Two teenagers were killed in Pitt County Sunday, the first in a pre-dawn collision on a rural road north of Greenville The second youth died of injuries he received in an early evening mishap at the intersection of Fifth and 10th Streets in Greenville.

James Wilkes, 17, of Route 1, Stokes was killed when thrown from a car which went out of control on rural road 1522, a quarter-mile from N.C. 11. Pitt County Coroner E. W. Harvey listed the cause as head injuries.

Investigating patrolmen Billy Day and C. H. Ennis identified the driver of the single car involved in that fatality as Frank Junius Chavis, 22, of Route 1, Bethel.

Oficers said the Chavis car was headed west on the rural road, then went out of control on a curve. The car, the officers reported, flipped over twice, throwing all four occupants of the vehicle out.

The coroner said Wilkes' head apparently struck the edge of the pavement, causing the fatal injuries.

Chavis and the two other passengers in the vehicle, Buck Chavis, 19, of Route 1, Bethel and James Hyman Heath, 15, of Route 6, Greenville, were taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries they received.

Frank Chavis was charged with operating under the influence and manslaughter in connection with the 3:10 a.m. wreck.

Jerry Stokesberry, 14, of 111 Second St., Washington, died in Pitt Memorial Hospital at 9:15 p.m. of brain injuries he suffered when struck by a car at the intersection of Fifth and 10th Strets about 6:50 p.m., Coroner Harvey reported.

Greenville police said Stokesberry, who had been walking along 10th Street, apparently walked into the path of an oncoming car as he started to cross the street.

Driver of the vehicle which struck the youth was identified as 21-year-old Barbara Peaden Harris of Route 5, Greenville.

Stokesberry and 16-year-old Lee Scott Mitchell of Route 4, Washington, had hitchhiked from Washington. Mitchell, although walking with Stokesberry, was not struck by the Harris venicle.

Police, who said investigation of the case is continuing, reported an estimated $50 damage resulted to the Harris car.

Plane Hijacker, Baby, To Havana

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A hijacker, clutching a gun and his baby, ordered a charter plane pilot to take him to Cuba Sunday or "fly until we run out of gas."

The pilot, James Vach, 21, wa released after spending three hours at Havana's airport. He flew back to Florida where the trip began as a $5 sightseeing tour.

'He was very calm," Vach said of the gunman, who said he could see his baby on weekends.

N.C. Industry Growth For 3 Months Cited

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH, N. C. (AP)—North Carolina's industrial development program during April, May and June resulted in 131 new and expanded plants with total capital investments of $147.8 million, it was announced today.

The State Board of Conservation and Development was told that the three-month period far exceeded the first three months of this year when 101 new and expanded plants were reported with investments totaling $102.7 million.

The figures were contained in a report from the Division of Commerce and Industry which said the new and expanded plants during April, May and June will provide jobs for 7,378 employes and payrolls totaling $32,996,000.

This compares with 5,406 jobs and $25,381,000 in added payrolls during the first three months of this year.

The report was a highlight of the opening business session of the board's meeting at the Blockade Runner in Wrightsville Beach. The meeting will continue through Tuesday.

Gov. Dan Moore told the board members at a banquet at the Cape Fear Country Club Sunday night that the industrial development this year "has been rapid and sound." He predicted 1968 will be "another banner year for industrial development."

He told the board that 12,784 jobs had been created by new and expanded plants in North Carolina this year. The plants provided total added payrolls of $58.3 million.

Moore pointed out that natural resources "are rich and abundant in North Carolina," but said "these precious gifts of nature must be conserved and wisely utilized in order to insure sound and proper development."

The Division of Commercial and Sports Fisheries reported to the board today that 156,558 bushels of oyster shells and 113,374 bushels of seed oysters were planted in selected estuarine areas of the Tar Heel coast during April, May and June. The shells and seed oysters cost $72,520.

The division reported that shrimp catches were down in April and May. However, production increased in June, bringing the catch above that of the same three-month period last year by approximately 40,000 pounds.

The Forestry Division said 4,928 forest fires were reported during the first six months of this year, of which 1,158 were attributed to incendiarism.

"Despite the large nur/er of fires," the report stated, 'the total acreage lost was relatively small and the average size fire was only 13.2 acres."

Rockefeller Gets 'Break' In Ohio

Open Republican Convention With Nixon Short 100 Votes

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Republican party opened its 29th national convention today with Richard M. Nixon pushing hard to win the GOP presidential nomination on the first ballot.

By the Associated Press's count he was about 100 votes short and his two top challengers, Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Ronald Reagan of California, were pinning their hopes on extending the balloting Wednesday night beyond two rounds.

Rockefeller got a big break when the 58-vote Ohio delegation caucused just before the opening and decided to stick with Gov. James A. Rhodes, a favorite son, on the first ballot.

Rockefeller's strategy is to try to keep the several favorite son candidacies among the states alive long enough to give the impression that Nixon does not have the strength to go over the top.

Reagan, meanwhile, was striving to pick off individual delegates—an effort which Rockefeller said at a news conference was meeting with some success.

"I think the movement is to Reagan in many of the delegations," Rockefeller said.

Of his own efforts, he said he is picking up "bits and pieces." The governor said his count showed Nixon with 550, himself wit' 350 and Reagan with 250.

The AP figured it Nixon 566, Rockefeller 232 and Reagan 159, with 144 delegates uncommitted and a whopping 232 for favorite sons. Needed for victory: 667.

Rockefeller beamed, winked and joked as he fielded newsmen's questions. But he was unable to report any massive shift of strength to his side and said he wasn't planning any major announcement between now and Wednesday night, when the balloting begins.

The Ohioans, meanwhile, decided at a breakfast meeting to stand behind Rhodes, at least on the first round. All but two of the 58 acceeded to this tactic. The two mavericks were considered Nixon men.

The delegation chairman, John S. Andrews, said Reagan was trying to meet with the group and "we are attempting to work that out."

At the same time, Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's chief press spokesman, was telling reporters the former vice president did not intend to leave the choice of a running mate to the delegates.

Rather, Klein said, Nixon "will ask the convention to nominate his choice" and will disclose his choice after the presidential nominee is picked.

Nixon was due to fly in from New York later today to direct his drive from up close. There has been no doubt, though, that he has been calling all the shots.

The third in the field, Reagan, predicted the fight for the top spot would go beyond one ballot. He told newsmen cheerfully that the race was still open.

Reagan, quoted as telling an Alabama delegation caucus "I'm in this to win," was by all odds the busiest candidate in this overstuffed and overheated convention town.

Taking time out for a $500 plate fund-raising gala, Reagan scooted about town, meeting with southern and Rocky Mountain delegations in his efforts to win first ballot support away from Nixon.

Rockefeller, who called a morning news conference, registered an upsurge when 13 of Rhode Island's delegates caucused on their arrival and agreed to cast a first ballot vote for the New York governor.

Rockefeller was assured Massachusetts' 34 votes on the first round because of his write-in victory in that state's primary. However, Gov. John A. Volpe was working hard to swing a majority to Nixon on the second ballot, if there is one, despite his all but vanished hopes for the vice presidential nomination.

The ring of the Nixon anvil was predominant, although the candidate himself refrained from predicting a first ballot win. Nixon was to arrive for the convention tonight.

Evans St. Post Office Deal Also Unlikely

Federal Office Building Here Not Feasible At Present Time: Jones

By RONALD GOLLOBIN
Reflector Staff Writer

Congressman Walter B. Jones reported to the Pitt County Commissioners this morning that the General Services Administration "was not in a position to recommend construction of a Federal Office building in Greenville at this time."

Jones read from a letter from Lawson Knott, administrator of the General Services Administration, which also stated that a decision on whether or not to consider taking the Evans Street Post Office over for federal agency office space had not been reached. Jones stated his opinion that the Evans Street Post Office would not be approved due to the lack of parking spaces.

The letter from Knott indicated knowledge of the county's problem of providing rent-free office space to the federal government agencies as well as housing federal agencies in a wide-spread manner.

The letter expressed the possibility of a private concern constructing a building suitable for housing federal agencies and leasing it to the government.

Congressman Jones stated that he felt that the General Services Administration was "keenly aware of your problems." "We will," Jones said, "provide in one or two ways space to solve your (the county's) problem."

Jones said that local businessmen have indicated interest in constructing lease-type buildings.

Commissioner Alton Gardner asked what would be done to the Evans Street Post Office if it were not converted to federal use. Jones stated that it could possibly be declared surplus and sold to a county, city, or state government for a ridiculously low price. Jones said that it also could be sold on a bid basis to one of these agencies at a fair-market price.

Jones stated that he was continuing to work on the problem and would keep the commissioners informed on any progress in this direction.

In other business, R.M. Jarvis of the J. and H. Disposal Company appeared before the commissioners to ask if the county would provide space for dumping of trash and garbage. Jarvis told the commissioners that he was operating a garbage and trash pick-up service in the rural areas of the county, and had been using the city dump until stopped by city officials.

Jarvis told the commissioners that to his knowledge no place existed for citizens of the county to dump their trash.

R. L. Martin, chairman, asked, "What have they been doing for the past 200 years? It's not anything new. Martin indicated that Jarvis and his partner should have made arrangements for a disposal site before starting trash pick-ups.

County attorney W.W. Speight said that the county had no authority to provide a trash disposal site with tax monies, and that such a proposal would have to be made to the N.C. legislature.

Jarvis stated, "We think that there is a need for garbage disposal in the county, and we would appreciate it if the commissioners could help us."

Chairman Martin agreed that there was a need and said that the disposal idea is "one of the things for the future."

Truce In Soviet Bloc Toward Czech Course

PRAGUE (AP) — A truce prevailed in the Soviet bloc today with Czechoslovakia's liberal Communist leaders and the Soviet press each assuring their people all was well in the wake of the Bratislava conference.

Observers in Prague foresaw more strains between the Czechoslovak leadership and such defenders of the Communist status quo as Walter Ulbricht of East Germany and Wladyslaw Gomulka of Poland. But the future looked brighter for party chief Alexander Dubcek and his associates than it had in many weeks.

Dubcek gave fresh assurances to dispell any lingering suspicions that his group had been forced off their liberal course by the Russians and their allies at the meetings in Slovakia last week.

"We are determined to continue on the road we have taken," Dubcek said in a broadcast Sunday night. "For the people of this republic there is no other way."

Dubcek asserted that Czechoslovakia's "expectations were fulfilled" at the Bratislava meeting Saturday with the Russians and the Communist leaders of East Germany, Hungary, Bulgaria and Poland.

He pointed out that the joint declaration signed at the meeting contained a virtual hands off pledge that leaves Czechoslovakia free to continue its new course.

The document guaranteed the right of every party to develop along its own lines, "taking into account the national characteristic and conditions" of each country. It also bound all signatories to close cooperation in matters dealing with foreign policy.

Dubcek said it was acknowledged in Bratislava that "mutual relations of Socialist countries must be based on real internationalism, which harmoniously combines the principles of equality, sovereignty, national independence and territorial inviolability."

He said this "fully complies with the regeneration process started in January" when Dubcek and his associates ousted President Antonin Novotny and others of the party old guard.

Dubcek spoke of the possibility of further democratization in Czechoslovakia and re-emphasized that "we are determined to continue advancing the post-January road." At another point he added: 'There are no justified fears for our sovereignty."

By avoiding any outright claim of victory, Dubcek appeared to be trying once more to save the Russians face. But there was much speculation as to what made the Russians change within a week from threats to hugs.

Dubcek also gave assurance that "No other conclusions have been adopted (at Bratislava) apart from the document published."

He also stressed that the Czechoslovak press and radio, despite the degree of freedom they have achieved this year, must abide by the agreement to call off the propaganda war between Prague and the Moscow group.

"The stopping of public polemic . . . will certainly also contribute to the improvement of our mutual relations," he said. "Regarding ourselves, it is our common interest to keep this promise."

The Soviet press portrayed Bratislava as a triumphant symbol of Communist unity.

Congressman Jones Said Threat Target

NEW BERN, N. C. (AP) — Rep. Walter Jones, D-N.C., was given a police escort Sunday after a telephoned threat against him was made while he was speakng in New Bern.

Police said the anonymous caller phoned the New Bern Police Department and said an armed group was en route to where Jones was speaking at Citizenship Day ceremonies.

Jones, a critic of federal policies in enforcing civil rights programs and school integration in the South, had just taken the speakers' platform when some 40 to 50 Negroes moved from a side area where they had watched the program. The group marched double file in front of the platform. They did not carry placards and no words were spoken.

One middle-aged woman shook a clinched fist in the direction of the platform.

Jones completed his introductory remarks and waited until the Negro group filed by and left. The congressman's car was under highway patrol protection on its return trip to Farmville, where Jones lives.

Union Without Love? See Your Doctor

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 16 years to a man named John. John has absolutely nothing whatsoever to do with me anymore. Physically, I mean. He is very sweet to me, and gives me everything I want —except love.

I think there is someone else John is giving his love to. I have talked to him about this and he laughs at me. He swears he doesn't have anyone else, but he MUST have. After all, he isn't an old man. . . He is only 41. (I am 38). We have two children who need a father, but I also need a husband. Should I continue to live with John without his love? Or should I tell him to go and live with whoever it is he is loving?

WHAT TO DO

DEAR WHAT: Don't be so positive that John has someone else. It is entirely possible that he hasn't. You are both too young to live without love. See your family physician for an examination from the neck both ways. And take John with you.

DEAR ABBY: You had a letter in your column from a girl who told her mother that she was spending the evening at a girl friend's house, but instead she went over there and had a fellow pick her up for a prearranged date. Her mother found out about it and grounded the girl for a month.

Well, I can sympathize with the girl because the same thing happened to me about a year ago. You say that people lie because they don't have the courage to tell the truth. Well, I can tell you why I lied. Because if I told my mother I had a date, she would ask me who with, where I met him, what his father did and lots of questions like that and rather than go thru the third degree, I lied.

If parents didn't insist on knowing the whole life history of every boy their daughters dated, there would be a lot less lying.

AVERAGE TEEN-AGER

DEAR TEEN - AGER: If a girl can't tell her mother who the boy is, where she met him, and a few facts about his family, she shouldn't be dating him. Any boy who would pick his date up at her girl friend's house and permit her to lie to her mother is bad news.

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 years old and have a paper route. I work hard at it and, if I have to say so myself, I do a good job. I get the newspapers there on time, always put them where the customers can get them, and I have never had any complaints. My complaint is that my parents won't let me do what I want to do with the money I earn. I want to buy a motor scooter. I have the money saved up and know where I can get a real good deal on one. I'm not old enough to get a license to drive one, but I could get it and drive it around on the back roads where it is safe. Please say a good word for me. My parents read you like the read the Bible.

DOUGIE

DEAR DOUGIE: It doesn't matter if you have enough money to buy a CADILLAC. Your parents permission is more important than the money involved. Heed their advice, Son, you will never regret it.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HATE TO WRITE LETTERS SEND $1 TO ABBY BOX 69700, LOS ANGELES, CAL., 90069, FOR ABBY'S BOOKLET, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Antique Hearses Being Restored

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP) — Owning horse-drawn hearses and restoring them to original condition has become an in-style hobby although the "funeral cars" went out of style about 1915.

Dick Clancy, a funeral director, and three other area collectors have restored four models built between 1890 and 1910.

"You just don't see many of them around nowadays," Clancy said.

Clancy has yet to enter his 55-year-old model in a parade.

"It's surprising how hard it is to find a matched set of horses," he said, "and it's almost as difficult to locate a competent driver."

Klan Security Guard's House Is Dynamited

CHARLOTTE (AP)—The home of a Ku Klux Klan security guard, Farrell Wilson Ostwalt of Charlotte, was dynamited early Monday morning.

Ostwalt, an unsuccessful candidate for the Charlotte City Council in the last municipal elections, has been a member of the KKK for the last three years, and is in outspoken critic of certain factions of the United Klans of America.

He said he was asleep in the front bedroom of his home when the dynamite exploded.

The blast shattered a bedroom window a few feet from Ostwalt's bed, knocked several knicknacks from a shelf in an adjoining room and, according to Ostwalt, "rocked the house."

Ostwalt said he did not see or hear anything prior to the blast. He told police he had received a number of threatening telephone calls in the past, but they occurred about six months ago.

Ostwalt told polict he did not know who would attempt to dynamite his home, but hinted that the dynamite might have been tossed by someone in the klan factions with which he has warred, rather than by a Negro.

He told reporters he intended to carry a gun from now on. His double-barrelled shotgun lay on a chair near the front door while he talked to police.

"I don't hate anybody. I'd like for the man that did this to have the guts to face me," he said.

The single stick of dynamite blasted a hole about a foot deep and two feet in diameter in the front yard, a few feet from Ostwalt's window.

Ostwalt said he believed the dynamite was deflected from the house by a small tree in his yard. It appeared that the dynamite, tossed from a car which stopped in front of the house, might have hit the limbs of the tree and dropped to the ground underneath, officers said.

"I'm glad the tree was there," Ostwalt said.

Although he did not show signs of being nervous, Ostwalt's wife was terrified by the midnight blast. "She just got out of the hospital," he said

The blast awoke neighbors and was reported by another person that lives about one-half mile away.

Experiment With New Land Plan

NEW DELHI (AP) — A revolutionary experiment in landholding will be tried in Uttar Kashi district bordering Communist Chinese ruled Tibet.

Under the inspiration of the land-gift movement leader, Acharya Vinoba Bhave, the entire district of untilled land will be owned by the villages for purposes of cultivation.

Uttar Kashi is the northwesternmost district of India's most populous state, Uttar Pradesh.

The spiritual heir of India's independence leader, Mohandas Gandhi, Bhave has been touring India collecting land for distribution among the landless.

If the Shoe Fits-

BY LARRY AVERETTE

How can I check the fit of my children's shoes?

There are two simple ways of detecting outgrown shoes. They are not as reliable as having the feet remeasured, but are infinitely surer than the old toe-hunt method which only ruins the toe box of the shoe.

One is to hold the shoe under a lamp so you can see the foot print on the insole. If the shoes are long enough, there will be a light area ahead of the mark made by the great toe.

At the risk of being considered a wise guy, the writer suggests counting the toe marks. Five is par for the foot, but many shoes show only four. Lacking proper shoe width the little toe is forced up over the fourth toe and into the upper part of the shoe. Five-toed feet that make four-toed footprints should be shod in "straight-last" shoes.

The second check is simply to put your hand in the shoe, palm upward, to see if the great toe is digging a hole in the top of the toe box. The above mentioned footprint may show a light area ahead of the great toe only because the toe of the shoe is too shallow to allow the footprint to advance any further. The force required to dig such a hole is sufficient to bunionate the great toe.

Jefferson-Ellis Vows Exchanged On Sunday

The marriage of Miss Peggy Lee Ellis and Donnon Robert Jefferson took place Sunday afternoon at four o'clock in the First Christian Church in Farmville.

The Rev. Jack M. Daniell officiated at the double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton L. Ellis of Farmville and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Jefferson of Fountain.

A program of traditional wedding music was presented by Miss Hazel Gay of Fountain, organist, and Dana Oakley of Farmville, soloist, who sang, "Whiter Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The vows were spoken before a background of white flowers and candles on the chancel altar flanked by seven-branched candelabra based and topped with fern. Baskets of white flowers were used on either side of the chancel. The vows were said before a pridieu trimmed with flowers and satin ribbon. Family pews were marked with white bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of imported silk organza fashioned with a wedding band neckline, appliqued with Alencon lace and embroidered with seed pearls. The long tapering sleeves ended in calla points. The free flowing A-line skirt formed a chapel train. Her silk illusion was attached to a three-tiered bouffant veil of silk illusion was attached to a cluster of silk organza wedding bells. She carried a cascade of white roses centered with white tulle and tied with white satin streamers

Mrs. Robert Blue of Kinston, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Harris, cousin of the bridegroom and Miss Cynthia Jones, both of Farmville. Miss Leigh Blue of Kinston, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

The attendants wore formal gowns of nile green Karati, styled with a lace empire bodice and elbow-length sleeves. The dresses featured wedding band necklines and flowing back panels of lace. Their headpieces were of matching illusion and they carried nosegays of yellow and white daisies outlined with French tulle and tied with yellow satin ribbon.

The flower girl wore a floor length dress of white lace accented with nile green ribbon. Her headpiece was a band of white daisies and she carried a basket of yellow and white daisies.

The bridegoom's father served as best man. Ushers were Robert Blue of Kinston, brother-in-law of the bride, Frederick Jefferson of Fountain, brother of the bridegroom, Henry Jefferson of Farmville, cousin of the bridegroom and Craig Stallings of Macclesfield.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ellis chose a dress of blue lace with matching accessories and a corsage of white orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink dress with lace appliques and matching accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Albert Webb of Macclesfield, grandmother of the bridegroom, wore a corsage of red roses.

The wedding was directed by Mrs. Roderick Harris of Farmville and Mrs. W. A. Pollard of Greenville. Miss Alice Fields of Farmville presided at the guest register.

The bride is a graduate of Farmville High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of Farmville High School and is now serving in the United States Air Force, stationed at Suffolk County Air Force Base, Long Island, N. Y.

For a wedding trip to the coast, the bride chose a red, white and navy skimmer with navy accessories and the white orchid lifted from her bouquet.

The couple will reside in Long Island, N. Y.

The couple received the wedding guests in the vestibule of the church following the ceremony.

MRS. DONNON ROBERT JEFFERSON

Rehearsal Dinner

A pre-rehearsal dinner was held at the Candlewick Inn Saturday night in honor of the Jefferson-Ellis wedding party. Hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Jefferson, all of Farmville, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Jefferson of Greenville and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jefferson of Greensboro.

After Rehearsal Party

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Ellis, parents of the bride - elect, entertained the Jefferson-Ellis wedding party, families and close friends at an after-rehearsal party Saturday night in the fellowship hall of the First Christian Church, Farmville.

The appointed table was centered with a five-branch candelabrum holding yellow tapers and yellow flowers.

After the bridal couple cut the first slice of cake, Mrs. Clifton Ellis, mother of the bride, served cake. Mrs. R. D. Jefferson, mother of the bridegroom, poured punch.

Miss Alice Fields and Bobby Ellis presided over the guest register.

Miss Asato Said Vows In Double Ring Ceremony

MRS. JOEL THOMAS BLALOCK

The marriage of Miss Winifred Kimie Asato and Joel Thomas Blalock was solemnized in a ceremony Sunday afternoon at four o'clock in the First Pentecostal Holiness Church.

The Rev. Harvey Morris performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Asato of Kahului, Hawaii. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Johnie Blalock of Farmville.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Betty Le Roux, organist, and Miss Ruth Williams, soloist. Miss Williams, sang "Because" "The Wedding Prayer", and Wither Thou Goest."

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Carl Jenkins. She wore a formal semi-fitted A-line gown designed with a lace yoke front and back and three-quarter length bell-shaped sleeves. The crepe dress featured a lace chapel train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls and she carried a cascade of minature carnations.

Mrs. Nan Jenkins of Oklahoma City, Okla., was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Heidi Sullivan of Princeton and Mrs. Judy Woodard of Norfolk, Va.

They wore A-line dresses of yellow dotted swiss styled with scoop necklines, empire waists and puffed sleeves. They carried long-stemmed yellow roses.

Darrell Atkinson of Wytheville, Va., served as best man. Ushers were George R. Forbes of Greenville and Pat Millard of Montoursville Pa.

The bride attended Emmanuel College, Franklin Springs, Ga., and graduated from East Carolina University. She will be teaching in the Fort Benning, Ga., schools in the fall. The bridegroom attended Emmanuel College and graduated from East Carolina University. He is currently an Officer's Candidate School candidate stationed at Fort Benning, Ga.

The couple will reside in Columbus, Ga.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church.

Mrs. Nadean Forbes poured punch and Mrs. Helen Hathaway served cake squares. Assiting in serving were Mrs. Eva Forrest and Mrs. John Shannonhouse.

Real Service If Problems Tackled

Organization of the Mid-East Economic Development district embracing a six-county area could have far reaching effects on the improvement of our area's economy.

The district includes Beaufort, Bertie, Hyde, Martin, Pitt and Washington counties.

A check for $9,900 was handed over to the executive committee last week. It represented the first federal funds from the Economic Development Administration.

Operating on an annual budget of $52,800 the organization will receive 75 percent of its funds from the federal government. The remainder will be paid by the six participating counties.

Carl V. Venters, Jr. of Farmville is chairman and a full time executive director will be employed.

According to spokesmen, the district will work to "increase the number of jobs available in the area It will also attempt to promote economic growth in every way, including improving highways and airports.

Certainly no one can quarrel with the aims of the Mid-East Economic Development District. There is no quesetion that more jobs are needed for the people who live in the six county area. Improvement of major highways is a must if this area is to develop. And, of course there is no regularly scheduled air line service in the entire district.

The organization will not need to look long to find problems that can be tackled. The Mid-East Economic Development District can be of great service to the area if it finds answers to some pressing problems.

New Bulk Terminal Is A Promising Facility

Eastern North Carolina will see far reaching effects from the construction of an $11.4 million bulk handling facility at the Morehead port.

The modern terminal was dedicated by Gov. Moore in ceremonies last week.

The terminal will handle phosphate now being mined by Texas Gulf Sulphur in Beaufort County. The phosphate will be transported by barges down the Pamlico Sound to the new terminal where it will then be loaded on ships for world wide distribution.

Highly automated, it can handle 3,500 tons of phosphate per hour.

The new facility will boost the economy of North Carolina and as Gov. Moore pointed out, it is expected to increase the flow of other products through the port.

We can see great benefits to this area resulting from the completion of this modern new terminal.

Smooth, Quick Demo Meeting

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau

RALEIGH — True to their word, Lt. Gov. Bob Scott and newly designated chairman Jimmy V. Johnson had an acceptable, agreeable and smiling slate lined up for "changing of the guard" in State Democratic party headquarters.

The result was one of the quickest, smoothest and most harmonious meetings of the state party's executive committee in memory the other day. It went so well that it almost missed mention in the press.

Johnson, 44 year old bottling company executive from Statesville and Charlotte, was elected new chairman by acclamation — and Scott's recommendation, which made it a formality. A former state senator for the gubernatorial nomination. Scott announced two days earlier that Johnson was his choice for the chairmanship, succeeding I. T. (Tim) Valentine Jr. of Nashville.

WILLIAM SHIRES

Other Choices

There was a bit more surprise in selection of other Scott choices for party posts—Mrs. James M. (Margaret) Harper of Southport for vice chairman and Mrs. E. K. Powe of Durham for secretary. These were the distaff side selections required by party plan and recent tradition — designed to give women a biggger voice in Democratic party affairs.

Essentially, this was the reason that Mrs. Harper ran for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor against former House Speker T. P. (Pat) Taylor Jr. She lost, but in doing so she proved some points in favor of her argument and apparently Bob Scott recognized them.

Mrs. Harper ran against Taylor, now Scott's running mate on the Democratic ticket — but Scott consulted with Taylor and he approved of Mrs. Harper's being named to the high party unity and attract a larger women's vote to the Democratic ticket in the Fall.

Interstate Highway

Raleigh was one of only two or three state Capitals left off the federal interstate highway system when it was approved by Congress nearly 12 years ago. Raleigh officials have grumbled and complained a bit but never has the fact of omission made a significant impression upon either state or federal highway officials.

There were reports the other day that if proper presentations are made, federal officials may be willing to consider a swap in some planned interstate hignway mileage for North Carolina in order that Raleigh might get an interstate listing — at least an interchange or two. No one appears to know or have any idea as yet where such a route would be located. City officials are reported interested but are hoping someone else, probably the State Highway Commission, will come up with suggestions and ideas.

The mayor of Raleigh, Travis Tomlinson, wants "every effort" made to include Raleigh on the interstate system. The chamber of commerce director, W. W. Simonds, says his organization's interest is in obtaining a route "most beneficial" to the city. But no one says where — whether north - south, east-west, nor in what location.

Apparently, an interstate link in the Raleigh area would have to be tied in with I-85 near Durham, or I-95 which passes Raleigh to the east, at Benson, Smithfield or Dunn at the nearest points.

Rhodes Is Key To Rockefeller

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

MIAMI BEACH—Top strategists for Gov. Nelson Rockefeller believe Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio must agree, in advance, to go on the ticket as Vice President if Rockefeller is to have any chance for the Presidential nomination.

If a Rockefeller-Rhodes ticket were cooked up in advance, it might deliver up to 55 of Ohio's 58 delegates to Rockefeller at the proper moment. If Rhodes were not promised the running-mate spot, he would have trouble delivering half of Ohio's delegates to Rockefeller.

Actually, Rockefeller agents sounded out Rhodes about the Vice Presidency several weeks ago and did not get a favorable response. Rhodes reiterated that his personal dream ticket was still Rockefeller for President and Gov. Ronald Reagan for Vice President. His personal plans, Rhodes added, looked toward running for the Senate in 1970. Nevertheless, Rhodes did not and will not flatly bar the door.

For now, Rhodes continues to play his valuable cards close to the vest. The long-awaited Ohio delegation caucus today at the Doral Hotel here may decide only to support Rhodes as a favorite son on the first ballot without charting future plans—unless Rhodes decides that Richard M. Nixon has the nomination sewed up.

In that case, Rhodes would announce for Nixon and take almost the entire delegation with him. Consequently, John Mitchell, Nixon's national campaign manager, has been on the long distance telephone from Miami to Ohio trying to convince party leaders that Nixon has clinched it.

Dirksen on Vietnam

From almost the first moment that Republican platform writers arrived in Miami, their chairman — Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois—laid down the law on Vietnam. In the first closed-door session of the Platform Committee, Dirksen stressed that the platform should contain nothing that would give comfort to Hanoi.

Moreover, Dirksen succeeded in eliminating Vietnam discussion from open sessions of the committee and tried, with less success, to muzzle Republican doves testifying before the committee.

He was furious when Gov. Raymond Shafer of Pennsylvania took a soft line on Vietnam. In a telephone conversation, Dirksen tried to talk Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York into limiting his testimony to the urban crisis with no mention of Vietnam. Instead, Lindsay's testimony was dominated by a dovish line on Vietnam. But Dirksen won the final battle with a relatively hard-line plank on Vietnam.

A footnote: Dirksen's chief aide on the Platform Committee—Clyde Flynn, a Senate Judiciary Committee lawyer—riled some Platform Committee members by injecting highly protectionist material in the draft platform. However, Rep. John Rhodes of Arizona, representing Nixon's interests, and Gov. John Chaffee of Rhode Island, a Rockefeller man, succeeded in removing most protectionist references.

Bay State Battling

The efforts by Gov. John Volpe, still hoping to be Nixon's running-mate, to line up Massachusetts Republicans behind Nixon has caused a deepening split in his state's party.

The telephone wires also sizzled when Volpe pleaded in vain with two members of his state's Congressional delegation—Reps. Silvio Conte and Margaret Heckler—to endorse Rockefeller. Volpe candidly informed them that his fading hopes for Vice President depended upon strong Nixon support from the state's delegation.

In addition, National Committeeman Bruce Crane is set to join State Chairman Sy Spaulding in backing Rockefeller. Nevertheless, Volpe will be able to swing a good chunk of Massachusetts for Nixon if necessary on the second ballot once the delegates are released from their first ballot commitment for primary winner Rockefeller.

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

Isn't it awful?

What's so awful? The way it keeps raining. The dry spell we've had for several weeks. The way my boss treats me. The uproar in the house every time I make a suggestion. The snobbishness of some people. The ignorance and perversity of the political party to which I do not belong.

Okay, okay. But why get so worked up about it? If you are just going to take the position that you can't stand to be confronted with problems or to face the fact that there are lots of unpleasant people and circumstances in life, then it would have been better for you if you had been born on some other planet because the planet Earth is a place full of problems and troubles.

We can't do anything about the weather. If you don't like your boss there's not much you can do about that either. Maybe there ought to be an uproar in the house over some of the suggestions you make. Snobbish people are really not filled with a sense of pride but are overwhelmed by a profound sense of inferiority. Psychologists call this sort of thing overcompensation.

It does not take much to constitute a stumbling block to our feet, so stop worrying yourself sick over trifles. "I'm an old man," stated an octogenarian some time ago, "and my life has been full of troubles — most of which never happened."

Oh, the energy we waste over trifles when we could turn that energy into a wholesome enjoyment of everyday living!

"And Remember Fellas, 'Help Keep Down Inflation'!"

Question Of Royalties

MOSCOW — The Russians do not have to pay royalties on Western works since they have never signed the copyright convention. But if a writer from the West shows up they will offer to pay him in rubles.

For the past six years the Soviets have been using my column, and I was told I had thousands of rubles waiting for me. The ruble is valued at $1.11.

My first temptation was to take the rubles and buy caviar with them. But then I saw a vision of J. Edgar Hoover shaking his head angrily and saying, "Don't do it, Arthur. You'll become a paid agent of the Communist Party."

I broke into a cold sweat. How could I turn down the rubles without offending the publications that had been stealing my stuff?

I waited for the vision of J. Edgar Hoover to appear again. He came to me a day later, just as I was taking a photograph of the Kremlin palace. "Not the palace, stupid," he said furiously. "Take a picture of the bridge."

ART BUCHWALD

"Yes, sir,'" I said. "By the way, J. Edgar, about those royalties. If I don't accept them the Soviets are going to get terribly hurt, as well as suspicious. I don't want to blot my notebook with the FBI, but at the same time I don't want the Communists to think I've got that much comtempt for money."

An agonized look came over Hoover's vision. "Yes may have a point. I'll get back to you."

The following day I was in the Pushkin Museum staring at a lovely nude by Renoir. Suddenly the face of the nude was replaced by Hoover's. When my Intourist guide wasn't looking, Hoover whispered, "You know you're being followed, don't you?"

"Of course, I know it," I said. "I'm being followed by a vice president from the national bank of Kiev. He keeps trying to shove that satchel of rubles in my hands. I can't think of a good reason not to take them."

"Arthur," he said, "you must be strong. Once you take

Time For Improvemnt

(Henderson Dispatch)

Perhaps, just perhaps, the commission named by President Johnson to make a study of improvements in the postal service may have a wholesome impact upon Congress. The group has completed its investigation and reported to the President, who has passed it along to two subordinates with instructions to analyze the proposals and advise him of their reaction.

The commission recommended that a government corporation be set up with power to operate the mails. It would be shorn of much of the political aspects of the department as sort of a pay-off device for both Congress and the administration. There was complaint about inefficiencies and delays, about the cost, and the deficits.

It has been fairly well demonstrated that the Post Office Department under the existing system will never achieve the high state of service that is possible and which when approved by Congress offer no appreciable improvement and which are accompanied by introduction of new innovations and gadgets which absorb the increased revenues.

Mail service has been slowed to a new low. Air mail, except for great distances, such as across the continent, is a joke and is not worth the extra cost of mailing. First class letters, for example, move more rapidly in some instances than air mail. The so-called Zip Code impresses us as being a monstrosity and a detriment rather than a benefit. Certainly that innovation was hatched up and made effective. Whether that is the explanation we do not know.

A casual reading of recommendations by the commission offers much to be commended. There is no likelihood of serious consideration by Congress at this session, unless the lawmakers are called back after the party convention next month. Congress is slow to act on suggestions involving patronage. But the country has a right to expect better than it is receiving in the handling of the mails.

Steel Plans To Win

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — For at least the third time in the 1960s the steel industry finds itself confronting the power and ire of a President. Twice it lost. This time judging by the statements, it intends to win.

"It just shouldn't be permitted to stand," said President Johnson. But Bethlehem Chairman Edmund F. Martin responded: "In our opinion our price increase is absolutely necessary, and we don't intend to withdraw it."

The result could be a compromise, an increase but not of the "slightly less than 5 per cent" announced by Bethlehem. Meanwhile, the test of strength is on.

In the most recent previous confrontation, on New Year's Day 1966, Martin was a quick loser to the administration. His increase on structural steel was called inflationary and unwarranted. He quickly withdrew it.

In the most famous confrontation, beginning April 10, 1962 U.S. Steel, the No. 1 producer, was forced to back down under a relentless barrage of criticism from the administration of President John F. Kennedy.

There are several similarities between the present battle and that 1962 conflict. For one thing both Presidents Kennedy and Johnson were in the midst of anti-inflation campaigns to which steel price increases, they felt, were serious threats.

Kennedy was making a big pitch for price stability in 1962. Partly to show his good faith—he had been distrusted in some business circles—he openly promised to help the steel industry resist execessive wage increases.

Using his influence with labor, Kennedy and his aides helped obtain what was termed a non-inflationary contract. It called for no wage increase for a year and fringe benefits of only 10 cents an hour.

Hours after Kennedy had sent a letter to the Steelworkers Union praising their "forward looking and responsible" action, Roger Blough, U.S. Steel chairman, drove up to the White House on a courtesy call.

The president or chairman of U.S. Steel doesn't have to personally call on the President of the United States before announcing action by its directors. But Big Steel as it is sometimes called, felt a responsibility.

Blough wished it to be known, he told Kennedy, that a $6-a-ton price increase was then being announced in Pittsburgh and that it would take effect at midnight. He seemed shocked and puzzled at Kennedy's anger.

There appears to be an element of surprise in the timing of these steel industry announcements. And Kennedy was one of those who was surprised. In fact he felt betrayed and so leveled all the power of his administration at the industry. The increase was rescinded.

Among the surprising aspects of the present announcement, at least so far as the public is concerned is that it came almost simultaneously with a report of surging profits and sales.

Last month's business conditions do not, of course, mean that next month's will be the same. Bethlehem felt it must prepare for tougher times by boosting its income. But a lot of people may forget that.

Among other interesting considerations are these:

—The same executives who have claimed all year that low priced foreign steel was undercutting the domestic market are the same ones now who want to raise prices. Wouldn't price increases aggravate foreign

Surtax An Inflationary Angle

By ELMER ROESSNER

It's a funny thing but the surtax, designed to put brakes on inflation, may create a bit of inflation itself. Note:

It is steaming up wage and pay demands as labor seeks to offset the tax and obtain "no cut in take-home pay."

Corporations, their profits trimmed by the surtax, will try to inch up prices to restore them.

However, these two pressures will work against each other. Corporations, hit by the boost, will resist wage increases more strongly. And consumers, suffering the same sting, will resist price increases more firmly.

Wage Price Freeze Considered

Meanwhile, confidential reports from Washington say:

There is more and more talk of a freeze of prices and wages behind the scenes. If the surtax and cut in government spending don't halt inflation, this will be discussed openly in the administration and in Congress.

Regardless of who wins the election, the surtax will be likely to continue after next April 1. Taxes, once the public is conditioned to them, are rarely ended; we are still paying World War II taxes and sales taxes originally designed to help the poor in the Depression. In addition the need to combat inflation will be just as strong next year and for every year thereafter that we continue to use rubber dollars.

Textile Prices Rising

Here are other look-aheads in business:

Textile prices will move higher. Wage rates are going up and the industry is confident that Congress will raise the bars against more foreign imports.

No interest cuts soon. Despite the lowering of interest rates by Canadian banks, a similar cut is not expected here immediately. While here and there a bank may shave rates on prime loans, the Federal Reserve appears to believe that the surtax is not the complete solution to the inflation problem and will act to keep rates at present levels. However, if a business slump should occur.

next year, it will trim rat-

Cheaper canned fruits coming. Because of huge crops in California this year, wholesale prices will dip this fall. However, cuts at retail will be minimal because transportation and handling costs will continue high.

Plastics To Cost More

Plastic prices to rise. Plant prices of plastics are going up. The industry has the common problems: high wages, higher costs of raw materials.

War dividend coming. An adhesive for human tissues that is sprayed on from an aerosol can has saved many lives in Vietnam and will soon be marketed for civilian use. It may not only be useful in first aid but in industry, since the adhesive also bonds metals and other materials. It is isobutyl cyanocrylate.

Metric system coming. Our children may measure things in meters and liters. Now that Britain has committed itself to the metric system, it may be necessary for the United States to follow. Congress seems about to pass a bill providing for a comprehensive study of a change, including the cost of a switch, which would run into the billions.

War Souvenir Collector Has A Weighty Problem

By JOHN LENGEL
Associated Press Writer

DONG HA, Vietnam (AP) — Sgt. Randy Mullen had the SKS-model rifle, made in Novosibirsk, Russia, in his hands, fingering the stock, and tentatively working the bolt back and forth with satisfying metallic clicks and snaps.

The Marine had filled out all the necessary papers to take the SKS home to Battle Creek, Mich., as a souvenir.

"Oh, I just wanted it," said Mullen. "Maybe I'll do some hunting. Maybe I'll give it to my brother."

The rifle, and thousands of other pieces of enemy equipment picked up on the battlefield, make up a big memorabilia traffic, souvenirs of a man's adventure or boredom in Vietnam.

Marine Sgt. Dan Hannes, 22, Bennett, Iowa, carries on patrol a North Vietnamese soldier's enlistment contract he found on the battlefield of Lai An, five miles below the demilitarized zone.

On his helmet, Pfc. Greg Robertson, Tulsa, Okla., wears the cap insignia of a Hanoi junior officer. Pfc. Joseph Motes, Miami, Fla., has already sent three flare parachutes home, and Pfc. Charles Hoffman, 20, New York City, totes an enemy field pack.

The list is endless, including North Vietnamese stamps, money, helmets, uniforms, rice bowls, portable air raid sirens, pistols, jungle knives, labels from great China Wall condensed milk cans, battlefield dressings, and vials of Vitamin B.

The chief limitation on the souvenir collector is how much he can carry. Says Pfc. Gary Chastain, Claymont, Del., "I find a lot of stuff I'd like to have but we walk a long way and we have to carry too much of our own gear." Anyway, Chastain has an enemy rifle-cleaning kit that "comes in handy."

A spokesman for 70,000 Marines in Vietnam says there is no record of the souvenirs finding the way back home.

"I wouldn't be surprised," he adds, "if some of the grunts did a lot of thinking on how to keep that Russian machine shop truck" found in June near Khe Sanh.

The U.S. Command draws the souvenir line at automatic weapons, such as the AK47, and explosives. Armed Forces Radio has a series of spots joshing, cajoling, and finally warning GIs about taking potentially dangerous souvenirs home.

The illegal AK47 is the ultimate status symbol. Never mind how to get one back to the State there is a big traffic in the weapon.

One Marine private, faced with the problem of building an office for his battalion, said he traded an AK47 to an Air Force supply sergeant for eight pallets of lumber, two rolls of screening, 20 sheets of tin roofing, some cement—and got eight cases of beer thrown in on the deal.

FBI Tips Are Given Airlines

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI today released a booklet outlining ways airline personnel can help it handle almost any crime, including the one that currently is getting the most attention—hijacking.

The booklet, however, offers no helpful hints on how to prevent hijacking.

The omission tends to underscore a quandry facing not only government sleuths, but the airline industry as well which concedes little is being done or can be done to prevent the crime.

An FBI spokesman said the new booklet, entitled "Airlines and The FBI," was planned before the current rash of hijackings. But he said it was a revision of one that first came out during a spectacular series of similar incidents in 1961.

In a forward, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the booklet's purpose is to suggest "various measures which the airlines and their personnel can take to help this bureau perform its job."

Hoover said the booklet will be widely distributed among airline employes.

The booklet says the FBI has jurisdiction over "most criminal offenses occuring on interstate or foreign flights."

In the booklet's only specific reference to hijacking, it is listed only as illegal and under the FBI's jurisdiction.

Other crimes listed include murder, rape, assault, robbery, damage to or destruction of an airplane or any facility used in its operation, carrying a concealed deadly or dangerous weapon, giving false or threatening reports and stealing a plane.

The booklet cautions airline employes not to tamper with physical evidence, to bt alert, to make sure all pertinent information is taken down when accepting checks, and to try to remember complete and accurate descriptions of suspects.

It also urges personnel to make note when taking a threatening telephone call of background sounds, the caller's accent, or any indication the caller is a juvenile, drunk, mentally retarded or unusually familiar with the airline's operations.

Since the first of the year there have been eight hijackings of airliners over the United States in which the gunman or gunmen ordered the plane flown to Cuba.

Israeli And Jordanians Continue Exchange Fire

TEL AVIV (AP) — Arab and Israeli forces exchanged fire across the Jordan River for the second straight day today following a retaliatory strike by Israeli warplanes which the Israelis claimed destroyed Arab guerrilla bases only 15 miles from the Jordanian capital of Amman.

An Israeli army spokesman said Jordanian troops rained bazooka and mortar shells on three settlements in the Beisan Valley. Israeli forces returned the fire, he said, and no Israeli casualties were reported.

Israeli jets streaked across the Jordan River Sunday and dealt what military spokesmen called "a substantial blow" to Arab guerrilla bases inside Jordan.

Jordan reported 23 civilians and five of its soldiers killed in the air attack and 82 persons wounded. It claimed one U.S.-built Israeli Skyhawk jet was downed. But Israel said all of its planes returned safely.

Both Jordan and Israel notified the U.N. Security Council of the air raid, and Jordan charged the Israelis with aggression. But neither asked for any U.N. action.

The air strike—first in two months against Jordanian territory—"completely destroyed" two guerrilla bases near the town of Salt, 11 miles across the Jordan River and 15 miles west of the capital, the Israeli chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Haim Bar-Lev reported.

Premier Levi Eshkol said the attack was in retaliation for a month of increased guerrilla activity by Arab infiltrators based in Jordan. He warned that stepped-up infiltration was creating "the same chain of events which led to the June war" in 1967.

"The enemy shall be made to pay the price in full," he declared.

A similar warning was given in leaflets in Arabic dropped by the attacking Israeli warplanes. The leaflets proclaimed:

"Saboteurs—we shall reach you. Those who succeed in crossing the Jordan River fall into our hands. Those who resist are killed, wounded or sentenced to long terms in jail. Forty-four of you were buried by us last month alone . . . Death to whoever strives to cause death. Life to whoever wishes to live in peace."

Airliner, With Wreckage Of Plane Imbedded, Lands

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A jet-prop airliner, with the wreckage of a light plane and the bodies of its three young passengers embedded in its side, landed safely Sunday before most of the 10 passengers aboard knew what happened.

Capt. Ted Baum, 43, Skokie, Ill., brought the twin-engine plane in with one engine dead and his copilot badly injured in the cockpit.

"I thought that something was wrong, but not a collision," said Mrs. Nancy Steffens, 44, of Two Rivers. "I was more nervous after I got on the ground and realized it had been a collision."

"We didn't know what hit us. I think only the stewardess knew," said Wilma Ross, 17, of Saginaw, Mich., "and she just told us to stay seated with our seat belts on. The pilot came down with what seemed like a normal landing."

Officials said the single-engine Cessna 150 rammed North Central Airlines Flight 261, a Convair 580, over southern Wisconsin. The light plane hit just behind the copilot's seat, also damaging the propeller on the plane's right engine.

The copilot, first officer John Mazur, 30, of Wheaton, Ill., suffered multiple fractures of his right leg and head injuries. He was reported in serious condition in a Milwaukee hospital. He was the only person on the airliner injured.

The victim's bodies were removed after the plane landed. They were identified as Rick L. Stenberg, 19, of Elk Grove Village, Ill., the pilot; Virginia Johnson, 18, Mt. Prospect, Ill., and her brother, Richard, 12.

"That pilot did a fantastic landing job," a federal official said. Otherwise there was no comment as a team of about 35 National Transportation Safety Board investigators led by board examiner Thomas Saunders arrived from Washington to probe the cause of the crash.

Milwaukee police said the pilots told authorities they were flying 170 miles per hour at 3,500 feet, preparing to land at Milwaukee, when the private plane appeared suddenly on their right, then veered into the liner. The flight originated in Chicago and was headed to Manitowoc, with a stop at Milwaukee.

There was no panic in the big plane after the collision.

"I just felt a heavy thud and heard a bang," said Pam Pavlowich, who was returning to her Manitowoc home after a vacation. "Then someone yelled 'My God, take it easy,' and everyone got very quiet.

"Everyone acted very calmly," Miss Ross said. "Nobody panicked or anything. One woman just cried."

those rubles you will be in their power and they will use you like they used Klaus Fuchs and Philby."

"I know that," I cried, "but if I refuse the money, they'll think someone else is paying me to write those articles. Couldn't I accept a couple of thousand rubles just for laughs?"

Hoover pursed his lips. "Not one Kopek. And don't try anything behind my nude back. I have someone following the man who's following you."

I didn't hear from Hoover for two days. Then as I was passing a statue of Lenin with his hand pointing out I saw Hoover's head again in place of Lenin's; "Get a picture of that tank," he said. I looked at where his finger was pointing and snapped a photograph.

"They won't let me leave the country unless I take the rubles," I told him.

"My people have come up with a plan," J. Edgar said. "Call a press conference of Soviet newspapermen and announce that the dollar is in a great deal of trouble and that you're worried it will be devalued at any time. But you know that the ruble will always remain strong. Therefore you're going to keep the rubles in a bank in the Soviet Union as insurance against the day when the dollar goes to pot."

"That's my job," he said. Edgar," I said excitedly. "They'll have to buy the story. Thanks so much for helping me out."

'That's my job," he said. "I have to leave now. If you need me, I'll be back in the Renoir at the Pushkin Museum."

competition?

—The announced price increase is planned to coincide with what almost every steelman in America believes is an expected sharp decline in sales. If sales drop, aren't prices expected to drop also?

—The nature of the Bethlehem increase was "across-the-board," meaning that every steel item was included, although based on past experience such an increase was bound to bring a reaction from Washington.

Bethlehem seemingly was aware of this, for at the very time its broad increase on structural shapes was being knocked back by the administration in 1966 U.S. Steel was permitted to raise prices "selectively."

These selective increases, one following the other, have in some periods almost accomplished the same results as the more dramatic across-the-board type. In 1967, for example, more than 50 per cent of steel products were selectively raised in price.

Navy Silent On ScorpionReport

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy declines to confirm or deny a report that top-secret listening devices recorded the sound of the ocean crushing the nuclear submarine Scorpion about May 21.

The Pentagon issued a "no comment" Sunday to the report published in Newsweek magazine.

Pentagon sources confirmed, however, that the Navy ordered a check of tapes after the Scorpion failed to return on schedule from a cruise, but declined to discuss any phase of its analysis.

The Navy has several devices for monitoring underwater traffic, using them mainly to keep track of Soviet submarines.

The Navy has extended official condolences to the Scorpion's 99 crewmen.

The search for the vessel is now centered in a "highly suspect" area about 450 miles southwest of the Azores where ocean depths run to 12,000 feet.

A Navy board of inquiry has completed an investigation of the incident, but it has not been made public.

Jack Still Laughing Hour After Open Over

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — An hour after Jack Nicklaus handily locked up the Western Open Golf Championship Sunday he still was hanging around the press room. He was laughing, patting scribes on the back and talking about the technicalities of his game.

The frustration of failing to win a tournament in 9½ months was over and the Golden Bear, like a kid with new toys, made the most of it.

He took his second consecutive Western title and the $26,000 payoff with ridiculous ease. He was leading by four strokes entering the last round and won by three with a closing 71 and a 273 total, 11 under Olympia Fields' murdered par.

Only one player who was anywhere near the pace made a determined charge at Nicklaus. Miller Barber, 37, winner of the 1968 Nelson Classic, finished with birdies on three of the last five holes for a 66. It gave him second-place money of $15,600 with 276.

Much credit for adding some dash to the 65th Western Open must go to 22-year-old Bobby Stanton of Australia, winner of a mere $5,131 this year. Bobby was in contention from the start, failed to break down where others did, and closed with a 71.

He took a bogey 6 on the last hole when he strayed into the bleachers. Stanton totaled 277 and picked off his biggest purse of $9,750 for third place.

Julius Boros, the oldest PGA king at age 48, displayed unreal steadiness in a final 70 for 278 and fourth-place money of $6,500.

Bobby Smith, young pro from Sacramento, Calif., had a dazzling 66 finale to share fifth place with George Archer and Homero Blancas. They each pocketed $4,980.

Dandy Denny Only Has Eight Left To Magic 30

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Denny McLain, whose toes let the Detroit Tigers down a year ago, is making up for it with his arm this summer.

The ace of the Tiger staff won his 22nd game Sunday, beating Minnesota 2-1 and staying on schedule for his date with the record book.

McLain, 22-3, figures to get 13 or 14 more starts and needs eight victories to become the first 30-game winner since Dizzy Dean did it in 1934. His pace has kept Detroit on top of the American League and could pay off in the club's first pennant in 23 years.

It looked like the Tigers would end that long dry spell last year until McLain's foot fell asleep and he dislocated some toes with two weeks left in the season. The injury also dislocated the Tiger pennant dream and Boston walked off with the flag.

Now McLain, his foot awake and his arm alive, has the Tigers out in front again.

Elsewhere Sunday, Chicago battered Washington 7-2, Baltimore dumped New York 5-3, Boston Beat California 5-1 in the completion of a suspended game and then the Angels walloped the Red Sox 12-6, and Oakland split with Cleveland, winning the first game 5-0 and dropping the nightcap 7-4.

In the National League, Cincinnati topped Atlanta 6-4 in 12 innings, Chicago edged St. Louis 6-5 in 13, Philadelphia nipped Houston 3-2, San Francisco blanked Pittsburgh 2-0 and New York split a doubleheader with Los Angeles, winning 8-4 and then losing 2-0.

McLain scattered five hits and had the Twins shut out until the eighth when an error by Al Kaline, playing first base, set up an unearned run.

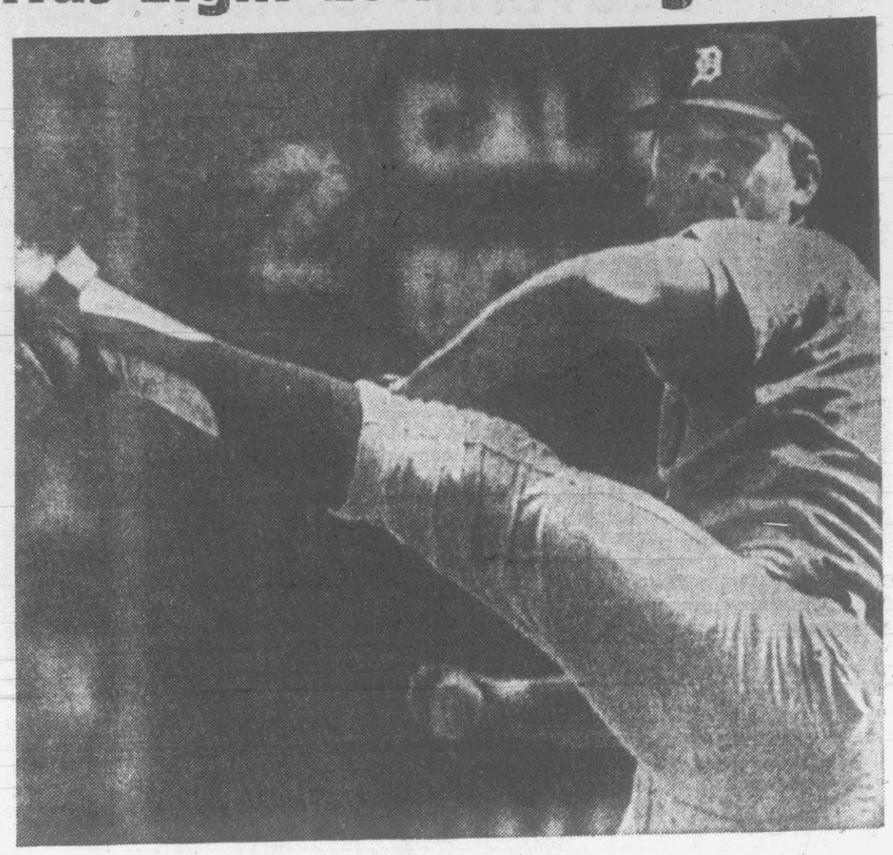
Kaline's sacrifice fly had driven in Dick McAuliffe, who tripled, in the top half of the eighth against loser Jim Kaat. A triple by Mickey Stanley and Bll Freehan's single drove in the Tigers' first run in the fourth.

The victory kept Detroit six games up on Baltimore. The Orioles won a wild one at New York with the winning run scoring on a disputed play at home plate.

Mark Belanger, who had opened the seventh inning with a single and worked his way to third on an error and a messed up pickoff play, scored the run on Dave Johnson's bouncer to short.

The Yankees argued on the call and while they did, Frank Robinson tried to slide in with another run. But the umpires had called time and the Orioles argued on that decision. Manager Ralph Houk of New York and Earl Weaver of Baltimore were both jawing with the umpires at the same time.

Tommy Davis, who drove in four runs Saturday, knocked three more home Sunday helping the White Sox beat Washington. Davis tagged his sixth home run and a two-run double as Jack Fisher won his sixth game. Paul Casanova homered for the Senators.



DANDY DENNY — Detroit Tigers pitcher Denny McLain kicks leg as he winds up to throw ball against Minnesota Twins Sunday in the Twin Cities. McLain, major leagues leading pitcher, pitched a 5-hit, 2-1 victory over the Twins for his 22nd win of the season against only 3 losses. He made his 28th start of the year and pitched his 19th complete game. (AP Wirephoto)

Chicago From Ninth To Second In National Taking 18 Wins In 23 Starts, 3 From St. Louis

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The new statue of Stan Musial outside St. Louis' Busch Stadium stands 10 feet tall...or about shoulder high to Leo Durocher and the Chicago Cubs.

Durocher's sky-high Cubs spoiled a Musial Appreciation day at St. Louis Sunday by bringing down the Cardinals 6-5 in a 13-inning struggle.

The Cubs have won six in a row, including three against the runaway National League leaders, and have shot from ninth place, on July 12, to second with a run of 18 victories in their last 23 games.

Musial, the NL's seven-time batting king before he moved into the Cardinals' front office, donned his old uniform and joined former 1941 teammates during the pre-game ceremonies. The bronze statue, created by Carl Mose of Washington, D.C., was unveiled after the game at one of the main entrances to the stadium.

In between, a capacity crowd of 47,445 saw the Cubs battle St. Louis ace Bob Gibson to a standoff for 12 innings before a run-scoring pinch single by Lee Elia in the 13th.

Elsewhere, Los Angeles rookie Mike Kekich beat New York 2-0 with a one-hitter after the Mets won the doubleheader opener 8-4; Cincinnati downed Atlanta 6-4 in 12 innings; San Francisco topped Pittsburgh 2-0 and Philadelphia nipped Houston 3-2.

In the American League, Detroit took Minnesota 2-1; Baltimore trimmed New York 5-3; Cleveland drubbed Oakland 7-4 after bowing to the Athletics 5-0; Boston defeated California 5-1 in the completion of an earlier suspended game, then lost to the Angels 12-6 and Chicago whipped Washington 7-2.

Gibson, gunning for his 13th straight triumph, settled for a no-decision after being tagged for five runs—two more than he'd allowed in any previous start since April 20.

The Cards' 15-game winner pitched out of a couple of early bases-loaded jams, was tagged for a seventh inning homer by Billy Williams that tied the game 3-3 and lost a 4-3 lead in the ninth when Al Spangler hit his first pitch for a homer—the first of the year for the Chicago outfielder.

Don Kessinger sent the Cubs ahead 5-4 with a run-scoring single in the top of the 12th but the Cards quickly retied it when Johnny Edwards, batting for Gibson, doubled and Lou Brock stroked an RBI single.

Highlights Of The 1968 Republican Platform

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Textual highlights of the 1968 Republican platform to be presented Tuesday to the party's national convention:

Preamble —

Today, we are in turmoil. Tens of thousands of young men have died or been wounded in Vietnam. Many young people are losing faith in our society. Our inner cities have become centers of despair . . . Inflation has eroded confidence in the dollar . . . American urgently needs new leadership . . .

The GOP Pledge —

Let the people know our commitment to provide the dynamic leadership which they rightly expect of this party—the party not of empty promises, but of performance—the party not of wastefulness, but of responsibility—the party not of war, but the party whose administrations have been characterized by peace—the Republican party.

The Cities—

The Republican party strongly advocates measures to alleviate and remove the frustrations that contribute to riots. We simultaneously support decisive action to quell civil disorder, relying primarily on state and local governments to deal with these conditions . . . We will not tolerate violence!

Crime—

We must re-establish the principle that men are accountable for what they do, that criminals are responsible for their crimes . . . We call on public officials . . . to enforce our laws with firmness and fairness. We recognize that respect for law and order flows naturally from a just society; while demanding protection of the public peace and safety, we pledge a relentless attack on economic and social injustice in every form.

Foreign policy—

We do not intend to conduct foreign policy in such manner as to make the United States a world policeman. However, we will not condone aggression, or so-called "wars of national liberation," or naively discount the continuing threats of Moscow and Peking.

Vietnam—

We pledge . . . a strategy permitting a progressive de-Americanization of the war, both military and civilian . . . We will pursue a course that will enable and induce the South Vietnamese to assume increasing responsibility . . . We pledge a program for peace in Vietnam —neither peace at any price nor a camouflaged surrender of legitimate United States or allied interests—but a positive program that will offer fair and equitable settlement to all, based on the principle of self-determination, our national interests and the cause of long-range world peace.

We will sincerely and vigorously pursue peace negotiations as long as they offer any reasonable prospect for a just peace.

Youth—

Our youth today are endowed with greater knowledge and maturity than any such generation of the past. Their political restlessness reflects their urgent hope to achieve a meaningful participation in public affairs . . . We believe that lower age groups should be accorded the right to vote . . . We will reduce . . . the number of years during which a young man can be considered for the draft.

Gun Control—

We pledge an all-out, federal-state-local crusade against crime, including enactment of legislation to control indiscriminate availability of firearms, safeguarding the right of responsible citizens to collect, own and use firearms for legitimate purposes, retaining primary responsibility at the state level with such federal laws as necessary to better enable the states meet their responsibilities.

Schools—

To treat the special problems of children from impoverished families, we advocate expanded, better programs for preschool children. Where state conditions prevent use of funds for non-public school children, a public agency should be designated to administer federal funds.

College—

We continue to favor tax credits for those burdened with the costs of higher education, and also tax deductions to encourage savings for this purpose.

Job Training—

A complete overhaul of the nation's job programs is urgent. There are some 70 federally funded job training programs, with some cities having as many as 30 operating side by side. Some of these programs are ineffective and should be eliminated . . . For youths unable to obtain (job skills training) in technical institutes, we propose an industry youth program, coupled with a flexible approach to minimum wage laws for young entry-level workers during their training periods.

Poverty—

Welfare and poverty programs will be drastically revised to liberate the poor from the debilitating dependence which erodes self-respect and discourages family unity and responsibility. We will modify the rigid welfare requirements that stifle work motivation and support locally operated children's day-care centers to free the parents to accept work.

Health—

We pledge to encourage the broadening of private health insurance plans, many of which cover hispital care only . . . We will be diligent in protecting the traditional patient-doctor relationship and the integrity of the medical practitioner.

The Elderly—

We will strengthen the Social Security system and provide automatic cost of living adjustments . . . An increase in earnings permitted to Social Security recipients without loss of benefits . . . and an increase in benefits to widows will also be provided.

Inflation—

Under the Johnson-Humphrey administration we have had economic mismanagement of the highest order. Inilation robs our pay checks at a present rate of 4½ per cent per year. New Republican leadership can and will restore fiscal integrity and sound monetary policies, encourage sustained economic vitality, and avoid such economic distortions as wage and price controls.

Labor—

The 40-hour week adopted thirty years ago needs re-examination to determine whether or not a shorter work week, without loss of wages, would produce more jobs, increase productivity and stabilize prices . . . We will bar government-coerced strike settlements that cynically disregard the public interest and accelerate inflation . . . Effective methods for dealing with labor disputes involving the national interest must be developed.

Transportation—

The nation's air transport system performs excellently, but under increasingly adverse conditions. Airways and airport congestion has become acute. New and additional equipment, modern facilities including the use of computers, and additional personnel must be provided without further delay.

Agriculture—

We pledge farm policies and programs which will enable producers to receive fair prices in relation to the prices they must pay for other products.

'Irreversible Coma' Argued Basis For Pronouncing Death By Doctor

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A committee of Harvard University faculty members say 'brain death" or "irreversible coma" should be a basis for pronouncing death even though in some cases the heart may continue to beat.

A set of medical guidelines for such a definition, published in today's issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, says it is needed for two reasons:

—"Improvements in resuscitation and supportive measures which have led to increased efforts to save those who are desperately injured: Individuals whose hearts continue to beat but whose brains are irreversibly damaged."

—"The use of obsolete criteria for the definition of death which can lead to controversy in obtaining organs for transplantation."

The 12-member committee is composed of the faculties of medicine, public health, divinity and arts and sciences. Its chairman is Dr. Henry K. Beecher, professor of research in anesthesia at Harvard and the Massachusetts General Hospital.

The group set numerous guidelines for determining the characteristics of a "permanently nonfunctioning brain," including clinical tests for unreceptivity and unresponsivity, lack of movement and breathing, and absence of reflexes. It also suggested obtaining confirmatory data by the electroencephalogram.

The committee said that clinical and other tests should be repeated at least 24 hours after the initial tests. They said final determination of death should be made only by a physician, not by the family, and that the decision "should be made by physicians not involved in any later effort to transplant organs or tissue from the deceased individual."

The committee said it thought that if new criteria for pronouncing death in an individual sustaining irreversible coma as a result of permanent brain damage were to be adopted by the medical profession such could form the basis for change in the current legal concept of death.

"No statutory change in the law should be necessary," the report said, 'since the law treats this question essentially as one of fact to be determined by physicians."

Waste Ash Can Purify Water

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Dr. Wayne F. Echelberger Jr. and Dr. Mark W. Tenney of Notre Dame say they have found the waste product of coal and oil fires, trapped in smokestacks by air pollution control devices, can be used to eliminate up to 90 per cent of the typical pollutants in fresh water lakes. They said the ash has amazing absorption qualities and releases lime that further purifies water but that the treatment is not suitable for large lakes and the effect on fish is undetermined.

Scott To Sit In On Board Session

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP) — Lt. Gov. Bob Scott planned to sit in on a meeting today of the North Carolina Board of Conservation and Development as he continued his gubernatorial campaign in the southeastern part of the state.

Scott, Democratic nominee for governor, told more than 150 young supporters at a watermelon slicing in Wilmington on Sunday that if elected, "my door will be open to you. I will be honest and frank with you."

"As the saying goes," he added, "I'll tell it like it is."

DRAWS A LINE

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — A Boise restaurant owner—apparently doesn't mind patrons who don't wear coats and ties in summer heat but he did post this sign: "No shoes, no shirt—no service."

Moore Attending Board Meeting

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Dan Moore planned to attend the opening business session of the State Conservation and Development Board's quarterly meeting in Wrightsville Beach today.

The Governor's only other scheduled trip this week will be Tuesday when he will attend hearings of the Advisory Budget Commission in Old Salem.

Moore's office said the remainder of the week will be reserved for appointments in Raleigh.

Report Break-In, Money Stolen

An estimated $80 in change was reported taken from the Twilight Zone on Washington Street near the 10th Street intersection in a break-in early Sunday morning.

Police said the break-in was reported at 11:40 a.m. Sunday.

Chief H. F. Lawson reported entrance to the building was gained through a rear window.

The money, he said, was taken from a pin ball machine.

Investigation of the theft is underway.

Final cut-off date for World War II GI loans is June 25, 1970.

No other sedan can make this statement.

"One trunk to a car" has been sedan dogma ever since sedans began.

(And why not? Isn't it obvious that a car can't have two trunks? After all, how can you add a trunk without subtracting an engine?)

Well, you know how much we worry about dogma.

So our new VW Fastback Sedan not only has two good-sized trunks, but—since even a Volkswagen can't get along without an engine—an engine.

(What we did was to make the engine only 16 inches high and tuck it underneath the rear trunk.)

Of course, while our Fastback may be the first two-trunked sedan, it's still a Volkswagen.

So it can make a couple of more statements most other sedans can't make.

Gas mileage: up to 27 mpg. The price: $2,179.

But best of all, with this car what you gain in function you don't lose in style. Shut both trunks and you have a dashing little fastback.

Believers in the "one trunk to a car" dogma can call us heretics.

But at least we're good-looking heretics.

The Worry Clinic

Practical Education Still Greatest Need

Norman Ross is now joining your editor in offering scientific aid to married couples on how to avoid divorce, juvenile delinquency and school dropouts. It is newspapers, radio and TV that have had to safeguard our homes because the school curriculum is still too impractical.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE G-540: Norman Ross is the talented director of the "Contact" television show at Baltimore.

"Dr. Crane," he phoned me, "you have been a guest several times on our show when it was scheduled in the late morning.

"But now we are trying a new experiment, with an evening version on Friday night from 8:30 to 9:30.

"We want to open with a bang. Since sex and marriage problems have always been surefire when you were here in the past, could you please come out again for our Friday night premiere?"

After a 10-minute discussion, the show is then opened to telephone queries from viewers, as well as questions from the "live" audience in the studio.

"Dr. Crane," came the first phone call, "what can I do to seduce my husband?

"He is kind and a good provider.

"But he shuns affection until our marriage is now almost totally platonic!

"And I'm sure he doesn't have a paramour, for he comes home straight from work.

"We have two kiddies and he is crazy about them.

"Dr. Crane, when you were here before, you suggested that wives change their perfume and wear diaphanous nighties and slenderize.

"Well, I've done all of that and still no luck! What next?"

When I first started this newspaper column, it was intended to serve as a scientific "Worry Clinic" on practical problems.

And it zoomed because our schools and colleges have largely ignored such vital and "homey" dilemmas.

Editors quickly saw the need. Now the radio and television directors are following suit.

Which is splendid, for newspapers, radio and TV are the major adult educators of America.

For the average American even today quits school forever at the age of 18. Yet he will live to the 70 - mark.

But he is usually unprepared for love and marriage, as well as child rearing and home budgeting, plus many other practical dilemmas.

For the "new math" is preoccupying our schools, instead of far more vital topics like "Marriage Problems."

Meanwhile, our colleges stress nuclear fission and moon shots, instead of teaching youth how to handle their honeymoon.

So be grateful to our mass communication media, such as newspapers, radio and TV, for they are offering "Postgraduate Clinics" to help reduce the terrific divorce rate and zooming delinquency figures.

And these "clinics" cost you little or nothing, yet our cumbersome school system is almost breading the backs of taxpayers.

Our most practical education in America comes from Scouts, YMCA Camp Fire Firl leaders, plus editors and radio as well as TV directors

So it is high time to salute these splendid and FREE sources of practical education that far excel what the schools are doing!

Send for my booklet "How to enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

It can probably do more to stop your future divorce than 4 years of expensive college courses on far - fetched and relatively impractical topics!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

WASHINGTON (AP) — No work on a proposed National Data Bank should be undertaken until greater protection against invasion of individual privacy is assured, a House Committee says.

The House Government Operations Committee, in a report released Sunday, said the Budget Bureau which is considering the computerization of statistical data "has not come to understand fully the importance of privacy."

"A suffocating sense of surveillance, represented by instantaneously retrievable, derogatory or noncontextual data," the report said, "is not an atmosphere in which freedom can long survive."

The Budget Bureau has acknowledged that privacy is a consideration, the committee said, but has not begun devising the "complicated technical falilities" to assure that information in the system would be kept confidential.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle says opposition by Catholic theologians to Pope Paul VI's encyclical against use of artificial birth control methods is 'setting the church on fire."

"Pope Paul listened to the theologians and to the rest of the Church—in fact to the whole world—for five years," Cardinal O'Boyle said from the pulpit of St. Matthew's Cathedral Sunday. "Now it is our turn to listen to him.

"I am surprised and saddened by the actions of these gentlemen—actions which are setting the church on fire," he said.

Graduates From Nursing School

KINSTON — Miss Barbara Anne Cannon graduated from the Lenoir Memorial Hospital School of Nursing at ceremonies held at the First Presbyterian Church on August 2.

Miss Cannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Cannon of Route 2, Ayden, received her dipolma and hospital pin, which signifies she is a graduate nurse. She will become a registered nurse upon passing the North Carolina State Board of Nursing examinations in September.

A graduate of Ayden High School. She has been elected to Santa Filomena, the national society of student nursing. She was treasurer of the Student Council at School of Nursing.

Miss Cannon was one of 12 nurses who graduated from the three-year nursing course at Lenoir Memorial Hospital.

THERE OUGHT TO BE A LAW!

People-Cooking Part Of Aerospace Studies

By PAT GORE
Associated Press Writer

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — They're cooking people at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base here.

It's an experiment in human reactions to extreme heat, with applications to the aerospace program with supersonic flying.

Three times a day airmen are put into a four-foot-high oven and the heat is increased to 300 and 400 degrees Fahrenheit.

Fifteen minutes at 400 degrees and a small steak should be done rare.

Some of the human subjects can stand as much as 15 minutes at 300 degrees, well over the boiling point of water, but two or three minutes has been the limit at 400 degrees, said Capt. Grant Callin, 27, of the Aerospace Medical Research Laboratories.

Callin's first conclusion: "That the human body is a lot tougher than you'd think

One of the most significant conclusions reached since the program began in March, says Callin, is that astronauts could survive re-entry through the earth's atmosphere if their cabin cooling system failed.

"This sort of information could lead to the elimination of a lot of bulky and costly systems from spacecraft," Callin explained.

"The facts we are establishing now will have even greater application in the future," said Callin, "when flying at three times the speed of sound becomes commonplace." Callin has made the "run" 12 times himself. He isn't asking any of his men to do more.

A volunteer wears normal lightweight flying clothing but has thermometers and other instruments attached to his body.

The first sensation the subject experiences, said Callin, is discomfort, as the temperature is raised sharply.

"Then one begins to sweat; euphoria ensues. It's quite remarkable how perspiration protects the skin at these extremely high temperatures," he said.

As the temperature goes up rapidly, Callin said the subject becomes uncomfortable again. He puts his hands over his burning ears. He stops breathing through his nose as hot air blisters his nostrils. He licks his burning lips.

If the pain becomes too great, the volunteer can have the test stopped. Otherwise, said Callin, it continues until his heartbeat reaches 170 beats per minute. (A normal heart beat is 72 times a minute, rising to 90 with exercise.)

His 11 subjects between the ages of 23 and 37 were surprised at how quickly the hottest air cooled on being inhaled.

"We found that short, fat subjects held out best in heat as they do in cold," Callin noted.

After the test, the volunteer is helped from the oven onto a stretcher, where he lies until the physician allows him up. Callin said weight loss through perspiration was very slight, perhaps one-tenth of a pound and that blistered ears had been the only injuries from the tests.

He expects to complete the program early in September.

Callin paid tribute to his volunteers. One airman, he said, had several times been dragged from the oven refusing to admit that he had reached his limit, even when his heartbeat reached 180.

At Least 11 Die Over Weekend In N.C. Traffic

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Carolina's weekend traffic death toll—boosted by three double - fatality accidents — reached at least 11.

The state's highway and road accident fatality toll for the year is 1,024, in increase of 99 over the same period last year.

A truck-car collision at the intersection of a rural road and U.S. 701 about 14 miles south of Smithfield took the lives of Robey C. Lee Sr., 54, of Rt. 1, Four Oaks, and the Rev. Fred S. Powers, 53, of Rt. 1, Smithfield.

Freddie English, 15, of Rt. 2, Wallace, died in a head-on collision of two cars on N.C. 41 about five miles east of Wallace.

Two women were killed and three children injured when their car ran off U.S. 158-A and hit an enbankment near Oxford. The highway patrol identified the dead as Annie Bell Williams, 47, of Marion, S.C., and Barbara Spangler Garrison, 32, of Virginia Beach, Va. The patrol said the Williams woman was driving and apparently fell asleep.

The patrol said two Sanford teen-agers were killed when their speeding car went out of cotrol and overturned on U.S. 421 about two miles east of Sanford. They were identified as Bobby Morrison, 19, and Walter Jackson Morrison, 17.

James Wilkes, 16, of Rt. 1, Stokes, was killed when a car in which he was riding left a rural paved road about four miles north of Greenville and overturned.

Other weekend fatalities included: Michale Dewitt Moore, 22, of Old Fort; Annie Lee Taylor, 38, of Rt. 1, Wadesboro, and Jake Reagan Norwood, 30, of Raleigh.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—East-West vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠AQ7 ♡963 ◇7532 ♣J63
The bidding has proceeded:

| North | East | South |
|---|---|---|
| 1♡ | 1♠ | ? |

What do you bid?

A.—While you have a spade stopper, your point count is considerably under the minimum for a free bid of one no trump, which is 10 points. The proper procedure is to pass.

Q. 2—Both sides vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠A92 ♡KJ8 ◇K10984 ♣62
The bidding has proceeded:

| North | East | South | West |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1♡ | Pass | 2◇ | Pass |
| 3♡ | Pass | ? | |

What do you bid now?

A.—Some mild effort at a slam should be made. A mere raise to four hearts would not be altogether adequate, and we suggest a temporizing bid of three spades. When you subsequently support hearts, partner will realize that this was an ace-showing bid.

Q. 3—Neither side is vulnerable. You are third hand after two passes, and hold:
♠AK104 ♡J86 ◇963 ♣AJ5
What action do you take?

A.—One spade, trying for a part score, and intending to pass any response by partner. It is unnecessary to open with a club in third position, since you need not prepare for a rebid.

Q. 4—Both sides vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠Q82 ◇K98542 ♣AK92
The bidding has proceeded:

| North | East | South | West |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1♡ | Pass | 2◇ | Pass |
| 2♡ | Pass | 3♣ | Pass |
| 3♡ | Pass | ? | |

What do you bid now?

A.—Here there is an evident misfit, and for that very reason some discount of point count values must be taken. Make an exception to the general rule and pass in this case. You might miss a game. But on most holdings that North is likely to have, game will be hopeless or the play for it negligible.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♡KQ94 ◇K10986 ♣QJ95
The bidding has proceeded:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| Pass | 1♠ | Dble. | Rdble. |

What action do you take?

A.—This hand has enormous possibilities offensively. It contains 11 points in high cards, and with the addition of distributional values is worth 14 points. So there should be no doubt in your mind as to desirability of reaching a game contract. The best way to announce this is by a cue bid of the adverse suit. The recommended call, therefore, is two spades, asking partner to select the suit and announcing that you are prepared for any suit he chooses.

Q. 6—Both sides are vulnerable, and have 60 part scores. You are South, and hold:
♠KJ865 ♡AK742 ♣1092
The bidding has proceeded:

| East | South |
|---|---|
| 1◇ | ? |

What do you bid?

A.—Since a fight may be anticipated, you should arrange to mention both suits if it becomes expedient to do so, and the proper way to plan this is by a mere overcall of one spade. Something is bound to happen around the table on the first round, and you should have a chance to mention the heart suit at a reasonably low level.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠104 ♡K102 ◇AK1042 ♣752
The bidding has proceeded:

| North | East | South | West |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1♠ | Pass | 2◇ | 3♣ |
| 3♠ | Pass | ? | |

What do you bid now?

A.—We recommend carrying on to four spades. Your 10 high card points are readily usable by partner, who has shown a very fine opening bid by rebidding freely at the level of three. Speaking in terms of arithmetic, his hand surely should be worth 16 points at spades, so that the 26 points necesary for a game would be available.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠97653 ♡AJ10 ◇Q93 ♣K10
The bidding has proceeded:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| Pass | Pass | 1◇ | Pass |
| 1♠ | Pass | 2♣ | Pass |
| 2NT | Pass | 3♣ | Pass |
| 3◇ | Pass | 4♣ | Pass |
| ? | | | |

What do you bid now?

A.—Five clubs. Partner evidently has six clubs and five diamonds, because he still persisted with clubs after you supported diamonds. Since partner disliked no trump, he very likely is quite short in spades, and there should be game in the minor suit.

Raleigh School Hearing Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal hearing was to be held this morning on termination of $1 million in federal aid annually to the Raleigh, N. C., public school system.

Raleigh, which has rejected Department of Health, Education and Welfare proposals to step up integration, is the largest school district to face the cutoff since HEW began enforcement of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

That law prohibits financial aid for segregated districts.

Raleigh, although planning more desegregation for the coming school year, contends that population patterns are responsible for an unequal racial mix in the schools.

If the hearing examiner should find against Raleigh, probably some two or three months after the hearing today, an order could be issued calling for an end to federal funds.

HEW would have to consider the order, which would not become final until approved by the HEW secretary and Congress was informed of the department's intention to end federal aid.

Federal funds could be terminated 30 days after the secretary informed Congress.

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA) — North Carolina hog markets today were mostly steady with instances of 25 cents higher. Tops of 19.50 - 20.00 Rocky Mount; 19.25-20.00 Wilson; 19.25-19.75 Bethel; 18.75 - 19.75 Tarboro; 18.50-19.50 Kinston, New Bern, Benson, Mount Olive, Newton Grove, Albertson, Lumberton; 20.25 Salisbury; 19.75 Greensboro; 19.25 Siler City and Denton.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA) — The North Carolina poultry market today was steady to light to stronger. Price of live poultry at the farms was 14-14½, mostly 14½ cents per pound.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market staged an irregular advance, with trading fairly active early this afternoon.

The margin of gains over losses widened steadily throughout the morning and was more than 200 in the afternoon.

Weakness in several pivotal issues, however, put the brakes on averages.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .30 at 871.57.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 327.3, with industrials off .8, rails up 1.0, and utilities off .5.

Steels were mostly lower as a production decline was predicted for August. Steel customers were reported reducing inventories built up as preparation for a possible strike, which was averted by last week's labor agreement.

An assortment of selected issues was active and strong as trading interest revived after the three-week market decline.

Carpenter steel was up about 3 points, but Electronic Specialty sank about 5 on news of a planned merger of the two. Electronic Specialty opened late on 10,500 shares, off 3½ at 38½, and deepened its loss in later dealings.

Among very active issues, Union Carbide paced the list with a fractional gain. Commercial Credit advanced about 1½, Republic Corp. nearly 2, Boeing 1, Control Data 3, Sperry Rand 1, and Chrysler 1½.

Despite Chrysler's strength, autos were mixed.

Xerox picked up a couple of points, and Polaroid about 2½. Up a point or so were a wide range of stocks, including Boeing, Zenith, Anaconda and Owens-Illinois.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

Tass Criticizes GOP Platform

MOSCOW (AP) — The draft platform proposed by the Republican party for its convention at Miami Beach Fla., came in for sharp criticism today from the official Soviet news agency.

Tass said the platform points out various problems of the country but "proposes no concrete measures for remedying these ills of American society."

"It offers only vague generalities and promises courageous and understanding leadership."

The Tass report, by O. Anichkin and H. Freeman, added: "While the foreign policy section of the program attempts to compromise the views of the moderate and ultra wings of the party, it contains strong traces of Goldwaterism, nevertheless. . .

Again Scene Of New Shootings

SEOUL (AP) — One American, one South Korean and at least nine North Koreans were killed today and Sunday in a rash of shooting incidents along the Korean frontier. Five Americans also were wounded.

One clash occurred less than one mile from Panmunjom as the 275th joint military armistice commission meeting was in progress.

Johnson Hopes Competitive Pressure Faces Steel

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, in an apparent replay of his successful 1966 rollback of steel prices, is looking to competitive pressure from giant U.S. Steel Corp, to bring the industry into line.

Aides said Sunday night Johnson feels a general steel-price increase can be avoided if U.S. Steel, the nation's largest producer, keeps aloof from across-the-board hikes posted by Bethlehem and Republic, the No. 2 and No. 3 producers.

U.S. Steel and five other members of the top 10 have raised prices only on certain items with increases ranging 110 czcsteel bjt b19 eg5 from 4 to 7 per cent. Only McLouth and Kaiser of the top 10 have made no increases at all.

Although U.S. Steel is regarded as the make-or-break factor, Johnson is tightening other screws one by one.

Latest turn came Sunday night when Chairman Paul Rand Dixon announced an emergency session of his Federal Trade Commission to consider a request by Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., for a probe or steel-pricing practices.

Rand called today's session while on a trip in the South.

How much direct pressure—if any—is being brought on U.S. Steel to hold the line could not be learned.

But the situation closely parallels 1966 when Bethlehem led the way with a $5-a-ton increase on certain major items.

The company rolled back to remain competitive when Big Steel, reportedly under tremendous White House pressure, posted increases of $2.50 on the same items.

Johnson also ordered government agencies to avoid purchases from price-boosters in that confrontation, as he has done this time.

The orders were applied to defense purchases last week and extended to all government Steel buying over the weekend.

The White House campaign so far has been aimed mainly at Bethlehem and Republic which posted across-the-board increases of slightly under 5 per cent only hours after the industry last Wednesday reached agreement with the United Steelworkers on a new three-year contract. The pact is expected to cost 6 per cent a year.

They were the first general increases in the industry since 1962 when President John F. Kennedy won a bitter duel with steel titans.

Since then selective increases have become common and White House aides indicate they could live with them now, although not as high as the 4-per-cent-plus most companies have posted.

Perhaps significantly, it was U.S. Steel that precipitated the Kennedy-Steel clash which Kennedy won at the expense of widespread animosity from business.

Several steel executives were convicted in a price-rigging case in 1965 that was related to the Kennedy-steel confrontation.

Congress looked into steel pricing in 1963, also as a result of the blowup, but its investigation proved inconclusive after steel executives refused to divulge cost and production figures.

Although the Senate was prepared to bring contempt charges against the executives it backed off when the administration, seeking to repair the damage to its image among businessmen, was cool to the idea.

In calling for the FTC probe, Hart, chairman of the Senate subcommittee on antitrust and monopoly, said a recent study showed steel accounted for about $250 of the cost of a $3,000 automobile.

"A 5 per cent hike on top of this is not a minor item," he said.

Number Of Tobacco Barn Fires Increase Over Pitt

An increase in the number of tobacco barn fires has been noted as the harvest season reaches its climax.

A barn on the Tom Brown farm, Road No. 1116, near Renston, was a total loss. The fire occurred at 9:56 p.m. Friday, and the Winterville Fire Department responded. At 6:11 a.m. Saturday morning, the fire department was called back to extinguish a fire which had rekindled in the barn ruins.

A barn was saved, but the tobacco lost, in a barn on the James Jefferson farm on Highway 43 near Falkland. The Falkland Fire Department responded to the 8:03 p.m. alarm Friday.

At 3:10 a.m. Saturday, the Ayden Fire Department received an alarm for a barn fire on the Jack Loftin farm east of Ayden on Road No. 1722. The barn was a total loss.

The tobacco on the D. W. Moore farm, on Highway 3, west of Falkland, was lost but damage to the barn limited to about $400 in a fire at 7:54 a.m. Saturday. The Falkland Fire Department responded to the alarm.

A barn was saved but tobacco lost, on the farm of William Moore, on Highway 258 north of Fountain. This fire occurred at 2:52 p.m. The Fountain Fire Department went to the scene.

Early Sunday, at 5:16 a.m. the Bell Arthur Fire Department answered an alarm for a barn fire on the Rod Jones farm on Stantonsburg Road No. 1200. The barn was a total loss.

On the Don Langston farm, on the Pactolus Highway, three miles south of Stokes, damage estimated at $1,500 was incurred from a fire reported at 1:55 p.m. The Carolina Township Fire Department responded at 1:56 p.m. Later, at 5:32 p.m., the fire department was recalled to the scene to put a rekindled fire in the same barn.

At 11:56 p.m. Sunday, a barn on the farm of Bob Coggins located at the Stokes-Bethel highway intersection outside Greenville was reported on fire. The Staton House Fire Department responded to the alarm. Damage is estimated at $1,000.

Monday morning at 10:25 a. m., an alarm was received by the Farmville Fire Department for a barn fire on the farm of Henry Garris on Highway 264A, three miles east of Farmville The operator of the farm is Lyman Bryant. Complete details on damage was not available.

In other fires, a smoke house on the Willie Mills farm on Road No. 1565, at Boyd's Cross Roads, was reported afire at 8:32 p.m. Sunday. The Grimesland Fire Department was dispatched and extinguished the fire. Only minor damage occurred.

The Red Oak Fire Department responded to a call for a car on fire at 3:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon on Highway 264, one and one-half miles west of Greenville. The fire was out when the fire fighters arrived.

Street Violence For York, Pa.

YORK, Pa. (AP) — Street violence hit this south central Pennsylvania city for the second straight night Sunday and sporadic trouble calls kept police and firemen on the move through the early morning hours today.

Roving gangs of young Negroes smashed windows, pelted motorists with bricks and rocks and set at least eight fires during what the city's public safety director, Jacob W. Hose, described as a "planned operation."

Random shots were heard in the troubled area on the city's Southwest Side as the disturbance started and Hose said at least one bullet was aimed at a police cruiser.

Police reported four arrests. One, Lawrence Dixon, 23, of York, was charged with "wantonly pointing a shotgun." Another, 39-year-old Paul E. Nolden, of York, was charged with a firearms violation and violating parole and was ordered held without bail.

Lionel Bailey, 28, was charged with arson after a fire was set a York City High School. A fourth person was charged with interfering with a police officer.

In all, nine reports of firebombings were received by police before calm returned to the city about 4 a.m. today. Five false alarms were also turned in.

Two police detectives reported they were struck with shot gun pellets but were not injured.

One of the targets of firebombs was a meat market which was the center of a gunfight and shooting Saturday night which left eleven persons wounded, 10 by shotgun pelles and one by a .38 caliber bullet.

The Saturday night shooting was touched off when Chester Roach, 58, returned the fire of someone who shot at him through the window of his apartment above the meat market firebombed Sunday night.

There was no looting, either night, and police were not involved in the shooting Hose said, other than the occupants of the police cruiser fired upon Sunday night.

York is a city of 55,000. Some 6,000 Negroes are residents.

Murder-Suicide Said Witnessed By 3 Children

HICKORY, N.C. (AP)—A 44-year-old Hickory man and his 31-year-old wife were shot to death near midnight Sunday in what sheriff's department investigators called apparent murder and suicide.

Two of the couple's three children witnessed the shooting.

Killed with blasts from a .410 shotgun were Minyard Floyd and Mary Ethel Floyd, of Rt. 3, Hickory.

Catawba County Sheriff T. Dale Johnson said the children told him Floyd came home during the night and ordered his wife out of bed and that she refused to arise.

Johnson quoted the children as saying the father picked up the .410 and fired once, then turned the weapon on himself.

N.C. Delegates Caucus Today On Their Votes

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — North Carolina delegates to the Republican National Convention plan to caucus today to discuss how they will vote in the balloting for the presidential nomination.

A survey over the weekend showed 12 for former Vice President Richard Nixon, four for California Gov. Ronald Reagan and nine uncommitted.

The chairman of the delegation Rep. Jim Gardner, candidate for governor of North Carolina, is believed leaning toward Reagan.

In Raleigh, Gardner's office said Gardner had scheduled the North Carolina delegation's first caucus for 2:30 p.m. at the Golden Strand Hotel, the delegation's headquarters.

The announcement said the caucus would be closed and another would be held Tuesday.

Standings

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Here is the standing of Republican presidential nomination candidates at 10 a.m. EDT today in an Associated Press tabulation of publicly committed first-ballot votes: Nixon 566; Rockefeller 232; Reagan 73 plus 86 as Calif. favorite son, Total 159; Other favorite sons 232; Uncommitted 144.

Rifle Shipped To His Room, Man Detained

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Authorities alerted by a tip from Nevada's governor arrested a 29-year-old man today who they said had shipped a rifle to his room at a hotel housing two delegations to the Republican National Convention.

Dade County sheriff's police said James Chad Anderson of Kanab, Utah, was charged with vagrancy and volunteered to undergo psychiatric tests.

Nevada Gov. Paul Laxalt said he recognized Anderson and told hotel officials of his presence. Laxalt said authorities were called after the man inquired about fishing tackle he was having shipped here.

Lt. Janes Vermilye, in charge of the Dade County criminal intelligence unit, said the FBI and Secret Service joined police in a check that "revealed a .22 caliber rifle had been shipped to Anderson's room at the hotel."

Vermilye quoted Anderson as saying the rifle was an antique that he had included in the package containing fishing tackle he planned to use at this Florida resort city.

Laxalt said he recognized Anderson, who had no connection with the convention, as a former Las Vegas, Nev., resident.

The governor told a state caucus the man had been writing unintelligible letters to some delegates.

George Wallace To Visit State

CHARLOTTE (AP)— George Wallace, third-party presidential candidate, will visit North Carolina Friday and Saturday, a spokesman for his North Carolina campaign office announced today.

Wallace, whose name will appear on the ballots in North Carolina in the November election is to arrive in Wilson for a supper meeting Friday night.

Saturday he will visit Burlington at 2 p.m. then go to Winston-Salem for a 6 p.m. supper and 8 p.m. rally.

VC Shrapnel Wounds An American General

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong wounded an American general whose son was killed in action in 1967 and shot down a helicopter in two fights south of Saigon today. U.S. infantrymen reported killing 41 of the enemy and capturing 19 weapons.

U.S. casualties were two killed and 13 wounded, including Brig. Gen. Franklin M. Davis Jr., 50, comander of the U.S. 199th Light Infantry Brigade.

Davis was cut about the face by shrapnel and gashed over his right eye when a band of Viet Cong guerrillas showered rocket grenades on an allied river patrol from mangrove swamps along a river bank 13 miles southeast of Saigon.

The general returned to the scene after being treated at the brigade aid station, commenting: "It was just an occupational hazard."

Davis, who is from Waltham, Mass., is one of half a dozen American generals wounded in Vietnam, while another three have been killed. Davis' youngest son, 2nd Lt. Stephen Davis, was killed in action in Vietnam in 1967.

The heaviest of the two fights raged in a stand of paddies, canals and huts 24 miles southwest of Saigon. The fight was triggered in midafternoon Sunday by Viet Cong gunners who shot down a helicopter that was landing troops for a reconnaissance mission.

The Viet Cong then opened up with small arms and automatic weapons on the company of 150 infantrymen from the U.S. 9th Division. More than 500 more Americans were landed in the area in darkness and heavy rain and set up a cordon around the enemy area of paddies, canals and huts. A prisoner told U.S. interrogators that about 100 Viet Cong were in the area at the start of the fight.

With the cordon established, helicopter gunships firing machine guns and rockets raked the enemy positions through the night and artillery pounded them. The infantrymen swept through the area after daybreak Monday and reported finding 41 enemy bodies and 19 weapons. Two Americans were killed and seven were wounded.

Enemy gunners shot down another army helicopter 50 miles southwest of Da Nang as it was going in to pick up a Viet Cong waving a flag, believing that he wanted to surrender. Instead, enemy gunners hiding nearby opened fire when the helicopter was within range. Four crew members were wounded but were rescued.

The two helicopter losses raised to 803 the number shot down in combat during the war.

In the central highlands near Dak Pe, a small Army observation plane was shot down but the crew was rescued. It was the 292nd fixed-wing American plane downed in combat in South Vietnam.

Although the anticipated third enemy offensive of the year still had not materialized and the lull in ground fighting continued, allied forces over the weekend uncovered half a dozen more caches of arms which the enemy apparently had stockpiled in preparation for the offensive.

Charge Driver In Sunday Collision

William J. Waters, 39 of Hartford, Conn. was charged with following too closely yesterday after investigation of a 5:25 collision on U.S. 264, 50 feet east of the Granville Drive intersection.

Officers said the Waters car collided with a vehicle driven by Charles Edmond Orr, 29 of Raleigh.

Damage to the Orr car was set at $150 while damage to the Waters vehicle was placed at $200.

BARDOT DIVORCE?

SAINT TROPEZ, France (AP) —Brigitte Bardot has filed a divorce action against her third husband, German millionaire Gunther Sachs, sources here said Sunday night.

Correction

A dropped word gave an incorrect meaning to a statement attributed to Dr. John East, delegate to the Republican National Convention, in Sunday's Daily Reflector.

The paragraph should have read:

When asked who he thought Reagan's choice for vice president would be if he won the presidential nomination, East replied, "I honestly don't know. Nixon or Rockefeller would not be a suitable choice for the Reagan ticket — possibly John Tower of Texas would be a choice."
