JFK Reveals Nikita 'Raised Voice' Discussing Berlin

By JACK BELL WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has informed congressional leaders that Premier Khrushchev raised his voice when he told him in Vienna that West Berlin is a bone that must come out of the Soviet throat.

conversations, was said to have disclosed that Khrushchev was vitally interested in only two subjects at this time—Berlin and a change in the secretariat direction of the United Nations.

period of discussion was when he talked about Berlin and used the bone in the throat phrase he has employed before. (Kennedy said in his broadcast to the nation "there was no discourtesy, no loss of tempers, no threats or ultimatums by either side" during the Vienna conferences.)

contended the U.N. actions in the Congo, under the direction of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld, were not neutral but were pointed against Soviet interests.

he regards Castro as unstable. Khrushchev told Kennedy that Americans were always giving him credit for engineering coups that he had nothing to do with.

will put five divisions where you put one." The third kind was a "holy" war of peoples trying to overthrow tyrannical governments.

Kennedy also reported, more briefly, on his "very satisfactory" conversations with French President Charles de Gaulle. They talked in frank and cordial language.

said he had to take the long range view in thinking of France's safety. De Gaulle was unimpressed by the U.S. move to provide NATO forces with Polaris missiles.

Budget Bill Heads For Showdown

RALEIGH (AP) — A record one billion dollar state budget bill, containing a $60 million increase for public schools, headed for a showdown on the House floor today.

The balanced budget bill for the next two fiscal years is contingent on a $63.5 million tax bill, which faced a crucial test in the senate today.

Administration forces confidently predicted the spending measure will win approval of the House and Senate. It could sail through the assembly in only three days.

The budget measure will appropriate about $1.2 billion for the 1961-63 operation of agencies and schools.

The biggest item in the budget is $77 million for the general fund. This is almost a third more than is being spent this biennium.

The budget also includes $355 million for the highway fund and $69.6 million for capital improvements.

Preparing Reply To Castro Terms

DETROIT (AP)—The Tractors for Freedom Committee replied today to the terms under which Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro would trade 1,200 men for 500 machines despite a congressional leader's warning that it "will be getting on tenuous ground" if it attempts to negotiate with Castro.

Walter P. Reuther, committee co-chairman and president of the United Auto Workers Union, said Wednesday the committee expected to have a reply ready to a cable from Castro in which the Cuban leader outlined his terms for the proposed tractors for prisoners trade.

Reuther said the committee felt Castro's terms "leave the way open for negotiations." The committee was formed after Castro made an offer May 17 to trade prisoners captured in the ill-fated April invasion of Cuba for tractors.

Reuther said no decision had been made as to whether the committee would send a delegation to Cuba for a personal meeting as Castro specified in his message but observed later that it was doubtful he or any of the other leading committee members would travel to Havana for such a discussion.

More Involved

NEW YORK (AP)—Another Connecticut University player and one more from North Carolina were involved in the widening college basketball scandal today as Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan announced the arrest of four former players on charges of conspiracy and bribery.

Hogan said that Jack Rose, captain of the 1959-1960 Connecticut team, received $1,000 to shave points in the team's game with Niagara University, Jan. 16, 1960, and that Raymond Stanley, of the University of North Carolina, had received and rejected a bribe offer but failed to report it.

Stanley, 23, of Chapel Hill, N. C., who graduated in 1960, was tendered a blanket offer of $1,000 a game to shave points by Lou Brown, another North Carolina player, Hogan said.

Brown, Dave Budin, former Brooklyn College captain, and two former Alabama players, Jerry Vogel and Dan Quindazzi, were the four arrested today.

Negotiations On Laos Suspended Due To Violations Of Cease-Fire

GENEVA (AP)—Britain today announced indefinite postponement of the conference on Laos because of "apparent serious violation" of the cease-fire.

Britain and the Soviet Union are co-chairmen of the 14-nation conference on Laos. The United States had previously announced it was boycotting the conference until Soviet Premier Khrushchev makes good on his agreement with President Kennedy that an effective cease-fire is necessary in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

Malcolm MacDonald, head of the British delegation, saw Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Gheorgi Pushkin for an hour this morning. Afterward, MacDonald issued a statement that some delegations informed him they could not attend further meetings until they have finished consulting their governments.

The delegations were identified as those of the United States, Britain and France. An American source said Wednesday night that the U.S. delegation would not attend any further sessions of the conference called to chart the future of Laos until the pro-Communist rebels stop their attacks and a real truce is achieved.

Nine More 'Freedom Riders' Jailed In Jackson; Draw NAACP Rebukes

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Nine more "Freedom Riders" sit idle in Jackson jails today following unsuccessful attempts to desegregate terminal facilities at an airport and a bus station.

For 16 days segregation-defying Freedom Riders have converged on Mississippi's capital with no intention of letting up. And Jackson city police have promptly arrested 81 Negroes and whites on breach of peace charges.

Wednesday's airport terminal integration attempt was the first here and adds to one similar attempt on the train terminal and numerous attempts at bus terminals.

The latest group of arrivals were three airborne riders from the St. Louis area Wednesday. They were arrested almost immediately after their arrival by Delta Airlines. All were Negroes. Only hours earlier three whites and three Negroes were arrested following their arrival by bus from Nashville, Tenn., via Memphis.

President Has New Back Injury

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has been suffering from a new back injury since May 16, the White House disclosed today.

There is no serious concern, it was said officially. Kennedy kept the injury secret from members of his staff.

It was known, of course, to his personal physician, Dr. Janet Travell. White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said there is no connection between Kennedy's present back trouble and that from which he had suffered previously and for which he underwent a delicate operation several years ago.

Kennedy suffered the new injury in Ottawa May 16, the first day of his Canadian trip. It occurred when he was lifting several spades of dirt while planting a tree at Government House, residence of Canada's governor general.

Gene Autry Sued For $5.1 Million

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former Western star Gene Autry is accused of drunken driving and speeding in a $5.1 million damage suit filed as a result of an automobile accident last March.

Elena Perna, 41, asked $5 million for her own injuries and $50,000 for each of her children, John, 14, and James, 4, both also hurt. Her complaint was filed in Superior Court Wednesday.

The complaint said Mrs. Perna's car was struck head-on by Autry's station wagon at Riverside Drive and Ponca Avenue last March 25.

Autry is now part owner of the Los Angeles Angels baseball club.

Red Cross Chapters Of Twelve Counties Represented At Meet

Ways and means of implementing and motivating the objectives of the Eastern North Carolina Co-ordinating Council of the Red Cross were discussed at a quarterly meeting held at the Greenville Country Club last night.

Approximately 30 representatives from the 12 county chapters composing the council were in attendance for the buffet dinner meeting.

Members of the council also discussed first aid, water safety and disaster preparedness. It was suggested that a chapter chairman's workshop be held this fall for the chairmen and a first aid workshop for others be held at the same time. The workshops would include the 12 counties.

President Plans 3-Day Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP) President Kennedy leaves Washington today for a three-day relaxation at Palm Beach, Fla.

The White House said the President was seeking rest after his trip to Paris, Vienna and London, where he conferred with French President Charles de Gaulle, Soviet Premier Khrushchev and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

A government spokesman reported today that the once powerful and dreaded chief of military intelligence, John Abbes Garcia, left the country Wednesday after his army lieutenant colonelcy had been taken from him. Garcia was removed as intelligence chief some time ago. His destination was not disclosed.

The government also freed the first prisoner under a new political amnesty plan. Sources said that once their legal papers had been signed, others would follow Jose Bosch Hermano out of prison. He is the brother of Juan Bosch, a well known opposition leader now living outside the country.

Philbrick Says Reds Prepared

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A man who spent nine years as an FBI informant within the Communist party says the Supreme Court ruling that Communists must register will have little effect.

"A few years ago, such a ruling would have been a crushing blow to the Communists," said Herbert Philbrick, author of the book, "I Led Three Lives." In an interview Wednesday, Philbrick said the Communists saw the ruling coming and went underground.

Philbrick, who runs a store in Rye Beach, N.H., was here on a lecture series.

Merit Pay Plan Test Is Approved

RALEIGH — An experimental plan for merit teacher pay gained enthusiastic support of the members of the House Education Committee, and was sent to the House for debate.

The bill, based on findings of a study commission appointed during the last session of the General Assembly, proposes that two or more administrative school units in North Carolina adopt such a pilot program to reward teachers who excel in their profession.

Introduced in the Senate by Lunsford Crow of Halifax and in the House by W. C. Harris Jr. of Wake, Ed Wilson of Caswell, and Elbert Peel of Martin, the bill is approved by the Department of Public Instruction.

To members of the committee the experimental merit pay program was described as a means of putting the principal back in the classrooms to observe classroom activities.

The object of the bill, according to its sponsors, is not to save money, but rather to give additional financial reward to encourage teachers to do their best. Merit pay systems were said to improve morale, keep and even attract better teachers.

The seven board members were elected by secret ballot of the nearly 500 corporation members attending. The elected board named its own officers from its membership.

In addition to its president, the board elected Grimsley as vice president and re-elected Tugwell secretary-treasurer.

Walter E. Fuller, executive manager of the Tar Heel Electric Membership Association of which the Pitt-Greene group is a member, addressed the members and their families. Total attendance for the corporation's annual meeting was around 1,000.

Other persons on the program included Miss Joyce Cox, essay contest winner, who read her contest-winning essay, and Dick Snively, director of Raleigh's Little Theater, who presented a magician show entitled "Magic Moments."

The annual meeting was held in the Farmville High School gymnasium here.

The newly-elected board meets in regular monthly sessions. Gilbert Whitley of Farmville is manager of the corporation. # Self-Preservation Is Barely 'Right'

By virtue of two new 5-4 decisions, the Supreme Court has upheld the widely accepted view the Communist Party is tool of a foreign power and membership (with cognizance it advocates violent overthrow of the government) is criminal.

It is understandable that rulings of this nature are necessary from a point of law, and the logic of the points in question are irrefutable to loyal citizens. Nevertheless, there is a sense of dismay at the margin (5-4) of the vote regarding simple measures to protect our very system of government.

The mere thought of terming Communism as "just another political party" in the American system is impossible to accept as reasonable.

To most Americans, membership in the Communist Party is regarded as tantamount to being an avowed saboteur, propagandist, agitator and spy with a singleminded approach to uprooting our political, religious, individual and economic freedoms. To us it is incomprehensible that the enemies within be sheltered by the very Constitution they would destroy.

This "layman's opinion" has been brought about through testimony provided at frequent inquiries, trials and hearings involving conspirators. The distrust and repugnance generated by Communist Party members has no roots in widespread reading of Marx or the defunct Daily Worker. It is based on seeing communism in action.

Americans have been told time and again that this country is engaged in a war no less deadly than the conflict of 1941-45; despite the general silence of guns on a firing line.

Our most responsible leadership has said this war with Communism is a war to the death, and the foe is perfectly willing and capable of killing and destroying any and all who stand in the way of victory. The acknowledged leader of Communism has told us "We will bury you".

We are accustomed to the splitting of hairs by justices of the Supreme Court on a multitude of issues; but this narrow margin of voting on the basic principle of self-preservation is something else again.

Is the safety of our republic resting precariously on a 5-4 decision?

They Are Determined To Win--But Are We?

If the Communist-backed rebels in Laos were in trouble there would be a cease-fire today. But while they're winning in the field no cease-fire is needed.

That about sums up reaction to recent news out of the backward little Asian kingdom. We would go further—if the Reds were in trouble and a cease-fire was offered them, they would accept. They would welcome conferences in Geneva and keep them going until their armed forces were ready to fight again. They are that determined to win.

We are not . . . at least that determination has yet to be made manifest.

Meanwhile, the after-Laos target of Communism has seen a revival of terrorist fighting in South Viet Nam.

The ground is being laid for future campaigns. Precisely what is the Free World prepared to do? How far will it go? No one really seems to know.

Will U. S. Apply Some Pressure?

By JAMES MARLOW WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy did not answer, in his nationwide TV broadcast, one of the most piercing questions in this country's whole problem of foreign aid.

It was this: Will the United States put pressure on backward and despotic nations to use American aid for the masses of their people up to the point of refusing any aid at all unless they agree?

Stories of corruption and the rich getting richer and the poor poorer in countries receiving American aid increase. Kennedy himself in his broadcast Tuesday night acknowledged where this leads when he said:

"If we are not prepared to assist them (the backward governments) in making a better life for their people, then I believe that the prospect for freedom in those areas are uncertain. We must, I believe, assist them if we are determined to meet the Communist invasion."

His broadcast, deliberately pitched in a low and somber key, revealed nothing essentially new about his talks in Paris with President de Gaulle and in Vienna with Premier Khrushchev. The heart of his talk dealt with Khrushchev.

In this he did two things: 1. He made it clear he not only solves nothing with Khrushchev but that communism, counting on the unrest and discontent of the poverty-stricken masses in the backward countries, intends to try to win them over when it can.

In short: the future is no bed of roses, it will be a struggle between the West and communism as far into the future as Kennedy can see. There are no short cuts, and there have been no settlements.

2. Kennedy, having put the nation into the mood of realizing the long struggle ahead without any optimism except his personal belief communism won't win, then made a pitch for the continuance of foreign aid.

Every year since 1947, when foreign aid was first proposed, there has been some opposition to it. There is now, when Congress is bucking down to the task of working on a new foreign aid bill.

'Pipedream' For Today

Today's pipedream: Imagine, if you can, a big beautiful bell tower standing on the hill across from the Junior High School.

Such a tower, similar to the ones at N. C. State College in Raleigh and at UNC in Chapel Hill would dominate the college campus.

Once the domed Austin building is removed the tower would be the tallest structure around and it could probably be seen all over the college campus as well as throughout Greenville's business district.

On a summery evening its golden tones would be heard over the campus as well as through much of the residential and business areas of the city. Truly such a structure would be a fine addition to East Carolina College's rapidly growing physical facilities. It would be appropriate, too, for the college's Music Department is becoming well known throughout the south. Thus trained musicians to handle the bells could be available.

Now the only problem is the money. Of course, it is doubtful that a state appropriation would ever be available for such a project. Nor would individual donations seem to be a feasible way of obtaining the funds.

Alas, it seems that the only way East Carolina will ever have its bell tower is for some one with a kind heart and ample funds to bear the full cost. Any takers?

Speaking of East Carolina College, Greenville's new city manager Louis Scheipers, Jr. has found a fringe benefit in moving here.

He said his daughter completed her freshman year at ECC this spring. When school opens next fall, of course, the entire family will be on hand.

Scheipers, by the way, says he has enjoyed a splendid welcome to this city. As your columnist talked to him yesterday Wally Howard, senior vice president of Wachovia Bank dropped in to bid him welcome.

Numerous other persons have gone out of their way to do the same thing, according to Scheipers.

It all goes to show that Greenville is a pretty friendly city after all.

Other Editors Saying Blue Laws & Blue Laws

(Greensboro Daily News) Blue laws, unsatisfactory as they are, have at least one thing to be said for them. When a society is so afraid of leisure and so short of constructive uses for it, let alone so indifferent to religious traditions, common sense is to be sought somewhere.

Blue laws are not a happy answer. But if people will madly chase the dollar, the ulcer and hardening arteries seven full days a week there may be a case for giving them an opportunity by law to rest a day.

But state-wide Sunday blue laws are not the way to go about it, and the measure introduced in Raleigh this week has little to recommend it. Those who constantly decry the centralizing of government, needlessly, at all levels might oppose it on that principle alone.

Blue laws, if they are to fit the need of anyone, should be made in city and county ordinances by people who know the needs and attitudes of a community. That can't be done from a state capital or from the high bench of the U. S. Supreme Court. What restrictions on Sunday selling the people of one place find acceptable may not be the same to the people of another. Legislation that bans certain items from Sunday commerce state-wide is for that reason bad medicine.

It's reasonable, on balance, to expect merchants to desist at least one day a week from business as usual. Yet blue laws, always religiously discriminatory, have now become economically discriminatory in many cases. Some of their bans are incredibly contradictory.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS LOVE TRANSFORMS ALL

"An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth."

Horrible! Not at all. This law laid down by Moses registered one of the greatest advances in morality the world has ever known. Before that commandment was given a man had the right to inflict unlimited revenge for an injury. If a man knocked out an eye or a tooth, then that man was under obligation to wipe out the offender and as many of his relatives as could be overtaken and punished. Moses laid down the merciful rule of limited revenge. "An eye for an eye," he said, "a tooth for a tooth." Nothing more.

But Jesus went further. "Resist not evil," he said. "If a man smite thee on the one cheek turn to him the other also." "Whoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go thou with him twain." "Love your enemies. Bless them that curse you. Do good to them that hate you, and pray for them that despitefully use you and persecute you."

What was this man Jesus saying, and what was he doing? He was uttering truth from the heart of God—the God of Love. He was beginning that ministry which was to eventuate in the transformation of the world's life.

The intense emotionalism with which the American press covered the executions following Castro's triumph has had a lasting adverse impact on American-Cuban relations." Now precisely what emotions

Cuban Truths Recalled

By GEORGE E. BOKOLSKY Copyright, 1961, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

In the current excitement over Europe and President Kennedy's visits to Paris, Vienna, and London we lose sight of Cuba which is of equal if not greater importance at this moment. It is astonishing how those who accept a doctrine will not give up no matter what the historic evidence provides. This becomes particularly dangerous when great influences are brought to bear upon public opinion to promote a doctrine rather than historic truth. Herbert Matthews of "The New York Times" raised this issue when on May 3, he told students at the University of Michigan:

"...once Fidel Castro's regime was labeled Communist, for the most part it became almost impossible for the American journalists and editors to go against the overwhelming public opinion, although it was the press that created the hostile opinion—like Frankenstein's monster."

In a word, Fidel Castro and his associates were converted to Marxism by the American press! But, were not many of them Marxists before the American press ever heard of their names? Herbert Matthews' viewpoint is worth looking at, for if applied to other countries, it could be said that Khrushchev was not a Communist until he accused him of being the head of the Communist Party by the American press, particularly by those who are nastily anti-Communist. On this theory, it could be said that Hitler was really not a Nazi but was manufactured into one by "The New York Times."

Matthews adds a very interesting moral factor to his philosophy. In his Ann Arbor speech, he admitted that Cuba was becoming more and more dangerous to the United States. But he holds that it did not have to be that—that Cuba did not have to develop toward socialism and totalitarianism. Regarding a Communist regime as one whose leaders are Communists and which takes orders from the Kremlin, Matthews holds that Cuba was not such—that is until the American press made it wicked.

But what about all the People's Republics? They started as coalition governments containing non-Communist elements. Czechoslovakia was an example of that until Jan Masaryk was either murdered or committed suicide. An effort was made to form such a coalition People's Republic in China during the days when "Vinegar Joe" Stillewell and General George Marshall were active there.

In a word, Herbert Matthews adopts a very narrow definition of a Communist regime—one that cannot be supported by the history of Communist growth either in Europe or in Asia. Even in Russia, when Lenin took control in the Smolny Institute in Petrograd, he was associated with non-Bolshevik elements. Leon Trotsky, for instance, was a Menshevik at the start and he became the second man in command.

Matthew said: "The American press made the mistake in trying to interpret the Cuban revolution in terms of our Anglo-Saxon, mature, democratic, and capitalist way of life."

But that precisely is what Herbert Matthews had done, and it is interesting that he is so correct in analyzing the American attitude toward Leninist movements. Americans try to avoid regarding Communists as Communists on the assumption that no one can be quite so wicked. But there are now many Communists in the world and there are Communists in many governments. And one needs only to look at the fact squarely without apology. Certainly those who are now in charge of Cuba call their government Socialistic, which is the most that Khrushchev says about his.

According to "Editor and Publisher," Matthews ended his speech at Ann Arbor with a statement that:

"The intense emotionalism with which the American press covered the executions following Castro's triumph has had a lasting adverse impact on American-Cuban relations." Now precisely what emotions

The Role Of Newspapers

(Savannah Morning News) The circulation of newspapers in the United States is at an all-time high—59 million daily. This is a sign that the country is healthy, too, for a growing newspaper almost always indicates a growing community and state.

Most newspaper readers realize that the American press is an integral part of any community, performing a wide variety of services in addition to informing and entertaining the public. Newspapers, said Mark Perree, president of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. at a recent convention, promote "better government, public health, the welfare of young people and rescue of the distressed."

Commenting on the newspaper's role in the community, the Augusta Herald recently said: "We doubt whether any community could prosper without newspaper support of its Chamber of Commerce, its local business activities, Scouts, Red Cross, 4-H clubs, United Fund, its schools and churches, veteran services and numerous other activities." But perhaps the most penetrating appraisal of the newspaper came from a six-year-old girl who wrote to an editor in California the following: "Newspapers. We need them so we can know who reks and drowns and who shoots somebody. And who wants a house and who dies or gets a baby. It tells if your dog is lost. They are good on shelves and to make bond fires."

"They also go under a baby's plate and to keep dogs off things. You can wrap potato peels in them. You can put one when you defrost. They tell about shows and how much things are."

Service Stations Leveling Off

By ELMER ROESSNER The bloom may be off the gasoline service station industry in the United States. Present prosperity may continue, but in the months to come there will be fewer new stations.

Unless, of course, the industry does something about it. It's a big industry. Service stations have been taking in about $1.5 billion a month this year. They took in about $18 billion last year.

According to Department of Commerce figures, gas stations have been taking in more than the furniture and appliance stores, more than apparel stores, more than drug stores, more than eating and drinking places (just think, we spend more for gasoline than alcohol) three times as much as liquor stores, more than variety stores, and more than department stores.

REASONS FOR LEVELING OFF The big reason for a leveling off of service station sales is that foreign imports and domestic compacts require a lot less gasoline than the standard cars. In fact, many of the new compacts require only half the gas needed to push large cars by the same manufacturer through either city or country traffic.

ways and toll roads mean less braking, hence greater mileage of gasoline, fewer brake-line replacements.

The auto industry must create ingenious designs and market-engineering products to meet the threat of reduced sales opportunities. James W. Partner, vice president of Audits and Surveys Co., warned the Chemical Specialties Manufacturer Association in Chicago.

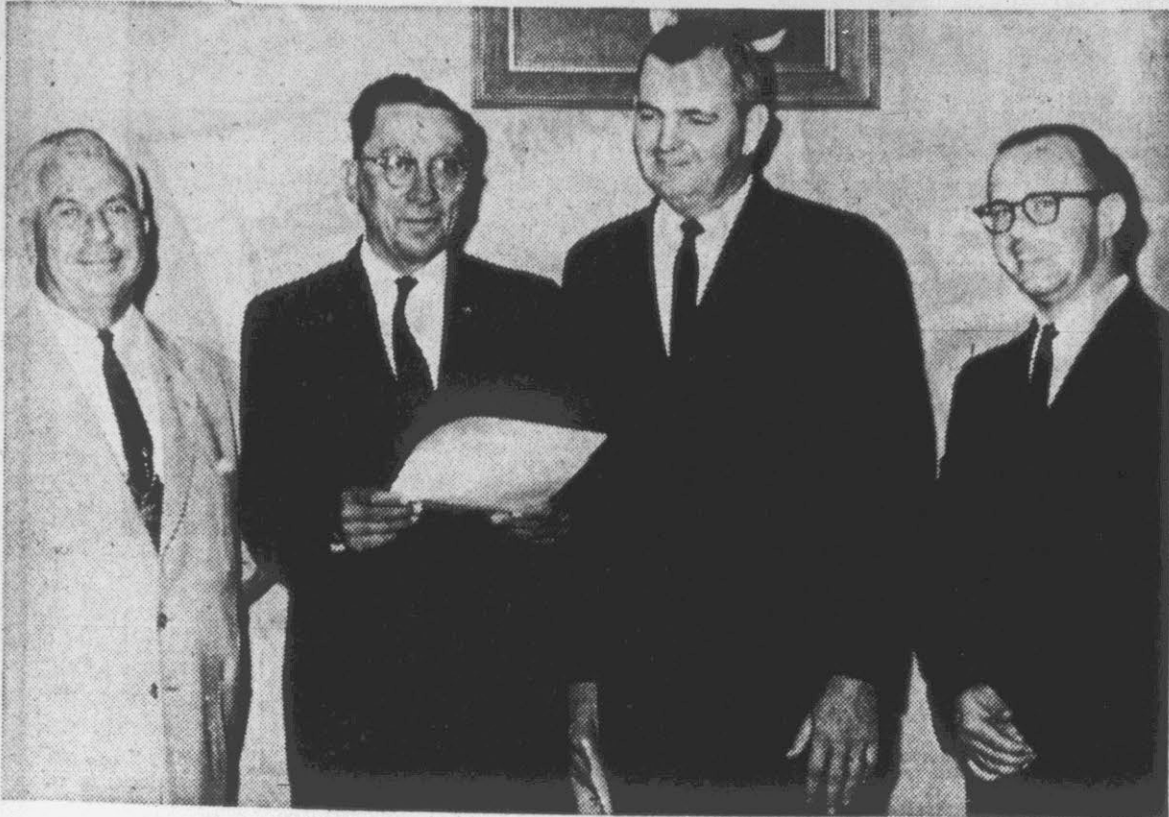

Future cars will require even less maintenance, he said. Improved finishes, chemical dips that minimize rust, stainless steel or aluminum instead of chrome trim, and improved lubrication systems that require fewer oil changes are cutting into service sales, he warned.

The fact that lower gas and oil consumption reduces the number of stops at service stations is cutting into opportunities to sell accessories, Mr. Partner pointed out. He added: "Gasoline station attendants do not sell. They are order takers." And it looks as if there will be fewer opportunities for them to take orders. DOCTORS GET TAXITE TO IMMUNIZE TAXITE Five states now provide ways for physicians to set up tax-deferred group retirement or pension plans. Commerce Clearing House reports. In addition, similar changes in the law are pending in nine other states. In Arkansas, Georgia, Minnesota, South Dakota and Tennessee, new laws permit medical groups with as few as two or three members to form associations that give the group the benefits permitted corporations.

POP GOES METAPHOR IN WEASEL WRITING "Stocks bounced in both directions last week as churning markets boiled over," says a headline in a capitalistic newsletter. "Young debutantes some giddily to do 'charity work' handily holding cocktails in one hand and stuffing envelopes with hate literature with the other," reports the communist worker, reporting on the activities of a right wing group.

Sees No Point In Holding Grudge

CARLSBAD, Calif. (AP) — "There's no use holding any grudge," Thomas George Baird, 90, said Wednesday, explaining his forthcoming date with a woman from whom he was divorced 51 years ago. Lavinia Baird, 91, who never remarried, is coming from England to keep the date and to see her eight great grandchildren, who live in nearby Rancho Santa Fe with their parents, Mr. and Ms. Wad Bain. Great grandfather Baird's second wife died two years ago.

(Continued from page four) other than were expressed should the American press have exhibited during the murders which Castro's revolution — social or political — committed? As a people, we do not usually enjoy wholesale murders. In fact, we do not enjoy them even retail. Perhaps that is why bull-fighting never took hold in this country. Murder is very unpopular except on TV and there nothing is real. Perhaps we would have liked Castro better, had he killed fewer Cubans. It would seem that Herbert Matthews is too defensive of an actual and manifest evil and that history unfortunately is giving his ideas a raw deal.

Local Legion Team Wins Home Opener, 9-7

By LEONARD LAO
Reflector Sports Writer
Greenville's Post 39 American Legion team opened its home season on a winning note last night, dropping Roanoke Rapids by a 9-7 score under the lights of Guy Smith Stadium. The victory gives the locals a 1-1 record to date, having lost their opener last week to Rocky Mount. The Post 39 aggregation will get a chance to break the 500 mark on Saturday night, when they will host Ahsokle in another league encounter.

Another run in the seventh increased the lead to two runs, but the visitors rose in the eighth, scoring three runs to take the lead once again, 7-6. Coach Bud Phillips and his boys refused to stay behind for long, however, as they came up with three big runs of their own in their half of the eighth.

East Carolina Whips Top-Seeded Sam Houston In NAIA Tourney

Clayton Says Grand-Slam Homer Just Felt 'Good'

SIoux CITY, Iowa — "It just felt good," said "Cotton" Clayton as he discussed the game-winning home run which he slammed over the Soos Park's 350-foot right centerfield fence.

Clayton, who has had the eyes of the major league scouts closely following him throughout the past two days of tournament play, collected his bases-loaded homer in the sixth inning of last night's crucial game with Sam Houston State College, which the Pirates won, 7-4.

"I felt when I hit it, that it was going," remarked Clayton. "He (SH pitcher Rich Dyer) shook off the curve ball signal from his catcher and threw a fast ball. It really felt good."

Coach Jim Mallory was another Pirate who "felt good" about Clayton's homer. In the words of the East Carolina head coach, "To put it mildly, I was elated."

But last night's game was history and Mallory's attentions were turned to the action tonight with Grambling. The Tigers, the only all-Negro team participating in the tournament, meet East Carolina with a record of 25-3 for the season. They are a ball club possessed with tremendous speed and agility, and are one of the best-coordinated teams in competition here.

During the past two days of play, East Carolina catcher Charlie Johnson and shortstop Glenn Bass have suffered leg injuries, which could put them out of action tonight. Johnson, who has collected four hits in seven trips to the plate in the two tournament games, twisted his knee in the game Tuesday with Winona when he attempted to come home on a squeeze play. Bass pulled a muscle in last night's action, an injury suffered earlier in football.

According to Mallory, the hurler who will face the big guns of Grambling tonight probably will be Larry Clayton. However, Mallory indicated that his choice of pitchers was not yet definite. "If

FIVE FOR FIVE

HOLYOKE, Mass. (AP) — Outfielder Steve Wojnar of Holyoke High School went 5-for-5 against Springfield Cathedral Wednesday — giving him a streak of 15 straight hits in three games.

By ROY MARTIN
Reflector Sports Writer

SIoux CITY, Iowa—"Cotton" Clayton, playing his first year of baseball for Coach Jim Mallory's Pirates, proved himself as adept with a bat as with a basketball as he powered a bases-loaded home run and the Buccaneers defeated Sam Houston State College here last night, 7-4.

Clayton's blast came in the sixth inning as the Pirates trailed the top-seeded Bearcats from Huntsville, Texas, 4-2. Clayton, who led the Bucs in hitting this year with an average of .393, unloaded on a 3-2 pitch, bringing home Charlie Johnson, Spencer Gaylord and Lacy West, who were on base.

The victory moves East Carolina into a clash tonight with Grambling College of Grambling, La., which defeated the University of Omaha last night by a score of 4-1.

The game tonight will be a quarter-final match, with the winner moving into the semi-finals play on Friday.

East Carolina took the lead in the first inning of yesterday's action against Sam Houston, scoring one run when Clayton tagged up and raced home from third base on Merrill Bynum's long fly to left field.

But the Bearcats, playing in that never-say-die Texas style, roared back in the second frame on the strength of a three-run homer by first baseman Larry Smith.

East Carolina came back in the fifth with one run when Clayton again scammed across the plate after a Bynum single to left.

Sam Houston scored its final tally of the night in the sixth inning, capitalizing on a wild throw to first by Pirate second sacker Spencer Gaylord.

The Bucs ended their scoring for the night in the seventh inning when Clayton again came home on a single by Gaylord.

Lacy West, who pitched the Pirates to their win in Atlanta's Area Seven tournament, turned the trick last night, striking out seven Sam Houston batters, while walking two. The lanky hurler from Asheboro held the Texans to five hits as he raised his record to the 6-0 mark.

For Sam Houston, Richard Dyer handled the mound chores until the seventh inning, when he was relieved by Ken Makowski. Dyer struck out two East Carolina batters and issued five free passes. He allowed six hits. Makowski gave up two walks, struck out none and was touched for two hits. Quinn Murray led the Bearcats at the plate with two hits in four trips to the plate.

Tobs Gain More Ground In Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The front-running Wilson Tobs gained more ground in the Carolina League pennant race Wednesday night.

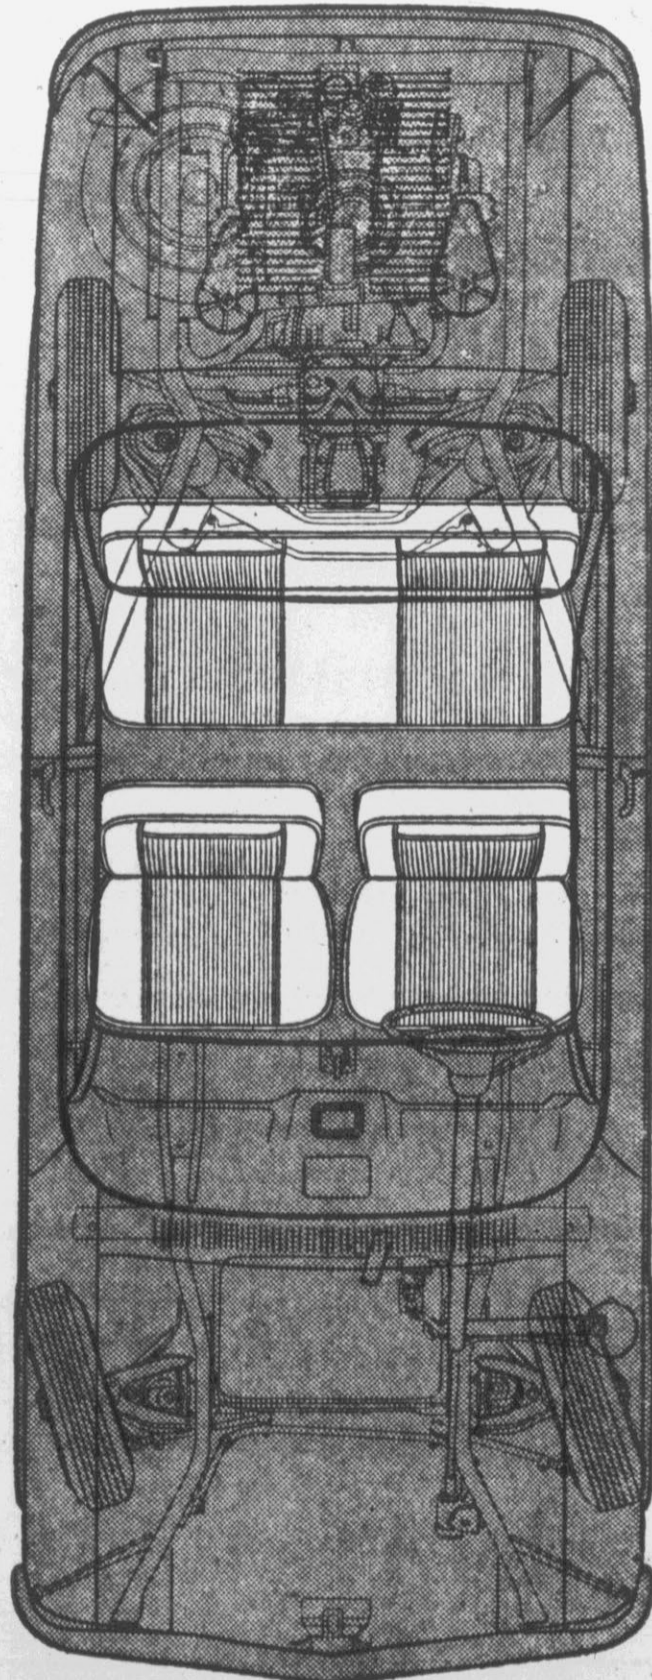

While second place Winston-Salem was losing to Burlington 7-5 in 10 innings, Wilson defeated Greensboro 5-2 to extend its lead to 4½ games.

Wilson, outfit 8-7, scored twice in the second on two walks, a single and a sacrifice fly. The Tobs added three in the third on a hit batsman, an error and two singles.

Burlington snapped a six-game losing streak in defeating Winston-Salem. It was the Red Sox' third straight loss.

Durham came from behind with two runs in the bottom of the ninth to edge Raleigh 7-6 in a battle of home runs. Bruce Grady hit two homers for the Caps. Owen Johnson blasted a two-run homer for Durham in the second, and Bob Patrick walloped a three-run four-bagger in the sixth.

BUCKET SEATS ALONE DO NOT A MONZA MAKE

■ Gee! ■ Little did we know, when we introduced the Corvair Monza last year, that we were starting a Big Thing. We just thought it would be pleasant if you could buy a car that treats you, the driver, like you want to be treated. ■ The bucket seats, of course, are the most obvious evidence of our desire to please you. But they're not the most important thing. No sir. What's really vital is the way a Monza handles—something nobody in the U.S. has yet copied. Or can copy. Because Corvair is the only rear-engined car made in this country, and you know what that means: steering light as thistledown. (You even park this one more easily, it steers so briskly.) Beautifully balanced braking—the car stays level even under panic braking, which we hope you'll never have to do. Traction and more traction, so you don't become a stick-in-the-mud. The kind of cornering that's sheer joy to experience. ■ You get more: a fully independent suspension that blots out road shocks before they can ruffle you. Clean, crisp styling. Thoroughgoing economy, from purchase price to operating cost. ■ You're not going to be satisfied with bucket seats alone, are you?

 The Cleveland Indians, sweeping into the American League lead on a nine-game streak against the likes of Minnesota, Los Angeles and Washington, carry a half-game edge into Detroit tonight for a two-night doubleheader that opens a four-game series with the second place Tigers.

The Injuns padded their lead beyond a percentage point margin with an 11-0 romp at Washington Wednesday night as unbeaten right-hander Jim (Mudcat) Grant won his seventh with a six-hitter.

In the other AL games Wednesday: New York defeated Minnesota 5-1 on a two-hitter by Ralph Terry that plunked the Twins into the cellar with their 3th straight loss, the Los Angeles Angels beat Baltimore 4-0 behind Ted Bowsfield's five-hit pitching and Boston defeated Kansas City 6-2.

In the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers regained first place by a half a game with a 7-3 victory over Pittsburgh after Milwaukee had spilled Cincinnati 8-1. San Francisco defeated Philadelphia 4-3 in 11 innings, and St. Louis beat the Chicago Cubs 9-6.

Willie Kirkland and Woodie Held hammered solo home runs in an 11-hit attack for the Indians who scored twice in the first off Pete Burnside (1-4). Grant walked but one and struck out six.

Both Minnesota hits off Terry (3-0) came in the first inning, when Billy Martin tripled and scored on a double by Lennie Green. The Yankees then exploded for all five runs in the third against Pete Ramos (3-7), tagging the right-hander with his fifth straight loss on a three-run homer by Roger Maris and a two-run homer by Yogi Berra. It was No. 17 for Maris, tops in the majors, as the Yanks set an AL record with 31 consecutive home runs in 16 consecutive games.

Bowsfield (2-1) walked three, struck out three and allowed only one hit over the last seven innings. Three runs in the first inning, capped by Ken Aspromonte's two-run double, beat Billy Hoelt (1-3) and handed the Orioles their sixth defeat in eight games. Steve Bilko homered for the Angels, who took the series 3-1.

Rookie Don Schwall won his fourth without defeat for the Red Sox, allowing nine hits. Boston beat the A's and Bud Daley (4-7) with four unearned runs in the fifth inning, scoring two on Jackie Jensen's double.

There was a merry twinkle in Doc's blue eyes as he blithely discussed Archie's future as if the champ was 21 instead of a magnificent antique, aged 44 or 47.

Associated Press Sports Writer
 MONTICELLO, N.Y. (AP) — If Archie Moore gets by Giulio Rinaldi Saturday night, as he is favored to, the old gent may take off for Sweden this fall for a joust with Ingemar Johansson.

"That would go real big over there," said Jack (Doc) Kearns, who handles Archie's bookings. "I've discussed the fight with Eddie Ahlquist (Johansson's adviser) and he thinks it would be great."

"First of all it would make a lot of money for everyone," added Doc, who says he's only slightly older than his meal-ticket.

"Then if Archie wins it, and I'm confident he can, he'll be right in line for another shot at the heavyweight title.

"Archie still thinks he can beat (Floyd) Patterson and he'd like to get that heavyweight title before he quits in maybe six or seven years."

CHAPTER 17

The closing of the hatch had made it very dark in the lower hold of the Mayflower. Sal Boyd got to his knees. He shook his head, groggy from the damage done by John Alden's fists. With the back of a hand he wiped his mouth. At last he threw himself on the gunwale—there, like the splash he had just heard—only he could swim too well.

This was silly! He was feeling sorry for himself. Gin, he knew, made some men maudlin; did it have this effect upon him?

He looked up startled, though there had been no noise. But a little earlier—his responses were slow today—a little earlier there had been a sound, a splash, a term of Mayflower. A fish jumping? It wasn't that kind of splash, not hollow, not a spunk. It could hardly be the longboat, for that was ashore with a firewood party. Then suddenly he knew what it had been. He sprang to his feet, whirling around.

Dorothy Bradford no longer sat on the taffrail.

She was nowhere else on the poop or half deck, and she could not have reached the door of her cabin without passing close to Sal.

He ran up to the half deck, up to the poop, across the poop.

He looked over the taffrail. He saw something in the water, he wasn't sure what.

It must have been twenty-five feet down, and he closed his eyes as he tore off his boots, for he was badly frightened. He kept his eyes closed even when he climbed over the rail and launched his dive.

The water was so cold that it was like an enveloping flame, but a paralyzing flame and he could not even be sure he could swim.

Though he knew that there was a sand bottom, the water was dark. He had struck well, yet he was quickly winded, and as he rose to the surface he starished his limbs in the hope of brushing something.

With his head out he did not pause to yell. That would have taken too long. He gulped in a great breath, and dived again. . . and again. . .

Sal had a horrid conviction that the woman he held was not Dorothy Bradford but Priscilla Mullins. He couldn't see her, but he could feel her; he was sure it was Priscilla.

He held her at arm's length, though he couldn't seem to swim any more; it was as though he had been paralyzed. But—strength might return. Was she dead? Please, God, don't allow that to happen! Sal tried again to swim, at least to kick a little, holding her hand.

They were sinking all this while. No matter what he did they went down and down.

His ears rang. The force was almost unbearable. He wanted to open his mouth and scream in pain, but if he did that it would be the end.

Yet he did do it. He opened his mouth and abruptly the pressure was relaxed. He knew a happy, slightly silly feeling. The world went all milk, soft, a film. Now, the world was not harsh; it did not scrape; and if this was death it wasn't pain but relief.

"Thank God!"

Priscilla Mullins he clung to, yes. But she was dry. And so was he. The only thing wet about Sal was his face, which was drenched with sweat. Priscilla, when she managed to get a hand free, wiped the face with a wet cloth.

"You're all right! Praise be to God!"

"How—how long have I been—out?"

"All day."

"What?"

He saw from the light on the ceiling that it was indeed sundown. He tried to rise, bumped his head, and fell back. He was in a bunk in the poop cabin, forbidden territory for him ordinarily, and he was dressed in somebody's long white night dress. Like an angel, was his sardonic fleeting thought.

"They—never—found her?"

"No. She must have been washed out to sea. The tide was

Sabotage Blasts By No Amateurs

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Defense Department specialist testified here it was no amateur who engineered the three mysterious sabotage blasts in Utah May 28 which cut transcontinental wire and television communications.

Maj. Robert W. Ewell, from the Defense Department Office of Telecommunications, also told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee the government has taken adequate steps to protect against any more sabotaging of communications facilities, but that he could not give details about the precautions in a public hearing.

The reason for the sabotage is still a mystery, he said. The matter was up simultaneously at a separate hearing by a subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee. This group is studying the question of whether new laws are needed.

Brig. Gen. John H. Bestic, Air Force deputy director of telecommunications, told the group the blasts demonstrate need for tougher penalties to curb malicious damage to communications facilities.

Asked by Sen. Kenneth E. Keating, R-N.Y., whether the bombings could have been part of a sabotage training program, Bestic said Gen. Curtis LeMay, Air Force chief of staff, had suggested that the explosions could have been the work of graduates of a Soviet sabotage school operated in East Germany.

But he said there was no evidence to support this theory.
