Local Scouts Helped Set Up Their Camp In Ayden

By LES GARNER Reflector Staff Writer

AYDEN—Led by a scout on crutches and a former cerebral palsy patient, 1,000 Tuscarora Council Boy Scouts and their leaders marched on to the Ayden Elementary School grounds yesterday.

In front of the first group was crippled Benjie Watson who, on crutches has led the scouts since Monday. He was preceded by "Tee" Griffin and his father Dr. Ashton Griffin, who are making the 100-mile trip on a tandem bicycle because of "Tee's" earlier bout with cerebral palsy.

Greenville Moose Lodge, went to Ayden yesterday at 8:30 a.m. They helped set up the camp and, according to Scoutmaster Tom Butts, will help the marchers until they leave Pitt County tomorrow.

This help included staying in Ayden last night and cleaning up the camp after the hikers left this morning at 6:30.

Leaving in four groups of 240 each, marchers walk with 15 minutes between groups. Every 45 minutes, they stop for a 15-minute rest period. From 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. the four sections eat a snack lunch. They march until about 3:30 p.m. when they stop at a pre-arranged campsite. In camp, each section quartermaster goes to central headquarters to receive food for the 30, eight-man patrols in his section. These patrols cook supper and breakfast the next morning.

After breakfast the pilgrimage leaves camp, and a headquarters crew of Explorers and older scouts packs all equipment, except personal, into trucks (provided by each participating troop) and moves to the next camp.

The transport caravan includes a refrigerator truck, and oil company truck, and two regular van-type trucks. One of these two trucks houses machines to mimeograph a daily newspaper, "Pilgrimage Progress."

Other trucks bring food each day. A local bakery yesterday took in 375 large loaves of bread. Saturday, a meat packer will deliver 380 chickens.

Scouts march in double file on the left road shoulder. Local police, highway patrolmen, and rescue units help with traffic control and carry the ill and lame to the infirmary. So far, no serious injuries have been reported.

The only woman on the trek is the registered nurse, Mrs. Catherine Smith of Magnolia.

In charge of the infirmary Mrs. Smith also has a husband and two sons walking. In fact, when her duties permit, she meets her husband each afternoon and walks in with him.

Planning for the trip began a year ago. As early January, 1968, Scout troops in the area

Area Tobacco Crops Said In Good Shape

Tobacco crops in and around Greenville are in good shape despite all the rain that has fallen here in recent days, according to Sam Winchester County Extension Chairman.

Winchester said that there have been several isolated fields and some low places in other fields that are poorly drained in which drowning of tobacco has occurred.

The rain and cool nights have caused a little premature blossoming of the weed. According to Winchester, plants have been blossoming with 10-14 leaves as opposed to the 16-20 leaves which are preferred before blossoming occurs.

The crop significantly has leached plant nourishments from the soil.

A normal amount of disease is presently starting to show up, according to Winchester, including some black shank, Granville wilt, and nematode infection. Slightly more Mosaic, a virus infection of the leaves) has occurred than farmers would normally expect.

Windburn is practically nonexistent this year. Last year, high winds coupled with loose, blowing sand caused severe windburn damage to tobacco grown in this area.

"At this point," Winchester said, "prospects for a good crop are excellent."

Stern View In Paris Talk

U.S. Protests Red Rocket Terrorism

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER AP Special Correspondent

PARIS (AP) — The United States protested to North Vietnam in the Paris peace talks today against "particularly vicious rocket attacks" on the heavily populated center of Saigon.

Ambassador W. Averell Harriman told the North Vietnamese that the United States had reports that "the current offensive was planned and directed by North Vietnamese generals." He said this information came to the U.S. government from high-ranking defectors.

He met with the North Vietnamese envoy Xuan Thuy for almost four hours. The sessions were adjourned until next Wednesday.

"Today," Harriman said, "I want to be sure you understand that this is a situation which could have the most serious consequences for these talks."

Earlier when asked by newsmen whether the United States would take retaliatory action—by renewed bombing of Hanoi or other centers—Harriman said that was not the business of this conference but a question for President Johnson.

Harriman said the bombardments of Saigon have been carried out "using the North Vietnamese rockets and mortars."

"Most importantly, the attacks have relied heavily upon

North Vietnamese army troops and they are sustained by a swelling flow of men and materiel from North Vietnam.

"The troops attacking in and around Saigon are under orders to infiltrate into the city, to seize civilian homes, and to dig in. Thus, the battlefield has been moved into the densely populated quarters of the capital and suburban areas, with resulting heavy civilian casualties."

"The attacking units have been sacrificed. Since the beginning of May, more than 10,000 North Vietnamese soldiers and Viet Cong have been killed in the capital or in its approaches."

Extremist Groups Dissolved

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle's government, cracking down after two nights of student rioting in Paris, today banned all street demonstrations throughout France and ordered seven extreme leftist groups dissolved.

The Cabinet issued the orders about five hours in advance of scheduled student meetings in Paris, Bordeaux, Toulouse and Strasbourg to protest police action against a revived wave of violence in the academic and industrial crisis that De Gaulle once warned would lead to civil war.

Another French worker died from injuries received in battle with the police, raising the death toll in clashes this week to three. Paris disorders overnight left 194 persons injured. More than 150 were hurt in fights between demonstrators and police in St. Nazaire.

Information Minister Yves Guena announced the ban on street demonstrations will last through the election campaign and the voting for a new National Assembly, to be completed June 30.

Banned organizations include the March 22 Movement, a radical student group headed by Daniel Cohn-Bendit, a 23-year-old West German known as "Danny the Red."

Utilities Ready To Take $7,043 Loss On System

By RONALD GOLLOBIN Reflector Staff Writer

The Utilities Commission will absorb a $7,043.81 loss in connection with the installation of a sanitary sewer system in the Moyewood Project, it was learned last night at a meeting of the commission.

The Utilities Commission had given the Housing Authority a price of $47,677.00 as the cost of the sewer system in Moyewood.

Several construction companies were asked to submit bids, but only one, the T. A. Loving Co. did submit a bid, according to Leonard Bloxam, director of the commission. The Loving bid was for $51,451.50 for labor, with the Utilities Commission furnishing the material. After talking with officials of the construction company, a reduced price of $43,451.50 was submitted. Since the cost of the material is $11,269.31, the actual difference between the bid to the Housing Authority and the price of the work is $7,043.81.

In other business, the Utilities Commission approved an agreement which will be sent to the City Council for approval and signature. The agreement in effect formalizes a cooperative arrangement that allows municipalities to lend equipment and crews to a neighboring municipality in time of emergency. Before, there was no legal provision for aid to a stricken neighboring town.

The mutual cooperative agreement is sponsored by the North Carolina Association of Municipal Electric Systems, of which 73 municipalities are members.

The agreement states that any municipality which lends aid to another shall be reimbursed at the rate of time and a half for salaries from the time the men leave home until they return. Provisions also are written into the agreement to provide for incidental costs and insurance.

The agreement also states that the contract is not binding, inasmuch that if there is a crisis in one town, that they are not expected to render aid to another town also experiencing trouble, if it would mean a reduction of service to that town.

Admit Defector Knew 'Secrets'

PRAGUE (AP) — The defection of Maj. Gen. Jan Sejna to the United States more than three months ago hurt Czechoslovakia's defense potential because he had access to "a number of strictly secret facts," according to a government report released Tuesday.

The report said Sejna fled because he feared prosecution for fraudulent activities which cost the state more than $30,000.

Agency Requests For Pitt Budget Are Under Study

By RONALD GOLLOBIN Reflector Staff Writer

A proposed budget, containing requests from the various Pitt County agencies for the 1968-69 fiscal year, was reviewed for the first time by county commissioners Monday.

The general fund portion of the budget calls for an expenditure of $973,560.86 as compared with last year's $940,001.46 general fund budget.

The proposed welfare budget outlined to the commissioners yesterday amounted to a $6,833.10 reduction in county money from last year's budget. Commissioners expressed approval over what chairman Bob Martin called "Probably the only reduced welfare budget in history."

One of the big items showing a significant increase over last year's budget is the Sheriff's Department. The department's budget last year was $98,809.50. Propose this year is a $136,293.96 budget. The increase is due to anticipation of the abolishment of the Justice of Peace system in North Carolina on Dec. 1, which will throw a heavier burden on the sheriff's department. That department will be responsible for the serving of most of the warrants in the county. Many are presently being served by constables, who now operate on a fee system. That system will come to an end along with the system of magistrates.

Accordingly, the sheriff's department has included provisions for the hiring of four new deputies and one radio dispatcher in his proposed budget, which accounts for most of the increase.

One of the items coming out of the General Fund which shows a significant reduction is the budget for the County Buildings. Last year the budget was $155,772.59 against this year's proposed $106,384.36. The decrease is due largely to the completion of most of the planned repairs to the courthouse during the present fiscal year.

One item which was included in last year's budget was funds for a data processing system. This item accounted for $12,000 last year. This year the requests total $54,248.00 to make the system operational.

Anticipated revenue for the General Fund is estimated to be $973,560.86 as compared to $940,001.46.

Many items of the County budget do not come out of the general fund. Included in this category are Health Department, Hospital, Mental Health Clinic, Welfare, Schools, and a few others.

The proposed budget for the Health Department comes to a total of $302,250.05, against last year's $246,950.16.

The total request for the hospital fund is $88,330.49 against last year's budget of $58,370.73. The Mental Health Fund request this year is $139,471.11 against last year's $111,070.60.

The proposed Public Assistance budget stacks up $458,111.18 against last year's budget of $448,976.19.

The School Fund requests for current operating expense run $934,612.00 against last year's $764,684.02. The School Capital Outlay proposal asks $445,000.00 against $381,307.91 for last year. The County-wide School Debt Service Fund request totals $498,885.45 against last year's $519,787.44.

Pitt Technical Institute's proposed budget is $275,332.70 against last year's budget of $133,741.96.

Checking Guards At Thai Bases

BANGKOK (AP) — Thai police and intelligence officers today called 141 men out of 2,000 applying for jobs as security guards at air bases throughout the country and questioned them to determine if they are Communist terrorists.

The bases to be guarded include those in northeast Thailand used by the U.S. Air Force for bombing raids against North Vietnam.

Interior Minister Praphas Charusathien said the men being questioned carried forged army reservists' papers. One newspaper report said some of the men had been paid up to $200 by unidentified persons to apply for the posts.

Family Doctor To Recommend Help To Calm Fear Of Germs

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I don't know where to begin explaining my problem because it's been bothering me for about 15 years now, and it's not getting any better. If anything, it's getting worse.

I am always washing my hands because I have it in my head that everything I touch has germs. I'll bet I wash my hands 50 or 60 times a day.

If I have company, I can't wait until they leave so I can wash everything they've touched. I wash the door knobs and even the chairs they've sat on. Then I go take a bath and wash my hair, even though I've bathed before they arrived. I just have to wash everything they've come into contact with or I don't feel clean.

I never go to funerals anymore because when I do, I hurry home to take a bath, wash my hair, wash all the clothes I've worn, (even my shoes!) and I send my dress to the cleaners. I even wash my car!

Have you heard of anything like this before? Abby, I really like people, but I stay away from them because of this thing I have about germs.

I am making problems for my family because I am always after them (I have teen-age children) to wash the way I do, and they are getting tired of it. Can you help me? Or am I hopeless?

UNCLEAN DEAR UNCLEAN: I have heard of others who have had the same problem, and it's not "hopeless." Confide in your family doctor. He will recommend someone who will try to help you get rid of those fears.

DEAR ABBY: I have a serious problem which I can't confide in anyone else, so I'm turning to you. My son-in-law told me that he is "in love" with me. He is 21, and I am 36. My daughter (his wife) is 19 and she's a perfect doll. They have an adorable baby.

I don't know what this boy sees in me, although people do say my daughter and I look like sisters. Abby, it would break my daughter's heart to know how her husband feels about me. And I don't even want to think of what my husband would do if he knew.

I am having a hard time keeping this boy away from me. He keeps trying to get me alone, and he drops in all the time (without my daughter). What should I do? I can't very well tell him he's not welcome.

GRANDMOM DEAR GRANDMOM: Aw, come on, you certainly can. Just tell the boy that if he doesn't cut out the nonsense you'll turn him over your knee. If his attentions are really as unwelcome as you say, tell him off — and that should be the end of it.

DEAR ABBY: My wife is always on my back about the old car we drive. It's 6 years old, but it runs as good as any of the newer ones.

Every time we go somewhere she points out this friend or that friend with a brand-new car. It bugs me. I need a good answer for her. Got any handy?

FLINT DEAR FLINT: Here's one which should give you a lot of mileage: "Never judge a man by what he drives, but rather by what drives him."

CONFIDENTIAL TO C.C.K.: There are exceptions, of course, but the true index to a man's character can usually be found in the health of his wife.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

FOR ABBY'S NEW BOOK-LET "WHAT TEEN-AGERS WANT TO KNOW," SEND $1.00 TO ABBY, BOX 69700, LOS ANGELES, CAL. 90069.

Fur Does Everything But Fly

JEAN SPRAIN WILSON AP Fashion Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Jacques Kaplan was among the first to convince women that since men would laugh at what they wore no matter what they wore might as well wear something worth laughing at.

He made them fur coats that were funny. And fun. At the time this attitude was considered to be avant garde as the art he collects. But now nearly everyone else is designing clothes with a sense of humor.

And now the impish French-born, pipe-sucking furrier has gotten around to introducing fun and exercise into fashion shows themselves by changing showrooms into fun houses.

What better occasion for such a show than collections by two French friends who also design with funny bones, Paco Rabanne and Andres Simon? Paco, a surely everyone knows, a few years ago took dressmaking out of the hands of seamstresses and gave it to the mechanics when he created dresses of plastic discs wired together. Andre Simon is a manufacturer who has witty thoughts about furring people.

The scene was the George Kaplan showroom, as usual. But that was all that was usual. Instead of sitting on gold chairs all in a row watching an hour-long parade of quick-change artists, the guests moved about. The models stayed put. Absolutely motionless.

Like Marisol dolls, or George Segal scenes, the befurred manikins arranged in surrealistic vignettes stood too still to be real.

Imagine yourself making this scene. You pass a row of misses with their heads in brown paper bags with faces painted on, standing as rigid as rigor mortis. Onward, you pass a motionless miss in a chevron-striped midi fur, and beyond a girl in fur fluff curled up on a pile of fur-pillows. Now there is a Victorian twosome, primly behind masks. Further, a man on a bicycle leans forward going nowhere while another fur-coated male reads a paper, oblivious to the girl beside him wearing the horseface mask. Sprawled on tiger rugs with her head between two tails is a miss in ponypants.

Naturally, you will be prompted to say from time to time, "What on earth is that?"

That's when the manikins come to life. "Rabbit fur," blurts a miss from behind her paper bag. "Weasel" squeals another.

Besides rabbits, weasels, minks, and a Canadian animal called slink, there are ponies and golden fitch, and fluffy fox, and seal. There are furs in jacquard patterns and plaids and stripes; some dyed pastels, and gold; some things for men and many for women. The furs are fun and the fur show is funnier.

Architect-Designer Tells Of Italian-Style Decor

By JOY MILLER AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — You know how Italian film makers like to bare the functional yet aesthetic framework of their actresses?

Well, a lot of Italian design is in the same philosophical mold. "Real design is concerned with everything, from the beginning," explained Ludovico Magistretti. "For example, at home when we make a stereophonic unit we never try to hide it—in bookcases, in cabinets. We want to have it always open. The professional engineering is a part of the design."

Magistretti is a 48-year-old architect-designer from Milan, who, with half a dozen other Italian designers were on hand for the opening of the exhibit "Design Italian Style" at the Hallmark Gallery. The show will close July 18. As the most fluent in English, Magistretti was called upon to talk most of the time.

Politely, he gave the United States its due. "American design has great merit," he said. "Real industrialized design began here. But now the big difference is in what is rightly called industrial design and what is stylism. The majority of American work is stylism and not design. You Americans always take care to cover something with something, to put skin to hide something."

In the New York show are furniture, fabrics, kitchen utensils, plastics, automobile models, lighting fixtures and ceramics. In each object the designer's personality and viewpoint emerges, yet, Magistretti said, "there's a similarity of thinking that we don't realize before we design."

Italian is far from being as definite a style as Danish, which he doesn't much admire. "The Danish are clever with wood," he conceded. "But it's so formalized."

A third-generation architect, Magistretti mainly designs buildings. "But in my spare time I design these things." He waved a hand at a bunk bed he designed four years ago for his son "because I didn't find a good one to put in my house," a group of stacked tables in bright primary colors and a molded plastic chair.

"I make sketches, but I never like to give a design and say 'do this.' It quite often must be changed. So I work along with the workmen, making changes as we go.

"Take this chair, made from a leaf of plastic. I had to mold it with my fingers. Plastics is a very interesting field, and with plastics we can meet the largest demand. Good craftsmen skilled in working with wood are getting harder to find and good wood furniture is going to be terribly expensive in the future."

He nodded at the chair again. "This plastic is not cheap. It's good stuff. To make the steel mold I had to work with tools and hands. The cost of the mold for this chair was $30,000. But we can produce one chair, ready to put into the carton for shipping, in three minutes."

Commercial distribution is difficult, he said. "But what is important is to penetrate something with new objects, to get people used to a new taste. That's the social side of our work, if you can call it that."

Miss Susan Noble Weds Sunday

MRS. KEYMA DONALD HARRIS

In a colonial candlelight ceremony, Miss Susan Winifred Noble and Keyma Donald Harris were united in marriage Sunday at 3:00 p.m. in the First Free Will Baptist Church.

The Rev. Floyd Cherry officiated using the double ring ceremony.

Candlelight reflected throughout the church from branched candelabrum with tall standards of emerald greenery, white carnations and baby's breath intertwined. At the altar was a prie dieu where the bridal couple knelt for the wedding prayer. Pews were marked with white satin bows with narrow streamers.

Wedding music was rendered by Miss Donna Hines and Gill Moody sang "Oh Promise Me" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a formal length colonial gown of white crepe featuring a high neckline and long lace-cuffed sleeves with oversleeves of alencon lace. The gown was styled with an empire waistline overlaid with alencon lace and re-embroidered with seed pearls. The skirt was accentuated with scattered appliques of matching lace and a deep hemline of scalloped lace. The chapel length train was attached to the waist at the back by a self-fabric bow and edged with scalloped alencon lace.

Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of white silk flowers and petals edged with seed pearls. She carried a nosegay of white butterfly roses, pink sweetheart roses and blue pom poms tied with a white satin bow and streamers.

Miss Becky Noble, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a long colonial gown of yellow dotted Swiss with a large organdy bow in back and pantaloons trimmed with lace at the bottom. She wore a daisy bow with ribbon streamers showered with small daisies. She carried a basket of yellow and white daisies tied with yellow ribbons.

Mrs. Sandra Rideout of Hampton, Va., Miss Betty Jill Hinton and Miss Nina Taylor of Kinston were bridesmaids. Their dresses were short dotted Swiss in rainbow colors with long pantaloons of ruffled alencon lace. Large white organdy bows were tied in back of dresses and each carried a basket of multicolored daisies tied with ribbons to match their dresses.

The bride's mother wore a blue crepe street length dress.

The bridegroom's mother wore a rose lace street length dress. Both mothers wore white orchids.

Dennis I. Harris Jr. served his brother as best man. Ushers were Stephen Alexander, Daniel Griffin and Bobby Crawford of Greenville and Neil Whitehurst of Chocowinity.

The bride graduated from Grainger High School, Kinston, attended L. C. C., Kinston, and is now employed by Heavenly Creations at Brody's in Greenville. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Noble of Kinston.

Political Wives On City Council

OXFORD, England (WNS) — Maureen Coombes, 28, who lengthened her skirts when she was elected to the city council, shortened them to mini-length again after the first month of meetings. "In politics a woman needs all the useful weapons she can get," explained Mrs. Coombes. When Queen Elizabeth visited Oxford and asked the lady councillors what special contribution they had to make, Mrs. Coombes replied, "Logic, which the men haven't got."

A good salad for lunch: chill a can of tuna (7 ounce size) and drain off the oil turn out tuna in the center of a medium-size serving plate. Surround the tuna with shredded green cabbage that has been mixed with olive oil, white wine vinegar, salt, white pepper and a little prepared mustard. # An Influence On Course Of History

The slaying of Sen. Robert Kennedy altered the course of political history in the United States in this vital election year.

Whether Sen. Kennedy would have been president, had he lived, will now be a matter of conjecture debated by political historians and by those who strongly favored and strongly opposed his candidacy for the presidency. That his death as well as his life has left his mark on the outcome of the 1968 elections, there can be little doubt.

Without Sen. Robert Kennedy in the running, the race for the Democratic nomination becomes a rather bland affair. Sen. Eugene McCarthy will continue his campaign, of course, but he seems to offer little more than token opposition to front-runner Vice President Humphrey. With Kennedy in the race, it obviously was intended to be a battle down to the wire for convention delegates.

Although there may be no new candidates to become major contenders for the Democratic nomination, there are certain now to be new names thrown into the hopper, at least at the vice presidential level. There are certain to be those who come forward, asserting they speak for the ranks which followed the Senator who was silenced by the assassin's bullet.

There is little doubt that the death of Sen. Kennedy will likewise influence in many ways, small and large, details which go into the making of a convention and the making of the campaign which follows the convention.

If the Senator's death has its affect upon the future of his own political party, it likewise has its affect upon the Republican party as well. Strategy must now be developed against the backdrop of another major national disaster. It is significant that the leader who was struck down was viewed as the leader of liberal forces, as opposed to the conservative image posed by the Republican party.

The choosing of candidates by the GOP as well as their plan of battle against the present political leadership and its policies must be carefully reassessed in the wake of Sen. Robert Kennedy's death.

The nation's experience of last week will make it extremely difficult for it to take up in the remainder of this year, where it left off last Wednesday with "politics as usual."

North Carolina Project Funds

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau

RALEIGH — The Economic Development Administration (EDA) since 1966 has approved grants and loans totaling nearly $30 million for 44 separate projects across North Carolina.

The range of current EDA projects in the state is from the huge phosphate facility at Morehead City to such things as a $12,000 grant for a study of whether a barge terminal at Fayetteville is feasible.

Carteret County has received $72,900 in grants for a technical assistance project to develop new and better methods of utilizing the state's seafood potential.

Cumberland County received a $554,000 grant toward a new civic and convention center. The report says such a center would "serve the area's people, enhance its potential for growth and lessen economic shock to accrue from highway re-routing." In this case, the new convention center is located along a busy stretch of U. S. 301 at Fayetteville which is to be bypassed by construction of a missing link of Interstate 95.

Nearly $400,000 in grants has been approved for the Eastern North Carolina Development Institute at East Carolina College over a two-year period. In addition, EDA made a $35,651 grant to establish a nine-county Southeastern North Carolina development district.

Water Projects

The EDA list of water system projects is proof that economic experts feel water is the lifeblood of industry and industrial growth. It has approved grants for such projects from Harker's Island on the coast to Banner Elk, in the western mountains.

Harker's Island received approval of $208,500 for a water system to make possible continuation and expansion of seafood processing. Otherwise, the report said, these activities "would have closed." The water system also would serve industrial sites "available to local development organizations," the report says.

Harker's Island has a population of less than 1,400.

At Banner Elk, population 564, there is an EDA grant of $42,600 "to make possible the establishment of industry, increase the potential recreational complex, and expand Lees-McRae College."

Three small towns in Cherokee County, Andrews, Marble and Texana, have received water and sewerage improvement and extension grants totaling nearly $623,000. Cherokee County's population is only 13,500.

Obstacles For Curbing Travel

By JOHN CUNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — Administration efforts to keep dollars at home by curtailing overseas spending for pleasure are running head on into obstacles.

The objective is to reduce by $500 million the annual travel deficit, which in 1967 soared to $2 billion, the net result of Americans spending nearly $4 billion abroad while foreigners spent $2 billion here.

Lessening the prospects for substantial help in balancing the travel outgo and income are these factors:

—Measures that would improve taxes on foreign travel and limit spending abroad are still being argued in the Senate.

The peak travel season, the time when students, educators and sightseeing secretaries head for Europe, began in late May and will extend to Sept. 28. A good part of the season will have passed before any bill could come law.

—Americans have plenty of money to spend on travel regardless of whether a travel tax is passed, and they seem also to have the desire to use this money.

—The ease and glamor of airline travel is making trips to foreign lands, particularly to Europe, an almost irresistible attraction to people of moderate incomes.

Whatever the motivation, new and renewed passport applications for the first two months of 1968 rose sharply over a year earlier.

A study by the National Industrial Conference Board, and reported in the Conference Board Record, a monthly publication, showed passports were being handed out early this year at a rate 30 per cent higher than a year ago. Less than 10 per cent were obtained for business.

Perhaps the most encouraging aspect of the travel payments situation is the cooperation received from business in promoting travel of foreigners to the United States through reductions in transportation fares and hotel rates.

Estimates indicate that the new low-cost fares for Europeans and Middle Easterners visiting America may bring in as many as 100,000 additional tourists in the first year of its operation.

The Conference Board comments that this is of significance, because in 1967 about 1.7 million Americans traveled to Europe and the Mediterranean areas while only 900,000 from those areas toured America.

Another area of encouragement is Canada. Last year U. S. residents spent $1.1 billion in that country, much of it because of the Expo world's fair exhibit.

This year there could be some improvement. Although many Americans will travel to Montreal and to other Canadian cities because of the second edition of Expo, many Canadians who stayed home last year will visit the United States.

YOUTH POWER ... IF USED!

The Inmates Take Over

WASHINGTON — To the rest of the world the United States must look like a giant insane asylum where the inmates have taken over. The guards are gone, the doors are open and everyone thinks the other person is sick.

Except for the charity wards where the people are all shoved together on top of each other, the rest of the asylum couldn't look prettier. The buildings are all new and shiny, the equipment is the most modern in the world, the grounds are green and decorated with flowers. To look at it from the outside, you would think it is the ideal spot on the globe.

But inside, the patients are running amuck and no one seems to know what to do about it. Every time a doctor is called in to suggest a remedy for the chaos, the residents of the hospital shout him down. Besides, they believe anyone who is trying to come up with new cures for their sickness must be crazy himself.

The United States is a very special type of insane asylum in that all the inmates are permitted to have guns. These guns are sold right in the hospital or can be ordered by mail because when the hospital was built in 1775 the founders wrote it into the rules. Every time someone wants to change the rules, the gun-loving inmates cry that they only want the guns to kill animals during their recreation periods.

Other Editors Saying For Law And Order

(Henderson Dispatch)

What the Democratic party, or any other party, in North Carolina can do to invoke respect for law and order is not entirely clear. But surely, surely, there must be a way to restore among all our people a willingness to live under the statutes that have been established for peaceful existence of all men. They had that abiding confidence until of late.

But now the rabble rousers, both white and black, are preaching resistance, disregard for law, and even defiance unless they can have their way. And once they had their way, if they did, our plight and theirs would be infinitely worse than it is.

These people presume to take the law in hand so far as they find it possible, and would impose their will, even by force, if intimidation and blackmail did not serve their purpose.

Bobby Kennedy was just another man, but one of influence, personal appeal and courage toward the ends he sought. Leaders and participants in sit-ins and threats of whatever nature on the campus, in classrooms or dormitories need to be told where their liberty ends and where obligations of administrators begin.

Violence is not the normal way of life—far from it—for the American people generally. Their government, at all levels, has been conducted in peaceful manner hitherto and the rights and privileges of all have been respected and upheld. Time was when some utterances and threats commonly heard nowadays were considered subversive and disloyal. But spineless, politically minded officials have acquired the habit of tolerance and appeasement, with the result that illegal conduct only thrives upon itself.

The Democratic platform had a good deal to say about maintenance of law and order in the State. And since the party has control of the State government it will either be held responsible for failure or praised for whatever of success has been achieved. The Republican platform is also emphatic about preserving order.

An orderly society is not of itself political. Both parties can subscribe to pledges to keep the peace in the State. Between the two there ought to be reasonable tranquility if pledges are honored.

Fortunately, North Carolina has not been subjected to the tortures of wild demonstrations, rioting and burning. All good citizens hope it will not have to suffer.

The people who live on the Hill and represent the inmates are afraid to do anything to offend the armed inmates, so they ignore the problem until there's a killing in the hospital, at which time they all express horror that the inmates should be allowed to walk around with guns.

Then they forget about it until the next tragedy comes along.

Despite its beauty and size there have been many injustices committed in the asylum against the patients. For 100 years, the black patients were kept in isolation wards and only permitted to do scrub the floors. They got no treatment from the white doctors until recently when they became violent and insisted that if they were patients in the asylum they wanted the same rights as the other inmates.

The administrators of the asylum have belatedly sought to improve the lot of the black patients, but there has been a reluctance amongst the other inmates to pay the bill, particularly since the asylum is supporting so many other insane asylums around the world.

Up until recently the hospital was a model for all other hospitals. But in the '60s people everywhere have been watching it with horror and despair.

The more affluent the hospital becomes the sicker the patients behave. The remedies prescribed for the illness

Barbs That Sting

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks a man gets tired of hearing—or overhearing—on the eve of retirement:

"So this is your last week, Ned. Is that why they called in the accountants to give the petty cash fund a last quick checkover?"

"The old gang will sure miss you at the water cooler, old-timer. I guess you put in more time hanging around it than anybody."

"What are you going to do with all the dough you stashed away I hear you're going to become a silent partner with Howard Hughes and buy up the rest of Las Vegas."

"Well we put up with you for 40 years. Now it's your wife's turn."

"If you're not leaving until Friday, how about lending me a fast $20? Pay you back Thursday for sure."

"I know my husband has earned a good rest after all salt mine, but I simply don't know what I'll do with him. I'm not used to having a man underfoot around the house, day in and day out."

"Ned, the boss wanted to throw you a farewell fete at the executive lunch club, but asked me to take you as he couldn't make it. Now I find I may be out of town that day. How about us stopping off at the tavern down the street today and having a couple of quick ones instead? Gee, that's great. I knew you'd be big about it."

"What are you going to do with all the look you've banked? Buy a box of apples and open your own fruit stand?"

"We're thinking of surprising him with a color television set as a going away gift. But several of his friends think it might be better just to buy him his old office swivel chair—as he always seemed to be happiest while dozing in it."

"Why should I contribute a dollar? I heard that when they took up a collection to buy flowers for my wife when she had her tonsils out 10 years ago Ned refused to chip in more than two bits."

"What are you going to do with yourself? You're too old to be any good at golf, too tired and homely to chase women, and too poor to play the horses. Maybe you'd just better try to stay on the payroll."

"Now that you're leaving for good, Ned, how about breaking down and telling the rest of us guys just what you were supposed to be doing the last 40 years. We've never been able to figure it out."

"The thing that puzzles everybody is what you're going to do with all the green stuff you've squirreled away. I hear you've got banknotes stuffed in the holes of all the elm trees in your back yard."

"So this week winds it up, eh? Better be careful. I had a cousin who retired last year, and he keeled over the very next day. He never got

By far the largest number of projects involve relatively small grants for water and sewer system improvements and extensions in localities, mostly small towns. These are designed to attract and accommodate new industries and parks will serve industrial parks being developed by local groups.

The largest single EDA-financed project — and the first approved — is construction of a phosphate handling facility at the port of Morehead City.

EDA approved an $11.4 million loan, the biggest thus far, to the State Ports Authority (SPA) for this project in March, 1966.

Eligible Areas

Current EDA projects in the state are listed in a report by EDA state coordinator Charles S. Edwards, announcing a list of 28 areas to be eligible for EDA aid after June 30, 1968.

In most instances, Edwards says, areas "are eligible to participate in the economic stimulating programs" because of lower family income and higher unemployment percentages determined by federal statistics.

The new list of eligible areas was drawn up after an annual review.

It includes these areas: Avery, Bertie, Bladen, Camden, Carteret, Cherokee, Clay, Columbus, Currituck, Dare, Duplin, Franklin, Gates, Graham, Greene, Hertford, Hyde, Jones, Madison, Northampton, Robeson, Swain, Tyrrell, Warren and Yancey Counties, the Cherokee Indian reservation and Sampson County. # Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
PROBLEM OF IMAGINATION

How is your imagination working? In an orderly fashion or after a neurotic pattern? The great geniuses in all fields have been people of imagination. In fact it is imagination which makes one a genius. Consider Michelangelo in art, Shakespeare in literature, Wagner in music. Their genius grew out of their lush and wholesome imaginations.

But a neurotic is a person whose imagination has, for some reason, got into reverse gear. Try as he will he cannot even get it into neutral, let alone get it into first gear and thus start moving ahead. The neurotic has plenty of imagination, but not after the mold of genius. He suffers from all the communicable diseases, goes through all the accidents which never happen, and worries about calamities overtaking his loved ones which fortunately do not have a thousand to one chance of ever taking place. The final state of such a person is that at last he worries about worrying. Then the physician begins to talk about sending him to a psychiatrist.

"Be not anxious," said Jesus. "Your Heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of these things. Be not anxious for the morrow: for the morrow will be anxious for itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof."

This is the Biblical advice on how to shift gears from reverse into neutral and then into first.

Honey: Not So Sweet An Export

By ELMER BOESSNER

These Americans can sell anything abroad, anything except honey.

Although the United States is the largest producer of honey in the world, and although American honey is of the finest quality, we just can't sell more than a cold day's trickle in foreign markets.

Last year, with an unusually short crop, the U. S. produced 223 million pounds, more than a quarter of the world's production, even outstripping the second largest producer, Russia, which produced only 220 million pounds. Yet we were able to sell only 5 per cent of our crop abroad and win only 7 per cent of the world market.

There are two reasons for our low exports, according to the Foreign Agriculture Service:

1. Other nations have cheaper labor and lower standards of quality.
2. U. S. honey production is growing slower than world production.

Mexico Largest Exporter

Mexico is the world's largest exporter. Much of its exports is industrial grade honey, with less flavor, more impurities and more water. It is used chiefly in baking.

West Germany offers the biggest market, followed by Britain and Japan.

The situation in East Germany illustrates some of the difficulties U. S. honey exporters encounter. American honey is usually exported in packages; other nations ship bulk honey into Germany at lower tariffs. In 1966, U. S. honey imported by West Germany had an average value of 17 cents a pound, including the packaging, while Mexican and Argentinian honey had a value of 11 cents and Red Chinese honey about 10 cents.

Although the FAS did not say so, it is easier to cut bulk honey with beet sugar than to tamper with fancy packaging.

Want Unheated Honey

West Germans also prefer honey that has not been heated during processing and most American honey is heat-processed.

In Britain, the public prefers the cheaper, lower grade honey than the American type, and Canada and Australia can send in honey duty free.

The Japanese market is dominated by Mainland Chinese honey, which is cheaper and costs less to ship.

The FAS said that the Kennedy round of tariff cuts will cut honey duty from 30 to 27 per cent of value, and that Austria and Sweden are also cutting duties.

Better promotion will help honey sales, it said. Honey booths are planned at two trade fairs and some demonstrations in food stores are planned. But an increase in U. S. production, which would force producers to do more effective merchandising abroad, may be a better solution.

Harris-Tyson Vows Spoken

MRS. ALTON RAY HARRIS

The marriage of Miss Ella Elizabeth Tyson to Alton Ray Harris was solemnized in a double ring ceremony Saturday at 5 p.m. in the Sycamore Hill Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Nan Harris Tyson and the late Riley Tyson. Parents of the bridegroom are Mrs. Sudie Gadsden of Danbury, Conn., and Clifton Harris of New Bern.

The Rev. B. B. Felder, pastor of the church, officiated at the ceremony.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Selma L. Davenport, organist, and Miss Mavis Gardner, soloist.

The background of the church was decorated with a fifteen semi-circle candelabra entwined with boxwood garlands and babybreath, flanked by tall standards of huckleberry and emerald greenery. At the altar was a pri dieu where the couple knelt for the benediction. Pyramidal candelabra with bouquets of white mums and gladioli were placed at the altar. Pews were marked with satin bows.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Moses Wooten, the bride wore a silk organza empire A-line gown. The dress was fashioned with a scoop neckline, Alencon lace bodice and short lace sleeves, accented with seed pearls. The back was highlighted with a low flat lace trim collar that covered the edge of the detachable chapel train. Her headpiece was a shoulder length mantilla of Alencon lace.

She carried a prayer book centered with a bouquet of eucharis lilies and a white catleya orchid showered with tips of improved simlax and stephanotis.

Miss Edna Yvonne Adams, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a cerise A-line crepe gown. Her headpiece was a matching crepe bow attached to a veil of silk illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink painted daisies, miniature carnations and improved simlax tied with pink velvet. Miss Charlene Vines served as junior bridesmaid. She was dressed identical to that of the honor attendant.

Miss Veronica Outterbridge and Miss Denise Outterbridge were flower girls. They wore ankle length dresses of white crepe accented with satin cuffs and satin hair ribbons. They carried white flower baskets filled with pink daisy petals tied with pink satin streamers. William Taft, uncle of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Bennie Teel, Calvin Gatlin, Walter Gatlin and Reginald Gatlin, all of Greenville.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tyson chose a pink lace

'True Atlantic Partnership' In Rockefeller Policy

By BILL BOYARSKY
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller pledged today to call a summit meeting of Western heads of state to create "a true Atlantic partnership," if elected president.

Looking for support to overcome the Republican delegate lead of Richard M. Nixon, the New Yorker offered sweeping foreign policy proposals in the opening of two days of public speeches and private talks in California.

He planned private meetings with a few top Republicans who are pledged to vote for California Gov. Ronald Reagan as a favorite son at the convention.

Concentrating on foreign affairs, Rockefeller called for closer United States cooperation with Western Europe, including giving the supreme command of NATO to a European instead of an American.

Secret Service agents, New York state troopers and two Los Angeles police department intelligence officers guarded Rockefeller — the first announced presidential candidate to come to California since Robert F. Kennedy was shot to death in Los Angeles last Wednesday.

In a speech prepared for delivery at Town Hall in Los Angeles, Rockefeller referred to the New York Democratic senator's death in a hotel just a few miles away.

"He died here last week because he dared—he was determined—to speak out on the great problems before our people," Rockefeller said.

But most of Rockefeller's attention in the talk before the city's business leaders was directed to building "a new world structure, a new international order."

He called for bringing the North Atlantic Treaty Organization "into line with current realities by encouraging European nations to assume a greater responsibility for their defense."

Asking for "new leadership," Rockefeller said, "We cannot act as the world's policeman." Rockefeller proposed more trade and scientific and cultural exchanges with the Soviet Union and expansion of "the existing bilateral talks with Communist China in Warsaw into wider ranging explorations."

With California's 86 vote pledged to Reagan until he releases them, Rockefeller's hopes in the state rest mainly with persuading some delegates to back him on the second and third ballots.

The visit was a major stop in his all out appeal to American voters to support his effort to beat Nixon.

The governor also hoped, aides said, to show the men with votes at the convention that he can pick up support from followers of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and thus lead the GOP to victory in November.

His nationwide campaign is designed to prove he can provide the "new leadership" he says the country needs.

"America cries out for a leader," he said in full-page ads which appeared in newspapers from coast to coast and pledged to give, later today in Los Angeles, his answers to "a subject that has tormented us like none other in our recent history: Riot."

Foreshadowing his formal position, Rockefeller said in a CBS telecast Tuesday night that, while it was vital to preserve public order, "We can no longer tolerate injustice or bigotry. We must strike at their roots."

He urged voters: "If we don't like the laws, let's change them."

And, he insisted, "Without progress and justice there can be no order."

The governor opened his telecast speech with a tribute to Kennedy who, he said, "died for his country. His death presents a new challenge to those of us who remain."

Rockefeller said, however, that the assassination would not stop him mingling with the voters during his campaign. "I have faith in this country, I have faith in people, and consequently I have no fear," he declared.

President Johnson has provided Rockefeller and other major candidates with Secret Service protection and guards are expected to surround the New York governor when he makes a planned walking tour of Watts, the Los Angeles Negro district where rioting raged in 1966.

Agents guarded him during his telecast.

The governor's 10-minute speech was part of a prime-time half-hour paid for by the Rockefeller-for-President Committee which declined to say how much it cost. The committee also declined to discuss the cost of the newspaper ads.

He denounced men of what he called "the old politics" without mentioning them by name and claimed that "new leadership can recapture control of events. It is to offer this new leadership that I seek the presidency of the United States."

As part of the "new look" campaign, New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, who has demonstrated strong support among young people and minority groups, set out for a Midwest tour to support Rockefeller.

Water Safety Program

A water safety program will be offered free to the public this evening, starting at 7:00 p.m. at the Greenville Moose Lodge swimming pool.

The program will be given by members of the Greenville Rescue Squad and includes small boat safety, elementary rescue methods, what to do when a person is drowning, what to do in boating accidents, a demonstration of swimming rescues, an artificial respiration demonstration and other safety tips.

Claims Opposite Effect Resulted

CHARLOTTE — (AP) — Fred Alexander, Charlotte's only Negro city councilman, says an anti-discrimination ordinance adopted by the board "actually legalizes discrimination."

Alexander voted against the anti-discrimination ordinance Tuesday night when it came up for council consideration.

The ordinance, which went into effect immediately, prohibits all racial or religious discrimination in public accommodations, including those not regulated by federal civil rights law.

Alexander contends, however, that it "actually tells people they can discriminate in beauty salons and barber shops," because the ordinance says a business shall not be required to "acquire, offer for sale or use any merchandise equipment or supplies different in nature from those offered prior" to the ordinance.

It also says no personnel shall be required to acquire new skills.

Alexander said beauticians and barbers who have white clients only say they would need new skills and new merchandise to serve Negroes.

Other Charlotte civil rights leaders said they would work to get the council to broaden the anti-discrimination ordinance.

TOP EXPORTER

WASHINGTON — Illinois has leaptfrogged over New York and replaced California as the nation's leading state in the exporting of manufactured products. California has sunk to third place.

AFRICAN GOATS FLEECIER
PRETORIA — South Africa's Angora goats lead the world in mohair fleeces per animal—about 7.6 pounds. U.S. goats compared favorably last year with 6.8 pounds.

Finally Linked To Shelby Lines

SHELBY, N. C. (AP) — Elmo Canabiss, a Shelby resident dissatisfied with Duke Power Co.'s electric service, Tuesday succeeded in having the City of Shelby disconnect Duke's electric meter and hook up the city's system.

Canabiss, a resident of a recently annexed portion of Shelby, had been receiving electrical service from Duke Power Co. until late Tuesday afternoon.

At that time the city of Shelby, at Canabiss' request, disconnected Duke's electric connections and connected Canabiss to the city operated power service.

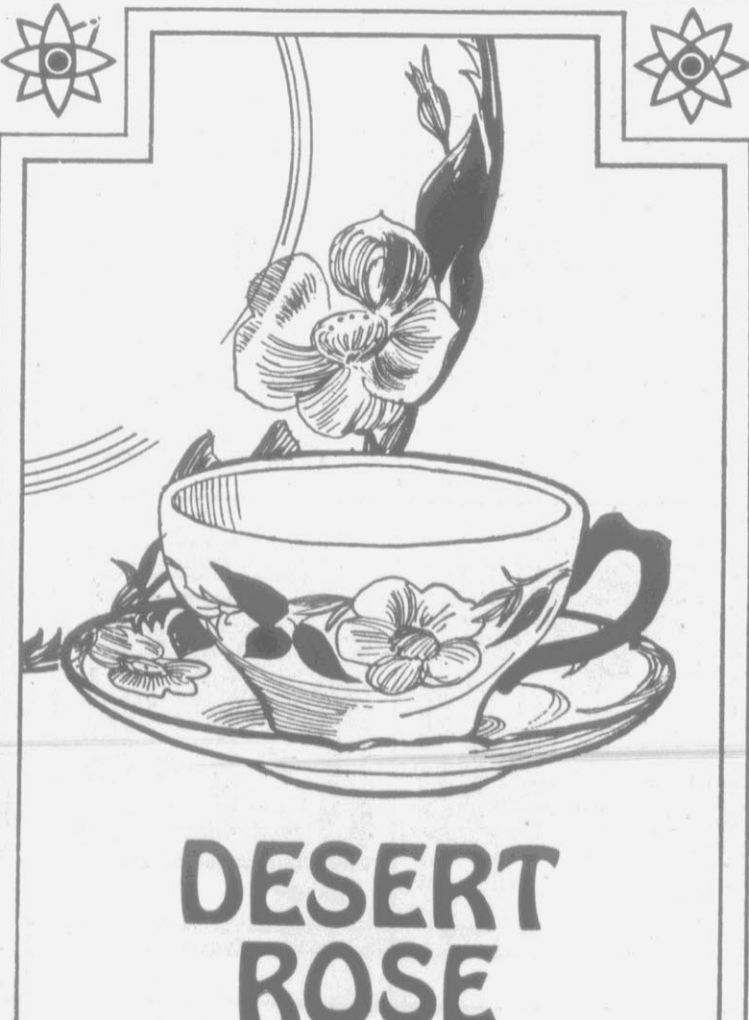

Duke has said it will carry the case to court, basing its stand on the North Carolina Electric Act of 1965. That law allows private power companies and rural electric cooperatives to coexist with city electric systems in annexed areas.

Canabiss said he wanted to switch electric services because of "unreliability" of Duke's service.

Decide Church Offerings Are Not To Be Diverted

By JAY HENSLEY

MONTREAT, N. C. (AP) — Any contributions to the civil rights movement should come from sources other than regular church offering funds, the 1968 General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church U. S. (Southern) ruled Tuesday night.

The controversial issue came to a head when the question was raised concerning funds donated to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), the organization which was led by the late Dr. Martin Luther King.

A committee which studied the request from the Presbytery of Piedmont in South Carolina asking the General Assembly to instruct its Board of Christian Education to cease all contributions to the SCLC had recommended denial of the overture.

During debate on the question, a substitute motion was offered which set no hard rule on the matter, but urged that such contributions come from special offerings.

In effect, the assembly said funds contributed to agencies over which the church has no control — such as the SCLC — should come from special offerings or from special sources rather than from the regular benevolences received by the board.

The Presbyterians said, however, they recognize that an assembly board must have the freedom to "use the fund entrusted to it in ways it considers the best stewardship of the sources and for the greatest good for the kingdom's work."

Commissioners winding up a five-day session late Tuesday night, also approved a recommendation for establishment of an "Inter-Board Committee on Crises" to deal with emergencies such as national disasters, social crises, human distress and the like.

The committee would be funded through special free-will offerings which would be sent directly to the General Council Crisis Fund.

The legislation also would empower the committee to pay out the funds, submitting an audit of its records to the General Council through the General Assembly annually.

Watch The Pitch In Languages

NEW YORK (AP) — Learning to speak a foreign language well depends a good deal on how you listen to the sounds of the language, says Leonard M. Tompakov, Pace College professor of foreign languages.

In Vietnamese, for example a single sound word like NAM may mean south, nails, barren, hear, five, to hold a fistful of material or to lie down.

The meaning is determined by the pitch of your voice.

Tax Began On April Fool's Day

HOPKINSVILLE Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's 5 per cent sales tax, sought by Gov. Louie B. Nunn, became effective on April Fool's Day.

It didn't go unnoticed in Hopkinsville, either. A lot of wooden coins were circulated around town, the coins bearing a picture of a buffalo on one side and the words "Nunn's Nickel" on the other.

HIGHER STANDARDS FOR THE GIRLS

DENVER (AP) — Fledgling policemen in Denver may be as young as 21 and have no more than a high school diploma. But applicants for policewomen posts must be at least 25 and be college graduates.

By BARRY KRAMER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Unless he is wealthy, a Vietnamese must have two or three jobs to support his family. In many families, wives and children must work to keep up with South Vietnam's wartime inflation. Since the Tet offensive, many have lost their second and third jobs, making the squeeze even tougher.

Prices took off like a balloon in early 1965 and have continued to rise as the number of U.S. troops has risen. In that period, as the number of American troops rose from 20,000 to 500,000, the cost of food has quadrupled and over-all prices—including food, transportation, haircuts, aspirin, charcoal, electricity—have increased threefold.

This means Vietnamese must find ways to pay 60 cents for a loaf of bread that used to cost 10 cents, or a kilogram, 2.2 pounds, of rice for 280 piasters that once sold for 82. Nguyen Van Tinh—the name is fictitious but the situation is real—is a middle level official in the Ministry of Agriculture. He has a degree from a university in the Philippines and a master's degree from American University in Washington, D.C.

He is paid 14,000 piasters—$119—a month and gets a rice allowance that brings his monthly salary to almost 16,000 piasters. He also is allowed the personal use of a ministry jeep.

The pay figures mean he has to spend half a day's pay for a kilo of rice or four loaves of bread.

Here are some further swelling price comparisons, with the figure for January 1965 followed by that for May 1968, and with the piaster worth .0085 cents: (price per kilo, unless otherwise indicated).

Lean pork 85 and 350; beef-steak 80 and 300; one live chicken 65 and 270; shrimp 34 and 150; one bottle local beer 8.5 and 25; cabbage 11 and 45; cucumbers 6 and 35; pack of locally produced cigarettes 8 and 20; haircut 15 and 70.

The index of prices, set at 100 on Jan. 1, 1965, is now: food 443; nonfood 280; all items 393.

In the United States, where the index of 100 is based on the 1957-59 period, the April 1968 home food price figure was 115.1, against 105.05 for April 1965.

Labor Department statistics give these comparative prices for March 1965 and March 1968: steak $1.07 and $1.17 a pound; butter 74.9 and 83.4 cents a pound; potatoes 99.4 and 67.9 cents per 10 pounds.

These statistics show April gross earnings for about 45 million nonsupervisory workers in fields ranging from manufacturing and mining to insurance and real estate at $104.63 weekly in 1968. In any event, Tinh's pay is just not enough to live on in Saigon. So, Tinh's wife makes yogurt, a dairy product made popular among city-dwelling Vietnamese by the French. At night, Tinh uses the jeep to peddle the yogurt.

Most of South Vietnam's 230,000 civil servants are in the same position. They and the nation's 700,000 men under arms have not been given salary increases to keep them even with rising prices.

Statistics, admittedly inadequate, show that between early 1965 and late 1967, government workers suffered a 50 per cent loss of real income despite salary increases.

The inadequate salaries also have contributed to widespread graft among civil servants. A payoff for a license, 1,000 piasters to have a name put at the head of a list, and other such practices are common.

All evidence indicates, however, that nongovernment workers, through one means or another, have kept up with the price increases. At least until the Viet Cong attack at Tet, there was full employment and many workers had more than one job. Salaries in nongovernment jobs are up substantially over 1965.

The widespread sale of consumer and durable goods is evidence of this. Saigon is now flooded with Japanese motorcycles, transistor radios, washing machines, cameras and the like.

But American economists are forecasting serious inflationary pressure in the second half of this year.

They note scheduled increased spending by the government to pay for general mobilization, decreased tax collection caused by the increased tempo of the war, and other factors causing price increases. Also since the Tet offensive, many people have lost their second and third jobs. Civil servants who used to wait outside Saigon hotels offering their motorbikes as gypsy taxis are now prevented from doing this by the early curfew. Many businesses, especially the large textile plants just outside the city were destroyed in the fighting, putting thousands out of work.

The government, with U. S. help, has taken measures to keep inflation in bounds. One major reason for rising prices is the mushrooming amounts of piasters available to consumers. Large numbers of Vietnamese are employed by the Americans, American soldiers spend millions of dollars in their off-duty hours and there is increasing expenditure by the government, which meets it by printing more money.

Isn't Ready To Quit His Climbs

MANITOU SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Prof. Edwin H. Paget has walked more than 465 miles in his perennial trips up Pikes Peak and he isn't ready to quit. Paget, a speech professor at North Carolina State University, now between 65 and 75, has made 342 trips up the 7,500 foot climb. He intends to make five trips up the mountain on his 75th birthday.

Paget, a speech professor, first climbed to the 14,110 foot summit in 1919. His reason for the frequent trips up Pike's Peak? "To show that man can reach his physical peak at 75, with proper daily exercise."

Final Day For Church Session

ELON COLLEGE, N. C. (AP) — Delegates at today's closing session of the annual meeting of the Southern Conference of the United Church of Christ were to consider a $500,000 annual budget.

Among other business items to be considered was the annual report, to be presented by the Rev. James H. Lightbourne Jr. of Burlington, chief executive of the conference.

Later today, the Rev. Joseph H. Evans of New York was to address the 377 delegates gathered at Elon College — representatives of some 68,000 communicants in 400 churches throughout North Carolina and Virginia.

At Tuesday's opening session, the Rev. Herbert Van Meter of New York, executive secretary of the division of interpretation and personnel of the United Church Board of World Ministries, told the delegates the church's ministry must be expanded.

No longer must the church attempt only to convert non-Christians, Van Meter said, it must help them as well.

Also Tuesday, Mrs. Tom Hamilton of Elon College was elected president of the conference women.

Ervin Disclaims Attack On Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., says Senate hearings on the role of the U.S. Supreme Court should not be regarded as an attack on the court.

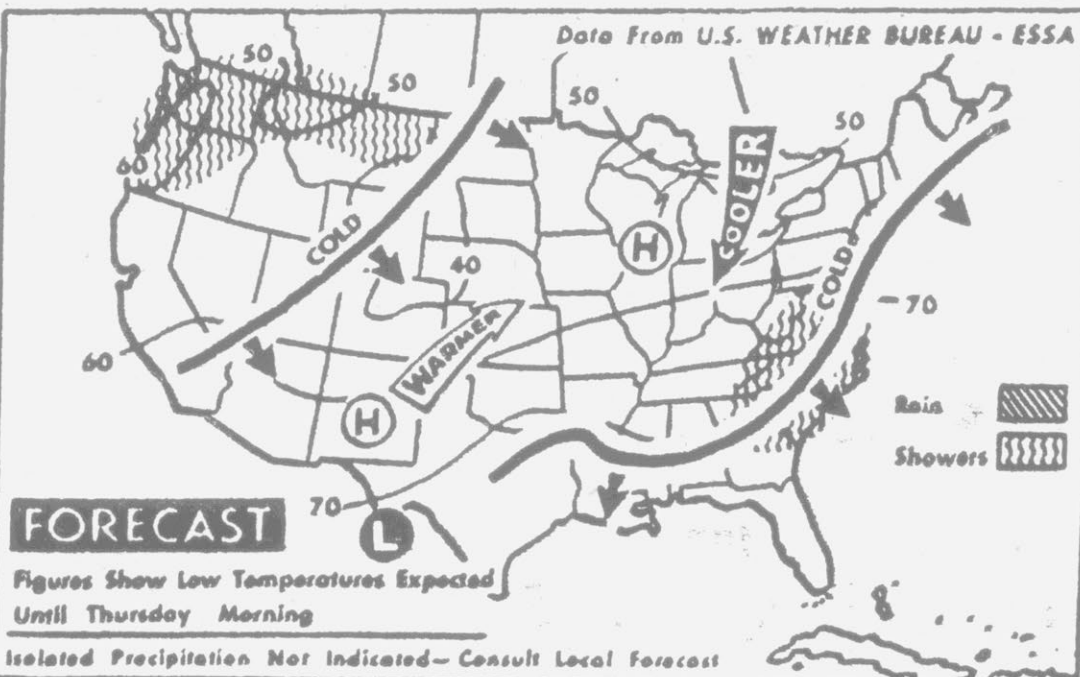

Ervin noted also that subjects listed for discussion did not refer to the court's controversial rulings on civil rights, the rights of criminal defendants, obscenity, reapportionment, prayer and Bible reading.

He said, however, that "while the Supreme Court is deserving of the utmost respect, it should not be regarded as immune to honest and objective criticism."

Ervin is chairman of a Senate Judiciary subcommittee on separation of powers, which is conducting the hearings.

Earlier hearings by the year-old committee have dealt with the relationship of Congress and executive agencies. The group's purpose is to investigate any encroachments of one branch of the government on another.

There are 367,000 establishments in the nation which offer food service.

WEATHER FORECAST — Showers and thundershowers are forecast only in the Northwest and along the central Atlantic coast Wednesday night. It will be cooler in the area of the lower Great Lakes and Ohio valley. (AP Wirephoto)

ECU Mall Concert By 'Sing-Out South'

The 60-member cast of "Sing-Out South," internationally known singing group composed of high school and college students from the Richmond, Va. area, will present a free one-hour concert on the mall at East Carolina University at 4 p.m. Thursday, June 13.

Announcing the concert was Rudolph Alexander, assistant dean of Students Affairs at ECU. Alexander said the group, which will be enroute to perform in Washington Thursday night, was offered overnight accommodation at East Carolina on Wednesday. The group in turn volunteered to perform Thursday afternoon.

The group is to entertain members of the Tuscarora Council, Boy Scouts of America, during their "Re-Dedication to God Pilgrimage" to Bath, now in progress. Over 1,000 Boy Scouts are participating in the pilgrimage, which has as its goal the re-affirmation of the faith of youth. The pilgrimage has received national attention. "Sing-Out South" is a branch of "Sing-Out America," a group organized in 1965 whose purpose is to "sing out for God and country." Its theme is "Up With People."

The Sing-Out program is part of the Moral Re-Armament program, directed in the U.S. by J. Blanton Belk Jr. Three "Up With People" casts have given multiple performances in cities and states across America, and have played in Japan, Germany, Monaco, Spain, Austria and Mexico.

Litter Sleuths Trace Offenders

NEW YORK (A) — Litterbug detection is a growing branch of police work.

Police, sheriffs, health officers and others associated with litter prevention have found a number of ways of detecting the unseen litterbug particularly the large-scale litterer who dumps bundles or even truckloads of trash along roadsides.

Police officers examine such litter carefully for identifying evidence. They often find a clue. It may be a letter addressed to the offender, an old bill, rent receipt, bank statement or a magazine or newspaper to which the offender subscribes.

In California recently a department store label on a carton eventually led police to a major litter offender.

Keep America Beautiful reports another willful litterbug deliberately cut all the names and addresses off trash he planned to junk along the highway, but forgot about a medicine bottle. The police traced him through the prescription number on the label!

Ayden Mayor, 2 Commissioners Are Sworn In

AYDEN — Mayor Ross Persinger and two newly elected members of the Board of Commissioners were sworn in at the town board meeting here Monday night.

Persinger, J. J. Brown and J. D. Allen were named to their posts in the May 6 election here. Persinger and Allen had previously held their offices. Brown, a Negro, defeated incumbent fourth ward commissioner John Clark Noble for that seat.

Harry Mumford was elected Mayor pro-tem by the board. Commissioners adopted an out-of-town water and sewer connection policy to be applied to homes and business connection outside town limits and approved an ordinance empowering the mayor to proclaim the existence of a state of emergency and impose special restrictions, such as a curfew, while the emergency condition exists.

A public hearing was set for July 1 on rezoning property located in West Ayden from RA 8 residential to B2 commercial. The hearing was scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the court room.

The board also approved a resolution requesting the Pitt

County Commissioners to appoint five members to a joint Ayden city - county planning group.

Such action, the commissioners said, would permit the joint board to exercise the powers of the Ayden zoning ordinance and zone property within a mile from the town limits. Such zoning would normally provide for more orderly development of the town and surrounding area.

Commissioners set a special meeting for June 25 to approve the 1968-69 fiscal year budget.

The board also voiced concurrence in changes in traffic signals recommended by the State Highway Commission, with one exception.

Commissioners said they did not approve of the removal of the stop signal at the intersection of Third and Snow Hill Streets.

Winterville Park Bulbs Replaced

WINTERVILLE — About 300 light bulbs have been replaced at the Winterville ball park.

The bulbs, installed by town employees, were purchased by the Winterville Kiwanis and Ruritan Clubs at a cost of $270.

Many of the bulbs in the lights were burned out, necessitating the installation of new ones.

The work was completed last week.

Town Hires Two Youth Corpsmen

End Testimony In Spock Case

BOSTON (AP) — Testimony has ended in the trial of Dr. Benjamin Spock and four other men charged with conspiring to aid, abet and counsel young men to avoid the draft.

The pediatrician ended his second day on the witness stand Tuesday with a denial that he ever attempted to persuade young men to resist the draft, but said he was "glad and delighted" when they did.

Closing arguments by defense and prosecution begin today. A final charge by U.S. District Judge Francis J. W. Ford remains before the all-male jury receives the case.

On trial with the 65-year-old Spock is Yale Chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43; Michael Ferber, 23, a Harvard graduate student; Mitchell Goodman, 44, a writer and teacher from Temple, Maine; and Marcus Raskin, 34, a Washington research director.

They face maximum sentences of five-year prison terms and $10,000 fines if convicted of the conspiracy charges.

The defense rested when Spock left the witness stand after 16 days of testimony by both sides. The defendants were indicted Jan. 8 and trial began May 20.

Prosecution and defense lawyers said they hoped the jury could receive the case before the weekend.

During cross-examination, Asst. U.S. Atty. John Wall asked Spock if the "ultimate effect" of the pediatrician's anti-draft activities might result in widespread refusal by young men to serve in the armed forces and fight in Vietnam.

"I would be glad if 500,000 men in the Army and Navy refused to serve," Spock replied, "They would be doing right by their country."

"But you would not personally encourage them?" he was asked.

"But I wouldn't personally give encouragement. I wouldn't want to be involved in that," Spock said.

Wrong Flavor On His Other Thumb

MOREHEAD, Ky. (AP) — After 2-year-old Jeffrey Garrett sprained his elbow the bandage made it impossible for him to lift his favorite sucking thumb to his mouth.

Matching Grant For Art Museum

RALEIGH (AP) — A $10,000 matching grant to the North Carolina Museum of Art for the purchase of two or more works of living American artists was announced Tuesday at a meeting of directors of the N. C. State Art Society.

The directors unanimously voted to match the gift from the National Endowment for the Arts in behalf of the museum.

Winterville Eyes $176,680 Budget

WINTERVILLE — The budget for the operation of the various municipal services, which has yet to receive final approval by the Board of Aldermen, calls for an expenditure of $176,680 for the 1968-69 fiscal year.

That figure represents an increase of more than $26,000 over the $150,600 budget of 1967-68 fiscal year and would mean an increase of 25 cents per $100 valuation in the tax rate. The proposed tax rate for 1968-69 is $1.25 per hundred.

General fund expenditures as set in the proposed budget include:

$2,000 legislative; $9,000 administrative; $6,500 insurance; $10,000 police department; $2,000 fire department; $12,000 street department salaries; $15,000 street maintenance; and $7,000 rental fees.

Water and sewer funds, which total $38,700, include a $12,000 figure for water and sewer distribution system work, while the electric fund section of the budget includes a $12,000 item for electric distribution system work. It is in these two areas that most of the increase in the budget is contained, according to town officials. The total electric fund budget amounts to $99,195.

The same electrical, water and sewer rates will be maintained for the 1968-69 fiscal year.

Minister Slowly Making His Dream Come True

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Rev. Leon Howard Sullivan is a Negro man who also had a dream. And slowly — "oh, too slowly," — it is coming true.

Sullivan a Baptist minister, went into the teeing squalid areas of Philadelphia, where thousands of his people live in rotting houses without much hope for a brighter future, and launched a job training and opportunities program "to help the poor people help them-seives. And you can be sure of this, that we shall succeed," he says "and we shall change the cries in our streets from "burn, baby, burn, to "build brother, build."

There are some Negroes who criticize Sullivan and label him an "Uncle Tom" for his close cooperation with white officials in government and business.

He scoffs at these charges, believes riots will diminish as the black and white cultures "merge more and more to become a single America." "I learned to stand up on my own feet, and I want to prove to other people that they can do it," said the 45-year-old minister.

"A man, black or white, will never be free until he stops begging."

Sullivan's dream was rooted on a hot summer day in Charleston W. Va., 32 years ago after he walked into a small country store, wiped the dust from the dry road on his shirt, sat down at the counter and asked for a soda.

The proprietor said it firmly, "You better stand up, black boy. You can't sit there."

"Right there," Sullivan said, "I made up my mind to stand up on my own feet the rest of my life — and try to help m people do the same."

His idea is that money talks — and talks big.

First, in 1957 banding together 400 Negro ministers, he organized an economic boycott — solely through Sunday pulpit sermons — of 29 major Philadelphia firms.

His weapon was "don't buy where you can't work." And in this selective patronage campaign thousands of Negro men got jobs where Negro men never worked before.

Other groups across the nation have picked up the idea, some calling it "Operation Breadbasket." It's still being used.

"They (businessmen) hated my guts," Sullivan said, thinking back. "We shook them up."

But Sullivan, too, was shaken — finding that job equality is fruitless without qualified men and women able to read and write. What he found was needed, more than anything, was a massive job training program.

In 1964, his dream gave birth to Opportunities Industrialization Center, OIC. It started in an abandoned, rat-infested police station in North Philadelphia, which is still being rented from the city for $1 a year. The iron-barred cells are there yet, used now for storage.

OIC today has a $2.7-million annual budget, and already claims to have found jobs for more than 5,000. Another 7,000 are waiting to enroll in one of seven Philadelphia centers where they can learn such trades as welding, drafting, plumbing, sewing, commercial cooking. Courses run from eight weeks to sometimes a year.

Since the start the government has provided $16 million of the total OIC financing, private sources another $4 million.

Industry, once cold and suspicious, now is quiet chummy. Sullivan is on first-name relationship with the nation's top industrialists and financiers.

"These men give me supportive assistance," said Sullivan, noting their membership on an advisory committee. "OIC needs jobs to succeed and they open the doors of industry."

OIC now has spread to 75 cities, and more centers soon will open. They're in places like Little Rock, Ark.; Roanoke Va.; Seattle, Wash.; New Haven, Conn.; Los Angeles, Charlotte, N.C.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Cleveland, Ohio; Denver Col.; Phoenix, Ariz.; Omaha, Neb.; Louisville, Ky.; Birmingham, Ala.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Atlanta, Ga.; Wichita Kan.

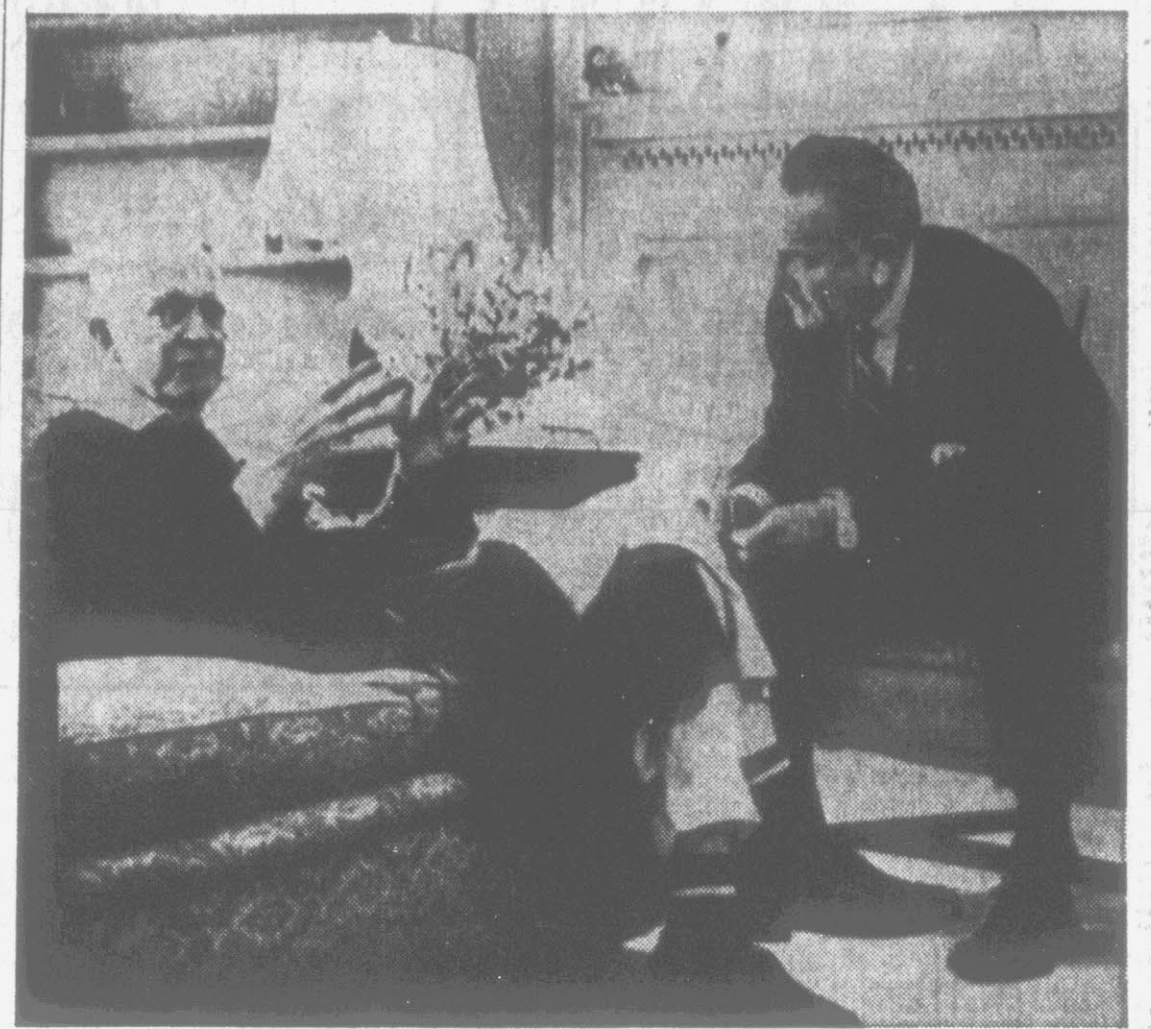

"There are 20,000 students in classes now across the country," said Sullivan. "By the end of this year there will be 50,000 and by January, 1970, there will be 250,000."

Sullivan, a big man at 6 foot 5 and 235 pounds is successful pastor of the 5,000-member Zion Baptist church, largest in the Philadelphia Negro community, and with "the feeling that my direction is the right way,"

"There are several roads to civil rights and freedom, a I'm following my road," he said. "I see it as racial economic emancipation."

Sullivan has risen far from the shack in the dirt-filled Charleston alley along the railroad tracks where he was born. His mother was a $13-a-week elevator operator, his father a janitor.

"I didn't have much purpose until that drugstore man shook me awake," he said. "I owe that man something."

Denver Building Defies 'Geometric Description'

ENGLEWOOD, Colo. (AP) — This Denver suburb boasts a building resembling a split pumpkin that may pioneer concrete architecture.

The Concrete Reinforcing Steel Institute of Chicago says the structure "defies geometric description."

Designed by Charles Deaton of Denver, the bow-like building's graceful lines create what architect Deaton calls a "strictly nonrepresentational form."

Deaton first molded the model in clay. A knife and sculptor's file loop then gouged out entry window "portholes" and three terraces in its two stories.

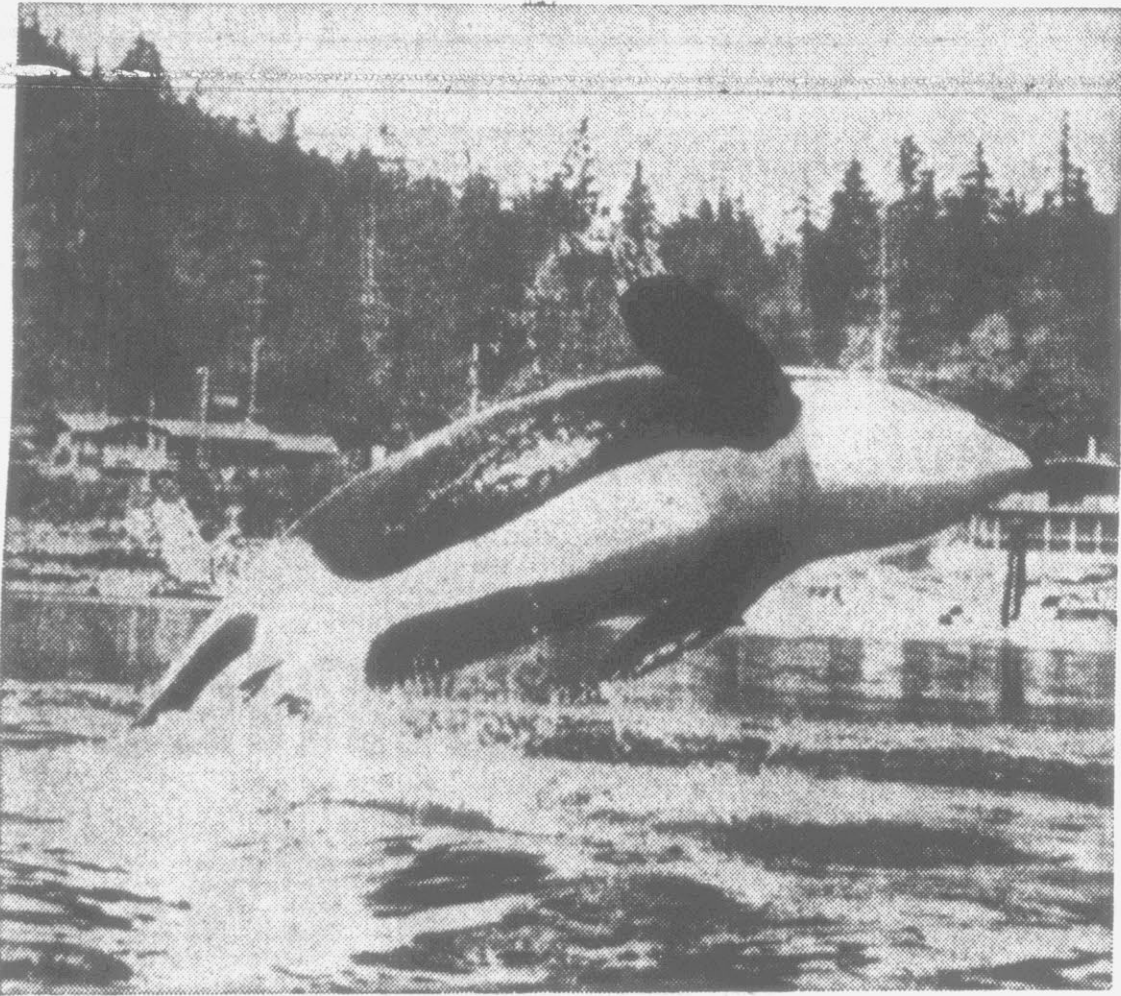

From clay it became a plastic model and preliminary architectural drawing. These led to structural studies that decided the amount, position, size and strength of the steel bars that support the eight-inch-thick concrete shell.

Before the reinforcing steel was covered with wire mesh and sprayed with concrete, the building resembled a king-size lions' cage at the zoo.

F. S. Clough, managing director of the institute, a trade association of reinforcing steel fabricators, terms the structure "a vibrant testimonial to the beauty possible only through reinforced concrete."

Thirty-two feet in height, the savings and loan building has 10,000 square feet of floor space devoted to a 44 by 44-foot lobby, five private offices, five teller windows and a large conference room. Now the building is an architectural counterpoint to the rugged terrain surrounding mile-high Denver.

The earliest fossils of elephant-like animals were found in Egypt and are estimated to be about 50 million years old.

Foreign Analysts Still Trying To Explain America And Its Violence

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—America's political violence likely will stop only when the political laying of an "un-

The United States need "a purging of moral conscience," declared Friedrich Langhelm of the Rheinische Post of Dusseldorf.

Neue Presse in West Germany, also cited racial tensions. And he said reason enough for a searching of conscience is that "the revolver-wielding here is glorified by movies, television, magazines, comic strips and children's toys."

Langhelm was one of a host of foreign analysts trying to explain why Robert F. Kennedy was slain, and pondering where America is headed.

The Sunday Times of London said: "The Vietnam war and the crisis of the urban Negro are the two burning issues, and they have defeated solution by conventional politics. Together they have produced an almost intolerable tension in American life, and the climate, if not the specific cause for assassination."

"This may seem like a heartless way of saying it," said the newspaper Asahi of Tokyo, "but the United States is feeling the 'reprisal from the war' in Vietnam."

Asahi said the war "cannot help but create an atmosphere in the country conducive to the ready use of violence."

Viktor Meier, Washington correspondent of the Frankfurter

Some commentators mentioned the theory that violence is inherited from America's hard pioneer times. But the British weekly New Statesman dismissed the importance of frontier sharpshooters as "a Hollywood cliché which abuses the historical facts."

"America," it said, "was a product of an overwhelming devotion to constitutional law; violence, though common, was essentially an aberration."

Cartoons in the Brazilian press showed a youthful sniper, with monster-like features, lining up the crosshairs of his rifle sight on the Statue of Liberty's heart; an American flag with 50 bullets instead of stars, and Uncle Sam, with dollars sticking from his coat pocket, blowing the smoke from a revolver barrel.

James Stewart Liked His Military Career

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—James Stewart recently ended a 27-year career with a rare distinction: the Air Force's Distinguished Service Medal.

It was only the second time that the honor had been bestowed on a Reserve officer. The citation said that "the singularly distinctive accomplishments of Gen. Stewart culminate a long and distinguished career in the service of his country and reflect the highest credit upon himself and the U.S. Air Force."

Having retired from the service at 60, Jimmy Stewart returned from the Washington ceremonies and indulged in some rare reflection on his years with the Air Force. Actually it was the Army Air Corps when he was drafted on March 22, 1941. Stewart took his training at Moffatt Field, Calif., was commissioned a second lieutenant in 1942, went to England in 1943, flew 20 combat missions over Germany and left active duty as a colonel in 1945. Stewart explained why he chose to remain in the Air Force Reserve: "I got a lot out of my experience in the service during the war; I think that experience helped make me a better civilian. I was greatly impressed with the caliber of men I met and worked with, and I wanted to continue that relationship."

For the next 23 years, the actor spent two or three weeks a year on active duty including two visits to Vietnam. His most memorable experience, he said, was working with C. Curtis E. LeMay during the formative period of the Strategic Air Command. In addition to his active duty, Stewart made numerous appearances for the Air Force, in person and on film and television.

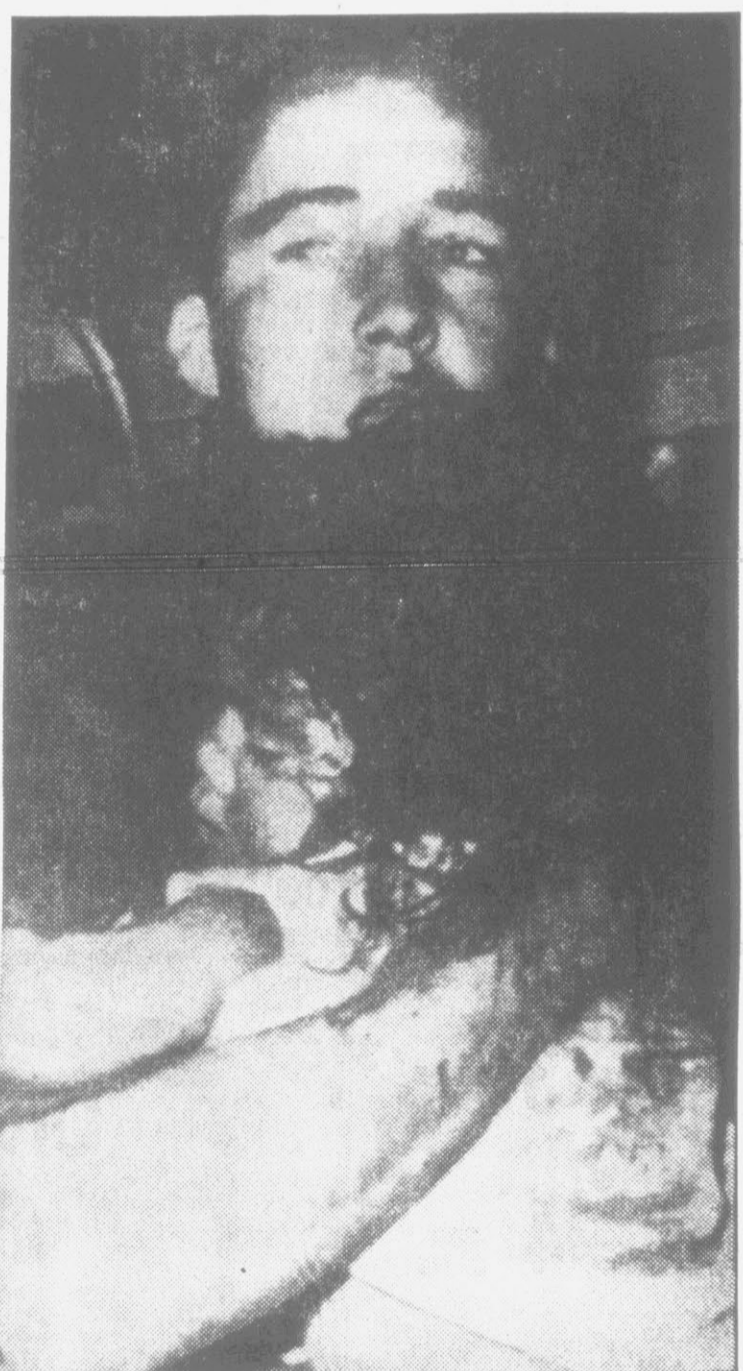

He conceded that some highly vocal segments of today's society are antimilitary, but he said that such expressions are common in peacetime.

"When I was a kid, military people were tucked away on a base somewhere; they never took part in any of the civic functions," he remarked. "If a boy ran off and joined the Army he was considered to be a failure."

"Now the military is very much a part of our society, and I think that's a good thing. I find the caliber of military personnel is very high. You find among them a tough-mindedness and spirit to do the job correctly."

"The service academies aren't just technical schools any more; they're now stressing the humanities and the liberal arts. The Air Force Academy produces as many Rhodes Scholars as any university in the United States. That's a pretty good indication that it is producing not just leaders, but scholars."

"Yes, I know a lot of people say, 'The military's only purpose is to make war—to kill.' I don't believe that. I've found in the military almost a reverence for humanity. When you deal with the kind of person I've encountered in the service, patriotism makes sense."

Fund-Raising Groups Licensed

RALEIGH — During the month of May, licenses were granted by the State Board of Public Welfare to eight organizations to conduct fund-raising campaigns through public solicitations for the support of their programs. It was announced by Clinton M. Craig, Commissioner.

Seven of the organizations have held licenses for previous solicitation periods. These organizations are: American Fund for Dental Education, Inc.; Boys Home of North Carolina, Inc.; The Menninger Foundation; The Myasthenia Gravis Foundation, Inc.; National Association of Hearing and Speech Agencies; North Carolina Chapter — Arthritis Foundation; and United States Olympic Committee. The application of the North Carolina Association for the Blind, Inc., for the period ending October 1, 1968 was amended to include solicitations for the support of Camp Dogwood.

North Carolina Recreation and Park Society was granted a license for the first time by the State Board of Public Welfare.

The total amount which these eight organizations will seek from the public during the year in North Carolina is approximately $673,441.00.

Paying $1 Million For Commercials

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Dairy Assn. has signed the Cowsills, a singing group which is a mother and her children, for a series of commercials and claims it will pay them more than an entertainer or group ever has been paid to do commercials.

The Cowsills are to gross $1 million.

The commercials will be done over four years and will be for TV, radio and on cross-country tours.

One member of the group, Dick, has enlisted in the Army.

Unbelievably Bad Sanitation

NEW YORK (AP)—Griswold L. Moeller, the city's new sanitation commissioner, was given a tour on his first day on the job. When the group came to 140th Street in the Bronx, Moeller took a look and said, "It's unbelievable." The street was littered with beer cans and garbage and there was an overturned car at the curb. Officials said the section was one of the worst sanitation areas in the city.

ADVOCATES A CAUSE

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—"If a cause comes along which appeals to you, plunge in," Rhode Island Gov. John H. Chafee told graduates of Waynflete School. "Too many people are obsessed with security," he said.

Senior Citizen Market 'Missed'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—American businessmen scrambling to appeal to the young "now generation" overlook the loyalty and $40-billion-a-year income they could attract from the elderly, a university researcher says.

Dr. A. Coskun Samli, associate professor of marketing at the University of Southern California, said Monday that what he calls the senior citizen market represents more than 10 percent of the nation's population and is growing by from 300,000 to 400,000 persons a year. The elderly spend $950 million yearly on hobbies, he said.

Summer Ball Drills Get Underway At ECU

East Carolina University's Baseball Club begins practice today for what is hoped to be the first summer program at the university.

Coach Earl Smith said that the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and Wilmington College were also starting their programs at the same time.

"We will have to wait until we do practice, however, before we set up a schedule. We need to see how many pitchers we have so we'll know how often we can play," he said.

This year, the program will be in its infancy, and will be feeling its own way. "This is the first time we've had anything like this," Smith said, "and we're not sure what's going to happen."

But if the program is successful, he sees other schools joining in next year, such as N. C. State, Campbell and Pembroke, to make a real league.

The idea of the league is based on a club situation rather than a college team, such as plays during the regular season. "This will have no bearing on a boy's eligibility during the regular season, and anybody can play who has eligibility left at his respective institution, and is enrolled in summer school here."

Another big factor is the success of the program is the amount of interest shown by summer school students, who will make up the teams. "The program is to serve as form of organized ball for summer school students," Smith pointed out, "and without them, it can't succeed."

A number of members of the ECU baseball team are expected to participate in the program as well as non-players. These include Jimmy Smith, Johnny Weaver, Jimmy Lanier, Carey Anderson, Mitchell Hughes, Rick Glover, Neil Kulp and Bicky Woodard.

"We'll probably set up some sort of a schedule later this week," Smith said. "Then we'll round it out with games with some of the area semi-pro teams."

Home games for the Pirates will be played around twilight. "We want to give the local people as great an opportunity as we can to see the games," Smith said. "Next year, we'll hope to have night ball so it will be even better."

But the real feature of the game will probably be determined today at the three campuses where the sport will be played. Interest by student-players must be great enough to warrant its continuation.

Pepsi Wins To Move Near Title

Pepsi-Cola has moved to within one game of clinching the Tar Heel Little League title again with a 6-2 victory over Greenville Tobacco.

Pepsi now has a 9-2 record, and is a full three-games ahead of Security Life, 6-5. Only Security can pass Pepsi. Any combination of two in Pepsi wins and Security losses will ice the title. One will mean no less than a tie. Greenville Tobacco, 5-6, and the Elks and Moose, both 4-6, can do no better than tie for the title, while the Exchange, 4-7, is eliminated from any chance at the crown.

Pepsi pushed across three runs in the first inning. Jerry Griffin led off with a single and Don Cannon got a hit. David Clifton then powered his team into a 3-0 lead with a home-run.

In the second, Greenville Tobacco came up with its two runs. Julian Vainwright walked, as did Pat Hagan. A walk to Jim Wilkerson loaded the bases and another to James Weeks brought Vainwright over. Ronald Hodges also walked, forcing in Hagan making it 3-2. But the Tobs were stopped after that, and never got any closer.

Pepsi came back with three more runs in the bottom of the second. Griffin walked and Cannon did too. Clifton reached on a fielder's choice, and an error scored Griffin and moved the other runners up. Danny Norris singled to drive in Cannon and Clifton for the 6-2 final margin.

Macon Moye led the Tobs with three hits, while Cannon and Clifton each had two for Pepsi. Greenville Tobacco 020 000 — 2 5 3 Pepsi-Cola 330 00x — 6 9 0

ECU Featured In Magazines

East Carolina University is the subject of two articles in major professional magazines this month.

The University is the subject of a feature article in "Coach And Athlete," written by Sports Information Director John Hendrix. It traces the great growth of the university both academically and athletically during the past decade.

The other article appears in "Reporter," the magazine of Bell Telephone Laboratories, and is a picture story of the electronic swimming timer used at Minges Coliseum Natatorium. The machine was developed by three Bell engineers.

Selma Hurls Sixth Win For Mets As Dodgers Fall

By DICK COUCH Associated Press Sports Writer

Given an option three months ago, the New York Mets might have left Dick Selma in Florida without a backward glance. Given a choice today, they'd probably settle for nothing less than two of him.

Selma, a distinct flop during spring training, reeled off his sixth regular season victory without a loss Tuesday night, hurling a five-hitter as the Mets tripped the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-0.

Selma appeared ticketed for the Mets' Jacksonville farm club in April after appearing in five exhibition games... and compiling an 0-5 record. But New York had exercised all its options on the 24-year-old right-hander, and Manager Gil Hodges wanted to take one more look before giving up on him.

Now Selma rates No. 1 among National League pitchers with five or more decisions and merits a place of esteem on the Mets' talented young pitching staff alongside Jerry Koosman. Tom Seaver and Nolan Ryan.

In other NL games, Pittsburgh slugged San Francisco 7-4, with a 16-hit barrage; first place St. Louis trimmed Atlanta 6-0 behind Bob Gibson; Houston upended Philadelphia 5-1; and Cincinnati outscored the Chicago Cubs 9-7.

Detroit's American League leaders swept a two-night doubleheader from Minnesota 3-1 and 3-2; and Chicago White Sox bombed the New York Yankees 9-5; Baltimore whipped Washington 8-4 and Oakland shaded Cleveland 2-0 in a game called after 5 1/2 innings because of rain. Rain washed out the scheduled doubleheader between California and Boston.

Selma lowered his earned run average to 1.77 Tuesday night, struck out four Dodgers and never was in serious trouble. Two errors by third baseman Ken Boyer helped the Mets push over a pair of unearned runs against loser Claude Osteen, 5-8, who had pitched shutouts in his previous two starts.

Roberto Clemente's eighth homer touched off a four-run sixth inning spree that carried the Pirates past the Giants. After Clemente homered off southpaw Ray Sadecki, tying the game 3-3, Bill Mazeroski drilled a two-run single and Maury Wills singled another run home.

Reliever Ron Kline blanked the Giants from the fifth inning until the ninth, when he got lost out help from Roy Face. The Giants' Willie McCovey took over the NL home run lead by blasting his 12th of the season, a two-run shot off Steve Blass in the fourth inning.

Gibson, 6-5, beat Atlanta for the first time since 1966 with a five-hitter as the Cardinals extended their two-year hex over the Braves to 10 successive victories.

The Cardinals, who have won 13 of their last 15 games, assured Gibson of his second straight shutout by reeling off four double plays.

Tim McCarver drove in two runs, Julian Javier and Mike Shannon delivered one each and two more scored on a pair of errors by rookie outfielder Mike Lum.

The Astros struck for five runs in the second inning and pinned Philadelphia with its fifth consecutive setback behind right-hander Larry Dierker, who scattered seven hits and struck out 11.

Rusty Staub capped the second inning flurry with a two-run double. Rich Allen, making his first start since May 29, tagged Dierker for a first inning homer. The Phils' slugger was back in the lineup after apparently patching up his differences with Manager Gene Mauch.

Tony Perez knocked in four runs with a homer, single and ground out, leading the Reds past the Cubs in an afternoon game. Perez, who leads the league with 39 RBI, gave Cincinnati its margin of victory with a two-run blast in the sixth inning. Lee May also homered for the Reds.

Casper Rated Solid Favorite

By BOB GREEN Associated Press Sports Writer

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Billy Casper, quiet and cool as ever but the hottest commodity on the pro tour, was a solid favorite today to capture his third United States Open Golf Championship.

Casper's near fantastic success this year—he's won four tournaments and almost $125,000—has thrust him ahead of the usual favorites, the troubled twosome of Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer.

"Billy's got to be the man to beat," said young Lee Trevino, also ranked by his fellow pros as a prime contender for golf's most prestigious title.

"Casper's playing incredible golf and the course is made for him."

Play starts Thursday on the demanding 6,962-yard, par 70 Oak Hill Country Club layout. The starting field of 150 will be trimmed to the low 60 and ties after Friday's play for the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

The last two rounds will be televised nationally by ABC. "I'm playing the best golf of my life," said the 36-year-old Casper, second only to Palmer on the all-time list of money winners and this year's leader.

"I have never played better. Largely, I think, it's my attitude. Whatever it is, it's all there. All aspects of my game are the best they have ever been."

The course is not overly long, which favors Casper. But the fairways are very narrow, favoring his rifle-like accuracy, and the course is studded with some 34,000 trees, mostly oak and pine, and laced by winding brooks, picturesque but hazardous.

Most of the pros flounder the demand for accuracy and the penalties of the hazards cut the chances of the gambling Nicklaus and Palmer.

Nicklaus is in a slump. He hasn't won this year. Palmer is plagued by a balky, aching hip. His last major title was the 1964 Masters. Gary Player says he's playing well and putting poorly. He hasn't scored a tour victory since the 1965 Open.

But they're always threats. And Nicklaus said his game has been improved with a new driv-

N.C. State To Face St. John's Nine

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer
OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — A pair of old pro coaches in college baseball, Rod Dedeaux of Southern California and Chef Bryan of Oklahoma State, are headed for an early showdown in the College World Series tonight.

Both opened with first-round victories Tuesday night. USC needed only two hits to defeat Brigham Young 5-3 behind Bill Lee, while OSU sprayed 17 hits and got a no-hit, no-run relief job the last eight innings from Bob Richardson in an 8-5 victory over Texas.

Dedeaux is after his fourth NCAA baseball title and USC's fifth.

"USC won its in 1948 and 1958, so maybe 1968 is our year," he said.

This is Bryan's third straight trip to Omaha and he has the best hitting club of the three. The 1966 team was runner-up to Ohio State.

"We don't have a stopper, but this club has a good attitude," Bryan said. "These boys listen and respond when I tell them something."

St. John's of New York, 24-8, and North Carolina State, 24-7, both first-round winners, will play at 5:30 p.m., CDT, followed by Southern Cal. 46-14, and OSU, 21-7, at 8. In the loser's bracket at 2, Texas meets BYU.

Southern Illinois, given a reprieve when Harvard dropped a game-ending pop fly, eliminated Harvard 2-1 on Jerry Bond's leadoff home run in the 11th inning Tuesday. The victory moved SIU, ranked No. 2 in the final national coaches' poll, into Thursday's third round.

St. John's will start right-hander Rich Napolitano, 7-2 with a 0.97 earned run average on a staff with a fantastic 1.01 season ERA. NC State will start Joe Frye, 8-2, a freshman right-hander with a .379 batting average and the club leader with four home runs in just 29 trips.

USC will start right-hander Jim Southworth, 2-1 and 2.84, while Bryan will choose between a pair of right-handers, Mike Camp 1.76 and Bill Maxwell 2.11.

BYU will send right-hander Brad Meyring, 5-3 and 2.59, against Texas right-hander Larry Hardy, 4-2 and 2.48.

Wayne Weatherly's three-run homer started the OSU comeback from a 5-0 deficit and inept fielding by Texas helped in a four-run fourth which knocked out Jim Street.

BYU's Ken Crosby seemed to have a hex on USC until his own wildness and BYU errors proved his undoing in a four-run seventh. Larry Romney, the NCAA home run, hit No. 13 in the eighth with a man on.

GREENVILLE C.C.

Rain has interrupted some of the action at the Greenville Golf and Country Club this past week, but some play is going on.

Pro Boyd Huff expects the number of golfers to be increasing soon, due to his youth classes. He has some 26 boys and 13 girls taking part in the lessons designed to put new players on the course. Dr. Joe Ward recently fired his best nine-hole round, coming in with a 38 on the back side.

AYDEN COUNTRY CLUB

Ayden Golf and Country Club pro Clarence Alexander might not have been thought to have been a very good host on Monday. The Ayden club hosted the weekly Eastern Pro-Am, and Alexander walked away with all the loot.

He finished as the low pro, firing a 1, and his team led in that division. He also tied for the low pro-pro honors.

BROOK VALLEY

Jeanette Thomas of Brook Valley Country Club has been elected treasurer of the North Carolina Women's Golf Association. The honor came Monday night at the NCWGA's annual banquet in Statesville.

Mrs. John Dombroski of Tarboro, well-known among area lady golfers was elected president of the association for the coming year. The NCWGA held its annual tournament at Brook Valley last year.

Junior golf classes are now underway at the club. They will run Monday, Tuesday and Thursday for the next two weeks.

Preparations are now being made for the Carolinas Amateur to be held at the club from June 27-30, Thursday through Sunday. Top amateur golfers from North and South Carolina will participate.

Snyder's Slam Leads White Sox To Victory

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Russ Snyder's big hit in his role as most valuable off the bench has the Chicago White Sox celebrating their rise out of the American League cellar.

But Cesar Tovar's departure from his part as most valuable anywhere has the Minnesota Twins feeling mighty low.

Snyder, who had been flubbing his lines as ace substitute since the White Sox got him from Baltimore last winter, hit the first grand slam home run of his career that sent the Sox to a 9-5 victory over the New York Yankees Tuesday night. The triumph lifted Chicago from 10th to eighth place.

In contrast Tovar departed from the script he wrote last year as the Twins' most valuable player and made two errors that let in two runs, the last giving the Detroit Tigers a sweep of their doubleheader with Minnesota. The 3-1 and 3-2 losses left the fourth place Twins floundering nine games behind the Tigers.

Elsewhere in the AL, Baltimore belted Washington 8-4, Oakland tripped Cleveland 2-0 in a rain-shortened affair and rain forced postponement of California's doubleheader at Boston.

In the National League, St. Louis blanked Atlanta 6-0, Houston defeated Philadelphia 5-1, the New York Mets stopped Los Angeles 3-0 and Pittsburgh outhit San Francisco 7-4 at night. Cincinnati outslugged the Chicago Cubs 9-7 in the afternoon.

Snyder, who had come off the bench numerous times at Baltimore as a heavy-hitting replacement for a slumping or injured regular, was hitting only .115 with no homers and no runs batted in for the Sox.

But the 33-year-old veteran of nine major leagues seasons capped a five-run explosion in the third inning with his applause-winning blast and closed the scoring with a sacrifice fly in the ninth inning.

Only a three-run homer by Tom Tresh and a two-run clout by Mickey Mantle off winner Joe Horlen, 5-6, kept the Yankees in contention. Charlie Smith of the Yanks also had a pinch double, his fifth straight pinch hit, one short of the league record.

For Minnesota and Tovar, their play was a flop. The Twins started the evening with hopes of closing the seven-game gap that separated them from the first place Tigers.

Instead, their losing streak reached four.

Rookie pitcher Pat Dobson, 2-0, singled in a run and stopped the Twins on five hits and 10 strikeouts in the opener before giving way to Daryl Patterson with two outs in the eighth inning. Dobson's catcher, Jim Price drove in two unearned runs — Rich Rollins made the error — with a single and later doubled and scored on Dobson's hit to beat Dean Chance, 4-8.

In the nightcap, Tovar, a jack-of-all trades who played second base and shortstop in the opener and second in the nightcap, fumbled away a run in the third inning. But in a brighter moment, he doubled in a run in the fourth for a 2-1 lead.

After Norm Cash's single tied the score for Detroit in the eighth, the Tigers won their seventh game in eight tries in the ninth when Tom Matchick and Dick McAuliffe singled and Mickey Stanley hit a grounder to short with one out. The force was made at second, but Tovar's relay to first was wild and the winning run scored.

Don Buford homered on the first pitch for Baltimore. Boog Powell and Gene Brabender each doubled in two runs in the second inning and Brooks Robinson hit a two-run shot in the fifth as the Orioles beat Washington for the ninth straight time.

Chuck Dobson stopped Cleveland on five hits before rain gave Oakland an abbreviated victory with the Indians threatening with two on and one out in the sixth inning. Dave Dumcan's sacrifice fly and John Donaldson's homer supplied Oakland's runs.

The umpires waited one hour and 29 minutes in the sixth before calling the game.

OAKLAND (AP)—In the ring or out, Emile Griffith still knows how to hurt a guy.

The former middleweight champion had just spent 12 rounds pounding out a solid although split decision over an outclassed Andy Heilman Tuesday night and he was paying his respects to his opponent. "It was a good workout," Griffith deadpanned. "He tried very hard."

Actually, the square-jawed, hawk-featured Heilman was something more than a workout for Griffith, who now seems close to a fourth middleweight title fight with champion Nino Benvenuti.

Heilman's continued close-in fighting kept Emile from landing a knockout punch through he recorded by Charlet Glotzbach of Georgetown, Ind., who turned 119,840 in a 1968 Dodge.

Eight positions were to be decided in today's qualifying runs. The second eight slots in the 44 car field will be filled Thursday, with other others being decided in runs Friday.

Six more positions will be filled via qualifying runs Saturday, and the final 14 in a 25-mile race Saturday afternoon.

Those drivers breaking the track record in practice runs Tuesday were: Glotzbach; David Pearson, Spartanburg, S.C., 1968 Ford; Cale Yarborough, Charlotte, 1968 Mercury; Buddy Baker, Charlotte, 1968 Dodge, and rookie Swede Savage, Los Angeles, Calif., 1968 Ford.

continually smacked the 27-year-old North Dakotan with telling jabs.

"I wasn't trying for a knockout," Griffith said with a straight face, "because I needed the workout. I was trying to put on a good show. I needed the practice."

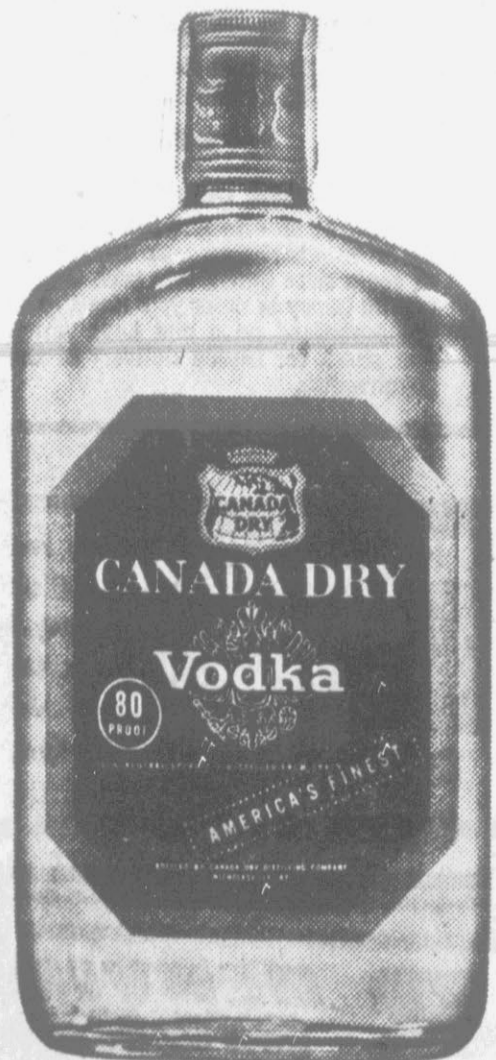

The decision was split because referee Vern Bybee scored the fight as a draw.

Both judges gave Griffith eight rounds. The Associated Press gave him nine.

A small crowd of 4,171 paid about $39,000 to see the fight at the Oakland Arena.

UN General Assembly Prepares Close 23rd Session

By WILLIAM N. OATIS, Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly planned to end its stop-and-go 23rd session today with votes endorsing the treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons and condemning South Africa's hold on South-West Africa.

The session, which began last Sept. 19, recessed Dec. 19 and resumed April 24. The day's business included a new compromise resolution on South-West Africa introduced Tuesday night, a resolution on the nuclear treaty recommended by the assembly's main Political Committee Monday and routine report on delegates' credentials.

The resolution on South-West Africa gives the territory the African name of Namibia, condemns South Africa for not letting the United Nations take over the area, calls on all countries to "take effective economic and other measures" to force South Africa out, and recommends that the Security Council also "take effective measures" to that end.

In the compromise, the Latin Americans got the Africans and Asians to take out a call for the council to impose sanctions against South Africa.

But the revised version retained a statement that South Africa's "continued foreign occupation of Namibia . . . constitutes a grave threat to international peace." Since such a finding is a prerequisite for sanctions, that statement was expected to cause the United States, Britain and France—all big traders with South Africa—to abstain in the voting.

The assembly in 1966 declared South Africa's League of Nations mandate over South-West Africa terminated and in 1967 set up a U.N. council to take the territory over and prepare it for independence.

The resolution on the nuclear nonproliferation treaty "commends" it and asks the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain, as co-sponsors of the treaty, to open it for signature and ratification as soon as possible.

Sponsored by 48 countries, the resolution passed the committee by a vote of 92-4 with 22 abstentions. The treaty binds signatory countries with nuclear weapons not to transfer them to others and those without them not to acquire them. But both France and Red China, two of the five nuclear powers, are refusing to sign the pact.

Closing Kennedy Office, Staff Workers Subdued

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many workers in Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's Capitol Hill offices looked forward to moving day, sure it would be to the White House. Moving has begun, but few know where they will go.

Secretaries had tears in their eyes Tuesday as they helped pack much of a man's life and almost a decade of a nation's history into crates, boxes and envelopes.

Fifteen staffers were still at work about 7 p.m. when Robert Kennedy's eldest son, Joseph, 15, stopped by unexpectedly. Accompanied by former astronaut John Glenn, a family friend, the lad shook hands and chatted briefly with several staff members, saying he just stopped by to say hello.

Activity in the offices, three rooms on three floors of the New Senate Office building was busy but subdued during the day.

And the scene at Kennedy for President headquarters downtown was the same.

Telephones rang incessantly in both places, possibly as much or more than before Kennedy's assassination a week ago.

A Kennedy spokesman said the campaign offices in Washington would be closed by Friday. The Senate offices, he said, were expected to operate for 30 to 60 days as staffers continue to handle constituent problems and pack and sort papers, speeches, and campaign paraphernalia — some headed for the National Archives, some to the senator's widow.

The spokesman said the Kennedy staff on the Hill numbered 37 with 12 more in New York City and two in Syracuse.

He said two aides of the slain senator's brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., are accepting job resumes from staffers and that the lone surviving brother has promised to help them find new jobs.

Under federal law, a deceased senator's employees remain on the payroll for 60 working days, in this case until Aug. 6. The Senate, by resolution, could extend the period.

The scene at Kennedy offices in Washington was duplicated in the Kennedy campaign offices in New York—in somberness if not activity.

Ky Ends Another Government Role

SAIGON (AP) — Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky quit today as head of South Vietnam's People's self Defense Committee giving further evidence of President Nguyen Van Thieu's gains in the long power struggle between the two men.

Ky's letter of resignation to Thieu came after a week in which Ky has not participated in any government activities and has remained almost entirely in seclusion at the seaside town of Nha Trang.

The committee is an attempt by the government to arm and give rudimentary training to neighborhood and village groups for self defense against the Viet Cong. Ky was appointed to head it on May 3.

In the past week, Thieu has steadily increased his own control of the government at the expense of Ky. One after another, Thieu has replaced high officials loyal to Ky with men loyal to himself.

Among the Ky men replaced or about to be replaced are Maj. Gen. Nguyen Ngo Loan, director of the national police; Lt. Gen. Le Nguyen Khang, commander of the 3rd Military Corps Area; and Van Van Cca, the mayor of Saigon.

Several other high-ranking Ky supporters were killed last week by a rocket from a U.S. helicopter which the U.S. mission said misfired.

say Dad... ever wonder how Mom got the money

Come Sunday morning,
will you be one of the millions of fathers
who are forever amazed?

Will you look at your new fishing reel or power tool or camera...
and wonder:

"How did Mom get the money?"

You'll know she didn't rob a bank, and she didn't sell the car.

Maybe, just maybe,
we can give you a hint.

Is Mom an A&P shopper?
Could it be that the savings
she makes each week of the year
add up to so much?

Why not ask her?

Before you do though,
better take a quick look in the garage
to make sure the car's still there.

State Anti-Strike Legislation Is No Guarantee

By JAN HARTNETT
Associated Press Writer

Some of the 17 states with laws banning strikes by public employees have learned the hard way that such measures—even those with tough penalties—are not a guarantee against walk-outs.

Thousands of teachers, sanitation workers and others on city, county and state pay rolls have struck in defiance of the state laws. In some cases they have suffered minor, if any, consequences despite stiff penalty provisions.

Not all of the 17 state measures call for penalties. Antistrike laws covering public employees are in effect in Massachusetts, Delaware, Illinois, New York, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Florida, Virginia, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Nebraska, South Dakota, Texas, Hawaii and Oregon.

In Illinois there are no statutory provisions specifically banning strikes by public employees. But the Illinois Supreme Court has ruled that strikes by public service workers—including teachers—are unlawful.

A 1947 Pennsylvania law bars strikes by public employees under penalty of dismissal. The law provides that if a striker subsequently is rehired, he shall not be hired back at a salary higher than he received when he struck; receive no salary increase for three years; shall lose his tenure and be on probation for five years.

But the strong-language law was ineffective on two occasions recently, an 11-day strike by 1,000 Pittsburgh teachers of the Pennsylvania Federation of Teachers, and a massive protest march by 20,000 members of the Pennsylvania State Education Association.

Florida has an antistrike law for public employees, but its constitutionality is being questioned by a suit pending in the Florida Supreme Court.

Some 25,000 of Florida's 60,000 teachers walked out in February. Most were accepted back into classrooms without punishment following their mass "resignations."

But some were not taken back and others were rehired without tenure. The law provides that those who strike or resign without 30 days' notice can't be rehired for a year.

Virginia law prohibits any agency of the state or local political subdivisions from negotiating or bargaining with employee unions. Under the 1946 law, any employee—state, city or county—who goes on strike or otherwise fails to report for work shall be fired.

Iowa has a so-called right-to-work law, but it has no legislation prohibiting strikes either by public employees or industrial employees. It does have a law prohibiting collective bargaining between state agencies and its employees.

Ohio has had a law for years forbidding strikes by public employees, but teachers and other public employees have struck, threatened to strike and stayed off their jobs for "study sessions" without suffering serious consequences.

Perhaps the most controversial antistrike legislation involves New York State.

For many years, New York State had the so-called Condon-Wadlin law on its books, which forbids strikes by public employees. It mandated strike penalties for violators—automatic dismissal, loss of promotion rights and pay raises for those eventually rehired. But over the years, the law was regarded so harsh that the state ignored it, as did employees.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and the New York Legislature fostered a study which produced the Taylor law, enacted last year. It forbids strikes, but does not mandate dismissal of violators. The law switches penalty emphasis from rank-and-file employees to their unions and union leaders. The public employer may obtain a court injunction against striking; if it is violated, the union can be fined up to $10,000 a day for criminal contempt.

Such an injunction was filed during the garbage strike in New York City and the president of the New York City Sanitation Workers' Union was jailed.

The teachers' strike occurred just as the administrative mechanisms for implementing the Taylor law were being set up, and it was generally agreed that it was not a fair test of the law's effectiveness in preventing strikes.

Sanitation union leaders openly defied the no-strike ban and mediation procedures when the garbage dispute arose. A settlement was eventually worked out through binding arbitration. There was criticism at this point that the Taylor law had failed its first big test.

Proponents of the law pointed out that New York City is exempt from some provisions of the Taylor law, including one that the State Public Employment Relations Board is forbidden from intervening in the city until a strike has begun.

The Farm Scene

By S. C. WINCHESTER
County Extension Chairman
Lime Grain Program Land Now!

Eastern North Carolina Farmers are using approximately 20 percent as much lime on farms as is actually needed. Farmers in Pitt County are no exception in this regard.

What are the needs of lime in the soil? What part does it play in crop production?

The real answers to these questions are quite complicated and involve several chemical processes. However, from the layman's point of view, lime can be considered as a basic need of soils for purposes of dispelling soil acidity and for soil conditioning purposes. Most soils in their native state are acid. Some are very acid with a pH reading of 4.0 or less, while others are less acid. The pH scale runs from 0 to 14 with 7.0 the neutral point. Figures less than 7.0 are acid and figures above 7.0 are alkaline, or sometimes called "sweet."

Most agricultural crops grow best in soils ranging from 5.4 to 7.2. Tobacco, Irish potatoes, and a few other crops are adapted best to a pH of 5.4 to 6.0. Corn, cotton, soybeans need for optimum growth a soil with pH of 6.0 to 6.8. Clovers and pasture grasses thrive best in soils 6.5 to 7.2 pH reading.

Above 80 percent of the soil samples submitted for laboratory analyses from Pitt County need additional lime for producing crops of corn, soybeans, cotton, pastures and the like. Approximately 65 percent of soils sampled need additional lime for best tobacco production.

These figures point out the need for tremendous tonnage of lime for our soils. I have before me a soil test report on land planted to corn. This soil has a pH reading of 4.5. This is extremely acid soil, in fact too acid for azaleas or blueberries. The soil needs the addition of two or two and one-half tons of agricultural limestone per acre. What are the economic implications? The grower has applied 160 units of nitrogen, 54 units of phosphate and 108 units of potash to this corn. This is enough fertilizer to produce 120 bushels of corn. A good estimate of the potential yield at this stage is 20 bushels per acre. The grower is losing 100 bushels of corn because the land did not get the two tons of lime needed. Two tons of lime balanced against 100 bushels of corn each year for at least three years (the expected life of the lime application) creates quite an off balance economically. The two tons of lime balanced against tely $20.00 on this field could produce an additional 300 bushels of corn.

Many acres of land are lying semi-idle this summer because of having been placed in the emergency grain program. Growers should have this land sampled immediately and apply the needed lime this summer for crops to be grown on the land in 1969. Why? — (1) Lime needs time to counteract the soil acids, (2) It is easier to apply lime in summer than in winter, and (3) You can get faster service for lime in summer when fewer farmers are calling for lime.

It makes good sense to lime this idle grain land NOW!

Saved $400 Due Traffic Jam

LOUISVILLE (AP) — A massive traffic jam in downtown Louisville helped get back $400 for an elderly woman who stepped out of a cab driven by Mrs. Flora Simpson and headed into a nearby building.

Mrs. Simpson started to drive away but noticed the woman's wallet lying in the street. She left the cab in the middle of the street, retrieved the wallet and returned it to the owner.

Small Crew For Big New Tanker

NEW YORK (AP) — The Japanese tanker Idemitsu Maru, first vessel in the world to pass the 200,000-ton mark needs a crew of just 32.

That is only two more than the crew of the 3,020-ton Gluckauf, built in 1885 and credited with being the prototype of today's giant tankers.

The 209,302-ton Idemitsu Maru is 1,122 feet long; the Gluckauf was 300 feet long.

PIKES NOT HIGHEST PEAK

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Pikes Peak is probably the best-known Colorado mountain to tourists, but there are 29 other Colorado peaks that top Pike's altitude of 14,110 feet.

Why would anyone want to put 40 gallons of hot water in a closet?

It's not such a crazy idea if the water is inside an electric quick-recovery water heater.

Because you can put an electric quick recovery water heater anywhere you want it. In a closet. Under the sink. Wherever it's closest to your hot water needs.

But the best reason to install a quick-recovery water heater is because the water will stay hot. All through your shower. All through the day.

Early Tar Heel Jurist Likened It To Treason

By Christopher Crittenden
N.C. Department of Archives and History
Written for Associated Press
RALEIGH (AP)—"Rebellion against the law is in the nature of treason." So said a famous North Carolina jurist in a statement reproduced in a current magazine.

The judge was North Carolina's William Gaston. He was speaking to the graduates of the College of New Jersey (now Princeton University) in 1835. The current magazine is "Liberty: A Magazine of Religious Freedom," published by the Religious Liberty Association of America, an arm of the Seventh-day Adventists. The article is by Calvin Jarrett.

Though Judge Gaston's speech was made a century and a quarter ago, it seems especially timely in this day of riots and civil disobedience. He went on to say: "The law deserves our obedience; it alone can reconcile the jarring interests of all and blend into one harmonious union the discordant materials of which society is composed."

When Daniel Webster had earlier been asked, "Who was the greatest of the great men?" (of the War of 1812 Congress), Webster replied, "The greatest man was William Gaston."

Born during the Revolutionary War in New Bern, Gaston became a Roman Catholic through the influence of his mother. He attended New Bern Academy which was the first student at Georgetown College (now University) in Washington, and then attended and graduated from the College of New Jersey.

Returning to New Bern, he studied law under Francis Xavier Martin, was admitted to the bar, and went into the practice of law. He served 11 terms in the General Assembly and two in Congress. Urged to accept an appointment to the Supreme Court of North Carolina, he felt at first that he could not do so because of a provision in the first North Carolina state constitution.

The provision, section 32, barred from state office holding "any person who shall deny the being of God or the truth of the Protestant religion..." Since Gaston was a Catholic, he felt at that time that he could not accept the proffered appointment.

In that connection he later prepared a carefully reasoned statement in which he concluded that the state constitution did not disqualify him from holding state office, and in 1833 he became a state Supreme Court justice.

In the constitutional convention of 1835 he fought against section 32, and the provision was changed to bar only non-Christians, rather than non-Protestants, from holding office.

The Worry Clinic Lesson In The Bible On Positive Thinking

This case is dedicated to David Ben Gurion, the modern "George Washington of Israel" for he visited America last summer and urged more Bible reading. He wanted a Jewish Bible Society to be launched to encourage more reading of this Greatest Book in world history. It is full of dramatic psychological cases like the one described today.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE F-591: Biblical David, the teen-age son of Jesse, was a remarkable Jewish lad. During the war with the neighboring Philistines, David's oldest brothers enlisted in the army of King Saul.

Meanwhile, David was the youngest of Jesse's 8 sons, so he was delegated to tend the sheep. But one day Jesse told young David to take 10 loaves of homemade bread, plus 10 cheeses and go down to see his brothers in the army.

That's when Goliath, the 9½ foot giant, dared the Hebrews to send out a single opponent on a "Winner-Take-All" basis. But nobody dared accept Goliath's challenge.

David chided the men for being chickenhearted, but David's oldest brother scolded David for being a braggart.

King Saul soon heard that David was apparently the only man who didn't fear the giant. Saul tried to have David wear a suit of armor, but David protested that it didn't fit.

And when asked why he felt courageous enough to face Goliath, David said he had faced both a lion and a bear in hand-to-hand battle and won.

So reluctantly, King Saul gave David the O. K. to go forth to what seemed his sure death. The giant tried to further intimidate David by taunting him with being only a youth and then added:

"Come to me and I will give thy flesh to the fowls of the air, and to the beasts of the field."

But David was a POSITIVE thinker so he taunted Goliath right back again.

"This day," David called out, "Will the Lord deliver thee into my hand; and I will smite thee, and take thine head from thee."

So David certainly was not the least bit intimidated by the giant.

But when David crossed the brook as he approached Goliath, the Bible says:

"... he chose him five smooth stones... and his sling was in his hand."

Please pay special heed to the fact that David picked up FIVE stones instead of only one!

David had complete, 100 percent confidence that God would help him slay Goliath.

But David realized he might not hit a vital spot on his first shot, so he took along those extra stones as additional ammunition or "spare tires!"

Let that be a lesson to many devout church folks who complain that though they have complete faith in God and are dedicated to good works they don't always win on their first try.

David was like the modern baseball hitter who plays the batting averages.

For a star slugger may have an 0.333 average, meaning he makes one base hit in every 3 times at the plate!

So he knows he will make a hit before the game is over but he can't be positive it will come on his first trip to the plate!

The Bible is full of fascinating psychological lessons like this one about David's selection of 5 smooth stones, so send for my booklet "How to Stimulate Bible Reading," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

For it contains 140 dramatic "multiple choice" Bible questions with 4 possible answers for each one, and thus intrigues children to read the Bible.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Korean General Regrets Seeing Commander Go

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Special Correspondent

SAIGON (AP)—Looking back on three years' close association with Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the Korean commander in Vietnam says:

"I regret seeing him leave. He is a fine tactician who fully understands the political nature of this war."

Lt. Gen. Chae Myung-Shin commands the 48,000 South Korean troops in Vietnam. He said "10 articles of advice" that Westmoreland gave to allied commanders recently at a private farewell dinner "was as brilliant a piece of military analysis as I have ever heard."

"Unfortunately those 10 points are confidential," he added. "Yet they proved to me that perhaps the general is misunderstood in his country. He always approached the war from a sound, realistic viewpoint."

The two generals became friends when Chae came to Vietnam in August 1965 as commander of the Tiger Division, the first big Korean unit in the country. Immediately the Koreans became embroiled with the State Department's Civilian Aid Agency, over the civic action programs they had inaugurated at hamlet and village level among the Vietnamese population in their tactical area.

"There were some high-up Americans who insisted that the Koreans must only do fighting and leave the political side to the civilian agencies," Chae recalled, "but right from the start Gen. Westmoreland was on our side. He fully understood that in this war winning the population is as important as defeating the enemy on the battlefield."

In the coastal provinces where they operate, the two Korean infantry divisions have pacified more villages and secured more miles of road and railroad track than any other allied troops. At the same time, the military, both allied and South Vietnamese, have taken over more and more of the pacification work from the civilian agencies.

"All of us learned a great deal from Gen. Westmoreland," the Korean general said in an interview.

"He was what modern political warfare calls for: a soldier who is also a diplomat; energetic, vigorous, but never too busy not to be a gentleman. I know he is going to a position where he will have great influence on the future course of relations between free world and communist countries. As a soldier, I congratulate him; as a friend, I hate to see him go." Westmoreland is becoming Army chief of staff in Washington.

West's substandard overcall of one spade backfired in a strange manner in the above hand.

After North's free bid of two clubs, South made a strong effort to reach slam by cue bidding West's suit and then jumping in diamonds. When North refused to cooperate with South's slam tries, the latter reluctantly settled for a game.

West, influenced perhaps by his opponent's cue bid in spades, chose to open the five of hearts, which placed considerable pressure upon the declarer. With some other lead, South can draw trumps, take a club finesse in either direction, and subsequently use the ace of hearts to enter dummy for a spade discard on the established jack of clubs. He can hardly fail to win 11 tricks—7 diamonds, 2 clubs, 1 heart, and 1 spade.

The heart opening, however, deprives South of his reentry to the North hand, before a second club trick has been established. If he plays the ace of hearts, draws trumps, and subsequently takes a club finesse, the final result will be a two-trick set. After East takes the king of clubs, South must still lose three spades.

Declarer realized his predicament, and after a careful analysis he uncovered a plan that made allowance for the king of clubs being offside. At trick one, he played the 10 of hearts from dummy! East won the trick with the queen and made the natural shift to his singleton six of spades. South played the ace and then cashed the ace of diamonds. When the queen dropped from West's hand, declarer drew the remaining trump and proceeded to take the club finesse. East was in with the king; however, he had no safe exit. Whether he returned a club or a heart, North must regain the lead and South is able to discard his three losing spades on the ace-queen of clubs and the ace of hearts.

Had East continued with a heart at trick two, declarer would have been unable to effect his plan; however, he had nothing to lose by trying. The one spade overall had marked West with at least a five card suit, so that East had at most one spade. When he wins the opening lead, the temptation to shift to his singleton is hard to resist; and, once South strips out the diamonds, the club finesse can be taken with complete assurance.

Machines Given Lonely Outposts

MELBOURNE (AP) — Australia is taking the loneliness out of weather forecasting.

The Weather Bureau is planning automatic weather stations on a scale comparable only with those run by the United States in the Gulf of Mexico.

The automatic stations will code in precise information about the weather hundreds of miles away, eliminating the need to send weather men to lonely stations in trying conditions.

Twelve of these weather stations will form an arc in Australia's north by the early 1970s, as an early-warning shield against tropical cyclones.

An inland desert station and one in the island state of Tasmania will also allow settled areas to be warned of big weather changes ahead.

The automatic stations will send in Morse code every three hours details of rainfall, temperature, air pressure, wind speed and direction in a manned station up to 500 miles away.

New Casualties By Red Rockets

SAIGON (AP) — Saigon's Tan Son Nhut air base was the target for the daily Viet Cong rocket attack on South Vietnam's capital today, and the 30 casualties—all civilians—included four Vietnamese children killed and two Americans wounded.

While civilians throughout Saigon filled sandbags to build home shelters, new fighting flared at opposite ends of the demilitarized zone. Allied troops reported killing 121 North Vietnamese in two battles.

The 10 rockets that hit Tan Son Nhut before dawn also wounded 24 Vietnamese and destroyed three houses, one helicopter and a small observation plane.

Several other planes, including a large military transport, were damaged at the sprawling base, a favorite target for enemy gunners even before the current wave of shelling.

The base contains Saigon's commercial airport, government and American air units, headquarters of the U.S. Military Command in Vietnam and the homes of a number of Vietnamese officials, including Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky.

At least 130 civilians have been killed and more than 1,000 wounded in 24 rocket attacks on Saigon since the Viet Cong launched its "peace talks" of offensive May 5, the eve of the start of U.S.-North Vietnamese talks in Paris.

Although the official military view is that the shelling has little military significance, concern is mounting about the psychological effect on Saigon's 3 million people. Additional government troops have been assigned to sweep the "rocket belt" around the capital.

Diplomatic sources in Paris said President Johnson is under pressure to counter the shelling by resuming bombing of Hanoi.

Scouts ...

started preparing themselves and their equipment.

In order to hike, each scout had to be medically examined, have hiked 150 miles before leaving Goldsboro, and carved a religious symbol of his faith. Tuscarora executive Tom Deaton said that these symbols will be thrown into the water from a bridge entering Bath. He continued that he hopes the tide will carry the symbols out to show the world the scouts' love for God and country.

Troop 47 of Beulahville began readying its equipment in January. Scouts built an equipment trailer and took tents home to be re-stitched.

Commenting on the trip, Scout David Stancill of Troop 27 in Clinton, said, "It's our way of showing our reverence to God and respect for country." His fellow scout George Lee added, "It's fun, from the knees up!"

Upon completion of the march, every scout who walks 80 percent of the way will receive a special medal, engraved, "One Nation Under God." After the presentation, the medal's mold will be destroyed so that no more copies can be made.

Walking to Bath is the second part of a three-part Tuscarora program involving summer activities. Last year the council scouts marched to Halifax. There they honored the "Halifax Resolves," the pre-revolutionary document that declared North Carolina independent of England.

Next Year's plans will be announced later.

Tonight the scouts will be in Grimesland instead of on the VOA site B because of rain.

sident and dean, noted that Dr. Browning's leadership in setting up the MBA program and in gaining for ECU accreditation by the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business has set the stage for further growth and development of the graduate program in business.

He added, "We certainly will miss him and we wish him well as he faces new challenges in his new position at Marshall."

Dr. Browning said he welcomes the new challenges of his work with Marshall's rapidly-developing business program. He also said he is "deeply grateful for the 20 years of inspired leadership and complete cooperation given me by Dr. Jenkins."

At Marshall, Dr. Browning will teach in the graduate program and serve as a key consultant in the university's efforts to establish soon an MBA degree program, to gain AACSB accreditation and to organize its business instruction into a new College of Commerce in the near future.

The Marshall appointment returns Dr. Browning, and Mrs. Browning, to their home state and their alma mater. Dr. Browning is a native of Logan, W.Va., and got his AB degree from Marshall. Mrs. Browning is the former Marie Boggess of Ripley, W.Va., and also has an AB from Marshall. They were married in Huntington's Fifth Avenue Methodist Church the day Dr. Browning graduated from the university.

Dr. Browning joined the ECU faculty Jan. 1 1936 after several years as principal of West Virginia high schools. During World War II his ECU tenure was interrupted as he served the War Department as professor at Shrivensham American University in England and Biarritz American University in France. He has served as a summer visiting professor at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro (1946) and at the University of Montana (1950).

He has an MEd degree from Duke University and an EdD from Colorado State College of Education. He and Mrs. Browning, who has an MA from Duke and has taught English at ECU, have one son, Robert R. Browning, a Greenville attorney.

Clear Driver In Death Of 6-Year-Old

FARMVILLE — A coroner's jury last night found no probable cause to hold a 20-year-old Route 2, Farmville, man in the traffic death of a girl here June 6.

The six-man jury deliberated only 10 minutes before returning its verdict in favor of Robert Lee Rose.

Rose was the driver of a car that struck six-year-old Karen Jean Harrell of 201 West Pine Street about 7 p.m. June 6. The child died almost instantly of injuries she received in the collision.

Witnesses who testified last night said the child was skipping across the street at the time of the mishap.

The fatal collision occurred at the intersection of Church and Walnut Streets.

Rose said he did not see the child crossing the street.

Hawkins Avers 'Irregularities'

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Dr. Reginald Hawkins, unsuccessful candidate for the North Carolina Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said Tuesday he has written U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark concerning voting irregularities in the May 4 primary.

Also, Hawkins said he requested that federal voting examiners be assigned to 40 North Carolina counties.

Hawkins, who ran last in the three-man Democratic gubernatorial primary, said as of May 5 the registration of non-whites of voting age was less than 50 per cent. This he said is grounds for requesting federal examiners.

Hawkins said he believed various voter registration campaigns which have been held in North Carolina would have "increased significantly the number of registered voters obtained had there been federal examiners within those areas."

Hawkins said he told Clark he believes increased political participation of non-whites is necessary to improve the socio-economic and moral conditions and attitudes of non-white and white citizens.

U. S. Formally Asks Extradition Of Ray

LONDON (AP) — A formal request for the extradition of James Earl Ray, accused assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was handed to the British Foreign Office today by U.S. officials.

The U.S. Embassy declined details of the petition. It merely described it as "documents required for the extradition proceedings."

The documents run several hundred pages and contain information on Ray's identity and the cases against him—both in connection with King's murder and Ray's escape from the Missouri State Prison while serving an armed robbery sentence.

The Foreign Office now must certify that the request satisfies the terms of the extradition treaty with the United States. The Home Office then rules on the validity of the murder case under British as well as U.S. law. Then the file goes to a judge for a court hearing.

The formal extradition request came as Scotland Yard delved into the mysteries of Ray's stay in Britain.
