Awards, Recognition To Over 150 At Rose High

By BLANCHE HARDEE
Reflector Staff Writer

More than 150 Rose High School students were presented awards, given scholarships or recognized for honors received or work done, during the year, at the annual Awards Day program at the high school yesterday.

The Kech Distinguished Service Award, possibly the most cherished honor to be given, was presented to Les Garner.

Garner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie H. Garner. He was also presented with a Morehead Scholarship and other awards. Garner is a member of the Monogram Club and a member of the Quill and Scroll. He is editor of the Green Lights, vice president of the National Honor Society and last year's Community Ambassador to Belgium. He is an active member in the MYF of St. James Methodist Church.

Tim Foley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Foley, was named winner of the Dixon Athletic trophy, the most prized athletic award given at the school.

That cup is given on vote of the members of the Monogram Club to the person who in the minds of his fellow students, has shown the best attitude and conduct in athletic competition.

Special citizenship awards presented included: the Daughters of the American Revolution Citizenship Award, to Gayle Griffin; the Greenville Civitan Good Citizenship Award, to David Hahn; and the Woman's Club Citizenship award to Chris Kares.

Other special awards included: National Honor Society Award, Katherine Petrie; Readers Digest Award (for highest grade average for four years of high school) Les Garner; Class of 1966 Scholarship Award, Les Garner and Beth Moore; and State Bank and Trust Company Award, Patsy Greene. Recipient of a four year Commercial Credit Scholarship was Rebecca Starkey.

A National Merit Scholarship for four years went to Beth Moore, while two students, Tommy Clay and Sonya Boyd, received Academic Merit Scholarships to East Carolina University. Those awards are for one year. Recognized as finalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition were Les Garner, Bob Fleming, Ed Welch, Pattie Whitehurst, Tommy Clay, and Beth Moore.

Other scholarships and recipients announced included: Lions Club Scholarship, John Barrett Clark; Kiwanis Scholarship, Kay Galloway and Connie Polk; J. H. Rose Scholarship, Chris Kares; Daily Reflector Scholarship, Rebecca Jean Stancill; Presbyterian Church Scholarship, John Barrett Clark; Women of the Moose Nursing Scholarship to ECU, Becky White; athletic scholarship to ECU, Mike Aldridge; athletic scholarship to N.C. State University, Tim Foley; Methodist Church Scholarship to Methodist College, Cheryl Elaine Berry; Prospective Teachers Loan, Lib Elks, Chris Kares; William A. Whitaker Scholarship to the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, Ed Welch; Commercial Business Scholarship to Durham Business College, Mary Staton; grants to UNC-Chapel Hill, Jerry Whittington and Doug Hill; and ECU scholarships, Willima Durham, Patti Kirk, Lib Elks, John Barrett Clark, Rebecca Stancill, Leon Peaden, Kay Galloway and Cheryl Edwards.

Students recognized for other honors included: Girls' State participants, Deborah Clark; Boys' State participants, Ernie Avery and Charles Rountree; Governor's School participants, Lala Steelman, Julie Harris and Lynn Rylander; Community Ambassadors, Cordell Avery, (France), and Fred Irons (Japan); and exchange students, Geraldine Case, Columbia; Melinda Scott, Argentina; and Ray Peszko, Columbia.

Departmental awards were presented to more than 40 students for outstanding work in the various areas of study.

Included in those awards presentations were: Art, Otho Cozart and Karen Colvard; Industrial Arts, Johnny Stokes; Mechanical Drawing, Larry Crockett; Business Education Department, Patsy Greene; bookkeeping, Lee Durham; shorthand, Sue Lassiter; typing, Nelida Boswell; English I, Nancy Clemons; English II, Billy Armistead; English III, Julie Harris, and English IV, Les Garner; Speech and Dramatics, Debra Harris and Darrell Hignite; French I, Susan Walker and Kathy Petries; French II, Billy Armistead; French III, Meg Sencindiver; French IV, Eric Vernon; Spanish I, Claudia Bland, Nancy Troutman, Sallie

Two Shot In Louisville Disorders

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — National Guardsmen

Louisville streets in small units today while the city began cleaning up the debris from a night of looting and burning.

Schools opened on schedule as did the polls since this is primary election day in Kentucky. Mayor Kenneth Schmied said he would decide later whether to reimpose the curfew to prevent a repetition of Monday night's disorders in which two persons were shot and at least 20 others injured.

Police made 104 arrests on charges of disorderly conduct or breach of peace. One of the wounded was identified as a looter by Patrolman Donald Jagers, who said he opened fire with a shotgun after spotting the man emerging from a store with several articles of clothing.

The second man, reported in serious condition with a gunshot wound in the stomach, also was hit during the disturbance. Police said they were trying to determine the circumstances surrounding his case.

Under state law, all taverns and liquor stores are closed election day until 6 p.m. If Schmied imposed the curfew again, they would remain dark. The mayor said "our main concern is to protect the public. We thought the city was trying to do a good job for all its citizens and then something like this happens."

He asked Gov. Louie B. Nunn for guardsmen to be brought into this city of 400,000. At least 375 moved into downtown areas immediately and others were placed on an alert status around the state.

In A Hurry To Get Married

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Dr. R. L. Schroeder, 83, and Anna Marie Jones, 16, both of Owensboro, Ky., applied for a marriage license Monday and asked the required three-day waiting period be waived.

Judge Rufus C. Kuykendall obliged. "I wanted to give them a chance for bliss at the earliest possibility," he said.

The retired surgeon and his bride-to-be then left with the girl's mother.

Search Armada Combing Atlantic Route

No Contact Made With Overdue Sub; Fear Loss

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Navy armada operating from both sides of the Atlantic has made no contact with nor has sighted anything resembling the missing atomic submarine Scorpion, sources said today.

The sub and its 99 crewmen were to have reported to Norfolk, Va., at the end of a submerged Atlantic crossing at noon Monday.

The sub failed to appear and a broad search was launched with at least 36 ships, planes and nearly 8,000 men.

Navy men emphasized the search remained in the organization phase at mid-morning with assigned ships and submarines proceeding to the search area along 600-foot depths marking the beginning of the Atlantic's continental shelf about 55 miles off Norfolk.

In addition, long-endurance P2 and P3 submarine search planes are flying along a 15-mile wide stretch of ocean covering what the Navy figures was the Scorpion's plotted course home.

This covers a line reaching about 2,100 miles from Norfolk to a point just south of the Azores, almost due east, where the Scorpion sent a routine—and its last—message about midnight May 21 giving its position, speed and bearing. No difficulties were mentioned in that message.

Under normal conditions, the Navy said, the Scorpion and its crew can remain submerged "well in excess of 60 days."

What may have happened to the $40 million U.S. attack sub was a mystery. An obvious if unexpressed Navy fear was that the Scorpion may have suffered a fate similar to that of another atomic sub, the Thresher, which sank in the North Atlantic in 1963 with 129 men aboard.

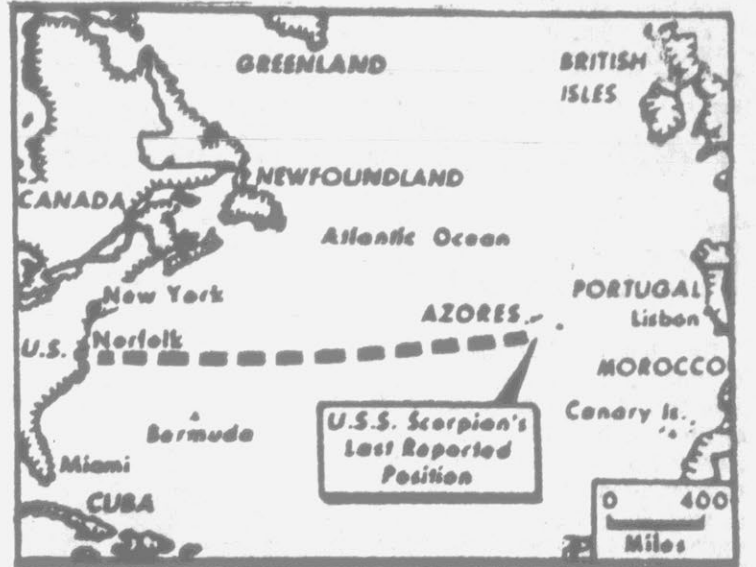

An unspecified number of planes were scheduled to join vessels ordered into a broad search Monday when the Scorpion failed to report in as scheduled at the end of a Mediterranean cruise.

A source said Navy attempts to contact the sub—which he termed "part of the normal missing sub procedure"—were continuing.

Because she was returning to the United States submerged, the Navy had not received any communications from the Scorpion since midnight May 21. This was termed routine.

But about noon Monday the Scorpion should have come on the air asking Norfolk, Va., for docking space. Relatives waited at the port. No message came. She was due there at 1 p.m.

The Navy quickly dispatched the first of 19 Atlantic Fleet ships to find the Scorpion, and by 7 p.m. Monday publicly pronounced her "overdue."

Upward Trend

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs, led by sharp price increases for food and clothing, rose three-tenths of one per cent in April and were four per cent above a year ago, the government reported today.

Prices were also higher last month for housing, medical care and a broad range of consumer services, said the Labor Department.

Asst. Commissioner Arnold Chase of the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said the new price increases supported the warning of Arthur M. Okun, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, that the nation's economy is headed for more serious trouble.

The April price increases pushed the consumer price index to 119.9. This meant it cost $11.99 in April for typical consumer goods and services that cost $10 in the 1957-59 base period.

At the same time, the wholesale price index for farm products, processed foods and industrial raw materials rose one-tenth of one per cent to 106.3.

Chase said most of the price increases resulted from strong demand and higher wages, and that the prospects were for a continued increase.

Minister Quits DeGaulle Cabinet

By LOUIS NEVIN

PARIS (AP) — Education Minister Alain Peyrefitte, caught in the midst of student turbulence which touched off the strike wave that is costing France more than a billion dollars a week in lost production, resigned today. Premier Georges Pompidou said he will take over Peyrefitte's duties.

Peyrefitte, 42, had been minister for information and minister for scientific research and atomic matters before he moved to the Education Ministry April 7, 1967.

With no end in sight to the general strike, a leftist leader proposed that a provisional government take over to arrange election of a successor to President Charles de Gaulle.

Pompidou disclosed France will dip into its $6 billion in gold and foreign currency reserves to help the nation through an expected slump in its trade balance due to wage increases and other costly benefits to workers. The package proposal, which is still not satisfactory to the unions, would obviously hike the cost of French export goods.

"We have large reserves," the premier said. "We will certainly use them in this period to ease a fall in our foreign trade, a fall which we hope will be only temporary."

This would mark a reversal of a 10-year policy of building up the reserves of gold and foreign currencies.

Peyrefitte's resignation, announced by the premier, was the first open crack in the Gault regime from the strike crisis. He has taken much of the criticism for the unrest stemming from rioting by university students since May 10.

Mentioned in government circles as being on shaky ground are Interior Minister Christian Fouchet, who runs the nation's police forces; Information Minister Georges Gorse, who has responsibility for the strike-crippled radio and television networks; Defense Minister Pierre Messmer, who has taken a role in efforts to keep order; and Louis Joxe, who had been acting premier early in the crisis when Pompidou was abroad on an official visit.

Francois Mitterrand, president of the non-Communist Federation of the Left, called for rejection of De Gaulle's reform proposals in the June 16 referendum.

Since De Gaulle has threatened to resign if he does not receive massive support at the polls, Mitterrand said "the departure of Gen. De Gaulle after June 16, will provoke the disappearance of the premier and the present government."

He called for formation of a provisional government immediately "to get the state back on its feet, reply to the just demands of the social groupings and finally organize the practical mechanism for a presidential election which could take place in July."

Mitterrand, runnerup to De Gaulle with 45 per cent of the vote in the 1965 presidential election, said: "I am a candidate."

The strike, which economists say is wiping out more than a billion dollars a week in production, went into its 12th day today after most striking workers in private industry shouted down a proposed settlement which included a 10 per cent pay raise.

In government-run industries, an "accord in principle" on a similar offer was reached with the coal miners' union. Still electrical and gas workers still were negotiating and the railroad workers broke off talks with the government.

Economists predicted the weekly loss from the strike would rise steadily as the strike continued.

North Carolina Income Grows

RALEIGH (AP) — Both total and per capita income reached new highs for North Carolina in 1966. H. C. Stansbury, director of the state Department of Tax Research reported to Gov. Dan Moore today in a study of the state's personal income by counties.

Stansbury said total personal income in North Carolina advanced 38 per cent and per capita income rose 21 per cent since 1962.

Major factors in growth of personal income in the state during the period were "increases in total manufacturing wages and salaries and total property income," Stansbury reported.

"The growth in manufacturing wages reflects both higher wage rates and a greater number of workers in manufacturing plants," he said.

Personal income by counties ranged from Mecklenburg, with $1 billion and a per capita income of $3,299, to Hyde County, with a total income of $6.7 million and a per capita income of $1,143.

Personal income, in millions, and per capita income of other counties included: 2. Guilford $846.9 and $3,078; 3. Forsyth $633.8 and $3,043; 4. Catawba $238.4 and $2,889; 5. Durham $349.3 and $2,748; 6. Cabarrus $349.3 and $2,748; 7. Wake $654.5 and $2,747; 8. Alamance $246.8 and $2,686; 9. Gaston $363.2 and $2,599; 10. Stanly $106 and $2, 11. Buncombe $355.4 and $2,475; 12. Onslow $245.8 and $2,469; 13. Rowan $214.2 and $2,437; 14. New Hanover $187.6 and $2,423.

Total personal income, in millions, and per capita income of other counties included: 26. Caldwell 124.7 and $2,268; 31. Cumberland $438.8 and $2,219; 34. Cleveland $158.6 and $2,174; 44. Pitt $139.4 and $1,906; 46. Wilson $112.4 and $1,868; 50. Vance $62.7 and $1,834; 51. Beaufort $69.6 and $1,816; 53. Wayne $162.1 and $1,787; and 54. Nash $112.2 and $1,748.

"All counties showed some increase in total and per capita personal income between 1962 and 1966," Stansbury said.

"Piedmont counties continued to dominate the upper ranks in per capita income, but a number of western counties and a few eastern counties were among the leaders in percentage gains in per capita income."

"In terms of absolute dollar gains the top five counties were Alexander, Polk, Mecklenburg, Catawba and Moore."

Suit Asks $100,000 For Business Loss

GREENSBORO (AP) — The white operator of two supermarkets in a predominantly Negro section is suing civil rights groups and individuals for $100,000 damages.

The plaintiff, James Essa, says Essa's Supermarkets Inc. has lost business since the defendants picketed for lower prices, the hiring of more Negroes in management positions, and the investment of 10 per cent of gross sales in the Negro community.

Essa named the Guilford County chapters of the Congress of Racial Equality and the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

Among the four individual defendants is Miss Shirley Ballard, who, Essa claims, left his employment without cause or notice on May 11, shortly before the requests were made which led to the picketing.

In Superior Court on Monday Judge Eugene Shaw set a hearing for Friday. He also will consider then Essa's request for an injunction against the pickets.

versity president, as administrative head of the school, allowed "to be distributed and sold in the book store of East Carolina University, a book called Essential Lenny Bruce, said book being obscene and in violation of city ordinance 16-24."

Dr. Jenkins was recognized to appear in County Records Court to face trial on the charges next week after the warrant was served by the Pitt County Sheriff's Department.

In his statement on the arrest, Morgan said, "I have given Leo Jenkins my full support in his efforts to deal with incipient lawlessness on our campus." Traffic in drugs and obscenity cannot be tolerated in any university community which upholds the ideals of truth and justice," Morgan continued.

A university cannot uphold such ideals and function without recognizing the distinction between books which have literary and social merit and ones that are published merely for "vicious and ugly motives," the board chairman said. He explained, "books printed by legitimate publishers and bearing the author's name are clearly in a category different from anonymous mimeographed pamphlets."

According to Morgan, Bingham, when he swore out the warrant against Dr. Jenkins, was accompanied by "two young men already indicted for the distribution of an anonymous mimeographed pamphlet of dubious literary value which contains obscene language and which was authorized by a faculty member."

Morgan had reference to Paul Allen, 21, an industrial worker in Greenville, and Michael Hamman, 21, a student at ECU. Both are natives of Hickory, and were arrested last week for possessing and publishing an 11-page pamphlet which allegedly contained obscene and vulgar material. Allen was convicted of the charge Thursday in Greenville Records Court but appealed the conviction to Pitt County Superior Court. Hamman requested a jury trial.

Both were charged with violating the same ordinance as was Dr. Jenkins. "One of the men," Morgan said, referring to Hamman, "recently furnished the bond for another person indicted for the possession of marijuana." Hamman, records show, provided bond for Charles Henry Gill of Hickory, an ECU student arrested by agents of the State Bureau of Investigation on charges of violating drug laws, two weeks ago.

"It is obvious to me," Morgan continued, that Bingham's action in swearing out this warrant "is a malicious act intended to embarrass Dr. Jenkins and the University. "I want to make this clear, that the Trustees have instructed Dr. Jenkins not to tolerate lawlessness of any sort on our campus and to continue his efforts to see that East Carolina is a university in which law and order not only prevails, but is also respected.

"I believe that the vast majority of North Carolinians support us. We will not tolerate traffic in drugs, obscenity or any other illegal action disruptive to the programs and ideals of the University."

Two Chosen To Attend Resources Workshop

Ray Jones, 108 Dawson Road, Grifton and Jimmie Benjamin Wall, Rt. 1, Grifton, students at Grifton High School, have been selected by Pitt Soil and Water Conservation District to attend a week-long resources conservation workshop at N. C. State University.

As announced by Arch J. Flanagan, Chairman of Pitt Soil and Water Conservation District, boys with special interest and aptitude in conservation areas are considered as participants, with priority given to 1968 high school graduates.

This June 10-14 Resources Conservation Workshop, held at N. C. State University, is now in its fourth year. It is jointly sponsored by the N. C. Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, the N. C. Chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America, and the North Carolina State Soil and Water Conservation Committee.

Ask Integration Steps In Schools

STATESVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Negroes have asked the consolidation of Statesville's junior and senior high schools, and across-the-board faculty integration.

They also asked federal District Court Judge Woodrow W. Jones Monday to order geographic zoning for student assignments. Statesville schools have been under a court-ordered freedom-of-choice plan since 1965. Attorneys for the Negroes contended that this plan is not effectively desegregating the schools.

In 1860, the population of Detroit was 45,619. Today it is about 1,640,000.

Spock Wanted 'Hinder' U.S.

BOSTON (AP) — Dr. Benjamin Spock declared he would do "as much as possible" to frustrate the raising of troops for Vietnam, an FBI agent has testified.

The interview with the agent was held in Spock's Manhattan apartment Dec. 8, 1967. The baby doctor and four others were indicted a month later on charges of conspiracy to aid young men to resist the draft.

"It is my intention," Spock was quoted in U.S. District Court Monday by FBI Special Agent George McKenna, "and all I have done is in furtherance of that intention, to hinder the United States' prosecution of the war."

McKenna was one of two FBI agents who interviewed Spock at the apartment, three days after the pediatrician helped lead an antidraft demonstration at the Whitehall Street induction center in New York City.

As McKenna testified there were some empty seats among the 85 allotted for spectators for the first time since the trial of Spock and his four co-defendants began. The trial is in its second week.

On trial with the 65-year-old Spock are Yale Chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43; Mitchell Goodman, 44, a New York writer and teacher; Marcus Raskin, 33, a Washington researcher; and Michael Ferber, 23, a Harvard graduate student. They face five-year prison terms and $10,000 fines if convicted.

found guilty today of killing her 4-year-old daughter after a sensation-packed trial marked by the defendant's calm recitation of her extra-marital escapades with a number of men.

A jury of 12 married men announced its verdict of first-degree manslaughter at 1:55 a.m. and the crowded courtroom gave a collective gasp. The 29-year-old defendant, a former cocktail waitress, sagged into the arms of her attorneys.

A whimper and a sob escaped her bowed head, her shoulders began quivering and a moment later she collapsed completely under routine questioning by the court clerk.

Then white-haired Justice Peter T. Farrell revoked her $25,000 bond and remanded her to the Women's House of Detention. "Oh, no!" she cried as attendants led her away and she left with a last agonized look toward her husband, Edmund, 32.

After she left he buried his face in his hands and sobbed uncontrollably.

Farrell, who presided at the 14-day trial, set July 12 for sentencing on the conviction which could bring a prison term of from 10 to 20 years.

Harold C. Harrison, chief defense counsel, said he would appeal the verdict.

Fire Damages Tarboro Laundry

TARBORO, N.C. (AP)—A fire Monday night ruined the interior of the laundry portion of the Pilgrim Laundry and Cleaners.

Owner W. J. Livesay estimated damage at several hundred thousand dollars.

No employees were at work at the time. The cause of the fire was not determined. The dry cleaning plant, in a separate building, was undamaged.

tending on the conviction which could bring a prison term of from 10 to 20 years.

The state charged that Mrs. Crimmins strangled her daughter, Alice Marie, on the night of July 13, 1965, rather than lose a custody of the child to the father from whom she was then estranged.

Defense counsel contended that both Alice Marie and her 5-year-old brother, Edmund Jr., were abducted from their apartment in Queens. The girl's body was found later the same day in a weed-choked lot.

The body of the boy was discovered farther away five days later in a condition that made it impossible to determine how he died. Mrs. Crimmins was charged only in the death of the girl.

The prosecution based its case largely on testimony by one of the former boyfriends, building contractor Joseph Rorech, who said Mrs. Crimmins confided to him during a motel rendezvous that she had killed her daughter.

His statement drew a cry of "Not true!" from the defendant.

Found Guilty Of Abandonment

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Two young parents were given suspended sentences of six months Monday on conviction of abandoning their six-month-old daughter on a neighbor's doorstep.

The sentences were suspended by Judge Willard Gatling in Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court on condition that the father, Reginald Wayne Parker, 21, make payments to the Child Welfare Division for the infant's support. The child was declared a ward of the court and placed temporarily in a foster home.

Outlook: No Change

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 56 years old, am married, but have been separated from my husband for 12 years now.

I have had a bachelor boy friend for 6 years. He's about 50, is wonderful company, but he's not the marrying type.

He does seasonal work in this area from May until November, then he takes off for the west, and I don't see him again until the next May.

He lives 30 miles from here, and drives in every night to read the newspaper and watch TV with me. He doesn't dance or bowl, or like to go anywhere, but he does have a nice car and plenty of money.

I am not getting any younger, Abby. I wrote to you about this problem 3 years ago, but I don't recall ever seeing your answer in the newspaper. I need advice. Will you please predict what kind of future you foresee for me?

RESTLESS IN N. Y.
DEAR RESTLESS: You have a part-time "boy friend" (if you can call a man who parks at your place to read the newspaper and watch TV a "boy friend"). And what good is his nice car and money if you don't go anywhere?

You say he isn't the marrying type. If he were, you already have one husband, which is all the law allows. "Prediction": Continued mild, followed by cool winds from the west. No change.

DEAR ABBY: My husband (I'll call him Pete) and I are in our mid-twenties, have been married three years, and have a 2-year-old son.

Pete has always had a hot temper. Well, last week we had an argument which got a little out of hand, and Pete hit me and knocked me down. The baby was in the same room and saw everything.

My problem is now the baby won't have anything to do with his father. When Pete comes near him, the baby turns his head away and cries. If Pete tries to touch him, he screams and draws away.

This hurts Pete something terrible. I keep telling him that the baby will forget, and get over it in time, but will he?

PETE'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: The baby may, in time, become more "forgiving"—but don't count on him to forget. In the meantime, unless you enjoy being knocked down, I advise you to persuade Pete to get some professional help in learning how to control his temper.

Mrs. Gloria Butler was named "Pilot of the Year." She was presented a silver bowl and corsage of daisies by Mrs. Rogers, president.

Miss Clark and Miss Elizabeth Quinerly, delegates, gave reports on the district convention, which was held in Greensboro May 3-5.

During the business meeting, plans of work of the standing committees were accepted by the club. With Service-The Pulse of Progress, the International theme for 1968-69, many service projects were planned.

Members were urged to display the United States flag from May 30 until June 14 in observance of "Operation Close Rank."

Mrs. Betty Ann Scoopmire was elected to represent the club at the North Carolina Heart Association meeting which will be held in Winston-Salem on May 30.

New officers elected at the district convention are: Governor, Mrs. Lucy Peace of High Point; First Lt. Governor, Mrs. Blanche Neal of Greensboro; Second Lt. Governor, Mrs. Margaret Kronan of Kannapolis; Treasurer, Miss Thelma Sutton of Kinston; and Secretary,

MRS. GLORIA BUTLER

Mrs. Jewell Osborne of Trinity. The Finance Committee, Mrs. Hila Johnson as chairman, will be in charge of the program for the next meeting which will be held on Monday evening, June 24.

Women's Society Honors Mrs. Aldridge, Mrs. Taft

The Women's Society of Christian Service (WSCS) of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church will stress group unity, rather than individual member effort, to try to right some of the wrong in our world and to obey God's voice as he speaks to us, according to Mrs. William H. Taft Sr., new president of the organization for 1968-1970.

Mrs. Taft said the new structure name of Women's Society of Christian Service, formerly called Woman's Society, "provides for us a flexibility, a freedom of choice and an opportunity to serve God and his people rather than to serve an organization."

The new president was the featured speaker at the recent annual WSCS fellowship meeting held in the chapel of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church. At this time she gave the report of her trip to Southeastern Jurisdiction Methodist Conference held in Birmingham, Ala. She was one among 600 women at the conference and the only representative of the local church women here.

In closing her talk, Mrs. Taft added: "Let the winds of God blow upon us with a fresh vision, a fresh dedication and a fresh resolution that the church through us will be moving toward Christian unity for all peoples of the world."

Prior to the speaker's message, a solo number, "Hold Thou My Hand," was rendered by Mrs. David Middleton. She was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Paul Toll.

Other highlights of the fellowship meeting:

The presentation of special membership awards was made by Mrs. W. P. Moore Jr. For outstanding work in the society, a Life-Time Membership pin was awarded to Mrs. M. W. Aldridge Jr. by Mrs. J. B. Kittrell Sr. and to Mrs. William H. Taft Jr. by Mrs. W. P. Moore Sr.

Mrs. Aldridge has served the society as circle chairman and as assistant and chairman of local church activities. In her circle she has also served as chairman of children's work, spiritual life and local works.

Mrs. Taft Jr. has served the society as circle chairman and publicity chairman, as Church Women United representative for 1967 and 1968 where she was in charge of May Fellowship, and as recording secretary. In her circle she has served as assistant chairman, as secretary and as chairman of spiritual life and of the blessing box.

The recognition of Mrs. Alfred Kennedy as chairman of Circle No. 12 was given by Mrs. Moore Jr.

The Youth Membership Awards were presented to Thomas Howard Clay, senior president of MYF and to Radford Marvin Garrett, junior president of MYF.

The Baby Life Membership Awards were given to Sarah Elizabeth Edmondson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Edmondson, to William James Ormond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Ormond Jr., both by Circle No. 1 with Mrs. Middleton as chairman; and to William Morrow Zachman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Zachman, and to Patrick Everette Kavanaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everette Kavanaugh by Circle No. 11 with Mrs. Phil Goodson Jr. as chairman.

The welcome address was made by Mrs. John Shannonhouse, WSCS president for 1966-68.

The prayer was said by the Rev. Tom Loftis, assistant minister of Jarvis Methodist.

The memorial was given by Mrs. J. H. Waldrop.

Briley-Dail Vows Spoken On Saturday

On Saturday at 4:00 p.m. Miss Judith Ann Dail and Billy G. Briley were united in marriage at Parker's Chapel Free Will Baptist Church.

The Rev. Ronnie Dail, brother of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Elmer Windom was pianist and Miss Rae Harris, soloist, sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Junior Lee Dail of Simpson and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Gus Briley of Stokes and the late Mr. Briley.

The ceremony was performed before a background of bridal palms, seven-branched candelabra and a basket of mums and gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of bridal satin with lace appliques. The bodice featured a scoop neckline and long sleeves ending in calla points over the hands. A chapel train was attached to the full skirt by a large bow. Her elbow length veil of illusion was attached to a spray of petals and pearls. She carried a white Bible centered with white roses.

The maid of honor was Miss Brenda Creech and bridesmaid was Miss Alice Windom. They wore identical dresses of yellow crepe featuring scooped necklines, short sleeves and full skirts. Their headpieces were rosettes attached to bouffant veils and they carried yellow pompons tied with green ribbons.

Best man was Robert Earl Briley, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Tommy Briley, brother of the bridegroom, and Lester House, cousin of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Dail chose for her daughter's wedding, an apricot dress with black accessories and a corsage of white mums.

Mrs. Briley wore a blue dress with matching accessories and a white mum corsage.

For traveling, the bride chose a two-piece rose and white dress with white accessories and the white rose corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

After a wedding trip to unannounced points, the couple will reside at Rt. 1, Stokes.

Mrs. Briley is a graduate of Junius H. Rose High School and attended Beaufort County Community College.

Mr. Briley is a graduate of Stokes High School and is employed by Garner, Wynne and Manning.

Outstanding Clubwoman Of Year Named Last Week

Miss Nettie Brogdon was named outstanding clubwoman of the year at the final meeting of the Woman's Club of Greenville held last week.

She was presented the Susie Ragsdale Achievement Award. Making the presentation of the silver bowl was Mrs. W. E. Roseveare, last year's award winner. Mrs. Roseveare cited Miss Brogdon for her many evidences of guidance and leadership in all the major projects of club work.

Mrs. George Clapp, delegate to the N. C. Federation of Women's Clubs Convention held recently in Pinehurst, gave a report of the three-day meeting which she and Mrs. J. L. Savage attended.

The theme of the convention was "On With Learning."

Mrs. Savage, president, gave the president's yearly report—the greatest achievement for the year was the completion of the new club building.

Prior to the meeting, a covered-dish dinner was served to club members, husbands and guests. The invocation was given by Dr. Sylvester Green.

Lawlessness Not To Be Tolerated

The strong position taken by officials of East Carolina University against traffic in drugs and obscenity without literary value deserves the support and commendation of all North Carolinians.

In separate statements in recent days President Leo Jenkins and Trustee Chairman Robert Morgan have made it clear that lawlessness will not be tolerated on the campus of East Carolina University. They have declared unequivocally that the university's administration will continue to take stern measures to deal with drugs and obscenity on the campus.

Equally important, these statements have made it clear that East Carolina University will not be intimidated by a few who seek for their own purposes to harass the administration or obstruct the operations of the institutions.

Rather than being in a position of having now to back up their words with action, East Carolina's officials have already shown by their actions that the recent statements merely add emphasis to what is already being done. The position of ECU in this respect is considerably different from that taken by administrations of a number of other universities.

It is, in our judgement, the proper position for a university administration to take and one which rightly has the support of the great majority of students, faculty members and citizens throughout the country.

It should be reassuring to the people of North Carolina that the ECU administration has taken decisive and positive steps to deal with the unlawful drug traffic on its campus. It should be reassuring to the people of this state that the trustees of East Carolina have instructed President Jenkins, as Chairman Morgan pointed out, that the university will not "tolerate lawlessness of any sort on our campus and to continue his efforts to see that East Carolina is a university in which law and order not only prevails but is also respected."

That is the kind of institution North Carolina wants in its colleges and universities and the kind in which the vast majority of its young men and women want to further their formal education.

Citizen's Obligations Are Upheld By Court

Upholding the constitutionality of the law prohibiting the burning or otherwise destroying draft cards, the Supreme Court has struck a blow for freedom in and preservation of these United States.

In an era in which so many of the decisions of the high court have met with sweeping unpopularity, this is one ruling which will be embraced by more people than decay it. The court has upheld the power of Congress to take the steps necessary to provide sufficient military strength to protect the nation and its interests. It has rejected the proposal of some — including one of its own members — that Congress has that authority only in time when an actual declaration of war is in effect.

By its action the Supreme Court has also recognized the fact that freedom and liberty are not to be taken lightly or for granted. They must be protected and earned by each generation of Americans with whatever sacrifices are necessary. When the day comes that the citizens of the nation are unwilling to make the sacrifices required to preserve these freedoms, they will be quickly lost and the nation will quickly lose its democratic government.

The right to live in a free land must of necessity carry with it the responsibility to help protect and preserve that freedom even at the cost of personal sacrifice.

General Strike Is Aggravating

By BERNARD LAVALLEE

PARIS (AP)—"Sorry, madame, I can't sell you a kilo of potatoes," the grocer told a desperate housewife. "The 50 kilos you see are reserved for one of my best customers."

It was one of the aggravations of the general strike that hit France early last week, but there has been no open panic because the fresh food channel — farmers, private transporters and grocers — kept working.

French cities were supplied with milk, vegetables, fruit and meat as drivers concentrated on perishable products.

Still, some housewives started hoarding food and some items were hard to find in shops. On Saturday, for example, it was possible to buy beef, tomatoes or cherries in any shop but one could hardly get salt, sugar, oil, canned food or even wine.

Prices doubled or tripled in a week. Trying to force prices down, some angry housewives threatened to bring charges of black market profiteering against grocers as in World War II.

But there also were cases of price reductions for some perishable vegetables, such as tomatoes, when grocers saw they might have to throw them away.

Where the rich hoarded, the poor had trouble obtaining food. In a plush western Paris suburb, one grocery customer blindly ordered food "for 100 francs" — $20 — while others waiting in line anxiously looked at their wallets.

Gasoline, cigarettes, soap and other such products often were unavailable. Industrial goods were severely limited because of the strikes in the factories and wholesale shops. Public transport was dead.

One Parisian doctor pointed to his empty waiting room and said people were not coming for medical care because they could not pay him. Some doctors in industrial regions said they would treat patients who could prove they were strikers. The strike committees could deliver such proof.

Because of the lack of public transport, persons not on strike drove their own cars to work. But as the days passed, most gasoline stations closed because they were not supplied by the tank truck drivers.

By Saturday, it was impossible to buy gasoline in Paris except in filling stations reserved for doctors — marked with red crosses — and others reserved for drivers of War II.

An important reason for the absence of panic was that the electric plant workers, while on strike, did not cut the power supply as they have in the past. They apparently kept a power cut as a threat against the government in case negotiations come to a deadlock.

Forty Years Ago

Twenty Thousand People Hear Great Evangelist In Final Services Here

The Billy Sunday evangelistic campaign which has been in progress for the past five weeks was brought to a conclusion in this city last night with one of the most inspirational services in the series. . . At the conclusion of the service last night the evangelist was presented with a free will offering of $5,608.91. The presentation was made by Rev. R. J. Bamber, pastor of Eight Street Church of Christ and president of the Greenville Ministerial Association. Between sixteen and twenty thousand people attended the four services at the mammoth warehouse tabernacle. They began assembling at an early hour yesterday morning and the building was filled at every service, especially during the afternoon and night when only standing room was available. . . Billy Sunday never appeared to better advantage despite the sweltering weather. He was one of the most vitalized figures in the building, and at every service his powers of an actor, humorist and preacher were brought to bear with telling effect upon the thousands who turned out to hear him. . . Mr. Sunday declared that if his heart was a banquet hall he would invite every person in Eastern Carolina to come within and dine. With this brand of phraseology he made his farewell talk, shook hands with those around him, glided swiftly from the platform, out into the crowd, shaking hands as he went, and later to the train, bound for his new field of labor. . .

Miss Mary Forbes and Miss Sarah Burton Jenkins were the guests to Miss Grace Wooten at her home in Kinston for the weekend.

Dr. and Mrs. Paul E. Jones, Mrs. Annie Long and Miss Annie Perkins of Farmville were here Sunday.

Why Pick On Rhodesia?

It is good to get back to the United Nations. One feels so at home in the smog.

In recent weeks the smog—the smog of hypocrisy, that is—has seemed especially thick. It is worse than the faint haze that always hangs over Congress. It is infinitely more nauseous than the cheerful lies of an Oregon campaign. The Security Council is back on Rhodesia again, contemplating a couple of punitive resolutions, and the most elementary principles of fair play and basic law have floated down the river. They are lost in the fog and may never be seen again.

One of the resolutions, taking the approach of let's you and him fight, comes from the Afro-Asian bloc. It begins by reaffirming the spurious assertion that Rhodesian independence "constitutes a threat to international peace and security." No such threat ever has been stated. Rhodesia has threatened no one.

The Afro-Asian resolution goes on to concede that economic sanctions have failed to bring Rhodesia to her knees, partly because of the sympathetic position taken by Portugal and South Africa. Therefore the resolution proposes to censure Portugal and South Africa by name, but more than this is required: The resolution urges Great Britain "to take urgently all necessary measures including the use of force to bring an end to the rebellion."

The second resolution, sponsored by Great Britain, is longer and more legalistic. Its purpose is to give another turn to the sanctions screw. Members of the United Nations would be obligated to prevent the flow of capital into Rhodesia, to ban travelers on Rhodesian passports, to prevent aircraft and ships from transporting Rhodesian freight, and generally to ostracize and isolate Great Britain's rebellious offspring.

The two resolutions have been kicking around for more than a month. The Afro-Asian delegations are trying to pick up support from Latin America, but the Latins are playing it cool. It is generally agreed that the Security Council will reject an appeal to force, even if Britain has to exercise its veto, but pressures are being generated for hard-line action.

Other Editors Saying Learn To Type

(Goldsboro News Argus)
One of the best things you could do for your child during summer vacation is to have him learn to type. Any child from the sixth grade through high school could easily learn to type during the vacation.

And he could learn to type and still have plenty of time for play, for swimming and for reading.

Maybe there is a high school typing class in the school convenient to your home this summer. If there is not, you should move on your own to encourage your child to master typing.

You could rent a typewriter, or better still you could buy one and give it to your child to go with him to college. And you will want and the child will want to master touch typing. You can borrow from some friend or you can buy at a reasonable figure a typewriting manual. This is a book with the typewriter keyboard illustrated.

The book introduces practice lessons from page to page. These are so arranged that the student learns touch typing.

All the child has to do is to follow the lessons as detailed in the practice book. One lesson should be fully mastered before moving on to the next one. And check the young student's practice sheets occasionally to note that he is taking proper care and turning out a correct, clean, neat lesson.

Why should my child learn to type this summer?

Mastering use of a typewriter with all 10 fingers gives a child a skill that will come in handy throughout his life. You certainly will want your boy or girl to go to a college. If he is able to type the lesson assignments for his instructors, he has a definite advantage.

Imagine what a relief it is for an instructor to come to a neatly, correctly typed theme or lesson amid all the handwritten material he has to handle from the students. The grade the student will get on the lesson, the theme, should be higher because the work is done with such clarity and neatness.

An hour or two of practice daily, except weekends, during the summer would give the average student a competency in typing upon which he could build. By the time he graduates from college if he has been turning in his assigned home work on a typewriter he should qualify as a skilled typist, able to write a theme or other lessons twice as rapidly, and twice as legibly, as if he wrote out the assignment by hand.

Our Nation In A Fantastic Mess

By ELMER ROESSNER
The country is in a fantastic mess.

Inflation spirals unchecked. Each day sees the true value of savings, life insurance and pensions shaved a little more. We have turned many of our old people around until they are facing welfare, then kicked them on their way.

In the midst of an affluence the world has never known before, our welfare rolls grew constantly longer.

Tax burdens for welfare, warfare and other government spending are the greatest ever experienced. Federal spending goes on up to ever new highs; states' and subdivisions' levies, though not so high, are rising gaster.

Taxes are so rigged that the rich and poor escape many levies while the working and middle classes carry the burden.

We are in a critical labor shortage, although more than three million are unemployed. Many lack skills, some lack git-up.

Turbulence In Streets And Campuses

We have an estimated six million alcoholics. Some can't hold jobs. Some drive cars. While some courts have held that alcoholics are sick, most hospitals bar them. We don't seem to know what to do about it. To a large measure, we have left the curing of alcoholics to the alcoholics themselves, with such organizations as Alcoholics Anonymous, which is comparable to turning the management of mental institutions over to the inmates.

Our cities are torn by race riots each summer, and on special occasions. In the 12 days after the death of Dr. Martin Luther King there were riots in 149 cities with losses of $67 million. In many places, authorities seem reluctant to deal firmly with rioters in fear of losing votes.

Many colleges have been torn by riots, some for racial causes, some for the hell of it. Crime is so rampant that in many areas people fear to go out at night. Many who do are mugged. Authorities seem helpless to stop bank robberies and thefts at John F. Kennedy and other airports.

Economy Is Bleeding

Our gold is draining away. Interest rates are rising, rising. Even the government itself may pay 6 1/2 per cent on securities sold next month. High interest rates are slowing home building and threatening industrial expansion. But because of taxes on them, interest gains are in part fictitious.

We are now buying more goods abroad than we are selling there.

Steel and other strikes threaten to sap the economy.

Our waters and even the air we breathe are being increasingly polluted, yet little or nothing is being done about it.

The split between the older and younger generations is widening.

Worst of all, the danger of "polarization" is increasing. That's the division of the people into the hard left and the hard right, which can lead to fascism, as it did in Italy and Germany, or communism, as it is doing in France.

Oh, sure, you know all these things. But what have you done about them?

Why Meany Fumes

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON—The intensity of AFL-CIO President George Meany's backstage maneuvering for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey became vividly clear when he abruptly cancelled a private luncheon here with John J. Gilligan, labor-backed Democratic Senate candidate in Ohio.

Meany was furious over Gilligan's decision to ride in Gilligan's decision to ride in Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's convertible from the airport in Columbus, O., to a meeting between Kennedy and Ohio's delegates to the Democratic Presidential primary.

That was on the evening of May 14. Gilligan, who topped Sen. Frank Lausche in a notable upset in the Democratic Senatorial primary, had a scheduled lunch with Meany in Washington several days later. But when Gilligan arrived in Washington (for the convention of the Americans for Democratic Action) Meany cancelled the lunch.

Meany wants Gilligan to endorse Humphrey for the Presidential nomination. Gilligan had also been pressed hard by labor to come out for President Johnson before the President withdraw from the 1968 race. Gilligan refused. Despite his refusal, the AFL-CIO gave all-out support against Lausche, without which he could not have won the primary.

Now even stiffer pressure is being applied to get Gilligan, himself a delegate to the Chicago convention, to endorse Humphrey. But Gilligan is staying neutral, and Meany is fuming.

Tax Breakthrough
Underneath all the gloom, there is unmistakable and growing optimism that the President's 10 percent surtax will pass Congress within the month.

The most influential House Democrats aren't talking out loud. But they are now convinced that President Johnson will begin putting his prestige on the line for the bill, including the $6 billion reduction in spending for the year starting July 1.

This conviction is solid even if the parliamentary ploy to win liberal Democratic support of the bill fails, as it surely will. This ploy is to give the liberals a chance to vote for a motion instructing the House conferees to insist on a $4 billion spending reduction before the House-Senate conference report containing the $6 billion reduction comes to the floor. It will fail, but it will give the liberals a chance to vote for the smaller reduction in spending.

Tentative timing: House debate on the conference report by June 10, with all the Administration's big guns wheeled into line to force a favorable vote.

Keystone Decision
Even some Pennsylvania supporters of Vice President Humphrey's Presidential bid were skeptical about trying to surface the pro-Humphrey loyalties of the 130-vote Keystone state convention delegation.

Intense backstage maneuvering, one day before the delegation caucuses in Harrisburg, pitted pro-Kennedy forces on the delegation (about 20 votes) who wanted no show of strength against pro-Humphrey forces (at least 90 con-

Veteran Demos In Next Session

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau
RALEIGH—Barring a wide-spread, grassroots Republican sweep at the polls next November, the 1968 General Assembly appears assured of having a sizable contingent of veteran, incumbent Democratic members.

Rep. Earl Vaughn of Rockingham County took over as speaker of the House during the last session after Rep. David M. Britt of Robeson became a judge of the newly-created intermediate court of appeals and stepped down. Vaughn and his Democratic running mate, Jule McMichael, face Republican opposition in the 25th House District, Rockingham County, in November. If elected, Vaughn is assured of the speaker in 1969 and already assignments.

If McMillan is the speaker or House Democrats in 1971, it will be something of a precedent. No county has sent two speakers to the legislature in so short a time—Britt followed a session later by McMillan, within the space of four years. Both from Robeson County.

Legislative sources say, however, that McMillan has the necessary commitments and votes already. Godwin might win if he chooses to make a fight of it—he seldom loses a legislative fight. But Godwin may decide to bow in favor of McMillan. Some doubt that Godwin wants the role and duties of Speaker, and would prefer to wield his influence from the floor.

Other Nominees
Other incumbent Democrats nominated and assured of election include Reps. Archie Burrus of Dare, W. R. (Bill) Roberson of Beaufort, R. C. Godwin of Craven, High Ragsdale of Onslow, Roberts Jernigan of Hertford and former State Sen. Perry Martin of Northampton, Thorne Gregory of Halifax, Horton Rountree of Pitt; Mrs. John Chase and Thomas E. Strickland of Wayne; James Green of Bladen; Julian Fenner of Nash; John Church of Vance and James D. Speed of Franklin; Richard S. Clark and Fred M. Mills of Anson; and on the Republican side Claude Billings and Jeter L. Haynes in the Predominantly GOP 38th District of Wilkes and Yadkin counties. No Democrats filed in the 38th.

WILLIAM A. SHIRES

Of course there are more Republican candidates—mostly newcomers—than ever before and some additional GOP triumphs are expected in legislative races.

But by and large, political observers feel the next legislature will retain a Democratic majority both in numbers, experience and legislative know-how.

This is based on results of the May 4 primaries and analysis of the list of nominees for legislative seats in the Fall elections.

Two Mentioned
One of the two men mentioned prominently for the speakership of the House in 1971, Rep. Phil Godwin of Gates County is unopposed in November.

The other Democrat mentioned for the speakership at this time is Rep. R. D. McMillan Jr. of Red Springs, Robeson County, and McMillan appears to have a slight edge on Godwin thus far. But unlike Godwin, McMillan and three other Democrats in the 24th House District have Republican opposition.

An earlier movement on behalf of Rep. Lacy Thornburg of Jackson County to move to the speakership in 1971 faded when Thornburg Court bench and gave up his legislative seat.

McCarthy, Kennedy Await Oregon Primary Results

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy returned to their California primary campaigns today as Oregon voters decided a Democratic presidential primary contest that both said would be close.

The California primary is a week from today's Oregon voting. Kennedy was in the Los Angeles area. McCarthy had scheduled stops in central and northern cities.

Both planned to be back in Oregon tonight to await voting results.
Oregon offered McCarthy's best hope yet of stopping a Kennedy sweep of their primary confrontations. But Kennedy said a McCarthy win would benefit Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who is not on the ballot.

McCarthy said he is optimistic about his chances in Oregon and he said he is not joining forces with either of his opponents.
Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon was expected to defeat his absentee rivals, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and California Gov. Ronald Reagan. The question was by how much.
There was a concerted but late-starting drive for Rockefeller write-in votes. Reagan—who says he is a favorite son candidate, not a presidential contender—is on the ballot.

The National Broadcasting Co. said its final Oregon poll gave Kennedy a slim 34-32 per cent lead over McCarthy with 11 per cent of the voters undecided.

pledged to Sen. George Smathers, a favorite son, and an unpledged slate.
A Republican slate of convention delegates stating no preference but leaning toward Nixon was unopposed on the GOP ballot.
In Kentucky, 12 Democrats and 4 Republicans are competing for respective party nominations to the Senate being vacated by retiring Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky.
Humphrey backers, meanwhile, were predicting 90 to 100 first-ballot convention votes from Pennsylvania delegates on a basis of a poll of the delegation Monday in Harrisburg.
The poll showed 83 delegates for Humphrey, 21 for McCarthy, 20 uncommitted, one voting for former President Harry S. Truman and the rest uncounted.

Pennsylvania, with 162 delegates and 130 convention votes, has the nation's third largest Democratic delegation. Convention votes could not be accurately translated from the Monday poll because of the method by which they are distributed.
Rockefeller launched a five-state Western swing today and criticized Nixon's statement that the Columbia University disorder was part of "a revolutionary struggle to seize the universities of this country."
Said Rockefeller: "Such mass indictment is unjust and unrealistic... And this kind of oversimplification clouds rather than clarifies the true issues."
Rockefeller did not refer to Nixon by name but quoted his Republican rival's statement.

Bar Housing Bill Money For Riot-Ravaged Cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has stripped from an omnibus $5.2 billion housing bill a provision designed to give special help to cities ravaged by riots.

A vote of 57 to 2 knocked the section out of the measure Monday after opponents argued it might encourage rioters.

The Senate planned to take up other proposed amendments to the bulky housing bill today.

with the leadership hoping the measure might clear the chamber by tonight.

Expected are Republican attempts to trim some multimillion-dollar money allotments from the measure.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., led the attack against the provision that would have made cities suffering riot damage eligible for federal grants under the long-established disaster relief program.

Russell argued that money should be reserved for victims of natural disasters such as hurricanes, earthquakes and floods as it now is.

And he contended the provision could be interpreted as telling would-be looters and arsonists, "Go and have a big time, boys."

Other opponents said the provision would make eligible for aid cities which had failed to take sufficiently strong measures to suppress disorders.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., noted the section would carry out one recommendation of President Johnson's commission on civil disorders.

The Senate did vote 56 to 2 to retain in the bill three other sections which would aid individual victims of riots.

These would make available to such persons 3 per cent small business loans, make them eligible for rent subsidies if they had lost their homes and make them eligible for housing urban renewal areas.

The Senate turned back 36 to 25 an attempt by Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., to limit a homeownership subsidy plan for low-income families to those at the bottom of the economic scale.

A major feature of the bill, the program generally would be limited to families in the $3,000-$7,000 annual income bracket.

But it would allow 20 per cent of the subsidies to go to those with slightly higher incomes. Tower sought to eliminate this 20 per cent leeway.

Bicycle Owners Have To June 1 To Register

Bicycle owners will run afoul of the law if they fail to have their bicycles registered as provided by the Greenville City Code, by June 1.

Police Chief H. F. Lawson said policemen will start enforcing the ordinance Saturday.

The ordinance requires that all bicycles in the city be registered and have attached to them a registration plate.

The bicycle licenses are available at the Police Department for a 50-cent registration fee. According to Chief Lawson, the fee simply helps defray the costs of the registration program.

The chief said the bicycle registration program aids officers in the investigation of bicycle thefts.

He reported that so far this year, 12 bicycles that had been reported stolen or missing have been returned to their proper owner through the use of registrations.

Persons desiring to register bicycles must give a complete description of the vehicle, including serial number, color, type of equipment, and size.

These records are kept on file and if a bicycle is stolen, records will enable the owner of the bicycle to be identified even though a registration plate is removed by thieves.

Electoral Crisis Said 'Very Near'

MADISON, N.C. (AP)—America needs to seriously consider changing its system of electing presidents, Republican congressional candidate Bill Osteen of Greensboro said Monday.

In a speech to the Madison Rotary Club, Osteen said the nation is "on the very doorstep of a major electoral crisis" because the candidacy of former Alabama Gov. George Wallace might throw the election of a President into the U.S. House of Representatives.

One wonders dreadingly, why? Why has Rhodesia been singled out for the unprecedented punishment imposed by the Council? The familiar answer is that Rhodesia's "illegal white racist regime" has flagrantly denied the principles of self-determination, majority rule, and one man, one vote.

Surely it is true that Rhodesia's government has refused to extend those principles here and now. But one is compelled to ask: When did these principles get to be the law of the United Nations? And if violation of these principles can be construed as a threat to international peace, why is the rule not applied to all alike? Why the double standard?

The questions are unanswerable; or more accurately, as Dean Acheson has said, they can be answered only in terms of the transparent hypocrisy that has emerged with the African bloc. The United Nations is paying a high price for this indulgence. Obviously, the sanctions imposed thus far upon Rhodesia have failed. Not only Portugal and South Africa have ignored them; as a recent article in Reporter magazine made clear, dozens of other nations have winked at them, too. The impotence of the UN becomes steadily more apparent.

Why compound the folly?

Most Humphrey men wanted a public announcement at the Monday meeting to show how much muscle the Vice President has, partly in an effort to give Kennedy a black eye on the eve of the Oregon primary.

Last Friday this man wrote a check for more money than he had in the bank. And took off.

Fortunately, he had a Wachovia Ready ReservAccount. So when the urge to escape the nine-to-five grind became irresistible, he simply wrote a check and hopped a fast jet to Honolulu.

Care free. Because Wachovia automatically added the extra money he needed to his checking account.

That's how Ready ReservAccount works. It backs your regular checking account with a cash reserve of from $500 to $5,000. When you need more money than you have in the bank, for any reason, you just write a check and Wachovia covers it. You repay in monthly installments. Or at one time, if you prefer. No forms to fill out. Your credit has been established in advance.

Simple, eh?

But that's hardly all. With Ready ReservAccount you also get the convenience of a Wachovia Check Guarantee Card. And the economy of no-service-charge checking.

Sound like the most useful checking account in North Carolina? It is. Why not apply for yours today?

By Monday you could be surfing at Diamond Head.

Williams Hurls, Bats Cleveland To Victory

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
Big Stan Williams has convinced American League hitters he's no easy mark, but opposing pitchers are just beginning to get the message.

Williams trimmed a couple of points off his major league leading earned run average Monday night and crossed up Minnesota's braintrust with a two-run seventh inning single that gave the Cleveland Indians a 3-1 victory over the Twins.

The 6-foot-5, 235-pound right-hander, in his second season with the Indians after stopovers with the Los Angeles Dodgers and New York Yankees, left the game in the bottom of the seventh with an 0.76 ERA and a .394 batting average.

While 23-year-old Mike Paul, making his first big league appearance, was protecting Williams' third victory with 2 2-3 innings of one-hit relief, Detroit's Ed Mathews slugged his way into sixth place on the all-time home run list.

The 36-year-old veteran hit his 511th and 512th homers, moving past Mel Ott, as the Tigers dropped a 7-6 12-inning verdict to the California Angels. Boston edged Oakland 3-2 in the only other AL action.

The Houston Astros buried the Dodgers 10-1 under a 16-hit assault in the only game on the National League schedule.

Williams was locked in a 1-1 duel with Twins ace Dean Chance when Tony Horton led off the seventh with a double and moved to third on Max Alvis' sacrifice bunt. Chance struck out Vic Davalillo, then walked Larry Brown intentionally to get at Williams.

Brown stole second and Williams looped a single down the right field foul line, scoring Horton and Brown for his third and fourth RBI of the year.

The Twins, who had pushed over an unearned run in the third inning, threatened with one out in the bottom of the seventh when Cesar Tovar singled and took third on a double by pinch hitter Bob Allison.

But Paul, summoned from the minors Monday morning, came out of the bullpen to strike out pinch hitter Frank Kostro, retire Rod Carew on a grounder for the third out and stymie the Twins the rest of the way.

Mathews clouted a two-run homer off Sammy Ellis in the fourth inning and chased the California starter with a leadoff blast in the seventh before Norm Casy's two-run pinch homer off Minnie Rojas shot the Tigers into a 6-5 lead.

But Bubba Morton's third single drove in the tying run in the bottom of the seventh and the Angels, who collected 18 hits in all, won it in the 12th on Rick Reichardt's single, a balk by reliever Daryl Patterson and Tom Satriano's double.

The loss, fourth for the first place Tigers in their last five decisions, left them one half game ahead of idle Baltimore and one game up on the third place Indians.

Carl Yastrzemski and Ken Harrelson poled bases-empty homers for the Red Sox before Elston Howard's sacrifice fly in the seventh drove in the winning run.

Howard delivered against John "Blue Moon" Odom after Joe Foy walked and who moved around to third on a passed ball and sacrifice.

Bert Campaneris' run-producing single off winner Gary Bell had pulled the A's even at 2-2 in the fifth.

The Astros raked southpaw Claude Osteen and three relievers in drubbing the Dodgers behind Don Wilson's eight-hitter and moving onto ninth place in the NL, one half game ahead of the idle New York Mets.

Jim Wynn, Rusty Staub and Ron Davis stroked three hits apiece, with Wynn and Staub each driving in three runs.

Hurtubise In Field For Indy

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Driver Jim Hurtubise, beset by mechanical problems all month, qualified his turbocharged Offenhauser roadster Monday for the Indianapolis 500-mile race.

"All I wanted to do was get in the race," Hurtubise said after qualifying at 162.191 miles an hour. "We've had trouble all month getting four laps in succession without anything going wrong, and I knew this was it."

The North Tonawanda, N.Y., driver's run was typical of a frantic extra day of time trials forced by weekend rains.

Two drivers were injured, one seriously, during 18 qualification attempts to fill the 33-car starting field for Thursday's race.

Rookie Bob Hurt, 28, Potomac, Md., suffered two fractured vertebra in his lower neck and was paralyzed from the waist down after slamming into the wall on the first turn in practice.

He was listed in satisfactory condition after surgery, but doctors said it might be weeks before they would know whether there was any permanent damage.

Another rookie, Rick Muther, 32, of Laguna Beach, Calif., escaped with a mild concussion after his car hit the wall on the same turn during a qualification run.

Ronnie Bucknum, a rookie from La Canada, Calif., had his disqualified car reinstated for the race. The Eagle-Ford had been ruled 20 pounds underweight after going 164.211 in a qualification run Saturday. But a check showed track scales were faulty.

Larry Dickson of Marietta, Ohio, was the last to make the field. He drove the 10-mile trial at an average of 161.124 m.p.h. with the same Hawk Ford Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., won the pole position last year at 168.779.

Also making the field on the final day were Mike Mosley, La Puente, Calif.; Carl Williams, Grandview, Mo.; George Snider, Fresno, Calif.; Sammy Sessions, Nashville, Mich., and Arnie Knepper, Belleville, Ill.

May Try To Start Their Own Loop

DALLAS (AP) — After being denied a National League franchise, Dallas-Fort Worth owner Tommy Mercer said he and partner Lamar Hunt may form a third major baseball league, the Dallas News reported today.

The newspaper's special dispatch from Chicago quoted Mercer as saying the two propose to see first what franchises might be available in either the National or American League.

Mercer, from Fort Worth, was described as calm but obviously angry and blaming Houston Astros' owner Roy Hofheinz "100 per cent" for blocking Dallas-Fort Worth efforts to land one of the two teams in the expanded National League.

The News reported Hofheinz told newsmen that "I voted for the unanimous choices" — San Diego and Montreal — and brushed aside further questions. These details were given by the Dallas newspaper.

Gamble Pays Off For San Diego

By RON ROACH

Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN DIEGO (AP) — The city of San Diego's gamble paid off today when it was awarded a National League baseball franchise.

The quest for a big league team began more than a decade ago. But it wasn't until 1965, when voters gave a 72 per cent approval to the stadium bond issue, that citizens could prove their support. And they began using when, not if, in baseball discussions.

Voters knew that for the city's $28 million stadium to show a profit it had to have major league baseball as a summer tenant.

They also knew that a 50,000-seat stadium would enhance the city's chances to get a major league team.

The campaign to bring a major league team was championed by the city council, county board of supervisors, chamber of commerce, as well as newspapers, radio and television stations—and banker-industrialist C. Arnhold Smith.

Smith owned a radio station that carried San Diego Padre games in the Pacific Coast League. He decided it would be more profitable to own the team than to pay rising broadcast fees, so he bought the Padres in 1955 for $300,000. He sold the radio station.

He quickly invested $1.5 million to build Westgate Park, and he made it known that the Mission Valley facility could be expanded to accommodate a big league franchise.

Smith was not alarmed last year when the American League decided to expand to Seattle and switch Kansas City to Oakland. He was overjoyed, because the AL had eliminated San Diego's prime West Coast competitors for a big league team.

The San Diego Padre Baseball Club filed a formal application for a major league franchise in early 1967.

The city spent $19,500 for an analysis of the San Diego market to include in Smith's report to major league owners.

This analysis noted that four million persons live within a 90-minute drive of San Diego Stadium; that tourists flood the city during baseball season, and 120,000 military personnel, many of them baseball fans, live on base in the San Diego area.

Baseball Moves Into Montreal, San Diego

By JOE MOOSHL

Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — "If we're going to expand, let's really spread it out," said Warren Giles, president of the National League Monday night following a lengthy meeting of owners.

The National League really spread it out — from San Diego to Montreal as major league baseball took on an international flavor for the first time.

While Montreal and San Diego were being selected during a marathon meeting of more than 10 hours, Buffalo, Dallas-Fort Worth and Milwaukee were bypassed.

Each of the new members will pay a $10 million price for the purchase and immediately share in national and World Series television contracts.

The National League now has 12 teams to match the 12 the American League will present next season with the addition of Kansas City and Seattle.

The two leagues will hold a joint discussion.

The American League went on its own in expanding by 1968 and, in essence, forced the National League to do the same.

The American League has its own meeting scheduled today, presumably to announce a split division schedule. The NL also will hold a separate meeting following the joint discussion.

Game scheduling for 1969 will now become the debating point between the two leagues and various radio and television contracts will have to be taken into consideration.

In announcing the selections for San Diego and Montreal, Giles called the move the "most important decision the league has made since allowing the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers to move to the West Coast."

"The feeling of the league was that if two new teams were added, they should not be in the same general section of the country," said Giles.

This probably knocked out Dallas-Fort Worth because the Houston Astros are located some 270 miles away.

Giles pushed off the Milwaukee failure by saying "Milwaukee is only 85-90 miles away from two major league clubs in Chicago."

Giles added that Buffalo made a fine representation and was a "difficult area to exclude."

Naturally, the excluded cities were disappointed, with the Dallas-Fort Worth group vowing it would get major league baseball even if it meant enticing an American League club into the area.

Papa Bear Leaves As Chicago Coach

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — A damaging slide into third base as a New York Yankee baseball hopeful 50 years ago finally sent George S. Halas limping into retirement as legendary pro football coach of the Chicago Bears.

A new Bear coaching era is expected to start today as Halas, 73, names his replacement, probably 38-year-old Jim Dooley, Papa Bear's top assistant.

Halas stunned sports writers Monday at his downtown office with the announcement that, "I am stepping aside now because I no longer can keep up with the physical demands of coaching the team on Sunday afternoon."

Rather than his age, Halas blamed an arthritic hip, stemming from an injury when he made a bouncing slide as a rookie Yankee outfielder in 1919, for his decision to quit after 39 Bear coaching seasons.

That spring training injury Halas recalled, "Slid me out of baseball and into pro football, the luckiest break of my life."

"My hip condition has progressed to the point where I simply cannot move about quickly on the sidelines," said the lone survivor of the National Football League's founding fathers.

Halas, who organized the Bears as the Decatur, Ill., Stalays in 1920, retired previously several times — the latest occasion a dozen years ago when he turned over the Bear reins to a trusted aide, Paddy Driscoll, for the 1956 and 1957 seasons.

But Halas bounced back as field boss in 1958 declaring: "Sitting back in the stands, I felt pro football coaching methods were changing and I developed some new ideas which I want to try out."

This time, Halas vows he will stay in the stands.

Halas used a cane in recent years, favoring his ailing hip, and it became increasingly difficult for him to maneuver on the field.

Dooley became an heir apparent for Papa Bear's job after George Allen left the Bears to become head coach of the Los Angeles Rams early in 1966.

Dooley, who retired as a Bear pass-receiving star in 1962, assumed Allen's post as defensive chief and this year was named boss of the Bear offensive unit.

Halas still presides as chairman of the board for the Bears whom he has owned for 49 years. His son, George "Mugsie" Halas, Jr., is president and general manager.

Halas plotted with a group of pro pioneers the birth of the NFL in a Canton, Ohio, automobile salesroom, on Sept. 17, 1920.

Spirits Sag In Cold, Wet, Resurrection City

By AUSTIN SCOTT
WASHINGTON (AP) — Residents of unheated Resurrection City suffered through a miserably wet, cold and muddy day and their spirits sagged noticeably as hazards to health mounted.

But two more small-scale demonstrations were carried off Monday despite problems with the weather.

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, leader of the Poor People's Campaign scheduled a meeting for today with members of an informal House-Senate committee working on legislation asked by campaign leaders.

But an aide said privately that most of today would probably be spent trying to deal with one of the coldest, wettest spells of late spring weather the nation's capital has seen for years.

About 150 mud-caked marchers waded Monday from their mired campsite to the Agriculture Department to complain again that America's surplus food ought to be used to alleviate hunger at home.

They had lunch at the department's cafeteria and left without paying the bill. The Rev. Jesse Jackson, who led them, said payment of the $292.66 tab would have to wait until someone determined whether the government might not owe that much to the poor.

Then, as darkness brought a steady downpour, about 75 demonstrators gathered in raincoats and slickers to sing for an hour outside the apartment of Chairman Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee.

George Wiley, chairman of the Welfare Rights Organization, has named several of his group to keep constant tabs on Mills so demonstrators will always know where he is as they try to pressure him into pushing for more money for welfare programs.

The young man selected to watch the congressman's apartment said that Mills was home when the demonstrators arrived, but did not come to his fourth floor window during the singing.

Conditions at Resurrection

City's site near Lincoln Memorial worsened steadily throughout the day as acres of soft dirt left by last week's rains turned quickly into ever-widening pools of shin-deep mud.

Dr. Edward Mazique, a medical officer, said there is a considerable threat of upper respiratory ailments or an influenza epidemic, but wouldn't say whether the camp should be evacuated.

"That's a matter for campaign officials to decide," he said, adding that doctors are moving as quickly as possible to inoculate all children in the camp against flu.

A racial problem that bedeviled Saturday when a Mexican-American leader complained the Negro Southern Christian Leadership Conference officials were paying too little attention to the problems of his group of 500 was apparently smoothed over Monday.

Reies Lopez Tijerina of Albuquerque, N.M., met with Abernathy, then told reporters they had had a good confrontation. "It was the first time black people had ever united with Spanish-Americans," he said. "We have reached a partial understanding."

High Court Limited Dissenters' Actions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has hemmed in dissenters by limiting the actions they can take in the name of free speech.

Monday's 7-1 decision directly upheld the 1965 federal law that made destruction of draft cards a crime.

More than that, the ruling by Chief Justice Earl Warren ridged the idea that otherwise illegal actions are shielded from prosecution as "symbolic speech."

"We cannot accept the view," said Warren, "that an apparently limitless variety of conduct can be labeled 'speech' whenever the person engaging in the conduct intends thereby to express an idea."

These words may cut the legal ground from under other forms of Vietnam war protest—such as exhorting young men to resist the draft or spilling blood on draft card files.

Whether the ruling will spur prosecution of draft card burners is problematic. In the 33 months the law has been on the books the government has brought 26 cases and won 16 convictions.

Since April 1967, when the U.S. Circuit Court in Boston declared the law unconstitutional, only four or five prosecutions have been brought.

The pace may pick up now that the Supreme Court has acted, but the Justice Department—without commenting directly on the ruling—is discouraging such thoughts.

Evidence is becoming hard to get, one official said, because protesters are taking such evasive steps as burning their draft cards in a huddle.

David Paul O'Brien of Cambridge, Mass., the central figure in the case decided Monday, burned his card at the South Boston Courthouse on March 31, 1966, in full view of a sizable crowd that included several FBI agents.

Warren said O'Brien was convicted for the "noncommunicative impact of his conduct and for nothing else."

However, the Chief Justice also said, even the "alleged communicative element" in his conduct does not prevent his prosecution because of the First Amendment's free speech guarantees.

"This court has held that when 'speech' and 'nonspeech' elements are combined in the same course of conduct," Warren said, "a sufficiently important governmental interest in regulating the nonspeech element can justify incidental limitations on first amendment freedoms."

To the court's only dissenter, Justice William O. Douglas, the big question remains unanswered. That is: Whether men can be drafted or sent to jail for resisting without a congressional declaration of war.

Sentenced For His Bogus Bills

SALISBURY, N. C. (AP) — Charlie Lee Powell, 27, of Lyons, Ga., was convicted Monday of possessing counterfeit currency and was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment.

Two other men from Lyons, who were arrested with him in Kannapolis April 20 and similarly charged, pleaded guilty and got lesser sentences. They were his brother, Howard Powell, 21, who got six years, and Fulford Thurston, 37, who received three years.

Justice Black Now 3rd Oldest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Hugo L. Black passes another milestone today, becoming the third oldest man in history to serve as a Supreme Court justice.

Black moved past the late Justice Louis D. Brandeis who retired Feb. 13, 1939, having served to the age of 82 and 3 months. Black, born Feb. 27, 1886, begins the fourth month of his 83rd year today.

The two justices who served to an older age were Oliver Wendell Holmes, who was on the court past 90, and Roger B. Taney, who sat at 87.

Singer Will Set Up Desert Camp

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Eartha Kitt plans to set up a privately financed, year-around camp for underprivileged children on land she owns in the Mojave Desert near Mojave, Calif.

The camp would offer formal education and vocational training and be operated in a manner similar to that of Boys Town in Nebraska, Miss Kitt told a news conference Monday.

Two New Pitt Names In Who's Who Edition

Two men from Pitt County will be listed in the 1968 edition of "Who's Who In America" for the first time.

U. S. Congressman Walter B. Jones, from Farmville, and the late Rev. H. R. Reaves of Ayden will be included in the book.

Congressman Jones took office to fill the unexpired term created by the death of Herbert Bonner, and was elected in 1964 for a full term.

Jones served as Pitt County representative in the 1955, 1957, and 1959 sessions of the N. C. General Assembly. He was mayor of Farmville, Judge of Records Court, on the Board of Trustees of Campbell College, and president of his senior class at N. C. State.

Jones was a member of the Board of Deacons in the Baptist Church, Scottish Rite Mason, Rotarian, former president of Farmville Club, member of the Moose Lodge.

He is married to the former Doris Long of Edenton and they have two children.

The late Rev. Herman Reginald Reaves, of Ayden, who died on June 5, 1966 will also be listed in "Who's Who In America."

The Rev. Reaves served as principal of Gritton Elementary School and was pastor at Pat-

The Worry Clinic Reason For Launching Marriage Foundation

Marie Torre is a famous ex-newspaperwoman who now conducts a popular daily TV show in Pittsburgh. She recently invited me to describe the Scientific Marriage Foundation and tell how we use a computer machine to introduce congenial couples. Our divorce rate is 250 times LESS than that of the nation at large!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE 5-580: Marie Torre conducts the daily one-hour CONTACT show in Pittsburgh over station KDKA-TV.

But she was a talented newspaper writer in New York before she shifted to television. In fact, she is a modern "martyr" for free speech for she was held guilty of contempt of court for refusing to reveal the source of her data for a newspaper expose, and even was sent to jail.

Like other stalwart newspaper writers, she absolutely declined to jeopardize her informants.

And that is doubly commendable in this modern age of gangland reprisals. For many witnesses here in Chicago, once their names have been made public, are found shot to death soon thereafter.

So newspaper reporters realize that they must hide the identity of their informants or many sources of valuable facts will dry up quickly.

Since newspapers are the main defender of the public's welfare, then the average citizen would not be nearly as safe, if newspapers could not expose gangsters, crooked politicians and other powerful criminals.

"Dr. Crane," Marie began our TV program, "how did you happen to help launch the Scientific Marriage Foundation?"

So I explained that I lost my first 7 private secretaries to men who wrote to me via this daily column, asking for the names of girls who might make congenial wives.

These men were all high class. One was a professor, another an advertising man, a third a dental surgeon, etc.

So I then decide an ecumenical organization, combining Jewish, Catholic and Protestant faiths would render a splendid service in America.

In 1956, we incorporated in Illinois as a charitable, educational Foundation and soon recruited about 2,000 Rabbis, Priests and Ministers to serve as Counselors.

Of some 10,000 happily married folks, there are only 11 known divorcees that have been reported to the Home Office in our 12-year duration.

And hundreds of formerly fatherless or motherless Eddies are now bubbling over with happiness at being back in a normal 2-parent home again.

Indeed, some of these previously hal-or-baned youngsters couldn't even remember their first daddy or mother since the death of those parents occurred while the children were infants or mere toddlers.

"Dr. Crane," Marie Torre continued, "how do you match the Applicants?"

Well, we use a computer machine and set 10 dials, including those pertaining to religion, age, educational background, habits (such as smoking), hobbies, personality trait, etc.

When a perfect match occurs, then we inform both parties and urge them to correspond for a few exchanges of letters, primarily to learn enough about each other so they can have plenty of conversational "ammunition" when they finally decide to meet in person.

Incidentally, most men are so lazy about writing that they usually restrict us to a radius of not more 200 miles. In fact, one prominent American newspaper publisher will not let us introduce him to any woman more than 100 miles distant!

Yet he has seen one of his own feature writers, who let us use a 500-mile radius, fall madly in love with a beautiful girl. They are now happily married and with a new baby, yet the "boss" still holds us down to 100 miles!

So send for the "Marriage Questionnaire," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents, and pass it along to any deserving person who is now unmarried.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

The first settlement at Columbia, Ohio, was founded in November 1788 by Benjamin Sides and 23 settlers.

Pitt Students To Graduate At Lenoir College

KINSTON—Several Pitt County students will receive degrees and diplomas during the graduation exercises at Lenoir Community College Thursday night.

Students from this area include:

GREENVILLE: Glenda Hardee Carawan, Associate in Arts Degree; Vernon Ellis Carawan, accounting; Annette L. Fillingame, cosmetology; Larry Eldridge Greene, business administration;

FARMVILLE: Marilyn Gail Leckie, cosmetology;

AYDEN: Elva F. Haddock, cosmetology.

The ceremonies, to begin at 8:10 p.m., will be held at the Teachers Memorial School Auditorium in Kinston.

Chancellor J. Carlyle Sitterson of the University of North Carolina will deliver the principal address.

See More Fruit From Hedgerows

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (UPI)—Planting fruit trees in hedgerows promises to increase fruit production, a horticulturist says, Dean McCarty, University of California Agricultural Extension Service horticulturist at Riverside, says:

"Per-acre production is dependent up to a point upon the volume of fruit-producing foliage grown on each acre. Generally, the majority of fruit is borne in the outer periphery of the tree." McCarty says that although production per tree usually decreases with hedgerows, the total yield per acre should increase.

Fifty three percent of the population of the United States is said to live within 500 miles of Cleveland, Ohio.

Tony Anthony retrieves the bags of gold he has stolen from a Mexican bandit and hands them over to the commander of an American troop detachment in "Stranger in Town." The man in the well is an outlaw who has been killed in a gun battle. An Allen Klein production for MGM in color, the suspense-packed outdoor drama also features Frank Wolf, Yolanda Modio and Gia Sandri. Starts Wednesday at the State Theatre.

The bidding:
East South West North
1♥ 1♠ 4♥ 4♠
5♠ Pass 5♥ 5♠
Dble. Pass Pass Pass

An imaginative and intelligent bid by East paid off for a good result when this hand was dealt in a recent tournament.

The first round of bidding was virtually the same at every table. When North bid four spades, East was confronted with a problem. Some felt that they had been outbid, and since North appeared to be sacrificing against the heart game, East chose to double in an attempt to gain whatever compensation was available. This proved to be a regrettable choice for his side.

The opening lead against five spades doubled was invariably the ace of hearts which was ruffed by North. Declarer was able to establish the diamond suit for three discards by ruffing out West's queen. South was assured of either one or two overtricks, depending on whether or not East decided to cash his ace of clubs when he was in with the high trump. If he does not take his ace, South can ruff out his three hearts and then discard all his clubs on the established diamonds.

At some tables, East was not certain to whose side the hand belonged and when North bid four spades, East decided to take out insurance by persisting to five hearts. Where his opponents permitted him to buy the hand, he made his contract by finessing North for the king of clubs. His only losers were two diamond tricks. Where North chose to sacrifice at five spades East doubled, and the defenders suffered a catastrophe when West led the ace of hearts.

At only one table did North and South incur a setback. Here too East recognized the necessity for bidding again over four spades, but he went one step further. Realizing that his opponents might persist to five spades, he decided to take the opportunity available to him to suggest a lead to partner.

It could cost him nothing since hearts had been soundly agreed on as a trump suit, so East bid five clubs. West returned to five hearts and when North carried on to five spades, East doubled. His message had indeed registered with West, and the latter opened a club instead of the ace of hearts. This permitted the defense to quickly cash two club tricks and the ace of spades subsequently sent the declarer down to a one trick defeat.

Social Security Benefits Paid Young People Surpass All Scholarships Combined

Social security benefits being paid to young people 18 to 22 who are still in school amount to more than the scholarships at all colleges and universities in the United States, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare Wilbur J. Cohen said today.

"In the 1968-69 school year, the social security program will pay about $479 million to approximately 466,000 students entitled to payments on the earnings record of a disabled, retired, or deceased parent," Cohen said. This will be an average of more than $1,000 to each eligible student.

The school year that begins next fall will mark the fourth year of payments under a 1965 change in the law providing for the continued payment of social security child's benefits past the age of 18. Until that change, Cohen said, a young beneficiary's payments stopped when he became 18 unless he was totally disabled.

"There is nothing in the law that prevents the student from receiving his social security benefits while he is still receiving assistance from a scholarship fund," Cohen noted. "Benefits may be paid during vacation periods. If a student works during the summer months or part time during the school year, and earns $1,680 or less for the year, he can still collect all of his social security benefits. If his earnings go above $1,680, he gives up some or all of his benefits, depending upon the amount of his total earnings and how steadily he works."

Greenville Native Named To Humphrey Office Post

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Mrs. Joseph F. L. Miller, a native of Greenville, N.C., has been named assistant in the office of the Director of Public Information, United Democrats for Humphrey.

The former Dorothy Briley, Mrs. Miller was active in many social and civic women's organizations in the East Carolina area — an organizer, speaker and television personality. She began campaigning for the Democratic Party in 1954 and was a charter member of the Pitt County Democratic Women's Club and a delegate to the 1964 North Carolina State Democratic Convention.

A graduate of Johnston-Willis School of Nursing and a former student at East Carolina University where she was a political science major, Mrs. Miller has worked for the past one and one-half years as a volunteer for the Democratic National Committee, and assisted Executive Secretary of Operation Support. She compiled the national registration figures for the 1968 campaign.

Mrs. Miller's husband is an architect with the firm of Vollmer and Associates of New York City and is presently assigned to the Bureau of Research and Engineering of the Post Office Department.

point on a block of 39,700 shares. Ling-Temco-Vought said it had no explanation of the order influx that delayed Jones & Laughlins' opening. LTV said its proposed cash tender offer for Jones & Laughlin had not changed.

Clevite, which has been a popular take-over target recently, jumped more than 5 points on a turnover of only a few thousand shares. Gould-National Batteries is the latest company to make an offer for Clevite stock.

Opening of trading in United Shoe Machinery was delayed on the New York Stock Exchange. It opened with a gain of more than a point after directors proposed a 2-for-1 stock split and said they intended to raise the dividend.

Gains of more than a point were made by Haeltine, Hitco, Youngstown Sheet, Montgomery Ward and General Electric.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market held a small gain in active trading this afternoon.

More than 5.5 million shares changed hands within the first two hours. The New York Stock Exchange ticker tape was one minute late in reporting floor transactions most of the morning.

Mail order-retails and electronics were mostly higher. Rails, oils, airlines and drugs declined.

Changes of key issues were mostly fractional, but a few ranged to a point or so.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was up 1.45 at 893.05.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon had gained .6 to 329.1 with industrials up .9, rails up .9, and utilities off .5.

On a delayed opening, Jones & Laughlin lost about half a

Confined Blaze In Tuesday Fire

"Minor to moderate" is the way fire officers described damage to a building in downtown Greenville building being renovated to house Coffman's Mens Wear and offices.

Fire trucks were called to the 315 Evans St. store and office complex at 7:05 p.m. and found a pile of trash in a room at the rear of the second floor blazing.

Although the fire was quickly extinguished, firemen reported that "minor to moderate smoke, fire and water damage" resulted.

Cause of the blaze was listed as undetermined.

Investigators said the blaze was confined to the one upstairs room, but smoke filtered into offices that have already been completed.

The remainder of the building, that once housed a chain department store, is still being remodeled to accommodate the Coffman's Men Shop, a stock brokerage firm and other offices.

FRIENDLY FACTOR

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP)—A daily ration of beer for four weeks reduced the irritability factor among aging patients in a Seattle nursing home by 86.3 per cent, the Washington Health Facilities Association convention was told by George Marshall, director of the home and public affairs for the Washington Brewers Institute.

Community Notes

The Matrons Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Lena Hines, 1413 W. Sixth St., Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The No. 2 Choir of Cornerstone Baptist Church will have rehearsal Friday night at 7:30 p.m. instead of Wednesday night as previously announced.

The Senior Choir of English Chapel will have rehearsal Thursday night at 7:30 at the church.

The Les Gaylenettes will meet Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Ruby Taylor, 411 Hudson St., instead of Thursday night because of the Eppes High School graduation.

Mrs. Rosa Merritt Harris of 605 Hudson St. is not a member of the Ladies Social Sorority Club. It was incorrectly announced in Friday's edition of the Daily Reflector that the Ladies Social Sorority Club would meet at the home of Mrs. Rosa Merritt, 605 Hudson St.

The Wednesday night Bible Class at Simpson Chapel Church will not meet as previously announced.

AYDEN—St. Paul Disciple Church will have rehearsal tonight at 7:30.

AYDEN—The Senior Choir, ushers officers and members of Little Creek Disciple Church will meet at Good Hope F.W.B. Church, Winterville, tonight at 8 o'clock to participate in the revival services.

The Junior Choir of Sycamore Hill Baptist Church will have rehearsal Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

State JC Post For Local Man

Billy Laughinghouse was elected secretary of the North Carolina Jaycees at the organization's annual convention held in Raleigh last weekend.

Jim Church of Clemmons was named president.

Laughinghouse was part of a group of ten delegates from the Greenville club who attended the meeting.

Laughinghouse has also served as a Jaycee National Director and chairman of the Boys Home Bowl game. He has been editor of the Jaycee state publication for the past two years.

In the local club he has served as a member of the board of directors and as a state director.

He is also chairman of the Greenville Redevelopment Commission and the Chamber of Commerce-Merchants Association.

Laughinghouse is married to the former Jane Kanoy and they have four children. He is vice president of Bostic-Sugg Furniture Co. here, a graduate of ECU and a U. S. Air Force veteran.

Betty Furness Calls For New Action Protecting Consumer

RALEIGH (AP)—Betty Furness, President Johnson's special assistant for consumer affairs, called today for passage of more legislation to protect consumer interests.

"I hope that you . . . will write your congressmen to let them know that you want these bills passed," she said, "because you can be sure that there are other groups who are telling their congressmen that they don't want these bills passed . . . It's up to you . . . to get in the 'Yes' mail."

Miss Furness, former motion picture actress and television personality, said this in a talk prepared for delivery to the newly organized North Carolina Consumers Council.

Legislation which Miss Furness said consumers should support in writing their congressmen would mean:

— "Greater safeguards against land swindles, more protection from dangerous or worthless medical devices, prevention of gas pipeline failures and electric power blackouts, and more safeguards for mutual fund investors."

— "Better fish and poultry inspection."

— "Protection against 'dangerous radiation from television sets and other electronic equipment.'"

— "Provision to 'insure that warranties are not misleading, that guarantees actually guarantee something, and begin an effort to improve repairs and service on consumer products."

She said each of these strikes at "abuses affecting large portions of our population."

She added however, that the consumer "can count some . . . blessings." She pointed to the Wholesale Meat Act and noted that last week the President signed a bill authorizing a major study of automobile insurance on the same day Congress passed the Truth in Lending bill.

"This is the bill we have fought for, for such a long time . . ." she said. "It is indeed a victory for the consumer who at last can shop as widely for credit as for merchandise."

"I wish you success in your attempts to get your own Truth

Two Injured As School Bus And Car Collided

GRIFTON — Two persons were injured when a school bus and car collided five miles east of here on N. C. 118 about 3:45 p.m. Monday.

According to Highway Patrolman F. L. Owens, a bus driven by Jimmy Benjamin Wall, 18 of Route 1, Grifton apparently pulled from a side road onto the highway and into the path of a car driven by Mrs. Helen Wayde McGlohon of Grifton.

Mrs. McGlohon and her 16-year-old daughter, Gloria, were injured in the crash that resulted.

Trooper Owens said no one on the school bus was hurt.

Investigation of the crash is continuing.

Obituary

Watson

Ernest Hunt Watson, 26, manager of the State Theatre, died Sunday morning at his home of a heart attack.

Funeral services were held today at Straits Methodist Church by the Rev. Carry Brigrman. Burial followed in the church cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Patty Catherine Watson; his mother, Mrs. Fannie Chadwick Watson, of Kinston; one sister, Mrs. Donald Hamilton of Carrollton, Tex.

He was a native of Kinston and a member of the Queen Street Methodist Church in Kinston.

SPACE SYSTEM TESTED

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union said today it has successfully tested "a spacecraft landing system" in the mid-Pacific. The system is believed related to sending men to the moon and bringing them back safely.

In Lending Bill through the state legislature," she told the group.
