income to pay farm operating and family living expenses and meet payments when due on his debts, according to FHA rules.

Communist Bloc Technicians Are Assuming Big Role In Cuban Life

"We don't know how many Russians, Czechs and Communist Chinese there are in Cuba today," said one veteran diplomat, "but there are at least several hundred."

"Most of those we see are mid-aged engineers and other technical experts. If the military technicians include many pilots or other 'fighting men,' the Cubans are keeping them well hidden."

A source close to the Kremlin's embassy in Havana said Soviet officials numbered the Soviets now in Cuba at just over 250. Other sources tend to confirm this figure.

Also here are at least 200 Red Chinese, including a delegation of about 100 who arrived last November. Though they supposedly are agricultural experts, these Chinese are ununiformed.

"It's no secret that some Russian and Czech military technicians have arrived in Cuba to give Castro's soldiers and officers training on tanks, antitank and aircraft artillery and some other weapons," one qualified source said.

This informant and a majority of the diplomatic envoys here are inclined to scoff at reports from abroad that the Soviet Union is attempting to install long-range rocket launching pads in Cuba.

Most said they were "more than certain" no such rockets or pads have been brought in or constructed here. Castro's propaganda organs consistently have denied the pads exist.

Yet some diplomats claim to have "excellent information" that the Soviet Union has supplied Prime Minister Fidel Castro with some rockets, though they're believed to be of short-range anti-aircraft or ground-to-ground types.

One diplomat said he had information on rockets "seven meters (19.6 feet) long" which his informant was able to describe and draw for him. These reportedly were seen at a military base outside Havana.

Another diplomat reported he was told 28 heavy, tracked vehicles moved 300 tons of unidentified military equipment into the area of Mayari Arriba in Oriente Province in January. He said the heavily guarded equipment included "pipes or barrels" 59 to 68.5 feet long and 20 inches in diameter.

There have been recurring reports the Cuban regime—possibly with Soviet technical assistance—is constructing submarine or other naval stations on Cayo Largo, large key off Cuba's southwest coast, 60 miles east of the Isle of Pines.

This area has been restricted for months and the government has not permitted visits to the key nor allowed private planes to fly over it. Cuban journalists who visited the key in the past said what appeared to be a light plane airstrip was being constructed there.

The semi-official newspaper Revolucion Saturday published a full-page denial of reports from abroad that Cayo Largo has been developed into an atomic or naval base. Cayo Largo is "only a base for melons," the newspaper said, publishing photographs of melons and other vegetables. The newspaper confirmed construction of an airstrip on the key but said it is part of a plan to develop the tiny islet as a "tourist center."

Communist technical advisers sent here under contract to the Castro government have fat agreements, many of them calling for greater expenditures by Cuba than American technicians normally receive for such jobs.

Diplomats here said Soviet technicians in Cuba under terms of the Soviet-Cuban technical assistance pact reportedly receive from $1,000 to $2,000 monthly in salary, part in pesos, part in foreign currency and also air-conditioned homes with an automobile, servants and other services.

Many Communist technicians brought their wives and children and appear to be settling in for a long stay. Others were here only a short time and already have returned home.

Bob Cummings Has 'Imaged' New Series

By BOB THOMAS
TOKYO (AP)—Don't ask why Robert Cummings would be in a Chinese restaurant in the Japanese capital talking about an American TV show. Don't ask: Just listen.

Fact is, when Cummings starts talking, you're bound to listen. He speaks with the zeal of an evangelist, which he is.

One of his crusades is bringing joys of food supplements to the unenlightened. He is working here on "My Geisha," and he has most of the company hooked on his pills, which he dispenses in gross lots.

In between the shark fin soup and fried rice, he chomped on handfuls of protein tablets and wheat germ pills and philosophized.

"Imaging," he said. "That's the way you can accomplish anything in life. Once you image what you want—and if it is good for you and other people—all you have to do is start acting as if you already have it. And before long, you will!"

He illustrated with his career. For five years he imaged himself as a British actor and won his start in the theater and films. He now images himself young, and at 50 he looks like a collegiate.

His latest imaging has accomplished the virtually impossible feat of a third bigtime TV series. He did "My Hero," which is still making the re-run rounds in the United States and elsewhere. More importantly, he had a five-year run with "The Bob Cummings Show." Next season, CBS will offer an entirely different series, oddly named "The Bob Cummings Show."

How come? Because Bob imaged it.

"It happened a year ago," he recounted. "One morning it came to me, the kind of a show I wanted to do."

He sent for the boss of a giant agency, who bought the idea immediately. The writers' strike delayed the project for months. But as soon as the pilot film was made, it was snapped up. The

Jesse's Murder Said All Wrong

FT. CARSON, Colo. (AP)—A Ft. Carson soldier who claims to be a descendant of Jesse James insists the famous outlaw was not murdered by one of his gang.

Ret. Francis James, 18, of Houston, Tex., says his father, Stanley M. James, "claims that although Bob Ford shot Jesse in the back, he did not die but was hidden out by other members of the James clan until he recovered from his wound."

"This information has been passed down to us by family members who knew, saw and talked to Jesse after his so-called death."

The soldier adds the Missouri bandit died in bed and lived until he was in his 90's. History books say Ford killed Jesse James on April 3, 1882.

Companions Die In Wrecked Car

GALLATIN, Mo. (AP)—Paul Holcomb, 38, a farmer, owes his life to the sharp eyes of Archie Blackburn.

Holcomb was recovering today in a hospital from a 64-hour ordeal in a wrecked car in freezing weather. His three companions are dead.

Martin Kenneth Boulton, 41, and Lucky Norris Holcomb, 41, were killed when the car plunged off a curve during a heavy rain Friday night. It rolled 100 yards from the highway and hit a tree in a deep ravine.

Paul Holcomb and Lewis Lee Smith, 41, were trapped in the wreckage. The Holcombs were not related.

Blackburn, knowing the four Gallatin men were missing, went back for another look Monday and spotted car tracks in a pasture two miles west of Gallatin.

He followed the tracks to the wrecked car, hidden so well that farmer Glen Sullenger, feeding livestock just 50 yards away, didn't know it was there.

"If Blackburn hadn't noticed those tracks it could have been weeks before the men were found," said Sheriff S. L. Houghton.

"Paul Holcomb was conscious enough to know me, but he couldn't talk," the sheriff added. "Smith died as we were putting him in an ambulance."

It was warm Friday, so the men were wearing only light clothing. But Saturday brought snow and that evening the mercury dropped to 12 degrees above zero Sunday night's reading was 22.

Paul Holcomb, with a broken leg, broken finger, lacerations, bruises and shock, could hardly move in the wreckage.

"The doors were jammed and we had to pry them open," Sheriff Houghton said. "He's mighty lucky Blackburn saw those tracks."

A biologist has discovered that a one-celled animal, the stentor, is capable of learning.

Worst Snowstorm Of Season Hits Texas

Completed

Construction of a seven-room addition to Sally Branch School has been completed, Superintendent of County Schools D. H. Conley announced today.

Conley said he expects the students will be able to move into the addition in about 30 days. Furniture has not been moved in nor is power on at the present time.

The masonry addition replaces six frame rooms at the school, which is located on the Belvoir highway about eight miles from Greenville. The completed unit will consist of 12 classrooms, including five currently in use and the seven new rooms, Conley said.

Four hundred and seventy-five students attend the school.

Quit School At 15; Now Faces Top Banking Job

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Edward A. Wayne quit school at the age of 15 to become a bank runner.

The rapid pace he's set since then lands him a top banking post this month.

On Feb. 28, the jovial, folksy Wayne takes over as president of the Richmond Federal Reserve Bank.

He brings to his new job 43 years' experience in virtually all phases of banking.

Wayne stepped up the bank presidency from the first vice president's job, a post he has held for almost seven years. The move caps a career during which Wayne has held a variety of banking posts, including one as acting director of examinations for the federal reserve system.

Wayne is an omnivorous reader. Associates say that the Earl, Claire, S.C. native is one of the best educated officers in the federal reserve system despite his short formal education.

Since quitting school, Wayne figures he's kept up a systematic reading program averaging about three hours a day outside of office hours.

His father, a circuit-riding Methodist preacher and lawyer, instilled the reading habit early.

"My earliest recollection is of my father reading to me," Wayne said. "He took me on those long buggy rides to and from church. Along the way, he would tie up the reins and let the horse follow the road while he read to me for hours."

"By the time I was 10, when my father died, he had read all of Dickens to me and started on 'The Cherry'."

He reads in the morning before going to the office and at night, before retiring. Frequently, he arises at 5:15 a.m., makes a pot of coffee, and starts reading.

His reading has not all been random. For years, as a young man he followed a reading outline on money, banking and economics outlined for him by a friendly professor at the University of South Carolina.

His wife persisted in urging him to take up an active hobby because she knew his attitude toward exercise:

"Whenever I feel the urge to exercise," he said, "I resist it."

Wayne has been an amateur photographer and painter for years and has won about a dozen prizes in the federal reserve system's photography contests. Some of his tinted photographs hang in his office at the bank and Mrs. Wayne has hung one of his oil paintings in the living room at home.

Wayne is also an avid music lover, with a leaning toward Italian opera. His other favorites include Brahms, Beethoven and Mozart which he finds he can listen to while reading or painting.

"All I play is the phonograph," he said. "But I play rather well."

Wayne has been an active Methodist all of his life. He has taught Sunday School classes and held top laymen's posts at his church. He is a tither to church and charities but says he doesn't feel any "religious compulsion to tithe. The Biblical foundation for tithing is very slender."

Wayne has been active in community affairs also and is much in demand as a speaker. He once directed the Richmond area community chest and headed a citizens committee studying teachers salaries.

He gave up smoking a few years ago and doesn't touch alcoholic beverages.

After working with several Carolina banks, he was appointed chief examiner for the South Carolina Board of Bank Control in 1936. Four years later, he became executive secretary of the North Carolina Bankers Association. He joined the Richmond Reserve Bank in 1943 as vice president in charge of the bank examination department.

Wayne is married to the former Thelma Saylor of Columbia, S.C.; they have a son and two daughters.

The Richmond bank is headquarters for the 5th Federal Reserve District, embracing Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, the Carolinas and the District of Columbia.

Wayne has two brothers, Herbert M. Wayne, executive vice president of the Charlotte branch of the North Carolina National Bank, and Ansley Wayne, principal of a grammar school at North Charleston, S.C. They have two sisters, Miss Sue Wayne, a teacher in the Rock Hill, S.C., public schools, and Mrs. Pauline McCaskill, a member of the faculty of the University of North Carolina's School of Nursing.

Librarian At Grifton Resigns

GRIFTON — Mrs. Gladys Burney, the first paid librarian to serve the Grifton Public Library, has submitted her resignation effective March 1.

Mrs. Burney has been librarian here since July 1, 1960.

Her successor has not been announced yet.

Grifton Prepares For Big Hearing

GRIFTON — Grifton residents are preparing for their town meeting next Tuesday, at which a proposed $235,000 bond issue will be discussed in connection with water and sewer projects.

At a town board meeting last week, Mayor Wiley Gaskins proposed an open meeting with the townspeople to discuss the new water and sewer proposals, and Feb. 28 was set as the date.

Included in the proposals are a new water well and new sewer lines, the latter to be located on St. David, St. Joseph, and Wall Streets and a part of Cannon Boulevard.

It was decided at last week's board meeting to work towards holding a bond election the first Monday in May, when the regular town elections are held.

St. Raphael's School Menu

The school lunchroom menu for the remainder of the week, at St. Raphael's School, has been announced as follows:

Wednesday — vegetable soup with crackers, peanut butter and jam sandwiches, Jello fruit salad, chocolate pudding, milk.

Thursday — barbecued beef, celery and carrot curls, buttered green cabbage, creamed potatoes, schoolmade roll, chilled apricots, milk.

Friday — lasagne, tole slaw, pickled beets, schoolmade roll, peach slices, milk.

RATIFY PROPOSAL

DOVER, Del. (AP)—Delaware Monday became the 21st state to ratify the proposed constitutional amendment to give Washington, D. C. residents the right to vote in presidential elections. Approval by 38 states is needed for the amendment to become effective.

Will Study Ways Of Naming School Boards

RALEIGH (AP)—A nine-member committee will be created to study the way in which local school boards are chosen in North Carolina, if the legislature approves.

Administration resolutions calling for the study were introduced in the House and Senate Monday night as the legislature received its biggest deluge of bills of the young session.

J. William Copeland, Gov. Sanford's legislative liaison, said criticism has been raised pro and con over the present method of selecting school boards.

Generally members of city and county school boards are nominated in primaries and elected by the General Assembly. Sometimes those elected by the lawmakers are not the ones nominated in the primaries.

Copeland said, "We feel it might be well to choose them in the same way over the state and we want to try to find the best way. We don't feel the schools should be made a political football."

Rep. John T. Henley of Cumberland sponsored the resolution in the House while Sen. Ralph Scott of Alamance sent up the resolution in the Senate. The study group would make its recommendations to the 1963 Legislature.

The Senate passed and sent to the house a bill to place the responsibility of licensing nursing homes solely with the State Board of Health. Under the present law, either the State Medical Care Commission or the State Board of Health can license such homes.

Pitt Is Assigned $593,400 Quota For Bond Sales

Pitt County has been assigned a quota of $593,400 in U.S. savings bonds sales for 1961, it was reported today. Sales for January 1961 totaled $45,964, or 7.7 percent of the year's quota.

Sales for January 1960, in comparison, totaled $73,928, in the E and H Bond series.

North Carolina's quota for 1961 is $51,800,000, which is an increase of $500,000 over last year's goal. During January, U.S. Savings Bonds sales in the state amounted to $4,771,810, which is 9.25 percent of this year's quota. Compared to January, 1960, sales were off approximately three percent, or $160,022.

Nipps Flames, Gets Citation

CHATTANOOGA (AP)—Ralph Nipp, an ROTC cadet major at Central High School, grabbed two fire extinguishers in the ROTC armory and controlled a fire in the school kitchen before firemen were able to reach the scene.

The 17-year-old was credited with preventing the flames from spreading, and his action earned him an ROTC citation and medal.

FLEXIBILITY!

The Daily Newspaper
Is the Flexible Medium for Pinning Down Sales

Newspapers don't tie up the advertiser with rigid time schedules or space limitations that weaken the impact and effectiveness of his message. Newspapers offer creative and physical flexibility. An advertiser can use a two-page spread to tell a detailed story or he can use a smaller space to say what he wants in fewer words, depending on his budget and his strategy. The physical flexibility of newspapers means ads can be scheduled quickly to take care of sudden selling opportunities. The daily newspaper is flexible enough to fit any advertising strategy.

Demo Leaders Think Kennedy Program Might Pass

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders report to President Kennedy today the prospects generally are good for passage of his legislative program.

Despite Republican opposition to some proposals, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana predicted Kennedy's measures will get speedy action in a Congress about ready to buckle down to work after relative inactivity during the new President's first month in office.

The Democratic leader called Senate committee chairmen to a meeting later in the day to map a program for "adequate and prompt consideration" of the Kennedy program by the Senate.

He noted that the Senate had passed on a voice vote Monday a bill to set up a United States travel service to attract foreign tourists to this country.

The bill would authorize the government to spend $5 million the first year on active travel promotion. The measure is aimed at reducing gold outflow. American tourists spent $1.2 billion more abroad last year than foreign tourists spent in the United States.

Congressional movement was developing on these major items:

1. Education—In the House, Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex.,

gave a go-ahead signal for a bill to education President sent to Congress.

Rayburn, who opposes federal assistance for payment of teachers' salaries, said he would not "resist" House consideration of a measure containing both this provision and federal aid for classroom construction.

Noting that the Kennedy program would turn over federal grants to states to use for salaries or construction as they see fit, Rayburn commented: "They have mellowed it a little."

House Education subcommittees planned simultaneous hearings, probably starting this week, on the school and college sections of the $5.7 billion dollar program.

The measure includes a $2.3-billion, three-year program of grants to the states for classroom building or raising teachers' salaries, a $57.5-million, five-year program of college scholarships, and long-range loan programs to provide $1.3 billion for college dormitory construction and $1.5 billion for building other college facilities.

Mansfield said the Senate will go right ahead with preliminary action on the education program.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said he hoped a Senate Labor subcommittee could start hearings next week on the proposal.

2. Emergency unemployment aid extension—The House Ways and Means Committee starts closed door sessions aimed at getting a bill in shape for house action late this week or early next.

A compromise on the financing reportedly smoothed the way for agreement on benefit extension up to 13 weeks.

In the Senate, Mansfield bowed to the views of Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., that the Finance Committee Byrd heads should wait until the House acts before it even holds hearings on the proposal.

3. Aid for depressed areas—Mansfield said he expects to bring a bill for the aid of depressed areas before the Senate next week.

Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., said a Banking subcommittee he heads will wind up hearings on the measure with testimony next Tuesday from Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

But Douglas said he couldn't predict when Chairman A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., who is unenthusiastic about the measure, would call for full committee action.

A spokesman for the corresponding House committee said hearings probably will start within a week.

The bill was introduced early in the Senate and a companion measure went into the House Monday. It would set up a $300-million revolving fund for loans to help communities expand or attract industry and additional millions for retraining of workers, construction of public utilities and planning.

4. Social Security—Also introduced Monday in the House was the administration bill to provide optional Social Security retirement for men at 62, higher minimum and widows' payments and easing of requirements for coming under the old age insurance and disability retirement provisions. The cost would be an additional 1/4 of 1 per cent tax on employer and employee.

Kennedy has asked these changes be put into effect by April 1. The Ways and Means Committee planned to consider the bill after finishing work on the unemployment measure.

5. Minimum wage increase—A House Labor subcommittee plans to complete hearings today on the administration proposal to increase the minimum by stages from the present $1 to $1.25 an hour and bring additional millions of employees under wage-hour coverage. Mansfield said he expects decisive action today by a Senate subcommittee on the same measure.

Of the legislative measures Kennedy recommended for high priority action, there has been least progress so far with housing and Social Security-supported health care for the aged.

Democratic strategists apparently intend to defer action on the medical care bill in hopes of winning over enough Ways and Means Committee members to avoid the fatal setback similar legislation met in that committee last year.

Administration recommendations for an over-all housing program still are being put together.

English Club Promotes Good Use Of Language

The English Club of East Carolina College is carrying on during the current school year a program of activities aimed to promote the cause of good English on the campus, to further interest in all good literature, and to afford a measure of better relations among the English majors and minors.

Twenty-nine students are now participating in the work of the organization, which is sponsored by the college department of English.

The Club has monthly meetings with various programs of interest to students of compositions and literature. Speakers include faculty members, visiting teachers in the field of English, townspersons, and students at the college.

Officers of the English Club for the present school year are: James Balance, Fremont, president; Cherry Futreal, Rocky Point, vice president; Jeannette New, Greenville, secretary-treasurer; and Sylvia Dawkins, Rockingham, publicity chairman.

Dr. Hermine Caraway, faculty member of the department of English at the college, serves as advisor of the group.

His Fondest Memory Is Of That Longest Beard

SHELBY N.C. (AP) — J. A. Brinkley counts a lot of memories for his 85 years but the fondest are of his Uncle Sam, the man who threw away his razor and grew the world's longest beard.

Brinkley, who celebrated his 85th birthday recently here, got out a batch of pictures of Uncle Sam and recalled the days the bearded wonder stayed at the Brinkley home in Asheville.

In his stocking feet, Sam Brinkley's beard reached the floor, five feet and five inches away. A bit of a problem, one might think, but the whiskers earned him thousands of dollars.

For years, Uncle Sam appeared in circuses and shows in three continents billed as the "Longest Bearded Man in the World."

Brinkley recalls his uncle carried his massive beard, which weighed several pounds, neatly rolled up in a bag tied to his waist.

"Uncle Sam was a particular about that beard as any woman is with her hair," Brinkley recalls. "He spent a pot of time brushing it and shampooing it — and he made a fortune out of it."

Here Thursday

The bloodmobile will be stationed here Thursday at the Moose Lodge from 12 noon until 6 p.m.

On Friday, it will move to the Ayden-Critton area, and will be stationed at the Ayden Community Building from 10 until 4 p.m. The quota for each day is 120 pints of blood, making a total of 240 pints.

Coltrane Favors Food Program

RALEIGH (AP) — Fuller participation in distributing federal surplus foods will supplement the state's welfare program, Director of Administration D. S. Coltrane said today.

He made the comment as he discussed the public welfare budget before the Joint Finance Committee.

Coltrane reported that 51 carloads of the surplus food are en route to North Carolina. The food will be stored in warehouses at Butler, Salisbury and Asheville, he said, where counties can pick it up.

The food includes flour, corn meal, rice, lard, dried milk, canned pork and gravy, butter, dried beans and peanut butter.

The state recently put up $60,000 in contingency and emergency funds to pay transportation costs of the surplus food to North Carolina. Coltrane pointed out that counties must pay for getting the food from the warehouse points.

Coltrane said eligibility requirements for receiving the food in North Carolina "are more liberal than any other southern state." A single person with income of less than $75 per month may get the food, he said.

N.C. Livestock Shows Big Drop From Year Ago

RALEIGH (AP) — Livestock on Tar Heel farms showed a big drop in January compared with the year before.

The Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said the number of hogs dropped from 1,520,000 in 1960 and explained that favorable prices during 1960 "encouraged the heaviest slaughter of hogs on record for the state."

The number of cattle on farms in January was estimated at 890,000, down 9,000. Milk cattle were down from 498,000 to 490,000 while beef cattle, 418,000, were off only 1,000. Sheep and lambs, estimated at 54,000, were down 1,000.

Meanwhile, the crop reporters said that commercial hatcheries produced more than 15 1/2 million chicks during January for a 2 1/2 per cent increase over the 12,319,000 produced in January of 1960.

The number of chickens on farms, not including commercial broilers, increased about 1 per cent while the number of turkeys increased sharply, from 116,000 to 157,000.

Gather Tonight

Cancer Society workers of eastern North Carolina will gather in Greenville tonight for a special training session.

National Director John D. Healy will be the featured speaker.

Registration of delegates is scheduled between 6:00-7:00 p.m. at the Greenville Moose Lodge, immediately followed by dinner given by the fraternal order. Healy's address is to begin at 8:00 p.m.

A number of local business and professional people have been invited.

No 'Hall Hall' At Miami Univ.

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Miami University of Ohio has named many of its buildings after former presidents of the school. For instance, it has an Upham Hall, a Benton Hall and a Hughes Hall.

But it's doubtful if the man who was president during the Civil War ever will be honored in such a manner. His name: John W. Hall.

Last Rites Set For Rev. J. L. Ross

Rev. J. L. Ross, 78, died at his home, 505 West Third Street, Tuesday morning at 10:45 following seven months of illness.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Wilkerson Chapel Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 by the Elder A. B. Ayers, Primitive Baptist Minister of Williamston. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

Rev. Joshua Lawrence Ross, was a native of the Stokes Community and came to Greenville in 1945. He was a farmer and a minister of the Primitive Baptist Church. He was a member of the Beulah, Primitive Baptist Church in Hyde County.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Sadie Whitehurst Ross; four sons: Julius, Dallas and James Ross, all of Greenville, and Oscar Ross of Farmville; three daughters: Mrs. Rufus Barrington of Grimesland, Miss Jessie Ross of the home, and Mrs. Carl Shanks of Assumption, Ill.; 15 grandchildren; and three great grandchildren.

MOON SUIT — Dr. John Lyman of the University of California at Los Angeles models the newest thing in suits for a moon explorer. The designer, Allyn B. Hazard, figures an astronaut wearing it could explore the moon surface for days without returning to his space ship. Hose attached at front would bring in heat, air and electricity for lights and instruments. Lyman holds a measuring stick which could be used for moon survey work. (AP Wire-photo)

Ribicoff Against 'Using' Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff says he believes it would be a great tragedy to use federal aid as a lever in the drive to end school segregation.

He says he endorses the 1954 ruling of the Supreme Court against segregation in public schools.

"I believe it has both a legal and a moral basis," Ribicoff told a news conference Monday.

But he said he would oppose any amendment that would deny federal aid to schools because they are segregated.

"I think no greater tragedy could occur in the United States than to put an education the solution of all our problems," Ribicoff said. "I hope we will move forward in the North, South, East and West on the basis of improving education for whites and Negroes alike."

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, has offered such amendments many times in the past. Powell says this time he will withhold his amendment because he thinks the executive branch will exert authority to withhold federal aid from segregated schools.

Round Up 60 In Revolution Plan

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Venezuelan authorities reportedly have rounded up 60 military men and civilians after nipping a miniature revolt against the government of President Romulo Betancourt.

The government announced only the arrest of Col. Jose Edilio Ramirez, accused of leading the abortive uprising, but reliable sources said others arrested included at least 30 civilians and a Roman Catholic priest.

The informants said the priest was the Rev. Simon Salvatierra and that it was he who announced over a local radio station that the armed forces had taken over power.

Police also routed about 150 youthful followers of leftist leader Juan Pablo Crespo who tried to join in a labor demonstration called in support of Betancourt's government.

Didn't Go Along With The Theory

CHATTANOOGA (AP) — A former substitute postman was sentenced to 60 days in federal prison and placed on two years' probation because he failed to go along with the theory that the mail must go through.

U. S. Dist. Judge Leslie Darr sentenced Samuel A. Yoder, 30, after a large quantity of third and fourth class mail was found in the trunk of his car. The mail had been given to him for delivery.

Suggests Senate Tunnel For Art

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Mo., popped up with a new idea Monday—converting the Senate subway tunnel into a tunnel of art.

Why not, he suggested in a resolution he introduced, give the states an opportunity to put works of art—scenes of beauty or of historic sites in the states—along the brightly lighted walls of the subway?

It could be known, he said, as the "Subway of States."

These works of art, Curtis told his colleagues, would attract additional tourists, beautify the tunnel and promote cultural interest among the senators themselves as they ride between the Capitol and their offices in a nearby office building.

Gibbs Reminds 'Display Plates'

Chief of Police S. G. Gibbs, today reminded Greenville motorists to secure and display a Greenville City license plate and prevent the inconvenience of receiving a citation from local officers for failure to display the tags.

According to Gibbs, the deadline for displaying city license plates was February 15, the same date as the North Carolina State license. Officers have been instructed to cite to court those who violate these laws, he noted.

City Clerk William Moore said 5,535 tags have been purchased so far this year, as compared to 4,673 during the same period last year.

A total of 6,295 plates were sold by the city last year, and sales this year are expected to be 6,700 to 6,800 tags.

Moore said the increase in sales this year is probably due in part to the increase in the number of automobiles in general and to the annexing of property by the City in particular.

Hear Pleas For Larger Outlays

RALEIGH (AP) — The Joint Appropriations Committee heard today the first of a long list of requests, almost all of which will ask increases in recommended spending for the next biennium. Today's requests totaled more than $1.5 billion.

Hearings were State Auditor Henry Bridges and spokesmen for the State Library, the State Department of Archives and History and its connected agency, Tryon Palace, and the State Art Society.

Total spending recommended for these agencies for fiscal 1961-62 is a little over $3 million. The agencies asked that spending be increased by $1,593,833.

Largest requests were made by Mrs. Elizabeth H. Hughey, state librarian. She asked an increase of $101,499 for the State Library, compared to the $239,629 recommended, and $1,385,310 more for state aid to public libraries, compared with $928,186 recommended.

Auditor Bridges, whose department was put down for $494,697, asked for $19,612 more.

J. A. Kellenberger, treasurer of the Tryon Palace Commission, asked that the $149,178 budget be increased by $20,000 for salary and expenses of a curator.

'Miracle Of The Soul' Topic For Sermon Tonight

"The Miracle of the Soul" is the sermon topic of Rev. Bradshaw's message to be given tonight during the Spiritual Enrichment Service beginning at 7:30 p.m. at Saint James Methodist Church.

Services each day this week through Friday evening at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. There has been good response to these services by the members and friends of St. James Methodist Church. A nursery is maintained for the morning worship service.

The men of the church will bring the message in music tonight. They will sing two familiar hymns, "Blessed Assurance" and "My Hope Is Built On Nothing Less."

The following young men from the Senior Sunday School Class will serve as ushers: Roy Eugene Carawan, James Jay Jenkins, Calois Phillip Sheppard, Thomas Jehu Taff, and Kenneth A. Wilson Jr.

Rev. Carlton F. Hirsch, pastor, is presiding over all services of worship.

Sixteen Bills Are Given Legislature

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Legislation to carry out recommendations of the Judicial Council or General Statutes Commission for changes in present state laws was introduced in the General Assembly Monday night.

In all, 16 bills were offered in the House and Senate calling for the changes. The measures were sent up in the Senate by Sen. James Keller of Rowan and in the House by Reps. Ike Andrews of Chatham and David Britt of Robeson.

Under one Senate bill, larceny and receiving would be made a felony if the amount stolen was $200 or more. Present law makes it a felony if $100 or more is taken. Other measures would provide that:

Proof of possession of recently stolen goods would be partial evidence that the person possessing the stolen goods is guilty of receiving stolen property.

In criminal cases, the state would have the same number of peremptory challenges as the defendant.

Motions made to a judge who disqualifies himself could be referred to the judge holding regular court in an adjoining district.

The state's intestacy laws, which deal with persons who die without a will, would be amended.

News 'Blackout' In Crash Probe

BRUSSELS (AP) — A strict news blackout has been imposed by the U.S.-Belgian team investigating the Feb. 15 crash of a Sabena Belgian Airlines jet which cost 73 lives. The dead included the 18 members of a U.S. figure skating team.

Official quarters declined to release any information on the progress of the inquiry, saying it is too soon to disclose findings.

Hundreds of pieces of debris from the crash scene north of Brussels are being labeled and stored in a hangar at the Melsbroeck military airfield.

Airport sources said the investigators are trying to reconstruct the plane, which crashed on a flight from New York, but results of their findings are not likely to be published for at least six months.

All objects found—including the plane's log and a flight recorder—have been seized for the official inquiry.

The French daily L'Aurore suggested that the accident might have been caused by a passenger running amuck with a submachine gun.

"This is highly unlikely, and belongs more to the style of a novel than to present-day conditions of international travel with severe luggage checks by customs," an airport official commented.

NAMED — Arturo Morales Carrión, 47-year-old Puerto Rican, was chosen by President Kennedy to be Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Latin American Affairs.

Officers Chosen By Saddle Club

Charles E. Steinhilber, Jr. was recently re-elected president of the Greenville Saddle Club.

Other officers re-elected include: Frank Craft, vice president; Susan Willis, secretary; Jonathan Overton, treasurer.

The club also created new offices of assistant secretary, second assistant secretary, public relations officer and Horse Show circuit liaison representative.

Elected to these offices were: Brooke Stewart, assistant secretary and public relations officer; Dale Steinhilber, second assistant secretary; Regan Jones, Horse Show circuit liaison representative.

Jones was appointed Greenville representative to a committee from Eastern North Carolina which will meet tomorrow in Kinston. This committee will discuss plans for formation of an Eastern circuit and decide dates for the local shows.

College Editor Shares Honors In Writing Award

Thomas P. Jackson, East Carolina College senior and editor of the school's newspaper — "East Carolinian" — has won a share of second place in national editorial-writing competition on the college level. It was announced Monday.

Jackson, a native of Godwin in Sampson County, tied for second and third places with Edward Lucas, editor of the student newspaper at New Mexico State University.

The ECC senior was included in publications and student journals from 14 colleges and universities throughout the U. S. who were awarded prizes by Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty Company, sponsor of the annual competition.

Eighty-nine colleges and universities from 35 states submitted 253 entries in the contest that originated in 1948.

Jackson's prize carried a cash award of $37.50; the announcement said.

File No Charges In 2-Car Crash

No charges were placed by investigating officers in the collision of two cars on East Fifth St. near Five Points yesterday at 3:05 p.m.

Police listed drivers of the two vehicles as Charles Stuart Ward, 21, Route 1, Bethel, and Wayland Gene Hunter, 18, of Route 1, Hartford.

Damage to the Ward vehicle was placed at $35 while damage to the Hunter car was set at $40. No injuries were reported.
