Club Tours Art Dept. Of E.C.C.

Members of the Thetis Book Club were feted with a luncheon at the home of the hostess, Mrs. Trevillion Lyons, on East Wright Road at their regular meeting Tuesday.

The luncheon tables were decorated with arrangements of spring flowers. After a two course lunch the president, Mrs. Marshall Whitehurst, conducted a short business meeting. Mrs. F. A. Jordan Jr., a charter member of the club, who is leaving Greenville to make her home in Edenton, was remembered with a silver gift from the club members.

Following the distribution of books, the group then continued their program at East Carolina College, with a conducted tour of the Art Department in the Rawl Building. Preceding the tour, Dr. Wellington Gray, director of the Art Department, gave a short history and pertinent facts about the phenomenal growth of the department. Miss Kate Lewis was the first and only art instructor at the college from 1909 until the mid-forties. The Kate Lewis Gallery on the third floor of the Rawl Building is named in her honor.

East Carolina was authorized in 1946 to confer a degree in art, with the first graduate in 1949. In 1960, fourteen teachers were graduated from the Art Department. Professors and instructors have grown from one to nine full-time teachers.

The college, next year, will graduate 135 majors in art, which includes the B.S., A. B., M. A., and M. A. in Education. In comparison with some larger colleges, East Carolina this year will surpass Woman's College and triple the University of North Carolina in the number of art graduates.

The East Carolina sculpture studio is the only place in North Carolina where life-size sculpturing is done. The ceramics studio is the largest south of Washington, D. C., excepting the Florida State University.

Dr. Gray said that all classrooms are now in use and the department is hopeful that the current session of the Legislature will allocate additional funds for further studio space, especially for the sculpture classes.

The speaker concluded his remarks by urging the group to consider the great need for a better and wider scope in our educational system.

Student guides conducted the group through the ceramics, graphic arts, commercial art, and stillife painting classes.

'Suede' Shoes Like Suds

Among the happiest developments in footwear are those dressy and tailored shoes that resemble velvety suede—but can actually be washed.

They're made of a nylon fabric (called Ison) which can be surface-scrubbed with a soft brush and thick soap or detergent suds, then rinsed with a damp cloth and allowed to dry.

A summer cottage should be "washed up" and left clean when closed for winter.

'Rain Suit'

New vistas of fashion for rainy days have been opened up by recent developments in the fabric world. Washable, lightweight, and airy fabrics are being used for such avant garde rainwear as a "rain suit" which combines ample protection with ultra-chic.

The straight skirt, cape jacket, and visored hood—in sand beige pipped in brown—constitute the ensemble which is equally suitable for wear in bright sunshine.

Look for many such newsy rain separates this spring—as a welcome change from a shapeless, baggy raincoat. The washability of these new fashions, of course, makes them one of the most practical ideas in ages.

Clean Hair Helps To Hide Baldness

If your crowning glory is thinning, provide some camouflage by shampooing your hair every other day. This hint comes from the voice of experience—a TV personality who shampoos that often so he won't have to pencil his balding scalp.

This technique makes sense. Dirty hair mats on the scalp, quickly revealing sparse areas. Clean hair—which is fluffy and "alive"—gives the illusion of a more luxurious growth.

Reorganization Of The C & D Board

Gov. Sanford's proposal to reorganize the Board of Conservation and Development from within rather than creating one or more new state agencies is a sound approach to the problems which face the C & D and the state.

Because of the diverse activities carried on by the Department of Conservation and Development in many fields, consideration has been given to separating some of the activities now handled by the department and creating other agencies to look after them.

In his proposal to enlarge the C & D board, Gov. Sanford has chosen to retain the one large agency, but to alter its structure to give greater emphasis to some of the programs. Under the governor's proposal, membership of the Board of Conservation and Development would be increased from the present 18 members to 28 members. At the same time board members would serve only on a single committee for the department rather than on several committees as is now the case. This reorganization will place in the hands of a number of small committees responsibility for various phases of the C & D program, while the board as a whole will retain the authority to coordinate the work of its individual committees. It will mean, we believe, more concentrated attention on all of the activities of the C & D department which will result in a better balance of emphasis and better development of the state on the broadest possible basis.

As the board is now constituted, members serve on a number of committees, with more than half the membership on the committee on commerce and industry. These factors in the past have given rise to the suggestion that too little attention may have been given to facets of the state's development in the overall economic outlook.

The C & D board's organization as proposed by Gov. Sanford offers many advantages over the earlier proposals to split the department into several agencies, each with specific areas of responsibility. The present proposal likewise would bring about a considerable improvement over the manner in which the board has found it necessary to operate in the past.

As one of the most important state agencies in the future progress of North Carolina, the C & D board should be reorganized along the lines Gov. Sanford proposes. The work of the board would be much more effective in many areas of activity under the new proposal, and the state as a whole would receive greater benefit from the efforts of the department.

Demo Party In N. C. Perks Up

By LYNN NISBET

PERKING UP—The Democratic party in North Carolina is showing more evidence of life and activity than it has for several decades during non-election years. First step in the upgrading program initiated by State Chairman Bert Bennett was employment of an almost full time executive secretary. Dr. Wallace Hyde has performed some other services for the Governor's office and State agencies, but has given most of his time in recent months to strengthening the Democratic organization.

Announcement has just been made that the State committee will publish "occasionally" a news magazine for the purpose of keeping party officials and workers alerted to developments and plans. Ultimately it is expected to have regular monthly editions of the periodical.

Plans for the annual Jefferson-Jackson money-raising dinner contemplate much greater attendance than ever before. The affair will probably be moved from the Sir Walter Hotel to the Fairgrounds Arena in order to accommodate the anticipated 1,000 to 1,200 guests. Some party workers question the wisdom of changing the place, because there is a social attraction at the hotel dining room which cannot be matched at the fairgrounds. The top strategists, however, regard the J-J dinner as a practical political rather than social occasion, and the more people they can get to buy tickets and to hear "Mr. Sam" Rayburn, who will make the principal address, the better they will like it.

Y.D.C.—There is closer liaison than for some years past between the regular party organization and the Young Democratic Clubs. The state UDC joins in sponsorship of the proposed news-magazine. The young folks staged a successful "educational rally" here the other night at which Admiral Rickover made the principal speech. The affair is rated as being very helpful to Governor Sanford's legislative program.

The Young Democratic Clubs also have scheduled rallies to be held throughout the state this spring, comparable to the kind usually reserved for the late summer and fall of election years.

ORGANIZATION—Perhaps the most significant step taken by Chairman Bennett was appointment of a special committee to revise the party plan for organization, and put some teeth in the procedure for disciplinary action against Democratic party officials who step out of bounds in election years.

The Plan of Organization has been many times amended since its original adoption in 1918, but has never been rewritten or adequately codified. Some material amendments were made in 1922, 1946 and 1952, and more significant changes made in 1958.

1958. The latest revision for the first time reorganized affiliation of the Democratic party in North Carolina with the National Democratic party.

The committee named by Chairman Bennett to rewrite the plan is headed by Thad Eure, veteran Secretary of State, and includes in its membership Attorney General Wade Brulow (who was chairman of the 1958 revision committee), Judge L.J. Phipps of Chapel Hill (Orange county chairman), John Warren of Charlotte (Mecklenburg chairman), R.E. (Fleet) Williams of Raleigh, retired editor of the News and Observer; Mrs. O. Max Gardner Jr., of Shelby, and Mrs. Leonard Lloyd of Robinsville.

THOROUGH—Chairman Eure has indicated that any changes in the present plan will be made only after thorough study and consideration. He has written every county chairman for suggestions and all these ideas will be analyzed and considered by his committee.

North Carolina is one of very few states with a written workable plan of organization for the Democratic party. It has been recognized in this respect by the national chairman and committee for many years. There have been times when the national folks did not approve some of the provisions in the North Carolina plan, but even then it was accorded recognition because it placed control in party membership rather than in one man "boss" as was the case in some states.

Chairman Eure and other members of his committee give assurance that the plan which they will propose will retain control of party policy in the rank and file of Democratic voters, rather than in one man or small clique.

REPUBLICANS—However much the Democrats may boast about their alertness to the need for revision of their party organization, the conclusion is inescapable that the Republicans deserve most of the credit for any modernization of Democratic policies. When the 1960 election showed the smallest majority for a Democratic Governor in half a century, and increased legislative membership of the minority party from five in 1959 to 17 in the 1961 session, the Democrats realized they'd better get busy.

Furthermore, the Republicans are not sitting in the shade and resting on their 1960 victories. Under the dynamic leadership of youthful State Chairman Bill Cobb and Rep. Bill Osteen in the General Assembly the Republican party is challenging the long time dominance of Democrats in both State and local governments. Result is that North Carolina, which has been accustomed to relatively mild partisan politics for three or four months every two years, is facing an era of full time political activity.

Highway 13 Extension Is Worthy Of Support

Extension of U. S. Highway 13 beyond its present southern terminus at Goldsboro is a worthy undertaking which should be supported by all the communities of Eastern Carolina through which the highway now is designated.

Pitt County's Development Commission this week gave its endorsement to extension of the highway all the way to the South Carolina line. Other groups in cities and counties now on highway 13 are being asked for similar endorsements. What the current events amount to is a big push to have U. S. 13 designated all the way through North Carolina from the Virginia line on the north to the South Carolina line on the south.

A similar "push" several years ago succeeded in securing the designation of the federal highway from Windsor as far south as Goldsboro, but there the designation ended. If the current effort can succeed in designating "13" south of Goldsboro to the South Carolina line, it will represent another big step in bringing to reality the dream of another major north-south route through Eastern North Carolina.

As the length of U. S. 13 has increased in recent years, there has been a corresponding increase in the amount of traffic over the route. The farther south the designation is pushed, the greater attractiveness the highway will have for both tourist and commercial traffic moving from New Jersey southward and vice versa.

Highways U.S. 1, U.S. 301 and U.S. 17, as major north-south routes, all have proved important assets to the economic development of the areas through which they traverse Eastern North Carolina. The development of U.S. 13 as a similar major traffic artery leading through Eastern Carolina also offers important potential which every effort should be made to develop.

Answers Losing Earlier Touch

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is undergoing changes, and not for the better, in his news conferences.

1. His answers are losing precision, are beginning to wander, getting needlessly complicated. This was typical of the way President Eisenhower answered for eight years.

2. Kennedy's sentences are suffering from the wandering. The more involved he gets, the more he leaves sentences dangling. So did Eisenhower.

Kennedy's first meeting with the press last January after taking office was a classic: Sharp and tidy. It was televised live and was impressive.

His seventh conference Wednesday would have had less impact if it, too, had been seen live on TV. Perhaps because it wasn't, Kennedy felt free to be more relaxed.

After Wednesday's conference this writer read each question and answer in the transcript carefully.

The impression was that Kennedy a number of times had ducked direct answers.

In order to decide whether the impression was correct, this writer then summarized on paper each question and its answer.

The initial impression was then shown to be wrong. In most cases Kennedy either gave direct answers or answers which he appeared to consider as direct as he could make them when considered against the problem involved.

For example, when asked what he thought about federal loans—

if not outright aid—to parochial schools, Kennedy made two points clear:

He wants federal aid to public schools passed first and the question of loans to private schools considered later since such loans, in his view, may be unconstitutional.

This was typical of the way President Eisenhower answered for eight years.

Everything Is Dietetic

Someone has defined a "beat" as a news story with rhythm. In that case, we are today dancing to the tune of a column via my antiquated typewriter, with rhythm.

The modern world has produced many wonders, and a few surprises.

Among the surprises, we noticed in a favorite drugstore the other day a box of chocolates—dietetic variety; a box of cough drops—dietetic variety; a box of cookies—dietetic variety; and numerous other little things, all dietetic variety.

The most amazing thing was the dietetic cough drops. Wonder how many calories are in an un-dietetic cough drop compared to a dietetic cough drop and what physician would recommend the dietetic cough drops for one on a diet.

Since science has produced such wonders in the drug store now—we were already accustomed to the cokes, syrups, salad dressings, etc. in the grocery store—we wish they could go one step further and grow dietetic Irish potatoes which would taste as good as the real ones do, delicious German chocolate dietetic cakes and French onion dip that is dietetic.

With all that stuff floating around, one wonders why there are some fat people left.

A friend has a story about some other "stuff" floating around, but it wasn't food.

It concerns more of the modern day conveniences, such as shaving lotion which flows quite freely from the can after you mash a little button.

This friend had gone into the service with the customary foot locker and all his belongings, including said can of shaving lotion which flows freely when the button is pushed.

After he got to where he was going, he unpacked some things and put the can of shaving lotion back into the foot locker.

It is interesting to point out here that some pressure other than that of a finger or hand would serve the same purpose in getting the shaving lotion to flow freely from the can. In this case, it was the lid of the foot locker, which, acting as the hand, pretty well emptied the can of the shaving lotion.

With the end result that the young Americans are working. The volunteers will live as the natives live, eat the food the natives eat, wear the clothes the natives wear. They will become a part of the community in which they are working.

President Kennedy gave these broad details in announcing the Corps hoped to have 500 to 1,000 Peace volunteers on the field this year. Congress will have responsibility for a system to continue the Corps.

Sought primarily as Peace Volunteers are young people with special training and interests in teaching, in agriculture and in health.

We would have to admit that the plan sounds idealistic, maybe overly idealistic, but if it can be maintained as pictured each of the volunteers will be a missionary for democracy and brotherhood. Here might be a way to recreate the foreign image from the ugly American to the serving American.

There will be a rush of young people to volunteer as Peace Workers. Of greatest importance will be picking those with sufficient hardiness of body and mind, those able to adjust to low-level living.

next time the friend opened the foot locker, he was greeted with bubbles of shaving lotion. We didn't ask how long it took to clean up the mess.

You know, they also make tooth paste in the same type container. That was a wonderful invention in our home a few years back, until brother's shaving lotion container and the tooth paste container, both very much alike in looks and exactly alike in the push-button method, got mixed up. We don't know what it feels like to shave with tooth paste, but we can give some first-hand pointers on brushing the teeth with shaving lotion.

Ah, these wonderful modern day conveniences.

No wonder someone invented the term "conversation piece."

Strength For Today

THAT MYSTERIOUS WAY

A distinguished scientist recently wrote as follows: "Because I have for many years been in the environment of the physical sciences, I have seen first-hand the rapid unfolding results of research and engineering. This unfolding, this understanding, and this application of science has been greater during the past century than for all the centuries which have gone before. We might well ask—why did all this take place in so short a time relatively?—Why is this ours to deal with in so short a time?—Why are we being provided with the means powerful enough to destroy life on this earth, yet which might prove the basis if so used, to vastly enrich our physical life and material life?"

"Under these circumstances I can be at peace with myself only by realizing that we are experiencing the unfolding of a determined step in God's plan, measured not on our calendar of time but on His. As Christians, we need to note that the spirit of God moves not in a frenzied hurry but with deliberate calmness. We need to consider when, in our impatience, we set out to take control and to get all things aright, that this was not the primary charge of our Lord and Master. The command was simply that we should witness to Him."

"God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform."

Other Editors Saying Challenge To Youth

(Goldsboro News-Argus)

President Kennedy's "Peace Corps" for the young people of the United States is no impractical dream.

It could have been just that. It could have evolved into another giant government spending project where the people intended to be helped got a relatively small percent of the services or facilities.

The "Peace Corps" could have been a juicy plum pie for paying off political debts, for making and financing adventurous sojourns in "far away places" and living in American luxury in lands of poverty. Had that turn been taken the Corps would have worsened attitudes of have-not peoples to rich and unfeeling America.

But protections against such a happening are there. Young Americans will "volunteer" for the Corps. Yet they will get no special favors such as draft deferment.

They will not be paid a salary. They will receive a subsistence allotment. The subsistence allotment will not be what Americans mean when they say "subsistence" but it will be the subsistence of the peoples with some other group.

In this instance, it is to be taken from the consumer group and given to the farm group. The farmers will get that $2 billion partly from "nominal" increases in prices of dairy products, rice and peanuts, and partly from taxes. And in the final analysis, consumers eventually pay practically all the taxes.

So the only magic in Mr. Freeman's proposal is the extent to which it fools the public into believing that the government can give the farmers $2 billion without taking it away from you and you.

HOW TO GET 69 CENTS A POUND FOR 3-CENTS-A-POUND SUET

A machine to convert beef, veal and lamb trimmings into patties selling from 55 to 69 cents is advertised in the February issue of the NARGUS Bulletin, the magazine of the National Association of Retail Grocers of United States.

The ad says that 12.5 to 13 percent of choice cattle is suet. And the machine, it adds, "helps you merchandise a great part of this suet at from 55 cents to 69 cents a pound instead of the 3 cents a pound you get from the renderer."

It continues: "You may be using most of your trimmings for bulk ground beef. But with a _____ you take your trimmings and part of your suet, combine them with other slow-moving cuts and convert them into fast-selling, profit-making UATTIES. Increase your sales and profits on veal by converting necks, shanks, flanks and breasts into Veal Patties, Veal Choppies and Mock Chicken Legs. Merchandisers who buy straight lamb and then convert the trimmings, are the ones who are increasing their tonnage, sales and profits."

Fate Had No Part

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
Copyright, 1961, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

One of the words that has become a stumbling block to logical thinking is "inevitable." What is inevitable and why? Was it inevitable that the United States should prefer Fidel Castro as a Communist dictator to Batista as a pro-American dictator? Were the Government of the United States ignorant as to the activities and associations of Castro, it might be said that it was inevitable that the State Department and the CIA should have fallen in love with his whiskers. But we now know that three American Ambassadors, Arthur Gardner, Robert Hill and Earl E. T. Smith, had warned their government concerning this man. We also know that a former American Ambassador, William D. Pawley, also made a study of Castro and warned against him. Pawley, however, acted on his own.

Therefore, it is not inevitable that the Government of the United States should have been badly informed or that its evaluation of data should turn out, in this instance, as concerning China, Indonesia, French Indo-China, and other countries, to have been so wrong. Nor can it be said that we are not structurally arranged to discover the facts. The country's intelligence instruments are fully organized and perhaps even over-organized and we are spending billions of dollars annually to get our information and to influence other countries. Is it inevitable that we should fall because we do not understand other peoples?

Why should we not understand them? Perhaps it is because we assume that all peoples are fundamentally the same and that therefore given the same environmental conditions, the same impulses and compulsions, they will expand in an identical way. Nothing could be more ridiculous. Too many centuries have gone into the development of human differences. To believe that the emotionless and intellectless Bantu are the same as the responses of a Britisher is a negation of the meaning of culture and civilization. It has taken centuries for the human being to learn how to use a knife and fork and in much of the world there are those who still use their fingers or teeth to tear their meat or to roll their kukuz.

The advance of man from cannibalism, for instance, has not been universally timed. Cannibalism exists contemporaneously and I knew two distinguished generals, originally Miaos in Kuangsi, who, in their earlier years, followed the tribal custom of drinking the blood of an enemy to gain strength. This habit, also known to the Vikings and continued with pigs' blood in the sausage known as blutwurst, sold in delicatessen stores today, may be used as a yardstick to measure the vast differences in the human responses to good and evil.

Those who believe that we must "accommodate"—another sticky word—ourselves to the facts of life, such as, for instance, the continued existence of Red China and that it is "inevitable" that we should recognize Red China and provide a seat for its delegate to the Security Council, cynically regard all forms and stages of human culture as identical in essentials.

They ask why a small group of intellectuals can govern so numerous a people as the Chinese without permitting them to vote. But then the Chinese have never voted in their long history. They are accustomed to being conquered, their history being a rhythm of being conquered by outsiders since early times. The most recent conqueror was the Manchus, were defeated by a complex of forces after they had degenerated into licentious grafters who were controlled by Chinese who ultimately set them aside. I knew the last of the Manchu emperors who went by the name of Henry Pu-yi. He ultimately became a ward of the Japanese during their effort to conquer China. He was a nice, young fellow when I knew him but utterly without any capacity either to rule or to govern.

Although it was the intent of Dr. Sun Yat-sen who established the Republic of China to make it democratic and to be governed by a constitution, something like that of the United States, actually Yuan Shih-kai seized

Magic In Economics Discovery

By ELMER ROESSNER

A magic kind of economics appears to have been discovered by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman. He announced increases in price supports for dairy products, rice and peanuts which may increase farm income by $2 billion a year yet have "extremely nominal" increases on consumer prices.

Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary defines "nominal": "Existing in name only; not real or actual; hence so small, slight or the like, as to be hardly worth the name."

Peachy, eh? Then why not arrange $4 billion or $40 billion increases for farmers? Two or 20 times nominal should still be nominal.

What Mr. Freeman did not stress is the fact that no government and no magic can give $2 billion or any sum to any group without taking it away from some other group.

In this instance, it is to be taken from the consumer group and given to the farm group. The farmers will get that $2 billion partly from "nominal" increases in prices of dairy products, rice and peanuts, and partly from taxes. And in the final analysis, consumers eventually pay practically all the taxes.

So the only magic in Mr. Freeman's proposal is the extent to which it fools the public into believing that the government can give the farmers $2 billion without taking it away from you and you.

IF THE SHOE FITS OTHER FOOT, WEAR IT!
Staff employees of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union have formed a union of their own, the Federation of Union Representatives.

This prompted the I.L.G.W.U. to issue a statement saying: "It is our considered view that a union-within-a-union inevitably must evolve into a factional caucus directed at control and determination of union policy for its own special and private interests."

This seems to be helpful to union-harassed employers, who may now state: "It is our considered view that a union within a plant must inevitably evolve into a factional caucus directed at control and determination of plant policy for its own special and private interests."

Church Dedicating Buildings Sunday

Highlighting dedication ceremonies of the Hooker Memorial Christian Church this weekend will be an address Sunday by Dr. Riley E. Montgomery, president of The College of the Bible, and private services for members on Saturday.

Two church buildings are being dedicated, one, a fellowship hall which will be used for worship and other activities, and the other, an education building containing 13 classrooms. Rev. H. Thomas Money is pastor of the church.

Hooker Memorial Christian Church was organized in October of 1957 when 45 members of Eighth Street Church signed its charter, during a morning worship service. Today the church has 170 members.

It was decided to assume the name "Hooker Memorial" for the new church, in recognition of contributions and faithful service of the Hooker family over a period of two generations. A temporary place of worship was established at Elmhurst Elementary School, while members began a building drive, which was started in the spring of 1959.

A site had been obtained earlier, located in a residential development in east Greenville on the 264 Highway by-pass.

Members of the church will gather at 7:30 Saturday evening for private services of communion and thanksgiving, in observance of the dedication.

Dr. Montgomery, president of The College of the Bible in Lexington, Ky., since 1949, will speak at morning worship services at the new church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and again at the afternoon dedication ceremonies at 3:30.

Before becoming the seminary's president, Dr. Montgomery spent 15 years in the administration of the Lynchburg College, including 13 years as its president and two years as associate president. He

Herbert W. Lee Talks To Ruritan

WINTERVILLE — Herbert W. Lee, executive vice president of the Home Savings and Loan Association, Greenville, was guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Winterville Ruritan Club Tuesday night.

Lee recalled the early beginnings of the savings and loan business, and stated his firm, founded in 1906, makes loans all over Pitt County.

The speaker pointed out that it is necessary for a prospective borrower to have about 30 per cent of the price of his house and lot before applying for a loan. Lee indicated his confidence in Winterville as a suburban residential area by stating that his company had made several loans here.

R. E. Boyd, member of the program committee presented the speaker. The meeting was presided over by Rev. Henry Melvin, president. Vernon White was named chairman of a special committee to raise funds to install a heating and air conditioning plant in the Community Center.

On Monday at 7:30 the Woman's Auxiliary will meet with Mrs. Mildred Savage.

Wake Forest Meets St. Bonaventure In Charlotte

Princeton, St. Joe Play In Opener

Third-Ranked Bonnies Are Slight Favorite

CHARLOTTE, N.C.—ST. BONAVENTURE and Wake Forest, two basketball teams with a mission, meet here tonight in the headliner of the NCAA Eastern Regional Tournament semifinals.

Princeton and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia open the firing at 7:30. The winners advance to a 9:00 game Saturday with a berth in next week's four-team national finals at Kansas City. The losers play a third place consolation game.

ST. BONAVENTURE, boasting a 23-3 record and All-American Tom Smith, ranks third nationally. The Bonnies from Olean, N.Y., passed up a chance to play in the NIT in New York in hopes to get another shot at defending NCAA champion Ohio State.

WAKE FOREST sparked by Pennsylvania and New Jersey talent set on a vindication campaign after hitting rock-bottom last month in successive losses to Villanova and NYU.

Since then Wake Forest has played four games, won them all including the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament and have averaged 100 points per game.

The Deacons flogged favored St. John's in opening NCAA play three nights ago in New York to bring its record to 18-10.

WAKE FOREST relies on big Len Chappell plus sharp-shooting guards Billy Parker, Alley Hart and Dave Wiedeman.

McKINNEY, a sophomore turned in a superb job while the Deacs licked St. John's 97-74 Tuesday night. Hart, the Kingston senior, pumped in 28 and kept the Deacs in contention throughout the first half.

FORD scored 34 points to pace St. Bonnie to a come-from-behind 86-76 win over Yankee Conference champion Rhode Island.

Stith, the team's top scorer, had 29 points in the victory over Rhode Island.

Bob McCully, at 6-9, is the Bonnie's big rebounder. Backcourt starters are Whitey Martin and Orrie Jirele, both good shooters.

Purple-Gold Game Ends Winter Work

Dan Rouse and Cary Parker will quarterback the Purple and Gold teams, respectively, here tomorrow when East Carolina concludes winter football drills.

Rouse, the talented southpaw, will team up with lettermen Bob Bumgardner, Clayton Piland, and Nick Hilgert on the Purple squad.

Parker, a sophomore, will direct the Gold attack which will include veterans Jones Lockerman, Vernon Davis, Earl Sweet, Charles Gordon, Bill Strickland, and Tommy Matthews.

Coach Jack Boone has indicated "more passing" will be used in the Bucs' attack for next fall and Parker and Rouse will be expected to sample their ends tomorrow afternoon.

According to Boone, the end situation has picked up with Richard Honeycutt, Bill Pickering, Bob Muldrov and John Anderson showing improvement—especially at pass receiving.

Halfbacks and guards are the chief concerns of the Buc staff. Only Tommy Matthews has any halfback experience but Richard Jackson, Frank Galloway, Pete Thorell, Bill Torrence and Richard Stevens have been coming along fast and could easily fill the bill.

Earl Sweet, injured most of the 1960 season, is the only returning guard with any experience. Depth is a definite problem here, according to Boone.

Boone has been pleased with the development and spirit in winter drills. "We have a young squad and can expect a lot of mistakes but I think we will have the same type of aggressive ball club as last year," he explained.

Tomorrow's game will start at 2:00 in College Stadium.

PRINCETON HAS an 18-6 record and reached the playoffs here with an easy victory over George Washington Tuesday in New York.

The Tigers are short but are scrappy and have good speed and outstanding shooters.

St. Joseph's got a bye into the playoffs here. Coach Jack Ramsey's club posted a 22-4 regular season record, including a 72-70 win over Wake Forest.

BIG STICKER—Gary Pierce, a senior, is one of the returning outfielders from East Carolina's 1960 North State Conference championship club.

Pitching Holds Key To East Carolina Baseball

By JOHNNY HUDSON
Reflector Sports Editor

Development of young pitchers will hold the key to East Carolina College's quest for a third consecutive North State baseball title.

Or at least that's the presumption of Coach Jim Mallory who is anxiously awaiting the opening of a new season.

Larry Crayton, a big winner in each of the past two seasons, steers a pitching staff filled with potential but short on experience.

The stocky southpaw has been Mallory's right-hand man enroute to a couple of league titles. A junior Clayton, according to Mallory, is "40% better at this stage of the season, in better physical condition, and is throwing harder than ever."

Johnny Ellen, the number two man in ECC's one-two pitching punch last season, signed a pro contract last summer as did Kenny Snyder, another Buc hurler. The loss of these two left the pitching corps in foul shape. Nathan Green, a fire-balling righthander, has some experience and is expected to take a regular turn in the pitching rotation.

Impressive in early drills has been hard-slinging Lacy West. The 6-4 sophomore, who is also a basketball starter, is currently near the top of untested pitching prospects.

Others figured in Mallory's plans are Billy Dunn of Greenville and Earl Boykin.

Taking a glance at the rough 24-game slate ahead, which includes a make-or-break road schedule, Mallory predicts it will take a solid four-man pitching staff to win the title.

The infield appearance will differ very little from the 1960 one. Back for regular duty are Jimmy Martin at first base, Spencer Gaylor at second, and Glenn Bass at shortstop.

Wilber Castellow, regular third-sacker, has decided against playing this spring and a couple of freshmen, Byrd Harris and Floyd Wicker, are battling for the job.

Burl Morris and Charlie Johnson are veteran backstoppers. The two alternated starting last spring, the latter getting a slight edge.

Jerry Carpenter is the only outfielder missing although Wally Cockrell has been bothered with a shoulder injury and has been slower rebounding into shape.

Gary Pierce, rapping the ball like in 1959 when he won the conference batting title, is the other returning outfield starter.

Ohio State Opens Defense On NCAA Basketball Title

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State's mighty Buckeyes, aiming to become the first collegiate basketball team to go through an entire season unbeaten since North Carolina in 1957, open defense of their national title in the NCAA tourney tonight.

"This is like the start of a new season," said Coach Fred Taylor as his top-ranked Buckeyes sought their 30th straight victory against Louisville in a Mid-East regional game at Louisville, Ky. The Bucks' streak includes 24 straight this season plus a carryover of five from a year ago.

The game is one of eight second round games nationally that will be played at Louisville, Charlotte, Lawrence, Kan. and Portland, Ore.

Sharing the limelight with Ohio State is second-ranked Cincinnati and fourth-ranked Kansas State. Cincinnati meets Texas Tech and K-State takes on Houston. Both games are at Lawrence.

Third-ranked St. Bonaventure battles Wake Forest at Charlotte and Southern California, seventh-ranked in the final Associated Press poll of the season, tangles with Arizona State Univ. at Portland.

Tonight's winners will meet in the regional finals Saturday night to determine the four teams that will go to Kansas City for the semifinals a week from tonight.

Ohio State, Cincinnati, St. Bonaventure and Southern Cal are favored to reach the round of four.

There is no play tonight in the NIT, but there will be plenty of action in the small college post-season affairs.

The semifinals in the NCAA small college and the NAIA tournaments are on tap at Evansville, Ind., and Kansas City, respectively.

In Thursday night's quarterfinals at Evansville South Dakota State whipped UCalif (Santa Barbara) 79-65, Wittenberg took Williams 64-51, Mt. St. Mary's downed Austin Peay 96-78 and Southeast Missouri whipped Chicago Univ 67-41.

Minnesota, Cookie Optimistic For '61

(First in a series appraising major league baseball teams. Minnesota Twins.)

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—A year ago Cookie Lavagetto vowed his Washington Senators, after three successive eighth place finishes, would not wind up in the cellar again. They not only finished fifth but had their best record since 1953.

Maybe it's because of the club's move to Minnesota after 60 years in the nation's capital, maybe it's because of the healthy state of ace pitcher Camilo Pascual and slugger Harman Killebrew. At any rate, Cookie this Spring is more optimistic than he's been since he succeeded Charlie Dressen as the team pilot in 1957.

"I'll be disappointed if we don't finish in the first division," said Lavagetto. "This club could finish fourth if our young pitchers come through."

"Last year I said we should win 70 games," he reminded Cookie. "We won 73 and should have won several more. With two weeks of the season to go, we were playing over 500 ball but lost 10 of the last 11."

"This year I predict we'll win 81 games. That's half the games since we play a 162-game schedule. That means we've just about got to finish in the first division. This is the best team I've had. I'm satisfied with our power and we have a tighter defense than last year. Our problem is pitching. If our kids come through, we could surprise a lot of people."

As Lavagetto pointed out, the power is there. It figures to be furnished by outfielders Jim Lemon (38 home runs and 100 RBI), and Bob Allison (15-69), catcher Earl Battey (15-60) and first baseman Killebrew (31-80). Lenny Green, a fleet-footed .294 hitter, again will patrol center field.

Ever since the day he started out on his brilliant career in baseball Alvin Dark dreamed of becoming a big league manager when his playing days were over. While he was playing with the Giants in the Polo Grounds that ambition was very pronounced. Back in 1953, Manager Leo Durocher permitted him to act as student-manager for a spell when the Giants were hopelessly out of the pennant race. But when he was traded to the St. Louis Cardinals in the 1956 June trading deadline, his dream faded. Now, with the Giants sorely in need of rejuvenation, Dark has been given the chance to see what he can do with the club.

Few players have been marked for a managerial future during their playing days as Dark has been. When he was traded to St. Louis everyone concluded that the Cardinals would groom him for the role of manager. It was the same when he moved to the Chicago Cubs. Last January, when the Cubs traded him to the Phillies, it was reported that he was in line to succeed Eddie Sawyer

In Exhibition Action

Veteran Hurlers Shine

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

The adage that "youth must be served" doesn't mean anything to veteran baseball pitchers Warren Spahn, Sam Jones and Robin Roberts.

Spahn, Jones and Roberts — THREE of the National League's "old pros" who number 106 years among them — turned in impressive performances Thursday along the exhibition trail.

Spahn, who will be 40 next month, gave up one run in seven innings as the Milwaukee Braves' "B" team whipped the Washington Senators 8-2. Jones, 35, worked the last four innings in shutout fashion in the San Francisco Giants' 7-4 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Roberts, 34, blanked the Chicago White Sox over the last four frames while the Philadelphia phils coasted to a 13-3 triumph, 7, St. Louis 4.

In other games Thursday, Kansas City handed Baltimore its fifth straight setback 5-1. Pittsburgh posted its sixth success in seven outings by defeating Milwaukee 7-2. St. Louis 4, Minnesota edged Cincinnati 5-3. Detroit topped St. Louis 7-4. Cleveland nipped the Los Angeles Angels 3-2 in 10 innings and the Los Angeles Dodgers downed New York 6-1.

Spahn, getting in shape for Milwaukee's opening day assignment, struck out four and walked none as he scattered nine hits. The slender southpaw, a 20-game winner 11 times, yielded a homer to Jim King for the lone run off him. Rookie catcher Joe Torre paced the Braves' attack with two homers and a double.

Stu Miller hurled the first five innings for the Giants, gaining credit for the victory although touched for Boston homers by Jackie Jensen and Vic Werz.

Roberts allowed just two hits and his four scoreless innings gave the rugged right-hander a string of seven shutout frames in two appearances.

The Phils tallied nine times in the third inning to chase Herb Score. Johnny Callison and Clay Dalrymple homered for Philadelphia in the big uprising.

Norm Siebern's three-run home run powered the A's to their victory over the Orioles as Bud Daley, Norm Bass and Don Larsen spaced seven hits. Vernon Law worked the first five inning, in the Pirates' success over Milwaukee.

Duke Snider and Tommy Davl slugged Yank hurler Ralph Terry for successive homers in the sixth inning in the Dodgers' triumph. Phil Ortega, Roger Craig and Stan Williams held New York to three hits.

Hallow Signs

BOSTON (AP) — Louis Hallow, 26, of Goldsboro, N.C., former East Carolina College football player, has been signed by the Boston Patriots of the American Football League.

The 6-foot, 227-pound Hallow, voted All-Marine and All-Service center during two years at Camp Lejeune, will be a center and line-backer.

Red Oak, Beaufort Win Class A Play

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—Defending Champion Beaufort, with Hassell boys hitting in high gear, are in tonight's Class A high school basketball tour a meet along with Red Oak, Colfax and Booneville.

Beaufort struck down North Brook 70-54 and Red Oak edged Rosman 45-41 on a last minute jump shot Thursday night to complete the tournament's first round.

Colfax and Booneville, which won first round games Wednesday night, meet in tonight's first semifinals affair and Beaufort and Red Oak tangle in the other. The winners play in Saturday night's championship tilt and the losers play for consolation (third place) honors.

Beaufort, undefeated this season and winner of the two previous state Class A titles, led scrappy North Brook by only 31-28 at the half, but pulled away in the second and third periods. The easterners reached their peak in the third period, outscoring North Brook 21-13.

The Hassell boys, stars of last year's team, were the chief architects of the victory. Ray, a 6-2

First Round Of Golf Tournament

CAMDEN, S.C. (AP)—The first round of the annual Four Ball Championship of the Carolinas Golf Association gets underway here today.

A battle will start early to decide the 15th and 16th spots in the championship flight. This is the result of an eight-way tie Thursday.

Eight teams tied with 72 and four were eliminated in a playoff. Involved in today's playoff were George Dial Jr. and Chuck Prezioso, Columbia; Harold Munns and D. J. Stevens, Greenwood; Heath Alexander and Bobby Chapman, Spartanburg; Grainger Korngay and George Wilson, Camden.

In the qualifying round, Howell Whiteside and Joe McCarley of Camden took medalist honors with 66. They were two strokes better than Dale Morey of Morganton, N.C., and Dave Smith of Gastonia, N.C.

Casper Tied For Pasadena Lead

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—If old man par—he's 71—had a voice he'd be squealing with anguish at the Pasadena Golf Club today.

Seldom has the old man taken a beating such as he took in the opening round of the St. Petersburg open Thursday, and if the lashing continues in the second round of the $20,000 72-hole event today a 36-hole score of 140 will be lucky to survive the cut to the low 60 and ties tonight.

Two players—Jack McGowan and Billy Casper Jr.—shot 63s to lead the field and break the course record by a stroke.

Seventy-eight players, or about half the field, were under par and 93 of the 159 entrants were par or better.

Casper had a six-under-par 29 for the home nine, and got his 63 despite two bogies.

McGowan, 30, assistant pro at Toledo, Ohio, who makes his home at Clearwater, Fla., got his 33-31 with 8 birdies and 10 pars. That 63 looked like it would stand alone until Casper, the former National Open champion from Apple Valley, Calif., plodded in with his 34-29 late in the afternoon to get a share of the lead.

Five contestants—Cary Middlecoff, Tommy Aaron, Don Fairfield, Gary Player and Frank Wharton—were tied at 66, and 13 were in the 67 bracket. The 68 class was jammed with 19 players.

Pyles Named As NAIA Top Coach

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Rex Pyles, basketball coach at Alderson Broaddus College in West Virginia, today was named "coach of the year" by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA).

Pyles' teams have won 423 games at Alderson Broaddus and twice represented District 28 in the NAIA tournament. His team had a good record this season but didn't compete in the district playoff for a tournament berth.

Pyles is chairman of the NAIA basketball advisory committee.

Stall Knocks W-S Off Tournery

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Westminster (Pa.) missed only nine shots and used slowdown tactics to oust Winston-Salem (N.C.) 35-33 in the National Intercollegiate (NAIA) Basketball Tournament quarterfinals here Thursday night.

The Titans threw a tight zone defense at Winston-Salem. Westminster took 21 field shots in the game, and in one stretch passed the ball 27 times before taking a crack at the basket. Westminster's Jack Steele and Warren Sallade drove in for sure lay-ups from the slowdown of fence.

The Winston-Salem Teachers, meanwhile, could get only 35 shots away against the frustrating defense, hitting 15.

Tonight in the semifinals, Westminster, in the tortoise role, faces the tall, speedy Grambling (La.) team that can run like rabbits. Georgetown (Ky.) plays Northern Michigan in the other game. The finals will be tomorrow night.

Grambling, the tourney's highest scorer with 107 points in the first round, out-ran Anderson (Ind.) 82-54.

Anderson tried to slow the pace, but lacked the poise, losing the ball on 18 mechanical errors.

Georgetown stayed alive on Cecil Tuttle's driving lay-up with five seconds left, edging Central Oklahoma State 84-83.

Northern Michigan out-foxed defending champion Southwest Texas State 80-75.

Golfers Assault Course Par Score

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP) — A couple of Arkansas travelers and two promising amateurs blazed the way today into the second round of the $5,000 Gulf Coast Invitational Tournament, following the greatest assault on par in the 15 years of the deep south golf battle.

Defending champion Buster Cupit of Fort Smith, Ark., and an Arkansas sidekick, Gene Frase of Pine Bluff, entered today's round tied with amateurs Sam Love Jr. of Shreveport, La., and classic-swinging Teddy Weiss of New Orleans.

The four came in hours apart with six-under par 65s Thursday over the concrete-hard fairways and velvet greens of the 6,016-yard great Southern Country Club course.

Move To N.Y. Seems Assured

NEW YORK (AP) — The return of National League baseball to New York City next year seems assured after all.

The State Assembly executed an about-face in Albany Thursday and passed the bill authorizing the city to finance and build an $18-million ball park in Flushing Meadows, Queens. The park would be leased to the Metropolitan Baseball Club which has been granted a National League franchise effective next year.

PAUL HORGAN'S GREAT HISTORICAL NOVEL A DISTANT TRUMPET

CHAPTER 18 In the morning, Matthew turned to see Laura, beside him. She was not there. Now he heard her at little tasks in the other half of the room. He bounded forth to find her. She was setting places for breakfast at the plank table. "Where are you!" he cried, referring to her absence from bed. "Right here. I'm doing what I can, but you will have to help me get breakfast, for I don't know where anything is. You said we would do our cooking out in back, but where is the wood, and how do we start fires?"

Elect New Officers Of East Carolina Playhouse

Officers of the East Carolina Playhouse to serve for the 1961-1962 term have been elected and will begin their duties this spring quarter. S. Douglas Mitchell of Greenville, graduate student at the college, serves as president of the Playhouse. An outstanding student in playhouse production, Mitchell recently appeared in Emily Williams' "Night Must Fall." He played the leading role of Dan. Other officers in addition to Mitchell are Ben K. Avery of Goldsboro, vice president; J. Susanne Truesdale of Alexandria, Va., recording secretary; Alice Coriolano of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, and Greenville, corresponding secretary; Mary Jane McHugh of Jacksonville, treasurer, and Howard B. Mallard of Smithfield, historian. The East Carolina Playhouse encourages students of the college to participate in dramatic productions of educational and cultural worth. A series of major productions and another of studio plays are presented each year. All students of the college are eligible to become apprentices and to earn membership by working in at least one major production and two Player's Studio productions. The next major production of East Carolina Playhouse will be Terence Rattigan's "Separate Tables." Claude L. Garren, faculty member of the department of English at the college, is acting director of the Playhouse.

seems to have pretty well ended, he returned to Washington to work for his famous plan for a comprehensive campaign which would be final. If Rainbow Son and Sebastian cut up again, they may give him the ammunition he needs to persuade the government to get moving. My wife says not to get too hot up, though, for she figures it'll take a year to move the Congress. I believe she's right. "Sir, do you know General Quait?" "No. My wife's people knew him years ago in Washington." "Neither do I. He's my wife's uncle-in-law, if there is such a thing." "We may never even see him, even if he does come out here eventually to take command." Major Prescott was suddenly animated by a gust of angry energy. "I wish they'd give the whole thing to me. I'd handle. I'd know what to do." He subsided as quickly as he was roused. Blowing smoke, he added in comic resignation. "But they won't, never fear, they won't. Things go well with you?" he asked, turning his gaze up at Matthew and rubbing his stubby hand across his bald head which gleamed pale above his sunburned neck and cheeks. "Yes, sir, first-rate." "Yes, Hazard going to be happy here?" Their glances locked and referred to any number of factors which could promise unhappiness for Laura. But the major saw in his junior officer so much contentment and ruddy health and strength of presence that he could not imagine any failure of happiness in Quarters 4. He began to smile at precisely the moment Matthew did too, and they exchanged reassurances no less strong for being unsaid. "Ambush!" is the chilling word Matthew is to hear. Continue the story tomorrow.

Brooks Reviews Aspects Of Purchasing Practices

Samuel R. Brooks of the Union Carbide Consumer Products Company, Greenville, outlined the complexity of large-scale purchasing practices at the monthly dinner meeting of Delta Sigma Pi, Professional Business Fraternity, March 14 at East Carolina College.

Brooks is presently a field purchasing agent and is also in charge of the receiving, shipping, planning, and scheduling operations at the local Division of Union Carbide Corporation.

He explained to fraternity members the responsibilities of the Division to the Central Purchasing Office located in Cleveland, Ohio, and pointed out the advantages to management of combined buying power through a centralized purchasing system.

According to actual practice, he said, consumer purchasing is a function generally known to everyone. However, he continued, industrial purchasing is a new, specialized, and ever-growing technical function in the realm of marketing practices.

The principal duties of the Purchasing Agent, Mr. Brooks explained, are to insure that management will have the materials or supplies on hand, when they need them, where they need them, and at a fair price. He stressed the fact that the basis of the decision to purchase an item is not always based on the lowest possible price. Quality, he said, must be determined and maintained to insure adequate value of the end product. Price, delivery schedules, freight cost, and terms of payment enter into the decision of where to buy.

Latham Speaks At PTA Session

STOKES — Principal of Bethel High School Walter Latham addressed the Stokes Parent-Teacher Association Monday on "College Preparation."

This preparation, he said, starts with birth. A student's best evidence of success in college is determined by his success in high school, he said. Latham stated that if a student has the intelligence, with the courses offered today in the high schools, he should succeed.

A student who plans to attend college should find out the entrance requirements of the college he is interested in before he is a junior or senior in high school. Then he can make preparation for college.

Latham concluded by saying that "regardless of one's background or intelligence, without purpose he will not succeed."

During a business session, a nominating committee composed of Clifford Wichard, chairman, John L. Corey and Tracy Barnhill was appointed to present a slate of officers at the next meeting.

Charles Wynne of the second grade gave the devotional prior to the program.

CHURCH SPURNED
CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP) — The Bunkley Memorial Baptist church, organized two years ago, was denied membership in the regional Baptist association because the church received new members from other denominations without re-baptizing them.

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA) — more speculative secondary issues following the Federal Reserve Board report that February saw a halt in the unbroken six-month drop in over-all industrial production.

The current rally began Thursday under the spur of brighter news of production and sales from the auto industry.

The ticker tape ran as much as 11 minutes behind transactions as steels, motors, oils, rails, chemicals, building materials, rubbers, airlines and selected issues stepped ahead.

It was the greatest lag in the ticker tape since the climactic session of Feb. 28 when there was an 18-minute gap between transactions and the tape report. There were not so many large blocks as Thursday but a steady parade of sizable trades.

Advances of a point or better were made by American Machine & Foundry, U. S. Steel, Ford U. S. Rubber, Phelps Dodge, Eastman Kodak and Texaco. Union Carbide advanced more than 2. International Business Machines added 10.

Profit taking clipped some gains as the session wore on.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 6.56 at 676.94. Corporate bonds declined. U. S. governments showed slight change.

Fireman's Fire Quickly Handled

A Greenville Volunteer Fireman, who endeavors to help his fellow citizens fight "their" fires had the tables turned on him yesterday about 5:37 p.m. when his car caught fire.

Harold Ross of 804 Fairfax Ave. prepared to start his car, parked in the driveway of his home and the motor caught fire.

Being well trained to call the fire department first in the event of fire, he notified the fire department, then being a fireman, went to work combating the blaze with a water hose.

When fire units from the city's central station arrived at the scene, they found the situation under control and the fire extinguished.

Only light damage resulted to the car, they said.

Fire officers reported the blaze apparently started from a gas leak under the hood of the vehicle.

In addition to the "fireman's fire" yesterday, fire units responded to an alarm from Box 325 at the intersection of Howell and Garland Sts. at 3:41 p.m.

Fire officials said no one was found at the box and no fire was seen. The alarm was listed as false.
