Again Slash Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House, ignoring a plea by President Johnson, has slashed another $370-million-plus from the foreign aid authorization bill, leaving $1.994 billion for the program.

It was the first time the authorization has fallen below $2 billion and despite the deep cuts and the possibility of more trimming when the money is actually appropriated, supporters were considered lucky that the bill survived at all.

There had been moves in the House to clamp a moratorium on all foreign aid.

The $1.994-billion bill for the fiscal year which started last July 1 was approved by 228-184 Thursday night and sent to the Senate.

The 44-vote margin was a far cry from the eight votes by which a $2.67 billion authorization was approved last year when Congress actually appropriated $2.2 billion.

Hippie District Violence

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A man was shot and a policeman injured as violence flared for the third straight night in the Haight-Ashbury hippie district.

Michael Moore, 20, suffered a gunshot wound in an arm. Police said it was not determined who fired the shot.

The Thursday night outbreak followed the pattern of previous disturbances. False alarms attracted fire trucks, which were pelted with rocks and bottles.

Patrolman Frank Rath was treated for a back injury received while grappling with young men.

Police were targets of fire-bombs and debris when they were called in to assist. None was injured.

School Open To Prisoners

RALEIGH (AP) — Sixteen young prisoners will enroll in the Wilson County Technical Institute this fall and begin learning skilled trades such as welding and auto mechanics.

It will mark the first time prisoners have been sent to school on a full-time, year-round basis in North Carolina.

The new program was announced Thursday at a meeting of the North Carolina Correction Commission.

Robert W. Hyde, supervisor of education for the Correction Department, said a 10-member screening committee will begin evaluating prospective students the week of Aug. 12 at prison units across the state.

Pilot Dies In F4C Crash

GOLDSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Capt. Preben R. Miller Jr., 25, of Miami Fla., was killed and another pilot injured Thursday when they ejected from an F4C Phantom jet that apparently experienced difficulty on takeoff at Seymour Johnson Air Force Base.

Base information officials said the plane had not attained sufficient altitude for the men to land safely in their parachutes. They landed on the concrete runway.

The injured pilot was identified as Capt. Thomas C. Skanchy, 28, aircraft commander. He was in the base hospital in good condition.

The cause of the accident was not determined. The plane wrecked and burned just off the runway.

Unopposes Riot Inquiry

RALEIGH (AP)—North Carolina Commissioner of Correction Lee Bounds won't request an outside investigation of the bloody riot at Central Prison last April 17, but he says "I would not oppose an investigation."

"We have nothing to hide," Bounds said Thursday at a meeting of the North Carolina

Correction Commission.

Bounds also said he is confident that "we did what we had to do under the circumstances" to quell the riot.

Six inmates died in the riot when prison guards fired on a crowd of prisoners. There have been suggestions that an outside investigation is justified, but none has been ordered.

Hunting Lost Submarine

WASHINGTON (AP) — Specially equipped Navy vessels hunting the lost nuclear submarine Scorpion are searching with underwater cameras a "highly suspect" area southwest of the Azores, a Navy source said today.

"We haven't found her," the source added.

He described the intensity search area 450 miles from the Azores as having the "highest probability" of being the last resting place of the submarine.

When it sent its last radio message May 21, it was about 250 miles south of the Azores, on its way to Norfolk, Va., from duty in the Mediterranean with a crew of 99.

Westinghouse Broadcasting science specialist William Hines said today Navy vessels have located the Scorpion in one of the deepest parts of the Atlantic. He attributed his information to a highly reliable source.

But the Pentagon said, "There is no truth to the report that the U.S. Scorpion has been found."

A spokesman, who said he had checked with Atlantic Fleet headquarters in Norfolk, added, "They have found no parts or pieces of the Scorpion."

The Navy source said the two vessels, the Mizar and the Bowditch, are using underwater sensors and cameras in what he called a painstaking examination of the ocean bottom.

The Atlantic floor drops to 12,000 to 18,000 feet in the search area, the source estimated. This is well below the "crush depth" of the Scorpion, reported able to operate as deep as 1,200 feet.

Meeting Other Satellite Leaders

Czechs To Defend Policy In Face-To-Face Parleys

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovakia's liberal Communist regime will hold talks with leaders of other European Communist parties Saturday, the official news agency CTK reported today. It did not identify the parties, but the meetings would presumably allow the Czechoslovaks to make a face-to-face defense of their reform program.

The announcement came as the Soviet Union was pledging help to Czechoslovak hard-liners, including the 35,000 man People's Militia, an armed force that has backed Antonin Novotny, the ousted Stalinist ruler. Liberals here have demanded the militia's dissolution.

It also coincided with an East German exhortation to Czechoslovak old-liners to "Boldly counterattack the revisionist and anti Socialist forces."

The brief CTK dispatch was the first word on such a meeting following rumors that party chief Alexander Dubcek would meet with the Soviet party's secretary-general, Leonid I. Brezhnev, in the near future.

President Tito of Yugoslavia also was expected for a visit here presumably following the Dubcek-Brezhnev meeting.

The announcement came shortly after the Czechoslovak party's Central Committee went into session to discuss a decision by the Dubcek leadership to defend to the end the nation's liberalization process. Prague has rejected the Soviet idea of holding a summit conference on Czechoslovakia, but voiced readiness to discuss its new course in bilateral talks.

The French, Italian, British, Belgian and Austrian Communists have joined the regimes of Romania and Yugoslavia in expressions of confidence in the new Czechoslovak course.

The militia, reportedly in contact with the Soviets, has been a target of Czechoslovak liberals who demand it be scrapped.

This new Soviet offensive against the reformers came as the 110 members of the Czechoslovak party's Central Committee were expected to give their overwhelming support to party chief Alexander Dubcek, who told the Czechoslovak people Thursday that liberalization will continue but "our road will not be easy."

The session of the 110-member committee also was attended by some 50 newly elected delegates to an extraordinary party congress scheduled for September to remove Stalinist hard-liners remaining in high party positions.

In Moscow, Pravda kept up the war of words against the Czechoslovak liberals, repeating the charge that "counter-revolu-

Fire Chief Will Retire Aug. 31; Smith Is Named

RAY SMITH

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer
Greenville Fire Chief J. L. Jones will retire effective August 31 and Assistant Chief Ray Smith has been named to succeed him, according to an announcement today by City Manager Harry Hagerty.

Jones has been with the department 42 years and has served as chief since September, 1962. Smith, who became a volunteer fireman in 1937, has been a full-paid firefighter since 1942. He has served as assistant chief since September, 1963.

Hagerty said Chief Jones will go on terminal leave August 1, and Smith will be acting chief in his absence.

The city manager said he will appoint a new assistant chief, captain and lieutenant in the department next week to fill vacancies resulting from today's promotion.

The official also announced plans for a long-term program to improve fire protection in the city.

According to Hagerty, Smith's promotion was made with the recommendation of officials of the League of Municipalities who interviewed prospective appointees.

In the fall, according to the city manager, the municipal league will begin a "detailed study and analysis of the whole operation of the fire department and all aspects of fire protection in the city."

Such a study, the city manager explained, "will lead to a progressive program for improvement of the department ... and ultimately to the reduction of fire insurance rates in the city."

Hagerty hastened to add that the coming study "in no way reflects any shortcoming or lack of accomplishment in the past."

"We need to have specific goals in mind" for an orderly expansion of the department to meet requirements set for a lower insurance rate, Hagerty said of the study.

Smith's starting salary as chief has been set at $700 per month. As assistant chief he is now being paid $575.

Jones, 67, was named chief when George W. Gardner retired in 1963. Gardner had been chief of the department for 33 years and had been a paid fireman since November 1923-44 years.

Smith, now 46, was made captain in 1947 and elevated to an assistant chief's position when Gardner retired.

The table of organization for the department calls for a chief and two assistant chiefs. Berry Sumrell, a Greenville fireman for 39 years, has served as an assistant chief since 1942.

Smith is a graduate of the North Carolina State Fire College and Pump School, has been trained in arson investigation, and has attended fire alarm system maintenance schools.

He lives with his wife, O'Neal at 1708 East Fourth St.

Jones is married to the former Alice Foley and they live at 616 Oak St.

James Ray In Tennessee Jail Cell

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray, handcuffed and wearing what appeared to be a bullet-proof vest, was whisked into the Shelby County jail before dawn today to await trial on a charge of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Ray was placed in his cell at the jail at 4:34 a.m. CDT, 46 minutes after he arrived at the nearby Memphis Naval Air Station aboard a U.S. Air Force Boeing jet transport from London. He had left London about midnight-6 p.m. CDT—so that the entire trip took about 10 1/2 hours.

From the Navy base, a blue-and-white prison van, surrounded by a half-dozen police cars and an equal number of motorcycles, roared into the parking lot behind the jail building at 4:29 a.m. CDT.

No newsman was allowed to see Ray, but Sheriff William Morris distributed photographs of the prisoner showing him dressed in what the sheriff told a news conference was "protective gear." He appeared to be dressed in a bullet-proof vest and he was handcuffed to a heavy leather belt.

Politics At A Glance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Here is a summary of developments in the presidential nomination campaigns:

Humphrey: Vice President Humphrey was quoted by the New York Times today as saying he will get together with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., for a talk in the next few days. Humphrey said he was not convinced by reports that Kennedy wants no part of running for vice president.

Republicans: Richard M. Nixon, endorsed by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, says the backing may turn some undecided GOP convention delegates into Nixon men. Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York wooed delegates in Ohio Thursday, planned more of the same today in New Jersey. Gov. Ronald Reagan of California will be the star attraction at a big GOP dinner in Amarillo tonight as he opens a two-week Southern tour.

Daniels' Collection Forms Nucleus

JOURNALISM LIBRARY... Dr. Jenkins, Henry Belk and Jonathan Daniels look over the Daniels' collection of books which will begin the ECU Henry Belk Journalism Library. (Photoby Ken Cooke)

Belk Journalism Library Now Launched At ECU

East Carolina University announced today the establishment of the Henry Belk Journalism Library with the personal collection of Jonathan Daniels as the beginning nucleus.

The new library, according to ECU President Leo W. Jenkins, becomes an important cornerstone of the journalism program East Carolina is seeking to develop.

Henry Belk, senior member of the ECU Board of Trustees, is editor of the Goldsboro News-Argus. He is one of the leading newspaper figures of North Carolina and a consistent champion of progress for Eastern North Carolina and the entire state.

The first contributor to the library, Daniels, is editor of the Raleigh News and Observer and is among America's foremost author-journalists.

The Daniels collection includes many valuable books on American journalism, including some now out of print. Some of the volumes bear the autograph of Daniels' father, the late Josephus Daniels who edited and published the News & Observer for over a half-century.

President Jenkins said in announcing the establishment of the library: "We are confident that this is the beginning of one of America's finest journalism collections. It is fitting that the first contribution comes from a fine journalist and that the library bears the name of a beloved and distinguished editor."

Dr. Jenkins added that another leading journalist of the state and nation, News and Observer executive editor Sam Ragan, will serve as chairman of the Belk Library committee and that under Ragan's leadership further contributions and development of the journalism collection will be sought.

As for development of the undergraduate journalism program, Dr. Jenkins said ECU already has professional journalists on the staff and is working toward development of a journalism major within the Department of English. Eventually a separate department will be established.

Eastern Warehousemen Vote Stay In Bright Belt Ass'n

Members of the Eastern Carolina Warehouse Association yesterday voted to continue membership within the Bright Belt Warehouse Association and elected association President Lawrence Wallace to continue as Eastern Belt representative on the 36-member Marketing Committee.

The motion was that "the Eastern Carolina Warehouse Association desires to continue full active membership in the Bright Belt Warehouse Association, and that this motion confers authority on the president, vice-president, assistant vice-president and board of directors to appoint a committee to confer with officials of the Bright Belt Warehouse Association to make every effort to resolve all differences."

The question of whether such an appointed committee would have authority to take action, or deal only in efforts to resolve differences, arose. President Wallace replied that matters requiring action would first necessitate the committee reporting back to the full board of the Eastern Carolina Warehouse Association prior to taking action.

At one point in Thursday's meeting, Wallace reminded the members that many important developments in the tobacco situation could be expected in the near future. "There are a total of 51 bills pending before the national Congress in reference to legislation on tobacco, so we need good organization to help the tobacco industry," he remarked.

After adjournment of the meeting, President Wallace reiterated that "Eastern Carolina Warehouse Association hopes strongly to remain in full active membership in the Bright Belt Warehouse Association—that is our desire."

Wallace added, in reference to opening dates "Georgia made a realistic decision in selecting a July 31 opening date for the markets." He feels "tobacco crops in this area will be ready for market by the August 20 tentative date, and since prospects for a bumper harvest are good this year, Eastern North Carolina should be in a good position this fall."

B. B. Sugg Sr., reminiscing on the old days of tobacco growing and tobacco warehousemen, drew a round of applause for his impromptu speech at the conclusion of the official meeting.

Formal Talks Starting Today

HONOLULU (AP) — President Johnson and South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu formal talks apparently will embrace possible direct Saigon-Viet Cong negotiations and a total bombing halt in the North.

In advance of today's first formal meeting at the hilltop headquarters of the U.S. Pacific Command, Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford said he avoided those two topics during his Saigon visit earlier in the week "in order to leave that up to Thieu and President Johnson."

Clifford talked to newsmen Thursday at Hickam Field as he waited with Johnson to greet Thieu's chartered airliner.

Johnson, in welcoming the South Vietnamese leader, touched on the peace search under way in Paris and offered these words of reassurance to his visitor:

"Mr. President, our pledge to help your people defeat aggression stands firm against all obstacles and against any deception."

Thieu, dwarfed by the U.S. chief executive, responded by saying he looked forward to discussions of "accomplishments as well as problems that lie before us." He said he hoped for "steps toward peace and freedom for Vietnam and Southeast Asia."

Only a few score uniformed military personnel and open-dents, plus a small costumed delegation from Honolulu's Vietnamese colony, were allowed to witness the arrival ceremony. Authorities obviously had taken pains to avoid any antiwar demonstration.

Draws A Line

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas testified today "I will not be an instrument by which the Constitution's separation of powers is called in question."

He made the statement, referring to the division of powers between the executive and judicial branches, as he refused to answer a question by Sen. Strom Thurmond about the court's one-man, one-vote rulings.

"I regret we are back where we were yesterday," Fortas said, referring to his stand that his constitutional responsibility prevented him from commenting on decisions of the court.

Propose Merging Telephone Firms

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Merger of Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Co. and United Utilities has been recommended to stockholders of both companies for approval, it was announced Thursday.

Directors of both firms have approved the agreement which would exchange each outstanding share of Carolina's common stock for one share of a second series of preferred stock of United. That one share could be converted into one and one-quarter shares of United common.

Carolina Telephone has its headquarters in Tarboro, N.C.

Area Debutantes For 1968 Deb Frances Rowlette Avid Lover Of Horses

"I stood speechless. I was so excited. The morning after I returned home from school, I received my invitation. For five minutes, I couldn't say anything. This was one of the most exciting things that ever happened to me."

This was the reaction of Miss Frances Rives Rowlette when she received her invitation to be a debutante.

"I am looking forward to the ball and meeting other girls. Just the thrill of the ball itself will be so exciting."

An avid horsewoman, Miss Rowlette, for the past 10 years, has used almost all of her spare time horseback riding and attending horse shows.

The 19-year-old brunette is enrolled in an all-girls' school, Sullins College in Bristol, Va.

"I liked the school and all I had heard about it. I knew a lot of girls that had attended Sullins. This fact and the influence of my advisor led me to choose Sullins," she commented.

"At a small all-girls' school, you can get individual attention and also have close contact with the girls and the faculty. I think you can develop individual character and gain a wider overall education in an all-girls' school."

A graduate of Bethel High School, the deb is considering majoring in English but does not have any definite plans yet. She lists Salem College, the University of North Carolina and the University of Georgia as the range of schools she will choose from when she graduates from Sullins.

Miss Rowlette has attended the first session of summer school at ECU and is now attending the second. She says she will spend all her free time this summer attending horse shows, going to the beach and visiting friends at school.

Next summer, Miss Rowlette would like to go to Europe.

"I want to see how the other half of the world lives. I love to go and I think the travel would be lots of fun and also educational."

Miss Rowlette's chief marshal is her step-father, H. D. Laughinghouse, Jr. Her assisting marshals are Charles P. Gaskins, Jr. and Robert C. Young, Jr.

She is the daughter of Mrs. H. D. Laughinghouse, Jr. of Greenville and the late Mr. C. B. Rowlette, Jr.

Rowe-Wright Vows Protect Her From 'Big Spender'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is married to a man who has her completely buffaloed. He doesn't let her see any of the bank statements. They are all sent to his office. She has complete faith in him and believes everything he tells her.

He spends money extravagantly but he keeps her spending to a minimum. He handles all the finances while she is kept entirely in the dark.

Since there are no children how can I fix my will so that I can leave everything to my daughter, and her husband cannot get his hands on any of it? If this cannot be done, I shall leave everything to charity. I must make some decisions soon as I am getting along in years.

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: If you leave "everything" to your daughter, "Everything" could end up in her husband's hands. Explore with your lawyer a trust of some kind, from which your daughter alone can draw the proceeds. That way she would be provided for in the event that "Big Spender" moves on or passes out.

DEAR ABBEY: I have been dating a young man steadily for 4 months. I am 23 and he is 27. During this time he told me he loved me and wanted to marry me. I told him I "thought" I loved him, but I wasn't sure I wanted to marry him.

Last week-end, after much thought, I decided I did not love him enough to marry him, and therefore we should quit dating.

He was very hurt and asked me to continue dating him in order to give him a chance to "fall out of love" with me. I have positively made up my mind not to see him anymore as I know how these dates will end up, and I want to discontinue our relationship.

He is persistent. I don't want to hurt him further. How should I handle it?

KATHY

DEAR KATHY: Be even more persistent than he. Tell the young man that it's more painful to cut off a puppy dog's tail an inch at a time. Better to do it with one clean whack. And don't accept any more dates with him.

DEAR ABBY: I wouldn't miss your column for the world. It's better than the comic strips. But Abby, I am getting a little weary of those idiots who write to you and ask, "How can I tell my friends and neighbors not to just drop in to visit me at odd hours when I want to nap, or do something around the house, or just be alone?"

I will tell you what I do. I hang a sign outside my door which reads: "I am napping. Please do not ring or knock unless it's an emergency. Come back at 4 p.m." Then I go about my business, reading, napping, painting, or doing whatever I want to do in privacy.

PEOPLE'S BIBLE CHURCH

MAJOR EDGAR C. BUNDY

Major Bundy entered the Armed Services in 1941 and rose in ranks from Private to Major. As an Air Force Intelligence Officer he served in every major theater of war and received Nationalist China's highest aviation decoration from Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek, the Bronze Star Medal from Major General Claire Chennault of the 14th Air Force, and five battle stars for major engagements.

In 1949 Major Bundy was invited to Washington to testify before a full committee concerning the Far Eastern Situation. His testimony lasted for two hours before both Houses of the Congress, representatives of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the State Department and all the major news services. The Major predicted under oath that South Korea would be attacked by the North Korean Communist forces which were being trained and equipped by the Soviets. One year and two days later it happened.

Edward Harrison said of Major Bundy, "Captain Bundy gave one of the most able presentations ever heard before the Rochester Ad Club and members were left with a feeling of stark terror after hearing his disclosure of Russian intrigue. Some stayed around for an hour after the speech was over."

Major Bundy is being invited to Greenville by the People's Bible Church and sponsored by the Church League of America.

MAJOR BUNDY WAS INTERVIEWED ON "CAROLINA TODAY" THIS MORNING AT 8 AM WNCN-TV.

All patriotic Americans of every denomination will be interested in hearing his message on "The Present Danger of Communism and Religious Modernism," to be delivered at the church Saturday night.

MT. PLEASANT CHURCH—1870

Church To Mark Its 100 Years

The Mount Pleasant Christian Church will observe its 100th anniversary with special services here Sunday.

The Rev. Ray A. Giles, former pastor of the church, will be guest speaker for the morning worship services. A spread noon-time meal has been scheduled for the day.

The Rev. R. L. Topping Sr. and the Rev. Bill Clifton, both former pastors of the church, will speak in a special afternoon service.

Mt. Pleasant Christian Church was organized July 18, 1868 at the Brown's School House (now Sallee Branch School).

Nearly two years later, on June 4, 1870, the church moved to a new building of worship at the present location. At this time, the name "Mt. Pleasant" was chosen as the name of the church.

The original structure was enlarged and remodeled in 1949 and is still in use today as an educational building.

In April of 1964, a new construction and the present building were dedicated. The new building has a seating capacity of approximately 300.

Elders of the church are O. J. Stancill, G. W. Stell and Nathan Bullock. Deacons include S. E. Briley, Clifton Bullock, Randolph Fleming, James Harrell, W. A. Ross Jr., J. C. Taylor, Doug Parker, Bobby Bullock and Howard Stocks.

Present pastor of the church is the Rev. David H. Thomas.

Named Judge In Awards Event

Miss Deannie Boone Haskett, J. H. Rose High English teacher has been appointed a regional judge for the National Council of Teachers of English Achievements Awards Program for 1968.

She will, along with other high school and college teachers, evaluate the writing skills and literary awareness of over 8,600 selected high school students.

While juniors in high school, students are nominated for the program by their English teachers. They submit writing samples and take tests on English composition and usage. Finalists will be announced in November. These winners and runners-up will be recommended for scholarships and aid to colleges and universities in the United States.

The awards program is part of the total program of NCTE to improve instruction of the English language on all levels of instruction in the nation's schools.

The organization is a professional group whose membership and subscribers now include more than 135,000 instructors from primary grades through graduate levels.

More Objective Now Than Later

It seems obvious that the best interest of the nation as well as members of Congress would be served by Congress wrapping up its business and adjourning prior to the national political conventions next month.

If one is to assume that most members of Congress want the pre-convention adjournment, one must likewise assume that members of Congress are doing everything reasonable and possible to wind up essential business prior to the conventions. We must admit, however, that there are days when some members of Congress appear more interested in drawing out the session with non-essential activities than with pressing every effort toward gaining adjournment in the next few weeks.

There is every reason to believe that a post-convention session of Congress would be heavily influenced by political considerations. The national

A 'Must' Book For Fishermen

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau
RALEIGH — The state has just published a comprehensive, 300-page catalog of inland fishing waters in North Carolina which certainly will become a well-thumbed, much read collector's item in a few years to come.

The cataloger, Frederic F. Fish, may become as famous in this state as the legendary Isaac Walton.

Walton intrigued and inspired fishermen, but was not nearly so specific about where to go fishing and how to catch the finny creatures. Fish has produced something truly unique, with a great deal of help and backing by the Wildlife Resources Commission and other agencies and individuals.

The publication represents the final chapter in an inventory of streams and lakes 12 feet, in Transylvania County affords excellent fishing for rainbow and brook trout. Wading is recommended.

Down in Jones County, along the 14-mile length of the Trent River, accessible by state roads and bridges, the average width of the stream is 10 feet and there is both stream and swamp fishing. Fishing is excellent for redfin pickerel, sunfishes and occasional largemouth bass, either by bank fishing or wading. But the catalog cautions that there are deep holes in the stream bed and many poisonous snakes.

Computerized Data
The catalogue information covers all of the 25 watersheds of North Carolina. Each item is preceded by a series of numbers and letters indicating the information has been put in a computer file. Hopefully, this will enable biologists and scientists to keep the file up to date with changes as necessary according to conditions. Examples might be new data on the basis of mass fish kills in the Cape Fear and Davidson Rivers.

Information presently published on the Northeast Cape Fear, from its Rock Fish Creek tributary, indicates good fishing for redear sunfish, chain pickerel and largemouth bass. The recent kill in this stretch of tributary river will require change in the data.

Changes Indicated
The catalog was prepared with the intention that changes would be necessary. Basic data came from many sources but most was updated by field work and study as recently as 1964.

Catch data included for certain waters came from a statewide creel census conducted between April, 1964 and March, 1965, and the catch rate for given waters in based on and expressed in terms of the average number of fish caught per hour of fishing effort. It is explained that this is a variable, and that there is no really satisfactory answer. The largemouth bass fisherman does not expect to catch very many fish in the course of a day. The crappie fisherman generally lives up and goes home if he does not catch two or three fish per hour.

WILLIAM A. SHIRES

begun on a rather modest basis by the Wildlife Resources Commission 10 years ago.

In the form just published, the catalog is far broader and more detailed. It provides an inventory, a dozen or more per page, of every known freshwater stream and every known lake of 25 surface acres or more in the state open to public fishing.

Much Information
The catalog itself isn't complicated. Each item furnished information on location, accessibility, dimensions of the stream, how to get there, how to fish, what to fish for, and what the fisherman might expect to catch.

And there literally are thousands of items and descriptions. Island Creek, a tributary of the Chowan River, may be reached by boat from a landing at the end of a state road in Hertford County, and supports good fishing for catfish, largemouth bass and pumpkinseed. Gladly Fork, four miles long, average width of election would be at best just a few weeks away and the presidential campaign would be in full swing. In addition to that most members of the House and approximately one-third of the Senate would themselves be seeking re-election and therefore, interested in voter reaction to every action of Congress in the short period before the election.

It is our feeling that members of Congress will be able to take a much more objective view of legislative matters in the next few weeks than they will be able to do in the period between the national political conventions and the national election. Political considerations, while they are important even now, will be much more over-riding so far as members of Congress are concerned the closer it gets to election day.

Although it now seems an almost impossible task, congressional leaders should reassess the business now before the House and Senate and make a renewed, determined effort to adjourn prior to the national political convention.

An Unrealistic Choice For Opening Markets

The August 20 opening date for the Eastern Belt chosen by the Eastern Carolina Warehouse Association probably was determined more by wishful thinking than by a realistic appraisal of the situation which faces tobacco farmers, warehousemen and purchasing companies this season.

Obviously warehousemen and farmers in the Eastern Belt would be delighted with the August 20 opening date. They recognize the need for markets of the belt to open by that date. But they must also recognize—privately if not publicly—that the buying companies are not in position to put buyers on four major belts at the same time, nor do they have facilities for handling anything like a normal flow of tobacco from all of those belts at the same time.

The various belts may choose whatever opening dates they like, but the actual market openings will be largely determined this year, as in other years, by when purchasing companies have buyers and other facilities available for the various belts.

If the Georgia-Florida markets do not open until July 31 as it now appears they will, it is hardly likely that purchasing companies will be ready to take tobacco from the huge Eastern Belt by the August 20 date chosen by warehousemen of this area.

Notwithstanding the need for an earlier opening on the Eastern Belt, warehousemen and farmers of this area are kidding no one but themselves by choosing an unrealistic opening date for these markets.

No Answer Yet To Hijackers

By VERN HAUGLAND
WASHINGTON (AP) — Devices to photograph passengers boarding a plane, keep them under secret inflight surveillance or to detect large pieces of metal like a pistol are being considered as ways to prevent airline hijacking.

But both government and private agencies admit little is being done or can be done immediately to prevent the crimes, which carry a maximum penalty of death.

"We are studying numerous methods to be able possibly to detect firearms and to prevent and deter hijacking. But none of these methods has shown itself presently acceptable," said Richard Swift, assistant director of the Federal Aviation Administration's flight standards service.

Swift said one area of research involves a device which would detect any indication of the individual for closer inspection.

Swift said the FAA has trained some employees to travel anonymously on various flights, watching for potentially dangerous passengers. Each such employee carries a revolver, handcuffs, blackjacks and a device for spraying tear gas.

The FAA also is considering use of viewers inside the cockpit, giving the flight crew surveillance over the passenger cabin, as well as means of increasing the cockpit's security.

By law, the doors to cockpits are kept locked except on take-off and landing. As the result of an agreement reached in 1965, most airlines also now have a one-way mirror in the cockpit door, enabling the flight crew to peer through without being seen.

Door jams also have been installed, to prevent the doors from being kicked in. But the airlines have resisted a proposal that cockpit doors be armored. Pilots contend that the moment a passenger produces a gun and threatens to use it, he has the plane in hostage whether the cockpit door is locked or open, armored or not.

William Becker of the Air Transport Association said the airlines will have meetings next month to "really take a close look" at one particular device which may be produced commercially.

The device would be installed at gates to film board-

How To Lose A Friend

PARIS — My mother-in-law has been visiting Paris, making an on-the-spot investigation of the dust under our French carpets.

Inadvertently, my mother-in-law made me lose a life-long friend, Alain Bernheim, and I have only myself to blame.

This is what happened: Anatole Litvak, the director, was about to make a film in Paris with Ingrid Bergman, Yves Montand and Tony Perkins, and to launch his film he held a press cocktail party at the Hotel George V.

My mother-in-law is a big fan of Miss Bergman's, and so I took her to the party. Miss Bergman was very gracious, and my mother-in-law was thrilled. She also met Sam Taylor, who wrote the script, and he invited us both to dinner at the Plaza Athenee after the press party. As luck would have it, his date was Miss Bergman.

Well, you can imagine how thrilled my mother-in-law was, not only to meet Miss Bergman but to have dinner with her.

To make matters even better, James Stewart, who was staying at the Plaza, stopped by to say hello to Miss Bergman, and so my mother-in-law met him, too. Speaking celebritywise, it was a memorable evening in my mother-in-law's life, and I went to bed happy in the knowledge that Warren, Pa., would soon have a firsthand report on Ingrid Bergman, James Stewart, Tony Perkins and Yves Montand.

But, unfortunately, the next day my mother-in-law had a luncheon date with Mr. Bernheim's mother-in-law, Mrs. Lillian Kessler, of Los Angeles. Somehow, I'll never know how, my mother-in-law mentioned to Mr. Bernheim's mother-in-law where she had been on the previous evening and also whom she had met.

As I understand it, my mother-in-law laid it on pretty thick, and no matter how Mrs. Kessler kept trying to change the subject, my mother-in-law kept coming back to "Ingrid," "Jimmy," "Tony" and "Yves."

That evening Mrs. Kessler confronted her son-in-law, who used to be my best friend, at the dinner table and said: "Marie McGarry's son-in-law took her to dinner with Ingrid Bergman."

Mr. Bernheim flushed.

"He also introduced her to James Stewart, Tony Perkins, Yves Montand and some Taylor, probably Elizabeth. It's funny that you don't introduce me to anybody except some of your wild French friends."

Mr. Bernheim protested, "I introduced you to Paulette Goddard in Ascona."

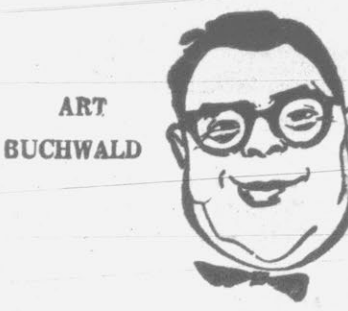

Mrs. Kessler said, "She's not Ingrid Bergman."

Mr. Bernheim was starting to feel pretty bad, but Mrs. Kessler wouldn't let up on him.

She said icily, "Do you know Jimmy?"

"Jimmy who?" Mr. Bernheim asked.

"I thought so," said Mrs. Kessler. "You start and stop."

Public Forum Opinions In Brief

To The Editor
As I talk with people around town, I find that I am one of many who are sorry to see Mr. Joseph Smith Jr. leave the Junior High School. Two of our children have attended his school and we have been more than pleased with their teachers. We were surprised at the good morale which existed among students and teachers in such an old overcrowded building.

Mrs. Carroll in her recent letter, mentioned Mr. Smith's work with student teachers. The most exciting part of our son's seven years in school was that portion of the seventh grade taught by Mr. Frank Freudig and Mr. Gordon Swain, two outstanding young men from East Carolina University. Our son once said that when he grew up he wanted to be a student teacher. For all this, Mr. Smith deserves credit and praise. He accomplished it with kindness and gentleness.

I would also like to thank Mr. Smith for all the time he spent helping me last year with the PTA.

On Sunday afternoon, July 21, from 3 to 6 PM at the Woman's Club building, the PTA and the Greenville Woman's club are honoring Mr. Smith with an open house. We cordially extend an invitation to the school board, to parents and students and to anyone who would like to meet this fine man.

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON — A Democratic convention platform battle over the war in Vietnam, pitting President Johnson against Vice President Hubert Humphrey, now appears highly probable, with some of Humphrey's lieutenants actually hoping that it will take place — and in full public view.

What has suddenly opened up the likelihood of a public battle is the fact, unpublished until now, that Mr. Johnson has bluntly informed his hand-picked platform committee chairman, Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, that the President himself intends to be final arbiter of platform language.

That word, chilling to Humphrey's camp, came to Boggs last week. It was triggered by a splash of newspaper publicity over Humphrey's proposal that Boggs hold a nationwide series of platform hearings — an attempt by Humphrey to head off rising protests by peace groups backing Sen. Eugene McCarthy that the Democratic convention is closed, the voice of the people shut out.

Beyond that, Humphrey and the President have diametrically opposed interests in what the platform ought to say about the Vietnam war. The President, retiring from politics, naturally wants the platform explicitly to validate every action he has taken on the war. Not so Humphrey.

Humphrey's object is twofold: to gloss over or to avoid altogether the record of the past five years, which has led to the savage split inside the Democratic party; and, just as important, to use the Vietnam plank as a departure point for a Humphrey-made, Humphrey-led policy in Asia which promises an early, negotiated end of the war.

Platform chairman Boggs, an all-out war hawk, was never Humphrey's candidate for that post (though Boggs weeks ago endorsed Humphrey for President). The Humphrey men really wanted Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine, another Humphrey booster who has leaned slightly more to the dove than the hawk side. But the President picked Boggs, and that ended all argument.

That put Boggs squarely in this crossfire: some of the shrewdest politicians backing Humphrey are now convinced that no compromise language can be devised that will satisfy both the President's yearning to justify his war policy and Humphrey's yearning to make a break with the past.

At a closed-door meeting of his assistant Democratic House whips last week, Boggs acknowledged that he is on a hot seat. He specifically asked one of his closest friends in the House to have himself put on the platform committee in order to help Boggs. The friend, not wishing to join Boggs in the crossfire, said no.

Key Humphrey advisors are quietly arguing that an open break over Vietnam is precisely what Humphrey needs. Their argument: ridiculed in the cartoons and by McCarthy's legions as LBJ's Charlie McCarthy, Humphrey can establish himself as independent of Mr. Johnson only by splitting publicly over Vietnam. Their assumption is that Humphrey, about to take over the party, would win the argument and write whatever plank he wants.

Forty Years Ago The Greater Harm Of Inflation

By FOY H. DUNCAN

Children To See Baseball Games Free
Officials of the local baseball club announced this afternoon that all children between the ages of 6 and 10 years would be admitted to the local ball games free of charge in the future. All children have been requested to occupy the large grandstand in order to leave as much room as possible for the usual crowds attending the games from time to time.

Mrs. J. B. Spillman Gives To Mother
One of the most beautiful tributes ever given a mother was recently paid by Mrs. J. B. Spillman to the memory of her mother, Mrs. C. A. Haste, near Edenton, Chowan County, who died a few weeks ago. The tribute was in form of an endowment of one thousand dollars which Mrs. Spillman gave to the Woman's Missionary Society, of the Memorial Baptist Church, to be used to carry on the work of missions through the local society. The endowment is called "The Fannie Monroe Gift." The interest will be paid to the society each year on "Mother's Day" and the thousand dollars will be paid in full at Mrs. Spillman's death.

Mrs. Galloway Entertains
Mrs. Scott Galloway was hostess at bridge Tuesday evening, honoring Mrs. A. S. Jordan of Plymouth, who is the guest of Mrs. J. S. Willard. For high score Mrs. A. S. Jordan was awarded an attractive powder jar. A hand-painted jar went to Mrs. J. S. Willard for low score. Mrs. W. E. Tucker assisted Mrs. Galloway in serving a tempting ice course.

By ELMER ROESSNER
The effects of inflation, as the United States is now learning, are far greater than the classic consequences.

Economists, bankers and even bystanders I have been saying inflation is bad because it shrinks the real incomes of annuitants and pensioners, slashes the purchasing power of savings and life insurance, and impoverishes others on fixed incomes.

But the ravages are far greater, as we are seeing today.

While we have almost four million unemployed in this country and unemployable ghetto residents have become a national problem, we continue to export jobs. That is, we have electronic components, textiles and garments, and other items made abroad because foreign wages are so much lower than our inflated rates.

Foreign Markets Fade Away
Because American wages are inflated, the cost of our products are so high that foreigners will not buy them. At the moment, the United Steelworkers would rather have the yellow metal than stretchable dollars.

Inflation generates strikes. With prices soaring because of inflation unions are forced to demand higher wages to maintain their standards of living or to strike. Thousands of man-days of production are lost each year not because unions are racketeering but because of inflation.

Taxes are forced up. You'll notice that on this week's paycheck. In addition to higher federal taxes, inflation pushes up state and local taxes because it pushing up the prices of labor and goods.

Inflation pushes up Social Security taxes. As the cost of living is inflated, those getting Social Security require larger checks and the government's solution is to increase Social Security levies on employers and workers.

Robs Home Owners
Inflation levies capital gains taxes on home owners when there are no capital gains. If a family buys a home for $10,000, it may have depreciated considerably 15 years later, but because of inflation it may bring $20,000. The house has gained no intrinsic value; in fact, it has lost. Nevertheless, unless the seller complies with certain intricate procedures—he can't just become a beach-comer, for instance—he must pay a capital gains tax on the very unreal $10,000 profit.

Inflation spurs speculation. Because the interest on savings is taxed and what is left shrinks in purchasing power because of inflation, saving doesn't pay. People's savings shrink faster than they accumulate, even at today's high interest rates.

Claim Russians Copying West

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China accused Soviet fashion designers today of copying "the cowboy pants and miniskirts of the West."

"This reveals that the Soviet revisionist renegade clique has not only degenerated into a servile tool of U.S. imperialism politically but has accepted lock, stock and barrel the Western styles in their whole way of life," said the New China News Agency.

Ends Vandalism

NORTH LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Twenty trees are dying in city parks since vandals stripped their bark.

On their trunks are draped this epitaph on crepe:

"All I wanted was to furnish shade for all, but I was killed when my bark was skinned." Dick Walpole, parks superintendent who put up the signs, said no vandalism has occurred since.

One saboteur was killed, but the other three managed to slip back across the muddy river, a communique said. No other casualties were reported.

source of beauty

When we look upon the grandeur of nature—when we gaze with awe at a masterpiece of art—when we are thrilled with the sounds of great music—then we often wonder about the source of all this beauty.

Undoubtedly, our energy and ability is God. It is He who is the real source of beauty in our culture. Human spirits, touched with divine inspiration have given the world treasures untold.

Consider Da Vinci's The Last Supper. Consider Handel's Messiah. Consider the marvelous literature of the Holy Bible. Truly some of the very finest of man's creations have come as the result of an awareness of God.

Indeed today our culture continues to be enriched by the expression of man's faith in the Eternal. Our churches bring us faith in God which is still a vital source of inspiration and beauty. Let the church enrich your life. Attend this Sunday and every Sunday.

gion are expected to be guests of the Greenville lodge. ENOCA Legion is made up of those lodges east of Raleigh.

Legion Councilman Edwin M. Baldree, who is also Herder of ENOCA, noted several officials from other North Carolina Legions will be in attendance. Among them: Herder Frank Sawyer and North Moose William Chaney, both of Burlington, and representing the Tar Heel Legion; James Parish, Past North Moose of WENOCA Legion, from Gastonia, is also expected to attend the ceremonial.

Officers of the Legion will meet Saturday afternoon, followed by a social hour. A dinner followed by a dance, is planned in the evening.

The business meeting will open at 10:00 a.m. Sunday, followed by a banquet at 1:30 p.m.

The Legion of the Moose is often referred to as the Service Degree, said Baldree, because of the many contributions it makes to the fraternity's dependent children at Mooseheart, and to Moosehaven where retired members and their wives are cared for. The Legion is also a stepping stone to the higher degrees of the order.

Humphrey fight with his political mentor, to whom he owes everything. They doubt that, when the chips are down at the Chicago convention, Humphrey should reverse four years of habit and assert his new dominance in the party.

Moreover, they contend that, since Humphrey himself is tied to every decision on the war, any attempt by Humphrey to fudge up that record might expose him to charges of hypocrisy.

It may have appeared to South that his opponents were using mirrors in planning their campaign to defeat his four heart contract—however, East's design was logically contrived and his upset on the deal was well earned.

West opened the five of clubs and dummy's ten won the trick. A small heart was led and East chose to put up the king in the hope that he would hold the trick. It was his desire to obtain a club ruff, and he felt that if West did not hold the top control in hearts, there was virtually no hope for defeating the contract. East wished to retain his smaller trump for ruffing purposes.

When the king of hearts did actually win the trick, East was confronted with a new problem—how to get West in for the club ruff. He must hold either the ace of spades or the ace of diamonds to have a quick entry, and it was up to East to guess which suit offered the better prospect of hitting his partner.

He might just as well have flipped a coin; however, his final decision to lead back a diamond was actually based on a psychological consideration. He was not certain if West was aware of his desire to ruff a club, but he felt that a diamond return was more apt to alert his partner since it was a lead into North's strength, whereas the spade shift appears to be the more orthodox play—up to dummy's weakness.

While East's reasoning may appear a bit specious to some, it met with a happy fate. West produced the ace of diamonds, and he came back with another club which his partner ruffed with the nine of hearts. West's ace of trumps subsequently scored the setting trick.

Fleckman Fires 66 To Take PGA Lead

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Marty Fleckman is leading the PGA golf championship through the coaching of Byron Nelson— but his tutor has picked another man.

"I wouldn't be a bit surprised if Lee Trevino went all the way to win this one," Nelson, a two-time PGA titlist, said before the tournament started Thursday.

Trevino backed up the prediction by opening with a 69, but the U.S. Open champion's start wasn't fast enough to hold the lead.

Fleckman, a dark, handsome 24-year-old, rode a hot putter to a four-under-par 66 on the re-aligned Pecan Valley course, taking a two-stroke edge over tour veteran Frank Beard.

Fleckman gave full credit to Nelson, once one of golf's most polished players.

"I try to corner him every chance I get," said Fleckman, who turned pro only a year ago after leading the 1967 U.S. Open for three rounds as an amateur.

"Byron got me back on the track after the U.S. Open this year when I missed the cut," Fleckman said. "I spent a whole day working with him then, and I've been in the money the last five or six weeks."

Fleckman, who won the Cajun Classic in his first start as a pro, said he thinks he is playing better now because he is starting to feel at home on the tour.

Beard, who missed a chance to share the lead when he bogged the last two holes, replied "no comment" when asked what he thought of the layout. Arnold Palmer, who opened with a 71, called the 18th hole "ridiculous" because only Jack Nicklaus was able to drive over the creek.

Nicklaus shot a 71, two strokes back of Trevino, Mason Rudolph and young Don Bies. Deadlocked at 70 were Dan Sikes, Charles Coody, Miller Barber, Johnny Pott, former PGA titlist Al Geiberger, Frank Boynton and Laurie Hammer.

Bill Casper, one of the pre-tournament favorites, slipped to a 74. Tom Weiskopf, another contender, soared to a 77. Dave Stockton, who won two titles and $62,000 in his last two starts on the tour, had 75 on the 7,096-yard course.

Defending champion Don January shot a 78, which left him in danger of missing the cut today when the field will be trimmed to the low 70 scorers and ties after the second round.

Shrine Coach

Bud Phillips, head football coach at Rose High School, has been named head coach of the North Carolina team for this year's annual Shrine Bowl in Charlotte. It will be the second trip for Phillips, who earlier served as an assistant. (Reflector Photo)

Reynolds, N. Mecklenburg Coaches To Assist Rose Mentor In December

CHARLOTTE — R. G. (Bud) Phillips, head football coach at J. H. Rose High School in Greenville, has been named head coach of the North Carolina squad for the 32nd annual Shrine Bowl Game.

Karl Miller, athletic director for the game which is to be played in Charlotte's Memorial Stadium on December 7, said that Phillips will be assisted by Herman Bryson, head football coach at R. J. Reynolds High in Winston-Salem, and Mack Haynes, head coach at North Mecklenburg High near Charlotte.

The Shrine Bowl matches squads of 33 outstanding high school seniors from the two Carolinas, with proceeds from the game going to the Endowment Fund of the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children in Greenville, S.C.

The improvements at the stadium will be completed, which include a new press box, additional seating capacity, concession stands, a new field house for the teams, new lighting system and the removal of the hazards at each corner of the playing field; in fact, a stadium that Charlotte will be proud of.

The South Carolina coaching staff, announced yesterday, consists of Spartanburg's Wade Corn, head coach, and assistants Joe Parker, Ellmore, and Steve Satterfield, Sumter. Phillips is a veteran of 19 years in high school coaching, the last 11 at Greenville's Rose High. Prior to coming to Rose High, he coached six years in Alamance County schools and two years at Burlington High.

His record at Rose High is 72-39-2, and includes two conference championships and one regional title. Phillips is a native of Burlington and a graduate of Wake Forest where he was a standout fullback under Peahead Walker.

Phillips previously served as an assistant coach in the Shrine Bowl in 1961, and has sent five players to the game.

Bryson has been head football coach at Reynolds since 1965. His first Reynolds club finished tenth in the Central 4-A Conference, but in 1966 he fashioned a 6-0-1 conference record and last year his Demons went undefeated until losing to Durham in the state championship playoffs.

Haynes, who has been head football coach at North Mecklenburg High for seven years, also captured Little All-American honors at Appalachian University as a tackle. He came to North Wilkesboro in 1956 as line coach and took over as head coach in 1961. He has four fine seasons at the school, posting a 27-3-3 won-lost record during those four years.

Haynes made his first trip to the Shrine Bowl as an all-state tackle in 1947, and has had as an assistant in the East-West High School All-Star game in Greensboro. In 1965 he was named Coach of the Year in Mecklenburg County.

Petibon Back In Football

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Richie Petibon, a onetime all-pro defensive back, suddenly retired. And John McCormick, a one-time starting quarterback in the American Football League—just as suddenly un-retired. "I guess I just got the itch," said McCormick, Denver's No. 1 signal-caller in 1965 and 1966. He retired at the end of the 1966 season to go into the insurance business.

"I miss football and I'll be glad to get back," said the 31-year-old veteran, who joined the Broncos in 1963 after a year with Minnesota as a backup quarterback and punter. "I just hope I can be of help."

Petibon, who went to the Chicago Bears from Tulane in 1959, said Thursday he decided to quit the game and devote full time to his insurance and real estate business in New Orleans.

"Due to increased business pressure," he wrote the Bears, "I will be unable to leave New Orleans this season. It was probably the hardest decision I've ever made, but I must look to the future. I felt the time had come to decide where I wanted to make my home and raise my children."

Petibon denied later today that he was retiring but he did hint, however, that he would quit if he couldn't play for the New Orleans Saints.

When reached at his home in New Orleans, Petibon told a telephone interviewer, "I'd rather not discuss it. But I have made no secret that I wanted to play for the Saints. Mr. Halas wouldn't trade me. We have reached a stalemate.

Petibon was not the only one to retire. Three Minnesota Viking veterans announced their retirement. Linebackers Don Hansen and Paul Faust and defensive end Arnold Simkus said they have quit football because of other job opportunities. They did not elaborate.

In Green Bay, the champion Packers had their first scrimmage with the defense crushing the offense.

Coach Phil Bengston said the poor show by the offense was expected for two reasons, the offense had more new faces and it was primarily a running game with the defense knowing what to expect.

In Fullerton, Calif., two rookie quarterbacks for the Dallas Cowboys were outstanding in a controlled scrimmage with Los Angeles Rams rookies. The Dallas rookies were on offense, the Rams on defense.

Roger Staubach, who won't be discharged from the Navy until next year, and Bill Creighton combined to complete 19 of 28 passes for 293 yards and three touchdowns.

Heat exhaustion plagued the Washington Redskins at Carlisle, Pa., where the temperature hit 98. Flanker Jerry Smith and tackle Joe Rutgens, stricken Wednesday when the temperature went to 100, were released from the hospital but kept on the sidelines.

Running back Steve Thurlow was added to the hospital list Thursday. Rookie tackle Dennis Crane underwent treatment but was not hospitalized.

Greg Brezina, last of the Atlanta Falcons holdouts, came to terms in Johnson City, Tenn. Terms of the contract were not announced.

New York Jet quarterback Mike Taliaferro, who has spent most of his four seasons playing behind Joe Namath, asked to be traded.

"I want to go somewhere I'll have a chance to play," he said.

Juan Wins; Franks Says He May Quit

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Juan Marichal has finally caught up to the St. Louis Cardinals. If the rest of the San Francisco Giants can't say the same come Sept. 29 they'll be playing for a new manager next spring.

Just before Marichal blanked the Cards 3-0 Thursday night and evened his lifetime record against them at 15-15, Herman Franks confirmed reports that he would retire as manager of the Giants if they don't win the National League pennant.

Owner Horace Stoneham shouldn't have long to wait before applications start pouring in since the Giants still are in fourth place, 13 games behind St. Louis, after ending the Cards' winning streak at six games.

Elsewhere, Atlanta walloped Houston 7-1 and the New York Mets downed Pittsburgh 3-0. Los Angeles was rained out at Cincinnati and the Philadelphia Phillies and Chicago Cubs were not scheduled.

"Four years is enough," Franks said. "Change is good for everybody. I just made the statement that if we couldn't win the pennant this year, then I would resign. It's that simple."

Franks qualified the announcement by adding that "more than likely" he would return if the Giants did pull out a pennant. He said he mentioned his views to Stoneham about a month ago, but added, "We won't talk about it until after the season."

Marichal, the NL's top winner, ran his record to 17-4 with a four-hitter and even drove in a run with a second-inning single. He retired 17 batters in order over one stretch until Lou Brock singled to open the ninth.

The Giants scored twice off Steve Carlton in the second on singles by Willie Mays, Jim Hart, Hal Lanier and Marichal. They added a run in the eighth when Mays walked, stole second and scored on a single by Jesus Alou.

The Cardinals saw their league lead chopped to nine games when second-place Atlanta beat Houston behind the hitting of Tommie Aaron and Pat Jarvis' two-hit pitching.

Aaron broke a 1-1 tie with a bases-loaded triple in the third inning off Dave Giusti and knocked in another run with a single in the eighth. Not to be outdone, big brother Hank singled home a run in the ninth.

Jarvis, 10-6, has never lost to the Astros and beat them for the fifth time. He allowed singles by Hector Torres in the first and Doug Radar in the seventh.

Seaver tied a club record with his fourth shutout of the season as the Mets hopped back over Los Angeles and Pittsburgh into seventh place. Al Jackson did it in 1962, Carl Willey in 1963 and Jerry Koosman has already done it this year.

The Mets nicked Al McBean for all their runs in the sixth inning on Bud Harrelson's single, a walk, Art Shamsky's bunt hit, a force play and singles by Jerry Grote and Phil Linz.

In the American League, Detroit topped Oakland 3-1, the Chicago White Sox nipped Baltimore 2-1, Minnesota defeated Boston 7-2 and the New York Yankees turned back Washington 4-1.

Reliefers Earn Pay Last Night

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Carolina League fans saw some neat relief pitching Thursday night and about the nearest job was turned in by Jack Van Vleck as he hurled High-Point Thomasville to its fourth straight triumph, a 6-2 romp over Wilson.

Van Vleck, who entered the game in the third inning, retired 20 of the 21 men he faced, allowing only a bloop single by Wilson's Bob Beckner in the seventh inning.

Greensboro's top relief pitcher, Joe McMasters, got credit for another save when he came to Wayne Twitchell's rescue as Greensboro edged Raleigh-Durham 4-3. McMasters arrived after Larry Stanton homered with one aboard in the ninth. He struck out two of the next three batters.

Relief pitcher Bruce Baudier was credited with the victory as Kingston took a 7-4 decision from Burlington.

Peninsula defeated Portsmouth by a 10-3 score.

Belvoir Wins N. Tar Tourney

Belvoir - Falkland won the North Tar River League tournament title this week with a 2-1 victory over regular season champion Stokes.

Belvoir advanced to the finals with a 16-6 win over Pac-tolus, while Stokes crushed Be-thel, 20-0.

Steve Moore hit a grand slam homer to spear Belvoir. Jeff Cobb and Ricky Meeks combin-ed on the mound for the victory.

Kenneth Tetterton hurled the win for Stokes.

In the final game, Ray Sut-ton hurled and batted Belvoir to the victory. Belvoir put to-gether two walks and a double by Sutton together to score the winning runs. It marked the third straight year Belvoir has won the crown.

On the mound, Sutton struck out 13, while giving up five hits. Tetterton led Stokes at the plate with three hits. Steve Fuchs was the losing pitcher, despite striking out 18 Belvoir batters.

Wilt Pauses To Shine His Image

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain, gone from the Philadelphia basketball scene, took time out Thursday to polish his image.

The 7-foot-1 center, in a tele-phone interview from New York, said he wanted to give his version of why he was traded to the Los Angeles Lakers in one of the biggest deals in the histo-ry of the National Basketball Association.

Chamberlain said the Phila-delphia 76ers' side of the story is "slightly tainted."

"I understand it made me look ungrateful," Chamberlain said. "My side of the story is deserving to be heard."

Chamberlain subsequently claimed:

—The 76ers asked for his suggestion on a replacement for resigned Coach Alex Hannum and later offered him the job as player-coach.

—He didn't price himself out and force the 76ers to trade him be- e he never asked for a spe- c figure.

—Owner Irv Kosloff's propos-al for a contract came out to less money than Chamberlain made last year.

—Kosloff led him to believe he didn't want to negotiate. Cham-berlain also agreed with the theory that Kosloff "gave up" after two meetings during a 19-day period before the 76ers dealt Chamberlain to the Lakers for Archie Clark, Darrell Imhoff and Jerry Chambers.

The 76ers had said Cham-berlain, the game's greatest offen-sive player, was dealt because he asked for too much in con-tract negotiations. The super-star was said to have wanted a three-year million dollar con-tract, plus part-ownership of the team.

Detroit Rallies After Tailspin

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers, after a brief plunge, seem to have righted themselves and re-sumed their earlier course that had them flying high in the American League.

After taking a commanding 9½ game lead into the All-Star break, the Tigers dropped two of three games at Minnesota and two straight to California, the first time this season they had lost two consecutive series.

Making things shakier still was the flight out of Anaheim in which their airplane plunged 500 feet to avoid hitting another plane in the traffic pattern dur-ing take off.

"We rattled around a bit," Manager Mayo Smith said, tak-ing in both the flying and play-ing situation. But the spin seems over.

The Tigers steadied in Oak-land and rode Earl Wilson's six-hitter to a 3-1 victory over the Athletics Thursday, giving them the series two games to one.

The victory brought Detroit's lead back to seven games over idle Cleveland while Baltimore fell to third place, 7½ games be-hind, by losing to the Chicago White Sox 2-1.

A cold Pepsi-Cola beats a cold anything else—so if you're drinking anything else, it's time you put Pepsi to the taste. Because it's no idle claim: Pepsi has a special taste that survives the cold, comes out in the cold, stops thirst cold. Pepsi pours it on!

The Worry Clinic Shopping For Surgery Is No Unusual Trait

Alice is a typical example of the fact that secret, sexual complexes produce thousands of needless surgical operations. So be sure you get that medical booklet below and give it to frustrated wives with an abnormal yen to go to hospitals. In fact, all newlyweds can also profit from it greatly.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE G-528: Alice W., aged 29 is a housewife.

"Dr. Crane," one of my medical colleagues in Chicago phoned me, "I wish you could take Alice off my hands."

"She has been shopping around for surgery until she has already had 5 operations."

"But I doubt if any of them was really necessary."

"She is a neurotic with a constant desire to be in hospitals." Thousands of Americans are age with the idea that she would always be wildly excited by the physical side of marriage.

She wasn't! Most wives aren't!

"Dr. Crane," she confessed when I later saw her, "I decided that something must be wrong with my sexual anatomy."

"So I consulted our family doctor and merely complained of vague pain in my pelvis, figuring he would examine me and thus tell me if I was organically deficient."

"But he said he found me quite normal. But at my persistence, he finally referred me to a gynecologist."

"He also pronounced me O.K. but I knew positively that something was wrong with me, so he finally decided to operate."

"But I still didn't enjoy marital relations the way I expected, so I consulted a different gynecologist."

Well, that's the background of Alice's case. She has had 5 surgical operations and still she hasn't benefited in the secret realm which she failed to confess to her physicians.

And this is a routine case in modern medicine, for women patients often refrain from citing their inner reasons but merely fabricate a symptom that supposedly merits getting a medical examination.

Then they pester the doctors till somebody operates. Since such surgery doesn't remove their emotional complex, they insist on more surgery.

So I gave Alice a frank talk of the sort that newlyweds all need and handed her the booklet below, which stopped her yet for further surgery!

Send for that medical booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

A sponge about three feet across was found near Florida, and over 17,000 animals, and some fish, were found living in it.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Trading was relatively slow, however, and the retreat seemed more due to a cautious withholding of bids than to active selling.

Nevertheless, the balance of losses over gains increased steadily, with the minus signs nearly 2 to 1 over pluses in early afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.1 at 343.7, with industrial off 2.1, rails off .4, and utilities off .2.

The continued weakness in the glamor-growth stock section of the market combined with news of a decline in factory orders and a slowing of the growth rate for personal income in June were cited as factors in the market softness.

Countering the less favorable market factors, analysts cited signs of easier monetary conditions as helpful to the bullish contingent. This was underlined by a fairly broad rise in U.S. Treasury bonds, signaling expectations of lower interest rates.

Occidental Petroleum, off a couple of points, paced the list on volume.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 3.01 at 914.94.

Holliday Elected To Post In Professional Engineers

William E. Fenner. Congratulating president Campbell is outgoing president Roger Mann of Greenville.

City Engineer Charles A. Holliday was elected vice-president of the East Carolina Chapter of the Professional Engineers of North Carolina here Thursday night.

Other officers elected were Roy A. Campbell of Fremont, president and William E. Fenner of Wilson, secretary-treasurer.

Guest speaker Ralph E. Fadum, dean of the School of Engineering at North Carolina State University, emphasized the need for more and better trained engineers in the immediate future, in order to sustain the country's technological growth.

Citing the findings of a six-year study which has recently been released by the American Society of Engineer Education, Dean Fadum detailed two basic revisions which the study recommends. The first would extend the present four-year engineer curriculum to a five-year one with greater emphasis placed on diversity and flexibility. The second recommendation calls for the inclusion of more of the social science subjects and more engineering design study.

For the past ten years the number of engineering graduates have declined by one-half. Today there are 800,000 engineers in America. Dean Fadum pointed out that Russia graduates 120,000 each year, whereas in America there are only about 35,000 graduates annually. One hopeful note is that for the forthcoming session at the State University, enrollment for engineer courses is up 18 per cent over last year.

Dean Fadum strongly encouraged young men and women to consider pursuing engineering as their life's work. He asked all registered professional engineers to encourage young people in making this choice.
