Edging Near Bomb-Halt?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is reported laying groundwork for a total halt of North Vietnam bombing to test Hanoi's willingness to negotiate, the Washington Post said today.

President Johnson, in announcing the partial bombing halt March 31, said all bombing "could come to an early end—if our restraint is matched by restraint from Hanoi."

Post reporter Murray Marder quoted informed sources as believing Johnson is edging toward an option to assume Hanoi would show such restraint, with resumption of the bombing possible if Hanoi did not.

Marder noted Johnson has announced the relief of Khe Sanh, a vulnerable allied position in South Vietnam since March 31 when the President said:

"I cannot in conscience stop all bombing so long as to do so would immediately and directly endanger the lives of our men and our allies."

Protest, Stage Boycott

WADESBORO, N.C. (AP) — More than 350 Negro pupils boycotted classes Tuesday at integrated Bowman High School, apparently in protest of the suspension Monday of more than 100 pupils.

School Principal Jack Heisler said many of the students stayed away because of the funeral in Atlanta of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., but others boycotted classes, he said, out of sympathy for students who have been suspended.

Heisler said the suspensions came Monday after more than 100 Negro 11th and 12th grade students stood silently in the school halls outside his office and refused to move.

Heisler said classes had to be suspended at the new million dollar school plant last Friday after most of the 550 Negro students enrolled at Bowman chanted, sang freedom songs and prayed in the hall.

Fear 150 People Drowned

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — An ocean-going ferry with 614 aboard ran aground at Wellington harbor's mouth today and capsized in one of the fiercest storms in New Zealand's history. Officials feared 150 drowned.

With winds of up to 123 miles an hour lashing the seas into high waves, the 8,944-ton ferry Wahine keeled over and dumped passengers and crew into the icy water.

A rescue armada of small boats dared the high waves and plucked many survivors from the water. Others escaped in lifeboats. Searchers reported 42 bodies had been picked up, either in the water or along three miles of shore stretching from the harbor entrance.

Wellington hospitals were packed with survivors suffering from injuries or exposure. Other survivors were in private homes.

As night fell, and searchlights swept the dark seas, officials said more than 100 passengers and crew were unaccounted for.

Most survivors said that there was no panic when the Wahine hit the shoal or even when the ferry began to keel over.

Accents 'Availability'

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has hired Emmet John Hughes, the writer and political strategist, and three other advisers to help him formulate positions on national and international issues.

The move announced in a statement Tuesday was viewed by many political observers as accenting Rockefeller's availability for the Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller announced March 21 that he would not be an active candidate for the GOP nomination but said that he would accept a draft if one developed and meanwhile would speak out on the issues.

In the statement issued by his office, the governor said he is preparing to state his policies on foreign and domestic problems confronting the United States.

In addition to Hughes, those named to advise him were Henry Kissinger of Harvard University, Richard Nathan of the Brookings Institute and Oscar Reubhausen, a New York City lawyer.

Czechs Are Promised New Freedoms By Gov't Heads

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Czechoslovakia's new Communist leaders are promising their countrymen freedom to travel and live abroad, less censorship and a reduction in the power of the secret police.

Party leader Alexander Dubcek also told Czechoslovak liberals Tuesday to concentrate on a new constitution with these guarantees and on improving the economy and to stop worrying about further purges of the old guard leadership.

An action program published by the Communist party Tuesday outlined the guarantees for "social democratization" which it said would be incorporated in a new constitution.

It said citizens should have the right to travel freely abroad and reside in Western countries without being "groundlessly placed into the position of emigrants." Sources said planned legislation would permit issuance of passports without regard to the traveler's political attitudes.

By reducing the powers of the secret police, the program said, the party should insure that the police cease to be an instrument to "solve internal political questions" and to control "political convictions and personal opinions."

The new leadership, which ousted Stalinist party chief Antonin Novotny in January, also said "factual preliminary censorship" would end although the government would retain authority to forbid dissemination of certain information.

Tentative Budget Set By Pitt Board

Order Plans For New 1,100-Pupil School

By BLANCHE HARDEE
Reflector Staff Writer

The Pitt County Board of Education yesterday approved a tentative budget of $518,491 in county funds—including current expenses and capital outlay items—for the 1968-69 fiscal year, and told architects to proceed with detailed plans and specifications for a 106,765 square foot building to house 1,100 students for the North Tar River high school.

Including state and federal funds to be added to the county's share, the total operational and capital outlay expenditure as set forth in the budget approved yesterday totals about $5,300,000.

Major items in the proposed list of expenditures, which will require approval of the Pitt County Board of Commissioners before becoming official, include: general administration, $28,439; instructional services (including teachers pay) $127,264; operation and maintenance of plant, $199,069.97; fixed charges (including insurance, retirement and social security) $48,428.79; auxiliary agencies (current expense—libraries, text book replacements, adult education, summer school, lunchrooms, etc.) $12,000; buildings and grounds, $282,000; and auxiliary agencies (capital improvement—text books, buses, equipment, etc.) $8,000.

The total current expense budget amounts to $425,201 in county funds while the capital improvement request totals $290,000. These figures compare with the 1967-68 budget's $355,691 for current expenses $162,800 for capital outlay.

Biggest jumps in the requests given approval yesterday are in the areas of plant operation and in capital improvements to old buildings and grounds.

The plant operations figure increased from the 1967-68 mark of $23,500 to $66,596.97 due to the wage and hour law requirements, which will force an additional pay hike for janitors and maids during the 1968-69 school year.

Proposed in the capital improvement budget for work on old buildings and grounds is $127,000 as compared with last year's budget figure of $36,300.

The proposed budget will be forwarded to the county commissioners by April 15 in order to give them ample time to study and review the schools request in light of requests from other departments prior to the beginning of the 1968-69 fiscal year, July 1.

The proposed master plan for the new consolidated high school facility in Northern Pitt County shows it would cost an estimated $1,763,897, architects Smart, Woodall and Associates, reported to the board. In addition to the 106,765 square foot building, the total master plan includes the costs of drives, landscaping, a field house, football and baseball fields as well as practice fields, five tennis courts, outside bleachers and furniture, sewage and water, land costs and architects fees.

Board members indicated that alternates should be included in the specifications for bidding so that the cost (Continued On Page 24)

Tensions Appear Lessening In State After Week Of Unrest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With more than 4,500 National Guardsmen still on duty, tension appeared to be lessening in North Carolina cities and towns today after six nights of racial unrest.

"It was the quietest night we've had since last Thursday," said Police Chief H. E. Williamson at Wilmington. That was the night when violence erupted in North Carolina following the assassination of civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King.

Wilmington, like several other cities and towns, spent Tuesday night under a rigid curfew. And, like most other cities, there were few incidents to mar the calm.

Curfews were in effect during the night in 16 communities stretching from Charlotte to Plymouth and Wilmington on the coast. National Guardsmen remained on duty in Raleigh, Wilmington, Greensboro, Goldsboro, Durham and Wilson. There was no immediate indication when the curfews might be lifted, but officials in Raleigh and Charlotte said their situations would be reviewed during the day.

The curfews have cut down on social and civic life in the communities where they have been in effect.

At Wilmington, police said 12 persons were arrested Tuesday night, mostly for curfew violations. They brought to 172 the number jailed there since 8 p.m. Saturday. They were booked on a variety of charges—inciting to riot, damage to personal property, carrying concealed weapons, drunkenness and violating the curfew. Officials said 1,143 Guardsmen were in the city, reinforced by a Guard patrol plane and a helicopter.

While quiet was reported Tuesday in the major cities of Raleigh, Durham, Greensboro and Charlotte, tension and acts of vandalism caused curfews to be invoked in such smaller communities as Plymouth, Lexington, Franklinton, Farmville, Concord and New Bern.

Tuesday also was marked by marches in a number of communities in honor of King's funeral in Atlanta. About 400 persons of all races, including students and adults, marched peacefully in Asheville.

Orderly marches also were held in Goldsboro, Henderson, Farmville, Jacksonville, Columbia, Robersonville, Plymouth, Greenville and Grimesland. Police said there were no incidents in connection with the demonstrations.

No Assumption

RALEIGH (AP)—The North Carolina Supreme Court ruled today that if a person accused of drunken driving refuses to submit to a breathalyzer test it cannot be "used as an assumption of guilt in court."

The court said this in ordering a new trial for Rodney Ordell Mobley, who was arrested in Lenoir County on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Mobley asked for a jury trial and was convicted last August. Superior Court Judge Albert W. Cowper sentenced him to 60 days in prison, suspended upon payment of a $100 fine and court costs.

Fresh Outbreaks Hit Cities; 3 More Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Racial violence struck in major American cities for the sixth consecutive night since the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., raising the national death toll for the period to 34. All but five were Negroes.

While some of the worst hit cities cooled to the point where curfews were relaxed and patrols decreased, fresh outbreaks hit Tuesday in Trenton, N.J., Jacksonville, Fla., and Kansas City. Each city reported one death.

Firemen in New York City battled 25 fires which broke out almost simultaneously in a racially mixed Brooklyn slum which has twice been the scene of disturbances since King's murder in Memphis last Thursday.

In Newark firefighters responded to six major fires and 75 minor ones in the first incident of arson reported in the heavily Negro Central Ward since last summer's riots.

But many Negroes helped firemen to carry hoses and authorities sent sound trucks through the streets broadcasting recordings of King's "I have a dream" speech.

Meanwhile calm generally prevailed in the stricken neighborhoods of Chicago and Pittsburgh and officials in Washington and Baltimore expressed cautious optimism that violence in their cities may have run its course.

In Kansas City one Negro was killed, at least 35 persons injured and more than 175 arrested in a night of shooting, burning and looting that followed in the wake of a memorial march for King.

Some 2,200 National Guardsmen were dispatched to aid city and state police but the combined force of 3,300 did not control the outerbursts until after midnight.

The night of violence followed a daylight confrontation when police used tear gas to rout some 1,000 Negroes gathered at City Hall.

Trenton was under curfew today after violence that brought death to a 19-year-old Negro youth and carried destruction to the fringes of the Statehouse grounds.

In Jacksonville, a bullet fired from a car filled with white youths killed a Negro teenager as the city underwent a second night of firebombings and disturbances.

Large Voter Registration On Saturday

City registration through last Saturday totaled 3,866, City Manager Harry Hagerty reported today.

The Saturday registration was the largest of the registration period. A total of 1,895 persons registered on April 6—1,264 of them white and 631 Negro.

On previous days when the books were opened: 290 whites and no Negroes registered on April 4; 190 whites and no Negroes on April 2 and 1,098 whites and 393 Negroes for a total of 1,491 on March 30.

Negroes compose approximately 30 percent of Greenville's population.

All polling places will be open April 13, 19 and 20. In addition some of the larger polls will be open for voter registration on other days.

Greenville is conducting a new registration along with the county's new registration. City registrars are stationed at all of the county's polling places within the city.

EXTRA DAY

The deadline for filing federal taxes has been extended to April 16, due to the statewide Easter Monday holiday.

Curfew Lifted For Greenville; Peaceful Night

The curfew, imposed by city officials Sunday in light of acts of lawlessness Saturday night was lifted at 6 a. m. today.

Greenville police said everything was calm throughout the city last night.

Only one incident was reported. According to Chief H. F. Lawson, a false alarm from Box 136 at the intersection of Colonial Avenue and Ford Street was received at 8:45 p. m.

In addition, four Negroes, ages 13, 16, 19 and 57 were charged with violating the 7 p. m. to 6 a. m. curfew. One of them, the oldest, was charged too, with illegal possession of non-tax-paid whiskey.

Chief Lawson praised local citizens for their cooperation during the period the curfew has been in effect. He said such cooperation has made the police department's job much easier.

Judge Charles H. Whedbee, in Greenville Municipal Recorders Court Monday, handed three men arrested Sunday night on curfew-violation charges 10-day jail terms, but suspended the sentences on payment of $40, costs deducted.

Students at Eppes High School were evacuated from the building about 2 p. m. yesterday when an anonymous caller reported a bomb had been planted in the building.

Students returned to their classes about 15 minutes later, after police and firemen checked the building.

Police also reported that there were no incidents during a memorial walk to the Pitt County Courthouse in honor of Dr. Martin Luther King.

The 40-minute procession began at the York Memorial AME Zion Church on Albemarle Ave., moved down Fifth Street to Washington Street and on to the court house where a brief prayer service was held.

The group, which numbered about 107 persons, returned to the church along the same route.

The City Council granted permission for the memorial procession Monday.

In a statement this morning, Mayor S. Eugene West said, "I would like to express my sincere appreciation to the citizens of Greenville for their cooperation during the time of curfew."

He continued, "I am sure this provoked a hardship on many, and it is my hope that things will proceed in an orderly manner and that we will not require a curfew at any time in the future."

"The helpful cooperation of the citizens and the business establishments is deeply appreciated by the City Council and mayor," West added.

Welfare Rolls Said Shrinking

GREENSBORO (AP) — North Carolina Welfare Commissioner Clifton Craig says the state's welfare rolls are shrinking, "not getting larger as you constantly hear."

Addressing the annual convention of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association Tuesday night, Craig said there are numerous misconceptions about public welfare.

One, he said, is that families remain on welfare for generation after generation. "The average time a family remains on Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) is about two years," he said.

Basis of selection included academic achievement, Scholastic Aptitude Tests scores, and participation in leadership activities in their schools and communities. Dr. Frank G. Fuller, chairman

Demo Women To Gather April 25

The annual spring dinner meeting of the Pitt County Democratic Women will be held Thursday, April 25, at the Greenville Golf and Country Club. A reception in honor of the wives of the Democratic candidates in the primary elections begins at 6:30 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7 p.m. Members, their husbands and guests are invited to attend. Reservations may be made by telephoning Mrs. J. Con Lanier, 758-1727.

Church To Hold Sunrise Service

An Easter sunrise service, to be sponsored jointly by Mt. Pleasant Christian Church and University Church of Christ, will be held on Easter Sunday morning beginning at 6 a.m. at the Mt. Pleasant Church. There will be congregational singing, special music by the Mt. Pleasant Choir under the direction of Mrs. Randolph Fleming and a message by W. Paul Duckett, minister of the University Church of Christ. This is planned to be an annual event, with the meeting site to alternate each year. The ministers, W. Paul Duckett and David H. Thomas of Mt. Pleasant, and the congregations invite the public to attend.

—that dying yielded life. It's incongruous. But it's the Easter insight, the special Sunday song. "Christ is risen," the ministers proclaim. And it reverberates from the congregations. "He is risen indeed!" A wild thing to think, and it didn't come easy. Yet in a world that proliferates the incredible, which knows that silence teems with sound, that voids swarm with images, that up is also down, that light floods through darkest space, the contradiction becomes the commonplace. "God chose what is foolish in the world to shame the wise," the apostle Paul described it. "God chose what is weak in the world to shame the strong." Natural, supernatural, normal, abnormal—the differentiations blur in an age when medi-

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal agency says railroad accidents are increasing, causing more death and damage—and forcing more evacuations of populated areas when hazardous material is involved.

The National Transportation Safety Board said Tuesday it found those trends in a survey of railroad accidents since 1960. It said the government should step in if railroads don't improve safety practices.

Board Chairman Joseph J. O'Connell Jr. said derailments increased 66.5 per cent from 1961 to 1966 and the study "clearly shows deteriorating track conditions are causing derailments."

"Higher speeds, longer and heavier trains, and the growing carriage of deadly and hazardous materials," he said, "may well increase the already serious consequences of unsafe practices."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service says it will not penalize taxpayers who miss the April 15 income tax filing deadline because of lost records or other direct results of recent racial disorders. But while the 5 per cent penalty will not be assessed, the IRS said it must by law charge one-half of one per cent interest per month on overdue taxes. The service said taxpayers affected must file returns as quickly as possible and enclose letters establishing the delay was caused by the disturbances and was outside the taxpayer's control.

The first NDH—crated medical supplies and equipment—has been placed at Enid, Okla., in the tornado belt.

Chairman John E. Horne of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board says "interest rates which are already high may go even higher." The average rate on conventional loans for new houses reached 6.46 in February, approaching record level of 1966.

"Somewhere, we've got to find hundreds of thousands of jobs this summer, jobs that pay a decent wage. We've got to do it fast. Right now."—Rep. James Corman, D-Calif., member of the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders.

the strange, world-shaking prodigy announced by the ringing bells, the banked lilies, the bright vestments, the hallelujahs of the choirs.

"I am the Resurrection, and the life," He said. "He that believeth in Me, though he were dead yet shall he live." What does it mean? How could it be? The answers came hard.

Yet just as physicists, traveling a dim, unmarked road, uncovered the staggering force at the heart of nature, so the overwhelming dynamics of Jesus dawned only on those who had walked closely with Him through baffling difficulties.

But then the disclosure, like a flaming, new star, radiated around the earth. "The Light of the world." His apostles hadn't anticipated it. They didn't believe it when women brought them the first report of the empty tomb, Scripture relates.

In fact, it seemed to them the whole venture had failed miserably. Jesus, instead of mounting a throne, had been executed as a criminal, and they had fled in fear and defeat, their high hopes plunged into utter despair.

But then, as they huddled behind locked doors, He stood before them. "Peace be with you." They still boggled at it. "Why are you troubled, and why do you question my heart?" "It is I, Myself."

The church has always conceded that its central conviction defies empirical reasoning, turns apparent patterns upside down.

Moreover, the recognition of it came only slowly and painfully, not to the general public, but to believers who had been influenced by Jesus, to those who had listened, questioned and wondered at His identity, who had noted the signposts on the way.

Out of that forged relationship, they gradually recognized—even though it flew in the face of their attitude and expectations—that He still lived.

Their testimony of it—in gospels and epistles—is dramatically persuasive. It changed them overnight from broken, cringing men to fearless, aggressive evangelists, so absolutely sure of their contention that they were ready to die for it. Most of them did. As Scripture portrays it, and as the church interprets it, the Resurrection was no mere physical reanimation of a corpse, in the framework of general observation, but a manifestation to chosen witnesses at God's initiative.

Nor is it considered simply a past external event, but rather a continuing reality, and also a glimmering of the future, an "already" in basis but a "not yet" in full application, a divine deed beyond history injected into present history.

It is seen as the herald of a new age to come, the promise of a fuller tomorrow, the opening of a fresh, beckoning frontier. "Behold, I make all things new."

The celebration of it, in its adaptation to many cultures, has accumulated various extrareligious symbols appropriate to its meaning, and derived from other spring festivities—such as the egg from whose shell springs new life. The name of the holiday itself comes from a mythical Teutonic goddess of spring, "Eostre," whose ancient Anglo-Saxon rites coincided with the celebration of Christ's Resurrection.

It is the arch-phenomenon, needing symbols to tell it, breaking the limits of analysis and comparisons. But to Christians, it is decisively real, the core of faith, a revolutionary beacon in human destiny.

"The light shines in the darkness," John's gospel says, "and the darkness has not overcome it."

It happened on a Sunday dawn, following the Saturday sabbath of the Passover season celebrating God's deliverance of Israel from slavery and abuse. Amplifying that older sign, the Resurrection declared divine deliverance from sin and its epitome, death.

In church teaching, Jesus is considered wholly man, yet also divine, the human manifestation of God, Who suffered on the cross for men's sin, taking the penalty for it as their stand-in, thus offering them redemption from it.

But the Resurrection says something more. It says that in the crucial, illuminating test between utter right and utter wrong, right has the final upper hand, that goodness ultimately wins over evil, that life triumphs over death.

But this is no invitation to escapism from hard reality. On the contrary, Christianity's chief symbol is a rack of torture—the cross. It says that life is rugged and treacherous and at its very best, involves crucifixions. But it also says this is no reason to bog down in defeatism.

It says that through the suffering and in the direst hurts and tragedies and even by them, comes the final vindication. It affirms life as infinitely meaningful, with all its griefs and dying, and faces it with zestful heart. Rather than suggesting a flight into some wishful "otherworldly" retreat, Christianity views the Resurrection as the only complete confirmation of the value of history, the only absolute evidence ever provided that despite the injustice and the injuries, that justice wins at last.

This is the bedrock of the Christian confidence that the good fight is worth it, the Easter assurance that despite the reverses, the destruction and the ambiguities, that goodness succeeds in the end, that life prevails, that evil in the long run is done for, that "death is swallowed up in victory." (Tomorrow: Shavuoth—the Feast of the Weeks.)

Mrs. Lanier Named Winner In State Fine Arts Festival Saturday

Mrs. J. Con Lanier of Greenville won first place in metal crafts at the State Fine Arts Festival of the N. C. Federation of Women's Clubs held Saturday.

The contest was held at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

Mrs. Paul Stokes and Miss Sheila Marlowe also of Greenville, competed in the state contest.

Mrs. Lanier, Mrs. Stokes and Miss Marlowe were winners in the District 15 Fine Arts Festival held here in March.

Miss Marlowe, accompanied by Mrs. Bette Jo Barbre, competed in the vocal division. She was sponsored by the Greenville Woman's Club. Mrs. Stokes had entries in sewing and decoupage.

The blue ribbon was awarded to Mrs. Lanier for three profiles of her granddaughters tooled in copper.

"I went into the study of many phases of art which were being offered in classes by the Greenville Recreation Department with Mrs. Alton Little as teacher.

"We learned Flemish flower designing, copper tooling, decoupage and how to make Della Robia wreaths," remarked Mrs. Lanier.

Some of the items made Mrs. Lanier in addition to her prize-winning profiles include two Flemish arrangements, a Della Robia wreath, a pair of roses tooled in copper and four bird prints.

She plans to attend art classes at the recreation center in the fall.

Saying Goodnight Can Be A Problem

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have recently moved into a high-rise apartment, live alone, and have a problem which I imagine other single girls who live alone must have. (I am 22.)

When my date brings me home, where shall we say goodnight? In the lobby, where the doorman, night watchman, and tenants can watch us?

How about letting my date walk me to my apartment door, and saying good-night there? Or should I invite him to step into my apartment to say good-night?

When I first moved here, I let my date step into my apartment to thank him for the lovely evening, and it ended up in a one-hour wrestling match. I had a terrible time getting rid of him.

Please answer soon as I have no mother to ask.

ROSEMONT, PA. GIRL
DEAR GIRL: A girl's date should always see her safely to her door. Don't ever allow a man to "step inside" if you have any doubts about how he will behave once he's inside. Even the smartest girls sometimes misjudge a man, so should you find yourself with the "wrestling" type, don't say "goodnight," — say "GOOD-BYE!"

DEAR ABBY: Twenty-five years ago I was very much in love with Bill, and he loved me. I married someone else because Bill wanted all the privileges of marriage with none of the responsibilities.

After 18 years of a happy marriage, my husband passed away, leaving me with two teen-aged children. That was two years ago.

Bill and I recently met again. He is 55 and still a bachelor (I am 47.) The old spark was rekindled, Abby, and I think I am in love with him again. He says he's never stopped loving me, but would you believe he STILL wants romance without marriage?

I am too straight-laced for that, and besides I don't want to set a bad example for my children. Do you know any magic formula for getting a man to marry you? Or in this modern age is a woman foolish to turn down love on any terms?

DEAR CAROL: There are traps and tricks, but no "magic formula" to induce marriage — especially in a man who has skillfully avoided it for 25 years. You were right 25 years ago. Stick to that decision.

DEAR ABBY: You performed a real service when you published the letter from the plastic surgeon urging mothers never to allow their small children to

The April meeting of the Salvation Army Auxiliary was held Friday at the Citadel.

An opening prayer by Mrs. Wayne McHargue was followed by a business session presided over by Mrs. W. M. Smith Jr.

Committee reports were heard concerning recent and future activities for the Girl Guards and women's group. The Guards recently made madonnas and an example was displayed by Mrs. McHargue.

A letter of appreciation was read from Cadet and Mrs. Floyd Langley. The Langleys are from Greenville and the auxiliary periodically remembers them with gifts.

Mrs. Nancy Walker and Alice Snow were welcomed as new members of the auxiliary.

Beyond The Call Of Normal Duties

Greenville citizens should be aware that, despite a hectic night of fire bombs, rock throwing and other maliciousness Saturday night, real full blown riots never erupted.

And full credit should go to the city's entire police force and its corps of reserve policemen whose quick response to trouble spots throughout the night kept the situation under control.

These men worked for hours on end during the weekend without sleep or relief. It was due to their tremendous efforts and prudent restraint that property damage and strife were held to a minimum.

It also fell on their shoulders Sunday, Monday and Tuesday nights to enforce the 7 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew and this they did with good judgement.

Nor can too much credit be given to the men of the Fire Department, who along with the volunteer firemen pulled 24-hour duty to protect the city. The firemen braved rocks and stones Saturday night and on into early Sunday morning to answer calls. The city's newest fire engine was dented and at least one fireman was struck by a stone.

Most of the city's citizens were able to sleep through Saturday night, because these brave men — the policemen and firemen — were serving beyond the call of their normal duties.

This city owes these public servants a debt of gratitude and we would be the first to say that they fulfilled their responsibilities extremely well.

Swift, Full Justice For The Criminal Few

It's a common error, but we should not confuse firebombing, sniping, vandalism, looting and riotous mobs with the cause of Civil Rights.

The criminal activity of recent days and Civil Rights are poles apart.

Stealing, property damage, endangering of lives and threats to life and limb . . . none of these are condoned by the laws of God or man.

Yet, there are children and young people, middle-aged and elderly folk, who shared in an emotional convulsion of destruction and looting, vandalism and arson, virtually open warfare against everything representing written and unwritten laws that only serve for the protection of individuals . . . rich or poor . . . of any and all heritages that make up our land.

In OUR land . . .

Where the rich may become poor and the poor become rich; where the ignorant may become educated and the educated become wise;

Where there are freedoms and protection of the individual, guaranteed by law, for all.

We would assume that Justice be swift, stern and firm for all, regardless of age, race or economic circumstances, by the courts dealing with the crimes that have been committed against our country in the name (falsely) of Rev. Martin Luther King.

People who abide by the law, depending on it for their own protection (and they are the vast majority) would not settle for less.

An Atmosphere For Tax Boost

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — National and world conditions seem to be creating a more favorable atmosphere in Congress for a tax increase.

The economy, the Vietnam war, the balance-of-payments deficit and the gold crisis have already been cited by government experts to back their appeal for adoption of the 10 per cent tax surcharge.

Now, racial violence has swept American cities and is expected to produce a new presidential call for help to the Negro slums. This could increase pressure for higher taxes, at least indirectly.

There has been speculation that to pay for slum programs, President Johnson could ask for a surcharge in excess of the 10 per cent he requested last August, but government sources see little chance of this.

The administration, however, has already said that conditions before the racial violence required a tax increase of at least 10 per cent.

Officials said the violence is likely to have a greater direct impact on congressional efforts to cut spending in programs affecting the Negro.

In submitting his budget to Congress last January, President Johnson singled out six selected areas for spending increases—manpower training, model cities, programs to control the rising crime rate, family planning and health care for mothers and infants, air and water pollution control, and education.

Some key members of Congress have suggested holding spending in the next fiscal year to the current level, thus negating any increase in these programs.

This weekend's racial violence was only the latest in a series of events dating back to last November which the administration regards as pointing to the need for higher taxes in the administration's thinking.

The chain began with devaluation of the British pound on Nov. 18 and the subsequent gold crises, climaxed in mid-March by a ban on sales of gold to speculators from government supplies and the end of the London gold pool.

In between, the administration sandwiched its program to reduce the flow of dollars to other countries by $3 billion this year. The core of this balance of payments program is the 10 per cent tax surcharge.

In announcing a moderate increase in troop strength in Vietnam just over a week ago, President Johnson made another impassioned plea for the surcharge.

Although the immediate impact of the racial violence is expected to come in low-cost programs such as civil rights and open-housing legislation, the long-run measures will cost money and lots of it.

City Provides Tobacco Sale At Exposition

The pageant presented at the opening of the Eastern Carolina Exposition in Goldsboro yesterday afternoon was described as one of the most brilliant spectacles ever seen in this part of the state. . . . Thirty towns and twelve hundred people took part in the pageant prepared by Mrs. Francis D. Winston, who has long been intensely interested in the life of this section. Greenville furnished one of the most important episodes—a tobacco sale—representing the greatest industry in Eastern Carolina. Fifty four people took part in the episode. Thirty of them were included in the chorus of young women, who in brilliant costume provided a colorful setting for the part. . . .

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
COUNTERFEIT COINS AND CHARACTERS

Some time ago a counterfeit quarter came into my possession. A quick look at the coin would not have revealed the fact that it was counterfeit. But it did not ring true, it was light, it was not so shiny as it should have been, and it did not have upon it the right image.

I was struck by the fact that counterfeit quarters and counterfeit characters are very much alike. Neither rings true. Throw them down on something hard and the result is not a sharp ringing sound, but a sort of dull thud.

Then again counterfeit characters, like counterfeit quarters, are too light. They may seem at first to be as heavy and worth while as the real articles, but carefully weighed they are found very decidedly to be wanting.

My counterfeit quarter was dull. It lacked the bright shine of a new, well-minted coin. I was reminded of the dull and leaden stupidity of anything counterfeit.

But worst of all, this counterfeit quarter did not have upon it the right image. A close inspection of the image on the coin showed it had been made by a bungling hand.

Then I remembered that the hand of the great Creator Himself had made man after his own image, and that it was when men tried to fashion their lives after their own sinful desires that the image of God was supplanted by another image that indicated the bungling hand of a counterfeit.

Land Of Gentle People

WASHINGTON — Dear Visitor From Abroad,

This is your invitation to visit the USA in 1968, otherwise known as The Land of Bonnie and Clyde.

To make it easier for you, we will answer some of the questions that foreign tourists keep asking us.

IS IT DANGEROUS TO VISIT THE UNITED STATES?

Of course not. Americans are a gentle people who abhor violence. What little there is can be seen on television or in the movies — every night. We have cowboy films, cops and robbers pictures and children's cartoons. If that isn't your cup of tea you can tune in one of our news shows. We not only show people being killed, but villages being burned, GIs being wounded, enemies being tortured or anything else that suits your fancy. Of course, these shows have no effect on Americans because they know it has nothing to do with them.

WHAT SHOULD I WEAR?

American fashions this year are all modeled after the Bonnie and Clyde look, and everyone wants to dress like a gangster. This trend is tongue in cheek, because everyone knows we don't admire gangsters, even though we all consider Bonnie and Clyde a gas.

WHAT CAN I BUY IN THE UNITED STATES THAT I CAN'T BUY IN MY OWN COUNTRY?

Guns, for one thing. We have no laws about buying guns. You don't even have to go to a store. You can order them by mail from newspapers and magazines.

You can buy shotguns, rifles, hand guns, pistols, revolvers and practically any kind of weapon you want. Of course, we only use guns in the United States for hunting. That's why the American Congress in its infinite wisdom won't pass any gun control laws. They know anyone who would order a gun by mail or buy one in a store would never use it except to shoot game.

WHAT ABOUT VISITING AMERICAN CITIES?

It's perfectly safe to visit any American city in the country, providing you don't go out after dark or during certain parts of the day. The best thing is to ask your hotel clerk at the desk. He'll indicate what streets are safe and when you can visit them.

AMERICANS PRIDE THEMSELVES ON LAW AND ORDER AND WE WOULD NEVER DO ANYTHING TO DISTURB THE PEACE.

WHEN IS THE BEST TIME TO COME?

Any time is a good time to visit the United States, with the possible exception of the long hot summer which starts in the middle of March and goes through October. At this time people are irritable and not as friendly toward tourists as they might be at Christmas time.

WHERE CAN I SEE THE PRESIDENT?

You can see the White House, but the President, for security reasons, doesn't make many public appearances any more — at least none that are announced in advance. No other American officials are free to travel, either. But as a tourist, this shouldn't bother you. After all, you have a foreign passport.

I hope this answers most of your questions. So forget your cares and see Americans at work and at play. Watch a truly civilized democracy in action and meet a people who love each other and live in harmony.

See for yourself why the United States is the leader of the Free World and an example to everyone of what you can do when you have understanding, wealth and power. VISIT THE USA.

'Stoke' Wants Control

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — When the numbing news came on Thursday night of the brutal assassination of Martin Luther King, the usually decisive Stokely Carmichael was in a momentary state of confusion and inaction — until he received a mysterious telephone call from an unknown source.

After that conversation, Carmichael was his old self. He announced that he would immediately go into the Negro ghetto on Washington's Northwest Side to demand that stores close out of respect for Dr. King. Not surprisingly, Carmichael's efforts degenerated into looting by Negro youths later in the evening (though Stokely, for a time, tried to discourage it). Moreover, he was back in Washington's streets Friday morning leading a march which preceded waves of new violence.

The mobilization of Carmichael by a single phone call reinforces suspicions of Negro leaders who believe he is guided through his otherwise inexplicable shifts of strategy by unseen — and undetermined — forces. After returning several months ago from a long sojourn in Communist countries, he dropped his advocacy of violence for a calmer populist — front line couched in Leninist vocabulary. A few weeks ago, however, Carmichael abruptly switched back to advocating violence.

What makes the source of Carmichael's tactical aberrations so frighteningly pertinent is that he may be the Negro filling the void left by Dr. King as the charismatic leader of the Negro masses.

The Rev. Ralph Abernathy, King's successor as head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), will maintain his martyred chief's principle of non-violence. But neither he nor any of the other SCLC lieutenants can command national attention among the militant youth of the nation.

Nor do any of the middle-aged, middle-class Negro leaders summoned to the White House on Friday by President Johnson. It is significant that when Negro youths took to Washington's streets Thursday night, none of the established civil rights leaders were on hand. Only two prominent Negroes were in the ghetto: Carmichael and Chuck Stone, chief aide of Adam Clayton Powell and a preacher of political — not physical — black power.

Indeed, there are only two black leaders today nationally with the chairman to replace Dr. King. One is Powell — ailing, aging, embittered, self-exiled much of the time in the Caribbean. The other is Carmichael.

Moreover, Carmichael fits perfectly with the fierce new ghetto mood. Wherever militant Negro youths have gathered in recent weeks, there has been one subject: guerrilla warfare. The militants claim that the department store fires in Chicago and New York began this war and grimly warn of more sophisticated anti-white assaults such as dynamiting power plants and poisoning water reservoirs.

Other Editors Saying Mere Wisp Of Hope

(HENDERSON DISPATCH)

In a roundabout way, Hanoi has shown an inkling of interest in the possibility of arranging peace talks in the Vietnam war. To describe the move in any manner other than a possibility would be presumptuous. The meagre response by the communists can do no harm, though it constitutes only a chance opening for steps later that could lead to tangible good results.

It was a long and tedious procedure in effecting an agreement that established a truce and an end to the fighting in Korea nearly a decade and a half ago. And the fighting continued and American boys sacrificed their lives while civilian authorities talked and talked and talked before coming to terms. At best the present situation could be somewhat similar.

What Americans need to be cautious about as of now is not to allow the wish to become father to the thought in anticipation of a permanent end to hostilities. At some future time the end will be reached, of course, and it could come reasonably soon, or might be delayed for months, even a year or more. But let no one build his hopes high, only to become disillusioned and disappointed in a state of frustration.

Certainly there is the deepest sincerity in hoping for peace. But the type of people with whom there must be dealings should be kept in mind. They see only their side of the problem and are not interested in any other. Even if delegates seat themselves at the peace table, the communists will readily assent to nothing that is not altogether to their liking. They are not concerned about an honorable peace, only the advantage they can wrest from the United States. What has happened is a mere wisp of hope.

An Expensive Peace In Vietnam

By ELMER ROESSNER

After a cease-fire in Vietnam, what?

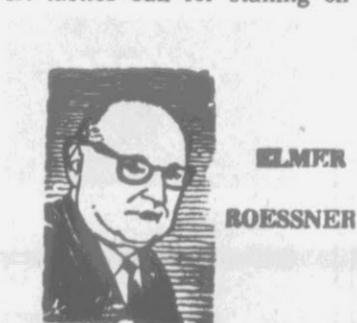

I don't know, exactly. Anyone who says he does is kidding himself, even if his first name is Lyndon.

But I can make these educated guesses: More than $15 billion in military contracts will be phased out. That will put one or two million men out of work in the six succeeding months.

The number of our men in Vietnam will be cut. Some returnees will go to college under the GI Bill, some will find jobs, others will join the unemployed.

Drive To Make Work Because of disemployment, there will be a mad, mad rush to spend federal money to create more jobs and, as the proponents will say, "take up the slack." It will still be necessary to keep forces in Vietnam, as we do in Korea. It will be necessary to maintain a defensive posture, at least to keep the Viet Cong from massacring the republicans, until a final settlement is made. Communist tactics call for stalling on cession.

There will be new subversions originated by Red China. After proclaiming to the world that the United States was beaten — and perhaps to divert Mainland Chinese from failures of Maoism — communists can be expected to foment little wars in Laos, Cambodia, Burma and India. The Chinese may stir up trouble in the Philippines and there may be outbreaks along the Russian border.

The gold drain may ease considerably as the U.S. spends less abroad.

There will be a lively market among small nations for our surplus material. Israel and the Arab states are prime prospects. Latin America a dictator will want a share. France will step up pressures on the U.S., followed by other nations. America's failure to defeat little North Vietnam will have confirmed views that we are but a paper tiger. Americans in Moscow may have to step off the sidewalks to allow Russians to pass. However, we may not be asked to cede Alaska to North Vietnam nor Hollywood to Vanessa Redgrave. Spending Abroad

More seriously, the U.S. may act to relieve hunger and poverty in North as well as South Vietnam. President Johnson's dream of a huge hydroelectric dam on the Mekong River to help industrialize South Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos and Thailand may materialize.

There will be drives for funds to care for bastard children of U.S. servicemen in Vietnam and Viet orphans. There will be new campaigns against marijuana among returnees.

Efforts to "build more bridges" to Soviet Russia will be made.

Bitter Sight For Governor

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES

Reflector Raleigh Bureau
RALEIGH — From the windows of his office in the State Capitol, a man with iron gray hair watched helmeted National Guardsmen walking slowly back and forth carrying rifles and fixed bayonets.

WILLIAM SHIRES

sboro — cities which had not been hit previously by major racial clashes.

Scene In Raleigh
Raleigh itself had been relatively quiet since August 2, 1966, when Ku Klux Klansmen and KKK "security guards" paraded on the same afternoon that Martin Luther King spoke to a large gathering of Negroes. The Klan march began at Raleigh's Memorial Auditorium.

Ironically, it was across the street from the auditorium that racial violence first flared within moments after news of Dr. King's death in Memphis, Tenn., last Thursday.

What followed that night was the worst outbreak of racial disturbance in the city's history. By morning, National Guard troops were patrolling. A state of emergency was declared.

During Friday, it began to rain and officials credited the late Friday downpour with cooling off some racial tension.

By Monday, a soft Spring day — guardsmen remained on duty. They patrolled at the governor's mansion where the drives and walks were barricaded. And they walked on sunshine and flower-filled Capitol Square just outside the four entrances to the building.

Officials Working
The governor, his aides and other top state officials worked long and tirelessly through the weekend and beyond.

Moore personally kept in touch with the situation at trouble spots around the state, receiving reports from local officials and others.

A steady stream of callers went in and out of the governor's office and Moore also spent much time conferring by telephone.

Curfews were in effect by Monday in nearly a dozen cities and towns across the state.

Approximately 1,200 National Guard troops were on duty in Raleigh, 700 in Wilmington and smaller numbers elsewhere. In addition, other National Guard units were put on an alert.

In a sense, it was a bitter and disappointing sight for Gov. Dan K. Moore. But he is a man of firmness and determination.

Throughout his more than three years in office, the governor had urged respect for law and order and called for moderation, racial harmony and cooperation in North Carolina. He made upholding of law and order a watchword of his administration and pledged repeatedly that violence and lawlessness would not be tolerated.

Now, sadly, it had been necessary once again for him to call out Guardsmen to assist local authorities and police in restoring order and prevent rioting, burning and looting.

Earlier Troubles
There had been earlier racial troubles and flare-ups of violence during Moore's term.

And it was not the first time he had ordered National Guardsmen to the scene of disturbances. But this time, the trouble was more critical, more explosive, more widespread and prolonged.

Triggered by the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King last Thursday, violence erupted and the governor ordered National Guard units to such cities as Wilmington, Wilson, Goldsboro, Weldon and Green-

Local Merchants Report More Daytime Activity

By R. W. GOLLOBIN
Reflector Staff Writer

Many stores in Greenville have reported increased daytime business activity in reaction to the curfew here. The curfew went into effect at 7 p.m. Sunday and ended at 6 a.m. this morning. During the curfew hours, most retail businesses were closed to the public within the city limits of Greenville.

Fred Baumann, president of Pitt Plaza Business Council, stated that, "Daytime traffic was better than normal. Some of the business we may have lost at night we probably made up during the day."

Baumann continued, "Our regional business has been sharply curtailed. Many people from out of town did not know about the curfew here. For instance, we had a man here from Washington who told us he had come in to Greenville Monday night only to find Pitt Plaza closed."

Baumann pointed out that much of the shopping center's business comes from out of town, and most of that business is done at night. The center has been closed in the evenings due to the curfew and the regional business has been lost. James R. Heavner, manager of Rose's, estimated Rose's loss due to the curfew to be approximately 25 percent, but he hastened to add that he felt that the curfew was a wise move and that it should have been a help to law enforcement personnel in keeping the town quiet. Manager of Eckerd's, Jim Ensor, said that the drug store's business had been hurt about 10 to 20 percent. Ensor also mentioned that he was completely in favor of the curfew.

James Quinn, manager of Clark's Discount Stores, did not feel that the curfew would have a lasting effect on his business. Quinn expressed the opinion that the business lost at the beginning of the week would be made up towards the weekend. He also pointed out that the daytime sales has shown a sharp increase. "Monday night," Quinn said, "we had four registers going where we normally are lucky to have one going."

In the downtown area, businesses seemed to be hurt less than those in the shopping center. The reason may be that many of the downtown businesses normally close at 5 or 5:30 and are not affected by the seven p.m. curfew.

Gene Skinner, manager of Belk-Tyler's, said that Monday night was the only night that his store had been affected. He estimated that Monday night's early closing has cost the store 10 percent in sales losses.

Billy Laughinghouse, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said that he felt the "mayor, city manager, police chief, and fire chief have done a remarkable job."

Charles Hargett, co-owner of Big's Drug Store, said that they had lost the night business and that they had remained closed all day Sunday due to barricades put up by the National Guard. Hollowell's reported a general increase in traffic during the afternoon. David Lewis, manager, said the increase was particularly noticeable during the hour from six to seven.

Industry in the county seemed to go on unbothered by the curfew. Fieldcrest Mills manager, Henry F. Morris, said that Sunday night there had been a few absentees, but Monday night things were back to normal. Union Carbide and Empire Brush reported similarly, both manufacturing companies were unaffected by the curfew.

In Farmville, Tom Canning of Formica Flakeboard Corp., said that he had given a list of employees to the police and that subsequently, the employees had been allowed to pass through the roadblocks.

Lamar Oxford, manager of Collin and Aikman in Farmville, said that the curfew "did not affect us at all. Police allowed our people to pass back and forth through the roadblocks."

Bear Hunter Is Industry-Hunter

MCMINNVILLE, Ore. (AP)—Yamhill County, some 35 miles southwest of the Portland metropolitan area, has hired Maurice Mayor as its new county hunter. Mayor formerly was a bear hunter on the Oregon coast.

The Division of Wildlife Services and Yamhill County jointly employ the trapper who can hunt coyote, bobcat, fox, mountain lions and other predators when his help is requested.

Women Involved In Bank Robbery

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Three women—or were they?—robbed a Bank of America branch in Highland Park of $3,713.

After talking with clerks, police said at least two of the bandits were men in women's clothing and heavy makeup.

The woman who covered the getaway from the lobby Tuesday apparently was the real thing, investigators said.

Evans-Novak . . .

(Continued From Page 4) on Washington later this month to fail, either by falling short of its dimly stated goals or by acquiescing in some non-forceable agreement with the government. According to this plan, Carmichael then would nudge aside Dr. King for paramount Negro leadership and perhaps take over the march itself.

The tragic death of Dr. King not only moves up Carmichael's takeover timetable but enormously strengthens his hand as a foe of non-violence. Indeed, there is now an excellent chance that Carmichael and the militants will elbow the SCLC leaders out of running the march. The march might well then become something radically different from the non-violent demonstration originally planned by Dr. King.

North Carolina Led Independence Action

By Christopher Crittenden
N.C. Department of Archives and History
Written for The AP

RALEIGH (AP)—Another year Heel first: North Carolina led the 13 colonies in official action for independence. This was done by the far-reaching Halifax Resolves, April 12, 1776.

The 192nd anniversary will be celebrated Friday at the town of Halifax. A religious service in the colonial cemetery at 11 a.m. will be followed by a picnic lunch at noon. Bring your own basket, or you may purchase barbecue plates on the grounds.

Ceremonies will begin at 2:30 p.m. with the principal speaker Dr. John T. Caldwell, chancellor of N.C. State University. Ray S. Wilkinson of Raleigh, chairman of the Historic Halifax Restoration Association, will preside.

The famous Halifax Resolves were adopted by North Carolina's Second Provincial Congress during the first year of the Revolution. The colony at that time, though in revolt, was still legally under British rule. All who voted for independence were rebels. Had the Revolution collapsed, every last one of them could have been hanged.

The resolves were simple—merely "That the delegates for this Colony, in the Continental Congress be empowered to concur with the delegates of the other Colonies in declaring Independence. . . . That was all, but it was enough. The impact was world-shaking.

On May 15, more than a month later, Virginia took similar action. Other colonies followed and on July 4 came the national Declaration of Independence. But North Carolina acted first.

Following the ceremonies, historic houses will be open to the public. These include:

The Masonic Temple, home of the Royal White Hart Lodge, one of the oldest of such structures anywhere in the nation.

The Constitution House, where tradition says the first state constitution was framed, 1776.

The old brick gaol, built some 130 years ago, now being restored.

The Grove (no longer standing), home of Willie Jones, Revolutionary leader.

The Owens house, a 200-year-old gambrel-roofed house, now restored and furnished.

The county clerk's office, constructed in 1832, now serving as a small museum.

The historic section of the town is being developed as a State Historic Site. Every effort is being made to complete the restoration by the bicentennial of the Halifax Resolves, 1776.

Decorated
Staff Sgt. Willie L. Andrews, son of Clarence L. Highsmith of Rt. 4, Greenville, has received the U. S. Air Force Commendation Medal for Forbes AFB, Kansas. Sgt. Andrews, an aircraft mechanic, was decorated for meritorious service at Nha Trang AB, Vietnam. He was cited for outstanding professional skill and initiative.

Army Specialist Four Wendell C. Gardner Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell C. Gardner of Rt. 2, Williamston, received the Bronze Star Medal recently near Cat Lai, Vietnam. Specialist Gardner received the award for heroism in action while engaged in military operation involving a hostile force in Vietnam. His wife, Brenda, lives on Rt. 2, Williamston.

Capt. Benjamin A. Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Alton Gardner of Rt. 2, Ayden, has received seven awards of the Air Medal at Tan Son Nhut AB, Vietnam. Capt. Gardner, a navigator, was cited for outstanding airmanship and courage on successful and important missions under hazardous conditions. He has completed 100 combat missions over North Vietnam in the RF-4C aircraft. Capt. Gardner has been reassigned to Shaw AFB, S. C.

Officers' School at Ft. Benning, Ga., and was promoted to Sergeant, E-5.

In S. Vietnam

Airman First Class Robert G. Manning (above), whose wife, the former Alice Davis, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Speight, live on Rt. 5, Greenville, is now serving a one-year tour of duty at Nha Trang AB, Vietnam.

The Solder's Medal, the Bronze Star Medal and the Army Commendation Medal (Third Oak Leaf Cluster) were awarded posthumously recently to First Sgt. Fred D. Lambert of Vanceboro. The awards were presented to his wife, Mrs. Alma Ruth Lambert, and her three children, David, Donna and Darrell, at their home on Rt. 1, Vanceboro by Major George R. McCormick.

Citations read, in part, as follows:

Army Commendation Medal: "To First Sergeant Fred D. Lambert, Btry A, 8th Bn, 6th Arty, 1st Inf Div, who distinguished himself by exceptionally meritorious service in support of allied counter-insurgency operations in the Republic of Vietnam. He astutely surmounted extremely adverse conditions to obtain consistently superior results."

Scott Suggests 12-Point Peace-Keeping Plan

RALEIGH — Lt. Gov. Bob Scott has proposed a 12 point program to bolster respect for law and order in the State.

Scott, a Democratic candidate for Governor, says that law and order must be maintained "if we are to have a peaceful, a progressive and a prosperous North Carolina."

"Although government has a great responsibility to maintain order and uphold the law, it cannot do the job alone. This is your business and mine. It is also the business of parents, of churches, the schools, the civic club and the industries of North Carolina."

Scott has presented these 12 proposals as "an effective program for maintaining law and order." Here is a summary:

1. Make it "crystal clear" that we shall have a government of laws rather than of men. The law will be upheld and full support will be given to law enforcement officers.

2. He advocated "more and better training" for law enforcement officers. Expand training programs in community colleges and "through the establishment of a State police academy. The academy would offer expert instruction for SBI (State Bureau of Investigation) agents, ABC (Alcoholic Board of Control) agents, wildlife protection agents, and highway patrol officers.

3. A statewide communication network should be established, linking all law enforcement agencies in the State. "A statewide system could provide greater coordination, more mobility and better utilization of manpower in any emergency," Scott said.

4. More personnel should be provided for State law enforcement agencies, especially the SBI.

5. Every state law enforcement officer should be provided with the "best and most modern equipment" to perform his duties.

6. The administration of the work release program should be tightened, he suggested. "The work release program should be maintained for it has definite positive effects, but it should not be too loosely administered."

7. The State should work with local governments and "develop programs aimed at better housing, job opportunities, more emphasis upon training in the vocational skills" that will eliminate "conditions that breed crime unrest and lawlessness."

8. Local governments should be encouraged to pay law enforcement officers better salaries and provide them with more fringe benefits and better working conditions.

"Local governments should also be encouraged to implement programs designed to improve the image and prestige of the law enforcement officer in his community," he added.

9. Programs should be implemented in public schools "to instill more respect for law and order and to teach moral values to young people."

10. Strong support should be given to the Good Neighbor

Council. "Every effort should be made to keep the lines of communication open between the races so that problems can be solved before violence occurs."

11. When outbreaks of violence occur "the total law enforcement resources of the State must be made available to local governments immediately upon their request. Life and property must be protected and any violence must be dealt with quickly, firmly and fairly."

12. When violators of the law are found "they should be apprehended and brought before the courts. It is the responsibility of the courts, and that includes juries as well as judges, to mete out justice fairly, impartially and swiftly."

New Assignments

Pvt. Marion E. Speight, (above), son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Speight of Rt. 5, Greenville, has been assigned a tour of duty near Frankfurt, Germany, with the U. S. Army.

Specialist Five Charles M. Turner Jr., whose wife is the former Carolyn Joyce Haddock of Greenville, has completed a one-year tour of duty in Ban-Me-Thout, Vietnam. He will be stationed in Germany next month following a leave at home.

Cpl. Thomas M. Whelihan, whose wife, Linda Sue, lives on Rt. 1, Greenville, recently graduated from Non-Commissioned

Enlistments

Robert Earl Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Glenn Williams of Rt. 3, Greenville, and Burney Leland Tucker Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Burney L. Tucker Sr. of Winterville, have enlisted in the U. S. Navy and will undergo recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Completes Training

Airman William E. Spruill (above), son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Spruill of Rt. 1, Robersonville, has recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He is now assigned as a security policeman with a unit of the Air Training Command at Chanute AFB, Ill.

U.S. Still Trails In Rising Costs

BONN, Germany (AP) — Of 10 major industrialized nations, the United States experienced the smallest rise in living costs over the past decade and France the highest, West Germany's Economics Ministry reported.

From 1957 to 1967, the cost of living price index for a middle-income family of four persons rose by only 18.7 per cent in America, compared to 26.1 per cent in West Germany and 64.3 per cent in France, the ministry said. Wage changes were not included in the study.

Three Tar Heels Killed In Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has announced that three more North Carolina soldiers have been killed in action in Vietnam.

An announcement Tuesday identified them as S. Sgt. Fred Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Young, 516 Terrel St., Greensboro; S. Sgt. Donald T. Wall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lacy L. Wall, 1003 Vandora Ave., Garner; and Cpl. Franklin O. Leggett, whose wife, Mrs. Gloria A. Leggett, lives at 618 Mechanic St., Fayetteville.

The Pentagon also said Army Cpl. Lawrence T. Friday, son of Leonard B. Friday of Stanly, N.C., had died in Vietnam of non-hostile causes.

Some Cared

GOLDSBORO, N.C. (AP) — A National Guard patrol Jeep stopped two Negro women and a young girl on a dark sidewalk during curfew hours Monday night.

The three, the guardsmen learned, were taking coffee, food and desert to a police officer and guardsman standing sentry duty a short distance from their home in the Negro community.

Later, a number of residents took coffee and cake to the sentries and some sent sandwiches and chicken stew to police headquarters.

Explanation For Space 'Pulsars'

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — A Princeton University astrophysicist has offered a tentative explanation for the recently discovered pulsars—pulsating radio signals from space—whose origins scientists have been unable to explain.

Dr. Jeremiah Ostriker believes the signals may be coming from rapidly rotating white dwarf stars. He theorized that if a high-energy disturbance similar to a sunspot occurred on the surface of such stars, the radio signals emitted from the disturbance would pulsate with the star's rotation.

Rich Prisoners

CHICAGO (AP)—The warden of the Cook County (Chicago) Jail said today that he is amazed at the sum of money found on the approximately 1,800 persons arrested during rioting in Chicago Saturday.

Winston Moore, the warden, said $85,000 was inventoried as taken from prisoners. Moore said, "Never have I seen such rich prisoners."

One man arrested at the scene of looting had $563 in his possession. Moore said the average adult who was arrested for looting had $300 to $400.

"Even the kids have over $100 on them on the average," he said.

LIFE INSURANCE WEEK... Mayor S. Eugene West, flanked on the left by Ike Pollard, secretary of the Pitt County Life Underwriters Association and on the right by Fred Daniels and Bill Stroud, president and vice-president of the group signing proclamation designating this week as Life Insurance Week in Greenville

"Life Insurance Week in North Carolina"

Tar Heel professional life underwriters will go to school this week during what Governor Dan Moore has designated as "Life Insurance Week in North Carolina."

A three-day "Sales Congress" for life underwriters is scheduled Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at Charlotte, Winston-Salem and Raleigh respectively. The N. C. Association of Life Underwriters sponsors the sales seminars which are open to the public. The Queen Charlotte Hotel will house the Charlotte session. The Winston-Salem event is scheduled at the Voyager Inn while the Raleigh gathering will be held at Memorial Auditorium.

The program for each of the three sales training meetings will begin at 9:15 a.m. and end at 12:30 p.m. Speakers for the three gatherings are Chester H. Holmes of Greenville S. C., Bob L. Sellers of Memphis, Tenn. and E. William Nash of Jacksonville, Fla. Each is nationally-known within the life insurance industry.

George P. Clark of High Point is president of the 2,800-member N. C. Association of Life Underwriters. Carver J. Peacock of Durham is chairman of the three-day sales training event which is expected to attract an attendance from all fields of selling.

The statement issued by Governor Moore is as follows: "In response to a request from the North Carolina Association of Life Underwriters I am pleased to call attention of the citizens of North Carolina to the contributions of the Life Insurance Industry to the well being of our citizens. The insurance companies of our State have pledged nearly 15 million dollars in home mortgages and commercial mortgages to help provide housing and job opportunities for low income families in North Carolina. These mortgages are in addition to more than a billion dollars in financing already being provided. Our citizens receive benefit payments totaling 185 million dollars each year from the 20 billion dollars in life insurance now carried by Tar Heels. The premium taxes on life and health insurance provide the State of North Carolina with nearly 10 million dollars in revenue each year. In addition to a rising standard of living through home and business financing the Life Insurance Industry provides jobs for thousands of our fellow citizens. Therefore, I am pleased to designate April 7-13, 1968 as Life Insurance Week in North Carolina and I commend the observance as being a worthwhile endeavor."

While the cost of living has been leaping upward, the cost of electricity has been creeping downward.

You know what's happened to the price of nearly everything. The cost of living has risen 126% since 1941.

But do you know what's happened to the price of electricity? While the cost of living has risen 126%, the average annual unit cost of electricity has gone down 44%.

Right now, you probably think we are pulling your leg. Because your electric bill is higher, right?

Your electric bill is higher because you are using a lot more electricity. The average family uses about five times as much as it used in 1941.

And there are some mighty good reasons why they use more today: Electric dishwashers, electric dryers, electric air conditioners, electric water heaters, electric vacuum cleaners, electric knives, electric can openers, electric tooth brushes. Electric everything. Almost.

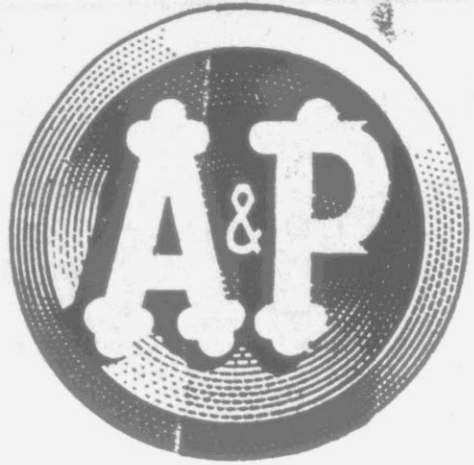

Just think what it would cost you to live if you used five times as much of everything as you used in 1941.

Isn't it a good thing that electric rates ran the wrong way in the price race?

PARIS in the SPRING

The Arc de Triomphe at night.

A young couple enjoy the spring blooming near the Eiffel Tower.

A youngster launches a homemade boat into a Tuileries Garden fountain.

The days grow longer and the chilly nip of winter falls into memory, reluctant to be gone. Beneath blue skies the first buds of spring well outward to grasp warm rays of sunlight.

The time of growth spreads music through the air, making it a moment to walk, to rest, to breathe deeply once more.

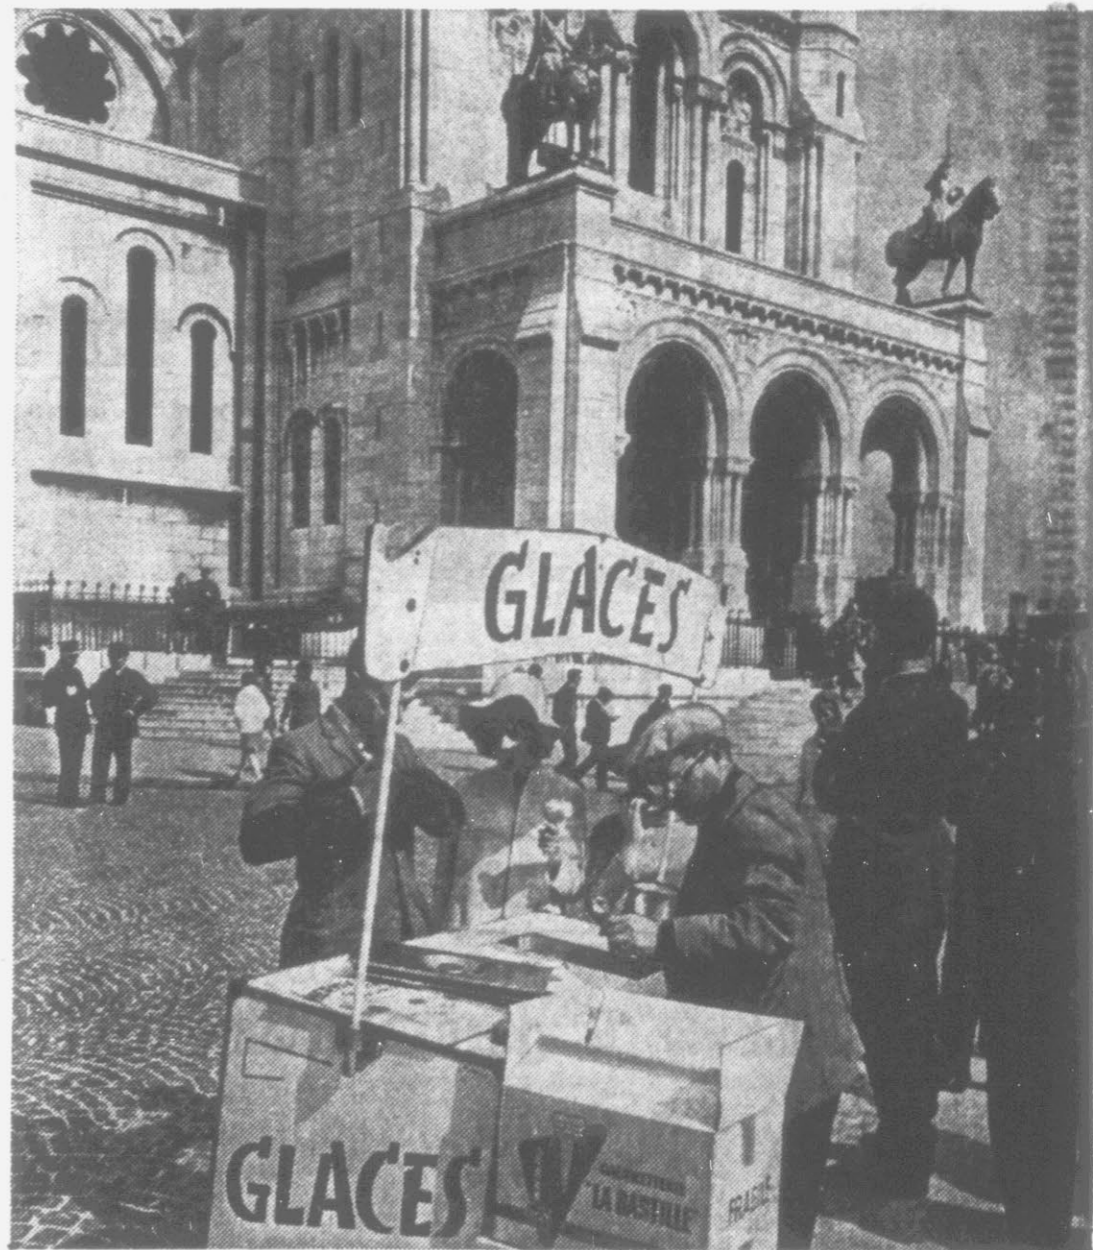

This is Paris, where the fancy of the young man turns to the beauty of young women, and one strolls softly past couples everywhere, looking with romantic indifference.

The Eiffel Tower rises majestically along the horizon or through trees filling with spring finery. From the vendors throughout the city there are tasty surprises and, on the left bank, there are book stands and art stands to search for new treasures.

The laughter of children playing at fountains blends on the warm air with that of the boatman, moving slowly down the Seine, as he tells the history of a magnificent city.

When twilight is gone, the night lights make intricate patterns along the Champs Elysees, the fountains of the Place de la Concorde and the mighty Arc de Triomphe.

It is Paris, and there is music in the air, the music that is spring.

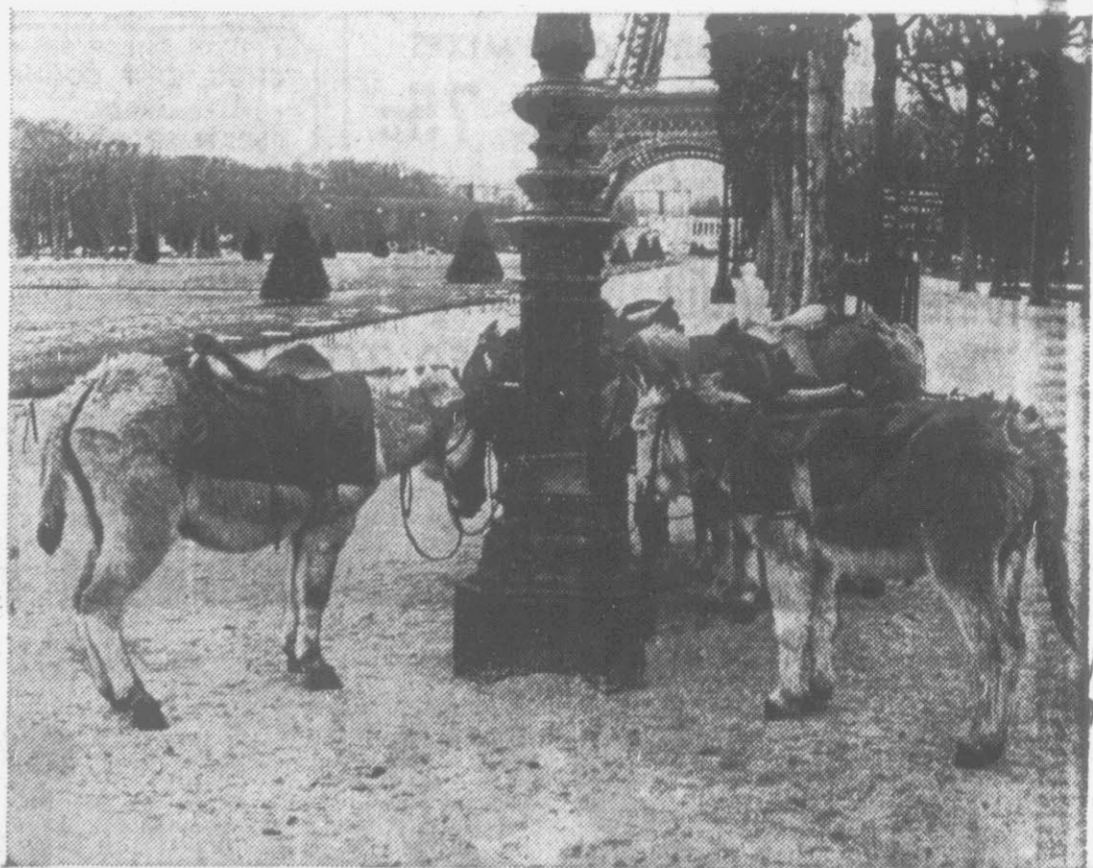

At the Sacre Coeur church, an ice cream vendor sells his wares.

On the left bank, a visitor at an art and book stall on the Quai de Montebello.

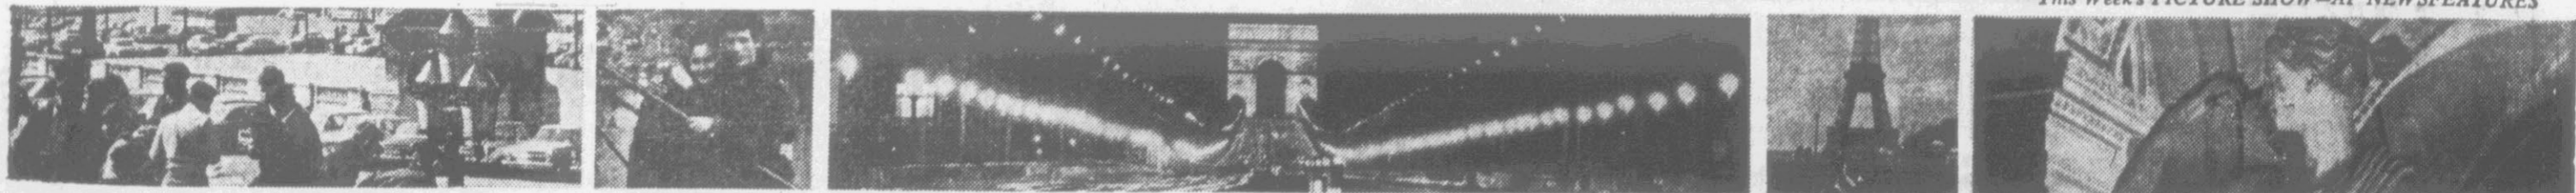

Two Parisians share quiet moments on a bench along the Seine.

Ponies await their young customers near the Champ de Mars Garden.

Rose High Band To Arrest Pair For Hijacking A Bus Present A Premier

Climaxing three weeks of concerts by the J. H. Rose High School Band and Chorus of Greenville, will be a premier performance of a commissioned work by Robert Jager, entitled "Ship of State".

The piece is a one movement work for chorus and band based on the poem of the same name by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. This is the first commission done by both the band and chorus, but it is the third composition commissioned by the band.

In 1963-64, the band commissioned Martin Mailman, then composer-in-residence at East Carolina University, to compose a work for trumpet and band. This work, entitled "Concertino for Trumpet and Band", was performed by guest soloist Robert Negel with the J. H. Rose Band on their Spring Concert of 1964. This number has since been "revised" with a piano reduction by Mills Music Co.

During the year 1966-67, the band commissioned Gregory Kostek, newly installed composer-in-residence at East Carolina University, to compose a work for trombone and band. "Requiem for These We've Loved" was performed by Thomas Smith, a member of the music faculty in the Greenville City School System.

This year it was decided by the music faculty, James E. Rodgers and Charles M. Driver, Jr. instrumental directors, and Bette Jo Barbra choral director, to make a joint project of a commission. Robert Jager at the University of Michigan was chosen for the assignment. "Ship of State" will be performed by a wide ensemble from the larger band and the first chorus. The premier will high light the year's work and the Spring Concerts. On May 2, the band will give its concert on which will be repeated the first commission, "Concertino for Trumpet and Band", featuring Charles Driver as trumpet soloist. The following Thursday, May 9, the choruses will present their annual Spring Concert, and finally on May 16, "Ship of State" will be presented on the music department's Ensemble Night.

Ensemble Night is set aside for performances by chamber groups including the Stage Band brass quintet, woodwind trio, flute quartet, clarinet quartet, percussion ensemble, a folk singing group and vocal ensemble from both the band and chorus.

Robert Jager, the composer of the piece will be present for the premier.

The first issue of the "National Geographic Magazine" appeared in October 1888.

Hosiery Co. To Offer New Item

NEW YORK (AP) — Burlington Hosiery Co. will begin marketing next month a little box that is calculated to relieve the stress and strain of bureau drawers in which women store their panty hose.

The box, said a Burlington official, holds six pairs of panty hose and hangs in the closet. The company's research department said it had determined that it takes three times the storage space for panty hose than it does for conventional stockings.

Most women who wear them knew that all the time.

Little Hanoi Damage, Says American Visitor

William C. Baggs, editor of the Miami News, has made a second trip to North Vietnam. His first visit was in January, 1967. On both trips he was accompanied by Harry Ashmore, former editor of the Arkansas Gazette and now executive vice president of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions.

By BILL BAGGS
Editor of The Miami News
(Copyright 1968, The Miami News)

HANOI, North Vietnam (Delayed) (AP) — The first impression acquired by a reporter returning to Hanoi 14 months later is that a kind of mutual escalation prevails over this war in North Vietnam.

In Hanoi almost incidentally, but conspicuously in the countryside, you see the violent wake of the American bombers. The damage from aerial bombardment is much greater than when this writer visited North Vietnam in January, 1967.

However, as the air raids have proliferated, the North Vietnamese have "escalated" their defenses and their competence to survive a more intense war from the air.

The Hanoi area, for instance, must be nested in one of the most sophisticated and effective warning systems in the world. Through the metallic voices of the hundreds of loudspeakers across the city, the people are alerted when U.S. planes are headed toward Hanoi. The warning may be repeated two or three times as the planes approach. The siren is sounded when the bombers are within 19 to 25 miles of Hanoi, and at this signal the people hustle to the thousands of shelters here.

The efficiency of the warning system may be measured by the fact that American aircraft flew over or near Hanoi eleven (11) times over this reporter's first weekend in the city. (March 29, 30, 31) Bombs were dropped (not in the city but in the suburbs) on several occasions and only once was there not enough time given the people to hot foot it to a shelter. The exception was when a reconnaissance plane sneaked through the radar web and was in the city's air space before it was discovered.

The plane had not crossed over Hanoi before the anti-aircraft made its ugly, staccato announcement, and you could hear the busy reports of groundfire from southwest of the city, out beyond Hanoi to the east, along the banks of the Red River.

A little more than a year ago, the rolling stock in Vietnam appeared to be the ragged items of an impoverished motor pool. The trucks were old, usually small, and frequently you saw them stalled or expired along the road ways of the country.

Now it is apparent that North Vietnam has invested much of its line of credit with the countries of the Soviet Union and what they call their "socialist compatriots" in eastern Europe for rolling stock. The return is in large trucks, some in the region of two and a half tons, and they are new and well kept.

On the road which leads to the port of Haiphong, this writer counted 157 of these large trucks and then gave up the arithmetic. Seemingly twice as many as counted were moving along the road.

Again another sign of what might be described as "the escalation of defense" is the common sight, out in the countryside, of modern ingredients for carrying on a war. In one short stretch of the road, there were seven tractor-drawn rocket launchers and more than 30 gasoline tank trucks and four heavy artillery pieces. . . and every one was new to the extent that each appeared almost unused.

It is at least a little strange, so many hundreds of miles behind the enemy lines, to hear the voices of your adversary compliment you on the brute force and competence of the American bombers, and the brute force and the competence is starkly visible. For example, there is the Long Bridge, which once spanned the mile width of the Red River and its approaches, just outside Hanoi. It is now a silent and grotesque monument to the precision of the United States Air Force. The middle of the bridge is a mangled silhouette. . . steel and wood and concrete sagging dependently into the river. The destruction was surgically accomplished.

tenacity and invention of these people. Only a short distance south of the Long Bridge is a new span across the vital river, hastily composed of pontoons, and on down the river are other new bridges, largely made of bamboo; piles of bamboo are stacked on both sides of the river in preparation for the possibility that the bombers come and quick repairs are needed.

Something which appears to be a purely Vietnamese concoction is the "one-person bomb shelter." This consists of a concrete pipe, planted in the ground, about three feet in diameter. It comes with a lid of concrete or woven bamboo, which you slap on after you jump into it.

These are remarkably effective shelters, and there are now tens of thousands of them in Hanoi. You are informed by independent witnesses in the diplomatic corps that persons have survived the impact of air-to-ground missiles landing only four feet from these one-person shelter holes. You cannot verify this, but you can believe it.

Much has been reported and rumored of the bombing of Hanoi, and the leaders here tell you that the city was bombed 50 times in 1967.

But Hanoi is not really a blitzed city in the traumatic style of Rotterdam, or even London, in World War II. Rather it has been sort of nicked at. Or perhaps they were nuisance raids or those punishing mistakes common to the making of war.

This may be a cruel way to express an impression of the bombing of Hanoi, because quite a few people were killed and injured when bombs fell last August on Hue Street, not far from the center of the city. This writer was able to confirm that the movie house on Hue Street was crowded when the bombs fell and several died.

One block away, on Mai Hac De Street, a string of homes is missing since bombs fell there. There is really no sense in this kind of bombing, and you can only believe it was either a case of nuisance or error by the airman.

strategy has been to obliterate Hanoi. Surely, with the competence of the U.S. Air Force, all of this city could be reduced to broken bricks and scattered glass on any afternoon.

Of course, much of the ability of the North Viets to survive finds some explanation in the generous flow of goods from the fraternal Communist countries. Insofar as the heavy goods of war are concerned, North Vietnam is a way station. Some arms move across the old and worn hills of China to the north, on the funny little narrow gauge rail line that meanders down into the country, or on the somewhat primitive roads which challenge even the new and muscular trucks from the Soviet Union and the other sponsoring countries.

Much fodder for the war comes through the port of Haiphong. That is, the heavy stuff. In short, North Vietnam is really an agricultural country, and its industrial facilities are few, and it depends much upon the military assistance of other countries, most of them in the various Communist blocs in the world.

But as one U.S. general told this writer not long ago: "They (the North Vietnamese) make the most out of military aid of any people I know. They are a formidable enemy. They have courage and a large sense of invention and they believe in their country."

Demonstrators At Duke Persist

DURHAM (AP) — Duke students, with encouragement from two presidential candidates and a number of faculty members, continued their vigil on campus today in support of demands they have made on the administration.

The number of demonstrators reached 1,500 Tuesday. Their leaders said the group would continue their vigil outdoors in the campus' main quadrangle "rain or shine" until their demands are met.

The students, as part of their vigil, are supporting a strike of about 60 Duke employees who walked off their jobs in university dining rooms Tuesday. The workers are asking a minimum hourly wage of $1.60.

In addition, the students have demanded that the administration appoint a committee to discuss collective bargaining and that Duke President Dr. Douglas Knight resign his membership in a segregated country club.

Dr. Knight, whose home was picketed by the students earlier in the week, was told by his doctors Saturday to discontinue the negotiations for an indefinite period for rest and confinement. Students began boycotting classes Monday. On Tuesday, faculty members in the Divinity School unanimously agreed to ask that their annual salary be applied to the budget of the non-academic employees, including the dining hall workers.

Name Minister To School Board

CHARLOTTE (AP) — A Negro minister, the Rev. Coleman W. Kerry, has been named to fill a vacancy on the Charlotte-Mecklenburg Board of Education.

Appointed Tuesday to fill out the unexpired term of Thomas F. Braten, who resigned, Kerry will be the first of his race ever to serve on the board. He currently is president of the Charlotte Area Fund, an anti-poverty agency, and is pastor of Friendship Baptist Church.

There are 804,200 swimming pools in the United States, says the National Swimming Pool Institute.

RT. 1 WINTERVILLE, N. C. — PHONE 756-2157

We'll give you three guesses why Ford's Model C is the best selling car in Scotland.

The Scots have a healthy respect for money. And so does Ford's Model C Cortina.

This car gets up to thirty miles to a gallon of gas. The 2-door deluxe model (above) costs only $1873* or $40.95* a month. All because it's built with the tradition of Ford's Model A firmly in mind.

Plus the kind of workmanship that makes it the best selling car in England as well as Scotland. And you know how fussy the English are about their cars.

But the Model C has ideas that appeal in any country. They're better ideas. For example: the engine is more powerful than many imports, the seating room is larger. Automatic transmission and GT styling are available. Front disc brakes are standard. And so are the Ford Motor Company Lifeguard Design Cortina Safety features.

Those are the features that help make Ford's Model C so right for any country where the people are careful with a buck. (Sales more than doubled in the U.S. last year.) One other thing helps here. Parts and servicing are available at hundreds of Ford dealers across the U.S. And you know they're not going to leave the country on you.

Honorary Ranks Damaging Budget

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — New Mexico Secretary of State Ernestine Evans, a Democrat, says the number of honorary colonels in the state is damaging her budget.

She says Republican Gov. David Cargo has commissioned 4,600 honorary colonels as aide de camp to the governor since he took office in January 1967. He sent another batch of 250 commissions to her office this week, she says.

"I have already spent $170 for the gold seals for the commissions and $35 for the ribbons for the seal," she said.

Win Young Captures Three-Meter Diving Title Defending Champion Finishes Fourth; Swimming Starts Next

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor

Win Young, a junior at the University of Indiana, captured the three-meter championship at the National Amateur Athletic Union's Indoor Diving Championships yesterday at East Carolina University.

Young piled up 456.15 points during the afternoon's activities to edge out teammate Rick Gilbert, who finished with 453.90 points.

Young, a native of Phoenix, has been diving about eight years. "I got into it sort of by accident," he said following his victory yesterday. "I was a swimmer first, and I thought I liked that best. I got to diving just for fun, and found out that I like it much more."

Yesterday's title was the first AAU event Young has captured, but not his first honor. "I've won the Pan-American Platform Championship," he said.

Young will now turn his attention to the platform championships to be held Thursday in Pittsburgh, Pa., and after that his thoughts will be on the Olympics. "I don't think that will hurt my chances for an Olympic berth," he said. "But then, it probably won't help me either. Getting to Mexico City will be a tough job. I think I'm in contention, however."

Young found it hard to compare this victory with his Pan-Am title. "I've always considered myself a platform diver," he said, "so that makes me even happier about winning this one. But nothing could top winning a medal in the Olympics this summer, he added.

Following Gilbert, third place went to Chuck Knorr of the Cincinnati Coco-Cola team with 446.67 points. Next was Russell with 44.84 points.

Rounding out the top 12 finalists were: Jay Meaden of Ann Arbor, Michigan, 415.89; Luis Nino deRivera of Indiana, 403.26; Jose Robinson, Mexican Swimming Federation, 394.74; Bryan Robbins, Dallas, Tex., 394.44; Tord Anderon, Swedish Swim Federation, 392.64; Julian Krug, Santa Clara Swim Club, 384.96; Nick Carlton, Indiana, 381.39; and Jim Henderson, Lansing, Michigan, 360.90.

A total of 31 divers competed in the event. The other 19 were: Vic Laughlin, University of South Carolina; John Huffstutler, Princeton; Larry Moore, Main Line Aquatic Club, Ardmore, Pa.; David Bush, Fort Following yesterday's competition most of the divers departed aboard a special plane for Pittsburgh for the 10-meter platform diving event.

Thursday, the AAU Indoor Short-Course Men's Swimming Championship opens at East Carolina, continuing through Saturday. Some of the nation's outstanding swimmers will be present for the meet.

Tickets for the swimming are on sale at the Minges Coliseum Box Office. They are available in season books or for individual sessions.

Tornadoes Defeat Winterville, 4-0

AYDEN — The Ayden Tornadoes knocked Winterville out of the unbeaten ranks yesterday with a 4-0 victory over the Wolves.

Ayden's Paul Miller tossed a three-hitter in his shutout of Winterville. His teammates, meanwhile went to work and pounded out 10 hits off two Winterville hurlers.

Leading hitters for Ayden were Bob Wilson, Jerry Gibson and Curtis McLawhorn, each with two.

Ayden broke into the lead in the first inning. George Booth singled and stole second, scoring on Gibson's single. In the third, Ayden scored its second run. Gibson singled and stole second, and Miller got a hit. McLawhorn then singled to score Gibson.

In the fourth, Ayden picked up another run. Wilson singled and Alan Wilson got a hit, moving the other runner to third. Miller then hit a sacrifice fly.

The final Ayden run came in the fifth. Steve Bright singled and was sacrificed to second. He scored on Bobby Wilson's double.

St. Louis Lineup Intact, But LA Is Missing Manager As Season Opens

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals' World Series line-up should be intact for their belated baseball opener tonight but the Los Angeles Dodgers will be starting a 1968 comeback drive without Manager Walter Alston.

Atlanta takes on the world champion Cardinals at St. Louis, Philadelphia visits the Dodgers and Pittsburgh is at Houston in arduous games, completing a full season-opening slate after two days of postponements.

In National League daytime inaugurals—deferred until this afternoon in respect to the memory of Dr. Martin Luther King—the New York Mets were at San Francisco and the Chicago Cubs at Cincinnati.

Washington met Minnesota in the traditional presidential opener, with Vice President Humphrey expected to throw out the first ball as a replacement for work-laden President Johnson. Boston was at Detroit, Cleveland at Chicago, Oakland at Baltimore and California at New York in other American League opening games.

Roger Maris' recovery from a groin injury has virtually assured the Cardinals of beginning the season with the same cast that took the final game of the 1967 Series from the Red Sox. Maris will bat in the No. 3 spot, ahead of National League MVP Orlando Cepeda, as the Cards open with bullet Bob Gibson opposing the Braves' Pat Jarvis.

Alston, 56-year-old dean of major league managers, underwent successful surgery Tuesday night for removal of kidney stones. He's expected to be missing from the dugout for the first three weeks of his 15th season as the Dodgers' skipper. Coaches Jim Gilliam, Preston Gomez, Danny Ozark and Lefty Phillips will direct the club in Alston's absence.

The Dodgers reset their opener from Tuesday night after Philadelphia announced it would forfeit the game rather than play on the date of Dr. King's funeral.

The Senators-Twins opener, also pushed back from Monday in the wake of racial disturbances in the nation's capitol, pitted Washington's Camilo Pascual against Dean Chance of Minnesota in a right-handers' battle.

Minnesota, one of the pre-season AL favorites, and the Senators, eyeing a first division finish under new skipper Jim Lem-Richert and shortstop Mark Belonger, who were called up by the National Guard because of the racial unrest.

At Baltimore, another city disrupted by violence after the assassination of Dr. King, young Tom Phoebus pitched for the Orioles against Oakland's Catfish Hunter. Baltimore started the season without pitcher Pete

Grifton Rolls Over Bethel Nine

BETHEL — Grifton gained a 6-2 victory over Bethel Tuesday, as the Bulldogs drilled out nine hits.

The Bulldogs put together four walks and four singles, as they scored five runs in the fourth. Leading batter for Grifton was Whaley, who had three-for-five. Taylor, Gray and Coles got two hits each for the Bulldogs.

The winning pitcher was Owens. The loser was Dunning. Grifton . . . . . 000 510 0-6-9 1

Owens, Whaley (5) and Taylor; Dunning, Jenkins (4) and Batchelor.

Phantoms Defeat East Carteret By 9-4 Score

Lee Galt Hurls Three-Hitter As Phants Capture Sixth Loop Victory

By SONNY McLAHWORN
Reflector Sports Writer

Rose High rolled to a 9-4 baseball triumph over East Carteret Tuesday behind the three-hit pitching of Lee Galt.

All four Mariner runs, as well as the three hits came in a sixth inning rally.

Galt maintained a no-hitter until Paul Dameron cracked a single with one out in the sixth, driving in the first East Carteret run.

The Phants got going in the bottom of the second, as Ken Beamon led off with a single. Beamon moved to second on Ron Leggett's safety and to third on a passed ball, finally scoring when Al Gurganus was safe on a fielder's choice.

Lee Galt walked. With Gurganus on third and Galt on first, the delayed steal was put on by coach Russ Cotten. Galt moved for second, and pitcher Gary Lewis chased the Phantom hurler, obviously forgetting about the runner on third. Lewis had balked, allowing Galt a free trip to second, but the run had scored anyway.

Catcher Russ Cayton singled in the third. Mike Aldridge drew a free pass and Ken Beamon doubled to score Cayton. Then Aldridge scored when Joe West was out on a fielder's choice.

The Phantoms collected four runs in the fourth inning. Gurganus reached base on an error.

Then Russ Smith walked. David Hahn drilled a single to score Gurganus, making the score 5-0. Then Cayton doubled to score Smith. Hahn scored on an error and Cayton came in on Aldridge's sacrifice fly.

West doubled to open the bottom half of the inning. Later the Phantom centerfielder scored on an error by the catcher.

Alton Best reached base on an error in the top of the sixth. Then Dameron's hit, the first safety off righthander Galt, scored Best. Dameron later scored on an error, as did third baseman Kent Hassell, who singled. Fred Nelson then walked and scored on rightfielder Bob Austin's single.

The Phantoms, who committed four errors, had a brief shining moment in the fourth inning. A nifty double play, Hahn-to-Leggett-to Smith, got Galt out of the temporary trouble.

All four Carteret runs were unearned. Galt struck out three and issued four walks in pacing the Phants to another Northeastern victory.

Mariner righthander Lewis gave up nine runs, six of them earned, in going the distance.

for East Carteret. Lewis gave up nine hits, struck out one and walked seven.

Leading stickmen for the Phantoms were Hahn, Cayton, Beamon and Leggett, who all collected four hits.

Rose is now 6-2 in the conference. The Phantoms travel to Beaufort Friday to meet the Mariners in a rematch.

Somber Air Surrounds Opening Of Masters; Arnie, Jack Are Favored

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (P) — A somber, restrained air surrounded the opening of the 32nd Masters Golf Tournament Thursday, with Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer, as usual, ranking favorites.

Neither of the giants of the game was especially pleased with his game, however, while defending champion Gay Brewer was downright dismayed.

"I just can't putt," said Brewer, who hasn't won since taking the 1967 title. "The rest of my game is good enough, I suppose, but I just can't sink a putt. I can't seem to get my mind on it."

Palmer and Nicklaus had their chronic complaints. Palmer said he couldn't putt. Nicklaus said he couldn't drive. Despite their troubles, they've won seven of the last 10 Masters, and easily rank as the men to beat in the relatively small field of 76 of the world's best.

But even their magic presence on the lushly green Augusta National Course Tuesday—both were late arrivals—failed to generate the excitement usually connected with this, the first of the world's four major tournaments.

The crowds for the practice rounds were small and subdued. Palmer, amazingly, walked through a crowd unnoticed when he first reached the course.

Both Palmer and Nicklaus admittedly are pointing for this Masters. Each feels he needs it. Nicklaus, the 210-pound Ohio strongboy who has won all the world's major titles, practically owned the Masters crown until he fell apart last year and failed to make the cut. He had won three of the four previous Masters and set the scoring record.

Palmer, the only four time winner, feels he is overdue.

Among the other favorites are Billy Casper, two-time U.S. Open champion and winner of last week's rain-delayed Greensboro Open; flashy Doug Sanders, and England's Tony Jacklin, a 23-year-old who won the Jacksonville Open.

Punsters Take Look At Sports

NEW YORK (AP) — Laughing At Sports: President Johnson was not expected to throw out the first ball at the Washington Senators' opener. He said on television 10 days ago he wouldn't make the big pitch this year.

A woman named the golf pro at a South Carolina country club. An addition was made to its gallery.

The girls at Nashville Business College won the National AAU basketball title for the seventh straight year. They reverted to type.

St. Louis and Detroit are favored to win the baseball pennants. The experts predicted they'll be tough to flag down.

The Giants are given a good chance of finishing first in the National League if Marichal has Juan of his greatest seasons.

Stokes started the scoring in the third with a lone run. Brown walked and scored on Parker's double.

In the sixth, Stokes came up with three more runs to wrap it up. Crandall reached on a fielder's choice and Bullock walked. Conleton singled and Brown slammed a triple to drive in all three runs.

By the time the postseason Stanley Cup hockey games are over, the players are liable to be all pucked out.

The first computerized scoreboard is being installed by the Oakland Athletics. IBM can now stand for Instant Baseball Messages.

How will the computer scoreboard work, though, after the A's are mathematically eliminated?

Joe Namath is concerned. He heard that the New York Jets will play more games under the lights next season... and they're not one of the better night clubs.

Belvoir tried to rally in its half of the sixth, but fell two runs short. Moore reached on an error and stole second. Peadin was safe on another error and Bunting singled in both runners.

Eppes Wins In Track Meet

WASHINGTON — Eppes High School picked up its second straight track victory Monday with a 79-27 romp over P. S. Jones of Washington.

But the Bulldogs suffered another telling injury when high jumper Grant Bell was pronounced out for the season with an injury. Previously the Eppes team had lost Nathaniel Corbett, their outstanding performer of last year with an injury. He is expected to return in the next couple of weeks, however.

Rene Laughinghouse led the victory, piling up 23 3/4 points during the afternoon.

Eppes travels to Windsor Wednesday to take part in a three-way meet.

Stokes In Upset Of Belvoir Nine

BELVOIR — The Stokes-Pactolus Blue Jays upset Belvoir-Falkland yesterday 4-2, and kept the Eagles from taking over first place in the Pitt County Conference.

With a victory, Belvoir could have moved a half-game into the lead in the loop. Now, with a 3-2 mark, they trail Ayden and Winterville by a half game. Stokes now stands 2-2 for the year in conference games.

Stokes started the scoring in the third with a lone run. Brown walked and scored on Parker's double.

In the sixth, Stokes came up with three more runs to wrap it up. Crandall reached on a fielder's choice and Bullock walked. Conleton singled and Brown slammed a triple to drive in all three runs.

$50 Million Helped A Few Of Poor In Detroit

By DICK BARNES
AND
GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writers

DETROIT (AP) — City, state and federal investigators are busily searching the record of Detroit's antipovertry agency today, trying to find out why $50 million in federal funds has helped only a fraction of the city's poor.

By the antipovertry agency's own admission, only 53,283 persons were participating in its programs at the end of last year. The figures, contained in an unpublished quarterly report, represent barely 15 per cent of the 349,718 poor people in the agency's target areas.

Last month, in its report on the riot that killed 42 persons here last summer, the President's Commission on Civil Disorders raised questions about the city agency's performance.

The commission said that $19.6 million in federal funds spent during the first nine months of 1967 provided job opportunities for less than half the city's unemployed. It also said that community action programs costing $12.6 million reached only 30 per cent of the poor.

Drawing comparisons between Detroit and two other cities that had racial disorders, the riot commission said Newark, N.J., provided job opportunities for less than 20 per cent with $2.6 million, and New Haven, Conn., less than 30 per cent with $2.1 million. In community action programs, the commission said, Newark reached 44 per cent of the poor with $1.9 million and New Haven reached 42 per cent with $2.3 million.

Since the commission's report, investigators for a Michigan legislative committee, the General Accounting Office of Congress, and the city auditor's office have been examining operations of the antipovertry agency—Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh's Committee for Human Resources Development.

Among the things they are looking at:

Dual Role For The Conductor

HONOLULU (AP) — The musical director of the Honolulu Symphony, Robert LaMarchina, had to turn in a dual performance—as conductor and soloist—at a recent concert here.

LaMarchina doubled as cello soloist after scheduled cello soloist Jacqueline DuPre had to withdraw because of an injured wrist.

LaMarchina, an accomplished cellist, solved the problem by taking over the soloist role, turning his conductor's baton over to the symphony's associate conductor, Yoshimi Takeda.

After the cello number, "Concerto in B Minor for Cello and Orchestra" by Antonin Dvorak, LaMarchina returned to the podium for the remainder of the symphonic program.

—The agency headquarters is in a 40-year-old building it leased from one of Cavanagh's former business associates. In two years the annual rent has nearly equalled the building's $180,000 purchase price.

—Antipovertry officials bought $80,000 worth of dental equipment in mid-1966. Through December 1967, exactly four patients had been treated.

—Job programs have piled atop one another, creating, in the words of an antipovertry official, "some accidental overlaps."

—The city's antipovertry program has been late or irregular in paying its bills.

—On-the-job training funds sometimes have gone to employers for training workers who already had dropped out of the program.

—$150,000 has been spent developing performance measurement techniques with more to follow. Yet officials couldn't provide some routine statistics required for their last quarterly report to the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Only New York and Chicago have received more antipovertry funds than Detroit, the nation's fifth largest city. Antipovertry money allocated to Detroit is channeled through a single agency—the Mayor's Committee for Human Resources Development. In all other major cities, except Chicago, the funds go to private, non-profit community action programs.

Efforts to discuss the antipovertry program with Mayor Cavanagh failed. He canceled two appointments with reporters, and did not return a telephone call.

But Richard Simmons Jr., third director of the Detroit operation in its three years, defended the program. "I don't just think we are, I know we're getting to the people," he said.

Can Only Assume Driver Disgusted

SALINA, Kan. (AP) — Police said they can only assume the driver of an auto was disgusted with STOP signs. The sign at the intersection of Cloud and Broadway was found beaten to the ground recently.

A witness told officers a car stopped at the intersection. The driver backed up and methodically rammed his car into the STOP sign until it was flattened.

The driver then turned his slightly dented vehicle back into the street and sped off.

Inter-Island Air-Hopping Up

HONOLULU (AP) — Inter-island passenger air traffic in Hawaii in 1967 jumped well past the two million mark and rose 20.7 per cent above the 1966 total.

The Airports Division of the State Department of Transportation reports 2,117,557 passengers carried in the 12 months ended Dec. 31, compared with a 1966 total of 1,754,970.

in an interview.

Other agencies aren't so sure: —The Detroit city auditor, after spending 15 months examining 1966 antipovertry books, will issue a report this month. A city official who refused to permit use of his name said the report will show that bookkeeping hasn't improved since the auditor's last report, which criticized 1965 operations.

—The General Accounting Office is beginning another audit of the Detroit program even before reporting on a 10-month check made last year.

—A Michigan House of Representatives committee is expected to release soon a report criticizing everything from travel expenses to the property leases negotiated by the program.

Heading the state investigation is Rep. James Del Rio, a Detroit Democrat but a political foe of Cavanagh, who also is a Democrat. Del Rio said he is particularly interested in the city's leasing of its antipovertry headquarters.

An Associated Press check of documents in Detroit, the state capital at Lansing, Washington, D.C., and Tucson, Ariz., produced this background on the lease:

The building at 903 W. Grand Blvd., about four miles from downtown Detroit, is held in the name of Detroit Convalescent Home Inc., a firm owned by James P. Hannan, a former state senator.

Detroit Convalescent Home was incorporated May 6, 1958, with Hannan as president and Cavanagh as secretary, registered agent and one of three directors.

Cavanagh was replaced as resident agent after he took office as mayor in 1962, according to a document dated May 1, 1962, and filed with the state Dec. 7 of that year. The firm's 1962 annual report showed he also had been replaced as secretary and a director.

The present resident agent and secretary is Oliver C. Nelson of Detroit, a former law partner of Cavanagh.

According to documents turned over to federal auditors, Hannan and Dr. Howard Bergo signed an agreement with Socony Mobil Oil Co. in February 1965 to buy the Grand Boulevard building—then Mobil's regional headquarters—for $180,000.

On Dec. 21, 1965, the city agreed to lease the building from Hannan and Bergo for $5,875 a month—or $70,500 a year. The city also leased equipment in the building for $333 a month, a figure raised six months later to $500. The building lease was signed Feb. 1, 1966, and has been renewed periodically.

Hannan and Bergo became the building's owners of record on March 23, 1966, according to a deed filed April 7, 1966. The antipovertry agency moved in during April.

Bergo said in an interview he did not know the details of events that led to the lease. A Mobil spokesman said the firm could not discuss the matter.

Bergo deeded his portion of the building ownership to Hannan on Aug. 20, 1966. Hannan then deeded the property to Detroit Convalescent Home on Feb. 1, 1967.

Hannan, meanwhile, moved to Arizona where in March 1967 he filed for reorganization of his financial affairs under the federal Bankruptcy Act. Antipovertry headquarters rent checks currently go to the receiver.

In discussing the lease, Simmons said OEO regulations prohibit antipovertry agencies from purchasing buildings. But, he added, "You bet we'd have been better off with any building we've got if we could have bought it."

The program leases 26 buildings in Detroit at a cost of $254,739 annually. The headquarters lease is the largest.

Another type of lease used in the Detroit program posed this question: Why did officials contract for full-sized automobiles at $100 a month each at the same time other city agencies were buying compact cars for less than $1,500 apiece?

Simmons said regulations did not permit the agency to buy cars. Questions also arise in other areas.

Antipovertry officials operate an alphabet soup mixture of employment programs called AYES, NYC, OJT, and STEPS that has led to duplication of efforts in recruiting and job placement.

Donald Healus, director of manpower, said in an interview: "By pieces of legislation, even different offices in the Labor Department, these things grew topsy turvy . . . There were, as you said, some accidental overlaps."

A city auditing official said sloppy job reporting has resulted in the city paying some employers for training workers even after the trainees had dropped out. "We can't even tell when they quit so we can figure how much the employer should have been paid," he said.

There also are complaints that the agency hasn't paid its bills on time.

Mrs. Mattie Brown, director of the Peter Pan Nursery which has a $40,000 contract to operate a full-day Head Start program for 40 children, said she receives her payments from the city "after the overdrafts are created."

"The money due on Jan. 31, I got March 23," she said. "The money due Dec. 31 came March 5. We can't find out where the delay is."

There have been times, however, when the antipovertry program found itself with a surplus of money, but at least once this too created problems. In mid-1966, for example, the program discovered a medical budget surplus and used $80,000 to purchase 12 dental chairs and accessories for a planned dental program. Then, said Simmons, a budget pinch developed and the equipment sat in storage for more than a year before three chairs finally went into operation. The dental report for calendar 1967 listed four patients treated.

"We're still trying to develop a very sophisticated style of proving the merits of the program," Simmons said. "But it's a very difficult thing because how do you measure attributes?"

To develop such a program, the city antipovertry agency has spent $150,000 with an accounting firm and is negotiating an additional $100,000 contract.

But in a Feb. 1 report to OEO for the three months ending last Dec. 31, the agency said it couldn't provide a required breakdown by sex of nearly 9,000 program participants and that "data on full time or part time personnel (is) not available for all components."

When the city of Detroit audited antipovertry books for 1965, it reported finding such shortcomings as improper or incomplete reporting of city matching contributions, money paid from wrong funds, poor inventory records and some missing equipment.

An official familiar with the pending audit report for 1966 was asked whether the deficiencies had been remedied.

"Well, no," he said. Del Rio's legislative committee employed a private investigating firm, the John T. Lynch Agency, to audit travel spending by the antipovertry agency.

A Lynch agency report claims that former antipovertry director Phillip J. Rutledge traveled at program expense 133 days during his two-year, nine-month tenure, visiting such cities as San Francisco, Las Vegas, Phoenix and Honolulu.

Rutledge couldn't be reached for comment.

Some leaders of the poor have criticized the city for not consulting them enough on program development.

Simmons said one new program hired a dozen poor persons as consultants at $4 an hour and it "turned out to be one of the most dynamic things we've done" in improving communications.

But, he said, hiring the poor for some other antipovertry jobs, such as community aides, had created a problem. Said Simmons:

"Some aides look upon the program as a longtime career project for themselves."

Academy Awards Tonight

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — This is Oscar night, and the movie industry hopes to present a shining image to the millions of television viewers who will be watching Hollywood's annual ritual.

Not in many years has so much civic effort been exerted to present the Academy Awards in an atmosphere of dignity and excitement. The plethora of no-shows that marred last year's event—only one of the acting winners was present—appears to have been avoided. The academy proudly predicts that 17 acting nominees will be in the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium for the awards.

The only acting nominees who won't be in the Oscar audience are Katharine Hepburn, who is making a film in France, and Paul Newman, who offered the eyebrow-raising excuse that he is in the East editing the film he directed last year. Mrs. Spencer Tracy will accept the Oscar if her late husband should win.

This is Oscar's 40th anniversary, and the event will be marked by a special film saluting the four decades of academy winners. Such oldtime favorites as Marie Dressler, Charles Laughton, Ronald Colman, Humphrey Bogart, George Arliss, Gary Cooper and Paul Muni will be seen in their award performances. The four segments are narrated by Katharine Hepburn, Olivia de Havilland, Grace Kelly and Anne Bancroft.

No production numbers are planned, but nominated songs will get an airing with the talents of Shirley Jones, Louis Armstrong, Lanei Kazan, Angela Lansbury and Sergio Mendes and Brazil 66.

The telecast (ABC—10 p.m. EST) has been tentatively scheduled for two hours, but it remains open-end in case of overtime. If past performance is any criterion, it will run overtime. But Bob Hope, emcee for the 14th time, is expected to keep things rolling.

The major nominees:
Best picture—"Bonnie and Clyde," "Dr. Dolittle," "The Graduate," "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner," "In the Heat of the Night."

Best actor—Warren Beatty, "Bonnie and Clyde"; Dustin Hoffman, "The Graduate"; Paul Newman, "Cool Hand Luke"; Rod Steiger, "In the Heat of the Night"; Spencer Tracy, "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner."

Best actress—Anne Bancroft, "The Graduate"; Faye Dunaway, "Bonnie and Clyde"; Dame Edith Evans, "The Whisperers"; Audrey Hepburn, "Wait Until Dark"; Katharine Hepburn, "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner."

Best supporting actor—Gene Hackman and Michael J. Pollard, "Bonnie and Clyde"; John Cassavetes, "The Dirty Dozen"; Cecil Kellaway, "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner"; George Kennedy, "Cool Hand Luke."

Best supporting actress—Carol Channing, "Thoroughly Modern Millie"; Mildred Natwick, "Barefoot in the Park"; Estelle Parsons, "Bonnie and Clyde"; Beah Richards, "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner"; Katharine Ross, "The Graduate."

'Flying Time' Is All On Ground

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "Test pilot" Jack Heitman has better than 1,000 hours in the cockpit of a World War II fighter running at full throttle, and he's never left the ground.

Heitman, technical services manager for the Cupples Products Division of the H. H. Robertson Co., operates a bobtailed, wingless Chance Vought Corsair.

The Corsair directs a blast of air against prefabricated curtain walls custom designed for buildings.

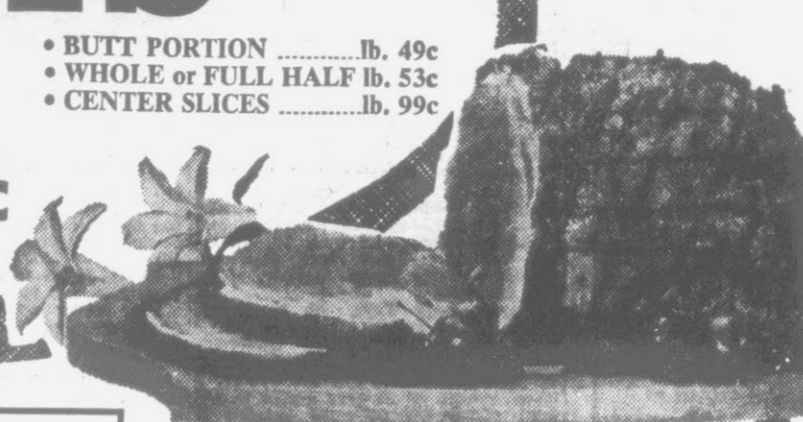

The fighter's 2,100-horsepower engine generates a 135 miles-per-hour slipstream to test the effect of hurricane-force winds on the curtain walls. Water jets add the equivalent of torrential rain to the big wind.

Cupples bought the Corsair in Miami 10 years ago and the aircraft was flown to St. Louis. The federal government removed wings, tail and special instruments. Company technicians sawed off the fuselage just behind the cockpit and what was left was mounted in front of a testing frame.

APPREHENSIVE WIFE
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — As Mrs. Craig Davis' birthday approached, her husband opened his lunch and found a list of all her clothing sizes.

THERE OUGHT TO BE A LAW!

The Worry Clinic Experience With Life Is Not In The Books

Notice Tom's comments about the two radically different types of teacher. Perhaps the academic prof is not wholly to blame, for he is often a victim of his isolated, braustruster environment. It takes wide experience with life to give you "Horse Sense" but it beats a college degree!

By GEORGE W. CRANE Ph. D., M. D.

CASE F-539: Tom S., aged 20, attends the University of Baltimore. "Dr. Crane," he began, "I know what you mean when you say probably 75 percent of psychology professors can't practice what they teach."

"For I started college elsewhere and got soured on psychology in my introductory course. "But when I came here, I heard many students singing the praises of Dr. Raymond B. Nell."

"He belongs to that 25 percent of educators you say can really apply their psychology. "For Dr. Nell starts with problems down here on real earth. "But a lot of our academic profs start way up in the stratosphere and never bridge the gap to everyday dilemmas down here on terra firma."

"Why can't all professors imitate Dr. Nell and slant their courses to the real problems in life which their students will face?"

Alas, many children start out in life with the proverbial "silver spoon" in their mouth. They never carried a newspaper route or sold anything door-to-door. And they mingled with other coddled youngsters, often in ritzy private preparatory schools. Then they went on to some Eastern college.

After graduating, they were terrified at the thought of going out upon the real firing line of life, so they eagerly accepted a graduate fellowship, to work toward a Ph. D. Perhaps their Ph. D. thesis was on some such profoundly practical (?) topic as "The Love-Life of the Goldfish."

After pecking at goldfish for three years, they now blossom out with that coveted Ph. D. degree. Remember, they have never yet come to grips with grim reality or experienced the acute economic and practical problems of everyday American business competition.

But they avidly accept a teaching job at some Midwestern or Southern University. Although they may never have taken a public speaking course and have no firsthand experience with business, they may be assigned such psychology courses as "Applied Psychology" or "Sales Psychology."

Yet all they know is the love life of the goldfish! However, they strut up and down the classroom, pontificating to the sycophantic coeds who sit on the front rows and expose their nylon calves.

Many of these inept professors aren't even good calf-judgers, whether of the 2-legged or even 4-legged sort that the 4-H Clubbers exhibit at the State Fair!

"Horse Sense" or gumption is something you don't get out of books!

Alas, far too many professors are "book" teachers. So are many physicians nowadays, for the stress is more and more on the academic vs. the pragmatic. Like the 25 percent of other practical psychology colleagues, I stress "Horse Sense" psychology that is slanted toward the everyday dilemmas we all face.

But those 75 percent who are academic profs would like to boil me in oil, for they say: "That awful Dr. Crane! He cheapens the dignity of scientific psychology by using 2-syllable words and pandering to newspaper readers!" But newspaper readers usually have "Horse Sense."

Chapter Of N.M. History Missing

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — A chapter in New Mexico's history recently was reported missing by Florence awley Ellis in police.

The anthropology professor at the University of New Mexico told police someone took a chapter of her manuscript on New Mexico and Southwestern archaeology from a car parked in front of her home.

The automobile belonged to Miss Marian Krebs, who was typing the manuscript.

Prof. Ellis said the missing chapter was 50 pages in length. However, she said she has the original manuscript and the chapter only will need retyping.

Goren on BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN (© 1948 by The Chicago Tribune) Both vulnerable. East deals.

Bridge hand diagram showing North and South hands with cards and suits.

The bidding: East South West North Pass 1 ♠ Dbble. Rdbble. Pass 2 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: King of ♣. Altho West held the setting tricks in his own hand, his failure to cash out promptly against South's four spade contract provided the latter with an opportunity to avert defeat. West opened the king of hearts and continued with the ace. He shifted to the jack of diamonds and South won the trick in his hand with the queen. It appeared that the contract must go down to defeat for, in addition to the two heart tricks, declarer has to lose the ace of spades and the king of clubs—both of which cards are marked with West by virtue of his vulnerable take-out double. There was only one slim hope which required some favorable distribution and a bit of cooperation from the enemy. At trick four, declarer casually led a small spade from his hand. West should have hastened to go in with the ace in order to disengage himself from the lead while he could still do so safely. Instead, he played low, and dummy's seven of spades won the trick. The ace and king of diamonds were played next and when both opponents followed suit, South was well on his way. A trump lead threw West in with the ace and, in order to avoid giving his opponent a ruff and discard, he was obliged to exit with a club. Declarer put up North's ten which held the trick to clinch the contract. West should have been aware that the ace of spades was a potential liability to him if he held on to the card too long, and he should have released it at the first opportunity. After cashing the first two tricks, it would have been good strategy for him to cash the ace of spades and then get out waiting for the setting trick with the king of clubs.

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP) (NCDA) — North Carolina egg markets steady Tuesday. Supplies adequate, demand fair. Prices paid producers and handlers for consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered nearby outlets: Grade A large whites: 42 to 42½; medium, whites: 38 to 36½; small, whites: 25 to 24.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA) — North Carolina hog markets today were steady. Tops of 18.00-18.50 Rocky Mount; 17.75-18.50 Wilson; 17.25-18.25 Bethel; 18.00 Salisbury; 17.75 Greensboro; 17.50 Siler City, Denton.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market launched one of its greatest rallies of this year as investors swarmed to get aboard the "peace" bandwagon this afternoon. Volume was huge.

The ticker tape ran 30 minutes late. First-hour volume was 6.29 million shares, second only to the record 6.32 million of April 3.

Big blocks reflected commitment of large sums of investment money while a swarm of smaller transactions showed that investors were trying to make up for lost time in riding an advancing market, interrupted by a market recess Tuesday in honor of Martin Luther King.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 13.18 at 897.60, slightly below its gain of 15.03 points shown a half hour earlier.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 4.4 at 320.1 with industrials up 8.3.

Four Barns Are Destroyed By Fires In Night

Four barns were destroyed by fire in Pitt County last night and authorities are investigating the possibility that they were set.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson said the first call was to the Ray Brooks Sumrell farm two miles west of Ayden where a barn was burned.

At 12:40 a packhouse on the Jack Dail farm at Roundtree was reported burning. Some farm machinery, hay and corn were destroyed with the barn.

At 12:48 a barn on the Robert Jones farm near Ayden was on fire and at 1 a.m. firemen spotted another barn on the same farm on fire.

County Fire Marshall Michael Worthington said the Ayden Fire Department answered the call to the Sumrell farm. Winterville and Ayden trucks answered the call to the Dail farm. The Ayden department then went to the Jones farm and Grif-ton was called in to assist with the second fire there.

Worthington said all county fire departments were manned last night and will continue to be as long as it is considered necessary.

He reminded county citizens that the county-wide fire alarm system is now in operation. Persons needing a fire department may call 752-5136 on the Greenville exchange. On other exchanges they should dial the operator and ask for Zenith 151.

Choir To Render Cantata Here

The Chancel Choir of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church will render a Maundy Thursday cantata, "On The Passion of Christ," by David H. Williams, Thursday night at 7:30.

The 37 voice choir is directed by Dr. C. Lawrence Murphy with Mrs. Paul Toll, organist.

The text of the cantata includes the words of Jesus to His disciples as He instituted the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, concluding with the words of His passion on the cross. The Sacrament will be administered by the pastors following the musical presentation. The public is invited to be present.

Members of the choir are: soloists, Mrs. Tom Loftis; Miss Paula Taylor; Tom Brown; and Dr. Ed. Clement; sopranos: Mrs. Paul Carr; Miss Betty Jo Foster; Mrs. Cecil Heath; Miss Evelyn McGowan; Miss Janice McGowan; Mrs. David Middleton; Miss Cathy Smith; Miss Lynda Spears; Mrs. W. H. # Athletes Welcomed By Mayor To City

Mayor Eugene West has welcomed participants in the National AAU Men's Indoor Swimming and Diving Championship and he urged local citizens to support the event with their attendance.

A curfew, which had been in effect here since Sunday, was lifted today and those wishing to travel to Minges Coliseum for the swimming competition Thursday, Friday and Saturday may do so unhampered.

"The City of Greenville is very appreciative that the National AAU Men's Indoor Swimming and Diving Championship is being conducted in Minges Coliseum at East Carolina University," Mayor West said today.

"The citizens of Greenville always look forward to the opportunity of extending our hospitality to visitors from other parts of the state and nation."

The curfew, imposed after last Saturday night's violence, curtailed attendance at Sunday night's diving competition.

The swimming championship competition begins with preliminaries Thursday afternoon at 1 p.m. There will be preliminary rounds tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock and Saturday morning at 9:30.

Finals are being held Thursday and Friday nights at 8 o'clock and Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Staffers Honor Dr. Nelson At Reception Here

A resolution and letter of appreciation for his service to the county as director of the Mental Health Center was presented to Dr. Phillip G. Nelson Friday at a reception.

Dr. Nelson left county service Friday to return to his private practice.

The party was sponsored by mental health staff members in appreciation for Dr. Nelson's service.

Guests attending the affair included Dr. James Osberg of Raleigh, deputy commissioner of the State Department of Health, Dr. Alfred Yongue, Dr. Nelson's partner in private practice and student public health nurses from East Carolina University, as well as his wife, Dr. Carla Nelson.

Dr. Nelson's successor, Dr. Walter Savage, was also a guest at the reception.

Student Rampage In Denmark, Too

COPENHAGEN (AP) — More than 3,000 teen-age students rampaged through the Danish capital today, lighting fires and breaking windows in protest against the new government's cancellation of free vacation rail travel inside Denmark which the previous Socialist government had allowed students.

mentary students have expressed an interest in the proposed summer program, which will begin June 13, as approved. Classes in summer school will begin at 8:15 a.m. and run until 1:15 p.m.

The summer program will be designated for remedial and make-up type work.

According to Keeter, 924 of the interested high school and elementary school students will need transportation, while 438 of the 1,854 pre-school children to participate in the summer program will probably need transportation.

Costs for providing transportation for the summer students would amount to about $31,000, Keeter reported, while salaries for the approximately 100 teachers will amount to about $90,000 for the six-week period.

The board approved serving free lunches to students attending the summer session. The $140,000 for the program was allocated to the board from Elementary and Secondary Education Act funds.

Nab 4th Man In Robbery Of Raleigh Bank

RALEIGH (AP)—Police said today a fourth man has been arrested in the $18,000 robbery Tuesday of a bank on the outskirts of Raleigh.

They said the man, Charles Baldwin, 21, of Brooklyn, N.Y., was picked up early today by Deputy Sheriff Richard Branch as he was hitchhiking near Wake Forest.

Officers said they recovered $6,000 from the man.

In addition to his Brooklyn address, Baldwin listed residences in Winston - Salem and Wilmington, police said.

Three men were arrested Tuesday.

Police said the fourth man was driving a getaway car and fled when a deputy sheriff arrived at the bank while three bandits were still inside.

Rep. Jones Calls For Tighter Enforcement

WASHINGTON, D. C. —Congressman Walter B. Jones today called for more rigid law enforcement to protect the rights and property of law-abiding citizens from "hoodlums who practice robbery, arson and other acts of violence for the mere thrill of it."

Jones urged President Johnson and all levels of government to help "untie the hands" of law enforcement officers and thereby "permit them to function effectively for the sake of protecting the life and property of the law-abiding citizens of this nation."

The First District congressman made his remarks in an address to the House of Representatives.

He said the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King last week was "tragic, useless and most regrettable," but he added that the rioting and destruction which followed was "equally deplorable and, as far as the future of this nation is concerned, even more serious."

Jones recalled his declaration of last year before the N. C. Negro Police Association: "There is no greater civil right than that of protection of one's life and property."

The widespread violence which has violated that right of many citizens of the nation in recent days, the congressman said, has left many of his constituents of both races "bewildered, confused and angry."

He said, "They are rightfully asking, Why is this happening? What can we do to protect our lives and property?"

The answer should be, Jones said, that law enforcement officers be allowed to meet violence with all necessary force. "That is just as important," he said, "as the practice of non-violence by our peace officers in areas where there are no riots and destruction."

Jones added: "Those who do not respect the rights and property of others should expect to be dealt with severely, even to the point of death."

He insisted that proponents of the Great Society must concede that a "decent society" is just as important and that "an utter disregard for the criminal laws and rights of others certainly is detrimental to both objectives."

Jones said it is "deeply disturbing" to think that American troops might "return from fighting for law and order in Vietnam to find the United States 'dominated by a criminal - sick society.'"

He concluded: "It is my hope that the President, the American people and the Congress itself will realize that the hour is late and that we must take corrective measures however strong and harsh they might be."
