Police Were Snipers' Target

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Snipers armed with rifles, shotguns, carbines and bayonets opened fire on a police tow truck at the start of a night of terror that left 10 persons dead, including three policemen.

Four thousand National Guardsmen patrolled the area today, restoring at least surface calm to the East Side Negro neighborhood that saw burning and looting follow the outbreak of shooting Tuesday night.

Suggestions that the outbreak was the result of an organized plan came from two sources: the National Guard commander, who said he saw evidence of a black nationalist conspiracy, and a Negro arrested by police who quoted him as saying he was part of a 17-man sniper squad.

The battle started, according to police, when the snipers opened fire on policemen removing an abandoned auto. Three officers fell dead.

The coroner listed seven Negroes among the victims and police said two of them were snipers.

Whether the other dead were bystanders, participants, or were in their homes when struck down by ricocheting bullets couldn't be immediately determined.

Among those arrested was Fred Ahmed Evans, who has claimed a position of black nationalist leadership. Police quoted Evans as saying there were 17 men in his group and that he surrendered after his rifle failed to fire while he was aiming it at a policeman.

Evans attracted widespread attention more than a year ago by predicting that an eclipse

May 9, 1967, would be accompanied by a wave of racial violence in American cities on that date. The violence predicted by Evans, who was then operating an astrology shop, did not occur.

The outbreak also produced: —19 injured, 11 of them policemen, one of whom remained in critical condition with a gun wound.

—50 arrests, about half on looting charges. Others were held for breach of peace, conspiracy, carrying concealed deadly weapons.

—About 200 homeless, from blazes started by fire bombs.

—An unofficial damage estimate of over $100,000, mostly for buildings and their contents, and for several burned-out autos.

—A halt in the sale of alcoholic beverages in Cleveland and surrounding suburbs.

—Mobilization of all of Ohio's 15,250 National Guardsmen with 4,000 dispatched immediately to the state's biggest city to help keep order.

The three-hour firefight with police began when the police tow truck rode up to Beulah Avenue and 123rd Street to "pick up a piece of junk."

The calm of the hot summer night—the temperature was 80—was shattered when bullets began pouring from rooftops, windows, from behind bushes—and police rushed in many more men.

It ended, except for the occasional crack of a gun shot, just before a heavy thundershower about midnight cooled off the steaming streets and dampened some blazes started by fire bombs.

Police armed with rifles joined National Guardsmen on patrol today.

Czechs Look For Lengthy Pressure

PRAGUE (AP) — Awaiting talks with Kremlin leaders, Czechoslovak Communist party sources said today they expect the Soviet-led pressure campaign against this country's reformist course to go on for months.

The Czechoslovak sources cautioned against expecting any dramatic development from the impending conference of the Soviet Communist party's Politburo with the Czechoslovak party presidium, to be held by Prague's insistence somewhere on its own territory.

Official quarters discounted reports from Moscow that the Soviet party chief, Leonid I. Brezhnev, and the rest of the Politburo were already on the way.

Departure of the Soviet delegation for the previously announced meeting was reported by the Yugoslav news agency, Tanjug, from Moscow. There was no official confirmation, but rumors of the departure circulated in Moscow.

The trip to Czechoslovakia is the first by the Politburo—steering committee of the Soviet party—outside Russia as a group.

The meeting is expected to be held today or Thursday in Slovakia, adjacent to the Soviet Union, but the time and location have not been announced.

Right-Of-Way Needs Delay Street-Widening

Plans for four-laning North Greene Street, from the Tar River Bridge to the Belvoir Road intersection, are being redrawn and bids are expected to be taken on the re-designed project in the fall, according to spokesmen for the State Highway Commission.

Highway Commission Engineer Fred Edwards said the project has been re-designed several times. Most of the trouble, he said, has been with right-of-way problems.

The project calls for widening the street and installing curb and gutter from the bridge northward to the Belvoir road intersection (Highway Commission shops—a distance of 1.487 miles. Also included is the improving of Mumford Road, from Greene to Pitt Streets. That would also include curb and

Uncover More Weapons Caches

SAIGON (AP) — Allied forces battled Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops southwest and east of Saigon today and uncovered sizable weapons caches in other areas near South Vietnam's threatened capital.

In the northern provinces, another vulnerable sector, the Viet Cong kept up the pressure on outposts and provincial capitals with a second day of mortar attacks and light ground probes.

One Viet Cong company broke into a village 15 miles southeast of Da Nang and burned it to the ground, leaving all 1,400 inhabitants homeless, military spokesmen said. Casualties among the villagers and their militia defenders were not immediately known.

In the fighting 18 miles southwest of Saigon, enemy troops using a blindfolded South Vietnamese prisoner as a decoy tried to slip through American lines after losing 34 dead in an all-night fight. Ten Americans of the 9th Infantry Division were reported killed and nine wounded.

American bombers had pounded the company of about 115 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong infiltrators, and some 1,500 rounds of American artillery were poured into an area about 800 yards in diameter during the night.

The enemy troops shoved a South Vietnamese prisoner in front of them in the darkness before dawn, trying to lure the Americans into firing on him while they slipped away in small groups. The plan backfired. A Claymore mine went off, scattering hundreds of sharpnel fragments. It knocked the blindfolded South Vietnamese down but killed three enemy soldiers behind him.

Rescued by the U.S. infantrymen, the South Vietnamese said he had been held captive two months. He said the enemy company was holding eight other South Vietnamese soldiers and using them to carry arms and ammunition. Their fate was not known.

The U.S. troops also sprayed the enemy positions with tear gas, flushing out six of the enemy who were captured.

The enemy force was believed to be part of six to eight battalions that U.S. intelligence officers say are deployed in Long An Province, immediately south of Saigon.

The American casualties included two men killed aboard a helicopter shot down by enemy ground fire. Two other choppers were hit, but damage was reported minor.

Foreign Aid Again Handed Big Setback

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's foreign aid program, a continuing target of an economy-minded Congress, has suffered another setback.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee Tuesday refused to restore the nearly $1 billion cut by the House last week from the President's original $2.9 billion request. In fact, the committee trimmed another $22.9 million on its own.

Observers said by the time the overseas proposals get through being worked over in today's committee hearings, future debate on the Senate floor, and certain reduction in separate appropriations bills the program might barely total half of what was asked.

The foreign assistance program has been in increasing difficulties since a year ago when Congress first demanded multi-billion-dollar spending cuts in return for passage of the President's 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

House Near Vote On Gun Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leading congressional supporter of gun control legislation predicts the House will approve President Johnson's embattled proposal to restrict the sale of rifles, shotguns and ammunition.

The prediction was made by Judiciary Chairman Emanuel Celler D-N.Y., after the House spent seven hours Tuesday wading through amendments to ready a measure for today's expected final vote.

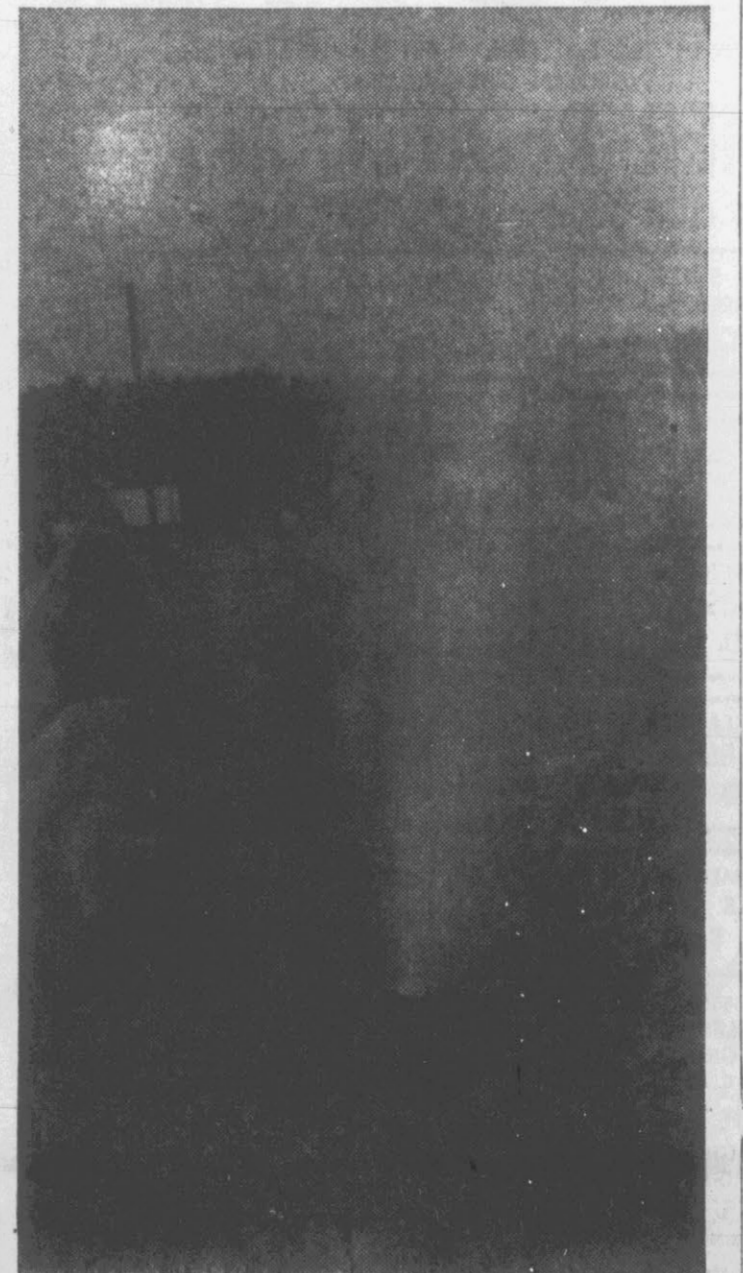

Celler's opposite number in the Senate, Judiciary Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., declared his opposition to a similar bill called up for simultaneous action in his committee. "I hope the committee will kill all the gun bills," Eastland said.

Among the amendments tacked onto the bill Tuesday was one proposed by the National Rifle Association, a prime enemy of stiffer gun laws.

Sponsored by Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla., it would exempt the National Board for Promotion of Rifle Practice from the prohibition of interstate shipment of firearms and ammunition.

The board, a military-civilian governing body, works closely with the NRA in the holding of rifle and pistol matches. Sikes, a lifetime member of the NA, said, "We can live with the bill the way it is."

Hanoi Is Advised Must Accept South Vietnam Govm't Role In Peace

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador W. Averell Harriman bluntly told North Vietnamese negotiators today that to progress toward peace "you must be prepared to recognize the role" of South Vietnam's government in working out a settlement of the Vietnam war.

Harriman's assertion in the 14th session of the Paris peace talks followed directly on President Johnson's Honolulu meeting with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam at the end of last week. North Vietnam regularly denounces the Saigon government as an American "puppet."

Harriman told newsmen he had not seen definitive evidence that the lull in the war around Saigon, which began in mid-June, was finally coming to an end.

But he added: "What is disturbing is that the terrorist actions on theaters around Saigon have started again. People have been killed. I intend to call attention to that." The Viet Cong bombed four theaters in Saigon and nearby towns Sunday, killing 12 Vietnamese and wounding

Going into the 14th session of the talks, Harriman said he would present to the North Vietnamese negotiators the appeal issued in Honolulu by President Johnson and President Nguyen Van Thieu "for a peaceful settlement and an end of the violence."

"I intend," he continued, "to point to the violence that is continuing on the part of the Viet Cong, and I hope this will make some impression."

Harriman and his aides are also trying to find out whether North Vietnam is weakening its support for the National Liberation Front and offering Washington a new lure among its terms for a final political settlement in South Vietnam.

Arrests Up On Speeders, Drunk Drivers

RALEIGH (AP) — Arrests on speeding and drunk driving charges are up sharply in North Carolina as a result of the Highway Patrol's stepped-up campaign to reduce traffic deaths.

Maj. John Laws, chief of the patrol's Enforcement Division, said Tuesday, 3,880 arrests on drunk driving charges were made during the first half of this year. This was an increase of 54 per cent over the first half of 1967 when arrests totaled 5,730.

Speeding arrests during the first half of this year totaled 73,866, a 65 per cent increase over the 44,722 during the same period last year.

North Carolina's toll of highway deaths is 952 or 85 more than at this time last year.

Laws said he is confident the highway safety campaign will bring long-range results. He added, "The results of good, hard enforcement pressure don't come overnight. I'm impatient, and I know the public is impatient. But I'm convinced that it will pay dividends."

Stocks, Bonds In Mail 'Missing'

BOSTON (AP) — About $1 million in stocks and bonds is missing in several mailbags which disappeared June 4 from a First National Bank truck, the bank disclosed Tuesday.

A bank spokesman said some of the securities were negotiable, but that since all have identification numbers it would be difficult, if not impossible for a thief to cash them.

Some $1,500 worth of coupons from the stolen bonds were presented at a Somerville bank for payment last week. The bank called police, and William Foley of Boston, who has been a candidate for City Council and other offices, was arrested and charged with receiving stolen property. He pleaded innocent in District Court and was freed on bail pending a hearing.

No Wavering On Vietnam Policy

By WALTER R. MEARS
CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — President Johnson has declared

he will not waver from a Vietnam policy he called just and reasonable, despite "the pressures and strains that come normally in any political year."

The nation's governors who heard that pledge had no plans to attempt to match it with one of their own. The 60th National Governors Conference held its final session today, and the agenda did not touch on Vietnam.

One Democrat who praised the Johnson stand said any attempt to put the conference on record in support of U.S. policy on the war and negotiations would stir dissension which could do more harm than good.

Johnson spent an hour Tuesday night at the conference which has been marked by the political maneuvering by and for candidates to succeed him when he retires from the White House next Jan. 20.

Before a black-tie crowd of more than 2,000 persons at the governors' ball, Johnson declared:

"Our nation wants peace, our government wants peace, our men in Vietnam want peace and your President wants peace. Yet some among us seem to feel that I or we alone can bring peace to Vietnam. They seem to ignore the presence and irreconcilability of the enemy."

Johnson said he had promised battleground restraint in announcing he would not run again for the White House, and has kept that promise.

"We are willing to go as far as honor and safety permit us to go," he said. "But we are not going to impose a coalition government—or any kind of government—on the people of South Vietnam.

"Nor are we going to let the totalitarians impose a Communist government of their direction either," the President said. That drew one of only two rounds of applause which came during his address.

"The days we're going through and the days ahead are going to be difficult ones," Johnson said. "But we are determined to press the search for peace even as we resist aggression on the battlefield. We are going to continue to resist the efforts to split our country wide open and divide our citizens."

Outside the Cincinnati convention center, scores of pickets marched the sidewalk, many waving placards critical of Johnson and the war. "Peace now," they chanted intermittently.

"With all the power at my command I am going to do my duty as I see it, regardless of the pressures and strains that come normally in any political year," Johnson said.

He said he and President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam agreed that a cease fire, with effective controls and guarantees, could be part of a war settlement. They agreed that I or we alone can bring peace to Vietnam. They seem to ignore the presence and irreconcilability of the enemy.

Johnson said he had promised battleground restraint in announcing he would not run again for the White House, and has kept that promise. "We are willing to go as far as honor and safety permit us to go," he said. "But we are not going to impose a coalition government—or any kind of government—on the people of South Vietnam."

Area Debutantes For 1968

Little Time Out For Barbara

Wearing wheat-colored hogwashers with a turquoise blouse, Miss Barbara Wright appears as a member of the Cold Cuts of St. Mary's Junior College in Raleigh.

The Cold Cuts are a singing group which uses imaginative instruments. Hogwashers, which is their mode of dress, are bibbed overalls cut off above the knee. The group performs for fraternities and other social functions, orphanages, hospitals as well as for students at St. Mary's.

Miss Wright plays the bongos for the group, which originated at St. Mary's about 10 years ago.

During last year, she appeared in productions of "Skin Of Our Teeth" and "The Imaginary Invalid." Miss Wright is a member of the Drama Club and served as assistant artist for the St. Mary's newspaper, "The Belles."

During the summer months, Miss Wright will not have much time for vacation. She attended the first session of summer school at East Carolina University, taking courses in zoology and botany. She is presently enrolled in the second term of summer school at ECU. In addition, she is taking a typing course at Pitt Technical Institute.

By attending summer school, she is completing science requirement for St. Mary's.

When asked how she planned to spend the summer, she replied, "Taking short trips to Wrightsville Beach and studying."

Miss Wright lists her special interests as drawing, playing the guitar, piano and bongos, swimming, tennis, reading and "flying kites." She discovered the fun in kite flying two summers ago.

In commenting on attending a small girl's school, Miss

Wright said, "You can make lasting friends at a smaller college as compared to a larger college. By attending St. Mary's, the girls are encouraged to pursue all aspects of culture such as ballet, concerts, church, art shows as well as maintaining good grades. It offers all the advantages that one would need to become a well-rounded person.

Miss Wright's father, Dr. Dan Wright, will serve as her chief marshal. Her assisting marshals will be her brother, Stephen, and William Mosier, both of Greenville.

She resides with her parents at 404 E. Fourth St., Greenville.

Husband's Morning Routine Is Worrisome To Spouse

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband, Mike, and I are both in our early forties. We have four children. Mike is busy with his business and I am busy with my house and the kids.

Lately Mike has been getting up at 5 a.m. He doesn't have to be at work until 8 and he has only a 20-minute drive to get there. Well, he rushes around getting showered, shaved and dressed and he runs out of the house like he is going to be late for something. When I ask him where he's going so early he says, "Nowhere — I just like to ride around." I am getting suspicious and would like to know where this guy goes. Should I follow him?

BERTIE

DEAR BERTIE: No, but ask him what he would think if you did the same thing for the same reason.

DEAR ABBY: I work in a large office and have a very responsible position. My husband keeps on calling me at work and if I'm not at my desk when he calls, I go thru the third degree. "Where was I? Who was I talking to? Don't I ever do any work around there!" Then BANG goes the receiver Abby, that leaves me a nervous wreck all day.

It so happens that I must do a lot of work in the files which are about 50 feet away from my desk, so someone has to call me on the telephone.

When I get home I am faced with more questions and insults. He accuses me of having "boyfriends" at work. Abby, I have received awards for being an outstanding secretary. Besides, I am 47 and settled down.

I can't have any friends or go to the store without him. My only pleasure is work, and now that's no pleasure anymore. I do all my own housework, laundry, and the meals are always on the table when he gets home. No waiting. What else does he expect from a wife! Please tell me what to do.

TIRED OF IT ALL

DEAR TIED: A man who is accusing and suspicious without just cause is sick. And a wife who puts up with it without attempting to get to the bottom of it is as sick as her husband.

DEAR ABBY: Every time I see a teen-age girl who can scarcely keep her hands and eyes off the boy she think she "loves," I feel compelled to write to you about my daughter. Hers is an old story of young passion and the price she paid for it.

She became pregnant at 16. After the first shock, we accepted it, as all parents must when they are faced with this nightmare. You hear from the girls who describe what they go thru at such a time, but have you ever heard from mothers who tell what THEY go thru!

The lies when taking their daughter out of school. The miserable hours she must spend indoors for fear a neighbor will see her condition. Then the final break, when a mother must leave her half-child half-woman in a home for unwed mothers to endure alone what should be a woman's most beautiful experience — giving life. But in giving life, to know only shame.

I know it takes two to tango. But after the dance is finished, the girl is left to find her way back alone. Sign me

She Has Unusual Occupation

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia (AP)—Patricia Anne Fitzgerald has a relatively unusual occupation for a woman.

She is an electrical engineer, newly graduated from the Nova Scotia Technical College, and the first female electrical engineering graduate in the college's history.

Miss Fitzgerald says engineering has been her goal "for as long as I can remember." Her father also is an engineer.

The 23-year-old brunette was born in Yarmouth, N.S., and lived in various parts of Canada, but spent the greater part of her life in France where her father was stationed with the RCAF.

"When I was in France I told everyone I was going to be an engineer. They were shocked, because girls in France just aren't engineers."

But whether her contemporaries were shocked or not, Pat de-cidied to pursue her goal. She entered Dalhousie University here for a pre-engineering course before enrolling in the electrical engineering course at Tech.

She does not think that being a girl was a hindrance in any of her courses, except that "the professors always noticed when I wasn't in class."

She will soon begin work for the Bedford Institute of Oceanography in the meteorology laboratory, designing electrical equipment for use in ocean waters. Her current project is to make a working electrical model that exhibits the same characteristics as a nerve axon, which carries signals from the cell. She won first prize for a paper on the subject delivered orally at the Institute of Electronics and Electrical Engineering, and now must put her ideas into practice.

Where Does N.C. Draw The Line?

North Carolina is faced with another difficult task of drawing the line between proper development and exploitation of natural resources and the imposition of restrictions which will assure that natural resources of the state will not be squandered and ruined.

This time the controversy is over the taking of small undersized food fish in the process of commercial trawling for larger fish which are marketed for human consumption. The Department of Conservation and Development appears on the verge of reinstating restrictions on the taking of so-called trash fish which prevailed until 1966 when the restrictions were lifted.

At the center of the controversy is the essential question of whether the taking of huge quantities of these small fish in coastal areas is doing immediate and long-range damage to both commercial and sports fishing industries. If the restrictions are again imposed, the task of the commercial fishermen will be made more difficult. Their take of commercial food fish may even be reduced because of the restrictions. Certainly the quantity of trash fish, which now find their way into an increasing number of commercial uses, will be reduced. A coastal industry which in recent years has grown around trash fish as a raw product is almost certain to suffer in the process.

On the other side of the coin, both the commercial and sports fishing industries of North Carolina will fare better in the long run if efforts are made to preserve the natural re-stocking of our coastal waters with fish. If the waters are "fished out" by unwise or uncontrolled practices, the state would suffer a great loss as would the fishing industry.

North Carolina must at one and the same time permit the development of its natural resources and also impose restrictions which will assure the protection of these resources. So far it appears to have been able to do so in connection with the development of phosphate mining and it should also be able to do so with respect to fishing in coastal waters.

The program outlined by the fisheries committee and the fisheries advisory board of the Board of Conservation and Development appears a reasonable and practical solution to this problem.

GOP Family Fight Is Reassuring To Demos

What North Carolina Republicans find disturbing, Tar Heel Democrats find reassuring so far as intra-party fights are concerned.

This week Democrats are wearing smug smiles because of exchanges between Republicans.

The GOP's first family fight has broken out in Rowan County where Sen. Claude Parrish has denounced gubernatorial candidate Jim Gardner and has withdrawn as his party's nominee for re-election to the state Senate. Sen. Parrish, in blasting Gardner and GOP candidate for the U. S. Senate, Robert Somers, said he could not in good conscience support either of the men for the office they seek.

Said Sen. Parrish, "If I stand idly by and do not try to prevent the election of Jim Gardner and Robert Somers, I would be betraying the people of Rowan County, the people of North Carolina, my God and myself." Obviously that statement rings like sweet music in the ears of Democrats across the state. But unless this year proves different than others for the Democrats, there will also be some equally discordant notes within their own party before November.

Tar Heel Democrats and Republicans have become so accustomed to fighting within their respective political parties; they have trouble forming united fronts to do battle against each other in the general election.

A Republican Black Militant

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The possibility that a renowned black militant might become the first Negro in 40 years to sit on the Republican side of the House of Representatives can be traced, strangely enough, to a recent conference at a small liberal arts college in Ohio.

At a conference held by Kenyon College in Gambier, Ohio, two influential Illinois Republicans—Sen. Charles H. Percy and Rep. Donald Rumsfeld—started a chain of events concluding with the Republican nomination for Congress from the Negro Bedford-Stuyvesant district of Brooklyn being bestowed upon James Farmer.

If Farmer wins his uphill fight in this ghetto where Democrats hold an 8 to 1 edge, the Republicans would have taken a major stride toward reclaiming the black vote. Beyond partisan considerations, however, Jim Farmer as a member of Congress would complete the painfully slow transition from pacifist revolutionary to reform politician.

When he helped found the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) while a University of Chicago student in 1942, Farmer was a disciple of radical pacifist A. J. Muste. As such, he abhorred the political system. He maintained much the same attitude over the years, including the 1960s when he attained national prominence as CORE director.

But since resigning as CORE's top man in 1965, Farmer has gone through a difficult period of reappraisal and reached the conclusion that power can be best achieved through politics. Early this year, Farmer announced his candidacy for Congress from a newly-formed district comprising Bedford-Stuyvesant.

Farmer, a registered member of New York state's Liberal party, became the liberal nominee and offered himself to the Democrats. Exhibiting the exclusionary tactics that have characterized the New York Democratic party in recent years, Democratic leaders refused to give Farmer permission required for a non-Democrat to run in the primary. They preferred a party stalwart to a civil rights leader of Farmer's eminence.

That was the situation in April when Farmer visited the Kenyon campus in Ohio as a guest lecturer. With only the Liberal designation, he had little chance to win. Professor Robert A. Goldwin of Kenyon, a former aide of Sen. Percy's, suggested that Farmer seek the Republican designation. Farmer doubted he could get their clearance either.

Goldwin pressed the matter May 3-5 during a Kenyon conference on civil disobedience attended by Farmer, Percy, and Rumsfeld. Cornering Farmer, the two Republicans explained what Farmer had not fully understood: to run for Congress as a Republican he need not submit to party discipline but need only promise to vote for the Republican candidate for House Speaker.

A Presidential Primary Likely

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES

Reflector Raleigh Bureau
RALEIGH — Much of North Carolina's present political perplexity, puzzlement and uncertainty may be removed someday by the process of staging a presidential primary in the Spring.

the political process closer to the people.

Feels Strongly
Strickland, 38 year old Goldsboro attorney who was a freshman in the 1967 legislative session, feels very strongly that the political process should be brought closer to the people.

"I ran for election on that promise, and I promised to do all that I could in that direction," Strickland says. "This is why, in view of what has been happening this year, I believe North Carolina should have a preferential primary to select its choices before the party conventions." We feels that at the present time there is a great deal of confusion and uncertainty on both national and state levels.

Would Coincide
Tentatively, Strickland's bill would provide for a preferential primary on the same date as the state primaries—sometime in early May—which would simplify the election procedure. Such a date would fall "somewhere in the middle" of the schedule of other state primaries in a presidential election year, Strickland says.

A Democrat but a firm believer in the two-party system, Strickland favors setting up a preferential primary system along party lines. He feels Republicans would favor and support this against the idea of an "open" preferential primary in which party lines could be crossed.

Further Strickland believes there should be an "undecided" space provided on the ballot in order to determine whether voters of the respective parties would rather send uncommitted delegations to the national conventions.

"Some voters will be unwilling to approve of any of the candidates who announce prior to the conventions," Strickland says. "They should be allowed to vote 'undecided' in order to obtain an accurate expression.

WILLIAM SHIRES

It is a rather novel idea for this state and has been looked on doubtfully in some quarters. But the people appear to want it and the next General Assembly may order it, according to the firm belief of Rep. Thomas E. Strickland of Wayne County.

Strickland plans to introduce a bill calling for a statewide preferential primary for all major parties and all candidates who choose to qualify under the primary rules.

"Reaction to this idea has been very good," Strickland says. "I am more convinced than ever that this is what the people want, and we plan to give it a try."

Closer To People
"I am going to have a bill ready and I'm going to introduce it on the first day of the session," says Strickland. "I believe it is something the people of North Carolina want and are ready for, and I see no reason for delay or waiting."

Practical workings of such a plan will have to be designed and hammered out in the legislature. Strickland has no objection to alterations and refinement, so long as the basic principle of a preferential primary is preserved.

The basic point, Strickland feels, is to obtain an expression of public feeling—to bring

It Puckers Your Mouth

BORDEAUX, France — As a guest of Alexis Lichine, proprietor of the Chateau Priere-Lichine and Lascombes, I spent a few days in watching one of the great vintages being brought in.

M. Lichine promised to take me on a tour of the Medoc, and we started, quite naturally, with his own Chateau Lascombes. He told me that in the course of the tour I would be asked to taste some wines, and he didn't want me to disgrace him.

I practiced by tasting some wines from one of his vats. It tasted good, and I swallowed it. "No, no, no," he said. "Don't swallow it. Swish it around in your mouth." "Clockwise or counterclockwise?" "Clockwise. Counterclockwise is for burgundy. And then spit it on the floor."

I practiced a few times until I got it right. "Now say something," he said.

Union services will be held during the summer on the Courthouse lawn beginning next Sunday, July 29th, and will continue through the month of August. Services will begin each evening at 8 p.m. Rev. R. J. Bamber is chairman of arrangement. K. W. Cobb is chairman of ushers, J. C. Tyson is chairman of offerings, John Clark is chairman of music and Rev. L. R. O'Brien and W. C. Clark head the committee on seating. It is hoped large audiences will assemble for these services.

Mrs. Smith Entertains
Bell Arthur, N. C., July 24 — It must have been an inspiration that devised the first bridal shower; and never was the idea more happily carried out than on Thursday, the 19th of July, when Mrs. Mack Smith entertained in honor of Mrs. Alvin Davis McArthur. . . . The guests assembled at 3:30 p.m., each was given a pencil and paper and requested to write a recipe. Next came two interesting contests which were most zealously worked out, Mesdames R. E. Willoughby and Nash Joyner tying one, while Mrs. Chester McLawhorn won the other. Prizes awarded to the contestants were presented the bride, who was soon informed that her laundry had come, the guests being informed to go with her to receive it. All proceeded to lawn where a large basket, beautifully decorated, and heaped with packages, had mysteriously appeared. Asked by the hostess to examine the contents, she unraveled the parcels exposing to view, not laundry, but many beautiful and useful gifts, for which she thanked the givers most graciously. . . . The rendering of several beautiful piano selections by Miss Martha McArthur added much to the enjoyment of the occasion.

The master of the chai asked me if I wanted to taste some. I nodded, and he gave me a glass. I swished it around and spat it out. Lichine looked pleased at his pupil. "It has a texture all its own," I said. "It tastes like cotton." Lichine kicked me in the leg. "What he means," he said to the master, "is that it tastes like velvet." After we were shown around the chateau (I discovered that nonone in Bordeaux presses wine in their bare feet any more), M. Lichine took me to the Chateau Latour, another of the four greatest vineyards in France. I tasted the Latour wine and said, "A great wine. It has such a rich, soft flavor." Lichine smiled. "Could I have some water?" I asked of the owner, Count Hubert de Beaumont. (Continued On Page 5)

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
ANXIETY NEVER PAYS
There is no burden man bears which is more onerous than that of anxiety. The burden of work ceases after quitting time. Even the burden of sorrow grows more tolerable with the passing of time. But the burden of anxiety deepens the longer we bear it. It digs groves into our nervous systems which deepen with the passing years. It confirms us in an attitude of mind which we morbidly come to enjoy and which at last we cherish in a quite unwholesome fashion. There is nothing more destructive to health of mind and body than anxiety. It never does any good; it does an infinite amount of harm.

Insurance companies have found that the certainty of steady income on the part of those who hold income-producing policies seems to result in the lengthening of the policyholders' lives. Anxiety concerning financial matters has been arrested by this provision. Furthermore, it has been the experience of those who have been able to throw anxiety over their shoulders and adopt a new outlook on life that most of their troubles have evaporated like fog before the morning sun, and that they have experienced a marked improvement in health, appetite and the capacity to sleep at night and to do their work by day.

Texts Don't Tell All

By THOMAS CORPORA
NEW YORK (UPI)—Matt Henson was one of those rollicking, romantic heroes of American history who went to the North Pole with Commander Peary on a bet and became the first man to stand atop the world.

The bet was that a Negro—as Matthew Henson was—could not reach the pole and return with all his fingers and toes intact. He did and won the $100 wager, twice saving the life of Robert Peary, leader of the first expedition to reach the North Pole, in the process.

Most school children in the United States know that Peary led the expedition, but the fact that his companion (Henson) was a black man is often glossed over in standard textbooks.

And most children old enough to watch television or go to the movies know that Geronimo was an Apache chief who terrorized the southwest until finally subdued by valiant U.S. Cavalry. How many know they were Negro cavalry?

Not many. But now the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) has a program with the goal of teaching every American school child—black and white—about the role of the Negro in U.S. history.

The key to the program is the "integrated" or "multiracial" textbook.

"White racism is reflected at its worst in the textbooks and the curriculum of American public schools," said June Shagaloff, the national education director of the NAACP. She said most textbooks give a "distorted and stereotyped" picture of the Negro and ignore his contributions to American history.

During the past three or four years, most major textbook companies have begun to publish new books which point up the Negro role in American life.

The NAACP, for its part, has compiled a list of 399 "multiracial" texts on its pre-school and elementary school levels with evaluations of each one. It is also compiling a bibliography of secondary and college textbooks for use by local educators and students who are trying to get school districts and colleges to buy the books and include them in their curriculum.

History texts note that Negroes were among the first settlers in America—that Crispus Attucks, a Negro, died on Boston Common in the first battle of the Revolutionary War, that Charles Drew, another black man, was instrumental in developing the bloodbank.

Books About Negroes
And there are books which deal entirely with the Negro in the United States, such as the Pitman Publisher Corp.'s "Eyewitness: the Negro in American History," a book that tells of the Negro's contributions to all periods of U.S. history and then gives eyewitness accounts written by the principals.

There are social studies books such as Holt, Rinehart and Winston's "Five Friends at School," which tells the story of two Negro children, two white children and a Puerto Rican child who live in a low-income housing project in New York City.

According to Miss Shagaloff, this book and others like it present the Negro child a picture he can identify with rather than show him a family in "white suburbia" which has no relationship to his own life. (Continued On Page 5)

Govm't Ownership Is A Failure

By ELMER ROESSNER
The old socialist dream of government ownership of public utilities is becoming a nightmare, complete with ghostly voices, fiery pits and falls down bottomless chasms. Government ownership is a failure. It is failing just in the place where it ought to be successful, just where it reaches the most people: in the post office.

A presidential commission, headed by that staunch private enterpriser, Frederick R. Kappel, former AT&T chairman, has just recommended that the post office be turned over to a private corporation. President Johnson has greeted the recommendation with interest, though not with endorsement, which is surprising since when he named Kappel to head the study he could have expected little else. Meanwhile, Service Collapses
But even without this high-level accusation that the government is not competent to run the post office, there is still stronger evidence for all who use the mails. The blunt fact is that service gets lousier every day. Fourth class post offices are being closed, college boys hired for the summer are being fired, new homes and apartments are being denied delivery service, plans to eliminate Saturday deliveries and reduce business are putting the post office out of business, whether Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson is getting even with Congress or cutting his budget or whether Congress wants it that way.

ship does not work. Since the government has shown that it can't win a war in Vietnam, a great cry has been raised that it ought to pull out. With equal logic, demands should be that the government pull out of the postal business. And since government ownership is such an abysmal failure, it might be wise to turn TVA over to private industry. True, TVA has a nice record and charges lower rates than private electrical plants, but this may be because it pays no taxes and earns no dividends. It does bestow cash presents on some political subdivisions, but there are mere pats on the head compared to what a private-industry power company pays in taxes. The government might well turn it over to Consolidated Edison of New York, which pays handsome dividends and succeeds in wresting the highest rates in the world from its customers, a feat that puts TVA to shame.

Bumper Grain Crop, Low Market Prices, Point To Cattle And Hogs

Farmers in this area are facing a problem. A bumper crop of corn and other grains coupled with unusually low market prices.

Or at least this is indicated by a study just completed by Dr. J. W. Pou, agricultural specialist with Wachovia Bank and Trust Co.

According to Dr. Pou's findings, released here today by William C. Glidewell, Jr., excellent crop yields in corn and other grains are in prospect for this year and this heavy crop will, in all likelihood, "serve to hold prices down this harvest season."

But Wachovia, which has financed thousands of area farmers' crops this year, has also completed an analysis of the cattle and hog markets, Pou reported, and the picture is not as bleak as it might be because of the "extremely good" livestock situation.

According to the Wachovia study, "Prospects for stable and strong cattle and hog markets are excellent. The market should remain strong for the next 12 months."

What does this mean to the grain grower? "With this strength in cattle and hogs," Dr. Pou said, "a very good market exists for the farmer to sell his corn and other grains as feed. The market is strong, the demand is good, and the chances are excellent that the farmer will receive a considerably higher price by selling his grain through cattle and hogs than by selling for cash at the time of harvest."

Dr. Pou's report said many farmers had resigned themselves to selling quickly at lower prices because of bank commitments on their crops.

"We at Wachovia have thoroughly analyzed the situation," he said, "and we have every confidence in the stability of the cattle and hog market and its ability to bring better prices to corn and grain growers. The bank will be more than happy to work with grain farmers and to help them obtain the very best prices for their crops."

In regard to the livestock market, Dr. Pou said he was the projected strength of this market. Not only can it mean higher prices for the grain farmer, it will also help bring North Carolina out of its beef and pork production deficit, he said.

The Wachovia study revealed that North Carolina is still consuming far more beef and pork than is produced in the state.

(Continued From Page 4) Ohio to his friend, May or John V. Lindsay of New York. Could the Brooklyn Republican regulars give Farmer a green light? Lindsay's return call to Ohio was not encouraging. Young Negro Republicans in Bedford-Stuyvesant, he told Percy, were not enthusiastic about Farmer—partly because his home was in Manhattan, not Brooklyn. They preferred one of their own, even though certain defeat would follow.

Returning to Washington, Percy fired off a letter to Lindsay restating Farmer's case. Simultaneously, Rumsfeld went to work on key New York Republicans through various routes. For example: at Rumsfeld's urging, House Republican leader Gerald Ford contacted Republican National Committee member George Hinman of New York.

Thanks to the intervention of Lindsay, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, and Sen. Jacob Javits, the Brooklyn regulars relented barely before the deadline. The regular candidate dropped out to make room for Farmer. With both Republican and Liberal designations, Farmer has a fighting chance.

Before I could say I wanted to drink the water, Lichine dragged me away. "Never, never, never ask for water in Bordeaux," he admonished me.

"But I tell you my mouth is all puckered up. My cheeks are stuck to my teeth."

Lichine would have none of it. The last chateau we visited belonged to Philippe de Rothschild, owner of the Mouton-Rothschild Vineyards. M. Rothschild, a gracious host, showed us through his caves and invited us to have a glass of champagne with him in his house, one of the most beautiful in France.

We went upstairs, and a servant served us each a bubbling glass. Lichine toasted his host, and we each sipped some. Then as Lichine looked on in horror I swished it around in my mouth.

He screamed, "No!" But it was too late. I had already spit it on the floor.

Miss Shagaloff and other educators believe the next textbooks will help to upgrade the education that Negro children get by increasing their pride in themselves and giving them something to "shoot for."

But having the books available is one thing and getting them into the classroom is another.

"Some officials and districts have been extremely responsive," said Miss Shagaloff. "but the vast majority are still dragging their feet."

She said after Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., was assassinated the NAACP decided to accelerate its efforts to get the new textbooks into school systems in the north and south.

Social Security Card Is Important To The Holder

Jack Tatem, district manager of the Greenville Social Security office, emphasized why a social security card is so important and why the correct account number should be shown when inquiring about benefits.

Tatem states the Social Security Administration must keep a record of earnings for everyone covered by the Social Security Law. "It is impossible to keep these records by name only. Many people have the same name but no two people have the same social security number. You are the only person with the number shown on your social security card. When you use your card, you can be sure that no matter how many other people have the same name as yours, the Social Security Administration will be able to give you credit for your wages by using your personal account number."

"Imagine the work of keeping a record of the income of nine out of ten of the working people in the United States today. You can help in this huge bookkeeping job by getting a social security account number card and making sure that your employer has a record of your name and social security number exactly as they appear on your social security card."

The Greenville District Office does not keep a file of social security numbers for all persons living in its area. The social security number for every person in the United States is kept in the Central Accounting Office in Baltimore, Maryland. If a social security card is lost, it is necessary to check with the Central Accounting Office to get the social security number and issue a duplicate card. A person who has their social security card and correct number when applying for benefits will speed up processing of the claim and will receive a social security check faster.

we care

Good potato, but we won't use it

This is a NO. 1 grade potato.

But we won't use it for Jane Parker Potato Chips because it measures more than 4 inches in diameter.

We have minimum and maximum sizes to insure the best chips...the best eating.

But size isn't the only thing we're fussy about.

We'll use only certain varieties of potatoes.

There are 20 or more varieties we wouldn't think of using...they just don't make good chips.

We're careful about potato sugar content.

It must be low to produce chips of uniform color.

We're fussy too about crispness, thickness and lots of other things.

This may seem like an awful lot of fussing, but that's the way we are about all Jane Parker products...about all the products we make.

When you think about it, shouldn't fussy A&P be your store?

N.Y. Riot Police Curb Disorderly

By JOSH MILLS
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Special police reinforcements moved into the Lower East Side for the fourth consecutive night Tuesday and arrested 13 persons after a bottle-throwing attack on police.

A parade of residents of the Spanish-speaking area broke up into the attack. The parade had been organized as a cooling-off for the area, which has protested the presence of the special police forces.

Some 250 members of the Tactical Patrol Force, specially trained in riot and crowd control, spent several hours trying to disperse the disorderly crowds.

By 1 a.m. today the area was reported relatively quiet.

One bottle-throwing spree led plainclothes detectives to sweep along Sixth Street, telling people to get inside the buildings in the predominantly Puerto Rican area.

TPF members swept the streets adjoining Sixth Street and Avenue C.

At one point, plainclothesmen entered a tenement with guns drawn and arrested six persons, including one woman. They were charged with disorderly conduct.

Seven other arrests were made, including two for burglary at a local supermarket. No injuries were reported.

Earlier, two policemen were struck by thrown bottles in the Coney Island section of Brooklyn, hours after Mayor John V. Lindsay walked through the tense neighborhood, which had seen three straight nights of unrest.

The policemen were not seriously injured and the Brooklyn neighborhood was quiet for the rest of the night.

Nonfarm Jobs In State Increased

RALEIGH (AP) — Nonfarm employment increased 17,500 in North Carolina during June, rising to a total of 1,610,000, State Labor Commissioner Frank Crane said today.

Crane said the largest increases occurred in textile mills, furniture factories, food products plants, construction, finance, services and government.

The figure was 39,700 higher than a year ago.

Earnings of factory workers averaged $2.17 an hour in June, showing no change from the May level. But the work week advanced by 6 hours to an average of 41.2 hours, bringing average weekly earnings up $1.30 to $89.40.

Crane said only four employment groups—schools, tobacco stemmies, chemicals and motor transportation—reported employment decreases. Twenty-two groups reported gains.

Bulgarians Are Told To Leave

VIENNA (AP) — The Bulgarian ambassador, six embassy officials and a journalist of the Bulgarian news agency BTA have been expelled from Albania for "hostile activities," the Albanian Radio reported today.

Presumably the expulsion was in retaliation for the earlier expulsion of the Albanian ambassador and five embassy officials from Bulgaria. They were charged with having incited citizens to carry out anti-state activities.

The broadcast from Tirana, the Albanian capital, rejected this charge and said it was only pretence to divert the "Bulgarian people's attention from the serious situation in the country."

The Bulgarian news agency had said despite the expulsion of the Albanian diplomats, diplomatic ties between the two countries would not be broken. Albania goes all the way with Red China in the feud between Peking and Moscow.

No Curfew, But Sound A Siren

MERCEDES, Tex. (AP) — The Mercedes City Commission has decided to sound its siren every night at 10 as a reminder to youths that the hour is getting late.

Attorney Homer Salinas told the commission Monday night that a curfew for juveniles would be unconstitutional and could not be enforced. Salinas said existing laws on loitering and vagrancy could handle the situation of youths staying out late.

"The crux of the thing is delinquent parents," said Commissioner Ray Hernandez.

Mayor Adan Cantu recommended that "we go ahead and sound the siren at 10 o'clock." "Maybe it will wake up the parents," said Hernandez.

FALSE ALARM
LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard detectives rushed to the Tower of London Tuesday and sealed off the tourist center after the burglar alarm sounded in the room housing the crown jewels. It was a false alarm caused by an electrical fault.

Outlaw Is Given Mental Checkup

RALEIGH (AP) — Edward Thompson Jr., arrested last week after a widespread man-hunt and charged with murder and kidnaping in Virginia, is in Dorothea Dix Hospital in Raleigh for a routine psychiatric examination.

Thompson was transferred to the state mental hospital Monday. A hospital spokesman said the 37-year-old Negro was being kept in the hospital's maximum security building.

Thompson, accused of murder, rape and kidnaping, could remain in the hospital up to 60 days while doctors prepare a report on his mental condition, the spokesman added.

He was arrested in Greensboro. Police said he had kidnaped three white teen-age girls from Roanoke, Va., and held them hostage more than 24 hours before his capture. He was charged with kidnaping them and murdering the father of one and the mother of another near Roanoke.

Thompson had been held in the Buncombe County jail at Asheville, awaiting trial in North Carolina or Virginia.

Scott Proposes Freer Role For Local Govm'ts

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Lt. Gov. Bob Scott, the Democratic nominee for governor says North Carolina cities should be permitted to impose sales or payroll taxes without prior approval from the General Assembly.

Speaking at Charlotte Monday Scott said payroll taxes and special sales taxes could provide needed income for cities to meet their financial problems.

He added that he would oppose any new statewide taxes.

Under present North Carolina law the legislature must authorize any additional taxes levied by cities.

Also at Charlotte, Scott reiterated his support for a state department of urban affairs, creation of a narcotics squad within the State Bureau of Investigation, and that need and qualification should determine hiring by the state, not racial consideration.

A total of 2,989 delegates and 110 national committee members are eligible to attend the Democratic National Convention this year.

Rockefeller Sees Reagan Gaining Vote Support

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ronald Reagan and Nelson A. Rockefeller found themselves in agreement today on a surprising point: Both saw growing support for Reagan's unannounced presidential candidacy.

Rockefeller, governor of New York, told newsmen at the National Governors Conference at Cincinnati Tuesday that he knows of 55 delegates, most of them in the South, who have switched from support of Richard M. Nixon as the Republican presidential candidate.

Rockefeller said 37 have lined up behind Reagan and the rest behind his own, announced candidacy.

Despite conceding this shift to Reagan, Rockefeller insisted that only he can win for the Republicans in November.

Reagan, appearing at a separate news conference, didn't have any specific figures. But the California governor said "rather sizeable movements" have sprung up designed to make him a candidate.

"I can't ignore them. It's there," Reagan said. At the same time he reaffirmed his intention to lead the California delegation to the GOP convention as a favorite son and not as announced national candidate.

The governors conference provided a focal point for Tuesday's nationwide political doings which included a demonstration-marred visit by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to New York City, a pitch for Maryland delegates by Eugene J. McCarthy and agreement in electrical workers disputes that had threatened both national conventions.

McCarthy and Humphrey are fighting for the Democratic presidential nomination.

State chief executives trooped into a Cincinnati hotel ballroom for statements and comments throughout a day that was capped with a speech by President Johnson in which he reviewed world and national problems.

Among the convention highlights:

—Gov. Tim Babcock of Montana, Nixon's Western regional chairman, said Nixon "has the strength in the key states from coast to coast" to win in November.

—A resolution suggested by Rhode Island's John H. Chafee that would lessen the impact of a big November vote for third-party candidate George Wallace, got a cool reception from several governors, including Rockefeller.

Chafee wanted the governors to endorse an agreement between the major parties to guarantee the presidency to the candidate getting the biggest popular vote if there should be no majority winner in the Electoral College. Such an agreement is being pushed by a bipartisan group of congressmen.

Although several governors agreed that the Southerner's strength is growing, most played down fears that Wallace would gain enough votes to throw the election into the House of Representatives.

Wallace himself, campaigning in Iowa, said he didn't think such an agreement would be constitutional. He called it "foolish."

—Gov. John B. Connally of Texas stopped short of saying Massachusetts Sen. Edward M. Kennedy lacked the qualifications to be a vice presidential running mate for Humphrey, but indicated he favored a more conservative candidate.

Several governors earlier in the conference suggested Kennedy would add great strength to a Humphrey ticket.

Humphrey, meanwhile, indicated that he was reserving for himself the right to pick a running mate, although he wasn't locking the door to an assist from the convention.

"I would want very much to have something to say about that myself," Humphrey told a New York news conference which was his first formal session with the press since he announced his candidacy.

Humphrey didn't indicate his preference for a running mate, but showed some irritation when asked repeatedly about whether he will talk to Kennedy about the possibility of accepting second place.

The news conference preceded a $500-a-plate dinner at which Humphrey declared, while hundreds of antiwar demonstrators milled in the streets outside, that the next president will have to re-examine America's national priorities.

Humphrey headquarters in Washington released a letter the vice president wrote July 15 to the Democratic Platform Committee, suggesting seven themes be considered in shaping the 1968 platform.

The themes summe up what Humphrey has been saying in campaign appearances and position papers and included: Peace, at home and abroad, a

"Marshall Plan" for the cities; programs to insure full employment; strengthening of the free enterprise system; an "open presidency" with citizen participation at all levels, and full use by society of the benefits of science and technology.

McCarthy, in Baltimore to try to persuade Maryland delegates to at least remain uncommitted before the convention, criticized Humphrey for saying he was unclear on McCarthy's Vietnam position.

"They must be keeping the vice president in singular isolation in the White House," McCarthy said.

McCarthy also said the Vietnam war appears no closer to settlement than before the Paris peace talks started, despite the Vietnam summit the past week-end in Hawaii.

There were these other political developments Tuesday: —Agreements were reached in both Chicago and Miami Beach, lifting the threat of communications blackouts during the political conventions.

In Chicago, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers said it would allow its members, working without pay, to install all necessary facilities in the International Amphitheatre for the Aug. 26 Democratic convention. The union has been on strike since early May in a contract dispute with Illinois Bell Telephone.

In Miami Beach, a spokesman for the Columbia Broadcasting System announced settlement of a dispute that had halted communications work in preparation for the GOP convention.

City Menaced By Gas Cloud

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — A great gray cloud hung over this chemical-making center today as thousands cautiously returned to the homes they evacuated because of a deadly chlorine gas leak.

A series of small explosions Tuesday, ripped through the big FMC plant, rupturing a tank filled with the chlorine gas and sending a cloud of gas fumes over a 12-block area in the city of 20,000. Unofficial estimates of the number of evacuees ranged from 500 to 5,000.

Police sealed off the city from Charleston, the state capital across the Kanawha River. Residents sought higher ground to escape the fumes which produced smarting eyes, coughing and vomiting. Dozens were treated at Thomas Memorial Hospital, with some requiring oxygen tents, but none was considered serious.

Fire swept through a complex of buildings at the chemical plant, located on U.S. 60, which cuts through the heart of the city that calls itself "the chemical center of the world." Union Carbide and other chemical producers have installations here and employ thousands.

Capt. J. D. Baisden of the state police detachment in South Charleston said after midnight that "everything is under control now but the fire is still going strong and may burn for 24 hours."

FMC officials said the source of the chlorine leak had been located and sealed but warned that people should not return to their homes until the air cleared.

Atmospheric conditions in the Kanawha River Valley added to the problem. There was little or no wind to disperse the cloud and FMC officials said that the gas hovers close to the ground.

Leadership Training For PTA Members At PTI

Pitt Technical Institute was host yesterday to the annual PTA-sponsored Leadership Training Institute.

Participating in the training program were three members of the Board of Managers of the State PTA: Mrs. D. W. Hancock of New Bern, State Treasurer of the North Carolina Chapter of the PTA; Mrs. R. W. Monds, Hertford, immediate past president of the N. C. Congress of the PTA; and Mrs. Edward Merz, Havelock, State Publicity Chairman of N. C. Congress of the PTA.

Bootleg Still At Difficult Site

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "It was like a jungle up there," said Police Capt. Kenneth Ujevich after raiding a hillside moonshine operation. "I don't know how the moonshiner got the stuff up there."

The captain said the hill in nearby Clairton rose from street level at nearly a 90 degree angle. The raiders got to the still Tuesday by grabbing clumps of vegetation and pulling themselves up.

"The area is so inaccessible it would have been cheaper to buy a bottle every day," Ujevich said.

Reinforcements In Guerrilla War

JAKARTA (AP) — About 1,800 men of the crack Siliwangi Division have been sent to Indonesian Borneo to reinforce troops fighting Communist guerrillas in the jungle, the defense ministry said today.

The ministry said the army hopes to wipe out the "Sarawak Peoples Guerrilla Army" before the end of the year. There are now an estimated 7,000 government troops in the territory.

Locomotive Ran Through Wall

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Last month a Santa Fe locomotive got away from the railroad yards here and sped some 80 miles driverless across Kansas before it was derailed.

Tuesday, another diesel kept going when it should have stopped and crashed part way through the wall of the railroad shops.

The locomotive was sitting outside the shops when a machinist attempted to drive it inside. He said he applied the brakes "but she just kept on going" through a brick and reinforced glass wall.

Damage to the building was extensive, the railroad reported.

Nine Farm Workers Killed As Train Plows Into Bus

NEWTONVILLE, N.J. (AP) — A two-car passenger train plowed into a farm labor bus Tuesday night, killing nine of the migrants and injuring 20 others in this South Jersey community.

State police said the two self-propelled diesel cars of the Pennsylvania-Reading Seashore Lines, carrying some 100 passengers, tore the old school bus in two and threw the rear half 300 feet down the track. No one on the train was injured.

State police accounted for 39 bus passengers, but did not know exactly how many were aboard.

State police said the train was southbound from Philadelphia to Jersey shore points where it passed the crossing, which is

The farm bus was returning migrant workers from a dairy farm to Chester, Pa., according to Mayor John Krokos of Buena Vista Township.

State Trooper John Caruso said the bus driver, Love Clark, 33, of Wilmington, Del. had with him a Delaware driver's license which had expired in March 1968.

Clark was in Kessler Memorial Hospital, Hammonton, with injuries.

City All-Stars Defeat Shelby For Teener Tournament Title

Greenville Teener League All-Stars defeated Shelby this morning for the State Teener League championship. Pitching his third shut-out of the tournament, Russ Smith was awarded the Tournament's Most Valuable Player after the 4-0 Greenville victory. The game was stalemated until the sixth inning when Greenville brought three runs across the plate. Jimmy Paige led off with a triple, and Byron Dickens' attempted bunt became a single, scoring

Paige. Kim Harbin then sacrificed Dickens to second, and Lewis Gidley advanced him to third on a single. Tommy Durham's sacrifice was then errored, and Gidley and Dickens scored. In the final seventh inning, Jimmy Paige slammed an inside the park homer. Pitching his second straight shut-out, Smith only walked one, struck out six, and allowed only three hits for the game.

The victory places Greenville in the area championship beginning in Gastonia next Monday.

Greenville and Shelby met this morning for the State Teener League championship. Greenville earned its way into the contest by downing Shelby yesterday afternoon 3-0. Shelby had previously beaten Greenville 10-1.

Earlier yesterday, Greenville defeated Elizabeth City, 4-1, to advance into the championship round in the double elimination tourney.

In winning the afternoon game, pitcher Russ Smith walked one, struck out nine and allowed only two hits.

In the first inning, Greenville jumped to an early lead. Stanley Cobb walked and then scored as Joe West tripled into tight field. The relay from right field was errored, and West crossed the plate to score.

Greenville scored again in the fifth. Cobb walked again, and stole second. West walked, and Smith singled to score Cobb.

Shelby never had a runner advance past second.

In the first game all the Greenville scoring was done in the first inning. Stanley Cobb walked and moved on a bunt by Joe West. Both then advanced on a Jimmy Paige single that scored Cobb. Kim Harbin reached on a fielder's choice that nailed West at the plate. Dickens then doubled to score Paige, and Bond singled and brought in Harbin. Tommy Durham ended the action with a single that scored Dickens.

Elizabeth City scored its sole run in the fourth. The pitcher Chris Jones singled and advanced on an error. He then scored when Chap Ward doubled.

The winning pitcher for Greenville was Byron Dickens, who walked none and struck out five, allowing only seven hits. Dickens also led Greenville hitting with a double and a triple.

Bumgarner To Be Asst. Rose Coach

Dave Bumgarner, record-holding end on the East Carolina University 1964 Tangerine Bowl team, has been named assistant football coach at Rose High. Starting this season, Bumgarner will be line coach under head coach R. G. "Bud" Phillips.

He will replace Russ Cotten who has accepted an administrative position at Southern Wayne High School. Cotten was assistant football coach, head baseball coach, and history teacher. It is expected that Bumgarner will assume the same duties.

From Valdese, Bumgarner first played with the ECU varsity football squad in 1962. In 1964, he set four school records and one bowl record.

In 1964, he caught the most passes of any person since ECU has been keeping records, 37. He also upped his college varsity total to 74 passes caught, another record. Of these 74 passes, 11 were touchdown tosses, still another record.

His fourth record was for yards on reception, 1,023 for his three seasons.

In the Tangerine Bowl, Bumgarner caught five passes, a record for the contest.

After leaving ECU, Bumgarner played one year for the Toronto Rifles of the Continental Football League. He went into teaching and coaching.

With a double major in social studies and physical education, Bumgarner taught and coached at Edenton's John A. Holmes High School for three years.

Bumgarner is a member of Phi Epsilon Kappa, a national fraternity for physical education teachers. He is married to the former Gigi Guice of Greenville, and they have no children.

Commenting on Bumgarner's appointment, City School Superintendent C. C. Cleetwood said, "His credentials as a person, as a teacher and as a coach are outstanding. We simply think this appointment will be a great boost to the athletic program at Rose High."

Pollard's scoring was led by Gaskill and Frances who both

State Players Gather For East-West Classic

GREENSBORO — When the East and West All-Star football teams gather for their "T-party" in a few days, the 20th annual grid classic at Greensboro High Stadium on Aug. 1 might just develop into a hotly-contested passing duel.

Head Coach Al Vaughn of the East believes he's got a sleeper in quarterback Paul Miller, a field general without a defeat in three seasons. The Ayden ace struck through the air for 20 touchdowns last year, and he claims 47 during his career.

Miller's aerial bombardment ate up over 1,600 yards as the Tornadoes streaked to a 13-0 record last fall. It brought the number of victories to 37 without a loss. And there's QB Lynn Daniel who passed for 15 TDs in Wilson's drive to the state

4-A title. The West, under head Coach Pete Stout, also spotted some thoroughbreds to handle the quarterback assignment. Dan Dayvault terrorized Kannapolis foes for two seasons, Dexter Hoffman of Wilkes Centre directed North Carolina's Shrine Bowl forces, and Bill Leonard of Salisbury comes well versed in Stout's T strategy.

Dayvault, a shifty sort of runner with a knack for getting the job done, dazzled college scouts with his coolness under fire, his ability to pull out one clutch play after another. He passed and ran for 30 TDs. Hoffman's aerials netted Wilkes Central 25 scores in two years. Leonard collected nine touchdowns on runs.

NATIONAL LEAGUE'S WINNINGEST PITCHER — Juan Marichal of the San Francisco Giants last night became the National League's winningest pitcher with a 4-3 10-inning victory over the Chicago Cubs at San Francisco. ## Marichal Grabs 18th In 10-Inning Victory

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Willie McCovey stepped off the plane in San Francisco early Tuesday evening, but as far as the Chicago Cubs are concerned his feet still haven't touched the ground.

McCovey flew to Los Angeles for an examination of his gimpy right knee, then winged back home in time to stroke four hits, including a two-out 10th inning homer that gave the Giants and Juan Marichal a 4-3 triumph over the Cubs.

Marichal checked the Cubs on five singles before nailing his 18th victory in 22 decisions when McCovey unloaded home run No. 24.

Elsewhere in the National League, the streaking Cincinnati Reds shrugged off a two-run ninth inning homer by Pittsburgh player-coach Bill Virdon and nipped the Pirates 7-6 in the 12th; first-place St. Louis walloped Philadelphia 11-5, the New York Mets edged Atlanta 2-1 and Los Angeles topped Houston 3-1.

Detroit downed Washington 6-4, Baltimore beat Cleveland 8-6, New York trimmed Boston 4-1 and Minnesota divided a doubleheader with California, winning

Jorgensen Named LSU Swim Coach

BATON ROUGE, La.—Layne Jorgensen, a former Southern Conference swimming champion, has been named swimming coach at Louisiana State University, Athletic Director Carl Maddox has announced.

A native of Greenville, Jorgensen, 24, is currently serving as coach and swimming instructor at the Ginter Park Swimming Club in Richmond, Va.

Following his graduation from J. H. Rose High where he participated in football and basketball for three years, he enrolled in East Carolina University where he achieved both his bachelor's and master's degrees in Physical Education.

After playing football at East Carolina, Jorgensen served as a missionary in Uruguay (1961-62), and returned to ECU where he became the 50-yard freestyle swimming champion of the Southern Conference for two years. He was named Honorable Mention All-America in swimming both in 1967 and 1968.

While doing graduate work at East Carolina, Jorgensen served as a teaching Fellow in the Department of Health and Physical Education.

Bill Bankhead, coordinator for minor sports at LSU, said, "We feel fortunate to secure the services of someone with Layne's qualifications. He is young enough to be enthusiastic and experienced enough to know his job well. I am sure that the challenge of getting our swimming program off the ground will be a further stimulus to this outstanding young man."

Jorgensen, who is married to the former Karen Lox of Roanoke, Va., will assume his new duties in September. He said, "LSU has a great athletic tradition in intercollegiate sports. I am happy to have the opportunity to help inaugurate a new era."

the nightcap 3-1 after bowing 3-1 in the first game, in American League action. Oakland and Chicago were rained out after 2½ innings.

McCovey made his trip to Los Angeles to consult with Dr. Robert Kerlan regarding the knee injury that had been bothering for more than two weeks.

Dr. Kerlan found a touch of arthritis in the knee, but the Cubs soon discovered there's nothing wrong with the towering first baseman's wrist action.

McCovey drove in one of the Giants' two first inning runs with the first of his three singles. His run-scoring single in the fifth gave Marichal a 3-1 lead, but the Cubs rallied for two runs in the seventh to knot it.

Lamabe got past Ron Hunt and Willie Mays in the 10th, but McCovey broke the deadlock with a blast into the left-center field seats.

Marichal applied an 0-for-5 collar to Glenn Beckert, snapping the Cub second baseman's season-high hitting streak at 27 games.

The Reds bunched the last four of their 20 hits in the 12th inning to break a 5-5 tie at Pittsburgh after 37-year-old Virdon, reactivated last week after a three-year absence from the majors, sent the game into overtime with his ninth-inning homer off relief ace Ted Abernathy.

Tony Perez' fifth hit, a run-scoring single, gave the Reds a 6-5 lead and Tommy Helms followed with another RBI single, offsetting a Pittsburgh run in the bottom of the 12th and insuring Cincinnati's fifth straight victory.

Home runs by Ed Kranepool and Ron Swoboda and tight relief pitching by Cal Koonce carried the Mets past the Braves, who have dropped five in a row.

Kranepool hit his second homer of the year in the second inning and Swoboda crased his first since June 10th in the sixth before Koonce rescued winner Tom Seaver in the eighth.

Two doubles by Roger Maris drove in four of St. Louis' 10 runs in the first three innings as the Cardinals stretched Philadelphia's losing string to five with a 14-hit barrage.

Lou Brock and Mike Shannon delivered two runs apiece for the Cardinals, who lead the second place Braves by 12½ games.

Bob Bailey's leadoff homer in the sixth—the first hit off Mike Culler—and run-scoring singles by Ted Savage and pitcher Claude Osteen brought the Dodgers from behind against Houston.

Osteen scattered seven hits in bringing his season mark to 8-14.

Smith Pushes Panic Button, But McLain Wins

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Add Detroit's Mayo Smith to the list of push-button managers. First he pushed the panic button by starting Denny McLain with only two days' rest. But just when the Tigers were in danger of losing again he hit the right one and out popped two pinch hitters who turned the game around.

When the wheels had stopped turning Detroit had a 6-4 victory over Washington Tuesday night and a six-game lead in the American League as Baltimore stopped Cleveland 8-6 and jumped back over the Indians into second place.

Elsewhere, the New York Yankees downed Boston 4-1 and California and Minnesota split a doubleheader by 3-1 scores, the Angels taking the opener and the Twins the nightcap. The Chicago White Sox led Oakland 3-0 after 2½ innings before they were rained out.

In the National League, St. Louis walloped Philadelphia 11-5, the New York Mets edged Atlanta 2-1, Cincinnati nipped Pittsburgh 7-6 in 12 innings, Los Angeles stopped Houston 3-1 and San Francisco shaded the Chi-ago Cubs 4-3 in 10 innings. Detroit trailed Washington 4-3 on the strength of Frank Howard's 28th homer in the second inning and a three-run outburst in the sixth. But Phil Ortega walked Al Kaline to open the eighth, Willie Horton sacrificed him to second and Bill Freehan also walked.

Pinch hitter Jim Price singled home the tying run against Barry Moore and after Dave Baldwin got Norm Cash to foul out, Gates Brown, another pinch hitter, singled in the go-ahead run. The Tigers scored an insurance run in the ninth on Jim Northrup's double and a single by Kaline.

The late-inning fireworks provided Denny McLain with his 19th victory, although he left in the eighth for a pinch hitter. It was the third time this month a Detroit starter had worked with two days' rest—a month in which the Tigers' lead had dropped from 9½ to five games before Tuesday night's action—and the third time this season for McLain.

"We were very fortunate," Smith said. "Maybe we needed a game like this to turn us around."

The Tigers had lost eight of 12 games since the All-Star break. Boog Powell's three-run homer and Dave Johnson's two-run triple powered Baltimore past Cleveland. Powell doubled home a run in the first inning and then scored on Brooks Robinson's homer. Jose Cardenal put the Indians ahead 4-3 with a fifth-inning homer.

But Powell unloaded his 18th homer in the bottom of the inning and Johnson's triple in the eighth offset a Cleveland run in the eighth and Joe Azcue's homer in the ninth.

The Yankees utilized a bases-loaded walk to beat Boston. Juan Pizarro walked Frank Fernandez with two out in the seventh inning to force home the tie-breaking run.

Tom Tresh homered in the fifth for his first run and they added two in the eighth. Stan Bahnsen went the route for the Yanks.

George Brunet scattered six hits and won his fifth straight game as California won the opener from Minnesota. The only damage was Ted Uhlaender's seventh homer, which ended Brunet's string of scoreless innings at 24.

But the Twins scratched out three unearned runs and won the nightcap behind Jim Merritt's clutch pitching.

Tuesday's Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
BATTING—Willie McCovey, Giants, slammed his 24th homer with two out in the 10th inning to cap a four-hit night and give San Francisco a 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

PITCHING—Juan Marichal, Giants, checked the Cubs on five singles in going the distance for his 18th victory against four losses.

Roosevelt Grier Retires; McDowell Begins Career

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Roosevelt Grier, a 287-pound veteran, is finished with pro football. Definitely. Sam McDowell, a 350-pound—maybe—rookie, is ready to start his career. Maybe.

A Los Angeles Rams' spokesman said Tuesday the 36-year-old Grier, a defensive tackle for 11 National Football League seasons, has retired to devote his time to show business and working for "harmony and peace among races."

Grier sat out last year with a ruptured Achilles tendon. When McDowell, an offensive tackle who was the Miami Dolphins' ninth-round draft choice, signed his contract, it was stipulated that he report to camp. McDowell reported Tuesday, stepped on the scales and the needle bounced to the maximum 350 pounds. His total weight could be only estimated.

He was held out of the American Football League's first full-scale workout, and Joe Thomas, director of player personnel, said a decision on McDowell's status would be made shortly.

In a National Football League trade Tuesday, the Dallas Cowboys acquired kicker Mike Clark from the Pittsburgh Steelers for an undisclosed draft choice. Clark is expected to fill a vacancy created when Danny Villanueva retired last week.

Defensive safety Jerry Richardson quit the Atlanta Falcons and defensive tackle Dennis Randall left the New York Jets' camp.

Officials of the NFL Falcons said Richardson quit when his demand for a three-game guarantee for the 1968 season was refused. Richardson needed to be activated for at least three more games to be eligible for a five-year NFL pension.

A spokesman for the AFL Jets said he didn't expect Randall to return. Club officials said he was unhappy and had several business opportunities.

Tackle John Johnson, a five-year NFL veteran, and rookie halfback Gary Lyle still had not reported to the Chicago Bears' camp, and Coach Jim Dooley said each would be fined $250 for every day they are absent. Dooley also announced that defensive back Roosevelt Taylor had signed.

And George Halas Jr. announced the Bears are willing to trade defensive back Richie Pettibon to New Orleans for the Saints' No. 1 draft pick. Pettibon recently announced he would retire if not traded to the Saints because he cannot leave New Orleans for business reasons.

Veterans John Wooten and Ross Fichtner, put on waivers by Cleveland recently after stories broke concerning an alleged racial slight, became free agents after no other NFL club claimed them. Wooten, a guard, is a Negro. Defensive back Fichtner is white.

Oakmont Rallies, Takes Bat Battle

Oakmont rallied for five runs in the sixth inning to outlast Gum Swamp, 19-18, in last night's scoring battle in the Church Softball League. In the other game, Pentecostal forfeited to Mt. Pleasant.

In the Oakmont-Gum Swamp game, Gum Swamp took the first lead, in the second inning, 5-4. They kept until the fourth, when Oakmont took it for keeps.

Gum Swamp came close in the seventh, but fell one short to lose 19-8.

For Gum Swamp, tripp and Wallace had homers.

Matador Henry Higgins Surprises The Experts

THE AFFICIONADOS predicted the bulls would make a sieve out of Henry Higgins. After three years, what the bulls have done to Henry doesn't begin to match he has done to the bulls. (UPI Telephoto)

By ALDO TRIPPINI

MADRID (UPI)—The aficionados predicted that within three years the bulls would make a sieve out of Henry Higgins.

The three years are now up and what the bulls have done to Henry doesn't begin to match what he has done to the bulls with his cape and his sword.

A few weeks ago bullfight fans leaped to their feet to applaud what many consider to be the best of his 50-odd duels in the sun so far. He was awarded the bull's two ears and tail, a high accolade for a matador.

Fiancee There

It was not always thus for Henry Higgins. And what made him as happy as the knowledge of a perfect performance was the fact that his lovely blonde American fiancee, Linda Seals of Dallas, was there to see him.

Like the Italians who believe that only they can breed operatic tenors, then Latin countries consider bullfighters their monopoly.

An Englishman trying to crack the sacred circle was bad enough. But a would-be matador sporting the name Henry Higgins was simply too much.

Carrying this double handicap, Higgins decided on a holiday trip to Spain from England in 1961, when he was 16, to make bullfighting his career.

Born in Colombia, son of an oil engineer, he spoke Spanish fluently. This helped him get off jobs for enough money to enable him to live in Spain long enough to see if he had the talent and courage.

"At first it was just the romantic idea of a bullfight," he said. "You know, the idea of fighting against a real danger just for the fun of it. Well, I gold myself, let's try."

Made Debut

After training at "fincas"

(bull farms) with the "vaquillas bravas" (the small muscular cows which do not have the strength of bulls) Higgins finally made his debut as a "novillero" or apprentice at Los Palacios near Seville on Aug. 7, 1965.

About this time he yielded to pleas to change his name—Higgins is nearly unpronounceable in Spanish anyway. So he became Enrique Canadas. Enrique is the Spanish for Henry and Canadas is the family name of people in Seville who befriended him.

Novilleros must, by tradition, live, eat and breathe bullfighting, a complicated sport which involves endless negotiations outside the bullring for the best fights at the best arenas. It is a full time job and the way to the top is fiercely competitive.

One of the traditions is that under no circumstances should a novillero fall in love. There is no room for romance in his life.

"But I'm in love," said Higgins frankly. "I can't give up bullfighting. But I can't give her up either. Sometimes I think there's a risk in all this. But I try to concentrate on bullfighting every moment I'm not with her."

Miss Seals, a long-legged 20-year-old, said the situation had one advantage.

"As far as Henry is concerned my only rivals are the bulls he fights."

Not Always Happy

She attends his duels, not always the happiest of experiences.

"Last month's bullfight at El Escorial was quite an experience for me," she said. "Henry's first bull was a bad one and the performance was obviously poor. At one point Henry was thrown up into the air and slightly injured. I was horrified. I started shaking inside. I whispered 'Henry honey, Henry honey' I don't know how many times."

"It was just too horrible. I thought it was the most difficult moment of our romance. I can't go on suffering like this. I thought. But with the second bull everything was different. Henry convinced me he could go on and become a great matador—though I couldn't see him clearly walking around the ring in triumph because there were tears in my eyes."

Higgins was sent to hospital with a serious thigh injury from a bull's horn last year and he has had broken ribs and various cuts and bruises.

"But this is so normal in bullfighting it's hardly worth talking about," he said.

This winter Henry and Linda will go to Colombia, Venezuela, Peru, Ecuador and Mexico where he has fights arranged.

"I never consider the bull an enemy," Higgins said. "The bull is for the bullfighter what a violin is for the concert artist. The only trouble is that in bullfights as in the concert hall, a Stradivarius is a rarity."

ROAD TO IMPROVEMENT

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (AP)—Bus firm manager Rollo Dickson felt his company needed some living up, so he put this slogan on one of his buses: "As comfortable as your car, these new buses—even on Heugh Road."

Heugh Road was known as one of the roughest in the city. Apparently the city council took note, because Heugh Road now has a smooth new surface.

A new slogan on Dickson's bus reads: "Now every bit as comfortable as your car, these new buses—especially on Heugh Road. Thank you, Mr. City Engineer!"

John H. Banks Jr., 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Banks of 206 Patrick St., Greenville, recently received his Eagle Badge.

Banks is the first member of Boy Scout 362, sponsored by the

JOHN BANKS, JR.

Greenville Moose, to earn the Eagle Badge. His Scoutmaster is Thomas Butts.

The new Eagle Scout has just returned from 3 weeks at Camp Boyhaven, in the Adirondacks of New York, where he was sponsored by William Davis, past Neighborhood Commissioner of Troop 362.

Davis, a graduate of East Carolina University, is now an executive scouter in the Schenectady County Council, N.Y.

John has earned 34 merit badges, seven of which were earned at Camp Boyhaven this summer. He is also a member of the Order of the Arrow.

Three Injured In Collision Here Yesterday

Greenville police reported three persons were injured in a 9 p.m. traffic collision on Memorial Drive yesterday that resulted in an estimated $875 property damage.

Investigators said cars driven by Billy Carroll Nichols, 25 of Route 1, Wilson and Wilson Gartell Lancaster, 46, of Norfolk, Va., were involved in the collision, about 1,000 feet North of the Trade Street intersection.

After the two cars collided, officers reported, the Nichols vehicle struck a utility pole.

Damage was set at $600 to the Nichols vehicle, $225 to the Lancaster car and $50 to the pole.

Nichols and two passengers in his car were taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries they received in the collision, officers reported.

Outterbridge At UNC-G Workshop

GREENSBORO — Freddie Outterbridge, 612 Roosevelt Ave., Greenville, is one of 24 art teachers from throughout the state attending a sculpture workshop at the University of North Carolina here.

The workshop began July 15 and will continue through July 27.

The public school teachers attending the workshop are attending expense-free under a grant to the UNC-G art department from the North Carolina Arts Council.

The sculpture workshop is being conducted by James Sterritt, professor of sculpture at the Tyler School of Art at Temple University. The sessions include work in plaster, plastic and metal.

Town Damaged By Flaming Fuel

PAVIA, Italy (AP)—A bolt of lightning struck an Italian army gasoline dump today, sending flaming gasoline down into the North Italian village of Ravanazzano. Gas pipes exploded, 25 houses were damaged and one collapsed, but only four of the 3,000 villagers were reported injured.

The gasoline dump was on a hill nearly two miles from the village, which is 22 miles from Pavia. The burning gasoline flowed down the hill, through a river and into a canal that crossed the village.

As gas pipes exploded and fires broke out in the village, the panic-stricken inhabitants escaped to the nearby fields.

Firemen from Pavia, Voghera and Milan rushed to the scene. It took them three hours to put out the fire.

Telegraph, telephone, water, electric power and gas lines were damaged. Twenty houses were damaged by explosions, one collapsed and five others were partly burned, according to an initial survey.

Russian Trawler Off Charleston

CHARLESTON (AP)—A Russian trawler, carrying electronic equipment has been observed off the Charleston Harbor.

Harbor pilots said Tuesday the vessel has been patrolling off the port entrance for several days.

They said the Russian ship has been moving in close to the 2-C buoy which marks the shipping channel into the harbor, turning about and heading out to sea again.

Russian trawlers have made irregular visits to the Charleston coast since March 1966.

While U. S. fishing limits have been set at 12 miles offshore, Soviet trawlers can move up to the three-mile territorial limits with immunity as long as they don't drop a net over the side or transfer fish to another ship.

SCHOOL ARSONIST TRIED AND TRIED

FONTANA, Calif. (AP)—Whoever set fire to a Fontana elementary school, destroying its library and an undetermined number of books, tried and tried before he succeeded.

Sheriff's arson investigators said they found 38 burned matches outside the building Tuesday, along with two books of unburned matches.

The average temperature on the planet Saturn is about 225 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

The Munford Do-It-Yourself store is having its grand opening Thursday at the West End Shopping Center. Bob Whichard of Greenville will be the manager.

The Munford Do-It-Yourself stores and associate stores are now operating in eight southeastern states.

Catering primarily to the homeowners who are trying to improve the appearance, comfort and efficiency of their homes, Munford will stock a broad selection of items designed for home projects.

To serve this purpose, Munford is stocking floor tiles, paneling, ceramic tile, unfinished furniture, counter topping, paints, hardware, tools and hundreds of other items. Munford products, as well as nationally known and advertised brands of merchandise, will be maintained in stock.

The policy of the new store is to combine the lowest possible prices consistent with top quality merchandise, officials said. Friendly, experienced service and assistance will be given to each customer.

The Munford Do-It-Yourself Stores are a division of the Atlantic Company with headquarters in Atlanta, Georgia.

Manager Bob Whichard is married to the former Rachel Rivenbark. They have one daughter, Lisa.

Assisting Whichard will be Gary M. Daniels, who has been transferred from the Knoxville, Tenn. Munford store to the Greenville store. Daniels and his wife, Mary, have one daughter, Kelly.

To do the job right you could install a heating system, a cooling system, a ventilator, an air filter, and a dehumidifier. Or simply install an electric heat pump.

It takes a heap of machinery to make a house really comfortable. Unless you have an electric heat pump. A heat pump does exactly the same things as heating, cooling, ventilating, humidifying and dehumidifying systems do. Except a heat pump takes up less room. And can be controlled with just one thermostat setting. By the way, a heat pump usually costs less than all those separate systems.

A Sec. Of Navy Won His Fight With Steelmen

By Christopher Crittenden
N.C. Department of Archives and History

Written for Associated Press
RALEIGH (AP) — Josephus Daniels as secretary of the Navy fought the steel companies tooth and nail. And he actually won his fight. Congress passed a bill authorizing the government to build its own armor plant and ground was broken, but the swift events of World War I intervened.

This is the theme of an article, "Josephus Daniels and the Armor Trust," by Melvin I. Urofsky, in the summer edition of the North Carolina Historical Review. Dr. Urofsky is assistant professor at the State University of New York at Albany.

When Daniels, the Raleigh publisher became Woodrow Wilson's secretary of the Navy in 1913, his "appearance fooled many people." Franklin D. Roosevelt later wrote of his first impression of the secretary as "the funniest looking hill-billy I have ever seen." But, says Urofsky, people "too often equated his quaint cut of clothes with backwoods innocence and provincialism. Actually, he had his clothes custom-made and his haberdashery special ordered. His cherubic face masked an extremely acute and worldly intelligence."

As secretary of the Navy, Daniels set out to "clean up waste and corruption." He and his assistants "scrutinized every contract awarded by the department, suspecting collusion and often finding their suspicions justified."

He was particularly suspicious of the steel producers. He found identical bidding by several companies, and soon set out to have the government construct its own steel plant. So the issue was joined.

When bids came in for the battleship Arizona, it was found that they were identical. Daniels told the companies to sharpen their pencils and try again. A second time they submitted identical bids—and again the secretary rejected them. And so the fight went on.

Finally after three years Congress authorized the government armor plant. Ground was broken at Charleston, W.Va., in August, 1917, but by that time the United States was head over heels in the "War to End War." The plant was never completed.

Daniels "did not want to drive the armor makers out of business, nor to establish a government monopoly." He wanted real competition among private manufacturers—not collusion.

Computer Counts On Help When River Overflows

CLOVERDALE, British Columbia (AP) — The lifeguard here is a computer.

The Fraser River has a tendency to overflow its banks when the spring snows melt, and the district of Surrey, a sprawling 132-square mile suburb of Vancouver, long has lived under the threat of floods.

Now Surrey has turned to electronics for help. A computer has classified the community's 83,500 residents, most of whom live along the river, to speed their rescue during the floods.

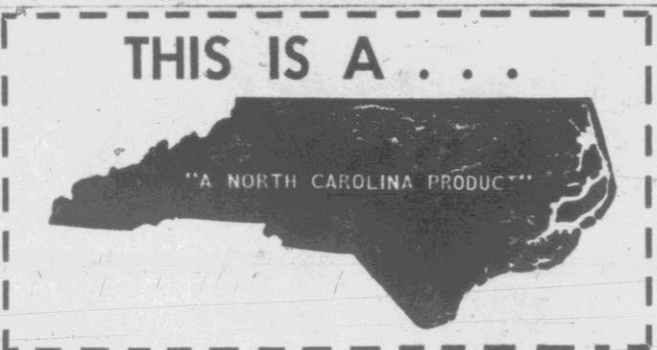

The Honeywell computer knows which residents have their own flood transportation so that rescue efforts won't be wasted trying to reach families already evacuated. It also keeps tabs on persons who have volunteered to house flood victims and classifies them according to such categories as job, income and region.

Population Of Suburbs Slated To Be Whiter

WASHINGTON (AP) — By 1985, the suburbs across America will be twice as populous as they were in 1960, but still 94 per cent white, according to population projections released by President Johnson's Commission on Urban Problems.

In the 30-page report, a suburban population growth from 55 million to 113 million in the 25 years ending in 1985 was seen. The white population of the suburbs is projected to mushroom from 52 million to 106 million while non-white suburbanites will increase from 3 million to 7 million.

Over the same span, the commission estimated the white population of the central cities will decline 5 per cent while the non-white population jumps 94 per cent.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — I have a theory and I would like to pass it along for what it is worth. Now, this is no great earth-shaking, headline-making, whee-wow-whee sort of theory, but merely a something that I personally believe:

People with a sense of humor are ageless.

It occurred to me some years back that the people I considered young were usually the ones who found humor in adversity as well as success. Comedians are an excellent example when you consider such talents as Danny Thomas, Jack Benny, George Burns, Bob Hope, Groucho Marx, Red Skelton, Jimmy Durante, Milton Berle and a list of names that could easily go on for a page or more.

We are all aware that, with the exception of George Jessel, these boys are not exactly teenagers and yet they radiate a feeling of youth rather than age.

I am sure we all know a person who slumps in a chair at the end of the day and relates a tale of supergloom, disaster, and misfortune that dogged his footsteps from the moment he rolled out of bed. You also can probably think of someone else who could encounter the same experiences and have you rolling on the floor with laughter when he tells his story. The gloomy, why-does-it-always-happen-to-me guys are usually old beyond their years while the one with a sense of humor seems to be years younger.

None of us go out of our way to seek adversity, but it is something we all have to live with from time to time. As long as this is a fact of life, it is one heckuva lot better to seek out the humor of a situation rather than compound misery by rehashing or projecting the elements of doom to even greater proportions.

As theories go, my point of view is not likely to go down in history alongside the ponderings of Newton or Gresham, but it has always been of tremendous personal help. I guess you might say that this makes the whole idea worthwhile and logical to me.

Speaking from a comedian's point of view, most of our humor—the tools of our trade—is usually built upon 100 per cent pure, undiluted adversity. I am delighted whenever a microphone goes out or a waiter drops his tray on opening night because it gives me a whole new source of material for my act. The same thing is true for the person who may be addressing the PTA, his or her lodge, giving an annual report—even facing the in-laws for the very first time.

It really does not matter if you happen to be 6 or 60, the folks with a sense of humor always seem to be getting much more out of life in addition to giving something to those around them. I do not think it matters whether you are on the giving or receiving end of humor. It works the same for either end.

Laugh and stay young. It is almost as good as chicken soup.

Judge Took Her Court To Jail

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — The "cooler" was cooler than the courtroom and so the judge took her court to jail.

At 9:30 a.m. the temperature in Nassau County District Court Judge Beatrice Burstein's courtroom was 86 degrees and climbing. A woman prisoner fainted and Judge Burstein made her decision. She announced that she was moving her arraignment court in the administration building to an air-conditioned women's detention cell in the building's jail area.

But although the judge kept her cool all day, those waiting to be arraigned had to suffer in the heat. The 10-foot by 10-foot cell that served as the courtroom was just big enough for desks for the judge, the court clerk, the Legal Aid representative, a chair for the court stenographer, the American flag and the prisoner being arraigned at the moment.

Aristotle proclaimed the heart as the seat of the soul.

Push A Button And Listen In

AUSTI (AP) — Students at the University of Texas this summer can listen to "Hamlet" or folk music by pushing a button in the university's auto library.

A student with time to spare can check out a stereo headset, go to one of 144 listening stations and plug in. A large chalk board on the wall near the checkout counter shows what is playing on the listening station's 19 channels. If the student isn't satisfied with the selection available, he can request that a certain be played or he can check the tape out and play it on one of the 48 individual tape decks in the library.

'The Floater' Is For The Bather

NEW YORK (AP) — The best seat in the house this hot summer may be right in the middle of the pool and this doesn't necessarily mean you can't keep abreast of the latest news, weather reports, baseball scores or top pop music at the same time.

A new radio, the first that can be immersed in water without any danger because it is of solid-state construction and battery powered, has just been developed. Like some soaps, it floats, so naturally, the RCA radio is called The Floater

Grifton JCs Work On Scholarship

GRIFTON — The Grifton Jaycees are currently seeking contributions for its annual Scholarship Fund. The Club gives a $200 scholarship to a qualified Grifton High School senior each year at graduation. Donations may be made by contacting any Jaycee.

Last year's recipient of the Jaycee Scholarship was Danny Rhodes who will enter East Carolina University in the fall. The Scholarship Fund is one of several projects planned by the Grifton Club this year. Rome's Rides, the biggest fund-raising project of the year, will be sponsored in August. Proceeds from this event go towards the Christmas Charity Program which includes food baskets to needy families in the area. The club also collects and repairs used toys to go along with the food baskets.

Other programs lined up for the year are a Clean Up campaign in September, Get Out and Vote publicity in November, and a Citizen of the Year banquet in January.

Officers of the Grifton Jaycee Club are Alex Warren, President; Bill Jackson, Vice President; Leo Ails, Secretary; Jimmy McLawhorn, Treasurer; Wally Pittman, State Director; and Ken Weatherman, Chaplain. The club meets every first and third Monday of the month at 7:30 p.m. at the VFW Building.

Bees Attacked Tree Trimmer

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Bees stung a professional tree trimmer more than 100 times on his face and chest as he was trapped in his climbing ropes 35 feet above the ground.

Huston Wilhoit, 45, of Cincinnati, finally escaped by shaking loose of the ropes, climbing down the tree and falling the last 10 feet.

Wilhoit, who had been summoned to a trailer park to remove a damaged limb from a tree, was reported in fair condition at a hospital.

The prairie dog and the gopher are members of the squirrel family.

The Worry Clinic Success For Many In A Law Of Psychology

Harlan was an Oregon advertising man when he first took my "Motivation Test" as described below. But he soon forgot one of the 5 basic laws of psychology and thus again missed the same problem at Buffalo. So scrapbook this case. It is as vital to speakers and politicians, as to ad men! If you wish to win more votes this fall, send for the booklet below!

By GEORGE W. CRANE Ph. D., M. D.

CASE G-533: Harlan B., aged 48, is an advertising manager.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I was in Portland, Oregon, over 20 year ago when you addressed our Ad Club there.

"You gave us your famous 'Motivation Test' where we were to pick out the winning book title from 15 such pairs. "And I remember I missed on 'The Art of Kissing' vs. 'The Art of Courtship,' though one title pulled over 300 percent better than the other.

"Well, I made the same dog-gone mistake a few years later when you addressed our Buffalo Ad Club.

"So will you please clarify that basic law of psychology illustrated in those two book titles?"

"Other things being equal, people are more interested in the specific than the general. Many of our words are broad general terms that include many subdivisions.

Look at those two book titles again, for one sold 17,500 copies whereas the other sold 60,500 with the same amount of advertising.

Which is the general term—Kissing or Courtship?

"Courtship" is the general or conceptual term for it includes kissing, hugs, moonlight drives, movie dates, candy, flowers, etc.

That's why it sold only 17,500

Local Pastor At Conference

Dr. J. V. Early, pastor of Jarvis Memorial United Methodist Church of Greenville, is attending the Southeastern Jurisdictional Conference of the United Methodist Church, which meets at Lake Junaluska Methodist Assembly, July 24-28.

The North Carolina Conference is represented by 18 ministers and 13 laymen who were elected by the Conference. Dr. Early is the only ministerial delegate from the Greenville District.

A major item of business to come before the Conference will be the election and consecration of a new Bishop, and the assignment of a new Bishop to the Raleigh area. Bishop Paul N. Garber, who has held this position for the past 17 years, will retire on July 28.

Dr. and Mrs. Early will attend Ministers Week at Junaluska, which begins on July 29.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Opening lead: Four of ♣

With the king of clubs located behind the queen, South, the declarer at four spades, learned that he had only one entry to dummy—when this hand was dealt in a recent tournament. The procedure employed by most declarers was to lead the ten of diamonds from the North hand for a finesse. When West turned up with the king, South discovered that he was permanently disconnected from the dummy and he ended up losing one trick in each suit.

At those few tables where South was successful, the play proceeded differently.

West opened the four of clubs, declarer finessed dummy's queen and East won the trick with the king of hearts and South was in with the ace.

Declarer's problem was to confine himself to a single loser between the spade and diamond suits inasmuch as he was obviously off two tricks in hearts and clubs.

With only the ace of clubs available as an entry to the North hand, it appeared that South must choose between a finesse in spades or diamonds.

There was an additional complication, however, for, if declarer crosses over to the ace of clubs to lead the ten of diamonds for example, he must not only find the king outside, but the diamonds have to divide three-three to assure bringing in the suit without loss.

South decided that the trump suit would offer a more favorable prospect provided that he could develop an additional entry to the dummy to repeat the spade finesse. In order to accomplish his objective, he played the queen of diamonds from his hand. West put up the king and returned a heart. East put up the queen, dropping declarer's jack, and continued with a third round which was ruffed in the closed hand.

South crossed over to the ace of clubs and led a spade for a finesse. When the jack of spades won the trick, he was able to reenter the North hand with the ten of diamonds to lead another spade. He put in the queen from his hand as both opponents followed suit. The ace of spades now felled the king and South claimed the balance. His losses were restricted to one trick each in hearts, diamonds, and clubs.

The Protestant Monk Is Emerging Today

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Along the cluttered sidewalks of upper Manhattan's West Side, the Spanish-speaking kids call him "El Padre."

He's a Protestant monk, one of a growing, but little-known contingent of non-Roman church life, and among several who lately have emerged from their strictly contemplative life to work among the poor.

"In times past, the Church has been known mostly as a praying church," said Brother Lawrence Huff, 40, of the Protestant Episcopal Order of St. Francis. "Today, it's becoming a serving church."

Although monasticism has always been a rarity in Protestantism, a score of Lutheran and Reformed communities have developed in Europe in recent years, and the Episcopal orders for men.

It also has 15 sisterhoods, with close to 800 members, who take vows of poverty, chastity and obedience. The male orders total more than 160 members. Also, a Lutheran monk established an order at St. Augustine's House near Oxford, Mich.

There are about 700 Lutheran, 70 Episcopal and 400 Methodist deaconesses, who devote all time to church service.

"A lot of people in the Church hardly know we exist," observed Brother Philip Cope, 23, of the Episcopal Order of St. Francis, whose main monastery is at Mt. Sinai on the north shore of Long Island.

But members of the order, like many formerly enclosed Roman Catholic communities, are moving out of their sequestered life to work in the world, as well as pray for it.

"The contemplative life—prayer and adoration of God—certainly has its great value," Brother Lawrence said. "We don't claim the mixed life is superior to it, but we're trying to reach a better balance."

In doing that, the non-Roman Franciscans, in their long, hooded gray robes, have sallied into Manhattan and established a program of athletics, tutoring, recreation and bible discussion among underprivileged youngsters.

"It's more in line with what St. Francis did—he went out to serve the poor," Brother Lawrence said.

Brother Lawrence, senior in charge of the project, is from Atlanta.

The new role for the order doesn't mean it has given up its regular round of devotional life, but it has shortened the eight-fold daily office to a fourfold office of meditation, reading and prayer.

"We used to emphasize quantity or prayer and now its quality," said Brother Phillip, from Alton, Ill.

The Episcopal Franciscans' Manhattan project, including a public school gymnasium, and a six-hour daily program for young people in summertime.

Other Episcopal orders for men include the Benedictines, of St. Gregory's Priory, Three Rivers, Mass.; St. John the Evangelist, of Cambridge, Mass.; Brotherhood of St. Barnabas, Gibsonsia, Pa., and Holy Cross, of West Park, N.Y., the largest of the five, with about 100 members.

MANTEO, N. C. (AP) — Effective Saturday, 42 employees of the Cape Hatteras National Seashore will be without jobs because of a cut in federal funds.

Supt. Kittridge Wing said on Tuesday 31 maintenance employees and 11 members of the Youth Opportunity Corps were notified Monday that lack of funds would result in their employment being terminated.

Three Of S.C. Quads Survive

SPARTANBURG, S. C. (AP) — The three survivors of the Spartanburg quadruplets born to a young minister's wife were watched closely today following the death of the fourth late Tuesday night.

The heaviest of the four premature infants, a three-pound boy, died at 10:20 p.m. Tuesday after an unsuccessful, 17-hour fight for life.

The baby had experienced respiratory difficulties.

The surviving infants were listed in satisfactory condition today.

The two girls, born first, weighed two pounds and 15 ounces each. The surviving boy weighed two pounds and seven ounces.

The two boys and two girls were born to Mrs. Brenda Norris about two minutes apart in Spartanburg General Hospital. The quadruplets were about seven weeks premature.

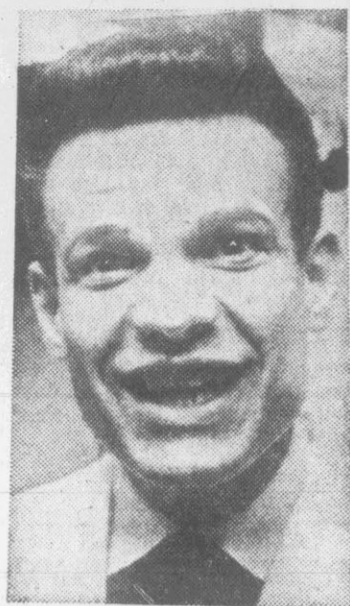

They were the first children for Mrs. Norris and her husband, the Rev. Jerry Norris.

The quadruplets were the second set to be born in South Carolina in 18 years.

The Norris were married four years ago and came to Spartanburg two months ago. Mrs. Norris is formerly of Timmonsville. The Rev. Mr. Norris, pastor of the Free Will Baptist Church, is a native of Evansville, Ill.

The couple lives in a two-bedroom house, but after the births Tuesday, the Rev. Mr. Norris said a guest room also can be made into a nursery.

Aim To Increase Lamb Output

SYDNEY (AP) — Australian ewes might produce four lambs a year instead of one if experiments at Melbourne and Sydney universities are fruitful.

A ewe produces a lamb in just under five months and, at present, spends five months feeding it. She then goes out to pasture for two months before the breeding cycle is repeated.

In the Australian experiments for a higher birth rate, the lambs are taken from their mothers when they are one day old. Hormones are given to ewes in the hope they will produce twins every time.

Professor Derek Tribe, of the Commonwealth Bureau of Agricultural Economics, said that in the experiments lambs taken from their mothers were given a liquid-diet based on whole milk powder for three weeks, then fed solid food. The results, he said, were promising, and the mortality rate low.

True Scholars Said A Necessity

DE KALB, Ill. (AP) — The humanistic attitude must be restored if this country is to continue on the "road to excellence," says Dr. Percy Julian, chemist and founder of the Julian Research Institute, Chicago. He expressed his ideas during a lecture at the Northern Illinois University campus.

He said today's educators are "the most sophisticated but the most confused society of scholars ever to inhabit the earth."

He called on the nation's educators to provide a new definition of morality and restore humanism in man's search for truth and knowledge.

Unless educators can overcome the present trend toward the emphasis on development of marketable skills he noted, "it is doubtful that our educational system can develop in abundance those scholars who can hear and feel the throbbing heart of men."
