Lacks Power To Save The Life Of Unborn Child

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A juvenile court judge says he has no power to force a dying woman to receive blood transfusions that could save the life of her unborn child.

"Courts don't make decisions in such cases," Judge Leopoldo G. Sanchez said Wednesday. "It's out of their hands."

The woman is Frances Brown, a 36-year-old member of Jehovah's Witnesses, a religious sect which opposes transfusions on what it says is Scriptural authority.

Her physician, Dr. Alvin M. Gottlieb, filed the suit on behalf of the child which he said she has been carrying for about 6½ months.

But David Jacobsohn, Mrs. Brown's attorney, said juvenile court's jurisdiction over a child does not begin until the child is born.

Gottlieb said the woman will die within a month if the transfusion is not performed and that if it is not done within a week, the anemic condition accompanying Mrs. Brown's fatal illness will cause miscarriage.

"In that case," Gottlieb said, "there is little likelihood of our being able to save either the mother or the child."

Gottlieb's attorney, Jay C. Foonberg, said Judge Sanchez's decision "amounts to a sentence of death for the child."

Move Graves To Widen Evans St.

Workmen yesterday were in the process of moving several graves in the Evans graveyard in the Shore Drive Redevelopment Project to allow for widening of Evans Street.

The graveyard is located on Evans Street, between First and Second Streets.

By moving the graves, city manager Harry Hagerty said, room will be made available for widening of Evans Street and placing a sidewalk on the West side of the street, in front of the old cemetery.

As far as can be determined, Hagerty said, no one has been buried in the cemetery for the past 50 years. The majority of the graves there are those of infants and children.

In accordance with plans for the Shore Drive project the graveyard will be restored and beautified once the graves are moved to allow for street construction.

The graves being moved will remain in the cemetery. The Greenville Garden Club Council is working with the city in the project to beautify the area.

Governor Issues Four Diplomas

BIRNEY, Mont. (AP) — Gov. Tim Babcock, who is on a barbeque in a driving rain, then presented diplomas to the four members of the eighth grade graduating class Wednesday in this southeastern Montana community of 20.

"I particularly enjoy this graduation because the class is just twice the size as mine when I graduated from the Cracker Box Creek School System, District 3 of Dawson County, in 1934," Babcock, the Republican candidate for re-election, said.

The two-room school has 27 students in eight grades and two teachers, one of whom also serves as principal.

Marshals Seize Draft Evader Inside Church

BOSTON (AP) — U.S. marshals seized a convicted draft evader in a church Wednesday touching off an hour-long dispute which ended with police beating back antidraft demonstrators.

Robert A. Talmanson, 21, of Boston, was carried from the altar of the Arlington Street Unitarian-Universalist Church to a rear door where some 200 youthful protesters sang and shouted, "Hell no, Tally, you won't go!"

Marshals carried him to a car waiting in a parking lot nearby, but the demonstrators rushed past police and surrounded the vehicle, which was immobilized for a half-hour by demonstrators lying on its roof and in its path.

Police reinforcements sent a flying wedge to drag Talmanson to a waiting police van which sped away. The move touched off a series of fist fights in which demonstrators were hurled to the ground and at least 15 were taken into custody. They later were released.

U.S. Atty. Paul S. Markham, who was in charge at the scene, said Talmanson was picked up in the afternoon instead of the quiet night hours because "it would be a sorry state if the United States government had to sneak around in the nighttime to enforce the law."

Pro-British Win Bermuda Vote

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP) — Bermuda's pro-British white party drew wide backing from the resort island's Negro majority and rode an apparent backlash against rioting last month to a 3 to 1 victory today in the colony's first one-man, one-vote election.

The conservative United Bermuda party took 30 of the 40 seats in the House of Assembly while the Negro Progressive Labor party won only 10. The Labor party had promised to cut the colony's 359-year-old ties with Britain.

The Bermuda Democratic party, also largely Negro, was blanked.

The islanders cast 19,123 votes a turnout of 91.4 per cent of all those registered.

Harriman Feels Talks Need To Be Productive

By STEPHENS BROENING

Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, conceding that the U.S.-Vietnam peace negotiations could fail, said today: "You can't keep talks going just as a propaganda medium."

North Vietnam's envoy to the discussions, Xuan Thuy, had raised Wednesday the possibility of failure. In the same speech he appealed to U.S. and world opinion to put pressure on Washington to end promptly and unconditionally all bombing and other acts of war against North Vietnam.

Harriman was asked today when he left his office in the U.S. Embassy whether he considered Thuy's statement a threat.

He replied that he didn't take it as "much of a threat," that it seemed to him to arise naturally from other subjects Thuy had been discussing. Then Harriman added: "It's always a possibility, you know, that these talks would break down. The talks can just as well break down on the United States side if they (the Americans) think they (the North Vietnamese) are taking advantage of the restraint in the bombing."

Harriman cautioned against taking his discussion of the problem as any prediction of collapse.

"My own judgment," he said, "is that we're here for a long time, that the other side feels they want to have talks, and certainly President Johnson has shown every indication of wanting to come to agreement.

"But both sides have got to show some willingness to talk substance, willingness to move ahead."

"You can't keep talks going just as a propaganda medium. We have to move into a period of more productive results."

With the conference in recess until Monday, Harriman said he would spend the time until then looking into various aspects of the conference and expected to have some new ideas to talk about by Monday.

Harriman and Thuy now have met four times in the past 10 days, and each time they have come away standing rigidly on their original positions.

U.S. spokesmen have called the North Vietnamese "stubborn." The Vietnamese called the Americans "obstinate."

The stumbling block is always the same—North Vietnamese insistence on an unconditional end to U.S. bombing of their country and U.S. insistence that "reciprocal restraint" on Hanoi's part must accompany a halt in the bombing.

"The talks are frozen," said one neutral diplomat after Wednesday's three-hour meeting.

At that meeting Thuy rejected Harriman's proposal that both delegations stop making their conference statements public.

Recreation Space Ordinance Recommended By Commission

A new ordinance requiring sub-division developers to include plans for recreation space was recommended by the Planning and Zoning Commission meeting last night.

The new law would require that at least one acre be set aside for recreation purposes, no matter how small the proposed development. For subdivisions larger than 25 acres, the law would provide a formula for arriving at the amount of acreage for recreation. The formula reads four per cent of the gross total area over 25 acres, or 400 square feet for each dwelling unit, over 110 units, whichever is greater.

Although the law would require that area be set aside for recreation, the city will have an option on whether or not to purchase this land. The option is good for four years.

Charles Moye submitted a revised preliminary plat of the Red Oak Subdivision. The plat includes 147 acres with 321 individual building lots. After discussion, the plat was passed, with the understanding that the sub-division would be required to comply with the new ordinance concerning recreation land, which in this case would amount to approximately 5.8 acres.

In other business, Eastern Carolina Properties, Inc. resubmitted a site plan for a proposed shopping center adjacent to the Pitt Plaza property. The site is known as the "pecan grove" and is located between Pitt Plaza and the First Christian Church.

The sit plan was approved with the amendment changing the 60 foot right of way to an 80 foot right of way along the western boundary of Pitt Plaza.

James B. Brown, attorney for Cauthern-Parker of Raleigh, submitted a land use plan for the 59 acres near and including the Mayo property adjacent to the 264 by-pass. Brown asked that the 20 acres fronting on the by-pass be zoned for business use, and that the balance to designated for use in the development of luxury apartments.

The commissioners approved the request, after changing the entrance right of way from 60 feet to 80 feet and requiring that the entrance to the development meet the proposed street between Pitt Plaza and the proposed new shopping center.

The commissioners heard a request to put a large outdoor type of billboard on top of the Sherwin-Williams building at the intersection of Dickinson and Tenth Street. No action was taken and the matter was left to the discretion of City Manager Harry Hagerty.

Hagerty said in connection with the billboard, "We worked for a long time to clean up the clutter on that corner, and I would hate to see it messed up again."

In the final item on the agenda, the commissioners decided to hold a public hearing on the 26th of June to consider the zoning of lots on the 264 by-pass in the Belvedere Sub-division.

Obscenity Case Is Slated For Superior Court

By STUART SAVAGE

A 21-year-old Hickory native was given a 30-day jail term in Greenville Recorders Court this morning after being found guilty of publishing and possessing vulgar and obscene literature that was distributed on the East Carolina University Campus Monday.

Paul Allen, 21, of Pine View Trailer Ct. gave notice of appeal after Judge Charles H. Whedbee handed down the 30-day jail term.

A second man charged in the case, 21-year-old Michael Hamman of Hickory, a student at ECU, requested a jury trial and his case was transferred to Pitt County Superior Court.

The allegedly obscene works were contained in an 11-page mimeographed pamphlet which, in part condemned East Carolina as a university, and its administration.

However, the allegedly obscene material was confined to two pages, in a work entitled "The ... Whipped Southern Male" which seemed to have no logical connection with the remainder of the publication.

According to Allen, who admitted publishing the works, the material contained in 11 pages was authored by an ECU faculty member who has authored several books and other works.

James Mallory, dean of men, at the University said Hamman told him a mimeograph machine was rented to reproduce the copies that were distributed on campus. He said a copy of the pamphlet, entitled "This Is Not a Flower Or Where It's At. E. C. U." was placed under his office door while everyone in the office was out for lunch. Another copy was mailed to ECU president Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, Mallory noted.

Hearing examiners for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) have ruled that desegregation is proceeding too slowly in the schools of Jones and Martin counties and in the city of Wilson.

In all three cases, school officials have been using the freedom of choice approach to desegregation which allows Negro children to attend predominantly white schools if they request permission.

Hearing examiners ruled that the freedom of choice plan should be discarded in the three systems and more effective methods of integration be employed.

Earlier, Hyde County schools were ruled to be not in compliance with the guidelines and it also faces a cutoff of funds.

Further appeals are available to Jones and Martin County officials, as well as those in Wilson, a HEW spokesman said.

County Demos Meet Saturday

The Pitt County Democratic Convention will be held Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Pitt County Court House.

Delegates to the convention, representing the various precinct executive committees, will elect delegates to the State Democratic Convention to be held in Raleigh June 6, as well as conduct other county Democratic business.

Following the county convention, at 12 noon, the county Democratic Executive Committee will meet for lunch at Respass Brothers on N. Greene St.

Members of the county executive committee include the chairman and vice chairmen of the various precinct executive committees. A chairman, vice-chairman and secretary-treasurer are elected from among the executive committee members.

The main item of business to come before the executive committee will be the election of officers.

Greenville attorney J. Henry Harrell, who has served as executive committee chairman for the past eight years, said last week he will not seek re-election to the post.

Persons mentioned as possible successors include Hugh Winslow, recently named chairman of Greenville precinct number five, and Charles Horne, presently one of two vice-chairmen of the county executive committee.

Other persons presently serving as officers of the county committee include Mrs. William Frances Tyson, vice chairman and L. M. Buchanan, secretary-treasurer.

Harrell urged all Democrats to attend the county convention.

Scott Campaign Will Be Purely Tar Heel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Bob Scott has indicated that he won't link his campaign for the governorship of North Carolina too closely with the national Democratic race for the presidency.

Scott held a strategy meeting Wednesday with Democratic members of Congress from his state, and afterward spoke at a news conference.

He told the news conference that the closed-door strategy session of two and three-quarter hours did not discuss the national party. "We're immediately concerned right now about the candidates we know we've got," he said.

"I'm a firm believer in keeping the North Carolina campaign for Democrats in North Carolina. Regardless of who gets the Democratic presidential nomination, I'm running for governor under the political rule of self preservation."

Scott will run in November against U. S. Rep. Jim Gardner, who won the Republican nomination for governor in the May 4 primary.

In the Democratic primary that day Scott got 337,368 votes, or 47.11 per cent in a three-man race. Because Scott did not get a majority, the runnerup, Raleigh lawyer Mel Broughton, could have called for a second primary. Broughton, however, has declined to do so, and has said he will support Scott and all other Democratic candidates.

Broughton got 233,924 votes and Dr. Reginald Hawkins Charlotte dentist, North Carolina's first Negro candidate for governor, got 129,808 votes.

Hawkins has not announced whom he will support.

New officers for the coming year were elected Monday night at the annual board meeting of the Pitt County chapter of the American Red Cross.

Newly elected president is Joe Clark; vice president is Mrs. James T. Little; treasurer is A. B. Stallworth; recording secretary is Mrs. Hiawatha Bryant.

The members heard a report that money received from United Fund to date totals $8,500. Expected income will be $17,000 which is $2,044 short of the Red Cross goal for the year.

A. B. Stallworth reported that on May 20 the bank balance for the chapter was $2,972.38.

In 1967 the Pitt County chapter was asked to fill 600 ditty bags for Christmas to be sent to servicemen in Viet Nam. The 600 bags were filled and the service will be continued again this year.

Nell Stalling reported that Red Cross courses at the college had been successful. She reported that 700 attended the 22 first aid classes, 30 attended the two senior lifesaving classes, and 50 attended the two water safety instruction classes.

The first aid course for this year will begin on June 10 at Memorial Gym on the ECU campus.

The volunteer services council for Camp Lejeune and Cherry Point announced the

Tenor Trouble Under A Bridge

LONDON (WNS) — Tom Beron, the former tenor, decided to make a singing comeback at the age of 85. His 83-year-old wife, Matilda, chased him out of the house as soon as he began vocalizing and ordered him to practice underneath a highway bridge near the house so that he won't catch cold when it rains. "Tom's got a good voice, but there are the neighbors to think about," explained Mrs. Vernon. Her husband likes it under the bridge, but motorists have stopped their cars three times to come to his rescue. "They imagine that I am in trouble and calling for help," he confided.

Physical Attraction Needs Explaining

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Last month my husband received word he is being transferred out of the city in September. It's a promotion and will mean more money, but I am not happy about it. You see, he tells me that his secretary is filing for divorce (no children) and she is going with him!

Abby, do you believe in a woman's intuition? This secretary has worked for my husband for nearly 3 years. I knew that she was very pretty, quite young, and married. (Happily, I assumed.) I knew that my husband had taken her to dinner occasionally when they had worked late. I also knew that he had taken her to lunch, but I suppose many such luncheons are for the purpose of discussing business.

I am sick inside. I have the feeling that something is going on between them. Should I ask my husband if there is something he wants to tell me? If my suspicions are correct, am I wrong in trying to make it easier for him to tell me?

ONLY GUESSING: DEAR GUESSING: Tell him what is on your mind, and don't worry about whether you are making it "easier" for him. Make it easier on yourself. And quit guessing.

DEAR ABBY: When a teenage daughter looks her mother right in the eye with hate and says, "I don't owe you anything. I didn't ask to be born," what is a mother supposed to say?

STILLWATER: DEAR STILLWATER: "No one asks to be born. What a child 'owes' his parents for the gift of life is never repaid to the parents. It is passed on instead to their children." DEAR ABBY: Why can't mothers take the time to call the home of a "strange" playmate who comes to visit?

My daughter was only 3 years old when some youngsters helped her over the fence which surrounded our yard.

When I discovered she was gone, I was nearly hysterical, and soon had the whole neighborhood driving up and down the streets looking for her. Thank God we found her safe, three streets away—in the home of a child only slightly older than she was. At 3, our daughter knew her name and telephone number, but her playmate's mother never bothered to ask her name, or if her mother knew where she was.

If a strange playmate comes to my house, I always ask, "What is your name? Where do you live? Does your mother know where you are? When do you have to be home?" Then I phone the mother to double-check.

Please put this into your own words, Abby, and print it. It could spare many a mother the terrifying nightmare of having to hunt for her child after dark. MRS. M. H., PARAMUS, N.J. DEAR MRS. H.: Your words are fine. Thank you for writing.

Open-Air Haircuts Not Yet Approved

PARIS (WNS) — When the electricity went off in Michel Chahoul's barber shop at 5 Rue de Chateaudun, he moved the barber chairs outside and gave haircuts there. Now that the electricity is on again, he wants to give "open-air" haircuts, anyhow. "The men love it, and their ladies can wait for them at the sidewalk cafe next door, offering comments from time to time," said Chahoul. But Paris authorities, who approve of outdoor cafes, have not yet given their approval for outdoor barber shops and beauty parlors.

One Establishment After Another

Unrest on the campuses and on the streets has a common target in both the East and West; that's the "establishment".

Whether their systems are communistic or capitalistic, growing numbers of young people are feeling a sense of rebellion. "Nonconformity" in speech, behavior and dress, is all part of the scene at home and abroad.

It's not easy to visualize here, but the black flags of anarchy and the red flags of communism fly over the stately Sorbonne in Paris.

The bureaucracy of communist regimes poses an inviting target in Warsaw, Prague, East Germany, and even inside Russia. Red China is an extreme example. There the war on an entrenched and powerful bureaucracy is waged by followers of no less than Mao Tse-tung who fears the communist party will lose its influence to the bureaucracy (the "establishment").

Freedoms taken for granted in the West are goals of rebels in the East. In the West, the "establishment" is the target of those who object to conformity.

Of course, the focal point of rebellion today is France.

The young people who kicked off the present governmental crisis include anarchists, nihilists, Trotskyites, Castroists, Maoists, Guevarists — anything but admirers of the French "establishment" in which the rebels scornfully include the orthodox French Communist party.

Even the stolid and staid French middle class have joined (for their own reasons) in a sort of revolt against the government.

To the onlooker it is all rather amazing.

Suppose, just to be supposing... the forces of rebellion accomplished all they profess to be their goal: destruction of the state as it now exists.

Their first preoccupation would be to establish a new system to protect the rights of citizens (personal and property), then to safeguard existence of their state or nation, then to delineate the rules which make their new system possible.

And...

Lo, there's a new "establishment".

Concern Over Voter Turnout

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau

RALEIGH—Whatever the reason, only about one out of two registered voters in North Carolina cast ballots in the primaries on May 4—and this concerns election officials.

"The total should have been greater," says Alex K. Brock, secretary of the State Board of Elections. "We don't know why it wasn't. Everything pointed to a record turnout."

WILLIAM A. SHIRES

The total vote in Democratic and Republican party primaries for governor was 856,167. Many observers, including Brock, had predicted a million.

New Registration Figures

A new compilation of voter registration figures from 94 of the state's 100 counties shows North Carolina has at least 1,781,753 voters on the books.

This will be increased when the figures come in from Harnett, Caswell, Dare, Davidson, Lee, and Graham counties in which there are an estimated 50,000 to 75,000 more.

For comparison purposes, however, the present breakdown shows 1,382,931 Democrats and 365,108 Republicans.

And the biggest increase since last tabulation has been in the "independent" and "no party" category with 33,714 so registered. More new voters registered "independent" or "no party" this Spring than switched from Democrat to Republican, Brock says.

On a racial basis, the board's figures show 1,431,728 registered white voters, 281,434 Negroes and 9,836 Indian or other non-white voters. Robeson County alone, with a sizable Indian population, has 7,896 Indians registered to vote.

Study Group Named

A result of the disappointment

ment and concern about the smaller-than-expected turnout May 4 has been appointment of a special task force study group on voting procedures by the State Board of Elections.

This statewide group, made up of both Democrats and Republicans, includes county chairman, precinct registrars and county executive board secretaries plus five ex-officio members.

Fitzhugh E. Wallace Jr. of Kinston and L. A. Grooms of Lincoln have been designated co-chairmen, and Elections Board chairman Lee C. Smith of Raleigh has urged that the group hold an initial meeting in late June.

Ex-officio members appointed to represent all facets of the voting public included David W. Smith of Durham, a Negro who was an unsuccessful primary candidate for nomination to Congress in the Fourth District.

Party Officials

Also included are the executive directors of both the Democrat and Republican parties in the state, Phil Redwine of the Democrats and Gene Anderson of the Republicans, along with the national committeewomen of the respective parties, Mrs. Betty Lewis of Greensboro and Mrs. Terry Wallace of Gastonia.

New Bank Application

An application of an increasingly rare type—to establish a new, small independent bank—is on the agenda for a meeting of the State Banking Commission this week.

In the past 10 or more years, the trend in North Carolina has been toward merger and branching by large chain banks and the gradual disappearance of small local banks. But incorporators of a proposed new commercial bank at Elkin, to be known as Yadkin Valley Bank and Trust Co., have asked for approval of a charter and the application is scheduled to be acted upon this week.

Nearly a dozen other applications on the agenda involve requests for new branches and teller's window offices to be established mostly by large chain banks.

$4 Million For Calif. Primary

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

LOS ANGELES — The David - vs. - Goliath quality of the California Presidential primary contest between Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene McCarthy is vividly reflected in a visit paid two weeks ago to a major Los Angeles radio station by a man from an advertising agency representing Kennedy.

The Kennedy operative blandly asked to buy all the station's available air time between May 20 and primary day, June 4. Amazed, the station made the deal. The incident was by no means isolated. The Kennedy campaign, at an immense cost, has preempted much of the available time on both television and radio in the Los Angeles area in a media blitz that began on Monday (May 20).

Actually, if McCarthy could scrape together enough money, the stations would be forced, under Federal regulations, to make time available to him, but the point is that McCarthy cannot begin to compete with Kennedy in terms of money, staff personnel, or campaign expertise and for that reason cannot hope to win this climactic primary.

The contrast in terms of money is particularly sharp. The unannounced Kennedy advertising budget for all media in California is $2 million. That means total Kennedy spending here could reach $4 million, unprecedented for a primary election campaign even in this state accustomed to uninhibited political spending.

With Vice President Hubert Humphrey's well-heeled supporters here having made a calculated decision against subsidizing McCarthy, his campaign is grossly underfinanced. McCarthy may be able to buy $300,000 in radio-TV time here only because of an 11th hour infusion of money from last weekend's McCarthy rally in New York.

The McCarthy war chest is so empty that a McCarthy staffer from New York, Joe De Cola, is here in a desperate last-minute search for money from conservative Republican fat cats who might be willing to help McCarthy to stop Kennedy.

Kennedy's advantage here is nearly as great in terms of staff. Fully 55 Kennedy staffers from the East, many of them battle-scarred veterans of past Kennedy campaigns, are here for the duration of the campaign and living full-time at the Ambassador Hotel.

In addition, Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh, Kennedy's California chairman, has set up an elaborate organization to get out the vote—particularly the overwhelmingly pro-Kennedy Negro and Mexican-American vote—on June 4.

McCarthy's staff organization is adequate in northern California, but his operation in southern California has been an exercise in sheer chaos—and southern California is where the votes are. For that reason, McCarthy has personally assigned Curtis Gans, his abrasive but effective chief of national political operations, to take charge of the Los Angeles operation.

More serious than the disorganization in Los Angeles has been an exercise in sheer chaos in California devised by McCarthy's national campaign planners. His California supporters have been furious over a schedule that has put McCarthy in Florida for days while ignoring their pleas that the harvest conservative California votes in the agricultural San Joaquin Valley. To their despair, McCarthy's national schedulers have not put him in the valley until the campaign's last week.

Kennedy's campaign here has by no means been free of severe internal stresses. Consider the behind-the-scenes tensions surrounding Kennedy's campaign visit last week to the University of California campus at Davis.

Unruh privately complained that Kennedy is wasting his time on college campuses and ought to be wooing anti-Kennedy southern Californians in the middle-income suburban tracts. Kennedy's national strategists reply that Unruh does not understand the "new politics."

There are private recriminations between Unruh lieutenants and two Californians on Kennedy's national staff—Frederick G. Dutton and Frank Mankiewicz.

"Almost overlooked in our annual research is a fact recorded each year, but never officially explained: There are (or so reports the 1968 World Almanac) 42,749,302 married women in the United States, and only 42,416,979 married men." — Nashville (Tenn.) Banner.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
WE NEVER KNOW

William Shakespeare died feeling that he would appear as a figure of some importance in the history of English literature. But Shakespeare undoubtedly believed he would be remembered because of his sonnets. Certainly no one would regard such plays as Hamlet, Macbeth and Othello as literature. These were written for entertainment and diversion. Shakespeare was proud of his sonnets (which are for the most part known today only to scholars in the field of English literature). In one of his sonnets he declared that he is ashamed of that which he brings forth—undoubtedly meaning the plays which we consider the very acme of literary genius.

How little we know—and how little the age in which we live understands—the significance of what is going on about us. Some of us can remember when the late Dr. Einstein was regarded a crackpot because he had a silly notion about what he called relativity. Yet in the foreseeable future any list of the twelve greatest persons that ever lived would certainly have to include the name of Einstein.

Is creative production taking place right now in our midst without our knowing anything about it? Do we frequently applaud the superficial and neglect or reject the productions that are genuinely great? The genius is often not discovered until generations or centuries after he has passed away. Many learned "scientific authorities" urged Ferdinand and Isabella of Spain to burn that idiot Columbus at the stake because he believed that the world was round. Guys like that, they argued, could get the world into a mess of trouble.

By ELMER ROESSNER
The old middle class in America is being liquidated. A new middle class is taking its place. Das ist how it is, Karl Marx!

The old middle class consisted of middle management people, small businessmen, small farmers and their families. It still exists but it is rapidly being impoverished by taxes and economic pressures.

The upper class escapes many taxes with capital gains on the stock market and other investments, with oil and mineral depletion allowances and tax-exempt bonds.

The lower class is taxed lightly under our so-called "progressive" system of taxes and the lower level of the poor are now demanding a negative income tax whereby their incomes will be swelled by largesse from the federal government.

The Socked Class
But the middle class is socked. In taxes, it rarely has the capital to utilize the tax shelters available to the upper class. In fact, it is the target of most tax barrages. It is hit hard by sales taxes, it is hit hard by other local taxes.

ELMER ROESSNER

When the Rockefeller administration in New York state decided it needed more money, it did not impose new taxes on diamonds, on oil paintings, Gobel tapestries, estates of more than a half acre or other playthings of the rich. Instead it increased levies on sales of spirits, gas and cigarettes and boosted income taxes of those making more than $17,000 a year.

To survive, the middle business executive must spend large sums, not usually tax-deductible, to keep up with the vice presidents; he must be a leader in making contributions; he must dress his wife well and get his kids into better schools. He has an excellent chance of dying broke.

Independents, Whatever They Are

The small farmer is being phased out. Corporations are taking over much of the farming; the farm corporations are getting the lion's share of government handouts. Farm prices remain stable, although the products soar in price in the markets.

The small businessman suffered most in Negro rioting and now he has difficulty, sometimes insurmountable, in getting insurance. Often his shops and offices are torn

Negro Actors Busier

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Peyton Place" adds a Negro family this fall.

Diahann Carroll stars in her own dramatic series. Three Negroes will be among its script-writers.

Yes, as you may already have noticed, more Negroes than ever are working in television. In movies, too. The first feature film ever directed by a Negro rolls this summer. And in two films Negroes will costar romantically with whites—Lena Horne with Richard Widmark, Raquel Welch with Jim Brown.

Brown, the football star, turned actor, will play love scenes with the shapely Miss Welch in "100 Rifles," an outdoor adventure drama from 20th Century-Fox. Miss Horne will portray Widmark's sweetheart who marries him near the end of a Universal Western, "Patch." It will be Lena's first nonsinging movie performance.

Once Negroes were almost nonexistent on the screen, or were caricatures, the foils for harsh, stereotyped comedy. In response to pressure from civil rights groups, they began getting more and better parts. "Tokenism," many called it.

A bigger break-through has come in, roughly, the last year. Not that Negroes have it made in their drive for more work before and behind the cameras. Far from it, especially behind.

Some still call it tokenism, among them Dick Gregory, the Negro comedian who became a civil rights activist. He says: "They're not fooling anyone with what they're doing, throwing out a bone here and there." Don Mitchell, Raymond Burr's Negro aide on "Ironside," says more Negro actors are working, but behind the camera "there's not a single Negro stuntman, electrician, cameraman—you name it. They just don't exist."

A Negro booker of Negro movie-television talent says her business is up nearly 150 per cent over last year.

Latest available statistics compare the third quarter of 1966 with the third quarter of 1967:

1966—13 feature picture started, with 18 Negro actors.

1967—30 movies, 93 Negroes.

The television comparison is similar. For Negro technicians hire in both movies and television in the three-month periods the increase was: 1966—84; 1967—108.

Any television viewer realizes that more Negroes now appear in commercials, usually with white performers.

Negro players plug deodorants, mouthwash, toothpaste, salad oil, carbonated water, soft drinks, airlines, toys, beer, cigarettes, life insurance, cameras etc.

The movies' first Negro feature director is Gordon Parks, author, composer and for 24 years a Life magazine photographer. He's filming tests before taking his cameras to Fort Scott, Kan., to film his autobiographical novel, "The Learning Tree," for Warner Bros.-Seven Arts.

Parks credits studio head Ken Hyman with "a lot of guts for hiring me. He gave me the chance because he believes I can do it and not because I'm a Negro," Parks told the Hollywood Reporter.

Exclusive of actors, Universal Studio employs 393 Negroes, an increase of about 10 per cent over a year ago and nearly 10

"It was 30 years ago this spring that the S. S. Service League was christened by her honorary commander, Mrs. Wyatt Brown, and set sail to do a tour of duty of service for her fellowman," commented Mrs. Proctor in the opening statement of the annual president's report. "We drop the anchor once again to listen to the yearly 'log' — the report you have made possible by your unselfish service to others," she continued.

She stated that during this year 99 members (80 active, 18 sustaining and one honorary) have given a total of 10,229.5 hours of volunteer service to the community.

Mrs. Proctor thanked all officers and committee chairmen for their untiring help and reviewed the year's accomplishments in the League's various activities. These include 1,469 hours given at the Bloodmobile during its nine visits; 10 pairs of pajamas and two pairs of slippers for tubercular patients, plus 15 calls for walkers, wheel chairs and crutches were answered by Lending Chest; 19 layettes were provided; 35 emergency charity cases were investigated; 23 Christmas baskets were delivered; 812 favors were made for hospital trays and 24 arrangements were placed in hospital rooms; 3,285 hours were spent in the hospital coffee shop;

Eighteen people have been aided by the Laughinghouse Hospital Fund and 39 memorials have been received; 346 hours were put into making Christmas "ditty bags" for service men in Vietnam; 69 hours were given to the Art Center and 56.5 hours were given to the Children's Home Society in Greensboro.

In addition to these the League has helped with Operation Santa Claus, Arthritis Program, Heart Fund, Measles Clinic, cookbooks and coat hangers, United Fund, Cancer Crusade, Sheltered Workshop, Hospital Chapel, Civil Defense, Cub and Girl Scouts and the only fundraising project, the Charity Ball.

Mrs. Proctor said, "Since the Service League is a non-profit organization, any profit above our operating expenses goes back into gifts to the hospital. We are pleased that the League voted to give a Fetal Heart Monitor as their gift to the hospital this year."

In conclusion, Mrs. Proctor said, "The torch has lighted the way for the splendid accomplishments you have made as you have followed all points of the compass in giving service to the suffering, the friendless, and the needy. It has been a great honor to serve as your captain for these two years because you are a mighty 'crew.' Now as we disembark our 30th cruise may I say thank you for the privilege of 'sailing' with you."

New officers installed by Mrs. Proctor were: Mrs. W. R. Guice, president; Mrs. Morris Brody, first vice president; and Mrs. Charles Stevens, second vice president. Other officers are Mrs. William Leitch, recording secretary; Mrs. William Taft Jr., corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Eugene West, treasurer.

Mrs. Guice announced the following:

Bargain Bracelet For Girlfriend

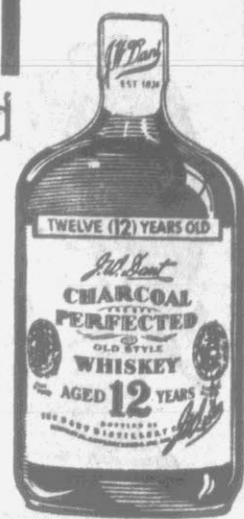

MILAN, Italy (WNS)—Three young men got into a fight here after each had claimed to have given Maria Rossi, 22, the gold bracelet she was wearing. When peace was restored, Miss Rossi confessed that each boy was correct in his statement. "The bracelet was too expensive for any one boy to pay for it," she said. "I arranged with the jeweler to charge each boy only one-third of the full price when he came to buy it, but I didn't tell the boys what was going on." The jeweler is Miss Rossi's uncle.

REMOVED FROM "SANCTUARY" — Convicted draft evader Robert Talmanson, 21, of Boston, is carried by U. S. Marshals from his "sanctuary" in the Arlington Street Church in Boston. per cent of its total employment — 4,200. Many are office workers.

Three years ago, Variety noted, the television industry "was truly surprised when NBC-TV and executive producer Sheldon Leonard cast Bill Cosby as co-star with Bob Culp in 'I Spy,' but today crossing television's color line is a common occurrence."

Three ABC-TV shows premiering this fall, "Land of the Giants," "The Outcasts" and "The Mod Squad," will have Negro regulars. At NBC, "I Spy" has been dropped, but Miss Carroll will start her series, "Julia," with a 6-year-old playing her son. Negroes continue on "Star Trek" and "Ironside." NBC has signed comedian Flip Wilson to what it calls a long-term contract.

Why the upsurge in Negro employment?

Says Lillian Cumber, the talent agent whose business has increased nearly 150 per cent: "Basically it's economics. Civil rights groups have been demanding that the industry use more Negroes and if it doesn't there the night before, but in Portland the effect is stupendous.

Kennedy's headquarters are a block away, trim, efficient, highpowered. There is even a lumber room, piled high with the stakes that will hold signs in spontaneous demonstrations. Once again, the whole Kennedy clan (minus pregnant Ethel) is making the scene. Pierre Salinger was due in Sunday evening, to put his stamp on the whole professional show.

Lyndon Johnson's name, along with the names of Kennedy and McCarthy, is on the Oregon ballot. The general assumption is that LBJ will draw maybe 5 or 6 per cent of the vote, as he did in Nebraska, and that Kennedy will swamp McCarthy by maybe five to three. There seems to be no Humphrey activity whatever, though HHH appears lonesomely on the ballot as the sole candidate for Vice President.

Speaking of the Oregon ballot, it is one of the marvels of the West. State law permits each candidate to have a statement of up to 12 words printed beside his name. Most of them take the whole twelve.

Fly More Missions, Losses Rise

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — American pilots are flying more missions against North Vietnam and losing more planes than they did before President Johnson put the major part of the country off limits to them, statistics from the U.S. Command showed today.

The command announced today that North Vietnamese an-tiircraft fire brought down two more planes Wednesday, and the three crewmen are all missing.

U.S. troops losses also continued high, with 549 Americans reported killed in combat last week. It was the second highest weekly toll of the war for American troops.

The South Vietnamese government reported 475 of its troops killed last week, while the allied estimate of enemy killed was 4,765. The two planes were lost Wednesday as American fliers logged 135 missions against North Vietnam's southern panhandle, the highest number flown this month. The U.S. Command said the three crewmen were missing.

Radio Hanoi claimed North Vietnamese gunners downed four planes Wednesday and captured all the pilots. It also charged that the United States is continuing "to conduct barbarous raids" on North Vietnam while W. Averell Harriman, the U.S. representative at the Paris peace talks, "claims the U.S. is ready to 'de-escalate the war.'"

The loss of the two planes raised the total reported lost in combat in the North to 10 in May and 841 since the start of the air war more than three years ago. One of the planes lost Wednesday was a Navy photo-reconnaissance RF8 Crusader, the other an Air Force F4 Phantom.

In February nine American warplanes were announced lost over the North. In March the number went to 11. During April, the first month Johnson's curtailment order was in effect, 16 U.S. planes were reported shot down.

The increase in losses was matched by an increase in the number of missions flown.

During March, while the northeast monsoons were still producing heavy cloud cover and rain, 2,648 missions were flown over the whole of North Vietnam. Vietnam's narrow southern panhandle below the 19th parallel, 3,412 missions were logged. So far in May pilots have flown 2,645 missions, and the final figure were limited to bombing North Vietnam may top April's total.

Following the business meeting, there was a social hour and luncheon with the 30th year anniversary as a theme. This was carried out in the programs, favors and flowers. Mrs. J. B. Kittrell Sr. and Mrs. Walter Harrington presided over the punch bowl. Mrs. Tyson Bilbro delivered the invocation.

A skit entitled "Cinderella Joins The Service League" was presented by provisionals and active members. The main characters included stepmother, Mrs. John Shan-nonhouse; sisters, Mrs. R. Thelma Lanier and Mrs. Robert Smith; Cinderella, Mrs. Allen Taylor; fairy godmother, Mrs. Percy Cox; President of League, Mrs. Charles Pope; League Members, Mrs. J. R. The prologue was given by Mrs. Morris Brody and the epilogue by the Provisionals and cast who joined together in the chorus.

A highlight of the meeting was the presentation of awards. Mrs. W. R. Guice received the president's tray for her outstanding and conscientious service both as a league and board member. She served as first vice president and as decorations chairman for the Charity Ball. Mrs. George Lautares, a past president, made the presentation.

The Ormond Service Cup was awarded to Mrs. Dwight Garrett by Mrs. R. H. Evans, a sustaining member. This cup is awarded to a member for her interest, willingness to work, and active participation in various League activities.

The president's tray and the service cup are engraved with the names of the recipients and will be kept by them during the ensuing year.

In the absence of Mrs. Ty Wagner, Mrs. Walter Harrington presented Mrs. Proctor with the past president's pin. This pin is given every two years to the outgoing president by Mrs. Wagner.

Mrs. Brody served as chairman of the luncheon. Assisting her were the following committee heads: skit, Mrs. Charles Stevens; programs, Mrs. Clay Burnette; favors, Mrs. John Biggs; placecards, Mrs. R. G. Dayton corsages, Mrs. Leland Flannagan and Mrs. Tom Haigwood.

Special recognition was given to the Advisory Board of the Service League who gave the flowers at the head table in memory of Mrs. Judson Blount Sr., a former member. Her name will also be placed in the Book of Remembrance at the Hospital Chapel. The Sustaining Members with Mrs. J. T. Little Sr. and Mrs. John Adams, as chairmen, gave the flowers on the buffet and auxiliary tables.

Will Ask FBI Check Into Contradictory Testimony

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Judge H. Pou Bailly has announced that he will call upon the State Bureau of Investigation to look into contradictory testimony in the trial of Dr. Reginald A. Hawkins on voter registration fraud charges.

Hawkins, civil rights leader who unsuccessfully sought the Democratic nomination for governor on May 4, is charged with registering four unqualified Negro voters four years ago and with interfering with the registrar.

One of the four voters, Mrs. Martha Gibson, testified Wednesday that she had not seen Hawkins in the school gymnasium which was being used for the registration on April 8, 1964.

Solicitor Elliott M. Schwartz then said she had "given pages and pages of sworn testimony" at another trial that Dr. Hawkins had administered the literacy test and the registration oath to her at that time.

Hawkins, a Charlotte dentist, was the state's first Negro candidate for governor and got about 18 per cent of the vote while running last in a three-man race for the nomination.

Schwartz said that in her earlier account, given in November 1964 at the trial of Mrs. A. M. Huston, a special registration commissioner, Mrs. Gibson had testified that she was registered by Dr. Hawkins although she was unable to read or write.

Charges against Mrs. Huston of registering unqualified voters were dismissed at that trial. Mrs. Huston and Mrs. Gibson were prosecution witnesses Wednesday.

Mrs. Huston testified she had administered the required literacy test and oath to only about 15 persons of the approximately 60 persons whose registration she had approved that day.

She said the others were tested and sworn in by Hawkins. Solicitor Schwartz asked her: "Did you try to do anything about that Hawkins allegedly taking over her duties?" She replied she didn't, "because I was confused."

Four Tar Heels Killed In Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department announced Wednesday the deaths of four North Carolina servicemen in Vietnam.

Killed in action were Marine Cpl. Richard Turner of Mount Olive, Marine Pfc. Ernest C. McCrimmon Jr. of Raleigh and Army Sgt. Willie E. Alston of Durham. The fourth fatality, Army Cpl. Samuel S. Linville of High Point, was listed as dead not as a result of hostile action.

Multi-Fatality Accidents Soar

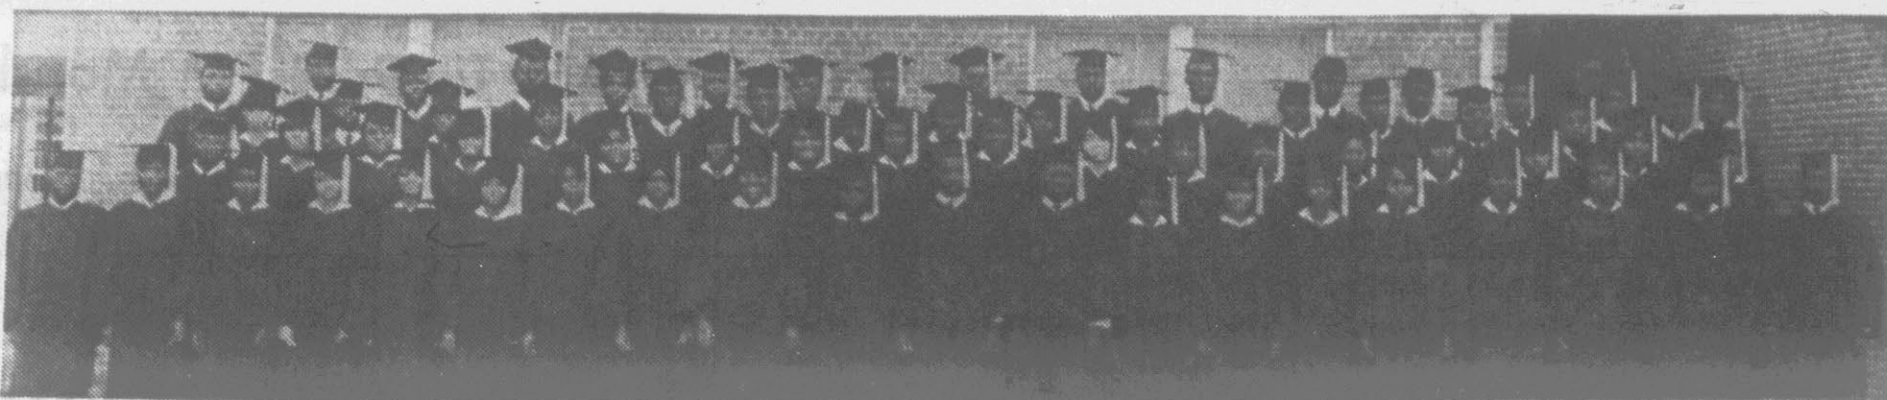

RALEIGH (AP)—North Carolina highway safety officials say no single reason can explain satisfactorily why multi-fatality accidents in the state this year already have reached an all-time

Zoo Authorities To Study N.C. Feasibility

GREENSBORO (AP) — Nationally recognized zoo authorities will begin a five-day tour on June 10 to recommend whether it will be feasible to establish a state-supported zoo in North Carolina.

Norwood Pope, chairman of a zoo study commission appointed by Gov. Dan Moore, made the announcement Wednesday. He met in Greensboro with a group promoting the proposed Piedmont Tiad Park as one site. The triad is Greensboro, High Point and Winston-Salem.

Civic leaders from Asheboro, Sanford and Raleigh spoke for their areas. Pope said next month's tour would begin in the Raleigh-Durham area, and would include Wilmington, Sanford, Asheville, Shelby, Charlotte, Statesville, Greensboro and Asheboro.

PROSPECTIVE GRADUATES . . . These W. H. Robinson High School seniors are scheduled to graduate in exercises at the school May 31. They include (first row) Julius Carr, Shirley Carmon, Sandra Brown, Delois Daniels, Pearl King, Lillie Wright, Augustine Wilks, Annie Coward, Mamie Hillard, Jacqueline Crandall, Billy Leggett, Bennie Corbett, Rander Harris, Enda Pugh, Marjorie Suggs, Linda Brock, Lilliam Chapman, Mavis Jones, Barbara Daniels, Lottie Gorham, and Charlie Barrett; (row two) Richard Mercer, Willie Jean Knox, Linda Parker, Verne Williams, Ida Blount, Mary Williams, Gloria Boyd, Ella Roach, Lillie Sherrod, Jacqueline Mills, Blanche Locke, Emma Smith, Rosa Cox, Brenda Nobles, Willie Pearl Gorham, Ruby Streeter and Gwendolyn Wilder; (row three) Cora Pierce, Jerome Roundtree, Carolyn Phillips, Mamie Daniels, Floyd Pugh, Lester Patrick, Dorothy Barnhill, Glenda Blount, Valley Cox, Dora Streeter, Larry Daniels, Joe Roach, Fred Gray, Harold Vines and Jerome Robbins; (row four) Roy Moore, Lyman Cox, Curtis Robbins, Delton Swindell, James Daniels, Michael Reid, Lloyd Hooks, Earl Daniels, Lamont Bryan, Sidney Roland, Edward Farrow, Dallas Blount, Bobby Barrett, Willie Dortch, Jackie Pridgen and Bettie Vines. Banking Commission To Study System-Switching RALEIGH (AP)—The North Carolina Banking Commission wants to find out why Tar Heel banks are switching from the state to the national banking system.

State Banking Commissioner Frank Harrelson was directed Wednesday by the commission to make a study of "the underlying reasons and some deficiencies which may exist in North Carolina statutes" to cause the banks to switch.

The study was proposed by commission member James T. Moss of Youngsville. He said he viewed "with alarm" the recent announcement by Wachovia Bank and Trust Co. of Winston-Salem that it was converting from a state to a national bank. Wachovia is the largest bank in North Carolina.

Moss noted there have been other banks, "both large and small, that have converted from the state system to the national system."

"Obviously," he added, "there must be some reason for this movement."

Harrelson was instructed to report his findings to the commission at its July meeting.

In other action, the commission approved an application for the establishment of a new bank at Elkin to be known as the Yadkin Valley Bank and Trust Co.

The commission deferred action on an application by Wachovia Bank and Trust Co. of Whiteville to open a branch in Wilmington. The application is opposed by the First National

Sneed High Had $2,168 Deficit

RALEIGH (AP) — State Rep. Sneed High, D-Cumberland, wound up with a deficit of $2,168 in his unsuccessful Democratic primary race against State Treasurer Edwin Gill.

Gill has not filed a final report.

Three 10-year-old boys were injured in two separate traffic mishaps investigated by Greenville police yesterday.

Officers identified the youths as B. G. Clark of Country Club Dr. and Allen Morris of Summit St. Both were taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries they received.

Driver of the car involved in the incident was identified as Sandra Burke Warren, 20, of Hamlet. She was charged with failing to see her intended movement could be made in safety.

Opening lead: Five of ♠ South found that he had dealt himself the bridge player's dream—a hand containing no card below a ten spot. He properly opened the bidding with two spades and when his partner responded positively by raising to three spades, he proceeded to check for aces. North showed one ace and South bid a small slam in spades.

West opened the five of clubs and after East played the ace, he shifted to a low heart. Declarer put up the ace of hearts on which West dropped the king. South lady would have traded one of North's spot cards in spades for his own ten at this point, for with a normal three-two division in trumps, he would be able to cash his high diamond honors and then enter dummy with the third round of trumps in order to run the balance of the diamonds. Since the dummy had no side entry, however, it appeared that declarer would have to overtake the second diamond and hope that the suit split evenly.

South observed that he had 11 top tricks, so that he was in position to run off his winners in the black suits before testing diamonds. There was a chance either that an opponent might err in discarding or else find himself burdened with too much to protect in hearts and diamonds.

Declarer accordingly proceeded to play five rounds of trumps followed by his two high clubs. As the last club was led, South was down to the jack, ten of hearts and the king, queen of diamonds and the dummy was left with four diamonds. East held four diamonds at this point and the queen of hearts, with one discard still to be made.

Convinced that he must hold on to his heart honor, East chose to throw a diamond. Declarer cashed the diamond king, overtook the queen and took the balance with dummy's now established suit.

Pitt Boys Going To Advancement School

WINSTON-SALEM—Two Pitt County boys will attend a special leadership workshop at the North Carolina Advancement School here June 17-August 9.

The two youths are Johnnie Blount of Greenville and Noah Moore of Rt. 2, Winterville.

Fourteen boys will attend the program which is designed to develop leadership abilities in teenage boys.

They were chosen by the faculty from among the 135 eighth-graders now completing a semester's study at the school for underachievers, on the basis of their achievement and potential for leadership. The group will work with the 80 fifth and sixth grade boys who will attend the regular summer program.

The leadership workshop will offer opportunities for the boys to further develop their abilities through working with the younger boys, assisting the faculty, and through independent study and formal classroom training.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Aeronaves de Mexico is now providing direct service between Miami, Mexico City and Guadalajara. Guadalajara, Mexico's second largest city, is famed for its climate and hospitality. It is the gateway to Puerto Vallarta, a new "in" seaside resort.

By NICK TAYLOR
SHELBY, N.C. (AP) — Down near the South Carolina line, on Rt. 2, Shelby, Carrie Bell Crosby's shoulders quivered. "It broke all our hearts, but we couldn't do anything about it. And there's so many boys coming back that way, not alive."

At 209 Knot St. in Shelby, Louise McGill's eyes glistened with tears. "He was killed May 9, and May is my birthday. I'll never have another happy birthday."

Their sons had died in Vietnam.

The families live miles apart. Chances are that when Roland

C. Crosby and Joe Louis McGill were growing up, they didn't know each other.

Chances are, even today, that the Crosbys and the McGills don't know each other well, except in the understanding of the other's loss and in the bond that comes from sharing heartbreak.

In this, suddenly they have come to know each other well.

Martha McClain Crosby, 22, was married to Roland Crosby.

Her two small children were quiet in another room. She said, "It was such a shock, I couldn't hardly believe it. It was a hurt, too."

Margaret Alexander McGill lowered her one-year-old son, Joe Louis McGill Jr., to the floor and watched him toddle across the living room. She said, "I just didn't believe it. He was such a wonderful husband."

Roland Crosby Sr. home from his job at Fiber Industries, drove up the dirt driveway and climbed wearily out of his car. He walked along the bricks toward the front porch and spoke to the Army officer who had come with more papers to fill out.

The officer left, and Crosby turned and said, "I don't want to see my other sons go. But sometimes it ain't always what we want." He shook his head.

Edward Lee McGill came home from his job at Shelby Quilting Co. and walked through the kitchen into the living room. He looked at his wife, his daughters, his daughter-in-law and his grandson, and sat down.

"I was next door when the man came. They came and told me, and, I don't know, all at once it got away with me. None of us could believe it."

Roland Crosby was 23 years old, oldest of four children. He had gone to Camp High School, and had worked at Fiber Industries and at Hager's Restaurant in Shelby before the Army called him.

He didn't really want to go into the Army, but for Spec. 4 Crosby, it was simply a matter of, "If you have to, you have to, and that's it."

He wrote home often, but the mail from Vietnam is sometimes slow. His mother and his wife each got three letters from him after his death.

"He said when he got back home he wanted to live a good life, just like his dad, a good Christian life," his mother said.

He was going to meet his wife in Hawaii on May 29—"He would have been on his R and R (rest and recreation) and I was going to meet him there and be with him for two weeks," said Martha Crosby.

Lisa and Andrea, her two daughters, slept quietly. Their mother will "try to do the best she can" with them, to raise them without a father.

Joe Louis McGill was 21, and the oldest of five children. Behind him when he went to Vietnam were four years of football at Cleveland High School, where he graduated in 1966, and a job at J. P. Stevens' Shelby plant. He had worked there until he enlisted in the Marines.

His mother remembers that. "He talked about the Marines even when he was real small—he always wanted to be a Marine."

"When he was in school, he had pneumonia three years in a row. He'd ask me, 'Mamma, do you think I'll make it?', and I always told him, 'Yes, you'll be strong enough'."

Joe McGill would have been in Vietnam eight months Friday.

"We hate to give him up. But he died doing what he wanted to do—being a Marine. He died for our country."

He had been promoted to Lance Cpl. while in Vietnam, and was a squad leader.

Joe McGill had been in the service a year on April 21, and had been married 22 months. His son, Joe Louis Jr., observed his first birthday May 17.

Margaret McGill watched the baby. "I don't know what I'll do yet. It's still not real."

Thanks To Rain, Class Goes On

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Conducting a televised lecture at Texas Christian University, on how life began on Earth 2 billion years ago, Dr. Sidney W. Fox of the University of Miami found himself lacking the classroom pointer that is indispensable for showing slides.

Dr. Fox found an easy remedy, thanks to the rain. He used his damp and furled umbrella.

More Food Out Of 'Aquaculture'

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) —

Through aquaculture, the term applied to scientific fishing, the United States has increased its catch from 60 billion to 114 billion pounds of fish in the past ten years. Despite our progress in the area of fisheries research, many other nations outshine us in this important oceanographic field. Japan is the current leader. She has increased her oyster catch from 600 pounds an acre to 32,000 pounds an acre.

Drysdale Is Happy Over Postponement

By RON RAPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
Don Drysdale's own teammates kept him from closing in on a National League record Wednesday night. It's not likely that he'll complain.

Until the ninth inning of the Dodgers' game with St. Louis, it looked as if Drysdale would win his fourth 1-0 game of the year. Carl Hubbell of the 1933 New York Giants holds the record with five.

But then Ron Fairly drove in a run with a single in the ninth and ruined the whole thing. The Dodgers won 2-0 and Hubbell's record is safe for a little while longer.

In other National League games Wednesday, Houston topped Cincinnati 1-0, Philadelphia 8-0, San Francisco nipped Atlanta 2-1 and Pittsburgh destroyed Chicago 13-6.

In the American League, Washington blanked Chicago 0-0, Baltimore edged New York 4-3, Minnesota topped Detroit 4-3, Oakland beat Cleveland 2-0 and Boston downed California 4-0.

Through the seventh, the Dodgers managed only one hit off Bob Gibson, but it was a good one: Wes Parkers' run-scoring double in the third.

Drysdale stopped the Cards, who have now lost five of their last six games, on five hits. He hasn't allowed a run in his last 29 innings.

Dave Giusti also had a date with the record book wrecked. He was working on a no-hitter when Pete Rose got the first Cincinnati hit off him with two out in the eighth inning. Giusti finished with a two-hitter. Rusty Staub drove in the only run with a single in the sixth.

Richie Allen blasted two long two-run homers in the Phillies' victory over the Mets as Woody Fryman hurled a three-hitter. Tony Gonzalez also homered for the Phils.

The Giants moved into a virtual tie for first place with the Cardinals with their triumph, which came when Willie Mays broke out of an 0-for-12 slump with a run-scoring single in the ninth. Mike McCormick, who allowed three hits, was the winner.

Willie Stargell came up with the hitting performance of the season, blasting three home runs, a double and a single and driving in seven runs for the Pirates. The double missed being a homer by inches, bouncing high off the left field railing in Chicago.

Wilson Uses Homers To Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Long ball hitting paid off for the Wilson Tobs in the Carolina League Wednesday night.

The Tobs used two home runs and a triple to sink Winston-Salem 6-3 at Winston-Salem. A three-run homer by Frank Sands in the first inning sparked the attack. Winston-Salem set six pitchers to the mound in an unsuccessful effort to stem the tide.

The Lynchburg White Sox defeated Greensboro 7-1 at Lynchburg behind the three-hit pitching of lanky Ed Smith who picked up his eighth victory of the season. Smith pitched to only 32 batters, striking out seven and giving up three bases on balls.

Billy Champion allowed only four hits in pitching the Portsmouth Tides to a 2-1 victory over the Peninsula Grays at Portsmouth. Champion struck out nine and walked one in picking up his fifth victory.

Kinston pushed across two runs in the top of the 10th to edge Rocky Mount 4-2 at Rocky Mount in a game marred by a rhabarb. Rocky Mount played the game under protest after a disputed call by the plate umpire, Joe Serles, on a pitch to Kinston pinchhitter Bob Starnes. After the game, a fan report, attacked Serles when he came out of the dressing room. He was escorted out of town by police.

Salem rallied for three runs in the ninth to defeat High Point-Thomasville 4-3 at Salem.

In other league action, Raleigh-Durham defeated Burlington in a doubleheader at Durham, 5-4 and 3-2. The Mets won the opener behind southpaw Jerry Bark's five-hit pitching. In the nightcap, Joe Campbell bounced a single over third baseman John Biedenbach's head to drive in the winning run in the 10th.

Games tonight: Portsmouth at Peninsula, Kinston at Rocky Mount, Raleigh - Durham at Burlington, Wilson at Winston-Salem, High Point-Thomasville at Salem and Greensboro at Lynchburg.

Negro Athletes Demand Firings

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Negro athletes at Iowa State University have demanded that basketball Coach Glen Anderson, baseball Coach Cap Timm and trainer Bob Billings be fired "unless they have a change of attitude," the Des Moines Register said today.

The firing demands were made in a list of grievances presented to the ISU Athletic Council earlier this week, the paper said.

The council took no immediate action, but is expected to consider the two pages of complaints at a meeting June 5.

The athletes, member of a group known as the Black Students Organization, said they will boycott all athletic teams and forfeit their scholarships if the demands are not granted.

Bruce Ellis, a non-athlete from New York, heads the organization, and Willie Muldrew, All-Big Eight lineman from Chicago, is vice president.

Foster Goes After Tiger

By MURRAY ROSE
GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP) — "This is it. It's make or break. If I blow this I may never get another chance. I don't intend to blow it."

Bob Foster got it off his chest Wednesday as he rested on the training table, his long training grind over.

On Friday night, the 29-year-old ex-Air Force man and one-time bomb factory worker will get his first chance at a world title when he meets light heavyweight champion Dick Tiger at Madison Square Garden.

The 6-foot-3½ challenger from Washington, D.C., had just completed seven weeks of intensive training with some vigorous floor exercises and bag punching. He dried the sweat on his arms, heaved a deep sigh and said:

"It's all over. It's easy now." Did he expect to win in four of five rounds as he had predicted when he began training?

"Yeah, he'll go the first time I get him. He can't change his style. He'll be coming out. I like them to fight that way. The fans will like it. He's a good fighter but so am I. Only I've been waiting a long time. They only pay off on champions. I want that title."

Bertaina, Bowens Lead Senators To 2-0 Win Snapping Loss String

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
Mike Epstein got a red carpet reception when he arrived in Washington via the trade route from Baltimore. Frank Bertaina and Sam Bowens made the same trip ... and got little more than a change of uniform.

Wednesday night, the Senators shuffled Epstein off to Buffalo, then turned Bertaina and Bowens loose against the Chicago White Sox.

The result: A 2-0 victory that snapped Washington's losing streak at four games and took the Senators out of sole possession of the American League basement.

Bertaina, a stocky southpaw pitcher acquired from Baltimore in the Epstein deal last May, blanked the White Sox on two hits until the ninth inning, when he needed relief help from Dave Baldwin.

Bowens, purchased from the Orioles on a conditional basis last winter, took care of the Senators' attack by clouting a two-run sixth inning homer off Gary Peters.

Elsewhere, Baltimore nipped New York 4-3 on a two-run ninth inning homer by pinch hitter Don Buford. Minnesota edged Detroit 4-3 on Harmon Killebrew's run-scoring single in the eighth. Oakland blanked Cleveland 2-0 behind right-hander Jim Nash and Boston trimmed California 4-0 on Gary Bell's four-hitter.

In National League action, Los Angeles blanked St. Louis 2-0. Houston edged Cincinnati 1-0. Philadelphia whipped New York 8-0. San Francisco outlasted Atlanta 2-1 and Pittsburgh turned back Chicago 13-6.

Epstein, the 230-pound musclemen obtained by Washington after he re-signed to return to the Orioles' Rochester farm club last spring, was shipped back to the International League Wednesday night with an .099 batting average strapped to his broad shoulders.

Bowens, making his first start since last Sunday, stepped into Epstein's No. 5 spot in the batting order and broke up a scoreless duel between Bertaina and Petes with his second homer of the season.

Frank Howard, who stroked two singles and a double to boost his league-leading average to .348, was aboard in the sixth when Bowens' drive backed Chicago left fielder Tommy Davis against the left field fence.

Bertaina allowed two singles until the ninth, when Davis and Sandy Alomar singled. Baldwin came in and got the last two outs, preserving Bertaina's third victory in five decisions.

Buford connected against reliever John Wyatt, who was making his first appearance for the Yankees, following a leadoff walk to Dave Johnson in the ninth.

Wyatt, purchased from Boston last Friday, had been called on in the eighth to protect a 3-2 edge. Bobby Cox's two-run single capped a three-run New York burst in the fourth after the Orioles took a 2-0 lead with the help of Brooks Robinson's solo homer.

The loss dropped New York into a ninth place deadlock with Washington.

Tony Oliva's double and Killebrew's single broke a 3-3 tie in the eighth at Minnesota after Don Wert's second homer of the game. Gates Brown's triple and a pinch single by Al Kaline pulled the Tigers even in the top of the inning.

Jim Perry, the Twins' starting pitcher, poled a three-run homer in the second inning. Nash scattered five hits, struck out 10 and slammed a bases-empty homer, leading the A's to their second successive shutout victory over Cleveland. Nash scored Oakland's other run on a bases-loaded walk issued by loser Stan Williams in the third.

Bell struck out nine Angels and Joe Foy smacked a two-run homer as the Red Sox broke a three-game losing string. Carl Yastrzemski's single and a throwing error by right fielder Jimmie Hall netted Boston's first two runs in the third inning. Foy unloaded his fourth homer in the fourth.

Four Phants Are On All-NE List

By JIM WOODS

The coaches of the Northeastern Conference have announced their all-conference baseball for 1968 and it features everybody from freshman to seniors in the lineup. One freshman, one sophomore, five juniors and fourteen seniors comprise the squad which features four pitchers, three catchers, seven infielders and eight outfielders. In addition five players received honorable mention.

The team has balance, speed, hitting strength and defense and all schools are represented on the mythical squad. The pitching staff consists of three right-handers and one southpaw that won 21 ball games and lost a total of only six games. Mike Edwards of Kinston and Bo Robinson of Tarboro both won 8 games while Lee Galt of Rose won 5 and Bruce Maness of West Carteret won 2. The catching department has good defense and steady hitting with Russ Cayton of Rose, Richard Stille of New Bern and Scott Hardy of Washington.

Kinston has three fourths of its infield represented with Donald White, Mickey Thigpen and Worth Heath voted to the squad along with hard hitting Ken Beamon of Rose, steady Carey Forester and Cotton Nicholson of Roanoke Rapids and heady Mike Bradshaw of West Carteret.

The outfield is led by the two leading home run hitters of the loop with two, Dick Tuttle of New Bern and Steve Melkonian of Havelock. They have adequate help in Mike Aldridge of Rose, Zeno Edwards of Washington, Phil Moran of West Carteret, Gary Lewis of East boro and Tommy Parker of Kinston.

Carteret, David Check of Tar-

A coach would have quite a job picking out nine players to start from that aggregation but he would doubtlessly call it a pleasant job.

PITCHERS: Lee Galt, Rose High; Bruce Maness, West Carteret; Bo Robinson, Tarboro; Mike Edwards, Kinston.

CATCHERS: Russ Cayton, Rose; Richard Stille, New Bern; Scott Hardy, Washington.

INFELDERS: Ken Beamon, Rose; Carey Foster, Roanoke Rapids; Cotton Nicholson, Roanoke Rapids; Mike Bradshaw, West Carteret; Donald White, Kinston; Mickey Thigpen, Kinston; Worth Heath, Kinston.

OUTFIELDERS: Mike Aldridge, Rose; Zeno Edwards, Washington; Phil Moran, West Carteret; Steve Melkonian, Havelock; Gary Lewis, East Carteret; David Check, Tarboro; Tommy Parker, Kinston; Dick Tuttle, New Bern.

HONORABLE MENTION: David Hahn, Rose; Jim Bliese, Havelock; Jim Nienstedt, Havelock; Almond Stallings, Tarboro; H. P. Williams, Elizabeth City.

Trial Begins Monday For Thalidomide-Makers

By OTTO DOELLING
Associated Press Writer

AACHEN, Germany (AP) — Bettina is 7 years old and is learning to write—with her feet. She was born without arms.

At another desk at a special school in Hamburg, her classmate Martina draws a picture of trees and people who have healthy limbs. She carefully guides the pencil with one of her own deformed hands. When the recess bell rings, Martina's stunted legs prevent her from running to join the other children at play.

There are about 6,500 Bettinas and Martinas in 20 countries, from Austria to the Philippines. More than 2,000 live in West Germany.

Why they were born with malformed limbs will be the central issue of a criminal trial opening before the Aachen State Court Monday.

The prosecution contends the malformations were not accidents of nature but the result of human negligence.

Nine officials and scientists of Chemie Grunenthal, a West German pharmaceutical company, are charged with negligent manslaughter and inflicting bodily injuries in what some medical authorities have termed the "thalidomide catastrophe."

Hermann Wirtz, 71, president and chief stockholder of the family owned company, underwent surgery this month and is not expected to be tried with the other eight. The prosecutor's office said Wirtz probably would be tried separately when he recovered.

In 1957-61 the company developed and sold thalidomide, a

Became Victim Of His Thesis

NEW YORK (AP) — Melvyn Green, a Columbia University graduate student doing a thesis on narcotics, became so enmeshed with his subject that he became its "victim and not the master," a judge says.

Green, of Ottawa, Ont., was given a two-year suspended sentence Tuesday by Judge Edmund L. Palmieri in U.S. District Court after the defendant pleaded guilty of possessing 18 pounds of marijuana.

Federal narcotics agents tracked down Green after a package for him containing the marijuana broke open in a Los Angeles post office.

soothing and sleep-inducing drug. The drug was withdrawn from the market after Dr. W. L. Lenz, a pediatrician, reported a possible link between it and a wave of infants born with malformed limbs. The drug also was blamed for the deaths of some malformed infants soon after their births.

The mothers reportedly had taken thalidomide in the early stages of pregnancy.

Soon after the Lenz report, the first of what eventually added up to about 300 criminal complaints was filed by one of the parents of these children at the office of the Aachen chief prosecutor, Heinrich Gierlich.

Five years of investigation led to a 972-page indictment taken from 60,000 pages of evidence.

The trial is expected to last at least two years. It promises to be involved. Gierlich said in announcing the indictment last year: "In nature and size this case is without precedent. It is of immense consequence for all concerned."

The defendants face maximum sentences of five years imprisonment, and a decision against them would open the way for parents' civil damage claims, possibly totaling $25 million.

The 300 plaintiffs include a number from abroad. The drug is known to have been manufactured in England, Sweden, Israel, Brazil and Japan and was marketed in a number of other countries. At the peak of its popularity Gruenthal produced up to one million pills a day in West Germany.

A few malformed infants also were born in the United States where a federal drug administrator, Dr. Frances Kelsey blocked sale of the drug. The mothers there reportedly were wives of U.S. servicemen who had been stationed in West Germany or women who had received the drug from abroad.

The meeting begins with dinner at 6:30 p.m. Robertson will address the session at 7:30.

Credit Disclosure Measure Sent To President

THE BEAUTIFUL SEINE — Piles of garbage stack higher and higher on the banks of the Seine river near the Eiffel Tower, in background, as the general strike spreads throughout France. (AP Wirephoto)

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has sent President Johnson a major consumer protection bill requiring disclosure of the annual cost of interest on most loans and credit purchases.

"I am overjoyed that the truth-in-lending bill so ardently sponsored by President Johnson has passed both houses," said Betty Furness, the President's adviser on consumer affairs. "It is indeed a victory for the consumer who at last can shop as wisely for credit as for merchandise," Miss Furness added Wednesday.

The far-reaching measure, a highly controversial subject on Capitol Hill for eight years, was broadened just before enactment to include besides credit disclosure:

—The first federal limitation on the amount of a worker's wages that can be garnished—ordered withheld for payment of debt.

—The fixing for the first time of strong federal criminal penalties against organized loan sharks who extend, finance or collect payments on credit with unreasonably high interest.

The Senate and House enacted the bill Wednesday with near-unanimous support.

When the bill first was introduced in 1960 by former Sen.

Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., it encountered strong opposition from retailers and lending institutions. This continued for years.

Stores which extend credit and financial institutions which make loans will have to make two important disclosures under the bill:

—The annual interest rate figured on the declining balance of the obligation.

—The total cost of the credit in dollars and cents over its full life.

The total cost requirement will not apply, however, to first mortgages on homes.

The bill also exempts from the interest rate requirement small transactions on this formula: All purchases of $75 or less so long as the credit charge does not exceed $5, and purchases of more than $75 where the charge does not exceed $7.50.

A special provision was worked out to cover open-end or revolving credit plans.

Under it, the store would have to state its full annual rate as well as the monthly rate but also could, if it chose, list its actual return on such credit in the preceding year.

A minimum monthly charge of 50 cents a month or less would not be subject to the interest rate computation on such accounts.

Also included was a provision aimed at frauds in home improvements. A homeowner contracting for such work financed by a first or second mortgage on his property would have three days to withdraw from the agreement if he chose.

The measure would require a store advertising installment loans to give the annual interest rate, cash price, number of payments and their due dates, not just the amount down and the monthly payments.

The garnishment provision would exempt the first $48 earned weekly and 75 per cent of all take-home pay. It would bar the firing of an employee for one garnishment.

The section aimed at loan sharks states that an interest charge exceeding 45 per cent a year is a factor in establishing it is an extortionate credit transaction.

Maximum criminal penalties in this section are 20 years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

The extortionate credit provisions will become effective when the bill is signed into law, the credit disclosure section July 1, 1969, and the garnishment provision July 1, 1970.

Five-Year Prison Term For Rap Brown; Appeals

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — H. Rap Brown remained free on bond today pending appeal of his federal court conviction on a charge of violating the National Firearms Act.

Brown, 24, chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, drew the maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $2,000 fine after the federal jury returned its verdict Wednesday night.

Under terms of the $15,000 bond, Brown's travel was restricted to the Southern District of New York State.

The immediate sentencing by U.S. District Judge Lansing L. Mitchell was at the request of William M. Kunstler, of New York, chief defense attorney for the Black Power advocate. Kunstler included a plea for leniency, describing the government case as an effort to "silence" Brown, a frequent and fiery speaker at civil rights rallies.

"It is time this persecution must stop and this is persecution of the most blatant sort," cried Kunstler. "We recall that everything Adolf Hitler did was 'legal.'"

"The issue of black or white was only brought into this case by the defendant!" shouted U.S. Atty. Louis LaCour. "We deeply resent statements making such a comparison to Hitler."

Brown was convicted under a section of the act forbidding anyone under indictment on a gated sheet metal roof of a chair manufacturing plant, injuring no one.

Two sheriff's deputies watching rush-hour traffic near the crash scene said they saw the tail rotor fly off and the craft begin to spin.

felony charge to transport a gun across state lines.

The decision hinged on the issue of whether Brown knew he was under indictment in Maryland at the time he traveled from New York City to Baton Rouge, La., Aug. 16, 1967, with an M1 carbine in his luggage, then flew back to New York Aug. 18 carrying the same gun.

A Dorchester County, Md., grand jury returned the indictment Aug. 14 on charges of arson and inciting to riot, based on Brown's speech at a civil rights rally in Cambridge, Md.

Kunstler argued that Brown was not notified of the indictment, had not learned of it through newspaper stories or news broadcasts, and that therefore the gun charge was invalid.

LaCour said it was preposterous to say that neither Brown nor his lawyer, Kunstler, knew of the indictment, in view of news stories about the legal action.

Judge Mitchell had ruled, at the start of the trial, that any knowledge of the indictment was enough to sustain the gun charge. He instructed the jurors they should not convict unless they felt that the government proved Brown knew about the indictment.

Turboprop Lands On Golf Course

EFFINGHAM, Ill. (AP) — A pilot gently landed his twin-engine turboprop airplane Wednesday on the 414-yard first hole at the Park Hills golf course.

Fred W. Robinson of Long Beach, Calif., was alone in the 18-passenger aircraft he was ferrying from Toronto to Pasadena, Calif. Heavy rain, thunder and lightning forced him to make an emergency landing.

Brazil Releases Tracking Vessel

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — The Soviet satellite tracking ship Kegostrov navy released by the Brazilian navy Wednesday after being held for 18 days in the port of Santos.

The 5500-ton vessel was seized May 4 in Brazilian territorial waters by the aircraft carrier Minas Gerais and escorted to Santos, authorities said.

The release order from the Navy Ministry followed guidance from the Foreign Ministry, which last week accepted formal apologies from the Soviet Embassy.

Commercial Copter's Crash Fatal For 23

By J. RODMAN PAUL
Associated Press Writer
PARAMOUNT, Calif. (AP) — A commercial helicopter ferrying 23 persons from Disneyland broke apart and crashed in flames Wednesday halfway through its 32-mile flight to Los Angeles International Airport.

The bodies of all 23 persons were found in or near the wreckage on a dairy farm.

The cause of the crash was listed tentatively as rotor failure after witnesses reported seeing a rotor blade spin off the craft.

Witnesses said they heard a loud pop before the twin-rotor Sikorsky S61 plunged to earth. Two large sections landed a few feet apart and dozens of smaller pieces scattered over the two-block farm.

Most of the passengers' bodies were still strapped in seats. The possibility of a collision was suggested by Los Angeles Airways, owner of the helicopter service. But William Byerly of the Federal Aviation Agency said investigators had no evidence of it.

Officials worked through the night Wednesday securing the wreckage and recovering and identifying the bodies. Identifying the dead was laborious, with only sketchy information available, but it was reported the list included persons from throughout the United States.

The crash was the first fatality in the helicopter firm's 21-year history. The S61 carries a crew of three.

As the craft, which normally would have been cruising at 2,000 feet, plunged, mail bags spilled into the air, giving the impression of falling bodies.

Sacks struck roofs of houses and businesses, and sheriff's helicopters searched rooftop to rooftop.

The rotor blade which spun off crashed through the corru-

THE BIG EAR

To obtain best performance, the site selection involved factors such as steady wind velocities and moderate temperatures within a natural bowl near the equator that was away from populated areas and air lanes.

A scientist checks a sample on the catwalk and wave guide leading to centrally-suspended triangular support platform.

To assist atmospheric physicists, astronomers and other qualified scientists studying outer space, the Arecibo Ionospheric Observatory makes available its 2.5 million watt transmitter and 1,000-foot diameter reflector throughout the year.

The radar-radio telescope, whose primary function is the radar study of the earth's ionosphere, was conceived and designed by Professor William E. Gordon of the Cornell University School of Electrical Engineering.

After 3½ years of construction on 125 acres of mountainous countryside in Puerto Rico, the $9.3 million project was opened on November 1, 1963.

The largest such device in the world, it functions both through transmission of pulsed signals (radar) and listening to energy emitted by spatial radio sources (radio).

Operated by the University under a research contract with the Air Force Office of Scientific Research, the telescope is concurrently operating three subprograms dealing with outer space.

The primary program studies the ionosphere, measuring the electron density, temperature and influence on the earth's magnetic field of that region several hundred to several thousand miles high. Such studies are carried out to help scientists understand the influence of the ionosphere on earth's weather and communications.

The second program is planetary radar studies, where more precise recordings of radio echoes help determine orbits of planets and the moon. At the same time, surface contours can be measured in areas as small as 12 miles in diameter.

The third program is radio astronomy, where to date more than 3,000 radio sources have been located in space, while only 100 or so have been optically identified.

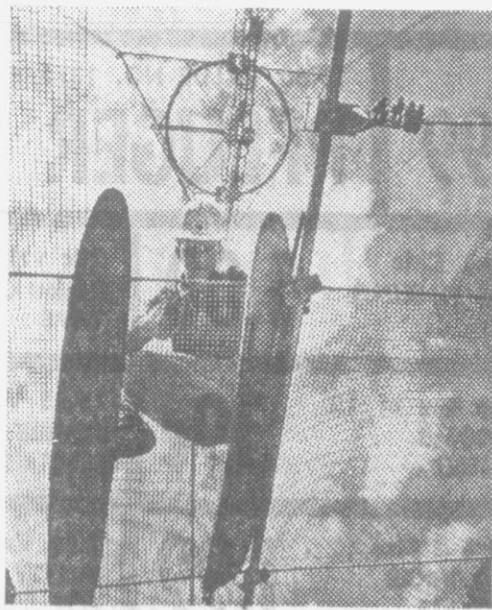

Recent discovery of spaced pulsations of regular occurrence is only one of the astronomical phenomena which the unit is capable of revealing.

Able to operate both day and night, in any weather, the telescope is capable of observing through a range of the electromagnetic spectrum far wider than the relatively narrow band of visible light to which current optical instruments are limited.

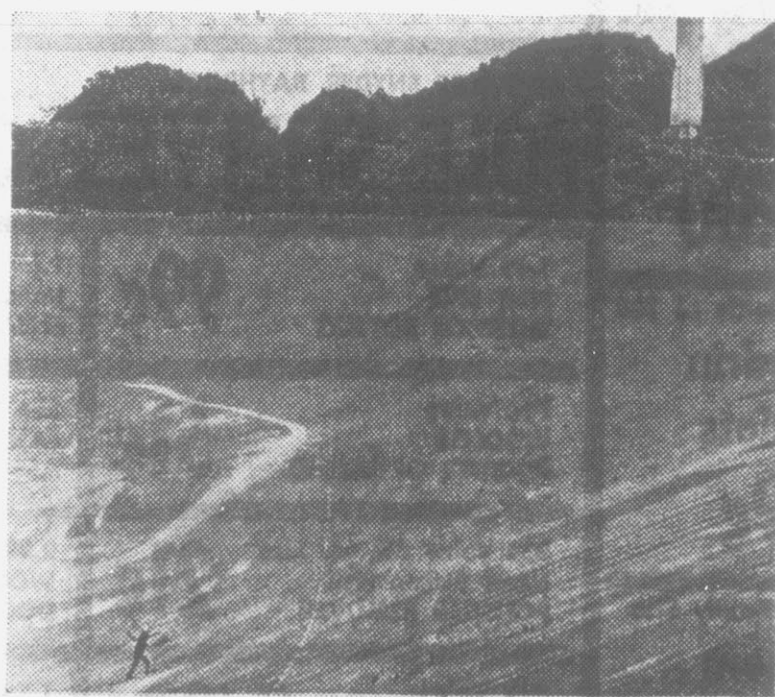

In this capacity, the "Big Ear" listens billions of light-years into space to seek what is past the known limits of the universe.

A workman stands on an anchor block unit supporting one of the three towers which suspend the triangular platform.

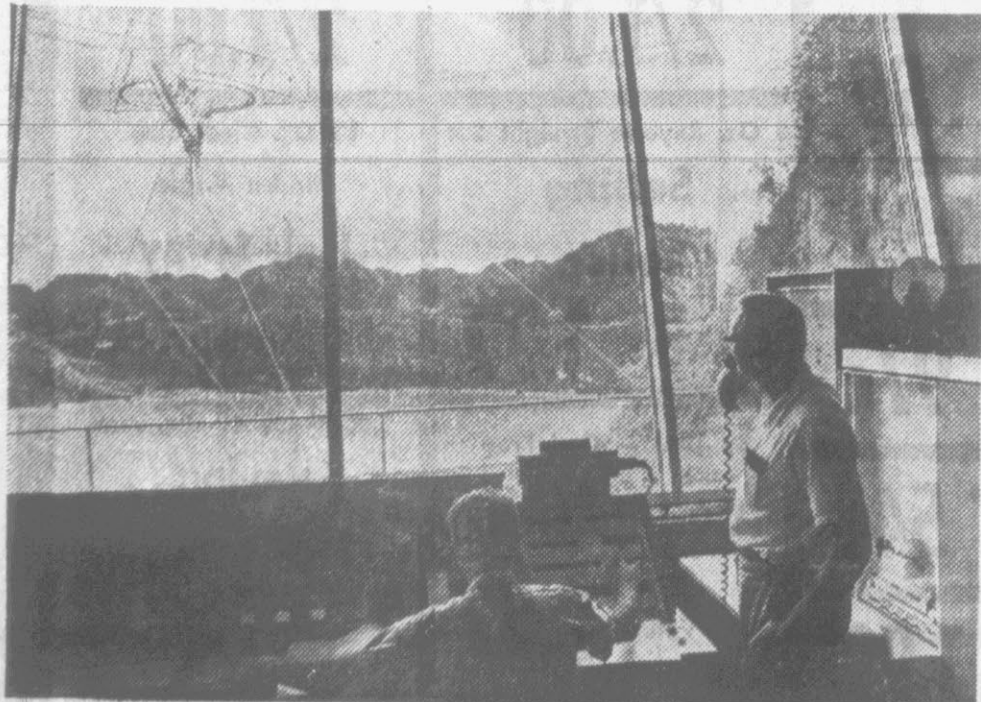

To properly maintain the curvature of the half-inch square wire mesh reflector, workmen move over its surface on water skis to distribute their weight.

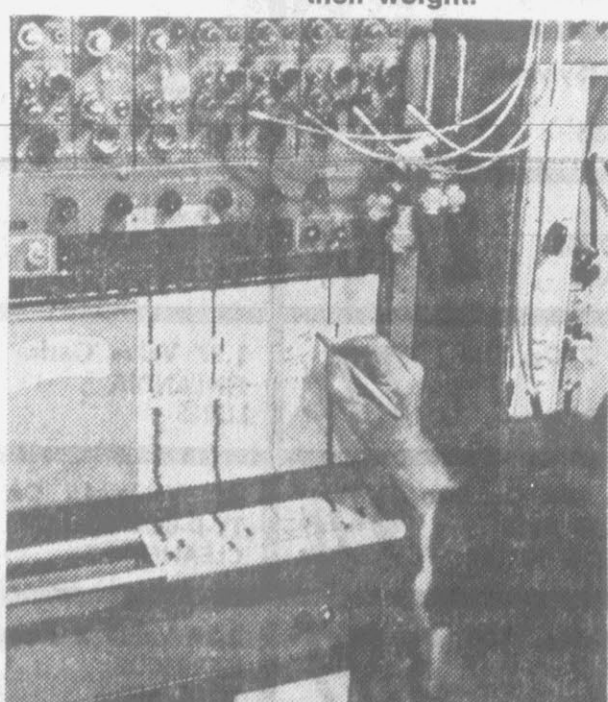

Weighing 207 tons, the 1,000-foot diameter bowl-shaped reflector is examined by a workman for damage or litter.

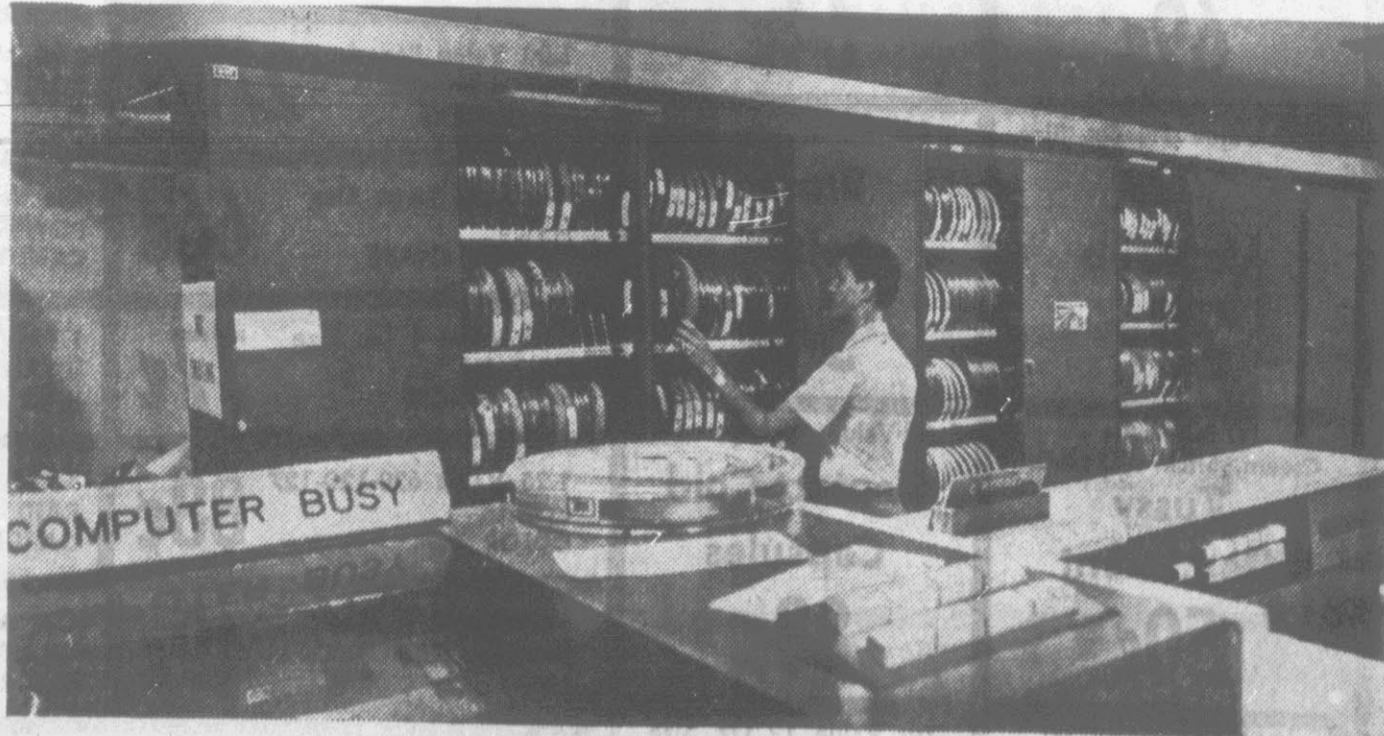

Two staff members check the linkage on the mesh-supporting cables above the reflector.

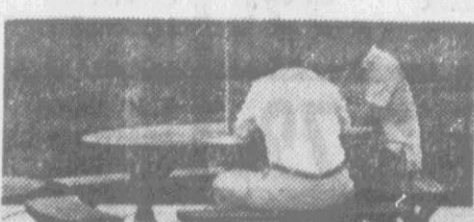

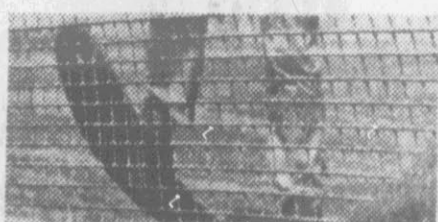

From the control room above the reflector, operators are in communication with men working in the antenna structure high above.

A staff member makes notes on computerized "listings."

McCarthy Links Demo Rivals To 'Disastrous Adventures'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy—linking both his Democratic presidential rivals to “disastrous adventures” in foreign policy—says he has freedom they don’t promise no more Vietnam-like involvements.

“Sen. (Robert F.) Kennedy,” McCarthy said in San Francisco Wednesday, “played a prominent role in formulating policies which resulted in disastrous adventures.

“If he were to proceed as he evidently has proceeded, or what he has supported, in the past, we might have further involvements like Vietnam,” McCarthy said.

The Minnesota senator accused Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey of defending every assumption which produced the Vietnam war.

“At the same time when American foreign policy grew most disastrous,” McCarthy said, “Vice President Humphrey became its most ardent apologist.”

Kennedy also has called for “no more Vietnams,” Humphrey has said that while America seeks peace, it cannot promise that Communist aggression will not be opposed.

earlier in the week, was seeking it today in West Virginia.

“The South is not frozen,” he said in Charleston, W.Va. His schedule takes him to Atlanta and Columbia, S.C., in the next two days.

Kennedy, campaigning in Oregon, challenged Humphrey to take his presidential bid to the people, through the primaries.

“I’m taking my campaign to the people,” Kennedy said, “I think that’s what a candidate should do.”

Humphrey, who joined the campaign too late to enter primaries, has been concentrating on convention delegates.

In a jet-age campaigning first, he flew 162 Delaware delegates, Democratic officials and wives to Washington Wednesday night for a “thank you” party. Humphrey has won 16 of Delaware’s 22 convention votes.

Humphrey aides said such trips likely will be repeated and one commented: “If we did this for every state in the union, it would still be cheaper than what Bobby spent in the Indiana primary.”

In another Humphrey campaign development, sources in Washington say the reason John A. Gronouski resigned as ambassador to Poland is that he plans to join Humphrey’s presidential effort.

Alex Brock Says Second Primary To Be A 'Snap'

By RICHARD DAW
Associated Press Writer

RALEIGH (AP) — Chalk up one thing for certain about North Carolina’s June 1 runoff primary: voting will be a snap.

“Instead of long lines of waiting voters like we had in the first primary, we’ll probably have some long periods of silence between votes this time,” says Alex Brock, executive secretary of the state Board of Elections.

Figures compiled in Brock’s office and the office of Secretary of State Thad Eure show few races other than strictly local ones to be voted on.

The only statewide race will be a runoff for the Republican nomination for the U. S. Senate.

Other than that, there will be

Democratic runoffs for three seats in the General Assembly — all of them in the House of Representatives — and for judgeships in two judicial districts.

Local races will make up the remainder of the ballot.

“Practically every section of the state has some local runoffs,” says Brock, “but there will be counties in which the only thing to be voted on is the Republican senatorial race.”

Brock says the voter turnout will vary widely from county to county depending on what offices are in contention on the local ballot.

The statewide turnout in the GOP senatorial race is expected to be about half the number of persons who voted in the Republican gubernatorial first primary, Brock said. That would be about 78,000.

There were so many complaints about long waits to vote in the May 4 primary that the election board named a special committee to study ways to avoid voting jams in the future.

The total turnout of about 850,000 was considerably less than had been expected.

In the GOP senate runoff Larry Zimmerman of Durham is challenging Robert V. Somers of Salisbury, who finished first in the three-man contest but did not poll the majority required for a first primary victory.

The General Assembly races are for House seats in the 8th District, composed of Pitt county, the 5th district, composed of Johnston and Wilson counties, and the 22nd District, composed of Harnett and Lee Counties.

Will Insist On Campus Peace

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Grayson Kirk, president of Columbia University, says his administration will employ “all measures necessary to restore peace” to the scarred and strife-torn campus beset by rebellious students.

Kirk said at a news conference Wednesday “that if disciplinary probation, suspension or even permanent expulsion must be dealt to any number of students, this action will be taken.”

He spoke after the second early morning campus police raid within a month had climaxed in a violent clash that left 56 persons—including 16 policemen—injured. Police said 178 persons were arraigned.

Luncheons For Businessmen

Billy Laughinghouse, president of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association, announced today that two executive luncheons for business owners in the area will be held in the Moose Lodge dining room on Monday and Tuesday at 12:10 p.m.

The luncheons are being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce in the interest of continuing personal development in the area and the speaker, Charles Kavanaugh, area manager for the Dale Carnegie Courses, will hold a 30-minute inspirational leadership clinic.

Invitations for the two luncheons have been extended to many business owners, executives and management personnel and for reservations, which are necessary, those receiving invitations will be contacted by telephone.

Synod Approves $900,000 Budget

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The Presbyterian Synod of Appalachia, composed of 246 churches in western North Carolina, east Tennessee and southwest Virginia, has approved a budget of $900,000 for the coming year.

It also named Wednesday a new director of the guidance center at King College in Bristol, Tenn.-Va., to succeed Dr. Ben F. Williams, who has resigned to join the faculty at Elon College in North Carolina. The new director will be the Rev. Andrew Spence, who is shortly to receive his doctorate degree from Southern Mississippi University in Hattiesburg.

The Worry Clinic A 'Ladder-Steadier' For Professional Men

Beth wants to be a "ladder steadier" for her doctor husband instead of a "ladder shaker." And this should be the goal of every devoted wife. But dental surgeons, physicians and clergymen all live in a figurative gold fish bowl, so they and their families have a double obligation to "front" properly before the public!

Sword Duel Ends With A 'Cur'

CHICAGO (AP) — It was the first time that Patrolmen Harold Lucas and Harold Graser ever got this call on their squad car radio:

"A duel with swords on the lakefront." As they drove to the lakefront, they searched the police rulebook for some kind of ordinance covering duels.

When the policemen arrived on the scene they saw the duelers—also two cameramen. They were making an educational film about the various styles of dueling.

APPROVE AGREEMENT

TOKYO (AP) — The upper house of the Japanese parliament today approved the agreement by the United States to return the Bonin Islands to Japan.

ing cigarettes and swilling down highballs.

For 60 percent of the American public are not addicts of those nuisance habits.

Besides, dental surgeons, physicians, and clergymen, are in a special professional class where they are expected to demonstrate adherence to scientific and moral principles.

Since it is an admitted medical fact that tobacco and liquor shorten lifespan, contribute to immorality, auto deaths and economic loss via fires, cancer and liver cirrhosis, then the laymen lose respect for a smoking or drinking doctor, as well as a clergyman.

Mothers are loathe to send a child to a doctor who thus flaunts his violation of scientific facts or who may be a little tipsy at a crucial time when his surgical fingers need to be calm.

Incidentally, you Scout Leaders and especially you Den Mothers of the Cub Scouts, are delinquent in your leadership obligations if you also flaunt the use of tobacco and alcohol before your kiddies!

"Bad children usually have bad parents," is an axiom of child psychology, which helps indict the adult generation for the zooming rise in delinquency, unwed pregnancies and vandalism nowadays.

A dental surgeon may work hard to recruit those first 50 patients but an uncooperative wife can lose them almost as fast as he wins them.

But a tactful, dedicated wife can help double his practice in those crucial first 2 or 3 years! "For every man who climbs to the top of the ladder of success," said W. B. Garrison, "there is always some woman who stands on the ground and steadies it for him!"

Wives, be a "ladder steadier" for your husband instead of a "ladder shaker!" Send for my booklet "How to Stop the Tobacco and Liquor Habits," enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Piloted A Farm Revolution And Told To Leave

By R. SATAKOPAN
Associated Press Writer

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A Jesuit priest who piloted an agricultural revolution in 700 villages near Bombay is under orders to leave India.

The Rev. Vincent Ferrer, 47, came here from Spain 12 years ago, and vowed to devote his life to the betterment of the lot of India's common man.

"One 'heart-rending incident' made him choose the spot which was to be the center of his work. At lunch in a roadside restaurant near Manmad, 15 miles northeast of Bombay, he saw a man trying to eat crumbs spilled by the priest.

He immediately set to work in nearly 700 barren villages of Manmad district.

He started a Farmers' Service Society which now has a 100-member staff.

In two years, he organized free self-help labor to dig 1,073 wells and had 782 pumps installed. The landscape changed into a green belt of fertile fields. He organized a fertilizer cooperative which distributed 4,562 tons of fertilizers. He gave 413 oxen to needy farmers. The crop yield increased tenfold.

He appealed for donations and collected $1 million in three years from institutions in Western Europe. He gave loans to farmers at very low interest, repayable in easy installments.

Many villagers worshipped him and called him a saint.

All this has been his undoing, Father Ferrer feels.

The Maharashtra government

served him with a notice to quit India by April 26. The only reason given was that he was indulging "in prejudicial activities."

Agitated villagers protested and demonstrated. Right-wing Swatantra party members took up his cause in Parliament and conferred with Prime Minister Indira Gandhi.

Father Ferrer came here to see India's top leaders and demanded an impartial inquiry. The central government had his expulsion order postponed by two months—until June 26. But his fate still hangs in the balance.

Ultrationalists objected to such activity by a foreign missionary. Father Ferrer countered this sentiment by applying for Indian citizenship in February.

Local moneylenders who had been thriving on the misery of the farmers saw business slip through their fingers, and protested against the priest, Hindu and Moslem religious enthusiasts said he was out to convert the farmers to Christianity. They even said that 3,000 had been converted during the past five years.

The soft-spoken, bearded Spaniard seems little perturbed about the agitation raging around him.

"God fulfills himself in many ways, and whatever He does is for the best," he comments.

"I came to serve India. India lives in its villages. I came here to serve, not to get angry. The world is full of misunderstandings. Was not the Lord Himself crucified on the cross?"

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA) — North Carolina egg markets steady to stronger Wednesday. Supplies adequate, demand fair. Prices paid producers and handlers for consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered nearby outlets:

Grade A large whites: 35½¢; medium, whites: 29-31¢; small, whites: 26-27¢.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA) — North Carolina hog market today was steady. Tops at 18.75-19.25 Rocky Mount, 18.25-19.00 Wilson; 18.75 Rich Square; 18.50 Salisbury, Goldsboro, Greensboro, Selma; 18.00 Siler City, Denton.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved uncertainly this afternoon as trading slackened well below the Wednesday rate of 14.2 million shares.

Caution prevailed on Wall Street as traders went through their usual preweekend evening-up process, and the news background was not very reassuring. Gains outnumbered losses by fewer than 100 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 23 at 896.56, a negligible change.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .2 at 330.5 with industrials off .8, rails up .8 and utilities up .5.

Seaboard Finance rose 1¼ to 28 on a block of 48,000 shares. AVCO reportedly was planning to make an offer for Seaboard's common stock. AVCO dropped nearly a point.

Aerquip and Libbey-Owens-Ford were each fractionally higher after a report they have agreed to merge.

Houdaille Industries, planning a 2-for-1 stock split and raised dividend, advanced about 1¼.

Glen Alden, up a fraction, was the volume leader, just ahead of Seaboard Finance. Also active, Youngstown Sheet dropped more than a point of the 4¼ it gained Wednesday.

Among other active issues, Zapata Off-Shore rose about 3¼, Pitston Co. more than 2, Hooker Chemical, Chemway, Royal Crown Cola and Amerada a point or more.

Baker Oil Tool was active and down more than a point. IBM dropped 6. All Big Three motors were fractional losers.

Prices continued to rise on the American Stock Exchange as trading slackened.

Hairpiece Only An Hour Away

NEW YORK (AP) — For the man who has spent 20 years watching his hair fall out, a toupee is but an hour away.

It used to take weeks to have a toupee made. Individual hairs had to be sewn piece by piece with a curved needle onto a lace or net foundation.

Now wig designer Richard Hartwich is using a machine which can make a toupee or woman's hairpiece while the customer is having lunch.

All Hartwich does it take the customer's measurements and match his hair. One hour later it's ready.

The machine-made hairpiece utilizes a hair root embedded in an artificial plastic scalp.

Hungry Man's Friend: Jars

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. housewives are buying some 12 billion bottles and jars of food a year, according to the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute. That averages out to 60 jars of food for every man, woman and child.

Baby food accounts for the greatest number of glass jars—about 2.2 billion annually. Virtually all baby food is sold in glass. Other products that are all or mostly packaged in glass include salad dressing, mayonnaise, instant coffee, jams and jellies, green olives and honey.

The class will present its Class Night play entitled "Senior Countdown" tonight at 8 o'clock. The members will be featured in prose, poetry and song. Awards will also be presented to a number of seniors.

The Rev. Jesse R. Robinson, project co-ordinator for Title I of the Greenville City Schools ESEA program, will deliver the Baccalaureate address Sunday at 4 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

Eighth grade graduation commencement will take place Thursday, May 30, at 10 a.m. Senior commencement exercises will be held May 30 at 8 p.m. Arthur Alford, Superintendent of Pitt County Schools, will be the commencement speaker and will also present the diplomas.

Linda Yolanda Gatlin and Ronald Larnell Pritchard, co-salutatorians, will speak during graduation commencement. Class President Pansy Irene Hensley will also deliver an address.

Betty Pearl Hardy is valedictorian of the G. R. Whitfield senior class.

G. R. Whitfield marshals are Thelma Moore, chief; Dorothy Greene, Wayne Barr and Virginia Price.

Her eyes were attracted to a blackened string of beads. They had a familiar look, and Mrs. Johnson examined them closely.

They were, she discovered, the same string of sterling beads—strung to order on a special silver chain with a specially chosen clasp—which her mother had given her.

They had been Mrs. Johnson's favorite piece of jewelry until misplaced some 31 years ago.

Mrs. Johnson paid the 25-cent asking price and took them to a jeweler for repolishing. Now they're as bright and shining as they were three decades ago.
