means to assure the security of the nation."

Cooper said that if Kennedy and his Democratic congressional leaders stand firm behind his foreign aid bill "there are many Republicans who will support them and the Congress will stand firm on the President's program—a program substantially recommended by President Eisenhower."

Police said restiveness of neighborhood teenage gangs was stirred by the unsolved shooting. Several groups stoned house windows as they moved through the section.

At Philadelphia, a Vice President of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called for "immediate and complete eradication of racial discrimination and segregation in the labor movement."

At Hartford, Conn., Negro integration leader Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta called on President Kennedy to issue a second emancipation proclamation.

King, who is head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, predicted the struggle over the "Freedom Riders" in Jackson Miss., was heading for a breaking point. But he said he did not know when or what that point would be.

At Jackson, city police arrested two former Freedom Riders on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors by enticing them to break the state's segregation laws.

From the early days of the Geneva conference there has been a moratorium among the United States, Britain and France on nuclear testing, though U.S. officials the nation's military strength has been questioned for eight years by members of Congress, retired military leaders and by Kennedy himself during the 1960 election campaign.

While he said he had no reason to doubt official statements they are adequate, he felt Congress needed more information since it has the duty to "provide at whatever the cost the organization and their policies and plans."

Alfred noted that several items were increased, while the allotment for others was reduced. He noted, however, that the changes made were merely recommendations, and that any changes finally made would depend on the audit now being conducted.

The audit, now underway, is expected to be completed next week, he noted, and a report is expected sometime "during the week."

He noted that the other business brought before the board last night also depended on the audit report, and action was postponed on the matters.

The other business discussed included a petition by land owners along the Fountain Highway, who were requesting that curb and gutter be installed along the road, and a report that the wage scale now in use by the town remain the same until a survey of wages being paid is completed. Alfred said the survey of the wages is being made by the N. C. Employment Commission at the request of the town.

All About Town With Anne Keziah

Mrs. Sam Pollard has returned home after a trip to the Pocono Mountains, where she was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pluss of the Mountain View Cottages at Swiftwater, Pennsylvania. Other houseguests of the Plusses were Mrs. Leota Tyson and Mrs. Lucy Allen of Greenville. Miss Tyson and Mrs. Allen will continue their vacation with a trip to the Maritime Provinces of Canada, before returning to Greenville.

Leaving today for Toronto, Canada is James W. Brewer who is grand master of Masons of North Carolina. He will attend the Grand Lodge of Canada A.F. and A.M. Province of Ontario which convenes on Monday July 17. Accompanying Mr. Brewer will be Mrs. Brewer and daughters Ann and Judy. The Brewers will return home on Friday July 21.

The bosses, being Dave and Jack Whichard, received a card from Angus Duff this week. Angus, who arrived in Oxford England on July 3, is attending the International Graduate Summer School, Exeter College, Oxford University. He commented that he was studying British political theory and contemporary government for six weeks, which he said was very interesting and challenging. Angus said, "Exeter College is a beautiful place, has its own chapel, dining room, class rooms, social facilities, and faculty quarters, plus living quarters. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Erskine Duff of Greenville.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brulington, Jr. and children Bob and Janie of Kansas City, Kansas will arrive this weekend for a two week visit with Mrs. Walter F. Taylor. Mrs. Brulington is the former Rosalie Taylor.

Misses Sandra and Patti Williams, granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Hardee of Ayden, are playing in "The Sailor's Tavern Playhouse, which is a summer outdoor theatre, in Richmond, Va.

In town this weekend for the wedding of Tommy Norris and Francis Smith are Dr. and Mrs. O. E. Hanes of Atlanta, Ga., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Faulkes of Crewe, Va.

Mrs. Frank Eller and Miss Frankie Eller returned yesterday after spending several days in Charlotte. Miss Eller, who is an August bride-elect, was entertained at several parties while in Charlotte. The Ellers are former Charlotte residents.

Miss Estelle Greene retired at the end of the school year after teaching a number of years in the city schools. When I talked with Miss Greene this morning she said that she hadn't done anything this summer except stay home, rest and relax. Miss Greene who is a Greenville native began her teaching career in 1912 in Beaufort. In 1918 she came to the Greenville city schools, where she taught in the math and English departments. She has also taught extension courses for East Carolina College.

In her spare time she enjoys reading, hearing lectures and playing bridge. This fall she is planning to take some courses at the college.

Miss Greene said she is looking forward to her niece, Mrs. Floyd Hendrix and her family coming in August. The Hendrix's who have been living in California, will be moving to Asheville in August.

Miss Pattie Ellen Whitehurst, who has been the houseguest for several days of Miss Patty Burton in Orlando, Florida, has returned to her home.

Dr. John C. Rice, director in charge of North Carolina C.I.A. at State College, and his wife and family will be the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Brantley Speight.

Withla Council No. 42 Installs New Officers

In a candlelight ceremony, Mrs. Ollie R. Blythe was installed Pochohantas of Withla Council No. 42, Degree of Pochohantas. Past Sachem Herman Nobles, installing officer, assisted by Mrs. Betty P. Nobles, Past Great Pochohantas of North Carolina, Tuesday night at the Woman's Club.

Other officers installed were Mrs. Effie Ree Bailey, Proprietress; Mrs. Reba Cannon, Wrennash; Mrs. Elizabeth O'Neal, Powhatan; Mrs. Julian Earl Hawkins, Collector of Wampum; Mrs. Ruby Hodges, Keeper of Wampum; Mrs. Betty Nobles, Keeper of Records; Miss Jean Bright, First Scout; Mrs. Jean N. Elks, Second Scout; Mrs. Faye Cayton, First Warrior; Mrs. Juanita Hudson, Second Warrior; Mrs. Julia Hayward, Third Warrior; Mrs. Miss Louise Hyman, Fourth Warrior; Mrs. Sally Valnright, Guard of Forest; Mrs. Thelma Vincent, Guard of Trees; Mrs. Nancy Gardner, First Councillor; Mrs. Daisy Tripp, Second Councillor; Mrs. Naomi Buck, First Runner; Mrs. Kathleen Flake, Second Runner; Miss Bessie Nobles, pianist, and Mrs. Eva Spain, trustee.

For installation the officers were seated in a semi-circle around the Council Brand. White chair covers with hand-painted Indian Maiden heads were on all officers' chairs. As each officer was installed, she was given a candle which was lit by Pochohantas from her candle. Presented a purple aster corsage, invested with the jewel of her office and was escorted to her station by Mrs. Betty Nobles, P.G.P. of North Carolina. After all officers were installed, each member was given a lighted candle and they gave their pledge of support to the Pochohantas and officers. Upon assuming her station, Pochohantas Ollie Blythe thanked the Council for the confidence placed in electing her to the highest office in their Order. She pledged her best and asked for everyone's cooperation. After reading scripture and prayer that was compiled in her Six Moon Book, Herman Nobles sang "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me." The committees appointed by Mrs. Blythe were asked to stand and they were given their duties in scroll form, tied with purple satin ribbon.

After routine business was dispensed with, Mrs. Maycie Culbreth, Past Pochohantas, acting in the absence of Mrs. Effie Ree Bailey, who was Pochohantas, thanked her officers and members for their cooperation during her term in office and presented each officer a crocheted doily which she had made. She also recognized Miss Louise Hyman, Miss Bessie Nobles and Mrs. Maycie Culbreth during her term and presented them gifts. Auditing committee reported on books and records of past six months and visitors from other Councils were recognized and welcomed.

The club room was decorated with pastel flower arrangements and seven-branched candelabra holding white candles entwined with ivy. The pedestals of the officers were covered with white cloths decorated with hand-painted Indian Maiden heads. After the meeting was adjourned, everyone was invited into the parlor for refreshments. The table was covered with a lace cloth, centered with a pastel flower arrangement, flanked by lighted tapers in crystal holders. Mrs. Nina Joyner and her committee served orange punch, ham biscuits, decorated cakes and assorted nuts.

Couture Group's Style Previews

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON Associated Press Fashion Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Anyone who doesn't already know that women are a deceptive lot would get an instant education at the New York couture group's fall style preview this week. More than 200 female writers here for fashion press week say the mannequins demonstrate their witchery. Clothes did the tricks. For example, on the runway stood Whistler's mother, shoulders bent wearily under the weight of a huge fringed white shawl, a demure white skirt reaching her toes. Then as suddenly as she could whip off the shawl she turned into somebody's sultry granddaughter in a décolleté dinner gown that even a non-Whistler would whistle at. Time and again models strode the runway in Monte-Sano's "poor girl" cloth coats—big woolly plaids not too expensive looking for a trip to the Internal Revenue office. Yet for the walk back they were rich girls, with coats reversed to mink, nutria and cat

Program On Rescue Work Presented To B.P.W. Club

The Greenville Business and Professional Women's Club had a picnic supper at Elm Street Park Thursday. The meal was prepared and served by Miss Camille Clarke and her committee. Guests present were John E. Spencer, Mrs. Nickie Brantley, Mrs. Peggy Norton, and Valerie and Allen Worthington. Mrs. Helen Snyder, membership chairman, introduced the following new members: Mrs. Ruby Julian, Mrs. Daisy Rogers, Mrs. Jessie Little, Miss Louise Smith. Mrs. Snyder also announced that the club membership had stabilized for the new year. Reports from State Convention were given by Miss Gladys Stokes, president, Mrs. Kemp Baldwin, Miss Camille Clarke, Mrs. Ruth Garner, and Mrs. Catherine Walsh. Items of particular interest to the club were changes in the by-laws, plans for the year's programs, and a description of the new state headquarters building in Chapel Hill. It was announced that Mrs. Catherine Walsh had been appointed district representative of the Elsie G. Riddick Loan Fund. Mrs. Eva Warren, chairman of the National Security Committee, introduced Lt. Stuart Savage and Capt. Jimmy Smith of the Greenville Rescue Squad, who presented a program consisting of demonstrations of different types of artificial respiration and a question and answer period concerning first aid. They also explained the work of the Rescue Squad.

HIBISCUS HONEY Here's the Hawaiian Slant

By VIVIAN BROWN AP Newscasters Writer

The prettiest American women can feel out-of-step when they visit foreign shores. The look that is considered magnificent at the Arc de Triumphe is likely not to look magnificent by the leaning tower of Pisa.

Our First Lady, Jacqueline Kennedy, set the pace recently when she chose wardrobe and coiffures simpatico to the countries she visited. Most women cannot afford great variety in their wardrobe, but coiffures and makeup may be brought into artful focus in countries where conditions of light, national habits, social taboos and fashion fads differ from those in the United States.

Makeup Varies Women are judged in many countries by the way they use makeup. There are startling contrasts to our own makeup formulas. Countries which deplore the overuse of lipstick, accept eye makeup that looks outlandish to American eyes.

One Hollywood beauty authority, Max Factor, has made a study of cosmetics worn in 123 countries and explains why these vast differences exist. "Great differences in light brought about by reflective rivers, lakes or the blinding light of a blue sea such as the Mediterranean's light over St. Tropez, or the reflected radiance of an ocean, like the Pacific's effect on Hawaii, create prevailing makeup fashion," he says.

Here are his pointers for both travelers and those who'd like to try a little foreign intrigue at home.

For the Hula Look What about our exotic 50th state? Hawaii is no place to wear a bluish lipstick. It may be flattering on Main Street, but it will look cold on the lovely sun-kissed islands. Warm-toned lipsticks, orange, coral and clear red tones, flatter the hibiscus you may wear in your hair or the orchid and ginger leis around your neck. The darkest foundation makeup is worn to blend with a deep suntan. If you'd emulate a real Hawaiian beauty, slant your eyes by angling brown eyeshadow toward your temples and marking your lids in a more oblique line with eye liner and mascara. Hawaiian girls prefer a long bob, flattering to their bare-shoulders sun fashions. Eye cues from South America indicate the senioritas there also are adopting a pseudo-Oriental eye slant, faking it with eye liner for a sultry effect. They use an abundance of eye shadow and mascara. But they prefer a light skin tone and wear cheek rouge. Coils are on the long side. Italians Stay Smart In Paris women strive for individuality, but on one thing they are agreed: Eye makeup is a woman's great beauty asset. Lashes are heavily fringed and eyelids and brows are delicately tinted. The skin is light, clear and subtly powdered. Hair is worn as you like it, usually short. Italian women concentrate on looking smart rather than beautiful, and many women do not use makeup, relying on their naturally expressive dark eyes and creamy skin to carry off their good looks. The current interest in lipstick emphasizes the palest pink shade worn with dark owl-eyed contrast. This pallid lip look is popular in Rome as well as the coast resorts along the French or Italian Riviera. Pink lips and smudged eyes are highly dramatic against a deep Riviera sun-tan. British Keep Natural Scandinavia is a place to make the most of your tan. Deep-toned foundation cream can give you the look of a local beauty, particularly if you are a blonde. But when you leave the fjords and junket on to the British Isles, be prepared for peaches-and-cream complexions. A little rouge rubbed delicately into the face after applying a pale makeup foundation may offer the natural rose-cheeked look of a pretty London girl. Deep red lipsticks are taboo. Hair is worn short and casual in the manner of Queen Elizabeth or in the upswipt style often worn by Princess Margaret Rose. If you are headed for rural regions of any country, go easy on the makeup. It's the ideal time to wear your well-scrubbed American girl look.

HOME DECORATING TODAY

By MRS. R. W. DAVENPORT THE JULY FURNITURE MARKET WAS BIGGER AND BETTER THAN EVER. Mr. Davenport said the market this time seemed to lean more toward Italian Provincial than ever before. However, there was still lots of Early American and French Provincial. Mr. Tyson was impressed with the number of buyers. The large attendance of buyers at this market proves to us the necessity of thoroughly shopping the markets for the best buys in furniture and home furnishings. Col. Maxwell, who has been attending the Furniture Markets for the past 50 years, believes this to be the best furniture market ever. He said in past years the superb furniture designing that few could afford. Today, we find superior designing, good workmanship and materials in the average range. When we find a rocker that retails for $25.00 chosen by our President for his private office, the furniture field has gone far to give us all beautiful pieces of good quality that any of us can afford. The furniture purchased at this week's market by the Home Furniture Store's buyers will begin coming in next week. We invite you to be one of the first to see the beautiful selections.—(Adv.)

A Half-Million Dollar Opportunity

East Carolina College is many industries within an institution for the city of Greenville, and the growth of the college offers the city opportunities for self-enhancement if the city will take advantage of the opportunities.

If there were an industry planning to move some 600 people into Greenville provided housing could be made available, there is no doubt that a considerable effort would be made by the people of the city to provide living quarters for the required 600 people. If there were an industry planning to move into Greenville to pour several hundred thousands of dollars a year into the local economy, there is no doubt that efforts would be made to meet the requirements of the industry.

What has this to do with East Carolina College and Greenville?

It is the fact that the college is seeking rooms in private homes in Greenville for this fall for some 600 students who have applied for admission to East Carolina, but for whom no living quarters can be found. College officials have asked the home-owners of the city who have vacant rooms to consider making them available to college students at least for the period from September 1 until Thanksgiving. How many of these 600 students who have applied for admission to ECC will actually enroll in September will depend upon the number of rooms in private homes in Greenville are made available to them.

From the economic standpoint, college officials have estimated that the 600 students will be willing to spend some $90,000 in Greenville for rooms during the coming school year. They also estimate that these 600 students would spend at least $60 per month each for food during the nine-month school year, making a total of some $324,000. Added to these figures it is estimated that the students would spend about $150 each during the school year for incidentals, making another $90,000 to $100,000 spent in the community.

These figures alone total more than half a million dollars.

But there are also other economic factors to be considered.

If enrollment of East Carolina next fall is increased by 600 students, it will also be necessary to increase the size of the faculty and staff of the college. Some 25 or more additional faculty and staff members probably would be required for 600 additional students, which in turn would add some $150,000 to $200,000 to the college payroll and 25 or more new permanent residents for Greenville.

Looking beyond the college year immediately ahead, it is quite likely that if living quarters can be found in Greenville homes for these 600 students for a few months this fall, these students in turn will influence others in later years to come to East Carolina College.

The situation offers for Greenville an economic opportunity for which many communities would give their eye teeth. It is one Greenville can take advantage of if its citizens will merely offer their vacant rooms to the college for housing these students for a few months this fall.

We trust the people of this city will meet this challenge for the good of the college, for the good of the community and for the benefit of these 600 young people who want to further their education at East Carolina College.

Counties, Too, Foot The Bill

By LYNN NISBET

SCHOOL COSTS—If there are those who still think the State is paying nearly all the bill for support of the public school system, a brief glance at local ad valorem tax levies pending in a number of counties will disabuse their minds of that idea.

Throughout his administration Governor Hodges insisted that local government be made to pay its own way. He assumed a larger share of the burden of supporting the public schools. The State should not be expected to do it all, he said.

Governor Sanford has challenged the local government units to do a little better than match State effort for his "quality education" program. The definite implication in these challenges is that the locals are not presently carrying their rightful share of the load, and that the State is to some degree pampering them.

There are many counties in which State participation in public school operation represents a much greater contribution, both in dollars and in percentage of effort, than local money. There also are a number of counties in which the percentage of the local ad valorem tax levy for public schools is greater than the percentage contribution by the State. And it must be remembered that degree of effort is measured in percentage and ability to pay, rather than in dollars.

Latest instance to come to attention is the breakdown of the currently proposed Mecklenburg county tax levy for the fiscal year 1961-62. It is not greatly different from the tax schedules in Buncombe, Forsyth, Guilford, Wake and other large counties.

65 PERCENT—The Mecklenburg commissioners this week adopted a tax rate of $1.61 per $100 valuation of property. Of that levy 65 percent is directly for public schools—and there's another percent for library and community college projects. Here's how it breaks down into cents:

School current expense 17.56 cents; school capital outlay 12.36 cents; school debt service 24.26, and special school supplement 50.40. That adds up to nearly $1.05, or 65 percent of the total levy of $1.61. The special public library levy is 3.35 cents, and there is a special levy of 2 cents for the community colleges. That means of the total levy of $1.61 there is earmarked for education $1.10, or nearly 69 percent of the total.

The remaining 51 cents must finance all the other operations of county government—law enforcement, health and welfare. (One interesting item in the Mecklenburg budget is nearly one half a cent for the "drainage fund.")

Out of that 51 cents must be paid the health and welfare bills and the general county debt service. These items take a little more than 33 cents. That leaves only 17.42 cents for the county general fund, out of which must be paid all the expenses for operating the county—courts, law enforcement, courthouse offices, et cetera.

GENERAL? The county general fund is different from the concept of the State general fund. In State parlance the "general fund" embraces everything except the special highway, agriculture, wildlife and other special tax and appropriation sources, and includes education, health, welfare and executive administration of courts and law enforcement. The county general fund includes only the major administrative activities.

PROTOCOL—Governor Sanford made it clear at his latest news conference that he expects the investigation of basketball gambling and related activities to be handled by the Attorney General, who is the constitutional head of the department of justice and the State's chief law officer.

In other statements he had indicated his purpose to recognize the authority and prestige of other constitutional elected officers in connection with education and agriculture programs. While insisting that, as Governor, he claims primary authority and is willing to accept main responsibility, there is less tendency now to by-pass or under-cut elected officials in accomplishing his purpose than was evident in the preceding administration.

At the same time, Governor Sanford was very emphatic in opposition to suggested election of the chairman of the highway commission and other administrative officers who are presently appointed. He said it is necessary for the Governor, as chief executive officer of the State, to maintain control over the important agencies.

There was a time when the commissioner of revenue and the members of the Utility Commission (formerly the corporation commission) were elected by the people. It was agreed that this carried the elective process a bit too far. But—North Carolinians have vigorously opposed suggestions for shortening the ballot and leaving such positions as secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, etc., to be filled by appointment—as is the case in Virginia.

Since these officers are elected by the same people who elect the Governor, the present chief executive indicates willingness to recognize them. But—the control exercised as director of the budget and through the department of administration keeps them pretty much under the Governor's thumb.

Demands For Changes In Electoral System

Although Americans have been reluctant over the years to alter their constitution, the need for altering the electoral college—if not abolishing it altogether—is gaining recognition.

The Senate inquiry into the present system may be expected to provide additional persuasive arguments for streamlining the method by which the presidents are officially elected. The fact that Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, a Democrat, and Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of New York, a Republican, have said they favor abolishing the electoral college will carry weight in Congress. Kefauver headed the Judiciary subcommittee which has just concluded hearings on the proposed constitutional change, and Keating is a member of the committee. Each of the senators has considerable influence in his own party and in Congress.

The electoral college as now constituted, is not in step with other changes in the procedure of electing presidents that have been made over the years. Although in modern times the candidate who has received the largest number of popular votes has been named president by the college, the 1960 general election showed that this may not always be the case.

The system needs to be updated, and even though Congress does not iron out alterations before its fall recess, it should not neglect this important matter in the press of other business.

Potshotting At Soviet Premier

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Suddenly the West is beginning to belt Premier Khrushchev, rag him on his own words, put him on the defensive. It's a switch. He's been doing the pitching, the West the catching.

If this is a put-up job—agreement between Western allies to turn the tables—this writer hasn't been able to nail it down. But they've conferred steadily on his Berlin rumpus. Now together they're potshotting him.

For weeks he's acted like a loudmouth, threatening to push the Allies out of West Berlin, bragging of Soviet power. It's kept the Allies jumpy, defensive, apparently uncertain how to handle him.

Then this week the blasts from French President Charles de Gaulle, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Lincoln White, State Department press officer and spokesman, and even Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Minnesota Democrat, De Gaulle, who doesn't talk often, said the West won't let the Soviets settle Berlin's fate by themselves, warned they'll be responsible for any "grave consequences" of a Berlin crisis. Refugees from Communist East Germany are fleeing into West Berlin at the rate of 1,000 a day. Adenauer said it "proves conditions over there have become unbearable" and a "panic seems to have broken out."

This kind of psychological assault can't help but hurt Khrushchev with satellites and neutrals.

Major cause for the refugee flight seems to be food shortages—for instance, in potatoes and butter—and stepped-up Red pressure upon the East Germans to support communism more actively.

Khrushchev, in his finaling on Berlin, called for signing separate peace treaties with West and East Germany, an unthinkable situation for Adenauer, who wants a single, unified Germany. But Adenauer's Bonn government used this against Khrushchev. (Continued on page six)

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

What's The Matter Here? A noted American author wrote a book several years ago entitled, "The Manifest Superiority of Women." A few men snickered. A few more made wary faces. But on the whole there was practically unanimous agreement among men that the author really had something in that book and his title.

In every way except muscular strength, women are indeed the superior of men. Intellectually they stand up with the best of men. They endure pain and suffering which would send most men whimpering to their graves, or to the asylum. They can work longer hours and keep up the standard of their work much better than can the average man. Men do not quarrel with women over the fact that women are superior to them. The resentment and criticism of men arise only over the fact that woman-kind as a whole does not want to be regarded as superior. For the past fifty years, women have considered it a great advance that they could get right down to the level on which men move and be one of them. They want to move about in a man's world and be part of it. They insist on sharing men's lives. If the men have affairs, the girl's have a right to have affairs also they claim, without any deprecation in the matter of marriageability. If the men drink hard liquor, the women will take the same. Are they on the right track? Some of us are old fashioned enough to believe that a mistake has been made somewhere. It just doesn't work out right.

Status Symbol

A Service For Saints

"The world has lost its greatest authority on baseball," said the boss when a certain funeral notice came through the Reflector's newsroom recently.

He wasn't talking about Branch Rickey or Bill Vecek or Leo Durocher. All these baseball greats are still in tip top shape.

He was forming the epitaph for one Johnny Norris, a Negro printing plant employee who succumbed to cancer a couple of weeks ago.

Johnny was an unknown by all American standards. Born in Greenville, he remained here all his life. Years ago he was a Daily Reflector employee, doing such jobs as casting the metal cuts used in newspapers and placing heavy printing forms on the press.

Johnny was a strapping man in those days, fully capable of carrying the forms, which weighed ed more than a hundred pounds each, to and from the press. But there was little about him to raise him above the teeming millions of the world. Consequently Johnny went through life known only to a comparatively small circle of friends.

Like so many of us, however, Johnny had one talent which went undiscovered by anyone who could put it to any real use. He had an astounding memory for baseball facts, figures, statistics and dates. He could rattle off the lifetime batting averages of Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb, Joe DiMaggio and countless other baseball greats as easily as the average person calls up his age.

As a youngster working in the Reflector's composing room, I often heard him recite Johnny's retention of so many facts and figures. So one day I came across a card board disk gadget which gave the winners of the World Series each year back to the turn of the century.

Armed with this I administered the supreme test.

"Johnny, who won the World Series of 1925?" I asked. "Pittsburgh," he promptly replied.

I fumbled with the dial. That was right. "Who won in 1938?" I asked. "New York, American League," he said.

I twisted the dial. He was right. "Then I reached 'way back. 'How about 1911?' I asked. "Philadelphia American League," he answered promptly. I spun my dial and the answer was correct.

This convinced me, Johnny Norris knew his baseball. Johnny is gone now, his only real talent on earth essentially unused. But if somewhere beyond the Pearly Gates Lou Gehrig, Babe Ruth or Connie Mack are a little bit hazy in their recollection of baseball facts and figures, Johnny Norris will be able to set his idols straight.

The world has indeed, lost its greatest authority on baseball.

Other Editors Sayings... Brain Rust And Defense

(Greensboro Daily News)

New evidence of North Carolina's distressingly high illiteracy rate, in which one General Assembly after another has shown insufficient interest or concern to make corrective appropriation for school attendance officers, has been supplied by the Raleigh Times.

The Times, getting its figures from State Selective Service headquarters, shows that the situation is worse now, or during 1960, than it was during World War II. Then 17.5 percent of Tar Heels called for draft examinations failed to meet mental tests—leaving the Old North State eighth from the bottom among other states of the Union.

As if that percentage wasn't bad enough, mental rejections by Tar Heel draft boards last year jumped to approximately 24 percent. Over-all rejections totaled 56.5 percent, with nearly half stemming from failure to pass an examination which was based on the equivalent of a fifth-grade education.

In Wake County, cited because it is right there in the Capitol environs, the total rejection rate was 60 percent. Breakdown of rejection percentages carries clear-cut implications: The Coastal Plain rejections ran 10 per cent higher than the Piedmont and 11 per cent higher than the mountains.

North Carolina's standing among other states is not given in the Times compilation as statistics from the rest of the country presumably have not yet been compiled or were not available at Raleigh Selective Service headquarters. Tar Heels are entitled to get whatever consolation they can from available South Carolina figures: The Palmetto State ranks below us with 66.9 percent in total rejections. Two tragic questions stem from the updated figures: (1) Does North Carolina have an abnormally large percentage of mentally retarded, who cannot advance to or beyond the fifth grade, and if so what is it doing about them and (2) how many Tar Heel children never attend school or drop out, even during the years for which the state's longstanding school compulsory attendance law applies?

These are questions which cry for answers and, beyond answers as the first step, for corrective action. The statistics themselves are staggering in their indictment of lack of school attendance machinery, personnel and finance on the state level and their revelation of depleted manpower for national defense and security when threatening world crises constantly stare us in the face.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Charles F. Carroll and Col. Thomas Upton, director of the State Selective Service, sound joint alarm when they declare that brain rust not brown is the problem confronting Tar Heel draft boards. How does this situation stack up with "quality education"?

Is People-Export On Horizon?

By ELMER ROESSNER

Exporting people is a proposal you'll hear more about in the years to come. We have been exporting jobs, plants, dollars and even topsoil in the form of farm products, so why not export people, too?

We are giving Cadillac to farmers who cut corn plantings; why not give Ramblers to the unemployed who will go some place else and cease being an annoying statistic?

This proposal is no gag. Shooting people to Mars and Venus may be a fanciful way of dealing with unemployment and overpopulation; but shipping people to Germany, where there is a labor shortage, or to Italy, where Social Security-ites can live within their incomes, is proved practical.

Chronic unemployment has been predicted for the rest of the 1960's. Surging population increases are ahead. Beginning around 1965, the postwar babies will start taking husbands and wives and begin propagating. The rise in population is already converting the truck gardens around most metropolitan areas into residential (that's what they say) developments (that's what they call them).

WHAT TO DO WITH PEOPLE? Obviously, the United States is rushing headlong into the era in which the major problem will be what to do with people.

Shipping them off to other countries is the neat, obvious solution.

That is the pattern of the solution of most of our other problems. When surplus food became a problem, and the poor little kids in school could eat no more of our chopped meat (which we were meanwhile importing from Australia), we began shipping food abroad. When heavy industry exceeded domestic demand, we began shipping plans to India, Egypt and other nations, poor in wealth, perhaps, but not in acquisitive ingenu-

Opinions In Brief

"The aid program faces rough sledding, as it always does, in Congress. Yet, at a time when fresh American initiative is demanded, the revamped economic aid program is the prime means of countering Communist schemes for expansion without war."—The Greensboro Record.

"North Carolina doesn't want or need parimutuel betting on dog races, horse races, auto races, cock fights, tiddley-winks tournaments or anything else. The moment North Carolina permits betting on any subject, North Carolina puts her official seal of approval on gambling, and North Carolina cannot afford to do that."—The Raleigh Times.

"We expect historians can well point to 1961 as the year Tar Heels heard and talked more about the affairs of their state than ever. With the four and a half month session of the Legislature, plus the campaign for the bond issues and other matters to be decided by vote, it stands to reason we shall hear plenty.

Times Not The Same

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
Copyright, 1961, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

I usually do not see unsigned letters. They are thrown in the waste-paper basket where they belong. However, I have received one that is so unusually stupid that I read it and give to you the publishable part.

"Have you forgotten your boyhood days when $40.00 a week was probably $100.00 to your family. And perhaps today some one ought to wise you up to the facts of life. Believe it or not, there are still thousands existing on $30.00 a week. You couldn't expect them to cry in their beer over $30.00 a day.

"It's people like you who are overpaid living off the fat of the land are the cause of inflation and poor people having to pay more than afford to keep alive." The writer of this letter is innocent of economics. My father probably earned about $25 a week, more or less. When I went to high school, I was given 25 cents a day. Out of that I paid subway fare, ate my lunch, read two newspapers a day and had enough left to sit in the top balcony of a Keith and Proctor variety show. I had a brother who sold millinery and was always on the road. He may have spent $5 a day traveling; maybe a little more out West. It was possible to get a breakfast of stewed prunes, three eggs and bacon, or a small steak with German fried potatoes, and hot cakes or toast and coffee for well under a dollar. For a time, when I worked as an office boy, I had my lunch at Max's Busy Bee. I am sure that I never spent more than a dime and I got good, nourishing food.

But that cannot be done today. A salesman, if he travels by car, may stay at a motel where the rooms may cost as much as in a good hotel. If he stays in a hotel, he cannot possibly get along on $30 a day and stay at an "address"—that is the kind of hotel, in a good neighborhood, to which his customers would come to look at his samples or to discuss a big deal. If he wants to butter up a buyer, which is ordinary sales practice, he must take him and his wife to a show at $6.80 a ticket, if he can get a ticket at that price or pay anything that the spectator demands. If he goes to a suitable place for dinner, say, in New York, at "$11" or The Colony or the Four Seasons, or the Pavilion, something interesting and spectacular, his bill for four can easily run between $90 and $100—and that is not high for such places although it may be extravagant.

We live in a competitive world and a phase of doing business is entertainment and dining out. Of course, there are folks who earn little, but they do not do the work that involves an expense account. Let us say that I am ordered to go to London or Geneva or Rome or anywhere, I could not do it on $30 a day. It just is not the price tag anymore.

The anonymous writer asks me if I have forgotten my boyhood days. Not at all. I remember them very pleasantly for a time. I worked after school for the New York Public Library and got $2.50 a day. Many students did that and it helped a lot. My job was to stack books and the work was hard but pleasant. After doing that, I went home for dinner and home-work. We managed very comfortably on what today would not pay the rent for an apartment in a decent neighborhood such as we had when the rent amounted to about $40 a month. The landlord became a multi-millionaire.

The answer is that if a dollar had the purchasing power in 1961 that it had in 1910, life would be much easier all around. As I write this I recall a one dollar dinner on the Hudson Bay Line. There was soup, roast beef, potatoes and vegetables, corn on the cob which was then a luxury, pie, cheese and coffee. Get that meal anywhere in the quantities then provided, with the trimmings, for one dollar today!

Times sure have changed, brother.

Cites Delay In Azalea Trouble

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Bunny Hines, president of the Wilmington Athletic Association, said a delegation from here would be unable to attend a meeting in Milwaukee next week which could bring a showdown on the future of the 13-year-old Wilmington Azalea Open golf tournament.

He said Friday night that the other three member-tournament-sponsoring of the WAA group, Ham Hicks, Louis Poisson and Joe Fox, were unable to go because of business conflicts.

Hines said when it developed he was the only one free to make the trip, he called Henry Thomas of the International Golf Sponsors' Association in Chicago and asked him to represent the Azalea Open at the meeting. If developments warrant, Hines said he was prepared to fly to Milwaukee either Monday or Tuesday to attend the IGSA meeting.

The WAA wants to hold the tournament in connection with the annual Wilmington Azalea Festival, set for next April 5-6, but the IGSA does not want to hold a tournament here at that time.

Hines said a 36-hole pro-am would be held the weekend of the festival regardless of when the Open is held. He also said a 72-hole Open is planned.

BUSY BOMBER by Pap'

Just about every time Roger Maris turns around someone asks about his chances of breaking Babe Ruth's home run record of 60 in one season. The Yankee slugger must know that he is well ahead of Ruth's record pace of 1927, so the tired old question is half expected.

"I never give a thought to Babe Ruth or his record," Maris insists. "Not now or ever. I'm just surprised that I have been able to hit this many. I'm thankful, too. Sure, I'm leveling for the long ones, but records are not on my mind. The most home runs I've ever hit in a season is 39—last year. I'd like to improve that figure."

Actually, Maris doesn't feel that breaking Ruth's record is really important now that the schedule has been increased by eight games. The Babe's mark of 60 home runs is certain to stay

U.S. Favored In Third Track Meet

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — The United States goes up against Russia today in an Olympic style track meet and while the Americans are rated the favorites, there are imponderables on both sides.

This is the third meeting between the world's two greatest track powers and the Soviets are hoping to improve on their two past performances when the Americans won 14 events to 8 both in 1958 here and 1959 in Philadelphia. They probably will guess is that the United States will come out on top 13-9.

In the companion women's meet—which the Russians have promised to score separately—the Soviet girls should win, 9 to 1. Only Wilma Rudolph, the triple

CGA Tourney May Be A Dilly

GASTONIA, N.C. (AP) — If the qualifying round was an indication of what is to come, the 47 amateur tournament of the Carolina Golf Association will be a dilly.

The leader of the 181-man field (13 other entries withdrew) was Walker Cupper Charlie Smith of Gastonia.

But the husky automobile dealer had to sweat out a three-man sudden death playoff that he clinched with a 25-foot birdie putt on the second hole to win the medal and draw the top spot for today's 32-match first round.

Charles, Larry McSpadden, 35-year-old Gastonia cotton broker, and Harry Welch, Salisbury radio station executive, had tied for the honors with par 71 scores.

They hooked up in their play-off with about 30 men still on the back nine of the Gaston Country Club's 6,800-yard course when it was apparent nobody was going to be able to equal their score.

Each of the three birdied a par five first hole. McSpadden from 10 feet. But Smith's birdie on No. 2 wrapped it up and McSpadden claimed second place with a par as Welch three-putted.

Two rounds today will be followed by two more Sunday, with the 18-hole semifinals Monday afternoon and the 36-hole championship on Tuesday.

Smith's first round foe was Arlie Griffith of Greensboro, a 77 qualifier.

Welch also met a 77 shooter in George Pruitt of Greenville, S.C., and McSpadden drew George Toms of Durham, also 77.

Other feature matches, with qualifying scores:
First quarter — Buddy Baker, Florence, S.C., 76, vs. Mason Blandford, Gastonia, 78; Frank Brooks, Siler City, 78, vs. Pat Foy Brady, Reidsville, 79; Verner Stanley, Charlotte, 77, vs. Stu Kennedy, Thomasville, 80; Buzzy Basinger, Charlotte, 76, vs. Harold Barnes, Gastonia, 79.
Second quarter — Don Hedrick, Lexington, 74, vs. Ben Goodes, Reidsville, 78; Dillard Traynham, Greenville, S.C., 75, vs. George Corn, Shelby, 79.
Third quarter — Bill Harvey, Greensboro, 74, vs. C. V. Robbins, Gastonia, 78; Sam Marsh, Greenville, S.C., vs. Billy Womack, Florence, 79; Dave Smith, Gastonia, vs. Ken Lovingsood, Cherryville, 79.
A score of 80 or better was needed to qualify, with 11 men playing off at that figure for the last five places.

The association awarded next year's tournament to Florence, the date to be set later, and elected Robert H. Chapman, Spartanburg, S.C., president at its annual meeting.

Gold Cup Race Is Scheduled Today

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — A field of 14 goes after the $162,100 Hollywood Gold Cup this afternoon, with no standout performer in the race. The winner will get $102,100.

It is regarded as the most wide open Gold Cup race. The field is the largest since 1946, when 16 went postward.

Here is today's lineup for the 1 1/4 mile race:
Headmaster, G. Taniguchi, 107; Socondan, F. Costa, 110; New Polity, H. Moreno, 117; Geechee Lou, J. White, 116; Nickel Boy, J. Leonard, 114; Notable II, J.W. Martin, 108; Prince Blessed, J. Reds Take Cubs 8-7 In Overtime

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds may treat the Philadelphia Phillies like poor relations, but they're first class kinsin' cousins at the moment.

The Reds, 19-0 against Philadelphia this season, were spilled again by the Chicago Cubs, 8-7 in 10 innings, Friday night despite Frank Robinson's hot bat and relief ace Jim Brosnan. But Cincinnati retained a five-game bulge in the National League race when the last place Phils, after losing 11 in a row to Los Angeles, came from four runs behind and belted the second-place Dodgers 7-5 in 10 innings.

It was the ninth victory in 13 games against the Reds for the seventh place Cubs, while the Phils had won just one of 13 from the Dodgers.

Pittsburgh hung on to third place by beating fourth place San Francisco 6-4 on an eight-inning bases-loaded home run by Roberto Clemente, St. Louis defeated Milwaukee 2-1.

In the American League, the New York Yankees lost 6-1 at Chicago, but kept a percentage point edge over Detroit when Minnesota beat the Tigers 5-2. Baltimore defeated Boston 7-6. Cleveland rapped the Los Angeles Angels 7-5 and Kansas City took two at Washington, 8-3 and 9-7, in 10 innings.

A pinch single by Dick Bertell won it for the Cubs after George Altman, who also had an RBI triple, tied it 7-7 with a two-run homer in the ninth off loser Brosnan (5-3). It was only the fourth home run allowed by Brosnan in 42 innings this season.

Struck Out Eight And Left Nine Stranded For The Win

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Juan Pizarro and Jack Kralick may not be the best left-handed pitchers in the business, but they looked it against the New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers—a pair of clubs that have put the slug on southpaws in their scrap for the American League lead.

The Yankees had been .667 (14-7) against lefties, and the Tigers .647 (11-6). But that was before Pizarro and Kralick went to work Friday night. Each struck out eight and left nine runners stranded for victories that left New York with a slim, percentage point edge over injury-weakened Detroit.

Pizarro, a usually wild fireballer, gave up seven hits—six singles and Mickey Mantle's 31st home run—while pitching the Chicago White Sox to a 6-1 victory over the Yanks. He walked six, but held Roger Maris hitless while becoming only the second left-hander to go all the way against New York this season. The other is Kansas City's Jim Archer, who has done it twice.

Kralick, a slow-stuff southpaw, gave up 10 hits, but walked only one as the Minnesota Twins beat the Tigers and ace Frank Lary 5-2. Only three other lefties have pitched complete games against Detroit this season—Whitney Ford of the Yanks, Pizarro and Frank Baumann of the White Sox.

While the Yankees stayed ahead of the Tigers by .003 percentage points, third place Baltimore moved within 6 1/2 games of the top by beating Boston 7-6. Cleveland defeated the Los Angeles Angels 7-5 and last place Kansas City won two in a row for the first time in more than a month by sweeping a two-night double-header from Washington 8-3 and 9-7, in 10 innings.

In the National, Cincinnati retained a five-game lead despite an 8-7, 10-inning loss to the Chicago Cubs as the second place Los Angeles Dodgers dropped a 7-5, 10-inning decision to Philadelphia. Pittsburgh beat San Francisco 6-4 and St. Louis defeated Milwaukee 2-1.

Pizarro (5-3), who had lost three in a row, also doubled twice and drove in two runs for the White Sox. They had 10 hits off loser Roland Sheldon (6-3) and two relievers. Sheldon, after winning five straight and pitching two consecutive shutouts, gave up three runs in the third inning on two singles, a hit batsman and three wild pitches. That ended his shutout string at 21 2-3 innings.

While Kralick, Minnesota's ace with a 9-5 record, worked in and out of trouble against the Tigers, the Twins tagged Lary (13-5) for seven of their 10 hits. Lennie Green had a double and two singles, and Bob Allison hit his 17th home run. Detroit was without third baseman Steve Boros, still not up to par after being hit by a pitch last Sunday, and slugging first baseman Norm Cash, out with an infected foot.

The Orioles twice blew leads at Boston, finally nailing it by coming from behind on Dick Williams' three-run homer in the ninth off Red Sox relief ace Mike Fornieles (5-5). Wes Stock (4-0) was the winner in relief.

Cleveland also had to come from behind, after scoring a pair of unearned runs in the first inning. Don Dillard's single broke a 5-5 tie in a two-run eighth inning that wrapped it up. Willie Kirkland's fifth homer in three games triggered a three-run seventh that gave the Indians a 5-4 lead, but Joe Koppe's first AL home run knotted it for the Angels in their eighth. Bobby Locke (2-0) was the winner and Jim Donohue (3-3) the loser, both in relief.

Manager Hank Bauer lined a pinch sacrifice fly for the clincher in the 10th that gave the last place A's two consecutive victories for the first time since June 3-4 (when, incidentally, they also beat Washington, twice). A four-run third inning, with Norm Siebern's double the big hit, put away the opener. Ed Rakow (2-4) took the first game, pitching his first complete game in the majors, and reliever Bill Kunkel (2-1) won the nightcap. Joe McClain (7-8) and reliever Dave Sisler (1-4) were the losing pitchers.

Final Two Rounds Of BOG Begin Today

BIRKDALE, England (AP) — Emergency squads of workmen with buckets and blankets stood by each green today as the first 20 kilometer walk, hop, step and jump, hammer throw, high jump, javelin throw and decathlon.

Friday's play was washed out in a torrential downpour that flooded fairways and greens and the organizing committee announced that unless final rounds could be completed today the championship would be declared void.

Skies were overcast after a night of intermittent showers and greenkeepers were up at daylight to dry the putting surfaces.

The greens were squasy but none of them had pools of water. Jajor Tom Harvey, chairman of the championship committee said, "We're going to play on even if the golfers have to putt with iron."

Among those most anxious to get the tourney finished was Pennsylvanian Arnold Palmer, just one stroke behind the leaders.

Palmer, a man on a mission, got up today wondering if he would be on a plane home to night without even hitting the shots that really count.

The hazards of an English summer—tremendous rains and winds—could rob the entire field of 48 golfers of even seeing it all end with a champion.

Brig. Eric Brickman, secretary of the Royal and Ancient club, said one of the main factors in the decision that final rounds must be completed today was that many players had other commitments.

Palmer relaxed over a game of bridge while arguments raged around the Birkdale links about the official decision Friday. The Latrobe, Pa., professional said he thought it would be a "very poor thing" for such a world famous championship as the British Open to be played to "no decision."

Palmer and Kel Nagle, the Aussie who beat him by one stroke for the title at St. Andrews last year, were at 143 after the first two rounds.

Dal Rees of Wales and Harold Henning of South Africa led the field of 142.

Hydraulic Trouble Again Reported By Jet Airliner

DENVER (AP)—For the third time in four days, a DC-8 jet airliner has reported trouble in the crew's hydraulic system amid continuing studies by Federal Aviation Agency experts.

The same malfunction was reported Tuesday by the captain of a United Air Lines DC8 which crashed here, killing 17.

Another United DC8, on a training flight with four air line employees aboard, reported hydraulic trouble here Friday but landed without incident.

An Eastern Air Lines DC8 experienced similar troubles Wednesday while approaching Miami, Fla. It, too, landed safely.

A full investigation of the DC8 crash from last Tuesday's crash won't be completed for several weeks, but the FAA in Washington issued new regulations Thursday seeking to tighten safety precautions in cases of hydraulic emergencies aboard DC8s.

All air lines using the $5 million planes were instructed in new procedures designed to save pressure when hydraulic system failures make it impossible to lower landing gear in the normal way.

At the same time, however, the FAA said a sudden change in engine thrust might have been responsible for the tragedy here last Tuesday.

The backward thrust on a plane's engines normally is reversed upon landing to slow the craft's forward motion.

The federal agency suggested that the inadvertent opening of the thrust reverse mechanism on the United DC8 could have caused the pilot to lose control upon landing.

The FAA emphasized that this is only one of several possibilities.

JFK Takes Day Off To Ponder Berlin Crisis

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy took a day off today with nothing on his schedule but with Berlin and other problems on his mind.

Kennedy had no activities scheduled except a study of memoranda dealing with a variety of problems—and the German crisis was high on the list.

The President probably will stick close to his white summer place overlooking Nantucket Sound.

With bad weather forecast, Kennedy didn't plan any yachting—a presidential pastime on recent Cape Cod visits.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy will spend the day resting and reading documents he brought from the White House.

"I would say that certainly some of them deal with Berlin," said Salinger. Kennedy is to announce next week the steps his administration plans to take with the Berlin crisis.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev has said he will sign a peace treaty this year with Communist East Germany, and the Western powers regard this as a move to force them out of West Berlin, 110 miles inside the Iron Curtain.

Kennedy and his wife returned to their Cape Cod summer retreat late Friday. The President is here for the weekend, Mrs. Kennedy several days.

Several key Kennedy advisors came along, but Salinger said they were on Cape Cod to relax, not to work. Among those aboard the presidential plane were Theodore Sorensen, his special coun-

Astronaut Flight To Be Televised

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's three television networks said Friday they plan to televise the scheduled space flight next week of an American astronaut.

The shot is expected to be made shortly after dawn Tuesday but weather or technical problems could delay it.

Spokesmen for the National Broadcasting Company, American Broadcasting Company and Columbia Broadcasting System said their networks would carry the entire flight live as they did last May when the nation's first astronaut made a brief journey into space.

Buying Intentions Survey Set Here

A special "Survey of Buying Intentions" will be conducted as part of the July Current Population Survey, it was announced today by Director Joseph R. Nordwood of the bureau's regional field office in Charlotte.

Information will be collected here by Mrs. Shirley Brotherton during the week of July 17.

A number of families in the Current Population Survey sample panel will be asked special questions on consumer plans to purchase air conditioners, auto-mobiles, clothes dryers, dishwashers, hi-fi equipment, houses, refrigerators and television sets. This information is collected quarterly for the Federal Reserve Board for use in studies of consumer buying trends.

Pitt Children Gave $388 To Save Ship

Pitt County school children made a major contribution to the campaign to bring the USS North Carolina back home, according to Fleet Admiral Dave Mosier, chairman of the drive in this county.

Of the total of $1,377.00 raised the school children contributed $388.60 which means that 3,886 pupils each gave a dime for an admission ticket which is good any time during the next five years.

Pitt can claim five admirals each of whom contributed one hundred dollars: W. W. Speight, John T. Marston Jr., Nick Simonovich, L. S. Picklen and the President of the Grimesland-Simpson Ruritan Club. The Ruritan Club has twenty members and each gave five dollars to make the admiral rank.

Schools which make a 100% contribution will have their names inscribed on a permanent plaque aboard the USS North Carolina and admirals also will have their names on a plaque.

Nine Pitt County schools made 100% contributions: C. M. Eppes School $85.30; Elmhurst Elementary School $60.20; Chicod School $57.70; Agnes Pulllove School $39.50; Bethel High School $37.70; Third Street School $32.80; Grif-ton High School $22.10; Falkland Elementary School $22.10; and Stokes Elementary School $6.50. Tickets will be distributed within the next two weeks. Mosier stated.

Of the 100 counties participating in the campaign Pitt stood 24th in amount of money raised and 44th in meeting its quota.

Mosier said contributions are still being received and that approximately $50,000 is still needed. Contributions may be sent to: Battleship, P.O. Box 888, Greenville, N.C.

Tar Heel Guard Arrested Friday

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP)—A former North Carolina prison guard, Harold Taylor, 29, was arrested here Friday. He faces trial on charges of aiding an honor grade convict to escape from the Odum Prison Unit near Jackson, N.C.

Both men were nabbed by Portsmouth police on charges of drunkenness and faced extradition proceedings to return them to North Carolina to stand trial in connection with the escape.

North Carolina Prisons Director George Randall identified the convict as Alton Cone, 38, formerly of Bally, N.C. but now from Portsmouth. He was in honor grade status.

Taylor had been a lieutenant at the Odum camp but was fired July 5, Randall said, for stealing gasoline and receiving money from a prisoner's sister.

"He undoubtedly had to furnish her with something in the way of assistance to a prisoner he wasn't supposed to furnish," Randall said. However, the woman's brother was not involved in Friday's escape.

Cone was convicted of larceny of an auto and sentenced to eight to 10 years after his trial in Wilson Superior Court in March 1959.

Governors Meet On Race Issue

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Several Southern governors or their representatives will meet here Wednesday, apparently to discuss states' rights and race problems.

Gov. Ross Barnett said Friday he had called the meeting, but he declined to disclose its purpose.

He said he had kept it secret because some governors declined to attend unless assured of no advance publicity.

Alabama Gov. John Patterson and South Carolina Gov. Ernest Hollings said they would attend. Georgia Gov. Ernest Vandiver said he would send State Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook to represent him.

Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus said he had another engagement, but his office said it could be broken.

Virginia Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. and Florida's Gov. Farris Bryant said they couldn't make it. Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington said he had not received an invitation. Louisiana Gov. Jimmie Davis declined comment.

Committee To Conduct Review

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—The State Stream Sanitation Committee will review during the next four to six months testimony from hearings on classifications for pollution of the Catawba River and then make the classifications permanent.

When the directives become effective, the river basin will be notified of what steps they must take to lower pollution and conform to the classifications.

Some 100 persons were on hand here Friday for the second of two hearings conducted by the committee. Household, industrial and municipal spokesmen pledged support to lower and control pollution of the river that winds down from the eastern slopes of the Blue Ridge mountains through the industrialized Piedmont North Carolina and moves into South Carolina near Charlotte.

Committee Hears Dispute Today

MOREHEAD CITY, N.C. (AP)—The Conservation and Development Board's Commercial Fisheries Committee meets here today to hear both sides of a long-disputed involving State Fisheries Commissioner C. G. Holland.

The Conservation and Development Department has received petitions requesting that Holland not be reappointed to the post he has held since 1953.

However, at a meeting here Friday, the State Advisory Fisheries Board recommended unanimously that Holland be rehired.

Conservation and Development Director Hargrove Bowles, present at the meeting Friday, said he had received petitions, asking for Holland's ouster.

Jessel Says Suit Has Been Settled

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Comedian George Jessel, 63, says he has settled a paternity suit brought by actress Joan Tyler and hopes to be married—but not to Miss Tyler.

Jessel Friday identified his intended bride as Marjorie May, a red-haired actress who—like Miss Tyler—is 27.

Miss Tyler, who has said she expects her child in December, disclosed a week ago that she planned to drop her suit against Jessel. At the same time, she said she and the comedian probably would marry.

Boy Testifies In Charlotte Millionaire Case

By RALPH SPRINKLE
CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—A 15-year-old youth testified that millionaire George King Cutter brought his mother's body home to him to report he found her dead in bed and said: "Stick by me and I'll make a man of you and take care of you."

But the youth, Richard (Ricky) Nycum, was the state's main witness against the 48-year-old Cutter Friday in a preliminary hearing in the death of Mrs. Delette Nycum.

Mecklenburg County Recorder's Court Judge Winfred Ervin reduced the charge from first degree murder, bound Cutter over to Superior Court on a second degree charge and set bond at $50,000. The next term of court is July 31.

Cutter posted the bond late Friday night.

Cutter, a realtor and builder estranged from his wife and four children, had been held without bond since July 4, a few hours after police were called to examine the battered, bruised body of the 39-year-old divorcee and secretary.

Dr. W. M. Summerville, coroner, testified that he believed Mrs. Nycum died from the more than 100 bruises "from her scalp to her feet." He said, however, that he has issued no official ruling, pending results of blood tests.

Testimony indicated the bruises were inflicted over a two-day period, July 2-3.

City Police Detective M. H. Thompson told the court that Cutter said he had taken Mrs. Nycum to the private bus he has fitted out as a rolling residence. The detective quoted Cutter as saying he left her there and returned later to find her dead.

They had known each other "for as long as I can remember," said Ricky.

Mrs. Nycum's maid, Isabelle Cunningham, testified that she overheard her employer tell Cutter on July 3: "Why don't you hit me again, you've done it before," and add later, "Let's go to the bus and get it over with."

Mrs. Nycum's body bore bruises at the time, the maid testified.

The maid said that as she left work on July 3 she told Cutter to be good to Mrs. Nycum. "I'm going to be good to her. I'm going to take her out and hang her on a tree and break her damned neck," she said he replied.

Ricky, on the witness stand for an hour and a half, said that Cutter telephoned him about 2 a.m. July 4 and told him that Mrs. Nycum was dead. About 20 minutes later, the youth continued, Cutter drove up to the house with her body on the floor in the rear of the car.

Ricky testified that Cutter, who had beat him in the past, "told me I had to help put mother to bed." Together they carried the body to her bedroom, which contained a picture of Cutter.

Cutter took off her dress and slip and dressed her in pajamas, Ricky continued, then told him to telephone his 16-year-old sister, Sandra, visiting an uncle at Ft. Bragg, and tell her that he had found his mother dead in bed. Then the 6-foot, 240-pound Cutter handed the telephone to him.

Ricky testified, and the youth sat alone in the house with his dead mother until the uncle called Charlotte police about 4 a.m. and asked them to investigate.

2 Greenvilleites To Attend Meet

WILSON—Mrs. J. B. Spilman and Dr. Carl Adams of Greenville were among those attending a meeting Thursday to organize the Northeastern Regional Mental Health Association.

Mrs. Spilman, executive director of the North Carolina Mental Health Association, outlined the relationship of the regional organization to the state association.

Dr. Adams, chairman of the education committee of the state association, outlined possible local workshop programs that county chapters could conduct under the leadership of the regional organization.

The regional organizational meeting was the first of four to be held in the state to carry out a plan adopted by the board of directors of the North Carolina Mental Health Association recently. The plan calls for the state to be divided up into four regions with a vice president of the state association serving as the head of each regional organization.

Dr. John McCain of Wilson, vice president of the state association for the Northeastern Region, presided over the meeting, which was held at the Wilson County Mental Health Clinic.

Chief Urges Locking Of Cars

Greenville Police Chief S. G. Gibbs, today in reporting several Negro men were arrested yesterday for taking property from parked cars and trucks, urged local citizens to lock their cars to prevent thieves from taking items from the car or the car itself.

Chief Gibbs reported local officers arrested Alex "Earl-im-up" Minor, 37, of 105 West First St., Ollie Gray, 37, of 209 Reade St., and James Alkman, 41, of 1706 South Pitt St., in connection with the larceny of clothing from two cars, parked near the intersection of Ninth and Dickinson Ave., on a private parking lot, Thursday.

Only part of the clothing taken from the two vehicles was recovered, the police officials said. The merchandise was valued at $150.

The stolen clothing was removed from cars owned by W. H. Dudley of Winton, Va., and Jim Br-

Coroner Rules Dual Homicide

ASHEVILLE (AP)—The Buncombe County coroner says the deaths of two Asheville men late Friday night was a double homicide and no inquest will be held.

Dr. John C. Young made the ruling after a gun and knife battle left Jack Harry Von Swaringer, 42, and Walter Harrison Davis, 71, dead.

Officers said Swaringer was found dead in the hallway of the apartment building where he lived with two bullet wounds from a .38 caliber double-barreled Der-ringer in his chest. Davis was stabbed three times in the chest, authorities said, and stumbled mortally wounded onto the sidewalk in front of the apartment building.

J. C. Hall, assistant police chief, said Swaringer had called him about an hour before the double killing, saying he was going to "throw the next one (who disturbed him) out the window."

City Represented At Earth Science Institute In S.C.

Greenville will be represented at the first National Science Foundation Summer Institute in Earth Science convening July 17 at the University of North Carolina by Coleman A. Gentry Jr.

The institute will continue for six weeks and will be attended by 38 science teachers, 27 of them from North Carolina. The institute is designed to give the teachers a solid foundation in elementary geology and geography which will enable them to introduce course in the earth sciences into their schools.

The idea for the institute grew out of findings by the North Carolina Curriculum Study Committee that little geology and geography were being taught in high schools, generally a science course throughout the state. The reason for the neglect of these important fields of science was found to be the lack of adequate training among certified science teachers.

chev, with a twist to hurt.

It pointed out that the Soviet Union, in joining the United Nations, had agreed to the principle that all peoples should have the right to determine their own future. West Germany called on Khrushchev to live up to the pledge, told him:

Sign a peace treaty with a single German government elected by all Germans, East and West. Since letting the East Germans vote on a single German government is the last thing Khrushchev wants, he won't permit it.

But it was good propaganda against him.

Rusk put the whole blame for present world jitters on Communism, said, "The underlying crisis of our generation arises from the fact that the Soviet Union did not join the United Nations in fact as well as in form." The possession of power has transformed it to ambition for more power."

Humphrey hit Khrushchev a lick which must hurt around the world, raise suspicions of Soviet successes. He said Khrushchev was plagued by food shortages of staggering proportions. He said entire Communist empire is on short rations.

The United States accused the Communist East German regime of violating religious liberties by trying to split the Evangelical Church, which exists in both Germany.

White said the purpose is to wreck the church, asked, "Is this the kind of freedom the Soviets desire to extend to 2 1/2 million West Berliners through their so-called 'free city' proposals?"

The State Department denounced the East German Communists for denying the right of the Germans who live under them but work in West Berlin to buy various household goods.

Indians Notified Of Board Denial Of Reassignment

LUMBERTON, N.C. (AP)—Nine Indian children and three white children were notified Friday by the Lumberton Board of Education that their requests for reassignment had been denied.

The petitions from the Indian children marked the first time they had sought assignment to other than Indian schools in the Lumbee County system. The Indians petitioned the City Board for reassignment when West Lumberton was annexed in a referendum election last December.

The Lumberton board promised to provide a school for the Indian children as soon as funds became available. Indian petitions were filed in June when it became evident no Indian school would be ready in September.

City May See New High Today

Today could set a record high temperature for Greenville for the summer so far, with the early morning temperature already in the 80s.

Friday's high of 98 degrees equaled the summer's record of 98 recorded on June 6. Even the low temperatures for the day were in the high 70s, according to Kent Gilson of the Greenville Utilities Plant, registering 79 at midnight last night and a low of 77 at 4 a.m. today.

The weatherman's prediction is for continued warm and humid for today and tomorrow, with showers most likely in the west portion of the state.

The Tar River level this morning was on a four-foot standstill, Gilson reported.

Eskimos and Tlingit Indians believe the northern lights are the spirits of the dead at play.

Says Youth Sees Great Decisions

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Billy Graham says teen-agers face a difficult period of doubting and searching but it also is a period when "life's great decisions and commitments are made."

This was the evangelist's message Friday night as he addressed a young people rally at the Minnesota Fairgrounds. The audience was estimated at a capacity 46,000 and included many young folks.

"Young people are searching for security," said Dr. Graham. "You want a leader, an authority. I believe Christ can give you this authority."

Citing the sex problem faced by adolescents, the evangelist advised his audience that it was "the creative energy within you make you a dynamic Christian. He must be the Lord of that part of your life."

"Many young people are bored with life and today we have a great deal of leisure time. Are you investing this time for displeased purposes? Invest your time for God."

In response to a call for decisions for Christ, 1,603 persons came forward. That was double the high of Wednesday's 709 and brought to 4,602 the total number of decisions in six meetings.

The crusade ends with rallies tonight and Sunday afternoon.

Companies Want Suit Thrown Out

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Six electrical equipment manufacturers have asked U.S. District Court to throw out $12 million damage suits filed against them by the federal government and the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The six companies—Westinghouse Electric, General Electric, Allis-Chalmers, McGraw Edison Electric, Federal Pacific, and Wagner Electric—added that the government's reference to the price-fixing and bid-rigging in the suits was "highly prejudicial, immaterial and incompetent."

U. S. District Judge J. Cullen Ganey said the companies until June 15 to answer the government, but both sides agreed to a month's extension. The suit was filed March 14.

Foster Parents Give Pitt Children Needed Care

By HENRY HOWARD

"We love our teenagers. Of course, we have our ups and downs, but then everybody does..."

"Take me, now. I just love children. My wife here is the mother of 19 children. Sixteen of them are still living..."

"You will receive a license to operate a foster home. Our agency will provide you limited funds to take care of your charges. Treat them with kindness..."

Help them all you can. Love them if you will. But don't get any ideas about adopting them. You must realize that, when the time is right, your children must leave you..."

There are two legal methods by which the youngsters may be placed in foster homes. Parents, whose marriages are breaking or broken or who are unable to support their children, may sign boarding home agreements...

with the gardening, sweeping, dishwashing and other normal teenage chores. The kids enjoy it. During tobacco harvest, they have the opportunity for work that provides spending money...

children have been placed in foster homes. Grimes is "very eager for the program to grow." He says, "We have more money" to carry it on now and would like to see it grow ahead...

Each licensed foster home has its qualifications prescribed in its license. No home is allowed to "have" more than four children at one time, unless all are from the same immediate family...

This vital cog, the Child Welfare Program, reaches out for the unfortunate youngsters. Its personnel is charged with the responsibility of mixing as quickly as possible a soothing formula for a young and often injured human mind and heart...

Operation of Pitt County's foster home program is the responsibility of Welfare Director J. S. (Pete) Grimes. His first and second lieutenants are Mrs. Bob Howell and Ted Gartman...

On the Pruitt farm, located in a clearing well-distant from the highway, four teenagers help with the gardening, sweeping, dishwashing and other normal teenage chores...

Grimes sees a brighter future for the foster home program. He envisions more adequate quarters for the entire welfare department. "Maybe that will enable us to establish a separate corner for our child welfare work..."

"These children need it. . . and they're worth it," he says. Grimes is "very eager for the program to grow." He says, "We have more money" to carry it on now...

Reviews And Reflections

Riding Side-Saddle Is Making Its Comback At Blowing Rock

BLOWING ROCK, N.C. (AP)—The almost lost art of riding a horse side-saddle is coming back into its own. In this pretty mountain village a young lady is teaching the art, probably one of the last teachers of side saddle riding.

also put on one of the biggest horse shows in the nation each year, this year in the first week of August. One morning a tiny youngster stopped by her daily riding lesson with Mary Anne. Out came the big horse. On it was a side saddle.

matter, who teaches how to ride side saddle. It isn't hard when you learn the knack of it, she says, and for milder it's simple, easier way to ride a horse, fast or slow. For the uninitiated, riding side saddle looks as though the rider might fall off at any moment. But it is almost impossible if the rider knows how to use the saddle. The rider rides with both legs over the left side of the horse with a sort of side pommel in between.

Joey's Not Moving In Spite Of Rumors

By JAMES BACON AP Movie-TV Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Word is that the Joey Bishop Show is the hot television entry for the fall season—but deadpan Joey isn't moving his family out here yet. Said Bishop: "I'm renting a house in Beverly Hills for the summer but I still keep the one in Englewood, N.J. My boy, Larry, is out here for the summer, but I'll start him in school back home again in the fall. "We're making 26 films with options for 13 more. If the series goes, I'll come out here for good—not before."

will gladly go back to the clubs. Currently, he is appearing with Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, Sammy Davis Jr. and Peter Lawford in "Soldiers 3." The five of them also work together as a night club act—the Summit Conference. Amazingly, it is Bishop who is the catalyst for the group of performing giants. His jokes, delivered with that serious look, hold the act together. Once in Las Vegas when the then presidential candidate, John F. Kennedy, was in the audience, Bishop quipped: "I know, senator, that if you get elected, Sinatra will ask to be ambassador to Italy and Sammy Davis ambassador to Israel. But me, I'm not asking for anything like that." A pause—and then that serious delivery: "I'd just appreciate it if you could fix it so I wouldn't get drafted again." Kennedy roared.

Six Soviet Geographers On ECC-Conducted Tour

Two East Carolina College professors will guide a party of six Soviet geographers on a tour of Eastern North Carolina today and tomorrow. Dr. James W. Batten, associate professor of education at East Carolina College, will take the party on a visit to a farm specializing in general crops in Wilson County, a peanut farm in Pitt County and the Speight seed farm near Greenville to observe seed selection of corn and tobacco. The party will stay overnight in Greenville and on Sunday will be guided by Dr. Robert E. Cramer, professor of geography at East Carolina College, on a tour of the "wetlands" area north of the Pamlico Sound in Beaufort County, there to observe a reclamation project. From the Raleigh-Durham airport, the visiting geographers will return to Washington, D. C. Sunday night. Members of the party to be conducted by Drs. Batten and Cramer include Professor Innokenti Petrovich Gerasimov, heading the visiting delegation and director of the Institute of Geography, Academy of Sciences of the USSR; Konstantin Aleksievich Salishev, professor of cartography, Moscow State University, principal cartographer of the USSR; Professor Feofan Farnovich Davitola, Professor Viktor Aleksandrovich Krotov, Vladimir Pavlovich Kovalevskii and Ganl Afrighanovich Mavlyanov. Until 1948, there was no money on the remote South Atlantic island of Tristan da Cunha. Potatoes were the medium of exchange. The wartime Tristan Times sold for two potatoes an issue.

Barn Burns

boards. Four persons were taken to hospitals, others were treated on the spot for cuts and shock. The girl in the saw box was unharmed. The illusionist cut her fingers on the saw.

Adlai's Ex-Wife Is Hospitalized

CHICAGO (AP)—Ellen Borden Stevenson, former wife of U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson, was taken to Passavant Hospital Friday with a serious eye condition. Mrs. Stevenson injured the eye Thursday while working out on an exercise bar. The bar, attached to a bathroom door frame, came loose and struck her left eye. It was believed at first that she would lose the sight of her eye, but hospital authorities now say she has a 50-50 chance of retaining sight.

Kiwanis Session Elects President From Wisconsin

I. R. Witthuhn, Milwaukee, Wisconsin businessman has been named President of Kiwanis International. He was elected to the number one Kiwanis post by delegates attending the 46th annual convention of Kiwanis International in Toronto, Ontario. News of Witthuhn's election was received today by officers of the Kiwanis Club of Greenville. As head of Kiwanis International, Witthuhn will be official spokesman for 260,000 Kiwanians in more than 4800 clubs located throughout the United States and Canada. He succeeds J. O. Tally Jr., Fayetteville, North Carolina attorney. Tally has held the Kiwanis presidency since August of 1960. Immediately prior to his election as president of Kiwanis, Witthuhn served one year as the organization's president-elect. He has also served two years as its vice-president, and two-year terms as a member of its International Board of Trustees. He has been a Kiwanian for twenty-five years. For two years, Witthuhn served as chairman of the Kiwanis International Board Committee on Permanent Home Office under whose guidance the design and construction of the new million-dollar Kiwanis International Building in Chicago was accomplished.

Special Week For Captive Nations

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—President Kennedy proclaimed the week beginning today as captive nations week. Kennedy urged the American people to observe the week with appropriate ceremonies and activities and to recommit themselves to the support of the just aspirations of all peoples for national independence and freedom.

ACCURACY!

Newspapers Direct Your Message Right Where It Counts

An advertiser wants to make his point with people who are potential buyers. Newspapers deliver more "ready to buy" prospects than any other medium. Readers are attracted to ads that interest them. This means that readership ratings on ads represent live prospects for the advertiser. These are people who are easy to sell because they already have a product interest. People look for—and want—advertising in the daily newspaper.

DESTROY THAT BAG!

PLASTIC BAGS CAUSED THE DEATHS OF 114 PERSONS IN THIS COUNTRY IN 1960, MOST OF THEM CHILDREN UNDER THE AGE OF 3.

WITH THE AID OF THE POLICE HELICOPTER, A PANEL WAGON, BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN THE SAME ONE USED BY "TRUSTY" HUBBUB, IS SPOTTED IN A LONELY PART OF THE FOREST PRESERVE.

YEAH—IT'S "TRUSTY" HUBBUB, ALL RIGHT.

LIKE HE MIGHT HAVE BEEN TRYING TO SCRAPE SOMETHING OFF.

TRACY, THIS LOOKS TOO GOOD TO SUIT ME. THE DOOR ON THE DRIVER'S SIDE IS OPEN. WATCH IT.

HE'S BEEN CLAWED TO DEATH—LOOK AT THAT FACE—AND HIS THROAT—YOU CAN SEE FANG MARKS.

WITNESSES SAY THE CAT HAD ITS HEAD OUT THE WINDOW—HOLDING THE $100,000 BAG.

HEY—FEET!

THIS WINDOW! PARTIALLY ROLLED UP AND BROKEN.

WELL, IF HE DID, THE BAG'S NOT HERE NOW.

LOOKS AS THOUGH THE TRUCK HAD BEEN DELIBERATELY DRIVEN AGAINST THE BRUSH.

SOMETHING "TRUSTY" HUBBUB DID COST HIM THE BAG—AND HIS LIFE!

BIG BEN BOLT

by JOHN CULLEN MURPHY

THIS IS A ROUGH ESTIMATE, YOU UNDERSTAND—BUT TO PUT THIS PLACE IN 'A'—NUMBER-ONE CONDITION WILL COST IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD OF $12,000. COULD BE MORE.

IT'S ONLY MONEY. WHEN CAN YOU START? THESE KIDS RATE A FINE HOME TO GROW UP IN.

LATER...

...AND SO WHAT HAPPENS NEXT IS YOU KIDS GET WHAT YOU ALWAYS DREAMED ABOUT—COMPLETE WITH BASEBALL DIAMOND, BASKETBALL COURT, AND A HOUSE THAT DOESN'T RATTLE EVERY TIME THE WIND BLOWS.

YOU'RE THE GREATEST, UNCLE KENO.

LEGGO—YOU'RE STRANGLING ME!

A BASEBALL DIAMOND—A REAL DIAMOND—YIPES!

STILL LATER...

KENO—EXCUSE ME FOR ASKING... BUT THE 12 G'S THE REPAIR JOB'S GONNA COST. HOW YOU FIGURE ON LAYING YOUR HANDS ON THAT KINDA DOUGH?

OH—DIDN'T I TELL YOU, SPIDER? I FIGURED YOU WERE GOOD FOR IT.

I GOT TO HAVE A BROTHER WHO'S NOT ONLY ALWAYS BROKE—BUT WHO'S ALSO ALWAYS VERY GENEROUS!

by CHIC YOUNG

I THINK I'LL GET MYSELF A NICE SUN TAN TODAY

YES, DEAR—YOU COULD USE SOME COLOR

YOU'LL NEVER GET TANNED THAT WAY! GO UPSTAIRS AND PUT ON YOUR BATHING SHORTS

IF YOU'RE GOING TO DO ANYTHING, GO IT RIGHT

SUN IS BAD FOR YOUR HAIR—LET ME WRAP THIS TOWEL AROUND YOUR HEAD

TURN AROUND, SO I CAN COVER YOU WITH SUN TAN OIL SO YOU WON'T BURN

NOW, LET ME PUT A BLINDFOLD ON YOU TO KEEP THE BRIGHT SUN OUT OF YOUR EYES

I'LL PUT THE BATTERY RADIO ALONGSIDE YOU FOR ENTERTAINMENT, AND THE ALARM CLOCK SO YOU CAN TIME YOURSELF

BLONDIE'S RIGHT—IT'S A LOT OF WORK, BUT THIS IS THE PROPER WAY TO GET A SUN TAN

QUICK—INSIDE—THERE'S A RAINSTORM COMING

GEE, THAT CAME UP QUICKLY

DAGWOOD—DON'T YOU KNOW ENOUGH TO COME IN OUT OF THE RAIN?

WELL, I WONDERED! I THOUGHT THAT DIDN'T FEEL LIKE SUNSHINE

THE PHANTOM

By JOHN CREASEY A MATTER OF LIFE AND DEATH

CHAPTER 13

All that Superintendent Grice of Scotland Yard asked Griselda Vance was whether she knew where Adam Bell was, and whether she had seen him since morning. She told him, simply, no. She admitted that he had stayed here for several days, and some of his clothes were here. But she said he had been out most of that day. Grice didn't believe that she told all the truth, but there was no way of compelling her to change her story.

There was no way of compelling her to have someone sleep at the house tonight, either, although a doctor who came from nearby strongly recommended it. She was lying in bed, her eyes closed, her body relaxed, suffering from shock which a good night's sleep would help most to cure.

"We can't leave her here on her own," Grice said. There was a kind of armistice between him and Rollison. "It looks as if you could do a good deed for once. Could you ask Lady Gloria to send someone here?"

"A nice chap after all," said Rollison. "I can and I will." He went to the telephone and called his aunt, whom he called by an affectionate 'Old Glory'. She ruled for you, I've been checking pretty closely, and I've come to the conclusion that you didn't know anything about this affair until yesterday."

Rollison sat down as Grice motioned to a chair, and took a cigarette which Grice offered. "I'm confused and confounded; what do you need as desperately as all this? I can't tell you a thing."

"Can't you?" Grice didn't force the question, and his mood didn't change. "You may be able to, later. On the assumption that you didn't know anything about this beforehand, I'll tell you something. We know quite a lot about the girl who died in the process of putting lipstick on."

Rollison didn't make any comment and didn't blink; he just stared with a quickening interest, which must have made itself very plain to Grice. And for the moment Grice looked almost smug.

"In fact, there have been two," he went on, "one in Paris, one in New York."

"This I had hard to believe," Rollison said, firmly. "They would reach the headlines—L."

"One coincided with a printer's strike, the other with the flood disasters," Grice told him, "neither got much press over here. The circumstances were almost identical. A woman was found dead in front of her dressing table in her apartment in Paris. She seemed to have been standing in front of the mirror and have rubbed the lipstick good and hard on her upper lip. She collapsed and died from poisoning by cyanide of potassium."

"What?"

"That's the simple truth," declared Grice. "A similar thing happened in New York."

"The lipstick?" asked Rollison.

"Found, analyzed, normal except for the poison which was in a tiny container which broke on contact with the lips. The cyanide was really a pill with a coating of wax."

"I assume," said Rollison, wiping his forehead, "that they were of Silver Queen manufacture?"

"Yes," Grice replied heavily.

Scholarship For Ayden Student

RALEIGH—A rising junior in the North Carolina State College School of Textiles has been awarded the $500 Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corporation scholarship for the 1961-62 academic year.

He is David Charles Gagnon of Ayden, who is studying textile technology.

Announcement of the scholarship award was made today by Dean Malcolm E. Campbell of the School of Textiles.

The scholarship recipient is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Gagnon of 605 East Third Street, Ayden.

During his two years at State College, Gagnon has maintained a high "B" academic average which, if continued, will entitle him to graduate with high honors.

He is a member of the Tompkins Textile Council and the College Union Photographic Committee.

Finland Has New Prime Minister

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—Matti Miettunen, former governor of Lapland Province, was named premier Friday by President Urho Kekkonen, ending a two-week Cabinet crisis brought on by the resignation of Veino J. Sukselainen.

Ten of the 16 Cabinet ministers are holdovers, and this Cabinet, like its predecessor, is dominated by the minority Agrarian party.

Sukselainen resigned June 29 after conviction in civil court for dereliction of duty in his capacity as head of the Social Security Pension Board.

Long ago in Wales foxglove tea was recommended for weak hearts. It was many years later that scientists discovered that leaves of the foxglove plant contained digitalis, a heart stimulant.
