Urging Limited Sale On Early-Opening Belts

RALEIGH (AP)—The industry Flue-cured Tobacco Marketing Committee wants to limit sales on early-opening belts to prevent congestion at redrying plants when big North Carolina markets open during the next two weeks.

olona - Border North Carolina belts be reduced next week. Under the plan, Georgia-Florida markets operating with one set of buyers for cleanup sales would be open only two hours a day while markets with multiple-set buyers would sell for four hours.

schedule, would be reduced to three hours a day beginning Monday and to three days a week beginning Sept. 3. Ike's Condition Is Encouraging

WASHINGTON (AP) - Army doctors reported today there is "encouraging" evidence in former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's status but that his overall condition "must still be considered critical and the outlook guarded."

Cigarette Smoking Decline Is Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) - For only the second time since the 1964 surgeon general's report linked the use of tobacco to cancer and other diseases, there has been a decline in cigarette smoking according to government statistics.

Instead, he suggested the drop may have reflected a number of variables including, for example, a fall off in cigarette production in fiscal 1968 due to labor strikes.

merchials that are now a commonplace on radio and television, he said these messages are still an unknown quantity. "The producers don't know how to measure their potency," he said.

Nearly Fourth Are Integrated

By NOEL YANCEY Associated Press Writer RALEIGH (AP) - Nearly one fourth of North Carolina's Negro school children attended school with white children last year and the state's top school officer expects "considerably more integration" this year.

desegregation plan under which most North Carolina school systems operated served only to perpetuate the dual school system. Court actions have involved schools in Concord, Jones County, Craven County, Warren County, Harnett County and others.

The sales plan was proposed by Howard Cone of Richmond, Va., chairman of the sales committee of the Tobacco Association of the United States. Cone said redrying plants, where congestion caused chaos during last year's marketing season, "all seem to be in fairly good shape."

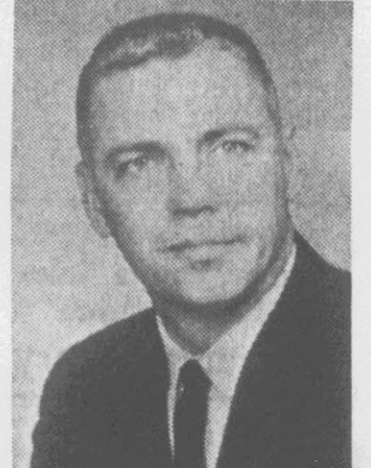

A Winterville Native Is Named School Dean

AUBURN, Ala.—Dr. J. Grady Cox, native of Winterville, has been named Dean of the School of Engineering at Auburn University, President Harry M. Philpott announced to the board of trustees Tuesday.

While the earlier drop was clearly linked to the cancer scare, there was nothing in the IRS figures to indicate what caused the latest decline. Dr. William Stewart, U.S. surgeon general, said, however, that he thinks "the message is finally getting around."

Dean Pumphrey has asked to be relieved of his duties prior to his retirement. Cox received his B.S. in chemical engineering and an M.S. in mathematics from Auburn and was awarded a Ph.D. from Purdue.

The delegates re-elected Alexander Dubcek—the man who ended 20 years of Stalinist-type rule in Czechoslovakia last January—as their leader. They named Venek Silhan, an economist, to head the party while Dubcek and other top leaders are Soviet captives.

J. GRADY COX

New High

The Greenville Utilities Commission experienced a new high in power demand this past Wednesday when demand rose to 56,800 kilowatts. The previous high for the commission was 55,400 kilowatt demand back in July, according to Leonard Bloxam, director of the commission.

Water temperature in the mains is 83 degrees, down from a high of 87 degrees last month. Lawrence Wallace of Smithfield, president of the Eastern Carolina Warehouse Association, asked for assurance that graders will be on the Eastern Belt for five-hour sales days next week, and John Tromer of the U.S. Grading Service said an answer would be forthcoming sometime today.

Wallace abstained from voting on the plan because he said South Carolina and Border Belt warehousemen were not represented at the meeting and had not had an opportunity to consider the move.

United Fund Sets September 23 As Campaign Opening Date

By JERRY RAYNOR Reflector Staff Writer A tentative date of September 23 was announced yesterday for beginning the United Fund Inc. campaign to raise $130,000, the goal established early in July by the Pitt County United Fund board of directors.

pass the $130,000 mark," Easter remarked. "When people realize that the United Fund represents a large number of individual agencies, I believe they will be willing to make every effort to contribute their fair share to the drive." Easter explained that the fair-share concept of making a contribution is essentially based on the premise that a contributor can reasonably contribute an amount equal to one hour pay per month.

one time," Easter stated. "For this reason, many people now and in the past have found it convenient to make a contribution by a regular payroll deduction system. In this method, a person can pledge a certain amount, and it will be automatically deducted from his pay each month." A large number of Greenville and Pitt County businesses and establishments are now participating in the payroll deduction contribution method. Easter stated that efforts will be made to encourage other firms to join the payroll deduction system, thus giving more people an opportunity to contribute in this way. Contributions to the United Fund are tax deductible for income-tax purposes. There are a number of well-known national and international agencies which are participating agencies in the Pitt County United Fund. These include the Salvation Army, Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Pitt County Mental Health Association, Association for the Blind, Pitt County Retarded Children, 4-H Clubs, and others. A participating agency is one which receives a share of the total funds collected. The work of these agencies depend on a large part for the money allotted them from the United Fund.

In addition, a substantial amount is allotted to local community services, which covers smaller agencies and organizations in the towns and communities within Pitt County. Easter hopes to secure the services of a large number of volunteer workers for the forthcoming campaign to collect funds. Anyone who might be able to assist can contact him at 758-1604 or by writing to P.O. Box 298, Greenville.

The United Fund Inc., Pitt County Chapter, grew out of the Greenville Community Chest which was established in 1958. In years prior to 1958, there were such a large number of individual fund raising campaigns for the various agencies, that a decision was made to consolidate the efforts of all into one single community fund drive. Farmville also established a Community Chest. When the United Fund, Inc., was founded, Sherman Husted served as the first executive director. Later a decision was made to operate with voluntary personnel. In 1967, it was again decided to have a professional executive director. Easter, the present director, as appointed in March 1967.

The next step in planning the United Fund campaign is to be a meeting on August 27, at 7:00 p.m. at the Country Club. Owners, managers, and chairmen of business firms, establishments and organizations will be invited to attend and to participate in planning for the 1968 United Fund campaign.

Flyer Should Never Take Off His Uniform

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: You always tell girls that men in uniform are O. K. I would have agreed with you a few years ago, but not any more. I learned my lessons with a guy in the Air Force. Boy, was he ever a wolf! I never saw a guy work so fast in all my life.

He was a perfect gentleman as long as he was in uniform, but the minute he got out uniform he was a changed person.

ANNIE LOU
DEAR ANNIE: You never should have let him take his uniform off.

DEAR ABBY: We have two sons, 11 and 14. My husband opened a savings account for each of them when they were born, and he keeps putting money into it for their education, plus any money they get from their grandparents for birthdays, Christmas, etc.

However, every cent they get their hands on (allowance or money for doing odd jobs) they fritter away on foolishness, so their father laid down a rule. HALF of their allowances and HALF of all the money they earn has to go into the bank.

Now they sit on their duffs and refuse to do odd jobs to earn extra money. They say, "Daddy will only make us put it in the bank."

What can parents do about kids who have that attitude? We want to teach them to save. Have you or other parents any ideas?

on foolishness." And let them "sit on their duffs" instead of doing odd jobs to earn money, and they will soon realize that they are cheating only themselves.

The best way to learn the value of money is to be without it for awhile.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to comment on letters appearing in your column in which people describe intolerable situations with in-laws, friends or neighbors who impose upon them. They ask you, "What shall I do?"

I used to be irritated with your stock answer: "TELL the person how you feel!"

I think in almost every case, the writer knows that this is the only solution, but he hopes you will have some magic words that will make it easier for him. Telling others how you feel doesn't necessarily mean telling them OFF.

I was faced with a very annoying situation. Some of our friends used to drop by our beach home every Sunday morning. They'd spend the entire day there, drinking our beer, eating our food, and messing up our shower with wet towels. Then one day I faced the issue and told them firmly, but quietly, that the situation had gotten out of hand and in the future they were welcome only when invited. I didn't apologize for telling them. I just "up and told 'em," which wasn't easy. Now I'm sorry I didn't tell them sooner. At first they were a little hurt, but they got over it, and we are still good friends. They come only when invited and we like it that way.

STUMPED

I just wanted to say, "There are no magic words to put into people's mouths. From Dear Abby, or anybody else."

She Is Still Running Things

By JOY MILLER
 AP Women's Editor

Jo Good is so good they've given her a new title.

She used to be called executive director of the Republican National Convention; now she's convention coordinator.

It's a tossup which handle is more impressive, but she thinks her new title is better. "More applicable," she has decided. "But there's no change in the responsibilities."

Josephine L. Good is a cool, unflappable blonde who more than any other single person, can be credited with keeping Republican conventions smooth-running affairs. The one coming up is her third, and she doesn't think it is presenting more knotty problems than the others.

"When you're behind the scenes, though," she says, "it doesn't seem to you to be going smoothly at all."

Miss Good points out, quite neutrally, that Miami's convention hall is new and so far only one function has been held there, a graduation exercise.

"But the acoustics are getting straightened out and I'm pretty sure everything is going to be all right," she says in the calm, unruffled manner that has carried her successfully through earlier conventions.

That's not to say there aren't problems. For example, "this is the first time a GOP convention has been held in a building without any permanent seating. There's not a permanent seat in the hall. And such a low ceiling. The delegates' area is close to the guest seating area, where before we have always had a gallery or balcony to separate them."

No permanent seating is the trend in exhibition halls now, she says to give plenty of room for such things as boat or automobile shows.

"The hall seats 16,000, with our arrangement," she says, "and there will be much less standing than at the previous conventions in Chicago and San Francisco."

Because there just aren't places for people to stand means that a sort of plan has been instituted of a place for everyone and everyone in his place. Even the pages to the delegates will have seats and such jobs as assistant sergeants-at-arms have been abolished.

"We still have honorary assistant sergeants-at-arms, but they've always roamed before, and now they've been assigned seats with obscured views."

All of this should make for a more orderly convention Miss Good devoutly hopes.

"One convention is barely over until another," she reflects. "The four-year period goes fast for me."

It takes one year at least after the convention to clean up the details: get the files in order, make reports, get the bid for printing the proceedings and then see that the printing comes out well. There's a lot of correspondence from professors and students and foreign visitors. Then, by the time everything is straightened out, it's two years to go to the next convention. It takes at least that long to get one launched, beginning with answering queries from cities about requirements for becoming the convention site.

But the job isn't as bad as people might think, she says "if you know what you're doing and have a knack for detail."

Denver-born Jo Good got caught up in convention work in 1956, three years after newly-appointed Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield asked her to serve as his confidential and administrative aide. Before that, during World War II, she served in the Coast Guard Women's Reserve with rank of chief yeoman and had become a secretary in Washington in 1946.

She says that in her work the basic problems are always the same. But one that keeps growing is the "increased activity on the part of the news media."

At the 1956 convention, where she understudied William J. Donald who had done the work for three decades, about 3,000 newsmen were on hand.

Let's Keep Summer Theatre Going

It was a hectic Fifth Season the East Carolina Summer Theatre just finished, but we trust the difficulties involved were not sufficient to discourage those responsible for the Theatre from undertaking another season.

This year the audiences were scarcer than in previous years. Season ticket sales were smaller. A number of innovations were introduced by producers of the Summer Theatre in an effort to attract better attendance.

But for all these problems on the management side of the Summer Theatre, the high quality of the productions was not lessened. Excellent shows were presented each week during the season and the traditional first-rate performances that characterized the first four seasons of the Summer Theatre were continued throughout this season.

It is fairly obvious, we believe, that those responsible for the Summer Theatre are going to do some careful evaluating before deciding to continue the Theatre into its sixth season. In spite of the disappointing audiences for many performances during the season just ended, it is our hope that this important asset for Greenville and this section of the state will not be abandoned.

The productions during the past five seasons have brought delight to literally thousands of people throughout Eastern North Carolina. They have afforded this section of the state the kind of entertainment that has not been available here before. The Summer Theatre is not the kind of asset the people of the area should allow to go by the boards for lack of public support.

It is our hope that the people of Greenville and other areas will in the next few months give tangible evidence of their desire to see the Summer Theatre continued, by lending their active support to the project for the coming year.

N.C. Dollars Going For Food

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
RALEIGH — Circling the square:

Groceries, meat and milk for the table, not surprisingly, accounted for the largest taxable percentage of the wage earner's dollar in North Carolina during 1967-68. After withheld income taxes, that is.

The jingle of supermarket and food store cash registers put the largest amount into the state's general fund treasury, to the tune of $12.7 million on gross retail sales of $1,563 billion (b).

All told, the food group category including everything from bakeries and candy stores to taverns and night clubs yielded $59.2 million in state sales and use taxes on more than $2.1 billion in sales. Grocery stores and meat markets were by far the largest producer.

Restaurant Business
The restaurant and snack bar business ran second in the food group with a total of $374.5 million gross and taxes of 10.7 million during the fiscal year.

In another category, in the one and one and a half per cent sales group (compared to three per cent on other items), motor vehicles and airplanes yielded even more than restaurants and snack bars on a lower rate, $13.6 million, on $933.3 million gross.

The state's revenue breakdown includes a "general Merchandise" grouping which also ranks high as a revenue producer.

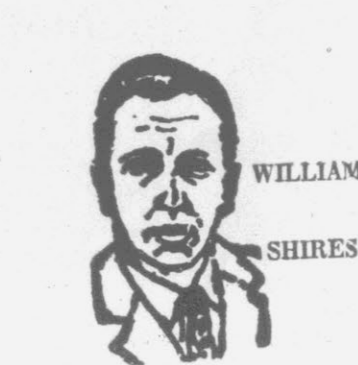

This includes department stores, drug stores, hardware stores, dry goods, drug and medical supplies, fabric and yarn shops, jewelry stores, sporting goods, paint and wallpaper, gifts and variety and even road building equipment.

The "general merchandise" category yielded $42.3 million in sales and tax revenue from gross retail sales of $1.8 billion during the fiscal year.

Totals Reported
Overall, according to the Revenue Department report, gross retail sales were near $9.8 billion (B) for the fiscal year. The present tax structure yielded $203.5 million in revenue for the state from sales. Use taxes of $18.8 million increased the total $226.6 million.

Use tax rates range from one per cent to three per cent and the three per cent rate brings in the greatest amount of revenue — $15.2 million last year.

A finding of a $20,000 study indicates that the city of Durham needs 5,000 new or rehabilitated units of low and moderate income housing to meet "currently deficient" housing needs in Durham. Such a goal, according to the study, would meet two-thirds of the existing housing needs for low and moderate income families in Durham.

The City Council in Thomsville has repealed a local so-called "blue law." There was no protest to the action.

In Winston-Salem, more than 4,000 state leaders will hold an all-day meeting on problems of crime and delinquency on Sept. 19. Federal officials have announced a cut of 25 per cent in funds for a Neighborhood Youth Corps Project in Wilkes, Alleghany and Ashe counties for the coming year.

Jack Wardlaw of Raleigh spoke on how to write the "how-to-do-it" book. Wardlaw has authored several books of successful salesmanship. Helen Tucker spoke of writing and selling short stories. Will People Get Out?

CHICAGO — There have been so many security precautions taken for the Democratic National Convention near the stockyards in Chicago that the big fear here is not that people will be unable to get into the convention hall, but that they will not be able to get out. And so all the talk in Chicago concerns escape.

Four delegates were in the exercise yard at the stockyards pretending they were playing volleyball. Armed guards watched them from the towers and police dogs patrolled the electric and barbed-wire fence around the hall.

"It's no use," said Hymie from Idaho. "We'll never be able to break out of here."

"Shut up," said San Fernando Joe. "There isn't a convention hall in the country that can hold me."

"You've never been in one of Warden Daley's lockups," said Peoria Pete. "No one has ever escaped from one of his halls, at least not before the nominations."

"I say we tunnel out of here," said Colorado Charlie.

"Knock it off, Pete," said San Fernando Joe angrily. "You're into this too deep to back out now. Another word out of you and I'll shove this Gene McCarthy banner down your throat."

"Keep playing volleyball. Daley's guards are getting suspicious."

"But," Hymie, said serving, "what's our plan?"

Colorado Charlie pretended he was tying his shoe. "President Johnson's birthday is on the 27th, and everyone will be celebrating it in the hall. The guards will probably have a party of their own, and there will only be a skeleton crew in the towers. We'll go to the hall and sit in our delegates' seats and pretend we're having a good Birthday Dear, Lyndon, time. Then, when everyone stands up to sing 'Happy we make a break for it — out the back door.'"

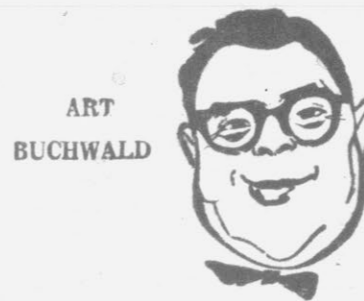

"Yeah, right into the arms of the Secret Service." Colorado Charlie said, "Shut up and listen. On our way out we grab the Ohio delegation and hold them as hostages. Hubert Humphrey can't win without Ohio. He'll have to tell Warden Daley to let us go."

"It might work," said San Fernando Joe. "Anything is better than staying here and listening to those seconding speeches."

Colorado Joe started tying his other shoe. "It has to work. My wife is visiting me this afternoon, and she's going to bring me some 'McGovern for President' balloons. In one of the balloons there's going to be a hack saw. As soon as we get outside, Pete will cut the electric cable and Hymie will drive a CBS-TV truck next to the wall. That's how we go over."

"But what do we do for a getaway car?"

"We're next to the stockyards, dummy. While they're blocking all the highways, we'll be on a freight train to Austin, Tex., underneath a ton of pork sausages."

'Big Truck Bill' Should Not Pass

The best interest of the nation and its non-commercial highway users will be served if the "big truck bill" dies where it now is, pigeonholed by a House Committee.

The measure would allow much larger trucks than now permitted to use federal highways. It was passed by the Senate earlier in this session at the behest of trucking interests. In recent weeks there has been increasing pressure to get it out of its present pigeonhole in the post-Labor Day session of Congress. Unless it is passed by the House before the present session adjourns, it will have to start anew through legislative channels.

The measure is not unlike the proposition which trucking interests sought to push through the North Carolina General Assembly last year to allow larger trucks on the highways of the state. North Carolina's legislature wisely rejected the proposal. The House would be acting in the interest of the nation if it kills the measure that the Senate has approved.

What is good for the nation's big trucking industry is not necessarily good for the nation or its highways.

Strength For Today 'Executive Swiping' Is Coming

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
WE STILL NEED POLICEMEN

There are many people saying today that it is monstrous to contend that the peace of the world must be preserved by force. "Is there no goodness in man?" they ask. "Must we turn the world into an armed camp? Is human nature so unreliable that it must be watched every minute? Are we so vicious that policemen must be posted everywhere to maintain vigilance?"

To be perfectly frank, Yes. There is a lot of good in the world, but there is a lot of evil also. The nature of much of this evil is to be aggressive, and the only thing this aggression will respect is force. We make no bones about it in the administration of our local affairs. Every community has its police force, and practically every state the same. The national government has its F. B. I. and its Secret Service. We maintain such officers to keep their eyes on individual wrongdoers. Is it wicked to contend that we need a police force in the world to keep its eyes on aggressor nations? The great Pascal once made a statement which needs to be pondered in these days. "Let justice be strong," he said, "or let force be just." Certainly it is no violation of ethics to say that international justice and good will should be supported by every means which will render them effective. To contend otherwise appears to be sentimental.

Business can expect:

1. A wave of executive seductions.
2. Sharp changes of fringe benefits that will make it expensive for glamor executives to change jobs.
3. "Need to boost your company's image? Swipe a competitor's key executive," advises this week's Business Week. It may be the in thing to do.
4. The wave of seductions is being blown up by the wooing of Dr. C. Lester Hogan, 48, from his position as executive vice president of Motorola, Inc., and general manager of its semiconductor division by Fairchild Camera and Instrument Corp., of which he will be president and chief executive officer.

Six other Motorola executives immediately quit Motorola for Fairchild. Stock Market Reacts In Millions

In the first week after the announcement of the change, Motorola shares dropped from 138 1/4 to 125. In the same period, Fairchild shares rose from 58 1/4 to 70 1/4.

The Motorola drop represented a decline in total market value of $84 million; the Fairchild advance represented a paper gain of $49 million.

Of course, the stock market situation was a factor. With so many declines in recent weeks, speculators were ready for something that could create a little excitement in the market and attract fresh money.

This situation will cause controlling stockholders of ot-

One method will be to make sure that luscious fringe benefits will be collectible only if the recipients remain with the

Bald Power Play

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The bald power play by New York state's burgeoning Conservative Party to run the Nixon-Agnew ticket as its own Presidential ticket has immense political implications for Nixon's chances to carry New York in November.

Beyond that, if successful, it could severely damage Senator Jacob K. Javits, the Republican party's leading liberal, in his race for reelection.

Conservative Party leaders journeyed all the way to the Miami Beach Republican convention early this month to beat the drums for permission from Nixon to place his name on the ballot, backed by the regular Republican electors. Since then, Conservative Party Vice Chairman Kieran O'Doherty has had confidential talks with Nixon operatives on at least one occasion and further talks are slated this week.

On the face of it, the Conservative Party plan would seem certain to be rejected out of hand by the Republican party of New York state and by Nixon, who is counting heavily on liberal Republican campaign help. There is reason to suspect, for example, that Javits is deliberately conditioning an all-out endorsement of Nixon on Nixon's flat refusal to play the Conservative Party's game.

But what isn't generally understood is that the Conservative Party has a blackmail power of its own. If Nixon, under powerful Republican party pressure, led by Governor Nelson Rockefeller, Mayor John V. Lindsay, and Javits, refuses his consent for the use of the Republican electors, the Conservative Party still has a legal right to place Nixon's name on Row C of the ballot — the Conservative Party line — with electors chosen by the Conservative Party.

Moreover, O'Doherty says that the "overwhelming disposition" of Conservative Party leaders is to do just that, if denied the right to use the Republican electors. The result would be to wipe out the effect of the Nixon vote on the Conservative Party line. Under the Constitution, a vote for President is actually a vote for the electors pledged to the Presidential nominee, not for the nominee himself. Thus, none of the vote on the Conservative line for a separate slate of electors could be added to the Republican vote for the Republican electors.

This could deny Nixon several hundred thousand Conservative Party votes, a drain that would certainly cost Nixon all chance of winning New York's 43 electoral votes, the richest prize in the nation.

That may explain why Nixon hasn't yet said no to the Conservative Party appeal to use the Republican party's own slate of electors.

As seen by Conservative chiefs, whose party polled an astonishing 510,000 votes with a lackluster candidate in the 1966 gubernatorial race, the issue here goes far beyond Nixon and the 1968 Presidential election. What they are really after is statewide political power, starting with an arm's-length alliance with the Republican party (whose conservative wing was the original source of most of their present strength) somewhat similar to the long-time Democratic-Liberal party alliance, but their prime target is Javits.

Credentials Committee Studies N. C. Delegation

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—The Credentials Committee heard five hours of sometimes heated argument before taking under study a dispute over the racial composition of North Carolina's delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

When a decision could be expected was not announced.

During Thursday's arguments, Dr. Reginald Hawkins, Charlotte dentist and civil rights leader, led the challenging effort to convince the committee that Negro representation on the 59-vote

North Carolina delegation should be increased to about 25 per cent. Hawkins said this should be done by adding 10½ to the 3½ votes now cast by Negroes.

Hawkins, who polled 20 per cent of the vote in the Democratic primary earlier this year as the state's first Negro candidate for governor, told the committee that "the Democrats in North Carolina are trying to drive Negroes out of the Democratic party."

"I want to stay in the party but I want to maintain the respect of the black people in North Carolina," Hawkins said.

The panel heard conflicting views on what effect their ruling would have on this year's presidential race in North Carolina.

To rule against the regular delegation, said State Sen. Thomas J. White of Lenoir County, would mean "the Republican party will hail you for helping their chances in North Carolina in November."

A witness for the challengers, the Rev. Alexander I. Dunlay, said, "If you uphold this challenge, you will receive substantial support from blacks in North Carolina."

James Ferguson, an attorney for the challengers, described present Negro representation on the delegation as "isolated tokenism." "Too long have we had this kind of tokenism," Ferguson said.

But former State Democratic Chairman I. T. Valentine Jr. contended that the state had met the nation party's antidiscrimination guidelines.

"North Carolina has discharged its obligation to its conscience, to its party and to its country," he said. "We have no apology to offer."

Ad In Charlotte Asks End Of Discrimination

CHARLOTTE (AP)—A full-page advertisement bearing the names of 423 Charlotte residents and calling for an end to racial discrimination in the city appeared in today's edition of the Charlotte Observer.

The ad carried a headline which stated: "Isn't it about time for us to take a stand?" and was signed by some of the most prestigious names in the city, including:

Luther H. Hodges Jr., an official of the North Carolina National Bank; Ray E. King Jr., Democratic party leader and insurance executive; Stanley Kaplan, president of WAYS radio station; John Prescott, general manager of Knight Publishing Co.

Also, D. W. Colvard, chancellor of UNC-C; author Harry Golden; James G. Martin, chairman of the Mecklenburg Board of Supervisors; businessman Henderson Belk; State Rep. Jim Beatty, and several leading church officials.

The open letter was addressed to the Charlotte City Council, other elected officials and the public at large.

It stated that those who signed the petition believe in equality under the law and freedom from discrimination because of race, color, religion or national origin for all.

ACC President To Be Speaker

Dr. Arthur Wenger, president of Atlantic Christian College, Wilson, will be the guest speaker at both the 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. worship services at First Christian Church Sunday.

D. Spruill Spain will preside at both services.

HAVE YOU SEEN JOHN WHARTON?

"With respect to public accommodations, employment, and educational opportunity, every citizen should be treated on a par with other citizens, except where individual abilities warrant differentiation, but in no case should differentiation be because of race, color, religion or national origin," the advertisement also said.

Mrs. Martha Moyer St. James Director

Mrs. Martha Benton Moyer will be the new director of the Saint James United Methodist Church weekday program of Christian education. Announcement of the weekday school's faculty and opening date was made by the church's pastor, the Rev. William K. Quick.

Mrs. Moyer, a 1959 graduate of East Carolina University, has served as a kindergarten and nursery teacher at Saint James since the weekday school opened in 1965.

A native of Evergreen, she has had extensive teaching experience in both public school and church school. During the past three years Mrs. Moyer has been involved in Methodist Church related kindergarten projects. She participated in the North Carolina conference clinic on "Teaching Religion to the Pre-School Child" in Raleigh in 1966. During the summer of 1967 she was a student at Lake Junaluska at the Southeastern Jurisdictional workshop training church school weekday teachers. This summer Mrs. Moyer attended the ECU summer classes on kindergarten work directed by Miss Sally Klingensmidt.

She is married to Charles W. Moyer and they are the parents of four sons.

Rev. Quick also announced the employment of Mrs. Margaret Cleetwood as a second kindergarten teacher. Wife of the city school superintendent, Mrs. Cleetwood has had two years of teaching experience in the Presbyterian Church kindergarten in Rocky Mount.

Mrs. Helen Kleinert will again teach the three day and two day nursery school program at St. James.

A total of 34 children are enrolled in the two kindergarten classes and 36 children in the two nursery classes at Saint James. The enrollment of 60 children closes the school to other children unless there are dropouts, according to Rev. Quick. The St. James Kindergarten - Nursery school opens on Wednesday, September 4.

The idea of the petition originated with three young insurance executives who said they voted for Republican Barry Goldwater in the 1964 presidential race. The three were Robert D. Culbertson, 36, Reitzel Snider 32 and Robert F. Gilley, 34.

Second highest was Hawaii, at $8.87 followed by Maine, $8.67 and New Hampshire, $8.73. The federal agency said the national average in 1966 was $7.37, or 75 cents a month more than paid in North Carolina and 64 cents above the South Carolina bill.

The commission also said the national cost average for electricity for residents and businessmen was slightly higher as of Jan. 1, 1967 than on the same date in 1966.

However, in North Carolina the average bill was three cents lower on the first day of 1967 while in South Carolina there was no change.

This was reported Thursday by the Federal Power Commission which said those paying the highest bill in the 50 states were Alaskans with an average of $10.05.

Resort's Summer Never Ends

CHACLACAYO, Peru (UPI)—This land of perpetual sunshine, where it never rains, is a 20-minute by TEPSA bus up a sloping range of the Andes from Lima. Cascading streams from the distant peaks irrigate the sunny area, providing a profusion of grass, shrubs and trees.

Even in winter, the Chacacayo area during the day is warm enough for sunbathing and swimming in the private and public pools available in the middle of large picnic areas and there's rowboating on small lakes. Observers believe high Andes peaks and ocean currents combine in some way to keep Chacacayo free of clouds and rain.

Store Break-In Is Investigated

Sheriff's officers are continuing their investigation into a Tuesday break-in at Dick Wiggins' Store on U.S. 264 east of Greenville Tuesday.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson said the break-in was reported at 7:15 a.m.

Value of the stolen property was set at $25.

GRIFTON—Horace R. Dunn, 21, of Grifton, has been charged with larceny in connection with the theft of two boxes of chickens from the Piggy Wigly Store here Tuesday.

According to Pitt County Sheriff Ralph Tyson, who said his department assisted Grifton police in the investigation of the theft, Dunn was taken into custody Tuesday, several hours after the theft was reported at 11 a.m.

Tyson said the two boxes of chickens were valued at $39.65.

Can you always believe what your eyes tell you? An American tourist in a foreign country boasted of the wonders of his own land. "Why, we have telescopes that let us see millions of stars!" He was jolted by the native's reply, "Maybe you see millions of stars and nothing beyond. We see only a few stars and God."

Are you looking for the stars and missing God... or harnessing the atom and losing your security... or chasing rainbows and missing the gold?

All of us need to look for what the heart can feel, not just what the eyes can see. We need to find God.

Why not look for Him in church Sunday? He is waiting for you.

America Rumored In Olympic Boycott

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mexican hosts to the political-harassed 1968 Summer Olympic Games, first threatened by a Russian pullout over the South African situation, faced more rumblings today—talk of a possible United States boycott over the Czechoslovakian invasion.

A Baltimore television announcer said the U.S. Olympic Committee would meet Saturday night in Long Beach, Calif., after the diving trials to discuss the possibility of such a boycott.

Everett Barnes, executive director of the U.S. Olympic Committee, said Thursday night "there might be debate" soon about the possibility of an American boycott of the Olympics.

Barnes said, however, the subject definitely won't be discussed at Saturday night's routine meeting of coaches and athletes, even though there has been talk of such a boycott.

Although it is not on the agenda of a Sept. 7-8 meeting of his committee in Chicago, Barnes said a boycott might be discussed at that time.

John Kennelly, sports director of WJZ-TV in Baltimore, said Thursday night Barnes told him of the Saturday meeting in a telephone conversation from Los Angeles.

The whole question arose—only 50 days before the Games begin Oct. 12—after Russian troops occupied Czechoslovakia this week, prompting cries of protest throughout the world.

Russia, remember, joined a bloc of African nations last spring in a threatened pullout over any presence by South Africa, with its segregationist apartheid policy, at the Games. That problem eventually dissolved when South Africa was banned from the Games.

But despite the denunciation of the Russian action against Czechoslovakia there seems little possibility they would be ousted from Mexico.

"I don't know of any regulation that would bar Russia from the Olympics because of the invasion," said Avert Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, in Chicago. "I anticipate no developments along that line. At least, I hope there are none."

Brundage, as in the South African affair, has taken the position that the Olympics are outside of politics.

The Czech occupation already has caused some pre-Olympic disruption. Sweden cut off all sports relations Thursday with the five powers—Russia, Hungary, Bulgaria, Poland and East Germany—which have troops in Czechoslovakia.

Sweden, Norway and Denmark have canceled their participation in some coming sports competition with Russia and East Germany.

Fishermen from Bulgaria, East Germany and Hungary have been banned from the forthcoming World Casting Championships by the International Casting Federation. The event is scheduled at a Swiss resort Aug. 26-Sept. 1.

Baylor, winner of only one football game last season, opens his season on Sept. 21 by visiting Indiana, co-champion of the Big Ten.

Mantle Ties Foxx In Homers

New York Yankee's Mickey Mantle follows through as he hit his 534th career home run Thursday afternoon against Minnesota Twins' pitcher Jim Merritt. The

Kaline, Horton Homer To Lead Tiger Victory

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Detroit Tigers are really in there fighting to win their first American League pennant in 23 years, and they're using both short and long distance blows to good advantage.

Al Klaine and Willie Horton provided the power with consecutive home runs and Dick McAuliffe helped with effective infighting Thursday night when the Tigers defeated the Chicago White Sox 4-2. The triumph increased Detroit's first-place lead over idle Baltimore to 7½ games.

In other games, Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees whacked his 534th career homer, tying him for third place with Jimmy Foxx on the all-time list, as the Yanks dropped a 3-1 decision to Minnesota. Cleveland downed Boston 3-1 and Oakland edged California 2-1 on Dick Green's ninth-inning homer. Baltimore and Washington were not scheduled.

McAuliffe's most valuable contribution to the Tigers' cause came during a third-inning skirmish with left-hander Tommy John, Chicago's starting pitcher. The incident resulted in the ejection of both players and a shoulder injury that may sideline John for three weeks.

Three innings after John's departure, Kaline and Horton tagged his successor, ex-Tiger Dennis Ribant, for their solo homers as Detroit overcame a 2-1 deficit.

The skirmish developed when McAuliffe fell to the ground after ducking a 3-2 pitch. The Tigers' second baseman charged toward John halfway between the plate and first base after an exchange of words.

"Anyone who thinks I'm going to throw at them on a 3-2 pitch leading 1-0 in this ball park must be stupid," said John later, emphasizing Tiger Stadium's reputation as haven for home run hitters.

McAuliffe, who is 5-foot-11, slammed into the 6-foot-3 pitcher with his body as players from both dugouts ran onto the field. McAuliffe and John grappled briefly on the ground, but the fight was quickly broken up and there were no additional incidents.

"His knee jammed into my shoulder. I had pain shooting from my shoulder to my neck," John said.

"He threw three pitches close to my head. The White Sox have been throwing at us for two years. I don't want to be a guinea pig. A guy can be hurt for life," said McAuliffe, who was not injured in the brief brawl.

John, who has a 10-5 record, will be lost to the ninth-place White Sox for from 10 days to three weeks with torn ligaments in his left shoulder, the Tigers' team physician, Dr. Russell Wright, estimated.

Detroit had scored in the first on singles by McAuliffe, Kaline and Horton. The White Sox took the lead in the fourth on a two-run homer by Tommy Davis.

The Tigers' scored the game's final run in the seventh on a single by pitcher Mickey Lolich, 12-7, a passed ball and a single by Mickey Stanley.

Mantle struck his milestone homer as a pinch hitter in the ninth inning. It was one of only three hits yielded by Jim Merritt. The Twins got all the runs they needed off Fritz Peterson in the first on Cesar Tovar's double, a run-scoring single by Rich Reese, a sacrifice and Bob Allison's single.

"The one I really want," said Mantle, "is homer No. 535." He added that he didn't think he could ever reach 580 homers, the current total of San Francisco's Willie Mays, who is second on the career list. The late Babe Ruth leads with 714.

Stan Williams and Vicente Romo combined for a three-hitter for the Indians. A throwing error by third baseman Joe Foy enabled two Cleveland runs to score in the third inning and another came home on Jose Cardenal's single. Jerry Adams accounted for the only Boston run with an eighth-inning homer.

Green's homer, his third in the season, broke up a pitching duel between Oakland's Jim Hunter, 10-11, and the Angels' Dennis Bennett, 0-1.

California grabbed a 1-0 lead in the sixth when Vic Davill singled in Jim Fregosi, who had singled with two out and moved to second on shortstop Ben Campaneris' throwing error.

But Oakland came back in the next inning when Green doubled, advanced to third on sacrifice by Hunter and scored on a squeeze bunt by Campaneris.

Hunter finished with a seven-hitter; Bennett yielded only six hits.

In the National League, Philadelphia beat St. Louis 7-3, Cincinnati trimmed Pittsburgh 7-3 and San Francisco defeated Los Angeles 3-1 in the only game scheduled.

Father-Son Golf Saturday

The First Annual Father-Son golf tournament will be held Saturday at the Brook Valley Country Club.

About 50 teams are expected to take part in the tournament, which is divided into two divisions. One division is for sons 16 and over, while the other is for sons under 16.

In each division, prizes will be awarded to the low best ball team and runner-up, and the low Callaway combined team score and runner-up. A total of 16 trophies will be awarded altogether.

A presentation ceremony will be held on the clubhouse patio following the completion of the tournament.

Chargers Expected To Be Improved This Year

By RON ROACH
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A new defense outlook and a pair of sophomore running backs hold keys to 1968 success for the San Diego Chargers in the American Football League.

Halfback Dick Post and fullback Brad Hubbert are the young runners whom Coach Sid Gillman hopes will pick up where they finished their 1967 rookie years—ranking fourth and fifth among AFL rushers.

Gillman also lists these reasons why the Chargers should improve on their 1967 third-place standing in the Western Division:

- We have greater purpose, a finer attitude and a few more people to help. We've changed design and changed coaching. The people we have now just want to do it."

A Charger championship? "We don't look that far ahead," says Sid.

Gillman brought in Chuck Weber from the Boston Patriots to help revamp the defensive secondary that was the league's worst a year ago.

The Chargers also have realigned the defensive line in an attempt to stage a better pass rush. Veterans Steve de Long and Houston Ridge are at the ends, while 6-foot-7 Ron Billingsley and veteran Scott Appleton are the tackles.

The No. 1 rookie—6-foot-6, 305-pound Russ Washington—is contending for a starting tackle job.

Middle linebacker Chuck Allen, in his eighth season, anchors a group depleted by the retirement of John Baker and departure of Frank Buncom to Cincinnati. Rick Redman and Jef Staggs serve as outside linebackers.

Cornerman Leslie Duncan and strong safety Ken Graham have returned, with sophomore pro Bobby Howard winning a corner job.

Rookies Jim Hill and Richard Farley and young pros Joe Beauchamp and Jim Tolbert are seeking the free safety position.

Offensively, the Chargers are loaded.

Veterans Paul Lowe and Gene

Foster have been pushing Post and Hubbert for varsity status as running backs.

Quarterback John Hadl, a seven-year pro who threw 24 touchdown passes in 1967, returns to aim aerials at a classy corps of receivers—Lance Alworth, Garry Garrison and Willie Frazier.

The offensive line, dubbed the protectors last year because it helped keep Hadl's uniform clean, is lead by All-Leaguers Ron Mix and Walt Sweeney.

Baker Wins In Columbia Race

COLUMBIA (AP)—Buck Baker, driving a 1968 Camaro, won the 200-lap Grand Touring race at Columbia Speedway Thursday night with an average speed of 60.78 miles per hour.

The veteran racer outlasted a three-car duel and an encounter with a spectator's car.

Tiny Lund, in a Mercury Cougar, Charlotte's Bud Moore also in a Camaro and Baker were locked in an early battle for the lead.

Transmission failure sidelined Moore, and Lund dropped out under orders from car owner Bud Moore of Spartanburg. Moore protested a NASCAR ruling which penalized Lund one lap for jumping the gun on a restart after the night's third caution flag.

Baker hit a spectator's car when the race fan tried to cross the track. No one was hurt but Baker experienced steering problems with his Camaro.

Until this season the New York Mets were unable to win more than three games in any one of seven campaigns in Los Angeles. This spring the Mets won four out of five games played in Dodger Stadium.

Jockey Bill Shoemaker, idle this summer with a broken femur bone, won his third race in 1949 at age 17.

We anticipate some squawks about our new sodium cable.

But we're glad to lend the utilities a hand in getting their electrical systems underground.

What we've done is invent a new kind of cable. We call it Nacon cable. It's made from sodium, the cheapest metal there is. Sodium's a light, excellent conductor. The only problem: it's reactive in water.

But we've found a way to enclose it in an extruded polyethylene tube. This plastic protects the sodium from moisture. And provides the insulation.

Result: a flexible, less expensive cable.

It's something we could do because we're so involved in both metals and plastics. And it's something that's helping make it feasible to put more and more electrical systems underground—so there's less and less clutter on the landscape.

Nacon cable is a discovery that ought to make everyone happy. Except the birds.

Dietz's Hit Wins For Perry In 9th

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Controversial Rich Allen says he would like to be traded—but he sure isn't behaving like a man who is unhappy with his present job.

For the fifth time this season, the feisty outfielder slammed two homers in one game, powering Philadelphia past St. Louis' National League leaders 7-3 Thursday night.

Rich made his statement about a possible trip to the trading block after drawing fire from Phil's owner Bob Carpenter following an alleged bar-room brawl.

Allen, who has been charged with assault and battery, said he thought the "best thing for me to do is to get out of town." Carpenter said that until Allen "grows up" he is likely to become involved in more incidents, adding that he would prefer to have Allen doing his growing up in a Phil's uniform, but "anybody's dealable."

In the only other National League game, Cincinnati came from behind to edge Pittsburgh 7-5 and Dick Dietz singled in a pair of runs with two out in the ninth to give San Francisco a 3-1 victory over Los Angeles.

Minnesota stopped New York 3-1. Cleveland halted Boston 3-1. Detroit nipped Chicago 4-2 and Oakland slipped past California 2-1 in the American League.

Washington and Baltimore were not scheduled.

Allen, whose feud with Gene Mauch earlier this season was blamed for Mauch's ouster as Philadelphia manager, smacked his first homer in the third, a solo blast, in helping his team to a 4-2 lead. He followed with its 27th of the season in the eighth after Roberto Pena singled.

St. Louis grabbed an early 2-1 lead off winner Chris Short, 13-11, but the Phils retaliated with two runs in the second.

He went the distance, scattering 10 hits. "The thing that really helped me was my control," said Short. "I made only three or four pitches where I didn't want them."

Dietz's winning hit stopped a dandy pitching battle between the Giants' Gaylord Perry, 12-11, and Los Angeles' Don Sutton, 5-13.

Sutton retired the first 13 batters he faced before issuing a fifth-inning walk to Jim Hart, who scored on singles by Dietz and Jesus Alou.

Sutton finished with a four-hitter while Perry, touched for a run in the fifth on Tom Haller's single, scattered nine hits.

The Pirates had taken a 2-0 lead in the first and increased it to 4-0 in the second on a two-run double by Matty Alou.

Pete Rose's two-run double highlighted a four-run Reds' outburst in the bottom of the second, but Pittsburgh regained the lead in the sixth on Fred Patek's RBI single.

Three Things Must Happen For Citadel

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor
(Third of a series)

For The Citadel to have a successful season, according to Coach Red Parker, three things must occur.

1) Tailback Jim McMillian, the top runner on the team, must stay healthy all season. Last year he was injured with three games left to play, and The Citadel was crushed in each of those last outings, by William and Mary, Richmond and Furman. During the off-season, McMillian had surgery to correct a bad shoulder, and Parker feels that this will solve his problems.

2) The Citadel must come up with a good fullback. Joe Beidenbaugh, a 6-0, 190-pound junior, currently is the top candidate for the spot. "He can be a fine player," Parker said. "He has no great ability, but he has fine speed and finesse and hustle. Unfortunately, he may prove to be injury prone."

3) The Citadel must come up with a defense which can rush the passer. "We just can't give the opponents the time they had to pass against us last year, if we expect to win," Parker said. "If these three conditions are met, then 'we could be a contender for the championship,' Parker feels.

The kicking game of The Citadel will be up to its usual high peak. "We've got Jim Gahagan back, and he should be at his best. We feel that the coverage and return game will also be improved."

"We have a lot of overall experience on defense, and we should be very tough there," Parker said. The brightest spot on the defense should be right

On offense, The Citadel has 10 of 11 starters back. Only one tackle has to be replaced. "We have better speed and quickness, but we are small inside. We have no proven fullback and we've just got to keep McMillian healthy."

One of the big differences in this year's offense is that the outside receivers figure to be good, with Gene Shields and John Griest at the ends, and Gene Hightower at flanker. "Highower could break all receiving records at The Citadel. He has very good speed and is hard to cover."

At quarterback, however, will be a new face, Tony Passander. He beat out returning Jay Goolsby during spring practice, when Jay was hurt. "Jay may come back and beat him out, but I just don't think he will now," Parker said. "Passander took every snap during spring practice, and he improved tremendously. He's a fine thrower."

Parker feels that a "standardization" is needed on scholarships. "We should set a standard above that of the highest school in the conference, then that will give the rest of us a goal to look forward to, and it will not penalize the best among us," he said.

Parker also came out in full favor of a round robin for the conference. "It's ridiculous for a school to say they have scheduling problems when there are members of the conference whom they are not playing. It would only take six games and still leave four outside contexts to play, and you'd have a true champion."

Returning to his team, Parker said, "We could be real good this year, we're very near to breaking through. Depth could be our only real problem, as we're starting no sophomores, and using them entirely as our depth."

"But overall, it still goes back to those three points, keeping McMillian healthy, finding a fullback and rushing the passer. That's what will determine how we do."

Injury-Prone Wysong Is Leader In Philadelphia

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — After listening to Dudley Wysong list his troubles since he turned professional five years ago, the question appeared to be not would he hold his first-round lead in the $100,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic but would he finish.

Wysong's history is loaded with major ailments that have kept him from realizing his full potential on the tour. He's suffered a whiplash injury, at one time was in traction with a bad back and also damaged the ulnar nerve in his right hand.

If it wasn't for his seven-under par 65 Thursday in the opening round of the 72-hole Philadelphia tournament, you might be tempted to take up a collection to help pay Wysong's medical insurance.

Talking about his hand injury, he said, "I couldn't even lift a glass of water."

The one thing he could lift in Thursday's round was a putter. Wysong splattered his wood and iron shots all over the tight, 6,708-yard Whitemarsh Valley Country Club course. But once he reached the greens, it was all over except for picking the ball out of the cup.

Wysong had a round of seven birdies, rolling in putts of four, two, 12, four, 11, eight and 25 feet. Several long putts saved pars for the 28-year-old native of McKinney, Tex. All he could say in explaining how an average putter turned tigerish on the green was, "I had the feel, and when you feel you're going to make a putt, nine times out of 10 you do."

Wysong led 44-year-old Al Balding of California and 20-year-old Bobby Cole of South Africa by two strokes as the field of 156 started the day's second round today.

Balding, who has been recovering from a shoulder operation, shot 33-34-67 while Cole, 1967 British Amateur champion who joined the tour last year, scored a 34-33-67.

Another stroke back at 69 was a group headed by Billy Casper, the tour's top money-winner. Casper shot 33-35-68 and was one of 57 to shatter par on the usually tough Whitemarsh layout.

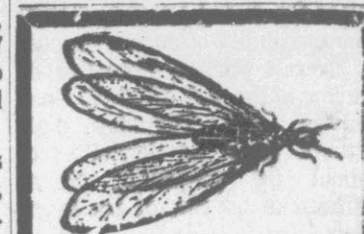

Deadlocked with Casper were Bobby Nichols, 33-35; Billy Maxwell, 34-34; Gay Brewer, 34-34; rookie Jerry Abbott, 35-33; 53-year-old Jim Ferrier, 35-33; Charlie Sifford, 35-33, and Bobby Stanton, 37-31.

Lee Trevino, U.S. Open champion, fired a 33-36-69 and was one of nine at three-under-par.

This group included England's Tony Jacklin, Dave Stockton, rookie star Bob Lunn and Bob Murphy, the first year hotshot who came within a stroke of tying last week's Westchester Classic.

Among the other big names, defending champion Dan Sikes had a 34-37-71, PGA king Julius Boros, winner at Westchester, had a 34-37-71, PGA King Julius 37-36-73, Tom Weiskopf, No. 3 money-winner, 38-35-73, and George Archer, 38-36-74.

Site of the 1969 ABC bowling tournament will be the new circular Dane County Memorial Coliseum on beautiful Lake Monona. The coliseum overlooks the Wisconsin state capital building at Madison.

All-U.S. Net Final Assured

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — An all-United States men's singles final appeared a sure bet today in America's bid to regain the national amateur tennis championship after 12 years of frustration.

U.S. Davis Cup stars Arthur Ashe and Clark Graebner packed the biggest wallops, but unseeded Bob Lutz of Los Angeles and Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., refused to be counted out entering the eighth day of the 88th national championships at Longwood.

Ashe, an Army lieutenant, top-seeded on the basis of his brilliant Davis Cup play this year, was favored to defeat Alan Stone, 22, Australia's fifth-ranked player, in a quarter-final match today.

A victory by Ashe would result in an all-American semifinal round, sending him against McManus. Lutz was set to meet the second-seeded Graebner in a semifinal about the same time as the Ashe-Stone match.

There has not been an all-U.S. final since Tony Trabert defeated Vic Seixas in 1953. Trabert repeated as champion two years later, but since then Australia has captured the title 10 times and Mexico and Spain once each.

Ashe, Graebner and McManus posted straight set victories in advancing Thursday and Lutz, a Southern California student who will be 21 next Thursday, pulled his second major upset with 24 hours. Lutz, noted more as a doubles player, followed his upset of American star Cliff Richey by ousting South Africa's Bob Hewitt, the top-seeded foreign player, 9-7, 1-6, 6-3, 6-2.

In women's singles, Maria Bueno, 28, of Brazil, bidding for a fifth U.S. title, marked time after moving into the final round with a 4-6, 7-5, 6-2 victory over England's Virginia Wade.

Miss Bueno, who has won 546 championships in her career, will meet the winner of today's semifinal between Margaret Smith Court of Australia and unheralded Cecilia Martinez of San Francisco.

Mrs. Court, the top-seeded foreign woman who was upset by Miss Bueno in the Essex Invitational last Sunday, advanced with a 1-6, 6-2, 6-2, victory over Vicky Rogers of Rye, N.Y., while unseeded Miss Martinez ousted Linda Tuero of Metairie, La., 6-2, 8-5 in their quarter-final.

Arizona State University will play seven night football games this fall. Six of these will be at home.

Goose Season May Be Cut

RALEIGH (AP) — The North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission plans to ask the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service to shorten the goose hunting season and raise the daily bag limit to two birds.

The commission met in special session Thursday to consider the federal agency's action in setting North Carolina's season at 50 days with a one-geese-a-day limit.

The commission planned to ask for a 40-day season with the two-geese limit. Last year the season ran seven days with a two-geese daily limit but the Wildlife Service reported the goose population is dwindling.

Joining Small are experienced Jackie Zorn at the other linebacker position, Eddie Watkins at left tackle, Ken Diaz at right end and Joe Isaac at the left halfback slot. "Zorn is small (5-8, 178), but he hits you very hard," Parker said. "Isaac was All-Conference and Watkins was second team All-Conference, he just needs to be meaner. Diaz is very good, he keeps his feet well and is almost impossible to bring down. All of the starters have experience, and we just need to rush the passer

On offense, The Citadel has 10 of 11 starters back. Only one tackle has to be replaced. "We have better speed and quickness, but we are small inside. We have no proven fullback and we've just got to keep McMillian healthy."

Hopes Of Freeing Pueblo Men Diminished

By SPENCER DAVIS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The 82 officers and men of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo began their eighth month of imprisonment in North Korea today with the Czech crisis thought to diminish any chances of an early release.

The outlook for release of the Americans already was dimmed because of hard-line demands by the North Koreans for a formal U.S. apology for the Pueblo action in allegedly infringing on their territorial waters.

Diplomats here said the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia and the resultant strain on East-West relations hardly made it likely for a quick agreement on the Pueblo.

Pro-Moscow Premier Kim Il-Sung of North Korea, who praised the Soviet intervention of Czechoslovakia, has threatened repeatedly to try the Pueblo crew for spying, but he has set no date.

No blanket U.S. apology is in sight.

South Korea's ambassador to Washington, Kim Dong-Jo, predicted that the Soviet use of force to crush Czech liberalism would have the effect of stiffening Kim and his military-minded cabinet beyond their present hard line.

"As long as Kim Il-Sung is retained in power there is no hope to liberalize the North Korean regime nor gain the release of the Pueblo and its crew," Kim said in an interview.

Winthrop Brown, acting assistant secretary of state, the head of a special U.S. task force on the Pueblo at the State Department, refused to comment on U.S. efforts to obtain the help of Moscow in releasing the men but he conceded the situation is frustrating.

"We believe and hope that patient discussion and negotiation eventually will secure their release," Brown said.

As for a U.S. apology, the United States remains prepared to have the case examined by an impartial international body. When the crew is released and free to talk and if the testimony shows the Pueblo was inside

North Korean territorial waters, then the United States will take appropriate action, Brown said. For the last 45 days North Korea has either sidestepped or completely ignored U.S. requests for a 20th meeting at Panmunjom to discuss secretly the release of the men and the ship. The 19th session was held July 9. The present interval is the longest gap in negotiations since the Pueblo, loaded with highly sensitive electronic listening devices, was seized in the Sea of Japan.

Border Belt Volume Heavy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Volume of flue-cured tobacco offered for sale on the South Carolina-Border North Carolina Belt Thursday continued extremely heavy with prices showing scattered gains and losses of from $1 to $3 per hundred.

The Federal State Market News Service said losses were more noticeable for unripe variegated grades of leaf.

Quality of offerings showed little change with low and fair leaf, fair lugs and low and fair primings making up the bulk of the sales.

The news service said most markets already have tobacco for Monday's sales on warehouse floors. The markets will be closed Friday.

Sales Wednesday totaled 10,256,103 pounds and brought growers an average of $68.61 per hundred, down 63 cents from Tuesday. Season sales now stand at 139,636,139 pounds for a $68.87 average.

Deliveries to the Stabilization Corp. under the government price support program totaled 8.4 per cent of Wednesday's sales.

Southern Cars Are Derailed

TRYON, N.C. (AP) — Police said today that six cars and a middle engine of a southbound Southern Railway freight train derailed about 6 a.m. inside the town limits.

No one was reported injured. Patrolman R. I. Capps said coal from overturned cars spilled coal into Lockhart Road, stalling vehicular traffic.

The train was reported descending an incline en route from Asheville to Spartanburg, S.C. A middle engine was described as a diesel locomotive placed midway of long trains.

Says Systems Can Cooperate

RALEIGH (AP)—J. O. Tally Jr., general counsel for North Carolina's Electric-Cities State Association, says municipally owned electric systems and rural electric cooperatives can operate in a "continuing partnership" in the public interest.

Tally spoke Thursday at the closing session of the Tar Heel Electric Membership Association and North Carolina Electric Membership Corp. meeting in Raleigh.

Scott Calls For Riot Training

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP) — North Carolina Lt. Gov. Bob Scott says his state's local governments should "send their key law enforcement officers to Ft. Gordon" for riot control training.

Scott visited Ft. Gordon's civil community, "Riotsville, U.S.A.," at the Army post Thursday for a demonstration in the mockup disturbance orientation course and a briefing on riot control.

Last Prisoner Is Captured

BREVARD, N. C. (AP)—Authorities have captured the last of the four prisoners who used a hack saw to escape from the Transylvania County jail Tuesday.

Wayne Boley, 23, of Rosman, was arrested Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Ed Owen. The exact location of the capture was withheld for security reasons, officers said.

Hailed As The 'Pope Of Hope'

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
"Associated Press Writer
BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Pope Paul VI was hailed as the Pope of hope by thousands of Colombians who watched with emotion as the pontiff kissed the soil when first setting foot in this part of the world.

Many wept Thursday as they witnessed this act of humility by the Pope and proclaimed it the crowning moment of his historic visit.

The pontiff journeys by helicopter today to a meeting with thousands of Latin-American peasants in a huge meadow called San Jose Field, outside the village of Mosquera 18 miles from Bogota.

His address is expected to be of far-reaching significance. The Catholic hierarchy is already on record stressing that the Church will take a more active role in the effort to help Latin America's impoverished millions.

The 70-year-old pontiff's welcome Thursday was described as the most tumultuous of his six trips abroad. Cries of "Viva El Papa!" resounded wherever he went in this Colombian capital. Some exclaimed: "He's truly a Pope of hope!"

The long day of papal activities, witnessed by hundreds of thousands of Colombian and foreign pilgrims, ended at 8 p.m. with the ordination of 161 priests and 41 deacons.

In a way, this ceremony underlined the Church's efforts to bolster its thinning ranks in Latin America. A source close to the Pope's party said many of the new priests were under the required minimum age of 24 years and had not fully completed their studies.

The deacons were the first to receive the lowest form of sacerdotal orders which allow them to administer many sacraments but not say Mass or hear confessions. Four of them are married. Their ordination allows priests to devote more time to other functions.

Martin Says State Should Take Welfare

In the face of increasing county appropriations for welfare programs, Chairman of the Pitt County commissioners, R. L. Martin, said "It's time for the State to take this program over because of the counties' limited tax base. We need to put our money in other places — like hospitals, airports, and garbage collection."

Martin referred to the expanded welfare programs that have been approved by Congress and are slated to become operational in 1969. According to Martin, the new programs will require some counties to double their annual welfare appropriations. Martin said that local governments have little or no control of present welfare administration, yet they contribute sizable amounts of money to support these programs.
