Harold Thomas, professional at the Greenville Golf and Country Club for the past 22 years, is purchasing Brook Valley Country Club, it was announced today.

Thomas is purchasing the 18-hole championship golf course, its buildings and the swimming pool from the corporation which built the club three years ago.

The new owner of the club will serve as professional there, and is resigning as pro at Greenville Golf and Country Club. Both will take effect on March 1.

"We hope to make improvements both in the course and in the club facilities," Thomas said. He added that while he had many plans for the club, most were in the thinking stage at this time, and would be announced later.

"We do plan to have Ed O'Sullivan, the greens superintendent, remain with the club," he said.

Thomas also said that plans are being made to expand the club house for the addition of a ballroom. This would be done by building a new pro shop at the southeast corner of the building. This would extend out towards the present parking lot, and the addition will include a larger kitchen.

"We hope that all members of Brook Valley will give their full support and help to make the club the finest in Eastern North Carolina."

Thomas, 48, is a native of Cramerton, near Mt. Holly. He graduated from Mt. Holly High School in 1936, while caddying, selling candy and newspapers as a student. Following graduation he began working for the American Yarn and Processing Company, where he managed the company's golf course in Mt. Holly. While he gave lessons, he was still considered an amateur. He remained there until 1940, going to school part time at Belmont Abbey. In 1940, however, he was called into the service, and became a member of the Army Air Corps.

Following his basic training, he was sent to Langley Field, Va., where he was assigned to special services and worked with Jack Isaacs at the Langley golf course. He and Isaacs built and ran the nine-hole course there. Isaacs, after finishing his military career, returned to the club as professional and completed the 18-hole layout, now the Langley Air Force Base Golf Club.

Following his release from the service in November, 1945, Thomas returned to his home and decided on a career as a golfer. His first opportunity came just a few months later, and in February, 1946, he came to Greenville to become pro here. He has remained at the club since then, a 22-year tenure, topping nearly every other professional in the state.

Thomas, because of his experience in the service and at the Mt. Holly club, was immediately given a Class A pro ranking in the PGA, which he has maintained since then. He has watched the Greenville Club grow from 40 members to over 400. "When I first came here, the dues were only three dollars, plus tax," he said, noting the progress of the club.

Shortly afterwards, he also became the Eastern North Carolina representative for Marketeer Golf Carts, a franchise he still holds.

Thomas was married to Carolyn Pierce of Mt. Holly and had three children, Robert, now a pro at Chicora Country Club in Dunn; Ellen, a sophomore at Atlantic Christian; and Carol, a sophomore at Rose High School. Mrs. Thomas died in 1963.

In 1964, he married a widow, Mrs. Jeanette Hackney Atmore, and now has two stepchildren, George Atmore, stationed in Vietnam, and (Continued On Page 20)

Hostility To Tax Increases And Spending

Cool Reaction In Congress To 'State Of The Union' Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's State of the Union remarks on peace prospects drew a frigid response from some fellow Democrats and other initial congressional reaction pointed to continued hostility toward increases in taxes and spending.

Johnson told Congress Wednesday night that if a basis for peace talks can be established with North Vietnam his hope would be for a complete cease-fire as the first order of business.

His brief remarks on the prospects for peace drew applause—but not from Democratic Sens. Robert F. Kennedy of New York and J. William Fulbright of Arkansas. They are two leading critics of Johnson's war policy.

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, seeking the Democratic presidential nomination on a platform of opposition to Johnson's Vietnam policies, said: "We still are told the nation can wage and win two wars—the one in Vietnam and the war on poverty. We are waging one, but not winning either."

The President's renewed appeal for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge, coupled with his announcement that spending would be increased by some $10.4 billion, drew criticism or opposition from such prominent Democrats as Sen. William Proxmire, chairman of the joint Economic Committee and Sen. Russell B. Long, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. Republicans joined in the attack.

But other Democrats came to the President's support, including Speaker John W. McCormack and House Democratic Leader Carl Albert.

The key congressman on the tax issue, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, of the House Ways and Means Committee, declined comment, saying he wanted to see Johnson's spending figures first. The budget is due for presentation to Congress by Jan. 29. Mills has been maintaining that unless there is a significant spending cut he would not go along with a tax hike.

Long, Mills' counterpart in the Senate, said he's still opposed to a surtax.

Proxmire said he was "disappointed the President failed to recommend sharp reductions in public works and space spending, and that he continues to press with such force for a big increase in taxes. This is a serious economic mistake."

Proxmire said he did "welcome the President's decision to call for the removal of the gold cover requirement that will free more than $10 billion in gold to meet our international obligations." Chairman Wright Patman of the House Banking Committee also endorsed this proposal.

Chairman George H. Mahon of the House Appropriations Committee, a Democrat, generally endorsed Johnson's speech.

But he added that "in all but the imperative necessities, we ought to close our eyes to each and every increase requested over the present level."

The senior Republican on Mahon's committee, Rep. Frank T. Bow of Ohio, said Johnson's budget figures are too high. He said he would begin a campaign at once to cut spending by $8 billion. Bow led a successful drive last year to cut spending by about $4.1 billion.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford also indicated there will be a strong GOP push for spending cuts rather than support for a tax boost.

'Really True' Cease-Fire In Vietnam Is Goal
Call For Greater Effort Against Crime Drew Enthusied Response

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson proposes expanding the war against crime and big-city problems and lists a "really true" cease-fire as a priority goal in any Vietnam peace talks. The President, in his Wednesday night State of the Union message to Congress, again urged enactment of a 10 per cent income tax hike to help pay for new attacks on unemployment and slum housing.

Johnson said it would take a $10.4 billion boost in spending to

Many members of Congress did not attend the joint session. Johnson's renewed demand that North Vietnam respond with military restraint to a halt in U.S. bombing found such war-policy critics as Sens. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., and Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., responding with silence amid applause.

Johnson drew greater applause in calling for a $2.1 billion program aimed at creating jobs for 500,000 hard-core jobless through federal-private business cooperation and a $100 million slum rebuilding program.

In another major domestic proposal, the President suggested a 10-year program to provide six million new housing units for low and middle-income families. He prefaced his domestic proposals, which included calls for new prenatal care and consumer protection programs, by saying:

"In our cities last summer, we saw how wide is the gulf for some Americans between the promise and the reality of our society.

"We cannot change all of this in a day . . . The issue is whether we can change this. I know we can. I believe we will."

Johnson's estimate that the Southeast Asia conflict will cost $25 billion in the fiscal year beginning July 1 was immediately disputed by Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the House Republican conference. Laird said the cost will be nearer $30 billion.

Asking for 100 additional FBI agents, the president predicted the nation will change frustrations into achievements to alleviate the despair in "the cities where the fires of disorder burned last summer."

"We can make progress only by attacking the causes of violence and only where there is civil order founded on justice," he said.

Only Isolated Cases Remain

"By noon today, everyone who has called in should have electricity," Greenville Utilities Director Leonard Bloxam said this morning.

Bloxam noted that there may be a few isolated cases without power, but he said that service should be restored to all known cases today. He said utilities customers who do not have service should call the Commission's office, 752-7166, and report the trouble, being sure to give exact address and location.

Street light circuits and the city fire alarm system will be restored, the utilities head explained, as soon as possible after service has been restored to all customers.

Bloxam noted that all street circuits are out and that only individually controlled street lights are in operation.

Last week's ice storm also put the city's fire alarm system out of operation. The system includes some 35 1/2 miles of wiring, connecting 117 fire alarm boxes with the central fire station.

Earlier this week, Fire Chief J. L. Jones urged Greenville citizens to report all fires by telephone and not depend on the fire alarm system until further notice.

Bloxam, who said he did not know how much damage was done to the fire alarm circuits, reported that once utilities men were able to start work on the system, "work will move along rather rapidly." He explained that the Commission crews did not have to worry about working with hot wires and can replace the wiring quickly.

Bloxam expressed the hope that the commission will be able to begin releasing some of the contract crews sometime after lunch today.

The Utilities Commission by Wednesday, had brought in more than 150 men from construction contractors to aid in rebuilding power lines and restoring service to Greenville and Pitt County customers.

Linwood Langley, manager of Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company's Greenville office said 280 telephones were still out of order this morning. He explained that 411 telephones were out as of Wednesday morning, while an additional 171 were reported out of order during the day. In all, 302 telephones were restored to service during the day yesterday.

Temperatures today — one week after the crippling ice storm struck — stood at 33 degrees at mid-morning, the Greenville Utilities weather station reported. Temperatures at 8 a.m. stood at 26 degrees.

Wednesday's low reading was reported as 24 degrees while the daytime high Wednesday was 50 degrees.

The Tar River level today was 14.5 feet and rising, while the wind was from the North-east and calm at zero to one mile per hour. The barometric pressure stood at 30.3 inches of mercury.

Officials from Pitt County and municipalities in surrounding areas met in Greenville this morning with representatives from the State Civil Defense Agency to review damage caused by last week's storm in an effort to secure the monetary aid in restoring the service.

Representing the State CD agency were Col. David Spivey, commander of Area A from Washington, N. C., and John Davis, State CD engineer.

Davis told the group he had been instructed by Governor Dan Moore "to gather your estimates of what you figure will be a necessary amount to restore operations to a temporary basis."

Col. Spivey said assistance to local governments would apply to only public owned property. He stated the federal law under which aid might be ob-finance on-going programs in reporting the fiscal 1969 budget would reach a record $186 billion—with a built-in $8 billion deficit sure to go higher if the tax boost isn't approved.

Only when he called for federal action to aid cities and states in combatting crime and to halt "mail order murder" through gun-control legislation did the President get enthusiastic reaction from the lawmakers during his 51-minute, nationally tele-

Davis said aid will cover utilities and clearance of debris. He added that the governor will contact the Office of Emergency Planning to make the appeal.

Greenville Utilities Director Leonard Bloxam said the commission's cost for restoring service on a temporary basis was estimated at $114,600. Bloxam pointed out that this will not cover permanent restoration.

Included in the damage figure was $21,000 for the city electric distribution system, $2,500 for street lighting and $1,600 for the fire alarm system. Bloxam added that restoration of rural lines in the country will cost approximately $84,000.

Cox Honored By Local Kiwanians For Service

W. Riley Cox was named "Kiwanian of the Year" last night for outstanding service to the Greenville Kiwanis Club.

Cox, vice president and manager of the Greenville branch of North Carolina Equipment Co., has been a member of the Kiwanis Club for 12 years.

A native of Winterville, Cox attended Winterville Schools and graduated from Wake Forest University with a B. S. degree in mathematics in 1949. He served in the U. S. Navy during World War II.

A member of St. James Methodist Church, Cox is married to the former Gay Marrow of Roper and they have two children.

Arthur Alford and Pete Hargett received certificates for their outstanding work in the Kiwanis Club last year. Alford was presented the award for his fine work as program chairman for the club.

Death Ruled Due To Accidental Strangulation

The death of a four-month old baby here early this morning was listed by Pitt County Coroner E. W. Harvey, as accidental, from strangulation.

Cynthia Ann Williams was reported dead on arrival at Pitt Memorial Hospital after Greenville Rescue Squad men, called about 6:45 a.m., transported the baby to the hospital.

Coroner Harvey said the infant had apparently been dead for "three or four hours." He reported the child's father, Cecil Williams of 1305A Broad St., said the child was found "between the mattress and crib railing . . . her chin resting on the mattress and her feet hanging toward the floor."

Coffman Elected Director Of First Federal Savings, Loan

George S. Coffman of Greenville was elected to the Board of Directors of First Federal Savings and Loan Association at the annual stockholders meeting last night.

First Federal president Dink James presided at the meeting that saw reelection of the following board members: Judge Dink James, C. B. Tugwell, A. R. Barrett, C. Frank Dail, K. G. Hite, R. L. King, Dr. M. B. Massey, John F. Minges and M. K. Blount, emeritus.

Coffman, named to a three-year term on the board, is a native of Elgins, West Virginia and a graduate of Virginia Military Institute.

He served two years as an Air Force officer after attending one year of graduate school at Wharton School of Finance, University of Pennsylvania.

After working with The Pure Oil Company's marketing department at the Charlotte division office, for two years, Coffman opened Coffman's Mens Wear here in 1956. He is a member of the Greenville Rotary Club, past president and recipient of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Distinguished Service Award, and a member of the board of directors of the Pitt County United Fund.

Coffman is married to the former Martha Dillard Snyder of Farmville, Va., and they have two children.

Clarence B. Tugwell, First Federal's executive vice-president, presented the annual report to the stockholders.

Tugwell said the association invested $2,583,000 in mortgage loans on homes in Greenville and Pitt County during 1967 and reported mortgage loans on the company's books totaled $15,056,000, representing about 1,700 homes.

This Woman Driver Is Headed For Trouble

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: What's wrong with one of the smartest women in town who's so convinced that she can't pass the driver's test that she's been driving without a license for ten years?

I try to tell her that all she has to do is read the driver's manual, then go take a test, and maybe drive around the block a few times with the examining officer. But she won't believe me.

What can I do? She's a good driver, but I can't persuade her to get a license. A husband can't turn his wife into the police, but I am tempted.

AVIGNON France (WNS) — Mireille Duval, 21, accepted the wedding proposal of Jacques Mirotte, 26, who promptly bought her a lottery ticket in a spirit of lucky happiness. When Mlle. Next fall will be too late because many of the girls will have graduated or transferred. My happiness will not really be complete unless I can share it with those who are so close to me.

How can I persuade my boy friend that a few months won't make that much difference, and that we should become engaged before the school year is over?

DEAR EAGER: You probably can't. And if you are wise you won't pressure him. Wait until he is 21 and don't press your luck.

DEAR ABBY: I am in my early 20's and have been married a little over a year to a divorced man (I'll call Jerry) who has two children by a former marriage. Jerry's wife has remarried.

During the first year of our marriage, we visited his children SIX times, and our second year is starting out the same way. Abby, I am sick to death of these flying trips half-way across the country. We have no children yet, and I hesitate to have any until this problem is solved. I feel that Jerry is not being fair to our marriage with these frequent trips. I realize that he has obligations to his children, but when he married me he took on new obligations and responsibilities, my happiness being one of them.

I didn't marry Jerry to live in the past with him, and I think two trips a year would be sufficient. He had no reason to feel guilty about the divorce since he neither wanted nor caused it. How can I solve my problem before it becomes more serious?

TIRED OF TRIPS
DEAR TIRED: You are wise to postpone having a child until you "solve your problem." Test your child be added to Jerry's list of children-to-visit.

In view of your resentment, unless you and Jerry can agree on how many trips to visit his children is "too many," don't count on a lasting marriage.

Flame-Proof Fabric That's Attractive For The Future

By VIVIAN BROWN
 AP Newsfeature's Writer

We are nearing the day when the flame of a match will go out when it is dropped on bedclothes or upholstery says Dr. Giuliana Tesoro, a well-known chemist in the field of textiles.

She was commenting on the fact that the Flammable Fabrics Act of 1953 which has just been extended was brought about by the discovery that certain sweaters and children's cowboy chaps, mostly imported, blazed explosively when touched with a match.

Now the act will give the government the authority to establish standards for such articles as blankets, draperies, rugs and upholstery.

President Johnson, when he signed the new bill, declared to invited guests and members of Congress that the law was a major achievement for consumers.

The American textile industry hasn't exactly been sitting idle. For example, flame retardant fabrics are available, but in some cases problems with stiffness and air permeability have made the articles too unattractive for consumer appeal.

Triumph over these obstacles is at hand in Dr. Tesoro's laboratory, and "it is fair to say that we have the answers on a development basis," she explains.

Big Change For 'The Silent Ones'

AMSTERDAM, Netherland (WNS) — The Yeah Club, which features noisy beat groups of the male sex, has just engaged five girls who call themselves "The Silent Ones." Beppie Van Est, head of the group, explained, "We don't sing or make music or anything. We just stand around and look pretty and change our mini-skirts on stage. It is quite a relief from all that noise."

Dr. Tesoro heads the Research Division of the Information Council on Fabric Flammability that includes representatives of government and safety groups, chemical and textile industries, retail merchandisers, insurance companies, physicians and lawyers. She directs a staff of 52 at J.P. Stevens and Co., Inc. where she has conducted research for 10 years.

Italian-born Dr. Tesoro is the only woman ever to win the Olney Medal of the American Association of Textile Chemists and Colorists. She received her Ph.D. at Yale and has more than two dozen patents for textile products and processes, including her work in fire retardants. For the latter she has one patent issued by Great Britain and six pending in the United States and other major industrial countries.

She explains that, in general, a fabric is harmless after it is treated because the chemical becomes part of the fiber and cannot diffuse or evaporate. But there always will be people allergic to such fabrics.

She works mainly with cotton and rayon and with some synthetics, but wool is the single fiber that is the most attractive and versatile in her opinion.

"Lots of things are taking over from wool," she points out, "but if you want the best, you always wind up buying wool whether it's a carpet or a suit."

Program On Fashions Of India For Faculty Wives

It was "saree" night Tuesday evening at the meeting of the East Carolina University Faculty Wives Club when Mrs. Umesh C. Gulati and Mrs. Prem P. Sehgal presented an informal program on fashions of India at 8:00 o'clock in the Bucanear Room.

The program began with Mrs. Sehgal giving a brief description of the fashions. According to Mrs. Sehgal, there are at least four or five different types of outfits worn by girls and women of all ages. The saree is the national dress of India and is worn by young girls after they reach the age of 13 or 14 years. Most of the minors wear western type clothing.

Mrs. Sehgal stated that a saree consists of six yards of material draped around the body, pleated in front, and then thrown over the shoulders. Sarees are made of many different types of material from very simple cotton voile to elaborate brocades, heavy silks, georgettes, hand or machine embroidered. She also stated that checks and stripes are worn.

Mrs. Gulati modeled the various types of costumes described by Mrs. Sehgal and answered questions. She first appeared in her wedding dress which was a saree made of red georgette embroidered in silver braid. She stated that wedding dresses in India are made of material in various shades of red or pink. According to Mrs. Gulati, "arranged marriage" is still the custom, however some young people do have a romance and get married. This, she said, is called "love marriage."

The red mark on the forehead of a female indicates that she is a married person," said Mrs. Gulati.

Other fashions modeled by Mrs. Gulati included: the salwar-kameez and dupatta which consists of loose fitting trousers and tunic which is very much like the American shift. The dupatta is two and one-half yards of material draped over the shoulders. The churidar-pajama-kameez and dupatta is similar except the pants are very tight fitting.

The garara-kameez and dupatta costume was adopted from the Moslem dress. The tunic of this costume was made of white satin and the very full flowing ankle length culotte style was made of georgette. This is a very fashionable dress in India and is worn, according to Mrs. Sehgal, by the more wealthy women.

Mrs. James Smith, faculty wife, served as a model as Mrs. Sehgal demonstrated how a saree is draped around the body.

Many sarees were on display, and pictures of different styles worn in the 16 states of India were shown.

Most women in India have long hair and wear it either in a bun or let it hang braided down the back; some, however, wear western hair styles. Jewelry is always a part of the attire of a well-dress Indian lady. The jewelry usually consists of precious stones, gold or silver bracelets and necklaces which are given in the bride's dowry. They also wear dangle ear rings and bangles added the speaker.

Mrs. Joseph N. LeConte and Mrs. Robert W. Leith were co-chairmen for the meeting.

A business session was conducted prior to the program, and the evening ended with refreshments being served.

Year Books Distributed At Meeting Of Credit Women

The recent meeting of the Greenville Credit Women's International was highlighted by the presentation to members of the organization's 1968-69 year book.

President Jo Dees welcomed three new members, Sylvia Coward, of the local Credit Bureau, Pearl Hartsell, with Bostic-Sugg, and Lillian D. Smith, associated with James E. Phelps, Accountant.

Discussion of the evening centered around a review of the bylaws and constitution, and objectives of Credit-Women International. The discussion was led by Mildred Porter.

Members were given a report by the president on the fall board meeting of the North Carolina Credit Women International held in Salisbury. It was announced that the Dixie Council Credit Women's Conference will be held in Nashville Tenn., March 16-20.

Plans were finalized in a special meeting last night for a brunswick stew sale, which will be held Saturday, Jan. 20.

Orders for homemade stew may be placed by calling the President Jo Dees, 756-2105, or 756-2602. Orders will be accepted through Friday. Deliveries will be made anywhere in Greenville.

Your family will think those buttered green beans are extra tasty if you top them with crumbled crisply cooked bacon.

To make bacon curls, twirl whole bacon slices on a fork while you are cooking them. This takes a little dexterity, but it's fun!

Preserving The Historical Setting

Designing the new Bath post office to match the restored Palmer-Marsh House is a step in the right direction for preserving the rich historical heritage of that Eastern North Carolina community.

The Post Office Department has announced the special design for the $17,000 leased facility in historical Bath.

The announcement said the post office's front exterior will closely resemble the Palmer-Marsh house which was built in 1744. Windows will be identical and an aesthetic chimney will match the Palmer-Marsh chimney, even to its cap.

Even the "United States Post Office" designation will be mounted on a plaque in front of the building which will match the historical plaque in front of the Palmer-Marsh house.

The Town of Bath goes back before the birth of the nation. It was incorporated on March 8, 1705 and served as the meeting place for the General Assembly from 1744 to 1752.

A start has been made in retaining and restoring the invaluable historical sites in Bath. It is to be hoped that more will be done in the future and that some day Bath might rival Williamsburg as an historical tourist attraction.

It is most desirable that the new post office to be constructed there is designed to harmonize with the historical atmosphere.

Winter Can't Stop Politician

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau

RALEIGH—Picture a political candidate, pink cheeked and bareheaded, striding purposefully down a snow and ice covered street on his way to make a campaign speech.

Imagine another waiting in shivery cold at the mill gates to shake hands with workers at the early morning change of shifts.

And still another who trudges for miles on treacherous snow-cousted ice to pay his filing fee for re-election after finding his car won't start.

Apparently neither wintry sleet, snow nor freezing temperature in January deters a determined politician from making his self-appointed rounds.

Activity Goes On
It slows them down of course, and it's sometimes mighty inconvenient for the candidates, their campaign managers and workers.

But while much of the state was plunged into a deep freeze by last week's icy blast, a lot of political activity went on. In fact, the early 1968 campaigning picked up steam.

Almost everybody else was stalled. But somehow the major candidates were managing to get around asking folks to come out and vote for them when the weather is better and the flowers are blooming next May.

Roads were icy and dangerous, schools were closed, electric power and telephones were out in many areas. Surprisingly, however, very little of a political nature was cancelled.

Few Cancellations
There were formal announcements, press conferences, rallies, speeches, statements, handshaking tours and the like, despite the weather.

A few non-campaign political events were postponed.

The state Democratic Executive Committee's scheduled meeting last Friday was recessed when only about 20 of the 198 committee members showed up in Raleigh. Also, a dinner honoring First District Rep. Walter Jones had to be postponed.

Taking Stands
Of more significance was the fact that the major candidates for governor began stating views and taking stands on important matters.

Two of the five now engaged in primary campaigning made their formal announcements last week. Lt. Gov. Robert W. Scott and Negro dentist Dr. Reginald Hawking of Charlotte, both Democrats.

Hawkins, 44, is believed to be the first Negro candidate for governor since Reconstruction nearly 100 years ago. He said he will stress "greater opportunities" for Negroes, equal housing opportunity, liquor by the drink and a tobacco tax.

Scott, at a post-announcement news conference, said he personally opposed liquor by the drink but would not oppose local option referendums on the question if the legislature approves them.

Questioned Sharply
Scott faced a series of barbed questions from students at UNC-Greensboro on the subjects of "academic freedom," racial equality, higher education and "instant universities."

In reply, Scott stressed the responsibility of the University administration and trustees to provide "more guidance" in on-campus activities and affairs and spoke of "self-discipline" in university circles.

He said his policy toward Negroes is that Negroes "are citizens of North Carolina, no more and no less." He said he would prefer a permissive law to allow local governments to act on open housing questions rather than a state law requiring open housing.

On the question of converting four-year colleges into universities without adequate appropriations to make them universities "in fact," Scott said "it is not my intention to make higher education the crusade of Bob Scott." Public education at all levels needs help and he favors a "balanced program" of greater support.

Something near 400 adults close to Scouting gathered in Greenville the other night. They came from 21 counties in eastern North Carolina; some from quite a distance.

The fact of the gathering was, in the long view, a mighty tribute to the people who attended. Though it wasn't intended that way at all.

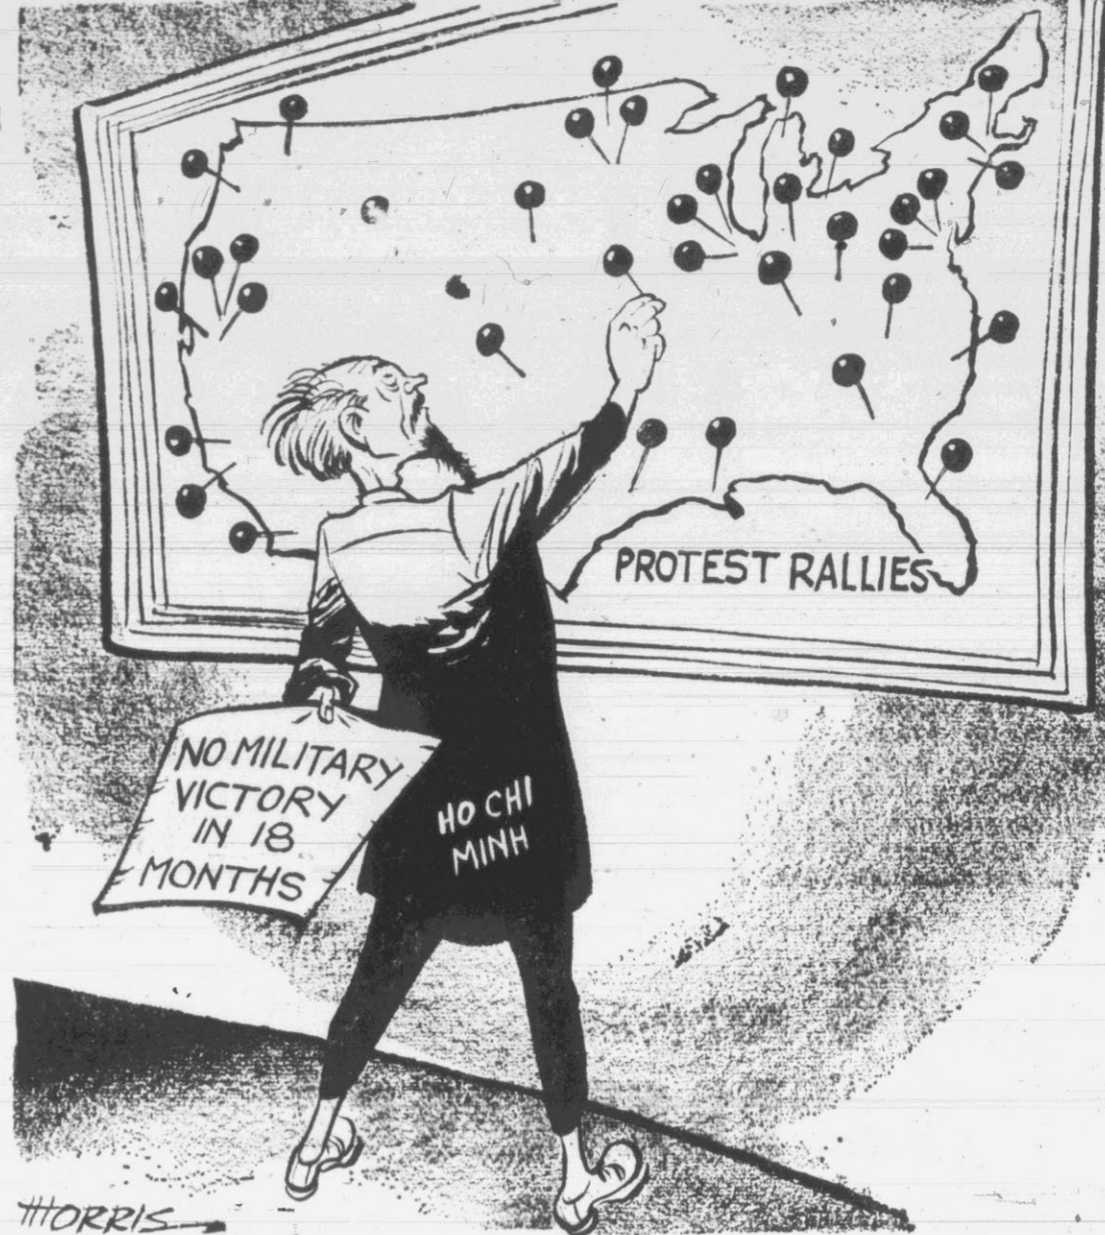

The meeting of the East Carolina Council (BSA) was designed to review accomplishments of the past year and to lay the ground for more accomplishments in 1968. Their field of work lies in the minds and bodies of thousands of boys.

For each adult attending the Council's annual meeting there were many who could not.

The honors that were accorded could only scratch the surface of devotion to service to boyhood. What Scouting does for a boy is something special; but what it does for a man must be very special, too.

It's For Boys, Though Adults Sharing Growth

PINNING HIS HOPES!

By JAMES KILPATRICK

A Helpin' Man Is Dead

They buried Charlie Settle last Wednesday at the Baptist Church in Woodville. He was the last man on earth you would have picked as a prospect for heart attack, but it hit him on Sunday and that was it. He came from a vanishing breed, Charlie did, a whooping crane of a man, and I write of his death in sorrow.

Charlie was an Independent American. They are rare birds in our time. He stood just under six feet tall, slim as a soap bean, with a long sad face that always looked as if he'd slept in it. His teeth were terrible, half of them missing and those left dark - stained, but you forgot all that when he smiled. It was the happiest smile you ever saw.

We first met Charlie in the spring of 1966, when some work had to be done on the place. The problem was presented to Mr. Burke, the patriarch of Scabble District, who runs the store and Esso station at Woodville. He gave us our first lesson in country manners. We had said respectfully that we wanted to "hire" someone to get a few things done.

"You look up Charlie Settle," said Mr. Burke. "He's working on a wall down the Slate Mills road. But don't you say you want to 'hire' him. You ask if he'll help you."

So we drove down the Slate Mills road, sun-drenched in an April morning, the dogwoods white and the streams cut-crystal, and sure enough, Charlie was working on the wall. He didn't look up, just kept laying stones. It took twenty minutes of irrelevant conversation — the winter past, the spring present, the art of building walls, the hopes of the Baltimore Orioles — before the delicate subject of employment could be approached. But finally, "yep," said Charlie, he would come on a Tuesday and see what he could do.

As it turned out, Charlie could do anything. He could paint a house, frame a door, pour concrete, patch a roof. He could lay bricks, spread linoleum, run a wire, prune a tree. He could plow a garden, build a fence, ditch a road. There is an art to splitting logs; Charlie knew it. There is a way of rolling stones, using the weight of the rock against itself; Charlie knew it. He could kill a hog, tend bees, set a trap, put poison in a groundhog hole. He could spread gravel, move dirt, mow weeds, make a motor run. He was a master at building walls of stone. But where he had taken his Ph.D. was in springs.

A city boy has no real measure of his ignorance until he undertakes to fathom the working of a spring. You have to have a sixth sense of how water moves, deep in the earth; how it finds a spring rock, and how it lies under the spring rock; and then you have to know — carefully, carefully — just how to free the water, guide it to a reservoir, bring it to a pump. Now in winter, and the fields frozen, the mind's eye turns to Charlie in the summer, shin deep in mud, his shovel like a magic wand, gazing with pure intensity at the slow trickle that became a steady stream, thick as your wrist. "Theah she is," he would say. "Theah she is."

Charlie fixed his own wages: Two dollars an hour, flat. It was too low, we said. He would not be budged. If he made more money, he'd start to worry about it; he'd get tied down to property; pretty soon he'd be borrowing and get in debt. Then he'd have to work. Damned if that was any life for a man. So Charlie fixed his hours, too. He would show up for three or four days, then go fishing, or put around his own place, or work for someone else in greater need. He was a free man. Well, it's goodnight, Charlie, and sleep well in the (Continued On Page 6)

Public Forum
Dear Citizens of Pitt County:
Words can never adequately express to you our deep and abiding gratitude in making the 1967 Pitt County Operation Santa Claus campaign a tremendous success.

Because of your generous giving, the mentally ill and retarded patients at Cherry Hospital in Goldsboro and Caswell Center in Kinston received more than 6,000 gifts.

Too, a special "Thank You" goes to Phelps Chevrolet for the use of a truck in delivering the gifts to the hospitals before Christmas morning and to volunteers who helped collect the gifts, count them and pack them in boxes and bags.

While the Pitt County Mental Health Association is endeavoring to send thank-you notes to all who gave of their time, energies, gifts and money in making Operation Santa Claus the huge success that it was, we are sure that many names have failed to reach our list and many have given who prefer to remain anonymous.

We are taking this means of communication to say "Thank You" again. Because of your unselfish efforts to help others, we know the joys experienced by the recipients of your gifts will complement the work toward improved care and treatment of the mentally ill.

Most sincerely,
Mrs. Charles Kavanagh,
Chairman
1967 Operation Santa Claus
Pitt County Mental Health Association

To The Editor:
First, let me commend the valiant and efficient efforts made recently by the employees of the Greenville Utilities Commission to provide service to the residents of Greenville during the inclement weather.

Second, I should simply like to state that recent advertisements should convince the City of Greenville of the advisability of starting a concerted and sustained effort to put all power and telephone lines underground. Though such an effort would be expensive, it would improve service and do much toward improving the appearance of the town's aging and less attractive areas.

Yours truly,

Unhappy Over Policy Reaction

By ELMER ROESSNER
Neiman - Marcus of Dallas, perhaps the most famous and most expensive store in the world, is unhappy about the reaction to its public announcement that it would prefer doing business with suppliers that are "actively and sincerely pursuing a policy of equal opportunity than to continue to do business with one which is not."

Nixon Weak Ground

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

LINCOLN, Neb.—Even in this Republican heartland state, where Richard M. Nixon won his largest single majority in the 1960 Presidential election, his 1968 Presidential campaign rests on a far from solid political foundation.

A Nixon-for-President committee, headed by a hard-working political amateur, insurance executive George Cook, is now filling out a campaign organization for the May 14 primary that divides the state into ten areas and will have a Nixon chairman in each of the 93 counties.

But the outcome of that primary is a foregone conclusion: Nixon will win, and probably win big. That is not Nixon's problem at all.

Nixon's problem is that even here the question is being asked with embarrassing persistence — can he beat President Johnson next November, no matter how well he does in Nebraska and the other Presidential primary states this spring?

Cook himself conceded as much to us.

"I know lots of Republicans who want to support (Gov. Nelson) Rockefeller because they think he can be elected President," Cook said. "We have to convince them Nixon can also beat Johnson."

Rockefeller won't be in the Nebraska primary. Even if he makes an early conversion from non-candidate to candidate, a strong possibility if Michigan Governor George Romney takes a pratfall in the March 12 New Hampshire primary against Nixon, Rockefeller's first potential primary contest would be in Oregon, not Nebraska.

Thus Nixon's well-organized effort here, destined to cost $75,000, could turn out to be largely meaningless no matter how many votes he gets. A Romney loss in both New Hampshire and Wisconsin, the first two primaries, would lead to a Romney withdrawal. The only name on the ballot here other than Nixon's would then be non-candidate Governor Ronald Reagan of California, who has flatly informed Nebraska Governor Norbert Tiemann that he will make no campaign at all.

So it is not the primary that can be blamed for Nixon's shaky foundation here but the skepticism both of Republican rank-and-file and of party leaders.

Shrewd Charles Tone, for example, was one of the earliest Nebraska backers of Barry Goldwater. During his two-year stint as state party chairman in the early '60s, he pleaded with Goldwater to run for President in 1964. Tone, in short, is not unrepresentative of the power structure of the Republican party here, untainted by ties to the Eastern Establishment. And those ties are absolutely uncommitted.

Moreover, several months ago, in a tele-tele with Leonard W. Hall, Romney's campaign manager, Tone made clear that one factor motivates him today — election of a Republican President. Translated, that means he wouldn't have any trouble accepting Rockefeller.

Tiemann, who is a Republican liberal by Nebraska old-guard standards, is also uncommitted. In a 30-minute chat with Nixon in Nixon's (Continued On Page 6)

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLAS
WHERE DO YOU LIVE?
Some months ago the dead body of a woman was discovered in the basement of a palatial home. It was her home, for she was very wealthy. Upstairs the closet in her dressing room was filled with the most exquisite garments which had been purchased at great cost. Her home was beautifully furnished. Yet for years she had been a recluse. She had not lived in the upper part of her home during all these years, but had a pallet in the basement. Of course she had never worn any of the fine clothes. She was in rags when they found her.

All this is highly symbolic of the way many people live — in fact, it casts reflections on the way we all live. For we all have opportunities of which we never take advantage. We have all missed out to a certain extent in the living of our lives at higher levels. Multitudes of people live, morally, in the basement, although they were taught right from wrong in their childhood and have fine backgrounds. A beautiful mansion with gorgeous appointments awaits them, but they never live in that mansion. They live in the basement.

Everyone who is not living up to his best self is living in the basement. Every man or woman who hesitates to renounce evil, to repent, to accord forgiveness to enemies, and to accept Christ's offer of better life, is living in the basement.

Paratroopers Ambush VC, Kill Battalion Chief

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. paratroopers lying in ambush along a trail killed a Viet Cong battalion commander from a regiment which overran a South Vietnamese district town two weeks ago. U.S. headquarters announced today.

The ambush was one of five clashes Wednesday, scattered from below Saigon to the demilitarized zone, in which U.S. forces reported killing 119 Communist soldiers at a cost of seven Americans killed and 29 wounded.

Durham Refuses Pass Ordinance

DURHAM (AP) — The City Council declined by a 6-4 vote Wednesday night to pass an ordinance "to prevent the recruitment and employment of people from outside the city limits of Durham for the purpose of strikebreaking."

The ordinance had been asked by Durham Local 183 of the Tobacco Workers International Union, which is on strike at the American Tobacco Co.

Union members also have been on strike since Jan. 1 at American Tobacco plants in Reidsville, N. C.; Richmond, Va., and Louisville, Ky. At issue are wages, cost-of-living increases and workloads in a new contract to replace a three-year agreement which expired Dec. 31.

Contract negotiations are to resume Monday in Richmond, Va.

The company has denied a union statement that it is hiring men from outside to replace strikers at Durham.

Plenty Of Room For Compassion

We will hire city people now, from Culpeper and Front Royal and Warrenton, competent men with power tools and bill forms and numbers in the yellow pages, and the work will get done, but it won't be the same. Down at the foot of the hill, close by the stream, is a spring house of stone. It is, in its way, a work of art, perfectly proportioned, built for the ages. "Just because we're married, Mabel, that doesn't mean I should spend my whole time at a cocktail party talking to you alone. If you can always get attention by going to the center of the room and standing on your head."

"I'll volunteer. Sarge. What's the mission?"

"I left my glasses at home, but you've got an honest face. Give me the contract and show me where you want me to sign my John Hancock."

"Yeah, it sounds like a worthy cause. Put me down for whatever you think is fair."

"You say all the kids are teen-agers? Why, yes, I don't mind agreeing to act as chaperone."

"There are two sides to everything."

"Why, not? If others can get away with it, why can't I?"

A pouch full of documents, a Russian pistol, a map and a compass were found on Hiep's body. The documents disclosed his identity and showed he had commanded the battalion since April 1966 at least.

Lam Hiep's rank was not reported, but he probably was a major. Last month U.S. troops killed a North Vietnamese regimental commander in the Que Son Valley 35 miles south of Da Nang.

Fifteen miles to the north of the ambush site, two other new paratrooper units were accidentally hit by two rounds of 105mm artillery fire by an American battery. Two paratroopers were killed and 21 wounded.

Although ground action has been light this week, heavy Communist assaults last week were reflected in the weekly casualty summaries from the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands.

U.S. headquarters said 278 Americans were killed in action last week, the highest in six months, and 1,323 Americans were wounded.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 357 government troops killed last week and 946 wounded, one of Saigon's heaviest weekly tolls of the war. But the total of 2,216 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese reported killed were 52 less than the record toll reported the week before.

In the air war, U.S. planes flew 82 missions against North Vietnam Wednesday, and the two crewman of an Air Force F4 Phantom reported the "probable" downing of a MIG21 in a brief engagement.

The biggest of the ground fights in South Vietnam Wednesday came after a reconnaissance patrol of the Army's Americal Division ran into a Viet Cong unit of unknown size near Quang Ngai, in the coastal lowlands 325 miles northeast of Saigon.

U.S. troops trapped the Communists in a box formation and raked them with artillery, and machine-gun and rocket fire from helicopter gunships. They reported finding 80 enemy bodies and 35 weapons and said only two Americans were wounded.

In another one-sided fight, U.S. Headquarters said infantrymen of the U.S. 9th Division killed 14 Viet Cong 28 miles southwest of Saigon and took no casualties.

Infantrymen of the 25th Division fought for three hours with another Communist force 65 miles northwest of Saigon and four miles from the Cambodian frontier. With artillery and helicopter gunships joining in, the Americans killed 17 Communists, spokesmen reported. U.S. losses were put at five dead and 22 wounded, but only one of the wounded required hospitalization.

Air Force B52 bombers raided the area today, aiming their 750-pound bombs at suspected Communist base camps.

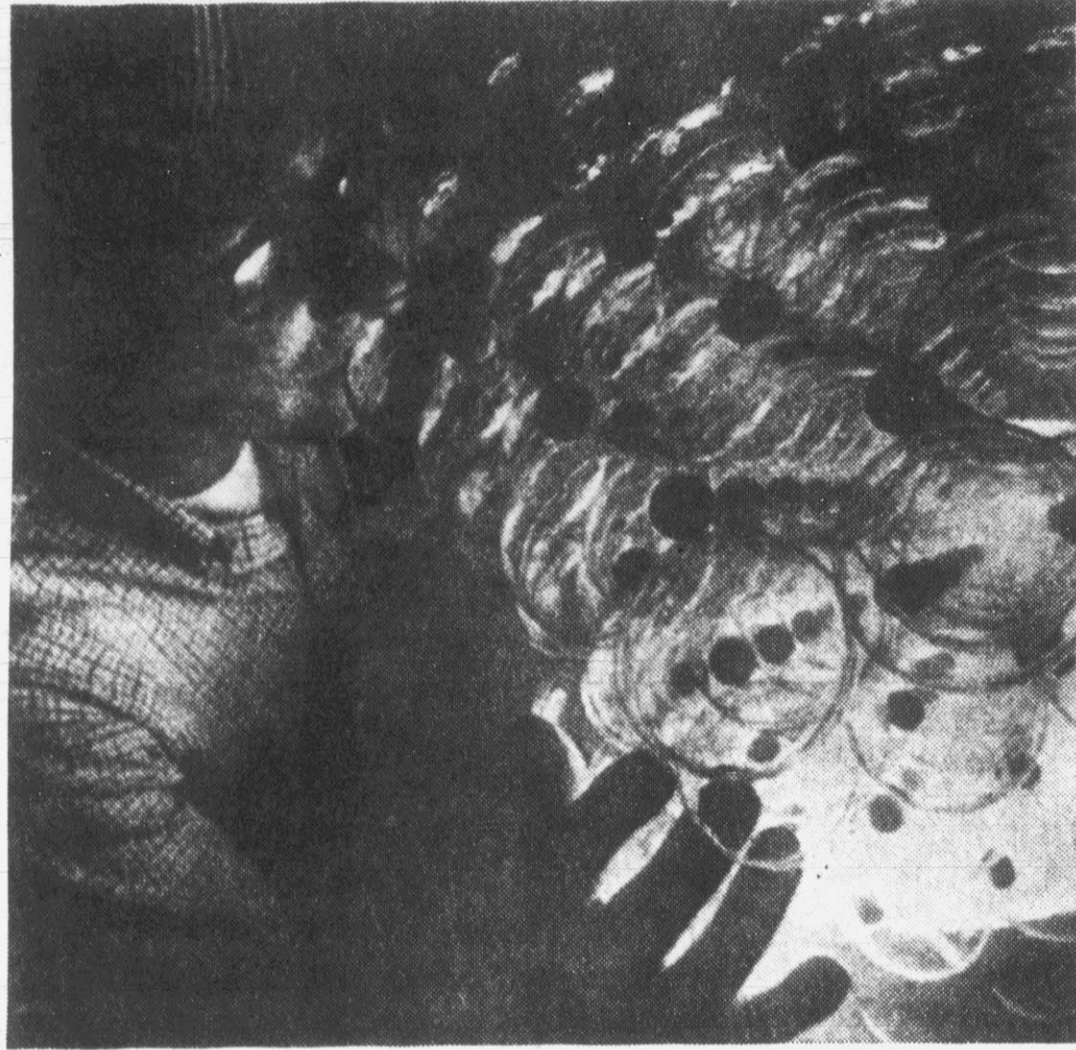

U.S. Marine scouts spotted 40 enemy soldiers moving eight miles north of Camp Carroll, the southwest stronghold of "Leatherneck Square" just below the demilitarized zone. About 40 Marines moved up in helicopters and exchanged small arms and automatic weapons fire with the Communists for several hours. They reported six enemy and one Marine killed and four Americans wounded. The continued enemy movement around the demilitarized zone underlined a warning

Wednesday by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, that despite the current lull, a renewal of enemy activity is expected soon, and the northernmost section of South Vietnam is the likeliest place for it.

The boy, who is wanted on warrants charging auto theft and burglary, is an escapee from juvenile authorities who refused to divulge his name. He was slightly injured in the exchange of gunfire before he surrendered. (AP Wirephoto)

New England Textile Industry Is Weathering Its Recent Challenges

By JANE DUDERSTADT
Associated Press Writer
BOSTON (AP) — The New England textile industry apparently has weathered the challenge of imports and defection to the South, an industry spokesman says.

Daniel Gordon, secretary of the Northern Textile Association, asserts: "We're not the dying industry which many say we are."

Gordon said in an interview that the textile industry has stabilized since 1961, thanks to a seven-point program introduced by the late President John F. Kennedy.

He said there are still 2,700 textile mills and apparel plants spread throughout the six-state northeastern region. They employ about 186,400 persons, roughly 14 per cent of the area's manufacturing force.

The Kennedy program, he said, helped mills upgrade their plants and gear them to compete with burgeoning imports.

New England has lost 139 textile mills employing 39,966 in the last 10 years, Gordon said. His figures did not indicate the number of consolidations or expansions.

Latest to close was the Warren, R.I., plant of Berkshire-Hathaway, Inc.

Frederick V. Chace, president of the firm, blamed the action on a steady decline in demand for cotton sheer fabric manufacture at the facility.

The firm once operated 10 plants in New England. Closure of the Warren facility leaves only one — at New Bedford, Mass.

Gordon said the biggest problem facing the industry is the influx of imports.

Since 1961, imports of cotton have doubled, wool imports have increased from 12 to 22 per cent, and synthetic textile imports have grown fivefold, the association told the Federal Tariff Commission last November in arguing for higher import barriers.

Along with the American Textile Manufacturers Institute, Inc., the New England group argued that the industry suffered greatly because of the relatively high wage scale, taxes, and fringe benefits it must pay.

"It is next to impossible to compete with a low-wage area such as Japan or any of the multiple countries who import to the states," Gordon said.

Another problem is the shortage of workers.

Director Harold Daoust of the Textile Workers of America, AFL-CIO, said that many of the younger textile workers are moving to other industries which pay better.

Textile workers in New England earn an average of $2.20 an hour, he said.

In addition, when a plant closes in a town such as Warren, the workers are often older and reluctant to move to a plant in another town.

"I doubt Warren can absorb the workers when the plant folds, yet I bet the workers won't move to New Bedford where they're screaming to us for help," Daoust said.

Despite the threat of imports and the shortage of workers, there are still 400 communities in New England in which plants are situated, the majority of which have populations of less than 2,500.

The mills frequently provide the principle source of manufacturing employment in the towns where they are situated. For example, even in Boston the NTA reports, about one fourth of all manufacturing jobs are concentrated in textiles and apparel.

In Rhode Island, mills and plants are in at least 60 cities and towns out of the 31 in the state. Massachusetts has textile establishments in more than 140 cities and towns; there are 50 in New Hampshire.

The association estimates that 45 per cent of the 500 million square yards of woens and worsteds produced in the U.S. are woven in New England.

Massachusetts is the largest producer of nonwoven felts and coated fabrics in the country and the third in the dyeing and finishing of cotton and synthetic fabrics.

Connecticut is a leading producer of cotton and synthetic sewing thread, velvets and hat fur. Rhode Island is the largest producer of lace goods and narrow braided fabrics in the states.

The textile machinery and supplies plants in Massachusetts provide more than one-half the original textile machinery made in this country, the association said.

Lifetime Driver Licenses Ended

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaii has eliminated its lifetime drivers' licenses for motorists starting Jan. 1, 1968.

All motorists in the state have to apply for new licenses, turning in the old ones which were good for life.

Under the new law enacted by the State Legislature, motorists under 25 and over 65 will have to renew their licenses every two years. Drivers between 25 and 65 will have to obtain new licenses every four years.

Hawaii was the only state with the lifetime licenses.

LOSING HOME OVER BIG PHONE BILL — James Young and his wife, Carol, show how they padlocked their telephone last year after discovering their daughter, Colene, 19, and her Alaska-based husband ran up a $4,509.81 telephone bill in just 38 days. The Youngs said they were unaware of the calls until the monthly bill came in. They are selling their $27,000 home in Canoga Park, Calif., to pay off a lien against it obtained by the telephone company. (AP Wirephoto)

Ready To Burn Her PTA Card

GAFFNEY, S.C. (AP)—Due to ice and snow schools have been closed in this area for almost a week and one mother called her child's principal to find out when classes would resume.

When told, "No school tomorrow," she said, "Well, if you don't have school soon, I'm going to burn my PTA card."

The United States currently has 125 licensed physicians for each 100,000 people.

Doctor Thinks He Found 'Suicide Signals'

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
AP Science Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — A successful and seemingly well adjusted and contented man kills himself without warning and everyone who knows him is shocked.

Why did he do it and could it have been prevented?

The why often differs with the individuals who kill themselves but a Chicago psychologist who has specialized in suicide studies believes much can be done to slash the annual toll of 20,000 or more deaths by self-destruction in this nation.

Dr. Misha S. Zaks, Ph.D., believes he has found a method to detect "suicide signals" in advance. He has developed a questionnaire called the Personal Opinion Inventory. It contains the Suicide Preoccupation Scale.

Zaks claimed his test shows which persons are suicide risks and determines the degree of such tendencies. He said that to his knowledge, his is the first and only copyright psychological test for the detection of suicidal tendencies.

He said many potential suicides are not fully aware of their latent self-destructive tendencies and that the key to prevention is to find them and help them before they act.

Zaks said he feels that suicide prevention centers being set up in various cities are not the answer "because we can't wait until the fire starts if we're going to cut the losses."

A more effective system, he believes, would be to give suicide screening tests in high schools, colleges and universities, the military services and in industry.

"Young people who have suicidal tendencies are still very pliable if properly directed and can change with relative ease," he said.

Zaks believes the number of unsuccessful suicide attempts far outnumber the suicides. He estimates that from two million to five million living Americans have attempted suicide. In giving his Suicide Preoccupation Scale test to some 10,000 people, he reported 3 per cent of them admitted attempting suicide previously.

Zaks is an associate professor in Northwestern University's department of neurology and psychiatry. He also is associate staff clinical psychologist at Chicago Wesley Memorial Hospital.

The Suicide Preoccupation Scale contains only 25 questions. Zaks declined, however, to explain his method in detail. He said this would enable anyone with preknowledge of the test to falsify answers and preclude detection as a high suicide risk.

He said in an interview that an individual signal picked up by the test might signify nothing unusual. However, when a significant number are clustered together—something the Suicide Preoccupation Scale is designed to spot—the risk of suicide increases.

Zaks was assistant director of psychology and research in the Psychiatric Institute of the municipal courts of Chicago from 1958 through 1961.

In this position Zaks had the opportunity to test persons who had attempted suicide and then were sent to the institute for examination. He said his Suicide Preoccupation Scale was validated when their scores were compared with the scores of numerous other groups tested, including college students, YMCA groups and those enrolled in trade schools, barber colleges and secretarial schools.

Those who made serious attempts to kill themselves averaged much higher scores in the test than members of other groups, he said.

He reported 3 per cent of them admitted attempting suicide previously.

Zaks is an associate professor in Northwestern University's department of neurology and psychiatry. He also is associate staff clinical psychologist at Chicago Wesley Memorial Hospital.

Pitt Boys At Special School

Five local students are among the 108 eighth-grade boys enrolled for the current session of the North Carolina Advancement School in Winston-Salem.

The students are: Robert A. Allen Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Allen of Greenville; Johnny Blount, son of Mrs. Willie Blount of Greenville; Ronnie Earl Brown, a student at Pactolus Elementary School; Noah Warren Moore, son of Mrs. Hallie Mae Moore, Rt. 2, Greenville; and Linwood Ray White, brother of Robert White of Greenville.

The Advancement school, now in its first year as a state-supported school, attempts to determine the causes and remedies of underachievement. The current term began on Jan. 3 and will be concluded in May.

Students reside on campus where they live and work in small groups. Diagnostic and prescriptive teaching methods are used by the staff, which is headed by Dr. John Bridgman, director.

He reported 3 per cent of them admitted attempting suicide previously.

Zaks is an associate professor in Northwestern University's department of neurology and psychiatry. He also is associate staff clinical psychologist at Chicago Wesley Memorial Hospital.

Four Inducted By Delta Sigma Pi

The professional commerce and business administration fraternity at East Carolina University, Delta Sigma Pi, has inducted four new pledges. They are William P. Hoogendonk and Carlton Wayne of Greenville; Larry W. Horton of Durham; and Russell B. Clark of Keyesville, Va.

Requirements for membership in Delta Sigma Pi are a C average and a major in business.

The pledges have begun a pledge period which will last until Feb. 10 when they hope to become members of Delta Sigma Pi.

Britons Learn To Live With Devaluation, But Some Hurt

By DONALD M. MCNICOLL
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — "Spend today—save tomorrow. It's common sense."

The placard in a store in Covent Garden, a few yards from the Royal Opera House, expresses the tone in Britain today.

Despite some pinch in the pocketbook, Mr. and Mrs. Briton have survived the first two months of devaluation with cautious relief that things have not been worse.

They thought life was going to be really tough when Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government cut the value of the pound from $2.80 to $2.40 last Nov. 18.

But Britons are no less apprehensive about the future because things may not have been as bad as expected the past two months.

They know that the squeeze may only be beginning, especially with the new government austerity measures announced this week.

So far prices have edged up, particularly on hundreds of individual food items. But the increases have only been fractional to date and at least some of the increase in meat prices stems from the outbreak of foot and mouth disease rather than devaluation.

Shoppers and suppliers alike are convinced that prices will be a lot higher by the end of 1968.

Shoppers need little such urging, that was worth 357,000 pounds to the Welsh singer. Today, the same contract is worth 416,000 pounds.

Some Britons simply ignore the rising prices. Others cut their expenditure, which is what the government wants to help to straighten out the nation's economy.

There has been a good deal of selective buying and rather less impulse buying, according to some stores.

One store in London's west end American-founded Selfridges, reported selling $240,000 worth of refrigerators and $240,000 worth of electrical equipment in a few days at its New Year sale.

Although British tourists will find their devalued pound buying less in most countries abroad, travel agencies report no letdown in advance bookings for summer holidays.

Prime Minister Wilson claimed at the time of devaluation that the money of the ordinary Briton was not being cut in value, but most people prefer the view of Pete Murray, a top British disc jockey.

Said Murray: "I am not a businessman and I have no investments. What money I have is in the bank. For me, devaluation means that the money I have in the bank is worth 14.3 per cent less than it was when I put it in the bank."

Murray added wryly: "I shall have to learn to sing."

He was referring to pop stars such as Tom Jones, who has a million-dollar American contract for 13 weeks of personal appearances. Before devaluation,

Report Of Payments Will Be Mailed To Farmers

Farmers will benefit from a new reporting service which has been inaugurated by ASCS, W. F. Tyson, chairman of the Pitt ASC County Committee, announced today.

A report of payments made to each farmer under ACP, cotton, feed grain, wheat, and other direct payment programs during 1967 will be mailed to the farmer during the latter part of January.

This report is expected to be helpful in preparing individual income tax returns. The same information must also be furnished to the Internal Revenue Service in accordance with a requirement of law.

It is estimated that over three million farmers will receive this report, he said. This information is being gathered from county offices and summarized by computers located at New Orleans and Kansas City. The reports are being printed by the computers and mailed direct to farmers. A job of this size could not be completed without an automated system, added Tyson.

Since this is the first year for a service of this magnitude, there are bound to be a few problems. He suggested that farmers carefully read the explanation on the report and check the accuracy of the total reported by comparing it with farm records. If an error is discovered, the nearest ASCS county office should be contacted to have the mistake corrected. County offices have been instructed to give farmers whatever assistance they need regardless of where the farm is located.

Servicemen Leave Bob Hope Quieter

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There are all kinds of servicemen audiences, said Bob Hope, and he ought to know.

The comedian made the observation as he was in the midst of preparing tonight's television account of his Christmas visit to Vietnam. This was a different, more serious Bob Hope than the public's image. He is always more sober and reflective when he returns from the war zone.

The reception in Vietnam for the Hope show provided the same tumult he has attracted with his gags since he started entertaining the troops 26 years ago.

"It was great," he reflected. "Everywhere we went it was great, but some places better than others. One time I was puzzled: it was when we were playing for the Big Red division at Lai Khe. Twelve thousand guys, and I figured, boy, this is going to be easy."

"But it wasn't. Oh, they'd laugh. They let out the big scream at the punchlines, but they didn't laugh as long. I didn't get that second and third roll that I usually do. I finally asked a guy if the sound was okay. He told me there was nothing wrong with the sound. It was simply that those boys had been through some rough times and they were still feeling it."

The most surefire of audiences, he said, are the aircraft carriers. The Hope troupe, played the Ranger and the Coral Sea on the December trip.

"There's something about a carrier that makes it great to play," Hope observed. "Maybe it's because you're working with a smaller crowd, and the boys are wrapped all around you, hanging from rails and all over. They grab everything you say and run with it."

Hope's eye view of Vietnam is different from the one most visitors see. It's a mixture of welcoming banners, receptions, and seas of laughing young American faces.

"You wouldn't even know there's a war going on if you didn't go into the hospitals," said the comedian. "That's the shocker. You suddenly know what the toll is and how the guys are stiffing up under it."

"Like the time Raquel Welch and I went into the intensive care ward of a hospital ship. It was tough on her, because she isn't used to seeing that kind of thing. I am. I passed a guy who was still being worked over by a couple of doctors who were trying to stop a wound in his side."

"Hi-ya, Bob," he says to me just as cheerful as can be. A few minutes later I asked what happened to the kid. They told me he had both his legs amputated that morning and here he was giving me the big 'Hi-ya, Bob!'"

The group was accompanied by Mrs. H.E. Stallings and Mrs. M.E. Whitehurst.

U.S. Casualties Sharply Rose During Past Week

SAIGON (AP) — American casualties in the Vietnam war rose sharply last week. The U.S. Command reported today that 278 men were killed in action and 1,323 wounded, compared with 184 killed and 1,132 wounded the week before.

The South Vietnamese Command reported its casualties also went up markedly. Enemy casualties last week dropped to 2,216 killed, the two commands said, a major decline from the record 2,868 reported for the previous week.

The U.S. Command said action last week was "characterized by moderate to heavy engagements."

Of the 1,323 Americans wounded last week, the command said 711 required hospitalization.

The report increased the total American combat casualties in the war to 16,549 killed and 102,197 wounded. The command said another 968 Americans are listed as missing, captured or interned since Jan. 1, 1961.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 357 government troops were killed last week, 946 were wounded and 110 were missing or captured. These tolls are among the heaviest of the war for South Vietnamese forces.

South Vietnamese casualties reported for the week before were 263 killed, 657 wounded and 83 missing or captured.

Of the 2,216 enemy reported killed last week, South Vietnamese headquarters said 605 were killed by government troops and the rest by U.S. and other allied forces.

The U.S. Command said there were no personnel killed in action last week among other allied forces, only four wounded and none missing.

Refused Induction, Faces Possibly Heavy Penalties

RALEIGH (AP) — George Vlasits, a former New Jersey teacher who refused induction into the armed forces Wednesday, faces up to five years in prison and a $10,000 fine if he is convicted of draft evasion.

"I refused to submit to induction and I expect to face the consequences," said the 25-year-old Vlasits.

While anti-Vietnam war pickets marched outside the Raleigh induction center to support his stand, Vlasits refused to answer several questions during his processing and his induction procedure was halted.

Capt. James M. Cozart Jr., acting commander of the induction center, said he warned Vlasits of a possible prison sentence and fine for his action.

Cozart then turned the matter over to the U.S. attorney's office and the Selective Service system.

Vlasits said he refused to answer questions on medical, security and personal questionnaires.

"I believe these questions violated my constitutional rights to privacy," he said. "I assume that in the next support George in everything he is doing."

"World War II and this war in Vietnam are different," he said.

Young Vlasits was among several persons who turned in their draft cards at an anti-war demonstration Oct. 20 in Washington, D.C. He is a former teacher at Paramus, N.J., High School and the Murdoch Center for the Mentally Retarded at Butner, N.C.

Skowhegan, Maine, settled in 1771, was named with an Indian word which means "place to catch salmon."

ECU Athletes Are Honored At Annual Banquet

Tornadoes Down Winterville Five

AYDEN — Ayden's Tornadoes dominated Winterville Friday night, 57-43, to knock the Wolves out of a tie for first place. The Lady Tornadoes won the girls' contest, 35-31, despite a third quarter rally by the Wolverines. Ayden's lassies pushed out to a 13-10 lead during the first period and increased the lead to seven by halftime. Winterville rallied in the third quarter, cutting the Ayden lead to three at 26-23. Frankie Pierce led the winners with 12 points. Faye Everett led all scorers with 13, while Kay Gooding had 10. The Tornadoes took a 13-12 edge in the first quarter of the varsity contest. During the second period, Ayden outscored the visitors by 15-8. The Tornadoes put the finishing touches on it in the third period, as they increased the lead to 15. Guard Kent Allen led Ayden with 14 points. George Booth

By WOODY PEELE Reflector Sports Editor Kevin Moran, already with three top honors in his treasure chest, added two more last night as the East Carolina University Pirates held their annual Fall Sports Banquet. Moran, named earlier to All-State, All-Conference, and Jacobs Blocking Trophy honors, was named the winner of the Blocking Trophy and the Lanche Award (Outstanding Senior) for the ECU football team. Six other awards were also presented during the evening's activities. Jimmy Schuffler was named the winner of the E.E. Rawl Memorial Award, for scholastic and athletic achievement. Southern Conference Player of the Year Butch Colson was named the Outstanding Football Player. The Swindell Memorial Award, for team above self, went to Blocking Back Nelson Gravatt. Neal Hughes, another All-State, All-Conference player, added the Most Valuable Player award to his collection. He also was named the Most Valuable Player in the first annual Shrine All-State game at Raleigh this year. Walter Adams received the Outstanding Freshman award. Ken Voss, a freshman, received the Most Valuable Player Award for the cross-country team. Members of the football, cross-

South Ayden Beats Robinson

AYDEN — The South Ayden Eagles rolled to a 79-61 victory over arch-rival Robinson Union last night. The Eagles got off to a 1-10 lead in the first quarter and steadily increased it to 34-24 by halftime. Both teams played about even during the third period, as South Ayden emerged with another point added to its margin. Another big scoring period did the job for the Eagles, as they outpointed Robinson by 24-17. South Ayden placed five players in double figures. Melvin Williams led the parade, hitting the nets for 18 points. James Lowry had 16, while Curtis Williams scored 12, W.

Robersonville Edges By Jamesville Club, 45-43

By SONNY McLAHWORN Reflector Sports Writer ROBERSONVILLE — Philip Stalls dropped in a 20-footer as the buzzer sounded to give Robersonville's Rams a 45-43 win over highly-touted conference foe Jamesville last night. The Ramettes won the opening contest, taking a 40-33 decision over Jamesville's lassies. Robersonville got off to a quick start in the girls' contest, as Rae Grimes hit on a free throw and Catherine Everette followed with a bucket, making it 3-0. The Ramettes then hung on for a 6-4 first quarter edge. The Ramettes built up their lead during the second quarter, on the shooting of Miss Grimes and freshman Kathy Thomas. Robersonville got its biggest lead when Miss Grimes hit early in the third period, on the second of five baskets during the quarter, to make it 22-10. Trailing again by 12 points at the start of the fourth period, the Devilettes rallied, outscoring Robersonville, 10-2, during one stretch. With their lead cut to five at 35-30 and just over two minutes remaining, the Ramettes fought back to put the game out of reach. Miss Grimes led all scorers with 20 points. The boys' game was played as expected—close all the way. Ram center Blaine Cargile hit the opening bucket. Jamesville's Will Hardison retaliated. Then Don Hardison hit two baskets to give the Rams a 6-2 edge. As the Red Devils trailed 10-9 with about a minute left in the first quarter, guard Randy Mobley scored on a couple of layups to give Jamesville a 13-10 lead at the buzzer. It was nip-and-tuck during the second quarter, but Jamesville managed to stay on top by the quarter's end, 21-19. E. L. Martin hit a foul shot early in the third period, and Hardison followed with a jumper, making it 24-19 with 7:15 showing. Jamesville's biggest lead came with 5:42 remaining, when Albert Martin made good on a three-point play, making the score 29-23. James Roberson chopped the lead to three at 33-30 when he hit a jump shot with 3:17 to play in the quarter. Roberson finally cut the Red Devil margin to one when he scored a free toss with 11 seconds showing. The fine board play of Cargile made the difference, though, as the Rams were once again able to get second shots at the bucket. Cargile's free throw at 7:26 tied the score, 35-35. Hardison followed with a sweeping hook shot. Then Jimmy Roebuck hit a pair of charity tosses and Cargile scored on a turn-around jumper, and the Rams had a 39-37 edge with 6:16 remaining in the game. The Rams led 43-41 with 1:32 left, and Robersonville coach Nolan Respes called time out. Five seconds later, Robersonville lost possession on a traveling violation. Hardison pumped in a jumper with 1:07 showing, and it was tied again. This time the Rams managed to retain possession for a final crack at the basket. With 12 seconds left to go, Robersonville called for another time out. The Rams worked the ball around the key, getting the ball to Stalls for the clincher. Red Devil center Hardison was high for the game, as he poured in 16 points. Mobley had 12 for the losers. Cargile paced the Rams with 13, while Roberson had 11. The Rams, who now claim undisputed possession of first place in the Martin County race, travel to Bear Grass Friday night for another conference encounter. Weather Wrecks Northeast Slate

The weatherman took a hand in the scheduling of the Northeastern Conference last week and as a result only one of the regularly scheduled games of January 12 has been played as New Bern downed Rose High 52-42 last Monday night. No other games have been reported at press time so four of the games will still have to be made up later in the season. There are only two undefeated teams left in the loop as both Kinston and Roanoke Rapids have swept through six straight opponents to tie for the top spot. The Washington Pam Pack, playing fine basketball all season long, now rest in third place with a 5-1 mark and will get their big test this Friday night when they play host to Roanoke Rapids. The New Bern Bears with a 4-3 record in fifth place will visit Kinston to test the Red Devils in a battle of two old rivals. The Elizabeth City Yellow Jackets, who appear at times just about ready to make their move but so far have not done so, will visit the Patriots of West Carteret on Friday while Tarboro will be at Havelock and East Carteret will visit Rose High at Greenville to complete the January 10 schedule. Cotton Nicholson had the biggest scoring night of the week when he poured in 30 points against Rose High on January 9 as the Yellow Jackets won that one by a score of 71-54. Scott Davenport paced New Bern to their 63-54 win over Havelock with 18 points on that same night and then he and Pat McGinnis had 14 a piece as the Bears won their second straight over Rose last Monday night 52-42. The league's leading scorer Larry Gray of Elizabeth City had 26 points as the Jackets eked out a 59-57 win and throwing scares into two of the other three. Only Roanoke Rapids scored a decisive win over the Phantoms. The other three teams the Phants have played in the conference are Tarboro, Havelock, and, on Monday, New Bern. Only against Tarboro were the Phants unsuccessful in staying in or winning. East Carteret, which hasn't won a game this year, offers a different challenge to the Phants. While most observers might feel this would be an easy victory for the club, there is the possibility of a letdown by the squad after playing so many of the upper ranked teams in the league. And East Carteret will be primed to make the Phants their first victim of the year.

BASEBALL SHORTIES WASHINGTON (UPI)—Aside from the St. Louis Browns' midjet, Eddie Gaedel, outfielder Pompeyo Davaillo at 5-foot-3 1/2 was the smallest player in major league history. He played in 1953 with the Washington Senators. Twenty-two American League pitchers worked more than 200 innings during 1967. Dean Chance of the Minnesota Twins led the workhorse hurlers with 284 innings, 11 more than Jim Lonborg of the Boston Red Sox.

Following the full schedule of the 19th, the big game of the year up to the moment shapes up on Tuesday, January 23, as Kinston visits Roanoke Rapids. The winner of that one should be in first place and a favorite to remain there for a while. The rest of the schedule for Tuesday finds West Carteret at New Bern, Rose High at Elizabeth City, Havelock at East Carteret and Washington at Tarboro.

Wyoming's unbeaten football team was ranked sixth in the nation in The Associated Press final 1967 team poll.

Reserves Spark Drake To Win Over Iowa State

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Beware of the Bulldogs—even reserve Bulldogs.

Drake fought off Iowa State for a 7-67 victory over Iowa State Wednesday night, and it was a couple of reserves who put the bite into the Bulldogs' attack when it was needed.

In avenging an earlier defeat and running their record to 12-2 the Bulldogs built up a 28-10 lead, but Iowa State fought back to tie at 52-52 with 8:21 left.

Then, with Drake leading by just one point, 58-57, two foul shots by Willie McCarter, the key Bulldog, and four points by reserve Ron Gwin sparked the Bulldogs to a 66-57 lead with 3:15 remaining.

Iowa State again rallied, closing to within 69-65 in the final minute, but baskets by McCarter and another reserve, Nelson Whitaker, clinched it for Drake.

McCarter scored 22 points for the Missouri Valley Conference Bulldogs. Bill Cain put in 18 for Iowa State, a Big Eight team.

Georgia scored its last six points on foul shots, including four by Dick McIntosh, and edged Mississippi State 81-77 in a Southeastern Conference game at Starkville, Miss.

Georgia, 3-3 in the league and 8-4 over-all, was led by 6-foot-11 sophomore Bob Lienhart's 29 points. Tommy Payne collected 28 for State, 2-4 in the SEC and 6-8 over-all.

Virginia Tech, which got off to a stumbling start this season, posted its sixth straight victory by overcoming a 10-point deficit and downing Eastern Kentucky 84-74 at Blacksburg, Va. Tech now is 9-6.

None of the teams in The Associated Press' major college Top Ten saw action, but the top two ranked small college clubs posted victories.

No. 1 Evansville drubbed Valparaiso 97-74 at home, and second-ranked Kentucky Wesleyan set a school record by thrashing Kentucky State 125-89, also at home.

Western Michigan edged Ohio

University 83-79, West Virginia trounced Pittsburgh 90-64. St. John's of New York topped St. Joseph's of Philadelphia 80-72, Notre Dame nipped Butler 82-75, Western Kentucky shaded Dayton 75-74 in overtime, Maryland edged Navy 76-62 and Georgia Tech beat Furman 68-61 in other home-court victories.

In away triumphs, Villanova drubbed Pennsylvania 75-45, Cornell whipped Colgate 82-3, Massachusetts downed Holy Cross 71-65, St. Francis, Pa., clobbered Geneva 89-75 and St. Peter's N. J., defeated American University 89-81.

Missed Shot Causes Loss

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Earl Monroe made 14 shots in a row, but the one that mattered was the one he missed.

When Monroe missed an easy layup with seconds left in the game Wednesday night the Baltimore Bullets missed a chance to tie the New York Knicks, who won 111-109.

Monroe's lapse negated a 26-point performance that led the Bullets, during which he made his first 14 free throws. Dick Barnett scored the winning basket for the Knicks, who were led by Cazzie Russell's 30 points.

In other National Basketball Association action, Boston downed St. Louis 114-102, Detroit topped San Francisco 117-109, San Diego beat Chicago 110-104 and Los Angeles took Philadelphia 125-116.

In the American Basketball Association, New Jersey beat Kentucky 103-96, New Orleans took Houston 110-103, Pittsburgh rushed Indiana 137-101 and Minnesota beat Anaheim 119-115.

Bailey Howell led a comeback attack for Boston late in the third period. John Havlicek led the Celtic scorers with 35 points while Len Wilkens led the Hawks with 32.

Dave Bing and Eddie Miles led a late surge for Detroit that broke a 107-107 tie. Bing finished with 31 points while Nate Thurmond had 32 for the Warriors.

San Diego saw an 18-point fourth-quarter lead drop to just three with a minute left, but a clutch shot by Jon McGlocklin that put the Rockets out of trouble. McGlocklin topped the scorers with 28 points. Keith Erickson led the Bulls with 20.

Bengals Awaiting College Drafts

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The college draft is the next shopping stop for the American Football League's new-born Cincinnati Bengals.

Paul Brown's Bengals were stocked with 40 veteran players in the AFL's expansion draft here but the head coach and owner of the new club made it clear that he expected more talent to come out of the college market.

"One thing I won't do," said Brown, "is to mortgage my club by trading draft picks for older players."

The Bengals, who choose second behind only Minnesota in the Jan. 30 collegiate draft, are likely to go after a quarterback. There are three good ones available, UCLA's Gary Beban, Alabama's Kenny Stabler and Florida State's Kim Hammond.

Cincinnati already owns one signal caller—John Stofa. He was acquired in a pre-draft trade with Miami in which the Bengals surrendered two collegiate picks.

"It was a good trade for us," said Brown, "because we got an experienced quarterback—something you can't find everywhere."

Stofa, 25, sat out last season with a broken ankle and he'll have plenty of medical company in the Bengals' backfield.

Two of Brown's picks in the expansion draft are question marks because of severe leg injuries. Buffalo's Bobby Burnett, the AFL's rookie of the year in 1966, will try to bounce back from a broken right leg and Cookie Gilchrist of Denver hopes to shake the effects of surgery on his left knee.

The Bengals also got an all-star—linebacker Frank Buncom from San Diego—as well as the Chargers' place kicker—Dick Van Raaphorst.

Kansas City contributed two familiar names to the Bengals in split end Chris Burford and linebacker Sherrill Headrick, both AFL veterans.

Up front, Cincinnati got Buffalo's Gary Bugenhagen, an All-American at Syracuse two years ago, and Oakland's Richard Sligh, a 7-foot, 300-pound defensive tackle, among others.

Homer To Stay At Davidson

DAVIDSON, N. C. (AP)—Football Coach Homer Smith of Davidson College says he isn't interested in the vacant head coaching position at Utah University.

On his return from an interview at Utah Wednesday, Smith said: "I've told my assistants that I would not be leaving."

Smith was recommended for the Utah post by former Stanford coach Jack Curtice, now athletic director at the University of California at Santa Barbara.

"It was very flattering . . . to be invited out," Smith said.

Smith has coached at Davidson for two seasons after holding the post of backfield coach at the Air Force Academy.

Tests Start At Riverside

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—The trouble with most people these days is they're in too big a hurry to get nowhere. So says Cale Yarborough who is generally in a big hurry himself.

But Yarborough maintains he's going somewhere and, if he doesn't get there quick, he might as well forget the matter.

Yarborough happens to be a race driver, at 28 one of the upcoming young breed ready to take over from some of the older professionals.

Cale will drive in the Motor Trend Riverside 500 Sunday, a road race extravaganza for stock cars. He'll be in one of the 11 factory-backed entries of the Ford Motor Co. and he'll team with Dan Gurney of Corona Del Mar, Calif., who has won this race four times.

Qualifying for Sunday's race was scheduled to begin today.

Yarborough says he has been racing since he was 11, starting with the soap box derbies back in Tennessee. He drove his first real car at 15 and at 17 won $7,500 in a race at Darlington, S. C.

He was voted the most popular driver in a poll last year and won $56,600 in prize money, including victories in the Atlanta 500 and the Firecracker 400.

This will be his third crack at the Motor Trend 500. Transmission trouble forced him out of the earlier efforts. Cale, whose christened name was Caleb, was one of those who escaped injury in the spectacular pile-up of 16 cars 1 1/2 yards after the start of the famed Indianapolis 500 in 1967.

As for the freeways in the Riverside-Los Angeles vicinity—"I see more cars on the road here in five minutes than I see back home in a month. What they should do is have a guy with a checkered flag every mile and call a halt to all the speed," he said.

Hetzel Leads In Maryland Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The University of Maryland's sophomore whiz Will Hetzel now is referred to as "Fred's little brother," but Terp fans say Fred Hetzel may be remembered someday as "Will's brother."

It will take years of basketball history to resolve the debate.

Meanwhile, Fred, an All-American at Davidson, plays with the San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Association while sophomore Will helps keep Maryland fans interested.

The 6-foot-6 sophomore center made a three-point play with 1:20 left Wednesday night to break a 69-69 tie and start Maryland on its way to a 76-72 victory over Navy. Hetzel tied Navy's Hugh Kilmartin for scoring honors as each made 25.

For Maryland, one of several Atlantic Coast Conference teams in a rebuilding year this season, it was a fourth victory in 13 games and the last contest before a break for semester exams. The Terps play at Miami an. 30.

Most other ACC teams already have taken an exam break or are in the midst of one. No games are scheduled tonight or Friday night.

Saturday afternoon, Clemson plays at Virginia in a regionally televised game. That night North Carolina State is at home to East Carolina of the Southern Conference.

The Clemson - Virginia game will be the second meeting of the season for the two schools. In the first game—played at Clemson—Virginia trailed 50-44 at intermission but came back to win 95-92.

Clemson is fighting to move up from the cellar in the ACC standings. The Tigers are 0-4 while seventh-place Maryland is 1-5. Virginia is 2-3.

Dave Scholz, 6-foot-8 Illinois basketball center who led Big Ten sophomores in scoring last season with a 20.5 point average in 23 games, was fifth in the conference scoring race.

Rules Committee Hits At Injury Situations

By BEN FUNK
MIAMI (AP)—Three types of guys who knowingly—but legally—contribute to college football's high toll of injuries have been outlawed by the Football Rules Committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

These are the villains:

The safety who gives a fake fair catch signal, making himself immune from tackling, then throws a crushing block into an unsuspecting enemy coming down to cover the punt.

The flanker who goes wide, then cuts back into a neutral zone behind the line of scrimmage to clip a linebacker.

The lineman who goes into a sucker shift to draw the opposition offside.

These maneuvers, condoned by tricky coaches, have led to many injuries, Ivan B. Williamson, the committee chairman said Wednesday, and prohibiting them "will make football a safer game."

Under new rules, the safety who gives a fair catch signal will not be allowed to block while the ball is in play. If he does, his team draws a 15-yard penalty.

In the past, clipping has been legal in a zone three feet deep along the interior line. In the future, no player more than five yards outside this zone may enter it and throw a clip. The penalty will be the usual 15 yards.

To prevent sucker shifts, no lineman will be allowed to move before the snap of the ball once he has assumed a position with a hand on the ground. A shift will bring a five-yard penalty.

The committee, yielding to a clamor from coaches, also abolished the punt coverage rule it put into effect last season.

The one-year-old rule allowed only ends and backs of a punting team to go downfield with the snap of the ball.

But pressure from coaches to go back to the old rule which permitted everybody to go with the snap of the ball, succeeded, although the new rule did not lead, as they expected, to a rash of injuries among ends and backs.

The tackle-eligible pass play was eliminated from the game. Williamson said some coaches had been getting illegal receivers downfield by putting numbers in the 80s, usually reserved for ends, on tackles.

Now, centers, guards and tackles must wear numbers between 50 and 79 and no player wearing those numbers will be eligible for a pass.

Under other new rules, quarterbacks may communicate with any number of coaches on the sideline during a charged time out, instead of just one coach; the timeout period is shortened from two to 1 1/2 minutes, and the clock will be stopped whenever a team makes a first down.

Ladies Play Two Contests

Coca-Cola and Azalea Mobile Homes picked up victories in the Ladies Basketball League last night.

Coke defeated Pure Oil, 18-14, in the opening game. Pure took a 5-4 lead at the end of the first period, but Coke came back to lead, 10-8, at the half. Coke made its lead 14-8 by the end of the third period, then held off a Pure rally to win.

In the second game, Azalea downed Wachovia, 32-30. Both teams were cold at the start, ending the first period tied 2-2. But then Azalea pushed out into a slim 13-11 lead at the half. In the third period, the lead was increased by one at 23-20, and Azalea held on for the win in the final frame.

Dottie Harris led Azalea with 16 points, while Carol Pennell had 20 for Wachovia.

Coke leads the league with a 2-0 record, followed by Pure and Azalea with 1-1 marks. Wachovia is 0-2.

Professor Cook Advises Vision And Hard Work

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Dr. Samuel DeBois Cook had this advice for all young Negroes: "Have a vision of excellence, a dream of success and work like hell."

Dr. Cook, the first and only Negro professor on the non-medical faculty Duke University, said the formula has served him well over the years.

"Here I am," he said, a Negro from Griffin gave the great-grandson of a slave, the son of a poor minister, giving knowledge to the students of one of the greatest universities in the South."

Dr. Cook came to Duke for one semester as a visiting professor in political science from the predominantly Negro Atlanta University. He later accepted a permanent position on the Duke faculty.

A tall, raw-boned man, dressed in the conservative tweeds of the college professor, Dr. Cook warned that the Negro must be prepared.

"A few doors are opening now," he said, "far too few. But when the Negro has his chance he must be qualified to grasp the opportunity."

"My father always told me," Cook said, in his deep, rich voice, "that the ground floor is always crowded. There is plenty of room at the top."

Cook hooked his thumbs in a pair of snappy suspenders, looked out over the Duke campus, and said:

"I fear the hiring of an individual on a non-racial basis still is far, far in the future. Today the Negro is being employed in some top jobs only on a token basis, only a symbol, only as means of easing some employer's guilt."

"But at least the first step has been taken and that is the most difficult step of all."

Cook, educated at Negro Morehouse College and later in graduate school at Ohio State, said he had encountered no hostility from the Duke students.

"This new generation," he said, "for the most part judges a man by what he does, not by how he looks."

"There was some surprise that first day," Cook said, "but nothing more. It has been a heartwarming experience."

In class, Dr. Cook states a theory, and his interpretation of it. His pupils are expected to respond, not with dogmatism but with reason. He prods his students to abandon their bare assertions and to look behind events.

The professor said the South does not stand alone in failing to give qualified Negroes the opportunities to teach in major colleges and universities.

"There is no equal opportunity in many northern schools," he said. "Most of the small colleges in New England have no Negro instructors at all."

In the area of civil rights, Dr. Cook said, "the next step must be the Negro and the white working together to rectify the scars heaped upon the Negroes over these many years."

"It is cruel to say the next step must be taken by the Negro alone. He may have gained legal equality and judicial equality, but he has been neglected so many years he cannot as yet compete."

"It is the same," Dr. Cook said, "as curing a man who has been crippled all his life, then saying to him, 'now get up and run a race with the man who never has been hurt.'"

Of the Black Power slogan voiced by militant Negro groups, Dr. Cook said: "The myth of Black Power is pragmatic nonsense, strategically self-defeating, anthropologically illusory, and ethically destructive."

Dr. Cook said he feels no self-pride in being Duke University's first Negro professor.

He is only reminded of one of his teachings:

"Democracy is institutionalized humility."

Officials Urged To Lead The Way

LUCKNOW, India (AP) — Uttar Pradesh state officials have been requested to put all compounds at government buildings and at their residences under cultivation.

An order from the state chief secretary said the "grow more food" campaign would be financed by the state in its compounds but that the officials should pay for and benefit from food grown at home.

'Newsletters' Carrying Name Of Klan Leader Said Given 3 Jurors

By FRED GIRARD
Associated Press Writer
SALISBURY, N. C. (AP) — Three jurors in the trial of nine admitted members of the Ku Klux Klan were given newsletters Wednesday bearing the typewritten name of Klan leader J. Robert Jones and saying the trial was a "travesty of justice."

The jurors said they did not read the newsletter and Federal Judge Edwin M. Stanley cautioned all 12 white men on the jury not to read any publications or listen to any statements concerning the trial outside the courtroom. The three received the letters during the luncheon recess.

The newsletter bore the typewritten name of Jones, but he later denied any knowledge of the letter.

The mimeographed sheet said the jurors were trying the wrong group because the real crime was a "conspiracy between Hill and the FBI." Robert P. Hill, 31, of Concord, is a former klansman who became an FBI informer and has been a star witness in the trial.

The nine defendants are charged with intimidating school officials and other citizens of Rowan and Cabarrus counties because of school desegregation.

During Wednesday's testimony, tall, lanky Ronald Lee Mullis, 29, of Concord, denied statements submitted as evidence by the government under his name.

The signed statements connected Mullis and other defendants with nine separate acts of terrorism and included statements saying Mullis had signed voluntarily and had been fully advised of his rights.

Mullis refused to admit he had signed the statements, saying, "To my knowing that is not my signature."

He told the court he had blacked out one night because of intense pressure caused by "constant harassment by the FBI" and had not awakened for five days.

It was during this time, on May 9, 1967, the alleged statements were made and signed.

U.S. Dist. Atty. William Murdoch, in cross examination, is attempting to prove actual participation in acts of terrorism by several of the defendants.

The government has charged five of the nine defendants with the Sept. 3, 1966, burning of a Presbyterian church near Kannapolis.

51, of Concord was released by the government for lack of evidence.

Says Audit Fails Tell Full Story

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Fannie Mae came to the market again this week and sold everything in her basket, even though buyers generally were critical and unresponsive to other goods.

As one trader observed in the jargon typical of this particular marketplace, "Fannie Mae was very well received; she got a real nice reception."

Obviously she did, for at the end of one day's work Fannie had disposed of hundreds of millions of dollars worth of her offerings, and what remnants remained certainly would be bought up in a day or so.

Fannie, who celebrates her 30th birthday Feb. 10, is one of the shyest people in public life. She may hold the mortgage on your home, for example, but you'd never know it.

Few people, in fact, know that her real name is the Federal National Mortgage Association, that because of her mixed parentage she is a part public, part private agency, and that she is the world's largest mortgage banker.

Ridley said this was done despite a staff shortage.

Trustees of the college will meet Thursday to study the audit and consider Ridley's resignation.

Following the audit, State Auditor Henry Bridges recommended that state matching funds for student aid programs be cut off until "corrective action" is taken to eliminate irregularities. Bridges said these included forged time cards for students working in those programs involving state and federal funds.

Fannie Mae Is Well Received

This term sounds confusing, but all it means is that purchasers participate with government in ownership of these loans.

The chance to participate was offered the public through $800 million of Fannie Mae securities at better than 6 per cent interest, backed by her inviolate word and the power of the U.S. Treasury.

Without realizing it, however, perhaps the most potent influence on individuals has been through Fannie Mae's original activities in the purchase and sale of mortgages to and from banks, savings and loan associations and insurance companies.

When Fannie Mae purchases these mortgages, private lenders are made more liquid, or freed to make additional loans to potential home buyers. This aids mortgage markets in operating efficiently, especially during tight money.

When these institutions have an abundance of money—and that is not the situation now—they may enlarge their portfolios by purchasing mortgages from Fannie Mae. This occupies the banks' excess funds profitably.

The private citizen is seldom if ever aware of these transactions, for he continues to make his mortgage payments to the same bank or loan association or insurance company.

When the institution receives payment from the home owner it forwards the principal and interest to Fannie Mae and continues to set aside specific amounts each month for taxes and insurance.

The Rainbow, the first clipper ship, was launched in 1845.

A heart was led from dummy and South ruffed with the jack of spades. West discarded the jack of diamonds, a move he was soon to regret. Declarer exited with a diamond putting West in with the king. The latter returned a small trump, enabling South to score a trick with the six of spades. The king of spades was led and ducked giving declarer his ninth trick. He switched to a diamond which West ruffed with the eight of trumps. He cashed the ace; however, South's queen took the final and game fulfilling trick.

If West had overruffed the jack of spades with the ace at trick seven, the final outcome would still have been the same, for he is employed on the return whether he leads a spade or a diamond, South can then throw him in subsequently and force another favorable return.

The only effective defense is for West to discard a small spade under the jack. This averts one of the endplays and declarer will eventually fall one trick short.

West opened the seven of hearts and the ace was played from dummy. A diamond was led to the ace and then a small diamond was ruffed with the deuce of spades as East discarded a heart.

East's failure to overruff enlightened South to the fact that every missing trump was stacked behind him. West was now revealed to have started with five spades and five diamonds. He had led a heart originally and, on the basis of East's preemptive bid, it appeared likely to the declarer that West's remaining two cards were clubs.

The ace of clubs was cashed and a diamond discarded from the closed hand. A small club was ruffed with the three of spades as West Opening lead: Seven of ♠ West's double of South's four spade overall appeared to be "money from home" to the former. Hopes for a profit died, however, when he failed to uncover the winning defense.

Wildlife Club Meeting Slated

The Pitt County Wildlife Club will meet January 18 at the club site between Falkland and Belvoir.

The 7 p.m. meeting will include a pot-luck dinner featuring a variety of wild game cooked in pastry stew.

Accused are Ray L. Hornbeak, 27, of Concord; Nolan Saffrit, 45, of Kannapolis; Clifton Wayne Shaver, 28, of Salisbury; Winfred Edward Bridges, 29, of Kannapolis; and Bobby Waggoner, 24, of Kannapolis.

All five testified they had spent the night of Sept. 3, 1966, washing the floor of the South Rowan klavern of the Klan.

Originally, 12 men were arrested in FBI pre-dawn raids last July. They were charged with conspiring to intimidate school officials and others in an attempt to disrupt school integration.

One of the 12, Wayne Davis, Rowan County register of deeds, died of leukemia last weekend. Another, Homer Blackwelder,

Demonstrations Against Carrier's Visit Continue

By KENNETH ISHII
Associated Press Writer
SASEBO, Japan (AP) — Leftists demonstrated in Sasebo and Tokyo today against the visit of the nuclear-powered U.S. aircraft carrier Enterprise as the 75,000-ton giant neared the U.S. Navy base in this south Japanese port.

Authorities said 120 extreme leftist students were arrested in two clashes with riot police. But the biggest demonstration was an orderly Communist-Socialist gathering of an estimated 50,000 persons at a Sasebo ball park. The demonstrators paraded through the streets.

Some 700 students attacked a police barricade in front of the main entrance to the Sasebo naval base, following a similar attack Wednesday. But riot police drove them off easily with tear gas and high-powered jets of water from firetrucks.

Police said three policemen and eight students were injured and another 200 persons were treated at a hospital for tear gas irritation. Officers arrested 15 students, increasing to 42 the number taken into custody in Sasebo in two days.

Another clash broke out in Tokyo when about 300 students, marching in protest toward the prime minister's official residence and the U.S. Embassy, began throwing stones and milk bottles at some of the 700 riot police along the way. Both students and police wore steel helmets.

Police said they arrested 105 students.

About 10,000 labor unionists also marched to the U.S. Embassy in Tokyo in a Communist-sponsored protest demonstration, but they were orderly.

The Enterprise, en route to join the air war against North Vietnam and accompanied by the nuclear-powered frigate Truxton, was due in Sasebo Friday. The U.S. Embassy said the carrier and her crew of 4,300 would stay for about five days.

The Enterprise and the Truxton are the first nuclear-powered surface warships to visit Japan, although American nuclear submarines have been visiting Japanese ports since 1964. The Socialists and the Communists charged the visit threatens Japan with involvement in the war.

Leftists have been assembling in Sasebo since last week, and almost all of the demonstrators are from other parts of the country. Most of the city's 250,000 population welcome all visiting American ships and the business they bring.

Police Probing Theft Of Wine

Police are investigating the theft of four bottles of wine from the Zip Mart on West Fifth Street.

Chief H. F. Lawson said someone broke the glass from a door to the building Tuesday and took the wine, valued at $5.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's industrial output climbed sharply to a record high in December but the general increase was tempered by a sharp drop in home-building activity, the Federal Reserve Board reports.

The board Wednesday said its industrial-production index climbed 2.3 points during the month to a record 161.1 per cent of the 1957-59 base period. Auto production led the widespread advance, it said.

At the same time, however, the Commerce Department said new housing units started in December fell 20.9 per cent to the lowest level since last June.

It was the first decrease since that time.

Avers Assembly Bears Burden

RALEIGH (AP)—Dr. Charles F. Carroll, state superintendent of public instruction, says North Carolina's public schools will not solve their financial problems until the General Assembly defines the responsibilities of state and local governments in Chapel Hill.

Carroll, who spoke to the Governor's Study Commission on the Public Schools Wednesday, listed desegregation and finances as the two major issues facing the schools.

He refrained from discussing desegregation problems, however, and concentrated on the financial difficulties of the schools.

The first step to resolve the money problems would be a state policy setting forth "what might be expected of both the state and local units," Carroll said.

"Until we have such a policy, it's impossible to do long range planning — without which nothing can be done," he asserted. He said the lack of policy impedes steps to improve teachers' salaries.

Stolen, Imported Rug Is Recovered

An imported rug, valued at $243 and reported stolen from a Pitt Plaza shop was recovered yesterday in an empty truck parked at the Plaza.

According to Chief H. F. Lawson, operators of Aviane's at the Plaza reported a Negro man entered the store and walked out with the 4½-feet by 6-feet rug late Tuesday afternoon.

The rug was found about midday Wednesday in a van truck parked at the rear of a Pitt Plaza store.

Investigation of the theft is continuing.

Charge Driver In Traffic Mishap

Wayne M. Murschell, 20, of Bridgeport, N. J. was charged with failing to yield the right of way in a 7:58 a.m. mishap yesterday at the intersection of Ninth and Cotanche Streets.

Police said the Murschell car collided with a vehicle driven by Joseph Edmond Waldrop, 54, of Greenville.

Damage to the Murschell car was placed at $150 while damage to the Waldrop auto was set at $300.

Construction of the buildings of Sing Sing prison in Ossining, N.Y., began in 1825.

experimental $18,500 research car—that has a gold-plated steering wheel as an essential component—has been unveiled by the Ford Motor Co. as a device which someday may help improve driver licensing and rating.

Company officials said here Wednesday the car may also help provide more detailed information on the effects of alcohol, drugs, fatigue and illness on driver-performance.

The wheel was plated with gold, they said, because it conducts electricity well—in this case the electric impulses of heart beats transmitted through a driver's hands to the wheel, and then to tape recording equipment inside the car.

The driver's seat was described as a "medical monitor chair" which enables measurements of the heartbeat and breathing rate of a person sitting in it through the skin without the use of any attached electrodes or other devices.

Press Institute Begins Tonight

CHAPEL HILL (AP)—The annual Mid-Winter Press Institute will get under way at the University of North Carolina tonight with the presentation of awards to 1967 press contest winners.

The three-day institute will continue Friday with the appearance of the state's four candidates for governor, cartoonist Al Capp and pollster Lou Harris.

Gov. Dan Moore will present awards tonight to contest winners at a banquet in the Chase Dining Hall at the university.

Harris, a UNC graduate, will speak Friday morning, and Capp will be the speaker Friday night at the traditional Duke dinner at Duke University.

The candidates for governor will appear on a program Friday afternoon. Each will talk from five to seven minutes and this will be followed by a question-and-answer period.

The Institute, sponsored by the North Carolina Press Association, will close with a business session Saturday morning.

In conjunction with the gathering, the North Carolina Associated Press Club held its annual meeting today and heard an address by Jules Loh, a roving reporter for the AP. He is a member of the news organization's special assignment task force, which is dispatched to major news stories in the United States. He also writes for AP Newsfeatures.

Cowboy Chorus

Above the San Rafael Valley in southern Arizona, the Huachuca Mountains ring to the sound of young voices. The songs come from the members of the Tucson Arizona Boys Chorus at the Little Outfit Ranch where they spend their summers learning and practicing.

Formed into three groups, age 8 to 16, of Junior, Intermediate and Senior, over 100 boys follow a daily schedule which includes intensive musical training for next season's concert programs. During their free time, they participate in hiking, swimming, trick roping, leatherworking, shooting, horseback riding and physical fitness exercises.

Under the direction of Jeffrey Haskell, the boys are coached on everything from eating properly to making their voices perform at top quality.

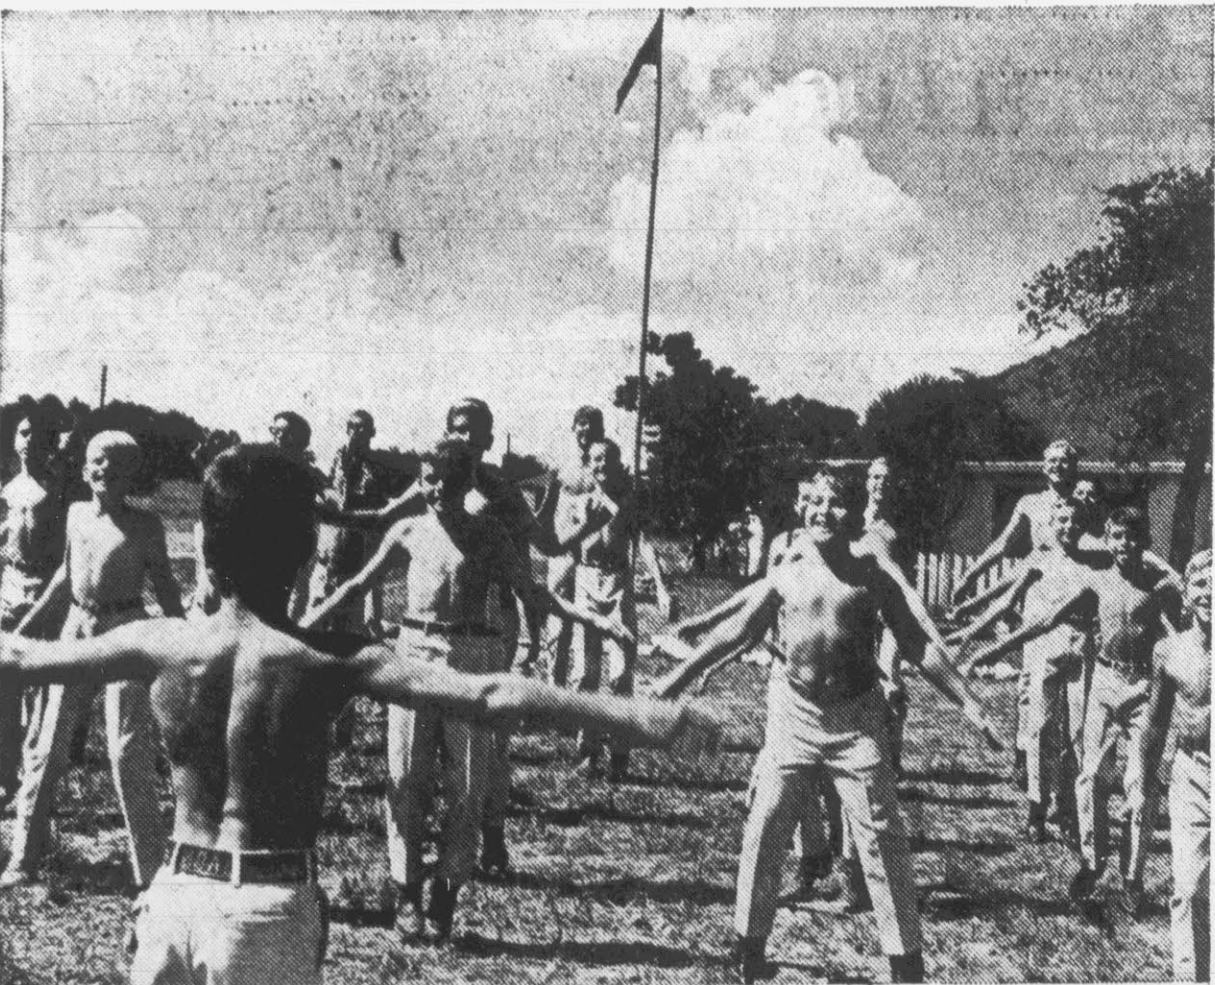

This form of leadership, coupled with giving the young singers the responsibility for handling their day-to-day activities, make their summer experience a vital part of growing up.

About 30 of the group are chosen for the Winter Tour. They must excel academically. Since they are on the road during regular class time, they must complete their educational requirements, under special tutors, upon tour's end. If necessary, this can extend into their summer camp time.

After the summer of practice and fun, the Tucson Arizona Boys Chorus prepares for their upcoming tour, departing their hometown in late January for a three to four month trip that can take them as far away as Australia or Europe.

Under a cloudy sky, members of one group practice with director Jeffrey Haskell.

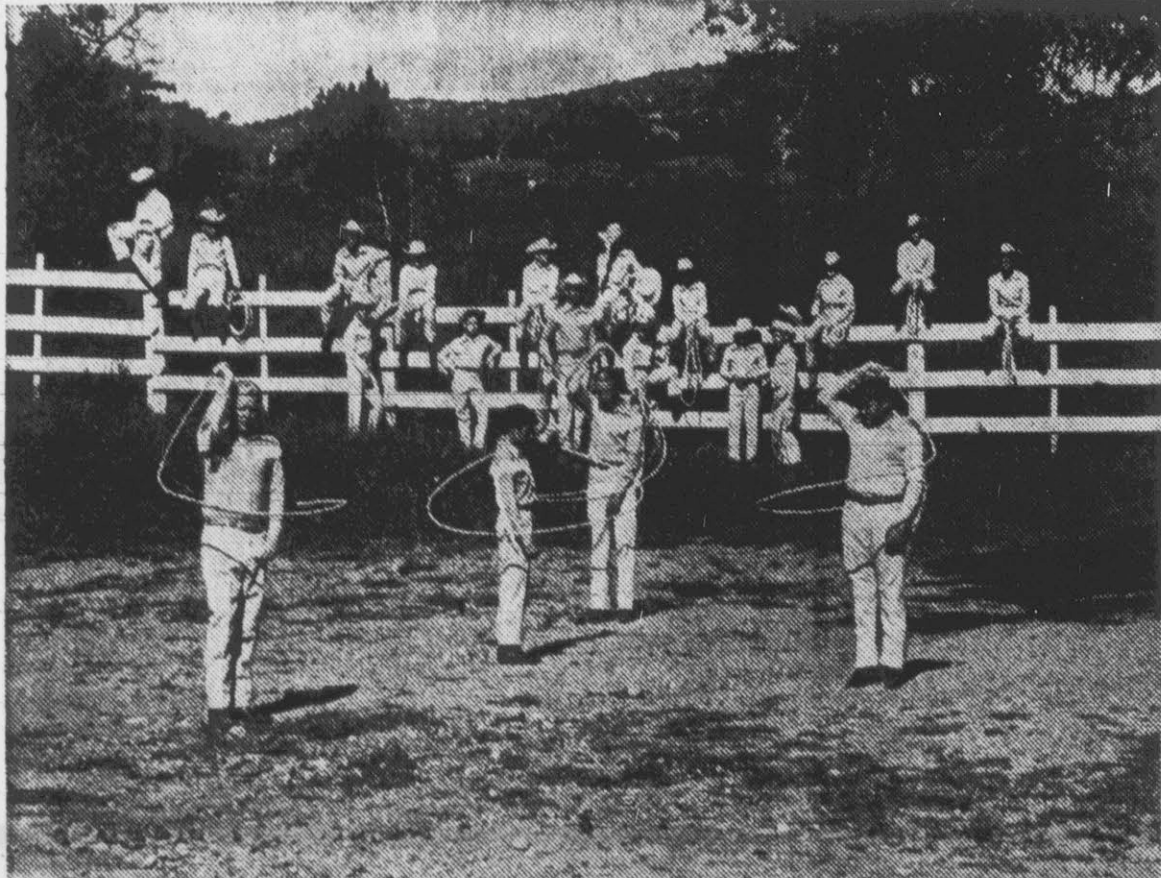

Morning exercises are led by a Chorus member.

Brian Eustice is taught proper table manners by Jeffrey Haskell as part of the lessons learned during the summer.

Practice on rope twirling fills a portion of the day.

At day's end, the flags of Arizona and the United States are lowered in proper ceremony.

Sixth Annual Pageant On April 19

The sixth annual "Miss Greenville" contest has been scheduled for April 19, under the sponsorship of Les Gaylenettes.

The contest, with eight contestants, will be held at St. Gabriel's School Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Contestants in the event include Carolyn Beatrice Atkinson, Carolyn Douglas Barnhill, Brenda Lois Bell, Vivian Elois Artis, Esther Marie Wooten, Linda Joyce Ebron, Alice Mae Harris and Brenda White.

Proceeds from the contest will be used by Les Gaylenettes Club to provide scholarships for worthy students. In addition to providing scholarships, the civic club also works with the Pitt County Welfare Department to aid worthy families.

The "Miss Greenville" contest is the only fund-raising project sponsored by the Les Gaylenettes.

All of the contestants are high school students.

Miss White, 15, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Letha White and is a sophomore at the G. R. Whitfield High School.

She is vice president of her class, secretary of the library club, a member of the Glee Club and Future Homemakers of America, and a member of the Sweet Hope FWB Church.

Miss White is sponsored in the contest by Mrs. Doris Hansley.

Miss Wooten, 18, of Falkland is an H.B. Sugg High School senior and a member of the St. John Baptist Church, and is secretary of the Junior Usher Board there.

She is a member of the F. Howard Mebane Chapter of the National Honor Society, the French, Commercial and social science clubs at the school, as well as the Future Teachers of America and the student council.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Wooten and is being sponsored by Mrs. Lizzie Williams.

A J.H. Rose High School sophomore, Miss Ebron is a member of the school band and flute quartet. She is also a member of York Memorial AME Zion Church and secretary of the church's junior choir.

Her guardians are Mr. and Mrs. James Hopkins. Mrs. Rosa Harris is her sponsor in the contest.

Miss Harris, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bradley and is a junior at C.M. Eppes High School.

She is a member of the school band and the Future Homemakers of America. She is also a member of the Rock Spring FWB Church.

She is sponsored by Mrs. Blanche Hopkins.

Miss Artis, 15, is being sponsored in the Miss Greenville competition by Mrs. Mattie Eaton.

She is a freshman at Eppes High School and a member of the school band and the student council.

Miss Artis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Artis.

Romney Heartened By New Hampshire Tour

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP) — George Romney, heartened by his first presidential campaign swing in New Hampshire but still a self-described underdog, is opening a second front in Wisconsin.

The Michigan governor scheduled a Saturday mission to Milwaukee to open his campaign for the April 2 Wisconsin primary.

But the New Hampshire primary March 12 still tops the Romney agenda. He plans to return to this state in a week to resume his uphill race against former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

"We've had much more support than we'd anticipated," Romney said in climaxing a five-day campaign that crisscrossed New Hampshire for nearly 1,000 miles. "We're greatly heartened."

Romney managers claimed the governor had seen more than 11,000 persons.

As Romney wound up the visit Wednesday night with a speech in Dover, a young boy in the audience asked him: "What do you think your chances of becoming president are, and why?"

Romney laughed.

"I think I'm as big an underdog right now in the presidency race as I was in the automobile business," said the candidate who once headed American Motors Corp.

"I think I'll win because I'm discussing issues more directly and I think I have more experience and background than the others who are running for election this year."

Polls, including those by Romney's campaign managers, show Nixon favored by New Hampshire voters although he has not announced as a presidential candidate.

While President Johnson delivered his State of the Union address before Congress and television cameras, Romney was speaking to some 175 persons at a Dover school cafeteria.

Romney said Johnson "seems to think that an aristocracy of public and private power has a natural right to wheel and deal and bargain out policy at the top—while the people stand by helpless."

Romney said that invites all but the very powerful to accept irresponsibility," even violence.

Romney also had a challenge for his Republican presidential rivals, saying any man who seeks the presidency should "spell out at least the outline of an acceptable settlement" in Vietnam.

He said voters should insist on this.

Romney's formula is neutralization of Vietnam and he underscored it during his campaign rounds with demands for reform and broadened participation in the Saigon government.

Hopes Computer Can Use Speech

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A University of Texas engineer is working on a computer that can convert spoken numbers to electric signals, and he hopes it will understand everything from a Texas drawl to a Cockney accent.

"We hope we won't have to teach people to talk to the machine," says Dr. C. L. Coates, professor of electrical engineering and computer sciences.

He will describe his research Tuesday at a meeting in Houston for local industrialists.

Coates said the machine would be of tremendous practical value, as a desk calculator, for instance.

Coates says although progress has been made, much research remains to be done.

Jordan Blizzards Claim 18 Lives

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—Blizzards that paralyzed Jordan the past three days took 18 lives, all refugees of the June Mideast war.

The subsequent thaw brought danger of flooding. The Jordan river was overflowing at several places, and persons living along the banks of the Asseil, which flows through Amman, were warned to leave their homes.

The Worry Clinic Salesman's Attitude Can Make Or Break

Luke put on an excellent sales presentation and had sold his prospect, but ruined the deal by his own nervousness when filling out the order. So take a lesson from Thomas Edison, as outlined below. And then send for the booklet "Streamlined-Sales Strategy."

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE E-564: Luke S., aged 23, was a new salesman. He called on a professional buyer, who was then attending my evening class at Northwestern University on "Sales and Advertising Psychology."

Luke was demonstrating an office gadget that was very effective, so the buyer showed that he was interested.

"How many units would you want?" Luke inquired, expecting the buyer to reply with "One or two."

"Oh, we'll need 45," said the buyer.

This jolted Luke, for he had not realized that the professional buyer represented 45 different outlets.

Luke became so excited and overjoyed that his hand shook. "Dr. Crane," the buyer later informed me, "I didn't complete the purchase, for I figured if the salesman wasn't used to big orders, then his product might not be as good as he had made out."

Thus, Luke lost the biggest sale of his career just because he didn't appear casual.

Later, another salesman contacted this same buyer and demonstrated a similar gadget.

When the salesman asked how many units were needed, and received the reply "Forty five," he never batted an eye.

Instead, he casually inquired when should they be delivered and where.

Many salesmen lose orders because they also are overly eager and press too hard.

This also explains why many girls lose proposals, for when a potential prospect "senses" the excessive eagerness and pressure, he grows suspicious and fearful.

But to obtain a casual attitude when you find a windfall dropping into your lap, you must think big!

Widen your horizons so a molehill doesn't loom as a mountain.

Thomas A. Edison volunteered to repair the stock ticker in New York when it had broken down and caused consternation among the brokers.

So they hired him at $150 per month, which was a big salary in those days.

Later, Edison invented an improvement on the ticker and the members of the Stock Exchange wanted to purchase his patent.

Edison decided in his own mind that it would be worth at least one year's salary ($1,800).

But he finally worked up his resolution to the point where he figured he'd start out by asking $5,000.

On the day of his interview, he met with the officials, who praised his work and then told him they'd like to purchase his patent, so they wanted to know what he would take for it.

Edison decided to ask the $5,000 but his throat was dry and that big sum sounded like high-way robbery.

So he told them he hadn't thought about the matter, but wondered what they'd consider a fair price.

"Young man," replied the Chairman, "we can't afford to offer you a cent more than $50,000."

Check These Bargain Buys

Edison said his heart jumped into his throat so he couldn't answer at once, but he winked his brow as if meditating and finally regained his voice so he could accept.

But he said that taught him a valuable lesson, namely, let the other fellow make his offer when he approaches you, for what is chicken feed to him may be big money to your standard of living.

Send for my booklet "The New Psychology of Advertising and Selling," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina hog prices today were mostly 50 cents lower. Tops of 17.75-18.25 at Rocky Mount, Hickory; 17.50-18.25 Wilson; 17.25-18.00 Statesville; 17.00-18.00 Bethel; 18.00 Salisbury, Greensboro; 17.75 Selma; 17.25 Siler City, Denton.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina egg markets steady. Supplies about adequate, demand fair to good. Prices paid producers and handlers for consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered nearby outlets: Grade A large whites: 42 to 48; medium, whites: 39 to 41; small, whites: 36 to 39.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced on a broad front early this afternoon in reaction to President Johnson's State of the Union message.

Brokers said investors' apprehension in advance of the message evaporated when they found no surprises in his proposals to Congress Wednesday night.

Analysts said Johnson's call for more spending had helped spur the advance. Another favorable factor was the Federal Reserve Board's report that industrial output in December established the first new record in a year.

Advances of individual stocks outnumbered declines by nearly 500 issues.

Trading was heavy and for a while during the morning the New York Stock Exchange ticker tape trailed by three minutes in reporting floor transactions.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon had gained 5.44 at 889.22.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was ahead 1.6 at 322.0 with industrials up 3.2, rails up .5 and utilities up .2.

Steels, rubbers, aircrafts, non-ferrous metals, chemicals, airlines, tobaccos, building materials and drugs joined in the rally.

Opening of trading in IBM was delayed because of an influx of orders. After opening, the issue gained 3 points.

Du Pont gave the averages a boost with an advance of more than 3 points.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

Mystery Death For 2nd Sister

SANTA MARIA, Calif. (AP)—Five years apart, two sisters died mysteriously in the same, sudden way: They looked around horrified, screamed piercingly for 10 seconds, then stopped breathing.

Police said Army Staff Sgt. Robert Rush told them Wednesday that his wife Patricia, 23, woke him about 6 a.m. screamed and collapsed.

Resuscitation attempts failed. Officials waited today for autopsy results.

Mrs. Rush's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Stephens of nearby San Luis Obispo, told newsmen that in 1963 their daughter Beverly, 17, emerged from a swimming pool and died in the same way. An autopsy failed to disclose a cause of death.

The Stephens have two other daughters, Barbara, 17, and Diana, 11.

"Naturally," said Stephens, "we are very concerned and anxious about my other daughters."

The aardvark, whose name is Dutch for "earth pig," spends his days in burrows which he digs himself.

House Heavily Damaged By Fire Here Last Evening

HEAVY DAMAGE . . . Firemen are shown pouring water into the attic of an Eastern Street home damaged by fire last night.

Fire caused extensive damage to a house at 102 South Eastern St. early last night.

Firemen said the blaze was reported at 7 p.m. and officers on responding fire units reported fire was breaking out the windows when they arrived.

They noted the fire was quickly brought under control and extinguished.

Heaviest damage to the wood-frame home occupied by several East Carolina University men students resulted to the kitchen and front part of the house, although smoke damage resulted to the entire structure.

Officers said the blaze erupted when a pan of grease on the kitchen stove caught fire.

Personal Stake In Predictions

WINSTON-SALEM (AP) — A weather forecaster at the U.S. Weather Bureau at Friendship has a very personal interest in his prediction today.

The meteorologist—colleagues would not disclose his identity—drove blithely into a snow-covered parking lot Wednesday.

Wednesday night, when the mercury dropped to 22 degrees, as predicted, he found his car trapped in a sheet of ice.

He can get it out this afternoon — assuming the temperature rises to the upper 30s as he figured.

Rev. Hobbs Will Speak Sunday

The Rev. James Hobbs will speak at the adult training union at Memorial Baptist Church Sunday at 7 p.m.

Chaplain of Methodist students at East Carolina University, the Rev. Hobbs will speak on the "Vocabulary of Salvation."

The public is invited to attend and join in the discussion groups.

Speech Highlights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are text highlights of President Johnson's State of the Union message Wednesday night.

PEACE TALKS

The bombing would stop if talks would take place promptly and with reasonable hopes they would be productive.

And the other side must not take advantage of our restraint as they have in the past.

If a basis for peace talks can be established on the San Antonio foundations—and it is my hope and my prayer that they can—we would consult with our allies and with the other side to see if a complete cessation of hostilities—a really true cease-fire—could be made the first order of business.

THE WAR

The enemy has been defeated in battle after battle.

The enemy continues to pour men and material across frontiers and into battle, despite his very heavy losses. He continues to hope that America's will to persevere can be broken. He is wrong.

THE ECONOMY

The economic outlook for this year is one of steady growth—if we are vigilant. True, there are some clouds on the horizon. Prices are rising. Interest rates have passed the peak of 1966; and if there is continued inaction on the tax bill, they will climb even higher.

I warn the nation that this failure to act will sweep us into an accelerating spiral of price increases; a slump in home building; and a continuing erosion of the American dollar.

CRIME

I urge the Congress to stop the trade in mail-order murder this year by adopting a proper gun control law.

This year, I will propose a Drug Control Act to provide stricter penalties for those who traffic in LSD and other dangerous drugs.

Consolidation In Five Years Is Recommended

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Consolidation of the Charlotte and Mecklenburg County governments on a gradual basis and to be completed within five years has been recommended by a Chamber of Commerce study committee.

Combining of some administrative functions next year, of the police departments by July 1, 1969, and of the fire departments by July 1, 1970, was proposed.

The committee, headed by D. Grier Martin president of Davidson College, called for appointment soon of a 16-member Single Government Charter Commission to build the legal foundation for action by the 1969 General Assembly.

WOW Elections Set Thursday

BETHEL—The election of officers will be held at the meeting of the Woodmen of the World Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

The "Woodman Award" will also be presented. The meeting will be held in the Woodman Hall.

EXTENDED WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR N. C.

Temperatures through Monday will average near or a few degrees below normal. Lows at night will average in the 30s. Precipitation of one-half inch or more, as scattered showers, about Friday with more general precipitation over the weekend.

U.S.-SOVIET RELATIONS

Because we believe the nuclear danger must be narrowed, we have worked with the Soviet Union and other nations to reach an agreement that will halt the spread of nuclear weapons . . . I hope to be able to present that treaty to the Senate this year for its approval.

Serious differences remain between us, yet in these relations, we have made some progress since Vienna, the Berlin Wall and the Cuban missile crisis.

HARD-CORE UNEMPLOYED

Our objective is to place these 500,000 in private industry jobs within the next three years.

MODEL CITIES

This year I urge the Congress to honor my request for Model Cities' funds to rebuild the centers of American cities—$1 billion.

HOUSING

We must call together the resources of industry and labor, to start building 300,000 housing units for low and middle-income families next year—three times more than this year. I propose, for the consideration of this Congress, a 10-year campaign to build six million new housing units for low and middle-income families.

CONSUMER PROTECTION

I propose new powers for the Federal Trade Commission to stop those who defraud and swindle the public; new safeguards to insure the quality of fish and poultry, and the safety of our community water supplies; a major study of automobile insurance; protection against hazardous radiation from television sets and other electronic equipment.

AGRICULTURE

I shall recommend . . . actions to raise the farmers' income by establishing a security commodity reserve that will protect the market from price-depressing stocks and the consumer from food scarcity (and) programs to help farmers bargain more effectively for fair prices.

Improving From Shotgun Wound

A Greenville man, who had been in critical condition at Duke Hospital from a gunshot head wound, was reported to be improving today.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson said that George Elbert Teel, 46, who lives in the Meadowbrook section of Greenville, was almost scalped by a blast from a 12 gauge shotgun Sunday night.

His brother Sonnie B. Teel, 56, of Rt. 6, Box 133, Greenville, told deputies he heard someone at his front door Sunday night. Thinking someone was breaking in, he said he got up and fired a 12 gauge shotgun through the door. He related that when he opened the door he found his brother had been hit in the top of the head.

Sonnie Teel obtained assistance to bring the injured man to Pitt Memorial Hospital. He was later transferred to Duke.

Sonnie B. Teel was charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill. He is in Pitt County Jail.

Congressman Jones, Please Give Us The Answer

In 1965 one thousand (1,000) Greenville citizens signed a petition requesting that a classified Post Office be built in West Greenville. It was the largest petition ever to be presented to Senator Ervin's office. At that time our Congressman, the late Herbert Bonner, was ill.

IS THERE AN OFFICIAL LACK OF CONCERN IN REGARD TO THE POSTAL SERVICE OFFERED WEST GREENVILLE?

Why should the West Greenville citizens have to cross Greenville to obtain service from a new Post Office located at First and Greene Streets in the remote, semi-isolated River front area?

In most progressive cities the trend is to build Post Offices in different sectors of the cities, so as to more efficiently and conveniently serve the people rather than force the people to seek the service from large, consolidated, inconveniently located Post Offices.

ONE THOUSAND (1,000) AND MORE CITIZENS ARE WAITING FOR AN ANSWER TO THE QUESTION — WHO DECIDED TO DENY WEST GREENVILLE A CLASSIFIED POST OFFICE?
