Showdown Meeting Resumes

Czech General Is Linked To Soviets

PRAGUE (AP) — A Czechoslovak general opposed to the country's new democratic reforms today was reported in contact with Soviet Army officers as the leaders of the Soviet and Czechoslovak Communist parties resumed their showdown meeting close to the Soviet border.

Prague Radio reported that the two party delegations had gone back into session at Cierna but gave no details. The summit meeting between the Soviet Politburo and the Czechoslovak party's Presidium was expected to conclude today after a thorough debate on the liberalization program launched by Prague's new leaders. But so far there has been no word on the likely outcome of the talks.

Meanwhile, the trade union newspaper Prace reported that Gen. Samuel Kodaj, who warned early this month against "counterrevolutionary" tendencies in the country, met at Srečno, in Slovakia with the "Soviet Army staff which is operating on our territory." Prace said Kodaj and other Czechoslovak officers met with the chief of the Soviet Army staff, a Gen. Mayorov, and other Soviet officers "to exchange views on the present situation."

"Counterrevolutionary" was the chief charge made against Czechoslovak party leadership by the Soviet Union, East Germany, Poland, Bulgaria and Hungary at a meeting in Warsaw early this month.

There was no new word today on the talks between the Soviet and Czechoslovak political leaders which began Monday close to the Soviet border. Usually reliable sources said planes were waiting for the Czechoslovak party presidium at Nosice, nearest airport to the frontier village of Cierna where the Communist leaders met for 12 hours Monday in a dilapidated movie theatre.

The two delegations exchanged views and standpoints," the Czechoslovak news agency CTK reported. Czechoslovak Communist sources have said that the meeting probably would produce no dramatic developments.

The Soviet Politburo—supported by Communist allies in Poland, East Germany, Hungary and Bulgaria—came to Cierna demanding that the Czechoslovaks reverse their party's new liberalization program, re-establish strict party censorship of the press, radio, and television, end the purge of Stalinist hard-liners, permit Soviet or Communist bloc troops on Czechoslovak soil, ostensibly to guard against West Germany, and follow Moscow's general policy lines.

The Czechoslovaks, led by reform-minded Alexander Dubek, pledged in advance of the meeting to continue the easing of the restraints imposed on the country by 20 years of Communist party rule. They also are demanding for all nations in the Soviet-dominated Warsaw Pact military alliance, respect for Czechoslovak territorial integrity and sovereignty and the right to continue reorganization of their economy.

A report from Moscow by the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said the Soviet delegation, headed by party chief Leonid Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Nikolai V. Podgorny, brought a "minimal program" that included the curbing of the new freedom of the Czechoslovak press and the ouster of "anti-Socialist elements" from positions of influence.

Deficit Grows

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top government officials reported today the budget deficit in the fiscal year that closed June 30 was $25.4 billion — $5.6 billion above the administration's estimate in January and $3.1 billion above the revised estimate of March 31.

Receipts fell $2.3 billion short of what had been estimated in January because the surcharge did not go onto the books in time to bring in the revenue anticipated, they said.

Spending was $3.3 billion higher than estimated in January, they said. They noted however that spending for Vietnam was only $800 million above what President Johnson outlined when he spelled out the revisions on March 31.

Police Targets Of Gunshots In Several Cities

In Gary

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Police silenced snipers with return gunfire and arrested 64 persons with beefed-up patrols to restore order again early today in Gary.

Mayor Richard G. Hatcher, following a tour of the city, told newsmen "almost no one was on any street after the police moved in and made mass arrests." No one was reported injured in the third straight night of disorders in this industrial city which has 185,000 residents, 55 per cent of whom are Negro.

Hatcher, 35, the first Negro mayor in a city with a Negro majority, announced establishment of a commission of 14 Negro community leaders. He said the men would work in their respective neighborhoods and act as liaison between the citizens and city officials.

Hatcher said he would continue a curfew on an hour-to-hour basis.

In Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) — A sniper fired through the roof of a police car, wounding two officers Monday night in an outburst of shooting, firebombing and rock-throwing in Seattle's predominantly Negro central area.

Three other officers were injured and three civilians were wounded by gunfire which police said they did not return.

The violence followed arrest of two members of the militant Black Panther party on suspicion of larceny and a rally at which a Panther leader told 150 Negroes "If you have a gun and don't plan to use it, give it to someone who will."

Elmer Dixon, 18, who calls himself the Panthers' captain of military, stood in front of 25 party members dressed in black leather jackets and berets, called police "racist dog pigs," and urged Negroes to arm themselves.

Immediately after the rally broke up on a school playground, a fire started on a sidewalk. Police confiscated several bottles of gasoline hidden in bushes.

Then violence broke out in several nearby areas.

In Peoria

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Eight policemen were sprayed by shotgun pellets early today after rock and brick throwing erupted into gunfire and firebombings in a Negro neighborhood northeast of downtown Peoria.

Five of the officers were treated at St. Francis Hospital and were released. Three were admitted but their condition was termed not serious. No other injuries were reported in the early morning outbreak.

Four men and three women, all Negroes, were arrested.

Police said the trouble began late Monday night when Negro youths started hurling rocks and bricks at vehicles stopping for a traffic signal at Green and Adams Streets near the Taft Homes housing project.

After the situation deteriorated during the post-midnight hours, all off-duty city police, 18 sheriff's deputies and several state police were summoned to duty in the area.

Prisoners Wanted 'To Get Rid Of Me'

Lee Bounds Says Bloody Riot Was Aimed At Him

RALEIGH (AP)—North Carolina Correction Commissioner Lee Bounds says the bloody riot at Central Prison April 17 was indirectly prompted by a desire of prisoners "to get rid of me."

"They don't like my talk about single cells, about stopping prison rackets, and so forth," Bounds said Monday after he had released a 54-page report on the riot in which six inmates were killed and 77 wounded.

Bounds told a news conference that inmates at Central Prison in Raleigh will continue to be restricted to their cells "until we are sure we have the resources to adequately control them."

He declined to speculate when all prisoners would again be allowed the freedom of the prison yard.

Officials say 463 prisoners have been restricted to their cells in the prison's west wing since the riot. Of these, 160 are not allowed out of their cells even to eat. The others are escorted to the dining hall twice a day.

Bounds has been bringing the prison system's most hardened criminals into Central Prison, the state's maximum security facility.

He said yard privileges would be restored to prisoners on an individual basis "when they show they are ready for it."

In his report on the riot, Bounds said officials knew trouble was developing and that inmates known to be leaders and likely trouble-makers were kept locked up.

The riot followed a sit down strike. Bounds reiterated in the report that he felt prison officials handled the disturbance correctly and used only necessary force.

He said medical evidence showed that prison guards were shooting to disable the inmates, not kill them.

A New Heart For Grandmother, 49

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A 49-year-old grandmother is the world's newest heart transplant patient, and she was reported in satisfactory condition today at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

Beth White Brunk, a Houston housewife, received the heart of a Corsicana, Tex., woman, Monday night in the first woman-to-woman heart transplant.

The donor was Betty O'Neal, 40, who entered the hospital Monday after suffering a brain hemorrhage.

Surgeons led by Dr. Denton A. Cooley performed the operation in about two hours, a spokesman said. Cooley has supervised eight human heart transplants here.

Mrs. Brunk, wife of a commercial pilot, was admitted to St. Luke's July 22, a day before surgeons performed their seventh heart transfer in Houston. The recipient had a blood clot in her lungs that would have killed her in 24 hours, said a daughter, Gladys Smith of Bryan, Tex.

Mrs. Brunk has four children, four stepchildren and nine grandchildren. She first talked with Dr. Cooley last Friday, Mrs. Smith said.

"She was very enthusiastic about heart transplants," the daughter said. "She kept up with them in the paper and talked about them all the time." The donor's physician, Dr. Robert D. Bone of Corsicana, said Mrs. O'Neal had a brain tumor. An autopsy was planned to determine the type of growth.

Mrs. O'Neal was in a coma 24 hours before a three-man team of doctors declared her dead.

RECEIVES MEDAL

CHICAGO (AP)—Sidney Bennett, 35, a Negro karate teacher, has received Chicago's Medal of Merit from Mayor Richard J. Daley for his rescue of a news photographer being beaten by a gang Thursday night.

BETH WHITE BRUNK

about 8 p.m., the spokesman said.

The operation began minutes later and Mrs. Brunk was listed as "doing well" shortly after it was completed.

Civilian Crew In Carrier's Trials

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP) — A civilian crew was to take the aircraft carrier John F. Kennedy to sea today for her builder's trials, with the Navy "along for the ride."

Personnel of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co. are manning the 1,051-foot carrier during the 50-hour trials in the Atlantic 100 miles offshore.

Among the Navy personnel aboard are Capt. Earl P. Yates prospective skipper of the new carrier, which is scheduled for commissioning at the shipyard here Sept. 7.

Both Carolina Kennedy, the late President's daughter who christened the ship and her mother are expected to be here for the commissioning.

One U.S. Soldier Killed In Clash

SEOUL (AP) — North Korean infiltrators ambushed a U.S. Army patrol early today, killed one American soldier and wounded two others, an Army spokesman said.

A South Korean soldier with the patrol was wounded. The infiltrators threw hand grenades and fired automatic weapons from concealed positions in the demilitarized zone for about 10 minutes before fleeing north, the spokesman said. The Americans said they were certain they had hit at least four of the intruders.

Later in the morning another 2nd Division patrol intercepted four North Koreans inside the DMZ. The Americans wounded one of the North Koreans and captured him.

Suggest Police Take 'Walkout'

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — A national two-day police walkout has been proposed by police leaders embittered by what they consider lack of support in dealing with racial violence.

"When police are being shot like fish in a barrel, it's time we do something," said John Herrington of Philadelphia, national president of the 137,000-member Fraternal Order of Police.

A conference will be held in September to consider the walkout, Herrington said today. No date or place has been set.

Delegates will include representatives of the order and such city police groups as New York's Patrolmen's Benevolent Association and the Detroit Police Association Herrington said.

The walkout was first proposed, he said, at a meeting of police leaders from several large cities after they attended the funeral for three Cleveland officers slain by snipers.

"They think people ought to find out what it would be like if there were no police departments," said Herrington.

Herrington said the date for the "seminar" on the proposed walkout will be set at the meeting of the Fraternal Order of Police national boards in St. Louis Aug. 18-20.

Eisenhower Opposes Vietnam 'Surrender'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Chances for a dramatic Republican platform proposal to end the Vietnam war dimmed today as former President Dwight D. Eisenhower opposed any "camouflaged surrender."

Eisenhower's special message to the platform committee accompanied the testimony of a nonpartisan committee, of which he is a member, ruling out both pullout and massive escalation of the fighting.

It strengthened the sentiment apparently already held by a majority of the committee for a broadly worded statement that would leave the party's presidential candidate free to develop his position during the campaign. Such a plank fits the mood of supporters of Richard M. Nixon, who are saying their man will be nominated on the first or second ballot.

But even some sympathizers of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller agreed that the plank on the overriding international issue cannot be too specific.

Eisenhower urged the campaign document writers to "make it clear to Hanoi that we do not seek nor will we accept a camouflaged surrender which would inevitably result in the United States writing off Southeast Asia for the foreseeable future."

Eisenhower's appeal — addressed to both parties—was taken to the Republican platform hearings by representatives of the Citizens Committee for Peace with Freedom in Vietnam.

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, a Rockefeller supporter on the platform committee, told a reporter he expects the Eisenhower statement to have considerable weight in the drafting.

Sen. John G. Tower of Texas, a Nixon stalwart serving on the committee, said a majority of the group is "Nixon-disposed." He added: "It is logical to expect that the platform will reflect that sentiment."

Nixon has not spelled out his proposals for handling the Vietnam problem, but he may have more to say later in the week by way of statements in his behalf to the platform committee.

Rockefeller has proposed a four-stage peace plan featuring use of an international military force as a buffer. One of his adherents on the platform committee, Rep. Silvio Conte of Massachusetts, said he would like to see a platform plank along these lines.

Another Rockefeller man, Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, said he expects no plan so specific. Rep. Peter Freinhuysen of New Jersey, a member of an uncommitted delegation but personally favorable to Rockefeller, agreed.

Rep. Glenard P. Lipscomb of California, chairman of the subcommittee on foreign affairs and national defense, said a responsible Vietnam plank could not go into much detail "because we can't interfere with the negotiations in Paris."

Hiking Price Of Gas, Cigarettes

PARIS (AP) — Cigarette and gasoline prices are going up in France because of wage increases granted to end last spring's strike.

Cigarette prices are rising about 10 per cent. The favorite strong Gauloise cigarettes will cost 30 cents for a pack of 20, instead of 27 cents. A favorite Virginia tobacco cigarette will be 62 cents up from 56 cents.

Ordinary gasoline will be 75.2 cents a gallon up from high test gasoline will also be raised about 3 per cent.

Gains Finals

GASTONIA — Greenville's Teener League All-Stars, won their way into the finals of the District Tournament here this morning with a 13-0 romp over Petersburg, Indiana. The Greenville team will now meet Elgin, Indiana, in the championship game this afternoon. Greenville must beat Elgin today, to force a game tomorrow for the title. Should Elgin win today, it would be all over.

Byron Dickens tossed a no-hitter in today's win, striking out nine and walking none.

Fifteen Thousand Soldiers, Police And Federal Agents At Convention

By STUART J. PAHN Associated Press Writer CHICAGO (AP) — Fifteen thousand soldiers, police and federal agents will turn the site of the Democratic National Convention into an armed camp next month in a giant security operation.

The security arrangements could turn the convention—normally a horn-blowing spectacular—into an austere exercise in martial order.

Racial tensions in the city and the crowds of demonstrators and hippies who plan to come to Chicago will compound the job of keeping order and protecting President Johnson and the candidates.

Deployed round-the-clock at Chicago International Amphitheatre, and at hotels and motels housing delegates, will be some 8,000 uniformed and undercover policemen, 5,500 riot-trained National Guardsmen and at least 1,000 federal agents.

More men will be available on short notice from the Cook County sheriff's office, state police, the Coast Guard and the FBI. The remainder of Chicago's 12,000-man police department, including a mobile 600-man task force, will be on standby.

All security procedures are being coordinated by the Secret Service, charged with protecting the president, vice president and political candidates.

The Secret Service has 580 agents across the country and most will be in Chicago during convention week, Aug. 25-30.

Though plans are under tight wraps, it presumably has the Secret Service which ordered two Air Force reconnaissance jets to make low passes over Chicago last week to photograph the Amphitheatre and surrounding terrain.

Security measures are being taken on the Amphitheatre grounds, which sprawl across the eastern edge of the Union Stockyards on the racially tense South Side. Fences are going up and heliports being constructed, reportedly for air-lifting candidates to and from the mall.

The Amphitheatre, with 585,000 square feet of floor space under a single roof, will be sealed off within roughly an eight-square-block buffer zone.

To penetrate the perimeter, both pedestrians and vehicles will be required to display Democratic National Committee credentials. Inside, checkpoints will be established where guards reportedly will tear off perforated sections of the passes, good for only one day.

Traffic court will be closed Aug. 17-30, freeing 23 magistrates to process large numbers of prisoners in the event of a disturbance.

Each magistrate could hear well over 200 civil disorder cases a day.

The whole operation, both in scope and magnitude, appears to have taken on the aspect of a military movement.

Said one high police department source, "the security is the most elaborate ever devised for a convention anywhere."

The number of persons expected to converge on the city for antiwar and civil rights demonstrations ranges in the thousands.

The National Mobilization Committee, organizer of a march on the Pentagon by war protesters, has promised "the largest demonstrations in American history" at the Amphitheatre Aug. 27, President Johnson's birthday, and Aug. 28, the day of the nomination. They also plan a march through the Loop on the 28th.

The Free City Survival Committee, a hippie group, hopes to bring 50,000 youths to the city for a pop-music festival and "un-convention." They say they will live in the parks, but have not received permission for the camp-in.

Your Brotherly Kindness Will Pay You Dividends

DEAR ABBY: I am 11 years old and my brother is eight. Our mother and father are split up, and Dad is married to another lady now. Mom is going to marry another man in September. Her new husband has a boy who is nine years old. After Mom marries this man, his kid is going to live with us and be our "brother" because his own Mom is dead. He don't know how to hold a folk, he walks like a girl and talks like a baby and we don't like him at all. What should we do?

Fee System Should Solve Problem

The charging of fees for vehicles registered on the East Carolina University campus represents a real breakthrough in the efforts to provide adequate student vehicle parking.

Beginning with the fall quarter the university will charge a maximum of $5 for registering a vehicle owned or operated by a student on campus.

While no one likes the idea of increasing the cost to students attending the university, it is clear that revenue had to be found to provide parking areas for the rapidly growing number of vehicles.

Since all of the fees collected must be used to provide parking and traffic facilities, the university should be able to make some real headway in this area.

In imposing the vehicle fees East Carolina is only doing what many other colleges and universities in the state have already found to be necessary.

With this new source of funds the university can begin to develop the long planned peripheral parking by acquiring land and building parking lots on the perimeter of the campus.

Student vehicles can be expected to continue to increase in the years to come and the parking situation would become impossible if some steps were not taken to provide the needed off-street parking areas.

The fee system for student cars should be the answer to the problem.

Signing More Voters Is The Very Best Way

The National Association For The Advancement of Colored People has announced a campaign to add 200,000 new voters in North Carolina and we say more power to them.

There are now 280,000 registered Negro voters in the state and, whether or not the NAACP reaches its goal, this number can be expected to increase.

Registering and voting are the very best ways that any group can bring about change in a democratic society. That is what makes democracy the best way to govern that has been devised by mankind.

The NAACP voter registration drive is the right way, as opposed to Black militant advocates who threaten to burn the country down if they don't get their way.

New voters can only help North Carolina; for those who participate in building society by voting are seldom the ones who wantonly tear it down.

A Hand-Up From Retail Group

By PHIL THOMAS

NEW YORK (AP) — A group devoted to helping Negroes move upward into management and executive jobs has been formed by Negroes who won top jobs in the retail industry.

"Twenty years ago it was considered beneath the Negro in a responsible position to extend a helping hand to those less fortunate," Walter W. Branford said. "This is no longer true."

Branford is a Negro in a responsible position who not only decided to extend his own hand but to get others to extend theirs as well.

"It's what's happening today," the tall, 40-year-old founder and chairman of the National Negro Retail Advisory Group said with an easy smile.

A marine engineer who moved into business after deciding "engineering wasn't my stick," Branford is assistant public relations director for W. T. Grant Co., a junior department store chain with about 1,100 outlets across the nation.

Branford said he decided to form the advisory group after "it became obvious to me that there was a need for a line of communication between the black community and the retail industry, and the best way to do this was to utilize those people involved in both — Negroes in retailing."

He said "there were three people at our first meeting last November. Now there are about 75. They are all Negroes and they all are in responsible jobs in retailing."

The group has several major goals. These include "getting the retail industry to open jobs for qualified Negroes and other minorities on the management and executive levels initially and then working down to the middle supervisory and basic sales jobs. Finding job openings and finding the people to fill them. Interesting young people in jobs in retailing. Counseling retailers on how to develop communications with the black community in which they have a vested interest. And, working with public relations departments to bring about an increase in the upgrading of hard-core people."

Branford said the group used word of mouth, lectures, and brochures to deliver its message.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
THAT HALFWAY POINT

Are you a penny-pincher? If you are, you may not be too popular with the people who have to look to you for bed and board. If, on the other hand, you are a spend-thrift, nobody will have much admiration for you except the people on whom you squander money.

Strange, is it not, the part that this thing called money plays in our lives? People are always saying that money doesn't bring happiness, but the fact remains that if one does not have enough to get along on he can be plenty unhappy. To know just how to manage money without allowing money to manage us is a difficult proposition in itself. It takes a broad mind and a deep spirit to know how to live within one's means successfully.

There is probably a point halfway between stinginess and wild spending which really sets up a point of peace and happiness. It is amazing how happy some people appear to be on a very meagre income and how unhappy are many of the rich. Psychologists are always pointing out to us that there are more suicides among the rich than among the poor. Slums are bad. But night clubs and quartering households on, or just off, the Fifth Avenue of the world are worse.

Jesus uttered many parables concerning money. He was apparently very much interested in money because he knew the profound effect it has upon character. Get right with the dime or dollar and the chances are you will be right with the world.

No Bloodletting Attack

Richard Nixon is bearing up nobly these days under the constraints of his party's Eleventh Commandment: Thou shalt not speak ill of another Republican. He has steadfastly refused to be drawn into a blood-letting brawl with his principal opponent. In the process, he is demonstrating the commendable restraint he is so often accused of not possessing.

Well and good. But some of the rest of us, not inhibited by party affiliation, are not so constrained. It seems an appropriate moment, a week before his party convention opens, to lower a boom upon that party stalwart, Nelson Rockefeller of New York.

Party stalwart? This is the fellow who effectively took a powder in the 1964 election. He has been the titular head of his party in New York for the past ten years. If he were the "winner" he professes himself to be, he ought to be carrying other Republicans on his coat-tail. The record demonstrates no such thing.

When the occasion suits him, as it has suited him from time to time in the past, Rockefeller can be full of the old party spirit. Split the party? Not he. Not for anything. "For me to get in this race in any way would be divisive, destructive, and defeating." That was what he said in October. "I am not a candidate," he said. "I do not intend to be a candidate. I do not want to be President. You've heard me loud and clear." That was back in October too.

In January, he still believed "in the unity of the party and in winning." If Nixon were his party's nominee, "I'll support the candidate in the form of Nixon." This was in the period when he was supporting George Romney. When Romney tossed in the sponge, plenty of time remained for Rocky to enter the Oregon primary and to debate the issues head-on with Nixon. Would he, wouldn't he, wouldn't he, would he join the dance?

Not the Rock. It is edifying to go back to Rockefeller's March 21 statement of disavowal. He wanted to reiterate unequivocally that he was not a candidate. He had pondered that decision gravely and thoughtfully. He had considered the times of crisis and confusion, and he had asked himself a good question: "How should a responsible Republican act in a period of such crisis?"

His answer was that partisan division must be avoided. A "personal combat between two presidential aspirants" would neither enlighten the nation nor unite the party. Such a conflict would almost certainly prove distorted and abrasive. It was apparent that a considerable majority of his party's leaders wanted Nixon; they also wanted to avoid divisive challenge. It would therefore be "illogical and unreasonable" for him to seek the nomination. He was bowing out; and he did not want to be misunderstood.

"We live in an age when the word of a political leader (Continued On Page 7)

Nixon Slip In South

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — The most solid sign that Richard M. Nixon's carefully constructed Southern campaign may be unravelling at the core was the arrival here of a South Carolina contingent for a closed-door meeting between Gov. Ronald Reagan and Deep South delegates to the Republican National Convention.

Eight delegates and five alternates from the 22-vote South Carolina delegation responded to the invitation to meet Reagan July 24, flying here aboard a plane owned by Roscoe Pickett, national committeeman from Georgia and a Reagan booster. Besides representing some half-dozen first-ballot Reagan votes from South Carolina, they informed Reagan campaign aides they positively will not honor the unit rule adopted by the South Carolina state convention in an attempt to deliver a unanimous delegation for Nixon.

What makes this a major breakthrough for Reagan is the strategic importance of South Carolina in Nixon's nomination strategy. Having coaxed Sen. Strom Thurmond into dropping his favorite-son status and endorsing Nixon instead, Nixon aides have been confident of all 22 South Carolina votes under the unit rule (which cannot be enforced if any member of the delegation dissents).

This Reagan incursion in South Carolina is only the most important aspect of Reagan's Southern raids which are eroding Nixon's battle plan for a first-ballot nomination.

Some 90 delegates and alternates from Alabama, Mississippi, South Carolina, Louisiana, and Georgia who met with Reagan at Birmingham's Tutwiler Hotel reflected a pattern of small Nixon losses and small Reagan gains throughout the South. The transformation in the Louisiana situation is most dramatic. Although one careful delegate count in June gave all 26 of Louisiana's votes to Nixon, Reagan now has nearly half the delegation and may move to a majority.

Apart from exposing new slippage on Nixon's ragging Southern front, the Birmingham meeting revealed just how carefully Reagan's clandestine campaign for President had been prepared in the South.

As delegates entered the ballroom to hear Reagan, they met a man at the door introduced to them as "Gov. Reagan's Southern campaign chairman." He was professional politician Robert Walker, No. 2 man in the Nixon campaign before a major shakeup last summer and lately stationed in Miami Beach with the cover job of handling physical arrangements for California's delegation to the National Convention.

In fact, Walker has been quietly wooing Southern delegates for Reagan under the supervision of F. Clifton White, the master political tactician who also has nominally been employed by the California delegation rather than by non-candidate Reagan himself. When Reagan entered the ballroom here, White was at his elbow.

Other Editors Say Gov't By Decree

(The Daily Oklahoman)

One possible explanation for the people's deepening sense of frustration is their realization that the federal government increasingly is falling into the hands of persons not touched by the elective process and therefore not responsive to it.

The people now are governed not so much by enacted statutes as by directives and regulations flowing in ever-widening torrents from federal administrative agencies operating under broad grants of authority conferred on them by Congress.

Government by decree has reached a point at which a complete turnover of elected officials, including Congress and the White House, doesn't necessarily entail a significant change in the federal government's direction.

To borrow the words of Rep. James Utt of California, "you are governed more and more by people for whom you have never voted, for whom you never will vote, whom you have never seen and whom you cannot recall by your vote."

Government by administrative decree is nothing new, of course. It began to evolve almost as soon as Congress started enacting laws that called for federal supervision and enforcement. Its explosive growth began with the massive federal interventions of the New Deal era. But it has taken a particularly sinister turn lately with the increasing use of federal tax money to bribe or bulldoze the states and localities into acceptance of the sociological "reforms" favored by the central bureaucrats.

Money is power, and the federal taxing power threatens to become the vehicle for the central government's ultimate detailed direction of the entire economy.

The Titanic Struggle For Steel

By ELMER ROESSNER

It is probable that there will be a steel strike on or shortly after Aug. 1.

It is possible that the strike will become a titanic struggle between the major steel companies and the United Steelworkers Union. "Titanic" is the right word; both companies and union are titans in American business.

The strike is probable because a referendum among the steelworkers has been almost unanimous in giving the negotiators power to call a strike. This, however, is not a major reason. Union members usually give negotiators this power to strengthen their hands in negotiations.

More important is the fact that negotiations are making no strides. Both companies and union have agreed that secrecy surround the negotiations. However, unofficial leaks indicate that the negotiators are still talking about fringes and have not reached the vital pay issues.

Companies' Position

And most important of all is the fact that the companies are in a strong position to take a strike. If ever the steel companies are to have a showdown with the Steelworkers, they may figure that this is the time.

This is why a strike may be a bitter, brutal, lengthy struggle.

Steel's customers are prepared for a strike. For more than half a year steel users have been stockpiling. Customers would not soon exert pressure on the steel companies. Steel could not be accused of hurting auto, construction and other steel-using industries because they have been warned of a strike and because most of them have protested themselves with stockpiles.

Because of these stockpiles, steel must cut back production and lay off men. Taking a strike may be the easiest way to do it, with no problems of seniority, grievances or slow-downs. And since we don't need them now, many executives may reason, what better time for a strike?

Taxes And Markets

The surtax may be encouraging a hard-nosed steel attitude. Since the tax will take about 63 per cent of the steel company's profits this half of the year it is cheaper to take a strike now than at any other time in the past.

Steel companies may be forced to resist a large jump in wages because of foreign competition. French, German, Belgian, Japanese and many other producers are selling steel cheaper than the U. S.

can because of lower wages and more modern equipment. Most European facilities have been rebuilt since they were destroyed in the war.

American steel companies have lost almost all of their foreign markets except where subsidized by our AID programs. They have also lost part of the domestic market to foreign exporters. A sharp increase in wage costs now could lose the rest of the foreign market and more of the domestic market.

In defying demands for pay increases, the steel companies would be on the side of, if not the angels, then LBJ. President Johnson has called upon business and labor to use "restraint" in making new wage and price decisions in the next five critical months. This gives steel companies a perfect propaganda position: They can hold the present price line only if labor does not demand wage increases which will force up steel prices.

Johnson Given No Simple Task

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES

RALEIGH — It was assumed even before the May 4 primaries that if Lt. Gov. Bob Scott won nomination for governor he would choose Jimmy V. Johnson as new state Democratic party chairman.

Now Johnson is about to assume the post — no easy task in any election year, especially this one — and will take it in order to weld the party and Bob Scott closer together. This is his purpose.

Johnson, 44, is a personable, friendly and serious-minded man with a persuasive manner, experience and stamina. He served three terms as a state senator from Iredell County before moving to election as governor in November and his selection as chairman will give the party a firm Scott stamp.

Another state campaign manager during the primaries, James Mason, has been assigned another rather difficult, immediate role in state party affairs.

Mason, a Laurinburg attorney and state chairman for Scott's principal primary opponent, J. Melville Broughton Jr., will argue the case for the party against an expected challenger in Chicago against make-up of the North Carolina convention delegation. The challenge has been flung by Dr. Reginald Hawkins of Charlotte, a Negro dentist, on grounds that the delegation does not include an adequate percentage of Negro members.

Mason will contend that the party's state plan of organization and method of selecting convention delegates is fair and equitable. Party officials also hope he will point out that choosing delegates on the basis of race rather than party activity and merit would, in itself, be discriminatory.

Strengthening of the State Highway Patrol cannot be judged entirely on additional number of uniformed troopers.

The patrol is lagging in a drive to recruit enough men to bring it to full authorized strength. Seventy five new troopers were authorized last year and 50 more this year — including 25 in lieu of requested clerks and process servers. This number has not been filled.

But there are other programs authorized by the 1967 legislature which also are giving the patrol more muscle and efficiency.

More than $1.5 million was voted for improvements such as converting registration records to a computerized system, to intensify patrolling activity on the highways (nearly $600,000); providing stenographic and inventory control work at patrol stations and garages, and for physical examinations of patrolmen and new specialized equipment.

Campaign Manager

Scott, is choosing his political team, drew on a wide field of friends and personal acquaintances across the state and asked their help. When formed, it included varying shades of people and political viewpoints.

He chose Johnson to pull the team together — and Johnson responded, accepting the job of state campaign manager.

Buoyed by a tremendous primary victory, Scott is impressed by the results Johnson achieved and wants him to attempt the same fence-mending and unifying task within the entire state party.

An important point is that Johnson will be Scott's man, entirely dedicated to Scott's

Detroit Loses, But Still Gains

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tracking the Tiger is fast becoming a monumental misadventure for the Baltimore and Cleveland-based safaris.

The New York Yankees caught Detroit napping Monday night and roughed up the front-running Tigers 7-2 behind unsung right-handers Joe Verbanic and Lindy McDaniel.

by Jose Tartabull and Mike Andrews snapped a 2-2 deadlock in the afternoon game at Boston, giving Ray Culp a hard-earned pitching verdict over Baltimore reliever Moe Drabowsky. Culp, 7-4, struck out 12 in going the distance.

Andrews and Joe Joy homered in the nightcap and Carl Yaztrzemski slammed three doubles as the Red Sox breezed behind rejuvenated Juan Pizarro. The veteran southpaw, 3-2, survived base-empty homers by Boog Powell, Paul Blair and Dave Johnson.

But instead of losing ground to the pursuing Baltimore Orioles and Cleveland Indians, the Tigers stumbled forward another half step toward their first pennant in 23 years.

"Every one that goes into the loss column hurts," admitted Orioles pilot Earl Weaver, whose club dropped two of three to Detroit before the double dip at Boston's Fenway Park. "This day-night doubleheader after our series with Detroit was tough to take."

The Boston Red Sox took the edge off Detroit's setback by sweeping a day-night doubleheader from Baltimore 3-2, in 10 innings, and 8-3 while last place Washington upended Cleveland 4-2. As a result, the Orioles and Indians each trail the Tigers by seven games and the Red Sox are 8½ lengths back.

"But there's still a lot of time," he said. "Winning is important, but doing it by pitching a no-hitter, that's the greatest."

Culver's gem gave Cincinnati a sweep of the two-night doubleheader—the Reds winning the first game 7-6.

Elsewhere California edged Minnesota 2-1, ending a five-game losing string, and the Chicago White Sox struck for five runs in the 13th inning and a 7-2 victory over Oakland.

"Actually after the game I was crying," he said. "Winning is important, but doing it by pitching a no-hitter, that's the greatest."

The Reds took the opener when Rose tripled in the ninth and scored on Vada Pinson's sacrifice fly. Rose then saved the game by throwing out Allen, who tried to score from second base on John Callison's two-out single.

Verbanic, a Yankee reliever making one of his infrequent starts, pitched out of several early jams at Detroit before giving way to McDaniel in the sixth and squared his pitching mark at 4-4. Two of his victories have been at the Tigers' expense.

Philadelphians had tied the game at 6-6 in the eighth on a solo homer by Allen and Don Lock's two-run shot.

St. Louis' Ray Washburn boosted his record to 10-3 with his seventh straight victory, a seven-hit, eight strikeout, no-walk performance against the Mets. He hasn't lost since May 21.

McDaniel, picked up in a recent inter-league deal with San Francisco, allowed only one hit—Norm Cash's solo homer in the seventh—over the final 3-2-3 innings.

St. Louis beat the New York Mets 5-1, Pittsburgh edged Atlanta 3-2, Houston blanked Los Angeles 2-0 and San Francisco topped the Chicago Cubs 4-1 in other National League action.

Joe Pepitone's two-run single in the fifth broke a 1-1 tie and the Yanks pulled away on two-run homers by Jake Gibbs and Roy White. Loser Joe Sparrma was tagged for five runs and nine hits before departing in the sixth.

Culver who worked out of the Cleveland bullpen last year and was obtained by the Reds in a winter trade, ran his record to 9-9 with his third complete game of the season.

bases—five on walks, one on an error and one on a catcher's interference—against the young right-hander who struck out three.

"I really got nervous in the seventh," the Cincinnati pitcher said Monday night.

"I'd never even come close to pitching a no-hitter before in my life. I didn't know how to act."

Philadelphia's run was unearned and came in the second. Richie Allen reached first when third baseman Tony Perez booted his grounder, and continued to second when shortstop Woody Woodward picked up the loose ball and threw wildly. Allen advanced to third on a ground out and scored on Cookie Rojas' sacrifice fly.

Two innings later, the former relief specialist had a 6-1, no-hit victory over the Philadelphia Phillies and he was acting completely normal under the circumstances.

Cincinnati scored three runs in each of the third and fourth innings. Pete Rose started both rallies with singles.

"But there's still a lot of time," he said. "Winning is important, but doing it by pitching a no-hitter, that's the greatest."

The Reds took the opener when Rose tripled in the ninth and scored on Vada Pinson's sacrifice fly. Rose then saved the game by throwing out Allen, who tried to score from second base on John Callison's two-out single.

Sammy Ellis stopped Minnesota on four hits and scored the deciding run while finishing one up on the Twins' Dean Chance in a beanball exchange. Ellis hit Chance with a pitch in the top of the fifth and Chance nicked Don Mincher in the bottom of the inning. Chance then plunked Ellis in the sixth and the Angels' pitcher moved around to score the tie-breaking run on Roger Repoz's single.

Injuries Not To Play Role

CHICAGO (AP) — Coach Norm Van Brocklin isn't called the Dutchman for nothing. He calls the shots and makes his own decisions.

capped it all by calling off the usual light workout which always was held in Soldier Field two nights before the game to give the players a feel of things.

Van Brocklin's reasoning: "It is of no benefit to the players."

As a result, when Van Brocklin takes his College All-Stars up against the Green Bay Packers in Soldier Field Friday night, not a single member of the 50-man squad will be suffering from anything as much as a hangnail.

Van Brocklin's reasoning: "It is of no benefit to the players."

Throughout the previous years, coaches have attacked the task of putting a team together in three weeks with work, work and more work. Contact and scrimmages used to be the byword.

Van Brocklin ruled out the scrimmage, explaining he was preparing his team to meet the Packers and nothing else was important.

Not so under the Dutchman. From the very outset it was apparent the Stars would not be involved in numerous scrimmages.

Locals Roll Over Tenn., Fall To Favored Elgin

GASTONIA — The Greenville Teener League All-Stars, North Carolina State Champions, split their opening day games at the district tournament yesterday as favored Elgin, Illinois racked up an undefeated day.

Greenville downed Greenville, Tennessee, 14-0, then fell to Elgin, 7-1, in the second game. Elgin had beaten Indiana, 2-0, in the opener, and Indiana eliminated the Tennessee team, 10-5, in the second game.

Jimmy Bond singled to start the scoring action in the second inning. He then moved to second on an error. Tommy Durham followed with a single, and Bond scored, Durham moving to second with the throw in to the plate. Advancing to third on an error that put Cobb on first, Durham then scored when Smith hammered out a triple. Cobb was tagged out at third on the play. Paige, Dickens, and Lewis Gidley walked, bringing in Smith. Bond reached on an error, and Paige and Gidley scored the final runs of the innings.

Paige singled and when the catcher committed an error, Paige raced around to third. Harbin walked and stole second. The catcher again erred the ball, throwing into center attempting to get Harbin, and Paige came home for a 1-0 lead.

It held up until the bottom of the third, when Elgin pushed over four big runs. Bill Chesbrough was hit by a pitch and raced around to third when a pickoff attempt was erred. Mike Coffey singled Chesbrough across with the tying run. Gary Burnell walked and he and Coffey worked the double steal moving to second and third. John Gardin then singled to drive both runners in to move into the lead, 3-1. Rick McLean doubled to score Gardin with the fourth run of the inning.

Greenville therefore was to meet Indiana this morning. The loser of that game will be eliminated, while the winner advances to meet Elgin this afternoon. For Greenville to gain the title, they would have to repeat their actions of last week, winning today, then winning again Wednesday morning.

The game was called after 4½ innings, under a tournament rule that a 10-run lead after such a time will stop the game.

In addition to being the winning pitcher, Smith was the leading hitter with three hits for the game. Catcher Mike Brooks managed the only hit for Greenville, Tennessee.

In the sixth, three more scored for Elgin. Ben App walked, as did Chesbrough. Coffey was hit by a pitch and Burnell hit into a fielder's choice getting App at the plate. Gardin hit a sacrifice fly to score Chesbrough, and Coffey and Burnell stole up to second and third. Steve McDonald then singled them across for the final runs.

Byron Dickens was tentatively scheduled to pitch this morning, with ace Russ Smith held in reserve for possible use this afternoon.

In yesterday's morning game, Greenville, behind Smith's pitching, had little trouble in gaining the victory. It was Smith's fourth shutout in Gastonia. He walked three, struck out seven and allowed only one hit.

The second game, however, was bad news for the Greenville nine.

STRETCHED STADIUM
LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—Texas Tech's football stadium was expanded in 1959 from 27,000 to 41,500 seats by moving the entire east stands—more than 10 million pounds of concrete and steel—26 feet eastward on rails. After removal of 259,000 cubic feet of dirt between the stands, new seats were constructed at a lower level on the slopes of the excavation.

Upset Stomach Is Key To No-Hitter

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — George Culver found a new way to get rid of an upset stomach—pitch a no-hitter.

The 25-year-old right-hander of the Cincinnati Reds held the Philadelphia Phillies without a hit Monday night in the second game of a two-night doubleheader.

The closest Phillies came to a hit was in the first and eighth innings.

"I had an upset stomach and had nothing to eat all day but some eggs and toast," said the 6-foot-2 Californian after his 6½ victory.

In the first, lead off batter Tony Taylor smashed one into the hole at shortstop. Woodward moved quickly to his right, grabbed the ball, spun around and threw him out. In the eighth, Allen ripped one toward right that Tommy Helms knocked down and made the play at first.

Culver walked five, struck out three and one batter reached base on a catcher's interference call as he evened his season record at 9-9. The Reds scored three runs in the third and three more in the fourth to give him a comfortable working margin.

"I was just trying to keep the ball in the infield," said Helms. "I was lucky it stayed in front of me and I was able to throw him out."

Philadelphians scored run in the second when Rich Allen hit a shot at Tony Perez which bounced in and out of the third baseman's glove. Shortstop Woody Woodward picked the ball up and threw it over first base, allowing Allen to go to second.

Culver joined an elite group of Cincinnati pitchers who have recorded no-hitters. They include Johnny Vandermeer, who threw two in a row in 1938, Ewell Blackwell (1947), and Jim Maloney of the current Reds' staff who has two, one of which he lost.

The official scorer ruled a double error. Allen took third on an infield out and scored on a sacrifice fly, giving the hitless Phillies a 1-0 lead. Perez agreed with the ruling. "It was a tough play but I should have made it," he said after the game.

More Reports Are Filed For Domestic Workers

Social Security wage reports on domestic workers are being filed in greater numbers these days, according to Jack Tatem, district manager of the Greenville Social Security Office.

Persons who have a domestic employee must file quarterly reports if total cash wages amount to as much as $50 in a calendar quarter. This is true even if only one person is employed. The employer is required to withhold 4.4 percent of the wages paid, match this with an equal amount, and send contributions to International Revenue Service during the month following the end of each calendar quarter.

Tatem stated that it is not uncommon for a person who has done domestic work to apply for retirement benefits only to find that his record does not show the earnings that he actually has. Quite often when this happens, the employer is contacted and the reason given for not reporting is that the employee did not want the social security contribution tax withheld. When this point is reached, the employer is left with the full responsibility of payment.

Anyone needing information about this feature of social security reporting is urged to contact the Social Security Office at Greenville. The phone number is 758-5121.

TIGHTENING UP DRAFT DEFERRALS

RALEIGH (AP)—Local selective service boards and school superintendents in North Carolina are being asked to clamp down on draft deferments.

William H. McCachren, director of the Selective Service system in North Carolina, said Monday that guidelines had been sent to the local boards and superintendents.

"We are asking the school superintendents to take a closer look to determine whether their teachers are teaching enough hours to justify deferment," McCachren said.

"The fact that a teacher has less than an 'A' certificate has no bearing on his deferment," he said. "A teacher with a 'C' certificate who is teaching six hours a day obviously is doing much more than one with an 'A' certificate who is teaching only one hour a day."

McCachren said some teachers who teach only an hour or so a day may be holding down other jobs. He added, "we want to know about this."

Asks Moving Of Murder Trial

GOLDSBORO, N. C. (AP)—An attorney for Roger W. Johnson, 32, who is charged with murder in the slaying of a Goldsboro policeman, has asked that the trial be moved out of Wayne County and from the state to the federal courts.

The attorney, J. Harvey Turner, alleges that he and Johnson's family have not been able to talk to him in private in jail at Goldsboro. Turner has asked that the case be removed to the jurisdiction of federal district court in Raleigh.

Johnson is charged with murder, armed robbery and assault with a deadly weapon. The charges grew out of the $310 robbery of a motel at Goldsboro last Feb. 27, and the fatal shooting of policeman Walter Rouse, who had stopped a car for questioning shortly afterward.

Johnson is from Deep Run in Lenoir County, and his lawyer is from Kinston in that county.

Sees Record In Absentee Votes

RALEIGH (AP)—Secretary of State Thad Eure said indications are that a record number of servicemen will cast absentee ballots in North Carolina's Nov. 5 general election.

Eure said Monday he already had received 1,348 applications for ballots from servicemen, far more than he had received at the same time in 1960 and 1964.

"It is expected that more than 5,000 to 6,000 additional applications for ballots will be received from servicemen," Eure said in a statement.

Eure's office received 4,135 applications in 1960 and 6,759 in 1964.

The Worry Clinic

Use The Bank Robber Strategy For Scholar

Billy is a potential school dropout, yet he has high intelligence and comes from cultured parents! So his mother decided to use the bank robber strategy! She then zoomed him into the upper quarter of the class by thus jumping the gun and using the booklet mentioned below. Dads, your dollars don't make scholars! Scrabble this case!

By GEORGE W. CRANE Ph. D., M. D.
CASE G-537: Billy B., aged 11, worries his mother.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "Billy is rather timid. 'And he has been made more so by the fact my husband is a salesman who has been transferred 3 times since Billy entered first grade.

"That means Billy has entered 3 different schools, so he has never made lasting friendships. 'Last term Billy was in the lower 25 percent of his class, so how could I help him raise his marks next term?"

It may sound shocking, at first glance, but a good mother should use the bank robber strategy! For such crooks thoroughly study the next bank they plan to rob.

They "case the joint," and become well acquainted with the work habits and time schedule of the employees.

You smart parents might take a lesson from them by looking ahead to the next grade your child will enter.

Find out which reading book will be used! Or speller, history text, etc.

Then obtain such books IN ADVANCE! Nowadays, the people who reach the top need not only be smart and industrious, but they must often "jump the gun."

This means, they must do a little scouting in advance so they are somewhat familiar with their future problems even before they face them.

You parents can zoom your child's school marks within a matter of 6 weeks by 15 minutes of home tutoring per day.

But sugar - coat your tutoring so it is fun.

Inject competition, too, so Junior can try to beat his daddy at identifying the printed words, taken from the school reader, which you have printed on flash cards.

Cut strips of white cardboard, 2 by 10 inches, and print the strange words thereon which your child doesn't know.

Hold up two cards at a time but first explain what each word means. Also, point out its different appearance, as "window" vs. "door."

Shuffle your two cards and let Junior then try to identify each one while you are counting slowly to five.

Add a 3rd card, then a 4th and 5th, etc., till you soon have given him all the strange words in his reading book.

Multiplication tables can also be presented in this same manner.

But limit each game to 5 or 10 minutes.

Let daddy compete and whoever names the word first, then gets to place that card in his pile. The one with the bigger pile, wins that round.

Mothers, the time to be sure your child does not drop out of high school but goes on to college with flying colors, is NOW!

For children in the lower half of their class furnish most of the dropouts and seldom go on to college!

Send for my booklet "How to Raise Your Child's School Marks," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

And "jump the gun" on next term's problems by getting the books in advance and giving

ULP!—MY LIGHT METER MUST BE ON THE BLINK! I BETTER GET IT CHECKED!

Scott Points To Roads Interest

RALEIGH (AP)—Lt. Gov. Bob Scott, whose late father served as North Carolina governor, says "there were three things we were brought up to listen to around the breakfast table"—farming, politics or roads.

"I hope nobody would have to be reminded that a Scott from Haw River has interest in roads," Scott told the Raleigh Optimist Club Monday.

He was referring to his father, W. Kerr Scott, whose administration paved many secondary roads in the state.

"We know there is work to be done, not only in secondary road improvements—the paving and construction of secondary roads—but many of our primary highways need widening and straightening," Scott said.

Opening lead: Eight of ♠ South might have given his partner some voice, during the auction regarding choice of a final contract, by jumping to three hearts over North's one no trump rebid. The three heart call is, of course, unconditionally forcing to game. If North decides to rebid three no trump, South's holding will make a suitable dummy. Nine top tricks were available at no trump.

West opened the eight of clubs against four hearts, East played the ace and returned the queen. South was about to cover, but then paused for a moment to consider the consequences if he played the king.

If West started with a doubleton club, South would win the trick of course and, after trumps are drawn, he can clear the club suit with one more lead—thereby establishing dummy's long cards for a diamond sluff. A three-two club division assures declarer of an overtrick since he loses only the two clubs.

The thought that prompted South to hesitate, before playing to the second trick, was the possibility that West might have a singleton club and consequently ruff away the king. If it then developed that East had the king of diamonds, a diamond switch by West would establish a trick in that suit for the defense, and East could cash the jack of clubs when he gets in to defeat the contract.

Declarer was quite willing to invest the price of a possible overtrick to assure his vulnerable game, and he ducked the queen of clubs—permitting East to hold the trick as West took a discard. A club was continued and West ruffed away South's king. The shift was to a diamond; however, declarer was now in position to take full charge of the proceedings.

He put up the ace of diamonds, cashed the ace and queen of hearts and then led a fourth round of clubs from dummy—ruffing away East's ten and establishing North's nine of clubs for a sluff. The king of hearts drew the last trump, dummy was reentered with a high spade and South discarded his diamond loser on the good club.

Disorder Erupts In Goldsboro

GOLDSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Civil disorders flared again in Goldsboro late Monday night as one man was shot and wounded, two business establishments hit by firebombs, and dozens of plate glass windows broken.

Police said David Coley, 29, a Negro, was hit in the back with a shotgun blast fired from a passing car as he walked home alone. Coley was reported in satisfactory condition today.

Reports of sporadic violence and vandalism continued throughout the night and into the early morning hours.

Firebombs were tossed into three unoccupied homes. Two of the dwellings were destroyed by the flames.

Two groceries also were damaged when hit by firebombs.

Authorities said plate glass windows on several other establishments were smashed with rocks.

Authorities said one woman reported her home stoned and a bullet fired through a window.

At one grocery store, police said, windows were smashed and a storage building set afire. An hour later, after the fire had been extinguished, a group returned to the grocery, broke into an adjoining hot-dog stand and took some $15 worth of merchandise.

The outbreaks of violence began in Goldsboro shortly after midnight Saturday when police attempted to arrest a man in the predominantly Negro section of the city.

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels and motors improved gains in an irregularly higher stock market this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Gains had a slight margin over losses on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .3 at 331.7, with industrials up .3, rails up .7, and utilities off .3.

Steels responded to a report that settlement of the steel labor contract might be imminent, thus averting a strike. Autos tagged along. Leading stocks in both groups advanced from fractions to about a point.

Selective buying boosted some blue chips and higher-quality glamor-growth issues in scattered sections of the list as the market tested the ground for a possible recovery move.

Wall Street, however, was still in a watch-and-wait mood.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .24 at 883.60.

Texas Gulf Sulphur, down nearly a point paced the list on activity.

Filipino Youths Angered Over Fatal Shooting

MANILA (AP) — About 100 youths screaming "Yankees go home" and "killers" broke through the main gate to the U.S. Embassy compound tonight in protest against the fatal shooting of a Filipino teenager by an American Marine guard.

The chanting placard-carrying youths pushed open the gate and past security guards but lost their steam after rushing some 25 yards into the embassy compound. They stopped, turned around and went back out the gate.

They regrouped there and continued their shouting protest against the killing last Friday of Rogelio Gonzales, 18, by a sentry at the U.S. naval station at Sangley Point south of Manila.

Loses Bid To Regain College Deferment

GREENSBORO (AP) — Robert C. Eaton has lost his legal battle to win back his college student deferment which was taken away after he turned in his draft card to protest the Vietnam war.

He has been ordered to comply with orders of the Hillsborough Selective Service Board to report for induction today in Raleigh.

Eaton, of Jacksonville, Fla., a student at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill, participated in Washington last October in a demonstration against the war.

He and other students put their draft cards in a box and delivered the box to the office of Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark. Shortly thereafter, Eaton was classified 1A, eligible for immediate induction.

Eaton filed suit last week against the Hillsborough draft board.

His lawyer, C. Barry Winston of Chapel Hill told Judge Edwin M. Stanley in U.S. District Court Monday that Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national Selective Service director, had ordered draft boards to induct students who destroy or turn in their draft cards.

"Gen. Hershey has absolutely no authority to take punitive action against such persons," Winston told the court.

When Judge Stanley said that Eaton was violating the law by not carrying a draft card, Winston replied:

"The government was entitled to prosecute him for not having a draft card, but has no right to punish him for protesting." In rejecting Eaton's attempt to regain his 2S (college student) classification, Judge Stanley said that if all men eligible for the draft had done what Eaton had done, the result would be "absolute chaos."

The department was able to save the tanks and buildings. The barn was a total loss.

A barn on the D. C. Tyson farm, near Hollywood Church on Highway 43, five miles from Greenville was destroyed. The Eastern Pines Fire Department responded at 10:41 p.m. to a 10:39 p.m. alarm. One barn adjacent to the burning barn, which was beginning to catch fire, was saved without damage.
