A fifteen-semi-circular-candelabra holding tall cathedral candles complimented by a semi-circular arrangement of white gladioli flanked on either side by tall standards of emerald greens formed a background for the ceremony. Preceding to the altar were four tall brass candelabra of pyramidal design with bouquets of white chrysanthemums and white gladioli interspersing the tall cathedral candles.

At the altar was placed a brass prie-dieu on which the couple knelt for the benediction. It was decorated with sprays of white bridal flowers and tied with white satin ribbon. Flanked with brass single candleholders, Pews for the immediate families were marked with white tulle and satin.

Mr. Bryant, a graduate of Boonville High School and North Carolina State College, is a member of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity. He is at present associated with Smith-Douglass Company and resides at Virginia Beach, Virginia where the couple will make their home.

For her wedding trip the bride changed to a French-blue costume dress with flowered chiffon bodice and short jacket. With this she wore a matching hat and patent accessories. A white orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet completed her attire.

After their wedding trip the couple will be at home at 107 83rd Street, Virginia Beach, Virginia.

Action Due On 2 Needed Facilities

Now that the City Council has approved bids received on the proposed new Carver Library to be constructed here, we trust there will be no further long delays in getting work underway on the new facility.

The present facilities for the Carver Library have long been inadequate and the need for the new facilities have become considerably more acute since the bond issue for the new building was passed some 20 months ago.

Slightly more than $10,000 will be needed from the city during the current fiscal year to supplement the $35,980 earmarked in the 1960 bond election for the new library. This additional money represents the difference between the amount approved for the project in the bond issue and the total low bids the city received on the project last month.

Including this amount for a single capital improvements project in the city budget for the coming fiscal year probably will pose a problem, but the undertaking should not be postponed longer. It is a facility that is needed and should be provided.

Attention should also be called to funds approved in the same bond issue almost two years ago for a new substation for the fire department in the southeastern section of the city. So far nothing further has been done to bring this facility into reality. Certainly there has been ample time for planning work to be done toward getting the substation ready.

As it considers appropriations for the new fiscal year which begins July 1, the City Council should not overlook the fact that the new fire substation is still needed by Greenville as it was when the bond issue for its construction was passed by the voters. If, as in the case of the Carver Library, construction costs may be expected to exceed the amount of bond issue money available, some provision should be made in the coming budget. If the new fire substation is to be constructed in the coming fiscal year, there will also be a need for equipment for the station and firemen to man the station, both of which should be reflected in the new budget.

Indicative Of State's Desire To Cooperate

Gov. Sanford's offer of Bladen State Forest to the Air Force for a practice range for planes stationed at Seymour Johnson base in Goldsboro is indicative of the desire of North Carolina to cooperate with the Air Force in finding a suitable range site.

It represents a genuine effort by the state to locate an alternate site the Air Force might use in place of its choice for a range near Lake Mattamuskeet in Hyde County.

The offer holds out hope that the Air Force may be able to fill its need for a practice range in the state without resorting to the Hyde County area. Before hopes get too high that the alternative proposed by Gov. Sanford will end the controversy, it should be remembered that considerably more than just land area is involved in finding a suitable practice range.

Apparently the land area at Bladen Lakes is sufficient to fill the requirements, but what about the possibility of conflicting air corridors in the area for commercial or military aircraft? Is the site sufficiently removed from populated areas to permit flight patterns which measure up to the Air Force minimum safety requirements for practice ranges?

Every effort should be made both by the state and by the Air Force to ascertain the answers to these questions as quickly as possible so the matter may be settled. State officials and representatives of the Tactical Air Command should give their joint consideration to all facets of the proposed area immediately so that any obstacles that exist may be resolved.

There is general recognition of the Air Force need for a practice range in the state for its planes at Seymour Johnson. There is likewise general recognition that most Tar Heels would be happier if the range were not in the Lake Mattamuskeet area. The sooner the matter is resolved the better it will be both for the Air Force and for the state.

Factors In The Stock Collapse

By RALPH ROBEY
Many Administration spokesmen during the stock market collapse said that the break was unjustified, that the business condition is sound, and so forth and so on. There is some truth in this point of view, but it is not the whole story by a long shot. Certainly the stock market drop was more than it should have been, and this is going to be a year when new records are made over a wide range of the business picture. But this does not mean that there is nothing to worry about. We still have a vast range of problems of crucial importance.

But first let us take a look at some of the favorable factors:
Gross National Product, the total monetary value of all goods and services of the nation, is still advancing. This is estimated only on a quarterly basis, and for the first three months of the year the figure was $48 billion. This was an increase of only $6 billion over the final quarter of 1961. The total is expected to rise for the remainder of 1962, but the Administration's estimate of $570 billion for the year as a whole is now unattainable.

Total industrial production still is on the upgrade, but there is no real zip to it, and no one expects a sharp upsurge for the balance of 1962. We may even have months when there is no overall increase at all. Automobile production is doing handsomely, and there is optimistic talk of a seven-million-car year, including imports, but this still appears high.

Housing starts have shown the second monthly sharp increase, and this has renewed predictions that we shall have 1,400,000 private non-farm starts this year. And overall construction continues to show encouraging increases over the same period last year. But neither of these is going to contribute a great deal of lift to the business trend as a whole.

Retail trade is up slightly. The same is true of wholesale trade. Inventories are increasing.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
REGULATION BY LAW
Tyranny involves regimentation. Some people therefore get the idea that freedom, in the best sense of that term, is the privilege of doing whatever we want to do without restraint. The truth of the matter is that every person in the world must live under some form of regulation. Anything other than this would mean chaos. Individuals have to be regulated by law, countries by constitutions or some framework of government. Corporations, labor unions, every gathering together of human beings for any purpose whatsoever involves regulations of some kind. Too much regulation and we have tyranny; too little and we have disorder.

By JOHN ABNEY

Puebla's Chinese Lady

PUEBLA, Mexico — In 1685, Sir William Dampier was cruising around the Pacific Ocean seeing what he could pick up for the King of England. What he picked up was mostly cargo from Spanish ships. This made the King of Spain mad because Sir Willie had a highly developed taste for ivory, gold, silver, jewels and such items. Since the King of Spain already had his troops out lifting these curios from natives on both sides of the ocean, he was in no mood to tolerate burglary on the high seas. And he told his troops to load the guns in Acapulco, just in case. Now all of this would have had nothing to do with Puebla, which is located in the mountains far from the Pacific Ocean, if the British had not decided to wallop the Port of Acapulco.

fleet to the entrance of Acapulco's big bay and commenced firing on the civilians. The civilians and Spaniards lit their fuses and fired back with a terrible barrage. Sir William hit the trail for quieter waters. "Ruddy savages!" he yelled. "Aiming at British ships trying to make an honest living. It's the thieving Spaniards that's leading these poor redskins from the paths of righteousness, that's what!"

The fleet set its course for Manila to see what was happening on the other side of the pond. Enroute to Manila, they chanced upon a Chinese ship and drilled it with a few cannon balls. All they found aboard was a Chinese Princess named Mirra, who had nothing but a suitcase full of clothes. Since this would not even pay for the price of the gunpowder, Sir William sold the princess as a slave to a merchant in Manila. Figuring a few shillings was more than nothing. The merchants bought a couple of tickets on the Acapulco boat and took his royal varlet along. The princess apparently did not work out so well as a slave because the merchant sold her in Acapulco to Captain Miguel Sosa, who lived in Puebla.

Other Editors Saying Murder Without Trial

(Rocky Mount Telegram)
A rare case in American legal history involved two men in Tennessee recently who could not be tried for murder because only two jurors could be found in the mountainous county. As incredible as this may seem, it actually happened. A Tennessee Supreme Court Justice has offered some comment on the matter.

Said Associate Justice Hamilton Burnett: "It is a blot on our civilization when you've got a county where you can't get a jury to try people." But he and four other justices agreed: A man is entitled to a trial in the county in which an offense occurs. Since the judge was unable to get a jury, the charges against the two men should remain dismissed, according to the high court justices.

The two men were accused of killing two deputy sheriffs in a gun battle. It took more than a week to pick a jury for their first trial which ended in mistrial. About 1,400 of the county's 7,000 residents were questioned for jury duty then. The accused went on trial a second time last March, but only two jurors could be found.

The rest said they had formed an opinion, were related to the defendants or couldn't give a fair verdict. Circuit Judge Wayne Oliver dismissed the charges, saying it was a "sad, deplorable, terrible fact" that a jury couldn't be obtained in the county.

It was contended that, while the state constitution requires a trial in the county in which an offense is committed, there was not a single court in the world which has said the jurors must be from the county where the offense occurred. The assistant attorney general insisted the law clearly stated a man was entitled to trial by jurors residing in the county where the offense occurs.

It does seem incomprehensible that a man should be deprived of a trial by his peers. That is just what happened in the Tennessee case. Nowadays one of the greatest laments by sheriffs all over is the inability to maintain a full panel of citizens who are available for jury duty. There are more people than ever, but it seems that more of them are getting into the categories usually listed as "unavailable."

In the Tennessee case there was little else to be done except to release the two men charged with murder. But the State of Tennessee should see to it that such a deplorable incident cannot happen again. Any citizen is entitled to trial; to deprive him of that is to deprive him of his rights under the state and federal constitutions.

attributed in good part to the depreciation allowance break given textile manufacturers last fall by the Treasury Department.

Some changes are on the way. Treasury Secretary C. Douglas Dillon has promised faster depreciation by next month. Instead of thousands of individual types of equipment, broad categories will be used. The lumping together will benefit many items.

Panic Quickly Spread

By ROGER BABSON
BABSON PARK, Mass. — During the past week, almost everyone has been asking what has happened to the stock market. The newspapers have said "nothing like it since 1929." Yet the Dow-Jones Industrial Average is off only about 20 per cent from its all-time high which occurred at the start of 1962. The Industrials have suffered the most; the utilities have suffered less; while the railroads have suffered the least. On the other hand, almost everything has suffered somewhat.

REAL ESTATE, AUTOMOBILES, AND COMMODITIES

The newspapers, television, and radio have made so much of the big break that people are getting it into their heads that everything should go down in price. Therefore, whether they are looking for houses, automobiles, or even orange groves, they expect bargains, and they pay no attention to the prices of a month ago. This especially applies to used cars, of which there is a surplus and the dealers are trying hard to convert them into cash.

The banks are getting frightened and have begun to ask their customers to reduce loans. They really have no reason for being frightened; but bankers are easily scared because it is not their money which they are loaning, but rather the money of their customers. They do not know when their customers will want to use their money to buy bargains themselves, and hence the bankers must be prepared to take care of them. Most bankers were much disturbed by President Kennedy's actions when he lost his temper over the price of steel. They feel that President Kennedy is against business and profits, and, perhaps, is too favorable to the labor leaders. Even the brokers are beginning to feel this way, owing to the SEC investigations. Some brokers are even unjustly saying that the past week will go down in history as the "Kennedy Break."

MUTUAL FUNDS

There has been a great sale of mutual funds during the past two years. It is reported that over 75,000 salesmen are selling mutual funds today. Most of the stock exchange firms are indulging in the sale of mutual funds. They are allowed a commission of one-eighth of one percent on listed stocks, and cannot afford to have their salesmen go out and solicit small investors for this fee; but they get about 5 per cent on the sale of mutual funds which commission they can divide with the salesmen.

When a salesman sells a thousand dollars worth of mutual funds, the operators of the Fund must enter the stock market and buy a certain amount of listed stock. They have entered the stock market during the past two years. It will be more difficult to sell mutual funds and redemptions will increase until the news of the recent stock market break is forgotten. When a mutual fund holder turns in his shares to be redeemed, the Fund operators must sell some of their listed stocks. I believe these mutual funds are perfectly safe; but they must go down in price when a break such as we have had occurs. Therefore, the selling by mutual fund operators, has been one cause of the decline in the stock market. The dividends on a mutual fund may not be reduced, excepting the so-called bonus dividends which result from capital gains, which the Funds may not get for a while.

WHAT WILL THE STOCK MARKET DO NEXT?

It is evident that there have been many bargain hunters who have bought stocks the past week. This has caused some rallies. I, however, do not believe that all is well. There are many sore spots to be cleaned up by foolish investors, although general business is continuing good.

As I have mentioned many times before in this column, there is a wide gulf between the high prices that stocks have been selling at and their dividends. These low yields are unnatural and must be corrected. I had hoped to see it corrected by a gradual and orderly decline. Readers, (Continued on page five)

Faster Depreciation Is Pushed

By ELMER ROESSNER
Renewed pressure for faster depreciation in income tax returns has already begun and is likely to increase. The basic idea is that equipment depreciates from year to year and the loss through wear and antiquation should be deductible from income taxes. The resulting savings are then used to buy new, more modern, efficient replacement equipment.

Railroads Bow To New Pay Demands

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the nation's railroads, particularly those in the East, are considering moves to boost passenger and freight rates to help pay for new wage and benefit increases for rail workers.

The carriers have just accepted with unions representing about 500,000 off-train workers a settlement recommended by a White House emergency board and estimated to increase carrier labor costs by $105 million.

If unions representing about 200,000 on-train rail employees win a similar wage settlement, the extra labor cost would mount to an estimated $180 million a year, according to the Association of American Railroads.

This total additional expense would not be wholly applied against railroad net income, which ran to the low figure of $382 million in 1961, because carriers earning profits could claim the new labor charges as tax deductible business expenses. But profits would tend to be lower.

The railroads, still in negotiations with the on-train unions over proposals of another White House board to reduce train crews and make other manpower economies to end so-called featherbedding practices, are hopeful of realizing economies. But the prospect is uncertain.

Eastern railroads sustained an estimated loss of nearly $100 million last year while Southern and Western roads fared better.

The Eastern roads may seek to absorb through fares repeal of the 10 per cent excise tax on train tickets that Congress is expected to adopt effective next Jan. 1. Chairman Wilbur K. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee so indicated in House debate last week, although he said he understands Southern and Western roads will let the tax repeal reduce their passenger fares.

J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the Western Carriers Conference Committee, chief labor negotiator for the industry, indicated some railroads may have to apply for freight rate increases and again may have to reduce their work forces.

Wolfe called the off-train worker labor settlement inflationary, but said Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg advised the carriers that they had no alternative but to accept in the public interest to avoid a strike.

Goldberg said in a statement, however, that the labor settlement seemed to fall within President Kennedy's economic guidelines for noninflationary wage behavior.

Goldberg said the labor increase could be figured at 2 or 2.7 per cent depending on whether the 1.2 cents an hour raise was calculated over the whole contract period, or just part of it. He said the settlement is within the nation's productivity increase rate and particularly that of the railroad industry which has been running at a rate of 4 per cent a year.

The raise will increase average hourly wages of the off-train workers from an estimated $2.48 to about $2.58.

Goldberg said it was clear that the White House board's settlement recommendations, accepted by the carriers and unions, were not unreasonable. He said that just as the labor demands were reviewed by a competent public board, rail rate increase requests will be given a similar review by the Interstate Commerce Commission or state regulatory bodies.

There will be a careful and expert review by a public body of the facts relating to price questions which will obviously take into account all the relevant facts," Goldberg said.

He added that such factors will include wage costs, productivity savings, prospective elimination of the passenger fare tax, and the Treasury's forthcoming revision of depreciation schedules.

Desegregation Orders For Georgia Parochial Schools

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church has ordered Atlanta archdiocesan schools desegregated this fall in a move supported by leading Catholic laymen and the mayor of Atlanta.

The historic decision applied to Catholic schools in the 71 north Georgia counties of the archdiocese where about 7,500 pupils are enrolled. The total includes 735 negroes, all in Atlanta.

Archbishop Paul J. Hallinan said it was up to local bishops elsewhere in the archdiocesan province to decide what action to take in their areas. That included other sections of Georgia as well as North and South Carolina and Florida, all under the archbishop's titular control.

The desegregation decision was announced in a pastoral letter read during Sunday services in all the churches of the north Georgia archdiocese.

"Catholic children, regardless of race or color, will be admitted to Catholic schools of the archdiocese as of Sept. 1, 1962," the letter said.

"I think it is something long overdue," commented Catholic layman G. Albert Lawton, president of Georgia International Life Insurance Co., who moved to Atlanta from Connecticut three years ago. His two children attend Catholic schools in Rhode Island and New York.

Another Catholic layman, Superior Court Judge Sam P. McKenzie of the Atlanta Judicial Circuit, said he was confident the Archbishop "will get the support of a great majority of the Catholics in the archdiocese."

McKenzie, who has three children in Atlanta Catholic schools, said he believed "that in an enlightened community, the people will accept the decision in the right spirit and in the spirit that it was made."

Mayor Ivan Allen Jr., a Presbyterian, said he was "certain Atlanta and north Georgia people would show the same courtesy and consideration that was shown in the integration of the Atlanta public schools last fall."

Four high schools admitted nine Negroes at that time. One later returned to her old school at her request.

The peaceful lowering of racial barriers was cited by the archbishop as one reason for the church action now—about three months after New Orleans' 153 archdiocesan schools, with about 75,000 pupils were ordered integrated.

Archbishop Hallinan told a news conference that all eight-grade pupils were given an option to enroll in the school of their choice during regular placement tests April 9. He said six Negroes chose white high schools and were accepted. He declined to name the pupils or the schools involved.

"We want this to be a normal and regular function of the schools," he said.

The archbishop's chief aide, the Very Rev. Harold J. Rainey, explained the desegregation was not a token move but an across-the-board policy that would be limited only by space available in the schools and other normal enrollment requirements.

however, should give much more attention to what stocks are yielding. Recent low yields cannot continue indefinitely; without a great improvement in business and dividends, the situation can be corrected only by reducing the price of stocks. I advise against selling investment-grade stocks today; but I question whether the time has come to resume investment in the stock market. I say this notwithstanding that the market has rallied and is acting more normally.

Former Madam, Polly Adler, Dies Of Cancer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Former call house madam Polly Adler, who wrote "A House Is Not a Home" about her experiences, died of cancer Saturday.

Miss Adler, 62, freely admitted in her 1953 book that she spent 25 years running a house of prostitution in New York City.

Miss Adler said she wrote her autobiography because she was left without money by police crackdowns and income tax suits. It sold 100,000 copies.

In the book she told of frequent police raids and of paying thousands in bribes plus entertaining authorities to avoid being put out of business.

She was arrested in 1935 and pleaded guilty to a charge of conducting a disorderly house. She was fined $500 and served 24 days of a 30-day sentence.

A native of Yanow, Russia, she was born Pearl Adler. She became a naturalized citizen in 1929. When friends offered to help write her book, she turned them down with: "Too many cooks spoil the brothel."

College Heads Are Re-Assured

RALEIGH (AP)—Private college presidents have been told a proposed expansion of the community college system would not drive them out of business.

After describing a plan to establish 14 new, two-year community colleges, Higher Education Director William C. Archie said, "I do not believe that this modest network will hurt you one iota."

Archie and other members of a special subcommittee of the Governor's Commission on Education beyond the high school met with the private institution administrators here Saturday.

Archie said the 14 new colleges would be located in areas devoid of higher education facilities but having the potential to enroll at least 400 students by the second year of operation in 1956.

The plan is included in a two-part program geared to cope with ever-increasing enrollments, he explained.

The other part of the program calls for expansion of existing state-supported colleges.

The private administrators were concerned with the tuition differential between their institutions and the low-cost community colleges, saying they would be released until June 22 when the full commission meets at Chapel Hill. Indications were that much debate on the proposal lies ahead.

Archie told the private administrators extensive surveys would be made in each of the proposed community college areas. These would consider potential effects on nearby private institutions.

Beauty Winner Was Late Entry

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Last Wednesday a newspaper item caught Alice Lineman's eye—the Miss Pennsylvania semifinals and finals of the Miss Universe contest were to be held in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Lineman told her daughter, Penny, 18, about it. Penny, a brown-haired, brown-eyed bank employee, thought it was just wonderful and said she'd love to enter.

On Thursday Penny phoned officials of the beauty pageant and told them she would like to enter. She did and was accepted.

Sunday night she was chosen from among 15 finalists as Miss Pennsylvania. She will compete in the Miss U.S.A. competition July 7 in Miami Beach, Fla.

Derailment On Mountain Curve Fatal For A Child

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—A Northern Pacific luxury train shot off a mountain curve in western Montana Sunday, killing a child and injuring 219 of its 350 passengers.

Of the 219 persons injured, 151 were treated and released. Sixty-eight were held for further treatment and observation. Still others, taken to a Missoula hotel to await further transportation, complained of bumps and bruises but did not seek hospital aid.

Only two of the 17 cars remained on the rails in the dawn derailment, which may cost the railroad $1 million.

The other 15 cars of the Seattle-to-Chicago North Coast Limited carrying many visitors home from the world's fair, catapulted down a 100-foot embankment 15 miles northwest of Missoula.

Two of the olive-green passenger cars plunged all the way to the bottom, coming to rest in a ditch along U.S. Highway 93 and 10A.

The nose of one car smashed deep into the ditch, scooping up mud that buried Terese Ann Doooms of Ekalaka, Mont. Terese, who would have been 3 June 30, was the first North Coast Limited passenger to be killed in 62 years.

Investigators are looking into the possibility of air brake failure. Reports from passengers and train personnel suggested the train was exceeding the 35-m.p.h. speed limit for the curve.

The train's speed recorder tape will be given to Interstate Commerce Commission investigators, a Northern Pacific official said at St. Paul, Minn. He wouldn't divulge what the recorder showed, except to say the speed was a "good deal slower" than 100 m.p.h.

The derailment came a little more than three months after the same train, westbound, ran off the tracks and into a lake near Athol, Idaho. Two crewmen were killed in that wreck. Its cause is still a mystery.

Most of the passengers were sleeping or just awakening at 4:40 a.m. as the train crashed a mile short of a trestle that spans a 300-foot canyon.

The body of the Doooms child was clawed out of the mud by a frantic woman. Another child buried in mud in the same car was rescued.

The train had passed over one mile of an eight-mile descent on winding Evoro Hill, which drops 1,100 feet.

"I noticed we were starting to pick up speed," said Jesse O'Connor of Chicago, a Pullman porter. "All of a sudden, I noticed such a fast rate of speed that I got dizzy."

Wendell Wardell of Billings, Mont., a passenger, said, "We were going so fast that our car leaped way over to one side. The car rocked back and forth twice, and I could observe the second car jackknife and pull the rest of the cars over the bank."

The last two cars on the train—a Vista Dome Pullman and a Pullman club car—remained upright. The others twisted in all directions over 500 to 600 feet of the wooded area.

One of the four diesel engines broke in half. All of them spilled off the tracks.

Engineer E. E. Lynn and fireman Jerry Haines, both of Missoula, suffered minor cuts. Lynn was quoted by a railroad spokesman as saying the train lost air pressure as it started downhill.

About 100 National Guardsmen plus Red Cross disaster workers and others joined doctors and nurses in helping the wreck victims. The injured were taken to three hospitals.

Of the 219 persons received at the hospitals, 151 were treated and released. Sixty-eight were held for further treatment and observation.

Arrested 3 On Liquor Charges

Three Negroes were arrested by Pitt ABC officers Friday and Saturday on liquor law violation charges.

Officers said the first of the trio to be charged was Cleveland Little, 68, of 303 South Reade St. He was charged with possessing home brew for sale after searches found 17 gallons of the illegal spirits in his kitchen and garage, and a home brew plant in his garage. Little was recognized to appear in Greenville Recorders Court Monday.

He was quoted as saying he had the spirits for medicine.

Oscar Haddock, 27, of Route 4, Greenville, was placed under a $300 bond for Tuesday's term of County Court when officers found 30 and one-half gallons of non-tax-paid whiskey in his smoke house.

Haddock was charged with possessing the illegal liquor for sale.

Ben Worthington, 66, of 519 McKinley Ave., was arrested and placed under $100 bond when officers found a small amount of non-tax-paid whiskey in his possession.

The lawmen reported Worthington was arrested as he walked down Clark St. with the booze.

He is scheduled for trial Monday in City Court.

Making the arrests were Pitt officers J. M. Ward, H. B. Lilley and Walter Taylor. State ABC enforcer Fred Hall and Constable W. H. Crandall.

first three frames before he was relieved. Together the pitchers allowed seven hits, struck out three and walked five. In their losing efforts the Moose used five pitchers who allowed eight hits, struck out four and walked 13.

However, the tie did not remain long as the Moose got one run in the top of the fourth when Jimmy Hatton connected for a single, moved to second and third on passed balls and scored on a sacrifice by Carl Abece.

Sadecki Finally Gets Over Hump

By IRWIN FRANK
ST. LOUIS (AP)—"This is what you need to get over the hump," a happy Ray Sadecki said. The hump he was talking about was mighty large.

The 21-year-old left-handed pitcher, who won few friends last week in a hassle with St. Louis Cardinal management, made the remark after he defeated the San Francisco Giants 8-4 Saturday and got his first big league homer.

"What happened during the week is in the past," he said.

Manager Johnny Keane, who had few kind words for the $50,000 bonus baby when he fined him $250, obviously felt the same way. And the fine appeared to have helped to shake the club out of its talisman. The Red Birds, losers of eight in a row before the incident, now have seven straight victories.

"Sadecki looked like the Ray Sadecki we know him to be," Keane said. "He accepted the challenge and pitched like we know he can pitch. We need him. We always counted on him and now we know we can."

Keane fined Sadecki Tuesday night "for the poorest exhibition of effort I have ever seen on a major league diamond" after the pitcher faced five Cincinnati batters in relief and all five scored on two homers and two Sadecki errors.

Sadecki refused to come to work the next day and was suspended by General Manager Bing Devine.

All three stated their views in blunt language before they finally got together at a secret meeting and announced Sadecki was back on the job.

Pirates Turned On Milwaukee

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP)—After losing three doubleheaders within seven days, the Pittsburgh Pirates figured the law of averages was in their favor. So they did a turnaround and made the Milwaukee Braves their victims.

The Pirates broke out of a slump of only one victory in eight games Sunday, avenging a doubleheader setback by Milwaukee Saturday with a sweep of a doubleheader with the Braves 12-8 and 3-2.

"I think you might say we were owed these two," said Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh. "How many doubleheaders can a team lose in a row? Those two losses to Houston last Sunday, two to Los Angeles and then the two to the Braves, really hurt."

Reminded of a statement that he was trying to put his "pitching, hitting and fielding together," Murtaugh grinned and said: "Yeh, we did it today, but not the way I meant. I want it in every game. Luckily, we got hitting in the first game when our pitchers had a little trouble. Then in the second game we got the pitching and our fielding came through."

Bill Mazerowski drove in five runs with a pair of homers, his sixth and seventh of the season, and Dick Schofield batted in four as Bob Friend earned his sixth victory against seven defeats.

Earl Francis allowed only five hits in eight innings of the nightcap, but needed help from Elroy Face after walking the first two batters in the Milwaukee ninth.

Georgians Win NAIA Crown

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Georgia Southern, runner-up two years ago, is the 1962 National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics baseball champion.

The Georgians defeated Portland, Ore., State 2-0 Saturday night in the finals of the five-day double elimination tournament.

Pierce Blanchard, Southern right-hander, extended his season record to 10-1 by striking out 10 and walking three while giving up four hits.

State Bank, Pepsis Win Saturday Teen-er Games

In Saturday's Teen-er League double-header, State Bank defeated Home Builders 7-1 in the opener with Pepsi-Cola downing Planters Bank in the nightcap.

State Bank took a 2-0 lead in the first inning and were never threatened by Home Builders. Tommy Jordan was the winning pitcher while Malcolm Beaman was charged with the loss.

Jordan struck out seven, walked four, and allowed one run on three hits. The win was his first of the year against no defeats. Jordan also led his team at the bat as he slammed a homerun in the fifth to insure his advantage over the Builders.

Beaman, the losing pitcher, lasted only two innings. He struck out two batters, walked

Fast Pit Crew Was Difference

By ROSS HAGEN
ATLANTA (AP)—A razor-sharp pit crew and an uninvited thundershower gave stock car race driver Fred Lorenzen the margin he needed to win the Atlanta 500.

The 27-year-old bachelor from Elmhurst, Ill., claimed first-place money of $15,370 and a three-day trip to Nassau for his victory Sunday in the rain-shortened race.

A drenching deluge halted the race after 330 miles and broke up the most thrilling duel ever staged on the 1½ mile high speed oval.

Lorenzen and Edwin (Bano) Matthews of Asheville, N.C., had battled hub cap to hub cap for nearly 200 miles before the elements stopped the race.

A crowd of approximately 45,000 shouted itself hoarse as Lorenzen and Matthews battled for the lead. Lightning work by Lorenzen's pit crew made the difference—twice the young Ford driver's service men got him back into the race faster than the crew working on Matthews' Pontiac.

David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., took advantage of a Matthews pit stop just before the rains came to grab second place. Matthews came in third. It was a heart-breaking loss for the 30-year-old auto repair man who had won the pole position and was shooting for his first major NASCAR victory in several years.

Bobby Johns of Miami, Fla., took fourth place in a 1962 Pontiac and Glenn (Fireball) Roberts of Daytona Beach, Fla., drove a new Pontiac to fifth.

Rounding out the top ten were Troy Ruttman of Dearborn, Mich.; Paul Goldsmith of St. Clair Shores, Mich.; Marvin Panch of Daytona Beach; Robert (Junior) Johnson of Ronda, N.C.; and Jim Paschal of High Point, N.C.

Brand captured another title to go with the AAU freestyle crown he won earlier in the week by taking top place in the 213.5 pound division and also was named outstanding wrestler in the tournament which ended Sunday night.

The seven-man Japanese squad, which won five of the eight freestyle titles, finished with three Greco-Roman championships, two second places and one third.

Greenville's Legion Team Soars To Fifth Victory; Beat Ahoskie, 6-3

The Greenville American Legion baseball team, coached by Ray Pennington, soared to their fifth victory of the season Saturday night as they defeated Ahoskie 6-3.

Greenville opened the scoring in the top of the third as they tallied three runs on three hits. Jimmy Rogers, the winning pitcher, led the frame off as he singled to bring Bobby Hobgood to the plate. Hobgood reached first safely on an error by the Ahoskie infield. With two outs and runners on first and second, clean-up hitter Wayne Britton cleaned up with a home-run to give Greenville a 3-0 lead.

In the top of the sixth local Post 39 scored one on a walk and an error. Hobgood led the inning off with his first walk of the night. With two outs, Britton collected another RBI as he hit a fly ball to leftfield which the leftfielder errored allowing Hobgood to score.

Greenville Collects Two—Greenville continued to score as they came in the sixth to collect two runs on one hit. Garland Little and Rogers both reached base safely on Ahoskie errors and Hobgood followed with a walk to load the bases. Billy James came through with his first hit of the night as he singled to score Little and Rogers.

Ahoskie fought hard in the seventh and eighth innings to tally three runs on four hits. One of the hits was a two-run homer by Ruffin Odum in the seventh. However, Ahoskie could not get back in the contest as Post 39 sailed to a 6-3 victory.

Rogers Wins
Rogers was the winning pitcher as he collected his second win of the season. He struck out nine, walked one, and gave up three runs on seven hits. Greenville travels to Raleigh Tuesday night and return home on Wednesday to meet Ahoskie. The home contest will be played in Guy Smith Stadium at 7:45.

Johansson And Rossi Comeback Bouts Tonight

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
Ingemar Johansson and Paolo Rosi, a couple of fighters who had their day of glory, make new bids for world title fights in the coming week.

Johansson, the former world and European heavyweight ruler, aims to regain the European crown in a 15-round title fight with Welshman Dick Richardson, the defender, at Goteborg, Sweden, Sunday, June 17.

The big Swede has high hopes of meeting the winner of the Sept. 25 title fight between champion Floyd Patterson and Sonny Liston. Rosi, who was stopped on cuts in the title fight with world lightweight champion Joe Brown three years ago, takes on slick Carlos Hernandez, third ranking lightweight contender, in the television (ABC TV 9 p.m., EST) fight of the week at New York's Madison Square Garden Saturday night. The winner may get a crack at newly crowned lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz. Hernandez is from Venezuela. Rosi is an Italian now living in New York.

There is an international touch to most of the other key fights of the week.

At Glasgow, Scotland, Thursday, middleweight contender Henry Hank of Detroit, meets John (Cowboy) McCormack, the former European middleweight champion from Glasgow.

At Rome, Italy, Friday night, Chuck Garrett of Chicago opposes light heavyweight contender Giulio Rinaldi of Italy, in a 10-rounder, and France's Graciere Lamperti and Italy's Lino Mastellaro clash for the European featherweight crown.

Los Angeles (AP)—The sacred-sanctum has been breached—the press box at Chavez Ravine was invaded for the first time by a female guest.

Since the invader was Juliet Prowse, nobody complained. Sportswriters caught a wink of milk and turned to see the dancer and Eddie Fisher.

They were invited in by columnist Walter Winchell during Sunday's doubleheader between the Kansas City Athletics and the Los Angeles Angels.

Miss Prowse prowled through, followed by the scent of perfume and every eye, then returned with Fisher to their box seats.

THE DARK RIDER

A Racing Novel of Suspense by GERALDINE THAYER

CHAPTER 19

"In all fairness to Casey Jeffries," Ira Pendleton told his daughter, "I'll admit that if Claude Barton accepts him, he must be all right, even if he has lied about his relationship. Casey still lives with him, I understand, so that means Claude trusts him."

"What do you think Lieutenant Fallon will do about Casey?" Julie asked worriedly.

"Lieutenant Fallon is a wise man. He won't make any trouble unless he's certain it can't be avoided. I'd say he'll do nothing unless Casey forces his hand."

"You say that as if you expect Casey to get into trouble?"

Ira wagged his head solemnly. "You have to admit he's an unusual young man. Certainly he has some sort of mission here and he won't speak of it."

"Perhaps we worry about Casey too much."

"Quite possibly you're right. Would you like to ask him to be our guest at the Derby tomorrow? In our box?"

Julie rejected the idea. "I'd rather not. I'm Britt's fiancée now and Casey has drawn a clear picture of how he feels about me."

"I could scratch Templar—" Ira offered weakly.

"Oh, no! No, Daddy—it's wonderfully generous of you to even think of such a thing, but no. If Lysander is going to win, he'll have to beat Templar."

"All right," Ira said, "we'll ride it up with Lorne and Britt."

"Scratch Templar?" Julie said in amazement. "No horse from our farm has ever been scratched in the Derby. I want Templar to win. I'll yell my head off for him to win. Britt will have to accept it if he does."

"Might even be a good test for that young man. Well, it's time to get Templar ready. Did Britt say anything about bringing Lysander to the track today?"

"Britt talks about how wonderful Lysander is, but he never breathes one word about their plans for him. Honestly, Dad, that horse is as much of a mystery as Casey Jeffries."

"Probably they'll both be settled tomorrow. A horse race solves a lot of things sometimes."

Julie drifted out to the paddock shortly after her solitary lunch. Templar had already been taken to the track in the special trailer, but Mickey Stanhope, the jockey who would ride Templar in tomorrow's race, was in the tack room.

He was a small, baby-faced, tough little rider who'd ridden seven Derby races with two winners. He lived for horses and racing.

Julie, in riding togs, sat down on the edge of the tack room table. "Well, Mickey," she asked, "what do you think?"

"It all depends on Lysander, Miss Julie. We can beat all the other horses in a walk, but Lysander—I don't know. I've asked a lot of questions, especially of jocks who raced in California, where Lysander did most of his working out."

"Is he as fast as Britt Fabian claims?"

"I'm afraid so. He's got a pretty good pedigree, too."

"Really? I haven't checked the registration books, so I don't know anything about that."

"His dam is Lorne Fabian's Carthage and he was sired by Naham, a western stallion. That's a pretty good mama and papa."

Julie nodded slowly. This was not cheerful news and it was no wonder Britt had refused to talk about the horse.

"Indeed," she said, with a genuine show of worry, "a fine set of parents."

"We've got a lot of horse to beat in Lysander, but we've also got a lot of horse to do it with. Templar's never been in better form. Miss Julie, I breezed him a bit this morning and he's itching to go."

"As a filly, Carthage won everything in sight," Julie said thoughtfully. "Do you know anything about Naham?"

"Only what the western jocks tell me—and I don't like it. He was no great shakes as a fast runner, but he had exceptional strength and stamina. He ran his last race with a leg that went bad at the half, but he was right there at the finish. They thought they'd have to destroy him, but things worked out okay."

"Templar's blood line is good too, don't forget that, Mickey."

The jockey smiled. "I'm not apt to. I know Templar like a brother. If he's lucky enough to draw an inside start tomorrow, I'll hold him at the rail. He doesn't like crowding and when I give him his head, he's going to try and walk away. If I don't draw the inside start, I'll give him his head right from the first furlong. Templar runs free and easy and wants plenty of room. Unfortunately, Lysander seems to be about the same."

Julie slid off the edge of the table and walked to the wall, where she studied the photographs of Pendleton Farms past entries in the Derby.

She'd never known any other life but this. The tackroom was part of it, for here were the smells of liniment and old leather. The Pendleton colors had been born in this very room, long before she was. The green-and-amber striped silks had romped home with many winners and the green had been a Triple crown all of the nation's three most important races—the Derby, the Preakness, the Belmont Stakes—won by a Pendleton entry.

Julie knew her father had often worried about the continuation of his colors in the important races. She knew he felt she alone might not be able to manage, though she was sure she could. Now, however, she would soon marry the green and violet striped crown all of the nation's three most important races—the Derby, the Preakness, the Belmont Stakes—won by a Pendleton entry.

Exchange Rate Change Unlikely

OTTAWA (AP)—Finance Minister Donald M. Fleming said Sunday night Canada will not consider any change from the present Canadian dollar exchange rate of 92½ cents to the U.S. dollar.

Fleming said in a statement: "We are determined to maintain the 92½-cent rate against pressures of any sort."

Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton was quoted by newsmen, Friday as saying that he supports a further devaluation of the dollar exchange rate to 90 cents. He said the 92½-cent rate, established May 3, was in effect a compromise among Cabinet members and asserted the 90-cent level is "a natural peg which is defensible with our negative trade balance."

The Farm Scene

By S. C. WINCHESTER

JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH—This is a time to emphasize the importance of milk and milk products in the human diet. A time for all people to examine their diet and determine if enough dairy products are included. May I suggest that you do just that.

We do not say that you cannot live without milk but we do believe you will live better if you drink milk.

The Area 10 Dairy Princess Contest will be held in Greenville on Friday Night, June 15 at 8 o'clock in the Community Room of Wachovia Bank and Trust Company, Area 10, includes counties of Beaufort, Greene, Hyde, Lenoir, and Pitt. On Saturday, June 16 at 9 a. m., a "Mayor's Milking Contest" will be held on the Moose Lodge Parking Lot. Following this a parade of the Area and County Dairy Princesses will be held. The parade will start at the Moose Lodge, up Dickinson Avenue to Five Points, North on Evans Street to Third Street, West on Third Street to Washington Street and South on Washington Street to Wachovia Bank & Trust Company Parking Lot.

Some wonderful new things are happening in Pitt County.

In the area of weed and grass control. Many growers have used the materials for controlling weeds and grass in cotton, peanut, and corn fields. The pre-emergence weed control in these crops will control weeds from three-to-twelve weeks depending upon the crop or material used. Generally the materials will control weeds and grass allowing the crop to grow to sufficient size to allow for other methods of control.

This week, for the first time, a few growers are trying a new method of weed and grass control in cotton that has reached a size of 8-10 inches. This method is called "Flame Cultivation." The weeds and grass are literally burned and later die leaving the cotton without competition from these pests. The method makes use of bottled gas which is fed to burners near each side of the cotton row. These burners generate a flame of 1800 F. Intensity of burn is controlled two ways: (1) Gas pressure to the burner, and (2) Speed of the tractor moving burners along side the row. The idea is to drive slowly enough to burn grass and weeds but fast enough to keep from damaging the cotton. Cost of bottled gas for flame cultivation runs about 70 cents per acre.

JUST WANTED SPECS

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The expression "blind as a bat" didn't apply in this case. A huge bat flew into a downtown store forcing evacuation of employees and a call to a pest-control crew. The name of the store: Economy Optical Co.

Tobacco Tips

By S. J. WEEKS
Pitt County Tobacco Agent

Black shank is one of the most destructive tobacco diseases. It spreads rapidly and a large portion of a crop can be destroyed in a short time when susceptible varieties are grown. Serious losses often occur when resistant varieties are grown, especially when tobacco is not grown in rotation with crops that are resistant to the black shank fungus.

Black shank was first identified in North Carolina in 1930. In 1936, it was found on the Sam Worthington farm near Winterville. Since that time it has spread to all sections of Pitt County and eastern North Carolina.

The use of resistant varieties has reduced the losses caused by this dreadful disease; but it still costs growers millions of dollars each year.

The several black shank resistant varieties that are being grown vary in the level of resistance to the disease. The available black shank resistant varieties are rated according to their level of resistance as carrying a high, moderate, or low level of resistance.

It is very important for the tobacco grower to know as much as possible about the level of black shank infestation on his farm. One way to obtain this information is to observe closely the amount of tobacco that is lost from black shank with varieties carrying different levels of resistance. The type of rotation being followed and the prevailing weather conditions are also factors to consider when making an appraisal of your black shank infestation.

For example, if you are growing a variety with moderate resistance this year in a two-year rotation, and black shank losses are heavy, you should consider growing a variety with a higher level of resistance when tobacco is planted in this field again.

If you are not sure which disease is killing your tobacco, you will be glad to visit your field and help determine which disease is present.

Disturbances Laid To Test

TOKYO (AP)—The Central Meteorological Agency said today its stations throughout the country registered abnormal atmospheric disturbances believed to have been caused by the U.S. nuclear device exploded over Christmas Island Sunday.

The agency estimated they were caused by a blast of "several air masses" in the vicinity of Christmas Island.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved moderately lower early this afternoon in sluggish trading.

Reflecting the decline, The Associated Press average at noon was down .90 at 220.90, with industrials down 1.30, rails off .40 and utilities off .60.

A good many stocks were unchanged and many showed thin losses but some declines of pivotal issues were more than a point. Here and there a stock rose from a fraction to around a point.

The market was two weeks away from "Blue Monday," May 28, when the list took its sharpest dive since 1929.

Most market commentators still saw stocks in a period of consolidation which could last a considerable time before a decisive movement is made one way or another.

Losses of more than a point by AT&T, Eastman Kodak and Du Pont helped drag down the market averages. Among other key stocks, Standard Oil (New Jersey), U.S. Steel, Kennecott, Consolidated Edison and Allied Chemical dipped fractions.

IBM slid off half a dozen points in a routine movement. Polaroid was off about 4, again nothing unusual.

Merck fought the downtrend with a gain exceeding a point. Lockheed and American Tobacco were among fractional gainers.

Ford, off about a point, was the worst of the autos. General Motors eased, Chrysler dropped a fraction.

Steels and rails were unchanged to very slightly lower. Losers included Bethlehem, Southern Railway and Chesapeake & Ohio.

Edging below the significant 600 level, the Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 2.22 at 599.39.

Prices were irregular in slow trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were fairly steady on balance.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA) — Hog prices steady to mostly 25 higher. Tops of 16.25-17.25 Wilson; 16-17, Nahunta, Kinston, New Bern.

Benson, Mount Olive, Newton Grove; 16.25-16.75 Rocky Mount; 16-16.50 Smithfield, Pembroke; Spring Hope; 16.75 Tarboro, Enfield, Scotland Neck, Murfreesboro, Robersonville, Rich Square, Bethel; 16.50 Greensboro, 16.25 Goldsboro, Albemarle, 16 Siler City, Lillington.

Wilson cash cattle prices steady. Steers and heifers choice 24-26.50, good 23.50-24.50; standards, 18-22, beef cows 14.50-17, canners and cutters 12.50-15, light bulls 12-16, heavy bulls 16-19.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA) — North Carolina poultry markets: Fryers and broilers steady. Farm price 13 1/2. Some sales under contracts and agreements up to three-fourths of a cent higher. Delivered plant price 14 1/4 to 14 3/4.

Two Weekend Mishaps In City

Two weekend mishaps investigated by police caused an estimated $850 damage to the vehicles involved, it was reported today.

Officers said heaviest damage was done when cars driven by Robert Edward Morris, 53-year-old Negro, and John Wiley Wilkins, 80-year-old Negro, collided near the intersection of Howell and Brown Sts. Sunday.

Investigators reported that both cars were in a funeral procession and the accelerator on the Wilkins auto stuck, causing the car to hit the Morris vehicle.

Damage to the Morris car was set at $300 while damage to the Wilkins vehicle was placed at $250.

No charges were placed in the 5:25 p.m. mishap.

Thomas Doughty, 31-year-old Negro of Route 2, Greenville, was charged with failing to see his intended movement could be made in a safely following investigation of the second mishap, Saturday about 6:25 p.m.

Officers said the Doughty auto collided with a car driven by John Lewis Brown, 30-year-old Negro of Washington, D.C., at the intersection of First and Washington Sts. Damage to each car was estimated to be about $150.

Cheaper To Buy Wheat In U.S.

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Premier Constantine Caramanlis is trying to get Greek farmers to grow less wheat because it is cheaper to obtain American surplus stocks under U.S. aid programs.

Caramanlis urged Greece's 250,000 farmers in a speech Sunday to cut down "harmful and wasteful wheat production which is disadvantageous to the consumer."

He said Greece's wheat production, high enough to meet all requirements, made it impossible to receive U.S. surplus commodity aid.

American surpluses, he said, would not only secure cheap bread, but also provide considerable gains to the national budget.

Caramanlis said his government will continue to protect wheat producers by guaranteeing them a price of 2,700 drachmas—$90—a ton.

The sheriff said investigation showed that Smith's wife was saying at her father's home, Smith allegedly fired a .22 caliber rifle in the Anderson home around 12:30 Sunday morning.

Sheriff Andrews said Smith has been placed under $2,500 bond in Pitt County Jail. He will be given a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Luther Moore.

The sheriff said other persons are involved in the case and investigation is continuing.

Those attending from Greenville were Heber Adams, Marjorie Dean Allen Blister, Pauline Bell Roberson, Elizabeth Bridgers Wilkerson, Leonard Briley, Layton Clark, Jack Edwards, Rachel Fleming Edwards, Hazel Fornes Moss, John Ray Hardy, Wesley Johnston, Sarah Jones, George Garrett, John Saeed, Margaret Savage Cannon, Leon Smith, Jr., Helen Sparrow Tucker, G.
