Early Prices Averaged Near The $70 Mark

By RONALD GOLLOBIN

The 1968 Greenville tobacco market opened at 9:00 sharp this morning with early prices averaging close to the $70 mark.

After a welcome by Greenville's Mayor Eugene West, the sale got underway and proceeded at a brisk pace.

N.C. Commissioner of Agriculture Jim Graham said at Farmer's Warehouse, "This is a real good break of tobacco here this morning. This particular house is selling real well. I hope that it is generally this good all over. The tobacco here looks to be a little better quality than on the border belt."

Speaking about the changes in the marketing procedures this year Graham said, "It is good to see the innovations working. The pre-sheeting, the receiving system, and the booking looks like it is running quite smoothly, and this will mean an orderly marketing for the producers, warehousemen, and for the whole industry."

Horace D Godfrey, administrator for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in Washington, D.C., said, "It is a good smoking crop. These new procedures such as the pre-sheeting have really been effective. There is hardly any clutter on the floor. Warehouses have been computerized so to speak, with their plastic marketing card.

Godfrey went on to say, "Tobacco is not a way of life in eastern North Carolina, but life itself.

"It is real important that a tobacco program operates successfully as it is doing now, and has done in the past."

W. Arthur Tripp, one of the owners of the big Farmer's Warehouse said, "Sales are looking good up to now. I'd guess we are going to average around $68 to $70 today."

Tripp said that the new procedures have saved quite a bit of time. "With the pre-sheeting, the tobacco is moving off the sales floor a lot faster, and without losing as much tobacco." Tripp explained that in previous years, a sheet had to be thrown over a pile of tobacco and then it had to be turned over on the sheet and then loaded onto a truck.

In reference to the automated receiving system that Farmer's, along with four other warehouses, installed, Tripp said that 1,600 piles had been unloaded in approximately three hours. "Previously, it had been taking us all day and all night to unload and floor the same amount of tobacco."

The comments of farmers watching their tobacco sold, seemed to fall into one of two categories. One group of farmers said that prices they had received for their tobacco was right around what they had anticipated.

The other group of farmers expressed disappointment in tobacco prices. One grower said, "What they are buying now is the middle of the stalk. When they start buying the other parts, they ain't going to give you nothing for it."

Overall, most farmers questioned seemed pleased with tobacco prices.

W. E. McMahan, in charge of the sheets at Farmer's Warehouse, said, "We're unloading about 350 sheets per hour. We've got 16 laborers this year where there were around 40 last year." McMahan said that the farmers stays in his truck this year instead of having to help unload and move tobacco as was the practice in previous years.

McMahan said that the change to standard sheeting had gone "a lot smoother than I would have thought it would have."

Up until 10:30 the highest price was $78 per 100 pounds, with $42 per 100 pounds as the lowest.

W.L. Whedbee, supervisor of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade, said that the market's demand is "very strong," and that "quality is very good."

Whedbee had previously predicted a $70 average for the Greenville opening date.

Everybody Seems Pleased With Belt's Opening

WILSON, N. C. (AP) — The first two hours of flue-cured tobacco sales brought an estimated price average of $70 per hundred pounds as the big Eastern North Carolina Belt opened its auction season today.

"Everybody seems to be well pleased with what they are getting," said Joseph Lilley, a farmer of near Williamston. Lilley, who has seven farms and 24 acres of tobacco, sold 4,600 pounds on the Greenville market for "way better than $70 a pound."

He said, "I am well pleased. The tobacco was graded better than I expected. The quality of our crop as a whole is better than last year."

Another grower, W. F. Woolar of Beaufort County sold 1,652 pounds at Greenville for an average of $68 to $77. He said, "I thought it was real good, better than I expected."

In contrast to the recent hot weather, it was comfortable inside the warehouses as a large crowd followed the auctioneer and a group of buyers. Alton Boswell, sales superviser of the Wilson market, said, "The sale looks mighty good. It will average $70 or better. I'm keeping my fingers crossed that the belt will average more than $70.

Prince Sutton, a Pitt County farmer, sold 3,500 pounds of bottom leafs or lugs at an average of between $70 and $76. He commented, "It sold real good. I'm happy with it."

Cornelius Johnson of Rt. 3, Snow Hill, sold 3,000 pounds of lugs for an average of $72. He told a newsman, "I didn't expect that much. I'm real pleased with it."

The quality of the opening tobacco was generally good with a mixture of lugs, primings, leafs and a few tips.

The Federal - State Market News Service reported an estimated general average of $69 to $70 per hundred on early sales at several markets.

Prices for most baskets ranged from $67 to $74, the news service said, with selected baskets of good quality lugs and cutters bringing $77.

Receipts of the Stabilization Corp. by markets were estimated at 10 to 20 per cent of the early sales, compared to 3.9 per cent on opening day last year.

Volume of sales was reported heavy.

Prices of a few grades ranged as follows: Cutters low lemon C5L mostly $76. Lugs X4L $71-$74. Lugs X5F $68-$69. Primings: P4L $68-$70; P5L $64-P4F 68-$70; P5F $65-$68. Nondescript N1L $64-$67.

Need 'Right People' For Farm Issues

"As long as we can keep the right people in Washington on an elected basis, we will continue to have a good farm program," Horace D. Godfrey said this morning.

Godfrey, administrator for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, was on hand for the opening of the Greenville Tobacco market located in the big Eastern Belt.

"There are four major issues that are important to the people in this country. They are the war in Vietnam, law and order, civil rights, and farm programs. The two major parties have no real difference between them on the first three. There is a real difference between them on the fourth issue-the farm programs.

"The Republicans are trying to kill the farm programs, and always have. Look at their voting record.'

"The Food and Agriculture Act of 1965 passed the House with only 21 Republican votes."

Sanford Is Interested In VP Slot

CHARLOTTE (AP)— Former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford says he is interested in the Democratic vice presidential nomination and if offered would accept it eagerly.

Sanford, in an interview with The Charlotte News, said he wanted to avoid giving the impression that "I am sitting around waiting and expecting" the nomination.

"But," he added, "it would be a great thing."

Sanford is attending the Democratic National Convention in Chicago as a delegation liaison man for Vice President Hubert Humphrey, the front runner for the presidential nomination.

The former governor is one of several men Humphrey has mentioned as a vice presidential possibility.

In the interview with News staff writer Bill Chaze, Sanford said he didn't want to put any pressure on Humphrey to name him as a running mate, "because I don't want to add to his burden."

In the past weeks, Sanford has been silent on the prospects of his nomination.

Barbara Ann Moye of Rt. 1, Box 388, Greenville was shot with a .22 calibre pistol around 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Sheriff Ralph Tyson reported.

She was injured at her home near Piney Grove Church and was taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital where she was admitted in serious condition.

The sheriff's department arrested Milton Coward, 18, of Rt. 1, Greenville on charges of assault with a deadly weapon and possession of a pistol without a permit. Coward was placed in Pitt County jail under $300 bond.

Warring Demos Set To Open Convention Under Heavy Security

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey fought off raids on his fortified position as frontrunner while warring Democrats prepared to open their 1968 convention tonight to choose a presidential nominee behind barbed wire and walks of police.

Floor battles loomed on three fronts, including the crucial question of peace in Vietnam, before the 2,622 delegates make their White House choice Wednesday night.

Convention eve produced only minor fluctuations in the delegate strength of Humphrey and his main rivals, Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota and George S. McGovern of South Dakota, despite a day of maneuvering among the major states.

Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago delayed until Wednesday any final decision on where he will lead the 118-vote Illinois delegation. Illinois Atty. Gen. William G. Clark endorsed McGovern, but said he spoke only for himself.

California Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, heading the 174-vote delegation won by the late Robert F. Kennedy, said it would be difficult for him to support Humphrey, but added it would be impossible for the group to band unanimously behind any one candidate.

Humphrey's supporters seemed to make up some of this contested ground with the forecast by Frank P. O'Conner, head of the New York City Council, that the vice president will get about 100 of his state's 190 votes on the first ballot.

An Associated Press poll of firmly committed or pledged delegates credited Humphrey with 889½ votes, McCarthy 476¾ and McGovern 37½ toward the minimum of 1,312 needed for the nomination. Another 785¾ were uncommitted, with favorite sons and scattered other candidates holding 432½.

The convention began clearing away the preliminaries tonight in an atmosphere of a maximum security stockade at the Stockyards International Amphitheatre.

Delegates and alternates were outnumbered by troops 4-to-1.

Six thousand federal troops have been airlifted into Chicago to back up 18,000 Illinois National Guardsmen ready to combat any racial flareup or antiwar violence.

Farmville Market Opened With A Full Sale

FARMVILLE — There was a full sale here this morning, according to Louis Williams, head of the Farmville Tobacco Board of Trade.

"The sale consists of lugs, some primings, and a few nondescript grades which are in less demand than the lower part of the stalk," Williams said.

"The buying pattern seems to be a continuation of last year's, in which the lower part of the stalk is preferred over the upper part of the stalk."

Williams said that the high sale was $77 and that $55 was the low. He predicted an average at around $68 to $69 for the opening day.

Greene County Wreck Injures Five Marines

SNOW HILL — Five young Marines were injured, two critically, in a one-car automobile crash three miles north of Snow Hill on Highway 58 at 3:45 a.m. Monday.

P. C. Eure, Highway Patrol investigating officer, identified the five as Jerald J. Comire, Layman H. Schley, Lamont Kingsberry, John Darden and Patrick J. Traynor. Comire was listed as the operator of the vehicle.

The injured Marines were transported to Seymour-Johnson Air Force Base in Goldsboro by members of the rescue squads of Snow Hill and Shine communities. Of the five, only one, John Darden, remained in Seymour-Johnson for medical attention. Schley and Kingsberry were airlifted by helicopter to the medical center at Fort Bragg. Traynor was taken by ambulance to Duke University Hospital.

The investigating officer said the car traveled 147 feet out of control. The car went across a traffic island 75 feet wide hit a ditch, and was tossed another 30 feet, coming to rest on its top. Traynor, riding in the front seat, was pinned down and had to be freed before he could be removed by rescue workers.

Patrolman Eure stated no charges are being filed until the official investigation is completed.

Demos Eye The Audience Rating

Now it is the Democrats' turn to hold the national spotlight for the better part of a week.

From convention hall in Chicago they will try to put on a better show, gain better audience ratings and come up with a better combination than did the GOP from convention hall in Miami.

How successful they are in achieving these goals may not really be known until after the votes are counted on November 5, for that is the real focal point of all the political activity — televised and otherwise — between now and then.

Although there may be some effort to improve the convention's movement this week from the standpoint of the teleevision audiences, there is certain to be renewed criticism over all the delays, boring speeches, inattentive delegates on the floor, demonstrations that consume time and many other things which were criticized during the Republican convention.

The very fact that these are all much a part of a national political convention shouldn't be overlooked by those who have been prone to criticize. Producers' wishes to the contrary, political conventions are not meant to conform to a script writer's logical execution of events or to a director's determination to follow the timetable. The conventions are, first of all, conventions and only secondly are they television spectaculars.

Whether the Democrats will be able to provide more surprises and excitement than the Republicans is at this point a matter of conjecture. The potential is there, as it was in the GOP convention, but whether it materializes is quite another matter.

Back-To-School Time Is A Time For Care

This week a familiar fleet of several thousand orange buses will return to the highways of the state, carrying their daily cargo of North Carolina's most precious possession, its children.

These buses and the thousands of youngsters who ride them each day give motorists another good reason to drive more carefully.

Over the years North Carolina has been fortunate in the excellent safety record of its school buses. There are some accidents each year, and occasionally a serious one. But injuries and loss of life in transporting these youngsters millions of passenger miles every year have been kept at a remarkably low level. This is attributable in part to the excellent drivers—many of them students—who operate school buses. Another major factor, however, is that motorists of the state have also exercised extreme caution where the school buses are concerned. Motorists have taken a personal interest in the safety of the buses and their students.

It is not enough for motorists to take for granted that this will be another safe year for North Carolina school buses. Each driver should make it his personal business to see that it is another safe year.

Chicago Center Of Attention

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES

RALEIGH — For the next few days political attention in North Carolina and the nation will be focussed on Chicago and the Democratic national convention.

As with the Republicans in Miami Beach earlier this month, it may develop that the delegation from North Carolina will be spotlighted and perhaps cast into a key role.

It carries an important 59 votes in an air of uncertainty, coolness toward the major candidates and possible division. It is pledged to a "favorite son", Gov. Dan K. Moore, until released and it is becoming more and more apparent that the "favorite son" delegations probably hold the balance of power for a first ballot nomination.

Humphrey Favored

If and when it is released, it appears that Vice President Hubert Humphrey would be an overwhelming but not an enthusiastic choice among the North Carolina delegates.

This could shift — just as there was a shift in the North Carolina GOP delegation at Miami Beach to 16 votes for Reagan two weeks ago. But according to a check of key delegation sources any shift would depend upon late, convention-eve developments.

Factors Involved

It could depend upon what is decided about the challenge filed on behalf of Negroes led by Dr. Reginald Hawkins against racial makeup of the North Carolina delegation. It might hinge on whether the so - called "boomlet" for choosing former Gov. Terry Sanford as a vice presidential nominee expands.

It might also be affected by the mood and sway of the convention itself as the balloting begins — whether it appears that Humphrey will be a certain first ballot winner or be stalemated.

"There may be alternatives which we cannot foresee," one delegation leader said. "I would not want to predict at this point what might happen."

The Humphrey forces, however, are counting on North Carolina votes if needed to clinch a first ballot victory and have held out the plum of considering Sanford for the No. 2 spot on the ticket. This, of course, has increased pro-Humphrey activity among Sanford supporters in and around the delegation.

East's View

Dr. John East of Greenville believes Gov. Ronald Reagan of California might have won the Republican presidential nomination if a few more Southern states "had broken ranks and gone over."

East does not consider this as "anti-Nixon" sentiment but rather that "our feeling was that Reagan is a stronger candidate, a stronger campaigner than Nixon and would have a better chance."

He points out that Reagan won the governorship of California against Democrat Pat Brown by a million vote majority while Nixon was defeated by Brown, losing by 300,000 votes.

"We felt that Reaganwould have given zest and vigor to the Republican party vitally needed to win against the Democratic party in a presidential campaign," East said.

Inside the State

East, an associate professor of political science at East Carolina College and a GOP political candidate, felt that two southerners, Sens. John Tower of Texas and Storm Thurmond of South Carolina, held the South for Nixon.

However, he said he feels that the "new Republican" element in Eastern North Carolina is closer to Reagan than Nixon.

At 40, He Is Empire-Builder

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Pistell, a big game hunter who looks like a pro football linebacker, at 40 has bulled his way to prominence as one of the more fabulous figures of Wall Street.

At 16 he was an ordinary seaman. At 30 he was a millionaire. Today, as a corporate empire builder, he seems to acquire new firms almost with the ease of a man picking up a dropped penny.

"I read investment reports with the same enjoyment most people get out of novels," he remarked.

The self - made son of a Buffalo finance company owner, Dick became angry after graduating from high school in 1944 and found none of the armed services would take him because of his youth. He promptly joined the Merchant Marine.

HAL BOYLE

"In the next 3½ years I sailed every sea in the world and worked up to purser," he said. "It was one of the greatest things that ever happened to me. You learn about life, see the world, and make your own way."

Back ashore, the bulky youth — Dick is still fast on his feet at 245 pounds —began to set records as a door-to-door insurance salesman. Then he switched to a Manhattan - based underwriting firm and in a few short years made a fortune and won a reputation as a financial advisor and doctor to sick companies.

Pistell's chief seat of power now is the chairmanship of his parent concern, the Goldfield Corp., successor to a mining company the later Bernard M. Baruch helped found in 1906.

"I started in 1961 with a $5,000 investment and took control after a proxy battle," Dick recalled. "The shares then were worth $2 million. Now they're worth about $100 million. That's not a bad parlay."

Working out from that company base, Pistell has spread his financial network into General Host, $200 - million-a-year firm which bosses a chain of bakeries, tourist resorts, and several hundred convenience stores. He is also involved in a Caribbean airline and extensive mining interests in Canada and the United States.

Dick's latest venture is the acquisition by purchase or option of a 10 per cent interest in Armour & Co., the 32nd largest corporation in America, which dots a $2.4 billion annual business in food packing, medicines and other enterprises. That may turn out to be the biggest big game hunt of his life.

Pistell plays as hard as he works. He likes deep sea fishing, has made six safaris to Africa, in 1964 shot an eight-foot tiger in Nepal—"the largest bagged there in 50 years."

What is the secret of his business success?

"Luck, enthusiasm, determination, persistence," he replied. "You can't afford to get discouraged If you have common sense and persistence, there is very little you can't do.

"You also have to develop a knack of picking the right people and an ability to feel a situation or a trend ahead of time—such as the swing to convenience foods and tourism. That's a sixth sense in a way.

"But success and victory usually go with enjoyment of what you do. My work is my real life and pleasure."

Dick is an apostle of the businessman as artist.

"An artist is creative," he said. "But so is a businessman. Businessmen are often

ART BUCHWALD

Put The Losers In Jail

CHICAGO — The American method of selecting a President has been under criticism this year. There are charges that it is cumbersome and out of date. I believe there is something to be said for beefing up the American presidential elections, and I think I know how it could be done.

We should take a leaf from our devoted allies, the South Vietnamese, who are not only practicing democracy as we taught it to them, but who are adding a few innovataions of their own.

For example, in the last presidential election the South Vietnamese chose Nguyen Van Thieu as their president, and he was duly sworn in. But the man who ran against him and came in second, Truong Dinh Dzu, was given five years in jail.

The reason Dzu was given five years was that he ran on a peace ticket and advocated some sort of detente with the Viet Cong.

President Thieu's way of dealing with his opposition could easily be adapted to our own political system.

If we applied the Thieu election method, it would not only eliminate many candidates who weren't serious about the office, but it would add a lot of excitement to the presidential race. A candidate for President would know that he would either wind up in the White House if he won, or behind bars if he lost. This would give him an added incentive to fight for the job.

I have always believed that we in the United States have let our losers off to easily after a presidential election. Even though a man has been ignominously defeated at the polls, he is still treated by his party as a statesman.

We saw in Miami Beach where the Republicans not only cheered Barry Goldwater, a man who took them down the long road to defeat in 1964, but gave a standing ovation to Thomas Dewey, the two-time loser who showed so much courage in 1948 when he refused to shave off his mustache, knowing it would cost him the election.

And this year, the Republicans went so far as to renominate Richard Nixon, a man who not only lost a presidential election, but a governor's contest as well.

This could never have happened if we used the South Vietnamese democratic system of electing national figures. If they lived in Vietnam, Dewey would have received 10 years, Goldwater 5 and Nixon would probably still be breaking rocks on a chain gang.

The Republicans, like it or come up with somebody new.

The Democrats would also be on a spot. I wonder if presidential candidate Hubert Humphrey would talk as much about the "politics of joy" if he knew he'd have to do 5 years at Leavenworth. And Gene McCarthy certainly wouldn't take this campaign so lightly if he were aware that his Dovish stand on Vietnam sould earn him a court-martial. Even George

A Tense Situation

(Washington, N. C. Daily News)

We have come to a rather tense situation in America when policemen in a big city must be outfitted with special helmets which will protect them from flying objects such a sbrick-bats and bottles.

The announcement that all New York City policemen will be outfitted with such helmets is a recognition that a sort of war must exist between the law and the lawless. New York city has 28,000 policemen. Already aoubt a fourth of the number has been outfitted with such helmets. Another 6,000 are on order and will be received and put to ue shortly.

If we understand correctly, these new helmets will shield the face, head, and neck. It is a rather sad commentary to have to make that in America today the big cities are realizing that extra protection must be given to those charged with the responsibilities of protecting its own citizens.

We would suppose that shortly other cities will follow the example of New York city.

While do we not in any manner criticize any decision to give lawmen better protection, we do say that the emphasis ought to be placed first on better law and order, swifter justice of violators, and a greater appreciation by the public on why we have lawmen and what their everyday role is in American life.

The lawman protects all people of all races, all creeds, all religions, and in all walks of life. Now before he can protect us, we must first five him greater protection.

That very announcement seems to indicate a state of uncertainty and a state of uneasiness among big city officials.

NATO Session Talked

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Proposals for an immediate conference in Europe of North Atlantic Treaty heads of state are now under White House study as the best Western response possible to the Soviet rape of Czechoslovakia.

Not only would such a meeting be used to demonstrate the unrequited anger of the West. More important, it could also be the catalyst for reviving the old post-war alliance now worn thin by General Charles de Gaulle's repeated breaks with Anglo American policy and by U.S. preoccupation with Vietnam.

Except for a few relatively minor U. S. actions — terminating the new air routt between New York and Moscow, recessing all disarmament talks and delaying the new Soviet consular offices here — the U. S. is virtually helpless. Furthermore, policy-makers are dismally uninformed about the depth and intentions of the new cold war policy that has taken control of the Kremlin. Although it has been officially denied, the fact is that the Soviet Union was specifically warned that a Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia would abruptly reverse the slow, agonizing effort by the Johnson administration to reach some kind of detente. The warning was taken to the Kremlin by Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen, the U. S.-Soviet expert, when he flew to Moscow on the inaugural New York-Moscow flight this summer.

Quite apart from that warning, estimates by unimpeachable Communist-bloc sources put the odds on invasion in early July at considerably better than even. A major reason behind this assessment by Czech sympathizers within the Communist bloc was the Kremlin's unpublicized fear that the disease of freedom was spreading. It was beginning to infect the Soviet Union itself, specifically the Ukrainian southwest, which borders the eastern tip of Czechoslovacia and northern Rumania — another wayward satellite.

When Moscow summoned its satellites to Warsaw last month to decide how to punish Alexander Dubcek, the heretical head of the Czech Communist party, two top Ukrainian figures in the Soviet hierarchy spelled their fear of the infectious disease rooted in Prague. They were President Nikolai Podgorny and the chief of the Ukrainian Communist party, P. Y. Shelest. Podgorny is regarded as a moderate, not a cold war hardliner.

Dubcek's courageous refusal to kncukle under, copuled with the fact that the Presidium of the Soviet Central Committee was badly split over just what to do, delayed the invasion.

But at that time, in July, the paramount fear in Prague was for nothing so drastic as the total military occupation that actually occured Tuesday night. The worst that was then foreseen was occupation of the extreme western forests of Czechoslovakia along the West German border, under the pretext of protecting little brother from a German attack (an event that was in fact not remotely possible.

It was thought then that the Soviet troops would stay out of sight, if not out of mind,

Strength For Today

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

The Renewed Flame

A traveler in Asia Minor writes that at dawn women may be seen going out of doors and looking up at the chimneys of their neighbors. They want to see the one out of which smoke is coming, and thither they go to borrow live coals with which to start a fire in their own houses.

This incident reminds us of dark and cheerless days out to the last ember. Then it own experience when all fire upon our heartstones has died fire of enthuasm which will is that we appreciate finding someone who has in his heart the glow of comfort or the Phillips Brooks and the opporle us to get the fires started again.

Dr. Rainsford, the famous New York preacher, declared that it was the kind words of Phillips Brooks and theopportunity to preach in the Bishop's pulpit which enabled him to rise after a humiliating failure and make a success of his life. Many a person has been able to say just the right word at the right time to a dejected spirit which turned the feet of that person into pathways of happiness.

What a heavy burden this nation is bearing, with millions of her sons in the armed forces. And there are probably thousands of people who wish for more spiritual assurance with which to face the challenge of these hard days. It is a great thing when we find a friend in whose heart there burns a living faith, or apreacher whose message every Sunday is full of the riches of God's grace. Such people have coals of living fire to give their dispirited friends in the dark hour of trouble.

Awaiting Drop Of Another Shoe

By ELMER ROESSNER

When will the other shoe drop?

The first shoe was the surtax and the cut in government spending.

It was a jolt to business.

However, the jolt was relatively minor. Since then, consumer sales have held up, propped largely by the seasonal rise in auto sales:

ELMER ROESSNER

the rush to get cut-price bargains on 1968 models, speeded by the reports that the 1969 models will cost around $100 more a car. That is merely propaganda to soften up consumers; the increases will be larger.

But most businessmen and bankers believe that the second shoe will drop sooner or later.

Reasons For Uneasiness

These are the reasons:

1. Sooner or later consumers will react to higher withholding taxes and ease their buying. Sales will be further reduced by the hiatus between the end of 1968 auto models and the availability of 1969 cars.

2. Sooner or later unemployment will rise. It has already begun in the steel industry, where stockpiling earlier this year is cutting new orders. It will be increased further by trims in spending for plants and equipment, now under review by many corporations, by the cut in government spending and by the reduction in government hiring. The last, of course, has been modified by Congress and will be modified further when Congress reconvenes after the conventions.

3. The creeping effects of higher taxes and unemployment. Sales in stores in steel-mill areas have already declined a bit and, spottily, in other areas. This may lead to layoffs in retailing. The burden of time payments will get a little heavier with the cut in take-home pay and the continuing rise in living costs. This will tend to reduce further buying on credit.

Countervailing Factors

However, there are other factors that sugest that the other shoe may be a long time in falling, or will land softly when it does.

The action of the Federal Reserve Board on interest rates, while tiny, shows the Fed is closely watchng the situation and will lower rates generally if the economy needs stimulation.

Retail sales have been holding up better than expected. In one of the major New York department stores this week, a shopper exclaimed: "Look at the crowd! They must be giving something away!" They weren't.

Congressional leaders are using jawbone tactics to prepare the public for a continuation of the surtax after April Fools Day, 1969. Both families and corporations who have been postponing spending until after the tax will get the message and spend a little more.

Steel inventories will be in orders and employment worked down by November and there will be a pick up before Christmas.

And Christmas and longer skirts are coming, both bouyant factors.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠J 7 5 2 ♡Q J 8 5 3 ◇9 5 4 ♣10
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♡	Pass
1 ♠	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. Surely game is out of the question. If you bid again, even the most tolerant partner will look for more than a queen and two jacks in your hand.

Q. 2—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠K 7 ♡K Q 9 7 6 ◇A J 2 ♣6 5 3
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♡	Pass
4 ♣	Pass	4 ◇	Pass
6 ♡	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Seven hearts. North's bidding is practically the most colossal known to man. Partner is willing to predict that you can win 12 tricks on the basis merely of your hearts and diamonds. Surely he must have allowed for the loss of a trick to the king of spades, and on that basis your grand slam bid is justified.

Q. 3—Neither vulnerable. Partner opens with three no trump. You hold:
♠A5 ♡7 6 5 ◇Q 10 9 4 ♣K 10 7 5
What do you bid?

A.—On a basis of simple arithmetic you should contract for a small slam in no trump. You have a count of nine and partner has a minimum of 25.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠K Q 7 ♡K 4 3 2 ◇A K ♣K 10 8 5
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♡	Pass
1 ♠	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—There is not much doubt of a slam in the hand. But, in order to determine the best contract, there must be some further investigation. The recommended bid at this point is a jump shift to three diamonds, and the subsequent actions will depend on partner's behavior.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠2 ♡A K 7 6 4 2 ◇K 7 ♣A J 9 5
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♡	Pass	3 ♡	Pass
4 ♣	Pass	4 ◇	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Five diamonds to show possession of the king of that suit. You have already made up your mind to bid at least six hearts, and there can be no harm in showing this feature of your hand. It may enable partner to go the limit after full exploration of the resources.

Q. 6—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠2 ♡J 10 8 7 5 ◇A 9 5 2 ♣K Q 7
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 ♡	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Had you not previously passed, the proper procedure would be a jump to three hearts, forcing to game. But, in view of your previous failure to bid, partner might not go on. Your hand is worth 14 points in support, so even if North has a shaded bid you should have enough. Bid four hearts.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠6 4 ♡8 5 4 ◇Q 10 8 7 5 ♣A 6 2
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
1 ◇	2 ◇	?

What do you bid?

A.—East has announced a game-going hand. While you might desire to interrupt communications between the opponents, you cannot afford to go very high because it might prove costly should they abandon their game and double you instead. However, partner should be advised that you have diamond support and some high card value. You may do this by doubling the two diamond bid, and leaving the rest to him.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠K 7 5 4 2 ♡10 9 8 6 5 4 ♣A 3
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♡	Dble.
Rdble.	Pass	Pass	2 ◇
3 ♡	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Despite the fact that you have but an ace and king, this hand has enormous potentialities. Your partner not only has opened the bidding and redoubled. He combined these moves with a jump. If his hand does not contain too many spade losers, a slam should be easily obtainable. To indicate your slam interest, you should make a cue bid of four diamonds and await developments.

as a warning to Dubcek to curtail freedom of speech and criticism of Moscow

Thus, between then and now there has obviously been a major shift in the Kremlin's inner power structure. Experts here would not be surprised if the winners of this power struggle include such traditional hardliners as A.T. Kirilenko (who did not attend the Warsaw parley), A. N. Shelepin, and Mihail Suslov. all members of the Presidi. Middle-aging Stalinist agit - props and old - line ideological purists, who got their political training in the heyday of the Komsomol youth movement and who have been on the shelf ever since the Khrushchev era, may now be emerging from the shadows, certainly at the expense of Premier Alexei Kosygin, and possibly of party leader Leonid Brezhnev.

But no one here is yet certain whether the new hard line is a spasm, the temporary surfacing of the worst reactionary forces, or whether the clamps now fastened on Czechoslovakia are the prelude to a dangerous long-range intensification of the cold war.

It is the latter possibility that makes the proposal for an immediate NATO heads-of-state meeting in Europe, attended of course by President Johnson himself so important. Because if the full fury of the cold war is about to be unleashed, the U. S. had better look to its alliance in Europe.

The first southern California land boom took place in 1887 when the Santa Fe Railroad entered Los Angeles.

Dear Abby

Now A Slanguage Gap

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My mother was looking thru my year book when she started to read some of the stuff the kids wrote in it.

Well, one of my friends, who happens to be a very nice girl, wrote, "Have a bitchin' summer." When my mother saw that she flew into a rage and hit the ceiling.

Abby, "bitchin" doesn't mean to us kids what it means to the older generation. There is nothing dirty about it. My mother can't believe it, so please, do me a favor and explain that "bitching" — when used by the kids today means, "groovy, neat or cool." Thank you.

NOT BELIEVED

DEAR NOT: Much as I dislike the word when used by kids to describe the ultimate, it does mean wnat yo usay it does. But don't ever use it to describe your mother — n matter how 'groovy, neat or cool" you think she is.

DEAR ABBY: Your reply to the Man Next Door about the violin-playing 10-year-old missed the mark entirely. (You told the complaining neighbor to keep his windows closed and buy and air-conditioner.)

The VIOLIN - PLAYER's should keep their windows closed and buy an air-conditioner. The perpetrators of any nuisance noise should be required by law to keep their noise, IN, or to stop it altogether.

There is entirely too much tolerance of nuisance noise in the U. S. A. today. In many European countries they are so strick about nuisance noise that all apartment houses are required by law to be soundproof.

Many experts have testified that noise is as evil a kind of "pollution" as water and air pollution. It's not only nerve-wracking, it's a menance to one's health. Anyone interested in knowing the names of the above - mentioned "experts," Ted Kupferman, who has been sponsoring a bill on Noise Control.

BEN F. LAPOSKY:
CHEROKEE, IOWA

DEAR BEN: Amen! Tell Rep Kupferman that the "noise" he just heard is Abby, cheering for his bill.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to reply to "MOTHER OF SEVEN," who said "the world would be a lot better off it people would learn to love the children they get, rather than take pills to keep from having them."

A person does not have to 'learn to love" a wanted child. The "love" is already there. Altho, some people may develop love for unwanted children, it can never be as natural and free from prejudice. ne cannot be taught, forced or shamed into loving.

That woman with seven children is a greater threat to the human race than the bomb While she is busy overrunning this tiny planet she has the nerve to encourage others to follow her example.

C. M. J.: SANTA CLARA, CALIF.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "AVERAGE PARENTS:" Money isn't everything, but it does keep you in close touch with your children.

McGovern would think twice about getting into the presidential sweepstakes if he had a prison sentence hanging over his head.

President Thieu has been criticized for what he did to his opponent Dzu. But in retrospect he has shown us that political campaigns can have a great deal more suspense to them if you treat your opposition with the harshness they deserve.

There are many in this country who are sick and tired of seeing politicians get off scot-free after a presidential election. If the issue in this campaign is law and order, we have to stop coddling our losers. Five years in the clink is a cheap price to pay or running for President of the United States, not counting what he could get off for good behavior.

Summer Graduation At Pitt Tech Friday Night

"The secret of success in most cases is pride of workmanship," Charles R. Holloman, Association Director of the North Carolina Department of Community Colleges told the Summer Graduating Class of Pitt Technical Institute Friday night.

Showing the effects past civilizations have had upon the progress of man, the speaker pointed to the importance of the craftsman and the technician in today's society.

Holloman reminded the graduating class that Benjamin Franklin was a typesetter; Thomas Edison, a telegraph operator; St. Peter, a commercial fisherman, and Jesus Christ, by trade, a carpenter.

If the Shoe Fits-

BY LARRY AVERETTE

How can your varied-size foot fit in a one-size shoe?

The foot's shape and size is different in the morning than at night; different on weight bearing than at rest; different when walking, jumping or running; different in illness than in health; different in summer than in winter.

A foot has many shapes and sizes. Yet it must be fitted to a one-shaped, one-sized shoe. It's a great trick if it can be accomplished. Very few customers appreciate this fact.

Modern science and tanners supply 'upper' materials that yield just enough to accommodate the enlarged foot on weight bearing without discomfort, yet return to the smaller foot size when the foot is inactive.

Expert shoe fitting is far more than selecting the right size. It involves the right 'last,' meaning shape, and the right materials and construction. And most of all, it requires a fine skill backed by experience and judgment.

Two Changes In Area Phone Service Effective Tomorrow

Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company officials have announced two changes in telephone service will take place in the Greenville area tomorrow.

At 12:01, a new Directory Assistance program will be inaugurated and telephone numbers of some 500 subscribers will be changed.

Linwood R. Langley, local telephone company manager, said the new directory assistance program will mean that all Greenville information operators will begin answering calls with a new phrase, "Directory Assistance." These operators also serve the Ayden, Farmville, Fountain and Snow Hill areas.

This move, Langley said, is part of a new information practice being introduced in the Carolina Telephone system, with Greenville being the pilot area. The familiar "information" phrase will no longer be used.

According to Langley, the new as did "information" in the past, however, if the requested number is in the new directory at the time the number is given, the operator will advise the customer that the requested number is listed in the current directory.

Langley said this is being done in an effort to get customers to use their directories.

If the number requested is not in the new directory, the operator will inform the customer that it is a new listing and suggest that the customer make a note of the number for future reference.

"The primary responsibility of Directory Assistance (Information) service, is to provide customers with new or changed numbers that do not changed numbers that do not appear in the directory," Langley explained.

The change from "information" to "Directory Assistance" is designed to assist customers in their understanding of this service. "Some customers have naturally taken the word "information" literally and called for many varieties of "information" other than telephone numbers. This causts delay to other who are calling for telephone numbers," the manager noted.

"Calls to Information have nearly doubled in the past five years. The telephone company hopes this new procedure will help to reduce this load in order that the company will be able to provide better Directory Assistance service to kustomers that need it."

Langley said the 500 telephone numbers would be changed when service to those subscribers will be changed from the Dickinson Avenue office to the Hooker Road dial office.

Primarily affected will be customers located generally in the following ares: Stratford subdividion, Dellwood subdivision, Brook Valley and the area southeast of Brook Valley, the area between McGowan's Crossroads and Black Jack, and they are bounded by Hooker Road on the West the Norfolk and Southern Railroad on the North, and Charles Street on the East.

Subscribers whose numbers are changed, according to the manager have received new number plate stickers to be placed on their telephones.

He said the switch in service from one dial office to another for the 500 subscribers is being made "in order to keep pace with Greenville's continued growth".

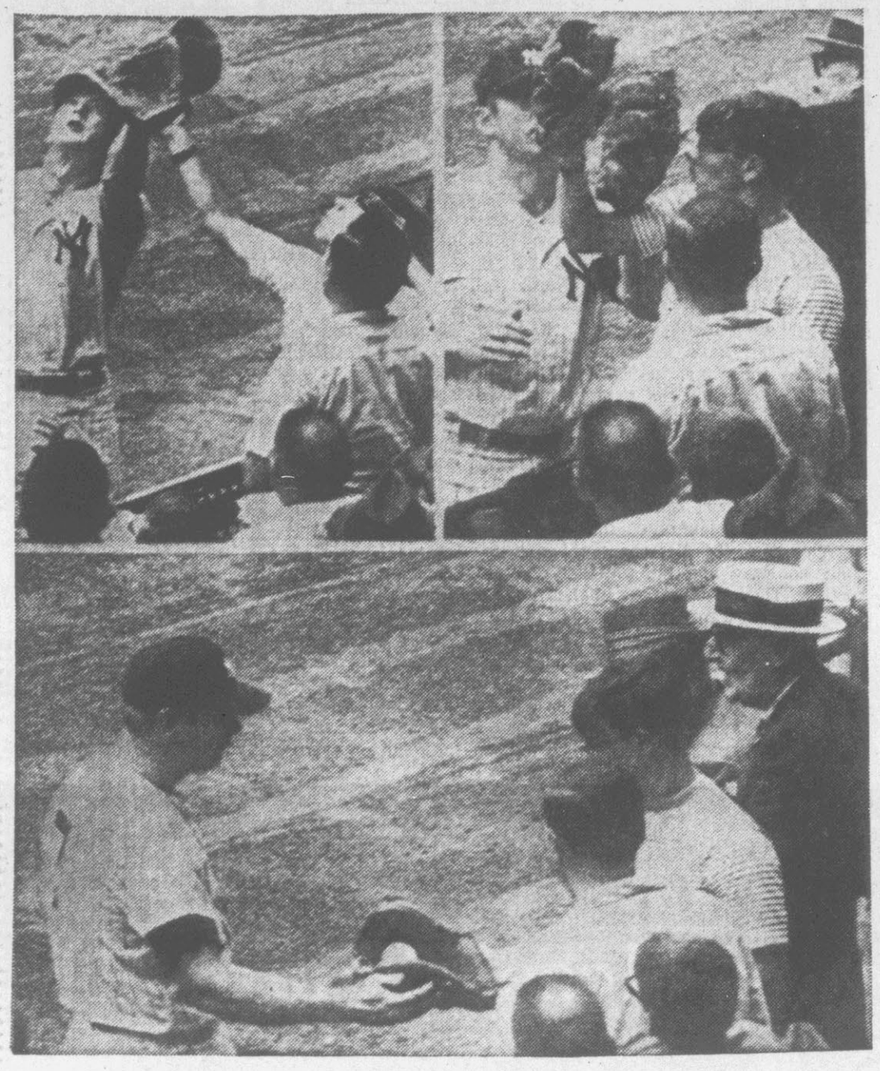
Errors Don't Pay When Up Against Cardinals



Surprise!

"WHAT'S MITT THIS KID?" — New York Yankee slugger Mickey Mantle is bested by a fan in this play. At upper left, Mantle stretches for an easy-out foul hit by Detroit Tiger Mickey Stanley. The fan, however, has ideas of his own, and manages to place his glove in front of Mantle's. He catches the ball, upper right, and then offers the prize to Mantle. Yankees won both games, 6-5 and 5-4 respectively. (AP Wirephoto)

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

It might be human to err but it doesn't pay to overdo it when you're playing the St. Louis Cardinals.

Pittsburgh pitching limited National League-leading St. Louis to just four hits Sunday, but the Pirates committed four errors and the Cardinals used them for a 4-2 victory.

The Pirates pounded out eight hits, but the St. Louis defense was flawless in support of Nelson Briles, 17-8, and Joe Hoerner, who relieved and put down a Pittsburgh threat in the eighth inning.

In other National League games, the Chicago Cubs blanked Houston 2-0, Los Angeles edged San Francisco 5-4, Philadelphia topped Atlanta 4-1 and the New York Mets pounded Cincinnati 7-1.

The New York Yankees swept Detroit 6-5 and 5-4, Washington outlasted Cleveland 10-9, the Chicago White Sox trounced Minnesota 10-2, California downed Oakland 5-1 and Baltimore nipped Boston 3-2 in 18 innings in the American League.

The Cardinals scored in the second inning. Orlando Cepeda walked, stole second, moved to third on a groundout and scored when shortstop Fred Patek fielded Mike Shannon's grounder and made a poor throw to first.

St. Louis added a run in the fourth when Shannon reached on third baseman Maury Wills' throwing error and scored when Julian Javier's single got past right fielder Gary Kolb for an error.

The clinching run came in the fifth when Lou Brock scored from second as first baseman Donn Clendenon missed a throw from pitcher Dock Ellis, who had fielded Bob Tolan's grounder.

Shannon's single and Javier's double produced the final St. Louis run in the sixth.

Matty Alou singled in a run after Hoerner replaced Briles with the bases loaded and one out in the eighth. Hoerner then struck out the next two men to end the threat. Manny Mota hit a pinch homer for the Pirates in the ninth.

Ferguson Jenkins pitched a four-hitter and drove in a run with a groundout as Chicago snapped Houston's six-game winning streak and handed Larry Dierker his first loss since June 20. Dierker, who had won six in a row, now is 12-11.

Jenkins, 15-12 drove in the Cubs's first run in the second inning. Glenn Beckert's single, Billy Williams' double and Willie Smith's sacrifice fly produced the other run.

Los Angeles beat San Francisco's Juan Marichal, 23-6, on Paul Popovich's sacrifice fly in the ninth inning.

The winning rally, which snapped the Dodgers' losing streak at eight games, started when Tom Haller singled and went to third as Marichal threw low to second on Ron Fairly's bunt. After an intentional walk and a force play at the plate, Popovich delivered his sacrifice fly.

San Francisco had tied it with two runs in the seventh. Ron Hunt singled home the first run and Willie Mays' infield out brought in the other.

Larry Jackson, 12-15, scattered five hits and Johnny Callison, back in the line-up after an eight-day absence because of a pulled hamstring, homered and singled in a run in Philadelphia's triumph. Hank Aaron hit his 24th homer for Atlanta.

Tom Seaver threw a five-hitter and smacked a two-run double in leading the Mets over Cincinati. Ed Kranepool and Art Shamsky backed Seaver, 12-9, with solo homers.

John Bench scored Cincinnati's only run when he led off the eighth with a double, moved to third on a groundout and came home on Seaver's wild pitch.

Champion Ashe Rests Up For Forest Hills

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Army Lt. Arthur Ashe hoped for a couple of days rest away from tennis today before entering the first U.S. open tournament at Forest Hills as the first Negro national men's amateur champion.

Ashe, a 25-year-old Davis Cup ace from Richmond, Va., stationed at West Point, said he was "mentally tired" Sunday after winning the 88th U.S. National Championship.

A slender powerhouse, packing less than 160 pounds on a 6-foot-1 frame, Ashe lived up to his No. 1 seed by rallying for a 4-6, 6-3, 8-10, 6-0, 6-4 victory over unseeded upset artist Bob Lutz in the title showdown at hot and muggy Longwood.

"I've played in the Nationals since I was 16 and now I've finally won the championship," Ashe said. "Everyone wants to win his national championship. This gives me as much pleasure as I hope I will get in bringing back the Davis Cup in December."

Lutz, a University of Southern California senior who will be 21 Thursday, upset U.S. Davis Cuppers Cliff Richey and Clark Graebner and South African star Bob Hewitt en route to his title showdown with Ashe.

The husky, young collegian, who paired with USC teammate Stan Smith in winning the U.S. doubles title Sunday, appeared en route to another startling upset against Ashe. Then, leading 2-1 in sets, he and Ashe took a break.

Lutz went directly to the clubhouse and showered. Ashe rested near the court and then changed his jersey. The result: Lutz cooled off, tennis-wise, and Ashe became hot, tennis-wise.

Maria Bueno, 28, of Brazil earned the 547th championship of an illustrious career by pairing with U.S. singles champion Margaret Smith Court for a 6-3, 7-5 victory over England's Virginia Wade and Joyce Williams in women's doubles.

Swim Records In Peril Today

LOS ANGELES (AP)—World records were in peril today in the third session of the five-day U. S. women's Olympic swimming trials.

Events to be settled today in the bids for berths on the Olympic team bound for Mexico were the 100-meter backstroke, 200-meter breaststroke and 200-meter butterfly.

Successive world record performances came Saturday and Sunday from Debbie Meyer of Sacramento, Calif., in the 200- and 400 - meter freestyle, and Claudia Kolb of the Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club in the 400- and 200 - meter individual medley.

Joining the elite pair was another 16-year-old, Catie Ball from Jacksonville, Fla., in the 100-meter breaststroke Sunday.

Miss Meyer, 16, who confesses she is a peanut butter and jelly sandwich addict, began the record smashing with 2:06.7 in the 200. It bettered the pending 2:08.8 by Eadie Wetzel, Lake Forest, Ill. SC, set last Aug. 2.

Murphy Finding Gold In Golf

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It's hard to believe that eight years ago Bob Murphy didn't even want to play.

Murphy was a pitcher and he had major league baseball aspirations. Shortly before he enrolled at the University of Florida, however, he suffered a shoulder separation. His baseball career was dead.

So, Florida U. golf Coach Conrad Rehling urged Murphy to take up golf. Murphy went on to become NCAA and U.S. Amateur champion. Last January he started on the pro tour.

Murphy reached some sort of personal pinnacle Sunday when the $100,000 Philadelphia Golf he won his first pro tournament, Classic. He did it the hard way, too, in a sudden-death playoff with Labron Harris, another former National Amateur champion.

Harris was seeking his first win after four years as a regular on the tour.

"It's just fantastic," said the 210-pound Murphy after he dropped in a 15-foot putt on the third extra hole to earn the $20,000 first prize and boost his first-year earnings to $64,245.

Floor Fight Seen On Demo Platform

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Indications continued today to point toward a floor fight over the Democratic party's position on the Vietnam war, although both supporters and critics of President Johnson's war policy said they are seeking compromises.

Weary members of the Democratic National Convention's Platform Committee struggled into the early hours without apparent success in settling the potentially divisive issue.

Platform writers favoring what they term a strong peace plank claim more than enough votes to bring a dissenting report to the convention floor.

And Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey once again said Americans have the right to expect "some little sign" from North Vietnam that it would enter into meaningful discussions if bombing was stopped. There is no such sign, he stated.

Unconditional cessation of the bombing of North Vietnam is one of the points most hotly debated.

Even apart rom the prospect of a Vietnam floor fight, preparation of the platform ran into delay after delay.

The scheduled Sunday night meetin gof the full committee to consider a platform draft ended without completing its task and the drafting subcommittee could only hope to have a paper ready for a general session sometime later today.

A long review by the full committee could scramble convention deadlines.

Under normal procedure, the platform should be approved in committee in time to be printed and distributed to delegates and the news media before its formal presentation to the convention scheduled Tuesday evening.

Some of the compromise straws were tossed by key supporters of Humphrey and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine, who supports Humphrey, said he thinks the views of his side and those of McCarthy's spokesmen "are close enough together on fundamentals that a compromise here ought to be possible."

Governor Harold Hughes of Iowa, who favors McCarthy, said he is "truely hopeful we can work these differences out and not have to go to the floor."

He said the aim should be a plank covering main objectives of U.S. policy in Vietnam but leaving room for differences on details.

McCarthy supporters have been calling for specific recommendations, such as a bombing halt and a scaling down of U.S. operations in South Vietnam.

Humphrey meanwhile said hopes aroused by the Paris peace talks were dashed by North Vietnam.

He said the United States tried for a discussion of restoring the truly demilitarized character of the zone between the two Vietnams, but the answer was no.

Humphrey again defended administration policy as "basically sound . . . directed toward a political settlement."

Partly overshadowed by the Vietnam dispute has been continuing North-South tension over a law and order plank.

Southerners have especially balked at endorsing the President's Riot Commission report, with its finding that the country is moving toward a split society.

Louisiana Gov. John J. McKeithen did not mention the commission report specifically but he told the committee that "I don't think the Negroes are going one way and the whites another. They want to go the same way. All want to be Americans."

He said the Democrats will lose the election if they do not write a strong law and order plank. But he added they should come out for what he described as impartial color-blind enforcement of these laws.

Such a policy he said, has worked in Louisiana, and has won him solid support from the black population of the state, one third of the total.

Doctor Reports Pope 'Endured'

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — "He is as sound as a good watch," said Pope Paul doctor after the pontiff returned from Colombia and the longest trip of his reign.

Dr. Mario Fontana said the 70-year-old pontiff had endured his gruelling public appearances at Bogota's 8,660-foot altitude very well. But the Pope appeared tired after his white and silver jetliner landed Sunday at Rome's Fiumicino Airport.

"Our days in Bogota were really beautiful and intense, filled with fervor, with crowds of people cheering not at our person but rather at the Eucharist," the Pope told the crowd that welcomed him at his summer palace.

"We have seen throngs of good and fervent people, excited by our presence, acclaim the Lord, acclaim the Church, trusting that they too will be helped and assisted."

He described his sixth foreign trip as a "happy journey" and added that 'the world has become the scope of the apostolic travels of the Pope, but Rome remains our home."

New Heart Fails A Five-Year-Old

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) -- Five-year-old Maria Giannaris of Hagerstown, Md., died Sunday a week after receiving a heart transplant in the Texas Heart Institute at Texas Childrens Hospital.

Maria suffered a cardiac arrest and all attempts at resuscitation were unsuccessful, a hospital spokesman said.

The girl was the world's 31st heart recipient and the second child recipient.

She had been reported in satisfactory condition until late Sunday.

Dr. James K. Nora, pediatrics-cardiologist, said the cause of death will not be known until an autopsy is performed.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nick A. Giannaris, were at the hospital when the child died.

Maria was the recipient of the heart of 11-year-old James Dudley Herron II who had suffered a grain hemorrhage. He was the son of James Dudley Herron, a chemistry professor at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

The first child to receive a heart transplant died 6½ hours after the operation last December in Brooklyn, N.Y. The recipient was a 2½-week-old boy who received the heart of a 27-day-old infant.

Raleigh Housing Problems Talked At NAACP Meet

RALEIGH (AP) — Improved housing conditions for Negroes were discussed at a "grass roots housing conference" held at Raleigh Saturday by the North Carolina Chapter of the NAACP.

Kelly M. Alexander of Charlotte, NAACP state president, told 90 delegates attending the conference that "the major domestic crisis in this state is the disruptive consequences of discrimination and segregation in housing."

A reminder that rural housing needs upgrading as much as urban housing came from P. E. Bazemore of Monroe, chairman of the conference's rural and farm housing section.

The delegates heard explanations of federal housing and finance programs, described public housing in their home counties and asked officials at the conference for advice.

Offer Technical Aid For Land Problems

INSPECTING THE DITCH . . . Addie Murphy had this ditch constructed to help solve the severe drainage problem on her land which was too wet to grow profitable crops. (Photo by Elmer Bland)

Pitt Soil and Water Conservation District, governed by a board of five supervisors, furnishes technical assistance on conservation problems to landowners, operators, and other users of land.

The Soil Conservation Service and other agencies of national and state government assist the district.

Late last spring Addie Murphy and her family of the Ayden community came to the Soil Conservation Service office seeking help to solve a drainage problem affecting a small tract of land she owns and lives on. She had been told by other people that there was technical help available from the Soil Conservation Service. An appointment was made for Elmer Bland, a Soil Conservation Service Technician to visit her place and help her plan for a solution to her conservation problems. This was a new experience for her. She was not familiar with the procedure, but only asked "that somebody just come to my place and help me all you can."

The Pitt County Soil Survey showed land too wet to grow profitable row crops.

Mrs Murphy's son-in-law, Charles Levy, assisted Bland in making a preliminary survey with a level to determine the fall of the land. The survey showed her immediate need was a main outlet canal. It would have to be dug across her neighbor's land to a main branch to get an adequate outlet. An estimate of clearing and digging was furnished to her. Bland explained to her that monetary cost-sharing help was available from Pitt County ASCS. After explaining the cost to her, Bland advised her to come to the ASCS office and apply for cost-sharing to help defray the cost of clearing and digging. She agreed to go ahead with the canal and filed an application at the ASCS office.

Bland assisted her in obtaining an easement across her neighbor's land. The only requirement concerning the easement was that pine trees were not to be destroyed.

Construction began late in the spring, but not too late to benefit crops this year. Mrs. Murphy employed the Pitt-Greene Fertilizer Company to construct the ditch and got a good contract price.

Recently Addie Murphy said "there was not too much rain this year, but if there had been any rain to amount to anything the crops would have drowned. Even as dry as it has been the crop would have been poor without the ditch. Our corn looks the best it has in years."

Asked why she was so interested in the small tract of land, she said: "I want to stay in my own home, on my own land, out in the country." She said, "Out here I can have my own garden. I lease my tobacco allotment, and rent my corn and soybean land for a little; with the rent from the tobacco, corn and soybeans, the little bit I get from Social Security, and working in green tobacco, I can make it as long as I have no major misfortune."

Addie Murphy is a cooperator with the Pitt Soil and Water Conservation District.

The world's oceans, ice fields, lakes, rivers, soils, rocks, and atmosphere hold about 326 million cubic miles of water.

Tobacco Tips

By S. J. WEEKS
Pitt County Tobacco Agent

Diseases and insects take a heavy toll from our tobacco crop each year. Cutting tobacco stalks and plowing out the stubbles immediately after harvest reduce Mosaic, nematodes, brownspot, hornworms, budworms, and flea beetles. A statewide program has been launched (OPERATION R-6-P, Reduce 6 Pests) to reduce these six pests. Our goal in Pitt County is to get 100 percent participation in 1968.

It is very important that all tobacco stalks and roots are destroyed as soon after harvest of the 1968 crop as possible. Old stalks and roots will decay faster during warm weather than during any other time. The quicker the stalks and roots decay, the quicker the breeding of diseases and insect organisms will stop.

Results from research tests have shown that by following this simple practice, the nematode population in the soil can be reduced as much as 75 to 90 percent. In addition to reducing the nematode population, Mosaic and brownsopt disease organisms would be reduced by decaying tobacco crop refuse. The population of three major insect pests will also be reduced.

Only four steps are required to do this job on your farm:

1. Cut stalks.
2. Plow out roots.
3. Disk field two weeks after roots have been plowed out, and
4. Seed winter cover crop to prevent erosion.

Remember, it is most important to do the job "right now." The complete operation should be carried out while the soil is still warm so that the rotting and decaying process will take place as soon as possible.

Apartment Plan Started A 'War'

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Kenneth Borugian decided to fight City Hall when City Hall decided to build a 10-story apartment house for elderly persons opposite his home.

Borugian, supported by several neighbors, contended the city was in violation of zoning ordinances in starting work on the building. He claimed there was not enough clearance for the structure.

He erected hand-painted signs on his front lawn. One stated: "Hubbard's dream, our nightmare." Hubbard is Dearborn Mayor Orville L. Hubbard who denies the city is wrong in the matter.

This past weekend Borugian learned that City Hall fights back. He was told the signs on his lawn violated zoning ordinances and was ordered to remove the signs by Wednesday.

"Sure I'm going to take them down," Borugian said. "I will comply with the ordinance. But it's a big joke when the mayor will violate the ordinance and enforcement agencies will support him."

The Worry Clinic

Your Minister Needs Some Time For Rest

Velma's remarks should be a challenge to all church members. Please urge your clergyman to set aside on day each week for his own family. And don't break in upon them via telephone or personal calls except in great emergency. Some of you laymen should initiate this custom at once, and jealously guard his privacy

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE G-560: Velma G., aged 32, is a minister's wife.

"Dr. Crane," she began with a smile, "I know you often pick on the clergymen.

"And maybe many of them deserve your criticisms for being poor speakers.

"But my husband is a wonderful man who is so dedicated to his work that he becomes a religious spark plug in every group in which he mingles.

"He also uses that anecdotal formula that you mention, so nobody goes to sleep or fidgets during his sermons.

"But I wish you could urge parishioners to please let their pastor or priest have one day of rest, so he could relax and recharge his own batteries.

"My husband must often leave his study and duck out into the parking lot to his car, just to have a chance to pray in quiet!

"And our home life is hectic 7 days a week, for we have no privacy and he has no time to enjoy our children."

Preacher Holiday

Velma's request needs to be publicized widely.

Jesus occasionally wanted to get away from the crowds to meditate and figuratively recharge his own spiritual batteries.

So the local pastors and priests or rabbis merit similar weekly vacations.

Many clergymen regard Monday as their day of rest, since it takes a lot out of a man to deliver one or two speeches the preceding day.

I can speak from vast experience for I have orated across this country for many years, often speaking 4 times in one day.

But the next 2 days I am so fatigued that I can't even dictate routine letters, let alone write this column or do any other creative work.

Alas, the clergyman's children usually can't frolic with him on Monday night, as by going to a drive-in movie, for they may be due at school next morning.

So it is well to take Friday night off, where the parishioners all conspire to leave the preacher and his family free for family fun.

Except in a rare emergency as a dying parishioner, please alert your entire congregation to avoid telephoning your clergyman on that one day of the week he should be able to call his own!

For a clergyman who has children, needs to give them some of his personal time for camaraderie and picnics, sports or home games.

Otherwise, even the greatest parson in the pulpit may later be humiliated to find that his own, neglected kiddies, become "hippies," school dropouts or beer bums at college!

For it takes more than superb moral sermonizing in the pulpit to be a good father.

You must also fraternize in jolly good times with your youngsters.

So allot them one day out of the week for fun, and even let them plan the agenda for that gala holiday.

Maybe they will decide on a picnic or the circus or a drive-in movie, or a boat trip or golf game, tennis match or visit to a baseball game.

But make it an ironclad rule to focus on your own family one day out of the week.

And will you parishioners PLEASE cooperate?

Texas usually ranks first among the states in grain sorghums and rice, sixth in wheat and 22nd in corn.

Billing Errors Now 'Common'

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Complaints from consumers that they are misbilled on their credit accounts at retail stores are common today, and not only are the errors disturbing but sometimes they are even dangerous to a person's credit rating.

In some instances efforts by customers to resolve errors are fruitless. A customer letter may go unanswered except for still another automatic dunning notice, slightly more intense and irritating than the earlier one.

Documentation for what some customers may have suspected is now provided by the Better Business Bureau here. In "A Report To Business" it finds a sharp increase in the number of billing error complaints filed with it.

During the first quarter of 1968, said BBB after analyzing 42,000 complaints, "incorrect billing or crediting of accounts comprised 6 per cent of the total compared with 4.9 per cent in the previous report," released three months earlier.

This, it continued, "constitutes a 22 per cent increase in the percentage of complaints about incorrect billing or crediting of accounts." A spokesman added: "We've noticed a startling increase for a year or 1½ years now."

The figures cited are for the New York area and are not necessarily representative of the nation.

In an effort to explain the problem, the controller of a large department store agreed to give his explanation of the confusion but asked that he not be identified.

"Now many stores are shifting over to one line descriptions of items. They're handling their billing with machines. And unless you change over with care you can have problems. We had good luck, thank God."

"But why do letters sometimes go unanswered?" the controller was asked.

"The tremendous volume precludes followup on every inquiry," he answered. "If you had to followup everyone of them you'd be paying for it in margin," explaining that it would cut so deeply into profits that prices might have to be raised.

Most department stores, he explained, have a big turnover in help. The level of worker performance is poor until training is completed. And then some aren't supervised properly. In addition, computers sometimes are poorly programmed.

President Takes Visiting Friends On Speedboat

LAKE LYNDON B. JOHNSON, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson took unidentified friends for a ride in his speedboat on this central Texas lake Sunday afternoon and entertained in the evening at his lake house.

Following the presidential speed boat was his cabin cruiser with Mrs. Johnson, their daughter Luci Nugent and more friends.

Wearing a black beret, the President also took his grandson Lyn for a speedboat ride, at speeds up to 50 miles per hour.

While the President and Mrs. Johnson dined with friends late Sunday night, the speedboat and cruiser were docked at his Haywood Ranch on the Llano River branch of the lake.

For the best idea of what's really happening, the best idea is NBC News

The reasons? ■ Veteran anchormen Chet Huntley and David Brinkley. ■ John Chancellor, Frank McGee, Edwin Newman and Sander Vanocur—moving quickly around the convention floor. ■ 46 other NBC News reporters covering the various hotel headquarters and the surrounding streets. ■ We've been saying it—and proving it—all year: It All Adds Up on NBC.

Overwhelming testimony proves the Lilliston first in the field
