End Bad Eating Habits Early

By JEANNE LESEM
UPI Food Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—The earlier you break bad eating habits, the easier it is to do, says Sylvia Lowenstein, a physical education teacher at an all-girl vocational high school in Brooklyn.

Other arguments she uses to persuade overweight adolescents to reduce:

"Your skin stays nice if you reduce now, because it's more flexible when you're young."

If you stay the way you are, you'll have a hard time buying clothes. The styles are unsuitable and you'll find less choice and higher prices."

Helped 500

Since most of her students come from very poor families, the price of clothing is an important factor, said Miss Lowenstein, who estimates that she has helped about 500 overweight students in the past seven years through a completely voluntary program at William H. Maxwell Vocational High School.

She said she started the club, which meets once a week, when she found at least five 14-year-olds in her freshman gym classes who were so heavy that she couldn't weigh them on the school scales. The scales register a maximum of 250 pounds.

With the approval of the school principal and the school doctor, who provided City Board of Health reducing menus, Miss Lowenstein called a meeting at which the girls could talk together about their weight problems and she hoped—to go on a diet together.

Ten girls attended the first meeting, she said. By the end of the school term, 15 more had joined. The current membership is about 40.

Misconceptions

The girls all start with common misconceptions, she added. They skip breakfast and sometimes lunch, too, then fill up on all the wrong things—potato chips, candy and ice cream. Shown reducing menus, they always protest that they don't eat that much.

Miss Lowenstein's suggestions include three well-balanced meals a day, starting with a breakfast that includes protein such as an egg and a strip of bacon or cereal with skim milk. She urges them to bring fruit, vegetables and one sandwich, instead of two sandwiches, for lunch, and to cut down on the amounts of hot food they eat by serving it on smaller plates.

Reader Urges Parents To Keep Giving Kids Lessons

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please tell parents of youngsters who are taking piano lessons (or violin, or any other musical instrument) that no matter how the kid HATES it, not to let him quit. Kids will cry and carry on, and tell you they don't have time to practice—that you're wasting your money, and they'll give you a dozen other excuses for their laziness, but wise parents will pay no attention to it. They will tell their children that music is a part of their education—like going to regular school and Sunday school, and they have to practice whether they like it or not. (Even under these conditions, you'd be surprised how much they learn.)

I hated piano with a passion, so my mother, like so many other well-meaning mothers, finally got tired of fighting with me, and she let me quit.

I thought I won that battle, but now I realize, I lost. How I wish my mother had been firmer and MADE me continue.

MISSED THE BOAT

DEAR MISSED: Boats are leaving every day. I don't know your age, but if you're young enough to read this letter, you can learn to play the piano. If you're still not too lazy, that is.

DEAR ABBY: What does a wife do when she's lost practically all communication with her husband? Our children have left the nest and live out of state. My husband has done very well financially, and I must admit he has been extremely good to me and the children—but our lives seem so empty now. He comes home from the office at 5:30, has one scotch and soda, then he eats his dinner. After that he buries his nose in the Wall Street Journal, Barrons, or some other dull publication. Then if he doesn't watch television, he reads some more.

We rarely talk. He tells me he spends his time talking to people all day (he's a stock broker) and when he gets home he's all talked out. We're not old. I'm 57 and he's 59. Any suggestions?

MARGE

DEAR MARGE: Yes. Bury YOUR nose in the Wall Street Journal, Barrons, or some other publication before he gets home, and bone up on all the financial news. Then hum or him, pamper him, baby him, pet him and flatter him. And if that doesn't work, when he gets to 60—sell!

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with this very eligible gentleman for about six months. My problem is that I am not making very good progress. For instance, he has never said, "I love you." He says, "I am very fond of you."

We're not kids, Abby. I am a widow, 51, and he's a widower, 55.

I have a girl friend who is 53 and never been married and she says the way to get a man to tell you he LOVES you is to tell him first. Should I?

Another thing, I have a rule that unless a man has told me he loves me, I never let him hold a kiss more than five seconds. Do you think that's a good idea? I am not about to play games and spoil everything.

HOLDING

DEAR HOLDING: Don't tell a man you "love" him in order to trick him into telling you he loves you. (If it's not sincere, who needs it?) Yes, five seconds is long enough to hold a kiss with a man who is only "fond" of you. (P. S. with reference to your unmarried girl friend, I wouldn't accept coaching from someone who has never made the team.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MISERABLE" IN MIAMI: If you forgive him you will have solved only part of your problem. First you must truly forgive yourself.

Problems? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Service League Has Business Meeting

The Greenville Service League held its February meeting at Elm Street Park yesterday. Mrs. J. Knott Proctor Jr., president, opened the meeting with the prayer for Christian Service.

Mrs. Proctor called on the committee chairmen for their reports. Mrs. William Watson answered three calls for Emergency Charity. Mrs. Ray Minges reported 13 bundles of coat hangers and 12 cookbooks had been sold. Laughinghouse Hospital Fund head, Mrs. W. S. Bost, said four patients had been aided including two for ambulance transportation.

Mrs. Tom Hailwood reported she had answered five calls for layettes and Mrs. Jerry Sutherland, one call for a wheelchair. Mrs. John Shannonhouse, Placements chairman, reminded the members that the new term for the coffee shop begins on Feb. 6. Mrs. P. R. Andresen secured workers for cleaning the hospital chapel for February and March.

Mrs. Bob Van Veld, general chairman, announced that plans were progressing for the charity ball. Mrs. A. M. Mum-

No Area Needs This Project More

Pitt County commissioners have acted properly in approving the county's share of the funds for a district office and full-time director for the Mid-East Economic Development Commission.

In approving funds for the remainder of this fiscal year the commissioners indicated they would consider a further appropriation in the 1968-69 fiscal year budget.

The Mid-East was formed last year resulting from the Coastal Plain Development Area. The Mid-

East area includes Pitt, Beaufort, Bertie, Hyde, Washington and Martin Counties.

Commissioners were told that the district office will be established in Washington, N.C. and an estimated budget of $52,800 will be required to set up the office. Funds will come from the federal and county governments.

The Economic Development Administration is supplying 75 per cent of the money. Pitt's share of the expense for the first year will amount to $5,225.36, with the amount based on population.

The Mid-East Commission's purpose is to promote economic development in the participating counties. We can think of no area which needs coordination of such activities any more.

We have long maintained that the development of this area is inevitable and the area merely needs to assess its advantages and make them known to the rest of the nation and world. Much has already been done, with the beginning of phosphate mining in Beaufort County but much remains to be done.

It is our hope that the Mid-East Economic Development Commission can provide some of the stimulus that is needed to help the area reach its full potential. The Pitt County commissioners have done well to provide the county's share of the cost.

Moving In On Auto Insurance

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The process that brought the federal government into the health insurance field has begun to work in automobile insurance, much to the industry's dismay.

Whether the auto insurance are alert enough to head off the motorists, equivalent of medicare remains to be seen. What seems clear, however, is that one way or another there will be changes in the present system.

Expressions of wide and growing dissatisfaction by the motoring public with the rates and practices of auto insurance companies has been noted by President Johnson. In his State of the Union message he called for a government study of the industry.

Johnson is well behind Congress in his request. Four congressional committees have either announced investigations of their own or asked that a federal agency undertake one.

The possibility that such government scrutiny could lead to federal regulation, if not some form of federal accident insurance, has produced a searching self-examination within the industry and studies by outside observers. But the voices that have been raised as a result indicate wide difference of opinion about what should be done.

Suggested solutions range from minor tinkering with the present system to a proposed drastic revision that challenges the concept on which the system is based—namely, that someone has to be found at fault in every accident before a claim is paid.

Two law professors, Robert E. Keeton of Harvard and Jeffrey O'Connell of the University of Illinois, have devised the sweeping plan which, in essence, would operate like medical insurance. The victim of a traffic mishap would recover his actual medical costs and lost wages up to a fixed amount no matter who was at fault in the accident.

The professors say the present system is appallingly wasteful and rampantly unjust.

Only half the money paid out in premiums comes back in benefits, they say, adding: —Claimants settle for far less than they are entitled to in the face of hard bargaining by insurance companies and long delays in paying off.

—Victims in accidents where no blame can be fixed, or where both parties are at fault, collect nothing.

The O'Connell-Keeton plan has won some advocates in the industry and more outside it. The fiercest attacks on it have come from the legal profession. And editorial in a recent issue of the American Trial Lawyers Association magazine called it "a collective idea that group security is more important than individual rights."

That lawyers have a stake in the present system is manifest. There are estimates that accident litigation now accounts for 65 to 80 per cent of the civil cases tried in U.S. courts each year and produces half the income of American lawyers. The Keeton-O'Connell plan would eliminate about 95 per cent of that business.

The existence of the plan and the controversy it has touched off in the industry have started a search for other alternatives. That search would be spurred by any government investigation.

Two Traffic Tickets Is Dismaying Enough

To us it is utterly incomprehensible for a motorist to acquire 40 or more traffic tickets in a year, yet Chicago's new computer system picked out 150 such with ease.

The computer was acquired specifically to deal with the many thousands of drivers who are given traffic tickets in the Midwestern city and ignore them.

Well, with Chicago police issuing two million parking tickets a year in addition to an unspecified number for moving violations, you can see where a computer would be the only practical answer to a problem that is bigger than man-size.

Nevertheless, the thought of 150 motorists getting "40 or more" traffic tickets in just one year is a fantastic thing. Most people, we'd think, would be dismayed by two citations in one year . . . and then there are those who haven't had a ticket in a lifetime behind the wheel.

Reasons Behind Reagan's Purge

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Although it is tempting to read nothing but Presidential politics into Governor Ronald Reagan's decision to replace his conservative state finance director, Gordon P. Smith, with Caspar W. Weinberger, who is one of the state's leading Republican moderates, Presidential politics is only half the explanation.

Smith had become an acute embarrassment to Reagan. Leading Republican moderates in the state Assembly, in fact, had flatly warned Reagan's inner circle (with whom they have only the flimsiest contact) that unless Smith was fired the entire Republican party here would be badly damaged in its battle to gain control of the legislature next November.

Smith was the most controversial product of Reagan's unofficial advisors in Los Angeles. These advisors (who included the late Cy Rubel of Union Oil) are fat-cat businessmen who steered the former actor into elective politics, financed his way in the 1966 campaign, and still exert great influence on his administration.

But in filling the second-most powerful post in the state government — that of finance director — they handed Reagan a full-fledged disaster.

For example, Smith repeatedly put out contradictory fiscal statements that even persuaded Reagan to reduce benefits under the Federal-state Medicaid program (called Medi-Cal) because, he said, the state fund was broke.

Later, after the benefit-reduction was started (then abruptly halted by court order, Smith found that the Medi-Cal fund actually had a surplus, not a deficit.

Moreover, Reagan was not at all pleased by rumors that Smith hankered to run for the Senate against liberal Republican Thomas H. Kuchel. Although Reagan himself is at the opposite end of the political spectrum from Kuchel, he is staying strictly neutral in the primary between Kuchel and right-wing Republican Max Rafferty, state education chief. Reagan has cut Rafferty off from right-wing financial support in California.

Consequently, any move by Smith against Kuchel would have been acutely embarrassing for the Governor.

Finally, Smith's ouster just happens to coincide with the first big income tax bite coming due this spring, which will just about double the average income tax payment over last year. A switch in the finance office to Weinberger, the original choice of anti-Reagan moderates for job of finance director a year ago, may ease the political fall-out from that tax increase.

Weinberger's appointment, at long last, tells much about the kind of advice Reagan had been getting from his big-business supporters in Los Angeles. It was Rubel, for example, who vetoed Weinberger when Reagan was putting his administration together in late 1966. Rubel was a strong political backer of Joe Shell, the right-wing Republican who lost to Richard M. Nixon in the 1962 Republican gubernatorial primary. Shell and Weinberger, who was then state party chairman, are bitter enemies.

Thus, a major part of the reason for the Smith-Weinberger switch was internal. The

No Great Celebration

They celebrated the tenth anniversary in Caracas a few days ago of that glorious 2 o'clock in the morning when General Marcos Perez Jimenez was overthrown, but they didn't celebrate it very much. You get the impression that Venezuelans are too occupied with the present to be deeply concerned with the past.

Perez Jimenez was the last in a long line of dictators who ruled this rich and sprawling land over a span of 130 years. With his ouster, at the coalition, democracy came to hands of an army-civilian coalition, democracy came to Venezuela, and Venezuela has been looking uncertainly at democracy ever since. The present head of state is President Raul Leoni, who was elected in 1963. If he makes it home free to the end of his term in December, another record will have been set: Two full-term presidents, without a single revolution! In South America, it makes a man quietly proud.

You hear a hundred stories about Perez Jimenez. During his eight years in power, he looted the national treasury and lived in high cotton. A strutting little man, pot-bellied and paunchy, the dictator evidently had a great attraction for the girls. Some of the tales that are told of Perez Jimenez, his yacht and his private island, sound like the tales Suetonius told on the Caesars.

Venezuelans did not object to his wenching, until it got to be a public scandal, and they might have forgiven the looting, up to a point, on the grounds of national custom. It was the dictator's repression of political activity that triggered revolt ten years ago. Venezuelans play their politics as if they were tournament bridge players going for slam in spades. Ordinarily a polite and sociable people, they fall politically upon their partners as well as their opponents with marvelous insults and great howls of rage.

Even the splinter parties form splinter parties. At the last count, Venezuela had 17 recognized parties — maybe 20; all of them were off to the left; the ideological distinctions, if any, are scarcely visible to the naked eye.

Perez Jimenez made the mistake, that glorious morning, of forgetting a bag at the airport. It could happen to any of us. Unhappily for the fleeing Napoleon, this bag contained securities, documents, and instruments of credit establishing the theft (or so the present government contends) of some $8 million. The dictator went first to the Dominican Republic, then to Miami, but the evidence was sufficient to cause Bobby Kennedy to agree to his extradition in August of 1963. Perez Jimenez was flown back to Caracas.

He has been in prison since then, but it is hardly durance vile. In an excess of benevolence, or of thoughtful reflection on future contingencies, the government has provided Perez Jimenez with a three-room suite and private bath in the jail. He has his own cook and dietitian, and his own masseur. He reads, looks at television; at regular intervals, he is provided with female companions.

Once every six weeks or so, Perez Jimenez is driven by armored van to the Supreme Court of Justice, across the street from the Capitol, where his trial for embezzlement continues. It is not an impressive building, flanked as it is by a tamale stand on Store on the other, but trial days are colorful occasions. A hundred troops, wearing machine guns, line the sidewalks. Spectators are roped off. Perez Jimenez enters the chamber with his swarm of counsel, denounces President Leoni, President Johnson, Senator Kennedy, and other oppressors. Then back to jail and an afternoon nap.

These intermittent hearings have been going on for nearly four years. Venezuelans

Korean War Is Still On

By BOB POOS

Associated Press Writer

OUTPOST 752, Korea (AP) — A never ending war goes on here between the Republic of Korea and Communist North Korea, a war mostly of broadcasts but sometimes of bullets.

Outpost 752 and its strong-point to the right, Outpost 751, are the closest approach to the North Korean lines.

Most of the 151-mile Korean front is divided by a swath of more than two miles, half of it owned by the American and Korea United Forces and half by the Communists.

But here on the Kimpo Peninsula, extreme western sector of the front, the dividing line is the Han River and the Han-Imjin river estuary. The lines are only 4,000 feet or so apart.

Holding this sector of 32 miles, about one-fifth of the entire front, is the 5th Republic of Korea Marine Brigade, commanded by Brig. Gen. Lee Pyung-moon.

Outpost 751 on top of a windswept peak that commands the surrounding terrain contains a powerful loudspeaker system which sends periodic propaganda broadcasts toward the Communist troops just a gunshot away.

Across the river and easily discernible through binoculars is a similar system that throws Communist propaganda at the South.

As the ROK marines endlessly scan the other side through telescopes and periscopes, so do the Communist troops peer at his side. Communist broadcasts start about five minutes after visitors to the southern outposts arrive.

"They know we're here and they're putting on their usual show," said Maj. Frank Zimolzak of the Wilkes-Barre, Pa., area, second in command of the 15-man American Marine advisory team to the ROK marine brigade.

Sometimes this continual war of words erupts into gunfire. Since last March the Communists have stepped up attempts to penetrate the peninsula. Several have been either killed or captured by the Korean marines.

The brigade, possibly 5,000 combat troops, has been on a full combat alert since the abortive attempt on President Chung Hee Park's life Jan. 21 and the North Korean capture of the USS Pueblo two days later.

But the ROK marines are almost always on full alert status as they guard what is known as the "back door to Seoul." When the North Koreans invaded the South in June 1950 their main stab came down the classic invasion route, just to the right of the Kimpo Peninsula. This is an 18-mile-wide area now held by the U.S. 2nd Infantry Division. But the thrust that caused the total collapse of South Korean forces then and resulted in the Communist capture of Seoul came down this peninsula.

The ROK marines are determined that this shall not happen again even though they are spread thin and are armed with weapons of World War II and Korean War vintage: American M1 rifles, carbines, Browning .30 caliber machine guns and Browning automatic rifles.

Along the front line trenches, automatic 40mm cannon and batteries of heavy machine guns in quadruple mounts, also old but very practical weapons, stare down at the Han River.

When the Han, and the Imjin at its confluence with the Han, are not frozen or filled with ice

RELIGION IS HUMAN NATURE

We often hear people say they hear of a case of ingratitude, faithlessness or disloyalty. "Well, that's human nature." But they never call it human nature when a Christian does a noble deed of sacrifice, or when some act of true altruism indicates our faith in mankind.

Yet the goodness in man is just as much human nature as the badness. No graver mistake can be made about humanity as a whole than to imagine that it is motivated exclusively by selfish interests. History abounds with instances of selfless actions which exhibit the real spiritual nobility of which mankind is capable.

Various philosophies have been built up through the ages which either attempt to label mankind as an intelligent animal pursuing his own interest, or as a child and comrade of Almighty God filled with potential good. Both are over-simplifications which cannot fathom the secrets of human nature.

If you are cynical about your fellow man, ask yourself whether the affection of your mother and father for you is based on self-interest or whether your feeling for your best friend has a dollar and cents value. Or further, whether your business associates honestly want to ruin you.

You will soon see that in spite of notorious and frequent aberrations, human relations are based on love, trust, and good faith. These qualities are the dominant forces of human nature.

By ELMER ROESSNER

The solar system is approaching a sunspot maximum.

And if you hold with the sunspot theorists, there will be hell to pay here on earth.

There are several cycles of sunspots. The major one is of about 22 years. It may reach a maximum this year or in 1969.

During the maximum, cosmic rays pour down on the earth, and probably on the other planets, in greater volume. This, many scientists have calculated, coincides so neatly with changes in the weather that they accept the theory that sunspots actually influence the weather.

Further, many of them contend that either the resultant change in global weather, or the cosmic rays themselves, influence all flora, animal and human activity.

They point to the fact that World War I and World War II both occurred during periods of maximum sunspot activity.

Kind Of Freckles

Sunspots, by the way, are spots on the sun caused, it is believed, by explosions in the sun that would make our large H-bombs seem like lady firecrackers. The first appear near the poles of the sun, then move toward the equator and eventually disappear. In years of maximums, more than 140 have been observed in one month, such as in July, 1937. In minimum years, such as in August, 1924, less than one a month have been seen.

There is a vast amount of literature relating sunspot cycles to events on earth.

Harlan True Stetson, the distinguished astronomer, in 1937 compiled a book in which he shows that human activity increased during periods of sunspot activity, that plant growth was stimulated, that wine vintages improved, that the rabbit population declined, that radio fading increased, and that stock market prices rose.

Sunspots were almost nothing in 1933. The Dow Jones averages hit a low in 1932. There was a sunspot maximum in 1928, which was followed by the stock market

"Whenever there are cyclic phenomena in nature," he told me, "it is always possible to relate one to another mathematically. The fact that two cycles can have a mathematical relation to one another does not prove that one influences or controls the other."

However, those who are convinced that sunspots influence mundane activities are convinced that within the next two years:

There will be a great increase in business activity.

There will be an upsurge in the stock market.

Rainfall and plant growth will increase

Human activity will rise sharply; there may be more riots, civil wars, increased nationalism, frequent demonstrations, more crime, more murders, more dissents, more strikes, more violence and just a lot more of what we have been having in the last few years.

peak in 1929 and then by you-know-what.

A Conservative View

However, Dr. Kenneth Franklin, assistant chairman of the New York Planetarium, is not convinced that sunspots directly affect plant, animal and human activity.

Refugees Crowd Saigon Streets

By PETER ARNETT
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Tens of thousands of refugees, loaded down with household utensils and clothing, clogged the streets of Saigon today. They were fleeing from their homes in the southern part of the city, swarming into the capital's secure center.

The refugees claimed the police were unable to give them any protection against marauding Viet Cong bands.

"The Viet Cong came to my shop last night with cigarette lighters and rifles," a tearful shopkeeper said. "They were only kids, but they threatened me and burned down my shop. Now 500 homes are burned," he said, pointing to a block-long mass of ruins.

The shopkeeper said many people from the locality ran to the police headquarters 200 yards down the road, "but the police never came to help, no one came."

"I have lost everything, 4 million piasters worth, and so has everyone else around me," the shopkeeper said as he raked through the smoldering remains of his shop.

Moving past him on the street were refugees in bicycle cabs, pushing their own bicycles, and on foot.

City officials report 47,000 refugees have been registered in official camps. The exodus from the heavily populated southern section is expected to push the total far above that.

Saigon and its suburbs have an estimated population of nearly 3 million people.

The 8th Precinct on the south stretches alongside Cholon, the Chinese section, and is a maze of canals and shacks. It was an area of panic today.

Traffic jammed the main bridge leading toward the center of town. Smaller bridges were under sniper fire.

Several blocks had been razed during the night, one by the Viet Cong. Residents said 500 yards of homes along one canal were destroyed by U.S. and South Vietnamese fighter-bombers that dropped napalm and fired rockets on suspected pockets of Viet Cong.

Air strikes continued today on the outskirts of the precinct, but no troop reinforcements had been sent in. All reserves were fully committed in other parts of the city.

Policemen in the area said the Viet Cong still held some parts of the precinct, but not enough troops were available to search them out.

The refugees were being sheltered in 33 hastily organized centers set up in schools. Buddhist pagodas, churches and hospitals.

Officials said the food situation in the city was serious but not yet critical.

Rice and other staples were available but prices were two to four times normal. There were considerable reserve stocks of rice in the city, but distribution was disrupted.

"It is not a crisis yet," said one U.S. official, "but it is certainly a very serious problem. The food situation will stay tight for quite a while."

Salt Spring In Texas Panhandle

ESTELLINE, Tex. (UPI)—Skin divers had gone down 125 feet in attempts to find the bottom of a salt spring near this community in the Texas Panhandle.

The deep spring is three times as salty as sea water. It has been flowing 2.6 million gallons of water daily, yielding 308 tons of salt a day.

floods, as they are now, the marines man "water ambush" positions, low silhouette motor-boats with four or five riflemen who seek to intercept raiders coming across in rubber boats or by individual flotation devices something like water-wings.

Few get through. Most of those who do are caught or killed. Zimolzak remembers one who got across and tried to get back. He was thwarted by one of the powerful whirlpools in the Han that kept pitching him back up on the southern bank. After three tries, he was so exhausted that he gave up without a struggle.

The ROK marines are healthy, tough and know how to take care of and handle their guns. Every man in the brigade, Zimolzak says, is either a veteran of the fighting in Vietnam or has volunteered to go.

Proposed Travel Tax Creates More Red Tape

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional approval of President Johnson's proposed tax on U.S. travelers abroad would create a new mountain of federal red tape.

But the Treasury Department foresees little undue delay for overseas travelers—and few administrative problems for the government—if it gets some 500 additional workers to help handle the program.

As outlined Monday for the House Ways and Means Committee, the proposed travel tax and cuts in duty-free allowances would generate at least another 12 million pieces of paper yearly for the Customs Service and the Internal Revenue Service.

Customs figures it will need another 535 employees throughout the country to handle the increased workload and to tighten the collection of duties it is now missing because it lacks manpower.

There's no estimate as yet of how many additional workers IRS might need although as explained by Treasury experts the travel tax procedures should create no bottleneck at airports or docks.

Most traveling Americans wouldn't be affected by the proposed tax on spending because the Western Hemisphere is exempt. Roughly two-thirds of all U.S. citizens traveling in other countries go to Canada and Mexico.

joke that the trial will cost more than Perez Jimenez ever stole. Reportedly, proceedings will drag to an end in March, a verdict of guilty is assumed, but the maximum penalty is only 13 years with credit for time already spent in jail. In another five years, it is feared, he may again be a factor in Venezuelan politics. The politicians are not rapturous at the prospect.

NEWSMAN WOUNDED

HUE, Vietnam (AP) — Associated Press photographer Rick Merron, 27, was wounded slightly today while covering the fierce fighting in this ancient imperial capital of Vietnam.

Treasury officials said they count about 2.2 million taxable trips yearly and this will mean another 6.6 million pieces of paper to be filled out by individuals and handled by IRS.

To comply with the proposed travel tax, a person would be required to file a statement before he leaves the airport listing the amount of money and travelers checks he is carrying with him. He must also file and pay an estimated tax based on the amount he plans to spend abroad.

But Treasury officials said the tax statements can be filled out well in advance of the trip since the forms would be available at post offices and through travel agents. The traveler could merely enclose his check in an envelope to cover his estimated tax and deposit it at the departure point.

Hospital Receives $200,000 Grant

NORTH WILKESBORO, N.C. (AP)—Wilkes General Hospital received a $200,000 appropriation from Duke Endowment Monday.

Hugh D. Stetler, hospital administrator, said the funds would be used to assist in financing its expansion and improvement program which includes the addition of 60 beds and replacing and upgrading hospital equipment.

A similar declaration of pocket money would be filed on return but this could be completed during the air flight or ship passage home, one official said. It also would be dropped in a basket while the person went through customs.

The returning traveler would then have 60 days to file a travel tax return and pay any additional money owed.

All three forms—the two declarations of money carried by the tourist and the formal tax return itself—would come in one package to be picked up before the trip.

The proposal to reduce duty-free allowances on souvenirs and other goods purchased abroad from $100 to $10 would be expected to swell the current number of Customs Service assessments by 1 million to a total 1,350,000 yearly.

This would require another 145 employees at a cost of $1.5 million, officials said, but would increase federal revenues by about $17 million.

The cut from $10 to $1 in the duty-free allowance for gift packages mailed home would mean another 5 million packages processed, the service said.

Presently, customs makes assessments on about 1.6 million gift packages a year. But because it lacks adequate manpower, an estimated 3.4 million packages go through without being taxed.

To handle this entire load, officials estimate it would take 390 additional workers at a cost of $3.5 million, but would increase federal customs revenues by $30 million.

Doctors Quit

Smoking

CHICAGO — According to a recent survey, 52 per cent of American doctors do not smoke. Many quit recently due, according to the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, to the conclusive evidence linking cigarettes and lung cancer.

Many doctors gave up smoking without straining their will power thanks to a new tablet which helps to progressively eliminate the need for nicotine and, as a result, the desire to smoke. Less than 2 per cent of the 150,000 people who tried this tablet reported they still smoke!

Smokers interested in receiving information (free) about this new tablet are invited to contact directly the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, Dept. 966-S, 276 Park Avenue South, New York City, 10010.

Abraham Lincoln

16TH PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES
(1809-1865)

"If my personal description of me is thought desirable, it may be said, I am, in height, six feet four inches, nearly; lean in flesh, weighing on an average, one hundred and eighty pounds; dark complexion, with coarse black hair, and grey eyes—no other marks or handy recollection—A. Lincoln"

So penned Mr. Lincoln in partial response to a request for his autobiography. Earlier in his word-sketch, he chronicled his life—from birth in Hardin County, Kentucky—through boyhood in Indiana and Illinois ("There was absolutely nothing to excite ambition for education. Of course when I came of age I did not know much.")—up to the latter half of the 1850s.

"I was losing interest in politics, when the repeal of the Missouri Compromise aroused me again," he continued. "What I have done since then is pretty well known."

With this last, self-effacing remark, it might be safely stated, now, that President Lincoln lived the "American Dream." From humble beginnings to an almost-sanctified national—and international—heroism... and, of course, a very special place in history.

"I was raised to farm work, which I continued till I was twenty two." From age 21, Lincoln tried other occupations: railsplitter, flatboatman, storekeeper-clerk, blacksmith; but found no answers in these pursuits.

Politics: study of law; four terms in the Illinois House of Representatives; admission to that state's bar; a successful law practice in Springfield, Ill.; marriage to Mary Todd of Kentucky—their four sons; a law-firm senior partnership, and rising to the top of the Illinois bar; failure (twice) to be elected to the U.S. Congress; successful election (as a Whig) to the U.S. House of Representatives; and failure as a candidate for a U.S. Senate seat... These were the "normal" events in the life of a 19th-century American lawyer and politician.

Lincoln-Douglas debates in Illinois; Lincoln's nomination in Chicago; his election in 1860 as 16th President of the United States; subsequent outbreak of Civil War in 1861; statesmanship; the Emancipation Proclamation...

Commander-in-Chief... His re-election to the Presidency in 1864, with the war continuing...

This was Abraham Lincoln's life... until it was taken from him by conspiratorial assassination in Ford's Theater, Washington, D.C., April 14, 1865. Lincoln never regained consciousness. He died the following morning, April 15th—Good Friday.

Scholarships For Student Nurses

MARY DIANNE ALDRIDGE

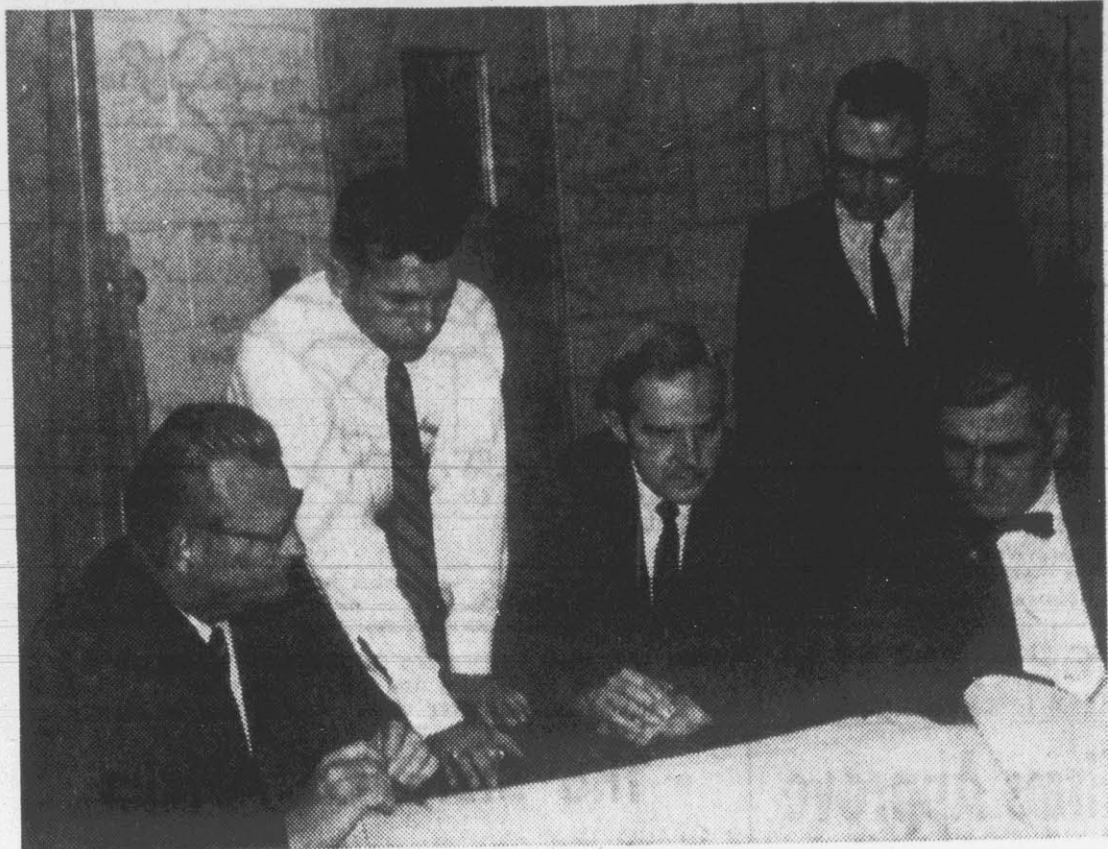

MARY LLOYD WINSLOW

Two rising sophomores in East Carolina University's School of Nursing are the recipients of the 1968 scholarship awards of the Pitt County Medical and Dental Society.

Mary Dianne Aldridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Aldridge of 125 N. Eastern St., Greenville, and Mary Lloyd Winslow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lloyd Winslow of 1807 Greenville Blvd., Greenville, have each been awarded the $500 scholarships.

They were selected on the basis of maturity, ability in nursing and academic excellence. Both are 1967 graduates of J. H. Rose High School in Greenville.

The Pitt County Medical and Dental Society annually awards planning to attend the ECU School of Nursing. Scholarship payments are spread over the period of attendance in the nursing school. Preference is given to residents of Pitt County.

ARCHITECTS MEET — Atwood Skinner of Wilson, Edwin F. Martin Jr., head of the architectural department at Pitt Technical Institute, Robert Sawyer of Wilmington, Barry Lamm of Wilson and Robert Stephens of New Bern met last week to review student work and to discuss the two-year architectural drafting program at PTI. The architects are members of the advisory committee for the program. They reviewed course outlines, employment of graduates, on the job training and visiting lecturers at the session. PTI was the first such institute to set up the two-year architectural drafting program and uses the architects from the Eastern Council of the American Institute of Architects as an advisory committee.

Torino...for people who know there's more to a performance car than painted stripes.

1968 Torino GT Fastback (Top)
1968 Torino GT Hardtop (Bottom)

Anyone can paint stripes on a car. Ford's performance champs earn their stripes the hard way. Torino swept the first five places in the Riverside 500. It's the Pace Car for the Indy 500. It's the hottest-selling new car in the country! Fairlane took first place in its class for braking and for economy in the Union/Pure Oil Performance Trials—in fact, Ford Motor Company cars won more classes than all other manufacturers combined! If it's performance you want, ride with a winner! See the man with Better Ideas... your Ford Dealer.

FACTS ABOUT THE 1968 TORINO

When Torino takes the first five spots in the Riverside 500, first time out, you know it's tough! These cars, of course, were driven by professionals and were modified to meet the special demands of competition. But, the same kind of basic durability and maneuverability are built into every Torino we make. So if you want stripes, get 'em on the car that gives them meaning! Choose from three GT models—fastback, hardtop and convertible.

All with a 289-cu. in. V-8, wall-to-wall carpeting, all-vinyl interiors, styled steel wheels and wide-ovals. Or choose the regular hardtop or 4-door sedan. Like the GT's, they've got a new, longer, 116 in. wheelbase for smoother riding comfort, more room and more trunk space. You can even have a Torino Squire wagon, with 2-way Magic Doorgate. ## Firms Approve Stock Exchange

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—A plan calling for the exchange of stock of Jefferson Standard for stock of Jefferson Pilot Corp. on a share-for-share basis was approved Monday by directors of Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co.

Directors of Jefferson Pilot, a holding company, approved the plan during their organizational meeting immediately afterward.

The plan, after receiving a public hearing, will be submitted to the North Carolina commissioner of insurance for approval.

It will then be subject to approval by the stockholders of Jefferson Standard Life. The 1967 General Assembly passed legislation enabling such an exchange.

W. Roger Sales, president of Jefferson Standard said, "This new corporate structure will afford greater flexibility in the future in promoting growth and expansion of all the companies, and there are possible tax advantages."

When the exchange is completed Jefferson-Pilot will hold all the capital stock of four operating subsidiaries — Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co., Pilot Life Insurance Co., Jefferson Standard Broadcasting Co. and North Carolina Broadcasting Co.

Purchase Site For Future Plant

RALEIGH (AP) — The Chicompe Manufacturing Co. has purchased a 240-acre site at Benson as the site of a future plant. This was announced Monday by Gov. Dan Moore and Benson Mayor Howard Benton.

The State Of Affairs At Winterville High

By TED A. MINTON

Report cards went out last week for the third time this school year. Together with the six week averages the exam grades and half year averages were given also. Few students were privileged enough to be on the honor roll or principal's list for the six weeks much less for the half year. However there were a few who did work hard enough to receive this award.

Honor Roll Students

The following students were on the Honor Roll for the half year: Sherry Corey and Lynn Webster, tenth grade; Rita Sue Hodges and Linda McGowan, ninth grade.

On the Principals List for the half year were: Frances Carroll, Twelfth grade; Wayland Garrison and Blanch Jones, eleventh grade; Derenda Moore and Michael Hazelton, tenth grade; and Deborah Mills, Brenda Jackson, and Sandra Manning, from the ninth grade.

On the six week's Honor Roll were: Bonnie Kinsual, Twelfth grade; Wayland Garrison, eleventh grade; and Rita Sue Hodges, Deborah Mills, Linda McGowan and Sandra Manning, from the ninth grade. On the six week's Principal's List were: Gary Riggs, Linda Tucker, and Frances Carroll, Twelfth Grade; Denise Grimsley, Blanche Jones, and Sandra Sutton, eleventh grade; Lynn Webster and Sherry Corey, tenth grade; and Brenda Jackson and Vickie Allen from the freshman class.

All of these people should be commended for an excellent job.

Homecoming

As the date of February the ninth draws nearer more and more emphasis is being placed on the Homecoming. Four more girls were picked to participate on the occasion and have a chance of becoming the new Homecoming Queen of Winterville High School. Miss Patsy Avery will represent the Student Government Association; Miss Debby Hines, The cheerleaders; Miss Sandy Allen, The High School Chorus; and Miss Debbie Jackson will represent the Future Farmers of America.

This brings the total candidates to eleven. When these eleven lovely young girls and their escorts come out for everyone's view on Homecoming night it will truly be a sight to behold.

Music for the dance, following the game will be furnished by the "Assorted Nuts." We are expecting to have a large number of Alumni.

With the game against Ayden, the Homecoming Events, and the dance, I'm sure the evening will be enjoyable one for everybody.

School Case Is Heard By Court

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Monday heard arguments questioning the freedom-of-choice school desegregation plan in Franklin County, N. C.

Attorney Julius L. Chambers of Charlotte filed a brief claiming the plan perpetuates the dual school system in the county.

The appeal was brought from the U.S. District Court in Raleigh last Aug. 17, which found that the freedom choice plan was ineffective to disestablish the county's segregated school system.

Demanding Jobs On Queen Mary

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The demonstrators picketing the Queen Mary claim the once proud monarch of the Atlantic is still a ship—or a barge.

It's not a building, or just a "thing" they contend. The 100 pickets who demonstrated Monday are members of the AFL-CIO Maritime Trades Department. In the group were sailors, mates, pilots, stewards and other seagoing union members.

Even though the Queen Mary was bought for $3.4 million by the city of Long Beach to become a convention center, museum hotel and cafe complex, the pickets argue she is still a ship—or a barge. Barges do not move under their own power but like ships they are worked by seafaring men, the unions say.

Long Beach, on the contrary, has classified the ship as a building and staffed it with civil service workers. After the museum and the restaurants open, the workers will be members of landlubber unions, the maritime department says.

The maritime unions demand that the few workers now aboard be members of their unions.

A team of 16 scale removers, the only union men now employed in the conversion of the former Cunard liner, walked off their jobs as the pickets began marching at the pier where the Queen is located.

None Injured In Smokestack Fall

RALEIGH (AP)—There were no injuries Monday when a 50-foot, brick-lined, iron smokestack fell from a crane which was removing it from a building at North Carolina State University.

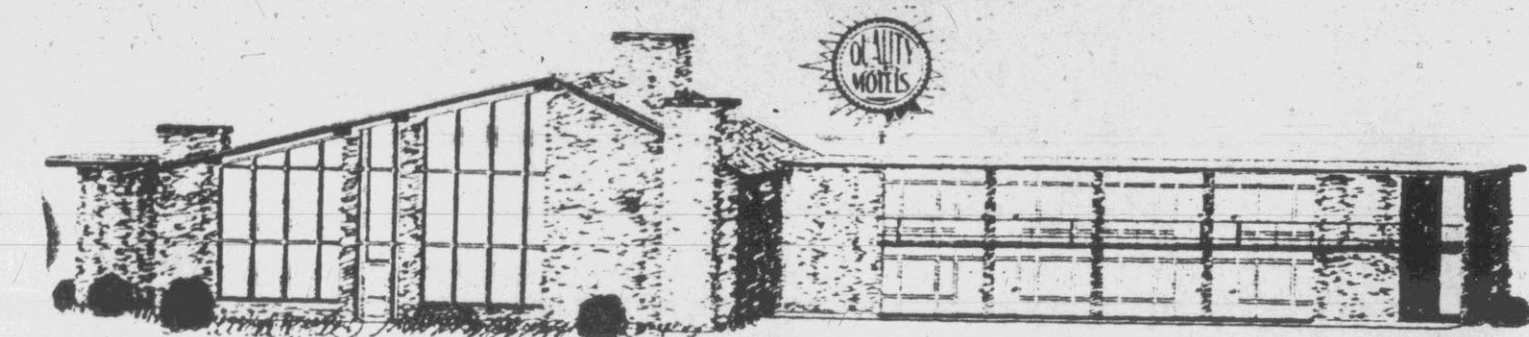

Half the stack plunged through the roof of an unoccupied building and the other half fell outside the building near a sidewalk.

Will Try Parents In Fire Deaths

WINDSOR, N. C. (AP) — The parents of five children who died when fire swept their home near Powellsville last Nov. 25 were to go on trial today or Wednesday on manslaughter charges.

The Bertie County Grand Jury returned a true bill against Ervin Lee Freeman, 27, and his wife, Gladys, 24.

The five children, aged 2 to 7, died when fire destroyed the house where they had been left alone.

NEW CHOCOWINITY MOTEL — This is an artist rendering of a new 76 unit motel scheduled for construction at Chocowinity. Ground-breaking for the facility, to be constructed adjacent to Saleeby's Restaurant, was held yesterday. The Develco, Inc., a motel holding company, is erecting the building. Ed E. Rawl of Greenville is president of the firm, while Steve Van Every is vice president and treasurer. Secretary of the company is Leroy T. Cherry of Grifton. The motel is expected to be completed in four months. The name of the motel will be Quality Court Motel—Washington South.

Coronation, Talent Festival On Friday

Miss Floyd Mae Harris, the reigning Miss Eppes High, will be among the local and visiting queens participating in the second annual Queen's Coronation and Talent Festival on Friday at Eppes High School.

The program will begin at 8 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

Miss Harris and Miss Evelyn Edwards will be hostesses to the visiting band queens and stage bands.

MISS FLOYD MAE HARRIS

A flag girl of the Eppes Marching Bulldogs, she will perform a flag and dance routine. She is the second member of her family to hold the Miss Eppes title. Her sister, Evelean, held the title last year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Harris of Greenville.

Miss Alverta Satterfield and Gerald Ward will be program narrators for the program.

The daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Satterfield of Greenville, Miss Satterfield is president of the Eppes Marching Bulldogs. Ward, son of Mrs. Adie Ward also of Greenville, is vice president.

Miss Shirley Reed will be officially crowned "Eppes High Band Queen" by A. E. Murrell, principal, during ceremonies.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Dillard Reed, Miss Reed will compete for the State Twirling Title in St. Pauls on March 9.

Bands from the following schools will participate in the program: Darden High School, Wilson; Frederick Douglas High School, Elm City; Savannah High School, Grifton.

A variety of dances, solos and comedy stunts are also being planned for the program. The twelve visiting band queens are from schools in the Northeastern District of the N. C. Band and Orchestra Directors Association.

Duke Ellington's Band At Festival

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Duke Ellington and his band and trumpet player Hugh Masekela of Africa will open the Bicentennial Jazz Festival May 10 in Charlotte.

First-night's bill will include pianist Thelonious Monk, singer Nina Simone, flutist Herbie Mann and the Newport All Stars, including Peeewe Russell, clarinet; Bud Freeman, saxophone; Don Lamond, drums; and Ruby Braff, trumpet.

Judge Exum Will Seek Election

RALEIGH (AP) — Superior Court Judge James G. Exum of Greensboro is a candidate for election to the post to which he was appointed last year by Gov. Dan Moore.

Exum, 32, paid a $200 fee Monday as a candidate for the democratic nomination in the 18th judicial district.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., says it's a false impression that France is this nation's chief debtor and has a relatively poor repayment record.

He urged Congress to review the total debt owed the United States by other countries rather than single out France because of "pique and frustration."

In the eyes of many Europeans, Fulbright said in a Senate speech, congressional demands for repayment of French war debts "are not seen as expressions of justifiable indignation but as a resort to demagoguery compounded by ignorance or misrepresentation of the facts."

He said Great Britain owed the United States $7.3 billion from World War I, compared with France's $5 billion. He said France has reduced to $300 million its balance of loans totaling $2.4 billion during and after World War II.

World War I payments were suspended during the depression and never resumed.

Tornadoes killed 117 persons in the United States last year, the Environmental Science Services Administration reports. The worst outbreak of tornadoes occurred in Belvidere, Ill., and the Chicago suburbs last April 21, killing 60 persons in five states and injuring 1,000 in Illinois alone.

President Johnson has proclaimed March as Red Cross Month and urged national support for the organization's Support Our Servicemen fund-raising campaign.

The Navy has stepped up recruitment of Seabees—its combat carpenters and builders—to offset an expected sharp increase in the number of personnel soon to end Vietnam duty tours.

very special tobacco

LOW IN "TAR" AND NICOTINE

According to published figures, TRYON is among the very lowest: 11.30 mg. "tar" and 0.90 mg. nicotine average per cigarette. Only the first three primings—the tobacco that ripens first—are used in TRYONS. This tobacco is naturally lower in "tar" and nicotine.

UNUSUALLY EFFECTIVE FILTER

The full flavor of TRYONS' natural tobacco taste comes through, but the TRYON filter is a major factor in reducing the "tar" and nicotine in the smoke. Even with this efficient filter, TRYONS are surprisingly easy on the draw.

REGULAR OR MENTHOL

Look for this distinctive design—gold on yellow for regular TRYONS, silver on turquoise for Menthol. Whichever you prefer, pick up a carton and discover the full-flavored satisfaction of smoking very special tobacco; you may never switch again. TRYON... the cigarette you can really enjoy.

INSECTICIDE-FREE TOBACCO*

VERY SPECIAL TOBACCO means naturally mild, low in "tar" and nicotine, and grown without the use of harmful insecticide poisons. *Less than 1 part per million.

WHY "LIMITED"?

The very special tobacco of TRYON is scarce, and more expensive. Naturally light and mild, it is the secret of TRYONS' natural tobacco taste. That is why TRYONS will always be in limited supply, and why they command a premium price.

Pirates Seeking Revenge For Loss To Richmond

Top Three Remain Unchanged In Poll

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New Mexico State Aggies, the only new team among the Top Ten in the latest Associated Press college basketball poll, get a chance to move up further in the standings Wednesday night when they take on sixth-rated New Mexico. It's the one game this week matching ranking teams.

The Aggies were beaten by New Mexico 71-64 on Jan. 6, but have been defeated only one other time while winning 17 Ohio State beat them, 78-75, on Dec. 19.

New Mexico's 17-game winning streak came to an end Saturday night when the Lobos lost to Arizona, 69-68. The result dropped them from fourth to sixth in the rankings.

The unbeaten Houston Cougars held first place in the poll, but their margin over runner-up UCLA was trimmed to eight points.

The Cougars collected 25 votes for No. 1 and 322 points. UCLA drew eight votes for the top spot and 314 points on a basis of 10 points for a first-place, 9 for second etc. Houston led by 23 points last week.

Houston plays Centenary Saturday while UCLA takes on Oregon State Friday and Oregon Saturday.

North Carolina, which accumulated 263 points in the balloting by a national panel of 34 sports writers and broadcasters, held third place.

St. Bonaventure climbed one notch to fourth. The Bonnies are followed by Tennessee, New Mexico, Columbia, Kentucky, Vanderbilt and New Mexico State.

Tennessee and Columbia each advanced one place while Kentucky moved up from 10th to eighth. Vanderbilt, beaten by Florida, slipped from seventh to ninth.

Duke, ninth a week ago, dropped from the ratings after its losses to South Carolina.

North Carolina faces Virginia Tuesday, Wake Forest Thursday and Virginia Tech Saturday. St. Bonaventure, which has won 16 games, will be seeking to extend its unbeaten record against Providence Saturday.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, through games of Sat. Feb. 3:

|                      |     |
|----------------------|-----|
| 1. Houston (25)      | 322 |
| 2. UCLA (8)          | 314 |
| 3. North Carolina    | 263 |
| 4. St. Bonaventure   | 202 |
| 5. Tennessee         | 180 |
| 6. New Mexico        | 158 |
| 7. Columbia          | 91  |
| 8. Kentucky          | 77  |
| 9. Vanderbilt        | 47  |

Davidson Tests Lead At Furman

Davidson takes its brand new Southern Conference basketball lead to Furman tonight with the rest of the league waiting anxiously to see how potent the Wildcats will look away from their familiar haunts.

The Wildcats sit astride the standings with a 5-1 record—but all the victories thus far have come either on their home court or at their home away from home, the Charlotte Coliseum.

And in their only excursion to the home court of another SC team, they were waylaid by West Virginia for their only league setback.

Davidson walloped the Pal-adins 95-68 in an earlier meeting on Dec. 5, so there's scarcely any reason to anticipate an upset tonight. Further dimming Furman's prospects is the fact that since the exam break, the Paladins are having to do without academically ineligible Don Webster, who scored 31 points in the December game.

The Wildcat-Paladin collision is the only game on the program tonight for Southern Conference clubs.

Monday night, amazing VMI took sole possession of third place in the standings with a 6-3 SC record by clipping William and Mary 68-62 at Lexington.

Greenville P&M Ices Title Tie

Greenville Parts & Metal cinched at least a tie for the Industrial League title with a 63-44 victory over Collins & Aikman last night. In the other game, Union Carbide downed Carolina Tel. 49-44.

In the opener, Union Carbide pulled away to a 26-17 lead in the first half, then held off a Carolina Tel rally and the Linemen came back to outscore Union Carbide, 27-23 in the first half.

Immanuel Ups Church Lead

Immanuel Baptist carried on unbeaten in last night's Church League basketball games. Immanuel downed Oakmont, 55-39, while Piney Grove downed Grace FWB, 54-49.

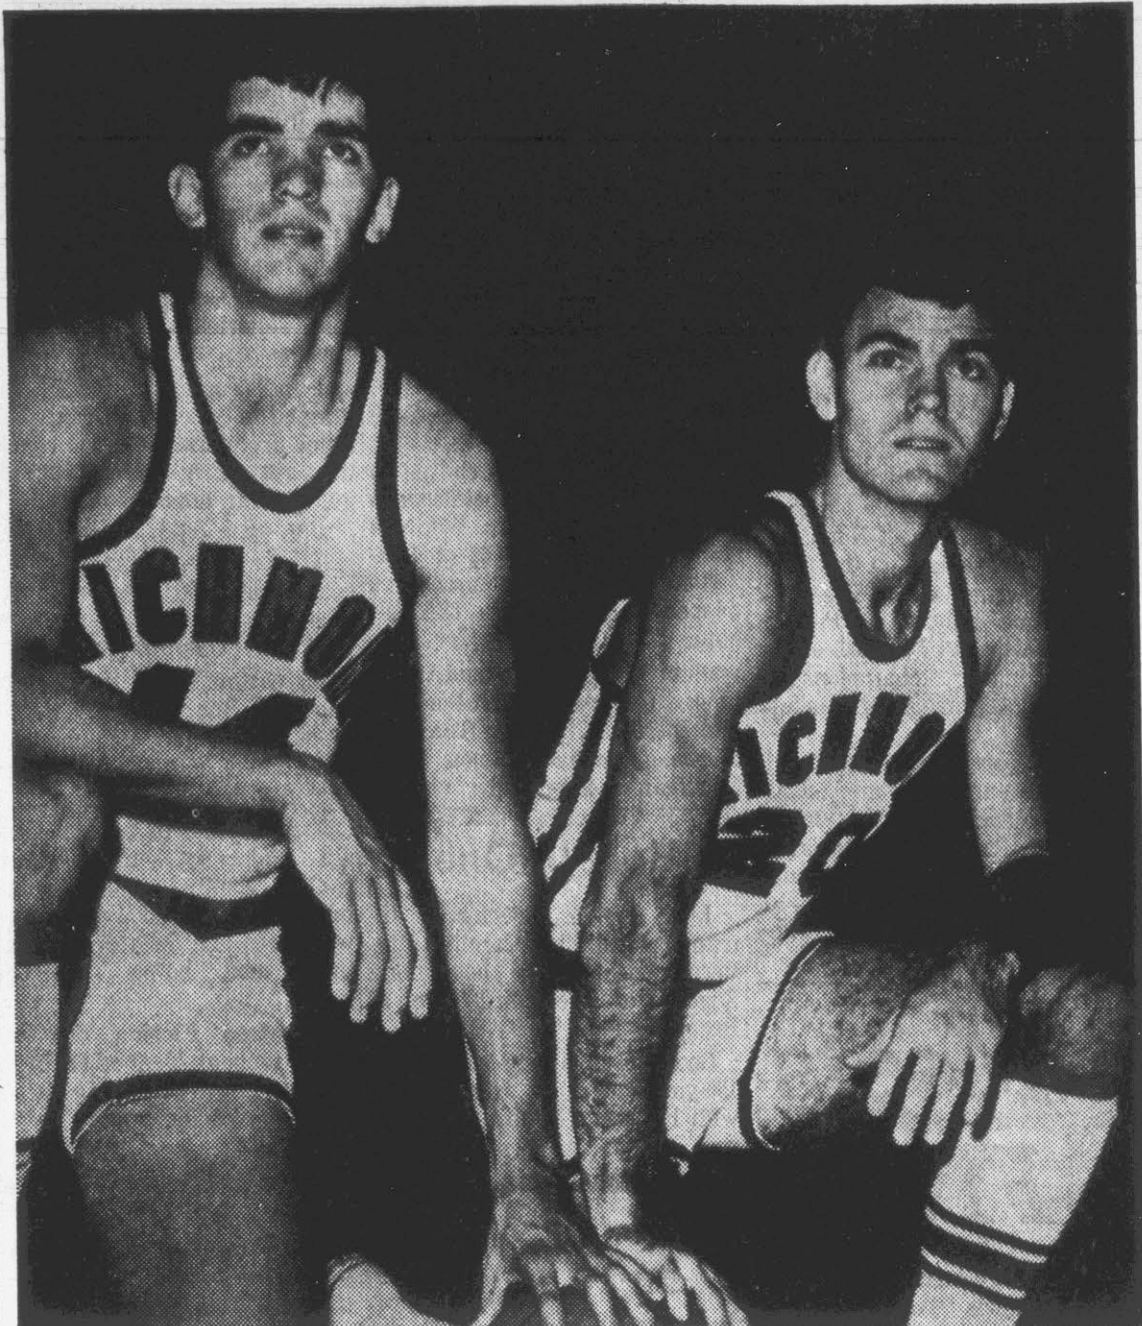

In the opener, Immanuel edged out into a slim 20-18 lead by the end of the first half, then shot away to outscore Oakmont, 35-21, in the final period for the victory.

Oakmont was led by Parrot with 22 points, while Gold had 18 and Tadlock had 17 for Immanuel.

Piney Grove moved out into a 24-18 lead in the first half of the second contest, and then had to hold off Grace in the second half, for the victory. Grace outscored, 31-30, in the last stanza.

Dasher led Piney Grove with 16, while Nichols had 12 and Besswell had 11. Christ led Grace with 20 points, while Jackson had 12 and Mercer had 10.

Immanuel is now 8-0, while Piney Grove is three games back at 5-3. Oakmont is 2-6, with Grace last at 1-7.

TESTS PIRATES — Richmond's Spiders will visit Minges Coliseum tomorrow night to give East Carolina University another Southern Conference test. The Bucs lost earlier to Richmond after blowing a 19-point lead. Picot Frazier, left, and Kenny Foster, will be two of the Spiders who will be leading the charge against the Bucs.

Olympics Open Amid Multitude Of Problems

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle of France opens the 10th Winter Olympics today — Games shrouded with problems even before an athlete bids for a medal.

The International Ski Federation's decision to allow manufacturers' names to be used on skis has produced the biggest controversy.

Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, heard the decision and immediately called an emergency meeting for today of his 10-man executive board to discuss the problem.

Earlier in the week, the Ski Federation had said that trade marks would be barred from the Olympics and Brundage, a disciple of complete amateurism in the Olympics, said that any athlete breaking the rule would be thrown out of the Olympics.

But about an hour later, the Ski Federation, under pressure from team captains, reversed itself and said it would allow trade marks to be used.

No Help Here

The Lord helps those who help themselves. But Christ hasn't been able to make the Free Will Baptists winners.

Christ is a member of the Grace Free Will Baptist Church's team in the City Recreation Department's Church League. Last night, he poured in 20 points to pace his team, but they lost again, for a 1-7 last place record.

Christ, who's first name is Ron, pronounces it like "wrist."

Rumors spread around Grenoble that it was possible that skiing events—instead of being Olympic events—would be called world championships.

In championships outside the Olympics, skiers are allowed to use the names of manufacturers on their skis without any problems.

Brundage refused to comment and simply said: "We have our meeting arranged and you must wait to see what the decisions are."

At another meeting—called by the Russians—Yuri Mashin, president of the Central Committee of Soviet Sports Delegations, told more than 100 newsmen preparing to cover the games: "The Soviet sportsmen are profoundly disgusted by the American aggression in Vietnam."

An American reporter asked whether it was "right and proper" to introduce political matters at a news conference concerned with sport. "Questions of peace and war are not only political questions," Mashin replied. "They are of vital importance to everyone, particularly in the world of sports."

There were several mishaps as athletes completed training for the Games.

Robin Morning, a 20-year-old American skier from Santa Monica, Calif., suffered a broken right leg training for the women's downhill race.

'Improved' Teams Meet In Important Contest

East Carolina University's Pirates will be looking for revenge Wednesday night as they return to Minges Coliseum to meet the Richmond Spiders in a Southern Conference basketball game.

The Pirates lost to Richmond, 90-83, early in the season, in their first road contest, after blowing a 19-point first half lead. Since then, both teams have shown a lot of improvement and Coach Tom Quinn of ECU is hoping that his team will be more improved.

The Spiders will be bringing an 8-8 record into Minges Coliseum, and a 5-5 Southern Conference mark. The Bucs are 5-12 overall and 3-5 in the conference.

East Carolina will be coming into the game after what Quinn calls "the best effort since I've been coaching here." Against Florida State on Saturday, the Bucs lost, 110-100. But the Bucs were up against one of the best teams in the nation, and came back from 21 points down to within nine near the finish. "I thought we played two fine games last year, the opener against West Virginia, and our win over Virginia Tech, but this game was a better one."

Turning to tomorrow's game, Quinn said that he felt the Bucs were a much better team than the one which lost to Richmond earlier in the year. "Our morale and hustle are greatly improved," he said. "We're pointing for our conference games and getting ready for the tournament. We were disappointing in losing in Richmond, and our boys feel they should have won."

Quinn said that Richmond has shown great improvement, and that this was an important game for both teams. "Our players remember the first game, and are going to be out to get them this time."

The Spiders won their last two starts in very shaky condition. They edged Furman, 71-70, and inched by George Washington, 81-79, scoring eight points in the last 61 seconds of the latter game.

They are led by Wilton Ford, a 6-6 junior who may be one of the conference's most improved players. In his past six games, he's averaged 24 points per game. His season mark is now 18.2, and he joins two other Spiders in double figures. Picot Frazier, 14.3, and Kenny Foster, 13.4. Overall, Richmond has averaged 79.1 points per game, while giving up 84.3. They have also been outrebounded, 41.1 to 50.4, and have been outshot from both the floor and the line. Despite this, however, they have built up one of the better marks in the conference.

Earl Thompson, who has led the way most of the season, returned to the top scorers position Saturday with 19 against Florida State. He holds a 15.4 average, while Charlie Alford is next at 15.2. Vince Colbert had a 13.9 average and Jim Modlin is hitting 10.7.

Guard Tom Miller, with 23 points against the Seminoles, had his best game, and pulled his average up to 9.8 for the year.

The Bucs are averaging 76.5 points per game, but are giving up 80.9. They are just outrebounding their opponents, and have a better floor percentage, and are hitting 70 per cent of their free throws.

And despite this, the Bucs still have a losing mark for the year.

The game may go a long way in determining what position the Bucs will hold going into the tournament. Right now, they are in seventh position, and a win could help them boost their way into an upper division slot. Game time is 8 p.m. The freshman teams of the two schools meet in a preliminary at 5:50 p.m.

Mathis Sure Of Winning

NEW YORK (AP) — If Buster Mathis beat Joe Frazier twice in the amateurs, why is he a 2-1 underdog in a battle of undeveloped pros for New York's version of the world heavyweight crown.

That is the question that is puzzling Mathis these days as he prepares for the March 4 match with Frazier as part of a unusual title doubleheader on the first boxing show at the new Madison Square Garden.

"I learn something new every time I fight," said Mathis who has trained down from a blubbery 310 in 1964 to a mere 250 pounds. "People say Frazier has been fighting good opponents. I don't see it that way."

"The only way he's changed is that he is more confident. I do have a great deal of respect for him. If I don't beat him he'll go all the way."

Mathis suffered a broken hand in a second winning bout with Frazier in California in 1964, a few months after he had won the Olympic heavyweight berth on the U.S. team by beating Frazier in New York. As a result, he went to the Olympics in Tokyo as a spectator.

"Sure, I rooted for Joe," said Mathis. "He is a good puncher. He worked hard, got knocked down and got up."

"This time I'll fight him a lot different. He's more confident now and he is going to make a lot more mistakes. If he makes mistakes I'll knock him out."

Frazier and Mathis came to town from training camp with the other principals, including middleweight champ Emile Griffith and ex-champ Nino Benvenuti, for a contract signing at the new Garden.

NFL Title Worth $8,000 To Packers; Cowboys Received $5,999 In Loss

NEW YORK (AP) — The Green Bay Packers received $7,950.96 each and the Dallas Cowboys got $5,878.90 each full shares of the Dec. 31 National Football League championship game.

The official receipts, announced today by Art Modell, NFL president, sent the Packers' post-season pay close to $25,000 a man.

They got $15,000 for winning the Super Bowl game, plus a day's pay (1-14 of their season salary) for beating Los Angeles in the divisional playoff, unofficially estimated at about $1,500. They also will get a day's pay for next summer's College All-Star game in Chicago.

Green Bay voted 51 shares and Dallas 45 shares for the game won by the Packers 21-17 in 13-below zero weather. The winning share was the third highest in league history, exceeded by Green Bay's $9,813.63 in 1966 and Cleveland's $8,052 in 1964. Dallas' share was the second best for losers, topped only by the $6,527.85 they collected last year in their own Cotton Bowl.

Gross receipts were $2,582,578, including $2 million for television and radio rights. The NFL Bert Bell Player Benefit Plan received $575,000 and $425,000 went into pension plans for coaches and other club personnel.

The NFL estimated that each Packer who has been with Green Bay during Vince Lombardi's nine-year reign as coach, earned an estimated $85,000 in postseason money. Players with Green Bay the last two years earned $47,764.59 each, plus three extra game salaries.

Ryan Will Meet Patrick In Mile

NEW YORK (AP) — The match is made. Jim Ryan WILL meet Dave Patrick in the mile in Friday's U.S. Track and Field Federation meet. It must be admitted, though, that even Patrick wasn't sure about it until the last minute.

"What are you doing, Dave?" somebody asked over a telephone hookup to Villanova Monday.

"I'm running the mile Friday, right coach?" Patrick said to Jim Elliott, the Villanova track mentor.

"What are you asking him for?" shouted Elliott.

But, yes, Elliott gave his okay and Patrick will meet Ryan, the world-record holder in the mile, for the second time. The only other time they met, Patrick was the winner of the 880 at the NCAA indoor championships last year, setting a world indoor record.

Ryan's best indoor time is 3:58.6, set at that same NCAA meet. Patrick's best is 3:59.3 last year. Patrick has run faster than Ryan this season—though he hasn't won at a mile—although Ryan has not had any real competition.

Carolina Meets Virginia Five

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Exams are over and basketball action resumes tonight when North Carolina takes on Virginia in an Atlantic Coast Conference contest.

The Tar Heels currently boast a perfect 4-0 mark in ACC play. All other conference clubs already have lost two games.

Also on tonight's schedule, Maryland travels to Durham for a tilt with Duke.

With only a two-day rest, the busy Tar Heels will play at Forest Thursday then journey back to Chapel Hill Saturday for a battle with Virginia which will be regionally televised.

Carolina's Larry Miller, who has hit for 354 points in 15 games for an average of 23.60 Mike Lewis of Duke with an 23.64 average in this week's statistics. Lewis has scored 331 points in 14 games for an average of 23.6.

The Duke Cagers embark on a crucial five-day road trip this week that includes stops in New York and Chicago.

They play Southern Illinois in New York at Madison Square Garden, and in the Windy City Duke tangles with Notre Dame.

Duke's ACC battle with South Carolina Saturday, Feb. 24, has already been sold out says Red Smith, Duke business manager. He says there are not even any singles remaining for the second meeting of the season between the Blue Devils and the Gamecocks.

Duke will try to even the score with the plucky Gamecocks, who defeated them 83-80 at Columbia.

Tennessee Halts LSU, Pistol Pete With Mere 21 Point Game

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tennessee put it, show on the road, came up with a big hit and now a few more encores and they can have the Southeastern Conference basketball title. But the audiences and teams might not be as easy to get by.

The Volunteers shuffled Pete Maravich off center stage Monday night and clobbered Louisiana State 87-67 in the first game of a four-game road trip through the SEC.

The victory left the fifth-ranked Vols with a 9-1 conference mark, 15-2 overall and a two-game lead over Florida, which beat Alabama 64-59 on the road.

Kentucky and Vanderbilt, two other ranked SEC hopefuls, also showed well as the Wildcats belted Mississippi 78-62 at Lexington and the Commodores tripped tough Georgia 82-77 at home.

Ohio State, 5-1 and 12-4, nipped Indiana 78-77 on the road and increased its Big Ten lead to one game over Illinois while Michigan outscored visiting Minnesota 113-101 in another league game.

In the Big Eight, Kansas State and Nebraska pulled into a three-way first place tie with Iowa State at 5-2 as the Wildcats trimmed Missouri 69-67 at home and the Cornhuskers dropped host Oklahoma 89-83. Kansas ran its record to 4-2 with a 52-50 edge over visiting Oklahoma State.

In other games, Memphis State downed North Texas State 67-65 and Oklahoma City swamped Centenary 117-92 in road victories.

Tennessee, using its height and the scoring of Bill Justus, jumped to an early lead as LSU failed from the field for almost the first six minutes with Maravich being double teamed.

With Maravich, the nation's leading scorer, being held to a season low of 21 points with nine field goals in 34 attempts.

Justus finished with 29 points and Tom Boerwinkle 16 with 21 rebounds as the Vols breezed, but coming games are not expected to be so easy.

The Vols travel next to Georgia Saturday, then eighth-ranked Kentucky Monday and finally ninth-rated Vanderbilt a week from Saturday before their next home conference game.

Unranked Florida, the only team to beat Tennessee in the conference after losing to the Vols, raised its record to 11-3 and 14-6.

Kentucky, 8-3 and 14-4, turned a 27-all tie into a 40-35 halftime lead and then pulled away when Mississippi went without a field goal for nearly seven minutes midway in the last half. Dan Issell paced the Wildcats with 20 points.

Tom Hagan scored 29 points for Vanderbilt, but it was Kenny

Campbell's nine points in the last three minutes when Georgia came within two that put the game out of reach. Vandy now is 7-4 and 15-4.

Rich Travis of Oklahoma City put on one of the night's best individual performances by dropping in 42 points as the Chiefs boosted their record to 15-4.

Ford Announces Daytona Lineup

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. 1963. (AP)—Ford Motor Co. said today its car lineup in the Feb. 25 Daytona 500 stock car race will include four Ford Torino fastbacks and three Mercury Montegos.

In addition, there will be a fourth Montego independent of the factory team but which is expected to be equally competitive in the $200,000 race, richest on the NASCAR circuit.

The factory team Fords will be driven by A. J. Foyt, Donnie and Bobby Allison and David Pearson. The Mercury entries will be handled by Cale Yarborough, Lee Roy Yarbrough and Mario Andretti, winner of the event last year.

The independent Mercury was entered by Valdosta, Ga., sportsman Jon Thorne. It will be driven by veteran Tiny Lund, winner of the Daytona 500 in Speedway officials also expect day its car lineup in the Feb. 25 Daytona 500 stock car race will include four Ford Torino fastbacks and three Mercury Montegos.

The Ford factory contingent planned to move into the speedway this afternoon to begin practice runs Wednesday.

Andretti's Mercury also belongs to Holman-Moody, while the Woods brothers of Stuart, Va., own the Yarbrough entry and Junior Johnson of Ronda, N.C., owns the Yarbrough car.

Earl Shines In Winston

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Earl Monroe came home to Winston-Salem, N.C., and it was like he had never been away.

More Bullets poured in 32 more Bilets poured in 32 points, leading Baltimore to a 121-108 National Basketball Association victory over San Diego Monday night.

In the only other game played, Seattle nipped Cincinnati 132-129 in overtime. In the ABA, Houston edged New Jersey 109-107 and Kentucky downed Minnesota 95-86.

Earl the Pearl led the country's small college scorers playing for Winston-Salem's NCAA college division champions last year. So the home town folks knew what to expect when he came to town with the Bullets.

Monroe didn't disappoint them. He hit on 10 field goals and 12 of 14 free throws. It was the ninth time in the last 10 games that he scored more than 30 points in a game.

In Phoenix, Ariz., Walt Hazard triggered Seattle's overtime victory over Cincinnati with a 45-point output, including nine in the extra period. Hazard equalled a personal career high with 15 of 26 field goal tries and 15 of 16 free throws.

The Royals, playing without injured Oscar Robertson, overcame an 88-62 deficit and caught Seattle with two seconds to go on Walt Wesley's basket. Tom Van Arsdale, recently acquired from Detroit, sparked the Royals' comeback, scoring all of his 24 points in the second half.

Adrian Smith topped the Royals with 28 points.

Kentucky Halts Minnesota Drive

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Only last-place Kentucky stood between the Minnesota Muskies and a share of first place, but the Colonels wouldn't step aside.

Kentucky stunned the Muskies 95-86 Monday night at Louisville and dropped Minnesota one game back of Pittsburgh in the Eastern Division of the American Basketball Association. A victory would have virtually tied the Muskies with the Pipers.

In the only other game, last-place Houston of the Western Division surprised visiting New Jersey 109-107.

In the National Basketball Association, Baltimore crushed San Diego 121-108 and Seattle outlasted Cincinnati, 132-129 in overtime.

Kentucky's victory did the Colonels some good as they picked up a game on New Jersey and now rest 3½ games in the cellar. The Colonels broke a 32-32 tie and led the rest of the way as Darel Carrier scored 31 points and Louie Dampier 22.

Union Plans Defy Lindsay Orders To Remove Accumulated Garbage

NEW YORK (AP) — The Hospital Employees Union has been instructed to defy a city move to remove accumulated garbage at 71 New York hospitals as city sanitation men press their four-day-old strike in defiance of the courts.

Mayor John V. Lindsay Monday ordered Hospital Department drivers to man the idle sanitation trucks today and remove the trash and garbage from municipal and voluntary hospitals under "full police protection."

Union officials said their members would be instructed to defy the order.

"We are not going to be used as strikebreakers," said Nick Cifuni, division director of the AFL-CIO American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees. "We will instruct our members not to cross picket lines."

The Uniformed Sanitationmen's Association, a Teamsters Union affiliate, was due in State Supreme Court today to show cause why it should not be found in contempt for failing to obey a no-strike order issued Friday.

State law prohibits strikes by public employees and the city sought to have the union fined up to $10,000 a day and lose its dues collection privilege under that statute.

The law also provides jail terms for leaders of striking unions but the city did not ask prison penalties.

Lindsay issued his order to the drivers after Health Department officials declared a limited emergency affecting the hospitals where accumulations "are particularly hazardous because of the infectious nature of the waste."

As the waste of a great city piled up at the rate of 10,000 tons a day, the mayor was asked if he had any plans to seek National Guard aid in the strike.

Lindsay said that his staff had been in close contact with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's staff over the "increasingly serious" health problem but added there were "no present plans" to call the guard.

State Supreme Court Justice Saul S. Streit issued a temporary injunction against the strike Monday after declaring: "It is an illegal strike to the detriment of the public—eight million men, women and children."

Union lawyer Paul O'Dwyer said he would appeal the back-to-work order commenting: "This kind of mischievousness and interference by the court has never settled a strike."

The 10,000-member union walked off the job Friday in the

Deposits Are Up In State Banks

RALEIGH (AP)—Deposits of North Carolina state banks showed a net increase of $305.6 million during 1967, State Banking Commissioner Frank Harrelson said Monday.

Harrelson said time deposits rose by $171.1 million and demand deposits increased $105.2 million.

He said as of last Dec. 30 resources of the banks had reached $3.8 billion for a gain of $382.9 million during the year.

According to Harrelson, other loans and discounts increased by $111.6 million to total $1.9 billion while obligations of state and political subdivisions rose by $116.2 million to a total of $3.8 billion.

Harrelson reported there were 103 state banks with 556 branches at the end of 1967 compared with 110 banks and 513 branches a year ago. Mergers accounted for the difference.

The first tournament of the Professional Bowlers Association was held May 22, 1959, in Albany, N.Y.

New Consistory Expected As Another Cardinal Dies

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Another cardinal of the Roman Catholic Church has died, and as usual speculation is growing that Pope Paul VI will soon call a consistory to create more princes of the church. The conclave is expected before Easter, April 14.

Paul Marie Cardinal Richaud, archbishop of Bordeaux, France, died Monday. He was the eighth since the consistory last June 26 at which the Pope increased the Sacred College to a record membership of 118.

Another major archbishopric was left vacant by the death in December of Francis Cardinal Spellman. His archdiocese of New York is the church's richest in the United States.

Vatican observers expect the Pope to fill the Bordeaux and

New York posts before long, as well as the archbishoprics of Montreal and of Zagreb, Yugoslavia.

Because of the importance of the posts, the appointees probably will be cardinals or will be elevated soon after they are chosen.

The archdiocese of Montreal, the largest in Canada and in the British Commonwealth, was headed by Paul Emile Cardinal Leger, who resigned and went to Africa in December to work as a missionary among lepers.

The archbishop of Zagreb, Franjo Cardinal Seper, was transferred to the Vatican last month to head the Sacred Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith.

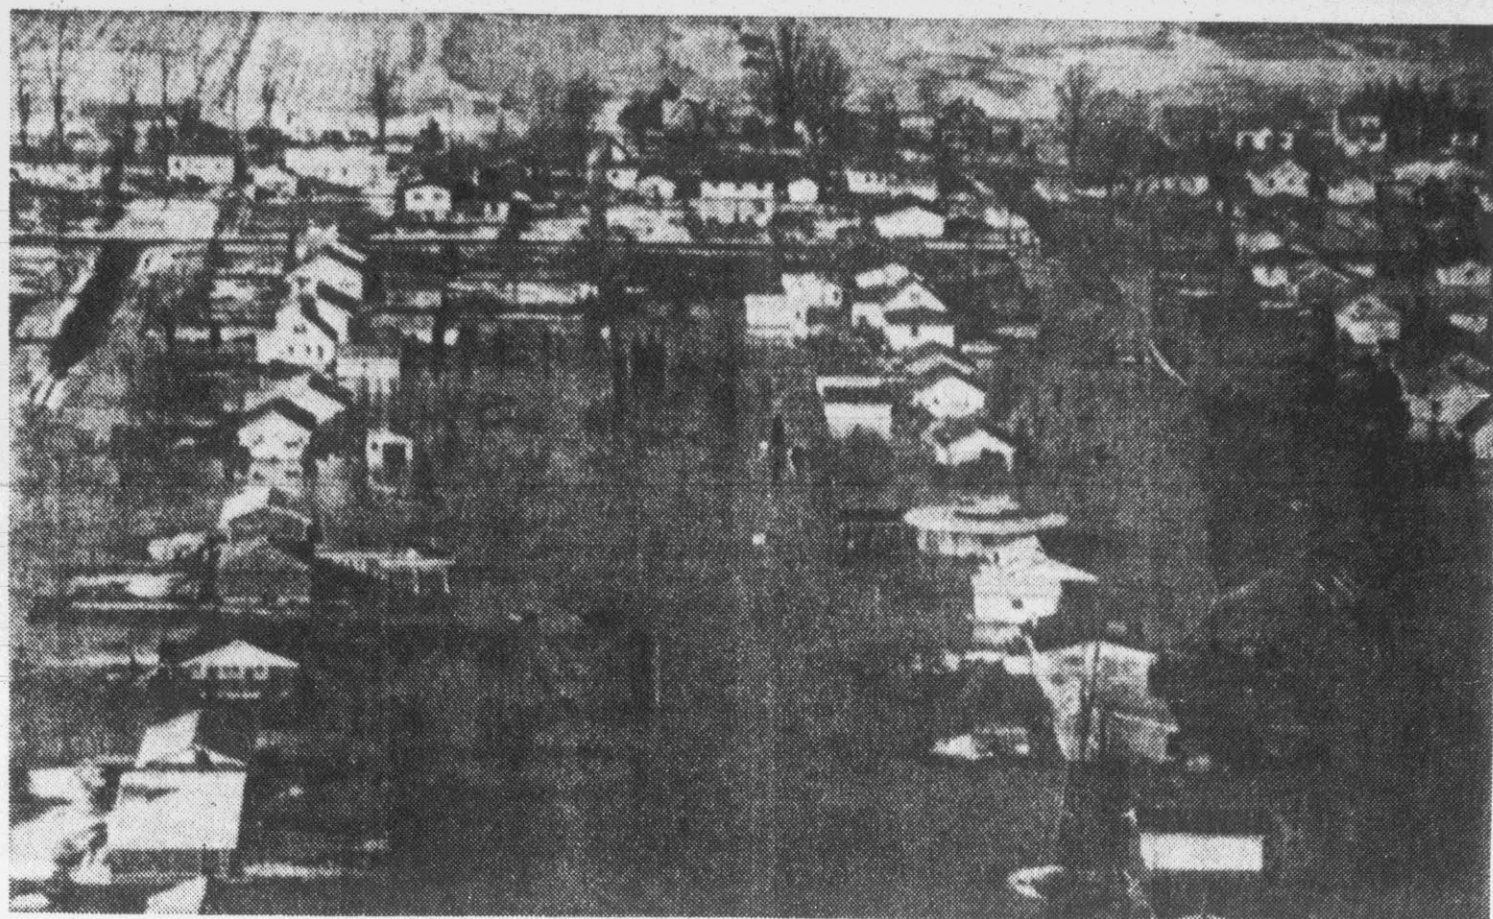

Some of the cardinals who have died since the last consistory were longtime members of the Curia, the church's central administration at the Vatican. Pope Paul is reorganizing the Curia to put younger prelates with more modern ideas into key posts. Most such posts are traditionally filled by cardinals, and this adds to the prospects for a consistory soon.

With many changes underway in the Curia and with the church's needs expanding around the world, Pope Paul is expected to elevate a score or more prelates to the cardinalate, enlarging the Sacred College once again to record size.

Plans Pro-Peking Party In Britain

LONDON (AP) — A leader of Britain's second biggest trade union says he plans to start a pro-Peking Communist party in Britain this spring.

Reg Birch of the Amalgamated Engineering Union said the new party would be based exclusively on the working classes and would contain no members of the "intelligentsia" on its governing bodies.

THOUSANDS HOMELESS IN ONTARIO FLOODS — Rising waters of the Sydenham River have left thousands homeless in the southwestern Ontario town of Wallaceburg. More than three feet of water covers the town streets. The mayor says half of the town's 11,000 population may be forced from their homes before the waters recede. The nearby town of Dresden is also flooded and the city of Chatham is threatened by water 17 feet above normal. (CP Wirephoto)

Some Businessmen Upset By Washington's Goals

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Though seldom very charitable in their comments on government fiscal planning, some businessmen now are unusually upset by what they feel are unrealistic goals and poor planning by Washington.

That at least is an evaluation of random conversations, publications and statements by or with members of the business and financial community here, and with others who were attending business conventions and conferences.

The coming year's budget, they feel, is based on shifting sands. It is predicated on the assumption that military and defense costs will level off, that the 10 per cent surtax will be approved and that corporate profits will rise.

At least two of these factors, taxes and defense spending, have disrupted the economy in very recent years. Defense expenditures were badly underestimated in 1966, and in retrospect, many economists now are certain taxes should have been raised in 1966.

Both of these elements were antecedent to the inflation that is now eroding a seven-year economic expansion. An unexpected $10-billion rise in defense spending set the fires of inflation. But some business economists feel that the resulting damage could have been lessened by raising taxes. No tax proposal was made.

Now, in a somewhat different context, the economy faces the same question marks of military spending and taxes, and in the opinion of informed economists and businessmen, the nation is threatened all over again.

Among smart business managers today, advance planning toward specific goals is considered essential.

This is not to say that international Business Machines, Ford Motor or General Dynamics cannot make multimillion dollar errors. They have, but usually they manage to avoid the same mistake in consecutive years.

But what is considered an even more disturbing revelation of ambling is that the administration is just now getting ready to study the formation of a new wage-price machinery, presumably to replace the guidance of the Federal Reserve.

Businessmen sometimes have criticized guideposts as unfair and an intrusion. But, with price-wage stability so obviously of prime importance to the administration, businessmen feel it is late to begin tackling the problem.

These guides have been dead since 1966, when wage and price increases, including some sanctioned by the government itself, battered them. But, perhaps reluctantly, even business does recognize they had some stabilizing effect.

The number of motorcycles in the United States has increased 220 per cent since 1961.

Ex-Pitcher Announces Running For Congress

LEXINGTON, N.C. (AP) — The valiant American boys in Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, 37-year-old former big league, baseball pitcher, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the 5th District seat in Congress.

Mizell made his debut in politics two years ago when he was elected to the Davidson County Commission. He led the ticket and was named board chairman.

Mizell said at a news conference today that he was entering the race because "I can do more for the America I love as a member of the United States House of Representatives than an individual in private life."

He retired from baseball in 1962 after pitching with the St. Louis Cardinals, Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Mets. A sore arm ended his career. He acquired his nickname from his birthplace, Vinegar Bend, Ala.

He moved to Winston-Salem, where he had pitched in his minor league years, and took a sales management and public relations job with a soft drink company. He, his wife and their two sons live in Davidson County.

Mizell said in his announcement, "A new president can get us out of this tangled web of Vietnam quicker and better than the man who got us in; namely, L.B.J. But until then, the finest weapons and the greatest support that an American nation can give."

He also called for restoration of law and order and support of law enforcement officers, saying, "We cannot wait for law and order until everybody is made rich and lives in a fine house with a large annual income."

Mizell pledged support of the re-establishment of a sound economy, "eliminating all waste, all non-essentials" all parasites."

After his announcement, Mizell left Lexington to meet supporters in Ashe and Alleghany counties. He planned to return to Lexington tonight for a dinner rally at the General Sink Armory.

Mizell was the third candidate to enter the 5th District race. Earlier, Republican Dr. Eldon Nielson and Democrat Smith Bagley announced their candidacy.

Says Beef Is A Lot Of Baloney

NEW YORK (AP) — The beef made by a critic about the city's hot dogs and hamburgers is a lot of baloney, says Markets Commissioner Gerard M. Weisberg.

Ralph Nader, a critic for consumer causes ranging from automobiles to X-ray machines recently charged he would not eat hot dogs and other processed meats in New York because they are made of substandard materials.

Weisberg countered: "I love all meat products sold in New York City, including the much maligned hamburger and frankfurter."

The 15th wedding anniversary is traditionally called the crystal anniversary.

A Problem With 2-Headed Calf

ARGONIA Kan. (AP) — The Arthur Drouhard family has a double feeding problem since the birth of a two-headed calf last week.

The heads are joined at the forehead, there are two sets of eyes, two noses, and two mouths.

The Drouhards are bottle-feeding the calf, which seems to do better with two bottles at once.

Opening lead: King of ♣

Altho there is usually little drama associated with the play of a part score, West and South turned the latter's two heart contract into a real battle of wits and the resulting dogfight was not decided until the last possible moment.

West opened the king of clubs and the defense proceeded to win the first three tricks in that suit—East played the ace on the second lead and returned the jack which West overtook with the queen.

A shift did not appear inviting, so West led a fourth round of clubs in the hope that his partner might have a high trump to promote West's heart holding. A diamond was discarded from dummy and East alertly ruffed with the queen of hearts, obliging declarer to overruff with the ace.

The uppercut left South with the J-9-6 of hearts and, inasmuch as West retained the K-10-7 behind him, the defense appeared to have established three tricks in the trump suit—sufficient to set the contract.

Declarer resolved to take measures to counter the effect of his opponents' maneuvering. In order to overcome their advantage, it would be necessary to reduce his trump holding to the same length as West's, and then end play the latter.

The king of diamonds was led and overtaken by North's ace in order to ruff a small diamond. Three rounds of spades were cashed ending up in dummy and another diamond ruff brought all hands down to three cards.

South and West each had three hearts left and the declarer led the jack of hearts putting West in with the king. The latter cashed the ten of hearts; however, he was obliged to surrender the fulfilling trick to South's nine. Declarer succeeded in restricting his losses to three clubs and two hearts on the deal—which was the result originally decreed by nature.

The Worry Clinic Years Can Be Rolled Back With Hypnosis

Thelma's experience under hypnosis brings out some interesting facts about our earlier schoolroom situations. Note my hypnotic patient who suddenly shifted to French! Hypnosis is still an able ally of physicians and psychologists. It can also help the Police Department's amnesia victims.

case e-580: Thelma D., aged 18, is a college coed.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "my psychology professor put on a demonstration of hypnosis."

"And I volunteered as a subject."

"Under hypnosis," he told me that I was in the third grade so he asked me to write my teacher's name on the blackboard.

"Then he told me that I was in the second grade. Again, he asked me to write my teacher's name."

"And when I woke up, I found that my writing had changed. When I wrote my teacher's name in the third grade, I used longhand script."

"But though he didn't ask me to do so, I had printed my teacher's name for the second grade!"

"Why did I do that?"

Well, our memories are classified in part on a time basis. When the usual child is in the second grade, it prints its name and other words.

By the third grade, it is usually educated to use longhand script writing.

Under hypnosis, the patient can give the names of the children seated all around her, or even in the entire row, though she may not recall even two or three such names while in the normal waking state.

Once I had a young man as a hypnotic patient who surprised me in similar fashion.

He used excellent English and correct grammar in answering all my questions.

But when I dropped him back to the age of 8, he suddenly spoke exclusively in French.

Up till that age of 8, he had thus spoken exclusively in French, for that was his native tongue.

But after he arrived in America, he had quickly learned English until he spoke without the slightest accent.

So it wasn't until I took him back under hypnosis to that earlier age, that he reverted to the prevailing language common to him at his 8th year!

Hypnosis is often an aid of the physician and psychologist, thought medics can obtain faster and more widespread response via "truth serum."

But many dental surgeons and physicians still employ hypnosis for anesthetic purposes.

Patients can thus have teeth removed, tonsils cut out and deliver babies under hypnosis, without showing the slightest pain.

In fact, super salesmen and orators who can make an audience laugh or cry at the speaker's whim, actually employ a modified form of group hypnosis.

President Walter Dill Scott, former pioneer American psychologist, used to demonstrate group hypnosis in his classes at Northwestern University.

My son David, Chief Psychiatrist for the 25th Inf. Div. in Viet Nam, often employed hypnosis to rehabilitate shocked soldiers who had gone through horrendous experiences a few hours earlier.

Bob Scott Pays His Filing Fee

RALEIGH (AP) — Lt. Gov. Bob Scott paid his filing fee Monday as a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor and predicted he would win the nomination without the necessity of a runoff.

"I am confident I will win this in the first primary of May 4," Scott said. "Our timetable is right on schedule and things are moving very well."

Scott's wife, campaign aides, supporters, and newsmen looked on as he paid the $350 filing fee at the office of the State Board of Elections.

"I'm now in it officially," Scott said as he signed the notice of candidacy and handed over his check. "I've invested $350 now, and I believe in protecting my investment."

Scott, a 38-year-old Haw River dairyman, became the second candidate for governor to file officially. Jack Stickle of Charlotte had filed earlier. Other candidates who have announced but not yet filed are Democrats Mel Broughton Jr. of Raleigh and Dr. Reginald Hawkins of Charlotte and Republican congressman Jim Gardner of Rocky Mount.

Scott told the newsmen his campaign organization is "virtually complete." He said many of the major issues already have been touched on in the campaign but others are being researched.

"We know we're going to have to do more for teachers and education," he said, "just how much, we don't know. We are still gathering information."

In answer to a question, Scott said he regards Dr. Hawkins, a Negro dentist, as a serious candidate. He added he hopes civil rights will not become an election issue.

"I'm asking individuals from all walks of life to support me," said Scott. "I'm not interested in, and will not participate in any bargaining session, if that's what you call them, either before or after the primary."

Scott said he thinks the state's industry hunters should make a concerted drive for "sophisticated, high paying" industries. This was his answer when asked for comment on the recent charge by state AFL-CIO president Millard Barbee that the industry hunters are selling industrial prospects on North Carolina's low unionization and low wages.

Arrest Suspect For Break-In

ROBERSONVILLE — Martin County Sheriff's officers and Robersonville police Saturday arrested William Stokes, 19-year-old Negro of Robersonville on charges of breaking and entering following a five-hour search.

Sheriff Raymond Raul said Stokes allegedly entered Lloyd's Shoe Shop in Robersonville at 12:30 a.m. He was found about 5:30 locked in a room at the West End Elementary School in Robersonville, and charged with the break-in.

Officers said bloodhounds and a number of officers participated in the search.

Warns Weakness Can Be Inviting

LONDON (AP)—NATO's British army commander in northern Europe warned today that any large reduction of Western forces on the continent might offer the Soviet Union "temptations to military adventure which would be hard to resist."

Gen. Sir John Tarjett wrote to the London Times from his North Atlantic Treaty Organization headquarters in Germany that Soviet forces are in "a high state of readiness quite close to the demarcation line."

"The West, he said, must maintain sufficient forces in Europe to keep the Soviet force from guiding 'events in the sole interest of the U.S.S.R.' and 'ensure that the legitimate defense requirements of (West Germany) are met in a military system which the Germans do not themselves dominate.'"

Arrest Trio For Radial Saw Theft

Three persons have been arrested for the larceny of a radial saw from a house construction site on the River Road. Sheriff Ralph Tyson identified the three as: Sammy Ray Mitchell, 30, of 207 Columbia Ave.; Dwayne Louis Pettit, 207 Colonial Ave. and Jessie Polter of West Gum Road.

The saw was recovered at Happpysville in Lenoir County. It was valued at $300.

Tito Is Pushing For Peace Plan

ASWAN, Egypt (AP) — President Tito of Yugoslavia is trying to win President Gamal Abdel Nasser's approval of an Arab-Israeli peace plan permitting Israel to use the Suez Canal, informed sources report.

Egyptian sources said in talks Monday, Nasser insisted on settlement of the Palestine refugee problem as a condition for permitting Israeli ships to use the canal and ending the 20-year Araba state of belligerency against Israel.

Tito has called all along for Israeli withdrawal from captured Arab territory. However, he modified the peace plan he suggested last August by adding explicit proposals for Israeli use of the canal and an end to Arab belligerency. Yugoslav sources said the plan might be the basis for a new approach to the U.N. Security Council.
