

Registrars Are Named For City

The City Council appointed registrars for the nine Greenville precincts in a special called meeting this morning. A resolution adopted February 8 to consider at the regular March meeting the appointment of City Clerk W. N. Moore monitor was amended to permit immediate consideration. The motion for amendment passed, and Moore was appointed monitor. Another resolution adopted today provided for the appointment of registrars for registration to be conducted in March and April. The approved appointments include No. 1, L. S. Worthing-

Two Kinston Men Charged With Killing Lawman

GOLDSBORO, N. C. (AP)—Two Kinston men were charged with murder in the slaying of a Goldsboro policeman and a search continued today for a third man. Deputies from neighboring Lenoir County arrested one of the Kinston men, Roger W. Johnson Jr., 32, at the DuPont plant near Kinston where he worked. The other man, Charles Whitley, 22, turned himself in. Both men were brought to Goldsboro shortly afterward and lodged in the Wayne County Jail without privilege of bond. A hearing for them is scheduled Thursday afternoon. Three men robbed the Goldsboro Holiday Inn Tuesday morning. City policemen Walter Rouse, 26, and D. E. Dale, 29, stopped a car containing three passengers moments later. As the two policemen approached the car, shooting began and Rouse was killed. Dale was shot in the back and stomach and was hospitalized in serious condition. The automobile was registered to Virgil W. Lanier, 25, of Rt. 2, Beulaville. The Goldsboro police department has issued a warrant for Lanier's arrest, charging him with murder. The two men already in custody were transferred to Goldsboro shortly after their arrest. They were to have a preliminary hearing today before Justice of the Peace R. P. Yelverton in Goldsboro.

Winslow Named Scott's Manager

By SONNY McLAHWORN
Reflector Staff Writer
Hugh Winslow of Greenville was named Pitt County campaign manager for gubernatorial candidate Robert W. (Bob) Scott at a reception here last night. More than one hundred people attended the informal reception held at the Moose Lodge in Scott's honor. At a dinner following the reception, Mrs. J. B. Spilman introduced Scott to a group of his supporters. "The enthusiasm and warmth displayed here today will enable me to tell others around the state . . . that the people of Pitt County may be expected to carry their share of the lead," Scott said. "We are not concerned about the past in this election," he explained. "This is not a factional campaign, this is a Bob Scott campaign," said Lt. Gov. Scott. "We are going to form a team that no one can beat." Scott reminded the group that "no work is more important than that done in the precinct" and on the local level. "I'm going to work hard," he said. "But it won't stop in the campaign. I'm going to work hard in the next four years as your governor." "Government is a servant of the people, and not a master," Scott reminded. Winslow, Scott's newly-anointed campaign manager, handled the Pitt campaign for candidate Kerr Scott in 1948. Winslow's father, J. E. Win-

Wachovia Asks Approval Of Office On U.S. 264 Bypass

Wachovia Bank and Trust Company has applied to the State Banking Commission for approval to establish a new office west of the Pitt Plaza Shopping Center on the U. S. 264 bypass. The office will be known as the Pitt Plaza office, according to William C. Glidewell Jr., vice president of Wachovia Bank. Wachovia has also applied for permission to close its Dickinson Avenue office, Glidewell said. The applications will be considered by the commission at its next regular meeting scheduled

Love Makes A Difference

$62 Million Now She Runs Like A Tomboy

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Norma Claypool, an unmarried teacher, has an adopted three-year-old daughter, Patti Elaine, a little laughing blonde. Both are blind. A year ago, when the child came to live permanently with her new family, she had a vocabulary of three words. She crawled with hesitation at an age when other children walk. But a year of love has wrought an amazing change. The youngster now runs like a tomboy and jabbars incessantly. "She'll crawl into my lap and say 'Hug me tight, Mommie. Kiss me.' She's a very warm little girl. I can't imagine what it would be like not having her in the house," says Miss Claypool. She met Patti Elaine in her job as a teacher of handicapped children. After having the child in her home for two brief vacations she decided she would try to adopt her. Miss Claypool said the procedure went without undue trouble. "As far as I know," she added, "this is the first time a single woman has been permitted to adopt a child in Pennsylvania."

Three Cubans Lost Gamble For Asylum

VIRGINIA BEACH Va. (AP) — Three Cubans lost a wild gamble to win asylum in the United States when a 292-foot Cuban ship from which they fled in a lifeboat rammed their small craft in international waters off Virginia. The captain of the Cuban ship messaged U.S. Coast Guardsmen on the scene that the three were his crewmen and were picked up from the water. The Coast Guard said it did not see what happened to the three after the ramming incident. Earlier the Cubans seized the ship, the 26 de Julio, but failed in an attempt to bring her into Norfolk when they could not get the anchor up, Coast Guardsmen said. A Coast Guard vessel stood by but did not interfere because the incident occurred well beyond the 3-mile limit. The ship's captain radioed later that "The trouble is settled now. We go back to Cuba." The episode, covering 15 hours, reached its climax off the coast of Virginia Tuesday afternoon. This was the sequence of events as related by the Coast Guard: At 2 a.m. Tuesday the Cuban ship radioed that the crew sought political asylum. She was instructed to head for Hampton Roads and the cutter Point Brown was dispatched to meet her with Master Boatswain's Mate P. W. Caviness, 43, of Silver City, N.C., in command. Caviness said he watched the ship anchor 10 miles east-northeast of Cape Henry Tuesday morning. He said he had instructions not to board the vessel but to try to get it into inland waters—inside the U.S. territorial limit. "But they were having trouble getting their anchor up," he re-

Students Join In Bootlegging War

VALDOSTA, Ga. (AP) — Some students at Valdosta State College who went along on a liquor raid are contributing to the war against moonshine in Georgia. The students accompanied federal revenue agents and sheriff's deputies and helped the officers destroy the still. They are members of a speech class and now are making speeches against the dangers of moonshine. ABANDONED EFFORT WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Henry Schadeberg, R-Wis., says the army has abandoned its effort to collect $70.21 from a Vietnam veteran for losing his M-14 rifle.

Airborne Brigade Now At Front 4,000 Men Join The Americal Div.

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — A 4,000-man brigade from the U.S. 82nd Airborne Division has arrived in Vietnam to bolster allied forces in a war now marked by renewed jungle fighting along with continued Communist pressure around Saigon. The U.S. Command announced today completion of the airlift of the reinforcements, including many veterans of Vietnam. They are assigned to the Americal Division, elements of which reported killing 148 of the enemy in a coastal engagement Tuesday at a cost of two dead and 14 wounded. Viet Cong maintained pressure on Saigon overnight by bombardment of six military installations within a 25-mile arc of the capital, including a Saigon port facility. Pressure was maintained also on Khe Sanh, the U.S. Marine base 400 miles away in the northwest corner of the country. North Vietnamese gunners fired more than 100 rounds of artillery, rocket and mortar fire at the base in the 24 hours up to dawn. Briefing officers said casualties and damage were light. U.S. B52 Stratofortresses staged two saturation raids on suspected enemy troop concentrations and weapons positions six miles west of Khe Sanh. A U.S. spokesman said air strikes and artillery bombardment of Communist positions around the base Tuesday killed 31 enemy troops, destroyed a .50-caliber machine-gun emplacement and touched off 36 secondary explosions among ammunition dumps and fuel stores. The new arrivals, the 82nd Division's 3rd Brigade, are part of the 10,500 men President Johnson ordered from the United States two weeks ago in response to Gen. William C. Westmoreland's urgent request because of the Khe Sanh situation and the prospect of new Communist attacks on South Vietnam's cities and towns. An additional 4,000 Marines are en route to Vietnam. An announcement is expected at any time of the deployment here of Marines of the 27th Regimental Landing Team, some of whose members were seen off Feb. 17 by Johnson at the El Toro Air Station in California. The brigade of paratroopers raised U.S. troop strength in Vietnam to an estimated 504,000, still 21,000 short of the 525,000-man ceiling now planned. But Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, the chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, left Saigon Sunday with a request from Westmoreland that Johnson raise that ceiling. Eighty per cent of the 4,000 paratroopers are veterans of at least one tour of combat duty in Vietnam. They have been assigned, at least temporarily to the U.S. Americal Division, a grouping of infantry brigades and other units that is responsible for a 100-mile stretch of coastal lowlands south of Da Nang.

Crane Came In Contact With Power Line Local Man Electrocuted At Construction Project

FOUNTAIN—A state Highway Commission employe was electrocuted near Toddy today while working with a bridge construction crew. Johnnie Lee McGowan, 46, of 1310 Allen St., Greenville, was dead on arrival at Pitt Memorial Hospital and Coroner E. W. Harvey said he was apparently killed instantly. Harvey said McGowan was standing beside a crane being used on the construction project and had his hand on the unit. The crane's boom came in contact with a power line and the electrical charge shot through McGowan's body. Project foreman Guy Lloyd Stocks rushed to aid McGowan, came in contact with the crane and was himself shocked. He was taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital and was being treated for his injuries at noon. He suffered burns, investigators reported. Coroner Harvey said the incident occurred a half-mile from Toddy on rural unpaved road 1240 about 10:30 a.m. The operator of the crane was identified as Carl Powell of Route 5, Greenville. Harvey, who ruled the death accidental, said the Farmville and Fountain rescue units brought McGowan and Stocks to the hospital.

Griffin And Evers Face Runoff Test

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Negro leader Charles Evers prepared today for his uphill runoff battle against white conservative Charles Griffin for the congressional seat vacated by Gov. John Bell Williams. "We're going to win this election," Evers told his followers after clinching a place against Griffin, Williams' key Washington aide for almost two decades, in the March 12 runoff. Evers, the first Negro to become a serious challenger for a Mississippi congressional post this century, took advantage of a six-way split in the white vote to lead the first round of balloting Tuesday. In the final unofficial tabulation he had almost 30 per cent of the vote with 33,645 to 28,792 for Griffin. Five losing white candidates had 52,188. State Sen. Ellis Bodron of Vicksburg had 22,829, Troy Watkins of Natchez 10,446, Dist. Atty. Joe Pigott of McComb 8,284, and David Perkins of Jackson 2,649. Republican Hagan Thompson of Jackson had 7,980. All six of the white candidates campaigned as conservatives.

New Office Manager Of ASCS Committee

Stacy Evans, chief clerk and assistant manager of the Pitt Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service office here, was named office manager yesterday at a meeting of the county ASCA committee. The committee named Evans manager after accepting the resignation of Livingston Roberts, who has headed the ASCS office since 1961. Roberts resigned to accept employment with the state ASCS office. Evans, a native of Duplin County, began working with the ASCS in Duplin county in 1956 and moved to Pitt County in 1961 as chief clerk. He has been chief clerk and assistant office manager here since that time. Prior to his ASCS service, Evans was an instructor with the veteran farmer training program and served four years in the U. S. Army. He was also a farmer and still maintains a farm in Duplin County. The now manager is married to the former Doris Baker of Duplin County and they have four children. Evans is a member of the Memorial Baptist Church, president of the Men's Fellowship of the church, a Sunday school teacher and is junior deacon of

Pitt Men Appointed To Serve Commodity Committee In '68

President R. H. McLawhorn appointed several men to serve on the Pitt County Commodity Committee for 1968 at the meeting of the Farm Bureau Board last night. The following Pitt County residents were chosen to serve: Cotton — James A. Little, chairman; J. T. Surrill and H. Linwood Briley; Dairy — Charles McLawhorn, chairman; Burney Baker and Roscoe Barnhill; Field Crops — J. C. Galloway, chairman; J. B. Speight and Ray Garris; Peanuts — James T. Keel, chairman; Edgar Warren and J. L. Gurganus Jr.; Livestock — Jarvis Allen, chairman; Wilbur Worthington, W. C. House, W. C. Hollowell, and D. R. House Jr.; Poultry — Frederick McGlohn, chairman; David Harold Smith and D. E. Perry; Tobacco — W. A. Allen, chairman; Atlas Woolen, Robert Pierce, Chester Don Worthington, J. B. Smith, Ralph Tucker, Brantley Speight, and Robert Halstead. President McLawhorn announced the committee will meet with the Farm Bureau Board at their March meeting. McLawhorn suggested that the members present at the meeting contact Sen. B. Everett Jordan and urge him to oppose proposals that call for government owned strategic stockpiles of wheat, feed grains, and soybeans. McLawhorn stressed the fact that this legislation was not in the best interest of farmers.

Should Clergymen Say Grace When Invited Out?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: When we have a priest to dinner, as we frequently do, we always ask him to say the blessings before meals. Now, after much thought on the subject, we are wondering if this isn't a little presumptuous of us.

I don't want to disrupt tradition, but I would like to know how priests, ministers, and rabbis feel about this?

Should the host say the blessing at his own table as he always does even when a clergyman is present? Or out of courtesy to the clergyman, should he be offered the opportunity to say the grace?

I guess what I really want to know is this: How does the clergyman feel about this? Does he resent being "put to work" by being asked to say the blessing when he is a guest? Or would he feel slighted if he is a guest? Or would he feel slighted if the man of the house treated him as any other guest, and said the blessing himself?

DEAR PUZZLED: Here's a letter for priests, ministers, and rabbis to answer. I'll publish their replies because I'm sure that many other readers are also puzzled.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is an age old one. My husband and I are in our early forties, and up to now I have always thought we had a good marriage. (We have five wonderful children.)

Recently while going thru his pants pockets before sending his suit to the cleaners, I came across a half-finished letter he had written to some woman. In it he thanked God for giving him such a person to love. My world came crashing down. I knew something was not quite right, but I put it down to job pressure.

I have thought of committing suicide, but who will take care of my children?

I pray my husband will soon come to his senses before our lives are ruined. Please print this letter, Abby. He may read it and realize what he is doing to all of us.

HEARTSICK IN HAWAII DEAR HEARTSICK: And what if he doesn't see it? The only solution to your problem is to tell your husband you saw that letter. The next move will be his.

DEAR ABBY: The 15-year-old girl who was "in trouble" could have been my "twin." The only difference between us was that I listened to my mother (for once in my life) and decided to go to a home for unwed mothers and give THE (not MY) baby up for adoption. During my pregnancy I had lost of time to think. I learned a lot about life as it really is, not the way it's pictured in books and magazines, and from the junk you see on TV and in the movies, and hear on records. I acquired a good set of morals—something I never had before. While a new life grew inside me, a new and better ME grew, too.

I am 17, back in school and plan on going on to college. I am going with a very nice boy now. We like each other a lot, but I keep our relations restricted.

I hope that girl listens to you and her mother, Abby. This is not the end of the world for her. It is only the beginning and she can make it beautiful if she tries. Thank you for letting me say this.

BEEN THERE AND BACK DEAR ABBY: Someone wrote in complaining because she attended a golden wedding reception and was served home-baked cake instead of the beautiful baker's creation on the buffet table. I'll bet that cake was one of those plastic beauties they rent out for centerpieces. I once saw a woman try to scrape a bit of "frosting" off one of those cakes with her finger. Boy, was she surprised!

Mrs. Bell Gives Circle Program

FOUNTAIN — Mrs. Albert Bell presented the program at the meeting of the Louise Beasley Circle of the Fountain Baptist Church held Monday night.

"Student Work in the United States" was the program topic for the meeting.

During the business session, plans were made to have a fellowship supper to welcome the new pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. W. Ray Pennell.

Mrs. Bell was hostess for the meeting.

Some good cooks like to use evaporated milk in baked custard pie because the flavor of the milk seems to suit this dessert.

Some Women Not Interested In Catching Leap Year Husbands

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK (AP) —Single men who dream of being pursued and caught by a rich, famous, beautiful and talented woman this Leap Year might just as well wake up.
At least eight American women who largely answer to this description not only are not going to do any man chasing, they don't intend to be caught. Not this year anyway.
Though the current demand for single men is much more than the supply it takes more than mere eligibility to attract the likes of Joey Heatherton, Lesley Gore, Inger Stevens, Patricia McBride, Hedda MacRae, Marlo Thomas, Cathy MacCauley, or Trenny Robb.

Indeed, most are quite happy to be single for the present, though "it helps to be in love," says Hedda MacRae, daughter of stage and screen stars Sheila and Gordon MacRae.

"Marriage is a ridiculous tribal rite," says 21-year old Cathy MacCauley, Corn Products heiress, party giver and pop celebrity. Besides she does not like children, "only flower children," she says.

Though most of the celebrated single girls are too busy with their careers to consider marriage at the moment, they like men with masculinity, strength, a sense of humor, respect for women and high intelligence as the eventual life partner.

Neither looks for money figures in their ideal man.

"He can take me to inexpensive places, I don't care," said Trenny Robb, who won fame overnight as a fashion model after wowing Washington at the wedding of her brother Charles to Lynda Bird Johnson. Right now she is having too much fun to consider being Mrs. anyone.

"A sense of adventure," is high among the requisites for Marlo Thomas, daughter of comedian Danny Thomas and a television star in her own right. She also hopes to find a man some day who has the same respect for talented women which her father has.

Lesley Gore, rock 'n' roll singer, senior at Sarah Lawrence College and president of the Bachelorettes Club, is an old-fashioned girl who wants to be pursued, not the pursuer. Though she hopes to be married eventually she is suspicious of the "so-called holy deadlock."

"I see so much of marriage breakups and unhappiness," she says, "I have a fear of it."

Asked who they thought were today's most interesting men, the young celebrities gave Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., the most votes with others going to Paul Newman, Tony Bennett, Warren Beatty, Dean Martin, McGeorge Bundy, George Balanchine, Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., and Mike Nichols—men who were, in some cases, two or three times older than the young women casting the ballots.

But as Patricia McBride, ballerina for the New York City Ballet Company, put it, "These are men we can admire, which is different from being physically attracted to them."

Of their contemporaries only the Beatles and Bob Dylan were in the running.

Leap year day has been counted on the 29th of February for almost four centuries and what a bewildering nightmare our existence could have been without it! Take the year 46

B.C., for example, when Caesar initiated his calendar reforms. He needed a year of adjustment to shift the months to fit the seasons. Year of confusion might be a better name—it stretched out for 445 days.

As things stood in ancient Rome, the average citizen had difficulty knowing the date with certainty, anyway. Much as we count down for a space launch, Roman days were tallied in reverse from one of three special days in the month.

The last half of one month was measured from the first day of the next, a day they called the calends or calendae. Others were counted from the Ides or the Nones.

Since February was the last month of the year in their calendar, year-end adjustments were made before the Calends of March. The sixth of the Calends of March (our Feb. 24) was counted twice in leap year—hence came the word bissextus—twice sixth.

The bissextile or leap year method would work perfectly if each year were exactly six hours longer than 365 days, as Caesar's calendar supposed. It is actually short by 11 minutes and 14 seconds. By the 16th century this tiny error had accumulated to 10 days. Pope Gregory brought it back to reality in 1582.

The Gregorian formula provides for Caesar's oversight. Century years are counted with 65 days unless they are evenly divisible by 400. Thus the year 1600 was a leap year while 1700, 1800 and 1900 were not.

It took the British another 200 years to make the change from Caesar's "Old Style" to Gregory's "New Style" calendar. George Washington's birthday is celebrated on Feb. 22 (N.S.) instead of the date he was actually born, Feb. 11, 1732 (O.S.).

Efforts to further revise the calendar have continued through the centuries. French revolutionists changed theirs briefly at the close of the 18th century.

At present the World Calendar Association proposes that the first month of each quarter begin on Sunday and last for 31 days. The two remaining months would be allotted 30 days each, making the quarter exactly 91 days long and ending on Saturday. To bring the count to 365 they would insert a "Worldsday" after Dec. 30 every year.

In bissextile years they propose a Leap Year Day between Saturday, June 30 and Sunday July 1.

Speaking on "Never Abuse Drugs But Respect Them," Hemmingway explained the difference between stimulants, depressants and hallucinogenics.

Mrs. Ralph Carson, president, presided at the meeting and welcomed visitors: Mrs. J. R. Cullifer; Mrs. Robert McKee; Mrs. William Whitehurst; Mrs. C. G. Garrenton; and Mr. and Mrs. Hemmingway.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ronald Riddick.

Here's Beef Curry Recipe For Guests

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor
It's a lovely curry. A friend of ours serves it to company and they all like it. So do we. Try it and see whether you agree.

One of the best things about offering curry to guests is that it's easy to serve. For the main course, you only need one big utensil filled with the curry, a bowl of rice and a tray of condiments. That's it. And people can help themselves.

After the curry offer a salad. Endive with Sauce Vinaigrette is an excellent choice; so is a bowl of tossed mixed greens with marinated artichoke hearts. Or you can offer the salad in antipasto form before the curry.

What about dessert? A curry restaurant we used to dine at always had coconut cake on the menu. If you decide to follow suit, omit the coconut from the tray of condiments that accompanies the curry. The restaurant dessert consisted of two layers of butter cake filled with rum custard and topped with whipped cream plus mountains of shredded fresh coconut. A short-order cook may want to use a mix-made white or yellow layer cake, a package of vanilla pudding (flavored with rum), whipped cream and flaked coconut that comes in a can.

RECIPES:

BEEF CURRY

- 1 pounds lean beef chuck. In one piece and about 1 inch thick
- 1 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup chopped onion (1 medium)
- 2 tablespoons curry powder
- 2 envelopes seasoning and broth mixture
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 3/4 cups water
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- 1/2 cup heavy cream
- 1 cup rice, cooked
- Condiments: chutney, dry toasted peanuts, coconut, slivered candied ginger
- Cut beef into pieces that are about one-inch square.

In a 10-inch skillet with a dome cover or similar utensil, melt two tablespoons of the butter. Add beef and over moderate heat brown well. With a slotted spoon remove beef to a plate.

To droppings in skillet, add remaining tablespoon of butter and the onion. Cook over low heat, stirring often until wilted and golden. Sprinkle with curry powder, seasoning, broth mixture and pepper. Stir in water.

Return beef and any juices that have collected to skillet. Bring slowly just to a boil. Cover tightly. Reduce heat to a bare simmer and cook gently until beef is tender—about one hour. Cool; turn into a refrigerator container or leave in skillet unless it is black iron. Cover tightly; chill.

At serving time, remove fat that has hardened on top and discard. If necessary, return curry to skillet or some other range-to-table utensil. Heat gently. Add lemon juice and cream. Mix well and reheat but do not boil. Taste and add salt if needed. Sauce should be thin. Serve over cooked rice. Pass condiments for help-yourself service.

Makes four generous servings.

RECIPES NOTES:

The envelopes of rich brown seasoning and broth mixture used in testing this recipe come in a 11-6-ounce carton with eight individual foil envelopes in the package. If this product is not available, you may substitute two beef bouillon cubes. In this case be absolutely sure to dissolve the cubes when the water is added, mashing them with a kitchen fork or wooden spoon after you have returned the beef to the skillet and are bringing slowly to a boil.

This is a fairly hot curry so, if you like, you may reduce the amount of curry powder called for and omit the pepper. However, curry powders vary in strength, so take this fact into consideration.

New Dimension In Service By ECU

As East Carolina carries out its responsibilities as a regional university, the scope of its activities is being broadened to provide for the people of this section a greater variety of opportunities than they have had before.

The opportunities cover many fields. There may be nothing academic or even collegiate about things like professional wrestling or roller derbies. It may even be stretching a point to consider ice shows or recognized political speakers in this context. Certainly some of the way-out musical groups so popular today hardly fit the traditional picture of intellectually inspiring performances.

Yet, we welcome these new and different things which are becoming a part of the attractions that appear on the ECU campus for public as well as student enjoyment.

The new wings Coliseum has opened the door to new opportunities because it provides large seating capacity for a variety of entertainment which other wise would not be readily accessible to people of this section of the state. The recent appearance of the Roller Derby at the Coliseum played to a standing-room-only house. It probably brought to the campus many people who may not have been there before. Admittedly, the performance of a ballet group on a university campus may seem more appropriate in the traditional sense than the appearance of a roller skating group. Yet, if a university is to serve all the people in a broad region, it is fulfilling a part of its obligation when it provides something for everybody.

Who is to say that the kid who visits a college campus to see a wrestling match isn't just as likely to be an outstanding scholar a few years from now as the kid who goes to hear a symphony?

We commend ECU for adding this new dimension to its effort to serve all the people of this part of North Carolina.

Needs, Goals And Demands

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau
RALEIGH — First findings of a major, comprehensive long-range study of public higher education in the state have been reported from the summit, the University of North Carolina.

These are, as yet, preliminary and incomplete. The overall study itself, cited a year ago as a prime argument against any change in the structure of state-supported higher education, is six months from completion and there is a great deal yet to be done.

The master plan of the study is being coordinated and a final report will be written by the State Board of Higher Education which expects to submit its work next August.

Essence of the study, however, is a self-evaluation and projection by each institution of higher learning as to its needs, goals and demands between 1967-68 and 1975. The overall picture hopefully will become the basis for a blueprint of planning and appropriations during the next several sessions of the legislature.

assumed that the legislature had not altered in any way the "statement of purpose" of the university itself.

Enrollment Figures

At the outset, the UNC study projected enrollment on the four campuses to 52,119 by 1975. The present overall enrollment is 32,989.

The UNC report by President Friday, however, stressed the statutory definition of functions of the University, allocation of "appropriate areas of study" and, as Friday put it, "a mandate to serve as the primary state-supported agency for research in the liberal arts and sciences, pure and applied, and for doctoral programs."

The law, he said "wisely left" to the trustees of UNC the policy-making decisions involved and "it affords us the liberty of developing more inter-institutional activity and the freedom to respond to identifiable need."

May Be Challenged

Now this position may be challenged by the new regional university set-up and political pull-and-tug renewed on the question of whether the Consolidated University has or should have exclusive right and responsibility in certain areas.

For example, the new regional university at Greenville has in a number of ways staked its claim to responsibility and rightful support in the field of health sciences for the region it serves, Eastern North Carolina.

Competition Developing

A picture of keen competition among institutions is emerging.

The regional universities—at Greenville, Cullowhee, Boone and Greensboro—can claim, justifiably, that they were not far behind the creation and overall development of UNC campuses at Greensboro and Charlotte. UNC—Greensboro became a full-fledged university campus in 1963. Charlotte was brought into the university set-up by legislative act in 1965. Only two years later, the legislature voted the regional university system into effect.

There may be demand and insistence upon a re-assessment of the Higher Education Act's allocation of functions, rights and responsibilities in the field of higher education. This remains to be seen.

A Dubious Service To Our Country At War

It does not seem possible Senator William Fulbright really appreciates all the implications of what he is proposing the United States do (or not do) in Southeast Asia.

He is fundamentally opposed to U. S. involvement in Vietnam; irritatingly pursues his belief that there must have been some kind of chicanery in the Tonkin Gulf incidents; speaks against any further escalation of our armed forces that might permit an earlier wrap-up of what has proven to be a frustrating and difficult experience.

We'd suggest the observers in Hanoi could not be more heartened than to listen to the Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

This is a war . . . a war in which more than "face" is involved. Many countries are watching and weighing their own futures in the light of how America acquits itself.

The Senator from Arkansas is not helping very much.

Reagan Is Still In The Picture

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP)—The ostensible reason F. Clinton White showed up at last week's Republican National Committee meeting here was to lend California Gov. Ronald Reagan's help to other GOP governors seeking larger voice in their party's platform deliberations.

White, one of the masterminds of Barry Goldwater's 1964 campaign for the GOP presidential nomination, has recently gone to work for the California GOP national convention delegation, which Reagan will head as a favorite son.

Republican officials from Pennsylvania insisted that White's visit to their suite was to help Gov. Raymond P. Shafer in his so far unsuccessful effort to win co-billing with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen on the platform committee. They denied in private discussions that any alliance is shaping up between the conservative Reagan and Republican moderates, who favor either Michigan Gov. George Romney or New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the party's presidential nomination.

But such an alliance, aimed at front-running Richard M. Nixon, could make a great deal of sense to both camps. Romney's presidential hopes are tied directly to his uphill effort to defeat Nixon in the New Hampshire and Wisconsin presidential primaries. As for Rockefeller and Reagan, who have said they are not candidates but whose support is sought.

Public Forum

To The Editor:

I happened to see and hear on the news several days ago news to the effect that there had been a demonstration in Berlin involving what I think was 100,000 persons. This was in support of the United States' policy and role in South Vietnam and came a day or two after a demonstration condemning the U. S.'s part, this demonstration involving some twelve thousand persons.

It is not that the numbers of persons involved are of prime importance, but that someone did support and approve our country's part in South Vietnam. Although it is not my purpose to launch into a discussion of the pros and cons of our policy in Vietnam, I nonetheless do think we owe a great debt of gratitude to the half million servicemen in Vietnam, a good many of whom have lost or will lose their lives while there. Even though some of us may not approve of our being in Vietnam, the fact remains that we are there and should support these men until some solution other than war can be achieved.

Therefore, I say again, regardless of policy or principles involved, it is most gratifying to see a sign of support, even though it comes from a foreign country. Thanking you, I remain

Very truly yours,

Strength For Today

FRUSTRATED MAN

Someone has said that man is the only creature who refuses to remain what he is. He is different from the lower creatures in that he has a soul, and while this lays open for him a great destiny, it also involves him in no end of trouble. The animals live and die, and some people as they see the placid existence of the creatures, envy them.

But should we? The glory of human existence arises out of its struggle. At the center of all life stands the cross John Donne, the English poet, has pointed out how everything in nature has in it somewhere the suggestion of a cross. Jesus used the word "strive" on a number of occasions

"Strive to enter in by the narrow gate," he said. We cannot simply live and die as the creatures. We are interested not only in our survival but in the triumph of our personalities, which are eternal. We are fashioned in such manner that we cannot be content to remain as we are. Frustration disturbs us. We agonize to excel, to triumph. We simply will not remain as we are.

Why? Because, as the Bible tells, we are the sons of God, and "it doth not yet appear what we shall be." Because we have upon us the image of God we cannot remain as we are born.

The creatures were made to be in subjection. Man was made to live in eternal fellowship with God.

The Cherry Tree Papers

WASHINGTON — They've just discovered a new batch of papers belonging to President George Washington and among them was a transcript of a press conference held at George's home when he was 6 years old. It sheds new light on the famous cherry tree-chopping incident.

A spokesman for the Washington family, not identified in the papers, was asked at the noon briefing to comment on the destruction of a beautiful young cherry tree on the estate.

Spokesman: "To my knowledge, there have been no cherry trees destroyed on the property."

Reporter: "Is it possible a cherry tree could have been chopped down without your knowledge?"

Spokesman: "I believe that I would be informed if a cherry tree were destroyed, and I'm not going to deal in rumor and conjecture."

Reporter: "But someone actually saw the cherry tree chopped down. It's out there by the garden."

Spokesman: "I'll check into it and get back to you."

At 3:30 p.m. briefing: Spokesman: "I have an announcement to make. A small cherry tree accidentally fell down on the Washington property sometime this morning."

We are now investigating to find out what happened. It did no harm to the cherry orchard and immediate steps are being taken to see it doesn't happen again."

Reporter: "Does anyone know who chopped down the tree?"

Spokesman: "I said it was an accident."

Reporter: "But witnesses who saw the tree say that there were ax marks on the trunk, indicating that someone had deliberately chopped it down."

Spokesman: "I think that anyone who spreads a malicious rumor like that is doing a disservice to the future United States of America."

Wage-Price Rise Hits Economy

By ELMER ROESSNER
The biggest cause of the United States gold drain may not be the billions spent by American travelers abroad, nor by American investments in foreign countries, but by the constant rise in American wages.

Wage increases are now accepted as an annual event. Two-year union agreements invariably provide for increases in the first and second years; three-year contracts call for increases in the first, second and third year. A union leadership that does not get an increase for its membership each year would be promptly voted out of office even if the leaders owned the union.

The union answer—and is thoroughly persuasive—is that wage increases are necessary to offset the rise in the cost of living. Now which comes first, higher prices or higher wages, is as puzzling a problem as whether the chicken or the egg came first. But both higher wages and higher prices were hatched in the incubator of inflation. There will be higher wages and higher prices every year in the foreseeable future—and probably for years beyond that.

Higher Wages And The Balance Of Trade
The rise in wages, whatever the cause, makes our goods for export constantly higher in price. In addition, it makes imported goods comparably cheaper.

Commerce Department has just reported that our adverse balance of trade in the last quarter of 1967 reached the astounding total of $1.8 billion, which means that foreign nations have $1.8 billion more in dollars for which they can demand gold.

There was a $560 million increase in military imports and a $160 million decline in exports. Other countries are finding our planes and weapons too expensive; we are finding their munitions cheaper.

There were some offsetting factors, notably an inflow of foreign capital, showing more confidence in the dollar and a desire to share in high interest rates, another product of inflation.
Export Of Jobs
Exports are still running

Stern Mood Grows

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Heightened fighting and U. S. casualties in Vietnam have put President Johnson in an aggressively martial mood, privately vowing his mailed-fist determination to gain his objectives there no matter what force of arms is required.

To the alarm of some intimates inside the Administration, the President never before has been so insistent about the absolute rightness of his policies. In long Johnsesque monologues these days, he is praising the soldiers and denouncing the war correspondents, emphasizing the shooting war and de-emphasizing pacification, downgrading McNamara and extolling Westmoreland.

As one Presidential adviser told us: "The President is talking today more and more like the commander-in-chief, less and less like a civilian President."

Only the future will determine whether this new Presidential mood heralds still steeper escalation of the war or is simply a way of letting off steam during a time of national anguish.

One Congressional leader who confers regularly with Mr. Johnson sees it this way: whatever the President may say, he has done nothing to escalate the war since the Communist offensive last month except to send Gen. William Westmoreland 10,500 troops that would have gone to Vietnam sooner or later anyway.

Nevertheless, the current White House mood evoked by the President hints at major new war measures. For example, in referring to specific escalation steps advocated by Westmoreland, Mr. Johnson says he may give the General "more than he has asked" in the way of authority to prosecute the war.

His interest in non-military aspects of the war simultaneously has declined. Before the January offensive by the Vietnam and the Communist legions of North Vietnam, Mr. Johnson used to discuss at great length claims of progress in the pacification program, citing statistics from the pacification chief in Saigon, Ambassador Robert Komer. No more of that today.

Instead, Mr. Johnson's statistics, poured out in profusion, are the battle statistics of enemy killed and wounded, correct down to the last digit. Moreover, the President revels in his personal contacts with the men in uniform. He tells and retells the specifics of his conversations with troops he visited in his sudden, unplanned flight to the West Coast on Feb. 17. He quotes a Navy pilot on the Constellation, the aircraft carrier he visited off California, as asking why he paid any attention to the hippies and left-wingers who want the U. S. to end the war and get out of Vietnam.

Mr. Johnson says that only the troops know what the war is all about and understand his own ordeal. He says he wishes that he himself could go and fight the war.

Although this may be natural enough for a war President, Presidential intimates who regularly listen to Mr. Johnson talk about the war fear that he is becoming preoccupied with the purely military, wholly identifying himself with Westmoreland and (Continued On Page 5)

ICT Students Earned Half Million Dollars

Four thousand Industrial Cooperative Training students earned $484,056.61 in North Carolina during the month of December, 1967, while working 34,987 hours.

J. H. Rose High School in Greenville has one of the 149 ICT programs in the state. Students of Rose worked 2,896 hours and earned $3,223.80 during this time. While the money earned is important the skill these students learn and the credit they receive for this work is more important. Nineteen skills and twenty-seven different business firms are represented in this program.

The purpose of Industrial Cooperative Training under State Supervisor Charles D. Bates is to help students learn a particular skill as they complete their high school education.

Upon graduation the students should have marketable skills to offer to the labor market.

In order to register for ICT a student must be sixteen years old and a qualified junior in high school. He is interviewed by the local ICA coordinator and accepted, if he is willing to work and learn, and if he will benefit from the program.

While jobs for girls are somewhat limited, nine young ladies are enrolled this year in ICT. They work as nurses aides, commercial cooks, floral designers, and dental assistants. Young men work as auto mechanics, printers, plumbers, electricians, bricklayers, radio and television, repairmen, nursery workers, etc.

Basically, the ICT program is for young men and women who know what they want to do. Usually, the coordinator finds the job in the particular skill the student is interested. With the cooperation of the employer, the student is given technical training on the job. Employers are often surprised at the mature responsibility with which ICT students approach their work.

Seeking Single Alphabet-Plan

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Mediterranean city of Byblos, the Phoenician seaport that invented the alphabet and gave the Bible its name, announced recently a project to develop one alphabet for all the languages in use throughout the world.

Byblos first plans to invite the various international cultural organizations to a meeting in that city to commemorate the death of Johann Gutenberg, the German goldsmith who invented printing, and discuss unification of the world's alphabets.

Gutenberg died in 1468, several centuries before archaeologists discovered in Byblos the first known example of a simplified writing system, carved on the tomb of a Phoenician king.

The proposed congress would presumably tackle all languages, from the complexities of Chinese to the graceful puzzles of Arabic. Byblos itself exemplifies the difficulties of the situation: In Arabic the town is called Jbeil, and the name is written in curling arabesques indistinguishable to non-Arabic speaking nations.

With the invitations not yet sent out, it is questionable whether neighboring Syria would attend. Scholars in Syria are locked in a sedate dispute with Lebanese archaeologists—they claim to have found an even earlier alphabet than the Phoenician one.

Frustrations Learned Early

HARTFORD, Ky. (AP) — A woman seeking a toy for her son picked up a device that consisted of numerous parts and pieces.

"Isn't this awfully complicated?" she asked R. C. Johnson, the store owner.

"That," Johnson replied, "is an educational toy designed to prepare the child for life in today's world. Any way he puts it together is wrong."

porters keep pushing them. Their chances depend largely on whether Nixon falters enough during the primary season to turn the TOP convention into an open battle.

Republican congressional leaders, such as Wisconsin's Melvin R. Laird, who feel Rockefeller would be a stronger candidate than Nixon, think the former vice president will be the nominee if he sweeps primaries in New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Oregon.

But if he slips the convention could become a wide-open affair, with as many as 15 GOP favorite - son candidates, most of them governors, assuming an increasing importance. Rockefeller as well as Reagan is scheduled to be favorite - son candidate.

In such a situation, supporters of both Rockefeller and Reagan have reason to think their man could emerge as the nominee.

Reagan will start with a nucleus of California plus a large bloc of Southern states which will support Nixon at the start but consider Reagan a stronger candidate in a three-cornered race with President Johnson and former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace.

At the 6 o'clock briefing: Spokesman: "I have an announcement to make. At 10 o'clock this morning, George Washington, age 6, swung his hatchet playfully at a 6-foot-3 cherry tree and knocked it to the ground."

"At exactly 12:17 p.m., George was asked by his father if he knew who had chopped down the tree. Without hesitation young Washington replied, and I quote, 'I cannot tell a lie. Pa. I cut it down with my hatchet.'"

Reporter: "But wouldn't you say there was a credibility gap in Washington between the time he chopped down the cherry tree and confessed to doing it?"

Spokesman: "George Washington, as all future Presidents of the United States, would never lie to the press."

N. C. Commission Will Mark Independence

By Christopher Crittenden
State Department of Archives and History
Written for The AP

RALEIGH (AP) — North Carolina's American Revolution Bicentennial Commission. A mouthful? Maybe. But soon it will be action-full.

The commission has been called by Gov. Dan Moore for its first meeting in Raleigh March 1. It will conduct the Tar Heel commemoration of the winning of American Independence. The 1967 General Assembly established the commission and now the governor has completed its appointment. There are 13 ex-officio members, 10 appointed.

North Carolina's major contributions to independence have never been appreciated, either nationally or by Tar Heels themselves. Note a few:

Battle of Moores Creek Bridge. Tar Heels wrecked a far-reaching British plan to conquer south.

Halifax Resolves. North Carolina was the first of all colonies to take official action for independence.

Battle of Guilford Courthouse. Cornwallis was so weakened by Gen. Nathanael Greene that he later surrendered at Yorktown.

These and other important events in the founding of the nation will be commemorated.

The U.S. Congress has already set up a US American Revolution Bicentennial Commission, and several of the states have established state commissions. Already Massachusetts has planned a mammoth bicentennial fair in Boston.

Ex officio members of the N. C. commission are the heads of the history departments of Davidson College, North Carolina College at Durham, and 7 universities: N.C. State University, East Carolina, Western Carolina, Appalachian State, Wake Forest, Duke, and UNC-Chapel Hill.

Also the state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the respective directors of the state departments of Archives and History, Conservation and Development, and Public Instruction.

The governor's appointees are Mrs. Mary Jane McCrary of Brevard, Ernie W. Greup of Durham, Mrs. Margaret Harper of Southport, William A. Creech of Raleigh, Sen. Hector McLean of Lumberton, Sen. Don S. Matheson of Hillsborough, James A. Gray of Winston-Salem, McDaniel Lewis of Greensboro, Sen. Herman A. Moore of Charlotte, and Armistead Maupin of Raleigh.

The commission is expected to launch an active program. Experience shows that years are required to plan and conduct a suitable commemoration of this type.

Newport Coed 'Crescent Girl'

A pretty hazel-eyed brunette from Carteret County is the new "Crescent Girl" of Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity at East Carolina University.

Cheryl Lee Murdoch, a junior from Newport who was ECU's 1966 Homecoming Queen, is the official apple of the fraternity men's eyes for 1968.

She stands 5-feet-4, weighs 125 and succeeds the 1967 "Crescent Girl," Barbara Taylor of Virginia Beach, Va.

Cheryl was crowned during the annual Lambda Chi "Crescent Girl" festivities which included a formal dance at the Greenville Golf and Country Club.

The new fraternity queen is the 1968-'69 president of Alpha Xi Delta social sorority. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald T. Murdoch of Route 1, Newport, and a 1955 graduate of West Carteret High School.

his troops. He talks today not as though an end to the war is dimly visible but with constant allusions to military force as though he is fully prepared to risk a far larger war to compel the enemy to back down.

Interspersed with the President's talk of more military power in Vietnam are ever harsher words both for his critics in the press (particularly younger reporters in nam who, he charges, are selling out their country) and the doves in influential positions in his own Democratic party. No longer does he say a word about conciliating his Democratic critics in the Senate.

Lt. Governor Visits Cub Pack's Banquet

Greenville Cub and Webelos Pack 200 was honored last night at their annual Blue & Gold banquet with a surprise visit by North Carolina's Lt. Gov. Bob Scott.

Scott spoke briefly to the Pack, stating that he is familiar with the scouting program and the great job it is doing in developing boys into responsible citizens.

Following Scott's tribute to scouting, the boys and their families enjoyed a dinner given by their sponsoring organization, the Greenville Moose Lodge. The Women of the Moose served the meal.

George Evans, Cub Master of Pack 200, introduced the banquet guests which included Mr. Fred Bauman, chairman of scouting in the Pitt District and Mrs. Baumann; Mr. Sam Brooks, Institution Representative; Mr. Thomas Butts, Scout Master for the Moose troop, and Mrs. Butts; Mr. Tom Patterson, Roundup Leader. Evans also introduced the den mothers, den leaders and the Assistant Cub Master, Ed Stallings.

Stallings presented achievement awards to the six Cub dens and four Webelos dens.

Leo "Mitch" Sheetz led the entire group in a "Sing-A-Long" after which recognition and prizes were given for table decorations and attendance, which were won by den 5 and den 2 respectively.

George Evans then presented the guest speaker of the evening, L. E. "Lew" Cabral.

Cabral, a Warrant Officer in the Marine Corps, is a holder of the Silver Beaver Award. This is the highest award that can be given to a man in scouting. He is stationed at Camp Lejeune and is on the Commanding General's staff. Cabral is a native of Jacksonville, N.C. His inspiring message was highlighted by an explanation of our flag, its purpose, and its meaning in the lives of every American. He asked the cubs to never forget to honor their flag, their God, their country and the men who have died protecting our freedom.

The banquet closed with the singing of "America, the Beautiful."

CAP Squadron Meets Thursday

The Greenville Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Pitt-Greenville Airport.

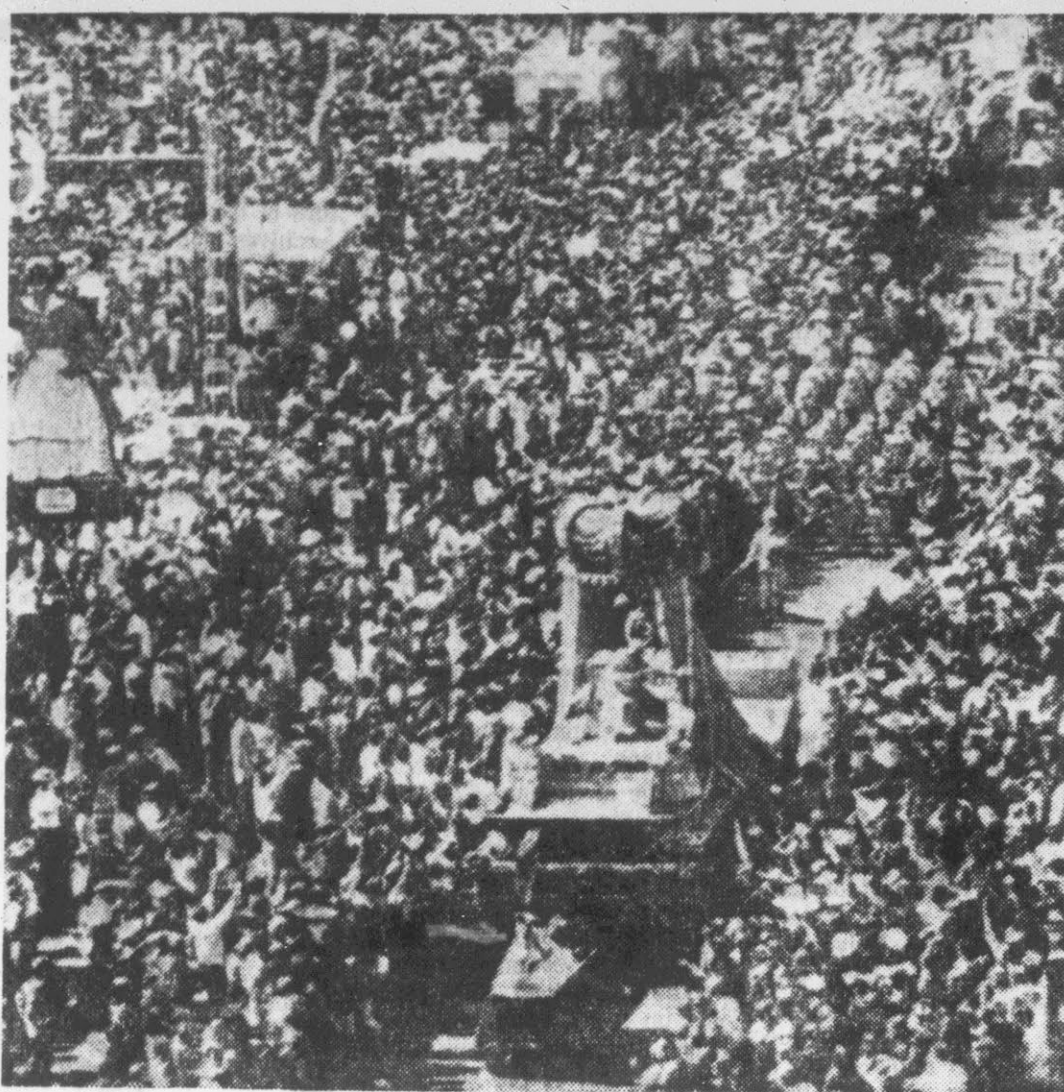

Jim Davenport, local FAA instructor will conduct the class program.

Capt. Henry Flake, commander of the Greenville squadron urged all members to be present.

Cub Pack 9 Has Annual Banquet

Cub Scout Pack 9, sponsored by Immanuel Baptist Church, held its annual Blue and Gold Banquet in the Fellowship Hall of the church, Tuesday night.

Opening ceremonies were conducted by the Cubs of Den 7 and a skit on the History of Cub Scouting was presented by Den 3.

Cubmaster K. R. Bradbury presented a talk on the History of Cub Scouting.

Two new cubs were welcomed into the pack and they received their Bobcat pins. Presentation of awards was made by Cubmaster Bradbury.

Rev. Irby B. Jackson gave the invocation.

Den mothers for Pack 9 are Mrs. Milam Johnson, Mrs. Joe Harvey and Mrs. Marcus McClanahan. Webelos leader is Gilmer Hulsey.

Russian Woman Sailor Helped

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A Russian woman stricken with appendicitis was reported in good condition Tuesday at a U.S. Navy hospital after her evacuation from a Soviet fishing vessel.

The woman was flown to the hospital by a U.S. Coast Guard helicopter, responding to a Russian radio request for assistance. Hospital officials identified her as Lillia Kostina, 23.

The helicopter crew hoisted Miss Kostina aboard at a rendezvous with the vessel Akademik Berg about 140 miles south of San Diego off the Baja California coast of Mexico.

Winterville Eyes Zoning Outside Town Limits

WINTERVILLE — In a special meeting of the Winterville town board last night, Sherman Pickard, a consultant of North Carolina League Municipalities of Raleigh, was asked to secure information concerning one mile outside zoning for the town of Winterville.

Pickard will report his findings to the board at a later date.

Mayor Walter Dail was given authority to represent the town of Winterville in applying for federal assistance under the Federal Disaster Act. The board reported that the amount of ice storm damage in Winterville totaled $6,338.70.

SKI BOOM

Ski instructor Joe Mato soars through the air in a leg-split during a skiing demonstration.

One of the oldest of sports is bringing the young and old together in greater and greater numbers today.

Many hilly areas throughout the country, within a short distance of big-city living, are resorts for people seeking the excitement and pleasure of skiing.

In the Pocono Mountains, one of the major ski areas of northern Pennsylvania, the Camelback Ski Resort near Tannersville, is one such center.

Staffed by 150 men and women, it provides everything from measured and adjusted ski rentals to the latest in fashion sales, roomy cafeterias, subdued cocktail lounge and a kiddie nursery available to the visitors.

To the skier, room to move is important. Along the 15 trails served by T-bar, J-bar and chair lifts, natural and man-made snow keeps some 4-5 thousand skiers moving, per hour, up and down the mountainside.

Spaced for beginner, novice, intermediate and expert, the slopes are under the supervision of volunteer members of the National Ski Patrol.

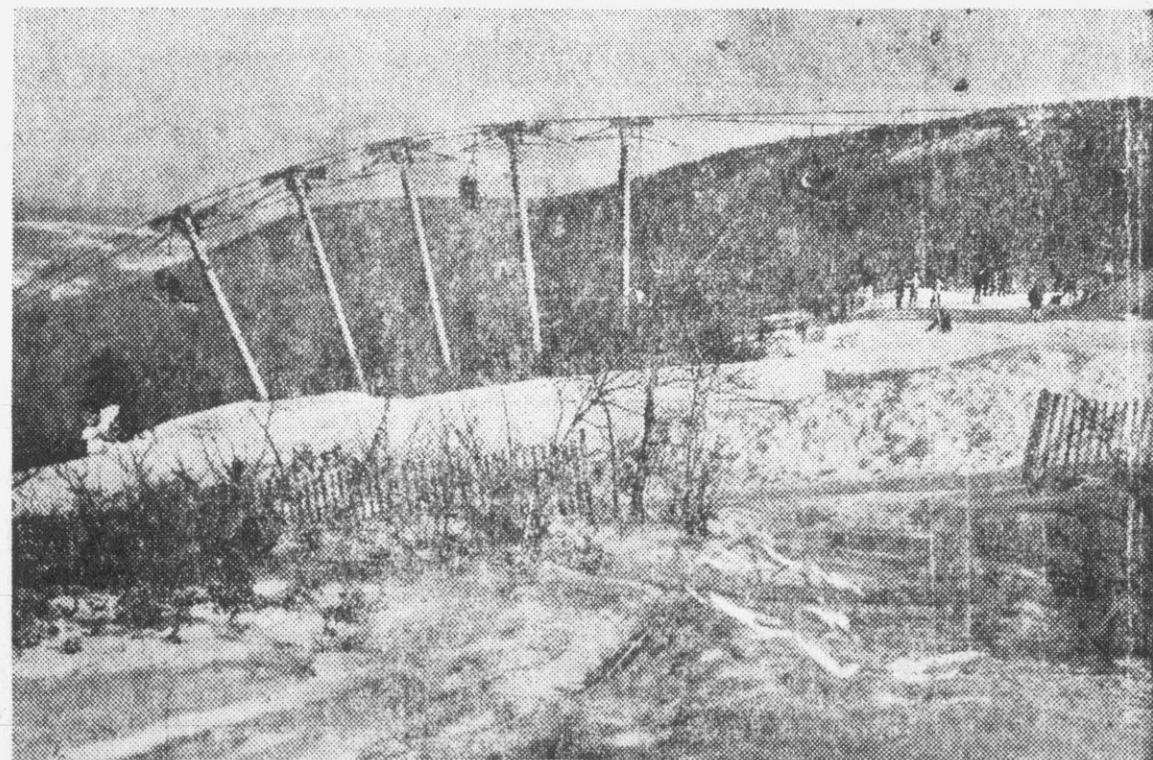

At the base of the trails, 47 full and part-time ski instructors are available to show, through demonstration and personal attention, the right and wrong way to move over the snow.

When night comes, it brings the opportunity to rest up for the next day's adventure or attend the scattered after-skiing parties held throughout the area.

On the slopes, however, staff members work throughout the night to grade and level the high and low spots so skiing the next day will be as fast and filling as the day just done.

A small part of the weekend crowd gathered about the Main Lodge.

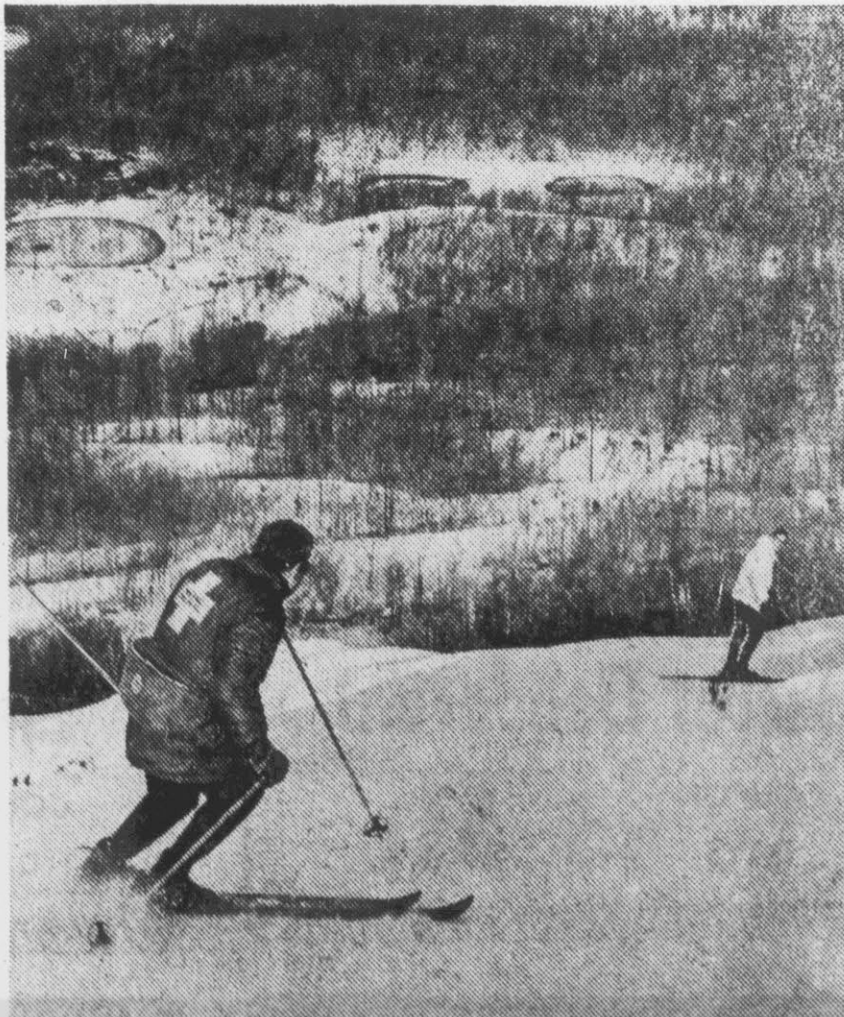

The triple-chair lift brings skiers to the top of Camelback Mountain.

George Pascucci, Lake Ronkonkama, N. Y., has his ski bindings adjusted by rental staffer Donald R. Bowen.

Joe Mato explains basic movements of the sport to Susan Cox, Aurora, N. Y.

A member of the National Ski Patrol moves down an expert slope to warn a skier of current surface conditions.

Before the map at the Main Lodge, Diane Leatherman, Reading, Pa., studies the designated trails.

WALKED TO BE A MARINE. KILLED—This was Julius C. Foster as he paused under the Marine Corps Emblem in September of 1967 after walking 400 miles to become a Leatherneck. He was killed in Vietnam fighting as a Marine on February 22. Foster, who was a marine reservist, walked from his home in Welch, W. Va. to Camp Lejeune and took his oath at the Raleigh recruiting office September 26, 1967. (AP Wirephoto)

Walked To Serve— Is Killed On Hill 861

RALEIGH (AP)—Lance Cpl. Julius C. (Corky) Foster, who walked from West Virginia to North Carolina to volunteer for Vietnam duty with the U.S. Marine Corps, is dead. He was killed in a mortar attack on Hill 861 near Khe Sanh.

Foster, 28, walked 400 miles from his home at Welch, W. Va., to Camp Lejeune Marine Base last summer with a 40-pound pack on his back. He had served in the Marine Corps Reserve and said he wanted to re-enlist for active duty and hoped to be sent to Vietnam.

The hike, Foster said, was "to emphasize the effort being made by other Americans. I hope to register the intent of the American people to win the war—not to talk about it or buy it—but win it."

Capt. Richard Titus, the Marine officer who swore Foster in at Raleigh after the West Virginian had completed his hike, said Tuesday he had received word of Foster's death.

In Winston-Salem, Foster's parents—Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Foster Jr.—were notified their son was killed Thursday during an attack in which 21 other Marines also died.

The body will be sent to Welch for burial.

Students Visited Raleigh Centers

FARMVILLE — Thirty-two sixth grade students from H. B. Sugg School here recently visited the Natural Museum of History, the State House and the school for deaf and blind children in Raleigh.

Students making the trip included: Glenn Carlton, Linwood Carlton, Guy W. Cotton, Homer Dupree, Carolyn J. Dixon, Harold P. Dixon, Carolyn M. Fields, Harold D. Forbes, Brenda Harper, Darius Jefferson, Sharon A. Jones, Bobby Joyner, Tommy Joyner, William Joyner, Randy Johnson, and Anthony Mave.

Other students visiting Raleigh were: Hattie Mae, Alvin Moore, Gloria Newton, Ricky Newton, Jay Parker, Larry Phillips, Sammy Phillips, Thomas Phillips, Rosolyn Reid, Eleanor Sugg, Alfred Tyson, Michael Tyson, Elvin Tuten, Allen Wilkes, Ronnie Wilkes and Agnes Williams.

Wins Honors In Competition

Hubert Jackson (Jac) McCracken Jr., a sophomore at East Carolina University, was one of two young musicians who won the annual competition, during his performance with the Charleston, S.C., Symphony Saturday.

The performance is conducted annually by the Charleston Symphony Association.

Music Critic Claire McPhail of the Charleston News and Courier said, "McCracken's polished performance was a credit to his teacher, Dr. Robert Carter. If at the age of 19, he can prove himself such a competent performer, it would seem certain that this young man will make his name known in the years ahead."

McCracken performed Khataturian's "Concerto for Piano and Orchestra" for the competition.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. McCracken of Oak City. A 1966 graduate of Oak City High School, McCracken was valedictorian of his graduating class. He is majoring in piano at East Carolina University and was recipient of the ECU Merit Scholarship.

Disappointed Over Slow Reaction To Take Opportunity

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials have been sharply disappointed by South Vietnam's failure to launch fast follow-up attacks on Communist forces weakened by severe losses during their offensive against South Vietnamese cities.

The Viet Cong, according to all the information available here, is now working through much of the countryside of South Vietnam to press new recruits into service and to train and reorganize units for further offensive operations. For the time being they are considered vulnerable to vigorous military action by South Vietnamese forces.

Publicly, Johnson administration authorities speak only good of the South Vietnamese allies and are usually quick to deny critical reports. In the present case, however, officials privately don't conceal their concern about the lack so far of powerful follow-up action.

The situation is acute for two reasons:

1. President Johnson will have to decide in a few days, after hearing reports from Chairman Earle G. Wheeler of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, whether to send another 100,000 or so American troops to South Vietnam beyond the 525,000 force level already scheduled.

The performance of South Vietnamese forces will inevitably be brought up in congressional debate for comparison with the burden of fighting to be carried by U.S. forces.

2. The conflict has entered a very critical and possibly decisive phase. The new phase opened at the end of January with coordinated Communist attacks on 100 South Vietnamese communities. The Communists have declared this is a drive to win decisive victories and it will certainly have a vital effect on the war's future course.

Johnson and the U.S. commander in South Vietnam, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, both have claimed that in the first wave of the offensive against the cities the enemy suffered a complete military defeat.

There is no doubt that the Viet Cong and cooperating North Vietnamese forces failed to hold any of the cities and towns they attacked and failed to set off any great political uprising. They also did not collapse the Saigon government or cause defections of South Vietnamese military units.

On the other hand they seem to have destroyed utterly the security system and related pacification program in the village-dotted countryside. And it is there that they are believed to be healing their wounds and rebuilding strength today—and there that they are considered vulnerable.

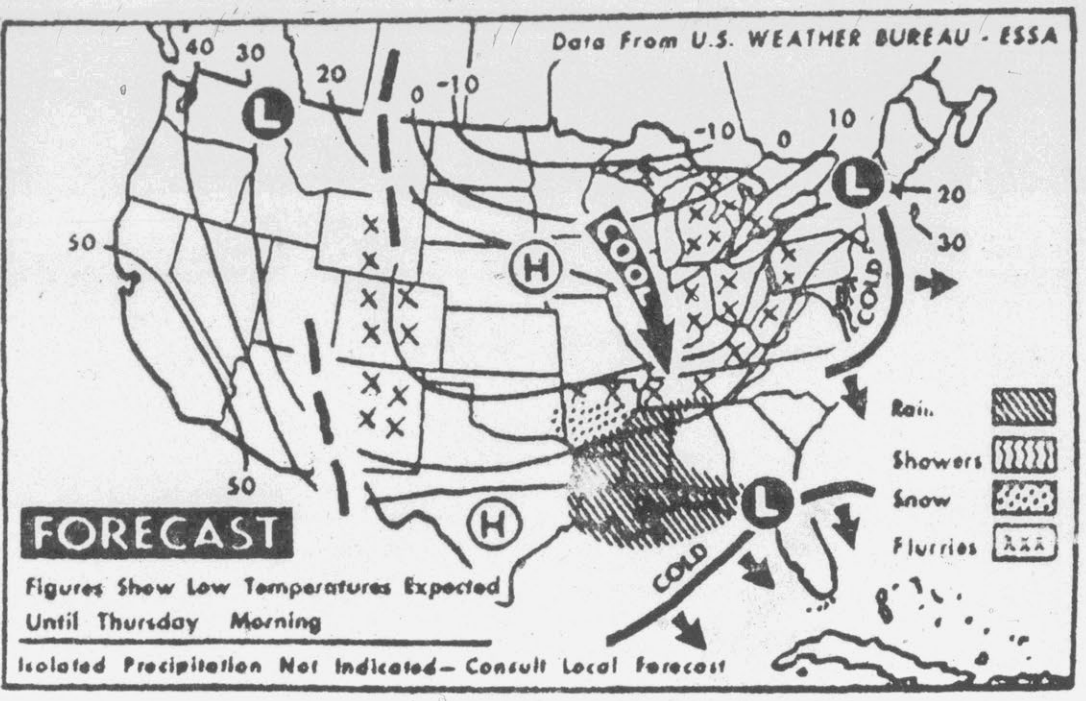

A clear hint of what the United States would like South Vietnamese forces to do came from a State Department policymaker, Assistant Secretary of State William P. Bundy, in a broadcast interview Sunday. Bundy said "if the (Saigon) government can get out there aggressively, and act, and catch the Viet Cong with their forces depleted, in the open, then that could be a major plus."

But Bundy said if the VC can rebuild and reorganize "it wouldn't be so good."

U.S. officials say privately

they feel the responsibilities should make it possible for the South Vietnamese Forces to strike back hard in the countryside and military bases—

But as the days pass, a mood of discouragement about their will to do so seems to be growing in Washington.

WEATHER FORECAST — Wednesday night snow flurries will spread through the Midwest into the Ohio valley. More snow flurries are expected in central Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico. Snow in Arkansas and Tennessee will turn to rain along the Gulf Coast. It will be colder in the Midwest. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Bucs Meet West Virginia In Tourney Opener

LEADS BUC HOPES — Co-Captain Vince Colbert will be leading the East Carolina Pirates against West Virginia in the Southern Conference tournament tomorrow. The Bucs and Mountaineers meet at 9 p.m. in the final game of the first round. Colbert, a senior, has been one of the top all-around players for the Bucs this year.

The East Carolina University Pirates, with two years of frustration behind them, are still chasing their first victory on the floor of the Charlotte Coliseum as the Southern Conference tournament gets underway Thursday.

The Bucs, who for the lack of points finished in seventh place in the standings this year, go up against second-seeded West Virginia for the second time in a row.

Two years ago, in their first venture into the Southern Conference tourney, the Bucs were seeded fifth, but lost to Richmond in the opener, by a mere two points, 76-74, in a highly controversial game, and a season which brought the resignation of then head coach Wendell Carr.

Then last year, under Tom Quinn, the Bucs battled all year long to stay in the conference race and barely edged out VMI to gain the eighth place seeding, sending them up against West Virginia.

In that game, the Bucs tried to play a slow-down game, but the Mountaineers, who went on to win the tournament, were too much for them and gained an 82-53 triumph.

This year, the Pirates finished seventh, while West Virginia got the second slot, pitting them together again.

In their lone meeting this year, the Bucs lost, 77-60, in Minges Coliseum, in what Coach Quinn called one of the poorer ECU efforts of the year.

The five points that meant seventh place to the Bucs were five which weren't scored by them. Furman beat East Carolina twice, but a total of three points, and The Citadel took a two-point win over the Bucs, for a total of five points.

If East Carolina had won these three games, their record would have been 9-4 in the conference, and would have claimed the third seeding in the tournament.

"That shows the importance of a turnover, a free throw, or a rebound," Quinn commented. Looking to the West Virginia game, Quinn pointed out that his charges "must play 40 minutes of basketball this time. We can't do it with just 17 minutes of play as we did in our regular season meeting."

"We won't be able to rest our starters as much as we have in the last few games, although some of our reserves have been coming on strong," Quinn said. He pointed to the play of Richard Kier, Bob Lindfeldt and Fred Campbell.

"I'm still disappointed in the inconsistency of Jim Modlin's rebounding," the coach said. He pointed to Modlin getting 10 against Washington & Lee and only one against VMI three nights later. He is averaging a slim 4.6 for the season, less than one more than one of the Buc guards, and three less than the other forward, Vince Colbert.

"West Virginia will have plenty of experience against us, from a tournament standpoint. They have six men who have seen tournament action, while we can point to only two who've seen a lot."

Quinn does feel, however, that the Bucs are much better off both physically and mentally than they were last year as the tournament started.

"I know we didn't have a very good game against them here. We tried to play their game and just couldn't," Quinn said. "But we will be able to play any kind this time, and we're not working on any special type, but try to get the good shots and take advantage of the breaks."

Turning to Carey Bailey, the high-jumping star of the Mountaineers, Quinn said that he hasn't played like he did against us against other teams. "I hope Charlie Alford will see the challenge of Bailey and meet it," Quinn said. "He can do it, if he really wants to."

Ron Williams, the leading scorer for the Mountaineers with a 20.7 mark, will be another problem the Bucs will have to solve. They were able to do that in Greenville, getting him in foul trouble, but that may not be as easy in Charlotte.

"They got too many easy baskets, and we didn't," Quinn said. "They also forced us to make too many turnovers."

"I feel that the boys are confident. We feel that an upset is possible, and we want to be the ones to carry it out."

Pairings for the first round send VMI against Furman and The Citadel against Richmond in the afternoon contests tomorrow, while Davidson meets William & Mary, and the Bucs meet West Virginia in the night-caps. The ECU game is slated for 9 p.m.

Thompson Is Hon. Mention All-Southern

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — As befits the only senior selected, West Virginia's Ron Williams was the top votegetter on the 1968 All-Southern Conference basketball team.

Williams, the 6-foot-3 Mountaineer ace named to the team for the third successive year, was omitted on only two ballots submitted to the wire services and the Southern Conference Sports Writers Association.

His All-Southern teammates include a pair of juniors, Wilton Ford of Richmond and Dick Esleeck of Furman, and two sophomores, Mike Maloy of Davidson and Bob Sherwood of William & Mary.

Williams finished second in the conference scoring race with 513 points in 24 games for a 21.4-point average, but West Virginia coach Bucky Waters long has maintained that Williams' value to the Mountaineers went far beyond his scoring ability.

He has been cited particularly for his team leadership and his eminence at setting up teammates with baskets.

Sherwood led the league in scoring during the regular season with 518 points for a 22.5-point average. Ford was third at 20.4 and Esleeck fourth at 19.4.

Maloy was the leader on the well-balanced Davidson squad with a 15.3 average and was the conference leader in accuracy, hitting 57.2 per cent from the floor.

Named to the All-Southern second team were Carey Bailey of West Virginia, Wayne Huckel and Doug Cook of Davidson, and John Kemper and Steve Powers of Virginia Military Institute.

East Carolina University's Earl Thompson was among those given Honorable Mention on the team.

In two seasons at the University of Texas at Arlington, coach Burley Bearden's football teams have a 16-5 record.

Northeastern Tournament Opens Wednesday Night

The Northeastern Conference tournament is all set to begin Wednesday night at Minges Coliseum in Greenville after a mad scramble last Friday night for final positions in the league standings.

Only Kinston and Rose High in first and seventh knew where they were seeded prior to Friday's action but after the final whistle had sounded all eight spots had been determined and action begins Wednesday with the upper bracket quarter finals, Thursday with the lower bracket quarter finals, Friday night for the semi finals and Saturday night for the championship. That final game will be televised over Channel Nine WNCT-TV in Greenville and played back Sunday afternoon between 2:00-4:00 p.m.

Friday night's action saw Washington nip Roanoke Rapids 48-47 to draw the number three seed although they actually tied West Carteret for second place. Jim Buckman dropped in 18 points to pace the Pack while Ron Hunnings with 12 and Cotton Nicholson with 11 led the Yellow Jackets.

Kinston closed out its regular season with a 77-64 win over New Bern dumping the Bears into sixth place in final standings. Big Rod Duke had his best night of the year with 30 points while Scott Davenport had 17 and Pat McGinnis 15 to pace the Bears.

Elizabeth City clinched fifth position with a big 61-43 win over second seed West Carteret although the league's leading scorer Larry Gray had only seven points. Geoff Burness paced E. City with 19 points while Henry Washington had 15 for the Patriots.

East Carteret won its second game of the year nipping Rose High 55-53 to close out its disappointing campaign on the winning side of the ledger.

The Havelock Rams, after staying in ninth place all year long, saved their climb until it counted as they moved into the tournament in eighth place by downing Tarboro 55-46. The two teams tied but Havelock downed Tarboro twice to gain the spot.

First round pairings Wednesday night at Minges Coliseum will find first seed Kinston against eighth seed Havelock at 7:00 p.m. and fourth seed Roanoke Rapids against fifth seed Elizabeth City at 8:30 p.m. On Thursday night at 7:00 p.m. seventh seed Rose High will take on the second seed West Carteret Patriots while at 8:30 p.m. third seed Washington will meet the sixth seeded New Bern Bears. Friday night at 7:00 p.m. the Kinston-Havelock winner will meet the Roanoke Rapids-E. City winner while at 8:30 p.m. it will be the Rose-West Carteret winner against the Washington-New Bern winner with the finals set for 8:00 p.m. Saturday night.

Jamesville Is Martin Champ

WILLIAMSTON — The Jamesville boys and the Robersonville girls claimed the Martin County Tournament Championships last night.

Jamesville downed Robersonville, 61-59, in a frantic contest, clinching the district tournament berth for Martin County. Robersonville, however, with one of the better records in the district is expected to get the at-large berth in the district. For the past two years, the Martin runner-up has taken that berth.

In the girls game, Robersonville downed Oak City, 27-22. Robersonville edged out into a 6-4 lead in the first period, then held that margin as each team scored eight points in the second frame for a 14-12 Ramlet lead at the half.

In the third frame, Oak City kept the game up in the air and pulled back to trail 19-18 as the final frame got underway. But Robersonville outscored their opponent, 8-4, and got the championship, their third in a row.

Donna Early of Oak City was the only scorer in double figures with 10 points.

In the boys contest, Jamesville jumped off to a 17-9 lead, but Robersonville rallied and went into the dressing room at the half with a 27-26 lead.

Jamesville came back in the third period to push back into the lead and take a 37-34 advantage. In the final period, Jamesville pushed its lead out to five points in the closing minute. Robersonville fought back, however, getting a three-point play with 15 seconds left.

Then for the rest of the game, they kept Jamesville from getting the ball back in bounds, but were unable to gain possession themselves for a game-tying shot attempt.

Blaine Cargile led Robersonville with 20 points, while Will Hardison paced the Jamesville club with 24 and Albert Martin added 14.

Three Robersonville boys were named to the All-Conference team following the tournament. They were Cargile, Phillip Stalls and Don Hardison. Named to the girls team from Robersonville were Rae Grimes, Ann Ward and Nan Roberson.

Frazier Out For Knockout

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y.
(AP) — The way Joe Frazier talks, Buster Mathis might be better off going home instead of climbing into the Madison Square Garden ring with the Philadelphia slugger next Monday night.

"He's gonna go—and maybe real early," said the 205-pound Frazier, who meets the 245-pound Mathis for the world heavyweight title, New York and Massachusetts version.

"I'm gonna get him sooner or later. It'll be sooner if I catch up to him quick."

Someone mentioned six or seven rounds. Joe just shook his head and said, "I hope it will be much earlier."

It could be that Frazier is waging psychological warfare. But the 24-year-old slugger with the 19-0 record, including 17 knockouts, plays it straight, as if he means every word.

Mathis, 24, also is unbeaten. His record is 23-0, including 17 knockouts.

"Sure, I know his record but he hasn't fought anyone worth mentioning," said Frazier.

On that point he is correct. Frazier has been moving in much faster company. His victims include Billy Daniels, Oscar Bonavena, Eddie Machen, Doug Jones and George Chuvalo. He handed the strong Chuvalo a fearful beating and became the first man to stop the Canadian champion. That one ended in the fourth round.

ROPE SKIPPING IN REDS CAMP — Cincinnati Reds pitcher Milt Pappas skips rope as players condition themselves at spring training camp in Tampa. Pappas won more games than any other Cincinnati pitcher last year, sixteen, but was credited with thirteen losses. (AP Wirephoto)

Philadelphia Starts Countdown To Crown

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
It's a pair of 9s for the Philadelphia 76ers and the New York Knickerbockers. In the pot are playoff positions and money based on the final National Basketball Association regular-season standings.

Philadelphia drew its nine Tuesday night by drubbing San Francisco 127-107. The Knicks kept their nine by losing 108-102 to St. Louis.

The 9s are the won-lost combinations Philadelphia needs for its third straight Eastern Division title and New York needs to grab third in the East for its highest finish since the 1958-59 season when the Knicks were second.

Any combination of Philadelphia victories and or Boston losses would give the 76ers the championship. In New York's case, the combination involves Baltimore, which is fourth, the final playoff spot.

In the only other NBA game Tuesday night, Los Angeles trounced Cincinnati 117-106.

Minnesota topped Kentucky 102-93 and Anaheim trounced Dallas 132-110 in the American Basketball Association.

Wilt Chamberlain, who is becoming accustomed to the winner's share of regular-season bonus money, led Philadelphia to its 18th victory in 21 games by pouring in 33 points, grabbing 31 rebounds and handing out five assists. Chet Walker contributed 30 points and 16 rebounds for the 76ers who increased their lead to 5½ games over second-place Boston. Fred Hetzel scored 30 points for San Francisco, third in the Western Division.

St. Louis, first in the West, got off the 9 kick, reducing its magic number to eight with its victory, which at first looked easy but turned out to be anything but easy.

The Hawks, with Len Wilkens getting 13 points, outscored New York 35-17 in the second period for a 62-45 lead. But New York, with Cazzie Russell hitting 18 of his 19 points in the second half, rallied to tie at 97-97 on Dick Barnett's basket.

Then, Don Ohl sandwiched a pair of free throws and a basket around a foul shot by New York's Balt Bellamy and Lou Hudson followed Ohl's field goal with one of his own to clinch it for the Hawks.

Wilkens and teammate Zelmo Beatty each scored 26 points. Barnett led New York with 22 and Willis Reed added 21.

Elgin Baylor kept Los Angeles six games behind St. Louis and knocked Cincinnati out of a tie with Baltimore by scoring 40 points. Jerry Lucas led Cincinnati with 31.

Los Angeles once again played without injured Jerry West, and the Royals had to use a sub-par Oscar Robertson. The Big O, hampered by an injury to his right side, scored only 11.

Mantle Signs Contract Promises To Do Better

By HAL BOCK
The psychology of contract negotiations has taken over baseball's spring training camps.

The trick, of course, is for the players to remind the owners how important those hits and shutouts were last season, and for the owners to get off as cheaply as possible for 1968.

Phil Seghi, Cincinnati's assistant general manager, said he plans no discussion for two or three days with Maloney, Pinson, Rose, Chico Ruiz, Tommy Helms, Mel Queen and the Reds' other non-stgnees.

"This is a period of meditation for them," said Seghi.

Clete Boyer has not yet reached terms with Atlanta and when he does, he'll find the Braves' camp a beehive of activity.

"We'll be out on the field from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. if necessary," said new manager Luman Harris. "Whatever it takes, we'll use."

The Yankees eliminated two signing problems by placing injured third baseman Charlie Smith on the restricted list and withdrawing John Boocabella's initiation to training camp.

Smith injured a knee in an off-season accident at home, and is not expected to be ready to work until early April. Boocabella, drafted from the Chicago Cubs, did not sign and was ordered to report to the minor league camp at Hollywood, Fla. next month.

He came back twice. Both against the Duke Blue Devils. And he plans to try for lucky No. 3 tonight against North Carolina.

Thompson scored 21 points when the Gamecocks beat Duke 83-80 Jan. 30, and 21 points when South Carolina edged the Blue Devils 53-50 last Saturday night—his two highest outputs of the season.

"It's the challenge," says Thompson.

Thompson hit 17 of 23 field goal attempts in the two games against Duke for a percentage of 73.9. His mark for the season is 42.4.

"I just play better under pressure," he insists.

Thompson was a key factor in coach Frank McGuire's ultra-slow game plan Saturday against Duke.

The Gamecocks stood outside and tossed looping passes at one another, driving Duke and Duke's fans to distraction. That, combined with a hot second-half shooting percentage, gave the Gamecocks their first two-game sweep of Duke since the conference began.

Tonight's game won't affect signed his sixth straight $100,000 agreement with a pledge to improve on the .245 batting average and 22 home runs he had last year.

"I think I can hit 30 home runs," said Mantle. "I don't think that's out of the question."

"I can't do any worse than last year," he said.

Phil Seghi, Cincinnati's assistant general manager, said he plans no discussion for two or three days with Maloney, Pinson, Rose, Chico Ruiz, Tommy Helms, Mel Queen and the Reds' other non-stgnees.

"This is a period of meditation for them," said Seghi.

League Titles Are Still Up For Grabs In A Few

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Any resemblance between the Big Ten, Big Eight and Southwest Conference basketball standings of Tuesday and Wednesday is purely accidental.

The Big Ten, which had a two-way tie, now has Iowa all alone at the top. The Big Eight, which also had a two-way tie, shows Kansas State in the lead but four teams bunched within one game of each other. And Texas, which had been the Southwest leader, slipped into a three-way deadlock with Baylor and Texas Christian.

While those three leagues were trying to determine their representatives in the NCAA tournament, two tourney-bound teams were in action Tuesday night. All Top Ten clubs in the Associated Press Poll were idle.

At New York, NCAA-bound St. John's jolted National Invitation Tournament hopeful Holy Cross 83-67 in a sloppily-played game, despite 31 points by the losers' Keith Hochstein.

At South Bend, Ind., Bob Arzen and Bob Whitmore combined for 63 points and led NIT-bound Notre Dame past Valparaiso 87-75. The 6-foot-5 Arzen scored a season's high 35 points while 6-7 Whitmore had 28 and pushed his two-year total to 1,023.

Three other teams continued their efforts to impress the NIT selection committee. Villanova, with Johnny Jones sinking eight straight shots in the first half and scoring 30 points, edged Toledo 71-69, but almost blew a seven-point lead in the last two minutes in its own field house.

Sophomore Chad Calabria, a 6-1 guard, scored 11 quick points as Iowa took a 14-3 lead over Michigan State and rolled to a 76-58 victory at Iowa City. Calabria finished with 25 points and Sam Williams added 22 as the Hawkeyes took a half-game lead over idle Ohio State and a full game over Purdue, which lost to Michigan 104-94.

A 52.4 per cent shooting mark and Rick Mount's 35 points were not enough for Purdue. The Boiler-makers made only six of 12 free throws while Michigan connected on 20 of 31. Rudy Tomjanovich scored 30 points as the Wolverines dedicated their new University Events Arena.

Kansas State took over the Big Eight lead by whipping Missouri 70-63, while Kansas bowed to Nebraska 76-69 and Iowa State was idle. The standings show Kansas State at 8-3, Iowa State 7-3, Nebraska 8-4 and Kansas 7-4.

Steve Honeycutt scored 27 points and 7-1 Nick Pino grabbed 16 rebounds to spark Kansas State past Missouri. The Wildcats are at Iowa State next Monday in a key battle.

Stu Lantz scored 22 points as Nebraska dropped Kansas from its share of the lead. But the big surprise was Bob Grattopp, a 6-4 sophomore, who netted 21 points and hauled down 13 rebounds against the taller Jayhawks.

The three-way tie in the Southwest's annual rodeo came about when Texas Christian beat Texas 71-65 and Baylor defeated Arkansas 71-64. The three leaders have 8-5 records. Texas A&M missed a chance to make it a four-way deadlock by dropping an 83-81 double overtime game to Texas Tech.

Other scores:
Northwestern 73, Indiana 66; Wisconsin 94, Minnesota 83; Rice 76, Southern Methodist 75; Bucknell 94, Gettysburg 86; Colgate 89, Rochester 77; Rutgers 62, Lehigh 55; Massachusetts 61, Northeastern 59; Rider 106, Susquehanna 83; Boston U. 83, Brandeis 68; Dartmouth 76, Worcester Tech 66.

U.S. Cagers Deny Boycott

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
KANSAS CITY (AP) — Three UCLA stars declined bids to the NCAA's 48-man olympic Trials basketball squad for scholastic reasons, their spokesman says, and any suggestion they are part of a proposed Negro boycott is pure speculation.

The NCAA squad announced Tuesday does include All-Americans Elvin Hayes of unbeaten, top-ranked Houston and Westley Unseld of Louisville's 9th-ranked Missouri Valley champs, plus most of the nation's major college scoring and rebounding leaders, many of them Negroes.

Hayes earlier said he might pass up the Olympics to avoid a late start in pro ball. His collegiate three-year scoring total is second in major college history only to Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati.

The three UCLA stars who declined are 7-foot-1½ Lew Alcindor, also a 1967 All-American, Mike Warren and Lucious Allen, all key figures in UCLA's unbeaten run to the NCAA crown last year.

Both Alcindor and Allen are juniors. The 48-man squad includes seven juniors, including Creighton's Bob Portman, No. 4 nationally in scoring; and seven sophomores, headed by Pete Maravich of Louisiana State and Calvin Murphy of Niagara, 1-2 on the national scoring table.

An eight-man NCAA committee compiled a list of 145 to 150 players and contacted their schools to determine whether they would accept bids.

"The response was most gratifying," said Walter Byers, NCAA executive director. "This is a tremendous squad." No count was made of the number of players who declined consideration, but he said they were few.

The squad includes 15 from the NCAA College Division and 33 from the University Division. The coaches for the April 4-5-6 Trials are Ray Meyer of DePaul, Tex Winter of Kansas State, John Bach of Fordham and Arad McCutchan of Evansville.

Girl Enters Sandhills 250

ROCKINGHAM, N. C. (AP)—A husky woman driver from England has entered the 250-mile Sandhills race for small sports sedans at North Carolina Motor Speedway March 9.

She is Jacqui Smith, 24, a five-year veteran of racing in all sorts of equipment in the British Isles and on the continent. She will drive a 1968 Camaro, part of a team being prepared for NASCAR's new Grand Touring Division this year by veteran Buck Baker of Charlotte.

It will be Miss Smith's first race on oval, banked speedways, but she feels she will do well. She visited the speedway Tuesday, but didn't drive on the one-mile oval.

Miss Smith, a pretty redhead who stands 5-9, owns 14 victories in 60 starts against primarily all-male competition in England and in France and Germany. Her biggest win was at Silverstone, England, a hazardous road course, where she beat a 23-man field.

The fastest 34 cars will start in the Sandhills 250, a $15,000 event that this year will be the main preliminary to the spring 500 mile race for Grand National cars at Rockingham. The 500-miler will be run on Sunday, March 10.

Eppes, South Ayden Playing

Eppes High School and South Ayden enter State Tournament action this week, with South Ayden starting play tonight.

The Eagles, who won their district tournament, will meet Maxton Dean tonight at 6:30 p.m. at Wilson Darden High School in a 2-A quarterfinals match.

The winner advances into the semifinals on Thursday night at 5 p.m. against Lincolnton Newbold. The finals will be held next Tuesday at the home court of one of the finalists.

Eppes, meanwhile, gets into action on Friday, facing Winston-Salem Paisley at 5 p.m. The winner of that game will face the Goldsboro Dillard-Kinston Adkins winner on Saturday night. The finals, as in the 2-A, will be held Tuesday at the home court of one of the finalists.

Heels Worry Over Thompson

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The mighty North Carolina basketball team, No. 3 in the nation and No. 1 in the Atlantic Coast Conference, is worried about a semi-crippled ex-candy store clerk from Brooklyn, N.Y.

Jack Thompson missed six games for the South Carolina Gamecocks during the early part of the season, suffering from a chronic pulled hamstring muscle.

North Carolina's ACC standing, but the Gamecocks are interested in improving their position. South Carolina is presently embroiled in a three-way dog-fight for second place in the ACC with Duke and N. C. State.

That fight will be all but decided after tonight's action. The other two participants, Duke and N. C. State, meet in Raleigh.

Two Phantoms Are Mentioned

Rose High School's Buddy Turnage and Billy Taylor were named to Honorable Mention on the All-Northeastern Conference team, it was announced today.

The eleven man squad includes Ron Hummings of Roanoke Rapids, Henry Washington of West Carteret, Larry Gray of Elizabeth City, Rod Duke of Kinston, Joe Karns of Kinston, Jim Buckman of Washington, Scott Davenport of New Bern, Cotton Nicholson of Roanoke Rapids, Tom Gwyn of Havelock, Bo Simmons of Tarboro and Pat McGuiness of New Bern.

Many Say It's Now Or Never For Saigon Govm't

EDITOR'S NOTE—What is the outlook in South Vietnam a month after the Communists began their attacks on the cities? This is the first of three analyses by AP correspondents William L. Ryan and Peter Arnett. Ryan, a specialist in Communist affairs, has worked in Vietnam several times, starting in 1954. Arnett has been in Saigon and in the field in Vietnam most of the last six years.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN and PETER ARNETT
SAIGON (AP) — Never in the years of U.S. involvement in Vietnam, officials say, has there been such uncertainty as lies immediately ahead.

The Americans still hold that U.S. forces cannot be defeated militarily. The Americans also say—often gloomily—that the need was never greater than now for the Saigon government to face up to its problems and its dangers.

One of the biggest problems is how to rally South Vietnam's people solidly behind the anti-Communist cause. Another is corruption, whose continued existence helps erode popular confidence in the government.

What has happened in the past month has produced a feeling among some Americans here that it's now or never for the South Vietnam government.

South Vietnam has gone through a convulsion following what one high U.S. official on the scene now concedes was a "beautifully executed" offensive against 40 major population centers.

The worry and the wondering revolve about taking South Vietnam out of its state of shock, about repairing the heavy physical and psychological damage which has been done, about rebuilding confidence—and most of all about establishing a meaningful dialogue between the Americans here and the army and government of South Vietnam.

The obstacles include a tangled complex of military, political, economic and emotional difficulties.

The big fear is that these difficulties will progressively weaken the internal political structure in South Vietnam. That in turn would have impact on the strategy of Gen. William C. Westmoreland for defeating Communist forces.

Few Americans here try to hide forebodings generated by critical situations in the military, political, economic and pacification fields. The Tet—January new year—offensive not only has brought into sharp focus the realities facing a country torn by war and political dissension for years, but has illuminated a gap in communication between the Americans and the South Vietnamese government.

One top-level U.S. official who has been here for years exploded in exasperation recently during a conversation with an equally high Vietnamese over government actions on the internal political scene.

These actions, the U.S. official intimated, would do further violence to the image of the Saigon regime, in the United States as well as at home.

Later, the American was asked: Why didn't the United States put more pressure on its ally?

"They are a sovereign nation," was the reply. Moreover, he added, there is an attitude among South Vietnamese leaders that the United States has no choice but to continue fighting this war.

But what of the arrests of members of the non-Communist political opposition, which could give the Saigon regime a black eye in the United States?

"They'll ask you," said the American, "What did you do with the rioters in Detroit? Didn't you arrest them, too?"

The United States was collaborating secretly with the Viet Cong to force a coalition government. These rumors, it said, "are based on the apparent reluctance of the Americans to fully commit themselves to fighting the Communist attackers from the very start. The U.S. military performance in Saigon and Hue in the first days following the attacks tends to give substance to such belief."

In fact, the Americans had hoped the South Vietnamese army and police could defend their own capital. As for Hue, more than 100 U.S. troops have died taking it back from the Communists.

This sort of press comment could not appear without government approval. The Saigon press is rigidly censored. The tone suggests a suspicion that some day the Americans will deal with the Communists and leave the Saigon regime out in Vietnam's internal affairs, reflect a suspicion that the United States is actively interested in a coalition.

One American described the current situation: "It's like painstaking placing a piece in a complicated jigsaw puzzle. No sooner do you get it placed than a previous piece falls out. That is the American experience in Vietnam."

For Vietnamese politicians across the spectrum these are nervous days. All manner of rumors float around this grimy city. About 20 non-Communist opponents of the government have been arrested. Most are suspected of connections with proponents of coalition as a way out of the war.

The arrests spotlight the misgivings held by the generals who run the government. Hints in the press, such as a Saigon Daily News complaint that Americans "meddle" too much former generals now involved in politics are forming alliances with neutralist elements on the civilian side.

Two men prominently mentioned in this respect are Tran Van Don, chairman of a group called the National Salvation Committee, and Ton That Dinh, who as a general had a part in the 1963 overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem. Some sources connect Ky with this group.

Thieu and his supporters suspect anything labeled "front." They suspect any political move which might lessen their authority. This same source says that

The mixture is a yeasty one that complicates American efforts to bring about some unity of purpose here.

On the surface, South Vietnam has a constitutional government elected last September. Underneath, it retains the trappings of a military regime jealous of its authority and prone to crack down on any trace of opposition.

Americans say a great opportunity existed after the shock of the Viet Cong Tet offensive created an impulse among politicians to seek national salvation through unity. These Americans were dismayed when the government jailed non-Communist opponents. They felt the timing hardly could have been worse.

"One more political upheaval—one more coup—is all we need around here," one American said, mindful of a history of violent political upheavals over the past five years.

But the chief American worry is the mood of this capital, and how events seem to feed on a atmosphere of frustration and foreboding.

Runaway Minute Mounts Up For Small Employer

By BYRON BEARD
Associated Press Writer

Management, spurred by a new federal minimum-wage law, lopes after the maverick minute that got away.

Labor, which opened the corral gate, takes a front seat for the last-time spectacle. Maverick time is unearned wages from his employer. appears in his paycheck regularly.

Languid Joe, a minimum-wage employe, is a member of the lost-time set. Last year, he stole almost three days in wages from his employer.

Joe's a good guy with an expensive habit. He manages to beat the company out of an average five minutes daily by loafing on the job or showing up late for work.

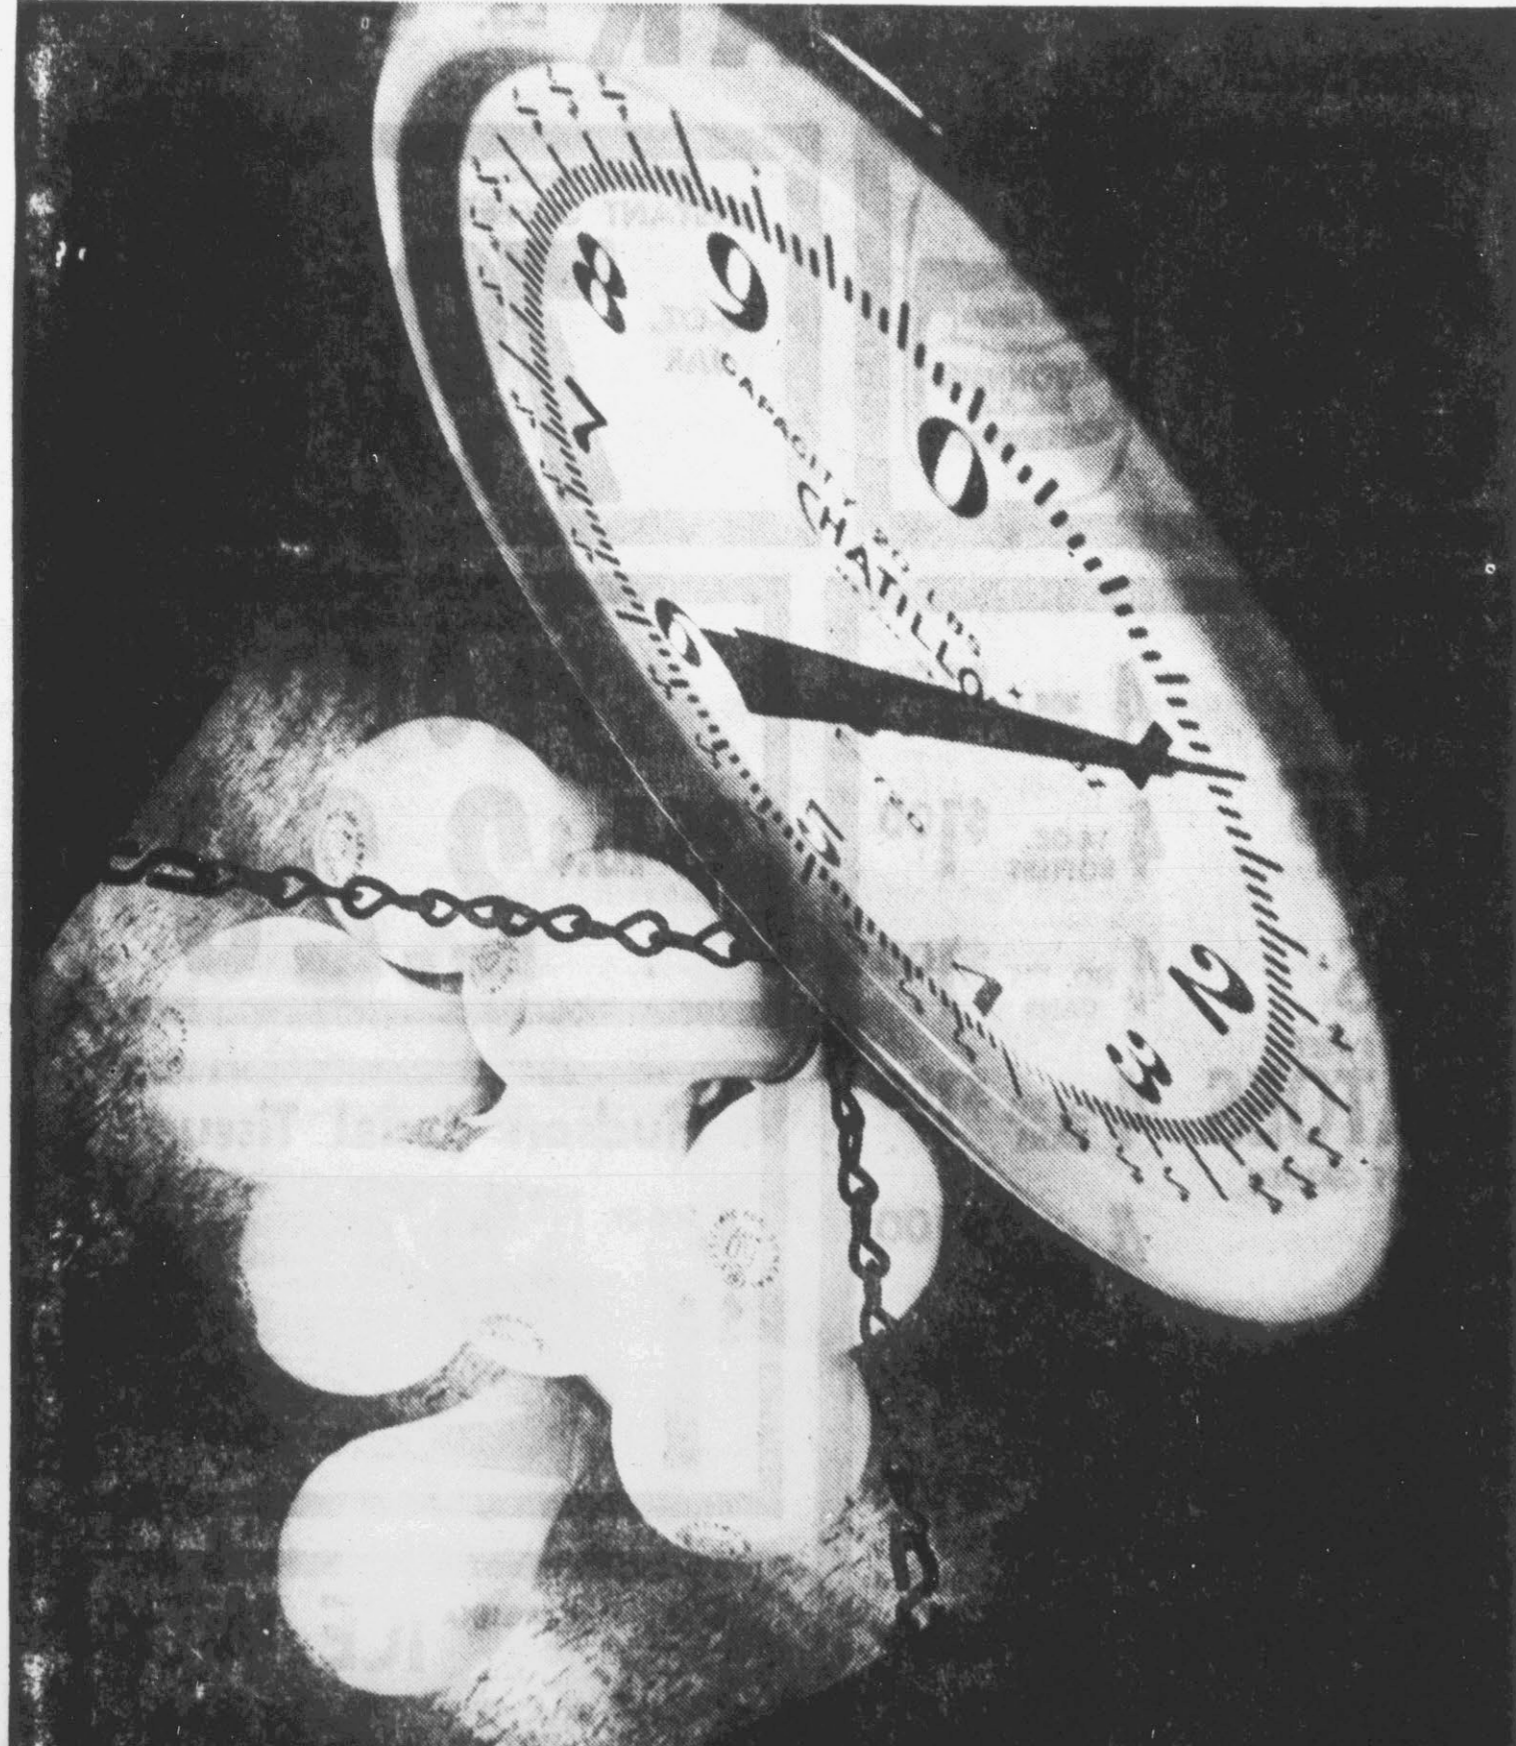

identical time maneuver and you'll see why employers feel every minute counts.

Employers nationwide are realizing a deeper lost-time bite as of Feb. 1 when the minimum-wage law went from $1.40 to $1.60.

The Cincinnati Recorder Co. has made a study of what lost time can cost.

In figuring the total cost, overhead was considered equal to the hourly wage. On the minimum wage scale, a company can expect to lose $3.20 for each hour lost.

The study was based on an eight-hour day, five days a week, 255 working days a year. A typical example is the small employer with 10 workers who draw the minimum scale. If all 10 lose five minutes each working day, the company loses $680 this year.

How much does it cost to make a light bulb light?

The amount of electricity a light bulb (or any appliance) uses is very accurately measured by your electric meter.

You are charged only for the amount you use. Right now the average annual residential cost is 2.1¢ per kilowatt hour. So let's figure how much it costs to light a 60 watt bulb for eight hours. Multiply 60 (watts) by 8 (hours) and divide the answer by 1000 (to make watt hours kilowatt hours).

If you did it right you got .480. Now multiply .480 by .021¢ (2.1¢). The answer is about a penny. One cent.

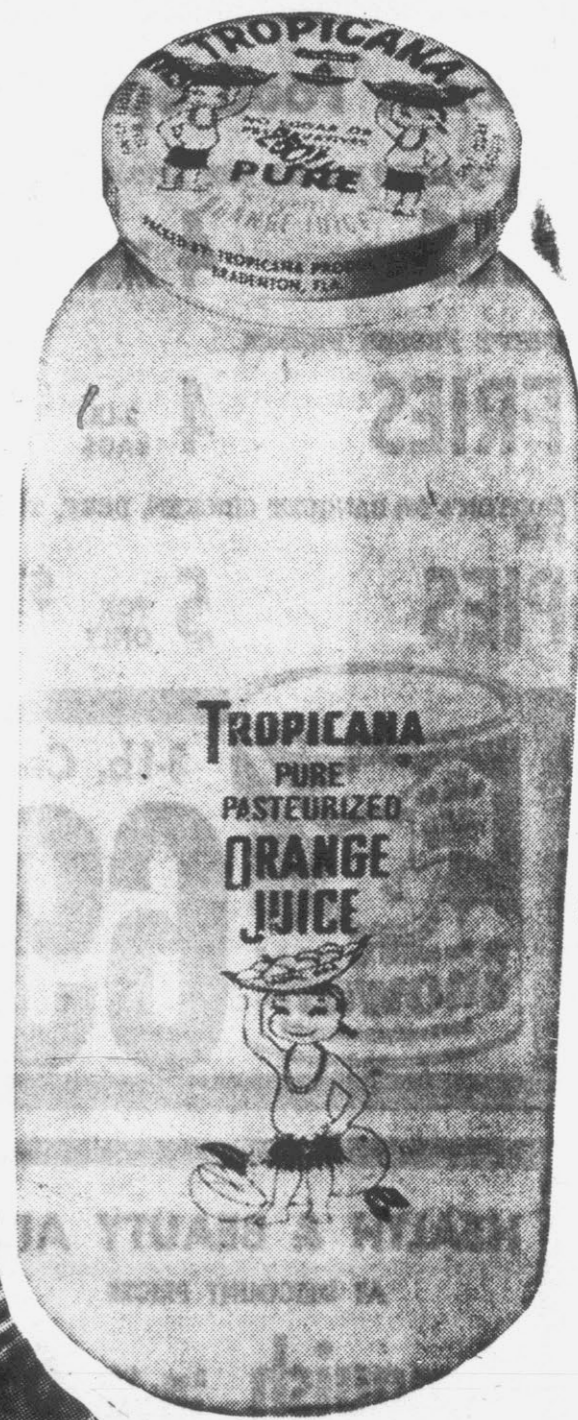

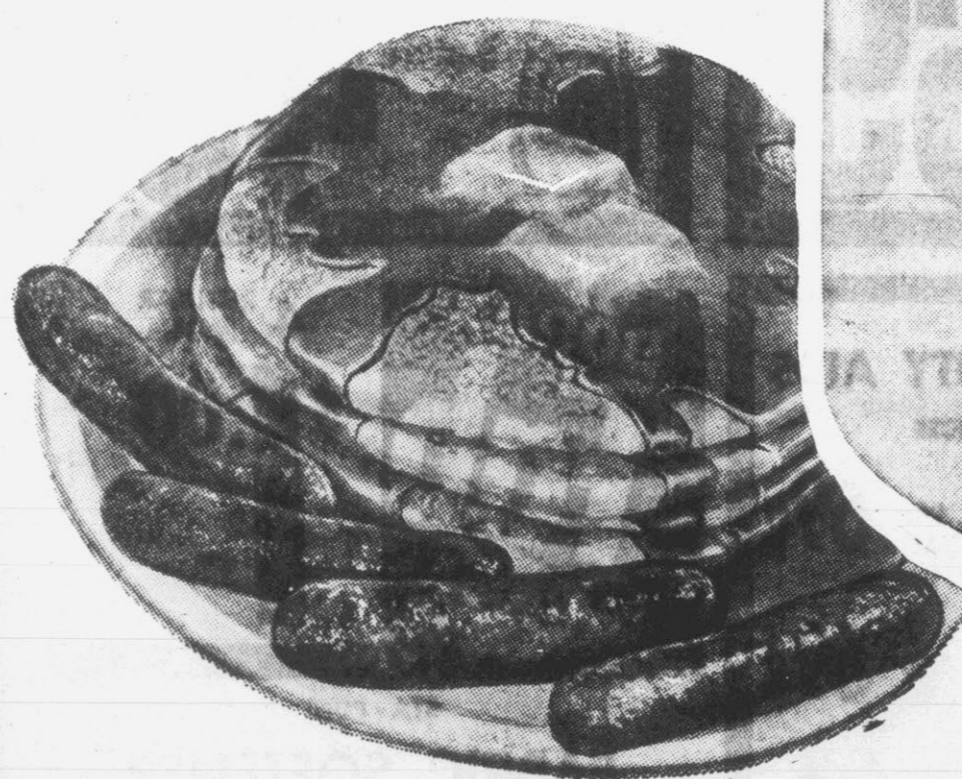

Using that same formula, here are some other things a penny's worth of electricity will do: toast 40 slices of bread, brew 20 cups of coffee, wash 14 pounds of clothes.

Wouldn't it be great if you got that much value for every penny you spend?

What Quality Beef Does A&P Sell?

That's a fair question. But not an easy one to answer because we have our own quality standards, different from any other meat merchant.

These standards don't fit exactly the familiar terms you know for grades of meat. As an example, did you know that some beef, graded U. S. Choice, just doesn't meet our "Super-Right" specifications? It's true! You see... we don't buy by grade. We use our own high standards to bring you the best values.

That doesn't mean we don't approve of such grading—not at all. It just means we're very fussy about the beef we label "Super-Right." It stands to reason we have to be or A&P wouldn't be America's number one meat merchant.

If you haven't learned the true meaning of "Super-Right" Quality—try it. Let the taste be the test. After all, it doesn't matter what the label or grade is. It's the EAT in the MEAT that counts.

The EAT in the MEAT is unconditionally guaranteed in "Super-Right" Beef. Either you agree that the "Super-Right" Beef you buy is as flavorful, as tender as you think it should be or you get your money back.

Is it any wonder with a quality guarantee like that, that "Super-Right" Beef is the choice of thousands?

ECU Choir To Begin 7-City Tour Thursday

The 55-voice East Carolina University Concert Choir will go on tour this weekend to sing in seven cities of the state.

Under the direction of Dr. Charles Stevens of the ECU School of Music faculty, the choir will give concerts in Wilmington, Morehead City, Beaufort, Fayetteville, Hamlet, Siler City and Pittsboro.

The group will begin the tour on Thursday, and return to the campus on Monday, March 4.

The repertoire for the tour concerts is a varied one, including selections from early American composer William Billings, Brahms, Mozart, modern musical comedy ("The Fantasticks"), 19th and 20th century Russian music and sacred works.

Accompanying the singers for some numbers will be a five-piece instrumental combo: Kenneth Deans of Hampton, Va., saxophone; Glenn Harris of Richmond, Va., string bass; Dennis Laubhan of Hillsboro, Kans., trumpet; Alan Moore of High Point, saxophone; and James Stockner of Galax, Va., drums.

Choir participants from Pitt County include William Nichols Jr. of Farmville Route 2, and Judy Laine Hoell, 1702 Treemont Drive, Greenville.

Has Exhibit At Kinston Center

KINSTON - William H. Holley, assistant professor at East Carolina University, will be the exhibiting artist at the Kinston Art Center from March 3 through March 29.

The exhibit will feature welded steel sculpture concerned with the forces of compression and expansion and hard-edged paintings, exploring the use of complimentary colors, field reversal, opposition, symmetry and directional flow.

Holley holds the B. S. and M. A. degrees from East Carolina University and has done graduate work at Radford College and the University of Kentucky. He is a doctoral candidate in art education at the Pennsylvania State University.

Holley, a native of Wilmington, is married to the former Jean Rowland of Raleigh and they have three sons. He is listed in Who's Who in American Education.

Mr. and Mrs. Holley will be honored at a reception at the Center Sunday, March 3, from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Revival Services Begin Sunday

Revival services will begin at the Good Shepherd Church, St. John Community, Sunday, March 18, at 7:30 p.m.

Sunday, March 18, Sunday School will begin at 10 a.m. and morning worship will be conducted at 11 a.m. Dinner will be served on the grounds after the morning worship service.

A singpiration will begin at 2 p.m. Rev. Dollie Mae Sutton is pastor.

Services are held at Good Shepherd Church every second and fourth Sunday.

Gold Price-Hike Suggestion Is Taking Hold

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — It is interesting to note how France's suggestion to the United States that it raise the price of gold, at first denounced as meddling by outraged Americans, is now being considered openly and seriously.

Not perhaps by the Johnson administration—judged at least by official statements—but by banks, economists, magazines, financial experts, stock market analysts. All are treating the idea more logically than in their first, strident reactions.

Pierre Rinfret, economic consultant to American business, is offering "modest odds" that the price of gold will be raised prior to 1970. Dr. Paul Einzig of the Commercial and Financial Chronicle is willing "to stake my whole reputation" on a price increase.

To raise the price of gold, which is a U.S. prerogative, would of course benefit France because it has accumulated huge gold holdings, more than $5 billion by recent estimate. France's stand is clear for that reason alone.

The rationale of a gold price increase goes deeper however. If the amount of gold in circulation among trading nations in the world, how can world trade and commerce grow?

At present, the fact that the United States pegs the price of gold at $35 an ounce is the keystone on which is built the ratio of one currency to another. This permits them to trade with each other. But it is based on a limited amount of gold.

This is the broad problem. The immediate concern, however, is the U.S. balance of payments problem. This country is spending more abroad than it draws here. Thus, dollars are put into the hands of foreign governments, and with these they buy our gold.

France, more than any nation, has followed this policy. For France believes the U.S. dollar is inflated, that it really isn't worth what we say it is. And so they take gold instead.

If trends continue, the remaining $12 billion of U.S. gold will be gone and the United States no longer will be able to back its pledge to foreign nations that any dollars they hold as to make American goods more attractive to foreign buyers and thus improve the balance of trade. This might require a tax increase and a cut in federal spending.

Nevertheless, the idea of increasing the price of gold seems to be in vogue at the moment.

Enlarging Dock Facility Of Port

LOURENCO MARQUES Mozambique (AP) — Preliminary work has begun on a long-term project to enlarge the natural facilities now available in the dock area in this important Portuguese East African port.

The work involves dredging and construction of quays to handle a greater number of ships at one time.

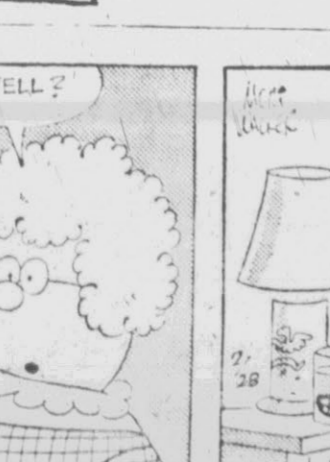

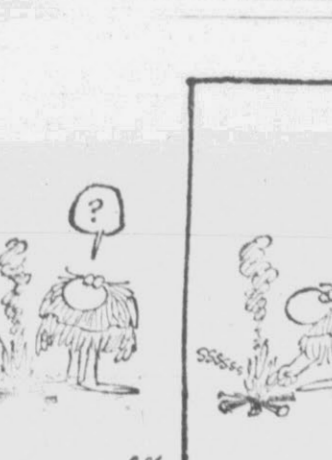

Officials say they are unable to give an estimate of costs or precise work plans at this stage but they say "several million dollars" will eventually be spent.

Pitt Native In New Post At Appalachian U.

BOONE — The creation of a new administrative position was announced Friday at Appalachian State University.

Dr. Benjamin F. Strickland, professor of education and a former registrar at ASU, was named to occupy the post of Assistant Dean of the Graduate School.

The new position is an outgrowth of Appalachian's rapidly expanding graduate program which has seen a 63.6 per cent

THERE OUGHT TO BE A LAW

TV 'Special' On Clark Gable For New Generation Of Fans

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Seven years after his death, Clark Gable continues to be a box-office star.

If you have any doubts, just consult the latest grosses for "Gone with the Wind," which is earning more money than during its first release in 1939. A whole new generation is discovering the masculine charm of the man who was king of the movie world for a quarter-century.

On March 5 NBC will observe the growing Gable cult with a special called "Dear Mr. Gable." The title is from the love letter Judy Garland mailed to her favorite star when she was an adoring teen-ager. The man who produced and wrote the special is documentary expert Nicolas Noxon, 31, who was unborn when Gable became a top star by winning the Oscar for "It Happened One Night."

Noxon, maker of such Wolper productions as "Biography," "Hollywood and the Stars" and "Men in Crisis," created "Dear Mr. Gable" for MGM's new documentary department.

"For five months I have lived with Clark Gable; I've even had him in my dreams," said the scholarly-looking Noxon. "I found him to be a simple, straightforward guy, and that is the same treatment I tried to give to the documentary about him."

"There is nothing bad you could say about him. He seems to have been a totally likeable person. Each time he played a role, he was enacting essentially the same character, and that character came very close to being Gable himself."

"People enjoyed seeing that character over and over again, and he became a part of everyone's life. He was a piece of folklore, like Dick Tracy. My main purpose in the documentary was to try to determine why so many disparate people liked him so much."

Noxon had access to the MGM films with Gable, and he viewed them all. The special includes full scenes from 10 of the features, plus 40 brief shots. For the first time on television two scenes from "Gone with the counter will be shown—the encounter between Rhett Butler and Scarlett O'Hara at the Atlanta charity bazaar, and the angry exchange late in their marriage.

The MGM crew also made extensive interviews with those who knew Gable in his lifetime, and some will be on the show—Greer Garson, Joan Blondell, Frank Capra, two childhood friends, and a former fiancée from Portland, Ore.

"We also uncovered footage never seen before—the Carole Lombard plane crash and Gable posing with B17s in England during the war," said Noxon. "And we have a few home movies from people who went hunting with Gable. But he was not the kind of actor who liked to pose offstage; he kept pretty much to himself."

increase in total enrollment since 1964. With a current enrollment of 1,041, the university's graduate school has projected another 74 per cent increase in enrollment by 1972.

Dean of the Graduate School, Dr. Cratis D. Williams, added that Dr. Strickland's new duties will center on admissions and academic counseling.

A native of Bell Arthur, Dr. Strickland came to Appalachian in 1962 from Wadesboro. He was principal there from 1957-62. He is the son of Mrs. W. A. Strickland of Bell Arthur and the late Mr. Strickland.

Dr. Strickland is currently serving as president of Appalachian's NCEA unit. He is a member of ASU's 10-man steering committee for long-range planning and is a member of the Graduate Council.

A Wake Forest alumnus, he obtained his M.Ed. and Ed.D. degrees from UNC-Chapel Hill.

Interviews For Scholarships This Weekend

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — A total of 111 boys from North Carolina high schools and private preparatory schools will come to Chapel Hill this weekend to be interviewed for Morehead scholarships at the University of North Carolina.

During the period from Friday through Monday the boys will be interviewed by members of the central selection committee and the board of trustees of the John Motley Morehead Foundation. Winners will be notified by mail after they return home.

Sixty boys were nominated by North Carolina high schools and 51 by 26 private preparatory schools.

The first department of space science in an American college has been established at Rice University in Houston, Texas, says the National Geographic.

Chaplain Learns Shorter Prayers

FT. LEWIS, Wash. (AP) — Brig. Gen. Robert L. Ashworth was handing diplomas to some officers who completed a course on how to simplify their work.

When the general came to a chaplain, Maj. Walter R. Laubscher, he asked: "Does this mean you've found a shortcut to heaven?"

"No sir," the chaplain replied, "just shorter prayers."

PREFERRED CUSTOMER

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — T. E. Lenon was flattered to receive a letter from a department store he patronized which began: "As one of our preferred customers, you are being sent this circular early so you may have first choice of the specials inside."

The envelope was addressed "Occupant."

The bidding:

South West North East
2♥ Pass 3♥ 3♠
6♥ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ten of ♠ South was reluctant to permit the fate of his six heart contract to rest solely on a finesse and, in attempting to improve his odds, he uncovered a method that assured him of success.

When South received a positive response to his opening demand bid of two hearts, he was determined to reach a slam. Inasmuch as a prolonged investigation was not apt to produce much additional information he decided not to dally and, after East overcalled with three spades, South proceeded directly to six hearts.

West opened the ten of spades which was covered in turn by dummy's jack, East's queen and, declarer's ace.

An examination of the dummy revealed that South must lose a spade trick. The fate of the slam, then, depended on bringing in the diamond suit without casualty. Inasmuch as declarer has a two way finesse for the queen, it appears that he must determine which opponent has the missing honor.

South resolved to postpone his decision until the last possible moment, in favor of a plan that might eliminate guesswork altogether. He first cashed the ace of clubs, followed by the ace of hearts, and then a small heart to North's nine—which drew the adverse trump.

The nine of clubs was led, covered by East's jack and ruffed by South. Another heart to the ten permitted declarer to lead dummy's remaining club—the ten. When East covered with the queen, South did not ruff, however; instead, he discarded the three of spades, placing his opponent on lead.

East was hopelessly employed. If he returned a club, declarer could ruff in dummy while he discarded a diamond from his hand. If East led back a spade, it would establish North's jack. And finally, the return of a diamond removes the guess from that suit.

The Worry Clinic Personal Charm Has A Great Deal Of Value

As Nita indicates, some of the most progressive Business Colleges are adding a "Charm Course" to their curriculum. Liberal Arts colleges could well do likewise. But also include men therein! Note the new emphasis on masculine charm among Japanese business executives! The art of gay repartee should likewise be included therein.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE F-503: Nita B., aged 19, attends Business College. "Dr. Crane," she said, "I have profited a great deal from our classes in Business Law, Public Speaking, etc.

"But it was in our Charm Course that I made my most startling improvement.

"Though the men students usually shun this class, don't you think it would be very helpful to both sexes to take a Charm Course?"

In Tokyo, a group of young Japanese business executives would certainly agree with Nita!

For they are now taking a special "Charm Course" twice per week.

The director of the course tells those men that an increase in personal charm can get them promotions and salary increases faster than laborious boxing over ledger sheets.

And he assures them, too, that the men with charm can more easily win the popular girls!

So he teaches them to stop their slouching walk and shuffle gait.

But above all, he warns them they don't know how to smile. For Japanese men smile with their mouth but not with their eyes!

So he is having those business executives cover their mouths as they smile at their own reflection in a mirror.

They are then to practice daily until their eyes will smile, too!

Perhaps one of the reasons for the current popularity of Ronald Reagan is his smiling eyes above his firm chin.

Cosmetic psychology is thus very important, even in politics.

In his early campaigning, Abraham Lincoln was smooth shaven. But a girl admirer said he didn't look properly impressive without a beard.

So Lincoln adopted her timely warning, apparently to his advantage.

Contrast Richard Nixon's rugged features with the Bobby Kennedy hairdo and dapper delivery.

Women especially need a basic course in "Cosmetic Psychology" for they often minimize their charm by accentuating their flaws.

For example, a girl with bowed legs or knock-kneed will look even more ridiculous with the mini skirt.

And fat girls routinely create an elephantine appearance by ultra short skirts!

For many women blindly stampede after the latest fashions, even though such styles reduce their visual appeal to men.

Plump girls thus need to wear their skirts an inch or two longer than the prevailing style, instead of shorter.

They should also avoid plaids and horizontal stripes. Instead, they will look more slender with vertical pin stripes or plain, unflowered fabrics.

They should also shun belted frocks and tight necklaces that accentuate their East-West dimensions.

Bracelets and rings also call attention to fat arms and plump, stubby fingers! Rich dowagers, beware!

And girls with long or rectangular facial contours need to use a short bob as a hairdo to round out the rectangle. And beware of those "hay doo-dle" modern wigs!

But gay repartee beats all the commercial cosmetic aids, so send for my booklet "How to Carry on Gay Conversation," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

(Always write to Dr Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

He Will Pay For 54 Years

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Ricardo Cagnacci, a fitter and turner, was paying off a damage claim at the rate of $7 a month.

The damages were awarded to Miss Joan Barbara Card in 1964 for injuries she received in an accident while a passenger in a car driven by Cagnacci.

Now Acting Supreme Court Judge C. S. Maarga has ordered Cagnacci, who has a net monthly income of $284, to increase his monthly installments fourfold.

At this rate the $18,200 damage award will be paid off in 54 years instead of 216 years.

Tanzania Trying Crop Of Cocoa

DAR ES SALAAM (AP) — Cocoa, the chief crop in Ghana and Nigeria, has recently been introduced in Tanzania, and an expert estimates that the East African Republic could be producing 1,000 tons by 1977.

The crop is expected to supplement the well-established sisal, coffee, cotton and cashew nuts industries, as well as the tea industry.

MISNAMED BATTLE?

BOSTON (AP) — The Bunker Hill Monument, a granite shaft about 220 feet high, stands on Breed's Hill in Charlestown. It was erected between 1825 and 1842 and has a small museum of portraits, statues and engravings of American and British soldiers who fought in the Battle of Bunker Hill.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina egg markets steady. Supplies adequate, demand fair. Prices paid producers and handlers for consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered nearby outlets: Grade A large whites: 37 to 39¢; medium whites: 33 to 35¢; small whites: 31½ to 34¢.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina hog markets to be steady. Tops of 18.50-19.00; Wilson: 18.50-19.00 Rocky Mount; 18.00-18.75 Statesville; 17.50-18.75 Tarboro; 18.00-18.50 Hickory; 17.50-18.50 Bethel; 19.00 Salisbury; 18.75 Greensboro, Selma; 18.00 Siler City, Denton.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market ran a recovery movement into its second day but was having some trouble holding gains early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Advances outnumbered declines by a ratio of less than 7 to 4.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.39 at 848.07, backing away from an initial rise of 3.82.

The economic outlook became soggy on word that the National Industrial Conference Board reported a decline in capital appropriations by major manufacturers in the fourth quarter and that current prospects are for little, if any, upturn.

Tuesday's rally was regarded as an interim upswing in a market situation rendered very uncertain by the Vietnam fighting and the economic outlook.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 4 at 308.2 with industrials up .9, rails off .2 and utilities up .2.

Cooper Industries, which traded on an early block of 90,000 shares, was the volume pace-maker. It erased a loss of ¾ taken on the block transaction and moved to a roughly equivalent net gain.

Leaf Hearings Reopen Today In Greensboro

The first session of the USDA-sponsored hearing for flue-cured tobacco marketing order concluded yesterday shortly after noon.

Farm Bureau president B. C. Mangum spoke briefly. Mangum said farmers were not willing to continue experiencing the marketing troubles they had last year. He said Farm Bureau delegates had adopted a policy with respect to a marketing order: "We are in support in 1968 of the industry-wide committee continuing to function to try to deal with these problems."

The second open meeting began this morning at the Greensboro Coliseum.

Local Pastor To Synod Meeting

RALEIGH—Rev. Richard R. Gammon, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Greenville, will attend the meeting of the Council of the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina, scheduled to convene here Feb. 29 at 10 a. m.

Halbert M. Jones of Laurinburg, chairman, will preside over the day-long sessions. Among the matters to be discussed are finances and program.

Mrs. Hattie Grimes of 101 White St., was returned homeward by the Junior Choir.

Among very active issues, Control Data lost 3 and Perfect Film 2. Norris Industries advanced about 1½ while Allis-Chalmers and Dennison were up more than a point each.

IBM dropped a point, Xerox about 3 and Eastern Air Lines 1. Among other airlines, Braniff and United held fractional gains while American and Pan American dropped fractions.

Du Pont, U.S. Gypsum and American Smelting held gains of a full point.

Polaroid dropped a couple of points. Prices on the American Stock Exchange remained generally higher although a number of issues fell by the wayside.

Vietnamese Reds Battle Laos Forces

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—North Vietnamese elements clashed with the royal army forces five miles north of Attapeu in southeastern Laos today.

No report of casualties reached Vientiane but military sources termed the action as minor.

North Vietnamese troops reinforced by Communist units from the Saravane front also clashed with government forces two miles southwest of the town of Lao Ngam, northwest of Attapeu.

Reinforcements were reported trucked down Highway 23 through a bypass around the provincial capital town of Saravane.

In Saravane, the situation was static with Communist probing actions six miles northwest of the town.

Pathet Lao elements attacked a police station north of the royal capital of Luang Prabang. Two policemen were reported killed and the chief of the district of Paksoy 25 miles north of Luang Prabang was reported wounded during the action.

Changing Dates For Holidays

BOSTON (AP)—A bill observing the major holidays on the nearest Monday to the date they fall was signed Tuesday by Gov. Joan A. Volpe.

Effective next year, Washington's birthday will be celebrated on the third Monday of February, Patriot's Day on the third Monday of April, and Memorial Day on the last Monday of May.

Labor and business groups supported the bill, which veterans' organizations opposed.

Crackdown On Young Speeders

RALEIGH (AP)—The North Carolina Highway Patrol is cracking down on youthful speeders.

Lt. Col. Edwin Guy, executive officer of the patrol, said Tuesday 12 of the 23 persons killed in highway accidents during the past weekend were under 23 years of age. He termed the count "one of the worst weekend death tolls in recent months" and said top field commanders had been called to Raleigh to be told of plans to strengthen enforcement efforts against "young highway speeders."

Certificates For Six Finalists

Certificates of Merit for the six seniors at J. H. Rose High School who are finalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition have been received at the school, according to Rose High Principal Ed Warren.

The six finalists are: Thomas H. Clay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard B. Clay; Robert O. Fleming Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Fleming; Leslie H. Garner Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie H. Garner;

Elizabeth L. Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Moore; Edmund B. Welch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Welch and Pattie E. Whitehurst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Whitehurst.

Only 14,000 finalists will be considered for the Merit Scholarships to be awarded later this year. Warren said the six Rose High Seniors are in a group of the top half of one per cent of seniors enrolled in high schools in the United States.

Winslow . . .

Hugh Winslow was co-chairman of the Scott School Board Referendum. In 1966 he was Outstanding Handicapped Man of the Year. He is president of the North Carolina Lost Chord Club and is a member of the state Board of the N. C. Cancer Society.

A farmer, Winslow is past president of the N. C. Pork Producers Association. He is on the Board of Directors of the International Association of Laryngotomies.

Winslow managed Rep. Walter B. Jones' election to Congress. Following the engagement here, Scott and his left leg for Fayetteville.

In a brief interview following his speech, the candidate was asked if he favored revision of the North Carolina constitution: "Yes, I would like to see a blue ribbon study commission to make recommendations. . . ."

Lt. Gov. Scott said he thought the term of governor should be extended either to six years or a maximum of two terms.

He said the constitution should also make it possible for the General Assembly to meet annually, if necessary. In answer to a question about the proposed federal marketing order for flue-cured tobacco, Scott said, "I'm glad the series of meetings are being held so that farmers may be able to find out about this order. I think farmers should be allowed to vote on the plan."

Plan Operate On Siamese Twins

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Surgeons will try to separate week-old Siamese twin girls joined at the abdomen by a tubular section of skin 20 inches in circumference.

Dr. Darleen Powars, acting as liaison between pediatric and surgical teams, said Tuesday the operation will be put off about one month until the infants gain several pounds over their present combined weight of 11 pounds, 7 ounces.

A singing inspiration will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Meadowbrook Pentecostal Holiness Church.

The service is being sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary.

Wachovia Reveals Plans For New Williamston Building

WILLIAMSTON — Wachovia Bank and Trust Company today announced plans to erect a new two-story building at the corner of Main and Haughton Streets in Williamston.

Opposes Hike In Tobacco Rates

RALEIGH (AP)—Hugh Owen, staff attorney for the North Carolina Insurance Department, says a proposed tobacco insurance rate increase in Lenoir County should be rejected.

Owen made the request Tuesday at the close of a hearing before Insurance Commissioner Edwin S. Lanier on a proposed 1.09 per cent average rate increase throughout the state.

Owen argued that false insurance claims filed in the county were included in loss estimates when the increase proposal was drafted, and if the "invalid loss statistics" were removed from the estimates, no rate change would be necessary.

Temperatures through Monday will average much lower. Turning colder Thursday, Friday and Saturday, warming Sunday and turning cold again Monday. Precipitation Wednesday night and Thursday with scattered showers late Sunday or Monday.

from the present bank building. Wachovia's decision came as a consequence of the January 11 fire which damaged part of the bank, Howard said. The bank decided to construct new, larger and more modern facilities rather than remodel the present structure, which had been renovated in 1961.

The property on which the bank would be situated has been cleared. It was formerly occupied by the Dunning residence. The property fronts 113 feet on Main Street and extends back 238 feet.

Prisoner Brings Damage Suit For $230,000

SHELBY, N. C. (AP)—A prisoner serving two years for robbery has filed a civil suit for $230,000 damages, claiming he was denied access to a registered letter containing $200 for employment of counsel.

Edward Bernard Day, 33, of Jacksonville, Fla., filed the suit in Federal District Court at Asheville against the Cleveland County Sheriff's Department and the county's head jailer, Cecil Murray.

The action seeks $100,000 in actual damages and $80,000 in punitive damages from Murray on allegation of "willful neglect of required duty." Murray has denied the charge.

The sheriff's department is being sued for $50,000 for alleged lack of adequate supervision. Day, who is in prison in Raleigh, was convicted at Shelby in 1965.

"If our request is approved," Howard said, "we will be able to offer our customers even more attractive, convenient banking facilities."

"Preliminary plans call for the building to be a two-story structure with approximately 11,500 square feet of floor space. There will be 10 inside teller stations and two drive-up teller windows, with paved off-street parking for about 30 cars."

The State Banking Commission will consider Wachovia's application at its next regular meeting, scheduled March 20 in Raleigh.

Riot Duty Cost State $65,000

RALEIGH (AP) — Call-up of the North Carolina National Guard for emergency riot duty cost the state an unbudgeted $65,000 last year.

Gov. Dan Moore and the Council of State approved allocation of the funds Tuesday from the state's contingency and emergency fund to pay the Adjutant General's office for the unanticipated "increased activities."

Guard units were called out following a racial disturbance in Durham last summer and during an outbreak in Winston-Salem last fall.
