Irregular Heart Action

Ike's Condition
Continues To Be Most Critical

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower remains in "extremely critical" condition and has suffered numerous episodes of irregular heart action since Sunday night, Army doctors reported today.

Doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital said an electrical pacemaker, inserted earlier into the heart of the five-star general, had been removed after it failed to stop the spasms.

The recurring irregularities, doctors said earlier, constitute a "constant and critical hazard" to Eisenhower's survival.

The text of a morning medical bulletin:

"General Eisenhower's condition remains extremely critical. The electrical pacemaker was removed late yesterday because of its demonstrated ineffectiveness after the initial few hours.

"Since last night's bulletin numerous episodes of ventricular irregularity have occurred, most of only a few seconds duration but two requiring electrical conversion.

Despite this, the general remains alert, converses briefly, and enjoyed a small breakfast. He is visited briefly from time to time by members of the immediate family, at his request.

"Mrs. Eisenhower has remained calm during these past trying days, and has received comfort and support from her sister, Mrs. Gordon Moore, who together with Col. John Eisenhower and his family have been constantly with her."

In a Sunday night bulletin, the doctors reported failure of the electrical pacemaker, which was threaded directly into the patient's heart by way of a vein, to relieve the spasms.

It was the latest of several efforts made to halt the irregular rhythms since the 77-year-old general suffered his latest attack.

Doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital in a bulletin issued Sunday night said the 77-year-old five-star general was resting comfortably without pain, but "remains critically ill" after suffering two more spasms following insertion of an electrical pacemaker.

The bulletin read: "Gen. Eisenhower remains critically ill. Electrical pacing by means of a transvenous catheter has been ineffective in suppressing the episodes of ventricular irregularity. Two more, each quickly reverting to normal, have occurred since the afternoon bulletin.

"Vital signs, in the interval between these episodes, have remained essentially stable. The general is not in pain, is resting comfortably, and sleeps intermittently.

EC Minimum Wage
May Go Upward

East Carolina University minimum wages for employees may be placed at $1.60 prior to February 1, 1969, the date scheduled for the $1.60 minimum to go into effect nationally.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and North Carolina State at Raleigh have begun paying the $1.60 hourly minimum.

F. D. Duncan, Vice-President of ECU and Business Manager, stated it was too early to determine what effect the eventual wage increase will have at ECU. Food prices would most likely be affected soon after the increase, Duncan stated, but student fees for dormitory services would not necessarily follow the wage raise.

Duncan stated the minimum wage now being paid to employees is $1.45 per hour, but that there are not a large number working at the minimum rate.

A personnel officer from ECU was in Raleigh last week for talks on the minimum wage rates.

Nixon Tours,
Offers Support

By BILL BOYARSKY

Associated Press Writer

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) —

Richard M. Nixon, plunging into the first national tour of his presidential campaign, has offered his endorsement to all Republican candidates.

But the GOP presidential candidate adds at the same time that he will respect the wishes of Republican office-seekers who may want to stand apart, separating their campaigns from his.

Nixon outlined his approach to the old problem of national candidates trying to get along with local ones in a briefing with newsmen in San Diego Sunday. After talking at length about campaign problems Nixon left on a three-day tour of Illinois, Ohio, Michigan and New York.

The first stop was Springfield, Ill., capital of a state he lost narrowly when he ran for president eight years ago.

"We're going to campaign Illinois like it's never been campaigned before," he told about 1,000 people who were waiting for him at the Springfield airport Sunday night.

"We're going to carry Illinois and we're going to carry the nation," he said.

The object of the trip is twofold: to meet with some of the party's big-state governors and to test the reaction of GOP workers to his efforts in the past week to unify Republicans behind his candidacy.

The key governors he plans to visit are George Romney of Michigan, Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania, James A. Rhodes of Ohio and Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who was Nixon's top challenger for the nomination.

Nixon's decision to endorse all Republicans seeking office but to respect the fact some may want to go it alone recalls the problems Barry Goldwater, the party's 1964 presidential nominee, faced.

Some candidates in urban states avoided Goldwater because they believed he would hurt them in their own races.

In winding up his stay at the San Diego vacation campaign headquarters, Nixon praised the record of his running mate, Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, in handling problems of big cities and said: "If anything happened to the president I would feel extremely confident that he could take over . . ."

Asked about Agnew's knowledge of foreign policy matters, Nixon said: "No man who is selected for the position of vice president of the United States is going to be an expert in every area.

"Gov. Agnew is not one who has had great experience in foreign affairs. However, what he has is something vital. He has a balance of judgment. He has the fine intellect to learn very fast."

Egyptian Plane
Crashed Sunday

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — An Egyptian airliner fell into the Mediterranean Sea between Cyprus and Egypt Sunday, killing all 41 persons on board.

The Soviet built Antonov 24 was on a flight from Cairo to Damascus when the Nicosia air traffic control center reported losing contact.

British Royal Air Force planes began a search and five hours later spotted wreckage and bodies about 120 miles south of Cyprus.

United Arab Airlines reported in Cairo that the plane carried 34 passengers, all from the Middle East and Africa, and a crew of seven.

Informed sources said contact with the twin engine turboprop plane was lost without explanation.

One RAF pilot said wreckage was spread over an area about a mile long and 400 yards wide.

Premier Comment

PRAGUE (AP) — The Czechoslovak news agency, CTK, said today Premier Oldrich Cernik did not state Czechoslovakia was prepared to seek credits from the World Bank and from Western countries but merely said some Czechoslovak enterprises were interested in getting credits from Western firms.

The original report about the credits was attributed to an interview Cernik gave to Austrian radio.

As Committee Begins Work

Humphrey, McCarthy
Battle Over Platform

By JACK BELL

AP Political Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Supporters of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy fire opening rounds today in a propaganda battle over delegate seating and platform planks for next week's Democratic nominating convention.

Humphrey, predicting his own nomination for president on the first ballot, called for the kind of "forward looking, labor-Democratic coalition" he said can lick a Republican ticket headed by Richard M. Nixon in November.

The vice president lashed out at Nixon. He said the former vice president's record was one synonymous with "reaction, retrenchment and retreat."

Nixon, greeted by a crowd of about 1,000 persons when he flew into Springfield, Ill., from California Sunday night, asserted that "we're going to carry Illinois and we're going to carry the nation." He lost Illinois narrowly in 1960.

Humphrey said in a speech prepared for the United Steelworkers convention that he is coming back to Chicago next week to fight for the dream of Samuel Gompers and other labor leaders of "full and equal opportunity for all."

Humphrey predicted that "we can have a real peace emerging from the kind of hard bargaining that produced a nuclear test ban treaty and a nonproliferation treaty . . . the kind of encounter that will, I am confident, bring lasting peace in Vietnam."

The steelworkers, 1.2 million members strong and the biggest union in the AFL-CIO, is expected to give the endorsement of its 3,500-delegate convention to the vice president's quest for the top Democratic nomination.

But while he was aiming diversary attacks at Nixon, Humphrey obviously was concerned with the well-publicized efforts of McCarthy's men to steam up the sort of "fair play" controversy over delegates that helped Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower win the Republican nomination from Sen. Robert A. Taft in 1952.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., one of Humphrey's campaign directors, called reporters together to explain that the vice president really wants an open convention. Mondale said the McCarthy effort to challenge the seating of Humphrey delegates constituted an effort by a candidate who doesn't have enough votes to win the nomination to "disrupt" the convention.

"We want an open convention with fair debate," he said. "We want to go the last mile but we are not prepared to forfeit victory to prove that we are fair." He added that McCarthy was engaged in "a childish venture to challenge the validity of this convention."

Don McClure, McCarthy's press secretary, told a separate news conference that it wasn't true, as Humphrey's men charged, that the Minnesota senator was trying to block out any "vast proportion" of the vice president's delegate supporters. McClure said the McCarthy camp was responsible for less than one-third of the delegate challenges and contests.

He produced a series of previously published polls he said indicated that with Humphrey at the head of the ticket Democratic senatorial candidates would lose in such heavily contested states as California, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

"These polls show that Humphrey has no coattails," he said. Humphrey and McCarthy continued their jousting over the wording of a Vietnam war plank, with platform hearings opening in Washington simultaneously with the credentials sessions in Chicago.

McCarthy denied in Washington that he would impose a coalition government on South Vietnam. Humphrey had said his opposition to making such an advance commitment was similar to that expressed by the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

Says Report
Is 'Hogwash'

DARLINGTON, S.C. (AP) — Republican congressional candidate Ray Harris says the surgeon general's latest report on the effects of cigarette smoking is "more hogwash directed at hanging the tobacco industry."

Harris, in a statement Sunday, said recommendations in the report "border on the ridiculous . . . and indicate the length to which the federal government is prepared to go to gang up on the industry and the already ailing tobacco farmer."

"The surgeon general's task force laments that the tobacco industry is seeking to discredit evidence about the effect of cigarette smoking on health," Harris continued. "I think it should be discredited."

Harris said the report was based on questionnaires mailed to 243,000 doctors, of which only 5,000 responded.

"This is the flimsiest of evidence," Harris declared. "If the surgeon general is going to hang the farmer and the tobacco industry, he should come up with the same concrete evidence he would need in a court of law—facts, not suppositions."

Harris is running against incumbent Democratic Rep. John L. McMillan for the 6th District seat.

North Vietnamese Slip
Out Of Tay Ninh Today

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops slipped out of embattled Tay Ninh today after losing more than 200 dead in a series of blazing fights with allied troops, tanks and artillery in and around the key provincial capital Sunday.

An American armored column and South Vietnamese soldiers swept through the city today and reported encountering no resistance.

The battle for Tay Ninh brought to a pitch four days of hard fighting from the Mekong Delta north to Da Nang, that shattered a two-month lull in the ground war.

U.S. officers in Tay Ninh said some 500 North Vietnamese regulars—mainstays of the attacking force—slipped out under the cover of darkness through an armored trap set up outside the city.

The fighting in and around Tay Ninh—a city of 200,000 population, 45 miles northwest of Saigon—was considered serious by the allies, but military sources said it was too early to say whether it signaled the start of the third major offensive of the year threatened by the enemy high command.

North Vietnam's official newspaper, Nhan Dan, called today for "a new and more violent offensive to wrest military victories from the enemy."

The plea was keyed to the 23rd anniversary of the Aug. 19, 1945, start of the rebellion which climaxed in the French defeat at Dien Bien Phu in 1954.

The new fighting likely will prompt an exchange of accusations between North Vietnamese and American negotiators when the Paris peace talks reconvene Wednesday.

Some observers had interpreted the two-month lull in the war as a sign of de-escalation on Hanoi's part. But U.S. officials had insisted all along that the enemy command was deliberately avoiding contact with allied forces to prepare for a country-wide offensive.

Boy Is Drowned

GRANITE FALLS, N.C. (AP) — A 14-year-old boy, Ernest Lee Carver, drowned Sunday in Wilson Creek in western Caldwell County.

Authorities say the youth disappeared while swimming. His body was recovered by rescue units several hours later.

Stock Exchange President Testifies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of the New York Stock Exchange testified today that if the practice of charging minimum commissions on stock trading was abandoned, as suggested by a Justice Department brief, it could destroy the present securities markets.

"While no one can predict with precision the consequences of abolishing minimum commission rates," Robert W. Haack said, "I have no doubt that the securities markets as we know them today would cease to exist."

Haack testified before a Securities and Exchange Commission hearing, part of an investigation to gather data on fee schedules and fee splitting in the securities industry.

The Justice Department's antitrust division said last April that, on the basis of its knowledge of the operations of the New York Stock Exchange, it saw no justification for setting minimum commission charges.

In 1967, volume on the Big Board came to about 2.5 billion shares valued at about $125 billion. This netted the 650 member firms a commission income of about $1.5 billion, with 1 percent of this, about $15.5 million, paid to the exchange.

The antitrust division said it foresaw no significant risk of "destructive" price levels or adverse effects on the operation of the exchange from competition in rates.

Haack replied that the position is based on a false assumption—"that standard competitive concepts applicable to a typical manufacturing business can be applied without modification to the securities industry."

Negotiated rates, Haack said, would result in "destructive competition" in periods of declining market volume. The concept, he said, "is a valid, recognized economic exception to free competition . . ."

Because of the unique characteristics of the securities industry, Haack said, "destructive competition" would mean that the customer would suffer as well as the entire nation's allocation of resources.

Unregulated commission rates, he said, would "seriously weaken the stability of the securities industry and greatly reduce established safeguards for the protection of investors."

Haack said unregulated commissions would have these effects:

—Firms would have little incentive to retain exchange membership. The exchange would shrink to a mere association of floor brokers and specialists.

—Over-the-counter markets in listed stocks would proliferate.

—Smaller brokerage firms, regardless of efficiency, would be eliminated.

—Firms would be discouraged from taking on additional fixed costs needed to meet peak demands of heavy volume.

—Services such as financial information and research probably would be eliminated.

—Overhead costs would be shifted to small, less powerful investors.

—Chances for consumer exploitation would increase.

—What the investor might save on commissions might be lost in poor execution of the stock transaction.

Eight Shots Fired
From Three Pistols,
Man Is Killed

ROBERSONVILLE — Eight shots from three pistols felled and killed a Negro man here at 5:15 p.m. yesterday three blocks from the police station here.

The victim, Skipper Gene Moore, 28 died after receiving three .22 caliber bullets in the head, two in the heart, one in the chest, and one in the leg and groin.

Sergeant Mike Roberson said that three Negroes all from the Joyner's Crossroads section of Pitt County were captured this morning and are being held in connection with the shooting.

Sgt. Roberson said the three were tracked all night with bloodhounds and were apprehended early this morning near the Tranner's Creek Church in Beaufort County. Two of the weapons have been recovered.

The shooting occurred at the corner of Morton and Railroad Streets in Robersonville in front of several eyewitnesses, according to Sgt. Roberson.

Their Neighbors Should Not Be So Nosy

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I live in an apartment house which caters mostly to elderly ladies. One is an old maid about 60 who teaches school. She and her friend, who is nearly 80, are prim and proper as lavender and old lace but they entertain men until all hours of the night and well into the morning. Some even stay for the week-end. The teacher has two week-end guests who alternate.

The landlady does not seem to mind but I think it looks terrible. It gives the whole building a bad name. Am I being too old-fashioned?

MISS G, AGE 70
DEAR MISS G: I don't know who the men are and what they are doing there but there is a lot to be said for minding one's own business.

DEAR ABBY: My little daughter-in-law is the sweetest child and I love her dearly, but I wish I could tell her NOT to TRY SO HARD when she invites Dad and me to dinner. She wants everything to be "just so," which I think is commendable, but the poor little thing knocks herself out, and I feel guilty for having made her work so hard.

I wouldn't embarrass her for the world by going into her kitchen to "help" her, but believe me, she could use some help. When we arrive, she's in the kitchen struggling with five or six different kinds of hot hors d'oeuvres, and during dinner she's either in the kitchen or jumping around "serving" us. I wish I could tell her if she'd just throw some hamburgers on the grill, slice a few tomatoes and open up a quart of ice cream for dessert, we'd love it. But no, she insists on making the most complicated dishes which require hours of time and tremendous effort.

How can a mother-in-law tell her sweet new daughter-in-law that she'd rather have her company and simple food than the most elaborate meal in the world? She reads your column.

NO NAME, PLS.
DEAR NO NAME: She can't. But since you brought it up, many older, experienced women can also learn this lesson. When a guest accepts an invitation to dinner, he wants to find a HOSTESS — not a "GHOSTESS."

Simple food served in a relaxed atmosphere is enjoyed far more than the most elegant gourmet fare offered by a worn out, fretful, nervous wreck who has obviously slaved for hours.

If she reads my column, I hope she doesn't miss this one. DEAR ABBY: I have heard that it is perfectly proper for a gentleman to visit his fiancée in her apartment for dinner, watching TV, or listening to stereo. But a lady may not visit her fiancée in HIS apartment for the same reasons.

We are a widow and widower in our late fifties (if age is any yardstick). We have no parents

DEAR WONDERING: Since there is nothing you can do in your apartment that you can't do in hers, I think you should go on doing what you're doing.

If the Shoe Fits

BY LARRY AVERETTE

Are you not exaggerating the problem of fitting shoes?

Sometimes I think that I may be over-enthusiastic about the subject but I have a defense against such thinking.

Newspapers frequently carry stories of cab drivers who pinch-hit creditably for doctors at the birth of a baby. "Mother and child are doing fine." Do we exaggerate the role of the doctor in maternity cases? There probably are many instances when the doctor has little to do during a delivery, but can you visualize the chaos if doctors turned all maternity cases over to cab drivers or lawyers or teachers or students.

Selling shoes has always been a job to which anyone can turn when pleasant jobs are not to be had, but selling shoes and being a shoefitter are as different as clerking in a drug store and being a pharmacist.

Federal Cuts Are Felt At Home

Part of the price congressmen are paying for cutbacks ordered in federal spending is complaints from back home as cutbacks begin to take their effect in home districts.

A couple of weeks ago the Navy made its initial cuts by deciding to put 50 ships in mothballs and to close down eight naval air squadrons. Last week the Pentagon announced the closing down of 23 missile batteries in 12 states. In the weeks ahead there are certain to come other announcements of cutbacks in spending for the military and in other federal operations as well.

Each of these announcements, while gaining a nod of approval from the public as a whole, is certain to bring outcries from localities immediately affected by the reductions in spending. Sooner or later these reductions will be felt in practically every community around the country. What reaction develops as the pinch is felt in various localities will determine whether the return to a sensible level of federal spending continues, or whether it is abandoned under pressure from back home.

It is natural to think, we suppose, that federal operation in other areas should be reduced, but those which are so important to our own community or area should not be touched.

Most Eastern North Carolinians probably have nodded approval of military reductions already ordered. Quite a different attitude is likely to make itself evident, however, if the curtailment in spending takes its toll of operations at Seymour Johnson Base, at Camp Lejeune, Fort Bragg, Cherry Point or the Voice of America operations here. If we aren't careful, many of us who have insisted upon reductions in federal spending may find ourselves singing a different tune then.

It is unrealistic for any state or community to imagine that the federal government will reduce its spending by more than $6 billion annually and that the impact will be felt only by citizens on the other side of the continent. If federal spending is to be returned to a reasonable level, the effort to accomplish the task must have support even where the result pinches a little.

East Warehousemen Made Wise Decision

Reluctant as they may have been to accept an August 26th opening date, warehousemen of the huge Eastern Belt have chosen the wise course in agreeing to the delay in opening of local markets.

By accepting a later opening date, warehousemen have helped assure that confusion and congestion will be kept to a minimum when the markets of the Eastern Belt do open. The extra days will provide time for purchasing companies to move buyers from Georgia-Florida markets into Eastern North Carolina. It will help prevent overwhelming congestion at processing plants which would have resulted from an opening date while large quantities of leaf were being sold in the Georgia-Florida belt.

The warehousemen have also taken a course which should mean that full sets of buyers will be available on markets throughout this belt. This should result in stronger competition for tobacco and higher prices for farmers. While the delay in the opening may mean that warehousemen will sell a little less tobacco in this belt than otherwise would have been the case, it is our judgment that the warehousemen have acted in the best interest of the industry as a whole. If they have done this, they have also acted in their own best interest in the long run.

Raven's Rock Is Beauty Spot

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
RALEIGH — It happened in North Carolina.

Raven's Rock on the Cape Fear River, not far from Raleigh, is a place of breathtaking sylvan beauty.

It is near the town of Lillington, in Harnett County, where the Cape Fear makes its bend and surge toward the sea before gushing through the heartland of the southeastern part of the state.

But few people know of Raven's Rock, nor of the possibilities it holds for a state park or urban recreation area.

There is a massive bluff overlooking a long stretch of river, flowing quietly and strongly, surrounded by trees and a dark forest.

the conservationists say and insist. The chairman of the state's Air and Water Resources Commission, J. Vivian Whitfield, agrees.

"We may not be able to have 100 per cent clean, pure water, not in all our streams, but we will have usable water, and it will be good water," says Whitfield.

Fishing? Well, North Carolina has plenty of fishing waters. A study shows there is more than 300,000 acres of fresh water fish habitat in this state and includes everything from pike and trout to striped bass.

It is hot and humid and the heat lays shimmering over the land in August.

Heat waves roll across the dry, blistering fields of tobacco, vegetable or cotton. Farmers mop their brow and watch the sky. In late afternoon the dark clouds gather. There may be rain, but too late. The crops already are drought-stricken and gone. Drought has taken its toll.

But August is a time of summer harvest, or ripening crops from the stalks and vines. It is hot weather of course, but no one minds when tobacco is in the barn and there are auctions on the warehouse floors. It means money will be coming in. Tobacco auction time is money time in most of North Carolina.

The Rockingham - Hamlet Airport has new lighting installed, enabling landings of large commercial aircraft and small jets. It is the final phase of an improvement program including the paving of the main runway and expansion of the airport's aprons.

With the new lighting and improvements, the facility is now open for 24 hour a day service. Previously, it had been necessary for larger aircraft to go to Fayetteville or even more distant airports.

Litterbugs Are Most Expensive

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Litterbugs aren't merely nuisances. They're expensive. The cost of picking up the debris they leave on highways, beaches, park sites and other public property adds half a billion dollars annually to the nation's tax bill.

On the other hand, a nagging wife can sometimes save you money. By bawling you out she may herself avoid getting an expensive ailment—arthritis. Many psychiatrists believe that women who bottle up their emotions and brood about their woes are particularly susceptible to arthritis.

Quotable notables: "Years wrinkle the skin, but to give up enthusiasm wrinkles the soul." —Samuel Ullman.

Prosperity note: About 30 per cent of U. S. families now have yearly incomes of $10,000 a year or more.

Safety tip: Don't try to change a tire in one of the busy lanes of a modern expressway. If you do, Illinois State Police warn, your life expectancy is just 29 minutes.

Wasted power: Few sights in nature are more awesome and terrifying than a great forest fire. These flaming storms can unleash every two minutes as much energy as is released by the explosion of a 20-kiloton atomic bomb—or 20,000 tons of dynamite.

The more cars a family has, the more each vehicle is used. Families with two or more cars average 10,000 miles a car. Those with one car average 9,900.

A good wife is a good financial bargain. One study found that wives who don't hold outside jobs put in nearly 100 hours a week on their homemaking duties. If you could find any other woman who would work that hard or long for a minimum of $1.60 an hour—and you probably couldn't—she would cost you $160 a week.

The increasing use of computers is adding new words to our vocabulary. One is "nanosecond," the time it takes electricity traveling at 186,000 miles per second to go one foot. Another is "picasecond,"

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
DAILY DISCIPLINE

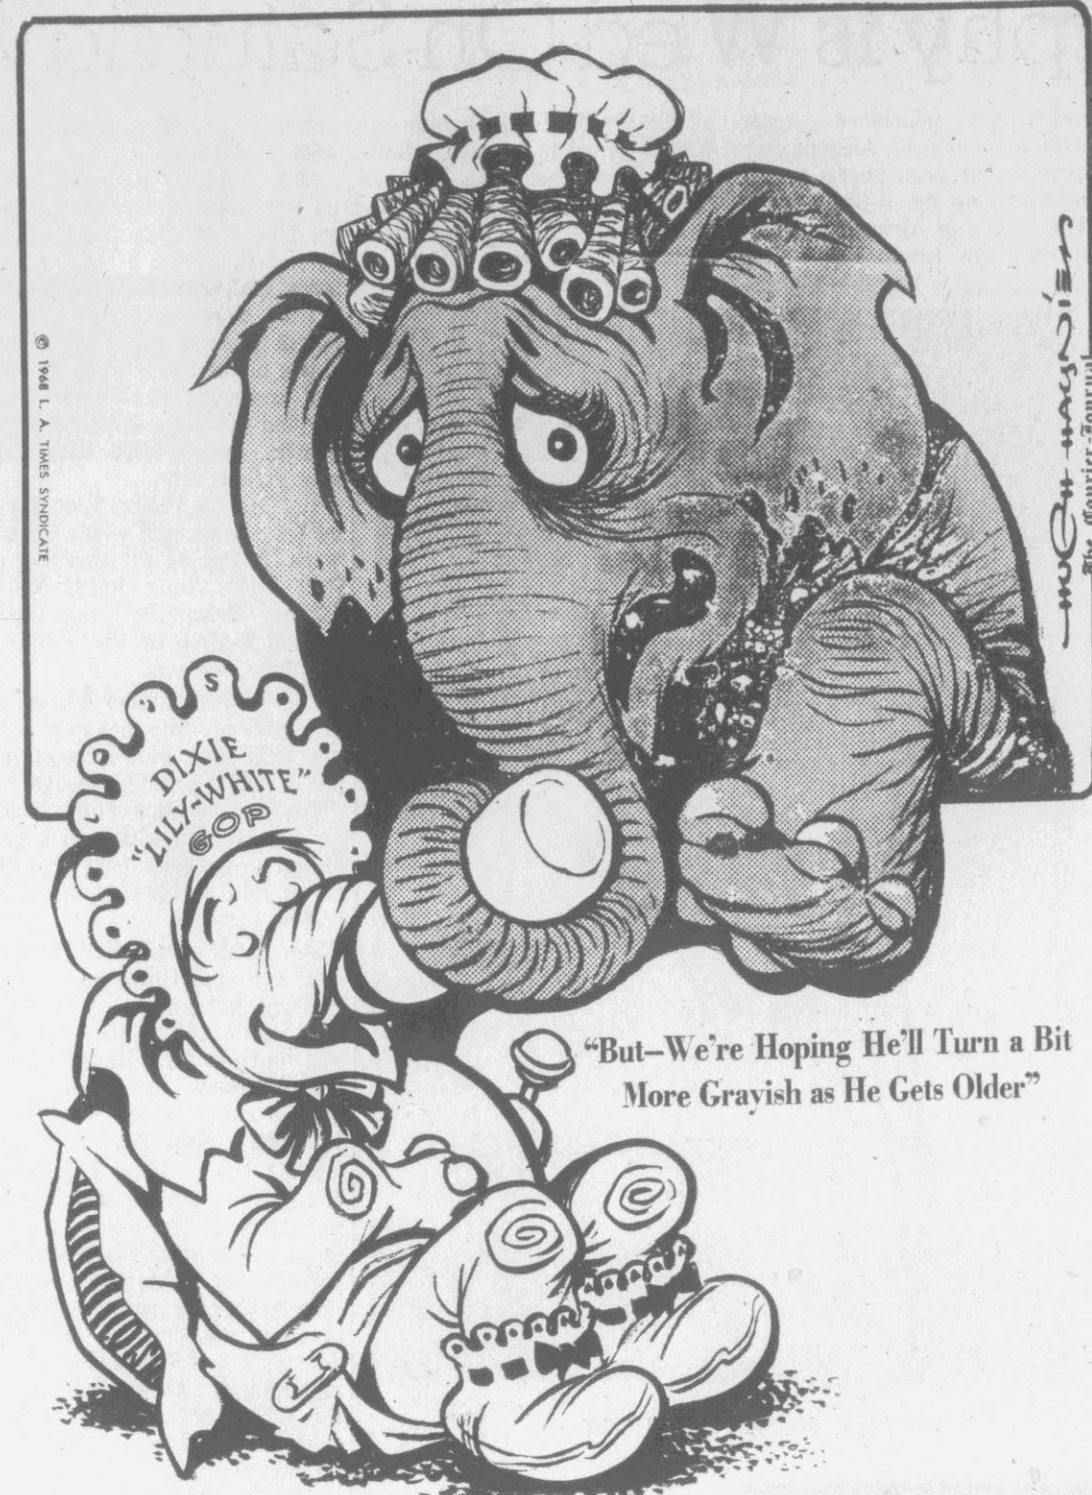

When Thomas Carlyle was told that Margaret Fuller, the New England intellectual had said, "I accept the universe," the gruff old philosopher grunted and said: "Gad, she'd better."

There are some things in this life we had better accept and get along, with as best we can. We may not like our features, our stature, our relatives or the color of our skin. But we had nothing to do with making these things as they are, and we can do nothing to change them. Submission in some cases is craven and cowardly. In many other cases an unwilling-ness to submit is both foolish and futile.

So it is wise for us to accept certain things we cannot change and make the best of them. They may irritate and irk us day in and day out, but there is nothing to do about them.

In fact, we can be pretty sure that God would have it so. One way He has evidently planned to train us is by seeing how happily and with what purpose we can live in a world where everything is not according to our taste. If everything went our way on all occasions we would probably not be happy. Variety lends spice to life and purpose to living.

Law And Order Sells

WASHINGTON — The largest manufacturer of political rhetoric in the United States is Hiram Thesaurus, with whom I was fortunate to talk at the Republican National Convention in Miami Beach last week.

Thesaurus was standing in front of one of his retail stands taking inventory, when I asked him, "How's business?"

"Great," he said. "All the rhetoric-makers expect 1968 to be the biggest year we've ever had. We got off to a good start at the Republican Convention, and there is no reason why we shouldn't do as well or better in Chicago."

"What item has been moving best?"

"Law and order" has been the biggest seller this year. We can't even keep the law and order rhetoric in stock. The minute it's put out on the counter, it's grabbed up."

"What else is selling?"

Other Editors Say The Price Was High

(Wilson Times)

Taxpayers called upon to cough up a 10 per cent federal income surtax were hardly cheered by a recent report that the abortive "Poor People's March" on the nation's capital cost them almost $2 million.

The price tag on the waste, destruction, and other government expense caused by the Rev. Ralph Abernathy's band of demonstrators was tallied earlier this month by Sen. Robert C. Byrd, West Virginia Democrat.

SCLC has been presented with a bill for $71,795 by the National Park Service which threatened a suit unless immediate payment is made. The $71,795 is just for the cost of dismantling the shantytown.

Sen. Byrd reported that the District of Columbia government alone spent $805,682, mostly for policing "Resurrection City," and for arresting, jailing and trying obstreperous marchers.

The Justice Department incurred expenses estimated at $476,533, (mostly for FBI investigations); Interior Department, $277,165 (including the $71,795 for which SCLC has been billed); Army Department, $86,179; General Service

Administration, $44,573, and Agriculture Department, $10,671 (the cost of surplus food donated to the demonstrators).

Sympathetic Washington officials required Abernathy's crowd to post a mere $5,000 bond against damages. The National Park Service has sold $5,500 worth of shantytown lumber to defray costs of repairing extensive damage to West Potomac Park, site of "Resurrection City." Thus, the government stands to recoup $10,500.

The taxpayers were not the only sufferers. Some observers have placed estimates as high as $50 million on the loss of tourist trade to Washington hotels and businesses because of disorders and threats of violence during the six-week siege of the national capital.

Rather than put the public to the additional expense of a lawsuit, the government probably should pocket the $10,500 realized through the bond forfeiture and lumber sale—and charge the remainder to experience. The chance of collecting any money from SCLC is even more remote than an early repeal of the 10 per cent tax surcharge.

"Peace at home and abroad" is a very big item. I don't think there's a politician running for office this year who hasn't bought at least one. "The crisis of the cities" is also moving very well, but the one that really surprised us was "a piece of the action." We made a few as samples, and before we knew it everyone was using it to describe what the minorities wanted. I sold one to Barry Goldwater, one to Sen. Brooke, and Nixon bought a gross from me wholesale. We've had so many orders on this one that a lot of politicians have to wait two weeks for delivery on it."

"How's the 'cry for new leadership' going?"

"That's been a smash down here, of course, but we were prepared for it. I'm not too sure how well it will do in Chicago, though we have had advance orders on it from the

Plans Wall St. Union

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — In a drab office on Liberty Street in the financial district, a young man who works as a pneumatic tubeman on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange, plans the unionization of brokerage houses.

John Kret, 29, who makes $150 plus bonuses for sending order slips to the proper people on the exchange floor, believes that brokerage house pay is poor, that the stress of long hours is outrageous, that seniority must be better rewarded and that pensions need to be established.

Sitting before charts that showed a rising volume of stock trading, Kret, a clean-cut, crew-cut young man picked up a ringing telephone. "No, not as many returns this time," he told the caller. "But they're sincere. Not so many pranks, you know."

Twice this summer Kret and his crew have stood at subways and restaurants and street corners passing out enrollment forms for the United Financial Employees Local 205, AFL-CIO.

On August 1 they handed out 8,000 applications. On August 8 they passed out another 7,000 to 8,000. By August 13 they had 600 to 700 returns and expected more to come in. In addition, a dozen letters were mailed in.

Kret and his union brothers feel they are in a strong position because of the huge volume of trading in recent months, trading that has caused lower level employees to work long hours under pressure in a generally unpleasant environment.

This overtime has meant big checks and large bonuses, but Kret would like to see the salaries rise without so much overtime. "A lot of the overtime is mandatory; try not to accept it," he said. "And the bonuses aren't that great."

Although some clerks double their weekly pay these days, Kret maintains that most of the clerks are getting a base pay of $70 or $75, an estimate that brokerage house officials generally feel is a bit low.

The Office and Professional Employees International Union is backing Kret financially and morally. "If the international feels the response is good it will come down with something more," Kret says.

What would a good response be? "If we can get 1,000 or 1,500 signed up. I think if we could get one house—even with 50 or 60 people—the international would jump for joy. It would be a foot in the door."

A representative of the investment community, a man whose job it is to be aware of attitudes on Wall Street, said he sympathized with the clerks but wondered if they'd get very far with their campaign.

He commented on the upward mobility of young men in Wall Street, how a lot of partners once started as clerks and messengers: He reminded his listener that some houses help pay their clerks' night school tuition.

"There's a certain knack that can only be learned by working at it," he said. It means, he indicated, learning to be quick, alert, enthusiastic. "The brokerage houses need these fellows," he said.

Said Kret: "It's not what you know but who you know." A lot of the young clerks, he indicated, aren't likely to catch the eye of a senior partner, aren't likely to get those breaks that Wall Street oldtimers love to tell about.

Sees No General Interest Cut

By ELMER ROESSNER
The government has succeeded in borrowing some money at slightly lower rates and rates on some bank loans to prime risks have been shaved. But a general cut in interest rates is not in sight.

Rates are controlled by the Federal Reserve's discount rate, the rate at which banks borrow from Federal Reserve banks. The Fed boosted the rate to 5 1/2 per cent in an effort to check inflation. Then Congress, to check inflation further, passed the income surtax and ordered a cut in federal spending.

So far, none of these actions have been effective. Wages and prices have continued to rise and the purchasing power of the dollar has continued to crumble. Some projected private spending has been cut back but inflation continues very largely unchecked. A cut in the interest rate now would make inflation worse than ever.

Vanishing Economy
The economies in government decreed by Congress are melting away. As Charles J. Zwick, director of the Budget Bureau, has pointed out, the cut of 250,000 jobs ordered by Congress is being rescinded, bit by bit, by Congress itself.

their own jobs are at stake in the November election. more To Come More To Come

Here are more look-aheads in business:

Solar - groove siding: The Department of Agriculture is developing plans for what it calls "solar - groove siding." It is a wood siding for homes so grooved that the bottom surface faces the sun in summer and the upper surface in winter. Bottom surfaces will be painted with a reflecting coating, the upper surface with a heat - absorbent coating. Thus, it will tend to keep the house cool in summer, warm in winter.

Compression lens: Soon on the market will be a compression lens for photographing newspaper pages for offset printing. It photographs material 6 per cent smaller, thus permitting use of 30-inch paper instead of paper 32-inches wide. The lens fits all processing cameras now in use. (By CK Optical Co., 419 N. Ellis Ave., Inglewood, Calif. 90302.)

Sweeter corn: Because many consumers have been complaining that corn isn't as sweet as it used to be, the Department of Agriculture is developing varieties that contain more sugar.

Bubble Curtain Planned To Keep Water Clean

A curtain of bubbles will soon be rising off Southfield Beach at West Stamford, Conn. It's an experiment intended to keep pollution out of the bathing area. Pipe has already been laid on the sea floor for what has been called "Project Bubble." Air will rise from the pipe to speed the decomposition of human waste and bacteria.

The project is sponsored by the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration, which has put $280,000 of tax money into it. The remainder, $120,000, has been put up by the National Pollution Control Administration. Work is directed by American Machine & Foundry Co.

Endorse Sanford For Vice Pres.

RALEIGH (AP) — The Executive Committee of North Carolina Young Democrats has endorsed former Gov. Terry Sanford for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

The committee Saturday unanimously approved a resolution sponsored by state YDC National Committeeman Graham Bell of Dallas.

The resolution noted Sanford has been mentioned recently for the vice presidential nomination.

It described Sanford as one of the "truly great governors of North Carolina" and added that "no potential candidate is more qualified to be vice president or

Says Entry To 'Boost Cause'

CHARLOTTE (AP) — The North Carolina campaign manager for third party presidential candidate George Wallace says Georgia Gov. Lester Maddox's entry into the race for the Democratic nomination "is a boost for our cause."

Reid Stubbs of Charlotte said Saturday night that Maddox's decision to seek the Democratic presidential nomination "will help the campaign of Gov. Wallace."

Stubbs said the Maddox announcement "is another protest against the ultra-left wing of the party. Gov. Maddox will sap strength away from the original candidates."

He referred to Vice President Hubert Humphrey, Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., and Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D.

Stubbs added: "The Maddox announcement is just another indication in the basic split in political philosophy between the thoroughbred Democrats and the mavericks who have taken control of the party. This nation actually has only one party with one branch calling itself Republican and the other Democrat. We are now giving the people a second choice."

But, he said, "the times challenge us to make our cities not only habitable but happy." He said ghetto buildings must be replaced with "good low - cost housing" and the unemployed should be trained for jobs.

Says Devotion Inspired Rebels

ERWIN, N. C. (AP) — Devotion to duty as they understood it inspired soldiers of the Confederacy to fight as bravely as they did, U. S. Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N. C., said Sunday. As he dedicated a monument to North Carolinians who fought in the battle of Aversboro in the closing days of the Civil War, Ervin posed this question:

"What inspired these men to fight so bravely, always against great odds and often times unto death?"

The senator said the assertion that they fought to maintain slavery "does not suffice to answer the question."

"Most of them," he said, "did not own or expect to own a single slave. Indeed, few of them had any material stake whatsoever in the victory of the Confederacy."

In answering his question, Ervin quoted Dr. Randolph McKim, a veteran of Gettysburg who wrote the words engrave on a monument to the Confederate dead in Arlington Cemetery. McKim wrote:

"Not for fame or reward, not for place or for rank, not lured by ambition or goaded by necessity, but in simple devotion to duty as they understood it, these men suffered all, sacrificed all, dared all and died."

McCarthy people.

"In the manufacture of political rhetoric, do you design your own phrases or do you just copy what's been used before?"

"Both. We have the standard rhetoric items such as 'fiscal responsibility' and 'politics of expediency' which the politicians use every four years. But we also have to come up with new rhetoric which will catch the ear of the voter."

"Such as?"

"Well, as you remember, in 1964 a lot of political rhetoric was aimed against the press. This year we've designed rhetoric which will attack the Supreme Court. You can't imagine what a demand there is this year for 'coddling the criminals.' Another one which we came up with is 'Let's not ask what is wrong with America, but what's right with America.'"

"I see you have one there on the counter titled 'Tell it like it is.'"

"That's been selling like mad, almost as well as 'a man for our time.' Another big surprise is our 'erosion' kit. It comes in a set: 'erosion of the cities,' 'erosion of the dollar,' 'erosion of moral values' and 'erosion of America's prestige abroad.' We've also been doing well with 'rebuilding the urban and slum areas' and 'facing up to the challenges and responsibilities of the disenfranchised.'"

As we were talking, a politician came up with his campaign manager and said, "Do you have any more 'new and dynamic leadership' rhetoric?"

"Yes, sir," Thesaurus said. "How are you fixed for 'excessive federal spending'?"

"Give me whatever you've got. Do you have any rhetoric on the 'Pueblo'?"

"We're running a special on 'a fourth - rate military power humiliating the most powerful nation in the world.'"

"I'll take two."

"Right. Now what about one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all?"

"No," said the politician. "I don't want to lose the South in my campaign."

Harold Painter Household Is Filled With Joy

BROOKDALE, Calif. (AP) — The Harold Painter household was filled with joy today because 10-year-old Mark Painter's grandmother in Iowa has said he can stay here with his father and new mother.

"There's no way to tell you how happy this makes us all," said Harold Painter, Mark's father, foreseeing the peaceful end to a long custody battle over the boy.

Painter, a writer-photographer who lives in this Santa Cruz Mountain village 50 miles south of San Francisco, said he had heard Sunday from the Rev. Clay Lumpkins of Gilbert, Iowa, pastor to Mark's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Bannister of Ames.

The Rev. Mr. Lumpkins visited the Painters here last week to ask the boy whether he wanted to stay on with his father or return to his grandparents in Iowa.

The custody struggle began after the death in 1962 of Mark's mother, the daughter of the Bannisters. Painter sent the baby to them, then remarried and sought to get the boy back.

The case went to the Iowa Supreme Court, which ruled the boy would be better off in the "stable, dependable, conventional middle-class Middle West home" of the Bannisters than in Painter's "romantic, impractical, unstable and arty" environment which it described as "Bohemian and probably intellectually stimulating."

This summer Mark came west to spend his usual vacation with his father. He said he liked it here, wanted to stay and didn't want to go back to Iowa.

Painter meanwhile got a Santa Cruz court to issue a temporary order assigning him custody, with a hearing set for Aug. 28 to determine whether it should be permanent. He argued that the Bannisters, both now 63, have undergone "changes in the mental and

SNIPER VICTIMS . . . body of Vincent Maher lies slumped in seat of Long Island Railroad car as police aid

Sniper Kills Passenger On Long Island Train

NEW YORK (AP) — A sniper fired into a moving Long Island Rail Road train early Sunday, killing one passenger and wounding another with a single shot.

Within a half-hour after the predawn shooting police picked up 16-year-old John Whitmore, of Long Island City, Queens. The youth was quoted as saying he had fired at three LIRR trains "just for the whim of it."

Police said the fatal shot, from a .30-06-caliber sawed-off rifle, was fired from a sandy embankment near a railroad trestle. The bullet hit Vincent Maher in the neck and Gabriel Jansen in the elbow.

After the shooting the train sped on to Pennsylvania Station in Manhattan. Maher, 31, an ele-

Pope Prepares For A Journey

By PATRICK O'KEEFE
Associated Press Writer

VATICAN CITY (AP) — With doctors certifying his good health, 70-year-old Pope Paul VI prepared today for his longest journey since he became pontiff in June 1963.

At dawn Thursday, the Pope will board a plane for a 12-hour flight to Bogota, the Colombian capital situated 8,860 feet high in the Eastern Andes Mountains.

The pontiff will attend the 39th international Eucharistic Congress being held in Bogota, ablaze with decorations for the historic event. He journeyed to the last congress in Bombay, India in December 1964.

Pope Paul expressed hope Sunday that the Congress would help alleviate the misery of Latin America's poor and oppressed.

The pontiff said he was hopeful that it would generate an intensive effort "that would invite the well-off, the developed peoples and economic and political authorities to resolve the two grave situations, of fixed authorities on one side, and intense misery on the other."

Speaking at his summer residence, Castel Gandolfo, south of Rome, the pontiff expressed his concern for poverty one week after a group of young Roman Catholic priests and laymen barricaded themselves in the main cathedral of Santiago, Chile, to protest what they called the Church's alliance with the rich against the poor.

The demonstrators said that elaborate plans for the papal visit to Bogota exemplified wasteful spending of funds that would better have gone to the poor.

The Pope said he looked forward to meeting the Colombian poor. He is expected to talk with the country's peasants Friday morning, the day after he arrives in Bogota for the sixth trip outside Italy during his reign.

It has been one year since the pontiff fell ill because of a prostate condition. He underwent surgery last Nov. 8 for removal of an inflamed prostate and did not resume his normal activities until Dec. 8. As recently as Easter, he still looked tired, but in the past few weeks he has seemed fit and vigorous.

In July leftist newspapers hinted that the pontiff was still not well enough to endure the trip to Bogota. Papal doctors denied the stories, saying the Pope's health was fine.

Pope Paul, his aides and many journalists accompanying him on the three-day trip, have undergone a special physical examination, with emphasis on the heart, because of Bogota's high altitude.

As far as is known however the Pope has never had trouble with his heart.

In Bogota, a special envoy of the Pope opened the congress Sunday with a plea for world social and economic justice.

Giacomo Cardinal Lercaro told an open-air audience of nearly 100,000 persons that those who shoulder "civilian responsibilities" must work toward "an equitable distribution of riches."

Speed urged creation of the clinics in a speech Saturday night to the annual Safety Conference of the Council of Safety Supervisors of the North Carolina Motor Carriers Association.

Speed presented the council's 1968 Truck Safety Trophy to Johnson Motor Lines, Inc., of Charlotte.

Carolina Freight Carriers Corp. of Cherryville was first runner-up and Akers Motor Lines Inc. of Gastonia was second runner-up.

White Porpoise Netted Off S.C.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A white porpoise, successor to the Carolina Snowball, has been netted in South Carolina coastal waters off Beaufort for the Miami Seaquarium.

The porpoise was sighted several weeks ago and was sought as a replacement for the albino porpoise caught in the same waters six years ago, named Carolina Snowball and sometimes called Peaches.

That one died three years ago.

The new one is tentatively known as the white porpoise of St. Helena, S. C., Sound. Colleton, S. C., County shrimp William Baldwin and Capt. Emil Hanson caught it Sunday after a two-week hunt.

It was taken from Beaufort to Walterboro, S. C., and flown to Miami.

A spokesman said the new catch is two years old. Snowball died of old age and various diseases.

Durocher, Regan Lose In Vaseline Dispute

By HAL BOCK

Label this file The Case of the Sticky Fingered Vulture or Where Did This Bird Get All That Goopy Stuff?

Chief sleuth in the caper is umpire Chris Pelekoudas, who claims he found the incriminating evidence... vaseline... on the cap of the suspect, Slippery Phil Regan—alias the vulture—who works with that gang from Chicago.

The main defense attorney is Leo Durocher, an eloquent speaker. His able assistants are Randy Hundley and Al Spangler, two other members of the Chicago gang, who call themselves the Cubs.

All three lawyers were ejected protesting Regan's innocence, and the Cubs lost the ball game, 2-1 to Cincinnati Sunday. The Reds also took the second game of the doubleheader, 6-3, extending their winning streak to six games.

In other National League games, St. Louis pounded Atlanta 10-1, Philadelphia tripped San Francisco 5-3, Pittsburgh dropped Los Angeles 5-1 and New York split a doubleheader with Houston, winning 8-1 before losing 5-2.

In the American League, Boston dropped Detroit 4-1, Baltimore rapped Minnesota 7-1, California downed Washington 6-4, New York defeated Oakland 7-5 in 10 innings and Chicago swept a doubleheader from Cleveland 4-2 and 8-1.

The Regan fuss erupted in the seventh inning of the first game against the Reds when the veteran reliever came in to face pinch hitter Mack Jones. With the count 1-2 on Jones, Pelekoudas went to the mound to warn Regan about illegal pitches and changed the count to 3-1.

Durocher rushed to his pitcher's defense and the umpire and manager compromised on a 2-2 count. Then Jones apparently flied out but Pelekoudas nullified the play, ruling another illegal pitch and giving Jones another swing.

Now Durocher argued again and the umpires demanded a towel to wipe off the inside of Regan's cap. Durocher and Spangler, who interjected his thoughts from the bench, were both thumbed out and Jones finally grounded out.

In the ninth inning Pete Rose apparently struck out against Regan but again Pelekoudas nullified the out and gave the batter another swing. This time Rose singled and Hundley, the Cubs' catcher, was ejected.

"We found vaseline on his cap," charged Pelekoudas. "His ball was sinking without spinning. A sinker spins. An illegal pitch breaks down without any spin."

Regan was indignant at the charge. "The umpires are taking my livelihood away from me," he said. "I'm going to court about this."

Cincinnati power made the difference in both games. Tony Perez' fourth-inning homer won the first game with brilliant ninth inning relief by Clay Carroll saving it for George Culver. Perez, Rose, Fred Whitfield and Alex Johnson all homered in the nightcap.

Roger Maris and Orlando Cepeda tagged two hits apiece in a nine-run first inning explosion that carried the Cardinals past Atlanta. Mike Shannon had four straight hits for St. Louis and Ray Washburn breezed to his 11th victory.

Cepeda and Phil Gagliano drove in two runs each in the big first inning after an error by shortstop Marty Martinez opened the gates.

Boros Too Relaxed To Have Any Nerves

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — Watching him play, all loose and relaxed and smooth-swinging, you'd think there wasn't a nerve, not a one, in Julius Boros' middle-aged, overweight body.

Not so, admitted Big Julie after surviving a five-man scramble Sunday and nailing down the $50,000 first prize in the $250,000 Westchester Classic Golf Tournament, the richest on the pro tour.

"I know what it looks like," the 48-year-old Boros said. "But I get the flutters sometimes, just like anybody else. There are times out there when I get excited."

Boros, who became the oldest man to win the Professional Golfers' Association championship earlier this year, came from three strokes off the pace with a final round 68, four-under-par for the tight, 6-648-yard Westchester Country Club course, and finished with a 72-hole total of 272.

Jack Nicklaus, defending champion and seeking his third consecutive tour victory, veteran Dan Sikes and red-headed Bob Murphy, the rookie who led all of the first three rounds, finished in a tie for second, at 273. Nicklaus had a closing 66, Sikes a 68 and the obviously nervous Murphy a par 72. They picked up $20,416.66 apiece.

Billy Casper, who was in the thick of it all before fading, was alone in fifth place with a 67 for 275.

Boros, 20 pounds overweight and at times bothered by an ailing back, increased his yearly earnings to $144,357, and started thinking about the tax man.

"I've got to pay my third quarter estimate in September," he mused after noting that it wasn't his biggest payday.

"I won a $50,000 first prize in a world championship they used to have, back in 1955. And I played 56 exhibitions at $1,000 a shot. So that brought me $106,000."

"I was telling my wife the

Pearson Richer After Western

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP) — David Pearson of Spartanburg, S. C., is $3,500 richer today after winning Sunday's 11th Annual Western North Carolina 500 race at the Asheville-Weaver-Ville Speedway.

Pearson started on the front row in his 1968 Ford, averaging 73.676 miles an hour to take the lion's share of the $18,895 purse.

Runnerup Bobby Isaac of Catawba, stayed three laps behind in the 250-mile race in his 1967 Dodge.

There were seven caution flags for a total of 90 laps and Pearson led from the 150th lap.

Oilers Find Saint Snag For One Point Triumph

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

There was a snag in the New Orleans Saints' defensive blanket. Houston quarterback Pete Beathard found it and unraveled the cover with his feet.

With Houston trailing 23-17 and only 56 seconds remaining in the game at the Astrodome, Beathard went back to pass. But his receivers were given blanket coverage.

So, Beathard forgot about his arm and concentrated on his footwork to ramble through a hole for six yards and the tying touchdown. Sid Blanks then ran around right end for the extra point, giving the Oilers of the American Football League a 24-23 victory over the National Football League Saints.

In Sunday's only other exhibition, the Cleveland Browns battered the San Francisco 49ers 31-17 in a meeting of NFL clubs.

The results of a busy Saturday night schedule:

Dallas, NFL, trounced Los Angeles, NFL, 42-10; Miami, AFL, pounded Philadelphia, NFL, 23-7; Pittsburgh, NFL, edged San Diego, AFL, 36-33; New York, NFL, nipped Atlanta, NFL, 17-13; Kansas City, AFL, outlasted St. Louis, NFL, 13-10; Minnesota, NFL, walked Denver, AFL, 39-16; Buffalo, AFL, topped Cincinnati, AFL, 10-6; and New York, AFL, thrashed Boston, AFL, 25-6.

The weekend's activity ends Monday night with an NFL game between the Green Bay Packers and the Chicago Bears in Milwaukee, Wis.

The nationally televised game (CBS at 9:30 p.m., EDT) will be the first meeting of the old rivals under their new coaches—Jim Dooley for the Bears and Phil Bengston for the Packers.

Once again the Packers will have to worry about stopping the running of Chicago's brilliant Gale Sayers, while the Bears will have to contain the machine-like Packer offense directed by Bart Starr.

New Orleans built up a 23-7 lead on Bill Kilmer's two touchdowns passes, Don McCall's touchdown run and Charlie Durkee's field goal. Kilmer's attempted pass for a conversion after his second touchdown toss failed. touchdown in the final period came on a 39-yard run by Ken Houston with a pass interception, and it was followed by John Wittenborn's 47-yard field goal.

Frank Ryan threw a first period scoring pass and Bill Nelson, obtained from Pittsburgh, hit on two in the second half in leading Cleveland to victory. George Mira, who had two passes intercepted to set up Cleveland touchdowns, threw for one of San Francisco's scores.

Don Meredith threw two 58-yard touchdown passes in the first quarter for Dallas, and Los Angeles never recovered as the Rams suffered their first exhibition loss after 11 straight pre-season victories.

Philadelphia not only lost its game to Miami, it also lost seven players to injuries. Running back Harry Jones dislocated and fractured his left collarbone and will be out from eight to 12 weeks, and middle linebacker Dave Lloyd cracked two ribs and is expected to be out for three weeks. The other injuries were less serious.

Minnesota also lost Gary Cuozzo for at least next Saturday's game against Philadelphia. The quarterback jammed his left shoulder late in the first half in the Vikings' victory over Denver.

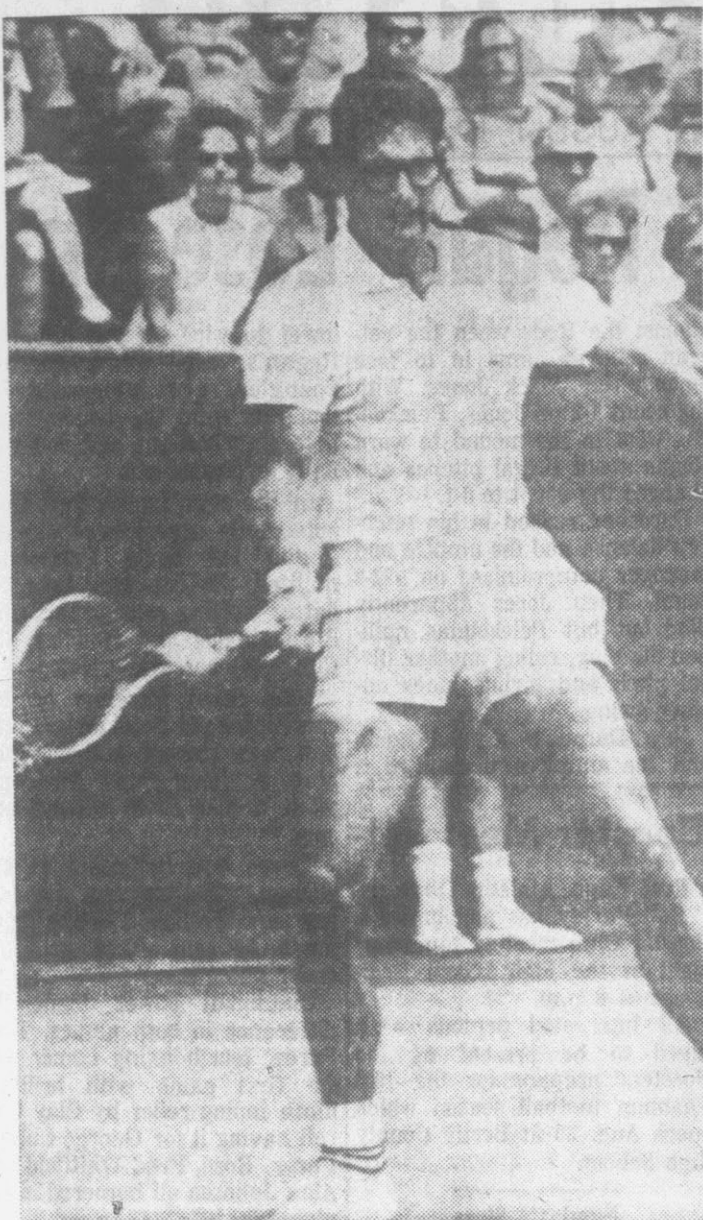

Baltimore fans got some good news Sunday when the NFL Colts announced they had persuaded halfback Timmy Brown to play this season. Brown, obtained from Philadelphia for whom he had played eight seasons, had said he wanted to devote full time to an acting career.

U.S. Team Remembers Barcelona

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CLEVELAND (AP) — "Remember Barcelona!" and the American Davis Cup team did. Uncle Sam sank the Spanish tennis Armada Sunday, winning the crucial interzone series and becoming highly favored to sail on and capture the coveted Cup in Australia in December.

The Americans last accomplished this mission in 1963. And it looked as if they were on their way again in 1965. But in Barcelona, the Spaniards squeaked them 4-1. They never forgot it. Powerful Clark Graebner, Wimbledon semifinalist and National Clay Courts champion this year, fired the deciding broadside Sunday.

He defeated Juan Gisbert, 26-year-old Barcelona attorney, 9-7, 6-3, 6-1 in the climactic first singles engagement that cinched the best-of-5 interzone series for the U.S., 3-1.

The final score, however, must await today's delayed outcome of the match between Arthur Ashe, on loan from the Army, against Spain's superstar Manuel Santana. The two battled for 3 hours, 45 minutes to a deadlock Sunday before the match was halted by darkness.

Santana won the first set 13-11. Ashe, who ached a total of 26 times, took the next two 7-5 and 6-3. Then the 30-year-old Spaniard struggled to a 15-13 triumph in the 90-minute fourth set.

With one point being awarded for each match victory, it remains for the Santana-Ashe affair to decide if the U.S. takes the series 4-1 or 3-2.

Both team captains, Jaime Bartolli of Spain and Don Dell of the U.S., said that although the last match was anticlimactic the pride of the countries as well as that of the players was involved. Spain was the big hurdle in the American's road to Australia, whose team is decimated by its big stars turning professional.

The U.S. swept past British West Indies, Mexico and Ecuador with 5-0 triumphs. In the interzone lineup, the Americans now must wait until India plays Japan in Tokyo Sept. 21-23, with the survivor advancing within the following two weeks to face West Germany in Munich.

That winner then will meet the Americans, who can choose the site of the match. Most prominently mentioned are Phoenix, Ariz., Honolulu, San Juan, Puerto Rico, and Los Angeles.

After that, the winner challenges the Aussies for the cup in Adelaide.

Pizarro, Red Sox Willing To Sacrifice To Cage Runaway Detroit Tigers Sunday

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The bunting game is something Detroit might be able to do without, but Juan Pizarro and the Boston Red Sox are ready and willing to make sacrifices...anytime they help cage the runaway Tigers.

The Red Sox, losers Saturday in a 10-9 struggle that turned on a pair of botched Detroit bunts, put on their own bunting exhibition Sunday in trimming the Tigers 4-1 behind left-hander Pizarro.

Three perfectly executed sacrifice bunts, including a go-ahead squeeze by Pizarro, helped the Red Sox salvage the finale of a three-game series as Detroit's American League lead slipped to seven games over second place Baltimore.

The Orioles whipped Minnesota 7-1 on Frank Robinson's slugging: the New York Yankees strolled past Oakland 7-5 in 10 innings; Tommy John and Joe Horlen hurled the Chicago White Sox to a 4-2, 8-1 doubleheader sweep over Cleveland, and California downed Washington 6-4 despite Frank Howard's 35th homer in other AL games. Cincinnati swept a National League twin bill from Chicago 2-1 and 6-3; Houston split a pair with New York, taking the nightcap 5-2 after an 8-1 setback; St. Louis trounced Atlanta 10-1; Philadelphia swatted San Francisco 5-3, and Pittsburgh trimmed Los Angeles 5-1. Bill Freehan's 11th inning homer beat Boston Saturday, nullifying a gallant comeback by the Red Sox. But they felt they'd been the victims of two Detroit bunts that didn't come off.

In the eighth, reliever Sparky Lyle grabbed Al Kaline's bunt on the fly, but threw the ball away trying to double Mickey Stanley off first base. Stanley took second on the error and scored on Norm Cash's single, giving Detroit a 9-8 lead.

Ken Harrelson pulled the Red Sox even with a ninth inning homer, but Freehan connected with two out in the 10th after Willie Horton flubbed a bunt attempt and then rapped into a double play.

"It's ironic," said Boston Manager Dick Williams, "but if Horton had sacrificed, Freehan would have never had a chance to hit. With first base open and a light hitter like Ray Oyler coming up next I'd have forced their hand by intentionally walking him."

The clubs were knotted again, at 1-1, in the seventh inning Sunday when Joe Foy doubled and Russ Gibson bunted him to third. With a 3-2 count on Pizarro, Foy broke for the plate and the pitched dropped a bunt toward second base, giving the Tigers no chance for a play at home.

Mike Andrews then drew a walk and Dalton Jones belted a home run, making it 4-1. Andrews failed to hit safely for the first time in 10 games, but his sacrifice bunt in the third moved Pizarro, who had walked, to second and Carl Yastrzemski delivered a two-out single for Boston's first run.

Pizarro checked the Tigers on four hits, including Horton's 28th homer, on the way to his fifth victory in nine decisions. The Orioles flattened Minnesota behind rookie Dave Leonhard, who scattered seven hits, as Frank Robinson drove in four runs with a single, a double and his 11th homer. Mark Belanger's two-run double in the third inning gave Leonhard, 6-5, a 2-0 lead and Robinson took it from there.

Lew Krausse, the sixth Oakland pitcher, walked Rocky Colavito and Frank Fernandez

It looks like a $6,000 sports machine. (The body's an original Italian design.) But it carries a modest Volkswagen price tag.

$2254 And that includes the 4-speed stick shift and front-wheel disc brakes. (They're not part of an optional sports package. They're part of the car.)

The Ghia scrimps and saves on gas. You should get up to 28 mpg. And when it comes to service, it goes to a VW dealer. No costly tune-ups. No temperamental parts to coddle. (We treat it like a VW because, underneath, that's what it is.)

You might say the Karmann Ghia is for people who want everything for their children.

And just a little something for themselves.

Wilkinson Choice For New PGA Head

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bud Wilkinson, former Oklahoma football coach and former U.S. Senate candidate, is the man the pro tournament golfers want to run their organization.

The handsome Oklahoman, now a business executive and part-time television announcer, may be tapped for the post today when the touring players announce the plans and format of their new set-up in competition to the Professional Golfers Association.

Wilkinson could not be reached immediately for comment.

Several golfers say they think he is receptive.

His new position would be that of commissioner of big time tournament golf.

Both the PGA and the players who announced last week that they planned to break away from the parent organization and run their own tour have called press conferences to present their case.

The PGA gets first crack at a midtown newsroom where too

PGA brass—President Max Elbin, secretary Leo Fraser, executive director Bob Cray and the new tour manager, Joe Black—will be in attendance.

The players' New York attorney, Sam Gates, will preside at a later press conference at the midtown offices of Nat Fields, who has acted as public relations consultant for the touring pros.

Gates has promised that the players will divulge at this time the name of the new organization, its framework and its aims.

Greenville's 20 Warehouses, 8 Firms Ready

By W. L. WHEDBEE

Greenville operates five sets of buyers simultaneously, every sales day, over its warehouse floors.

There are 20 tobacco warehouses and eight warehouse firms in Greenville. The largest one of these warehouse floors alone covers over 11 acres.

The floor space in Greenville devoted exclusively to the sale and processing of leaf tobacco is well over three million square feet. Most of Greenville's warehouses have been mechanized since last year in order to greatly speed up the placing of the growers tobacco on the warehouse floors for sale.

F. Harding Sugg is President of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade and Carlton Dail is Vice President. W. L. Whedbee is Secretary and Supervisor.

The names of the owners and operators of the warehouse firms mentioned above are as follows:

Over A Million Dollars Per Day
It has not been uncommon in the past few years for the Greenville Market to pay out over a million dollars a day for the purchase of tobacco upon its warehouse floors. Daily sales have been as high as 2,353,592 pounds per day for $1,508,571.27, bought by Greenville's five sets of buyers.

Tobacco companies have invested millions of dollars in factories and storage warehouses, located in Greenville, to process the tremendous volume of quality leaf which is annually sold here.

Sales Supervisor

The Greenville Tobacco Market is fortunate in having outstanding tobacco men at the head of each of its buying companies located here. Here is a list of their respective presidents and branch managers: American Tobacco Company, Homer Compton, branch manager; Export Leaf Tobacco Company, Joe Gaston, branch manager; Carolina Leaf Tobacco Company, Inc., —E. B. Ficklen Tobacco Company Division, William B. Glenn, president; Greenville Tobacco Company, C. W. Howard, Jr., president; Imperial Tobacco Company, Ltd., Jesse R. Moye, Jr., Area Supervisor, Paul Dupree, Local Supervisor; International Tobacco Company, Inc., P. K. Andersen, president; Liggett and Myers Tobacco Company, Luther Pittman, branch manager; Person-Garrett Company, Inc., W. S. Bost, president; P. Lorillard Tobacco Company; and R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company.

The tobacco farmers in the area served by the Greenville Tobacco Market, knowing that the entire world-wide tobacco trade is placing 100 percent emphasis on quality tobacco have, in 1968, gone all out in their effort to produce tobacco which is outstanding for its quality, flavor and aroma.

The 1968 marketing season should see appearing upon Greenville's warehouse floors a great volume of high quality, fully matured, thoroughly useable tobacco, well suited for either domestic or foreign trade.

Area Has Good Crop Of Tobacco

By W. L. WHEDBEE
Secretary and Supervisor

The tobacco farmers in the area served by the Greenville Tobacco Market have an unusually good crop this year. Knowing that the entire world-wide tobacco trade is placing 100 per cent emphasis on quality tobacco, they have in 1968 gone all out in their efforts to produce which is outstanding for its quality, flavor and aroma.

78 Years Of Experience In The Production And Handling Of High Quality Leaf

They have had 78 years experience in the proper cultivation and handling of old line tobaccos. They are indeed experts in their field of producing high quality leaf.

1968 will see appearing upon the warehouse floors in Greenville large volumes of the much sought after varieties of tobacco cultivated by the old time cultural practices of proper topping, spacing, suckering, fertilization, grading and handling.

Both Quality And Quantity In Greenville

In 1968 the Greenville Tobacco Market will indeed be a prime source for all foreign and domestic manufacturers for the purchase of great quantities of standard mellow flue-cured tobacco, with rich clear color, desirable body and outstanding flavor and aroma.

110% Operation On Eastern Belt

RALEIGH (AP) — Markets of the big Eastern Belt will operate on a sales schedule 110 per cent of normal when they open their 1968 auction Aug. 26.

This was decided Saturday by the executive committee of the Bright Belt Warehouse Association.

The committee also decided to cut back sales on the South Carolina-Border Belt to 90 per cent of normal and sales in the Georgia-Florida area to 50 per cent of normal when the Eastern Belt opens.

Middle Belt and Old Belt markets, which begin sales Sept. 3, will open on a normal sales schedule of 76,000 pounds per hour per set of buyers, four hours per day. Old Belt markets will open on a limited basis with only nine sets of buyers for the first two weeks.

The schedule will allow sales on the Eastern Belt at the rate of 83,600 pounds per hour per set of buyers for a sales day of four hours and 24 minutes.

Fred S. Royster, managing director of the Bright Belt Association, said the committee would meet again Aug. 30 to adopt a marketing schedule for the week of Sept. 9.

In adopting its sales schedule, the executive committee turned down a recommendation from the industrywide Flue-Cured Tobacco Marketing Committee that Eastern Belt markets be permitted to sell five hours per day.

Yield Information and Nematode Survey

Yield information and nematode survey results have just been received covering work surveys and demonstrations conducted during the 1967 peanut growing season. These data bring to light some astounding conclusions.

Quoting from Drs. J. C. Wells, Professor, Plant Pathology and Kenneth R. Barker, Associate Professor, Plant Pathology, N. C. State University, "Surveys conducted in the peanut area of North Carolina show that 80 per cent of the allotted peanut acreage is grown in soils infested with several devastating nematode species. Loss estimates also show that the peanut growers are losing an average of 1.8 million dollars per year from these culprits. Fumigation research data clearly indicate that this loss could be reduced by fumigation."

A nematode assay advisory service was established in 1964 and to date in excess of 7,000 samples have been processed representing a total of 35,000 acres. Of the total samples processed, 5,600 samples showed a definite need for fumigation based on nematode population, number of species present and the past history of the field. Based on these data, soil fumigation was recommended with the prediction that a substantial yield increase could be expected. Records were kept on 138 farms an average yield increase of 590 lbs. per acre was obtained.

BIG GOVERNMENT THREAT

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP) — Americans view big government as a greater threat to the nation than big business or big labor, according to the Gallup Poll released Sunday.

By contrast a poll taken near the end of President Dwight D. Eisenhower's term in 1953 reported that big labor was seen as the greatest threat.

On 24 farms an average increase of 1600 lbs. per acre was obtained. On the remaining 14 farms no increase was obtained. However, five of these had to be plowed up and replanted because of poor stands which could have affected the outcome of the test.

It is evident that the soil assay service is a very valuable tool in the production of quality peanuts and in assisting the local agricultural agent and grower in analyzing problem fields and in locating and evaluating all - practice demonstrations.

Growers are advised to take advantage of this service by taking a representative sample of fields where peanuts are to be grown in 1969. These samples should be taken during October or November because samples taken at that time reflect best just what could happen during the next growing season.

Gov. Dan Moore will be guest of honor at a banquet Tuesday. Col. Clifton M. Craig, state commissioner of public welfare, will speak Tuesday on "The Truth About Public Welfare."

The four-day meeting opened Sunday. Besides county commissioners, other county government officials, such as county managers, attorney, welfare directors, accountants and assessors are attending.

Tobacco

Tips

By S. J. WEEKS
Pitt County Tobacco Agent

Root Knot nematodes reduce the net return from many fields of tobacco each year. This loss is brought about in three ways (1) nematodes stunt the growth of plants and thereby reduce yields, (2) the root damaging activities of nematodes increase the damage from black shank, Granville wilt and other diseases, and (3) the tobacco from affected plants is usually thin and chaffy and of lower quality.

Root knot nematodes multiply rapidly when planted to susceptible crops like tobacco. For example, the female nematode will lay about 400 eggs and it requires only 21 to 22 days to complete the life cycle from egg to adult. A nematode can lay a lot of eggs and the life cycle is short. By plowing out the stubbles you can kill a large percentage of nematodes and eggs.

Nematode reproduction and development takes place most rapidly during the warm summer and fall months.

The result of research tests and farm demonstrations indicate that when the tobacco stubbles are plowed out immediately after harvest the nematode population can be reduced 70 to 90 percent. Use of this practice alone will not give adequate nematode control, but supplements control obtained with crop rotation and soil fumigation. In a winter management test conducted at the Oxford Experiment Station, where the roots were plowed out the per acre value was $248 more than the per acre value in plots where the roots were not plowed out. In plots where the roots were plowed out and oats were used as a cover crop, the per acre value was $989. The use of the oat cover crop, in addition to plowing out the roots, also lowered the root knot index. In all these test plots tobacco was being grown continuously.

Plan now to do your part in making OPERATION R-6-P a success in Pitt County. In addition to helping control nematodes you will be assisting in the control of five other pests to the tobacco plant when you cut your stalks, plow out the stubbles, and two weeks later disc and seed a cover crop. These six pests are: Brownspot, Mosaic, hornworms, budworms, and flea beetles. In order for maximum results to be obtained from OPERATION R-6-P (Reduce 6 Pests) 100 percent participation by you and your neighbors is essential.

Five-Year-Old Is Alert After Heart Transplant

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Within hours after her heart transplant, Maria Giannaris, 5, was awake, alert and able to visit with her parents.

The Hagerstown, Md., girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick A. Giannaris, was reported in satisfactory condition at Texas Children's Hospital today.

She became the second child recipient in history Sunday when surgeons transferred the heart of another youngster who had suffered brain hemorrhage. The girl was the world's 31st heart recipient.

The donor was James Dudley Herron II, 11-year-old son of James Dudley Herron, a chemistry professor at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

Young Herron suffered a brain hemorrhage Friday and lapsed into a coma. When Dr.

Robert Carpenter, the family physician, told the parents the boy was a potential heart donor, they agreed to his transfer to Houston.

The boy was flown here early Sunday and died several hours later without regaining consciousness.

Maria was referred to the Texas Heart Institute by the cardiac clinic at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, where her case was diagnosed as severe heart failure.

The girl had been in Texas Children's Hospital three weeks before the operation.

Her father, who owns a restaurant at the Hagerstown Airport, said Maria was 5½ months old when doctors discovered she had heart disease.

Dr. Alex Haller of Johns Hopkins "told me the heart transplant was our only hope," Giannaris said.

"He told me his hospital wouldn't be prepared for transplant operations for at least another six months and he couldn't answer whether my daughter could live another six months."

Giannaris said a young patient dying last Wednesday at Texas Children's Hospital could have provided the heart, but the parents would not allow the operation.

"On Thursday my baby got so sick the doctors didn't think she would live," he said. "And on Saturday they told us just to pray."

Giannaris said he met the donor's father, James Dudley Herron, at the hospital Sunday.

"When I saw the boy's father at the door, it seemed like I had known him all my life," Giannaris said. "He said 'we have three boys and we've always wanted a little girl, so now we are going to have one and we can share her with you'."

A surgical team led by Dr. Denton A. Cooley performed the operation in 105 minutes, a spokesman said. The implanted heart started without electrical stimulation.

"The hearts were the same size," the spokesman said. "The little girl's heart was overworked because it was diseased. Like any overworked muscle it was enlarged."

The first child to receive a transplanted heart died 6½ hours after the operation at Maimonides Medical Center in Brooklyn, N.Y., last December. The recipient was a 2½-week-old boy who received the heart of a 2-day-old infant.

Cooley, who was vacationing in Mexico with his family, flew back to Houston for the latest transplant.

Four other heart transplant recipients are recuperating in St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, which adjoins the children's hospital. Two other persons with new hearts have been released and are working in Houston. Two recipients here died.

MARIA GIANNARIS gets new heart

Cites Sanford As New Leader

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says Gov. Robert McNair of South Carolina and former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford are leaders of "The New South."

Humphrey, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, replied to a question on the "Face the Nation" television show as to whether the field of vice presidential possibilities was limited to only a few Northern liberals after having ruled out those who are reactionary, conservative or unknown.

"I think that there's a whole new group of leaders that are rising in the South," Humphrey said. "One of the factors of change in American Politics is the great change that is taking place in what I call 'The New South', that Mr. Nixon failed to understand or to seek."

A list of potential candidates put forward last week by the democratic state chairmen from the South was also mentioned by Humphrey.

"I think the great tragedy today in American Politics is the tendency on the part of some who call themselves liberals, and I'm one of the liberals . . . to try to rule out people from the South. That's a kind of discrimination which I think is almost as bad as racial discrimination."

"There are vast areas of growth in that part of America that I honor and I don't want to appear that their leadership that new leadership, is unwelcome in the Democratic party or unworthy of our respect or confidence."

To See Higher Living Costs

RALEIGH (AP) — Living costs for students at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and North Carolina State University are expected to rise this fall as result of a $1.60 minimum wage granted full-time state employees.

Both J. Carlyle Sitterson of UNC and John T. Caldwell of NCSU said that although they did not know the extent, some student costs would rise.

Caldwell said that "auxiliary activities" such as the student union, the dormitory system and the athletic program will be the areas most likely affected since these are self-supporting.

Plane Search Is Called Off

HENDERSONVILLE, N. C. (AP) — The search for a plane missing with three persons aboard since it took off Friday night from Laurens, S. C., on a flight to Asheville has been discontinued by the Civil Air Patrol.

The Eastern Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Center at Warner Robins Air Force Base in Georgia Sunday ordered the discontinuance until further leads turn up.

Goren on BRIDGE

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
(© 1968 by The Chicago Tribune)
BY CHARLES H. GOREN
Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠ J1074 ♣ AQJ92 ♦ K94 ♣ 6
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass
3 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Your hand is the equivalent of an opening bid. Since partner has opened the bidding and jumped the bid and the hand is known to fit, a slam should be contemplated. The slam suggestion should be made by a raise above game to five spades.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ 6 AQJ7 ♦ 53 ♣ AK10962
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass
2 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—One heart. The opportunity to show the four-card major at this low range should be selected in preference to rebidding the six-card minor.

Q. 3—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ KJ9765 ♦ Q63 ♣ AQJ4
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Two spades. This does not contradict the principle expounded in the previous answer; a six-card major should be given distinct preference over a four-card minor. With one more club or one less spade, our answer would have been two clubs.

Q. 4—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ 74 ♦ K1096 ♦ J105 ♣ KJ93
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass
2 ♥ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Our vote is in favor of a bid of three hearts. It is a close case and no severe criticism should attend a pass. Our preference is to bid because, while it is true that on a certain number of hands we might be in jeopardy at three hearts, nevertheless it is worth the risk, because of the occasional game that will be unearned in this manner.

Q. 5—You are South, both sides vulnerable, and you hold:

♠ K109753 ♦ 62 ♣ AJ53
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1 ♥ 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠
2 ♥ 4 ♠ 5 ♥ Dble.
Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—We are inclined to go on to five spades, not merely because we feel there is too grave a danger that the adverse contract will be fulfilled, but because there is some chance that we may be able to make five spades. This much is certain, the loss at five spades cannot be severe but, if we err on the side of permitting the opponents to play the hand, the loss can be staggering.

Q. 6—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ 754 ♦ AQ95 ♣ AQ965
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♥ Pass 2 ♥ Pass
2 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. You can hardly hope for game. Partner obviously has no aspirations. He simply doesn't want to let the opponents run off with a bargain. If it were his purpose to go places, he would have acted immediately, over the opening bid of one heart, at which point it would have been a simple matter for him to have bid one spade.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠ A108532 ♦ 1053 ♦ 4 ♣ AKS
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
2 ♥ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—The simple rebid of two spades is recommended. This is better tactics than raising the clubs at once for, if partner should then try three no trump, you would be faced with an awkward problem as to whether to rest content or to take it out into a black suit.

Q. 8—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ AJ65 ♦ Q1096 ♦ 3 ♣ AKQJ
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1 ♦ Dble. Pass 2 ♠
Pass 4 ♠ Pass 5 ♥
Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Six spades. The key to the situation is the single diamond. If partner has six spades to the king and the ace of hearts, 12 tricks can be counted. If he has a five-card spade suit, if partner must have both heart honors to justify a jump and a bid beyond game.

The Worry Clinic

Football 'Iron Man' Once Quit A Training Camp

Jim Ringo is now the "iron man" of pro football but read about his emotional collapse when he first joined the Packers' training camp. Then profit from Jim's case by vaccinating your own children against nostalgia, which is the most common malady on the usual college campus!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE G-555: Jim Ringo, aged 35, is the "iron man" of pro football, having played in nearly 200 consecutive games!

But when he broke into the big time at Green Bay in 1953, he deserted training camp.

"I got homesick and quit without even telling the coaches," he said.

But when he got back to his home in Pennsylvania, his wife told a different viewpoint.

"If you are going to quit, just don't sneak out, but tell the coach. Do it like a man!"

And his father sided with Mrs. Ringo.

"Once you start something," he warned, "never quit till you have completed it."

Even his father - in-law scoffed at his desertion.

"You mean you walked out on $5,250 for four months work?" Jim saw that his sneak-out didn't win any favor with his family at all, so he never even unpacked his bag.

Returning to the Green Bay training camp, he really buckled down and beat out 7 other players for the center spot.

But his case merits psychological dissection and should be of great value to children, as well as parents.

Remember, Jim Ringo was a star footballer at Syracuse University before he went to the Packers, so he was accustomed to being away from home.

Yet he succumbed to nostalgia (homesickness) like many a new college freshman.

So you relatives (wives and parents) should be sure to delegate your absent child with daily letters of cheer and encouragement, if those absentee folks are newly drafted into Military Service or are away from the first time at college.

And this holds doubly when your kiddies attend summer camps of your church or Scout Troop!

Homesickness can be such a terrific malady that a rugged, college graduate like Jim Ringo can succumb to it.

So imagine the moody misery of a teen - ager at a summer camp or in the Army!

Here at Northwestern University I have had students in my psychology classes who were so low in their morale, due to nostalgia, that they had actually contemplated suicide.

Remember, too, that suicide is still the major cause of death among college youth!

But the second lesson to be drawn from Jim Ringo's case, is the value of helpful counsel from one's relatives who have "horse sense."

Strong family bonds can thus shore up the weak resolutions of children of all ages.

They can prevent delinquency and school dropouts, as well as divorce.

Alas, our millions of broken homes are now abetting the development of millions of weak personalities in the oncoming generation.

So, when this newspaper tries to vaccinate couples against divorces, please realize that it is meanwhile helping prevent crime, delinquency and even dropouts!

Since divorces usually start in the bedroom, send for my medical booklet, "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

The Central County Wide Fire Alarm System installed about four months ago, paid off well in a fire early Saturday at 1:53 a.m.

At 1:55, an alarm was received by the Winterville Fire Department for a fire at Bill Forney's Store and Service Station located at the intersection of Highway 43 and Black Jack Road. The fire department arrived at 2:01. Finding the back storage room of the store in flames, the Eastern Pines Fire Department was summoned to the scene. The two departments combined extinguished the fire quickly, holding damage to approximately $500 on the $25,000 building and stock.

Michael Worthington stated the new system, which operates with push button alarm from the County Courthouse, with follow-up instructions over radio avoids time loss which could occur on the old individual department reporting by telephone system.

Other fires include a packhouse containing 15 barns of tobacco on the Hubert Hardison farm on Highway 33 near Patoctus. The alarm was received at 4:05 a.m. Saturday. Patoctus responded. The packhouse brazier, discovered by a passing motorist, had consumed the building by time the fire department arrived.

Several barns fires occurred in recent days: A barn on the W. H. Harris farm on Road 1129 outside Winterville was a total loss at $2,000. The alarm was received at 3:01 a.m. Thursday. Winterville Fire Department responded. Two adjacent barns were saved from catching on fire.

A barn belonging to Claude L. McRoy suffered damage amounting to $500 at 3:04 p.m. Thursday. Stokes Fire Department responded to the alarm.

At 4:57 a.m. Thursday, a barn belonging to Fred Worthington on the Tar Road was damaged, with estimate placed at $1,400.

On Friday at 4:37 p.m. an alarm was received by the Grifton Fire Department for a barn fire on the Perkins Farm at Hanrahan Corner. Damage was estimated at $1,500.

The James Shackleton Store near Farmville was the scene of an automobile fire at 6:19 p.m. The Farmville Fire Department saved the car, with damage estimated at $200.

A barn belonging to Raymond Collins on N.C. 11 south of Ayden was reported on fire at 7:50 p.m. Saturday. The Ayden Fire Department responded. Damage has been placed at about $1,800.

An automobile caught fire on Highway 264 at 11:18 p.m. Thursday. The Red Oak Fire Department extinguished the auto blaze. Damage estimated to be $300.

Says Rioting 'Collaboration'

JERUSALEM (AP) — Defense Minister Moshe Dayan toured the Arab quarter of Jerusalem today and said that Jews who rioted against Arabs in the Old City Sunday night "were collaborating with the enemy."

The Holy City was wracked by a wave of violence Sunday night touched off by three grenade explosions that wounded nine Israelis, two seriously.

Gangs of Israelis, mainly teen-agers, swept into the Arab quarter, seeking revenge. They smashed store and car windows and set one car ablaze, and attacked Arabs. Several Arabs were injured one seriously, informed sources said. Riot police dispersed the Israelis after an hour's rampage.

Mayor Teddy Kollek and the minister of police, Eliahu Sasson, condemned the Israeli violence.

Dayan's tour of the Old City was described as a demonstration to both sides that Jerusalem "still remains united." He called on both Arab and Jew to "remain friends."

He told newsmen "criminal elements" were responsible for the grenade blasts and not the Arab population as a whole. He said the culprits will be "dealt with as criminals."

Sasson told newsmen: "We will not defeat the saboteurs by permitting innocent persons (Arabs) to be harmed."

Acquisition For Philip Morris 'Agitators' Are Taken From Brig

By ROBERT OHMAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Philip Morris, Inc., has announced an agreement to acquire Godfrey Phillips Ltd., a London tobacco firm, for about $27.5 million.

Philip Morris said today it has a "firm agreement" to purchase 839,625 of Godfrey Phillips' 841,625 24-cent par value common shares for $1.74 a share or about $1.5 million.

In addition, Philip Morris said it plans an offer for the British company's 1,495,827 $2.40 par value common shares at $17.40 a share or about $26 million. Total common shares outstanding is 2,337,452.

Directors of Godfrey Phillips said in London they regard the $17.40 a share offer to be "fair and reasonable." They said they intend to accept in respect to their own holdings and will strongly recommend other holders to do likewise.

Last June Philip Morris made an offer to acquire Gallaher Ltd., another British tobacco firm, but finally withdrew its bid after American Tobacco Co. made a counter offer for Gallaher at a higher price.

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — A U.S. spokesman said today that 40 "agitators" had been moved from the riot-torn Marine brig in an attempt to restore order.

The 40 men were guarded by 120 military police, after being cut off from the other prisoners with a teargas barrage Sunday, then marched to a smaller barbed-wire compound nearby.

Lt. Col. Joseph M. Gambardella, commander of the 300-prisoner brig just northwest of Da Nang, said there were no injuries in an outburst Sunday. It erupted when about 70 parolees and trustees began packing their gear to be moved to another area.

Resentment built up among the other prisoners, a spokesman said, and about 40 began rampaging through the compound.

He said Gambardella sent in his riot force of MPs, and they fired some 20 canisters of tear gas to suppress the riot.

Trouble first broke out in the brig Friday night when many prisoners began a noisy protest against cold food, long delays awaiting trial and prison regulations.

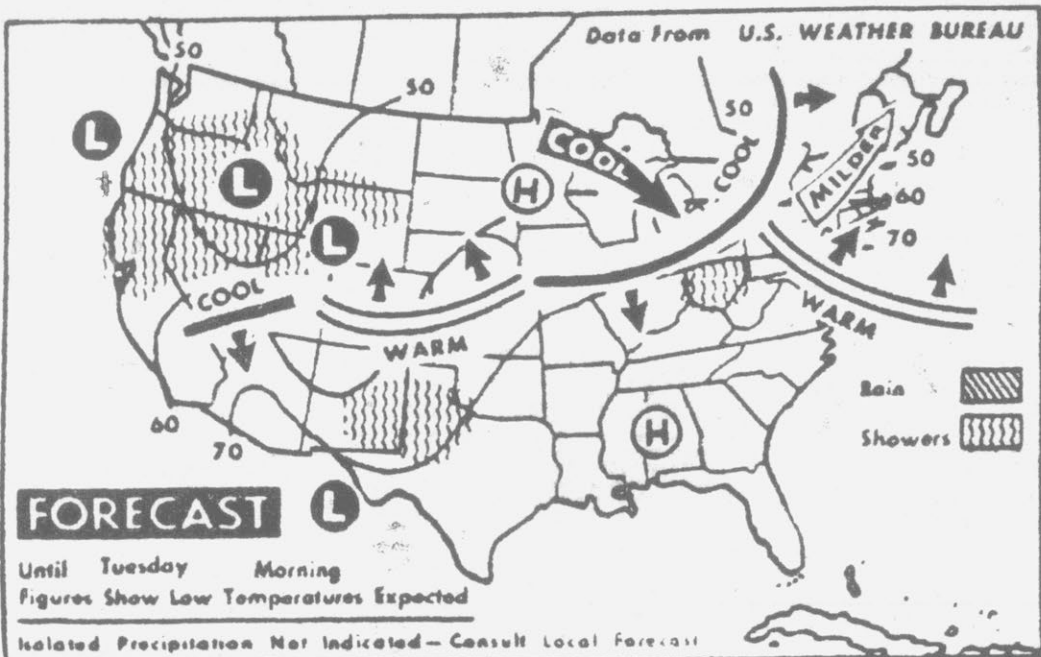

Eight prisoners and one guard were injured, none seriously, Gambardella said.

Nab Youngster After Alarm

Greenville police last night turned over a nine-year-old boy to juvenile authorities after the youth was seen turning in a false alarm at Five Points.

Fire officials said the alarm was received at 9:05 from Box 23, located at the intersection of Fifth and Evans Streets. Officers said responding units found no fire.

Chief H. F. Lawson said witnesses saw the youngster pull the alarm. Police took the child to the police station, "kicked with his parents, then turned the youth over to juvenile authorities."

More Trouble For Fla. City

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Shotgun and pistol fire range out through the racially troubled Southside section Sunday night in the third successive night of violence.

The City Council called an emergency meeting for today to determine what action to take to stem further outbreaks in the 19-square block heart of the trouble in the predominantly Negro area.

Liquor and gasoline sales were banned Saturday and Sunday in a 500-square block section of the Southside where damage from a weekend of violence was estimated at $150,000.

An unofficial estimate placed the number of persons arrested at 77, a half dozen of them Sunday night when the Florida Highway Patrol's riot-control armored truck was peppered by shotgun blasts fired from ambush.

Mrs. Sutton spent all her life in Pitt County and was a member of Hopewell Pentecostal Holiness Church.

The prisoners held the compound for nearly 20 hours, freeing 17 inmates in the maximum security cellblock and burning the block down before order was temporarily restored Saturday night.

The Sunday afternoon flareup was over in less than two hours.

An investigation is under way to consider the prisoners' grievances and possible disciplinary action against suspected ring-leaders.

The Marine command has refused to grant newsmen permission to interview any of the inmates or guards or to take photographs inside or near the brig.
