

Not Yet Too Late, Says Johnson

President Warns U.S. Must Slow Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called Thursday for a temporary no-strike truce between industry and labor, a tax increase "in the next few weeks" and a study of possible new wage-price guideposts.

"We must," Johnson said, "exert every effort to avoid the possible destructive effects on our trade surplus of strikes or the threat of strikes in key industries."

The panel will not intervene "in specific current wage or price matters," Johnson said. But he indicated it will seek some guidelines device to replace the virtually defunct wage-price guideposts promulgated under President John F. Kennedy.

Senator Allsbrook To Run For Re-Election

ROANOKE RAPIDS — State Senator Julian R. Allsbrook of Roanoke Rapids has announced that he will be a candidate in the May Democratic Primary to succeed himself as State Senator from the Fourth Senatorial District.

JULIAN R. ALLSBROOK

Allsbrook said that he is seeking reelection on the basis of his record and the experience he has gained as a legislator while serving the people of his district in previous sessions of the General Assembly.

Russia Doubled Nuclear Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — In one year the Soviet Union has more than doubled its force of land-based nuclear missiles capable of hitting the United States, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara reported today.

clear weapons of both sides with missile forces, McNamara estimates the United States holds a 4,500 to 1,000 lead in warheads.

On the U.S. side of the ICBM ledger: 1,054 land-based missiles and 656 sea-based missiles, all on nuclear Polaris submarines.

Former Alabama Gov. George Wallace has picked the nation's third most populous state—Pennsylvania—as the target for his second personal effort to get his name on a state presidential ballot.

Cadets Set Another Marchathon Mark

Air Force ROTC cadets at East Carolina University have made another record-breaking contribution to the Pitt County March of Dimes campaign.

The girls of the Angel Flight gave a helping hand. The total amount collected in the Marchathon exceeds by more than $200 the previous record, $2,300 in 1967.

Candidate

NEW BERN, N. C. (AP) — Robert G. Bowers, a New Bern lawyer, today announced his candidacy for one of the four district judgeships covering Craven, Pamlico, Pitt and Carteret counties under the new courts system.

Tax-Listing Deadline Is Tomorrow

Pitt County property owners who don't want to be penalized for late listing of their property will have to list before closing time Friday.

Pennsylvania Is Wallace Target

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Former Alabama Gov. George Wallace has picked the nation's third most populous state—Pennsylvania—as the target for his second personal effort to get his name on a state presidential ballot.

State Will Pay Fees Of $24,741

RALEIGH (AP) — A Raleigh law firm will receive $24,741.51 for legal fees in defending the University of North Carolina in a suit challenging the constitutionality of the state Speaker Ban Law.

Violation Of Narcotics Law Charged

A 19-year-old East Carolina University student was arrested here last night on federal warrants charging him with the sale of marijuana and sale of amphetamine drugs.

Kenneth B. McCaleb of 705 Johnston St. was bound over to U.S. District Court on the charges after a hearing before U.S. Commissioner Mrs. Harold Thomas this morning and bond in each of the two cases was placed at $1,000.

The arrest followed a joint investigation by Federal Drug Abuse Control and Federal Narcotics Bureau agents, members of the State Bureau of Investigation, the Greenville Police Department, the Havelock Police Department and agents of the Naval Investigation Service at Cherry Point.

A spokesman for the joint investigation team said McCaleb's arrest followed an arrest Tuesday of Robert Lamoureux, 19, of Cherry Point on charges of selling the narcotic drug, marijuana. That arrest, the investigators reported, occurred in the Cherry Point-Havelock area.

Job-Holders' Minimum Wages Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal minimum wage rose to $1.60 an hour today for 33 million workers and to $1.15 for another 8.5 million job-holders.

Candidacy Is Announced By Nixon

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon announced today in an open letter to the citizens of New Hampshire that he would be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

The former vice president told the people of that state the choices we face are larger than any differences among Republicans or among Democrats, large even than the differences between the parties. They are beyond politics.

Nixon said in his long-expected declaration: "Peace and freedom in the world, and peace and progress here at home, will depend on the decisions of the next President of the United States. For these critical years, America needs new leadership."

More Manpower?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., said today "expansion of the war" in Vietnam probably will require additional military manpower above the 525,000 U.S. forces now earmarked for Southeast Asia.

Stennis, chairman of the preparedness subcommittee of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he is confident that President Johnson is considering plans for increases in forces, weapons and funds.

Stennis talked with newsmen in advance of a closed committee session at which Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara presented his department's annual posture statement, outlining plans and budget requests for the year ahead.

The senator was asked whether more military reservists will be called to active duty in addition to the more than 14,000 called up last week following North Korea's seizure of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo.

"I would not be surprised, although I do not know the plans," Stennis replied.

Stennis said senators would examine in detail both "the draw down on our manpower, planes and ships as a result of the expansion of the war."

Contract Records Said Withheld

RALEIGH (AP) — An attorney for a Greensboro equipment firm said today that state purchasing officer Eston Y. Brickhouse refused to let representatives of the firm see records involving a controversial motor grader contract.

The statement was made by Charles Hagan, representing the C. F. Craven Co., as the State Board of Awards resumed a public hearing into allegations that several firms were excluded from bidding on a $1.5 million state motor grader contract.

Hagan said Brickhouse told Craven representatives on Jan. 15 he wouldn't let them look at the records because "I see no useful purpose in your seeing them."

Hagan also said he had asked the Wake County sheriff's department to serve notices on Brickhouse and others ordering them to produce the records.

Rigged Hearing Query Raised

CHARLOTTE (AP) — The exclusion of a white dentist from a group of three Negro dentists now facing charges of malpractice prompted the question Wednesday of whether their hearing was racially "rigged."

Wheeler Seeking Judgeship Post

GRIFTON—Robert D. Wheeler yesterday became the second Pitt County candidate for one of four Third District Judgeships under the court reform system scheduled to go in effect next January.

Wheeler Seeking Judgeship Post

Wheeler, who is now serving as town attorney for Grifton, is a 1950 graduate of East Carolina College. He graduated from the School of Law at Wake Forest and has taught school, served as a parole officer, and has practiced law here for the past 12 years.

More Than 11,000 Licenses Sold In Area So Far This Year

More than 11,000 vehicle registration plates have been sold in the Greenville area so far this year, according to Mrs. Anna Garris, local license agent.

According to Mrs. Garris, the local agency had issued, 8,074 auto plates, 51 motorcycle registrations, 1,274 private truck tags, 625 farm truck plates, and 980 trailer registrations through Jan. 30.

VC Continue To Press Attack On Urban Areas

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. infantry and armored units battled dihard Communist forces in Saigon again today as the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese pushed their biggest offensive of the Vietnam war up and down South Vietnam for the third day.

As fighting continued to rage in South Vietnam's capital, the Communists rampaged through other key government cities and took control of important areas in some of them. The situation appeared critical at many points.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. troops in Vietnam, predicted the Communists would follow the current drive with a still bigger campaign against South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces, Quang Tri and Thua Thien, where the U.S. Marines are on guard below the demilitarized zone.

The Communists were paying a heavy price in their current offensive. Westmoreland said 5,800 enemy troops had been killed across the country, more than the toll usually reported for two or three weeks of fighting.

Allied casualties also were high: 555 killed, including 232 Americans, and 1,698 wounded, 929 of them Americans, according to the U.S. Command.

Civilian casualties mounted into the thousands across the country, with estimates of up to 2,000 killed or wounded in Saigon alone.

American armored and infantry troops were rushed from other critical areas into some of the threatened cities, including Saigon. As U.S. tanks, armored personnel carriers and infantrymen from three divisions pushed through the streets of the capital to root out enemy resistance, Viet Cong soldiers and political cadre began to surface openly in some thickly populated parts of the capital.

In at least two parts of Saigon, men were knocking on doors and announcing: "We are from the National Liberation Front. We have come to liberate Saigon."

There were reports the National Liberation Front—the Viet Cong's political arm—had announced the formation of a revolutionary council to run Saigon.

South Vietnamese military headquarters reported street fighting in nine different places in the capital city of nearly 3 million people. A wall of tanks and armored personnel carriers surrounded the U.S. embassy, whose grounds the Viet Cong occupied for six hours Wednesday, and Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker's residence five blocks away.

The main gate of the big U.S.-South Vietnamese air base at Bien Hoa, 15 miles north of Saigon, was reported under heavy attack late this afternoon.

Sketchy reports from the area said large fires could be seen burning inside the base, but there were no details on the fighting. Aircraft still were landing and taking off at the field.

The Bien Hoa Air Base is one of the major allied air bases in South Vietnam.

Fighting was reported "extremely heavy" on the southern edges of Saigon, with "neither side giving an inch," one source said.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana also raised the possibility of more troops for both Vietnam and Korea.

Times Have Made Great Change In Everything

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please tell Sammy, the painter, that a painter is not the only man whose work enables him to classify the various types of aggressive housewives.

I am a clergyman, and believe it or not, I have as many opportunities as the painter.

I no longer call on women at their homes unless I take my wife with me. (She sits in another room, but it's good insurance against lusty ladies who would make improper overtures.)

And if a woman comes to my office in a mini-skirt, my secretary has instructions to follow her in and place a large shawl over the visitor's knees. And when my secretary departs, per my orders, she leaves the door wide open.

In bygone years, it was the man who aggressively pursued the woman, but today, most women are far bolder than men.

I am a grandfather, in my early sixties, and not particuarly handsome, but some of the propositions I have had from married sexpots would not be believed. Even by you, Dear Lady, who must have heard everything.

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR ABBY: Re your advice to the mother who was afraid to leave her children with Grandma because Grandma was such a poor driver: You suggested that she make Grandma promise not to take the children in the car with her before leaving them. I suspect that even if Grandma were to make such a promise she wouldn't keep it. Besides may I point out that if Grandma is as poor a driver as the mother said she was, it matters little whether she has the children in the car with her, or if they happen to be in the car with which Grandma has an accident.

I would suggest the mother write to the Driver's License Bureau at her State capitol, reporting Grandma's inability to drive. Grandma will then be asked to take a physical examination as well as a written examination, which includes questions with regard to judgment and traffic laws.

If Grandma passes these tests, then she is just as qualified to drive an automobile as anyone. If she fails, the reporter will have performed a public service by removing one more menace from the roads.

In case you are wondering why I am so familiar with this procedure, I reported GRANDPA in this manner, and now Grandpa doesn't drive anymore.

DID THE RIGHT THING
DEAR DID: This procedure may apply in your state, but I doubt if it applies in all — I think it should.

DEAR ABBY: Is there something wrong with me? People tell me I'm cute and have a good personality. I can get almost any boy I want, but the only boy I want is one who belongs to somebody else.

I know it isn't right, Abby, but that's the way it is. I have lost lots of girls friends by taking their boy friends away from them, but I can't help it. I can't get interested in a boy unless he's going with some other girl. Sometimes the boy isn't even especially cute, but I want him anyway, and once I get him I don't want him anymore. I guess I am just a born flirt. It's just my nature, so what can I do about it?

BORN FLIRT
DEAR FLIRT: You don't say how old you are, but if you are under 16, you may plead immaturity.

Hopefully, you'll soon realize that it's not the boy you want at all, it's the "challenge." Teen-age dating is a highly competitive game. But the "prize" when won on a competitive basis may turn out to be a loss instead of a victory, so grow up, and be a little more selective.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ANNIE MOUSE" IN ANDERSON: Yes, your husband's behavior is somewhat childish. But a 33-year-old man who has to sneak smokes behind his mother's back has enough problems without a wife nagging him. Lay off.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

FOR ABBY'S NEW BOOK-LET "WHAT TEEN-AGERS WANT TO KNOW," SEND $1.00 TO ABBY, BOX 69700, LOS ANGELES, CAL. 90069.

Totie Fields Likes To Design Ample Samples

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If you haven't heard of the elegant amply . . . or some similar trade-name . . . you soon will. Comedienne Totie Fields is determined that buxom ladies should have a line of dresses designed especially for them.

"Instead of sizes 40, 42, and so on, I'm going to design a line of dresses and call them Big 7, Roomy 9 or even 007 or 009. It will have a great psychological effect in plump women," she says.

Totie, an under-5-foot, buxom type herself, doesn't own a single dress without a gusset, an underarm insertion that provides a little extra fabric for the arms.

"There are many women in the United States who need the lift that a good dress line would provide, she explains. She gets about 3,000 fan letters a week. The majority come from plump women, who've seen her on a Mike Douglas, Ed Sullivan or Merv Griffin show.

"They identify with me. They write—'You make me feel so good . . . I had such a complex about my weight . . . I really don't mind being fat when I watch you,' and so on."

Real tears are in Totie's eyes when she describes her loyal fans.

" . . . You wouldn't believe the gifts . . . look I'm getting goose pimples talking about it . . . they send me handkerchiefs with hand tatting, medals, colognes . . . notes that say 'We hope that your stay in our town will be pleasant,' and so on . . . 'I don't know whom I'll approach about doing the dress line, but I'm serious. It will be a designer who is willing to design interesting clothes for overweight, and the fashions will not be black. I don't know where they got the idea that big women look thinner in black. I look just as fat in black as I do in orange and red," she says.

But older plump women often go berserk in choosing dress styles that are available, she points out.

"There is nothing more horrible than an over-age woman in a dress with a hemline at the middle of her thigh. The miniskirt is the greatest thing that ever happened to kids. Let's leave it there. The greatest thing that ever happened to plump women is the 'no waistline look'—nobody knows where it went."

Totie owns 150 pairs of shoes that have been bought to assuage her grief at times when she hasn't been able to find a dress that fits. She owns more than 100 pairs of gloves "just for carrying." She never removes the tie that binds the pair, she adds, pulling a pair out of her purse to illustrate the point.

"When I lose gloves, somebody finds a whole pair."

Totie was born Sophie Feldman in Hartford, Conn. She met her husband, George Johnson in Boston. She had been stage-struck since she was a toddler and began entertaining groups with the help of her sisters and brothers. After her marriage, and birth of two daughters, her husband encouraged her to try the big time in New York. Ed Sullivan spotted her at the Copacabana, invited her to be on his show and that was the beginning. She is now in the $10,000-a-week bracket, she says.

Miss Emily Thigpen Weds W. F. Booth

TURBEVILLE, S. C. — Miss Emily Kaye Thigpen and William Frederick Booth were united in marriage on Sunday, Jan. 21, at Horse Branch Free Will Baptist Church here.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Thigpen of Turbeville and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Booth of Ayden, N. C.

The Rev. Monroe Harrell of Pamlico, S. C., officiated at the double ring ceremony.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. William Blank, organist, and Len Coker, soloist of the bride, soloist. He sang "Whither Thou Goest" and as a closing prayer, "Seal Us, O Holy Spirit."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an empire gown of white satin embellished with applied lace medallions. The chapel train of chantilly lace was attached at the shoulders. Her tiered veil of imported silk illusion was edged with matching lace and she carried a prayer book covered with orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Linda Thigpen of Raleigh, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Grant Mangum of Raleigh, Misses Ellen and Katrina Thigpen of Turbeville, all sisters of the bride, and Miss Cathy Booth of Ayden, sister of the bridegroom.

The bridegroom's father served as best man. Ushers were Grant Mangum of Raleigh, brother-in-law of the bride, Pressley Thigpen, brother of the bride, and James and George Booth of Ayden, brothers of the bridegroom.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained at a reception at the American Legion Hut in Turbeville.

Will N.C. Support The Move Now?

Increased use of tax exempt local government bonds for financing industrial buildings have finally caused the Treasury Department to take a stand against the exempt status such bonds have enjoyed for a couple of decades.

It was only last year that North Carolina joined the long list of states which permit local governments to issue low-cost, tax exempt revenue bonds for financing buildings for business and industry. In passing the enabling act, supporters pointed to the fact that North Carolina must use this available tool in order to compete with other states in attracting new industries. At the same time, many supporters of the measure pledged their continued effort to help enact federal legislation which would remove the exempt status from such bonds issued in all states.

Now that the Treasury Department has placed its support behind federal legislation which would accomplish this end, we trust North Carolina will make good on its previous assertions that it would support such a move.

It is significant that in 1950 only $7 million of such bonds were issued. A decade later, in 1960, there were only $40 million of such tax-exempt bonds issued in various states for building industrial plants. In 1966, however, the amount of such bonds issued soared to $500 million. Last year these bonds were being floated by the states at a rate of more than a billion dollars worth a year. All things considered, that accounts for a considerable tax loss by the federal government and a corresponding increase in the portion of the tax load being carried by industries which do not enjoy the benefit of tax-exempt financing.

Obviously such widespread use of the tax exempt status for bonds for industrial construction will make it no easy task to gain passage of legislation removing that exemption. The federal subsidy to selected industries and to the economic development of selected localities will find ardent defenders in every state. If the tax exempt status is removed for all such industrial construction bonds, however, the communities, the states, the federal that cooperation between the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. run will be much better off.

GOP Primary Is Heating Up

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau
RALEIGH — The first Republican primary for governor in North Carolina on May 4, itself a political oddity, shows signs of producing a stirring and surprising campaign.

Already the contest between John L. (Jack) Stickle of Charlotte and Rep. James C. (Jim) Gardner of Rocky Mount, in its early stages, appears to have generated more heat than its dull, lackluster Democratic counterpart.

According to all reports, Stickle and Gardner supporters have been going at it hammer and tongs in key areas of GOP registration across the state. Each group is waging an all-out effort to establish and broaden its primary and pre-convention campaign organization among as may influential figures and voter groups as possible. Some fierce in-fighting has been reported.

has been pointed and plain enough to strike fire in Republican circles.

Two Factions
Unquestionably, Stickle and Gardner represent separate, well-defined factions within the GOP. Both, of course — if labels are considered — are conservative and both are critical of Democratic administrations both in Washington and in Raleigh.

But Stickle is the candidate of the GOP's "old guard" in North Carolina — the candidate favored by Rep. Charles Raper Jonas and perhaps by a majority of Jonas' followers in populous Piedmont districts. Since most of the state's Republican voter registration lies in the Piedmont, this would appear to put Gardner at a disadvantage.

In fact, many believe that Gardner, who ousted veteran Democrat Harold Cooley from Congress in 1966, met more than his match when he decided to challenge Stickle in an intra-party fight for the gubernatorial nomination.

Certainly Stickle showed no sign of giving up when Gardner announced and wet on his well-publicized airplane tour of the state. Stickle and his supporters stepped up their campaign and within a couple of weeks, the Charlotte businessman was the most active man on the political trails across North Carolina. Gardner's initial decision — thus far unchanged — was to fit his campaigning into a schedule of weekend recesses by Congress.

New Element
Gardner is considered to represent a "new element" in the Republican party in North Carolina. This may not be exactly a "young Turk" group but many veteran GOP'ers view it as such.

Gardner's appeal is to younger Republicans including many newcomers to the state. His political campaigning is vigorous, flamboyant and somewhat unorthodox especially in regard to party tradition and its way of doing things.

His decision to force a GOP primary for governor is a perfect example of this. He did so against the advice and urgings of many long-time party leaders. He ignored them.

No Encouragement In Poorly-Defined Terms

Words from the Kremlin report the Soviet view government and the industries themselves in the long is "inevitable" — someday.

Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, outlining his views for the editors of Life magazine, was quick to point out that any role his government might play in seeking a peaceful settlement of the Vietnam conflict would be on the Communists' terms. And he was no more specific than that "some day."

Encouraging words? Perhaps. But perhaps, too, Kosygin left much unsaid. That "some day" cooperation, he explained, would be on the basis of "the struggle for peace."

And as a news story pointed out, "The Communists often equate the 'struggle for peace' with the advance of communism."

Cooperation in a search for world peace by the two mightiest nations is desirable. It is vital. But it must not be based on ill-defined terms. And it cannot be based on mutual distrust.

Board Coming Back To Life

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Subversive Activities Control Board may be coming back to life after two dormant years, nourished by a law some senators had hoped would put it out of business.

The board scheduled its first hearing in New York for Monday in New York to explore the U. S. attorney general's contention that the W. E.B. DuBois Clubs of America are "substantially directed, dominated and controlled by the Communist party."

The DuBois organization asked for a delay in the hearing until Feb. 26 and it's expected to be granted.

There is a 38 per cent budget boost of $117,000 for the SACB in the spending program President Johnson has sent Congress, and it carries this explanation: "Increase will permit implementation of legislation enacted on Dec. 19, 1967."

That legislation provided the five-member agency with new Communist-spotting duties to supplant functions ruled unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

The board, 17 years old, was set up to identify and register Communists. But Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said in recent Senate debate on its future the agency "failed to register a single Communist in its vapid history."

The bill, empowering the board to hold hearings and declare groups to be Communist dominated or controlled, was proposed by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and sent to the Senate without hearings. Proxmire and a bloc of Senate liberals fought it for a week, then won adoption of an amendment requiring the agency to do something or expire.

It cleared Congress with a requirement that the board hold at least one hearing in the next year, and institute at least one proceeding, or face abolition.

The controversy surrounding the SACB wasn't limited to charges it didn't accomplish anything. Last year, President Johnson appointed Simon F. McHugh, husband of a former Johnson secretary, as a board member, with a $26,000 salary.

Opponents charged McHugh wasn't qualified for the job.

"For the sake of the American taxpayers and for all the American people, I hope the SACB will go out of business on June 30, 1969," Proxmire said as the measure passed the Senate.

He said the board has cost the taxpayers $5 million and has not accomplished a thing. The DuBois hearing would appear to fulfill at least half the conditions for the board's continuing existence holding at least one hearing.

But Proxmire said "it will fail totally to meet the requirement for the instituting of a proceeding," because the case was instituted in 1966.

He argued the hearing alone will not keep the board going, that it must come up with something new in 1968 or expire.

But Dirksen called the DuBois case a proceeding "that can run on and on."

"So the board is in business," he said.

MIGHTY MAN OF OLD

We wonder when the day of judgment arrives and the affairs of this life are closed out, what place crude but influential characters will hold.

Elijah was one of the great characters of Biblical history. He is one of the two men in which the Bible tell us did not pass through the experience of death — Enoch, who walked with God and was not, for God took him, and Elijah, who ascended into heaven in a chariot of fire. This Elijah was with Moses and Jesus on the mount of transfiguration, consulting with him about the death that Jesus would "accomplish" in Jerusalem.

Elijah saved Jehovah worship and exterminated Baal worship among the Israelites.

He lived in a crude age when only a small portion of the Bible had been written and when even the most outstanding of Hebrew leaders were coarse and barbaric.

The last two verses of the Old Testament predict that God will send Elijah before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the Lord. The New Testament explains that the reference made to Elijah was fulfilled in the coming of John the Baptist who, like the Tishbite, lived a humble life and was devoted in complete fidelity to his spiritual work. Or does this verse indicate reincarnation?

Elijah was literate, for he wrote a document in which he addressed a king of Judah, threatening him with divine judgment. The stature of the prophet Elijah increases with

Tuition Grants Changed

It probably will accomplish nothing for a Southern boy to comment on a fight that touches "segregation," but this ought to be said: The Supreme Court acted wrongly a couple of weeks ago, when it summarily trumped upon Louisiana's tuition grant law without hearing one word of argument in the law's defense.

Like many other things, the tuition grant concept is subject to abuse and to unconstitutional administration. This does not mean that the concept itself is unlawful. It is not. But the high court would not pause to hear the point debated. In its zeal to toss out the South's old bath water, washing its sins away, the court may have tossed out a promising baby too.

Admittedly, the tuition grant plan first devised in Virginia ten years ago was an instrument of the State's "massive resistance" to court-ordered integration of the public schools. The idea was to make it possible for white children to trot off to all-white "private" schools, while colored children remained in public schools. The idea was to maintain segregated education and whether the plan was "ingenious or ingenious," as the high court once remarked in another context, it was state action in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment.

All right. The overlooked point is that the Virginia law was completely rewritten in 1960. Like the blind sow stumbling upon the acorn, Virginia discovered that she had hit an educational concept of great utility, novelty and promise. Every vestige of racial motivation was rooted from the law. Louisiana subsequently followed Virginia's lead with a generally similar program of her own; it is this Louisiana statute that a three-judge Federal court voided in August. And now the Supreme Court, per curiam, has affirmed that decree.

This is a pity; for properly administered, without discrimination of any sort, a plan of State Scholarships, or State tuition grants, has much to commend it. Such a program rests upon this salutary premise, that a State's valid interest in a child lies in the child's education — not necessarily in his "public education," but simply in his education, period. So long as certain minimum standards are met, dealing with basic curriculum, days of schooling and the like, the State stands indifferent. The object is to educate the child, and toward that end the State is prepared to expend public funds; but within limits, the how and the where of that education are not the State's concern.

Thus Virginia says to each parent, in effect: You have a right to have your child enrolled in a public elementary or secondary school in your county or city. But if you should elect, for rea-

A Desk With Debris

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — From where I sit I can see a fellow white collar slave cleaning off his desk.

He has thrown all the papers that were on it into a wastebasket. He is mopping the top with a moist dust cloth, and his face is flushed with a rapt expression of self-virtue.

And I know that in a few moments, dust cloth still in hand, he will stroll over here, look at me accusingly and demand:

"Why don't you clean off your desk? You've got it so cluttered you're giving the city dump a bad name."

He thinks I will look guilty and make excuses for the fact that, over the years, my desk has come to look something like the Augean stables during a tornado. But I'm not going to apologize to him at all. I'm going to make a speech to him.

And this is what I am going to say:

"Friend, half the troubles in this world are caused by people who insist on trying to lead other people's lives for them.

"Because you have just finished cleaning off your desk, you smugly assume that I should clean off my desk, too. I don't feel that way at all.

"To keep a clean desk doesn't require any special skill or indicate any particular merit. By rewarding him with a free banana now and then, you could teach a chimpanzee to do it.

"In my opinion a clean desk is often the sign of a frightened mind. By massaging your desk top you are perhaps trying to wash away your own feelings of inferiority or seeking to get another gold star on your office report card. Now that you have cleaned off your desk, why don't you complete the job by jumping into the wastebasket yourself, thus giving your desk a chance to start life over with a new pilot?

"His work should be a man's monument. Your desk right now is like a tombstone without an inscription on it. It could belong to anybody. It has no character, no identity.

"My desk, on the other hand, is a testimonial to 30 or more years of fruitful living. This pile — be careful, it may topple over and suffocate you — may look like mere debris to you. To me, however, layer by lovely layer, it represents the geological strata of a happy work life.

"Every time you polish your desk you throw away part of your life. Well, I love life, and I think no part of it should be carelessly discarded. Who is to say, after all, what is important? The paper or pamphlet I might consider throwing away today — such as this one on the odd courtship habits of the porcupine — may turn out tomorrow to be the one I most desperately need.

"Now, please stuff that dust cloth into your mouth and go back to your neat and empty desk. I've got to start earning my daily bread."

Shows Greenville Hub Of Eastern North Carolina

A map recently prepared by H. L. Rivers, local engineer, for the Merchants Association shows conclusively that Greenville is the hub of Eastern North Carolina and situated in the center of a population of approximately a million persons. The map shows Greenville as the center of the east and gives the distance to all other cities in the section. A check up of the population of the counties included in the territory within a fifty mile and a hundred mile radius if Greenville there are over 400,000 persons while within the hundred mile radius there are approximately a million. With seven hard surface roads leading to and from Greenville in all directions business houses here believe that Greenville will continue to grow as the shopping and distributing center of eastern North Carolina. . . .

GNP Prediction Proved Close

By ELMER ROESSNER

In this department's business forecast for Jan. 1, 1967, it said: "The gross national product . . . will probably reach the $800 billion rate by the end of 1967."

The Department of Commerce now estimates that the GNP reached an annual rate of $807.5 billion in the last quarter of 1967, making the forecast within 1 per cent of perfect. The GNP for the whole year was $785 billion. Old Promoter Has Plan To Raise Taxes

Wunderbar von Garfinkel, the Old Promoter, dropped in today to tell about his almost-painless plan for raising taxes. "It can get President Johnson out of the bind he's in, or it can be used by states and cities," he said.

"It's to place a $250-a-year tax on men with beautiful wives. All a man would have to do to escape the tax would be to file an affidavit swearing that his wife is not beautiful. How many husbands would do that?"

It would not be a painless tax, exactly. Consider the husband who tells his wife he has just filed an affidavit for exemption.

Once It Was Pigs.

Now It Is Beavers

When your columnist was a young reporter in San Francisco, he was assigned to investigate a hog-selling scheme. Promoters were selling sows for $50 under an agreement to breed them and raise the young for half of the piglets. And, they said, because hogs multiplied so fast, in six months the buyer would count of a simple youth who kept visiting the hog salesman and asking simple questions, such as whether I would have to name my pigs or would they do it for me, could I visit them, and where would people live when I had six million pigs in the state?

The stories made the pig business the laughing stock of the city. Anybody who invested was regarded by friends as simple as I, and the big sellers quietly left town.

Now the Securities and Exchange Commission is looking into the sale of beavers, which the seller agrees to raise for the buyers to his great profit. The SEC has asked for a court ruling declaring that the beaver contracts are securities and therefore under its jurisdiction.

Next time around, the promoters will be selling mink.

Ten From Pitt Win Academic Honors At U.

RALEIGH—Chancellor John T. Caldwell has announced that nine men and one woman from Pitt County have won academic honors at N. C. State University during the fall semester.

The 10 Pitt County students, among 1,557 on the list, ranked in the top 14 percent of NCSU's enrollment of 10,800.

They earned an average of "B" or better in demanding courses ranging from aerospace engineering to textile chemistry.

Their names, classes, courses, parents and addresses are: GREENVILLE:

Zeno R. Allen, a senior in economics, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Allen of Rt. 1.

Robert T. Buck, a senior in product design, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Buck of 1209 N. Pitt St.

Patrick G. Hatcher, a sophomore in chemistry, son of Mr. and Mrs. P.E. Hatcher of 1955 E. 3rd St.

Ginger A. Lewis, a freshman in applied mathematics, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Lewis of Rt. 6.

Larry J. Roberts, a sophomore in zoology, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Roberts Jr., of 716 E. Mumford Rd.

William H. Worsley, a sophomore in aerospace engineering, son of Mr. and Mrs. F.H. Worsley of 1412 N. Overlook.

Others include: Benjamin C. Burch, a freshman in applied mathematics, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Burch of St. Joseph St., Grifton.

George A. Corbett, a sophomore in aerospace engineering, son of Mr. Randolph Corbett of 500 Colonial Ave., Ayden.

Cecil L. Eason Jr., a sophomore in politics, son of Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Eason of 205 S. George St., Farmville.

Perry F. McLawhorn, a junior in textile chemistry, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.P. McLawhorn of Rt. 1, Winterville.

James D. Mobley, a sophomore in mechanical engineering, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Mobley of 203 Academy St., Winterville.

Point To 1980's Big Population

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — By 1980 world population will exceed 4.25 billion, and three-quarters of the total will live in developing countries, a U.N. report says.

The report prepared by the UN Secretariat estimated world population at 3.3 billion in mid-1965.

Kilpatrick Col. . . .

(Continued From Page 4) sons of your own, to educate your child in some other approved non-sectarian institution, you are free to take your share of the educational appropriation in the form of a tuition grant.

The program has not been a big thing in Virginia, in terms of grants approved or money spent. Last year only 12,800 children (out of more than a million of school age) elected to take the grants. Records are not kept racially, but the figure is known to include hundreds of Negro pupils. The program represented an outlay of $2,908,000, against $550 million for public education generally.

Some of the pupils who obtained grants were retarded children, who used the grants to go to special schools. Some grants went to families who wished to send their children to private schools outside the State. Many of the grants went to families, living close to a county line, who wanted the convenience of sending their children to a nearer school in the adjoining jurisdiction. And yes, the bulk of the grants went to white children whose parents desired, not necessarily for racial reasons, to send them to a school other than the local public school.

The tuition grant program has provoked great hostility in Virginia among public school people. They see it as a threat, however minute at the moment, to their public aspect of the plan—this school monopoly. Yet this aspect of the plan—this competitive spur—is a useful incentive toward keeping public schools on their toes. All these elements figure in the picture, but the court would not look. Where's the case from? Louisiana? Out with it. It's a poor way to preserve the federal system.

Nebraska has more than 5,500 miles of railroad tracks in the state.

Opening lead: King of ♥
A persistent assault on his trump holding, combined with an adverse division in the suit, threatened South's five diamond contract. In order to sever the opponents' line of communications and disrupt their attack, he found it necessary to borrow a page from the defense's own book.

West opened the king of hearts and continued with the queen which South ruffed. There appeared to be little more to the deal than to drive out the ace of trumps, for declarer was solid in the other suits. He, therefore, led the king of diamonds and, when this was permitted to hold, he continued with the queen.

West showed out on the second round discarding a heart and East ducked again. South was now obliged to abandon the trump suit temporarily for, if he led the jack which was his only remaining diamond, East would play the ace and return a heart for his partner to cash the setting trick. A fourth round of hearts would then dislodge dummy's last trump and thereby establish East's seven diamonds.

When the queen of diamonds held, declarer crossed over to the ace of spades and ruffed a heart with the jack of diamonds. Dummy was reentered with the jack of clubs to lead the nine of diamonds, South's only hope was that, when East got in with the ace, he had no more hearts to return.

East played the ace of trumps and, fortunately for his opponent, he was unable to force out the nine of diamonds with another round of hearts. He shifted to a spade and South played the king, entered dummy with the ace of clubs, to pull the last trump and claimed the balance.

Faculty To Have Institute Roles

CHAPEL HILL — Three members of the East Carolina University faculty will participate in the 1968 Institute in Education Media for College and University of North Carolina campus here.

Participating in the two-day orientation period from ECU are M. Lee Bennett, Carlton R. Benz and Mrs. Thadys J. Dewar.

Sponsored by the Bureau of Audio-Visual Education, under the direction of Ken McIntyre, the Institute is financed by a grant from the Higher Education Branch of the United States Office of Education.

The institute's main purpose is to help college faculties learn how to make better use of educational media in their teaching at the undergraduate level. It is designed to provide an overview of the applications of educational technology to higher education.

The 30 applicants, selected from college faculties and libraries statewide, will participate in the orientation period this weekend, view a series of 14 related television programs on the University's educational television network, and return to the campus for two more in-training sessions later this spring.

Playhouse Staging 'Romeo And Juliet'

The East Carolina University Playhouse is presenting Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet" on the stage of McGinnis Auditorium Feb. 9-13.

This is the third of five productions this season. The theater series is sponsored annually by the Student Government Association.

Tickets are available at $2 each beginning Monday, Feb. 5 at the Central Ticket Office in Wright Auditorium. The University offers tickets at half-price to high school groups of 20 or more.

Two of the Playhouse's most outstanding performers have the title roles. Jane Barrett of Washington plays Juliet, Richard Bradner of Greenville is cast as Romeo.

The entire cast of 23 students is directed by Edgar R. Loessin. Assisting him is Mavis Ray as choreographer, John Sneden as set designer, George Schreiber as lighting director and Mary Stephenson as customer.

The members of the cast include the following:
PITT COUNTY, Greenville—Richard Bradner, Romeo, son of Mr. and Mrs. C.J. Bradner, 113 N. Library St.; and Jim Fleming, Friar Lawrence and Sampson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Louis Fleming, 605 Elm St.

Boy, 13, Ready For War Duty

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — A 13-year-old Albuquerque boy has written President Johnson volunteering for the armed services in Vietnam.

Anthony Maeastas said he wrote the President after his cousin, Army Pfc. Juan H. Martinez, Jr., was killed in action near Saigon Jan. 6.

White House aide Whitney Shoemaker answered the boy's letter. "President Johnson was touched by your determination to join the armed forces," Shoemaker wrote, "but you can justify your cousin's sacrifice more effectively by finishing your education first."

NO VISAS NEEDED
NEW YORK (UPI)—American tourists visiting Bulgaria for more than 24 hours and less than two months will not need a visa this year, according to the Bulgarian Tourist Office in New York.

Hoover On The Primary Ballot

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Herbert Hoover will be on the ballot in the Republican presidential primary election March 12.

Herbert F. Hoover, 44, of Oskaalosa, Iowa, is a nephew of the late president Herbert Hoover.

The younger Hoover says he is a "peace positivist" candidate and recommends immediate, and unilateral if necessary, cease-fire in Vietnam. He says this would be linked with an elimination of "the appeal of communism by destroying the conditions it thrives on."

Post Office Defers Plan For Anti-Smoking Signs

Economy . . .

The aim, said the council, will be "to attempt to reach some consensus on appropriate general standards to guide private price and wage decisions."

Johnson's report was the last of three major presidential messages sent annually to a new session of Congress. Its demand for approval of the proposed $10.2 billion surtax, to become effective April 1 for individuals and retroactive to Jan. 1 for corporations, was delivered in even stronger terms than in the State of the Union and budget messages.

But Johnson never mentioned a threat of price or wage ceilings. And his council used such terms as "folly," "repugnant," "arbitrary," and "clumsy" in rejecting direct controls.

In his own 11,000-word portion of the message, the President:

—Vowed anew not to devalue the dollar. The U.S. commitment to maintain gold at $35 an ounce is firm and clear, he said, adding:

"We will not be a party to raising its price. The dollar will continue to be kept as good as or better than gold."

—Asked speedy action by Congress to erase the requirement that the bulk of the gold stock remain frozen as a currency reserve. Freeing it for sale to maintain the $35 price, Johnson said, will demonstrate U.S. readiness to meet its commitments.

—Reiterated his Jan. 1 directives to close the balance-of-payments deficit, urging Americans to postpone travel outside the Western Hemisphere for two years.

—Denounced the movement in Congress to impose import quotas on steel and a score of other products. This would be "retreating into shortsighted protectionism," Johnson said, and would bring swift retaliation against U.S. goods, thus penalizing all Americans.

"Protectionism is no answer to our balance-of-payments problem," the President added. "Its solution depends on expanding world trade."

—To the latter end, Johnson announced he shortly will send Congress legislation to extend unused tariff-cutting authority and take other steps toward freer trade.

Although the message referred only briefly to the proposed labor-management no-strike pledge, the advisers' companion report noted the steel industry presents a current threat to the payments balance.

Steel users are buying heavily as a hedge against a possible strike when the wage contract expires July 31, and some are placing orders overseas to insure delivery. The forthcoming bulge in steel imports, said the advisers, is a threat to efforts to reduce the payments deficit.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The smoke hasn't yet cleared, but North Carolina congressmen defending their state's cigarette industry may have won a battle but lost the war over anti-smoking posters for mail trucks.

At issue are 55,000 posters that say "100,000 doctors have quit smoking cigarettes. (Maybe they know something you don't.)"

Federal officials backed down Wednesday and said the cigarette health warning posters would not be attached to the nation's U.S. mail trucks this week as scheduled. The matter was referred "for further study."

But it was apparent that the delay likely will be only a matter of days.

Public Health Service and the Post Office Department spokesmen explained the delay is to allow the addition of an adhesive-taped addition to the bottom of the posters.

The addition, now being printed, will explain the figure is an "estimate based on surveys by National Opinion Research Center and Public Health Service."

The barrage of protests from "some of the more interested congressmen" was the reason given for the delay.

Leading the protests were North Carolina's two senators, Sam Ervin Jr. and B. Everett Jordan, both Democrats. Reps. Horace Kornegay and L. H. Fountain, both D-N.C. also had protested.

Ervin also made a Senate speech Wednesday in which he denounced recent studies conducted by the Federal Trade Commission listing tar and nicotine content of 59 brands of cigarettes.

The FTC figures were "highly suspect on the basis of test methods," Ervin said and were reported "in such a way that they are misleading and confusing to anybody but a Ph.D. in physics."

In telegrams to President Johnson, the secretary of health, education and welfare and the U.S. postmaster general, Ervin said display of the posters on the mail trucks would be a scare tactic.

"It is not the function of the federal government to attempt to brainwash the American people concerning their personal habits in respect to smoking or anything else," he said.

Two Collisions Here Yesterday

An estimated $600 property damage was reported by Greenville police in two traffic collisions here yesterday.

Officers said heaviest damage resulted in a collision about 6:10 p.m. at the intersection of N.C. 11 and the Belvoir Rd. which involved cars driven by William Earl Jackson, 32, of 104 Woodside Dr., and Peter C. Katzburg, 21, of Plainview, N.Y.

Officers, who placed damage to each of the cars at $200, charged Katzburg with failing to yield the right of way.

Officers said Walter Michael Lee, 20, of LeGrange was charged with operating under the influence following investigation of a 9:50 p.m. mishap on 10th Street, 100 feet East of the Cotanche Street intersection.

Officers said the Lee vehicle went out of control and collided with a utility pole, causing an estimated $200 damage to the car.

A passenger in the vehicle reportedly received minor injuries in the mishap.

Minor Injuries In Bus Accident

BURLINGTON, N. C. (AP)—Thirteen high school pupils received minor injuries Wednesday when their school bus overturned on Highway 62, two miles north of Burlington.

Patrolman E. W. Clemmons said the bus, carrying students from Williams High School, went into a ditch after the driver made a sudden right turn onto the shoulder of the road.

Mexico Moves To Bar Hippies

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexican authorities are moving to block an invasion of foreign hippies following rumors that a world convention of "flower children" is planned for Cuernavaca or Acapulco.

The Interior Ministry ordered immigration officials to keep the hippies out of the country.

FLOOD'S TOLL

AKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Floods in central Java have killed 100 persons, washed away more than 100 homes and ruined more than 15,000 acres of rice, the official news agency Antara reported today.

Mrs. Pace Is Guest Speaker

Mrs. Charles Pace was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Senior Citizens Club Thursday morning at the Elm Street Recreation Center.

Mrs. Pace spoke on the customs of The Netherlands. She made some comparisons of the schools and churches in The Netherlands with those in the United States. She explained the great system of dykes.

Mrs. Pace showed the wooden shoes she wore as a child in The Netherlands. The speaker showed slides of the people, clothing and historical sites in The Netherlands.

Demonstratoin By Judo Team

The basics of self-defense will be demonstrated Saturday at 7:45 p.m. in the Old Austin Auditorium on the campus of East Carolina University.

The Bob Jones University Judo Team will present the age old theory of mind over body in the gentle art of Judo. This unusual combination of judo and the gospel will be sponsored by the Free Will Baptist Area-Wide Youth Rally.

The theory that there is no difference between the secular and the sacred has led the team on tours throughout the country. It has also been featured in several nationally distributed magazines for their unique program.

Bob Jones, the school these boys attend, is the largest interdenominational liberal arts school in American with an enrollment of 3,500 students hailing from every state in the Union and many foreign countries. The students can receive outstanding training in the fields of Cinema, drama, education, business, Fine Arts and religion.

There is no admission charge for this performance.

Two Tar Heels Killed In Action

The scouts visiting included: Billy Tucker, Tregg Lassiter, Cleo Oakley, Ray Kilpatrick, Donald Duval, Alex King, Keith Spain and David James. The group was accompanied by Mrs. Jenny Kilpatrick.

Hope Gone For 121 Submariners

TOULON, France (AP)—The search continued today for the missing French submarine Minerve and hundreds of miles away for Israel's submarine Dakar, but hope was abandoned for the 121 men aboard the two vessels.

A fleet of rescue ships still hunted in the Mediterranean off Toulon for the Minerve and her crew of 52. The submarine failed to report on schedule Saturday.

Israeli navy officers in Tel Aviv said the search for the Dakar, missing near Cyprus since Thursday, would continue "until we are certain there is no chance of finding her."

PORTSMOUTH, N.H., was originally referred to as "Strawberry Banke."

Contractors To Meet In Durham

DURHAM — Painting and Decorating Contractors from North and South Carolina will be meeting in Durham this week-end.

A. B. Whitley, Jr. of Greenville, president of the two-state Carolinas Council of the Painting and Decorating Contractors of America, said in making the announcement, "we look forward to holding our 19th Annual Convention in Durham, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday."

The Durham Chapter of PDCA is host to the Convention.

The top executive of the National Organization, Glen Craven, will be the featured speaker on Friday afternoon. He will conduct a Workshop on the PDCA Business Manual from 2:00 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. and follow with an address: Progress Depends on Continuous Action.

PDCA, in which he will point up major issues confronting the local, Council and National levels of the industry.

A second out-of-town guest will be H. "Pat" Patrick of Columbus, Nebraska, who is Secretary - Treasurer of the Southern Council of PDCA.

President A. B. Whitley stated some 250 people are expected to attend the three-day Convention held at the Jack Tar Hotel February 2nd through 4th.

NO INSPECTION

MANILA (UPI)—Under new regulations, American tourists do not have to fill out baggage declaration forms and their luggage is exempt from customs inspections in the Philippines.

BUILDING FUNDS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pembroke State College, N. C., will receive a $171,667 grant from the Office of Education to build a new classroom building. Sen. B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., announced Wednesday.

Allsbrook . . .

tion, said that it is of utmost importance that the Eastern part of North Carolina be linked to the Piedmont and Western sections of this State by a modern super highway.

In the field of education, Allsbrook, together with other members of the Senate, introduced the original bill seeking to establish university status for East Carolina College which was finally accomplished through legislation establishing four regional universities within the State, of which East Carolina University is now a part.

He is one of the 17 members of the Governor's Public School Study Commission which will make available to the 1969 General Assembly recommendations seeking to improve the public school system of this State. He lists this as one of the principal objectives sought by him in the next General Assembly since it directly affects 1,250,000 boys and girls attending the public schools in the State.

Sen. Allsbrook attended the University of North Carolina where he served as president of the Student Body. He is the permanent vice-president of his graduating class. At Carolina, he also was a member of the Order of the Golden Fleece and the Order of the Grail. He has served as a city commissioner in Roanoke Rapids and on the city school board for ten years.

In 1965, the Distinguished Service Citation for that year was conferred upon him by the North Carolina Public Health Association for the greatest contribution to public health by a North Carolina citizen outside the public health field.

In the 1965 and 1967 sessions of the General Assembly, he served as chairman of Senate Judiciary I Committee and is now serving as chairman of the Legislative Study Commission on Rules of Civil Procedure. He has served one or more times on practically every major committee of the State Senate, including the committees on Finance and Appropriations.

ECU Delegates Selected For National Model UN

For the first time this year East Carolina University delegates have been selected to debate in the National Model United Nations which convenes in New York City in mid-February.

Four ECU students were picked to sit on the Model UN's Economic and Social Council. They are Michael John Conley of Greenville, George R. Francis Jr. of Fuquay-Varina, David Richard Lloyd of Raleigh and Michael Reid Overcash of Roxboro.

The national student assembly, patterned after the real UN, will open its 1968 session on Wednesday, Feb. 14, and adjourn Sunday, Feb. 18. ECU's delegates will debate world food problems, the population explosion and uses of outer space for economic and social purposes.

When they arrive in New York and set up headquarters at the Statler-Hilton Hotel, they will be given an official briefing by the United States mission to the UN.

The legend of the Fountain of Youth led to the discovery of Florida by Juan Ponce de Leon, Spanish Governor of Puerto Rico at that time.

High Point Outhustles Pirates For 83-77 Win

Foul Shots Spell Difference In Game

HIGH POINT — High Point College spoiled the homecoming of East Carolina University Coach Tom Quinn last night with an 83-77 victory over the Bucs.

Quinn, who came to East Carolina from High Point two years ago, watched his Pirates get outhustled and outhot at the foul line, in their first appearance in the Panthers' den. High Point made numerous steals of the ball, and refused to foul to get away with the victory.

In the second half, the Panthers committed only four fouls, while the Pirates were giving High Point 15 chances to go to the line. It was these foul shots that enabled the Panthers to take the victory.

East Carolina had a better shooting percentage from both the floor and the line, and outscored the Panthers from the floor, 64-62, but High Point made good on 21 of 28 foul shots as compared to 13 of 16 for the Bucs. East Carolina also outrebounded the Panthers.

High Point got its big boost at the start of the second half, outscoring the Pirates, 10-2, in the first five minutes, gaining a six-point lead. East Carolina inched back in front, but the ballhawking of the Panthers quickly shot the lead away again.

East Carolina opened the game with an eight point spurt before High Point hit. Jim Modlin hit two, while Vince Colbert dropped in one and Charlie Alford got another. But a free throw and a basket by Steve Tatgenhorst and a jumper by Jim Colbert, a cousin of Vince, cut the lead back to three.

After a foul shot by Tom Miller, Tatgenhorst hit again to make it 9-7, a two-point lead by the Bucs.

The two teams swapped baskets for the next four minutes, until Alford hit a jumper and Modlin followed with a field goal for a 15-9 lead. But High Point fought back, cutting the lead to 18-16 on a three point play by Eugene Littles. Alford hit on a three-point play to return the lead to five, and it stayed there until Jim Colbert got a basket and a free throw to cut the lead to 23-21.

Modlin hit on a three-pointer to push the lead back to 26-21, but two free throws by Jim Colbert and another outside jumper by him sliced the lead back to one at 26-25.

Earl Thompson hit for the Bucs from the corner, but Tatgenhorst followed with a layup and Jim Colbert hit on a free throw to tie it at 28-28 with 4:41 left.

Bob Lindfelt put the Bucs back on top with a charity shot, but Danny Witt got loose underneath to give the lead to High Point, 30-29. Modlin and Witt exchanged baskets to switch the lead back and forth, and then Alford tied it up with a foul shot. Lindfelt hit four straight from the line to push the Bucs out to a 36-32 lead and they held the margin for a 40-36 at the half.

Then, as the second half opened, High Point charged ahead. After the Bucs took a 42-37 lead, Whitt and Colbert both hit on jumpers, and Tatgenhorst made a free throw to tie it up with 15:40 left. Littles scored on a drive for a 44-42 lead and then made good on two free throws 30 seconds later, making it 46-42.

A minute later, Ron Horney hit on two free throws to push the margin to six at 50-44. Thompson and Alford cut the lead back to two, at 50-48, but High Point pulled away again with Witt and Tatgenhorst hitting for a 58-51 lead.

Thompson, Lindfelt and Kier then combined to pull the Bucs back to within one, and then Thompson put East Carolina ahead again 59-58 with 8:15 left.

But the Panthers couldn't be stopped. Tatgenhorst hit from under and was fouled on the play, making it 61-59. In the next 30 seconds, High Point got two more quick baskets on steals, one by Horney on a rebound and the other by Witt as he drove in after stealing it to push the lead to 65-59. That was it as far as the eventual outcome was concerned.

East Carolina cut it back to two at 65-63, but two buckets and a free throw pushed it to 70-63 with 4:29 left. Littles then got a three-point play for a 75-67 lead with 3:00 showing for the biggest Panther lead of the night. The closest the Bucs came in the remaining time was four points, but they were unable to get the ball away from the Panthers to pull back even.

Tatgenhorst led High Point with 24 points, while Littles had 17 and Colbert and Witt each had 16.

Thompson led East Carolina with 18, with Alford hitting 16 and Modlin getting 14.

The Pirates remain on the road, traveling to meet Florida State on Saturday. They return home Wednesday to meet Richmond in a Southern Conference game.

Carolina To Get Tough Test Against Seminoles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Carolina's Tar Heels put their 10-game winning streak and No. 3 national ranking to the test tonight with a home battle against the high-scoring Seminoles of Florida State.

The Seminoles have a 12-4 record and have topped the 100-point mark five times this season. Their attack revolves around 6-foot-8 Dave Cowens, a sophomore.

North Carolina Coach Dean Smith realizes the challenge and says Florida State "undoubtedly is pointing for this game as a means of earning a bid to either the NCAA or NIT tournaments."

Florida State, rated a top independent in the South, blitzed Louisiana State and the Tigers' heralded Pete Maravich 130-100 on a neutral court early in the season.

North Carolina ran its record to 12-1 at Charlotte Coliseum last Saturday night with an 82-54 victory over Georgia Tech, at home to Clemson tonight in Atlanta.

Clemson won only its second Atlantic Coast Conference game of the season Tuesday night by defeating Wake Forest 70-67. The Tigers are 3-10 over-all and have the ACC's top scorer in Butch Zatezalo.

Georgia Tech has troubles with injuries this season and Clemson is in a rebuilding year. Last year, the Yellow Jackets whipped the Tigers 88-77.

Once conference game also is on tonight's schedule with Duke traveling to Virginia. The Duke Bue Devils, ranked No. 9 in the nation this week, lost a squeaker to South Carolina 83-80 Tuesday night in Columbia, S.C.

A victory tonight would give Duke a tie with South Carolina for second place in the ACC standings. Duke is 4-2 and the Gamecocks are 5-2. North Carolina holds top place with a 4-0 mark.

Duke bombed Virginia 103-61 in a home game Dec. 13. The Cavaliers are 3-3 in the ACC.

Air Force Rounds Out ECU Tournament Field

Air Force Academy has accepted an invitation to participate in the East Carolina University holiday basketball tournament next December, completing the eight-team field.

The Falcons join William & Mary, Delaware, Cornell, Virginia, Virginia Tech, and Baylor, along with the host team, East Carolina. The tournament is scheduled for December 26, 27, 28 at Mingos Coliseum.

President Leo Jenkins, who conceived the idea of the tournament, said after the field was completed, "I know this will become one of the finest sports festivals in the nation."

Besides the basketball tournament, we will also have an invitational swimming meet; and among other things, a sportsman's breakfast. As time goes on, other events will be added to broaden the scope of the festival.

Judges are currently in the process of judging a contest to pick a name for the tournament and as soon as that is completed, tickets will be presented and go on sale.

"The coaching staff as well as the team look forward to participating in the tournament," said Coach Bob Spear of the Falcons. "We hope to live up to the standards of the other fine representatives in the tournament."

"I figure we'll be stronger next season since we don't lose a player who is currently playing for us. I'm also looking forward to returning to North Carolina."

Coach Tom Quinn of East Carolina, who headed the Selection Committee, said he has been extremely pleased with the response to the tournament and already is making plans to line up the field for the second event in 1969. "We were fortunate, indeed, to get such an outstanding field for our first tournament," Quinn said. "Schedule making being what it is now, most teams are booked in tournaments two and three years in advance."

Geographically, the tournament field touches every area of the country except the Mid-West and the far West. Delaware is a member of the Mid-Atlantic Conference and Virginia Tech and Air Force are Independents.

Miller Picked For East-West

AYDEN—Paul Miller, quarterback for Ayden's Class A Eastern Champions, has added another honor to his long list.

Miller, an All-East, and All-State selection, has been chosen as a member of the East team for the East-West Football Game to be played in Greensboro on August 1, 1968.

The southpaw thrower led Ayden to the Eastern Championship titles in the past two years. For the past three years, he has led or helped to lead the Tornados to unbeaten seasons.

Some Humor Sparks Smiles As Pros Complete Two Days Of Grid Drafts

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — There is a certain giddiness that overtakes pro football people after more than 22 hours spread over two days of drafting the nation's top collegiate players.

The chuckles came in bunches as representatives of the National and American Leagues completed their 17 rounds of drafting Tuesday night.

There was Minnesota scoring a thigh-slapper by picking Larry Kubarich, a defensive back from Boston College, in the 16th round. If that name is familiar, it's because Larry's father, Joe, is the general manager-coach of the rival Philadelphia Eagles.

Cincinnati, utilizing one of its 42 choices, picked Miami's Joe Mira, described as the little brother of George, the San Francisco quarterback. But, of course, it's Joe, a flanker, stands 6-foot and weighs 185 pounds, somewhat bigger than brother George.

The New York Giants gave club football a huge boost when they selected Ken Parker of Fordham University as a defensive back on the 16th go-round.

Fordham, of course, dropped varsity football some 13 years ago but went back to the sport on a club level a few years back. Parker is the first player to be drafted since the school resumed football.

There is, however, a catch. Parker is a basketball player and not listed on the Fordham football squad.

Dallas delved into the basketball market too, picking West Virginia's Ron Williams in the 14th round and listing him as a defensive back.

The Cowboys also won the distance championship for a pick, selecting tackle Larry Cole of Hawaii in the 16th round. "I'd love the assignment to go down and recruit him," cracked a Dallas official.

There was a predictable late-round squabble when Philadelphia announced the selection of defensive back Jim Scott from Arizona in the 17th round and Cincinnati howled that he was the same player the Bengals had picked in the 11th round as Wally Scott.

A quick check revealed that Jim and Wally were one and the same so the Eagles substituted Joe Forzani, a Utah State line-backer, for the final choice.

Earlier, Buffalo had created a fuss when it announced the selection of Memphis State tackle Chuck De Vleighter in the 13th round, then hurriedly withdrew the pick and substituted Dan Darragh, a William and Mary quarterback.

The Bills had learned, almost as soon as they originally announced De Vleighter's choice, that he had a bad knee and was a medical question mark.

When they came right back with him in the next round, one wag remarked, "He must have had an operation between phone calls."

Most of the big names were gone when the teams swung into the final 12 rounds of drafting Tuesday.

Heisman Trophy winner Gary Beban of UCLA had been plucked in the second round by Los Angeles after linemen headed by Southern California's Ron Yary and Tennessee's Bob Johnson had dominated the early selections. Minnesota made Yary the No. 1 choice and Cincinnati chose Johnson right after the Vikings opened the draft Monday.

Miami grabbed Kim Hammond, Florida State's quarterback, and sprinter Jimmy Hines, listed as a flanker from Texas Southern Tuesday. Cincinnati took Dewey Warren, Tennessee's quarterback, Cleveland grabbed Notre Dame defensive back Tom Schoen and Detroit picked up Oklahoma linebacker Granville Liggins.

Tuesday's 12 rounds lasted exactly 11 hours, making the two-day total 22 hours, 43 minutes compared to 21:39 last year. A total of 462 players were selected by the 26 pro teams.

Rose Wrestlers Lose To Cards

Jacksonville High School gained a 30-17 victory over Rose High School's Phantoms last night.

Jacksonville had taken an early lead in the meet, but Rose had come back in the middle classes to tie it up at 17-17, but the 4-A Cardinals swept the final three matches, two of them by pins, to take the meet.

Tonight, the Phants travel to New Bern to meet the Bears.

Summary:
97-pound class: Fred Mitchell (J) defeated Glenn Nichols, 13-0.
105: Dean Wilkerson (R) defeated David Small, 1-0.
114: Ron Williams (R) defeated Larry Melts, 4-2.

122: Fred Key (J) decisioned Jackie Speight, 2-0.
129: Chuck Lollar (J) decisioned Tom Trevathan, 4-0.
135: Carl Larsen (J) decisioned Kevin Price, 3-0.
140: Frank Saunders (R) decisioned Jerry Bullock, 14-7.
147: Keith Sims (J) pinned Chuck Brown, 3-48.
156: Kyle Hodges (R) decisioned Brady Grubbs, 5-1.
167: Steve Williams (R) pinned Danny Foster, 4-52.
182: Joe Tkach (J) decisioned Tommy Bland, 15-7.
199: Bill Watts (J) pinned Duke Clarke, 5-40.
Unlimited: Curt Pruitt (J) pinned Richard Tucker, 2-47.

Buc Tankers Host To Tough Florida

East Carolina University's swimming Pirates are still looking for their first victory over powerful Florida as the Gators invade Mingus Coliseum's Natatorium tonight at 8 p.m.

The two teams have met 12 times in the past, with Florida winning them all. But to lose to Florida has been no disgrace for the Bucs. For the past 12 years, Florida has been the Southeastern Conference champion, and appear headed that way again.

Overall, in the past 27 years, Florida has won the SEC title 20 times, showing a strong program since the Southeastern Conference was formed in 1932.

The Bucs have had some close calls in the meets in the past, but have never been quite close enough to get a victory. Florida also holds all of the meet records between the two schools.

It will be Florida's first trip to the new ECU Natatorium, and the Bucs are hoping to pull an upset that will start a trend.

P&M Keeps On Rolling Along

Greenville Parts & Metal took another step closer to the Industrial League championship last night with a 77-67 victory over Union Carbide. Collins & Aikman took over second place with a 66-24 win over hapless Carolina Telephone.

In the opener, Collins & Aikman pushed away to a 33-11 lead in the first half, then outscored Carolina Tel. 33-13 in the second half to finish the rout.

Tim Bright led C&A with 24 points, while Reed Kennedy had 16 and Jack Connel had 13.

In the second contest, the two teams fought to a 37-37 tie in the first half, but P&M outscored Union Carbide, 40-30, down the stretch to get their ninth win of the season against no losses.

P&M was paced by Fred Mills with 28 points, while Preston Mills had 14 and D. R. Daniels had 13. Talmadge Adams led Union Carbide with 23, while Tom Reese had 11.

P&M is now 9-0, followed by C&A with a 5-4 mark. Union Carbide is 4-5 and Carolina Tel is 0-9.

Whitfield Nips Sugg By 48-43

FARMVILLE — G. R. Whitfield of Grimesland held off

H. B. Sugg rally last night to take a 48-43 victory over the Lions.

Ladies League All Tied Up

The only way things could get tighter in the Ladies Basketball League would be to put all four teams on the floor at the same time. After last night's action, the league is knotted in a four-way deadlock for first place.

Last night, Pure Oil edged Azalea Mobile Homes, 2-1, and Wachovia nipped Coca-Cola, 29-27.

In the first period, Whitfield pulled away to a 15-11 lead and then worked up a 29-23 lead by the half.

But the Lions put on a rally in the third period and cut the lead to 38-36. They tried to continue it in the final period, but the Hornets outscored them, 10-7, to insure the win.

Edwards led Whitfield with 17 points, while Barr had 10.

For Sugg, George Gay had 16 points and Marvel Edwards had 13.

In the junior varsity preliminary, Sugg took a 45-39 victory.

In the opener, Azalea took a 13-10 lead in the first period, but Pure came back to hold a 22-20 lead at the half. Pure then shot away to gain a 39-30 lead at the end of the third period, and then withstood a hard Azalea rally for the victory.

Fay Nichols had 20 and Pat Kilpatrick had 17 for Pure, while Dottie Hill had 20 for Azalea.

In the second contest, Wachovia took an 8-5 lead in the first period, then went scoreless the rest of the half to trail, 13-8 at intermission. But the Bankers rallied in the third period to charge ahead 22-19, and then hold on for the win.

Kay Little led Wachovia with 13, while Gloria Clark had 11 and Judy Baker had 10 for Coke.

All four teams now post 2-2 records.

Knowles Sparks Davidson Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Richmond's Spiders, given little chance before the basketball season began of coming close to a break-even record, can hit the .500 mark tonight in Southern Conference basketball play by beating George Washington.

Until Tuesday night, victories over George Washington were considered routine inside the league, for the Colonials had lost eight times in a row, including an 86-74 defeat at home at the hands of Richmond.

The Colonials may have changed the script, however, for they shocked William and Mary, 80-76 in a Tuesday night encounter that extended the Indians' losing streak on the road to nine.

A brief stay on the bench may have been just what Davidson's Rod Knowles needed, for the 6-foot-9 senior rallied the Wildcats to an 81-76 victory Wednesday night over Virginia Tech.

Knowles entered the game with four minutes left in the half and the Gobblers leading 37-30. His 20-point performance the rest of the way rallied the Wildcats from that deficit and one which reached nine points after intermission.

East Carolina's Pirates dropped an 83-77 decision to High Point as Steve Tatgenhorst led the winners with 24 points. The Pirates, now 5-11, got 18 points from Earl Thompson and 16 from Charles Alford.

Lanier Shines For St. Bonaventure

By TED MEIER

Bob Lanier, 6-foot-11 sophomore for the unbeaten Brown Indians of St. Bonaventure, has established himself as one of the best big men in college basketball this season.

Lew Alcindor, 7-1½ star of UCLA's national champions, and Elvin Hayes, 6-8 Big E of Houston's top-ranked Cougars, couldn't have played better than Lanier did Wednesday night in leading the fifth-ranked Bonnies over Villanova 66-62.

The 265-pound Lanier scored two key baskets, blocked several shots, grabbed a vital rebound and started several fast breaks in the closing minutes as the Bonnies chalked up their 16th straight at the Palestra in Philadelphia.

"Lanier won the game for us on defense by blocking those shots at the end," said Larry Weise, St. Bonaventure coach. "I never saw a man completely dominate the play the way Lanier did in the last three minutes," declared Jack Kraft, Villanova coach.

Lanier finished with 18 rebounds and 22 points, including the basket that put the Bonnies ahead for good at 60-59 as they snapped Villanova's nine-game winning streak.

In his last three games against Detroit, St. Francis, Pa. and Villanova Lanier has scored 73 points and grabbed 57 rebounds.

Lanier's latest performance overshadowed the 50-point spree by Calvin Murphy, the 5-10 soph, in leading Niagara over Syracuse 116-107.

The 265-pound Lanier scored two key baskets, blocked several shots, grabbed a vital rebound and started several fast breaks in the closing minutes as the Bonnies chalked up their 16th straight at the Palestra in Philadelphia.

Ayden Grid Banquet Set

AYDEN — The Ayden Tornado Club will hold its annual football Banquet on Monday, February 19, at the Greenville Moose Lodge at 7:30 p.m.

Bill Dooley, head football coach at the University of North Carolina, will be the featured speaker.

Les Short, president of the Tornado Club, said that all parents of players and all club members are urged to attend the banquet. "We want to show our boys that we appreciate all they've done for us this year and in the past," he said. The Tornados, who won the Eastern Class-A crown this year, have been unbeaten for the past three years.

Tickets are available from Short, Ray Avery, Walter Beddard and Hall Miller. Short said that ticket sales would be concluded on February 15 and that only a limited number were available.

At intermission, But the Bankers rallied in the third period to charge ahead 22-19, and then hold on for the win.

Kay Little led Wachovia with 13, while Gloria Clark had 11 and Judy Baker had 10 for Coke.

All four teams now post 2-2 records.

Workshop For Teachers Of The Mentally Retarded

East Carolina University announced Wednesday it will offer a special one-day workshop next week on physical education for the mentally retarded.

Dr. Gilbert Ragland, chairman of the Department of Special Education, said the workshop will bring together physical education teachers, special education teachers and supervisors from countries throughout Eastern North Carolina.

The program is scheduled Saturday, Feb. 10. It is sponsored by ECU's departments of physical education and special education and begins with registration at 9 a.m. in Memorial Gymnasium on East Tenth Street.

Dr. Ragland will open the workshop at 9:30 a.m. with a discussion of "The Needs and Characteristics of Mentally Retarded Children."

Miss Nell Stallings of the health and physical education department will speak on "Physical Education for the Mentally Retarded."

Leland Allsbrook of the Greenville Elementary Schools will discuss "Physical Education for Trainable Children" and "Physical Education for Educable Children" in a demonstration-participation session.

And Mrs. Nancy Williams of Murdoch Center at Butler will lecture on "Physical Fitness and Obstacle Course Utilization for the Mentally Retarded."

Fare Refund On 1898 Ticket

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A Colorado man wrote the Missouri-Pacific Railroad's headquarters in St. Louis asking a refund on an unused ticket that was issued 69 years ago.

The ticket, a child's half-fare, was for a ride from Bonham, Tex., to Fort Worth in 18-8. A railroad spokesman said the ticket was for the Texas-Pacific Railroad, of which Missouri-Pacific is the successor.

No rates could be found for the trip, the spokesman added, so they agreed to settle on the 1920 tariffs and sent the man $2.10. The man, a former railroader, had found the ticket in his mother's belongings.

"It worked out to 3.6 cents a mile," said Tim Hogan of the railroad, "which isn't too different from today's rate of 3.7 cents a mile."

IT'S HERE... THE NEW WPXY

Loses 88 lbs., dad doesn't know her

"At 208 pounds, I was a human garbage pail," said June A. Chamberlain of New York. In desperation, she took a reducing drug along with Ayds candy. And lost 40 pounds. But the drug made her nervous, so she tried the Ayds Plan alone. And she lost 48 more pounds. She looked so slim, her own dad didn't know her. Ayds, taken as directed, curbs your appetite. On the Ayds Plan, you eat less, so lose weight. Available in new chocolate mint, vanilla-caramel and chocolate fudge-type.

WEAVING A WEB

In Nature's daily cycle, it is not the larger, or stronger, who always survive. Throughout the varied animal and insect worlds, each creature is given its own means of survival. For 30,000-40,000 species of spiders, Nature has provided a distinctive characteristic: the ability to spin silk. Though not all spiders spin webs to trap their meals, those that do easily can capture and kill insects larger in size and strength than themselves.

These spiders, ranging from 1/25 to 2 inches long; secrete the silk through spinning organ secretions located near the lower end of their sac-like abdomen. Since the material cannot be forced out, a hind leg draws it out. The liquid hardens upon contact with the air and is controlled, in flow as well as type and form, for the web-making needs.

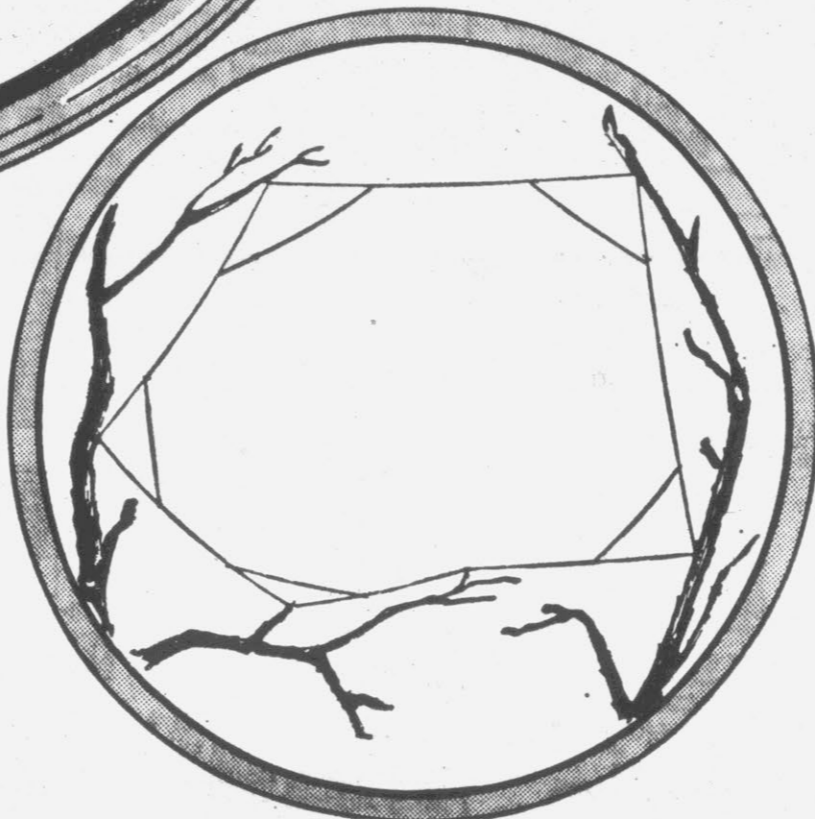

The web threads, some as thin as 0.03 microns (1/1,000,000 of an inch) have an ability to stretch 1/5 their length before breaking. These webs are created at one sitting, a one to four hour job, usually at dawn or dusk.

Once completed, the spider waits "in the parlor," either at web's center or on a corner, for insects to become enmeshed. Held firmly, the insect is easy prey, regardless of size, to be enshrouded in silk and devoured at will.

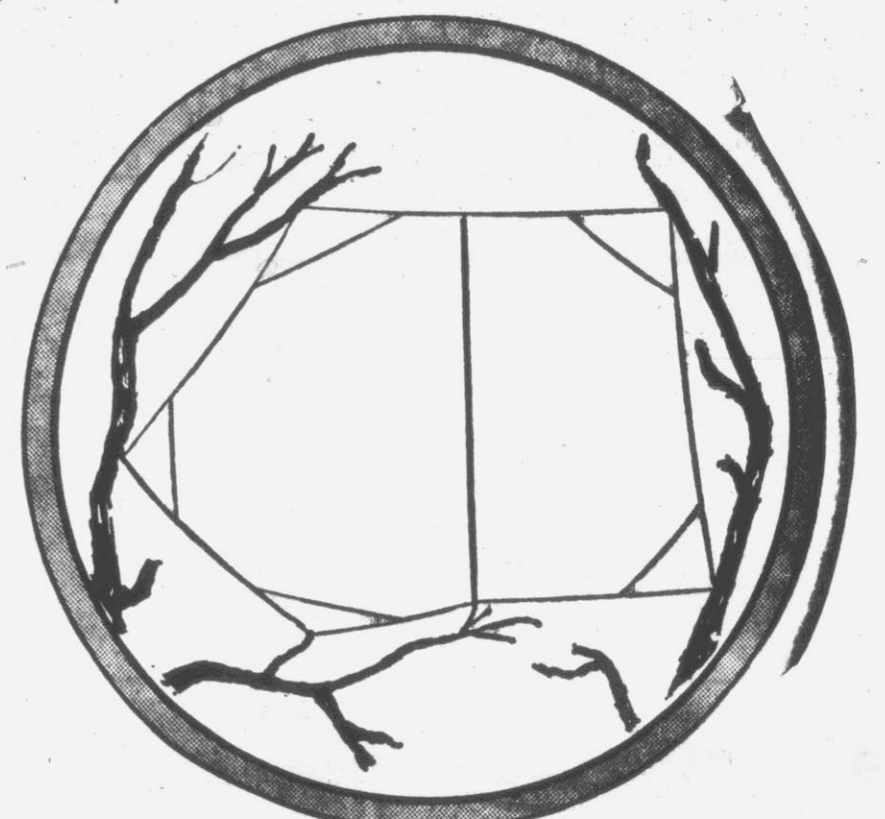

This insect consumption helps Nature's balance. At the same time, spider webs create a masterpiece of delicate beauty and composition.

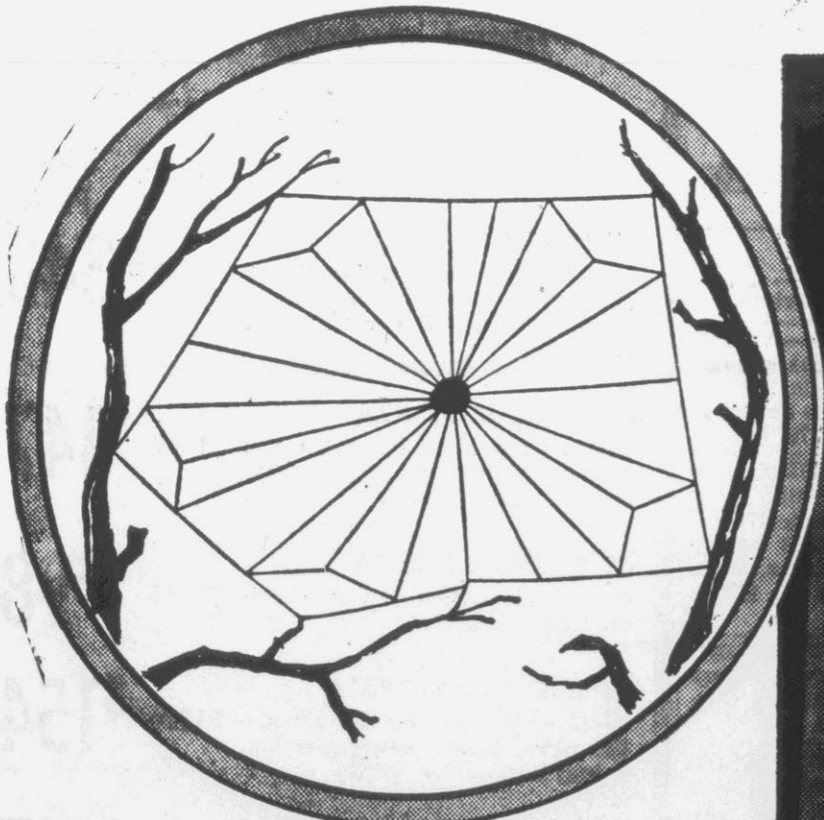

1. A spider creates a bridge line to begin the web.

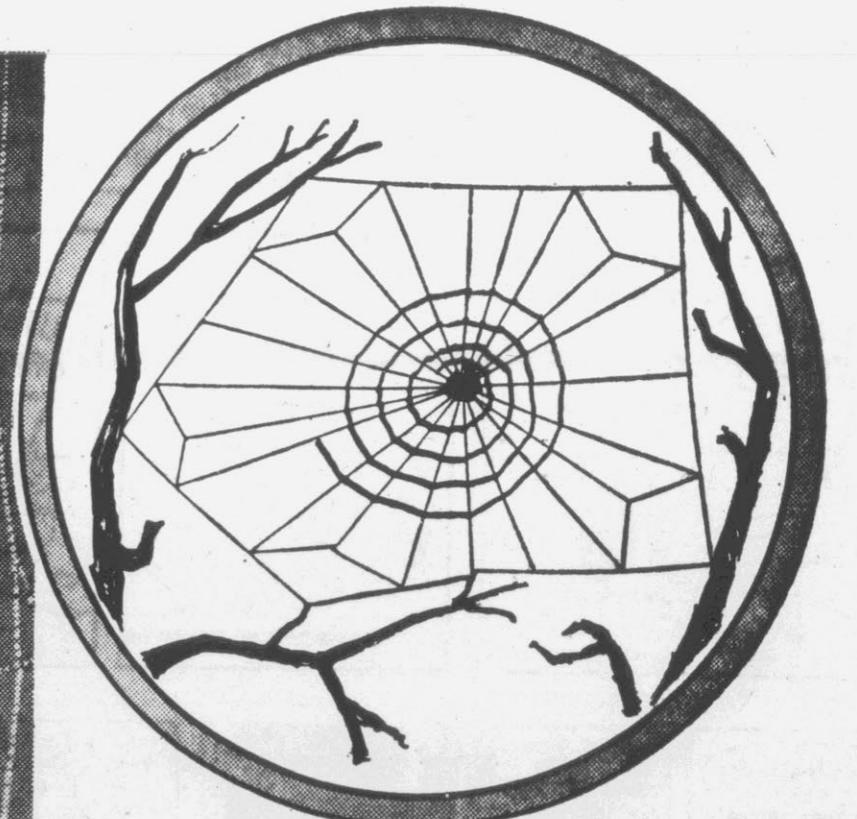

2. Short lines support the strong foundational lines.

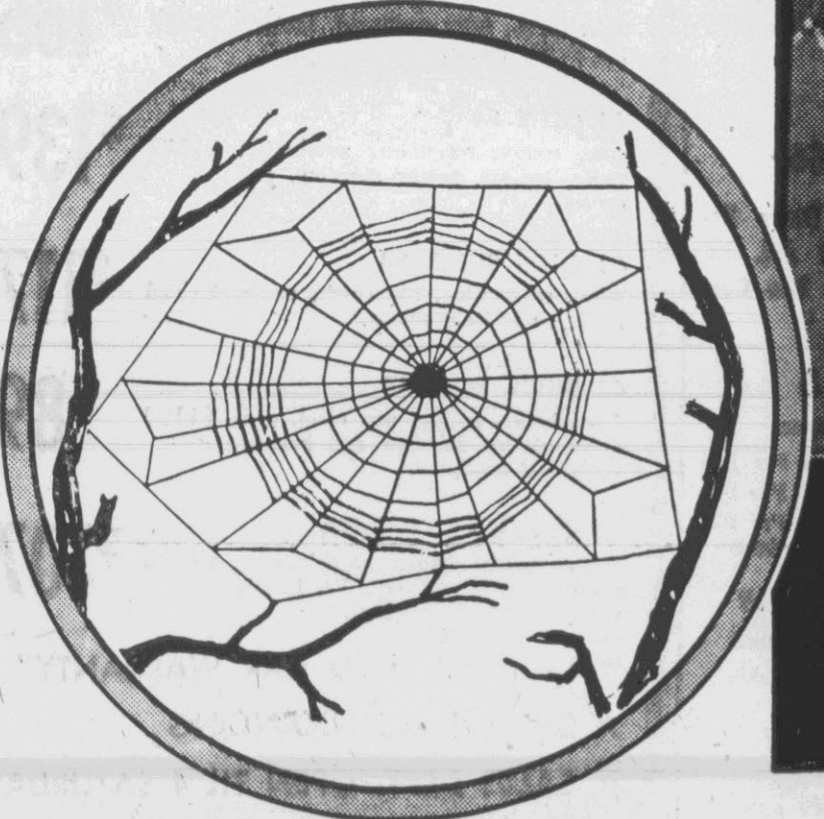

3. A center line is placed to begin outward lines from center.

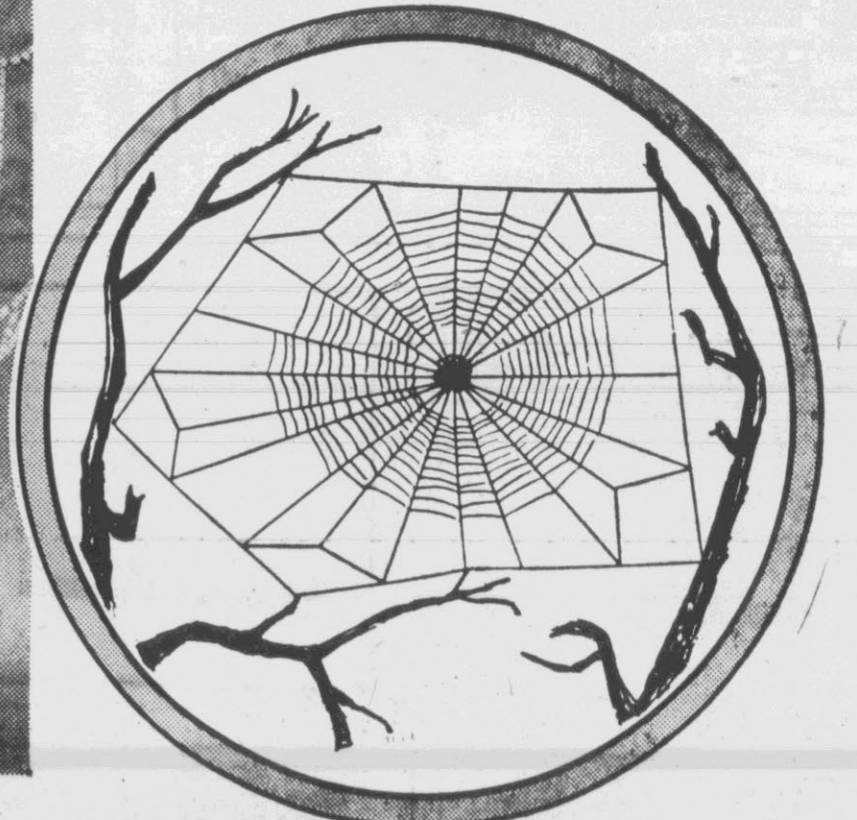

4. With spoke-like lines completed, a mesh is formed in the center for additional strength.

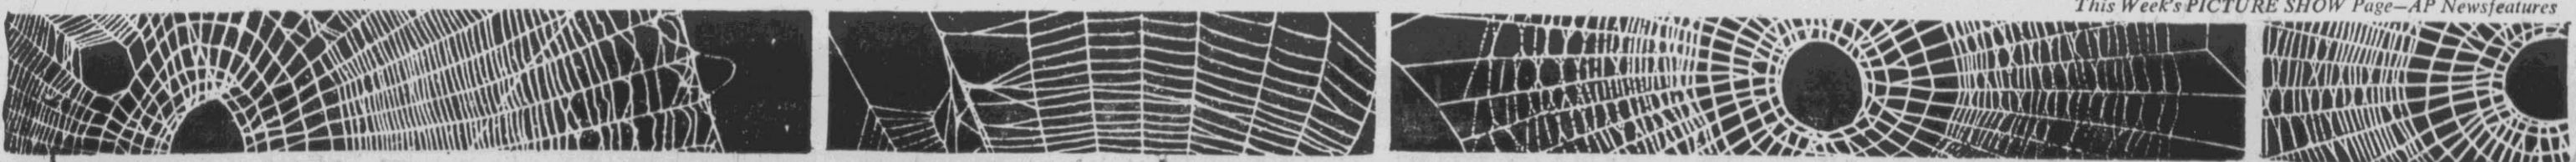

5. A temporary, non-sticky thread is strung to support the spider's final construction.

6. The sticky threads are spread to entrap insects.

7. Final stage is the dropping away of the temporary thread and final spinning of inner sticky threads.

The Worry Clinic Psychological As Well As Medical Reasons

Lola raises a fascinating question which most of you readers have probably pondered, too. So scrapbook this case. It offers both the psychological as well as medical explanation of the differences in affection for children on the part of the married teacher versus the spinster.

By GEORGE W. CRANE Ph. D., M. D.

CASE E-575: Lola G., aged 24, is a Maryland school teacher.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I majored in psychology and used your textbook at the University of Baltimore.

"Prof. Raymond Nell, our teacher," made psychology so fascinating that I have retained my interest in it as a hobby.

"In that connection, I have noticed that married women seem to be much more affectionate with their pupils than spinsters of the same age.

"Why is this true?"

There are two very evident reasons too explain this oft-mentioned difference.

One is psychological and pertains to the teacher's focal point of social reference.

A spinster begins to grow introverted and more fearful about her health, as well as her financial security.

For marriage extroverts the usual wife and thus reduces many of those hidden fears that trouble the older, unmarried person.

A wife thus learns to focus on her husband instead of her "innards," so she is less likely to be a "Worry Wart" about her health.

We medics thus find that the bachelors and spinsters, after the age of 40, flood our offices with neurotic health problems.

For excessive concern with one's "innards" is a direct result of introversion of personality.

The normal wife, possibly with children, too, thus keeps her to have worries, those worily and, though they may cause her to have worries, those worries are externalized.

It is when you direct your attention within your own epidermis that you begin to sprout all sorts of medical phobias and soon imagine you have cancer or heart trouble.

But there is another physiological factor that causes married women to be affectionate with children.

For emotions depend upon our glands of internal secretion. And a married woman's love glands have been exercised more often till they are more functional and healthy.

Not enough public attention has been focussed on the medical fact that exercise not only produces more functional muscles, but also does likewise for glands.

For example, the guttun is the first one to look for a restaurant after having gorged at a Thanksgiving banquet a few hours earlier.

It is the squeamish or diffident eater who can skip a meal without being troubled by a gnawing stomach.

For regular exercise of the stomach makes it enlarge and secrete hydrochloric acid in greater amount.

This acid (gastric juice) thus prods the guttun into regularly seeking another session at the dinner table.

The retina of the eye also will atrophy from disuse, as in the cross-eyed child who ignores that eye.

So marriage not only produces more extroversion, but insures you against undue "Worry Wart" behavior.

Send for my 200-point "Tests for Husbands and Wives," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents and learn how to win a mate or hold him more securely if you already are in the lucky category of the married!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina hog markets steady, tops 18.25-18.75 Rocky Mount; 18.00-18.75 Wilson; 17.75-18.75 Kinston, New Bern, Benson, Mt. Olive, Newton Grove, Albemarle, Lumberton; 17.50-18.50 Bethel; 17.50-18.25 Statesville; 18.25 Salisbury, Rich Square, Goldsboro; 18.00 Greensboro, Selma; 17.50 Siler City, Denton.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina poultry undertone steady. Live at farm, base valuation, 12 cents per pound.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made an attempt at a technical rally Friday but the move had a tough time getting off the ground.

After holding its earlier decline to a small amount, the market began an upward move with trading heavy and the ticker tape late.

Many of the high-priced glamor stocks which have been battered in recent sessions snapped back to post good gains. But the rebound didn't seem to have much support.

Losses outnumbered gains by a ratio of more than 3 to 2 early in the afternoon.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .29 at 855.76—backing away from a rise of 1.44 at the end of the first hour.

Many market technicians had anticipated a possible technical rally as the list approved the Nov. 8 closing low of 849.57 in the Dow industrials. They said the list was in an oversold condition.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5 at $13.5 with industrials up .5, rails off .3 and utilities up .9.

The newly-merged Penn Central Transportation Co. started off well on the Big Board posting a gain of nearly a point over Wednesday's close of Pennsylvania Railroad.

IBM failed to hold a 4-point recovery move, showing merely a fractional gain. Teledyne also cut a 3-point rise to a fraction. Control Data erased a 1-point rise and showed a fractional net loss.

Litton Industries made good a comeback of a couple of points from a monotonous series of losses.

Prices were generally lower on the American Stock Exchange.

Warning From ROK President

SEOUL (AP) — South Korean President Chung Hee Park said today he does not believe in unifying North and South Korea by force but warned North Korean Premier Kim Il-sung "there is a limit to our patience."

In his first public statement since 31 Communist commandos tried to assassinate him in Seoul Jan. 21, Park said North Korean agents are trying to create conditions for the North to reunite Korea forcibly under Communist rule.

"Our 600,000-men armed forces are fully prepared to deal counteroffensives immediately to the enemy under any circumstances and at any time, and we are closely watching their moves," he said at a ceremony launching a highway construction project in Seoul.

Premier Chung Il-kwon told the National Assembly it is questionable whether South Korea alone should abide by the armistice agreement when North Korea is sending soldiers for subversion in the South.

He said North Korea has about 15,000 men specially trained for guerrilla warfare against South Korea. The premier said the government plans to provide arms to workers in key factories. Foreign Minister Choi Kyu-hah said the government is discussing with the United States ways to strengthen South Korean defenses.

General Is Awaiting Major Drive

SAIGON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland predicted today that the Communists will follow up their current campaign against key cities of South Vietnam with their biggest offensive of the war, a drive in the northern end of the country.

It will be the enemy's "main effort," said the commander of U.S. forces in South Vietnam, and "it could come at any time."

The four-star commander told a crowded news conference this would be the third phase of a three-phase plan hatched in Hanoi last September by the North Vietnamese leadership.

The current wave of attacks on Saigon, provincial capitals and other key cities and towns, which began Monday, is the second phase of Hanoi's master plan and "marks a change in strategy by the enemy," Westmoreland continued.

"He is using North Vietnamese army forces to spearhead his terrorist attacks."

Westmoreland said the current Communist drive was a "go for broke proposition."

"It was all or nothing," he said. "He has put forth his maximum effort. He will be very badly hurt. It will take him many, many weeks to recover, and in some areas many months."

"I give him the capability of continuing this phase of the campaign for several more days. There is evidence to suggest he is about to run out of steam. He has, however, some reserves yet to be committed. We are watching this."

Westmoreland said the third-phase offensive would be waged in South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces, Quang Tri and Thua Thien, just below the demilitarized zone.

Elder Brother Is Kidney Donor

DURHAM (AP) — Johnny Martin Owens, 17, of New Hope in Wilson County, was reported in satisfactory condition at Duke Hospital today following a kidney transplant operation.

Donor of the kidney in the operation Monday, one of several that have been performed at Duke Hospital, was Johnny's only brother, F. M. (Rudy) Owens, 26, of Rt. 2, Wilson.

Young Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Owens, was taken to the hospital after doctors found that his undeveloped kidneys were not keeping pace with his growing body. He was in the 10th grade at Elm City High School before he dropped out last spring.

Following the 10-hour operation, doctors said it had gone well.

Indict Former Bank Employee

Soybean Called 'The Hottest Thing' Today

GOLDSBORO — "The hottest thing going in American agriculture is the soybean," Leo Jenkins told members of the North Carolina Corn-Soybean Growers Clinic here today.

The East Carolina University President said, "The soybean has more uses than a piece of baling wire on a tenant farm and a potential so vast as to promise hope for solving world hunger."

Farmers of northeastern North Carolina were the first to grow "Soja beans" as a United States crop over 52 years ago. The first beans were processed in Elizabeth City in December, 1915, Jenkins said.

"North Carolina ranked second in production of soybeans with 165,000 acres," the speaker noted. "Today the state is now 11th in the nation with slightly more than one million acres."

Jenkins said soybeans as a food for an over-populated and hungry world may be the biggest use of all.

"As late as the 1940's, the United States was importing soybean products," Jenkins explained. "Today, this country is producing about 75 per cent of the total world supply of soybeans."

North Carolina farmers in 1967 harvested 26,442,000 bushels of soybeans, 5,586,000 bushels above the 1966 crop.

The gross income from the 1967 corn and soybeans in the state is expected to be approximately $181 million, Jenkins told the group.

Embezzlement Charged Former Postal Employee

RALEIGH — A bill of indictment was returned by a federal grand jury here Tuesday charging Stephen Francis Townsend, 19, of Greenville with three counts of embezzlement.

Townsend is a former Post Office Department employee and the charges stem from his alleged activities in the Greenville post office.

The indictment alleges that Townsend took three letters from the mail on November 8. One of the letters, the trustee bill charges, was addressed to S. G. Wilkerson and Sons Furniture Home, while the second was addressed to Home Furniture Co. The third piece of mail allegedly taken by the man was a letter containing $25 and addressed to Ronald L. Wood of Greenville, S. C.

Townsend, now free on $100 bond, was arrested in Rocky Mount November 9 after investigation into the case by Postal Inspector Thomas L. Wood of Atlanta, Ga.

Townsend had been employed as a substitute postal employee at the East Carolina College Station for nine months prior to his arrest.

Joseph C. Dudley, Greenville postmaster said Townsend had been discharged.

Executes Enemy Caught In Fight

SAIGON (AP) — The chief of South Vietnam's national police executed a Viet Cong officer captured in a fight near the An Quang pagoda today.

The chief, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Ngoc Loan, fired a revolver bullet into the head of the officer, a tousle-haired Vietnamese in civilian garb who had been seized by government marines.

"They killed many Americans and many of my people," Loan said.

Communist bands, in addition to gunning for allied military personnel, had staged several executions since the outbreak of the fighting here Wednesday. Wives and children of Vietnamese officers were among the victims.

Gets Five Years For Bogus $5

RALEIGH (AP) — Ronald Lewis of New York drew a five-year prison term in federal court here Wednesday after a jury convicted him of passing a counterfeit five dollar bill with "intent to defraud."

Lewis was arrested Jan. 1 in Henderson after officers had received word two bogus five dollar bills had been passed at two stores near Kittrell. Also arrested were Lewis' wife, Carol, 22; his mother-in-law Martha Roberson, 44; and Robert P. Lee, 22. However, only Lee and Lewis were indicted.

Judge John D. Larkins directed a verdict of acquittal in Lee's case because of doubt that he knew a five dollar bill he passed was counterfeit.

Messick Retires, Will Return To Greenville

Dr. John D. Messick, a native of Aurora and retired president of East Carolina University, has retired as academic head of the Oral Roberts University in Tulsa, Okla., it was announced recently by President Oral Roberts.

Dr. Messick, executive vice president and provost of ORU, will continue on the staff of ORU as a consultant and his first assignment will be to work on plans for a new science building.

This will be the second retirement for Dr. Messick, 70, who came to the ORU campus in 1963 to plan curriculum and retain a faculty for the new school.

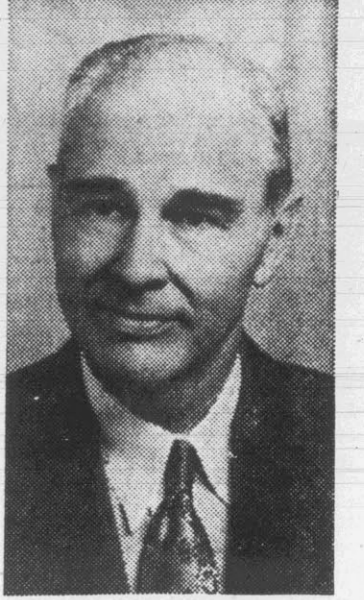

In 1960, he retired from the presidency of East Carolina College, a position he held for 12 years. Dr. Messick became dean at Elon College in 1935. He held this post until 1944, when he became dean of New Jersey State College until 1947. At that time he came to East Carolina.

While in Tulsa, Dr. Messick was a member of the Boston Avenue Methodist Church, the Tulsa Chapter of the American Red Cross, Friends of the Tulsa Library and the Tulsa Philharmonic Orchestra.

ORU will give a reception for Dr. and Mrs. Messick and they plan to leave Oklahoma on Feb. 7. They will return to their home in Greenville in March.
