Seeking Harmony At Jazz Festival

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Newport is determined to have harmony on the bandstand and in the city as well when thousands of young enthusiasts mass for the four-day jazz festival beginning Friday.

Elaborate plans have been made to keep order this year. The 1960 festival was abbreviated in a riot of flying bottles, clubs and tear gas grenades.

It took the combined forces of police, National Guards, Navy shore patrols and Marines to break up the riot.

Big names in jazz are luring heavy advance reservations for the 14,000 seats in the jazz center in Freebody Park. They include Louis Armstrong, Count Basie, Duke Ellington, Gerry Mulligan, Oscar Peterson, Carmen McRae, Mel Torme, Lambert-Henricks and Ross, Sarah Vaughan and blind pianist George Shearing. Not to mention Judy Garland's one-woman show Monday afternoon. Despite the producer organization's name "Music in Newport Inc.," the accent is 90 percent on jazz.

The city's police force (77 men, 1 woman) is being augmented by 133 police from other parts of Rhode Island, plus 35 Newport auxiliaries who will patrol residential areas. A Newport citizens band of radio operators—20 men—will maintain police communications. State police will be on standby.

Some 50 Pinkerton agents, plus a police squad of 18 plain clothes men will infiltrate the crowds. Two extra patrol wagons and 25 police cars have been lined up.

In the event of serious emergency, Rhode Island Gov. John Notte is ready to send in the National Guard. The city is assured of the aid of Navy shore patrols.

Police Chief Joseph A. Radice says there will be no drinking in the streets or in public parks or on beaches, and no loitering or littering.

Newport wants the festival largely because businessmen say in previous years it brought about $1.5 million in new money into the city.

On top of Mt. Washington, N. H. the mercury never has climbed above 45 degrees in the winter or 71 in the summer. The coldest temperature ever recorded there was 46.5 degrees below zero.

Fifteen cases were heard yesterday in Pitt County Superior Court with Judge Albert W. Cowper presiding. They were as follows:

Harriet omer Davis, 38-year-old Greenville Negro, on an appeal for driving under the influence received a 30-day suspended sentence on payment of $100 fine and court costs.

The following persons were fined $10 and costs on speeding charges: Clifton Ralph Mills, 17 of Greenville; James Alexander Brinson, 27, of Grantsboro; Maple Moore Hubbard, 47, of Rocky Mount; Lillian Adams Dennis, 40, of Greenville; Jerome Hodges, 39, of Rocky Mount; George Alton Glover, 34, of Wilson; Paul Dalton Nelson, 22, of Greenville.

Ray Nichols, 40, of Greenville was ordered to pay a $200 fine and court costs on a plea of guilty to driving after his license had been revoked.

Three persons were ordered to pay court costs and $5 each for the use and benefit of Rudolph Mills on assault charges. They were Mac Donald Nichols, 25, Bruce B. Nichols, 31, and Ronald E. Nichols, 21, all of 1007 N. Pitt St., Greenville.

Joe Phillips, 65-year-old Negro of Grifton was fined $100 and costs on a charge of driving under the influence.

Arrest Brings Multiple Counts

Carey B. Garris, 43, of Ayden was found innocent on an assault charge.

A six-month sentence was received by L. B. Field on charges of assault on a female and breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony.

James Earl May, Jr., was sentenced to 30 days in jail when found guilty of assault on a female.

A one-year sentence was given to George Burney, Negro, who was found guilty of violating liquor laws.

GRIFTON—Charges of drunken driving, no operator's license and no liability insurance were lodged against a 27-year-old Winterville man following his arrest here Saturday night, according to police.

The man was identified as James Allen Bostic of Rt. 2, Winterville. Chief Luther Lewis said, Chief Lewis said he arrested Bostic at the end of Main Street this weekend.

Trial is scheduled to take place on Thursday, July 6, in Grifton Recorder's Court.

Greenville Boy Is Chosen For WCC Program

Tommy Clay of Greenville, who completed the fifth grade at the Wahl-Coates Laboratory School at East Carolina College this month, is one of thirty gifted children in the state chosen to attend a summer program at the Laboratory School at Western Carolina College. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Howard Clay of the East Carolina faculty.

Tommy is now participating at Western Carolina in a pilot school which is conducted with the aim of developing the talents and potentialities of boys and girls qualifying through tests and measurements as gifted. From a group of approximately 200 children he is one of the thirty selected as a pupil. He will be at Western Carolina through July 14.

The program being offered at Western Carolina is designed to develop the talents and potentialities of the children in attendance and to enrich their educational opportunities in areas mainly outside the regular school curriculum.

Mrs. Evelyn Blue of the Wahl-Coates faculty was Tommy's teacher in the fifth grade.

Over 60 Attending Health Workshop

Now in progress and continuing through June 30 at East Carolina College, a summer school Health Education Workshop has an enrollment of 63 men and women, mainly teachers, school officials, and nurses.

The purpose of the event, according to Neil Stallings of the college department of health and physical education, is to provide participants with working experience for improving health education procedures in the public schools and for providing new ideas and information about health and health education.

Approximately 25 educators, doctors, psychiatrists, dentists, and specialists in health education are included among lecturers, panelists, and consultants on the program.

Among organizations and agencies cooperating with the college in presenting the workshop are the N.C. Department of Public Instruction; the N.C. Board of Health; the state organizations of the American Cancer Society, Heart Association, and Tuberculosis Society; the N.C. Mental Health Association; and Harcourt-Brace Co., publishers.

Those attending the workshop include the following from Pitt County:

Mrs. Lillian N. Smith, Margaret Stokes, both of Greenville; Mrs. Anna B. Harrington of 909 Greenville Blvd., Greenville; Mrs. Margaret Richardson of Rt. 1, Greenville; Mrs. Anne Worthington of Winterville; Mrs. Alma Beck of Rt. 1, Winterville; Lela B. Stan-cil of Greenville; George A. James of Bethel; Jim Gravelly of 1104 E. 10th St., Greenville; Mrs. Christine W. Tripp of 124 N. Eastern St., Greenville; Mrs. Ruel Tyson of 30 S. Jarvis St., Greenville; Johnny Jones of 905 E. 4th St., Greenville; Bob Howell of Simpson; and Mrs. Margaret Coughlin of Greenville.

Pitt War Dead Names On List

Names of 66 Pitt Countians, killed in combat during World War II, are included in a list of Tar Heel names to be posted aboard the USS North Carolina.

The USS North Carolina Battleship Commission, the body heading a drive to raise $250,000 to bring the World War II battleship to Wilmington as a permanent war memorial, has announced that at least three "honor rolls" will be posted aboard the giant ship scheduled for the scrap heap July 1.

A total of 6,063 Tar Heels will be included in the list of World War II dead.

The other two honor rolls will be a county-by-county roster of the schools that participated 100 per cent in the drive to save the ship and a list of the admirals of the North Carolina Navy — those who donated as much as $100 or raised as much as $500 to save the battleship from the scrap heap.

A breakdown of the 66 Pitt Countians who will be listed among the World War II dead showed 48 Army and Air Force casualties and 18 Navy, Coast Guard and Marine servicemen killed.

Appeal Should Not Fall On Deaf Ears

The appeal issued today by President Leo W. Jenkins of East Carolina College for Greenville residents to rent rooms to college students this fall should not be ignored by the people of this community.

It should be a matter of genuine concern to the people of Greenville that the college faces the prospect of turning away some 800 or more applicants for admission in September unless rooms can be found for them in private homes in Greenville.

Although East Carolina College has enjoyed tremendous growth during the past decade, this year has brought a record number of applications from new students for admission to the college in September. Already the number of new students applying for admission is approximately 3,400 and additional applications are still being received by the college.

Greenville has taken great pride in the growth of East Carolina College and justifiably so. The city likewise has benefitted immeasurably from the growth of the college and it will continue to do so in the future, for as East Carolina College grows, so does Greenville grow. For the coming fall quarter at the college, however, the size of enrollment of students—over that for which dormitory space is available and the number of off-campus rooms which are normally available to college students—will be largely determined by how many rooms in private homes are made available for college students.

There can be no getting around the fact that the people of Greenville have an obligation to lend a helping hand to the college by helping insofar as possible to meet this demand for rooms by prospective students. And certainly there is no getting around the fact that Greenville will be helping itself if it is able to provide off-campus rooms for these additional students who want to enroll at the local college. An additional 800 or more students enrolled at East Carolina College this fall would have a considerable economic impact upon Greenville.

Aside from the economic importance of these 800 additional students to the community, however, is the fact that these students from all parts of North Carolina want to come to East Carolina College to further their education. If the people of this city can provide living quarters for them they will not only be helping their own community and the college, but they will also be making a very real contribution to these young people and to the state as a whole. In a real sense they will be helping to make it possible for these students to attend college.

There have been relatively few occasions in the more than half century East Carolina College has been a part of Greenville in which the college has appealed to the people of this city for a helping hand. The appeal which President Jenkins has made to the people of Greenville offers the city an opportunity to show in a tangible way how much it appreciates the college and that it is willing to come to its aid in a time of need.

We trust that the people of Greenville who are in a position to do so will respond promptly and positively to President Jenkins' appeal to make rooms available for the overflow of students who are seeking admission to East Carolina this fall.

New Year's Day In State Gov't

By LYNN NISBET

YEAR'S END — Next Monday will be New Year's Day for the State government agencies and for many counties and municipalities. The State's fiscal year ends on June 30 and this time the ending is more significant because it is the end of the biennium for which the 1959 Legislature made appropriations. Beginning Monday, State agencies and departments and taxpayers go on the new schedules written into law by the 1961 General Assembly.

Department heads and fiscal officers are busy getting accounts in order for the transfer. The changeover is more significant than usual, even for the first biennium of a new administration. More changes were authorized in the personnel of boards and commissions than ever before. Daily routine of departmental activity has not been greatly disturbed, but there has been some unavoidable delay and slow-down in normal planning.

The present seven-member highway commission, for example, goes out of office next week and will be succeeded by a 13-member board, selected on different basis and with substantially different functions. Obviously the incumbents could not do anymore than was necessary to keep the wheels turning, because advance arrangements not only would have been presumptuous but very likely would have been wasted effort. The new board has the right and the responsibility to make its own plans.

Same thing is true of the Board of Conservation and Development. The present 18 members were legislated out of office and provision made for a new 28 member board to be appointed by the Governor. If some of the same persons are appointed, it still will be a new board — not a continuing one.

MEETINGS — It was necessary for the retiring board to select a date and place for the summer meeting, required by statute to be held in July. That meeting has been set for Wrightsville Beach on July 23-24-25. Usually dates and places for C&D meetings are fixed months in advance. This time the schedule for the fall meeting was left open for the new board to determine. Effort is being made to have it scheduled for Winston-Salem on October 1-2-3, in conjunction with the Travel Council of North Carolina and dedication of the new $30 million Reynolds cigarette factory at Whitaker Park.

Although formal announcement of new appointments to the boards will not be made until Governor Sanford returns from his Hawaiian trip, most of them have been decided upon and in many cases the appointees have been notified.

TOUGH — The highway commissioners immediately face a tough situation. In many respects the C&D board is more important than the highway commission. Activities of that department cover a much wider range, affect the personal and business lives of the citizens in more ways, and the board is less hamstrung by Federal regulations in setting up a program.

But C&D has never established the personal relationship with citizens that the highway department had maintained from its inception until four years ago. A return to closer contacts has been promised, with more attention to local needs and wishes, implied promise of more county road improvements — at a time when highway revenue is shrinking. The highway commission cannot perform miracles, any more than the State Board of Education, but there is some evidence that anything less than miracles will not be satisfactory.

MUSICAL CHAIRS — The new year changes also require George Cherry's general services division to brush up on rules for the old time game of musical chairs or fruit basket turnover. The late Legislature, following tradition, debated the setting up of new agencies and increasing old ones, and then nonchalantly added that "The general services division shall provide office space" for the new activities.

In many instances it was also required that the State Auditor shall annually audit the accounts — but often there was no provision for extra auditors to do the job, or extra appropriation for general services to provide space.

The board room in the highway building, for example, was designed for ten members. When Governor Umstead increased the number to 14, the extra seats could be added without much trouble. Then the Hodges' seven-member board looked lonesome around the big table. When the 18 members (plus a chairman) have to be accommodated, quarters will be a bit crowded. But they can get along. If the commission has too much "company" for public hearings in the board room, they can move downstairs to the auditorium.

The C&D board room was designed for 15 members. Hodges added three, and now Sanford has almost doubled the original number to 28. The Education Building, which houses C&D, has several board and committee rooms but no auditorium with capacity of more than 40 to 50 people. On occasions when groups of citizens want to appear before the C&D board, the meeting will have to be moved to the Agriculture or Highway building auditoriums.

That doesn't impose too much of a problem, because although the agriculture and highway folks feel some proprietary ownership of the space in their buildings, actually it is all under control of the General Services Division in the Department of Administration.

Jury Inequities Not Commissioners' Fault

The conclusion of the Pitt County Grand Jury that little can be done to obtain a more equitable distribution of jury service among citizens of the county unless and until the state's jury law is changed clearly absolves the County Commissioners of responsibility for any inequities in jury service which may have occurred in the county.

It was the conclusion of the Pitt Grand Jury which has been considering the jury selection system for the past six months that inequities it had previously pointed to in its report are "built-in-inequities created by the law which provides for selection by chance."

Obviously any change in the state law concerning the selection of jurors will have to be made by the legislature, and that cannot be done at least for another two years, if then. It is also obvious that until such time that the state law governing the selection of persons for jury duty is changed, the County Commissioners have no choice but to follow the procedure prescribed by the law in making jury selections for the county.

This the Pitt County Commissioners have been doing and we are confident they will continue to do.

Ghosts Linger In The Chambers

RALEIGH—Though the Senate and House chambers are forever silent to future complete sessions of the General Assembly, there are whispers and echoes which will never fade away.

Desks are cleared, but still there is the space used by Sen. Jim Hoyle of Lee for the almost waist-high stack of legal volumes used daily by the Sanford atorney known as the "conscience of the Senate." Sen. Hoyle can still almost be heard turning pages in search of a legal ruling, and Lt. Gov. Philpott and Wake County Sen. John Jordan can still be heard commending the Senator from Lee for his hard work.

Burlington's Sen. Ralph Scott, undoubtedly checking into business matters at his Melville Dairy which he left for nearly five months, is remembered for checking into everything pertaining to his "special love" in the Senate, the Education Committee which he headed.

Listening now to the silence of these Halls, a reporter can also hear yesterday's voices, for the Scotland County Senator, Jennings King, rang out again and again in defense of the "po' man," and every time anyone mentioned a Board of Something-or-Other, up rose colorful Sen. Clarence Stone to remind everyone he was "again" boards.

Speeches from Caldwell's Sen. Dennis Cook and Cabarrus' Sen. Carlyle Rutledge were infrequent, but always effective. In a few concise words, these two made the points desired, and changed the already made-up minds of some of their colleagues with their forcefulness.

The pleasant manner of Rocky Mount's Sen. Dal Aldorf still lingers on one side of the Senate, and the droll humor from the other Rocky Mount Senator, Henry Shelton, drifts yet across from the opposite side of the great room.

In another far corner of the chamber the wisdom and untiring efforts of Sen. Robert Lee Humber of Pitt have become a part of North Carolina's history.

The impish grins of Randolph's Sen. Sam Burrow, Jr., and Iredell's Sen. Jimmy Johnson helped their colleagues over

There's A Leak Up There

We are issuing a call for a plumber. It's like this, somebody left a faucet leaking, and the farmers are getting rather worried about it, since the faucet has been dripping into their tobacco and corn fields.

It's getting to the point that we'll just throw our fish line out the window before too long, instead of driving out to the country.

All this rain. One man in Grifton, K. E. Price Sr., who has been keeping weather information for some years, estimates the past week's rain around Grifton at about 14 1/2 inches in the past week. Of course, in Greenville we haven't had that much. But it is still pretty wet.

Things are getting pretty warm inside for mothers, however, with the children at loose ends for entertainment. At any rate, the weatherman promised some relief in the cloudiness today and said rain would be less. He has reneged and it is raining as much as ever. There is a rumor going around that we will have just a few of those "very warm" days this whole summer. A week ago, that might have been just a rumor, but now we are beginning to believe there might be something to it.

If you are tired of staying inside and watching summer television reruns, we have discovered an entertaining substitute: monopoly.

This was the day we were going to advance the advantages of bicycle riding during the pleasant summer days. Bike pilots have been urged to do their most cautious riding this year on the fourth of July weekend, we are told. That day is one to be especially cautious, since both auto drivers and bike riders will be out in droves.

These bike drivers are urged to avoid main arteries of traffic and use less traveled roads.

There are about 27 million bikes in the hands of the American public now, "Bike News" says, with some 55 million bike (Continued on page six)

Other Editors Saying The Voting Picture

(Washington Daily News)

One government agency has recently issued a bulletin which shows that here in Eastern North Carolina our voting picture is vastly different from that of the mountainous counties of Western North Carolina.

In the 1960 general election, held last November, in Beaufort county only 43.4 percent of the people 21 years of age and over went to the polls to cast ballots. In Pitt county exactly 43 percent of the adult citizenship voted. In Nash county the percentage was 42.9. In Hyde county it was exactly 50 percent.

Taking a look at counties in Western North Carolina, we find that in Swain county 99.9 percent of all adults there voted. In Madison county 98.6 percent of the adults voted. In Clay county 98.4 percent voted. In Alleghany county the vote was 91.7 percent. In Graham county it was 92.1 percent. In Watauga county it was 90.8 percent.

Two factors stand out here in Eastern North Carolina. The first is that we have many people 21 years of age and beyond who are not registered. The second factor is that we have many registered voters who never bother to go to the polls and cast ballots.

Some people will say that the two party system which the counties of Western North Carolina have played a big part in getting out a heavy registration and a heavy vote. Perhaps the two party system does have an effect on the voter total. We say that because here in our own area of North Carolina we are so heavily Democratic that we tend all too often to take the party and its nominees for granted. However, in recent years we have come to realize that the Democratic majorities piled up here in Eastern North Carolina are vital in offsetting the Republican majorities piled up nationally in the mountain counties.

The big mistake we make here in Eastern North Carolina is not getting out the full vote of those registered. When all the registered voters go to the polls in terms of a heavy vote. In Swain county practically every registered voter goes to the polls and votes. The same picture applies to most of the Western counties.

When we realize that in the past general election the present Twelfth Congressional district saw more than 90 percent of the registered voters cast ballots, we begin to understand that here in Eastern North Carolina we are not serious enough about getting our folks out to vote.

Last November in Wayne county only 29.4 percent of the adults voted. In our neighboring Craven county only 33.3 percent of the adults voted.

The picture presents us a real challenge here in Eastern North Carolina. We talk of revitalizing the Democratic party. We ought to talk also in terms of stressing the importance of voting among those registered to vote. The people of Eastern North Carolina ought to meet the challenge. If the registered voters of Eastern North Carolina will only go to the polls on election days and vote, then the tremendous Democratic majorities normally piled up here will keep the state heavily Democratic in the years ahead.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS FAITH HEALING

Do you believe in faith healing?

"Oh yes," said a man in my hearing recently. "There are lots of people who think they are sick. They have aches and pains which can be cured by a little sympathy and kindly suggestion. If that is what you mean by faith healing, I believe in it. If you mean actually curing definitely diagnosed disease, no, I don't believe that is possible."

Why not? People were healed by faith in our Lord's day. They have been healed by faith in every succeeding century. Many are being healed by faith today. This does not mean that doctors, medicine, and hospitals are superfluous. It only means that in recovering from illness there are certain factors which are beyond the capacity of human beings to treat with any show of success. Every doctor will confess that he has had patients recover when every indication pointed to the certainty of their death. It is the contention of those who believe in healing through faith on the part of the sick person and incalculable power on the part of God often bring recovery.

Not all sick people are destined to recover. We must all die sometime. But there cannot be the slightest doubt that all sick people are helped by faith and that some are actually cured by faith.

Don't dismiss your doctor, but remember that there is a Great Physician who is above us all — doctors and patients alike.

Actually mankind has not been given a new lease on life, but has suffered the calamities of permanent revolution and disturbance. We are at this moment in a more dangerous position than we ever have been in before and every person feels it in the disturbances not only in his economy but in social relationships, some of which are particularly as between parents and children.

The professor further says: "Important among these was the emerging of the peoples of Asia and Africa out of centuries of poverty and ignorance and oppression. Here is a revolution as significant as the Renaissance or the discovery of America."

But when in history, have the people of China or Tibet or the Congo suffered greater oppression than at the present moment? When has Cuba, for instance, had a worse economy than its present one? When have the Cuban people suffered more oppression than now?

It is difficult to understand precisely what the purpose of this professional grandiloquent optimism is supposed to do for us. Are we to believe that all is well, even though taxes remain unconsciously high? Are we to assume that the condition of permanent revolution is a pleasant one and that living, for most human beings, is superior to what it was, say, in 1912?

It is difficult for those who live in books to understand the harm that the very existence of Soviet Russia has done to the younger generation of this and other countries. The fact that much of the world is on a military basis, that young people live under the cloud of being called up, that marriages are either premature or are postponed indefinitely, that inflation (Continued on page six)

'Girl In The Office' Is Dead

By ELMER ROESSNER

The Little Girl in the Office, born in 1942, is dead. She was killed by the Tax Court.

When the country moved into World War II, a host of price and wage regulations were imposed on business. Sometimes it was very profitable to violate these regulations.

When a company was caught, the most frequent explanation was, "a little girl in the office made a mistake."

The explanation continued: "You know how hard it is to get competent help these days. Well, we have some dumb bunnies. And one of these girls, in sending out a price list for posting wages, or ordering rationed materials, simply copied the wrong figures."

When the government agencies concerned demanded to know just who this girl in the office was, the answer usually was, "We've had such a parade of incompetents, that there's no way of telling just which girl did it."

SOMETIMES MATERIALIZED Once in a while a company could produce The Little Girl in the Office—or at least a girl who would admit she might have made a mistake because she made so many of them, but wasn't quite sure.

After the war ended, The Little Girl in the Office was not mustered out. Real or imaginary, she was kept on in many offices. When there were questions about violating a Wage and Hours regulation, an export ruling, a Securities and Exchange order, or when there were peculiarities in accounting for income tax, it-always seemed to be the fault of The Little Girl in the Office.

But now, at the age of only 19, she appears to be dead.

A corporation, through a bookkeeping error, understated its gross income by 20 percent. The Internal Revenue Service audited its books and slapped on a 5 percent negligence penalty. The corporation protested that it was an honest mistake; the IRS replies that it was still negligence. TRAINING HELD ESSENTIAL The Tax Court ruled that it was negligence. As Prentice-Hall summarized the situation: "A taxpayer won't be penalized if his understatement stems from a mistaken idea of his legal rights (Bennett, 139 F 2d 961) or from reliance on competent legal or accounting advice (Woody, 19 TC 350). But X Corp. chose an incompetent or inexperienced person to keep its books and didn't properly train or supervise her. This is negligence, justifying the 5 percent added tax (Leroy, 36 TC No. 44)."

So the LGITO is gone. Many businesses will miss her.

HOW TO GET LICENSE FOR CITIZENS BAND RADIO

More citizens have asked about licenses for citizens band radios.

In most cases, the dealer who sells the equipment can give the buyer complete guidance for obtaining a license. The nearest field offices of the Department of Commerce and the Small Business Administration can also be helpful. Or any citizen over 18 may handle the matter by himself by asking the Federal Communications Commission for five copies of form 505 and a copy of FCC Regulations, Part 19.

The regulations must be studied. Then the application forms should be carefully filled out for a Class D license. In the form, Items 3, 6, 10, 12, 13 and 14 do not apply to Class D licenses and a line should be drawn through those boxes. All other items should be answered clearly. The application should be signed in the presence of a notary and the signature notarized. All five copies mailed to the FCC, Washington 25, D.C. The set must not be used until a license is received.

Blind To The Danger

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY Copyright, 1961, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Professor Henry Steele Commager is an historian who has supported the New Deal and who believes:

"Sometimes we forget how close the Nazis and the Fascists and the war lords of Japan — with all their inhumanity, their hatred of life—came to victory. If Winston Churchill and Franklin D. Roosevelt had not formed their grand alliance; if Adolf Hitler had not committed the incredible folly of attacking Russia before he had disposed of Britain; if men of good will and of courage everywhere had not battled gallantly for freedom, there would be no point now in discussing advances. The black clouds of tyranny and superstition would have settled alike over all the past glories and future hopes of mankind."

In 1961, this particular paragraph is startling because as a result of our inability to recognize in 1939 the peril of supporting Soviet Russia, we are in major difficulties for which there seem to be no imminent solutions.

"Mankind then was given a new lease on life." What kind of a new lease of life was the world given? Since 1945, the world has been disturbed by constant war, by revolution, by upset social and economic conditions everywhere. It is impossible to believe that World War II saved the world from disorder. World War II destroyed a thousand years of history, but it opened a new era—the era of the emergence of the masses under the leadership and guidance of an intellectual elite. In vast areas of the East, Marxism has been substituted for Christianity. Socialism has been substituted for private ownership; materialism has been substituted for idealism.

None of this justification for ignoring the errors in judgement and in policy during the past 30 years which resulted in the position of universal leader and then losing this position in the shortest time, in a conflict with Soviet Russia. It is easy to say that had Hitler not been defeated, he would have attacked the United States. It is easier to say from the available facts that beginning with Stalin's run the whole of the Khrushchev regime, the United States has been in the peril of war and has had to devote its budget to warlike preparations. The new era is a continuation of war by all sorts of frightful devices.

Actually mankind has not been given a new lease on life, but has suffered the calamities of permanent revolution and disturbance. We are at this moment in a more dangerous position than we ever have been in before and every person feels it in the disturbances not only in his economy but in social relationships, some of which are particularly as between parents and children.

The professor further says: "Important among these was the emerging of the peoples of Asia and Africa out of centuries of poverty and ignorance and oppression. Here is a revolution as significant as the Renaissance or the discovery of America."

But when in history, have the people of China or Tibet or the Congo suffered greater oppression than at the present moment? When has Cuba, for instance, had a worse economy than its present one? When have the Cuban people suffered more oppression than now?

It is difficult to understand precisely what the purpose of this professional grandiloquent optimism is supposed to do for us. Are we to believe that all is well, even though taxes remain unconsciously high? Are we to assume that the condition of permanent revolution is a pleasant one and that living, for most human beings, is superior to what it was, say, in 1912?

It is difficult for those who live in books to understand the harm that the very existence of Soviet Russia has done to the younger generation of this and other countries. The fact that much of the world is on a military basis, that young people live under the cloud of being called up, that marriages are either premature or are postponed indefinitely, that inflation (Continued on page six)

REFUGE FROM FLOOD—A family seeks refuge from flood waters on the roof of their home near Fort Worth, Tex., after heavy rains crested Old Fossil Creek, driving residents from about 125 homes. ### Fleet Admiral Nimitz Praises Tar Heel Effort

RALEIGH, N.C.—Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, who led the U. S. Navy to victory in the Pacific during World War II, has commended the U. S. S. North Carolina Battleship Commission and Tar Heel citizens who are in the process of raising $250,000 to save the famous battleship. In a letter to Hugh Morton, chairman of the Commission, Admiral Nimitz said "I hasten to commend you and to congratulate you and your associates on the U.S.S. North Carolina Battleship Commission on your patriotic project of acquiring the U.S.S. North Carolina and of making her into a permanent memorial to the gallant people who served in her during World War II.

"She will become a shrine and positive reminder to all who see her of their responsibilities to this great country of ours.

"I will remember the great thrill when she arrived in Pearl Harbor during the early stages of the war, at a time when our strength and fortunes were at a low ebb. She was the first of the great new battleships to join the Pacific Fleet and her mere presence in a task force was enough to keep morale at a peak. Before the war's end she had built for herself a magnificent record of accomplishment.

"I wish you complete and early success on this most worthy project."

The famous ship, originally scheduled to be broken up for scrap on July 1, will be made into a War memorial and exhibit on the Cape Fear River at Wilmington.

DeGaulle Steps Up Drive To End Algerian Fighting

PARIS (AP)—A stepped-up drive by President Charles de Gaulle for a quick end to the seven-year Algerian war was under way today.

It includes bringing French divisions back from the North African territory to the continent, resuming suspended talks with rebel leaders and a renewed threat to partition Algeria into European and Moslem sectors if negotiations fail again.

De Gaulle's aim, according to informed sources, is to break the Algerian impasse in three months—one way or another—in order to make French forces available by fall for the looming crisis in Berlin.

The bulk of France's armed forces, an estimated half-million men, is tied down in Algeria. Their absence has weakened the North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense position in Western Europe.

De Gaulle disclosed his new Algerian drive at a garden party at the presidential Elysee Palace Tuesday night. In an informal discussion with reporters, he said he had issued orders for the return of one division from Algeria. Without fixing dates, he added he would order others back as well. A French division is about 15,000 men.

Besides strengthening NATO forces on the European continent, the redeployment might also be intended as a peace gesture to the nationalist rebels.

De Gaulle said the peace talks with the rebels—broken off at Evian—begin two weeks ago—will be resumed and "we will see what happens."

The president made clear that he will continue to insist on future association between an independent Algeria and France, including French retention of key of up a tree, protecting the birds, military bases, and guarantees for the French minority in the North African territory. Otherwise, he said, France will regroup the European and Moslem populations and partition Algeria.

France would concentrate the one million Europeans around the main coastal cities—Algiers, Constantine, Bone and Oran—and leave the vast interior for the nine million Moslems to manage as best they can. The rebel National Liberation Front (FLN) bitterly opposes this, knowing the hinterland cannot live without the ports and the agricultural coastal strip.

De Gaulle said an Algerian settlement and "the day when there will no longer be a risk of crimes" would bring an end to the near-dictatorial powers he has exercised since the abortive army mutiny in Algiers two months ago.

"There will no longer even be any need for De Gaulle," he added.

Cats Leading A Dog's Life

CONCORD, Calif. (AP)—Cats around here are leading a dog's life at the insistence of the area's bird, fish and tree lovers.

This puts City Manager F. A. Stewart in the doghouse, with cat lovers, that is.

It started when the bird, fish, and tree lovers said there were too many cats and Contra Costa County made traps available with which to catch them.

Enter the cat-lovers, who yelled "foul" in reference to the fish used in the traps as bait. They said all cats like fish and that more household pets were caught than strays.

All of which puts Stewart sort of up a tree, protecting the birds, as it were, after catching fish with which to trap the cats.

Woodpecker Just Loves To Tap Metal Roofs

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Bird watchers in Tampa have the rare opportunity of observing a crazy, mixed-up woodpecker who dislikes wood but just loves metal roofs.

Seems this disoriented bird prefers to pit his bill against the metal roof of the Joseph R. Canto Sr. home instead of the nice soft trees which abound in the area.

Canto's daughter, Alice, said the crazy bird used to peck on a metal-capped telephone pole behind their house. However, the pole was replaced by an all-wood variety, and the bird hunted new worlds to conquer.

He settled on the Canto roof, much to the dismay of the family.

Miss Canto said it was nice when she was working. The bird starts in on the metal each morning at the same time, and she used him as an alarm clock.

However, now that she isn't working, she would prefer to sleep late.

rider's annually. We fear at this time the bike riders have nothing to worry about as far as traffic is concerned. It isn't much fun to ride in the open in the rain. There may be a rush on the boat market, however.

Four In Family Killed In Crash

GREENSBORO (AP)—Four members of a family, apparently en route to the coast on a fishing trip, were killed near here Tuesday night when their small truck collided with a larger tractor-trailer van.

The dead were identified as R. William Hundley, 30, both of Draper, and Robert M. Hundley, 8, and James Hundley, 5, the older Hundley's grandsons from Wilmington.

Police said the victims were riding in a small 13-year-old truck that pulled up behind an auto which had stopped on U.S. Route 29, 12 miles north of here, to make a left turn. The driver of the small truck apparently applied his brakes and the vehicle skidded around the auto and sideswiped the cab of a northbound tractor-trailer driven by Edmond Shepard Jr., 31, of Norfolk, Va. Shepard was not hurt.

All four passengers were thrown from the small truck, as was a shepherd dog belonging to one of the boys. The dog also was killed. Their vehicle was almost completely demolished. Fishing gear was scattered about the wreckage.

Police said they had not determined which of the older Hundleys was driving.

Kennedy's Chair Is Taking Trips

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's favorite rocking chair is moving about, and not just to and fro.

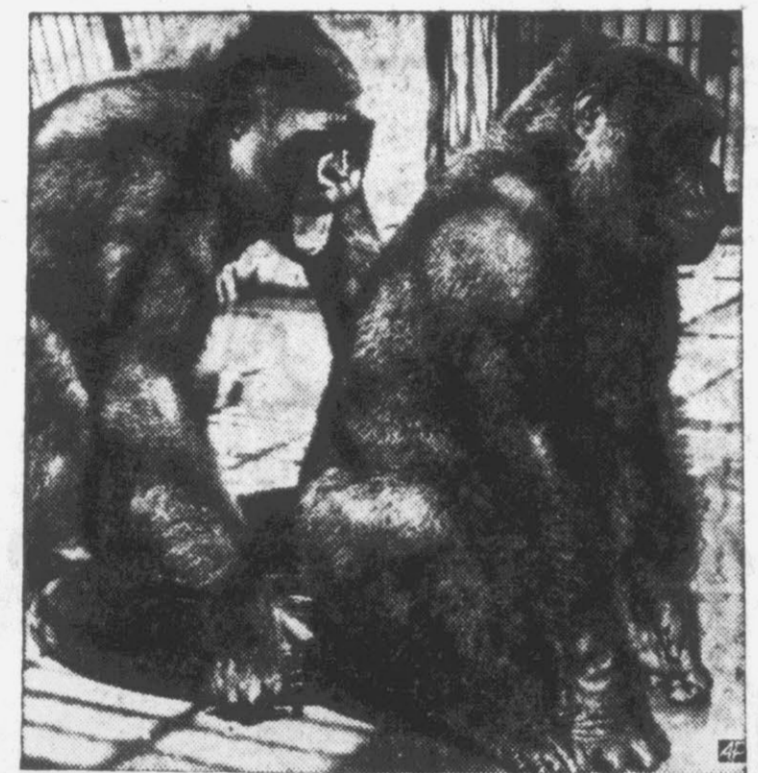

It has made the trips with the President to Glen Ora, Kennedy's country estate near Middleburg, Va., the last two weekends. White House sources said Tuesday and it has been shuttling back and forth almost daily between the President's White House office and his living quarters.

Kennedy has used the same rocker for several years. His personal physician Dr. Janet Travell, a rocking chair advocate from way back, thinks it is relaxing to rock back and forth.

County Government One Of His 'Likes' And 'Hobbies'

ROBERT G. LITTLE . . . Pitt County Commissioners Chairman

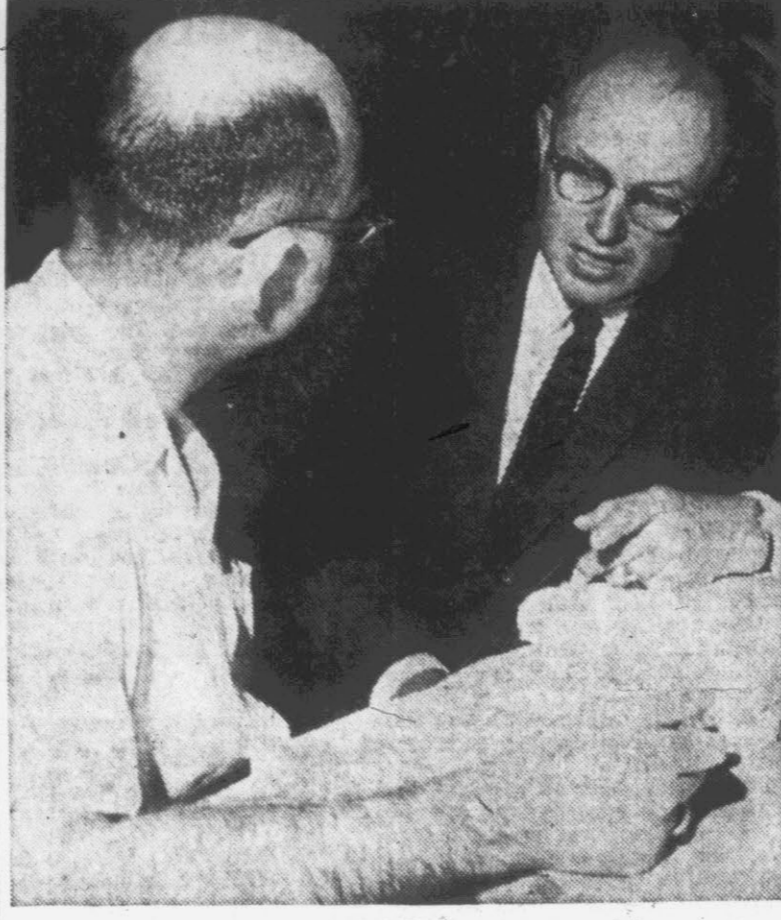

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer
"I have enjoyed taking part in the government of Pitt County . . . but believe a person should not spend his entire life in public office," said Robert G. Little, present chairman of the Board of County Commissioners.

Little, who has served seven years on the official board of the county, is a native of Greenville. He moved from the county seat to his mother's home on Route 1, Grimesland, before starting school, and has made his home in the area since that time. Little attended the Galloway's Cross Roads School, a two-teacher unit, for six years before transferring to the three-teacher Simpson school for his seventh year. The remainder of his school career was spent at the Grimesland School, which was opened when the other two educational units consolidated.

After graduating from the Grimesland High School, he attended East Carolina Teacher College, and Parks Air College in East St. Louis, Mo.

After returning from Illinois,

WORKING ON BUDGET . . . with county auditor.

Little operated a filling station, then took a job as salesman for a local dairy, before entering the Army in 1941.

Most of his Army career was spent in Panama, at Howard Field as a member of a maintenance group for the Signal Corps. Not all of his service time was spent in the Central American country, however.

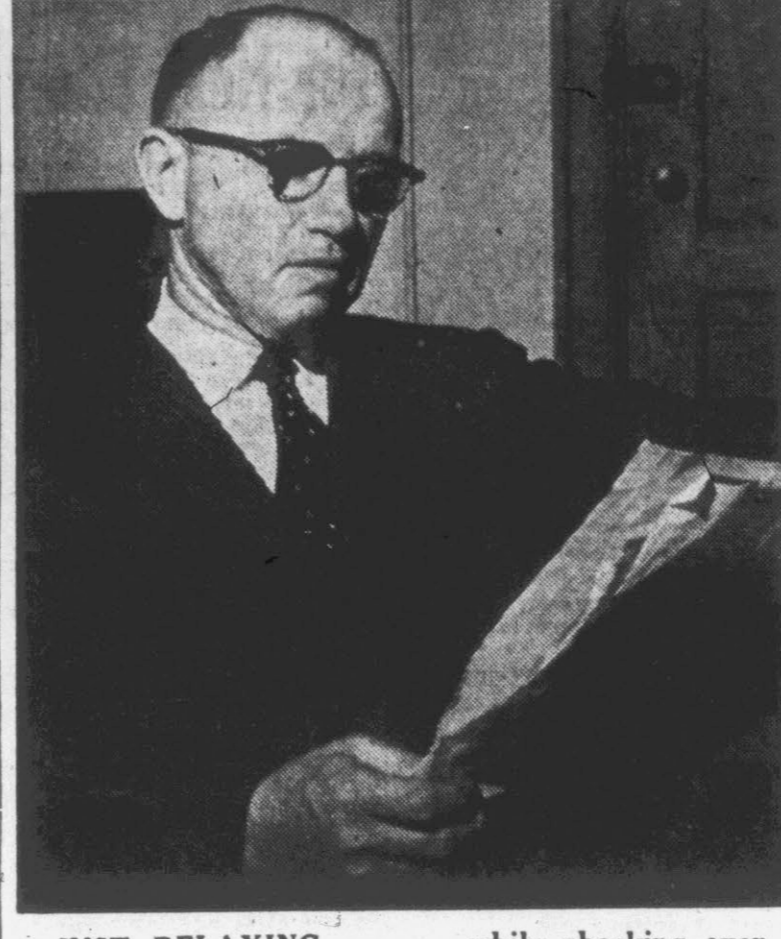

Little was stationed at Port of Spain, Trinidad; French and Dutch Guiana; Tobago; and Ft. Bragg among other bases.

After being released from the service, Little returned home, and has farmed since that time. Little's first venture in politics came in 1954 when he sought the post of County Commissioner, and won. He was elected chairman of the board last year.

Expressing his belief that "a person should not serve in a public office for a lifetime," Little said after serving one more year as a member of the board, he will not seek reelection.

He explained his decision by saying persons who hold public office for so long a time are "depriving youth of progress . . . and that is not good for the people." He noted that while he does not approve of "all young boards," neither does he believe a board should be made up entirely of old grey headed men . . . but should be mixed.

Young members of a governing body bring in new ideas, and new thoughts which are necessary for the growth and progress of the area, and contribute greatly to good government.

He also added that a "man must contribute something to the county" if he is to serve in his elected position well.

Little, whose duties include presiding over the Commissioners' meeting; signing checks, vouchers, and official papers; also represents the county at formal meetings and programs.

Little, complimenting the county department heads and other employees for their efforts to improve and help build a more progressive county, pointed out East Carolina College's nursing school, as one area in which the county government is helping in progress.

Little said the County Health Department is working "hand in hand" with college officials in the program, and said "Dr

John Futrell, who was recently hired as the County Health Director, will work closely with the college and nursing staff, to make ECC the best nursing school in the state."

Little is a member of the Salem Methodist Church in Simpson, where he has taught Sunday School for seven years; is a member of the Board of Stewards; and is a Charge Lay Leader.

The county official is also a member of Masonic Lodge 475 of Grimesland; president of the Grimesland Rural Fire Department; charter member of the Simpson Ruritan Club; is and has been a member of many official county boards, including the Selective Service Board, Shepard Memorial Library Board; Hospital, Industrial Commission, and Mental Health boards; and at present is chairman of the Board of Health.

Little married the former Mary Lilly Best of Pinetops, and they have two sons, William Robert, 15, and James Best, 13, and a daughter, Mary Jo, 10.

Little includes "county government" as one of his hobbies, with machinery, church work, fishing, boating, and swimming, taking prominent spots in his list of "likes."

Expert Says Time Running Out On Communist Grabs

FORT BRAGG, N. C. (AP)—An adviser to President Kennedy on national security affairs said today time is running out for Communists to seize power in underdeveloped areas of the world.

The adviser, Walt W. Rostow said the Communists "know that as a momentum takes hold in an undeveloped area—and the fundamental social problems inherent from the tradition society are solved—their chance to seize power declines."

He said the main U.S. task in the undeveloped countries is "to protect the independence of the revolutionary process now going forward."

"Despite all the Communist talk of aiding movements of national independence, they are driven in the end, by the nature of their system, to violate the independence of nations. Despite all the talk of American imperialism, we are committed, by the nature of our system, to support the cause of national independence. And the truth will out."

Rostow said Communists had resorted to guerrilla warfare in their efforts to exploit instabilities of the underdeveloped areas of the non-Communist world, adding:

"We have, indeed, begun to take the problems of guerrilla warfare seriously . . ."

Rostow said: "What is happening throughout Latin America, Africa, the Middle East and Asia is this: old societies are changing their ways in order to create and maintain a national personality on the world scene, and to bring to their peoples the benefits modern technology can offer. This is truly revolutionary . . ."

Rostow said the Cuban revolution of Fidel Castro "was tragically captured from within by the Communist apparatus," and that Latin America faces the danger of Cuba's being used as a base for training, supply and guerrilla warfare in the hemisphere.

Draft Board Is Asking Help

Reuther Turns His Attention To Cars

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP)—Walter P. Reuther turns his attention from tractors to automobiles today as he leads his United Auto Workers Union into the first session of 1961 contract negotiations with the automotive industry.

Reuther, president of the UAW, has been tied up in recent weeks in negotiations with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro as a co-chairman of a citizens' Tractors for Freedom Committee. That bargaining broke down in a stalemate.

Today Reuther leads the UAW bargaining team against the giant of the auto industry, General Motors Corp. Thursday he'll take on Ford Motor Co., and on Friday, Chrysler Corp. He'll get around to American Motors Corp. July 6.

Current three-year contracts with the Big Three—GM, Ford and Chrysler—end Aug. 31.

For the first time the UAW is entering negotiations without a specific all-out goal. In 1958 it was profit-sharing and in 1955 it was a guaranteed annual wage. It got neither, but it both aimed and fought for them.

This time the union is going in with a flexible program aimed primarily at making more jobs and making those of its members more secure. The industry, too, has announced a flexible position but has emphasized it will fight to avoid any costs that could increase car prices.

Neither side knows just where it stands in Washington.

A shorter work week is a goal among many for the union. But President Kennedy has insisted a 40-hour work week currently is necessary to promote economic growth.

Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg has said a strike in the auto industry, with the nation recovering from a recession and needing economic stimulus, would be intolerable.

Some sources took this as an invitation to the union to seek Washington intervention if it can't get what it wants otherwise. Others saw it as undercutting the union's bargaining power.

READY!

Newspaper Advertising Readers Are Ready To Buy!

Newspaper readers are attracted to your advertising because it interests them. They are more apt to be live, "ready-to-buy" prospects than is the case with readers and viewers of other advertising media.

Live prospects are easier to sell. They actually shop the newspaper ads—they want to be sold, and are looking for information to help make a buying decision. Take housewives, for example—research* proves that 75% of them check the ads in the daily newspaper before making their main shopping trips of the week.

It's that kind of readiness on the part of newspaper readers that can mean ready sales for you!

Wilson On Top After Dispute

Wilson retains its host role for the Thursday night Carolina League all-star game, despite a hassle over alleged use of too many veterans.

Director of the Class B loop made the decision Tuesday in Durham, after a long session. They based the decision on the fact that the two Tobs' games would not have changed their leadership at the end of the half season.

Veteran Elmer Yeter has been relieved as manager of the Winston-Salem Twins and replaced by 20-year-old Mathew (Mitt) Scezny, previously manager of Waterloo, Iowa, of the Three-I League.

Yeter will become a Boston Red Sox scout in the Pennsylvania area.

Scezny has managed Waterloo to two straight pennants.

Under Yeter, a veteran minor league pitcher, Winston-Salem finished 8 1/2 games behind first place Wilson in the first half of the Carolina's split season.

Meanwhile, activity Tuesday night was highlighted by a 16-inning, 4-hour marathon contest between Greensboro and Durham. Don Briner singled home the winning run, to give Durham a 3-0 victory.

There were extra innings in the other games, launching the second half of the Carolina League season. Winston-Salem went 10 innings to defeat Raleigh, 3-2, and Wilson scored three times in the 12th inning to beat Burlington, 8-5.

Two walks, a pair of errors and a hit batsman added to the three Durham runs that ended the 16-inning duel with Greensboro.

Pirate Assistant Coaches Odell Weiborn, Bill MacDonald and Frank Madigan who are participating in the East Carolina Football Coaching Clinic this week. Tonight's program includes a talk by Dr. Robert Haubrick on "Physiology of Exercise" as it pertains to football and a discussion of defensive line play by Weiborn. Thursday's program will include a discussion of the ECC athletic program by Head Coach Jack Boone and instruction on defensive backfield play by Madigan. The sessions begin at 7:30 p.m. in the library auditorium on the Campus.

Milwaukee May Be Moving, But Redlegs Lead League

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The long malingering Milwaukee Braves may be on the move, but they're chasing first-place Cincinnati on a treadmill in that National League pennant race.

With righthander Bob Buhl winning his second in a row at pitching his first shutout of the season in a 3-0 victory at St. Louis Tuesday night, the Braves bounced back to 500 for the first time since Memorial Day. It was their seventh success in nine games and moved them within one game of fourth-place Pittsburgh, but they're still 9 1/2 lengths back of Cincinnati.

Fact is, the Braves are the only club in the NL that hasn't lost ground to the Reds over the past 10 days—they also were 9 1/2 games behind on June 18. In that span, Milwaukee has picked up two games on Los Angeles, 3 1/2 on San Francisco and three on Pittsburgh, the 2-3-4 clubs behind Cincinnati.

The Reds retained a three-game lead with a comeback, 10-8 decision over the Chicago Cubs for their 11th victory in 13 games. Los Angeles beat Pittsburgh 9-5, and San Francisco hammered Philadelphia 12-5.

In the American League, Detroit retained first place by a half game although dropping a two-night pair to Chicago, 6-5 and 11-1, as the White Sox moved into fourth place with a 12-game winning streak. The Los Angeles Angels spilled second-place New York 7-5. Washington clipped Cleveland 8-5, Baltimore took two at Kansas City, 5-3 and 7-2, and Minnesota beat Boston twice, 6-5 and 6-3.

Buhl (5-5) shut out the Cardinals on six hits. He walked one and struck out five while out-dueling southpaw Curt Simmons (2-7), who allowed seven hits. A single by Frank Thomas and a double by Roy McMillan gave Milwaukee a second-inning run, and Ed Mathews iced it with his 18th homer, a two-run shot, in the sixth.

Five of the Cards' hits were singles. The other was a double by Stan Musial—on his 10,000th at bat, a figure topped only by Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Honus Wagner and Rabbit Maranville in major league history.

The Reds, after blowing a 3-1 lead, beat the Cubs with five runs in the seventh inning after two were out. Four consecutive pinch hitters reached base in the rally, which was capped by a three-run pinch triple by Jerry Lynch. Jay Hook won his first, in relief. Phil Anderson (4-6) was the loser in relief. Billy Williams, Sammy Taylor and Don Zimmer homered for the Cubs, with Taylor belting two for three RBIs.

Five hits, one a two-run double by Norm Larker, gave the Dodgers a four-run third inning and a decisive 6-1 lead against Pittsburgh starter Bob Friend (8-8). Dick Farrell (6-5) was the winner in relief. The two clubs swung for 30 hits, 16 by the Dodgers. It was the fourth defeat in five games for the Pirates, who benched shortstop Dick Groat and second baseman Bill Mazeroski, the heroes of last year's pennant and world championship.

Right-hander Juan Marichal (5-4) blanked Philadelphia on four hits for eight innings, then needed relief help from Stu Miller when the last-place Phils batted around for their five runs in the ninth. The Giants broke it open with three runs in the fourth. An interference call against Philie catcher Clay Dalrymple enabled one run to score and Tom Haller followed with a two-run double. John Buzhardt (2-9) was the loser.

Greenville Fifth In Golf Tourney

The Greenville Junior Jaycee Golf Team, presently competing in the state tournament at Lumberton, is in fifth place today after a damp round yesterday and a total score of 333.

The individual scores of the Greenville players were: Bobby Thomas, 38-39 for a 77 total; Jim Moye, 41-39 for an 80 total; Charles Vincent, 42-46 for an 88 total; and Wally Howard, 44-44 for an 88 total.

Thomas, who won the Carolinas Golf Association Junior crown in 1960, is in a six-way tie for fourth place going into the second day of play. He is only four strokes off top man Wade Briggs of Roxboro.

At stake in the tournament are four berths in the National Jaycee competition at Denver in August. The four low scorers win the expense-paid trip and will comprise the North Carolina entry in the event.

The 126 players participating will play again today with the 64 low scorers and the ties scheduled to go 36 holes and the rest playing 18 holes. The cut off point for the low scorers yesterday was 85. This leaves both Moye and Thomas still in the running.

All scores yesterday were higher than expected due to the heavy rains which fell Monday. The condition of the course will probably not improve for today's round.

The boys with the top five scores in the first round of competition are:

Wade Briggs, Roxboro	73
Jerry Fleisher, Wilmington	73
David Kiser, Charlotte	75
David Owen, Fayetteville	76
David Gollobin, Eliz. City	76
Cameron Seely, Charlotte	77
Bobby Thomas, Greenville	77
Tom Pinwall, Win.-Salem	77
Billy Hall, Lexington	77
Mike Allred, Asheboro	77
Tom Arnold, Asheville	77
George Leight, Win.-Salem	78
Buzz Tolbert, Morganton	78
Barry Farr, Charlotte	78
Jim Barber, Lexington	78
Moe Bethea, Reidsville	78

White Sox Are Battling For Position In League

Post 39 Loses To RM; Phillips Issues Protest After Searing First-Place Detroit, Sox Move To Fourth

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox, stone cold in the cellar little more than two weeks ago, suddenly are battling to make room at the top in the American League pennant race after searing even first-place Detroit in their sizzling comeback.

The Sox moved into fourth place with a 12-game streak, their longest since 1951, by knocking off the Tigers 6-5 and 11-1 in a two-night doubleheader before a standing room crowd of 57,271 at Detroit Tuesday night. That's the longest winning string — and the biggest crowd — in the majors this season.

The sweep made it 19 victories in 20 games for Chicago, now only 7 1/2 games out of first and within three games of third-place Cleveland. The White Sox were 10th, 15 1/2 games behind first-place Cleveland, when the streak began June 11.

Manager Al Lopez, who admits "nobody is this good," went for broke in the opener, using three starting pitchers. But he relaxed in the nightcap as the Sox paired a 19-hit barrage with Juan Pizarro's near shutout and shaved Detroit's lead to a half-game.

The second-place New York Yankees, who could have taken over 7-6 with a victory were beaten Tuesday at Los Angeles.

Washington, after losing 10-4 in a row, rapped Cleveland 8-5. Baltimore joined Chicago in fourth place by sweeping Kansas City 5-3 and 7-3. Minnesota plunked Boston back to sixth with a 6-5 and 6-3 two-night sweep over the Red Sox.

In the National League, Cincinnati retained a three-game lead.

That's the longest winning string — and the biggest crowd — in the majors this season.

The sweep made it 19 victories in 20 games for Chicago, now only 7 1/2 games out of first and within three games of third-place Cleveland. The White Sox were 10th, 15 1/2 games behind first-place Cleveland, when the streak began June 11.

Manager Al Lopez, who admits "nobody is this good," went for broke in the opener, using three starting pitchers. But he relaxed in the nightcap as the Sox paired a 19-hit barrage with Juan Pizarro's near shutout and shaved Detroit's lead to a half-game.

The second-place New York Yankees, who could have taken over 7-6 with a victory were beaten Tuesday at Los Angeles.

Washington, after losing 10-4 in a row, rapped Cleveland 8-5. Baltimore joined Chicago in fourth place by sweeping Kansas City 5-3 and 7-3. Minnesota plunked Boston back to sixth with a 6-5 and 6-3 two-night sweep over the Red Sox.

In the National League, Cincinnati retained a three-game lead.

Wings Are Tested At Daytona Track

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The first test of air foils on a specially adapted racing car was scheduled for today at Daytona International Speedway.

Larry Frank of Greenville, S.C., planned to try for a record 180 miles an hour around the 2.5-mile high banked track this weekend in the special car.

Its builder, Bob Osiecki of Charlotte, N.C., added the air foils and a rear stabilizer after a previous speed-attempt here resulted in a spin on the backstretch.

Osiecki said the foils should work like airplane flaps and keep the car on the track when it tends to lighten from high speed.

There is a $10,000 prize for the first car to do 180 m.p.h. around the speedway.

Rain washed out the scheduled start of practice runs Tuesday for the July 4 Firecracker 250 stock car race. Time trials will be held Saturday and four 25-mile qualifying races are scheduled for Sunday.

Some Bonuses Worthwhile Few Lead To Scrap Heap

HIGH FLIER — George Davies, Oklahoma State soph, clears bar set at 15 feet, 10 1/4 inches in Big Eight meet at Boulder, Colo. The feat topped world vault mark.

Full Time Scouts Keep Checks Handy

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball bonuses payments are worthwhile when players such as Harmon Killebrew, Sandy Koufax, Al Kaline and Dick Groat are on the receiving end. These four coupled with Mike McCormick, Robin Roberts, Lindy McDaniel, Curt Simmons, Harvey Kuenn and Johnny Antonelli are excellent reasons why major league ball clubs are dishing out king-sized bonuses to untested youngsters. It's also dollars to doughnuts that many among the score of bonus babies signed this season will end up in the scrap heap—the same one into which have fallen such $50,000-$100,000 failures as Paul Giel, Billy Conzolo, Paul Pettit and Billy Joe Davidson. But it's the success of the Killebrews and the Koufaxes that make it mandatory for the scouts to work full time and the clubs to keep their checkbooks handy. Killebrew, who got $50,000 to sign with Washington in 1954, found the range with the Senators in 1959, hitting 42 homers to tie for the American League lead. He walloped 31 last year and this season he's already had 22 homers to go with a sparkling .352 batting average for the Minnesota Twins. It's taken six years for Koufax to start paying dividends on the $25,000 bonus given him by the Dodgers in 1955. He has a 10-3 record and leads the National League in strikeouts with 117. The fireballing lefty had a total of only 36 victories before this season. Both Kaline and Groat are hitting well below their lifetime marks this year, but it's certain their clubs are not ready to ask them for refunds. Groat got a reported $75,000 bonus from Pittsburgh in 1952 and Kaline received $35,000 from Detroit in 1953. Kaline, who has a lifetime average of .306, is hitting .286 in 1961. Groat, the National's batting leader last season, has a .272 mark this year. McCormick got $50,000 from the Giants and McDaniel the same amount from the Cardinals. McCormick won 15 games in 1960 and has 7 victories this season. McDaniel, one of the game's top relievers, posted a 12-4 record last year, and is 3-3 in 1961. The Phils shelled out $65,000 for Simmons in 1947 and $25,000 for Roberts in 1948. Simmons won 115 games for his benefactors before they released him last year. He's now 2-6 with St. Louis. Roberts, only 1-8 this season, has picked up 234 triumphs for Philadelphia, including six 20-victory campaigns. Kuenn, who was given a $55,000 bonus by Detroit, batted over .300 in six of his seven seasons with the Tigers. He's now with San Francisco. Southpaw Antonelli was no ball of fire for the Braves for whom he received a bonus of $52,000 in 1948. But he won 20 games twice for the Giants. The Boston Red Sox, who paid a bonus estimated at $90,000 to Frank Baumann, gave up on the lefty pitcher. But Baumann captured the AL earned run title while with the White Sox last season. Dick Schofield, Jerry Kindall, Wayne Causey and Reno Bertoia are among other bonus babies active in the majors. The jury is still out on the more heralded and wealthiest of the young players, outfielder Frank Howard of the Dodgers and pitcher Lew Krausse Jr. of Kansas City. Howard received a reported $108,000 and Krausse $125,000.

Majors Curtail Bonus Problem

CHICAGO (AP) — In a short joint meeting Tuesday the two major baseball leagues decided on an over-all program which would curtail excessive bonuses, streamline minor league clubs and build for the future. In reviewing the joint session for newsmen, Commissioner Ford Frick said it would take 10 years to put the leagues' houses in order. But he said the bonus problems and the minor league organizations could be worked out in a matter of months. Frick said the 1962 All-Star game had been awarded to the Washington Senators. He added that any decision to continue the new practice holding two All-Star games will be made at a meeting of player representatives and league owners in December. The commissioner said he will soon appoint a committee to draw up a plan for bonus legislation. Frick said he would like a plan to guarantee enough teams to supply talent to 20 major league baseball clubs.

ONLY 329 FANS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Only a few of the 329 paid customers were around at the finish of the first Saturday night game of the season in the Florida State League. The game lasted three hours and 20 minutes. The St. Petersburg Saints beat Palatka, 11-10, in the ninth when Dick Sims tripled and Walter James singled.

Former pitcher Ira Hutchinson manages the Charleston, S. C., White Sox in the South Atlantic League.

Neale Fraser of Australia begins the defense of his Wimbledon Lawn Tennis Championship in Wimbledon, England in a match which Ruby Hernandez of Modesto, Calif. Frazer won 6-3, 6-1, 6-1. Centerfielder Jim Piersall of the Cleveland Indians, left, throws a left hook at Detroit Tigers pitcher Jim Bunning in opening game of a double header in Cleveland. Piersall charged to the mound after being hit on the wrist by a Bunning pitch. His punch was wide. The incident touched off a near free-for-all among players of both teams resulting in ejection of Piersall and two other Indians. Detroit won.

Possible Champion Loses First Match

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Nancy Richey, 19, eliminated from the Wimbledon tennis championships in her debut, found herself in an almost unprecedented position today—a first-round loser hailed as a possible future champion. The little atom from San Angelo, Tex., dazzled Tuesday's center court crowd with the spirit and brilliance of her performance. She also brought balm to American onlookers who wait for the day when Uncle Sam renews his erstwhile dominance around these hallowed courts. Miss Richey lost, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4 to another dynamic newcomer from Australia, statuesque Margaret Smith, but former Wimbledon champion Jaroslav Drozny, one of the shrewd judges of the game, had plenty to say of the American girl. Describing her as "an intriguing new personality" on the world tennis scene he wrote in the London Evening Standard: "I am sure that if she had been known on the European circuit before she suddenly appeared under heralded in Britain) a fortnight ago she would have been seeded this year."

Tony Mottram, former British Davis Cup player, also classed Miss Richey as a top prospect. Many observers reckon Nancy would have gone all the way to the final—and possibly a Wimbledon crown—had she not run up against Miss Smith at such an early stage of the tournament. Now a heavy load falls on Chuck McKinley and Karen Hantze, the main surviving American prospects. McKinley, from St. Ann, Mo., was among first-round victors Tuesday. He outgunned Italian Davis Cupper, Sergei Tacchini, 6-2, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4. Miss Hantze from Chula Vista, Calif., was never troubled in a 6-2, 6-2 decision over Mexico's Rosa Darmon. All told 14 American men and 4 women advanced to the second round.

Other top U.S. men to make it were Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., who downed Patricio Rodriguez of Chile, 3-6, 6-1, 6-0, 6-3; Jon Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif., who dropped John Hillebrand of Australia, 6-0, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1; Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., who whipped Daniel Contet of France, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3, and Chris Crawford of Piedmont, Calif., who polished off Norman Kitowitz of Britain, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

Monster To Test Pro Vagabonds

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Another—and perhaps sharper-toothed—monster is ready to test golf's pro vagabonds in the $52,000 Flint Open. The 72-hole tournament starts Wednesday at Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club, an elongated 7,280-yard layout in suburban Grand Blanc. It's the longest on the pro tour and could provide a tougher test than the original monster did in the U.S. Open at Oakland Hills two weeks ago. Gene Littler, who won at Oakland Hills in Birmingham, Mich., with a 1-over-par 281, heads a somewhat watered-down field into the fourth annual Flint Open. Golf's top leading money winners this year are skipping this rich event. South Africa's Gary Player and Arnold Palmer, winner of the Western Open last week, are entered in the British Open and leave for England over the weekend. Mike Souchak earned the first place $9,000 last year with a 282—6-under-par on the par-72 course. It was the lowest total ever in the Flint Open.

15 FISH ON ONE CAST GROVE, Okla. (AP) — Fisherman C. J. Massey made a single cast and pulled in 15 large crappie. His line had tangled with a wire mesh basket in which the fish were trapped.

Kart Track Sees Promising Start

AYDEN — About 75 youngsters and adults turned out for the opening of Ayden's go-kart track on Saturday. Chief of Police W.D. Brooks has reported. The program, so far, has progressed very well, Brooks said, though rain has prohibited the track's being used in the last few days. The track will be open on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays from 12:30 to 5:30 p.m., with supervision from members of the local police department. Safe driving rules and regulations of the roads will be stressed in the program. The go-kart track was built by the town after complaints of local go-karts being operated by youngsters on the public streets. It has been pointed out by Chief Brooks that it is illegal to operate the go-karts on the public streets without a state license plate, liability and driver's license. Many of the operators are under the age limit for obtaining a driver's license. However, the go-karts may be operated on the track without the above requirements.

Kingpetch New Boxer Of Month

NEW YORK (AP) — Pone Kingpetch, the world flyweight champion from Thailand, today was named "Fighter of the Month" for June by Ring Magazine after his successful defense in Tokyo against Mitsunori Seki of Japan. There were no major changes in the top 10 rankings in the heavyweight class although Bob Cleroux of Montreal advanced a peg to No. 9 by stopping Roy Harris and Alex Mitoff. Tom Meeneely, unbeaten Arlington, Mass., boxer who is being considered as a September foe for heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, was listed No. 10. In the light heavy class, Giulio Rinaldi of Italy, beaten in his title bid by Archie Moore, dropped to No. 3 as Doug Jones of New York moved into the No. 2 spot, behind Harold Johnson, recognized as champ by the National Boxing association.

National League batters whiffed the breeze at a record pace in 1960. A total of 6,824 hitters struck out, more than in any other season.

Lopez Insists Chicago In Race

DETROIT (AP) — Where do the Chicago White Sox fit into the American League pennant picture now that they've won 12 straight games and 19 of the last 20 after a dawdling start? "We're in the race and so are Baltimore and Cleveland," said Manager Al Lopez after Chicago won games No. 11 and 12 Tuesday night in the major league's longest winning streak of 1961. "I think it's going to be a five-team race now. Detroit will stay in contention and of course New York will be in it all the way."

What about the White Sox? It was a team that was sluggish for two months, a club ridiculed as average and without the speed it showed while winning the 1959 pennant. The Sox were in 10th place just 17 days ago, 15 1/2 games away from first place. Today, after their 6-5 and 11-1 victories over first-place Detroit, the revived Pale Hose are tied for fourth with Baltimore, just seven games off the pace. "I knew we weren't that bad," said Lopez. "Now I know we're not this good. Nobody is this good."

Rickey Resting Following Attack

SUDBURY, Ont. (AP) — Branch Rickey, father of baseball's farm system and one of the sport's most eloquent spokesmen, was reported resting comfortably today after his second heart attack in three years. The 79-year-old former general manager at St. Louis, Brooklyn and Pittsburgh suffered a serious heart attack Tuesday at his summer home on an island 95 miles southwest of Sudbury. He had been in Canada at his private fishing island for several weeks. Rickey, who severed his last connection with baseball when the proposed Continental League disbanded last year, was stricken in 1958 and hospitalized for several weeks. At the Sudbury hospital, Dr. J. W. Surbridge said the patient is "under treatment and his immediate condition is satisfactory." The hospital reported he was "resting comfortably."

Sweeney Leads In Hockey Scoring

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Bill Sweeney of the champion Springfield Indians, picked up a trophy and a $300 bonus for leading the American Hockey League in scoring last season. He tallied 108 points on 40 goals and 68 assists. It was the first time in 19 years that a Springfield player led the league in scoring. Pete Kelly performed the feat in 1942.

Sports Writers Pick LA To Win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The five baseball writers who have traveled with the Los Angeles Dodgers since the team suffered here in 1959 pick the team to regain the National League flag. Four of the writers — Frank Finch, Bob Hunter, John B. Old and Charlie Park — selected the Yankees to meet the Dodgers in the World Series. George Lederer picks Baltimore to win the American League pennant.

THREE INDIANS

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Three members of the Springfield Indians, champions of the American Hockey League, were chosen for the first AHL All-Star team. They were goalie Marcel Paille, defenseman Bob McCord and winger Bruce Cline. Others chosen were Aldo Guiddin of Cleveland and Phil Maloney and Dick Gamble of Buffalo. Each of the six received $300 for being named to the All-Star team.

CHAPTER 34

Sal Boyd sighed. Priscilla Mullins was a part of these naive people while he, Salathiel Boyd, was not—and never really could be.

If he found himself free, if he married her, there could be no question about his future. He would have to stay here in New Plymouth, at least as long as the colony lasted.

On the other hand, if he didn't marry her—well, he thought he knew what would happen then. He had told Miles Standish, just now that the girl was bespoken, for he knew that the Captain's correct sense of honor would not tolerate courtship in those circumstances. And in a sense, that was right anyway. She was bespoken. For the moment, at least, she was his—if he wanted to take her. Did he?

It was a tremendous temptation. Love's meanness always had plagued Sal Boyd, and it still did. There were times, here, when his heart was lifted by some sign that showed that he was valued, appreciated, even liked, for he had not been inured to such signs. All the same, he remained alone, for every practical purpose. Marriage might change that. Or— it might not. It might make him even more lonesome.

It was not good for a man to be alone, they said. But Sal was used to it by this time.

He sighed again, distantly hearing the click of leaves behind, the cawing from the chapel before.

"I'm glad I found you here."

John Alden came through the gate. He was not panting, as most men who came through that gate were, having just climbed the hill. He had been careful, saving his wind. Now he moved slowly toward Sal, his chin low, his head thrust in the truculent way he had.

Sal waited, feet spread, thumbs hooked into his sword belt.

"Well, what do you want?"

Alden took off his cloak. He took off his tunic.

"You know damn well what I want," he said.

Sal, noting the turkey-red stockings and knowing that this lad had been sparking Priscilla, felt a little sick. He had sensed for a long while that this was coming. As winter would follow the fall of the leaves it was inevitable. He didn't like it any the more for that reason.

"Has she said no?" he asked. It was a stupid question. Where was his soft answer for the turning away of wrath? Had he become a finite giddy, up here all alone in the fort for so long a stretch?

"You keep away from her!" "A year ago Sal Boyd would have laughed; and indeed, a year ago in similar circumstances he had laughed. It was different now.

Now he felt sorry for John Alden, a boy who was uncertain of himself, and just now torn with love and desire. Alden was afraid of him, Sal knew, but this would only cause him to fight more ferociously. There would be little profit in trying to reason with him. Alden was no intellectual genius, and for many months he had been convinced, despite all evidence to the contrary, that Salathiel Boyd the pirate was in all truth one of Lucifer's lieutenants. Thus, fear and lust and religious zeal all raged within him; and these made up an explosive combination.

Sal should have temporized. He should have tut-tutted. He didn't. No more than ever was he pleased, out here in America, by being told what he might or might not do. Oh, he should keep away from Priscilla Mullins, should he? He bristled.

"And what if I don't?" he said.

Alden jerked his head back. "You won't go through that gate again until you promise you will."

Sal studied the situation, not liking it.

Once before, soon after the original landing, there had been a duel in the colony of New Plymouth. Edward Dotey and Edward Lester, indentured servants both of them, young men, fools, the property of Stephen Hopkins, had met on the beach, each with a cutlass in his right fist, a dagger in his left. But in a company so small and so cramped secrets were not possible, and even such an informal, improvised rencontre called for some preparation.

Lester and Dotey had been seized before a blow could be struck, and tied by necks and ankles, back to back, until they were glad to give a solemn promise never to break the peace again.

There had been something comic about the Dotey-Lester meekness, though the results might have been tragic enough if the saints had not acted quickly and with a commendable firmness. There was nothing comic about John Alden here this afternoon. He meant what he said. He had been thinking about this for a long while, and he'd picked his time well.

"Now look here," Sal started, "there's other ways of settling a matter like this."

"Not to me there isn't."

Again Sal sighed. He turned away.

"All right. Lock the gate. You're closest there."

He heard the balk thud into place and fall as he took off his hat and shrugged off his cloak. Dorothy Bradford's cloak. He took off his shoes too, and wriggled his toes, ruefully, silently, regarding them.

When he turned back he was startled to see that John Alden had removed doublet as well. Alden wore no shirt, and his chest and shoulders and arms were bunched with muscle.

It did not work. The cooper was deliberate in his manner, and made no response. Sal had hoped to taunt him into making the first rush. An infuriated foe was the easiest to handle in single combat, especially with fists. Sal believed. But Alden did not even flush, and perhaps he did not hear. He nodded at Sal Boyd's dagger. Sal had already put aside his sword.

"You've got that. I haven't."

"All right. I won't touch it."

"How do I know?"

"Don't you believe me?"

"No."

Once again Sal had to hold himself, muttering inwardly. Once again he resisted the old Salathiel Boyd as he might have resisted Satan, and with as great an effort. He shuddered. But he snickered out the dagger and tossed it to the other side of the platform, where it clattered tinnily on the boards.

Alden, standing with feet wide-spread, his head down, in a notably bullish position, did not seem to see or hear this; but in a moment he went unhesitatingly to the dagger, and picked it up.

"Was the man mad? He moved slowly enough."

Sal eyed the gate, the heavy balk, and decided against that. He might be stabbed in the back while he scrambled to get the thing open. He'd faced men with drawn dagger, before, and himself with empty hands, and he reckoned he could do it again. But he didn't like this.

John Alden picked up the knife by its point, gingerly, with thumb and forefinger, as though handling some odious reptile. He tossed it over the parapet. He turned back toward Sal, his arms slowly swinging at his sides, fists clenched.

"Now," he said.

There was a babble of voices down in the village, and the report of a sentry's musket, a signal for attention from the fort.

"A sail! A sail!"

They could hear men running up the hill.

"Boyd, fire one of those pieces! There's a vessel in sight!"

Sal crossed to the gate and threw back the balk. Then he went to his least touchy cannon.

"I guess we'll have to finish this some other time," he said, as he started for the cellar in which he had stored the powder. "I've got work to do now. Excuse me."

One pirate in a colony is likened to one rotten apple in a barrel. "The Wickedest Pilgrim" continues tomorrow.

Applicants Are Put On Notice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—You have to be "properly clothed" to get a marriage license here.

Probate Judge Roscoe R. Walcutt pointing out that "marriage is a serious undertaking," issued this notice to prospective brides and grooms applying for licenses to marry.

"We do not look with favor on shorts, peddle-pushers, Bermuda shorts and the like, and appearance in such attire by either men or women will lead to the refusal to accept the application until the parties appear properly clothed."

BIBLE STUDY AID

WILMETTE, Ill. (AP)—A new series of filmstrips, described as the first ever produced on stories from the Book of Acts, has been turned out here by Encyclopaedia Britannica Films for use in Bible study classes. The series is called "Great Stories from the Book of Acts."

Senate Report Criticizes Navy And Designers Of Collapsed Texas Tower

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate report today sternly criticized the Navy and the designers and builders of the radar "Texas Tower" that collapsed in a blizzard and carried all hands — 28 men — 40 their deaths.

The report — which added that the Air Force must also shoulder its share of the blame — bitterly referred to "buckpassing" and "the hodge-podge of indecision."

The terrific forces of winds and waves were clearly miscalculated, the report said.

The 5,000-ton steel structure, perched like a giant three-legged stool in open sea 80 miles off the New Jersey coast, was battered and driven to ocean bottom last Jan. 15 by gale winds and waves. Earlier this month, the Air Force ordered Col. William M. Banks to stand court-martial, charged with being derelict in duty in connection with the tragedy. Banks was in command of the Boston Air Defense Center and the tower was part of its radar network.

The Air Force said Banks had failed to keep himself apprised of the tower's situation. The court-martial's date has not been announced, except that it will start after July 17 at Stewart Air Force Base, N.Y.

In today's report, Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Defense Preparedness subcommittee, said a careful examination of expert witnesses "reveals that the design criteria, upon which the final structural integrity was to be based, was clearly inadequate."

"This inadequacy must be repaired on it when it finally buckled into the Atlantic."

"The Air Force was chargeable with the responsibility for the safety and well-being of the personnel on board the tower, both civilian and military, and must accept a substantial portion of the blame," Stennis continued.

The tower had twice been battered by hurricanes but both the 41-page report and Stennis said the huge tower was doomed as early as June 1957, when the massive steel structure was damaged while being towed to its Atlantic site.

The report said the Navy officer in charge of construction, you will."

But he said investigating senators unanimously agreed "that the Navy cannot escape or avoid responsibility for the decision to repair the structure at sea." He called this "the point of no return and the time at which the fate of the tower was sealed."

Had Surplus Of Valedictorians

HARTVILLE, Ohio (AP) — If your school needs a valedictorian, Lake High School has them to spare.

Three members of the 1961 graduating class of 64 reigned as an all-star scholarship team, because each posted an 'A' record for four years of high school.

Sharing the valedictorian honors were Janet Oiken, a pretty blonde who likes to water ski; Mark Wagner, who enjoys chess, and Myrtle Jew, whose election as Dublin's first Jewish mayor created something of a sensation.

Briscoe Again Dublin's Mayor

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — For the second time in five years the Irish of Dublin have picked themselves a Jewish lord mayor.

He's Robert Briscoe, of course, the ardent Irishman and Orthodox Jew whose election as Dublin's first Jewish mayor created something of a sensation.

Dirksen Raises Threat Of Anti-Peiping Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., raised a Republican threat today to try to attain an anti-Red China resolution to President Kennedy's foreign aid bill.

Dirksen, Senate Republican leader, said the State Department is against action now by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on a resolution opposing diplomatic recognition for Red China and its admission to the United Nations.

Unless such a resolution can be passed separately, Dirksen told reporters, it will be offered as an amendment to the $4.8-billion foreign aid bill when that measure reaches the Senate floor.

Dirksen said Red China and the critical Berlin issue will be discussed by Republican Senate and House leaders at a news conference this afternoon following a GOP leadership meeting.

"It's my judgment the country is ahead of the President and Congress on Berlin," Dirksen declared. "The country believes the time has come for an absolutely firm stand.

"The people believe the time has come to stop Khrushchev from kicking us around and permitting this erosion of the free world inch by inch."

While Dirksen indicated the Republicans would have to await any discussion of Berlin by Kennedy before commenting further on that subject, he said "we have expressed some concern over inaction by the Foreign Relations Committee on the resolution to continue to deny recognition to Red China and oppose its admission to the United Nations."

"It appears the State Department has expressed hope the committee will take no action on this resolution at the present time," Dirksen added.

Other Republicans have voiced concern that the United States might consider a policy change under which it would accept Red China's admission to the United Nations if Nationalist China's seat can be held in that body.

Dirksen said that the Senate and House have expressed themselves many times in opposition to Red China's recognition and U.N. seating in previous foreign aid bills and that he or some other Republican will offer such an amendment again "unless we get action otherwise."

Predict Holiday Death For 21

CHARLOTTE — The N. C. State Motor Club predicts that at least 21 persons will die in traffic accidents on North Carolina highways during the Fourth of July weekend, which will extend to four days for many this year.

The state will count its holiday highway fatalities from 6 p.m. Friday through midnight Tuesday, a period of 102 hours. North Carolina's July Fourth traffic toll for last year's three-day period added up to 18 killed and 349 injured in 609 accidents. Saturday accounted for 11 of the 18 deaths.

Of the 682 driver violations reported, the leading causes of accidents were: speeding, 141; driving on the wrong side of the road other than in passing, 77; following too closely, 73; failure to yield right of way, 68; and driving under the influence of alcohol, 56.

Thomas B. Watkins, motor club president, urged motorists to drive with extra care during the dangerous holiday period and make every effort to hold down the traffic toll.

HIGH-LOW NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — What happens when men up high see a low theft?

Here they called police — and their voices were heard from the 14th floor of a new building on which they were working. They saw a young boy get into a car parked by a man and drive away. They shouted to police its route which they could see from their vantage point. The car was abandoned. The boy had disappeared.

Population Explosion Is Explored By NEA

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., — In the decade of the 1960's the population of this country will grow from 180 million to 214 million.

Arizona is growing more rapidly than any other state — its population will be up 54 percent by 1970.

Seven states are losing school-age population — Alabama, Arkansas, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Dakota, Oklahoma, and West Virginia.

Nevada and Arizona ought now to be preparing for an increase by 1970 of more than 100 percent in their college-age groups.

California, Delaware, and Florida have a problem of the same sort and in nearly the same dimensions.

There will be a 57 percent increase in the college-age group; a 43 percent increase in the high school group, but only a 12 percent increase in the 22 to 64 (working force) group.

These data from a new National Education Association study were made public by President Clarice Kline in a news conference at the group's 99th Annual Convention here.

The preliminary report released by Miss Kline is based on unofficial statistics compiled by the Bureau of the Census at the request of, and at the expense of, the NEA.

The study, administered by the Association's Research Division, is being directed by Dr. LeRoy Peterson who is on leave from the University of Wisconsin.

Miss Kline pointed out that the study has important implications for all persons concerned with planning the management of public affairs in the decade ahead at all levels of government.

It will effect where schools are built and where shopping centers are constructed, sewers installed, and roads planned.

The material is presented in a series of 10 tables published by NEA under the title "Population Projections, 1960-1970."

The tables disclose such information as this: By 1965 California will pass New York as the most populous state.

Realism Wanted In Visiting Jail

MANITOWOC, Wis. (AP) — Children who visit the Manitowoc police station are later asked by their teachers to write a letter to the department telling them how they liked the tour and what they would like to see next time.

"Most of the suggestions are that they would like to see somebody in one of the cells next time," Police Inspector Elmer Scherer says.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market perked up a bit today, selective gains pushing the average slightly higher. Trading was quiet. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .50 at 242.80 with industrials up .90, rails up .50 and utilities unchanged.

Gold and other auto shares made moderate gains. A few of the blue chips advanced 1 or 2 points.

Building materials edged off. Oil, utilities, chemicals, tobacco and nonferrous metals were spotty. Steels, mail orders and drugs were mostly higher.

Zenith continued a favorite among electronics, spurring another 4 points or so. A similar gain was made by U.S. Freight. An advance of about 2 points by DuPont and more than that by Union Carbide was helpful in keeping the market yardsticks to the upside.

Piper Aircraft dropped 3%. Moderate gains were made by Phileo, Radio Corp., Raytheon and Lockheed.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon rose 2.20 to 687.08. Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were unchanged to lower.

Billed $2,000 For Havana Trial

CLOVER, S.C. (AP)—An American whose son is imprisoned in Cuba for anti-Castro activity says he can't pay $2,000 which the U.S. State Department says was incurred in legal expenses at his son's trial in Havana.

James Greene said Tuesday he has not heard from the State Department since he replied to a letter requesting payment of the $2,000.

Greene said he is financially unable to pay the money and also does not feel he should have to pay it. He is retired and receives $91 monthly in social security benefits.

Greene said the State Department letter informed him his son's defense at the Havana trial last January was handled through the Swiss Government.

The Swiss Embassy has acted for the United States in Cuba since this country broke off diplomatic relations with the Castro government. But the State Department letter said the Swiss Embassy was not authorized to spend money on legal expenses for Donald Joe Greene, 28, of Rutherford County, N.C.

Donald Joe Greene received a 30-year prison sentence as a result of the trial. Five other Americans who accompanied him on a venture from Florida to Cuba also drew long prison terms.

James Greene said his son reported he was getting along "very well" in the single letter received from him since the trial.

The other Americans sentenced with Greene are James E. Bean of Cedar Falls, N.C.; Alfred Eugene Gibson, Mt. Gilead, N.C.; Tommy R. Beck, Norton, Ala.; and Leonard L. Schmidt, Chicago, Ill.

'Freedom Rides' Will Be Continued Despite Raps

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The so-called "Freedom Rides" to Southern cities will continue despite some criticism that segregation tests have not aided the cause of the Negro.

"We see no choice but to continue the Freedom Rides," said Gordon Carey of New York, field director for the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), after a strategy session Tuesday in Jackson, Miss., by leaders of the movement challenging segregation facilities in public transportation.

Representatives of the four sponsoring organizations, who Carey "concluded that because segregation is a living factor in Jackson and other Southern cities" the rides would not end.

Leaders of the movement felt they would ultimately achieve desegregation through moral pressures exerted by the riders, legal pressures and an educational program.

"I don't think you can look to the courts alone for an answer," said Carey, "or to non-violence alone."

Meanwhile, he told a news conference, the sponsors would screen all prospective riders to eliminate persons "who might have a political ideology such as communism," the emotionally unstable, those with health problems and those who do not understand what jail terms involve.

While the news conference was in progress, the Rev. Wyatt Lee Walker of Atlanta, Negro integrationist leader, joined the group after he and his wife posted $500 bonds to gain their freedom from jail.

Both were Freedom Riders and were jailed along with 161 others convicted of breach of peace since May 24 in Jackson.

Walker later charged that he and his wife lost a $75 ring and $75 in cash after their arrest.

He said county officials declined to give him a receipt for valuables after his transfer from the city to the Hinds County jail.

Sheriff J. R. Gilfoy promised a thorough investigation of the complaint.

Walker, executive director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference said, however, city officers dealt courteously with him and other riders.

Psychiatric Care For Cheryl Crane

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Cheryl Crane, 17-year-old daughter of movie star Lana Turner, has been admitted to the Institute of Living for psychiatric treatment.

Miss Crane, Miss Turner and her mother's fifth husband, rancher Fred May, arrived Tuesday.

The girl, a ward of the state of California since she slew her mother's friend Johnny Stompano in 1958, was admitted to the institute voluntarily, said Dr. Gordon Edgren, assistant medical director. He said he could not estimate how long she would stay.

Miss Crane, whose father is Stephen Crane, Miss Turner's second husband, has run away from several homes for girls.

She Didn't Ask For Any Alimony

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A wife won a divorce Tuesday on testimony that her husband fasted for more than a third of their brief marriage and made her work even though he was rich.

Marion L. Zygowicz, 36, said of Eugene Stanley Zygowicz, 39, "the only thing he did was to lie in bed and count up his money and buy and sell his stocks."

He is worth about a half million, she said, but she had to hold down two restaurant jobs to support the household. She said Zygowicz lived on water and vitamin pills for 35 days.

They married on Sept. 16 last year and separated on Dec. 15. Zygowicz did not contest the divorce, and she did not ask any alimony.

Will Redecorate Long Hallway

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy announced Tuesday that Mr. and Mrs. Jules Stein of New York and Beverly Hills, Calif., will refurbish and redecorate the long hallway on the second floor of the White House.

The Steins, as a gift to the nation, plan to contribute pieces from their collection of 18th century antiques as well as new acquisitions. Mrs. Kennedy said. Stein is president of the Music Corp. of America.

The hallway is a long gallery measuring 18 by 63 feet and serves primarily as a waiting and reception room for guests. The project is expected to be finished by late fall.

BAPTISTS BUY MILL

CHERAW, S.C. (AP)—The annual board of the Southern Baptist Convention has bought a large textile mill here, Burlington Industries, for 2.9 million dollars. The board then leased the plant to the company for 20 years.

'Boredom' Called Disease Of Times

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—A Harvard doctor checking the nation's mental and emotional health today declared: "The great sickness of our age is aimlessness, boredom, and lack of meaning and purpose" in living.

We can be enthralled by the space age, but almost willfully try to avoid "learning how to understand and control ourselves," said Dr. Dana L. Farnsworth, director of Harvard University health services and staff physician at Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston.

"Medicine has made enormous strides in alleviating pain and prolonging life," he said.

Now an expanded task for doctors is to give "meaning to the life," Farnsworth told the American Medical Association's 110th annual meeting.

He suggested some ways to do this, to overcome the boredom and the sick feelings.

Mental health, he said, is that "state of mind in which people can carry on their activities with satisfaction to themselves, with some responsibility to others, and without making nuisances of themselves to large numbers of other people."

"All persons, with or without mental health, are obliged to suffer in various ways," he continued.

"It is the nature of man to experience frustration, grief, pain, tension, conflict, jealousy, fear and anxiety.

"Happiness is a by-product of resolving—in part or wholly—exasperating and difficult situations."

People become emotionally sick when stresses of living become too much to tolerate, he said. Then they try to compensate somehow, or to avoid or to escape the feelings.

"Feelings of isolation, rejection, inferiority, bitterness, hostility and suspicion exaggerate the usual stresses of ordinary living, and make individuals more vulnerable, and more likely to become emotionally decompensated" or emotionally ill.

To endure their troubles, said Farnsworth, people need "feelings of basic confidence in one's self and others, a sense of competence and basic faith that the whole human situation is worthwhile."

'Freedom Rides' Will Be Continued Despite Raps

GRIFTON — Harold Ross, 51-year-old Negro of Grifton, has been charged with failure to see that movement could be made in safety following a traffic accident here on Saturday afternoon, Police Chief Luther Lewis said yesterday.

Chief Lewis said the accident occurred at the intersection of Main Street and Highway 11, as Harold Ross turned off the highway onto Main Street and collided with an automobile operated by James Ross. James Ross had stopped on Main Street preparatory to entering the highway, police reported. His car was struck on the left rear fender by Harold Ross' automobile. James Ross, Chief Lewis said, is a resident of Kinston.

Trial of Harold Ross has been scheduled for Thursday in Grifton Recorder's Court.

Damages amounted to $62 to James Ross' automobile, Chief Lewis stated.

Sister Of Greenville Woman Died Today

LAGRANGE — Mrs. John T. Sutton, 52, of LaGrange, died in Wayne Memorial Hospital early this morning. She was a sister of Mrs. Lily Carr of 1709 Forest Hills Dr., Greenville.

Funeral services will be conducted from the First Baptist Church in LaGrange Thursday at 3 p.m. by the Rev. T. C. Williams. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Mrs. Sutton was the former Mae Hampton Keith of Fuquay Springs. An honor graduate of East Carolina College, she had been a teacher for many years.

Among the survivors are her husband, John T. Sutton of the home in LaGrange; three sisters in addition to Mrs. Carr, Mrs. J. E. Wright, Mrs. T. J. Bridges and Mrs. A. D. Wells, all of Fuquay Springs; five brothers, Maynard, Robert and Edward Keith, all of Fuquay Springs, Roy Keith of Wilson and Jesse Keith of Lewiston; her father, Edgar Keith of Fuquay Springs.

Eichman Denies Being In Charge Of Austrian Jews

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann today denied a statement by Gestapo chief Reinhard Heydrich that he was in charge of Jewish arrests in Austria.

In his seventh day on the witness stand, the former Gestapo lieutenant colonel testified about his role as Jewish affairs chief in Austria after the 1938 Anschluss, Austria after he was made chief of the Jewish section in the Gestapo's main headquarters in Berlin.

Eichmann claimed he was subordinate to the secret state police in Austria and as a Reich security officer dealt only with organizing the rescue of Jews by emigration.

Defense counsel Robert Servatius produced a document in which Heydrich ordered all Jewish males of Polish nationality in Austria arrested. Both the Gestapo and the SD (security) officers were ordered to "contact the man in charge of the Danube district" — Eichmann — in charge of the matter.

Eichmann brushed aside the implication that this meant he was in fact the real boss on Jewish matters.

In one of his typical involved replies he commented: "In a nutshell, in all the Jewish organization apparatus there was a considerable number of Jews of Polish nationality and it was hard to do without them. Therefore, the security police asked me for a second list of Jews. I wouldn't have been able to do without the Polish Jews in furthering the job of Jewish emigration."

Apparently, Eichmann meant that the Gestapo police had to come to him for a second list of Jews to be rounded up because of the arrest of all Polish Jews would have left him short-handed for his emigration work.

No Charges In Traffic Mishap

No charges were placed in the collision of a car with a parked truck at the intersection of First and Cotanche Streets, about 11:55 p.m. last night, it was reported today.

Officers said Jimmy Skinner, 28, of 206 East 12th St., was the driver of the car which struck the parked vehicle. Skinner was quoted as saying the power steering mechanism failed to operate as he was making a turn from First Street onto Cotanche.

Damage to his car was set at $200 while damage to the parked truck, owned by the Greenville Golf and Country Club, was set at $150.

Virginia and West Virginia were named for Queen Elizabeth I, the virgin queen.

Union Leaders Want Mobilizing

UNITY HOUSE, Pa. (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders say the world situation is so serious Congress should arm President Kennedy with powers to mobilize the economy "to meet any eventuality."

The federation's executive council said in a statement that Moscow has spurned all friendly gestures by the United States and has accelerated a drive for world domination.

The government should act immediately, the union leaders said, to alert the American people to the gravity of the international crisis and "strengthen our country's capacity for national defense in all possible emergencies."

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, said he personally wants the United States to go further and resume full nuclear testing. He said the present test ban is a gentlemen's agreement and that the United States has no way of knowing whether the Soviets are observing it.

The AFL-CIO foreign policy resolution adopted Tuesday did not elaborate on the standby powers recommended for Kennedy. Presumably they would include wage-price controls as well as economic mobilization powers.

The 29-man AFL-CIO Council today awaited a visit from Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, who was due to drop into this Pocono Mountains summer camp area by Marine helicopter.
