Abby Now At Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Tropical storm Abby, blamed for seven deaths in Florida, hurled 65-mile-an-hour winds at Jacksonville Beach today, toppling trees and power lines and flooding streets.

Described by weathermen as a poorly organized storm, Abby spun north in the Atlantic near Latitude 29.3 north, Longitude 81.0, a short distance north of Daytona Beach.

Storm warnings and a hurricane watch are in effect from Melbourne to Charleston, S.C. Small craft as far north as Cape Fear, N.C., were warned to stay in port.

"Heavy rains will spread into the extreme eastern portion of Georgia this morning and into most of South Carolina this afternoon and tonight," the National Hurricane Center at Miami said. "Some local flooding is likely."

Forecasters warned of rough seas and tides three to five feet above normal along the northeast Florida coast during the morning, reaching similar levels later in the day along the Georgia coast to Charleston.

N.C. Revenues Zoomed

RALEIGH (AP) — Sparked by big gains in sales and income taxes, North Carolina's revenue collections zoomed $5.8 million during May to a total of $72.6 million, revenue Commissioner I. L. Clayton said Wednesday.

Income taxes brought the state a total of $24.9 million last month for a $1.7 million gain over the same month last year while the sales tax rose $2.1 million to $18.5 million.

The state's general fund took in a total of $57 million in May compared with $52.5 million a year ago, while highway fund collections rose from $14.4 million to $15.7 million.

Collections for the first 11 months of the fiscal year totaled $801.2 million, a gain of $51.8 million, or 6.92 per cent over the same period a year ago.

Randolph Churchill Dies

LONDON (AP) — Randolph Churchill, only son of the late Sir Winston Churchill, died early today. He was 57.

Cause of death was not stated. A statement from his son said: "Mr. Randolph Churchill died peacefully at his home in Suffolk in the early hours of this morning after a short illness. The funeral will be private. Arrangements for a memorial service will be announced later."

Randolph Churchill's home was at East Bergholt in County Suffolk, eastern England. It was there that he was working on the volumes about his father when death overtook him. So far two of the volumes, describing Churchill's boyhood and early political career, have been published.

Welcome 'Every Person'

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Southern Baptists approved a statement welcoming every person into the church regardless of race or class and elected a Texas as minister president Wednesday.

About 15,000 messengers at the 11th annual session of the Southern Baptist Convention named Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Dallas, to head the nation's largest Protestant organization.

"We will personally accept every Christian as a brother beloved in the Lord and welcome to the fellowship of faith and worship every person irrespective of race or class," said the new statement of policy.

Reports of theological seminars, boards and commissions highlight today's activities of the conference, which runs through Friday night.

Dr. Criswell, 60, defeated Owen Cooper, a layman from Yazoo City, Miss., for the presidency. They were the only two men on the ballot.

Cooper, president of the Mississippi Chemical Co., defeated three other candidates for first vice president.

French Transport Moving

PARIS (AP) — Public transport began moving today throughout most of France after 20 days of strikes and social turmoil. Paris subway and bus lines quickly reached a virtually normal level of operation.

Railroad services, both long distance and suburban, started up at the North, St. Lazare, Montparnasse, Invalides and Lyon stations.

Only the taxis were still absent from the streets of Paris. The drivers are to decide Friday whether to return to work.

In view of the uncertainty of the transport situation early this morning, many suburban Parisians drove to work. Huge traffic jams built up and drivers appeared to lose the unaccustomed patience and good humor they had shown earlier frequently erupted. Paris was returning to normal.

Oppose Phone Rates Cut

RALEIGH (AP) — Representatives of North Carolina telephone companies were unanimous Wednesday in their opposition to a rate reduction. They told the State Utilities Commission they were more inclined to ask for a rate boost.

The possibility of a reduction in rates arose last fall when units of the Bell system and independent phone companies received some benefits from a Federal Communications Commission investigation of American Telephone and Telegraph, parent company of the Bell system.

The companies told the commission that the impending 10 per cent income tax surcharge will more than offset any benefits they might have received from the FCC ruling.

They also pointed to increased costs of labor and postage and rising interest rates on capital as they pleaded against a rate reduction.

Budget For Snow Hill Is Reviewed

SNOW HILL—The Snow Hill town board Tuesday night reviewed $83,534 proposed budget for the 1968-69 fiscal year and gave it their tentative approval.

The proposed budget is an increase of approximately $28,000 over the present rate of expenditures.

The increase is due largely to a recently acquired water system. Town officials reported that no tax rate hike or increase in water or sewer rates would have to be made.

The board also granted a franchise to the North Carolina Natural Gas Corporation allowing the firm to come into Snow Hill with its services.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert L. Walters, eighth-grader from Russell, Kan., won today the 41st National Spelling Bee championship.

Saddened Kennedy Family Taking Senator's Body Home For Rites

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, felled like his President brother by an assassin's bullet, died early today.

His mourning family prepared to take his body home to New York, across the nation Kennedy had hoped to lead as president.

And on Saturday, the senator is to be buried in Arlington National Cemetery, at the hillside plot which is the resting place of his brother, the late John F. Kennedy.

Robert Kennedy, 42, never regained consciousness, never showed signs of recovery after a savage burst of revolver fire sent a bullet plunging into his brain—at the pinnacle of his own campaign for the White House.

Kennedy, his pregnant wife, Ethel at his bedside, died at 1:44 a.m. PDT, little more than 24 hours after the assault at the Ambassador Hotel.

Kennedy's body was to be flown from Los Angeles to New York later today on a jet airplane provided by the White House.

Pierre Salinger, former presidential press secretary, said the body would lie in state Friday at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City.

A Requiem Mass will be held there Saturday morning. Salinger said Kennedy would be buried late Saturday in Arlington, across the Potomac River from Washington, where an eternal flame flickers in memory of John Kennedy, slain four years and seven months ago.

In preparation for Kennedy's last journey, a post mortem was under way at Good Samaritan hospital in downtown Los Angeles.

President Johnson, the man who succeeded President Kennedy, issued a proclamation calling for a national day of mourning for the senator next Sunday.

As Kennedy died, the man accused of shooting him was under heavy guard at a downtown prison hospital, held in $250,000 bail for a court appearance which had been scheduled Monday.

Sirhan Bishara Sirhan was accused of wielding the .22-caliber revolver which cut down Kennedy and wounded five other people early Wednesday as the senator and his supporters celebrated victory in the California presidential primary.

Kennedy's mother, Mrs. Rose Kennedy, was told of the death of her son by a niece, Ann Gargan. She was at Hyannis Port, Mass. Mrs. Kennedy—who had campaigned for Robert in the presidential primaries—went to mass at St. Francis Xavier Church.

Mrs. Kennedy had talked by telephone with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., the family's lone surviving son, who was at Robert's bedside at the end.

Kennedy was surrounded by members of his family when he died.

Salinger said Ethel, the widow, "is bearing up very well."

Mrs. John F. Kennedy, widow of the assassinated President, was in her brother-in-law's room when he died.

Two of Kennedy's sisters, Mrs. Stephen Smith and Mrs. Patricia Lawford, were there, too.

Salinger said three of Kennedy's 10 children were in an adjacent room and saw their father before he died.

Pale and haggard, Frank Mankiewicz, Kennedy's press secretary, announced the death to newsmen.

"Sen. Robert Francis Kennedy died at 1:44 a.m. today," he began.

Then he answered questions. What was the specific cause of death?

Mankiewicz looked up numbly. "The gunfire attack," he said.

Ayden Woman Driver Injured As Car Runs In Path Of Train

WINTERVILLE — An Ayden woman was injured last night when she drove her car into the path of a Seaboard-Coast Line Railroad train at the Cooper Street crossing here.

The car, driven by Mrs. Janice Foster Manning, 32 of 707 West Seventh St., Ayden, was demolished in the collision, according to Highway Patrolman Billy Day.

Mrs. Foster was admitted to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries she received in the 11 p.m. crash.

Trooper Day, who reported minor damage resulted to the train engine, said the train was headed south at about 30 miles per hour at the time of the collision. He quoted witnesses as saying the Manning car, traveling eastward along Cooper Street, ran into the path of the train.

The car was pushed along the railroad bed and came to rest 122 feet from the point of impact, reported a -alive BlhvhSJmw pact at the intersection. The engine stopped some 965 feet from the intersection, Ptl. Day reported.

The officer said the trains whistle had been sounding before the collision.

Engineer of the freight was identified as Herbert Gray Corvey of 1104 West Wright Rd. No charges were placed.

HIT BY TRAIN . . . This vehicle was demolished when it collided with a Seaboard-Coastline Railroad engine in Winterville last night.

First Hint Of Convention Disunity

Hawkins Asks 25 Per Cent Demo Delegates Be Negro

RALEIGH (AP) — Defeated gubernatorial candidate Reginald Hawkins demanded at the state Democratic convention today that at least 25 per cent of North Carolina's national convention delegates be Negroes.

The demand, made in a resolution submitted for action, was the first open sign of possible disunity at the convention, expected to produce a slate of delegates overwhelmingly in favor of the presidential bid of Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

Hawkins, a Charlotte Negro dentist, minister and civil rights leader, gave his proposed resolution to the convention's platform and resolutions committee.

The committee planned to meet before the formal opening of the day's convention session to consider that resolution and any others submitted.

Hawkins said that if the committee should reject his resolution, "We will carry our fight to the National Democratic Committee and to the National Democratic Convention."

Several bus loads of Hawkins' supporters arrived in Raleigh from various sections of the state for the convention.

Hawkins ran third in the May 4 gubernatorial primary.

State party Chairman Tim Valentine Jr., had said previously that he was opposed to any plan to give a specified percentage of the state's delegates to any group.

Even before the death today of Presidential contender Robert Kennedy, Humphrey was a solid choice of North Carolina Democrats.

The delegates were expected to shout their approval of a resolution to make Gov. Dan Moore the state's first favorite son candidate for President and authorizing him to release the state's national convention delegates whenever he wishes.

The delegates then would be free to vote for any of the major presidential contenders. Humphrey was expected to be their odds-on choice.

The convention was to get underway at noon after the Democrats met this morning in 11 congressional district caucuses.

After selecting their national convention delegates, the Tar Heel Democrats are expected to adopt a platform which call for:

- A boost in the pay of teachers and other professional school personnel to the national average.
- A hike in expenditure per pupil in the public schools to the national average.
- An increase in the state's $1 minimum wage.
- And opposes any increase in taxes.

With unity as the watchword among the Democrats since last month's primary election, little or no controversy was expected at the conclave.

A total of 74 delegates were to be named to cast the state's 59 national convention votes.

Each of the 11 congressional district caucuses were to choose four delegates and 30 at-large delegates were to be named by the convention itself on the recommendation of Gov. Dan Moore, state party chairman Tim Valentine Jr., and National Committeemen William E. (Billy) Webb in consultation with Lt. Gov. Bob Scott, the Democratic nominee for governor.

Funny-Talking Sister From Vermont Ridiculed By Brother

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I was born in Vermont, where I lived for over 50 years. Now, owing to ill health, I am living with a younger brother in Nevada.

I have had little formal education, and my brother and his wife are both college graduates. To them, my way of speaking is hilariously funny. Even their children will repeat something I have said, and the whole family will laugh uproariously.

My brother will say, "We're having company tonight. Stick around. They'll get a kick out of hearing you talk." Should I be flattered? Or should I suggest they charge admission?

I respect my brother and his family for their kindness to me, but how does one keep from feeling resentment? I sometimes wonder if others are also going thru the same thing, and if so, how do they handle it?

HURT
DEAR HURT: In all probability, your brother and his family are not aware of how you feel. So tell them. People with accents, (southern, Yankee, eastern, midwestern, and foreign) are frequently the objects of "curiosity," away from home.

Of course it is rude and unkind to laugh at such a person, even tho the laughter may be more from amusement than ridicule.

DEAR ABBY: Unlike the 14-year-old girl whose problem was a mustache, our 13-year-old daughter, Cynthia, has thick, black sideburns which are very conspicuous.

I think they look terrible and when she goes anywhere with me, I make her comb her hair to hide them, but Cynthia thinks they look so "neat" she loops her hair over her ears to show them off!

Abby, she tries to tell me they are "in" now. In fact, she picked up a newspaper at a barbershop showing an ad of "HIS AND HER" sideburns, sold by some wig-maker in New York. (Do they actually make such items, or is it a joke?)

Cynthia boasts that she's the only 7th grader (male or female) with genuine sideburns—like Dino Martin.

I never thought I would produce a freak like her. Maybe she'll outgrow it, but in the meantime, will you pray for us?

PASS CHRISTIAN, MISS.
DEAR PASS: The only problem I see here is a mother who is making a problem where none exists. Let the child alone. When Cynthia's sideburns become a liability to HER, together you can find a solution. In the meantime, I'll pray for a better understanding between you two.

DEAR ABBY: Last year we put in a swimming pool. Please don't get the idea that we are millionaires. We aren't. We're just average folks in moderate circumstances. We like to share our pool with our neighbors, but some people don't know when enough is enough.

We started serving soft drinks to the kids, and beer to the adults, but that didn't last long. We did a bigger business than the Country Club.

How can we let our neighbors know that there are days when we've invited guests, and the whole neighborhood gang is not invited? I know we should not have been so big-hearted last year, but now that we realize our mistake, what should we do?

PORTOLA VALLEY
DEAR PORTOLA VALLEY: Fly a little "flag" on a pole to let your neighbors know that the pool is open for "all." If you plan a private party, no flag. Then educate your neighbors. It's as simple as that.

DEAR ABBY: You were much too gentle in your answer to the teen-ager who looked her mother in the eye with hate and said, "I DON'T OWE YOU ANYTHING. I DIDN'T ASK TO BE BORN."

If she were my daughter, I would have said, "That's right, and I didn't HAVE to raise you either. I could have sent you to an orphanage."

Where Does It All End, America?

What is this nation coming to? Still haunting the average American is the scene of a President slain in a Dallas street a little more than four years ago.

Still ringing in our ears is the shot which took the life of Dr. Martin Luther King just two months ago as he strode onto the balcony of a Memphis motel.

Now Sen. Robert Kennedy, brother of the slain President and himself a candidate for the nation's highest office, lies dead, victim of bullets from an assassin's pistol.

If the nation finds itself sick at heart, there is good reason. It must find the source of the sickness which has brought about the slayings and the attempted assassinations. It must isolate and cure the disease which has prevailed men's minds in this free nation and turned thoughts to silencing through death those with whom they disagree.

Where did it begin and where does it end? No one can answer for sure.

There are those who see it all as part of some huge, dark conspiracy aimed at sowing the seeds of division and destruction among the nation's citizens. Others see it as the workings of individual sick, small minds, deranged by obscure objectives, agitated by events of our time, and driven by some blind devotion to indefinable causes.

The greater tragedy is that there seems to be no end to the chain of events. Tragedy has beget tragedy and violence has beget violence.

As Americans shake their heads in dismay, they should also find themselves reassessing their own feelings, their own reactions and their own means of responding to their responsibilities of citizenship in this democracy.

This is the time for the people who make up these United States to stop and take stock of their situation. It is time for a deep and searching re-evaluation of our values, our motives and of our individual citizenship responsibilities. It is a time for genuinely testing our belief in the rights of every man to speak freely and to express himself openly. It is a time for testing our individual beliefs in the rights of every citizen and the responsibility of every citizen to see to respect and protect the rights of others as well as his own rights.

Assassins' bullets cannot destroy this democracy. But the kind of sickness which underlies them is the kind of sickness which may.

Heads May Roll In Demo Party

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau
RALEIGH — When Democrats get together, as they are this week in Raleigh, usually something is in the wind.

This time it may be a change in party organization leadership. Some are asking who will Robert W. (Bob) Scott choose to replace the present state chairman, I. T. (Tim) Valentine Jr. And will Valentine be retained through the national convention in August? And who will be appointed to the national committee?

Usually after a primary such as that on May 4 there is a change in political party leadership.

WILLIAM SHIRES

This year change has been slower, perhaps because the party emphasized unity and burying the hatchets and decided to hold its state convention more than a month after the primaries. But the end result, as eventual takeover by Bob Scott's choices, will be the same. Scott, as titular head of the party, will make the crucial decisions and plan the timing.

Heads Will Roll

Chances are that heads will roll in the top party echelons. Most sources predict that Valentine will resign shortly after the party convention this week.

It may be that he — with Scott's consent — will stay on through the national convention in August. But Scott may want another chairman.

And seldom do Democrats of North Carolina get together without discussing the B. Dan Moore, appointed Webb as national committee member.

Webb supported Dr. I. Beverly Lake for governor. And it became known prior to the national convention in Atlantic City, N.J., that Webb also signed a petition favoring the candidacy of Gov. George Wallace of Alabama being listed on the ballot in North Carolina. There were immediate demands for Webb's resignation or dismissal. Moore refused, saying he did not feel Webb's signing a Wallace petition meant any disloyalty or defection from the Democratic party. Moore stood firm, and the state's convention delegation — after a speech by the late Rep. Herbert Bonner and a swaying speech by former Gov. Luther Hodges — stopped the move to rebuke Moore's choice. Webb stayed on, and most party sources say he has been the most effective national committee member in state history.

Humphrey Friend

No longer is Webb identified as a supporter of Dr. Lake but primarily as a close, personal friend of Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

Humphrey frequently calls Webb for advice and counsel on political moves both in North Carolina and elsewhere in the South. And it is Webb who may be able to move North Carolina's national convention delegation almost entirely into the Humphrey camp.

Sanford Also Working

They are poles apart politically in North Carolina, but former Gov. Terry Sanford is another force working on behalf of Humphrey behind the political scenes.

What is left of Terry Sanford's former political organization — from the years 1958-65 — is substantial and forceful. No one should overlook it. Webb's connection with Humphrey is largely on a personal basis. Insurance man Billy Webb has no political organization behind him. He simply works and asks for help on the basis of knowledge and sincerity. He is trying now to help Humphrey. So is Sanford's organization, and this is a huge and powerful political force.

In any event, Humphrey will benefit from either effort.

Indirect Approach By Supreme Court Decree

The Supreme Court may again have succeeded in achieving by decree what has been attempted unsuccessfully through proper legislative channels.

Its assertion that "no defendant can constitutionally be put to death at the hands of a tribunal" in which those opposed to capital punishment were automatically excluded poses a new concept in the system of justice.

If this decision subsequently is construed to mean that a juror may not be excluded from duty in a capital case because he does not believe in capital punishment, there is little use in seeking capital punishment.

Obviously a person would not be allowed to sit on a jury if he acknowledged beforehand that he believed every person accused of capital crime should be given capital punishment. By the same token, a person who does not believe in capital punishment under any circumstance should not be asked to sit on a jury where a capital offense is being tried.

The American system of justice demands that adequate protection be given the rights of the defendant. That same system, however, decrees that a fair trial must be fair to society as well as to the defendant.

Foreign Eyes View America

LONDON (AP) — Viewed through various foreign eyes, the United States is a place where life is a rat race, the "new politics" is an expensive version of the old variety and British tourists may run into financial difficulty.

"Life in the United States of America, in fact, is a veritable rat race and only those who can stand the pace make it to the top," Malaysian Finance Minister Tan Siew Sin told a financial management seminar in Kuala Lumpur.

"Whatever may be the shortcomings of the mightiest and richest nation in the world, we must at least admit that they work hard from the very top downwards," Tan said.

In an Associated Press sampling of foreign opinion, a warning to Britons thinking of visiting America came from Ivor Key, New York correspondent of the London Daily Express.

"Don't come," he wrote, "unless you have a friend or relative to stay with."

Key said two plane loads of British tourists in New York recently had trouble getting by on the $156 their government allowed each of them for a 17-day holiday.

"Before setting off, they were told by an airline that if they stayed in a modest hotel they would have about $5 a day to live on, and might even be able to afford a boat trip around Manhattan and ride up the Empire State Building, but with hamburgers and the cheapest sandwich costing 84 cents and a glass of beer 60 cents they are cutting their budget a bit fine," he wrote.

"One of them insisted on taking an American friend for a few drinks and dinner at a modest restaurant. It cost him $30 and almost broke him for the rest of the trip."

Peter Jenkins, covering the American presidential campaign for the British newspaper Guardian, discussed the new politics.

"There does seem to be some desire for greater political participation and it may grow; within a few years half the population of America is going to be aged under 25," Jenkins wrote.

"All of the candidates are conscious of a situation of changing political patterns and are staking out special claims to the shifting elements. But it's far too simple, and almost certainly not true, to see this as a struggle of the 'people against the politicians.' It looks more like a struggle between one set of politicians and another, between the 'outs,' and the 'ins'—and there is nothing very novel about that.

"What are called the 'new politics' strike the observer as very much like the old politics practiced in a changing situation with the aid of new techniques and at vastly increased expense."

Brewer Delivers Address At Closing Exercises Of Greenville High School

Stressing the need of education in public life today, Dr. Charles E. Brewer of Raleigh, president of Meredith College, delivered the annual literary address at the graduating exercises of Greenville High School held in the campus building of the East Carolina Teachers College here last night. Lined across the stage two deep, with two spot lights from the balconies playing upon them, the graduates formed a striking picture of life and beauty—one that will live long in the memories of Greenville people. The class was predominated by young women, each carrying large bouquets that added color and life under the glare of the powerful spot lights played upon them as a concluding feature.

Doesn't Need Primaries

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) —Four years ago George Wallace racked up 30 per cent of the vote or better in Democratic primaries for president in Indiana, Wisconsin and Maryland.

The heavy balloting for the then governor of Alabama, known principally as a foe of racial integration, was widely interpreted as a white backlash vote.

But this year the name of Wallace has attracted little attention in the primaries, and he has looked to his critics like a fading candidate.

Not so, says Bill Jones, coordinator of Wallace's campaign. He says the primary outcome was anticipated and was due to the grand strategy of the campaign.

The reason: Wallace decided this time to run as a third-party candidate and to stay out of Democratic primaries. So his efforts had been toward getting on the ballot in November, not on the primaries.

"Primaries are designed to get convention votes," said Jones. "We're not interested in the conventions. We're running in November."

Starting Thursday, Wallace will resume the public campaign he dropped for a month because of his wife's death from cancer. He will swing through a three-day speaking tour in Maine, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Maryland.

His goal: To give impetus to petition drives in those states to get his name on the ballot.

His campaign headquarters says he already has met the ballot requirements in 22 other states and has petition drives going in five more. Jones said he expects to get on the ballot in every state except perhaps Alaska, Idaho and Ohio.

"We're running to win," Wallace has said. But few political analysts rate him better than a potential spoiler who in a close race could keep either of the major candidates from getting the required majority of elector-

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
CONFLICT BETTER THAN SECURITY

A state government some time ago fenced in a large area in order to keep therein all varieties of wild game. It was not only impossible for the game to leave but also for hunters or animals of prey to enter that area.

After several years, the government checked upon the animals within the area and the animals outside. They found among those inside the enclosure a much larger percentage of the weak and unhealthy than among the animals that were out in the open. The struggle necessitated by freedom of the range made the surviving animals strong. It was an easy existence for the animals that lived within the enclosed portion, but it was a debilitating existence also.

Life is built on conflict. Whether we like it or not, we must confess as we look frankly at life that struggle makes us strong and protection of all sorts makes us weak.

Don't complain if you have burdens to bear or problems to solve or battles to fight. These things make men and women in whom God takes much joy. And the life of conflict, when we live it cheerfully and courageously, is a thousand times better than a drab life hedged in by protecting fences of security.

Some Guide Posts

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — It is nice to know, where you're with another person, what sex that person is.

Men, for example, traditionally feel more free to be themselves, are more at ease, even speak in a different manner if they are in the company of other men. They are also usually more boisterous and less boyish.

Women, on the other hand, when in the company of women show just the opposite traits. They are more ill at ease, less free to be themselves, and in many cases profoundly less feminine and fun-worthy.

HAL BOYLE

One of the increasing problems of civilization is how to tell one sex from the other. The passion for conformity appears to be gradually destroying many of the recognizable differences between the sexes.

Here are a few guidelines that help the interested bystander distinguish the hims from the hers:

If it likes, while swigging something straight from a paper cup, to stand in the backyard and brag about the barbecue sauce it has concocted, it is a man. If it would rather go to an indoor cocktail party and gab what it doesn't know about baseball and politics, it is a woman.

Does it punch you in the ribs while it tells a merry story? Has to be a buck. Does it place a soft but infinitely restraining hand upon your army while it tells you its troubles? Has to be a doe.

The one that says, "Let's have another one," can be safely described as male. The one that inquires, "Oh, do you really think I should?" is undoubtedly female.

Out to the incinerator to deliver the garbage with a grim air of resignation trudges the husband. Out to the incinerator with a burst of oratory, "This isn't the way it happens in the apartment next door—after all, SHE is married to a civilized man," walks a burdened wife.

Does it accept love as a bond and a mystery that must be taken for granted? That's the eternal lad. Must it be assured of love and does it demand that love's mystery be expressed in words, however lame and unhelpful, as well as in conduct, however eloquently mutual? That's the eternal lass.

Not Much Rise In Food Prices

By ELMER ROESSNER
Food prices haven't gone up very much.

Don't scream. Don't let your blood pressure rise over that statement. It's true. What has gone up more are the things associated with food.

Consider, for instance, Mrs. von Garfinkel's most recent tally into the supermarket. Her tape totals $20. "A few years ago I could have got as much food for $10," she complains.

So she could. Yet prices of food itself have not gone up very much.

Take taxes. Most states and cities exempt food from sales taxes. Yet the taxes hidden in a $20 grocery bill may approximate $3.50. The producer, the processor, the transporters, and all others involved must add their property, corporation, Social Security, unemployment and other taxes to the price as they pass the food along. One authority calculated that a loaf of bread carried more than 100 taxes in the price.

Plus The Market's Taxes

To these must be added the taxes the market pays: the taxes on the store, on its parking lot, on its profits, on its Social Security and unemployment taxes, and its local and state taxes with more layers than a napoleon.

ELMER ROESSNER

The $20 grocery take also includes approximately $1.50 for cans, bottles, printing, labels, cellophane, cartons and other elements of packaging. Since Mrs. von Garfinkel is fond of frozen foods, her bill also includes the cost of keeping it frozen in the store, say, about 85 cents.

The biggest hidden cost is that of transportation, since food must be moved from farm to processor, from processor to warehouses perhaps half way across the country, from warehouses to markets. Teamsters' wages are high, so are the rates for rail and boat transportation. Roughly, about $4.75 of her bill pays for moving things from there to here. In-Store Costs

There are heavy expenses that must be added to the prices of food once it arrives in the store. It must be stored and distributed, priced, checked out and bagged, and somewhere in that $20 is a penny to pay for stolen carts. In addition, prices must be marked up to cover the losses from breakage, spoilage, shoplifting and its prevention, utilities, depreciation, management and, usually, some profit. Let's estimate this at $2.72.

The market must carry fire, theft and riot insurance, and these have shot up as a result of riots. Reserves must also be built up to cover uninsured losses. Total, about 44 cents on $20 sales.

And if the store gives stamps, there's another 40 cents. That leaves $5.84 for the food itself. So food hasn't gone up very much. Mrs. von Garfinkel could have got as much for $10 a few years ago when there were not so many taxes and other extras.

These figures are not based on any analytic breakdown of a $20 cart of food. Such an analysis would be almost impossible. It would take the Ford Foundation a million dollars and a year to make a precise calculation, and by that time all the figures would be out of date. They are mere guesstimates; some were just drawn out of a hat. But they do show why prices of food itself have not gone up as much as many people think. And some of those figures may be correct to the penny.

Fatalist Robert Kennedy Expected A Violent End

By JJOSEPH E. MOHBAT
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy always sensed it would come some day.

"I play Russian roulette every time I get up in the morning," he would tell friends.

"But I just don't care," he said. "There's nothing I could do about it anyway."

Kennedy has been described as a fatalist, one who never looked beyond the next moment and who was prepared for tragedy any day.

Today, after he had died of wounds inflicted by an assassin, the memory of a long, introspective, and rare conversation surfaced in the minds of the few who had heard it.

Kennedy was relaxing in the rear of the four-engine Lockheed Electra winging through the night sky, taking him home to Hickory Hill after a rigorous week of Midwestern campaigning.

He had a dark, brown drink, and he idly swirled the ice cubes with an index finger as he spoke broodingly gazing out at the stars and the light of towns below.

Wasn't he concerned, he was asked, about the perils of such wild crowds as he had attracted that day and nearly every day of his presidential campaign?

"No," the candidate said, "I just don't worry about that. There's so sense in worrying about those things. If they want you, they can get you."

Did he think someone would seek to harm him one day?

He thought for perhaps 30 seconds and then said, "Well, let's not talk about that."

A reporter thought of his brother, John F. Kennedy, assassinated; of an older brother killed in wartime; of his wife's parents' and his close friend, Dean Markham, killed in plane crashes.

But wouldn't it be a national crisis if one of his stature were to be harmed, after the violence to his brother and to Martin Luther King Jr.?

"Perhaps it would, I suppose so," Robert Kennedy said. "But what can I do about that?"

"I'll tell you one thing: If I'm elected president you won't find me riding around in any of those awful cars."

He was referring to the closed, armored presidential limousine President Johnson has used since John F. Kennedy's motorcade assassination.

Bobby Kennedy would ride in open cars, he said, so the people could see their president.

"Of course, I worry about what would happen to my family, to the children," Kennedy mused that early spring night on the plane. "But they're well taken care of, and there's really nothing else I can do, is there? So I really don't care about anything happening to me."

And then there was a long pause: "This isn't really such a happy existence, is it?"

Big Show Awaits NC Guardsmen

RALEIGH—The North Carolina National Guardsmen going to Fort Stewart, Ga., next week have more to look forward to than pulling guard duty working night problems and peeling potatoes.

A variety show, featuring Billy Joe Royal, Tommy Dean and his All-Girl Revue, and the Hammond Sisters has been scheduled for Saturday night, June 15.

It will be a three-hour spectacle, beginning at 7 p.m., and will climax an active day which will include a 30th Division Review in the morning. "It's the biggest show we've ever had in my 24 years in the Guard," said Maj. George Gay, who was instrumental in arranging the performance for Fort Stewart.

"We tried to get a variety of music to fit all age groups, because we've got men from 18 years old to 50 or 60 in the Guard."

"These troops will be a long way from home with no transportation," Gay explained, "and we wanted to give them something to do."

The first settlers on the present site of Hartford, Conn., were the Dutch, who built a fort there in 1633.

ECU 'College Queen' To Pageant

By DONNA DIXON
Reflector Staff Writer
Miss Linda Tetterton, a junior at East Carolina University, has been selected as the new "North Carolina College Queen." As one of the most outstanding college students in the state, she has earned a trip to New York City and to West Palm Beach, Fla. where she will compete for the title of "National College Queen." Based on her scholastic accomplishments and her leadership in campus activities, Miss Tetterton was chosen for the competition by the National College Queen Judges. She will leave for New York Friday from Raleigh - Durham Airport. The finalists from 50 states will spend four days in New York, one in Washington, D.C. and five in West Palm Beach, Fla. for the national competition.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse W. Tetterton, Jr. of 700 Willow Street, Miss Tetterton was nominated for the state competition by her sorority, Kappa Delta.

telephone by the National Pageant Director that she was the new state queen.

Miss Tetterton termed her reaction to the news as one of "excitement and anticipation." A political science major, Miss Tetterton has earned a scholarship, and is one of the top ten students in the Political Science Department. She participates in the Honors Program and has been on the Dean's List or Honor Roll for every quarter since entering college. She has been secretary of the Tutorial Society and vice president of her pledge class in Kappa Delta sorority.

Her activities include membership in the Student Party, the Women's Honor Council and Canterbury. A college marshal, in May, she was notified by Miss Tetterton has been a day

For three years she has worked part-time at the University Union and the library. A volunteer tutor among underprivileged children, Miss Tetterton has helped in Operation Head Start.

The 20-year old coed plans to attend graduate school and begin a career with the U. S. Foreign Service in Europe.

Miss Tetterton's favorite sports are tennis, hiking, swimming and basketball. She lists her most enjoyable hobbies as sewing, dancing and reading.

The Annual National College Queen Pageant is planned to select and honor America's most outstanding college girl. It is neither a beauty pageant nor a genius contest. The finalists, one from each of the 50 states, are selected for their scholastic achievement, campus leadership and community service. During the pageant the girls participate in a series of competitive events and are judged on many aspects of campus, career and home life. They discuss such subjects as education, current events, art, literature, fashion and careers. Their intelligence plus their poise, personality and good grooming all are considered. The highest cumulative score achieved in the events will determine the 1968 National College Queen.

The new queen, to be crowned on June 17 during a one hour TV color spectacular will receive numerous awards and pri-cluding a trip to Europe, a new car and a complete wardrobe.

The bidding:
South West North East
1 3 4 NT Pass
5 Pass 6 Pass

The artificial method for showing aces in response to a Blackwood four no trump bid was used by North to make South the declarer at six hearts, and preserve the partnership from a fatal assault on the opening lead.

South opened the bidding with one spade and West made a preemptive jump overcall of three diamonds. His holding offers little in the way of defense and yet has considerable playing strength. If partner has a few fitting values, the foundation for a profitable sacrifice may be uncovered.

North's hand was worth 30 points including high cards and distribution and he was convinced that the partnership was well within the slam range. He was quite convinced in fact, once South opened the bidding, that the winning of 12 tricks would be routine. The only question in North's mind was whether the opposition was in position to defeat the slam by taking the first two tricks.

From the bidding, it was clear that West's strength was concentrated in diamonds. South was marked with at least two aces to warrant his opening bid, and in all probability—he also had something in spades. His diamond holding then was the key to the slam. North feared that if he became the declarer at six hearts, a diamond lead thru South's holding would prove fatal if the latter did not have the ace.

If North were to make himself the dummy, however, the slam would be safe provided that South held as much as the king in the diamond suit. With West on lead, the opposition could be limited to one trick.

North was willing to gamble that his partner had one of the diamond controls. He, therefore, bid four no trump asking for aces. When South made the expected response of five hearts, showing two aces, North proceeded to slam in the same suit. South was a little surprised at the prospect of becoming the declarer when he only had three hearts, but he felt obliged to rely on his partner's judgment and he accordingly passed.

The slam proved to be a laydown, for West could do no better than cash his ace of diamonds. North is the declarer, it may be observed that a diamond lead would have defeated the slam.

Scott, Gardner Have Energy For Hard Campaign

By MICHAEL PUTZEL
Associated Press Writer

RALEIGH (AP) — Two aggressive young men, Lt. Gov. Bob Scott and Rep. Jim Gardner, R-N.C., are showing the energy and appetite for a long campaign in the race for North Carolina's governorship.

Scott, 38, is a Haw River dairyman, son of one of the state's best-remembered governors, the late W. Kerr Scott, and a Democrat.

Gardner, 35, is a freshman Republican in Congress and a businessman from Rocky Mount who helped pilot the Hardee hamburger chain into a $35 million-a-year diversified industry.

Both candidates ran relatively "clean" primary campaigns, making few direct attacks on their opponents, but Gardner took occasional jabs at Scott even before the May 4 election of nominees.

Gardner accused the Democrat of being a "phantom candidate" who failed to appear on platforms when all candidates had been invited.

Scott has proposed a "Program for Progress" and Gardner a "Crusade for Progress," but specific solutions to the state's problems have not been the center of attention in either campaign.

"All the issues are on our side," says Gardner, who blames 67 years of Democratic control of state government for the state's low ranking in education, teachers' salaries, per capita income, industrial wages and highway construction.

Scott, despite his lost as lieutenant governor, also has attempted to appeal to the voters as an administration "outsider." His strongest attacks have been against the North Carolina Highway Department leadership, and he has pledged to devote his efforts to the same problems which Gardner blames on the Democrats.

Both men favor public kindergartens and higher teachers' salaries, though Gardner has said salaries cannot be raised to the national average in less than four or five years.

Both have pledged to attack poverty and low wages by attracting new industry and training young people to qualify for skilled positions.

One of the major differences in the two candidates' proposals might be labeled Gardner's emphasis on use of private enterprise to tackle problems which Scott would solve with government agencies.

The Republican nominee has recommended giving tax reductions to industry in return for cooperation in vocational training programs, granting scholarships to college students and controlling water pollution.

Scott has suggested that vocational training programs in public high schools be expanded and extended to the junior high school level. He has praised the state Water and Air Resources Department for its efforts to control pollution and has called for a broad survey of natural resource conservation needs.

Gardner also promised during the primary campaign he would name a nonpolitical "task force" to study means of eliminating waste in government spending and a businessmen's study group to examine the tax structure.

The campaign style of the two candidates presents both similarities and contrasts.

Scott is a tall, dark-haired man whose dark suit hang from his broad shoulders a bit uncomfortably. He feels most at home on his farm or talking shop in a roadside store, but he also has the ability to speak articulately to a well-dressed crowd in a city auditorium.

Gardner, his hair prematurely grey and his suits tailored to his slim frame, is at his best behind a podium. He regularly disregards the prepared text to launch a spirited extemporaneous attack on Democrats in general. His dapper clothes make him look like an outsider in a country store, but his pronounced eastern North Carolina accent appeals to many of those he meets on the streets of his home district or in counties down east.

Both candidates have professional staffs responsible for planning their campaigns, but each is an astute politician who prefers to make for himself key decisions about strategy and organization.

The general election campaign will be expensive, and the two nominees will make extensive use of television advertising and air transportation to reach the maximum number of voters.

Gardner, whose primary campaign was concentrated in the Piedmont and West, source of the state's Republican strength, has already begun campaigning in the East where he hopes to win enough conservative Democratic votes to overcome his party's numerical disadvantage.

Scott, who carried 91 of the state's 100 counties in the Democratic primary, will probably attempt to fend off any Republican headway in the East and collect the support which went to runnerup Mel Broughton in the primary.

The 130,000 primary votes captured by Dr. Reginald Hawkins, Charlotte Negro Democrat, remain a question mark in the general election. Neither candidate has made a direct appeal for Negro votes which might alienate segregationist supporters, and Hawkins has hinted he might endorse Gardner rather than fellow Democrat Scott.

And if the race is as close as many observers predict it will be, North Carolina's black minority could carry decisive weight in choosing the next governor.

School Closes After 95 Years

BUNKER HILL, Kan. (AP) — Just five years short of its 100th birthday, the 95-year-old Four Corners School has closed its doors for good. Progress has caught up with the oldest school in Russell County, with school unification and the decline of the family farm spelling its doom.

Present at the final graduation exercises was Mrs. Julia Thielen, Dorrance, who taught there in 1907 when she was only 17 years old. "The old school hasn't changed much since I taught there," she said, "and they teach about the same as ever, except that we didn't have science then."

The oldest graduate of Four Corners to return for a last look was Mrs. Carrie Washburn, 90, also of Dorrance. Mrs. Washburn attended the school from 1884 to 1892. Her mother, Sally Kessler, was a student at the school when it first opened in 1873.

The school which had as many as 50 pupils at one time, had only six this past year. "We have just lost too many children to carry it any further," said John Heim, 71, who went there as a child. "But a lot of us were hoping that it could be kept open for five more years."

Wash Monument Without Cost

WASHINGTON (AP) — A monumental task faces the Baltimore chapter of the Painting and Decorating Contractors of America, which has offered to wash the Washington Monument without cost.

The 188-foot-tall monument, which has not had a recorded scrub job in its 153 years, will be cleaned with high-pressure water equipment.

The organization offered to clean the monument, which was begun in 1815 and completed in 1829, as its annual "charitable endeavor."

Pooled Talents And Net Profit

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Two students at Bishop McGuinness High School have combined their talents and their names, and have come up with a business of making and selling greeting cards.

Frank Valadez, 17, is an artist who produces the cards, using tempera and poster paint and occasionally watercolors or oils. His partner is Steve Broxton, also 17, who serves as business manager.

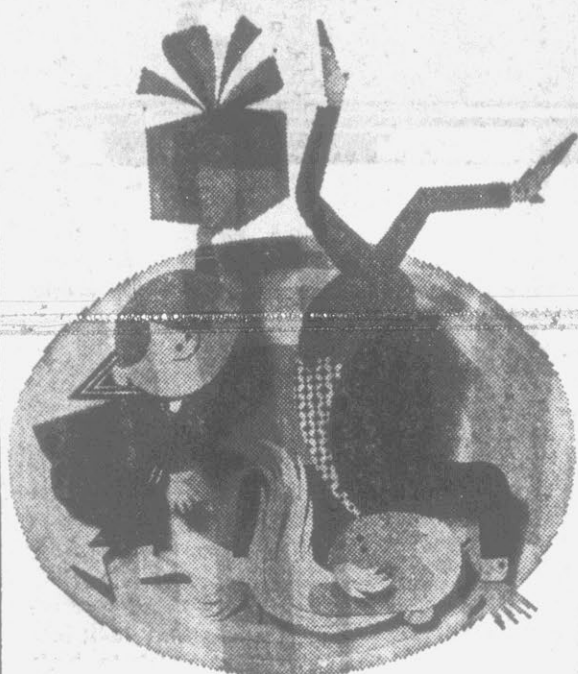

The name of the company is Valswine Enterprises, the first three letters coming from Frank's last name, and the "swine" part being Steve's nickname. It was his idea to start the business.

"Frank always used to draw and many times made posters which he gave away," he explains. "He would even personalize them, all for no charge. So I figured, why not make some money on his talent? I guess you could call me the financial brains of the outfit."

Lunar Astronauts Face Risks Of Solar Storms

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer
PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The year of the angry sun lies just ahead.

The next peak of the 11-year cycle of solar storms comes in 1969, and astronomers expect a level of violence unmatched since 1958.

These storms—rippling waves of nuclear explosions stretching thousands of miles across the face of the sun—drive sudden bursts of deadly radiation millions of miles into space, often ensheathing earth.

You will be safe. Earth's veil of atmosphere will protect its inhabitants, as it has through all the years.

But humans venturing beyond the veil, as lunar astronauts hope to do in 1969, could find themselves caught out in a hellish hail.

So serious is the danger that the United States has set up a Global Solar Flare Patrol and a Space Disturbance Forecast Center to maintain a 24-hour watch on the sun. These programs monitor solar outbursts and issue warnings to space mission planners and the communications industry.

Astronauts en route to the moon or on the lunar surface will be in a tough spot. The shielding in their vehicles and suits should protect them from normally expectable radiation but a major flare could mean disaster.

"A number of scientists are more worried about this than they like to admit," says Thomas A. Cragg, resident solar observer at nearby Mt. Wilson Observatory.

"The first thing a man landing on the moon should do is dig himself a hole 15 feet deep. But we still have the problem of telling him when to jump into the hole. Bursts of radiation from flares can reach the moon in as little as 20 minutes, and the mechanical problems of spotting a flare, determining that it may be big enough to be dangerous, and warning the man in time so that he could get back to the hole are tremendous."

Ten years ago at the start of the current solar cycle—which happened to coincide with the dawn of the space age and which will reach a peak the year men hope to set foot on the moon—the world's scientists began the most intensive study yet of the sun.

With space probes, satellites and improved telescopes stationed around the globe they scrutinized the sun in all phases of its 27-day rotation. With filters and spectroscopes that split the sun's rays into its various kinds of radiation, they looked at it in white, red, blue, green and even invisible light.

What they saw was an incredible forest of jets of hot gases, rhythmically undulating like gigantic trees swept by gusts of a monstrous wind. Across the 886,000-mile-wide face of the sun were waves of flame hundreds of miles high, constantly forming and dying out as their energy escaped in shock waves from the 27 million degree heat of interior nuclear fires.

They saw this atom-bursting heat releasing radiation in every range of the spectrum, from visible light to deadly X-rays and protons, and they saw it race out into the solar system in invisible storms called solar winds.

With time-lapse movies, speeding up events by striking out most of the frames, they saw that the sun is not just a whirling ball of flame but regularly patterned, in granules or cells. These cells are upwellings of burning gases 600 to 18,000 miles across which live a few minutes, then break up and fade away to be replaced by new cells. From time to time dark regions, called sunspots, appear on the surface. Some of them up to 60,000 miles across.

The number and size of sunspots grow through each solar cycle, reaching a maximum every 11 years.

Every few hours a great outburst of energy, called a solar flare, occurs near one or more sunspot groups. Regions thousands of miles across will brighten in seconds and vast clouds of matter erupt with speeds up to 600 miles a second. A flare covering only a thousandth of the sun's surface will for a time give off more light than all the rest of the sun.

One of the world's authorities on flares, astrophysicist Harold Zirin of the California Institute of Technology, says much has been learned about them in recent years: That they tend to occur in the sun's northern hemisphere in some cycles and in the southern hemisphere in others; that they somehow are related to the sun's magnetic field.

"Current theory holds that the sun's rotation builds up a magnetic field," he says. "Since the sun, which is not solid but gaseous and dynamic, rotates faster at the equator than at the poles, the magnetic field apparently gets twisted and breaks. The lines of force of the magnetic field act like an invisible bottle containing the nuclear energy of the sun and when the lines break this may be the time when flares burst out. But we still don't know why this happens in cycles, why there are more flares at one period of the cycle than at other times."

The 1969 peak of solar violence probably will be lower in intensity, Zirin believes, than the last peak in 1958. "But that's not much solace," he says. "That year was the worst since the existence of cycles was observed 200 years ago."

Solar flares frequently disturb the earth's own magnetic field, disrupting radio and even cable communications. They may even have an effect on earth's weather.

Planters Wins Fifth Straight Game; Pepsi-Cola Gains First Win Of Year

Planters Bank picked up its fifth straight victory of the season last night, downing College View, 16-4, in the Teener League. In the other contest, Pepsi-Cola won its first of the year, in a 14-3 win over Carolina Dairy.

Planters tops the loop with a 5-0 record, while Home Builders is second with a 3-1 mark. State Bank is 2-2, while Pepsi and College View are both 1-3. Carolina Dairy holds down last with a 1-4 record.

In the opener, Pepsi took the lead in the second with a run. Bill Higgins got it with one blow, a homer.

In the third, however, Carolina Dairy moved ahead with a pair of runs. Jimmy Suggs singled and Kim Harbin doubled to drive him in. Byron Dickens walked, and Harbin scored when Robert Carraway reached on an error.

In the bottom of the third, Pepsi picked up another run to tie it up. Gary Mills went all the way to second on an error, and then got to third on another. Timmy Bryant singled to score him for a 2-2 deadlock.

Carolina Dairy moved out again in the top of the fourth. Paul Carr singled and was safe at second on an error. Robbie Leggett doubled him in and he took third on a balk, scoring on Suggs' ground out. Harbin reached on an error, which also moved him to second. He stole third and scored on another error.

Pepsi picked up another run, cutting the lead to 5-3 as Wayne Eubanks homered in the fourth.

In the top of the sixth, Carolina Dairy picked up three more. Dickens walked and Randy Phillips singled. Bill Sutton was hit by a pitch, and Dickens scored on a sacrifice fly. Both Phillips and Sutton came around on an error.

But in the bottom of the sixth, Pepsi rallied for 11 big runs to gain the win.

James Duckett led off, reaching on an error. Kenny Pittman singled and Bob Forbes walked to load them up. Gary Mills singled in Duckett and Pittman and a hit by Timmy Bryant brought Forbes around. Tommy Diggs hit into a fielder's choice, but an error brought both Mills and Bryant around. Bill Higgins doubled to score Diggs.

Randy McKinney singled to drive in Higgins. Duckett, up again, reached on a fielder's choice and stole second. Forbes reached on an error, scoring McKinney and Mills was also safe on an error, scoring Duckett. Forbes scored on a passed ball, and Diggs singled in Mills with the final run.

Higgins led the Pepsi hitting with three, while Mills and Bryant each had two. Phillips had two to pace Carolina Dairy.

In the second game, Planters never had to struggle the way Pepsi did, jumping into a big lead before College View got into the act.

In the opening frame, Ed Coburn singled and stole both second and third. Jim Bond walked and stole second, and Gary Woods singled in Coburn. A hit by Eric Vernon scored Bond and Woods.

In the second, four more scored. Herb Wilkerson walked and Coburn reached on a fielder's choice. Lewis Gidley walked to load them up and Bond hit a grand slam homer for a 7-0 lead.

Vernon tripled in the third and scored on a sacrifice fly by Coburn.

In the fourth, Planters got another, as Bond walked, stole both second and third and scored on Woods' single.

After a scoreless fifth, Planters added two more in the sixth. Woods reached on a fielder's choice and stole second. Vernon singled him in, and he went on to second on the play, stealing third and scoring on a passed ball.

Planters wound it up in the seventh with five more runs. Tony Phillips walked and moved up on an error on Coburn's fielder's choice. Gidley singled both of them in, and he scored on Bond's double. After Bond moved to third on a passed ball, he scored on Woods' out. The inning wound up with a homer by Vernon.

College View got all four of its runs in the seventh. Buddy Smith reached on an error and Jeff Barwick walked. Another error allowed Tom Durham to reach, and scored Smith. Gene Vincent hit into a fielder's choice which was errored, scoring Barwick and Durham, and Vincent scored on an error on Lynn Hudson's grounder.

Vernon put together four hits to lead Planters, while Woods and Bond each had two. Bond, in hurling the win, gave up only two hits, and struck out 14.

Greenville Tobacco Company edged past Security Life, 9-7 yesterday in the Tar Heel Little League, and gained sole possession of second place.

Pepsi-Cola leads the league by two games with a 7-2 mark. The Tobs, in second, have a 5-4 mark. The Elks, Security and Exchange are all bunched in third place with 4-5 records, while the Moose are in the cellar with a 3-6 mark.

The Tobs pushed into a one-run lead in the first inning. Julian Vainwright walked and moved up on an error on Jeff Beamon's grounder. Mike Reilly singled to drive in Vainwright for a 1-0 lead.

The Tobs added five more in the top of the third. Reilly reached on an error and Ronald Hodges got a hit. Pat Hagan also singled, loading the bases. James Weeks doubled to drive in all three runners, and he scored on Vainwright's double. Macon Moye finished the scoring off with another double, scoring Vainwright.

In the bottom of the third, Security came up with two runs. Wes Puryear opened up, reaching on an error. He stole second and Phil Dash doubled. Morris Vicars walked to load them up and Puryear scored on a field-er's choice by Bob Higgins. Worth Albee then walked to drive in Dash cutting the lead to 6-2.

In the fourth, the Tobs added three more, pushing the lead to 9-2. Reilly reached on an error and Hodges doubled. Weeks singled in Reilly, and a double by Vainwright brought in Hodges and Weeks.

Jack Jenkins walked to force in Causey and Puryear came in on a wild pitch. Vicars doubled to drive in Dash and Jenkins.

Security added one more in the sixth as their last chance fell short. Higgins reached on a fielder's choice, and after moving up on Dan Harrington's walk, he scored on a hit by Tony Nichols.

Vainwright and Weeks each had three hits to pace the Tobs, while Hodges added two. No one had more than one for Security.

In the second game, Oakmont

Oakmont got three more in the fourth on Benton's homer, and then added another in the fifth, to lead 11-7. Meadowbrook cut its back by one with a run in the fifth.

Oakmont picked up three more in the sixth and two in the seventh as Parrott homered. Meadowbrook picked up four more in the seventh, but it wasn't enough.

Embarrassed Cards Rally To Win; Perry Loses

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Writer
The Houston Astros pulled a sneaky trick on the red-faced St. Louis Cardinals and wound up with as much to show for it as the Pittsburgh Pirates, who caused their own embarrassment.

The Astros and Cardinals were locked in a 1-1 deadlock in the seventh inning Wednesday night when Julian Javier of St. Louis was tagged out at second base on the old hidden ball trick.

But the Cardinals wiped the egg off their faces and unloaded consecutive hits by Curt Flood, Roger Maris and Orlando Cepeda in the eighth for a run that sent them to a 3-1 victory, their eighth straight.

Pittsburgh never had that chance to make amends as Los Angeles scored in the last of the 10th inning for a 2-1 victory when Maury Wills and Jerry May let in the winning run with errors on the same play.

Gary Nolan, troubled by a sore arm most of the season, left hard-hitting Atlanta a bit chagrined by stopping the Braves on three hits in pitching Cincinnati to a 10-0 rout.

In afternoon games in the National League, Tom Seaver and the New York Mets halted the Chicago Cubs 4-2, and Woody Fryman hurled Philadelphia by

San Francisco 2-1 with a six-hit performance. In the American League, Detroit edged Boston 5-4, Cleveland blanked the Chicago White Sox 1-0, Baltimore bounced California 7-1, the New York Yankees hammered Minnesota 7-2 and Washington tripped Oakland 3-1.

Houston's moment for joy came after Javier singled and reached second base with two out as St. Louis pitcher Larry Jaster bunted and was thrown out by losing hurler Larry Dierker with second baseman Julio Gotay covering first base.

Gotay, a former Cardinals who failed to win the second base job from Javier in the early 1960s, kept the ball and walked back to second base and first baseman Rusty Staub went in to chat with Dierker. Javier stepped off the bag and, surprise, Gotay finally got him off second.

But the first-place Cardinals wasted little time erasing the glee of the Astros and saddled them with a fifth consecutive loss on Cepeda's hit and a run-scoring double by Lou Brock in the ninth. Jaster, 4-2, allowed only six hits and the run off him was only the second earned marker he has given in 33 1-3 innings this season. He left after walking the first hitter in the ninth and rookie Wayne Granger retired the next three batters.

Bill Singer, 5-5, of the Dodgers and Al McBean, also 5-5, of Pittsburgh were locked in a 1-1 duel when embarrassment set in on the Pirates. Paul Popovich opened the 10th with a single and Versalles forced him at second. After Ron Fairly batted for Singer and popped out, the fun began when Wes Parker singled to center.

GRAND FORKS, N. D. (AP) — A total of $762.27 has been donated to the Terry Casey trust fund, says L. R. Marti, University of North Dakota athletic director.

Casey, a Sioux all-time hockey great, was killed in an auto crash last July 7 in Montana. He was a native of Great Falls, Mont.

Money received in the fund collection, sponsored by the UND athletic department, will be placed in a trust fund for the health, education and welfare of Casey's daughter, Terry Lee, born last Oct. 15.

BOWLER, 12, GETS 300

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A claim for youngest 300 bowler was made here in mid-January when Dale Misenbrink, 12, got 12 straight strikes on the Echo lanes.

The 5-foot-4 youngster had been averaging 136. However, since Christmas, when his dad gave him a new bowling ball, his average has climbed to 170.

Right fielder Ron Swoboda of the New York Mets cracked home runs in four straight games against the Los Angeles Dodgers at Shea Stadium in April.

as the Pittsburgh Pirates, who caused their own embarrassment.

Nolan, a rookie sensation in 1967, was making only his second start this season and had the Braves hanging their heads as he didn't allow a runner past second base. He had plenty of support as Lee May and Tony Perez each slammed two-run homers and Perez drove in two more with a single.

Seaver, given only 19 runs in his first 11 starts, raised his record to 3-5 although he left in the eighth inning with a pulled muscle in his left side. He also ignited a three-run fifth inning with a single.

Fryman won his eighth game in 12 decisions and his fifth in a row by outpitching Gaylord Perry. A sacrifice fly by Tony Gonzalez and an error by Nate Oliver gave the Phillies their two runs in the first inning. Fryman gave up his first earned run in 38 1-3 innings when Willie Mays slammed his 10th homer in the second.

Annual Draft Is Held By Majors

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The big leaguers of the future were up for grabs today as the 20 major league baseball clubs and the four expansion teams took part in the annual June draft of free agents.

The New York Mets and Oakland Athletics, who had the No. 1 and No. 2 picks, hoped to come up with something approaching the prizes in the original 1965 draft.

Approximately a dozen of the '65 class now wear major league uniforms, including Rick Monday, the center fielder of the Athletics, the No. 1 pick who signed for a $104,000 bonus three years ago.

Montreal, Seattle, San Diego and Kansas City will take part in the Class A division of the draft in that order, following the 20 operating clubs. However, the Class A draft follows three other rounds so Montreal, drafting No. 21 in that division, actually will be getting the 81st pick. Each of the current 20 clubs pick one man in the major league round. Each of the 20 Class Triple A farms and 20 Class Double A farms pick one. Then comes the Class A draft which is unlimited.

In 1967 a total of 1,169 players were taken, 975 in the regular phase, covering high school boys and graduating collegians who never had been drafted, and 194 in the secondary phase, covering players drafted previously but not signed.

There is no obligation on the part of the player to sign with the club drafting him. However, he can not sign with any other team. If he not signed after a certain period, his name goes back in the pool to be selected again when the next is eligible.

The draft is due to carry through Friday. In the regular phase clubs draft in inverse order to their 1967 finish. In the secondary phase, the order has been determined by lot.

Fine Night For Pepitone, Johnson

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
It was a simply grand evening for Joe Pepitone and Dave Johnson but not so good for Buddy Bradford.

Pepitone drove in six runs—four of them with a grand slam home run—leading the New York Yankees to a 7-2 romp over Minnesota Wednesday night.

Johnson also tagged a grand slam and Baltimore belted California 7-1.

But Bradford was $5 lighter in the wallet as the first victim of Eddie Stanky's campaign to wake up his Chicago White Sox. The Sox bowed 1-0 to Cleveland and Bradford was the only player to violate Stanky's new Golden Rules.

In other American League action Wednesday, Detroit nipped

Memphis 3-1. The executive committee that all seven football teams in 1968 and all eight basketball teams in 1969 be made eligible for the championships. Some of the teams have fewer games scheduled than the current minimum for eligibility, due to loss of other conference teams.

West Virginia withdraws from the conference on July 1.

The directors elected Eddie Teague of The Citadel vice president, Bob Faris of George Washington, treasurer; and Frank Jones of Richmond, secretary-treasurer.

They voted to move their 1969 meeting to Myrtle Beach, S.C.

Boston 5-4 and Washington 3-1. In the National League, New York dropped Chicago 4-2, Cincinnati walloped Atlanta 10-0, Philadelphia shaded San Francisco 2-1, St. Louis dropped Houston 3-1 and Los Angeles slipped by Pittsburgh 2-1 in 10 innings.

Pepitone unloaded his fourth career grand slam and second against Dean Chance in the first inning and the Yankees coasted after that. Horace Clarke led off with a single and Roy White and Mickey Mantle walked before Pepitone connected.

In the fifth inning, after the Twins had cut the lead in half on consecutive homers by Harmon Killebrew and Tony Oliva, White and Mantle walked, setting up Pepitone again. This time Joe hit a sinking liner that got past Ted Uhlaender's diving try and rolled to the wall for a triple.

Mel Stottlemyre, 7-4, coasted with a five-hitter, disturbed only by the consecutive homers by Killebrew and Oliva.

A single by Brooks Robinson and two walks loaded the bases for Baltimore against California's Clyde Wright in the fifth inning and Johnson sliced a 315-foot homer just inside the right field foul line.

Curt Motton had homered earlier for the Orioles and Jim Hardin coasted with a five-hitter for his seventh victory.

Bradford failed to score a runner from third base with less than two out—one of three sins Stanky has decided will cost the White Sox $5 for every violation. The others are failure to advance a runner who reached second with less than two out and failure to advance a runner in a bunt situation.

The ground rules were installed after Chicago had dropped 3-2 and 2-1 decisions at the hands of the Indians. The improvement was not immediately noticeable.

Stan Williams was in almost absolute control until the eighth so Stanky didn't have much chance to put his system to work. Duane Josephson opened with a pinch double and Russ Snyder advanced him on a fly ball. But Bradford bounced out, invoking the fine, and Sandy Alomar, off the hook with two out, struck out, ending the inning.

Mike Paul and Hal Kurtz bailed Williams out of a ninth inning jam—no fines incurred, though—to complete the shut-out.

Jose Cardenal drove in Cleveland's only run with a second inning single after Duke Sims had doubled.

Frank Howard boomed his 21st homer of the year, carrying Washington to its victory over Oakland. Howard's two-run shot in the sixth inning landed some eight rows up in the left field stands at D.C. Stadium and snapped a 1-1 tie.

Two Boston errors and a wild pitch helped Detroit to four runs on only two hits in the seventh inning and a comeback victory over the Red Sox.

Denny McLain won his ninth seventh and Rico Petrocelli's yame with Joe Foy's error helped the Tigers get started in the and winning runs to score.

Round-Robin For SC Grids

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) —Southern Conference athletic directors have wound up their three-day meeting here by extending round robin scheduling to football.

The directors recommended to the conference executive committee that a football round robin be put into effect in 1972, the earliest practical date. Most teams have firm schedules through 1971.

At earlier sessions, they installed round robin plans in baseball, effective in 1969, and basketball, effective in 1969-70. The directors plan to recom-

Landry Worries Over Green Bay

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
DALLAS (AP) — Tom Landry is the kind of guy who doesn't even look nervous driving in the Central Expressway traffic.

But the calm and cool Mr. Ice, coach of the Dallas Cowboys, does have a few things haunting him these days. They all stem back that frozen January day in Green Bay when the Packers closed the vault on the "Pokes in the last seconds.

Landry is wondering whether he will have a bunch of mental cripples on his hands because of two successive NFL title losses to the Packers in the collar-tightening last moments.

"We can build up an artificial outside crust, but you wonder just how we'll react if and when we get down to those last crucial seconds again," said Landry. "Who knows?"

"I do know one thing. We're either going to be a better team or we are really going to slip. We must gear ourselves for a greater effort and a better attitude."

Landry assembles his ons of expensive football beef at the Thousand Oaks, Calif., July 10. There will be some changes made.

"We're going to strive to improve our pass protection," said Landry. "We want to reduce the number of quarterback traps. We were in the lower half of the league—No. 12—in that department last season."

Landry said the Eastern Division champs "will reduce the types of pass protection in our multiple offense system."

Landry said veteran quarterback Don Meredith was throwing the ball extremely well during a two-week school in May in which quarterbacks Craig Morton and Jeff Rhome also participated.

Landry said he wanted the Cowboys to "build up their confidence" during training camp and the exhibition season.

"But I just don't believe you have to win every exhibition game," Landry said. "If you get too high in the exhibition season, the team will flatten out."

Then he smiled and said: "I certainly would like for us to have some momentum built up on Oct. 28. That could be a key game."

The schedule shows that Dallas plays Green Bay in the Cotton Bowl on that date.

New Fighting Breaks Out Inside Saigon Today

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — New fighting broke out inside Saigon today after South Vietnamese rangers had reported crushing the last pocket of Viet Cong resistance in Cholon, the city's Chinese section. Mopup operations also continued on the northeast fringe of the capital, in the suburbs of Gia Dinh.

Bands of Viet Cong guerrillas and North Vietnamese soldiers slipped to the west of a four-block area in Cholon and outmaneuvered the government rangers who had seized the third floor of a large building near a Roman Catholic church. The Viet Cong maneuvered into the second floor of the building, cutting the rangers off.

Government tanks were blasting the building, 2½ miles west of the presidential palace, with 90MM cannon. AP photographer Horst Faas, at the scene, estimated there were only a handful of Viet Cong still holding out and said, "They must be dead or wounded by now because the tanks are blasting every room in the building."

Earlier, in reporting Cholon cleared of Viet Cong after seven days of street fighting, the rangers said they killed 30 guerrillas in the "final" assault, including a battalion commander.

The U.S. Command announced meanwhile that 438 Americans were killed in action last week and 3,870 wounded, the highest total casualties of any week of the war. The number of killed was only 12 more than the week before, while the number of wounded were 1,183 more.

Intelligence reports had said the Viet Cong in the capital were weary, short of ammunition and trying to pull out of Cholon and Gia Dinh for a rest before making a new attack on Saigon on June 15.

A task force of government marines, paratroopers and combat police began a massive sweep this morning in Gia Dinh, hoping to push withdrawing Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops into the open rice paddies beyond the city where warplanes could bomb and strafe them.

The Viet Cong kept up the nightly terror shelling of Saigon, slamming nine 100-pound Soviet rockets into the capital before dawn today. It was the third successive night of shelling. Six civilians were killed and six wounded.

On the northern front, below the demilitarized zone, there were signs that another showdown might be in the making at Khe Sanh, the allied combat base that was under siege for 77 days early this year.

America's biggest bombers, Air Force B52s, made two raids and roads 11 miles southeast of Khe Sanh.

Earlier, in a sharp fight five miles to the southeast of Khe Sanh, U.S. Marines overran the positions of a North Vietnamese platoon. The Leathernecks said they killed 12 of the enemy, but six Marines also were killed and 15 were wounded.

Enemy gunners fired about 20 rounds of 130mm artillery into Marine positions around Khe Sanh. American casualties were said to be light.

Call For Gun Controls By N.C. Presbyterian Synod

LAURINBURG, N. C. (AP)—The North Carolina Presbyterian Synod, expressing shock at Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, has called on Congress to enact quickly legislation for control of possession and sale of guns.

The synod, closing its 155th annual meeting Wednesday, also called upon its church to accept as members "all persons without regard to color, national origin or economic condition." It authorized its council, the highest-ranking committee, to explore means of working cooperatively with United Presbyterian Churches in the state. These are predominantly Negro.

The report of the Committee on Church and Society was adopted. It recommended that all members of the synod "urge all candidates for political office, and elected representatives to work for better educational, vocational and housing opportunities for the poor of all races."

"We are convinced," the report said, "that this nation will continue to be plagued with violent social disorders until such time as the resources of this affluent nation are allocated, in sufficient measure, to meet the crying needs of the poor."

A budget of $2,458,028 for 1969 was adopted, an increase of $89,568 over this year. In the new budget, $1,045,467 was allocated for work of the synod and $1,412,561 for agencies of the entire denomination.

Earlier, the moderator of the Southern Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Dr. Marshall Dendy of Richmond, Va., said it "It becomes us to have within our denomination an organization designed to overthrow our great church."

Observers said he alluded to an independent conservative group called "Concerned Presbyterians," although he did not refer to them by name. Dr. Dendy said there must be debate within the church, but that its court structure, rather than through independent committees.

Leaders of the Concerned Presbyterians have indicated they have no intention of heeding Dr. Dendy's calls on them to disband.

Hunting Escapee From Wake Court

RALEIGH (AP) — Officers were on the lookout today for Edgar P. Welborn, 27, who escaped Wednesday from Wake Superior Court where he was on trial for stabbing another Central Prison inmate.

Welborn, who was accused of attacking Charles Stewart at the prison several months ago, got away by mingling with the crowd and walking away from the courtroom. Welborn, a Greensboro native, was serving 5 to 8 years for auto theft and had three previous escapes on his record.

Submariner Is Declared Dead

YANCEYVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Johnston were notified by the Pentagon Wednesday that their son, one of 99 men aboard the missing submarine Scorpion, has been declared dead.

He was Quartermaster 2 C. Julius Johnston, one of three North Carolinians on the Scorpion.

The others are Yeoman 3 C. Richard M. Summers, son of Charles F. Summers of Rt. 8, Statesville, and Fireman Apprentice Donald R. Powell, whose wife lives in Four Oaks.

CHARLOTTE (AP) — The Model Neighborhood Commission has endorsed rent control for houses improved with low-cost federal loans.

The commission is an agency of the Charlotte Model Cities program. Renovation loans at 3½ per cent interest would be available to landlords. Commission members agreed Wednesday that landlords who obtain such loans should not be allowed to raise rents excessively.

Rules To Heed For Diving On Sunken Wrecks

By Christopher Crittenden
N. C. Department of
Archives and History
Written for Associated Press
RALEIGH (AP)—Sunken relics lying in North Carolina waters belong to the state. So the General Assembly has legislated and the North Carolina Supreme Court has decided. The State Department of Archives and History enforces the law.
All such "shipwrecks, vessels, cargoes, tackle, and underwater archaeological artifacts shall be subject to the exclusive dominion and control of the State. So says an act of 1967.

Archives and History is authorized, if deemed in the public interest, to issue permits or licenses for underwater diving. To date several dozen licenses have been or are about to be granted. When on a commercial basis, the license allows the diver to keep some 75 percent of the items recovered or their fair market value.

Many of the wrecks are Confederate blockade runners that never quite reached port in the lower Cape Fear River. The dark hulks can easily be spotted from low-flying airplanes, up and down the coast.

There are also known to be numbers of other vessels, including at least one Spanish privateer from the 18th century. Hundreds or even thousands of ships have been lost, usually in storms, near the three extremely dangerous North Carolina capes — Hatteras, Lookout, and Fear.

Earlier this spring the Supreme Court ruled that divers must return to the state cannon balls, tools, pieces of pipe, and other relics recovered from some of these wrecks. The case had been appealed from New Hanover County, where Judge
Rudolph Mintz had ruled in favor of the state.

Anyone wishing a permit to dive should contact the Underwater Archaeologist, State Department of Archives and History, Raleigh.

At present Archives and History is working in this matter with the North Carolina Skin Diving Council, with members throughout the state. The council sponsors diving competitions, underwater photography contests, and the like. It especially stresses safety.

The council will coordinate and supervise the diving activities of its members. It will be a self-regulating group.

Interest in diving on Confederate blockade runners skyrocketed during the recent Civil War centennial. In the year 1962 alone more than 10,000 relics were recovered from 10 different vessels. Many of these relics are now displayed in the Fort Fisher museum and elsewhere.

Therapeutic Shows Provided

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A troupe of local performers have been taking poetry, songs and dramatic performances to shuttles who otherwise wouldn't be able to enjoy such diversions.

The Mobile Drama Unit performs in institutions in this area, among them prisons, hospitals and psychiatric treatment centers. In many cases patients or residents are persuaded to get up before the audience and sing or read poetry.

MEDICAL DATA BANK SET STOCKHOLM — A medical-data bank, believed the world's first, will be installed in Stock-holm's Huddings Hospital, scheduled for completion in 1972. The system would provide medical profiles of all the 2 million inhabitants of Stockholm County.

Methodists Told Church Mission Very Visible

By DIX R. SANSFIELD
Associated Press Writer
LAKE JUNALUSKA, N. C. (AP) — The Western North Carolina United Methodist Conference was told today that, "Never in history has the church had its mission placed before it so visibly as today in the inner city — the ghettos, the slums, the hungry, the illiterate, the broken homes, the confused, the frustrated."

That pronouncement came in the report prepared by the Board of Missions.

"Dr. Martin Luther King's death and the outstanding memorial tribute to him in the nation's mourning lift this far more sharply into focus," the report said.

"The riots, the fires, the plundering, the deaths, the police, the National Guard, the Army

— all focus for America, and above all, for the Christian Church, the opportunities we have today."

Other sections of the report detailed the opportunities of the conference in expansions through merger and of its work in the mission field in the last year.

The delegates, representing 273,227 members in 14 counties of the western half of the state, opened their five-day meeting Wednesday afternoon under the guidance of Bishop Earl E. Hunt Jr. of Charlotte.

The delegates were led by the Rev. J. L. Jones of Asheville in a prayer for the recovery of Sen. Robert Kennedy, shot early Wednesday in Los Angeles.

At the opening session, the conference officially added a 14th district which is to be carved out of the Winston-Salem District.

Bishop Hunt named a Negro minister as superintendent of the new district, which will contain a preponderance of white church members.

The five-day meeting was opened with a short ceremony by leaders of the former Western North Carolina and the former North Carolina-Virginia conferences, headed by Bishop Hunt, and Bishop Edgar A. Love, former presiding bishop of Negro Methodists.

Thus, about 10,000 members of the 105 Negro churches of the disbanded North Carolina-Virginia Conference became members of the Western North Carolina Conference. The 105 Negro churches are in the western half of the state, and were members of the disbanded conference under Methodism's discontinuance of segregation.

Dr. Love, retired Negro bishop of Baltimore, Md., told the delegates that, "The church was never intended to be a sanctimonious religious club accepting only those who had similar social or economic status."

The aged bishop said that for 50 years he had dreamed of his church becoming free from racism, and "thank God, I lived to see my dream on its way to fulfillment."

"You are receiving a new group of friends," Bishop Love said. "They don't want to be your 'black' friends, but just 'friends.' They are not ashamed of their color. Rather, they are proud of it. But they don't want their color to be a barrier between you."

The conference admitted 30 new ministers on trial. They are:

Charles Leon Adams, Mount Airy; James Grant Alfred Jr., Burlington; Ray Garrison Burrell Jr., Gastonia; William Douglas Camp, Greensboro; Teddy Blair Craddock, Atlanta, Ga. David Capps Creech, Charlotte; Ray David Cox, Asheville; Robert Earle Hamilton, Wareham, Mass.; Thomas James Herin, Miami, Fla.

Allen Norwood, Vale; Carlos Alberto Rodriguez, Walnut Cove; Paul Vance Ridenhour, Denver.

URANIUM ORE UP

DENVER — U.S. uranium-ore output rose sharply last year to reach a total value of more than $162 million in anticipation of increased orders for nuclear power plants. Exploratory drilling more than doubled.

Hold Suspected Baffled Bandit

CHARLOTTE (AP) — A week ago a man handed a note demanding money to a woman teller in a Charlotte bank, but she just handed it back — and the confused bandit fled.

The FBI announced Wednesday that it had charged Frank Wright Sr., 27, of Charlotte, in the case. He was charged with attempting to rob the Plaza Branch of the North Carolina National Bank on May 24.

Wright was given a hearing before a U. S. commissioner and ordered held in $5,000 bond for trial at the October term of federal district court in Charlotte.

N.C. Educators Meet Thursday

RALEIGH (AP) — Presidents and trustees of the state's 50 institutions in the community college system will meet in Raleigh next Thursday for a conference on manpower development.

Speakers at a morning session will include Gov. Dan Moore, Dr. Dallas Herring, chairman of the State Board of Education, and Dr. I. E. Ready, director of the community college system. During the afternoon, a series of workshops dealing with the opportunities and obligations of the community college system will be held.

New Model Home To Be Displayed

RALEIGH (AP) — Luther C. Hodges, housing and urban affairs specialist with the State Planning Task Force, will represent Gov. Dan Moore at Lambertson Friday when a new model home designed to meet the needs of low-income families is put on display.

Noting that housing for low-income families is a "major problem" in the state, Moore congratulated the North Carolina Land Development Corp. which developed the house "for providing a new opportunity for home ownership for many who have never before been able to afford a home of their own."

There are more savings and loan holding companies in the Greater Los Angeles area than in any other area of the United States.

Jordanian Sirhan A Cool, Close-Mouthed Man

By RICHARD E. MEYER
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — His name is Sirhan Bishara Sirhan. Police say he is a cool, close-mouthed Jordanian who fired a bullet from close range into the brain of Sen. Robert Kennedy.

Mayor Samuel W. Yorty says Sirhan apparently wrote in a 9-by-12 inch notebook about "the necessity to assassinate Sen. Kennedy before June 5, 1968."

Many — neighbors, former employers and the authorities — say he hates Jews.

He hurt his head in a fall last year, says his mother.

"All I know is he is a nice kid," says one of his four brothers.

A district attorney's investigator revealed today he was told Sirhan had been jailed by Pasadena police last December. But investigator Milt Smith declined to say on what charge Sirhan was arrested.

Asst. Dist. Atty. William L. Ritz said a grand jury would be asked to return an indictment charging Sirhan with Kennedy's murder.

In Pasadena police watch officer Russell Stone had a "red flag" file on Sirhan, indicating he had an arrest record.

But Stone said later, after re-checking, the file was that of a brother, Sharif Bishara Sirhan, 35. He was arrested in December 1963 on an attempted murder charge and later was put on a year's probation, Stone said.

Stone said complaints of disturbing the peace had been lodged against Sirhan Sirhan, but he had "never been booked, jailed or arrested by Pasadena police."

The record says Sirhan is 24 years old, 5-feet-5, weighs about 120 pounds, has a swarthy complexion and wavy hair. He has been an exercise boy at a race track, wanted to be a jockey and worked in a health food store.

He was under maximum security guard in a hospital ward at the Los Angeles County Central jail, charged with six counts of assault with intent to commit murder.

He is to appear at 8:30 a.m. Monday for a preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Joan Klein.

Sirhan's index finger was broken and his left ankle sprained in a tussle that ended in his capture, seconds after Kennedy was shot early Wednesday.

Sirhan has talked to police, but not about Kennedy or the shooting. Officers said he was advised of his rights, but didn't want an attorney. He refused to give officers his name.

"It's nice to remain incommunicado," Inspector Pete Hagen quoted him as saying.

He "may have been inflamed" by Kennedy's call for U.S. jets for Israel during a televised campaign debate Saturday night, said a New York committee on American-Arab relations.

"He was violently pro-Jordan and anti-Israel," said John Shear, who worked with Sirhan at Hollywood Park race track. "When there was trouble between Jordan and Israel, he would become inflamed."

With permission from Sirhan's family, police recovered two notebooks from his room. They contain 18 to 20 pages of handwriting. Some in Arabic, most in English.

In a notation entered either May 17 or 18, the mayor said, Sirhan apparently wrote "a direct reference to the necessity to assassinate Sen. Kennedy before June 5, 1968."

Kennedy was shot when June 5 was only a few minutes old. It was the first anniversary of the beginning of the six-day Arab-Israel war.

"My son — it can't be. No. Oh, no," cried Mary Sirhan, when she learned her boy was arrested. Mrs. Sirhan is a housekeeper at a Presbyterian nursery school in Pasadena.

"Ever since he had a fall about a year ago, he hasn't been the same. I can't talk to him."

Mrs. Sirhan said her son fell from a horse and "hurt his head here." She pointed to her right temple.

Sirhan Bishara Sirhan was born March 19, 1944 in Jordan, territory seized by Israel during the lightning war last June.

As a child, Sirhan saw an Israeli soldier cut off the breast of an Arab woman with a bayonet.

The Sirhans came to the United States in 1957.

Stock And Market Reports

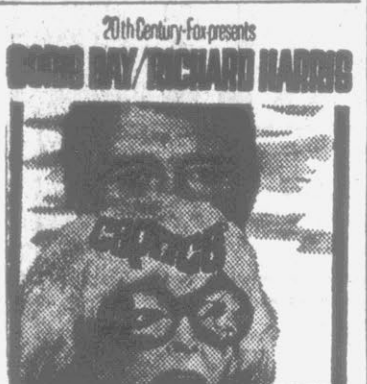

RALEIGH —(A) — (NCDA)—North Carolina egg markets irregular Wednesday. Supplies adequate, demand fair to good. Prices paid producers and handlers for consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered nearby outlets:

Grade A large whites: 38 1-2 to 40; Medium, whites: 30 1-2 to 32; small, whites: 22 1-2 to 25.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina hog markets today were steady to mostly 25 cents higher. Tops of 18.75-19.75 at Tarboro; 19.00-19.50 at Rocky Mount; 18.75-19.50 at Wilson; 18.75-19.25 at Bethel; 19.00 at Selma and Goldsboro; 18.50 at Siler City and Denton.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rolled up a sharp gain this afternoon. Trading was active. Gains outnumbered losses by about a 2-to-1 margin after a hesitant and mixed start. The market apparently discounted Sen. Robert E. Kennedy's death when it slumped late Wednesday afternoon. Traders and investors once again leaped into the market. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 2.0 at 337.9, with industrials up 4.4, rails up .8, and utilities unchanged. Gains of 1 or 2 points were scattered throughout the list.

Some of the higher-priced issues ran up several points. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.43 at 910.85.

Control Data rose 8, Xerox 6, Polaroid and IBM about 4 each, American Smelting 6.

ACF Industries dropped a point in profit taking on its huge gain Wednesday.

Bunker-Ramo (new) paced the list on activity as it advanced about 1 1/2. Brunswick, up nearly a point, continued its recent climb. Glen Alden, also ahead nearly a point, resumed its uptrend on hopes of a merger with Schenley.

Goodrich, up 2, was high among the volume leaders helped to some extent by a block of 30,000 shares sold at 63, up 1/4.

Among other heavily traded issues, Armour was up about 3, Occidental Petroleum and Ashland Oil more than 2 each, Hooker Chemical, Squibb Beech-Nut, Fairchild Hiller and Parke, Davis a point or more.

In tribute to Kennedy, trading was halted for two minutes at 11 a.m. on the New York Stock Exchange and other markets.

Robersonville Moving To Tax Boost

ROBERSONVILLE—The Robersonville town board Tuesday gave tentative approval to a tax rate hike of 20 cents per $100 valuation.

The new rate, including the rise, is $1.35 per $100 as compared with the present rate of $1.15 per hundred.

A representative of the Puritan Chemical Company, Norfolk, Va., met with the board to demonstrate a fogging machine to be used to control insects within the town. The board took the matter under advisement.

The board agreed to furnish an office for Percy Price, executive director of the Martin County Economics Commission, in Robersonville for his use while working in the area.

Five applications from PACE (Plans for Assuring College Education) were accepted by board members for summer employment. The students will conduct a housing survey as well as making a population survey.

Correction

The Pitt County Board of Education has offered owners of 30.27 acres of land between Ayden and Grifton $42,670 for the property to be used as a site for a consolidated school.

The property is owned by Frank, C. E. and Henry Hart. A story in Wednesday's Daily Reflector, saying that the $42,670 figure was the appraised value of the land, was in error.
