Pro-Castro Men Watched After Rumors Of Kidnap

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Pro-Castro Cubans under surveillance in a reported plot to kidnap President Kennedy's small daughter are also suspected of planning to wipe out the President's entire family, an informed source said today. This source, who asked not to be named, said U.S. Secret Service agents have located the Cubans in the Palm Beach area and are keeping a close watch on them. Meanwhile, 3-year-old Caroline Kennedy is under what was called double-alert Secret Service security guard at the Atlantic shore home of her grandparents. The cute blonde youngster is spending an Easter holiday here with the President and Mrs. Kennedy. The Secret Service, it was learned, has been tipped that four Cuban plotters—described as "pro-Castro and anti-Kennedy"—contemplated trying to kill the President, his wife and their two children. A plan to kidnap Caroline as an alternative was also reported. As for the plotters, an excellent authority said: "We think we know who they are and we are keeping them under surveillance." He added that the Cubans had been located in the Palm Beach area, but that—as of late Friday night—"There isn't enough evidence at this point for an arrest."

Logger Injured By Falling Tree

A 31-year-old Negro was injured near Winterville this morning when a tree he was helping to cut fell and pinned him to the ground. The accident occurred on the Fletcher Farm about two and one-half miles west of Winterville on the Renston Road. The man was identified as James A. Dunn. His address was not given. Members of the Greenville Fire Department Rescue Unit, who transported the injured man to the hospital, said he was apparently suffering from chest and back injuries. They said he was unconscious when they arrived at the scene and men working with Dunn had already cut him free. (Photo by Roy Hardee)

Birds Did It

At first they thought the copper roof on the Pitt County Courthouse had abandoned its mission during yesterday's rainy afternoon. A meeting in session in the courtroom was abruptly interrupted when the water suddenly poured in. Robert G. Little, chairman of Pitt's Board of Commissioners, was in another meeting in the courthouse and was quickly summoned to inspect the inside downpour. "I didn't know what to think," Little said. "I've never seen anything like it." Investigation showed eggs and feathers contributed by the courthouse-dwelling pigeons had clogged gutters and forced water from yesterday's heavy rainfall under the edges of the roof. The gutters were unclogged, the inside water was soaked up and the respective meetings continued uninterrupted. "We ought to shoot those birds," Little said.

Egg Hunts Put Off 'Til Monday

The Recreation Department Easter Egg Hunts, scheduled for this morning have been postponed until 2 p.m. Monday, according to Gordon Goodman, director of the Greenville Recreation Department. Goodman said the change in the time of the hunts was made necessary by the large rainfall here Friday. He noted that the grounds at both the Elm Street Park and the South Greenville Recreation Center were too wet for the program. He emphasized that the hunts will be conducted at 2 p.m. Monday at both the Elm Street Park and at South Greenville. About 1,500 eggs will be used in the hunts, he said, and prizes will be awarded for the most eggs found and for special eggs in each of the three divisions. He explained that, for the hunt, children will be grouped according to age, with groups including ages one through five, six through nine, and ten and up. Admission to the hunts is free, he said.

Kennedy And Rusk Getting Synopsis Of Soviet Reply

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk today received a summary of the Soviet government's reply to British proposals for a cease-fire in Communist-threatened Laos. "They do not have the actual text of the reply yet, but are receiving a synopsis of it," White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said as Kennedy and Rusk were about to begin a conference here on the Laos crisis. Salinger said he had no immediate information on even the general tenor of the note. He added that he probably would not be able to discuss it when and if he did get such information.

Khrushchev And U. S. Envoy Talk

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today handed Britain its reply to a peace plan for Laos and later called in U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson to discuss the situation in the strategic Asian jungle kingdom. There was no immediate indication the Soviet response to the British proposal, which was pegged to bringing about an immediate cease-fire in Laos. Khrushchev personally called in Thompson barely an hour after British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts was handed the Soviet reply by a deputy foreign minister. The Soviet premier and the American ambassador talked for an hour and a half. Neither Thompson nor the British ambassador would give any indication of the details of their visits with the Soviet authorities except to say that Laos was the subject. When asked for information, an American spokesman said, "For any information you should see the British."

The Russian reply to the British bid for a cease-fire was handed in Moscow today to Britain's Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts. An hour later the Kremlin called in U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson for a discussion of the situation in Laos. Salinger said Kennedy and Rusk were getting a summary from Thompson on the Soviet reply to the British. The summary was relayed to Rusk by the State Department in Washington. Rusk flew to the President's vacation headquarters from the capital Friday night. Rusk got his first word that the Russians had replied from an Associated Press reporter here at 3:30 a.m., shortly after delivery of the note to the British ambassador had been announced in Moscow. Kennedy at that hour presumably had not received any word regarding the reply either, since the usual diplomatic procedure would be for the British to get in touch with Rusk. The Soviet government did not immediately make its reply public. Rusk said the British probably would notify the State Department quite promptly regarding the contents. Rusk flew to Palm Beach from Washington last night with no idea, he said, that a Soviet reply—long awaited—was so imminent. He traveled from the capital for further discussions with Kennedy today of the drive to end hostilities in Laos. Rusk also arranged to talk over plans for another Kennedy conference next week with Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. Today's session was arranged for mid-morning at the seashore home of the President's parents. Rusk reported to Kennedy by telephone from Washington Friday afternoon shortly after the secretary returned from the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization conference held in Bangkok, Thailand. At the meeting with Rusk here

Kennedy expected to get a more detailed picture of the SEA O deliberations regarding the Laos crisis, and a more complete report on a Rusk conference with India's Prime Minister Nehru on Laos. Rusk stopped in New Delhi on the way back to the United States. The SEATO nations adopted a resolution calling for an end of hostilities in Laos and saying the member countries would take appropriate action if there is no cease-fire. The resolution did not mention military action as "the alternative," but such a step is generally regarded as having been implied as a possibility. At a conference last Sunday at Key West, Fla., Kennedy and Macmillan agreed that the situation in Laos could not be allowed "to continue to deteriorate." They expressed hope the Soviet Union—which has been furnishing military supplies to Communist-led rebels in Laos—would endorse a British plan for a quick cease-fire and a settlement formula.

Two More Candidates For Council File; Stafford Out

Two more candidates filed for the May 2 City Council election yesterday afternoon and this morning at the city clerk's office as the noon filing deadline passed. The two new candidates are John Howard, a tobacconist, and C. O. Stephens, a Railway Express employee. In addition, Councilman W. S. Stafford revealed this morning that he would not be a candidate for re-election. Thus, 11 candidates will be seeking the four seats on the City Council in next month's municipal election. Two present members of the council, Dr. M. W. Aldridge and Wesley Harvey, are running for re-election. The other candidates are James W. Lee, H. H. Duncan, J. T. Williams, Richard Powell, Dr. Ralph Brimley, Ford McGowan and B. Brooks Beddingfield. Mayor S. Eugene West has filed as a candidate for re-election to vote.

"It's been a pleasure to have served the city in the capacity of councilman for the past two years. I feel quite a bit of progress has been made. I'm happy to be a citizen of Greenville and I believe in the future progress of Greenville. I shall be glad to be of any future service to the city in the capacity of just a citizen." Stafford is a veteran of Greenville politics, having served on the board of aldermen in 1947 and 1948. Subsequently, he was elected mayor, serving in 1949 and 1950. In 1959 he received the largest number of votes among the 11 candidates for City Council that year.

A co-organizer of the local Moose Lodge's Cub Scout Pack 200, Stephens currently serves as the pack's cubmaster. He is a graduate of Suwanee High School near Meridian, Miss., and is a member of the Greenville Free Will Baptist Church. Stephens is married to the former Janie Wilson of Greenville and they live with their two daughters and son at 2109 Pendleton St. here. John Howard, a Greenville native, is vice president of Greenville Tobacco Co. He attended Greenville city schools, graduated from

C. O. STEPHENS

Embarking on his first political venture, Stephens said he filed because "many of my friends asked me to become a candidate." A Mississippi native, Stephens has been a Greenville resident since 1946 following his discharge from the U.S. Marine Corps. He is local transfer clerk for the Railway Express Agency. Stephens served with the Marines in the Pacific Theater during World War II. He received the Purple Heart award and was discharged as a staff sergeant. He is still active in the Marine Corps as an aviation ordnance non-commissioned officer for a Marine Reserve attack squadron based at Norfolk. He is a member of Magnolia Camp 218 of the Woodmen of the World and was named that organization's "Mr. Woodman" in Fifty-seven string bands from six states and Washington, D.C., were among those expected for this 37th annual Union Grove Fiddlers Convention. Also expected are "Handsome George" Pegram of Iredell County and "Lost John" Ray of Wilkes County, always among the outstanding performers. Pegram picks a banjo and Ray is a fiddler.

He served two years in the U.S. Army during the Korean conflict, being stationed at Camp Rucker and Ft. Bragg. Howard is married to the former Melba Brown of Bethel and the couple has two children. They reside at 1600 East Sixth St. He is a member of St. James Methodist Church. The candidate is a past member of the Jaycees and he has been active in the Heart Fund drive each year. Bang! . . . You're Dead

SUB ON TAR . . . This sleek, black, U.S. Navy undersea craft dealt a theoretical death-dealing blow to the City of Greenville early today when the atomic-armed craft silently cruised up the Tar and loosed an atomic weapon on our fair city. The nuclear craft was participating in tests and demonstrations centered around destroying inland cities. The craft reportedly broke the Navy's record for upriver travel by a seagoing submarine. And guess what . . . April Fool!

Couple Married In Home Wedding

Mrs. James Hudson Bearden

TRENTON — The wedding of Miss Pauline Murrill Larkins, Jr., and James Hudson Bearden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Noah Bearden, was solemnized in a ceremony at the home of the bride on Friday evening, March 31, at eight o'clock.

The Rev. Samuel Duncan McMillan, Jr., of Durham, a relative of the bride, heard the vows which were spoken before an altar of Easter lilies, palms, and cathedral candles.

The candles were lighted by John Dalton and Hugh Murrill Larkins Lotin, nephews of the bride.

The bride wore a dress of candle-light satin designed with a portrait neckline of lace outlined with a satin fold and fitted basque with buttons down the back. The gathered skirt featured a panel of chantilly lace down the length of the train. Her veil of illusion fell from a scalloped lace bonnet, outlined with pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of brides roses and valley lilies, centered with white hybrid orchid.

A reception was given by the bride's parents following the ceremony after which the couple left for a wedding trip South.

For travelling the bride wore a mint green silk ensemble with matching accessories, and the white hybrid orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Bearden was graduated from Salem College, and has taught in the public schools in Fayetteville and Durham County. She made her debut at the 1954 ball in Raleigh. Mr. Bearden was graduated from Marion Military Institute, and received a B. S. degree from Centenary College, Shreveport, Louisiana. He holds a Master of Arts degree from East Carolina College, Greenville, where he is now an Assistant Professor of Business Administration. He is a member of Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

The couple will reside at 810 College View Apartments, Greenville.

Mrs. Starling Speaks At Pilot Club Meeting

Mrs. Robert B. Starling, principal of Greenville School for Trainable Children, was guest speaker at the Pilot Club meeting Monday night.

Mrs. Starling reviewed the work being done in Greenville and illustrated her talk with slides. She quoted statistics to point out the great need for expanding this program. She stated that there are 500 children in the area of Greenville who need special training.

The money spent on such training represents a saving to the state in that it enables dependent people to become self-supporting citizens. The average I.Q. of the inmates of State Prison is 71. She urged all Pilots to inform their legislators of the plight of these retarded children and of the advantages of spending money in their behalf.

Hostesses for the dinner meeting were members of the Community Service Committee. Mrs. Olivera Rouse gave the invocation. Miss Lelia Higgs and Mrs. Ann De La Mater spoke on the history, the operation, and the miracles of the "Eye Bank." One out of every 25 blind people could be helped through this organization. They asked the Pilot Club of Greenville to support the "Eye Bank" 100%.

Mrs. Ann Phillips, presided at the dinner meeting. She welcomed the following guests: Mrs. Catherine Barnhill, Mrs. Inez Constant, Mrs. R. B. Bass and Mrs. Starling.

Legislature Must Resist Pressure

Members of the General Assembly have an obligation to the people of North Carolina to see that the compulsory auto-liability insurance law is extended beyond the May 15 deadline now in effect.

There has been mounting pressure in recent weeks—particularly from insurance companies—for the legislature to allow the law to die. It has been charged by representatives of the insurance companies that in spite of the law one of every automobile accident in the state in 1959 involved an uninsured motorist. These same spokesmen also have asserted that continuation of the law will push auto liability insurance cost in the state far out of reason.

In spite of these assertions, it is quite evident that the compulsory insurance law has afforded the people of North Carolina a great deal more protection from uninsured motorists than was the case prior to the passage of the law. It has put effective teeth into the long recognized principle that the person who operates a motor vehicle on the highways of the state has the obligation to be financially responsible for losses inflicted upon others when he is at fault.

Several recommendations for amending the law to improve its administration have merit and should be considered; but to us it is unthinkable that the legislature would render the death blow to this worthwhile law by not extending it prior to the May 15 deadline. The purpose of the legislation was to provide greater protection for the people who use the highways of the state, and during the period in which the law has been in effect, it has fulfilled that purpose. While it is not perfect, it is far better than what the state previously had, and it is far better than the alternatives proposed by opponents of the law.

We trust the legislature will recognize its obligation to the people of North Carolina and pass legislation which will continue indefinitely the state's compulsory auto liability insurance law.

Certain Reactions In Military Curtailments

The Defense Department's announcement that it will close or curtail activities at 52 military bases will bring two immediate reactions around the nation:

1. It holds out hope that some $220 million annually may be trimmed from military spending by eliminating obsolete or surplus installations; and

2. It is sure to bring howls of protest from areas in which the affected bases are located.

While the immediate order affects only 52 of the some 6,700 military installations of the United States, there are probably many others among the 6,700 which could be closed or their activities curtailed without impairing the nation's defense posture. Now that the Defense Department has begun this cutback of the number of bases, it is not unlikely that similar orders will follow at a later date.

It will not be unnatural for the areas immediately affected by the cutbacks to protest the closing or reduction of the installations. Military bases are important industries in areas in which they are located, and their payrolls both to military and civilian personnel often represent an appreciable share of the consumers' income of the community. While a base may have become obsolete so far as the nation's defenses are concerned, it is still extremely important to the community in which it is located.

Certainly the Defense Department will be under pressure to keep many of the bases it proposes to close.

The prospective savings in military expenditures brought about by closing these bases may be real, but in all probability they will not be reflected in lower budgets for defense. The creation of new bases and expansion of some already in operation probably will account for more in the next several years than will be saved by closing obsolete or surplus installations.

It is well for the Defense Department to weed out the "dead wood" among its installations, but the individual citizen will be making a mistake to assume these proposed cutbacks will make his annual tax bill smaller in the near future.

Reds Are Bound To Stir Trouble

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's problem with communism is like inviting a man to dinner and then trying to make sure he doesn't stick the silverware in his pocket.

Even a not-likely-soon American-Soviet agreement on disarmament and nuclear testing—something the optimists would like to think means peace—won't keep the Communists from doing what they're doing. They're men with a mission and what they're doing is trying to take over the world. Since they're convinced they have time on their side, they're not in a hurry. If they can't do it all at once, they can try a bit at a time.

For instance, don't bet that peace, if it comes to Laos, will last long. The shooting by the Russian-backed guerrillas in the north would not necessarily start up soon.

But the Communists would be infiltrating the rest of Laos, trying for a grab from within. Or, they could try it with subtlety if they first create a crisis somewhere else to distract the West and take up its energies.

And even though things quiet down in Laos indefinitely, there are always other places. Southeast Asia and the Middle East, for example. Southeast Asia is full of such places.

At the moment Kennedy's prestige is high in the world. He acts like a quietly tough young man who has nothing but good will for the rest of mankind but won't stand still to be bulldozed.

The Russians and Red Chinese can't stand too much of that. Anytime Kennedy begins to look like too much of a world-persuader—meaning persuading away from communism—they'll try to give him the miseries.

In this case it would mean creating for him a series of crises, rocking and socking him, keeping busy, distracted, and running around with a fire-hose to put out blazes in a dozen places.

A tremendous Red Chinese attack on Formosa—creating concern in this country not only for Formosa but over the prospect of getting into war in China—would be a nice distraction for a push somewhere else.

True, Kennedy is doing all he can to lay the ground for friendly dealings with Premier Khrushchev. And maybe they'll meet and get along fine.

And maybe the next time a brushfire war starts up some place there won't be a Russian in sight. That won't mean the Russians and the Chinese Communists aren't working out of sight.

They don't have to fire a shot. They can seduce with economic aid, by sending in industrial advisers, by bringing students from backward countries to Moscow and returning them home well-trained.

The West has no illusions and can do the same, of course. To some extent it will try. An example of trying is Kennedy's foreign aid program which he offered Congress a few days ago.

Strength For Today

DAY OF DARKNESS

The significance of Saturday in this Holy Week is often overlooked. Good Friday has passed, Easter has not yet dawned. We wait and mark time, as it were.

But this is a very important day in our Christian experience, for it represents probably the most poignant suffering human beings ever experienced—the Apostles of Christ and thousands of his faithful friends felt in deed on that day that the greatest dream of their lives had been shattered. It was hard to reconcile the crucifixion with the love of God. If God could not have prevented it, then what of His power? If He could have prevented it and did not do so, then what of His love? "We thought that it was he who should redeem Israel," declared one of His followers with great sadness.

The dream had been shattered. The expected kingdom had not come. The Beloved had been done to death—and God had apparently not lifted His hand to make it different.

But the ways of God are strange, beyond our comprehension, so glorious that we can only look up in wonder and behold them. This Christ who was resting in the grave was not destined to remain there. Tomorrow—the angels would speak, the tomb would be lighted up with glory, the Beloved would arise—to vindicate the ways of God and to manifest His glory.

Shop Talk At Day's End

I'm asking no one if they saw that full-color ad in Friday's Reflector; it was eye-catching, to put it mildly.

That page represents another "forward step" by your newspaper. I think it was the first full-color photograph we've ever reproduced; but some I've questioned have their doubts.

Of course the paper has used full-color advertisements on a good many occasions; but they differed from Friday's in that they were drawings, not photographs. Successful use of color in a photographic reproduction requires a more precise coordinating in the press room than when a drawing is used.

Fifteen years of observing a newspaper press in action has not dimmed the initial awe over that finely-tuned piece of machinery, and the accuracy required in a full-color reproduction is something akin to honing a new edge on the existing edge of a keen razor blade.

That term, "full color" involves inks in but the three primary colors, and black. All shadings are obtained by overprinting with the necessary inks

Public Forum

To the EDITOR:

Private enterprise has a greater responsibility than that of merely enriching and aggrandizing itself. It is obligated to satisfy the people with the things they need, and the unemployed with employment. If private enterprise expects to monopolize the entire field of enterprise in our land it should live up to its obligation in all these respects; and as long as it does live up to its responsibilities the Government should not enter into competition therewith. When it fails to live up to these obligations, however, then the Government owes it to the people to step in and compete with private enterprise to the extent of satisfying the needs of the people as a whole, and of the unemployed as a class, which private enterprise has failed to satisfy.

By the same token should the Federal Housing Authorities keep their hands off as long as landlords continue to furnish their tenants with decent housing accommodations which they charge their tenants for. But when landlords charge their tenants exorbitant rent and turn their rental business into a racket while their tenants have to live in inadequate housing, then it is time for the Federal Housing Authorities to step in and supply the needs of tenants which landlords have refused to furnish. But, even in this event Federal Housing Authorities have no right under God to confiscate the landlord's property in so doing. That would be "robbing Peter to pay Paul," and we have no right under God to do such thing as that. But that is exactly what the Urban Renewal advocates seem to intend to try to do.

The people who own property in the Shore Drive section of our city, as well as all other such property owners around, hold deeds to that property which are registered in the records of the Pitt County Register of Deeds which guarantee unto such property owners, to their heirs, and to their assigns the right to have, to hold and to enjoy that property FOREVER! And it is the duty of the City of Greenville, the County of Pitt, the State of North Carolina and the United States of America to safeguard that right FOREVER! And he who would drive another from his home and take it from him is not entitled to have a home himself. When one fixes his eyes upon the property of another to desire to use it for any purpose whatsoever he becomes guilty of covetousness, and covetousness is one of the greatest of all sins; for as Lord God thundered from Mount Sinai's heights, "Thou shalt not covet anything that is thy neighbor's!" And those who are bent on prostituting the law of eminent domain by invoking the terms of such unconstitutional legislation as that of the Urban Renewal enactment would do well to remember how God not only worked the destruction of covetous King Ahab and his wicked wife Jezebel for their conspiracy to take Naboth's vineyard from him, but of how God worked the utter extermination of their posterity as well. Nor has the arm of God been shortened in the least. Even unto this day, "It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God." The law of eminent domain was never meant to be used for the purpose of securing property for the benefit of private enterprise. Nor was that together with the necessary shading of pressures on a rapidly moving web of paper. To call that "tricky" is understating the case.

A pressman who tinkered and fussed and sweated over the plates used in Friday's color-photo ad is not what you'd call fully satisfied with the results. He thinks he can do better. Dissatisfaction such as this is remarkable.

Full-color advertising has been available in The Reflector for something like two years.

The use of color in advertising, in terms of one or two colored inks, has been with us considerably longer.

Last year this paper ranked tenth among the publishing firms in North Carolina in terms of advertising inches that included color. The nine ahead of us were, to put it mildly, much larger in terms of circulation, facilities, service areas, etc.

Publishing firms larger than our "pride and joy" were among those trailing.

We're going to see an increasing use of color in advertising. For one thing, it serves to call special attention to a highly desirable facet in advertising.

I'm looking forward to the day our news department can use color photographs as a matter of course. It is possible now, if the elements of time and cost are ignored; but it isn't very practical. All we really need is a quick means of making color photographs and a process for making color-photo engravings ready for use within six hours time... while not going too deeply into the red ink.

Sounds simple? All right. Produce and be a millionaire.

law ever meant to be prostituted to the use of confiscating people's property to turn it into public parks and lovers lanes where libertines and prostitutes may meet at night time and fornicate.

If the tenant houses in the Shore Drive region of our city are in such awful condition, and if the landlords thereof are guilty of such profiteering as we are told, then bring on your Federal Housing! There is plenty of room around Greenville for it without confiscating any property which the owners thereof wish to hold on to. We are not living in such a city as New

Africa Came Late

By GEORGE B. SOKOLSKY

Copyright, 1961, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

History for at least 4,000 years has been made principally by peoples who lived north of the Equator. The unfoldments of civilization in Asia and Europe were Northern. India, for instance, which represents a southern civilization and was most affected by Mongol and Persian influences; outer parts of South-east Asia definitely are of a basic Sino civilization. The Arabs who moved into various areas of the African continent and gave evidence of high potentials originated, as did the Jews, in Mesopotamia. Exceptional to this generalization are such civilizing developments as the Aztecs and the Incas and such peoples in what we now call Latin America—whether these peoples were indigenous or came from elsewhere is not known.

Today, we face a different situation. The emergence of the Black peoples of Africa to political equality among nations alters all situations in the world. It is a new phase in history and it is impossible to foretell the consequences of so sharp a disturbance of human relationships.

The principal factor in this situation is the United Nations which admits to membership countries of small population, economic competence, with no history of national self-government. This membership in the General Assembly of the United Nations is absolutely equal to that of the greatest nations. Thus, the actual voting in the United Nations represents a totally unrealistic situation.

Most of these new countries are geographical divisions marked on a map by European colonial powers. In their own lands, only tribal names are realistic. Let us take, as an example, the largest and the most stabilized of African countries, Nigeria. Its population is large, somewhere between 35,000,000 and 40,000,000 as compared with 14,000,000 for what is called the Congo and 5,000,000 for Ghana.

Nigeria consists of several hundred tribes, speaking that many languages, although English is the official tongue just as French is the official language of many of the new African countries. Whereas throughout this African region South of the Sahara, there are many tribal religions, no philosophy, no world religion has developed. Except for tribal fetiches and taboos, the only religion that has made real progress among any of these peoples is Islam. Since the 15th Century, Christians have come into the South of the Sahara world but they have made a comparatively small religious impress upon these peoples.

At any rate, although the Africans South of the Sahara have been in close relationship with European countries since the 15th Century, these people never entered the main stream of Western civilization. For two centuries the Europeans trafficked in slavery, the tribal chiefs selling their own and kidnapped men, women and children into slavery. The middlemen were usually Arab slave merchants.

In the late 19th and the 20th centuries European possessors of African states, conscious of their social responsibilities, opened schools and hospitals and established mission stations. Most of the present leaders of the various new-African states were educated in these institutions, were often sent to European universities for their higher education. Some of these young Africans were sent to American universities, but they were few.

As a matter of fact, very few Africans South of the Sahara have any education of any kind. The few leaders are therefore remote from their own people, having come in contact with a life unknown to them. Nevertheless these states, no matter how small, are insignificant, how incapable of self-government and

Offers Prizes For New Products

By ELMER ORESSNER

A Philadelphia manufacturer of summer aluminum furniture is offering a $1,000 prize for ideas for new products to be made during summer months, preferably for fall and winter sales.

I have an entry blank, but I have come to the conclusion that as a business columnist I am working for all business and it would not be fair to offer ideas to a single firm. So, free to all aluminum manufacturers are my ideas for new products for manufacture in the off season:

Shrub protectors: These would be louvered cones to fit over and protect small shrubs through the winter. They could alternately be made of plastic, preferably green, with aluminum legs.

Aluminum tool sheds: These would be assemble-it-yourself sheds for lawnmowers and garden tools, enabling families to get their car back into the garage. These seem so obvious that somebody may be making them now, but they aren't in stores I visit.

LINERS, SHOWERS
Liners: Disposable aluminum garbage-pail liners. If openings could be tied tightly, most cities would avoid garbage to be left at the curb in them, saving the bother of lugging the can back.

Outdoor showers: An assemble-it-yourself outdoor shower for summer cottages. Connecting a hose would be the only step to make them operative and they'd be fine for washing off sand before going indoors.

Tie-up: An aluminum wire, preferably anodized or otherwise colored green, for gardeners to tie up shrubs, bushes and vines quicker and more permanently than with string. Why don't plastic makers bring out a greentape for this purpose?

Fins: Aluminum tail fins attachable to Volkswagens. (I'm kidding.)

Stakes: Aluminum stakes for gardens, new lawns; vegetable patches, etc. Some should provide for identification labels, which would last long and look better than random pieces of wood.

Fences: Colored aluminum picket fences for decorative use around garden beds.

Tree: An aluminum center post with branches on which to train tomato vines. With such a six-foot-square, plot of good soil and a dozen tomato vines, a family can have enough tomatoes for itself and a dozen relatives all season. (I did it with a wood tree and even neighbors who thought I was crazy enjoyed them.)

Pot drains: Fine mesh aluminum cut in circles to fit bottoms of pots for planting. They are much better than the usual shard, allowing drainage but holding back soil.

FOR FORGETTING UNFORGETTABLES
Storage boxes: With seals to make them air-and-water-tight, for putting unforgettable items into the attic and forgetting about them.

Drawer dividers: Made in a few standard sizes of a gauge that can be cut with scissors to fit drawers.

Signs: Letters and figures to fit into signs to identify house owners and house numbers, getting away from the garish plastic now being used for this purpose. I think there would be a good market for easily assembled signs with letters and figures that could be permanently locked into place.

Aluminum fans for TV audiences: Such Japanese-style fans could give a fluttering noise to indicate approval; and, slapped together noisily to show disapproval.

Folding cabanas: These could be carried to beaches in car trunks, unfolded for changing clothes.

Doghouse: In two sizes; one for canines; the other for husbands.

If you have better ideas and want to pitch them for the $1,000 prize, write All-Aluminum Products, Inc., Red St., at 36th, Philadelphia 46.

SHORT & SIGNIFICANT BITS OF BUSINESS
In this curious recession, weekly department store sales this year up to March 18 were 3 per cent above sales a year ago; in the Kansas City Federal District they were 11 per cent above last year and in the Boston District, 7 per cent.

Fish cooks have lower status in restaurants than meat cooks, writes William F. Whyte in his book, "Human Relations in the Restaurant Industry." The Ford Foundation has given the University of Wisconsin $400,000 for a three-year study of economic processes. If anybody can find out how the American economy works within three years, with $400,000 or any other amount, he should be made national economic czar.

Nursing Students Are Introduced To Hospital

ENTERING THE HOSPITAL . . . for their first instruction

By PATRICIA MOORE, Reflector Staff Writer

This week, nursing students of East Carolina College were introduced to Pitt Memorial Hospital.

The first-year nursing students will be the first group of such to apply part of their classroom knowledge at Pitt Memorial Hospital, and receive practical experience.

Out of some 52 students who started the year off with a desire to graduate from East Carolina College as full fledged nurses, 41 have remained, firm in their intentions.

For the first two quarters of college life, these students received the same preparation for further education as any other freshman. During the fall quarter, they received instruction in general academic subjects including English, mathematics, history and physical education.

During this spring quarter, the nursing students are taking courses in sociology, physics, chemistry, physical education and nursing 10, which is an introduction to nursing. They are beginning to get their first taste of what nursing will be like.

Each student will have two hours of nursing in the laboratory situation at the hospital each week this quarter. Since there are three sections of students, they will be visiting Pitt Memorial Hospital on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

For instruction at the hospital, they will use the present classroom which has been at the hospital for some time. As well as visiting the hospital and receiving instruction there, the 41 students will use Pitt Memorial Hospital for their laboratory work.

At the hospital, students wear their laboratory coats. They will not begin to wear uniforms until winter quarter of next year. From here on out, the students will progress more and more into the practical side of nursing, with their subjects becoming more technical in nursing.

At the fall quarter, students will progress to zoology, chemistry and nutrition as well as an advanced course in nursing. They will be exposed more and more to the hospital, Mrs. Warren said.

Though the hospital will mean a lot to them, the nursing students in turn will mean as much to the hospital.

"We hope it is going to mean more and better qualified nursing in eastern Carolina," Mrs. W. E. Martin, director of nursing at Pitt Memorial Hospital said.

With a nursing school connecting in some way with a hospital, there is a higher quality of nursing. The nurses who have already had their training will be kept on their toes, she commented. But the largest contribution to be made by the nursing school to the community is a source of supply of nurses for eastern North Carolina. And, no doubt, they will be well trained nurses.

150 Candidates At ECC Finish Work For Degrees

Students who completed their work at East Carolina College at the end of the winter quarter include 150 candidates for degrees.

With other members of the Class of 1961, graduates of the winter quarter who are eligible for degrees will receive their diplomas at the annual commencement exercises, scheduled for Sunday, May 21.

All of the winter-quarter graduates at East Carolina are North Carolinians except eleven, who come from Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey and District of Columbia. The 139 North Carolinians represent 46 counties of this state.

Rev. Ottaway Speaks At Rose High Assembly

By CRAIG WORTHINGTON The Reverend Mr. Richard Ottaway was the featured speaker at yesterday's annual Rose High Easter Assembly.

After Myrtle Moon Bilbro gave the devotions, Erskine Duff, president of the Student Co-operative Association, welcomed the students, telling them that the SCA and glee club had jointly presented an annual Easter assembly in the high school for the past thirty years.

Mr. Ottaway, who is the Episcopal Chaplain for East Carolina College and the assistant Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, spoke on the subject "Time."

Mr. Ottaway told the group that man has always tried to measure the span of his existence, or time, and has fairly well perfected this now. He explained the effect of Christ's birth on ever-non-Christians' concept of time. Mr. Ottaway also showed that although man has perfected the science of measuring the accumulation of time called time, he has not conquered the problems presented by this accumulation of time.

The program included "Holy City" (Adam) with Marvin Buck as soloist, "On Easter Morn, Christ Rose Again" (Flemish Carol), "Since That Man Came Death" (Haydn), "Salvation is Created," "Holy, Lord of Hosts," and the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's Messiah.

The Glee Club was accompanied on twin pianos by Ruth Clark and Brenda Thigpen. Corren E. D'Wood, principal, closed the program with thanks to those who gave it and wishes for a safe and happy holiday for the entire student body and faculty.

NFL Session Rose High's chapter of the National Forensic League sponsored its last regular practice session of the year last Tuesday.

Serving as hosts for the Kingston chapter, members read poetry and gave radio broadcasts from news at the end of the winter quarter include 107 candidates for the bachelor of science degree, which is awarded in the field of teacher education. Twenty-three will receive the master of arts degree; and twenty the bachelor of arts degree.

The UNC Tests Students in James D. Nicholson's science classes had the privilege of taking a state chemistry or physics exam this week.

Ten physics students and 9 chemistry students entered the competition. From the papers, the three best in the physics division and the two best in the chemistry division were sent to the University of North Carolina to enter further competition. The state winner in each division will receive a scholarship to Carolina if he or she can fulfill entrance requirements. The tests were compiled by the UNC department of Science in cooperation with the University Scholarship Committee.

WEST WARWICK R.I. (AP)—There might not be a Miss West Warwick pageant this year because the girls are shy about appearing in bathing suits.

Pageant Chairman Norman LeFebvre says he has invited about 40 girls to enter the April 15 competition, but none have accepted.

"Almost all the girls refused to enter because of the bathing suit competition," he said Friday night. "I can't understand them. They can't be that modest."

Perhaps they are. There are no entries.

It wouldn't be Easter without baskets of colored eggs or rabbits. How are these to be associated with the resurrection? Eggs represent the new life that begins in the spring about this time. The ancient Persians believed that the earth had hatched from a giant egg. The

Persians and Egyptians used to exchange colored eggs with friends.

Easter Observance Varies But True Story Prevails

By ROSALIE MOORE, Reflector Staff Writer

The victory of life over death — is the meaning of Easter, the most important and joyous holiday celebrated by Christians.

Easter commemorates the resurrection of Jesus Christ, who redeemed mankind through His death and then rose from the tomb on the third day. In His victory over death, is the promise of life everlasting for all men.

In the first two centuries after the crucifixion, a controversy arose over when the festival was to be celebrated. The custom in Asia Minor was to observe Easter with the Lord's Supper on the evening of the 14th of the Jewish month of Nisan, which was Passover, regardless of the day of the week. The Roman, however, preferred to hold the Easter feast always on Sunday.

The Nicene Council of 325 resolved the dispute. It set the date for Easter as the first Sunday after the first full moon after March 21, which is about the time of the vernal equinox. It cannot come before March 22 or after April 25.

This season also carries overtones of ancient spring festivals, celebrating the awakening of the earth after the dead of winter.

It wouldn't be Easter without baskets of colored eggs or rabbits. How are these to be associated with the resurrection? Eggs represent the new life that begins in the spring about this time. The ancient Persians believed that the earth had hatched from a giant egg. The

Persians and Egyptians used to exchange colored eggs with friends.

Reviews And Reflections

Ovid Pierce of ECC made an address on Southern writing at the North Carolina Education Association meeting in Asheville last weekend.

Pierce's thesis was that Southern fiction continues to be so stereotype-ridden that it is almost impossible for characters to be treated directly as individuals. Part of this is caused, he feels, by the fact that many writers are copying the books of William Faulkner rather than taking a fresh look of their own at life.

This point is well taken and it implies a great deal about Faulkner's power to convince his readers.

Animal Farm Word comes back from Professor Morton Winsberg, who is on leave from ECC studying Jewish agricultural colonies in South America, that life is rough in the back country down there.

Still, Mort has the eye of a scientist and can always find something to be interested in amidst the most appalling disappointments.

It is doubtful that Duncan Hines would approve the hotel in which he stayed in Asuncion, Paraguay, since here is his report on it:

"Few hotels could boast such a brilliant demonstration of a zoological cycle as I saw from the comfort of my bed. It seemed they never cleaned the floor of my room. All the dirt attracted a great many roaches and other insects.

Since there were no window panes in the window, I was frequently visited by chickens from a chicken coop alongside my room. The chickens were interested in the insects, which in turn were interested in the organic matter on the floor.

"To keep the cycle going we had rats also, which occasionally would make a raid on the baby chickens. Fortunately there was a cat, also, and this kept the rats on their toes. However, the cat didn't live an unmolessted life, as there was a puddle in the house called 'Cootchy.' Cootchy used to chase the cat whenever he could. I can assure you that I wasn't wanting for amusement."

And all for only $1.25 per day, room and board.

Reports from London seem to indicate that painting is moving in the direction of simplicity. At any rate, an American exhibiting there has received publicity for his canvas covered entirely with a neat coat of black paint. However, some of the London critics claim that this type of work is not original and that more than one such chaste picture has been displayed before.

Deserter Boasts Of Living High GARDEN GROVE, Calif. (AP)—FBI agents who arrested Staff Sgt. Carl Witten said the Marine Corps deserter told them, "I've been living high and spending freely."

The basis for Witten's estimate, the agents said, was an estimated $100,000 in bad checks.

Witten, 38, was taken into custody Friday on a complaint issued at Brooklyn, N.Y. March 24 accusing him of the theft of 56 blank U.S. treasury checks from a Marine Corps depot at Garden City, N.Y.

The FBI said $16,000 in cash was recovered and that Witten, who has a wife and six children in East Meadow, N.Y., wrote checks on the government funds and cashed them in Boston, Las Vegas, Nev., and Santa Ana, Calif.

New Senators Setting Hot Exhibition Pace

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Washington Senators have been making their presence felt in the grapefruit league this year. For a franchise that started from scratch and picked players out of a grab bag pool of players, the newcomers have progressed remarkably well in the baseball exhibitions. The "new" Senators' manager is Mickey Vernon, the old-time Washington favorite.

The Senators clubbed the Kansas City A's 13-3 at Pompano Beach for their sixth victory in the last seven citrus starts. This made Washington's worst record 11-8, second best among the 10 American League teams this spring.

The "old" Washington franchise has been moved to Minnesota's Twin Cities with the Los Angeles Angels joining the Senators in giving the American League its new look.

Fans in Washington who saw last season's edition of the Nationals finish fifth after three straight years in the cellar could have a lot to cheer about if the "new" Senators continue to improve.

Castoffs Dale Long, Danny O'Connell, Willie Tasby and Pete Daley provided the batting punch in Washington's 15-hit outburst against the A's. Each contributed three hits with Long and O'Connell collecting homers.

Rookie Ed Hobaugh, 26, a right-hander drafted from San Diego, pitched seven innings for the Senators, allowing all three A's runs on five hits. Norm Siebern homered for Kansas City. Southpaw Carl Mathias, picked up from Cleveland, finished with two scoreless frames.

In other games Pittsburgh won its second game this spring from New York 4-2. Cincinnati blanked Indianapolis of the American Association 3-0. Cleveland edged Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League 4-3 and in a night game at Miami, Detroit whipped Baltimore 6-3.

The Pirates posted their 15th victory in 21 games in maintaining their World Series supremacy over the Yankees. Harvey Haddix, Pittsburgh's winning pitcher in the seventh game of the series, yielded three hits and an unearned run in six innings to gain the verdict.

Ralph Terry, losing hurler for New York in the final series game, worked four perfect innings before the Pirates tagged him for four runs in the fifth inning. Haddix's two-run double was the decisive hit. Tony Kubek batted in both of the Yanks' runs. Mickey Mantle of New York was sidelined with a pulled stomach muscle.

Gordie Coleman's three-run homer in the eighth inning accounted for all the Reds' runs. Bob Purkey held Indianapolis to nine scattered hits in turning in the first nine-inning tour by a Cincinnati pitcher this spring.

Tito Francona's two-run double in the seventh gave the Indians their win over Tacoma. Barry Latman worked for the first six innings for the Tribe and Steve Hamilton pitched three scoreless frames. Dick Phillips had three hits for Tacoma, including a homer.

Jim Bunning went the distance for the Tigers and limited the Orioles to six hits while striking out nine and allowing only one walk. Detroit bunched four of its nine hits off Baltimore starter Milt Pappas for a four-run eighth inning uprising that snapped a 2-2 tie. Ron Hansen and Jim Gentile homered for Baltimore.

The Milwaukee Braves got pitchers Moe Drabowsky and Seth Morehead from the Chicago Cubs in exchange for infielders Andre Rodgers and Daryl Robertson.

LONG DISTANCE MEN—Three sluggers, past and present, pose prior to Yankee-Dodger exhibition game at Ver Beach, Fla. Gil Hodges, left, has hit 353 homers; Joe DiMaggio finished with 361 while newcomer Frank Howard has belted 25 in less than a season.

New Method For 'We'll Win Pennant' - Picking Punters Same Lopez Theory

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Al Lopez is a refreshing personality. He thinks his Chicago White Sox will win the American League pennant and he doesn't hesitate to say so.

"We should win," said the popular White Sox skipper, "because we have the strongest team in the league. I think we have a better club than the one which won the 1959 pennant. We have more depth and better pitching and hitting."

Impoverished pitching, according to Lopez, cost the White Sox the flag last year and gave Al his first below-second place finish in 11 years as a big league pilot. Lopez thinks he has rectified that flaw by acquiring pitchers Cal McLish and Juan Pizarro in winter trades.

"We led the league in batting, fielding, double plays and stolen bases, so it must have been the pitching," he reasoned. "Therefore we went out and got two starting pitchers. We also have a young left-hander, Gary Peters, who should help us in relief."

"I am not worried at all over the age on the club," Lopez said. "I think we have a mixture of youth and age. Take our pitching. To blend with such older fellows as Early Wynn, Billy Pierce, McLish and Gerry Staley, we have Herb Score, Frank Baumann, Bob Shaw and Pizarro, all in their 20s.

"Our infield is comparatively young, Joe Martin, our rookie third baseman is in his early 20s and Luis Aparicio, our shortstop, is about 25 or 26. Nellie Fox, at second, and Roy Sievers, at first, is not much past 30. So is Al Smith, our right fielder. Jim Landis, in center, is about 25. Don't let Minnie Minsos's age (38) fool you. He's the youngest old man around — he hustles more than any player on the team."

Sherm Lollar, the first string catcher, showed his age (36) last year when his batting average dropped to .252 and his home run output fell from 22 in 1959 to seven.

"Sherm is still the best receiver in the league," said Al.

The White Sox are a pretty set club, besides Martin, Peters and Camilo Carreon, are a couple of young outfielders from the Pacific Coast League. Stan Johnson and Floyd Robinson.

Bank Robbery Gives McIntyre Write-Up

SHELBY, N.C. (AP)—Benny (Mack) McIntyre, a scar-faced, weighed little man charged in the $3,641 robbery of the Marlon Bank and Trust Co., was not an unfamiliar name in the newspaper world of three decades ago.

A Shelby Daily Star reporter thumbed through a shirt box full of yellowed, tattered newspaper clippings and produced these headlines:

"Mack Defeats His Opponent by Knockout."
"Mack Signs for Bout On Local Card."
"Bennie Mack Is Semi-Final Winner."
"And there is another news story... taken from the year 1929..."
"Guilty Plea Offered By Lawyer of Defendant."
"McIntyre, who once was billed as one of the most sensational young prize fighters in the South, murdered a man over a $5 dog bet."
"And the latest headline... 'Ex-Prize Fighter Arrested for Marlon Bank Stick-Up.'"

The small man with the crooked nose has written another chapter, perhaps the last, in a life's story he recently offered to sell to the Shelby reporter for $500.

"I need the money," he said. "I have to go to Arizona. The box of clippings lay idle on the reporter's desk for days while the reporter tried to think of a way to tell the small man that the story of his life was not much different from so many others.

A faded newspaper story tells of Bennie Mack in his early days as a Charlotte youth battling for recognition. It reads: "Some months ago, more than a year in fact, Charlotte nightawks stood on the street with their mouths wide open and gazed in amazement as a trim looking youth socked and socked, and at each sock an opponent went down. Finally, however, the youth was forced to concede victory to the continuous line of reinforcements. That youth was Benny Mack, the Charlotte boxer who many people believed would be unable to break an egg with his blows."

The story gave background history of the little man after a fight in which he broke his opponent's jaw in the third round.

This is Benny Mack... a convicted murderer, a man described by an Atlanta minister as of good character, industrious and exceedingly good habits, the same Hollywood fighter who doubled for James Cagney, an ardent churchgoer... the same worried little man who wanted $500 in a hurry to go to Arizona.

Perhaps Benny will never get to go to Arizona. But, at least his life's story is finally being told.

Swimmers Display Power In Meet

By LOU BLACK
NEW HAVEN, CONN. (AP)—Too bad the Olympic games are not being held again this year, say America's top swimming experts here for the National A.A.U. Indoor Swimming Championships.

They feel so good mainly because of the awesome display of power displayed so far in the three-day meet which ends tonight.

There have been seven races and seven American records, tops in a 25-yard (short course) pool. World records can be made only in a long course tank. The way things have been going, hardly anybody will be surprised if the current standards in the eight remaining tests survive after tonight's bombardment.

Six American marks were broken Friday night in five races, two of them in the 440-yard freestyle relay won by the New Haven Swim Club's "A" team and its leadoff star, Mike Austin of Rochester, N. Y.

The quartet of Austin, Jim Looftbourrow, Dave Tyler and Gary Ball finished in 3:15.9, one-eighth of a second under Southern California's record. Austin, a Yale freshman, paced the exciting triumph with 0:47.7 split for the first 100-yards. The listed record was made here last year by Jeff Farrell, 0:48.2.

On opening night, Bitlick bettered the American 400-yard individual medley mark, and Murray Rose, Southern California swimmer from Australia, lowered the meet record in the 1500-meter grind.

Deacs Win Eighth In Row

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wake Forest's baseball team won 14 games last season, while losing seven. The Deacons finished fifth in the Atlantic Coast Conference with a 7-7 record. Things are far different so far this year, however.

While the Deacons don't play an ACC opponent for another week they are unbeaten in eight games against non-conference teams. The Deacons belted Tampa 7-3 Friday at Tampa for their eighth victory. They took advantage of seven Tampa errors. The game was played in a light rain.

Wake Forest's Bob Flemmons and Don Roth, who relieved Flemmons in the sixth, gave up only six hits. Wake Forest got nine, including Roger Coon's solo homer.

That was the only action Friday involving an ACC team. Rained out were the North Carolina-Duke and North Carolina-Florida State games at Tallahassee, Fla. Virginia at South Carolina, Maryland at Clemson and Ohio University at N.C. State.

Also postponed because of the weather was today's scheduled Virginia-South Carolina game at Columbia, S.C.

This set up a doubleheader today at Clemson. The Tigers were to meet Maryland this morning and Virginia this afternoon. Maryland Coach Jack Jackson agreed to stay on and play today to avoid a doubleheader when Clemson goes to College Park April 21. The Terps will have to play South Carolina two games April 22 because of the postponement of today's game.

In other games today, Duke meets Western Michigan at Tallahassee, Fla. North Carolina plays Florida State at Tallahassee, and North Carolina State entertains Washington & Lee.

Rain Delays First Round Of Azalea Play

By KEN ALYTA
WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—The rain-delayed first round of the $12,000 Azalea Open golf tournament was scheduled today, with a 36-hole windup Saturday for the 34-hole test.

Heavy rain and wind that battered the 6,500-yard Cape Fear Country Club course Thursday forced postponement of the start. Officials acted after first calling a 45-minute halt to the play shortly before noon in the forlorn hope of improved conditions.

But the rain continued, with an occasional clap of thunder, and further play was out of the question. Several greens were under water. About two-thirds of the 87 players had started and a handful were on the back nine when a halt was ordered. All scores were tossed out.

Under the revised schedule, Saturday's double round windup may start at 7 a.m. (EST), with the final round beginning at 11:30 a.m. in order to get everybody in before dusk.

Paret Defends Title Tonight

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Three years and 24 bouts after starting a pro ring career as a rather reluctant warrior, Emile Griffith gets a chance at the world welterweight title tonight.

He meets champion Benny (Kid) Paret in a scheduled 15-rounder at Convention Hall. Although Paret is the 7-5 favorite, some observers believe Griffith's speed and cleverness will prevail.

The bout will be televised over the ABC network starting at 10 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. Promoter Chris Dundee predicts a crowd of 5,000 with a gate of $25,000 at $15 tops. Scoring will be on the 10-point must system.

Griffith wanted no part of fighting when he was wheeled into putting on the gloves by his manager, Howard Albert, a New York milliner. Once started, however, his natural ability has carried him to a record of 22 victories in 24 starts, and an eagerness to wear a crown.

Paret's slight edge is based on his experience and his ability to go 15-rounds. Griffith never has gone more than 10.

Chances appear slim the bout will end in a knockout. Paret has knocked only 10 of 45 opponents, and Griffith only seven of his rivals.

Paret's forte is a dogged, punching offense and a concrete chin. Neither man has been knocked out, and both have been exposed to sluggers.

Griffith won the title shot by outpointing Luis Rodriguez in New York last Dec. 17. Rodriguez had defeated Paret in Havana in 1959.

Griffith was impressive in his final workout Wednesday, moving about on nimble legs and showing a fast pair of hands. Paret never has been impressive in the gym. His style is anything but classic. He just wades in and if he has to take four punches to land one, he'll take four punches.

Blancas Shoots Into Four Stroke Margin

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Homero Blancas made his bid today for a full share of the individual medal championship of the seventh annual All-America Intercollegiate Golf Tournament.

The Houston junior began the final round of the 72-hole tournament with a 71-72-215 and a four-stroke edge over Dicky Duple of Texas A&M.

Blancas missed a chance to capture the championship outright on the final green a year ago and shared the 1960 title with Don Esch of Louisiana State and Larry Beck Houston.

The par 72 by Blancas Friday was the only par-or-better score for the third round on the 6,785-yard Pine Forest Country Club course.

Six strokes off the pace at 221 were Sam Carmichael of LSU and Downing Gray of Florida State. Gray led the first round with a 68 but jumped to a 75-78 in the second and third rounds.

Duple's 72-73-74-219 shot Texas A&M into the team medal lead at 899 as seven of the 20 teams were eliminated.

Houston followed at 906, one stroke ahead of North Texas State. LSU had 914, Florida 918, Florida State 922, Oklahoma State 926, Texas Tech 940, Oklahoma 942, Alabama 945, Baylor 950, New Mexico 953, Texas Wesleyan and Western Illinois 958, Texas 959, Stephen F. Austin (Texas) 975, Southern Methodist and Hardin-Simmons 979, Rice 997, and Yale 1,054.

Teams eliminated were Baylor, Western Illinois, Stephen F. Austin, SMU, Hardin-Simmons, Rice and Yale.

Swimmers Display Power In Meet

By LOU BLACK
NEW HAVEN, CONN. (AP)—Too bad the Olympic games are not being held again this year, say America's top swimming experts here for the National A.A.U. Indoor Swimming Championships.

They feel so good mainly because of the awesome display of power displayed so far in the three-day meet which ends tonight.

There have been seven races and seven American records, tops in a 25-yard (short course) pool. World records can be made only in a long course tank. The way things have been going, hardly anybody will be surprised if the current standards in the eight remaining tests survive after tonight's bombardment.

Six American marks were broken Friday night in five races, two of them in the 440-yard freestyle relay won by the New Haven Swim Club's "A" team and its leadoff star, Mike Austin of Rochester, N. Y.

The quartet of Austin, Jim Looftbourrow, Dave Tyler and Gary Ball finished in 3:15.9, one-eighth of a second under Southern California's record. Austin, a Yale freshman, paced the exciting triumph with 0:47.7 split for the first 100-yards. The listed record was made here last year by Jeff Farrell, 0:48.2.

On opening night, Bitlick bettered the American 400-yard individual medley mark, and Murray Rose, Southern California swimmer from Australia, lowered the meet record in the 1500-meter grind.

Braves' Dressen Optimistic With Pitching Trade

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Some critics contended today that the Milwaukee Braves traded nothing for nothing in obtaining pitchers Moe Drabowsky and Seth Morehead, but not Charlie Dresen, the ever-optimistic Braves manager.

The Braves acquired the two question-mark hurlers from the Chicago Cubs Friday in exchange for a couple of surplus infielders.

Andre Rodgers and farmhand Daryl Robertson.

"Morehead could be just the relief pitcher we have been looking for and Drabowsky could give us an extra starting pitcher," Dresen said with enthusiasm.

The peppery little skipper explained the failure of Morehead and Drabowsky to win in the National League. He said Morehead has always been stuck with a club like the Phillies, or the Cubs, and Chicago fans "gave Drabowsky the bird even before he started to pitch and he was unhappy there."

Present Plans For Big Center

SANFORD, N.C. (AP)—Plans for a $500,000 recreation center, including an 18-hole golf course, were unveiled here Friday by pro golfer Mike Souchak and businessman John Reynolds of Morehead City.

They presented the plans at a meeting with representatives of every major business and industry in Sanford. Reynolds, who heads Better Living, Inc., said his firm was presenting the plan to Sanford in a package to determine whether such offers could be made to similar small towns in the state.

The proposed center would be located on a 500-acre tract four miles northwest of the city. It would include, in addition to a golf course, facilities for swimming, a club house, and riding trails, among other things.

The club house would cost about $250,000, with another $250,000 for the golf course and other facilities.

Final NBA Game On TV Today

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The deciding seventh game of the pro basketball Western finals today matches two of the game's greats—Bob Pettit of St. Louis and Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles—but the key man may be Woody Sauldsberry, not even a Hawk starter when the series opened.

The 2 p.m. EST. game will be televised nationally.

The 6-foot-7 Philadelphia Warriors castoff has been the difference between staying alive and elimination for the Hawks, and Coach Paul Seymour is the first to admit it.

EC Rained Out

East Carolina's scheduled games today at Camp Lejeune have been postponed because of rain according to baseball coach Jim Mallory.

The Bucs who saw their game with Washington & Lee rained out yesterday, will try to get back into action Monday. Mallory has scheduled a couple of morning games with Bowling Green, and Camp Lejeune at the Marine base.

Next home game for East Carolina will be Thursday afternoon when they host Delaware.

Cold Shoulder To PCL 10-Man Team

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—There won't be any 10-player teams in professional baseball this season, and probably not for a long time to come, according to baseball rules officials.

The Playing Rules Committee of the national pastime gave a cold shoulder Friday to such a proposal by the Pacific Coast League's president.

During its two-day session, the committee adopted changes that would:

Allow first and third base coaches to converse with umpires and members of the opposing team. The rule in effect last year prohibited them from needing the opposition or speaking to the ump.

Strengthen the regulation concerning pitchers who intentionally throw at a batter. The 1959 regulation called for a pitcher once warned to be ejected if he threw at a batter's head the second time. The new wording eliminates the word "head."

Prohibit a runner from scoring if he missed home plate and a teammate following him steps on it first. The man who missed would be out.

Require a team to name a manager for a specific game up to 30 minutes before game-time. This takes care of the Chicago Cub situation, where a panel of experts rather than one man has been named to manage the club.

YES, AUNT SOSO HAS CONFESSED, CHIEF.

COLOR ANALYZER GRAPH

SO SO CONFESS HOTEL MAID'S DEATH!

AND THE ELECTRONIC COLOR ANALYZER IS THE GADGET THAT DID IT.

AUNT SOSO CLAIMED SHE WAS IN FRANCE THE DAY THE HOTEL MAID DIED FROM AN OVERDOSE OF KNOCKOUT DROPS ON JANUARY 22.

BUT WE PROVED SHE WAS IN THIS COUNTRY IN HER OWN LIVING ROOM JANUARY 15TH.

THIS NEWSPAPER OF JANUARY 15TH FOUND IN HER LIVING ROOM, HAD ON IT RED SPOTS, WHICH LATER PROVED TO BE BLOBS OF FINGERNAIL POLISH.

THOSE SPOTS OF FINGERNAIL POLISH, COMPARED WITH BITS OF POLISH FROM SOSO'S OWN NAILS, PROVED TO BE IDENTICAL WHEN SUBJECTED TO COLOR ANALYSIS.

IN OTHER WORDS, AUNT SOSO WAS HOME A WEEK BEFORE SHE SAID SHE WAS.

YES, FRESH'S MOTHER WAS AUNT SOSO'S TWIN SISTER—AND SOSO HAD A FANATIC DESIRE FOR REVENGE ON FRESH AND HER BABY.

SHE "BORROWED" THE DRUGGED MAID'S UNIFORM SO SHE COULD GET TO THE CHILD'S ROOM UNNOTICED WITH THIS CIGARETTE LIGHTER.

APPARENTLY, ONE MORNING WHILE SHE WAS PLANNING THIS REVENGE, SHE SAT WITH HER NEWSPAPER AS SHE POLISHED HER FINGERNAILS.

SOME OF THE POLISH DROPPED ON THIS PAPER, WHICH IS DATED JANUARY 15TH.

A GREAT PIECE OF WORK, TRACY!

I NEVER DID FULLY UNDERSTAND JUST HOW THAT ELECTRONIC COLOR ANALYZER WORKS! I'M AMAZED!

Simpson To Host Firemen's Meet

The quarterly meeting of the Pitt Firemen's Association will be held Monday April 3 with the Simpson Volunteer Community Fire Department as hosts.

Simpson, one of Pitt County's newest rural fire organizations will hold the supper at the Simpson Community house starting at 7:30. The supper will be dutch.

Vice President of the Firemen's Association, Roy Hardee said that a meeting of the board of directors will be held at the community center at 6:30. Each department has two elected directors and they are urged to meet with the officers to discuss any problems and to transact the routine business of the organization.

More than 90 firemen representing the fire departments of Pitt County are expected to attend the Monday night meeting.

All departments are urged to contact the Simpson department and give an estimate of the number of men which can be expected from each department.

"We have two departments which have not yet joined the association and we urge that Griffon and Fountain send members to the meeting," Hardee said. We hope to have 100 per cent membership before the annual meeting in July. We have had the best cooperation possible from the new and young rural volunteer departments," Hardee said. Nearly all of these groups have joined the ranks of our organization in seeking a complete fire protection program for all of Pitt County."

Payment Rates For Emergency Grain Program

Payment rates for Pitt County participants in the new Emergency Feed Grain Program were announced today by Wayne L. Wang, office manager for the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Wang said he received notification from Raleigh around noon that the rates for Pitt would be $31.20 and $37.50 per acre.

The $31.20 rate, he said, would apply to participants who place 20 per cent of their acreage under the program to qualify for 50 per cent price support.

The $37.50 rate has been provided for participants who place an additional 20 per cent in the program for the 60 per cent price support.

Wang, who leaves Monday for a State ASC conference, said a meeting has been planned for Williamston April 11 following which sign up for the county's grain producers can begin.

He predicted his office would be prepared to begin the sign up April 13 after receiving more details of the program at the Williamston meeting.

Reorganization Plan Is Ready

RALEIGH (AP) — Another of Gov. Sanford's campaign promises, a reorganized Highway Commission, will begin its path through the General Assembly next week.

The governor has proposed an increase in the size of the agency from seven to 19 members with the commission chairman a full-time official and the chief executive officer.

Sanford, who said his proposal would bring the agency "closer to the people," recommended retention of the post of director of highways as the chief administrative officer of the Highway Department.

He would be appointed to a four-year term by the commission and subject to the approval of the governor.

In proposing the change, Sanford followed precedent established by earlier governors in re-vamping the highway agency at the start of their terms. Former Gov. Hodges had changed it from a 14-member commission to a district concept to a seven-man body operating as a statewide unit.

Sanford's bill will specify that the commission members represent the entire state and not any particular area. However, it calls for division of the state into geographic areas with at least one commissioner assigned to each area.

Under his proposal, terms of the present seven commissioners would end and the new agency would take office July 1 for four-year terms.

Sanford, still sympathetic to the statewide approach, will specify in the bill "that there shall be maintained and developed a statewide system of roads and highways commensurate with the needs of the state as a whole and not to sacrifice the general statewide interest to the purely local desires of any particular area."

First Church of Christ, Scientist

The vital importance for all mankind of the resurrection of Christ Jesus will be stressed Sunday at Christian Science services. Scriptural selections will include accounts from Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John of incidents in the life of Jesus, including the crucifixion, and his resurrection.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy these passages will be read (pp. 292, 293):

"Truth will be to us the resurrection and the life, only as it destroys all error and the belief that Mind, the only immortality of man, can be fettered by the body, and Life be controlled by death. . . . In his resurrection and ascension, Jesus showed that a mortal man is not the real essence of manhood, and that this unreal material mortality disappears in presence of the reality."

Reedy Branch To Tell Easter Story

Interview Health Post Applicant

Pitt County's Board of Health Friday interviewed a prospective successor to county health director Dr. Georgia V. Mills.

Chairman Robert G. Little said today the board members were "impressed" with the unidentified prospect who visited the county yesterday.

He said the prospect recommended by state health department officials agreed to notify the board Tuesday of his decision about taking over the county health department.

"If he decides to take the job and the board decides to hire him, he would be ready to go to work Monday week (April 10)," Little said.

Dr. Mills, whose original resignation was not effective until May 31, was expected to assume new duties as assistant health director in Forsyth County next week, Little said.

Shimmy Wasn't As She Thought

MUNCIE, Ind. (AP) — Jane Craig told City Court Judge Walter Tanner she couldn't have been driving her car at 50 miles an hour because "it starts to shimmy when you get over 30." Her hearing waited while Deputy Sheriff Richard Hufford went out to test-drive her car. "It does have a shimmy," Hufford reported later. "It develops between 52 and 53 miles an hour."

"Ten dollars and costs," said Judge Tanner.

missioners at its March meeting authorized an appropriation to hire the county's first full-time assistant and offered the position to Dr. Mills at an annual salary of around $11,000.

When the position was offered a definite date for Dr. Mills' beginning her new job was not set. However, the Pitt commissioners and board of health agreed to allow her to terminate her services here yesterday.

Little said today Dr. Mills has "turned over her keys and parked her county car in the county car pool."
