New C&D Board Member Sworn In

TAKING OATH . . . Superior Court Judge Elbert S. Peel Jr. administers oath of office to James T. Cheatham, new member of the state Board of Conservation and Development. Cheatham, a Greenville native, took the oath yesterday in Pitt County Superior Court. He was appointed by Gov. Dan Moore to fill the unexpired term of the late Dr. Henry Jordan. The term will expire June 30, 1969.

Steinbeck Seeks Pitt House Seat

H. Franklin Steinbeck, a Greenville businessman and chairman of the Pitt County Republican Executive Committee, announced today he will seek election to the North Carolina House of Representatives from Pitt County.

The Alberta, Canada, native, who has made his home in Greenville since 1950, said he will file for seat one, now held by W. A. "Red" Forbes of Winterville.

Forbes and Harvey Ward of Greenville have both filed as Democratic contenders for that seat and will oppose each other in the May 4 primary.

Steinbeck was defeated in his bid for a State House seat in the 1966 election.

Steinbeck was reared in Weston, West Virginia and came to North Carolina in 1941 as manager of the J.C. Penney Store in Rockingham.

According to the Republican, "most people are dissatisfied with the present leadership . . . and promises . . ." It is time, he added, "for Eastern North Carolina to be recognized and not taken for granted."

Steinbeck said he would strive to improve public education and to expand the system of higher education in the state, including "more financial assistance for East Carolina University."

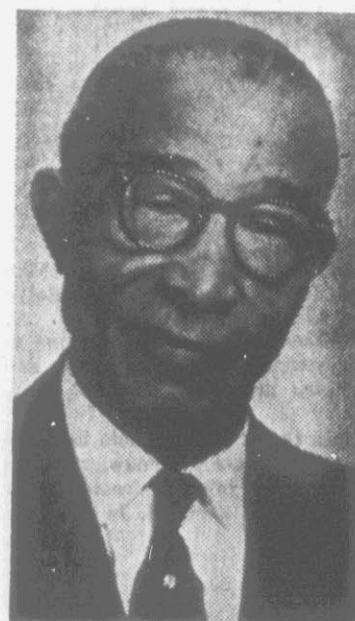

The announced candidate said he would "use . . . best efforts to support law enforcement" in an effort to reduce "the slaughter on our highways," and noted that "our farmers must be given as much help and assistance . . ." as possible.

Steinbeck, a member of St. James Methodist Church and former chairman of the church's official board, opened Steinbeck's Men's Shop here in 1957 after resigning his post as manager of the J.C. Penney store here. He is presently chairman of the board of trustees of St. James.

Two Have Filed For Commissioner Seats

REV. O. J. ROOKS

Two men new to politics have filed with the Pitt County Board of Elections to have their names placed on the May 4 primary ballot for seats on the Pitt County Board of Commissioners.

The Rev. O. James Rooks of Greenville filed last week for the District 1 (Greenville Township) seat and will face incumbent Charles Gaskins who has also filed for the post.

D. E. Baker of Bell Arthur filed Monday for the District 3 seat on the board, and will face incumbent Bruce Strickland who is seeking re-election to the post he has held for 8 years. District 3 includes Farmville, Falkland, Fountain and Arthur townships.

Gaskins was named as a commissioner last summer when the North Carolina Legislature added a sixth seat to the five-member board of commissioners. The seat was added to give Greenville Township (Continued On Page 10)

Waldrop Is Re-Elected By Trustees

J. Ed Waldrop was re-elected chairman of the board of trustees of Pitt Memorial Hospital at the group's annual meeting Tuesday.

Also re-elected to serve as officers for the coming year were Walter L. Stroud of Ayden, vice-chairman; Delton Perry of Bethel, secretary; David A. Evans of Greenville, treasurer; and Kenneth K. Dews of Winterville, assistant treasurer.

In addition to Waldrop, Stroud and Perry, the board's executive committee will include W. W. Wooten, Wilton R. Duke and Jesse R. Moye.

Other committees for the coming year were elected as follows: Finance, Evans, Waldrop, Keith Brunson, U. B. Congleton Jr., and Moye; Auditing, Brunson, Roscoe Bell and Eugene James.

A summary of hospital services for the year 1967 which was presented to the board showed that the hospital had an average of 157.4 patients per day for the year and totaled 62,093 patient days for 1967. This compares with a total of 55,260 patient days for 1966 and an average of 139.7 patient per day average.

A total of 4,868 operations were performed during the year as compared with 4,230 during 1966.

Total live births in 1967 amounted to 1,044 while during 1966 1,027 live births were recorded.

More than 100,300 laboratory tests were performed during the past year as compared with 80,100 for 1966, while 11,052 x-rays were made in 1967 as compared with 9,365 in 1966.

The average patient stayed in the hospital 6.6 days last year, the report indicated.

Abandon Search For Lost Plane

ROCKY MOUNT, N.C. (AP) — The North Carolina wing of the Civil Air Patrol announced today that search for a plane in which a Washington, D.C., couple disappeared March 10 while on a flight from Shelby to Washington has been suspended. It was last heard from when it refueled at Rocky Mount.

Capt. John Brigham of Henderson, information officer for the wing, said the North Carolina unit searched an area from Rocky Mount northward to Elizabeth City and Oxford as well as Virginia without finding a trace of the plane in which Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Henry were flying.

Cancer Kick-Off

The 1968 Pitt County Cancer Crusade will be launched tonight at a dinner meeting of local unit officers and volunteers.

Lex Ray, 1968 Crusade Chairman of the North Carolina Division of the American Cancer Society, will address the meeting, scheduled for 6:30 p.m. at the Greenville Moose Temple.

'Police Action' To Wipe Out Terrorist Bases

Israeli Withdrawal After Big Punitive Raid Against Jordan

By ED BLANCHE
Associated Press Writer

TEL AVIV (AP) — An Israeli invasion force drove deep into Jordan along a 200-mile front today to avenge a series of guerrilla raids, then began a planned withdrawal once the "police action" to wipe out terrorist bases was accomplished, an army spokesman said.

The daylong fighting that began at dawn with helicopter drops of assault teams and followed with dozens of jet bomber strafing runs cost Israel 15 dead and 70 wounded, according to the spokesman.

The Israelis reported killing at least 150 El Fatah terrorists and said they had inflicted heavy casualties on the Jordanian army. They claimed destroying 15 tanks and capturing two.

Prime Minister Levi Eshkol, who watched much of the fighting from a command post overlooking the Jordan Valley, had said earlier that the troops would be pulled out "on schedule."

The withdrawal came after Britain and the United States called on Israel to pull back its forces, but informants here said it had nothing to do with these appeals and called the withdrawal a "planned phase of the operation."

At the height of the fighting, Israeli and Egyptian positions exchanged fire at Great Bitter Lake on the Suez Canal, but the clash was small and no casualties were reported in Tel Aviv.

Jordan's chief of military intelligence estimated up to 15,000 Israeli troops crossed the Jordan, including three armored brigades and their tanks. It was the first major Israeli move into Arab territory since the Middle East war in June.

A Tel Aviv spokesman said one Israeli jet had been downed by ground fire, but that the pilot had bailed out and was safe behind his own lines.

He denied a Jordanian claim that its forces had killed 200 of the invaders, destroyed 42 tanks and armored cars and shot down three of Israel's French-made Mystere jets.

"Our casualties are surprisingly low for this kind of engagement," he said.

AP correspondent Eric Gottgetreu, reporting from a hill near Jericho said Israeli planes screamed overhead unopposed to pound Arab positions on the east bank.

King Hussein called for an immediate Arab summit meeting but issued a statement that expressed dissatisfaction with other Arab governments.

Israel, he said, "is aware that we are satisfied to talk of Arab unity without seriously working to build it up in union and strength." A spokesman said Hussein had been in telephone contact with Egypt, Syria and Iraq.

U.S. Launches 5 Offensives In Vietnam

Moving To Regain Initiative

SAIGON (AP) — About 10,000 American troops have launched five new drives against the enemy up and down the country to regain the initiative after the lunar new year offensive, the U.S. Command disclosed today.

The command reported enemy losses at 799 dead against 94 U.S. soldiers killed and 397 wounded. Some operations were launched more than two months ago and the latest five days ago, but for security reasons an announcement was withheld.

These are in addition to the big U.S. and South Vietnamese Operation Quyet Thang—Resolve to Win—that has spread over five provinces close to Saigon. More than 1,000 of the enemy have been killed in this operation.

The purpose of all these operations is the same: to remove the enemy threat to critical areas and to regain the initiative lost to the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese when they launched their biggest offensive of the war against 35 South Vietnamese cities Jan. 30.

The five new offensive thrusts are:

—Along the coastal Beng Son Plain, 300 miles northeast of Saigon, long threatened by the 22nd North Vietnamese Regiment. This operation was launched Feb. 29 by the U.S. 4th Infantry Division.

—North of the coastal provincial capital of Phan Thiet, 100 miles east of Saigon. The Viet Cong overran Phan Thiet in the new year offensive. The 101st Airborne Division began this drive Jan. 20.

—Around An Khe, a big U.S. military base in the central highlands about 260 miles north of Saigon. The 173rd Airborne Brigade kicked off this operation Jan. 17.

—On the edge of the War Zone C near headquarters of the U.S. 1st Infantry and 101st Airborne divisions 29 miles northeast of Saigon. This operation was opened by the 101st five days ago.

—Near the Bien Hoa-Long Binh military complex housing headquarters of the U.S. Army in Vietnam 15 miles northeast of Saigon. This operation kicked off two weeks ago, with the 199th Light Infantry Brigade and the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment taking part.

In a one-sided battle 15 miles northwest of Saigon, South Vietnamese and U.S. troops reported they killed 142 guerrillas Wednesday at a cost of one American and seven South Vietnamese killed.

Four miles southwest of the capital, South Vietnamese rang ers said they killed 25 Viet Cong. Four rangers were wounded. Both these skirmishes were part of Operation Quyet Thang involving 50,000 allied troops.

Ninety-six other enemy troops were reported killed in five battles ranging north to the demilitarized zone Wednesday. One GI died in these clashes and 15 were wounded, while South Vietnamese losses were seven dead and 20 wounded.

Little damage was done to Tan Son Nhut, one of the world's busiest airports, in the 15-round barrage from enemy recoilless rifles. The 75mm weapons were fired from within 1,000 yards of the field, and AC47 Dragon Ships were dispatched to hunt them. Spokesmen said results of the Dragon Ship counterattack were not known.

It was the first shelling of Tan Son Nhut in three weeks.

Looking For $3.3 Billion War Request

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional sources say the administration is expected soon to ask $3.3 billion more for the Vietnam war, a request likely to spark another round of war policy debate on Capitol Hill.

The sources said Wednesday that about half the still tentative request would be earmarked for sending about 35,000 more U.S. troops to the war zone—a reported manpower move already under sharp congressional attack.

Defense Department officials told Congress in January they did not estimate any need for a supplement to defense funds voted last year, barring unforeseen emergencies. But their statements came just days before the Viet Cong launched its massive Tet offensive.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Foreign Relations Committee, said meanwhile that reported advance notice from the White House to key Congress members on troop increases "is exactly the sort of thing I've been complaining about."

Reports on Capitol Hill say some Congress members already have been told President Johnson has decided to send 35,000 more men to Vietnam.

Fulbright has been demanding that Congress be consulted before such decisions are made.

In Rebel Hands

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hundreds of students rebelling against the administration of Howard University continued their occupation of the school's administration building today. All university functions were canceled.

Some 1,200 students occupied all four floors of the predominantly Negro university's administration building late Wednesday and by midmorning about 800 were continuing the siege.

Planters Bank Is Awarded City Library Bonds

The city of Greenville's public library improvement bonds for $200,000 will carry a low rate of 4.10 percent. Dated April 1, 1968, the bonds mature annually, April 1, $20,000, 1969 to 1978 inclusive.

The Planters National Bank and Trust Company has been awarded the bonds in accordance with the terms of the bids submitted. Competitive bids from other banks were $4,350; 4.3636; 4.4100 and 4.4218.

W. E. Easterling, secretary of the Local Government Commission, Raleigh, North Carolina, made the announcement.

Escapee Killed By Prison Guard

ASHEBORO, N.C. (AP) — A Randolph County prisoner was shot to death Wednesday while trying to escape.

Coroner C. Julian Brady said George Lee Wilkerson, 23, of Roxboro, was shot in the back and legs by prison guard Otis M. Smith.

An inquest was scheduled today.

Wilkerson was serving a 10-15-year term for assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill.

Pitt Counts 6th Highway Fatality

A 20-year-old Washington man became Pitt County's sixth highway fatality of the year early today when his overturning car rolled over him after he was thrown from the vehicle.

The victim was identified by Patrolman S. F. Padgett as Robert Thomas Langley of 221 East Seventh St., Washington.

Pit. Padgett said the Langley car was traveling northward along rural paved road 1800 about 4 1/2 miles from Calico when the 12:55 a.m. crash occurred.

The trooper said the car entered a sharp curve, skidded over a five-foot high ditch embankment and overturned in the yard of a store.

The wreck occurred at the intersection of road 1800 and rural unpaved road 1786, about one and one-half miles north of the N.C. 102 intersection.

Langley apparently was thrown clear of the overturning car, which then apparently rolled over him.

The suggested speed on the curve on which the fatal crash occurred, Trooper Padgett said, was posted at 25 miles per hour.

Pitt County Coroner E. W. Harvey listed cause of death as internal injuries. He said Langley suffered a crushed chest and broken pelvis as well as other injuries.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Pitt Memorial Hospital.

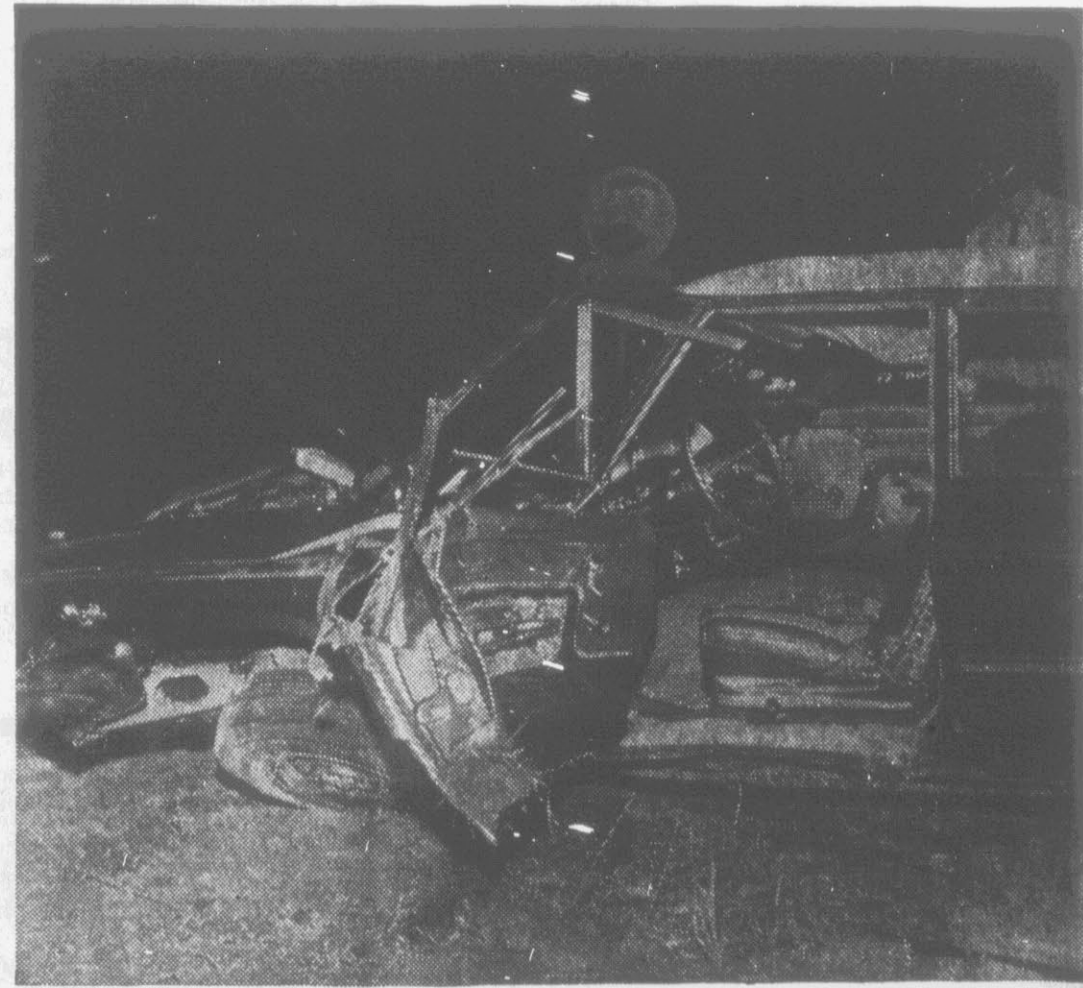

Investigators said the 1963 model car was equipped with seat belts but they were not being used.

Pit. Padgett said the seat belts which may have prevented the death, were together. He said the buckle on one of the belts was missing.

Damage to the car, said to be a total loss, was set at 1,000.

Langley had been a student at Appalachian State University.

He also attended East Carolina University during the second session of summer school here in 1967.

SEAT BELTS . . . investigators said might have prevented the driver of this car from being killed in the 12:55 a.m. mishap today.

Crafts Booming In Hobby Field

By D. M. KREISHER
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Macaroni jewelry, decorated trash and flowers made of bread spark one of the fastest growing trends in the hobby field—handicrafts.

The growth of handicrafts shows the increasing part played by women in what previously was considered a man's field, explained Lee L. Blyler, president of Hobby Industry Association of America, Inc.

"The hobby industry is appealing to women where before it was aimed mainly toward men," Blyler said at the conclusion of the association's 31st annual trade fair.

"When people think of hobbies they usually think of model airplanes and train sets. Now, more emphasis is on handicrafts."

Handicrafts illustrate what Blyler considers the real difference between toys and hobbies.

"Hobbies appeal to the person's creative instinct while toys appeal to the play instinct," he said.

Handicrafts are appealing to women because of the increased leisure time made possible by labor-saving devices in the home, he theorized.

"We are getting some talented women in the industry who are coming up with many interesting things for women."

One of the pioneers in this field produces a line of handicraft materials under the name of Aleene. She also is author of how-to-do-it books such as "Trim Your Trash" and "Decorate Your Discard."

"I started with real flowers, then made artificial ones. Now I specialize in junk, trash and discard," Aleene said.

Aleene's handicraft items include macaroni jewelry, dolls made of "metalized" rags and breaded flowers.

The flowers are made by mixing bread with a special glue she developed. The mixture hardens like plastic.

"Anyone can do it," she says. "At one demonstration show the best flowers were made by a Navy commander."

Aleene feels the creative urge, rather than increased leisure time, is responsible for the boom in female handicrafts.

"I find that the women who are active in crafts also are the busiest in clubs and social work," she said.

Ladies Day Activities To Begin Friday

Ladies day activities begin Friday at 9:30 a. m. at the Greenville Golf and Country Club. Mrs. Mavis Lupton has been named overall golf chairman for women at the club.

Serving with Mrs. Lupton for 1968 are: Mrs. Irene Bircher, East Carolina Tournament chairman; Mrs. Alice Hudson and Mrs. Ann Whitehurst, co-chairmen for Invitational Tournament; Mrs. Evelyn Warner, Scotch Foursome chairman;

Mrs. Virginia Lansche, handicap chairman; Mrs. Betty Lou Howard, ladies day chairman; Mrs. Bernie Rawl, club tournament chairman; and Mrs. Della Dayson, golfers treasurer.

"Various types of tournaments will be scheduled in order to give each golfer the chance to win. After a morning of golf, lunch will be served in the club and prizes will be awarded to the various tournament winners. I urge all lady golfers regardless of their playing ability to participate in these tournaments," said Mrs. Lupton.

"Activities will continue through April and May and will resume in September. Women of the club will meet for golf each Friday at 9:30 a. m. and in case of rain, bridge will be played," she added.

A Joint Checking Account Requires Only One Signature

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please don't advise me to ask the man down at the bank because he'll probably think this is a very dumb question for a grown woman to ask:

After being a widow for one year I married again. My first husband handled all the finances and I never wrote a check out in my life. (I didn't even know how.) My lawyer wanted to make sure nobody took advantage of me (not even my new husband), so he suggested we get a JOINT CHECKING account, which we did.

My question is, does a check have to have BOTH signatures on it to be good? All the money is mine, so why should I have to chase all over town to find my husband and get HIS signature on a check if I want to draw some money out of our account? On the other hand, if only one signature is necessary, that means my husband could go ahead and draw out any amount he wants without MY signature. So where does the protection for me come in? Thank you.

BEWILDERED

DEAR BEWILDERED: No question is "dumb." Certainly not this one. In the case of a JOINT CHECKING ACCOUNT, only one signature is necessary. However, in special cases, if arrangements are made at the bank specifying that BOTH signatures are necessary, your husband's signature will not be valid without yours. Since all the money is yours and you want "protection" why not ask your banker to honor YOUR signature on a check, but not your husband's unless your accompanies his?

DEAR ABBY: To get right to the point, I am in love with my best friend's husband. I'll call him "R." He loves me, too, but he also thinks the world of his wife and children.

I have a wonderful husband, and I could never hurt him. We also have children. I know that all "R" and I can ever hope for are a few stolen hours of happiness together, but that's better than nothing.

We know our love is wrong and we have tried staying away from each other, but we can't for long. "R" and my husband are very good friends, and "R's" wife is my best friend, so we four are always together. Our love is growing stronger all the time and it is making a nervous wreck out of me. But how can we stop?

WAUKEGAN

DEAR WAUKEGAN: You will have to break up the foursome before you can break up the twosome. Your family or R's will have to move out of town. And the sooner the better. And the farther the healthier.

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that when folks ask a clergyman to officiate at a wedding, or a funeral, or any other occasion where the services of a clergyman are required, they tell him to please make it "short and sweet?"

Most folks are in such a big hurry nowadays they don't even want to take time to make a ceremony official.

IRKED IN ITHACA

DEAR IRKED: If you have ever been victimized by a clergyman who took advantage of a captive audience while performing a "service," you wouldn't have asked that question. If you haven't, you're lucky.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Kennedy Must Be Running For '72

Robert Kennedy's entry into the race for the Democratic presidential nomination has changed the complexion of the contest, but it is highly doubtful that it will alter the outcome.

Unless President Johnson should decide he does not want the nomination for another term, there is almost no chance he will not be renominated by the Democratic party. A Presidential incumbent traditionally has no refusal of renomination by his party. He usually controls the machinery necessary to gain that nomination if that should be necessary. Even more influential, however, is the fact that failure of a party to renominate an incumbent President would be an admission by the party that it had made a serious mistake in selecting the nation's leadership.

It will be a long time before the leadership of either political party ever makes such an admission. Why, then, should Sen. Robert Kennedy enter the presidential contest at this date?

In the case of Sen. McCarthy, he is less well known than Sen. Kennedy and is viewed by most observers as token opposition, not unlike that of Sen. Humphrey's challenge to President Johnson on the primary trail four years ago. It is just possible that Sen. McCarthy may have a shot at the vice presidential spot although it is not likely. Such a possibility would seem entirely out of the question for Sen. Kennedy.

Obviously Sen. Kennedy has unsuccessfully tried to bring about a change in the administration's policies in Vietnam. Unsuccessful in both open and subtle attempts, he has now mounted a frontal assault on the Johnson administration that leaves little room for compromise. This could be the primary reason for the candidacy of Sen. Kennedy, or it could merely be the focal point which provides a springboard for entering the campaign.

If there is a person who knows the percentages of high-level politics, it is Sen. Robert Kennedy. The remote possibility of his winning the Democratic nomination in 1968 would not warrant his entry into the campaign. The improbability of his actions or words forcing a change in Johnson policies in Vietnam would hardly justify his entry into the campaign so far as political considerations are concerned.

The only other possibility, it seems to us, is that Sen. Robert Kennedy's entry into the 1968 presidential fray is geared not to the 1968 nomination, but rather to the nomination in 1972.

Sen. McCarthy will gain publicity and recognition in the primaries across the country this year. Should he make another try four years from now, he will have a base from which to mount a new campaign.

Vice President Humphrey, campaigning beside the President this year and possibly serving another four years in the nation's second highest office, would have to be considered a formidable contender for the 1972 Democratic nomination.

Were Sen. Kennedy to wait quietly in the wings of the party struggle this year, he might find himself still waiting in the wings come 1972. Sen. Kennedy's current campaign makes little political sense in terms of 1968, but it is valid if viewed in connection with the campaign for the nomination four years from now.

Too Few N.C. Camping Sites

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau
RALEIGH — Camping is an outdoor recreational activity to which Thomas C. (Red) Ellis, sitting at a desk in Raleigh, has devoted many waking hours during the past few years.

North Carolina simply has too few public camping facilities for the demand and must provide more, Ellis said recently. Except perhaps for boating, no recreational activity has shown such a tremendous increase among the people of North Carolina — and providing public camping facilities falls within the jurisdiction of Red Ellis, the director of State Parks.

WILLIAM A. SHIRES

Improvement is noted in a recent report by another agency of the State Department of Conservation and Development. The Travel and Promotion division says there already enough public and private campgrounds to offer a camper a different site each night for 15 weeks.

Ellis, however, falls back on the plain facts that ever increasing demand is greater than supply. Available Campgrounds. Travel and Promotion gives due notice to the fact that there are public and private campgrounds on the beaches. In the forests, along scenic streams and in the mountains of North Carolina—maintained by federal and state agencies.

They range from simple overnight shelters along the Appalachian Trail to Pisgah National Forest to elaborately equipped facilities elsewhere. In the summer season, some areas have experienced severe problems in sanitation and adequate services for maximum numbers of campers.

One example has been in the Oregon Inlet area of the Cape Hatteras National Seashore. Campers have crowded this facility to the saturation point for the past several years.

Some have electricity, sewage, laundry centers, hot water and showers, garbage disposals and restaurants—all the comforts of home for the outdoor camper.

Facilities Offered. Most of these are private camping areas which outnumber public ones in North Carolina by at least one third. And the private camping areas usually offer more and better facilities—at a price—than the public ones.

They accept reservations for tent and travel trailer sites and offer laundry facilities, electricity, sewage connections, picnic areas and always some recreational activity such as swimming, boating, fishing, hiking or riding.

Most of the public facilities—either those provided by the state or federal agencies—are on a first come, first serve basis. They, too, charge a fee—either requiring the federal "Golden Eagle" passport or a daily fee. The State Parks division charges $1.50 per day for a family of four plus 25 cents for each additional person. These state facilities offer a parking spot and tent site, a table, a fireplace, central wash house with toilets nearby, showers and drinking water.

This, Ellis feels, is a minimum for a suitable family camping area. He hopes more facilities can be provided and the accommodations improved.

Many Overcrowd. In the past few years while the camping boom has been expanding, most outdoor camping facilities have been crowded—sometimes beyond limits.

In the summer season, some areas have experienced severe problems in sanitation and adequate services for maximum numbers of campers.

One example has been in the Oregon Inlet area of the Cape Hatteras National Seashore. Campers have crowded this facility to the saturation point for the past several years.

Some Comfort To Republicans Kick Rhodesia Around

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's belated willingness to trim the budget submitted last January is softening some of the opposition to a tax increase.

But it also is giving Republicans some support for their oft-repeated claim that the President is not leveling with Congress on fiscal matters.

GOP spokesmen point to the January budget message which President Johnson said outlined a tight and stringent economic program.

Subsequently, administration spokesmen defended the budget.

In testimony before the House Ways and Means Committee, Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler said "the President's fiscal program represents a tough policy."

Later, Fowler and Budget Director Charles J. Zwick told the House Appropriations Committee in effect the budget reflected rock bottom figures.

"We were told in almost so many words," a Republican committee member said, "that there was no other place to cut safely; that the figures presented included no so-called fat."

But developments over the past weekend indicate that even the President may have found some substantial "fat."

Over the weekend there were authoritative reports Johnson was planning to cut requests for new appropriations for the fiscal year starting July 1 by as much as $9 billion. These reductions would be from the original requests made in January.

In a Minneapolis speech Monday the President confirmed he was working with Congress to seek agreement on major cuts. And he called on Americans to join in "a program of national austerity."

That could foreshadow even more cuts than had been planned originally in domestic spending.

The entire budget submitted in January is undergoing a review by executive agencies.

One Republican usually in the know on such matters said a revised budget already is on the President's desk and may be submitted to Congress soon.

"But it will have to call for cuts of far more than $9 billion if we are to avoid economic chaos," he said.

"It may cost many of our seats in Congress," he added, "but we are going to have to increase taxes whether we want to or not."

A chronic foe of tax hikes, especially with an election in the offing, this Republican said politics must be laid aside or the nation will face a worse depression than it had in the 1930s "and it will affect Republicans as well as Democrats."

The two powerful House committee chairmen who have been conferring on economic moves, Wilbur D. Mills of Ways and Means and George H. Mahon of Appropriations, indicated to newsmen they think the $9-billion White House figure is too low. But neither would publicly cite a counter-figure.

At the United Nations, the Afro-Asian block demands new measures against Rhodesia, more punitive than the present sanctions. A lead article in the prestigious American Journal of International Law defends the sanctions; the theory of the authors, one of them a Yale professor, is that Rhodesia has offended the "shared sensitivities" of her neighbors, and thus created an actionable threat to the peace. The fury is especially intense in England, where members of Commons denounce Ian Smith as "a murderer."

It is true enough that the Rhodesian government, struggling for survival in a hostile world, has taken some actions in recent months that American friends must regret. Laws relating to housing and to segregation of public parks are steps backward, not forward. The Smith government has not impeded the reregistration of black voters, but it has done little to encourage the African franchise. The number of registered blacks is half what it was three years ago.

But the current uproar, touched off by the five hangings, ought to be denounced as blatant hypocrisy on the part of most of those who are whooping it up. Macaulay once remarked that he knew of no spectacle so ridiculous as the British public in one of its periodical fits of morality. This current fit qualifies. And no spectacle in Africa is more contemptible than the criticism hurled at Rhodesia by despotic black regimes which are themselves guilty of bloody crimes and the repression of political freedoms.

It is said that the five condemned men were "freedom fighters." Let us see how they fought for freedom.

James Ndhlovu and Victor Mlambo were members of a terrorist group known as the Crocodile Gang. They threw a block of trees across a country road. When a white farmer named Oberholzer came along, with his wife and small daughter in the car, they fell upon him with knives and stones. As he was dying at the steering wheel, they attempted to set the car on fire in an effort to kill the woman and child. This was a fight for freedom?

Duly Shadreck waylaid an elderly black man at midnight, killed him with an axe, and robbed him of seven shillings. Noble, was it not?

Ruled By Our 'Slave'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the ordeals of modern living is the telephone.

Like many scientific marvels, it started as a mechanical servant of man and now has managed to master and enslave him. It is getting more and more difficult to feel grateful to Alexander Graham Bell.

When your house is burning down, it is a great advantage to have a telephone in it so that you can summon help from the fire department.

Most of the time, however, your home isn't burning down, and then the telephone becomes more of a nuisance than a blessing.

There was a time in the American past when business was conducted in the office, social visits were arranged by mail, and the home was a sanctuary of real privacy.

All that has been destroyed by a simple and repetitive sound—"ring-a-ling-a-ling." That sound has made man a prisoner in his own castle.

It has turned his home into a market, an office, a political forum, a torture chamber where

March 31 Deadline For School Choices

The deadline for Greenville students to make their choice of schools to attend for the 1968-1969 school year is March 31, March 1, and students must according to Greenville School Superintendent Dr. C. C. Cleetwood.

The purpose of the freedom of choice desegregation plan, the superintendent said, is to eliminate the dual structure of separate schools for children of different races. He continued, "the plan requires every student or his parents to choose the school the student will attend."

The free choice period began March 1, and students must make their choice by March 31, Dr. Cleetwood emphasized. "A student cannot be enrolled at any school next year unless a choice of schools is made," he noted.

Under the plan, the school administrator explained, "It does not matter which school the student is attending this year, and it does not matter whether the school was formerly a white or a Negro school. The parent or child may select any school they wish."

Choice slips should be either mailed or carried by hand to the superintendent's office before the deadline.

McCloskey said the U.S. position rests squarely on the 1954 mutual defense treaty with Nationalist China and the 1955 joint resolution of Congress which affirmed U.S. support for the defense of Taiwan and the Pescadore Islands.

Navajo Rangers Protecting Area

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP) — Seventeen Navajo Rangers are scattered throughout the vast Navajo reservation, entrusted with protection of the archaeological, historic and scenic features within their areas.

The Rangers, who operate much like the National Park Service Rangers, were organized on Feb. 16, 1967.

They are in contact with tourists and visitors to the reservation, and provide information on points of interest, driving directions, accommodations, facilities, roads and trails.

They also must be familiar with general geology, and know the most common trees, flowers, animals, birds and fish in their area. Wildlife management, forestry, tribal relations and recreational activities are part of their duties.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., says arrest and conviction records show "far too much leniency in Detroit" after the July riot.

The comment came after staff witnesses told a Senate investigations subcommittee Wednesday only 22 of the 666 people charged with riot-connected felonies were sentenced to prison terms.

"There wasn't any harsh or cruel punishment administered, to say the least of it," Curtis said.

Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D., added that only four of the 22 "really got anything tougher than a rap on the knuckles." He said most got light sentences.

Subcommittee staff members said 4,260 people were charged with riot-connected felonies and misdemeanors. They said 642 were convicted of misdemeanors.

The staff said 1,690 cases still are pending.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has refused to comment on a published report the United States may advise President Chiang Kai-shek to withdraw Chinese nationalist defenses from the islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Columnist Jack Anderson said Robert Barnett, deputy assistant secretary of state, contended at a secret strategy session in Honolulu Jan. 11 that cost of defending the islands was too great a drain.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said Wednesday no formal request has been made for such action and brushed aside questions on whether such a move had been considered.

McCloskey said the U.S. position rests squarely on the 1954 mutual defense treaty with Nationalist China and the 1955 joint resolution of Congress which affirmed U.S. support for the defense of Taiwan and the Pescadore Islands.

Those two documents do not directly mention Quemoy and Matsu but their defense has at times been considered essential to the defense of the Mainland.

Everybody hates to bother you at home, but everybody does. Brrr-ing! Brrr-ing! Brrr-ing! By day and by night the metallic clangor sounds.

Many people today yearn to "get away from it all." If they ever do get away from it all, the last thing they'll get away from is the telephone.

Even then, stridently calling to bring them back, will be the familiar echo of "Brrr-ing brrr-ing, brrr-ing!"

McCloskey said there is no official document at variance with the 1954 and 1955 papers and no consideration at a high level of any change in U.S. policy.

Zoologist Gives Lecture Tonight

Dr. Gerald W. Esch of the Department of Biology of Wake Forest University is scheduled to speak at East Carolina University tonight.

His address, "The Biology of Larval Tapeworm Disease," is the third of this year's Sigma Xi Lectures on the local campus. It is scheduled at 8 p.m. in Flanagan Building, Room 319.

All interested persons are invited to attend. Sigma Xi spokesmen especially urge biology students to hear Dr. Esch.

The visiting lecturer has taught at the University of Oklahoma and has been on the Wake Forest faculty since 1965. He has a BS degree from Colorado College, and an MS and a PhD from Oklahoma.

The local lecture series sponsored by Sigma Xi is designed to help carry out the main purpose of the national Society of the Sigma Xi, to encourage research in the various sciences.

Francis Chimsoro Risa and Takauare Jeremiah stole into a tribal hut where a sub-chief named Nedewedzo was sleeping with his wife. They tore off most of his head with a shotgun blast. It seems an odd exercise in self-determination.

For these brutal murders, the five defendants were brought to trial in the High Court of Rhodesia. They had the assistance of counsel.

In each case, a judge and two "assessors," under the Rhodesian system, found them guilty without extenuating circumstance. The death sentences followed. These were sustained on appellate review.

Why the outcry? The Japanese lead all other nations in shipbuilding, turning out about half of all the new vessels launched in a year.

Banquet Held For Bethel Cubs

BETHEL—The Blue and Gold Banquet honoring the Bethel Cub Scouts was held Friday night in the fellowship hall of the Bethel Methodist Church.

The Scout colors of blue and gold and a freedom theme were used in decorations.

Delton Perry, Scout master, welcomed the Scouts, their parents, and guests. Guests were Jack Hodge, who is Pitt-Edgecombe Scout executive, Mrs. James Dupree with Mr. Dupree, who is president of the Bethel Rotary Club, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Keel and daughter, Lu Anne.

Mrs. Keel directed games for the Scouts and their parents. Mrs. Perry directed singing.

Mrs. Sam Carson, den mother, presented Wayne Jones and Winfred Freeman with their wolf pins. Sam Carson and Hilton Tetterton, fathers of Scouts, were honored for the help they have given the boys. Mrs. John Pritchard, Mrs. Sam Carson and Mrs. Bill Johnson were presented den mother pins.

'Abducted' Bull Of Papier Mache

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Four young men snatched a papier mache bull from a restaurant and drove off with the 4-by-8-foot display sticking out of the top of their open car. The youths, believed to be collegians visiting Fort Lauderdale beaches, took the bull from its stand in front of a steak house.

Cary Grant's Wife Testifies He Took Weekly LSD 'Trips'

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The pretty blonde wife of actor Cary Grant says he took weekly "trips" on LSD for the past 10 years and tried to persuade her to try the drug.

Dyan Cannon, 30, seeking a divorce from the 64-year-old actor, testified Wednesday that he beat her and had frequent "yelling and screaming fits."

The actress returns to court today continuing her effort to prove that Grant is an unfit father for their 2-year-old daughter, Jennifer. She is challenging his right to visit his only child.

Miss Cannon, who said she married Grant after knowing him more than five years, said he told her he had used the hallucinatory drug LSD for 10 years. During the six years she knew him, she said, "on those occasions when he took LSD, I was with him."

During his "trips" she said a doctor was present only once. Twice before their marriage, Miss Cannon said she took the drug too but never after they married.

"He once told me I was on the verge of a nervous breakdown," she said, "and he hoped I would have it so the new me would be a wonderful me."

"He wanted the new me to be created through the use of LSD."

The marriage was the first for Miss Cannon, a native of Seattle, Wash. She had appeared in several films and television shows before she became Grant's fourth wife in a secret ceremony at Las Vegas, Nev. July 22, 1965. Their daughter was born Feb. 22, 1966, and the couple separated Dec. 28, 1966.

She filed suit for divorce last

August.

The debonair actor was married three times previously—to Virginia Cherrill, Barbara Hutton and Betsy Drake.

Grant was in St. John's Hospital, New York City, recovering from two fractured ribs and face cuts suffered March 12 in a car-truck crash. He was under doctor's orders not to have visitors or a radio in his room and was expected to remain in the hospital until this weekend.

In 1960 a psychotherapist, Dr. Mortimer Hartman, told newsmen that Grant had helped in tests involving lysergic acid diethylamide, or LSD.

Grant's attorneys introduced testimony from two psychiatrists who examined him last fall. One, Dr. Stanley L. Pomer, said he found no evidence of erratic behavior in the actor. The other, Dr. Judd Marmor, said he thought Grant was "an emotional individual, but I have often seen that in actors." He said he found no evidence of damage from LSD.

Miss Cannon is asking that Grant be prohibited from keeping their daughter Jennifer overnight unless a nurse is present because "he is an unstable person."

Miss Cannon, who has asked for $5,740 monthly support, said she wants to hire a chauffeur to live with her and the child because "Jennifer is a highly publicized baby and I worry for her safety. . . I'd like to have a male on the premises."

Among her expenses she listed two sessions per week with a psychiatrist at $60 per hour. One of Grant's attorneys asked whether Miss Cannon is bothered "by any particular problem."

"Yes," she replied, "a broken heart."

Shipping More Food To Aid Hue

SAIGON (AP) — The Catholic Relief Services has announced it is sending 1.5-million pounds of U.S. government-donated food to Hue to feed more than 80,000 needy South Vietnamese. The agency is the overseas aid organization of U.S. Roman Catholics.

Fuller Cheered For Attack On 'White Racism'

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—Negro activist Howard Fuller, addressing a "black identity" symposium at North Carolina College, said Wednesday, "You don't get freedom without taking chances."

The audience of Negro college students, estimated at more than 1,000, cheered as Fuller criticized white power, which he defined as white racism.

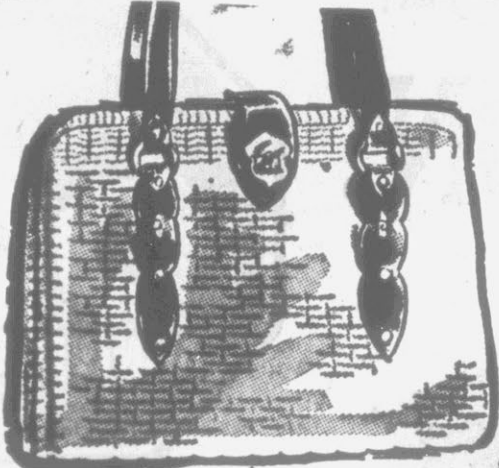

"You have to take chances," he said, "with your jobs, your homes and maybe your lives. I'm not talking about violence or nonviolence. I'm talking about whatever it takes."

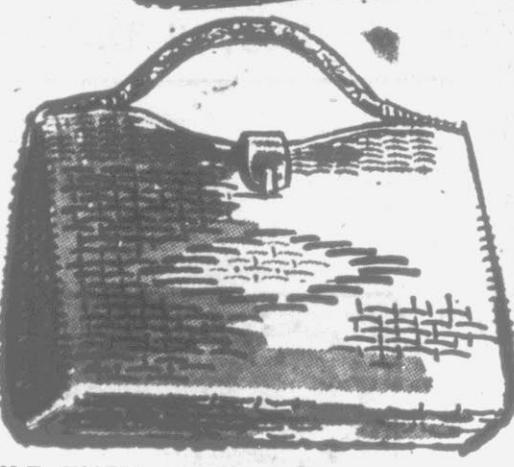

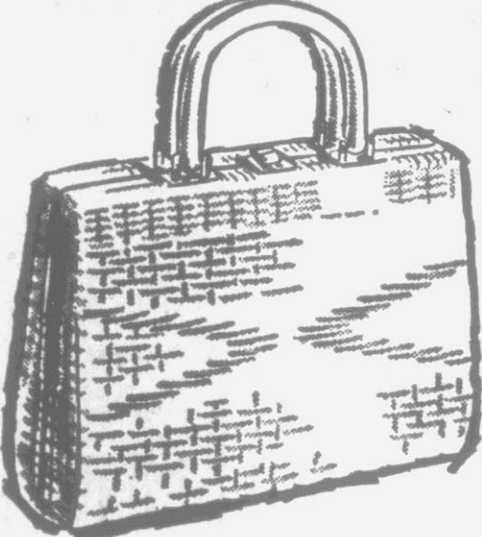

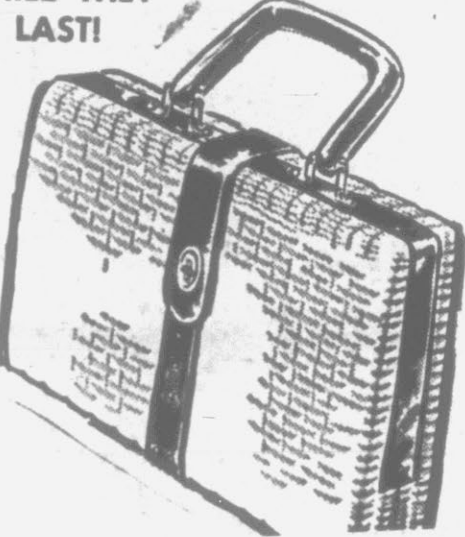

Citing white complaints that Negroes need more education, Fuller said whites refuse to allocate enough money for adequate education for Negroes.

"They tell us force will be used to control force," Fuller said. "That is an example of the white mentality which deals with poor housing by putting in jail those who protest against it."

BURNED BY FUMIGATORS

ALTADENA, Calif. (AP) — An attempt to fumigate a house with burning sulphur cubes ignited a fire and sent 10 firemen who inhaled toxic fumes to the hospital for treatment. One of the cubes ate through a plastic dish and into a bedroom floor, starting a fire, which was doused by firemen, after causing damage of $200.

Electronics Change Hunt For Gold, Silver

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Electronic devices that can "sniff out" invisible specks of precious metals in ordinary rocks are quietly revolutionizing the world's search for gold and silver.

In the past few years two major gold strikes and a silver deposit which reportedly could rival the Comstock lode have been found with space age techniques that enabled man to test the moon's soil without setting foot on it.

Government agencies and mining interests in the United States, the Soviet Union, Africa and Australia are systematically surveying broad areas for precious metals with these new tools.

The Russian effort reportedly is far greater than this country's, with a 10-year head start. Latest available reports indicate the Soviets are making more than seven million samplings a year compared with about 150,000 in the United States in 1967.

The electronic soil testers detect the presence of various kinds of metal by measuring the distinctive emissions each gives off when the rock is subjected to heat and other radiations.

Mobile laboratories—converted trailers—take the equipment to prospecting sites and make analyses on the spot.

A miniaturized soil-testing device using somewhat similar "radiation signature" techniques was carried to the moon by Surveyor spacecraft and determined the lunar surface was largely basaltic like that of the earth.

The gold "sniffers" are so precise they can find particles only a few microns in diameter, scattered as widely as four parts of gold per billion parts of rock. A micron is forty-millionths of an inch.

With today's giant trucks and power shovels, gold can be recovered profitably in open pit mines where the yield is as low as $2 a ton.

U.S. Geological Survey reports indicate two recent strikes in Nevada are averaging a third of an ounce of gold per ton. That seems a small amount, but at $35 an ounce the gold yield is well within the profit-making range.

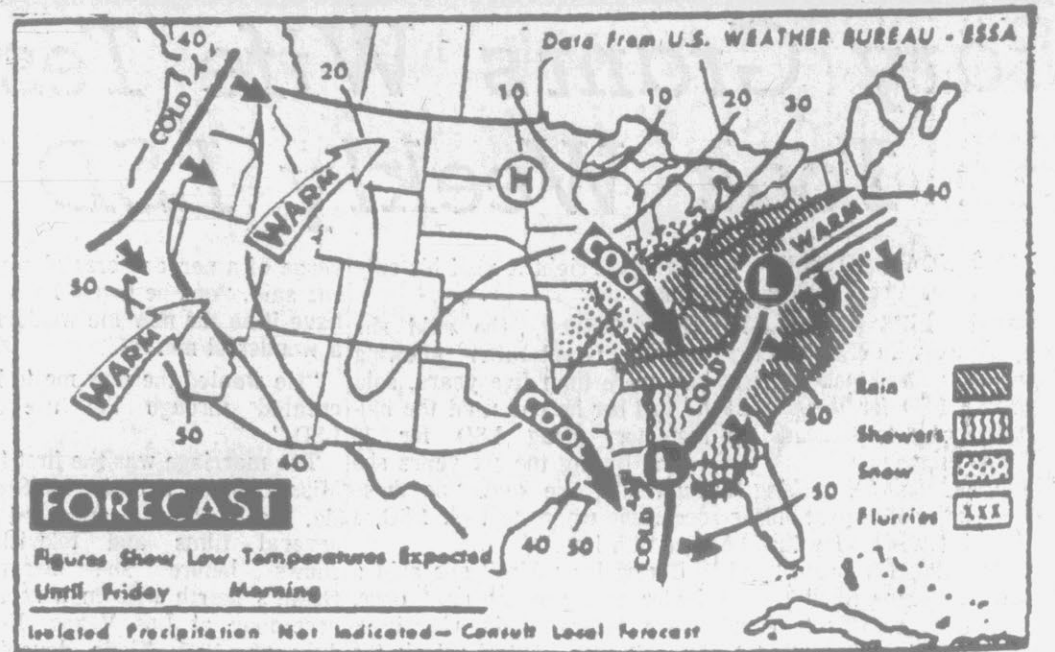

Operators estimate one of the deposits, near Carlin, Nev., may contain more than $100 million in gold. If true, this alone would be twice the current annual U.S. production. The United States consumes $350 million worth a year for jewelry and industrial uses, leaving a $300 million deficit to be imported.

The California Division of Mines reports two new silver strikes near Barstow, each estimated to contain 25 million to 50 million tons of ore bearing one to four ounces of silver per ton. If the higher estimates turn out to be right, this would amount to 400 million ounces, compared with 250 million ounces extracted from the old Comstock lode near Virginia City, Nev.

With silver bringing about $2 least pay expenses with modern techniques.

The new finds are not in the quartz veins of legend but are throughout large masses of rock, particularly siltstone and sandstone, which exist in vast quantities in Western desert and mountain regions.

WEATHER FORECAST — Thursday night rain is expected in the eastern third of the nation with showers in the Alabama-Georgia area and snow from the lower Great Lakes into Illinois and Missouri. It will be cooler in the rainy areas: (AP Wirephoto Map)

Guidance Counselors To Gather On Friday

About 100 guidance counselors from high schools throughout North Carolina are expected at East Carolina University Friday, for a conference on counseling practices and procedures.

Sponsored by the ECU Guidance and Counseling Center, the conference was designed to cover areas of interest specified by the high school counselors in response to an advance survey.

Dr. George Weigand, director of the ECU center, said the purpose of the conference is to serve the state's counselors by giving them an opportunity to discuss common areas of interest with various specialists.

The conference will be held on the second floor of the University Union, located in Wright Annex. Registration will be in Room 212 and the various sessions in Room 201.

ECU President Leo W. Jenkins will open the program with an official welcome at 9:45 a.m. Other ECU officials will discuss various aspects of counseling during the remainder of the program.

A summary follows.

10 a.m.—"Admissions Procedures," Dr. John H. Horse, dean of admissions.

11 a.m.—"Financial Policies," Robert M. Boudreaux, student financial aid officer.

12 noon luncheon—"The Future of East Carolina University," Dr. Robert W. Williams, dean of academic affairs.

2 p.m.—Panel discussions: "Introduction to Problems of Mutual Interest," Dr. Weigand; "The Role of the High Counselor as viewed by the University," Dr. Frank Fuller, chairman, Department of Counselor Education, School of Education; "The General College," Dr. Donald E. Bailey, director, General College Division.

3 p.m.—Informal discussions and questions. All speakers, panelists and other university officers will be available.

Those planning to attend include:

FARMVILLE—Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards, counselor, Farmville High School; Mrs. Lillie Graham, counselor, H. B. Sugg High School;

FREEMANVILLE—David Barnhill, counselor, Epps High School; Mrs. Rosalind Britt, counselor, J. H. Rose High School; Mrs. Doris Jean Haggard, counselor, J. H. Rose High School; Kathryn Lewis, director of guidance, Pitt County Schools; Mrs. Mary Little, counselor, Chicod High School; Mrs. Barbara J. Parker, counselor, Belvoir - Falkland High School.

Winterville—Mrs. Willie Cox Mallison, counselor, Winterville High School.

Britain Reduces Its Bank Rate

LONDON (AP)—The British government cut the Bank rate today from 8 per cent to 7½ per cent in the wake of Britain's toughest peacetime budget since the 1930s.

The move by Prime Minister Harold Wilson's labor government is designed to make money more available for export production and investment in new plants and machinery.

The Bank rate governs interest rates throughout the sterling bloc. It has been 8 per cent since last Nov. 19, when it was hoisted from 7½ per cent in an increase associated with devaluation of the pound.

Rule No Negligence In Accident At Speedway

RALEIGH (AP) — The North Carolina Supreme Court says the fact a stock car crashed through a speedway guard rail at 150 miles per hour is not enough evidence to prove the race track was negligent in building the rail.

The high court Wednesday upheld dismissal of a suit filed against the Charlotte Motor Speedway by the widow of stock car driver Jimmy Pardue, who was killed in a crash at the track in 1964.

Pardue was testing automobile tires for Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. when his car had a blowout and crashed through the guard rail.

Mrs. Pardue, of North Wilkesboro, sued the speedway for $125,000 plus court costs on the grounds the rail was inadequate.

Chief Justice R. Hunt Parker, writing the court's opinion, said the dismissal should be allowed because "no particular facts are alleged as to how the guard rail was inadequate or improperly constructed."

"Nor is there any allegation of fact to show how the guard rail could have been constructed to prevent an automobile which has sustained a blowout at this high rate of speed from plunging through it and off the track."

In another case, the court overturned the conviction of a Gaston County man on a charge of involuntary manslaughter in the pistol slaying of his wife Dec. 30, 1966.

The tribunal said the lower court should have nonsuited the case against Donald Lee Griffin, who was sentenced to four to five years in prison.

Griffin testified his wife was holding the weapon when it fired while they were playing with it. He said it was an accident.

The high court said, "The evidence of both the state and defendant tends to show an accidental killing, and there is no evidence that it was defendant who caused the gun to discharge."

Wrong Coin In Parking Meter, Gets It Back

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Ever put too much money in a parking meter or put in change and had nothing happen? Then you'll appreciate the plight of John Cayton, 13.

John took a penny from his mother to put in the meter in front of a coin shop where he was going to let an expert look at his prize 1873 Arrows-type dime.

You guessed it. Subsequently, for the first time in memory of Santa Monica meter collectors, a patron actually demanded his money back. The request filtered up Wednesday to city Treasurer Kay Watanabe and was granted.

The youth, elated at the recovery and also tardy for school, rushed off with the dime—which the coin expert said in quick glance could be worth $150 or more.

Some Juggling But Make Sense

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Although the letters in a key word on a bulletin board at a local high school were juggled around, they still made sense.

The announcement read: "Tonight — PTA Broad Meeting."

CONVENTION RECORD ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Atlantic City set records for convention business in 1967, the Convention Bureau has announced. The number of conventions increased from 526 in 1966 to 576 last year. Attendance increased to 469,568 from 396,360.

more equal representation on the county governing body. Gaskins is a former clerk to the Board of County Commissioners and a Greenville oil and gasoline distributor.

The Rev. Rooks, who will oppose him, was born in Bertie County and attended Bertie Academy. He is a Gospel Minister of the Missionary Baptist faith and attended Roanoke Theological Institute at Elizabeth City, a unit of Shaw University. He also received his certificate in religious premo from Shaw University.

The Negro minister is presently serving as president of The Old Eastern Baptist Sunday School convention; third vice - president of the State Baptist Sunday School convention and recording secretary of the Eastern Tar River Credit Union.

The Rev. Rooks is pastor of the Brookston Missionary Baptist Church of Henderson, assistant pastor of the Macedonia Baptist Church of Farmville and a member of Sycamore Hill Baptist Church in Greenville.

He has been a Greenville resident for the past 31 years and is married to the former Sadie Parker Barnes of Hertford County. He has three children.

Baker, who entered the commissioners race this week is a Pitt County native.

He attended the Fountain School and is married to the former Alma Walston of Wayne County. They have five children. Baker operates a store at Bell Arthur and is a farmer. He is a member and president of the official board of the Bell Arthur Methodist Church.

Strickland, also of Bell Arthur has been a member of the Board of County Commissioners since 1960. He is a warehouseman and has farming interests.

Bob Martin, commissioner representing District 2, including Bethel, Belvoir, Carolina and Pactolus townships has also filed for reelection to the seat he has held since 1956. At present Martin is unopposed.

According to I. Bruce Koonce, chairman of the county board of elections, prospective candidates for county offices, the North Carolina House of Representatives and the North Carolina Senate have until Noon Friday to file for the May 4 primary. No candidate will be allowed to file after the deadline.

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials say letters from captive Pueblo crewmen to their families at home appear a new North Korean bid to wrest an apology from President Johnson.

Some relatives of crewmen, in telling Wednesday of receiving such letters, expressed suspicions they were written under North Korean supervision.

Catherine O'Bannon, wife of Michael O'Bannon, 21, a fireman on the intelligence vessel when it was captured Jan. 23 off North Korea's coast, said the letter she received repeatedly urged her to tell U.S. authorities the Pueblo violated the Communist nation's territorial waters.

Mrs. Warren Hayes of Columbus, Ohio, said the letter apparently written by her son, Radio-man 2.C. Lee Hayes, described the Pueblo as an espionage ship spying in North Korean waters, asked the United States to admit this and apologize, and added:

"I ask you as my parents to do the same."

Officials in Washington noted such requests closely paralleled those in a letter—purportedly signed by all 82 surviving Pueblo crewmen—which North Korea made public earlier this month.

That letter, addressed to President Johnson, urged him to "frankly admit" the alleged violation and apologize.

The administration has declined to disclose what action might be taken in response to that appeal.

Top administration officials, including Secretary of State Dean Rusk and former Secretary of Defense Robert S. Mc-Namara, have maintained that to the best of their knowledge the Pueblo did not penetrate North Korean waters.

At the same time they have conceded that since the ship was operating under radio silence for about 8 to 10 days before its capture, there might have been a territorial violation of which they weren't aware.

Several relatives of crewmen reported turning the letters over to the government and officials were reported studying them.

They noted it was obvious the letters could not have been sent by the captive crewmen if the North Korean government hadn't wanted them sent.

Some of the letters bore Paris and Marseille postmarks, which U.S. officials said indicated they may have been sent to France through North Korean or other diplomatic channels.

Mrs. Hayes said she was sure her son wrote the letter she received—but was equally certain it was written under supervision.

She noted it contained few misspelled words. "He never wrote that neatly and he misspelled a lot of little words," Mrs. Hayes said.

She added she intends to write the government as the letter suggested, seeking a U.S. apology.

"We just can't forget our son's over there—it's been buried too long. We must do something now," she said.

Mr. and Mrs. William W. Woelk, of Alta Vista, Kan., said the letter and a picture from their son, Fireman Apprentice Steven Eugene Woelk, said he was being "treated all right" and "not to worry"—a recurrent theme in most of the other letters.

Ithaca Rally Stops Pirates In Opener, 8-4

SCRAMBLE BACK — An East Carolina baserunner gets back into first base as Ithaca's Dail Dirk hunts for the ball in yesterday's game between the Bucs and Ithaca. East Carolina held an early lead, but Ithaca came back to win in 11 innings, 8-4. (Reflector Photo)

By WOODY PEELE

Reflector Sports Editor
Ithaca College overcame an early East Carolina lead, then scored four unearned runs in the 11th inning to down the Bucs 8-4 yesterday. It was the season opener for the Pirates, who dropped their opener for the second straight year.

Ithaca pounded seven Pirate pitchers for 12 hits, while the Bucs were only able to squeeze out four from the three Indian hurlers. Ithaca also struck out 12 Pirates, while only eight of their number carried their bats back to the dugout.

East Carolina had originally planned to use three pitchers in the game, in three-inning stints. Dennis Burke started off, and although his control was not at its best, he shut out the opposition. He did give up four hits and one walk in the time on the mound.

Vince Colbert followed him and allowed one run in his three innings. But it was after that the Bucs got into trouble, losing a 3-1 lead, and having to scramble to stay in the game as long as they did.

Ithaca threatened in nearly every inning. In the first, two singles put a man on third before the inning was over, and in the second a hit and an error put a man on second. The third inning also saw a man on second as the result of a double.

Meanwhile, the Bucs were working up a lead of their own, despite not having any power at the plate. Dennis Vick led off the first inning with a walk, and was safe at second when an error saved him on an attempted steal. Jim Synder and Dave Winchester both walked, and Wayne Vick slammed a single to left driving in both Dennis Vick and Synder for a 2-0 lead.

In the third and fourth, the Bucs got runners in scoring position on walks and stolen bases, but couldn't bring them around. In the fifth, another man reached second on a walk and a sacrifice.

In the sixth, Ithaca struck for its first run. Paul Giroux singled, and then went to second on a balk. Dail Dirk followed up with a single driving in Giroux to make it 2-1.

East Carolina came back in their half of the sixth with another run. Wayne Vick walked and stole second. Roy Taylor walked and Carey Anderson slapped a bloop double into right as three fielders gathered around the ball, but none of them bothered to catch it. That brought Vick across to make it

But the lead didn't last much longer. In the top of the seventh, Bob Klausner led off with a single and George Diamond also got a base hit. Keith Kurowski then sent Ithaca into a 4-3 lead by slapping a home run over the right-center field fence, some 340 feet away.

The Bucs lost out on a chance in the seventh when an attempted double steal failed, but they managed to tie it up in the eighth. Wayne Vick led off with a walk and advanced on a fielder's choice. Len Dowd singled to load the bases, and Dennis Vick hit a sacrifice fly to tie it up.

The Bucs threatened again in the ninth when Steve Fornash doubled, but again, the lack of hitting hurt the Pirates.

In the top of the 11th, Ithaca struck for the win. With one out, Kurowski, after staying alive when a foul fly was dropped, singled. Richy Miller walked, and a wild pitch moved both runners up. Giroux hit an in-field grounder and the play was made to the plate, too late to stop Kurowski from scoring. Dick Zandi hit back to the pitcher, who tagged Miller out trying to score.

Dirk then doubled in Giroux and Zandi and Jerry Gardner got a hit, scoring Dirk with the final run.

East Carolina was out for revenge this afternoon as it went up against the same Ithaca team, seeking to even its record at 1-1. Saturday, the Pirates will play host to the University of North Carolina.

Junior High Is Second In Meet

Jacksonville Junior High School captured first place in a three-way track meet here yesterday. The Jacksonville runners put together 68 points to outdistance Greenville Junior High, which had 28, and Northwood Park Junior High of Jacksonville, which had seven points.

Jacksonville, however, used ninth grade students, while the Phantomites were limited to seventh and eighth grade students.

Leading scorers for the Phantomites were Joey Steelman with 7½ points, and Todd Pair and Johnny Conway with 5½ each.

Greenville placers were: High jump: Todd Pair, tied for fourth; shot put, Joey Steelman, third; broad jump: Todd Pair, third; discus, Joey Steelman, first; Ronnie Woodcock, fourth; 100 dash, Johnny Conway, second; 440, Todd Pair tied for second, Richard Bilbro, fourth; 220, Johnny Conway, third; 880, Danny Durham, fourth; 880 relay, teams finished second and third; mile relay team, second.

The next meet for the Phantomites will be Saturday, March 30, when they pay a visit to Jacksonville. The same three teams will participate with Burroughs joining in to make it a four-way meet.

Between Romance, Teeth; Some Baseball Is Played

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Bo and Jo are the talk of the baseball world these days but the Houston Astros are perfectly happy with Don and Tom, thank you.

While playboy Bo Belinsky and Playboy's Jo Collins were announcing plans to get married, right-handers Don Wilson and Tom Griffin were combining to pitch a one-hitter as the Astros edged Detroit 2-1 Wednesday in an exhibition baseball game.

There were other interesting developments on the baseball front.

Willie Mays had two teeth yanked by a dentist and Boston pitcher Dave Morehead almost lost a couple when he ran into a wall during a volleyball game. There was some baseball played, too. Phil Linz and Ed Charles, who aren't even on the roster, sparked the New York Mets to a 5-1 triumph over Baltimore. Oakland's Sal Bando continued his spring slugging, cracking his sixth homer as the Athletics clubbed Cincinnati 6-2.

Mickey Mantle belted homer No. 1, starting the New York Yankees to a 9-1 victory over the minor league Mexico City Red Devils in the Mexican capital.

Dick Ellsworth became the first Boston hurler to work seven innings, checking his former Philadelphia teammates on one run and seven hits in a 6-1 Red Sox victory.

Orlando Cepeda's 10th-inning single scored the winning run as St. Louis overcame eight errors and edged Los Angeles 9-8. Willie Stargell's sacrifice fly drove in the decisive run as Pittsburgh shaded the Chicago White Sox 2-1.

Three runs in the eighth inning enabled California to overcome Cleveland 9-7 despite five hits by the losers' Max Alvis. The Chicago Cubs collected 17 hits and buried San Francisco 10-4.

Atlanta bombed Minnesota's Dave Boswell for 13 hits in 3 1/3 innings and nipped the Twins 8-6. Sandy Valdespino, sold by the Twins to the Braves last fall, socked a three-run homer.

The only hit allowed by Houston was a homer by Detroit's Al Kaline. It came off Wilson, who went five innings, fanning five.

Wilson, who pitched a no-hitter last season, is expected to be one of Houston's pitching mainstays. But Griffin, a 20-year-old rookie, had only a 3-9 record last season with two minor league clubs.

While Griffin was making his pitch for a major league job, Belinsky, who is on the roster of Houston's Oklahoma City farm team, left his baseball future in doubt.

The fun-loving southpaw said he and Miss Collins, a 39-24-38 beauty once tabbed as Playboy's "Playmate of the Year," would be married in about four months, when her pending divorce becomes final.

"This is true love," said Belinsky, who has kept company with such entertainment notables as Mamie Van Doren, Tina Louise and Kay Stevens.

Belinsky left the Houston camp earlier in the week after being denied permission to stay out past curfew on a date with Miss Collins. He said if the Astros assign him to the minors he'll quit baseball and move to Hawaii, where he and Miss Collins will run "a swinging dude ranch."

"I'm in love," he said, "and from now on it's Bo and Jo."

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With talk centering on Houston and UCLA, many overlook the obvious fact that either Ohio State or North Carolina will be in the NCAA basketball finals.

The surprising Buckeyes of the Big Ten and the Tar Heels battle in the opening semifinal game on Friday night at 7 p.m., PST, before Elvin Hayes leads No. 1 rated Houston against the Lew Alcindor — led No. 2 Bruins of UCLA at 9 p.m.

Winners of the two games meet at 7 p.m. Saturday to decide the national championship won by UCLA last year. Coach John Wooden of the defending champs says either Houston or his UCLA Bruins might suffer a letdown after winning Friday night.

Hayes and Alcindor are All-Americans and so is North Carolina's Larry Miller, who could steal the show. The 6-foot-4-inch senior averaged 22.7 points during a campaign which saw the Tar Heels post a 27-3 record and rank No. 4 in the AP poll.

Miller's top help probably will come from 6-10 Rusty Clark, most valuable player in the Eastern regionals, and 6-5 sophomore guard Charlie Scott, whose moves remind some of Oscar Robertson.

This marks the second time the NCAA championships have been held in California and it was Ohio State which won the first time, with a 75-55 victory over California at San Francisco in 1960.

Iowa led the Big Ten until beaten by Michigan in the final conference game. That tied the Hawkeyes with the Buckeyes and Ohio State won in a playoff.

UCLA Chosen To Defeat Houston; Heels Picked

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dayton will beat Notre Dame and Kansas will defeat St. Peter's in the semifinals of the National Invitation Tournament tonight in New York as the climactic final weekend of the college basketball season gets underway.

That is the opinion of the writer who has followed the fortunes of the Flyers, the Fighting Irish, the Jayhawks and the Peacocks all season.

What about the return match of UCLA and Houston in Los Angeles Friday night in the semifinals of the NCAA tournament?

Twins' Trades Hopefully Good

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — When Minnesota acquired John Roseboro, Ron Perranoski and Bob Miller from the Los Angeles Dodgers, it was obvious that the Twins were shooting the works for the 1968 pennant.

In the trade, Minnesota dealt off shortstop Zoilo Versalles and pitcher Mudcat Grant, both instrumental when the Twins won the American League pennant in 1966.

A hitting catcher and bullpen help for 34-year-old Al Worthington had been high on the shopping list of owner Calvin Griffith after the Twins blew a one-game lead with two to go at Fenway Park last October.

"We feel we strengthened two positions," said Cal Ermer, the manager who replaced Sam Mele last June 9. "I feel that Versalles will come back and have a good year with the Dodgers but we helped ourselves with a regular catcher to play every day and two good experienced hands in the bullpen."

"I am very optimistic about our chances. We had a fantastic race last year but it might be even better this time. I can't see any one club breaking it wide open. We might go into late August or September with six or seven clubs still in it."

Before you rush out to order World Series tickets for Metropolitan Stadium, heed the caution flag. The Twins do not have a regular shortstop. Third base is a question mark. Jim Kaat's tender left elbow still is causing concern.

Every time Ermer talks about one of the questionable spots on the Twins he says, "Well, Tovar can play it." The versatility of Cesar Tovar, who drew the only vote for Most Valuable Player honors that Carl Yastrzemski didn't get, is all-important to the Twins.

At the moment it appears that Tovar may have to play shortstop because Jack Hernandez, the fine fielding shortstop from the California Angels' organization, isn't hitting. Rick Renick, another prospect has been handicapped by minor injuries.

If Hernandez finally wins the job, vacated by Versalles, Tovar may wind up at third base where weak-hitting Ron Clark is holding forth until Rich Rollins completely recovers from surgery on his right knee. Rollins finally made his first appearance Sunday as a pinch hitter.

Another potential job for handyman Tovar is center field. The incumbent Ted Uhlaender normally gets off slowly and then comes on like gangbusters.

Harmon Killebrew has settled down comfortably at first base. Rod Carew, the Rookie of the Year in 1967, is set at second.

Bob Allison's fine comeback as a home run hitter and RBI man was a comforting development last year. Ermer has Rick Reese as a platoon man in left field for Allison. Uhlaender figures to be the center fielder although speedy Pat Kelly, brother of Leroy Kelly of football's Cleveland Browns, swings a good bat.

Tony Oliva, of course, is the right fielder. Oliva, coming off his first sub .300 year, underwent surgery on his right knee during the off season. The batting champ of 1964 and 1965 is anxious to get back in the thick of the fight.

Roseboro, veteran of many Dodger championship teams, is due to do the heavy work as No. 1 catcher. The veteran Jerry Zimmerman did most of the work in 1967 with the help of Russ Nixon.

Kaat remains a question mark because he still is taking it easy with that tender elbow that he injured in the next-to-last game of last season at Boston. Ermer is letting him take his own time, confident he will be ready to start bearing down by opening day.

With Kaat and Jim Merritt for left-handers and Dean Chance, Dave Boswell and Jim Perry for right-handers, the Twins have a formidable staff. Perranoski, the southpaw master of the Dodgers' pennant teams and Miller, his right-handed partner, join Worthington in relief.

Of several pitchers competing for the two open jobs, the best bets seem to be Joe Grzenda, Jim Roland and Ron Keller.

Royals Beaten; Out Of Playoff

By RON RAPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Cincinnati Coach Ed Jucker asked the Madison Square Garden people if they wouldn't please stop announcing the score of that game in Boston. But it didn't fool Oscar Robertson; he knew what the score was.

Detroit beat Boston 125-116 Wednesday night while New York nipped Cincinnati 108-106.

Thus, the Pistons finished fourth in the Eastern Division, getting the final playoffs pot. The Royals, in fifth place, are out of the playoffs for the first time in 12 years.

While the Knicks and Royals were battling their way through the first half, the progress of the Boston-Detroit game, which had started earlier, was being noted by the announcer at the Garden. When the Pistons had taken a 74-50 halftime lead, Jucker asked for an end to the announcements.

"I didn't want them to worry about scores," he said. "I just wanted them to go out and get their win."

Robertson, too, figured the Royals were going to have to win on their own and could count on no help from the Celtics.

"Boston didn't want to play us in the playoffs," he said, noting that Player Coach Bill Russell had given himself the night off against the Pistons and that Sanders also was out with an injury. "I figured Detroit would win before the game even started."

Boston, finishing second in the East, now meets Detroit in the first playoff round starting Sunday.

In the other season-ending games Wednesday, Philadelphia beat Baltimore 137-129 and Chicago whipped San Diego 121-112.

In the American Basketball Association, Dallas beat New Jersey 109-97 and Houston took Oakland 128-111.

In Boston, Detroit's Dave DeBuschere, as if reading Robertson's mind, said of the Pistons victory:

"Sure I'm happy as hell that we won, I'd be crazy if I weren't. But I wish Russell had played. With him not in there, and take a lot of shots we normally would not be able to."

DeBuschere led Detroit with 32 points while Larry Siegfried and Wayne Embry each had 23 for the Celtics.

Wilt Chamberlain's 26 points paced the 76ers past the Bullets. Earl Monroe had 46 for the Bullets, but fell short of 2,000 points for the season, finishing with 1,991.

San Diego absorbed its 15th consecutive defeat and 32nd in the last 33 starts at the expense of playoff-bound Chicago. Flynn Robinson sparked the Bulls with 29 points, 22 in the first half, while Henry Finkel's 21 points were high for the Rockets, who wound up their first NBA season with a 15-67 record.

St. Peter's Gets New Test Against Kansas

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — St. Peter's and Dayton, their big surprises uncovered, are the fancy and the favorite against rugged Kansas and Notre Dame in tonight's semifinals of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament.

The small, but amazingly quick Peacocks — probably an underdog but a gallery favorite — meet defensive-minded Kansas after the Flyers oppose Notre Dame and its stubborn defense in the doubleheader at Madison Square Garden.

The winners meet Saturday at 2 p.m., EST, in the final on national television. The losers meet for third place at noon.

Few expected St. Peter's to get this far, but few knew the Peacocks could run like they do. The New Jersey school, utilizing a rocketing fast break, swept aside Marshall and stunned top-seeded Duke. And the Peacocks, their tallest starter at 6-foot-5, unveiled Elnardo Webster, who caught the crowd's fancy by scoring 80 points in the two games.

Dayton, on the other hand, the runner-up in the NCAA tourney last year and a favorite here, has second team All-American Don May and its own surprise — Dan Obrovac, a 6-10 center.

Obrovac, a 6.6 point a game scorer, dropped in 30 in the triumph over West Virginia and then hit six straight free throws in the final 2½ minutes to beat Fordham. St. Peter's and Kansas, another favorite in its first NIT, are completely different. The Peacocks: small, quick, the nation's third best offensive team. The Jayhawks: tall, slowed, among the top 10 defensive teams in the country. They have Jo Jo White and a 6-10, 6-6, 6-6 front line.

Part-Time War Fought By Laotians

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The Laotians like to stop their war every weekend. They want their fun and rest. That is only one of the puzzling things about Laos.

This "land of a million elephants" is populated by what may be the world's easy-goingest people. And Laos is mixed up now in a sort of international madness which, coupled with its own quirks, leaves the foreigner dazed.

Vientiane, a run-down capital looking like an old American cow-town with Buddhist pagodas thrown in, is a hive of fierce diplomatic activity.

The Soviet mission is bigger by far than in many countries twice this size and is manned by top-grade men. The American mission is huge—there are 500 Americans and as many non-Lao foreigners in the AID mission alone.

Laos has the distinction of having more U.S. military attaches than any country in the world — 72 by official count.

With a population about that of Philadelphia, Laos has an army equal in number to the armed forces of Mexico and Canada combined. The country is 85 per cent illiterate, with exactly 89 high school graduates last year, half of them foreigners. It is a place where almost anything can happen and probably will, where a thing can be true if one chooses to believe it is true.

"There is less to this country than meets the eye," remarked one bemused diplomat, replying to a suggestion that perhaps Laos didn't really exist after all.

A war is going on with both sides fighting with guerrillas and conventional forces. The Communist guerrilla forces have headquarters in Vientiane, the capital of a government they have sworn to destroy.

This is because of the fiction of a three-way government—neutral, right and Communist—agreed to at the 1962 Geneva conference. It doesn't exist because the Communists do not take part and they denounce the rest as illegal. But technically, the Communists are still here, and cabinet posts they are supposed to occupy are held by "acting" ministers.

You can look through a high, wire fence behind the U.S. Embassy and see the home of Prince Souphanouvong nearby. He is the half-brother of Prime Minister Souvanna Phouma.

Souphanouvong hasn't been in Vientiane since 1963, and now probably is in North Vietnam. But his dilapidated, two-story, dirty-yellow mansion is guarded by troops of the Communist Pathet Lao carrying AK47 guns. His affairs are handled by Souk Pethassay, representative of the Neo Lao Hak Xat—the Communist-led liberation front—in Vientiane. Pethassay moves comfortably among diplomats at various functions.

A shout away from Souphanouvong's home, hard by the Communications Ministry building, is a Pathet Lao compound surrounded by barbed wire, guarded by men carrying AK47s and wearing sloppy North Vietnamese uniforms. Nearby, other Pathet Lao romp at volleyball or tend a well-kept vegetable garden. These Pathet Lao have the freedom of the capital, though shadowed wherever they go. Not many miles away, their comrades are fighting against government forces.

The easygoing atmosphere of Vientiane is so permissive that it makes a mockery of hippies who come here seeking permissiveness. Their psychedelic bar, the Third Eye, has taken on a bourgeois, respectable look, making the few pot-users sprawled in corners look out of place.

Preparing 'Pill' For The Birds

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — A zoology professor at the University of Missouri is directing a project aimed at developing birth control pills for birds.

William H. Elder says the pills are a humane way to cut down the population of unwanted birds such as pigeons. He said the pills are food pellets or grain treated with an antifertility compound and are supplied to birds at regular feeding grounds.

The pills, he added, work by inhibiting egg laying. He said the compound, similar to chemicals used to keep down cholesterol, is harmless.

In tests at Moberly, which had about 1,200 pigeons concentrated downtown, inhibition of egg laying was reported 89 per cent successful for three months.

Ladies Night Banquet Held By Legionnaires

America must stay in Vietnam, an American Legion official said here Tuesday night. State Deputy Commander Bob Tert told Legionnaires, "We all want the conflict to end, but we demand that we have an honorable peace and we are going to stay in Vietnam until we do."

Tart was guest speaker at the annual ladies night banquet of Pitt County Post 39.

He said that the record "proves that wherever and whenever we have met aggression head-on, we have been successful in stopping it."

Legionnaires paid tribute to some 10 "gold star mothers," parents who have lost sons in wars.

Post Commander Joe Goodson presided at the banquet. Guests included Ed Mountcastle, Assistant Deputy Adjutant; Bob Moller, Chairman of the American Legion Natural Resources Commission; J.A. Joyner of Greenville, VFW Commander; and Mary Lib Best, past Division Two Commander.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by Miss Georgi Mizesko, a music student at East Carolina University; and the musical team of Clyde Landing and son.

Candidate Mum Over Challenge

RALEIGH (AP) — The North Carolina Elections Board is awaiting an answer from a Negro attorney whose candidacy for a district judgeship has been challenged.

Elections board Secretary Alex Brock said Wednesday, "a voter in Bertie County" challenged the candidacy of Frank W. Ballance Jr. on the grounds that Ballance lives outside the judicial district in which he is running.

Ballance, 25, is a native of Windsor in Bertie County, but practices law in Warrenton in Warren County.

He is the only Negro among five Democratic candidates seeking three judgeships in the 6th Judicial District composed of Northampton, Halifax, Bertie and Hertford counties.

Brock said the elections board has asked Ballance for a verification of his residence and a reply to the challenge, but has not heard from him.

The board secretary noted the law requires a district court judge to reside in the district from which he is elected.

Plan Attack On Malnutrition

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $10 million federal program to fight starvation and malnutrition among the nation's poor was announced Wednesday.

The program to provide emergency food and medical aid is a joint operation of the Departments of Agriculture and Health, Education and Welfare and the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Half of the money will be used immediately to provide food and medical attention to the hungry and malnourished in 256 high-priority counties in 21 states. More than half of the

One Of Every 10 A Californian

LOS ANGELES (AP) — By the end of the year, one of every 10 Americans will be a Californian, says a bank economist.

Conrad Jamison said Wednesday the state will reach more than 20 million population this year and the major growth will be in Southern California.

Jamison, economist for Security First National Bank, said federal census estimates show the five-county region, of which Los Angeles is the center, is gaining more population than New York City and Chicago combined.

states are in the South. Twenty-five of the counties are in North Carolina and 16 are in South Carolina.

North Carolina counties are Anson, Bertie, Bladen, Clay, Columbus, Duplin, Edgecombe, Franklin, Gates, Green, Halifax, Hoke, Hertford, Jones, Madison, Martin, Northampton, Pender, Pitt, Robeson, Sampson, Scotland, Tyrrell, Warren and Wilson.

South Carolina counties are Berkeley, Calhoun, Chesterfield, Clarendon, Colleton, Dillon, Fairfield, Florence, Georgetown, Hampton, Jasper, Lee, Marion, Marlboro, Orangeburg and Williamsburg.

Nine-Pound Jade Carving In Tomb

BELIZE, British Honduras (AP) — A Royal Ontario Museum expedition in British Honduras has discovered a tomb containing what was described as the largest carved jade object ever found in the Maya area of Central America.

The object, a carved head weighing about 9 pounds, was found at Altun Ha, a ceremonial center 30 miles north of Belize.

The U.S. Post Office Department handles some two million pieces of mail each day.

Recently promoted T-Sgt. James D. Wobbleton, son of Mrs. Edna Wobbleton of Williamston, has recently received the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Elmondorf AFB, Ala.

Sgt. Wobbleton, a personnel technician, was cited for his professional skill, knowledge and initiative. He also received the U.S.A.F. Security Service Gold Beaver award for sustained superior performance for a 90-day period.

Specialist Four James L. Woolard (above), a member of the U.S.A. Headquarters Area Command in Saigon, Vietnam, has received a letter of commendation from Brig. Gen. Albin F. Irzyk citing Woolard's courageous performance during the battle in Saigon during the New Year's offensive.

Woolard's wife, Catherine, lives at Rt. 1, Winterville. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon R. Woolard of Greenville.

PFC Arthur Dail Stancil (above), son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stancil of Greenville, recently received a letter of appreciation from his commanding officer in Qui Nhon, Vietnam. Stancil was commended for his "high standards of dress, conduct and military bearing" and for his performance of duty as a sentinel for the past year and for his personal contribution to the mission of the Qui Nhon Airfield.

Master Sgt. Jarvis R. Everett, whose wife, Nancy, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stokes of Greenville, has received the U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal at Cam Ranh Bay AB, Vietnam.

Sgt. Everett was decorated as an aircraft instrument technician at Charleston AFB, S.C. for his outstanding technical abilities and contributions which resulted in a savings of thousands of dollars to the Air Force.

Stephen Douglas Duckett, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Paul Duckett of Greenville, has enlisted in the U.S. Navy and was transferred to the U.S. Naval Training Center at San Diego, Calif., for recruit training.

Sgt. Joseph L. Jenkins of Greenville, whose wife is the former Jean French, also of Greenville, has been recognized as "airman of the month" for outstanding performance as a physiological training instructor at Reese AFB.

William Bennett Price, son of Mrs. Vinia Holmes Wilson of Greenville, has enlisted in the U.S. Navy and was transferred to the U.S. Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill., for recruit training.

David P. Tuten (above), of Greenville, has been promoted to Specialist Four in the U.S. Army while stationed at Soc Trang, Vietnam, where he has been assigned since the first of the year.

Pvt. Alan J. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Jones of Greenville, was named outstanding trainee in his basic training unit at Ft. Bragg. Pvt. Jones recently visited home following completion of his training.

Capt. Ben Alton Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Gardner of Greenville, recently completed a tour of duty in Vietnam and returned home for a leave. While in Vietnam, Capt. Gardner flew 100 missions in his RF4C Phantom II fighter plane. He also performed duties as an intelligence officer, logging 25 more missions in Thailand. Capt. Gardner will be stationed at Shaw AFB, S.C.

Specialist Five Jimmy Rogers, whose wife is the former Jean Keel of Robersonville, recently completed a one-year tour of duty in Vietnam and will now be stationed at Ft. Hood, Texas. Rogers is the son of Garland Rogers of Pitt County.

Nearly $4 Million Furnished Farmers By Pitt-Greene PCA

The Pitt-Greene Production Credit Association furnished 522 farmers in the association's territory with $3,997,976.36 during 1967, to meet their needs for operating and capital investment credit on an intermediate term basis, according to J. R. Boswell, the association's general manager.

The association is a farmer-owned and operated credit co-operative serving the credit needs of farmers and their families in Pitt and Greene Counties. The home office is located in Greenville and the branch office is located in Snow Hill.

"The association served 27 new farmer members during 1967, and concluded the year with $2,392,911.79 outstanding, an increase of 5.3 percent over 1966," Boswell said.

"Since organization in 1933, the Pitt - Greene PCA has extended over $75,000,000.00 in credit and now has $578,840.00 in member owned capital and $495,086.68 in accumulated earnings," he continued.

Assets of the association had increased to $3,042,443.54 at year end from $2,932,323.86 at the end of 1966. The association's new worth totaled $1,073,926.68, an increase of 4.3 percent over 1966.

Officers and directors include Alton Gardner of Rt. 2, Ayden, N. C., president; W. F. Welfare, Jr. of Snow Hill, N. C.

vice president; Claude K. Grantham of Rt. 2 Stantonburg, N. C., director; Chester Don Worthington, Jr. of Rt. 1, Greenville, N. C., director; Robert D. Stokes of Rt. 1, Greenville, N. C., director; J. R. Boswell, general manager and J. R. Dilda, assistant secretary-treasurer. The branch office manager is Arnold B. Parrish.

"Pitt - Greene Production Credit Association is one of 65 in the Third Farm Credit District which is comprised of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. The Production Credit Associations in the four states furnished $415 million to nearly 50 thousand farmers during 1967, for operating and capital investment credit on an intermediate term basis," Boswell concluded.

Crucial Forest Fire Season Begins Over N. C.

By SYLVIA ROBERTSON
Richmond County Journal
Writer

Written For The AP
ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP) — The North Carolina Forestry Service, which provides watch-dog service over one of the state's largest industries, has entered its most crucial period of the year.

The service protects more than 20 million acres of growing timber. High winds and dry weather combine each March and April into combustible conditions which could wipe out millions of dollars worth of timber.

The Forestry Service employs highly technical procedures in avoiding this.

Work operations each day depend primarily on weather conditions. An early morning weather report from the Raleigh-Durham airport goes out to the 13 districts in the state and is supplemented by weather reports from the towers throughout each district. With this information the district forester determines the chances of a fire hazard for the next few hours. As the weather reports change, the forester changes his schedule.

The state operates under a "readiness code" which evaluates each district's fire potential according to the present weather conditions. The code lists conditions in categories of one through five. When the dispatcher radioes area foresters that Code one is in effect, the men know there is little danger of forest fires in the area at the time.

Code Two means there is a possibility of fire but wind conditions, humidity, fuel moisture (timber dryness) are not at an emergency level.

When the code reaches three, the district offices man dispatch rooms on a 24-hour basis and all men in the district are called on duty.

Should fires break out, equipment in the district can most likely handle them at this stage.

When the danger zone reaches Code Four, men stationed in a single district are likely to need help or equipment from other districts within the region. The state is divided into three regions — the coastal, Piedmont and the mountain.

Code Five, the most dangerous of all and seldom reached, means fire conditions are extreme and all forestry personnel is committed to fire duty. Assistance outside the region may be necessary for effective control should fires start. Rangers call this stage "blow-up conditions."

"When we're 'hot' here, help can come from throughout the state. We even have compacts with adjoining states for assistance, if necessary," said Woodrow Davis, District III forest ranger.

"The Sandhills District has faster fire problems due to timber moisture, wire grass and a sandy terrain which holds moisture for only a short period," said District Forester J. A. Pippin.

"There are advantages and disadvantages to this. Our initial attack on a fire must be unusually fast. Fire fighting techniques are entirely different here from those used down in the swampy coastal plains or up in the mountains," explained Pippin.

He said while fires burn quickly in the Sandhills, there is little mop-up problem since they burn the land clean. Fires along the coast are apt to burn slowly through the marches and get down into the ground and in stumps where they smoulder for days. Once a fire is spotted and reported to the dispatch office, the forestry crews are in immediate action. The office has gigantic photographs of each county in the district and maps to compute exact fire locations. The dispatcher then notifies the landowner by radio or telephone.

The maps also indicate the type of terrain in the area and mark the "high hazard" areas. These are where timber is most profitable and financial loss could be the highest. Also there are few natural breaks to stop the fire spread.

The dispatcher controls all equipment sent into the area. Combat directions are radioed from the office, which is in direct contact with all equipment and men during the emergency.

A district fire plan book lists all assistance available. This includes the number of men and type of machinery state, federal and private organizations can provide.

The middle district depends primarily on fire plows (there are seven in the district with another on order) and four-wheel drive fire trucks which carry 350 gallons of water, backed up by tanker trucks carrying up to 1,200 gallons.

"We aren't like the fire departments. We have to either carry our water with us or pump it from creeks," said Davis.

The favorite piece of equipment with most of the men seems to be a jeep equipped with 150 gallons of water, a water pump and radio communications. They've labeled it the "fire truck jeep."

Spotter planes are used across the state not only for pre-fire reports, but to relay information on fire conditions by flying into the heart of the fire looking for "hot spots" and potential trouble spots when the fire spreads. While equipment stands ready for service, foresters are involved in pre-suppression tactics in a large scale attempt to prevent major timber destruction by fire.

"Strip burning" is fairly common. It can be seen occasionally from the highways. Foresters will plow two ditches several hundred feet apart and burn the underbrush between them. The controlled burning creates a fire break which would be almost impossible for another fire to cross.

Highways serve the same purpose, as do creeks and fields.

The North Carolina Forestry Service, which also provides assistance concerning cultivation to woodland owners across the state, is now a division of the State Department of Conservation and Development. Proposals that would take the service from under the wing of the C&D were heard last week by a study commission appointed by the General Assembly.

Summer Study Of Latin America Set

A summer program to acquaint high school students with historical, cultural and economic developments of Latin America is scheduled to continue this summer at Greenville.

From June 17 to July 27 an Academic Center for Latin American Studies (ACLAS) will be working with 54 high school students who have had three years of Spanish courses.

The program is the first of its kind in the nation and will be conducted at J. H. Rose High School with special cooperation from East Carolina University and other community agencies.

Director Roy Phelps, formerly of Rose High School and a Ph.D. candidate at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and Dr. C. C. Cleetwood, superintendent of Greenville City Schools, have a dual purpose. "One is to encourage greater understanding of our neighbors in this hemisphere and another to provide intensive preparation for students interested in diplomatic careers or college work in Spanish or Latin American studies," Dr. Cleetwood said.

Staff members will be specialists from various parts of the country.

Funds for the program, made available under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, will provide free room and board for those chosen to participate in the six-week program.

Code Four, men stationed in a single district are likely to need help or equipment from other districts within the region. The state is divided into three regions — the coastal, Piedmont and the mountain.

Generation Of New Housing

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — The United States must build more housing in this generation than the total erected since the Pilgrims landed, says Robert C. Wood, undersecretary of housing and urban development. Speaking at the University of Massachusetts, Wood said $2.4 billion is needed from Congress to begin a massive housing program for urban areas.

New Line Of Mercedes-Benz Introduced

NEW GENERATION — Mercedes-Benz has produced a restyled body for its new medium-priced line of cars. Shown here is the new version of the diesel-powered Mercedes-Benz, now classified as the 220D.

FORT LEE, N.J. — A new generation of Mercedes-Benz passenger cars, incorporating the latest in engineering developments and crisp, modern styling, has been introduced by Daimler-Benz A.G., manufacturers of the Germany-built automobiles.

New, higher-torque engines and a host of engineering features are part of the re-shaping of the entire line of Mercedes-Benz motor cars. Outstanding development of the new line is a totally restyled body for the medium-priced range of cars.

While distinguished from the higher-priced models, these cars now reflect the characteristic styling introduced on the 250 line in 1965.

In addition to modern styling, the redesigned cars offer improved driving performance, higher standards of comfort and interior appointments and further advances in safety.

The medium-priced four and six-cylinder models, designated as the 220D, 220, 230 and 250, they share the same basic body shell, though each has a different powerplant.

The 220D is powered by the latest and largest passenger car diesel engine offered by Mercedes-Benz. Horsepower has been increased to 65.

The 220 comes with an economical four-cylinder gasoline engine turning out 116 horsepower at 5200 r.p.m. The 230 powerplant is a 2.3 liter six-cylinder engine rated at 135 horsepower.

At the top of the medium-priced range is the new 250 which has various styling refinements and is equipped with a 2.5 liter engine turning out 146 horsepower at 5600 r.p.m.

The medium-priced range has a wheelbase of 108.3 inches and overall length is 184.5 inches. Width is 69.7 inches and the end-tire car stands only 56.7 inches high.

Optimist Clubs Set Convention Here In May

The 27th annual Optimist International Convention for the North Carolina District, will be held in Greenville May 17-18.

This is the first time such a civic club has held a state convention in Greenville.

Headquarters for the two-day meeting will be the Greenville Moose. An estimated 400 delegates are expected to attend.

Optimist state governor Grover Ritchie of Charlotte, said 110 clubs from across the state will be represented at the Greenville meeting.

Edmund Harding of Washington, N.C., will be the guest speaker at the Saturday morning breakfast.

One of the main items of business will be the election of new state officers, including governor and lieutenant governors.

Gene Ward of Greenville is presently lieutenant governor of Zone 12, which includes Greenville.

The convention is being sponsored by the local Optimist Club. President of the Greenville Optimist Club is Johnny May.

Educators Lean To Broadening Of Draft Pool

By GARVEN HUDGINS
AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Support is mounting among U.S. educators for a broadened draft pool to induct noncollege students, college graduates and graduate students into the armed forces on a quota basis.

Such a system would have the effect of placing 19- to 26-year-old eligible youths—excluding college undergraduates—in a single, theoretical age group. Order of call would be based on monthly birth dates, with those born in January subject to first call according to local quotas.

In testimony before a special House education subcommittee, prominent university administrators have suggested the plan as an alternative to the present draft policy which falls with major impact on the 22 to 24 age group.

In the present system, the oldest eligible youths in the 19- to 26-year-old age group are called first with deferments permitted for college undergraduates, graduate students in the health specialties, essential occupations and fathers who have not also gained exemption as students.

Educators view the broadened draft pool proposal as a way to solve the dilemma posed for the nation's graduate schools as a result of a Feb. 15 Selective Service ruling barring deferments for most graduate students.

They warn that the ruling will drastically thin out future ranks of trained engineers, scientists, chemists, physicists and humanities specialists.

Lifting of draft deferments for graduate school study also threatens to eliminate teacher assistants for undergraduate colleges which commonly rely on graduate students for this duty.

University administrators, however, are not calling for a reinstatement of deferments for graduate students but for an order of call which will be more equitable and will fall on a broader base.

"We're not seeking wholesale deferments," says Fred Harington, president of the 53,000-student University of Wisconsin. "We would like to see a broadened manpower pool established so that some of the students who graduate from college and may be planning to go on to graduate students will be eligible for the draft but not all of them."

The present draft policy on graduate students could set American higher education back 10 years, says Betty M. Vetter, executive director of the Scientific Manpower Commission.

"That will be a 10-year setback we can never put right," she says.

Mrs. Vetter explains that graduate schools in the United States are expected to award 21,000 doctorate degrees this June. By 1972, the annual total of Ph.D.'s had been expected to reach 27,000.

"Under the present draft policy," Mrs. Vetter says, "the number of graduate students who will be available for doctorate degree awards in 1972 will drop to 16,000—the 1962 level."

Harrington agrees with Yale's President Kingman Brewster and many other educators who favor abolition of all student deferments and a random lottery of all eligible youths.

President Johnson last year proposed a random selection system but Congress is yet to act on it. The broadened draft pool supported by a growing number of educators could be activated, according to Selective Service Director Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, by the President or by the secretary of defense through executive order without congressional action.

In support of the broadened pool, Brewster said: "It would offer a better way to spread the liability by age groups. It is certainly undesirable to have the obligation fall on a single group or class and we should avoid placing pressure on any single group."

Red Mediterranean Fleet Not Yet Posing Problem

By CARL HARTMAN

BRUSSELS (AP) — High-ranking military officers of the North Atlantic Alliance see no need to do anything now about the Soviet naval buildup in the Mediterranean.

"Their strength is still far below the U.S. 6th Fleet," one officer said. "If it started to come close, we would have to build up too."

These officers consider the effect of the Soviet warships largely psychological, a way to boost the morale of the Arab countries which the Soviet Union backs against Israel.

They also point out that the comparatively untried Soviet fleet is also gaining operational experience in the special conditions of the Mediterranean—a long body of water, comparatively narrow at various points, with good sailing conditions all year round.

The allied officers are impressed with the feat of the Egyptians in sinking the Israeli destroyer Elath with a Soviet Styx missile. They note with concern that the Russians have delivered similar missiles to other Arab countries.

Another worry is that the Algerian government will allow the Soviet fleet to use the big modern naval base at Mers el Kebir, which France recently gave up.

The Soviets are already using Alexandria, in Egypt, and modern techniques of supplying ships at sea make naval bases less important than they once were. But Mers el Kebir could be valuable to the Soviets as a repair yard and leave center near the western entrance to the Mediterranean.

"Even the Soviets can't keep their men at sea indefinitely," one officer pointed out.

U.S. officials estimate that the Soviets now keep about 35 ships in the Mediterranean though at times there have been as many as 46. A year ago there were rarely more than a dozen.

Opening lead: Nine of ♠ West opened the nine of spades against South's four spade contract. Dummy covered with the ten and when East ducked North held the trick. The five of clubs was led, East put up the ace and shifted to a trump. South played the queen of spades which lost to West's king.

There was a slight temptation to play the ace of diamonds at this point for, if that card lived, West was assured of enough tricks to set the contract—two spades, one club, and one diamond. However, if declarer was void in diamonds, an attempt to cash the ace of that suit might prove fatal to the defense.

Further reflection led West to the conclusion that his partner probably would not have released the ace of clubs so readily unless he held additional strength in that suit. West accordingly decided to follow East's line of defense by leading another spade to cut down the dummy's ruffing power.

In returning a trump, West carefully selected the ten of spades for his lead, even though he thereby temporarily surrendered his second trick in the suit. He reasoned that, if South subsequently ruffed out a club with North's nine of spades—it would promote West's eight to winning rank, and he would at least break even in the exchange.

South won the spade return with the jack and immediately ruffed a club in dummy. He returned to his hand with the ace of hearts and drew another trump with the queen of spades. He now attempted to split out the remaining clubs by cashing the king of that suit. West ruffed in, however, with the eight of spades and East took the setting trick subsequently with the queen of clubs.

Observe that West must return the ten of spades at trick five to assure declarer's defeat. If he returns a small card instead, South can win the trick with the seven of spades and after ruffing a club, he can return to the ace of hearts, draw the remaining trumps and concede one more club trick to East. In all, he loses only two clubs and one spade.

Harrington contends that American prosperity depends on a constant flow of trained men and women.

"We have to maintain the flow to move forward," he says. "We can't expect it to be sustained by draft rejects."

President John W. Oswald of the University of Kentucky also voices criticism of the present draft system, which he says places an "impractical" impact on eligible youths.

Oswald, speaking for the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges representing 99 colleges and universities across the country, believes universities can perform the services the nation expects only if selection for the draft falls equitably on all ages in the eligible manpower pool.

Rep. Edith Green, chairman of the subcommittee, says she intends to bring the concern expressed by educators over present draft policy to the attention of the new secretary of defense, Clark Clifford.

As one educator commented: "We are going to have to deal with this question of inequities in the draft in time. It might as well be now."

State Museum Is A Museum Piece

DOVER, Del. (AP) — The Delaware State Museum here is a museum piece in itself.

The original building, known as the Old Presbyterian Church, was built in 1790. It was here in 1792 that John Dickinson, the "penman of the Revolution," drafted Delaware's second constitution. And many a governor and statesman is buried in the church yard.

The New Castle Presbytery gave the old church to the state in 1947. In 1950 the state museum was opened to the public.

The Worry Clinic

There's More Safety Keeping Him Talking

Eileen brings out a valid point which all girls should learn. For a man cannot assault a girl sexually if she meanwhile keeps him talking! So memorize the "H-E-L-P" conversation formula and send for the booklet below. And turn your cheek when he kisses you, as a safeguard.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

Case F-522: Eileen J., aged 19, is a coed.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "many girls complain that men are always making passes at them and trying to get unduly sexy."

"But I find that if you keep up jolly conversation, men enjoy your company."

"Yet I am not ugly or unattractive, don't you agree?"

"For I have won several beauty contests and have the perfect 'measurements.'"

"I think the trouble with too many girls is their lack of conversational skill."

"Tell them to memorize your H-E-L-P formula, which our psychology professor had us learn when we studied your textbook."

Eileen is quite correct.

A man cannot engage in gay conversation and meanwhile be sexually passionate!

For these are opposing actions!

To maintain gay repartee means your brain is functioning.

But you cannot "cerebrate" and also "emote" for any length of time before one process must give way to the other.

"Girls, if you can keep your escort talking, you can ward off assault, even by a vicious rapist!"

So play him with questions! Keep him talking!

Praise some of his good points but always fade out of your part of the dialogue with a question mark!

For that interrogation point is shaped like a fishhook and will thus hook him into his next part of the dialogue.

A question mark is thus an ideal cue by which to help your companion re-enter the conversation.

The average man who is growing too erotic, tries to shut a girl's mouth by means of a prolonged, passionate kiss.

Girls, turn your head and let him kiss your cheek!

That will keep your mouth free for more conversation and let you prod him mentally with questions.

The average husband likewise cannot maintain sexual relations if his wife keeps asking him questions!

For he must either resign himself to merely a boudoir "talk fest" or keep her quiet so he can revive his erotic ardor.

If you teen-agers are inept at easy conversation, then memorize that H-E-L-P formula, the first letter of which stands for "Hobbies."

Quiz him about his boyhood. Ask if he ever collected stamps.

coins, match pads, bottle caps, pennants, etc.

If he doesn't react quickly to that opening, then shift to "E," meaning "Entertainment."

See if he prefers active participation in sport or merely the spectator role. Ask about his favorite recreation.

The letter "L" indicates "Literature," and includes comic books, paperbacks, newspapers, magazines, plus the high-brow novels assigned in school.

Finally, shift to "P," which includes "Politics." Ask him if he thinks 19-year-olds should be drafted if they can't vote.

So send for my booklet "Formula for Gay Conversation," including a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. It offers a longer college formula, too.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina egg markets steady Wednesday. Supplies about adequate, demand fair to good. Prices paid producers and handlers of consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered near-by outlets:

Grade A large whites: 39½ to 40½; medium, whites: 35½ to 37; small, whites: 39½ to 34.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—The North Carolina hog market was mostly steady today. Tops 17.75-18.25 Statesville; 17.50-18.25 Wilson; 17.50-18.00 Rocky Mount; 17.00-18.00 Kinston. New Bern, Benson, Mount Olive, Albemarle, Newton Grove, and Lumberton; 17.25-17.75 Hickory; 16.75-17.75 Bethel; 18.50 Salisbury; 18.25 Greensboro; 17.50 Siler City, Denton, Selma, Goldsboro.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market's modest opening advance eroded as the session carried into early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The Dow Jones industrial average had risen 1.50 to 832.35 by the end of the first hour. But all of the gain was lost by noon, and the indicator was off 0.64 at that time.

Brokers attributed the turnaround to the military flareup in the Middle East.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .1 at 301.9 with industrials off .2, rails up .1 and utilities up .2. Fractional gainers included Chrysler, Benguet, Hooker Chemical, Montgomery Ward, RCA, American Cyanamid, Air Reduction and MGM.

Schenley was up 2 points. Alcoa gained 1, Dome Mines up 2½, and International Nickel, up 1½.

Among losers, Eastern Air Lines was off 1¼, Burroughs was off 6½, Cerro, off 1¼, Polaroid, off 1¼, Avco Corp., off 1½, and Control Data, off 3. Fractional losers included Glen Alden, Occidental Petroleum, Peabody Coal, American Motors, Union Carbide, U.S. Steel, and Lorillard.

Trading was moderate on the American Stock Exchange.

Briefs

ST. JOHN'S, Antigua (AP)—The state of emergency in this former British colony has been lifted with the return of order after two days of rioting. At least 10 persons were wounded by gunfire, one seriously.

Gov. Sir Wilfred Jacobs declared a state of emergency Tuesday at the urging of Prime Minister Devere Cornwall Bird's Cabinet. All banks and commercial establishments were closed.

The violence apparently stemmed from attempts by the Antigua Workers Union to obtain recognition from the government. During clashes between rioters and police, at least 10 persons were shot, a bus station and two schools were put to the torch and 90 acres of government-owned sugarcane was reported destroyed.

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—The tongue's the key to sweet notes on a horn, but musicians always have been close-mouthed about how it's done. After all, you can't play wind instrument with your mouth open.

Then the University of Iowa developed a plan to chart tongue movements on X-ray film during an actual performance, figuring this might disclose the positions essential to virtuosity.

After 424 charts and graphs were compiled and analyzed, the researchers concluded, "A few tongues went one while while the majority went the other—and the minority tongues are making music just as good."

RALEIGH (AP)—The North Carolina Supreme Court says it may be mandatory to have seat belts in your car, but there is no law that says you have to buckle up.

Associate Justice Susie Sharp, writing for the court, said Wednesday Max S. Miller of Mecklenburg County was not guilty of contributory negligence when he failed to fasten his seat belt before an accident in which he was injured.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Barry Goldwater says the Johnson administration allowed North Korea to capture the intelligence ship USS Pueblo to test the Communists.

The 1964 Republican presidential candidate said in a television interview Wednesday the administration permitted the capture as "a test probe to sound out North Korea and the Communists in general."

Pueblo and its 83-man crew were seized about two months ago for alleged violations of North Korean territorial waters. They have not been released.

RALEIGH (AP)—North Carolina Insurance Commissioner Edwin S. Lanier resumed a hearing today on proposed increases in automobile liability insurance rates for commercial cars and garages.

Twenty Jacksonville officials and business leaders toured Greenville's public housing sites yesterday to gain first-hand knowledge of their operations.

Wooden Dam Fails To Hold Flood-Swollen Mass. River

TAUNTON, Mass. (AP)—The flood-swollen Mill River broke through a 70-year-old wooden dam today and the torrent threatened another dam downstream which protects the downtown section of Taunton.

Hundreds of residents were evacuated from their homes several hours before the Whittenton Mill dam gave way.

There were no reports of injuries or serious property damage as a 20-foot center section and two smaller parts of the dam collapsed under the immense pressure of the normally placid river.

Frank A. Morris of the Army Engineers said the situation in Taunton "is still touch and go."

The Taunton peril was the latest in the wake of a two-day torrential rain in southern New England earlier this week. Several other small rivers flooded lowlands causing damage estimated at some $50 million.

In the Boston area, the Charles River was overflowing into lowland interior sections, causing damage to homes along the banks. Persons evacuated from a four-mile area near the Mill River late Wednesday night were not allowed to return to their homes.

The Mill River runs through the center of Taunton, a city of about 40,000 some 30 miles south of Boston.

Volunteers, city and Civil Defense workers labored all night under the direction of the Army engineers, sandbagging Morey's Bridge Dam about one mile upstream from Whittenton Mill Dam.

Sandbags also were stacked around Sabbatia Lake, which flows into Mill River.

Mayor Benjamin A. Friedman said the situation was "stabilized for the present; and daylight is in our favor, but I still wouldn't say we were out of danger."

Public and private schools in the city and some manufacturing firms were closed.

Army engineers said there were some 25,000 tons of water pressure behind the Whittenton dam, which was shored up with 12 to 20-foot long timbers.

Has Miniature Replica Of All His Furniture

REINHOLDS, Pa. (AP)—A visitor to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Blankenbiller might think he was seeing double. Almost every piece of furniture, including models of friends' household items in addition to his own.

Blankenbiller, who has been retired for six years, has carved more than 200 pieces of miniature furniture, including models of friends' household items in addition to his own.

He carves his replicas from hardwood, doing most of the work by hand. Knobson doors and drawers are carved from the original block, rather than being made separately and glued on. His current project is making models of all his kitchen equipment and cabinets.

Students Taken On Train Trip

GRIMESLAND — The second grade and special education class of the G. R. Whitfield School took a trip by train from Wilson to Rocky Mount Wednesday.

The 54 students were accompanied by Mrs. H. Laws and Mrs. L. B. Humphrey, teachers.

The students also toured Ward Baking Company in Rocky Mount.

Prelate Freed By Kidnapers

GUATEMALA (AP)—"I only want to tell you I am happy and content," said the Roman Catholic archbishop of Guatemala Wednesday after kidnapers freed him.

The Most Rev. Mario Casariego and his chauffeur were picked up by a Guatemalan air force helicopter near Quetzaltenango and flown 135 miles back to Guatemala City. The capital's church bells rang out the news, but the archbishop gave no details about the kidnapping.

IGNORE ORDER

NEW YORK (AP)—Longshoremen ignored a judge's order to return to work today, crippling most of the Port of New York for a fourth day.
