Too Fast A Flow Of Tobacco To Market Said Major '67 Problem

By SONNY McLAWHORN, Reflector Staff Writer. "The main problem encountered in marketing last year," said James B. Hunt, a representative of the North Carolina Grange, "is that tobacco flowed too fast from the farm to the warehouse floor."

Seawell pointed out that tobacco production in 1968 was expected to be 100-150 million pounds short of 1967 production. He said that a possible solution to part of the problem would be to permit pre-sheeting at the farmer level, thus creating a uniform method of marketing tobacco.

President, Advisers In Frequent Talks

AIR RESERVISTS CALLED TO DUTY

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 14,000 Air Force military reservists are being called to active duty in the wake of the North Korean takeover of a U.S. ship, the Pentagon announced today. The Pentagon announcement followed speedily on the heels of word from the White House that President Johnson had called for the recall to active duty of a number of Air Force and Navy air reservists.

fighter and transport aircraft. The White House said it did not know how many men would be involved. Press secretary George Christian, making the surprise announcement in the Pueblo crisis, raised the possibility of mobilizing ground forces by saying: "When and if decisions are made on call-ups of Army or Marine Corps reservists, announcements will be made promptly."

Under law, the reservists being called to active duty can be retained in uniform for 24 months. The order is effective immediately but Christian said specific orders to individual reserve units had yet to be dispatched. Johnson acted under a provision if the 1967 Defense Appropriations Act which states: "Until June 30, 1968, the President may when he deems it necessary order to active duty any unit of the ready reserve for a period not to exceed 24 months."

was being made on the diplomatic front, Christian simply responded, "efforts are still being made." The press aide said, as was apparent on the surface, that the mobilization of air reservists was directly connected with the Pueblo crisis. Asked why such action was necessary, he replied, "I don't want to interpret it." He reported Johnson reached the decision at a breakfast conference with, among others, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Ambassador Goldberg.

Expect Cheating In Teacher Tests

RALEIGH (AP)—A New Jersey organization which administers the National Teachers Examination has urged North Carolina to take steps to combat an expected "sharp increase" in cheating on the exams after July 1. On that date the minimum examination score required for a teacher's certificate in North Carolina will go up from 475 to 500 out of 800 possible points.

Service of Princeton, N. J., has advised the state board and the State Department of Public Instruction by letter to prepare for an increase in: (1) cheating, (2) impersonations at the examination site, and (3), illegally distributed copies of the test before the examination. Robert E. Smith, executive director of Educational Testing, wrote that "It seems inevitable to us that there will be a sharp increase" in cheating. The Testing Service wants to plan tighter security controls for future examinations.

Freezing Rain, Sleet And Snow See Return

By BLANCHE HARDEE, Reflector Staff Writer. Old Man Winter returned to Pitt County Wednesday with a blast of freezing rain, sleet and snow, only two weeks after the crippling ice storm that left many families without heat, water and electricity. When the new minimum score hike enacted by the State Board of Education goes into effect July 1, nearly a fourth of the persons taking the test can be expected to fail it, a spokesman said. The Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N. # Ambulance Training For Attendants Is Conducted

A three-day training program for ambulance attendants, one of the first of its kind ever conducted in the state, is presently in session in Greenville. Sponsored by the N.C. State Board of Health and administered by the Community College System, the Greenville school has 125 enrollees from twenty-four North Carolina counties. Pitt Technical Institute is acting host and coordinator for this initial training program with the classes being conducted at the American Legion Building. Five Greenville physicians are serving as instructors, in addition to Dr. Charles C. Mitchell, of the ECU Psychology Dept., Trooper Howard R. Winslow of the State Highway Patrol and Dr. Herbert Bill of the State Board of Health. Greenville physicians include Dr. Charles P. Adams, Dr. James F. Bowman, Dr. John L. Winstead Jr., Dr. Sellers

Crisp and Dr. G.A. Weimer. The Directors of Registration and Academic Procedures for the Greenville school are Joe Downing, Pitt Technical Director of Extension; Billy Sautler, Area Consultant for Fire Services and Emergency Training; Marvin Sawyer, Area Consultant and Keith Phillippe, State Supervisor for the Community College System. George V. Elliott, Coordinator of Emergency Services for the State Board of Health is executive director of the training program. Following the Greenville session Elliott will supervise similar programs in Asheboro and Asheville. The immediate training of all ambulance attendants throughout North Carolina was necessitated by the enactment of a special law of the 1967 General Assembly which provides strict regulations governing the operation of ambulances and emergency equipment. This law specifies that all attendants be certified by the State Board of Health; requiring specialized training in emergency first aid and medically related subjects. Subjects covered during the three-day training session include: "The Ambulance Attendant as a Member of the Medical Team," "The Emotionally Disturbed Patient," "Care of Patients with Respiratory Interference," "Care of Patients with head or back injuries," "Management of Patients with Hemorrhage, Shock and Common Types of Injuries," "The Obstetrical Patient," "Fractures and Dislocations," "Management of Patients with Common Medical Conditions." The local session concluded at 5 p.m. this afternoon.

Prof Proposes A Gradual End To Cigarette Industry

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The nation's billion-dollar cigarette industry should be gradually pushed out of business, says a public health professor at the University of California at Los Angeles. "The way to achieve this is not to fight for outright prohibition of cigarettes but gradually to step up the measures already taken to discourage smoking," Dr. Lester Breslow said Wednesday. He suggested that tobacco lands be converted gradually to other crops and that farmers and others depending upon cigarettes for a livelihood be subsidized until they establish other means of income. The day will come, said Breslow, when it will seem incredible that people once smoked. Government action to curtail smoking will be broadened and strengthened, he added. The future, said Breslow, should be obvious to cigarette companies, and many of them have conceded this by diversifying their investments. Cigarette packages now carry health warnings and machines are being removed from hospitals and many public buildings, the professor said. He suggested that raising taxes on cigarettes and limiting their advertising, as in some foreign countries, would be appropriate here. Breslow is a former director of the state Department of Public Health. His comments were made in an interview with the Los Angeles Times.

Shaken Again

PALERMO, Sicily (AP)—A strong new earthquake struck western Sicily today, and at least three deaths and many injuries were reported. Police at Trapani said they had received word by radio that a police sergeant was killed in Gibellina, a town destroyed in a disastrous quake Jan. 15. They said they had unconfirmed reports two firemen also perished. The casualties were reported among rescue workers who have been struggling for 10 days to extract bodies from the rubble of a dozen towns in western Sicily shattered by the earlier quakes. Police said an unspecified number of injured were reported from the new quake in Gibellina, in Montevago, the town hit hardest by the Jan. 15 quake, and in Partanna and Santa Ninfa.

Public Deserted Politics, Demonstrators Marked Big Benefit Ball

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite a lot of talk about 160 million hour trains, few Americans would believe that the description, "America's Modern transportation Miracle," refers to railroads. Instead, if presented a booklet of that title, they would expect to see pictures of jets whisking relaxed couples in silken smoothness to a distant island resort, to Europe or to the Orient.

The railroads are serious, however, and that quotation is used as the subtitle of a booklet produced by the Association of American Railroads called "Railroads Unlimited!" and carrying the inscription:

"A continentwide story of sweeping change and challenge—a modern industrial miracle. Why, then, has the public been so unaware of this great change by which American railroads are 'overcoming awesome obstacles . . . moving along a track that leads to unlimited public service?'"

Primarily because the revolution referred to is occurring, if at all, primarily in freight rather than passenger traffic. It refers to piggyback cars, unit trains, automatic freight car identification, mergers. "We are faced with the hard facts of life," said Thomas Goodfellow, president of the association. "People have deserted us. The public says it doesn't want to ride trains," he said in an interview.

Goodfellow, who has described himself as a country boy but who is past president of the Long Island Rail Road, is certain that it wasn't the other way round—that rails weren't ingenious or progressive or broadminded enough to keep their passengers.

And, lest thousands of harried commuters take exception to so sweeping a statement, Goodfellow adds some qualifications. He believes that the future of rail passenger traffic exists in the heavily populated "corridors"—San Francisco-Los Angeles, Richmond-Boston, Chicago-Milwaukee, Dallas-Houston, for example—and, of necessity, in commuter transportation.

"There is no future for the long haul passenger train," he said. "Some remnants are left, like the Florida service. But long haul service is being deserted very rapidly." Passengers now account for only 5 percent of revenue.

As Goodfellow spoke, the Southern Pacific Co. was seeking to discontinue its City of San Francisco passenger train between Oakland and Chicago, claiming it was losing many thousands of dollars a year on the service.

NEW YORK (AP) — Politics and partying, demonstrators and diamonds were features of a $150-per-person benefit ball Wednesday night. The guest list was headed by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. A crowd of antiwar demonstrators ranging up to 300 in number milled outside the Plaza Hotel on Fifth Avenue in advance of Humphrey's appearance at the annual Diamond Ball for the Institute of International Education. Most of the pickets had left by the time Humphrey arrived—almost an hour late.

Police said 33 of the demonstrators were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct. Inside the hotel, meanwhile, about 400 guests sipped cocktails and gazed at the $257,000 worth of diamonds on display in a heavily guarded case and at the uncounted thousands of dollars of diamonds worn by the women.

Although Humphrey refused to comment either on domestic or international affairs, Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., discussed issues with newsmen. Questioned about the incident involving North Korea and the USS Pueblo, Mansfield said, "I would hope we would keep our emotions in check and keep our shirts on. There's too much we don't know."

Percy agreed, commenting only, "Those who, in the administration, have command of all the facts, should make the decisions minute by minute." Others on hand for the ball included Treasury Secretary Henry Fowler, Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., George Woods, president of the World Bank, and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Rockefeller told newsmen he still wasn't a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination despite support from various areas. The problems of the world couldn't completely dim the brilliance of the gowns and jewels worn by the guests. Mrs. Charles Engelhard, ball chairman, was in a white silk net dress with embroidered silver ver medallions by Mila Schon of Milan and wore huge, pear-shaped diamond earrings. "I haven't the slightest idea how much they're worth," she said. Other guests—such as Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller—wore no jewelry at all: Some wore fabulous fakes by designer Kenneth Lane.

There were no pickets by the time Humphrey left and the demonstrators didn't seem to bother the guests.

"The pickets aren't there, but there are about 2,000 cops," commented one man, referring to the heavy security guard ringing the hotel.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — More than 400 employees and scores of customers fled from a Portland department store Wednesday when they smelled a strong gas. But fire investigators couldn't find any leaks.

A call from a nearby freight company explained what had happened.

The company said one of its trucks, which was carrying a chemical that is added to odorless natural gas to give it a detectable smell, had a leak. As the truck drove by, the store's ventilation system sucked the strong-smelling gas additive inside.

What Is Your Worth In Dollars And Cents?

By RUTH WINTER
NEW YORK (WNS)— Do you know how much it would cost your husband to replace you? Probably $35,000!

If your husband is a lawyer, it might cost $563,000 to replace him! An engineer? $492,000! High school teacher? $266,000! Mason? $220,000!

This is how much certain lives are worth in cold cash, according to economists who are being called into court to testify, according to the publication, American Trial Lawyers.

The courts today must decide such difficult questions as whether an insurance company should have to pay as much for the auto death of an unemployed alcoholic with six children as it would for a childless nuclear physicist.

According to Professor G. Lawrence Roberts of the Department of Economics and Business Administration, University of Tampa, Florida, the economist must put the person being evaluated into his "proper statistical group from what we know about him... his age... his I. Q... his education... where he lived... what occupation he was planning to enter.

Probable Earnings

"From a study of the 1950 census date of his state as well as available later data—such as the annual statistical abstract of the United States (an excellent source of income and economic trends), we can determine what would be the most probably lifetime earnings of a member of his statistical group"

Professor Roberts said in the case of a young student nurse who was paralyzed for life just before her graduation, the economist's testimony was partially based upon prior testimony as to what monthly salary her hospital would have paid her upon graduation, plus a consideration of the hospital's retirement plan and Social Security benefits.

In projecting her life income the economist testified both in terms of present nurses' salaries and in terms of anticipated salaries in the years in which the victim would have worked and been retired—1965 to 2021.

Wife And Mother

How much is a housewife and mother worth?

In a 1954 Florida case, a precedent was established: "From this evidence the jury had the right to believe that a combination of housekeeper, governess, counselor would be needed on a 24-hour-a-day basis to look after the family, and that the reasonable cost of a person competent to fill such a role would be $250 a month in addition to maintenance.

"They had the right to believe that such a person could not be expected to perform the menial tasks around the house such as washing, ironing and heavy housekeeping, but that these jobs would have to be done by a servant hired for the purpose at an estimated cost of $30 per week. They had the right to believe that only the presence of these two hired persons in the home, at least for a considerable period in the future, could maintain conditions as they existed in the home prior to the death of the wife and mother."

The precedent - setting case was in 1954. Today, economists estimate it would cost at least $35,000 to replace the mother of small children until the youngsters became self-sufficient.

Husband Isn't Ready To Give Up Parent's Comfort, Security

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am 26 and Henry is 33, and here is my story:

We moved in with Henry's parents right after we got married ("Only until we find a place of our own," he promised). Well, it's been four years, and here I sit with two lovely children and a closet full of unwrapped wedding presents.

My in-laws are very nice, and some people think I've got it easy with Henry's mother to do all the cooking, and a built-in baby sitter for the children, but I am miserable, Abby. Henry's mother has her own way of doing things, and I help her as much as she lets me, which isn't much. And it's still her house.

Every time the subject of moving comes up, Henry's father says, "Why move and pay rent when you can live here for free? We have plenty of room." (It's true, but I would rather have one room of my own.)

The children are getting spoiled by their grandparents and I feel trapped. Please help me.

NO NAME, PLS.

DEAR NO NAME: Face it. You are married to a man who isn't ready to give up the comfort and security provided by his parents. And unless you can help him grow up sufficiently to make him want to leave the nest, you can expect to be there indefinitely. In other words, he needs the counsel of a wise and impartial friend. This could be a clergyman, doctor, or marriage counselor.

DEAR ABBY: I used to think you made up all the letters in your column because I couldn't believe that people could be so dumb, but here I am, with a problem of my own that sounds like it couldn't be true, but it is. I am 23 and I have been married for five weeks to a swell guy I've known for a year. This is my second marriage and I have three small children.

My husband never said anything about his being married before, but now I find out that he has been married twice and has five kids whom his mother is taking care of. I found out only yesterday and I am ready for a nervous breakdown. When I told my husband I knew about the five kids, he said he was glad, as he didn't know how much longer he could keep it from me. Then he said as long as I knew, would I mind taking his five kids to raise as his mother was not in good health.

Abby, I do waitress work 10 hours a day, and I have enough with my own three and I can't raise eight kids. All the love I had for my husband is dead. Do I have grounds for divorce?

SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: Talk to a lawyer. You might even have grounds for an annulment.

DEAR ABBY: In answer to "WAITING," the girl who took her engagement ring to a jeweler to find out how much it was worth, then felt "hurt" when he told her it was a fake diamond I think that girl showed her true colors. It showed she cared more about the worth of the ring than the worth of the man she was getting. So why didn't you tell her that?

LET DOWN

DEAR LET: Perhaps she took the ring to the jeweler to have it appraised in order to in-

Reception Honors Couple On Wedding Anniversary

BETHEL—Miss Patsy Joe Gurganus, Miss Carrie Lin Gurganus and John Gurganus entertained at an informal reception in honor of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Linwood Gurganus Jr., on their 25th wedding anniversary Saturday evening.

The event was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Young. The house was decorated with lighted candles and arrangements of white bridal flowers. The dining room table was centered with a massive arrangement of bridal flowers flanked by silver candelabra containing burning tapers.

One end of the table featured a decorated tiered wedding cake and the other end, a silver punch bowl.

Miss Ginger Young poured punch and Mrs. J. L. Gurganus Sr., grandmother of the hostess, cut the wedding cake. Others who assisted in receiving and serving were: Mr. and Mrs. Young; Charles Young; Mr. and Mrs. James Alton Manning; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jenkins; Mrs. Bill Johnson; Mrs. Van Taylor Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Delton Perry; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Alexander; and Mrs. Burton R. Ayers.

Approximately 125 guests called during the evening.

The Lesson Of Absolute Neutrality

Sen. Sam Ervin may have learned a lesson from the state's last gubernatorial campaign. It was during the 1964 race for governor that Sen. Ervin came out solidly behind an old political friend, Dan K. Moore. The old friend finally won the election after a primary battle in which neither the forces of I. Beverley Lake nor Richardson Preyer could gain the upper hand.

Moore took office and that normally would have been the end of it. However, in his years in office Gov. Moore took stands which proved highly unpopular in the eastern section of the state and it is in this section that Sen. Ervin must draw his own support.

The senator this year is faced with the possibility of opposition in the primary from former governor Terry Sanford. If Sanford decides to make the race it is not likely that he will fail to remind easterners of Sen. Ervin's solid support of Dan Moore in 1964. Even if Sen. Ervin does not have Democratic opposition it is a sure thing that his Republican opposition will constantly remind the easterners of Ervin's close ties to Moore.

At any rate the senator has decided on this gubernatorial go-round that it might be best to remain "absolutely neutral." It is just possible he might be wishing he had taken the same stand four years ago.

Proper Restraint Over International Affront

We would hope that even by the time this is read, the United States will have attained the release of the naval vessel Pueblo.

The ship was seized by the North Koreans Monday. U. S. officials claimed the ship was in international waters while North Korea's claim was that the vessel was on a spying mission.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk described the capture as a "matter of utmost gravity." It was said to be the first U. S. naval vessel captured at sea since the Civil War.

If the ship was in international waters as Government sources say, the United States would be justified in taking retaliatory action. Properly, however, our government has exercised restraint by first sending through Russia a request that North Korea return the captured ship.

If this effort does not succeed the United States may negotiate directly through the armistice commission at Panmunjom, Korea.

It is our fervent wish that these actions will effect the release of the ship and its crew. Otherwise we may have a situation which could pose great danger to world peace. No country can long afford to allow sailing vessels to be seized at sea. This ancient affront has more than once precipitated wars, and the world at this stage, needs less fighting rather than more.

Difficulty Over An 'Open Door'

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau

RALEIGH — How far the state government goes toward a promised "open door" policy during the next administration in Raleigh remains to be seen a year or more from now. One thing is clear. The advocates of "anti-secrecy" edicts and open doors should be prepared for resistance and evasiveness and the fact that if doors are to be opened they will be cracked gradually.

No matter how firm the promises of political candidates nor who happens to be elected governor for 1969 - 73, the consensus is that such a policy will be difficult to implement.

It has been promised before in political campaigns—many times, in fact—but it has developed that more and more state agencies, boards and commissions have shut the doors to newsmen and the public under the guise of "executive session" privilege.

Executive Sessions
The term "executive session" simply means private, with no invited persons allowed to attend.

There are strong and sometimes valid reasons and arguments in favor of executive sessions. By and large, however, the press and presumably the general public doubts the validity of any argument for conducting public business behind closed doors.

This is especially true when it concerns state budget-making and the spending of public funds. Yet this is an area in which closed-door, "executive session" policies are most prevalent and which has resulted in greatest demand for change.

Resistance Voiced
Resistance will be met some in state government believe very strongly and sincerely that state government cannot go on smoothly and efficiently without the privilege of private, closed-door discussion.

They would and frequently do blame the "prying eyes" of the press and the reporting and interpretation of the newspapers and other media for having influenced or affected the vote on such and such an issue. Many in positions of power feel their boards or committees cannot act freely unless the members are assured of privacy.

There are legislative chairmen and veteran state officials who remain unconvinced and are amused by the avowals of "open door" policies on the part of the five announced candidates for governor.

When asked, they say "how far do they think they can go?" One asks, "will they require the State Supreme Court to open its conferences to the press, and let newspapermen attend them?"

Other Qualifications

They doubt that the next governor—whoever it is—would ask that Council of State meetings be open to the public.

If so, these officials feel it would invite more secrecy than it would prevent.

WILLIAM A. SHIRES

"It would mean there would not be very much discussion," says one Council of State member. "That's the real value of Council of State meetings now—full and frank discussion. If reporters were there, we wouldn't want to discuss things in such detail."

This source predicts that if Council of State meetings were open to the press and public, it would develop that most business would be transacted and agreed upon privately beforehand.

Oldtimers Are Power-Holders

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)— It takes chickens a long time to roost in the Senate. But by then they're not chickens any more. They're oldtimers. Three oldtimers are leaving this year. But the men who succeed them are no kids.

The typical Senate newcomer plays it quiet a few years before trying to assert himself and even then it takes more years before he obtains real power by becoming chairman of one of the Senate's standing committees.

That's taken care of by the seniority system, religiously observed. Translated into simple English it means: Take your time and wait your turn.

It goes like this: A newcomer has to wait in line behind all the party's other senators who have been there long er. He starts out as the low man on the committee.

Then as the years pass and one by one those ahead of him disappear because of death, resignation (which happens), retirement or failure to get re-elected, he moves up until finally the chairman disappears and he becomes chairman.

Harry S. Truman was a typical example of the newcomer, but not of how a senator usually winds up. In his first six Senate years back in the 1930s, Truman was

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
BETTER KEEP BUSY

Every time we test the air pressure of the spare tire, we are impressed with the debilitating effect of idleness. No one seems to have an adequate explanation for it, but we all know that the four tires which are in constant use will maintain their air pressure for a long time, while the spare loses it very quickly. Take the spare out and submit it to the rough usage of everyday driving, and it will maintain its pressure as well as the other tires. But put it back on the rack, and again it becomes flabby.

Many people dream of the happiness which would be theirs if they could be relieved of all responsibility! What fun it would be if one did not have to work at all. How entrancing to be able to do every day just what one wants to do, go where one wants to go, get what one wants to have!

Yet the number of tragedies among people who have these "advantages" is greater than among the people who have to scratch to make a living. Half the hospital beds in this country are occupied by people who have literally been driven crazy by the fact that they had nothing purposeful in life which they were compelled to do.

It's hard to keep happiness at high pressure if we ride through life as a spare. Don't long for the spare rack.

practically invisible, he talked so little.

Re-elected in 1940 he got himself named chairman of a special committee—not one of those standing committees—and made a name for himself investigating committees—and made a name for himself investigating American defense. From there he went to the vice presidency and presidency.

As an example of what seniority means: In the Senate there are 16 standing committees. All the chairmen are Democrats because Democrats are in a majority in the Senate.

Waiting in their seniority line for the day when the Democrats lose their majority are the Republicans.

Of the 16 Democratic chairmen one, Sen. Carl Hayden of Arizona, is 90. He's been in Congress 56 years. Six others are in their 70s. Six are in their 60s. Two are in their 50s. Only one, Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana, is under 50. He's 49.

If the Democrats lose Senate control the top-ranking Republicans on these committees will be the new chairmen. As a group they are even older than the Democratic chairmen.

Seven are over 70, eight are in their 60s, and only one, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, is under 60. He's 57.

In recent weeks three oldtimers on these committees—all in their 70s—announced they were retiring from the Senate this year.

They are: 1. Lister Hill, Alabama Democrat, and chairman of the Labor and Public Welfare Committee.

2. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, 71, ranking Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee.

3. Frank Carlson of Kansas, ranking Republican on the Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

No Fireworks By LBJ

It would be pleasant, honest it would, to contrive something nice to say about Mr. Johnson's State of the Union address. One hates to keep knocking the old piano player when he's doing the best he can. But viewed fornically or intrinsically, his speech was a dud. The President had his great chance to woo the American people—three networks and 50 million viewers—and he muffed it. It wasn't a speech for the ages. It was barely a speech for the evening.

Mr. Johnson is certainly no Pericles on the stump, but in times past—especially in his State of the Union address three years ago—he has attempted earnestly to rise above banality. This year's offering was as empty of rhetoric as it was short of philosophy. His style of delivery was somewhere between Old Avuncular and New Scoutmaster. A year ago he sought eloquently to exhort the people to courage and to patience in Vietnam. Nothing of the sort appeared in the speech last week. It was one of the least memorable addresses of our time.

Ruffles and flourishes are perhaps not of the essence. They would not have been missed if the President had substituted solid content in their place. Alas, he did not. Most of his old ideas were warned-over welfare state, and most of his new ideas were pitched at the level of tainted tuna. Mr. Johnson is against tainted tuna. So are we all, one supposes, but such lamentable commerce hardly figures in the State of the Union.

His eight or nine new proposals were not without merit. Even the most inveterate States Righter is about ready to yield to increasing Federal regulation of the omnivorous automobile; a searching Federal investigation into automobile liability insurance would be a welcome study. The President did not make clear what he means by a "proper" gun control law, but an effective law on mail-order handguns ought to be passed. A program of "ocean depth exploration" holds promise. Sweeping new laws against drug abuse deserve a high priority on the Hill.

What else was new? A child health program for the indigent has its political appeal, at a time when young workers are being walloped for the oldsters' Medicare; but the idea smacks of one more extension of Federal benevolence under the catch-all Welfare Clause. Maybe a special "consumer counsel" would perform a useful service, but one contemplates the enlarged bureaucracy and groans. Mother Lyndon! Who made him nursemaid to us all?

So much for the something new. The President's assertion that the people "have had enough of rising crime and lawlessness" drew the biggest applause of the night. The specifics of his "Safe Streets Act," which he endorsed anew, have aroused a

Election Year Is For Farmers

By ELMER ROESSNER
As in all election years, farmers will get a lot of sympathetic and paternal consideration from Congress this year. The end result may be a few more pounds of pressure for inflation.

Three major proposals will be considered:
1. A bill to permit farmers to organize to fix prices without violating antitrust laws, giving them approximately the same rights and privileges of organized labor. It is not known whether President Johnson will ask for such legislation in his upcoming farm message to Congress, but it is known that the administration has been making an extensive study of the proposal. The farm bloc in Congress is expected to push such a proposal, with or without President Johnson's support.

Future In Doubt
Just what the legislation would provide and just how much support it would get is very cloudy, and just how it would work out in practice is even more uncertain.

At present proponents are discussing a limited approach, perhaps encouraging the information of bargaining groups only for small, localized crops. However, the plan could be expanded, eventually giving all farmers the right to organize and creating a national policing agency on the order of the National Labor Relations Board.

If experience in government blessing of labor is a criterion, this could lead to higher food prices and more inflation. The impact may be even faster than that of labor, since so much of American farming is now done by huge corporations, with massive assets and extensive organizing talents.

Uncle Sam Would Play Joseph

2. Legislation to remove surplus crops from the market. Since LBJ recommended this in his State of the Union address, it is likely that he will stress it in his farm message. Under this plan, farm groups or the government would buy up surplus wheat, feed grains and soybeans, thereby supporting prices and farm income. Proponents say that releasing these crops in periods of shortage would protect consumers by preventing runaway prices. However, it seems that consumers would pay for this protection in high prices during years of abundance.

3. Government supervision of commodity exchange markets. The House passed a bill for federal control last year and a few days ago the Senate Agriculture Committee unanimously approved a similar bill, sending it on its way to the Senate floor.

This is a bill that will please both farmer and consumers. For generations, both groups have blamed speculators for low prices paid farmers and high prices consumers pay. Farmers have been especially irate when crops they have sold at low prices suddenly shoot up on the exchanges, sometimes due to world shortages, sharp rises in demand or the expected failure of related crops. And sometimes the cause has been the fact that speculators are a little smarter, or a little more dishonest, than farmers.

Thieu Reform Move?

By BARRY KRAMER

SAIGON (AP)— The new civilian-style government in South Vietnam has been in office nearly three months. President Nguyen Van Thieu's friends say he will be moving soon to start the reforms that long have been considered essential to win popular support for the Saigon regime.

His critics, Vietnamese and American alike, are showing signs of impatience. The lack of early progress led one American official to complain—anonymous: "Bold, dynamic leadership hasn't been there."

While Thieu, a former general, is now president and commander of the armed forces, he still must work with the generals who ruled South Vietnam under a military junta for several years.

Although the generals no doubt realize that things have changed and that a coup is no longer a sure thing, they are still must work with the generals who ruled South Vietnam under a military junta for several years.

He could be if he chose to go ahead with his inauguration speech plans to eliminate corruption and inefficiency at all levels.

In addition, personal differences between Thieu and Vice President Nguyen Cai Ky, a former air marshal, have hampered executive decision-making.

Both men deny they are feuding, but people close to them say that snubs and imagined snubs cause the two men to avoid each other. Thieu and Ky appear together in public only occasionally.

Rumors persist that Ky, has been masterminding an anti-American program in the newspapers to discredit Thieu. Ky denies this. He has told associates that Thieu has given him little to do in the government.

The House of Representatives and the Senate, elected in September and October, only recently completed setting up their rules and electing officers. They still have not acted on any legislation, although committees are looking into several problems.

Thieu met with President Johnson in Australia last month. Vietnamese sources say Johnson was disturbed by reports that Ky had formed his own "government" complete with a shadow cabinet, and at times was able to rally the more powerful South Vietnamese generals behind himself and against Thieu.

Unless Thieu consolidated his power as president, Johnson is supposed to have told him, much-needed reforms could fall by the wayside. Johnson likely had heard reports that Premier Nguyen Van Loc, torn between obeying directives from Thieu and Ky, had not shown any great effectiveness.

As associates picture it, Thieu couldn't agree more about the need to consolidate his power.

The military still represents the only nationally organized force besides the Communists, and as such Thieu needs its support.

So although he is known to want to get rid of some generals and province chiefs, he is biding his time. Some army officers have been tried for corruption or removed for inefficiency, but their ranks are low and their numbers small.

Thieu has presented bold plans for reforming Vietnamese society. In his inaugural speech he spoke of improving and reinforcing the armed forces, imposing austerity on the relatively affluent cities, and eradicating corruption.

Most Of Home Town Turned Backs On Deserter

By PHYLLIS AUSTIN
Associated Press Writer
BEAUFORT, S.C. (AP)— All but a few Beaufort citizens have apparently turned their backs on Pvt. Michael D. Haire, 19-year-old Army deserter who has been granted political asylum in Sweden.

Friends of Haire's parents launched "Operation America" two weeks ago in an effort to raise funds to send one of the youth's former high school teachers to Stockholm to counsel with Haire.

Mrs. Dorothy Raper, who taught Haire English in the 10th grade, said she wanted to make the trip to try to persuade Haire to surrender to military authorities.

The campaign for $474 for a round-trip plane ticket to Sweden, however, died only a couple of days after its inception.

Not a penny was received. Moreover, a bank which had offered to receive donations, hastily withdrew its support after many of its depositors threatened to move their accounts elsewhere.

A Beaufort radio station, WSIB, which gave time for fund-solicitation, lost a sponsor and received telephone calls against the drive.

Mrs. M. W. Holland Jr., one of the Haire's neighbors, said in an interview that "nobody contributed. It seems like the town is against what we did."

"Most of them got into their minds that the fund was trying to help a deserter," she said. "I don't see how they misunderstood."

"We thought we could maybe save Michael by sending his teacher to talk with him," Mrs. Holland said.

The young soldier's mother, Mrs. Ralph Haire, is beginning to show signs of the strain she has been under in trying to understand her only son's acts.

"If I went over there I'd get that boy by the hair of the head with one hand and a paddle in the other and beat him across the border," she said, tears streaming down her face.

"I've been humiliated and disgraced. I just don't know about it any more..." Mrs. Haire, also the mother of three young girls, said Michael left school to join the Army when he was 17 years old, a high school sophomore.

The deserter's father, who served on Iwo Jima and Guam in World War II and in the Korean conflict, retired as an Army master sergeant after serving 20 years.

He now has an electronics shop at the Parris Island Marine Recruit Depot.

Mrs. Haire, in her 40s, said her son "came home on leave from Germany just before Christmas of 1966, and did not mention desertion."

"We haven't heard from him since he did this thing," she continued. "His daddy and I both wrote him letters telling him we love him... and he would be welcome at home."

Haire was fond of painting and poetry. Showing some of his art work, his mother pointed to a painting of Christ and asked, "He couldn't be 'al' bad, could he?" Mrs. Holland recalled that when her son was granted asylum last week, Mrs. Haire said, "Why couldn't they have just brought his body home with an American flag across his coffin?"

Pvt. Haire left the 3rd Squadron of the 8th Cavalry Regiment stationed in Mennheim, Germany, last Aug. 24. With forged military documents, he traveled via England to Sweden to seek refuge.

His first meeting with newsmen Jan. 7 was at the headquarters of Marxist Swedish youths.

Mrs. Raper said, "I think the Communists influenced him before he left Germany."

"Mike wanted to go straight to Vietnam and was disappointed when he had to go to Germany," she said. "In July, 1966, he re-enlisted for an additional six years."

"This is what I don't understand," the school teacher added. Haire has said he deserted to "protest against the Vietnam war."

She concluded, "We teachers must have failed somewhere to instill in our students a sense of loyalty to the nation."

servicemen who have deserted recently and are living in Sweden, return home they would probably be court-martialed.

The normal maximum penalty for desertion, according to the spokesman, is a dishonorable discharge, reduction to the lowest grade, total forfeitures of pay and allowances while in prison, and confinement at hard labor for three years.

The Worry Clinic Some Are Raised In Abnormal Atmosphere

Betty grew up in an abnormal home atmosphere, for she was surrounded exclusively by females. As a result, cherished a poetical attitude about marriage. When she encountered reality, she blamed her husband, yet the trouble was her own inadequate education in male psychology. Scrapbook this case!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE E-569: Everett D., aged 28, is editor of a weekly newspaper.

"Dr. Crane," he telephoned, "could you see Betty and me, for she claims I am an inhuman husband!"

"So she is demanding a divorce."

"But I love her and I think she loves me. However, she just doesn't understand the male sex!"

When I saw this couple the following week, I learned that Everett's diagnosis of Betty was quite correct.

For she was an "only" child from an all-female background.

Before she was one year old, her daddy was killed.

So her mother took Betty back home to live with her maternal grandparents.

However, her grandfather died before Betty was 3 years of age.

There were two younger aunts in the home, plus her grandmother and mother.

Betty thus grew up in an all-female environment.

She also attended a private girl's school.

Then she went to a girls' college.

The only time she ever was with boys was when on a date.

So she saw the male sex only when at its best.

If she had had some brothers, they would have yelled at her and even slapped her down on many occasions in the usual family feuding between siblings.

But Betty lacked all that early training in the roughness and dominance of the male sex.

She cherished a poetical attitude towards romance and had gathered her ideas of marriage from glamorous movie scenarios.

Then she married.

During the honeymoon, Everett showered her with attention and let her every whim become law.

Then they returned to the small city where he was editor of the weekly newspaper.

Newspapermen like Everett must be versatile, for they often serve as reporters, editors, and business managers of their paper.

The pressure is thus intense, so their nerves get raw.

One day Betty finally got him to hang a picture. He struck his thumb with the hammer, and exploded in language she hadn't heard from the matinee husbands she had admired on the movie screen.

So she decided Everett was not the gallant, virtuous Sir Galahad she had imagined.

At another time, when they were driving to a neighboring village to get a story about a high school event, their car stopped.

Everett couldn't start it. So he finally got out to peer under the hood, though it was raining cats and dogs.

At last he happened to look at the gas dial, which he had previously ignored, since he had filled the tank the day before.

It was empty.

For his wife had driven the car heavily in the meantime and had forgotten to tell him. So he exploded. She thought he was inhuman!

Yet on that "Rating Scale for Marriage," by her own admission, he ranked "Superior," so I told her she just didn't know men!

So send for that vital "Rating Scale for Marriage," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents, and rate yourselves on those 200 points!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

In a television interview preceding the broadcast, presidential assistant Joe Califano described at length the awesome process by which a State of the Union address is prepared. Work on this speech began in March, he said. Dozens of advisers were called in. Hundreds of ideas were sifted. Multiple drafts were prepared. Every sentence and every word were weighed, to decide what would go in and — just as significantly — what would stay out.

One is impressed by the infinite distillation; and is curious. For the first time in his five speeches, Mr. Johnson made not even a courtesy bow toward the United Nations. Significant?

Would Short-Circuit Fatal Brain Impulses

By BILL LITTLE
Associated Press Writer

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Medics are looking for ways to block brain impulses, triggered at times by fear or panic, which can switch off a healthy human heart and cause sudden death.

Studies on how to short-circuit the killer impulses are under way at the University of Oklahoma Medical Center.

The fatal brain impulses can be brought about by several factors, said Dr. Stewart Wolf, director of the neurosciences section of the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation.

"Drowning victims," he said, often are found to have no water in their lungs. "The patient just died of a turned-off heart as a result of fear or panic ... the same could be true of those who die from snakebites." He added that only 15 to 20 per cent of snakebite fatalities have had enough venom to kill them.

"Heart attacks occur most frequently," Wolf said, "in those emotionally upset, those depressed, or those at the end of their rope, shunned by a tight society, with no place to turn. "Sudden death may be due to a combination, which may include heart damage, chronic emotional states such as depression and discouragement or other factors, such as overwhelming or sudden fear."

Wolf said "we know it is possible to activate in animals the brain mechanism which turns off the heart. You can do it in a number of ways. We are experimenting in various methods of blocking the mechanism."

"The uncertainty of when it's going to happen," he added, is the biggest hurdle facing the researchers.

"It's too early to get into the methods," Wolf said. "There isn't any pill ... there are maneuvers we can use in animal work which we can't use in humans at this time. We're working with animals to try to develop a practical way to do it with humans."

Last week a Yale University medical school researcher told an Oklahoma City symposium

Can't Hide Under National Rules

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The Oregon State Board of Higher Education has approved University of Oregon President Arthur Flemming's demand that fraternities and sororities at state-supported schools make their own decisions on membership. Flemming said this rule will prevent local chapters from using national rules or complaints from alumni as excuses for discrimination.

Jury Trial Plea Awaits Ruling

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — A Family Court judge says he is awaiting a decision by the U.S. Supreme Court before ordering a jury trial for a youth accused Judge Michael DeCantis replied to a request for trial made by counsel for the 15-year-old boy, charged with assault with a rock on a woman in Newport Nov. 16. The U.S. Supreme Court has announced that it will hear an Ohio case on juvenile trials in March.

Serum Lessens Risk Of Transplant Rejection

By BURL OSBORNE
Associated Press Writer
DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Doctors here have devised another tool—a sort of biological blindfold—to help lessen the great danger of rejection following organ transplants, without killing the patient with massive drug doses.

This new serum, antilymphocyte globulin, or simply ALG, already has been used with impressive results in kidney and liver transplants at the University of Colorado Medical Center. It may prove to be useful in future heart transplants. The serum was developed by the transplant research team at the medical center. It works on white blood cells called lymphocytes, the body's microscopic warriors that fight off strangers, whether they be germs bringing infection or the protein of an organ transplanted from another person.

ALG "blindfolds" these lymphocytes to the presence of the new organ, rendering them incapable of rejecting the new kidney or liver. The doctors say ALG is no panacea—"there's nothing magical about it," said one—but they see it as a promising step along the way to controlling rejection, the big bugaboo facing any transplant, whether it be kidney or heart.

Though some questions about ALG remain unanswered, the Denver team, headed by Dr. Thomas E. Starzl, reports the survival rate of kidney patients one year after transplant—with related donors—has risen from 70 to 95 per cent. About 60 kidney patients have received ALG since mid-1966.

Five liver transplant patients were given the injections. Three still are living, the only known survivors of such operations.

In both kidney and liver studies, the fatalities were not related to the serum.

Preliminary work on heart transplant is under way with animals in the laboratories here, but the transplant team has emphasized it is preliminary, and no immediate attempt with man is foreseen.

However, Dr. Gilbert Blount Jr., head of the university's cardiology department, said in a speech in Texas the university should be capable of conducting a heart transplant by spring.

Dr. Christian Barnard, who has performed two human heart transplants in South Africa, said he and his associates "have thought a lot about this serum. We have carried out a lot of experiments with it, but have not used it clinically. There is still a lot of uncertainty and danger in it. In a new operation we do not want to risk complications." The most common weapons used to head off rejection of new organs have been the drugs azathioprine and prednisone.

But massive doses of prednisone can open the way to diabetes, decalcification, ulcers, Cushing's disease and high blood pressure. It can mask infection until the body is ravaged, and throw body chemistries drastically out of balance. Azathioprine, or imuran, is also heavily toxic in large doses.

Doctors here found that by giving ALG just before and up to four months after transplant, the prednisone dosage often could be halved, and the amount of azathioprine significantly reduced, without harming function of the new kidney.

Antilymphocyte globulin is obtained by injecting horses with human lymph nodes, spleens and thymus, then extracting the serum from the immunized animals and refining it.

The drawbacks to its use include evidence that overdoses can lead to nephritis in the transplanted kidney. That is the same disease that in many cases destroyed the patient's own kidneys. However, biopsies of the first eight kidneys implanted in patients getting ALG showed no sign of this.

ALG, like other known immunosuppressive agents, is not selective. While it dampens the body's capability of fighting off the new organ, it also lowers resistance to infection.

Pain, fever and tenderness at the injection site almost always accompany the ALG shots. Patients often develop hives. Some patients developed more serious reactions, and injections were halted in the case of eight. But in no case was the patient's life endangered, and after more than 2,000 doses there have been no drug-related fatalities.

War Interferes In UN Projects

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Paul G. Hoffman, administrator of the U.N. Development Program, says it has run into some trouble because of the war in Vietnam.

"We can't send our people into areas where they'll get shot at," he told newsmen Tuesday in response to a question. Hoffman cited a water-flow survey in the Mekong Delta as an example.

At the same time, he said there would be enough projects to use up all the money targeted for technical assistance to South Vietnam this year.

Starlings Ignore The Make-Believe Bongo

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House, which in previous years experienced the Case of the Kidnaped Squirrel and the Case of the Distressed Starlings now is involved in the Case of the Make-Believe Bongo.

Many will recall the mysterious disappearance from the White House grounds of innumerable gray squirrels when Dwight D. Eisenhower was president.

Eventually the word leaked out: Groundskeepers were kidnapping the squirrels lest they disturb Eisenhower's backyard putting green, and were transporting them to new woodland freedom in the Virginia countryside.

Then, early in 1962, when John F. Kennedy was president, press secretary Pierre Salinger was asked why many a starling—a noisy and untidy bird—had disappeared from the stately

Two Instructors At Short Course

CHAPEL HILL—Two nursing instructors of the East Carolina University School of Nursing are attending a short term course at the School of Nursing of the University of North Carolina here.

The nurses, Mrs. Judith T. Garrison, instructor of Pediatric Nursing at ECU, and Mrs. Sylvene Spikerman, assistant professor at ECU, are participating in the course, "Professional Improvement for Faculty in Collegiate Schools of Nursing" being held this week. The topic of the session, "Clinical Performance Evaluation," will be conducted by the visiting professors, Miss Doris Gosnell and Miss Grace Fivars of Pittsburgh, Pa.

trees surrounding the White House.

Salinger owned up: A recording of a distressed starling was being piped through three mounted loudspeakers, hopefully to warn fellow starlings away.

As Salinger disclosed in his memoirs, there was good reason for the effort—starlings respect neither historical landmarks like the White House, nor personages like the president. "We all bought hats," he wrote.

The starling-in-distress recording has been resounding about the White House for more than five years—but the birds are still there in force.

The final mystery—The Case of the Make-Believe Bongo—is an example of the failure of the art of treetop high-fidelity.

Perhaps because the same record has been blaring for five years, there now seem to be more starlings than ever.

So a White House groundskeeper has been dispatched at dusk to walk about the front lawn with a stiff cardboard carton in one hand and a stick in the other.

But the more he beats the carton, or so it seems to those who have watched him, the more the lofty starlings amplify their squawks and magnify their other activities.

SHARP COYOTE CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UPI)—The coyote is one of the few animals in which the senses of sight, smell and hearing are developed in equally high degree, according to the Wyoming Game and Fish Department.

Nat'l President Visited Museum

E. Lewis Pardee, president of the National Railway Historical Society, Collinswood, New Jersey, visited the nucleus of a railroad museum sponsored by the East Carolina Chapter of the NRHS in Greenville and was conducted on a tour of the Greenville area, including the East Carolina University campus this week.

En route to his Philadelphia offices from a speaking tour in Florida, Charleston, S.C., and Norfolk, Va., Pardee made a two-day stopover in Greenville.

The East Carolina Chapter of the NRHS has a diesel locomotive and a passenger coach on a railroad siding and President Pardee had commendation for the local chapter for its project which is getting under way.

Gastonia Man Is Winning Battle Of The Bulge

HE'S ON A DIET — Roger Carter, a Gastonia bus driver, once weighed 445 pounds. Now he's lost 100 pounds, and still losing. (AP Wirephoto)

By LYLE EDWARDS
Gastonia Gazette Writer
Written for The AP

GASTONIA, N.C. (AP)—Roger Carter is winning the Battle of the Bulge, but he knows his War of the Waistline is not over.

A roly-poly bus driver, Carter is the size of a circus bear. He weighs 350 pounds. He used to be as big as a baby elephant. Then he weighed 445.

Four months ago Carter went on a weight-losing diet of 900 calories per day. He melted off 95 pounds. His beltline strunk 13 inches.

"See here," Roger said, taking up the slack in his belt. "My waist used to be 67 inches. Now it's 56."

Carter, who lives in Lomell, near Gastonia, is losing weight at the rate of three pounds per week. He is under a doctor's care. He follows a rigid diet.

"For breakfast I eat two boiled eggs," he said.

"At lunch I have a salad. Sometimes I eat a piece of Bologna and a couple of crackers."

"At night I really live it up—I have one hamburger patty of lean beef. No bread. No butter. No dessert."

He doesn't drink coffee. He likes soft drinks, but sticks to the low-calorie ones.

Pays Tuition For 1908 Semester

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—The Idaho Falls School District has received a $35 check from Ira W. Casper of Idaho Falls, who says the money was payment of tuition for the final semester of his senior-year in high school.

Casper sent the check and a note explaining he completed his education but was sick at graduation and unable to attend and he thought he still owed for the second semester.

School officials found that Casper had graduated in 1908, but could find no evidence that he had not paid tuition.

Does he get hungry?
"No I don't. I'm taking pills that my doctor gave me to curb my hunger," Roger said.

At home he pasted signs on his refrigerator door. The signs warn: "STOP—Think Thin" and "Don't Open Between Meals."

Roger said he used to fuel up three times a day with big meals. He drove athletic teams on trips, and always had a big steak and french fries, with four or five buns. He gorged himself with 3,000 calories at one meal.

"Now I have 200 calories for breakfast, 200 for lunch, and 500 for supper," he says. He feels better. He's $100 richer, too.

A friend challenged him to lose the first 100 pounds with a promise of $1 a pound. He paid off when Roger shed 98 pounds.

"You're looking at the scales so hard you'll ruin your eyes," the friend said, so he paid off without waiting on Roger to shed the last two pounds.

The challenge has been renewed. Roger stands to win an additional $100 if he loses 100 more pounds.

"It will take a little longer this time, but I'll be down to 250 in six months," he said confidently.

When he weighed 445, Roger couldn't bend over to tie his shoes. He waddled when he walked.

Now he puts on his own shoes and can touch his toes. "You throw a $10 bill on the floor and I'll show you how to pick it up," he laughed.

East Carolina Rips George Washington, 98-72

TWO FOR CHARLIE — East Carolina's Charlie Alford goes up for two points in last night's game with George Washington despite the efforts of Roger Strong (32). Waiting below is the Colonials' Ken Barnett, while East Carolina's Tom Miller begins to move downcourt for defense. The Pirates won handily, 98-72. (Reflector Photo by McLawhorn)

The East Carolina University Pirates rolled to a 98-72 rout of George Washington last night and practically assured themselves of a berth in next month's Southern Conference Tournament.

The victory, the third straight on the Bucs' home court, lifted them into a tie with Richmond for seventh place in the loop standings with a 34 record. George Washington, meanwhile, lost its seventh without a win in the conference. The colonials are 1-13 overall.

The win could also be a stepping stone to higher rankings by the Quinn-tet, who play five of their six remaining games in the friendly surroundings of Minges Coliseum.

The Pirates accomplished the victory despite a 10-minute chill from the floor in the first half, when the Colonials rallied from six points down to take as much as a two-point lead before the Bucs took over for good.

Vince Colbert hit on a hook to start the scoring for the Bucs, and then Charlie Alford hit for a bucket and collected a foul shot for a 5-2 lead, with 17:36 left. The two teams then exchanged baskets until the Bucs began their cold streak.

Alford scored from underneath with 13:55 left to make it 13-10. The Bucs didn't hit again from the floor until Alford hit with 3:48 left in the half. But the Bucs managed to make use of the free throw to good advantage.

Richard Kier, a surprise starter, hit two free throws to push the lead to five at 15-10, but George Washington then began to find the range and fought back with Garland Pinkston leading the way with seven straight points. Pinkston hit on a jumper to tie it at 16-16 with 10:43 left, but Colbert put the Bucs back ahead with a free throw.

The foul line continued to be the Bucs' only haven as they hit to build their lead there. Kier hit on one, and then Colbert got two to push out to a 20-16 lead. Kier then got four straight and Jim Modlin added another to push the lead to 25-19 with 6:52 left.

The tables then turned and George Washington began to march to the line, hitting five straight to cut the lead back to one. Ken Barnett got three of the shots in the string, while Pinkston made the other two.

Barnett then dropped in a rebound to give the Colonials their first lead of the night. Alford snapped the Buc cold streak with his basket to return the lead to East Carolina, 27-26, but Barnett made good on a pair of free throws to switch it right back, 28-27.

East Carolina tied it up at 28-28 on a charity shot by Modlin, and then Modlin hit again. Colbert put the Bucs back into the lead, but Roger Strong hit to tie it at 32-32 with 1:21 remaining.

In the remaining minute, Modlin dropped in two and Earl Thompson got another to rush the Bucs out to a 38-32 half-time lead.

Colbert made good on two free throws in the opening minutes of the second half to push the lead to eight. But the Colonials didn't want to quit just yet. With Strong leading the way, George Washington cut the lead back to two points at 42-40 with 17:24 to play. Colbert made it four points again at 46-42, and then the Bucs jumped on the Colonials and shot away.

From a six point lead at 50-44, East Carolina hit on four straight as Robert Lindfeldt, Tom Miller and Alford hit, Alford twice, to rush out to a 14-point spread at 60-46, and that was the end of any real competition.

From that point on out, the Bucs had the taste of victory in their mouths and began to pull steadily away.

The Pirate lead reached 20 at 70-50 with 8:00 left as Kier hit, and went as high as 28 in the closing seconds.

Co-Captain Colbert was again the outstanding player of the game, despite playing only part of the second half, as he got into foul trouble. Colbert collected 19 points and pulled down 12 rebounds.

Alford had another fine night, too, hitting the game's high of 21 points, and getting 10 rebounds.

Four other Bucs reached double figures. Modlin had 17, Thompson had 13, Kier, 11 and Miller, 10.

Pinkston led the Colonials with 18 points, while Strong had 17 and Barnett had 11.

In the freshman contest, the Baby Bucs rolled over Sandhills Junior College, 80-70.

East Carolina took the lead at the start and were never headed the entire way despite a Sandhills rally in the second half. With balanced scoring in the first half, the Baby Bucs pulled steadily away from their visitors and built up a 44-30 half-time lead.

In the second half, Sandhills rallied, cutting the lead to as little as seven points. But the Bucs were able to keep Jim Gregory free underneath for good shots and with him leading the way, East Carolina stayed ahead and got the win.

Gregory ended up with 23 points, while Mike Dunn had 18 and Ken Hartzler had 12. George Logan added 10 in a reserve role. For Sandhills, Dennis Hamlett had 19 and Marcus Riven had 14.

East Carolina's next outing will be Saturday afternoon in a regionally televised home game with West Virginia. Game time is 1:30 p.m.

NEW 44 FOR ORANGE

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Though he has missed much action this season because of a sprained knee, sophomore quarterback Rich Panczyzyn (PAN-zy-zyn) has much to remember. In his debut against Baylor, his 88 rushing yards topped the yards gained in a debut by previous sophomore wearers of No. 44.

All-America Floyd Little gained 82 yards in his varsity debut, Jim Brown 40 and Ernie Davis 30.

Dunning's Last Second Shot Wins For Bethel

BELVOIR — A shot with three seconds left gave Bethel a 60-59 victory over Belvoir-Falkland last night. The Bethel girls also took a win, 30-21.

Belvoir's girls edged out into a 5-4 lead in the first period, but Bethel came back to take a 12-11 edge at the half.

In the third period, Bethel moved ahead, taking a 20-13 lead and then outscored Belvoir, 10-8 in the final period to insure the victory.

Karen Mozingo led Bethel with 15 points, while Dianne Everett paced Belvoir with 11.

In the second contest, Belvoir shot out into an 18-8 lead in the first period. In the second frame, Bethel managed to cut a point off the lead but still trailed, 30-21.

Belvoir added two more points to its lead in the third period for a 42-31 margin, but Bethel rallied again.

In the final period, Bethel poured in 29 points while Belvoir got just 17. With 1:20 left, Belvoir held a six point lead, but Bethel came on to take the win as Douglas Dunning sank a shot with just three seconds left to put Bethel into the winners circle.

Jerry Price led Bethel with 29 points, while Dunning had 10.

For Belvoir, Kelly Witherington had 23 and David Nichols had 20.

Pete Fouls, But LSU Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pistol Pete Maravich, the nation's leading scorer, fouled out 7½ minutes into the second half Wednesday night, but the Louisiana State University Bengals still had little trouble in whipping Clemson's hapless Tigers 104-81.

It was the night's only game involving an Atlantic Coast Conference team and the loss left the Tigers with two victories in their 10 outings this season. LSU, with Maravich averaging 45 points per game, now is 10-3.

The game was played at Baton Rouge, La., and when the Bengal star, son of LSU basketball Coach Press Maravich, went out with five fouls the capacity crowd boomed mightily and rained paper wads and cups on the floor.

When the uproar subsided, officials called a technical foul on LSU.

Maravich scored 23 points.

Northern Nash also took a slim lead in the first period of the boys game, 14-11. But in the second period, they shot away to gain a 36-18 lead by the half.

The visitors followed the same method used by the girls as they boosted their lead to 53-29 by the end of the third period. In the final frame, however, they kept it up, outscoring Farmville, 24-15 to complete the rout.

Tom Ennis and Franklin Martin each poured in 20 points for Northern Nash, but Farmville's George Moore took high scoring honors with 22. Bill Hall added 11 for Farmville.

UF Leaders To Gather Feb. 6

CHARLOTTE — United Fund leaders will assemble in Charlotte on February 6 at the Heart of Charlotte Motor Inn for the fourth annual Campaign Recognition Meeting sponsored by Carolinas United Community Services. The meeting will honor united fund presidents and campaign chairmen for their leadership in the united campaigns in the two Carolinas for the past year.

Edmund H. Harding, "North Carolina's Ambassador of Goodwill," from Washington, N.C. will speak on "United We Stand." The Tar Heel humorist has spoken in all fifty states in the past year.

Recognition will be given to the outstanding united fund campaigns in North and South Carolina in each of three goal categories. The Jefferson Standard Trophy for the outstanding campaign in each state will be presented by W. Roger Soles, president of Jefferson Standard Insurance Company.

Ty Boyd of WBT and WBTW will serve as master of ceremonies and music for the evening will be furnished by Lounis McGlohon. Those attending the meeting will be the guests of the Jefferson Standard Broadcasting Company who is sponsoring this program of recognition for voluntary leadership in addition to their generous support of united fund campaigns throughout the Carolinas.

Odds Against Separatism Drive In Canada Continue Heavy

By DAVE BAZAY
Canadian Press Writer
QUEBEC (AP) — The movement to separate Quebec from the rest of Canada, encouraged by Charles de Gaulle, is trying to broaden its base and win more support.

The odds against it are heavy. It is still a minority movement among the French-Canadians who dominate Quebec Province.

The Liberals, who ruled Quebec under Premier Jean Lesage until June 1966, reject separatism "in all its forms." In the now-governing Union Nationale party, Premier Daniel Johnson rejects it at least "for the moment." He foresees a breakthrough in English-speaking Canada's attitude that could bring about constitutional changes more favorable to the French-Canadian viewpoint.

Johnson believes that French-speaking Canadians, 80 per cent of them in this province, can remain within the federal structure provided constitutional changes make them "feel at home" all over Canada.

In the existing constitutional setup Quebec is the only province where both French and English enjoy official status in the legislature, courts and schools.

Bilingualism in some form was recommended to the nine other provinces by a commission whose recommendations will be studied by the provinces and federal government next month.

Most Quebec separatists reject bilingualism "from coast to coast" as utopian, but the commission views it as a key to equality between Canada's two main linguistic groups.

Separatists argue that only in Quebec can French-Canadians master their destiny for only here do they form a majority. They contend that French-Canadians, 30 per cent of the Canadian population in the 1961 census, can never live with dignity in Canada because they will forever be a minority.

The best way to protect French culture in predominantly English-language North America, they claim, is to build Quebec into an independent state with French as its sole official language. More than 80 per cent of Quebec's population speaks French.

The separatists label French-Canadians outside Quebec as "white Negroes" because they lack language rights, they write off most of their brethren in other provinces as lost by assimilation to the English-language group.

Emotionally, separatism's finest moment came last July when Gen. de Gaulle mounted the balcony of Montreal's City Hall to shout the separatist rally cry, "Vive le Quebec libre!" — Long live free Quebec.

But politically the separatists drew most encouragement last year when an influential politician, Rene Levesque, resigned from Quebec's Liberal party.

He advocates an independent Quebec linked to the rest of Canada by a form of economic "common market."

Levesque is trying to allay fears over separation by stressing these economic links, but it's doubtful how English Canada would cooperate with a seceding Quebec.

Almost all observers say Levesque will be able to increase support for separatism, but we agree with his personal forecast that Quebec independence is only four years from realization.

In fact many separatists say privately that they anticipate continued tough going, especially, arising from lack of widespread support in the politically powerful rural areas.

"I Saw Wrinkles Vanish or Diminish in 2 Weeks"

NEW YORK (Special)—"Disappearance of small wrinkles was accomplished... even the very deepest wrinkles showed very great improvement." This dramatic report on the ingredients in Genava was made by a noted physician, specializing in dermatology, after tests made on a selected group of women. He saw these results with his own eyes.

With this substance new to cosmetics, named Genava, aging skin can start looking younger and younger—not older and older.

The physician also commented, "The small superficial wrinkles responded dramatically." And he adds that the skin was "more translucent and smoother in appearance."

These results are nothing short of amazing. And it took a new cosmetic compound to do it.

Developed by the trustworthy Nina laboratory, Genava is designed to be used under make-up and as a night cream. It is absorbed instantly. In two weeks time wrinkles will vanish or diminish greatly. That is the promise now made possible by Genava. Skin will become more translucent, younger-looking. Now available in selected stores—1.65 oz. $3.50; 4 oz. $5.00.

Batman TV Series Won't Be Renewed

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — And now a final adventure for Batman: He is going off to that Bathalla in the sky.

That's the way producer William Dozier describes the end of the "Batman" series on ABC. This week the word was handed down that the show will not be renewed for a fourth year.

"Well, he had a good three-year run," Dozier philosophized. "That's not bad for what was essentially a novelty show. You've got to be realistic about such series; they can't last too long. In fact, I was surprised that it went a third season."

When "Batman" arrived on the television scene in 1965, it was a rip-roaring sensation. Critics were confused as to whether to denounce it as child's play or praise it as camp. Adults were amused by the straight-faced heroics and the stylistic manner of the series, as evidenced in the comic strip "zaps" and "pows" that appeared on the screen during fistfights.

There was never any question of how the youngsters felt about "Batman"; they loved it.

The youthful audience remained loyal into the third season, but the adults defected, and that can be fatal for a television series. It is still the adults who buy the sponsors' products, and if they aren't watching, they won't buy.

"In the last rating, the show was still leading in its time period," Dozier observed. "But the adults had wearied of the series, and the audience had become more and more juvenile. If I were running the network, I would have taken 'Batman' off, too. The kids are just as happy to watch the old shows; they don't care if it's a repeat. So why go on spending $87,000 for new ones?"

The quality of "Batman" was maintained to the end; coming up are such guests as Zsa Zsa Gabor, Howard Duff and Ida Lupino. The new shows will run out at the end of March, then repeats will play on the network, probably through the summer.

"Then we'll go into syndication, and I expect 'Batman' will go on playing forever," said the producer. "We'll have 120 negatives to sell, and there will be a whole new generation of kids coming along who will have never seen the show."

Flight Plan Set 14 Years Ahead

BOMBAY, India (AP) — J. R. D. Tata, chairman of Air India, is looking forward to making a flight on Oct. 15, 1982.

Tata explained in an interview that he flew the first scheduled air service in India on Oct. 15, 1932, piloting a creaking Leopard Moth airplane from Bombay to Karachi. He said he would like to repeat the flight in the same plane, which he still owns, on the 50th anniversary of the feat.

Early Bird For Badminton Event

NEW DELHI (AP) — The early bird may get the worm, but an early Kiwi?

Richard Purser, champion badminton player from the New Zealand Kiwis, arrived in late November to participate in five international tournaments which had been scheduled in India.

Purser missed a cable notifying him the tournaments had been postponed until January. He decided to stay and do some sightseeing.

Opening lead: Four of ♠. Both North and South were chargeable for the deficit incurred by the partnership—the former for permitting the auction to get beyond the three no trump level, and the latter for presenting the opposition with an opportunity to defeat the final contract of five diamonds. North had 15 points in high cards and balanced distribution. If he had held a small heart along with the queen-jack, the proper response to one diamond would have been two no trump. Once South showed hearts on his rebid, North was completely remiss in not bidding three no trump. The taking of 10 tricks would have been routine.

West led the four of clubs and the queen was played from dummy. East won the trick with the king and shifted to a small spade. South finessed for a second time and, when West produced the king of spades, the contract was doomed, for declarer must still concede a trick to the ace of trumps.

South was the victim of his own finesse-itis. As soon as the dummy is spread, it becomes obvious that the solid heart holding will permit declarer to obtain two spade discards from dummy which eliminates the need for taking a finesse in spades.

The most urgent consideration is to draw trumps, so that the hearts can be safely cashed out. South should, therefore, seize the initiative at once by putting up the ace of clubs at trick one. A diamond is led and, when East gets in with the ace, he will presumably shift to a spade. Declarer puts up the ace—since he now has the situation under full control—draws the remaining trump and cashes out his four hearts, discarding two spades from dummy. He ruffs a spade and later concedes a club trick for his second and final loser on the deal.

Judge Charles H. Whedbee disposed of the following cases at the January 22 term of Greenville Municipal Recorders Court.

Left Orders To Stay On Guard

ROBINSON, Ill. (AP) — Nearly 50 years ago, Sgt. Fred C. Schroeder, serving with the American Expeditionary Forces in France, put one of the men of his machine gun company, the 132nd Infantry, 33rd Division, on a particular post. Schroeder told the man to guard it until he returned and relieved him.

A few hours later, Schroeder was in a hospital with pleurisy, then he was moved to a hospital in England.

In December 1967, Schroeder, fiercer and township supervisor, received a telephone call at his home in Robinson, a southeastern Illinois community.

The call was from Chicago. The caller identified himself as Edward N. Dix. Dix said he wanted to send Christmas greetings to his former sergeant.

"Say," said Dix, "Aren't you the guy who assigned me to a post and told me not to leave until you returned?"

Schrieder, after some memory jogging, admitted he was the sergeant.

"Well," said Dix, "you never did come back to relieve me."

Dix said it was only in recent weeks that he had learned that a Fred Schroeder resided in Robinson and that it was his World War I sergeant.

Go Ahead, Shoot, Said The Burglar

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (AP) — An unconcerned burglar, who had just looted Ray's Standard Service Station, was approached by two bystanders, one armed with a gun, and ordered to stop.

The sheriff's office said the flippant burglar, who took $40 in cash from a cash register and some change from a vending machine, replied:

"Go ahead and shoot me if you want to," and drove away in a station wagon.

Cattle Burden To Indian State

LUCKNOW, India (AP) — The cattle population in Uttar Pradesh State, India's most populous, is estimated at 26.3 million, or 35 per cent of the human population.

An agricultural expert estimated 60 per cent of the cows and bullocks are unproductive. Further, he said, the cattle consume about 70 per cent of the state's agricultural products.

HARBOR PATROL

An overall view of a section of the Hong Kong harbor.

Off the Kwangtung Coast of southern China, at the mouth of the Chu Kiang River, is the deep sheltered harbor of Hong Kong. Over its 17 square miles, with east and west entrances, pass ships up to 40,000 tons, crossing bows with a continual flow of sampans, junks, ferries and yachts of all sizes.

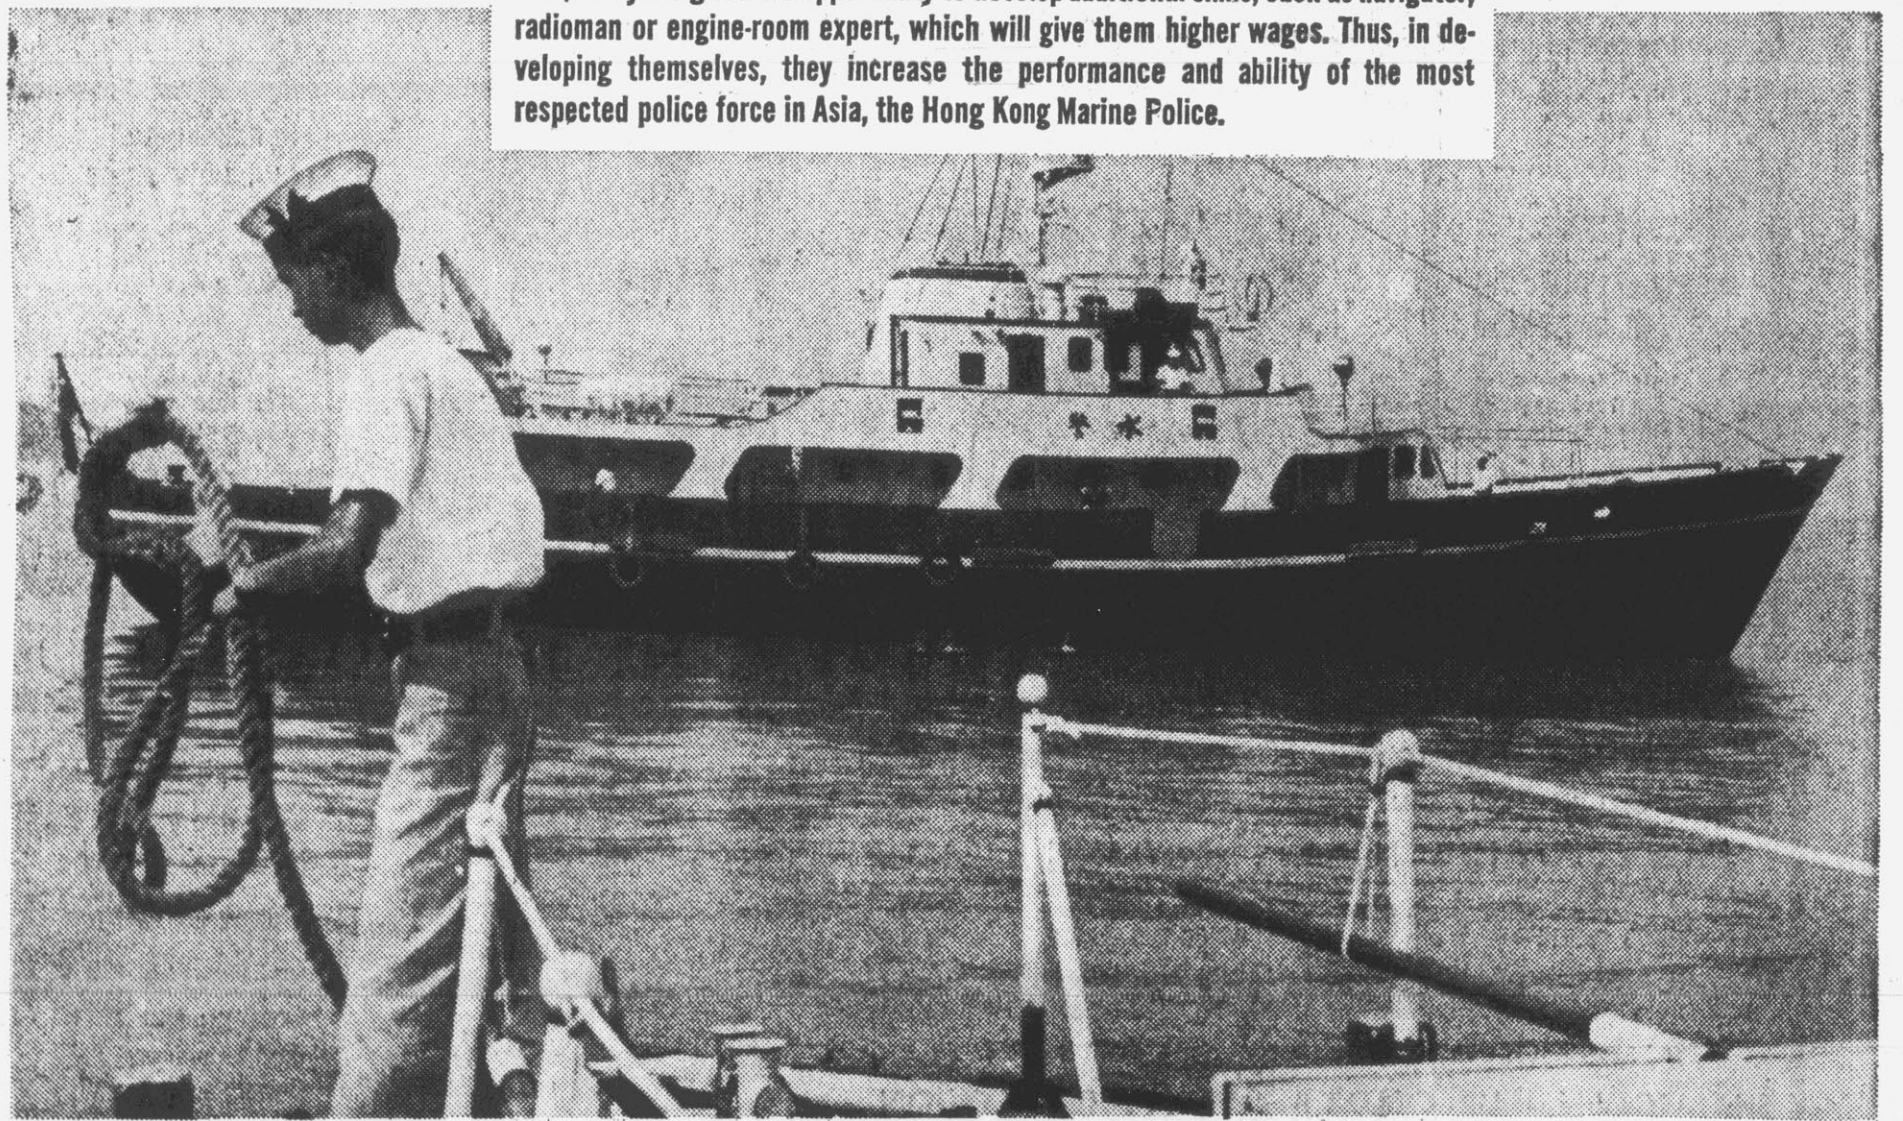

Patrolling this area to deal with routine inspections of licenses, life preservers, fire-fighting equipment and general ship conditions is the Hong Kong Marine Police. Under British superintendents, the 2,000-man force, 98% Chinese, also make periodic searches of suspicious vessels for smuggled drugs or would-be immigrants fleeing the Communist China mainland. Monthly, some 50 to 200 of these refugees are caught and returned.

The harbor areas, and waters up to the Red Chinese 'dividing line', are part of the patrol run. Also, four-day "village penetration patrols" move through Kowloon Peninsula and the 20-odd inhabited islands within the territorial waters, bringing to some villages the only outside authority they ever see.

For this effort, the men receive $400 Hong Kong dollars monthly ($90 American). They are given the opportunity to develop additional skills, such as navigator, radioman or engine-room expert, which will give them higher wages. Thus, in developing themselves, they increase the performance and ability of the most respected police force in Asia, the Hong Kong Marine Police.

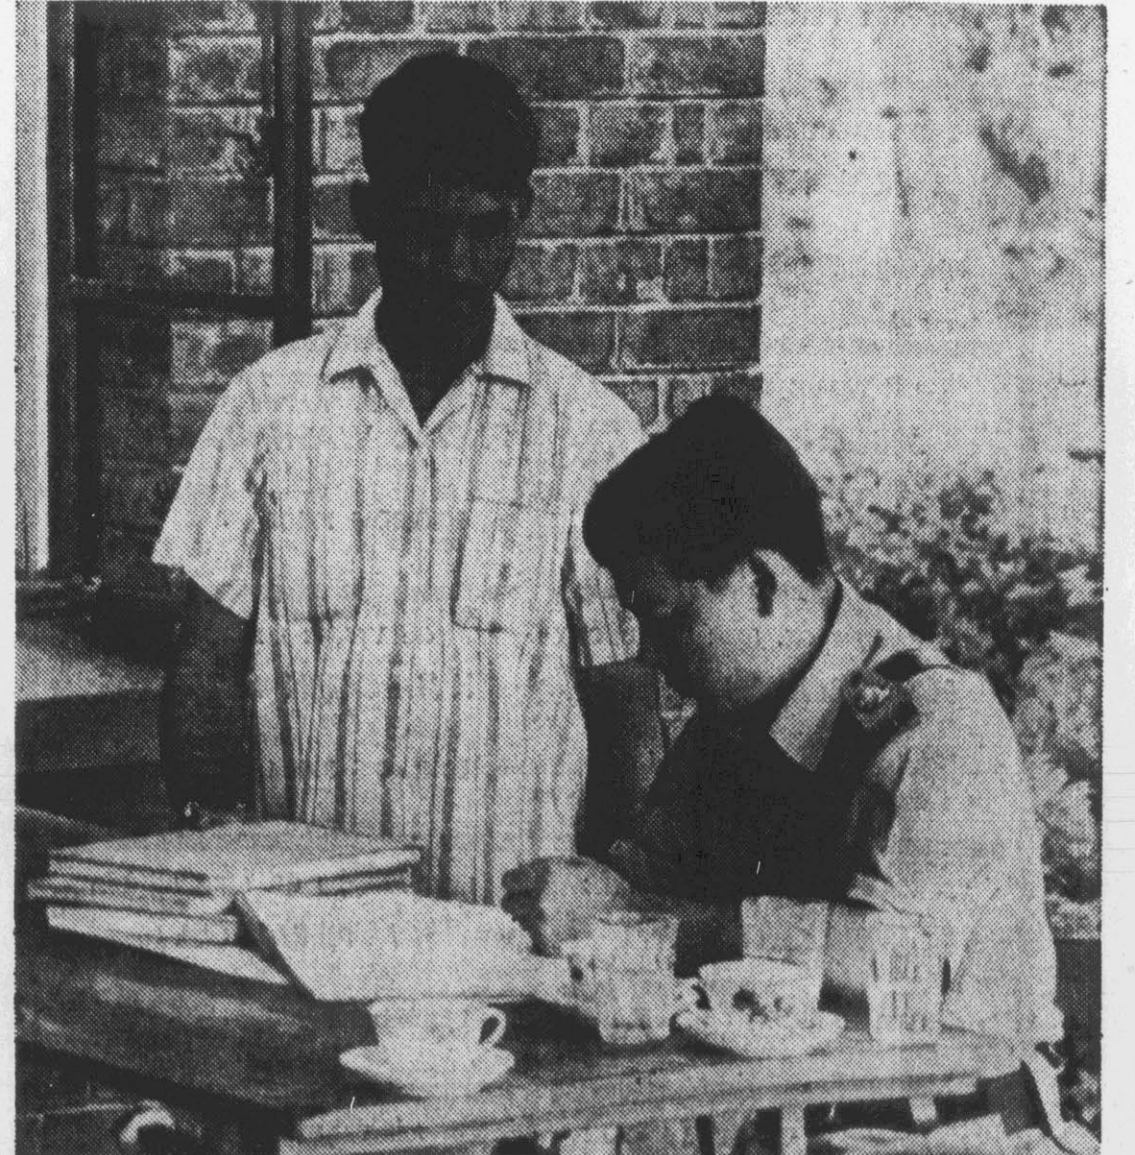

A Royal Air Force helicopter moves over a junk at high sea. Such a flight is a daily routine and radio contact is maintained with the Harbor Police in the area below.

One of the Marine Police boats, with speeds up to 15 knots. Its 20-man crew is on duty 72 hours.

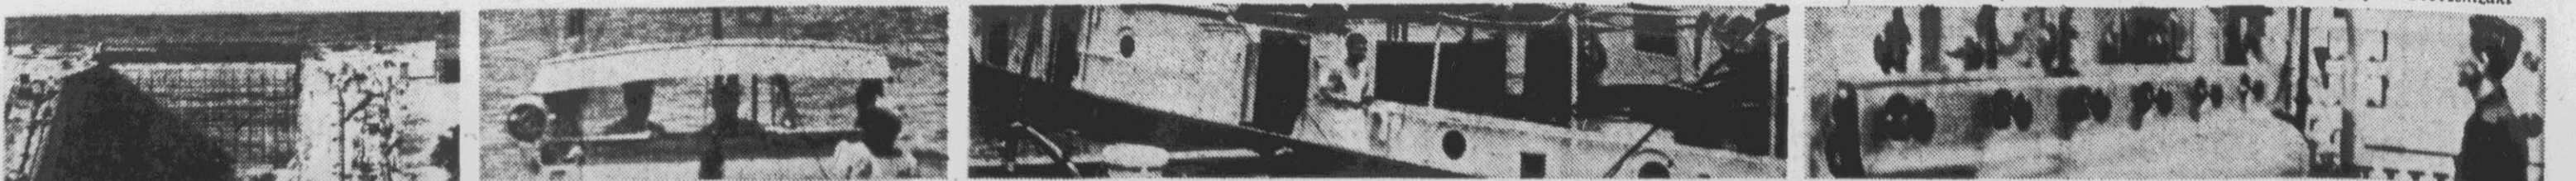

At a "walla-walla", or water-taxi, Inspector K. T. Wong, with crew members, investigates licenses and the ship's interior.

Inspector K. T. Wong, seated, makes a routine check of log books and inventory lists at an outpost island station just outside Hong Kong harbor while the station manager looks on.

North Koreans Try Break Through American Sector

By K. G. HWANG
Associated Press Writer
SEOUL (AP) — As tension continued following the capture of the Pueblo, North Koreans tried to break through the American sector of the Korean front today and wounded eight U.S. soldiers.

damage, a U.S. Army spokesman said. Sporadic shooting continued from about 2:30 a.m. until early afternoon. The Communists made attempts to break through the fence along the buffer zone, the American added.

The Communist infiltrators were all repulsed but it was not known if they suffered any casualties, the spokesman said.

Smith Bagley Is Expected To Run

WINSTON-SALEM (AP) — Smith Bagley, an unsuccessful candidate for Congress two years ago, has announced a news conference for next Wednesday to announce his political plans.

Besides the eight Americans wounded, he said, two South Korean soldiers attached to the U.S. 2nd Infantry Division were killed and another was wounded.

This brought the American casualties in the two days of clashes to one dead and 12 wounded.

South Korean troops pursuing the remnants of the 31-man North Korean assassination group that invaded Seoul Sunday night killed two more of them today.

This made 19 members of the band killed, and another was captured. The invaders killed 16 South Koreans, including six civilians, and wounded 35.

South Korean Foreign Minister Choi Kyu-hah denounced the Communist seizure of the Pueblo, describing it as "one of the most serious threats to the security of the Republic of Korea and the Far East."

There were only minor variations from a written "confession" issued earlier which contained a hint the North Koreans may release Bucher and his crew.

The voice delivered the statement hurriedly in a monotone, stumbling over some of the words.

In Washington, the Defense Department already had denounced the purported confession as "a travesty on the facts." Assistant Secretary of Defense Phil G. Goulding said: "The style and wording of the document provide unmistakable evidence in themselves that this was not written or prepared by an American."

Draft Card Burning Law Sympathizers Within Court

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has given a cool reception to contentions the 1965 law making it a crime to burn draft cards was a congressional "act of hysteria" designed "to punish those beatniks."

The American Civil Liberties Union also argued Wednesday before the high court that draft-card burning is "symbolic speech" protected by the Constitution.

Both arguments put forth by ACLU lawyer Marvin M. Karpatkin drew icy responses from the justices.

Karpatkin maintained Congress passed the legislation to punish conduct it considered unpatriotic. "The only legislative purpose here," he said, "was in stamping out dissent."

But Chief Justice Earl Warren wondered if a soldier who broke his weapon in Vietnam could be considered to have performed an act of symbolic speech.

And Justice Abe Fortas drew a parallel to a dissenter throwing a brick through a White House window or his "quivering body" in front of a train carrying troops.

Both Fortas and Justice John M. Harlan suggested it isn't the court's function to examine the motives of Congress.

Fortas told Karpatkin, "You have no case to support your argument that a law of Congress can be declared unconstitutional because of improper motive."

The hearing brought the court in touch with the emotional way some young Americans are dissenting from the Vietnam war.

The question is: Can they do so by burning their draft cards without winding up in jail?

So far 21 American youths have been indicted, and 14 of them convicted, under the law.

It was passed, without public hearings, 393 to 1 by the House on Aug. 10, 1965 and by voice vote of the Senate three days later.

Presumably its use will pick up if the court reverses the judgment of the U.S. Circuit Court in Boston and declares the statute constitutional.

In the case at hand, David P. O'Brien, a 19-year-old pacifist, burned his draft card on the

Tobacco Union Accepts Terms

DURHAM (AP) — Striking workers at Durham and Reidsville plants of the American Tobacco Co. have voted to accept a new three-year contract and its provisions were to be explained to union members today in Richmond, Va., and tonight in Louisville, Ky.

Approval was given Wednesday by some 1,400 members of the Tobacco Workers International Union in Durham and about 1,700 workers in Reidsville.

They were told they could return to work today if they wished.

The new contract carries a pay increase of 45 cents an hour over the three-year period, with 24 cents an hour the first year, nine cents the second year and 12 cents the third year.

A cost of living escalation clause is included and fringe benefits will push the average hourly rate to $4.80, a union spokesman said.

The new pact, worked out with the help of a federal mediating team, would end a 24-day strike at the four plants.

They said the final choice was Morganton mainly because of its proximity to the counties it was designed to serve and because the state can save $150,000 by using land and some utilities already owned at Morganton by the Department of Mental Health.

The Mental Health Department will give the land to the correction department.

Morganton Site For Western Regional Prison

SALISBURY, N. C. (AP) — The chairman of the North Carolina Board of Correction has announced selection of Morganton as the site for the state's new Western Regional Prison.

Clyde H. Harris, former Rowan County legislator, announced Wednesday that selection of the site for the $4.2 million high-rise prison complex was made after "careful surveys" in Morganton and Lincolnton.

He said the final choice was Morganton mainly because of its proximity to the counties it was designed to serve and because the state can save $150,000 by using land and some utilities already owned at Morganton by the Department of Mental Health.

The Mental Health Department will give the land to the correction department.

Christmas Tree Finally Removed

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — South Carolina's official Christmas tree was carted off from in front of the State House Wednesday two hours after the State Senate passed a resolution that it be removed or decorated with valentines.

Crashed Out Of Burning Building

OLD TOWN, Maine (AP) — David Brown crashed the town's new $6,500 dump truck through the closed doors of the municipal garage Wednesday to get the vehicle out of the burning building.

Brown, a mechanic, was servicing the truck when the fire was discovered.

Another city employe operating a snow blower nearby ran into the burning building and drove out a $20,000 road grader.

Collision Sinks Fishing Vessel

TOKYO (AP) — An 89-ton Japanese fishing vessel sank and its crew of 12 was missing after a collision off Kyushu, southwestern Japan, with the 7,638-ton American freighter Beatrice Victory early today, the Maritime Safety Agency said.

A spokesman said the Beatrice Victory, owned by the U.S. Department of Commerce, appeared undamaged and remained in the area to search for the missing crewmen of the fishing craft.

The Japanese craft was identified as the No. 22 Junwa-Maru.

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP) — (USDA)—North Carolina hog market steady, tops 18.25-18.75 Rocky Mount; 17.50-18.50 Kinston, New Bern, Benson, Mt. Olive, Newton Grove, Albemarle, Lumberton; 17.75-18.25 Hickory, Bethel; 17.50-18.25 Statesville; 19.00 Greensboro; Salisbury; 17.75 Selma; 17.50 Siler City, Denton.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina egg markets steady. Supplies barely adequate to short, demand generally good. Prices paid producers and handlers for consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered nearby outlets:

Grade A large whites: 43-44 medium, whites: 41½-43 small, whites: 37-40.

NEW YORK (AP)—A wave of selling hit the stock market early this afternoon following news that President Johnson had ordered a call-up of certain Air Force and Navy air reservists.

Before the news came, the market had staged a technical rally despite the worrisome news of the North Korean seizure of the Navy intelligence vessel Pueblo.

The market was advancing after a record series of 12 straight daily declines in the Dow Jones industrial average. Stock was relatively cheap and buying came in regardless of the poor atmosphere. On the domestic front lackluster auto sales in the first 20 days of January caused a downward revision in estimates of auto sales for the current quarter.

By shortly after noon, the ticker tape on the New York Stock Exchange was running eight minutes late.

The Dow Jones industrial average wiped out a gain of 3.41. At noon the Dow industrials were down 1.62 at 860.61.

The Associated Press average at noon was still up .9 at 315.3, with industrials up 1.3, rails up 1.1 and utilities off .4.

At noon, however, the components of the AP average had not yet time to show a full response to the selling wave which wiped out many gains across the board and gathered speed as more and more investors heard the news.

Volume for the morning was about a million shares heavier than Wednesday. It was the fourth of a series of shortened sessions.

As many stocks erased gains, some showed wide losses.

IBM was down about 7 points. AMK Corp. 4, Litton Industries more than 3, Teledyne, Dennison Manufacturing, Eastman Kodak and Harvey Aluminum about 2 points or worse. Auto stocks were weak from the start even as the general market was staging a rugged recovery.

Other blue chips sank. Down more than a point were such stocks as Goodyear, Uniroyal, Zenith, Owens-Illinois and Pfizer.

Aerospace defense issues and stocks related to defense held gains which they had shown early in the day because of the crisis atmosphere.

The news also jolted prices on the American Stock Exchange. A solid early advance on the Amex was riddled with losses.

Seven Collisions On Pitt's Roads

The North Carolina Highway Patrol reported that seven collisions had occurred on ice and snow covered Pitt County roads by 6:30 a.m. today.

Probably the most spectacular was a 6:30 a.m. mishap on the Reedy Branch Church Road near the Winterville Cemetery.

Trooper Billy Day said a car driven by Mrs. Jen Heath Cannon, Route 1, Ayden rounded a curve, went out of control and skidded into a canal, and submerged. Mrs. Cannon freed herself from the vehicle and splashed to shore, then walked an estimated 1,000 yards to a farm house for help.

Trooper Day, who said the woman was not injured, reported the vehicle's lights were still burning and its windshield wipers still wiping, when he arrived.

He placed damage to the small foreign car at $200.

Two persons were injured in another of the seven crashes.

Trooper Day said a car driven by Ruth Ann Waller, 21, of Greenville, went out of control on the ice-covered Red Banks Church Road, and overturned about 3:10 a.m.

Both Miss Waller and a passenger in the vehicle, Miss Sue Ann Rash, 20, of Rocky Mount were taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment of their injuries. Miss Waller was admitted while Miss Rash was treated and released.

Damage to their small foreign auto was set by Pitt. Day at $300.

The patrolman, who investigated the other five mishaps also, said only relatively minor damage resulted in those mishaps.

Undone

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Leroy J. Deskin, termed "the largest multiple filer in the history of the Internal Revenue Service" by an assistant U.S. attorney, Wednesday received a maximum prison sentence of three years.

Deskin, 61, the IRS said, would have obtained $800,000 in refunds if he had succeeded with his 240 fictitious filings. An IRS computer was his undoing.
