New Heart Functioning

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Doctors at St. Luke's Episcopal hospital have expressed satisfaction with the progress of the world's 26th heart recipient, Fred C. Everman, 58, of Alexandria, Va.

Everman, a retired barber, received the heart of a Houston housewife Saturday in the sixth such operation performed at the hospital.

A surgical team led by Dr. Denton A. Cooley implanted the heart of Mrs. Evelyn G. Krikorian, 33, who died Saturday of complications after a cardiac arrest, in Everman.

A native of Bremerhaven, Germany, the transplant recipient came to the United States in 1927. He is one of four transplant patients living in the hospital. The others also are progressing satisfactorily, a spokesman said.

Soviet Physicist's Plea

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times today carried in full a proposal by a prominent Soviet nuclear physicist for widespread collaboration between the United States and the Soviet Union by the year 2000.

The Times said Andrei D. Sakharov, 47-year-old member of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, has been circulating the plan among acquaintances without official sanction.

Sakharov warns that "convergence" of the two top powers is the only way of averting such dangers as thermonuclear war, overpopulation, famine in the poverty-stricken areas of the world, chemical pollution and police dictatorships of the Hitler, Stalin and Mao Tse-tung varieties.

He asserts that "the now-inevitable rapprochement" of the socialist and capitalist systems provides the hope for averting the division of mankind which "threatens it with destruction."

Anticipating Strike Vote

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers Union is counting on a big strike vote in the next few days to put pressure on the industry for a hefty contract settlement.

"The companies will move when they see the vote," said one union official.

Almost 390,000 men at 600 locals across the country and in Canada will get a chance to express their sentiment in the union's first poll of the membership. They are expected to vote overwhelmingly in favor of a strike. The only question is how big the margin will be.

Only nine days remain until the steelworkers will be free to strike. There has been no public indication of progress in the bargaining on wages and fringe benefits.

The company-level talks on contract language are marking time until the vote is held. Most of the local union officials will be at their home bases until Wednesday. A few small meetings were held over the weekend, but they appeared to be strategy sessions rather than negotiations.

Scattered Fire Bombings

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Scattered fire bombings were reported in Akron for the fifth straight night Sunday as a beefed-up National Guard force kept the peace in Negro areas of the city.

At least nine fire bombings were reported most of them minor. Most heavily damaged was the Wilson Lumber Co. on North Street near the downtown area. Fire authorities estimated damage in a storage area there at $18,650.

The curfew that had been lifted Saturday night was imposed once again by Mayor John S. Ballard Sunday night, and the start of the curfew was moved up to 8 p.m.

Streets were reported virtually deserted after the curfew hour.

Another 400 Ohio National Guard troops were brought in in the wake of a series of disturbances Saturday night, when the curfew that had been imposed Thursday and Friday nights from 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. was lifted.

Some 850 guardsmen now are on duty in the Akron area.

Still Probe Chicago Blast

CHICAGO (AP) — Investigating teams continued work today in an attempt to find the cause of an explosion which demolished a block-long building in Chicago's downtown section, injuring 56 persons.

Only two remained hospitalized and they were reported in good condition. Most of the injured were passersby cut by flying glass and debris Saturday night.

The building had housed a restaurant, a jewelry store and a clothing store.

Fire and police officials reported an odor of gas immediately following the explosion on the southern fringe of Chicago's Loop. They suspected the blast was caused by gas.

But William J. Ball, vice president of operators for Peoples Gas Light & Coke Co., disputed that. He said the smell of gas did not necessarily mean that the blast was caused by a gas leak. Instead, he said a leak could have been caused by the explosion.

Traffic Toll

RALEIGH (AP) — The North Carolina Motor Vehicle Department's report of highway deaths and injuries from 6 p.m. Friday until midnight Sunday:

Killed—13
Injured (rural)—162
Killed this year—948
Killed to date last year—360
Injured to June 1, 1968—20,729
Injured to June 1, 1967—20,399

No Serious Injuries Resulted

Giant Tent Collapses On Audience At Show

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A giant show tent filled to capacity for a festival music program collapsed in a wind storm Sunday night, scattering a crowd of 2,500 persons.

Officials said about 40 persons were treated at hospitals for injuries, none serious. Most of the victims were teen-agers struck by falling tent poles.

An estimated 20 other persons were treated at a first aid station.

Police, spectators and show officials said there generally was little sign of panic as support poles toppled into the tightly packed crowd, and sparks showered from overhead electric equipment.

One woman said the audience was watching a band about to start the program when "all of a sudden, the wind came underneath the tent and it started flying up" releasing the poles.

One of the injured, Miss Mary Pointek, 15, said she heard "a howling noise and a big ripping above me. The poles started swaying back and forth. I thought it was all part of the show at first. All of a sudden, everything collapsed around me."

Witnesses said the winds, accompanying a line of thunderstorms, lifted the canvas twice before it collapsed and cloaked about half the seating area.

Police said most of the audience got clear of the wreckage within 15 minutes, but that many people were still entangled in rope and canvas 45 minutes later.

The tent, covering an area larger than a football field, had been erected at a Lake Michigan shorefront park for a series of programs during the city's Summerfest '38, keyed to youth activities.

Steven Thorpe of Chicago, a trumpet player with the New Colony Six, which was beginning its performance, said a pole "hit me in the side of the head and knocked me off the stage."

A few persons said they thought they saw funnel-shaped clouds over Lake Michigan. But the Weather Bureau said there were no twisters in the storm that swept the state.

Senate Delays Action On Court Appointees

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The likelihood that the Senate won't act until September on the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice appears to have reduced chances of quick consideration of President Johnson's other Supreme Court appointment—Homer Thornberry as associate justice.

Sen. James O. Eastland, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee said Thornberry probably would be dismissed after questioning today by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., and a few other committee members, then recalled "after the Fortas matter is determined by the Senate."

Eastland, D-Miss., said several committee members oppose acting further on Thornberry because they feel there won't be a vacancy for him to fill until Fortas' elevation from associate justice to chief justice is confirmed. Many senators refuse even to question Thornberry until then, Eastland said.

The conservative Liberty Lobby, meanwhile, introduced strong opposition to confirmation of Fortas to succeed retiring Chief Justice Earl Warren.

W. B. Hicks Jr., the lobby's executive secretary, in prepared testimony assailed what he called Justice Fortas' record of permissiveness toward communism, crime and corruption.

Hicks also called Fortas "a fixer" who tried to keep the Walter Jenkins and Bobby Baker cases from embarrassing the Johnson administration.

Eastland said he will call a committee meeting this week to consider the Fortas nomination but Senate leaders said floor action probably will not come until after Labor Day because of a long recess for political conventions.

"It looks that way," said Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

He said a Senate session is not likely to be sandwiched between the Republican National Convention starting Aug. 5 and the Democratic convention to begin Aug. 26.

Assassination Trial Set Nov. 12

James Earl Ray Pleads Innocent

By DOUG STONE
Associated Press Writer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (ap) — James Earl Ray pleaded innocent today to a charge of assassinating Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. here April 4 and trial was set for Nov. 12.

Appearing publicly for the first time since his extradition hearings in London, England, Ray entered his plea through his lawyer, Arthur Hanes of Birmingham, Ala.

Security officers searched persons who entered the Shelby County Criminal Courtroom to witness Ray's arraignment.

Ray, wearing a checked blue sport coat and blue slacks, was led into the courtroom at 10:57 a.m., CDT, and the arraignment proceedings ended 12 minutes later. Ray was returned to his steel-lined, air-conditioned cell block in the county jail.

Hanes had both indictments read—one alleging murder in the first degree and the other charging Ray with carrying a dangerous weapon.

At the end of each reading, Hanes said: "My client wishes to enter a plea of innocent."

Ray remained silent throughout the arraignment. He was seated at the counsel table between Hanes and Hanes' son, Arthur Jr. Behind them sat Sheriff William N. Morris Jr. and two other officers.

Judge Preston Battle had told Hanes a plea did not have to be entered today and asked whether the defense wanted a recess.

"We will enter a plea to the indictment," Hanes responded.

Battle also asked if Hanes wanted a period of "a few days or a few weeks" to determine when he would be ready to try the case.

Dist. Atty. Gen. Phil Canale told the court he had conferred with Hanes about having the trial in late September. But, he said, it might last until the Nov. 5 general election. Under Tennessee law, sequestered jurymen cannot cast ballots.

Canale suggested the Nov. 12 date and Battle asked if it could be set earlier. Hanes said he felt the case would be completed in six weeks—the time between late September and election day.

"But I have no idea what the prosecution will put on," Hanes said.

"All right," Battle responded, "Let's set the case for Nov. 12."

The wood-paneled courtroom was filled by about 70 persons, including nearly 50 newsmen and about a dozen plain-clothed officers. Several lawyers watching the proceedings sat on a long bench at one side of the room.

Hanes said Sunday he wants "gimmicks' removed from the atmosphere in which Ray will be tried.

Demand 'Showdown Meeting'

Russians Reject Czech Defense Of Liberal Role

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party today rejected the defense by Czechoslovak party leaders of their liberal course and demanded again that the leaders in Prague come to the Soviet Union for a showdown meeting today or Tuesday.

Reports from Prague indicated the demand for a meeting on Soviet soil would be rejected. The Czechoslovak leaders were reported willing to meet their Soviet critics, but only on their own territory.

Pravda rejected the Prague leadership's denial last week of charges made against it by the Warsaw meeting of the Soviet Union and its four hard-line allies-East Germany, Poland, Bulgaria and Hungary.

The Soviet party paper accused the Czechoslovak leaders of playing down the threat to the Communist system in Czechoslovakia. It warned that the Soviet Union regards the defense of communism everywhere in the East Bloc as its business.

Echoing the charges of the Warsaw meeting, Pravda said the "right-wing, anti-Socialist forces in Czechoslovakia, encouraged and supported by imperialist reaction, are bringing matters to a liquidation of the guiding role of the Communist party in society, to undermining the Socialist state and system, to the restoration of the capitalist order. They have captured the mass media—the press, radio and television—and are using them for anti-Socialist propaganda trying to fan hatred for the Soviet Union and other Socialist countries."

Czechs on Prague's streets agreed that Czechoslovak Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek should not go to Russia to meet the Soviet party leaders.

"Dubrek shouldn't give in," said a girl student. "We're with him all the way. If they want something, let them come here."

The reply to the Russian invitation was believed being delayed until all the 16,000 Russian soldiers who took part in Warsaw Pact maneuvers that ended June 30 have the country.

By Sunday, the day they were officially scheduled to leave, most of the Russians were reported in Eastern Slovakia, presumably en route home. It appeared that all of them could not be out of the country before Wednesday, even if there were no more delays.

Czechoslovak Interior Minister Josef Pavel denied reports published in Soviet and Bulgarian newspapers of new arms caches found in Czechoslovakia near the Polish border. He said in a statement broadcast by Prague radio that there was general belief a cache discovered earlier near the West German border was put there by someone trying to embarrass the new leadership.

Terrorist Bombs Kill 13, Wound 92 Sunday

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — A new wave of Viet Cong terrorism hit Saigon and two provincial capitals Sunday, killing 13 Vietnamese and wounding 92.

Intelligence sources have said terrorist attacks might precede the threatened third major enemy offensive of the year, but the lull in the ground war still continued.

Twelve Vietnamese were killed and 91 wounded in the weekend bombing of four theaters, one of them only a block from national police headquarters in Saigon. A large explosive charge set off outside the Saigon theater killed four persons and wounded 52. Also in Saigon, a minor official was assassinated and a 17-year-old boy seriously wounded.

A hand grenade was thrown into a group of militiamen watching a traveling troupe perform in Phu Cuong, a provincial capital 15 miles north of Saigon. Four persons were killed and 23 wounded, including two of the performers.

Terrorists set off bombs outside two theaters in Ben Tre, another provincial capital in the Mekong Delta 50 miles southeast of Saivion. Government headquarters said four persons were killed and 16 wounded.

Vietnamese informants say at least 1,000 Viet Cong troops have infiltrated the capital city in preparation for the third major offensive of the year expected within the next two months.

Allied defenses around Saigon were promised more reinforcements today with the arrival of the first contingent of a new infantry division from Thailand. Some 1,500 troops of Thailand's 12,000-man Black Panther Division arrived at the U.S. Army's Newport port facility just north of the capital.

Offers $500 For A Wallace Backer

HARTSELLE, Ala. (AP) — William Bradford Huie, is offering a $500 reward to anyone who can find a registered Negro voter in Alabama who is supporting George C. Wallace for the presidency.

The author announced the reward Sunday, saying "George Wallace, on national television and in other public appearances, is implying that there are Negroes in Alabama who in 1966 wanted his late wife to become governor and who in 1968 want him to become president.

"I believe this implication is false," Huie continued. "Assisted by many Negroes, I have searched the state, and so far we have been unable to find one bona fide Negro Wallaceite."

Pres. Johnson Relaxes On Ranch After Honolulu Summit Meeting

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

AUSTIN, Tex., (AP) — President Johnson is enjoying a rancher's respite in the Texas hills after U.S.-Vietnam summit sessions that withered hopes for any early cease-fire or even a let-up in the Vietnamese war.

President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam did see some prospect, nevertheless, that his army's power will grow to the point of permitting what he termed a phasing out of some American military units one at a time in 1969. But he stressed this would not mean a complete U.S. withdrawal from the war.

Johnson and Thieu put in 10 hours conferring privately or with key advisers flanking them in meetings Friday and Saturday in Hawaii.

Thieu stayed on a bit afterward to relish the delights of sun, sand and surf at famed Waikiki beach.

Johnson, never known publicly to have tried this type of relaxation on visits to the "paradise of the pacific," was off by jet for the LBJ Ranch near Johnson City, 65 miles west of here, shortly after the final meeting ended at the U.S. Pacific Command hilltop headquarters overlooking Pearl Harbor.

Back home, the President and Mrs. Johnson attended Mass Sunday at St. Francis Xavier Roman Catholic church in Stonewall, a mile or so up the Pedernales River from the ranch.

The time of the presidential return to Washington was flexible. It could be Tuesday night, by way of Cincinnati, The National Governors Conference there has been putting on pressure for a Johnson appearance and speech.

The Honolulu summit conference closed with a communique, a statement by Johnson to reporters, and a Thieu news conference.

The two presidents agreed that the comparative lull in the Asiatic war by no means represents any deescalation by the enemy, but rather a regrouping for "Renewed offensive action at some time in the next two months." They promised "to meet and defeat whatever military and terrorist actions might be initiated by the other side."

Johnson and Thieu said they detected no signs of a breakthrough at the U.S.-North Vietnamese preliminary peace discussions in Paris and called on the other side "to take the road toward peace now open to them."

Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford had told newsmen earlier that his talks with Thieu and other Vietnamese officials in Saigon last week had skipped the topic of a complete halt to the bombing of North Vietnam in order to leave that to Johnson and Thieu. Johnson said this never came up at Honolulu.

"The big rumors about meeting here to discuss stopping the bombing or to pull out or to do these things are just pure absolute tommyrot and fiction," he said in his final statement to reporters.

He said there was no "fighting among us or division among the allies" and thus the conference was not very exciting.

He summed it up this way:

"We are resolutely determined to continue to puruse every avenue that might lead to peace, and the two presidents are in full agreement ... We are equally determined to defend South Vietnam."

Both Thieu and the communique emphasized that any end to hostilities must be accompanied by effective controls and guarantees.

Thieu said there must be guarantees aimed against renewed Communist aggression and aimed at assuring Vietnamese independence territorial sovereignty and freedom to choose a form of government and way of life—with help from outside countries if need be.

Area Debutantes For 1968

Williamston Deb Sally Simpson Enjoys Music

WILLIAMSTON — After attending the first session of summer school at ECU, Miss Sally Freeman Simpson plans to "do nothing much and just relax."

A student at St. Mary's College in Raleigh, the debutante discussed why she chose to go to St. Mary's.

"My mother went to St. Mary's and I have always wanted to go there ever since I can remember."

"The advantage of a small girls' school like St. Mary's is that courses are a little easier and some of the worries are eliminated that you have with a larger institution."

"Yet, at a small school, your privileges are limited and you feel secluded. At a large school you feel as if you are out more in the regular world."

The coed is majoring in liberal arts now, but says she may possibly change her major to English or French.

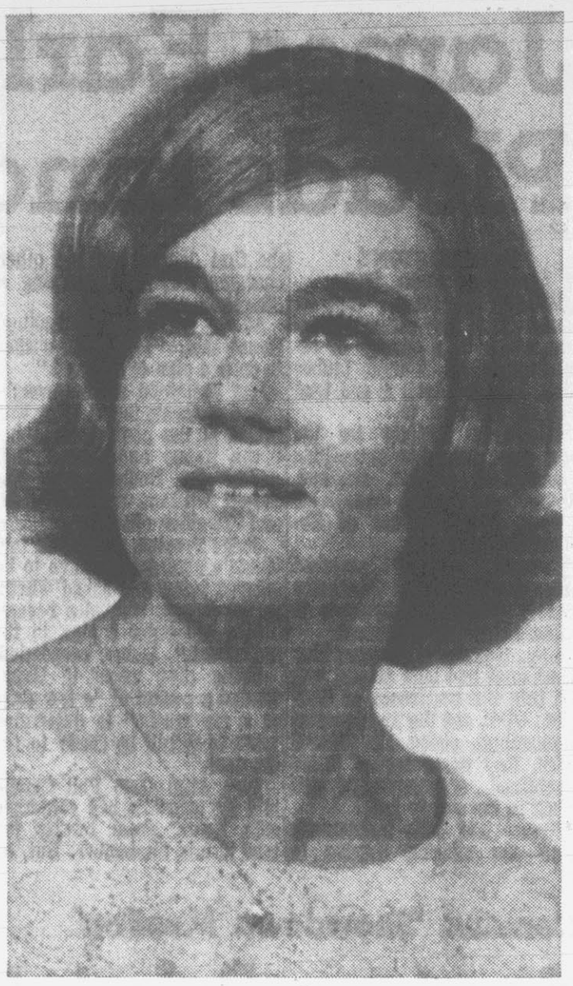

"I do not particularly want to teach, but I am taking the necessary academic courses for a B. S. degree."

She is a member of the Dramatics Club and the Granddaughters Club at St. Mary's. Much of her spare time is spent enjoying her hobbies. Playing the piano and listening to music are her favorite hobbies.

Miss Simpson also has a real interest in dramatics.

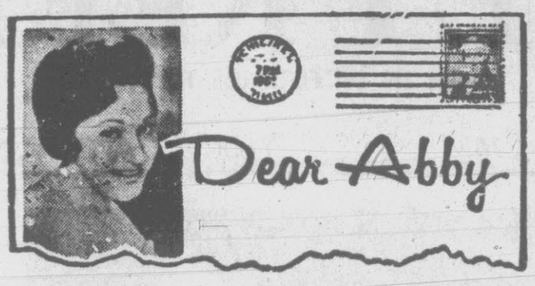

John Reginald Simpson, Jr., her brother, will be the deb's chief marshal. Assisting marshals will be Asa Henry Crawford, Jr. and Thomas Burros Brandon, III, both of Williamston.

Miss Simpson is the daughter of Mrs. Sara Simpson of W. Church Street, Williamston, and the late John Reginald Simpson.

Mom, You Should Tell Your Daughter How It Is

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a sweet little 6-year-old daughter I'll call Molly, and I am "expecting" again in a few months.

Molly plays with two neighbor girls who are 6 and 9. The mother of these girls has been instructing them in sex education, which has become a problem to me. The neighbor girls told Molly that "her Mummy has a baby in her tummy, and it's growing like a watermelon, and Daddy planted the seed!"

Now, what in the world am I going to tell Molly when she asks me about this "planting" procedure?

I went over to have a talk with my neighbor, and I asked her to please tell her girls not to discuss such things with Molly because I intend to answer all her questions in my own way when the time comes, but right now she is too young to understand these things. I said this all in a very friendly way, and the mother agreed to cooperate. Twice since that time, Molly has asked me some shocking questions as a result of something these girls have told her. It seems that their mother has sown the girls a book with pictures in it showing how a baby is born! Now my Molly wants to see the book. Can you help me?

CLEAN-MINDED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I think your neighbor's approach to teaching her daughters what every girl must know sooner or later (and the sooner the better) is healthier than yours. Have another talk with her. You can benefit greatly. You say that you will answer your child's questions when she asks. She is asking now, so tell her. Don't worry about whether she understands or not.

If she doesn't, it won't harm her, but it will make sense when she does reach the age of understanding.

When mothers become embarrassed and evasive when sex is mentioned, the child gets the idea that something is wrong (or "dirty") with the whole business. You desperately need to educate yourself before you can educate Molly properly.

DEAR ABBY: My brother collects motel keys. That is, he keeps the key to motels where he stays on business.

I chided him about being a "thief," and he huffily informed me that the room rent included the price of the key. Who is right and if I am, what is wrong with him!

LINCOLN, NEBR.

DEAR LINCOLN: The room rent does not include the price of the key. The key belongs to the establishment. I don't know what else is wrong with him, but so far, I'd say he is light-fingered and ill-informed.

DEAR ABBY: This letter isn't likely to impress MRS. PLANNED PARENTHOOD, but that's all right, because her letter didn't impress me either. I would like her to know that some of us with bigger families "plan," too. Only we plan on having children FIRST — then we have our expensive homes, fancy cars, pleasure trips, etc., if we can afford them, that is.

I agree with her on one point, however. I think all children should come into the world wanted and loved. But the world would be a lot better off if people would learn how to love the children they get, rather than take pills to keep from having them.

Gould-Jackson Vows Exchanged

The marriage of Miss Jewelle Noi Jackson and Lindsay Marshall Gould was solemnized on Sunday at 4 o'clock in a candlelight ceremony in the First Christian Church.

The Rev. William J. Hadden, pastor of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joyner Butler Jackson of Greenville and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Gould of Raleigh.

The church was decorated with all brass wedding accessories, using seventeen tree and ine pyramidal candelabra flanked by tall standards of huckleberry and emerald greenery. Bouquets of white gladioli, snapdragons and white daisies interspersed in the nine pyramidal candelabra. An arrangement of snapdragons, gladioli and daisies, flanked by single candleholders, was placed on the communion table. At the upper altar was the prie dieu where te bride and bridegroom took their vows and knelt for the wedding prayer and benediction. Pews were marked with bridal satin and improved smilax.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Herbert Carter, organist, and Mrs. Jane Dubber, sister of the bride, soloist, who sang, "I Love Thee" and "Prayer Perfect."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a long cage style gown of white silk organza and satin. The dress was designed with a high roll satin collar and long petal pointed sleeves. The entire gown was embessished in re-embroidered Alencon lace and scrolls of seed pearls. Syled into the gown was a watteau train with a satin border and scrolls of beads, forming a flowing chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a cluster of illusion petals of lace and se pearls. She carried a trailing ca cade bouquet of Euchris lilies, cattlya orchids, baby's breath, accented with English ivy and tied with white velvet.

Mrs. Jane Dubber, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a blue chiffon formal gown styled with short puff sleeves. The back was enhanced with a full chiffon panel and a bow at the back. She wore a matching headpiece of daisies attached to short veil of silk illusion and carried a classic cascade bouquet of white sumfer daisies, baby's breath and long sprays of English ivy tied with yellow velvet bows with long streamers.

Miss Ann Pace Swindell was maid of honor. She wore a yellow chiffon dress with matching headpiece and accesories styled identical to those of the honor matron of matron of honor. She carried a semi-cascade bouquet of yellow daisies, baby's breath and English ivy tied with yellow velvet bows.

MRS. LINDSAY MARSHAL GOULD

Bridesmaids were Miss Debby Renn, cousin of the bride, Miss Nancy Gould, sister of the bridegroom, both of Raleigh. Junior bridesmaid was Miss Paula Jewelle Baker, of Kinston, cousin of the bride.

They wore gowns and headpieces of yellow chiffon styled identical to those of the honor attendants and carried cascade bouquets of yellow daisies, showered with cascades of single daisies, baby's breath and Engdish ivy tied with nile green velvet.

Paul Tee Baker, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. He carried a lace covered satin pillow with sprays of yellow daisies tied with narrow yellow velvet.

Honorary bridesmaids were Miss Sherry Squires of Greenville, Miss Hope Brinkley of New Bern, Miss Sandra Sargent of Charlotte, Miss Mary Hinson of Raleigh. They wore pastel dresses with white daisy corsages.

John Thomas Gould served his son as best man. Ushers were Lawrence Gould, brother of the bridegroom, Artie Watkins of Raleigh, Bill Hamnet of Raleigh, Tom Clune of Elizabeth City.

Mrs. Jackson chose for her daughter's wedding a blue crepe dress with three quarter length lace sleeves and matching accessories. She wore a corsage of white cymbidium orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a toast and peach silk dress with re-embroidered lace bodice and long sleeves with matching accessories. She carried beige cymbidium orchids on her handbag.

Mrs. Tollie H. Weldon Sr., grandmother of the bride, wore a turquoise silk suit with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

For traveling the bride changed into a nile green silk dress with a white ruffled lace collar and cuffs with matching accessories and an orchid corsage lifted from her bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of J. H. Rose High School and attended Campbell College, Buies Creek.

The bridegroom is a graduate of East Carolina University and was a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity. He is presently employed with the North Carolina State Highway Commission in Realeigh.

After a wedding trip to the mountains of North Carolina and Virginia, the couple will reside at 301 Shellum Street, Raleigh.

Reception

Immediately following the ceremony, parents of the bride entertained at a reception in the church parlor.

Guests were directed to the reception hall by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moye. Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Ayscur and Mrs. Jewelle Baker greeted guests and Mrs. Sadie Wrae Carrington introduced them to the receiving line composed of the parents of the bride and bridegroom and the attendants. Mr. and Mrs Wilson Renn directed guests to the refreshment table.

The appointed table was covered with a white silk lace cloth over yellow and centered with a bouquet of yellow roses, yellow daisies and baby's breath disigned in a tall five-branched silver candelabra.

After the bridal couple cut the first slice of cake, Mrs. Nell Moore and Mrs. Knott Proctor Jr. served the cake and Mrs. Ferebee Weldon and Mrs. Roland Cannon poured punch. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Eva Corbette, Mrs. John Ewell, Mrs. Louis Gaylord and Mrs. Phil Averette.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Fuller presided at the register and good-byes were said to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Byrd.

Pre-rehearsal Party

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Penn of Raleigh, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Fuller of Salisbury, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Weldon Sr. and Mr. Mrs. T. H. Weldon Jr., Mr. and and Mrs. Spurgeon Ayscur of Henderson, aunts, uncles and grandparents of the bride were hosts and hostesses at a pre-rehearsal dinner for the Gould-Jackson party and out-of-town guests at the Greenville Golf and Country Club.

Guests were received by the bridal couple, hosts and hostesses. Arrangements of pastel roses was used with wedding bells and pink net rice bags with place cards marked the guests seating.

Bridesmaids Breakfast

Mrs. Jewelle Baker of Kinston was hostess to a bridesmaids breakfast for Miss Jewelle Noi Jackson and her attendants Sunday morning at the Greenville Golf and Country Club.

Miss Brooks Honored

Miss Ernelle Brooks, Southern Baptist missionary to Nigeria, was honored by friends from Oakmont Baptist Church Friday night. The occasion was a farewell party prior to her return to the mission field after a furlough home.

Upon arrival, Miss Brooks was presented with a corsage of red carnations, in keeping with the general color scheme of blue and red. Blue Candles and a centerpiece of blue hydrangea with wisps of red crepe myrtle completed the decorations.

Miss Brooks was remembered with a gift of appreciation for her helpfulness to the Oakmont church during its beginning

YOUR CHILD'S ROOM

Looking at the world through your child's eyes is fun. From crib - stage on, children react to color and their own personal interest. And with the many stages they go through, room-doing for them is truly an exercise in ingenuity. Their rooms, invariabliy small, often house more than one child, plus an array of paraphernalia, require good space planning. Even more important to the harried mother, are furnishings that will withstand painting, pets, pillow fights, and other unexplainable, boisterous type games.

DINNER FOR FOUR

A popular way to serve squash is to team it with apples.
Veal Chops Potatoes
Squash with Apples Asparagus
Vanilla Ice Cream with Creme de Menthe

SQUASH WITH APPLES

2 medium-size acorn squash (about 1¾ pounds)
½ cup water
1 can (1 pound, 4 ounces, sliced apples (packed with sugar and water), drained
4 tablespoons light brown sugar
Nutmeg

Wash squash. With a heavy knife cut in half lengthwise; with a sturdy spoon scoop out seeds and membranes. Place cut side down in a square cake pan (9 by 9 by 1¾ inches). Add the water to the pan. Bake in a 350 - degree oven until tender about 45 minutes. Remove from oven.

Turn squash cavity side up (water in pan will be evaporated); sprinkle with salt. Spoon half the apples into squash cavities. Use remaining apples in some other dish. Sprinkle apples with sugar and nutmeg. Return to a 425-degree oven and bake until apples are hot and sugar has melted—10 to 15 minutes. Makes four servings.

For cool comfort during sticky weather, drape chairs and sofas with fringe terrycloth furniture throws. Just spread the throw and tuck it into seat and arm crevices, letting the surplus fabric fall into soft folds. These covers come in high fashion decorator shades.

Snakes Rattle Postman In France

PROVINS, France (WNS) — The general strike in France had many interesting side effects, including a new conundrum for postmen here. Six housewives discovered that birds had made nests and were hatching eggs in their postboxes that had not been used for three weeks. All of them bought new boxes so that the birds would not be disturbed. One postman, however, was mightily disturbed when he discovered snakes living in a mailbox.

Woman's Department Rules

In order to be of the greatest service possible to brides-to-be, The Daily Reflector's Woman's Department bridal policy is as follows:

Photograph for engagements and wedding write-ups should be 5 x 7 inches in size and black and white glossy prints.

Engagement and wedding photograph with write-ups for Sunday's edition of The Daily Reflector MUST be submitted to the Woman's Department by the preceding Wednesday at noon. Material which does not give the exact date of the wedding WILL NOT be accepted.

Engagement photographs WILL NOT be printed unless they are submitted at least THREE WEEKS prior to the wedding date.

Weddings, like other news, have a time value, therefore the amount of space devoted to weddings turned in late will be determined by their diminishing news value. Wedding write-ups submitted within a week of the wedding date will be published with a 5 x 7 picture. Wedding write-ups submitted from one to two weeks after the wedding date will be printed with a wallet size picture. After the wedding is two weeks old, an announcement without a picture will be printed.

Club write-ups and other women's news WILL NOT be accepted more than a week after the event occurs.

Appear Insisting On Undue Powers

Some of those members of the Senate Judiciary Committee who are most vehement in their criticism of the Supreme Court for what they call a violation of the separation of powers between the branches of government appear to be attempting to assert their own domination over both the judiciary and the executive branches of government.

South Carolina's Strom Thurmond, whose examination of Justice Fortas constituted an attack on the performance of the high court during the past decade, seemed to base his questioning of Fortas' fitness as Chief Justice on whether Fortas agreed with decisions made by the court even before he became a member.

Sen. Thurmond, like other members of the committee, has the right and responsibility to examine presidential nominees for the court positions. They have the responsibility under the constitution to express their opinion on the fitness of the President's nominees to hold the positions to which they are appointed on the court.

This responsibility, however, does not give the Senate the right to spell out of the court how it should interpret the constitution any more than the high court has the right to encroach upon the legislative responsibilities of Congress. The responsibility to consider Presidential appointments does not give the Senate authority to spell out to nominees what decisions they are to make once their appointments to the court are approved.

In their zeal to assure preservation of the separation of powers between the legislative, judicial and executive branches of government, the Senate should be careful not to do exactly what some of its members are accusing the other two branches of government of doing.

Little good is to be gained by the pot calling the kettle black.

Minnesotan Had A Cool Hearing

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau

RALEIGH — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, a strange mixture of man questing the Democratic presidential nomination, was given a taste of traditional North Carolina courtesy and hospitality on a blazing hot day in Raleigh.

But while the temperature outside soared to 90-plus, the political reception McCarthy received in the tents of party officialdom was cool — polite but cool.

WILLIAM SHIRES

And the Minnesotan himself appeared to sense a chill while standing in the noonday sun at a downtown parking lot and speaking to a nondescript crowd estimated at 4,000 to 5,000. There was some enthusiasm but the crowd size was disappointing. So, in the eyes of some veteran North Carolina political figures and observers, was McCarthy.

Little Support

In the brief two or three hours — busy though they were — McCarthy apparently did little or found anything to indicate a gain in delegate strength from North Carolina, at least not immediately.

And perhaps more importantly, it appears he received little encouragement or sign of a possibly breakthrough if he hangs on as a contender at the coming convention. This, everyone feels, is McCarthy's chief hope and goal — to hang on through early balloting and achieve a breakthrough.

His purpose in vigorous state - by - state campaigning is to contact delegates, see people and call for an "open", he means delegations not bound to a "unit" rule, nor stacked in favor of any particular candidate. He said he wants a "test of the issues" within the Democratic party, full debate and a "fair hearing" on wishes of the people.

A 'Dove' Candidate

McCarthy, a political unknown a year ago, is a "peace" candidate. Addressing members of the North Carolina delegation to the national convention, he drew a contrast on the Viet Nam war.

What the Democrats' candidate for president in 1964 pledged would not happen in Viet Nam has happened, he said. And this is what the Democrats charged would happen if the Republican candidate Barry Goldwater, was elected. McCarthy also slashed at the Johnson administration and, by inference, at vice president Hubert Humphrey in other remarks. He was not in Raleigh "to roundup or corral delegates," he said. "That's Texas sort of language," he said.

On the other hand, McCarthy's own appeal for greater North Carolina support was low key.

He told newsmen that he received the "usual North Carolina brand of hospitality" in a brief private meeting with Gov. Dan K. Moore at the State Capitol.

Humphrey's Strength

The governor has been designed a "favorite son" candidate for the state's delegation with the idea of gaining time and looking over the convention field.

Most of the state's delegates and alternates are believed to favor Humphrey on an early ballot over any other Democratic contenders—McCarthy and a large number of other "favorite sons."

Some state political sources feel strongly however that the indicated support for Humphrey is not as firm nor solid as Humphrey forces might wish, and that other developments — the emergence of other candidates — might change things. In this, McCarthy forces cling to a small hope of winning additional votes — perhaps a majority — from the North Carolina delegation eventually. There is still talk of an early deadlock.

North Carolina's delegation of 131 delegates and alternates will cast 59 votes on the convention floor. McCarthy presently expects no more than two or three in early balloting — after the "favorite son" governor releases the delegation. Humphrey forces hope for 56 or 57 from North Carolina.

Tribute To University As Well As To Editor

Jonathan Daniels' gift of his personal collection of journalism books to East Carolina University is a tribute to the institution as well as a tribute to Editor Henry Belk of the Goldsboro News-Argus in whose honor the gift was made.

The Daniels collection will form the nucleus of the new Henry Belk Journalism Library at East Carolina. The library, initiated by Daniels and named in honor of Belk, will surely attract contributions of other books on journalism from various members of the newspaper profession in North Carlina and other states.

These two men whose names are prominently associated with the new journalism library are among the best known and most highly respected men in the newspaper profession in the state. Their contributions to their profession and to their state have been recognized far beyond the borders of North Carolina.

The journalism library at ECU will be an important asset to the undergraduate program in journalism being established at the university. The association of the names of Daniels and Belk with development of a journalism program at East Carolina provides new impetus for building upon the foundation that has been laid.

One In Seven To Enter Hospital

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail!

One in every seven Americans will be admitted to a hospital sometime this year.

Candians seem to be the most talkative people on earth — and we're a close second. The average annual number of phone calls per person in our northern neighbor nation is 664: the number in the United States is 648.

Looking for a bargain buy in a nice neighborhood? A swank East Side Manhattan apartment house is offering a 24-room coop apartment for sale at $750,000. But that's only for the key. You also have to pay maintenance and upkeep costs of $48,000 yearly.

You may not be getting more youthful, but the chances are that you're driving a younger car. The average age of passenger cars has dropped from 5.9 years in 1965 to 5.63 last year. There are now approximately 98 million vehicles using U. S. highways and fighting for parking spaces.

The high price of prosperity: It's getting more expensive to retire. The Institute of Life Insurance estimates the annual cash requirements of a retired couple who want to live in moderate comfort—assuming they probably already own a car, their own home and most major household appliances— varies from $3,200 in a small Southern town to $4,200 in a big metropolitan area. The most costly retirement mecca: Honolulu, $4,400.

Quotables: "If you watch a game, it's fun if you play it, it's recreation. If you work at it, it's golf" — Bob Hope.

Hungry mouths: UNICEF estimates that two-thirds of the worlds children —300 million—are undernourished. One reason malnutrition is so dangerous to the very young is that the brain doesn't reach 80 per cent of its full size until the age of 3, and lack of proper nutrition during this critical period can retard its development permanently.

HAL BOYLE

Mottoes for moderns: "Nothing is impossible for the man who doesn't have to do it himself."

Reassuring: Many elderly people dread the prospect of having to undergo cataract surgery. However, all cataracts don't require an operation. A study of 1,000 people over 65 with vision problems found that only 5 per cent needed surgery.

It was Charles Kingsley who observed, "If you wish to be miserable, think about yourself: about what you want, what you like, what respect people ought to pay you, what people think of you; and then to you nothing will be pure."

IT CUTS OFF POWER

The opening through which the fuel of a diesel engine has to pass is very small —so small in fact that it makes a pin-point look as large as the front door of a house, in comparison. The diesel engine is very powerful, and yet a speck of dirt smaller than a pin-point can shut off all this power and render the engine useless.

There is a businessman in this country who has had phenominal success and who from the beginning of his career has given ninety per cent of what he made to religious causes and kept ten per cent for himself. He speaks a great deal on religious themes, and he uses this illustration to point out how the smallest imperfection in one's life can shut off the flow of spiritual energy by which the soul lives.

People often wonder why it is that despite the fact that they apparently live rather upright lives nevertheless they do not seem to possess spiritual power. There may be many causes for this, but one is that sometimes a hidden fault or sin, so small perhaps that the outside world never notices it and the person afflicted with it may scarcely be conscious of it himself, impedes the flow of divine power from God to the soul.

Any of the following may constitute such impeding particles — jealousy, envy, pride lust, irreverence, cynicism, covetiousness. It takes only a little of any of them to spoil a man's relationship with his God.

BOY, DID HE HAVE A LOT TO LEARN!

Where Women Lament

VIENNA, Austria — There are many people in Vienna who consider the State Opera House the most important building in the city. But there are others of us mostly on the highest cultural levels who would trade three performances of "Fidelio" and two performances of "Lohengrin" for one plate of schlag at Demel's, the grandmother of all Viennese pastry shops.

Demel's is to Austria what the Tower of London is to England. Inside the hallowed mirrored walls are displayed the treasures of the country —foaming mountains of custard, strata upon strata of chocolate cakes, bottomless lakes of fruit-flavored mousse, tunnel after tunnel of apple strudel and glaciers of ice cream and frozen tarts.

It has been said that if Austria had an Aga Khan, he would be weighed each year at Demel's and given the equivalent in whipped cream and strawberry icing.

The first thing I saw on entering Demel's was a large marble stand filled with homemade candies. On top of the stand was a handwritten sign advertising the specialty of the day.

ART BUCHWALD

It was strawberry mousse with vanilla cream, grilled almonds and hazelnuts, sherbet and assorted candied fruits.

"A strong man," Si Bourgin, an international food patrolman told us, "would quail at such a dish, but the average Austrian woman can eat 10 of them."

As my eyes became used to the light, I saw a room to the right with about 20 tables. The decor was late 19th century, and very little has been changed since Emperor Franz Josef used to pop in for an apple turnover. In the center of the shop was the high altar, filled with pastries and gugelhupf.

I started to shake uncontrollably, and Bourgin had to slap me in the face to bring me back to my senses.

The women who wait on people are known as the Sisters of Demel's. They are dressed in shapeless black smocks and have all taken vows never to serve any pastry unless it has been made with butter. Tattooed on their arms are the words: "Death Before Shortening."

As I sat at a table and prepared to eat six pastries, I heard a low rumbling, groaning and moaning.

"What's that?" I asked Mr. Bourgin.

"That's what is known as the Demel lament. Each afternoon the women come here and start moaning, 'Oh, I can't eat this — it's so fattening. Oh I can't take another bite I shouldn't! Tomorrow I will eat nothing all day. I swear this is the last Sacher Torte I will touch for a month!

Leave It Alone

(Winston Salem Journal)

As a State senator from the county of Mecklenburg, the state's largest, Herman A. Moore is acutely aware of the very real need of local governments to find more revenue. However, his search now is threatening to lead him down a blind alley.

Sen. Moore has suggested that county - owned and operated vehicle inspection stations would turn a tidy profit, and that Mecklenburg eventually could count on $250,000 annually from that source. This would mean, naturally, the abandonment of the present state - operated - inspection system under which approved garages and filling stations perform the chore.

The suggestion might help the local government till, but if adopted it could very well signal the end of vehicle inspection for a second time, and this is one cat that doesn't have nine lives.

Inspection was first approved in 1947. The state undertook to operate the inspection lanes. Chaos is a succinct description of what ensured. Long waiting lines clogged the state - operated lanes, shortening the tempers of motorists and inspectors alike. What the General Assembly next met in 1949, a score of legislators leaped from their seats at the sound of the opening gavel and vied for the honor of introducing a measure to repeal the law. Repeal was prompt and for a time appeared to be final.

A decade later, serious efforts to revive inspection began. To arguments that inspection would save lives, the late Rep. C. Wayland (Cousin) Spruill of Bertie County, summed up the sentiments of his colleagues: "I don't know how many lives it saved, suh, but it killed 100 politicians."

Not until 1965 were inspection proponents successful. They succeeded then only by answering the complaints of those who had endured the dreadful experiment of 1947-49. The major beef was the state-operated lanes (which under the Moore suggestion would be reincarnated at the county level.). So the job was handed to the garages and filling stations, operating under state supervision. Inspection has gone smoothly, and has won public acceptance. That fact, standing alone, is reason enough to keep hands off the current system.

The counties have not asked for the doubtful privilege of operating inspection lanes. Thier governing boards have their hands full now. So why should a working, successful, and valuable statewide system be abandoned in favor of one fragmented among the 100 counties?

Postal Plan Chilled

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Former Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien's daring proposal to remove the U. S. Post Office Dapartment from politics has been prematurely crippled by government and labor bureaucrats, despite its solid endorsement last week from one of the most prestigious commissions ever named by a President.

The first blow against O'Brien's bold plan to turn the department into a non-profit government corporation came, sadly enough, from his successor as Postmaster General, LBJ intimate and former White House aide W. Marvin Watson, Jr.

Watson's studied unenthusiasm for the commission's proposal, formally released by the White House on Tuesday (July 16), makes it highly unlikely that the outgoing Johnson administration will leave a glowing endorsement of the idea for its successor.

Watson, who came to the White House from the executive suite of Lone Star Steel in Texas and made a reputation here as an efficiency expert, would seem ideally suited to give the commission's proposal a hard push toward Congressional approval next year.

Instead, his failure to endorse it probably triggered President Johnson's own failure to support the de-politicalization of Post Office affairs —the second and more telling blow against the scheme.

The President's attitude is like a parent disowning a child. At O'Brien's urging, Mr. Johnson had created the commission and named Frederick R. Kappel, retired chairman of American Telephone and Telegraph Co., as its head. But after spending more than one million dollars on its year-long study, the commission could get nothing more out of Mr. Johnson than the verdict that it had done a "sobering" job."

Watson had let it be known long after the report was first privately submitted to the White House in May that he had not had time to read it. His public reaction last week was strictly bureaucratic gobbledygook. Watson announced he would "immediately appoint a top-level task force, headed by myself, to thoroughly study all aspects of the report." Translated that means the commission report has little chance to get a real push from Watson.

Nearly as damaging as Watson's and the President's reluctance to endorse the commission's work is the refusal to approve the report by one member of the commission: George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO.

During the commission's sessions, Meany was conspicuous by his absence. In the only minority view by any commission member, he appended this footnote to the proposal: "The status of the Post Office as a Cabinet department has a positive value that should not be discarded lightly.

The reason why Meany failed to endorse the recommendations is easy to find. During the generations of inefficient operation, the Post Office Department has been forced to bargain with Congress over pay rates demanded by postal workers' unions. These unions have built up substantial

Benefit By Slowdown In Mail

By ELMER ROESSNER

The Post Office slowdowns —that's right, there are two —may benefit Western Union, American Telephone & Telegraph, and the independent telephone systems.

Unsure of when letters will be delivered, an increasing number of businessmen and families will turn to telegraph and telephone to get messages through. While more expensive, both are surer and faster and, with telephones, it is possible to get answers immediately.

The first slowdown is that ordered by Postmaster W. Marvin Watson, closing fourth class post offices, cutting Saturday deliveries, refusing to serve new apartment houses and new private homes, and threatening other cuts.

Other Slowdown

The other cut in service is by postal workers. Complaints of slow mail handling come from all parts of the country. It often takes two or three days for mail to move between New York and Washington. Sometimes it takes longer for mail to move a few blocks in New York than it does to get a letter from New York to Chicago.

ELMER ROESSNER

A New Jersey man complained to a postman that he got his magazines only on Thursdays. "Sure," said the Thursday mailman. "The regular man leaves the heavy stuff for me. I'm the relief man."

Things will probably get worse instead of better.

Here are more look-aheads in business:

Pension scandal airing: Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., opens his hearing on pension regulation next week and may uncork some hot facts on how pension contributors are rooked of their security.

Thinner magazines: Expect your magazines to be thinner for the rest of the year. Many advertisers are cutting back, especially traveler advertisers, until they gauge public reaction to the surtax.

Costlier artichokes: A plague of field mice in California coastal areas is threatening the artichoke crop and will push up prices.

Higher appliance prices: GE, Hotpoint, Whirlpool and other biggies have boosted major appliance prices as much as 5 per cent. The little fellows will follow. Higher wages are blamed.

Over The Horizon

Cheaper stainless steel: Union Carbide has announced a new, cheaper process for making stainless steel. It may reduce prices and win back a share of the market from aluminum.

Trucker watcher: A device has been developed in England that, installed in a truck cab, records time, distance, stops and speeds of the truck. If it works, it may be adopted in the U.S., although unions may protest.

U.S. chicken exports endangered: Despite the Kennedy round of tariff cuts, the European Economic Community may act to reduce American imports of chicken. This could force growers to dump more on the U.S. market, resulting in more no-profit prices.

SNOOPY PUPPY TRAPPED — Puppy belonging to Ronnie Walsh of Boston created quite a problem at home when curiosity got the best of him. While sniffing, behind kitchen gas range, his head was collared in small opening of back plate. The pup was freed by a neighbor with the aid of a can of lard. (AP Wirephoto)

N.C. Traffic Deaths Run 88 More Than Last Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thirteen weekend traffic fatalities boosted the death toll on North Carolina's highways this year to 948 or 88 more than for the same period last year.

Three fishermen drowned in Roanoke Sound and at least two other weekend drownings were reported in the state.

James Mayhew, 24, of Davidson, drowned in a boating mishap on Lake Norman Sunday night.

A 16-year-old Kinston youth, Neil Croom, drowned Sunday when he apparently stepped off a sandbar and into a deep hole in the Green Springs Park area of the Neuse River at New Bern.

The three fishermen who drowned in Roanoke Sound Friday night were Alfred Midgett, 67, Jackson Midgett, 52, and Ray Berry, 32, all of Manteo.

Four of the traffic fatalities were pedestrians.

Robert Osborne, 32, of Charlotte, was killed at Charlotte when hit by a car. Delores Williams, 22, of Rt. 2, Wallace, was fatally injured while walking near Wallace.

Jane Pace, 57, of Rt. 2, Zebulon, was hit by a car and killed near Zebulon, as was Robert Lee Battle, 6, of Hugnesville, Md., who was killed near Scotland Neck.

Jean Hamilton, 29, of Raleigh, was killed in a three-car wreck nine miles north of Fayetteville on U.S. 410.

A two-car collision took the life of John Owens, 14, of Thomasville on U.S. 29-A, a mile north of Thomasville.

Josephus Ernest Battle, 46, of Washington, N.C., was killed, the patrol said, when the car he was driving at high speed struck a tree on a rural paved road two miles east of Washington.

Also killed when a car struck a tree was Jesse James Akewright, 25, of Rt. 2, Rocky Point. The mishap occurred on U.S. 17 near Hampton in Pender County.

Floyd Thomas Newcomb, 33, of Peasant Garden, was fatally injured when his car overturned on Interstate 85 about 11 miles east of Greensboro.

Others killed during the weekend in traffic accidents were: Floyd Jeff Stanley, 25, of Rt. 2, Clayton; Sidney E. Griffin, 23, of Rt. 3, Washington; Selma Jean Smith, 29, of Rt. 3 Rockingham and Joseph G. Greenwald, 23, of Camp Lejeune.

Russians Visit Glassboro House

GLASSBORO, N.J. (AP) — Sixty Russian travelers have toured Hollybush, the 19th century mansion at Glassboro State College where President Johnson met Soviet Premier Alexi Kosygin last summer.

The Russian tourists, who flew to the United States last week on the inaugural Moscow—New York flight, visited the mansion Sunday.

A crowd of 300 Gloucester County residents welcomed the visitors.

Mayor William Dalton told his Russian guests he hoped "the spirit of Hollybash will ease tensions throughout the world and be the beacon of future friendly relations" between the two superpowers.

Lease Requires Showing A Light

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — It's a condition of John Sharplin's lease that he keep a light burning in the window.

John, a 37-year-old engineer, and his wife of six months have rented Bona Lighthouse, at the entrance to Loch Ness.

John, who works in the area, said, "It was not easy to find a home, but my wife learned the lighthouse wa sfor rent." When the couple saw the whitewashed building on the shore of the Loch, with the mountains flung up on either side, they fell in love with the place.

One term of the lease is that John and Margaret must keep an eye on the light which shines from the lighthouse, marking the entrance to Loch Ness, which forms part of the Caledonian Canal slicing across Scotland from east to west. Some say the beam at times lights up the wash stirred up by the monster reputed to live in the Loch.

John has to make sure the light is on. "If it goes out I have to put an oil lamp in its place and report it immediately," he says.

Meeting Tonight With Rockefeller

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York is to meet with North Carolina delegates to the Republican National Convention this evening in Charlotte after an airport rally.

Due to join Rockefeller in Charlotte for the brief visit is William E. Miller, Barry Goldwater's running mate in the 1964 presidential election.

Miller, an attorney in Buffalo, N.Y., now, has endorsed Rockefeller's bid for the GOP presidential nomination this year.

In a telephone interview Sunday, Miller predicted a Rockefeller victory at the GOP convention in Miami Beach. The convention begins next Monday.

"I think we're going to make it," Miller said. "My estimate is that Nixon won't get over 500 votes on the first ballot."

A candidate needs 667 votes to win the Republican nomination. Most recent delegate estimates have shown former Vice President Richard Nixon much closer than Miller's estimate.

North Carolina's delegation is believed leaning heavily to Nixon, but Rockefeller officials expected about 70 per cent of the 26 delegates and 26 alternate delegates to show up to meet Rockefeller.

"I feel that it is no more than right that we should listen to all the candidates," said George W. Marschall, an alternate from Fayetteville, "although I'm leaning towards Nixon myself."

Mrs. Geraldine Neilson, a delegate from Winston-Salem, said she supports Nixon for the nomination but she noted that she lived in Albany, capital of New York, for four years. Rockefeller "is no stranger to me politically," she said.

Her husband, Dr. Elbon Neilson, ran unsuccessfully for Congress in the 5th District this past election.

Some delegates recall that Rockefeller refused to support Goldwater in 1964.

"It's hard for me to forget what Rockefeller did in 1964," said John Shallcross, a delegate from Smithfield. "He didn't have to be for him, but he didn't have to be against him."

Shallcross added:

"I think Rockefeller is from the school that says you solve problems by throwing money at them."

Mrs. Neilson said that the delegation had not yet determined if it will vote on the first ballot for Jim Gardner, GOP gubernatorial candidate in North Carolina and leader of the delegation.

State delegations often vote for their leaders on the first ballot so as not to commit themselves before a winner is obvious.

Mrs. Neilson predicted that if it looks like Nixon will win on the first ballot, North Carolina delegates will probably vote for him.

Rockefeller was due in Charlotte at 5:30 p.m. on a flight from Cincinnati, where he is attending the National Governors Conference. Miller was to arrive from New York.

Rockefeller is to leave Charlotte for the return flight to Cincinnati about 7 p.m. aboard his chartered 727 jet.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force chief of staff says he is concerned whether U.S. jet fighters could match the Soviet Union's in aerial dogfights and has called for faster development of a new plane.

Gen. John P. McConnell said in Senate preparedness subcommittee testimony released Sunday, "it is imperative that we proceed as fast as we can with the FX aircraft."

The Soviets have a new Foxbat which may be the fastest plane in the world, McConnell said, but the main U.S. plane remains the F4 Phantom.

He said development of the FX now slated to be a lightweight fighter primarily for air combat, has been delayed partly by disagreement over whether it should be designed for other purposes as well.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Suffering of hundreds and perhaps thousands of people from oral cancer could be prevented by detection procedures demonstrated in Brooklyn, a federal health official says.

Dr. William L. Ross, chief of the U.S. Public Health Service's cancer-control program, said Sunday doctors and dentists in the test program proved lesions can be detected so small that treatment could be successful in all cases.

Ross said no new technique was used in the federalized-aided test at Brookdale Hospital Center—only meticulous examination of mouth and oral cells under microscopes.

He recommended doctors and dentists follow the prescribed procedures and said patients should insist on oral examinations as part of physical checkups.

Four Injured In Sunday Wreck

Greenville police reported four persons were in a 2:15 a.m. Sunday collision at the intersection of Pitt and Second Streets.

Officers said injuries resulted when a car driven by John Arthur Roberts, 42, of 1309 Mill St. collided with a utility pole.

Damage to the car was placed at $600 and damage to the pole was estimated to be $150.

Investigators said Roberts and three passengers in the car were taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment of their injuries.

Roberts was charged with careless and reckless driving.

Eastern N.C. Moose To Rally Here Wednesday For A Visit By Order's Director General

Members of ENOCA (Eastern North Carolina) Legion of the Moose were reminded here yesterday of things to come:

(1) the visit of Director General Paul Schmitz to eastern North Carolina on Wednesday;

(2) the State Moose Association Convention beginning August 22 in Winston-Salem; and

(3) the annual family outing at White Lake on September 8.

The Legionaires, representing Moose lodges east of Raleigh, were also told that recently formed lodges in Ahoskie, Hertford and Warsaw had been assigned to the ENOCA jurisdiction.

A highlight of the Summer Ceremonial Sunday was the advancing of 79 members of the fraternity to the 2nd degree, the Legion of the Moose.

The Greenville Moose will host the visit of Director General Paul Schmitz, and several hundred Moose from lodges in the eastern half of the state are expected to be on hand for the occasion. It will be the first visit of Schmitz to Greenville. His visit will be marked by enrollment of a large class of candidates into the fraternity.

PAUL SCHMITZ
. . . Director General

Schmitz has held the Order's highest position since 1953, and guides activities of more than a million men and women in the over 2,000 lodges in the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

Cecil Webster, the Supreme Governor of the Moose, will be present Wednesday evening: as will Regional Director Frank Ray, State Director W.A. Moon, and a number of state and district officers will also be on hand.

The meeting and enrollment will begin at 8:30 p.m. A buffet will be served following the meeting

Legion members Sunday voted to give $1,000 above their commitment to the Health Center at Moosehaven, in Flordia. Legion Councilman Edwin Baldree also announced the Legion was sponsoring a float for the fraternity in the annual Parade of Roses at Pasadena, Calif.

Morehead City will host ENOCA Legion in October; Washington in April; and Goldsboro was chosen for the ceremonial in July, 1969.

Special guests included Harry Morris, of Clifside Park, N.J., Ralph Williams, designated as the incoming Deputy Supreme Governor, William Chaney and Frank Sawyer, both of Burlington.

Greenville Moose members advanced to the second degree, were:

T.P. Robinson Jr., Curtis Jones, Winton L. Hill, James R. Andrews, John J. Payne, Linwood C. Edwards, Euel Atkinson, Lester Earl Elks, Billy C. Ellis, William Cohn,

F.G. Harrington Sr., Alton E. Warren, Gene S. Smith, Richard J. Jones, J.D. Singleton, Eugene R. Edwards, Jr., Roland H. Stocks, William S. Haste, Dave L. Moret, H. Lloyd Fornes Jr., Jack R. ## Knows Estelle's 'Next Step'

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Motorists driving on a main thoroughfare were surprised to see a large billboard sign which read:

"She's too old for Camp,

"She's too young for Medicare,

"What will ESTELLE do Next?"

An El Paso Herald Post reporter found the sign was the work of Nathan Goldman of El Paso, as a tribute to his wife, Estelle, graduating from the University of Texas at El Paso.

Mrs. Goldman had had her education interrupted by illness, caring for a husband and looking after a family. Finally she received a degree after attending college off and on for eight years.

When Goldman was contacted and asked to verify the sign's meaning, he said he knew what Estelle would do next

"She is going to punch me in the nose," he said

Lincoln Center 'Ballet Center'

NEW YORK (AP) — Lincoln Center was "Ballet Center" on June 4, 5 and 6. The New York City Ballet was dancing at the New York State Theater, during its eight-week spring season. Stars of the Bolshoi were dancing at the Metropolitan Opera, as part of a month-long run there.

And at Philharmonic Hall, the promenade series included a new pas de deux to Tchaikovsky's "Suite for Orchestra Nos. 1 and 2."

Jacques d'Amboise and Melissa Hayden of the New York City Ballet danced the pas de deux at the promenade concerts. On June 5, Miss Hayden also crossed Lincoln Center Plaza to dance the title role of "Firebird" with the New York City Ballet.

On June 6, D'Amboise, who choreographed the pas de deux he and Miss Hayden danced, "plaza hopped" to dance in the diamonds section of "Jewels" with the New York City Ballet.

Dean Martin's Daughter Is Wed

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Singer Dean Martin's daughter, Gail, 22, was married Saturday to attorney Paul Francis Polena, 42. It was his third marriage, her first. They planned a honeymoon in Las Vegas and Australia.

The wedding was performed on the tennis court of the Martin home.

political influence with House and Senate Post Office committees, based on campaign contributions. This has given union leaders vast power in closed-door postal pay and postal rate bargaining sessions on Capitol Hill.

The unions don't want to trade this proven political power for a new system — simple, old-fashioned bargaining between the unions and the proposed government-owned corporation that would run the postal service. The fact that the Kappel recommendations carefully safeguard the unions' health, welfare, and pension benefits is not enough to bring them around.

Elizabeth Taylor Has Operation

LONDON (AP) — An operation, to correct "a minor woman's complaint," was performed on actress Elizabeth Taylor at a nursing home here Sunday.

Her husband actor Richard Burton, was at the nursing clinic while consultant gynecologist Gordon Bourne conducted the operation, her second in five days.

Neither the nursing home nor friends would state the exact nature of Miss Taylor's ailment or estimate her length of stay at the clinic. But a spokesman said her condition as "quite satisfactory."

Boros To Play More After PGA

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Julius Boros. the grand old man of pro golf, has some bad news for the young turks on the tour.

The 48-year-old champion of the 1968 PGA tournament plans to keep on playing and playing.

"I've got seven kids to educate—and the first one starts to college in a couple of years," Boros said after winning the PGA crown Sunday for the first time in his long career.

"As an old accountant, I know what kind of money that means."

Boros worked as a bookkeeper for years before he turned pro at the age of 29.

"I'd like to drop off the tour —but I can't find anything else to do to make the kind of money I'll need to get those kids through college," Boros said.

The paunchy, sweet-swinging hero of the middle-aged set was able to boost the college kitty with a $25,000 creck for his one-stroke edge over Arnold Palmer and New Zealand southpaw Bob Charles in the frenzied finish at the Pecan Valley Course.

They all started the final round two strokes off the pace. Boros fired a one-under-par 69 for a 281 total, and Palmer and Charles each turned in a 70 for 282.

Palmer made a dramatic bid for a tying birdie on the 18th with a spectacular three-wood blast from the rough to the green, but he missed the eight-foot putt and took a par.

"Maybe it's just not to be," said Palmer, who has never won a PGA title and has been in a slump for months.

Tied for fourth were George Archer, who closed with a 69, and Marty Fleckman, who led for three rounds but slipped to a finishing 73. They had 283 totals.

Frank Beard, who shared the lead with Fleckman on the second and third rounds, faded to a 74 and finished in a tie for sixth at 284 with Billy Casper, who closed with a 70.

Lee Trevino, the sentimental favorite of San Antonio's Mexican-American residents, shot himself out of contention with a pair of double bogeys on the first six hiles. He was back in the pack at 288 after his final-round 76.

High Pointer Inks Buc Pact

Tim Ilderton, a 5-11, 188 pound guard from High Point, has signed a football grant in aid with East Carolina University.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Carey Ilderton of 216 Hillcrest Drive, High Point.

"Ilderton is a good offensive blocker, with good speed and agility. He should be an outstanding blocking back," said Harold Bullard, Pirate coach who recruited Ilderton.

BIGGEST ARENA

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)— The Municipal Stadium here is the largest sports arena in the world, with a seating capacity of 155,000. It once held 199,854 for the finals of soccer's world cup tournament.

Pearson Claims Volunteer Win

BRISTOL, Tenn. (AP) — Warmed by a highly competitive field and a malfunctioning "cool suit," David Pearson perspired freely as he addressed the press box crowd after winning the Volunteer 500 stock car race Sunday.

"The cool suit quit working with about 50 laps to go," said the Spartanburg, S.C., Ford driver of the tubing network that pipes ice water through his clothes during a race to combat the fierce heat of the track.

"I sure was glad to see that checkered flag."

According to Pearson, the suit was about all that went wrong during his afternoon drive, despite two brushes with the wall and a near collision with Charlie Glotzbach's 1968 Dodge in the second turn.

Pearson's 1968 Ford took the lead on the 272nd lap for good, finishing 1½ miles ahead of Cale Yarborough of Timmonsville, S.C., in a 1968 Mercury.

It was his third victory in two years at the half-mile Bristol International Speedway.

Bobby Isaac of Catawba, N.C., was third in a 1968 Dodge, followed by Swede Savage of Los Angeles, in a Ford and Friday Hassler of Chattanooga, Tenn., in a 1966 Chevrolet.

Pearson averaged 74.783 miles an hour in winning first-prize money of $5,175.

Five other drivers led the race at various times, but mechanical ills sidelined nearly all of them.

Glotzbach, of Georgetown, Ind., led for 74 laps but retired with a blown engine after 385 laps.

Another Hoosier driver, Paul Goldsmith of Munster, Ind., led for 152 laps before his 1968 Dodge went behind tte pitt wall for good with rear end problems.

Top qualifier Lee Roy Yarbrough of Columbia, S.C., blew an engine in his 1968 Ford on the 120th lap. He had been running second at the time.

Detroit Manager Smith Happy With AL Race After Dropping Doubleheader To Orioles

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Earl Weaver knew what it would take to make him happy but the question is: what does it take to make Mayo Smith unhappy?

Smith, with a stiff upper lip, watched the Baltimore Orioles sweep a doubleheader from his Detroit club 5-2 and 4-1, Sunday, turning the Tigers' American League pennant runaway into a pennant race, and still he found reason to rejoice.

"I'd have liked someone to tell me we would be 5½ games in front this late in the season," he managed to say with a smile. This despite the fact that the Tigers led the league by 9½ games 10 days ago at the All-Star break.

The happiness of Weaver, who is 9-3 since taking over from Hank Bauer as Baltimore's manager, is easier to believe.

"Three out of four was what we wanted," he said of the Orioles three straight victories over the Tigers after Friday night's loss.

Alvin Dark manager of Cleveland, can't be too sad either after his Indians walked backward into third place and still gained ground on Detroit. The Indians are also 5½ games back two percentage points behind Baltimore, after beating the New York Yankees 4-1 and then losing 8-4.

Boston, 9½ games out also missed a chance to climb closer by splitting with Washington, winning 4-3 before losing 4-3.

Completing the full schedule of doubleheaders, Minnesota swept Oakland 7-5 and 10-0 and the Chicago White Sox stumped California 5-1 before losing 7-0.

In the National League, St. Louis split with the New York Mets, winning 2-0 before losing 1-0; San Francisco defeated Houston 6-1 after losing 2-1 in 10 innings; Pittsburgh blanked Atlanta 6-0; Cincinnati crushed Philadelphia 12-6, and the Chicago Cubs beat Los Angeles 7-2.

The Orioles, who get three more shots at Detroit this weekend, replaced Cleveland in second place on the pitching of Jim Hardin Tom Phoebus and Gene Brabender.

Hardin, 12-5 scattered seven hits for the first game victory. He was in command after Detroit's Tom Matchick tied the score 2-2 with a two-run homer in the fifth inning, and got the run he needed when Frank Robisnon doubled and Boog Powell singled him home in the sixth off Earl Wilson, 7-8.

Dave Johnson, who had hree hits, scored twice and drove in one run, and Curt Blefary later homered for insurance runs.

Phoebus, 10-9, who left six Tigers on base in five innings left in favor of Brabender with the bases loaded and one out in the sixth of the nightcap, and Brabender completed he three-nitter by retiring 11 consecutive hitters.

Powell slugled his 15th homer for Baltimore's first run and Johnson rapped two doubles for two more runs and scored once on Phoebus' hit.

Sam McDowell 10-8 with shutout relief help from rookie Vincente Romo from the sixth inning, got Cleveland home in their opener, but the Indians walked themselves out of second place in the nightcap.

Starter Steve Hargan walked in two runs, reliever Mike Paul walked and balked in two more and Nal Kurtz walked in still another.

Home runs by Mike Epstein and Bernie Allen helped Washington to a 4-0 lead and ruined Boston in its second game after Reggie Smith clouted two homers to give the Red Sox the opener.

Frank Howard had belted his 27th homer and a two-run triple for a 3-2 lead before Smith connected with one on in the eighth.

Bob Allison, who homered in the first game for Minnesota, cracked a double, triple and three-run homer to make Jim Perry's seventh victory in 13 decisions easy.

Tony Oliva drove in three runs with a homer and sacrifice fly as Jim Katt raised his mark to 7-6 in the first contest.

Joe Horlen and Hoyt Wilhelm combined on a five-hitter for Chicago's triumph, but Clyde Wright twirled a six-hitter for the Angels in the second game to stop the White Sox. He was backed by home runs from Rick Reichardt and Roger Repoz.

Card's Gibson Hurls 10th Straight Win

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jerry Koosman split a pot with Bob Gibson when the New York Mets stacked the deck at St. Louis ... and Jim McAndrew got caught in the shuffle.

Gibson hurled his 10th consecutive victory and seventh shutout Sunday as the Cardinals spoiled McAndrew's major league pitching debut by shading New York 2-0 in the first game of a doubleheader.

Koosman, deliberately held out of a direct confrontation with Gibson, then pitched the Mets to a 1-0 victory, setting a club shutout record in the process and matching the St. Louis ace's 13-5 season mark.

McAndrew, who battled Gibson to a standoff until Bob Tolan tagged an inside-the-park homer in the sixth inning, wasn't around to see Met Manager Gil Hodges' gambit pay off in a split with the National League leaders.

The Mets returned the 24-year-old right-hander to their Jacksonville farm club after the first game

Second-place Atlanta bowed to Pittsburgh 6-0 and fell 10½ games behind the Cardinals. The Cincinnati Reds slugged Philadelphia 12-6 for their fourth straight triumph and climbed into a third place tie with the Phillies and San Francisco Lqiants—63 games off the pace.

The Giants divided a twin bill with Houston, dropping the opener 2-1 in 10 innings and taking the nightcap 3-1. Chicago cuffed Los Angeles 7-2 in a single game.

Baltimore swept Detroit's American League leaders 5-2 and 4-1; Minnesota took two from Oakland 7-5 and 10-0; the New York Yankees stopped Cleveland 8-4 after a 4-1 loss to the Indians; the Chicago White Sox beat California 5-1 before falling to the Angels 7-0 and Boston split a pair of 4-3 verdicts with Washington.

Gibson, unbeaten since May 28, scattered seven hits and struck out 13 in outlasting McAndrew under a blazing sun at St. Louis.

Koosman stayed at the head of the Mets' talented young mound staff with a brilliant four-hitter in the nightcap. He struck out 12 on the way to his fifth shutout—a Mets season mark.

New York nicked Nelson Briles, 11-7, for the game's lone run in the sixth, when Cleon Jones singled, took second on an infield out and tallied on a single by J.C. Martin.

Home runs by Willie Stargell, Donn Clendenon and Jose Pagan propelled Pittsburgh's Steve Blass to his seventh straight victory and gave the Pirates a sweep of their three-game set at Atlanta.

Stargell got the Pirates started with a three-run first inning blast off Milt Pappas and Blass checked the Braves on seven hits, bringing his season record to 8-2.

Lee May, Jim Beauchamp and pitcher Tony Cloninger belted homers and Leo Cardenas stroked a single, double, triple and sacrifice fly, good for three RBI, as the Reds buried Philadelphia under a 15-nit barrage.

Cloninger went seven innings before giving way to relief ace Ted Abernathy and picked up only his second victory against five setbacks.

Dick Simpson's run-scoring single in the 10th sent the Astros past the Giants in the first game. Southpaw Mike McCormick throttled the Astros on six hits in the nightcap while rookie Bobby Bonds triggered San Francisco's attack with three hits.

With Willie McCovey nursing a knee injury in the second game, the Giants brought Willie Mays in from the outfield to play first base for the first time since 1954. He handled eight chances without a flaw.

Billy Williams poled a pair of two-run homers and delivered another run with a sacrifice fly as the Cubs trimmed the Dodgers behind Bill Hands, 10-5, and reliever Phil Regan.

Glenn Beckert, who had run his hitting streak to 25 games—tops in the majors this year—in Saturday night's loss to Los Angeles, cracked a triple and three singles and drove in the other two Chicago runs.

Namath Back-Up Begins As Boston Quarterback

NEW YORK (AP) — It was a week early, but Mike Taliaferro is well satisfied with his birthday gift—a new uniform.

The veteran quarterback, who will be 27 Friday, will be wearing a Boston Patriots outfit this fall when the American Football League season opens.

That's just the way Taliaferro wanted it. After playing behind Je Namath for three years with the New York Jets, Taliaferro asked to be traded for an opportunity to win a starting job.

The Jets obliged Saturday by dealing him to the Patriots for 38-year-old veteran Babe Parilli, who shared the starting job with Don Trull last season. Taliaferro will battle Trull for the job.

"Trull will start out a little ahead, because he was with us half last year," Patriots' General Manager-Coach Mike Holovak said, referring to the 1967 mid-season trade that brought Trull from Houston. "But Taliaferro will get every chance to win the job."

Taliaferro needs only three more games in active duty to become eligible for the AFL pension, but he shrugs that off.

"To get the pension I have to live until 65," he said. "I'm thinking of now."

Taliaferro had little chance to play behind Namath, who set a pro passing record of 4,007 yards last season, breaking Parilli's mark of 3,465 in 1964 when he was the AFL's all-star quarterback.

Taliaferro, of the University of Illinois, managed only 20 passes, completing 11 for 96 yards after suffering a shoulder separation in a preseason game.

Parilli, a 14-year veteran of the National Football League, the Canadian League and the AFL, had heard the cheers of 1964 turn to boos last season. He completed 161 passes in 344 attempts for 2,317 yards and 19 touchdowns and had 24 interceptions as the Pats finished last in the Eastern Division.

"Babe still has a great arm and has always been an excellent play caller and leader," Jets General Manager-Coach Weeb Eubank said. "We feel we have a good chance to win the Eastern Division title this year and wanted to get a backup quarterback such as Babe to insure our chances."

Veteran fullback Bill Brown walked out of the Minnesota Vikings training camp Sunday, apparently in a contract dispute. Brown could not be reached for comment, but a club officials said they were sure his departure was linked to the contract difficulties.

The seven-year veteran is the club's leading ground gainer.

Three tackles, starters Sherman Plunkett and Paul Rochester and reserve Jim Harris, reported to the New York Jets' training camp overweight and were ordered to pay their own room and board.

The action was taken by Coach Ewbank, who also said Plunkett and Rochester had lost their starting jobs and must regain them.

Plunkett weighed in at 337—37 pounds over, Rochester was six over at 256 and Harris has shed 17 of the 303 pounds he reported with last week—but it wasn't enough.

Two Sox Fined In Curfew Case

BOSTON (AP) — Two Boston Red Sox baseball players were fined $500 by the club for curfew violations and face court arraignment today on charges of being drunk.

Third baseman Joe Foy, 25, and pitcher Juan Pizarro, 31, were arrested at 3 a.m. Sunday after their car and a taxi collided near Boston Common. Police said Foy was driving.

Manager Dick Williams suspended both players for the curfew violation. The curfew requires both players to be in bed by 12:30 a.m. and within 2½ hours following night games.

Both players were not at Fenway Park for Sunday's doubleheader with Washington. This automatically cost them a day's pay.

Police said Foy and Pizarro became involved in a heated dispute with the two officers who arrived at the scene of the accident.

Hi-Toms Cool R-D Mets By Ending Win Streak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

High Point-Thomasville finally cooled off the red hot Raleigh-Durham Mets after the Mets had swept a doubleheader from Carolina League-leading Salem Saturday night and won the first game of a double-header with the Hi-Toms Sunday.

Ron Montgomery allowed 11 hits but gave up only one run as he pitched the Hi-Toms to a 6-1 victory in the second game of the double bill. The Mets pounded out 15 hits for a 12-5 win in the opener.

Salem snapped back from its two-game loss to the Mets by edging Greensboro 7-6. Greensboro had tied the score in the top of the ninth when Jay Schlueter was walked with the bases loaded. But Salem turned the tables when Vic Ramirez, in turn, got a bases loaded walk.

Burlington took advantage of seven Rock Mount errors to score six unearned runs and chalked up a 9-3 victory despite a fi nenoe man try by Rocky Mount's Bob Heumann who slammed out a two-run homer and a triple.

Dick Fernandez sparked Peninsula to a 3-1 win over Kinston by doubling hom two runs in the fifth inning.

Wonston-Salem pounded out a 7-5 victory over Portsmouth in the first game of a doubleheader but the Tides came back on the three-hit pitching of Dave Bennett to take the second 5-0.

Wilson defeated Lynchburg 7-4 in 16 innings.

Raleigh-Durham had topped Salem 2-0 and 3-2 Saturday night. The second game went eight innings.

Wilson edged Peninsula 1-0 in 10 innings and the took the Tides 5-3 saturday night.

In other Saturday night games, Portsmouth defeated the Hi-Toms 6-4, but lost the second game 5-4. Greensboro and Winston-Salem also split, Greensboro winning the first game 9-1 but losing the second 9-3.

Lynchburg took both games from Burlington, 8-3 and 1-0, while Rocky Mount defeated Kinston 2-1 in a 13-inning game.

Tonight's schedule: Peninsula at Kinston, High Point-Thomasville at Raleigh-Durham, Rocky Mount at Burlington, Portsmouth at Winston-Salem, Greensboro at Salem and Wilson at Lynchburg.

Win Opener

Greenville Teener League All-Stars won their first game in the State Tournament today with a 10-0 shutout over Elizabeth City. They played their second game in the double elimination tourney with Shelby at 2:45 p.m. on the Belmont Abbey field.

Russ Smith was the winning pitcher over Elizabeth City with one walk, nine strikeouts and only three hits against him.

Immanuel Takes 11-7 Church Triumph To Pressure Presbyterian For Lead

Immanuel continued to pressure Church Softball leader Presbyterian Friday night with an 11-7 victory over Oakmont. In the other game, Grace romped over Pentecostal 45-5.

Presbyterian leads the league with a 12-1 record. St. James (12-2) and Immanuel (13-3) follow a half-game out. All with even records and tied for third are Grace (8-8), Mt. Pleasant (7-7) and Oakmont (7-7). Meadowbrook (7-8), Jarvis and Gum Swamp, both 2-11, and Pentecostal (1-11) fill out the standings.

In the second game, Peede slammed a third inning homer for Grace, while Horne followed with another in the fourth. Jones and Hardy knocked a pair of home runs in the sixth, and Jones finished up with another homer in the seventh.

Graebner Pockets Clay Court Title

MILWAUKEE Wis. (AP) — Clark Graebner put the finishing touch on a successful week at the National Clay Courts Tennis Championships Sunday by winning the men's singles championship for the first time.

The women's title went to Nancy Richey, San Angelo, Tex. for the sixth consecutive year.

Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif., who lost the singles championship to Graebner in straight sets, teamed with Bob Lutz, Los Angeles, for the men's doubles title. Miss Richey and Valeria Ziegenfuss, San Diego, Calif., won in women's doubles.

Graebner a semifinalist at Wimbledon has stepped to the winner's circle in clay courts doubles competition on four occasions, but the singles title always eluded him until Sunday.

He lost just one set in beating his doubles teammate second seeded Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico, in the semifinal round, then took Smith 6-3, 7-5, 6-0 for the title.

Miss Richey triumphed 3-3, 6-3 over 17-year-old Linda Tuero, the No. 8 seed from Metairie, La.

The Volkswagen Squareback is one of the few cars in the world with a fuel injection system.

A computer was designed to control this system. To think for it.

For instance, the computer figures engine speed, engine load and engine temperature.

Then sends precise amounts of fuel and air to each cylinder.

Fuel waste decreases; mileage increases. And you'll get about 27 miles to the gallon.

What you won't get are carburetor problems. There is no carburetor. Nothing to adjust, nothing to clean, nothing to ice.

Only the VW Squareback (and its sister car, the Fastback) has a fuel injection system and a thinking computer.

McCarthy Camp Proposes 3 Humphrey Debates

KIWANIS RECEIVE SPONSOR'S AWARD . . . C. B. "Kip" West, manager of the Kiwanis Little League Baseball team, presents a Sponsor's Certificate to Kiwanis Vice-President Roscoe King. In addition to West, the Little Leaguers were present at last week's meeting.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugent J. McCarthy's camp has proposed three national television confrontations with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey on "the issues confronting and dividing the nation and the party" from Vietnam to economics.

Both the Democratic presidential rivals agreed during a weekend filled with pre-national convention political activity to join in at least one televise discussion, but there was little agreement on details.

Other developments included a report Humphrey had turned own a suggestion that he resign the vice presidency to show independence from the Johnson administration. And California Gov. Ronal Reagan said he "couldn't possibly" announce as a GOP presidential contender before the party's convention.

Blair Clark, McCarthy's campaign director, Sunday proposed separate McCarthy-Humphrey televised discussions on foreign policy, domestic and economic policy, and the candidates' concepts of the presidency and government.

Humphrey aides favored a confrontation the week before the Democratic National Convention begins Aug. 26 but McCarthy's people said it should be earlier to permit delegates and the public to analyze what they hear.

The two sides also disagreed on what to call the meeting. Humphrey's people used the term "discussion" and although McCarthy aides were not saying "debate" as in the past, they said their man wanted "the freest and clearest" exchange of views.

Vermont Gov. Philip H. Hoff said Sunday Humphrey turned down the vice presidency-resignation suggestion a week ago during a meeting with Hoff and Maine Gov. Kenneth M. Curtis.

Hoff said he told Humphrey his major campaign problem is that "you can't be your own man" while serving as vice president.

But the governor said Humphrey replied he could not resign the position to which he was elected.

Curtis did not join in Hoff's suggestion but told newsmen nomination of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy as Humphrey's vice presidential running mate might provide the drama and wider appeal he said Humphrey's campaign needs.

Hoff and Curtis told of the Humphrey meeting at a National Governors Conference in Cincinnati Sunday dominated by huddles on the nominating conventions next month.

There had been new talk Reagan might announce as an active GOP presidential contender but he repeated on arrival he would not become one before his nomination as a favorite-son candidate at the convention.

"I couldn't possibly make a change on that at this time," Reagan said. "We'll go to the convention and then it's up to the delegates."

But Michigan Gov. George Romney said: "I consider he's a pretty active candidate now. He seems to be doing pretty well."

A reported plan at the conference to form a coalition of Republican governors behind one candidate lost momentum when Gov. James A. Rhodes, a favorite son, said he would not commit his key Ohio convention delegation to anyone.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, meanwhile, predicted GOP presidential rival Richard M. Nixon will fall at least 100 delegate votes short of the 667 needed to win nomination on the first ballot.

Rockefeller said in a New York Times interview he expects to go on from there to win the nomination at the convention beginning Aug. 5 in Miami Beach.

Nixon met with most of Reagan's California delegation in Los Angeles Sunday and said he would not "raid the delegation." He indicated he considered Republican unity later more important than a fight for delegates now.

Third party presidential candidate George C. Wallace said Sunday one way to stop a riot would be "to knock some people in the head."

If a man throws a firebomb, assaults a policeman or breaks a window, Wallace said, "I think he'd be getting out mighty light if somebody knocked him in the head. I think that's what ought to be done."

Wallace was interviewed in Washington on CBS' "Face the Nation."

Preparations for both national party conventions were embroiled in labor disputes but officials in both cases were optimistic.

Electrical workers picketed the Republicans' convention hall in Miami Beach in a dispute with CBS over who will feed information into a computerized device that superimposes pictures for the television screen.

The telephone strike threatening communications for the Democratic National Convention in Chicago lacked a decisive breakthrough. But Illinois Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro said there is a "strong possibility" a strike moratorium can be arranged.

In other political developments:

—New York Mayor John V. Lindsay said he has "no interest whatever" in being vice president and indicated he would refuse to accept any running mate offer from the GOP presidential nominee.

Lindsay was interviewed in New York on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

—Two congressmen said they have asked all presidential contenders, including Wallace, to endorse a plan to prevent bargaining for the presidency if there is no majority winner in November.

Reps. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., and Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., said they hope to announce responses Tuesday. The plan is aimed against the possibility Wallace' candidacy could prevent a victory for either major party candidate and put him in a position to bargain with them for his electoral votes.

—Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said a Rockefeller-Reagan ticket would be "contrived" but he could swallow hard and support it.

GIs In Vietnam Are For Gun Control Bills

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — An informal survey among American combat troops whose lives depend on their weapons shows a strong sentiment for moderate to strong gun control laws in the United States.

But at the same time, most of the GIs interviewed on Saigon's outer defense perimeter said they thought short of confiscation controls would do little to cut down on gun deaths.

Spec 5 Jerry Ballard of Kansas City, Mo., said, "I'm a member of the National Rifle Association (NRA) and I'm against confiscation. But I think mandatory registration of weapons is okay. A gun is no different from a car as far as that goes. And stopping mail order sales is a good idea."

Lt. Alfred Pick of Dallas, Tex., said proposed gun laws seemed "ridiculouis. Crooks and assassins can always get a gun whether it is registered or not." Pick said he was not opposed to reasonable gun laws.

Spec. 4 Paul Young of Burbank, Calif., said as a devoted hunter, he would not mind gun registration laws but added: "No matter what gun laws they pass, if someone really wants a gun he'll find a way to get it. And don't forget, it's the people who do the killing, not the gun. Weapons are not bad by themselves."

"A lot of guys worry about registration because they think it may eventually violate their right to bear arms," said Spec. 4 John Krumpus of Des Plaines, Ill.

"But I think it's a great idea to register and license weapons in the United States. I've seen what these things can do to people and there ought to be some sort of control.

"But if a guy is crazy enough to kill (in the United States), he'll find a way to get a weapon. If there's no pistol or rifle around, he'll use a baseball bat."

A few GIs said that when they returned home they planned to get rid of the weapons they had in the States, particularly hand guns.

In the past, a few have said Vietnam had even soured them on hunting and that they would never take another life, even that of an animal, once they got out of Vietnam.

Several GIs deplored what has been called the arms ra[illegible] in some U.S. cities with racial unrest. A common remark was that those who had not seen what guns can do to another human couldn't fully realize the consequences of pulling a trigger in anger until it was too late.

More Than 600 Huddle In Biafra Starvation Camp

By DAVID MAZZARELLA
Associated Press Writer

CAMP ITAK IKOT, Biafra (AP) — More than 600 members of the Ibibio tribe, caught in the middle of the Nigerian civil war, huddle in this front line refugee camp with nearly empty stomachs. Children suffering from malnutrition clutch frantically at their mothers' wizened breasts.

A 30-year-old woman lies panting on the ground, complaining in a croaking voice that she can no longer stand on her reedthin legs.

"I can feed them for two more weeks," says the camp warden, the Rev. Lawrence Ntia, an Ibibio who became a Roman Catholic priest.

"We got 48 cans of tinned fish three days ago from Caritas (the Catholic relief organization) and today a man from the Red Cross came with six bags of milk and five bags each of egg powder and salt."

Father Ntia said this means the refugees, at least for a few days, will get a little more than their occasional cup of mashed cassava root.

Most of the refugees came to the camp from the no man's land around Ikot Ekpene, a town which has been fiercely contested by the armies of the Nigerian Federation and breakaway Biafra.

The province is inhabited mainly by Ibibios, a minority tribe overshadowed by the main antagonists in the civil war—the Ibos of Biafra and the Hausas and Yorubas of the federation.

Many of the Ibibios fled into the steaming forest when the fighting got heavy and have not come out.

"They are starving," said Father Ntia. "Soldiers and civil defense workers go into the bush to try to get them out, but many of them ran farther away, afraid the soldiers will shoot them."

Nevertheless there has been a steady flow of refugees to the camp, which is now overcrowded. And Itak Ikot is only one of many refugee camps in the area.

"The conditions are the same in all the other places," said Father Ntia.

International Relief organizations have been trying for weeks to get aid to the camps but have been largely stymied by shaky clandestine transportation facilities and political controversy.

Adult Driver Training Course Starts Thursday

Pitt Technical Institute will begin an Adult Driver Training course for those 18 years of age or older, Thursday at 7:00 p.m. in the H. G. Sugg School.

This course is composed of 36 hours classroom work, a minimum of six hours behind-the-wheel driving, and 12 hours observation in a dual-controlled car. There is a $16.00 fee for this course. The classroom instruction will meet on Monday and Thursday nights at H. B. Sugg High School from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. in the mobile classroom unit. The driving part of the class will be scheduled during the afternoons and Saturdays and each person can be picked up at their residence and returned after the driving period.

Interested persons are asked to be present at the first meeting, if at all possible.

Beginning Sewing Class To Start

Pitt Technical Institute will begin a course in Beginning Sewing, Wednesday night, from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. Each class will be 40 hours in length and tuition for each class will be $4.00

Each class will meet once a week on the night specified above.

All interested persons who wish to attend please be present at the above stated time.

One may enter on Wednesday, July 31, and also through Wednesday, August 7, if unable to attend the first meeting.

Drink Service On 'Honor System'

DETROIT (AP) — Barron Hilton, president of the Hilton Hotel chain, has announced plans to refurbish Detroit's Statler Hilton to include two floors of luxury tower suites featuring self-service drinks on the honor system. Hilton said the new suites would be served by private express elevators from the lobby of the hotel to the 13th and 14th floors. Guests in the tower suites will be attended by a special concierge, Hilton said, and sauna baths and massage service will be available.

House-Stealing Is Charged Man

LITTLE ROCK, Ark (AP) — Walter L. Ketchner, 37, has been charged with stealing a house.

Sheriff's deputies said Boyce Johnson of North Little Rock told them he hired Ketchner to move the house, but later noticed it was headed in the wrong direction. Ketchner said he had sold the house for $1,500 but would deliver another to him, Johnson said.

Ketchner was released on $1,000 bonds.

FIRE ON RESIDENCE

ROME (UPI)—Police reported Sunday the residence of the Soviet ambassador to Italy was struck by a burst of machinegun fire, but no one was hurt. The shots were apparently fired from a passing car.

Pioneer Of Modern Dance Died Sunday

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ruth St. Denis, the "First Lady of the American dance," died Sunday at 88 in Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital. She had been treated periodically for heart trouble since 1966, the year in which she last danced publicly.

Willowy, erect and energetic, Miss St. Denis continued lecturing and teaching until her death, saying, "The creative life —that is what keeps me going."

At 16 she was dancing for $25 a week in a vaudeville theater. David Belasco, the New York producer, changed her name from Dennis and cast her in his shows for five years.

She became famous overnight in 1906 whe she danced her innovative "The Incense," based on a Hindu theme and set in a freer form than American audiences had seen before.

"Before I started, there was no dance in America except vaudeville and the group doing Italian-type ballet at the Metropolitan," she said once.

The idiom she created evolved through the work of her proteges, including Martha Graham, Charles Weidman and Doris Humphrey.

With her husband and dancing partner, Ted Shawn, she founded the Denishawn School in 1915 in Los Angeles. They separated without divorcing in 1929, saying that when they were together their love flourished but their creativity didn't. Later they worked together occasionally, notably in 1964 celebrating their 50th anniversary.

Shawn, now 76, still operates the Jacob's Lillow dance festival at Lee, Mass.

Miss St. Denis was born in Newark, N.J., and grew up on a farm.

"I skipped my way through my chores, I raced with the winds, I bathed myself in the rain," she recalled, "and the moonlight turned me into an unconscious Votary of Ishtar (the Babylonian goddess of love and war)."

In her 80s she tried to persuade churchmen to add dancing to worship services. "The dance was an important part of worship in the earliest years of Cristianity," she argued.

As the dancing of some of her successors grew harsh and stark, reflecting a more nervous age, Miss St. Denis advised, "Violence is only a page in the volume of world literature. It shouldn't be allowed to dominate modern dance."

Tobacco Tips

By S. J. WEEKS
Pitt County Tobacco Agent

Due to production costs, it is becoming more difficult to maintain the desired margin of profit in tobacco production. There are several management alternatives that will help reduce production costs.

Fertilization program is one management alternative that can be changed on many farms that will reduce production costs and not reduce the yield and quality of tobacco produced. When planning a tobacco fertilization program two major considerations should be kept in mind: (1) supply the quantity and source of nutrients that can be expected to give a good yield of good quality tobacco and (2), purchase the fertilizer materials and mixtures that will supply the needed nutrients at the lowest cost.

The nutrients inmore concentrated fertilizer cost less than nutrients in less concentrated mixtures. For example, a grower who is using 2000 pounds of 3-9-9 per acre can save $10 to $15 per acre by using 1500 pounds of 4-8-12.

A twilight tobacco fertilization meeting will be held Friday, July 26, at 7:00 p.m. at the R. M. Dilda farm. This farm is located approximately two miles south of Fountain on NC222.

Farmers attending the meeting will have an opportunity to observe tobacco being grown with the same nutrient level using different analysis of tobacco preplant fertilizers. Included in the test will be: 3-9-9, 4-8-12 6-18-18 and 8-16-24 fertilizer mixtures. In addition to observing the "on the farm" test we will discuss other economical aspects of a good tobacco fertilization program.

If the Shoe Fits-

BY LARRY AVERETTE

Is a change of shoes advisable?

Yes, change shoes and hosiery at least once a day. You will find it is very refreshing and gives you a desirable lift. Shoes are designed for different purposes. Use the appropriate shoe for the purpose. If you stand for long periods on your job, wear comfortable shoes with low heels. The shoes worn by nurses are an example of a good functional shoe.

Take the greatest care in fitting your shoes. Do not depend on size or number alone, but have them fitted with the correct last or shape every time you buy new shoes. Improper shoes can deform the feet with bunions, corns and callouses and can contribute to more serious ailments.

Changing shoes for work, play or relaxation can give a lift to your spirits and contribute to your good health and morale.

Bathtubs Gather For Annual Race

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — More than 200 bathtubs and hundreds of escort boats gathered in Vancouver Island's Nanaimo Harbor for the annual international bathtub race Sunday.

Stan Vollmers, 38-year-old Nanaimo sheet metal mechanic, ran rings around all the others. His plastic bathtub, named Nev-R-Make-R, made the 35 mile trip to Vancouver's English Bay in two hours and 12 minutes.

There Must Be Some Benefit In Sea Water

Read Dr. Jason's comments about the superb health of California sailors. Maybe the oceans will prove to be mankind's greatest natural "drug store." For dozens of human ailments, even including cancer, are regarded as probably due to chemical deficiency rather than to germs or a virus. Send for the booklet below!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE G - 531: Dr. Jason is a California dental surgeon.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I was doubly interested in your address today when you mentioned trace chemicals.

"And especially your remark that all the water soluble chemical elements on this planet earth are present in ocean water.

"For seven of my recent patients are sailors.

"And they have been reporting remarkable benefits from drinking a little sea water daily.

"Moreover, they tell me that many of the chefs on the boats along our California coast, use the sea water for cooking purposes.

"And the crews are pretty rugged, healthy men! So do you suppose some of those trace chemicals might be preventing deficiency ailments?"

There are 44 water soluble chemical elements on this earth in addition to the 5 gases.

Since those gases do not erode during rainfall, we don't need to fret about their depletion.

But every rain or melting snow dissolves those water-soluble chemicals from our soil and carries them back to the oceans.

In fact, a government survey a few years ago showed that the runoff water from the Midwest was lacking in 20 of those 44 trace elements.

If 20 were missing, then the other 24 were undoubtedly very much reduced since the continents raised up out of the seas.

Yet all 44 are supposed to be circulating in our blood every minute!

So God Almighty must have had a purpose in expecting our blood to have access to those 44 water-soluble chemical elements.

Moreover, many medical diseases are listed as "deficiency ailments," meaning we have no virus or germ to explain them.

Instead, we medics figure they are caused by a lack of some essential trace chemical.

Gray hair and baldness, for example, are not due to germs. And allergy ailments like asthma, exzema and hay fever, belong in this group. Cancer of breast vs. prostate may be due to different trace chemical deficiencies.

Why, for instance, does the average diabetic's pancreas make plenty of insulin while he is young but by the time he reaches the age of 50, his pancreas makes only 50 percent or 75 percent enough insulin?

Is it due to a lack of sufficient trace chemicals that should serve as the raw materials out of which the pancreas manufactures insulin?

Obviously, if a person is placed on a low salt diet or has been told avoid sodium, then drinking a little ocean water would require caution.

But for anybody who has not been restricted in that manner, then a little ocean water, masked in tomato juice, milk, etc., to prevent the burn from the strong salt content, might be helpful.

For our internal glands and tissue cells demand trace chemicals as their raw materials, out of which to produce gastric juice, insulin, thyroid extract, bile, etc.

In fact, in 1924 we added a minute trace of iodine to table salt and thereby almost entirely banished simple goiter. Fluorine seems to do the same for tooth decay.

So send for my booklet "The Ocean's 44 Trace Chemicals," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cent.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AK92 ♡7 ◇A8 ♣J98653
The bidding has proceeded:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1♣ | Pass | 1♡ | Pass |
| 1♠ | Pass | 2♣ | Pass |
| ? | | | |

What do you bid now?

A.—While partner has shown a mere preference for clubs, nevertheless, he may, without having an impressive holding, produce just enough material for you to go to game. The silence of the opponents at this low level makes it highly probable that partner's hand contains some high card strength. It behooves you, therefore, to take one more step, and the suggested call is three clubs.

Q. 2—Both sides vulnerable, you are South and hold:
♠KJ74 ♡632 ◇1053 ♣K94
The bidding has proceeded:

| North | East | South | West |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 NT | Dble. | Pass | 2♣ |
| Pass | Pass | ? | |

What do you bid now?

A.—It is clearly established that West, poor fellow, is in dire straits. By simple arithmetic we can conclude that he hasn't a high card in his hand. North has at least 16, East presumably 16, and you have seven. That West can win eight tricks is inconceivable and a penalty double is in order.

Q. 3—Both sides vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♡AK1095 ◇AQ1063 ♣874
The bidding has proceeded:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1♡ | 1♠ | Dble. | Pass |
| ? | | | |

What action do you take?

A.—With unbalanced hands, containing a void of the adverse suit, it is against our policy to stand for penalty doubles of low contracts and our recommended call is two diamonds.

Q. 4—Both sides vulnerable. You are South with a 90 part score. Your partner opens with one heart, and you hold:
♠KJ1075 ♡1098 ◇43 ♣J82
What do you bid?

A.—Tho the one heart puts you out, it is doubtful that the opposition will let the hand go by default. You may expect competition. It is our suggestion, therefore, that while it is cheap you get in a bid and the suggested call is one spade.

Q. 5—East-West vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠63 ◇AJ9 ♣AKQJ9854
The bidding has proceeded:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1♣ | Pass | 1◇ | Pass |
| ? | | | |

What do you bid now?

A.—The suggested call is three clubs. It is true that such a call is not forcing, but we are willing to assume the risk that the bidding will die. We consider such an occurrence extremely remote and would like to have the bidding develop naturally in order to best determine the full possibilities of the hand.

Q. 6—Neither vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠4 ♡6 ◇AKJ7 ♣AKJ8432
The bidding has proceeded:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1♣ | Pass | 1♠ | Pass |
| 3♣ | Pass | 3◇ | Pass |
| ? | | | |

What do you bid now?

A.—It is reasonable to assume that the diamonds are solid and that the question of the trick-taking possibilities of this hand depends only on the number of aces held by partner. A Blackwood bid of four no trump is, therefore, clearly indicated.

Q. 7—Neither vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠92 ♡Q6543 ◇AJ7 ♣Q54
The bidding has proceeded:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| Pass | Pass | 1♡ | 1♠ |
| ? | | | |

What do you bid now?

A.—This hand is not as strong as it looks and a mere single raise made as a free bid would be adequate to describe its strength. We, therefore, suggest a bid of two hearts.

Q. 8—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠KQ9764 ♡AQ8653 ◇7
The bidding has proceeded:

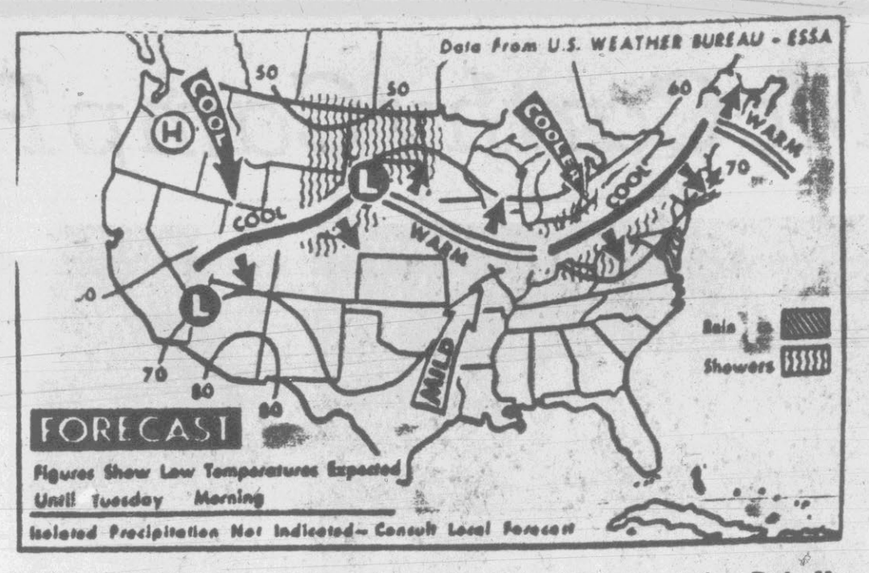

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1♠ | 2◇ | Dble. | Pass |
| 3♡ | Pass | 4◇ | Pass |
| 4♡ | Pass | 5♡ | Pass |
| ? | | | |

What do you bid now?

A.—A bid of six hearts has our hearty indorsement. Partner has shown possession of the ace of diamonds and good heart support and it is difficult to see how we will lose more than one spade trick.

New Disney Movie Cartoon In Making

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For the first time in the history of the Disney Studio a feature cartoon is being made without the guidance and control of Walt Disney.

"Jungle Book" was the last animated feature produced under the watchful supervision of Walt, who oversaw all the films, beginning with the trail-blazing "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" in 1937. Now his studio's animators and artists are engaged in a brand-new film, "The Aristocats."

"Actually, Walt did put the project into work," says Wolfgang "Woolie" Reitherman, who is directing the feature. "At the beginning it was very loose, just as all of them are at the start. It began as a show for the television series, and we were working on it after '101 Dalmations' (1961). The idea kept growing, and it appeared more suitable for a full-length feature."

"The Aristocats" had scarcely progressed beyond the formative stages when Disney died in December 1966. While he hadn't animated a frame or film since the earliest days of Mickey Mouse, his imprint had been placed on every detail of the cartoon features.

"Walt kept a good over-all eye on everything we did," said Reitherman. "During the earlier years he was in on every stage. In the last 10 or 15 years he was busy with other things, and his comments were more general.

"He would check to determine if the sequences were well balanced and if the personalities were coming off in a pleasant way. He came up with some damn good ideas in that important field. After all, the whole meat of the cartoon feature is personality and character."

The storyboards that line the walls of Reitherman's office and spill out into halls of the animation building—these are the pin-nedup preliminary sketches of the film—indicate a wide range of personalities and characters in "Aristocats." The plot concerns an eccentric Parisian lady, with the voice of Hermione Baddely, who leaves her fortune to her cats. Upon their death, the money goes to the butler, and there hangs the plot. The butler tries to eliminate the cats—in a nice sort of way.

The mother cat is voiced by Eva Gabor, and Phil Harris plays Thomas O'Malley, the alley cat. He sings a rollicking duet with Louis Armstrong, "Everybody Wants to Be a Cat."

It will be a long wait before audiences will see "Aristocats." Reitherman reported that about one-third of the feature is in animation. The rest will be ready for the theaters by Christmas of 1970— "If we're lucky."

Waterways Club Honors Canoeist

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Chester Kelley, 78, has canoed the Missouri River for 54 years, but Sunday he made a 15-mile trip down the river on "Chester Kelley Day."

The occasion was so named by the Ozark Wilderness Waterways Club, an organization of canoeists to honor Kelley for his efforts to obtain river marinas.

Kelley and 45 other members of the club made the trip in 21 canoes to participate in the dedication of a $70,000 marina.

The concrete boat launching ramp, an observation tower, parking and rest room facilities were built on a 50-50 basis by Jackson County and the federal government.

Plans are underway to build similar facilities at intervals of about 16-miles from Rulo, Neb. to the Mississippi River.

There were 75 Post Offices in the 13 states when George Washington was president.

Stakes $4 On A Mining Claim

LINCOLN, R.I. (AP) — It's a pretty long shot, but a Lincoln prospector has staked $4 on the chance there may be gold in them sea canyons, or at least oil or other valuable minerals.

Kenneth Roberts, a gas station operator, has filed a mining claim for 160 acres of sea bottom off Block Island and the Nantucket Shoals.

It cost him $4 to file at the Lincoln Town Hall. He doesn't propose to mine the claim himself, but he figures that some oil company will want to buy it if oil or other minerals are discovered there.

ETNA ERUPTS

CATANIA, Sicily (UPI) — Mt. Etna belched fire, smoke and lava Sunday, but observers said there appeared little danger to villages and farms dotting the lower slopes of the volcano.

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina hog market was mostly steady today. Tops of 20.25-20.75 Rocky Mount; 20.00-20.50 Bethel; 19.75-20.50 Wilson; 20.75 Selma, Salisbury; 20.25 Greensboro; 20.00 Siler City and Denton.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina poultry market today was steady. Price of live poultry at farms 14½ cents per pound with isolated quote at 14 cents.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices faded to a very sharp loss this afternoon in relatively slow trading.

An assortment of disconcerting business and foreign news kept traders on the sidelines. The result was that a minimum amount of selling pressure was enough to bring about a big loss on average.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 4.3 to 338.9, with industrials off 6.4, rails off 2.2, and utilities off 2.0.

Blue chips and glamor stocks retreated together. Wider losses were taken by some of the high-multiple growth stocks.

Losses outnumbered gains by about 5 to 1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 11.19 at 902.73.

Eastern Air Lines, down about a point, was the most-active stock, thanks to a block of 100,000 shares.

A strong performance was put on by U.S. Treasury bonds in view of increasing prospects for lower interest rates.

Prices dropped sharply in light trading on the American Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street sources said today they expected the Wednesday closings of the securities exchanges to be extended through August.

The New York Stock Exchange declined comment.

A special committee of securities industry leaders was reported scheduled to meet today to discuss a possible extension.

The exchanges have closed one day a week since early June to allow brokers' clerical staffs additional time in which to handle paper work that has piled up during heavy trading.

The last scheduled closings are July 24 and 31.

The committee is composed of representatives of the New York and American stock exchanges and the National Association of Securities Dealers.

Brokers say the closings have helped them whittle down the accumulated paper work.

Big Fish Kill Is Attributed To Pesticide

RALEIGH (AP)—North Carolina Department of Water and Air Resources chemists have identified a pesticide as the poison which killed fish over a 20-mile stretch of the northeast Cape Fear River 10 days ago.

E. C. Hubbard, the department's assistant director, confirmed Sunday that the cause of the fish kill had been determined, but he declined to identify the pesticide involved.

"We are still in the process of investigating to find the person or company responsible," Hubbard said, "and we do not want to anticipate our case."

Wildlife protectors said the entire fish population of the river for a 20-mile stretch beginning at the Pender-Duplin County line was killed.

Wildlife protector James Rivenbark of Burgaw has estimated it would take three to five years to restore the river's fish population to normal levels.

Miss Smith plans to make modeling her career.

Marauders Fire At His House

IRASBURG, Vt. (AP) — State police today guarded the home of the Rev. David Johnson, a Negro and a Baptist minister, after marauders last week fired five shotguns blasts at the house.

"I guess it was our welcoming committee," Johnson, 39, said Sunday. Johnson and his family came to Vermont early in July, from Seaside, Calif., he said, to get away from racism.

The 700 people in this dairy farming community 15 miles from the Canadian border made the family feel at home, he said.

"People treated us like we were their own children," he said, "or like we had been gone 20 or 30 years. It was genuine."

But the minister said he believed at least one of the three persons he saw in the car from which the shot gun blasts came Thursday night might have been in his house. He said a number of visitors greeted the family after they arrvied in Irasburg.

"They knew the layout," he said. "The shooting was cut and dried. It was not a hurry up affair."

Johnson said the car was a late model and cruised slowly by the house as the shots were fired.

"I won't run," he said. "They can burn the house down and everything else, but I'll just pitch me a pup tent in the front yard if I have to."

The Rev. Mr. Johnson was a master sergeant in the Army, fought in the Korean war and was discharged two years ago. He was ordained Jan. 13 and is being interviewed for a permanent pastorate in Vermont.

Regional Committees To Meet On Tuesday

The regional committees for the Oxford Orphanage and Masonic and Eastern Star Home, at Greensboro, will be held at the Greenville Masonic Temple, Tuesday night at 8 p.m. This meeting is held annually in each region in the state during the late summer to acquaint the members of the committees and the officers of the various lodges of the needs of these two institutions.

The superintendent of the Orphanage A.D. Leon Gray will be present to give the members a first hand report of the condition the children at the orphanage and the needs of the institution for the continued care of the children at the orphanage. The superintendent of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home, Rev. Troy Robbins, will also be present. Robbins will show some pictures of the home which will give the members present a visual picture of the conditions at the home. The home is anticipating commencing the next phase of their long range improvement program in the near future thereby enabling it to relieve the waiting list of needy guests.

It is the desire of the officers of the local lodges that the members of the respective committees, officers and members of the lodges will make their plans to attend. The meeting will be short and most informative. The meeting will be presided over by Leslie H. Garner, District Deputy Grand Master of the Fifth Masonic District.

Gun Registration Action Hopes Dim This Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House, which has virtually killed President Johnson's hopes for a gun registration law this session, turned today to the proposed ban on mail order sales of rifles, shotguns and ammunition.

Amendments for licensing of gun owners, another Johnson proposal, also were up for action before a final House vote on gun controls, possibly late in the day.

The bill would add long guns and ammunition to the congressional ban on mail order sales of pistols, which was part of the recently-passed omnibus crime bill. It also would prohibit over-the-counter gun sales to juveniles, and nonresidents except those from adjoining states.

Two gun registration amendments were killed Friday by two-to-one votes which appeared to serve notice to the Senate that the House is not willing to compromise in conference and go along with a registration bill this session.

Johnson called shortly after Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's assassination for legislation to require registration of every gun in the nation and licensing of all gun owners.

An amendment offered by Rep. Jonathan B. Bingham, D-N.Y., that would have required registration of all firearms was defeated 172-68.

A less stringent amendment sponsored by Rep. Robert McClory, R-Ill., for registration of pistols only was defeated 168-89.

But backers of stronger gun controls won approval of an amendment that would require mandatory prison sentences for carrying or using a gun while committing a federal felony such as rape, murder or robbery.

Violation would bring from one to 10 years for the first offense and 5 to 25 years for subsequent offenses. The sentences would have to be in addition to, not concurrent with, jail terms for the federal felony.

The amendment, sponsored by Rep. Richard H. Poff., R-Va., was a substitute for one by Rep. Bob Casey, D-Tex., that would have required mandatory sentences for use of guns in connection with state as well as federal felonies.

Arrest Two On Robbery Count

Two Fountain area men have been charged with highway robbery.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson identified them as Rowland Edward Casey, 23, Rt. 1, Fountain and Charles Ray Owens, 19, of Fountain.

They are accused of taking $20 in cash from Ray Wells, of Rt. 2, Greenville. The incident was reported at 11:30 yesterday morning and the arrests were made at 2:45 p.m.

Bonds of $300 each were being arranged this morning.

Carolina Tel To Retain Identity After Merger

TARBORO—When the proposed merger between Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company and United Utilities, Incorporated is completed, present plans call for the Carolina Company to continue to operate as a separate company with headquarters in Tarboro.

This statement was part of an announcement made by United concerning plans of that company for forming a Southeastern Group.

A United spokesman said that the proposed merger is not a factor in planning for the new group.

"United contemplates no changes in the construction plans already announced by Carolina Telephone, including the completion of the company headquarters building in Tarboro. No changes are planned in the company's progressive program of employee benefits," the United spokesman reported.

Included in United's new Southeastern Group will be three telephone companies which serve portions of Tennessee, Virginia, North Carolina, and South Carolina.

Formation of the new group is another step in United's continuing effort to achieve the utmost in operating efficiency and economy through better utilization of manpower and materials, according to Paul H. Henson, United president.

The Kansas City based firm is a holding company which owns and operates the nation's second-largest independent telephone system.

Medals Awarded Dead N.C. Pilot

WAYNESVILLE, N. C. (AP) — The Silever Star, Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal with eight clusters and the Purple Heart have been awarded posthumously to a North Carolina Air Force pilot.

The medals were presented Saturday to Dr. and Mrs. Alan Brown of Waynesville, parents of 1st Lt. David C. Brown, who was killed in Vietnam last March.

Brown received the Silver Star for a reconnaissance flight in an unarmed plane deep over North Vietnamese territory. He spotted a concentration of enemy weapons and an infiltration route and his report led to the destruction of a heavily defended area.

Half-Price Performances Of 'The King And I' Set

SPECIAL PRICES . . . 'Getting to Know You,' one of the many popular songs from Rodgers and Hammerstein's "The King and I," is performed here by Lillian Sherdal and the children of the King of Siam. This is one of many famous scenes from the ever-popular musical, which is being performed at the East Carolina University Summer Theatre tonight and tomorrow night at special prices. (ECU News Bureau Photo by Kelly Adams)

The city of Greenville has issued a special invitation to all to attend at about half-price the last two performances of the East Carolina University Summer Theatre's hit of the season, "The King and I."

The performances are scheduled at 8:15 p.m. in McGinnis Auditorium tonight and tomorrow night.

Special arrangements were made by the Greenville Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association with the Summer Theatre in order to give more people an opportunity to see the show.

Many have already rated "The King and I" as the best production yet in the five-year history of the Summer Theatre. The ever-popular Rodgers and Hammerstein musical combines the mystery of the East with the charm of the West in a story of an English widow hired to teach western customs to the children of the King of Siam.

Iago De Corrado and Lillian Sherdal deliver memorable and touching performances, and are supported by heart - warming portrayals of the King's children by a group of children from Greenville and vicinity.

Ronald W. Gollobin of the Daily Reflector staff, official critic for "The King and I," summed up his review of the opening performance by saying: "Though Siam no longer exists as a country, it will continue to exist in the hearts of theatregoers as long as they remember 'The King and I'."

Instead of the usual $4.50 ticket, all seats tonight and tomorrow will be $2.50. In addition, special theatre party group rates are available on request (Phone Summer Theatre box office 752-7565, Greenville).

In announcing the special invitation, a chamber spokesman pointed out that more advance notice was impossible because regular season subscribers and patrons had to be accommodated before the special arrangement could be worked out.

Late Sunday it was found that enough tickets were available to make the special offer possible.

The rates for the two remaining performances repeat the rates set for the special Sunday performances of "The King and I" last night and another Sunday special performance of "Guys and Dolls" set for July 28. Children's tickets for the Sunday performances are $1.50 (children under 12).

Latin American Carnival Tuesday

There will be a Latin American Carnival of the Academic Center for Latin American Studies Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

The Carnival will be held in the gymnasium at J.H. Rose High School and will consist of songs and dances of Latin American countries. The public is invited and there will be no admission charge.

OBITUARY

Adams

Mr. J. C. Adams, 53, died unexpectedly at his home, 318 W. Second Street in Ayden, early Monday morning. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Mr. Adams, a native of Pitt County, had been a resident of Ayden for several years. He had operated a trucking business in Ayden.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Evelyn Lloyd Adams; two sons: James Calvin Adams Jr. of the United States Army, now stationed in Vietnam, and Milton Fletcher Adams of Ayden, two daughters: Mrs. B. C. Norris Jr. of Ayden and Miss Brenda Kaye Adams of the home; his father and step-mother, Mr. & Mrs. Bill Adams of Grifton; a brother, W. D. Adams of Norfolk, Va.; seven sisters: Mrs. W. B. Highsmith and Mrs. R. L. Daugherty of Ayden, Mrs. Ray Carter of Grifton, Mrs. H. L. Vincent and Mrs. Amos Haddock, both of Greenville, Mrs. Kenneth Stancill of Kinston, and Mrs. Tony Aldano of Nashville, Tennessee; and four grandchildren.

Open House Honors Former Principal

AT OPEN HOUSE . . . Sunday were Mrs. W. B. Bond, Smith, Pate, Mrs. Carroll and Rose. (Reflector Photo by Tommy Forrest)

An open house honoring Joe Smith, former principal of the Greenville Junior High School, was held Sunday afternoon at the Greenville Woman's Club building.

Mrs. J.L. Savage and Mrs. W.E. Roseveare greeted guests at the door and Mrs. James Smith Jr. presided at the register.

The receiving line was composed of Mrs. W. B. Bond, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith, Mrs. James Smith Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Willie Pate, Mrs. Ellen Carroll and J.H. Rose.

Mrs. Max Ray Joyner, Miss Christine Johnston, Mrs. I.L. Alexander, Mrs. Troy Rouse, Mrs. J. B. Kittrell Jr. and Miss Venetia Cox poured punch. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Linwood Worthington, Mrs. Vance Perkins, Mrs. W.E. Avery, Miss Barbara Bond, Miss Ellen Bond, Miss Janet Bond, and Miss Robin Smith.

The building was decorated with various flower arrangements donated by friends of Joe Smith. Background music was presented by Mrs. Ivey Snyder.

Rose, Mrs. Carroll and Pate paid tribute to Smith for his outstanding work at the junior high school.
