

City Council OKs Recreation Land Ordinance

By RONALD GOLLOBIN

An ordinance requiring developers of subdivisions to make land available to the city for recreation purposes was passed by the City Council last night after 30 minutes of lively debate.

land."
City Manager Harry Hagerly argued that the recreation area would raise the value of the entire parcel and would thus help the developer.
Edwards replied that he thought that residential developers were being singled out for penalty. "How much recreation area did Pitt Plaza have to provide?"
"Have many kids will be out back playing while their parents are in shopping?" Hagerly replied.

present plan was the best that anyone had come up with.
Council member Dr. Frank Fuller joined in the debate. "We've heard plenty of objections, but no alternative proposals. After eight years of study, this plan is the best they could do."
A vote followed, and the recreation plan passed unanimously.

Utilities Commission was approved. City Manager Hagerly stated that he felt it is "highly desirable to go on and approve the franchise before different agencies of the federal government pass new restrictions and requirements."
The 59-acre Mayo property fronting on the 264 by-pass was annexed into the city without objection.

Assessments for the curb and gutter and paving costs were approved. J. Roy Martin protested the assessment for improvements to Charles St. between the Seventh and Eighth Streets through a letter from his attorney James Cheatham.
A hearing on rezoning Mrs. Janie Gold Starling's property fronting on the 264 by-pass and 14th St. from residential to business usage was set for Aug. 8.

previously been in the name of Nathaniel Corbett, who has reportedly left the city.
John Earl Bridges received approval to operate a pool room at 617 Albemarle Ave., formerly operated by Whit Wilson.
The Girl Scout Council of Coastal Carolina represented by Mrs. Jo Hervey of Goldsboro, was denied a clear title to the deed which they now hold to the land beside the St. Paul's Episcopal Church. The deed includes a reverter clause, whereby the land would revert to the city when it was no longer used as a camp site for Girl Scouts. The site was never used for that purpose.

The Girl Scouts were informed by city attorney David Reid that the city could not, by law, give away any of its land.
A request for special price consideration in the purchase of 40 grave plots in the Brown Hill Cemetery by the Sycamore Hill Baptist Church was denied.
A request for approval to put a trailer on the residential lot owned by Alfonso Lassiter, 310 Hooker Road was denied.

was informed that drainage tile could be put in on a cooperative basis between residents and the city.
Floyd Nichols and Rufus Carl Hardee, both of Drum Avenue, appeared before the council with a problem of sewage disposal.
Hardee said that both he and Nichols were in the city and did not have city sewage disposal. Hardee said that he was tired of "watching his septic tank fill up two or three times a year, and coming home to find sewage in the bathtub."
Nichols stated that "people across the street are not in the city, and they get city water, city garbage collection, and city sewage disposal, but do not pay city taxes."

Lanier Leans To Increased Rates

RALEIGH (AP) — A proposed rate increase requested by the North Carolina fire insurance industry to cover losses caused by city disorders is expected to get the approval of State Insurance Commissioner Edwin S. Lanier.
The rate increases would cost North Carolina policy holders an estimated $1.5 million a year.
The South Carolina Insurance Commission ruled this week that similar proposed increases for Palmetto State policyholders were not warranted.
Lanier held a hearing Thursday on the proposal of the North Carolina Fire Insurance Rating Bureau and indicated he would have a decision ready within a week or 10 days.
The insurance commissioner noted that the rate increase would be on all property and not merely on that which is subject to the greatest peril from city disorders. He said it was "spreading the cost just as widely as we can."

official of the Crum and Forster group of insurance companies said. "To date we have not canceled one piece of business as a result of riot exposure in and of itself."
The rate increase requested included:
1. A hike of one cent per $100 of coverage for owners of urban or rural dwellings with extended coverage endorsement on fire insurance policies. This would amount to $1 for $10,000 worth of insurance.
2. An increase of $1 on homeowners insurance policies.
3. An increase of 4 per cent for five and extended coverage on commercial property in Mecklenburg and Guilford counties and 2 per cent on such property in the rest of the state.
The increases would apply to new and renewed policies.
Testimony at Thursday's hearing showed civil disorders caused $1.2 million in damage to insured property in North Carolina during the 11 days in April after the assassination of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.
This total included $400,000 in Durham, $250,000 in High Point, $200,000 each in Raleigh and Shelby, $100,000 in Wilmington, $40,000 in Charlotte, $15,000 in Reidsville, $5,000 each in Goldsboro and Wilson, $3,100 in Greensboro and $1,000 in Weldon.

Her Fiance Was Shot Down

Bronx Sniper Kills Three With Automatic Carbine

NEW YORK (AP) — Police today pressed a massive manhunt for a Bronx gunman who killed three persons and wounded a fourth with a hail of fire from an automatic carbine.
Bronx Asst. Dist. Atty. Burton Roberts said a 15-state alarm was issued for one Bobby Rogers, alias Bobby Pugh, 31, who was superintendent of the building in front of which the shootings occurred Thursday evening.
The rapid-fire shooting brought more than 200 policemen armed with rifles, revolvers, shotguns and tear-gas guns and wearing bullet-proof vests to the dingy orange tenement into which the gunman fled.
As thousands of spectators swarmed to watch, police searched the five-story building but failed to find the man. They concluded he had escaped through a basement connecting three buildings on the block.

The dead were identified as Manuel Angel Figueroa, 19, E. Rain Castro, 21, and Jose Rivera, 18. Roberts said preliminary evidence indicated the man being sought knew all three.
Police said Figueroa was dead on arrival at Lincoln Hospital and that Castro and Rivera died at the hospital.
Roberts described Rogers as a light-skinned Negro, about 5 feet 11, 160 pounds. He said the man had been honorably discharged from the Army in 1962 and took the superintendent's job on Dec. 1, 1967.
The shooting came just eight days after police killed a Central Park sniper, Angel Angeloff, who had shot to death a young woman and wounded three other persons.

been sawed off at both the stock and barrel police said.
The crowd began gathering as quickly as police. Youths climbed atop cars to get a better view and police roped off the block to keep spectators back.
As police marksmen made their way to neighboring rooftops, teams of police began a room-by-room search through the tenement and the two adjoining buildings.
In the street the crowd listened to transistor radios carrying accounts of the action as they watched it. Onlookers smiled and waved for television cameras.

Arrested 28 Over Telephone

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Mecklenburg County ABC law enforcement agents used the telephone Thursday to arrest 28 persons on charges of selling illegal whisky.
It was the second time they employed the procedure.
If an accused does not heed the telephone request to appear at police headquarters, the agents can arrest him whenever they can locate him.

Vacation Bonus Tops $4 Million

GREENSBORO (AP) — Burlington Industries employees are receiving summer vacation bonuses totaling more than $4.2 million this year.
Vacation pay is given to employees in July and August to coincide with manufacturing plant vacations, Charles A. McLendon, Burlington vice president for personnel, said Thursday. Summer payments are in addition to $3.2 million paid last December.
About 50,000 Burlington employees in 15 states will receive the payments. Length of service determines the individual amount.

Will Levy Penalty

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH, N. C. (AP) — The Bright Belt Warehouse Association will levy a penalty on flue-cured tobacco buying companies if the firms fail to replace tobacco sheets promptly during the marketing season.
Bright Belt managing director F. S. Royster said at Thursday's closing session of the association's annual meeting at Wrightsville Beach that "pre-sheeting was not our plan. We were forced into it. But it has been adopted; we will abide by it; and we will insist that others abide by it, too."
The burlap sheets, on which tobacco will be transported from the farm through the re-drying plant, will be used in flue-cured markets this year as agreed upon by the industry wide Flue-Cured Tobacco Marketing Committee.
The Bright Belt's regulation adopted Thursday says warehousemen shall receive from the buying companies 20 cents per sheet per day for any sheets not returned on the day following the sale.

Tornadic Winds Near New Bern

NEW BERN, N.C. (AP) — Winds of tornadic force struck an area near New Bern early today, overturning house trailers, damaging buildings and autos, uprooting trees and knocking power lines down.
The storm, described by residents of the area as a tornado struck about 3 a.m. during a severe electrical disturbance. It occurred in an area that suffered millions of dollars in damages from a tornado three years ago.
A trailer home belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Terry Mitchell on the Airport Road was demolished. Mitchell said he was awakened by a noise as the storm approached.
"I told my wife to hold on to the bed," he said. "The tornado took the place right out from under us."
Mitchell said he had purchased the trailer three months ago at a cost of $5,800. "Moving to this spot was the worst move I've ever made," Mitchell commented.
A house next to Mitchell's trailer, the rear roof was lifted off the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Slade. Their auto parked near the home also was damaged.
The roof and plate glass window of a supermarket across Highway 70 also were damaged.
In the Karenwood Trailer Park at James City, two trailers were lifted from their foundations. A utility building owned by Frank Lockett at Bridgeton, across the Neuse River from New Bern, also was damaged.
Power lines also were knocked down in the James City and Bridgeton areas, officials said.

Georgia Sales Date Set

MACON, Ga. (AP) — Flue-cured tobacco markets in Georgia will open July 31, Agriculture Commissioner Phil Campbell announced today.

Campbell set the date on recommendation of the Georgia Tobacco Advisory Board, which reported the crop would be in better condition for auctions on that date. The board had considered opening the markets on July 24.

Florida growers have recommended an opening date of July 24, but they are expected to go along with Georgia growers since 23 of the 28 markets in the Georgia-Florida belt are in Georgia.

Politics At A Glance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Here is summary of developments in the presidential-nomination campaigns:
Wallace: Youthful members of an Upward Bound antipovetry program booed and heckled George C. Wallace, American Independent Party candidate, Thursday in North Dartmouth, Mass. Meanwhile, he qualified in Minnesota to appear on the ballot election day.
Humphrey: Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey urged that the United States stand ready in the coming decade to reestablish contacts with Red China, though chances of improved relations "are not good."
McCarthy: Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy charged the administration with not doing enough to see that the nation's poor were properly fed. A Department of Agriculture spokesman said in reply the Democratic contender has never before shown any interest in the problem.
Republicans: Richard M. Nixon, member of a golf club with no Negro or Jewish members, said he opposes such policies "but I believe in working for a change from the inside." Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York campaigned in his own state Thursday, moving today to Baltimore and Miami to sell himself to GOP National Convention delegates.
OUTLOOK FOR N.C.
Temperatures through Wednesday will average near normal. Generally mild during period with rain over the weekend.

Saigon Awaits Suicide Squads

SAIGON (AP) — A terrorist shot and killed a U.S. soldier in downtown Saigon today amid reports that Viet Cong suicide commandos are expected to raid the capital at any time.
The assassination was the first against an American reported in Saigon since the Viet Cong's second offensive against the capital in May.
Extra guards were posted at the U.S. Embassy and other key installations, and police were put on 100 per cent alert. The raids, if they come, likely would open the third Viet Cong offensive of the year against Saigon, an attack that has been expected for weeks.
The terrorist's victim was shot three times less than a mile from the presidential palace and taken to an Army hospital. His assailant escaped.

U.S. sources said they had no confirmation of the South Vietnamese intelligence reports warning of commando raids. But American troops "are in a complete state of readiness to meet any enemy attacks" and have been for months, a spokesman said.
But Vietnamese police sources said guards were increased at the U.S. Embassy, where a Viet Cong suicide squad struck Jan. 30 at the beginning of the Tet offensive and held out for several hours in the embassy grounds. More government troops also were sent to bridges leading into the city and various checkpoints on Saigon's outskirts.

FCC To Hold Hearing On Local License Application

WASHINGTON, D.C. — In an unusual action, the Federal Communications Commission has announced it will hold a hearing on an application for a radio license for Robert Lee Brantley of Greenville.
Brantley's application was for a license to operate a citizen's band radio. Normally, such a license is obtained by simply making application and paying a $4 licensing fee.
However, the FCC said "information on the qualifications of the applicant to be a licensee" has come to the attention of the FCC. Commission members voted 6-0 to hold the hearing.
According to FCC spokesmen, one of the seven issues to be considered at the hearing is whether Brantley, in 1965, "participated in activities designed to threaten, harass, intimidate or cause bodily harm to others."

The FCC statement carried no elaboration.
Records in the Pitt County Clerk of Courts office show that a Robert Lee Brantley, on November 17, 1965, was charged with assault with a deadly weapon, stemming from a shooting incident north of Greenville. However, that charge was not pressed at the February 8, 1966 term of Pitt County Recorders Court when the prosecuting witness refused to testify.
A Robert Lee Brantley has also been identified as being connected with units of the Ku Klux Klan in the Pitt County area in past years.
The statement from the FCC said it also wants to determine whether the Greenville man ever operated a radio transmitter without a license.
No date was set for the hearing, which will be held in Washington.

Piedmont Triad Choice For Sports Complex

GREENSBORO (AP) — If a proposed sports complex for professional sports is to be built in North Carolina, the Piedmont Triad of Greensboro, Winston-Salem and High Point is said to be the "primary and best location."
Darley Gobar Associates of San Diego, Calif., studied all areas of the state and selected the Triad over such prime contenders as Raleigh-Durham and Charlotte. The announcement was made Thursday.

The $30,000 survey showed that within 50 miles from an assumed center in each metropolitan area the Triad is exposed to 165,000 more people than Charlotte.
Although the study concluded that the Triad was the preferable location, officials of the North Carolina Stadium Authority indicated ability to finance a professional sports complex still is a factor to be considered.
Joe G. Matthews of High Point, a member of the stadium authority, said if governmental units in the Triad area are unable to assist in adequate financing, the Charlotte governmental units will be approached.

Matthews estimated the sports complex would cost $20 million. Under consideration is a auto race track and adjoining 60,000-seat football stadium.
Thomas Ward of Greensboro, chairman of the stadium authority, said the survey showed: "The population basis in 25-mile ring around Charlotte and the Piedmont raid are about equal at 700,000.

"In a ring 50 miles from an assumed center in each metropolitan area, the Piedmont Triad is exposed to an additional population of over 700,000, while the comparable figure for Charlotte is 535,000.
"In the 50- to 100-mile ring, the two area populations are about equal."
The survey reported Raleigh-Durham was "excluded because its population basis is only about 400,000 and shows little likelihood of overtaking either Charlotte or the Piedmont Triad area in the foreseeable future," Ward said.

He added that the survey shows Charlotte is a suitable site, but it would better serve many residents of South Carolina than it would the areas of Raleigh, Durham, Burlington, Greensboro or Winston-Salem.
Ward said the survey team is of the opinion that the Triad "is on the verge of a very rapid population growth which would cause it to emerge as the population center of the Piedmont Crescent, extending roughly from Raleigh to Charlotte," he California firm also said that "within a 100-mile radius, the Triad and Charlotte are more feasible than Atlanta, Minneapolis-St. Paul and Houston" for sports complexes. All three have pro football and baseball teams.

Within three or four weeks the stadium authority plans to determine what type of stadium complex it will propose and call another meeting to show a model of it.

Seasonal Differences In Fashion Industry

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—A model says the hardest part of her job on Seventh Avenue is the aching feet.

A reporter says the hardest part is the folding chairs in the fashion showrooms.

These are two of the viewpoints from those on the scene behind the scenes in New York, the heart of the nation's fashion industry which generates what Fortune Magazine last year estimated at $50 billion of the consumer market.

Seasonal Differences

For the rest of the world, June and July are the start of summer vacations. But for these people, as seasons go, it's nearing the end of fall and winter, with spring already in the air.

By the time the kids are ready to go back to school, the manufacturers of ready-to-wear will be showing their winter resort collections to buyers.

By the time the first snow falls, they'll be introducing their spring ready-to-wear. But that is the six months advance planning that goes into an industry which is the largest in New York State, the second largest in consumer goods in the United States, ranking only behind food.

Reporters from press, radio and television have just concluded two weeks of seeing all that's new for fall and telling you the trends—like continuation of above knee hemlines and return of the waistline.

A showroom at normal ordering time for the store buyers may have no more than a dozen people in its comfortably air-cooled setting. But during the so-called "openings"—three solid weeks when buyers by the thousands cram Manhattan to get a first glance at the new season's styles—a manufacturer can pack as many as 150 people into that 30 by 50 or 60-foot space. Row on row, three and four deep, buyers with their bulky handbags and big appointment and ordering books fill the uncomfortable folding chairs, leaving models barely walking room.

Behind the scenes at Adele Simpson's, the showrooms are calm now. . . some buyers still dropping in. But the production lines are humming to produce and ship to the stores the 90,000 to 100,000 garments her firm manufactures each year.

Hardest Part

"The hardest part I guess is editing a collection," said Mrs. Simpson. "The fabric of course determines my ideas; and I work directly from the fabric. I don't sketch. It's like baking a cake; you're only as good as your ingredients."

"I may start a collection with 125 to 130 samples. By the time it is shown to buyers or press, it's down to about 85. By the time we actually cut we're down to about 70 outfits. . . the ones that were bought."

Sometimes, the models say, they wish the designers wouldn't worry so much about shoes to "go with." The girls may wear shoes during the course of several fashion shows from a dozen shoe manufacturers; no two lasts seem the same. And the shoe may fit the costume, but not the model.

As Gail Burgess puts it, "you push your feet into the ones too small. . . cram paper into the ones too big."

Miss Burgess, a tall brunette, and a model for five years, could do six or seven fashion shows each day during the peak buyer shows on Seventh Avenue. But for her $60 an hour (the going rate for the showrooms is $40 to $60), she likes to divide her time between such as the Bill Blass clothes collections and doing television and photographic modeling.

"You have to love what you're doing and it certainly helps if the people in the market have a sense of humor," said Gillis McGill. Oiss McGill, one of the famous on Seventh Avenue and a model with a striking resemblance to Jacqueline Kennedy, now owns her own agency, Mannequin Fashion Models. (Like most of the veterans of the showrooms, she is married. She has twin boys four years old, and also runs homes in New York and at Southampton.)

Not Funny

Now, she does only a few shows herself. "Not only your feet ached, but if you found an hour free and sat down you just couldn't get up. I make good money of course. . . but there's really nothing funny about this business," she says.

No, the ready-to-wear business is serious business because it is big business. But some manufacturers are brightening their shows with champagne and buffet lunch afterwards; saves a buyer's having to fight for space in restaurants.

And some, like Bill Blass at Maurice Rentner, have taken to inviting their celebrity customers or potential customers to openings. Front row at Blass's were, among others of the jet set, Cristina Ford, second wife of Henry Ford II, plus her stepdaughters, Anne Ford Uzielli and Charlotte Ford Niarchos.

But the coup of all was pulled by Rayette-Faberge. It turned its Stanford White-designed town house over to a party for visiting reporters and gave them a distinguished host—Cary Grant.

Ladies as Cary Grant, the movie star.

Scientific Doubletalk? She Makes It Clear

TORONTO (AP) — Dr. Helen Reid remembers the night 30 years ago when as an intern at Toronto's Hospital for Sick Children, she treated a boy stabbed in the eye with a pitchfork.

After dressing the eye, she nervously telephoned her medical chif, outlining in careful detail the boy's injury and how she patched it up.

She reflects upon that incident these days, especially on the clear use of language and selection of words she had to employ in explaining her method of treatment. She considered it an important milestone in her present position, unique in Canada and rare in the United States. Dr. Reid is director of the department of medical communications at Hospital for Sick Children.

The department was set up to improve the writing of scientific articles. Eventually, it will expand into writing scripts for educational video tapes and films, and probably give courses on special speaking for scientists who present papers at medical meetings.

Doctors at the Hospital for Sick Children submit scientific studies for publication in scientific journals. The scientists and the hospital want articles to be written so that they will not be rejected or heavily edited.

The doctors were so keen on the idea they put up half the money themselves. The Women's Auxiliary also made a grant from its Centennial Foundation Fund.

Says Dr. Reid: "I'm good for this job because I have been out of practice for a long time, so many of the articles are on subjects which, in detail, may be new to me."

"But if the author can't make the subject clear to me it should not be in a journal—I may not know all the biochemistry, but I should be able to follow the idea."

Dr. Reid has a 3-year-old daughter. Her husband, Dr. A.L. Chute, is dean of medicine at the University of Toronto medical school.

Bridal Luncheon For Miss Hadden

Miss Beth Hadden was honored Thursday at a bridal luncheon given by Mrs. Reid Perkins and Mrs. Ty Wagner at the home of Mrs. Wagner.

The hostesses presented Miss Hadden with a corsage of pink roses upon her arrival.

Mrs. W. J. Hadden Jr., mother of the bride, and Miss Jewel Jackson, brideelect, were also remembered with a corsage.

The tables carried out the color scheme of rose and green. Roses were arranged throughout the house. Each guest was remembered with a favor.

Thomas White Is BPW Club Speaker

Thomas White, of the Internal Revenue Department, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club last night.

Mrs. Edith Harrington, program chairman, introduced White, who spoke on Personal Development. He used as his theme "Hungering and Thirsting." He said that the only way that we can grow develop is through a search for happiness and contentment.

Miss Gladys Stokes, president, presided at the meeting. It was reported that two of the Greenville members, Mrs. Bert Tyson and Miss Stokes, will attend the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs in Minneapolis, July 21-25.

The club's annual picnic will be held Aug. 8 at Elm Street Park.

Truth Is Best Policy, Don't Doctor' Birth Certificate

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: When I married Lou I knocked five years off my age because he was a couple of years younger than I was. We have been married 28 years and have married children now, and Lou still doesn't know my real age.

My husband and I are planning our first trip abroad this summer, and in order to get passports I sent away for our birth certificates—mine to be sent to a post office box number which I got especially for this purpose. My husband frequently sees the mail before I do, and he would be flabbergasted if he opened the mail and saw the date on my birth certificate.

I suppose I am acting childish about this, but Lou is the kind of person who would rib me the rest of my life if he found out.

Is there some way I can doctor up my birth certificate, or the passport so my husband won't find out how old I am? I have heard that it can be done. What is your advice?

OLDER THAN HE

DEAR OLDER: Don't "doctor" up anything. Be nonchalant and maybe Lou won't even notice the year of birth on your passport. Or tell him in advance. If he ribs you, he ribs you. Women have been getting the rib ever since Eve.

DEAR ABBY: I have just discovered that my husband has a new girl friend. He doesn't know I know about this one. We had a terrible scene over the last one, and he promised if I forgave him it would never happen again. (If I had $100 for everytime he said this, I'd be rich.)

In the past I've always let him know that I knew about his extra-marital affairs, but this time I am not going to say one word about it. I am completely drained of energy and emotion and I don't want to "talk it over" with him; I am sick of his lies and promises. I just want to be left alone. I've lost all confidence and faith in him and any "love" I once had for him is dead. Naturally, I certainly don't want to sleep with him any more. He knows I've cooked off, but he doesn't know why. I offered him his freedom in the past. He doesn't want it. (He says he "loves" me. Ha!) He provides very well for the children and me, but I have had it. What would you do?

IN A QUANDARY

DEAR IN: I'd give him two choices. See a marriage counselor or see a lawyer.

DEAR ABBY: When I was young I had an illegitimate baby. I gave him up for adoption on the advice of those who cared for me. I later married a man who knows all about my past. We now have a 16-year-old daughter.

Should I tell my daughter about my illegitimate son as an example of what a foolish girl can do when she yields to temptation and doesn't heed the warning of her mother?

My daughter is a quiet girl who doesn't have a boy friend yet, but I am so worried about what might happen to her when she starts going out with boys.

Should I confess my sin to her or not?

SINNED

DEAR SINNED: "War n" your daughter without using your personal experience as the horrible example.

Can it be that you still feel guilty and have an unconscious desire to punish yourself for your "sin"? If I were you, Mother, I would skip the confession.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Completes Work For Doctorate

Gene D. Lanier, chairman of the department of Library Science at East Carolina University, this week completed requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy degree at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Lanier, who has been chairman of the ECU department since 1966, did his doctoral work in the areas of library science, higher education, secondary education and elementary education.

His dissertation, "The Transformation of School Libraries Into Instructional Materials Centers," traces and analyzes the transition school libraries have undergone into media centers across the United States. It involved a survey of the literature, contact with the 50 state departments of education and visits to centers already in operation.

Two Accidents Here Yesterday

An estimated $825 damage resulted from two traffic mishaps investigated yesterday by Greenville police.

Officers said heaviest damage resulted from a three-vehicle mishap on Dickinson Avenue, 75 feet east of the Washington Street intersection.

Police reported a car driven by Willie Earl Rodgers, 22-year-family, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Peel, and daughter in Elizabeth City.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Wynne Sr. have returned from Pamlico Beach where they spent several days vacationing.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney M. Styron of Portsmouth, Va., spent the weekend with Mrs. Nina O. Dixon and Donald.

old Negro of Route 1, Greenville was backing from a parking space when it struck a parked car owned by Gordon Forbes Whitehurst, Route 5, Greenville. The force of the impact knocked the Whitehurst auto into a second parked vehicle, owned by J. L. Stanfield of Route 2, Roxboro.

Damage was estimated by investigators at $50 to the Rodgers car, $350 to the Forbes vehicle and $50 to the Stanfield vehicle.

Rodgers was charged with having improper brakes.

No charges were made in a 7:22 p.m. mishap on Howell Street, 150 feet east of the Garland Street intersection.

Police said a truck operated by Herbert Spain, 26, of 1905B Kennedy Cir., collided with a utility pole.

Damage to the pole was set at $25 while damage to the truck was placed at $350.

'Miniboard' Is Now Hot Item

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — What goes faster than surfboard, turns sharper and is harder to paddle? A miniboard, of course.

Surfers call the seven-to-eight-foot surfboards a third-stage development in the sea sport which took its great leap forward in the 1950s with the foam-fiberglass replacements for the wood boards. The new ones are three to four feet shorter than the old boards.

"It's like—wow!" exclaimed one surfer.

Scholarships For 2 Local Grads

Two Greenville boys, Macon Dail and Kenneth Stillwell, have been awarded scholarships by St. Andrews Presbyterian College in Laurinburg.

Macon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Moye Dail of 223 Orton Drive, and Kenneth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stillwell, 406 S. Library St., will be juniors at Rose High School when the new school year begins. Both boys are members of the Rose High School Band.

Macon and Kenneth received the scholarships at St. Andrew's Music Camp. Macon received a $100 scholarship for the most outstanding contribution to the music camp, and Kenneth received two half-scholarships, worth $82.50 each; one for the best camper and one for the camper showing the most improvement. Both took the National Association of Rudimental Drummers (NARD) exams. Their tutor is James Stockner, a music major at East Carolina University.

 "Exactly. No foreigners could live up to De Gaulle's image of France so they decided to go to Spain and Italy instead."

"Italy was always stronger on souvenirs than it was on grandeur."

"But what De Gaulle didn't realize when he scared the tourists away," Gaston said, "was that the French were left without a scapegoat for all their troubles. Prices still went up, there were still traffic jams and you still couldn't get a table at a cafe. For the first time since the war, the French realized that it wasn't the tourists who were to blame for all their woes; it was themselves."

"What a terrible realization," I said.

"It was more than most French could take."

"What did they do?" I asked.

"They took to the barricades."

"You mean all the troubles of the past few months in France were caused because there were no tourists in France?"

"Naturally," Gaston said. "You don't think the French would fight each other if there were any foreigners around?"

Opening lead: Three of ♠
 Despite East's repeated attempts to communicate with his partner, West was clearly not tuned in on the same wave length and they suffered a disastrous setback on the deal.

North opened the bidding with one diamond and East overcalled with one heart. South contented himself with a simple forcing response of two clubs and North rebid two no trump.

East now showed his second suit by bidding three diamonds. East's call convinced South that North did not have the bulk of his values in the diamond suit and, in an effort to obtain more information, South showed a feature by cue bidding the ace of spades.

When North revealed his club support by returning to four clubs, the latter decided to dally no further and proceeded directly to six clubs. This bid was passed around to East who doubled. If his partner led a spade, he could ruff with his small trump and the ace of clubs would then score the setting trick.

The double of a slam bid is conventionally employed to secure an unusual lead. Inasmuch as East had bid both diamonds and hearts, he was hoping to tout his partner off the normal lead of one of his suits. By a process of elimination, West might, therefore, be induced to make the desired spade opening.

Unfortunately for East, the situation was complicated somewhat by the fact that North had also bid diamonds. Inasmuch as the slam double convention provides, as a first preference, the lead of dummy's first bid suit, West decided that East's three diamond call had been a strategic maneuver to secure a diamond lead. He, therefore, opened a diamond and the defense quickly succumbed. Declarer discarded a spade on the ace of diamonds, drew trump after driving out the ace and claimed his slam.

Approve Merger Of Bank In Laurinburg

WASHINGTON (AP) — Merger of the State Bank of Laurinburg, N. C., and the Wachovia Bank and Trust Co., North Carolina's largest bank, was approved by a 4-3 vote of the Federal Reserve Board Thursday.

The majority said the merger would have no significant adverse effect on competition, but would benefit the Laurinburg area.

In dissenting, Vice Chairman J. L. Robertson and board members Andrew Brimmer and Sherman Maisel asserted that the majority approved exactly the kind of merger federal law is designed to block.

They declared that Wachovia has averaged a merger a year for the past 13 years.

They said, "In some, we think it is quite clear that the continued elimination of sound, independent banks . . . through merger with the dominant banks in North Carolina is inimical to the preservation of healthy banking competition in the state."

They envisioned a banking structure in which a few giants sioner of banks told the Federal Reserve Board he doubted the state would approve a new Wa-

Eleven-Foot Boa Went On A Trip

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — An 11-foot-long boa constrictor that disappeared two weeks ago from the Cripps Institution of Oceanography turned up 25 miles away—at Grossmont High School.

A groundskeeper found the snake Thursday curled under a bush near the science building. Somebody must have removed it from a Scripps laboratory, police say.

Who keeps the roof on . . .
 (when everyone is raising it?)

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

With all the theological ferment these days there is more unrest in our churches than we have known in many years. Issues divide the congregations and sometimes the whole debate seems endless. It would be easier to stay home in bed on Sunday mornings.

But through it all, the houses of God stand, because regular churchgoers know that men are inconstant, that they are subject to numerous temptations and influences. They also know that God is omnipotent, is omniscient. His care is constant. His creative spirit continually sustains the earth, and His love is always sensitive to the plight of man.

It is not easy to be a Christian; it never was. Houses of God stand because there are those who are willing to be channels of God's care—who assume responsibility for church schools, missions, social justice, and—oh yes—that roof.

Orioles Win In Weaver's Debut

By GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE (AP) — Earl Weaver made two line-up changes for his major league managerial debut and announced he would have the Baltimore Orioles "scramble for runs" when necessary.

Weaver, who managed Oriole farm teams for 11 seasons, remembered he once wrote a scouting report which said Buford could play in the big leagues as a center fielder.

Damascus Chases Million $$ Mark

By ED SCHUYLER Jr. Associated Press Sports Writer

Six thoroughbreds and 1/4 miles stand between Damascus and a million-dollar bankroll. Mrs. Edith W. Bancroft's 1967 Horse-of-the-Year, can become the eighth thoroughbred to earn $1 million by winning the $100,000-added Amory L. Haskell Handicap at Monmouth Park.

While Damascus will be trying to become a millionaire, the big money race will take place on the West Coast, and a pair of 4-year-old fillies are given a good chance of capturing the first prize of $102,100.

A not too funny thing happened to St. Louis' Cardinals when they ran up against the National League's patsies. They were beaten. And, it took a late rescue effort by Lou Brock and Roger Maris to prevent the rampaging front-runners from being victimized twice by Houston's cellar-dwellers Thursday night.

Rocky Gets Gate, Being In The Wrong Place Really Hurts

By KEN RAPPOPORT
TEMPLE, Pa. (AP) — Will Rocky Colavito, one of baseball's great home run hitters, call it a career at age 35? Don't bother to ask.
 "I feel I can play ball every day," Colavito said Thursday after learning the Los Angeles Dodgers had given him his unconditional release.
 The Pock, a handsome, dark-haired outfielder who slammed most of his lifetime 369 home runs with the Cleveland Indians, was used primarily as a pinch hitter this year with the Dodgers.
 "I saw the handwriting on the wall," he said, "when I got to bat only three times in four weeks. I assumed the Dodgers would sell me or release me."
 "But I feel I can still play."
 Colavito, in his 13th major league season, had a record of 23 hits in 113 at-bats this year for the Dodgers. His three homers in 1968 put him into a tie with Ralph Kiner for 16th place on the all-time list of home run hitters.

 He last appeared in a Dodger uniform June 19 and was given permission to return to his home in this small southeastern Pennsylvania community when his wife got sick.
 Colavito, a fine fielder with an accurate arm, said he will miss Los Angeles, although Dodger Stadium is no hitter's paradise.
 "The weather's consistent," he said, "and the fans are real good fans. I enjoyed it, it's a good town."
 Colavito, one of only nine players in baseball history to hit four homers in a game, came up with Cleveland in 1955.
 He tied for the American League home run lead in 1959 with Harmon Killebrew, slugging .42. He led the American League in RBI in 1965 with 108.
 Before the Dodgers obtained him on waivers from the Chicago White Sox this year, Colavito played for four American League teams—twice with Cleveland, Chicago, Kansas City and Detroit.

KINGS' MOUNTAIN, N. C. (AP)—The Spartanburg team of the Western Carolinas Baseball League has been charged with a forfeit loss of a game for which it did not report at Gastonia last Sunday and fined $500.
 WCL President John Moss of Kings Mountain made the terse announcement Thursday night. He said the action was taken "by authority of the constitution and bylaws and league directors."
 Under league rules, the $500 is to be turned over to Gastonia as compensation for expenses incurred and loss of revenue. Gastonia officials had said several hundred fans turned out Sunday night for the game that was not played.
 An appeal may be lodged with higher authority, either Phil Piton, head of the nation's minor league, or Baseball Commissioner William Eckert.
 Spartanburg club officials had no immediate comment. Earlier in the week, they were reported as saying they would appeal to Eckert if necessary.
 Moss said the forfeit and fine were called for under WCL regulations in cases where "a team fails to present itself for a regularly scheduled game unless prevented by unavoidable circumstances, an act of Providence or other causes acceptable to the board of directors."

 The rhubarb sprouted when Gastonia officials decided to switch the game last Sunday from afternoon to night. Moss said they wired Spartanburg news of the change two days before the game and also informed him.
 Moss, in turn, sent a covering wire to Spartanburg the next day.
 Spartanburg, however, said it could not play Sunday night because of a conflict with church services and the added fact that the radio station broadcasting Spartanburg games could not carry one Sunday night.

 Spartanburg sought to solve the dilemma by having Salisbury play at Gastonia Sunday night, with Spartanburg taking Salisbury's place for an afternoon game at Greenville.
 But confusion mounted Sunday afternoon when Spartanburg and Salisbury both showed up at Greenville. Salisbury wasn't happy about the proposed change.
 As a result, Salisbury and Greenville were instructed to play by the umpires, who adhered to the pre-season schedule.
 Spartanburg went home and nobody showed at Gastonia, except the Gastonia team and its fans.

Baltimore Continues To Dominate Senators, 2-0

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
 Washington is in the midst of another aid program—and Baltimore isn't even a foreign country.
 Perhaps charity begins at home, but for the Washington Senators it bursts into full bloom in Baltimore where they helped make Earl Weaver's debut as manager of the Orioles a success Thursday night by losing a 2-0 squeaker.
 The Orioles and Senators have met 10 times this season with the same outcome—a Baltimore victory. Since the Birds are only seven games above .500 with a 44-37 record, it's not hard to see why they're in second place in the American League.
 Elsewhere, Minnesota edged league-leading Detroit 5-4; Oakland nipped Cleveland 4-3; California ended Boston's eight-game winning streak 3-2 and the New York Yankees beat the Chicago White Sox 5-4.
 In National League action, St. Louis topped Houston 8-7 after losing the opener of a double-header 5-4 in 10 innings, Atlanta blanked Los Angeles 1-0, San Francisco walloped Cincinnati 7-1, Philadelphia swept a twin bill from Pittsburgh 5-0 and 4-1 and the New York Mets beat the Chicago Cubs 1-0 in their opener but dropped the second game 2-0.

Baltimore's victory, behind Dave McNally's two-hit pitching moved the Orioles into second place 9½ games behind Detroit and three percentage points ahead of Cleveland.
 Hank Weaver, who replaced Hank Bauer Thursday as resident genius in the Baltimore dugout, looked like he had inherited Casey Stengel's ouija board.
 The 37-year-old skipper put Don Buford, an infielder, in center field and moved weak-hitting Mark Belanger from eighth to second in the batting order. The results were astonishing, to say the least.
 Buford led off the first inning with a walk, buzzed to third on Belanger's single and scored the Orioles' first run. He homered in the fifth for an insurance tally.
 Rod Carew was the hitting hero as Minnesota snapped a six-game losing streak. He tied the game in the seventh with a two-run single and won it in the ninth, singling home Rich Reese.
 Mickey Stanley and Dick McAuliffe homered for Detroit while Cesar Tovar and rookie shortstop Rick Renick connected for the Twins. Renick, just recalled from the Pacific Coast League, became the 36th player in major league history to hit a home run on his first at-bat.
 Reggie Jackson's 14th homer with one out in the eighth gave Oakland and Chuck Dobson their triumph over Cleveland. Dobson hurled hitless ball through five innings and the A's took a 3-0 lead in the fourth. But the Indians got one back in the sixth and tied it on Larry Brown's tworun homer in the seventh.
 Vic Davalillo's two-run single with the bases loaded and two out climaxed a seventh-inning rally as California ended Boston's winning streak. The Red Sox took a 2-0 lead on an unearned run in the first and Rico Petrocelli's fourth-inning homer.

Andy Kosco started one rally with a double and finished another with a run-scoring single as the Yankees edged the White Sox before a crowd of 40,575 in Milwaukee. It was the fifth of nine American League games the Sox will play in Milwaukee and the largest crowd thus far.
 Many turned out to see Mickey Mantle in his first Milwaukee appearance since the 1958 World Series but the Yankee slugger went hitless in five trips.

Wilt Signs To Play With LA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain is officially and happily in the fold and on the payroll of the Los Angeles Lakers today—and the payroll undoubtedly ballooned considerably.
 How much neither Chamberlain nor the Lakers' owner, Jack Kent Cooke will say.
 "Wilt Chamberlain has signed a five-year contract with the Lakers," Cooke announced at a news conference at his Forum Thursday, and facetiously, he added, "I understand he is willing to renew my contract with California Sports, Inc."

Negotiations which began last May, Cooke continued, were concluded last Monday night when the Philadelphia 76ers traded the 7-foot National Basketball Association All-Star center for three Laker players.
 Chamberlain admitted he had been contacted "by several people from the American Basketball Association," including the locally rival Los Angeles Stars. Chamberlain did not elaborate.
 He said he personally asked for the five-year contract "because I want to end my basketball career in Los Angeles."

College Stars Continue Drills

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — The College All-Stars opened full scale football workouts at Northwestern University today with Coach Norm Van Brocklin starting off with a get-tough policy.
 "We will follow the routine of two workouts a day until we feel we have reached a point of excellence where we can afford to cut down to one a day," Van Brocklin said. "If the players are not in shape, they will pay the price for it."
 "We will operate under the assumption that we will play a Green Bay Packer team complete with its veterans."
 The collegians are scheduled to meet the Packers, National Football League champions, in the 35th annual All-Star Game Aug. 2, in Soldier Field.
 Green Bay's veterans are barred from the club's training camp until agreement is reached between owners and the NFL Players Association. In the meantime, rookies and free agents are the only players in NFL camps.

McLendon, Thompson Lead In Milwaukee

By BILL HALLS
MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Mac McLendon, who won a PGA tournament the first time he tried, and Rocky Thompson, looking for his first victory after five years of pro golf, shared the lead going into today's second round of the $200,000 Greater Milwaukee Open.
 McLendon and Thompson topped a swarm of subpar rounds Thursday with a pair of record 66s over the 6,155-yard par-72 North Shore Country Club course.
 The three-year-old course, normally ravaged by stiff winds off nearby Lake Michigan, was more like a duffer's paradise as 40 players broke par and 29 played in regulation strokes.
 "The wind will make it a completely different course," said the 22-year-old McLendon, a rookie from Birmingham, Ala., who won the Magnolia Classic in his PGA debut. "When the wind goes up, the scores go up."
 Most everyone else agreed, including Dick Lotz, Fred Marti, and Red Horn, another PGA rookie from Overlook Park, Kan. All three were one stroke back of the leaders with 67s.
 "The wind will be the whole thing," added Dave Stockton, who shot a 67 to pick up where he left off two weeks ago when he won the Cleveland Open.
 McLendon took the early lead with his blistering morning round, which included seven birdies and one bogey. He had a four-under-par 32 on the rugged back nine.
 Thompson, a 28-year-old former University of Houston golfer from Wichita Falls, Tex., carded six birdies and 12 pars.
 Julius Boros turned in a 71; Tom Weiskopf, second leading money winner on the tour, had a 72, and Lee Trevino, the U.S. Open champion, had a 73.
 The 72-hole Milwaukee Open ends Sunday.

Painting May Take Him Out From Behind 8-Ball

By GLENN SUMPTER
Hickory Record Writer
Written for The AP

HICKORY, N. C. (AP) — Calvin Blanchard may come out from behind the eight ball once and for all as a result of a showing of his paintings at Morehead Planetarium in Chapel Hill. But then, he has always been a man who could make the eight ball pay off.

In fact, the self-taught artist is known to be the best pool shark in Hickory. For ten years, Calvin has worked in the Arcade Billiard Parlor.

Some six or seven years ago, perhaps in an effort to find an atmosphere more serene than the pool room Blanchard began drooping into the Hickory Museum of Art, around the corner from the pool room. As a regular visitor, he struck up a friendship with Mrs. Mickey Coe director of the museum. Upon her recommendation he began to read some books on art.

Then one day he bought some materials and decided to try his own hand at a new art.

"He showed me some of his first paintings," says Mrs. Coe "and frankly, I thought they were pretty terrible. I didn't see much hope, but I gave some minor criticism and encouragement. He kept on painting and his work kept getting better."

Old deserted houses and mountain landscapes are Blanchard's forte.

Soon an individual style became evident in the painting, a rather craggy, textured quality, very apropos to the rustic subject matter. Shortly, Blanchard's work began to draw attention.

"After four years of painting," Calvin recalls, "I finally sold enough pictures to begin to pay for the canvas and oils I was buying."

A one-man show at the Hickory Museum proved that his paintings were indeed marketable. It was good news to Blanchard, who supports five children and an ill wife. This was followed by showings at the Statesville Museum of Arts and Sciences, at the Charlotetown Mall in Charlotte and another show at the Hickory Museum.

By this time, he had sold over 100 paintings — and it was a good thing. His other business was falling off. "I just can't find anyone to shoot pool with any more," he comments. In a town the size of Hickory, a reputation with a cue stick can quickly cut down on the number of people who will play you.

A high school dropout at the age of "15 or 16," Blanchard worked around hosiery mills for a while, served five years in the U. S. Army and worked at other odd jobs before beginning a career in the pool room.

It was not easy to raise a large family on this income and his position was further complicated by the fact that his wife, Lois, has a nervous ailment that requires regular medical attention.

Yet this last adversity has led to what may be the biggest break of Blanchard's artistic career—the one-man show which opens in Chapel Hill in August.

Mrs. Blanchard goes to the University hospital in Chapel Hill for treatment virtually every month. A doctor became interested in the fact that her husband painted and asked to see some of his work. Impressed with what he saw, the doctor asked A. F. Jezano, director of the Planetarium Galleries to take a look at some of the paintings.

His paintings are also being shown at John Brady's Gallery in Charlotte. Brady, one of North Carolina's better-known artists is a strong Blanchard booster. "Perhaps the most amazing thing about Calvin," says Brady, "is that although he is entirely self-taught, he has mastered the fundamentals of painting. He hasn't been hurt at all by not going to art school because he has learned the basics on his own. Most self-taught painters are primitives, but Calvin's work is basically sophisticated.

Blanchard is now expanding his technique, trying new media and even some forms of expression. "I've been doing a lot of work in acrylics recently," he said "and I've even done a little abstract work, just creating things with color and form, sort of experimenting."

On the whole, he thinks his future as a painter will probably be as a landscape artist. "It's what I like, and what I do best."

The main thing I hope for is that before too long, I will be able to be a full-time painter. I guess that's what every artist wants."

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina egg markets steady Thursday. Supplies adequate, demand fair. Prices paid producers and handlers for consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered nearby outlets:

Grade A large whites: 43 to 44; medium whites: 38 to 39½; small, whites: 29 to 30.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina hog markets today were mostly steady to 25 cents lower with instances of 50 cents lower. Tops of 21.00-21.50 Rocky Mount; 20.75-21.75 Bethel; 20.50-21.25 Wilson; 20.25-21.25 Tarboro; 21.50 Rich Square, 21 Salisbury, Greensboro; 20.75 at Selma; 20.50 Siler City, Denton.

NEW YORK (AP)—Prices on the New York Stock Exchange slid off irregularly this afternoon after five straight sessions of advance.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .5

at 349.5, with industrials down .2, rails off 1.3, and utilities up .5.

Trading was active, but volume was nowhere near the amount which resulted in Thursday's 20.29 million shares, third-largest in history.

Profit taking on the previous rise, accompanied by normal preweekend caution, accounted for softness in many recent leaders, analysts said.

The decline was reluctant, however. Losses outnumbered gains only by some 50 issues.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .12 at 922.70.

The downtrend was so slight it would take very little to boost either the averages or the statistics into plus territory.

Hooker Chemical opened on a delayed block of 27,000 shares, rising 3½ to 77½.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange.

KIWANIS CLUB SPEAKER — Dudley Flood (center), principal of Bethel Union School, presented the program "Inside View of Negro Culture," at the Greenville Kiwanis Club meeting Wednesday night. ## Superior Applicants Not Attracted To State Jobs

RALEIGH (AP) — State Personnel Director Claude E. Caldwell says North Carolina government jobs do not attract "the superior Negro applicant," and the majority of Negroes cannot compete with whites for existing vacancies.

The personnel chief, in a talk to the North Carolina Good Neighbor Council Thursday, said Negroes have not been prepared to compete with whites for state jobs due to the state's traditional social and educational structure.

"The superior Negro does not typically look toward state government as a favorable place for employment," Caldwell said, and if he does seek a government job, he understandably looks to the federal government as the "friendly government."

Caldwell continued, is attracted to industry and business where he is "at a premium and can command a premium salary."

Caldwell was among several heads of state agencies who appeared before the council, which is exploring state hiring practices as they apply to Negroes.

All said their departments do not practice racial discrimination in hiring, but most also agreed they lack large numbers of Negro employees.

Spokesmen for North Carolina State University, the Department of Revenue and Department of Correction told the council their agencies actively recruit Negro applicants.

Services will be held at Mt. Calvary F.W.B. Church Sunday at 11 a.m. The Rev. W. L. Jones will preach and music will be rendered by the Ruth Hill Gospel Chorus.

The following services have been announced for Morning Star Holiness Church: Sunday, 12 noon, the Rev. Lucille Chance will preach; 3 p.m., Bishop of Washington, N. C., will conduct the services; dinner will follow the 3 p.m. services; the Rev. Jasper Perkins will preach Sunday at 7 p.m.

The Eveready Club of Mt. Calvary F.W.B. Church will meet Sunday at 4 p.m. at the home of Annie Bell King, Rt. 1, Winterville.

KILLED IN ACTION WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department announced Thursday that Army Sgt. William I. Turner was killed in action in the Vietnam War. His widow, Mrs. Mary F. Turner, lives on Rt. 1, Warsaw, N. C.

In 1967, the number of Americans living on farms fell 778,000 to 10,817,000.

Dr. C.E. Minges Is Found Dead

ROCKY MOUNT, N.C. (AP) — Dr. Clyde E. Minges, a former president of the American Dental Association, was found dead in his home here early today. He was 76.

A brother, L. L. Minges, found the body when he went to the dentist's residence. Dr. Minges, who lived alone, apparently died of a heart attack, his brother said.

FAMOUS FOR GOOD FOOD CAROLINA GRILL ANY ORDER FOR TAKE OUT

A practitioner here for 50 years before he retired about 10 years ago, Dr. Minges served as president of the North Carolina Dental Society in 1943 and 1944 and as president of the American Dental Association in 1948-49. He was for many years a member of the North Carolina Board of Dental Examiners and once was a dental consultant to the U.S. surgeon general.

A native of Catawba County, Dr. Minges was a graduate of the University of Louisville. He was a veteran of World War II. Funeral services will be held at Trinity Lutheran Church here at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

Surviving in addition to his brother here is another brother, M. O. Minges of Greenville.
