Kennedy Trip 'Very Fine;' Report To Nation Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy returned to America this morning after a "very fine trip" to see leaders in Europe. He will make a report to the nation tonight.

Kennedy, who seemed relatively bouncy despite the arduous of his trip, made no speech at the airport.

He told newsmen he had a "very fine, fine trip."

When the helicopter landed on the White House grounds, Kennedy, Dirksen and Fulbright remained in for a couple of minutes in an animated discussion.

Public Housing Authority Issues Statement Saying Members Will Not Resign

Public Housing Authority members let it be known last night that they wouldn't resign in answer to a request from Mayor Charles M. King that they do so.

The statement which the authority issued said that by their presence at last night's meeting it could be assumed the Authority members "intend to serve their appointed times and are ready to go to work."

No official action was taken on the statement but the authority members indicated unanimous agreement.

Committee Named To Study County's Long Range Needs

Pitt County's Commissioners Monday named a 17-member overall planning committee to study the needs of the county.

Represented on the 17-member panel are officials and laymen involved in various movements to improve various phases of the county's business and activities.

Chairman Robert G. Little of the Commissioners was named temporary chairman of the group until a meeting of its members can be arranged for the purpose of electing a permanent chairman.

The overall committee is designed to provide a long range planning group to study together the needs among the county's agencies that have been urged by various groups.

Local Firm Replacing High Microwave Tower

The 100-foot microwave tower atop Carolina Telephone's building at the intersection of Pitt and Fifth Streets is being replaced, according to Manager Frank Harrington.

The 8 1/2-ton structure is now being dismantled to make way for a 16-ton tower of the same height, which is much stronger—so much in fact that it will withstand hurricane winds in excess of 140 miles per hour.

Workmen began removing the present tower Friday and it is anticipated that erection of the new tower will be completed in about three weeks. The project is expected to cost over $26,000.

Commission To Leave Thursday

By BEN F. MEYER WASHINGTON (AP)—A five-nation special commission is expected to leave Thursday to determine whether the Dominican Republic is moving toward more freedom for its people or toward an even tighter dictatorship.

A seven-nation committee of the Organization of American States voted Monday to send the commission to investigate conditions in the Caribbean country following the assassination last week of dictator Rafael Trujillo.

The unanimous acceptance of a U.S. request for the investigation came after Dominican Foreign Minister Profrino Herrera Baez said his country would welcome the special mission.

The decision marked the first victory in an inter-American agency for the administration of President Kennedy. The United States had strong support in the proposal from other American republics but the initiative clearly came from Washington.

Party Honors Miss Rutledge

AYDEN—Miss Bonny Rutledge, who will marry Charles M. Whitehurst on June 11, was honored Saturday evening at a dessert bridge party given by Mrs. Larry Davis, Mrs. Faust Johnson, and Mrs. Robert Harris at the Davis home.

The bride was presented with a corsage of red roses when she arrived. Strawberry parfaits and bridal petits fours with nuts were served to the 20 guests at tables covered with white linen and centered with white candles in silver candleholders adorned with lily-of-the-valley, ivy and tulle.

The high score and traveling prizes were won by Miss Rutledge, while Mrs. Hubert Worthington won low score. The hostesses presented the honoree with crystal from her chosen pattern.

Winner for high score in the hostesses' bridge club, who were also guests of Mrs. Davis, was Mrs. R. H. Worthington.

With Farm Women

By MAIDRED MORRIS MEALS IN MINUTES. Miss Faith Hudson of Fairfield, R. 2, is learning quick cooking methods from her mother, Mrs. W.W. Hudson.

Mrs. Elsie Edwards, assistant home economics agent in Tyrrell County, says Faith makes drop cookies using the basic mixer.

KITCHEN WORKSHOPS. "More efficient and convenient kitchens are being planned by homemakers in Randolph County," says Mrs. Virginia Smith, assistant home economics agent.

CIVIL DEFENSE. Mrs. Howard Griffin of Centerville Club in Franklin County gave a demonstration at her local club meeting on civil defense.

Mrs. Lillie Mae Dean, home economics agent, reports Mrs. Griffin bought enough food to last two weeks for one person.

YEAST BREADS. Do you know how to make good homemade bread? Home Demonstration Club women in Scotland County attended a workshop so they could learn to make yeast breads.

Mrs. Laura B. Wright, home economics agent, says Miss Lillian good time herself. She never does at her own which often begin at 10 p.m. and last until 4 or 5 in the morning.

"Either you give it or you go to your own party. You can't do both," she insists. "If you go to your own you run the risk of people floundering around, not mixing well, or knowing what to do with themselves."

None of the foreign visitors will flounder, from the time they are met by a student from their own nation, until they are homeward bound.

"I feel deeply about the reputation we have abroad as bad mannered Americans.

I have the avowed intention of sending our guests home saying, 'That's not so about the Americans. I'm going to watch over our collective manners.'"

Betty's Selling Manners

Party Peeves

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON AP Newsfeatures Writer NEW YORK (AP)—Betty Furness is making out her list of party peeves about partygivers and is checking it twice before her own plans fall to entertain 3,000 for- each visitors this fall.

BETTY FURNESS

TV's best known saleswoman is chairman of a hospitality committee which will play host to the International Assembly of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences here Nov. 4 to 11.

Representatives from nearly every country in the world, including a score without television stations at present, will study the educational potential of the media.

Her "do not" rules, adopted after observing the mistakes of other hostesses, should be helpful to any party giver anywhere.

"You know the type who refuses to spell things out," says the golden blonde in an unforgettable pink butterfly perched on it.

"I think it's horrendous for somebody to ask, 'What are you doing Saturday night?' It's nobody's business!" She explodes.

"What if you truthfully answer,

"Nothing"? Then you're stuck with doing something you haven't the least inclination for simply because you haven't an excuse."

According to Betty's spell-it-out system, the right way is to say something like, "We're planning to have eight for dinner, then games or just conversation afterwards. That gives a person a chance to decline gracefully if the idea does not appeal to her."

People who are vague about timing annoy her, too. "I think it's absolutely awful to say, for example, you are expected 'about 7:30' When is 'about' 7:40? 8? Who knows?"

Betty expects a hostess to have a time schedule: "We are going to have drinks at 7:30. Dinner will be served at 8:30."

Other hostesses on her peeve list fail to be specific on the matter of dress.

"Oh...ah. Just be casual." Now what does that mean? You come in a skirt and sweater and everybody else arrive in sundresses cut down to here.

"Be comfortable," they affluently advise me. So four come without ties feeling like jerks with every other man in the place in business suits."

At that biggest part of her life this November, Betty doesn't expect everything to go all right. "Nothing ever does." But she intends to do plenty of spelling out, as to New York weather, timing and type of social activities, kinds of dress required.

Nor does she intend to have a

Couple Marry In Raleigh Monday

RALEIGH — The marriage of Miss Constance Mather Garrenton and James Acra Hackney, III, took place on Monday, June 5, at 3:30 in the afternoon, in the Danforth Chapel on the State College Campus in Raleigh. The Rev. N. W. Grant of Fairmont Methodist Church in Raleigh officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Connell G. Garrenton of Bethel. Mr. and Mrs. James A. Hackney Jr. of Washington, N.C. are parents of the bridegroom.

Mrs. W. R. Hunnicutt of Bethel, organist, presented the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor-length white silk organza dress with scalloped neckline trimmed with a narrow band of satin which formed loops on the dress where the scallops met. The satin trim design was repeated on the front panel of the skirt. An elbow length veil of illusion attached to a crown of seed pearls was worn by the bride. She carried a bouquet of Calla lilies.

Miss Barbara Mather Garrenton of Bethel, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of light blue nylon organza with satin cummerbund, and carried a nosegay.

Mr. James A. Hackney Jr. of Washington, N. C. was his son's best man. Ushers were Ralph Hodges Hackney, brother of the bridegroom of Washington, N.C., Julius Paul Brauer of Norlina, Bill Haywood Kinsey, cousin of the bride of Washington, N.C. and Truman Lewis King of Raleigh.

After a wedding trip to Western North Carolina, the couple will be at home in Washington, N.C.

A reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Garrenton, in Bethel on June 10.

A luncheon was given for the Hackney-Garrenton wedding party and out-of-town guests on the day of the wedding by the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hackney Jr. in Raleigh.

Luncheon Given Bride-Elect

Miss Melissa Whichard, bride-elect of June 11, was guest of honor at a luncheon Saturday. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Earl Jackson and Mrs. Ralph Paul.

Upon arrival, Miss Whichard was presented with a corsage of white pom poms.

An arrangement of larkspur and ivy, featuring the traditional green and white, decorated the luncheon table.

Twelve guests were served a three course luncheon preceded by tomato juice cocktails.

The hostesses presented the honoree with a cake bowl in crystal.

Miss Rutledge Party Honoree

AYDEN—Miss Bonny Rutledge, bride-elect of June 11, was entertained at a bridge party Friday night at the home of Mrs. Harry Mumford. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Mumford, Mrs. R. H. Worthington, Mrs. W. O. Jolly Jr. and Mrs. Brantley Jolly.

Decorations throughout the home consisted of floral arrangements in pink, green and white. Outstanding were the small table appointments of dainty sweetheart roses.

The honoree was presented a corsage of pink rosebuds, after which the guests were served refreshments. For the dessert course, each table was centered with a pink taper surrounded by favors of rice tied in sparkling pink net secured with lilies-of-the-valley.

The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. J. C. Whitehurst Sr., joined the group during the dessert period. Assorted nuts and frozen ribbon cake and ice cream in the colors of the decorative motif were served those present.

Later in the evening the hostesses served pink punch with assorted salt niblets.

Miss Rutledge received, upon conclusion of play, an antique white reproduction bedspread. Prizes for bridge were awarded to Mrs. John Blackwell and Miss Brenda Davis.

Travelers say they value cleanliness more than radio or TV facilities in a hotel room.

Goldfine's Silence Could Extend His Prison Stay

BOSTON (AP)—Upon Bernard Goldfine's willingness to make full disclosure of financial manipulations exceeding $600,000 depends the length of his stay behind bars, federal sources said today.

The ailing 70-year-old industrialist, beginning a jail sentence of a year and a day for evasion of nearly $800,000 in federal income taxes, could win freedom in four months, these sources said, or might be imprisoned 2½ years.

U. S. Dist. Judge George C. Sweeney sentencing Goldfine Monday, attached a condition to the defendant's five-year probation—

Delay Sentence In 7 Tax Cases

GREENSBORO (AP)— Federal Judge Edwin M. Stanley has delayed until Aug. 31 sentencing of seven persons who pleaded guilty Monday to indictments on charges they violated income tax laws.

He said the time would allow these defendants to settle liabilities with the Internal Revenue Service.

that Goldfine give the attorney general all information, of whatever character on funds taken from Strathmore Woolen Co. and other Goldfine holdings through cash withdrawals or checks written to cash.

Such withdrawals, the judge said, total something in excess of $600,000 and it is the intent of the court to compel disclosure of where this money is and where it went.

Reports issued from the federal building that a grand jury would be called to hear Goldfine if the defendant decided to comply with the disclosure requirement.

Goldfine began his sentence at the federal correctional institution at Danbury, Conn., late Monday. He had been a prisoner there before, when he served a 90-day sentence last year for contempt of court.

Goldfine, born in Russia, made a fortune in textiles and real estate and spent freely on gifts for influential men. A congressional committee threw a spotlight in 1958 on his lavish gifts and hospitality for government officials. Out of that came the resignation of former Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire as White House assistant to President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Adams admitted Goldfine had paid some of his hotel bills and given him an expensive vicuna coat.

He denied any wrongdoing, despite testimony that he had telephoned the Securities and Exchange Commission for reports on proceedings against Goldfine.

Goldfine's blonde secretary Mildred Paperman, 43, was placed on probation for three years for evasion of corporate income taxes as an officer of the Strathmore company. She was given an indeterminate suspended sentence.

Both Goldfine and his secretary were ordered to pay the evaded taxes plus penalties and interest.

Mrs. Kennedy Is Staying In London

LONDON (AP)— Jacqueline Kennedy stayed behind today while her husband flew home to report to the American people on his European tour.

Mrs. Kennedy remained in London to visit her sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, and will fly to Greece Wednesday for some rest and sightseeing and a short cruise to islands in the Aegean Sea.

America's beautiful young First Lady was captivated London just as she did Paris and Vienna.

In her last official appearance at Buckingham Palace Monday night she displayed still another new hairdo that drew a chorus of "oohs" and "ahhs" from spectators outside. Her black hair was lifted high in front, nestled in slight waves across her ears and tucked into a swept-up bun enhanced with diamond clips and diamond-drop earrings.

Queen Elizabeth II gave what was described as a "good old English dinner" for the President and his wife under soft lighting in the palace's state dining room.

Mrs. Kennedy wore an American-made sleeveless gown of pale blue silk with a V-neck at the back, bow at the waist and loosely gathered bell skirt.

The queen wore a full-length gown of larkspur-blue silk tulle with a fitted bodice and full skirt. Kennedy was the first U. S. President to dine at the palace since Woodrow Wilson in 1918.

"Jackie stole the show," said one member of the palace staff.

Several thousand Britons let go with cries of "Jackie" as the Kennedys left the palace.

Throughout Monday crowds watched outside the four-story Georgian town house of the Radziwills, where the President and his wife were staying. They cheered every arrival and departure. Shouts of "we want Jackie" brought out the President, his wife and her sister, Princess Radziwill, to pose and wave.

"Mrs. Kennedy puts sparkle into London's day," said a headline in the London Evening News. The Evening Standard called her "dazzling Jackie."

Swimming Classes Open At Local Moose Lodge Pool

SWIMMING LESSONS BEGIN . . . Moose Lodge Secretary Ed Baldree (left) signs up 20 youngsters for swimming lessons under supervision of life guards Holland, Van Nortwick and Graham.

Swimming classes for children of local Moose Lodge members got underway yesterday under the direction of four life guards who will serve at the Lodge's pool this summer.

According to lodge secretary Ed Baldree, around 20 children have enrolled in the daily classes that begin at 9 a.m.

Instructors are Stuart Holland, James "Monty" Graham and Nat Van Nortwick.

While the hour-long swim classes began Monday, the lodge pool opened Saturday for the new season. It remains open daily from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m. to lodge members and their families.

Simulating Trip To Moon, Back

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Two airmen have started out to spend as much time in a simulated space cabin as it would take them to fly to the moon and back.

Capt. Lewis C. Gang, 38, and Bernard L. Westfall, 30, began their 17-day, make-believe journey in an 8X12 sealed steel tank Monday at 12:15 p.m.

Scientists at the school of aerospace medicine expect the tests will give them a better idea of how men will perform under conditions in space.

Dr. Billy Welch if the school said the 17-day length was chosen because it "is the duration of the missions that will be applicable in the next five years."

New Law Aims At Unruly Mobs

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—State highway patrolmen and city commissioners as well as mayors will be allowed to disperse riotous or unlawful crowds under a new Florida law.

The old law granted such authority in cities only to the mayor. The Tallahassee City Commission, which asked for the expanded authority, said it found the old law cumbersome in dealing with trouble arising from integration activities on highways.

The bill was introduced in the wake of riots in Alabama resulting from activities of "Freedom Riders." It was signed Monday by Gov. Farris Bryant.

Junta Leaders Meet Americans

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—South Korea's new military rulers made their first public appearance today with U.S. representatives who opposed their coup three weeks ago.

The 32-man military junta attended memorial services at the national military cemetery for soldiers killed in the Korean War. Also present were U.S. Charge d'Affaires Marshall Green and Gen. Carter B. Magruder, the U.N. and U.S. commander in Korea.

Duke Diplomas For Ten Pitt Countians

DURHAM—Five students from Greenville, two from Ayden and three from Farmville were among the more than 1,100 persons to be awarded degrees by Duke University on Monday.

From Greenville, those receiving degrees were Clifton E. Crandell, Master of Education; Nancy Ann Hoot, Bachelor of Arts; Jerry Morris Howell, Bachelor of Arts; Henry L. Stuart, Bachelor of Arts; and Grayson Waldrop, Bachelor of Arts.

Randall Leon Harrington of Ayden received his Doctor of Medicine degree and Anne Griffith Yorke of Ayden received the Bachelor of Arts degree.

The Doctor of Medicine degree was also awarded Thomas Anthony El-Ramey of Farmville, Charles Salisbury Hotchkiss and Albert Coy Monk III, both of Farmville, received their Bachelor of Arts degrees.

More than 1,100 students received degrees in the university's 109th commencement exercises, including students from 38 states and 18 foreign countries. Dr. Deryl Hart, in his first commencement appearance as president of Duke, awarded the degrees. Principal speaker was Dr. William S. Middleton of Washington, D. C., chief medical director for the Veterans Administration.

Warns Of Relying On Powers Alone

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—President Tito Monday said he welcomed the Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting in Vienna but warned that big powers cannot decide the fate of humanity by themselves.

Speaking at the Serbian town of Krusevac, Tito said, "We welcome wholeheartedly this meeting which should have taken place much earlier and which we proposed at the last U.N. General Assembly."

But, he said, uncommitted countries will not permit big powers to decide world issues alone. "We will not permit the fate of humanity to be tailored by a few persons," he declared.

Beaten And Bruised, Youth Returns Home After Riot, All-Night Search

By BLOYS BRITT
TRINITY, N.C. (AP)—A 20-year-old white youth, object of an all-night search after a fight between white and Negroes, walked into the yard of his father's home at about dawn today. His body bore welts and bruises from a beating with leather straps.

Robert Parris said he lay "padded out" under a house some distance from the scene of the fight while an angry crowd of about 250 white persons, county police and state troopers looked for him.

He disappeared about 8:30 p.m. after an interracial fracas at the small grill Parris operates in the heart of this rural community of 1,000. Officers said Monday morning Parris refused to serve some Negroes who promised to return.

During the night bands of white youths roamed the area, some of them carrying such make-shift weapons as tire tools, meat cleavers, and axes. Officers confiscated the weapons and restored order to the community. They said about a dozen white youths and some 40 Negroes were involved in the fracas. No charges had been made early this morning.

All was quiet in the neighborhood when Parris, bedraggled and hungry, walked out of the woods to his father's modest two-story home.

He told Randolph County Sheriff Wayne Wilson that several Negro youths jumped him when he closed the grill for the night. They knocked him down and beat him with belts and sticks.

"I was on the bottom of them most of the time, and they couldn't get at me very well. I finally rolled out from under them. I couldn't see anything but Negroes so I took off," the husky 190-pounder said.

Parris said he fled and some of the Negroes chased him across a wooded area.

"I dived under this house, but I had run so hard, I passed out. When I came to, it was light, and I walked home."

Parris said three Negro youths came to the grill Monday morning and asked to be served inside the building.

"I usually give them something to drink and take out," he said, "but this time they wanted inside. I refused to let them in."

He said the owner of the building, John McPherson, ordered the Negroes to leave to avoid trouble.

"When they started to leave," Parris said, "some of the white boys said something to them. They (the Negroes) turned and told me, 'We'll see you when you get off tonight.'"

Sheriff Wilson said a carful of Negroes went to the grill and about 30 others arrived on foot about 8:30 p.m.

Bystanders said the Negroes gathered across the road from the grill on Trinity High School grounds. The school is located on the spot where Trinity College, now Duke University, was first located.

The Negroes were armed with bottles, knives, clubs and other weapons, the witnesses said.

"Some of the white people said the Negroes then surrounded the grill and came at it from all four sides," said Deputy Sheriff R. E. Weston. "That's when the fight broke out. When the Negroes drew knives and showed their other weapons, the white youths scattered and ran."

Two other white youths were injured slightly in the melee. One, Bobby Joe Chapman, 16, was treated for a head wound at a High Point hospital and released. Officers said racial tension had been brewing in the residential neighborhood for several days. The first actual clash came Sunday with a fight between a small group of Negro and white youths. A Negro, Eugene Brown, was injured slightly in that fight. Parris said he was not involved in the Sunday scrap.

While Parris was missing, Sheriff Wilson prepared for a house-to-house search of the area at dawn, particularly in the Negro neighborhood about half a mile from the grill.

Town Officials Assess Future In Wake Of Blaze

AYER, Mass. (AP)—Town officials and businessmen met today to assess the future in the wake of a devastating fire which destroyed two industrial plants and 10 dwellings with an unofficial loss estimated at $6 million.

In smoldering ruins after Monday night's fire were the town's largest employer, Hartnett Tanning Co., and the International Purchasing Co., a rope-making firm, along with the dwellings of some 40 persons.

The disastrous fire raged along a quarter-mile front, devouring all buildings in its path. A 20-mile-an-hour wind whipped the flames which firefighters battled for more than four hours.

Heavy smoke felled 25 persons. Another 10 persons suffered minor injuries.

Loss of the tannery was a particularly hard blow to this central Massachusetts town of 15,000. The plant, which employs about 400, is the town's main industry and has distributed over $2 million in bonuses annually.

Kennedy, Hodges To Address Meet

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is to speak to the United States Conference of Mayors here June 13.

The chief executive will make a luncheon address in the second day of the three-day convention of the conference, which currently is headed by Mayor Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia. Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges and Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall also are on the list of speakers.

Rising Concern Economic Upturn To Be Inflationary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top White House advisers say there is rising concern in the Kennedy administration over the threat that business recovery will revive inflation.

There is no thought of resorting to direct price or wage controls barring "a wartime situation," said Chairman Walter W. Heller of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

But Heller added: "We will have to exercise self-restraint to a degree perhaps never known before."

Three administration leaders—Heller, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, and Walt Whitman Rostow, special assistant to the President—stressed the renewed threat of advancing prices in addresses to the Advertising Council Monday.

The council's an organization of national advertisers and advertising agencies which donate millions of dollars worth of free advertising each year to campaigns in the public interest.

Heller told the advertisers the vigor of the business upturn should lift rational output to a record $330 billion yearly rate by the end of 1961—a 5 per cent gain from the first quarter—and should generate enough tax revenues to give government a budget surplus in fiscal 1963.

But he and other officials stressed that a resumption of living cost increases may be a by-product of prosperity unless unions settle for moderate wage advances and management holds prices in check.

"As we go into the new wage negotiations, the question is whether we will negotiate our way into inflation or whether we can exercise discipline without wage and price controls," said Rostow.

Heller disclosed that the problem is currently before the President's Labor-Management Advisory Committee. The administration is hoping the committee of labor, industry and public representatives can lay out guidelines for wages and prices in major industries like steel and autos.

Doctor Says Trujillo-Killers Held Him, Family As Hostages

By E. L. ALMEN

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—A young doctor said four of those who plotted the assassination of the late dictator Rafael Trujillo's assassination held him and his family hostage for four days until hunger drove them out of hiding.

Dr. Robert Reid Cabral said his home was commandeered by the four fugitives shortly after Trujillo was gunned down last Tuesday night.

Reid Cabral said he, his pregnant wife and their infant son were held hostages until Sunday.

The family's ordeal ended when the fugitives, desperate for food and cigarettes, came out of hiding. Within two hours, two of the four had met death in a gun battle with police. The two others surrendered to authorities.

Leader of the group and alleged mastermind of the assassination was retired Gen. Juan Tomas Diaz, 52.

Reid Cabral told this story: After the Trujillo slaying, Diaz and his accomplices went to the office of another physician, Dr. Marcelino Velez, to get treatment for a bullet wound.

The men threatened Velez unless he found them a hiding place and he took them to Reid Cabral's home. When Reid Cabral opened the door, Diaz and Antonio de la Maza forced their way in with guns drawn. Later two other fugitives moved in.

Cabral said the fugitives tried to get him to relay word to a person identified only as "Wimpy" to tell Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt that "the tyrant is dead."

Wimpy was to try to drum up support in Latin America for the Dominican Revolutionary Movement, the country's opposition party. Reid Cabral refused to relay the information, despite threats to liquidate him and his family.

"Every day they said they would leave at night, but the hour never arrived," the doctor said. "They constantly asked me to find cigarettes and when I delayed, Diaz suffered a terrible attack of nerves."

"They asked me to find some potassium cyanide because they preferred to commit suicide rather than to be taken alive. I firmly refused."

Tension became so great, the four began to have violent arguments about what to do. One of the fugitives, Salvador Estrella fainted from hunger.

When they finally decided to leave the house, De la Maza gave Mrs. Reid Cabral his gold ring and a fountain pen to be delivered to his wife. Diaz left a diamond pin for his son.

Two hours after they came out into the open, police spotted Diaz and De la Maza in downtown Ciudad Trujillo. Diaz was machine-gunned to death and Maza died of wounds soon afterward in a military hospital.

The other two, Estrella and Luis Caceres Michel, gave themselves up voluntarily.

Sugg Addresses Optimist Club

Bruce B. Sugg Jr., vice president of State Bank and Trust Co., last night addressed the Greenville Optimist Club on "The High Cost of Dying."

Sugg, who is also trust officer for the Greenville bank, used a film strip to illustrate his discussion of recommended methods of establishing estates to effect savings in tax dollars.

He pointed out trust funds can be used to reduce the amount of federal inheritance taxes that can be levied against estates.

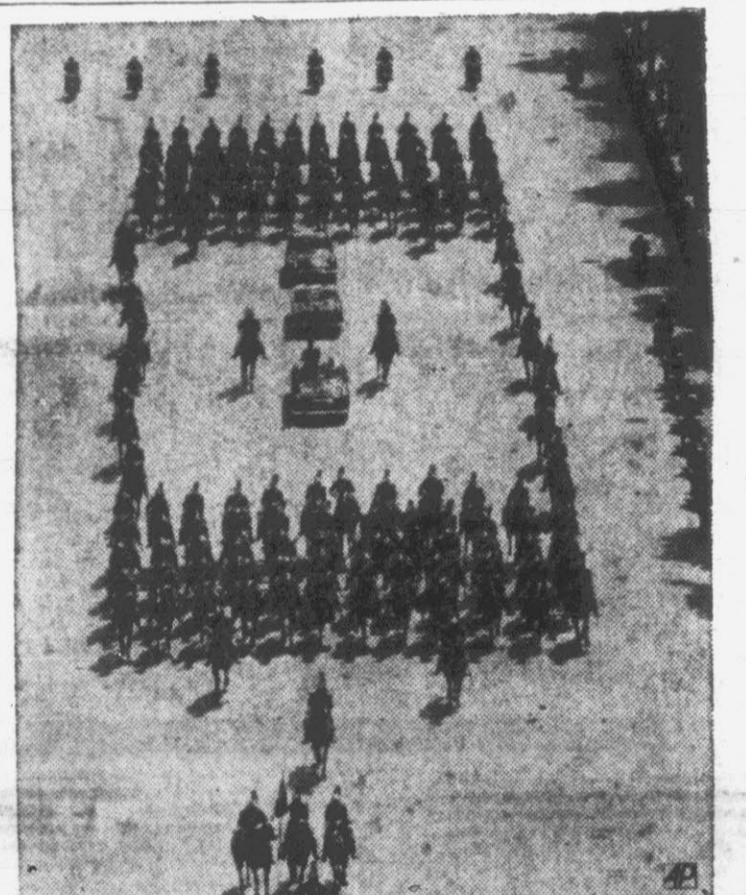

Sugg also described methods that can be employed to reduce the amounts of gift taxes charged against gifts within families.

Optimist President Walter R. Whitehurst welcomed five members of the Goldsboro Optimist Club who visited the Greenville Optimists for last night's dinner meeting.

He also reported to the club the recent Optimist fund-raising project — sponsorship of a stage play—was successful.

The evening's program was arranged by Optimist Billy Ross.

Take Second—
The Jaycees yesterday blasted Coca-Cola, 9-1, and moved out of a tie into undisputed grip of second place in the North State League. John Cayton limited Coke's bats to three hits—all singles—in going the distance. Cayton hurled a perfect game until the fourth inning when William Moye singled. He walked only one Coke batter and struck out 10.

the winning run after Greg Jones had tied it up by scoring on an error, a passed ball, a base hit and another error. Billy Brown led the Moose's losing attack with two hits in three trips—one of them a two-run home run in the third. Russell Cayton also had two for three. Dave Fowler and Beaman led the Elks with two hits in three at-bats each. Milton Hadley went the distance on the mound for the Elks, scattering seven hits. Brown, Moose hurler, absorbed the loss.

Champions of the Greenville Golf and Country Club, along with the runner-ups, were named today. In one of the hottest battles that the Greenville course has ever experienced, Don Conley defeated Bo Farley in the Championship flight of the annual affair, giving the 22-year-old his second club championship. Farley, head basketball coach at J. H. Rose High School here in Greenville, has also won the club title two times.

With the top small-college pitchers in the nation at hand, the prospects for an easy clean-sweep of the tournament by any one of the eight teams represented is not likely. However, the collection of good hitters competing in today's opener. Leading the Pirates, average-wise, is Lawrence (Cotton) Clayton, with a batting average of .393 during the regular season. The former Zeb Vance High School standout collected 24 hits, and drove in 20 runs.

Hot 'Injuns' Close Tiger Lead To One Game In AL

By ED WILKS
The Cleveland Indians, barred from high stake card games by Manager Jimmy Dykes, are playing a hot hand at the moment in the American League race, moving within one game of first place with a seven-game winning streak.

Dykes ruled out the big pots to make sure the Tribe kept their minds on baseball, and the Injuns have done just that. Out of the first division just one day this season, they've stacked the bullpen with aces and have come from seven games back by winning 19 of their last 23.

The three-man fireman brigade of right-handers Frank Funk and Barry Latman and lefty Bob Allen has a 13-3 record. With seven saves tacked on, those three have been in on 20 of Cleveland's 31 victories. Latman, acquired in the Herb Score deal with the Chicago White Sox last year, nailed a 4-0 record and hung up the Indians' seventh Major League Stars in a row Monday night, breaking a 5-5 tie with a triple and blanking Washington in four innings of two-hit relief for a 7-5 victory over the Senators. That put the Indians even with front-running Detroit in the decisive "lost" column as the White Sox knocked off the Tigers 8-0 behind the seven-hit pitching of Frank Baumann. Third-place New York drew within four games of the top with a 6-1 and 6-2 twin-night doubleheader sweep over the Minnesota Twins. The Los Angeles Angels dropped fourth-place Baltimore 3-0 on southpaw Ron Moeller's six-hitter.

Kansas City split a doubleheader at Boston, winning 10-6 after the Red Sox had won the opener 6-2. In the National League, Cincinnati defeated Milwaukee 5-3 and climbed back on top by a half-game over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who were beaten 5-2 by Pittsburgh. Philadelphia dropped San Francisco to third, 3-2, and St. Louis out-slugged Chicago's Cubs 10-8.

The Indians, after blowing 3-0 and 5-3 leads behind starter Johnny Antonelli and Bobby Locke, finally made it with two unearned runs in the seventh at Washington against losing reliever John Gabel (2-2). Latman's two-out triple triggered the rally and gave the bullpen three victories and three saves in the Tribe's seven-game streak. Cleveland collected 15 hits—including a 4-for-4 show by the three pitchers—with Jimmy Pier-sall cracking a triple and three singles and Johnny Romano extending his hit streak through 20 games with a double.

Baumann (4-4) gave the White Sox staff its first shutout and became the first lefty to all the way against Detroit this season. He also had three hits and drove in three runs. Right-hander Phil Regan, a five-game winner for Detroit, lost his second in a row when the Sox scored twice in the second inning on two walks and singles by Jim Landis and Sherm Lollar.

The Yankees set AL home run records for 13 and 14 consecutive games while tagging the Twins with an 11-game losing string. A three-run, pinch homer by Johnny Blanchard did it in the seventh inning of the opener, and Mickey Mantle then regained a tie for the AL lead with his 5th, a two-run shot, in the eighth. That made it 27 home runs in 13 games for New York, and Tony Kubek made it 28 for 14 in the nightcap with a two-run homer in the seventh against losing reliever John Gabel (2-2). Latman's two-out triple triggered the rally and gave the in a row, first as a starter, with relief by Luis Arroyo in the opener. Rookie Roland Sheldon (2-2) then pitched his first complete game with a six-hitter in the second game, clinching it with a first major league hit, a two-run single, in the fifth. Don Lee and Chuck Stobbs, both 0-2, were the losers.

Ted Kuszewski hammered a two-run homer in the first inning for the Angels off Herb Brown (15-2), who had won four in a row. It was Klu's sixth hit off Baltimore pitching this season—all home runs. Moeller, an ex-Bird, struck out nine—fanning Brooks Robinson and Jim Gentile with the bases loaded in the fifth, and whiffing Jerry Adair and pinch-hitter Dave Philley with two on in the sixth. It was his first victory and complete game in the majors.

Mike Fornieles (2-2) gave up 10 hits but went all the way while making his first start in three seasons for Boston in the opener. Frank Malzone's single broke a 2-2 tie in the sixth off Ray Herbert (3-3). Joe Nuxhall (4-1) won the second game, with relief help from Bill Kunkel. Norm Siebern reached base eight times in a row for the A's in the twinbill, hitting a home run in a decisive five-run fifth in the second game against reliever Dave Hillman (2-2).

SPORT SLANTS . . . . . by Pap'

Over a stretch of a dozen years, there has been a definite change in baseball scouting trends. Where the accent was once on finding husky young prospects who could knock the ball out of sight, it has since changed to a search for speed.

The first thing a big league scout looks for today is speed. Then the prospect is rated on his throwing ability. After that, they look for hitting ability. They figure a youngster who can run and throw can be taught to become a better or stronger hitter. But his speed and arm are something the boy must have come by naturally. That could be the reason the players are running again in the big leagues. It is a matter of the number of bases stolen each season. For example: 694 bases were stolen in both major leagues in 1955; 741 by 1958; 853 in 1959 and last year, 923. That's an increase of about 33 per cent over a five-year stretch.

The lost art of stealing bases has been revived by the speed boys like Luis Aparicio of the White Sox. Luis swiped 51 bases last season to lead the American League in that department for the fifth year in succession. In 1959, he made it 56 times. With eight games added to the American League schedule, Aparicio should up his stealing considerably. Especially, if he maintains his 1960 average when he was thrown out only eight times in 59 attempts to steal. In the National League, Maury Wills set the pace with 50 stolen bases on 62 attempts. Yes, the search for speed is paying off . . . and much of the old excitement has returned to the game.

Last 85 Spots In U.S. Open 'Up For Grabs'

By DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The last 85 vacancies in the 150-man field for the U.S. Open golf championship go up for grabs today with Samuel Jackson Snead spotlighted as he reaches for the 21st straight time for the one crown he's never won.

Snead, who claims at 49 he's a "better golfer now than 10 or 20 years ago," will be among 32 professionals and 16 amateurs aiming for 11 berths in the 36-hole sectional qualifier at Detroit's Grosse Isle Golf and Country Club. If he qualifies, he'll be playing in the Open for the 21st consecutive time.

Many of the other regulars on golf's touring circuit will be battling for places in the premier U.S. championship that will be played at the Oakland Hills Country Club course in Birmingham, Mich., June 5-17.

Forty-four berths were filled in seven locations Monday. The 85 others today join 21 exempt players to make up the 150-man lineup for the open championship next week.

A year ago Vern Law was a 20-game winner and the Pittsburgh Pirates were on top. Now it's news when the big right-hander wins one and the Pirates are fourth.

It's been as simple as that to spotlight the Bucs' slump in the National League race, what with Law losing four of his first five and Bob Friend, an 18-game winner last season, losing seven in a row as a starter.

It also could be as simple as a return to form by the two aces for the champs to get back on top. For with Law winning his first in more than a month, the fourth-place Pirates moved within 2 1/2 games of first place and knocked Los Angeles out of the lead with a 5-2 victory over the Dodgers Monday night.

Cincinnati jumped back on top by a half game, by beating Milwaukee 5-3. Last-place Philadelphia dropped San Francisco to third with a 3-2 decision over the Giants. St. Louis defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-8.

In the American League, Chicago's White Sox defeated Detroit 6-0, shaving the Tigers' lead to one game over the second-place Cleveland Indians, who won their seventh in a row with a 7-5 decision at Washington. New York took two from Minnesota, 6-1 and 6-2; the Los Angeles Angels beat Baltimore 3-0; and Kansas City split a doubleheader at Boston, winning 10-6 after the Red Sox won the opener 6-2.

Law, bothered by a sore shoulder and home runs, avoided both troubles at Los Angeles. He gave up eight hits and blew a 2-0 lead, but then singled home the tie-breaker in the sixth against losing reliever Ron Ferrasloski (3-1) before giving way for a pinch-hitter. Face then saved it, with two-innings of one-hit, shutout relief. Bill Mazerowski and Smoky Burgess homered for the Pirates, who collected 13 hits.

The Reds came from behind and beat Lew Burdette (4-5) with a three-run eighth inning on homers by Frank Robinson and Jerry Lynch. Robinson singled and Lynch doubled as they scored Cincinnati's first two in the second inning on a single by Gordie Coleman after the Braves had counted three in the first on home runs by Ed Mathews and Joe Adcock. Joey Jay, a former Brave, worked the first seven innings, blanking Milwaukee on one hit over the last six. Jim Brosnan (2-1) then won it in relief, with help from Bill Henry in the ninth.

A six-run seventh inning triggered by Carl Sawatski's two-run homer and capped by Bill White's grand slam, brought the Cardinals from behind. Maury McDermott, gaining his first NL decision, was the winner in relief. Ed Bouchee and Ernie Banks homered for the Cubs. The losing pitcher was reliever Joe Schaffernoth (0-3).

Robin Roberts, who had lost his first seven decisions, beat the Giants with a six-hit job. Chuck Hiller hit a two-run homer for San Francisco in the second inning, but then put the tying run on base with an error ahead of Pancho Herrera's winning three-run homer in the third. Mike McCormick (5-5) was the loser, dropping his third in a row.

Post 39 American Legion baseball team dropped its league opener to Rocky Mount yesterday in a pitchers' duel by a 3-1 score.

Billy Wynn of Williamston, who had been successful in shutting out the Rocky Mount aggregation for six innings, was charged with the loss.

The winning pitcher was Pridden, who struck out 12 Greenville batters and limited the losers to four hits.

The losers scored their only run in the second frame. A pair of singles and an error gave the Post 39 unit its run. Wynn crossed the plate after he had singled when Fiser rapped out a one-base knock.

Though Wynn was charged with the loss, he still managed to strike out 10 Rocky Mount batters in a losing cause.

Rocky Mount first baseman, Billy Talbot broke the ice for the winners in the seventh with a towering home run to knot the count at 1-1. The winners added another pair of runs in the eighth on three hits to clinch the victory.

The leading hitter for Rocky Mount was Barnes, the shortstop, with four hits in as many trips to the plate. Talbot also chipped in with two hits in four trips.

Alan McArthur was the leading hitter for the Post 39 team, getting a pair of hits, including a double in the sixth.

The Post 39 team will host Roanoke Rapids Wednesday night at Guy Smith Stadium. Game time is set for 8:00 p.m.

Greenville coach Bud Phillips will send James Braxton of Winterville to toe the rubber against the Roanoke Rapids invaders.

Archie Moore Ready For Rinaldi Style

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP) — Archie Moore, the venerable king of the light heavyweights, announced today that he was ready to encounter any style Giulio Rinaldi employs in their title bout in New York Saturday night.

"Let's say," quipped Archie, who is 44 years old by his reckoning but 47 by his manager's, "that I will ad lib this one. Whatever Rinaldi does I expect to do something better."

Rinaldi, who defeated Archie in Italy earlier in the year, has made no secret of his plans. He intends to push the Methusalem of the division, keep him off balance and stay away from his right.

"Hmmm," mused Archie, rubbing his goatee, "the last time we fought Giulio was not particularly aggressive and he didn't

Patterson Match Seen As 'Sure'

BOSTON (AP)—Manager Peter Fuller is sure his unbeaten heavyweight Tom McNeely will meet champion Floyd Patterson in September, probably in Boston Garden.

"The fight will be held regardless of the promoter," Fuller said Monday. "But Sam Silverman knows how to handle the promotional end. He worked hard to get this match. He's even working with Gus D'Amato, Patterson's manager, to build up Jose Torres as a local attraction against Paul Pender.

crowd much.

"But it really doesn't make any difference. I am completely prepared against such tactics. I am also prepared if Rinaldi tries to do something different."

There had been rumors that Archie would have trouble making the 175-pound limit. But he hopped on the scale and it showed 178 1/2.

"Let us put it this way," Archie said with finality (and that's the way the fellow talks, "I hope I expect to be in charge at all times. By that I mean I will dominate him.

"I really can't say precisely how I will do it. I have no rigid schedule for victory."

The word has been floating up to this Catskill Mountain retreat that Rinaldi has looked something less than sensational in his workouts in a restaurant parking lot in New York.

"I've been around a long time," Moore sniffed, "and have heard that sort of thing before. It seems I've even heard it about one Archie Moore. But it is well not to be influenced by such talk."

Archie now has only one sparring partner, Greatest Crawford, and he, too, is impressed with the old master.

"Why Moore is as fast as most middleweights," Greatest said. "He seems to get faster every workout."

Dr. Alexander Schiff of the New York State Athletic Commission, also joined the bandwagon.

"He's a physical marvel," said Dr. Schiff. "What's the difference how old he really is? He has the reflexes of a man of 32."

Quality School System Can Attract Laboratory

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — If your community wants to attract a research laboratory, look to the quality of your school system. That can rate higher even than tax concessions or special zoning grants when a corporation is seeking a location.

That's the finding of an industrial design and construction concern that also helps business firms find suitable building sites.

And many communities vie in seeking a research laboratory as a top drawer type of industrial construction. The buildings tend to be clean, neat and attractive. Equally important to the community, the employees are comparatively high salaried.

How do corporations choose a site for such facilities? What do they ask of the communities? Why have so many tended to cluster in suburbs of such centers as Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco?

First consideration is a good local school system and nearness to a university where research personnel can keep in touch with progress in their fields. So says Frank L. Whitney, vice president of engineering for Walter Kidde Constructors Inc. of New York, which has designed research facilities for Sperry Rand, Warner Lambert, Westinghouse Electric, Shell Chemical, Schering, General Electric, General Time, and the Atomic Energy Commission.

The Kidde organization has a point system or evaluating competing sites when scouting around for a client.

The most points for any of the 28 categories go to local education. That's because research personnel rates the school setup highly, and corporations have found they must offer these inducements to attract top scientists and engineers—and to hold them.

The system calls for a maximum of 1,000 points of which 550 can be earned by the community itself and the remaining 450 by the specific site. Topping the community rating is a maximum of 130 points for local education.

What makes a local school system look good under this judging method? First is how many pupils to one teacher. No points are given if there are more than 35 pupils to a teacher.

Next is how many dollars spent per pupil or teaching purposes; then the caliber of the school and college preparatory program, the percentage of the student body enrolled in that program, and the record of the schools in placing graduates in outstanding colleges and universities.

Other factors, but scoring less points, are the size of the school system, condition of the physical plant and number of private and parochial schools in the area.

As for the site itself, the most weighty factor is the cost of land and construction; then utility and shipping costs; and finally zoning regulations and tax and other inducements that reveal the community's attitude toward industry.

Educational TVIs Helpful In Training Handicapped

By G. K. HODENFIELD

Mildred and George and Richard, and nine other severely handicapped youngsters, are getting a complete education at Southwest Miami High School.

Part of the credit must go to a program of educational television, a program with tremendous potential in educating the millions of handicapped children in this country.

According to the U.S. Office of Education, there are about 600,000 physically handicapped children getting special instruction in the public schools—and another 2½ million who need it but aren't getting it.

Consider the case of nearly blind Mildred. She is being educated and trained for an office job as a typist, taking letters from tape recorders or disk recordings. She is virtually letter-perfect as a typist, even though she can't read what she has written.

It's one thing to teach Mildred how to type; it's something else again to give her the basic education she needs in academic subjects.

This is where educational television is being used to its best advantage at Southwest High.

The 12 handicapped children at Southwest High have their own homeroom, and their own special teacher, Mildred Yeagle.

"One of the problems of teaching physically handicapped children," said Miss Yeagle, "is to keep them from feeling isolated, set apart from the rest of their classmates."

Each school day the Dade County Board of Public Instruction, over its own educational TV channel, presents a class in history and another in biology. Next year, 10th and 11th grade English will be added.

Students with very poor vision sit as close as possible to the television set in Miss Yeagle's room.

Those with hearing difficulty sit further back, with special headsets which allow them to turn up the volume as high as necessary.

George, the spastic, needs neither to sit close, nor wear earphones. But without the television, George would never be able to attend the class; it is impossible for him to move from room to room in the short time allotted between classes. Because he has difficulty writing, he has been assigned his own electric typewriter for taking notes and doing his regular school work.

"This way the youngsters not only get the instruction, they have a feeling of being part of the regular classes," Miss Yeagle said.

And there is a further advantage for the deaf children—they get a lip-reading lesson from the television teacher at the same time.

The totally blind students are escorted to all regular classes. They sit in the back of the room and take notes on small, portable typewriters.

These notes are useless, of course, until they have been transcribed into Braille or onto tape recorders. This work is done by volunteers from the local Council of Jewish Women.

The council also puts into Braille the textbooks needed by blind students in the academic subjects. A year's course in biology, for instance, takes 12 volumes of Braille, and costs about $130 a set if purchased from a commercial firm.

Southwest High's program for the physically handicapped will be expanded next year when children from other parts of the county are sent here for special instruction.

Movieland Couples Face Many Hazards

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "America is the most difficult place in the world for marriage. And Hollywood is the most difficult place in America for marriage."

This is sad but true, said Anne Baxter, who had a broken Hollywood marriage to the late John Hodiak and now lives happily in Australia with her new husband, businessman-rancher Randolph Galt.

Anne came back on a visit with some pointed views on the American female.

"She is the best looking, best groomed, best dressed woman in the world," Anne remarked, but "she is spoiled."

"She has the most conveniences, the greatest freedom of any woman in the world, but she doesn't know what to do with herself. She makes herself miserable and hence makes her whole family miserable, for she sets the tone of the household."

"You hear her complain that she was educated merely to be a household drudge. That's mostly self-pity. Most American women waste their time. If they were qualified and really wanted to, they could find time for part-time jobs or civic work after their children are in school."

"And what is wrong with managing a house? The American woman has the chance to make her house the most attractive place in the world. She has the materials with which to be a truly creative cook. But too many of them don't even try."

Marriage faces other, more formidable hazards in Hollywood, Anne remarked. She said the worst are "the terrible extremes of success and failure."

"Take the average actor who has had some success and comes out here with a wife and two children," she said. "Immediately he acquires a manager and a press agent. He has to do certain things he wouldn't normally do. He acquires a whole new set of friends. It's tough on a marriage."

Serenaded To Create A Mood

Most comment is favorable, but a flock of complaints came in during "Invest in America Week." Songs like "Three Coins in the Fountain," "I Found a Million Dollar Baby" and "Pennies From Heaven" were played over and over.

"I admit that we overdid it that week," said a company spokesman.

Agency Attacking Red Propaganda

CAIRO (AP) — The Middle East News Agency Monday attacked Moscow's propaganda organs for the second consecutive day.

Quoting informed United Arab Republic sources, the agency denied what it termed false reports propagated by Moscow radio, Pravda and Tass in an anti-U.A.R. campaign.

The agency defended U.A.R. measures barring communists from political activities. It charged Communist parties in the Arab world with being "agents getting orders from outside their own country."

Shell experts test for knock by accelerating up steep grade. In another test, that "fifth wheel" in the back is lowered onto the road to measure mileage precisely.

TOP PERFORMANCE:

Shell test crew reveals five ways to test your car for top performance—and how the 9 ingredients in today's Super Shell can help you get it

- Test #1. Quick starting
Count the seconds it takes to start your car. The engine should "snap to" in about two to three seconds. A slow start drains your battery. And it may flood your cylinders, causing performance troubles.
If your engine is balky, try Super Shell. It's blended with a frisky ingredient called Butane—to give you quick, easy starts.
- Test #2. Smooth running
Pay close attention to your engine in traffic.
Does it vibrate roughly when you stop for a traffic light? Does it seem to "surge" as you pull away, then falter and fade?
The problem may be the wrong blend of gasoline.
In summer, for example, excessive heat can make winter grade gasoline bubble in the fuel line. Bubbles can interfere with the flow, causing rough running.
Shell scientists don't let that happen with Super Shell. When hot weather threatens, they adjust Super Shell's 9-ingredient formula to give it the correct volatility for smooth summer driving.
- Test #3. Reserve power
On a turnpike, in light traffic, accelerate suddenly from about thirty miles an hour to the legal limit. Now ask yourself:
1. Did your car accelerate smoothly—with no faltering, no bogging down?
2. Do you have plenty of power to spare?
If you feel you've "run out of engine," it's time to do something about it.
Super Shell may be your answer. It contains TCP,* to help restore power lost to combustion chamber deposits.
And another Super Shell ingredient, called Platformate, contains components that release 11 per cent more energy than even the finest of 100-octane aviation gasolines.
- Test #4. Knock
Accelerate up a long, steep hill and listen carefully. If you hear a sound like marbles falling into an empty oil drum, you've got knock. It could cause engine trouble.
Take no chances. Switch to Super Shell. Its formula includes no less than three ingredients to fight the various causes of knock.
- Test #5. Miles per gallon
Don't trust your fuel gauge when you measure miles per gallon. Take these three simple steps and be sure.
1. Start your test by filling your tank. Make sure the gasoline comes up to the brim. Write down your mileage reading.
2. Drive in your normal manner for at least three tankfuls—

Transport Union Bids For Control

NEW YORK (AP)—The Transport Workers Union plans to pay a big fare—one million dollars—in order to have a say on who sits in the driver's seat of the Fifth Avenue Coach Lines Inc.

TWU President Michael J. Quill announced Monday the union hopes to acquire voting control of $1 million of the company's stock through investment of un-tilted funds and stock purchases by union members.

Purpose of the move, Quill said, is to give the union a voice in a stockholders' battle for control of the company, largest privately owned transit system in the nation. It operates a number of routes in addition to those on Fifth Avenue.

The TWU already has bought some stock, the union president said. He declined to say how much.

Union members will be asked to buy stock at a "save your job" meeting of Fifth Avenue coach employees tonight.

Quill declared that no matter who wins the stockholder's fight "the layoff of one employee by any group of these greedy stock manipulators will force us to strike the entire system on the grounds of violation of contract."

The fiery Irish-born labor leader noted that, at present market prices, a million dollars of Fifth Avenue Coach stock would give the union voting rights to nearly 50,000 shares.

A group headed by Harry Weinberg of Scranton, Pa., is challenging the present Fifth Avenue management for control in the courts. The group, through the Dal-Tran Service Co. of Dallas, claims the present management is "illegally perpetuating itself" in office.

Dal-Tran, which says it owns 50,000 shares of the company's stock, charges mismanagement and has sued in State Supreme Court to oust or curb the present officers.

Quill said his union is "not taking sides" in the stockholder's fight and does not plan to buy control of the company and its subsidiaries.

The object of the proposed stock purchase, he said, is to give the union a voice in stockholder's meetings.

U.S. Auto Sales Hit Peak In May

DETROIT (AP)—The nation's auto dealers sold more new cars in May than in any previous month this year. The daily selling rate also was the highest of 1961.

The five automakers reported Monday that May sales totaled 537,825 cars with a daily sales rate of 20,686.

Last month's upturn failed to match the pace of May 1960 when sales totaled 566,650 and the daily rate was 22,665.

Sales had been lagging nearly 100,000 units per month below 1960, but the gap was cut to less than 30,000 in May.

Salvaging Gold Teeth Of Victims Described

JERUSALEM (AP)—A young Jew told the Eichmann trial court today that at 13 he was forced to extract the gold teeth from bodies of gassed victims in the Chełmno concentration camp.

Simon Srebnik, a Polish-born mechanic now in Israel, testified he saw an average of 1,200 Jews paraded to their deaths daily over a period of nine months.

The routine was always the same, he said. The Jews were given towels and soap and 80 to 100 at a time were herded into a big van and driven away.

"The doors were hermetically sealed," he said. "When the van moved on, the gas would enter it and in this way they all were killed."

Srebnik's job was to pull gold out of the teeth of the bodies on their arrival at the crematorium.

"I do not sleep well at night. Those horrid pictures are still haunting me," the witness said.

Vandiver Warns 'Rabble-Rousers'

ATLANTA (AP)—Rabble rousers, would-be rioters and the like have been warned by Gov. Ernest Vandiver against trying to stir up trouble when four Atlanta public high schools are integrated next fall.

Vandiver said Monday that although he was dead set against integration, "anytime the life or property of any citizen is endangered whatever forces that are necessary to preserve the peace will be used."

The Atlanta Board of Education has approved transfers of 10 Negroes in the 11th and 12th grades to white schools. The desegregation was ordered by a federal judge.

"Unless the state of Georgia wants to secede from the United States and fire on Ft. McPherson, we'll have to obey that court order," Vandiver told a news conference.

Federal Income Tax Given N.C. 'Vote Of Confidence'

RALEIGH (AP)—The State Senate gave a vote of confidence to the federal income tax as a necessary burden Monday night and defeated a resolution aimed at its repeal.

The decisive 34 to 16 vote featured a busy week-opening legislative session during which a bill to establish a statewide blue law was introduced in the House.

The Monday night meeting began what is expected to be one of the most crucial weeks of the 1961 session with action predicted on such major items as spending, taxes, congressional redistricting and small loan regulation.

The resolution, introduced by Rep. Benjamin Sumner of Rutherford, called for Congress to sub-

CHAPTER 15
 The men, there were fourteen of them with Captain Standish at their head, were for several days on an exploratory trip when they made a discovery that would change the lives of every one of them.

At its foot was a clear, somewhat grassy space that might have been called meadow; and there some of the sharp-eyed members of the company, who could have been seeking an excuse for a hall, all of them being weary, spied what looked like graves.

One in particular, they saw when they approached, appeared to have been recently dug. Without further ado they violated this.

It was brutally and immediately done. As far as Sal could see, no order was given. The deed was spontaneous. And once they had started, feverishly, they were afraid to stop. Standish as the military leader had no say in such a matter.

What Standish thought of the business Sal could not guess, for the Captain stayed to one side, his face professionally expressionless.

Sal himself was shocked, and said so. "That's a fine way to make friends!"

They paid him little mind, though William Bradford himself, Sal could sense, was inwardly troubled. They swarmed the earth furiously, all at once, in a wild sort of scramble that caused Sal's lip to curl.

Sal indeed even thought of breaking in upon this undignified, indecent digging, stopping it by force. That might mean a fight, and probably would, but he was not sure that he wouldn't welcome a fight just at that time. He took a step forward.

"If we're caught at this," Standish said suddenly, "it will go badly with us. Dotey, go up the beach a few hundred yards. If you see anything suspicious—anything at all!—fire a shot. You Boyd, go to the top of the hill. The same instructions."

It was the best view of Cape

Cod that Sal thus far had been vouchsafed; but he cared little for this. Bitterly he turned his back upon the burrowing, mole-like men, and with shoulders hunched high against the cold, his hands deep in his breeches, he surveyed the scene. How anyone would come voluntarily to a land like this was more than he could comprehend. He doubted that a fox would live here, or a rat.

He did not see any Indians. He hadn't expected to.

The men below did not linger at their task, and when in an amazingly short time Sal was called back they already were refilling the hole. Not bones but corn had been uncovered, a huge basketful.

This corn was different from any that Sal had seen. It came in large shiny triangular chunks, some yellow, some red, a few streaked with blue. They were as hard as pellets of lead—and this through the ground was not yet frozen.

"This is American corn, the kind they got in Virginia, the kind they got from the barbarians there," reported Stephen Hopkins, one of the few in the party who had been to the New World before. "We know that it will grow here. We can't be sure that the wheat and rye seed we brought from home will. Or the vegetables. This stuff may save our lives."

He started to cram his pockets with it, as the others already were doing.

Sal Boyd wouldn't touch it. "It was put here by the Lord for us to gather," William Bradford said, searching Sal's face.

"Mister, in the Book it says 'Thou shalt not steal.'"

They all looked up; for Sal was angry and had not striven to keep a low voice.

"Coming from a pirate," drawled John Billington, "that hath a fine moral swing."

"Speaking of swinging," Sal countered, "what d'ye suppose would happen to you if you did this in England?"

"If all the pirates—"

"I never was a pirate. I was a privateer sailing under the banner of the Emperor of Morocco. And besides, we were at least open about it. We didn't sneak things away."

"He glared around. Most of the men looked embarrassed, but they kept stuffing corn into their pockets."

"And we always left a man something, to keep him alive till he got to the next port. That's more'n you're doing here now."

Bradford put a gentle hand on Sal's arm. He was anything but a demonstrative man, and this showed that he was shaken.

"Boyd, we'll starve if we don't take this."

"And maybe they'll starve if we do. Why else did they put it there for excepting to save it for next spring, for planting?"

"Boyd," quietly, "I've got my wife and my child at home to think of."

Sal shook the hand off.

"You've also got your immortal soul to think of, haven't you? I have heard of selling it for thirty pieces of silver, but I've never—poor ignorant Saljee rover that I am—I've never heard of selling your soul for a pocketful of American corn."

It startled them all, himself included. Without ever having meant to, he was outdoing them at their own game. Yet nobody laughed. And though Bradford, when he turned away, showed hectic spots of rage or perhaps fear in his cheeks, he said nothing. Nor was Sal further urged to load up with corn. He didn't carry a kernel, while the others were so crammed with the stuff they could barely walk.

The explorers were hailed back aboard the Mayflower with great gladness. Their shoulders were clapped, their backs slapped, even Sal Boyd's. Sal's response was surly for him. William Bradford too, never a noisy man, was especially reserved. He sidled up to Sal.

"I'll raise the matter at meeting tonight. We'll pay them for it, of course! I never meant else but that. We'll seek them out."

"I just hope to hell they don't seek us out first," said Sal.

John Alden doesn't realize his own strength—until he meets Sal Boyd. Continue the story here tomorrow.

Seated on deck that night, he could hear the buzz of debate below in the cabin, another of those on-and-on sessions. They could talk about it for half the night, in the hope of justifying it to themselves. They would pass all kinds of pious resolutions. But Sal was sure that they would keep the corn.

The atmosphere aboard ship had changed with the changing air. Dispute was everywhere, and no longer was it without ire. Saints and strangers alike seemed almost on the point of losing their tempers. The seamen cursed the passengers more rancorously than ever for they teetered on the lip of mutiny. Christopher Jones and the mates, though they were quicker to help than they had been throughout the voyage, clearly were unsure of their authority, and they had about them, when they dealt with the passengers, an ill-concealed air of urgency, impatience.

If there were fewer prayer sessions, there were more informal and by no means amicable discussions. Pistis were not shaken, no, but forefingers were.

"They're beefwits," Sawn Matthews decided. "If Indians did come and start shooting at them, they'd have to have three prayers and a sermon before they settled down to a meeting called to debate whether they were rightly instructed by God to shoot back. And by that time they'd all be dead anyway. Why don't you quit 'em Sal? They're not for the liked of you."

"At a time like this?"

The confiscation of the corn, more than anything else, had brought about this tightness. A moral issue had been raised, and a moral issue to these settlers was a red rag to a bull. They broke into many camps, each clamorous. Oddly, none of them rallied to Sal Boyd. Rather they seemed to resent him. Nobody scolded him, or even mentioned the matter in his presence, but it was clear that they thought he should mind his own business. That he, of all persons, should berate one of their leaders, quoting from the Book forsooth, caused them, whatever their internal dissensions, to close ranks when Sal stood there.

John Alden doesn't realize his own strength—until he meets Sal Boyd. Continue the story here tomorrow.

Stiffer Penalty For Bomb-Scarers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a bill clarifying and stiffening penalties for false information about bombs on airplanes.

The bill sent to the Senate Monday was requested by Atty Gen. Robert F. Kennedy who says too many airplane bomb hoaxers have been acquitted by juries when they said they were just playing a practical joke.

The attorney general's bill specifically provides punishment for practical jokers—those who give false bomb information knowing it to be false. Maximum penalty would be a $1,000 fine or a year in prison.

Another section would provide a tougher penalty for anyone who gives false bomb information maliciously "or with reckless disregard for the safety of human life." The penalty would be a $5,000 fine or five years in prison.

Sales Revolution Due Discount Houses

EDITOR'S NOTE—The discount house, with a new merchandising technique, has been making inroads into the sales of the traditional department store. Now the latter has launched a counterattack—by adopting the discounters' own methods. What will be the end result? In the following story, Business News' writer Jack Leffer examines the whole situation.

By JACK LEFFER
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—A revolution in retailing is under way.

It was brought on by the tremendous success of the discount stores which sacrifice service and fanciness to sell at lower costs.

Apparently on the theory that "if you can't lick 'em, join 'em," some big department stores and variety chains are diving into the discount business.

For a long while the department stores looked down their noses at discount newcomers in confidence that low-priced stacks of goods could never wean away customers who were used to high fashion, good service, credit and delivery.

But the discounters flourished and now there are some 3,000 across the country. Their cut-rate prices slashed into department and variety stores' business.

Latest to get into the act is the giant variety firm, F. W. Woolworth Co., which announced plans to build "the biggest discount chain this country will ever see." Its first unit will be opened this year.

"It has become evident there is a great deal of customer interest in this direction," said President Robert C. Kirkwood.

Woolworth's discount stores will operate under the name of Woolco Department Stores. Initial locations have not been announced.

Another big variety chain, S. S. Kresge Co., said it is "as far or further along" as anyone in preparations for discount operations but did not elaborate.

Interstate Department Stores, which operates more than 50 units, plans to open eight discount houses this year and 20 more next year.

It already has opened two on the outskirts of Chicago, and plans two more in Chicago and four in Baltimore, Kalamazoo, Mich., and Hartford, Conn., this year.

"We foresee the day, 5 to 10 years from now, when 80 per cent of the public will be relying on discount centers for the bulk of their purchases," said Sol W. Cantor, Interstate president.

"There is no practical limit on the amount and kinds of goods that can be purchased through

Receives Degree At Ohio Univ.

ATHENS, Ohio—The Master of Science degree was awarded Gayle J. Clapp of 1909 E. Fifth Street, Greenville, N. C., during commencement services at Ohio University on Sunday.

Some 808 degrees were awarded at the 196th commencement, including 480 to men and 309 to women. President John C. Baker, who has announced his retirement after 16 years at the University, delivered the commencement address.

discount centers, provided discount operators stick to their original and very basic philosophy, which is to keep markups low."

Grayson-Robinson Stores, which has 239 women's and children's apparel stores in 36 states, has opened 2 discount centers and eight photographic discount operations.

Bankers Securities Corp.-City Stores Co., with headquarters in Philadelphia, describes its approach as more evolutionary than revolutionary. Virtually all of its stores utilize self-service and checkouts in toy departments at Christmas time. This merchandising system will be expanded to other departments and while stores where necessary.

The May stores in Akron, Denver and Cleveland are planning to convert part of their operations to self-service and to open 100,000-square-foot branch units on a self-service, checkout system. The Cleveland store will keep branches open six nights a week instead of four.

Three Los Angeles branches which do not have basements are being rearranged for self-service operations. The basements of the Los Angeles downtown store and the suburban San Fernando unit are being converted to the new technique as well as some upstairs departments.

Bernard Litvak, president of Lit Bros. of Philadelphia, said department stores could sell much more merchandise through the installation of self-service, particularly in staple items, without violating the department stores' image of quality and large selection.

"We mustn't forget," he said, "that maybe the customer would rather trade some of the regular department stores services for cash savings. She will put up with no delivery, no credit and no adherence to the old idea that the customer is always right if she can save enough by doing so."

J. Gordon Dakins, executive vice president of the National Retail Merchants Association, says the entrance of department and variety chains into the discount field means "they are diversifying because some of their customers feel they would like to shop this way."

Fellowship For John Ward, Jr.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. — A graduate fellowship for participation in an eight-week science institute has been awarded John Ward, Jr., of 416 Cadillac St., Greenville, N. C., it was announced today.

The institute will be conducted at Union College this summer under the sponsorship of the National Science Foundation. Grants were awarded to 103 successful applicants from 20 states for the program to begin June 26.

The science institute is designed expressly for junior high and secondary school science and mathematics teachers and will offer courses in biology, chemistry, earth science, mathematics and physics. Each participant in the program will receive a fellowship covering tuition, a cash stipend of $600 and allowances for dependents and travel. Completion of three of the eight-week sessions and 330 credit hours of work leads to the degree Master of Science in teaching.

Ward is affiliated with W. H. Robinson School in Winterville.

Behavior Curative Seen As Top Goal

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—President Kennedy's personal physician predicts the goal of medical science soon will be the cure of human behavior rather than the cure of human physical illness.

Foreseeing a world free of physical disease in which "only death will be accepted as inevitable," Dr. Janet Travell told the 108-member graduating class of Meharry Medical College here Monday: "The challenges of the future for medicine lie in the possibilities of modifying the behavioral patterns of the human race for the good of society."

Dr. Travell went with the President to Paris and Vienna but returned to appear as the commencement speaker at Meharry, a predominantly Negro school

Greenville Grad Gets Commission

CHAPEL HILL—William E. Tripp Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Tripp of Rt. 5, Greenville, received a commission as second lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps during commencement exercises at the University of North Carolina this week.

He also received his B. S. degree in mathematics from the university. He has been ordered to report for duty to the U. S. Marine Corps School at Quantico, Va., on July 1.

Last Rites Thursday For Ira L. Hart

AYDEN—Ira L. Hart, 71, farmer of Ayden, Rt. 1, died at the home of Mrs. Leslie James in Ayden early Tuesday morning. Mr. Hart had been in declining health for several months and seriously ill for two weeks.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Ayden Free Will Baptist Church Thursday at 3 o'clock by the Rev. R. A. Gaskins, his pastor, and the Rev. I. J. Blackweider, a former pastor. Intombment will follow in the Ayden Cemetery. The body will remain at Bhatt Funeral Chapel until one hour prior to services.

Mr. Hart was a member of the Ayden Free Will Baptist Church and he was a deacon and on the Official Board of the church. He was a veteran of World War I and a member of the Ayden American Legion Post. He was a lifelong resident of the Ayden community.

Surviving are seven brothers, M. E. Robert P., Thad F. and Hubert W. Hart, all of Ayden; L. C. Hart of Altamonte Springs, Fla.; Lyman Hart of Winterville and Elmer H. Hart of Richmond, Va.; three sisters, Mrs. Mary E. Jackson of Norfolk, Va., Mrs. Nina Little of Ayden and Mrs. Bertha Tripp of Winterville.

Dates Set For Pitt County Fair

Oct. 9-14 has been set as the week for the 25th annual Pitt County American Legion Agricultural Fair.

This year the local fair, which began in 1936, will celebrate its "Silver Anniversary."

During the year 1951 the fair erected its present facilities near the Pitt-Greenville Airport.

For the 1961 event, plans are now being made for an industrial exhibit. Premium books for the 1961 fair will be ready for distribution in late July.

Ford McGowan is serving his second consecutive year as president. The fair association is owned and operated by the American Legion Posts of Greenville, Farmville and Ayden.
