The Rains Stayed Away For ECU Commencement

Another Record-Breaking Class Of Graduates At ECU Yesterday

Dr. Charles F. Carroll, state schools superintendent, urged 1,615 East Carolina University graduates Sunday to put human values above "things" and to settle down to careers in North Carolina.

Dr. Carroll was the principal speaker at outdoor commencement exercises completed just in time. The program ended at 6 p.m. and shortly afterward the rains came.

Rain clouds darkened as the program neared its end, but only sparse droplets fell, keeping intact ECU President Leo W. Jenkins' annual prohecy that "It won't rain for commencement."

After Dr. Carroll's speech it took just 13 minutes for Dr. Jenkins, Vice President and Dean Robert L. Holt, Dean of Academic Affairs Robert W. Williams Jr. and other deans to present the 1,615 candidates and award the degrees. It was another record-breaking class at ECU. Last year there were just under 1,400 degrees given.

In his speech yesterday, Dr. Carroll said he prays for each graduate to "rise above the common level" and "through the ever-inquiring mind, through personal involvement, and in the development of a sensitive and discerning philosophy for personal living, to earn a degree that goes far beyond the value of the university degree."

Dr. Carroll said that settling in North Carolina should not beregarded as provincialism and he suggested "the political arena" as a place for "good people" to make a positive contribution.

ECU President Leo W. Jenkins, in brief remarks before he introduced Superintendent Carroll, praised the intent and and purpose of most ECU students.

"Despite the agitation of a few," he said, "all of us can be proud of the support a vast majority of our students has given in helping provide a climate at East Carolina which is conducive to the pursuit of an education."

After Dr. Carroll's address, President Jenkins conferred the 1,615 bachelor's and master's degrees.

Dr. Holt recognized the graduating seniors with the highest grade average among the men students and the women students.

Helen Mae Storey Cleveland of Greenville led the women and the entire Senior Class with 3.972 of a possible 4.0. James Alton Walker of Oxford had the highest men's average, 3.944.

Mrs. Cleveland, Walker and two others, Betty Louisa Brewer of Kennett Square, Pa., (3.945) and Mary Catherine Bridge of Hickory (3.919) graduated "summa cum laude" (with highest honor).

Sixteen seniors graduated 'magna cub laude: (with great honor): Frances Coker Creech, Audrey Page Edwards, Leslie Wilson Hewett Jr., Beverly Anne Kay, Robert Allen Koehler, Elizabeth Ann Lane, Betsy Crowell Barbee Little, Joan Maxine Massey, Audrey Batts McCullen, Nettie Maxine Mobley, Patricia Ann Carey Morrison, Ruth Wanzer Pittard, Sara Constance Lewis Rhem, Adrian Ray Roberts Jr., Thorton Green Stovall Jr. and Rebecca White Edwards Willlamson.

University officials pointed out that the number of high honor students was double last year's number, indicating rise in academic strength at ECU. Last year's class had two "summa" graduates and eight "magnas."

A crowd estimated at 8,000 watched the late afternoon ceremonies in Ficklen Stadium. The weather was overcast throughout the program.

The ECU Symphonic Band started the program at 4 p.m. with a concert conducted by Herbert L. Carter. After the processional, Dr. Charles Moore conducted the ECU Concert Choir in two numbers.

For the first time this year Commencement Chairman Wendell W. Smiley formed the long procesional at Minges Coliseum rather than Elmhurst School. In future years, as the Ficklen Stadium-Minges Coliseum complex develops, this year's arrangement will be repeated.

In yesterday's ceremonies, at least two of the graduates celebrated the occasion in a special way. Johnny and Myra Dupre Pinner of Greenville graduated side by side this May 26 as man and wife. They were married last May 26.

Wedding Is Interrupted By Gunshots

HOUSTON (AP)—The minister spoke softly in the candlelit church: "What God hath joined together, let no man put asunder."

Suddenly, witnesses said, a woman stood among more than 200 wedding guests and shouted, "You forgot something! They're not married."

At least three shots erupted from a .22-caliber pistol, police said. The wedding couple and 20 attendants fell to the floor near the altar.

One of the bullets struck and killed Lester Anderson, 22, best man at the wedding of his sister, Lorena Mae, 20.

"I was blocked by the best man," said the Rev. Clarence Stewart Jr., who performed the marriage Saturday night. "If he hadn't been there, I probably would have been hit."

Wedding guests at the church told officers that Edward L. Usher's former wife sat in a front pew during the ceremony.

Final Agreement Up To Workers

Reach Costly Accord To End French Strikes

By STEPHENS BROENING

PARIS (AP) — French union officials, management and the government reached agreement on wage issues today to end the nation's 11-day strike, but the immediate response from French workers was "non."

Meetings at big factories in Paris, Lyon, Marseilles and Nantes rejected the settlement and for the first time since the strike began Paris was hit by scattered electricity cuts.

Employes of the state-run gas and electricity company were angry because a meeting on their grievances had been put off.

The agreement worked out with the labor leaders included:

1. An increase in the minimum hourly wages from 2.2 francs to 3 francs an hour, or from 44 to 60 cents. This will affect 450,000 workers.

2. An across the board wage hike for industrial workers of 7 per cent on June 1 and another 3 per cent on Oct. 1. The unions reportedly asked for 21 per cent.

3. Reduction of the work week from 46-47 hours to 40 without loss in pay. A compromise was reached on the timetable.

4. Management agreed to examine the union demand for lowering of the retirement age from 65 to 60 for men and 55 for women.

5. The unions also apparently won their demands for greater freedom for union activities in the shops.

6. Workers will be advanced 50 per cent of the wages lost during the strike but it must be repaid by the end of the year. The unions had demanded tha the strikers be paid for the time lost.

7. Pompidou agreed that the National Assembly would reopen the question of social security benefits lowered in 1967. He said the government could not repeal the law since this was a power of the legislature.

8. The union demand for a tight cost of living clause was postponed until next March.

If the settlement is ratified by the workers, its cost may force De Gaulle to curtail or even abandon such expensive items as his nuclear strike force and large-scale aid to developing countries. He may also have to dig deep into France's hoard of gold which he has been using to put pressure on the dollar and the British pound.

Although the labor front was looking up, Pompidou was plagued with the possibility o more trouble on the second front of France's crisis, the student rebellion.

The National Students' Union called a 24-hour demonstration to begin today against alleged police provocations which claimed were responsible for the bloody rioting in Paris Thursday and Friday nights.

The Interior Ministry gave the students permission for a street march followed by a meeting at a stadium. Leaders of the students' union pledged that the demonstration would be nonviolent, but radical groups who have been talking revolution refused to join in the pledge.

The premier's tactic has been to give priority to the workers' demands since the general strike is having the more serious effect on the nation's economy and its life.

Uphold Burning Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today a 1965 federal law that made it a crime to burn or otherwise destroy draft cards.

The 7-1 decision was given by Chief Justice Earl Warren. Justice William O. Douglas dissented. Justice Thurgood Marshall took no part in the case.

"A law prohibiting destruction of Selective Service certificates no more abridges free speech on its face than a motor vehicle law prohibiting the destruction of drivers' licenses, or a tax law prohibiting the destruction of books and records." Warren wrote.

The 1965 law, an amendment to federal draft law, had been declared unconstitutional by the U. S. Circuit Court in Boston. That court held that draft card burnings is a form of protest protected by the First Amendment's free speech guarantees.

The Supreme Court, through Warren, upset this holding and bottomed its position on "the constitutional power of Congress to raise and support armies and to make all laws necessary and proper to that end."

Douglas, in dissent, said it is "undoubtedly true" that Congress has broad and sweeping powers over Selective Service when a state of war has been declared.

However, he went on, there is a question whether even the drafting of men is permissible without a declaration of war.

N. Vietnamese Pay Price For 'Talk & Fight'

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — Enemy troops intensified the Vietnam war with thrusts near Saigon, in the central highlands and on the northern frostier over the weekend, but the cost was more than 900 of his soldiers killed, allied forces reported today.

In keeping with Hanoi's proclaimed "fight and talk" policy, the Communist command's push came as North Vietnamese and American negotiators prepared for their fifth meeting today in the Paris cease-fire talks.

American casualties were reported as 54 killed and 192 wounded in the series of battles. South Vietnamese losses were termed light.

Sharp fighting cnntinued on three sides of Saigon today. The Viet Cong was believed moving 500 to 1,000 troops toward the capital.

The heaviest fighting over the weekend came in the northern sector, where North Vietnamese troops renewed their pressure on the U.S. Marine headquarters at Dong Ha, and in the central highlands, where a massive campaign may be shaping up.

U.S. spokesman said superior allied firepower led to enemy defeats in most of the clashes, but American troops appeared to have been set back in at least two places.

About 800 North Vietnamese overran a section of the perimeter and four bunkers at a U.S. 4th Infantry Division patrol and artillery base 11 miles west of Dak To in the central highlands. In more than seven hours of fighting, 14 U.S. infantrymen were killed and 56 wounded. U.S. fighter-bombers joined the battle and the enemy retreated in thick fog.

About 400 Viet Cong troops attacknig with grenades, mortars and small arms killed five infantrymen of a U.S. 25th Division unit in night defensive positions on the northwestern outskirts of Saigon, six miles from the center of the city. The enemy withdrew early oday.

As in the first two weeks of May, heavy fighting raged again around Dong Ha, headquarters of the U.S. 3rd Marine Division, 11 miles below the demilitarized zone.

Hanoi Continues Propaganda Path

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam charged today that the Paris peace talks had so far failed to achieve any results because the United States has refused to take up "the main aim of these conversations," the end of the bombing of North Vietnam.

The United States accused North Vietnam of giving out distorted figures on American and allied losses in the war.

"We hope that you are not deceiving yourselves," U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman told Ambassador Xuan Thuy.

Today's session, the fifth in two weeks o meetings, lasted for 4 hours and 10 minutes. The next meeting was set for Friday.

U.S. deputy chief negotiator Cyrus R. Vance arranged to leave for Washington to report to President Johnson.

Thuy made a 5400-word statement and concluded with this question:

"When does the United States cease unconditionally their bombardments and all other acts of war on the entire territory on the Democratic Republic of Vietnam in order to permit discussions to go on to other problems of interest to the two sides?"

Harriman replied that the United States rejects "the suggestion now being urged by you that the only reason for our meetings is to give the hour and date of the cessation of bombing."

If that was the only purpose of the Paris conversions, Harriman said, they would not be necessary. The fact is, Harriman argued, that Hanoi made clear in its messages arranging fo the meeting that it was "prepared to enter into discussions which could lead up to a cessation of the bombing."

Harrisman added:

"We are ready to discuss cessation of the bombing, but we have pointed out that it is necessary to discuss at the same time related matters on the basis of the President's speech."

This evidently was a reference to Johnson's speech March 31 ending part of the bombing of the north and calling for reciprocal action by North Vietnam. Johnson said if North Vietnam would act all the attacks and bombing could be halted.

Vance's report presumably will provide a basis for a top level review of U.S. strategy in the search for peace, but American officials here expect the main line of developments to continue unchanged.

Court Overturns Freedom Of Choice For 3 Systems

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upset today the "freedom of choice" attendance plans of three southern school systems.

A unanimous decision said "If there are reasonably available other ways, such for illustration as zoning, promising speedier and more effective conversion to a unitary, non-racial school system, 'freedom of choice' must be held unacceptable."

The decision further charged lower federal courts with retaining jurisdiction in school segregation cases "so that the goal of a desegregated, non-racially operated school system is rapidly and finally achieved."

The ruling disapproved the plans of New Kent County, Va., Jackson, Tenn., and Gould, Ark., school districts. Justice William J. Brennan Jr. spoke for the court.

Recalling that it has been more than a decade since the Supreme Court declared racial segregation in public schools unconstitutional, Brennan said that in areas where there is segregation "the burden on a school board today is to come forward with a plan that promises realistically to work and promises realistically to work now."

He added: "There is no universal answer to complex problems of desegregation; there is obviously no one plan that will do the job in every case. The matter must be assessed in the light of the circumstances present and the options available in each instance."

Where federal district courts find school boards acting in good faith and determine that a proposed plan has real prospects for dismantling segregated school systems "ut the earliest practicable date," then the plan may be said to be acceptagle, Brennan continued.

Moreover, he said for the court "We do not hold that 'freedom of choice' can have no place in such a plan. We do not hold that a 'freedom of choice' plan might of itself be unconstitutional, although that argument has been urged upon us.

"Rather, all we decide today is that in desegregating a dual system a plan utilizing 'freedom of choice' is not an end in itself."

Freedom of choice permits children or their payments to decide which school they wish to attend.

Gossipy Pest Is Unwise Choice

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have preschool children and a large home to care for, but I schedule my time so that everything gets done. When the children nap, I read, write letters, and relax alone, which I enjoy.

At that precise time, invariably a certain neighbor barges in on me with her children. She helps herself to refreshments, then settles down for an endless outpouring of gossip, unasked-for advice and a monologue of opinions on various subjects. She is a terrible bore.

I would pretend not be home, but she can see my car in the garage. At first, I found her entertaining, but now she comes so often, I've taken a dislike to her. Please tell me what to do, but don't use my name or location. She has a vicious tongue and would make a better friend than an enemy.

TRAPPED

DEAR TRAPPED: People who open their doors to bores and tolerate their company day after day have only themselves to blame. By your failure to discourage her, you've encouraged her. If you had to decide between having this rude, vicious, gossipy pest for a friend or an enemy, I think you made an unwise choice.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR ABBY: What do you do about people who just walk into your house because the door isn't locked? Many times I will tell my grocer to set my groceries inside my door instead of on the back porch, and I leave the door unlocked for him.

Well, this neighbor lady tried my back door, and, finding it unlocked, she walked right in. She yoo-hooed and nobody answered because my husband was in the shower. He thought he heard someone come in, and, thinking it was me, he walked out. She said he heard the shower running, and, thinking it was me, she walked in. They met in the hall.

Now my husband can't face her and wants to move. We have lived in this house for 36 years and I think he's silly. What do you suggest?

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: A towel and another "yoo-hoo" at the right place and the right time would have saved the day. Stay where you are; and tell your blushing hubby he's not as fascinating as he may think.

DEAR ABBY: This may sound like a silly problem to you but it is serious to me. My bones crack. Honestly, when I'm sitting in one place for a while and then start walking, my knee cracks. It doesn't hurt, but it is very embarrassing.

When I eat, sometimes my jaw snaps. If you are laughing at me, I can't blame you, Abby, but I sure wish you would tell me if there is anything I can do about my problem.

"CRACKY"

DEAR CRACKY: Grin and bear it. The "problem" is grossly exaggerated only because it's your own. How much attention would you give to the "cracking" of someone else's knee? Or the snapping of his jaw? Not much, I'll bet.

Miss Chauncey Is AAUW Speaker

Miss Beatrice Chauncey, assistant professor at the East Carolina University, spoke at the monthly meeting of the American Association of University Women.

"Contemporary Music" was Miss Chauncey's topic. With the new rhythems evident in modern music, it is natural for listeners to want a "blueprint for listening," Miss Chauncey said, "but this is impossible to give. You can only be told what to avoid in music."

Listeners depend on repetition of sounds to aid them in appreciating music. They have only memory to guide them. Thus, a responsibility for providing repetition rests with the musician. Often, however, the modern does not do this and the result seems like aimless meandering to this listener, she added.

Miss Chauncey explained the switch in modern music from the traditional system used by Mozart to the atonol or 12 tone system, which has no key center. This change had also made listening more difficult for those accustomed to major and minor chords and traditional patterns.

Much outstanding modern music is being produced today as background music for movies and television. Miss Chauncey mentioned the 'Ulysses" background as espesially outstanding.

Couple Says Vows In Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Donna Kay Roberson and Daniel Armstrong Johnston Jr. were united in marriage at the Hooker Memorial Christian Church in a candlelight ceremoney on Sunday at 8:00 p.m.

The Rev. Robert G. Hufford officiated at the double ring ceremony. A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Ruth Taylor, organist, and Mrs. James W. Lee, soloist, who sang "The Song of Ruth," "The Wedding Prayer," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Irving Allice Roberson and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Armstrong Johnston Sr., all of Greenville.

In the background of the church, three, nine, and fifteen branched candelabra were flanked with tall standards of emerald breenery. Preceding to the altar were two spiral candelabra interspered with white mums.

The isle of the church was flanked with tall single candleholders with burning chance candles, white satin bows, and bridal greenery. At the altar was a prie dieu where the bride and bridegroom took their vows and knelt for the "Lord's Prayer" and benediction.

Family pews were marked with white satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown which was a gossamer-rayon and silk - organza tent, embrodered with pearls and chantilly lace, with a draping train floating over a A - line slip of silk clord peau de soie.

Her cathedral length veil of tiered imported silk illusion was attached to a cap of silk rose petals, edged with pearls surrounding a dozen crystal sprays. She carried a formal cascade bouquet of miniature white carnations and a white cattelya orchid accented with English ivy, tied with white velvet.

Miss Christie Suzanne Roberson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a formal A-line gown of Venitian rose crepe, which was accented around the empire waist and down the train by appliques of alencon lace. She carried a full cascade of ruffled miniature light-pink carnations, tied with pink velvet, with long streamers.

Honrary bridesmaids were Miss Linda Lewis Johnston, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Landon Scott Temple Jr., Miss Martha Olivia Bland, Miss Annie Forrest Cobb, Miss Janis Jorgensen, Miss Shelia Maureen Wood, all of Greenville, Miss Ruth Willard Johnson of Raleigh, Miss Eleanor Marie Boudrow of Jacksonville Miss Connie Howard of Hickory and Mrs. Frank Rockwell Lowe of Washington, D. C.

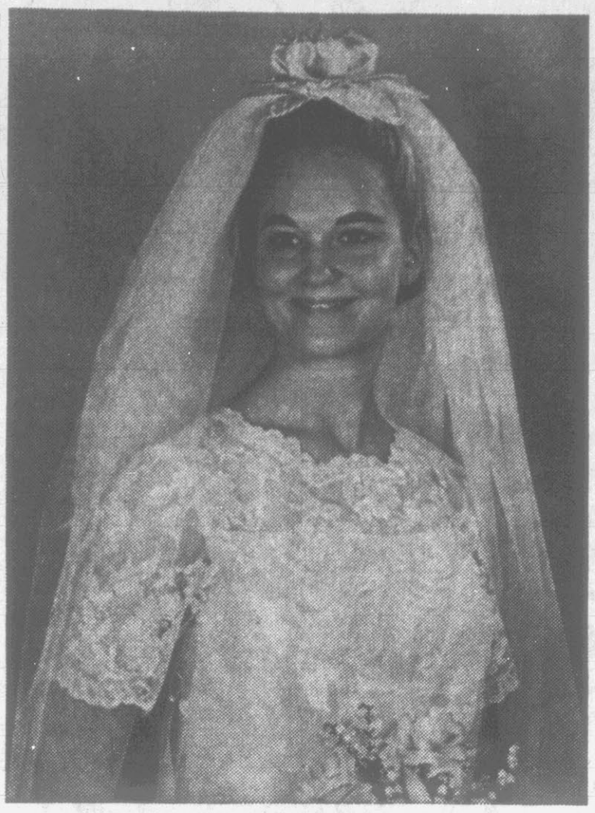
The bridesmaids wore formal gowns of rainbow colors and white illusion veils styled after the veil of the bride. They carried nylon tulle nosegays of white daisies, tied with narrow white velvet with long streamers.

The bridegroom's father served as best man. Ushers were Dale Russel Gidley, John Melson Pinnner, both of Greenville, William Kent Feddeman of Washington, D. C., Dale Witcar of High Point, Lawrence D. Holt of Raleigh, Ferdinand Badger Johnson III of Laurinburg, Landon Scott Temple Jr. of Emporia, Va., and John Sheppard of Statesville.

Mrs. Roberson, mother of the bride, selected a floor - length light pink chiffon coat, loosely styled over a straight - fitted sheath of chiffon - covered peau. She wore a light pink cymbidium orchid corsage.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a formal avacado green sheath of taffeta with a semi-fitting overdress of matching lace. She wore a beige cymbidium orchid corsage.

For a wedding trip, the bride changed into a sun - orange raw silk dress with a matching minicape. She wore the orchid corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.



MRS. DANIEL ARMSTRONG JOHNSTON JR.

After June 2, the couple will be at home at Green Springs Apt., Greenville.

The bride graduated from East Carolina University, where she was a member of Alpha Delta Pi, Psi Chi, and Chi Beta Phi. She is currently employed as a psychological assistant at the Coastal Plains Mental Health Center, Greenville.

The bridegroom is a rising senior at East Carolina Universitz where he is a member of Theta Chi fraterity. He is in the Naval Aviation Reserve Officers Candidate Program, to receive his commission as Ensign upon graduation in 1969.

After-Rehearsal Party

The bridal couple and wedding party were honored at an after - rehearsal party on Saturday night at the home of Mrs. Anne Stinson Fries. Assisting Mrs. Fries were Mrs. Dorothy Willard Johnson and Mrs. Kemp Baldwin.

The living and dining rooms were decorated with summer flowers, carrying a theme of yellow and green.

The table was covered with a yellow organdy cloth of appliqued linen. The three - tiered centerpiece and the four-tiered cake were in harmony with the bridal theme.

Mrs. Fries presided at the punch bowl. The bride and bridegroom cut the traditional first slice of cake.

The Johnston - Roberson wedding party and their immediate families were entertained at a dinner at the Candlewick Inn Saturday evening at 6 o'clock. Hosts and hostess for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Armstrong Johnston Sr. and friends of the bridegroom.

COLORFUL THOUGHTS

It's a fine idea to think colorful thoughts but it's even wiser to put them to use in your home. Color ideas are truly daring to say the least. They have gone to the floors as well as every nook and corner. You can add a luxurious look and add spice to your room with attractive fabric. borders. Make use of them with window treatment in an otherwise drab area. Then follow the same color touch into the room itself.

It's Good Business For Greenville

East Carolina University's Summer Theatre, although only four years old, has already become a great asset to Greenville.

Its patrons come from many miles away regularly during the summer, attracted by the high quality of the productions. Thus it makes good sense for local people to support this effort by purchasing season tickets now.

Supporting the Summer Theatre in this way is just good business for Greenville because the unique endeavor has focused attention here. The ECU Summer Theatre has attacted attention, not only in North Carolina but also in other states.

However, local citizens who purchase season tickets will not just be making a donation in support of a worthy local cause. They will receive full value for their money. The productions in past years have been praised by newspaper critics as being of high caliber. It is a certainty that this year's productions will be of equally high quality.

We urge local citizens to support the ECU Summer Theatre by purchasing season tickets. The enterprise is most worthwhile and it is available to us right here at home.

'Abby' Has Watchers In Eastern Carolina

It may interest seasoned hurricane watchers in this area to know that the first hurricane will be named "Abby."

"Abby" is not even with us yet but the Weather Bureau expects her after June 1. Next will come Brenda and Candy . . . then Dolly, Edna, Frances, Gladys and Hannah.

Eastern North Carolina has been spared disastrous hurricanes in recent years but most observers still remember the 1950s when several of the mighty storms came crashing inland.

Consequently we in this area observe closely as the hurricanes make up and head up the coast. Here's hoping that our area will not be faced with a hurricane this year. One thing is certain, however. When Abby makes her appearance, she will get considerable attention from Eastern Carolinians.

Broughton Can Wait 4 Years

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau

RALEIGH — Reports that J. Melville Broughton Jr. is being urged to look ahead to 1972 and run again as a candidate for governor are both true and well founded.

In effect, Broughton is being urged to adopt the same strategy of Lt. Gov. Robert W. (Bob) Scott who waited four years before making his recently successful bid for the Democratic nomination. This, simply, is to make yourself and your political ambition known, organize, and wait for the right election.

WILLIAM SHIRES

Scott did this. Broughton was a newcomer onto the political scene this Spring. Scott had made himself and his aspirations known. Broughton had political background and a core of political support but lacked the preparation. This is now possible, and Broughton's backers are saying the time to start is now.

Await A Decision

There is plenty of time to make a final decision. And many political factors during the next few years must enter into making such a decision.

Broughton is in no hurry. He wants to see what happens next November. But he is being pushed and urged to keep his eye on the gubernatorial chair and is being promised even more support than he received this past Spring when he ran second to Scott in the primary.

In bowing out of 1968's campaigns and announcing he would not call for a run - off against Scott, Broughton said he would not say it would be his "last press conference."

Obviously Broughton and his supporters held to the hope of further and future political aspirations.

Is Retiring

Mrs. Elizabeth J. Hughes has been the official secretary, seal keeper and custodian of records of the State Highway Commission for 12 long, eventful years, and will retire at the end of this month.

In carrying out her duties, she has transcribed minutes of each meeting of the Highway Commission and put them into an official record book. Her signature is affixed to all official agreements, contracts and other documents of the Highway Commission.

Ivey's Book

In Chapel Hill, the director of the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill News Bureau, Pete Ivey, has written and published a new biography of former Gov. Luther Hartwell Hodges.

The book is recommended. It contains many previously unreported and unpublished bits of Hodges' early life experiences which led to his election as lieutenant governor in 1952. A couple of years later, Gov. William B. Umstead died and Hodges became governor of North Carolina for the next eight years.

The title is Luther H. Hodges, Practical Idealist.

Former House Speaker H.P. (Pat) Taylor Jr. carried 98 of the state's 100 counties in his bid for nomination for lieutenant governor.

His only losses were Brunswick and Durham counties. Brunswick is the home county of his lady opponent, Margaret Harper of Southport, and she carried Brunswick, 3,787 to 1,013 for Taylor. Durham County also went for Mrs. Harper, 11,210 to 10,809, and this is something of a political mystery.

Overall, Taylor polled 418,035 votes to 148,613 for Mrs. Harper and 52,686 for Frank Matlock. This placed Taylor third in total votes in the Democratic primary.

First was Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. who polled 499,392. Second was Appeals Court chief justice Raymond Mallard who received 424,837. State Treasurer Edwin Gill was fourth with 405,650.

Started Late In Oregon Race

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

PORTLAND, Oregon—Whether Sen. Robert F. Kennedy scores a less than smashing victory as expected or is upset and thereby eliminated from the Presidential race, Tuesday's Oregon primary must be regarded as a major miscalculation by the Kennedy camp.

While the men and money of the Kennedy apparatus concentrated on a futile effort in Indiana and the finale in California June 4, Oregon was ignored. Too late, Kennedy men now worry that by treating Oregon as a stepchild they have risked a fatal defeat. For this is the first and only primary where Sen. Eugene McCarthy has any chance to upset Kennedy.

Actually, some of the pessimism pouring out of the Benson Hotel penthouse suite of Steve Smith, Kennedy's brother-in-law and national campaign manager, is intentional poor - mouthing to make a victory seem larger than it is. In a full day of polling last Tuesday in the Portland area using a voter sample and questionnaire prepared by the Oliver Quayle organization, we found Kennedy well ahead of McCarthy (though well under 50 percent of the vote).

More important, however, we found Kennedy's support softer and less dependable than McCarthy's and the opposition to him more intense. If Kennedy's soft support doesn't actually vote, the outcome will be close.

On its face, oregon is not Kennedy country. Voting blocs that are Bobby's bulwark elsewhere — Negro, Mexican, Irish, Southern and Eastern European —are absent in this white Anglo - Saxon Protestant enclave. Some 16 percent of the state's Democratic voters are over age 65, no area of strength for the candidate of youth.

Nebraska posed a similar problem for Kennedy, and a veteran Kennedy operative—Patrick Lucey of Wisconsin —came to Omaha to build an organization five weeks before the May 14 primary. But lulled by early favorable polls, Kennedy planners took no such precautions in Oregon—relying wholly on Rep. Edith Green, the powerful Congresswoman from Portland.

Though a prodigious vote-getter and a tough policitical infighter, Mrs. Green did nothing about building an organization. Kennedy's personal agent here, New York lawyer William van den Heuvel, arrived May 1 and immediately reported back that Oregon could be lost.

Nevertheless, reinforcements did not arrive until the week of May 20, Smith, Lucey, Lawrence F. O'Brien. By then, it was too late to do the things left undone. An effective telephone campaign, for example, cannot be put together by election day.

In contrast, McCarthy's organization here —run by a New York author and political amateur named Arthur Herzog — is obviously more efficient than McCarthy's overall effort. A big crowd greeting McCarthy at the huge Lloyd shopping center here last Monday was the product of efficient organization and was vastly more enthusiastic than Kennedy's Portland audiences three days earlier.

Still, Kennedy is the front runner. Our Portland house-to-house survey of 61 Democratic voters, conducted with Mrs. Gladys Wallace, Oregon supervisor for the pollster Quayle, showed these results: Kennedy, 22; McCarthy, 16; President Johnson (still on the ballot) 5; Vice President Humphrey (write -in), 3; Nelson Rockefeller (write-in), 2; George Wallace (write-in), 1; undecided, 10.

That amounts to 36 percent for Kennedy (or 43 percent if given a share of the undecided)—adequate but not exciting. However, we found many Kennedy voters to be young housewives vaguely for Kennedy, mainly out of respect for his martyred brother. The McCarthy partisans, dedicated to McCarthy and usually fiercely anti - Kennedy, are more certain to vote.

Our survey indicated that the eleventh - hour telephone campaign by organized labor urging votes for President Johnson as a "stand-in" for Humphrey has struck few sparks. Some Johnson -Humphrey strength will be siphoned off into a spontaneous but not impressive write - in vote for Humphrey.

ART BUCHWALD

Just An Old Movie Fan

WASHINGTON— Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York met the other morning with Gov. Ronald Reagan in a New Orleans hotel suite and started political tongues wagging all over the United States. According to reports, Reagan managers were furious that their man had been booked in the same hotel as Rockefeller and were dead set against the meeting, as it would look like a deal had been made between Gov. Reagan and Gov. Rockefeller.

But Rockefeller, who is desperate to stop Richard Nixon, figures the only way he can do it is by hooking up with Reagan and was determined to see the California governor in New Orleans at any cost.

ART BUCHWALD

The scene is the sixth floor of the Roosevelt Hotel in New Orleans. Gov. Rockefeller tiptoes down the hall and stops in front of Gov. Reagan's suite.

He knocks. No answer. He knocks again. Still no answer.

"Ronnie, it's Nelson. Ronnie, I know you're in there. I just want to speak to you for a minute. Aw, come on, Ronnie, no one will know we met."

The door opens slightly. Reagan peeks out. "Go away. I don't want to be your Vice President."

"I didn't come to talk to you about that, Ronnie. I just wanted to chat with you about our mutual Medicaid problems. Please let me in.

That Electoral College

(The Wilson Times)

In every general election year the Electoral College causes its share of discussion. And there are those who would like to do away with the Electoral College or alter it as the method of choosing the nation's president.

This year there is unusual interest in the Electoral College method of choosing the president of the United States. The reason is the candidacy of George Wallace. Although he is not the threat he was before his wife, Governor Lurleen Wallace died, he is still a contestant and his name may appear on the ticket in enough states to throw the election in the House of Representatives.

Now this is not likely, but for the moment let's speculate in that direction and see what would happen. First the Constitution says that when no candidate receives a majority—270 of the electoral votes — the House of Representatives must choose the president from the three top candidates. And each state's delegation has but one vote. Senators vote as individuals for one of the top two vice-presidential candidates.

The objection, or one of them, to the Electoral College is that the winner is the one with the majority of the electoral votes and often the majority is small or it may not represent the majority of the vote of the people. The reforms suggested include abolishing the Electoral College and electing the president and vice - president by direct vote, as are the other elective officials. The other proposal is to keep the Electoral College and make its votes proportional to the popular vote in each state.

As of now there are to be no changes and the election will be decided on the present system of who receives the majority of the electoral votes and it must be 270. Now if George Wallace prevents either the Democratic or Republican candidate from receiving the majority. The election goes to the House of Representatives where each state will have one vote. And this is an interesting situation to think about.

The Congress is concerned for it is admitted the Wallace candidacy could throw the outcome in the November election into the House. And the voters are being told by the Democrats and Republicans that their vote for the congressmen this year could determine who will be in the White House next year.

This is the reason there is the interest in surveying the congressmen to find how they feel on who will best serve the nation. And on the Democratic side as of now Hubert H. Humphrey has the odds, with Senator Robert F. Kennedy a poor second.

On the Republican side the picture is not so established. The Republicans are playing a wait and see game. And they have never been so conscious of the situation, or worked so hard, because the stakes are high.

It is interesting, and the interest will increase, that is if Wallace does prove to be the threat he is being pictured.

French Titan At Bay

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

PARIS (UPI)—The titans of Europe are gone now, all but one, and he is at bay. The very glory he sought may be his undoing.

At whatever cost, Charles Andre Joseph Marie de Gaulle sought glory for France. He never complained when likened to Joan of Arc.

"All my life I have thought of France in a certain way," he wrote in his autobiography with the typically De Gaulle title, "Call to Honor."

"This is inspired by sentiment as much as reason. The emotional side of me tends to imagine France, like the princess in the fairy tales or the Madonna in the frescoes, as dedicated to an exalted and exceptional destiny."

He went on, "but the positive side of my mind also assures me that France was not really herself unless she is in the front rank. In short, to my mind, France cannot be France without greatness."

This was written in the eclipse of his powers, in the mid-1950s while he sat in his country home at the village of Colombey les Deux Eglises and pondered France, fate and destiny.

Almost 10 years to the day of his return to power, when he took over as premier June 1, 1958, to save France and restore her greatness, De Gaulle is hounded by his words and deeds.

In as simple terms as possible the trigger for the rioting and strikes that have torn the fabric he so carefully sewed was the resentment of millions of Frenchmen who believe that De Gaulle sacrificed their living standards to a policy of grandeur abroad.

A man cannot eat glory. Now De Gaulle, 77 years old, as proud and aloof as ever, agrees there must be change. But it must be under his guidance as always—or else he will resign and go back to his wooded village home in Lorraine.

Twice before he has used this gambit to have his way. But the magic has dimmed. Age took Stalin and Churchill. Roosevelt has dimmed in history. Age has blurred the image of De Gaulle.

But to himself, as he once wrote, "I did not question that France would have to go through gigantic trials." The alternative presented to the French for their referendum next month was De Gaulle or what?

"If I go, who is there to take my place? he asked in 1961 when revolution in Algeria threateed France. The question is as valid today.

Opinions In Brief

" . . . the Civil Service Commission has been alternately praised and damned. The best that can be said of it is that it has taken partisan politics out of hiring federal employees." — Lovington (N. M.) Leader.

"There is one thing in this country that hasn't changed, for which we can be truly thankful, and that is an elector can go to a voting booth and mark his ballot without anyone having to know for whom he voted."—Port Gibson (Mis.) Reveille.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

PROBLEM OF LEISURE

Do we need more leisure? Some of us can remember the twelve - hour work day and the fearful protest that went up from certain manufacturers who claimed that their products required a twelve-hour day and could not possibily be produced on the basis of an eight - hour day.

The five - day week is pretty well established. Also, the eight-hour day. Now there is talk of a four - day week and a six - hour day. Also there is an attempt to put all holidays (except religious holidays) on Monday so that a long weekend can be observed in connection with all of them.

The old days of unrelenting toil from daylight until dark were monstrous. The average working man in the United States fifty to a hundred years ago was an industrial slave. But we wonder if we are not going too far in the direction of leisure. Longer weekends will of course increase the number of automobile fatalities and, as matters stand now, they amount to over a hundred and fifty a day. Unless there is a great improvement in production technique the decrease of working hours any further may raise the cost of living perceptibly. Then we would be in a bind whereby we would have plenty of time to enjoy ourselves but not enough money to pay for the "enjoyment."

The problem requires balance, with a humane spirit dictating reasonable working hours and a sensible spirit reminding us that more leisure may not be as good for us as we assume it would be.

The Shopping-Center Picketing

By ELMER ROESSNER

The Supreme Court, America's Pandora, may have released a new strain of headaches in the shopping-center picketing case. It ruled that states could not prohibit peaceful picketing in shopping centers even though they were privately owned.

The First Amendment, the court ruled, which guarantees free speech, bars states from applying trespass laws to prohibit peaceful picketing in a street or other location "generally open to the public."

It would seem that state courts, projecting this decision, could apply its reasoning to picketing to shops and stands in bus, plane and rail stations, to office buildings and even to department stores. All of those places are "generally open to the public." In fact, most of them do quite a bit of ballyhooing, like shopping centers, to get the public in.

Logical Future Steps

If the state courts do not so interpret the decision in that manner, it seems likely that some future ruling, using the same reasoning, could permit picketing in other public places, even in the men's room of Grand Central Station.

ELMER ROESSNER

The case arose when a union picketed the Logan Valley Mall, a shopping center near Altoona, Pa. Weis Markets, the target of the Amalgamated Food Employees Union, and the mall operators obtained an injunction, which was upheld by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court's majority decision said that streets and walks of shopping centers are the functional equivalents of other thorofares, and since there are 10,000 shopping centers in the United States and Canada, if unions were denied the right to picket, there would be "substantial consequences for the workers."

Using a condition in Canda as a basis for American law was unusual.

In his dissent, Justice Black declared: "Whether this Court likes it or not, the Constitution recognizes the concept of private ownership of property."

Other Look-Aheads

More and more sales taxes will be levied and more existing ones will be increased. Rising prices and rising pay scales are forcing states and cities to force more revenues out of their citizens. The rich prefer sales taxes because, unlike many other levies, the poor pay a proportionate share. In addition, it will be argued that they check inflation since they reduce spending.

The shortage of skilled workers will worsen. All over the country employment agencies have more job openings than applicants. The Super Market Institute and National Cash Register Co. has launched a program to train checkers for supermarkets. They report that 150,000 recruits are needed every year.

BETHEL UNION SENIORS . . . These seniors at Bethel Union School are scheduled to receive their diplomas May 31. Market In Nairobi Surprises Visitors

By C. C. MINICLIER

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—A visit to Nairobi's "supermarket" would surprise American housewives who think of Africa in terms of noisy animals, strange languages and dark jungles.

Gourmets priding themselves on exotic dishes from distant lands at high prices would find Nairobi's supermarket has plenty of variety, and often at lower prices than in America.

More than two dozen countries from around the world are represented in the imported foods.

The diet-conscious can find five flavors of Metrecal, and custard mixes not only from Kenya but also from Montrose, Scotland, and White Plains, N. Y. There are cleaners from Cheshire, Scotland, Cincinnati, Ohio, and the Elephant Soap Factory Ltd., Nairobi.

Pushing a cart along the well lighted aisles, one is likely to pass a Norwegian, a U. S. Peace Corps worker, a diplomat from Communist China; road builders from Italy; and housewives from more than two dozen countries.

African women in colorful printed dresses, often with a baby on their backs in a sling, and Asian women in flowing saris mingle with expatriates in walking shorts.

The selective shopper, with plenty of time, can save money.

The East African shilling is worth roughly 14 U. S. cents. A 20 ounce can of grapefruit sections from Tel Aviv goes for 3.5 shillings. The same sized tin of the sane item—from Machakos, Kenya—sells for 2.60.

The American housewife finds meat, fruit, and vegetables cheaper than back home but the food bill is about the same due to efforts to maintain the family's normal diet. Rice, noodles and macaroni are more expensive, but potatoes are less than 6 U. S. cents a pound.

Rings Lost In Snow Recovered

SEATTLE (AP) — Last January, Mrs. Albert James dropped her wedding and engagement rings in the snow when removing a ski glove at Snoqualmie Pass. Forest Ranger Ken White told her he would chart the s and look for the rings when the snow melted.

Mrs. James had them back Saturday. White's son, Greg, 6, found them.

all out, says, "What were those reporters doing out there?"

"I have no idea," Rockefeller says. "I thought they were with your party."

"There's nobody from the Albany Times Union in my party."

"Well, it certainly was a surprise to me when I saw them all standing there, Ronnie. I was hoping to just sneak up here and say hello. You can imagine my surprise when I heard you were in the same hotel as I was."

"I'll bet," Reagan says. "Look, Rocky, I'm an avowed nonavowed presidential candidate and it doesn't look good for me to be meeting with you. Some people might get suspicious and think we were trying to make a deal."

"How could they possibly think that?" Rockefeller says. "After all what could I possibly offer you that you don't have already?" Silence.

"I'm asking you a direct question, Ronnie."

"At this stage, I'm not prepared to answer," Reagan says. "Gee whiz, Rocky, I was doing fine until you came up here. I'm the only one who is calling for locking all the students up, I don't velieve we should promise the minorities anything we can't deliver on, and if the North Vietnamese don't want to talk peace, then we should invade immediately and kick the devil out of them."

"That's exactly what I was thinking, Ronnie. Ideologically there's no gulf between us."

"You're just saying that because I've got the South wrapped up."

"Ronnie, how can you say such a thing? Happy and I are your biggest fans. We have seen 'King's Row' six times on television. We still run 'Knute Rockne' after dinner every night. But I guess 'Brother Rat' is our favorite. I'm not here to make a deal with you."

"Then why did you come?"

"You won't believe this Ronnie, but Happy asked me to come up here and get your autograph."

Clothing Gifts Sold On The Black Market

By JOHN LENGEL
Associated Press Writer

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — Some clothing donated by Americans to the Catholic Relief Services for use by the Vietnamese is being sold in the Da Nang black market.

Men and women rummage through the shirts, slacks and occasional sweaters spread over tables in the black market stalls. The customers pick out the clothes they want, haggle amiably over the price with several women clerks and close the deal.

Three shipping bags were seen this weekend in the stalls. They were marked "From Catholic Relief Services, U.S. C.C., U.S.A., donated by Catholics of America. Not to be sold or exchanged."

Three black marketeers said the clothes were obtainable for 5,000 piasters, or about $42, per 220-pound bag marked "Catholic Relief Services."

At least 200 such bags have been bought in the last 10 days sale in the Da Nang black market, these sources said.

The average profit on each bag is about 1,000 piasters, or $8.40, they added.

The regional director for the private agency in the five northern provinces, Matt D'Arcy, was not available for immediate comment.

Father Nguyen Khac Tuan, executive director for the service in Da Nang, said he did not know of the black market activity and if it did exist he had no idea how it came about.

The Catholic Relief services in Vietnam deal on a large scale, assisting upward of 100,000 refugees and needy in the five northern provinces with gifts of clothing and food. One source said the service has provided victims of the Tet offensive last February in Hue with 2,000 100-kilo bags of clothing. A kilogram is 2.2 pounds.

Texas farmers irrigate more than 7 million acres o cropland, about a third of the state's total.

Sees Desire For A Better Life

NORTHFIELD, Minn. (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren says current divisions in the United States are "outcroppings of the desire of the vast majority of our people for a better life for every American."

"There is a certain cynicism abroad today to the effect that our society has stagnated," Warren said. "I challenge that concept and assert that our country is a young country and has all the attributes of greatness."

Warren received an honorary doctor of humane letters degree Sunday at St. Olaf College.

Two Boys Warn Church On Fire

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Two unidentified youngsters may have saved a Charlotte landmark from destruction by fire Sunday night.

A fire of undetermined origin did several thousand dollars damage to the choir room and a storage area at the rear of Sugar Creek Presbyterian Church at North Tryon Street and Sugar Creek Road. The church is the oldest in Mecklenburg County.

The Rev. Horace Hilton Jr. said he was at home, after having left the church ten minutes earlier, when two young boys knocked on his door and said. "Sir, your church is on fire."

Inside the 109-year-old building the flames had begun to eat downward through the ceiling and had blistered the paint on a door leading into the sancutary before firemen arrived.

Smoke flilitered into the sanctuary and stray droplets of water stained the walls inside the sancutary, but otherwise there was no damage other than in the storage area.

Reduce Risk Of Ship Collisions

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Coast Guard has outlined three sets of divided sea lanes to reduce the chance of ship collisions on the approaches to San Francisco Bay.

Similar to ones already established for New York and Delaware Bay, the San Francisco system will be put into operation in June. Much like a divided highway for road traffic, these sea lanes aret wo one-way lanes separated by a "buffer zone."

The Worry Clinic

Youngsters Do Enjoy Whetting Their Wits

Matthew's case shows that youngsters relish contests, even of an educational nature, if they are presented in a dramatic fanner. Parents need to stimulate their children's minds in this fashion for kiddies will whet their wits thereby and actually increase in I. Q. So send for the booklet below, since it can zoom a child's school grades.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE F-579: Matthew, aged 8, is our daughter Judy's eldest.

Judy and her husband had taken a 2-weeks' trip to Europe to attend a sales convention, combined with a little sight-seeing.

So Mrs. Crane was baby-sitter.

The first week I was gone on a speaking tour, but I joined Mrs. Crane the second week.

Since I was behind in writing this column, as well as my "Test Your Horse Sense" quiz column, I had to pound the typewriter steadily.

But when Matthew, accompanied by 7-year old Peter and 6-year-old Debby, got home from school, they wanted me to play with them.

"Grandpa," Matthew began, "how about a game of dominoes?"

"Fine, but I can't stop my typing for another hour,' I objected.

"Then we'll try your 'Horse Sense' tests," Matthew volunteered.

So he started kibitzing over my shoulder, slowly reading my 4-answer quiz items aloud and thus distracting me.

"You go hang up your coats and give me 5 minutes," I suggested. "Then I'll have a special 'Horse Sense' test for each of you."

So they trotted out of the room. Quickly I inserted a fresh page, plus enough extra carbons to give each of them this test:

INSERT INSERT INSERT IN

Then I handed each child a page, plus a pencil, telling them they were to take the number in front of each nickname creature, and insert it on the blank space in front of the appropriate sound made by that animal or fowl.

"Grandpa, I don't know what Reynard is," protested Peter.

"Well, look it up in the dictionary," I suggested.

"Peter doesn't know how to us the dictionary," Matthew intervened.

So I showed him how to find the names.

Debby asked her grandma to help her but the two boys worked by themselves, often consulting the dictionary.

And within 20 minutes, they had perfect scores.

So they asked for more tests, which I had to take time to prepare for them.

Matthew also wanted to take my regular newspaper "Horse Sense" quiz, probably because it makes him feel more grown-up to be solving adult problems.

But he also relishes being able to take a chance and sometimes get the right answer just by luck, as in such examples as:

(1) An offside occurs in which athletic event: — Baseball; — Football; — Golf; — Boxing.

At the dinner table, too, the children enjoy quiz games, and this is something all parents need to encourage, for it whets a youngster's wits to compete in educational contests. Even their I. Q. rises, too, by actual measurement!

So send for my booklet "How to Raise Your Child's School Marks," esclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Tigers Wounded In Oakland Piay

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The next time the Detroit Tiger s visit the American League's newest city they're liable to show up in armor-plated flannels.

In splitting a pair of weekend decisions with the brash, young Athletics in Oakland, the Tigers:

—Had three starters, including Al Kaline, knocked out of commsision.

—Had another regular banished following a Sunday free-for-all.

—And had their league lead cut to one game by Baltimore's streaking Orioles.

Pinch hitter Rene Lachemann added insult to injury in Sunday's brawl-marred series finale, stroking a run-scoring single in the 10th inning to give the A's a 7-6 victory.

Elsewhere, the Orioles outscored Washington 8-7 for their fifth straight victory, Minnesota nipped Boston 5-4, Cleveland beat California 5-2 and the New York Yankees otok a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox 5-1 and 7-6.

In the National League, Los Angeles trimmed Houston 5-0, the Chicago Cubs downed San Francisco 4-2, Philadelphia trounced St. Louis 9-3, Altanta edged the New York Mets 2-1 in a six-inning, rain-curtailed game and Cincinnati played Pittsburgh to an 8-8 standoff halted by rain after seven innings.

The Tigers and A's battled to a 2-2 rain-abbreviated tie in Friday night's ser es opener. The Tigers won 2-1 Saturday night, but lost Kaline for two to three weeks when the injury-plagued outfielder was struck by a Lew Krausse pitch and suffered a hairline fracture of his right forearm.

In the same game, Detroit second baseman Dick McAuliffe tossed his bat in disgust while running out a pop fly, tripped over the bat and severely bruised his thigh. He sat out Sunday's game, and slugging outfielder Willie Horton joined him on the sidelines in the fourth inning after injuring his leg while running out a bunt single.

Depleted by the injuries, the Tigers fell behind 6-0, the scored twice in the fifth and struck for four runs in the sixth to knot it at 6-6.

After Dick Tracewski drove in the tying run with a sacrifice fly, Oakland reliever Jack Aker hit Jim Northrup on the back of the batting helmet with a pitch.

Northrup charged the mound and flattened Aker with a flurry of punches as both benches emptied. Horton emerged from the Tigers' dugout in his stocking feet, ready to do battle. Krausse raced from the Oakland bench to the middle of the scuffle.

A's pitcher John "Blue Moon" Odom, although not in the game, also raced from the dugout and mixed it up with the Tigers' injured McAuliffe.

When order was restored, Northrup, Krausse and Odom were ejected from the game and Aker was helped to the A's dressing room, his face bruised and scratched, most of his uniform torn off.

Umpire Ed Runge said that Odom was thrown out because "he kicked McAuliffe in the ribs."

Northrup was sent to a nearby hospital as a precautionary measure, then released to join the departing Tigers.

A woman fan was less fortunate. During the right, one of the Detroit players threw a ball into the stands. It struck her above the right eye, opening a three-inch gash, and doctors said she may have suffered a concussion.

Four innings after the brawl was over, Jim Pagliaroni poked a leadoff double and Lachemann, batting .154 with just one RBI in 15 previous games, sent everybody home with a run-scoring single to left.

The Orioles capitalized on the wildness of Washington pitchers Frank Bertaina and Bob Humphreys to score four runs without a hit in the first two innings.

Dave Johnson singled in the fifth for the first Baltimore hit and Andy Etchebarren cracked a two-run homer, giving the Orioles a 6-2 lead. The Senators mounted a late inning comeback that included Frank Howard's 19th homer but fell one run short.

Ninth inning homers by Harmon Killebrew and Ted Uhlaender powered the Twins past Boston after Ken Harrelson's three-run blast helped the Red Sox to a 4-0 first inning lead.

Max Alvis drove in three runs with a homer and single and Larry Brown lashed a two-run triple as the Indians topped California behind Luis Tiant's four-hitter.

Mel Stottlemyre scattered four hits in the first game and Joe Pepitone hammered a pair of homers in the second as the Yankees completed a sweep of their four-game set with the White Sox.

Tom Tresh and Bobby Cox homered for the Yanks in the first game and they struck for six runs in the first inn gnoif the nightcap, then weathered a three-run homer by Tom McCraw and a three-run Chicago rally in the ninth.

Baker Out Front–Wins As World 600 Cut Short

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Big Buddy Baker sat in a rain shower for three hours and one minute Sunday, drove a stock car at moderate speeds for another three hours and four minutes, and walked away $27,450 richer.

Baker's Dodge was in first place when the $152,000 World 600 stock car race at the Charlotte Motor Spteadway was stopped by rain after 382.5 miles.

The 6-foot-4, 225-pound Baker had won only one race before Sunday—the National 500, on the same track last year. That race was also the last one over 250 miles to be won by a Chrysler product.

"We had made up our minds, the crew and I, that we'd win this one at 600 miles or 300," the 27-year-old Baker said.

The 44-car starting field took the green flag under threatening skies, and ran for only 108 laps before the rains came. Engines stopped and drivers tensely waited for two hours and three minutes while giant helicopters swooped low over the 1½-mile tri-oval track in an attempt t dry it with the wind from their rotors.

The race began again, but lasted for only 16 laps before the skies opened once more. After another holdup of 58 minutes the drivers returned to the track under a caution flag and completed another 131 laps before the race was called at 7 p.m. EDT.

Donnie Allison, who won the pole position with a record-breaking qualifying run of 159.222 miles per hour, chased Baker the entire race, but was thwarted time after time b caution flags. The yellow flag was waved for 114 of the race's 255 laps, lowering the final average speed to 104.207 m.p.h.

Allison, driving a Ford Torino, finished second, one-half lap behind Baker. Lee Roy Yarbrough, in a Mercury, was third, followed by David Pearson in a Ford and Bobby Isaac in a Dodge.

Asked what he was thinking as the final laps dragged out under a caution flag, Baker said:

I was afraid they'd restart it in the rain ... That would have been dangerous. Donnie (Allison) is the type driver who makes you run, and I'm the type who will run."

Rounding out the top ten finishers were Charlie Glotzbach in a Dodge, sixth, followed by Tiny Lund in a Mercury, James Hylton in a Dodge, Curtis Turner in a Plymouth, and Sam McQuagg, also in a Dodge.

Miller Chosen Athlete Of Year

ler of North Carolina, an All-American forward on the Tar Heel's nationally ranked basketball team, has been named the Outstanding Athlete of the Year in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

He will receive the annual Anthony J. McKevlin award from the Atlantic Coast Sports Writers Association.

Miller, 6-4, 210-pound senior from Catasauqua, Pa., was named by 53 of the 103 voters in the annual poll.

Jim Donnan, N.C. State quarterback and the No. 1 player on the Wolfpack tennis team, was runnerup with 17 votes.

Miller averaged 22.4 points and 8.1 rebounds as North Carolina compiled a 28-4 record and went to the championship game in the NCAA playoffs, losing to UCLA.

He was voted the outstanding player in the Far West Classic at Portland, Ore., and for the secod time was chosen for the Everett Case Award as the outstanding player in the ACC's championship tournament.

The ACSWA voted him the Flucie Stewart Award as the conference's basketball Player of the Year for the second straight season.

Miller averaged 20.9 points for the Tar Heels as a sophomore, and 21.9 in his junior year. His ability to come through with the big play when it was needed figured prominently in the Tar Heels' high national ranking of the past two seasons.

Ump Prevailed Grounds Are Fit

ATLANTA (AP) — Johnny Murphy, general manager of the New York Mets, said the playing conditions were "the worst I've ever seen."

Mets Manager Gil Hodges called it a "disgrace to baseball."

But umpire Shag Crawford, among those who had the final say, put it this way: "He (Murphy) is not in this uniform. I have to use my own judgment in this situation. We are told to make every effort."

The controversy, involving rain-soaked Atlanta Stadium erupted Sunday after the Atlanta Braves took a 2-1 rain-abbreviated victory over the Mets.

Murphy, who obviously was irritated over the decision to start the contest, said the game "never should have gone past the first batter.

"The Atlanta management had every right to turn the game over to the umpires," Murphy declared. "They (the umpires should have called it. They used bad judgment ... really bad judgment."

Crawford, defending the decision to start the game, said the "mound was the only question mark and we told the Mets pitcher (Tom Seaver to let us know if he wanted it worked on. He said it was okay, but we put sand on it twice when he came out to pitch."

Thinks Drysdale Loading The Ball

HOUSTON (AP) — Grady Hatton, manager of the Houston Astros, says he thinks Los Angeles pitcher Don Drysdale is loading up the ball.

"He's using something," Hatton said Sunday after Drysdale twirled his fourth consecutive shutout of the season, a 5-0 triumph over the Astros.

At the start of the second inning Sunday, plate umpire Al Barlick inspected Drysdale's hands and hat.

"He just walked out," said Drysdale, "and said, 'let me see your hat, your hand.' No, I didn't let it bother me. If you're innocent, you have nothing to worry about, right?"

"I don't know what it is, whether it is olive oil, Vaseline or what," said the Astros' skipper. "But whatever it is, I think Drysdale keeps it inside his glove."

The 31-year-old Drysdale, who tied a record of four shutouts in a row held by five modern era National League pitchers, has tossed shutouts for all five of his 1968 victories.

"He turns his back, goes inside his glove and puts it on his fingers," said Hatton, "but what's the difference? If he can get away with it, more power to him."

Decide Plans Today For National Loop

CHICAGO (AP) — Eenie, meenie, minie, mo which way will the National League go?

National League baseball owners meet today to decide which two of five cities, if any, they will take in for the 1969 season.

The owners voted on expanding to 12 teams earlier this year if they could unanimously agree on the two new members. The it wasn't considered much at the time but recently has gained momentum.

The cities in the hamper are San Diego, Dallas-Fort Worth, Buffalo, Milwaukee and Montreal.

Bob Carpenter, owner of the Philadelphia Phillies, is said to oppose expansion of any kind at the time. That alone could kill the move to match the rival American League.

The American League has expanded to 12 teams, with Kansas City and Seattle joining the circuit next season, and is currently considering a divisional split with a playoff to determine the championship.

Moreover, the American League will hold a meeting Tuesday, at which time it is expected the league will announce its divisional alignment.

However, before the American League meeting Tuesday, the two leagues will get together for what has been called "an informal, joint discussion."

Apex Of Award Madness Reached; Questions Left

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The apex of the award madness was reached on May 19, 1968, when the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences gave out 62 Emmies in 51 categories.

These were chosen from 250 nominees, and did not include other awards given off-camera for local station and international achievements.

To the television viewers who watched the awards orgy and others throughout the spring, it must appear evident that the whole business has gotten out of hand.

The Emmies came last and bear the brunt of the criticism. That television itself should present such an inept show was scandal enough. But the awards structure, which has undergone many an overhaul in 20 years, obviously needs to go back to the drawing board.

What kind of writing achievement is a show like "Laugh-In" with 10 gag men; should Lucille Ball continue to receive awards for doing her thing year after year, [illegible] though she is? Is the public really concerned with the achievement of the cameraman of "It Takes a Thief" and the editor of the Bell Telephone Hour?

These are questions that the television academy could well ponder.

The Motion Picture Academy could stand some introspection, too. Happily, the Oscar categories have been pared down almost to minimum with elimination this year of the black-and-white vs. color distinction. But even with fewer awards, the telecast grows longer. This year it took 2½ hours to hand out 2[illegible] Oscars and 3 honorary awards.

The Tony Awards also succumbed to the false theory that length contributes prestige. To insure a starry cast, the planners dreamed up awards to such luminaries as Audrey Hepburn, Marlene Dietrich and Maurice Chevalier for their stage achievements. The transparency of this ruse is apparent when you consider that Miss Hepburn has not appeared in the Broadway theater for many years and Miss Dietrich and Chevalier have been represented only by their one-woman and one-man shows.

One of the awards shows—the Golden Globes—apparently will not be with us next year. The Federal Communications Commission recently criticized the foreign correspondents' mode of selecting winners and NBC has since dropped the show.

Perhaps the most sensible of the awards shows is the recording academy's. The Grammies are handed out at a dinner for the trade, at a later date, many of the winning numbers are presented on a television special.

Bridegroom And 2 Friends Shot

NORWALK, Calif. (AP) — Blazing guns at a wedding reception sent the bridegroom and two friends to hospitals when six young men attempted to crash the reception, sheriff's officers said.

Michael Pena, 17, the groom, and Roy Villalva, also 17, were reported in satisfactory condition at Norwalk Community Hospital after the Sunday morning incident. Danny Browning was treated for an ankle wound at Woodruff Community Hospital and released.

Officers said the shots were fired from a .22-caliber rifle by Valentine Marquez, 18, of Norwalk. He and five others were booked on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder.

Feeding Cattle Is Mechanized

YORK, S.C. (AP) — In this push-button age even the feeding of cows has become a task performed by machines—at least on the feeding lot of W. H. and Henderson Borders, whose farm is southeast of here.

Each day at dawn one of the brothers goes to the ultra-modern feeding lot and pushes some buttons. While he returns to the house for breakfast, a series of augers which have thus been set in motion blend high-moisture corn, feed concentrates, minerals and silage and deliver the mixture to the cattle in long troughs.

Collided With A Parked Car

Police said an estimated $470 property damage resulted from a 9:10 p.m. mishap Sunday on Dickinson Avenue, 75 feet west of the Manhattan Avenue intersection.

Investigators reported a car driven by Calvin Glisson, 32, of 606 Norris St. collided with a car parked on Dickinson Ave. which police reported was in a no parking zone.

Police charged Glisson with operating under the influence and charged John C. Swindell of 1409 Ward St. with having no lights on his parked car.

Damage to the Glisson vehicle was set at $200 while damage to the Swindell auto was set at $250. Officers said an estimated $20 damage was done to a guy wire to a utility pole.

"I took part in the Pentagon march," said the 19-year-old daughter of the candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination. "But I left when it began to tend toward violence. I don't approve of violence.

"Besides, I think the time for antiwar demonstrations is past. The purpose of demonstrations is to make a point of view known. I think the point has been made."

Tobacco Tips

By S. J. WEEKS
Pitt County Tobacco Agent

Each year tobacco farmers face serious damage from hail, especially during the summer months. Quite often tobacco plants damaged by hail may look beyond recovery, but it is surprising what a sensible salvage program can do. There have been cases where tobacco that was waist high when damaged by hail yielded 60 to 70 percent of a normal crop, even when all of the stalks in the field were down, and after being declared a total loss.

The extent of recovery will depend upon the state of damage, size of plant when injured, severity of damage, the weather and growing conditions following the damage, and last but by no means least, the growers willingness and desire to grow a crop. Sufficient rainfall is high important.

In a recovery program, there are four main steps: (1) Clear out ruined leaves and broken-off parts of the plants, (2) Cut stalks off at 6-8 inches from the ground, (3) Allow only one sucker to develop on each plant, and (4) Control weeds and grass with two light cultivations. If these steps are followed, sucker growth tobacco of good cigarette quality can be produced. Go through the fields about seven to ten days after the stalk the strongest and best looking suckers on each plant.

The percentage of the crop that can be saved from a cut-off crop varies with the length of time the tobacco has been planted. The recovery program is most effective if hail damage comes within six weeks of the time plants are set in the field. If hail comes after six weeks, the plants have less time to recover and ripen, but the grower may be able to pay for production costs by salvaging as late as six to eight weeks after planting.

If hail damage is only 40 to 50 percent, it is probably best not to cut the stalks at all. Broken leaves should be picked off and debris cleared away. Let the tobacco come into full flower and top very high.

These steps of a recovery program are fairly simple, and may enable the grower to realize substantial profits which would otherwise be lost. With the heaviest hail months just ahead, the gower could well benefit by keeping these recommendations in reserve against total loss.

Valentine Expecting 'Favorite-Son' Vote

RALEIGH (AP)—North Carolina Democratic Chairman Tim Valentine Jr. says he is confident the state Democratic convention June 6 will endorse Gov. Dan Moore as a favorite son candidate for President.

"I don't anticipate any surprises at the state convention," Valentine said following the county Democratic conventions Saturday.

The Nash County Democratic convention, with Valentine in attendance, adopted a resolution Saturday endorsing Moore as a favorite son candidate.

Valentine said harmony was the general keynote at the conventions, which named county chairmen and picked telegates to the state convention.

Orange County supporters of Minnesota Sen. Eugene McCarthy seated a new chairman and elected mose than half of the county's 27 delegates. Roger B. Fooshee of Chapel Hill was chosen chairman during a five-hour battle with old line party leaders.

The Orange convention adopted several resolutions, one of which calls for an open housing law in North Carolina.

Meanwhile, Guilford County Democrats adopted a resolution urging the state convention to send an unpledged slate of delegates to the national convention. The resolution was a victory for supporters of McCarthy.

D. A. Williams, Negro professor at Fayetteville State College, was elected vice chairman of the Cumberland County Democratic executive committee.

Lt. Gov. Bob Scott told the New Hanover County convention the Republican Party in North Carolina is running its campaign "on the name of one man and one man only, their candidate for governor." He was referring to Congressman Jim Gardner.

Scott, the Democratic nominee for governor, said, "Government in North Carolina is not run by one man."

He told the audience, "Republicans have no depth to their ticket" and "everybody is trying to ride in on" Gardner.

At Lexington, Smith Bagley, 5th District congressional candidate, proposed the creation of a statewide institute of crime in North Carolina to "seek new and imaginative ways to deal with insurrection and individual crimes of violence."

In a speech to the Davidson County convention, Bagley advocated strict enforcement of existing laws and improvement of local law enforcement agencies.

Unfriendly To 'Demonstrators'

LONDON (AP) — Twenty students peeled off their blue jeans and miniskirts Sunday in an attempt to bring frinedship to a British laundromat, but police were unfriendly to the demonstrators.

The students stripped to their underwear and put their clothes in the washing machines. Girls wrapped themselves in towels and football sweaters.

"Launderettes are such dreary places," explained the leader of the wash-in, Nick Flowerdew, as he shivered in his bright red drawers. "Everyone just watches his washing going round and never speaks to anyone else. They should be friendly."

Six policemen broke up the demonstration.

Spent 100 Hours In Space Cabin

VERNAL, Utah (AP) — Three young science students stepped into the fresh night air Sunday after spending 100 hours sealed inside a stuffy space capsule mockup with only dehydrated food to eat.

The boys, all seventh graders aged 14, said their knees were wobbly from being confined so long. A physician pronounced them in good health after more than four days tucked in the capsule.

The endurance experiment was begun by a special science class. Students Terry Johnson, Bert Merkeley and Michael Herrington entered the aluminum capsule at 4 p.m. Wednesday following school. They got out at 8 p.m. Sunday.

Destructive Bean Pest

Pitt County soybean growers are being plagued by the Mexican Bean Beetle. This destructive pest causes the bean leaves to have a skeletonized or lace-like appearance.

The adult beetles are brownish and have 16 black spots arranged in rows across their backs. They are one - fourth to one - third inch in length. The beetles lay clusters of 25 or more lemon yellow eggs on the underside of leaves. These eggs hatch into larvae which are yellow and have six rows of black tipped branched spines. Both adults and larvae feed on the leaves.

Control of the pest may be achieved by spraying with Malathion (Emulsifiable Concentrate) at 1½ lbs-acres active material, or Carbaryl (Sevin) (Wettable Powder) at 1 lb -acre active material. A directed spray at the underside of the leaves will give best results.

If these serious pests are left uncontrolled, they can easily destroy a whole crop of soybeans.

The County Agricultural Extension Agents will be glad to assist you in identifying these insects. Call 758-1196, or come by the County Agents Office at 203 W. Third Street (Tucker Building) in Greenville.

Canny Systems In Saving Tomatoes

DAVIS, Calif. (UPI)—A greater percentage of tomatoes can be saved for canning if modifications are made in present central sorting systems, according to a University of California agricultural engineer.

The engineer, Michael O'Brien, said 20 per cent of the tomatoes brought to a central sorting station already are damaged and central sorting can double that percentage.

"We tested three different methods for filling bins," O'Brien said. "When tomatoes were conveyed into bins under water, we damaged three per cent. Six per cent were damaged when we conveyed them into dry bins. We obviously need changes in central sorting systems."

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AQJ94 ♡K ◇K962 ♣K32
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♡	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
4 ♡	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Our recommended call is a bid of four no trump. If our partner shows up with three aces, it is our intention to contract for a grand slam. If he has only two, naturally, we shall have to be content with a little slam and, if he has only one, we shall feel constrained to send him to the local teacher for a refresher course.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AK984 ♡AKQ95 ◇A ♣852
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
1 ♠	Pass	2 ◇	?

What do you bid?

A.—Something is rotten in whatever state you happen to be reading this. There is scarcely enough outstanding strength to piece together an opening bid, but to combine that with a jump shift suggests a mere fantasy. Surely you will not wish to retire from the contest at less than the level of five in one or the other of your major suits and, in order to be sure that the bidding does not suddenly subside, a game forcing cue bid of three diamonds is recommended.

Q. 3—East-West vulnerable. As South you hold:
♠QJ92 ♡A5 ◇763 ♣QJ64
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	Pass	1 ◇

What do you bid now?

A.—Double. Your hand has a reasonable expectancy of developing four tricks in the play and if partner can do as well you should score a 500 point profit, which is more than you can do by going game, assuming that your side can do so, which is by no means established.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠A72 ♡K765 ◇62 ♣K965
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
1 ◇	Pass	Pass	?

What do you bid?

A.—You should be unwilling to sell out so cheaply. Partner is bound to have some cards and may even have been lying in wait for the opponents to get into trouble. The proper procedure is to double. Partner should not take such action by you too seriously under these conditions and should test out the situation before making any drastic commitments. It is good practice to reopen the bidding in this situation with a hand that is average in high cards.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠KJ97 ♡Q93 ◇62 ♣J632
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♡	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two hearts, to give partner another chance without increasing the contract. The hand is not strong enough to warrant a raise to three clubs.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AQ ♡J742 ◇Q10765 ♣A6
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
1 ♣	1 ◇	Pass	?

What do you bid?

A.—We would not be inclined to settle for less than a game contract and in order to insure getting there the recommendation is for a cue bid of two clubs. From partner's next step it may become more evident whether the better course lies in a three no trump contract or a try for game in the minor suit.

Q. 7—East-West vulnerable. As South you hold:
♠AJ962 ♡4 ◇A1063 ♣1074
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
1 ♡	2 ♣	?

What do you bid?

A.—Double. A bid of two spades by you would be forcing for one round and would prove embarrassing if partner rebid his hearts. I think it is safe to assume that you can win three or four tricks against the club declaration which, added to the three that the opening bidder is expected to have, should produce a sizable profit.

Q. 8—East-West vulnerable. As South you hold:
♠A102 ♡AJ753 ◇K3 ♣654
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ◇	1 ♠	2 ♡	Pass
4 ♡	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—You have a good opening bid facing a partner who has opened and jumped. Your proper bid is four spades, showing control of that suit and, if partner counters with five clubs, you might take the liberty of showing the king of diamonds.

NEW YORK (AP)—In a two-way stock market this afternoon, gains far outnumbered losses on the New York Stock Exchange, but the averages headed lower due to softness in blue chips. Trading was moderately active.

This was reported today by UNC President William C. Friday to a session of the university's trustees.

Friday also presented the trustees a request for capital improvements totaling $131.2 million at the four campuses during the next biennium. This would include $61.8 million at Chapel Hill, $43 million at Raleigh, $14.7 million at Charlotte and $10.9 million at Greensboro.

Highway Patrol Car Overturned

AYDEN—Highway Patrolman Billy Day escaped injury early Sunday morning when his patrol car overturned on a curve near here while the officer was in pursuit of a traffic-law violator.

Patrol officials said Day's vehicle was traveling about 60 miles per hour when the brake on the left front wheel of his car locked while he was braking for a curve near Helen's Cross Roads.

The locked brake pulled the patrol car to the left. It struck a three-foot high ditch bank and flipped over one time, causing an estimated $1,200 damage to the 1968 model car.

Sgt. F.S. Lemmon said Day was wearing his seat belt and shoulder harness and was only "shaken up."

The vehicle the patrolman had been chasing was found abandoned about 200 yards from the wreck scene behind a house.

Officers said the car was registered to George Thomas of Route 2, Ayden, but according to investigators, Thomas had allegedly loaned the vehicle to another man.

Trooper Day had begun his pursuit of the 1958 model car three miles away when the vehicle was seen being operated in a reckless manner. He said the car was occupied by one man.

A hunt is being made for the driver of the Thomas vehicle.

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Some 36 North Carolina pre-school age children will participate this summer in the state's first preschool programs for hard of hearing and deaf children.

Approximately 24 children, 2½ to 5 years old, will participate in the six-week pilot project in Gaston and Wake counties. Another 12 will go to a similar program in Cary near Raleigh.

Neil Smith of the special education division of the state department of public instruction said Saturday the programs will probably continue during the school year and may be expanced later to other counties.

Shot Down Trying To Coax Surrender

KERMIT, Tex. (AP) — A West Texas district attorney, who went on patrols with police to "see that the law is enforced properly," was slain by a man he sought to talk into surrendering.

Police Chief Melvin Bartley said Dist. Atty. Don Nugent, about 40, was killed Saturday night during a shootout with Willie Smith.

Smith was killed by bullets from Nugent's gun, Bartley said.

Bartley said that officers answered a call to the Smith residence when neighbors complained of a man standing in his backyard and shooting at a dog.

When Smith threatened the officers, Bartley said, "they backed off and telephoned the district attorney to see if they needed a warrant."

The police chief said that Nugent offered his help and "when he arrived at the house he talked the man into coming on out."

Bartley added, "After he (Nugent) talked the man out, he called police to come forward and when they did Smith shot him. Nugent returned the fire and I think he hit Smith five times."

Nugent was struck at ~~least~~ three times.

See Almost Enough Votes For Humphrey

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has almost sewed up the Democratic presidential nomination, Newsweek magazine reported Sunday.

The magazine's count of delegates showed Humphrey with 290 solid convention votes, and 989½ leaning his way, for a total of 1,279½. It takes 1,312 to win.

Newsweek said Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York had 713½ votes leaning toward him, a loss of 150 since Humphrey entered the race.

Another 280 votes were leaning to Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, the magazine said. It added that former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace had 21½ votes and that the remaining 327½ were uncommitted.

Newsweek said Humphrey had won the support of a majority of the delegates in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan.
