Zimmerman Asks Runoff

RALEIGH (AP) — Saying his candidacy will "do much to unify all Republicans," Larry Zimmerman today called for a runoff primary against Robert V. Somers to decide the Republican nomination for U.S. senator.

Zimmerman, Durham lawyer, ran second to Somers, Salisbury lawyer, in the May 4 Republican primary. Somers got 48,351 votes to 43,644 for Zimmerman and 40,023 for Ed Tenney Jr. of Chapel Hill, who was eliminated.

Zimmerman told a news conference that "a clear majority of the people voting in the first primary preferred someone other than my opponent. Their voice must and will be heard."

Referring to the cost of staging a second primary, Zimmerman said, "There can be no price tag put on the right of the people to choose their leaders of our state and our nation."

Somers and Zimmerman will meet in the runoff June 1 for the right to run against veteran U.S. Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. of N.C. in the general election.

Appoints Lindsay Warren

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Dan Moore announced today the appointment of state Sen. Lindsay C. Warren of Goldsboro as a member of the Advisory Budget Commission.

Warren will succeed former state Sen. J. C. Eagles Jr. of Wilson who recently accepted appointment as assistant chancellor for financial affairs at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Moore said that he is pleased that Warren, a Goldsboro lawyer, "has agreed to serve on the Advisory Budget Commission and I am sure he will bring to that position the same dedication and good judgment that he has displayed in all his previous governmental service."

He thanked Eagles for "the excellent service he has rendered the State of North Carolina and wish him continued success in his new role with the University of North Carolina."

Died Inside Refrigerator

ASHEVILLE (AP) — A seven-year-old Asheville girl, trapped with her pet cat in a refrigerator left outdoors at her home, died Thursday of suffocation, Police Chief J. C. Hall said today.

Kelly Vassa Huff, a first-grade pupil had lived with an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Huff, since she was three months old, Hall said. Detectives said the Huffs reported her missing at 11:30 p.m., said she was last seen about 3 p.m., when she came home from school.

Mrs. Huff, who was at home, saw the girl before she went out to play in the yard, officers said. A short time later, Huff left in his truck.

The girl often went with her uncle in the truck, police said, and Mrs. Huff thought nothing of it when she didn't see the child again, assuming she had gone with him this time.

The body was found about 1:30 a.m.

Arrest 5 For Conspiracy

NEW YORK (AP) — Five men were arrested in an East Harlem apartment Thursday night and charged with conspiring to murder policemen, break into a state armory and rob a check-cashing establishment.

Police said the men planned to murder a policeman a week in the hope that other members of the department would resort to violence and arouse the wrath of the slum community.

A high police official said no details concerning targets of the purported conspiracy would be released immediately because of "the enormity of the charges" against the five.

The men, all Negroes, were arrested about 7 p.m. in a fifth floor apartment on Fifth Avenue at 132nd Street by a raiding party of 15 detectives.

Police said the arrests followed an intensive investigation.

June 5 Sees Start Of Driver Course

Final plans have been completed for the driver education program of the Greenville City Schools for the summer of 1968, according to Superintendent Dr. C. C. Cleetwood.

Dr. Cleetwood said preliminary registration has been concluded and classes will be held at Rose and Eppes high schools beginning Wednesday, June 5, at 2 p.m.

Thirty hours of classroom work is required as a minimum and 12 hours of in-car observation with six hours of behind-the-wheel training, Dr. Cleetwood said.

Airport Funds For Williamston

RALEIGH (AP) — A $30,000 check from the state will be used to help finance the cost of developing a new airport at Williamston.

The check, marking the first state assistance for airport development, was presented Thursday to Martin County officials by Gov. Dan Moore.

The money is part of a $250,000 fund set up by the 1967 General Assembly to help develop small airports. The Martin County airport will cost $172,000. In addition to the state money, the Federal Aviation Administration will furnish half the cost with the remainder coming from local sources.

Sorenson Plans Campaign Role

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Thomas C. Sorenson is quitting as the University of California's vice president for public relations to work in the presidential campaign of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

Sorenson, 42, is a brother of Theodore C. Sorenson, who was special counsel and speechwriter for President John F. Kennedy.

Diplomats Looking For Compromise

PARIS (AP) — Informed French and American diplomats expect a compromise deal between the United States and North Vietnam to end the bombing of the North in spite of the apparent stalemate in the Paris peace talks.

The North Vietnamese appear at present to be trying to rally world opinion against the United States to pressure it into ending military action against North Vietnam without any compensating cutback by the Communists.

The appeal for support has been sounded this week by Ambassador Xuan Thuy in Paris and by Hanoi Radio.

To counter this maneuver U.S. spokesmen cite what they consider the unacceptably high military price the United States would have to pay to end the bombing under present conditions. They are driving for restoration of a buffer zone to cut off Communist troop movements across the North-South border.

Thousands of truck loads of men and supplies per month could pour into South Vietnam without interruption, they say, if attacks were stopped without North Vietnamese de-escalation. Reconnaissance flights over the North would be stopped, cutting off vital information. Artillery shelling and aerial bombing of the Southern border area of the North would be halted while Communist troops massed there could move South at any time.

School Aid Funds Cut Off; Appeal

WILSON, N. C. (AP) — The Wilson city school system is appealing a U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare decision to cut off the school system's federal aid, which totals some $400,000 a year.

Wilson School Superintendent George Willard said Thursday he was notified by HEW hearing examiner Gay W. Valentine of the aid termination for failure to attain integration percentages required by HEW.

Valentine conducted a Jan. 25 hearing in Washington on the Wilson case.

Willard said 153 Negro pupils attended previously all-white schools in Wilson this year and the teaching staffs were 19.2 percent integrated.

Valentine said the system is not complying fully with HEW guidelines for desegregation. But Valentine said he had no evidence of any "incidents of intimidation and coercion" or refusal on the part of the school system to honor freedom of choice requests of Negroes.

98-YEAR-OLD SUES

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Ben Thorn, 98, filed suit for divorce Thursday, claiming his 68-year-old wife had deserted him. He said they were married in 1942, and his wife left him 10 years later.

Contracts Are Awarded On New Facility

Contracts were awarded yesterday for the construction of a facility to house the East Carolina Sheltered Workshop.

The awarding of the contracts to low bidders is subject to minor negotiations in the amount of approximately $7,000, Thomas Boring, director of the workshop said.

Low bids for the construction of the building totaled $266,129, while cost of the project, including architects fees and alternates totaled $283,959. Alternates in the bidding were paint booth and air conditioning.

Construction is expected to begin within the next two weeks and should be completed the later part of November, Boring said.

J. H. Hudson of Greenville was low bidder for the general construction at $164,600. The low plumbing contract bid came from Kinston Plumbing Co., at $20,937. Other low bids were heating and air conditioning from A. C. Bolton Heating Co., Raleigh, $35,247, and wiring from Electron, Inc., Kinston, $25,850. Low bidders for food equipment was Food Equipment Construction Co., Raleigh, at $19,495.

No Runoff

SOUTHERN PINES, N.C. (AP)—Dr. Raymond Stone announced today he will not seek a runoff primary for the Democratic nomination for state superintendent of public instruction, thus leaving Dr. A. Craig Phillips of Greensboro as the Democratic nominee.

Stone, president of the San-Hills Community College who trailed Phillips in a five-man race for the Democratic nomination in the first primary, said he had reached the decision "reluctantly" after studying the "numerous factors involved."

"I believe Dr. A. Craig Phillips can well fill the position," Stone said of his successful opponent. "I recommend him to the citizens of North Carolina and pledge to him my full support."

Alienation Suit Seeks $200,000

Paul Topper, an assistant professor on the East Carolina University Music Department faculty has charged the head of the university's English Department with alienation of his wife's affections.

Topper, in a complaint filed with the Clerk of Superior Court in Pitt County, is asking for $100,000 compensatory damages and $100,000 punitive damages, from professor Charles G. Wiley, chairman of the English department.

Wiley was jailed Wednesday night and has failed to post a $5,000 appearance bond.

Topper charged Wiley with "meeting secretly with Elizabeth Roberts Topper, on December 15, 1967 and did engage in criminal conversation with her in the defendant's Wiley's home."

Wiley, 47, joined the University's English department in September 1966. Topper has been on the staff of the Music Department since 1963.

Mail-Order Arms OK'd By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has rejected proposals to ban interstate mail-order sales of rifles and shotguns and sales to private citizens of antitank guns, bazookas, mortars and machine guns.

The vote Thursday was 53 to 29 against prohibiting mail-order sales of rifles and shotguns. The measure was sponsored by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., whose brother, President John F. Kennedy, was assassinated with a mail-order rifle.

The votes of Western and Southern senators of both parties doomed Kennedy's proposal.

A White House spokesman said President Johnson considered defeat of the Kennedy measure "a blow to effective law enforcement."

The Senate voted to prohibit mail-order sales of handguns.

Voting is expected to begin next Tuesday on other parts of a broad crime-control bill, including a controversial provision to overturn Supreme Court restrictions on admissibility of confessions and eyewitness identifications in criminal trials.

Japan Feeling Aftershocks

TOKYO (AP) — Strong aftershocks today continued to rock northern Japan, where relief teams began clearing up rubble and debris left by Thursday's two powerful quakes.

The latest police casualty figures listed 44 persons killed, including 39 in Aomori prefecture (state), six missing and 242 injured. More than 2,000 homes were wrecked and almost 9,000 persons were homeless.

Another 700 due to arrive today from a caravan that began in Boston will be housed in suburban Maryland churches, officials said. They aren't yet sure where to send the 1,000 persons set to arrive Saturday from a Midwestern caravan that was halted for two days in Pittsburgh to gain construction time.

And there is a group due in Sunday from the South.

There are enough churches to house everyone temporarily, top staff members say. The problem will be getting them moved as rapidly as possible into the camp.

On top of all that, no one knows just how many sympathetic or curious visitors, attracted by this week's news stories of the growing city, will flood into the area.

Despite the problems, the first completed section of the projected 3,000-man camp is beginning to sprout symbols of the spirit and individuality of the people who have now called it home four days.

Officials estimate they have housing ready for 700 persons in the plywood and plastic shantytown in sight of the Lincoln Memorial.

Five hundred campaigners, mostly from Mississippi and Alabama, are living there now, and SCLC temporarily placed 340 more who arrived Thursday from Chicago in Washington churches.

Tornado-Racked Areas Prepare Rebuild Lives

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS People treated their injured, arranged to bury their dead and made plans to clear wreckage and rebuild after the tornadoes that hit in five states Wednesday.

The twisters left 71 killed, more than 1,000 injured and millions of dollars in property damage in Arkansas, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Missouri.

The death toll: 43 in Arkansas, 15 in Iowa, 10 in Illinois, 2 in Indiana and 1 in Missouri.

Arkansas, hardest hit had 470 injured and some remained in critical condition. Insurance investigators were in the stricken areas. There was no immediate dollar estimate in damages.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller asked President Johnson to declare it a federal disaster area.

School for some ended two weeks early in Jonesboro, allowing 1,200 pupils more time to spend helping their families clear away the debris. Rescue workers took advantage of a clear, hot day Thursday to begin that task in Jonesboro, and in Oil Trough, Tuckerman and Mountain Home, communities which suffered most in the storms.

Thirty-four persons were killed and 350 injured when a tornado smashed the southeast side of Jonesboro.

Gov. Harold Hughes estimated total damage in the northeastern Iowa storms at $38 million and declared the section a disaster area. The Red Cross listed 12 dead at Charles City, and one at Oelwein and two at May-ard, north of Oelwein—and three missing. The number injured was placed at 693.

Hughes expressed faith that Charles City and Oelwein—where the Wednesday evening tornadoes carved paths of desolation through the business districts—would rebuild. But he said he was concerned about the future of Maynard, population 515, with part of its residential area leveled.

"It's difficult for a small town to recover from something like this," he said.

The National Guard sealed off Charles City Thursday night to all but cleanup workers and those bringing equipment into the city of 10,419. The Red Cross estimated 58 businesses and 172 homes are demolished.

At Freeburg, Ill., where four died and scores were injured, Mayor Leon Dickerson asked Gov. Otto Kerner to declare the southern Illinois city a disaster area to qualify it for state aid. The Salvation Army sent out a plea for bedding and cookware to aid the homeless.

Throughout the stricken region, the homeless lived with friends or relatives, in schools and in churches, or in other public buildings, until they can rebuild or move elsewhere.

"All I've got between me and nothing is this," wept Mrs. Dorothy Clark of Oelwein, as she picked over the remains of her shattered house. "... and this is nothing."

"This is all I had," she added, "and I've worked all my life for it."

Poor Flock To Nation's Capital

By AUSTIN SCOTT WASHINGTON (AP) — Poor People's Campaigners by the hundreds are pouring into the nation's capital once again, setting the stage for a hectic week-end that promises to give campaign officials enormous housing headaches before Monday.

The caravans that the Southern Christian Leadership Conference field staff organized around the country weeks ago are converging on "Resurrection City, U.S.A.," which at this stage of construction hasn't room for them all.

Officials estimate they have housing ready for 700 persons in the plywood and plastic shantytown in sight of the Lincoln Memorial.

Five hundred campaigners, mostly from Mississippi and Alabama, are living there now, and SCLC temporarily placed 340 more who arrived Thursday from Chicago in Washington churches.

Committee To Help Boost Ticket Sales

Twenty-five members of a Aug. 17.

voluntary committee met with Producer Edgar R. Loessin Thursday night to organize a local effort to boost Greenville purchases of East Carolina University Summer Theatre season tickets.

The group had coffee and dessert at the home of University President Leo W. Jenkins. Dr. and Mrs. Jenkins greeted the guests. Then Loessin talked with them about plans for the coming season.

He explained that Greenville sales need a substantial boost to equal previous years. For example, he said, Greenville had more than 1,000 season ticket subscribers last summer but to date there are only 527 for 1968.

The committee agreed to contact previous subscribers who have not renewed this season.

Committee members attending the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. A. Tyson Bilbro, Walter T. Calhoun, Elizabeth H. Copeland, David A. Evans, Mrs. Amox Evans, Dr. William H. Durham, Mrs. Howard Gradis, H. Let Your Mother Tell Her Friend The Truth

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: While preparing for my wedding, a problem came up concerning my bridesmaids.

A friend of my mother asked Mums if her daughter could be a bridesmaid. Mums didn't know what to say, so she said yes.

Abby, I have known this girl all my life, but she is not yet 14, and the bridesmaids I want are between 18 and 20. Besides, this girl is not a particularly close friend of mine.

Now what do I do? The time is getting short.

STUCK IN TORONTO
DEAR STUCK: Unless you can prevail upon your mother to tell her friend that she answered before having consulted you, and therefore was not aware that all the bridesmaids had been selected, you are indeed stuck. Since "Mums" got you into it, I think it's up to "Mums" to get you out of it.

DEAR ABBY: Here are the facts: I have a 23-year-old son who went with a very pushy girl off and on all thru college. She kept pressuring him to marry her, but he said he wanted to graduate from college first. Just for spite, in her senior year she married somebody else.

She hasn't been married 3 months, and already she's after my son again. She wrote, saying she still loves him, made a mistake and is "considering" divorcing her husband. She meets my son on weekends and tells her husband she is going "home" to visit her parents.

What do you think of a girl who continues to live with her husband and sneaks around with her old boy friend? Am I being narrowminded in refusing to accept this girl with open arms when my son brings her to my home?

She has no shame. She writes love messages to him on postcards! My son says he may not marry her after all, but he is not about to turn down a good thing! What is your advice?

DEAR MOTHER: I don't think you're being "narrowminded," nor do I blame you for not accepting this girl with open arms. She should use the rocks in her head to fill up the holes in your son's.

DEAR ABBY: I have a small baby. She is our first and she is beautiful, but I get no credit for her beauty whatsoever. According to my mother-in-law, our baby got all her beauty from my husband.

It's true, the baby does look more like my husband than she does me, but every time someone mentions what beautiful eyes she has, my mother-in-law says, "Yes, they're just like Ronnie's." And the same about his smile, his nose, and his dimples.

This is getting on my nerves something terrible because I was taught to respect my elders so I can't say anything to contradict her, but it bothers me just the same. How can I handle this, Abby?

DAUGHTER-IN-LAW
DEAR DAUGHTER: Don't contradict her. When she says the baby looks just like Ronnie, "She certainly does. She has his features and my fixtures."

DEAR ABBY: When I read the letter from the woman whose neighbor named her dog "Lester," which was the name of the man next door, I had to write:

Nearly 15 years ago, my father and I were living together alone, having just lost my mother about 6 months before.

One evening Dad heard someone calling "Junior Junior." Since that is his nickname, he went to investigate, and discovered a neighbor woman calling her cocker spaniel.

Well, it couldn't have turned out better because she was attractive, single, and very nice. A year and a half later my father married this woman.

Of course this woman had named her dog "Junior" before she met my father, but she couldn't have made a wiser choice.

She has been a wonderful wife to Dad, and a wonderful "mother" to me, doggone it.

Now A Fee For Municipal Service

At least in the town of Ayden one of those municipal services so many people have taken for granted for so long is going by the boards. Effective next month in Ayden, if one wants the city to collect his garbage, it will cost an additional $1 per month added to his electric bill. Under an ordinance just approved, the Ayden town board decreed that garbage collection is no longer a municipal service to be provided without extra charge to citizens of the community. Accordingly, the city's garbage collection service will continue after the first of the month on a three-times-a-week basis, but it will be available only to those citizens willing to pay $1 per month.

In effect, what the town has done is levy an additional "charge in lieu of taxes" of $12 a year on each household which desires city garbage collection service. Garbage collection rates for business firms will vary according to the amount of debris to be collected.

Ayden officials did not make it compulsory that each home and business in the city participate in the new paid garbage collection service. Those residents who choose to do so may dispose of their own garbage and not pay the city the $1 per month. In all probability, however, there will be almost unanimous participation in the new pay-as-your-garbage-goes program outlined by the town board.

By changing garbage collection from a service provided from normal tax funds to a paid service, Ayden has in effect increased its revenue by charging its citizens a special fee for a service formerly provided out of tax revenues. It has taken for itself a new source of revenue to off-set increasing costs in municipal operations.

While Ayden's officials may be following the wise course in this instance, we'd hate to see it become a precedent for getting additional revenue for other normal municipal services.

The next time Ayden needs additional revenues will it set a special fee for those who want and can afford fire protection rather than increasing the local tax rate? Or will the town's governing board require a special per-household fee for those who want police protection rather than increasing the city-wide tax rate another few cents? Or maybe they would propose to allow to participate in municipal recreation facilities and programs only those children whose parents could and would pay special fees each month.

City Has Means To Eliminate 'Displays'

Certainly Greenville's City Council should take whatever steps necessary to put an end to what the local Recreation Commission has termed the "disgraceful acts" and "public display" that take place at Green Springs Park.

The park, which could be one of Greenville's most attractive and useful, for years has been sort of a step-child. It has become a popular place for parking and petting by students and others, day and night. Its use as a parking area has gone a long way toward discouraging its use by families or young children. As the Recreation Commission pointed out in its letter to the city's governing board, steps should be taken to "eliminate the embarrassing . . . display from the eyes and observations of our citizens, both young and old."

Green Springs Park should not continue to be abandoned to couples seeking a place to park. Since the Recreation Commission is unable to cope with the problem in the park, the city should move to correct this deplorable situation. The city has the resources, the authority and the effective means at its disposal to assure that conduct of those who use this public facility is conduct fitting public display.

It should respond immediately to this request for assistance from the Recreation Commission.

Like Whitener For 'Keynoter'

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau

RALEIGH—Democratic party leaders generally are pleased by the choice of Rep. Basil L. Whitener to keynote the party's state convention next week for several reasons.

First and perhaps most important, it will spotlight one of the most critical congressional contests coming up next fall—the one in which Whitener himself is involved in the realigned 10th District against Republican Rep. James T. Broyhill.

He is known and highly respected as a staunch Democrat and solid party figure and workhorse. And while not spectacular, Whitener is no slouch as a speechmaker either. On occasion, his words are rousing. But above all, he is a man who can cut to the heart of issues.

Other Reasons
Whitener was not involved in the recent primaries to the extent of becoming identified with any of the party's hopefuls and their organizations.

In effect, party officials hope that his selection will have a soothing, calming-of-the-waters effect—although a great deal of possible friction has already been wiped out by J. Melville Broughton's decision not to call for a runoff against Scott.

Still another reason to select Whitener as keynoter may be partial repayment of a political debt. In the congressional redistricting of 1967, the Democratic-controlled legislature chose to pit Whitener against Broyhill by placing their home counties Gaston and Caldwell, in the same district. Whitener's friends and supporters were upset, and in fact angry. At one time last year they were urging Whitener to quit Congress and run for governor. He refused, and accepted the challenge of meeting Broyhill.

This is not easy challenge for any Democrat.

Party leaders feel he has at least an even chance because of a base of Democratic party support in half of the eight counties—the most populous ones—including Gaston, Cleveland, Catawba and Burke.

The State Democratic convention falls on June 6—after the primaries this year. But had there been a spirited run (Continued On Page 5)

This contest could rank in intensity with that for the governorship between Lt. Gov. Bob Scott and GOP challenger Jim Gardner, at least within confines of the eight-county western and western Piedmont district. And party leaders know that votes for Whitener there will mean Democratic votes and interest and support for the embattled candidates on the statewide ticket.

Unity Factor
Not only will the convention spotlight help Whitener at a time he needs help, focusing attention on his particular plight may stimulate a greater sense of loyalty among the Democrats statewide.

In addition, party leaders feel Whitener is a man capable of promoting both party unity and enthusiasm.

Committed To Winning Gains

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP)—How can you expect business to forego price increases? How can you convince unions that wage increases can be paid for the economy?

These questions frame a major dilemma of the American economy today.

By their nature, unions and management are committed to winning gains for their members.

In public utterances, economic stability is considered by both to be necessary for their well being but neither seems to like the job, as evidence by the present wage-price spiral.

Rigid controls, however, seem to be liked even less. The popular argument against them is that they violate economic common sense, are discriminatory and carry the threat of a Big Brother government dictating the rules of the game.

The absence of rigid controls now permits unions and business to seek gains without serious penalties to themselves, even though the economy may suffer.

But this freedom of decision may very well be something that neither really wants. There are at least three reasons for this:

First, a union or business must answer to its members or stockholders if it voluntarily foregoes an increase out of consideration for the national interest.

Second, if either decides that it must obtain an increase then it invites the threat of public scorn because, in the public view of things, it is an agent of destructive inflation.

Third, both business and labor must keep an eye on competition within their own ranks. They must maintain (Continued On Page 5)

Relay Race
On Tomorrow

The annual relay between Greenville and Washington High Schools will be staged tomorrow, it was announced this morning. Runners will start from Washington at one o'clock. They will be relieved by relay runners at the expiration of every 440 yards. Ninety sprinters will take part in this great cinder path event that has attracted more than usual interest in both cities the past few years. Greenville won last year's event by a narrow margin. After the race is completed Washington High School baseball teams will clash at the fair grounds here. The game will be called promptly at four o'clock. Greenville people are urged to turn out in large numbers and boost the local highs on to victory.

Moves To Greenville
J. C. Cockrell of Rocky Mount has accepted a position as assistant electrical engineer at East Carolina Teachers College. Mr. Cockrell has just moved back to this city and is making his home on Summit Street. He is a former resident of Greenville and a brother of Mrs. Wade Holmes.

Mrs. Ada Cherry who has been spending the past few months in Washington, D. C. has returned home.

B. C. Gardner of Bethel was a Greenville visitor yesterday.

GET A MATURITY RATING

Michael F. Reilly in his book, "Reilly of the White House," says that at Yalta, although the city was largely a rubble heap, every house no matter how small and poverty-ridden, had in it a radio. But these radios were odd-looking instruments to the Americans because they had no dialing apparatus. They were built to receive only one radio program, and that the one sent out by the powerful communistic-controlled station at Moscow. Moscow would tell the peasant what it wanted him to know, and he would take that information, believe it, and like it.

Many a person's mind is like this Russian receiving set, adjusted to receive only one frequency. The object of education is to make human personality alive at a number of different points. Some people know nothing but work and care for nothing but work. Others are interested only in indulgence. Millions of people pursue through life an aimless sort of existence, desiring nothing more than to be let alone that they may drift along before the wind.

How many things in life can you really enjoy? Answer that question, and in so doing give yourself a maturity rating. The more things we are alive to the more we really live.

Which Are Good Guys?

WASHINGTON — It is generally agreed that the student unrest going on these days is worldwide. It doesn't matter if the students live in a permissive society or a totalitarian one—they'll still raising Cain. And for that reason, those of us watching from the sidelines are divided as to whether the unrest is a good thing or a bad thing.

At the University Club the other day I was having a brandy and cigar with some very nice chaps when the question of student demonstrations came up.

"I see where they still haven't solved the problem at Columbia," Liverwhistle said.

"It's appalling. Absolutely appalling," Cartwright sputtered.

"The students should all be booted out on their ears. You

A BETTER EXAMPLE
(Wall Street Journal)

Columbia University provided one example of how to handle demonstrations: Vacillate for a week. Finally call in the police to evict demonstrators from the buildings they hold for ransom. Resume vacillating. All off classes for the rest of the academic year and suggest instead that students meet with professors for meditation and such.

Fortunately, a better example comes to hand from the University of Denver. Some 40 students seized the registrar's office there to support the inalienable right to support student election rules without bothering with the formalities for doing so spelled out in the student constitution.

The University dismissed the demonstrators on the spot, had them arrested for loitering and obstruction when they refused to leave, and forthrightly explained its actions afterward. Or anyway, its public relations office is sending around the remarks of Chancellor Maurice B. Mitchell. Some of them bear repeating.

"In the simplest language in which I can put it, the time has come for society to take back control of its functions and its destiny. If we condone the abandonment of the rule of law in the university, we have no right to expect those who attend it and later move into outside society to conduct themselves in any other manner.

"There is the assumption on the part of some disaffected students at the university that it is immoral for them to tolerate conditions not of their liking, and that they have some sort of moral obligation to engage in acts of defiance and violence. There is no way to prevent this, but there is every reason to hold those who engage in such practices fully responsible for the consequences of their acts.

"To those who insist that improper activities are the only answer to their problems, I have replied that the decision to engage in such activities carries with it the full responsibility to accept punishment; and punishment on this campus under these circumstances and for such acts is going to be instant and sufficient to the cause."

Denver is one university, we venture to predict, not likely to be reduced to ending classes and substituting the educational insights of a semester of handwringing.

"Ah, yes," said Cartwright. "One can't help admiring the French students' gumption. They've certainly put De Gaulle in his place."

"You have to respect their attitude," Liverwhistle said. "At least the students can see through De Gaulle, if the rest of the French people can't."

"I don't think things have cooled off at Stanford," Studsdale commented. "They're still holding the administration building."

"If you ask me," said Cartwright, "it's a Communist plot. These things don't just happen. There's nothing the Commies wouldn't do to shut down the schools in this country. The only answer is force. It will make those radicals sing another tune."

"Did you read where the students in Czechoslovakia not only demonstrated, but caused the downfall of the Soviet-backed regime?"

"God bless them," said Conrad. "If we're ever going to see the end of tyranny behind the Iron Curtain, it's going to be the students who accomplish it."

"I understand the same thing could happen in Poland," Liverwhistle said, "and perhaps even East Germany. They're a new breed, those (Continued On Page 5)

Infringements On Trademarks

By ELMER ROESSNER

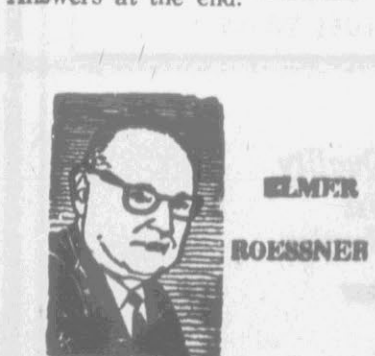

The United States Trademark Association, in its annual report on trademark affairs, relates an interesting decision. The owner of "Sports Cab" as a trademark for campers sued another company for using the mark "Sports Cab Traveler." The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals ruled that the latter mark was an infringement, but did not recently under the belief that "sports cab" was a generic name for camper, and awarded $1 damages.

It refused to order an accounting of profits, saying the accounting "would amount to putting a whole sack of coal under a pound of popcorn."

In another case, a court enjoined the use of the names "Atlanta Playboy Club" and "Puaymate," owned by you-flicting with "Playboy" and "Playmate," owned by you-know-who.

The association also reported on many other cases alleging infringement. Here are some of the marks involved, the first being those of plaintiffs. See if you can pick out those in conflict, those not. Answers at the end.

Soviet Naval Gambit

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The newest, profoundly disturbing evidence of how the Soviet Union is building its power base in the Middle East is the presence, reported here for the first time, of Soviet naval vessels in the Persian Gulf.

Composed of a cruiser and several destroyers, this latest show of Soviet penetration of the Middle East has been quietly followed by U. S. intelligence experts as it moved across the Indian Ocean from a goodwill mission to India.

In itself, the presence of Soviet naval vessels in the northern Indian Ocean does not mean that Russia is about to inherit the position of Great Britain as the great power that will be calling the shots in that highly strategic, oil-rich region.

The British have already announced their intention to pull out from their historic power bases in the Persian Gulf by 1971, under the pressure of economic crisis at home. With the British leaving, it is only natural for the Soviet Union to start maneuvering for maximum advantage, and a show of naval power is an obvious gambit.

But the disturbing fact is that U. S. officials do not find a single example in history of Russian naval vessels ever before having sailed into the Persian Gulf. This, then, is a symbolic display of the Soviet flag with historic overtones, designed to influence one of the most strategic areas in the world at precisely the moment that a power vacuum is being created.

Moreover, it coincides with the establishment of Soviet naval bases, or their equivalent, along the southern shore of the Mediterranean in the Egyptian ports of Alexandria and Port Said. A large and well-equipped Soviet fleet has been patrolling the eastern end of the Mediterranean, watering, supplying, and fueling at those two Egyptian ports, ever since the six-day Arab-Israeli war one year ago.

It is no wonder that, of all the nations vitally interested in reopening the Suez Canal, the most interested today is the Soviet Union. Once the canal is again navigable, the Soviet fleet will not have to sail from Asia via the Indian Ocean to reach the Persian Gulf. Soviet vessels can then sail down the Red Sea, around the southern tip of the South Arabian states (where anti-Western forces in the Yemen civil war are directly supplied by Russia) and up into the Persian Gulf.

For the United States, the clear warning that Moscow is leaping into the Persian Gulf vacuum presents dangerous alternatives. Quite apart from the Persian Gulf, for example, the U. S. is already in an intolerable bind over what to do in the Arab-Israeli crisis, a dilemma that bears directly on the more distant question of the Persian Gulf.

The basic U. S. hope in the Arab-Israeli struggle is that the Soviet Union will finally decide that the risks of war with the U. S. outweigh all the political advantages Moscow could still gain from helping the Arabs against Israel. Thus, the Johnson administration continues to refuse to give Israel the F-4 Phantom aircraft she says she needs for self-defense. (Continued On Page 5)

Scott Says Schools Should Expel Their Rebels

RALEIGH (AP) — Lt. Gov. Bob Scott says local school officials should suspend or expel the leaders of student boycott movements in North Carolina.

This is one more reason many Democrats are breathing relief about Broughton's decision to bow to Scott's 48.12 per cent of the 700,000 votes cast in the gubernatorial primary.

Speaking of the 700,000 vote total in the Democratic column, party leaders are disappointed. They feel at least 100,000 to 150,000 Democrats should have voted on May 4 and didn't either because of apathy, or other reasons.

"You know, of course," said Studsdale, "that the administration completely collapsed at Northwestern and gave in to every demand of the students there."

Cartwright said, "My blood boiled when I read the story. Those damn kids don't know up from down and they're telling us how to run the country. I say we have to act now and act firmly. We ought to cut off all funds to any student who demonstrates or strikes against a university administration."

"The students in Franco's Spain have been agitating for a year now. No one knows how many are in jail," Conrad said.

"The poor kids," Liverwhistle said. "They're only trying to make a better world, and they're thrown in jail for it. I think we should get up a petition and send it to the Spanish ambassador."

"I see they're having another sit-in at Berkeley," Liverwright commented.

"They're always having a sit-in at Berkeley," Studsdale said.

"I'll tell you what's wrong with the kids today. They've got too much money. They don't even appreciate what we've gone through to give them an education. All they talk about is freedom. What kind of freedom do they want?"

"It's the faculty," said Conrad. "They're the ones who egg the students on. Instead of jailing the students, they ought to lock up the faculty. Then we'd stop all this anarchy on campuses."

Cartwright, who was flipping through a newspaper, said, "It says here that the students in Communist China are thinking about having another Red Guard revolution."

"Great," said Liverwhistle. "Old Mao won't be able to take another one of those."

Liverwright agreed. "I must say one thing for the students abroad. They sure have a lot of class."

Scott, the Democratic candidate for governor, said in a prepared statement Thursday, "The real issue is far deeper than the immediate superficial student demands. The real issue is who shall run our schools

Teachers Vote 'Alert' Action

CHARLOTTE (AP)—About 75 teachers voted Thursday to issue an "alert" advising other teachers of "unsatisfactory conditions" in the Charlotte-Mecklenburg school system.

The statement was tantamount to the first of three "sanctions" steps under a formula voted on recently by the North Carolina Education Association. Results of the vote were to be announced in Raleigh this afternoon.

The Charlotte-Mecklenburg vote was questioned by some of the teachers attending Thursday's meeting of the local Classroom Teachers Association so it was agreed that the proposal would be submitted for another vote by all 3,500 teachers in the school system.

The "alert" statement was in response to the Charlotte-Mecklenburg School Board's decision to recommend smaller salary supplement hikes than those requested by the teachers.

Teachers asked that their local supplements of from $100 to $530 be hiked to from $700 to $2,030. The school board recommended raises from $50 to $200.

The "alert" was the first step in the sanctions formula put to a vote of the NCEA. The second step would be a warning to teachers outside the affected area to stay away, and the third step would be calling of a "professional holiday."

Cuniff Col. . . .

Being reasonable and patriotic, each side recognizes the need for an end to the spiral. But neither appears fully able to take the first steps and, in fact, may be paralyzed from doing so.

That is why, from time to time, evidence surfaces that indicates that below the surface both business and labor may feel that rigid controls would take the pressure off them.

This week George Meany, AFL-CIO president, stated that voluntary controls just don't work. But he sidestepped comment on the possibility of rigid controls.

Such controls always have been imposed on the economy in times of war as serious as the present Vietnam conflict. However, the present administration has opposed such restrictions.

STAMP SAVERS SPENDING
BUDAPEST (AP) — Hungarian stamp collectors last year spent more than 75 million forints ($6.380 million) for their hobby compared to 62 million forints ($5.280 million) in 1966, the news agency MTI reported.

... our schools must not be run by the students."

Scott cited boycotts which have been staged by Negro students in Hillsborough, Wadesboro and Edenton.

At Hillsborough, Mayor Fred Cates imposed a curfew Thursday morning on persons under the ages of 18, but lifted it several hours later. He ordered the curfew after 700 students at all Negro Central High School marched downtown as their boycott continued for the third day.

The students began their boycott Tuesday in protest of a plan by the Orange County Board of Education that would delay full integration of the schools.

Cates said the curfew was lifted "after it was determined that peace and tranquility could be restored by other means." He issued the statement following a meeting Thursday night with 19 Orange County ministers, chairman D. S. Coltrane of the state Good Neighbor Council, and Charles Dunn, Gov. Dan Moore's administrative aide.

Meanwhile, the Orange school board released a statement which said the board "considers it neither necessary nor desirable to alter the essential features of its plan and does not intend to do so unless ordered to do so by a higher authority."

The board's plan calls for desegregation of the 10th grade in September and the remaining grades in September, 1969. The students called for immediate integration of the junior and senior high schools.

Scott termed the boycotts "irresponsible acts" and said: "I urge local school officials to take firm steps to end this challenge of authority by suspending or expelling the leadership of such movements in the schools."

Scott said he was voicing concern "not only as a candidate for governor, but as a member of the state board of education and the parent of children in public school."

He added, "I deplore the day when the students in our public school system dictate the policies of schools and usurp the legal authority of elected school boards and appointed administrators. I'm sure the great majority of North Carolinians do not want our schools dominated by students. . . ."

By not giving Israel our top-rated fighter aircraft, it is hoped that Russia will decide not to send open-ended arms shipments to the Arabs. Experts here now claim that these shipments have tapered off and that Russia may not build up Egypt beyond its military strength of last May.

In other words, U. S. policy, which has consistently followed rather than led the major events in the Middle East for the past several years, is still geared to a long-range, Washington-Moscow detente, the vital part of which is that neither great power will provide enough new arms to upset the precarious balance of power, as it was upset a year ago.

The trouble with this policy is that it is based primarily on hope—hope that Moscow will see the Middle East as Washington sees it—and not on U. S. initiative.

New Editor For Student Paper

A new editor for the East Carolinian, semi-weekly student newspaper at East Carolina University, has been appointed and announced by the student-faculty Publications Board.

LOUIS WESLEY SUMNER

Dr. James Tucker, dean of student affairs and chairman of the Board, said that Louis Wesley Sumner of Ashokle will be editor-in-chief of the 1968-69 East Carolinian. The new editor succeeds Bill Ruffy of Concord. He has already assumed his new post. Sumner, who transferred to East Carolina from Chowan College in 1967, has worked for two years with a commercial press where he gained experience in feature, news, sports and editorial writing. He served this year as assistant sports editor in the ECU sports information office as managing editor of the East Carolinian.

Need Tax Hike For Past Mistakes: Kennedy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sen. Robert F. Kennedy accused the Johnson administration today of being slow to react to danger signals in the economy and said some form of income tax increase is needed "to pay for the mistakes of the past."

Campaigning in Portland, Ore., for the Oregon's May 28 presidential primary, the New York Democrat said the need for a tax hike and cuts in nonessential spending was signaled in 1966 but the administration failed to act. The war "has taken its economic toll" and a moderate increase in corporate and individual income taxes is necessary, Kennedy said in remarks prepared for a Portland City Club luncheon.

But the 10 per cent income tax surcharge advocated by the President, coupled with $6 billion in spending cuts, "would be strong medicine indeed for our economy," he said. "As many as 750,000 people might be thrown out of work, with a 30 per cent rise in unemployment."

One of Kennedy's rivals for the Democratic nomination, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, was at the opposite corner of the nation today, trying to win support for a Florida slate pledged to support him at the Democratic National Convention.

The pro-McCarthy slate will be up against two others in a Florida primary, also May 28. One is committed, the other pledged to Sen. George Smathers as a favorite son.

City U. S. A." the village of plywood A-frame huts in which the poor are camping near the Lincoln Memorial. The shantytown is the base from which they will operate in a lobbying campaign to persuade Congress to do more for the nation's poor.

Humphrey told leaders of the campaign "your work is going to produce results." Later, at a meeting of women antipoverty workers, he said the nation's programs to aid the poor are run on a "bare bones" budget.

Rockefeller's chief opponent, Richard M. Nixon, described in a radio address Thursday night a new "alliance of ideas" that he said is reshaping American thought.

There is much common ground in some of the ideas espoused by black militants, "new liberals," Republicans and the "new South," Nixon said.

"The voices are not joined in any harmonious chorus—far from it," he said. "The ideas of the new alignment differ in emphasis. But they do not conflict the way the old alliance of power blocs used to conflict."

French Student-Worker Unrest Threatens Spread

PARIS (AP) — France's student-worker unrest threatened today to spread to the national radio-television network.

Despite a television appeal to Frenchmen by Premier Georges Pompidou to "show that you refuse anarchy," no slowing of the movement was in sight. The government called up police reserves to add to the big force already in Paris but kept the gendarmes at a discreet distance from the occupied University of Paris and factories to avoid a repetition of last week's street battles.

The striking workers want better job security shorter working hours and higher pay, and their support for the students has been only token since the huge demonstration in Paris Monday protesting the police brutality last week.

While there was no sign police would try to clear the occupied factories and universities, the government mobilized about 10,000 police reserves to help 60,000 already on duty.

Service Awards For 4 Students

Four East Carolina University students have received service awards from their honorary fraternity, Phi Sigma Pi.

Awards for service "beyond the call of duty" went to Leslie Wilsdon Hewett of Fords, N.J., John A. Staley Jr. of Morehead City, Thornton Green Stovall Jr. of Stovall and James Alton Walker of Oxford.

The awards were presented at the annual Founder's Day banquet of Phi Sigma Pi. ECU President Leo W. Jenkins, the featured speaker, challenged members and guests to prepare to cope with a complex society by "seeking a broad education, keeping an objective attitude, examining carefully the record of history and relying on God and religion."

The public was first told it was to be a limited, short-term war, but then it somehow was recast as a conflict in which "the national honor had words of been pledged," he said.

"How did this happen? When were we consulted?"

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the third contender for the nomination, had words of support and approval Thursday for the Poor People's Campaign.

Student Turmoil Reaches Delaware And Marquette

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Quiet Durham Caravan Stay

DURHAM (AP) — Participants in the Southern Caravan of the Poor People's March on Washington planned to move on to Norfolk, Va., today after spending Thursday night in Chapel Hill and Durham.

The march was peaceful through Durham, which has been the scene of racial disorders during the past year. The leaders of the march even ordered a pause in the singing while the caravan passed through a hospital zone.

Four busloads of the campaigners stopped in Durham while five busloads went to nearby Chapel Hill, site of the main campus of the University of North Carolina.

The happy marchers sang civil rights songs and chanted, "Hey, hey, hey, black people, you look so good to me," as they passed through Durham's business district and Negro sections.

At a railroad crossing in one of Durham's Negro neighborhoods an oncoming train blew its whistle and began ringing a warning bell. The marchers halted, but the train stopped a few feet short of the intersection. The group moved on amid shouts of triumph and a few of "black power."

The marchers were given food when they reached the campus of predominantly Negro North Carolina College. They held a rally before splitting into small groups to spend the night in churches, private homes and the college gymnasium.

At Chapel Hill, most of the group spent the night in local churches.

Albert Turner, leader of the Southern segment, said 24 members of the caravan were sent home Wednesday for "disciplinary reasons" because the marchers feared they might "cause problems" when the campaign reaches Washington.

SMELLING KENTUCKY SNUFF
 LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky produces more than 80 per cent of the world's supply of Western darkfire cured tobacco, used in snuff.

closed today and Marquette University faced the possible loss of some faculty members as the fever of student ferment continued to grip campuses around the nation.

Trustees at the predominantly Negro state college in Dover, Del., ordered the school closed after about 200 students seized control of the administration building Thursday for several hours.

A new committee of trustees, faculty and students was formed to hear undergraduate grievances including a demand for the resignation of college President Dr. Luna I. Mishoe.

National Guardsmen ordered in by Gov. Charles L. Terry Jr. remained on the 900-student campus overnight following the latest and most serious in a series of demonstrations.

In Newark, Del., about 100 students at the University of Delaware took over the student center today to demonstrate sympathy for the Delaware state students. Later they submitted demands of their own to university officials.

Marquette University in Milwaukee was involved in a continuing dispute over demands to hire a Negro administrator. Negro basketball players threatened briefly to withdraw from school.

The Rev. Bernard Cooke, a theologian, promised student protesters he and two other priests would quit if the 13,000-student Roman Catholic university did not meet their demands within 48 hours. Police arrested seven students who had been sitting in at the student union. About 100 others gave up the sit-in just before the police arrived.

The university made no comment on either the withdrawal threat of the athletes or the threatened faculty resignations but the Rev. John P. Raynor, university president, said earlier Marquette will "not be governed by coercion."

Dr. Henry King Stanford, president of the University of Miami, promised scholarships for Negroes and new courses on the history of black people in an effort to cool disturbances there.

An activist group at the 16,159-student university had staged a sit-in in Stanford's office Tuesday to demand 27 ethnic history-culture course and 200 scholarships.

Three schools in Brooklyn's experimental Ocean Hill-Brownsville district were officially closed again today to all low tensions in the community to subside.

The local governing board has clashed with the citywide board of education over the power to hire and fire teachers and supervisors.

Pakistan Half Way To Its Goal Of Family Planning

By JOE MCGOWAN JR.
Associated Press Writer

LAHORE, Pakistan (AP)—A visitor to a government minister's home or office in Pakistan is likely to be served tea in a cup bearing a small circular seal showing a mother and two children.

That same seal is showing up all over the country—on billboards, on the back of municipal buses, on car bumpers and village walls.

It is the symbol of Pakistan's family planning program, a desperate drive to reduce this country's birth rate from 50 to 40 per thousand.

"We are about one-half way to our goal," says Dr. Willard Boynton, chief health officer for the U.S. Agency for International Development in Pakistan. Although his responsibility encompasses many health problems, Boynton has found himself deeply involved in the family planning program.

"The country has a 50 per thousand birth rate and a 20 per thousand death rate, for a net growth of 3 per cent," he says. "There are 125 million people in East and West Pakistan today and a 3 per cent growth rate would double the population in the next 23 years."

"By 1970 the Pakistan government wants to reduce the birth rate to 40. But at the same time, medical advances may drop the death rate to 15. This would give a 2½ per cent growth rate."

Boynton said it is estimated Pakistan has 20 million fertile couples: "If you got five million practicing family planning, and it is assumed there is 70 per cent effectiveness, you would meet the goal."

Today it is estimated that Pakistan has 2.2 million couples practicing family planning.

Boynton says 700,000 women are using the intra-uterine contraceptive device known as the loop. About 30,000 persons per month are undergoing vasectomies or tubectomies and the remainder are using conventional contraceptives.

A major step was the training of family planning visitors, women who have no higher education but who are given a special one-year course in the insertion of loops.

"There were not enough trained doctors and if we had had to wait, the program would have failed," Boynton says.

"Today we have about 1,000 visitors and 300 to 400 more are being trained every year."

Award Presented To N. C. Nurse

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A North Carolina Negro nurse, Mrs. Helen Sullivan Miller, has been presented the Mary Mahoney Award by the American Nurses Association for her contributions to integration within the profession.

The award is named for Mary Eliza Mahoney, the country's first Negro graduate nurse. Mrs. Miller is chairman of the department of nursing at North Carolina College at Durham, N. C.

Mozambique To Seek Settlers

LOURENÇO MARQUES, Mozambique (AP)—The territorial government will open a special office this year in hopes of attracting 17,000 white settlers from mother-country Portugal in the next six years. The settlers will have tracts of land waiting for them in special zones, and costs of their transportation here will be deducted from future agricultural profits, officials say. The office will aid prospective settlers.

Spain Wants To Change Without Too Much Change; People Divided

By KENNETH L. DAVIS
Associated Press Writer

MADRID (AP)—Spain is being hauled into the space age kicking and screaming in reaction to the deep changes the journey makes necessary.

Spanish culture is rooted in centuries past and many Spaniards, like citizens of other ancient lands, don't want to change. They don't want to abandon the amenities salvaged from the Industrial Revolution, although they would like some chosen benefits of modernity.

This creates an ambivalence never more strikingly displayed than in the response to recent lectures by the French journalist, Jean Servan-Schreiber, author of the best-selling "The American Challenge."

Servan-Schreiber's book says in essence: "If you don't want Europe to end an economic colony of the United States, you are going to have to compete by overhauling your entire societies."

The French writer brought this message to the lecture stages of Barcelona and Madrid a few weeks ago and the rooms were crowded.

Although the main themes of "The American Challenge" had been translated into long newspaper stories, it was apparent that Servan-Schreiber's listeners expected the Frenchman to attack the United States.

Halfway through one lecture, a middle-aged man stood up and snapped: "I don't come to hear the United States praised."

As the lecture went along you could feel a shock wave pass through the group. From comments among themselves and from questions by students, you came up with this pattern of reaction:

The ultra-right, tagged by liberals as neo-fascist, reacted with scorn for the crass materialism and cultureless Yankee society—in their terms.

The left, which is determined to change Spanish society in any case, reacted with the accusation that Servan-Schreiber's program served as a tool of capitalism by suggesting changes which would pacify the masses but which would fall far short of the change to socialism they want. The center rejected the over-haul recommended by Servan-Schreiber, but from social more than from political grounds, it appeared. Generally, they saw Space Age basics not as necessities for an age the entire world confronts but as Yankee inventions.

It is much easier to reject Yankees than necessities when one is guarding one's heart amenities such as a slower pace, three-hour lunches with siestas or air free of industrial smog.

A Spanish economist put the case of Spanish industry thus: "Spanish industry has grown but it hasn't developed."

For many years Spain has denounced as a country the old saw "Europe ends at the Pyrenees."

Still, individual Spaniards say to his day, "I think I'll go to Europe this summer."

Plan Emmy Awards In Just 90 Minutes

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The awards season comes to an end on Sunday night when a wagonload of Emmies will be handed out in 90 minutes.

Television viewers have been exposed to the Oscars, the Tonies, the Golden Globes, Grammys, etc., and some have lasted two hours or more. The Emmies, promises executive producer Greg Garrison, will be wrapped up in an hour and a half.

"I think we can do it," said the producer. "I don't think you should bore your audience by taking two hours or 2½ to give out every award in the book. We can give out all the key awards in 90 minutes. But I mean only the key awards."

"I think people are more interested in the best specials and best supporting actors than they are in the videotape editors and best special news broadcasts."

"After all, we're in the entertainment business. And if television can't give its own awards in an entertaining manner, then there's something wrong."

The television academy has recruited two powerhouse emcees—Frank Sinatra, who will handle the Hollywood end of the program, and Dick Van Dyke, in charge in New York. Most of the other big names Garrison sought will be on hand.

"There have been a few sore losers who refused because they weren't nominated," said the producer. "But the big ones will be there. Dean (Martin) said he couldn't very well not appear since the show involves his best friend (Sinatra) and his producer (Garrison)."

"Bob Hope will be in New York doing a 'Fight for Sight'."

Receiving Fine Arts Award

GREENSBORO — Jerry Howell of Greenville is among eight students at the University of North Carolina here who will receive the 1968 Fine Arts Awards from Chancellor James S. Ferguson Sunday at 4 p. m. in the Weatherspoon Art Gallery.

Howell was named purchase award winner for his work in photography.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Howell of 1105 W. Rock Spring Road, Greenville.

Showing Group Of Garbo Films

NEW YORK (AP)—A retrospective program of Greta Garbo films will be presented by the film departments of Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts and the Museum of Modern Art, the joint sponsors announced today.

The program of movies of the Hollywood star of the 1920s and 1930s will include many films that have been unavailable since their original release, such as "The Temptress" and "As You Desire Me."

Pirates Meet William & Mary As Series Opens

Exchange Trips Past Elks, 11-1

The Exchange did a little something about breaking up the logjam at the top of the Tar Heel League yesterday with an 11-1 romp over the Elks.

The victory moved the Elks into sole possession of first, with a 3-1 record. Pepsi-Cola and Greenville Tobacco are a half-game back with 2-1 marks. They are followed by the Elks, 2-2, the Moose, 1-2, and Security Life, 0-3.

The Exchange came up with four big runs in the first inning. Dean Nunn singled and moved up on an error and a passed ball. Randy Alford singled to score Nunn. Billy Wilson got a hit and Robert Brinkley also singled. Alford came across on a passed ball and Ed Clark walked to load the bases. Richie Puryear and Louis Clark each hit into fielder's choices, getting Wilson and Brinkley, but a walk to Mike Arnold brought in Clark and Puryear scored as Doug Paschal reached on an error.

In the second, the Exchange added two more. Alford reached on an error and Wilson singled. Brinkley singled to load them up and Puryear was hit by a pitch, scoring Alford. Clark singled to score Wilson for a 6-0 lead.

Four more Exchange runs scored in the third. Nunn walked and stole second. Alford singled, and after Nunn scored on a passed ball, Alford stole both second and third. Wilson reached on an error and stole second. Puryear singled in Alford, and Clark doubled to score Wilson and Puryear.

The final Exchange run scored in the fourth. Paschal reached on an error, advanced on a passed ball and reached third when Alford was safe on a misplay. He then scored on a passed ball.

The lone Elks run came in the fourth, when Gary Warren hit a home run.

Coke Tramples Optimists, 27-1

Coca-Cola is optimistic about its chances at the North State Little League title, but the Optimists are becoming pessimistic. Especially after yesterday's 27-1 romp by Coke over the Optimists.

Coke now holds a 4-0 record in the conference, while the Lions and Kiwanis are both 2-1. R.C. Cola is 1-2, the Optimists are 1-3, and the Jaycees are 0-3.

The Optimists held the lead at one point in the game, scoring in the top of the first. B. G. Clark doubled to open the game, and then scored on Tony Skinner's single. But that was to be it for the Optimists, as they weren't allowed another hit by Coke hurler Pat Clark.

Clark struck out 11 and walked three in tossing the two-hitter.

Meanwhile, he got a lot of help from his teammates, as they banged out 20 hits.

In the first inning, the game was virtually over as Coke came up with 14 runs, to lead 14-1. Pudge walked as did Clark. Bob Kittrell singled and Prince Bunting got a double to score Diket and Clark. Dill Forbes singled in Kittrell and Connie Cannon singled to score bunting. Bill Pittman got a hit and Bobby Griffin reached on an error. Diket again walked and Clark singled. Kittrell doubled and Bunting got a hit. Forbes tripled to drive in all runners, and make it 12-1. Bobby Gadrow walked and both runners scored when Cannon was safe on an error.

One more scored in the second. Kittrell doubled and scored on a single by Bunting.

In the third, four more scored. Cannon reached on a fielder's choice, and Pittman walked. Diket singled in Cannon and Clark's hit drove in Pittman. Kittrell doubled for the third time, driving in Diket and Clark.

In the fourth, Coke added five more. Forbes doubled and Jeff Barber singled him in. Cannon doubled to drive in Barber and Greg Coward walked. Molt Massey also walked, loading them up. Diket walked to drive in Cannon, and Clark hit a sacrifice fly to score Coward, with Massey scoring later.

In the fifth, three more came in. Bunting doubled and scored on Forbes' single. Forbes moved up on a wild pitch and after Barber walked, he scored on a wild pitch, which moved Barber to third. Cannon hit a sacrifice to score Barber.

Second And Third Games Set For Saturday Play

East Carolina University's Pirates will be seeking what was lost to them last year Friday and Saturday in the Southern Conference championships. The Bucs will again be at Ft. Eustis, Va., where they lost the title in a single game with West Virginia. This year, the cast and plot is just a little different.

East Carolina will be playing William & Mary, and it will be a best of three series for the title. Last year the Bucs tied with West Virginia for the title. This year the conference split into two divisions, and the Bucs and Indians won their respective area titles.

"I feel like we can win it," Coach Earl Smith said this morning prior to leaving for the opening game. "Our pitching should be better overall than theirs."

"Whether we hit or not is going to be the question, but I feel that we can score some runs against them."

One of the big problems of the Bucs will probably be their fielding. Last year one of the big factors in the contest with West Virginia was six errors. This season the Pirates have committed 66 in 27 games, over two per contest. In five of the nine ECU losses, errors have been the fatal cause. These have resulted in 44 unearned runs.

"We've probably set several school records," Smith said. "They're for most errors, the lowest hitting average (.231), most home runs (23), fewest shutouts (3), and most strikeouts (204). I hope we can do something about all of these in the series," he said.

Smith feels that his players are in good mental frame for the series. "They believe they can do it this year." And baseball players being the superstitious lot they are, the Pirates may remember that they have been to the NCAA regionals in every even-numbered year since they became a "major," 1964 and 1966. This is 1968.

The probable starting lineup for the Bucs will have Dick Corrada at second, Jimmy Lannier in center, Carey Anderson in left, Jim Snyder in right, Dave Goigs at shortstop, Dave Winchester at third, Wayne Vick at first and Len Dowd behind the plate.

The pitcher will be either Dennis Burke (4-1), Vince Colbert (3-1) or Ron Hastings (4-2).

The first game is tonight at 7:30 p.m., with the second Saturday at 1 p.m., and the third, if necessary, Saturday at 7:30 p.m. The winner, of course, represents the conference in the NCAA regionals.

Four Phants In State Track Meet

Four members of the Rose High School track team are taking part in the High School State Track Meet in Raleigh today.

Tim Foley will be seeking the title in the 120-yard high hurdles event, and will anchor the 880-yard relay team.

Other members of the relay are Kyle Hodges, Donald and Ronald Taylor.

Horse Show In Jasper

The Number Nine Township Fire Department of Craven County is sponsoring an English Horse Show Sunday at 1 p.m. The show will be held at the Wetherington farm, located three miles west of Jasper on N.C. 55.

Frank Howard Slams Homer To Tie American Loop Mark; Boston Rallies

By HAL BOCK

Frank Howard felt like he was in a dentist's chair and Ralph Houk would've sworn he was in an electric one.

Howard, Washington's mammoth slugger, drilled his 13th and 14th home runs of the season—tying an American League record with seven circuits in his last four games—and drove in all of Washington's runs as the Senators clipped Cleveland 4-1 Thursday night.

Manager Houk, meanwhile, shuddered through a nightmarish game in Boston where his normally run-starved New York Yankees scored 10 times only to have the Red Sox rally for six runs in the eighth inning and an 11-10 victory.

In the only other American League game played, Minnesota edged Oakland 4-3.

In the National League, the New York Mets nipped Cincinnati 2-1, San Francisco dropped Houston 3-1, Pittsburgh shut out St. Louis 3-0 and the Chicago Cubs nipped Los Angeles 1-0.

"Hitting against the Indians pitching staff," said Howard before Thursday night's game, "is like going to the dentist. You have to keep the appointment but you don't like it much."

The Gentle Giant bore up pretty well against Sam McDowell, connecting after Sam Bowens singled in the third and again after Bowens had walked in the fifth.

The two shots boosted Howard's batting average to .339—tops in the American League. His 14 homers and 28 runs batted in lead both leagues.

Howard stands 6 feet 7 and weighs 260 pounds.

The seven homers in four games tied the record set by Tony Lazzeri of the New York Yankees in 1936 and tied by Gus Zernial of Philadelphia in 1951.

It had been 10 games since New York had managed more than two runs in a game. But the Yankees erupted for six runs in the third inning—four of them on rookie catcher Frank Fernandez' grand slam homer—and were leading the Red Sox 9-3 after four.

The primary concern was the weather. A steady downpour threatened to wash the game out before it was official. But Houk got lucky, or so he thought, and the game continued despite the rain.

It was 10-5 Yankees in the eighth when Bobby Cox, troubled by the wet ball, threw away Jose Tartabull's leadoff grounder. A single by Gene Oliver and a walk to Mike Andrews loaded the bases and finished Yankee starter Mel Stottlemyre.

Joe Foy greeted reliever Joe Verbanic with a two-run double and Dalton Jones' infield hit made it 10-8. Reggie Smith doubled for another run and by this time Houk was really feeling the heat.

Dooley Womack relieved and walked Ken Harrelson, who had socked a three-run homer ear-

Kinston Seeks Second Title

The Kinston Red Devils are the 1968 Northeastern Conference baseball champions for another year and will begin their quest for a second straight Class 3A state championship at Garner Friday night at 8:00 p.m.

The Red Devils clinched the title this past week with two wins and closed out the year with a four game lead over second place Rose High of Greenville. Mike Edwards, sensational freshman righthander, won his 8th straight game last Thursday with a 4-3 win over Washington and became the top pitcher in the league in wins and percentage. Southpaw Bo Robinson of Tarboro also won 8 games but he lost 3 for the year. Senior Chuck Emery closed out the Devils season on Tuesday with his first win and he made it a good one with a shutout over Roanoke Rapids 4-0.

Rose High split their last two games with a win over New Bern last Friday, 7-1, behind senior righthander Mike Aldridge who won his first game of the year and then lost a slugfest to Elizabeth City on Tuesday 9-8 as the Yellow Jackets scored twice in the seventh inning to hand Lee Galt his 2nd loss of the year. In the meantime, righthander David Brinson recorded his third win for Elizabeth City and the husky righthander was credited with all the Yellow Jacket wins for the season.

The Tarboro Tigers split their last two games to wind up in third place at 9-7. Bo Robinson

Mt. Pleasant And Immanuel Win

Immanuel and Mt. Pleasant picked up victories in the Church Softball League last night. Immanuel downed Gum Swamp, 4-1, while Mt. Pleasant edged past St. James, 12-11, in the last inning.

Presbyterian and Immanuel are tied for the league lead with 2-0 records. Mt. Pleasant is 1-0 and St. James is 1-1, while Grace, Meadowbrook, Oakmont, Gum Swamp and Jarvis are all 0-1. Pentecostal has yet to play.

In the opener, Immanuel pushed in all four runs in the first inning. Lassiter homered and Folks came up with a hit. Howard reached on an error, and Williams singled. Moore singled to drive in the final runs.

Gum Swamp picked up its only run in the sixth. James singled and scored on a hit by Wallace.

In the second game, Mt. Pleasant took a 3-0 lead in the first inning as Worthington and Parker both homered. St. James came back in the top of the second to score four, including a homer by Tesh.

But Mt. Pleasant hung on, coming back for three more in their half of the second for a 6-4 lead. St. James tied it up with two in their half of the third, but in the bottom of the third, four Mt. Pleasant runs made it 10-6. A homer by Barnes highlighted that frame.

In the fifth, St. James closed the gap to 10-8 with two more, and then in the sixth got two more to tie it up. Finally in the seventh, St. James scored again, moving out into an 11-10 lead.

But in the bottom of the seventh, Duckett reached on an error and Williams singled. A sacrifice fly by Stocks tied it up and a double by Spain moved Williams to third, from where he scored with the winning run on Barnes' out.

Trainer Will Watch Race On TV Feels Dancer's Image Can Win

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Trainer Lou Cavalariis was thrilled when he went to the Kentucky Derby winner's circle with Dancer's Image. Now, because of that race, he will be just a television spectator when the colt runs in the Preakness.

"I will watch the Preakness on television, but I don't know where yet," Cavalariis said Thursday. "I have confidence he will run a good race."

He and his assistant, Robert Barnard, are under suspension by the Churchill Downs stewards as a result of Dancer's Image's disqualification as Derby winner because of an illegal medication found in the colt's system by a post-race test.

Cavalariis, barred from any race track while under suspension through June 13, was at a motel near Pimlico when owner Peter Fuller entered Dancer's Image in Saturday's 93rd running of the Preakness.

Dancer's Image will do battle once again with Calumet Farm's Forward Pass, moved up to first in the Derby and given a shot at becoming the first Triple Crown winner since Citation won the Derby, Preakness and Belmont in 1948.

Seven other colts and a gelding also were entered, and if a 10 start it will become the richest Triple Crown race, with a gross purse of $195,200 and a winner's share of $142,700. The $194,000 Preakness in 1967 is the current gross purse record holder.

Post time is 5:30 p.m., EDT. National television coverage is from 5-5:45 p.m. and radio from 5:20-5:40 p.m., both CBS.

The gelding in the field is Mrs. Mildred Beall's Martins Jig. The other colts are Charles Engelhard's Jig Time, Gene Goff's Nodouble, Robert J. Kleberg's Out Of The Way, Hubert Phipps' Ringmaster, and Richard Dufour's and Joseph Richards' Sir Beau, John Nero's

Wood-Pro and James L. Skinner's Yankee Lad.

In Cavalariis' absence, Dancer's Image will be saddled by Bob Casey, who manages Fuller's Rummymede Farm in New Hampshire and is licensed to train in New England, New York and Maryland. Bobby Usery again will be the jockey.

Ismael Valenzuela will ride Forward Pass in an effort to gain another notch on the Triple Crown.

Teener League To Open Year Saturday

The Greenville Teener League will open its 1968 season Saturday at 4 p.m. with a triple-header program.

All six Teener League teams will see action in the opening marathon. The first game pits Home Builders against Pepsi-Cola. Then at 6 p.m., College View meets State Bank. Planters Bank takes on Carolina Dairy at 8 p.m.

This year, the league is operating under a new rule, which forbids the starting of a new inning after two hours of play, unless the game is tied. This is expected to speed up some of the play and make for more interesting games.

The triple-header plan will continue through June 1, with three games planned for Saturday, May 25, and Saturday, June 1.

After that, doubleheaders will be played each Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Tom Smith, League supervisor, said the early start and the triple-headers were set so that the league could wind up its season early, so that All-Stars could be chosen and have free time for practice and tournament play without regular games interfering.

Coaches for this year teams are: Russ Cayton and Denard Harris, Carolina Dairy; Bill Taltan, Pepsi-Cola; Al Samsel and John Holt, State Bank; Jim Leslie and Bud Phillips, Planters Bank; Frank Kirkland, Home Builders; and Willis Peaden, College View.

League play is scheduled to continue through July 12, with each team playing 15 games.

Ladies Softball Gets Underway

The Little Mint, Pollard's Plumbing and the Foodmart picked up opening night victories in the Ladies Softball League last night. The opening had been put off two days because of bad weather.

Foodmart downed Wachovia, 19-2, while Pollard dumped Coca-Cola, 14-5. In the other game, Little Mint beat Empire Brush, 13-2.

In the opener, Little Mint edged into a 2-1 lead in the first inning, and then built on that from there. In the second, the Little Mint added three more on a homer by Sandra Kelly to lead 5-1. The third saw another run score, and in the fourth, homers by Sandra Kelly and Dorcas Carter made it 9-1. In the fifth, the Little Mint picked up its final runs, getting four more.

The final Empire Brush run came across in the fifth.

In the second game, after a 1-1 tie in the first inning, Pollard moved out in the second with five big runs including a homer by Mason. Two more were added in the third and two more in the fourth. Another scored in the fifth, and the final three in the sixth, for a 14-1 edge.

Coke came up with its remaining four runs in the bottom of the sixth.

In the final contest, Food Mart moved into a 4-0 lead in the first inning, helped by a two-run homer by Andrea Wooten. Seven more runs scored in the second, while two scored in the third. In the fourth, four more were picked up as Andrea Wooten homered again. The final two scored in the sixth.

Wachovia picked up both of its runs in the second inning.

IDA Thinkers Feel Misunderstood, Besieged

By DONALD M. ROTHBERG
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — In an ivory-colored tower overlooking the Pentagon works a group of thinkers who feel much misunderstood and a bit besieged.

They work for the Institute for Defense Analyses and their job, not coincidentally, is to analyze. As its annual report says, "The basic objective of IDA is to provide an independent and objective source of studies and advice for the federal government and, in particular, for the Department of Defense."

Now, after years of comfortable anonymity, IDA is a cause. Its initials scrawled on picket signs appear on campuses across the nation.

At universities associated with IDA—Columbia, Princeton and the University of Chicago for example—students demonstrate and demand that academic ties with IDA be severed. On the top floor of IDA's 10-story building, Norman L. Christeller, IDA vice president and general manager, complains:

"Students have very much distorted what we do... It's very frustrating to have so many people misled."

No napalm or nerve gas is made at IDA. Its scientists don't work in laboratories trying to develop new and more virulent germs for warfare. IDA has no laboratories.

Its building, one of many of like design built on the Virginia shore of the Potomac River in recent years, is a maze of monkish cubicles, each furnished with a desk, a couple of designed to allow a man to think.

With very few exceptions, the thoughts of IDA men are considered very secret.

In the ground-floor lobby beyond a garden of plastic flowers and shrubs, a receptionist, backed by uniformed security guards, asks visitors to announce their business and produce their identification. Once cleared, the visitor needs a plastic tag and an escort to get beyond the lobby. You can wander through the corridors of the Pentagon easier than you can make it to the elevator at IDA.

The need for secrecy, Christeller said in an interview, causes some of IDA's (he pronounces it IDA, like the woman's name) troubles with students.

Whenever IDA projects are listed in unclassified publications, their titles are kept vague and uninformative. This is required to get them by Pentagon censors.

Unfortunately, Christeller said, groups such as Students for a Democratic Society, look at the project titles "and draw some rather explicit conclusions about what IDA must be doing."

Another IDA spokesman said, "It is the assumption of the leaders of SDS that IDA is strongly supporting, in its work, the prosecution of a war. That war happens to be in Vietnam."

Their assumptions are based on guesswork. Two other misconceptions Christeller says he finds in student protests are that IDA's work is done on campuses and that the institute draws large portions of its staff from its 12 sponsoring universities.

Both are incorrect, he claims. IDA employs work fulltime for the institute and are recruited from the same sources—private industry, universities, other research institutions and government—that other research firms draw upon for talent.

IDA was formed in 1956 after the Defense Department asked Massachusetts Institute of Technology to undertake weapons evaluation studies. MIT officials felt the project would be too big for one university and suggested that an independent institute be created. Five universities started out as member-sponsors and the group soon expanded to 12. IDA spokesmen claim, with emphasis, that the universities contribute neither facilities, personnel nor money.

The 12 university presidents, or their representatives, sit on the IDA board of directors. They elect other board members.

In addition to MIT, the member-sponsors are the University of California, California Institute of Technology, Case Institute of Technology, University of Chicago, Columbia University, University of Illinois, University of Michigan, Pennsylvania State University, Princeton University, Stanford University and Tulane University.

IDA works only for the government.

Within the government it works primarily for people based across the street in the Pentagon, although in recent years IDA has taken on more and more nondefense work.

study for the Department of Housing and Urban Development on the possibilities for achieving a breakthrough in reducing the cost of mass housing.

In describing his dealings with IDA's clients, Christeller often refers to himself and other institute executives as being "on the firing line."

He refers to pressure, often intense, to have IDA's analyses support a particular point of view. One method government officials use, says Christeller, is to so restrict the scope of a study so as to practically guarantee that it will support the government's position.

If the official refuses to remove the restrictions, IDA refuses to accept the contract, he says, adding that it is in such cases that the university backing becomes important.

"Because we have 12 university presidents behind us, we can command the attention of the secretary of defense," says Christeller.

taste that beats the others cold!

We mean it: Pepsi-Cola tastes better cold than other soft drinks taste at the same temperature. We designed Pepsi that way. We created a special taste that comes alive in the cold. Cold temperatures don't numb this taste. It tastes better cold—the colder, the better! But don't take our word—put it to the taste.

The Worry Clinic Golden Rule Doesn't Influence The Killers

Caroline is to be commended for her typically feminine gentleness. But the cloistered idealism of theological seminaries doesn't always work when cultured people face barbarians and 3-legged tigers or rats. Remember, Jesus was half hawk when he saw the Temple being violated! His "dove" advice pertained to personal insults; not to destruction of basic freedoms!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE F-569: Caroline B., aged 27, is a clergyman's wife "Dr. Crane," she challenged, "don't you think all wars are wrong?"

"And isn't modern warfare far more cruel and inhumane than ever before in all history? There is an old adage which says that war always leaves three armies in its wake—an army of cripples, an army of mourners and an army of thieves!"

It is obvious that war is wrong!

But so are the 50,000 auto deaths on our American highways every year!

Plus over 1,000,000 injuries in those auto collisions.

Alas, they are going to continue with but slight abatement.

If the Golden Rule were practiced by both sides, then we could avoid war.

But the Golden Rule doesn't influence tigers and bears and lions and snakes, or rats of both the 4-legged and 2-legged variety.

What will happen to a peaceful sheep which tries to sit down at a conference table with a jungle lion, plus a tiger and a boa constrictor?

That's similar to our United Nations where a big majority of the members are so barbaric they don't even offer habeas corpus and other basic rights to their own citizens back home!

Uncle Sam is the gentle sheep (being fleeced annually), but the other "jungle" members don't dare use him for mutton stew. Why?

Because he has the bomb and they don't!

Oddly enough, more people will be alive and healthy in the generation following a world war, than would have been so if the war had not intervened!

That's a freakish paradox, isn't it? But true!

For under the pressure of war, new drugs and new machines and new surgical techniques develop which, despite the loss of millions on the battlefronts, still save ten times that many lives later on.

For example, DDT was evolved in World War II. It reduced the mosquito and fly populations so drastically that already far more people have been saved from death via DDT than died in the war!

This is not a sales point to encourage war, mind you, but a strange scientific twist to war's usual aftermath.

One thing has been made clear by our recent wars, namely, that the brilliant military generals and admirals should be allowed to handle the conduct of the conflict, once our bungling civilians get us embroiled in world carnage.

When the president made his civilian decision to go into the hospital for gall bladder surgery, he then let trained surgeons do the operating. He didn't try to steer the scalpels!

Likewise, when he or his civilian Cabinet members blunder us into war, they should then let the military "surgeons" as it were, do the operating!

But if you think modern wars are horrible, imagine the chained galley slaves in ancient Roman and Greek ships, when the enemy tossed buckets of poison snakes into the hold!

The bidding:
West North East South
1 ♣ Pass Pass 1 ♣
Pass 2 ♣ Pass 4 ♣
Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Three of ♣
An undue sense of anxiety influenced South, the declarer at four spades, to dig his own grave.

West opened the three of hearts and South won the trick in his hand with the king and led a small spade. West ducked and dummy's ten held. Declarer now hastened to cash the two high hearts so that he might discard the deuce of clubs.

South switched back to the trump suit by leading North's king of spades, and West played the ace after East showed out. The ace of clubs was cashed felling declarer's king, and West continued with the queen. South ruffed in his hand, but now it took all of his remaining spades to pull West's trumps. When the latter regained the lead with the ace of diamonds, he led another club and East cashed two tricks in the suit to set South down by two.

Declarer could have saved one trick by refusing to ruff the queen of clubs, for the next lead exhausts West of clubs and when he is in again with the ace of diamonds, he cannot reach his partner.

The fatal error, however, came much earlier. Declarer was in too great a hurry to obtain a club sluff on dummy's hearts. He should have realized that his king of clubs was under no serious threat of attack, for West was pretty well marked with the three missing aces when he opened the bidding and East passed.

It was extremely unlikely, therefore, that East could obtain the lead to come thru the clubs, and South would have been better advised to go about his work in a more relaxed manner. If he continues to draw trumps, West will be unable to attack the club suit profitably when he gets in with the ace of spades, and declarer is assured of retaining control of the hand. The defenders will be limited to the three aces.

Tiny Baby Is Kept Alive With Heart Pacemaker

WINSTON-SALEM (AP) — Larry Rhoney Jr. is eight weeks old, and a very special baby.

He is kept alive by a heart pacemaker in a vest pocket of his tiny tee-shirt.

Doctors at Bowman Gray School of Medicine in Winston-Salem say Larry may be the youngest child ever to have the pacemaker operation.

Larry was only four days old when he underwent the surgery. He was born with a congenital heart block and his heart consequently was not pumping blood fast enough to keep him alive.

The pacemaker, slightly larger than a package of cigarettes, stimulates the heart to pump blood. In Larry's case it is in a pocket and generates an electrical pulse through wires attached to his heart.

Normally, the pacemaker is inserted under the skin of the chest. But the bulky equipment was just too large for Larry's small body.

At first, doctors inserted the pacemaker in a large pocket of skin covering the abdomen. It worked there for about six days but then the sutures began to work loose.

At that point, doctors decided to keep the pacemaker outside. "We hope to keep him alive this way until he gets big enough for us to try to implant the pacemaker again," said a member of the surgical team which performed the operation.

"Perhaps in the meantime someone will invent a smaller pulse generator."

Doctors say the child probably will be able to lead a fairly normal life since he is normal in all other respects. For the last three and a half weeks he has been at home with his family in Hickory, N. C. His father is in the Army.

Inmate Sues For Riot Inquiry

RALEIGH (AP) — A Central Prison inmate wants the federal court to order a "full hearing" on a riot at the prison April 17 in which six inmates were killed.

Joseph William Freeflow, 33, of New Orleans, La., made the request in a suit filed Thursday. He called for the dismissal of state Correction Commissioner Lee Bounds and two other prison officials as a result of the riot.

Freeflow said that just before the riot he was locked in the prison courtyard against his will and forced to remain there while the yard was surrounded by guards with "baseball bats, teargas guns and security dogs."

He stated in the complaint that at about 2 a.m. guards were given orders to attack and they began firing into the group of prisoners. The locked doors, he said, made it impossible for "innocent bystanders" to escape.

Freeflow said that as a result of the riot, he is being denied privileges of changing clothes and taking baths, being fed two cold meals a day and confined to a small two-man cell and not let out for exercise.

Wider Perspective For 'Church Stewardship'

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Ever since Jesus told the parable of the "faithful steward" who multiplied his holdings by actively investing them, "stewardship" has been a standard churchly term, bringing up images of budgets, pledge cards and collection plates.

But in an era when Christianity is seeking increasingly to wield an influence in the world at large, the use of human resources in that cause is viewed in a considerably wider perspective.

"The idea of stewardship is much broader in its meaning and application to total life than its traditional use has indicated," says a new Methodist interpretation.

Previously, "an emphasis on the giving of money has usually claimed the limelight," the statement says, but adds that the concept, in its fuller sense, applies to "all of life."

Adopted by the recently merged United Methodist Church as a basic guiding document, it sees man as a "cocreator with God" in the continuing development of the world.

In that role, man is described as having been given, free and gratis, the main "raw materials" for carrying on his task — the gifts of time, talent and the world itself to tend and improve.

"Fill the earth and subdue it," goes the divine mandate in Gen. 1. "And have dominion over . . . every living thing that moves upon the earth." Again, in Gen. 2, man is told in the garden to "till it and keep it."

Prepared by a special commission over a four-year period, the document notes that the word, "stewardship," stems from the Greek word, "oikonomia," which means the "administration of a house," and adds: "The Biblical concept includes the idea that God is the architect of an entire new household. To be included in this household means to participate in the new life which emerges from God's constant process of creation."

Thus stewardship is defined as "man's recognition of God's sovereignty through creation and is a grateful response to God's manifold gifts" — of abilities, time, the earth, its produce and life itself.

It calls for "dedicated and creative use of all these gifts" and "worthy administration of all resources available for the sustenance and enrichment of life," the statement says.

It adds: "The only appropriate response of man to the grace of God is to cooperate with God in fulfilling His will."

"Such a commitment to vocation brings the Christian's life into the stream of God's purpose so that the spirit of God flows through him in blessing to the world."

"The Christian steward accepts his life, including his talents, his time, his power and influence, as a trust from God and seeks to develop these to the fullest . . ."

"He accepts every person as a child of God, worthy of dignity and respect . . ."

"He accepts the church, as the fellowship of the committed ones, as a trust from God, and seeks to assure through this fellowship the extension of God's mission into the community and into the world."

"He accepts material resources as a trust from God and seeks to use these resources to give evidence of God's bounty in the world."

"He uses the power of this wealth for the purposes of God. He strives to increase the productivity of the world and to make it possible for others to share in this bounty."

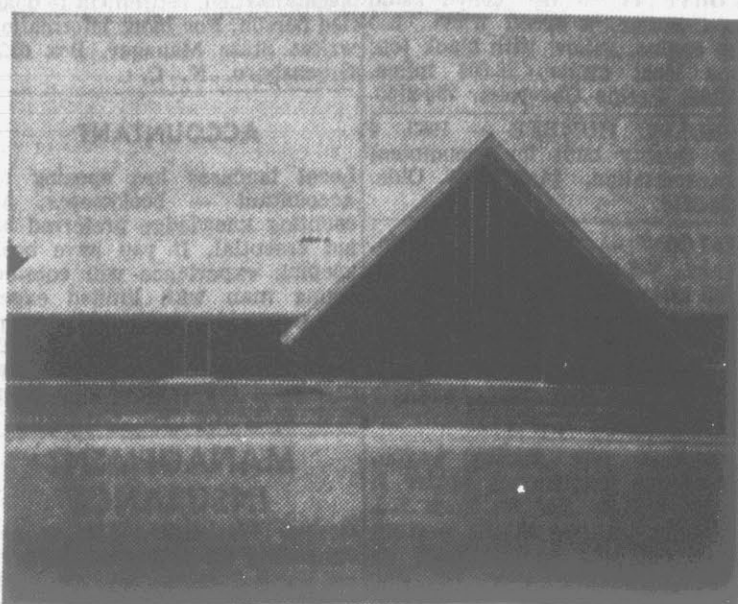

"He accepts power and influence as a trust from God and endeavors to administer them for the purposes of God . . ."

"He accepts this world with its tremendous resources as a trust from God, seeks to understand what God is doing in the events of history and through technological developments and endeavors to be involved in the decisive issues facing society . . ."

"He is hopeful about the ultimate outcome . . ."

Neighborhood Turned Junky Lot Into A Prized Playground

By THOMAS K. HARVEY
Associated Press Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Police in the 9th District tired of looking at a littered, vacant lot across from their headquarters.

Neighbors in the area tired of it, too.

Both groups joined forces to clean up the lot and turn it into a playground that shines like a jewel in the west side slum area.

The project was completed without financial aid from government or from foundations or charitable groups. "The little cash needed was donated by sympathetic individuals."

Virtually everything, including a large mural painted on a brick wall, was donated.

Mrs. Barrett To Address Forum

Mrs. Alton Barrett, director of the Pitt County Alcoholism Information Center, will speak at the Memorial Baptist Church Sunday night forum at 7 o'clock.

The program topic is "How to Help the Alcoholic." The public is invited to hear Mrs. Barrett.

For the convenience of parents, a nursery is provided for pre-school children, and supervised activities for older children. Memorial Baptist Church is located at Fourth and Greene Streets. Percy B. Upchurch is pastor.

Lt. Gay Carraway, Patrolman Joseph Thomas and other officers rolled up their sleeves and began hauling away junk. Then neighborhood kids pitched in.

The park was named in honor of Mrs. Fanny Roberts, an 80-year-old woman who was born in a house on the site. She donated the use of the lot.

A brick-walled patio with a four-grate barbecue pit, huge sandbox, well-lit path with rotating shower head, greenery and a mammoth circus mural painted on the wall of an adjoining building are parts of the park. The mural was painted by hippies from the nearby Gaslight District of St. Louis.

Next came a slide, monkey bars, a tree house, benches and tables with game boards built into them.

"Give me a few weeks and I'll have the most beautiful playground you ever saw," vowed an unmistakably proud Carraway.

Neighbors — without Carraway's knowledge — pitched in and cleared away the winter's debris in preparation for the spring work.

Washington University architectural student Dennis Bolazina drew the designs free of charge. Members of the bricklayers union spent their own time in the park building the patio wall and barbecue pit. A quarry donated asphalt to pave the lot.

Carraway and Thomas supervised the work. The kids clung tenaciously to the job, doing what they could.

The news media picked up the story and spread it across the country. Thomas said about $1,000 in donations came from all over.

An insurance firm donated $150,000 liability insurance.

The police department's normal contribution — protection for the facilities — is not needed.

"Some of the older kids guard the park," Carraway said. "They wouldn't let anybody damage it."

Thomas, whose assignment is police-community relations, said the park project has made his job easier. "We're able to converse intimately with the people in the area whereas in the past we saw them only at a distance. They even visit the station, something they didn't do before."

THE DAILY REFLECTOR

Butterflies aren't Human

Our 9A biology trip was a huge success. After we saw the museum's collection of rare lepidoptera, we went outside to collect specimens. Then we ate lunch, and took pictures. Here's one with me, on the left, laughing at Eddie. We were in a big discussion about whether or not butterflies can feel.

While our teacher exchanged notes with the curator, we sat around and talked. After butterflies, we started on missiles and rockets, and whether or not there's life on the stars. Somehow, don't ask me how, we got on the subject of God.

You know, I didn't realize how ignorant some kids are about Him! All of a sudden, I found out how good it is to have some ideas about where, what, and why, I am. A few of those kids were really way out in left field.

Now it's up to me to show them what they have been missing. I think I've talked them all into going to church with me Sunday.

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina egg markets one-half cent lower on large and mediums with smalls unchanged Thursday. Supplies adequate, demand slow. Prices paid producers and handlers for consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered nearby outlets:

Grade A large whites: 32½-34; medium, whites: 28-30; small, whites: 25.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina hog markets today were steady. Tops of 18.25-19.25 Rocky Mount, 18.25-19.00 Wilson; 18.00-19.00 Kinston, New Bern, Benson, Mt. Olive, Newton Grove, Albemarle, Lumberton; 18.25-18.75 Bethel; 18.50 Salisbury, Greensboro, Selma; 18.00 Siler City, Denton.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market widened its losses in active trading this afternoon.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 7.22 to 896.50, making a decisive break below the psychologically important 900 level.

Losses outnumbered gains by about 450 issues on the New York Stock Exchange. Except for some of the very high-priced issues, declines ran generally from fractions to one or two points.

No fresh news was linked with the decline but rather an accumulation of developments — the soaring price for gold in world markets, the weakness of the British pound and U.S. dollar abroad, the postponement of action on the tax-spending measure, climbing interest rates, tight money and concern over the cost-price inflationary spiral.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 2.1 to 326.7, with industrials off 4.3, rails off .8, and utilities off .1.

Despite the advance of gold-bullion prices, the gold-mining stocks halted their recent rise and turned irregularly lower. Dome Mines and Homestake lost fractions. Little or no change occurred among most of the others.

IBM lost 7 points, Xerox 5, General Instrument, Boeing, Texaco and Procter & Gamble 2 each.

Down a point or more were Berman Leasing, Rayette, Santa Fe, Litton Industries, General Motors, United Aircraft, Du Pont, General Electric, M-G-M, Penn Central, Standard Oil of Indiana and Commercial Credit.

Avco bucked the downtrend with a 3-point gain in active trading. Polaroid gained 1.

Little change was shown by the top steel makers. Chrysler was off about a point and Ford a fraction.

Prices were irregular on the American Stock Exchange.

Cosmetics Marketing Plan Is Ruled A 'Lottery' In Opinion

RALEIGH—Koscot Interplanetary, Inc., a cosmetics marketing plan with headquarters in Winter Park, Fla., has been ruled a "lottery under the laws of North Carolina" by the North Carolina attorney general's office.

Deputy attorney general James F. Bullock, who wrote the opinion, said "In a sense," the plan "constitutes a referral selling plan, a 'chain letter' scheme prohibited by law."

According to Bullock, "the only way a person can reach the sums held out in the 'opportunity meetings' an inducement is for a person to bring new members into his organization through a chain process, and new members securing other persons."

The company sells contracts, Bullock explained, "usually for about $2,000, to individuals, and these persons in turn, sell additional contracts to others in order to obtain a higher position and to receive the "finders fee" which is paid by the person "found" and, in turn, rebated by the company to the "finder."

The Koscot firm has been under investigation by the Secretary of State's office for some time and the opinion was prepared by Bullock at the request of William W. Coopedge, securities deputy in the Secretary of State's office.

Jack Edwards, son of North Carolina State University football coach Earle Edwards of Raleigh, is the firm's president. Glenn Turner of Marion, S.C. is chairman of the board.

Turner said he had instructed the company's attorney "to file suit against the attorney general of North Carolina for slandering the name of Koscot and its distributors in North Carolina."

Bullock said any further legal action against Koscot rests with the local solicitors.

The cosmetics organization operates in 25 states and has encountered no legal problems in any other state, Turner said.

Koscot purchases its cosmetics from other manufacturers for resale. It does not produce its own products.

Company officials said few cosmetics firms actually produce their own products, but have them manufactured to their specifications by chemical houses.

Koscot has been active in all areas of North Carolina. One of the firm's Golden Opportunity meetings was held in Greenville several months ago.
