Hyde County Racist Vows—We'll Fill The Jails; 47 Are Booked

By RICHARD DAW
Associated Press Writer
SWANQUARTER, N.C. (AP) — Negro teen-agers who have been boycotting classes for six weeks have added the chant, "We Want to be Arrested!" to their protest of a Hyde County school integration plan.

An effort to provoke mass arrests Tuesday resulted in the booking of 47 teen-agers on charges of obstructing traffic.

Later, other demonstrators regrouped at the county courthouse at dusk to shout, "We'll be back tomorrow!" The North Carolina highway patrol boosted its force from 10 to 20 after a demonstration Monday during which police used tear gas to disperse Negro teen-agers from the school superintendent's office in the courthouse.

A 17-year-old girl who fell from a second-story office of the courthouse during Monday's demonstration remained hospitalized with a pelvic injury.

No smoke bombs or tear gas was used by officers during Tuesday's demonstration. The 47 arrests were made on charges of obstructing traffic as a group of about 80 marchers around the courthouse. Of those arrested, 10 girls were released on their cognizance for court appearances Dec. 11. The 37 others, including boys and girls, were held under $25 bond each.

"We're going to fill that jail," said James Topping, a field worker for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, in discussing plans to provoke the arrests. "They can't arrest everybody in Hyde County."

Topping was among leaders of the demonstrations but he was not among those who blocked roadways. He said Negroes would continue the protests "just as long as it takes to get what we want."

What they want, Topping said, is for the county to abandon its federally approved integration plan, which calls for phasing out Hyde's two all-Negro schools and integrating all students into a previously all-white school. The three schools are the only ones in the county and each operates grade one through 12. The first step in the three-year integration plan—integration of grades 1-3—was taken this year.

"They should continue to operate all three schools and put white students into what had been the black schools," Topping said.

About 800 of the county's 850 school age Negro children started a boycott of classes in September to protest the desegregation plan. The county's total school-age population is about 1,400.

The arrests were carried out without difficulty except for one instance when a demonstrator was forced into a patrol car and later charged with resisting arrest.

Truck Driver Injured In Crossing Accident

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer

FARMVILLE—A truck driver was injured near here yesterday when the tractor-trailer he was driving was struck by a Norfolk-Southern freight train and pushed 1,500 feet down the railroad track before coming to a halt.

Highway Patrolman Billy Day identified the truck driver as Exum Sauls, 43, of Route 1, New Hill.

Train Engineer Roy Leland could look out the engine's side

Baugh, 51, of Raleigh said he did not stop. The trooper said Baugh told him he saw the truck approaching the intersection, saw it slow and thought it would stop.

Witnesses were quoted by the officer as saying the train's whistle was blowing and the flashing signals were in operation.

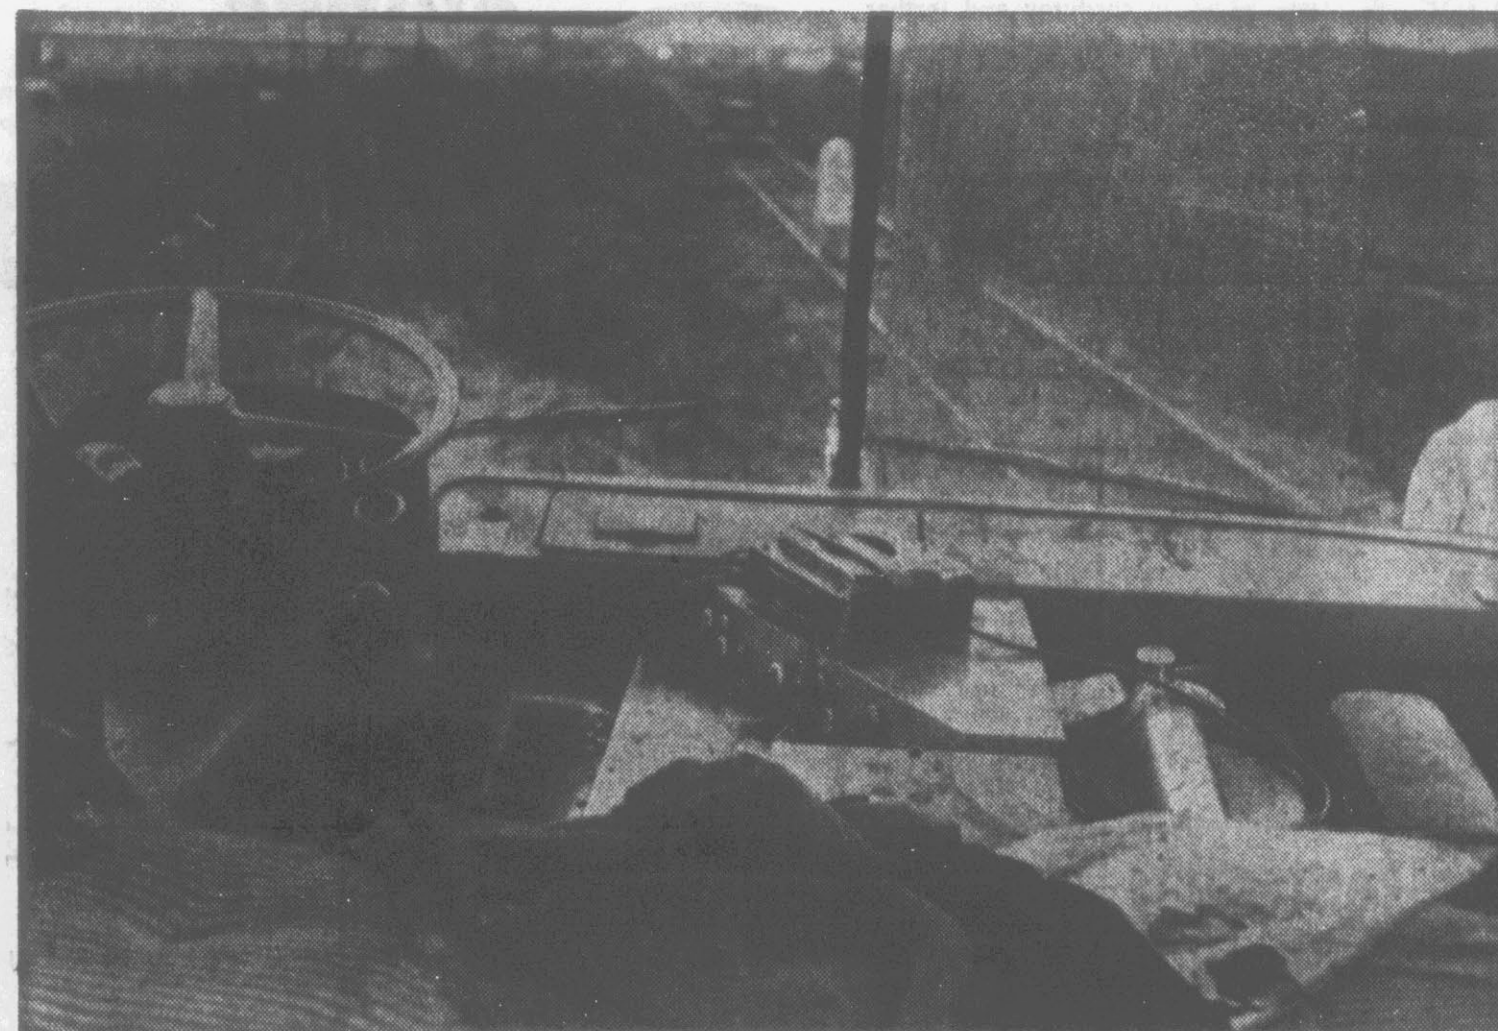

The train struck the center of the tractor-trailer rig. The initial impact knocked the truck's load of bricks off and scattered them over the area of the crossing. (Reflector Photos by Stuart Savage)

Can't Face Viet Cong Alone

U.S. Officials Believe Saigon To Drop Boycott

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon officials say they believe the broadened Paris peace that Saigon, faced with the prospect of having to settle its political differences with the Viet Cong alone, will drop its boycott talks.

This prospect appeared implicit in Tuesday's declaration by Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford that the United States intends to go ahead with negotiations with Hanoi whether Saigon joins in or not.

Clifford said the United States and Hanoi could make big strides on the most immediate issue—military de-escalation, including steps toward withdrawal of troops. Pentagon officials said such an arrangement would leave Saigon to face the Viet Cong alone in the political struggle.

The view that South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu would end his boycott, was disputed in Paris and Saigon.

In Saigon, South Vietnamese Information Minister Ton That Thien said if there are to be peace talks, then all parties must agree to Thieu's formula calling for his government to head the anti-Communist negotiations while the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front is subordinate to the North Vietnamese on the other side of the table.

Thien also said unless his government participates in the negotiations, it won't recognize a cease-fire or anything else agreed on that affects its vital interests.

Pham Dang Lam, head of Saigon's observers in Paris, said he does not think his government will change its mind and join the talks under the four-party formula that would bring the Viet Cong to the bargaining table on Hanoi's side.

Although Pentagon authorities said Clifford spoke for himself, the defense chief generally reflects the views of President Johnson. He long has been one of Johnson's closest advisors on the war.

Clifford's words, delivered with considerable emotion, were calculated to impress on the Saigon government that the United States does not intend to let its objections stand in the way.

The effect of any U.S.-North Vietnamese talks in the new setting created by the bombing halt would be to split off military from political issues between Washington and Hanoi.

This would mean that haggling over a political settlement, including the status of the Viet Cong in any government of reconciliation, would be shunted into the background for the time being, pending any Saigon change of heart.

Little Room For Mistakes During Lunar Venture

By JIM STROTHMAN
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 8 launch team and astronauts, given the "go" to shoot for the moon at Christmas, stepped up preparations here today knowing they have less room for mistakes than on any previous manned space venture.

"My own mental outlook," observed an executive with North American Rockwell Corp., prime Apollo spaceship builder, "is that in the past, as we loaded propellants and got spaceships ready to fly, there has always been that little thing in the back of your mind that says you can bring the astronauts back to earth quickly if something goes wrong."

Preparing for a flight around the moon, however, when the Apollo-crew could be three or more days away from earth if trouble were to develop, "the outlook is different," said Bastian Hello, vice president and general manager of launch operations for North American's space division here.

"The name of the game this time is to give them every ounce of energy you can pack in the fuel tanks," to give Apollo 8 every chance to get back if it gets off course, Hello said, while at the same time making certain spaceship systems are ultra-reliable.

For example, a new main engine has been installed aboard Apollo 8 "not because the old engine was bad, but because we wanted one that was superb—the best of the breed," Hello said in an interview.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials announced Tuesday that the three Apollo 8 pilots—Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders—have been given the go-ahead to blast off Dec. 21 for a 10-orbit flight around the moon Christmas Eve and Christmas Day.

Apollo 8 will be the first manned flight aboard a huge Saturn 5 superrocket, the type booster built to hurl astronauts to the moon. America's Apollo 7 pilots, who successfully orbited earth for 10 days last month, were launched by a smaller Saturn 1B booster, forerunner of the Saturn 5.

South Korea Reveals New Red Landing

SEOUL (AP) — The South Korean government revealed today that a second band of North Korean guerrillas landed on South Korea's east coast two weeks ago, bringing the total number of invaders in the area to 60 this month, twice the number reported earlier.

The government says 28 members of the Communist force have been killed.

Defense Minister Yim Choong-Shik told a news conference one of the guerrilla bands landed near Ulsin, 130 miles southeast of Seoul, and the other group went ashore 35 miles north of Ulsin near the village of Smachok.

Yim said the Communists were attempting to launch a guerrilla war in South Korea. They killed five South Korean soldiers and four civilians, and wounded seven soldiers and two civilians.

The defense minister said most of the South Korean casualties occurred during the invaders' brief occupation of Ulsin before a force of police, paratroopers and marines was deployed Nov. 3 to seek out the guerrillas.

Johnson had reported earlier that from Sept. 3 to Oct. 23, the party had spent $37,703.44 and received $45,390.80 in contributions.

The two reports combined listed contributions of $70,895.55, or $14,733.05 in excess of the combined expenditures of $56,122.50.

N.C. Economy Dipped Slightly In September Report

By NOEL YANCEY

Associated Press Writer
RALEIGH (AP)—North Carolina's economy dipped slightly in September for the first time in eight months but still remained at a high level.

The Wachovia North Carolina Business Index dropped from 183.1 in August to a preliminary figure of 182.6 in September.

Wachovia Bank and Trust Co. economists said the decline resulted from a seasonally adjusted drop of 8,700 in non-agricultural employment which totaled 1,605,900 million in September as compared with 1,614,600 in August.

This was the first month since December of 1967 that the Wachovia Index has shown a decline. It has been gaining on an average of 1.1 per cent per month.

The Wachovia economists emphasized that the "drop this month is insufficient to form the basis for a solid judgment on the direction of the economy."

They noted that although the index is below August it remains 6 per cent higher than in September of last year.

Also down slightly in September from August were bank deposits which show the amount of checks drawn on demand deposits. However, they remained higher than a year ago.

The North Carolina Employment Security Commission reported, meanwhile, that insured unemployment in September averaged only 11,360 workers per week and was at the lowest level since World War II.

The North Carolina Department of Revenue said October sales tax collections, which represent September business, were up from $18.6 million in October of 1967 to $20.1 million in October this year. Sales tax collections are one measure of business activity.

The state Department of Labor reported that the value of building permits issued in 36 North Carolina cities reached $6.2 million in September, up 6.5 per cent from the same month last year. For the first nine months of 1968, permits totaled $383 million and were up 12.1 per cent from the same period of last year.

The North Carolina Automobile Dealers Association reported that 15,693 new cars and 3, 263 new trucks were sold in North Carolina in September. This compared with 12,851 new cars and 3,032 new trucks in the same period of last year. The Federal Home Loan Bank of Greensboro reported that the state's savings and loan associations made mortgage loans totaling $36.9 million during September, down slightly from $37.1 million of last year.

Crop Estimates Down But Records Expected

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government estimates of 1968 crop production have declined slightly, but record output still is expected.

The Agriculture Department's all-crop index was reported Tuesday at a record 120 per cent of its 1957-59 average, down one point from the October estimate but three more than the previous high in 1967.

Production estimates were down for corn, rice, sorghum grain, cotton, peanuts, tobacco, pears, grapes, cranberries and pecans, but were higher for soybeans, sugar beets, potatoes, sweet potatoes, dry beans and apples.

The November report did not include revised estimates for crops already harvested such as wheat, oats, barley and rye.

Corn production this year was estimated at 4.4 billion bushels, down about 147 million bushels from the October estimate and 6 per cent less than the record 4.7 billion produced in 1967.

Sorghum grain was sliced from the 777 million bushels estimated in October to 755 million bushels.

This indicates a total output this year of livestock grains—corn, sorghum grain, oats and barley—of about 171 million tons, down 4 million from the October estimate and 3 per cent less than last year's record.

Department officials say total feed grain use for the year ended Sept. 30 was about 165 million tons, up 2 million from earlier estimates.

Officials say they expect "slightly larger" consumption of feed grain during the current year, which—if all the estimates are correct—could mean a near balance between new supplies and demand.

This possibility is expected to have an important bearing on the department's 1969 feed grains program, which has not been disclosed.

The department's grains advisory committee last month recommmended a 1969 program calling for up to 40 million acres of feed grains land taken from production compared with about 32 million diverted for 1968.

This recommendation could be tempered, however, by Tuesday's crop report showing reduced production and the prospects for higher feed grains use during the current year.

S. Greenville PTA Meet Set

The South Greenville School P. T. A. will meet Thursday evening in the school's auditorium at 7:30.

During a short business session Dr. C. C. Cleetwood, Supt. will address the parents concerning the long-range school plans and desegregation.

Immediately following this phase of the meeting, guides will direct parents to their children's classroom for an orientation visitation. They will be able to view work done by their children. Teachers on each grade level will explain the structure and nature of the curriculum; team-teaching as a step toward nongradedness; attendance and how it affects the learning process; grading and report cards; materials and equipment used; and the importance of a close home-school relationship through P. T. A. membership.

After classroom visitation, parents will return to the auditorium for a question and answer period led by Mesdames Sauced, Mills, and Steed.

Following the attendance check, door prizes will be awarded by Mrs. Troutner and Mrs. Jarman.

Refreshments will be served. At least one crop is harvested each month in the San Francisco area.

Winterville Sees Final Payment On '38 Bonds

WINTERVILLE — The final payment on a $37,000 bond sale made in 1938 to finance the original water and sewer system here has been made this month, according to town clerk Elwood Nobles.

The $37,000 bond issue financed the water and sewer project carried out as a Public Works Administration project, Nobles explained.

The payment of the 1938 bond issue now leaves the town with a bonded indebtedness of $204,000 — the result of the sale of bonds in 1963 to finance construction of a sewage treatment plant and other sewage facilities for the town.

Cookbook Written By Annemarie Suitable For Brides, Couples

By JEANNE LESEM
UPI Food Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Once upon a time there was a cook fired from the household of Mrs. John F. Kennedy because this cook had done a magazine article that purportedly gave away secrets of the former first lady's kitchen.

Now, that same cook, Annemarie Huste has written a cookbook—and there is not one mention of Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis in it.

While this omission from "Annemarie's Personal Cook Book" (Bartholomew House) may disappoint the curious, the book should please readers interested primarily in good recipes and helpful suggestions about cooking and entertaining.

Miss Huste's book belongs to a proliferating type of cookbook aimed at the gift market and especially suitable for brides and young couples.

Her recipes are taken mostly from French, German, Italian and American cookery, with a few originals of her own, including an awesomely rich chocolate cheesecake and an unusual strawberry and yogurt soup. The final chapter covers cooking for children.

With December now the third most popular month for weddings—after June and August—more and more such cookbooks are published in the fall. Following are some brief reviews.

"Table for Two" by Shirley Sarvis (Doubleday) provides a crash course in cooking, with menu suggestions, sound advice on cooking and serving equipment and interesting recipes such as Greek stifado, spiced beef stew, or chutney orange chops.

"The Pots and Pans Cookbook" by Ann Seranne and Joan Wilson (Doubleday) is insurance against recipe failure. It not only keys recipes to specific sizes and designs of utensils, but also tells how the size, shape and material from which a pan is made can affect the success or failure of a recipe.

Tell The Fellow That You Think Of Him As A Brother

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I finally accepted a date with a real jerk. I only did it because he had asked me a dozen times and I kept saying I was busy, then he asked ME to set a date when I wasn't busy. So I was stuck, right? Now he's pestering me again, and giving me the same routine. How can I discourage this drip without coming right out and insulting him? When we dance he holds me too close, swings in my ear, and pants like a dying bull. When he holds my hand, my flesh crawls.

ROSITA
DEAR ROSITA: Tell him you like him "as a friend," and don't think he ought to waste his time and money on a girl who thinks of him as a "brother." This should cool off the most amorous amigo.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I were married three months ago. In seven more months she is going to have a baby. I told my wife I want very much to be in the room with her when she gives birth, but she says she doesn't want me in there and I should go by the custom and walk the floor by myself. I have the doctor's permission if my wife doesn't object. The other reason she gives for not wanting me to watch her give birth is that she doesn't think it's right for me to see her nude in front of another person.

ABBY, I would give my right arm to witness the birth of our first child. Is my wife right or is she wrong to deny me this privilege?

DEAR WANTS TO WATCH
DEAR WANTS: Keep your right arm. It's your wife's body, her performance, and her decision. Stay out.

With the cold weather coming on, many of us will be enjoying the warmth and beauty of fire places. Be sure to put a basket near your fire place that has been filled with pine cones, kindling, or corn cobs that have been chemically treated to burn with flames of many colors.

The first step in treating the cones is to open them by heating them on top of the stove, radiator, or register for about half an hour. Then follow one of these four methods of chemical application:

1. Dissolve in a wooden or earthen container (NEVER use metal) one pound of chemical (See below) in one gallon of water. Be careful not to let the chemical spatter on your hands or clothing as some of the chemicals leave stains. Place pine cones in a cheesecloth bag. Dip bag in the chemical solution. Spread cones on newspapers. Dry overnight.
2. Melt paraffin wax. Pour melted wax sparingly over pine cones which are spread on newspaper. Before wax hardens, sift the chemical into the cones. Use a salt shaker with large holes.
3. Dissolve two tablespoons of powdered glue in one gallon of hot water. Dip pine cones in this solution. Drain cones. Sprinkle the chemical on the hot cones. Dry.
4. Dip pine cones in self-polishing wax. Drain cones. Sprinkle the chemical on the wet cones. Dry.

Chemicals may be purchased at the drug store in small quantities. Here are some chemicals and the colors they produce as they burn.

- Red flame — Strontium chloride or Strontium nitrate
- Blue flame — Barium nitrate
- Bluish flame — Copper sulfate
- Green flame — Copper chloride
- Lavender flame — Potassium Chloride
- Yellow flame — Sodium chloride (table salt)
- Orange flame — Calcium chloride
- Purple flame — Lithium chloride or Potassium permanganate

If pine cones are not available, use corn cobs or small pieces of kindling wood. Bags of sawdust treated and dried may be thrown on the fire in handfuls. A search around the house will reveal other things that will make flames dance in your fire place in many colors. Ordinary table salt or soda sprinkled on the fire will burn with a yellow-orange glow. Bits of zinc will fuse to make a whitish light. It also coats the lining of the fireplace with a velvety white coating. A little bluestone (copper sulphate) will give a green light. The magnesium in old flashlight batteries will give an intense white light.

When using these chemicals, follow the usual safety precautions — do not breathe the vapors, work in an area with good ventilation, and be sure to keep the chemicals out of the reach of children.

Those Vital Highways Must Come

Lack of adequate major highways still is the big issue among most Eastern North Carolinians. What governor-elect Bob Scott does to correct the deplorable highway situation in the East during the next four years is bound to have an impact upon the voters of this area.

During the recent campaign, Scott talked a good bit about the highway needs of the state, with particular emphasis on the need for major East-West highway. It was talk not unlike that which has been heard in other political campaigns in other years. But this time it came from a Scott, and that made a difference, based on past experience. Most Eastern counties gave Bob Scott a majority of their votes last week, and at least in part this was due to the expectation that the deplorable major highway situation which exists in the East today will finally be corrected.

The total lack of appreciation by many officials of the major highway needs of the section was illustrated again recently when additions to the interstate system were tentatively outlined. News releases from the officials put heavy emphasis on what the East was going to get. But the accompanying map of the additional super-highway mileage did not bear out the promises the words seemed to contain. Unless the tentative program is altered, the East will continue to be without adequate major highways even when the additions to the interstate system are completed.

It was the same old story; the same old bad joke of the East getting only crumbs from the table while other sections of the state got the bread and meat.

The situation must change, and it is up to governor-elect Bob Scott to see that it changes in the next four years. If the East is to reach its economic potential, it must have major highways. If its tourism is to continue to develop as it should, highway 17, long neglected, should become a superhighway rather than a mediocre modern-day farm to market road. There must be several major connecting highway links from the East into the Piedmont heartland.

To assert that a couple of branches from major highways slanting through slender fingers of the huge eastern area will suffice for future years is the height of fallacy and folly. These cannot meet the highway needs of this area and its people. They will not be sufficient to provide avenues for sorely needed economic development. Neither will they allay the impatience—now bordering on disgust—of the people of the East who have leaned so long on hollow promises that their highway needs would be met and a bright new day opened for them.

Those highways must come under the new Scott administration if they are to come at all to an Eastern North Carolina loyal to the Democratic party in North Carolina.

Few Promises For Bob Scott

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES

Reflector Raleigh Bureau
Bob Scott's successful campaign for the governorship indicates he pretty well kept his word to be short on promises.

This does not mean that the lieutenant governor did not offer a program. He did, and it was a rather lengthy and detailed program at that.

But last January, at the time of his long-awaited formal announcement, Scott said he would not knowingly make a campaign promise "that I cannot reasonably expect to fulfill." And looking back, it appears he made few firm promises and commitments.

This disappointed some of Scott's supporters and followers who wanted him to display more of the blunt, sometimes earthy candor of his father, the late Gov.-Sen. W. Kerr Scott. They felt Scott should deal less in generalities and be more specific.

Promised 'Action'
At the first session with the press last winter, Scott said he would examine, study and listen and that as the campaign progressed he would spell out a program.

After that, if elected, he pledged action. The major points in his program included these:
Law and order, education, increasing per capita income, roads, strengthening of local governments, continuing a balanced budget.

Scott's Program
Perhaps the closest Scott came to specific promise was that he would support and work for a minimum 10 per cent salary increase for state employees and bringing teacher pay to at least the national average.

He called for liberalizing the state retirement system, increasing per diem travel allowances for state workers, and proposed a department of urban affairs to work with local governments.

He promised to support a pilot program for public kindergartens.

He said he sees "no justification" for secrecy in government except where there are salary negotiations and land purchase discussions.

Advantage of Studies
Scott, during his administration, will have the advantage of numerous studies which were initiated during the present administration or ordered by the 1967 legislature. Many of these are now nearing completion and most will be available by the time Scott assumes office and the 1969 General Assembly convenes.

One is concerned with possible changes in the state constitution. During the campaign, Scott said "We need to examine in light of modern times such constitutional matters as the short ballot, veto power for the governor, terms of office for the governor, more authority for local governments."

Still another study is being conducted into various facets of local government problems and needs, and this includes Scott's proposal for a combined urban affairs department.

Roads and Education
Scott indicated repeatedly that primary emphasis during his administration would be placed on education and highways.

He said he believes strongly that education "is the key" to increasing the state's per capita income. In addition to a pilot program for public kindergartens, he called for expanded industrial arts and vocational education programs at the junior high school level, for more and better classrooms and facilities, clerical help for teachers. He stressed attaining at least the national average in teacher pay scales.

A Question: Will Jas. Ray Ever Be Tried?

We can see it now.

Sometime in late February, 1969, the trial of James Earl Ray for the murder of Martin Luther King, will be delayed for another three or four months.

The reason?

Well,

The accused just happened to think that it was time to appoint another defender who would require additional time to familiarize himself with the case.

A new trial date will be set; and sure enough, a few days before the scheduled trial the defendant will announce a new attorney will handle his defense.

Come now! Is Justice so bankrupt?

The Test Lies In Packaging

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals today is how to cope with packages. They seem to get harder to deal with all the time.

HAL BOYLE

America may not have the best of everything but, whatever it has, it can wrap and tie it up better than any other country in the world.

Packaging has become our outstanding native art form. We are even better at it than we are at finger painting or building skyscrapers.

In other lands they try to make their packages as simple as possible. In France, for example, if you buy a damp fish or a bunch of flowers, they usually merely inclose it in a small piece of yesterday's newspaper and hand it to you. Bread ordinarily isn't even wrapped at all. You simply pick up a loaf, stick it under your arm, and march home with it.

This merely proves how benighted Europe has remained. The real test of a civilization is to what extent it can take a simple thing and make it more difficult, complex and complicated.

Judges solely in this respect by its art of packaging, this nation is by far the most civilized that has ever graced the earth. Our packages have become as complicated as our neuroses, and are just about as difficult to solve.

When you get a package today — a package of almost any kind — it is no longer merely a simple purchase or a surprise present. It is a great big problem.

On it should be printed in great bold letters: "I dare you to try to open me."

No matter what the package contains — a book, a shirt, a mail order cheese from — Wisconsin — it is wrapped as securely as if it held the contents of Ft. Knox.

It then becomes an endurance contest of wits, skill, patience and prayer to get it open. Attack it with all your might hands and feet, teeth

How Hubert Lost Out

WASHINGTON—There are a lot of post-mortems going on now as to why Vice President Hubert Humphrey lost the election. I have been conducting one myself, and the conclusion I have come to is that the one person responsible for Humphrey's defeat was Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago.

To understand what happened, you have to have some background on Cook County politics. The Democratic people of Cook County are among the most patriotic in the country. Some of them not only vote once, but twice and three times if they're interested in the election. Tradition has it in Cook County that even after you die you still don't lose your right to vote.

Every election year, ballot boxes are prepared for different precincts in Cook County. Then, depending on how many votes the Democrats need in Illinois to win, the boxes are sent in. Some years very few boxes are needed. Other years the machine needs every one they can get. This year, everything was in readiness for the presidential election. The ballot boxes were stuffed to the brim, and it was just a question of getting the word from Mayor Daley when they should be released.

But something happened this presidential election year to Mayor Daley, as we shall see.

At about 11 p.m., election night, a Cook County precinct captain called in to City Hall to find out when he could start releasing the ballot boxes.

"We're not releasing any this year," the man on the other end of the phone said. "The mayor says that he will not tolerate any skulduggery in Cook County voting."

"You got to be kidding," the precinct captain said. "I have three cemeteries still waiting to vote."

The man on the other end of the line said, "I know it's hard to understand, but something happened to the mayor at the Democratic convention. He became the symbol of law and order to millions and millions of Americans, and he doesn't want to hurt that image."

"But what about Cook County's image?" the precinct captain cried. "We've been able to deliver the vote here for 50 years. If Cook County can't control Illinois, the election will be up for grabs."

"The mayor told me to tell you that if he hears of one false ballot being cast this year, he'll send the police into your precinct and break every car window in the neighborhood."

"I can't believe it. We've worked day and night on these ballot boxes. We registered people who moved away from Chicago 20 years ago. We've had people voting who haven't been born yet. Don't tell us all our work has been for naught. What are we suppose to do with all the boxes?"

"The mayor doesn't care. He told me to tell you that if he can't win honestly in Cook County, he doesn't want to win at all."

"Even if it means losing the Presidency of the United States?"

"I asked him that and he said, 'What is a man profited if he shall gain the election but lose his soul?'"

"I got to hear it from him," the precinct man said unbelievably.

"You can't. He's out in Grant Park planting chrysanthemums that the Yippies tore up in August."

The next morning, as the sun came up over the Conrad Hilton hotel, ballot boxes were being burned in every part of Cook County, and with them, going up in smoke, went Hubert Horatio Humphrey's chances of becoming the 37th President of the United States.

Such activity by judges is no less illegal than the conduct of the assistant Democratic precinct captain, who roamed about the polling place wearing Humphrey buttons — still another violation.

The assistant captain would usher certain voters into the school, then retire outside while they waited. When each left, the assistant captain would hand him what looked like a white chit. Without variation, the voters carrying chits would walk halfway down the block into an alley.

Other Editors Say Time For Greatness

(Goldsboro News-Argus)

The next four years will be a time for greatness in leadership in the land.

Nationally and in North Carolina our people are divided in groups of almost equal size.

In the nation, President-elect Richard Nixon will go in office with the voted support of fewer than half of his fellow Americans.

An almost equal number of people preferred his chief opponent, Vice President Hubert Humphrey. Five states and 14 per cent of the populace favored third party candidate George Wallace.

The presidential election was not a personality contest. In large measure it was a battle over issues — issues on which our people have decided and opposing convictions.

In North Carolina, Bob Scott emerges by a hair's breadth as the governor-elect after a bruising, name-calling, down-to-the-wire battle with Congressman Jim Gardner.

Opposing factions in many parts of the state made charges and counter charges that left deep, not easily to be forgotten wounds.

But all candidates, in the state and nationally, want the same thing for the people of North Carolina and the people of America.

We all want peace, an honorable peace, in Vietnam. We want prosperity and a good life for all our people. We want governments that are sound economically and in integrity.

The task of our next President and our next governor will be to pull us together as united people in a united nation and in a united state.

Their mark of greatness will be how well they rise to that challenge.

Business Overcame The Surtax Strength For Today

By ELMER ROESSNER

In the first three months corporations and their customers were paying the surtax, corporations did lovely.

A Wall Street Journal tabulation of 438 corporations reporting earnings in the July-September quarter shows that their profits were up 13.6 per cent over the same 1967 quarter.

A First National City Bank tabulation of 1,214 corporations shows that their profits were 12 per cent higher than a year ago.

First National said the main reason was the sustained sales volume in the quarter, especially in autos, which also aided rubber manufacturers. And this was despite the fact that consumers, too, were paying the surtax.

No Dirty Words
The New York-based bank did not use those dirty words,

"fight from the dollar," but there is a suspicion that many people would rather have goods than money, which has been showing an annoying habit of buying less every month.

ELMER ROESSNER

There was another reason for the surge, National City pointed out. The largest year-to-year increases in profits occurred among industries which were hit by strikes a year ago: autos, rubber and nonferrous metals.

Thirty-six auto and parts corporations showed a gain of 117 per cent in profits over the same 1967 period; 24 rubber and allied products corporations showed a 47 per cent rise, and 29 nonferrous metals companies upped profits by 55 per cent.

Only two manufacturing groups showed declines in profits after taxes: 48 iron and steel corporations, down 34 per cent, and 8 tobacco products firms, down 2 per cent.

Why Steel Dipped

The iron and steel industry's drop was due to the fact that a year ago steel users were beginning to stockpile the metal in fear of a steel strike but after the strike was settled out purchases sharply and lived largely off their inventories.

Tobacco profits dropped

Daley's Power Shown

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

CHICAGO — As the 45th Precinct of the 24th Ward inside Chicago's West Side Negro ghetto opened its polling place at the James Johnson School election day, the voting was clearly going to be dominated and directed by one man: the Democratic precinct captain.

Although the legal status of a precinct captain is merely the passive one of a poll-watcher, this Democratic functionary traditionally runs Chicago's voting precincts. It was not the only violation of law in the 45th Precinct on Tuesday. Indeed, the voting there was a travesty on democracy, solely an instrument enabling the Democratic precinct captain to meet his vote quota.

Democratic officials here bar newsmen from polling places, a prudent decision considering what goes on. However, we obtained poll-watcher's credentials, permitting us to observe democracy, Chicago-style, in several polling places on the black West Side. What we saw showed that lurid Republican charges leveled for years have been exaggerated.

In the 45th Precinct, for example, voter registration was meaningless. A nod from the Democratic precinct captain allowed an unregistered voter to vote by merely signing an affidavit. Whether he might vote in another precinct as well would be impossible to determine.

Even more remarkable was what happened inside the voting booth. Without asking whether the voter wanted help, the election judge — an attractive young lady in a bright red dress — entered the booth with every voter and instructed him to pull the Democratic straight party lever, breaking the state law.

Once the curtain had closed and the voter was alone inside the booth, the judge would hover just outside so that the vote was anything but secret. If the voter tarried more than 30 seconds and thus appeared to be splitting his ticket, the judge would reach inside to tap him on the shoulder or even reenter the booth with him.

Nobody was permitted close to the four-minute maximum time in the booth. When one voter had spent more than a minute inside, the precinct captain shouted across the room to the judge: "Come on, get her out of there."

When we questioned the precinct captain about these irregularities, he was enraged: "You white folks show up here on election day and try to run things. All the people here is of the same color and they all want to vote Democratic — nothing else. The judges just show them how to vote straight Democratic. Now, you sit down and shut up."

Such activity by judges is no less illegal than the conduct of the assistant Democratic precinct captain, who roamed about the polling place wearing Humphrey buttons — still another violation.

The assistant captain would usher certain voters into the school, then retire outside while they waited. When each left, the assistant captain would hand him what looked like a white chit. Without variation, the voters carrying chits would walk halfway down the block into an alley.

Schools Aim To Display 'A Good Thing Going'

By BLANCHE HARDEE
Reflector Staff Writer

Parent visitations and bulletin boards in halls and classrooms highlight the observance of American Education Week in schools throughout Pitt County.

The theme for the nationwide spotlighting of education this week (Nov. 10-16) is "America Has a Good Thing Going. . . Its Schools" as they carry on their function of shaping the character of youth, providing learning opportunities for all, meeting the challenge of change, providing quality teaching, stimulating lifelong learning and enriching human life.

William Wiggins, principal of Grifton Consolidated School, summed up American Education Week observances by saying, "Recognizing American Education Week nationally behooves all Americans to support education and the community schools, basically because within the schools the various communities are represented. We do have a good thing going — education."

Special activities have been scheduled each day for Grifton Consolidated School. Monday, the theme was Strengthen the Nation (Veteran's Day), while Tuesday was designated as Aspire to Quality Teaching. The theme for today was provide equal opportunity, while Thursday's theme is foster life long learning and Friday's theme will be promote economic prosperity.

At the Grifton School, Wiggins said, posters will be displayed daily and a three-minute reading over the school's intercom system will be presented each day to all students.

Dr. Ben Fountain, president of Lenoir County Community College, will be the featured speaker during a special assembly Friday afternoon.

At C. M. Eppes High School, Principal A. E. Murrell said bulletin boards will be displayed at the school and special attention in the individual classes.

Murrell stated, "We at Eppes believe that education is the most important investment that anyone, including the students and the community, can make. We will emphasize during the entire week that particular point and to illustrate the point we will use bulletin boards, parent visitation and individual class discussion. We believe that the child is our most important resource."

The W. H. Robinson School, Winterville, is observing the week by having a series of five speakers to present five-minute talks for each day over the school's intercom system.

The speaker for Monday was Mrs. Margaret James, the school's English teacher while Tuesday's featured speaker was school Librarian Mrs. Elizabeth Romita. Miss Elnora Vines, social studies instructor, spoke to the students today while Thursday's speaker will be Mrs. Marilyn Grubbs.

Howard James, Pitt County social worker, will be the keynote speaker Friday.

The speakers will discuss the daily themes of American Education Week.

A special program will be presented Friday afternoon at 2:15. Appearing on the program will be the school band, under the direction of Charles Woolen, and the high school chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Mildred B. Still.

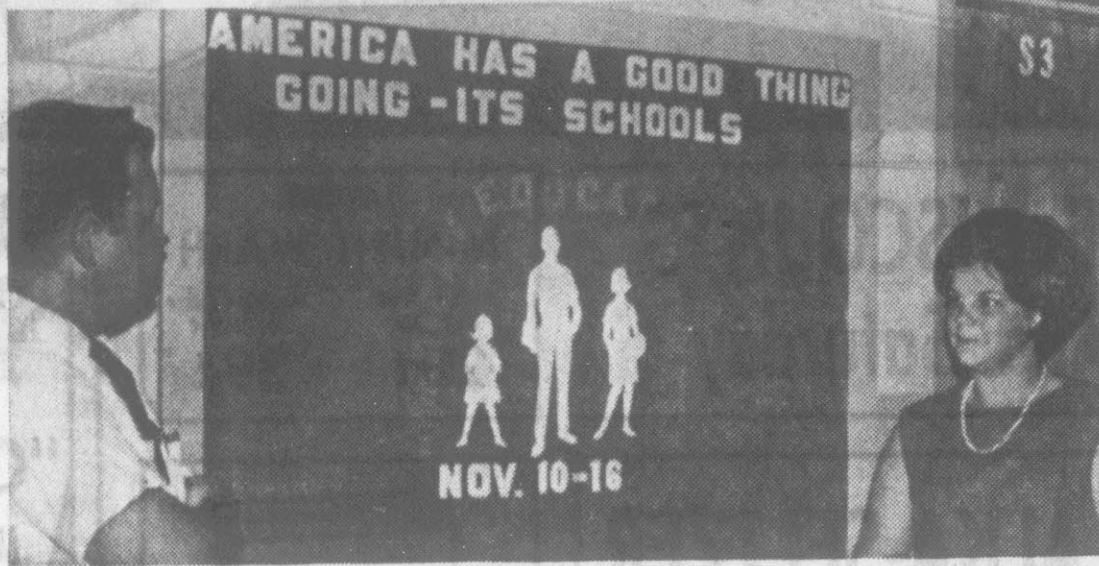

The guest speaker will be Dr. William C. Sanderson, a member of the East Carolina University faculty.

During the program, special awards will be presented by Mrs. Pearl Payton to all students who made the honor roll and principal's list during the first six-week's grading period.

American Education Week is sponsored annually by the National Education Association, the American Legion, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the U. S. Office of Education. The first observance of AEW was held in 1921. Even though most of the schools are not planning special programs this week, the schools are open at all times and parents are encouraged to come. Pitt County principals indicated.

Dogs Barked For Imported Food

TOKYO (AP) — About 1,500 dogs barked for imported food outside the Ministry of International Trade and Industry today.

The dogs were brought to the ministry by some 3,000 dog fanciers carrying such signs as "Looking right and looking left, I can't find any food" and "Fellow doggies, let's bite off more allocation."

Some of the dogs wore signs, too.

The demonstration—anything but a silent protest—was against the ministry's restrictions limiting imports of dog food. One Tokyo pet company said growing numbers of Japanese are breeding imported dogs, demand for dog food is growing in general, and imported dog foods are superior to and cheaper than Japanese brands although very scarce.

Monitors Urged By FCC Member

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Establishment of a nongovernmental group to monitor radio and television was proposed Tuesday by a Federal Communications Commission member, Nicholas Johnson.

He suggested a $10 million budget and said the monitoring group should report both to the FCC and the broadcasting industry. It should keep particular watch, he told the Hollywood Radio and Television Society, on local programming because, he said, there are no adequate reports now available on this and local stations occupy 95 per cent of the broadcast frequency space.

Funds For N.C. Boat Program

RALEIGH — Governor Dan K. Moore last week forwarded checks totaling $19,820.72 in federal funds to the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission to be used in the commission's boating access area program.

The federal funds will pay a portion of the Commission's expense in developing four boating access areas in North Carolina. The access areas which have already been completed and are now open to the public include Bear Creek Lake Access Area near Sylva in Jackson County; Lake Tillery Access Area near Albemarle in Stanly County; and Big Flatty Access Area near Elizabeth City in Pasquotank County.

A fourth area, yet to be developed, is Saw Pit Landing Access Area, on the North east Cape Fear River near Burgaw, in Pender County.

A Wildlife Resources Commission spokesman pointed out that the Commission now maintains 91 boating access areas across North Carolina and has several more planned for development.

(Continued From Page 4) The outrage of the 45th Precinct did not vary greatly from what we observed elsewhere on the West Side Tuesday. Moreover, they echoed reports of irregularities from hundreds of precincts which poured into the headquarters of Operation Eagle Eye, the voter-security operation run by the county Republican organization.

Operation Eagle Eye compensates for the fact that oversight is not exercised by the moribund Republican party in Chicago's black ghettos. "Republican" election judges are but paid auxiliaries of Mayor Richard J. Daley's Democratic organization. In the 45th Precinct we saw a "Republican" judge silently watch the Democratic election judge tell voters to pull the Democratic lever.

Operation Eagle Eye, with 5,000 volunteers Tuesday, has reduced outright vote theft here and inhibited Democratic precinct captains. But Eagle Eye cannot man every precinct (the ones we visited had no Eagle Eye observers), and sometimes Eagle Eye volunteers are intimidated by Precinct captains.

UNC Prof Lost Job Because Of His Politics

LIGHT OF HISTORY
By Christopher Crittenden
N.C. Department of Archives and History

Written for the Associated Press
RALEIGH (AP) — A University of North Carolina professor was fired because he supported the Republican candidate for President. That was five years before the Civil War.

This true story is told in the article, "Freedom during the Fremont Campaign: The Fate of One North Carolina Republican in 1856," in the current North Carolina Historical Review. The author is Monty Woodall Cox, a 1967 graduate of Duke University now living in New York City.

The professor was Benjamin Sherwood Hedrick, "born along the Yadkin River near Salisbury in 1827" and an honor graduate of the University in 1851. After two years at the Nautical Almanac Office in Cambridge, Mass., Hedrick returned to Chapel Hill as a professor of agricultural chemistry.

By the time of the presidential election of 1856 tension between North and South had almost reached the breaking point. The newly formed Republican party ran its first candidate for President, John C. Fremont, "famed explorer of the West, a leader in the conquest of the California territory from Mexico." both Fremont and his "Black Republican" party were violently disliked in North Carolina and elsewhere in the South.

In the fall of 1856 it became known that Hedrick was a supporter of Fremont. Thereupon William Woods Holden, editor of the Raleigh North Carolina Standard, launched an attack upon him. Hedrick then published in the Standard a "Defence," and the fat was in the fire.

The state newspaper press now aimed an intense diatribe at Hedrick. He was called a traitor to the South and many other uncomplimentary names. It was demanded that he be dismissed from the university.

The small university faculty adopted a resolution which failed to support Hedrick. The controversy grew louder and more bitter. The university at that time was largely under political control, and the dominant politicians of the state were after Hedrick.

Finally on October 18 the executive committee of the trustees fired Hedrick on the ground that he had "misbehave." The university had yielded to extreme pressure. "An entire society had thus action . . . to rid itself of a state citizen but in the process had lost a great deal more."

Hedrick then went north. During the war he worked in the U.S. Patent Office. He was later a professor at the university of Georgetown. He died in Washington in 1886.

Baptist Convention Asks Swanquarter Steps

RALEIGH (AP) — The Baptist State Convention received a resolution today noting the racial tension at Swanquarter and Hillsborough and calling upon Gov. Dan Moore to fill the leadership gap in the North Carolina Good Neighbor Council.

The resolution noted the Good Neighbor Council is without a chairman and an assistant to the chairman.

NEA Consultant Will Speak At PTA Meeting

Charles W. Stout, field consultant with the North Carolina Education Association, will speak at the Wake-County PTA meeting Thursday night.

The subject of Stout's program will be the "Legislative Program of the United Forces For Education," according to Joe Goodson, president of the PTA group.

Stout, an Asheville native, attended Guilford College and taught in Lawrenceville, Va., for two years before returning to Randolph County where he taught English, social studies and French for four years.

He joined the staff of the NCEA July 1, 1967, and works with the Division of Classroom Teachers, the college student NCEA and the high school Future Teachers.

Dr. Humber Will Address BSU

Dr. Robert L. Humber, former international lawyer, will speak tonight at 6 o'clock at the Baptist Student Union.

Dr. Humber will speak on "World Peace: International Problems Facing Us Today." The public is invited to attend.

Moore is on a tourist promotion trip to South America with a North Carolina delegation.

The resolution called upon Gov.-elect Bob Scott and the 1969 General Assembly "to strengthen and undergird the work of the Good Neighbor Council with a more adequate staff and greater financial support."

The resolution was introduced by Corbin Cooper of Raleigh, secretary of the convention's Department of Interracial Cooperation. It was referred to the resolutions committee which was to meet this afternoon.

The resolution noted, "Racial Tension continues in areas of the state like Swanquarter and Hillsborough and other potentially explosive situations."

It also requested that the convention's recording secretary write a letter to the family of the late D. S. Coltrane, chairman of the Good Neighbor Council, expressing sympathy and condolence "in the passing of this great Christian layman."

Resolutions opposing the proposed sale of liquor by the drink and calling for a statewide vote on the liquor issue may be considered by the convention.

The resolutions, introduced at Tuesday's convention session,

Exhibiting Art In Rawl Building

Fred Brian, a painting and graphics instructor at Illinois Wesleyan University, has a one-man exhibition in the East Carolina University School of Art this month.

The Brian show, on view in the hallway gallery on the third floor of Rawl Building, will continue through Nov. 30.

Brian received a BFA degree from Illinois Wesleyan and his MFA from the University of Iowa.

were sent to the Resolutions Committee which was to make its report this afternoon.

D. P. MacFarland of Raleigh, executive director of the Christian Action League, offered the resolution opposing legislation to permit sale of liquor by the drink in North Carolina. Such legislation has been defeated by the General Assembly but is to be offered again next year.

The Rev. Woodrow Robbins of High Point offered the resolution urging the 1969 General Assembly to call a statewide liquor referendum "to give the entire state the right to vote on this vital social, moral and spiritual issue."

In other action Tuesday, the Baptist messengers refused to back down on a policy adopted last year to permit Baptist colleges of the state to accept some forms of federal aid.

More than 2,000 messengers attending the 138th annual meeting of the convention voted overwhelmingly to table the federal aid motion offered by the Rev. J. W. Bargiol of Hayesville.

Among Delegates At Denver Meet

Mrs. Helen Kemp Gay, a Greenville native, is serving as North Carolina's delegate at the House of State Delegates of the American Speech and Hearing Association in Denver, Co., this week.

Mrs. Gay, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Kemp, is chairman of Speech and Hearing Therapy of the Raleigh Public Schools and also serves as president of the North Carolina Speech and Hearing Association.

The meeting will be held for six days.

committee established after the 1967 convention reversed previous policy on the federal aid issue.

His motion would not have affected Mars Hill or Chowan College but would have prevented other Baptist schools from making similar arrangements for federal aid.

Under the program at Mars Hill, the college is able to participate under a two-year plan which permitted several of its faculty members to pursue advanced degrees while teaching fellows from other institutions replaced them temporarily.

The Rev. Nane Starnes of High Point who opposed the Rev. Mr. Bargiol's motion pointed out that the college received none of the federal money.

The Rev. Mr. Bargiol said the

Joan Baez Takes A New Attitude

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Folk-singer Joan Baez sported a new, short haircut Tuesday and a new opinion of campus demonstrations. They are "downright silly" and "irrelevant," she said.

Miss Baez, 27, who took part from time to time in the University of California at Berkeley student rebellion in 1964 although not a student there, told a news conference that there "might be a time or a reason for campus demonstrations, but I haven't seen it yet."

"If you're going to do anything really revolutionary, you're going to have to have the campus."

Vatican Lifts Excommunication

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The excommunication of John Leahy, 40, a former priest who married a widow with five children has been lifted by the Vatican, the San Diego Roman Catholic archdiocese said Tuesday.

A diocesan spokesman said Leahy was returned to god standing in the Church.

Routine Grifton Board Meeting

GRIFTON — The Grifton Town board last night heard the police report and the library report for the month of October.

The police department reported 27 arrests were made during the month, with 25 cases found guilty and two cases pending.

The library reported 1,080 books were issued from the Grifton Library during the month of October.

The Baptists followed usual practice by reelecting the Rev. Claude Bowen of Greensboro for a second one-year term as convention president. Judge David Britt of the state Court of Appeals was reelected first vice president and the Rev. Clyde H. Tucker of High Point was named second vice president succeeding the Rev. Cecil Sherman of Asheville.

West handled himself in a highly commendable manner in defending against South's six diamond contract. The admirable restraint which he displayed throughout the deal led to a richly deserved profit for his side.

South opened the bidding with one diamond and North, who had a sound opening bid himself, temporized with a simple forcing takeout to one spade. South now felt obliged to make a display of strength and, tho his suit was not very imposing, he jumped to three diamonds. It should be observed that there was no ideal rebid available.

North made a further temporizing call of three hearts at this point, sensing a possible slam in the offing. South was not certain of his partner's intentions, but he decided to temporize himself by bidding four clubs with the expectation that North would clarify matters shortly. North now invited a slam by jumping to five diamonds. South decided to accept the invitation with the hope that North had good diamond support.

West, who had listened closely to the auction, decided that his opponents were not too far off the mark and he maintained his silence to the end. The risk involved in locating his high card strength to the declarer did not justify the slight increase in revenue which he might obtain from a double.

Inasmuch as he expected the king of diamonds to be in South's hand since the latter had jumped in the suit, West decided to open the ace of diamonds to inspect the terrain. If his queen were located behind the king it would still be protected.

When the king of diamonds appeared in dummy, West was keenly disappointed, for his second trump trick had apparently disappeared. He concealed his feelings, however, and, realizing that South was in no position to be certain of the actual distribution, West calmly continued with the three of diamonds at trick two.

Declarer was admittedly confronted with a difficult guess. He finally decided that his opponent was not apt to lead the ace of trumps from a holding which included the queen. South accordingly played the king of diamonds from dummy and thereby sealed his doom.

What happens to the world's best margarine container after the margarine's gone?

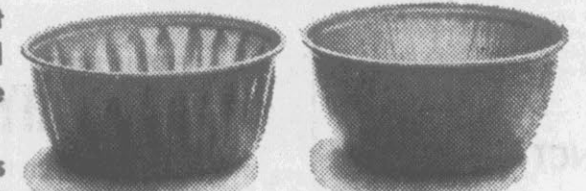

Virginia Parker uses it to bake cupcakes for her son in the service. She knows if it's airtight enough for our margarine, it will keep her cupcakes fresh all the way to Viet Nam.

Sam Gorn arranges flowers in it. Elvira Palladino turns it into an Easter basket.

All this fuss over our container. And all we really wanted to do was keep our margarine's flavor fresh and sweet in the most airtight aluminum container we could make. We're still finding ways to improve our container. We've just given it new sides that are smooth. Still airtight, but the ridges are gone so you can get out every last smidgeon of that fresh, sweet Mrs. Filbert's taste.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Mor-ton Sobell has failed by a single vote to win a Supreme Court hearing of his plea to be freed from prison, where he is serving time for espionage.

Sobell was convicted in 1951 along with Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, who were executed. The trio was convicted of turn-ing over U.S. atomic secrets to the Soviet Union.

Sobell is due to be released from Lewisburg, Pa., federal prison on Aug. 24, 1969. He wanted Lady Bird Johnson Park, in honor of the first lady. Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall surprised Mrs. Johnson by revealing the name at a ceremony Tuesday.

Fred H. Harrington, president of the National Association of Land Grant Colleges and State Universities, has challenged the 91st Congress to provide higher education with unrestricted federal funds.

Six Republican fund raising committees have filed reports with the clerk of the House of Representatives, more than two weeks late.

'The Four Seasons' At ECU This Week

Ada Sanford, chairman of the ECU popular entertainment committee, said in announcing the concert that the group would perform at 8:15 p.m. in Minges Coliseum.

The Four Seasons skyrocketed to fame in 1962, within a month after the debut of their first record, "Sherry." The success of their first record and a host of appearances throughout the United States and abroad, the Four Seasons were signed by Mercury Records in one of the largest recording contracts ever offered to a vocal group. Their records now are released on the Philips label, a subsidiary of Mercury.

Kelley Could Be First End To Be Scoring Champion In Southern Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Davidson's Mike Kelly is on the verge of becoming the first end to win the Southern Conference football individual scoring championship in the modern history of the league. Teaming with the SC's No. 1 passer, quarterback Gordon Slade, Kelly has snagged nine touchdowns in the Wildcats' eight games for a total of 54 points.

That's four touchdowns ahead of his four closest rivals—Richmond end Walker Gillette and backs Frank Olejack of Richmond, Kerry Keith of Davidson and Jimmy Jordan of Furman, each of whom has 30 points. Gillette, Olejack and Jordan each has two games to go while Kelly has only one, but it's doubtful the Davidson end will be denied the point-making title—quite possibly a conference record, too.

The SC record for touchdown receptions in a single season is 10, shared by The Citadel end Paul Maguire, who caught that many in 1959, and William and Mary flankerback Ned Carr, who did it in 1966.

Kelly also is a cinch to eclipse the SC record for yardage gained on receipts. He's garnered 831 yards thus far on his 52 catches. The record is 840, set last year by Furman's Robbie Hahn.

Called an athlete "with unlimited potential" by coach Homer Jones after a 1967 sophomore year when despite injuries he caught 23 passes, Kelly has huge hands and an uncanny ability to reach the right spot.

"In a couple of years, people will be watching him on TV with the pros Sunday afternoons," Smith predicts.

Generally speaking, there are few high-scorers in the Southern this year. No one is remotely in sight of the SC scoring record of 96 points set in 1965 by East Carolina's Dave Alexander.

Kelly, one of the fastest players on the Davidson squad, needs only seven catches Saturday in Davidson's season finale at Wofford to break the Wildcat team record of 58 receptions—and is nearly sure to get them.

He won't, however, be at full speed because of a hip injury.

Practice for the weekend's seven games got into high gear Tuesday, with the worst news at The Citadel as the Bulldogs prepped for their big conference collision with William and Mary.

Plagued by injuries all autumn, the Bulldogs learned they will be without linebacker Charlie Baker.

Farmville, North Lenoir In 0-0 Standoff; Red Devils Get Title

By CARL TYER
Reflector Sports Editor

FARMVILLE — Say it was strictly a defensive game, or blame it on the cold, wet weather, either way you could be right in giving an expiration for the 0-0 tie in the Farmville-North Lenoir game last night.

With the temperatures dropping, so were most of the attempted passes, as only four passes were completed the entire evening. Along with the passes being dropped, so were the ball carriers. The traction was hard to find, and those corners were mighty hard to turn.

Only once in the game did either team really threaten to score, and these attempts were foiled by the defensive units and the help of a penalty in the North Lenoir attempt against them.

In the first quarter, Farmville got a drive going late in the period, but saw it fizzle out when a fumble by Rudolph Davis was picked up as a Lenoir player. The drive was stopped at the North Lenoir 26, the deepest drive of the game, up to that time.

North Lenoir started the second quarter off with possession, but had trouble getting out of their own territory.

Farmville then drove into Lenoir territory again, this time to the 35 but once again saw it fail, and had to give the ball up on downs.

A few minutes later, Farmville was again given possession, but saw it taken away, when Sauls was dropped attempting to throw a pass, and it was a free ball, picked up by a Lenoir player.

North Lenoir then drove into Red Devil territory for the first time of the evening, but couldn't get it past the 44.

The half ended with nothing on the scoreboard, and the spectators heading for the coffee stands and the bonfires to get thawed out.

In the second half, North Lenoir showed a little more offensive strength, and put a scare in the Farmville camp when they drove down to the Farmville 15 late in the fourth quarter.

The drive started on the Lenoir 20 and went to 65 yards with the held help of Charles Mooring and Terry Braxton, who did fine jobs in the running department.

Gary Davis carried it to the 13 of Farmville actually, but it was brought back to the 18 due to an off sides penalty against North Lenoir, this seemed to take the wind out of the Lenoir sails, as they couldn't get anything going after this.

They gave the ball up on downs to Farmville, when an attempted fourth down pass failed to make the needed yards for the first down.

The Red Devils finally got a drive going and showed the offensive strength they had shown the entire season.

Starting on the 15, they drove to the 46 before the drive was halted. Rudolph David and George Moore picked up 16 and 15 yards respectively to put on the 46 of Farmville. But that was as far as it was going, and North Lenoir took over once again. Any hopes they might have had scoring was foiled when Sammy Hobgood intercepted a Lenoir pass on the Farmville 29, and the game ended with Farmville keeping the title and gaining a berth in the playoffs.

Harrington, Hodges Picked

Two Rose High School football players have been selected to play in the 1968 Shrine Bowl in Charlotte next month.

David Harrington and Kyle Hodges were selected to play for the North Carolina team in the annual benefit contest with South Carolina's prep stars. Bud Phillips, coach at Rose High, will serve as head coach for the North Carolina team this year.

Harrington, a 5-10, 200-pound senior fullback, led the Northeastern Conference in scoring this year, and picked up nearly 1200 yards in rushing for the Phantoms in 10 ball games. He scored over 100 points and at one time had scored every touchdown the Phantoms had. He had several games with over 100 yards in rushing, and came close to cracking the 200-yard mark on one occasion, getting 191 yards.

Hodges, 5-10, 170-pound halfback, was injured on several occasions this year, but still played outstanding football for the Phantoms. He was the team's punter, averaging nearly 40-yards per kick, and getting over several 60-yarders during the season.

He was one of the leading pass receivers on the team, and picked up 130 yards in the final game of the season in rushing against New Bern.

Bethel slowed the pace in the third period, inching the lead to 45-19, and then outscored Lee Woodard, 10-7, down the stretch for the easy win.

Debbie Purvis led the Bethel scoring with 17 points, while Susan James and Carolyn Whitchard each had 12.

There wasn't much difference in the boys game, as Bethel shot away to a 22-8 lead in the first quarter of play. By the half, they had built up a 42-22

COLD-SINUS Miseries?

Is your head pounding — more running — are your eyes watering and are you sneezing — sneezing — sneezing?

Have you known your nose until it is raw?

We're sorry you're suffering so; obviously you're not aware of our product SYNACLEAR and this is our fault.

SYNACLEAR is the original timed release tablet that gives you up to eight hours of relief from cold symptoms and clogged up sinuses. And that's a guarantee!

We do not have millions to spend on TV to tell you about SYNACLEAR; just this small ad. We do not gimmick our Advertising and product by offering twelve hours of medication. What is medication without relief? SYNACLEAR is what we offer and it gives you eight hours relief per tablet or your money back in full.

We could go into detail on how our product works and about the fine formula, but we would rather you ask the experts about SYNACLEAR. The druggist at the store later below or your family doctor can tell you about the merits of our fine formula.

SYNACLEAR costs a little more ($1.50 & $3.00 sizes) because it does more — you're having relief and not gimmicks.

Try SYNACLEAR as soon as possible — you know — all have to lose are your discomforts.

This little ad has an awfully big job to do — to get you to try SYNACLEAR. SHAPING A WINNING PERFORMANCE — Marlene Dietrich displays her still glamorous figure in a glittering evening gown on the stage during her current Broadway appearance as a chanteuse. La Dietrich is a grandmother who'll be 64 next month. (AP Wirephoto)

Await Word Of Catholic Bishops

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's Roman Catholic bishops are faced with making a final decision on one of the most divisive issues in the church's recent history—whether to loosen the traditional ban against the use of artificial birth controls.

The issue before the National Conference of Catholic Bishops today is whether Pope Paul VI's recent encyclical prohibiting artificial controls should be interpreted to allow a couple's conscience to guide them whether to use contraceptives.

A proposed draft of a pastoral letter recommends the "liberal interpretation, although one source said the preliminary report still calls use of artificial controls a sin.

Forty priests punished by Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle of Washington for calling for a choice of conscience were rebuffed Tuesday in their appeal for intervention by the conference.

The bishops also defeated a proposal Tuesday to set up local fact-finding boards to try to ease the strain over dissent in Washington and in San Antonio, where a group of priests have urged the resignation of their archbishop.

The American bishops met in secret for the sensitive showdown on birth control, with their final decision to be made public in a pastoral letter before the end of the conference Friday.

The bishops made no move to intervene in the Washington punishment dispute as one cardinal lashed out at the dissenting priests for rejecting local mediation.

Lawrence Cardinal Shehan of Baltimore, who has headed the bishops' arbitration panel, said the priests had made a serious error. But the Rev. John E. Corrigan, leader of the dissenters, said Cardinal O'Boyle "has given no sign of good faith in the mediation effort."

Father Corrigan said the priests' "situation is hopeless unless the bishops act."

Cats In Naples Chased By Rats

NAPLES (AP) — Hundreds of large hungry rats ran rampant in Naples Tuesday night, attacking stray cats.

The rats streamed out of sewers in the port area, chasing cats onto the hoods of cars and sending Neapolitans scurrying. Some of the rats climbed to the upper stories of apartment houses and were "hased down by men and women in night clothes brandishing brooms.

Firemen fought the rat packs with their hoses but could not explain the sudden invasion.

In 1846, when San Francisco was named, its population was about 200.

OPTIMIST CITATIONS . . . for Edwin Causey (left) of Rose High School, and George Willoughby (center) of Eppes High School, being presented by Charles Ross, Chairman of Boys' Work Committee.

Citations Are Given To School Bus Drivers

Youth Appreciation Week activities in Greenville was inaugurated Monday night with presentation of citations to two Greenville high school seniors at a dinner meeting of the Optimist Club Monday night at the Town House Restaurant.

Edwin Causey, driver of Bus No. 165 for Rose High School, and George Willoughby, driver of Bus No. 4 for Eppes High School, were awarded Optimist Club citations in appreciation of their outstanding performance as school bus drivers. The two young men were chosen by the Greenville City Schools as recipients for this award.

The awards were presented by Charles Ross principal of Wahl-Coates School and Chairman of the Boys' Work Committee of the Optimist Club of Greenville.

"The Optimist Clubs of the United States and Canada are sponsoring Youth Appreciation Week, and have asked all other civic clubs and individuals to join in making this a successful week, and to show the youth we appreciate the fine work they are doing," stated Ross.

Other Youth Appreciation Week activities include a takeover of the city government by high school students on Thursday, for a one-day operation.

Soviet Doctor Decided To Take Out Own Appendix

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet naval doctor on submarine duty in the Pacific decided to remove his own appendix when he realized the sub could not make port in time, Tass has reported.

The Soviet news agency said the doctor-patient, Capt. Alexei Shapovalov, has fully recovered.

The Defense Ministry newspaper, Krasnaya Zvezda (Red Star) gave this account of the 2½-hour operation:

Shapovalov was assisted by a senior lieutenant and two sailors who handed him instruments and clamps as he needed them and stanch the blood.

The doctor declined the use of a mirror and instead bent his head forward to see the incision. He probed blindly for the inflamed appendix, and when he thought he had found it asked the lieutenant to describe it for him.

The doctor used novocaine as a local anesthetic and several times had to rest during the operation.

"Perspiration beaded his forehead," Krasnaya Zvezda reported.

The chief of the surgical department of the Soviet military medical faculty, Lt. Col. I. Derbin, said, "Such an operation is very rare. From medical literature we know of only five or six such cases and no previous case in the world in a submarine."

JACK BENNY does a take-off of "The Graduate", part of his first television special of the season next Saturday night on television. (AP Wirephoto)

Jack Benny Confident His 'Special' Is Best

By BOB THOMAS Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mr. Benny was indisposed. Old blue-eyes had picked up the grippie during an engagement in Las Vegas and sounded more like Rochester than Jack Benny. Still, he was able to receive a visitor at his penthouse apartment and talk about his favorite subject, show business. The particular piece of show business that concerned him at the moment was his first television special of the season, "Jack Benny's Bag," which appears on NBC next Saturday night. "You'll like it; it's great," he said with customary confidence. "It may be the best special I ever did—I would at least put it in the same class with the show I did with the chimps. "I'll show you how up-to-date the show is—I'm doing a take-off of 'The Graduate.' The other shows steered clear of it because they were scared of the censors. But I've got Phyllis Diller playing the Anne Bancroft role. When I make love to her, I defy anyone to consider it sexy. "I've got Lou Rawls and Eddie Fisher singing the Simon and Garfunkel song, 'Mrs. Robinson.' I never thought that Simon and Garfunkel would give me permission, but I asked them and they said I could use the song for nothing. Imagine— for nothing! "Rochester is back, and I open the show with him. I shouldn't tip this off, but it's so great. After he talks to me on the telephone, he turns back to his poker game. And there's Walter Matthau dealing the cards, and Jack Lemmon fussing around the apartment!" The special is sponsored by Texaco, for which Benny is appreciative. "But I wouldn't do it if only the commercials were involved. The thing is, Texaco also pays me a lot of money for my television specials. It's all tied in together, and it makes a lot of sense." Benny has another special to do this season and may sign for more next year. If so, he plans to eliminate other engagements. At 74, he continues to make a wide variety of appearances—night clubs, concert dates, etc. "If I get the specials, I'll cut down, especially in Las Vegas," he said. "That's how I got this cold, working two shows a night. If they'll let me do one, then I'll go back. But it just gets to be boring, the two shows every night. "But of course I'd never quit. What would I do? What would I have to talk about?"

Contributions From The Danes

NEW YORK (UPI)—Danes who invaded the British Isles under the leadership of King Canute at the end of the 9th century contributed numerous Scandinavian words to the English language, according to a Pace College professor of foreign languages. Among them are the words they, then, and their, as well as anger, cake, die, fellow, get, ill, skin, sky and wana, says Dr. Bernard M. Pohoryles.

we care

It's America's most popular! Why?

We think it's excellence of product.

Years and years ago,

when we decided to bake Jane Parker Fruit Cake,

we also decided to bake the best.

That's why Jane Parker Fruit Cake was then and is today over 2/3 fruits and nuts.

Just enough cake to hold together

the bounty of imported and domestic cherries, pineapple from the Far East, citron from the Caribbean.

sun-drenched raisins from California and meaty pecans from the South.

We think, too, that value has made it popular.

IMAGINE, THE 5-LB. CAKE COSTS ONLY $4.59.

That's dollars less than you might expect to pay for such a fine fruit cake.

Now you know why Jane Parker Fruit Cake is America's most popular.

One other thing you should know:

You can buy it only at A&P.

P.S. Wouldn't it make a great gift for someone?

The Worry Clinic A Difference Between Education And Wisdom

Mack brings up a fascinating question so debate it at the dinner table. And never forget Judge Bowen's amusing story below. If you then wish to see whether you have merely education vs. wisdom, send for the booklet below and within an hour you can rate yourself. The test makes an ideal form of party entertainment, too.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CAS 5-H-533: Mack D., aged 19, is a college student.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "what's the basic difference between wisdom vs. education?" "Or are they the same thing?"

"For the Bible tells us that King Solomon chose wisdom when God offered him whatever he wished."

Judge Bowen, of Indianapolis, tells a classical story to show the difference.

He says an engineering professor had attended a luncheon meeting.

But when he hurried to his car, he found that he had locked his keys inside, yet he had an important appointment in just 30 minutes.

In desperation, he decided it would be cheaper to break the glass than to miss his vital appointment.

So he seized a brick and was just about ready to smash the small vent window in front, when a trucker pulled up and yelled:

"Mister, what's the matter?"

The engineer told him his sad tale, so the truck driver got down out of his cab and neatly inserted a wire, by which he hooked the inside door handle and thus unlocked the car.

"My, on, my!" commented the engineer, "here I am, a professor of engineering, and yet I couldn't unlock my own car!"

The truck driver, graciously brushed off the compliment by saying:

"Well, sir, when you don't have no education, then you got to use your brains!"

An appropriate adage of our pioneer ancestors ran:

"You must cut the cloth to fit the figure."

That meant that a theoretical pattern must be modified to meet the demands of reality.

And that is a basic difference between education vs. wisdom.

Wisdom involves the modification of textbook theory to meet the real problems in life.

"Braintrusters" from Harvard, with straight "A" grades and Phi Beta Kappa keys, thus were brought into government bureaus, but they often lacked what we call gumption or "horse sense," so they wasted billions of our taxes on fancy theories that didn't harmonize with real life.

Nowadays we talk about making preliminary tests of new plans or machines "to get the bugs out of them."

And that phrase "getting the bugs out," merely means that we adapt the drawing board blueprints to the crucible of actual operation.

Alas, many brilliant ideas are up in the stratosphere and thus haven't been brought down to face the real problems of terra firma!

As a high school graduate once moaned to me:

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I've been taught how to be a good Roman Emperor (which we n't out of style 1,600 years ago) but haven't even been taught how to write a letter of application for a job!"

The Bible also states that "Jesus increased in wisdom and stature and favor with God and with man," but it doesn't mention "education."

For wisdom is the modification of theories from textbooks by their practical use in real life.

So send for my one-hour "Test of Horse Sense," included in my booklet "Vocational Guidance Kit," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents, and see whether your knowledge is merely educational or actual wisdom!

It contains 5 sub-tests that make interesting parlor entertainment.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pushed its postelection rally into the fifth straight session early this afternoon. Trading was active.

Gains outnumbered losses by nearly 2 to 1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up to a sharp gain of 1.7 at 357.9, with industrials up 2.6, rails up .6, and utilities up 1.6.

The removal of the political uncertainty about the presidential election got the market off to a hesitant start last week, but the feeling has spread gradually that the climate for business will be favorable under a Nixon administration even though the Democrats control Congress.

At the same time, optimism concerning a Vietnam settlement was spreading by degrees, and the big institutional investors were reported committing some of their idle funds into securities.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.5 at 966.75.

American Motors, up another fraction as it moved further into the "breakout" territory above $15 a share, seemed likely to repeat its Tuesday role as most-active stock.

Gulf & Western, also a fractional gainer, continued active. The merger-minded conglomerate rose 3½ Tuesday in heavy trading.

Gains of a point or better were made in active trading by Safeway Stores, Marcor Inc., White Consolidated and Chicago Musical Instrument.

The steels continued laggard. Fractional losses were taken by U.S. Steel, Republic Steel and Bethlehem. Once again, the spreading price cuts seemed to outweigh the pickup in demand for steel.

General Motors and Chrysler, each down 1½, helped put the brakes on the industrial average. Ford slipped fractionally.

United Aircraft, up 3½, showed continued strength, riding atop the Tuesday gain of 3½. Other aerospace issues were mixed.

Utilities, encouraged by expectations of lower interest rates under a Nixon administration, continued their improvement. Commonwealth Edison and Southern California Edison gained a point or so.

Standard Oil New Jersey, up about 2, responded to steady investment demand.

Prices moved generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Asamera Oil, up a fraction, was the volume leader by a wide margin, with Siboney Corp., also up a fraction, running second.

Skies Clear, But It's Still Chilly

Clearing skies today failed to bring substantial rise in the chilly temperatures experienced in Pitt County during the last few days. The temperature this morning at 8 a.m. was recorded at 39 degrees.

ing. The north-bound train continued with its added cargo wrapped around the front of the engine for 1,500 feet.

Members of the train crew said Sauls was walking around the cab of his truck before being sent to a Farmville clinic where he received emergency care. He was then transported to Pitt Memorial Hospital where he was admitted for treatment.

Damage estimates listed by investigators included $3,000 to the freight engine, $5,000 to the truck and trailer and $2,000 to the crossing warning lights, one of which was demolished.

The mile-long freight was delayed about two hours until the truck could be cleared from the track.

Lady Bird's Final Tour Set Nov. 22

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lady Bird Johnson will make her final trip around the nation as First Lady later this month "to get reacquainted with the America behind the headlines."

Preliminary plans have the "farewell journey," as it was described by the White House, starting Nov. 22 in Washington at a ceremony for immigrants being sworn in as citizens.

Foreign journalists and other companions will join the First Lady on a four-day 6,000-mile trip to New Orleans; Cape Kennedy, Fla.; Denver, Colo., and then to Eureka, Calif., for dedication of the Redwood National Park.

"It will be a wonderful way to get reacquainted with the America behind the headlines—and to introduce some foreign friends to our country," said Mrs. Johnson in a statement today.

The First Lady, a vigorous supporter of national beautification projects, has made about 40 trips during her five years in the White House, covering 100,000 miles and 125 cities and towns.

Raleigh Meeting Called On 1969 Tobacco Program

A public meeting to discuss the 1969 flue-cured (acreage-purchase) tobacco program has been called by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, according to W. B. Denny, State Executive Director for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

The meeting will be held Friday in Raleigh, beginning at 9:30 a.m., in the main ballroom of the Sheraton-Sir Walter Hotel.

The purpose of the meeting, Denny said, is to thoroughly discuss the supply-demand situation and obtain views and recommendations concerning the national marketing quota for the 1969 crop, the national average yield goal and the national acreage allotment.

The meeting of growers, warehousemen, dealers, manufacturers and the public will help the Secretary of Agriculture make program decisions, which by law must be announced prior to December 1, Denny explained.

The national marketing quota for the current year was 1,126,500,000 pounds and the national acreage allotment was 907,605.18 acres. The national average goal for the current year was 1,854 pounds per acre.

Agnew Took No Hijacking Risk

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — Vice President-elect Spiro T. Agnew flew to Puerto Rico in a U.S. Air Force plane to forestall any hijack attempt to Cuba, it was disclosed Tuesday.

Thirteen American commercial airliners have been forcibly diverted to Havana this year—the most recent on Nov. 4.

So Agnew, his family and attendants were assigned a twin-engine Air Force Convair 580 for the flight of nearly 2,000 miles from Baltimore via Patrick Air Force Base, Fla., to San Juan Monday.
