Kennedy Gets A Majority In Nebraska Primary

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy marched to victory in Nebraska's Democratic presidential primary and turned his campaign guns today toward Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey—with a suggestion that battered rival Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy join him.

The New York senator marshaled 53 per cent of the vote for a majority over McCarthy, President Johnson and write-ins for Humphrey.

McCarthy, with 31 per cent of the ballots, absorbed his second defeat by Kennedy in a week, but the Minnesota senator said he would campaign through the primaries ahead, and was not interested in an alliance with Kennedy.

Republican Richard M. Nixon rolled to 70 per cent of the vote, and said that was a victory of greater magnitude than he had anticipated. He said it proved Nebraska was Nixon country.

But California Gov. Ronald Reagan polled a surprising 22 per cent, said he was gratified -and would not refuse the GOP nomination if it were offered.

But Reagan said once again that he is not going to become a candidate, and will not campaign for the nomination. "I could not now foresee myself soliciting the job," he said. "It's a job that seeks the man."

Sixteen Republican nominating votes were at stake in separate balloting, and candidates who favor Nixon won all of them.

The Democratic delegate picture was more clouded, with candidates listed as uncommitted—or pledged to Johnson—crowding the lengthy ballot.

Twenty-eight nominating votes were at stake—two more go automatically to the national committee members—who favor

But in the delegate contest, as well as the presidential preference poll, Kennedy led the way.

Candidates who have expressed a preference for him led for 17 delegate spots. McCarthy-pledged candidates led for two. Nine uncommitted delegates who have expressed no preference filed out the list of leaders for Democratic delegation posts.

With 1,994 of the 2,133 precincts counted, this was the vote in the Democratic popularity poll, which is not binding on delegates:

Kennedy 77,505 or 51 per cent; McCarthy 46,593 or 31 per cent; Humphrey write-ins 12,792 or 8 per cent; Johnson 8,480 or 6 per cent.

Johnson's rejection of candidacy came too late for his name to be taken off the ballot.

In the Republican count, with 1,851 precincts counted this was the situation:

Nixon 114,834 or 70 per cent; Reagan 35,766 or 22 per cent, write-in votes for New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, 9,214 or 6 per cent.

Reagan's name was on the ballot, which automatically lists all potential nominees who do not file denials of candidacy.

Rockefeller is a candidate for the nomination, but is not entering any primaries.

Nixon said Reagan had made a good showing in Nebraska, but added that was to be expected because there had been a campaign for the absent Californian.

Question Raised In 2 Precincts

By BLANCHE HARDEE
Reflector Staff Writer

Questions have arisen over officers elected for two Greenville township precincts in Saturday's Democratic precinct executive committee elections.

Pitt Democratic Executive Committee Chairman Henry Harrell said officers named for the Greenville number three and Greenville four precincts have been questioned.

Harrell said in both precincts the officers, including a chairman, vice chairman and secretary-treasurer were elected, then 10 members of the executive committee were chosen.

Officers named in Greenville three were the Rev. B. B. Felder, chairman; Mrs. Wilma T. Dupree, vice chairman; and Mrs. M. Virginia Jones, secretary-treasurer.

Greenville four officers included chairman F. D. Sledge; vice chairman, Mrs. Viola Vines and Samuel Hemby, secretary-treasurer.

A query to the State Democratic Party headquarters in Raleigh, Harrell said, referred the disputed elections back to the County executive committee.

Harrell said he has scheduled a meeting with officials of the two precincts Thursday morning and will instruct them to elect officers from among the precinct committee. He said that in the event any question remains as to the properly elected officers, the county executive committee may be asked to decide the legally elected officials.

In addition to the 10 precinct executive committee members and officers elected at Saturday's meeting, delegates were named to represent the precincts at the County Convention to be held May 25 at the Pitt County Court House.

The names of the officers of the various precinct executive committees were listed by Harrell.

They include:

BELVOIR: Edgar Warren, chairman; Mrs. J. R. Dunn, vice chairman; and secretary-treasurer;

BETHEL: D. T. House Jr., chairman; Mrs. David Speir, vice chairman; and Mrs. Ann Whitehurst, secretary-treasurer;

CHICOD NUMBER ONE: Furney V. Gaskins, chairman; Mrs. Curtis Spencer, vice chairman; and Mrs. Charles Gaskins, secretary-treasurer;

CHICOD NUMBER TWO: H. L. Fornes Jr., chairman; Mrs. Bobby Stokes, vice chairman; and Mrs. Runell Forbes, secretary-treasurer;

FALKLAND: W. W. Wooten, chairman; Mrs. Ruth Watson, vice chairman; Mrs. George Peaden, secretary-treasurer;

FARMVILLE: Marvin Speight, chairman; Mrs. Carol Oglesby, vice chairman; secretary-treasurer, none elected;

FOUNTAIN: Mark W. Owens Jr., chariman; Mrs. Nell Gardner, vice chairman; Mrs. Ruel Dilda, secretary-treasurer;

GREENVILLE NUMBER ONE: H. L. Roberts, chairman; Mrs. Betty Lee Francis, vice chairman; Mrs. F. P. Jackson, secretary-treasurer;

GREENVILLE NUMBER FIVE: Hugh C. Winslow, chairman; Mrs. Lloyd Allen, vice-chairman; secretary-treasurer, none elected;

GREENVILLE NUMBER SIX: Sonny McLawhorn, chairman; Mrs. Henry Martin, vice chairman; secretary-treasurer, none elected;

GREENVILLE NUMBER SEVEN: David Reid, chairman; Mrs. John Howell, vice chairman; Mrs. Edith Webber, secretary-treasurer;

GREENVILLE NUMBER EIGHT: Mrs. J. B. Spilman, Sr., chairman; Dr. James Butler, vcie chairman; and Dr. Kathleen Stokes, secretary-treasurer;

GREENVILLE NUMBER NINE: J. B. Spilman Jr., chairman; Mrs. Joe Steelman, vice chairman; and Mrs. Evelyn Boyette, secretary-treasurer;

GRIFTON: W. I. Bissette, chairman; Mrs. E. W. Hart, vice chairman; and Roger Johnson, secretary-treasurer;

SWIFT CREEK: Jimmy L. Wilson, chairman; Mrs. Mattie S. Hardee, vice chairman; no secretary-treasurer named;

WINTERVILLE: Don Langston, chairman; Mrs. W. A. Forbes, vice chairman; and Mrs. Helen Barrett, secretary-treasurer;

GREENVILLE NUMBER TWO: Mrs. Lois Howell, chairman; D. D. Gross, vice chairman; secretary-treasurer, none elected;

PACTOLUS: Burney W. Baker, chairman; Mrs. Sarah Lee, vice chairman; and Mrs. Connie Tripp, secretary-treasurer.

According to Harrell, the Ayden precinct Democrats met and elected the 10-member executive committee but did not elect officers at that time. Officers will be elected at a meeting tonight.

Other precincts, including Arthur, Carolina, Grimesland One and Grimesland Two, did not hold a meeting for lack of a quorum present. Harrell explained that quorum for any precinct meeting consists of not less than 10 regular Democrats.

Each committee and the officers will serve a two-year term as the official Democratic party organization of the precinct.

Hanoi Insists Bombing Halt Is Prerequisite

Reds Demand No Crossing DMZ

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

PARIS (AP)—North Vietnam demanded in the Paris talks today that the United States and its allies halt all attacks across the demilitarized zone into North Vietnamese territory and withdraw completely from the area.

Ambassador Xuan Thuy in a long statement directed at U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman specifically demanded that the United States stop all firing of artillery across the zone.

North Vietnamese spokesman said Thuy linked the demand with North Vietnam's insistence that the United States must halt the rest of the bombing of the North and stop "all other acts of war" before the talks here can go on to other issues.

The United States and South Vietnam have forces just below the demilitarized zone to counter North Vietnamese army regulars who allied commanders say infiltrate through the DMZ and around its western end via Laos.

Allies have fought heavy battles in such places as Khe Sanh, Con Thien and Dong Ha in the DMZ area. So far as is known no allied forces are inside the DMZ which divides the two Vietnams, although some forays have been made to attack enemy positions there. U.S. planes also have bombed the buffer zone from time to time.

In his opening remarks at the first full session Monday, Harriman called for a restoration of the DMZ as a nonmilitary buffer zone.

The two sides met for 3½ hours today and Harriman described the discussions as extensive and active. He did not elaborate.

The negotiators decided not to meet again until Saturday.

Harriman spoke first today for an hour and Thuy for an hour and a half, each time including translations.

Returning to the U.S. Embassy Harriman was asked by newsmen whether the United States favored a coalition in South Vietnam as one measure to bring about a peaceful settlement of the war.

ment of the war.

"We have never been for a coalition government," he said, "and we will never be for a coalition government."

While the North Vietnamese briefing was under way on the Left Bank of the Seine, an American report to newsmen by spokesman William Jorden was given at the U.S. Embassy.

Harriman, Jorden said, told Thuy that there are "some specific and urgent steps which are vital to peace, and on which it should be possible to agree."

Among these steps, Harriman also brought up the issue of the demilitarized zone, a strip of territory about six miles wide, half taken from South and half from North Vietnam. It is about 40 miles long.

Harriman said there are five areas in which both sides have similarities of interest:

—An independent, prosperous, neutral South Vietnam.

—Peace on the basis of the Geneva agreements of 1954.

—Settlement of the affairs of South Vietnam by its own people.

—Eventual reunification of North and South by peaceful means.

—Strict respect for the military provisions of the 1954 Geneva agreements.

Project Behind Schedule, Cause Undetermined

Greater Coordination Sought In Pushing Work In Shore Drive Area

By ALVIN TAYLOR
Reflector Managing Editor

The Redevelopment Commission and the Utilities Commission have a difference of opinion over who is holding up work in the Shore Drive area.

To solve it the Utilities Commission is asking that all parties involved in the complex construction meet periodically to plan and coordinate the work.

The problems came to light last night when Engineer Tom Rivers visited the Utilities Commission at its monthly meeting at the commission's request, to discuss the construction problems.

Rivers, whose engineering firm designed the site improvements, told the commission that the construction is running behind schedule.

The site improvements, under contract to Barrus Construction Co., is 35 percent complete, and the job is supposed to be finished by November.

Rivers indicated he could not determine the cause of the delay. However, he said land acquistion and other problems could have held up the work.

"Everybody who has any connection with the project needs to look a head and move faster," he stated.

In addition to Barrus work, the Utilities Commission is installing gas, water and electric underground lines, and Carolina Telephone is putting its lines underground. Blythe Brothers is also at work along the river bank installing a retaining wall and explanade.

The fact that the discussion resulted from a Redevelopment Commission complaint about the utilities work, was revealed by Utilities Commissioner Ray Minges.

"Let's don't beat around the bush," Minges stated. "The Utilities Commission got a letter from the Redevelopment Commission highly critical of the Utilities all out in the open.

"I think we do a good job, but if we are falling down I want to know about it."

Utilities Director Leonard Bloxam told the commission, he felt the work was going "very, very well."

He did point out that it is slower to relocate facilities, as in the Shore Drive area, than to work in a new area.

Assistant Director Malcolm Green told the commission he had not been aware that Utilities work was holding up the contractor. He said he recalled only one such incident and that was some months ago.

City Manager Harry Hagerty suggested that planning conferences be held with representatives of the various groups and the commission approved.

Commissioners last night approved an agreement with CPA John C. Proctor for auditing the utilities records. The price was $1,250.

Director Bloxam told the commission that bids have been requested for water, sewer and gas installation in the Moyewood housing project.

The commission also accepted the bid of T. A. Loving Construction Co. for installation of water lines to the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center on the Falkland highway. The 12-inch pipe will be installed at $2 per foot. Six feet of encasements under the highway will be installed at $30 per foot.

The commission took under consideration an agreement for mutual aid between municipally owned utilities. No action was taken pending further study.

They also made some minor changes in an ordinance concerning CATV. The franchise for providing this service has been awarded by the City Council to the Utilities Commission. Once the ordinance has been finally drawn, it will be submitted to the City Council for approval.

Certified

RALEIGH (AP)—The North Carolina Board of Elections today certified Rep. Jim Gardner as the Republican nominee for governor and declared Lt. Gov. Bob Scott the Democratic nominee, providing Mel Broughton does not call for a runoff by noon Saturday.

Broughton has already announced he won't call a runoff.

The board's action came during the official canvass of returns from the May 4 primary elections. The official returns showed no changes in the winners as they were shown in unofficial returns tabulated election night.

Scott officially got 337,368 votes compared to Broughton's 233,924 and Dr. Reginald Hawkins' 129,808.

Bloodmobile Collected 81 Pints Tuesday

The Pitt County Bloodmobile, which began a two-day visit here yesterday at the Greenville Moose Lodge, fell short of its 113 pint quota for the day.

Joe Clark, chairman of the blood program in Pitt County, said the bloodmobile collected 81 pints of blood, 32 pints short of the goal. Nine people, he said, were rejected for medical reasons.

The bloodmobile, which opened at 9:30 a.m. today, was scheduled to remain in operation until 3:30 p.m. Quato for the day was 113 pints.

Today's visit is the last visit for the fiscal year, Clark said.

He urged anyone who could to visit the Bloodmobile at the Moose Lodge and donate blood.

Arts Council Grant For 'The Rebel'

RALEIGH — The Rebel, of East Carolina University, is among 18 literary publications in the state to be awarded grants by the North Carolina Arts Council.

The grant for the ECU publication totaled $2,500 and will be used to encourage new writing talent and to support publication of more work by talented North Carolina writers.

The Literary Panel of the Council approved a total of $21,310 in grants, with indidivual grants ranging from $100 to $2,500.

The grants were announced by Sam Ragan of Raleigh, chairman of the North Carolina Arts Council. Ragan said, "While North Carolina has produced several successful writers, it is still difficult for many young writers of talent to find publication space for their work. There are in the state several literary magazines which are publishing work which is often experimental and innovative and which almost always is of quality. We believe these literary grants will encourage the writers in our state."

Special Forces Camp Beats Off Attackers

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — Enemy troops hit a second U.S. Special Forces camp this week but were driven off after destroying the communications bunker an some buildings and killing 19 Americans, the U.S. Command reported today.

US. helicopter gunships helped repulse the Viet Cong force which broke through a section of the perimeter in a three-hour fight Monday night for the Nui Ba Den Green Beret camp 55 miles northwest of Saigon.

The U.S. Command said at least 25 Viet Cong were killed. In addition to the 19 Americans killed, it said 24 were wounded.

The camp, atop a 3,000-foot mountain 20 miles from the Camodian border, is a main American radio station and an important observation post on enemy infiltration routes. It also has secret electronic equipment to guide allied aircraft over the Mekong Delta and to track movements of foreign planes.

Most Special Forces camps are garrisoned by 10 to 12 U.S. advisers and 300 to 400 South Vietnamese or mountain tribesmen known as Montagnards. The presence of an America force larger than usual at Nui Ba Den apparently was due to the special electronic and communication equipment.

However, the U.S. Command said the camp is much smaller than the Kham Duc Special Forces camp, near the Laotian border and about 300 miles to the north, which U.S. and South Vietnamese forces abandoned Sunday under attack by an estimated 5,000 North Vietnamese troops.

Pearl Harbor 'Victim' Is Dead

GROTON, Conn. (AP) — Retired Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel—commander of the U.S. Pacific Fleet on Dec. 7, 1941 when Japanese bombers caught it anchored in Pearl Harbor—is dead at 86.

Japan knocked out 18 ships and killed 3,435 Americans in the attack and drew the U.S. into World War II.

Kimmel died Tuesday of an apparent heart attack at his home here.

He had used much of his time since 1941 answering charges that he was to blame for the ease with which the Japanese brought off America's worst naval defeat.

Kimmel, who at the time was second in the U.S. Navy only to the chief of naval operations, said in 1966 he had taken "a bum rap."

"My principal occupation—what's kept me alive—is to expose the entire Pearl Harbor affair," he said.

"They made me the scapegoat," he said, "they wanted to get the United States into the war."

"That was President Roosevelt and Gen. George Marshall and others in the Washington high command," Kimmel explained.

"FDR was the architect of the whole business. He gave orders—and I can't prove this categorically—that no word about Japasent to Pearl Harbor except by Marshall and then he told Marshall not to send anything."

Within 10 days after the disasnese fleet movements was to be ter Kimmel was relieved of his command—which had included the combined U.S. and Pacific fleets.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed an inquiry board.

REAR ADM. KIMMEL
". . . a bum rap"

Members of Congress called for Kimmel's court martial. The board—in the first of eight separate investigations into the affair—charged Kimmel and the Army commander at Pearl Harbor, Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short, with "dereliction of duty."

Security reasons prevented Kimmel from making public until 1946 his own version of the incidents leading up to the attack.

He said then that Washington withheld from him intercepted Japanese messages which might have made Pearl Harbor into a U.S. ambush to trap the Japanese.

Ayden Man Injured As Truck Runs Into Train

GRIMESLAND — A Route 1, Ayden man was seriously injured yesterday afternoon when the pickup truck he was driving crashed into a train at a crossing just off U.S. 264, two miles east of here.

Investigating patrolmen said Paul Meadows, 52, was taken to the Beaufort County hospital in Washington.

The truck, he was driving, officers said, collided with a Norfolk-Southern freight train at the crossing at the eastern end of the old Washington road, 260 feet north of the U.S. 264 intersection.

Engineer of the train was identified as Charles Hall James of 533 West Chester Rd., Raleigh.

The Meadows truck, headed on the old Washington road, apparently was unable to stop in time to avoid the collision, the highway patrol reported, and collided with the front of the train engine.

Damage to the truck was placed at $2,000 and damage to the train was estimated at $300.

Meadows was charged with failing to stop for a railroad crossing.

The collision occurred at 1:45 p.m.

A total of 63 new industries have located in Pitt County during the last ten years, according to information released by the Pitt County Development Commission.

This period accounted for over half of the capital investments made during the ten years covered in the report by the commission. The total investment for the ten years was $29.5 million dollars.

Elena's Cookbooks Make Friends

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

Hail, Elena! That's what knowing cookbook collectors are likely to say. They mean Elena Zelayeta, the remarkable blind woman who lives in San Francisco and who cooks by touch and smell.

Until recently Elena's cookbooks have been devoted to Mexican cookery with a nod here and there to other cuisines. Now she stakes out new territory.

Her latest book is "Elena's Favorite Foods California Style" (Prentice-Hall), and it's a taste-good collection of recipes that cooks can rely on.

Elena's warmth and gaiety go right into her book. She tells all her secrets, adds her personal comments.

We'll always be grateful to Elena for including her famous Chilies Rellenos with Picadillo in her new book—and if you try this recipe, the chances are you will be too. Here Elena goes back to her Mexican heritage to present a dish that is widely welcomed not only by adventurous cooks on the West Coast but all around the country.

Most Chilies Rellenos recipes we have encountered stuff the peppers with cheese. But Elena uses Picadillo, made with a ground beef base, that's both hearty and savory.

ELENA ZELAYETA'S CHILIES RELLENOS WITH PICADILLO

1 dozen fresh long green chilies
Picadillo (See below)
6 eggs, separated
6 tablespoons flour
Salt to taste
Oil for frying
Sauce

Place chilies under broiler and turn frequently until they are well blistered on all sides. Place in a paper bag and close tightly so peppers will steam. Let stand 15 minutes. Peel off skins and remove seeds, being careful not to break chilies. Fill with the picadillo mixture. Beat egg whites until stiff. Beat egg yolks; fold into egg whites, then fold in flour and salt. Drop stuffed chilies into batter one at a time. Lift out chili with a spoonful of batter and drop in oil about 1½ inches deep, heated to 375 degrees. Turn to brown second side. Lift out with a slotted spoon onto paper towels. The puffy coating will deflate, but it will puff up again when you heat the chilies in the sauce. Makes six servings.

Sauce: Saute lightly one medium-size onion, minced, in a tablespoon of oil. Add an 8-ounce can tomato sauce, 1½ cups chicken broth, or a 10½-ounce can chicken consomme, a dash of powdered cloves and a stick of cinnamon, Salsa Jalapena to taste (or chopped canned green chili), a pinch of sugar and salt to taste. Simmer five to 10 minutes. Add Chilies Rellenos, and simmer until they are puffy and hot. Or, if you prefer, reheat the chilies in the oven and serve the sauce separately, thickened slightly.

PICADILLO

1 pound ground lean beef
1 onion, chopped
2 tablespoons oil
3 tomatoes, or 1 cup canned tomatoes
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
Pinch ground cloves
¼ teaspoon ground cumin (optional)
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup raisins, plumped in ¼ cup hot broth or water
Chopped canned green chilies or chili power to taste
½ cup slivered, blanched almonds

Brown beef and onion in oil. Add all remaining ingredients except almonds. Heat to boiling, turn heat low and simmer for 30 to 45 minutes. Stir in almonds. Makes about three cups.

He Should Take Cues From Pastor On Rites

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our only daughter is to be married in 3 weeks and my husband has the "jitters."

It will be a small, informal church wedding. My husband wants me to walk down the aisle on the other side of our daughter because he's afraid he might break down and cry if he walks her down the aisle alone to give her awway. We have always done everything together, and if he needs me for moral support I don't think I should let him down.

We have heard this is done in Jewish ceremonies but we are Methodists. When we asked our minister about this, he laughed at us and said he had never heard of such a thing. I would like your views.

DADDY'S PAL

DEAR PAL: If your daughter is being married in the church you had better take your cues from the minister who will perform the ceremony. But he shouldn't laugh. I am told that in the Old World orthodox Jewish marriage ritual it was traditional for the bride to be escorted by both her parents.

DEAR ABBY: I believe that unwed mothers should be forced by law to place their children for adoption. Unmarried mothers are emotionally disturbed, and they feel that it will add to their guilt feelings to "abandon" their children by adoption, and that will create more censure by other people. So the unmarried mother attempts to assuage her guilt feelings by becoming a "martyr" and keeping her child to raise.

She finds out too late that the little fertilized egg is not a toy doll, but a searching, screaming, demanding, expensive little person. The young mother, because of her burdensome responsibilities and cooped-up life, is likely to make the same mistake again. This is not theory—the records speak for themselves.

While the girls of today well understand the mechanics of sex, they know less than their grandmothers did about the psychology of the male, which explains why the predatory male, who does not have access to the outlawed facilities of the red light district, is able to persuade some "nice" girl to behave like an alley cat and ruin the lives of herself and her family.

REALISTIC

DEAR "REALISTIC": Your first sweeping generalization that "all unmarried mothers are emotionally disturbed" is absurd. From the thousands of letters I have received from girls in trouble, I have concluded that very few were "persuaded" by a predatory male to behave like an "alley cat." They are mostly nice girls who thought they were "in love" and were going to get married anyway, or girls who became too intimate, too soon with a boy who wanted too much and had too little control. This is not a case in favor of unmarried mothers keeping their illegitimate children — that remains, as it should, a personal matter.

DEAR ABBY: A letter in your column in which a father badgered his 5-year-old son to "act like a little man" interested me.

Why must a 5-year-old act like a "little man" What's wrong with his acting like a 5-year-old child? Which is what he is?

As a psychoanalyst, I know that many of my patients' problems began when they were prodded by impatient parents to "act like a little man" at the age of 4 or 5. They couldn't, of course, so having failed, they felt guilty for disappointing their parents.

Please, Abby, advise young parents to take heed. Children will—and should—act like children.

Mecklenburg Whetting Appetites

Reports of Mecklenburg County's tax take of more than $400,000 for the month of March from its special one per cent sale tax is certain to whet the appetite of other counties of the state to cash in on this new source of local government revenue.

Acting under provisions of a special legislative act, Mecklenburg last fall put to a vote of its people the proposition of levying a special one percent sales tax, the proceeds of which would go to local governments. To the surprise of most political observers in the state, voters of the county approved the measure.

When the state's sales tax report for March was made a few days ago, the state returned to Mecklenburg County $426,408, representing the one per cent tax on local sales for that month. On an annual basis, it means Mecklenburg County local governments may count on as much as $6 million from this new source of revenue.

Ever since Mecklenburg voters approved the special levy in a referendum, other counties of the state have shown increasing interest in offering the same proposition to its people. There is little doubt now that county and municipal governments in the state will present a solid front to the 1969 General Assembly seeking legislation that will allow every county to call a referendum on the special local sales tax.

As the largest and most propserous county in North Carolina, Mecklenburg's take from the new sales tax levy is considerably higher than would be the case with most counties. But even with some of the smaller counties, the revenue produced by the special additional sales tax would provide a significant boost to the operating funds available to them.

This new source of revenue for local governments appears almost a certainty in much of North Carolina now that the Mecklenburg experiment has proved successful.

Campaigners In Rural Carolina

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau

RALEIGH — The state is likely to see quite a bit of old fashioned, crackers and cheese political campaigning this summer and next Fall.

In fact, it's already begun. The Republican nominee for governor, Jim Gardner, stood at the counter in a county store at Red Oak, N. C., the other day munching on pork and beans and cheese and crackers for lunch, talking politics as he ate.

And Democrat Bob Scott of Haw River has an even stronger and older heritage of rural life and family. He's a farmer himself.

WILLIAM SHIRES

Scott likes nothing better than to stop at a small town barber shop, or to grab a snack and soft drink at a crossroads store, then talk about the weather, crops and politics.

After Rural Vote

Gardner has come more recently to this sort of relaxed, casual campaigning in the countryside.

But he will be doing more of it because the 35 years old Rocky Mount businessman realizes the significance of the rural vote and is aware of Scott's background and appeal. This was seen rather clearly in the May 4 primaries.

A few days later, Gardner was out in the small towns and crossroads in his home county of Nash, at Samaria and Gold Rock, Red Oak, Castalia, Battleboro and Whitakers, among others.

He stopped at the service mill. He shook hands along the mill. He shook hands alon gthe streets in Spring Hope and Nashville.

Contest Begins

This is not entirely a new style or technique for Gardner. He barnstormed and criss - crossed the Fourth District vigorously in his two campaigns against veteran Rep. Harold Cooley, and his most telling blow probably was the charge that Cooley had "lost touch" with the people.

This sort of thing is particularly important in rural areas and the small towns. Voters and others here do not want to be bypassed or forgotten in the surge of modern-day urbanization, growth of cities and suburbs, industrialization and migration from the farms. They do not want to be overlooked by political candidates rushing to embrace new programs and policies, some of which they neither understand or trust.

Also, politics never causes in the rural areas —not even during Spring planting season. In any crossroads tore — or after church — they will talk politics, whether it be local, state or national.

Certainly Gardner and Scott know this. So do the various congressional candidates, the legislative ones and those running for local office. It is a never - ending sort of game —and work.

Mostly Democrats

If there is anything strange about appeal to the voters the crossroads this time, it is that Gardner is a Republican—and most of those he talks to are registered, lifelong Democrats.

The idea now, on the part of Gardner strategists, is to try to break the bond of party, of old ties and of geography which has favored Democrats in the past.

Gardner's appeal is to registered Democrats as well as Republicans — without Democrat support he has no chance of winning in the Fall.

So he is appealing on a so-called "bi - partisan" basis, and he is appealing now to North Carolina's predominantly rural East.

Gardner makes no attempt to disguise or conceal this part of his overall 1968 political campaign strategy. He says he feels that East has held the balance of power in statewide elections in the past —and he hopes to carry these tobacco counties.

Kennedy Steamroller Isn't All That Strong

Sen. Robert Kennedy's victory in the Nebraska primary, coming on the heels of his previous primary win, obviously has strengthened his position as a major contender for the Democratic nomination.

The Kennedy push now will be into the other primaries, particularly that in populous California, in an effort to support the claim that he is the candidate who can attract the votes come November. His campaign thus far has been operated on the theory that each primary win makes the next a little easier, and together they make it less difficult to attract the required number of convention votes for nomination.

It is also evident now that Sen. Kennedy is training his sights not on Sen. Eugene McCarthy, but on Vice President Humphrey as a part of the "old leadership" which he hopes to replace.

As a couple of primaries have shown, the New York Senator is popular with voters in some states. On the other hand, the Democratic party can ill afford to overlook the fact that Sen. Kennedy is likewise extremely unpopular in many other states where Democratic votes have been the key to party victories in past years.

Convention delegates should not be intimidated by the Kennedy steamroller tactics which clearly are in the making, or by the Kennedy millions which already are pouring into the campaign for the nomination.

Tax Increase Is Symbolic Step

By GEORGE TAYLOR

NEW YORK (AP) —Enactment of the proposed tax increase - spending cut before Congress may not restore complete confidence in the dollar international'y.

A tax increase would be symbolic to foreigners that the United States is fighting to control its economy.

But the sticky balance of payments deficit, a key ingredient in the nation's financial posture, would remain even with the proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge and a $4 billion or $6 billion federal spending cut.

Adoption of the tax increase coupled with the spending cut "isn't going to make me whistle and hum from now on," said Leif H. Olsen, senior vice president of the First National City Bank in New York which has has extensive overseas operations.

"It won't turn around our balance of payments position," he said.

Some bankers and economists said the United States was buying time to put its economic house in order when the London gold pool was abolished in mid-March.

The United States and its six European gold allies shut off the flow of gold from their stockpiles to hoarders and speculators.

Dollars were being cashed in for gold at the U S.-guaranteed price of $35 an ounce because of the fear that the value of the dollar was being eroded by continuing inflation in the United States.

Without the gold pool, the seven gold partners agreed to keep the price of gold at $35 an ounce for official settlement between nations. But the price of free gold was allowed to float according to demand. This free gold price, currently the best available indicator of international opinion n the U. S. economy, is well above $39 an ounce now.

In Britain, some financial observers feel the tax - spending cut wouldn't be sufficient to restore complete confidence in the dollar.

Passage of the tax bill is vital, they say, and the estimated $10 billion will siphon off some inflationary pressures.

But, said one London banker, "people are more sophisticated than they used to be, and they would like to see a physical demonstration of an improvement in the U.S. balance of payments position before they will be convinced that we are over the hump."

Undersecretary of the Treasury Frederick Deming has predicted the first - quarter balance of payments deficit would be around $600 million, compared with $1.8 billion in the final three months of last year.

Hike Bobby's Allowance

WASHINGTON—Mrs. Rose Kennedy, mother of Sen. Robert Kennedy, added fuel to her son's presidential campaign when she told a reporter of Women's Wear Daily that she saw nothing wrong with spending a great deal of Kennedy money to win the Democratic nomination.

She was quoted as saying, "It's our money, and we're free to spend it any way we please. . .It's part of this campaign business. If you have the money, you spend it to win. And the more you can afford, the more you'll spend."

Mrs. Kennedy said her family was no different from the Rockefellers. "The Rockefellers are like us. We both have lots of money to spend on our campaigns."

I can just imagine a telephone conversation with Mrs. Kennedy and her son, Robert.

"Hello, Bobby, this is Mother. I heard you ran out of your allowance after the primary in Indiana, and you're now borrowing from Teddy."

"Yes, Mother. I tried to be careful, but the money just disappeared."

"Bobby, you have to be more careful. I gave you more than enough money for Indiana and I was hoping you'd have some left over for Nebraska."

"I'm sorry, Mother, but you can't imagine what television time costs these days. And then the newspapers in Indianapolis were against me, so I had to spend money for posters and outdoor advertising, and before I knew it, it was gone."

"Now, I don't want to lecture, Bobby, but you and I agrsed that you would not indulge yourself in one state. After all, you still have Oregon and South Dakota and California to go, and if you start borrowing money now from your sisters and brothers you won't have any left for the summer."

ART BUCHWALD

"But, mother," Bobby protested, "I think my allowance is too low. Nelson Rockefeller gets twice as much as I do and he isn't even running in the primaries."

"We're not the Rockefellers, son, and besides, he's older than you are. I could give you more money, but I am trying to teach you thrift and the value of money. After all, if you're going to be President of the United States, you should have an appreciation for the worth of the dollar."

"Mother, you talk as if I'm throwing my allowance away. Every cent I spent can be justified. I didn't buy any candy or soda pop with it. It all went to the campaign."

"I believe you, Bobby. But there are these terrible stories the neighbors are spreading that Rose Kennedy's son is throwing money around like water. Now it's none of their business what we do with our money, but at the same time I hate to hear them talking about you this way. Teddy just

Privacy Is For Sale

(Rocky Mount Telegram)

More disturbing news about Big Brother keeps cropping up. George Orwell's "1984" may have seemed far - fetched at the time it was written. Not any more. Orwell is becoming more of a prophet as time goes by. Take the case of the auto registration data which is sold by some states to certain commercial enterprises.

The courts recently tossed out a compalint against the state of New York which had been carrying on this questionable practice. The case may yet wind up in the Supreme Court. It ought to, although it's questionable whether that court will rule any differently than the lower courts.

By what right does a state put up for sale information about private citizens who apparently have no say-so about the matter? This is flagrant invasion of privacy. If a state can sell such data about auto registrations, it can dispense information about other matters.

Author Corliss Lamont filed a complaint against the practice in New York, correctly pointing out that it was clearly an unconstitutional invasion of privacy. Computers have become so efficient and sophisticated, he noted, that "a terrifying array of personal information" becomes available at the push of a button.

Federal Judge Marvin Frankel dismissed Lamont's suit last June, saying the information sold is not vital or intimate. He misses the point entirely. It is the practice of releasing such information that is objectionable because inevitably such information will contain vital or intimate facts about citizens. Once given legal endorsement, the flood gates will be opened to any and all government agencies maintaining countless files of information on the citizens of this country.

In a sense, this practice is similar to wire tapping. Once started — for whatever lofty or plausible purpose — the inevitable corruptive element appears. The result is still further destruction of the constitutional guarantees.

Mills Wins Points

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The reason President Johnson probably will get his 10 percent income tax surcharge, in spite of himself, becomes clear only when his conduct is contrasted with that of Rep. Wilbur D. Mills on the morning of Friday, May 3.

Just as Mr. Johnson was erupting in a televised press conference tirade against Mills and Congress that seemed to condemn the tax increase to death, Chairman Mills was meeting quietly in the Longworth House Office Building with key Democratic members of his House Ways and Means Committee. While hot words flowed from the White House, Mills was coolly asserting that the increase must and would be passed.

Mills told his colleagues he had become convinced that a tax increase was desirable and necessary. The $4 billion ceiling that Mr. Johnson had imposed on cuts in current spending to accompany the tax increase was too low to win passage on the House floor, Mills stressed. But he made clear the amount of the spending reduction was a question more of tactics than high principle.

This is just one piece of an imposing weight of evidence that conflict with the myth, propagated by the White House, that Mills had been double - crossing and frustrating the President the last two weeks of their long, acerbic struggle over taxes.

Far from just conducting an exercise in Congressional oneupmanship Mills has scored another major legislative triumph with the terms—including $6 billion in current spending cuts — written to his specifications. If this package now clears both Houses over angry liberal opposition, as seems likely, Mills would have made a breakthrough for fiscal conservatives toward restoring Congressional control over Federal pursestrings.

A month ago, Mills seemed close to getting what he wanted with the President's acquiescence, as we reported soon after. During a private discussion at the White House April 11, the two men had a meeting of the minds. Mills agreed to higher taxes. The President agreed in principle to major slashes of spending. Unfortunately, as subsequent events proved, specific figures were not mentioned.

Mills had expressed a personal preference for a $6 billion spending reduction but suggested that $5 billion might be the optimal figure in terms of House support. Mr. Johnson seemed to agree. But while Mills was back in Arkansas for Easter, the President's Council of Economic Advisers convinced him that $4 billion was the maximum cut the government could handle.

The President's renewed hardness became evident at the now celebrated meeting of Democratic legislative leaders at the White House on April 30. Mr. Johnson drew the line at $4 billion and demanded agreement from Mills. Mills refused.

What really irritated Mills were subsequent press leaks from the White House suggesting that the chairman had agreed to a $4 billion limit on spending reductions at that meeting. He quickly made clear that he had not. The next step was Mr. Johnson's outburst on May 3, a product more of bad temper than

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
RARE PERSONALITIES

What makes a person distinctive among his fellows? First of all a gracious personality. This does not necessarily mean a "yes, yes" man but one who has the capacity to get along smoothly with his fellow men. If a person has a natural dislike for people in general he will end up finding himself pretty well disliked by everybody.

The second element of distinction is the capacity to do something better than the average. It may only be to saw a board better or drive a nail straighter than someone else. It may be the capacity to know where to find sound information when it is needed. Some of the most distinguished men in modern life are businessmen. There are men of distinction in all the professions. There are scholars of distinction and teachers of distinction. There are baseball players and football players and boxers of distinction. Once in a while a person's infamy makes him distinctive among his fellows, but it also brings down upon him their contempt and enmity.

Usually the person of distinction makes himself a good living and perhaps a fortune. But there are other people of distinction who don't have a thousand dollars past them and yet have the respect and affection of all who know them.

Sometimes even a person regarded as a failure is a person of real distinction because he has qualities which wipe out the disastrous effects of his apparent failure.

When people seek distinction they usually do not get it. It is the reward of men's acclaim and God's favor.

The Games Gas Companies Play

By ELMER ROESSNER

The Federal Trade Commission, after many complaints, is looking into the games promotions that so many oil companies are putting on, Rufus E. Wilson, chief of the division of general trade restraints, told Connecticut gasoline retailers.

If the FTC crackdowns on some television commercials is a precedent, the FTC will act on these complaints just about the time the games are replaced by some newer sales bait.

Wilson said that dealers from Maine to Florida have complained that the games reduce their profits and in the end cost their customers money because the dealers must charge higer prices to pay for the games.

Where Is The Profit?

"While some dealers admittedly pump more gas because of the prize cards they hand out to their customers—some have to pay $15 for each thousand cards they hand out," he said, "And if they pump more gas, they have to pay more rent to their supplier. So where is the benefit?

ELMER ROESSNER

"Some dealers are inquiring as to who receives credit for the unredeemed cards the dealers have already paid for. Do their supplier or the game promoters receive this credit?

"This is the question which many dealers have repeatedly asked, but one which the oil companies and the game promoters involved have left unanswered. This is the question that Congressman John Dingell (D., Mich.), chairman of the House Small Business Subcommittee, says that he intends to find an answer to.

"He stated. . .that his subcommittee intends to see that the suppliers make a full accounting of the monies involved in their games."

Dealer Under Pressure

The FTC chief said that dealers are under pressure from suppliers and customers to participate in the games. "The sad part of it is that these customers are not aware that the dealer himself must pay a substantial portion of the cost of each card. . .and in return has only the promise of increased gallonage."

In Maryland, he said, certain legislatures estimated that many dealers were forced to raise prices by at least a cent a gallon to cover the cost of games, an increase which they said probably costs Maryland drivers about $15 million a year.

"Also allegedly involved," he added "is the possible exception in the advertisement and promotion of the games. As one newspaper reporter who took time to tabulate 6,322 cards involving three of the top oil companies' games stated: 'The odds of big winnings are about as large as the odds for snow in Miami.'

"Out of these 6,322 tickets in the tabulation the reporter found that all winning cards were missing."

called and told me you're using your Oregon money in Nebraska. I thought you told me Nebraska would be ey left for Oregon. Teddy's cheap."

"Teddy's a squealer. It's not true. I'll have plenty of mon- just angry because you gave more allowance to run in the primary in the District of Columbia than you gave him to run for senator of Massachusetts."

"I wish you boys would stop quarreling all the time over allowances. But Teddy did make a good point. If you spend all your money in the primaries, you won't have anything left over to run in the election. Don't you think you could put aside a little each week for a rainy day in November?"

"I'll try, Mother, but if you could just give me $100,000 more a week, I wouldn't have to keep asking you for money all the time. All the kids running have more dough than I do."

"We'll talk about it the next time I see you. Until then, try to be a little more careful. You don't have to buy prime time on television every time you get the urge."

"All right, Mother. But in the meantime, could you let me have my California primary allowance in advance? Ethel's having another baby."

legislative guile.

Indeed, Mr. Johnson himself worried that his outburst had killed the tax bill, as he prophesied to newsmen later that day on a plane ride to Kansas City. And indeed, he almost did. Angry Senate members of the conference committee considering the tax bill dug in their heels, insisting on the $6 billion cut that had passed the Senate.

To the amazement of the White House, however, Mills turned the other cheek to the President. On May 6, he won Ways and Means approval of a cut of "not less than" $4 billion, after rejecting $6 billion. He was aiming then for a compromise of $5 billion in the conference. But Senators, led by Louisiana's Russell Long, were so irritated at Mr. Johnson's May 3 outburst that they flatly refused to accept a cut one penny less than $6 billion. Mills agreed.

Glee Clubs In Joint Concert

The Men's and Women's Glee Clubs of East Carolina University, a total of more than 60 voices, will give a joint concert on the campus Thursday night.

Directed by Dr. Clyde Hiss and Beatrice Chauncey, the two groups will combine talents to present a varied program ranging from Brahms and Mozart to Gershwin and Cole Porter.

The program is scheduled at 8 p.m. in Wright Auditorium. It is free and open to the public.

The opening number, Mozart's "Coronation Mass," features nine soloists and an 11 - piece chamber orchestra.

Soloists will be Diane Auten, Christy Goodall, Karen Nielsen, Charlene De Shaw, Elaine Buckner, Kathleen Daughtry, Nancy Lancaster, R. Dixon Stuckey and Roy C. Dicks. Dicks also has a solo part in "Hebrew Chorus" by Camille Saint - Saens.

Jeanne Smith, one of the university's most talented vocalists, will do the solo part of a Schubert piece near the end of the program.

Wayne Amick and Christine Lowder will play the horns for a Brahms piece and Miss Auten, one of the soloists for the opening number, will direct "The Bride" by Brahms.

Joanna Corbett is accompanist for the Women's Glee Club. Gregory Bell and Particia Hiss, wife of the director, accompany the men's group.

Charge Driver In Tuesday Accident

Joseph Elliott Patrick, 21, of 707 Greenville Blvd. was charged with failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety following investigation of an 8:33 p.m. mishap yesterday on 10th Street, 175 feet East of the Evans Street intersection.

Police said the Patrick car collided with a vehicle driven by Jacquelyn Earle Conway, 21, of 114 East 12th St. causing an estimated $25 damage to the Conway car and about $80 damage to the Patrick vehiile.

No injuries were reported.

Prizes Won By ECU Composer

Dr. Gregory Kosteck, composer-in-residence at the East Carolina University School of Music, has won national and international prizes for two of his recent compositions.

His "Concert Fantasy for Violin, Piano and Orchestra," premiered by the ECU Symphony Orchestra during the ECU Contemporary Music Festival last month, was a finalist in competition for the first annual Sigvald Thompson Award for Competition sponsored by the North Dakota Sympnony Orchestra Association.

The other Kosteck piece, "Fantasy for Organ," won a cash prize in the finals of the International Organ Composition Competition in Zwolle, Holland.

"Fantasy," written for ECU faculty organist, Dr. Robert Irwin, will be published later this year by World Library Publications of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Opening lead: Five of ♠

A thoughtful play at trick one by East provided a vital clew to a successful defensive campaign against South's four heart contract.

West opened the five of spades and East put in the jack. The normal procedure for third hand is to play high, however, East felt reasonably certain that his partner was not underleading the ace against a suit contract. His play of the jack could hardly cost, therefore, and it might uncover information vital to the defense.

South won the first trick with the queen of spades and led a heart to dummy's jack which East covered with the ace. It had been clear from the outset that dummy's club suit would provide a convenient parking place for some of declarer's losers. Now that the ace of trumps was dislodged, it was essential for the defense to cash out whatever tricks were available to them, and the purpose behind East's play to the first trick became apparent.

If the jack of spades had driven out the ace, West would be marked with the queen and East can profitably continue the attack in that suit. When declarer turned up with the spade queen, however, the futility of a spade continuation became obvious and a diamond shift was clearly indicated.

In selecting the card to lead, East was careful to play the jack of diamonds. Declarer put up the king and West promptly cashed three tricks in the suit.

If East plays the king of spades at trick one to force the ace, his future course may be shrouded with uncertainty. If he succumbs to the temptation to return the jack of spades when he is in with the ace of hearts, declarer can run for cover with 10 tricks—four hearts, four clubs, and two spades.

Shoes Matched, Suspect Charged

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police said a would-be holdup man lost his shoe while leaping into a car after his intended victim, a druggist, yelled for help. Constable Albert Fishman followed the man to a vacant apartment house and called in detective Michael Creeden. Creeden found another shoe in the building and a shoeless man named Louis Jones, 28. Creeden said the shoes matched and they fit Jones, who was charged with attempted robbery.

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The summit meeting of two film immortals took place one recent evening in the sumptuous salon of George Cukor, the director.

The principals: Greta Garbo and Mae West.

Miss Garbo had surprised her longtime friend and director by expressing a desire to meet Miss West. Cukor arranged a dinner.

Garbo, always prompt, arrived first. Miss West, who dearly loves an entrance, came later. She disarmed Garbo at once by greeting her with a "Hello, dear" and a Hollywood-style kiss on the cheek.

"From that moment on, they got along famously," says Cukor. "Garbo wanted to know about Mae's muscle-men, and Mae explained that this one and that one were infatuated with her."

Miss Garbo was unavailable for comment. But Miss West said she enjoyed the evening. What did they talk about?

"Well, she said that she loved my pictures, and I said the same about hers," Mae recounted. "I said to her, 'You know, you really ought to make another picture—you look great.' She said, 'I dunno; I'll think it over.'"

The meeting with Garbo was another event in the recent renaissance of Mae West, who has had an amazing number of careers in her 74 years. The most recent one when she was persuaded by Cukor and Robert Wise to accept honorary membership in the film fraternity at the University of Southern California.

Mae not only showed up, she reminisced about her sensation-filled career with the two directors, then performed part of her night club act. The appearance sparked Wise to propose a television special, which producer Stanley Musgrove is now preparing for Wise's company and Universal. Now there is talk that Jim Aubrey and Hunt Stromberg Jr. will produce for Warner Brothers-Seven Arts a film version of a West play, "Sextet," starring Mae. It would be her first film since "The Heat's On," 25 years ago.

Why has she been off the screen so long?

"Well, it wasn't because I didn't have offers," she remarked. "I just couldn't find anything I wanted to do. Also there were years when my income tax was such that I would have ended up working for the government.

"And I was busy doing plays and night clubs. The rest of the time I spent getting some writing done. Now I've finished the writing, and I want to do some work while I still look the way I do."

The way she looks is remarkable. The eyes still sparkle with "Come up and see me sometime" sauciness, and the face is smooth. The figure is ample, but then, didn't Mae set the well-padded style in the early 1930s, eliminating the scrawny, flapper look? Not for nothing did the British in wartime name their inflated life preservers "Mae Wests."

A pioneer in censor-baiting, she is amused by today's license in entertainment content. Both on the stage and in films, she bore the brunt of moralist's tirades. She was even attacked by religionists for her spicy version of Adam and Eve with Edgar Bergen's Charlie McCarthy on radio.

How does she feel about today's sexy films?

"I think they're going too far," she opined. "They're using sex as a crutch; whenever the story starts to drag, they throw in a naked body so you'll forget how lousy the script is."

Mae admitted that her plays and movies were sexy, "but I never threw anything at the audience; everything was done subtle." She also claimed to have been ahead of the times in subject matter. She cited her plays "The Constant Sinner," which concerned a romance between a Negro man and white girl, and "The Drag," about a homosexual. Both themes have occupied films of late.

She was commenting on these matters in her Rossmore Avenue apartment where she has lived for three decades. The place is decorated in Hollywood rococo, mostly in white, with numerous photographs and a nude statue of Mae in her prime. She appeared in a flowered negligee, her normal attire for an interview.

Jenkins Urges Southern To Be A Conference

Wants All To Play All In Loop; Eight Athletes Honored At Banquet

Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, president of East Carolina University, issued a call for the Southern Conference to "really be a conference," last night at the first annual Spring Sports Banquet at the university.

Seven baseball and track stars were honored during the evening, as all members of the baseball, track, tennis and golf teams were feted.

"There is an element of deceit in the Southern Conference," Dr. Jenkins said. "There are some teams that do not want to play others in the conference, and this is not the way it should be."

"Some of the teams are looking for patsies. We are not in the game for this. We want to play everyone, whether we feel they'll beat us or not. We want to play everyone in the conference in all sports."

Dr. Jenkins pointed out that when East Carolina joined the conference several years ago, he promised that the school would become a winner. "We've shown that we can do this," he said. "And now some people are apparently wanting us off their schedules."

Dr. Jenkins said that the East Carolina University Athletic Committee had passed a resolution yesterday, which he had sent to the president of each conference school. "It calls for every member of the conference to be required to play every other member in every sport the school participates in. We want the Southern to adopt the same rules that most of the successful conferences, like the Big Ten and the Atlantic Coast Conference operate under."

The president acknowledged that East Carolina would get beaten in some sports, "but we'll win in others. If you are going to have a conference, let's have one."

Five members of the East Carolina baseball team, which won the Southern Division of the Southern Conference title last weekend, were presented with awards.

Jim Snyder was named the Most Valuable Player by his fellow players. A tie developed for the Outstanding Senior Award between Dennis Burke and Vince Colbert.

In new awards this year, Ron Hastings was named the Outstanding Freshman Pitcher, and Richard Corrada was named the Outstanding Freshman.

In the track awards, three presentations were made. Jim Cargill was named the Leading Point Man for the team this year, pacing the Bucs to a tie for second place in the Southern Conference and setting a new loop mark in the high hurdles.

Ed Whyte was chosen as the Most Valuable Athlete by his fellow teammates, while Coach Bill Carson awarded Peter Moe the Coach's Most Valuable Award.

Athletic Director Clarence Stasavich told the teams that the university had come a long way in the last few years, pointing out the increased facilities the university enjoyed.

"Our new field house is a great asset to spring sports," he said. "We have as fine a baseball field as is in the conference, and it will become the best. Our track is the best around, and we have the best golf facility around in Brook Valley. We need more tennis courts, and we'll get them."

"It takes a lot of planning and effort to make these things come about," he said. "It takes money to operate. The athletic budget is now three times what it was when I came here just a few years ago.

"We also have separate coaches for spring sports, rather than having football coaches for most of them. This is a great boost to the program for all concerned."

"We're coming up in the conference," he said. "We finished around fourth in the conference our first year, three seasons ago. Last year, overall, we were about third. This year's finish should be about second, and next year, we're shooting for the top."

Pudge Diket singled in Cannon and Kittrell reached on a fielder's choice, scoring Griffin. Bunting singled to drive in Diket and Dill Forbes reached on another fielder's choice, scoring Kittrell. Bob Gadrow doubled in Bunting and Forbes.

In the third, the Jaycees picked up their first run. Mike Stevenson singled, moved up on a wild pitch and stole third. Bill Ellington singled to score him.

Coke, with their shutout down the drain, rallied for four more in the fourth, running their lead to 12-1. Kittrell singled and advanced on an error. Bunting singled to score him. Canonn singled and Billy Pittman got a hit, scoring Bunting. Griffin walked, loading the bases, and a wild pitch brought in Cannon. Pittman scored on a single by Diket.

The Jaycees, down 11 runs, tried to rally in the fifth, getting three. Stevenson walked and Ellington singled. David Diket doubled in both runs, and came around to score on an error.

In the sixth, the Jaycees added their final run. Wayne Miller walked and moved up on Howard Corey's grounder that was errored. Stevenson walked, loading the bases and a fielder's choice by Ellington, scored Miller.

Ayden Nails Robesonville To Advance In State Playoff

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor

The Ayden Tornadoes are on the move again, seeking another Class A State title.

Yesterday, the Tornadoes downed defending state champion Robersonville, 8-1, to move past the first round of the playoffs. They will now meet the winner of the Belhaven-Creswell game, probably on Friday.

Ayden got a fine four-hitter out of Paul Miller, who struck out 13 and walked two.

But quite a bit of help came from Robersonville, itself, as the Rams committed four key errors, and were guilty of some crucial wild pitches and passed balls.

Ayden got the scoring started in the first inning. Alan Wilson opened the bottom of the first with a single and then stole second. David McGlohon singled to score Wilson, and McGlohon moved to second on a balk by Robersonville hurler Howard Whitehurst.

A wild pitch moved McGlohon on to third. George Booth hit back to third base, and the Ram fielder faked McGlohon back on base, but then threw wild to first. As the ball soared over the first baseman's head, McGlohon moved in to second and Booth moved around to second.

The Tornadoes added another run in the second, to lead 3-0. Robert Twilley walked and was sacrificed to second, Wilson reached on another error, allowing Twilley to score. Wilson then stole second, and moved to third on a passed ball. He tried to score on the same play, but was cut down at the plate

Robersonville came up with its first baserunner, and then its first run in the third. Jimmy Stalls reached after his third strike was missed by the Ayden catcher. Joe Pilgreen slapped the first Robersonville hit, moving Stalls around to third. Don Hardison then lifted a high fly to center that was dropped, scoring Stalls with the only run the Rams were to get that day

Ayden came back with two more in the bottom of the third, running the lead to 5-1. Jerry Gibson doubled and George Booth drew a walk, after McGlohon grounded out, moving Gibson to third. Booth moved into second uncontested, and a wild pitch let Gibson score. Booth, who had moved into third ,scored on a sacrifice fly by Miller.

In the fourth, Ayden added another run. Robert Twiley singled after Bobby Wilson had walked. Worth Kinlaw hit back to the pitcher, who threw to third, nailing Wilson. But the relay to first for the attempted double play was errored, allowing Twilley to come all the way from first to score the sixth Ayden run.

The last two Tornado talleys came in the fifth. Booth doubled and scored on a single by Miller. Miller stole second and scored on a hit by Curtis McLawhorn for the final 8-1 margin.

Play in the state tournament is a single elimination series, except for the finals, which are a best-of-three series.

Phants Fall To Elizabeth City In Final Game

By SONNY McLAWHORN
Reflector Sports Writer

ELIZABETH CITY — Elizabeth City's Yellow Jackets rallied for two runs in the seventh inning to claim a 9-8 win over Rose High in Tuesday's season finale.

But the Jackets got a boost from the man behind the plate, who ruled Phantom catcher Russ Cayton dropped the ball when pinch-hitter Tom Sample struck out. Sample reached base and scored on a sacrifice fly, providing the winning-run. There was some discussion about whether Cayton actually dropped the third strike.

The Phants couldn't blame it all on the umpire, however, as they committed eight errors in the contest.

Rose had an 8-7 lead going into the bottom of the seventh. With one out, John Marshall reached on a two-base error. David Brinson came to the plate for the Jackets. After a couple of pitches, Brinson was ejected for arguing with the plate umpire. Sample came to pinch-hit and struck out. Cayton fired the ball to second base in attempt to pick off Marshall, but the throw was wild and Marshall moved to third. In the confusion, Sample trotted down to first base and was allowed to stay there. Terry Temple attempted a squeeze bunt, and pitcher Lee Galt threw the ball past the Phant catcher, allowing Marshall to score. Then James Sawyer lofted a sacrifice fly to right field to end the bizarre inning and the ball game.

Elizabeth City got an early lead, as Galt had trouble finding the range. After the first batter flied out, H. P. Williams drilled a single. Then Bobby Goodwin and Sam McDonald walked, loading the bases. Jimmy Brinson rifled a base hit into right field, scoring two runs. On the same play, Phantom first baseman took the throw from right-fielder Alan Pate and fired the ball past the second baseman who was trying to get Brinson going to second. The error allowed McDonald to score the third run.

The Phants failed to come up with clutch hits in the first two frames, as five men were stranded on the basepaths.

In the third, Rose put four runs on the scoreboard to take a 4-3 lead. Cayton led off with a single. Mike Aldridge followed with another one-bagger. Both runers advanced on a fielder's choice. Joe West walked to load the bases, and Smith drew a free pass to force in a run. Then Galt smashed a double to right center, scoring three runs.

Elizabeth City tied it up in the bottom of the third. Goodwin opened with a single, advanced on a single by McDonald and scored when Brinson reached on an error.

Shortstop David Hahn singled for the Phants in the fourth. Then Aldridge blasted a triple to right field to score another run.

But the Yellow Jackets came back to grab the lead. A walk, two errors, a fielder's choice and a single by Jimmy Brinson accounted for three more runs, and put the Jackets on top by 7-5.

With one out in the fifth, Smith singled for Rose. Galt and Hahn walked, loading the bases. Cayton clubbed a single to score two and Beamon singled to score another, making it 8-7, Rose.

The Phants put runners on second and third in the top of the sixth, but neither scored.

Then came the unbelievable seventh.

David Brinson was the winning pitcher. He gave up six hits ,walked five and didn't register a strikeout.

Galt pitched the full seven innings for the Phantoms. The junior righthander allowed three earned runs on seven hits, while striking out six.

Cayton, Aldridge and Galt each had two safeties for the losing Phantoms.

Jimmy Brinson collected two hits for Elizabeth City.

The Phants finished the season in second place in the Northeastern Conference.

Elks Hand Tobs First Loss, 15-13

The Elks threw the Tar Heel League into a three-way tie for first with a 15-13 victory over previously undefeated Greenville Tobacco Company yesterday.

The Elks, Greenville Tobacco and the Exchange are all 2-1 in the standings, with Pepsi-Cola a half-game back at 1-1. They are followed by the Moose at 1-2 and Security Life at 0-2.

The Elks started the scoring off in the top of the first inning. Gary Leitch walked and Gary Warren reached on a single. An error on the play brought Leitch around, and moved Warren to second. Billy Harrison singled in Warren, and Louis Lesley walked. Billy Leitch singled, and Jimmy Peszko hit a sacrifice fly to score Harrison.

Greenville Tobacco came right back in its half of the first to take the lead, getting five runs. Julian Vainwright walked and Macon Moye reached on an error. He stole second, and Gil Whiteford walked, loading them up. Vainwright came across on a passed ball and Jeff Beamon was hit by a pitch, reloading the sacks. Ronald Hodges walked, forcing in Moye. Mike Reilly singled to drive in Whiteford and Beamon, and a hit by Pat Hagan scored Hodges for a 5-3 lead.

The Elks moved back into the lead with four in the second. Gary Leitch singled and Skip Fowler walked. Warren singled and Harrison slammed a grand-slam homer for a 7-5 edge.

But the Tobs were not to be denied, coming up with three more in the bottom of the inning for an 8-7 edge. Vainwright walked and moved up on a passed ball. Macon Moye singled and moved up on an error. Vainwright scored on a passed ball and Whiteford walked. He stole second, and moved to third on interference, after Moye was out. Beamon singled him in, and stole second, scoring when Hodges' grounder was errored.

The Elks regained the lead in the third, getting three more, making it 10-8. Gary Leitch walked and Fowler was safe on an error. Warren doubled in both runners and after advancing on a ground out, scored on a passed ball.

In the fourth, the Elks added two more, for a 12-8 lead. Peszko was hit by a pitch and Jimmy Leitch walked. Both advanced on a passed ball and scored on Fowler's double.

In the bottom of the fourth, the Tobs added three runs, cutting the margin to 12-11. Moye walked and Whiteford reached on a fielder's choice. Beaman walked, loading them up, and Hodges walked to force in Moye. A double by Reilly scored Whiteford and Beaman.

Another Elk scored in the fifth. Harrison walked, advanced on Lesley's walk and a passed ball and scored on Peszko's sacrifice fly.

The Tobs came up with two more in the fifth to tie it up at 13-13. Jim Wilkerson walked and Hagan singled, but was out trying to stretch it. Moye singled in Wilkerson, and Whiteford doubled in Moye to tie it up.

But the Elks came up with two more in the sixth to win it. Willie Rogers walked, as did Gary Leitch and Fowler, loading the bases. A walk to Warren forced in Rogers, and Leitch scored on an out.

Sudden Hazard In Javelin-Tossing

CAPE TOWN (AP) — Javelin throwing has suddenly become a highly dangerous sport here. In four days, three young people were hit by javelins on sports fields.

Worst injured was Irene Nichoias, 17, who fainted when a javelin blown off course by a gust of wind slammed into her back, missing her spinal cord by less than an inch.

Charlse Fortuin, 14, was hit in the left side of his stomach by another off-course javelin and Bernard Fuchs, 18, had his arm punctured when another student threw a javelin to him.

'Mushroom Dog' Ad Has Readers

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — A friend of Ralph Whitson apparently pulled a practical joke by placing an ad in the St. Joseph News-Press that said: "Mushroom dog for sale. Points and retrieves, guaranteed. Call Ralph Whitson."

Whitson, a real estate operator who also raises dogs, said he was swamped with calls. He said he had never heard of a dog trained to hunt mushrooms.

Ayden Board Votes Fees For Collecting Trash

AYDEN — The Ayden Board of Commissioners Monday night approved an ordinance establishing fees for the collection of trash and refuse from Ayden residences and business firms.

According to the regulation, the fee for collection of trash from dwellings will be $1 per month, while fees for collection from offices or suites of offices will be 75 cents per month. Collection fees for churches, lodge halls and clubs will also be 75 cents per month.

A minimum of $1.50 per month will be charged for the collection of trash from business firms. A sliding scale, based on the number of refuse containers and the number of weekly pick-ups will increase charges to some business establishments.

The new regulation provides for one billing per month, beginning in June, for the garbage collection charge. Bills for the collection will be sent with the utility bills in July, the ordinance provides.

Commissioners also adopted a privilege license fees for the coming year. The fees approved, were the same as for the past year and are to be levied against all businesses.

John Clark Noble, defeated in the May 6 municipal election for a full term on the Board of Commissioners was named to the Planning Commission.

Noble has served on the town board, filling the unexpired term of Sam McLawhorn who resigned. He sought to hold the Ward four seat in last weeks election but was unsuccessful. He was defeated by J. J. Brown, a teacher at South Ayden High School.

An ordinance regulating parking on recreation fields in Ayden was also approved at the meeting. Commission members approved the ordinance calling for erection of no parking signs on the recreation fields.

The town board also authorized town manager Peter Vandenberg to enter into an agreement with the North Carolina Association of Municipal Electric Systems. Such an agreement, the commissioners were told, will enable Ayden to receive aid from other NCAMES members in time of emergency or disorder, such as the severe ice storm earlier this year.

Louis M. Dibble of Washington, N. C. was named as consulting engineer on the Ayden bypass pole moving project.

In other business the board approved and accepted the results of the volunteer fire department elections held last week. Tillman Chauncey was elected chief of the department while Burt Tripp was named assistant chief.

Commissioners, too, voiced their approval of Vandenberg attending the Southern Regional Conference of the National Emergency Crime Committee scheduled to be held in Atlanta May 17-18.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany says labor opposes voluntary wage restraints but would accept wartime wage-price controls if the government considers them necessary.

"Voluntary controls just don't work," Meany said at a news conference Tuesday before a meeting between President Johnson and the AFL-CIO executive council.

Johnson's Council of Economic Advisers has suggested a renewed attempt at voluntary wage-price restraints by labor and industry.

Administration officials have said mandatory wage-price controls are not being planned.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has voted after brief debate over military policy in South Vietnam and Europe to extend for one year Gen. Earle G. Wheeler's term as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The voice vote came Tuesday after Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., said Congress should learn more on Wheeler's views toward military policy in Vietnam.

Findley blocked a move last week to approve extension of Wheeler's term swiftly. The Senate must act on the joint resolution approved by the House.

Showing Results Of 'Cold Iron'

Several weeks ago, a "cold iron" branding demonstration was conducted on the River Road Ranch, on the old River Road near Belvoir.

The demonstration was very successful, according to agricultural extension agent C. J. Goodman.

All farmers and other interested persons are asked to come by the corral at the River Road Ranch on Saturday, May 18 to see the effect of the "cold iron" branding.

Revival Services Begin Tonight

GRIFTON — Revival services will begin tonight at the Grifton Free Will Baptist Church and will continue through Sunday night.

Evangelist Bobby Jackson will be the guest speaker for the services which will begin nightly at 7:45.

A graduate of the Free Will Baptist Bible College, Jackson received his Master's degree from Bob Jones University. He has been in evangelistic work for the past 15 years and has traveled throughout the United States and Canada.

Special music is planned for each service and a nursery will be provided.

No Nagging Backache Means a Good Night's Sleep

Nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets, or everyday stress and strain. If this nagging backache, with restless, sleepless nights, is wearing you out, making you miserable and irritable, don't wait, try Doan's Pills — an analgesic, a pain reliever. Doan's pain-relieving action on nagging backache is often the answer. Get Doan's Pills — not a habit-forming drug but a well-known standard remedy used successfully by millions for over 70 years. See if they don't bring you the same welcome relief. For convenience, always buy Doan's large size.

Richmond Show By Art Majors

In the exhibit are works in wood, fiber, clay and metal. The show opened May 12 and will continue through Friday, May 31.

According to a faculty spokesman:

"The student exhibition represents those long hours of creative involvement, professional advice and guidance, and lots of elbow grease for the developing, groping mind and hands of our student. He is encouraged to project himself in-that creative visual statement he can call his own, and through the osmosis of creativity, technique and discipline, we are hibition."

N.C. Preserves Papers Left By Dolley Madison

By Christopher Crittenden
N.C. Department of Archives and History
Written for The AP

She spelled it "Dolley"—Dolley Madison, that is. That's the way she signed her name on her will and on many documents she left behind. A large collection of these is preserved in the Greensboro Historical Museum. May 20 will mark the 200th anniversary of her birth as Dolley Payne in the New Garden (present Guilford College) community, where her Virginia parents were spending a year with relatives.

Dolley's people were Quakers, and the little girl lived a somewhat restricted life. Her father, John Payne, and his family soon moved to Goochland County, Va.

Her skin was very white, her eyes were blue, her hair was black. Men called her beautiful.

Seeking better educational opportunities for his children, during the last year of the Revolutionary War, John Payne again moved his family, this time to Philadelphia. There he did not succeed in business and died during Washington's first term as President.

Dolley Payne had married in 790 John Todd Jr., also a Quaker. He died during a yellow fever epidemic three years later. Thereafter she lived with her mother, who took in "gentlemen boarders."

Sen. Aaron Burr introduced her to James Madison, whom she married in 1794. When her husband was appointed secretary of state under Jefferson, a widower, for all practical purposes she became the "First Lady."

When Madison was inaugurated President, she was in fact the First Lady, one of the most famous in our history. When the British burned the Nation's Capital in 1814 she fled carrying the White House portrait of George Washington.

After Madison's retirement she lived the life of the mistress of a plantation at their home, "Montpellier," in Orange County, Virginia.

During Van Buren's administration she returned to Washington, where she came to be known as "the venerable Mrs. Madison." Her last public appearance was at a reception early in 1849 with President Polk. She died later that same year.

During her heyday she was described by Washington Irving as "a fine, portly, buxom dame." She was noted for "her perennial and inherent friendliness, her remarkable memory of persons and their interests, her unfailing tactfulness."

Moore Advises 'Eat Barbecue'

NEW YORK (AP) — North Carolina Gov. Dan K. Moore advises presidential candidates who campaign in his state to "eat the barbecue" or lose votes.

Moore, who was guest of honor Tuesday night at a North Carolina regional dinner at the Overseas Press Club, avoided political talk and spent his time extolling the wonders his state had to offer — especially its foods.

Recounting his fondness for barbecue, he told the 140 guests of the magazine and newspaper world of the time he ate 13 barbecue dinners in the pace of a week, and issued this warning to the candidates:

"Whether he be Rockefeller, or Hubert, your own Senator Kennedy, or whoever it may b —if he comes to North Carolina, he must eat barbecue or otherwise he'll lose the state."

Turnin to the serious note, Moore said the industrial promotion in his state since the 1950s has resulted in "real, true industrial diversification which has helped our people," adding that hard work must be done to continue the development.

Moore said the foods served at the dinner, which were shipped by plane from North Carolina, were "a slight sample" of the joys his state had to offer.

Twelve Attend, Principal Quits

SALEM, N.H. (AP) — The principal of Salem High School has resigned because 50 teachers and only 12 parents attended parents night at the school. "They forget the teachers do work the full school year and at times might like a pat on the back rather than an extra dollar in the paycheck," Daniel Nicholson, 30, said after his resignation.

Durham Tenants Air Grievances

DURHAM (AP) — A meeting among the Durham Housing Authority, the city council and irate Negro public housing tenants continued into the early morning hours today.

The meeting was called Tuesday night to air tenants' grievances in an all-out effort by the city council to bring the tenants together with the housing authority to settle such demands as the maintenance of housing units, billing of tenants and dissatisfaction with the authority's administration.

The Negroes, however, walked out only minutes after the hearing began in a disagreement over the number of persons who could be allowed in council chambers. Fire officials set the capacity at 225.

Officials said capacity had been met and refused admission to about 40 Negroes. The Negroes then demanded that about 30 white spectators be ejected to make room for the tenants.

When this was refused, the Negroes left the council chambers and blocked the entrance, stating they would remain there until their demands were met.

Shortly thereafter, however, some 150 Negroes reentered the council chambers, took over the city council seats, and conducted a mock hearing.

City council members managed to recall members of the housing authority, and after the mock hearing had lasted about half-an-hour, the meeting was resumed.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market dipped irregularly this afternoon. Gold-mining stocks rallied.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down .64 at 907.42.

Gold-mining sticks advanced on news that the price of gold bullion in world markets had risen to more than $40 an ounce.

Weakness in some key blue chips dampened market averages.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .8 at 329.1, with industrials off 1.0, rails off 1.0 and utilities up .4.

Respinding to the jump in the gold price, Dome Mines, Homestake and American-South African gained about 3 points each, and Campbell Red Lake more than a point while McIntyre-Porcupine added a fraction.

Massey-Ferguson, up more than a point, paced the list on volume, but its turnover was only slightly higher than Chabourne-Gotham's, which dropped a fraction.

Corporate developments at Berman Leasing still held the street's imagination, and the stock raced up 5 more points or so.

N.C. Banks' Resources Rise

RALEIGH (AP) — Resources of state - chartered banks in North Carolina totaled more than $3.8 billion on April 18, an increase of $420.6 million over the amount on April 25, 1967.

State Commissioner of Banks Frank Harrelson said Tuesday there were 101 state banks and 569 branches on April 18 as compared with 103 banks and 528 branches on April 27 last year.

He said the decrease in the number of banks resulted from three state banks merging into other state banks, one state bank converted to a national bank and six state banks merged into national banks.

There were 4,108 casualties in the Spanish-American War.

Evans urged all farmers to mark their ballot and express their opinion.

The referendum must carry by two thirds of those voting.

Victim Unaware He Was Shot Five Times In Head

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A doctor says a 57-year-old Alaskan public health official was shot five times in the head but delayed seeking medical aid 15 hours because he thought he had only been roughed up by two assailants.

"Any one of those bullets could have killed him. It's a most amazing thing," said an attending physician Tuesday night about Dr. Ralph B. Williams' encounter in the rough Tenderloin district.

The physician, who asked not to be identified, said Williams had five bullets in his head—one of them in the brain—but considered his condition serious, not critical.

Police and the doctor pieced together this chain of events.

Williams, director of laboratory services for the Alaska Department of Health and Welfare, went to see a movie Sunday night and decided to walk back to his hotel.

He was knocked to the ground, but couldn't remember what followed. Later he managed to hail a cab to take him back to his hotel.

Williams thought he had been beaten up and shrugged off the hotel manager's suggestion he get a checkup. But he agreed at mid-afternoon to see the doctor.

Not until X rays had been taken did the doctor discover his patient had been shot. One bullet had lodged in the right lobe of the brain, others at the base of the skull, jawobne hinge and hard palate.

A fifth, which the doctor expressed most concern about, entered beneath the left eye and lodged in Williams' neck between the jugular vein and carotid artery.

Williams, who could give no explanation for the viciousness of the attack, was taken to St. Mary's Hospital where surgeons were deciding the course of treatment to be followed.

Low Draft Call, 15,000 Men, In July Announced

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department today issued a draft call for 15,000 army inductees in July, the lowest monthly call since April 1967.

It also forecast lower than normal draft calls for the July-December period.

At the same time, the Pentagon reduced its June draft call by 9,500 men—from 29,500 to 20,000. It did so because the Army had overestimated the number of men who would be discharged in June.
