

Strike Wave Is Spreading

A MESS — Scavengers of the Paris municipality are also on strike and garbage and litter is piling up daily in the streets. One of the more spectacular sites is Les Halles district known as "the belly of Paris" which may soon disappear under huge mountains of crates. (AP Wirephoto)

Amnesty For Students In French Street Fighting

PARIS (AP) — The French Cabinet, faced by an ever-expanding economic paralysis and the threat of parliamentary censure, decided today there should be no punishment for students charged with violence in the street fighting that led into the nation's strike crisis.

Summoned by President Charles de Gaulle, the ministers approved an amnesty bill at a 25-minute meeting. Information Minister Georges Gorse announced the bill, forgiving all charges against students except theft in the period between Feb. 1 and May 15, will be submitted to Parliament Wednesday for ratification.

Premier Georges Pompidou faced the National Assembly for debate on a censure motion expected to come to a vote Wednesday night. The governing Gaullist coalition expressed confidence it would survive the vote, but gave no indication what it would do about the workers' revolt for higher pay, shorter hours and job security.

Still Electric Car Problems

DETROIT (AP) — With the internal-combustion engine under attack an ear-warring pollution-spewer, engineers said today they have developed quiet, pollution-free electric cars that meet most commuter and suburban needs.

But problems remain and the vehicle's capabilities are limited. Three experimental efforts — by Ford Motor Co., General Electric Co., and Electric Fuel Propulsion Co. — were described in research reports prepared for the current Society of Automotive Engineers meeting in Detroit.

Robert A. Aronson of Electric Fuel Propulsion, a Ferndale, Mich., firm, said its Mars II experimental electric car "will meet the driving requirements of many residents of urban and suburban areas in terms of speed and range."

Meet Tomorrow

Recommendations for a proposed city ordinance concerning recreation areas are to be heard tomorrow night at the regular meeting of the City Planning and Zoning Commission.

Other items on the agenda include submission of a revised preliminary plat of the Red Oak Subdivision; the re-submission of a site plan for a proposed shopping center adjacent to the Pitt Plaza property; and a land use plan for 59 acres of land designated for business and residential purposes.

Top speed of the Mars II, he said, is 65 miles per hour, compared to 55 mph for GE's Delta and 40 mph for the Comuta developed by British researchers.

The typical medium-size U.S.-built automobile can go more than 200 miles on a tank of gasoline before needing refueling, and this far outdistances the range of the electric.

Facing the gravest threat yet posed to his 10-year-old Fifth Republic, De Gaulle has made no public statement since breaking off a visit to Romania Saturday and returning to the Elysee Palace. He is to address the nation on television Friday night, and there was no indication of what he planned for a situation strongly reminiscent of the turmoil that brought him back to power in 1958.

School Board Returns To Pupil Assignments

The Greenville City Board of Education last night approved a number of "second district and out-of-district students for the coming year, and approved for sale a number of surplus and obsolete items of equipment.

Board members voiced approval of all properly filed "second choice" requests received from a number of out-of-district students being moved from Elmhurst school to relieve overcrowded conditions there, and from out-of-district students who had requested Wahl-Coates school earlier.

Other students have failed to make a second choice and unless they do so within 10 days, they will be considered as returning to the County School system.

DeGaulle Meeting Chief Negotiators

Speculation Runs High That Others May Aid Paris Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador W. Averell Harriman conferred with Charles de Gaulle today amid increasing speculation that other powers may intervene with North Vietnam and the United States to assist Vietnamese peace negotiations.

North Vietnamese negotiator Xuan Thuy was scheduled to see De Gaulle later in the day.

A spokesman for Thuy slightly expanded Hanoi's public statements on how the next phase of the negotiations may develop — if the present first phase succeeds.

U.S. officials expect Britain, France and the Soviet Union to play some part in carrying the talks forward.

British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart will fly to Moscow Wednesday to confer with Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

The two men are co-chairmen of the Indo-chinese peace machinery created in 1954 and could be instrumental in arranging a peace conference if progress in the Paris talks ever warrants one.

Even more important, in the view of diplomats here, the Soviet government's influence on Hanoi. This is believed to have grown in the past year or so at the expense of Red China. As Peking's policy has fallen into the paralyzing grip of internal crisis, Vietnamese reliance on the Soviets is believed to have increased.

$26 Million In Capital Improvements Approved

Name Dorm For Mary Greene

By HENRY HOWARD

East Carolina University trustees Monday named the campus' first 10-story dormitory for Mary Hemphill Greene, former news bureau director and long-time faculty member who was killed in a home fire tragedy last January.

June, 1928. She would have retired next month to take a long-planned trip to Europe. But an early morning fire at her home near the campus last January 28 took her life.

Mary H. Greene Dormitory, which stands beside two more like it now under construction, houses 400 women students at the university.

The action by the trustees was unanimous upon recommendation by President Leo W. Jenkins and motion by James L. Whitfield of Raleigh. Henry Belk of Goldsboro seconded the motion.

Approved 1969-'71 budget requests of $26,365,500 for capital improvements and $18.7 million (to go with $15.2 million in ECU receipts) for operating expenses.

Unanimously approved a resolution calling on Governor Moore and the Advisory Budget Commission to raise President Jenkins' salary ($23,000) to put it in line with other state educators with comparable positions ($27,000 to $30,000, according to the trustees).

Ovid Pierce for his new novel, "The Devil's Half," and to Dr. Jenkins' secretary, Mrs. Agnes Barrett, who is retiring July 1 after 38 years of service. Mrs. Barrett has served as secretary to all five of ECU's presidents.

Launching Congressional Drive Poor People's Delegates Are Sent To Capitol Hill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Poor People's Campaign launched today its drive for congressional action on demands for jobs and income by sending delegations to the House and Senate.

love and brotherhood for all. A group of about 200 camp residents knelt and bared their heads, repeating after Jackson, "I am somebody, I am a child of God. I may not have any money but I am somebody."

The campsites now houses about 2,000 of the 3,000 persons SCLC planned to put in the plywood shanties that stretch down West Potomac Park.

About 75 persons left their campsites in Resurrection City, U.S.A., to attend House hearings on the problems of hunger. Ten more were dispatched to a Senate hearing on urban problems. Others were delegated to call on individual congressmen.

As he stood on a rickety table outside the campsites' still unfinished "city hall," a day's growth of beard showing on his dark brown face.

Police at North Kannapolis were questioning a man identified as Jerome Roseboro, 19, of Charlotte. An alert was issued for another man, identified as 30-year-old Clayton Allen Martin, also of Charlotte.

Apparently postponed was a scheduled walk from Resurrection City across the Potomac river to the grave of president John F. Kennedy in Arlington National Cemetery.

Rowan Memorial Hospital at Salisbury reported that Roberts was in "critical condition" after surgery. He was shot in the abdomen and upper left arm.

Officers said Roberts was making a routine check of Landis business establishments when he discovered something amiss at the drug store. An assistant, Harrison Beaver, said he heard shots on the roof and heard Roberts call for help. Beaver summoned aid on the police radio, then returned to the stricken chief.

Police Chief Shot; Two Men Quizzed

LANDIS, N.C. (AP) — Hoyle police chief, was critically wounded late Monday night while on the roof of a Landis drug store investigating a break-in attempt.

It was also reported that construction on the new E. B. Aycock Junior High School is behind schedule but according to a report by Dr. Cleetwood, contractors began this week with a double crew in an effort to make more progress on the new facility.

Large individual contributors to the Scott caused included Ike Belk of Charlotte who was listed for $2,500.

Orange County Schools Closed

HILLSBOROUGH, N. C. (AP) — All of Orange County's Negro schools were closed today as the result of a week-long boycott by pupils at Central High School which erupted into a brief flurry of violence Monday.

In announcing the shut-down of the school, G. Paul Carr, Orange County school superintendent, said it would remain closed "until as many as one-half of the students ... are willing to return to class and resume their studies."

Police, deputies and state troopers were rushed to the school Monday and encircled the building after students threw chairs and desks around the library and gymnasium.

Meanwhile, an ordinance requiring a permit before marches or demonstrations can be staged was passed by the Hillsborough town board. The striking central students have staged at least two marches into downtown Hillsborough.

The schools were ordered closed after the striking students had ignored a ultimatum from the Orange County Board of Education to return to their classes or face the closing of schools Tuesday.

Mayor Fred Cates pointed out that the ordinance does not forbid marches or demonstration but "merely gives law enforcement agencies sufficient time to prepare for an escort."

Police, deputies and state troopers were rushed to the school Monday and encircled the building after students threw chairs and desks around the library and gymnasium.

The boycott by more than 500 students began last Tuesday as the students protested plans of the school board to desegregate the school system over a two-year period. The students are demanding immediate integration of high schools and junior high schools.

Two Danish fishing trawlers relieved the Blenheim's packed lifeboats of about 65 of the passengers and took them to the Danish port of Esbjerg.

In London, the ship's owners said "everybody was rescued." Norwegian radio said there were 38 British passengers aboard the Blenheim and the other passengers were Norwegians.

The sea was calm as a fleet of rescue ships, planes and helicopters converged on the scene 170 miles west of the Danish harbor of Tyboron. The armada was hurriedly summoned from Britain, Scandinavia and the Netherlands.

Asylum In Church For Self-Styled Fugitives

BOSTON (AP) — Two men who say they are military fugitives and expect to be arrested have been granted asylum in Arlington Street Church and fellow resistors vow they will protect them from police.

Victor G. Jokel, executive director of the Unitarian-Universalist church across from the Public Garden, told a news conference Monday the men will be given sanctuary as long as they need it.

Ira Arlook, a spokesman for New England Resistance, a group opposing the draft and the Vietnam war, said its members would attempt to obstruct law enforcement officers if they tried to enter the church.

The two men identified themselves at the news conference at the church as Robert Talmanson of Boston and William Chase of Dennis on Cape Cod.

Talmanson said he was convicted a year ago of failing to report for induction and his appeal from a three-year prison sentence was denied last week by the U.S. Supreme Court.

Chase said he served in the Army in Vietnam but is refusing additional military service and is absent without leave from Ft. Lewis, Washington.

Col. Paul Feeney, deputy director of the Massachusetts Selective Service system, said no one was trying to bring in Chase or Talmanson so far.

He said U.S. attorneys would have to get a federal court order calling for Talmanson's sentence to be invoked before acting. The case of Chase, he said, is a problem for the U.S. provost marshal at Ft. Lewis and would be handled by the Army.

Jokel acknowledged that the medieval tradition of church sanctuary has no legal force today but contended it has "the force of a moral imperative on the side of life and man."

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department says no effort is being made to shift negotiations on release of the captured intelligence ship Pueblo and its crew from Panmunjom to Paris.

"No attempt is being made along that line and the negotiations are being conducted in Korea," department press officer Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey had said the best way to get the ship and crew back from North Korea may be to make the issue "part and parcel" of current peace talks between U.S. and North Vietnamese representatives in Paris.

Humphrey said at the same time North Korea may release the crew, and possibly the vessel as well.

McCloskey noted Humphrey emphasized the word "may" and said: "We share this hope but there are no recent developments we can report on."

GREENVILLE — A full program of tours, class reunions and other events is scheduled Saturday, May 25, as East Carolina University observes its annual Alumni Day.

As in past years, Alumni Day precedes by a day the annual graduation exercises at East Carolina. More than 1,500 candidates are scheduled to receive their degrees in commencement ceremonies Sunday, May 26, in Ficklen Stadium.

Alumni Day begins at 9:45 a.m. with registration in Joyner Library. Guided bus tours of the campus are scheduled from 10 to 11 a.m. and the annual alumni luncheon will be held at 12 noon in South Dining Hall.

The various class reunions will be held at 2:30 p.m. in Joyner Library and President Leo W. Jenkins will give his annual President's Tea for alumni at 4 p.m. at his home on East Fifth Street.

Classes returning for special reunions include the Classes of '18 and '43 which gather for golden and silver anniversary meetings, respectively. Other reunion classes are those of 19-13, '23, '28, '33, '38, '48, '53, '58 and '63.

Arrangements for Alumni Day are being handled by the Alumni Office under the direction of William P. Eyerman, director of alumni affairs.

Sees Parleys As Red Forum

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Gen. Maxwell Taylor, special consultant to President Johnson and former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, says the North Vietnamese plan to use the peace table as a forum to sell their side and to use military action to increase the military situation to their advantage.

Taylor made the comments Monday night in a speech to the 68th annual banquet of the North Carolina Merchants Association.

He added, however, that agreement on Paris as the site for U.S.-North Vietnamese peace talks "means that the meeting would be to discuss matters of substance."

"Only strength induces the Communists to negotiate a reasonable settlement," Taylor said. "There is a possible settlement, but it will be most difficult."

He added that the United States' blue chip in the negotiations is the bombing of North Vietnam. He said it must not be stopped.

"Much of the outcome," he said, "depends on the United States at home. Do we have the patience, the will, and the determination to win?"

Taylor also said the January Tet offensive in Vietnam was a complete reversal of strategy for the Communists, and because of heavy losses, the North Vietnamese decided to open a new front—the peace talks.

"The enemy decided to change their strategy because it was losing," Taylor said. "Their decision was to abandon the so-called prolonged conflict and go for broke."

Taylor said the North Vietnamese scored a great psychological advantage in the Tet offensive, but lost heavily in a military point of view.

After Taylor's speech, officers for the association were installed. They were: G. Brogden Sence of Rockingham, president; John W. Pope of Fuquay-Varina, first vice president; E. Golson of Asheville, second vice president; and Thompson Greenwood of Raleigh, executive vice president.

Resume War On Racing Drivers

RALEIGH (AP) — The North Carolina Highway Patrol has announced resumption of its drive to catch those who engage in pre-arranged highway races.

The announcement came after a three-week investigation identified 152 isolated roads scattered over the state which are frequently the scenes of racing.

Maj. John Laws, head of the patrol's enforcement division, said troopers had been ordered to intensify surveillance of the racing spots in a drive to reduce fatalities caused by racing.

It Takes Both Parties 'To Save' A Marriage

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBEY: I will give you the facts, which are all true, as I am the girl's mother: Millie and Don (made up names) were married 2 weeks after Don graduated from high school. They had to get married as Millie was 5 months along. After the baby came I babysat for Millie so she could go back to school and get her diploma.

The baby is a year old now and Don says he wants a divorce. He says he doesn't love Millie anymore and he wants to be "free." He says he doesn't want the responsibilities of marriage and fatherhood. He won't go to our priest, and he won't see a marriage counselor. He says all he wants is out. He went to a lawyer who says it will be difficult but not impossible for Don to get a divorce without Millie's cooperation because he has no grounds. (Millie has all kinds of grounds, but she doesn't want to file.)

Millie says she loves him and is willing to do anything to save her marriage. Can you help?

MILLIE'S MOM
 DEAR MOM: No one can "help" save a marriage unless both parties want to save it. Millie can make it tough for Don to get a divorce, but can't force him to live with her. Assuming she could "save" the marriage, a young husband who feels trapped would make a poor husband and a worse father.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is well over the age of collecting social security, but would you believe he is so vain he won't put in for it because he doesn't want to admit his right age?

He is still running after women, too. Believe me, if he ever catches any it will be perfectly harmless. I should know.

I have been touching up his hair for years, otherwise it would be snow-white. Lately I have been telling him it is time he let his hair go "natural," for it is no crime for a man his age to have white hair, but he says, no, he still wants me to touch it up for him. If you were me, would you?

ELSA
 DEAR ELSA: No. Tell him as long as there is no fire in the furnace, he may as well leave the snow on the roof.

DEAR ABBY: In answer to the question recently asked of you, "Is the pill 100 per cent safe?"—may I reply?

Thinking this was the only safe way to avoid having a baby at my age (42), I asked my doctor for the pill. I used it for nearly 2 years, then . . . bang! I found I was pregnant. I had not forgotten to take my pill at any time, so at first I thought surely it was the menopause. (So did my doctor.) It turned out to be a beautiful baby boy instead.

Abby. I had two grandchildren, so naturally I was about as "overjoyed" at the prospects of having another baby as most women in their mid-forties would have been. But what seemed at first to be the end of the world turned out to be the most wonderful thing that ever has happened to me.

I hope that other women who find themselves in the same situation will read this and realize it is not a catastrophe—but God's will. Only He could have known the joy this unexpected child was to give us. And now we know, too.

BLESSED IN ZANESVILLE
 DEAR ABBY: I have a "confidential" for my husband's secretary who is also doubling as "the other woman" in his life: I have offered my husband his freedom so he could marry her, but he said he doesn't want it. Another thing, we have been married for 29 years—not 21. He also lied about his age.

HIS WIFE
 Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Planning, Coordination Essential

Greenville's Redevelopment Commission, practicing the policy of better-late-than-never, seems to be moving toward a system of more closely coordinating work of the various contractors and agencies involved in construction in the Shore Drive area.

While there are many things which can cause delays in work of a project as complex as the Shore Drive area, it seems to us the Redevelopment Commission should have set up such a coordinating system at the outset of construction in the area. If that had been done and the desired degree of coordination and cooperation effected among contractors and agencies involved, the new coordinating effort probably would not be required.

The situation came to light at the Greenville Utilities Commission last week when it was revealed that the Utilities Commission has received a critical letter from the Redevelopment Commission concerning delays in its work in the Shore Drive area. The Utilities Commission asked that all parties involved in construction in the area meet periodically to plan and coordinate work.

If the delays that already have been experienced in work in the area are to be overcome, such planning and coordination is essential. Indeed, without it there are certain to be greater delays than already have been experienced.

As the authority for which all work in the Shore Drive area is being done, the Redevelopment Commission has the ultimate responsibility to see that the project moves along on schedule and is completed without undue delays. It is the one agency to which all others involved in the Shore Drive area are responsible. As such it should exert its influence by insisting that all agencies and contractors involved in the project work more closely together in meeting deadlines for completion of the improvements.

Area To Benefit From Sheltered Workshop

It is gratifying that work is about to get underway on the modern new building that will house the East Carolina Sheltered Workshop.

Contracts for construction of the facility were awarded, subject to minor negotiations, last Thursday.

Reaching the construction stage is the culmination of much hard work on the part of many people. More than $55,000 was raised through contributions from local governmental units and other sources. This is combined with a federal grant of $179,364 and a $50,000 grant from the state Medical Care Commission.

As a result a 12,000 square foot workshop will soon be under construction on the Dail Farm, north of Greenville.

The Sheltered Workshop, which is already operating in temporary quarters, will mean much to the entire Eastern North Carolina area.

It would be impossible to cite all the people who made it possible, but this section owes them a debt of gratitude.

N.C. Faces The Step To Metro

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau

RALEIGH — Many experts view "metro" government as a forward, money-saving step that can be taken toward solving some of the problems of growing urbanization.

Such a step itself is not without problems, hazards and much difficulty in a state so long rurally-oriented as North Carolina. It is a giant step but one about to be taken.

stem of complete separation of cities and county but permits consolidation if the parties go to court and argue their case either for annexation or consolidation.

Mecklenburg-Charlotte Growth

It may now, but until very recently North Carolina was an innocent, wide-eyed bystander on the sidelines of any such urbanization problems which brought the "metro" concept onto the scene.

North Carolina simply had no metropolitan areas which would qualify under the usual definition. And it still ranks 44th in the nation in proportion of urban to rural population, having an urban population of less than 40 per cent compared to the national average of nearly 70 per cent.

One-third of the entire population of the U. S. is now concentrated in urban areas containing 1 million or more population. North Carolina's population is slightly more than five million. Its heaviest urban population is in Charlotte — Mecklenburg County, an area of 540 square miles, and amounts to only 341,000. By 1980, this is expected to grow to 520,000 and 425,900 will be living in the city of Charlotte.

Statewide Levy

In a recent dispatch, the executive director of the N. C. Association of County Commissioners, John Morrissey, was quoted as saying "at least 75 other counties are ready to go along" on a one per cent additional sales tax proposition for local purposes.

Morrissey feels this needs clarification. The 75 counties, he says, favor such an additional levy on a statewide basis — in all 100 counties — instead of local option.

Mecklenburg County presently is the only county in the state collecting an additional penny per dollar on sales for local use. This is under a local option law enacted in 1967 which gave Mecklenburg voters a choice of whether to accept the plan.

They did. The tax became effective in March and in the first month produced $426,408 which will be refunded by the State Revenue Department.

Consolidation Voted

For several years "metro" government has been in effect in such exploding centers as Miami - Dade County, Fla., Jacksonville - Duval County, Fla., and Nashville - Davidson County, Tenn.

Also, in somewhat different form, there have been consolidations of small but populous suburban communities and counties to form single governmental identities such as Chesapeake, Va. and North Myrtle Beach, S. C.

Metro has met resistance elsewhere because of old, firmly-established political set-ups and systems, and in the South one may look at Atlanta, Memphis and Birmingham, Virginia clings to its system.

Breakthrough By Rockefeller

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The first major breakthrough for Gov. Nelson Rockefeller in a large state is now being quietly prepared within the highest councils of the Pennsylvania Republican party.

Gov. Ray Shafer is under increasing — but kid-glove — pressure from most top-ranking party leaders in the state to yield his favorite — son role and lead all but a handful of the 64 vote delegation into the Rockefeller camp some time after the delegates have their first organizational meeting in Harrisburg next Friday.

To show just how determined the party leaders are, Thomas McCabe, the Republican National Committeeman, has privately informed Shafer that, if McCabe's activity for Rockefeller is embarrassing Shafer, McCabe will gladly resign as National Committeeman.

Shafer said no. But Shafer still has not passed a final, definitive word that he will in fact go all the way with Rockefeller. One sticky problem: some party officials fear that defections from Rockefeller might be increased if Shafer gives up his favorite — son position and turns the delegation loose. Most party leaders, however, feel Rockefeller needs the psychological boost so badly that the loss of a couple of delegates would be minor by contrast with the loss of a Shafer endorsement.

Several secret meetings have been held in Shafer's office since Rockefeller announced his candidacy on April 30, with one of the most powerful voices for Rockefeller coming from former Gov. William M. Scranton (who carried the tattered anti-Goldwater banner for the Republican moderates in San Francisco four years ago).

Two major arguments are being made to Shafer: first, that with Rockefeller as the Presidential nominee, the state GOP has its best chance in November, with the U. S. Senate seat of Democrat Joseph S. Clark a definite possibility, and second, that even if Rockefeller loses the nomination, an endorsement would help the party gain strength in the future.

Of the 64 delegates, Richard M. Nixon has about five, California Gov. Ronald Reagan one or two. Most of the rest are ready to go for Rockefeller.

A Rockefeller breakthrough in the Keystone State is absolutely essential if he is to have any chance at all at the Miami Beach convention.

Sorensen for Veep

Arriving in the White House Cabinet room Thursday to attend the swearing-in of Wilbur Cohen as Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Vice President Hubert Humphrey spotted Theodore Sorensen standing against a wall.

Ignoring all others, Humphrey went briskly up to Sorensen and, sotto voce, said: "Ted, since I'm offering it to everyone else, how about you being my Vice President?"

Humphrey's pleasant enough tone concealed an undercurrent of bitterness toward President Kennedy's chief White House aide, now a campaign worker for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy. Humphrey deeply resented Sorensen's televised charge, first made shortly after Humphrey announced his own Presidential candidacy and repeated again last week, that he knew "for a fact" that Humphrey had offered the Vice Presidency on a Humphrey ticket to almost every Southern Democratic Governor.

No one heard Sorensen's response — if there was one.

Brooke and Nixon

Only the fact that he is backing Gov. Rockefeller stopped Massachusetts Sen. Edward Brooke from publicly rebuking Richard M. Nixon for its criticism of the Poor People's March on Washington.

Brooke confided to Republican friends in the Senate on Wednesday that Nixon is apparently convinced that an undercurrent of white backlash is sweeping the country and has determined to make no obeisance to the Negro vote.

But Brooke, the Senate's only Negro, decided against making a statement.

from rolling these things under the tongue in bitter recollection or angry resentment. For the person who likes that sort of thing, there is nothing in the long list of human indulgences which compares with it.

But snap out of it brother; before all your happiness is gone. Renounce that sugary variety of iniquity before you get moral and spiritual diabetes. Start running now. The danger is so alarming and so imminent that you have not a minute to spare. The sins of the flesh are bad, but self-pity will incarcerate you in a land you in jail, but self-pity will incarcerate you in a prison a thousand times more loathsome.

Have you ever sat down and indulged yourself in a good sinful hour of self-pity? There is nothing some people like so much. Others may go to Bermuda, still others wear fine clothes, or drink expensive liquors, or sate themselves in the sins of the flesh. But as for the people who love to pity themselves all other indulgences are as nothing compared with this one.

They imagine themselves abused, imposed upon by the members of their family and their business associates, snubbed by their friends. Ah, the exquisite flavor derived

UN-BIASED POSITION!

By JAMES KILPATRICK

Nixon Vs. Charisma

Richard Nixon fought hard through Oregon last week, grinning the grin of the middle-aged Ike and waving his arms like windshield wipers, but all the time he was fighting phantoms.

He was fighting the unshaven shade of the old Nixon, the dark antagonist who lost to Jack Kennedy in 1960 and to Pat Brown in 1962, but mainly he was fighting the phantom of Ronald Reagan and the graveyard ghosts that Reagan's men have conjured up. He was fighting, as well, against an unseen Rockefeller, a distant Humphrey. And he was giving it all he had.

In this disembodied sparring match, the glad news from Nebraska scarcely mattered. Nothing mattered, indeed, except the here-and-now of Oregon in May — rain squalls, the clouds lowering, the azaleas and iris bursting; nothing mattered but the imperative of pushing on, shaking the next hand, meeting the next county chairman, formulating the next variation of the themes of old Number One. He is not much of a sprint man, Dick Nixon. He is as lonely as the long-distance runner.

What could he do, his aides kept asking, to counter the non-candidacy of Ronald Reagan? It could hardly be ignored. Reagan himself is not around, but a Reagan-for-President office is going great guns in downtown Portland. The Reagan people have spent a fortune on TV time; they have commandeered billboards, bought newspaper space, put a gaudy bus on the road. This weekend, Sunday papers in Oregon distributed a paid advertising supplement, promoting Reagan as the "winning Republican." The tabloid boosts Reagan as "the candidate who can win," as the man "best qualified to win," as the embodiment of a "winning candidate." The inference, of course, is that Nixon is not such a winner, Reagan's boys know how to hurt a man.

Nixon would have been quite willing to take on a bodily Reagan in the Oregon primary fight. Reagan isn't on the ballot. Nixon has not been able to fight directly against Romney either. Rockefeller will not climb in the ring. Here in Oregon, as in all other primaries, the Nixon challenge is to lick any man in the house. No one arises. He is reduced to forensic whacks at Kennedy's hair. Who can make much of this?

One result is that the visiting press inescapably is struck by the letdown contrast of, say, Bobby in Indiana and Nixon in Oregon. Bobby burts upon the scene like a sneeze in a henhouse. He is a celebrity, a happening, a once-in-a-lifetime event he is a man's first barbershop shave, a girl's first kiss. In Indiana, no less than Nebraska, Bobby has wowed 'em. He has been Saturday night in Las Vegas.

Nixon is something else. He is more like Sunday afternoon in Peola. He drove out of Portland Tuesday morning in a slow drizzle. Not a soul was on the sidewalks; his advance men had been directed not to make the effort. He arrived at an armory in McMinnville (pop. 9,100), but no screaming teeny boppers were there to meet him. An attentive 2,000 persons had gathered, but they were mostly unadorned oldsters, white-haired, helping each other down the steps. There were Nixon girls in straw hats, to be sure, and the high school band was playing, but there was none of the electricity, none of the wild exhilaration, of Kennedy on parade.

This is Nixon's problem, but paradoxically, it may be Nixon's opportunity also. His appeal is to the decent people against the indecent people, to those who work against those who loaf, to men who raise

Other Editors Saying Questions For Parents

(Chicago Tribune)

It doesn't look as if Miss Martha Peterson, president of Barnard college, will be getting any response from the parents of Linda LeClair as to who they think is responsible for the behavior of young men and women in college. Miss LeClair, age 20, dropped out of Barnard classes rather than submit to college punishment for living off campus with a young man. This in effect, closed the issue.

But Miss Peterson's questions deserve the attention of a great many other colleges and parents as well. She asked Miss LeClair to have her parents write "stating their position on the responsibility they carry for you and what they expect of the college. I am particularly interested in whether they consider you an emancipated minor legally or in fact. At what age and for what reason did they grant you the freedom you now enjoy?"

The typical parent might have a hard time answering these questions, if only because he has not given the matter much thought. After all, it seems to have become "square" to demand a new standard of behavior on the part of the young. Ask Dr. Spock. Look at the sympathetic leniency of court after court. Look at the tendency of colleges themselves to shy away from the responsibility. Not many parents would acknowledge the duty to buck this trend, especially if, after years of permissiveness, they are not sure their children would pay any attention.

Not many, we suspect, would dare to assert that as long as they were paying tuition, no matter what the laws said about minority and adulthood, they were entitled to a say in how their son or daughter behaved.

So if Miss Peterson's purpose was to suggest that many parents have defaulted in their obligations, it may have some merit. But so does the normal parental response that the colleges (and courts, and baby doctors) are to blame, too. Shunting the blame back and forth is not going to solve the problem, but it may at least result in some consensus as to who is responsible, and for what.

Record Rates For All

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Record high interest rates will be paid this week by corporate and municipal borrowers as a direct result of the decision by the House of Representatives to postpone action on a tax increase.

The high rates are caused by inflation and the failure of tax policy to cool the overheated economic expansion. This puts the burden of economic restraint almost solely on money rates.

Eventually, if not now, the record rates will affect every borrower, including the home buyer, the city seeking to build a new water system, the corporation with plans to expand and the U.S. government seeking to finance its operations.

The postponement of tax action comes at a time when many of these potential borrowers are actively seeking money. In this week alone more than $500 million of new corporate and municipal bond issues will reach the market.

Highest-grade corporate bonds already are nearing 7 per cent, and in one instance a medium grade issue was offered at 8 per cent. The federal government is paying 6 per cent, and home mortgages now are above 7 per cent in some areas.

This month President Johnson signed a bill permitting increases in the rate of loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration from 6 per cent to 6 1/2 per cent. And several states now are in the process of lifting the ceiling on mortgage rates.

Even higher rates seem likely, and Johnson's warning of 10 per cent borrowing costs in the absence of a tax increase now seems more realistic than it did a couple of weeks ago. One of the dangers in such high rates is that they could precipitate a recession.

Another worry concerns the stability of the dollar, the value of which some economists feel is overstated and could lead to instability in the world's economy.

A widely held opinion in financial circles is that, once again, the Federal Reserve may raise the discount rate. This being the rate at which members banks may borrow, it generally fore-shadows increases in the cost of almost every other type of borrowing.

It is the responsibility of this central bank to expand or limit the money supply to keep the economy stable rather than inflated or depressed. Since inflation now grows worse by the day, analysts believe the Federal Reserve is compelled to slow economic activity by making borrowing more difficult.

Although the interest rates are few and far between, their frequency in the past 2 1/2 years illustrates the instability of the economy.

On Dec. 6, 1965, the rate was raised to 4 1/2 per cent from 4 and remained at that level until April 7, 1967, when it was lowered again to 4 per cent.

From that point on, however, there have been regular increases, to 4 1/2 per cent Nov. 20, 1967, to 5 per cent March 22, to 5 1/2 per cent April 18. If another increase is made, most likely it will be to 6 per cent.

Although the interest rates that are appropriate to an economy at a given time cannot always be compared, it is difficult to overlook the fact that in 1929 the discount rate was 8 per cent and that for the next 27 years it failed to reach even 4 per cent. At one point it actually fell to 1/2 of one per cent.

Labor Fares Better Than Rest

By ELMER ROESSNER

Labor is doing better than the rest of the economy, judging from the report of the Bureau of Labor Statistics on major union contracts negotiated in the first quarter of this year.

It found that the median wage and benefit package increase agreed to was 6.2 per cent a year over the life of the contracts. This compares with 5.2 per cent for the year 1967.

This indicates that organized labor is keeping ahead of the rising cost of living, which rose at a rate of 4 per cent a year during the first quarter.

It also indicates that labor is doing better than the rest of the economy. Total personal income rose 2.6 per cent at annual rates in the first quarter.

And, perhaps most significant of all, these sweeter increases in the labor secret of economy indicate that wage increases are a potent force for inflation. Some Get Even Sweeter Boosts

The median, of course, is not the average. It is the middle figure, with half of those getting more, half getting less. The BLS figures showed that 4 per cent of the workers got less than an annual increase of 4 per cent, and that 8 per cent got increases of 7 per cent and over. The largest group, 32 per cent, got 6 or under 7 per cent.

Unions in manufacturing industries did not do quite as well as others. Their median increase was 5.0 per cent, while the others' median was 6.6 per cent.

While benefits were significant, most of the gains were in cash. The BLS said: "Considering wage increases separately from benefits, increases during the entire life of the contract averaged 5.6 per cent of straight-time average hourly earnings annually, compared with 5.0 per cent for the full year 1967."

First Years Sweeter

The analysis also showed that unions did better in the first year of their new contracts. The median for the first year wage rate increase was 7.4 per cent. This compares with 5.7 for the full year 1967.

The BLS reported that 44 per cent got raises of from 7 to 8 per cent the first year, 13 per cent got between 8 and 10 per cent in raises, and 6 per cent got more than 10 per cent.

It also found that 34 per cent of the workers in manufacturing got increases of 25 cents and over an hour, and that 16 per cent of the other workers got that much in raises.

How To Control Costs Of Making Machine Copies

Many companies, after installing copier machines, find costs running higher than expected. When a machine is new, many people try it, either to learn how or just to see how it works. But often costs stay high after the novelty has worn off. Now Buyers Laboratory, 305 E. 45th St., New York 10017, has issued a free list of 15 steps to take to save costs. Rule No. 5: Don't let employees use the machine for personal work.

Far-Reaching Decisions By Supreme Court

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Defendants in all but "petty" criminal cases are entitled to the chance to be tried by juries, a precedent-shattering Supreme Court has ruled. "Trial by jury in criminal cases is fundamental to the American scheme of justice," Justice Byron R. White said in the 7-2 decision Monday. The ruling, one of several expanding the rights of criminal defendants, made the jury trial guarantee of the Sixth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution binding on the states. At the same time, again by a 7-2 vote, the court erased the distinction between criminal contempt and other crimes and put "serious" contempt cases under the jury-trial rule. The justices were not explicit in drawing a line between what it considered "serious" and what it considered "petty" cases. However, crimes carrying a two-year sentence were put in the "serious" category and those of six-months were viewed as "petty" meaning bench trials are still permissible.

The dissenters, Justices John M. Harlan and Potter Stewart, objected to use of the 14th Amendment's due process clause to promote uniformity among the states. "Quite without reason," they said, "the court has chosen to impose upon every state one means of trying criminal cases; it is a good means, but it is not the only fair means, and it is not demonstrably better than the alternatives states might devise."

In two other decisions, meanwhile, the court junked long-standing decisions. It said a man cannot be tried fairly if the jury hears a co-defendant's confession incriminating him. And it said prisoners do not have to complete their sentences before testing additional sentences that await them. The expansion of rights and the break with the past appeared particularly dramatic because the Senate takes up today legislation to curb the court that is rooted, essentially, in just such actions.

Along with the criminal law decisions, the court opened shopping centers to mass picketing, gave illegitimate children equal treatment under the law and set the stage for consideration next fall of the speeded induction of Vietnam war protesters. Suburban shopping centers, the court ruled 6 to 3, cannot be declared off-limits to peaceful pickets "wishing to exercise their First Amendment rights."

Acquisition Of Land For New High School Nearer

The Pitt County Board of Education moved a step closer in Pitt County Superior Court yesterday to possible acquisition of about 30 acres of land for a new consolidated school site about seven miles south of Greenville on N.C. 43.

Judge William J. Bundy ruled that Bruce C. Tyson and his sister, Mrs. Tila Tyson Kintz, had been properly served with will be for three hours each the question was within the jurisdiction of the court.

The Pitt County Board of Education, in an effort to obtain the school site, between Greenville and Chicod, earlier offered Tyson and Mrs. Kintz $18,500 for the 30-acre tract, then tried to negotiate for the land, without success. After failure of negotiations, the Board of Education instituted condemnation proceedings.

If the proceedings continue to have the land taken by right of eminent domain, the price for the land will be determined by a commission appointed by the clerk of court or by a jury on appeal from the commission's decision.

The land, if finally secured by the county school board, will be used as a site for a consolidated high school.

Four such consolidated schools are planned for the county, including one on N.C. 11 between Greenville and Bethel, one in the Farmville area, one between Ayden and Grifton, and the N.C. 43 site.

A sit has already been purchased for the school north of Greenville on N.C. 11 and plans for the building are now being drawn by architects.

AAS Award To Colonel Carty

The chairman of the aerospace studies department at East Carolina University Lt. Col. Douglas F. Carty, has received Arnold Air Society's Outstanding Professor of Aerospace Studies and Adviser Award.

Carty was one of the 17 winners cited at a society gathering in New York. Established in 1958, the award recognizes significant contributions to aerospace education and national security through distinguished leadership in Air University's Air Force ROTC.

Selection was made by the nine area commandants at Air Force ROTC headquarters, Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala.

A native of Knoxville, Tenn., Col. Carty is a graduate of the University of Omaha (AB) where he held membership in the Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity. He has also studied at the University of Tennessee and the University of Maryland.

In the Air Force he is a graduate of the Academic Instructors Course, the Air Command and Staff School and the Air War College, all three at Maxwell Air Force Base, and the Special Investigations School in Washington, D. C.

With Long Hair, A 'Young Lady'

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A long-haired member of the audience stood to attract the attention of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller at a question-and-answer session Monday at the University of Florida.

"That young lady over there," Rockefeller said. The crowd looked and roared. "I'm sorry. Let's start this over. That young gentleman over there," Rockefeller said.

Has New Liver, Leaves Hospital

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Randall Wayne Bennett, 2, one of four known survivors of liver transplant operations, has been discharged from the University of Colorado Medical Center.

The curly haired son of Mrs. Sandra Bennett of Mesquite, Tex., is the first liver transplant patient to progress enough to be released.

The youngster underwent surgery Feb. 9, after doctors found he suffered from biliary atresia, the congenital malformation of bile ducts. The ailment often results in death by about the second birthday.

Randy and his mother are remaining in Denver, and he still makes regular trips to the center for checkups and treatments.

Another of the patients, Terry Jean Kent, 16, went home to Hillsboro, Ore., for the weekend, and returned to the hospital Monday. She had her transplant in March.

The other patients are Julie Cherie Rodriguez, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rodriguez of Pueblo, Colo., and Eddie Miller, 44, of West Helena, Ark.

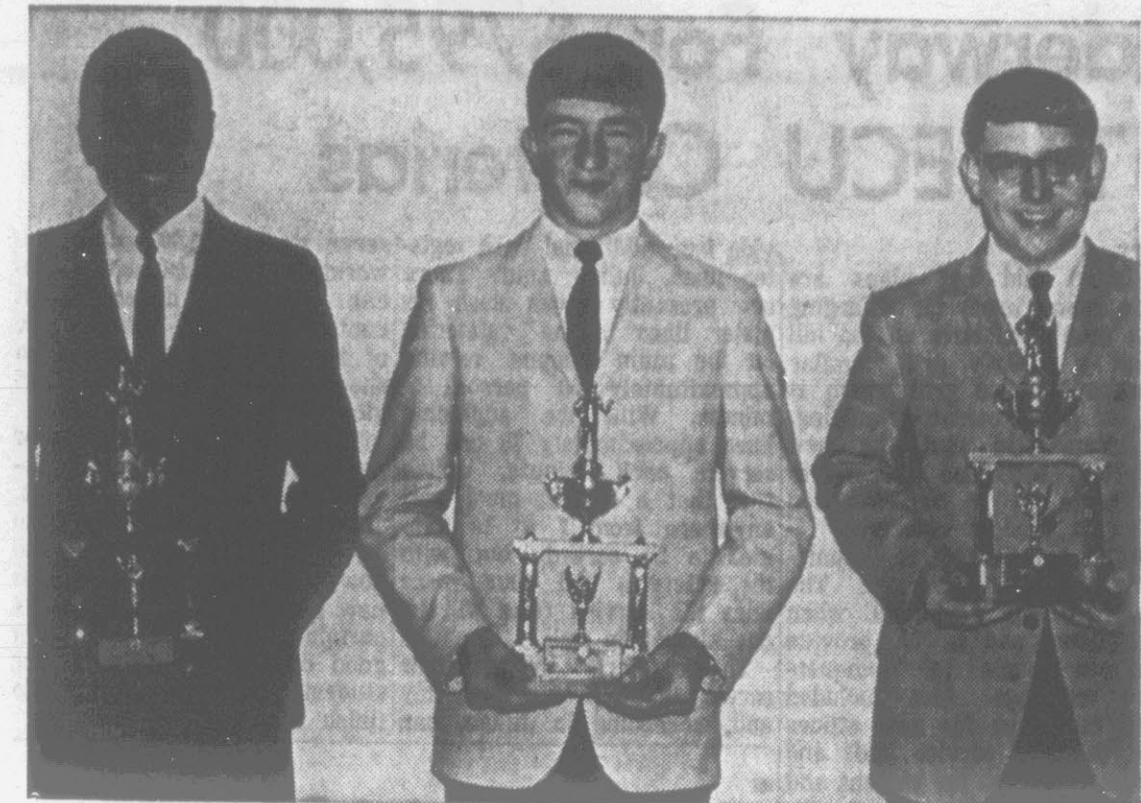

Julie received her new liver nearly 10 months ago, on July 23, 1967 while Miller is the most recent addition to the group. He had the operation April 14.

Four Orphans From Vietnam To U.S.

SAIGON (AP) — Four South Vietnamese orphans Monday began a trip to new homes halfway around the world — Chapel Hill, N. C., Denver, Ann Arbor, Mich., and Belle Mead, N. J.

The American Quaker Society of Friends located the American homes, there by ending a life of moving from person to person, group to group, for the four youths, the oldest of whom is 5 years old.

Carol Simmons, the wife of an Associated Press newsman in Saigon, is escorting the children through Hong Kong and to the United States.

Three-year-old Huynh Thi Hieu will be the first child to meet her new parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bryant of Denver.

Then the group moves to Chicago where another three-year-old, Le Thi Hoa, will meet her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Reed of Ann Arbor.

Washington is the next stop. There, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gwyn of Chapel Hill will pick up four-year-old Vo Thi Thien Nga.

And finally, Mrs. Simons will take the group's only boy, five-year-old Nguyen Van Dong, to Philadelphia, where they will be met by his new parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Poicer of Belle Meade.

These four children bring to 11 the number of Vietnamese orphans brought to the United States by the Society of Friends' Meeting for Sufferings of Vietnamese Children.

That group and two others, the International Social Service and Terre Des Hommes, have sent a total of 250 South Vietnamese orphans from their homeland to foster homes.

Says No 'Percentages' In Demo Delegation

RALEIGH (AP)—A suggestion that the North Carolina delegation to the Democratic National Convention be composed of 25 per cent Negroes was flatly rejected Monday by state Democratic Chairman Tim Valentine.

The suggestion came from Dr. Reginald Hawkins, Charlotte dentist, minister and civil rights leader who ran third in the May 4 primary for the Democratic nomination for governor. Hawkins reminded Valentine in a letter that the "mandate from the 1964 (national) convention was that each state delegation to the 1968 convention would reflect the full participation of its Negro population.

"Since North Carolina has a Negro population of about 25 per cent, the overwhelming majority of whom are Democrats, the delegation should approximate that percentage," Hawkins said.

Reached by telephone at his office in Nashville, Valentine said that although he had not received Hawkins' letter such a suggestion would be "poor judgment, not called for, not justified nor logical."

Valentine noted there had been Negroes in the North Carolina delegation before and some likely would be included this year.

"We are going to see to it that colored people are recognized," he stated. "People from both races will be represented."

Gold Jumps

LONDON (AP) — The price of gold jumped to another record high of $42.60 an ounce on the London free market of today, then dropped back for the first time this week as some speculators took profits.

The afternoon fixing price of $42.40 an ounce was still 10 cents higher than Monday's afternoon fixing.

Dealers said volume was higher than Monday when more than 20 tons of gold were reported to have changed hands, but still far below the peak of March gold crisis when about 200 tons of gold changed hands in a single day.

Charge Driver In Monday Mishap

John Wright Floors II, 20, of Edenton, was charged with failing to yield the right of way following investigation of a 12:50 p.m. collision yesterday on Cotanche Street, 300 feet south of the Second Street intersection.

Police said the Floors auto collided with an auto driven by William Donald Howell, 35, of 201 Greenwood Dr.

Damage to the cars was set at $100 each.

Senior Has Won S&S Scholarship

The Health and Welfare Society of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church will sponsor a cooking class tonight.

The class will be held at the home of Mrs. A. D. Wetmore beginning at 7:30.

The object of the cooking class is to introduce the non-meat or vegetarian foods and how to prepare them.

This is the first meeting of the class which will be held monthly at individual homes of the church members.

Hay was the largest field crop in California in 1967 with 7,579,000 tons produced, valued at $216 million.

Learned 'The Hard Way' That Erosion Was Costly

By ELMER BLAND

Last spring was one of the worst seasons in several years for farmers. Blowing sand destroyed many acres of tobacco, corn, peanuts, cotton, and peppers.

Noah T. Hardee of the Eastern Pines community, said he learned the hard way in 1967, by not providing adequate protection to his young tobacco and pepper plants. He had to replant his entire pepper crop which was destroyed by blowing sand.

Hardee had practiced wind erosion control methods in prior years, but somehow failed to provide for wind protection in 1967. He planned ahead for this year and has established a bank type strips to protect young tobacco plants and young pepper plants.

His method to get the strips planted: The field to be planted in tobacco was planted in rye last fall. Early this spring his marked his tobacco rows through the rye. He disked four rows, skipping the 5th. The 5th row was left to grow rye.

He prepared the land for tobacco by disking twice. The bands of rye 18 feet apart, are 3 to 3 feet high. They are at right angles to the southwest wind and give good protection to young tender tobacco plants.

It is the southwest wind that blows the hardest during the spring. Hardee's rows are run so the wind will blow across the rows instead of up and down them. He planted several acres of peppers in the same manner, but left the 19th row to

James Popular Name In Britain

LONDON (AP) — James is the most popular name for boys in Britain, and lots of loving mommas like to call their daughters Sarah.

The top 10 of children's names were listed in a letter to the London Times by John W. Leaver, of Ruislip, a West London suburb, who makes a hobby of counting the names used in birth announcements in the Times throughout the year.

The Times is a paper bought mostly by the upper income groups, so Leaver's analysis of the most popular names might not hold good for the country as a whole.

The boys top 10 table, for first names only, is James, Richard, Andrew, William, Simon, Nicholas, Christopher, David, John, Timothy.

Girls: Sarah, Emma, Catherine and Victoria (joint third), Lucy, Elizabeth, Caroline and Nicola (joint seventh), Joanna, Katherine.

Leaver notes that while Jane led the field of all names given to girls, with 173 mentions, there were only 20 occasions when it appeared as a first name.

James, on the other hand, headed not only the first names only table but also was first on the list of all names given to boys.

Tax Exemption For Spy's Book

LONDON (AP) — A Soviet spy whose memoirs were published in Britain made $24,000 on the deal and the British government collected no income taxes, a member of Parliament said.

Laborite lawmaker Roy Roebuck said he would challenge the chancellor of the exchequer over the tax exemption.

The payment went to Konon Molody, alias Gordon Lonsdale, espionage agent released from prison in 1964 and now in Moscow.

Lonsdale reportedly threatened legal action when the British publishing firm of Neville Spearman said it would deduct income taxes from the payment. The revenue department granted an exemption.

Foiled Bid To Smuggle Drug

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — A Butler County deputy foiled a plan Monday to sneak a hypodermic needle and heroin to a jail prisoner.

Deputy Larry Costator squeezed a tube of toothpaste and felt something inside. He cut it open with a razor blade and found the needle in a baby nipple and heroin in wax paper.

John Warford, 25, of Hamilton, was charged with possession of narcotics and a hypodermic needle.

Confident Air Is Apparent In Morse Office

By GORDON G. MACNAB
Associated Press Writer

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — An air of wary confidence hangs over the headquarters of Sen. Wayne Morse, one of the Senate's most fierce critics of the Vietnam war, as he seeks re-nomination in Oregon's May 28 Democratic primary.

His leading opponent is Robert B. Duncan, a Johnson administration defender, who is waging a vigorous campaign but one which some of those close to him admit privately is not moving well.

Seven months ago, the situation looked very different.

A major poll taken in October — the results became known only recently — showed Duncan with 51.1 per cent of the Democrats and Morse with 39.8.

But then Morse went to work. He ranged all over the state, mending fences, renewing ties he knew he could count on and greeting voters just about everywhere.

In March, the same pollsters took another reading. This time Morse was in front, 49.4 to 39.9. A fresh poll in the area around Portland, where one-third of the state's Democrats live, showed that as of May 5 Morse was continuing to gain.

Duncan, 47, was the Democratic nominee in a close but unsuccessful race two years ago with another Vietnam critic, Republican Sen. Mark O. Hatfield.

In that contest, Vietnam was a key issue. But this time, with President Johnson out of the running and peace talks under way in Paris, the war is no longer central.

One of the personable young Duncan's problems is finding a key issue on which to best Morse, 67, a senator for 23 years and a campaigner of unquestioned brilliance.

Duncan no longer emphasizes the war as an issue but instead has focused on local topics, the national problem of civil disorders and on Morse the man.

Morse's frequent talks in all parts of Oregon have been low-key discussions of his record and of problems he says he still wants to help Oregon and the nation solve.

Duncan says two factors will help him immensely: a relatively large undecided bloc and bitter anti-Morse sentiment.

Traffic Award For Williamston

WILLIAMSTON — The N. C. State Motor Club presented its Traffic Safety Award for 1967 to the Town of Williamston Friday for its record of having no motor-vehicle fatalities within the town limits for two consecutive years.

A framed parchment was given to Mayor N. C. Green and Chief of Police John L. Swain by Lewis Scruggs, Rocky Mount division manager, and Milton Flythe, Martin County district manager, on behalf of the motor club and its affiliate, the National Automobile Association.

The last traffic death prior to 1967 was recorded here on Sept. 24, 1965, giving Williamston a string of 965 deathless days as of May 17 and the fourth best record in the state. Boasting a record of only five fatalities in the last 12 years, Williamston was one of 19 North Carolina cities and towns over 5,000 population to go through 1967 without a traffic death.

Honor Teachers At PTA Meet

The Agnes Fullilove School Parent Teachers Association honored teachers of the school Friday during Teacher Appreciation Day.

Each teacher was presented an artificial flower arrangement and teachers were relieved of playground duties by PTA member mothers.

Refreshments were served to the teachers during the morning. At the morning refreshment break, Mrs. Bob Kittrell, outgoing PTA president, was presented a silver compote in appreciation for her work during the past two years.

Plans Underway For $795,000 Addition To ECU Cafeterias

By DIANE EGNOR

Paul R. Julian, director of food service for ECU, reports that plans are underway for the construction of a $795,000 addition to the East Carolina cafeteria system.

The two-story addition, which is now in the blueprint stages, will be constructed on the north side of North cafeteria encompassing the area which is presently the Buccaneer Room and the old post office located on the main campus near the new women's dormitory.

Julian said that plans are also being made for enlarging the men's cafeteria on the hill with a $235,000 grill, similar to the Pamlico grill which is in the South cafeteria building.

Julian said that the new addition scheduled for North cafeteria is to be patterned after a modern cafeteria recently constructed at Appalachian State University. The addition will seat 580 when completed and is to provide private rooms for banquets and meetings. Also included will be space for new offices for the food service staff and dressing rooms for student and permanent help.

ECU business Manager F. D. Duncan, said the cafeteria is to be financed by the University itself with appropriations and by the floating bonds.

Initial plans were approved by the board of trustees and Dr. Jenkins two years ago, Duncan said. They were also accepted by the 1967 North Carolina Legislature.

Julian described the layout of the proposed cafeteria as being on the scramble system which means that the food is not in a single line as in the present system, but will be distributed in different places, thus eliminating a single long line. Therefore, for example, the student who only wants a salad will not have to go through the whole line; he will merely go through the salad section and out.

The new cafeteria will provide four additional cash registers, Julian said. There are presently seven cash registers in the cafeterias on the main campus serving approximately 50 persons a minute. With the additional lines approximately 78 can be served each minute. Julian said that a student must wait anywhere from 7 to 10 minutes to be served, but with the cafeteria and four more lines the serving time will be cut almost in half.

The cafeteria system now serves 10,000 people each day and, according to Julian, can serve up to 14,000 daily, if working at full capacity. Duncan said that if enrollment continues at the present rate of increase the new cafeteria should provide adequate service for at least 10 years.

The cafeteria system now employs 84 permanent employees and 118 student helpers. Julian said that although no estimate has been made as to how much additional help the new cafeteria will require it is certain that it will provide a good deal of opportunity for students who must work to finish school.

Clifton Hurls Pepsi No-Hitter

Pepsi-Cola moved into sole possession of first place in the Tar Heel Little League yesterday as David Clifton weaved the season's first no-hitter, downing the Exchange, 5-0.

Pepsi leads the league with a -1 mark, while the Exchange is second at 3-2. Next are the Elks and Greenville Tobacco, both 2-2, while the Moose and Security Life are 1-3.

Clifton struck out 12 and walked just one as he hurled his no-hitter. He also hit one batter, and three reached on errors. Only in the sixth did he come close to losing his shutout. In that inning, the bases were loaded on a walk and two errors before the final man struck out.

Meanwhile, Clifton's Pepsi teammates did some hitting of their own, getting 12.

The scoring started in the fourth, when two came across. Ricky Avery walked and Jerry Griffin doubled. Don Cannon then doubled in both runners for a 2-0 lead.

In the fifth, Pepsi added two more. Danny Norris singled and Waighy Scales reached on an error. William Carraway singled in Norris, and Ricky Avery walked to load the bases. Jerry Griffin hit a sacrifice fly to score Scales.

In the sixth, the final Pepsi run scored. That came on a homer by Clifton, topping on a fine day for him.

Clifton ended up as the top hitter, getting four. Cannon added three, while Griffin and Norris each had two.

St. James And Jarvis In Wins

St. James Methodist and Jarvis Memorial picked up wins in last night's Church Softball League action. St. James rolled over Pentecostal, 25-4, while Jarvis edged Gum Swamp, 17-16.

Presbyterian and Immanuel lead the league with 2-0 records, while Mt. Pleasant is 1-0 and St. James is 2-1. Following them are Grace, 1-1, Pentecostal, 1-1, Jarvis, 1-2, Oakmont, 0-1, Gum Swamp, 0-2, and Meadowbrook, 0-2.

In the opener, St. James pushed into a 2-0 lead in the opening frame, only to see Pentecostal return to tie it up on Pierce's homer.

But in the second, St. James pushed across eight runs for a 10-2 lead, which Pentecostal could not overcome. In that inning, Vincent, Jackson and Britt each hit homers. St. James went on to all two in the fourth, as Vincent homered again, and then six in the fifth, as Vincent again homered. In the sixth, three more scored and four came across in the seventh.

Pentecostal picked up two more runs in the second.

In the night's second game, Gum Swamp picked up a 3-0 lead in the first inning, and built it to 7-0 with four more in the second as Tripp homered.

Jarvis got into the act with a run in the third as Johnston slapped a home run, but Gum Swamp came up with five more for a 12-1 lead in the top of the fourth. In the bottom of the fourth, Jarvis got five as Lee homered, to trail, 12-6. Then in the fifth, Jarvis added three more on Lottis' homer to cut the margin to 12-9.

In the sixth, two more scored as the lead dropped to one run. In the seventh, Gum Swamp got one, but Jarvis scored two, tying it at 13-13. Lee homered to drive in the Jarvis runs.

The seventh told the tale. Gum Swamp came up with three runs, to lead 16-13, but Jarvis countered with four, as Lee again homered to drive across the winning run, 17-16.

Old Timers Trying To Challenge Jack

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
A couple of senior citizens from Kansas City, who qualified for the U.S. Open Golf championship long before Jack Nicklaus was born, are set to challenge the big Golden Bear in this year's National Open.

Chances are big Jack isn't too worried about the threat of Duke Gibson and Leonard Dodson — and they might not make it all the way to Rochester, N.Y. — but they're in there trying.

Gibson, 59, led the qualifiers on the par 70 Indian Hills course at Kansas City Monday with two rounds of 72. Dodson, 56, also made it with a 148. Gibson first qualified for the Open 34 years ago, Dodson 35 years ago.

But they still must survive sectional qualifications June 3-4 before making it to Rochester's Oak Hills Country Club, where Nicklaus, 28, defends his Open title June 13-16.

About 2,500 golfers began competing for spots in the 150-man final field in regional qualifications Monday at 51 locations from Bolton, Mass., to Honolulu. The final regional qualifications were held today at Los Angeles, Palmetto, Ga., Nashville, Tenn., New Jersey and in Westchester County, N.Y.

Survivors of the regionals move on to sectional tournaments for the final cut. The sectionals are scheduled June 3 at Denver, Colo. Atlanta, Chicago, Dallas and Seattle, Wash., and June 4 at Bakersfield, Calif., San Francisco, Washington, Indianapolis Ind., Detroit, St. Louis, Montclair, N.J. and Pittsburgh.

All qualifications are over 36 holes.

Nicklaus and several of the other top pros are exempt from all qualifying. These include the Open and PGA champions of the last five years, British Open champion Roberto de Vicenzo, the 15 leading money winners of 1967 and the 15 top scorers in last year's Open.

In addition, a large group was exempt from local qualifying, but must compete in the sectional tests. These include all former Open, Amateur, British Open and PGA champions, the 30 low scorers in last year's PGA tournament, the latest Walker and Ryder Cup teams, and others.

Jaycees Win Second In Row As Optimists Fall

The Jaycees picked up their second straight victory of the season yesterday with a 13-9 victory over the Optimists.

The defeat knocked the Optimists into the North State League cellar. Coca-Cola leads the league with a 4-0 record, while the Kiwanis are second at 3-1. The Lions are third with a 2-2 mark, while the Jaycees are next at 2-3. They are followed by R. C. Cola, 1-3, and the Optimists, 1-.

The Optimists struck first, pushing across five runs in the first inning. Phil Tetterton led off with a single and R. G. Clark and Tony Skinner both walked, loading the bases. Walks to Bill Vinson and Cliff Allen scored Tetterton and Clark. Jim Weaver was hit by a pitch, scoring Skinner, and Vinson scored on Billy Best's sacrifice fly. Allen came across with the final run on a passed ball.

In the bottom of the first, the Jaycees came up with two, to trail 5-2. Mike Stevenson singled and David Buckett doubled. Kirk Riddle reached on an error, scoring both runners.

In the second, the Jaycees rallied for eight runs and a 10-5 lead. Al Salisbury singled and advanced on an error. Dave Mathius walked and both advanced on a passed ball. Wayne Miller then walked to load them up. Howard Corey singled in Salisbury and Mathius and Bill Ellington walked to reload the sacks. Stevenson singled in Miller and Duckett was safe on a fielder's choice, scoring Corey Riddle also reached on a fielder's choice, which scored Ellington, and a double by Kyle Price drove in the other three runs.

In the third, the Optimists picked up two more. Weaver singled and Best got a hit. Keith Gurganus walked and a pair of passed balls brought Weaver and Best across, making it 10-7.

The Optimists added another in the fourth. Tony Skinner walked, stole second, and used two passed balls to come across.

But in the bottom of the fourth the Jaycees added three more for a 13-8 lead, erasing any hope of the Optimists. Price walked and Salisbury reached on an error. Mathius doubled in Price and Salisbury scored when Miller reached on an error. Corey singled to score Mathius.

The final Optimist run scored in the fifth. Craig Simpson was hit by a pitch, and after Clark walked and Skinner hit into a fielder's choice, Simpson scored on Allen's walk.

Best led the Optimists hitting with three, while Corey and Stevenson each had two for the

Johnson's Hits Power Reds Past Houston, 3-2

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer
Alex Johnson, given another chance to prove himself, still doesn't feel comfortable at the plate. But he is making believers of National League pitchers, who also are feeling uneasy when he is hitting.

"I don't feel natural at the plate for the long ball," moaned the 25-year-old Cincinnati outfielder. "I'm just blooming them."

Despite his troubles, Johnson managed a run-scoring single and later a game-winning double in the ninth inning Monday night, giving the Reds a 3-2 uphill victory over the Houston Astros.

Johnson's three hits raised his batting average to .333 and gave him 15 runs batted in as a bona-fide regular for the first time in five major league tries.

Ed Charles, a 35-year-old veteran given another chance, clouted his second home run of the game in the ninth inning, lifting the New York Mets over Pittsburgh 2-1.

Larry Jaster continued what he does best — beat Los Angeles — by hurling St. Louis past the Dodgers 2-1 with a two-hitter. In the only other NL game, Felipe Alou singled in a ninth inning run, boosting Atlanta to a 6-5 triumph over San Francisco and into sole possession of second place.

In the only American League game, the New York Yankees halted Washington 6-1, Detroit edged Minnesota 4-3 in 10 innings, Baltimore nipped the Chicago White Sox 2-1 and California beat Boston 5-4 in 11 innings.

Johnson, traded to St. Louis in the Bill White deal after failing to win a starting job in two seasons at Philadelphia, flopped in two seasons with the Cardinals before the Reds got him for Johnny Edwards last winter. He quickly won the left field position.

He singled in a run in the seventh inning against the Astros, but Jim Wynn's two-run triple in the third still left Cincinnati behind 2-1 entering the ninth.

After Mack Jones walked as a pinch hitter and moved to second on a sacrifice, Pete Rose singled in the tying run against loser Don Wilson and Johnson followed with his double off the left field wall against reliever Jim Ray.

Charles, a seven-year veteran still trying to win a job after signing with the Mets as a free agent this spring, led off the ninth with his fifth homer of the season as a part-time performer. The third-baseman, second on the Mets in homers and runs batted in, homered with two out in the fourth off loser Bob Veale.

His clouts gave the victory to rookie Jerry Koonsman, who pitched a five-hitter for his sixth triumph against two losses.

Jaster, who blanked the Dodgers five straight times in his rookie year in 1964, gave up a run without a hit in the first inning, and the only hits off him were singles by Paul Popovich in the fifth and Wes Parker in the ninth.

Bobby Tolan singled and scored on Orlando Cepeda's double in the first for St. Louis and Tolan won it in the eighth with a two-out single after Lou Brock doubled off loser Don Sutton.

Alou's hit came with the bases loaded and none out after the Giants had tied the score in the top of the ninth with three runs. Bob Tillman, who singled in a run in the second and scored on a squeeze bunt and set up another run in the sixth with a hit, doubled to open the ninth and his pinch runner scored the winning run.

Belmont Draws Springfield Nine

WATERVILLE, Me. (AP) — Belmont Abbey College, Belmont, N. C., has been paired with Springfield Mass., College in the NCAA Atlantic Coast College Division regional baseball playoff at Fort Eustis, Va., May 30-June 1.

In the other game, Long Island University will take on Jacksonville, Fla., University.

The winner of that tourney will go to Springfield, Mo., for the National College Division tournament at Southwest Missouri Teachers College June 5-8.

The pairings were announced Monday by John Winkin, national and Atlantic Coast tourney director.

Laverne Tart, former University of Bradley star, led the New Jersey Americans in scoring, with 1,718 points for a 23.5 average, in their first American Basketball Association campaign.

Portsmouth Beats Carolina Leader

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Leftfielder Joe Lis led the way with a perfect five hits in five tries as Portsmouth whipped Carolina League leading Lynchburg 8-2 Monday night.

Lis belted a 374-foot homer and slammed out a single in addition to connecting for three singles.

Bob Brooks blasted a pair of homers and drove in four runs in leading Peninsula to a 7-5 win over Greensboro. Brooks slammed one out of the park in the third for a 2-1 lead and his blast in the seventh highlighted a four-run spree which left the Grays in front 7-4.

Rocky Mount scored four runs in the first inning and then held on for a 6-3 win over Winston-Salem.

Righthander Sandy Hopper, with ninth inning relief help from Bob Gebhard, scattered five hits as Wilson shut out Raleigh-Durham 2-0. Hopper fanned eight and walked five as he gave up four of the Mets' hits.

High Point - Thomasville pounded Kinston starter Dale Spier for six runs in four innings and then held off Eagle threats for a 6-3 win.

In the other league game, Salem outlasted Burlington, 7-6, in 13 innings.

Florida State To Face Bucs

GASTONIA, N. C. (AP)—The District 3 NCAA Baseball Tournament lineup was completed Monday when tourney officials announced that Florida State, an at-large entry, has been chosen as the fourth team.

The other entries, North Carolina State, Alabama and East Carolina, won conference titles to secure berths in the tournament.

Play begins at 3 p.m. May 30 with N. C. State, the Atlantic Coast Conference champion, meeting Southeastern champ Alabama. Florida State will take on Southern Conference title holder East Carolina at 8 p.m.

First round losers meet at 3 p.m. May 31, with opening day winners playing at 8 p.m.

On Saturday, June 1, the teams with one loss meet at 2 p.m. and the finalists will meet at 7:30 p.m.

If a seventh game is needed, it will be played on Monday, June 3, at 7:30 p.m.

The winner of the double elimination tourney goes on to the College World Series at Omaha. The Gastonia Shrine Club is hosting district 3 play for the 13th consecutive year.

Owner-Player Battle To Flair Up Again This Week

By JACK HAND Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The pro football owner-player battle will heat up again this week when the delegates of the National Football League Players' Association meet with a committee of owners, probably Thursday.

The owners spent considerable time on the problem at their meetings in Atlanta last week and have drawn up a master plan to present to the players.

The players are asking for $500 per man for pre-season games, an annual $5 million payment to the player pension fund and a $15,000 minimum salary.

With the teams due to report in about seven or eight weeks, both sides are running out of time. A compromise may be the solution.

Lou Saban is enthusiastic about Garrett Ford, the rookie running back from West Virginia who was Denver's third draft choice. He could wind up teaming with Floyd Little who is reported hale and hearty at 200 pounds and strengthening his damaged shoulder with weight lifting exercises. . . That proposed $50 million domed stadium in Buffalo would help the Bills as well as the baseball people who are hopeful of landing a National League franchise.

San Francisco reports guard John Thomas and flanker Kay McFarland, out with injuries in '67, will be ready to go in '68. . . Don Jonas, the Penn State product who threw 41 touchdown passes and scored 102 points for the Orlando Panthers, has signed a two-year contract with the same Continental League team . . . J.D. Smith will help Pappy Waldorf scout talent for the 49ers.

Baltimore and Washington will play a rookie game at the Colts' camp in Westminster, Md. the morning of July 14 but that won't be the first football game. The All American game at Atlanta, a clash between two college all-star teams, is set for June 28. . . Raymond Berry will coach the receivers for the Dallas Cowboys now that he has retired as an active player.

Fregosi Hits For Cycle As Angels Edge Boston

By RON RAPOPORT Associated Press Sports Writer

It isn't as if the Boston Red Sox didn't know any better; they can tell when a guy is on a hitting streak as well as anybody. It was just that they couldn't push the winning run across before Jim Fregosi got up to bat again.

Fregosi was murdering the Red Sox all night Monday — a homer in the first inning, a triple in the third, a double in the eighth — and when Rico Petrocelli's ninth inning homer tied the score for Boston, the Sox desperately had to find a way to stop Fregosi.

In the bottom of the ninth, they came up with an acceptable method, giving him an intentional walk with two out and a man on second.

Neither team could score into the 11th and with two out and a runner at second again, the Sox took an awful chance. They pitched to Fregosi.

Moments later, the ball was bouncing off the left field wall, Fregosi had his cycle, the Angels had their 5-4 victory and the Red Sox had their lesson for the evening.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit beat Minnesota 4-3 in 10 innings, Baltimore edged Chicago 2-1 and New York beat Washington 6-1.

In the National League New York took Pittsburgh 2-1, Cincinnati slipped past Houston 3-2, Atlanta outlasted San Francisco 6-4 and St. Louis nudged Los Angeles 2-1.

Fregosi scored three runs and drove in two as the Angels took a 3-0 lead that was shortened by solo homers from George Scott and Elston Howard. Petrocelli's shot came with two out in the ninth.

The Tigers took full advantage of four Minnesota errors, scoring three unearned runs. Two of those came in the 10th when Jackie Hernandez and Ron Clark, both put in the lineup late in the game for defensive purposes, made errors, letting the winning run score.

Stanky Not Hurt, Helped By Success

By GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE (AP) — Success—or failure—won't spoil Eddie Stanky.

The Chicago White Sox manager made his first appearance of the 1968 season in Baltimore Monday night, and showed he hadn't lost his touch. He was as surly and sullen as usual.

After the Orioles edged Chicago 2-1, Stanky failed to take a postgame walk in the outfield—swinging a bat—as he did when the White Sox lost 10 straight to open the season.

But neither was Stanky overjoyed by Chicago's recent 10-4 streak which has projected the White Sox back into the American League chase, only three games below the .500 mark.

"Your club's been going good lately," a sports writer commented. "Who said so?" Stanky snapped.

"All you have to do is read the papers to see that," was the reply.

"You don't believe what you read in the papers, do you?"

A strained silence and then a question from another writer about Stanky's brief but volatile complaint registered with plate umpire Bill Kinnamon in the eighth while Chicago's Tommy Davis was at bat.

"What did you say to the umpire?"

"I told him what a great game he was umpiring."

More small talk only irritated Stanky.

"The winning clubhouse is over there," he snarled. "I have nothing to say, as usual."

Longwood Gets Tennis Singles

By DAVE O'HARA

Associated Press Sports Writer

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The Longwood Cricket Club, the oldest tennis bastion in the United States finally has landed the National Singles Championships to go with the National Doubles it has run since 1917.

Longwood President Walter E. Elcock announced Monday that the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association had awarded the club the singles competition, to be held in conjunction with the doubles Aug. 16-25.

Elcock and Harrison Rowbotham, New England vice president of the USLTA, frankly admitted that Longwood's future as home for the singles will be dependent on how the first U.S.

open tournament, for both amateurs and pros, draws in-money terms at the West Side Tennis Club at Forest Hills, N.Y.

"The West Side contract for the singles has four more years to run," Elcock said. "If the open stays at Forest Hills, the singles will remain at Longwood."

"If Forest Hills doesn't gross over $350,000 for the first open this year, it will be given first refusal," Rowbotham said.

Forest Hills, longtime home of the singles, agreed to give up the 88th U.S. Singles Tournament in exchange for the open this year. Longwood was founded three years before the start of the National Singles and Doubles at Newport, R.I.

Reagan's Barbs Delight Audience In Charlotte

By MIKE ROUSE
Associated Press Writer

CHARLOTTE (AP) — More than 500 North Carolinians disenchanted with the Democratic administration of government turned out at $25 a head Monday night to hear Ronald Reagan poke fun at it.

"They're attacking crime," said the Republican California governor, "by making money so cheap it's not worth stealing."

Reagan, who is considered a contender for the GOP presidential nomination, spoke at a fund-raising dinner for the North Carolina Republican Executive Committee.

After his talk, the former Hollywood actor left for Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to continue his whirlwind tour of the South. Reagan delighted the Tar Heels with a series of Bob Hope-like digs at the Johnson-Humphrey administration and at both leading Democrats.

But most of his barbs were aimed at President Johnson and the Great Society's antipoverty programs.

"They used to have a saying in Washington that said you walk softly and carry a big stick," Reagan said. "Now it's walk softly and carry a big sack."

He said the mother of Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., was concerned about how much of their money they are spending traveling around the country.

"I don't care how much of their money they're spending," he said. "It's how much of mine they'll spend that I'm worried about."

Republican leaders said Reagan's appearance should not be interpreted to mean they favor Reagan for the presidential nomination. They said he came early as a money-raiser. But when the GOP gubernatorial nominee, Rep. Jim Gardner, D-N.C., introduced Reagan he called him "a man for all Republicans and for all concerned Democrats in the State of North Carolina."

Reagan buttons and campaign literature were passed out at the door.

In addition to Gardner, all Republican candidates for Congress and the Council of State Offices and all North Carolina

GOP congressmen attended the affair except Rep. Charles R. Jonas of Lincoln. Jonas was unable to attend, but was represented by his son, Charles Jonas Jr.

At a news conference before the dinner, Reagan said he would not be surprised if President Johnson resigned before the end of his term "to give Humphrey the advantage of running as an incumbent."

Reagan reiterated that he will not campaign in Oregon before the May 28 primary. His name is on the ballot as a candidate for the presidential nomination.

All his talk at the dinner was not humorous. Reagan lashed out at government spending, inflation and the international gold situation, blaming them all on the Democrats. He made one cutting comment that apparently referred to Johnson's decision not to seek re-election.

"We are called by some a sick America," he said. "Well the medicine applied by an all-powerful government has only made us sicker—sicker at home and sicker abroad. And now the doctor tells us he no longer has a remedy so he is quitting the case. Unable to cure the dollar, he is passing the buck."

More than 15 million tourists spend $1 billion a year in Spain.

R.J. Jeffreys To Address World War I Veterans

Raymond J. Jeffreys of Raleigh, Past State Commander, Veterans of World War I, will be the principal speaker at a meeting of World War I veterans here in Greenville, Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock in the Pitt County Courthouse. This meeting has been arranged with a view to better acquaint the World War I veterans on the non-service-connected rolls with enactment of recent legislation relative to pensions.

With the recent increases in social security benefits, many of our veterans on the pension rolls are concerned about a reduction in their pension benefits. Jeffreys explained that with the passage of H.R. 12555 and signed by the President on March 28, now insures that none of our veterans will suffer any decline in pension benefits during the remaining months of 1968. "We shall also see some lifting of income after January 1, 1969, whereby many of our veterans now on the non-service-connected rolls will be greatly benefited," he added.

Strange Facts Found In Bible

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Sightings of unidentified flying objects began long before the space age—far back in Biblical times. So did another presumed modern development—mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

These odd bits of information are brought out in a new book, "Strange Facts about the Bible," being issued by the Methodist Church's publishing house, Abingdon Press.

The collection of unusual sidelights on Scriptures, put together by the Rev. Dr. Webb Garrison, of Vansville, Ind., also punctures such popular misconceptions as the idea that the forbidden fruit eaten by Adam was an apple.

"It's highly doubtful that this temperate zone fruit was even known in the ancient Near East," Dr. Garrison says, noting that the account in Genesis doesn't specify what variety of fruit was involved.

Although religious interpreters widely regard the story as symbolic—using pictorial imagery to bring out a basic truth—Dr. Garrison says the most likely fruit implied was apricot or a pomegranate.

As for the earliest recorded report of a "UFO" Dr. Garrison cites the first chapter of Ezekiel, who tells of seeing a strange machine from the sky land near the Chebar River in Chaldea—now Iraq.

The craft was "gleaming bronze," like a "wheel within a wheel," Ezekiel describes it, and occupied by creatures formed like men but with four faces.

"The four wheels had rims and they had spokes; and their rims were full of eyes round about," the report says. "When the living creatures rose from the earth, the wheels rose."

Concerning mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, which rescue experts recently have advocated as dramatically more effective than the old chest-pressure system of artificial respiration, Dr. Garrison says the new way actually is an old one.

It "probably represents a rediscovery of a method known to the early Hebrews," he says, noting that 2 Kings 4:34 describes its use by the Old Testament prophet Elisha in the rescue of a child. The account says:

"Then he went up and lay upon the child, putting his mouth upon his mouth, his eyes upon his eyes, and his hands upon his hands; and as he stretched himself upon him, the flesh of the child became warm."

The title of the Bible itself has a strange origin, Dr. Garrison says, noting that it originally came from a pagan seaport shipping center for papyrus on the Mediterranean coast, a port town which traders nicknamed "Byblos."

Since papyrus was the most important writing material of the ancient world, the slang name for the town came to be the Greek word "biblia," meaning a collection of books, a title eventually applied to Scriptures.

Curiously, although the Bible mentions nearly every general species of animal known, it never once mentions that common creature, the cat, although cats were abundant from the beginnings of recorded history.

In fact, cats were linked with pagan worship in ancient Egypt, and Dr. Garrison suggests that the reticence of Biblical writers about them may stem from abhorrence of an animal made an object of worship. Another silent point noted in Scripture parallels the modern female mode—to keep quiet about a woman's age.

Of all the women mentioned in the Bible, Dr. Garrison says, only one has her age at death specified—that of Sarah, who laughed when she heard the divine message she would bear a child in her old age and who, according to Gen. 23:1, lived to be 127.

Contrasting to the "rule of silence" concerning the age of women," Dr. Garrison observes that men's ages are regularly specified.

TWO CLAIMS TO FAME

MANASSA, Colo. (AP) — Being the birthplace of former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey isn't the only thing for which Manassa is famous. Turquoises have been produced at the King Mine near Manassa since 1900.

Tierra de Feugo, an Argentine territory on the southern tip of South America, means "Land of Fire."

THERE OUGHT TO BE A LAW!

The Worry Clinic Successful Salesmen Rely On Advertising

Wallace Johnson is really a modern fraternity brother of Ford and Edison, plus hundreds of other superb pioneers of our great "free enterprise" system. Notice his strategy when broke at the depth of the Roosevelt depression years and without any assets except an old automobile.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE F-573: Wallace E. Johnson is a modern giant of our American "free enterprise" system.

For he heads the vast Holiday Inns which are mushrooming all over the world at the rate of one new Inn every 2 1/2 days!

At our recent luncheon, he said: "Dr. Crane, in the depth of the depression I was broke."

"I was a contractor or builder but work was scarce. There were 15,000 vacant lots in Memphis.

"Since the real estate business was almost at a standstill, I conceived what I thought was a good idea.

"So I managed to borrow $250 on my old automobile.

"With that cash, I got a printer to make me 5,000 cardboard signs reading: 'Let Wallace E. Johnson Build You a Beautiful Home on This Lot.'

"Then I bought some paraffin and melted it, after which I dipped each sign therein, to waterproof it against rain.

"And I nailed those 5,000 signs to stakes, which I placed on 5,000 of the 15,000 lots that looked most promising.

"Soon a couple of customers decided they wanted homes built and one of them told his banker: 'That Wallace E. Johnson must be the biggest contractor in town, for I see his signs everywhere.'

"Actually, I didn't own any of the lots, but the owners were grateful to have me try to produce sales for them."

Wallace Johnson doubly appeals to me, for I regard the advertiser and salesman as the major sparkplugs in our American high standard of living.

For they take the idle merchandise and get it into the hands of customers, thereby placing money in circulation.

And without circulating money, we'd all be out of jobs!

The late President Glenn Frank, head of the University of Wisconsin, called salesmen and advertisers "sparkplugs."

"They are not," said Glenn Frank, "the high priests of a sordid commercialism; they are the sparkplugs of civilization."

In my college textbook, "Psychology Applied," I have thus lauded Dr. Frank.

And for years I have taught university courses on the "Psychology of Advertising and Selling."

Remember, without those twin sparkplugs a virile nation soon shows stagnation!

Socialism as well as Communism deny advertising and selling, which is why our American standard of living beats that of any or all countries abroad!

And we owe a greater debt to courageous business pioneers like Wallace Johnson, who combine "elbow grease," morality and dramatic sales ideas, than we do to toptotch musicians, artists and poets.

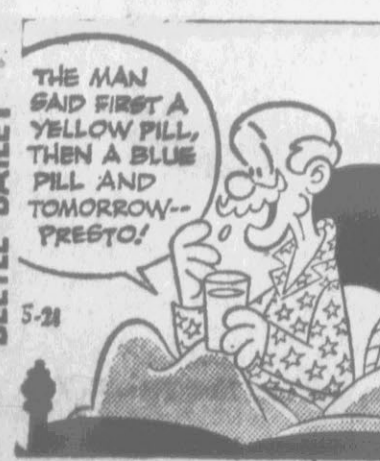

For our bread and butter, plus other luxuries like hospitals and colleges, are produced by the men with effective sales ideas, whereas we could all starve in front of pianos and oil paintings! Don't misinterpret me, for I am not decrying music and art. But they are part of the "fringe benefits" of a luxurious economic system, and are not prevalent in starving nations!

So salute the advertiser and salesman!

And send for my booklet on "The New Psychology of Advertising and Selling," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. It applies to preachers and teachers as well as to commercial firms.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

The bidding:
West North East South
Pass 1♥ Pass 1♠
2NT 3♠ 5♠ 1♣
Pass Pass Dble. Pass
Pass Pass

A variety of results was obtained when the above hand was dealt during the Open Pair event of the Spring National tournament recently held in New York City.

The optimum East-West contract was five clubs, however, a great many North-South pairs were permitted to play four spades and made either four or five depending on the defense. One East-West partnership achieved a satisfactory result on the deal by doubling their opponents in five spades and recording a two trick set.

West passed as the dealer, and when the auction reverted to him, his opponents had opened the bidding and responded in his two shortest suits. It was his desire to compete in one of the remaining suits, but which one? East had good diamonds and only indifferent clubs, then diamonds would provide the better vehicle. In order to avoid guesswork, West made an unusual no trump overcall by jumping to two no trump. Since he had already passed, it must be obvious that he is not making a natural call, and the common sense of the situation is that he wishes his partner to take a choice between the unbid suits.

North showed his support for South's response by raising to three spades. East's jump to five clubs is worthy of note. This bid is not nearly as drastic as it may seem, since he has an excellent fit for both suits that West is known to have by virtue of his unusual no trump overcall. If it proves that five clubs cannot be made, then surely the opposition can score substantially their way, and the sacrifice should be relatively cheap.

South proceeded to five spades and after the next two hands passed, East doubled. West was on lead with a void in hearts, and realizing that he might obtain two ruffs in that suit provided he could put his partner in twice, he opened the three of clubs. The underlead of the ace was, of course, risky, but West felt that desperate measures were in order.

East was a bit surprised to win the trick with the king, but he had little trouble in diagnosing that his partner had no hearts. A heart returned netted one ruff and when East got in with the ace of diamonds, another heart lead completed the damages resulting in a 390 point profit for the defense.

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina egg markets steady Monday. Supplies adequate, demand slow. Prices paid producers and handlers for consumer grade eggs in carton delivered nearby outlets:
Grade A large whites: 32½ to 34; medium, whites: 28 to 30; small, whites: 25 to 26.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina hog markets today were mostly steady. Tops of 18.25-19.00 Wilson; 18.00 - 19.90 Rocky Mount, Kinston, New Bern, Benson, Mt. Olive, New Grove, Albemarle, Lumberton; 18.50 Greensboro, Salisbury Selma; 18.00 Siler City, Denton.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market showed a firmer tone this afternoon, gradually improving after a hesitant start. Trading was fairly active. The volume total was boosted by a series of unusually large blocks in assorted issues. While caution reigned over Wall Street, analysts said that the list had technical reasons for advancing after a series of declines.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .6 at 328.5, with industrials off .7 rails up 1.5, and utilities up .4. Due to weakness in the some of its blue chip components, the Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 1.04 at 893.15.

Broader-based indicators showed gains, and the number of advances outstripped declines by 160 or so issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

Gold mining shares rose into another period of profit taking, just as they did last week, despite the continued rise in the price of gold. Dome Mines erased an early gain of 1½ and traded about unchanged. Small losses were taken by American South African, Campbell Red Lake and McIntyre Porcupine.

Gains of about 2 points were scored by Addressograph and Polaroid while United Aircraft was a 2-point loser.

Up a point or so were Penn Central, Ford, Goodrich, Uniroyal, IBM and McDonnell Douglas.

Among the larger blocks were 271,500 shares of Dersser Industries, off ¾ at 35.

American Telephone traded on a block of 62,500 shares, unchanged at 49. Thrifty Drug Stores was off at 18½ on 162,600 shares. Jones & Laughlin gained ¼ at 77¾ on 94,000 shares. McDonnell Douglas rose 1 at 54 on 42,000 shares.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange in slightly more-active trading than on Monday.

Mementoes For Mrs. Johnson

PINEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson will take back many mementoes to Charlotte and Pineville when she returns to Washington, including the first key the town of Pineville has ever presented.

The presentation was made just before Mrs. Johnson walked up a grassy knoll near Pineville, 12 miles south of Charlotte, to dedicate the reconstructed birthplace of James K. Polk, the nation's 11th president.

Some 3,500 persons watched as Mrs. Johnson pulled a ribbon to uncover a plaque on the front of the two-story log cabin on the old Polk farm.

Prior to participating in the Pineville dedication, Mrs. Johnson had visited the restored home of Hezekiah Alexander, said to be one of the signers of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence on May 20, 1775—more than a year before the national declaration of July 4, 1776.

At Pineville, Mrs. Johnson commented that Polk was a "controversial president and his was a tumultuous age."

She added that during her years in the White House, "I have seen a little controversy, too."

But, she said, "I am an optimist about America. I am deeply convinced that this age in America, for all its tumult and debate, will be remembered as a time of growth and expansion . . . not outward growth, but growth upward, growth toward better health and education, growth toward a more beautiful landscape and cityscape, toward more real liberty and opportunity for every citizen."

Haiti Says 4 Bombs Fell, Troops Landed

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—Unidentified planes dropped four bombs on Port au Prince Monday without causing any damage and also attacked the city of Cap-Haitien with bombs and a landing of armed men, officials said.

Haiti's ambassador in Washington blamed Haitian exiles and Cubans, and the Haitian consul in Miami, Fla., said, "More than 4,000 Haitian workers have been trained in Cuba for guerrilla warfare."

In Port au Prince, one bomb exploded near the palace of President Francois Duvalier. He was not hurt. Three other bombs, including one which hit the military airfield, did not explode, said Aubelin Jolicoeur of the newspaper Le Nouvelliste.

Ambassador Arthur Bonhomme said in Washington: "The planes which landed the armed men at Cap-Haitien are on the ground, and the Haitian army believes it has surrounded the men who landed and has them under attack. We should know pretty soon who are the attackers."

Consul Eugene Maximilien said in Miami that reports late Monday night indicated the "exile men" who landed at Cap-Haitien, 85 miles north of Port au Prince, were under siege but still holding their positions.

"We are prepared to receive any Communist invasion," he said, "because our country is not going to have the same fate as Cuba."

Jolicoeur said a B25 plane painted white, gray and red dropped the bombs on Port au Prince.

Bonhomme said the bomb which fell at the military airport was recovered intact and had these markings: "Atlantis Chemical Industries, Inc., Wilmington, Del., 19899, Joplin, Mo., 64802, San Mateo 94402 Wilmington 19899 Explosive sales office, Knoxville, Tenn., 37901."

In Wilmington, Max E. Colson, vice president and general manager of the firm's explosives division, said: "The numbers are the zip code numbers, but since we do not make any kind of bombs, but only commercial explosives and blasting agents, the device must have been a homemade weapon. 'Of course, we know nothing about how the names of our home office, and the cities of various branch offices, got on the device,' Colson said.

Ignored Voice

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Ronald J. Ledford, 33, had teed up his ball and was ready to drive Monday from the 8th tee of Revolution Park Golf Course. A voice spoke to him from nearby woods: "I have you covered with a high-powered rifle. Drop your billfold."

It was at this time that James Cromartie of Charlotte was robbed last week of $7.

Ledford ignored the voice and drove, then walked away as the man was sighted lying in high grass. Ledford crossed a bridge, clambered down a creek bank, and climbed back up with the loss of two strokes.

The man, lying across a large pipe with his cap pulled over his head yelled again: "Hey, you in the red hat, drop your pocketbook. I got you covered."

Ledford again ignored him, and played out the 8th and 9th holes.

At the clubhouse, Ledford told the manager, who called police. Out hurried patrolman K. D. Helms who barreled across the course in a golf cart. A man broke from the woods and Helms bulldogged him.

The man, booked as James Edward Pagan, 25, of Charlotte was charged with common law robbery in the Cromartie case and with attempted robbery in the Ledford case. Pagan denied having ever been on a golf course.

Travel Offices Note Many Going Abroad

NEW YORK (AP)—President Johnson's proposals to curtail travel outside the Western Hemisphere and his urging that Americans see their own country first apparently are not keeping many people home.

A survey of major airlines and travel agencies shows that the sale of tickets has taken up the slack caused by initial announcement of the proposals three months ago and that sales are now as good or better than last year.

Asked how business was, one travel agency executive answered: "I'm looking for help right now, that's how good it is."

The executive, Josephine Arria of American International Travel Service, said, "It's far superior to last year. This being an election year I wouldn't worry too much about the possibility of a travel tax."

A key feature of the proposals is a tax on all travel expenditures above $7 a day outside the Western Hemisphere. The measure passed the House April 4 and is now before the Senate Finance Committee.

An airlines spokesman said what the proposed restrictions did was decrease the projected step-up in overseas travel preparations under way before the President's announcement in February.

One effect which has continued to the present, he said, has been the appreciable cancellation of group flights by American business firms.

It is believed that industry executives, who use such trips in their incentive programs, reacted both patriotically and with an eye on a possible government check of promotional and entertainment items on income tax returns.

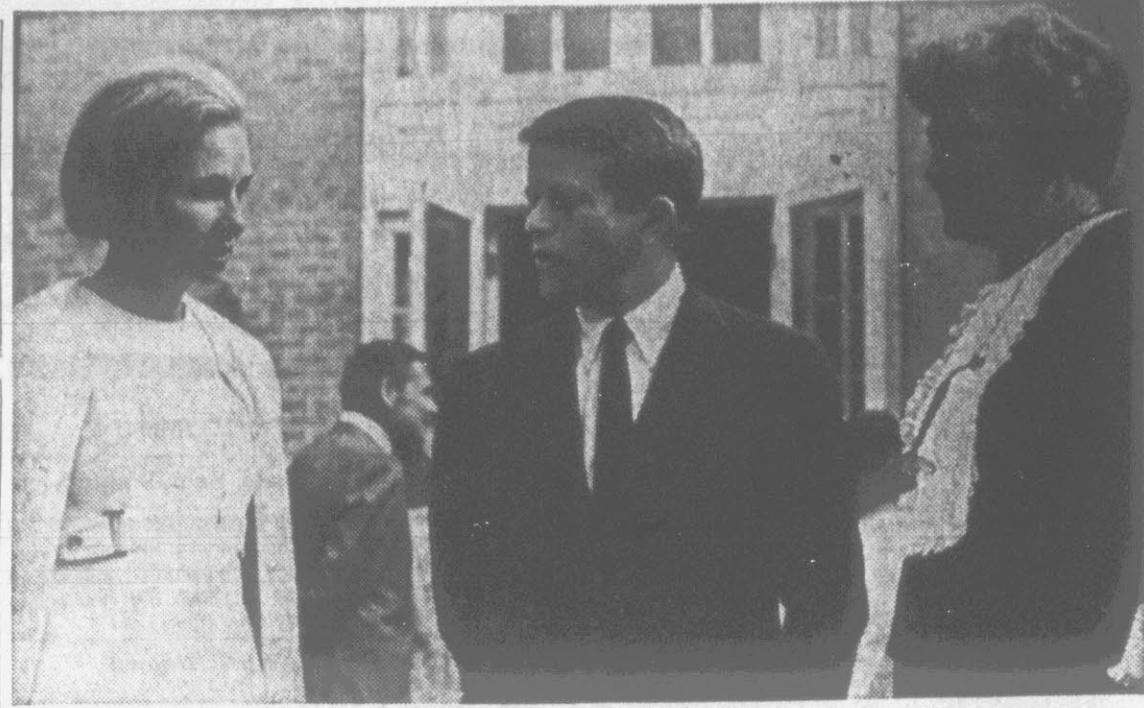

These cancellations made a dent in travel figure projections, but the gap apparently is being filled by Americans who are not taking the restrictions seriously and by a big step-up in the drive to get foreign visitors to come to the United States.

Trans World Airlines reported that it has increased bookings for overseas flights and "anticipates a further upswing this summer."

Travel also is on the increase to and from Hawaii, California, the Virgin Islands, Canada and South America, the airlines report.

Branch International Airways, which serves South America, said its travel has picked up 30 per cent over last year.

In another development, both Pan American and Trans World Airlines announced Monday they temporarily had suspended flights to and from France because of the widespread strike in that country.

Clear Kluxer Of Intimidation

SALISBURY, N. C. (AP)—Ronald Lee Mullis of Concord, an admitted Ku Klux Klansman, was cleared Monday of all charges in a conspiracy case stemming from the alleged intimidation of Rowan and Cabarrus county citizens.

The charges against Mullis were dismissed Monday after the prosecuting attorney said he did not have sufficient evidence to call another trial.

Mullis and eight other men were tried in January on charges of intimidating citizens in order to hinder school integration.

Mullis' case ended in a mistrial, and the others were found innocent.

A tenth man, Robert P. Hill, a former Klansman, turned states evidence. He is still awaiting sentencing.

CABINET SHUFFLES

SEOUL (AP)—South Korean President Chung Hee Park has reshuffled his 18-man Cabinet, making changes in seven posts. It was the first major Cabinet shakeup since last October.

Morgan Is Honored At Dinner Party

State Sen. Robert B. Morgan, chairman of the East Carolina University trustees and the state's Democratic nominee for attorney general, was honored at a dinner Monday night at the home of ECU President Le W. Jenkins.

Guests honoring him for his recent election victory and for his leadership role in ECU's attaining university status last summer included Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Robert W. Scott, several ECU trustees and their spouses.

Two Rose High Drivers Honored

Two Rose High School students were named "Driver of the Month" for the months of April and May in the contest sponsored each month by the Safety Committee of the Greenville Pilot Club.

Edwin Causey was named winner for the month of April. Winner for May is Donald Buck. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Buck of 1702 Sulgrave Road.

1. You have just about worn out the 5 Points series of ads. Isn't it about time to get back to the hominy grits and black-eyed peas gimmick you employ to describe the home-owned, home-grown, sweet little independent bank on Five Points?

2. Furthermore, isn't it about time to get the old "hard sell" and let people know what kind of service you offer?

1. We believe in the "soft sell." As a matter of fact, our customers send us more new business than any of your ads.

2. If you want a new slogan, try "Ask the man who banks with the bank in the shade of the holly trees on Five Points."

3. As for service, you name it, we have it, and with the home-grown personal touch, at Five Points, where the woodbine twineth.
