Soviet Nuclear Explosion May Speed U.S. Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia's explosion of a nuclear test device was expected today to hasten a decision by President Kennedy on resumption of U.S. nuclear weapons testing. Well informed officials now consider it likely Kennedy will make a decision early next week and that it will be to start up U.S. testing again.

Some Gas Prices Still Fall

Gasoline prices on some major brands took another decrease yesterday afternoon as Greenville's gas price war surged to a record low.

Some brands were reported being sold for as low as 20 cents per gallon. A survey conducted by The Daily Reflector this morning revealed that Amoco and Gulf prices came down yesterday afternoon to 21.9 cents per gallon for regular gas.

Sutton again pointed out that 11 cents of the gas prices are for taxes, which means that operators selling gas for 21.9 cents are clearing 10 cents after taxes for other operational expenses.

Many distributors felt that no more gas is being sold than usual, but that the service station operators are taking losses.

Nevertheless, a good many people are taking advantage of the low gasoline prices.

W. L. Allen, Gulf distributor for Greenville, said that decreasing gas prices on Gulf have spread into the Greenville rural areas, into Ayden and the Ayden rural areas.

Other brands which have come down since yesterday morning are Esso and Texaco, which are now selling at about 7.1 cent reductions per gallon.

Most distributors said gas prices would not decline further during the weekend since the district offices have closed.

Radio Liberty Uses Khrushchev

NEW YORK (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev's own words were beamed to the Soviet people Friday in a Radio Liberty broadcast heard about the time the Soviets exploded a nuclear device in central Asia.

"The first government to resume tests will bear a grave responsibility to mankind," the Communist leader had said in 1960.

Investigators Probe Cause Of Airliner's Deadly Fall

CHICAGO (AP) — Federal investigators sifted through a mass of evidence today, seeking the cause of the crash of the Trans World Airlines Constellation that killed 78 persons.

Deepening the horror of the tragedy was the accident of youth among the victims—20 children—and the wiping out of one family of seven and two others of six and five each. It was an all-tourist class flight.

Members of a full scale investigation headed by the Civil Aeronautics Board and the Federal Aviation Agency filtered through widely scattered debris, witness accounts, operations reports and detailed analysis of the crash scene seeking clues to the disaster.

Investigators were faced with a number of mysterious aspects surrounding the giant aircraft's brief flight from Chicago: A seemingly normal takeoff with a 3,000 foot ceiling and visibility at 3 miles.

Twenty-Two Convicted Of Inciting To Riot At Monroe

MONROE, N.C. (AP) — Public demonstrations against segregation apparently are at an end, at least for the time being, in this Southern city wrecked by racial violence and tensions for the past several days.

Twenty-two people, many of them from out of state, were convicted Friday in Monroe Recorder's Court of inciting a riot through integrationist picketing here.

The out-of-state visitors planned to leave Monroe today. Some had said after court Friday they planned immediate departure, but Friday night several still were at the home of Robert F. Williams, militant Negro who is a fugitive from kidnap charges.

Williams and four other people have been indicted in the Sunday night abduction of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stegall of nearby Marshville. The Stegalls said they were seized by an armed mob of about 200 Negroes, taken to Williams' house, tied up and held hostage for about 3 1/2 hours.

Wearily deputies in the hinterland-capital of Brasilia voted 233-55 after an all-night session to set up a parliamentary form of government that would make the leftist vice president a figurehead and leave the top power in a prime minister.

The senate must give the measure a two-thirds majority before it is adopted. Then it is up to Goulart to decide whether to accept or reject the conditions. Congressional leaders report he has already agreed.

Goulart was proclaimed chief of state by 50,000 cheering followers Friday night as his plane arrived from Uruguay at Porto Alegre, capital of Rio Grande do Sul, his home state and political stronghold in the south.

Investigators Probe Cause Of Airliner's Deadly Fall

A routine radio exchange between the pilot and the control tower at Midway with no indication that anything was wrong.

A piece of tail section which plunged to earth some 300 feet from the rest of the wreckage and conflicting reports from witnesses of an explosion before or after the crash.

On its normal course the plane would have been traveling southwesterly but fell to earth heading due north indicating the pilot may have been attempting to return to the airport.

After preliminary investigation at the scene shortly after the crash, N. E. Halaby, FAA administrator, and Melvin Gough, CAB safety director, reported: The finding of the tail section so far from the rest of the wreckage was "very significant." They did not elaborate.

Goulart Moves Nearer To Brazil's Presidency

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Joaquim Goulart conferred with local leaders there, apparently making plans to name a cabinet and try to make peace with military leaders in the north who oppose him.

Backers insisted that Goulart automatically became president upon flying Friday night from Montevideo to a landing on Brazilian soil at Porto Alegre. The governor of that southern state is Leonel Brizola, Goulart's brother-in-law.

Brizola broadcast an appeal to Congress to turn down the amendment, which he reported "comes as a surprise. The governor said the military cut telephone communications between Porto Alegre and Brasilia Friday night and "the constitutional president, Goulart, has no knowledge of such important decisions."

Brizola appealed to Senate President Moura Andrade, Chamber President Sergio Magalhães and senators and deputies to reject the amendment on the ground "your present attitude is not harmonious with the mandate given you by the people."

Nehru Says Peril Of War Increased By Soviet Action

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru told the conference of nonaligned nations today the Soviet decision to resume nuclear testing increased the danger of war.

The Indian leader said he deeply regrets the decision, saying it will permit other countries also to resume testing.

All this, he said, "brings us to the brink of war."

Nehru was the main speaker today at the conference, the biggest gathering of uncommitted nations since Nehru himself began to advance the idea of nonalignment in World War II.

President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana, fresh from a visit to Moscow, had said of Friday's Soviet test explosion: "It is a shock for me and for you too. This shock shows what a big danger humanity is facing."

Nkrumah urged President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev to meet again and discuss their disputes.

While Nehru and Nkrumah both attacked the Soviet tests, their general approach to the world crisis was different.

Nkrumah put emphasis on a fight against colonialism. No settlement of the great problem of war and peace is possible unless colonialism is eliminated, the African leader declared.

Nehru, lecturing the delegates in English, said the present world crisis is such that colonialism is overshadowed. He indicated he considers that Germany and disarmament are much more crucial. He received thunderous applause at the end of his 55-minute speech.

"We must look at things in perspective," Nehru said. "Of course we stand for anti-imperialism and anticommunism and we continue to do so, but the point arises that, at this particular crisis, what will we do?"

He continued: "It is well to remember today that everything we have contended against and still continue to struggle against—imperialism, colonialism, racialism and the rest—are somewhat overshadowed by this crisis."

"The great powers are waiting to see what we do. The danger of war comes nearer and nearer by the recent decision of the Soviet government to start nuclear tests."

"Aside from nuclear fallout, all this brings you much closer to the verge of war."

Nehru said prevention of war is "a dominating problem."

The conference heard messages of greetings from President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev.

A secretary read both messages—first Kennedy's and then Khrushchev's. There was no applause after either.

Kennedy told the 24 national delegations "it is always encouraging when responsible world leaders join together to consider the problems that beset mankind." He expressed hope the deliberations "will bring us nearer the goals" of freedom and peace.

Satellite Package Pulled From Sea

HICKAM AIR FORCE BASE, Hawaii (AP) — Doctors probing outer space for dangers to man today awaited a gold-plated prize package plucked from the Pacific after its return from orbit.

Discoverer XXIX's capsule, recovered north of Hawaii Friday, contains human tissue, a three-day-old embryonic chicken heart, bone, and even an influenza virus with a family tree.

An undisclosed number of instruments—some to measure radioactivity—also were aboard.

The nose cone was to arrive at Pearl Harbor late today aboard the destroyer Epervier with the three Air Force frogmen who parachuted into the water to retrieve it. The men, called "pararescuemen," spent most of the night with the capsule bobbing in a rubber life raft.

The capsule was the seventh to be recovered in the Discoverer series. It was the second time the pararescuemen scored — four others were caught in the air by specially equipped planes and a fifth was picked up by a destroyer. Two of the paratroopers in Friday's success also took part in retrieving Discoverer XXV's nose cone last June 18.

The re-entry package will be flown tonight to Sunnyvale, Calif., for examination by space scientists. The package containing the tissue will be shipped to the School of Aerospace Medicine at Brooks Air Force Base, Texas.

Tests will be conducted to determine what effect, if any, the two-day ride through outer space had on the tissue. An Air Force spokesman said, "no matter which way it goes, we come out ahead. Some animals may not be able to stand it up there. These tissues will give us an indication of which ones can and which ones can't."

The capsule also carried radiation dosimeters which determine effects of cosmic radiation and flight conditions on the specimens.

Greenville's tobacco market has averaged $62.71 for its first nine operating days in selling 13,730,094 pounds of tobacco for $8,609,975.23.

Sales Supervisor W. L. Whedbee reports that there have been five million dollar days so far this season.

For the five selling days this week the market averaged paying out more than a million dollars each day. There was $5,197,077.50 paid to farmers this week for 2,299,026 pounds to average $62.62.

Money paid out actually exceeded a million dollars on three days this week.

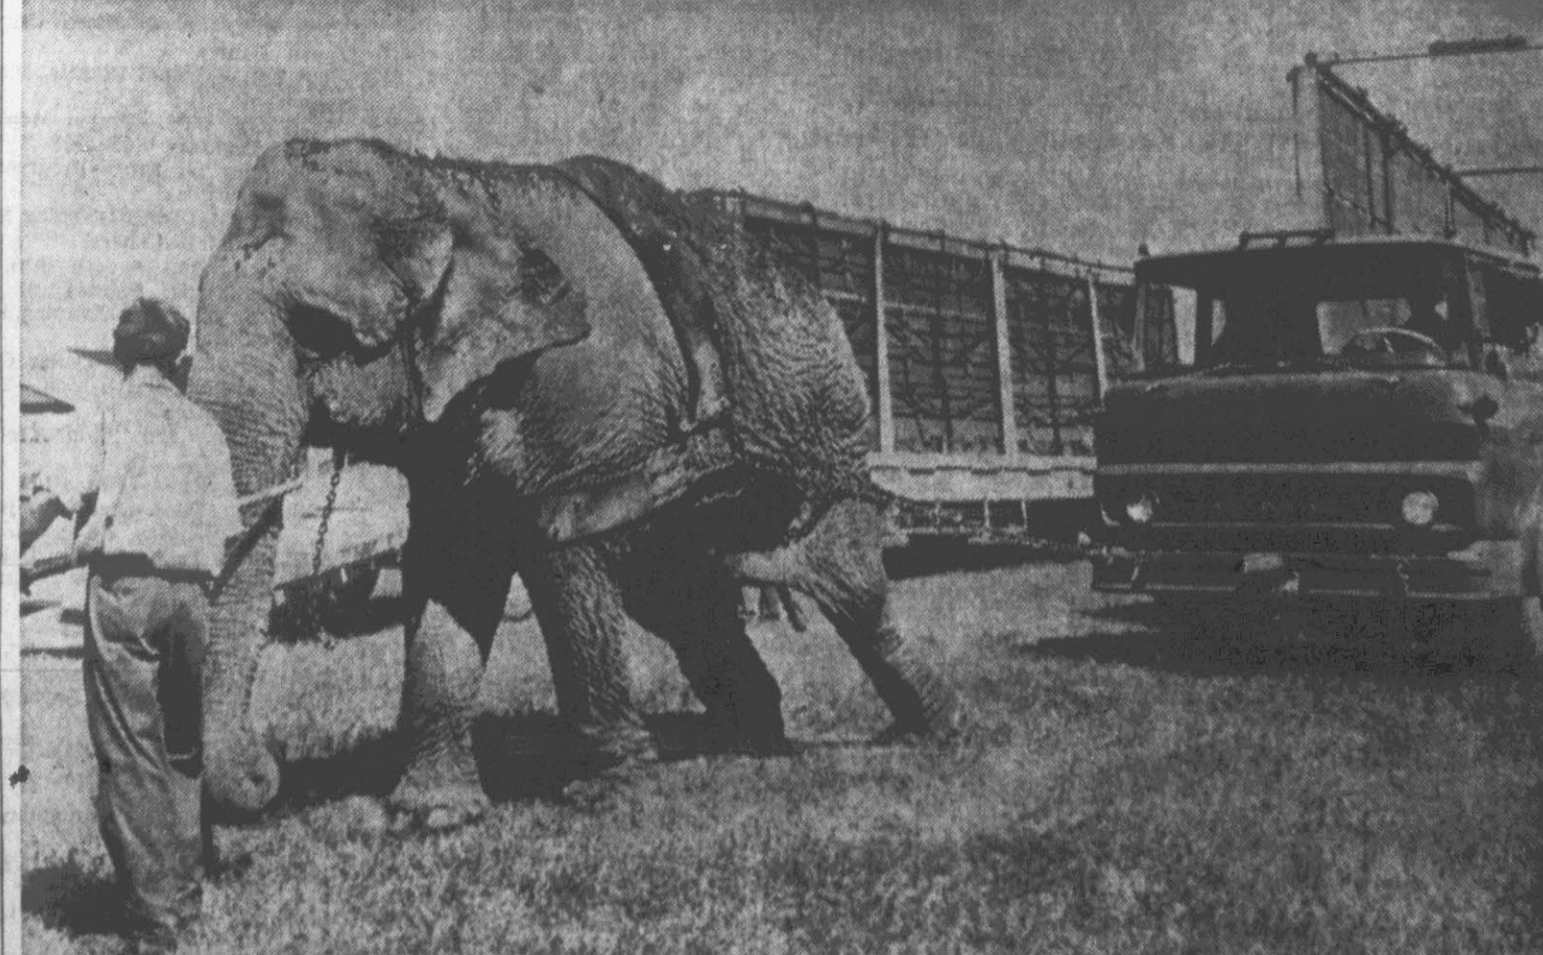

Yesterday the market sold 1,795,894 pounds for $1,106,098.24 with an average of $61.59.

Whedbee said the floors are dominated by tips and leaf grades with a scattering of priming, lugs and nondescripts. Overall quality for the past week was "not quite as good" as the week before, he stated.

"The outstanding feature this week was the row after row of tobacco selling for $71 and up," he continued. "Farmer after farmer averaged $71 and better for their entire offerings. Company purchases were as high as $76 for better grades."

The sales supervisor said Stabilization receipts were very small. Full sales are expected next week with the entire Eastern belt being closed Monday for the Labor Day holiday.

It Isn't All Performing . . . Elephants Have To Work

CIRCUS COMES TO TOWN—Elephants not only perform they work, too. This one proves it as the Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. circus comes to town. There was a performance this afternoon and another scheduled for tonight at 8 o'clock.

Balenciaga, Master Of French Couture

Balenciaga's flamenco ballgown in yellow silk gauze, the skirt a double layer of ruffles, the bodice closely fitted for a highly feminine effect.

PARIS—The real master of the French couture is not a Frenchman at all. He is Spanish born Balenciaga, a quiet austere man who believes totally in the elegance of understatement, who never introduces change for change sake, but prefers to build upon previous collections, evolving the new from the old. Balenciaga is serious about fashion. He expects a woman to wear one of his suits or dresses not for just a season but for years, and she does! Some of the vital freshness is there for the life of the material—the mark of a truly great couturier.

For Autumn '61, Balenciaga produced one of the greatest collections of his career. Continuing his subtly fitted line, his suits and daytime dresses moved closer to the body, never cinch tight, but there was a definite reemphasis of the figure. Colors for day were somber-grey, brown, stone beige, and dark blue predominated. Wonderfully new looking—tunic dresses often sleeveless, nearly always sashed in suede; the subtle suits—jackets arching into a slightly wide shouldered effect; the skirts rounded, easy in line.

By night—Balenciaga magnificence! Heavy satin, thick as cream, poured into a ballgown; the bodice deep brown lace, as fragile as a cobweb. Brocade so incredibly beautiful it should be under glass, in Spanish red and black for a short dinner dress, utterly simple in line, its kerchief collar straight from a Goya portrait. Changing the pace, a narrow, narrow black crepe, bare of shoulder the back panel forming a slight train. Next, the staccato beauty of the Flamenco expressed in a ballgown of yellow silk gauze, the huge skirt in two layers, each ruffled, cut to mid-calf in front, trailing the floor in back. When this one appeared, the audience rose to their feet to applaud!

It is said by some that Balenciaga plans retirement before too many more years; if so, the fashion world can be grateful that he is generous in helping talented designers open their own "salons de couture." Givenchy, now a top couturier in his own right, began as a Balenciaga protege. This year's Balenciaga collection was a new star was born, thanks to Balenciaga. He is Andre Courreges, former assistant to Monsieur "B," specialist in the famous Balenciaga suit. The new season in a wonderful old building in the Avenue Kleber rang with applause for his first tiny collection. Only suits, but what suits! Here was the master hand, with a freshness and vitality to spell overnight success. Courreges chose to give women back their figures. Jackets moved softly into the waistline, the bustline was surely more defined, yet a subtlety of fit kept far from a pinched or plastered to the body effect. Details—wonderful new collar, one of great loops of fringe, framed the face; skirts were brief and rounded; colors—subdued, deep purple ink, black and white checks, greys, brown and beige tweeds; but used with dash. One example of black suede bow on a beige and brown tweed. A saffron yellow belt on rough grey wool.

The conclusion by press and buyers alike—Andre Courreges is a top designer destined to be one of the great ones.

One thing is certain: a woman is going to have to have a good figure to wear this year's clothes. The Paris collections put the seal of approval on what U. S. designers had already stated—the feminine form is back. There'll be no more hiding under a boxy jacket, a blouson dress.

All About Town With Anne Mattox

Greenville deb Margaret Nobles who returned August 15 on the Queen Mary after two months in Europe has been busy with final preparations for the Debutante Ball. Margaret who was on a tour sponsored by the University of North Carolina visited 10 countries. Also on the agenda was a side trip to the Riviera. During the eight days in Berlin, the 20 students on the UNC tour held a discussion with Communist students in East Berlin.

Margaret has managed to squeeze into her busy schedule some time at the Nobles cottage at Atlantic Beach. Squiring the deb at the Ball will be Bill Edison of Jacksonville as her chief marshal. Fred Parker of Goldsboro and Buzzy Pierce of Weidon will be her escorts.

A sophomore at Louisburg College this year, Margaret is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Nobles, Jr., of Brookgreen.

Miss Joyce Fulcher, who will leave Germany by plane September 3, will be met in New York by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fulcher and sister Judy of Robersonville. Joyce has taught music the past year in the American Army School at Mainz, Germany. During part of her vacation this year she studied music in Vienna and traveled extensively.

If you have driven down Evans Street lately I am sure you have noticed the Moye home being torn down. The home built 68 years ago was the residence of the late Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Moye and in more recent years the home of Mrs. Clara Moye Shackell. The property has been purchased by Home Building and Loan Association for the erection of an office building.

After four years residence in Greenville, the Kenneth A. Wilson family will move to Winston-Salem soon. The Wilson's daughter, Barbara, a May graduate of East Carolina College will be a fourth grade teacher in the Forsyth County school system, and Kenneth, Jr., will be a senior in high school. Mrs. Wilson was active in the college orchestra, and for several years a music teacher in the public schools. She and her daughter were entertainers in local circles with their "Moments of Music". The Wilsons have resided at 203 S. Elm Street in Greenville.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dunn and sons Billy and John Wiley were recent visitors at the Skyline Caverns in Virginia.

Students from Fountain who will be going away to College this year are Lil Dilda, Wake Forest College; Edward Tyson Smith, Faye Baker, Sylvia Gay, Clyde Killebrew, East Carolina College; Robert Killebrew, Atlantic Christian College; Larry Dilda, N. C. State College; Edward Bruce Beasley, III and Billy Walker, University of North Carolina.

Attending Western Carolina College for five weeks this summer on scholarship for accelerated courses were Sarah Collier Webb who studied Spanish, Ruth Clark, English and Jimmy Eatman, chemistry.

Greenville girls entering college for the first time this year are Mervie Moon Bilbro, Salem College; Sarah Collier Webb, Wake Forest; Joan Smith, Salem College; Jean Crawford, Agnes-Scott; Donna Day Bissette, Saint Mary's; Judy Tucker, Linda Harris, Peace; Alice Cannon, Ginger Melton, Meredith College; Melinda Coleman, Jean Trahey, Woman's College; Anna Taft, Julie Dodson, Greensboro College; Ruth Clark, Mount Olive Junior College. Entering East Carolina College will be Carol McGowan, Janet Bentley, Dorothy Sullivan, Myra Hathaway, Jo Herring, Judy Page and Margaret Beck.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cox of Winterville returned recently from a tour sponsored by the Cooperative Institute of America. There were 24 persons taking the tour from North and South Carolina. The group traveled by way of New York and Niagara Falls and in Canada they took a tour of the agriculture areas. From there they went to Detroit, Mich., for a tour of the Ford Enterprises, and to Minneapolis, Minn., the scene of the Co-operative Institute Convention which was in session four days. On the return trip they came by way of Ohio, West Virginia and Virginia arriving in Greensboro on the 26th of August. Attending the Convention were representatives from the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico, and free China. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman spoke to the group.

Wedding Invitation

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Lee Jones request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Carolyn Ann, to Mr. Phillip Wesley Smith, on Sunday, September 3, 1961 at 3 p.m. in Sheldermine Pentecostal Holiness Church.

RESUME REGULAR SCHEDULE GRIFTON — The Methodist Church here returns this Sunday to its regular schedule of services with the Morning Worship hour beginning at 11 o'clock.

HOME DECORATING TODAY

By MRS. R. W. DAVENPORT
MAKE SCHOOLDAYS HAPPY DAYS

School Days! School Days! Dear ol' golden rule days. Reading and writing and arithmetic Sung to the tune of a hickory stick.

You may omit the hickory stick if your child has the right study environment.

The color of his room or study area should be a color that is pleasing to him. Colors do affect our thinking and our disposition more than we are conscious of.

He should have the correct lighting. For the desk it should come from the left; for reading it should come from the right shoulder. Use plenty light, because dim or soft lights makes one sleepy.

A quiet place to study is a must, away from television, record players and the family chat-chat. When you choose the desk be sure it has plenty of leg room for comfort. The chair should be comfortable too.

Check your child's study area. A happy child with the needed study equipment usually does not need the hickory stick, but will without fail get the reading and writing and arithmetic. The Home Furniture Store can supply your study area needs.

Former Stokes Resident Weds

ATLANTA, Ga.—Nina Lawrence Perkins of Atlanta, Ga., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Perkins of Stokes, N. C., became the bride of Dr. Demetrios A. Polychrone of Atlanta, the son of Mrs. Letitia de Karavis, Mexico City, Mexico and the late Nick D. Polychrone of Maracaibo, Venezuela, on September 1 at 8:30 p.m. in the Sardis Memorial Methodist Church in Atlanta, Ga. The Rev. Ralph Porterfield officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of ivory silk peau de sole, featuring a ball gown with a bodice encrusted with seed pearls and crystal beading. The bodice was covered by a fitted jacket of imported Chantilly lace, which swept into a court train. The matching veil of French silk illusion was attached to a Chantilly lace pillbox. The bride carried a single long-stem white rose. Her only accessory was diamond drop earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Louise Hollis of Atlanta was maid of honor. Stanley P. Steinberg of Atlanta was best man. Groomsmen were Peter R. Norris and Joseph Amisano of Atlanta; Malcolm G. Little of Marietta, and Donald H. Tsai of Washington, D. C.

The mother of the bride wore a sheath dress of hyacinth blue crepe accented with a lace bodice and matching accessories. Her flowers were white orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony, the parents of the bride entertained the members of the wedding party and out-of-town guests at a reception at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Perkins.

Following a wedding trip to New York and Los Angeles, Calif., the couple will be at home in Atlanta where the bridegroom is an Associate Professor, School of Architecture, Georgia Tech, and is also engaged in private practice as a structural Engineering Consultant. The bride is employed by the Atlanta Journal as the Assistant Food Editor.

The bride is a graduate of Stokes-Pactolus High School,

Stokes, N. C. She attended East Carolina College, Greenville, N. C., where she received a B. S. Degree in Home Economics. Dr. Polychrone attended Pomona College, Claremont, Calif., receiving a B. A. Degree. He received his S. M. and Sc.D. Degrees from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Demetrios A. Polychrone

Debs Feted In Washington, N. C.

WASHINGTON — On Monday night at the Washington Yacht and Country Club, "Joe College Night" was held honoring the debutantes from Greenville, New Bern and Washington.

Those who entertained were Barbara Rouse, Frances Moseley, Sara Collins, Olivia Hammond, Kathy Sallie, Bill Clapp, Charles Taft, Lester Brown, Billy Goodwin, Ed Buchanan, Burke Stancill, George White, Louis May and Billy James.

Upon their arrival, the debs were presented with felt name pennants, which the girls wore throughout the evening. The girls and their guests, numbering approximately 450, enjoyed dancing to the music of the El Morocco Combo from nine 'til one.

The debutantes honored were Mary May, Margaret Nobles, Ginny James, Lee Lang Harrell, Lou Fickien, Madge Stancill, and Mary Harrington, all of Greenville; Nell Bern, and Annetta Jeanette of Washington.

PENNEY'S ANNOUNCES THEIR NEW "CHARGE ACCOUNT SERVICE" . . .

Greenville—
W. L. Deavours, local Penney manager, announced today that his store will offer credit facilities to customers beginning Tuesday, Sept. 5th.

The Penney credit plan will make available to customers the newest type of charge account in both Penney's charge account and the time payment plan.

The regular charge account is a 30-day account and makes it possible for a customer to pay an account in full within 30 days of billing date without a service charge. This plan provides an option for customers who wish to spread their payments over a longer period. Mr. Deavours emphasized that the credit plan will in no way change Penney's low mark-up policy for customers who wish to continue paying cash.

Big Decision Rests In Washington

World opinion has quickly mounted against the Soviet Union on the heels of its announcement that it is resuming tests of nuclear weapons. Representatives of uncommitted nations throughout the world have expressed shock and surprise at the Soviet step, and even some of those who have leaned toward the communist camp have denounced the step as move to push the world closed to war.

The United States now faces the choice of basking in the favorable reaction of world opinion it might enjoy if it does not follow suit in resuming its nuclear tests; or handing the Soviets for forfeit an opportunity through testing to further their nuclear weapons program while we deny ourselves the same advantage.

The decision must be made at the very top echelon of government in the United States. It is one which must be made only after careful evaluation of all the factors involved, and one which ultimately must be decided in the interest of all of the free nations of the world.

It would, of course, be easy for the United States to denounce the Soviet resumption of nuclear weapons and to decline to follow suit. Even in the short period since the Soviet announcement there remains little doubt that the United States by this course would enhance its international prestige. On the other hand, if those charged with the responsibility of developing our store of nuclear weapons feel that tests are vital to this continued development, would we not be foolish to hand the Soviets an advantage by not testing our own developments which have been made in the past three years?

Resumption of nuclear testing by both the Soviet Union and the United States would involve real dangers not only for these two nations, but for the rest of the world as well. It will increase international tension. It will increase the danger of harm being done somewhere in the world through nuclear fallout. It will increase the possibility that a mistake on someone's part might set off World War III inadvertently. If the United States resumes its tests it is likely to forfeit the chance of a substantial increase in favorable international opinion.

There are also dangers in our failure to resume our tests. We might afford the Soviets an opportunity to intimidate neutral and uncommitted nations and coerce them into the communist camp. We might afford the Soviets an unchallenged opportunity to develop new weapons at a more rapid pace than we. We might give the world the impression that we are afraid to compete with the Soviets in a nuclear display that could indicate which nation might have superior weapons.

The United States has long since learned that in struggles with totalitarian nations we must negotiate from a position of strength rather than a position of weakness if war is to be avoided. Thus, it seems to us, top officials will have to make the final decision on our resumption of nuclear testing on the basis of whether in the long run it will strengthen or weaken the position of this nation and the entire free world in its struggle with communism.

Most Time For Policy Matters

By LYNN NISBET

HIGHWAY POLICY — The State Highway Commission at its monthly meeting here Tuesday breezed through approval of construction contracts in the amount of about six million dollars, tentatively allocated $18 million secondary road money to be spent during the next year—and devoted most of its time to discussion of policy. Or rather proposed changes in policy established by the previous commission. The items attracting most attention were ferries and the formula for improving secondary roads.

The Hodges commission had fixed a rule that ferry service would be toll-free in all cases where the ferry represented the only means of getting to and from an area. Where there were other means, and the ferry service would be simply a convenience to users, tolls would be charged at sufficient rate to pay cost of the operation.

The discussion was kicked off by the item on the agenda calling for authorization of ferry service between the mainland and Emerald Isle in Carteret county. Sentiment of a majority of the members seemed to be that the ferry should carry tolls but there was substantial objection. When a motion was made that the ferry be established "under existing policy," two or three members insisted that this commission has not fixed any policy. Apparently they did not like the thought of being bound by rules which their predecessors had adopted. It was explained that the commission can amend or revise the policy at any time, but it should not be placed in the embarrassing position of having no policy. So the ferry was authorized "under existing policy" and the matter of suggesting new policy was referred to an appropriate committee to report at next meeting.

PAVING FORMULA — There was general and animated discussion of the classification and priority formula for improvement of secondary roads. Here again the policy adopted by the previous commission was junked and a different approach made to the problem—some of the details of which perhaps will not be worked out for several weeks.

One point all the commissions for many years have insisted upon is that before roads are added to the State secondary system they must be in acceptable state of repair and with rights of way wide enough to insure safe traffic. The main difference between the new and old priority formula is that the old plan depended almost entirely on need for the road, while the new plan takes into account the ratio of paved and unpaved mileage in the county and tends to equalize these factors.

MILES AND MONEY — Chairman Merrill Evans announced that there will be available for secondary road improvement between now and December 31, 1962, the sum of $34 million. This is more money than we have ever had for this purpose, he said, and we are going to spend it wisely.

Increasing mileage of the secondary road system along with rising costs for construction and maintenance, presents a very serious problem. Every mile of road added means from $2,000 to $6,000 a year increase in maintenance costs.

Highway commissions in the Scott and Umstead regimes sought to hold down additions to 75 miles a year. The Hodges commission exceeded that, and it was announced this week that since January 1, this year, there have been added 225.77 miles. Strangely enough, this total mileage accrued from individual additions of road sections ranging from one-tenth of a mile to about two miles.

SEATING — In the times from Hoey through Umstead when highway commissioners were appointed from divisions, they were seated at the conference table in numerical clockwise order—first division at head of the table on the right side, immediately to left of the chairman, and then around. When Governor Hodges busted the divisional appointments and reduced the membership from 14 to seven, the men usually sat at the same place each month but there was no particular rule of protocol.

The present commission of 18, plus a chairman, also ignores the division lines as to appointments (but members indicated they regarded themselves as identified with "my" division), so the alphabet was called upon to establish protocol. The seating arrangement has the chairman at head of the table (without a seat, because he's gotta stand up to be seen), the first two seats on each side of him assigned to departmental personnel. Beginning at the third seat and all around the table the name plates are arranged in alphabetical order. The name plate idea is an innovation—as is the table set up on the side and earmarked for the newsmen.

GAMBLING? — Chief Engineer Cam Lee noted in reporting bids for highway construction jobs that two firms had identical bids on one job. He said the usual ocure in such cases, which do not happen often, is for the bidders to match coins for the contract. It is recalled that the general statutes provide for candidates for municipal office who received tie votes in the election to "cast lots" for the office.

But—the average citizen, who did not bid on a State construction contract or run for office in a town election, can be arrested and penalized for gambling if caught matching coins for an ice cream cone.

A Little Caution Now Can Make Difference

The four-day Labor Day holiday weekend is only 24-hours old and already around the nation the number of highway accidents, deaths and injuries is beginning to mount. From the standpoint of traffic and highway hazards, the worst is yet to come when the millions of motorists begin their homeward journeys.

In Pitt County and throughout North Carolina the State Highway Patrol is engaged in an all-out effort to prevent accidents during the holiday and is seeking the cooperation of motorists in making the highways safer. They are striving to cut down the toll of 21 deaths and 304 injuries which were recorded in the state during Labor Day holiday period last year.

How successful the law enforcement officers are in their efforts during the current weekend will depend largely upon how cooperative the public is in exercising extreme caution while on the highways. The law enforcement officers—regardless of how great an effort they put forth—cannot eliminate all the hazards of holiday travel. They cannot catch all the speeders, all the drunken drivers, or all the people who ignore the traffic laws and the common sense rules of driving. Indeed, they can apprehend only a small portion of the number of drivers who might ignore traffic regulations.

The drivers, therefore, individually and collectively, must depend upon themselves and their fellow motorists to help protect their own lives on the highways. With more vehicles on the highways during the holiday weekend and with the normal traffic hazards increased, motorists must travel with increased caution and extra care if their chances for a safe journey are not to be diminished. Extra caution on the highway this weekend may mean a few extra minutes on the road, but it also may mean the difference between a safe journey and tragedy.

Russia Playing 'Chicken' Game

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Who's chicken? To find out is the most obvious reason behind Premier Khrushchev's decision to resume nuclear tests and his talk of a superbomb. Three times in a few months he has tried to make the Allies chicken out in their determination to defend Berlin.

Twice he was the one who laid the egg. But this third try—the nuclear tests and the threat of the monster bomb—is the truly savage one. It could work. First, to test their mood, he threatened, as he had before, to get the Allies out of Berlin. But since he had done nothing before but talk, the Allies had nothing to lose by standing pat, until he did more than talk. And they did.

Next, he shocked them by sealing off East Berlin. This gave him a fiercer hold than before, more determined. This seemed to scatter the Allies' wits. It took them a while to let him know they were still solid. But they did nothing else.

Then this week came the announcement on the reviving of nuclear tests and the superbomb. Actually, this was not the first time he had talked of having a monster.

The first time, in 1957, he claimed to have a weapon so huge it would make the one he has in mind now look as destructive as an aspirin tablet. He said that it was too big to test at all. It's doubtful he'll test this one, either.

Rep. Chet Holifield, California Democrat and an extremely well-informed man on nuclear weapons since he's chairman of the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee, said Khrushchev was talking nonsense.

But the much smaller bomb he's talking about developing now—a 100 megatoner, equivalent to 100 million tons of TNT in destructiveness—is perhaps five times bigger than anything (Continued on Page 6)

WORKERS Robert Louis Stevenson, that fine maker of apt phrases, once remarked that if a man loves the labor of any trade apart from the question of success or fame, the gods have indeed called him.

There is a thrill which comes from a task well done which is to be surpassed by few satisfactions in life. To do something worth-while, to make something to start a movement which rolls along to fine completion—this is living indeed. There are some poor, misguided persons who believe that having nothing to do is a prize above rubies. Such persons, if they have carried their philosophy to the limit and have absolutely stopped working are either vagrants or parasites. The former are to be found waiting outside the soup kitchens. The latter are to be found in the dark cocktail rooms of the swank clubs. God must look upon both these useless classes with disdain. Mankind certainly does.

Jesus was a worker—an upstanding man who worked with his hands. He declared that his heavenly Father worked, "and I work," he added. And he made the statement with pride. He was not born in a king's house he was born to a humble carpenter and his wife, and the birth actually took place in a stable.

Get on the side of the workers. They make the world go round. They are God's choice noblemen.

Spike-Heel Controversy

NEW YORK (AP)—How do you stand on the spike-heel issue?

This is developing into quite a controversy. In question are the high, almost needle-point steel heels now being worn by millions of American women ranging from teen-agers to grandmothers.

To the casual male eye a woman wobbling by on these stiltlike shoes is neither more or less ridiculous looking than the same woman was a few years back when she affected "the sack look" and resembled an unleashed blimp.

But critics of spike heels say they aren't funny. They say the are a private danger and a public menace.

The ladies trip and fall on their proud cold faces, and get up and file damage suits against anyone in sight.

Their heels get caught in escalators, subway gratings, rubber welcome mats, manhole covers, and sidewalk cracks. Their heels rip expensive rugs to tatters, punch holes in airplanes, and scar and dent the strongest flooring.

As a recent magazine article pointed out, a woman poised on a pair of these ambulant stilts exerts a far greater weight per square inch than does an elephant.

But despite the hue and cry being raised against this style of feminine footwear, I rather favor it—and I'll tell you why. The other day a fat lady shopper loaded with bundles stood in the street, perspiring in the 90-plus degree heat as she waited for the traffic light to change.

It finally did change, but still she stayed motionless. She tugged and tugged, but couldn't move.

Both her spike heels had become caught in the hot asphalt, and she was slowly sinking into the street. Looking around helplessly, she espied me.

"Don't just stand there gawking," she said authoritatively. "Do something."

Well, as a crowd gathered, I bent manfully to the task. In 15 minutes, with the aid of three passing Boy Scouts, I finally managed to set her free. The crowd broke into applause the fat lady mumbled "Thanks," and stomped off—on her toes.

Well, I guess that applause—and being publicly thanked by a woman—kind of went to my head.

In my lunch hours now I hang around subway gratings, manhole covers and office escalators, and so far have managed to rescue four more damsels, caught by the heel and struggling. Now I bow when the applause breaks out.

That's why I am in favor of ladies' spike heels. When the inevitable emergency arises, it enables a fellow to become a knight errant and prove that male gallantry isn't as dead as vaudeville.

Other Editors Saying Writing On The Wall

(The Raleigh Times) Where there is no vision, the people perish, and where there is violence and not law, the rights of all the people will just as surely perish.

In today's papers, there is this story from the Associated Press: "Monroe (AP)—A stern Superior Court judge warned an interracial group here Tuesday that in the light of the tense racial situation in this small town that further picketing would be at their own risk."

This means only one thing: Because some people in Monroe turned to violence instead of to the law to secure what they felt were their rights, now all people in Monroe must be deprived of a basic right, the right of peaceful and orderly picketing without having to do so at their own risk. The Associated Press said the judge was talking to an interracial group in that warning but he could have been talking to a Monroe group, or a Raleigh group, or to any group which wanted to do orderly picketing in Monroe.

There wasn't much else the judge could say, though he must have hated to say it, for a judge above all people knows that appeals to the law could have prevented all the trouble Monroe now has. This judge is in Monroe and he knows how appeals to violence, and actual violence, on both sides of the racial fence have brought things to the point where the law's protection just isn't enough in cases of picketing.

It doesn't matter now from which direction the violence and the appeals to violence came, whether they came from white people or from Negroes. The fact is that the appeals came and the violence followed, and that now white men and black men have been charged with crimes which occurred during this violence.

Now the State and the Town of Monroe must work out of this unholy mess as best they can. The working will be long and bitter and the mess never will be completely cleaned up, for such messes never can be washed out by any action.

The only good which can ever come out of this mess now is a plain reading by all the people of North Carolina of what has been written so legibly on the wall of the house in which all the people of the State must live. That message is simply the fact that the law is the only way any people can ever live and the only way in which any people can ever resolve their differences.

Any people who push through the barrier of the law to demand rights the law say they shall have destroy the very law which attempts to give them those rights. Any people who build an artificial barrier to deprive other people of the rights the law says they shall have, just as surely destroy the law which gives them their own rights.

The leaders of North Carolina have said time and time again during these troubled years of the past decade that North Carolina must live under the law, and that North Carolina will live under the law.

What has happened in Monroe has simply proved the wisdom and the value of that policy.

Look-Aheads In Business World

By ELMER ROESSNER

Here are more look-aheads in business, based on analysis of developing trends, with a few bits of advance information: Japanese TV invasion: Japan's success in capturing a market in the United States is tempting it to bid for a chunk of the television market. One Japanese set now sold in the United States is testing American acceptance.

Sardine shortage: Franciers of Maine sardines face shortages ahead. The pack this year so far has been less than a third of the last nine-year average. Prices are firming, but the abundance of California and foreign sardines and pickards will prevent run-away rises.

New cigarettes: Lorillard is now testing "York" cigarettes in two markets areas and "Beach-Nut" cigarettes in two other markets. They have no filter and are slightly longer than the usual king-size smokes. The objective is to develop a brand to compete with American Tobacco's big-selling Pall Mall.

HIGHER COMMODITIES Commodity prices going up: Most commodity prices have held fairly steady since the beginning of the latest Berlin crisis, but there will be an upward trend in the fall. This will be most notable in metals and other materials required in the stepped-up defense program.

Higher shipping rates: It will soon cost more to send goods by ship across the Pacific. The Japan-Atlantic and Gulf Freight Conference, meeting in Tokyo, agreed to a 10 per cent rise in rates November 1, and others shippers will largely follow.

Higher debt limit: The rise in government spending, with more to come, makes it certain that Congress will be asked again to lift the debt ceiling, now $29 billion. The only alternative is higher taxes. BLOW POISED FOR MANIPULATORS Crackdown on shady brokers:

The Securities and Exchange Commission is planning to be tougher on brokers who violate securities laws. So far, revocation of licenses has been the usual penalty. Now jail sentences may be demanded. One reason: of the many amateurs now in the market, some are certain to lose and the SEC wants it clear that the government is not to blame.

More profit-sharing demands: The agreement of American Motors to share profits with its workers will make profit-sharing a demand in more and more union negotiations. Furthermore, the demand will have the implicit support of the Administration. It fits with President Kennedy's and Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg's ideas that there should be closer working relations between management and labor. "Partnership" is the word often used in Washington and profit-sharing is indeed a limited partnership.

Era Of Campus Revolt

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Copyright 1961, King Features Syndicate, Inc. The year 1961 will go down in American campus history as the conservative revolt. During the 1930's the Communists captured various student's organizations over which they held pretty tight control until 1939 when the Hitler-Stalin Alliance shamed many who had joined Communist front groups not because they accepted Marxist doctrine but because they hated Hitler and the Nazi.

The war came and college organizations were captured by so-called Liberals, that is by those who could see both sides of a question and favored one side mildly but not obstinately. The Liberals have been, by the very nature of their ideas, opportunistic, reaching conclusions without regard to basic philosophy.

The 1961 United States National Students Convention, meeting at Madison, Wisconsin, found itself confronted by a Committee for a Responsible National Student Organization, a conservative group, closely affiliated with the Young Americans for Freedom, led by Howard Phillips, recently president of the Harvard Student Council. Leftists and Liberals have encountered capable organization and articulate conservative thought. The National Student Association claims to represent 1,300,000 American students. The reason for attempting to gain control of the National Student Association is explained as follows:

"We are attempting to rehabilitate the present structure of N.S.A., rather than at first make a fresh start, because N.S.A. exists as the semi-official, self-avowed, and unchallenged national union of students for the United States of America. It claims to speak for the American student at important international student meetings; it receives the informal cooperation of the United States government; it has considerable strength and widespread campus contacts. In terms of influence it is one of the most significant, yet little known organizations in this country."

The challenging question is whether these students are really represented by their organization or has it come under the control of Leftists who speak in their name. Testifying before a congressional committee, Howard Phillips, speaking for the Young Americans for Freedom, said:

"It is our conviction that the U.S. in the 1960's is at a crossroads between freedom and federal domination. On the one hand, a commitment of individual responsibility, a belief in certain absolute moral principles and the relatively free choice of one's own destiny. On the other hand, federal dominance, characterized by weakness, apathy, false security, excessive dependence and little respect for the individuality of every citizen. These young people want the advantages of American life, the intellectual and spiritual heritage that has come down through the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. They decline to believe that Marxism can drive us into another way of life. While they are realistic in their appraisal of current events, they are unlike the conservative businessman who is throwing up the sponge because he is scared by the successes of Soviet Russia. These young people say:

"In fact, we believe that free enterprise is the best way to get most things done. It is what has made this country great, and it is what has given us the best system of health care this nation or any other nation ever known."

It is these young people who must fight this war in which we are now engaged. Their lives are already being discarded by the anticipations of war. Young men and young women talk to each other on the telephone by the hour about whether he should enlist or take his chances on being drafted. Their parents say that the war will never come, that no one would be so stupid as to hurl a hydrogen bomb or to shoot a missile. The retaliation would be too awful.

Red Devils Capture 27-6 Win From Greene Central

By GEORGE BRYANT
Reflector Sports Writer

FARMVILLE — The Farmville Red Devils walked away with a 27-6 victory over the Greene County Central eleven last night in the first game of the season for both clubs here.

The Farmville squad was hot during the first half of the game. Richard Heall fumbled the ball for Greene Central on the third play of the game and Danny Dilda recovered for the Red Devils.

The Devils made it to the opponents' three yard line where Dilda went up the middle for the touchdown. The extra point try failed when Farmville was penalized five yards and the second try was an incomplete pass, with a flag for illegal procedure.

Second Touchdown
The Farmville eleven wasted no time in crossing the goal line for the second time. Thomas Mazingo attempted a punt on Greene Central's fourth down but it was blocked by Turner. Robin Rouse carried the ball for the Red Devils for the second touchdown. This time Dilda ran the extra point which was good.

Farmville kicked off and Heall returned the ball for the opponents. Greene Central was then plagued by a penalty and a try through the middle by Heath for no gain. Mazingo punted for the visitors for 20 yards at the end of the first quarter.

With a first and 10 on the visitors' 48 yard line, Dilda went up the middle for eight yards. On the next play Chester Outland attempted a pass to Farmville's Dan Oglesby, but the try was incomplete. With it third and four to go for a first down, Oglesby handed off to Tommy Joyner who gained 22 yards for a first down. The Red Devils then played around for several plays until Oglesby completed a pass to Dilda on the fourth down who ran 21 yards for the TD. Dilda ran the extra point.

Hard Fight
Both teams fought hard during the remainder of the second quarter, but to no avail. The visitors gained one first down and the Red Devils managed two first downs.

At the beginning of the second half Farmville came out fighting after Rex Hodges returned the Greene Central kick for a 22-yard gain. Oglesby carried for another first down. John King then took over for a five yard gain. Hodges carried for a first down on the Greene Central 20 yard line. Oglesby ran the 20 yards for the TD, also gaining the extra point. Greene Central then rallied and gained three first downs in a row. A 4-yard penalty and several incomplete passes returned the ball to Farmville. The Red Devils immediately lost the ball when Heath intercepted a pass giving Greene Central a first down with 25 to go.

Greene Central Rallies
The visitors toyed around for three downs and then Lane kicked a 39 yarder. It was Farmville's ball on their own one yard line. The Devils fumbled and lost the ball on a handoff and it was the visitors' with fourth and three. Farmville regained the ball on a fourth down pass attempt in the end zone by Central Central. Both squads then played around deep in Farmville's territory. The visitors regained the ball on the Farmville 39. A pass by Ward gained 29 yards for the visitors, gaining a first and 10 for a touchdown. On the third down the visitors completed a pass to Ward in the end zone for their first and only score of the game. They failed on the extra point try with only a minute to go in the ball game.

Ayden Takes 8-0 Win Off Havelock

AYDEN—Havelock fell victims to an unsteady Tornado eleven last night with William Edwards doing the honors for the home team in the first quarter for a final score of 8-0.

The visitors won the toss at the beginning of the contest and elected to receive. Ayden managed to stop the Havelock attack on its first series of downs with little gain.

With Ayden in possession of the ball they started a long drive which took them to the Havelock 10-yard line before they were halted. The visitors had the ball again, but to no avail. They were unable to break through the Tornado defense which was tight for the first contest of the new grid season.

The next time the home team came into possession of the pigskin, they went all the way for the first and only touchdown of the night. Edwards carried the ball across the Havelock goal line for the TD, but the extra point attempt failed for the Tornadoes.

The remainder of the game was more or less a battle back and forth until the last quarter when Ayden had pushed Havelock down to their own 10 yard line. The visitors attempted to punt on a fourth down from the 10 yard line. Veteran center Buddy Edwards snapped the ball, but it was high and went over Jimmy Bischoff's head into the end zone for a safety and two points for Ayden.

Outstanding players for the Tornadoes on offense were Edwards and halfback Rudolph Cannon. Cannon also starred on defense along with Bateman.

Both squads were hindered considerably by penalties. Coach Stuart Tripp said his Tornadoes were penalized almost 200 yards. He attributed this to the fact that he boys were ragged in their timing and blocking. Havelock was penalized about 50 or 60 yards during the contest.

Ayden managed 10 first downs while the visitors received five. On the ground Ayden gained 160 yards and Havelock managed 90. Passing attempts for the Tornadoes were 10, 10, 10, 10, 10, 10, 10, 10, 10, 10.

does gained 50 yards, but Havelock was weakened by the strong Ayden defense and traveled only 15 yards in the air.

The home team kicked the ball six times for an average of 35 yards. Havelock averaged only 25 yards with the same number of tries.

One Of Old Crew Would Be A Help

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

As Fresno Thompson, one of their vice-presidents, remarked in a mood of nostalgia the other day, what wouldn't the Dodgers give to have just one of their old crew — Roy Campanella, Jackie Robinson, Carl Furillo, Pee Wee Reese, Duke Snider or Gil Hodges — back in their prime again.

They were the stars of those bygone days in Brooklyn when the Dodgers won six National League pennants in 11 years before the move to Los Angeles. Just one of them might make things a lot easier for the present-day Dodgers.

Not that the Dodgers, with Snider now just a part-time thumper and Hodges seldom more than a defensive replacement, are doing so poorly at the moment.

Maurie Wills hasn't made anybody forget Pee Wee's all-around performance at shortstop, and John Roseboro is no Campy behind the plate, but between them they put the second place Dodgers within 2½ games of idle Cincinnati Friday night, each batting in a pair of runs for a 4-3 victory at Milwaukee.

Chuck McKinley Raps Tennis Ass'n Actions

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—ser of Tucson, Ariz., Friday as Chuck McKinley, America's top hope in the National Tennis Championships today blasted the United States Lawn Tennis Association for the way they:

1. Handled the Dennis Ralston case.
2. Arranged the preliminary Davis Cup rounds.
3. McKinley, second seeded behind Australia's Rod Laver, marched into the second round with a 7-5, 6-2, 6-2 victory over George Stoeser.

There is only one word to describe the action of the USLTA against Ralston—it's ridiculous," said McKinley. The USLTA suspended Ralston, who along with McKinley and Tut Bartzan made up the U.S. Davis Cup team, for unprofessional conduct in the North American Zone final against Mexico two weeks ago.

"I'm the voice of experience on these things," said McKinley. (He is on probation for arousing the ire of the USLTA in Australia last year.)

"And I know how Dennis feels. He gave everything he had and they suspend him.

N.C. State Has Rescheduled Its Homecoming Day

RALEIGH (AP) — To avoid a conflict with the traditional Duke-North Carolina football game, North Carolina State has rescheduled its homecoming game with South Carolina for the morning of Nov. 18.

Athletic Director Roy Clogston said Friday the change was made "so that fans attending the game could also go to the Duke-North Carolina game or watch it on television."

The original Atlantic Coast Conference schedule had called for both games to begin at 1:30 p.m. The State-South Carolina contest instead will start at 9:15 a.m.

The Wolfpack has facilities to play at night, but Clogston said it was decided to play in the morning instead because of cold weather that late in the season. He said it would be the first time in his memory that State played in the morning.

Plenty Of Heroes, But Big One Last Night: Bud Daley

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Heroes? The New York Yankees, still the team that wins the big ones, had heroes by the handful in that 1-0 victory over Detroit Friday night that upped their American League lead over the second-place Tigers to 2½ games. But the big guy in the victory was almost overlooked.

Sure, it was Bill Skowron who drove in the run when he broke through against Don Mossi with three consecutive two-out singles in the ninth.

It was Luis Arroyo, who won his 10th in a row with a perfect inning of relief.

And it was Yogi Berra, the catcher turned outfielder, who broke a Tiger rally with a perfect peg.

But the big guy was Bud Daley, the long-sought left-hander who looked to be a flop after the Yankees finally got him from Kansas City.

It was Daley, a loser in six of his last seven decisions, who twice pitched through the heart of the Tiger attack and saved the shut-out after trudging in from the bullpen when Yankee ace Whitey Ford had to call it quits because of a strained hip muscle.

It was Daley who got leadoff man Jake Wood to hit into a force out with a runner on first when he relieved Ford in the fifth inning.

It was Daley who retired Rocky Colavito on a grounder and got Steve Boros on a force out with a runner on second in the sixth. It was Daley who retired Norm Cash on a foul pop with a runner on third in the eighth.

"It was Daley," said Yankee Manager Ralph Houk afterward, "who did it for us."

While the Yankees and Tigers, now all square for the season (6-6), drew the year's top single-game crowd, 65,566 at New York, Cleveland knocked off Baltimore 5-4, the Chicago White Sox split a pair at Washington, winning 3-2, then losing 5-1; Minnesota tapped Boston 5-1, and Los Angeles beat Kansas City 6-4.

Skowron's winning hit for the Yankees followed singles by Elston Howard and Berra. Mickey Mantle, who twice took called third strikes, now is exactly even with Babe Ruth's record-60 home run pace of 1127 with 28. Roger Maris, with 51, is only five games ahead of Ruth.

Cleveland ruined Lum Harris' debut as interim Orioles manager as Vic Power drove in three runs with a pair of singles and scored the winning run on a balk by Chuck Estrada (11-8). Barry Laiman (11-4) was the winner.

Minnie Minoso's sixth-inning single drove in the clincher as the White Sox and Cal McLish (10-12) beat Ed Hobaugh (6-8) and handed the Senators their 14th consecutive defeat in the opener. Washington then ended the AL's longest losing string of the season behind the sixth-hit pitching of Joe McClain (8-14). Billy Pierce (7-9) was the loser.

A two-run triple by Zoilo Verasalles in the second inning off Don Schwall (13-4) wrapped it up for the Twins and Pete Ramos (10-16). Six consecutive hits and a sacrifice fly by starting pitcher Ed Grba, gave the Angels five runs in the fourth inning against the A's and beat Norm Bass (7-10). Tom Morgan (7-2) was the winner in relief.

Meet Today For Seniors' Crown

LINVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Maurice Smith of Charlotte and Jim Fearing of Statesville met over the 18-hole route today for the senior championship of the Southern Golf Association.

Each was a 3 and 2 winner in semifinal play yesterday.

Smith, who returned recently from a European trip with a team of U.S. seniors, put out Les Taylor of Rutherfordford. Fearing won from W. E. Norvell Jr. of Chattanooga.

Smith shot nine successive pars to lead Taylor 4 up at the turn and finished the match still even with par for the 6,400-yard Linville Golf Club course.

Fearing led Norvell by three holes at the turn and held that margin at the finish, shooting one over for the distance.

Three Accidents In City Friday

An estimated $200 damage resulted to each of two vehicles involved in a collision on N.C. 11 near the Airport Road yesterday, Greenville police said today.

Investigators identified the drivers of the vehicles as Andrew Dupree, 35-year-old Negro of 218 East First St., and Henry Elbert Phillips, 25-year-old Negro of 1218 Battle St.

Phillips was charged with following too closely in the collision in which no injuries were listed. Time of the wreck was set at 11:22 p.m.

Edgar Lee Cox, 31, of 2103 North Village Drive, was charged with failure to see his intended movement could be made in safety following a 6:09 p.m. mishap at the 10th and Clark St. intersection.

Driver of the second vehicle involved was identified as David Junior Daniels, 31-year-old Negro of Route 1, Grimesland.

Damage to the Daniels auto was estimated to be about $250 while damage to the Cox vehicle was set at $3.

Failure to see his intended movement could be made in safety was charged against Eddie Mack Cherry, 48-year-old Negro, of 616 Ford St., following a collision at 10:58 a.m. yesterday.

Officers said the Cherry vehicle collided with a car driven by William Carter Smith, 33, of 1902 East Eighth St., on Dickinson Ave.

Damage to the Smith vehicle was placed at $80 while an estimated $10 damage was done to the Cherry car in the mishap.

Orientation Of ECC Frosh Now Under Way

East Carolina College freshmen and transfer students, estimated at more than 2,000 in number, began the business of getting acquainted with the ways of the campus Friday afternoon, Sept. 1, as the Thirty-second Annual Orientation Program opened.

An assembly in the Wright auditorium at one o'clock brought the new students together for the first time. Dean Robert L. Holt welcomed them to the college.

New students began arriving at East Carolina Thursday afternoon, when dormitories for freshman students were opened. A schedule of varied events now in progress and continuing through Wednesday, Sept. 6, has been planned to introduce the students to the academic and the extra curricula programs of the college and to help them with their initial problems.

Dr. Holt, greeting East Carolina's largest freshman class Friday afternoon at the beginning of their college careers, explained orientation as a "get-acquainted" program during which freshmen learn about the college and the college learns about them. He emphasized the academic and social opportunities offered the student on the campus here and encouraged his audience to enjoy the full benefits of college life.

At departmental conferences after the assembly freshmen in each department of instruction met the heads of their departments and their faculty advisors.

Other events of the day included introduction to religious activities on the campus at a meeting at 7 p.m. conducted by Director of Religious Activities D. D. Gross. Open house at the Y Hut, with members of the YWCA and the YMCA as hosts and hostesses, and meetings of denominational groups at the student centers of Greenville churches followed.

With Edward Nicholson of the psychology department in charge, an extensive program of testing began Saturday morning and continued into the afternoon.

Sunday's program will include a reception for freshmen and their parents at the home of East Carolina President and Mrs. Leo W. Jenkins and dinners and receptions given by Greenville churches for new students.

Upperclassmen will begin arriving on the campus Tuesday, Sept. 5. Registration, at which students will prepare their schedules of courses for the fall quarter, will take place Tuesday for freshmen and Wednesday for sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Classes will begin Thursday, Sept. 7.

East Carolina's total registration for the fall quarter is estimated at more than 5,000 men and women, the largest enrollment in the history of the college. Approximately 1,200 of these students, according to college Housing Director Melvin Buck, have secured rooms in Greenville homes since dormitory accommodations are inadequate to take care of this fall's large increase in enrollment.

Carolina Tel. & Tel Adds New Manager

L. R. Langley became commercial manager for Carolina Telephone and Telegraph's Greenville and Farmville areas yesterday, according to a company announcement.

He will be responsible for operation of the company's business.

Langley is a graduate of Nashville High School and Atlantic Christian College with an AB degree in business administration.

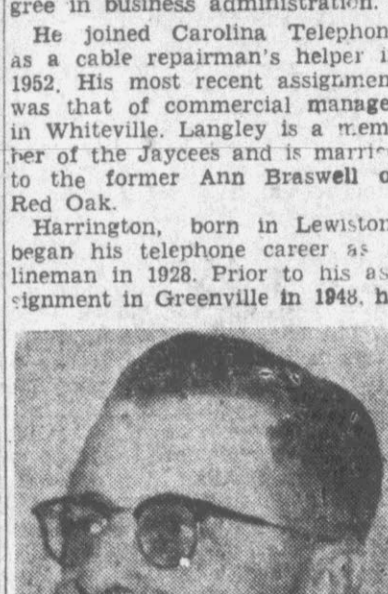

He joined Carolina Telephone as a cable repairman's helper in 1952. His most recent assignment was that of commercial manager in Whiteville. Langley is a member of the Jaycees and is married to the former Ann Braswell of Red Oak.

Harrington, born in Lewiston, began his telephone career as a lineman in 1928. Prior to his assignment in Greenville in 1948, he served in Scotland Neck, Lawrenceville, Va., Tarboro and Louisburg.

He is married to the former Wilma Lee Myers of Aulander and is a member of the Greenville Exchange Club and the Moose Lodge.

Rural Fire Dept. In Pactolus Near

The Directors of the Pactolus Rural Fire Department announced this week they hope to complete the establishment of a fire department in the area during the month of September.

At a recent meeting of the directors, treasurer W. R. Wynne reported that cash on hand and pledges made, put the department "over 75 per cent on the way to its quota."

Noel Lee Jr., chairman of the department, said the "constitution and by-laws committee are completing final plans," and noted the "department hopes to have a demonstration truck to be shown to the directors and public soon."

Lee urged all persons or land owners wishing to become members of the department to send their assessments in immediately or contact one of the directors.

The list of directors includes: Lee, Wynne, Nathan Smith, Jessie Mooring, J. P. Davenport Jr., Roy Baker, Roy Tripp, Harry Ferguson, Fred Mizell, Johnny Ebron, C. J. Satterthwaite and Bruce Hart.

Pupils Boycott Old Schoolhouse

WARRENTON, N.C. (AP)—About 40 Negro youngsters supported by their parents are boycotting a two-room frame schoolhouse near here in a campaign for better school facilities.

Only seven pupils were attending Snow Hill Elementary School at the end of its first week of classes Friday.

The six - grade, two - teacher building has outdoor toilets, polluted styons and an outdoor water pump. It is one of 11 small frame buildings used in instructing Warren County Negro students.

Warren County School Supt. J. R. Peeler admitted the conditions were deplorable. "They are all they (the boycotters); say they are," he commented.

But, Peeler continued, the county has been taking steps to consolidate the small schools "in line with the county's plan as you go school building policy."

He said, "We have accumulated $50,000 to apply toward building a school in the southern part of the county which will consolidate all the 11 little schools."

Peeler said this would take at least two years under the pay-as-you-go plan.

Alabama Is Left Without Funds

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The Alabama Legislature adjourned in a wild outburst of filibustering and fistfights early today, and left the state government without operating funds for the coming year.

The filibuster which had raged unchecked, day and night, for 96 hours, killed a congressional redistricting bill and blocked final passage of the huge general appropriation measure.

Never before had the Legislature gone home without appropriating funds for non-school functions of the government, and no one could say how the state will be able to operate after the new fiscal year starts Oct. 1.

The state constitution prohibits the spending of public funds without a legislative appropriation.

Gov. John Patterson promised to find some way to "see that funds are provided and see that the state continues to operate."

Patterson was expected first to ask the State Supreme Court to rule whether the judicial and executive branches can supervise the financial affairs of the state, or whether this year's appropriation can carry over. He could call a special session of the Legislature if necessary.

After adjournment, the governor's executive secretary, Joe Patterson, and a House member, Rep. Charles Reynolds of Chambers County, clashed in a fist fight on the Senate floor.

They were separated by State Public Safety Director Floyd Mann, standing nearby, and the crowd which surged around them was dispersed by uniformed highway patrolmen assigned to keep order among the spectators outside the Senate chamber.

But it's not so much the size of the bomb which might frighten American allies as the ruthless image of himself Khrushchev is creating.

It's natural for them to assume—when they think of standing by the United States in refusing to let the Russians take over Berlin—that if Khrushchev is willing to go this far, he may go to lengths undreamed of now, including war.

This is the biggest power play Khrushchev has tried since he succeeded Stalin.

Explorer Cabinet Meets Here; Chairman Named

James Watson of Wilson named chairman at the Explorer Cabinet meeting held at the Greenville Moose Lodge last night.

Watson is an explorer from Post Eight sponsored by the First Baptist Church in Wilson.

Thirty-one explorers and 11 adult advisors attended last night's meeting.

Greg Echelberger of Post 501 sponsored by the Lions Club of Havelock, was elected vice-chairman. Steve Flanagan, also of Post 501, was named secretary for the coming year.

Activities at this Explorer Cabinet meeting included a coed "Splash" party from 6:00-7:00 p.m., followed by a barbecue dinner and business meeting, that concluded with an informal dance in the Moose Lodge.

The four major activities selected for the coming year are:

1. The Incredible Floatilla, that will take place at the close of school in 1962, and will include a four-day adventure trip down the Tar River on rafts, constructed by each Post. During various phases of this trip, there will be picnics, beach parties and aquatic contests.
2. This fall, there will be a Delegate Conference at Duke University, that will include a football game and dance.
3. In January, it is hoped that plans can be made for "Operation Baldhead," which will include a "tree-day" camping trip on Baldhead Island for exploration, camping and survival. The plans will include two experts on survival from the Camp Lejeune Marine Base plus a trip to the island by the Coast Guard.
4. A trip was tentatively planned to the Camp Lejeune Marine Base where Explorer Ship 501 will host. This trip will include tours of the base, demonstrations and a helicopter flight. No date has been set at this time.

Explorer Units attending this affair were: Explorer Ship 1, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Greenville; Post 8, sponsored by the First Baptist Church of Wilson; Post 60, sponsored by the Stantonburg Kiwanis Club, Stantonburg; Post 61, sponsored by the Holy Spring Free Will Baptist Church of Newport; Post 200, sponsored by the Lions Club, Grifton; Post 205, sponsored by the Memorial Baptist Church of Greenville; Post 256, sponsored by the Penslow Lions Club, Holy Ridge; Post 281, sponsored by the West Mt. ## Gov't Offices To Close Monday

While most of the city, county, state and federal offices will be closed in observance of the Labor Day holiday here, the majority of Greenville retail merchants will remain open, it was learned today.

City Manager Louis Schepers said all city officers would be closed on Monday.

The Pitt County offices will close, and county commissioners will hold their regular meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 5, delaying the session one day in observance of the legal holiday. The Pitt County Board of Education agreed to delay their monthly meeting one week due to Labor Day, and will convene Monday, Sept. 11.

The Driver's license examiner's office will also close, reopening Tuesday at 8:30 a.m. Effective Friday they returned to regular office hours of 8:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m.

The Post Office will close Monday and there will be no deliveries on rural or city routes. All service windows at the Post Office will be closed. Parcel post throughout the city will be delivered as usual and there will be a collection from all mail boxes in the city beginning at 5 p.m.

A stamp vending machine is located in the Post Office lobby for those requiring postage while windows are closed. Postmaster J. Knott Proctor announced.

Most of the local grocers also will observe the holiday.

Report Theft Of Museum's Rings

LONDON (AP)—Two gold signet rings that once belonged to the duke of Wellington have been stolen from the Bankfield Museum in Halifax, Yorkshire.

Eleven days ago a Goya portrait of the duke, valued at 140,000 pounds ($392,000) was stolen from the National Art Gallery in London.

Museum officials were inclined to believe the theft of the rings was a prank suggested by the theft of the portrait.

"The rings were not worth much," said R.A. Innes, director of the museum.

Fear 22 Killed By Embankment

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—At least 22 persons were believed killed today when a stone and concrete embankment collapsed under heavy rainfall at a hillside residential area in Seoul.

National police said five families were trapped while asleep under their houses which were crushed as the embankment gave way in a torrential rain.

Quite A Day For Navy Father

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—I've sworn about 800 or 900 recruits into the Navy, but I'll remember this day," retired Lt. Urban Schaffner said.

Schaffner administered the oaths Friday as his daughter, Judeann, 20, was sworn into the Waves, and his son, Urban Schaffner, Jr., 19 into the Navy.

Report Break-In At Rural Store

Sheriff's deputies reported a break-in of the Harry Cooke Store about seven miles from Greenville on the Bethel highway last night.

Deputy Duke Andrews said approximately $100 in cash was missing. It was thought the thieves entered through a back door.

Deputies were called around 1:30 a.m. Andrews and Deputy Ralph Tyson are investigating.

Evangelist Asks If Hearers Ready For Nuclear War

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Billy Graham, quoting Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia as saying nuclear war may be imminent, asked his audience Friday night if they were ready for a nuclear holocaust.

"Are we ready to go before the seat of judgment?" he asked a capacity gathering in Convention Hall estimated at 13,700.

He also quoted Soviet Premier Khrushchev as saying 100 million Americans may die if war comes.

The evangelist's sermon was dedicated to youth. At the beginning, he asked how many in the audience were under 21. An estimated 5,000 persons stood up.

Dr. Graham preached from the Gospel of St. Matthew, Chapter 10, 39th verse: "He who findeth his life shall lose it; He who loseth his life for my sake shall find it."

"And Jesus says to us 'what seems to be lost' is actually gained," he said.

'Mass Meetings' Support Buildup

MOSCOW (AP)—Mass meetings throughout the Soviet Union are being staged to show support for the nation's military buildup, the official Soviet news agency Tass reported today.

Reports of the meetings were featured in Moscow newspapers, with Pravda giving a full page to articles and letters from readers protesting what was characterized as "the sinister plans for unleashing a new war hatched by Western imperialists." Headlines said: "the U.S.S.R. is discharging its duty to mankind."

First Reported N.C. Road Death

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP)—The first reported highway death victim in North Carolina over the Labor Day weekend was a 19-year-old Richmond County youth, Eugene Hilliard Benoist of Rt. 1, Rockingham.

The Highway Patrol reported the speeding car in which he was riding overturned and burned Friday night on a rural paved road 8 1/2 miles south of Rockingham.

The Associated Press is tallying holiday deaths from 5 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday, Labor Day.

Grandma Moses Playing Tricks

HOOSICK FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Grandma Moses, who will be 101 Thursday, is playing tricks on her doctor.

She hid his stethoscope because he would not let her paint while she is in a rest home.

"You take me back to Eagle Bridge (Grandma's home) and you'll get back your stethoscope," Mrs. Anna Mary Robertson Moses insisted.

Dr. Clayton E. Shaw barred the paints while Grandma is in Hoosick Falls Health Center. The doctor said if she had them, the renowned primitive artist would use them. "She's going to get a complete rest."

Grandma gave back the stethoscope.

Mrs. Roosevelt's Visit Recalled Illuminating Hobby --- He Uses Old English Script

By ANNE MATTOX, Reflector Woman's Writer

"A woman of rare charm and almost unlimited energies and capabilities, she is a Democrat, not just in the political sense, but in fact."

This was the Daily Reflector's editorial assessment of the then First Lady Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. The wife of Franklin D. Roosevelt visited Greenville on November 17, 1941, under the auspices of the Entertainment Committee of East Carolina Teachers College, as it was named at the time of her visit.

The Editorial observation still applies to the amazing lady today. Only recently she has been active in the Tractors For Freedom Inc.

Mrs. Roosevelt was a member of the private citizens' group, which was headed by Walter P. Reuther and Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower on the proposed swap of American tractors for Cuban invasion prisoners was organized at the suggestion of President Kennedy.

Speaking on "a Day in the White House," to the audience that came from all over this section and filled every seat in Wright Auditorium at East Carolina College, Mrs. Roosevelt described the work of the President and the President's wife. She told of the incessant toil demanded of the Chief Executive, the burden of the final word in History-making decisions and the obligation each woman and child in the United States has to shoulder his share of the responsibility for the continued existence of a democratic way of life.

To show the real nature of a day in the White House in 1941 in a time of national crisis, which was less than a month before the attack on Pearl Harbor, Mrs. Roosevelt, when she first had inside knowledge of a President's routine, with the work-crowded day of the present chief executive.

In introducing the First Lady, Governor J.M. Broughton said "Our guest speaker would be welcome anywhere in North Carolina if for no other reason than that she is the wife of that great champion of democracy—Franklin D. Roosevelt, but in her own right by her unique and outstanding attainment she has become one of the noble women in the nation and world. By insight into problems that beset the human heart and sympathy with all who struggle she has endeared herself to the American people as few women in our history have done."

In describing a day with the President, she showed how the mass of business that must pass through a President's hands is expedited, and emphasizing the necessity for reaching clear-cut decisions from information gathered from numberless sources and for willingness to bear the responsibility for the consequences.

She made clear the power of concentration needed by the President of the United States as he turns from one individual or group which he must draw and remember needed information and varying points of view and the tremendous background of general knowledge he must have to understand the problems presented by the banker and the laborer, the coal miner and the housing expert.

It is important, she declared, that one making such decisions discipline his mind to make the choice to the best of his power and then not let the results weigh too heavily on him, if he is to be of any value in his office.

Mrs. Roosevelt told of the day of the wife of the President showing that, with all her trained staff she must accept a share of the duties of the average housewife.

In concluding her talk she pointed out that the crisis in Europe had come from dissatisfaction with the way of life there. We must make our democracy work here, she declared. We can show the world that what we believe in is better than any new order a dictator can offer.

The Sheppard Memorial Library was visited by Mrs. Roosevelt. She was impressed by the Democracy shelf at the library and praised the value of such a collection at that particular time.

A luncheon was given in Mrs. Roosevelt's honor by President and Mrs. Leon A. Meadows who was then president of the college.

Mrs. Roosevelt is a person well known to the American people. She was the first of president's wives to devote herself to a career of social reform and political support of her husband's measures.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Illuminated writing, the lifetime work of monks in the Middle Ages, is the hobby of a steel company executive who practices the art despite a hand wound suffered in World War I.

"It's just a gift, I guess," said Casson Butcher, a native of the town of Bottle on the Scotland-England border who makes his home in Chicago.

"I was interested in the writing even as a kid. I went around the old castles until I got the alphabet of the Old English script, the big and small letters. I spent a lot of time around the old church cemeteries, too, studying the inscriptions on tombs of my ancestors."

Illumination in this use refers to the ornamentation and illustration of writing, particularly the initial letters. Butcher writes in an Old English script, using the ordinary pen dipped in water colors. Part of the illumination comes from interlacing of gold and silver ink. Butcher sometimes uses as many as 20 colors in a single page of writing.

A shrapnel wound suffered while fighting in France with the British Army in World War I immobilized Butcher's right hand, except for the thumb and index finger. He moves these two fingers only for his writing, but his pen never falters.

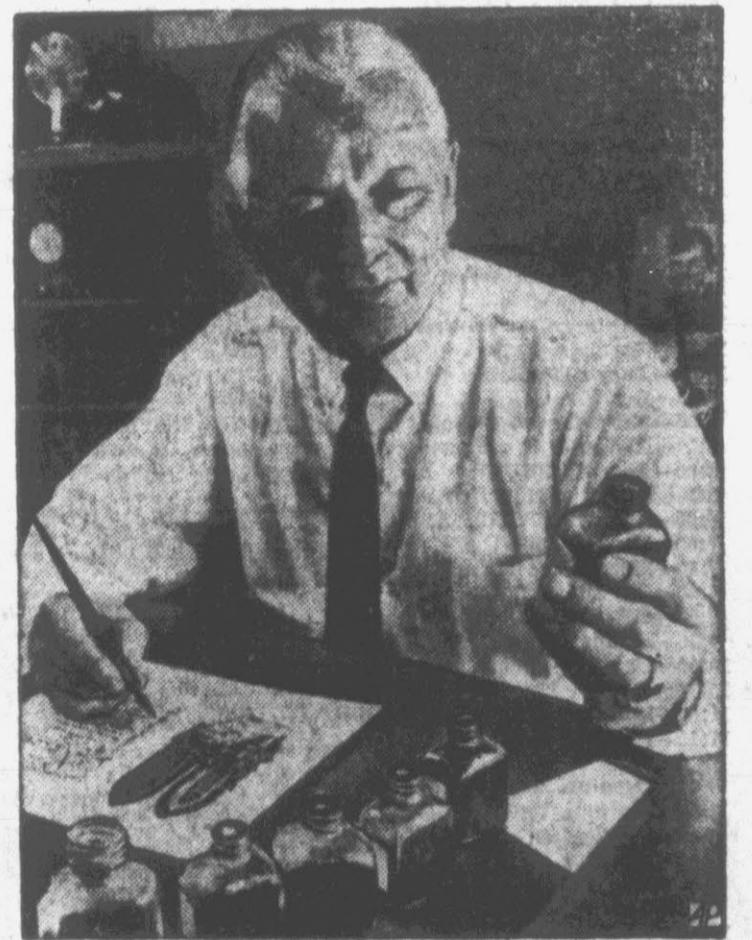

Butcher can write "The Lord's Prayer," using 11 colors, in 40 minutes. He writes with continuous strokes of a single pen, dipping the pen in water between colors.

It's a rare hobby. Butcher knows of no other person in the United States who is an illuminaneur, the 13th Century term for persons who did illuminated writing.

Butcher, who lives in a motel here during the work week, has repeatedly refused payment for his writing. Among offers he rejected was one of $5,000 in royalties from a greeting card company which wanted to reproduce one of his pieces of work. A valuation of $1,200 has been placed on one writing of a prayer that hangs on his office wall.

Tomatoes Are Grown By Chemistry In Gravel Soviet Paper Is Used By U. S. To Prove Point

TOMATOES are grown in gravel on the farm of Harold Wood, which covers one-fifth of an acre near Tuscaloosa, Ala. A chemical solution substitute for dirt.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Harold Wood can relax in his air-conditioned office and survey his entire farm with satisfaction.

It covers precisely one-fifth of an acre. Neighboring farmers look upon Wood and his farm with derision. They call it "new-fangled nonsense." But Wood says he's got a good thing.

He goes about his chores without tractor, plow, barn, mule or anything else that might get in the way—including dirt. It's called hydroponic farming or farming by chemistry.

Farming by chemistry got its star with the ancient Egyptians. Wood and one employe are doing their bit to revive the idea in the 20th Century with a five-bed tomato farm.

Wood presently puts in about 17 hours a day, but he figures additional pumping equipment will soon cut his work-day to four hours.

The concrete beds are 110 feet long and three feet wide. They are filled with gravel, used to support the plants which grow a foot apart. A chemical solution is pumped into the beds three times daily and drained immediately. "We can produce tomatoes in 55 days after planting and daily thereafter," Wood says. "It has been proven that the number of tomato plants that would produce five tons in six or seven months of regular farming will yield 200 to 300 tons during the same time our way."

He said hydroponic farming costs him $23 an acre per month compared to an estimated $45 an acre of dirt farming.

Much U.S. Aid For 'Nonaligned' BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Countries attending the conference of nonaligned nations have received a total of $5.75 billion in U.S. aid. Most of it has gone to the two countries expected to play leading roles in the conference—India and Yugoslavia. India has received $1.7 billion from the United States in economic aid. Yugoslavia has had $1.3 billion in economic assistance and $719 million in military aid. Yugoslavia declined to receive further military aid after 1957.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has used Russia's own words in an effort to prove false the Soviet claim that the air corridors to Berlin are for military use only.

The Reds have been contending that postwar Allied agreements provided for use of the air corridors over East Germany only to supply the Western military garrisons in West Berlin.

The U.S. government Friday made public a long-secret Soviet document stating that the three Western corridors had been allotted by four-power agreement, including the Russians, "for unrestricted flights by Allied aircraft over the Soviet zone of occupation."

The paper was presented by the Soviets at the 1947 Moscow foreign ministers meeting. U.S. officials described it as probably the most explicit written record showing Russian agreement to unhampered civilian and military traffic to Berlin. The Western Allies look on the air corridors as their most important lifeline in maintaining a foothold in Berlin against Communist pressure.

Threat Of Auto Strike Casts Long Shadow Over Prospects Of Economy

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The threat of an automobile strike hangs darkly over the economy. A strike's effects would spread far beyond the auto industry itself. In addition to creating a shortage of new cars, it would cut sharply into orders for steel, rubber, glass and many other items which go into cars. A ray of hope appeared when negotiations were extended six days to Sept. 6. However, the United Auto Workers Union appeared determined to strike against its first target, General Motors, if agreement isn't reached before the deadline. The UAW's precedent-shattering, profit-sharing agreement with American Motors complicated negotiations with the industry's Big Three—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler. The Big Three said they have no intention of following along with profit-sharing.

The UAW said it isn't insisting on a profit-sharing provision in other contracts as long as equal gains were forthcoming. An unsettled labor situation developed in the railroad industry, too, during the week. U.S. District Court in Philadelphia issued an injunction preventing the Transport Workers Union from striking against the Pennsylvania Railroad. In another development, unions representing 600,000 workers — freight handlers and maintenance and service crafts—demanded of the nation's railroads a 21-cent-an-hour wage increase and at least six-month advance notice of job layoffs. President Kennedy, at his news conference, urged the steel industry to abstain from a price increase when wage boosts of 7 to 10 cents an hour go into effect Oct. 1. Kennedy said his economists have advised him that the wage hikes can be absorbed and the companies still make a good profit. Steel executives had nothing to say. Iron Age, the metalworking trade publication, predicted selective increases of $2.50 to $3.50 a ton. Steel production during the week exceeded two million tons for the first time since early June. The 2.02 million tons represented a 3.9 per cent gain over the previous week. The industry, however, still was operating below 70 per cent of capacity. The auto industry stepped up its production of 1962 models to an estimated 89,000 passenger cars, compared with 60,000 last week and 51,711 a year ago. Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges said the economy may be producing goods and services at the record rate of $540 billion a year by the end of this year. Earlier predictions of the fourth-quarter rate had been $530 billion to $535 billion.

Stock sales during the week totaled 15,163,690 shares, down from the previous week's 17,221,714 shares but ahead of the 14,952,240 shares for the comparable week a year ago. Bond sales were up at $27,491,000 for the week. The previous week's total was $25,831,000 and the comparable 1960 week was $20,016,000. Employment attained a record for August but the unemployment rate remained unchanged at 6.9 per cent of the labor force. The Commerce Department reported new orders received by manufacturers in July rose 0.2 per cent from June to an annual rate of $31.2 billion. Defense orders were partly responsible. Spending on new construction projects in August amounted to $5,433 billion, one per cent ahead of July. In August 1960 the outlay was $5,205 billion. Hard-pressed railroads with heavy commuter loads were encouraged by an Interstate Commerce Commission recommendation of subsidies costing an estimated $32 million a year to preserve essential passenger services. Briefly around the business scene: American car owners spent $5.9 billion for insurance in 1960 but the cost of accidents totaled $7.6 million. The Navy will award $634.7 million in contracts to private shippers for construction and overhaul of ships. Radio Corp. of America predicts 1962 sales of the color television industry will reach $200 million, nearly double those of this year.

BEEBLE BAILEY

A SIGN OF LIFE . . . for some motorists in Pitt County or elsewhere in North Carolina over this Labor Day Weekend may be a Highway Patrol Floodlight Checking Station. The check points, which will look for drinking drivers; proper brakes, lights, and other safety equipment; and proper drivers license and registration, will be operated, along with unmarked cars and electrical speed checking devices to reduce the toll of traffic mishaps and deaths during the holiday period. All motorists have been asked by the Patrol to cooperate with their highway safety program "Light Your Pledge For Safety", over the weekend by driving during daylight hours with headlights on as a reminder to other motorists to obey the traffic laws.

CHICAGO (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson took a grim view Friday night of news that the Soviet Union had exploded a nuclear device in central Asia. "The hope for disarmament and peace have suffered another blow from the Soviet Union," said the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations after arriving from New York for a three-day holiday.

SAFE!

The Daily Newspaper Is the Safer, Surer Advertising Investment

Two questions influence the choice of an advertising medium. First, what does it cost to reach a person with a sales message? Second, how many of those you reach will buy? A typical advertiser can reach a person through newspapers at least as economically as through other media. And the newspaper delivers an audience that likes to read advertising, prefers newspapers with advertising, and shops from advertising. Such an audience guarantees more sales action per message delivered, and makes newspapers the safer, surer ad medium. Why not send the daily newspaper to bat for you?

I INSIST, DOCTOR.

CRIMESTOPPERS TEXTBOOK

YOU WENT THROUGH A RED LIGHT, LADY. I MUST GIVE YOU A TICKET. OOPS! MAY I BORROW YOUR PENCIL?

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS! ROOKIE, DON'T LET THIS HAPPEN TO YOU.

Dick Tracy

HOW DARE YOU QUESTION MY PROFESSIONAL INTEGRITY?

I WILL REVEAL NOTHING AS REGARDS MY RELATIONSHIP WITH ANY OF MY PATIENTS. EVEN TO ONE OF YOUR PATIENT'S ATTORNEYS?

DOCTOR CHOPPIN, AS "SPREADY" SPENSIVE'S LAWYER, I AM RESPONSIBLE FOR HIM. ONCE AGAIN I ASK, WHAT DID YOU SEW UP UNDER HIS SKIN?

YOU DOUBTED MY PROFESSIONAL ETHICS AND YOU'VE SLURRED MY PERSONAL STANDARDS. GO!

OH, D-CTOR

ALL RIGHT! IF THAT'S THE WAY IT HAS TO BE, MONA WILL HANDLE THIS THING HERSELF.

AND BACK AT HEADQUARTERS THE DOCTOR DENIED EVERYTHING, BUT SAM AND I ARE CONVINCED, CHIEF, HE DID THE SURGERY.

TRACY AND I WOULD LIKE TO KNOW WHAT "SPREADY" SPENSIVE HAS SEWED UNDER HIS SKIN.

THIS WHOLE THING SOUNDS LIKE A SILLY PURSUIT TO ME. WHY DON'T YOU GUYS FORGET IT? FORGET IT?

LATER AT "SPREADY'S" APARTMENT WHERE HE IS SLEEPING OFF THE CELEBRATION OVER HIS HABEAS CORPUS RELEASE...

BOY, THESE PORTABLE FLUOROSCOPES ARE PLENTY HEAVY—WOW? SH—TAKE IT EASY.

NOW WHAT PART OF HIM DO YOU WANT X-RAYED?

RIGHT THERE—HIS SIDE. I WANT TO SEE WHAT'S BEHIND THAT SCAR.

I'M SO HUNGRY I CAN'T GET TO SLEEP

OH, YOU POOR DEAR

HERE— I FOUND A BANANA FOR YOU

THAT'S NOT FOOD! I NEED SOLID SUSTENANCE AND PLENTY OF IT

I'M SORRY, DEAR, BUT THERE'S NOT MUCH TO EAT DOWN THERE

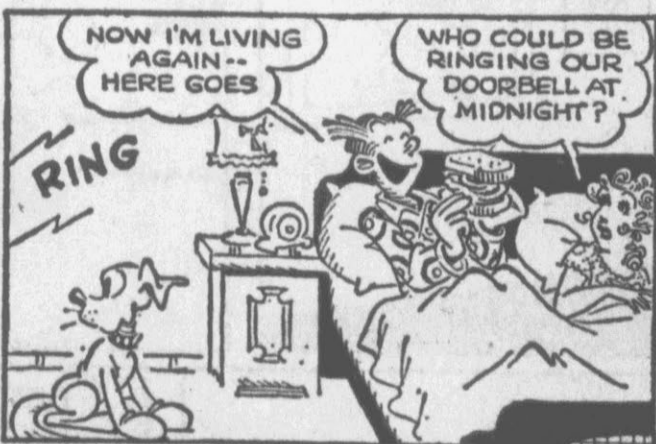

WHY IS THE LARDER IN SUCH A SORRY STATE TONIGHT?

BECAUSE TOMORROW IS YOUR BIRTHDAY, AND YOU SAID WE'D GO OUT TO A RESTAURANT TO CELEBRATE

AH— IT TOOK A LOT OF DOING, BUT I ROUNDED UP ENOUGH FOR ONE BIG, GORGEOUS SANDWICH

NOW I'M LIVING AGAIN— HERE GOES

WHO COULD BE RINGING OUR DOORBELL AT MIDNIGHT?

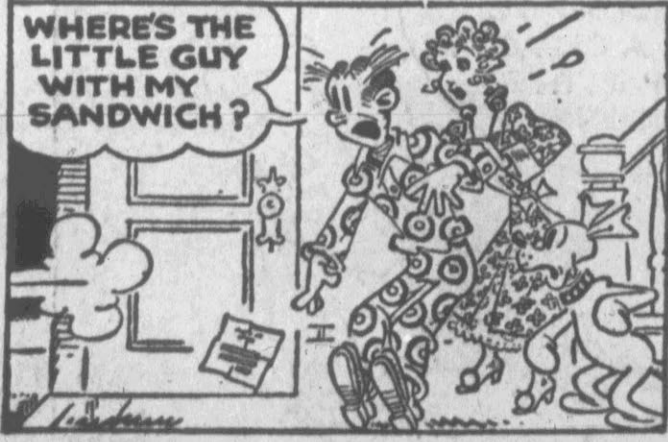

TELEGRAM FOR MR. BUMSTEAD— SIGN ON THE BOTTOM LINE

YOU'LL HAVE TO HOLD MY SANDWICH FOR ME

IT'S FROM MR. DITHERS— WISHING ME A HAPPY BIRTHDAY

NOW SWEET FOR YOUR BIRTHDAY TO BE SO THOUGHTFUL

WHERE'S THE LITTLE GUY WITH MY SANDWICH?

THIS IS BETTER THAN A TIP

OKAY— I'LL EAT ANYTHING! WHERE'S THE BANANA?

YOU SAID YOU DIDN'T WANT IT, SO I ATE IT

TRY DREAMING ABOUT SOMETHING TO EAT, DEAR

Graham Reveals High Suspicions Soviet 'Cheating'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Billy Graham says he has spoken to close friends in high government positions and learned there is a possibility "Russia was already cheating and has created the neutron bomb—the ultimate weapon."

Dr. Graham apparently referred to cheating during the ban on nuclear testing which the Russians lifted Wednesday. In Moscow it was reported Thursday that Western diplomats expect the Soviet Union to test a super nuclear bomb almost immediately.

Speaking Thursday night to an estimated 14,500 persons in Convention Hall, Dr. Graham said there is a possibility of "an ultimatum of surrender or else."

The evangelist said Premier Khrushchev may be ready to "flout world opinion."

"This is all speculation; nobody knows," he added.

He repeated his request that all Americans "pray that God give President Kennedy wisdom in this time of crisis."

Governor Sounds Call: Save Ship

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Sanford has sounded another urgent call to North Carolina citizens: Don't give up the ship.

The vessel in question is the Battleship North Carolina, scheduled to be set up in Wilmington as a museum and war memorial.

"We need money and we intend to keep pressing until we get it," Sanford told the Battleship North Carolina Commission Thursday.

The governor called for a renewed drive to raise the money needed to accomplish the task. Hugh Morton of Wilmington, chairman of the commission, said about $235,000 has been raised and about $50,000 still is needed.
