Thieu Proposes His Government Lead Negotiating Team At Paris

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu proposed today that his South Vietnamese government replace the United States as the leader of the anti-Communist negotiating team at the Paris peace talks.

Thieu proposed a new formula for organization of the Paris conference under which the Communist side would be led by the North Vietnamese. He said it could also include the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong.

Even if the United States agrees to take a back seat at the Paris talks, North Vietnam appears certain to reject Thieu's attempt to give his government the No. 1 place on one side of the table while relegating the Viet Cong to a secondary role on the other. Hanoi has said repeatedly that the National Liberation Front is the only authentic representative of the South Vietnamese people.

Thieu's proposal was made in an attempt to counter the adverse reaction in the United States and elsewhere to his refusal to join the Paris peace talks this week. President Johnson, in halting the bombing of North Vietnam, proposed that the Saigon regime and the NLF send representatives to the talks without specifying the status they would be accorded.

Thieu refused because he said this was opening the door to recognition of the NLF, and he feared this would be the first step toward a coalition government which the Communists eventually would take over.

Thieu today proposed this formula for the peace talks: "Each party would have only one delegation. Our side is the victim of aggression. We would have representatives of the United States and, if necessary, other allied nations."

He said his government would play the leading role on its side of the table, while the North Vietnamese government would lead the other delegation. Hanoi, he said, could have members from whatever groups it desired.

Thieu denied with some heat reports from Washington that he had at one time agreed to four-party talks in Paris. He told newsmen he never discussed such talks with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker in any of their 14 meetings that preceded Johnson's halt in the bombing. But later the president's official translator said Thieu did not mean the possibility of four-party talks had not come up in his private talks with Bunker.

Recalling his response to Johnson's speech last Thursday, Thieu said Hanoi still must guarantee to enter into sincere, direct talks with the Saigon government. He said the full-scale talks could not be considered a continuation of the preliminary negotiations in Paris between the United States and North Vietnam.

Thieu said Hanoi's response to the bombing halt had proved to be escalation instead of de-escalation. He said the Communists "have stepped up attacks on towns and cities. Between Nov. 1st and 7th there were 33 attacks by rockets and mortars, 11 acts of sabotage, eight cases of terror and two of arson."

He said that while Hanoi claimed that Johnson's bombing halt was unconditional, Hanoi had ordered its troops and cadres to attack until complete victory was won.

Thieu said final victory to Hanoi meant taking over all of South Vietnam.

City Council Postpones Annexing Of Property; Special Session Today

By ALVIN TAYLOR
Reflector Managing Editor

Councilmen last night postponed action on annexation of an eight-acre tract on Red Banks Road; for which apartment construction is proposed, until a special session at 12:30 today.

John H. High of Rocky Mount had requested annexation of the property which lies east of Oakmont Baptist Church and west of Carriage House Apartments. The council was shown a plan for development of apartment units on the property.

When the plan came before the Planning and Zoning Commission a petition signed by 85 residents of the area was presented requesting that the council block the construction of the apartments on the site.

The Planning and Zoning

Commission recommended the annexation but it also recommended that all residentially zoned property in the city be restricted to one and two family dwellings. It recommended a separate classification for multifamily dwellings. To obtain this classification developers would have to obtain permission from the Planning and Zoning Commission.

A group of citizens from nearby subdivisions also appeared at the council meeting last night.

Councilman John Howard made the recommendation that the council recess until 2:30 today. In the meantime City Attorney David Reid was instructed to draw a proposed ordinance establishing the multi-family dwelling zoning classification.

The council was also expected to consider the annexation today. This will require 30 days notice and a public hearing.

Mayor Eugene West pointed out to the protesters that the actions would not necessarily block the apartment development since construction could begin in the meantime.

Councilmen heard Mrs. Henry Morris, as spokesman for a Brookgreen group request that curbing be installed on the Elm Street park side of Brookgreen Avenue.

She was told that funds for the work have been included in this year's budget.

City Manger Harry Hagerly reported the Citizens Advisory Committee has contacted several firms about beginning a public bus system here. The most favorable reply has come from William Acker of the Cape Fear Valley Coaches, Inc. The council agreed to invite Acker to meet with the Advisory Committee and councilmen to discuss the proposal.

Councilmen approved the sale of a tract of land at Second and Evans Street to Dunn and Associates for construction of an office building. The firm was high bidder for the parcel in recent bidding before the Redevelopment Commission.

Approved was payment of $2,235.47 in ineligible costs for street improvements in the Shore Drive area.

No action was taken on a proposal to move a cemetery on Evans Street Second and First. Patricia Evans appeared at the meeting as a descendant of the families buried in the plot. At the council's request she said she would consult other descendants to determine their feelings on removal of the cemetery.

York Advises Splitting C&D

RALEIGH (AP) — J. W. York, chairman of the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development, recommended today that the department be split into two agencies.

York made his recommendation in a letter to Charles Hayworth of High Point, chairman of a study commission looking into the advisability of dividing the department.

"There are two overpowering reasons why the department should be divided," said York, who recently submitted his resignation effective Jan. 1.

"First, I believe that we have some very competent people in most of the divisions... however, I don't believe that it is possible for any one man" to know and direct them.

Secondly, he said, reorganization of the board's committees about a year ago "has been very enlightening and has completely convinced me that a (smaller) six-member committee is extremely desirable."

York recommended that the boards hold a joint meeting each January, with the governor presiding and the Council of State invited to observe.

The study commission, which will make recommendations to the 1169 General Assembly, is expected to submit a report within the next two months.

"For this reason, I have finally reached the conclusion and do so recommend that you consider the division into two departments," York said.

York suggested one department be named the Department of Natural Resources, and have a chairman and 17 board members serving on three six-member committees.

The committees would be concerned with mineral resources, forestry and commercial and sports fisheries.

The second department would be named the Department of Economic Development, with the same size membership and also with three committees. The committees would be on parks and tourism, community plan-

12-Year-Old To South Pole

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — A 12-year-old American boy is on his way to the South Pole today, and he'll be the youngest person ever to go to the Antarctic.

William H. Crook Jr., son of the U.S. ambassador to Australia, is accompanying his father on a trip to the American exploration and research stations in the Antarctic.

After his father and mother decided he could go and a physical examination determined he was fit, Bill spent most of his spare time reading everything he could find about the area. He is now a walking encyclopedia on Antarctica, according to embassy officials.

Thousands Of Czechs In Anti-Soviet March

PRAGUE (AP) — Thousands of anti-Soviet demonstrators marched through Prague Thursday night, shouting "Russians go home" and burning Soviet flags in the biggest demonstrations since the Russian invasion in August.

Large numbers of Czechoslovak troops and police, under orders to crack down hard on the demonstrators, used water cannon, tear gas and clubs to break up the rioting.

Many persons were knocked down by police clubs, and many appeared to have been arrested. Ambulances carried away unknown numbers of wounded.

The six hours of rioting climaxed a tense, uneasy observance of the 51st anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution, normally a day dedicated to Czechoslovak-Soviet friendship.

The tough police reaction contrasted sharply with the lenient manner in which anti-Soviet demonstrations were handled on Oct. 28, the 50th birthday of the Czechoslovak republic. Local leaders apparently were afraid that unchecked demonstrations would bring Soviet tanks rolling back into Prague.

Earlier, during a wreath-laying ceremony honoring Soviet soldiers killed during World War II, hard-line opponents of Czechoslovakia's liberal Communist party leader, Alexander Dubcek, grabbed him and shouted, "We're for the Soviet Union!"

Dubcek, who was with Premier Oldrich Cernik, managed a smile as several persons in the crowd shook their fists at the two leaders and shouted pro-Soviet slogans.

But in contrast to the thousands of anti-Soviets who turned out Thursday night, only about 500 pro-Soviets attended the memorial ceremony.

The first signs of anti-Soviet trouble in Prague occurred before dawn Thursday when Soviet flags, raised on public buildings during the night, were torn down.

Police moved in during the morning to disperse several hundred persons who massed in front of the Foreign Trade Administration building and chanted, "Tear it down! Tear it down!" until custodians removed two large Hammer and Sickle flags hung from the building.

After one Soviet flag was burned on the end of a stick police swinging clubs cleared the area. Several persons were taken away by the police.

During the afternoon another demonstration formed in a dark drizzle at St. Wenceslas Square but dispersed after large numbers of police arrived.

Dubcek supporters returned to the streets that night and defied strong police patrols, shouting, "Russians go home!" A crowd of about 1,000 watched as another Soviet flag was burned.

Gardner Looks To A Possible Race In 1972

RALEIGH (AP) — Republican Congressman Jim Gardner has conceded defeat in his bid for the North Carolina governorship this year but is already looking ahead to possibly making the race again in 1972.

While Gardner was dropping hints Thursday that he might run again Gov.-elect Bob Scott announced he will be inaugurated Jan. 3 as North Carolina's next governor.

Gardner told his news conference, "May I assure all citizens... that my determination and my beliefs are stronger than ever. We will be back in four years."

Asked to elaborate, Gardner said he was neither ruling himself out as a possible gubernatorial candidate nor saying flatly he would run.

"Somewhere some place, I'll be in that next campaign," he said.

Scott also held a news conference and said he had set his inauguration date following a conference with the man he will succeed, Gov. Dan Moore.

Scott, in keeping with tradition, appointed the senior state senator from Wake County, J. Ruffin Bailey, chairman of the inaugural committee.

The governor-elect named Ben Roney, one of the top strategists in his campaign, as his liaison man with the Moore administration.

Gardner had refused to concede Wednesday despite returns which showed Scott the winner by about 75,000 votes.

In his statement Thursday, the GOP nominee said: "I became a candidate for governor because I have a deep belief in our state and feel that I have a responsibility to work to see that it is a better state. My loss does not diminish my determination to work toward this goal; it only postpones the opportunity."

B52s Raid Red Base Camps

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Waves of B52 bombers raided enemy base camps along the Cambodian border today, hitting an area northwest of Saigon where the South Vietnamese commander said the enemy has massed some 60,000 troops for a "total attack."

Fifty of the eight-jet bombers dropped 1,500 tons of explosives on troop concentrations, base camps, infiltration corridors and supply depots in eight missions between noon Thursday and noon today, the U.S. Command said.

The B52s bombed about 60 miles north-northwest of Saigon, five miles from the Cambodian border. The area is in War Zone C, a longtime Viet Cong stronghold.

Military spokesmen said that infantrymen following up B52 strikes Tuesday 35 miles west of Saigon found about 200 enemy fortifications were destroyed by the Stratofortresses.

Crews returning from two raids along the Cambodian border Thursday night reported their bombs set off 49 secondary explosions, indicating massive destruction of enemy munitions stockpiles.

Earlier today, Lt. Gen. Do Cao Tri, commander of the 3rd Corps area that stretches through Saigon to the Cambodian border, said the Communist command was preparing to launch an all-out attack in his area.

Tri told Vietnam Press, the government news agency, that according to intelligence documents, the enemy is planning a "total attack" instead of an attempt to occupy some of the provinces in the border area.

There was no immediate comment from U.S. intelligence officers, but Tri's estimate of 60,000 enemy troops in the border area appeared to conflict with recent U.S. estimates of about 35,000 troops in the entire 3rd Corps area.

The South Vietnamese government said three days ago that an enemy document captured by American troops contained orders from Hanoi to step up military and political activity all over South Vietnam after the United States stopped bombing North Vietnam a week ago.

Meanwhile both the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands reported only light action across the country.

U.S. headquarters reported a U.S. Marine patrol base south of the demilitarized zone was the target of a rocket barrage Thursday, and Marines on patrol about a mile away were also hit. Marine casualties were light, with no fatalities, the command said.

A spotter plane located the rocket launchers inside South Vietnam, a mile south of the DMZ, and Marine counterfire resulted in six secondary explosions, indicating hits on ammunition, the Marines said.

The location of the launching site was significant. While North Vietnam has said the bombing halt was unconditional, U.S. sources in Saigon say it is their understanding that the North Vietnamese would stop military activity in the DMZ as one form of reciprocity.

Three Fined In Speeding Case

Three teenagers found out yesterday that speeding in Greenville does not pay.

Jimmy Lee Jones, 19-year-old Negro of 709 Taylor St. was arrested Wednesday night on charges of speeding 110 miles per hour, careless and reckless driving, and failing to stop for a blue light and siren.

Yesterday in Greenville Municipal Records Court, Judge Charles H. Whedbee handed Jones a 90-day jail term, but suspended the sentence on condition he pay a $100 fine and costs, and pay $100 to the Greenville Rescue Squad. The judge also ordered his license revoked for two years.

Two other youths, 19-year-old Venson Garth Jordan of Route 4, Greenville, and Wayne Crandel, 16 of 942 Legion St., were passengers in the car and were charged with aiding and abetting in the violations.

Judge Whedbee sentenced them to 30 days in jail suspended on payment of $100 and costs. Officials said the Jones car first was clocked by the police department's radar unit speeding 100 miles per hour on Memorial Drive, north of the Tar River Bridge.

Officers gave chase and during a more than six-mile run westward on N.C. 43, the Jones car was clocked at 112 miles per hour.

Five People Die As House Burns

MARSHALL, N. C. (AP) — Five persons burned to death late Thursday night in a blaze that leveled a two-story home in an isolated section of Macon County about six miles north of here.

Dead are Oliver Roberts, 75; his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Roberts, aged 43 and 34 respectively; the couple's 15-year-old son, Mike Roberts; and Ted Harris, 32, a grandson of Oliver Roberts.

Madison County Sheriff Roy Roberts said two persons escaped from the burning house—Oliver Roberts' wife, a semi-invalid, and her four-year-old great-grandson, Teddy, son of Ted Harris.

Roberts said the home was located on upper North Fork in the Big Pine section, more than a mile off a dirt road and accessible only by jeep.

The sheriff reported that the two survivors spent the night in an unheated abandoned house near the scene of the fire. At daybreak, Roberts

Israel, Arabs Blame Each Other For Halt

By TOM HOGE
Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Israel and the Arabs blamed each other Thursday night for the interruption in their indirect talks to bring peace to the Middle East.

After accusing the Israelis of blocking progress, the foreign ministers of Egypt and Jordan flew home from the United Nations. An Israeli spokesman said the Arabs had taken "the most rigid and intransigent position conceivable, which has no parallel in any other international conflict."

The Arabs have refused either to negotiate directly with Israel or to meet with the Israelis under U.N. auspices, the spokesman said, and have declined to comment on the peace plan Israel submitted last month.

Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad said the talks, with U.N. envoy Gunnar Jarring as the middle man, were "no longer practical discussions, only exchanges of letters—and this we can do from our capitals."

Jordanian Foreign Minister Abdul Monem Rifa'i said his stay in New York served "no positive purpose." He said Israeli Foreign Minister Abba

Eban's latest expression of views "did not reflect any readiness by Israel to change its negative positions."

Diplomats in Jerusalem believed the two foreign ministers were going home to consult their governments before resumption of talks in New York at a later date.

In Cairo, the semiofficial newspaper Al-Ahram said Jarring's mission had practically "Reached the end of the line," bringing nearer the danger of a new major explosion in the area. The paper, which President Gamal Abdel Nasser often uses as a mouthpiece, said the letters exchanged through Jarring by Eban and Riad were a clear indication "that attempts at a political settlement have reached an end and that it's impossible for the Arab countries to accept continuing Israeli aggression" on their territories.

A resolution adopted by the Security Council last Nov. 22 calls for Arab recognition of Israel's right to exist in return for Israeli withdrawal from the territories it occupied during the 1967 war.

Eban gave Jarring a memorandum Tuesday for study by the Arabs. It reportedly answered the Egyptian demand for withdrawal by calling for boundary negotiations. Eban asked whether Egypt would "be prepared to seek an agreement with us for replacing the ceasefire lines by a secure and recognized boundary acceptable to both our governments."

"Our boundaries are not negotiable," said Riad.

But Israel was reported placing main stress on the question of its security, not on retaining Arab soil. For example, diplomats said, Israel would be willing to return the Sinai Desert to Egypt if Egypt guaranteed free passage through the Gulf of Aqaba to Israeli ships.

Riad also turned down Eban's proposal for an international conference to solve the Palestine Arab refugee problem before peace was established. He said consideration of the refugee question "would only tend to obstruct the implementation of the General Assembly resolutions on this question."

Area Patrol System By City Police Cars

The Greenville Police Department has instituted an area patrol program where one patrol car is assigned to a specific area of the city and remains on patrol in that area during the officer's tour of duty.

The new plan went into effect yesterday, according to Chief H. F. Lawson, and is expected to provide better police service to the city.

The Chief said four areas have been outlined. They include the area South of Fifth Street and East of Evans Street; the area north of Fifth and east of Evans and including the territory north of the Tar River; an area north of Dickinson Avenue and west of Evans Street—south of the river; and the area west of Evans Street and south of Dickinson Avenue.

Cars assigned to these four areas will patrol them during the eight-hour duty periods, Chief Lawson said, unless they are called to aid a patrol car in another area.

Radio cars assigned to the districts will be manned usually by one officer during daylight hours and by two policemen at night. Patrol assignments for vehicles and officers will vary during the 12 midnight to 8 a.m. shift, the chief said and not be held to the area patrol program schedule.

Final Payment For Art Society

RALEIGH (AP) — A final payment of $869,033.75 has brought the North Carolina State Art Society a total bequest of $1,416,599.22 from the estate of Robert Fullenwider Phifer who died 40 years ago.

This was announced today by Mrs. Agnew Bahson Jr. of Winston-Salem, president of the society.

Phifer, of Concord and New York, was a financier, world traveler, amateur painter and art collector. His paintings were first shown in this area under the auspices of the Art Society in 1927.

As a result of the society's interest, Phifer willed his paintings to the society and made arrangements in his will for the society to inherit from his estate.

Prior to the final payment this week, the society had received a total of $547,565.47 from the Phifer estate. These funds were used to augment the opening of the North Carolina Museum of Art in 1965.

Wayne Morse Is Trailing In Vote

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A recount demand seemed likely today as Sen. Wayne Morse appeared to be the loser by nearly 3,500 votes in his quest for a fifth Senate term.

Robert Packwood, 36, Portland Republican who would be the Senate's youngest member if his vote margin holds up through the final counting, made no victory claim but an aide said, "He is assuming victory."

When counting boards quit work Thursday night an estimated 6,000 votes were still uncounted in five counties. In one of these—Lane—Morse was getting 54.8 per cent of the absentee votes. It was these which forced the tallying into the third day beyond Tuesday's election. Morse was getting 56.1 per cent of the absentees in Multnomah County.

These percentages were far too small to give him hope of overtaking Packwood, although the mathematical chance was still there.

Morse has not been available to the press—usual for him until final results are known—but the feeling is so general that he will demand a recount that Secretary of State Clay Myers ordered special protection for the ballots in all counties.

Packwood had 403,756 votes to Morse's 400,257, an edge of little more than four-tenths of 1 per cent of the votes cast.

Abby Advises: Find A Better Way To Help Husband

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
 DEAR ABBY: I'm ashamed of my husband because he speaks English so poorly. He's not a foreigner, Abby. He's had a high school education, but he talks like his parents, and they're foreigners.

On the plus side, Louis is a good provider. He doesn't run around, and he's good to the children and me. But the way he murders the king's English irks me.

I've given Louis books on grammar and I've even suggested he attend some adult education classes. But he never gets around to it. I correct him every time he opens his mouth, but he's either stupid or he doesn't care.

Junior Club Women Hear Guest Speaker

Dr. John T. Richards was guest speaker at the meeting of the Junior Woman's Club of Greenville held Wednesday night at the Woman's Club bldg.

Dr. Richards, a member of the Special Education Department at East Carolina University, spoke on "Teaching Exceptional Children."

Mrs. Mickie Savage, president, presided at the meeting. Reports were given on a Halloween party at Caswell Center, Kinston, and on Patch The Pony project.

The club's monthly newsletter was named — Junior Jabbers. The winning name was submitted by Mrs. Betty Fuqua. The club woman of the year was also voted on.

The December meeting, scheduled for Dec. 4 at 7:30 p.m., will be a dinner meeting and the installation of officers will be held.

Holiday House Plans Announced At Club Meeting

GRIFTON — Reports on the "holiday house" were given at the meeting of the Grifton Garden Club held Monday afternoon in the fellowship hall of the Christian Church.

The "holiday house" will be held Dec. 15 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Cox on McRae St. The house will be decorated by garden club members and will be open to the public.

A committee was appointed for the Christmas parade and the Christmas tree, which is displayed each year in the lobby of the Grifton Post Office. The three shows decorations made by club members.

Following the business session, Mrs. M. B. Hodges displayed several Christmas designs and materials.

Mrs. G. L. Tucker reported that the pansy plants being sold by the club were ready for delivery.

Mrs. J. E. Smith and Mrs. William Wiggins were hostesses.

What do you suggest? I've even considered divorce.

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: DIVORCE? That's like chopping a man's head off to get rid of the dandruff. Maybe there's something wrong with the way you "correct" him, or "suggest" that he learn. How come his grammar didn't irk you when he asked you to marry him? Or did you plan on making him over after marriage? If so, you'd better find a more effective way to "help" him or learn to live with his deficiencies.

DEAR ABBY: After you have read my letter, please tell me if you think I am "tetch-ed" or not.

I am married to a merchant marine. He is 57 and I am 52. We have been married for 5 years. This is the second marriage for both of us.

Abby, my husband is out at sea 3 months out of 4, and when he's gone I get so lonely for romance I could just die. I don't feel 62, and I don't look it either.

When my husband is home he wants to spend the whole 30 days in front of the television set. He never wants to take me out. He says he loves me, but he doesn't show me any affection, and I still like to be romanced. He supports me, which I appreciate, but I want more out of life. He says at our age sex does not matter. I told him to speak for himself, John. My question, am I expecting too much from him at his age?

62 AND RARIN' TO GO

DEAR 62: The amount of romance each person desires (or requires) depends on the individual's physical condition, attitudes, "get up and go," and a number of other factors. Some people are plum tucked out at 35, while others are rarin' to go at 70. If your husband says you are expecting too much of him at his age, you'd better believe him.

DEAR ABBY: I would appreciate your ideas on wigs. I think they are perfectly wonderful, but I always feel guilty when I wear one.

I'm a 40-year-old housewife and full time secretary. I often wear a wig to the office. When someone says, "My, your hair looks nice," I never know what to say.

To me, a wig is a personal thing, and I don't care to advertise the fact that I am wearing one. Yet I don't like to deceive people. Any suggestions?

FEELING GUILTY

DEAR FEELING: A wig is indeed a personal thing and you need not feel guilty for not advertising the fact that you're wearing one. When someone compliments you on your hair, say, "Thank you." But if you're asked, "Is that YOUR hair," say, "Yes! I paid for it."

CONFIDENTIAL TO "IN THE DARK": If you must ask me why your "mystery lover" forbids you to telephone him between certain hours and on week-ends, you shouldn't be out alone after dark. (He's probably not living alone.)

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HATE TO WRITE LETTERS? SEND $1 TO ABBY, BOX 69700, LOS ANGELES, CAL., 90069, FOR ABBY'S BOOKLET, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Nixon Goals Need Support Of All

If Richard Nixon is to achieve in the next four years his primary presidential goals of peace and harmony at home and abroad, he is going to need full support of all citizens of the country, white, Negro, rich, poor, Democrat and Republican.

Although the close margin by which he has been elected offers no clear mandate, he has been elected President of all the people of this land. Although a majority of the voters across the land indicated by their ballots they had a first choice of some one other than Richard Nixon to head the government for the next four years, those voters are first and foremost Americans and only second are they Democrats, Republicans, American Independents or affiliates of some other political group. They may not now or even later agree with all the policies or programs suggested by the new President. But they should lend to the presidential office the support and patience which is essential for successful transition from one administration to another.

The Nixon administration comes into office in difficult times. Problems which beset this nation at home and abroad are not simple or easily solved. It must not be expected that a new administration will be able to accomplish in a few weeks or few months what other administrations have not been able to accomplish. It must also be recognized that President Nixon will be the first president in this century who enters his first term of office without having Congress in control of his own political party.

This adds another difficult situation for the new administration from the standpoint of making its policies and programs effective.

But even in Congress, as with rank and file citizens, the new President should be given support at the outset of his administration. He should be given time to formulate his programs and policies. While no citizen is obligated to blindly agree with them, there is, it seems to us, the obligation to give serious and open-minded consideration to those policies and programs which are proposed.

With the election over, this is no time for retaining party labels and partisan considerations in the forefront of every matter. Rather it is a time for a genuine quest for harmony and constructive action to deal effectively with many national problems.

Those Virginia Votes To Have Impact In N.C.

There is no way around the fact that what happens in neighboring states affects North Carolina and vice versa.

The liquor-by-the-drink referenda held in more than 40 localities in Virginia this week will have its influence on this controversial issue which is sure to be before the North Carolina General Assembly next year. The very fact that 32 of the 43 Virginia communities voting on the issue approved the change can only whet the thirst of resort and convention centers in North Carolina.

Even though Governor-elect Bob Scott said in the recent campaign that he personally did not favor liquor-by-the-drink in North Carolina, that assertion will not be sufficient to prevent the proposal being offered in the legislature next year. It is certain to be presented and there can be little doubt that it will be supported by a much better organized group than was the case in the 1967 legislature.

The outcome of Virginia's change to local option liquor-by-the-drink will not determine the course North Carolina follows, but it is bound to have an influence on this state.

Role For Nixon In Peace Effort

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon's first priority in the days until his Jan. 20 inauguration likely will be to work out an agreement with President Johnson on his role in the current Vietnam peace drive.

There are no immediate signs that Nixon has decided he wants to make a personal pilgrimage, although he said in the late stages of his presidential campaign that he is willing to travel to either Saigon or Paris to get the stalled peace talks moving.

The possibility remained, however, that Johnson might decide to ask the president-elect to help convince South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu to send a delegation to the Paris meetings with North Vietnam.

Thieu's refusal to join in negotiations that include the National Liberation Front, political arm of the Viet Cong, has stalled the Paris negotiations.

Nixon suggested in a campaign TV speech last Sunday that "President Johnson and President-Elect Nixon could knock out the idea that Hanoi is going to gain from the negotiating table what they cannot gain from the battlefield"—an obvious fear of the Saigon government.

There has been speculation that Saigon may be more willing to listen to Nixon or his representative at this point than to Johnson.

Besides the concern over the war, Nixon said that the "great objective" of his administration would be "to bring the American people together."

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

LIFE AFTER DEATH

"There is no death! What seems so is transition. This life of mortal breath is but a suburb of the life

Elysian

Whose portal we call death."

Thus spoke Longfellow more than a hundred years ago.

There are a lot of people in the world who have no faith in life after death. That is all fantasy, wishful thinking, they say. But the Bible, the best of human thinking, the deepest needs of the soul, turn thumbs down on this sort of doubting.

There is nothing wrong about doubting if one, in the midst of his doubt, keeps pushing along for an answer to his or her query. For some people religion is just a code of ethics. For others it is a system of social justice. For still others it is hazy, something way up in the sky which we may understand better some day, and again may not.

If there is no life after death then the life we are all compelled to live is fragmentary. We only see life in its beauty and significance if we regard the life we are living now as part of an eternal existence. The problems of our lives are not all solved by the time we die. The problems of the race are never satisfactorily and finally solved. There has to be something beyond which makes us up for what we lack here on earth simply because earthly existence is imperfect.

Belief in life after death is one of the few things on which we can stake our lives with certainty.

Power In White House

WASHINGTON — It is only natural, as the Johnson administration nears its end, that magazine and book publishers should be descending on the White House to sign up everybody in sight for their memoirs.

The sidewalk in front of the White House is jammed these days with editors carrying satchels of money that they have been ordered to give out in advances to anyone who can offer insights into the Johnson years. The competition for memoirs is something fierce. As I was leaving a White House briefing the other afternoon, several editors ran up to me at the gate and shoved contracts in front of my face.

"I don't work in the White House," I explained. "I don't know any more about

Other Editors Say Raising Taxes

(Washington Daily News)

At this writing we do not know which man will be the next governor of North Carolina.

But insofar as the budget for the next two years in our state is concerned, it hardly makes much difference which one has been elected. The next session of the North Carolina General Assembly must inevitably come face to face with the prospect of having to raise taxes.

We say "having to raise" taxes because if the program of either gubernatorial candidate is carried through as outlined in the campaign, then it appears to us that the state cannot possibly balance its budget unless taxes are raised.

We admit that what we say here offers a gloomy prospect. But we feel we must face truth, be it bitter or sweet.

North Carolina cannot raise teachers' salaries to the national level, cannot raise state employees by 10 percent, and cannot install a system of kindergarten training in our state, along with the prospect of meeting all the other demands without finding some new sources of revenue.

Of course, we realize that we are living in a day and time when our economy is continually expanding. On each succeeding year under the present picture the state will take in more money under the present tax structure. But we hardly see how the expanding economy can offer enough money to meet the demands which face our state right now.

We say this. Every practical effort should be made to carry through with the program without resorting to any tax raises. We are sure that neither candidate for governor wants to raise taxes. But suppose that the program cannot be carried out without resorting to some form of tax increases. . . . what happens then?

Well, there are several possible sources. The four percent sales tax could be adopted statewide with the state getting all the money. A tobacco tax will be eyed closely and there is every prospect now that tobacco might be taxed. Then income taxes could be increased. There is always talk under such circumstances of increasing liquor taxes and of putting on a soft drink tax.

People will point out one real weakness as they see it here. There is so little talk anywhere along the line of cutting out anything or of cutting down anywhere on any state program.

We can all hope that there will be no tax raise. Right now, as we look at the picture, we hardly see how it can be possible if the state is to meet the programs as outlined by both gubernatorial candidates.

what went on there in the last five years than you do." Disappointed, they turned away from me and then rushed up to a man in overalls carrying a bag of tools.

"What do you do in the Executive Mansion?"

"I'm an electrician," he said.

"I'll give you $10,000 to write the story of how you wired the White House," an editor shouted.

"Fifteen thousand," a book publisher yelled. "If you tell us the inside story of how President Johnson made you change all the bulbs."

"Are you crazy?" the electrician said. "I've already been offered $25,000 by Life magazine to write about the time the President blew a fuse during the Fulbright Gulf of Tonkin hearings."

"Don't sign," the Look editor said, waving $5,000 bills. "We'll give you this, plus a percentage, if you tell the inside story of when Johnson switched from AC to DC, over Vietnam."

The electrician shook his head. "There are certain things between me and the President that I can't talk about, even after he leaves

Look Back Then

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — We are always being admonished to prepare for the future. But most of us, being the contrary creatures that we are, prefer to relive the past, over and over and over. One doesn't have to look very hard to find the reason.

HAL BOYLE

The future is a gamble, an unknown full of potential dread and new dragons. The past is a more comfortable place. We have survived its perils, slain its dragons, and turned it into a memory garden which is pleasant indeed to revisit.

There are a lot of blooms in your own memory garden if you can look back and remember when—

The only people who played golf were those who could really afford to.

Hatcheck girls looked grateful if you put a dime on the counter to retrieve your bonnet.

Most workers carried their sandwiches in tin lunch buckets instead of imitation leather briefcases.

One of the hate chores of childhood was having to put blacking on the big pot-bellied coal stove in the living room.

It cost as much to buy the sack of popcorn as it did to go into the movie.

Every housewife had the dull conviction that sometime during her matrimonial career she'd have to deal with the problem of bedbugs.

A college rebel was any male student who objected to joining the ROTC.

No one had heard of the dangers of a population explosion, and motherhood was the one thing on earth that stood above criticism.

If you looked at a painting in an art gallery, you could tell at a glance what it was—and whether it was hung right side up.

The quality of a saloon was judged by the variety of its free lunch and whether its brass cuspidors were brightly polished.

It was easier to detect a dyed blonde than it was to spot a counterfeit $5 bill.

A poor person was one who bought day-old bread at the bakery because the price was lower.

Every small town had at least one haunted house that children were afraid to pass by alone after dark.

As a Gypsy caravan approached, children fled to the safety of their front porches, mortally certain that, if they didn't, they'd be kidnapped and never see home again.

A juvenile delinquent was a sneaky kid who put rocks in the snowballs he threw at adult passers-by.

Girls wore dresses so long that if they had chapped knees nobody knew it but them.

Those were the days. Remember?

Terry Sanford Named To Board

RALEIGH (AP) — Former Gov. Terry Sanford and Dr. Raymond H. Dawson, University of North Carolina dean, are new members of the board of directors of the Research Triangle Institute.

They were elected Thursday at the board's annual meeting at the Research Triangle Park in the Raleigh-Chapel Hill-Durham area.

George H. Herbert, president of the institute told the board that revenue during the past fiscal year totaled $5,272,000, an increase of 13 per cent over the same period a year ago.

Institute revenues come from contracts under which the RTI staff performs research for industrial, foundation and government clients.

Herbert said Sanford and Dawson will add new strength to the institute board in areas such as education research, population studies, economic forecasting, public health, and long-range planning assistance to state governments.

Dawson is a professor of political science at UNC in Chapel Hill and was named dean of the College of Arts and Sciences there last July.

Sanford, an attorney in Raleigh and Fayetteville is regarded as an expert on federal-state relationships.

Police said no one was trapped in the buildings. The city had condemned them as dangerous.

"You kept a diary?" a publisher asked.

"Sure. How else would I know where all the plugs were? That's a big house."

"I'll give you $50,000 for it," the publisher said. He shook his head. "I don't know what to say. There's some stuff in there that's very personal, like the time I put in an extension cord for the President's electric blanket when Lynda Bird decided to tell her parents about her engagement to Capt. Robb."

"I'll give you $75,000," another publisher shouted. "What else is in the diary?" the editor of the Ladies Home Journal demanded.

"Well, there was the day when Walt Rostow was briefing the President on the Pueblo and he got so excited he stuck his finger in a socket and got a shock."

The Harper & Row editor said, "I'll bid $100,000." The electrician looked confused. "Is it worth that much?"

"Of course. You'd be the first one to shed any light on the Pueblo incident."

"I think I better talk this over with my agent," the electrician said. "All these offers are bewildering. I knew my memoirs were worth something, but I didn't think they would fetch $100,000."

"Why not?" the Putnam publisher said. "You controlled the power in the White House, didn't you?"

"Now that you mention it," the electrician said, "I guess I did. What am I offered for the movie rights?"

The oldest church in continuous service in the United States is said to be the Gloria Dei in Philadelphia, which was built in 1700.

Kidnaped Child By Locking Her In Her Room

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — A man kidnaped the 11-year-old daughter of a bank president by locking her in her room Thursday and threatened her harm until he collected a $50,000 ransom, police said.

He was hunted today by police and the FBI.

Police Chief William K. Davenport said Mrs. A. D. MacDonell Jr., wife of the president of the Metropolitan Bank of Lima, paid the ransom and found her daughter Amy unharmed at home, police said.

Mrs. MacDonell told police she encountered the man, wearing green overalls, knitted cap, penciled-on mustache and sunglasses when she returned home Thursday morning after taking her son to school.

She said the man told her he had locked her daughter in an upstairs bedroom and threatened to harm the child if Mrs. MacDonell did not give him $50,000.

Davenport quoted Mrs. MacDonell as saying the man instructed her to cash a $50,000 check at a nearby branch of the Metropolitan Bank, then wait there for a phone call.

She told police she followed the man's instructions, and when he called she was told to borrow a bank employee's white convertible and drive back home.

Police said the man flagged her down about two blocks from her home, took the car and the money and told her to walk home.

Mrs. MacDonell said she found her daughter at home, unharmed.

Police and FBI officials put out an alert for a man about 36 years old and 5 feet, 9 inches tall.

The borrowed car was found later near where it reportedly had been taken, with its engine still running.

Lawrence Huffman, assistant prosecutor, said that although the child had not been taken from the house, on the basis of Mrs. MacDonell's statement a kidnaping had taken place.

Details of the annual East Carolina University Homecoming Parade scheduled for 10 a.m. Saturday morning through downtown Greenville, have been announced.

The parade will climax several weeks of intensive planning by the Student Government Association and other campus organizations at ECU. Included in the parade will be a congressman, the newly elected North Carolina Attorney General, Miss North Carolina, university officials, 10 bands, 16 floats and some 50 young ladies in the court of the homecoming queen.

Parade co-chairman Jackie Daniel and Rex Meade have listed the following bands scheduled to march in the event: the East Carolina Marching Pirates, the Rose High School Band, the Greene Central High School Band, a Marine Corps Band, the North Nash High School Band, the Plymouth High School Band, the Aoshkie High School Band, the Eppes High School Band, the W. J. Robinson High School Band and the Washington High School Band.

Sixteen floats depicting the homecoming theme, "Mardi Gras, The Mississippi Carnival," will be competing for prizes. The floats, entered by fraternities, sororities and other campus organizations, will be reviewed by a panel of judges who will pick the winners.

Heading the list of dignitaries riding in the parade will be U. S. Congressman Walter B. Jones, N. C. Attorney General-elect and ECU Board of Trustees chairman Robert B. Morgan and Miss North Carolina, Anita Johnson of New Bern. Others are trustees, administrative officials and Student Government Association leaders.

The 1967 ECU Homecoming Queen, Nancy New of Alexandria, Va., will be featured along with some 49 other campus beauties, including contestants for the 1968 title.

14-Year-Old Is Arrested On Several Counts

A 14-year-old Greenville youth has been arrested on charges stemming from a Wednesday night collision at the intersection of Red Banks Road and Churchside Drive.

Police charged John Alexander Basso of 1600 Longwood Dr. with leaving the scene of an accident, no operators license and damage to city property.

Officers said a car allegedly driven by Basso collided with a fire hydrant at the intersection, damaging the hydrant and causing an estimated $350 damage to the car.

Basso was reported injured and taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment of his injuries.

Two Charged In 3-Car Collision

Two persons were charged with traffic violations in a three-car collision about 6:10 p.m. yesterday on N. C. 11, 200 feet South of the Monroe Street intersection.

Police identified drivers involved in the mishap as Lena Person, Hardison, "Negro" of Route 1, Bethel; Alex Bryan Hill, 68, of West End Trailer Pk.; and Daisy Bell Lancaster of Route 2, Kinston.

Police set damages at $400 to the Lancaster car and $150 to the Hill vehicle. Officers said no damage resulted to the Hardison car.

Mrs. Hardison was charged with blocking traffic while Mrs. Lancaster was charged with failing to reduce her speed enough to avoid an accident.

Southern Democrats To Run Committees

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern Democrats will control the chairmanships of the top four Senate committees in the next Congress, extending their already dominant influence.

Their over-all control of committee chairmanships in the Senate, however, will be the same as in the 90th Congress—nine of 16.

In the House, Southerners control four major committees and border state representatives will head six others out of a total of 21.

The only House chairmanship vacated is that of the Un-American Activities Committee. Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La., was defeated in the primary and since the second-ranking Democrat, Virginia's William Tuck, is retiring, the chairmanship will go to Missouri Democrat Richard H. Ichord.

Senate Southerners will make a clean sweep of the four most influential panels when Georgia's Richard B. Russell, takes over the Appropriations Committee.

Carl Hayden, the Arizona Democrat retiring at 91, has headed this committee for 14 years. It passes on all of the President's money requests to run the government.

These Dixie Democrats are retaining the other three top chairmanships:

Louisiana's Russell B. Long, Finance. This committee handles tax, social security and trade legislation among others.

Wrecking Crew Is Disappointed

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A wrecking crew demolishing an old building crashed through one wall to uncover a room crammed with beer, wine and champagne. They gleefully started loading the goods aboard their trucks.

Then Dick Baker told them to put it back. They had accidentally broken through a wall into the storeroom of his bar next door.

Mississippi's James O. Eastland, Judiciary. This panel acts on civil rights bills and anti-crime legislation and passes on all judicial appointments.

Arkansas' J. William Fulbright, Foreign Relations. This Committee considers appointments of ambassadors and U.S. representatives to the United Nations, handles foreign aid bills, and gives advice on American commitments around the world.

Long and Fulbright were re-elected Tuesday, each for the fifth time. Committee chairmanships are awarded by seniority.

Russell is giving up the Armed Services chairmanship to take Appropriations, but the former will be headed by another veteran Southerner, John Stennis of Mississippi.

Stennis has been handling a large share of the work on Armed Services in recent years.

The Southerners pick up Appropriations but lose Labor and Public Welfare because of the retirement of Lister Hill, D-Ala.

Labor will go to Wayne Morse, D-Ore., if he manages to survive his re-election battle. He was trailing slightly with the contest expected to be settled by absentee ballots and possibly a recount.

If Morse is defeated, Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., is likely to head Labor and Public Welfare.

Yarborough also would have a choice of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee whose chairman, A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., was defeated. If Yarborough becomes chairman of Labor, Gale W. McGee, D-Wyo., probably would be in line to take Post Office and Civil Service.

Monroney's defeat also opens a vacancy on the recently created Select Committee on Standards and Conduct—the Senate's ethics group.

Among the important House committees run by Southerners are: Armed Services, L. Mendell Rivers of South Carolina; Rules, William M. Colmer of Mississippi; Ways and Means, Wilbur Mills of Arkansas and Appropriations, George Mahon of Texas.

Plan Convert To Natural Gas

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pacific Lighting Corp. says preliminary tests of a natural gas system to propel automobiles were so promising it plans to convert 1,000 vehicles from gasoline propulsion.

Developers demonstrated the natural gas system Thursday. Fuel storage was an obvious drawback. Eight hundred cubic feet of tanks took up most of the trunk of a demonstration auto. Bob McJones, automotive research and development consultant for Pacific Lighting, said driving range is short also—about that of battery-operated cars.

McJones said enough power to equal that of a gallon of gasoline costs about eight cents—compared to 34 cents or more for the gasoline. Conversion costs about $300 per engine.

Another plus: The natural gas reduces some types of air pollution by 90 per cent, McJones said.

Draft Treaty On Drug Controls

GENEVA (AP) — The International Narcotics Control Board said today that traffic in psychotropic drugs—ranging from LSD to sedatives—has reached "epidemic proportions." It announced completion of a draft treaty designed to check growing misuse.

Sir Harry Greenwood, chairman of the board, told a news conference the problem requires urgent, international legislation. He announced that the draft, circulated to member governments last month, will be discussed at a meeting of the 24-country International Narcotics Commission here Jan. 13.

"In some countries, the traffic in these drugs has reached epidemic proportions," Sir Harry explained. He named the United States, Sweden, Britain and Holland among those most affected. In general, Sir Harry said, the draft treaty follows the lines of previous international legislation on narcotics.

The city of St. Louis, Mo., has 99 suburbs.

Voice Specialist Marks 25,000th Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Allen Swift, leading voice specialist in the field of radio and television commercials, who entered the field in 1954 when he portrayed the voices of all the puppets on the "Howdy Doody Show", is celebrating his 25,000th commercial this week. In his career Swift has done the "voices" for everything from soup to nuts—literally. Among his sponsors have been manufacturers of canned soups, automobiles, toothpaste and peanuts, and he has even done the "voice" of a mailbox, a pencil and a dog. On the serious side, Swift dubbed the voice of former President Eisenhower in the movie, "The Longest Day". Swift travels between studio assignments on a collapsible bike. He claims this helps him keep in trim as well as avoid traffic jams.

Bob's case shows an extreme example of sexual perversion within marriage. But it also illustrates the broad educational work that hundreds of newspapers are rendering to safeguard happy homes. For how many of you readers have ever understood how adult homosexuality develops? Be grateful to your progressive newspaper for explaining such vital facts.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE H-529: Bob W., aged 38, has been married 15 years. "Dr. Crane," his wife protested, "we have never had marriage relations even once!" "Nobody else knows of this fact, for my husband doesn't want me to tell it, since we are both active in the community and he is a successful business executive.

"People apparently have thought I was sterile for we adopted two children and to outsiders, we appear to be a normal family.

"My husband says he loves me and seems devoted to me in other respects. He is also good to the children and generous with his money.

"But he says he is a homosexual, and he uses that as an excuse to have twin beds.

"Dr. Crane, I am growing neurotic, just trying to keep our secret, so what would you advise?"

Homosexuality is an immature level in the 5 stages of emotional development from infancy to maturity.

But Bob is using homosexuality as a camouflage for his mother-fixation and the resulting platonic marital situation. He is thus tricking his wife.

At birth, the infant is in the egocentric phase of its emotional development.

Everything then revolves around itself. It is completely selfish, with no consideration even for its harassed mother, so it wails in the middle of the night for a bottle or a dry diaper.

But by the time it reaches kindergarten age, it realizes there are a couple of rather prominent human "planets" in its orbit, which are called Mama and Daddy. This is the parental stage.

Third, comes the true psychic homosexual phase at the Cub Scout age when boys band together and abhor girls. Vive versa.

It is then considered an insult to be fond of the opposite sex or to have one's initials linked with hers on wooden fences or carved on trees.

But the heterosexual phase appears by the middle teens, wherein each sex looks to the opposite for romantic excitement.

Alas, some people get "fixated" at one or another of those earlier stages and never fully mature in their emotions.

Psychopathic personalities remain entirely self-centered and lacking in normal moral values, due to fixation at that infantile egocentric stage.

Old maids and chronic bachelors stay fettered in their allegiance to Papa or Mama. Some may marry but, like Bob, can't sever the fetters of their mamma-fixation. Others mature physically and then add the adult sexual aspects to their earlier homosexual fixation on their own kind.

The final stage of emotional maturity is called altruism, in which a person can willingly sacrifice for others, maybe yet unborn, and from whom he may never receive a personal word of thanks.

Christ's going to Calvary is the top example of this highest or 5th level of emotional maturity.

Bob, however, was not indulging in homosexual behavior with males.

Due in part to mother-fixation, his honeymoon was a failure so he used the homosexual from his wife.

After a couple of interviews and when his wife took the initiative, she banishes his platonic nature and they finally became man and wife.

So send for my booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. Even adult homosexuals can reeducate themselves into happy heterosexual unions.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

South was cognizant of the danger involved in attempting to ruff out his diamond losers in today's four spade contract. He succeeded in resolving his problems thru a series of loser on loser plays which enabled him to transfer his ruffing worries to another suit.

West opened the king of diamonds and, when he was permitted to hold the trick, he continued with the queen. East's nine and ten appeared on successive leads—and declarer played the ace. A heart was led to dummy's ace and a small heart ruffed in the closed hand.

South now led a diamond covered by West but, instead of ruffing, declarer discarded a club from dummy as a precautionary measure to avoid an overruff by East. West now shifted to a trump taken by declarer's jack, and he led his last diamond once more discarding a club from the North hand.

West was in again with the jack of diamonds and, since he could not lead another trump, he shifted to a club. South won the trick with the ace and was now in position to ruff a club with the five of spades. A heart was trumped in the closed hand, and declarer ruffed his last club with the ace of spades. The king and queen of trumps took the last two tricks.

Declarer's precautions to avoid an overruff in diamonds were duly rewarded when he succeeded in holding himself to the loss of three tricks—all in the diamond suit. East missed an opportunity to thwart his opponent, however. When South leads the fourth round of diamonds and West is in, East should realize that his partner has no more trumps to lead. Therefore, in order to cut down the impending cross-ruff, East should trump West's trick to return a second spade. This will restrict South to one club ruff and, in the end, he will be left with a club loser for the setting trick.

Summer Theatre 'Winter Gala' On November 22

The East Carolina University Summer Theatre is holding its first Winter Gala at the Candlewick Inn Friday, Nov. 22, beginning at 9 p.m.

According to ECU Summer Theatre Producer Edgar R. Loessin, the evening will be filled with dancing and entertainment and climaxed with a midnight buffet supper.

"I feel this is a wonderful

way for our theatre friends to get together in the winter and the proceeds from the evening will help us to continue to provide quality entertainment for Eastern North Carolina," Loessin said.

Heading the evening's entertainment will be summer theatre favorite Sally-Jane Heit who has appeared with the theatre in numerous productions, last summer's "Guys and Dolls" being the most recent.

Loessin said committees of active theatre supporters have been working for several weeks to make the evening a success.

Serving on the Greenville Committee are: Mrs. Louis W. Gaylord Jr., Mrs. David Whichard, Mrs. Tyson Bilbro, Mrs. John G. Clark Jr., Mrs. Edwin E. Rawl Jr., Mrs. Troy Dodson, Mrs. Eric Fearrington, Mrs. L. S. Ficklen, Dr. Blanche Watrous, Mrs. W. M. Scales Jr., Mrs. Henry Howard, Mrs. Charles White, Mrs. Thomas Vernon, Mrs. John B. Spliman, and Mrs. Charles Howard Jr.

In addition to Greenville, theatre representatives in surrounding towns are contacting interested persons to insure a large turnout for the event, Loessin said.

Announcements for the party have been mailed to all previous summer theatre patrons, but anyone desiring to help the theatre is invited to attend. The admission is $25 per couple and reservations may be made by sending a check to Box 2712, Greenville, N.C.

Sirhan Case Is Proving Costly

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It cost $285,949 through Sept. 30 to jail and start prosecution of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, charged with the June 5 slaying of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, the county says. Sirhan's trial is scheduled for Dec. 9.

Auditor-Controller Mark Bloodgood set the figure Thursday in a memo to a county supervisor. Much of the cost was attributed to alterations at the Hall of Justice and jail to protect Sirhan and to preparation of the small courtroom for the trial. Overtime for sheriff's deputies to guard Sirhan, 24, a Jordanian, was listed at $82,242.

Study-Planning Time Is Refused

RALEIGH (AP) — Teachers in the Charlotte - Mecklenburg schools and the Albermarle city system will not be allowed to spend two afternoons a month for curriculum planning.

The North Carolina Board of Education, in rejecting the requests Thursday, said state law requires teachers spend at least six hours a day with their students.

The two local school boards had approved requests from city and county teachers and administrators in the units that school children receive two extra afternoon holidays each month to allow teachers time for curriculum planning.

Tar Heel teachers are currently paid for 185 work days each year, or 9 1/4 school months.

The board said it has no alternative other than to insist that boards of education comply with the law "to the end that pupils shall be in school not less than six hours a day."

Dr. Charles F. Carroll, state superintendent of public instruction, said that in September the state board asked the Advisory Budget Commission to recommend to the 1969 General Assembly that teachers be paid for 10 calendar months or about 300 days.

"This would allow more paid time for curriculum planning, faculty meetings, teacher's meetings, and other necessary sessions," he said.

New Bridge Link Formally Opened

PLYMOUTH, N. C. (AP) — The 3.6-mile Zeb Vance Norman Memorial Bridge spanning the Roanoke and Cashie Rivers was formally dedicated Thursday.

The bridge, which links Bertie and Washington counties, cost $4 million and required two and one-half years to build. Norman, a former legislator and a mayor of Plymouth, died a week after the state Highway Commission named the structure in his honor.

Former Gov. Terry Sanford, the principal speaker at the dedication said "We would not have this bridge if it was not for the persistence of Norman." The bridge was authorized during Sanford's administration.

Absorbing Story In 'Ice Station Zebra'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — One of the movie hits of the thriving fall season appears to be "Ice Station Zebra," a somewhat far-fetched yet absorbing adventure of the Cold War.

The chilling epic is one of many expensive films that the studios are pushing into the nation's roadshow theaters to capture the lush holiday trade and, incidentally, to qualify for the Oscar sweepstakes. Among the others: "Funny Girl," "Finian's Rainbow," "Oliver," "Shoes of the Fisherman," "Romeo and Juliet," "The Lion in Winter," "Star," "MacKenna's Gold," "Isadora," "Chitty Chitty Bang Bang," etc.

Not all of them will click with the critics and public, of course. But at its Hollywood premiere, "Ice Station Zebra" seemed to have that rare quality of capturing the audience's complete attention despite the imagination-stretching adventures on the screen.

That is a rare kind of film and one in which director John Sturges excels; he also directed "The Great Escape." Other examples of such adventures: "The Bridge on the River Kwai," "The Guns of Navarone," "2001: A Space Odyssey."

One of those who greatly enjoyed the premiere of "Ice Station Zebra" was Rock Hudson, who also happens to star in it.

"I have a yardstick to determine whether a picture of mine is good," he remarked afterward. "If I am conscious of my own acting, then I know that the picture isn't successful. But if I can lose myself in the story and the characters, then it's a good picture. And I did that in 'Ice Station Zebra'."

The film appears to mark a turnabout in Hudson's career, which seemed to have been bed-ridden after too many sex-oriented farces with Doris Day, Gina Lollobrigida and other leading ladies.

"Not that I'm out of bed yet," he remarked. "In this last picture I did in Italy with Claudia Cardinale, I come into her apartment as she is taking a shower. What happens? I get right into the shower with her, and then the picture goes into a sex montage."

The film, as yet untitled for the American market, has been released in Italy, but not here. Hudson has been spending his days dubbing his dialogue onto the sound track; the Italians customarily record lines after the pictures are photographed.

The winner: Mrs. Ronald Drake, a Democrat.

Students Behind Bars To Pay For Tuition; Parties Are Rarely Fun

By JEAN BENNETT

HACKENSACK, N.J. (AP) — They go to parties so they can study.

They say the parties are sometimes harder work than one of their varsity workouts; that the parties are rarely fun because they are always on the wrong side of the social situation.

But for a student who must earn part of his college costs, tending bar at private or business functions can be lucrative. Depending on the amount of time he can afford away from his studies, a man may earn anywhere from $600 to $1,500 a year.

"The University urges all students on scholarships to earn part of it in cold cash," says John LoBrecque of Lewiston, Maine, co-manager of the Bar-tenders Agency at Columbia University.

"It isn't easy either, but when you have to work you have got to make the time in which to do it."

"There are 22 student agencies at Columbia," said Edwin Harnden of Corvallis, Ore., LoBrecque's administrative co-manager, "and they give students an opportunity to earn while they learn."

LoBrecque, a senior industrial engineering student, and Harnden, a junior history major, share a tiny office at 617 W. 115th St. in an ancient apartment with several of the other agencies. Students register for work here, and get their assignments in the faculty supervised work agencies.

To have a Columbia University student tend bar, a host pays him a $15 minimum, plus $4 for each additional hour after four hours, plus transportation costs if the party is out of the city.

"The agency always has as many jobs as are needed, and we can always fill a request," says LoBrecque. "But three weeks before New Year's Eve we are 'booked solid.'"

The agency advertises in the Village Voice, Park East and West Side News and the majority of job offers come from mid-Manhattan. But students will gladly travel to Long Island, Westchester or those over 21 to New Jersey.

Jerry Itzkoff of Hillsdale, N.J., a 19-year-old pre-med freshman, said his family has no poor opinion of his earning power in the drinking world. He says he likes bartending because he can easily plan his schedule around it. In the summer he plays piano for singers performing in and around Bergen County.

Several times a year LoBrecque and Harnden schedule a bartending school consisting of six lessons for $5. The next course has 110 registrants.

Along with polishing, pouring and serving, the professional always gives the young men tips on how to handle the sober or tipsy guest.

"I went to some sort of a business affair one night," said LoBrecque, "shaved, polished and dressed. As soon as I got there they made me strip to the waist but the waitresses kept on their tops."

However, it must be obvious that students at Columbia have the brains and find the time as well as the energy for studies, sports, and work, for 500 are involved in the 22 student agencies. Among the other student employment agencies are tutoring, typing, charter flights, Europe-by-Car, souvenirs and refreshments for games, and magazine subscriptions.

Pirates Face Tough Tampa In Homecoming Tilt

Meet The Pirates

more from Durham, is an end. Roberts, a 6-2, 201-pound sophomore from Jacksonville, is a guard. Both have seen reserve action.

East Carolina Facing One Of Top National College Teams

East Carolina University holds its Homecoming festivities this weekend, but they might wish they had not invited Tampa to join in before the weekend is over. The Tampa Spartans will be bringing to Ficklen Stadium one of the top small college teams in the nation. They are rated either fourth or fifth in the country, depending on which poll you are reading at the time. They have lost only once in seven games, and only one team has scored more than two touchdowns on them. The lone winner against Tampa has been Cincinnati, which beat them 31-28, but not before Tampa had rallied from a 21-0 halftime deficit. They also have claims to wins over Tulane and Mississippi State to their credit, by scores of 17-14 and 24-17 respectively. "They have a very strong team physically," Coach Clarence Stasavich said of his rival for Saturday. "They are bigger than the average college team, and they have a strong line." Stasavich pointed out that the offensive line of the Spartans will average about 225, while the back weigh in at around 195. On defense, they'll weigh 230 in the line and 195 in the secondary. "They have been very good on defense," Stasavich pointed out, reflecting on their past scores. "Only Cincinnati scored a lot on them, while they've been scoring around three touchdowns a game. "They have an outstanding halfback in Leon McQuay, who is their leading rusher." McQuay has 605 yards going into last week's game with Northern Michigan, and was averaging five yards a lug. He's picked up over a hundred yards per contest. "They also get good yardage from the other halfback, Matt MacVane, who averages 4.8 yards per carry, and fullback Monk Coleman, who's been getting 4.4 yards per rush," Stasavich said. The quarterback on the team is Jim Del Gaizo, who is hitting 48 per cent of his aeriels. He has completed 95 of 199 going into last week's game for 1,166 yards and 11 touchdowns. His chief targets were Joe Sliker, who had 34 receptions, and his own twin brother, John Del Gaizo, who had 21 catches. "They are a wide open team. They can run and pass, and they do a lot of both," Stasavich said. "They usually like to run the sweeps, but they can go inside. Del Gaizo can throw both from the picket and on a roll-out." He seems to prefer the drop-back pattern, however. "Their defense is led by their middle guard, Ron Brown, 6-0, 220. He's already been picked for one All-Star game. Their secondary has intercepted 17 passes." Turning to the Pirates, Stasavich noted that this week's workouts have been improved. "There seems to be a little more spirit now that we have another win," he said. There have been a few line-up changes, and the Bucs seem to be settling into some positions that have been up in the air all season. Injuries, however, may cause some problems. End Jim Flowe will be handicapped by an injury, while Paul Weathersbee and Don Tyson are also ailing. Dwight Flanagan still is out, and blocking back Charlie Overton may miss most or all of the game. "We also had some early week flu, but most seem to be ready now," the coach said. "The boys have a little better outlook," Stasavich said. "Billy Wightman has shown a lot of improvement at tailback, and Butch Colson is continuing to improve at fullback. Dick Corrada ran much better at wingback against Furman." Stasavich bemoaned the fact that the Bucs are having to use so many sophomores, however, as he would rather go with experience. "It's going to be a tough game," he said. "They are one of the better teams on our schedule, and they'll be very good." The probable offensive starting lineup has Jimmy Adkins and Danny Wilmer at ends, North Springs and Phil Bilo-deau at tackles, Don Britton and Ben Grieb at guards, Terry Edmundson at center, Billy Wightman at tailback, Butch Colson at fullback, David Brill at blocking back and Dick Corrada at wingback. On defense, the Pirates will have Jim Flowe and Roger Bost at ends, Wayne Lineberry and Don Tyson at tackles, Walter Adams and George Wheeler at guards, Paul Weathersbee at middle linebacker, Jeff Dudley at rover, George Whitley and Mike Boaz at halfbacks, and Stu Garrett at safety. Game time is 2 p.m.

State Must Win Against Duke To Keep ACC Title Hopes Alive

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The North Carolina State Wolfpack will be throwing everything it has against the Duke Blue Devils Saturday because nothing short of a win will keep its chances for the Atlantic Coast Conference crown alive. State could have sewed up the title last week, but saw its chances of doing so take wings and fly away as Clemson's Tigers took the victory. This week's game will be State's final one this season. The Wolfpack has managed to defeat the Blue Devils the past three year, but it took State a long time to manage a winning streak against Duke—since before 1949. Duke beat State that year by a scant one point and for 13 years after ruled the roost, letting the Wolfpack come no closer to a win than in 1959 when their game ended in a 14-14 tie. Trainers said Thursday that Duke flanker Marcel Courtillet should be the only Blue Devil player unable to participate Saturday. Returning will be guard Ken Homa, linebacker Ed Newman and defensive back Mike Fitzpatrick. The Wolfpack now stands 5-1 in the conference, but Duke, Clemson and Wake Forest are shaking the ACC ladder in an all-out effort to topple State from its eight-story seat. Even if State defeats Duke Clemson still can win the ACC title. The defending champs have not lost a conference match this season and are 2-0-1 going into Saturday's game with Maryland. Clemson has two more conference games after this week and needs to win all three to stay in the championship race unless State loses. The Tigers went through a brisk one-hour workout Thursday, tuning up their attack for Saturday's game. The defense worked on ways to prevent Maryland's forward passing, and later spent time on goal line situations. Virginia's football team drilled in a steady downpour

Thursday, working on passing and ball control in preparation for its game with North Carolina Saturday. Meanwhile, Tar Heel Coach Bill Dooley said quarterback Gayle Bomar still is on the doubtful list for Saturday's game, but split end Peter Davis will be able to see limited action. Bomar dislocated his right thumb and Davis sustained a lacerated tongue in last week's game at the Air Force Academy. Davis has been named co-captain for the Virginia game. The Wake Forest Deacons, now third in the ACC standings and still in contention for the crown, meet the South Carolina Gamecocks Saturday. Deac Coach Bill Tate said Thursday he thinks the game will be one of the more exciting ones. "South Carolina is a fun team to watch. I just hope they won't make a lot of jokes," said Tate. Tate said the Gamecocks have improved both offensively and defensively over the team Wake Forest beat last year, 33-21.

Pirate Cagers In Scrimmage

East Carolina's basketball team will hold its first game-type scrimmage at approximately 4:30 p.m. Saturday afternoon in Minges Coliseum. "We feel like that this will give many of our alumni and followers to see us for the first time this year," Quinn said. East Carolina's football team will play Tampa at its annual homecoming game Saturday at 2 p.m. The Pirate cagers, who have been working since Oct. 15, will open their season Nov. 30 against West Virginia at Morgantown. "I am very pleased with the progress we have made to this point," Quinn said. "We have been paying particular attention to defense and several individuals have impressed me with their improvement since last year." Quinn has been extremely happy with the work of rising sophomore Jim Gregory. "Until he hurt his ankle he was doing an outstanding job," Quinn said. "It is very heartening to see a sophomore reach the point where he is challenging for a starting position." Another pleasant aspect has been the play of Rick Collins, a 6-9 junior college transfer. Collins, if he keeps on improving, will answer the problem of the big man in the middle for the Pirates. "His play has been very encouraging," Quinn said. Saturday's scrimmage against the freshmen will be the only game-type practice the Pirates will have before opening the season. "We will make it as much like a game as possible and have officials," Quinn said.

Top Southern Teams After Outside Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Southern Conference's three ranking football teams go up against giant-sized outside opposition Saturday with differing schemes on how to prevent another "lost weekend" in the SC's losing battle against outsiders.

League-leading Richmond leaves no doubt it plans to attack by air against defensively mighty Virginia Tech. Second-place William and Mary figures its best chance to beat potent Syracuse is with a ground assault.

Only The Citadel appears to have much choice. The Bulldogs square off against West Virginia and apparently may safely attack on both fronts against a Mountaineer defense that's far from the best in the land.

All three SC leaders will be underdogs in their excursions against these powers of the outside gridiron world. So, for that matter, will two non-leaders of the conference who also tangle with outsiders — East Carolina and Furman.

East Carolina's foe on the Pirate field is once-beaten Tampa, a team stepping up fast in the football world. Furman's opponent is Samford University which looks like a power to the Paladins, who haven't won in the series since 1961, losing the last four games.

There's only one game Saturday matching Southern Conference rivals—a bout at Davidson between the Wildcats, 1-2 in SC play, and winless VMI, 0-3 in the league. It's the final conference game for each team.

Richmond's plans to allow Buster O'Brien to pass against Virginia Tech appear logical in view of the fact the Techmen historically are death on opposition runners.

Unfortunately the Techmen, 4-3 over-all but recent victors over West Virginia and Florida State are finding an offense to go with their defense, also are death on passers, stealing an average of three a game.

"We don't plan to do much different against Tech," says Richmond coach Frank Jones, whose Spiders have won five games in a row. "I don't know how we could if we wanted to. It's too late for that. Of course we'll let Buster pass. That's the best weapon we've got."

William and Mary, 3-4, plans to try to run against Syracuse for two sound reasons. First, that's the way the Indians have attacked best all season. W&M's quarterback, Wes Meeteer, hasn't yet thrown a touchdown pass.

Second, Syracuse has permitted only two TD passes in six games, four of which the Orangemen have won. They, too, attack principally aground.

The Citadel's effort to achieve its fifth victory in its game with West Virginia will be helped by the return to action of one of the SC's top runners, Jim McMillan, who has been injured. McMillan's presence will take some of the load off passer Tony Passander, the other Bulldog Weapon.

Mainly, The Citadel will be concerned with stopping WVU passer Mike Sherwood, who in his sophomore year already has smashed virtually every school record for passing. West Virginia, 4-3 over-all, already has beaten three SC teams — Richmond, W&M and VMI — this season.

Woody's Ramblin's

By WOODY PEELE

Last week turned out to be one of those weeks that you wish you could forget.

This column's predictions proved to be true in only 13 of the 19 games which were listed. That pulled the old percentage down, but hopefully, this week's, the last for most of the high schools, will be improved.

There is one game that I have to take credit for picking, despite the outcome. I picked West Carteret to beat Rose. Last Friday night, I was less than a yard from the final play's conclusion (closer than the nearest official), and I found I was wrong in who would win. Unfortunately, the record books will never show it.

But that's past, and now lets go to the future.

Rose plays its final game in the Northeastern Conference tonight. They'll be hosting New Bern in Ficklen Stadium. The Phant offense seems to be running in high gear now, and if the defense can catch up, the Phants will win it handily. If the defense doesn't . . .

Anyway, I'll pick Rose in this one.

Ayden travels to Manteo to play for the berth in the State Class A Playoffs. Manteo is a strong team, but Ayden feels they can do the job. A Class A team hasn't scored on them this year. Manteo probably will be the first, but I'll still stick with Ayden.

North Lenoir will be visiting hapless Greene Central. The Rams could knot up the Eastern Plains title for Farmville with a win, but they won't. North Lenoir will take this one, but will fall to Farmville Tuesday in the title game. (How's that for a double prediction.)

Farmville, meanwhile, plays Saratoga, before meeting North Lenoir on Tuesday. The Red Devils are still undefeated, and should continue to be through this week's games.

Robersonville travels to Vanceboro to wrap up the season's regular schedule and a title is directly in front of them. The Rams need only to win to gain the Tobacco Belt Conference title. They will.

Grifton, which is the defending champion in the conference, has finished their conference schedule, and meets tough South Lenoir in a non-conference battle. It should be a tough game, and I'll pick South Lenoir.

Turning to the college scene, the big one is East Carolina's Homecoming contest against the Tampa Spartans. Tampa really hasn't been having a Spartan existence lately, but has been Roman around the country picking up wins. I might myth this one, but I'll have to go with Tampa. It's really all Greek to me.

Elsewhere in the Southern Conference, Davidson will beat VMI, Syracuse will top William & Mary, Virginia Tech will edge past Richmond, West Virginia will take The Citadel and Samford will beat Furman.

Over in the Atlantic Coast Conference, Clemson should beat Maryland State will bounce back against Duke, Virginia will down North Carolina, and Wake Forest will take South Carolina. To round it out, we'll add Army over Boston College, Southern California over California, Colorado over Oklahoma State, and Cornell over Brown.

Season's record: '95 right, 29 wrong, 76.6 per cent.

Southern Cal Faces A Tough Test Saturday

By MIKE BRYSON Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern California, with a bit of tarnish on its No. 1 reputation, faces a stern threat this weekend of having it completely blackened.

The Trojans, whose advantage over Ohio State in The Associated Press poll has been shaved to a paper thin edge, square off against defensive-minded California Saturday in a match that will probably not only determine one of the Rose Bowl participants but also the national champion.

Sensational O. J. Simpson was held to 67 yards and Southern Cal scored a touchdown with just 1:13 left last week to squelch unheralded Oregon State 20-13 for its sixth straight.

Since Ohio State, also 6-0, is an overwhelming favorite Saturday against hapless Wisconsin, 1-6, the Trojans undoubtedly will have to be impressive to maintain their hold on the top spot. And, they will have to do it against a stingy defense. California, ranked No. 11, has permitted only 39 points in rolling to a 5-1-1 record.

While Ohio State should have an easy time of it, No. 3 Kansas and No. 4 Penn State—both eyeing Orange Bowl bids—face strong foes in their efforts to remain unbeaten.

Billy Houghton of Brookville, N.Y., led harness drivers in money won in 1967 with $1,305,773 in purses. Stanley Dancer and Del Insko also passed the $1 million mark.

Kansas, fresh from a 27-14 coast past Colorado for seventh straight, plays host to stubborn Oklahoma, 3-3, and Penn State, 6-0, which survived a late rally to subdue Army 28-24, entertains erratic but strong Miami, Fla., 5-2.

No. 5 Tennessee, 5-0-1, tackles No. 18 Auburn, 5-2, in the second of a big day-night double-header involving two important Southeast Conference games at Birmingham, Ala. No. 20 Louisiana State meets Alabama in the afternoon game.

No. 6 Purdue travels to Minnesota for a Big Ten game that will be nationally televised.

No. 7 Michigan draws Iowa Illinois, No. 8 Missouri plays Iowa State, No. 9 Georgia meets Florida at Jacksonville and No. 10 Texas travels to Baylor.

In other games, No. 12 Notre Dame plays host to Pittsburgh, No. 13 Houston has a night game at Memphis State, No. 14 Arkansas faces Rice, No. 15 Oregon State meets UCLA, No. 16 and unbeaten Ohio University is at Bowling Green, No. 17 Michigan State tests Indiana and No. 19 Wyoming is idle.

Top Three Are Picked To Win

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Dallas, Los Angeles and Baltimore should continue to march along in the National Football League Sunday with St. Louis and Cleveland.

Philadelphia might even win out and the standings of the tight Central Division could be scrambled again after the Green Bay-Minnesota game.

The New York Jets have a chance to just about wrap up the Eastern Division of the American Football League but the Kansas City-Oakland-San Diego race should continue in the West.

Last week's score was 10-3 6-2 in the NFL, 4-1 in the AFL making it 60-29-2 for the season. Let's give it another whirl. All games are Sunday.

NFL
St. Louis 24, Pittsburgh 10—Steelers return to harsh reality after winning jousts with Eagles and Falcons. Cards have running of Willis Crenshaw and blocking to give Jim Hart time to throw.

Cleveland 7, New Orleans 13—Browns are coming on strong with three straight wins. Bill Nelsen has given Browns big lift and Leroy Kelly is running wild. Saints hurting with Billy Kilmer out must try for the bomb with Karl Sweetan who was intercepted four times by Dallas. Saints won exhibition game in August but Browns won 24-10 when it counted opening day.

Baltimore 24, Detroit 14—Colts have been way up for Rams and Giants, can't afford to let down against Lions who are always dangerous at home.

Philadelphia 17, Washington 14—It takes a brave, and probably foolish, man to pick the Eagles to win one. They did have solid running from Tom Woodeshick against Cards and Norm Snead was improved. Redskins favored slightly and they did beat Philadelphia earlier 17-14.

Minnesota 23, Green Bay 17—The Vikings never have beaten Packers twice in one season but this could be the year. They played ball control to win 26-13 in Sept. 22 game.

Los Angeles 30, Atlanta 14—Rams had to come from behind in first meeting three weeks ago for 27-14 edge when they probably were looking ahead to Baltimore.

Dallas 34, New York 17—Giants still wondering what went wrong in shutout by Colts. Fran Tarkenton will get the big pass rush again from that Dallas front four.

San Francisco 21, Chicago 20—If 49ers win it will be an upset. Bears coming off tough winning game over Packers. Gale Sayers is Chicago's main weapon but he may not be able to do it alone. If John Brodie gets time to throw, he is capable of piercing that Bear defense.

AFL

New York 23, Houston 21—Jets have way of rising to challenge in big games and a win here East. Joe Namath's passes could just about lock it up in the pulled it out 20-14 three weeks ago in Astrodome, but Joe has been in a TD slump. Oilers will be stronger with Hoyle Granger who missed first game.

Kansas City 30, Cincinnati 14—Lenny Dawson just out of hospital and may be replaced by Jack Lee at quarterback for Chiefs who had trouble beating Cincinnati 13-3 on Oct. 13 at Kansas City.

Miami 24, Buffalo 17—Another rematch. They played 14-14 tie Oct. 12 and 28-28 tie in August exhibition. Loss of Larry Csonka puts burden on Bob Griese for Dolphins. Bills gave Jets fits before succumbing 25-21.

San Diego 35, Boston 10 — Best hope for Boston is a flood to swap John Hadl, Lance Alworth and Dick Post.

Red Devils Are All-Conference

Four Farmville High School footballers have been selected to the Eastern Plains All-Conference team, along with two others from Greene Central.

Making the list from Farmville are Greg Wilson, Rudolph Davis, Dickie Newton and George Moore. From Greene Central come David Shackelford and Yuji Smith.

Wilson an end, is a 5-10, 155-pound senior, while Davis is a 5-10, 155-pound junior who plays guard.

Shackelford also is 5-10, and weighs 180, and is a junior. He also is a guard.

The other three members of the team are all backs. Moore, at 6-3, 197 is the big man of the lot. Newton is 5-10, and weighs 158, while Smith is 5-10 and is 160. Both Smith and Moore are seniors, while Newton is just a sophomore.

Making honorable mention from Greene Central are Marvin Moye, Robbie Hill, Harry Letchworth and Dickie Price. On the list from Farmville are Fred Sauls, Robbie Eason, Henry Jefferson and Frank Syers.

The late John Moore of Farmville was named honorary captain of the All-Conference team. Moore died in an auto accident several weeks ago.

New Efforts Begun To Change Election Systems

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — New efforts to change the way of electing a president have started in Congress in the wake of Tuesday's election, which barely missed being thrown into the House of Representatives for the first time in 144 years.

Indiana Sen. Birch Bayh, who called a news conference to discuss the matter today, has proposed substituting the direct popular election of the president for the current Electoral College system.

In the House, New York's Emanuel Celler, chairman of the Judiciary Committee said he will start hearings on proposed constitutional changes as quickly as possible next year.

Celler called the present system outdated and said he is inclined toward a system under which each state's electoral vote would be divided among the candidates in proportion to their popular vote.

The outcome of Tuesday's election hung in the balance for several hours when it looked as if none of the three candidates would obtain the 270 electoral votes necessary to be elected.

Republican Richard M. Nixon finally won by very narrow margins the three big states of Ohio, California and Illinois, which put him over the 270 electoral vote level although he and Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey both had 43 per cent of the popular vote. Independent George C. Wallace had about 13 per cent.

If there had been no electoral vote winner, then the House would have had to pick the winner.

Bayh, a Democrat, introduced a constitutional amendment in January 1967 to scrap the electoral college and replace it with direct popular election of the president and vice president.

It embodied the recommendations of a special study commission of the American Bar Association.

While Bayh favors direct election and Celler said he tends toward a proportional plan, Senate GOP Leader Everett M.

Dirksen said a district electoral plan deserves consideration.

Under the district plan, long sponsored by Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., each state's electoral votes would be allocated to districts roughly corresponding to congressional districts except that two votes would go to the popular vote winner in the state.

Bayh's constitutional amendment provides that the candidates for president and vice president receiving the greatest number of popular votes throughout the nation will be elected, provided they receive 40 per cent or more of the total vote.

If no candidate received 40 per cent of the vote, a runoff would be held between the two top contenders.

Bayh said the 40 per cent figure is "high enough to discourage small groups from splintering away from the two major parties and low enough to assure a winning plurality in all but the most extreme circumstances."

The present system technically is the same as set up by the Founding Fathers in the Constitution, which provides that the president be elected by electors chosen by the states.

The Constitution also provided that if no candidate got an Electoral College majority, the decision would be made in the House with each state getting one vote.

There had been no serious threat of this happening since the election of 1824 when John Quincy Adams was awarded the presidency over Andrew Jackson, who was the leader in both popular and electoral votes.

During the last 20 years extensive congressional hearings have been held on the subject, but disagreement over what kind of change should be made has blocked approval of any plan.

In 1950, the Senate approved a constitutional amendment providing for dividing each state's electoral vote in proportion to each candidate's popular vote, but the House rejected it.

President Johnson urged Congress in 1965 and again in 1968 to abolish presidential electors but retain the present system of allocating all of a state's electoral votes to the ticket that got the most popular votes. Nothing came of his proposal.

Arrest Dog For Purse-Snatching

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Police arrested a dog here for purse snatching.

Christine Allen told police the dog grabbed her purse and ran away with it as she was walking along a street.

Humane officer Sam Ault found the dog with the purse still in its mouth. The purse was returned to Mrs. Allen and the dog taken to the animal shelter.

No Notation On Police Action

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (AP) — The police blotter listed the complaint: "Family trouble on street. Wife won't cook husband's supper."

Police investigated but there was no notation as to what, if any, action was taken.

World War II—with fighting on two major fronts, U.S. war dead numbered 404,557.

The last half century has seen astonishing progress in man's mastery of his world. This has culminated in achievements in space flight which have captured men's imaginations, as well as arousing their pride and admiration for the sheer technical skill involved.

Sadly, when we look down again at our own earth, we find that in other respects we do not seem to have traveled so far beyond those emergent forms of life which first crept through the slime of the primeval world.

There is dignity in the fact that a man will sacrifice his life in defense of his home, his country and his ideals. But the earth inevitably receives him soon enough. Is the waste of his life in a muddy trench the best we can do? When shall we learn to really lift ourselves a little nearer heaven?

New Ecumenical Church Has A Rare And Cheerful Beauty

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The fiberglass windows, eight of them ranked on an upper level and 18 below, look dull black on the outside, spilling a rainbow flood into the sanctuary.

It's a cheerful, springtime place. Red, green and purple strips hang from the high ceiling around the lights, and bright-lettered banners, made by a group of nuns, drape the walls between the 12 tall pillars. In the midst of this sprightly array stands the altar.

This is St. Mark's church, a new and unprecedented phenomenon in the religious spectrum of America.

It began functioning here last weekend, the first officially approved, ecumenical church of its kind in the country, joining Protestants and Roman Catholics in one congregation.

"We're pioneering new directions, with many dimensions of importance to all Christendom," said the Rev. David O. Shipley, a United Presbyterian clergyman and one of the church's interdenominational team of four ministers.

Sparked by the modern current of interchurch concourse growing out of the conciliar movement and the Second Vatican Council, the project began germinating in 1966, and now after two years of preparation, it went into operation.

It brings Christian unity out of the visionary sphere of upper echelon conferences, and enlists it in a specific, working arena of everyday life, on the local scene.

"We hope the breezes fan out all over our land and bring to every community the kind of spirit and cooperation that has brought us into this effort," says another of the ministers, the Rev. William A. Hayes, of the United Church of Christ.

(Congregationalists).

With the approval of Kansas City's Bishop Charles H. Helmsing, Roman Catholicism is participating in the new church along with three other bodies, the Episcopal Church, United Presbyterian Church and the United Church.

Other demonstrations may eventually become part of it, the planners say.

The newly completed $400,000 church building, a modernistic structure of sand-blasted concrete and steel, includes extensive facilities for recreation, teaching, drama, library, food service and offices, besides the semicircular sanctuary seating 300.

Outside, a pleasant, railed plaza, with tables for dining and talk, borders three sides of the church. In front, besides the stairs leading up to it, stands a 25-foot cross of heavy, rough wood.

It faces out on rows of crowded high-rise tenements across the street, a low-income, mixed, heavily Negro area where about 15,000 people of many religious backgrounds, or none, live within a six-block radius.

"The basic certainty of St. Mark's is that it is an all-out effort of the church to look for Christ where he is, in a special and preferred way, namely among the poor," says the Rev. Robert Ready, Catholic member of the team.

As worked out in planning stages, the interdenominational congregation is to function as a unit, except for separate Sunday worship, a regular Mass for Catholics and a Protestant service, at different times.

Otherwise, members are to function as one body of Christians, in religious education, youth programs, counseling, tutoring, nursery care, welfare work, bus pick-up services, social action projects and handling job and housing placement.

When anyone joins the church, he'll be asked to indicate affiliation with one of the participating denominations, so as to keep memberships fully aligned with the wider communions, under the present organizational setup.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The 106-year-old state institution for the mentally retarded at Frankfort, one of the oldest in the country, will be torn down and the population transferred to a 220-acre site near Somerset in Southeastern Kentucky.

Parakeet Trying To Win Prize

WOLVERHAMPTON, England (UPI)—Leslie Griffiths' pet parakeet is trying to help him win the big prize in Britain's weekly soccer pools. The bird dips its beak into a tin and picks out 16 small wooden squares from the 57 that represent the total number of weekly games.

Griffiths puts these selections on his coupon. "I've only won 11 shillings ($1.33) so far, but I'm confident," he said.

Hi-Fi Set Funds In Wrong Column

MANILA (UPI)—A stereo hi-fi fan is in trouble with government investigators. They said a public works official in Rizal province apparently spent 8,500 pesos ($2,150) for a hi-fi set for his office that showed up on the inventory as an office intercommunication system.

Church Plans Nursery School

The Immanuel Baptist Church has announced plans to sponsor a nursery school program for pre-school children of the church and the community.

The nursery school will open in early January and will be operated in the Education Building of the church located on Elm Street.

A pre-school committee has been active for several months investigating existing private and church-related youth programs in Greenville, to determine the need for the establishment of a Nursery School at Immanuel.

The committee reported its findings to the church and recommended the organization of a nursery school.

While final policies for admission to the program have not been formulated, it is expected that initially only two classes of 15 children each will be organized.

Persons with a college degree in elementary education or early childhood education who are interested in being considered for the position as teacher of the nursery school should call Immanuel Baptist Church office or Dr. James L. White, Chairman of the pre-school Committee.

Heart Medicine For Friendship

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — North Korea is reported to have proposed establishing diplomatic relations at consular level with the Himalayan kingdom of Nepal.

Sources said this was one of the subjects Li Jang Hwa, the North Korean consul-general in India, discussed with Prime Minister Surya Bahadur Thapa.

The envoy gave the prime minister some heart medicine to be presented to King Mahendra, who recently had a heart attack.

SHORT OF A MIRACLE

Rome's Coliseum, partly tumbled into ruin, is considered one of the wonders of the world. It was built in 80 A. D.—and that is a long time ago, to be sure. Yet it is but a second when measured against the ages that have passed since God created the world.

The Coliseum—wonder that it is—is also visible proof of the limit of man's accomplishments. We consider it nothing short of a miracle that something built by man has endured that long. Yet those things created by God remain endless and eternal.

God's works should, indeed, fill even the wisest of us with wonder, with awe, and with gratitude. We tend to take them all too much for granted. We tend, at times, to forget them—and even to forget Him—entirely.

Discover God again, in the church of your choice and in the process, rediscover yourself.

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina hog markets today were 25 cents lower. Tops 17.75-18.25 at Rocky Mount; 17.00-17.75 at Wilson; 16.75-17.75 at Kinston, New Bern, Benson, Mt. Olive, Newton Grove, Albemarle and Lumberton; 17.75 at Salem; 17.23 at Siler City.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina egg markets steady to stronger. Supplies adequate, demand good. The prices paid producers and handlers for consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered nearby outlets:

Grade A large whites: 46 1/2-47 1/2; medium, whites: 43-44 1/2; small whites: 32-34.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved higher in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

Gains outnumbered losses by better than a 2-to-1 ratio as the advanced gathered more momentum.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon rose 1.4 to 353.0, with industrials up 2.0, rails up .8, and utilities up .8.

The market was higher from the start, despite what analysts regarded as a somewhat spotty economic and political background. The sizeable number of large blocks of stocks, most of them sold at higher prices, reflected a pickup in demand by investment institutions.

The showing looked like an expression of optimism for the near term, especially since preweekend sessions are usually cautious because of the gap in trading. This was accentuated by the fact the exchanges also will be closed Monday, Veterans' Day.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 5.59 at 956.24.

The market rose from the start and gradually widened its gains.

Smith, Kline & French, up a fraction; took the lead as most active stock, thanks to a block of 144,900 shares which changed hands unchanged at 47 1/2.

American Standard rose about 2 points after breaking off merger plans with Mohasco. Opening late, Mohasco sank 3 points in heavy volume.

Pennsalt traded about unchanged, and Wallace & Tiernan—which spurred 4 1/2 Thursday on news of intentions to merge with Pennsalt—lost a small fraction on profit taking.

Grumman was active and rose more than a point in a continued advance. Some analysts linked its strength with hopes that under the Nixon administration Grumman would move ahead further with its defense products. There also were unverified rumors that City Investing had bought blocks of Grumman stock.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange.

Voters In Three States Remain In The Dark

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Voters in three states still do not know whom they chose for president and those of one state wonder who will represent them in the U.S. Senate.

The presidential electoral votes involved would not be enough to change the outcome, even if all three states—Missouri, Maryland and Alaska—went to Hubert H. Humphrey.

President-elect Richard M. Nixon has won states with 287 electoral votes, 17 more than a majority.

The senatorial race count continues in Oregon.

In the national presidential race, the latest vote tabulation showed Humphrey with 30,122,715 or 43.2 per cent; Nixon with 30,446,028 or 43.6 per cent; and George C. Wallace with 9,186,703 or 13.2 per cent. Humphrey also had 53,120 from a second slate of electors in Alabama.

In Missouri, with 12 electoral votes, completion of the unofficial tabulation showed Nixon with 766,169 and Humphrey with 758,547. Between 75,000 to 100,000 absentee ballots remain to be counted today or Saturday. Missouri has 12 electoral votes.

In Maryland, home state of Vice President-elect Spiro T. Agnew, Nixon had 502,059 votes and Humphrey had 519,797. There were 36,000 absentee ballots and no immediate indication when the final results would be known. Maryland has 10 electoral votes.

The latest count in Alaska, with three electoral votes, showed Nixon with 32,245 and Humphrey with 31,337. The state's 7,000 absentee votes, along with tallies from some outlying areas, were to be counted today.

Date Changed

The date of the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association's annual membership meeting has been changed to Nov. 14.

Harold Creech, manager of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association, said the postponement was made necessary to enable Charles L. McCullers to be the featured speaker. The meeting had been originally set for Nov. 12.

According to Creech, "McCullers is in great demand as an after-dinner speaker and the association was pleased that we were able to reschedule the meeting."

Reservations may be made by calling 752-4101 or by returning the cards mailed to the members earlier.

City Council . . .

City Manager Harry Hager reported the original plan was to preserve the cemetery as an historical plot, since the Evans family was the founder of Greenville.

The council accepted the low bid of Phelps Chevrolet for a car to be used by the fire chief. The bid was $2,794.17, including air conditioning.

The council accepted a petition presented by Sid Skinner for development of a street westward from Memorial Drive from the Arlington intersection.

The council took no action on a petition requesting annexation of Pinewood Forest which is located on S. Evans Street adjacent to television station WNCT and to Lyndale.

They approved the repurchase of two cemetery lots from Mrs. Fernando Harris. They approved the transfer of a business license issued to Edward Patrick from Fourth and Washington Streets to 700 Dickinson Ave.

Councilmen took under study a request by Judge Charles Whedbee and Solicitor Eli Bloom to be brought under the Local Government Employees retirement system.

Judge Whedbee requested payment back to Jan. 1, 1963 and Bloom requested installment to July 1, 1965. The city's contribution for Whedbee would be $1,936.85 and for Bloom it would be $4,102.31.

Council turned down a request for permission to conduct a turkey shoot at the Putt - Putt range on Memorial Drive. The shoot sponsor is the Arnold Air Society at EC.

They approved the use of a trailer at Pitt Plaza for the Lions Club sale of goods made by the blind.

Councilmen accepted the resignation of Mrs. A. H. VanDyke from the city board of education. They requested recommendations for a replacement from the board.

City Manager Harry Hager reported that a parking lot has been rented on W. Fifth St. for city employees. The $75 monthly rent will be shared by the city and Utilities Commission.

Arrest Man For Larceny Of Corn

Pitt County Sheriff's officers have arrested Chester Rogers, Negro, of Route 4, Greenville, on charges of larceny of corn.

The arrest, according to Pitt County Sheriff Ralph Tyson, stemmed from a November 4 incident. The warrant under which Rogers was charged, was signed by a neighbor, Neale Reid, Tyson noted.

The alleged theft, the Sheriff noted, involved a bag of corn valued at about $150.

Rogers is a Greenville Police officer. Rogers has been suspended pending the outcome of the case, Police Chief H. F. Lawson said.

Rogers was released under a $100 bond. The case is set to be heard in County Recorders Court November 12.

Concerned Over Fighting Morale Is Peace Talked

SAIGON (AP) — A senior U.S. military source expressed concern today that the fighting morale of U.S. and South Vietnamese troops may suffer a serious drop once full-fledged peace talks get under way in Paris.

The concern stems from the old military adage that no soldier wants to be the last man killed in any war.

One military source said the gravest concern is for the morale of the South Vietnamese troops, many of whom have been fighting off and on for a dozen years or more.

The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese are bombarding the Saigon government's regular army and its militiamen with propaganda on the theme that the war is almost over. President Nguyen Van Thieu in a nationwide radio-TV address warned: "Don't believe the Communist propaganda that the war soon will be over and to throw down your arms."

Desertion always has been one of the biggest problems among Saigon's divisions; the prospect, false though it obviously is, of an early peace could escalate the trend.

The enemy on the other hand has kicked off a major propaganda campaign to convince its troops that they can win the war with "fight-and-talk" tactics. The enemy promises major military operations that will reinforce the hands of their negotiators in Paris.

The U. S. Command feels this propaganda may be an accurate reflection of the enemy's intentions. Gen. Creighton Abrams' staff already is planning a major offensive, both to counter Hanoi's plans and to strengthen the allied side at the bargaining table.

"We can play fight-talk as well or better than they can," one source said.

Plan Key Punch Operators Class

A training program for key punch operators is being instituted at Pitt Technical Institute beginning December 3. This program is to be free of charge.

Applicants for this 16-week course must be high school graduates. Interested persons should immediately contact the Employment Security Commission, located at 1002 South Evans Street in Greenville.

In the past, key punch operators needed by local industry have not been available from local sources. Such operators had to be brought in from Raleigh, Durham, Winston-Salem and other large towns.

Lloyd Noe, manager of the Employment Security Commission, stated: "Automatic data processing in the Coastal Plain area will be a growing field of work. The trend is that industry will be going more and more into data processing as time progresses."

The 16-week course of training is designed to train qualified persons to meet the requirements needed for a position as a key punch operator.

Vote Funds To Repair Memorial

LONDON (AP) — Trustees of the John F. Kennedy Memorial at Runnymede authorized $1,200 Thursday for repair of the seven-ton stone slab which was bombed last month.

The bomb cracked the stone. Police are still trying to find out who did it.

More than 19 million tourists visited Florida last year spending almost $5 billion in that state.
