349 Trucker Violations

RALLIGH (AP) — The Motor Vehicles Department reported today a 72-hour check of all trucks entering and leaving North Carolina at 13 points along the South Carolina border resulted in 349 violations, 130 arrests and penalties totaling $35,091.37.

C. D. Lindsay, director of the MVD's license and safety inspection division, said the violations included over-weight, improper or no license plates. The 130 arrests were for excessive length and width, no inspection sticker and several for drunken driving.

Iwo Jima Is Returned

IWO JIMA (AP) — Americans hauled down the Stars and Stripes on Iwo Jima today, 23 years after a band of Marines raised the U.S. flag atop battle-scarred Mt. Suribachi in a bloody World War II battle.

sun-baked island where in February and March, 1945 6,821 Americans and 19,000 Japanese died in 26 days of fight. One man standing at rigid attention during the ceremony remembered the day members of the 28th Marine regiment raised the large flag on Mt. Suribachi.

Identified As St. Peter

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI announced today that the Vatican has conclusively determined that mortal remains found under St. Peter's Basilica are those of the Apostle revered by the Roman Catholic Church as its first pope.

cated in 1950 under the Altar of Confession of the basilica. Pope Plus XII announced then that bones had been found in it but that it was not proven they were St. Peter's. Some archeologists claimed they belonged to an old woman.

Find Automatic Weapons

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Federal agents at Charlotte said Tuesday 10 illegal machine-gun-like weapons have been surrendered by Mecklenburg County area gun dealers and private owners.

traced purchasers through the sales records of manufacturers and dealers. Possession of the weapons, as well as other automatics, has been restricted by the government.

Reducing Illegal Mail

WASHINGTON (AP) — Portable X-ray machines and dogs that can burrow through a pile of mail to find packages containing dope are being used to sharply reduce the flow of illegal mail from Vietnam to the United States.

The Pentagon said the new measures were put into effect after a spot check last November found 56 weapons, including switchblade knives, and 12 packets of marijuana and narcotics.

Seventy-one weapons were seized in February, but by May only eight were found, the Pentagon said.

Most inspections are centered in New York and San Francisco, main points of entry for mail from servicemen overseas.

Record Seizure Of Heroin Announced

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal agents have seized $22.4 million worth of heroin—the largest single seizure of the drug in the nation's history—in an automobile in New York City, Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said today.

The Americans and North Vietnamese agreed that the talks made no progress. But there was a 42-minute coffee break of which North Vietnamese spokesman Nguyen Thanh Le said: "There was nothing special during it."

Clark said the 112 kilograms of pure heroin was discovered in a hidden compartment in a foreign automobile which had been shipped to New York City from France.

The American citizen charged was Arthur Benvenuto of New York City. The Justice Department said he was arrested April 26 near Pier 88 in New York City. He could be sentenced to 20 years in prison under provisions of the Import-Export Act under which he's been charged.

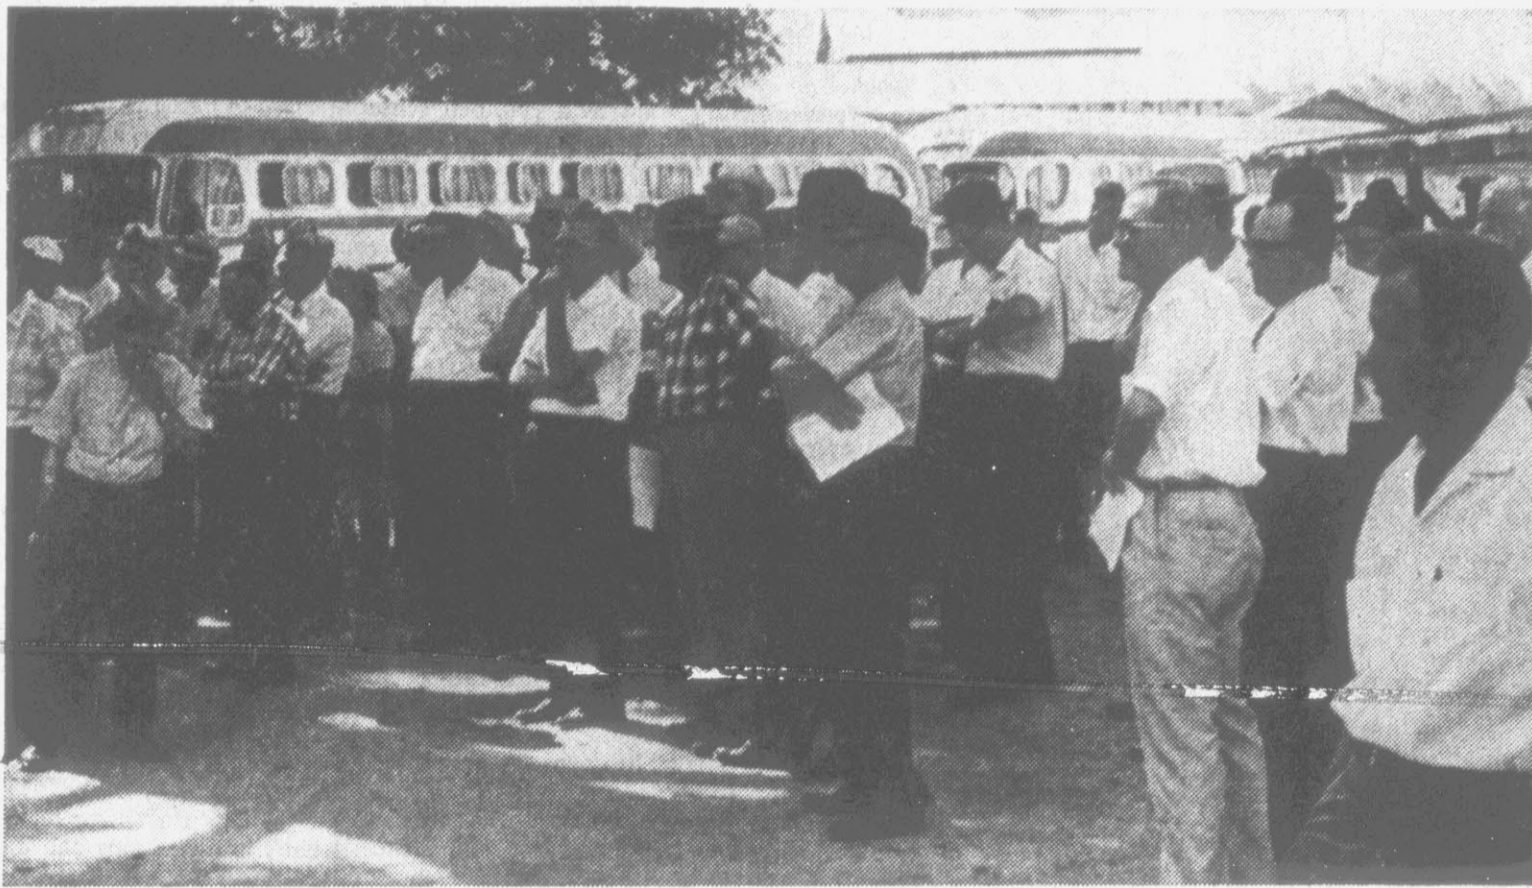

Clark said a 63-year-old naturalized U.S. citizen was arrested in New York City and four Frenchmen were captured in Paris in connection with the seizure. All were charged with conspiracy to violate U.S. or French narcotic laws.

The Justice Department identified the four Frenchmen arrested during the past two days in Paris as: Jacques Bousquet, 55; Andre Mallibert, 39; Rene Guigi, 47, and Paul Mestressat, 47.

$561,962 Budget For Ayden Set

AYDEN—A $561,962 budget was approved last night at a special meeting of the Board of Commissioners here. A $1.25 per hundred dollar tax rate was set to finance the proposed expenditures.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today his acceptance of the resignation of Chief Justice Earl Warren and the selection of Justice Abe Fortas to replace Warren.

strength the challenge of changing times. The court has acted to achieve justice, fairness and equality before the law for all people."

And Johnson told a news conference he was nominating Homer Thornberry of Austin, Tex., former congressman and now a judge on the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, to the Supreme Court seat from which Fortas will move up.

Justice Fortas reached his 58th birthday June 19. He and Johnson have been friends and associates from New Deal days back in the 1930s.

Johnson wound up the news conference by picking up a pen and signing the nominations for Fortas and Thornberry before sending them on the way to the Senate for confirmation.

Like Warren, he is considered a liberal. The President put Fortas on the Supreme Court in 1965 when he asked Arthur J. Goldberg to leave the bench to become U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

He read Chief Justice Warren's resignation of June 13 saying that he was leaving only for reasons of age. He is 77.

Thornberry is 59 and was a member of Congress from Texas for 14 years before Johnson named him a U.S. District judge for Western Texas, and then in 1965 to the circuit court bench.

Johnson wrote back today saying he would accept Warren's decision to retire at the time his successor is qualified.

Both Fortas and Thornberry are Democrats.

"You have won for yourself," Johnson told Warren, "the esteem of your fellow citizens. You have served your nation with exceptional distinction and deserve the nation's gratitude."

While some Republicans in the Senate have spoken out against the idea of Johnson's filling spots on the supreme court in the closing months of his administration, Johnson said he thought that his nominees would win confirmation after they have been considered by the Senate.

"Under your leadership, the Supreme Court of the United States has once again demonstrated the vitality of this nation's institutions and their capacity to meet with vigor and

He said he had consulted ahead of time with Republican and Democratic leaders in Congress and with committee chairmen.

New Regiments Move On Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. sources said today two freshly equipped North Vietnamese regiments—possibly 5,800 men—are believed headed toward Saigon to join the enemy force threatening another attack on the South Vietnamese capital.

through Cambodia and crossed the border into Phuoc Long. U.S. B52 bombers have been attacking their suspected positions in efforts to break up their troop concentrations and blunt their advance toward Saigon.

U.S. intelligence officers said the 32nd and 33rd North Vietnamese regiments were in Phuoc Long Province five days ago, 74 miles north of Saigon and 165 miles southwest of their previous headquarters.

The eight-engine bombers flew eight missions Tuesday and Wednesday against enemy base camps and river landing points in Binh Long, Binh Duong and Tay Ninh provinces, west and south of Phuoc Long. These are considered the enemy's main infiltration corridors from Cambodia to Saigon.

The two regiments have been inactive for a year while refitting. They include veteran troops who fought in the 1965 Ia Drang Valley campaign, one of the bloodiest of the war.

The river points, 15 to 20 miles from the Cambodian border, are where rockets destined for use against Saigon are loaded on sampans after shipment down from North Vietnam through Laos and Cambodia.

The two regiments are normally headquartered along the Cambodian border just west of Pleiku in the central highlands. Apparently they moved down

Prisoner interrogations and captured documents have indicated the enemy plans for a third offensive on Saigon, expected to be as big as the second offensive May 5, when about 10,000 soldiers were sent against the city.

Explosive

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California faces possibly its most explosive fire danger season in a generation, with no reprieve in sight until the fall, a veteran forester says.

Allied troops have formed a ring of patrols around Saigon, but ground fighting has been in a lull for about two weeks.

The season started officially a month and a half early in Northern California and "things have not gotten any better. They've gotten worse," said Howard E. Moore, deputy state forester for fire control.

Elsewhere, enemy machine-guns shot down a U.S. Marine jet fighter-bomber three miles from the allied combat base at Khe Sanh in the northwest corner of South Vietnam. The pilot bailed out and was rescued.

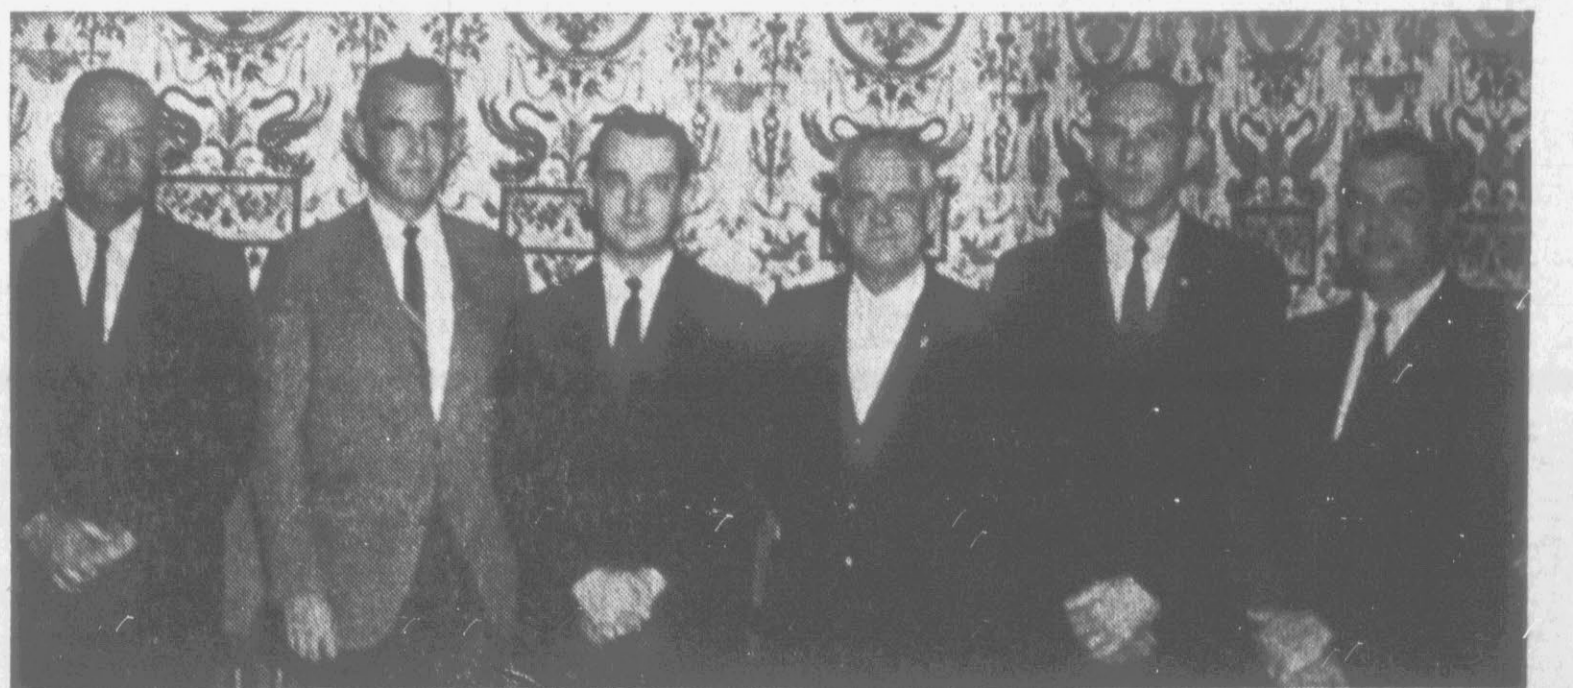

Fire crews are battling to extinguish the first massive fire of the season, a 45,000-acre blaze in the Angeles National Forest near Los Angeles. The fire was contained Tuesday night.

EXTENDED WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR N. C.

The early start of the fire season means conditions in July and August will be worse than usual, Moore said.

Temperatures through Monday will average below normal. Pleasant in early part of period, turning warmer over weekend. Scattered showers about Thursday and again about Monday.

Greenville Optimists Install Officers

OPTIMIST OFFICERS . . . Officers of the Greenville Optimist Club were installed at a banquet last night. Those installed include: sergeant at arms W. A. Dunn, treasurer Ed Dixon, secretary Doug Wilson, vice-president Bob Stewart, vice-president Ike Riddick and president Jim O'Brien. The Optimist of the Year award was presented to past president Johnny May.

Proclaim Wanted Man An 'Outlaw'

HENDERSONVILLE, N. C. (AP) — Edward Thompson Jr. was proclaimed an outlaw Tuesday, thereby authorizing any citizen to arrest Thompson, and if he resists, to slay him with impunity.

The group then crossed the Pamlico River by ferry and toured the mining operations and beef herd of the Texas Gulf Sulfur plant at Aurora.

Desalting Plant Given 2 Villages

MADRID (AP) — The United States is giving a seawater desalting plant to two small fishing villages which suffered contamination damage when a U.S. B52 crash spilled four hydrogen bombs in the area Jan. 17, 1966.

The 37-year-old Leaksville Negro is charged in three kidnap cases, two involving rape, armed robbery and larceny of an automobile.

U.S. officials said the plant will be built in appreciation for the villagers' help after the B52 bomber collided with a refueling plane.

The outlaw proclamation was drawn up by Fred Thomas Henderson County general court solicitor, and signed by Henderson County Sheriff J. F. Kilpatrick and Asheville Superior Court Judge W. K. McLean.

In the proclamation, Thompson was urged to surrender to the sheriff of any North Carolina county immediately.

Iredell County Sheriff Leroy Reavis reported Tuesday that an intensive search by men from his office, the State Highway Patrol and the State Bureau of Investigation had turned up no clues in reference to Thompson.

Hunt Communist Agents In Seoul

SEOUL (AP) — Forty-five thousand police and reserves pulled a surprise sweep for Communist agents in Seoul before dawn today, rounded up 10,470 persons, and released most of them when their identities were established.

Miss Brenda Carter Weds Sunday Afternoon

The First Free Will Baptist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Brenda Faye Carter and Noah C. Rice on Sunday at 4:00 p.m.

The bride is the foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronall E. Rice and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip D. Rice of New Bern.

The Rev. Clifton Rice of Kinston, uncle of the bridegroom, officiated at the candlelight ceremony.

The church was decorated in the traditional green and white with arrangements of gladioli, snapdragons, and magnolia. Forming a background were two seven branched candelabra entwined with miniature ivy. Pews were marked with white satin bows with ivy streamers.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Ruth Taylor, organist, presented a program of nuptial music. Gill Moody, soloist, sang "Oh Promise Me" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her foster father, wore a formal gown of white peau de soie featuring a fitted bodice of lace re-embroidered with seed pearls, a scalloped neckline, long lace sleeves; a full, pleated skirt was designed to form a train and was accentuated by matching lace applied the length of the back, around the train, and across the front hemline.

Her chapel length veil of silk illusion was attached to a matching headpiece embellished with lace and seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book centered with white orchids.

Miss Susan Briley of Greenville was maid of honor. She wore a street-length A-line dress of pale pink embroidered dotted Swiss with princess seaming and an empire waistline accentuated by bright pink peau de soie. Her matching hairbow was adorned with a self-fabric rose and a veil of silk illusion.

Bridesmaids were Miss Betty Rice of Greenville and Miss Wanda Diane Carter of Elizabeth City. They wore dresses and headpieces identical in design to that of the honor attendant in muted shades of yellow and green. The attendants carried colonial bouquets of summer flowers.

Henry Allen Broome of New

MRS. NOAH C. RICE

Bern served as best man. Ushers were Leon Scott III, and Phillip Dunn, both of New Bern.

The bride's foster mother wore a maize dress of embroidered voile. The bride's mother, Mrs. William D. Harrison, of Elizabeth City, wore a sleeveless beige ensemble. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress and matching jacket of aqua silk shantung.

The mothers and grandmothers wore corsages of white carnations.

For a wedding trip to unannounced points, the bride changed into a misty pink dress trimmed with white lace and white accessories.

Size Up The Situation After You Have Returned Stateside

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am in the service and have a little problem. The night before I left the States I surprised my girl with a diamond engagement ring.

She acted like she was thrilled to pieces, and of course I was happy, too. Her mother took me aside and asked me if I could get a refund on the ring—well, I couldn't.

Now I get a letter from my girl telling me that she and her mother "traded" in the engagement ring on another one which is bigger and much "nicer." She said her mother paid the difference and I can pay her back when I get home, but for me not to worry about it.

I am not exactly "worried" about it, but I don't think it was a very nice thing for them to do. If you were in my place, what would you do?

G. I.
DEAR G. I.: Nothing for the moment. But when you get stateside, size up the situation and make sure your girl and her mother don't have a WEDDING ring waiting for you that's big enough for you to jump thru.

DEAR ABBY: I know you aren't a lawyer, so I don't expect you to tell me what the law would rule in a case like this. All I want is a common sense opinion.

We have a friend (a widow) who started taking dancing lessons last September at a well-known studio. Since September she spent $18,000 on dancing lessons! (Yes, I said EIGH-TEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS.)

This woman is not poor, Abby. She has had a lot of fun and met a lot of people, and she probably got more pleasure in the last six months from those dancing lessons than she got from that deadhead she was married to for 30 years. Yet, she is crying that she was had and she took them to court.

I say, nobody twisted her arm to take those lessons, and if she wants to spend her money that way she shouldn't get crying to anybody. My husband says she is out of her mind, and people who are batty have to be protected by law. What is your opinion?

ARGUING WITH HARRY
DEAR ARGUING: I'm with Harry.

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 years old and my scout troop recently made a visit to a nursing home to cheer up the old folks there. We made some colorful flowers beforehand and sang some hymns to entertain them.

Abby, those elderly people are so hungry for company, you wouldn't believe it. The first lady I handed a flower to, gave it back to me, saying she didn't have any money to buy it. Then I told her it was free and her face lit up and she took such a long time trying to decide which color to take, I got the feeling that she was trying to detain me just to have somebody to talk to for a little while.

I can't tell you how much our visit was appreciated. When we drove off, we could see them looking from their windows and holding onto their paper flowers.

CHINESE SUPPER

Almond and orange flavors combine to make a surprising and deliciously light dessert. Chicken Noodle Soup Crackers Chow Mein Rice Phyll's Mandarin Cream Tea Phyll's Mandarin Cream 1 envelope unflavored gelatin 3/4 cup cold water 1 cup boiling water Cup sugar Pinch of salt

1 can (6 ounces) evaporated milk mixed with enough cold water to make 1 cup, 1 teaspoon almond extract, Mandarin Syrup—See recipe below

In a medium mixing bowl, sprinkle the gelatin over the cold water to soften; let stand about five minutes. Add boiling water, sugar and salt. Stir until gelatin and sugar are dissolved. Add the milk mixture and extract; stir to blend. Turn into a shallow container—an oblong glass baking dish (10 by 6 by 1 3/4 inches) is fine. Chill until set. At serving time, cut into six portions. With wide spatula, remove to deep dessert dishes. Add chilled Mandarin Syrup, spooning some of the oranges over the molded cream. Makes six servings.

MANDARIN SYRUP

In a small bowl, stir together one cup cold water and 3/4 cup sugar to dissolve; add one can (11 ounces) mandarin oranges, including their syrup. Cover and chill.

Does your cutting board have an onion, garlic or fish odor that annoys you? Cut a lime in two and rub the smelly surface with the cut side of the lime, squeezing it as you rub. Even a vegetable brush or sponge that has been used in the kitchen perks up and loses any odor when dipped in lime juice. Just rinse with tap water afterwards.

Engagement Announced

MISS BERTHA ANNE SERMONS . . . is the daughter of Mrs. Ernestine K. Sermons of Greenville and Wayland James Sermons of Washington, who announce her engagement to William Jerry Gillis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray John Gillis of Rt. 2, Fayetteville. The wedding will take place July 27.

Mrs. Threatt Gives Pilot Club Program Monday Night

Mrs. Margaret V. Threatt of Rocky Mount was guest speaker at the meeting of the Pilot Club of Greenville held Monday night.

Mrs. Threatt, District VI, finance chairman, illustrated how the name Pilot was derived by comparing life to a vast sea, upon which all must sail.

Mrs. Betty Scoopmire reported on her representation of the club at the N. C. Heart Association meeting in Winston-Salem in May. It was announced that the Pilot Club of Greenville will receive a reward for outstanding service which will be presented by the Coastal Plain Heart Association.

Mrs. Scoopmire delivered to the Community Service Chairman, a box of old eyeglasses from the Junior High School which will be sent for "Eyes for the Needy."

Letters of appreciation were read from the Coastal Plain Heart Association and from the East Carolina Sheltered Workshop for the club's help in equipping both homes.

Delegates to Pilot International Convention in Atlantic City July 21-25 were announced to be Mrs. Daisy Rogers, president, and Mrs. Mildred Mallard, first vice president.

Mrs. Hila Johnson, finance chairman, announced plans for the club's Festival which will be in November.

Guests for the meeting were Mrs. Ruth Helms of the Rocky Mount Pilot Club and Mrs. Ruth Rouse of Hopewell Va.

If you have a number of mateless nylon stockings around, and who hasn't, you can get them all the same color. Boil them slowly for about 15 minutes in enough water to cover. Allow to cool in the pan. Rinse and hang to dry.

To prevent stored-away suitcases from getting musty, put a bar of unwrapped soap inside.

American Legion Lady Members At Convention

Mrs. R. L. Gwynn, incoming president of the American Legion Auxiliary, Greenville Unit 39, Mrs. Etta Gill, president of District Two, Mrs. C. W. Willard who served as a page, Mrs. William H. Moore, and Mrs. Ann De La Mater attended the 48th annual convention of the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of North Carolina, at Charlotte June 20 to 23.

At the convention, Mrs. Tim T. Craig Sr. of Charlotte was elected president of the Department of North Carolina succeeding Mrs. Griffin P. Smith Sr.

The newly elected officers were installed by Mrs. B. M. Jarrett of Shelby, a national officer of the Auxiliary.

Among special guests were Mrs. Maurice Kubby of Texas, national vice president, Southern District, who gave the main address, Lt. Governor Bob Scott and Mayor Stan Brookshire of Charlotte.

On Saturday evening the American Legion and the Auxiliary held a banquet jointly, with special entertainment by A. C. Wimpee of Garland, Tex.

The banquet was followed by the American Legion dance in the ballroom and special music in the hotel lobby by Mrs. B. M. Jarrett.

A memorial service on Sunday morning concluded the conventions of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary.

BE A GREENS KEEPER
 Parsley can be frozen! Buy a fresh bunch in the market, wash it, trim the stems, dry it in a towel and roll it up in foil, then put it in the freezer.

When a recipe calls for chopped parsley, take it out of the freezer and grate it. Grate only the amount you need and put the rest back in the freezer. This way the parsley will stay green and taste the same as when freshly chopped. Chives can be frozen in the same manner.

To help your cotton dresses keep their shape longer and to make them easier to iron, dry them on a wooden hanger. They hang smooth and straight and dry without wrinkles.

Poverty's End Is Rash Prediction

It would be pleasant to believe that poverty, as the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare has declared, would be a thing of the past in the United States by 1976.

Such an accomplishment is possible, of course, but it also portends sweeping changes in the social and economic structure of the nation in less than a decade. Few people doubt that the country has the economic capability to provide for the needs of all its people. Obviously it is one of great capacity and great strength. At the same time the economic structure of the nation has been built upon the idea of individual productivity.

Through its various programs the United States will in the next decade be able to provide the necessities of life for those who are not capable of providing them for themselves. But it is highly questionable whether the nation could provide all of the necessities of life for its citizens who are not incapable, but rather unwilling, to make the personal sacrifices of work and other things to provide them for themselves.

Poverty, in the eyes of many officials, is now pegged in terms of a specific dollar income. And there are many Americans today working and earning less than the minimum income now termed the "poverty level" who do not consider themselves living in poverty. Indeed, in many cases they are not. They may not enjoy the same luxuries that some of their fellow citizens do, but neither do they suffer from lack of food, clothing, shelter, medical care and other things.

If Secretary Cohen means the eradication of poverty in terms of providing the necessities for Americans, the next decade should see that accomplished. If, on the other hand, eradication of poverty in his terms means guaranteeing incomes, providing for the wants of many who would like to have more than they have, but are unwilling to work for it, the nation had better take another close look at the goals being set by this important federal department.

The Tourist Is Now Welcome

(Editor's Note: William A. Shires is on vacation. Today's guest column is by Arnold Kirk, Publications Editor for N. C. Travel & Promotion Division.)

Several years ago a rural North Carolinian stood by his plow near one of the major highways and frowned contemptuously at the steady flow of vehicles bearing out-of-state license plates.

"Confound tourists," he grunted, accentuating the word "tourists" with a certain throaty slur that was bound to denote contempt and suspicion. From the tone of his voice and use of the word, he might have been talking about a mischievous fox that had just stolen his best pullet.

Oddly enough, the farmer looked upon the State's sudden prominence as a major travel destination as an infringement on his birthright as a native Tar Heel. After all, weren't those "tourists" (slur) going to swim in his ocean, catch his fish, drive on his streets and highways (paid for by his taxes) and enjoy all the beauty of his mountains?

They were, indeed. But aside from some indistinguishable footprints in the sand and a few candy wrappers along our highways, the tourists were also to leave behind a legacy of wealth that would be used to build new schools, better highways, homes, to buy new automobiles, food, color revisions and to provide jobs for many thousands of our citizens. And the mountains and the ocean and the fish were still there, though perhaps improved considerably by various management programs financed in part by the tourist spending.

Even the farmer and those who were most resentful were to benefit from this new industry—an industry without smokestacks, without harmful pollution of our streams, without depletion of our precious natural resources. The farmer benefitted because he was able to sell his produce to the markets because they, in turn, could distribute his produce to restaurants which served tourists. The barber benefitted because the man who operated the restaurant could afford to get a haircut.

The farmer, the barber and the millworker who once scoffed at the tourist trade were soon to realize that tourism was helping to put food on the table an d money in the bank for literally hundreds of thousands of Tar Heels.

In fact, almost everyone in North Carolina has realized some sort of benefit from this fast-growing and increasingly lucrative industry. If not directly, then certainly through a most indirect means the paying of taxes. In 1967, for example, travel-related businesses accounted for nearly 26 per cent of the State's total tax collections, and local governments collected an additional $24 million. Certainly without this industry and its contribution to the tax coffers, a great share of the tax burden would have to be shifted to the individual taxpayer.

More directly affected are those who shared in the more than $647 million travelers left in this State last year. Perhaps the most significant change in attitude toward tourism, however, has occurred within the travel industry itself. No longer does the industry operate under the premise that it should "get all we can" from tourists, but instead has accepted the tourist as a bonifide consumer who expects quality in both goods and services.

No longer is the tourist simply tolerated, but held in high esteem as vital member of the State's economic community. Instead of contempt, he is welcomed with due appreciation for his contribution to a better way of life for North Carolinians. The industry's awakening to its own prominence has also brought about the realization that investment is necessary to sustain a healthy tourist economy. It knows that it must provide facilities equal to the demands of the growing tourists market or suffer the loss of an enviable competitive posture in the world travel market.

The improve its position, the industry is building beautiful new hotels and motels throughout the State to facilitate (Continued On Page 5)

Bright Star Of Pierre Trudeau

By MAX HARRELSON

TORONTO (AP) — Pierre Elliott Trudeau says he likes to row against the current — another way of saying he likes to flout convention and do things the hard way.

That is one of the reasons he has become the most exciting and most talked-about politician in recent Canadian history. He has a lot going for him, including the fact that he is intelligent, wealthy, comparatively young and a swinging bachelor who appeals to the younger set and to the women.

These attributes all add up to something that's called Trudeauania.

His swift rise in national politics was definitely against the current.

In 1963 he was not a member of the Liberal party. He was even calling the Liberals sheep and idiots, and was describing their leader Lester B. Pearson as "an unrocked prince of peace." Normally this would have ruled out any chance for a bright future as a Liberal. But two years later he was elected to Parliament under that party's banner. He became minister of justice in 1967 with Pearson's blessing and liberal leader and prime minister last April.

In Canada's highest elective office he has continued to take the unorthodox approach.

Three days after he took over as head of the government, he dissolved Parliament and called a national election — when he could have remained fairly secure for perhaps another year as prime minister.

As a French-Canadian, he might have soft-pedaled the Quebec question as his Conservative opponent suggested. Instead he went into Quebec Province with his doctrine of "one Canada" and his firm opposition to special constitutional status for Quebec.

He pulled no punches in dealing with separatists who interrupted his speeches with heckling. He called them stupid and said that after the election they would "return to the trash cans from which they came."

Trudeau is a youthful-looking 48. He is the son of a French-Canadian father and a Scottish-Canadian mother, and thus fluent in both English and French. His father made a fortune as an oil distributor in Montreal and Trudeau himself is a millionaire from inheritance.

He studied law at the University of Montreal and did graduate work at the Sorbonne, the London School of Economics and Harvard. He was a professor of constitutional law at the University of Montreal and a founder of a Montreal social reform magazine called Cite Libre, Free City.

Pitt Delegates Enjoy Trip To Convention
(By Carl Goerch)
New Orleans, June 24—Ed Flanagan and John Holmes—Pitt County representatives to the Houston convention—are still alive although both of them are sadly in need of a bath. They missed the usual bath. They missed their usual Saturday night ablutions, but so did the rest of us—so they have no right to complain. . . Ed and John are two of the most popular members of the North Carolina party. Not only that, but they have become well acquainted with the delegates from South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. By the time they are in Houston a couple of days, the chances are that they will be personally acquainted with every delegate from all over the country. . . Ed is for Al Smith and John is against him. . . Ed will start arguing in behalf of the New York governor while John will point out why he shouldn't be nominated. Then they'll start arguing with me. Naturally — me being for Smith too — I'll side with

Humphrey With A Baton

WASHINGTON — Vice President Hubert Humphrey is having a difficult time of it these days. He has to keep insisting that he's loyal to President Johnson without looking as if he's really loyal to President Johnson. It must be tough for the Vice President, particularly when he's in Washington. "Hi there, Hubert. Haven't seen you in some time." "Hello there, Mr. President. It's good to see you again. I was just saying to Murie the other day, 'I wonder how the Johnsons are getting along'."

Public Forum

To The Editor

As Joe Smith leaves his post as Principal of Greenville Junior High School to become Principal of Agnes Fullilove School, I feel compelled to publicly add my sincere thanks to the hundreds of others being voiced by teachers, students, and parents alike who have benefited inestimably from his far-sighted and diligent leadership throughout his nine years as Principal of this school.

During his tenure in office, the Greenville Junior High School has grown from its embryonic stage to mature stature, both educationally and culturally. Inadequate facilities did not deter Mr. Smith and his faculty from tackling an all-inclusive program for the entire student body: classes for the remedial, the average and the exceptionally talented students were provided. In fact, the Greenville Junior High School developed such an outstanding curriculum for the accelerated students that, in 1960-61, it was chosen by the State Department of Public Instruction in Raleigh as a Pilot Center for Research in determining the best ways to educate the exceptionally talented students (which action, incidentally, provided the Greenville School System with four additional teachers — two at the Junior High School and two at Elmhurst).

To bring together for the first time students from all the elementary schools in Greenville and to meet as adequately as possible the needs of each student, regardless of background or aptitude, was (and is) a task of monumental proportions — these needs have been met consistently by Mr. Smith.

He and his faculty have worked closely with East Carolina University in developing a strong and meaningful program for its student teachers. Greenville

Greenville Junior High School, percentage-wise, has accepted more student teachers than any other school in the city (with the exception of Wahl-Coates). Mr. Smith has held frequent meetings with these student teachers and has aided them in every way possible.

A well-stocked library, now containing 5,200 regular and 3,300 supplementary books was left bare when the High School moved to its new location in 1957 — and books, geared to the Junior High School level, had to be secured gradually over the years.

Much stress at the Junior High School has been placed on the potential of each student and every child has been broadened culturally and educationally according to his ability. This individual attention to the students has enabled many, who otherwise might have failed "to make the grade," to progress through high school and to become graduates and useful citizens.

These accomplishments were not happenstance — they required leadership, dedication, understanding and encouragement.

Having worked closely with Mr. Smith during eight of his nine years as Principal of Greenville Junior High School, I have constantly admired his high integrity and mature judgment, his deep understanding of people and his self-discipline. It is with deep regret that I learn of his relinquishing his position as Principal of Greenville Junior High School, but with a sense of gratitude and relief that he has decided to remain in the Greenville City School System as Principal of Agnes Fullilove School, where he will find the same wholehearted cooperation of the teachers as he did at the Junior High School.

"Well, Lady Bird was saying to me the other day that she thought the Humphreys were avoiding us."

"What do you say?" "That we're both for peace and all we want is freedom for everybody; and we never expected a military solution in the first place."

"How does that go over?" "Not very well. I wish you could come up with something better."

"Hubert, it seems to me that you're trying to establish your own identity."

"How can you say that, Mr. President? I have said time and time again, 'What's good for President Johnson is good enough for me.'"

"That's not what Bill Moyers said you said."

"I was going to ask you about him. Wasn't he the fellow that used to work in your press office some time back?" "Don't be coy. You know very well who Moyers is. Hubert, you know I'm very fond of you, but there are some things I just can't understand. I refer to this statement you made at the National Press Club: 'Every conductor of an orchestra makes his own music, even from the same score with the same musicians. But it's different music.' Now what exactly was wrong with my conducting?" (Continued On Page 5)

Rocky Gains Small

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

CLEVELAND — An intimate of Ohio Attorney General William Saxbe, Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate, watched a beaming Gov. Nelson Rockefeller work his way through a dense crowd of admirers in Loraine, a manufacturing town near here.

"Rocky means two points for Saxbe in November," he confided, "if we could only get him on the ticket."

With Rockefeller at the top of the ticket as the Presidential nominee, in other words, Saxbe would run at least two points better than with Richard M. Nixon heading the ticket.

In Cleveland itself, Chester Gillespie, a Negro delegate to the National Convention from the 21st District, took the mike at a meeting Rockefeller had with 50 local Republican officials of Cuyahoga County and delivered an emotional attack on Nixon's Southern managers:

"The minorities of this country ought to demand from Brother Nixon how far these bigots who are for him are going to coordinate his affairs." The unstated forecast: with Nixon the nominee, the Republicans can put their share of the Negro vote in a phone booth.

In this and other ways, late-blooming candidate Rockefeller struck some sparks last week in his whirlwind tour of the Midwest, capped with a mass rally at Chicago's State and Madison Streets.

But sparks, at this desperately late stage, are not enough. A top-ranking member of Ohio's well-oiled Republican machine spelled it out succinctly: "Rocky struck some sparks all right, but what he needs is an inferno." And on the strength of last week's effort, Rocky failed to ignite any infernos.

Having made one bad mistake after another in his tortuous on-again, off-again Presidential race, Rockefeller has finally moved himself and his campaign into high gear. But by all the conventional signs, it is too late to derail Nixon's plodding, methodical delegate train. And what is happening here in Ohio, the fieldom of that shrewd political pro, Gov. James Rhodes, illustrates the deep problems besetting the Rockefeller campaign elsewhere.

One year ago, during the all-but-forgotten front-running days of President Johnson and Michigan Gov. George Romney, as confidential Ohio poll of undoubted accuracy showed Rockefeller decisively beating Mr. Johnson, while Nixon was decisively beaten by the President.

By late March of 1968, Rockefeller had managed to kick away this dramatic margin over Nixon, partly by his lamentable evocation after Romney's withdrawal. Thus, by late March Nixon had moved up nearly 10 points, aided heavily by Mr. Johnson's pervasive unpopularity, and stood slightly ahead of the President. But Rockefeller was actually running behind Mr. Johnson.

In early June, a third confidential poll was commissioned to see whether Rockefeller had improved this position on the strength of his formal entry into the race April 30. The assassination of Sen. Robert Kennedy knocked this sample into the ashcan. Poll-

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
CAN WE MEET IT?

If there was ever a time when fellowship and cooperation were needed—in fact, demanded—that time is the present. We are horrified as we read of riots in cities, group working against group for the destruction of liberties for which our forebears were willing to lay down their lives. There is a distraught condition of world affairs today that amazes and alarms anyone capable of the least reflection.

Most generations in the past have believed that the challenges they confronted were unprecedented. They were anxious about them and many were in doubt as to whether or not great problems could be solved. But today, with all our horror over present unrest, we are full of hope that something can be done and that something will be done. We cannot settle these questions by force of arms. Cooperation, education, and the marshalling of every factor in our lives to bring people together must enter into this new situation. Times indeed appear to be desperate, and we can be sure that nothing but our combined efforts will render them otherwise.

The thing we should always keep in mind is that no situation is hopeless until we make it so by giving up hope, throwing up our hands and declaring that the end has come. The end has not come to this modern world and its fine achievements. If we refuse to face our problems we are defeated before we begin. This has not been the mood of the past and it must not be the mood of the present.

Complaints On Selling Abroad

By ELMER ROESSNER
American sales abroad have failed to balance our spending for foreign goods, travel and other expenditures. In April, they failed to balance even our imports, although they subsequently turned up.

One reason may be the brashness of our exporters, their insistence on doing things their way, and their lack of understanding of others' customs.

A grim illustration of this is the result of a survey by the commercial branch of the United States embassy in Caracas. It sent questionnaires to 358 firms handling U.S. products seeking their complaints about U. S. firms, and got replies from 128.

The U. S. and Venezuela have fine-trade relations. We purchase vast amounts of oil and iron ore; Venezuela buys more than half its imports from the U. S. The U. S. share of the market, however, has been declining. The replies may be clues not only to why the U. S. is losing its share of this market but also why it is failing to sell more goods in more than 100 other markets. Only 12 Per Cent Happy

Of those replying, only 12 per cent had no complaint about the way Americans do business. Of the 88 per cent dissatisfied, most complaints were about high prices, terms of payment and the exclusive use of English in correspondence and manuals.

Here are the complaints, in percentages:

|--|----|
| Literature only in English | 69 |
| Higher prices than other countries | 61 |
| Correspondence only in English | 47 |
| Better terms of payment elsewhere | 44 |
| Promised delivery dates not met | 29 |
| Direct sales by firm in representative's territory | 24 |
| Commissions and profits lower than competition's | 20 |
| Careless documentation, handling | 18 |
| Freight rates not competitive | 16 |
| Claimed errors not accepted by exporter | 12 |
| Slow in answering correspondence | 11 |
| Specifications not followed | 10 |
| Lack of personal attention | 6 |

American Know-It-All

One importer complained: "There is a general indifference to and ignorance of local situations as regards to customs, documentation and other matters, which often leads to arbitrary modification of customers' instructions without prior consultation, in a 'take it or leave it' attitude, which frequently leads to fines for incorrect documentation and storage charges."

There have been similar complaints from other nations. A Japanese importer complained, "American exporters insist on doing business 'the American way.' This is very puzzling to the Japanese, who have been doing business the Japanese way for centuries."

Fabulous new golf courses are being hewn from mountain forests and along the great sweep of beaches which form one of the nation's most unique coastal playgrounds. Ski resorts dot the mountain region and give impetus to the State's claim as a year-around vacation state.  "Nothing, Mr. President. You conduct a great orchestra. I should know. I've been playing second violin in it for the last three and a half years. I was just trying to make the point that if I got to conduct the orchestra it might not sound exactly the same."
 "Do you think you can do a better job of leading the orchestra?"
 "I didn't say that, Mr. President. All I said was my music would be different. It's not as though I'm going to change any of the arrangements."
 "But you did indicate that if you were captain of the team you might do things differently than you did as a member of the team."
 "I got my metaphors all mixed up. What I meant to say is that if the American people would give me the ball this year, I'd run with it."
 "Hubert, I consider you as a son. I want to hand the torch to you. But what worries me is that you would just as soon I leave the torch somewhere so you could pick it up when no one is looking."
 "That's not true, Mr. President. You made me what I am today. Everything I am or ever hope to be, I owe to you. As far as I am concerned, you're still the greatest President the United States has ever had."
 "That's nice of you to say, Hubert. If everything you say is true, I just have one favor to ask."

 sters found that, under the emotional stress of the assassination, up to 40 percent of those polled refused to say anything at all about Presidential politics.
 More than that, the assassination had a direct and harmful effect on Rockefeller's own campaign. Not only did it end the threat of another Kennedy-Nixon Presidential race, regarded by Rhodes as something to be avoided. It also forced Rockefeller to go back into hibernation for one week, time the Governor could not afford to lose.

ARMY RESERVE TRAINING — Warrant Officer Julian Whitehurst, center, Assistant Adjutant, briefs several of his fellow Reservists on their new jobs on post at Fort Jackson, S.C. They are assigned to Detachment 1, Reception Station 3398, Greenville. Listening to Whitehurst are (left) Pfc. Jim P. Craft Jr. of Farmville; Pfc. Carlton R. Rouse of Ayden; Master Sergeant James E. Jenkins of Ayden; Pfc. Kenneth N. Kirby of Greenville. These men are among the 193 soldiers of the 5398th Reception Station which is conducting a two-week annual field training program. The Reservists take over some of the positions of the regularly assigned soldiers as test monitors, classification interviewers and personal affairs interviewers. Others will assume duties in the mass hall, receiving branch and medical examination station. (Ft. Jackson Post Facility Photo)

Representing Pitt At N.C. FFA Convention

Several delegates from the Chicod Chapter of the Future Farmers of America will represent Pitt County during the 40th Annual Convention of the North Carolina Association of FFA June 26-28. The convention will be held on the campus of the North Carolina University at Raleigh.

Featured convention speakers include Miss Marilyn Van Derbur, former Miss America; Commissioner of Agriculture Jim Graham; and Robert Rish, National FFA vice president from Pelion, S. C.

During the convention business sessions will be held to take action on various matters pertaining to the State FFA Program of Work, Budget, FFA camps and election of new state officers. Numerous individual FFA members and chapters will receive awards totaling $18,000 for outstanding achievements in various vocational agriculture and FFA activities.

Rising Chicod High Senior Phillip Buck will receive an award for the Chicod Chapter as district winner in the FFA National Chapter Award Program. This award is presented on the basis of overall activities planned and conducted by the members of the group. Chicod is one of 14 chapters in the state being recognized.

Buck will also serve on the FFA Convention Committee which evaluate the convention and make recommendations to delegates for future conventions.

Buck is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Buck of Chicod. Also participating will be Tony Evans, a rising sophomore at Chicod High School and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Evans. Four Chicod students will receive the State Farmer Degree, the highest awarded by a State Association, for outstanding records in leadership, cooperative efforts, community service and supervised practice programs in farming and other agricultural.

Recipients are: Steve Peele, Sammy Wall, Randy Dixon and Carl Miller.

Peele has been selected District I Star Farmer and is a finalist for the honor of FFA State Star Farmer of North Carolina.

Phillip Page, Pitt Federation Winner in Farm Electrification, will attend a farm electrification banquet honoring Federation Winners during the convention. Chicod Chapter Advisor Charles E. Johnson will also attend the convention and will serve on the FFA Contest and Awards Review Committee.

Modern Beer Cans 'Cooked'

DRESHER, Pa. (UPI)—The modern beer can is cooked with gas. Old fashioned tin-plated cans have an inch-wide seam of solder. To improve this, Selas Corporation of America here has developed a special "quick-heat" process for making the can's up-and-down seam. Rows of gas-fired burners aim high-velocity blasts of intense heat along one edge of the flat steel blanks from which the cans are fashioned. Only the narrow edge glows red hot; the rest of the blank — already lithographed with the brewer's label — is unaffected.

A narrow strip of plastic adhesive, applied to the red-hot edge and then "quick-frozen," forms the seam. An automated heat-and-chill machine can process 30,000 cans an hour — enough for 11,250 quarts of beer.

GROW FAST
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A California Division of Forestry report says new trees up to 13 feet tall sprout from coast redwood stumps within two and one-half years after logging operations.

Rocky Claims Support From RFK Ranks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Tuesday. "I think much of this is now coming my way." Rockefeller says he's picking up support that had gone to Sen. Robert F. Kennedy—and at the same time has kept alive the idea of running with California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

"He (Kennedy) had become a symbol to minority groups more than anyone since Roosevelt," Rockefeller said in Albany people who have felt there was a possibility of a ticket here." Reagan has said repeatedly he is not interested in the vice presidency and he told a news conference Tuesday neither Rockefeller nor Richard M. Nixon had asked him to become a running mate.

Reagan, a GOP favorite son, also indicated he would not be entered as a presidential candidate at the Republican National Convention if it is obvious someone else has the nomination locked up in advance.

"Obviously, if the convention is going to be sewed up," he said, "there's no sense in going down there and going through an empty gesture."

He indicated in such a situation he might also release California's 86-vote delegation before the convention. A key member of the delegation has said it would substantially favor Nixon if Reagan were not a factor.

In the Democratic race, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has scheduled a campaign swing through Colorado, North Dakota and Iowa—starting in Denver tonight—to seek delegates and outline his views to voters.

Aides have said Humphrey will concentrate on public speeches this summer to dispel any image of a campaign based on "back room politics" for convention delegate votes.

In other political developments: —Nixon, in a position paper, called Berlin a keystone of Western security. "Any indication," he said, "that we are willing to accommodate to renewed Soviet and East German harrassment of Berlin would be an invitation for further pressures from the Communists."

—Third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace set out today on a campaign swing aimed at raising campaign funds and gaining enough voter signatures to get on the November ballot in Maryland and Massachusetts. The swing also will take him through his home state of Alabama.

—Eleven Republican senators, most of them considered favoring Nixon, have criticized Rockefeller for tattacks by name against Nixon and Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, D-Ore. "We are dismayed," they said in a telegram, "by your breach of the so-called 11th Commandment not to speak ill of a fellow Republican."

—An Associated Press poll shows Humphrey has at least 19 of Indiana's 63 delegate votes, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy 4, Gov. Roger D. Branlign 1 and Massachusetts Sen. Edward M. Kennedy 1 with 15 uncommitted. Other delegates were not reached or declined to state their preference.

Frank Robinson, Wally Bunker Back In Stride

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Frank Robinson, only a pain in the neck earlier this season, and Wally Bunker, nothing but a sore arm this spring, look healthy enough now to patch up the aching Baltimore Orioles.

Robby, raising his average to .270, cracked a single, double and homer, driving in three runs and scoring two behind Bunker's five-hitter as the Orioles cut up Boston 6-0 Tuesday night.

The performances were even more pleasing to the Orioles because the slugging Robinson obviously is back in shape after an earlier bout with the mumps, and Bunker appears over the arm trouble that forced his brief return to the minor leagues.

The victory also soothed the wounded Orioles with only their third triumph in 11 games and tied them back into a tie for third place with Minnesota.

Cleveland held on to second place with a 6-1 victory over Washington, but no one gained ground on runaway Detroit as the Tigers came from behind for a 8-5 decision over the New York Yankees.

California downed Oakland 7-6 and Minnesota and the Chicago White Sox were rained out in other games.

In the National League, Pittsburgh tripped St. Louis 3-2, Atlanta beat Philadelphia 6-1, Houston defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-2, the New York Mets blanked Cincinnati 4-0, and San Francisco crushed Los Angeles 9-0.

Robinson blasted his third homer of the season off loser Ray Culp, 4-3, in the third inning after Bunker walked. His single drove in another run in the fifth and he doubled and scored in the seventh as the Orioles remained 8½ games behind Detroit.

Bunker, who helped pitch the Orioles to their 1966 pennant and won a game in that World Series, was knocked out last Wednesday in his first start since being recalled from Rochester of the International League.

Against the Red Sox he struck out seven, walked one and only one runner got past first base against him — Elston Howard doubled and reached third on an infield out.

Sonny Siebert of Cleveland did even better for six innings against the sickly Senators, who lost for the 11th time in 12 games. Siebert, who has one, two- and three-hitters this year, did not allow a hit until Ron Hansen doubled with two out in the seventh.

Del Unser followed with a run-scoring single and Siebert lasted the inning before giving way to Stan Williams in the intense heat in Washington. However, by the sixth, the Indians had built a 4-0 lead and Siebert had his seventh victory against five losses.

Detroit kept its lead over the Indians at 7½ games by erupting for six runs in the seventh inning to overcome a 5-1 Yankee lead in a game delayed three times and 99 minutes by rain.

Dick Tracewski belted a run-scoring double, Mickey Stanley singled in two runs and Willie Horton crashed a two-run triple and scored on Jim Northrup's fly. Northrup's triple added a run in the ninth.

California took a 7-3 lead with a run in the sixth inning when Oakland center fielder Rick Monday dropped a fly ball for a three-base error and Bubba Morton singled.

But the Angels had to call starter Jim McGlothlin out of the bullpen with the bases loaded and none out in the eighth and two runs home. McGlothlin got out of the inning with a double play and a ground out.

INSPECTING THE GREENS — Chief amateur contender for the Carolina's Amateur Tournament, Dale Morey, inspects greens before play begins tomorrow.

Boles Hits 2 Homers For Kiwanis' Cause

Until yesterday Kiwanian Robert Boles had not hit a home run. Then he hit two, one grand slam, to boost his team to a 22-8 rout of R. C. Cola. The win secures a tie for second place in the North State League for Kiwanis.

Kiwanis action started in the top of the first as Jon West singled. Griff Garner then got on first with a fielder's choice, and Boles hit his first homer, batting in Garner and chalking up two of his 10 runs batted in. Chris Manning then singled and was advanced to second as James Mayo singled. Al Heath followed with a double and scored Manning.

In the bottom of the third, R. C. got on the scoreboard with T. J. Payne's single. Lee Narron then reached on a fielder's choice, and Payne advanced to score on a wild pitch and an error.

Kiwanis scored another three runs in the top of the fourth. Heath reached on an error, and Boles singled, Manning then blasted a double, scoring Heath. Mayo followed with another double, scoring Manning and Boles.

Kiwanis had its biggest inning in the fifth, as 13 runs crossed the plate. Jimmy Rogers doubled and then scored on Billy Brookshire's sacrifice bunt and a wild pitch. Al Heath walked and West and Garner singled to load the bases for Boles' second home run, which scored all four runners. Manning followed with another walk, and Mayo scored. Al Heath then doubled to score Manning and Mayo. Rogers singled and advanced to third to score Heath. Brookshire and Kelly Heath walked. Jon West reached first on a fielder's choice, and Griff Garner, hit by a pitch, advanced him to second. Boles singled to score Heath, Brookshire scoring on Garner's walk. Manning then walked and advanced to third, scoring West, Garner, and Boles.

R. C. rallied for some scoring of its own in the bottom of the inning as Jeff Bailey led off with a walk. T. J. Payne followed with another walk, and Lee Uarron reached on an error. Bobby Jones then singled to drive in Bailey. Ken Nichols walked and scored Payne. Howard Speight walked and scored Narron. Gordon Sutton singled and scored Jones. Sutton then advanced on an error and scored Nichols. Bailey walked and advanced to second, scoring Howard Speight. Payne then reached on a fielder's choice and scored Donald Speight.

In the last inning, Kiwanis picked up another three runs as West reached on a fielder's choice and advanced to third on a series of wild pitches. Garner walked, and Boles singled and advanced around the bases on wild pitches, scoring West, Garner and himself.

Boles led Kiwanis hitting with five hits, and Bobby Jones led R. C. with three.

Brook Valley Country Club will play host to the Eighth Annual North Carolina Men's Amateur Golf Tournament, a 72-hole event, starting tomorrow and running through Sunday.

Some 160 amateurs from across the state will gather at the club tomorrow for the first of the four rounds. These golfers will play a second 18 holes on Friday.

Following the second round, the field will be cut to the top 60 and ties, who will continue play on Saturday and Sunday leading to the championship.

Following Saturday's third round, the field will be flighted into A, B, and C flights.

The A flight will consist of the top 20 golfers, plus ties, while the next 20 and ties will go into the B flight. The remaining golfers will comprise C flight.

At the conclusion of the tournament, the top six golfers in the A or championship flight will receive trophies, including the new champion.

Prizes will also be awarded to the top three in both B and C flights.

Sonny Grant of the Sedgefield Country Club in Greensboro is the defending champion in the tournament. He won last year with a 284 at the Country Club of North Carolina. Bill Harvey won the previous year.

Harvey, who will be challenging Grant again this year for the title is a cousin of former Greenville golfer Joe Harvey. He resides in Greensboro.

Another staff challenge to the title holder is expected to come from High Point's Dale Morey. Morey won the North Carolina Open championship last year on this same course, and is one of the top amateurs in the state at this time.

Another well-known amateur expected to compete for the title is Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, who has won practically every amateur title around.

Joining that group are such golfers as Harry Welch, a former Duke great now living in Salisbury; Dr. Bob Watson of Charlotte, Jack Crist of Charlotte, Jimmy Gurlins of Washington and Chowan College, and Wake Forest University golfers Scott Irby, Joe Inman and Leonard Thompson.

Local entries include Joe Exum, Molt Massey, Don Conley Jr., Gene Ward, Henry Coleman, Ernell Webb, Reynolds May, Wally Howard Jr., and Don White.

According to Hale Van Hoy, executive director of the Carolina Golf Association, the course will be played from the blue championship tees, which average around 6,900 yards, but play at their toughest at a long 7,007 yards.

Security Life Holds On To 2nd Slot Hope

Security Life held on to hopes for second place honors in the Tar Heel League yesterday by rallying to score 11 runs in the last three innings to defeat Elks, 11-6.

Security will have sole possession of second place if Greenville Tobacco scores today and will share the rank if the Tobs win.

Elks started the scoring in the bottom of the first. Skip Fowler walked and advanced to second on a passed ball. Billy Leitch then singled, scoring Fowler, and Gary Warren doubled. Louis Lesley followed with a walk, and Jimmy Peszko reached on an error that scored Leitch. Gary Leitch then singled, Warren and Lesley scoring on a series of errors.

Elks continued to monopolize the scoreboard in the third as Jimmy Leitch singled and advanced on an error. He scored on a single by Skip Fowler.

Security began its rally in the top of the fourth. Tony Nichols walked, and Jack Jenkins singled. Max Glisson followed with a walk. Jordy Whichard also walked and scored Nichols. John Caused the third straight walk to first. Jenkins scoring. Wes Puryear then closed out the inning with a grand slam home run, cleaning all the batters off the field.

Elks came back with another run to tie the score in their half of the inning. Louis Lesley singled and scored when Peszko walked to first and rounded the bases.

Security took another narrow lead in the top of the fifth as Jenkins singled and advanced to second on a passed ball. Bob Higgins then singled and stole second, advancing Jenkins to third. Jenkins scoring on an error.

Security put the game on ice in the sixth as Causey led off with a double. Puryear then walked, and Dash blasted a triple to score Causey and Puryear. Nichols then reached on a fielder's choice and advanced to third on a passed ball and an error, scoring Dash. Nichols then scored from third.

Jack Jenkins led Security hitting with three hits, and Jimmy Leitch paced Elks also with three hits.

Brooks Robinson Named To AL All-Stars; 9th Straight Year

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Slugging outfielder Frank Howard of the Washington Senators, the American League's home run and runs batted in leader, was named to the circuit's All-Star team for the first time and third baseman Brooks Robinson made it for the ninth consecutive year, it was announced today.

Others chosen to start against the National League in the July 9 All-Star baseball game in Houston were outfielder Carl Yastrzemski of Boston, catcher Bill Freehan and outfielder Willie Horton of Detroit, first baseman Harmon Killebrew and second baseman Rod Carew of Minnesota and shortstop Jim Fregosi of California.

Robinson, Freehan, Killebrew, Carew and Yastrzemski all started last year when the AL dropped a 2-1 decision, extending the circuit's losing streak in the mid-season classic to five games. The National League leads in the series, 20 to 17 with one tie.

Outfielders Tony Oliva of Minnesota and Tony Conigliaro of Boston and shortstop Rico Petrocelli of the Red Sox were the other AL starters in 1967.

Freehan led the balloting by league players this year, accumulating 248 votes. The Tigers' backstop is batting .260.

Yastrzemski, hitting .321, was next with 246 votes followed by Howard with 238, Horton 193 and Carew, 184.

The closest competition for a starting position was at first base where Killebrew collected 116 votes and Boog Powell of Baltimore drew 106. Killebrew has 12 homers and 32 runs batted in, but is way down the batting list with a .216 average. Powell has a .255 batting mark with 11 homers and 44 RBI.

Howard had a .298 average with 24 homers and 53 RBI through Monday's games. He is in his fourth season with the Senators after five years in the National League with the Los Angeles Dodgers. He was never chosen to the NL All-Star squad.

The Orioles' Brooks Robinson is having one of his poorest seasons. He has a .234 batting mark with six homers and 25 runs batted in.

Turbine Engines Given Support Of Auto Club

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — U.S. Auto Club directors rejected Tuesday a move to ban turbine engines from racing and recommended bringing them into the "mainstream of automotive development."

The directors voted to: —Have a special committee evaluate all USAC championship engine formulas, with the possibility of reducing or adjusting all engine sizes for 1969.

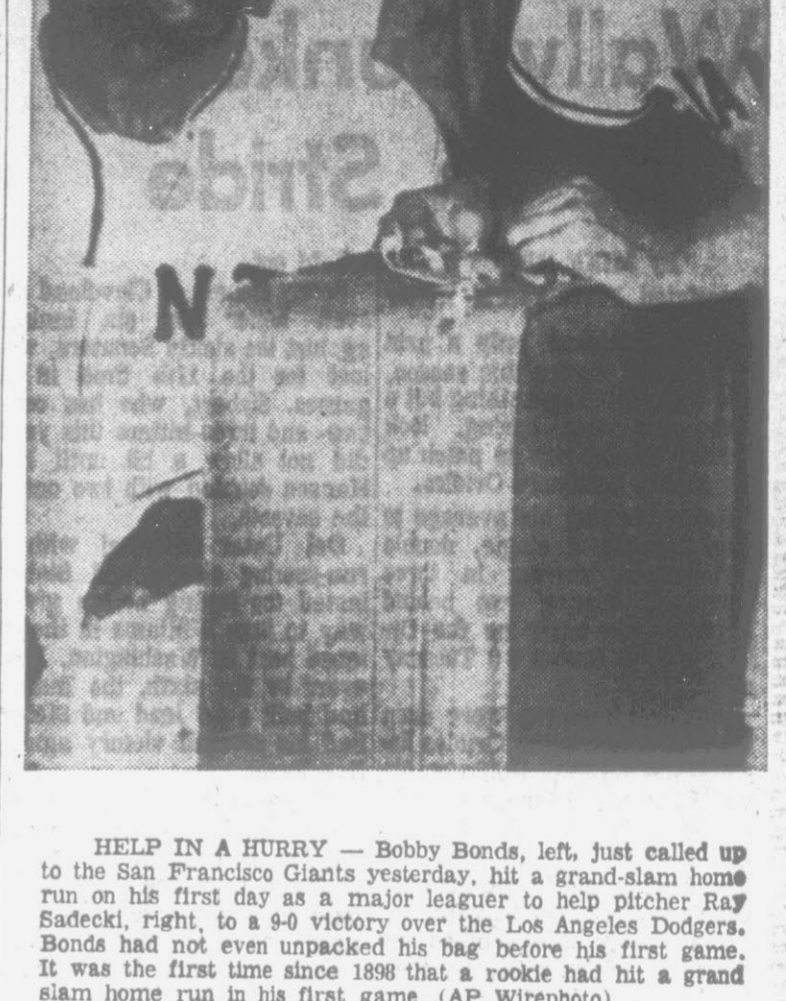

—Permit no turbine engines for competition in 1970 unless an automotive type suitable for passenger car use is available.

—Eliminate four-wheel drive by Jan. 1, 1970.

The special committee is to prepare its report on engine sizes by July 23 if possible or by the directors' September meeting.

Any change would cover the turbine engines of STP Corp. President Andy Granatelli and turbocharged piston engines like the one Bobby Unser won the Indianapolis 500-mile race May 30.

Granatelli, whose turbines lost a third of their power by new UAC limits this year, still

HELP IN A HURRY — Bobby Bonds, left, just called up to the San Francisco Giants yesterday, hit a grand-slam home run on his first day as a major leaguer to help pitcher Ray Sadecki, right, to a 9-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers. Wachovia, Little Mint And Food Mart Racked Up Wins Wachovia upset Coke, 11-7, on the Ladies Softball League last night, while Little Mint and Food Mart both won to stay in a tie for second place, now only 1½ games behind Coke.

Coke's loss, only its second against nine wins, does not topple it from first place. Food Mart and Little Mint, both 7-3, are tied for second. Wachovia is third at 4-7, with Pollard's, 3-6, and Empire Brush, 1-10, filling out the standings.

In the first game last night, Wachovia began to build its upset with two runs in the first inning and two in the second.

Coke came back with two runs in the bottom of the third, while Wachovia added four runs to lead again.

In the sixth, Coke tried to rally, but was stopped short with one run, but Wachovia drove three runs across the plate.

In the final seventh, Wachovia scored one run and Coke, two as Cleo Fouts homered.

Empire Brush started the scoring in the second game, which ended Food Mart 13-7 over Empire, with one run in the first, but Food Mart came back with four in the bottom to take the lead as Andre Wooten homered.

Food Mart added another in the second, and four in the fourth as Wooten knocked her second homer.

In the top of the fifth, Empire scored two more runs, while Food Mart drove across still another score in the bottom.

Empire picked up its final two runs in the sixth.

Little Mint began its 12-4 defeat of Pollard's with one run in the first and seven in the third.

Pollard's then came back with two in the fifth, but Little Mint picked up one of its own.

In the sixth, Little Mint did all the scoring as it added its final three runs.

Pollard's scored its final two runs in the seventh.

Pirates Sign New York Star

Ralph David Betesh, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Betesh, 2135 773rd Street, Brooklyn, New York, has signed a football grant in aid with East Carolina University.

The 5-11, 198 pound fullback and defensive corner prepped at Frederick Military Academy in Portsmouth, Virginia. He was a 1966 member of the New York City All-Scholastic Team.

East Carolina assistant football coach Henry Vansant, who recruited Betesh said, "Ralph is an outstanding young man, and he is a good, tough man, and he is a good, tough football player who will probably be used as a defensive corner. His displayed dedication for football should insure success in his college athletic endeavors. Emory Davis, his coach at Frederick Military, thinks very highly of him."

St. James Belts Out 25-4 Win In Softball League

St. James kept closely behind league-leading Presbyterian Monday night as it belted Pentecostal 25-4 in the Church Softball League. In the second game, Gum Swamp forfeited to Jarvis.

Vincent homered in the first as St. James went out into the lead, 6-0.

In the second, Pentecostal came back with three runs on a Pearce homer, but were unable to catch St. James which drove in 11 runs on home runs by Sanderson, Smith, and Parnell.

In the third St. James continued to pound out runs as Smith homered again and the score became 21-3.

St. James completed its victory by picking up two runs each in the fourth and sixth innings. Clayton and Vincent homered in the sixth.

Pentecostal scored its last run in the top of the seventh.

Presbyterian holds a 9-1 record, while St. James is 10-2. Immanuel is also holding to a share of the top honors with a 9-2 record. St. James trails Presbyterian by a mere four percentage points, and Immanuel is only a half game out of first place.

DEMOLITION STARTED . . . The rafters of Old Austin Building at East Carolina University are exposed to the weather now as demolition crews dismantle the structure — the original administration building at the school. The job of removing the old structure to make way for the eventual construction of high-rise dormitories for women is being done by D. H. Griffin Wrecking Co. of Greensboro who are scheduled to complete the task by August 15. Wilson Hall, a dormitory for women adjacent to Austin, is also being demolished and that job, too, is scheduled for completion August 15. The demolition of Wilson is being done by Carolina Wrecking Company of Durham. The building sites will be used for temporary parking areas until the dorms, already authorized for construction, are begun. The cupola atop Austin will be preserved as a campus landmark. Railway Strike Seems Averted

CHICAGO (AP) — A nationwide strike apparently has been averted by tentative agreement on a new contract in last-hours negotiations between the nation's railroads and the 140,000-member Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

A spokesman for the National Railway Labor Conference declined Tuesday night to reveal details of the agreement, which is subject to ratification by the union members. The main issues were wages and the carriers' request for a "no-strike" pledge from the union effective until Jan. 1, 1970.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen is the largest operating railway union. It had set a strike deadline for 12:01 a.m. Thursday and union officials said 99.7 per cent of its local committees voted for a walkout.

Robert Resor, spokesman for the National Railway Labor Conference, the industry's bargaining agent, refused to say whether a "no-strike" pledge was part of the tentative agreement.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen is the first to five operating unions to reach agreement with the carriers in the current round of contract talks.

The union served notice last September that it wanted a 12.5 per cent increase in wages and improvements in fringe benefits. Yardmen now average $18.95 a day and roadmen $23.

Six Tar Heels Killed In Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon Tuesday said six more

North Carolina servicemen have died in the Vietnam war.

Identified as killed in action were: Lance Cpl. Elwood Owens, husband of Mrs. Barbara Owens of Windsor; Pvt. Bobby R. Lane, son of Mrs. Leereene L. Lane of Goldsboro; and Pvt. Anthony R. Love, son of Mrs. Mable G. M. Love of Dallas.

Changed from missing to dead of hostile action were: Cpl. Paul L. Joyner, husband of Mrs. Jamie M. Joyner of Castalia; Cpl. Allen S. Stroud, husband of Mrs. Dora A. Stroud of Garner; and Pfc. Robert C. Hawkins, husband of Mrs. Brenda C. Hawkins of Clyde.

Man Arrested On Morals Count

A 28-year-old Negro was taken into custody by Greenville Police on charges of indecent exposure yesterday afternoon.

Officers arrested Seamore Stoton Jr., of 414 Latham St. following investigation of a 3:50 p.m. complaint.

According to Chief H. F. Lawson, Stoton allegedly exposed himself to a 15-year-old girl at the intersection of Myrtle and Raleigh Avenues.

Chief Lawson explained, was riding in a car at the time of the incident, while the young girl was in the yard of her home.

Officers identified Stoton as the driver of a car involved in another complaint earlier in the afternoon, also.

Chief Lawson said residents of Allen Street reported a suspicious car riding around and around in that neighborhood about 3 p.m. However, when officers arrived in the area, the car had left.

According to the chief, an older sister of the girl involved in yesterday's incident told police a man she identified as Stoton had exposed himself to her some time before yesterday but she had not reported it.

Bulletproof Shield For Sirhan's Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan will sit behind a shield of bulletproof armor plate and glass if he is tried as expected in Los Angeles on a charge of murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

He will be led to the courtroom from a cell through a sealed passageway whose windows will be covered by heavy steel plates.

The County Board of Supervisors decided Tuesday to authorize unlimited expenditures to assure the safety of the 24-year-old Jordanian, accused of shooting Kennedy June 5.

The cost of the protective equipment was estimated at $20,000—$1,500 for work on the passageway and the rest for "armor plate, armor glass, steel plate and wire netting in the courtroom."

Several threats have been made on the life of Sirhan as well as his lawyer and others connected with the case.

The accused was expected to enter his plea Friday on the ninth floor of the Hall of Justice, a floor above the courtroom where he probably will be tried.

But the plan was canceled because the security measures were not ready.

A precise description of the security devices was not made public, at the request of Superior Court Judge Donald R. Wright. But Supervisor Kenneth Hahn said that the shield could be large enough to protect not only Sirhan but also the trial judge, attorneys and jury. Instead of in the Hall of Justice, Sirhan may enter his plea Friday in the chapel of the new county jail, where he has been kept in a maximum security cell since the shooting.

Observers note, however, that his attorney, Russell E. Parsons, who took over the case from the public defender last week, may request more time to study the lengthy grand jury transcript, or there may be other reasons for delay.

Hahn said the county mechanical department will begin work on the bulletproof shield Friday.

Park Dedication Set Thursday

GREENSBORO (AP) — Dedication ceremonies naming a 600-acre Ashe County park in honor of the late E. B. Jeffers of Greensboro are scheduled for 2 p.m. Thursday.

The ceremonies will be held at the Cascades parking area on the Blue Ridge Parkway. Gov. Dan Moore and other dignitaries are scheduled to attend.

Class Of 1943 To Meet July 6

WINTERVILLE — The 1943 Winterville High School graduating class will meet for the first time as a group after 25 years, July 6.

The class will hold their 25th year reunion in the Winterville Community Building.

Thirty-three seniors graduated from high school as members of the 1943 class.

The meeting next week will be the first reunion staged by the class.

Participating In 4-H Congress

John May, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton May, of Winterville is participating in the 1968 4-H Electric Congress at the Blue Ridge Assembly in Black Mountain, on July 13.

May is a member of the Pine Woods 4-H Club and has been a 4-H'er for six years. He has taken the electric project for three years.

May's trip is sponsored by the Virginia Electric Power Company, because he has done outstanding work in the electric project.

Fireman Injured Fighting Blaze

CHARLOTTE (AP) — City fireman L. W. McSwain was hospitalized with third degree burns Tuesday, sustained while battling a potentially explosive fire at a Charlotte chemical plant. Several other firemen were overcome by smoke.

A chemical concentrate described as a form of liquid soap mixed with water, filled the basement of Fleming Laboratories and extinguished the fire. Damages were estimated in excess of $10,000.

Why would anyone want to put 40 gallons of hot water in a closet?

It's not such a crazy idea if the water is inside an electric quick-recovery water heater.

Because you can put an electric quick recovery water heater anywhere you want it. In a closet. Under the sink. Wherever it's closest to your hot water needs.

But the best reason to install a quick-recovery water heater is because the water will stay hot. All through your shower. All through the day.

HOW WILL YOU CELEBRATE THE 4TH?

See a parade...
 or perhaps a fireworks display?
 A backyard barbecue?
 How ever you celebrate we hope it will be a glorious 4th.

We think lots of folks will be picnicking.
 We've anticipated their needs.
 Our shelves are stocked with everything to make any picnic perfect.

Here's the best part:
 No matter what you buy,
 no matter who makes it,
 if A&P sells it, A&P guarantees it.

We guarantee everything...
 except the weather.
 We're sorry about that-but we'll do this:
 With you, we'll wish for a perfect day.
 Lots of us will be picnicking too!

Irvin S. Cobb Saw NC Needed A Press Agent

LIGHT OF HISTORY
By Christopher Crittenden
N.C. Department of Archives and History

When for Associated Press
RALEIGH (AP) — "What
North Carolina needs is a press agent. She has practically everything else." So wrote famed 19th century author Irvin S. Cobb 47 years ago.

"When I say the State of North Carolina has practically everything, I mean literally just that," continued Cobb, "in the sense that she has practically everything which conduces to comfortable all-the-year round living for the average human being. According to the best of my observation and belief, she has within her as complete an assortment of natural attractions and natural glories as is to be found enclosed by any set of state boundaries."

A copy of the little book, titled North Carolina, one of
"Cobb's America Guyed Books," has just been donated by a friend. Published in 1924, it created quite a stir — understandably a very favorable one in the Old North State.

"For a mighty long spell North Carolina was asleep, becoming finally the slouchiest and shabbiest and most slothful of the states below the Mason-Dixon line," said the writer.

"And then about 15 years ago
North Carolina came out of her sleep, and I am here to testify that she came a 'rearin and a 'bustin'."

Irvin S. Cobb made people laugh. Indeed, many of the things he wrote were almost screamingly funny, so that it might be thought he was nothing more than a big joker.

As a matter of fact, however, for a period of her history North Carolina had been indeed among the most backward of all the states, so that she had been given the nickname of "the Rip Van Winkle" of the states. The dark period of the Civil War and Reconstruction did not help matters.

With the coming of the twentieth century, the state woke up with a bang. First came a great campaign for universal education, under Gov. Charles B. Ay-cock. Then highways, under Gov. Cameron Morrison. Eventually a broad economic and cultural renaissance in almost every phase of human life.

Perhaps partly because of Irvin S. Cobb's statement that "What North Carolina needs is a press agent," the state went in for an advertising campaign second to none. Today nationally and internationally she is recognized as a leader in providing allure for tourists, opportunity for industry—in general a fine place to live, work, and play.

Nairobi Shows Few U.S. Films

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Half of the movies showing in Nairobi are labeled "unsuitable for children under 10" or "for adults only." The U.S. and British films that were favorites of local fans have virtual disappeared.

"Wanted in Texas," an Italian Western now playing in town, has a total of 106 murders by knife or gun and winds up with the bad guy being shot in the kneecaps and left to the buzzards.

Since the Kenya Film Corp. took over import and distribution of all films six months ago, three of the capital's most popular theaters have closed. Many others operate on a day-to-day basis, hoping enough customers will show up.

Distribution of most British and American films is controlled by the Motion Picture Exporters' Association of America, which is reported demanding that KFC deposit dollars in New York before acquiring any of its films. Negotiations are still going on.

Thus no new U.S. or British films are brought in, and the moviegoer is limited to Italian Westerns and Asian offerings starring performers who are virtually unknown here.

Scenic Dining On TV Tower

NEW YORK (UPI)—An 890-foot-high television tower has been opened in Hamburg with restaurant and bar facilities for the public halfway up, the German National Tourist Office announced. Two high speed elevators run to the 420-foot level restaurant which revolves at the rate of one turn an hour and offers a panoramic view of the famed north Germany city.

Commission Hearing Set For July 19 On Telephone Rates

RALEIGH (AP) — The North Carolina Utilities Commission will hold a hearing July 19 to give telephone companies operating in the state an opportunity to show why charges for long distance calls within the state should not be lowered.

A sweeping rate cut proposal was unveiled by the commission Tuesday in an order which would institute board extensions in the hours during which long distance calls may be made at low rates. The commission also suggested some minor reductions in regular long distance charges.

A commission spokesman said the toll reductions are designed to bring intrastate rates in line with interstate calls "for the same distance and during the same hours."

He estimated the first-year revenue loss to telephone companies in the state would be about $800,000, 75 per cent of which would be borne by Southern Bell Telephone Co.

The spokesman said the commission's proposal stems from a Federal Communications Commission order last fall which resulted in Bell System affiliates and independent telephone companies receiving rebates from the giant American Telephone and Telegraph Co., parent company of the Bell System.

The commission estimates that North Carolina firms received $1.5 million as a result of the ruling, and the commission wants them to share the returns with their customers.

At a meeting between the commission and telephone company representatives June 5, the company spokesmen were unanimous in their opposition to a rate reduction at the present time.

They argued that rising costs of labor and capital, increasing postal expenses and the loss of revenue caused by the federal income tax surcharge would make any rate cut unbearable.

Opening lead: Eight of ♣
A blind spot, brought on by failure to properly pinpoint the key to success on the deal, led to the defeat of South's six spade contract.

When South freely rebid two spades after East overcalled with two hearts, North was convinced that the partnership had the assets to undertake a slam since his hand was worth at least 18 points in support of spades. He decided to check back for controls by bidding four no trump and, when South showed two aces, North proceeded to six spades.

West opened the eight of hearts and dummy's lone ace won the trick. The king and queen of spades were cashed and, when East showed out

Miss North Carolina Visits EC Campus In Busy Schedule

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

Miss North Carolina was obviously delighted to be back on campus at East Carolina University.

Eliza Annette Johnson, visiting the ECU campus Tuesday afternoon as part of her round of official appearances, spent a few happy hours visiting old friends.

Miss Johnson was a sophomore at East Carolina prior to winning the title of Miss North Carolina.

She took a moment to rest on a park bench under the cooling shade of a big elm. On several occasions acquaintances congratulated her. A couple of times she signed autograph books.

Miss Johnson visited with members of Summer Theater cast who were rehearsing for "Bell, Book and Candle." She will be on hand for the season's opening performance. Immediate plans in her busy schedule include presiding at the Williamston Beauty Pageant Saturday; a dress-fitting in Greensboro Sunday for the dress she will wear at the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City; and attendance at The Summer Theater opening play Monday night.

In the short time since she was crowned Miss North Carolina, Miss Johnson has traveled considerably throughout the state. Asked whether she finds the travel tiring, she replied that in spite of the hot weather, she has found it immensely satisfying, and hopes to cover all parts of the state and to see as many people as possible.

In conversations with members of the press and TV accompanying her, Miss Johnson said although her future plans are not altogether firm, she has hopes of studying in the field of orthodontics. She feels that the correction of children's dental problems is a challenging and rewarding field, and that she can find great satisfaction in being able to help children.

Power Failure By Faulty Cable

A one hour and 24 minute power failure in downtown Greenville yesterday shortly after noon was due to two pieces of faulty electric cable, Utilities Director Leonard P. Bloxam reported today.

Bloxam said two sections of cable, located on Utilities property between the power substation at the GUC power plant and Third Street, went out about 12:20 p.m. Tuesday, causing the power failure which effected only the business district.

The outage "was not due to hot weather or overloaded circuits or lack of electricity," Bloxam said.

According to the utilities director, insulation on the two cables, installed in the late 1930's, was apparently damaged when it was installed. "It picked yesterday to finally break down and cause trouble."

Bloxam said new cable will be replaced underground as soon as replacement wire arrives. At present, the downtown circuits are being fed through overhead cable.

Precinct Meet For Republican

A Republican precinct meeting last night at the community building at Elm Street Park was "perhaps the first Republican precinct meeting to be held this century in Pitt County," according to Herb Lee, acting chairman for precinct nine.

Lee introduced Reece B. Gardner, Republican candidate for Congress from the First District, and John East, Republican candidate for Secretary of State for North Carolina.

Gardner stated the Republican Party has never had a better opportunity for victory than in the forthcoming elections.

East said if the growing Republican trend continues in Eastern North Carolina, a Republican victory is assured in November.

The meeting Tuesday night was primarily an organizational meeting to shape up plans for Pitt County Republican Party activities.

The following officers were elected for Precinct Nine: Johnny Jones, Chairman; Mrs. Gail Jones, Vice-Chairman; and Mary Windle, Secretary.

Slate Medicare Workshop Here

Truck Driver Who Died In Wreck, Fire Here Monday Is Identified

A truck driver who burned to death in the wreckage of his tractor-trailer here Monday afternoon has been identified as a Smithfield man.

Pitt County Coroner E. W. Harvey said the victim of the fatal highway crash was identified as Allen Paul Grice, 43.

The identification was made about 24 hours after the 5:20 p.m. Monday wreck at the intersection of Greene Street and N. C. 30, by the dead man's son and brothers.

Highway Patrolman Billy Day, said Grice was carrying a load of potatoes to Smithfield, when the wreck occurred.

Grice's truck overturned at the intersection just North of the Greenville City Limits after failing to stop for a stop sign. The vehicle was headed West on N. C. 30 and flipped over on its side after attempting to turn North on Greene Street.

After the vehicle overturned, fuel from the truck's tanks, ignited, burning the trapped driver to death.

Efforts to free the trapped man and to protect him from the rapidly spreading flames failed.

Grice told one would-be rescuer "You can't get me out, my leg is caught . . ."

Trooper Day said Grice was scheduled to arrive in Smithfield with his load of produce at 6:30 p.m. the day of the crash.

Identification of the victim, investigators said, was made through the partly-legible name of a check contained in the dead man's wallet.

Officers said Grice's driver's license and other personal papers contained in his wallet, as well as all identification papers in the truck, were destroyed by the fire.

Damage caused by the wreck and fire was estimated by Pitt Day to be about $15,000.

Hippies Invade TV Studio To Air Their Obscenities

NEW YORK (AP) — A group of hippies invaded a television studio Tuesday night, took over a live interview program and mouthed obscenities never heard on TV before, police said.

The 20-minute, on-camera incident occurred over WNDT, the city's educational TV station. Police, arriving after the last of five calls from station personnel, arrested seven of the intruders, six men and a woman. The others scattered. The number was estimated at between 20 and 40.

During the takeover, station officials said, the hippie group knocked down a station guard, tore the shirt of an associate studio director, and shouted, screamed and cursed over the airwaves.

Former astronaut John Glenn an interview guest earlier who was still at the studio, smilingly said later, "And they say there is violence on commercial television."

Lee Hayes, the producer of the "Newsfront" show then on the air, said that despite a deluge of phone calls from startled viewers, "I decided to allow the camera to continue to run, even though they had taken over the entire program and were running it . . ."

"I was afraid that if I cut them off the air, they might do physical harm to my staff. I knew a call had been put in for the police, and I decided to wait until they arrived."

The guests on the panel show were three representatives of the "underground press"—small newspapers which cater in large part to the hippie crowd. The trio was being interviewed by a New York Times reporter, Steven V. Roberts, when the hippies burst in, five minutes into the interview.

The hippies complained that the metropolitan press had not adequately treated the story of the April-May student uprisings at Columbia University and elsewhere.

Belgian Visited County Office

The economic advisor of the Minister of Agriculture visited the Pitt County Farm Extension Service yesterday as part of the International Visitor Program of the U. S. Department of State.

Jaak De Bruycker, has been in this country for three weeks visiting various farm agencies and universities in different states.

De Bruycker stated that 65 per cent of Belgium's farm products are livestock and dairy products, which means that Belgium needs to import a huge amount of feed grains.

Very little tobacco is grown in Belgium, according to De Bruycker, and tobacco that is grown is pipe tobacco. He stated that 95 per cent of the tobacco used in his country is imported.

When asked about similarities in farm programs, De Bruycker stated that there are more similarities than differences in the manner that the U.S. and Belgium administer their programs.

The biggest difference is the absence of land-grant colleges in Belgium.

De Bruycker also said that farms on the average are smaller in Belgium than in this country.

After leaving the Extension office, De Bruycker toured the J. B. Speight farm near Winterville.

He will be in North Carolina for three days.
