

Haven In France

PARIS (AP) — Five self-described American deserters and four draft dodgers, who said they are working against the Vietnam war, were given renewable 15-day French residence permits today.

They told newsmen that along with the temporary residence cards, they were also given applications for work permits.

They went to the central police headquarters for the permits after holding a semi-clandestine news conference in a Paris apartment.

Four of the men told newsmen they had left their units in Germany and another deserted from Ft. Jackson, S. C. They and the draft dodgers, who call themselves "resisters," were escorted to the central police prefecture by two French attorneys, one of whom said he is a Protestant humanitarian and the other a member of the Communist party.

Austerity Helps British Currency

LONDON (AP) — The British pound grew stronger on the London stock market today, reflecting favorable European banker reaction to the Labor government's toughest austerity budget since the 1930s.

But in Paris, President Charles de Gaulle declared the pound and the U.S. dollar proved the existing monetary system is "inequitable and henceforth inapplicable." He urged a return to the gold standard in a talk to his Cabinet. He made no mention of Britain's budget introduced in Parliament Tuesday.

The British Financial Times index of 30 industrial shares rose 6.9 points to 409.9 by noon, the highest in weeks. The pound jumped one quarter of a cent to $2.40 3/4 as confidence returned. The opening price was $2.41 but it dropped as dealings commenced.

Gold fell in the Zurich and Paris free bullion markets. The London gold market is closed until April 1.

The opening rate in Zurich was $36 to $38 an ounce compared to Tuesday's closing range of $37 to $38.5. Paris gold went at $37.93 an ounce, down $1.11 from Tuesday and $6.43 off Friday's end of the gold rush price.

The official price of gold is $35 an ounce, which gold pool members, including the United States are pledged to defend. In the freemarket gold is left to find its own level.

The British budget apparently convinced foreign creditors that Britain means business in attempts to solve chronic balance of payments deficit.

The government's new taxes and the freeze on wages, prices and dividends aroused expected resentment among union leaders and scathing comment from the Conservative opposition. But major British newspapers generally accepted the program as necessary to satisfy the world's bankers.

Hugh Scanlon, president of the Amalgamated Engineering Union, said the budget and related measures outlined Tuesday by Chancellor of the Exchequer Roy Jenkins "amount to a declaration of war on the unions and their members. The government has set itself against the movement which sustains it and was responsible for its election to power."

Jack Jones of the giant Transport and General Workers' Union, warned the government to expect "a sullen and uncooperative working population."

Conservative leader Edward Heath wheeled on the government bench in the House of Commons Tuesday night and declared: "I despise the men on that bench who have brought us to this humiliation."

Splits In Demo Party Don't Work: Truman

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman today gave his emphatic support to President Johnson and predicted he would easily win the Democratic nomination this fall.

Sitting in the shade of a date palm at one of his rare news conferences the former president said Sen. Robert Kennedy "won't take any votes away from Johnson. The Democratic Party has too much information about these splits. They don't work."

Truman denied rumors that Johnson would visit him Thursday at Key West, where he and his family are vacationing. "I don't know about it (the rumored visit). And I think I would," the 83-year-old Truman said. Referring to the campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination, Truman said the party is strong and will continue strong "unless some damned fool" tries to splinter the party.

He did not mention the names of either Kennedy or Sen. Eugene McCarthy in that context. Asked who he would support if Johnson were nominated, Truman snapped back: "You mean when he is nominated."

Truman refused comment on the war in Vietnam other than to say he supported the administration's policy in southeast Asia.

He later said he saw "something similar" between the Korean situation he faced as president and the present Vietnam conflict.

Truman sat in the sunshine at his retreat and watched his four grandchildren splash in the water Tuesday.

Truman later went for a short ride with his wife, Bess, before joining their daughter, Margaret, and son-in-law, Clifton Daniel, at the pool. The older children went down to the beach on the grounds of the Casa Marina Hotel complex where Truman and his party are staying as guests of John Spottswood, the owner.

The hotel, which was turned into a military base during the 1962 missile crisis in Cuba and later served as a training center for the Peace Corps, is vacant now and is being refurbished.

Fervent Plea For Support

LBJ Vows Must Deter Aggression

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has evoked Franklin D. Roosevelt's pre-World War II call for containment of aggression in a new plea for homefront support of his Vietnam policies.

Johnson said Tuesday that President Roosevelt urged the nations of the world in 1937 to "quarantine the aggressor" but it took World War II to make men understand the message.

"Let this generation learn from the mistakes of the past," said Johnson. "Let us recognize that there is no resigning from world responsibility. There is no easy road to freedom and order."

He drew cheers and prolonged applause—along with shouted pledges of support—from representatives of nongovernment groups attending a foreign policy seminar at the State Department.

Punctuating the President's fervent pledge to pursue his Vietnam policy "as long as aggression threatens" were reports from congressional sources that Johnson's decision to commit an additional 35,000 U.S. troops to the war zone is virtually final.

These sources reported that key congressional leaders have been consulted on the manpower move and that only its timing remains unresolved.

The Pentagon meanwhile called for the drafting of 44,000 men in May—making it the third straight month that the Selective Service summons has topped the 40,000-man mark.

Johnson's speech marked the second time in two weeks he has recalled Roosevelt quotations to support his current foreign policy course. The first came March 12 when he awarded the Medal of Honor to a pair of Marine veterans of Vietnam.

It appeared to bear out reports that in this election year, Johnson will cloak himself increasingly in the role of a commander in chief burdened by war—much like Roosevelt did in 1944, when he largely ignored the campaign trail yet won a record fourth term.

The President did not mention Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York or Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, both candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination on platforms of opposition to his Vietnam policies.

But in sharp contrast to their calls for de-escalation, Johnson said of the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong:

"Let no American mistake the enemy's major offensive now. It is aimed squarely at the citizens of America. It is an assault designed to crack America's will."

$179,364 Grant Given Approval

A federal grant totaling $179,364 to aid in the construction of the East Carolina Sheltered Workshop and Rehabilitation Center has been approved, according to Congressman Walter Jones.

Total cost of the workshop building, to be located on a 20 acre tract of land north of Greenville, has been estimated at $284,706.

The federal money for the project is coming from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's Mental Retardation funds, Rep. Jones said.

Bids on the project, the congressman said, can be accepted May 6 or after, under terms of the grant.

This latest grant is the second time federal funds have been given the project.

A $9,450 grant from HEW's Social and Rehabilitation Services department was made in September, 1967, to defray part of the costs of the site.

The construction grant received final approval March 7.

New Plant For Near Greensboro

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Dan Moore today announced that Western Electric Co. plans to build a multi-million dollar facility near Greensboro for its defense activities division and Bell Telephone Laboratories.

The governor told a special news conference the company has taken options on a 220-acre tract east of Greensboro. The new facility, scheduled for completion sometime in 1970, will house administrative, engineering and clerical operations.

Moore said he was "extremely pleased at the continuing confidence the Western Electric Co. is showing in North Carolina by building this major facility. This company has contributed to the economic well being of this state for many years and this new investment, I believe, speaks well for the atmosphere for development found in North Carolina."

The new facility ultimately will employ 3,500. Paul A. Gorman, Western Electric president, and other company officials of the company and Bell Telephone laboratories attended the news conference.

Gorman said the new facility will be built in anticipation of getting the military contract to build the Sentinel anti-ballistic missile network. He said the Sentinel is a new name for the Nike X missile system.

He said the system will cost about $5 billion, of which a large amount will be spent in obtaining sites. He said about 70 per cent of the contract "if we get it will be let to subcontractors."

"I would like to tell the details about the buildings, but it is too early, they have not been designed."

Asked what the facility will cost, he replied, "I don't know. It's a new thing, but will be several millions. It will not be cheap. It will fit into the architecture of the community and be a credit."

Moore noted that Western Electric has three major plants in North Carolina—at Winston-Salem, Greensboro and Burlington. The governor said, "Combined, these three units make it the third largest of Western Electric's 70 locations. Western Electric and Bell Laboratories contribute substantially to the economic well being of the state.

Library Board Told Building To Begin Soon

Sheppard Memorial Library Board members were told last night that construction will begin soon on the $297,554 addition to the present building, and that a request for the first payment of federal funds has been made.

Librarian Elizabeth Copeland said the $205,897 federal grant to aid in the cost of the expansion program will be made in three payments. The requested first payment will total $61,769, she said.

It was also reported that the city administration has taken steps to sell bonds in order to make local funds available for the project.

Swearing-In

James T. Cheatham III will be sworn in this afternoon as a member of the state board of conservation and development.

The ceremonies will take place in the court room of the county court house at 5 p.m. Judge Albert Peel will administer the oath.

Cheatham was appointed by Gov. Moore to fill the unexpected term of the late Dr. Henry Jordan. The term will expire June 30, 1969.

Spring Arrives, And With It, A Promise

By ARTHUR EVERETT Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Spring arrives today bringing with it a promise of sunshine, gentle breezes and blossoms, followed by a gradual increase in small boys climbing trees.

However, Henry Van Dyke, an American clergyman, author and teacher, warned many years ago: "The first day of spring is one thing, and the first spring day is another. The difference between them is sometimes as great as a month."

To which Dr. J. Murray Mitchell adds an amen. He is a climate change expert for the U.S. Weather Bureau in Washington. And he says March still is a dangerous month. He foresees hard freezes, at least on the East Coast. And one more substantial snowstorm wouldn't surprise him.

But the swallows are back at Capistrano and astronomically the winter is over—a winter of varying discontent.

At the Capistrano Mission in California a spokesman said Tuesday the swallows "returned on time as they have every day for 171 years except one time, 1835, when they were three days late."

The snows of winter are all but gone.

They were unusually heavy, for example, in southeastern North Carolina, where residents are not accustomed to such amounts. State weather researcher Albert Hardy said: "But they enjoyed it. It made them happy."

But it didn't make the Gulf Coast if Texas happy to behold during the winter a rare fall of snow and sleet. Nor was there exultation in Indianapolis, Ind., where 32 inches of snow set a modern winter record.

However, Iowa had the second lightest snowfall on record. Chicago had only 27.3 inches of snow and First Deputy Police Commissioner James McDonough, with 30,000 tons of salt for streets left over, said: "We loved this winter."

Southeast Utah was paralyzed with five feet of snow last December, the heaviest fall in 19 years. It was a bad winter there for sheep, cattle, ranchers and Navajo Indians, among others. The Navajos also suffered in western New Mexico in a series of December snow storms and needed help from Air Force rescue planes.

When the New Year arrived at Red Lodge, Mont., there were 59 inches of snow on the ground. But Oklahoma's worst snowstorm in a decade held off until the final week of winter.

The University of Arkansas dismissed classes for the first time this century when 18 inches of snow fell a week ago. New England traffic was snarled way back last Nov. 15 when an unusually heavy snowfall caught motorists and highway departments unprepared.

Local Firm's Safe Broken Open, Looted

Safe crackers early today entered Bilbro Wholesale Co. at 1013 Dickinson Ave., and took several hundred dollars from a large upright safe there.

The theft was reported to police at 5:27 a.m. by employees of the firm.

According to Chief H. F. Lawson, the thieves tore three boards from the roof of the building and gained entrance through the three-foot by 10 inch hole made by removal of the boards.

The group gained entrance to the office area by raising an inside office window and climbing through.

The safe was ripped open, the chief explained, and metal money boxes inside were taken.

Company officials said that, in addition to the money taken, the thieves carried away a number of valuable papers and records that would be of no use to anyone except the company.

Police were pressing their investigation of the safe robbery today.

Bloodmobile Collected 191 Pints Yesterday

The Pitt County Bloodmobile collected 191 pints of blood yesterday at the Greenville Moose Lodge, which was 78 pints over the goal of 113 pints set for the one day visit.

Joe Clark, chairman of the Pitt County Bloodmobile, said 29 persons were rejected yesterday for various reasons, bringing the turnout of donors to 220.

The 191 pints collected yesterday, plus the 103 pints donated in Ayden Monday, brought the total for the two-day visit to 294 pints of blood. Fifty-five persons were rejected for the two days. The amount of blood collected was 68 pints over the two day quota of 226 pints.

Clark expressed appreciation to the members of the Greenville Moose Lodge, the Greenville Service League, doctors and other volunteers who participated in one of the best one-day visits in quite some time. He expressed thanks to Ralph Heidenreich, chairman for the visit.

"This visit continues a very successful drive that was started in February and keeps the county in excellent standing with the Tidewater Regional Blood Program," Clark added.

He continued, "In addition to the Moose Lodge sponsoring the visit and furnishing the location and facilities, they served the people working with the bloodmobile a free lunch. This type of cooperation and support is greatly appreciated and helpful in keeping the blood program going."

The next bloodmobile to Pitt County will be May 14 and 15 at the Greenville Moose Lodge.

Chief And Trooper Arrested By Sheriff

TUSKEGEE, Ala., (AP) — Alabama's only Negro sheriff has arrested a police chief and state trooper, both white, on a Negro's complaint that he was beaten following his arrest.

Sheriff Lucius Amerson of Macon County said Tuesday that he charged Notasulga Police Chief Bobby G. Singleton and state trooper James H. Bass in warrants signed by Cecil Lee Devance, a Macon County Negro.

Singleton was charged with drawing and threatening to use a dangerous weapon and Bass with assault and battery. The sheriff said both men, arrested Monday, were freed on $300 bonds for court appearance April 1.

"I will be no means permit this kind of activity to go on in Macon County," Amerson said. "It's a disgrace to have to go out and arrest other law enforcement officers on charges like this."

The sheriff gave this account: Devance was arrested Saturday night by Singleton on a charge of disorderly conduct. Devance, who is in his early 20s, was taken to Notasulga Jail, where Bass was waiting. Devance said Bass hit him on the side of the head two or three times, knocked him to the floor and kicked him in the chest.

He told the sheriff the men later took him to the Notasulga police pistol range, where the chief held him while Bass struck him. Devance said the men fired their pistols near his feet and head before releasing him.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have only admiration for the mother who puts her family first, but we have a friend who is so well trained by her children, she is all but a servant to them, and it's not fair!

When this mother has invited guests over, it is one interruption after another. Her children (from 9 to 17 years of age) shout at her from another room, or from upstairs, or from the basement, "MOTHER, COME HERE!" And Mother runs.

All afternoon, it's "Mother, come help me find my this — or that!" Or "Mother, come here! I want to talk to you a minute."

No one would object to a mother's answering the call of a child in an emergency, but it's one petty little thing after another, and all these children are old enough to come to Mother, instead of demanding that Mother run up and down stairs going to them.

It's gotten so that none of her friends want to go to her home unless the children are in school. Would you please comment on this. She reads your column.

HER FRIENDS

DEAR FRIENDS: This accommodating mother is doing her children a grave injustice. She is failing to teach them two of the fundamental facts of life: respect for one's elders, and consideration for others. Her daughters will probably grow up to be spoiled, helpless, demanding women, and her sons will probably order their wives around like they did Mother.

DEAR ABBY: Five months ago I hired a 75-year-old Scandinavian girl to live in and help with the cooking and cleaning. She proved to be a wonderful girl with a sweet disposition and potentially an excellent domestic. We grew to feel towards her as we would a daughter.

Last Sunday my husband and I went out to make a social call and we returned home earlier than we had anticipated. I went to this girl's room to tell her something, knowing she'd planned to stay home. Well, I found this girl and my 17-year-old son in a state of complete disarray and in the midst of a heated embrace.

My son said immediately "Don't worry, Mom, we're in love and plan to get married as soon as I'm out of high school." This is the most absurd idea we've ever heard of. We don't want to fire her because it might turn our son against us. He seems serious about this girl. We want to make the right decision. Can you help us?

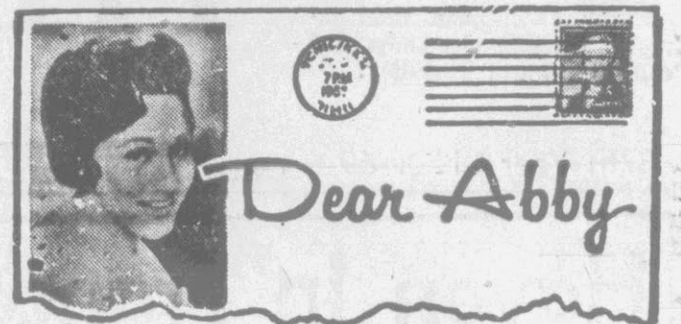

PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: Apparently your son is under the impression that all a boy needs to get married is a girl who will say yes. You and his father ought to tell him about the birds and the bees, and the lure of an "older" woman. And a couple of hundred other things concerning the difference between a solid marriage as opposed to a groovy Sunday afternoon.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a husband who retires each night very early, except when a very attractive friend of mine is visiting me for the evening?

He will stay up, and try to be in her company, showing off and being very clever, witty, and charming all the while.

Yet after this guest leaves, he will tell me that he thinks she is conceited, selfish, and not at all pretty — which certainly is not true according to everyone else's evaluation of her. Then he says he cannot stand her, and wonders how I can. Even my children noticed this.

PERPLEXED: enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
DEAR PERPLEXED: Ac- Hate to write letters? Send tions speak louder than words. Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and for All Occasions."

Dr. Wellington Gray Is AAUW Speaker

Dr. Wellington B. Gray was guest speaker for the meeting of the Greenville Branch of the American Association of University Women held Monday night.

He spoke on American Contemporary Art. Dr. Gray said it is impossible to understand everything which is happening in the field of art today. He told of the changes which started in the early eighteenth hundreds and are continuing today in hundreds of different "schools" of artists.

Many of the reporters of the Civil War were indeed painters because the artist was expected to make things look like the real thing. About 1860 Matthew Brady, by his perfection of the use of the camera, relieved the artist of the job of reporting. The camera would reproduce in detail a picture of the object. The artist was now free to express his own personality through design and color he said.

Realism gave way to designed realism in which the object is easily recognized but colors and design are not the same as those of the object. Most artists still earn their living from some other vocation and paint. Since the consumer is not important, the artist paints what and how he pleases. Abstract design and the nonobjective form are results of this continued Dr. Gray.

Dr. Gray showed examples of each of these four classifications by other painters and examples of each by himself. He noted that many artists grow through realism, designed realism, and abstract design to the non-objective form of expression. It is difficult to say that an artist fits any one of these classifications because he is usually somewhere between two of them. These are some of the happenings and some of the reasons for the art of today he concluded.

Miss Elizabeth Walker, program chairman, introduced Dr. Gray, who is head of the School of Art at East Carolina University.

Miss Elizabeth Wilson, president, presided at the meeting.

New members welcomed at the meeting were Mrs. Libby Swinson and Mrs. Frankie Anderson. Guests for the meeting were Mrs. Sherry Carter and Mrs. Helen Parrott.

The club is continuing a project which was begun at Christmas concerning the 563 Supply and Service Battalion of the U. S. Army in Vietnam.

The Jay-C-Ettes will assist the servicemen by contributing and collecting various types of school supplies needed by a Vietnamese high school.

Mrs. Carolyn Williamson is chairman of the project. The army company and its work is headed by Capt. Bobby C. Harrington of Greenville.

Luncheon Given Ex Libris Club

The Ex Libris Book Club met at the home of Mrs. Ledgard Ross on Tuesday for a luncheon meeting.

The program consisted of filling out information on each member to see how well the members knew each other. Mrs. Dick Greene received a prize for getting the most answers right.

Mrs. Bill Jones and Mrs. David Reid were welcomed into the club as new members.

Officers for the coming year were elected. They are as follows: President, Mrs. John Fletcher; Vice President, Mrs. Donald Patrick; Secretary, Mrs. Bob Tyndall; Treasurer, Mrs. Vic Pezulla and Librarian, Mrs. Ross.

Guests present were Mrs. Phil Moore Jr.; Mrs. Patrick Duncan, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Ray Halthcote Jr. and Mrs. James Williamson.

Semi-Centi Club Officers Named

The Semi-Centi Book Club met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Norman Wilkerson.

During a short business session conducted by Mrs. Herbert Wilkerson, president, the following slate of officers were elected to serve for the coming year.

They are: President, Mrs. Leslie Garner; Vice President, Mrs. Charles Horne; Secretary, Mrs. Norman Wilkerson; Treasurer, Mrs. Bill Taylor; and Librarian, Mr. Kenneth Hite.

It was also decided that during the coming year, each hostess would also serve as reporter for her meeting.

The program was presented by Mr. Pauline Roberson. She gave the highlights in the life of Stephen Foster as a man and a composer. Then accompanying herself on the auto harp, Mrs. Roberson sang several of Foster's most popular songs.

After refreshments and the exchange of books, the meeting adjourned.

Unlicensed Honeymoon For Speedster

APPLEBY, England (WNS)—Arrested for speeding through town, Arthur Ludgrove explained, "This is the first day of my honeymoon, and I'm eager to get to the hotel." The judge fined the bridegroom $12 and canceled his license until the honeymoon is over.

Mrs. Moye Dail Gives Department Program

Mrs. Moye Dail spoke on the "Meaning of Easter" at the meeting of the Home Life Department of the Woman's Club held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Preston Cannon.

She traced the customs, legends and the real meaning of Easter from the early pagan ceremonies to the present religious season.

The liturgical color for Easter is white as the sign of joy, light and purity. The cross is a symbol of Christ's crucifixion, the candle signifies the light of the world which no darkness can put out, the palms, the symbol of superiority triumph and rejoicing said Mrs. Dail.

She closed her program with Peter Marshall's reminder, "Whatever of legend you remember the words of Christ—'Because I live, ye shall live also.'"

Mrs. W. C. Harris gave the devotional using an Easter theme.

Mrs. W. E. Roseveare, chairman, presided over the business session during which plans were made for the social hour opening the Elementary School Art Exhibit on Sunday March 31, at the Art Center.

Announcements were made concerning the Lakewood Pines Garden Club fair on April 11, the Fine Arts Luncheon on April 27 with Miss Jane Hall as the featured speaker, open house at the new Woman's Club building on April 28 and the concession stand at the Sidewalk

Art Show on May 3-4

Assisting hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. J. R. Carrington, Mrs. Thelma Harris, Mrs. Robert May, Mrs. T. I. Moore, Mrs. J. S. Rouse and Mrs. P. E. Wells.

When you are rolling out biscuit or cookie dough in two or more batches, there'll be scraps of dough leftover after using the biscuit or cookie cutter. Form all these scraps into a ball and roll out together at one time. This method is better than rolling out the scraps after each batch.

Miss Zambrana Gives Program

Miss Nancy Zambrana presented the program at the meeting of the Greenville Business and Professional Women's Club held Thursday night.

The topic for the program was the International Exchange Program. Miss Zambrana, who is a student at East Carolina University, told about her experiences as an exchange student and gave a few facts about her country, Bolivia.

Dr. Betty Congleton introduced the speaker for the evening.

Other guests for the meeting were the recipient of the nursing scholarship presented by the BPW, Bonita Bowden, and the Young Career Woman of Greenville, Miss Linda Humphrey. Miss Humphrey will present the local club at the district meeting to be held in Kinston on March 24.

Mrs. Kemp Baldwin, chairman of the by-laws committee, presented the changed proposed in the by-laws to conform with the State and National Federation.

Dr. Helen Ingram, president, presided at the meeting. The invocation was given by Doris Marlow.

COMPANY DINNER
Stuffed Roast Veal Shoulder
Potatoes Artichoke Hearts
Salad Bowl Rolls
Ice Cream with Sherried Figs
SHERRIED FIGS

- 1 pound (18 large table figs)
- 2 cups medium-dry sherry
- 1 vanilla bean, broken into 6 pieces

In a ceramic jar container put all the ingredients — the sherry should just cover the figs. Cover. Allow to stand at room temperature for several weeks before serving so that the vanilla flavors the sherry and the sherry flavors the figs; the sherry becomes sweeter and thicker. Use one fig with a little of the flavored sherry as a topping for each portion of vanilla ice cream. Keep any leftover figs in the container at room temperature. Any flavored sherry left after all the figs have been served makes a delicious after-dinner offering to serve in tiny cordial glasses.

Prize Pair Combine Winnings

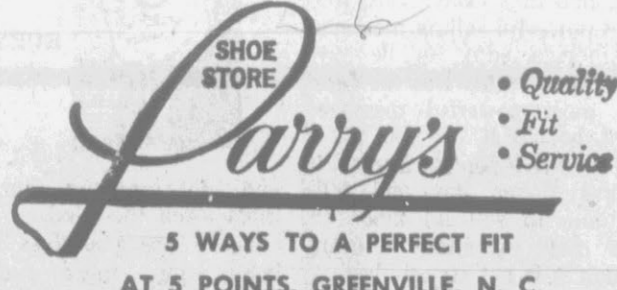

MARSEILLES, France (WN 5)—By chance, Agnes Vernon and Louis Spinelli happened to buy one-tenth investments in the same French National Lottery ticket at a tobacco store. The pair did not meet until the ticket won and they presented themselves at lottery headquarters to pick up their shares of the $20,000 winnings. Louis invited Agnes to a champagne victory party, Agnes invited Louis to a home-cooked supper, and before week's end the lucky pair decided to marry and combine their winnings in a new home.

Fire Fighting Sees Big Progress

Rural fire fighting has come a long way since the days when farm families rang a big bell to summon their neighbors in years gone by.

Next Sunday should see the culmination of an effort to provide county wide fire protection with the inauguration of a $28,000 county fire alarm system.

In a sense, the rural family will still be calling their neighbors when a fire erupts. Now, however, it will be done electronically through a central board. The neighbors will be the volunteer firemen who make up various departments around the county. Except now they will be trained and they will have modern equipment to quell the blaze.

The central system will have other advantages. A dispatcher at the court house can activate the alarm at any station throughout the county. When firemen arrive at the station he can give them directions to the fire. If the fire is a major one, the dispatcher can call in the next closest departments to provide sufficient men and equipment to handle the situation. The system has the effect of providing 16 fire companies, 43 trucks and 521 men which should prove adequate for almost any fire emergency in the county.

Rural citizens outside the city limits of Greenville, Ayden, Farmville and Bethel can reach the central fire control office by dialing 752-5136. Those on a separate exchange can dial operator and ask for Zenith 151. Of course, citizens living within the city limits of Ayden, Greenville, Bethel or Farmville will continue to call the telephone number of their municipal fire departments in the event of a fire.

The central fire control system will provide reliable service for all citizens of the county when they need fire fighting personnel and equipment.

The control will be manned at all times by officers of the Sheriff's Department and callers will thus be assured of prompt attention.

Rural fire fighting has come far in Pitt County during recent years. Gradually rural departments have been organized until now the entire county is covered. Beginning Sunday the departments will be tied together with one central control system and at long last rural residents will benefit from reliable fire protection.

Other Half Of Job Is In Hands Of Courts

The past weekend saw North Carolina add 29 more fatalities to its highway toll; it was the worst weekend of the year.

Additionally, the state's traffic accidents counted 150 injured . . . and, the odds being what they are, some of those may die or be crippled for life.

One bright spot: There were no traffic deaths in Pitt, though the weather made driving extra hazardous, and only two traffic deaths in the other five counties in which the State Highway Patrol "wolfpacks" were operating over the weekend.

In our own county, the Highway Patrol made 17 drunk driving charges Friday and Saturday night and 40 tickets were issued for faulty automotive equipment.

We can only assume this concentrated effort accomplished some good. Statistically, there is reason to believe this. But this weekend was just one of many throughout the year and the Highway Patrol cannot saturate Pitt County roads every weekend . . . nor can they continue such intensive campaigns in the other five counties where they were concentrated. So how much lasting effect can we count on?

Only half the job of enforcing highway safety is in the hands of the Highway Patrol; the other half is in the hands of the courts where the cases will be heard.

How well will they meet that responsibility?

Some Still See Negotiated End

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite the surge in Vietnam fighting, one school of thought in Washington still sees the war as likely to end in a negotiated settlement.

According to this thinking, the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong will find that whatever their other successes they cannot push the U.S. armed forces out of South Vietnam by military attacks — and thus the enemy will try to oust the Americans via the political route.

Washington has long avowed its desire to go to the conference table in the name of peace. Not emphasized, but nonetheless real, is a fear in some U. S. quarters of the tremendous cost in American men and money should the war go on several more years.

Thus both sides are pictured as headed sooner or later for a formal peacemaking—as distinguished from the other school of Washington opinion which figures the fighting will fade away with gradual triumph over the insurgents.

Just when real peace talks may come seems to depend on the moment when each side thinks it can gain more from a political deal than from more use of force.

The United States is reported to have been ready with fairly specific settlement terms in December 1966—only to find Hanoi was not interested enough in talks then to get into serious discussions.

On other occasions North Vietnamese feelers have been turned down by U.S. strategists on grounds that Hanoi's approaches were not sincere.

The enemy is expected to avoid serious discussions at least until after they see what happens in the U. S. presidential election.

KNOWLEDGE AND WISDOM
We have had occasion to remind ourselves frequently that wisdom consists in the right use of information. On the whole well-informed, educated people are upright, happy and useful. Occasionally, however, someone uses his knowledge to sinister ends. He becomes the slickest operator in town. He can show you how to add two and two together and get as much as seventeen. He can devise ways and means for putting everyone under obligation to him to be used later as pawns.

But people who so use their information — or knowledge, if we care to designate it thus — are rare. Most able and educated people use their knowledge to good ends. They are successful in business. They practice professions to the benefit of their contemporaries.

They organize movements, they write or compose — they teach. They are first-class citizens and the world is a better place because of them.

But we should always remember that there is a vast difference between knowledge and wisdom. Knowledge means accumulation of facts. Knowledge means acquaintance of facts in a certain specialized field. But wisdom is different. Wisdom consists in the right use of what we know. Abraham Lincoln knew very few facts because of a meagre education, but he became a leader in world history. George Washington was by no means a well-educated man, but he could use what he knew to infinite advantage.

Seek knowledge, information. Get all of it you can. But remember that it only becomes wisdom if you use your information to right and beneficial ends.

Reassessment By Bobby

WASHINGTON — As soon as Sen. Eugene McCarthy won 42 percent of the votes in New Hampshire, he received a telephone call from Sen. Robert Kennedy of New York.

"We won," said Bobby. "Huh?" Sen. McCarthy said.

"We really gave it to them, Gene, and I want you to know I'll never forget the role you played."

"Gee, thanks, Bobby." "Don't thank me. Ethel and I were sitting around the living room reassessing—we always reassess on Tuesday, because that's the nurse's day off—and suddenly Ethel turned to me and said, 'Why don't you call Gene McCarthy? You haven't spoken to him in a long time.' On reassessment, it occurred to me that she was right. So I just picked up the phone and here I am."

"It's good to talk to you, Bobby," Sen. McCarthy said. "Not as good as it is to talk to you, Gene. Tell me what your plans are now."

"I thought I would run in the primaries in Wisconsin, Oregon, Oklahoma, South Dakota and Minnesota."

"Good idea, Gene. I knew Ethel was wrong."

"What do you mean, Ethel was wrong?"

"She said you looked very tired, and she thought the strain of the primaries was getting to you. I told her you were in great health for a man of your age, and you wouldn't want to give up now. It was probably the television lights that made you look so bad."

"I'm not tired at all, Bobby. As a matter of fact, I'm elated. I think I can take Johnson at the convention in August."

"That's what you think, huh?"

"You're darn tootin. And I want you to know, Bobby, if I make it, you can be my attorney general."

"That's nice. Now let's be serious a minute, Gene. If you go after the nomination after your showing in New Hampshire, people are going to accuse you of being opportunistic and ruthless. They'll also accuse you of splitting the party. I don't want people to say thing like that about you."

"I don't want people to say that, either."

"My people have been reassessing what we could do to help you, and I believe we've come up with a solution. If I run in the primaries as a smoke screen for you, I will get all the flack, and at the same time if I do well I could turn my delegates over to you in Chicago."

"Gosh, Bobby, you'd do that for me?"

"Why not? Everyone knows I have no interest in the election except to see that the best man gets the job. I'm one of the few politicians in this country who can take the Presidency or leave it alone."

"But Bobby, I was looking forward to running in the primaries. It gave me an excuse to get away from those Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearings."

"Gene, I'm not forcing you to do anything you don't want to do. It's not as if I'm begging you to step aside. You can do what you damn please, for all I care."

"You don't have to get sore, Bobby."

"Who's sore? All I say is that if I'm man enough to reassess my position, you should have the decency to reassess yours."

"I'll reassess it if you want me to, Bobby. But I still want to run."

"I told Ethel there was no sense calling you," Bobby said. "I should have reassessed this call in the first place."

Bobby Shows Power

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — From the first moment last week that Senator Robert F. Kennedy suggested he might run for President after all, supporters of Senator Eugene McCarthy who only hours before had cheered his gallant victory in New Hampshire began dropping away.

Key members of McCarthy's organization in vital California let it be known they would switch their loyalty to Kennedy at the snap of a finger. One national McCarthy leader who on Wednesday said he would stick with him forever by Friday evening was hinting that he might give way to Kennedy. Even members of McCarthy's staff confided that a deal would have to be made with Kennedy sooner or later.

In brief, McCarthy, though incomparably the more heroic figure of the two in the eyes of anti-Johnson Democrats, is being bowled over by Kennedy power. For all his lack of finesse and style in finally announcing as a candidate, Kennedy has what McCarthy does not have and probably can never have: support in the Democratic party big enough to possibly topple the President.

Actually, the last few days have seen Bobby Kennedy at his worst as a politician. His own lieutenants admit that if he had just waited a few days to let McCarthy savor the aroma of his New Hampshire victory, the impact of his candidacy would have been less abrasive.

Moreover, a politician more skilled in dealing with his peers than Kennedy would have at least tried to reach some compact with McCarthy last week.

Instead, the 20-minute meeting between the two on Wednesday accomplished nothing, consisting largely of embarrassing pauses during which neither spoke. Kennedy bluntly informed McCarthy that he could win the nomination from President Johnson (implying that McCarthy could not) but never proposed a plan whereby the two might work together. Nor, contrary to published report, did Kennedy try to reach McCarthy the rest of the week.

Besides infuriating McCarthy, this performance enraged the circle of Stevensonian Democratic reformers in New York, who never have trusted Kennedy anyway and had been supplying the brains and bankroll for McCarthy. Much more worrisome to Kennedy personally is the bitter disaffection of the thousands of Eastern seaboard college students who worked for McCarthy in New Hampshire and now view Kennedy as a ruthless opportunist.

In addition are anti-Bobby liberals who will stick with McCarthy no matter what the political power realities. In that category is former Federal Power Commissioner Howard Morgan of Oregon, who will continue to back McCarthy in his state's May 28 primary. "Bobby may get a rude surprise in Oregon," Morgan told us.

But other members of the Democratic establishment in Oregon were drifting to Kennedy even before his announcement Saturday. Just before the New Hampshire primary, Kennedy received a (Continued On Page 5)

GOP Votes In Western N.C.

RALEIGH — Rep. James C. (Jim) Gardner, young Republican hopeful running for governor of North Carolina, is back where the GOP votes are again this week.

Gardner is campaigning in Piedmont and Western counties which, all told among those he will visit this week, probably have a greater total of registered Republican than any comparable number of Stickley told a campaign fund raising dinner audience in Elizabeth City.

He wouldn't concede completely either, saying that it remains possible to defeat Gardner in the East.

Nevertheless, Stickley explained, only 11 per cent of the state's registered Republicans live in counties east of Raleigh, and he feels primary campaign efforts must be concentrated where the Republican voters are.

"But after the primary I'll be down here," he said. "For a Republican candidate next Fall this (the East) is where the potential lies."

Stickley claims to have received "several thousand" pledges of support from Democrats in Eastern North Carolina if he wins the GOP primary.

Stickley Strategy
Stickley believes that next November Republicans can maintain "the 44 per cent of the vote" received by GOP gubernatorial candidate Robert L. Gavin in 1964. "If there is a 12 to 15 per cent swing vote from the Democrats it would give us a very comfortable margin" to win the governorship, he said.

He repeated that he expects either Lt. Gov. Robert W. Scott or J. Melville Broughton Jr. would be "tough" in the Fall campaign.

"I believe I'd have a better chance against Scott. He's pretty liberal in his thinking. Broughton is more conservative."

Open Meetings
Two more state legislative candidates have given firm pledges in favor of open meetings by legislative committees and state agencies.

counties in his native East. It is more evidence that Gardner is convinced he must meet and counter his May 4 opponent, John L. (Jack) Stickley of Charlotte, on Stickley's home ground in the Piedmont.

Stickley meanwhile visited in the Eastern counties last week. He solicited voter support, stated his stand and lashed at the Democrats both in Raleigh and Washington.

But he also conceded that he may be unable to carry the Republican primary vote in eastern North Carolina against Gardner in May and the fact that does not particularly worry him. He does think he will win both in May and next November.

GOP Concentration

Millions More For Pills

One of the biggest and fastest growing industries today is the diet industry. It involves weight-reducing, weight-increasing, ulcer, diabetic, acne, maternity, nail-hardening, sexual potency, salt-free, heart-saving, vegetarian, athletic and tone up diets. The variety can be multiplied by combinations of vitamins A to Z, and hormones M and F.

The greater number of diets are for weight reduction. Americans are too damn fat. Furthermore, they have been scared stiff by talk of fat around the heart, cholesterol clogging their arteries, shortness of breath and everything up to and including sudden death.

And so they buy low-calorie foods, sugar substitutes, polyunsaturated fats, sugarless chocolate bars, dietetic fruits and today's low-calorie special at some of the more expensive restaurants.

Millions More For Pills
In addition, Americans buy millions of dollars worth of diet-depressant, dehydrating and other pills, cathartics, and snacks to dull the appetite for more substantial foods.

In fact, Americans are so fearful of fat rolling them into their grave that they will do anything to lose weight except, of course, eat less.

Some psychologist once reasoned that "Eat!" was the most powerful selling message in America today, and he may have been right. But the second most powerful message must be, "Eat all you want and lose five pounds a week."

That slogan has and will continue to sell all kinds of pills and formulas, even though it is not strictly honest, unless the consumer cuts off a leg or swallows a gaggle of tapeworms.

Millions In It
The selling of nostrums, low-calorie foods, unsaturated fats, uncalorie drinks, other nonfattening foods and get-thin cookbooks must total more than $1 billion a day.

In addition, various gyms, seat-it-off emporiums, squackdoctors, health camps

Nidetch, little mother of the Weight Watchers Clubs, is reported to be on her way to her first million lost pounds, her first million dollars and her first hundred imitators.

Curiously enough, while people are spending millions to get rid of their grease, many of the same people are spending more millions to put it on.

For some reason, humans crave fat as much as they fear it. So some sellers are as busy adding fats to foods as others are busy selling dietetics.

Almost every restaurant keeps a bowl of melted butter in the kitchen and butter is ladled over each steak and chop. Men think restaurant steaks are much better than those they get at home, usually because their wives don't know enough — or are too afraid — to pour butter over their grilled meat.

Gazette, Sen. Marshall Rauch of Gastonia and Sen. Jack White of Kings Mountain indicated support of opening such meetings to the public by law.

For some years, North Carolina newspaper editors and publishers have urged all candidates for public office to take a stand on the issue of governmental secrecy. Many candidates have done so, pledging opposition to so-called executive sessions and secret meetings.

But in the 1967 legislature, bills sponsored by the N. C. Press Association were altered by so many amendments that they finally were discarded.

If and when the diplomatic sparring leads them to the conference table, the antagonists are likely to run into political problems rivaling in sharpness their clashes on the battlefield.

The U.S. leadership may well face the politically embarrassing task of preparing the American people for acceptance of a solution short of the popular notion of victory — that is, of keeping Communists out of South Vietnam — since the Communists will probably insist on a governmental role in the South.

Also requiring persuasion would be the Thieu-Ky government, which opposes coalition with the Viet Cong and wants to fight on until the Saigon regime's control is solidified over the whole country.

The Viet Cong would probably have to accept a solution providing less than their earlier demands for the settlement "in accordance with the program" of the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong.

They also are likely to face U.S. insistence on a system of safeguarding the settlement that is stronger than the loose guarantees contained in the 1954 Geneva Agreements for Indochina's peace and neutrality.

Both sides would have to decide who is to sit in on a peace conference.

confidential telegram from the Oregon state party chairman—State Sen. Ed Fadeley—urging him to run there against President Johnson.

State after state includes regular Democrats who never would regard McCarthy as a serious contender but would coldly weigh a Kennedy bid. Ohio's downtrodden regular Democratic organization is an example. Though committed to Mr. Johnson, it will seriously consider switching over to Kennedy—but not McCarthy—if the President begins to look like a sure loser. Similarly, the Michigan regulars have cast their lot with Mr. Johnson against McCarthy but now are wavering with Kennedy in the picture.

These converts to Kennedy are potential not actual. In fact, a careful survey made just before the New Hampshire primary by Steve Smith, Kennedy broker-in-law and family campaign manager, showed Mr. Johnson with well over a $312 sure-delegate vote needed to be nominated at Chicago.

Consequently, at endle's strategy sessions of the Kennedy inner circle last week in New York and Washington it was determined that these "sure" LBJ delegates could be pried away only by a string of primary victories over the President including a win in California's primary on June 4.

This ruled out any conciliatory strategy of supporting McCarthy in the primaries and then taking over on the convention floor.

DOWNTOWN IMPROVEMENT . . . This is a preliminary plan for improving the Central Business District that was approved at a February 9 meeting of the Redevelopment Commission, City Council representatives and the Chamber of Commerce-Merchants Association's downtown improvement committee. Highlights of the plan call for the establishment of a mall on Evans Street between Fifth and Third Streets; construction of a plaza or mall at Five Points; and building of a loop road to take Fifth Street traffic around the southern perimeter of the business district. The buildings shown on the preliminary plan include present buildings and possible new construction. Implementation of the plan will call for the cooperation of both the land owners and the city government. Under the improvement program, the city will provide the streets, access and parking, while the land owners are responsible for fixing up their property to the level of public improvement. Rehabilitation or building standards will be set by which to gauge the rehabilitation by land owners.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department says North Korea is trying to extract all the prestige and propaganda mileage it can get from capture of the USS Pueblo and no early release of crewmen is expected. State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said Tuesday the time for another meeting with North Korean officials on return of the 82 surviving crewmen is under consideration. The two sides have met 11 times at the Panmunjom Korean truce site, most recently on March 8, without reaching agreement. The Communists claim they captured the intelligence-gathering ship Jan. 23 when it violated their territorial waters. They demand a public apology by the United States. The United States contends the ship was in international waters.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee says the Pentagon is revising a promotion system under which Air Force noncommissioned officers sometimes spend more than 10 years in one grade. Defense Department action to increase NCO authorizations to the services was cited in a report released Tuesday night by the special subcommittee on enlisted promotion policy review. The subcommittee said it "frequently found cases of (Air Force) men who spent 10 years or more in grade without promotion despite excellent records, and has received complaints from time to time of men who have spent more than 20 years in grade without promotion." It said the Air Force and Army also are revising promotion selection procedures in line with subcommittee recommendations to reduce inequities. Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the full committee, said he is asking the subcommittee to make sure the services "do what they said they will do so that legislation will not have to be considered at a later date."

The Air Force says it is taking steps to provide weapons for airmen living off-base in Vietnam and arranging a better system to warn them of impending attacks. Rep. Thomas S. Kleppe, R-N.D., said the action came after a master sergeant complained he and others received no warning an attack was underway during the recent Tet offensive and were not issued arms even when they came under fire.

If He Can't Win McCarthy Says He Will Support Robert Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy says he would back Sen. Robert F. Kennedy for the Democratic presidential nomination if he became convinced he can't win it himself.

But McCarthy insisted Tuesday there are no arrangements, no conspiracy between Kennedy and himself—and continued to toss sharp barbs at Kennedy's sudden entry into the presidential race.

The comments came during a question-and-answer session at Howard University. A student asked the Minnesota Democrat if he would throw his support to Kennedy if convinced on the first ballot at the Democratic National Convention he could not win for himself.

"Under those circumstances"—faced with choosing between Kennedy and President Johnson, McCarthy replied, he would "have to support Kennedy, whose position (on Vietnam) has been the same as mine along the way."

McCarthy continued his attacks on Johnson administration Vietnam and domestic policies in a speech at the predominantly Negro university—and got the loudest cheers for his criticism of the war.

"Until this week President Johnson has assured us that we could fight both wars—the war in Vietnam and the war on poverty and ignorance at home," he said.

"In fact," he added to laughs and cheers, "we are fighting one war and not winning any."

McCarthy said the United States should back a coalition government in Vietnam to end the war—and that this country should announce intention to withdraw if the Saigon government didn't accept that plan.

He called for a guaranteed annual income and vast new housing and education programs but said such proposals are only a dream "as long as this nation continues to wage its unjust war in Vietnam."

Those proposals were included in the President's Commission on Civil Disorders, Mc-

Sanford Denies He Made Brewer Offer

RALEIGH (AP)—Kidd Brewer says former Gov. Terry Sanford offered to pardon him after a 1963 conviction on influence peddling charges, but Sanford denies the claim.

The issue arose Tuesday when Brewer, now a Democratic candidate for a state Appeals Court judgeship, told newsmen he turned down Sanford's offer because "I did not want to get him off the hook or get involved in a political situation. It would have been like cutting off my head and handing it back on a silver platter."

Sanford, who was governor at the time of Brewer's conviction, said he did not wish to become involved in a public controversy with the Raleigh businessman, but he never made such an offer.

"I know I didn't offer him one, and I feel confident he would not have turned me down if it was offered," the former governor stated.

Sanford added that a person seeking a pardon must apply to the state Paroles Board before the issue reaches the chief executive, and "I don't imagine

An Evaluation Of Drivers For Safety's Sake

By NOEL YANCEY
Associated Press Writer

RALEIGH (AP) — The North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles is trying to take off the highways drivers whose ability to operate a motor vehicle is impaired by physical or mental disability.

"We suspect that many more accidents are occurring because of physical or mental failure on the part of the driver than we actually know about," said Edward H. Wade, director of the MVD's Driver License Division.

"We are working toward being better able to identify these drivers and trying to do something about them before accidents occur," he added.

Wade said that since a medical evaluation program began in 1964, 5,500 drivers have been required to submit medical reports concerning their mental or physical ability to drive. He said 835 of them, approximately 17 per cent, have been denied licenses.

Wade explained that the program operates this way:

A request for a re-examination of a driver is received from a driver license examiner, a highway patrolman or other law enforcement officer, a court, a physician, or even a member of the person's family.

The driver is then required to submit a medical report completed by his family doctor or any physician of his choice. This report goes to one of six medical panels across the state, composed of doctors named by the North Carolina Medical Society. The panel's recommendation goes to the department for a final decision. If the driver is not satisfied with the decision, however, he can take his case to a recently established Medical Review Board.

The department is bound by the board's decision, but the driver is not. He can appeal the decision to the courts.

Wade noted that so far only two cases have gone to the courts. "In one case the court ruled with the department and in the other case the court ruled with the licensee," Wade said.

"That speaks fairly well for the program," he said. "It indicates it's going fairly well."

Wade said that of the 935 drivers denied licenses under the program, one per cent resulted from defective vision, 6 per cent from diabetes, 11 per cent from cardiac disability, 22 per cent from neurological disorders and 47 per cent from mental or emotional disability.

Pointing out that alcoholism is the major cause of licenses being denied for mental disability, Wade said:

"The problem of the drinking driver is the greatest one we have in traffic safety."

He also noted medical reports are requested in cases where the driver has been committed to a mental institution.

He explained that licenses are denied diabetics or epileptics only in cases where the medical report shows the disease is not stabilized so that the individual is not subject to blackouts.

He pointed out that many persons with diabetes and epilepsy have been licensed "when our medical records show their condition has been controlled by medication over a period of time."

"Doctors tell us these people are good risks and no more liable to a loss of consciousness than any other person," he explained.

Wade said licenses are denied in orthopedic cases where individuals are so "completely crippled" that they cannot operate motor vehicles safely even with hand controls.

Licenses are denied in cardiac cases, he said, to drivers whose medical records indicate "a severe limitation in their physical activity."

"The indicated action in every case is not necessarily pulling the driver off the road," Wade said. "There are many other ways of doing something about it such as therapy and driver training."

"In every case involving medical records we depend upon the recommendation of doctors," Wade added. "We make the decisions but we don't make them without consulting with doctors and a specialist in the field we are dealing in."

He praised the cooperation of the medical profession in the program, pointing out that a number of doctors have served on the review panels without compensation since the program was instituted.

"The doctors are tremendously interested in traffic safety and are willing to give of their time in an effort to do something about it," he said.

Legion Post Has Successful Drive

Information received from Department Headquarters of the American Legion in Raleigh indicates that Greenville Post No. 39 has conducted a highly successful membership drive.

Joseph H. Goodson, Commander of the Post, has received a letter from Department Adjutant J. Carroll Wilson reporting that Post No. 39 has exceeded its Legion Membership Incentive Goal for 1968. The Legion Adjutant expressed congratulations and thanks to the Post leaders and membership workers for their effort.

A statement of high praise for the local Post was issued by Robert A. (Bob) Tart of Benson, Department Commander of the American Legion.

Commander Tart said, "The membership of every Legionnaire makes it possible for the American Legion to maintain service for the sick and disabled in hospitals. Memberships make possible all the Legion programs; such as care for needy children, baseball, Boys' State, Boy Scout troops, oratorical contests, community service, and all the others. I am proud to congratulate Post No. 39 upon this notable achievement."

Post Commander Goodson explained that "68—Can Do Year"—the theme of this year's drive—was to remind all war veterans of their service to their country which makes them eligible to become Legionnaires.

PLAY BALL!

During field exercises, Jim Scott, Huntington Park, Calif., calls "safe" ...

... but Arthur Williams, Grand Rapids, Mich., says "out".

Acting school director Harry Wendelstedt reports daily to Al Somers, recuperating in bed from an auto accident.

When the man in blue shouts "PLAY BALL!" on baseball diamonds throughout the country, it may be the only thing all fans will agree he has called right. Beyond that, his judgments and calls are subject to criticism or approbation.

Preparing to take on the chore for making such decisions are men from all walks of life from all over the country. Weeks before spring training and the first exhibition games, they gather at Daytona Beach, Fla., to take a six weeks course at the Al Somers Umpire School.

The would-be umpires learn all the techniques, rules, methods and know-how to do the job properly.

They spend six days a week going through field exercises. They learn how to call a play out or safe; how to move smoothly between plays; where to stand and position themselves; what to do behind the plate and particularly how to handle the heavy and awkward gear they must wear while squatting behind the catcher.

Three nights a week, three hours a night, they sit in classrooms to learn the rules, intricacies and potential situations which might arise on the field.

The school is under the guidance of Al Somers and a four-man staff of professional umpires. Al, who served in the American League for 28 years, took over the school from Bill McGowan, a 40-year umpiring veteran, who began it in 1943.

The 72 students this year will help fill 30 major league slots and most of the minor league positions available.

With an expansion in the major leagues predicted, together with the Umpire Development Program of the Major Leagues, additional jobs will be available for the graduates.

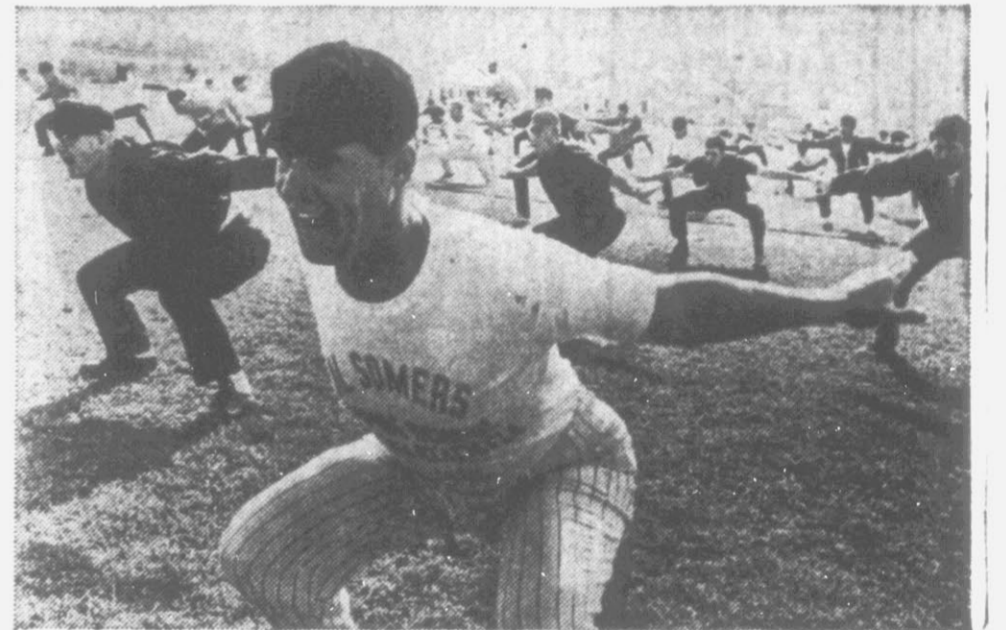

Their decisions, based on the knowledge learned at the Al Somers Umpire School, may stir angry reaction from some of the fans, but the umpire, they say, is always right.

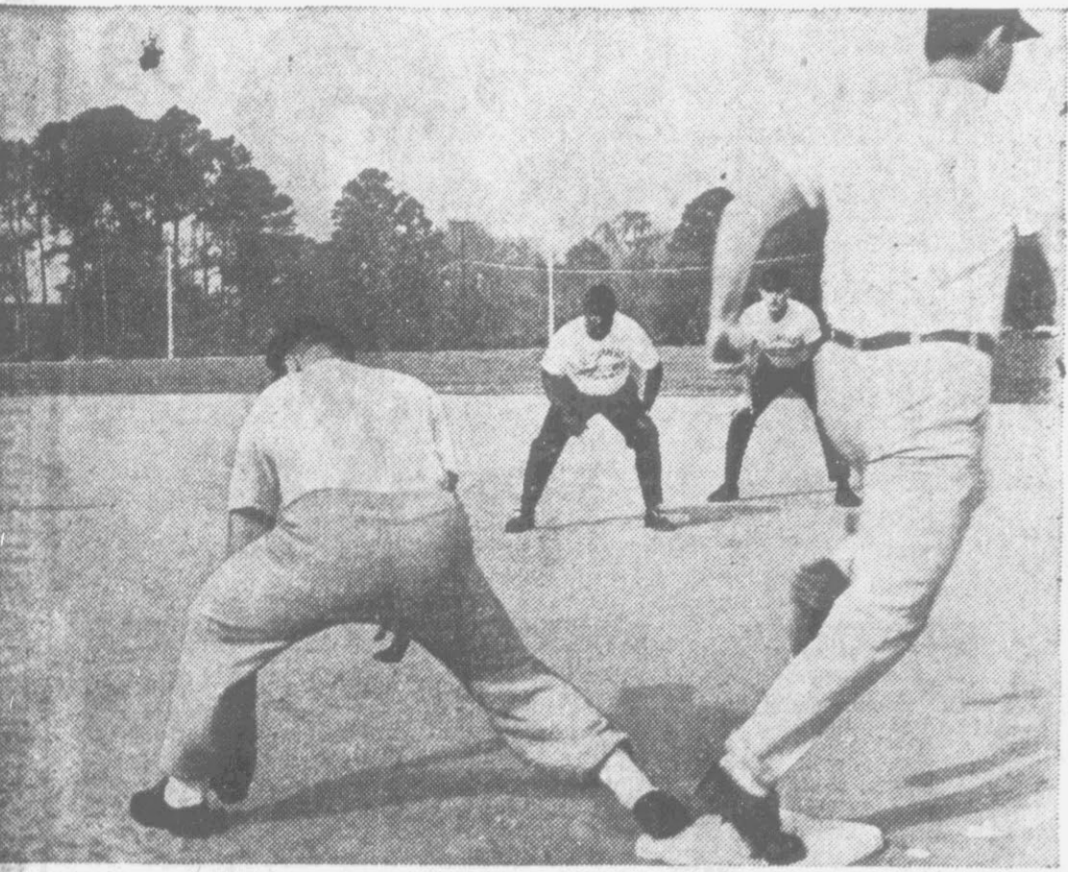

Wendelstedt, a National League umpire, asks for class response to a field problem.

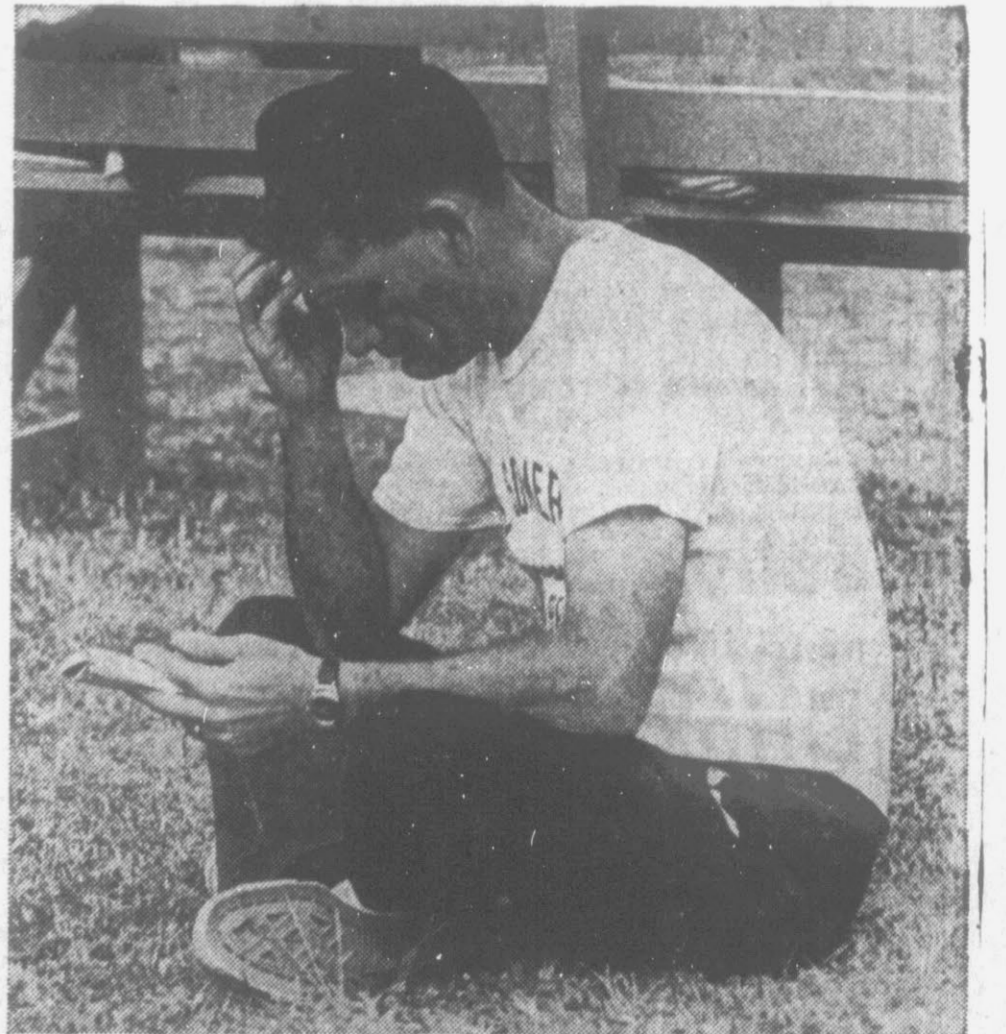

Feet in motion, Arthur Williams looks towards the field during home plate practice.

Former White Sox catcher Al Izuierdo takes part in the "out-safe" windsprint calisthenic drill.

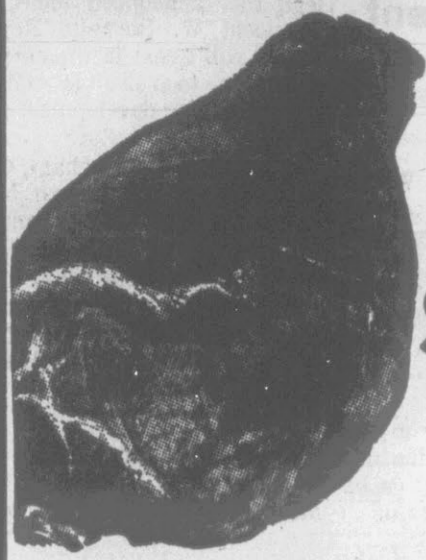

Jesse Bracey, Banning, Calif., prepares to make a call under the eye of Ron Uzelac, Texas League umpire.

When not doing field exercises, Ray Coleman, Bridgeton, N.J., concentrates on the rule book.

Wachovia President Sees U.S. Today Buying Time

The United States is buying in the dollar," he said. "To do that, we must end our balance of payments deficit and stop inflation at home."

Wattlington's remarks were made to the annual meeting of Wachovia shareholders.

"We face an array of problems that demand some hard answers," he said. "There is no longer any question that a many-sided attack on these problems is urgently needed. Federal spending must be cut. Federal taxes must be raised. Monetary policy must be employed in concert with fiscal policy to perform its proper role in cooling down the economy, but it must not be relied upon to do the job alone."

"This is a tough dose of medicine, but the nation must swallow it if we are to maintain the health of the American economy and world confidence in the dollar."

Wattlington said all the factors contributing to the balance of payments deficit "must come under closer scrutiny. Moreover, to offset them, we must continue to maintain a surplus in our balance of trade. This becomes increasingly difficult to do as inflation at home prices our goods out of international markets."

"The most inflationary single force at work in our economy today is the deficit spending of the federal government. For too long the federal government has maintained that the Vietnam War and the broad social programs enacted since 1960 could be financed without higher taxes. In pursuit of this illusion, the federal budget deficit has soared past the $20 billion level. This is highly volatile fuel to pour on an economy already operating at record levels."

Turning to the North Carolina economy, Wattlington saw a refreshing contrast in fiscal responsibility. "Our state budget is in balance again, as it must be by law. Last year the state budget showed a surplus for the 31st straight year. Our bond ratings are enviably high, on both the state and municipal level."

He noted encouraging growth and diversification in the state's industry and agriculture, commenting that the North Carolina economy is becoming broad-based and therefore stronger and less susceptible to severe

Winter Sports Teams Honored At ECU Banquet

Rose Track Team Opening Season

Rose High School's thinclads will open their season, officially, tomorrow at Jacksonville.

The Phantoms held a practice meet last week with Kinston and Wilson.

Under Coach Denard Harris, the Phants will be out to defend their Northeastern Conference Championship. "The boys have shown a real good attitude so far and have been working extra hard," Harris said.

"Whether we are able to defend our championship will depend on how we develop in the sprints. If we do as well as we expect to do in the distances, we should be able to defend it well. The field events are going to play a big role, too, and I feel that our depth is going to be a real important factor."

Harris noted that he is being aided by Jay Arledge in the distance events and by Marvin Welton in the weights. Arledge is an art teacher in the system, while Welton is a practice teacher.

Going down each event, Harris listed his top men and the places where he feels the team can do well.

"In the high jump," he said, "we have Greg Williams who has already cleared 5-6 this year. Billy Taylor is just getting started and Bubba Rawls is going to be a big help."

The broad jump will rely on Kyle Hodges, who hit 18 feet last week. Walter Gould and Ducky Stapleton are top backup men.

In the shot putt, Harris feels he has a strong championship chance in Richard Tucker, who has thrown close to 48 feet already this week. Ralph Vincent a newcomer to the sport is already approaching 43 feet and David Harrington is hitting over 40 feet, putting that event in good position for a sweep.

Tucker is again the man to beat in the discus, hitting 120-125 in practice. Josh Weeks joins Harrington and Vincent in follow-up men.

Cliff Edwards, a sophomore, is being pushed as the top pole vaulter. He has cleared 10 feet in practice, and Harris feels he can go 11 or 12 this year. Eric Vernon and Vic Stanfield back him up.

In the 120 high hurdles, Tim Foley is the key man for the Phants. He has done the distance in :16.4 and is out to break his personal record of :15.2 during the year. Fred Jackson and Tim Winslow are follow-up men in the event.

Foley is also the top man in the 180 low hurdles, with Chuck Brown showing a lot of promise.

In the 100-yard dash, Harrison Gaskins appears to be the top man. Harris rates him as real fast but needing experience. Greg Williams, Kyle Hodges and David Harrington round out the event.

In the 220, Hodges moves in front of Gaskins as the key man, with Linwood Ferguson coming on strong.

Williams take the front as the key man in the 440. But he is being pushed hard by Danny Stapleton, Josh Weeks and Mac Farrow.

Vic Stanfield is the top man in the 880, with transfer student Byron Brown and Walter Gould helping out.

Steve Reed is the leading Phant in the mile run, and Harris expects him to break the school record here. Charles Langley and Ducky Stapleton are backup men.

In the 880 relay, Ron and Don Taylor, along with Harrison Gaskins and Bubba Rawl make up the team, while Cliff Edwards, Josh Weeks, Danny Stapleton and Steve Reed make up the mile relay team.

"We feel we have a bright year ahead of us," Harris said. "And we're going to make a real run at the championship again."

The East course at the Merion Golf Club in Ardmore, Pa., will be used for the 1971 U.S. Open golf championship.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYER — Vince Colbert, co-captain of the East Carolina University basketball team, was selected as the Most Valuable Player on the team by his fellow players. Colbert was honored last night along with other members of the basketball, swimming, wrestling and indoor track teams. Colbert was presented his award by the Daily Reflector, while Jim Gregory was honored as the Outstanding Freshman by Hodges Hardware.

Colbert, Gregory Are Honored With Awards

East Carolina University honored members of its basketball, swimming, indoor track and wrestling teams last night at the first annual Winter Sports Banquet.

Basketball Co-Captain Vince Colbert and freshman Jim Gregory copped the top awards presented during the evening. Colbert, one of Coach Tom Quinn's first recruits as a junior college transfer, was named the Most Valuable Player by his teammates, and presented a trophy by The Daily Reflector.

Gregory, an outstanding freshman who averaged nearly 25 points per game, and was the leading rebounder for the team, was named the Outstanding Freshman Player. His trophy was presented by Hodges Hardware Co.

Members of the basketball teams, both varsity and freshmen, were introduced, along with members of the indoor track, wrestling and swimming teams.

It was pointed out by Athletic Director Clarence Stasavich that the winter sports program at the university showed great improvement with each team except swimming moving up in the ranks of the Southern Conference. The swimming team, he jokingly put it, "did not improve."

Coach Ray Martinez' swimmers did, however, take their second straight Southern Conference championship, and thus couldn't do better.

Speaker for the evening was the Rev. Allen E. Edwards, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Raleigh.

He told the athletes that one of the key factors necessary in athletics, as in life, is maturity. "Maturity is a hard word to define," he explained. "It has many meanings to different people."

Rev. Edwards then pointed out that maturity needed to have several things to define it, including wisdom, integrity, sincerity, humility, courtesy, charity.

"Wisdom is not just intelligence. There are a lot of men with intelligence who do not have wisdom, and vice versa," he said. "Wisdom is the moral and spiritual good taste one uses when confronted by a decision with a lasting effect. It helps weigh the consequences of a decision."

He pointed out that someone can't always make the right decision, but if he approaches it with wisdom, he'll usually be all right.

"Integrity is fighting for the truth as you believe the truth to be. It's standing up for what you believe in as Dr. Leo Jenkins did in his fight for university status. It's believing something and building on it."

Sincerity, however, he said, is fighting to find out what the truth is. "It goes hand in hand with integrity," he said. "You may find out that what you have believed in is wrong. Sincerity is the ability to have yourself proven wrong and being willing to accept new ideas."

"Humility is an honest appraisal of yourself, based on recognition and association," Rev. Edwards said. "Recognition is realizing the gifts that set you apart and working to make the best of your talents. Association is being with other people whose talents are superior to yours."

Wrapping the definition of maturity up is courtesy and charity. "Courtesy is an awareness of what you own to others, and charity is courtesy in action, knowing how to treat your fellow man and going out and doing it."

Wooden Admits Court Is An Edge For Bruins

By JACK STEVENSON — LOS ANGELES (AP) — Coach John Wooden of UCLA admits there will be an advantage to his basketball team in playing Houston at the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

"We'd rather be playing in the Sports Arena than in the Astrodome or on their home court," Wooden said today. "But there isn't the edge at the Sports Arena that there would be if we played at Pauley Pavilion."

The latter is the home court of the Bruins, who battle Houston Friday night in one of the two semifinal games of the NCAA's championship tournament.

In the other, the University of North Carolina meets surprising Ohio State at 7 p.m., PST, with Houston and UCLA following at 9 p.m. The winners meet Saturday night to decide the national collegiate title won last year by UCLA.

Wooden's reference to the Astrodomes went back to last Jan. 20 when Houston's All-American Elvin Hayes scored 39 points as the Cougars won 71-69. They went on to finish undefeated season and were No. 1 in The Associated Press poll followed by UCLA in the No. 2 spot.

The Astrodome was not Houston's home court and Wooden says the advantage for Houston there is comparable with that of the Sports Arena to UCLA, which plays its home games in Pauley Pavilion on the school's campus.

Houston Coach Guy Lewis expects a high scoring affair when his club, led by Hayes, and the Lew Alcindome-paced Bruins meet this second time.

"I think UCLA will score more points and shoot better," he declared during a telephone interview Tuesday. "We'll shoot better."

He scoffed at any idea that UCLA might try to stall against his squad although Wooden had suggested the possibility earlier.

Coach Dean Smith of fourth-ranked North Carolina, said the Tar Heels have been playing their best defense of the year in recent games.

Fred Taylor of Ohio State said about the same of his Buckeyes, who edged Kentucky 82-81 in the Mid-East regionals.

North Carolina banks heavily on senior Larry Miller, who averaged 22.7 points. Taylor said part of Ohio State's strategy will be to keep him from driving.

The three visiting teams arrive in Los Angeles Thursday and all four will work out at the Sports Arena that afternoon.

Greene Central Falls By 2-0

SNOW HILL—New Hope High School downed Greene Central, 2-0, yesterday in the second opener for the Rams.

Greene Central got a three-hitter from its pitcher, Cobb, but was unable to bunt any of its six hits and push a run across.

New Hope pushed into a one-run lead in the fourth inning. Gardner was hit by a pitch, becoming the first baserunner for the Hornets. Then Robert Lewis stepped in a triple to score Gardner for a 1-0 lead.

In the fifth, New Hope picked up another run. Lancaster reached on an error and Lane singled. Peele and Gardner both drew walks, forcing in Lancaster with the second run. Greene Central, with six hits, left a lot of men on bases, but could never push them across.

The Rams will meet Four Oaks on Friday.

Notre Dame Edges LIU

By MIKE RECHT Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Long Island U. misses the free throw it didn't get, but Dan Obrovac doesn't miss any free throws. That's why Dayton is in the semifinals of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament and LIU isn't.

Dayton barely managed to come out of Tuesday's night's hand-wringing quarter-finals with a 61-60 victory over surprising Fordham when Obrovac, another surprise, hit six straight free throws in the final 2½ minutes.

But Long Island, the No. 1 small college team, never got that chance from the free throw line when no foul was called on a last-minute collision. Instead, the Blackbirds had to do their shooting from the field and their superb Larry Newbold fell just short as tough Notre Dame grabbed a 62-60 triumph in the nightcap of the doubleheader.

"Some foul should have been called — for us or against us," said disappointed Long Island Coach Roy Rubin about the collision. It involved Newbold and an Irish player as Newbold drove down the lane with 40 seconds left.

But none was, and Notre Dame held the ball and its 61-60 lead until Jim Derring's free throw with four seconds remaining.

Newbold had one more chance. But the 6-foot-2 small college All-American hit the front rim with his jumper from the corner as time ran out.

The senior guard, moving inside, single-handedly pulled the Blackbirds back from a 41-28 deficit with 23 points in the second half, including LIU's last 11. He finished with 36.

Notre Dame overcame Newbold with Bob Whitmore's 23 points and 16 by Bob Arzen, and sub George Restovich's basket with two minutes left for a 61-58 lead.

Notre Dame, in its first NIT meets Dayton and St. Peter's, N.J., opposes Kansas in the semis Thursday night.

"Now we've beaten the No. 1 small college team and the No. 1 defensive team (Army)," said Irish Coach Johnny Dee. "Not bad for a club that wasn't supposed to go anywhere."

Phantoms Stay Unbeaten As Havelock Falls, 2-0

ALMOST A PICKOFF — The baseball scoots away from Rose High School's first baseman, Joe West, as he attempts to put the tag on Havelock's Tim Street in yesterday's game. West recovered the ball to prevent Street from moving to second. The Phants scored in the sixth to down the Rams, 2-0, and remain unbeaten this year. (Reflector Photo)

Rose Comes Up With Both In Sixth

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor
Rose High School battled through five scoreless innings, then came up with two runs to take a 2-0 victory over previously unbeaten Havelock yesterday.

The victory was the second of the year in as many starts for the Phants and kept them in a tie for first place in the Northeastern Conference. The game developed early into a pitching duel between Rose High's Kenny Beaman and Vaughn Strum of Havelock. Both gave the other team several opportunities to score, then slammed the door in their faces. Havelock came up with a threat right at the start of the game. Leadoff batter Jimmy Nienstead singled over short to start the game and advanced on a fielder's choice. But he was caught in another fielder's choice and nailed at third. Men still remained at first and second, but another ground ball took care of the inning.

Rose got its first threat in the third inning. Ron Leggett singled, and he and Stuart Jones were both safe on an error and were sacrificed to second and third. David Hahn slapped what looked like a perfect hit between short and second, but Street made a diving catch of the ball, and then doubled up Jones off second in a freak double play.

Havelock again threatened in the sixth when King got another single, then stole second. But he never advanced beyond that. Then came the inning for Rose. Allen Pate led off and was hit by a pitch, and Jim Woods came on to run for him. David Hahn laid down a sacrifice bunt moving Woods to second. Then with two out, Russ Cayton singled to right, scoring Woods, and Cayton moved to second on the throw to the plate. Mike Aldridge hit another single, bringing in Cayton with the insurance run. That appeared to give Beaman a boost, and he set the next three Havelock men down in order to end the game. The Phants are now in a three-way tie for first with a

Farmville Falls To Four Oaks Nine

By SONNY McLAWHORN
Reflector Sports Writer
FARMVILLE — Four Oaks pounded Farmville pitching for 11 hits and a 7-2 decision over the Red Devils here yesterday. It was the opening contest for both teams.

Farmville found paydirt in the third, as Charles Lehman reached base on a miscue, moved to third on a two-base error, and scored on Jimmy Wooter's sacrifice fly. The Cardinals, who hit safely in every inning, picked up another run in the fourth. Durwood Jones singled, moved to third on Dennis Jones' booming ground-rule double and scored on a fielder's choice.

Leftfielder Dennis Jones led the Cardinal stickmen with a pair of doubles. Gary Johnson batted in four runs. After Four Oaks collected four runs in the second inning, the Red Devils were never really in it.

In the seventh, Lee singled and later scored when Byrd reached base on an error. Griffis led off the seventh for the Red Devils. The Farmville third baseman drew a base on balls and scored later on a sacrifice fly by leftfielder Frank Styers.

In the top of the first, Mike Evans reached base on an error. The Cardinal shortstop went to second and third on a couple of fielders' choice and scored on Johnson's hit.

Four Oaks 140 100 1 — 7 11 2
Farmville 001 000 1 — 2 4 6

Farmville got off to a roaring start, as Danny Griffis and Kenny Bryan lashed singles. But the next three batters went down in order, and Farmville didn't get another safety until the sixth inning.

The Cardinal rally in the second started as Cecil Lee singled and scored on pitcher Cliff Massengill's hit. Later Massengill scored on an error and Trigger Byrd and Evans, who both walked, scored on Johnson's single to make it 5-0.

Bunning Expected To Lead Pirates To Flag

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Jim Bunning is the man who is expected to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates out of the thorny wilderness of sixth place and make them a real pennant factor after a bitter year of disappointment.

"The deal that brought Bunning to the Pirates from the Phillies for Woody Fryman and three rookies still is hard to believe in some quarters. Adding a topflight workhorse starter and streakout ace to a team that led the league in hitting by 14 points at 277 could add up to a pennant.

Larry Shepard, the new manager who was the Phillies' pitching coach last year, is confident he can fit superstars like Bunning, Maury Wills and Roberto Clemente into a cohesive unit that will erase the memories of last season.

For Shepard this is a chance to show his stuff in a big league setting after years of frustration in the minors. Passed over for Harry Walker when the Pirates made their last change, Larry left the organization as a farm club manager and moved to the Phillies. At the age of 48 the man who never made it in the big show as a pitcher finally is in charge.

If Veale decides to challenge Bunning for the top spot, the Pirates will be the gainers. Tommie Sisk, 13-13; Steve Blass, 6-8 and Al McBean, 7-4, are the others who will take a regular turn. In the early exhibition games both Bill Mazerowski and Gene Alley have been riding the bench with injuries. Maz's trouble was only a pulled muscle, but Alley is concerned about a shoulder injury that hasn't permitted him to cut loose with the ball.

Shepard and the Pirates think it is only a matter of time until it comes around but any further delay could be a real headache. While Alley was out, Maury Wills moved over from third to play short and Jose Pagan was at third. Willis, incidentally, is reported in good shape with no problems from the knee that bothered him last year.

"Bunning is just the type of pitcher I wanted," said Shepard. "I have admired him for years but really got to know him last year. Gene Mauch and I were having dinner in Mexico during the winter meetings when he told me, 'You can have anybody you want.' "He whistled and I came. I told him to say no more and he'd be hearing from us. We made the Bunning deal a few days later."

Roberto Clemente, the reigning batting champ and four-time winner of the title, is getting ready for another super year in right field. Matty Alou and Manny Mota again will platoon in center and Stargell will patrol left.

Ohio State Is Rebounding Team

CHAPEL HILL (AP) — Basketball coach Dean Smith says Ohio State will be the best rebounding team his North Carolina Tar Heels have met all year.

Smith told newsmen at a Tuesday luncheon that in addition to its rebounding strength, Ohio State is an excellent shooting team, averaging 49.8 per cent marksmanship from the floor.

That meeting will come Friday night in Los Angeles in the semifinals for the NCAA national basketball championship. In the other semifinal, undefeated Houston meets once defeated UCLA.

"They have a devastating fast break," Smith continued. "Their big men get the ball out, and move it; and overall, they can match us in team speed."

The California team's only loss was to Houston during the regular season.

Ohio State defeated Kentucky in the regionals last week to gain its semifinals berth at Los Angeles.

Distributive Education Work Is Reviewed At Club Banquet

Distributive Education students, business men and school officials attended a Distributive Education Club banquet last night at the Greenville Moose Lodge.

Kenneth Langley, president of the J. H. Rose High School DE Club presided at the dinner. Work the DE students have been performing was reviewed at the meeting, and tribute was paid to employers who are participating in the program being conducted at Rose High School.

Jim Price, manager of Butler's Shoes, who spoke briefly, said distributive education gives a young person the opportunity to learn through on-the-job experience the things which make a person valuable in the field of distribution.

Greenville city school superintendent Dr. C. C. Cleetwood said, the school administration must constantly upgrade the total school program.

He added, "The board of education sees a great deal of value in cooperative vocational education programs such as the distributive education program, and pledges its continued support to this good work."

Each employer cooperating with the program was presented a certificate of appreciation for their participation and given a window decal to inform others that they are a DE training station. Horace C. Robertson, distributive education coordinator, was given a plaque by the DE Club members in appreciation for the services rendered to the club this year.

The testimonies heard at the Tuesday evening service were by George Gay and Nelson Gravitt, members of the 1967 Pirate football team.

All interested persons are invited to share in the closing service tonight, according to the pastor, the Rev. Bill Quick.

Seek Burglary Insurance Hike

RALEIGH (AP) — Requests were submitted Tuesday to North Carolina Insurance Commissioner Edwin S. Lanier for a 16.5 per cent rate increase for burglary insurance and a 10.1 decrease in glass insurance premiums.

The rate changes, involving coverage commonly purchased by private businesses, were requested by the Insurance Rating Bureau of New York.

Impressed With Taped Sermon

PHOENIX (AP) — A tape-recorded sermon to Catholic churches by the Most Rev. Francis J. Green, bishop of the diocese of Tucson, made an impression on at least one person. Hearing a sermon coming from a vacant pulpit, a 3-year-old boy asked, "Is that God talking?"

Christian Scientist Says Answers Found In Prayer

The year 1966 has special meaning throughout the world to those who have found in Christian Science "a religion that meets the needs of today," said Martin Broones, C. S. B., of Beverly Hills, California, to an audience here last night.

"It marks the centennial of Mary Baker Eddy's discovery of Christian Science," Mr. Broones told the audience, explaining that this religion demonstrates the same divine Science that Christ Jesus practiced almost nineteen centuries before. Mrs. Eddy "was a spiritual pioneer — a seeker for a workable truth," he said, "and every scientific finding she made in the field of mental cause and effect she related to her knowledge of Scriptural miracles."

Just completing an extended tour that included the British Isles and Europe, South America, Australia and New Zealand, as a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, he spoke under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist His subject was "A Discovery that Meets the Needs of Today." He was introduced by L. H. Moore, First Reader.

"The discovery of Christian Science has had a profound impact upon the thinking of mankind in regard to four basic human needs," Mr. Broones said: "the need for health, supply, communication, and love."

Discussing the need for health, he said, "all physical disorders and disorders are congealed material beliefs, mental maladies manifested in the flesh. The Christ, Truth, or Saviour, is spiritual enlightenment." He referred to the statement of Jesus recorded in the Gospel of John, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free," explaining that "the truth that God is Love and ever present, satisfies the human need for physical and mental health bringing harmony of mind and body into people's lives."

Commenting on recreation as it relates to health, he said, "Christian Science doesn't argue against a right and normal sense of recreation. In fact, one of the first things Christian Science teaches is the joy of recreation as re-creation, — spiritual regeneration. "This is new birth," he said, "is a vital teaching of Christianity." Again, he said, "Our way to holiness is our way to health, our way to re-creation. It is our way to the divine Love that is also divine Principle and that meets all human needs."

Speaking of the meeting of the need for supply, Mr. Broones pointed out that, "Each person can find his own bonanza of good, his own reflection of limitless supply, by looking to divine Principle instead of to human person, to Love and its generous laws of being."

"Love is the answer, the only answer — to lack of every kind," he said, "and we find the answer through prayer. We learn in Christian Science that the basis of all true communication is prayer."

Two Resurfacing Jobs Completed

WINTERVILLE — Two street resurfacing projects in Winterville have been completed, according to Elwood Nobles, town clerk.

East Railroad Street from the intersection of Cooper Street to Depot Street has been resurfaced at a cost to the town of approximately $2,000. The two-block long project is in the main business district of Winterville.

Work was started on the project Saturday and was completed Monday.

The second project completed was the resurfacing of Main Street from the N.C. 11 intersection to Church Street. This project was contracted by the State Highway Commission.

Planned Rites For Wrong Man

KINSTON, N.C. (AP) — Relatives had arranged Tuesday for funeral services for Raeford Marshburn, 55, of Kinston, but canceled them when he showed up.

Lenoir County Sheriff Fred Boyd said Marshburn claimed he had been working with a well-drilling crew, and that was why he hadn't been around relatives for 30 days.

A case of mistaken identity developed Monday, Sheriff Boyd said, when James Houston of Kinston and his son, Rodney, discovered a body in the Neuse River.

Boyd said two companions of Marshburn viewed the body and said they felt sure it was Raeford Marshburn. Coroner Raymond Jarman ruled Marshburn had drowned, Boyd said.

Boyd said Marshburn was listening to news reports on the radio when he heard about his funeral arrangements.

After Marshburn appeared, officers determined through fingerprints that the dead man was William Marvin Wiggins, 63, of Kinston.

Concert Change

The Homer and Jethro Concert, previously scheduled in Minges Coliseum, will be held tonight in Wright Auditorium on the East Carolina University campus instead.

The duo is famed for its takeoffs on country and western and popular songs. Tickets are available now at the central ticket office at ECU.

Tax Collectors At Convention

Three tax collectors from Pitt County are attending the North Carolina Tax Collectors Convention today and tomorrow in Chapel Hill.

Those attending include Winterville tax collector Elwood Nobles, William R. Smith, Pitt County tax collector and Ayden tax collector Don Russell.

No charges were made in a 3:40 p.m. mishap yesterday at the intersection of Fifth and Greene Streets.

Officers reported cars driven by Francis Glenn Smith, 24, of 418 West Fifth St., and Norma Wallace Gray of 2001 Brook Rd., were involved in the collision.

Damage to the Smith auto was placed at $250 while damage to the Gray car was set at $200.

New Effort For Summer Youth Jobs

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government planners are making a major shift in the multimillion-dollar effort to keep slum youths off the streets—and out of trouble—this summer.

Instead of trying to find teenagers who want summer jobs, programs this year are aiming more at finding businessmen who will hire the youngsters.

"The problem is the supply of jobs, not the supply of kids," said Gerald W. Christenson, executive director of the President's Council on Youth Opportunities. "We've got plenty of kids who want to work."

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, council chairman, reported recently that last summer "more than 1.5 million people between 16 and 21 who sought work could not find it; and probably an equal number did not even bother to look because they considered the quest hopeless."

One problem, another official conceded, was that the government "really raised the expectations" of slum youth last year with radio commercials which, after plugging the summer programs, told listeners:

"... Call your information operator. Ask for 'Summer Youth.' Call now. Don't let time slip by, or the call may slip from your mind. It could be the most important call you make this summer."

"The kids got the idea that all they had to do to get a job was to pick up the phone," the official said. "We're going to make sure we don't have that problem this year."

The council is dropping all references to information operators in its radio commercials. In one already-recorded spot announcement, Humphrey says:

"What our young people need more than anything else are jobs... and that's where you can help. If you're a businessman, hire a young worker this summer. Ask your friends to do the same."

As if to underscore the new emphasis, President Johnson enlisted Henry Ford II, chairman of Ford Motor Co., and members of the National Alliance of Businessmen to conduct a three-year nationwide program to locate or create jobs for 500,000 unemployed persons.

In addition, Ford's group was asked to try to place 200,000 disadvantaged youths in meaningful jobs this summer. Referring to racial tensions, Ford told newsmen last month that "these people must be given a chance to earn a decent living for themselves... our very national unity and domestic peace are at stake."

Humphrey urged local officials not to consider summer programs "as anti-riot in substance," but added: "It is obvious that idle young people increase the potential for local disturbances."

Humphrey's youth opportunity council was formed a year ago to coordinate federal, state, local and private programs. Eight cabinet officers are among its 10 members.

The council estimated that more than 10 million youths ages 16 to 21 had summer jobs last year.

Nearly $600 million in federal funds went into 1967 programs. Initial estimates placed this year's federal spending at $560 million, but a Senate committee has approved an additional $75 million.

Grants totaling $1.5 million already have been divided among the nation's 50 largest cities to plan summer activities.

Motion Picture Projectionist Remembers When

ST. LOUIS (AP) — When the operators of motion picture projectors in St. Louis observed the 60th anniversary of the founding of their union, 86-year-old George Rafferty, the only original charter-signer still living, was the guest of honor.

Rafferty, who retired only last year, started in the business before the turn of the century. Working in a vaudeville house, he ran a piece of Edison's early film which flickered and made viewers' eyes hurt. "We called it The Chaser because we used it to run people out of the house. To clear the theater between vaudeville performances," he recalls.

One of his sons, George Rafferty, Jr., 62, still carries on the family tradition as a projectionist. As for the senior Rafferty—he still likes movies.

Japan's gross national product for 1967 was estimated to be $114-billion, an increase of about 13 per cent from 1966.

New Mexico Is A State—Really

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — Apparently some people still don't know that the state of New Mexico is part of the United States.

gene. She was sent a complete set of information and applications for foreign students.

THERE OUGHT TO BE A LAW

The Worry Clinic An Autobiography Of Col. Edgar Whitcomb

Read his thrilling book, "Escape From Corregidor," and then see if you don't agree that Col. Whitcomb's middle name should be "Destiny." You can't lay this book down, once you start it! With the suspense of early Indian warfare, plus Robinson Crusoe's jungle experiences!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE F-521: Col. Edgar D. Whitcomb's fantastic autobiography, "Escape From Corregidor," came off the press just 3 months ago in a paperback edition.

Not knowing what his middle name really is, I feel it should be "destiny."

For the Finger of God seems to have steered him through the terrible Bataan March, plus the fall of Corregidor, Japanese prison camps, beatings with lead pipes till he was unconscious, malaria, starvation, danger from sharks, etc.

As navigator on a B-17, he had landed at Clark Field near Manila on October 16, 1941.

Seven weeks later, the report about Pearl Harbor's attack reached there.

America's vast armada of bombing planes impatiently waited for orders to fly out and devastate the Japanese fleet—but no orders ever came!

So the next night 57 Japanese bombers suddenly swooped over Clark Field, completely destroying our great armada of fighter planes and bombers!

Many buddies lay killed or wounded all around him. Those still alive headed for Bataan. "Destiny" Whitcomb, now without a plane, became a communications officer, often spending 24 hours on the job.

Every dawn the sick, wounded and starving Americans looked anew at the sky, hoping fresh American planes would surely arrive to help them.

Finally, the American forces had to surrender, but "Destiny" and a few other officers sneaked through the forests to the seashore; commandeered a boat and escaped across the bay to Corregidor, our supposedly impregnable fortress.

Ultimately starved and bombed into surrender there, "Destiny" and his comrades were forced to work without food for their Japanese captors.

One dark night he and the son of Gen. Field Harris sneaked into the water and started swimming the 8 miles to the mainland, despite sharks and Japanese fire.

There they slithered through the jungle, even eating ants to prevent total collapse from starvation.

Once they killed a scrawny horse and were trying to start a fire, Boy Scout fashion, with a bow and stick when the Japanese spotted them and spat bullets all around, so they fled without even tasting their horse meat!

Some friendly natives finally nursed them back to health and even outfitted them with a small boat, which they hoped to sail to Australia so they could rejoin American forces.

But, en route, they were captured and "Destiny" was sent back to the Manila prison beaten with lead pipes into unconsciousness, for the captors suspected he was an officer, though he was dressed in civilian rags.

He outwitted them and was at last shipped to Shanghai; thence via the Swedish ship Gripsholm in the Indian Ocean for a prisoner exchange.

But when he arrived in New York Harbor in 1943, the FBI took him into custody, not even letting him notify his mother that he was still alive, for they didn't want the Japanese to learn he had eluded them, lest it interfere with further prisoner exchanges.

Before the end of the way, he was back on bombing missions over Formosa, then a Japanese stronghold.

"Destiny" Whitcomb's book made me lose a whole day at the typewriter, for I couldn't stop till I finished it!

For thriller-diller history, with a Robinson Crusoe flavor, you history teachers should assign this fascinating true account.

See if you don't agree with me when I say his middle name should be "Destiny," for, like George Washington, it seems the Finger of God has steered him onward.

Tribe Mortality Rate Very High

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP) — The head of the U.S. Public Health Service facilities on the sprawling Navajo reservation says the Navajo mortality rate is nearly 2½ times greater than that of the general population rate.

Dr. George E. Bock said the annual mortality rate for Navajos is 173 per 100,000 population. This, he said compares with 72 per 100,000 for the general population.

Bock said injuries and accidents are the leading cause of death on the reservation—the size of the state of West Virginia.

"Automobiles and pickup trucks are involved in a high percentage of Navajo injuries, and deaths reported," he said.

"Probably the greatest problem is the combination of alcohol and driving.

"Upper respiratory and gastro-intestinal diseases are the leading causes of illness and death among the Navajo children, especially in the younger age groups."

Dr. Bock, in his annual report to the Navajo Tribal Council, said the infant death rate among Navajos is 37 per 1,000 live births. He said this compared with 25.2 per 1,000 live births with all races in the United States. The figures were a three-year average for 1965, 1966, 1967.

Dr. Bock said there has been a steady reduction in Navajo infant death rates since 1954.

Banks Hurriedly Open Branches

RALEIGH (AP) — North Carolina National Bank and First Union National Bank opened hurriedly-built branch offices in a Raleigh suburb today while a competitor sought action to close them.

The two banks won a four-year-old legal fight Tuesday when Judge Edwin Stanley filed an order in U.S. Eastern District Court refusing to continue a restraining order which blocked them from opening branches in North Hills, a fashionable Raleigh suburb.

First-Citizens Bank and Trust Co., which has a branch in the North Hills Shopping Center, filed an appeal of Stanley's ruling to the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals in Richmond, Va. NCNB and First Union, in an apparent attempt to ward off another restraining order, rushed mobile offices to the suburb and sent representatives to Washington by private plane to obtain necessary papers from Comptroller General William Camp.

The banks had teams of tellers waiting for workmen to finish installation of the temporary offices in hopes of opening by 3 p.m. Tuesday, but Camp set 9 a.m. today as the opening time for both offices.

First-Citizens and Wachovia Bank and Trust Co., both state chartered banks, now operate branches in North Hills; and the Tuesday decision means four of the state's largest banks will have branches in the same center—at least for a day.

Legislative delegations from Charleston, Dorchester and Berkeley counties met in Columbia Tuesday to formulate plans for merging the College of Charleston and State Medical College in the Port City.

The proposed institution would be known as Carolina Eastern University. Sen. Dennis said Medical College trustees at Charleston had expressed willingness to cooperate in the proposed merger.

McCallum Brings $385,000 Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor David McCallum, the slender blond sidekick to television's "Man from U.N.C.L.E.," has filed a $385,000 breach of contract suit against Columbia Pictures Corp.

McCallum asserted Tuesday he and the studio made an oral agreement Feb. 8 for him to receive top billing in the motion picture "Southern Star."

Instead, he said he was notified 11 days later that the studio had decided "to abandon" his employment. He said he was promised $125,000 for the role, plus traveling expenses to London and Africa.

The only American combat unit on the Korean front, the 2nd Infantry Division, guards an 18-mile sector on the western front. South Koreans guard the rest of the 151-mile DMZ.

Jordan Fearing 'Mass Attack'

TEL AVIV (AP) — Border zones were tense today and travelers returning from Jordan reported nervousness there after Jordan charged Israel was planning a mass attack against it.

Israeli military sources denied any buildup along the frontier, but a Foreign Ministry spokesman, questioned about troop deployment, said: "Absolutely no comment."

A letter to the U.N. Security Council Tuesday from Jordan's ambassador declared: "We have just received information that Israeli authorities are now contemplating a massed armed attack against the west bank of the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan."

Arabs in the occupied west bank of Jordan were also reported today to be convinced Israel would hit back in retaliation for the mining of a school bus Monday in which two Israelis were killed and 28 children wounded.

Newspapers continued to warn Jordan it would suffer if sabotage raids were not halted.

Nasser Ousts 2 Vice Presidents

CAIRO (AP) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser shook up his Cabinet today, dropping two pro-Western vice presidents.

Nasser's action came after a qualified U.S. source had reported the United States is ready to resume diplomatic relations with Egypt anytime the Egyptian government is ready.

Out of the Cabinet went Vice Presidents Ali Sabry and Zakariya Moheiddin.

In reply to questions at a news conference at which the new 30-man Cabinet was announced, government spokesman Mohammed Hassan El-Zayyat said Moheiddin had resigned from all his posts.

City's Shore Drive Share Is Amended

The city's cash payment for its share of the Shore Drive cost has been set at $66,546.

City councilmen amended their agreement with the Redevelopment Commission this morning to reflect this figure.

J. C. Lamm, comptroller for the Redevelopment Commission, told the council the corporate agreement should be amended to set forth the city's cash grant-in-aid.

A federal grant will pay three-fourths of the redevelopment project with the city to pay one-fourth.

However, as a part of its costs the city receives credit for sanitary, sewer, electrical distribution, water distribution and gas distribution improvement costs, which are borne by the city-owned Utilities Commission.

The city's final cash outlay

State Hails Big Sale Of Soybeans

North Carolina Agriculture Commissioner James A. Graham announced Friday the sale of 5,000 tons of Tar Heel soybeans to a Japanese firm for $500,000 and termed the sale "a significant breakthrough in export sales."

"While this is only a small portion of our state's total production," Graham told a news conference, "it is significant in that it indicates the acceptability of our soybeans by the Japanese people."

Rep. Walter Jones, D - N.C., and two top officials of the N. C. Soybean Producers Association also attended the news conference. Jones said he was "excited" over the announcement, adding: "It could have far reaching possibilities in export sales. We're well on the road now."

Graham said the sale of Dare variety soybeans to Ataka and Co. Tokyo amounts to 183,000 bushels or 6,000 acres.

"The shipment," he said, "will bring more than $500,000, which includes a premium of $64,000 for the Dare variety over the price of other varieties."

Graham said Japan uses more than 2 million tons of soybeans annually "and there is no reason why North Carolina cannot help supply a larger portion of this market."
